

Carol Davis gets school seat

BY DONNA LOMAS

Carol Davis, 33-year old Plymouth Township resident who describes herself as an "employed housewife" was selected Monday night from among 13 candidates to replace former member Marcia Borowski on the Plymouth-Canton School Board.

Davis received the nod on the fourth round of nominations and voting by the other six school board members.

The appointment is effective immediately. Ms. Davis was sworn in at the school board offices Tuesday.

Trustee Steven Harper gave his vote to Davis on her fourth nomination by Trustee Joe Gray. Four voice votes by board members were needed to make the appointment.

Davis garnered three votes each time she was nominated.

On the third nomination, Trustees Richard Arlen, Gray and Tom Yack voted for Davis; Trustees George Lawton, Flossie Tonda and Steve Harper voted for candidate Elaine Kirchgatter.

The fourth nomination was between Davis and Kirchgatter. Tonda and Lawton voted for Kirchgatter, and Harper switched his vote to Davis, along with Gray, Arlen and Yack.

"The Board of Education has been gratified by this overwhelming response," said vice-president of the board, Tom Yack. "Rest assured, whoever we name will be highly qualified. We are especially pleased because there has been so much community discussion, input and communication on this matter."

During the school board interviews, Davis said she perceived the function of the school board as that of "a watchdog, to maintain things as they are, to change things if needed."

She saw the biggest problem facing the district as "community was divided, unhappy in what they think about the district."

She cited some of the skills she would bring to the board.

Stein, Bradley, Daley squeak by Canton recall

THIS IS the artist's drawing of the nine-story office and condominium complex proposed for Harvey Street in Plymouth.

9-story condominium planned for downtown

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

A multi-million dollar, nine-story condominium and office building has been proposed for downtown Plymouth.

The 78-foot tall building would be built on 1.48 acres across the block between Harvey Street and Forest Avenue along Wing Street and could be ready by the summer of 1979.

According to the developers - Plymouth Developer Jim Jabara, Plymouth Township Attorney John Thomas and Northville Builder Frank A. "Tony" Bauss - the project does not require rezoning from its current B-3 classification, which permits the proposed height and adequate setback.

Site plan approval is necessary for the project and its developers filed plans with the city Tuesday seeking approval from the planning commission at its Sept. 14 meeting.

It would not require City Commission approval.

"We're not looking for a zoning change, for a variance (from zoning laws) or for a tax abatement," Thomas said.

(Last fall, city voters rejected a tax abatement proposal for a proposed 4-story senior citizens housing project downtown.

To be called "The Dartmoor Condominiums" after the historic region of England where the City of Plymouth is located, the condominiums will include 79 units. They will crown a single-floor which will house 4,500 sq. ft. of office space and a 40-space parking garage.

The condominium units will each feature outside balconies and, in three different layouts, two bedrooms. On the top two floors of the building will be 16 two-story units. The other units will range from 1,440 to 1,600 sq. ft. in a quarter circle and rectangular layouts.

A sundeck facing southwest and a tennis court and landscaped plaza will be located on the second floor roof above the offices and parking area. There will be two elevators.

To be built of masonry construction with brick exterior, the structure will feature bay windows of insulated glass.

Demolition of the existing buildings, including two homes and the current location of Plymouth Auto Body Shop, will probably begin this fall.

A second phase of the development, the former West Brothers and Hines Park Mercury dealerships building (which currently houses V&C Tire & Auto) will come later. That portion of the project - amounting to .59 acres will be used to satisfy part of the 172 parking spaces required under the proposal as it now stands.

By narrow margins, all three threatened Canton officials held on to their jobs in Saturday's recall election.

The voters also gave the township over to levy a police millage.

The fate of Supervisor Harold Stein, Treasurer Anne Bradley and Trustee Eugene Daley was in doubt until the final precinct's returns were tallied on the big board at the township meeting hall.

Precinct five yielded a strong "yes" for recall, but by not a big enough margin to overcome the lead of "no" votes to retain the three who ran as a slate last November.

"It's victory twice in 10 months," a happy Stein supporter exclaimed at the party at the Supervisor's house Saturday night.

Stein survived by only 109 votes - 2,010 "yes" against 2,119 "no" votes. Only 66 "no" votes kept Bradley in office, 2,020 "no" versus 2,086 "yes". Daley escaped recall by the slimmest margin, 2,015 "yes" versus 2,030 "no".

In last November's election, Stein received 3,808 votes for Supervisor. Bradley tallied 3,865 votes, and Daley received 3,614.

Peter Gabbert, leader of the effort to oust Stein, said, "Let's let this township rest in peace and let Mr. Stein do his job."

Stein said, "I'm relieved. It was like a bad dream and now it's over."

Both sides regretted the small turnout - 28.5 per cent - lower

Is Canton's new police chief certified?

Canton's new police chief, Walter MacGregor, has asked state law enforcement officials to decide whether he is a certified police officer, after the question arose last week whether his certification has expired.

The state certification law says a police officer has a two-year grace period before his certification expires if he is out of police work, said Gary Walker a spokesman for the Michigan

Law Enforcement Training Council (MLETC).

MacGregor retired as chief of the City of Wayne's force on July 12, 1975, according to a clerk in the city's personnel department.

He started working for Canton Aug. 8 this year, so his certification has seemingly run out.

But MacGregor said that on July 7, 1977, five days before his certification was due to expire, he joined the auxiliary force of Wayne's police department. This was sufficient to keep his qualification, he said.

Quoting the state law, Walker said that to retain his certification, a policeman must be "regularly employed" by a "police force or other organization of a city, county, township, village or the state."

Whether the auxiliary of Wayne's police fulfills the "regularly employed" or "other organization" clauses will be decided by the MLETC, probably at their next meeting.

MacGregor asked the MLETC in a letter to decide the question and Walker said that it probably will at its Sept. 9 meeting.

Clerk John Flodin said as far as he knew, there was no Canton ordinance requiring the police chief of Canton to be certified.

A police officer must be certified to make an arrest, however. "The township could hire anybody to be a police officer, but if he arrests somebody, Canton could be open to civil action. They do it at their own risk."

MacGregor said that regardless whether Canton requires the police chief to be certified, "I feel the police chief should be certified. If an arrest needs to be made, I want to make it. I don't want to have to call somebody else to do it."

Dearborn shooting victim Slain policeman lived in Canton

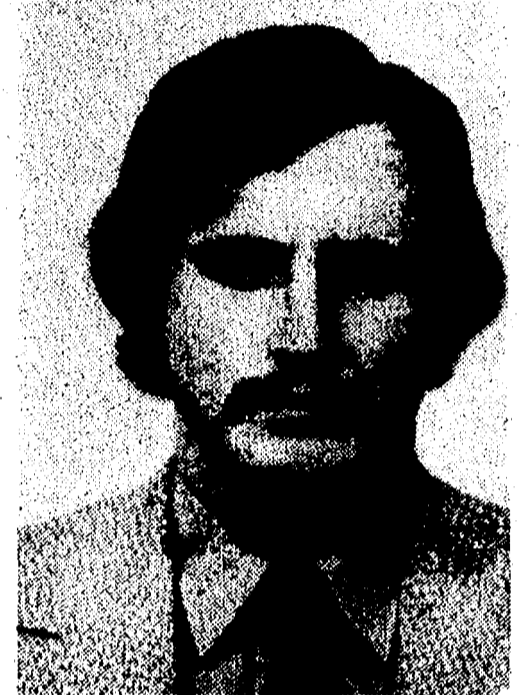

Funeral services were scheduled to be held this morning for a 29-year old Dearborn police officer from Canton who died last Saturday from a gunshot wound he suffered in a shootout Aug. 24.

According to Dearborn Police, Cpl. Norbert Szczygiel, serving as an undercover officer with their department, responded to a report of a man brandishing a gun at the Schaefer Bar at 6905 Schaefer in Dearborn.

Cpl. Szczygiel, who was in the third cruiser to arrive at the scene, was hit above his left eye by a bullet from a .357 magnum revolver, police said. He was struck while still in his cruiser.

Following two hours of brain surgery last Thursday morning, authorities reported, Szczygiel was breathing, but was kept alive with assistance from life-support equipment. He died Saturday afternoon.

Cp. Szczygiel is survived by his wife, Carolyn, and two children. A seven-year veteran with the Dearborn Police Dept., he had served recently as an undercover officer in vice and narcotics investigations. He was a Dearborn native and a 1966 graduate of Detroit Catholic Central High School. He attended Henry Ford Community College and had been a Canton resident for two years. A 53-year old Detroit man,

NORBERT SZCZYGIEL

Muhsin Hussin, was arraigned Monday before 19th District Court Judge Joseph Bartell on a charge of first-degree murder which was substituted for one of four counts of intent to murder on which he was arraigned last week. He is in custody in Detroit General Hospital.

Services for Cpl. Szczygiel were to be held this morning at St. Alphonsus Catholic Church in Dearborn, following a rosary service last night at Sajewski Funeral Home in Detroit.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Cpl. Norbert Szczygiel Memorial Fund, care of the Dearborn Police Dept., 16099 Michigan Ave., in Dearborn.

What should school board be paid?

How much should a Plymouth-Canton School Board member be paid?

You can voice your opinion on that topic at two public hearings scheduled for 7 to 7:30 p.m. on Mondays Sept. 12 and Sept. 19 at the school board offices, 454 S. Harvey St., Plymouth.

Under a recent change in the law, school board members in districts the size of Plymouth-Canton, can pay themselves up to $30 per meeting for a maximum of 52 meetings a year. Currently the seven board members split $2,000 a year regardless of how many meetings they attend.

Mystery still surrounds historic Plymouth hospital

BY DONNA LOMAS

Now and then you run into someone in Plymouth who says he or she was born here - really born here, they had their appendix out during World War II, worked in a hospital here.

A hospital? Today few residents know about Plymouth Hospital. But consider this: There was once, in the big white house on Main Street across from City Hall, and two sisters ran it. Even today, the hospital beds are still in place just as they were 40 years ago.

And the two sisters, Alma and Lena Weist, were as much a mystery as the hospital - no one knew much about them. Lena died several years ago, Alma last week. With the death of the 85-year old former dietitian, attention has once again been drawn to this obscure corner of local history.

"Alma was non-talkative," said Mrs. Edna Weist, wife of Alma's nephew, Robert. "She didn't want anyone to know any of her business. She was most prim and proper, and lived in the Victorian era."

Mrs. Weist said Alma couldn't even bring herself to say she was suffering from cancer, but insisted on calling it a "social disease."

Alma had lived alone in the building since Lena's death.

"She (Alma) did all the cleaning inside and mowing the lawn and washing windows until recently," said Mrs. Weist. "But the whole Weist family is like that. They have so much stamina."

"Alma was eccentric, like all of us," said Mrs. Weist. "But she was sharp to the end. She was double ok extra terrific mentally." Her nephew's wife said she canned and preserved in the hospital's dark cellar.

Alma Weist died of cancer, Aug. 21 at the age of 85.

On the fourth of July, Judge Dunbar Davis of the 35th District Court saw her watching the parade from her front porch. He stepped from the car in which he was riding and went up to talk to her.

Miss Weist's nephew's wife said Dr. Walter Hammond, a retired Plymouth physician who practiced at Plymouth Hospital, "had a tender spot in his heart for that building," and had praise for the two sisters.

Plymouth Hospital was opened by Lena and Alma in August, 1932. The two sisters had come to Plymouth from Indiana for a visit, and found Plymouth to be "the ideal spot" to settle. Lena's chronic asthma didn't recur in Plymouth.

Lena was a graduate nurse, and she and Alma "felt there was need between Detroit and Ann Arbor for a hospital," said Mrs. Edna Weist.

3 still hospitalized Golfer recounts plane crash tragedy

Three former Plymouth residents remain hospitalized this week following the Salem Township plane crash Aug. 22 which killed Plymouth builder Russell A. "Dutch" Morrell.

Morrell's son-in-law, John Bowsman, 31, of Lake City, Fla., and the pilot, John Rew, 33, of Farmington, were reported in good condition Monday in University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor, while Rew's brother, Robert 31, was listed in fair condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ypsilanti.

The crash occurred late last week Monday afternoon at the Salem Hills Golf Course in Salem Township. One of several golfers who witnessed the accident was Gordon Burke of Plymouth Township, who told The Crier the plane slammed into a clump of trees on its third swing over the course.

Burke said he first spotted the Cessna 172 a few minutes before the crash when it swooped in low over some telephone wires on the edge of the course. "We thought he was going to hit the wire a couple of times," Burke said. "Then he made a sharp turn and came back over the wire."

According to Burke, the plane dove toward him as he was going off no. 11 green on his way to the 12th hole. "I said, 'look at that crazy nut,'" he recalled. He said the plane dove straight toward the green, then pulled up at the last moment and almost stalled out as it tried to gain altitude. "You could almost see them (the plane's occupants) laughing at you," he said.

"My partner and I said, 'let's get the hell out of here,'" Burke added. "I felt like I could almost reach them with a golf club." He said the plane made a "couple of right angle dives" and then came down the fairway toward him.

On its third approach, the plane veered onto an adjacent fairway. As it approached the green, it pulled up to avoid a clump of trees, but couldn't gain altitude fast enough, Burke said, and he saw it crash through the trees on its side 70 yards away.

