House damaged in fire

CITY OF PLYMOUTH firefighters responded to a house fire at 528 Maple early Monday evening. Owner of the home, Mark Matson was there at the time, city fire officials said.

City Fire Chief George Schoenneman was not available for comment on the cause of the fire. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

CEP bands merged

Apparently for the two high school bands at Salem and Canton High schools, the sum of the parts is not greater than the whole, so the two bands were merged into one by a unanimous vote Monday of the school board.

Board member Carol Davis was absent.

Now there will be a total of four bands at the Centennial Educational Park, bands that will mix both Canton and Salem musicians at all levels.

The four bands will include: a symphony, concert, varsity, and cadet band.

The board was asked last year by the board, but a request to unify them came up this year when school officials learned there was a drop in band enrollment and the school day was shortened to six hours.

Canton High Principal Kent

Buikema has said that the band splitting didn't work because with five bands instead of four, the range of abilities in the varsity and concert

"This is really the only alternative now," said school administrator Dr. John Telord. He recommended James Griffiths' (band director at the Park) request and decided to act on his recommendation

The City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township have been declared a disaster area by the Small Business Administration (SBA) as a result of the physical damage done here by the 100-year storm May 30.

All of Wayne County and other adjacent counties who suffered from the flash flooding and thunderstorm were included in the declaration.

Low interest loans are now available through the SBA for local residents and businesses that suffered physical damage from the storm, SBA also reported.

Under the SBA Disaster Program, persons who own homes or businesses that were damaged or destroyed as a direct result of the thunderstorm and flooding, and persons who suffered personal property losses may apply for direct low interest rate Physical Disaster Loans to restore their properties to pre-disaster condition, according to the SBA.

Businesses that have suffered economic injury as a direct result of the disaster may apply for an Economic Injury Disaster Loan. Such businesses are required to submit proof showing that the economic injury suffered was directly attributable to the disaster.

Funds received from these loans may be used to provide working capital and to meet financial obligations that otherwise would have been met had the disaster not occurred. However, SBA officials said where possible and without causing undue hardship, a business must use its own assets or credit from the community if available at reasonable rates to meet its financial obligations.

The Physical Disaster Loan interest rates currently in effect are as follows:

1. Loans to Homeowners: One percent on the first $10,000. Three percent on the next $30,000, and six and five-eighths percent thereafter.

2. Loans to businesses: Three percent on the first $250,000, and six and five eighths percent thereafter.

The Economic Injury Disaster Loan interest rates are three percent on the first $25,000 only and six and five eighths percent thereafter.

To assist residents and businesses needing information or applications for Disaster Loans a temporary field office will be located in the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer Street, phone 455-3210. Hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Applicants may also contact the Detroit Disaster Branch Office. The Plymouth branch is open until further notice, according to SBA.

Yack keeps helm at school board

Plymouth-Canton school board members Monday unanimously re-elected Tom Yack as president of the school board.

Also re-elected for the upcoming school year were Steven Harper, treasurer; Richard Arlen, vice-president and Flossie Tonda, secretary. "I'm very pleased with being elected," said Secretary Tonda. "I do enjoy the work."

Board member Carol Davis was absent. All four were elected on the first ballot.

Yack, a Canton resident, was tapped last September for the board presidency after then board president Marcia Borowski moved.

Yack is an administrator for the Wayne-Westland School District.

Do farms have future in Twp.

BY HANK MEIJER

Plymouth Township trustees were expected last night to consider approval of their planning commission's Future Land Use Plan, following a recommendation by county planning officials that agriculture continue to remain as a land-use category.

The planning commission's plan, which was completed earlier this year, foresaw a township in which no farmland would remain undeveloped. Envisioned instead are large areas of low and medium-density residential growth in the still partly-rural western area of the township.

But the plan was forwarded this spring to the Wayne County Planning Commission, and the county sent it back with a recommendation that agricultural use not be discarded.

The recommendation by the staff of County Planning Commission Director Maurice Roach, says "Agricultural uses can be expected in the township for many years, and a recommendation by the township is needed to protect agricultural land from premature development or abandonment.

