

Dispatcher charges sex bias in police hiring

BY HANK MEIJER

Plymouth Police Dispatcher Pat Casey has filed a complaint with the Federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) charging that Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford discriminated against her in the hiring of new police officers.

Ms. Casey filed the complaint Oct. 9 although at press time neither Chief Ford nor other City of Plymouth officials had been notified of the allegation.

According to an EEOC official, that agency defers such complaints to the Michigan Civil Rights Commission for 60 days after filing and giving the state body authority to investigate the complaint and the responsibility to notify parties named in the charge.

Ms. Casey has been part-time police dispatcher since 1967.

From 1970 to 1972 she also worked part-time as a dispatcher for the Northville Police Department. Since 1973, she has worked only for the City of Plymouth. She alleges that she has been interested in becoming a police officer in the city since 1967, but that both the current chief and his predecessor discouraged her from applying.

"All I really want is an opportunity to succeed or fail," she said. "I don't know if I can do it unless I have an opportunity to try."

Ford said the department has not been discriminatory in its hiring practices.

"The information you give me is all news to me," he told The Crier, "I've been here four years and never have I been aware that we have discriminated against any race or sex in the processing of job applications.

"I've just checked my files and we have no application from Pat Casey and we have never had an application for police officer from her since I've been chief here."

Ms. Casey said she expressed her interest in the job of police officer several times, but was always discouraged.

"The problem is I haven't had an opportunity to fill out an application," she said. "They can never say I didn't express my interest verbally. When I've asked for an application, they never answered me. I have to take that as a denial."

Citing a specific instance, Ms. Casey said in her complaint that on Sept. 16 the chief told her "he would see a man on the

Planners block zoning for 9-story apartments

The Plymouth Township Planning Commission last week recommended denial of a zoning change for a 16-acre parcel east of Haggerty and south of Ann Arbor Rd. that would have permitted construction of a 399-unit senior citizens high-rise housing facility.

Before a standing-room-only audience of residents of Bradbury condominiums, whose homes adjoin the parcel to the south, the commission refused to ask the township board to change the property's R-2-A and R-1 (residential) zoning to M-R, or mid-rise, which would have enabled the Federal Community Resources Corp. of Ferndale to construct a nine-story apartment building on the property, which is owned by the Plymouth School District.

The commission rejected the developers request 7-1, with Commissioner Soren Pederson dissenting.

Bradbury residents said they feared the project could not be limited to senior citizens, and that such a facility could become a "narcotics den" or attract the "slum-type" tenants.

"They'll build it up with every riff-raff they've got," said Bradbury resident Robert Bennett.

Planning commissioners said they opposed the zoning request not because the midrise usage was necessarily unsuitable, but because the parcel was one of three bordering the K-Mart store on the north and the Bradbury complex on the south, and all three parcels could better be developed with uniform uses. Until all three property owners discussed the future of the property, the M-R zoning would not be considered, the commission said.

The township's planners, Norman L. Dietrich Associates, also recommended rejection of the zoning request, supporting an R-2 A zoning for the entire site.

"This is a difficult piece to work with," said Jason Horton of Federal Community Resources Corp. "Our intent is to build housing for the elderly. Very few sites are acceptable in the city of the township for the elderly. We're prepared to proceed without state assistance. We feel Plymouth is a strong enough rental market."

Horton said Federal Community Resources would be willing to enter into a deed agreement with the school board that would require an emphasis on housing for the aged.

The firm proposed first to build a 400-unit facility, then offered alternated proposals of

PCF drives toward goal

BY KATHY KUENZER

The Plymouth Community Fund has announced pledges and contributions amounting to 18 per cent of the fund's goal, according to Gil Forthofer, general chairman of the '75 fund drive.

As of Monday, the drive has receipts of more than $35,000 in pledges and actual cash collected.

At a luncheon Monday, Forthofer told members of the PCF drive committee, "We have a long way to go, but I'm confident we have the potential contributors. Our industrial contributions have not really even begun — and that will be 80 per cent of our total."

This year's campaign goal is $230,000. Campaign leaders hope to have the drive completed by the end of this month.

Randy fights illness

While nine-year-old Randy Aton fights a desperate battle against leukemia, his family is fighting to keep off the bill collectors.

A student at Bird Elementary School until his disease forced him to drop out, Randy is now confined to the Children's Hospital in Detroit. His illness has meant expensive health care costs and his family has borrowed heavily to meet those bills.

The youth's father, Larry, is also ill and cannot work. Mrs. Aton's energies are channeled into helping Randy, who is a member of Cub Scout Pack 293.

According to Edith Aton, of Plymouth, the boy's grandmother, the family is receiving a small income from social security, "but it just doesn't cover everything."

"We've borrowed money to help him and we'll do it again if we have to — if we can," the grandmother added.

Even Randy's younger brother, Kenny, seven, pitched in. He used his own birthday money to buy Randy a tape recorder.

Cheering up Randy has taken a lot of work by his friends and family. "He's a fighter, but now he's getting a little depressed," Mrs. Aton said. Classmates at Bird Elementary are sending cards to Randy at Room 685, sixth floor west, Children's Hospital, Detroit.

Contributions to help Randy's medical bills may be made directly through the Aton family, Apt. 7, 700 Karmada, or through The Community Crier.

1 N'ville killed

Northville Township voters last Tuesday overwhelmingly rejected the proposed annexation of the township to the City of Northville; 2,000 to 890.

The defeat was a resounding one compared to the 1973 vote on the same question, when annexation was narrowly defeated, 1,504 to 1,358.

This time around, 51 per cent of the township's 5,588 registered voters cast ballots. The measure was defeated, in all seven precincts.

City of Northville residents did not vote, because the election resulted from a petition of township residents following a ruling in favor of the move by the State Boundary Commission a year ago.

Nobody reads ads

Advertising seminar scheduled

The primary information source for the intelligent consumer is media advertising. It's an important facet of any business, yet it is often overlooked because many merchants do not understand the effective use of advertising's varied forms.

Recognizing that, the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will sponsor an advertising seminar, "The A. B. C's" at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center from 8 - 9 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 30.

Speakers will include: W. Edward Wendover, publisher and general manager of The Community Crier; and Audrey Roof, advertising representative for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Pointers will be given on how to develop an effective advertising campaign within your business' budget limitations.

Reservations for the free seminar may be made by calling the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at 453-1540.

Bedridden Kelly keeps up by phone

BY KATHY KUENZER

A telephone and a 15-year old girl somehow seem to naturally go together.

But for one girl in Plymouth, the special telephone in her room is one of the few contacts she has with the everyday events taken for granted by other teenagers.

Because of a series of back operations that will leave her totally bedridden for the next several months, Kelly Klich's "trips" to class at Salem High School are now made via a telephone line between her bedroom and three classes at school.

Mrs. Beatrice Laible, Kelly's "homebound" teacher this past year, says the phone set-up was first discussed by the Plymouth Schools and Michigan Bell Telephone early in September, but wasn't finally installed until about three weeks ago.

"I used to bring Kelly's work back and forth and check it myself," said Mrs. Laible, "but with this new telephone line, I'm acting more as a liaison between Kelly and her teachers".

Through the magic of the telephone line, Kelly is able to "attend" classes in French, business math and science fiction.

When the hour of the class is at hand, she simply turns on the switch of the receiver-speaker next to her pillow, pulls out the proper textbook and becomes a member of the class.

Kelly can hear all conversation between teachers and students, and can push a button and ask questions herself.

Because of a cast that extends from the top of her thigh to just under her chin, she is unable to sit up. But she says she keeps busy by doing her homework and watching TV (she's addicted to "All My Children").