Some of the golfers who witnessed the crash were out on the course again Monday night. "It was an eerie feeling," Burke said. "I was out there, and every time a plane went over, I looked up. I know others had the same feeling."

ON THE STEPS OF PLYMOUTH HOSPITAL, the late Alma Weist, retired administrator of the hospital, watched the parade go by last July 4. With her death last week, the fate of the long forgotten facility, where she lived and which she maintained in operating condition though it had not seen use in more than 20 years, has become a center of local interest. Voters OK levy: Canton to set up full-time police

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton's voters approved the creation of a special assessment district for a police millage Saturday.

Township officials are now working full speed to get the levy on next year's tax roll.

At a special meeting of the township board last night, the board was due to schedule the first of two public hearings on the millage.

The first hearing will establish the size of the district (presumably the whole township), and the second hearing will set the amount to be levied.

Earlier, the board resolved to levy "no more than two mills," but it would be legal to levy as many as 10.

Canton's police force only operates part time - in the evenings on weekdays and most of the day and night on weekends.

The millage is aimed at starting a full time force for the township. If the full two mills are levied, about $425,000 will be raised.

Canton's new police chief, Walter MacGregor, has not released any firm plans for how the money will be used. At the second public hearing, unscheduled as of now, a budget for the levy will be presented.

The president of the Canton Police Officers Association (CPOA), John Longridge, said he was "very, very please," with the approval of the millage.

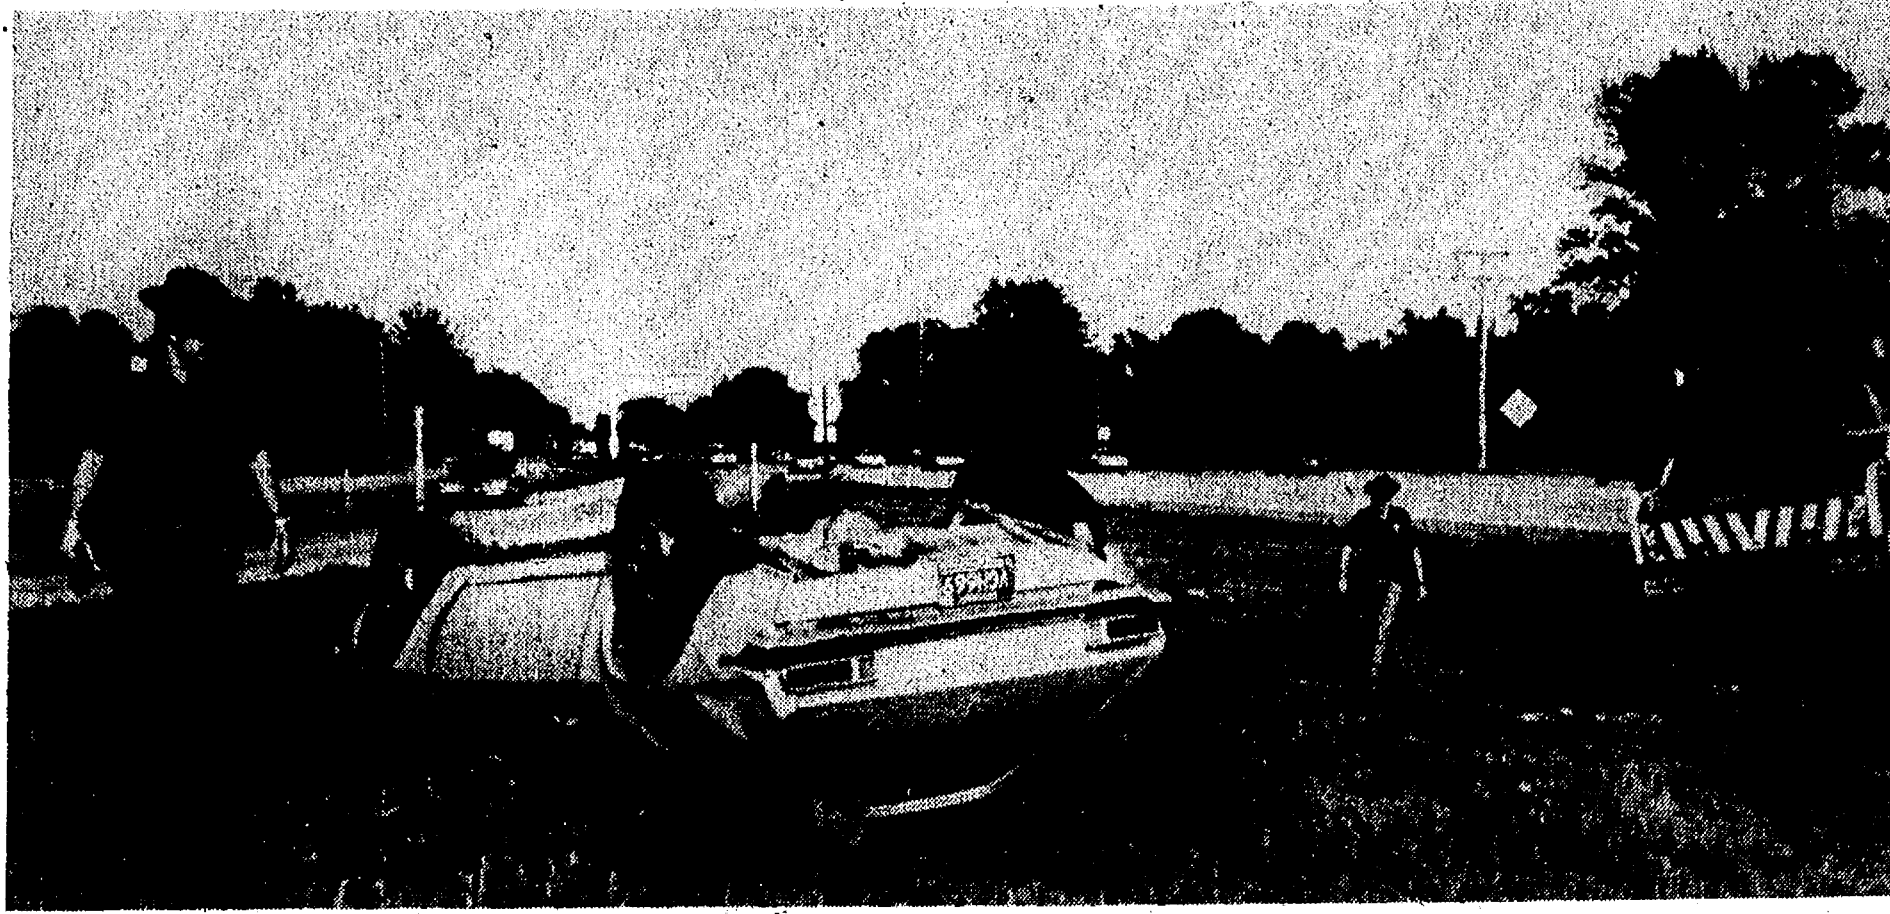

Some members of the CPOA stand to get full-time jobs as the force expands.

MacGregor said he also was "very pleased." He said he was working on the budget for the millage, but did not want to release any of his plans until Canton's police commission had a chance to review them.

Freight boundary shift to aid local business

BY FERN STOFFER

Cheaper shipping rates may aid in the economic growth and prosperity of the Plymouth-Canton area, an expert told local merchants yesterday.

At a breakfast meeting of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday, Aug. 30, John Graham of Freight Traffic Service of Livonia explained how a recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission affected the community.

Earlier this year, the ICC redefined the area of service allowed carriers of interstate freight to permit truckers to directly service recipients of goods within a 20-mile radius of the outer edge of Detroit. The previous boundary, determined by distance from downtown Detroit, was Eckles Road. Stopping just short of Plymouth, the boundary promoted development in Livonia, but cut off Plymouth and Canton from cheaper rates and faster service.

Prior to the ICC ruling, interstate carriers could go no further than Detroit. The goods they carried were then transferred to local carriers. This transfer attached an additional cost to the receiver of the goods. Since the cost was based on weight, this was expensive, particularly when industrial products such as steel were involved. Graham said redefinition of the commercial zone allowed for an expansion of service to the receiver of goods. What does this mean to the residents of Plymouth and Canton? First, if an interstate carrier chose to switch goods to a local carrier in Detroit, he could not pass the cost on to the receiver now that Detroit area freight boundaries have been extended to include Plymouth and Canton. Consequently, there is little likelihood that he would do this, and a better chance for local customers to get quicker, cheaper service. Secondly, Graham predicted that in the next five to 10 years, freight rates would become more competitive. And, importantly, more industries may move into the Plymouth-Canton area, creating jobs and economic growth.

Salvation Army offers nursery

For the sixth consecutive year, the Salvation Army of Plymouth will sponsor a free Drop-In Nursery School during the months of October through next May.

Three and four-year-old children may enroll for a year of crafts, games, educational activities and field trips. The school meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:15 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Directed by a steering committee of interested mothers, the classes are limited to 25 children. The first organizational meeting for the drop-in nursery will be Sept. 12 at 7 p.m.

at the Salvation Army on 290 Fairground.

"We hope this will be helpful to mothers looking for this kind of service this fall," said Lt. William Harfoot, commanding officer of the Plymouth Salvation Army.

Murder victim identified as Canton resident

The nude body of a Canton woman who had apparently been murdered was found Saturday on the grounds of an elementary school at Wadsworth and Greenview in Detroit.

The woman, whose death was attributed to head wounds, was identified Monday as Judith Wing, 27, of Canton. Police said she had been reported missing Saturday and was identified following a telephone tip.

Funeral services for the mother of two will be held today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. in the Plymouth Road Chapel of Harry J. Will Funeral Homes, with burial at Glen Eden Cemetery.

Mrs. McClendon hired

Ruby McClendon was recently hired as a teacher consultant for the Pupil Personnel Services at Central Middle School.

Mrs. McClendon will be working at setting up a program in the Plymouth Canton School District for students in special education and mentally handicapped programs. She will also be acting as a consultant with teachers.

She attended Northwestern State University in Oklahoma and received a bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. McClendon's contract was approved at second submission at the regular Aug. 8 school board meeting. The first submission

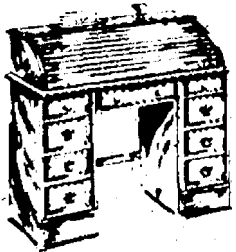

She is the wife of former school board vice-president, E. J. McClendon, who left the board in June. at the last June meeting, was not approved.

Local lodges plan flea mart

Featured again at this year's Fall Festival will be a four-day flea market sponsored by the Oddfellow and Rebekah lodges of Plymouth. The event, scheduled for the four days of the festival, Sept. 8-11, will be held in the parking lot of the Oddfellow Hall at 344 Elizabeth. Variety will be the key to this year's market, according to Oddfellow President Earl Gray.

"Everything from junk to crafts will be available," he said. If you've got something you'd like to sell, call Gray at 453-0477, to reserve a table. Flea market tables will be rented for $10 per day in the parking lot, $11.50 per day inside the hall.

Test service denies MacGregor knew of questions

BY CHAS CHILD

Charges by Trustee Robert Myers that Canton's new police chief had foreknowledge of his hiring tests were termed false by a spokesperson for the testing organization, the Michigan Municipal League (MML).
At last Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting, Myers said that when Police Chief Walter MacGregor was chief of police for the City of Wayne he had access to the same questions he recently answered in tests for the Canton position.

Ann Blackwood of the MML said she didn't know whether MacGregor had access to the questions as Wayne's police chief, but "we have different questions on the same material. Also, we have had some turnover of questions since he was chief at Wayne. So the chances of him seeing this material are zero.

"Even if he did see the questions then, his chances of recalling them are zero," MacGregor retired as Wayne's police chief in 1975.
MacGregor said he had "no comment" on the charges. He also said he was disturbed by them and had not decided whether to take any 'action' on the matter, and if so, what kind of action.
Myers also charged that MacGregor knew the examiners who gave him the oral interviews. Blackwood said the interviewers knew of MacGregor but did not know him personally.
She said it is "common problem" to find interviewers for upper administrative posts because through the years the peers get to know each other.
"To find someone who didn't know MacGregor we would have had to go out-of-state, and they wouldn't be familiar with Michigan laws," Blackwood said.
Trustee Brian Schwall said Myers was "assassinating" MacGregor's character. After being pressed to back up his charges by Schwall, Trustee Eugene Daley and other board members, Myers said he did not want the matter put on a future agenda, and that he was going to do his "homework."
Myers further charged that MacGregor had an advantage over the other candidates because he had been an oral interviewer for the MML.

MacGregor scored 87 on the tests while James F. Spickard, a former Washtenaw County undersheriff had a 97, Myers said.
Blackwood said this would give him no particular advantage on Canton tests. "There are no set questions for the oral interviews, only loosely structured guidelines," she said. "And no two interviews are alike."
"He was familiar with the format of the oral interviews but anyone who's given or taken oral interviews knows their format," she said.

She said MacGregor's background as a police chief may have given him some advantages on the tests. But since he was applying for police chief of Canton, she saw this background a "plus."