According to Clerk Helen Richardson, however, it's zoning, not land use plan projected uses, which can help keep farms alive in Plymouth Township.

"I don't think there's any intention now on the part of the planning commission and township board to amend the zoning ordinance (in light of the future land use plan)," the clerk said. "We must keep agricultural zoning for those people who want to be farmers."

Township officials said they doubted that the effect of rising property costs on the fate of farms in the township probably cannot be offset by governmental recommendations encouraging agriculture.

'Questionable' siren too costly for city

Plymouth City Commissioners last night learned that a proposed tornado warning siren cost more than expected, and decided the city could do without one.

City officials last fall approved plans for the City Hall siren, thinking the county would split the cost of the system with the county. But when the lone bid came in last week, it was for $14,935, not $13,500 as originally estimated, and the city was told that Wayne County would only contribute $5,000.

"We weren't convinced of the need anyway," said Mark Wollenweber, assistant to the city manager. And Mayor Tom Turner noted that a decision last fall to acquire such a siren was "first approved over my objections."

Bad corner to be widened

The most dangerous intersection in the City of Plymouth may be in line for improvements in a joint project of the city and the state highway department, city commissioners learned Monday.

The Commission Monday accepted a proposal from the state to widen and add a left-turn lane on Main Street at the intersection of Ann Arbor Road.

That corner, which was the scene of a car-truck accident early yesterday morning in which one woman was injured, is the worst in the city, according to Police Chief Tim Ford. Ford said that more than 10 per cent of all the accidents in the city occurred there last year, including one fatal crash. Traffic engineers have reported that the corner handles 120 per cent of the traffic it was designed for.

Cost of the improvements is estimated at nearly $74,000, with the city's share $49,750. City officials hope federal matching funds will pay 90 per cent of that total.

"This is a good deal," said Mark Wollenweber, assistant to the city manager. "We own some right-of-way (along Main) now, and we can pull out if we decide it costs too much."

Traffic can't stop the stork

Rush-hour traffic can delay most things, but not the stork.

Dorothy Morse of 492 Harvey in Plymouth gave birth to a son Thursday morning in the front seat of her car en route to the hospital.

Husband David, who fighting his way through morning traffic, "was a great midwife," according to the new parents' neighbor, Rita Zuzich.

Born at 1-96 and Inkster Road was Mathew David Morse, weighing six pounds, 12 ounces. His father continued to Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn where the mother and newborn were admitted.

What homes cost here

Among 10 western Wayne and Oakland county communities, Plymouth ranked fourth and Canton fifth in the average price of homes sold in the first six months of 1978, the Western Wayne-Oakland Board of Realtors reported last week.

Plymouth recorded $57,722 as its average home price, while Canton listed $57,605. First on the list was West Bloomfield with an average price of $85,432.

Canton also made the top 10 in home sales so far this year, listing 390 sales for seventh place. First in sales was Livonia with 1,017, according to the WOCBR figures.

Main St. 5 & 10's days are numbered

Plymouth will lose its last dime store this year.

That's the word from officials of the K-Mart Corp., who said the firm's Kresge store would be closed later this year.

The store's lease will not be renewed because "it was not a good investment," said K-Mart spokesman Ann Wolff.

Opened in October, 1951, the 26,000 square foot store employed 26 persons. Ms. Wolff said they would have an opportunity to transfer to other stores in the chain.

Kresge's lease expires in January, 1979. One of the building's landlords said a new tenant has been found who will occupy the entire building.

West: We need own Humane Society

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 12, 1978

BY HANK MEIJER
 A long-term solution to the handling of stray dogs here may be to locate a branch of the Michigan Humane Society in the Plymouth-Canton Community.

That's the contention of Plymouth Township Treasurer Joe West, whose job it is to find a place for animals picked up by the dogcatcher in his township.

For now, the township, as well as the city, stows its strays at the Parkway Veterinary Clinic on Wilcox Road. West says he's satisfied with Parkway's service, but the clinic has announced that its own expansion problems may prompt an end to the stray dog facility.