Kelly had had paralysis in her legs since she was six. Her mother Mrs. Linda Klich, hopes her daughter has completed the last of several operations to fuse Kelly's spine so that she will again be able to walk with the aide of crutches and not be confined to a wheel chair.

Mrs. Klich also hopes her daughter will be out of her cast, out of bed, and on her way to a more normal teenage life sometime next May or June. In the meantime, through the help of the Plymouth Schools and Bell, Kelly will be able to keep abreast of her studies.

A TELEPHONE RECEIVER SENDER connecting Plymouth teenager Kelly Klich to classes at Salem High School has enabled her to keep up with studies while confined to her bed this school year. Kelly hopes to be back on her feet by next summer. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Few attend budget hearing

With fewer than a dozen Plymouth School District residents in attendance, the board of education Monday night held its public hearing on its proposed budget of nearly $17.4 million.

The proposed budget calls for the elimination of five vacant custodial jobs, but will require no lay-offs. The tentative budget also drops all of the new sports planned for this year; boys hockey, girls gymnastics, girls golf and additional intramurals.

Board members and a handful of citizens debated the value of the district's new CASTLES teacher in-service training program and the athletic department, while appearing to reach accord on other proposed reductions.

To meet the state's Nov. 1 deadline for approving budgets for the coming fiscal year, the board is expected to vote on the new document at its meeting Monday, Oct. 29.

In other cuts, Supt. John Hoben outlined a plan to use administrators and other teachers in substitute teacher roles, rather than spending as much money as last year to hire substitutes.

Rocks plan gala homecoming

Salem High School Homecoming was launched Monday, when students remembered the "Old Days" with a bubble gum-blowing contest.

The "Old Days" theme for the week was continued with a tricycle contest Tuesday evening. Winner of that contest will compete in a "all-Park" championship against the winner of a similar race held by Canton High School last week.

Today's activities will be topped with a "Whopper" eating contest at 7:30 p.m. at the school. On Thursday area residents can watch a parade through downtown Plymouth starting at 7 p.m. Included will be floats from each class, homecoming representatives, the senior court and West Middle School, Pioneer Middle School and Salem Drama Club entries.

Friday's football game against Allen Park will include special half-time entertainment by an alumni band, as well as the Centennial Educational Park Band. The homecoming queen will also be crowned.

Homecoming 1975 will be capped off by a dance on Saturday evening in the Canton cafeteria from 8 p.m. to 12 p.m. to the music of Steve Ezzo's Band. Tickets are $2 a couple or $1.50 for singles.

'Sin City' students rap modular foes

BY LAURA JAMES AND HANK MEIJER

In response to a group of parents who have called for a return to traditional class scheduling at Centennial Educational Park, Salem and Canton high school students are circulating petitions in support of the controversial modular scheduling system now in use.

Foes of modular scheduling met last week at Middle School West. A television news crew was invited out to Centennial Park to look at reported "sin city" activities of students who have greater freedom under the modular system.

The "Concerned Parents" are conducting a survey to gauge community attitudes toward modular scheduling.

Meanwhile, high school students calling themselves the "Concerned Students" plan to print up "Sin City" t-shirts which will be sold for $2 apiece.

Their petition assails the parent group's condemnation of the flexible scheduling. Students said they were not allowed to speak at the parents' meeting and have been unfairly characterized by the group's allegations.

"I don't see too much vandalism and I don't see too much about drugs," said Canton junior Doug Bruckner. Salem sophomore Mary Giddings agreed. "I think they (the parents group) should get rid of the labels and keep modular scheduling."

Several other teachers and students expressed their support for modular scheduling.

"Students come in on their free time," said art teacher Jesse Hudson. "They're working all the time; my room is always full."

As Salem sophomore Pat Stolar put it: "If I'm absent from a class, I just make-up that time or I go in the resource center and do my homework. That way I don't have to do it at home"

A CHECK FOR $5,000 is presented by plant general manager George A. Baird (left) of Burroughs Corp. to officials of the 1975 Plymouth Community Fund drive. The corporate donation toward the PCF goal of $230,000 will benefit 11 agencies serving Plymouth and Plymouth Township. Canton residents are also benefactors of several of the agencies, including the YMCA, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Plymouth Junior Athletic Association. # Canton hosts college night Plymouth-Canton High School will host a College Night Thursday Oct. 23, at 7:30 p.m.

Representatives of 50 colleges and universities and a financial aid representative will be present to answer questions for juniors and seniors and their parents.

Students from Canton, Salem Northville, Novi and South Lyon high schools are invited to attend the program.

Canton approves budget

The Canton Township Board last week approved its 1975 budget of $1.48 million with only minor changes.

At the request of businessmen and residents at the public hearing, an additional $4,000 was added to the allotment for industrial development in the township, bringing the total to $10,000.

Only Trustee Brian Schwall voted against approval of the new budget, saying that he had not had time to study the budget since some 19 account changes had been included.

VICTIMS OF A BEAST that came in the night: Ruth Thompson shows the remains of her two turkeys that were killed last week after being dragged from their pen.

Mystery varmint strikes at night

Last week Tuesday Ruth Thompson woke up to discover that Bertha, one of her turkeys, was dead.

She planned to buy a new companion for her old Tom, but when she returned to her Beck Rd. home in Canton the next day from a day-long trip with the Senior Citizens Club, she found the Tom and a mother duck, both killed and lying on the lawn. Two young turkeys were also missing.

Apparently the birds were killed in the night, but Mrs. Thompson also has four dogs, and they never let out a peep. "We never heard a sound," she said. "The dogs never said anything. Anytime there's anything out there, they all whoop it up."

She found the pen where the turkeys had lived in complete disarray, with a tall snow fence torn down.

The Tom -- a massive 40-pounder -- was one of her favorites. The duck left behind several ducklings.

"It's a blow," she said. "I was sick all day Thursday. I don't know if he (the Tom) made a struggle or what. I guess something jumped up and grabbed him. I was sick all day Thursday."

A Wayne County Sheriff's Deputy looked over the scene with her, but could not explain just what animal had wreaked such havoc on Mrs. Thompson's menagerie. He suggested a big dog, others have reported seeing a fox in the neighborhood.

Both the hen the first night and the Tom the next were apparently dragged from their pen near the chicken coop. Both were found out on the lawn, at the end of a trail of feathers.

Mrs. Thompson's ducks roosted in front of the house, near the garage. The mother duck was found 20 yards away.

In all, five birds were lost. Mrs. Thompson has repaired the damage to her property, but the loss of her pets remains a mystery.

Growthworks wins $59,000 grant

Growthworks Inc of Plymouth, the parent organization of the Youth Center and the Our House Crisis Center, has been awarded a one-year $59,000 grant from the U.S. Catholic Conference's Campaign for the Human Development to fund a training program that would teach volunteers the skills they need to establish new community services.

Ygiela said the project would investigate present and future needs of Plymouth-Canton area residents. Not just youths, but all sectors of the community with unmet needs, would be addressed by the project.

"It's a pie in the sky to a lot of us", he said, "But if we know what we want to achieve in the long run, then we know better what we need to do now."

He said Growthworks hopes to train some 100 people through the project who would in turn develop new community projects and resources.

He cited the organization's food co-op as one example of a need in the local area that had not been met any other way. A program to provide jobs for teenagers is one priority Ygiela envisions the volunteers studying under the new grant.

"There have got to be new strategies found for employing young people," he said.

"Community Intervention Project," as the new grant-financed project will be known, should have a wider reach than just to youths who are already involved in the Youth Center or the Our House Crisis Center, Ygiela added.

