

100,000 People Expected for Fall Festival

by John F. Foley III

It's just about that time of year again and if you are walking around the streets of this Eastern styled midwestern town you'll see what we mean.

In less than twenty-four hours Plymouth's annual Fall Festival will begin with it's first Michigan lottery drawing at 9:45 tomorrow morning at Kellogg Park.

If you've never seen a quaint New England-styled town come alive, and open its doors to many thousands of people, then you've never seen Plymouth's annual Fall Festival.

According to Doug Hincker, president of the Fall Festival planning board, 100,000 people are expected to converge on the town to participate in this year's festival. Hincker added "this year's festivities are scheduled to be a super success. Out of all the annual Festivals held, this year's will host the most participants to ever be recorded in almost the two decades since its birth."

Fall Festival 1974 which spans the four days from Thursday, Sept. 5 until Sunday, Sept. 8 will host people from all over the state.

This year's festival will play host to the Michigan Lottery drawing. The lottery which will be held on Sept. 5th will feature a Super Drawing in which an estimated $380,000 will be given away by a series of drawings from past lottery winners.

Present at the drawing will be State Senator Carl Pursell, Michigan lottery emcee Jim Culver, and a special green clad "Lottery Lady."

As in the past, ethnic dining will play a major role in this year's Fall Festival.

The Business and Professional Womens Club will kick off the outside feasts with a German dinner held Thursday evening.

Fish will be the star attraction Friday evening as the Lion's Club will feature its Fish Fry next to the Penn Theatre.

The Masonic Temple is the place to be on Saturday as the Kiwanians hold their fabulous Golden Pancake Breakfast.

Saturday evening will feature a traditional American favorite, beef, at the Jaycee sponsored Beef Rib Dinner.

Sunday is the day for the dean of Fall Festival service club dinners, the annual Rotary Club Chicken Barbecue.

Each year the barbecue grows in size and the Rotary experiences record sales. Last year alone 15,000 pounds of chicken were bought and ended up as 14,500 dinners.

Food plays a major role in every event. But the occasion and the atmosphere calls for more than just constant feasting.

The Business and Professional Womens Club offers a community calendar to equal none. For just twenty five cents you can record your birthday on the 1975 calendar which will go on sale in December.

Over forty entrants will participate in this year's festival. The turnout is expected to be extraordinary and the four fun filled days will be unforgettable for those people who attend.

We would love to publicize and list every event and organization during the festival in this edition but that is impossible.

Look for a complete list in our commemorative edition, Festival '74 which will be on sale at the Festival.

The Festival begins tomorrow, and the only way one can be touched by its friendly home-townish atmosphere is to attend. See you there.

Congratulations To Festival Board

by John F. Foley III

As residents of the area stroll down main street this evening, they will notice the town of Plymouth changing its appearance of a quaint, New England town and putting on a face of a traveling carnival, to ready itself for the annual Fall Festival. Booths are constructed along Kellogg Park, roads are blocked off, tents and tables are erected and many laborious hours are put in by various members of area service organizations. To the passer-by, the actual layout of the Fall Festival looks like a great deal of work. Well it is, but the work which takes place on Wednesday evening is only the beginning of the end.

The actual planning of the Plymouth Fall Festival - 1974, began in March. The board members, under the direction of Doug Hincker, the board's president, had their first meeting at Plymouth City Hall. From mid-March, until today, the board met monthly until July, then twice monthly until August, and in August, the stretch month, the board officially met every week. The meetings in August called for the most work. Applications had to be reviewed and approved, timetables had to be set, and entertainment had to be auditioned and scheduled.

This year's Fall Festival board was busy, but they did a terrific job of organizing, planning, and producing. This year's Fall Festival is to be the best ever, and the 1974 Fall Festival board is to be commended for a job well done.

Even though the weatherman didn't cooperate, Canton's First Annual Fair was a success. Three area youngsters enjoy a ride at the Festival while posing for Crier Photographer Bruce Phillips.

Teachers Vote To Withhold Services

by Bob Ameen

Teacher members of the Plymouth Education Association went on strike yesterday (Tuesday) on the first scheduled day of the 1974-75 school year after last-ditch efforts late Monday night failed to bring accord between their group and the Plymouth Community Schools.

According to Dr. Earl Hogan, assistant superintendent, the meeting began at 10 p.m. Monday, but by 12:25 a.m. it was apparent that no agreement was going to be reached.

"The administration advocated third party intervention to resolve the issues, but we were turned down by the PEA," he explained.

He added that the school district also expressed an alternate course of action - fact finding with the aid of the Michigan Employment Relations Commission - but the PEA again refused that motion.

Dr. Hogan said, "We also met with the PEA negotiators for five hours on Saturday and another five hours on Sunday prior to the Monday night session."

It was understood that the PEA met early at 6 a.m. yesterday (Tuesday), but for what reason could not be determined as a spokesman for the group could not be reached prior to the printing deadline of the Plymouth Community Crier.

The strike will keep some 12,600 students of the school district at home pending renewed efforts to settle deadlocked issues. The work stoppage is reminiscent of one which took place in local schools five years ago and lasted for four weeks.

Again, two years ago a new contract was not negotiated until October of the school year, but teachers agreed to remain on the job until agreement was reached.

Several board members were in attendance at the late Monday night meeting.

Q. I have a Personal Umbrella Policy and serve as a director of a non-profit charitable organization. The organization, its board and the members are being sued. Do I have coverages under this policy.

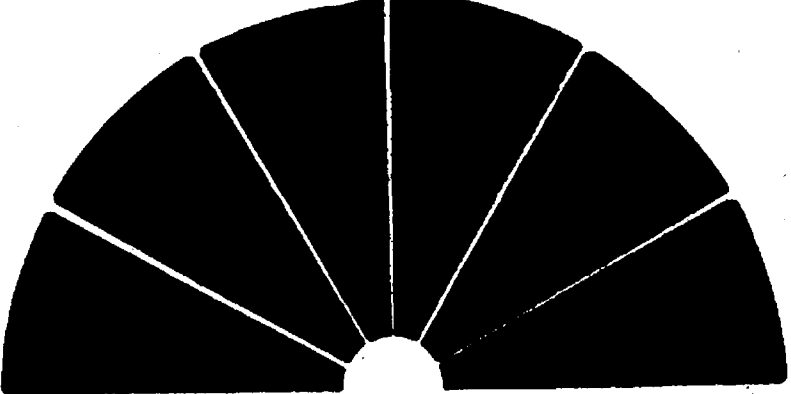

A. Your Personal Umbrella policy affords you $1,000,000 liability protection over all underlying personal liability policies such as your cars, homeowners, boat, snowmobile, etc. and "drop-down" protection for areas uninsured presently. Most insurers policies exclude business pursuits except indicate work on the board of Churches, and other charitable organizations is not considered business pursuits. From this standpoint, it would appear you have coverage under this policy. Of course, it depends also on the nature of the suit. Mis-management of funds, for example, is not a subject of liability covered under a personal umbrella.

Your Independent Insurance Agent serves you first... and best.

If you have a question, contact your independent Agent or call or phone it in. We will attempt to answer your questions in this column each week.