And officials of the Westland Humane Society, where Canton brings its dogs, said last month that their facility may not be able to take the township's growing traffic of strays much longer. Northville and Northville Township, which now take strays to a veterinarian in Salem, may soon be facing similar problems, West said.

He advocates a local Humane society facility which would be better suited than Parkway for finding homes for some of the strays.

Currently, Parkway keeps city and township dogs for five days, at $5 per day per dog, then puts them to sleep with a $20 shot. Nearly 100 animals have been put to sleep in the last year, West said.

But as he noted, "We're not going to do that any more than we have to at $40." Before a dog is destroyed, officials try to contact owners and encourage adoption, West said, but the existing facility allows for few such opportunities.

"There are people looking for pets," he said. "I don't believe we can put them all to sleep. . . but you don't know what shape a stray dog's in. You can't afford to let them loose."

CEP to lock fire alarms

Centennial Educational Park fire alarms now have key-locked alarm stations and only students will not be issued keys to the alarms, said Park principals Bill Brown and Kent Buikema.

The key locked alarms were installed after it was discovered repeated false alarms by students at the Park left many fire alarms not working.

Keys have also been issued to maintenance and administrative personnel of both high schools and fire extinguishers are in classrooms at both Salem and Canton.

The extinguishers were installed at the State Fire Marshall's request, said the letter written by Brown and Buikema.

Pursell 'elected' by petition

Congressman Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) is apparently ensured his seat in Congress next year because his only opponent, a Democrat challenger in this year's race has been disqualified.

The Second congressional district includes the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Livonia. Pursell was first elected in 1976.

Earl Greene, an Ann Arbor councilman, was disqualified by the state board of canvassers because he did not have enough valid signatures on his nominating petitions. He was 74 signatures short of the needed 930.

The challenge to Greene's candidacy was filed by an

Ann Arbor resident, Gary Hentz. However, Greene has said that Hentz' lawyer, Robert Henry, Jr., is employed by the Republican party.

Greene said he was the "victim of a systematic effort" to keep candidates to a minimum in the race, and that his staff was rechecking the petitions. He also said he would appeal the disqualification as soon as he could prove he had enough signatures.

Fall Fest fiscally fine

Fall Festival chairman for 1978, Carl Glass, reports that the financial condition of the festival is good.

"It is partly due to our efforts and partly due to raising the entry fee to $100," Glass said. "We also cut down several expenses. We watched every nickel and shopped for bids on every purchase."

Fall Festival Board meetings are held at the Pupil Personnel Office at 1074 S. Mill. The next meeting is July 19 at 8 p.m.

Township gives city a lift

COOPERATION between the city and township of Plymouth is possible after all! When Plymouth Mayor Tom Turner's car broke down half-way through the July 4th parade, the crowd pushed it out of the way and Turner joined Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert in the next car for the remainder of the parade. To add insult to injury for Turner, who is a Ford Motor Co. executive, his disabled car was a Ford Mustang. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron.)

Let's look at housing for our elderly

While the vast majority of new homes going up in Canton and Plymouth townships are being purchased by young couples with families, there is a large portion of our population whose housing needs should not be ignored any longer.

It isn't too early for the two townships to help plan now how to accommodate the housing needs of their growing senior citizen populations.

Both townships have seen fit to buy land for recreational purposes for all residents to enjoy. A golf course, park land and even buildings have been bought to provide for recreational needs of all residents, including seniors.

Canton currently has six senior citizens clubs and an activities building on Michigan Avenue (recently purchased by Canton) is in full use seven days a week, almost 24 hours a day. Yet, there has been discussion lately of restricting membership to only those seniors who live in Canton because the programs are so full.

The senior citizen population in Canton will only continue to grow.

Both townships are making strides in meeting the recreational needs of all age groups, yet serious consideration is still to come on Plymouth-Canton seniors' housing needs.

In Plymouth Township, a group from St. John's Episcopal Church recently proposed a senior citizen housing complex on church property on Sheldon Road.