"We're not going to be keeping it among small groups who are already involved," he said. "We want to spread the project out, to make it as participatory as possible."

"There are other groups in this community besides youth that have needs that can be addressed by these projects."

Growthworks plans to begin soon collecting the data it will need to plan projects and make analyses. To join the training program or follow the progress of the Community Intervention Project, contact the office of George Odiorne Associates at 711 Ann Arbor Trail, or call 455-4095.

Car rolls on new I-275

A PONTIAC MAN was reported in satisfactory condition after a one-car crash Friday noon on I-275 at the Hines Dr. underpass. Authorities said Peter Margosian 38, swerved to avoid a piece of sod lying in the road, lost control of his car, struck a bridge abutment and rolled over. He was transported to Wayne County General Hospital by the Plymouth Township rescue squad. (Crier photo by Hank Meijer)

Abstainers must show financial interest

A policy on abstentions in voting has finally been agreed upon by the members of the Canton Township Board.

In a resolution introduced by Trustee Gerald Cheske, who said he had "checked with seven of the communities around Canton," the policy will be that each member of the board shall vote on motions unless excused by the chair (Supervisor) for reasons of personal monetary conflict, which must be stated publicly if so requested.

Should the member's reasons be found invalid and he then refuse to vote, he would be in violation and the vote would be recorded as a "yes".

The only exception is for an abstention on the approval of minutes of a meeting at which the member was not present.

If a member votes "no" on a motion because he feels he is not prepared to vote, he may explain his vote after the vote has been concluded.

The policy was established after Trustee Brian Schwall asked that an opinion on abstention for other than financial reasons be sought from the township attorney. Attorney William Sempliner said three possibilities existed: record the abstention as a "no," or as a "yes", or count it with the majority.

Mettetal for sale

Mettetal Airport, for several months the center of a controversy in Canton Township when township officials considered its purchase, has been turned over to a real estate firm for sale according to one of its owners.

Bob Mettetal, co-owner of the airport with brother Marvin Mettetal, said Thompson-Brown Real Estate has accepted the airport property as a listing.

Canton Township trustees voted earlier this year not to purchase the airport, but instead to support businessmen who might buy it, possibly through a tax break on the property. Thus far, no activity on a possible purchase has been made public.

Bandit robs Clark station

A lone bandit early Saturday morning robbed the Clark gas station at 950 S. Main of $232 forcing the attendant at gunpoint to hand over all his money and then lie down on the back-room floor while the robber escaped on foot.

Plymouth Police said a white male in an army coat and blue jeans pulled a revolver from his coat pocket and a white bag from inside his jacket and ordered attendant Don Askew to open the station's safe.

Askew said he didn't have the key. The suspect then ordered Askew to hand over all the money he had, saying, "Don't lie or I'll shoot you."

Askew said he was told to lie on the floor for five minutes while the bandit made his escape.

City committee turns in report

The Plymouth City Commission Monday night accepted the report of its Downtown Business Committee and moved to continue the committee until "the new commission reconstructs its membership."

The motion to continue was made by Commissioner Harold Guenther, who said the present commission should not destroy its (the committee's) continuity.

"The new commission can do whatever they want to with it when they get around to it," said Guenther. The committee concluded that city officials should consider ending parking requirements for buildings in the Central Business District.

Editor:

I have just finished your well-written analysis of the dissolution of the Plymouth-Canton Development Commission in your Oct. 16 issue.

The article was very comprehensive. In fact, it gave us more exposure than we have had during our existence.

May I ask you to kindly print this letter in your next issue in order to supply answers to questions left unanswered.

Just what did we accomplish? The answer can be seen if we look at our community today and compare it with 10 years previous.

Our main effort was to try to put Plymouth on the map by all means possible, including nationwide advertising in various periodicals, plus the business section of the Detroit News. We feel we accomplished this, whether one considers it good or bad. Within the State we are no longer considered the lost western portion of Wayne County.

We felt that if we could only get business to take a close look at us, the rest would take care of itself. Basically, it was a good public relations approach. Currently, our business tax base far exceeds our residential in-

Plymouth Township alone, which means that business carries the major tax load.

In September, 1974, we told ourselves our main objectives had been fairly realized. Good business judgment indicated that the time had come to relieve government of funding the operation and to work towards turning it back to the business community where it belonged.

We foresaw the Chamber of Commerce gradually assuming the burden. Towards this objective, we shared our director with the Chamber, both in time and money, as the first step in phasing out the PCDC, hoping that by the end of 1976 this would be accomplished.

Early this year our board realized that no progress was being made. Fortunately, the Chamber board felt as we did.

The director left us in May of this year. It was at this point that the PCDC board gave consideration to two alternatives, i.e., continuing on a very restricted budget or phasing out entirely.

Late in August, a decision was reached to dissolve the commission, and our respective governments were asked to formally dissolve inasmuch as they appointed the commission originally.

In the interim, we notified each government unit to withhold all 1975 funding. When we close the books at the end of this year we hope to return a substantial sum to each unit in addition.

How often does this happen? We read of boards created in Washington going on forever after their job was completed and being funded again and again without even holding a meeting.

Having served over the years as president, vice-president, commissioner, and also acting director, I honestly feel we did a lot of good, thanks to all of the businessmen and others who gave their time freely with not one cent of recompense.

What lies ahead? Well, with Livonia's industrial corridor getting fairly full, and with I-275 and M-14 getting closer daily, business will go where facilities are provided, and the direction points southwest. The groundwork has been laid.

I wish to thank The Crier for the coverage given and for this letter if it appears.

P.S.

The local media recently reported at least one governmental unit talking of employing a director for their own area. May I list the qualifications such a man should have in order to produce:

- A. Finished the eighth grade.
- B. Be president of the bank.
- C. Be a realtor.
- D. Be president of Chamber of Commerce.
- E. Be on Board of Directors of large mortgage co.
- F. Be an elected official.
- G. Be chairman of the Planning Commission.
- H. Serve on Board of Appeals
- I. Local resident for at least 25 years.
- J. Know major state and county officials.
- K. Be welcome in Lansing. Anyone with these qualifications would be a real industrial coordinator. He could wade through it all with dry feet. He might well serve without pay.

What are taxes for?

Editor, and Plymouth School Board President Marda Benson and Vice President Marcia Borowski:

An Open letter to all: I am writing this to you as heads of the school board and also to the local papers to voice my opinions.

I have in the past voted on millage, but in the future I will think twice. Why? Because in our schools they want too many parent volunteers. At one school they want 10 mothers to help their librarian. Why? Doesn't she know her job? What does she do while she has so many volunteers plus an aide?

These teachers earn about $10,000 a year. Why do we have to have a librarian and her aide if they have 10 volunteers? There are others who feel the same.

Our taxes pay for teachers to just sit and have volunteers do all the work. At Isbister Elementary, for instance, the librarian has stopped people in the hallway to come in and read stories to the students. What does she do in the meantime?

I don't mind volunteering my services for field trips or special school and community projects, but to let teachers take an extra coffee break -- no.

I have four children in Plymouth schools, and they are being cheated by being taught by inexperienced mothers instead of so-called paid teachers.

If I wanted my children taught by an inexperienced mother to read, write and do math, I will keep them home and do it myself and keep my tax dollars to pay my salary.

Who is going to teach in the new schools, teachers or mothers?

Honesty important

Editor:

In view of the approaching elections and increasing citizen interest in campaign reform, the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women wishes to publicly emphasize its position on political responsibility.

AAUW encourages all candidates for elected offices to consider public interests before private interests. The Plymouth Branch challenges voters to become fully informed and to question candidates about possible conflicts of interest, or semblance thereof, both privately and in public forums.