'420' exchange starts in April Ma Bell readies phone numbers for Lakepointe

Residents in the Lakepointe area of Plymouth Township will be getting a new 420 telephone exchange next April.
The area affected will include north Lakepointe and areas of Northville north of Five Mile, and will affect 1600 telephone customers.
The boundaries of the new exchange will be bordered on the east by Eckles Road, south by the new M-14 expressway, west by Hines Park Drive, and the northern boundary, will vary between Five and Six Mile. Exchanges beginning with 453, 455, and 459 in those areas will all be changed to 420, said Hazen Wilson, community relations manager at Michigan Bell.
"We're going to the new 420 exchange because of the growth occurring in Plymouth," said Wilson, for Michigan Bell. "There is considerable growth, especially west, and the present exchanges are being filled to capacity and sometimes over-capacity."
A new building in Livonia on Five Mile and Newburgh will handle the new 420 exchange for Plymouth, said Wilson. "There will be room for growth and balance in the Plymouth area (with the building)," he said.
All businesses affected have already received letters from the phone company telling them of the change, said Wilson, and many residents are being notified by letters now.

"They'll (businesses and residents) have good service by the latest equipment and features available after the change," said Wilson.
Wilson said businesses know what their new numbers will be and residents will be informed of their new numbers soon. The new numbers will appear in the April 1978 directory.

Cantonite jumps 8 floors to death

A retired teacher who had been a long-time resident of Canton plunged to her death Saturday morning after climbing over an eighth-floor railing in the atrium of the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Dearborn.
According to Dearborn Police, Annette Cummings, 65, who had moved only recently to Dearborn after selling her home in Canton, took an elevator to the eighth floor. As she climbed over the wooden railing, a bystander yelled to her to wait.
She said "Why?" and dropped over the edge at the west end of the 12-story interior lobby. She died a short time later in Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn.
The third such suicide since the hotel opened less than two years ago, Miss Cummings had been a teacher at Dearborn High School and later at Henry Ford Community College. She was a member of the Congregational Church of Wayne.
Friends reported that she had been depressed recently over the sale of her home, and had also suffered vision problems.
A spokesman for Howe-Peterson Funeral Home in Dearborn said memorial contributions may be sent in her name to the Retina Foundation, care of Retina Associates, 100 Charles River Plaza, Cambridge St., Boston, Mass. 02114.

Last Words

I wonder how many people pack up and move on the last weekend in August?

When we moved down to Plymouth Sunday from Grand Rapids, the highways were full of gypsies in station wagons and U-Hauls, families beating the start of school in some new town, students going back to college. For some, vacations are ending. Then there are always those of us who want to be in Plymouth before Fall Festival.

In fact, the eve of Fall Festival is a good time to be coming back to Plymouth. The smell of chicken barbecue is already in the air. Monday Joan Palmer brought The Crier staff a generous sampling of the Palmers' choice Canton sweet corn.

And things haven't changed too much in this tidy town. Rents are up - if you've got a vacant hayloft with running water you could rent it to a Crier staffer. (They're more responsible tenants than you think.)

In Canton, voters decided we'd have the same old recently-elected administration to kick around for awhile. In Plymouth, we've got a whole new high-rise project to kick around. Then there's Plymouth Township, where everybody just seems to be waiting for the kids to go back to school.

I am too. One carload of surly brats slowed down Monday night as I was crossing Ann Arbor Trail on Harvey Street. One of them was obviously driving daddy's station wagon (a dark, late-model Chevrolet, if I can get this kid in trouble). They pulled over and called as if to ask directions. As I approached, a kid leaned out the back and threw a plastic bottle of some cleaning solution over my jacket.

It was great fun, but my rock and I kept waiting for them to come back and share another laugh. They never showed up. They were probably out-of-towners welcoming this pedestrian back.

Neither side nor public won in Canton recall

If only one thing can be learned from Saturday's recall elections in Canton, it's that political harmony is a long way off here.

The closeness of the vote for each of the three candidates showed little mandate for either side in the election - although both sides can find some strength in the results.

Those favoring the recall can find joy in proving their point that Harold Stein's slate by no means represents the vast majority of the township.

Stein, on the other hand, can find joy in having beaten off the challenge when he was elected with only 37 per cent of the vote last November. With backers of his two opponents last fall uniting in the recall push, he's lucky to have pulled it off.

But while both sides may find joy in Saturday's vote, there is no joy in Canton.

The remainder of Stein's term - he and Anne Bradley must face election again in August - will be clouded by the knowledge that stiff challenges are waiting in the wings.

While this may be enough to keep any politician motivated, it also will put a damper on the job of getting things out of politics and onto the road of good government.

While we may plea for political harmony to reign until the election next year, it is unlikely that those enamored by public office will cease politicking when it would take so little to tip the balance of power.

The recall's real impact will be seen next summer, when those seeing Stein's razor-thin victory - realizing that many anti-recall votes came from voters who felt that although Stein has not excelled, recall was not the answer - will muster full slates of candidates that could turn Canton into "election Italian style." (Italian elections are marked by hordes of candidates.)

The recall election was an expensive lesson which really didn't prove anything.

But we must carry on, knowing that every positive step taken by Stein will be said, by the pro-recallers, to be done for the purpose of shoring up his support. Every bad move by Stein will be blamed, by the anti-recallers, on the tremendous political pressure.

For the time being though, Stein can turn his full attentions to Canton government without stopping to look over his shoulder every two steps. And those opposed to him can begin plotting for next year's election.

School bus schedule snafu proves costly

EDITOR:

How many Plymouth residents know that the bungled school bus computer schedule cards we received this year are costing taxpayers $81,000?

The card that we received Aug. 24 stated that our six year old son is to walk down Haggerty Road and then cross the street out of sight to wait for the bus this year. There are no sidewalks, and there will be hundreds of Schoolcraft students rushing to classes every morning, not to mention the tandem trucks, which seldom slow down to the 40 MPH speed limit in their rush to the expressway, and in the winter, Haggerty Road, a dirt road, becomes one lane at the curve and bridge.

When I finally got through to the Transportation Dept. to try to arrange for a safer bus stop location, I was told to put up with it for awhile and maybe they could do something later. I replied that if we did put up with it for awhile, they would never change it. To which I was told that she would do what she could, but that the bus will not stop anywhere other than a scheduled stop. She also told me that the computer has kids walking up to a mile on Ann Arbor Road. Isn't that dangerous? Aren't parents justified in complaining?

When I called Tanger School the next morning, they were aware of the problems and said that all schedules for buses coming in to Tanger were messed up and were being redone. They also said that the computer had instructed 85 Deer Creek and Stoneybrook kids to wait on Joy Road for the bus. Can you imagine 85 unsupervised kids? They'll stop traffic on Joy Road.

And, even greater, I was told that the computer has sent notices for all kindergarteners to be picked up in the morning, ignoring that half go in the afternoon.

Community opinions

Thinking about the Ann Arbor Road, Haggerty Road, and Joy Road situations I began to wonder just how much we are paying for this situation, and just how many more situations like this exist? I called Mr. Hoedel at the Plymouth Community Schools Administration office (453-0200 ext. 405) and was told that there are always people upset when bus stops are changed. He either didn't know, or didn't want to admit how bad it really is. He said that his kids schedules were just fine. Ecotran certainly wouldn't do anything to his kids' schedules. They wouldn't make him mad. He then related to me that we will be billed $64,000 for the bus routes, but that the actual bill is $81,000 because Ecotran also set up the ESY (45-15) tracks for us. I then asked why, and was told that they wanted to make sure that all teachers had some bright and some below-average students in their classes.

When we lived in the Isbister School area we voted on whether or not we wanted the 45-15. But, we were told we would have bussing to the opting school for those who did not want it. When I mentioned this to Mr. Hoedel, he said yes, that they had said there would be buses, but that when they put it into reality they found that it would take extra buses so they dropped it. Many of us would have voted no if we had known, I challenge how honest they were with us.

Mr. Hoedel said the whole purpose of the computer service was to try to save us money by reducing the number of buses as they had done in Pontiac, and yet in the same breath he said that we have been using our buses very effectively by running three loads on each bus in both the morning and afternoon. (Pontiac had only two) If we did in fact need more efficiency then why not hire one person to handle just these things? We could pay them somewhere between $15,000 and $18,000. Why are we paying $81,000 for a couple months' work?

Now, Mr. Hoedel said Ecotran's charge will be considerably less next year. What's this next year? Why will we need it again next year?

As taxpayers, this is outrageous. Is the school board going to have nerve enough to ask for another millage increase after this fiasco? We bet they will even use this expenditure to justify an increase.

'Landslide Gene' boosts margin

Canton Trustee Eugene Daley was the closest target of the recallers last weekend - he held onto his seat by only 15 votes according to unofficial returns. But at least his margin is growing, as he jokingly noted election night.

He won his seat last November by only 11 votes over Incumbent James Poole.

Just call him 'Landslide Gene.'

Sorry, Frank

In last week's Crier, Plymouth Township Trustee Frank Millington was criticized as being one of the township Board members in favor of waiving sidewalk rights for Beacon Estates III and IV - a subdivision of large homes.

Millington, in fact, was the lone vote opposing the move, while Clerk Helen Richardson, praised for voting "no" actually voted "yes".

Sorry Frank. And a slap on the wrist to Helen.

Protestant church seeks members

A new Protestant church in Canton is seeking members for its congregation. The Unity of Brethren Moravian denomination is planning discussions and a first worship service, sometime in December, said spokesperson Darryl Bell.

Bell said the Moravian sect originated in 1457 in Moravia, a province of Czechoslovakia. "The Moravian faith is life centered, rather than creed-centered," he said.

Cantonites who wish to join the newly forming congregation can contact Bell at 459-2199.

Cantonite leads UF volunteers

Carolyn P. Hall of Canton has accepted a top volunteer post in the United Foundation's 1977 Torch Drive.

Hall will lead volunteers as division chairman for the Canton area directing recruitment and training of neighborhood volunteers.

According to Hall, she is still in need of hundreds of local residents, especially in the newer subdivisions to serve as volunteers for this year's Torch Drive. People interested in organizing campaign workers to distribute Torch Drive literature in their own neighborhoods should call the United Foundation Northwest Office at 565-7141.

The 1977 Torch Drive, which runs from Oct. 18 through Nov. 10, will raise operating funds for nearly 140 health and community service agencies in Macomb, Oakland and Wayne Counties.

"Many people do not realize the number of services available to Canton residents through Torch Drive supported agencies," Hall said.

"Nearly 1,000 Canton residents took advantage of scouting and camping activities last year through the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts and the Detroit Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, which are all funded through the Torch Drive," she said.

County residents also benefited from the services provided through Children's Aid Society, American Red Cross, Boys Republic, Marillac Hall, Family and Neighborhood Services of Southern Wayne County, Family Service of Detroit and Wayne County, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Catholic Social Services, International Institute, Visiting Nurse Association, Detroit Orthopedic Clinic, Children's Hospital, Detroit Hearing and Speech Center, League for the Handicapped, Boy's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, YWCA of Western Wayne County and the YMCA of Metropolitan Detroit. Last year's Torch Drive raised $37.8 million.

Local girls flooded out of Johnstown

BY DAWN M. BOEGLER
For two young Plymouth girls, summer vacation was not so routine. They had planned to camp out and visit relatives in Pennsylvania during July, and found themselves in the middle of the "Johnstown Flood." Seven inches of rain fell on Johnstown July 19, and on July 20, the Conemaugh River overflowed its banks and the town had its third major flood. Linda Thomas, 18, and Diana Dobry, 16, both of Plymouth, had been camping out before they decided to spend a few days with Thomas' grandmother in Johnstown.

"Linda's grandmother came in about 5 a.m. and woke us up with the news that the car was half-filled with water," said Dobry. "Our first reaction was one of disbelief."

The murky waters were rising. "We watched the foundation of the house across from us," said Thomas, "and as the water rose, so did our fright."

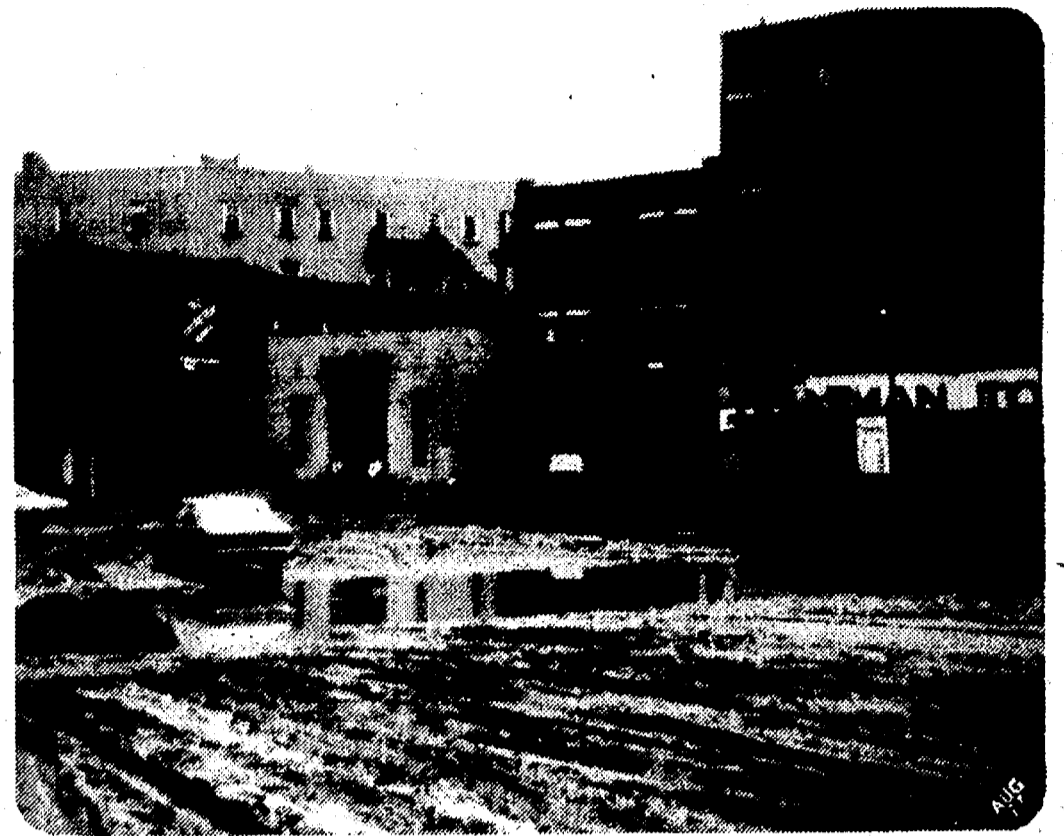

Cars floated down the street coming to rest against houses, trees and lamp posts.