Adjoining property owners screamed about their endangered property values, but only a handful seemed to recognize the importance of living in a community where the elderly - as well as young and middle-aged can belong.

We should begin to explore the possibilities of planning for senior citizen housing in this community now, while both townships are growing and while there is still land available.

U.S. Rep race isn't

It doesn't do us much good to elect our congressmen every two years when we can't even find someone to run against them. But that's the way things stand just two years after the Bicentennial here in the Second Congressional District.

Our hometown freshman, Carl Pursell, may as well buy a house on the Potomac. After all, he has no opposition in the Republican primary, and now, as a result of inadequate petitions filed by the lone Democrat in the race, no opposition in the fall.

It's going to be a dull election year for Carl. And it ought to be an embarrassing one for local Democrats, who have thrown in the towel just two years after they lost the seat by only 300 votes.

It's bad enough when our townships are nearly one-party feifdoms, but things seem more serious when a vote on our voice in the capitol becomes no choice at all.

Did guard toss fireworks?

EDITOR:

I was recently playing tennis at C.E.P. and suddenly I heard the banging of firecrackers. I thought it would be a smart aleck throwing them from a car as he drove by, but to my tennis partners and my surprise it was coming from the C.E.P. security truck.

It was being driven by two of the "security guards" from the high schools. To add to the situation, there was a dance show taking place in Salem, and spectators were outside the school witnessing their conduct.

I think it's ironic that near the end of the school year we were reminded everyday not to set off firecrackers or smoke bombs, yet those security guards never seemed to hear these announcements.

I just hope one of the "security guards" reads this and feels embarrassed to have been caught in such an act.

Perhaps even the newspapers should stop so much of the stories of teens & firecrackers and observe the carelessness with which adults use firecrackers.

Don't let vandals go unpunished

EDITOR:

I feel it a sad situation to read that $3,000 worth of vandalism has occurred to the Plymouth-Canton School buses and that we will have to tighten security on them with more of the tax payers money, while the children that have done this are getting away unpunished and their parents also!

Whoever has done this knows right from wrong but has not the respect for it. It is unfortunate that it costs us more to prosecute these individuals than adding a few more fences which neither really accomplish a solution.

A PARENT & TAXPAYER

Killing turtle was senseless

Last Saturday two young men in Plymouth Township shot a large snapping turtle while bow and arrow hunting for carp.

I think the act was repulsive, especially in a time when the farm and wooded wild-life habitats of Plymouth-Canton are being destroyed faster than ever before.

It took eight arrows to "kill" that tough old snapper (it was still not dead when our photographer arrived.) It may have taken 30 or 40 years for that turtle to attain its size. The more creatures and plants are wantonly eliminated from our immediate environment - the more empty that environment becomes.

MICHAEL A. CARNE

Public hearing was unnecessary

EDITOR:

Your 'Community Opinions' page of July 5 carries an Editorial that's misleading, incomplete and hopefully will be corrected.

I have no quarrel with your opinion regarding my 'quotes.' I said what your reporter wrote. However, at the time I made those remarks, the Commissioners were discussing public hearings only as they pertain to Planned Unit Developments (PUD's).

Further, the article notes that the Planning Commission is waiting for a legal opinion regarding public hearings. (again... it is an opinion only in regard to existing PUD public hearings) Actually we have a very current opinion - dated May 19, 1978 - from William Sempliner of Sempliner, Thomas and Guth, Plymouth, in which he states, 'To answer the questions raised particularly public hearings are not necessary or even proper.'

He is referring only to PUD contracts with the Township... not all Public Hearings. Normal Public Hearings regarding rezoning of property are required under Michigan Law and I do not know anyone that would dispute it.

Your reporter must be thinking about a second opinion that has been requested after Mr. Sempliner's was received. The majority of the Commissioners did not agree with the May 19 opinion and, consequently, requested another opinion from another attorney.

However, after having studied various documents and reports produced by the Township or its agents since 1970,

I am of the opinion Mr. Sempliner has hit the mark in interpreting the intent of the PUD's.

Thank you for your consideration.