Forest Trail Subdivision Approved

The Canton Township Board of Trustees at their last meeting unanimously approved the preliminary plat for Forest Trails Subdivision located at the southwest corner of Joy and Sheldon Roads. Trustees were concerned for the protection of the wooded area and Nature Center at Gallimore School, around which the subdivision will be built. Brookville Associates of Plymouth, builder of the subdivision, had originally planned to erect a temporary 4' snow fence around the north, west, and south boundaries of the school for the protection of children during construction of the homes. However, the Board felt a permanent 6' chain link fence would protect children and school property, both during construction and after residents move into the new homes. The plans were approved after the builder agreed to erect the permanent fence, although he stated that the cost would be very high and would eventually be passed on to the buyers in the subdivision.

There was some question as to whether or not the Plymouth School Board should first approve the fence. However, a motion by Trustee Brian Schwall to table the resolution pending School Board approval was defeated. The Board of Trustees felt it was the builder's responsibility and not that of the taxpayers to provide the fence.

Trustees also approved a resolution to contribute $2,500 more to initiate an FAA study

Township Tables Action for Rezoning

The Plymouth Township Board tabled action Tuesday night on a request by Michael Berry for the rezoning of a 37-acre parcel from A-G to R-2-A pending receipt of additional information and approval from the Wayne County Planning Commission.

Helen Richardson, clerk, said word had been received earlier in the day that the Wayne County Planning Commission had itself tabled action on the parcel while it awaited more information on drainage and location confirmation on the proposed M-14 Expressway.

The tract, located on the north side of Territorial Road, east of Gottschalk Road, previously had been approved for the rezoning by the Plymouth Township Planning Commission.

Berry, a prominent Detroit area attorney and chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, was represented at the township meeting by Edward Johnson, also an attorney.

About a dozen residents who live near the Berry parcel were in attendance and heard Johnson state that if the rezoning was okayed, mobile homes or apartments most probably would be constructed on the site.

Trustee Frank Millington interrupted the attorney's request for immediate approval to question what quality of construction would be erected on the Berry property.

"With so many apartments being built today which are sub-standard, I wonder if your apartments would be any better," he commented.

Johnson replied that no specific construction plans were now available.

Trustee Russell Ash declared that one or two members of the township planning body indicated they felt the Berry project to be "immature."

A nearby inhabitant to the Berry parcel, Mrs. Louis Chiatialis, expressed concern with the quality of buildings which might be built.

Johnson informed the board and audience that when the proper time came, details of proposed construction would be brought before the township board and other governmental bodies in conformance with local requirements.

An unidentified man in the audience took issue with the type of zoning being sought, commenting that another type might be more applicable with housing in the immediate area.

He criticized the many high intensity rezoning requests that have been okayed recently and explained that zoning which offered a buffer between the Berry project and adjacent structures would be more appropriate.

"People in our subdivision are against high intensity zoning, even at the risk of being called snobs," he said.

A motion by Ash to table the matter pending the receipt of additional information was passed.

B. & P. W. Prepare for Fall Festival

One of the most unique ideas to hit this year's Fall Festival is the Community Calendar.

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, the calendar is not just a regular Community Calendar. Unlike the normal 12 page date-maker which tells the date of various meetings, and social events, the B. & P.W.'s calendar will concern itself with local people. The calendar will be twelve pages packed with birth dates and anniversary dates of local people. Any person in the community can have his or her name and birthdate on the calendar.

The B. & P. W. will have a booth set up on Thursday night, (German night takes place then, and the B. & P. W. also sponsor this event) and for only twenty-five cents, any person can place their names under their respective birthdays or anniversaries.

According to Louise McAllister the 1975 calendar will go on sale in December. Besides having yours and your neighbors birthday and anniversaries in it, it will also list, coming events of community organizations.

This is the first year the Business and Professional Women's Club has tried the new idea of this type of Community Calendar, so let's all sign up and make it an annual successful event.

The Business and Professional Women's Club has been busy working on their community calendar. (back row— Betty Pint, Daisy Proctor, front: Sandy Davis and Margery Brillhart display the new calendar for Bruce Phillips.

"It's Never Too Early"

The current situation that exists between the Plymouth Education Association (the P.E.A. is the teachers' union) and the Plymouth Community School Board is unfortunate to say the least. The present turmoil makes it harder for everyone in the community to function, and the attitude which lies over the area seems to be somewhat similar to an explosion that is scheduled to go off, but no one seems to know when.

Contract talks ended with both sides deadlocked at 12:20 Tuesday morning, and at that time, or shortly thereafter the P.E.A. decided to "withhold their services." The term "withhold their services" seems to have a definite connotation which spells strike.

It's unfortunate that during a time when everything in the community should be running smoothly that a strike must prevail in the community. As a community newspaper it is our duty to bring the community together, to act as a unifier, not as a separator. For this reason, we feel it is for the benefit of everyone involved that the P.E.A. and the Plymouth Community School Board come to an agreement now. If an agreement cannot be reached, then school should begin while negotiations continue. If this attitude could be accepted by both the P.E.A. and the Plymouth Community School Board it seems that the general attitude of the community would benefit by the action.

We once wrote it's never too late to begin bargaining, and by the same token, it's never too early to begin the school year.

The Scene by Ameen

by Bob Ameen

As I ponder on my 47 years on this earth, I often look ahead and contemplate how my golden years will be, providing the good Lord above grants me that wonderful opportunity.

But, each and every time that I dwell on what life will be like 20 or more years from now, I get a queasy feeling in my stomach. Do I want to live and be treated like so many of our senior citizens today? Could I tolerate being shunted off to some nursing home and visited at the convenience of my immediate family? Could I stand being treated like a four-year-old child, everyone taking it for granted that I was senile and didn't make sense?

These and a hundred more questions pop into my brain as I see myself an old man, possibly a widower, trying so desperately to understand "the younger generation" and the deplorable condition to which our society has let the world slide.

Am I serious? Unfortunately, yes! As I look around at the senior citizens whom I know, I feel an irresistible urge to help them, to let them know I understand them and their problems, that I and everyone of my age bracket appreciates all that they accomplished in their productive years and that they understand that I hope they live another hundred years!

Talk about a forgotten people! America today ranks as the most technologically advanced nation in the world, but somewhere along the way we've forgotten our Christian upbringing and the respect due our elders.

Modern inventions, new living patterns and too much hustle and bustle to get ahead materially have all but destroyed the American way of life. The close-knit families of colonial times down through the second world war is rapidly becoming a thing of the past.

In those days here and in nations across the seas, elder members of the family were looked upon as the wisest due to their years of experience and their counsel was eagerly sought by everyone in the family from the smallest grandchild to the elder's son and daughter.

A healthy religious life, taught by the church, fostered by public schools and kept alive from generation to generation by strong family ties continued to hold the grandparents in the highest esteem.

Today, a few short years later, only a handful of senior citizens are lucky enough to be living in the all-too-few quarters erected for their remaining years on earth.

Senior citizen high-rise apartment buildings are just beginning to become a part of the landscapes of many American communities. It is to the credit of those cities and towns that their future outlook includes the well-being, welfare and lodging of their elders.

I can only hope and pray that if and when I reach a ripe old age, that quarters will be provided for me if I am thrust out into the cold as so many senior citizens are being shoved aside by their families.

What probably bothers me most, nags at my insides, is the utter callousness of American adults in forgetting the untold sacrifices, sufferings, years of care and thousands of dollars of expense provided by their parents during their years of growing from an infant to a mature member of society.

I, for one, cannot comprehend such indifference and it is with all of my heart and soul that I hope that America will return to its senses before it destroys itself.

And, it will destroy itself if it continues onward with its citizens' obsession with material wealth and with their neglect of their fellow human beings, be they blood relatives, close friends or mere acquaintances.