"The water was dirty and the heavy smell of gas and oil was sickening," said Dobry.

The flood waters filled basements and rose to nearly a foot and a half in first floors before it began to recede.

"The water was gone by late that afternoon," said Thomas. "Once it was gone, everything was covered with mud and slime."

Once the waters backed away, the clean up operation began. "People were shoveling out their homes and stores," said Dobry. "Everyone was helping each other but it was really a sad scene."

"I had a heavy guilt feeling coming home," said Thomas. "I felt like I was walking out on them since we were coming back home to safety and comfort while they had that awful mess to live with."

Will school ever start? Waiting keeps the kids up

Feelings of excitement, anticipation, and some nervousness fill the air as the school bells ring - signaling the beginning of another school year. Most of the children are anxious to get back in class and see all their friends - and make new ones.

Insomnia runs high the night before that all important first day of school. After being scrubbed and shampooed, the children are tucked into bed with many thoughts and questions of school keeping them wide awake.

"Will my teacher be as nice as everyone keeps telling me she is?"

"I wonder if I'll get to sit next to any of my friends."

"I sure hope I don't get mixed up on where I'm supposed to go."

Finally they drift off to sleep, as mom sits up half the night hemming new clothes.

The new school year will be especially exciting for Cathy Feldman of Brandywyne in Canton. Cathy has been invited to spend her senior year at the Interlochen Arts Academy, at Interlochen.

She recently returned here after having spent the summer attending the world famous National Music and Fine Arts Camp at Interlochen. She participated as an ensemble flutist as well as in music theory, jazz and photography classes.

As a junior at Salem High School last year, Cathy was a member of the CEP Symphony and Marching Bands.

A couple weeks ago the printers devil jumbled a few letters in Dennis and Victoria's last name - it's Wheeler. But no matter, they were so happy about their first born, Carrie Elizabeth, they didn't even notice the typo until a week later. Our congrats.

Lindy White, a junior at Canton High School recently competed in the national unicycle meet held in Marion, Ohio. Lindy, a member of the Redford Township Unicycle Club, took first place in girls individual trick riding, second place in the girls one footed race, third places in the girls relay race and obstacle course, and with Mike Wilson, took a second place in couples riding. The club placed second in group formation and second in parade.

Lindy has been riding a unicycle four years. Anyone interested in more information about the club may call Dave Brichford at 533-4677.

As fall fast approaches many groups and clubs are getting back into the swing of things.

The Plymouth-Canton Welcome Wagon Club has many activities set for the coming year. The first meeting will be Thursday, Sept. 1, in the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 S. Harvey, at 7:30 p.m. Carol Siwiec will speak on astrology, the signs of the Zodiac, ESP, intuition, the occult, reincarnation and horoscopes. The club is forming interest groups in bowling, pinocle, bridge, and pot luck dinner.

Anyone who has recently moved into the area and is interested in The Welcome Wagon Club may call Valerie Gildo at 981-1022.

The Plymouth Community Concert Band will be resuming rehearsals Wednesday, Sept. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the band room at Canton High School. Anyone having a background in music and high school experience is invited to join the band. For more information call Irv Feldman at 453-5891.

The community band is the one that plays for the summer concerts in Kellogg Park. They also play at the Fall Festival and for special events at Greenfield Village.

The Plymouth Newcomers are planning their first luncheon meeting of the year for Sept. 8 at the Mayflower Meeting House. Anyone who has lived in Plymouth or Plymouth Township for two years or less is welcome to join the club. Hospitality begins at 11:30 a.m. with lunch being served at noon. For reservations call Debby Johnson at 459-4987 before noon Sept. 6.

Ernest Michael Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Melton Davis, 9075 Northern, Plymouth, has been accepted for admission to David Lipscomb College, Nashville, TN.

A graduate of Salem High School, he will transfer to Lipscomb from Michigan Christian College, Rochester. He plans to major in biochemistry and will begin his studies at Lipscomb in the fall quarter.

Rotarians prepare Fall Fest chicken

Chicken is king on Sunday, Sept. 11, during the Fall Festival, and Plymouth's Rotarians will serve it royally.

Chicken Barbecue Chairman, Dr. Jim Carney, says his fellow Rotarians will serve about 16,000 of the complete chicken dinners this year.

The bill of fare includes chicken, corn on the cob, potato chips, a roll and butter, milk (white or chocolate) and coffee. Tickets are $3, same as last year. Serving time will be noon to 6 p.m. at Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

Pick-up service is at a new location this year, Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon Road.

Offered this year in addition to the dinner will be soft drinks, ice cream and pies baked by the Rotary Anns.

Barbecuing all those chickens will require five tons of charcoal, according to Purchasing Chairman Joe Smulsky. He has also ordered 20 tanks of Coke, Sprite, 9,000 pints of milk, 1,400 dozen dinner rolls, 18,000 napkins, 16,000 bags of potato chips, 75 pounds of salt and nine pounds of pepper.

If all goes as planned, the Rotarians say they will serve up one of America's great mass meals with inspired precision. They've been doing it for 21 years now and Fall Festival itself evolved from a Rotary Picnic in 1956.

Assisting Carney in planning the massive dinner are Smulsky; Bill McVittie, food preparation; Bill Morrison, sales; and Mike Corp, park and beverages.

Proceeds from the Rotary Barbecue and other service club dinners benefit the charities those groups serve throughout the year.

Local sewer rates to soar

BY DONNA LOMAS

Sewer rates in the City and Township of Plymouth will increase tremendously as a result of an increase by the City of Detroit - who increased their customers rates to avoid losing $400 million in federal clean water funds.

The City will absorb a 69 per cent increase until Sept. 12 - although Detroit started billing them at the new rate Aug. 1. The City previously paid 16 cents per thousand gallons; the new rate is 27 cents. The city will pass the 69 per cent increase on to city residents following a decision after the Sept. 12 city commission meeting.

The township would absorb an almost 88 per cent increase in their rates until January next year. That means that township residents will be billed at the new rate (from 28 cents to 48 cents per thousand gallons) beginning in January.

"We will give the required 90 day notice to our residents," said Helen Richardson, township clerk. "However, the township will be paying the new rates effective Sept. 1 - and it will cost us thousands of dollars, but we feel that this is the only fair way for the residents."

The township won't pass on the entire 88 per cent increase, however, so in January, sewer bills (based on water usage) will show an approximate 47 per cent increase.

The city and township are being forced to waive their rights on the 90 day notice Detroit must provide. Charles Lowe, attorney for the city of Plymouth, said Detroit "won't compromise, won't even discuss compromise on the rates."

Richardson urged the township to join the Wayne County Department of Public Works to fight the increase and the denial of the 90 day notice.

"They (public works) think it's wrong," she said. "I don't think we should pass (increase) it on without a fight."

The Public Works Department sent a letter to the township saying they would continue their fight against the rate increase but had no choice now but to pass the increase on.

Several cities, and townships, including the city and townships of Plymouth and Canton now have a case pending in court against Detroit - but they are now unsure of the status of the case.

If Detroit loses the $400 million, Detroit sewer customers (including the Plymouth-Canton community) will be charged their share to clean up what Detroit wasn't able to do.

Rates are scheduled to go up next year and almost quadruple in the third year.

Complete Dial-a-Ride beyond city's means

A complete Dial-a-Ride System in the City of Plymouth will not be able to start unless there is help from a larger governmental unit, a report stated to the Plymouth City Commission.

The detailed report, said, however, that in early 1978, a partial system for the elderly and handicapped would be started. City Manager Fred Yockey said that the system would greatly help meet the needs of senior citizens and the handicapped in Plymouth.

Yockey said federal funds to support complete system of Dial-a-Ride are not available to the city right now, and that Plymouth was in a low priority category, due to the funding limitations.

Commissioner Tom Turner said that any funding in the future would be "unlikely, because without the additional federal funds, it would place a heavy burden on taxpayers. We should look to the intergovernmental committee or the Wayne County program for help," he said.

Mayor Joe Bida noted that Canton currently has a Dial-a-Ride system through the Nankin Transit Authority and that rides are 50 cents to residents.

"It's apparent we're really chasing rainbows," Turner said. "Any city two square miles is deluding themselves thinking they can do it without federal funding. We should tie in with other cities."

In southeastern Michigan, Dial-a-Ride is under the direction of Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, (SEMTA). SEMTA was created in 1967 to plan, develop and operate a public transportation system for the residents of seven counties in southeastern Michigan. It is funded by state and federal funds.

Aging panel short

The Blue Ribbon Study Committee on Aging was unable to convene the meeting of Aug. 17, 1977 because of a lack of a quorum, Terry Carroll, recording secretary for the committee said.

The next meeting of the Blue Ribbon Committee will be held Sept. 14, 1977 at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center, 525 Farmer.

FREE HEARING AND VISION TESTS FOR CHILDREN

Free hearing and vision tests for pre-school and school age children will be offered at two clinic locations by the Wayne County Health Department. Screening tests are now being conducted at the Eloise Health Center on Merriman Road, one quarter mile north of Michigan Avenue through Sept. 2, 8:30 to 11 a.m. and 1 to 3:30 p.m. No appointment is necessary. Hearing and vision testing is also available at the South Health Center, located west of I-75 in the Pier I Shopping Center from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., on Aug. 22 and 29. No appointment is necessary. VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR UF

Volunteer leaders are now being recruited for the United Foundation's 1977 Torch Drive residential campaign in Western Wayne County. People interested in their own neighborhoods should call the United Foundation Northwest Unit office at 565-7141. Leaders are particularly needed in Canton Township. City, townships study uniform warning systems

BY DAWN M. BOEGLER
A need to standardize Disaster Warning systems seems to be the prevailing thought among fire chiefs in Canton and Plymouth Townships and the City of Plymouth.

George Schoenneman, City of Plymouth Fire Chief, says there is a need to set up some kind of authority to govern the Disaster Warning systems and to create a spirit of teamwork. He cited the case of community assistance at fires - local communities supply extra manpower to handle temporary work overloads - such as a large fire.

"If we could get it on the level of team work I think we'd do a much better job," said Schoenneman. "We feel we have a pretty good system now, since we have followed regulations," he said. "But we intend to start an improvement program soon."

The City of Plymouth has one siren mounted on City Hall and would sound one three minute warning if a disaster - tornado - was impending.

"We could mount a siren on the City garage since it is the highest elevation in the city and the sound would carry for a greater distance," Schoenneman said.

"But we need a centralized system, with all communities activated together, a common life-saving goal."

Spotters are part of the City of Plymouth's warning system but they aren't always used because of manpower shortage.

Mel Paulun, Canton Township Fire Chief, said there will soon be three sirens installed in Canton - one on the new fire station on Warren, one on the central station, and one at the general offices on Canton Center Road. The new sirens are a result of a new federal program that helps communities pay for half their warning systems.

"That," he said, "should cover most of the township."

Although Canton's Disaster Warning signal will also be one three minute blast, they have yet to decide what will activate the signals once they are installed.

"Money of course is part of it," said Paulun. "We are getting prices from Michigan Bell on their sound tones."

With a "sound-tone" a certain telephone number would be dialed and would in turn

Old Village plans for Fest

Signs of Fall Festival are popping up here and there, as preparation for the annual festivities are started in Old Village.

Some businesses are planning special events, among them an ice cream social, an antique drawing and a children's art show.

Horse-drawn wagon rides around Old Village free of charge will be sponsored on Saturday and Sunday during the Fall Fest.

The Old Village Association is planning a "banner contest" among the businesses and a prize will be awarded.

Businesses who are interested in "doing something special" in Old Village during Fall Festival are asked to contact Doug Montgomery as soon as possible.

Dogs, cats, exotic pets invited

Noah won't be at the 1977 Fall Festival Pet Show - but the animals will be. Members of the animal kingdom will be passing by the judges one by one in front of the Penn Theatre on Sept. 10.

The show is being sponsored by the Plymouth Optimist Club and the Plymouth Recreation Department. Chuck Childs and Larry Masteller are organizers.