Citizens should urge all public officials to view their offices as a public trust and avoid actions which result in personal gain.

AAUW calls for open, accessible, accountable and responsive government at all levels.

1. We support full public disclosure of campaign expenditures and contributions.
2. We support combined public and private funding of primary and general elections, and contributions by individuals, regulated by independent advisory boards.
3. We support the right of citizens to be kept informed of the actions taken by government, both elected and appointed officials.

One of the most important means of improving society is through good laws developed by honest officials. Working for these means is a logical part of an enlightened citizenship.

Don't diagnose, teach

Editor:

I read with interest the letter written by Patricia Reese in the Oct. 8 Community Crier.

The comment that the Reading and Learning Specialist performs an incredible amount of diagnostic and prescriptive reading assessments may be true, but if the children still cannot read what is the value of those functions?

Perhaps if more time was spent on teaching reading skills and less on other functions the quality of the reading program would be improved. It is my feeling that if, and I quote, "these functions account for more than half of the learning specialist time," the program should be given a more appropriate name so that the taxpayers, who pass the millage in good faith, will know what their tax money is being used for.

I consider reading to be one of the most important subjects and feel our children are being short changed in this area. At the present time I am taking my child four days a week to the Reading and Learning Clinic at the University of Michigan.

My husband and I pay taxes for education in our school district and we are also paying for education outside of our school system. This is not the first time we have had to go to outside sources for help.

I realize assessment is important, however, for my part I'd rather have less assessment and more results.

BARBARA THAYER.

Twp. to hire clerk for police

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has approved a request by the Michigan State Police to authorize the hiring of a township employee under the Federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) to serve as a clerical aide at the Plymouth Post of the State Police.

Under Federal CETA allocations, designed to find jobs for the unemployed or underemployed, the township may spend up to $91,000 by June 1976.

Five CETA employees were hired this summer to work at the township recreation area. Three were students who have since returned to school.

In a letter to the township board, Lt. William Tomczyk, Detroit commanding officer, said a CETA employe could file reports, type, answer telephone and radio calls and help with desk work.

Tomczyk said the employe, who will be hired and paid by the township through arrangements with the Federal Office of Manpower, would be supervised by a uniformed State Policeman at all times.

"I personally support this, we should help them (the State Police) in any way we can," said Trustee Richard Gornick.

Kids float loans for Bird boutique

BY KATHY KUENZER

It may be true you're never too old to start a business, but are you ever too young?

Two second grade classes at Bird School hope to prove that six and seven year olds are not too young not only to start a business, but to float a loan from a local bank, obtain a work permit for their employes, establish production lines, build several products, open a store, give the employes their paychecks and pay off the loan.

Mrs. Delores Smith, teacher of one of the classes, says the idea for the project arose when the classes were studying careers and roles other people play.

She and Mrs. Sandra Wilcox, another second grade teacher, agreed their classes might better understand a businessman's situation if they actually set up their own corporation and "floated a loan" at a local bank.

Last Wednesday morning the children and teachers walked to the First National Bank of Plymouth, where they borrowed $20 for each class.

"With the money we will buy materials to make several items for a Christmas boutiques we will hold in late November or early December for parents and students" said Mrs. Smith, "the children have been issued a work permit by our principal, Mr. Nichols, and are ready to set up their production lines."

Several boutique items have already been made by the children with material donated from home. But Mrs. Smith says it will also be necessary to replenish supplies on hand with the loan money.

"After the boutique, the corporation hopes to be able to give each child a 'paycheck' and then pay back the loans," Mrs. Smith added.

Of course, the unknown factor in the whole scheme will be the number of buying customers at the boutique. If the enthusiasm of the corporation extends to its salesmen, however, that should be no problem.

Exchange Student returns

Carol Cavell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Les Cavell of 1281 Carol, Plymouth, recently returned from a five-week stay in France as a Plymouth Lions Club youth Exchange student.

Carol stayed at the home of a French Lion's Club member in Avignon, France.

While French was spoken almost exclusively, Carol had little trouble, since she studied French four years at Plymouth High School and is now in her second year of the language at Michigan State.

Carol said she was impressed with the relaxed manner of living in France and said mealtime was filled with conversation.

"This is our big surfacing," said organizer Bruce Young.

The group has invited Canton resident Joseph J. Loukotka, district director of customer service for the U.S. Postal Service, to speak on "The Real truth About Your Future Post Office," in the Canton High School cafeteria.

Wednesday, Oct. 29 at 8 p.m.

"You will hear and be participating in the discussion of your future post office with the proper authority," the organization's "special bulletin" on the issue said. "You, the concerned citizen, will receive the due credits by your interest and impressive impact on this issue.

"Implied political powers no longer play a decisive or impressive roll in the decision-making of the U.S. Postal Service; nor is there any need for political display of rivalry between Canton Township and Plymouth."

Schools vow ban on sex, race bias

Discriminating on the basis of sex in educational programs, activities, or employment is contrary to Plymouth Community School District policy.

Equality of educational opportunity is one of the top goals of the Board of Education, ac-ording to Supt. John M Hoben, who said in his listing of objectives for the district, "We are committed to the total elimination of discrimination based on race, creed or sex."

Both state and federal law requires equal treatment of males and females of any age, including students. Complaints about discrimination can be taken to teachers, counselors or principals.

Inquiries concerning the application of Title IX, of Public Law 982-380, the law which forbids discrimination on the basis of sex, should be made to the local Title IX coordinators, Samuel D. Ulsaker and Florence Beier, administrative assistant of the schools at 452-0200.

Activities to help students and parents understand their rights to equal opportunity under Title IX are being planned. These include meetings, evaluation of district policies and instruction in regular classes.

Inspection fees set

The Canton Township Board of Trustees last week adopted a schedule for fees for mobile home inspections in the township.

According to building inspector Charles Thompson, the state now requires townships to inspect all mobile homes new to the township and charge fees for the service. Thompson said the County Health Department had conducted the inspections in the past.

STATE POLICE had a mystery on their hands Saturday morning, when passersby found a smashed car lying in a ditch alongside Ann Arbor Rd. just west of Napier — the driver was nowhere around. The car apparently veered across the center line, flew across a ditch to shear off a power pole, then landed upright several yards away. State Police and Washtenaw County Sheriff's Deputies searched a nearby cornfield, thinking the driver may have been thrown from the car on impact, but the search revealed nothing. Then, a few hours later, police received a call from a lawyer who said he represented an Ypsilanti man who had been driving the car and then hitched a ride back to his home after the accident. Police plan to question the driver further about the incident. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron.)

Indians organize

Local children of American Indian descent will soon have a program that will give them greater awareness and understanding of their heritage.

The Plymouth Community School District has formed its Native American Indian Advisory Council (NAIAC). The council named Leo Bennett of Plymouth chairperson. Other members of the council include, Loretta Hernandez, Pamela Howard, Larry Brunette and Gail Bennett.

If other parents of children who reside in the district would like to participate on the council, and their children are of at least one-sixteenth Indian descent, they should contact Samuel Ulsaker, PCSD administrative assistant, at 453-0200, for notice of the next meeting.

Survey revealed

Continued use of state funds for local environmental improvements received strong support from area residents in a poll distributed throughout the 14th Senate District by State Sen. Carl Pursell. (R-Plymouth)—

Close to-home "quality of life" recreation programs, such as the clean-up of Newburgh, Phoenix and Wilcox lakes was favored by 83 per cent of the survey participants.

A close second in public support with 82 per cent approval were efforts to eliminate "win at any cost" pressures from youth sports programs.