In conclusion, it is only fair to point out to today's younger generations that, God willing, they too will share the enviable distinction of growing to be a member of tomorrow's senior citizens. I trust that when that day comes, their offspring will be blessed with more compassion, love and thankfulness than is being expressed by their counterparts today.

Booster Buttons On Sale At Fall Festival

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Marching Band, under the direction of James Griffith, will be selling Band Booster Buttons and Arts and Crafts in their booth this year.

Two years ago, the highly acclaimed band went to the Rose Bowl and performed in their New Year's Day Parade.

This year, a trip to the Orange Bowl is being planned as the band will travel to Miami and play in the annual parade.

Many of the band members will be getting involved in this year's booth as they will be making the arts and crafts that are for sale.

The Band is once again marching and playing in the Festival and will be performing at the home football games for Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton.

Weaving to be Focal Point of Three Cities

The rough texture of heavy woolen weavings, the dramatic color of oil paintings, and the fantasy of linear metal sculpture will be the focal point of the Three Cities Art Club Show at the 1974 Plymouth Fall Festival.

Featured in this year's show are contemporary metal sculptures by Robert Glowacki of Novi. In the past Mr. Glowacki's works have been on exhibit at the J. L. Hudson Co.'s downtown Detroit store and on the campus of Wayne State University. Glowacki pieces are also on display in businesses and private residences in Troy, Bloomfield Hills and Rochester.

An important part of the show are the various craft demonstrations. This year some of the demonstrators will be Phelps Hines of Northville, portrait sketching; June Gaitskill, Ellen Wahi, and Heather Fee of Northville, weaving; Marie Bonamici of Northville, jewelry making; and Avis Waldecker of Northville, quilting.

Along with the craft demonstrators will be the works of some twenty artists, including: Wandy Coury, painter, Plymouth; Ann Gentry, painter, Plymouth; Virginia Haltrinen, painting, Plymouth; Betty Hogurn, painter, Redford; Mary Ann Kuramon, painter, Plymouth; Margaret Lambert, painter, Northville; Alice Penn, Penny Wright, painter, Plymouth; Ellen Wahie, weaver, Northville;

The Art Show, a 15 year old tradition, will be held on Sunday, September 8, in Kellogg Park from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

of Mettetal Airport for the purposes of establishing feasibility of purchase of the airport by the township and the benefits which might possibly be derived from such a purchase. A previous amount of $2,500 had already been approved but Treasurer Grant Campbell reported that sum was only half of what the state actually needed. The state will match Township funds, for a total of $10,000 for the study. The resolution also provided that an environmental impact study be a part of the overall inspection of the airport. Canton has been interested in purchasing the airport since it was put up for sale by its owners last year.

In other business, a measure was approved for the installation of street lights in certain sections of Carriage Hills and Windsor Park Subdivisions. A Windsor Park homeowner at the meeting asked the Board what the exact procedure is that the Township and Detroit Edison follow for the request, planning, and approval of street lights in subdivisions. He stated that there had been some very great delays in the past because of an apparent breakdown in communications between the two. Supervisor Phil Dingley said he would ask Clerk John Flodin about the matter. Flodin was not present at the meeting.

The Township Engineer reported that two bids had been awarded Carey Construction Company for installation of sanitary sewer diversions on Lilley Road and Sheldon Road. The bids were accepted among nine other bidders and were in the amount of $177,872.00 for the Lilley Road project and $191,723.00 for the Sheldon Road project. Trustees unanimously approved the awarding of the bids.

Where is the Canton Post Office?

by Kathy Kuewzer

Quiz Time: What do the following four places have in common: (1) Wayne Assembly of God Church, 2100 Hannan Road, Wayne, Mich.; (2) Ross Hauk Farms, Ridge Road near Cherry Hill Road, Ypsilanti, Mich.; (3) Folker's Nursery Co., 45775 Proctor Road, Plymouth, Mich., and (4) Canton Water Department, 45508 Geddes Road, Belleville, Mich.? Give up? Well, despite the different mailing addresses, they are all four located in Canton Township. While this generally presents minor mailing problems, it does show how Canton Township is lacking in its own identity.

In the period from 1960 to 1974, Canton Township's population has leaped from 5,313 by the Federal Census to approximately 26,000 people, which certainly seems to be enough citizens to qualify for their own post office.

Unfortunately, post offices don't come so easily. Problem one: As long as Canton remains a township, chances are remote at best of its ever having a post office of its own. Problem two: Even if Canton Township becomes a city, the cost factor involved in establishing a new post office is prohibitive. According to a postal authority in Northville, the U.S. Postal Service does not like changing existing mail routes and post marks, let alone building new post office buildings or hiring new employees. Postmasters are especially "expensive" because of their high salaries. Problem three: Suppose by some quirk of fate the Postal Service decided Canton could have its own post office. Where would it be built? Most likely on the cheapest piece of land practicable, which might not be the most convenient to the majority of the township's residents. In the end it could be more convenient to drive to Plymouth or Wayne or Ypsilanti.

There was a time when a little "political pull" made a lot of difference when a town wanted a post office. But now that the U.S. Postal Service is an independent organization and not a federal department, having a U.S. Senator or Representative in the area wouldn't even be an advantage.

What it all boils down to is that, while having a Canton post office might be desirable for the community, it may not be the way to establish an identity for the community. One solution that might be offered as a temporary measure is used by Bart Berg, president of the Canton Township Chamber of Commerce. He has instructed the Chamber's secretary, Joyce Willis, to write the following whenever she uses the Chamber's address: "Canton Township, Plymouth, Mich., 48170." This may be a bit confusing at first, but it would be a step toward letting the "outside world" know that Canton Township is not an outgrowth of the Wayne, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, or Belleville post offices, but a separate geographic entity.

Golf League Ends For Newcomers

The Plymouth Newcomers Golf League climaxed the 1974 season with its annual awards luncheon on Wednesday, August 28th, at The Hillside Inn. Under the leadership of Mary Hogan, chairman, and Audrey Paul, co-chairman, the league completed a successful summer of golf which began last April with lessons for beginners.

Awards were presented to the season winners of Flights A and B. Trophies in Flight A went to Audrey Paul for low gross and to Mary Hogan for low net. In Flight B trophies were awarded to Joan Anderson for low gross and Ruth Flynn for low net.

The trophy for the most improved golfer was won by Maureen Stocker. The "Traveling Trophy," which is passed along each year to the person having low gross for the season, was presented to Audrey Paul for 1974. Ringer awards went to Audrey Paul of Class A with a 36 and Ruth Flynn of Class B with a 53. Special prizes were also awarded for the fun day events which were held last week.

Scotty Morrison, who is the assistant pro at the Hilltop Golf Course where the league plays, was a special guest at the luncheon. Scotty was honored by the newcomers for his recent hole-in-one on No. 6 at Hilltop.

It was his very first one in sixty years of golfing. The members also expressed their thanks and appreciation to him for the help and assistance which he so freely gave during the season.

It was announced that Mauguierite Miller will be chairman of the Newcomers Golf League for 1975. Prospective golfers can sign up for this interesting group at the September 12th luncheon.

Arrangements for the awards luncheon were made by Margaret Retting and assisted by Pat Marshall.

Tonquish Creek Has A Party

Tonquish Creek Manor was the recent scene of a very special party. Anna Chappel and Luella Evans were guests at a surprise party in honor of their 90th birthdays. The hostesses, who planned the party around a "Gay Nineties" theme, were Ruth Armstrong, Elsie Hohl, Alberta MacCrum, Hallie Martin, and Violet Willard. In carrying out the "Gay Nineties" idea, colorful sunbonnets from "The Bedstead" in town were used.