The dogs will kick off the procession beginning at 9 a.m. Animals in the unusual pets category will follow at 10:15 a.m.

At 10:45 a.m., the cats will assemble before the judges.

A panel of judges will award a total of forty-five ribbons. Animals will be selected for their grooming, behavior, friendliness, cuteness, smallness, and largeness, as well as the most unusual pet.

The competition is open to children and teen pet owners and their pets - with the exception of larger animals such as horses.

All contestants will receive a free movie ticket for entering.

Fall Festival adds gallery

A new "Gallery" addition to the Fall Festival Arts & Crafts Show this year will feature fine pieces of current art selected to appeal to the discriminating viewer and selective buyer. The juried works will represent a number of contributing artists and will be displayed in an area separate from the main show booths.

"We're excited about 'The Gallery,'" said Jean Herr, Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) Artisan Committee member coordinating "Gallery" arrangements. "It adds a new dimension of art appreciation to our exhibit. It will be close to the main show, but the secluded location will encourage contemplative browsing."

"Gallery" pieces will display a variety of media, said Herr. There will be paintings done in water color, oil and acrylic. Painting content ranges from traditional landscape to modern collage, from a pen and ink figure drawing to a naturalistic watercolor giraffe. Unusual items such as a white-on-white intaglio print and a one-of-a-kind macrame lion are also included in the collection.

Among the artists exhibiting in "The Gallery" are: Barbara Foy, Hazel Bagole, Joan Stephens, Eric Carne, Silvia Wood, Ann Dase, Randy Nichols, Margaret Prewett, Irene Dunham, Sandra Steed, Gladys McMillan, Elena Maidan, Gregory DeLauro, Tanya Smith, Catherine McCling, Al Decker, Jane Walker, and Johnnie Crosby.

Gallery coordinator Herr stresses that although browsers are welcome in The Gallery, all items displayed are for sale. Gallery show hours will be the same as those of the greater Festival Arts & Crafts Show, Saturday, Sept. 10, noon until 9 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 11, noon until 7 p.m.

HANGING PAINTINGS at the PCAC Gallery on Main St., are Carol Carlson and Dee Schulte

Schools hold job workshop

A career workshop with the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools was held for new teachers about career education in their first week on the job. A four-day workshop at Canton High School introduced a new professional staff to the career program for students from kindergarten through high school.

About 60 new teachers met with Don Chumbley, career counselor, and Judy Fensch, vocatinal teacher at Centennial Educational Park, (CEP), for training sessions. They heard about the Michigan and the Plymouth-Canton models for career education and had the chance to prepare teaching plans and actual materials for teaching about careers.

Elementary teachers worked on presentation of career units as well as relating basic skills to life occupations. Middle school and high school teachers heard that separate career units on their level are less useful than teaching students to tie class work to career planning.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools job placement program, which is part of the career education model, is an example to school districts throughout the state, according to Chumbley. The careers resource center being developed at the CEP is one of the models for the state design.

real working into the classroom. This session, designed for elementary students, shows how to use the services of a bank. (Crier photo by Brian Watkins)

Scouts expand recruiting

Growing enrollment has forced the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council to expand its annual recruitment drive and to offer a new service to local businesses according to Council President Mrs. Frances Bauer of Plymouth.

The organization now serving nearly 18,000 girls each year is assisted by over 2,500 adult volunteers. The increase has totaled over 1,000 members this past year. The council provides Girl Scout programs in Western Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston, and northern Monroe counties. New to this year is an approach to area businesses. The Council is offering to bring Girl Scout volunteer spokesmen to lunch hour gatherings of interested employees. The volunteers will not make formal speeches but will be able to answer questions about being a Girl Scout volunteer.

"Some working people are bored with watching television every night," said Mrs. Bauer. "They would like to do something to make their community a better place in which to raise children. Girl Scouts is a great way to enliven their lives and enrich those of others," she said.

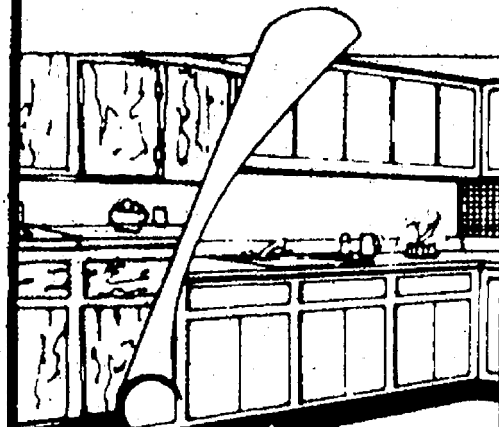

She said, however, that not all potential volunteers become troop leaders. Each is interviewed by a local troop services director who attempt to match a person's interest with the right volunteer job.

There are openings for over 70 troop leaders throughout the Council and as many assistant leaders.

Persons wishing to arrange for an employe-meeting or to learn more about opportunities in Girl Scouting may call the Huron Valley Council office at 483-2370.

Canton ZBA reinstated; must tackle case backlog

Canton's Board of Trustees last Tuesday reappointed a Zoning Board of Appeals, who will begin soon to work on a large log-jam of cases.

The backup has been building since February when the board appointed a second ZBA after the first was called illegal by township attorneys.

The original, appointed by former Supervisor Robert Greenstein, refused to step aside, and the result was neither ZBA met to discharge township business.

The case was taken to court which decided both were appointed improperly, given Supervisor Harold Stein the power to appoint a new one.

Last Tuesday, the board reappointed the five members which Stein supported in February.

The two ZBAs had been a source of conflict between Stein and Greenstein opponents in last November's election.