The other question receiving major backing in the poll with 80 per cent in favor was the concept of imposing the death penalty for premeditated murder.

Smaller majorities favored legislation which would ban smoking in public areas (68 per cent); and ban the sale and possession of handguns (56 per cent); a question again in national prominence after two handgun attempts on President Ford's life.

The closest contest in the poll concerned the pending Equal Rights Amendment for women to the U.S. Constitution. When the smoke cleared, 54 per cent voiced opposition to the idea and 46 per cent expressed support of ERA. A move is currently underway to have states, like Michigan, which have already ratified the amendment, withdraw their support.

Hotalling to review plan

Robert Hotalling, professor at Michigan State University and expert on community planning, will be asked by Canton Township to study the upcoming Canton Land Use Plan.

Hotalling and Bert Burgoyne, one of the township's attorneys, will both be requested to study the plan, according to Supervisor Bob Greenstein, who told the board of trustees that Hotalling will require a fee of about $1,000 for his services, but that the help would be "vital."

"A team like Hotalling and Burgoyne is hard to beat," he said.

The board unanimously agreed to the suggestion.

A FIRE THURSDAY in the attic damaged one of the Plymouth area's most historic homes, the Garber Farm, on North Territorial, now owned by the Dennis Golbesky family.

Our House answers crisis needs

A possible drug overdose, a family fight, a suicide threat — such emergencies can't be dealt with through an appointment a week from Friday — When you need immediate help, there is Our House Crisis Center.

Located at 185 S. Harvey, Our House provided more than 2,850 people in crisis intervention last year. The highly trained staff is comprised mostly of volunteers, whose service hours totaled over 8,000, divided among several programs:

The "hot-line" 455-4900, and walk-in center at 185 S. Harvey, offer crisis counseling in area ranging from boy-girl, marital and family problems to drug identification and overdose aid. The staff also handles "non-emergency" information and referrals.

A medical clinic, open from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Mondays at the center, offers pregnancy testing, VD testing and treatment and birth control counseling to persons 18 and older. (Younger inquirers are referred to private physicians). A medical doctor or registered nurse staffs the clinic, with patient advocates accompanying each clients for support and counseling. Our House, the staff notes, has malpractice coverage.

The program, which is seeking a special grant from the Plymouth Community Fund, incorporates a wide variety of volunteer staff "in order to service the broad spectrum of clients."

For example, among the 30 volunteers who were active last summer, the age range was from 16 (the minimum age accepted) to 40-plus. They included industrial workers, business and professional people, ministers, teachers and high school and college students.

Many of the Our House staff and volunteers are also active in Plymouth Youth Inc., located at 271 S. Main. It also has provide services for more than 2,000 area residents, through various local programs.

Canton Hills truck traffic to be curbed

The Canton-Township Board of Trustees had agreed to ask the Wayne County Road Commission to restrict heavy truck traffic through an area of the township where residents have complained of danger to their children and spilled debris.

Residents of Canton Hills, a rolling area of larger homes along Lilley near Michigan Ave., complained to the board last week that children had been spattered by the trucks and knocked into the ditch, and that debris was spilled from uncovered truck beds and garbage trucks enroute to a dump south of Michigan Ave.

Supervisor Bob Greenstein said that the area is "one of the beautiful subdivisions" in Canton, and that "the board owes it to you to preserve the rural atmosphere."

He recommended closing Lilley to truck traffic between Michigan and Cherry Hill or Palmer, and reducing the speed limit to 35 mph.

"I want to personally direct the presentation of this to the county," said Greenstein, after the motion passed.

Constable: a quiet job except for the dogs

One of the oldest Canton and Plymouth township offices is a behind the scenes job people often forget exists -- the constable.

Plymouth Township constables Donald King of Micol Road and Gordon Campbell of Joy Road

like their Canton counterparts, have been elected to two-year terms.

Among King's duties is the job of general liquor inspector, which includes checking on bars periodically to make sure windows, restrooms, floors and counters are clean. During King's 20-year stint as constable, he has also served many documentary court papers and subpoenas and answered calls on stray dogs.

Campbell was appointed to his position in 1973, and was elected to the post in 1974. After running for trustee twice and being defeated both times, he decided to try for the constable's job instead.

Constables in Canton Township are Tim Murphy, Gene Reaves, and Ann and Jack Blevin.

The Blevins, a husband and wife team, who live in Holiday Park Mobile Home Subdivision, were elected last November.

Both Murphy and Reaves live in Royal Holiday Mobile Home

Park. Murphy is serving his first term as a constable. Pursuing complaints of sidewalks that haven't been shoveled and stray dogs roaming neighborhoods takes up Murphy's time.

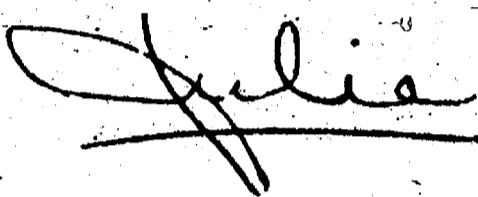

"Next time, I think my wife is going to run with me," Murphy said, echoing the Blevins philosophy, "We might as well make it a family affair."

Reaves has been in office for six years, and says he likes it because of "all the different types of people I meet."

Bicentennial trees

Thanks to one member of the Canton Bicentennial Commission, township residents now have a poem with which to mark the 1,776 tree planting program begun last month with the planting of a tulip tree in front of Township Hall.

As part of ceremonies surrounding the planting of that tree, Charles Zazula wrote his "Ode to the Canton Tree."

Under the lovely tulip tree
The Canton Bicentennial stands.
With arms outstretched and roots intact
The tree protects the land.

Under the lovely tulip tree
The patriots of Canton stand
In honor of our first president,
General George Washington.
The tulip tree planted on the grounds of Township Hall was purchased and donated by the Northwest Canton Homeowners Association.

If you're planting your own tree and wish to have it known as part of the Bicentennial project, notify the commission in advance by contacting John Cojei, tree-planting coordinator for the commission, at 51215 Hanford Rd. or 453-8785, or the township offices at 326-6400.

Sparkman quits baseball job

After six years as varsity baseball coach at Salem High School, Wayne Sparkman has turned in his resignation. Sparkman will remain in the athletic department as a varsity football assistant coach.

The reasons for resigning from the head baseball post were two fold, Sparkman said in a letter to Plymouth Athletic Director John Sandmann.

"Coaching means sacrificed time away from the family," he wrote, "as long as what your doing is enjoyable, worthwhile and rewarding, then the sacrifices are worth it."

With both baseball and football coaching jobs, Sparkman was busy instructing athletes from March through November without a break.

"Thinking about it, I'm at the point where I'm missing a lot of time that should be spent with my family," he said.

The 33-year old Sparkman is married and has two girls, ages three and five.

His other reason for resigning, he said, was that "It is difficult to build a successful program with numerous obstacles blocking the way."

When asked what those obstacles were, Sparkman replied, "Those obstacles are personal and I don't wish to comment on them."

Sparkman who still wants athletic involvement, chose to keep the assistant football coaching job for various reasons, he said.

"As a head coach, you have the added responsibility and duties that you don't have as an assistant. Baseball encompasses two seasons (spring and summer) while football is just in the fall. So baseball was dropped," he said.

Sports

Sparkman admitted he was thinking of stepping down for a couple of years now, but said it was one of the hardest decisions he'd ever made.

"We're picked to win the Sub Eight League again next season," he said. "We have ball players coming back with outstanding physical talent, including five .300 hitters."

"But in the long run, there is never a good time to quit -- so now's the time."