Edna Schuler led guests in playing a picture game. Residents of the manor brought childhood pictures of themselves, then tried to guess which resident was in what picture. There certainly were some darling babies! After a lively game of "Pig in a Poke" guests were treated to cake and ice cream. The cakes were donated by Mrs. Ruth Strebbling of "The Grange." All this was in addition to delicious punch and cookies made by the hostesses.

Lu and Anna were presented with beautiful bed jackets made by Ruth Armstrong from materials and supplies donated by residents. They also received lovely pendant necklaces. Special guests at the party were Mary Melow, who is 93 herself, Anna's niece, and Lu's granddaughter and great-granddaughter. After the festivities it is rumored that one of the honored guests remarked that if she had known she was going to live so long she would have taken better care of herself!

All Newcomers Invited

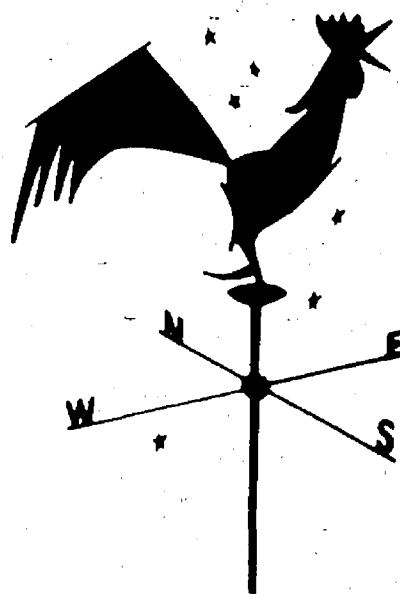

The Plymouth Newcomers Club invites all members, ex-newcomers and new residents to attend its first luncheon of the year on Thursday, Sept. 12, at The Thunderbird Hilton Inn. Hospitality begins at noon with the luncheon served at 12:30. Cost is $4.25 and reservations can be made by contacting Mrs. Earl (Phyllis) Olsen of 14532 Oxford by noon Monday, Sept. 9th. Deadline for cancellations is noon on Tuesday, Sept. 10th.

Babysitting service is available again this year at the Grange Hall of Plymouth at a cost of $1.50 for one child and 75 cents for each additional child. Call Mrs. David (Betty) Griffith, 44741 Eric Pass, to reserve babysitting.

Old and new members are urged to sign up for the interest groups of their choice at this September luncheon. See you there!!

Upcoming Sports Coverage

This issue marks the final week of summer sports coverage for the Crier Sports Section.

With another school year approaching quickly, the sports scene now focuses on the upcoming Varsity Football teams for both Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton High Schools. The Crier will be extensively reporting on these two squads throughout their seasons.

Football will not be the only school sport covered. Other boys competition, during the fall season, include cross-country and golf.

The girls sports scene is also entering the spotlight with fall sports being basketball, swimming, and tennis.

Although the main emphasis is going to be on Varsity athletics for both schools, the Crier doesn't want to lose sight of the Junior Varsity, Freshman, and Middle School levels.

Due to conflicting schedules, (with many of the sports events taking place at the same time) the Crier would like to ask the support of all the JV, Freshman, and Middle School coaches in helping us cover the games.

When a team of this nature is competing, we would like the coach to contact Dennis O'Connor (of the sports department) at his home 453-6206 or in the office 453-6900. Then we will be able to write a little something about the contest, highlighting the main occurrences.

School sports is not the only thing the Crier Sport Section will be reporting on this Fall.

During the past summer we featured standings and results of all the Little League Baseball teams. The Crier hopes to do the same this fall, as the Plymouth Little League Football program gets underway.

The Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department will be running a Men's Touch Football League in a few weeks. The sports department is also planning on covering them.

As the school year progresses we will start our second year of operation by focusing on the basketball season (school and community). Swimming and wrestling along with girls' volleyball will be also highlighted.

To wind up another school season of sports, baseball, track, (boys and girls), and tennis is planning to be recognized in the spring.

So it's going to be another busy year of school and community sports, with the Crier always being there, staying on top of all the sports happenings.

Plymouth 'Blue' Comes Back

by Dennis O'Connor

The annual Blue-White intersquad football game for the Plymouth-Salem Rocks saw the Blue team win 26-20 in the final two minutes of the contest which was held last Saturday night.

A 15 yard scoring pass from Tim Dillon to Richard Jenkins (their second of the night) did the trick for Blue as they came back from an earlier 20-19 deficit.

Doug Tripp was by far the most

Canton 'Red' Beats 'White'

by Dennis O'Connor

The intersquad scrimmage for the Plymouth-Canton football team was held last Saturday (August 31) afternoon with the Canton "Red" team coming out on the top end of a 30-16 score.

The long bomb was the deciding factor for the Red team as tight end Dave Pink scored the last two touchdowns of the game by snatching two scoring passes both accounting for 72 yards. One of the touchdown throws was made by quarterback Brian Stemberger while the other came when halfback Jim Tiller threw a left-handed strike to Pink on a halfback option pass.

The first Red score came when Stemberger sneaked two yards across the goal line in the opening quarter. The second came on another Stemberger to Pink pass, this one going for eight yards.

Tiller ran across two two-point conversions with Kim Hammonds also running for an extra two-points.

The White scoring saw Mike Ogden dive four yards for a first quarter touchdown with Rusty Lindman converting a two-point run.

The final White touchdown occurred in the fourth period on a Ray Mandle to Rich Thom six yard pass. Mandle also threw for the extra two-points as he found Ogden in the end zone.

The most impressive runner in the scrimmage was Tiller who scampered 93 yards in only ten carries. Jim's day included a run of 43 yards that set up the first Red score.

Both quarterbacks completed a high percentage of their passes. Stemberger was four of six for 100 yards, and Mandle was eight of thirteen for 83 yards.

Doc's Corner

by Dennis O'Connor

With the Plymouth Crier's Summer Sports coverage coming to an end, I would like to extend my thanks to a number of people who have helped me throughout the past season.

A major part of the summer sports section was our statistical page which included standings and results from all the games in the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League. (Little League).

Many of the League representatives cooperated with me in compiling all the Little League news.

Bernie Stack and Mike Michalek reported for the "A" League. Larry Gunnarson and Joe Carlson helped with the "B" League. Max Sommerville reported the "C" League, Jack Cristy the "E" League, Clint Etienne the "F" League, and Jean Goodrich the "G" League.

Thanks to these people, I was able to give the most extensive coverage the Plymouth Community Little League baseball program has ever had.

Plymouth's recreational softball leagues were also covered this past season. Paul Sincock reported the results of the Men's and Women's Slow-pitch League with Jerry Brink handling Men's Modified scores.

A big part of any summer sports season is the high school summer league baseball teams. All five of the Plymouth summer leagues teams were reported on in great detail.

In the Connie Mack League play, Plymouth - Salem's team (Plymouth Elks) was reported by coach Wayne Sparkman. Plymouth - Canton's representative (Plymouth Merchants) was handled by coach Fred Crissey. Crissey also helped in covering the Trading Post Braves, Canton's Mickey Mantle League representative. Salem's Mantle team (DiPonio) was reported by Bruce Gerish.

Rod Ferguson and George Little were responsible for the Plymouth Adray team (Bidwell).

With so many different games going on at the same time and on the same nights it was impossible for me to cover them all. Thanks to the above mentioned people, (in Little League, Softball, and Summer Baseball), who phoned in all of their results when I wasn't present, the Crier Sports Section was able to give you a detailed report on all the happenings.