ROBERT J. SHEFFERLY

Editor's note: It is still our opinion that a public hearing is proper and necessary in this case. Any change in a planned unit development will affect residents who already live there.

Geer's safe now

EDITOR:

Thank you for your article on Geer School. We appreciate your interest.

There are two points in the article I would like to clarify. First, it was the joists in the school that were rotting and not the floor itself. Secondly, the $100,000 estimate to bring the building up to code is speculation because the building was built before building codes. It does not have to meet new codes.

With the wiring changes, the necessary fire barriers and the shoring work done by the parents, the building will be safe and habitable for another 20 years.

JOAN WILSON

Put floats before pols

EDITOR:

My family and I attended the parade in Plymouth yesterday and found the festivities a bit heavy with political personages. So I thought I'd offer the following suggestions for next year.

The parade has been walked, the fun has been had, And less politicians wouldn't have been bad, Handshaking and smiling three-fourths of an hour While the crowd's anticipation turned slightly sour!

Where were the bands, the clowns, the fun? They probably fainted waiting out in the "sun". A political rally is fine in its place, And I'm all for a well-run election race, But it was ever so boring sitting out on the street While the candidates conducted their political meet.

Next year let's move them to the end of the line, Or double them up, four abreast would be fine. Anyway, the fireworks went off without a hitch, (It's hard to campaign when it's dark as pitch!)

Dancing, dunking are Dearie Day highlights

"Dearie, do you remember when?"

When the good old summertime meant something special in small-town America? Merchants in the Old Village Association remember, and this Saturday they'll be jogging your memory with their annual "Dearie Days" festival.

There will be bargains, of course, and lots more fun for the whole family, with a petting farm, dunk tank, arts & crafts, an antique flea market and a bake sale.

Also featured will be a treasure hunt, a pizza-eating contest, apple dunking, a horseshoe contest, old-fashioned photos, clowns, balloons, games, a tug-of-war, log cutting and food and drinks.

The festival will run all day Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Registration will be held from 10 a.m. to noon at the Peppermint Poodle Parlor for a pet contest scheduled for 1 p.m. Also planned are antique car rides, a chicken dinner and a bake sale.

The spirit of the 50s will be the theme of the annual Dearie Days Dance, scheduled from 7 p.m. to 12 midnight at the Cultural Center. Beer will be $1 per pitcher.

Prizes will be given away at a drawing to be held at the dance.

Old Village is in the northeast section of the City of Plymouth, bounded by railroad tracks on the west, Wilcox Lake on the north, Hines Park on the east, and Main Street on the south.

City boosts office, DPW salaries

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: July 12, 1978

Contract agreements with non-union city employes and members of Teamsters Local 214 in the Public Works Department were approved last night by the Plymouth City Commission.

Approved for the city's 46 non-union employes, excluding department heads and some others, were a five per cent across the board salary adjustment effective retroactively to July 1, one additional holiday (the day after Thanksgiving), and an altered retirement plan which city officials say will provide retired city employes with better medical benefits.

The DPW employes are currently in the third year of a three-year contract. Their wage and fringe benefit package was the subject of a re-opener agreement the commission approved Monday.

The new package adds an optical plan, the additional holiday, overtime adjustments and a 3.55 per cent wage adjustment.

Mark Wollenweber, assistant to the city manager, said both agreements were in line with eight per cent maximum bargaining guidelines established by the city commission.

He also said it was the city's goal to provide non-union employes with a package comparable to those negotiated with unionized employe groups.

Spring plant considered for Canton location

In a special meeting last Wednesday, the Economic Development Corporation of Canton recommended approval of a $4 million plant to locate in the township.

The hearing was granted by Canton trustees last Tuesday, with trustees Lynne Goldsmith and Bob Myers dissenting.

Goldsmith said she could not approve the hearing because she had received the request late that afternoon. "I will vote no," she told Stein. "You have had this thing sitting on your desk for nearly a year and we got it at 3 p.m. today. I can't make a decision on it."

Stein said it was simply a hearing and the township "would not be tied to anything" if they granted the hearing. He said that he couldn't make the information public until he received a "firm commitment" from the company, and also because legislation could soon be passed that would "threaten" the firm's chances for locating here under EDC terms.