"People did call, adults as well as players, both past and present, and try to talk me out of it. I think it's nice that people showed concern -- it has to make you feel good."

"Most important," he added, "the players this season, as individuals, are some of the nicest. It was a joy being around them and they were a pleasure to work with."

Sparkman mentioned his appreciation of the player and parent support during his six-year term. Individuals who helped him build the solid program at Salem include Mert Williams, Howard Schryer and Don Bidwell, he said.

Commenting on Sparkman's resignation, Salem principal Bill Brown said, "It's with a great deal of regret that we see Wayne go. His contributions to the school and the baseball program have been outstanding."

Brown said he had the highest professional respect for Sparkman, whom he coached in Sparkman's high school days in the late 1950s.

Succeeding Frank Fischer as head baseball coach in 1970, his teams have never finished lower than fourth in Sub-8 standings. He led his 1972 squad to a district championship and regional runnerup position, then went all the way to a state championship last season along with winning the conference title.

When Sparkman became coach, there was no summer program, except through the recreation department. He established and continued both a Connie Mack and an Adray League summer school team.

Two years later, he started a Mickey Mantle League team in Plymouth for all junior varsity players who wished to compete in summer ball. The Mickey Mantle idea was picked up by Canton head baseball coach Fred Crissey, who served as a junior varsity coach in Sparkman's program.

Extra equipment for the varsity teams was also a drive started by Sparkman, who led players in selling fertilizer, to buy their uniforms and extra that the school budget couldn't furnish. He also initiated the idea of dugouts for the new baseball diamond, which he helped direct and construct.

COACH WAYNE SPARKMAN (far right) accepted the state baseball championship trophy last June. Three months later, he resigned from the post after a six-year reign. (Crier photo.)

Rocks narrowly miss upset

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

The Salem Rocks football team came within two minutes of pulling the upset of the season in the Suburban Eight League, only to be edged by the Dearborn Pioneers 22-20 last Friday afternoon at Dearborn.

Grabbing a 20-19 lead with 5:26 left in the contest, the Rocks failed to stop the Pioneer drive that followed as Steve Wallace kicked a 28-yard field goal through the uprights with only 2:13 left in the game to cop the victory.

The loss dropped Salem's record to 2-4 overall, 2-3 in the conference. Dearborn remained once-beaten, picking up its fifth victory of the season.

His team was an underdog, going into the contest, but head coach Tom Moshimer didn't see it that way.

"I really felt before the ballgame started that we should win," he said. "We just didn't play in the first quarter, but we did a helluva good job in the last three."

Dearborn jumped out to a quick 12-0 lead after the first 14 minutes of action, driving the ball down field at will.

But the Rocks defensive line tightened and the offensive unit began moving the ball midway in the second period.

Playing their well-known ball control wishbone-option attack, the Rocks held the ball from the nine-minute mark to the 2:30 mark in the second quarter, as they drove 77 yards in 15 plays for their first score.

Charlie Johnson capped the drive, bulling over from the two. Rich Doherty's extra point kick was blocked, keeping the score 12-6.

The score remained the same at halftime, thanks to a Salem defense which put up a stout goal line stand at the end of the first half, preventing the Pioneers from scoring further.

Dearborn opened its lead to 19-6 on its first possession of the second half, when a 33-yard pass went all the way for the score.

But the Rocks fought back on their very next possession, as Tim Lilley broke into the open and rambled 35 yards to cut the margin to 19-12. Doherty's kick was perfect this time, and the Rocks were within only six points with four minutes left in the third quarter.

The defenses took over for the rest of the period, and it wasn't until the five-minute mark of the final period that Salem took the lead.

Forcing Dearborn to punt, from its down end, the snap from center went over the punter's head and the Rocks gained possession on the Pioneer two. Three plays later, quarterback Ben Wilcox snuck over and Doherty's boot was good, giving them the short-lived 20-19 lead.

City Lombardi League showdown's Sunday

The climax of the junior football regular season comes this Sunday, Oct. 26, with the annual city battle between the Plymouth Lions and the Plymouth Panthers.

All three teams, freshman, junior varsity and varsity, will be in action in the day's festivities, held at Central Middle School beginning with the freshman battle at 1 p.m.

The junior varsity game is scheduled to start at 3 p.m., with the varsity players rounding out the action at approximately 5 p.m.

Lion frosh are only Jr. Football winners

The Plymouth junior football Lions battled the Dearborn Heights Cubs to a draw Sunday, at the Central Middle School field.

After the freshmen won 8-0, the junior varsity tied 0-0, while the varsity lost 12-0. Todd Beauchamp rambled 18 yards for the games only score, as the Lion frosh pulled their mark to 4-2. Entering the final week of the season, the Blue and Silver still has a chance to slip past the Allen Park Bulldogs and the Ann Arbor Rams for the championship. Should they do so, they would be the only Plymouth team to qualify for one of the benefit games scheduled for the Centennial Park Field Sunday Nov. 2.

The Lion junior varsity defensive unit fought to a scoreless tie with an equally determined Cub squad. Leading Lion defensive efforts were Mike Fillingsworth, Bill Hanis and Mike Maisner. The tie was the second for the Lions, who enter in their final game with a 1-3-2 mark.

to a 26-6 triumph.

Although the Panther defense, led by Kyle Billings contained the Bulldog running game, Allen Park's aerial attack and the Panther's lack of consistent offense were key factors in the Plymouth downfall.

Despite good performances by Gary Doran and John Gray, the varsity was unable to put any points on the board against the Cubs. Daren Johnson led the Lions defensive charge, as they dropped their fifth game against one victory.

The powerful Allen Park junior football Bulldogs freshman, junior varsity and varsity teams rolled to their fifth victories of the year, as they swept the Plymouth Panthers last Sunday at Allen Park. Posting 19-0, 18-0, and 26-6 victories respectively, the Bulldogs were too tough on defense for the punchless Panthers.

In the freshman contest, the Panthers stayed close for three quarters, trailing by a 7-0 count until the final period, when the Bulldogs exploded for two touchdowns for the 19-0 romp. A disastrous second period doomed the Panther junior varsity, as Allen Park scored three times for an 18-0 half-time lead. Although the Panther played well on defense in the second half, they threatened to score only once, on a 40-yard pass from John Molyneaux to Tom Reed, who was tackled on the Allen Park eight-yard line. A fumble on the next play cost the Panthers their only scoring opportunity.

Larry Plesiewicz raced 65 yards to paydirt on the Panther varsity's first offensive play of the game. However, the stunned Bulldogs rallied quickly to score on their next two possessions to take the lead for good, rolling

East beats Central

One of the most dramatic victories in gridiron action this season came last Thursday, when East Middle School's seventh grade team nipped Central 12-8. After holding a 6-0 lead at the half, East surrendered that margin when Central scored a touchdown with two minutes left in the game. Central's try for two points was good, and an 8-6 victory seemed certain. But with only eight seconds left in the game and the clock running out, quarterback Russ Craig threw a desperation pass to Jay Parks that was completed for a 72-yard touchdown and the East triumph. Central's eighth graders defeated East on that same day, 22-0.

Slow start spoils Chief homecoming

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR
It wasn't a happy homecoming for the Canton Chiefs, as they fell behind early and dropped a 21-6 decision to the Livonia Churchill Chargers Friday night at the Centennial Park Field. The loss drops Canton's overall record to 2-4, and 1-3 in the Western Six League standings. Churchill remains unbeaten in the conference, battling Farmington Harrison next Friday for the title.

tion once again on its next possession. This time it took the Chargers 11 plays to drive 45 yards, giving them a 14-0 lead with 12 seconds remaining in the first quarter. The ball continued to bounce wrong for the Chiefs on the next kickoff. Jim Tiller failed to receive the kick cleanly, forcing him to run the ball out from his endzone. He was tackled on the two-yard line, and Canton found itself bottled up in its own end again as the quarter ran out. On the first play from scrimmage at that point, Tiller again lost the ball to the Chargers. It took them four attempts, but they finally pushed the ball over from the two, for an unstoppable 21-0 lead with 10 minutes left until halftime.