Patti Hurtik, Bev Roas, Bev Baker, Kathy Hall, and Rob Willette were five people who helped me with being present and taking notes for a story when I was busy at another sports happening. My sincere thanks to them also.

Chuck Skene, assistant recreation director of the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Office, also contributed with news releases of their upcoming activities.

All of the up to date coverage of Westside Sporting Goods (one of the best men's softball teams to come out of the Plymouth area) was accomplished with the help of Brian Gilles.

This column, which started as a new feature in the section just a few weeks ago, was given its name by Jim Moore. I thank him for his help.

With the school season just around the corner, the Crier hopes it will get the same help with sports coverage as it did in the past season.

Thank-You again to all who helped in making the Crier Sport's Section a most comprehensive one.

Canton Girls Need Swimmers

The Plymouth - Canton girls swim team is in need for more swimmers.

For the past three weeks both the Plymouth - Salem and Plymouth - Canton teams have been practicing in preparation for their fall seasons.

All this hard work and effort (on the coach and swimmers part) will go down the drain unless Canton were to get more girls to try out. Have some school spirit and join the squad.

Any Canton girl who is interested in becoming a swim team member should report to Ms. Massey in the Physical Education department.

Plymouth-Salem girls are part of the Suburban Eight League with Plymouth - Canton a member of the Western Six Conference.

Softball Playoffs

by Dennis O'Connor

Last week's Plymouth Men's Slow - Pitch Softball Playoffs featured upsets as well as the expected as VTN along with Bathey gained playoff championship berths.

In Monday action (August 26), Bathey and BG's squared off in a losers bracket game.

Both teams went into the contest with one loss in the double elimination playoffs.

BG's struck first as they tallied two runs in the opening inning. Bathey then began to chip away and take the lead with single runs in the first, fourth, and fifth innings. In the following stanza, Bathey blew the game open with three more runs in the sixth to win it 6-2.

The second contest of the evening was a real thriller as Puckett and VTN (the undefeated teams) battled each other.

VTN grabbed a commanding 5-0 lead after four innings of play only to see Puckett battle back to tie the score at 5-5 in the fifth and go ahead 8-5 with three more runs in the sixth.

VTN overcame this dramatic comeback as they tallied three runs themselves to tie the score, and eventually win it 9-8 with one run in the bottom of the seventh.

Tuesday's action (August 27) pitted Puckett against Bathey with Puckett losing another one run heartbreaker (11-10), to the underdog Bathey squad.

Bathey, the "Cinderella Team" of the playoffs, went into the next game against undefeated VTN and upset them 12-5 in a Wednesday night affair (August 28).

The final game of the playoffs (between the same two teams) was suspended after five innings because of darkness. VTN was holding a commanding 9-1 lead at the time.

The remainder of that game was played last night (September 4) with the winner receiving a trophy as the playoff champions.

'White JV' Wins

The Freshman-Junior Varsity intersquad scrimmage for Plymouth - Salem was decided on the opening play of the ballgame.

Tim Lilley, halfback of the White squad, scampered 70 yards for the only score.

The rest of the contest was a defensive struggle as the White JV's preserved their 6-0 lead all the way.

The Canton, Northville, Plymouth YMCA has recently hired Mrs. Janet E. Luce to serve as the new "Y" Program Director.

An extensive Fall program composed of both classes and clubs designed to hold the interest of all ages in the Canton, Northville, and Plymouth communities has been her first priority.

Mrs. Luce has been a Plymouth resident for 16 years. She is active in many community service functions including the Plymouth Study Group and the Plymouth Community Arts Council. Congratulations To Fall Festival Board

by John F. Foley III

As residents of the area strolled down main street Wednesday evening, they noticed the town of Plymouth changing its appearance of a quaint New England town and putting on a face of a traveling carnival, to ready itself for the annual Fall Festival. Booths were constructed along Kellogg Park, roads were blocked off, tents and tables were erected and many laborious hours were put in by various members of area service organizations. To the passer-by the actual layout of the Fall Festival looks like a great deal of work. Well it is, but the work which took place on Wednesday evening is only the beginning of the end.

The actual planning of the Plymouth Fall Festival - 1974, began in March. The board members, under the direction of Doug Hincker, the board's president, had their first meeting at Plymouth City Hall. From mid-March, until Wednesday, the board met monthly until August, and in August, the stretch month, the board officially met every week. The meetings in August called for the most work. Applications had to be reviewed and approved, timetables had to be set, and entertainment had to be auditioned and scheduled.

This year's Fall Festival board did an excellent job of organizing, planning, and producing. This year's Fall Festival is to be the best ever, and the 1974 Fall Festival board is to be commended for a job well done.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 22, 1974

Dear Mr. Foley
and Mr. Warshauer:

On behalf of the President, I would like to thank you for your kind invitation to him to attend the Fall Festival in Plymouth, Michigan on September 5 through 8.

In light of the heavy demands of his official schedule, the President is unable to accept your invitation. He has asked that I express his appreciation for your thoughtfulness of him and that I convey his very best wishes.

Sincerely,

Terrence O'Donnell
Deputy Special Assistant to the President

The Plymouth Community Crier, the hometown paper serving strictly the Plymouth Community, would like to extend a warm welcome to all those attending Plymouth's 19th Annual Fall Festival.

You are presently holding the first publication to ever give extensive coverage to the Fall Festival, in its entirety. It serves as a complete program of activities, ranging from the Festival's opening Thursday, with the Michigan lottery drawing, to the Festival's close Sunday featuring the Rotary Chicken Bar-b-que.

As you turn through this publication, you will also notice more than just a Festival program. This commemorative edition offers its readers a touch of the past present, and future: Plymouth's past, present and future! A pictorial of historical places that will live on in this fine community forever.

Within its covers, you will also find a touch of today and tomorrow. The advertisements designed and placed on these pages were constructed with you, the reader, in mind. The merchants who have placed these ads are the future of Plymouth. Their stores and merchandise are the reflections of today, but also the image of tomorrow. As you browse through our town, enjoying the Festival, the people, and the activities involved with a real hometown, be sure to stop in and greet these merchants.

The Plymouth Crier staff sincerely hopes you enjoy the Festival, and all the excitement created by this weekend extravaganza. We at the Crier are pleased that you've come to our town, and are proud we could present you with this commemorative edition - FESTIVAL '74.

German Club to prepare dinner

The newly formed German American Club of Plymouth boasts of having their own professional chef, and have offered their services to the Business and Professional Women's Club in the preparation of the food for their German Night at the Fall Festival.

This being acceptable to the ladies of BPW, final plans are being made to prepare an authentic German menu of knockwurst, bratwurst, kartoffel salat, sauerkraut and broetchen.

Lovers of good German food will appreciate this authenticity of the true German menu and for those who haven't had the pleasure up to now, they will be assured of mouth-watering, good-tasting sausage, potatoes, kraut and rolls.

Entertainment will also carry the German flavor with music by the "Sorgenbrechers." Folk dancers from the Carpathia Club youth group will entertain in the spirit of preserving the German-American culture.

This will be "new" German night at the Plymouth Fall Festival. Representatives from several Detroit Area Clubs are expected to be present, and "German spoken here" might be a familiar sound.

B & P.W. prepare for festival

One of the most unique ideas to hit this year's Fall Festival is the Community Calendar.

Sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, the calendar is not just a regular Community Calendar. Unlike the normal 12 page date-maker which tells the date of various meetings, and social events, the B. & P.W.'s calendar will concern itself with local people. The calendar will be twelve pages packed with birth dates and anniversary dates of local people. Any person in the community can have his or her name and birthdate on the calendar.

The B. & P.W. will have a booth set up on Thursday night, (German night takes place then, and the B. & P.W. also sponsor this event) and for only twenty-five cents, any person can place their names under their respective birthdays or anniversaries.

According to Louise McAllister the 1975 calendar will go on sale in December.

This is the first year the Business and Professional Women's Club has tried the new idea of this type of Community Calendar, so let's all sign up and make it an annual successful event.

Kiwanians to host Booth and Pancake Breakfast

Both of the Kiwanis Clubs of Plymouth will once again be active in the year's proceedings.

The Kiwanis Club of Colonial Plymouth, is making their annual contribution by having the responsibility of setting up and taking down all of the booths that are being used.

Volunteer members of this Kiwanis group started putting up all the metal framed booths on Wednesday afternoon. This project lasted about four hours. Taking them down will be a two-and-a-half hour job with all the work being completed on Sunday night.

For the first time ever, this same club will also be running a booth. They are selling

Beef Dinner Saturday

The big dinner that has always been held on Saturday night of the Festival is the beef rib dinner, served by the Plymouth Jaycees.

The complete meal will consist of a twelve-ounce serving of beef rib, corn on the cob, potato chips, roll, coffee or milk, and ice cream. The cost of this dinner is $3.00.

The Plymouth Jaycees are one of the most well-known organizations in the community. When a service for the Plymouth area has to be done, the Jaycees will come to the rescue.

The group has done many things - from running annual parades and carnivals to helping senior citizens or members of the Plymouth State Home.

unpopped popcorn in a package.

The 49 member Kiwanis Club is very well-known for their peanut sales which occur on various special days throughout the year.

Ever since this Kiwanis Club opened back in May 11, 1967, they have always been ready to give service throughout the community, with all their fund-raising money going to charities.

The major theme of this year is to help out the senior citizens of the Plymouth area. To comply with this, the group has been very active in landscaping CONQUISH MANOR (a senior citizen home) to help make it a better and nicer place to live.

The club also constructed the new benches that are present in Kellogg Park.

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club (the older of the two clubs) has been in existence for about 50 years. Like the other club, this organization is very much involved with serving the area. Once this club built the very first girl scout lodge many years ago.

The organization (with its 85 members) is very well known for its annual pancake breakfast which is held all day Saturday in the Masonic Temple.

The all-you-can-eat breakfast includes pancakes, sausage, and milk or coffee for $1.75 at the door.

Serving times are from 7:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m.

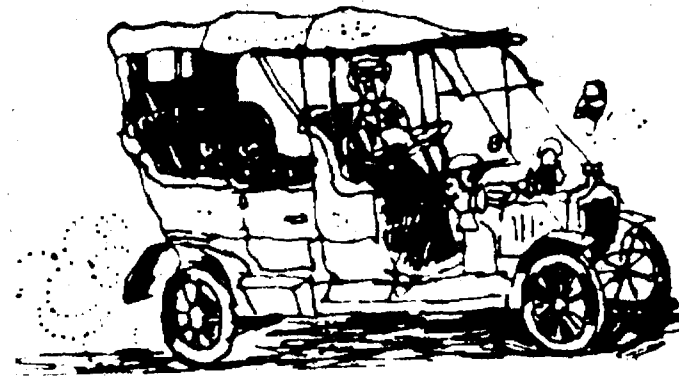

Organizations to Participate

Some of the other non-profit organizations that are participating in festival activities will be: The Plymouth Symphony Society, selling kazoos; Plymouth Grange, holding open their annual flea market; two Plymouth chapters of the sorority Beta Sigma Phi, one is selling ice cream bars with the other selling fudge; Plymouth Community Civitan, running a photo booth and selling Yaki-Tori (Japanese Shishkebob); the International Thespian Society, servicing stage make-up application.

Others are VFW Mayflower Post 6695, serving snow cones;

Plymouth Y-Indian Guides, selling popcorn; St. George Greek Orthodox Church, selling Greek pastries and bread; Plymouth Community Arts Council, holding their annual arts and crafts show; Our Lady of Good Counsel Teen Council, selling religious type arts and crafts and books; Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, selling Plymouth decals for the Santa Claus House; Plymouth Theatre Guild, holding open a refreshment stand; Plymouth Symphony League, conducting an Antique Mart; and the Old Village Association, conducting the annual "moon walk" ride.

Lions Club to Conduct fish fry

The Plymouth Lions Club is conducting their sixth annual Fish Fry on Friday of the Festival weekend.

This big annual dinner will include Fried Fish, French Fried potatoes, Cole Slaw, Roll and Butter, and a Beverage.

This complete meal will be sold for $2.50 with a special senior citizens price occurring between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Serving time will be from 11:30 a.m. and continuing throughout the day until 9:00 p.m.

This Fish Fry is one of three major fund raising projects put on by the Lions Club during the year.

The other projects are the White Cane Sale (held in the Spring) and the Candy Cane Sale (which occurs during Christmas time).