"But we are the trustees and should know about these things," Goldsmith said. Myers echoed her comments.

Precision Spring Company, a firm that manufactures mechanical springs, requested the Canton EDC begin procedures that would allow them to re-locate in Canton. A company locating in Canton under EDC is allowed a tax break through bonds issued by the EDC. The company plans to build at Lotz and Van Born Roads. The area is zoned general industrial.

Planning Commission approval and approval from the township board is needed before construction can begin.

Forum set

The Commercial and Industrial Committee of Canton will host two open forums this month the Canton Township Fire Hall at the corner of Haggerty and Cherry Hill roads.

The first forum will be held this Friday, July 15, at 7:30 p.m. The second will be the following Friday, July 21 at the same time.

Cop car bumped

A Canton Police patrol car was slightly damaged last week when a van backed into it, police report.

About $100 damage was done to the patrol car, however it is still driveable, according to Canton police. Michigan State Police took a report of the incident.

Canton currently has five marked and two unmarked patrol cars.

Sewer extension hearing goes on

Plymouth Township officials and their attorney are scheduled to return to Wayne County Circuit Court tomorrow to show cause why and Aug. 8 election to determine whether sanitary sewers should be extended into western areas of the township should not be canceled.

The hearing, which was first convened Monday, follows the filing of a lawsuit two weeks ago by supporters of the $2.8 million sewer extension. The suit, which is actually a refiling of one first brought against the township six years ago, asks the court to issue an injunction canceling the referendum scheduled for the Aug. 8 primary election ballot. The suit claims that because the courts have already declared the sewer necessary, the issue should not be decided at the polls.

Schools to charge CEP book fee

A $15 book deposit fee will be required from all students entering high school in the Plymouth-Canton district, school board members decided Monday night.

The move is to offset the amount of money the school now loses on books that are either damaged, destroyed or lost by students, said school officials. School books cost the schools between eight to $15, according to Dr. Michael Homes, administrator for the schools.

Centennial Educational Park students will be required to pay the $15 deposit as they enter the Park and it will be refunded when they graduate, leave or quit the high school.

Board members noted that while they could not refuse an education to students that refused to pay the deposit, delaying their registration until there were fewer classes to choose from was one way to insure the fee.

Canton youth shot

A 19-year-old Canton youth was killed June 29 by a gunshot as he painted an apartment of a friend in Westland, according to Westland police.

Mark Robbins, 19, was painting a wall in a converted apartment at about 8 p.m. that night when a bullet came through the wall and struck him in the neck, said Lt. Dewey Combs of the Westland Police.

Combs said the bullet from a 9 mm automatic pistol went through the living room wall of the older home, passed through the next room, the hallway and through a closed door before it struck Robbins.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital. According to police, the man who fired the gun, Michael Cullity, 28, was being shown how it worked by his roommate, Daniel Horton. Combs said no charges have been brought against Cullity, who did not know Robbins.

Westland police are continuing their investigation of the case, Combs said.

Dumpster set afire in Canton

Canton police are investigating a dumpster fire that occurred at Eriksson School on Haggerty Road in Canton July 4.

According to Canton Police Chief Walter MacGregor, two juveniles are suspected to have started the fire.

There was no damage to the dumpster, said MacGregor, other than smoke.

Canton couple chooses their home for birth of child

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN
Getting "back to nature" and doing things the "old fashioned way" is becoming popular here, even if we rely on electricity and cars to help keep our lives running smoothly.

Vickie and Louis Damesworth of Walton Blvd., in Canton decided to have their first child by natural birth. According to Louis, the couple did a lot of reading on childbirth and checking into hospital facilities.

"Hospitals treat childbirth as a disease, and they won't guarantee the service, so we checked into the possibility of having the baby at home."

"We found a midwife through our church," said Vickie. "She works with two doctors and another midwife."

After going through five of six home birth classes, Vickie said she felt confident during the delivery.

"I didn't wish for a hospital - I was too busy to really think about it."