Rock cagers lead loop race

The Salem girls basketball team is on top of the world, or at least the Suburban Eight League, after two more conference victories over Redford Union and Allen Park, both played on the road last week.

The Rocks hold an undefeated loop record of 5-0 and an overall mark of 7-2, with only two of their remaining eight games on the road.

"It's a very great position to be in," said coach Debbie Hatcher. "We are in control of the league."

The victory that pushed the Rocks into the top spot was a first place battle with Redford Union last Tuesday.

Plymouth outscored the Panthers 22-9 in the final quarter to overcome a 40-31 deficit and triumph 53-49. The Rocks trailed 30-20 at the half, after playing an even first period, 11-11.

Kathy Dillon led all scorers with 20 points, followed by Peggy Moore's 17. Moore was a major factor in the game on the boards, as she picked up 19 rebounds.

Canton gals top Mott

BY JOHN DEN HOUTER

Using a man-to-man press and fighting up on defense, the Canton girls basketball team tripped up tough Waterford Mott in a Western Six League game last Thursday, 48-41. Canton upped its record to 5-3 with the win.

The smaller Chief team, starting two freshmen and two sophomores, jumped out to a 14-9 first-quarter lead. Mott battled back in the second quarter to take a five point lead as time ran out in the half.

The Chiefs cut the Mott lead to one point, 36-35, at the end of the third quarter.

In the last period the Chiefs put the clamp on Mott, giving up only five points while picking up 13 of their own to come from behind and pull out the win.

Canton was led by senior Cindy Kreig, who netted 19 points.

Coach Mike McCauley said, "We are scrappy tonight and we're going to have to play fired up the rest of the season to win."

A number of factors that turned the game didn't show up in the box score.

Linda Agardy held all-area player Linda Kosovac to only seven points in the contest.

Plymouth committed only two turnovers.

Fouls played an important part as well, since the Panthers were constantly in foul trouble, committing 26 offenses to Plymouth's 16.

Two days later, the Rocks beat Allen Park 44-24 in a game which saw all team members play. Dillon led all point getters again, with 14, as seven Rocks got into the scoring column.

Panther streak hits 20

Make it 20 in a row for the Pioneer Panther seventh and eighth grade football teams, as they both raised their season records to 4-0 last Thursday with victories over West Middle School.

These combined 4-0 records, coupled with two undefeated 6-0 seasons last year, extend the Panther unbeaten string to 20 games.

Craig Stack ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown to set the stage for an 18-0 shut-out for the eighth graders. Stack scored all three six-pointers in the game.

The seventh graders beat West 18-6, as Fred Goldston ran for two touchdowns, along with a Joe Garcia score. The West touchdown was the first points scored by an opponent against the Panthers this season.

Second round action continues tomorrow, as Pioneer faces Central.

The third win in first-round action saw the Panther eighth graders drub East 27-6, while the seventh graders won a hard-fought defensive battle 8-0 over their East counterparts.

Pioneer 8th set the stage of the victory over East when, on the first play from scrimmage, Craig Stack rambled 65 yards for a touchdown. Greg Lipka swept around right end for the successful two-point conversion giving Pioneer the quick 8-0 lead.

Stack later scored another touchdown, as did Dick DeFreuce and Phil Anderson.

Head coach Richard Gray praised young quarterback Jeff Powers, who ran an excellent attack throughout the contest.

A superior job by the offense line was also a key to the victory, Gray said. Mike Symonds, Howard Monk, Scott Schemenauer, Steve Graffel, Doug Welton, Bob LaVeck and John Froozan are mainstays of the powerful Panther line.

Gray credited the line play to "what a super job Gary Temple had done with coaching the line and the kids in general."

A long punt return by Pioneer's Greg Goldston set up his nine-yard touchdown run in the second quarter of the seventh grade game. The second half remained scoreless, as the defensive squads dominated the action, assuring the Panther victory.

Four plays later the Chargers drove into the endzone, grabbing a 7-0 lead with only seven minutes of the game expired.

Another short punt, this one 18 yards by Dave Pink, gave Churchill excellent field position once again on its next possession.

Canton's next possession saw a drive to the Chargers' 26-yard line before running out of downs.

The Chiefs quickly regained possession of the ball two plays later, as John Young recovered

JV gets first win

The Canton junior varsity football team notched its first victory of the season last Thursday with a 26-19 whipping of Northville.

The Chiefs season record now stands at 1-2-2.

Scott Collins led the attack with two touchdowns, while Jim Meadows scored the game-winner in the fourth quarter. Pete Hewett had the defensive play of the game when he recovered a fumble and rambled into the endzone for six points. Wes Craig's play on defense aided the Chief victory.

The Canton freshman team battled to a 6-6 deadlock with Pearson last Thursday. It was the second straight tie for the young Chiefs.

Canton scored its lone touchdown when Kurt Herbert crossed the goal line on a 60-yard pass play with eight seconds left in the first half.

Rocks lose to depth

Despite winning seven of 11 events, the Salem girls swim team lost to the superior depth of league opponents Trenton, 97-75, last Thursday night.

The Trojans took enough second, third and fourth place finishes to rack up the necessary points for the victory.

The Sub-8 loss was the first in three matches for the Rocks this season.

Marion and Sue Stanwood, along with Tamie Crespo, took two first place finishes each. The other top spot went to the 100 medley relay combination of the Stanwoods, Crespo, and Jill McCann.

Girls who continued to improve their times included Pat Marks, Chris Leclair, Madeline Lekatos, Sue Henry, Monika Rothe and Kathy Le-welling.

Two days earlier, the Rocks took nine of 11 events and sunk Westland John Glenn, 93-78 in a non-league meet.

Tankers ousted

The Canton girls swim team managed five first-place finishes last Thursday night in its 101-70 loss to Walled Lake Western.

Those 70 points are 11 better than the last time these two squads met, earlier in the season.

Jane Anderson grabbed first-place in the 50 and 100 free style. Her 100 free time of 1:05.3 sets a new school record.

Cindy Schelansky also had two first-place finishes, in the 100 back stroke and the 100 individual butterfly, knocking eight seconds off her previous best time.

These three girls, along with Wendy Gray and 200 medley relay participants Jay Spring and Julie Thompson, broke seven school records two days earlier in the Northville meet.

Harriers fall

BY JOHN DENHOUTER

The Salem cross country team, which finished eighth out of a field of 21 teams in the Redford Union Invitational meet on Tuesday, fell to Belleville 21-39 in a Suburban Eight meet last Thursday.

Salem's overall record stands at 2-9, while in the league the Rocks are 1-6.

Junior Walt White, had to sit out the meet with a spike injury to his foot.

Despite this setback, the young Salem team had five runners finish under 18 minutes over the three mile course for the first time this year.

Sophomore Scott Kleam finished in a dead heat for first place with a Belleville runner in 16:57.

There will be no football doubleheaders at the Centennial Educational Park Field next season.

Although the evening, on the whole, went smoothly when it came to playing football, Athletic Director John Sandmann cited factors which support games Friday and Saturday night next year.

"The evening was too long and it was hard to get regular workers (ticket takers and press box workers) to the first game because of the early starting time," Sandmann said. "These people have jobs where they can't make it until later in the evening."