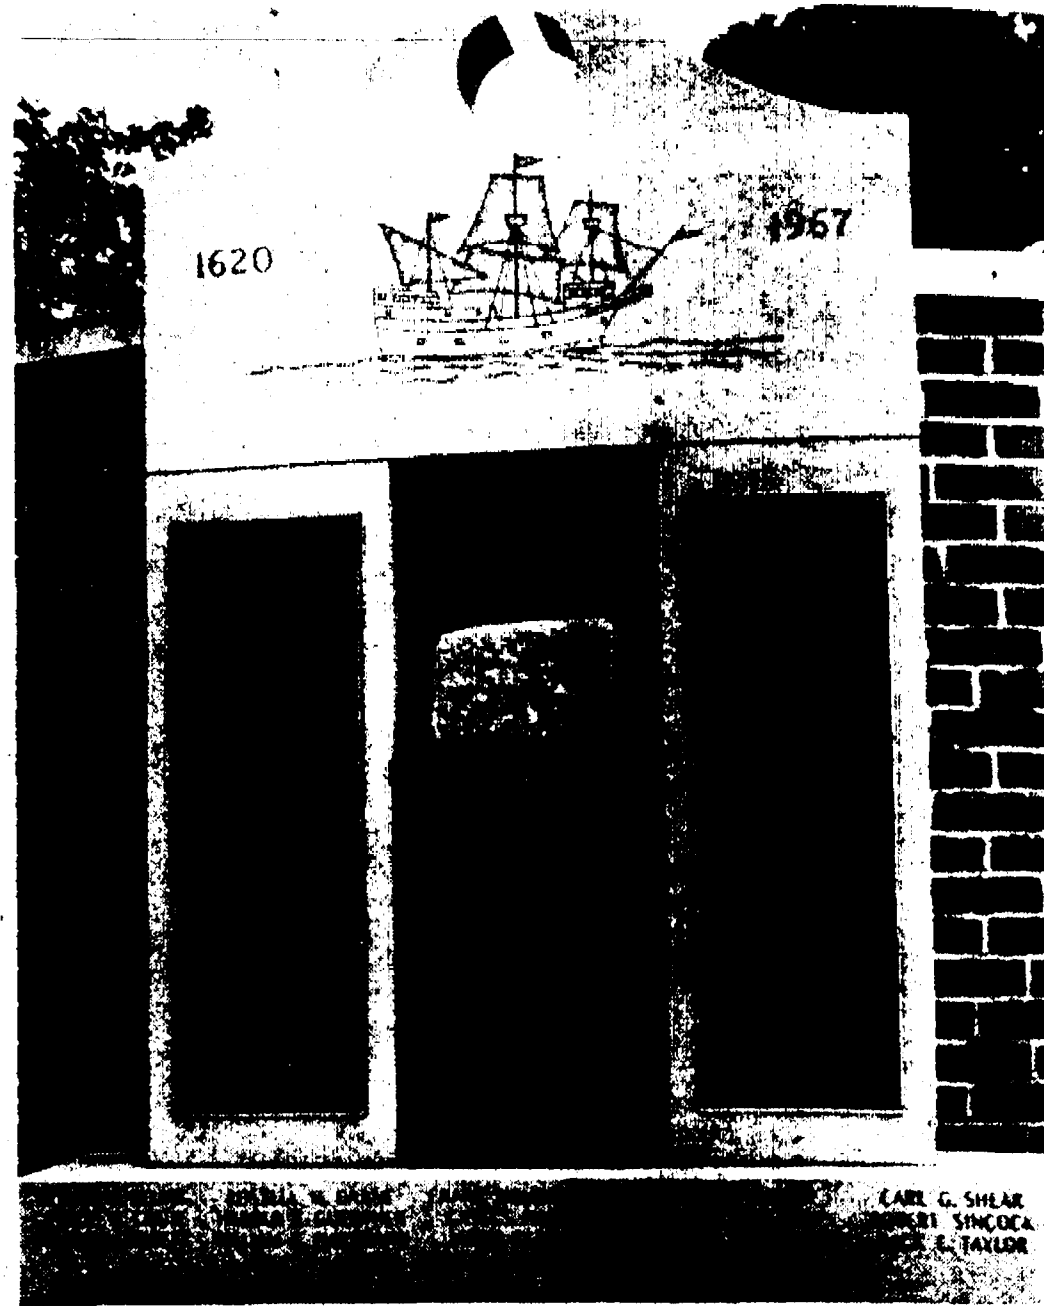

The main function of the Lions Club is to aid people of the community with sight and hearing handicaps.

Ways of doing this include donating braille watches and sponsoring blind people for certain activities.

One of the recent things the Lions Club has donated is a 'Vision Scene Machine' for the school system. This apparatus will help the school with their diagnosing of possible vision disabilities found in a child.

The Lions Club has also contributed the uniforms of the Fife and Drum Corp which is active in our local parades.

So come out and enjoy a good old-fashion Friday Fish Fry, while you help raise money for the Lions Club.

The rock in the above picture was taken from the harbour in Plymouth England. The rock was presented to the people of Plymouth in 1967 by the people of Plymouth England.

High School Students Will play Major Role at Festival

A major part of the fund-raising projects at this year's Festival are aimed at helping many of the youth organizations in the community of Plymouth.

In recent years, many of the teenagers participated in the Festival by running booths that represented their high school class. This year's Festival is no exception, as both Plymouth-Salem and Plymouth-Canton High Schools will be having three booths apiece for each of the school's senior, junior and sophomore classes.

Salem's senior class of '75 will conduct their annual bagel sale throughout the four-day period. Donna Rinn, the class president, along with Mr. P.L. Fitzpatrick, an area coordinator at Salem, will be in charge of the activities.

The junior class of '76 at Salem will be involved in a dipped banana booth. Class president Kevin Kales with the help of Dorothy Spitz will be running the affair.

Missy Moon and Vicky Orr will be heads of the Salem sophomore booth as the class of '77 will offer hot pretzels as a way of raising money.

Rather than selling food, the Canton senior class thought they would run a frisbee throwing contest as a way of testing a person's skill as well as raising money.

Cam Miller, the seniors' president, will be in charge of this activity.

Some tires will be hanging by lengths of rope. The object is for the person to throw the frisbee through the tire hole for a prize. This contest will be held on all four days.

Steve Salyer, along with the juniors from Canton, will be selling pizza. You can buy the pizza whole, by halves, or by the slice, depending on the size of your appetite.

With the fall weather closely approaching, the Canton sophomores thought the people might enjoy donuts and apple cider. Matt Norris and Dr. J. Morris, area coordinator at Canton, will be the heads of the booth.

The money raised from all these activities will be used to build up the funds for each individual class. The Junior and Senior Proms plus this year's graduation ceremonies are the primary expenses that the class fund is used for.

So, don't forget to help out the high school kids by coming and participating in their booth activities.

Book Sale Sponsored by M.A.C.I.D.

The Michigan Association for Child Learning Disabilities, is a new group in the Plymouth area which started last spring.

To help start and build their fund, the group is conducting a book sale. This sale will include paper back books for children and teenagers, as well as adults.

This organization is a nation-wide group that has 30 different chapters that involved over 1400 people.

A child with a learning disability is not to be confused with a mentally retarded child. The child with a learning disability is a youth that has some trouble functioning in the school system. This kind of child may have trouble reading and writing, or may have a behavior problem, or some other disability that hinders he or she to learn properly.

Money from the organization will be donated to help buy perceptual gym equipment (balance beam, trampoline, etc.). Learning Disability Week is coming on September 15 and lasting through the twenty-second.

A tentative garage sale on the twentieth and twenty-first will highlight the week's proceedings.

EXPLORERS Run Hot Dog Stand

The Explorer Post 910 is an Engineering Post made up of the future engineers of today.

Working with the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers, this post conducts weekly meetings which feature speakers, movies, and film strips all aimed to the engineering profession.

To help raise their present fund, the Explorers will be running a hot-dog stand as they did the year before.

Much of the money raised will be used to pay for different trips taken by the Club.

Peanut BRITTLE Sale

The third annual peanut brittle sale, conducted by the Washtenaw County Medical Assistants Society, will be another added attraction at the Festival.

The Society will also sell different kinds of crafts as a way of making money.

This organization was started in 1958 and includes nurses, doctors' secretaries, etc.

The Society will donate its money to many needy causes, one of which is the Plymouth State Home.

THREE CITIES ART CLUB

One of the traditional members of the Festival is the Three Cities Art Club.

The Club has been putting on an art exhibit during this time ever since the Festival began.

The exhibit will include paintings, prints, pottery, jewelry, drawings, and weavings among other things. The price of these items are being determined by the individual artists.

Youth Inc. to hold Raffle

Plymouth's youth will contribute to the festivities at the 1974 Fall Festival with a host of activities sponsored by Youth Incorporated at their quarters on South Main Street and in Kellogg Park.

A raffle, a corned beef dinner, and a Red Cross bloodmobile are some of the events set for the annual celebration from September 5-8.

The raffle will feature $100 cash prizes on Friday, September 6, and Saturday, September 7, and a $300 prize on Sunday. Winners will be announced from the bandstand in Kellogg Park in the afternoon. The one dollar tickets will be on sale at the Youth Incorporated booth in Kellogg Park and at the center.

Throughout the four day festival visitors to the Youth Center will be able to sit down and relax in an outdoor cafe setting complete with tables, chairs, and entertainment in an atmosphere reminiscent of the Gay 90's. Corned beef on rye, hot dogs, cole slaw, lemonade, homemade cake, and coffee will be available for the hungry.

Inside, a Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in operation with three nurses on hand to care for donors. The center will be open for blood donations on Saturday, September 7, from 1:30 to 7:30 p.m., and on Sunday, September 8, from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

The festivities will be run by local youth, parents, and outside supporters. Proceeds will go to Youth Incorporated.