Both Vickie and Louis admit that many friend and their parents had reservations about the home delivery and kept asking "what if?..."

Louis said what made them decide to go with the natural birth at home was that "this is the way God intended it to be."

After five hours of labor, their daughter Charity was born at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, July 6. She weighed about seven and a half pounds.

The grandparents are Ed and Chris Rohn of Northville and Lillian and Doc Seals of Mississippi.

Y Fun Swimming instruction is for beginning swimmers through advance swimmers, six years to 16. Classes are Monday through Friday from 11:15 a.m. to noon. Fee for Y-Swim Club members is $12 and non-members is $15.

City firefighters mend comrade's roof

The friendly City of Plymouth firemen came to the rescue again last week, only this time it wasn't to put out a fire.

They came to the aid of one of their own volunteers, Dan Fowler who fell off a ladder while in the process of putting a new roof on his house.

When his friends at the fire station heard that Dan had broken his collar bone and couldn't finish the job, they decided to man the ladders themselves and get the roof finished.

"We've always had team effort in the fire department," said Dan, "because we care about people." He said his friends worked for two days in rainy weather to restore the roof.

Helping in the roofing project were Paul Sanders, Tom Lenaghan, John Morrissey, Ron Wood, Fred Robinson and Bob Steinbeck.

PAUL SANDERS, a 25-year veteran on the City of Plymouth Fire Department, along with other city firefighters, came to the aid of Dan Fowler, a volunteer at the department, by helping repair his roof. Fowler, who was injured, when he fell off a ladder, was unable to finish the roof. (Crier photo by Phyllis Redfern.)

Doc Alford ends practice

Dr. Barry Alford, a Plymouth physician for 26 years has recently retired. "His retirement is not by choice, but because of illness," according to his wife, Nadine.

Dr. Alford graduated from Wayne State University in 1950, and opened his first office on Main Street in Plymouth in 1952. He later moved his office to Mill Street, then a few years ago opened his new office at a professional park in Canton on Canton Center Road.

During two years of his practice, he worked in the emergency room at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

"We are in the process of trying to find a family doctor to take over the office," said Nadine. "Plymouth can't afford to lose a doctor."

Dr. Alford is uncertain as to what his future plans will be. "His only plan for now is to get a long rest and get back on his feet," said his wife.

Merger panel meets

The Direction and Course Subcommittee of the Citizen's Committee for United Services (formerly the Unification Committee) of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township will suggest to Committee members tomorrow a survey of local residents' attitudes towards governmental services.

The subcommittee, dubbed "where we're going and how to get there" by Committee Chairman Norb Battermann, will present the suggestion for discussion at the larger committee meeting tomorrow, at Plymouth Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road at 7:30 p.m.

If the suggestion is adopted, experts in the community will assist in compiling the survey, which could be taken from between 200 to 1,000 residents in the city and township.

Ruling ends busing option

Plymouth-Canton school officials will drop optional busing effective Aug. 18, school board members decided Monday.

Board members also said the schools would notify each other of the decision to discontinue, and also that a declaratory judgment from the Attorney General's office was "forcing this realignment," Supt. John M. Hoben said.

It's vacation time and while some people are making plane reservations, other families are packing campers and taking off for many parts of the country. Vacations are a great time to go sightseeing and to explore unfamiliar parts of the country. They are also a good time to get reacquainted with family members or special friends who you haven't seen during the year.

When out-state relatives arrive, there's no better time to get everyone together for a family reunion. Aunt Sue can bake a cake, Aunt Gail is great with potato salad and cousin Cindy can concoct one of her grand gourmet mysteries. Poor Grandma always has such a time at family gatherings trying to call the right grandchild by the right name. And then she can never understand why her grandchildren are so perfect when her own children gave her so much trouble.

Yes, it's great to get the family together and reminisce about all the fun we had at the last family reunion.

Cara Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis of Arthur Street in Plymouth, and Carol Lindsay, daughter of Mrs. Lindsay of Arthur are both attending Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp in Twin Lake. Each summer, Blue Lake offers instruction in a variety of fine arts fields to elementary through high school students. Cara is majoring in band, and Carol is majoring in orchestra.