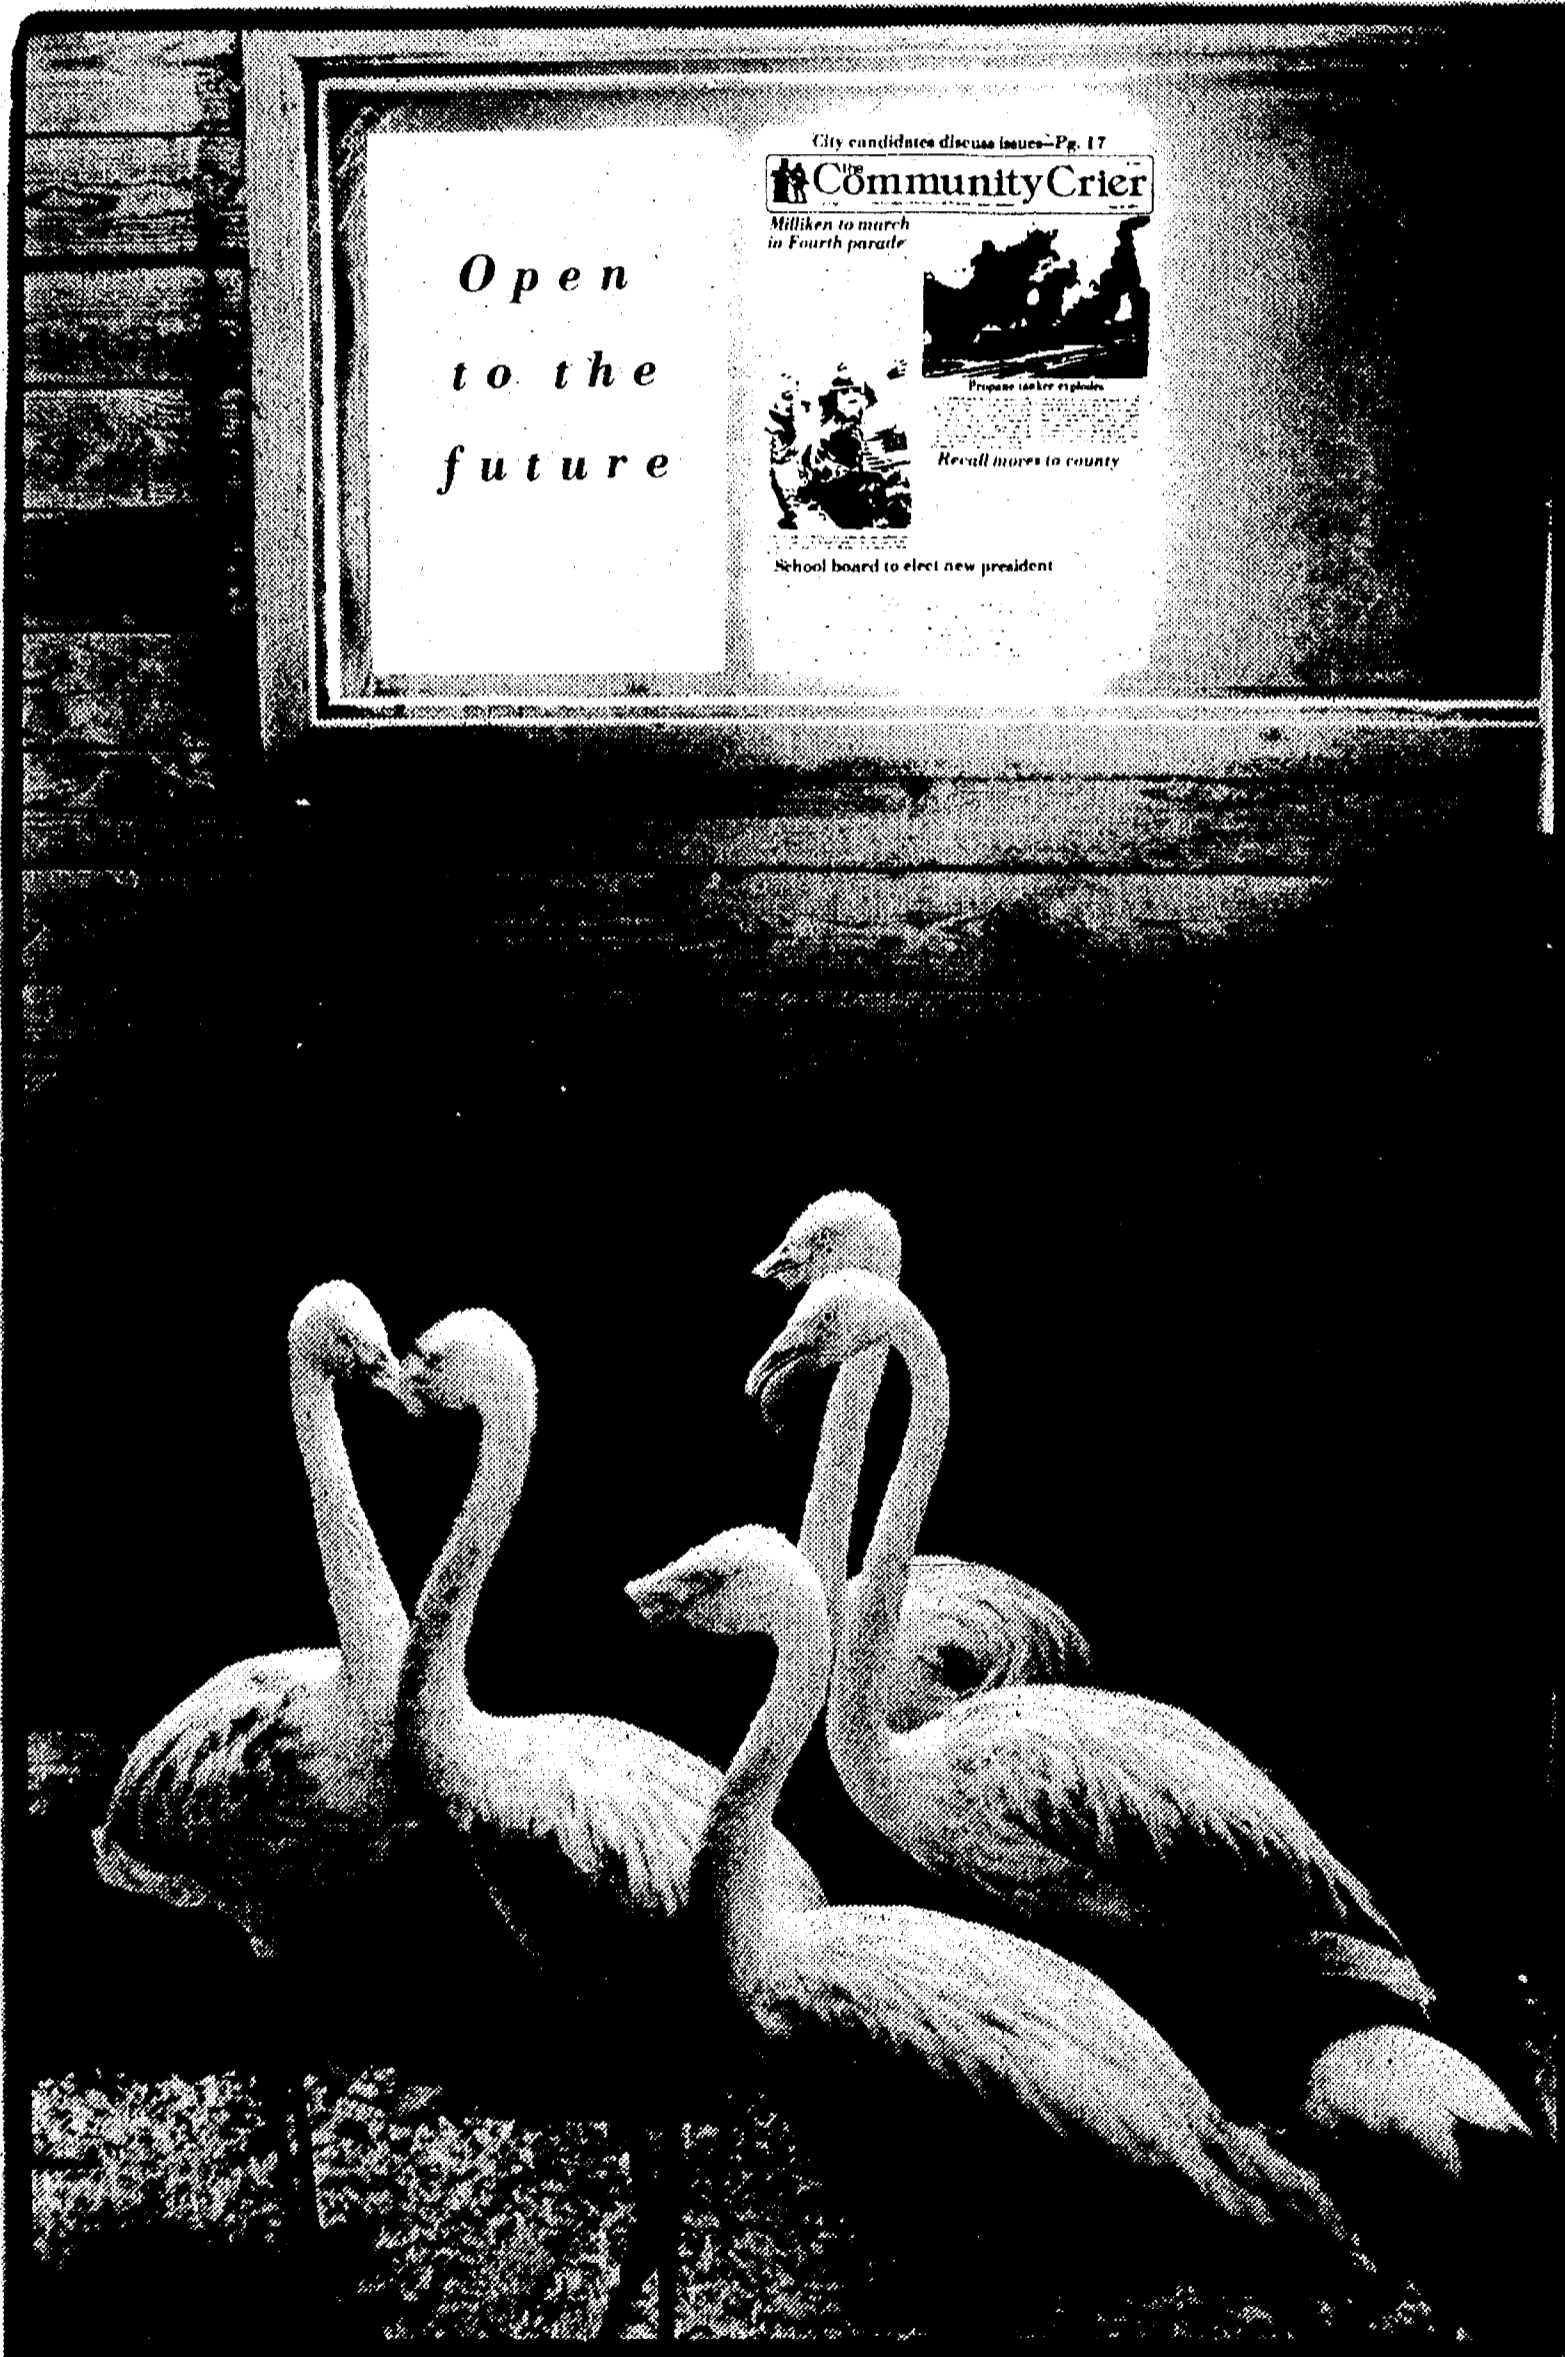

The five include: Gary Sands, William Gilmore, Robert Padgett, Kathy Prince, and Trustee Eugene Daley.

Trustee Lynne Goldsmith nominated two of the original ZBA, Jim Donahue and Robert Miller, last Tuesday but both were defeated by 5-2 votes. Goldsmith and Trustee Robert Myers voted for Donahue and Miller.

One of the cases the ZBA must decide on is "The Center," a huge sports complex planned for Haggerty Road, south of Ford Road.

Its plans call for a building four feet taller than current ordinances allow and the developers need a waiver from the ZBA to begin construction.

Night school means second chance

The small logo for continuing education in the Plymouth Canton school district has never been truer - "You can" - complete a high school education, learn new skills and even prepare yourself for citizenship.

Dave Dursum, newly hired night school coordinator for this district, said the expanding courses and new programs are meant for "service as well as education. These are not only for high school completion requirements, but also for learning skills that may lead into a job," Dursum said.

Three new adult basic education courses are being offered this year, and Dursum is especially excited about them: One is a citizenship preparation course for new Americans. Another course, English for New Americans, is designed to help foreign newcomers in different levels of reading, speaking and writing. The third will deal with new experiences and difficulties foreign newcomers face when they arrive in America.

Another new offering are the 'new skills' programs. From those, you can choose classes like blueprint reading and basic design, real estate, dental and medical assistant and secretarial science.

If you're short on time and money - you may find mini-sessions helpful. Mini-sessions meet only once and deal with now popular topics - like golf club selection, health foods, whills, wallpapering and assertiveness training.

Registration begins today (Wednesday). You can register for classes at the Continuing and Community Education Office, located in Canton High School at 8415 Canton Center Road in Room 117, evening hours in Room 116. For registration times, call the office at 459-1180.

Plymouth-Canton school update

Computers aid busing

BY FLORENCE BEIER

Buses brought children to the Plymouth-Canton Schools through Monday morning's warm drizzle for the first time with a computerized schedule. Despite all new routes and the usual mix-ups, no major problems occurred.

Monday was only the beginning, however, because only the 4100 students on the Extended School Year started Aug. 29. That meant about 2400 students scheduled to ride the buses. Because of the rain, parents driving children for the first day of school, and the number of absentees still on vacation, the load was light.

Today students on a nine-month school year started classes. This includes three of our four middle schools and all high school students. With the total school population in attendance, the new bus plan will be in full operation.

The upheaval caused by the complete revision of transportation operations to the Ecotran computer-based schedule has not been easy. Steve Spence, district account manager, and Tom Smith, project supervisor of Ecotran were on hand at the school transportation offices to provide information and un-snarl tie-ups.

Through the computer scheduling the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools are saving hours of bus driver time, decreasing waiting time for students, and cutting down the number of buses which must be purchased.

We must have a different bus schedule every three weeks to accommodate both Extended School Year students and nine-month students. The E.S.Y. students are on four tracks, A, B, C, and D, with only three tracks in school at any one time. Thus we have schedules for the combinations ABC, BCD, ACD, and ABD, with the nine-month students and the parochial school students in with all four groups.

The computer operated on the information fed into it from our transportation department principals, safety committee, and maps. It figured what to do with 55 square miles, more than 60 buses and vans, and 9200 students, and then printed postcards to send to all their parents.

Carol Davis tapped for board seat

"A sense of humor, a background of serving on boards," she said.

"I'm not afraid to make decisions and defend them," she said during the interviews. "Willingness and time are on my side. I'm an employed housewife."

Davis is a member of the Association for Academically Talented, the American Association of University Women and the Fine Arts Council. She is married and the mother of two children.

With all those variables it's amazing how few errors were made. Of course, to the parent whose child was not picked up when and where that parent wanted, statistics seem impersonal.

The school district must operate under the state law requiring transportation of only students who live more than one and one half miles from school. We must also consider how much of the school funds that can be spent on transportation.

Parents, bus drivers, and students were cooperative and helpful in the start-up of the buses this week. As the full transportation program gets underway and all the students are back after Labor Day, we expect an economical and smooth-running bus system.

Immunization schedule set, kids need shots to start school

Plymouth-Canton kindergarten children entering school in September will be excluded from school unless parents can provide proof that the children have received required disease immunizations.

The Health Department plan requires that kindergarteners not immunized by Nov. 7 be excluded from school. Since all childhood immunizations cannot be given at the same time, children who have started their immunization series by the first exclusion date will be allowed to stay in school but will also be excluded on Feb. 1, 1978 if their school records show no attempt has been made to continue or complete the required series of shots.

The mandatory exclusion policy is based on a state law which has been in effect since 1955.

The following immunization clinics will be held throughout September:

Wayne-Westland: Wayne County Health Department, Merriman Road N. of Mich. Ave., Phone 274-2800, 729-2211. Weekdays: 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., and every Wednesday evening Sept. 7, 14, 21, 28 from 4 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Livonia: Saint Paul Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile at Arcola, Phone: 729-2211, Wed. Sept 7, 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Northville: Northwest Clinic, 16000 Sheldon N. or Five Mile, Phone 729-2211, Sept. 28 from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Any child attending the clinic must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. The accompanying parent must sign a consent form at the time of immunization. Parents should bring up to date shot records with them to the clinic.

Hawkeyes fritter away lead; fall in state semifinals

Plymouth's Hawkeyes let a 4-0 lead slip through their fingers to fall in the state "F" semifinals, 6-5, Thursday at Northville.

A bit of overconfidence may have played a hand in the loss as well as an untimely injury to pitcher Joe Humphries in the fifth inning when he was holding on to a 4-2 lead over Burger King of Lansing.

The Hawkeyes, the winner of Plymouth's 13-year-old league, jumped out to a quick 4-0 lead in the second inning.

Keith Braun singled, followed by a perfect bunt single down the third base line by Greg Chappell. Don Adsit singled, as did Joey Humphries.

Larry Lanphear brought in the last two runs with a double for the 4-0 lead.

The Hawkeyes looked strong through the fourth and substitute coach Ben Chappell sent in three substitutes. Regular coach Humphries could not make the contest.

Things didn't start going downhill until the fifth inning, though, when Humphries was hit in the index finger by a line drive. He finished the inning, but after the coaches looked at the finger, they put in Keith Braun to finish the last two stanzas.

Humphries had a great day at the plate, also, as he went four for four, two singles, and two doubles.

Burger King erupted in the last three innings, scoring two in the fifth, three in the sixth and a single run in the bottom of the seventh to nail Plymouth's coffin.

Besides Humphries, the big bats for the Hawkeyes were Lanphear (a double and a single), Keith Braun (two singles) and Don Adsit (two singles).

Burger King dropped the final to Sterling, 7-2.

Chief women cagers gun for Western-6 title

BY JEFF REY

The Canton Women's basketball team is looking forward to another winning season and Coach Mike McCauley is hopeful that this year's team will win its first Western-Six title.

Returning as co-captains this year will be the squad's only seniors, Kathy Sohacki and Sue Rekuc. Both earned varsity letters for Canton last year.

"We've only lost two players who graduated," McCauley said, "Kim Zoldaz and Ellen Doran."

However, McCauley is enthusiastic that his strong field of underclassmen led by juniors Erica Pastek, Lorie Butler, and Kelly Heaton will fill the void, and predicts his team will improve their last years' 15-6 record and second place league finish.

McCauley pointed out that "Unlike last year, this team has a superb attitude and they are really concentrating on winning."

McCauley is even optimistic about future teams, stating that, "There are some talented ninth and tenth graders playing basketball for Canton under JV Coach Pat Cunningham and Freshman Coach John Graving."

McCauley urges any girls interested in playing basketball to contact him or any coach as soon as possible.

The Chiefs host their first game of the season against Ypsilanti at Canton on Sept. 13 which will be the first basketball game played in the new Phase III facility.

Chiefs to play East

Garden City East is back on Canton's varsity football schedule.

Garden City reinstated athletics for this season after earlier dropping it, putting East back on the Chief's schedule.

Dearborn Heights Crestwood was to be the replacement on the Friday, Oct. 28 game.

Fore! Golfers tune strokes for new season

Fine talent returns to Salem

CHIEF DAVE VISSER practices his putting game in preparation for the upcoming golf season. Visser looks to be one of the mainstays of the Canton squad. (Crier photo by Craig Brass.)

Canton golfers struggle for lead

In the Canton Township Women's Golf League, Mary Moore and Nina Messano took 2 out of 3 points from Kay Nichols and Ginny Johnson, but Nichols and Johnson still held on to first place.

Mary Kay Frey and Sandy Froozan took 2 out of 3 points from Bev Green and Olga Fitzpatrick to take over 2nd place all along. Helen McGee shot her second best round of the year as she came in with a 65, which helped her and Pauline Pryor take 2 out of 3 points from Sylvia Dickinson and Tiiu Himmelberger.

Kay Nichols posted the best score of the week as she came in with a 49. Mary Kay Frey and Mary Moore had the next best rounds as they carded a 53 and 54 respectfully.

Just as last week, only a half-point separates first and second place in Canton's Men's Golf League. Bruce Watt and Bruce Karen swept all 5 points from John Wilson and Larry Slade to remain in first place ahead of Lynn Tetsworth and Paul Oberhelman.