Another factor was that separate 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday night games would draw more people than the two-for-one set up -- since many spectators couldn't make it to the early game.

The most significant reason Sandmann gave was the one of the three conflict next season was Salem-Bentley and Canton-Norhtville in the same week.

"Can you imagine setting these two games in a doubleheader? We wouldn't have enough parking space for all the people," he said.

The possibility of too little space in the stands would also loom if these two traditional rivalries were played on the same night.

As far as playing football went, Sandmann said neither Plymouth head coach reported difficulty with the du doubleheader set up.

Doc prognosticates

The homecoming banners switch from red to blue this Friday night, as the Salem Rocks football team caps off the week of activities with a gridiron match against Allen Park starting at 8 p.m. at the Centennial Park field.

Allen Park holds a 1-4 record in Suburban Eight League standings, with a single victory over lowly Redford Union.

Coming off an impressive performance, despite losing by a narrow margin to a powerful Dearborn team, the improving Rocks should make a homecoming feast of the Jaguars -- Salem by 13.

The Canton Chiefs end conference action this Friday when they travel to Waterford Mott for a contest beginning at 8 p.m.

Mott is fired up after last week's 7-0 upset victory over Northville. They hold a Western Six League record of 2-2 and this win in front of home fans will give them undisputed possession of third place.

A Chief victory would add some light to Canton's conference season, as they would be assured of a tie for third place, finishing at 2-3.

The contest should be close all the way, but Canton can't give up the big play and have any hope of winning.

Since Mott has the homefield advantage, I'm going with the foes, fearing a long bus ride home for the Chiefs -- Mott by 2.

Chiefs lose homecoming game---sigh

a fumble on Churchill's 33-yard line.

This time Canton crossed the goal line for its only score of the night, as five plays later quarterback Tom Close hit his favorite receiver, tight end Dave Pink, in the endzone from 14 yards out. Pinks extra point attempt was blocked, leaving the score at 21-6.

The game turned into a defensive battle in the second half, with no points put on the board by either team. The chiefs had the best shot at scoring in the second half as they drove down to the one-yard line with two minutes remaining in the contest. But Close tried passing for that yardage, and was intercepted, foiling any Canton hopes.

Fullback Mike Ogden, sat out the game with a back injury sustained in the Northville game last week. Tackle Jim Williams was sidelined with a broken hand.

Plymouth Schools Minutes

This is a synopsis of the approved minutes of the regular meeting of the Plymouth Community Board of Education held on October 6, 1975. Members McClendon and Mirto were not present. Minutes of the meeting of September 22, as well as agenda presented, were approved as prepared.

Citizens Suggestions: Letter was read from Mrs. L. Olson regarding cost savings to the District through more prudent bus scheduling and gasoline usage. All citizens were asked by the President to help the Board by commenting on cost savings that could be instituted. The letter from Mrs. Olson was referred to administration for study, feasibility and contractual ramifications.

Mr. H. Rupert and Mr. Earl Hedge also rose to discuss concerns with cost savings from a Custodial point-of-view, making suggestions that each building principal meet with custodial staff to discuss saving costs. Administration was directed to form a committee to help each building cut back severely on any energy waste. Mrs. C. Bellenger also suggested some bus operating changes which could effect savings.

Administration Reports: Fourth Friday count was reported as 13,415 students. Budget review meetings for October 7 and 9 were announced with citizens invited to participate.

New Business: A sabbatical leave for John Hopkins, Salem High School teacher, was cancelled and he was placed on leave of absence. A request was referred back to administration for further study regarding flood control and nature pond on the Willow Creek at Centennial Park, and also on appointment of Wade, Trim and Associates to provide necessary engineering services, etc. A resolution was passed which would approve the School District entering into a class-action suit with Livonia, Wayne/Westland, et al School Districts against the State of Michigan and the legislature to try to recover funds cut from the District through use of formulas based on local property taxes, and to question the constitutionality of the State's action. A resolution also passed which would withdraw School District through use of formulas based on local property taxes, and to question the constitutionality of the State's action. A resolution also passed which would withdraw School District membership in the Plymouth-Canton Development Commission and recommend to other members that it be disbanded, as proposed by the Commission. An administrative decision to deny a request from the parents of a student to attend Salem High School due to change in residence was upheld by Board members. Member Gray was appointed Board delegate to the Community Education Advisory Committee, with Member Mirto as alternate, and the Board concurred with the names proposed to serve on that committee from the Community. The meeting was adjourned at 9:15 p.m.

Note that this is a synopsis and complete minutes and tape recording of meeting can be reviewed at the Central Board Offices, 454 S. Harvey St.

two smaller buildings or one smaller building with garden apartments bordering the Bradbury property on the south. "Is there any reason why all this property (the 16-acre parcel and the two others adjoining it) cannot be coordinated in this project?" asked Thomas Calkins, chairman of the Bradbury Homeowners Association Steering Committee. "We're leaving acres of land with a potential for undesirable development (if the zoning change is approved.) Horton agreed, adding that he had contacted both of the property owners, but that one had not shown an interest in either selling the parcel or coordinating development plans. "We're willing to wait, but we can't operate in a vacuum," he said, adding, "I have no intention of letting motorcycles in." The hearing was the second to be held on the controversial zoning request. Township

Attorney Don Morgan ruled that a hearing held in August may not have been legal, because all adjoining property owners were not properly notified of proposed zoning changes. The township notified the developers of Bradbury, Kaufman and Broad, rather than the individual condominium owners.

Among the factors planning commissioners cited in their refusal to approve a new zoning were: the uncertain availability of sewers (the complex undedicated streets), a lack of effective input on the ultimate use of all parcels in the area, inadequate frontage on both Haggerty and Ann Arbor Rd., adverse impact on nearby residents of a high-rise building, and increased population density that would magnify other problems, including those of traffic circulation.

"We don't seem to be able to get a handle on this entire quadrant," said Planning Commission Chairman James Griffith. He named a committee of commission members to study the entire site and make a recommendation to the commission no later than the end of the year on how zoning there should be treated.

The commission decision will now go to the township Board of Trustees.

moon before a policewoman on the force."

Ford termed the allegation "a gross falsehood."

Ms. Casey's case is the first such that has been filed against the department, which has never had a woman officer.

"It's unbroken ground," she said. "We don't know what we're up against. I don't have any ill feeling toward anybody. All I want is an opportunity to go to (officer's candidates) school."

"Somebody has to rock the boat. I really wish that wasn't going to happen, but I can't avoid it."

"The status quo perpetuates prejudice. The town sleeps. Until one person changes the status quo, the town will continue to sleep."

Ford said Ms. Casey would be ineligible for a patrolman's job because of her age. The 35-year old mother of two is three years past the maximum age for new personnel under Michigan statute, Ford said.

"I first began to bargain for this thing when I was 27," Ms. Casey said. "They wouldn't let me take the test. They didn't say 'no'. They just gave me no answer when I asked."

of the budget," he said, "We're challenging administrators and teachers to come up with ways of absorbing this."

Asst. Supt. for Business Ray Hoedel projected revenues of some $17,756,000 this year, against expenditures of about $17,370,000. Among revenues, state aid has dropped from about 21.2 per cent of the total budget last year to 16 per cent in the 1975-76 budget.

Hoedel noted that salaries and fringe benefits account for 85 per cent of the district's total expenditures. Under the tentative budget, $83,500 would remain in reserve as a contingency balance that might be needed to offset additional state aid reductions.

The board met Saturday morning in a budget workshop to discuss the tentative budget presented to the public Monday.