C.O.C. To "Dig for Gold"

The Community Opportunity Center Non-Profit Housing Corporation will be conducting a "Dig for Gold" game.

In this game every participant will get a prize as the person digs in a box filled with sawdust. If "gold" is found, he or she will win a "better" prize. If an ordinary rock is found, the person gets a consolation prize.

This group is the local chapter that grew out of the organization that was once known as the Northwest Association of Retarded Children.

The money raised from their booth will go to helping retarded adults (who are able to hold jobs) with such household necessities as laundry, food, etc.

This is the first year the organization has participated in the Fall Festival.

Dunk a Rockette

Want to dunk a Rockette? This year's dunk tank, an annual event at the Plymouth Fall Festival, will be sponsored by the Plymouth Salem Rockettes. The Rockettes are the high school pom-pom girls. In conjunction with the dunk tank, two other ball throwing contests will be featured at this year's festival.

The pom-pom girls will use the collected money from the dunk tank for new uniforms for the 1975 season.

Get Even With Your Teacher

Did you ever want to get even with a teacher or administrator that works at the Centennial Park? Or did you ever just want to take out all your frustrations on someone, anyone?

Now's the time you can do it as the Plymouth-Canton Chiefettes (pom-pom girls) are conducting a pie throwing booth at the Festival.

A paper plate filled with whipped cream will be used as the throwing object which can be hurled at the face of a volunteer teacher or administrator from the High School.

The Chiefettes will be entering their second year of organization as they open this season of events by performing at all the home Plymouth-Canton football games.

Rotary Bar-B-Cue To highlight Festival

As has been in the past, the climax to this year's festival will be once again highlighted with the 19th annual Rotary chicken barbecue and corn roast.

The first Rotary chicken barbecue was held in 1956. Only 125 people turned out for the event, and most of these people were Rotarians.

But just as the Festival has grown in popularity so has the barbecue.

The Rotarians who moved the event to Kellogg Park in 1960, accommodated about 16,000 people with chicken dinners annually. With this type of turn-out, the barbecue has earned the right to be called the "Grand Daddy of all the festival events."

At the low price of $2.50 you can't go wrong. All the money earned by Rotarians is used to the benefit of the people of the community.

Youth Inc. To Sell CORNED BEEF

Last year, Youth Incorporated sold health foods at the Fall Festival instead of running the corned beef stand that they have always been known for.

This year, Youth Inc., is happy to announce that they will be selling corned beef sandwiches again along with hot dogs, pickles, cole slaw, and other tasty items.

The stand, as in the past, will be run on the property of the Youth Inc. Building.

One dollar raffle tickets are also being sold by this fine group with three different drawings to be held on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. All these drawings will take place on the main stage in-between entertainment groups.

There is going to be cash prizes awarded to the lucky raffle winner. Friday and Saturday's prize is one-hundred dollars, with Sunday's being a walloping three-hundred dollars.

Youth Inc., is an independent organization of young people that serve people of the community in any way possible.

The young people govern and police themselves. Some opportunities that they offer include recreational activities, creative arts, (painting, pottery, etc.) and chess.

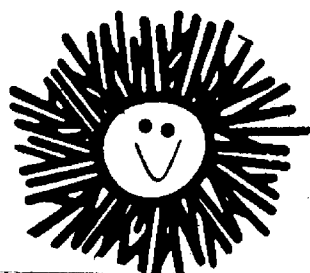

Don't forget The Pet Show

The Continuing Education and Recreation Department will be running their annual Pet Show, at no charge, on Saturday at the Penn Theatre area.

Dogs are to be brought in at 9:00 a.m. and will be judged on the basis of six different categories: good grooming, best behaved, most friendly, cutest, biggest, and smallest.

The same kind of judging will take place at 10 a.m. when the the cats are to be brought in; 10:30 a.m. is the time where the "unusual pet" segment of the show will be judged, with eligibility being any other pets besides dogs and cats.

Bake Walk Sponsored By Woman's Club

A real big part of the Fall Festival in the last three years has been the Bake Walk sponsored by the Women's Club of Plymouth.

Young and old alike are always participating in this activity which involves walking around a circle of numbers while some music is playing. When the music stops all walkers must stop at the number they are on.

Another number is then drawn out of a hat. If the person is standing on the number that is drawn, he or she wins a baked good (cakes, cookies, or bread) prepared by the club members. All of the non-winners still get a consolation prize.

This women's service club has a membership of 200 persons in Plymouth.

Their main thrust is contained in helping "Girls Town" in Belleville.

Other projects that the group is involved with include helping "Boys Town," the Salvation Army, and also donating scholarship money to the Youth Symphony.

Fall Festival presents Project Help

Project HELP, a community-oriented program initiated by National Bank of Detroit to help citizens protect their property, will be on hand for the 19th Annual Plymouth Fall Festival, Thursday, September 5 through Sunday, September 8.

Working with the F.B.I., the Detroit Police Department, the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, the Michigan State Police and numerous suburban Law Enforcement Agencies,

NBD designed Project HELP to include tips and ideas that the average citizen can use effectively and inexpensively in securing their homes, businesses and autos from loss through theft or fire.

The Project HELP Mobile Unit is a 26-foot General Motors Motor Home, outfitted with displays and loaded with information ranging from the use of effective door and window locks for the home, to tips for small businessmen on how to secure their shops and identify bad checks. In addition, one display emphasizes inexpensive ways of preventing property and money loss. All items in the display can be purchased for less than $10. Boosters to Sell Pies Joining the Festival activities for the first time this year is the Plymouth Chapter of the Michigan Christian Youth Camp Boosters.

Under the direction of Bernie Callis, the camp Boosters will be selling pie (by the slice) and cups of coffee.

The money raised from this project will be used to financially aid their campsite in LaPere, Michigan.

Some of the financial expenses include buying equipment, paying counselors, and sending young children to the camp whose families may not be able to afford the expense.

The camp is run during the summer weeks and also on winter weekends.

Optimists

Another organization that is very interested in helping the kids of today is the Plymouth Optimist Club.

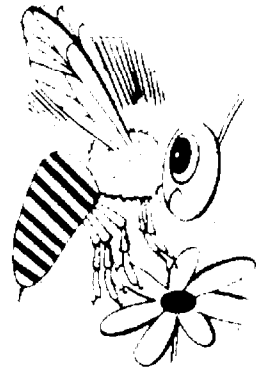

This group, has been with the Fall Festival for a number of years and is known for its annual balloon sale, which goes on during all of the four-day weekend.

The Optimist Club has been going on since way back in 1946. With their motto being "Friend of Youth", the club works in conjunction with the Plymouth School System as they sponsor and donate to many school service groups...

LEMON MAYONNAISE SAUCE

In the container of your blender, put 1 egg, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon white wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, ½ teaspoon salt, and ½ teaspoon grated lemon peel. Blend until smooth (just a few seconds). With blender turned on, gradually pour in 1 cup salad oil in a slow steady stream and blend until smooth. (If you have no blender, follow the same procedure using a wire whisk.) Turn into a serving bowl. Cover and then chill. Makes about 1½ cups.

GREEN MAYONNAISE

Mix together ¼ cup mayonnaise, ½ cup commercial sour cream, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon crumbled dried tarragon, ¼ teaspoon salt, and 1 clove garlic, mashed. Mix in ¼ cup finely chopped watercress, ¼ cup finely chopped spinach, and ¼ cup finely chopped parsley. Cover and chill. Makes about 1½ cups sauce.