Tetsworth and Oberhelman remained in second place by taking all 5 points from Ron Hoffman and Gary Rehberg. Ron Cundiff and Mr. Hulack took all five points from Vic Legg and Art Spinella to move into third place.

Dominique Patalidis and substitute Doug Johnson shot the best rounds of the week as they both came in with 38's. Gordon Lapierre posted the next best as he carded a 39.

BY CRAIG BRASS

"I can't wait to get started, it looks like it's going to be a fun year," said Salem golf coach Bob Waters. Fun it should be, Salem lost only two seniors from last year's squad and has a handful of golf talent returning.

The most prominent of the returners is senior Ted Kuhns. Kuhns, last year's regional medalist, has been chalking up junior tournament victories this summer. Kuhns is another one of the outstanding golfers that Bob Waters turns out at Salem.

Taking up the second spot on the team will be Jim Ross. "Jimmy and Ted will make up a good one-two combination this year," said Waters.

"The Suburban-Eight is as tough as ever," he said. "Trenton, Redford Union, Dearborn and Salem will seem headed for a shot out in the league meet."

The Sub-8 has set up new rules for deciding its champion. This year, league matches and the league meet will be 50-50; before, the league champ was decided by the best scores in the league meet.

"Kuhns, Ross and Junior Craig Stevens have the most tournament experience, I expect them to be the team leaders this year. Last season, Stevens was quite consistent and I know he's been golfing all summer. He should be a good one," said Waters.

Waters also looks to Brian

Briggs to round off the top four. "Last year he left us looking real good, this season he should put it together and be a big help."

Waters hopes to find some new freshman talent when practice starts Wednesday. "We give every kid who comes out a look at. Just because you're a freshman doesn't mean you don't have a chance. Look at Dave Visser at Canton, he was one of the best freshman I ever saw."

Waters encourages all prospects to come out for the team. He can be contacted during the day in Salem's industrial arts section. Salem practices every afternoon at Brae Burn golf course, Five Mile and Napier Roads.

Underclassmen to lead Chiefs

BY CRAIG BRASS

"Losing six players due to graduation will hurt us," said Canton golf coach John Crosson. "We also lack experience so it looks like a rebuilding year."

The '77 Chief golf team opened practice Monday with only five players, two of them are returning from last year's team.

One of the returning lettermen is sophomore Dave Visser. Last year Visser showed "great promise" performing like a seasoned veteran. Visser along with senior Scott McGlone should be the teams' best performers.

The Chiefs are going to have to get a strong performance from yet-to-arrive underclassmen if they intend to equal the mark set by last year's squad. A year ago, the Canton golfers had their best season, finishing second in league (7-3) and setting a school record (189) for five men.

"This is the first time I've seen the kids since June, so I can't tell how we're going to fare. But if you want to know who's going to be good I can tell you. Northville," Crosson stated. (Northville has won the Western Six for the last six years.) Crosson hopes to have some people come out after school starts. "Right now, we've just barely got enough for a team."

Returning also from last year is sophomore John Mathews "John has been hitting the ball well and I hope he can give us some help. He showed some light last year and I hope he has practiced this summer. He'll make a good third man." "The best looking new member seems to be Scott Adler. Although he doesn't have much experience, he should be helpful," said Crosson.

Crosson urges all Canton male students who wish to try out to contact him in the Canton math department. The season starts next week and practice is being held everyday at Brae Burn golf course, Five Mile and Napier Roads.

BUY OR SELL FIRST
Should you buy your new home or sell your present one first?

This situation arises consistently when families move up into a larger home in the same general area. In this case, it makes sense to sell the present home first.

The secret, however, is to sell the house under the conditions that the papers will pass and title will be conveyed in, say, 90 or 120 days. This way, you avoid the possibility of owning two homes at the same time.

True, it puts you in a position of being forced to buy another home, but this was your original intention anyway. With a concerted effort, one should be able to buy the right property in the 90 or 120 days allotted.

Also, you avoid the possibility of panic-selling your original home (a good way to lose money), plus you'll know exactly how much money will be available for a down payment on the new house.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

Strong Rock netters are Sub-8 favorites

With the top three singles players back from last year, the Salem girls tennis team looks like one of the favorites for the Suburban-Eight crown this season.

Coach Janet Lawson is even casting half an eye on the state tournament. "We'll know after a couple of matches what kind of state tournament material we have," she said.

The three returning singles players are senior Becky Crespo, and Courtney Warrick and Kathy Horton, both sophomores.

"I have no idea in what order they'll play," Lawson said. "Everything's up for grabs. Horton, especially, has improved a great deal."

A real battle is shaping up for the number four singles spot. Betsy Moon, Renee Braun, Kathy Sommers, and Wendy Webb will be vying for the position.

In doubles, no one from last year is returning except Cindy Cindrich. But it looks like she will be out for the year - last Wednesday she tore some ligaments in her knee. "She might need surgery," Lawson said.

"We have some good prospects for doubles," she said. "At the number three spot will probably be Carisse Hartnett, a senior, and a transfer from Dearborn, Sandy Bozowski, a junior.

"Hartnett has improved greatly over last year and they should be a very strong pair," Lawson said.

At the second doubles spot, Lawson sees a pair of sisters, Sandra and Lynne Hathaway, who were in Germany last year. "They've been gathering experience over the summer in tournaments," the coach said.

Kathy Weber, a returner from last year who saw some action at singles, will probably play doubles. "She has a lot of savvy for doubles," Lawson said, "but she needs a partner as of now."

Laura Smith, Cindy Flora and Renee Braun are good possibilities to play with Weber, said Lawson.

The Rocks finished second in the Suburban-8 last year, losing only to Trenton, the league winners. They had a 10-2 overall record, with Ann Arbor Pioneer the only non-league team able to beat them.

Lawson said it was too early to predict how the league teams stand up against each other, but predicts the Rocks to be in the middle of the title race.

Top prizes were awarded as follows: Low actual, Don Albertson; low gross, Jim Jabara; longest drive, T.J. Rivard; closest to the pin, Mike Corp; actual high score John Cummings.

PG. 23 THE COMMUNITY CRIER: August 31, 1977

Low turnout at recall

than most observers had predicted.

Gabbert blamed the low turnout on the vacations many residents were taking just before the beginning of school.

"I'm sorry there wasn't a bigger turnout," Bradley said. "The ones who are going to complain are the ones who didn't vote."

Overall, she said she was "happy, tired and worn out, but will be back in the Treasurer's chair Monday morning."

Daley survived by the narrowest margin of the three - 15 votes. Last November, however, he won his seat by only 11 votes.

"I increased my vote," the relieved Wayne County Sheriff's deputy said.

A leader of the Bradley and Daley recall drive, Jim Donahue, said when the candidates were running neck and neck on the big board, "Whatever the outcome, this proves there's a lot of unhappy people in this township."

Saturday's vote was the climax of a five-month campaign to remove the Stein slate from office.

The recallers charged the slate, among other things, with failing to curb growth in the township, causing school overcrowding, and supporting the Wayne County Sheriff Department over Canton's own police force.

Asked if he was going to do anything to "bury the hatchet" in the township, Stein said, "Not one (of the recallers) chose to get involved in my administration at the beginning and I don't think they'll get involved now."

"Monday morning it'll be business as usual," the Supervisor said.

Hospital long forgotten

"They were both angels of mercy - just dedicated," she said. "They weren't interested in money. The hospital wasn't what you would call profitable, but it was a paying situation. You might have paid $4 a day for a private room back then."

Alma was the chief accountant and dietician for the hospital, Lena was the chief nurse. Plymouth Hospital was a private hospital, providing mainly obstetrical care.

"I think about 1,000 to 1,200 babies were delivered there," Mrs. Weist said. "It was, and still is, fully equipped."

"There is a complete x-ray department, operating rooms, delivery rooms and a nursery. There is surgical equipment, private rooms and semi-private rooms."

"Alma maintained the hospital, even after it closed in 1954," Mrs. Weist explained. "It's fully equipped now, ready to go."

Mrs. Weist said a will was not found, and that she had "no idea" what will be the fate of Plymouth Hospital.

Alvin J. Weist, brother of Alma and Lena and spokesperson for the family, said they would probably sell the property, but he would like to see it turned into a historical museum.

He said he had been in the house three years ago and that it "was in good condition inside then."

"But right now, we've got to clean up the outside and cut the grass," he said to his wife, Edith, over lunch at a Plymouth restaurant. "Then we'll see."

Secretaries sick first day

"Typewriter Flu" struck at Schoolcraft College's first day of fall term registration Monday.

Forty nine of 60 secretaries in the Schoolcraft College Assoc. of Office Personnel (SCOP), an affiliate of the Michigan Education Assoc., called in sick one day, but returned Tuesday.

A college spokesman said registration went fairly well despite the work action with administrators and other personnel filling in for the sick secretaries. The SCOP contract expired June 30.

Disaster warnings to be uniform?

activate the warning devices in the township.

"But there's also a radio signal that can be used to activate such systems and we're investigating that as well," Paulun said.

With a radio signal, a certain UHF (Ultra High Frequency) is assigned by the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) much like a CB (Citizens Band) frequency, and only Canton township would be able to use it. When that signal is sent, the warning alarm would be sounded.

On July 26, the Plymouth

Township Board of Trustees voted support of Fire Chief James Gignac for the purchase and installation of three more alarm units for Plymouth Township.

Money, as in most things, is a prime factor in deciding which Disaster Warning system should be used, but education also plays an important role in early warnings and public safety, Paulun said.

"You have those that have no idea just how bad a storm can be.

"When they hear the warning they go out and 'look' for a funnel cloud."

Schoenneman agreed with Paulun. "You have some people who are easily upset and they may be quick to jump the gun on a warning or alert," he said. "If not properly handled, it could become something of a 'cry-wolf' situation.

"If you have too many warnings without actual good cause, you're going to create a 'so-what' attitude in the people and they won't heed the signals."

With some schools going into extended school year (ESY) programs, many Plymouth-Canton schools will be in session for most of the tornado-prone summer months in Michigan.

Presently the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools use a fan-out method of notifying the schools of bad weather. The school board gets word of dangerous weather, makes calls to schools, who in turn call other schools until all schools are aware of weather conditions.

Plymouth-Canton Community School District Emergency Procedures Manual states:

"A procedure for severe weather conditions will be posted in each classroom.

"Drills for extreme weather conditions will be held at the beginning of the school year and again prior to March 1 of that year.

"Should it become necessary to keep the students in school, plans have been made to take advantage of the existing protection each school has available. Students will be dispatched to the safest spot in the building directed by the building principal in cooperation with the Office of Civil Defense.

Unity, team work and a fail-safe, secure system of Disaster Warning systems may be the ultimate answer to the Plymouth-Canton community's safety.

Cops gird for holiday

A "first in the nation" enforcement program will occur during the Labor Day weekend when four states join together to improve the safety of interstate travel, when Michigan State Police activate the CARE program.

CARE represents the project's goal - combined accident reduction effort.

Michigan, Indiana, Illinois State Police and the Ohio Highway Patrol have agreed to a special enforcement program for the holiday which will provide expanded patrol of the interstate system. The primary purpose of this unique program is to assure strict enforcement of the national 55 MPH speed limit and all other hazardous traffic law violations, state police said.

Michigan, through a federal grant from the governors Office of Highway Safety Planning, will be increasing their holiday patrol force by approximately 130 patrol cars for each of the four days of the holiday period.

That means a minimum of eight cars between the Detroit and Ypsilanti area (includes Plymouth-Canton) will be on the highways, Sgt. James Echois said.

Glimpse at yesterday

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the Aug. 10 issue of The Crier, Laura Mulholland sent in a picture of her husband Jim's truck that was part of the work force that built the Phoenix dam. She said the dam washed out "around 1900 and weakened the street car track where it ran alongside the bridge. The piles were washed out when the dam went out." Mrs. Walter Kleinschmidt, a former Plymouth resident, read the Glimpse and sent this response: "Today I received more clippings from Plymouth, among them was the article by Mrs. Mulholland. However I must take issue with her on the Phoenix Dam.

I know nothing about the dam that burst in 1900 - that was before I entered this world but I do know about the dam that was built in 1919.

My husband was a part time - time keeper with that construction company while they were in Plymouth. The picture I sent you was of that dam before the flats were flooded.

In 1921 that dam burst taking out the gas main and damaging the street car tracks.

Henry Ford did make the remark she referred to and did oversee the building of the second dam, the one there today.

My home and my father's home were directly across from the Thunderbird Inn. Both have been razed for parking facilities. I just had to write and tell it as it was way back then."

Mr. Breen moved that the retention basin as outlined in the communication from the Norman L. Dietrich and Assoc. Engineering letter dated August 22, 1977 be included in the expenditure of the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds that are under discussion. Supported by Mr. Gornick and carried unanimously.

It was moved by Mr. Gornick and supported by Mrs. Fidge that the $15,000 that was the estimate for the three Warning Sirens for early warning system for tornados and other natural disasters be included into the discussion when we talk about the actual allocation of the funds; that it be as one of the priorities for the expenditure of these funds. Motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Millington moved that the balance of the funds be considered for bicycle paths within the Township on completion of the plan to be submitted by Norman L. Dietrich and Associates.

Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.

James Gignac, Fire Chief, RE: Mutual aid to Northville Township. Mr. Gornick moved that Plymouth Township go on record as willing to be a participant in the temporary Mutual Aid pact as presented by the Fire Chief to assist Northville Township and with the condition that Northville Township will contact each of the other communities listed in the agreement. And that each community sign such pact. Supported by Mr. West. The motion carried unanimously.

Mrs. Richardson moved approval of the following Resolution:

RESOLVED, that the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees request the Department of Housing and Urban Development to re-evaluate its unfavorable decision on an application for mortgage financing for a sixty-six unit, full service, apartment dwelling for the frail elderly, proposed to be constructed adjacent to the Hendry Convalescent Center, 105 Haggerty Rd., Plymouth, Michigan as this would be an asset to the community, will certainly meet the needs of the elderly Plymouth Community residents and further there is a demonstrated need for a facility of this nature. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.

Teamsters. Local 214 Re: Indicating their desire to negotiate changes or revisions to their agreement with the Township of Plymouth. Mr. Breen moved that this item be moved to the end of the agenda and that the Board of Trustees adjourn into Executive Committee for the purpose of discussion of Personnel matters. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved approval of the Transfer of funds as per the Clerk's request. Supported by Mr. West and carried unanimously.

Moved by Mrs. Richardson and supported by Mrs. Fidge to approve Ordinance Amendment XLIX B as submitted with the effective date changed to read the first day of January, 1978, and by such action the Township is not waiving the fact that we did not receive proper notification of the increase from the City of Detroit. The motion carried unanimously.

Mr. Gornick moved that we direct the Supervisor to send a letter to the full Wayne County Road Commission requesting that they implement the administrative rulings arrived at, at their own hearings, relative to the vacating of Powell Road whereby the decision was reached to vacate same. He further stated that we can add further commentary in that letter that the Township intends to develop a full Recreation and Civic Complex in that area and this property will aid and abet the development and be an asset to the total community and further, we have had assurances going back for a large number of years that the Wayne County Road Commission was disposed in this direction and the Administrative hearing bares that out and we would like it implemented. Supported by Mrs. Richardson. The motion carried unanimously.

Sprinkler System for Golf Course. Mrs. Richardson commented that her personal feeling is that the Township had allocated money from Federal Revenue Sharing and it was the intent by the Majority of the Board to do something about a sprinkler system and that steps should be taken to implement the proposal. She further stated that Mr. Ross had done much to improve the course and now, the Township should request our Engineer to review the plans submitted and paid for by Mr. Ross and eventually Bid the entire job.

Mr. Gornick said he concurred wholeheartedly with Mrs. Richardson and in light of that, he moved that the township authorize Mr. Dietrich to examine the drawing presented, assess further what else he might have to do in terms of making up a full set of specifications for a bid. Supported by Mr. Millington. The motion carried unanimously.

Maurice Breen, Trustee - re: Utility Easements. Mr. Gornick moved approval of the Resolution relative to utility easements as per Mr. Breen's recommendation and that same be implemented. Supported by Mrs. Fidge and carried unanimously.

1977 FALL FESTIVAL GUIDE

of events
starts next page...

From towering sunflowers and giant squash to sweet corn fresh from the stalk, some of the finest local produce will be on exhibit in the Fall Festival Produce Tent.

WELCOME TO THE BEST FALL FESTIVAL YET.

IT WAS A GREAT YEAR FOR GROWING!

Those 500 people who showed up for the Plymouth Rotary Club's first benefit outing back in 1956 didn't know what they were starting.

Because in the years since, the little get-together that turned out to be our own Fall Festival also turned out to be one of the important annual events in our community.

In fact, the growth of the Fall Festival mirrors the growth that's been going on in Plymouth all the years since: Not just a growth in numbers, but also in quality of life.

We're proud to be part of that kind of growth, and proud of the new office that we opened last spring on Ann Arbor Road and I-275 to serve our customers better.

To Don Lightfoot, Don Sutherland, Harold Guenther, Sam Hudson and the hundreds who've come after them—a special thanks.

And here's looking forward to the next 22 Fall Festivals!

Community's 22nd Fall Festival debuts tomorrow

You're invited to Fall Festival 1977.

It's an event you won't want to miss, as our community swells to twice its size over the next four days to accommodate what may be the biggest Fall Festival ever.

The festival, centered in downtown Plymouth under the trees of historic Kellogg Park, is the Plymouth-Canton Community's premiere event of the year.

What began 22 years ago as a community picnic sponsored by Plymouth Rotarians to fill fundraising coffers, has evolved into one of Southeastern Michigan's most popular festivities. The Rotarians barbecued their chicken to perfection and inspired other local service clubs to offer their own specialties.

From the feasts grew a festival. You'll find arts, crafts and produce on exhibit, antiques worth weeks of browsing, and plenty of music and laughter.

In this special 1977 Fall Festival Guide edition of The Community Crier you'll find details on every facet of the four-day affair, with a complete schedule of all activities conveniently located on the edition's inside back cover.

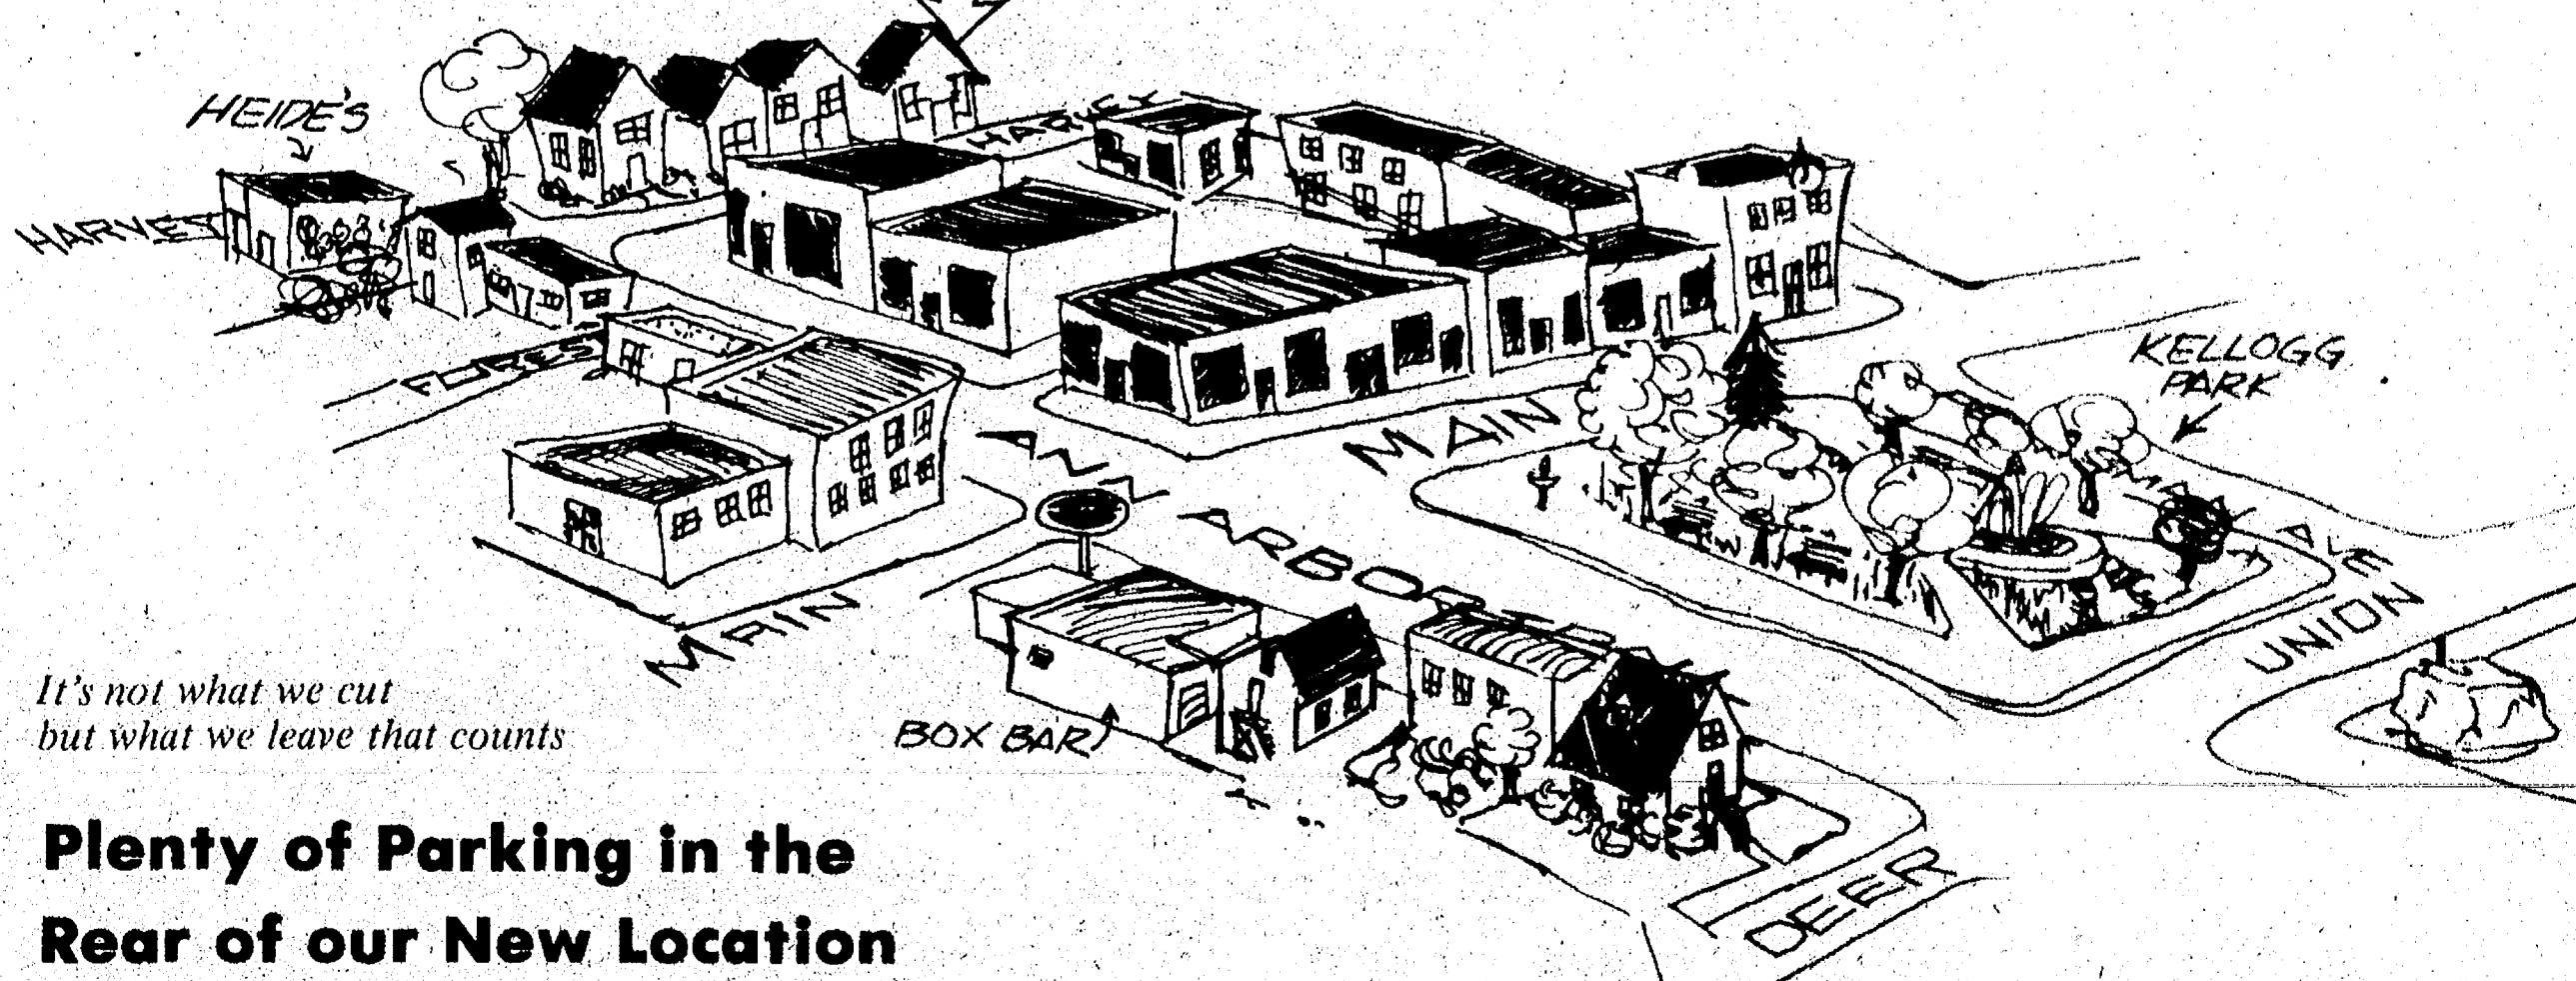

For a look at the booths you'll find along Main Street, turn to the back pages. In the middle of the paper, you'll find The Crier's exclusive "Salute to Plymouth-Canton Industry and Commerce."

Whatever you read, and wherever you stroll or dine during these next four days, enjoy yourself - - Fall Festival only comes once a year.