Local students make list at Schoolcraft

Recognition for outstanding scholarship has been extended to 277 Schoolcraft College students named to the Dean's List for the Winter Semester, 1978.

The names of those students earning a place on the list have been announced by Dean Fred Stefanski, coordinator of the office of instructional affairs, who has prepared personal letters of congratulations to each.

To make the Dean's list a student must carry at least 12 hours during the semester and must earn a 3.5 (B+) grade point average or better. Stefanski said that 85 of those on the winter list had earned perfect 4.0 grade point averages.

From Canton, students on the Dean's list include:

Alia H. Abbosh, Sherri L. Ahland, Tracey L. Barra, Deborah S. Cowan, Paula M. Dinorma, Gerard G. Engler, Craig A. Fry, Denise R. Hala-han, Katherine A. Hammer, Janet E. Marquette, Jenifer J. Selke, Robin E. Stribling, David R. Trudell and Rita E. Wiginton.

after we studied it."

"I wonder if this wasn't a self-fulfilling prophecy," commented board member Richard Arlen. "I think athletic coaches and band directors are elitist people - but I understand how everyone wants to be on a winning team. Won't this reduce band participation?"

The band can get as large as the number that participate," Griffiths responded. "If you (Schools) had a feeder system from middle schools and got it organized, it wouldn't be so lopsided."

Griffiths said the two directors would add a stage band class to make up for the one music class lost with the bands merging.

"This is the annual band resolution," Board Treasurer

Steve Harper noted. "It's 90 per cent politics and 10 per cent education. I don't want this to come back next year. Let's establish a music program at the Park and leave it alone. All it does is fill the newspapers with copy and letters every year."

Dixboro fest is July 22

Scheduled from 1-9 p.m., the event-filled country fair will be held on Village Green in Dixboro, two miles east of Ann Arbor on Plymouth Road. The festival is sponsored by the Dixboro United Methodist Church.

Church members will barbecue more than 400 chickens. Dinners, being served from 4-8 p.m., feature a half of a chicken for adults, a quarter of a bird for children, plus an ear of sweet corn, coleslaw, roll and beverage. Tickets are $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for children 12 years of age and younger, and may be purchased at the festival.

Real Estate

REALTOR

WHAT IS AN APPRAISAL?

True, A REALTOR can suggest a selling price for your home if you intend to list it with his office. This is common practice and part of the value of selling through a REALTOR. But this should not be construed as an official appraisal.

An appraisal is the valuation of your property by a qualified Appraiser for a fee. This fee is based solely on the amount of work involved - not the market value of the property. His detailed written instrument will carry its full weight as documentation if used in any official capacity such as for tax or legal problems.

An Appraiser will provide you with a dated document which will cover in detail all the elements which go into the valuation such as: prices of comparable properties that have sold, value of location, construction, age and depreciation of the property, zoning, restrictions and reproduction cost. If it is income property he will capitalize the present and future income potential. Qualified Real Estate Appraisers will probably be members of the American Institute of Appraisers.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

City denies art club park display request

Plymouth City Commissioners Monday rejected a request by the Three Cities Art Club for permission to display art work in Kellogg Park during Thursday evening summer band concerts.

Commissioners, many of whom expressed sympathy for the request, said the city should adhere to a policy which would not risk challenges from other groups who might want to sell things in the park.

"It would just open up a Pandora's Box," said Commissioner Mary Childs.

Only Commissioner Eldon Martin dissented in the vote denying the request, asking the other commissioners, "Doesn't it add to the charm and uniqueness of the city (to encourage such activities as the art club display)?"

Job applicants needed

Many summer jobs are still available in Plymouth-Canton, reports Joyce Willis, Job Placement Specialist at the schools.

Willis said June was a record-setting month for placing students for both summer and permanent positions, and more applicants, especially boys, are needed.

Jobs in construction, sales, general labor, farm work, odd jobs and driving are open through employers who contact the schools' year-round job office, she said.

To apply, call Willis at 453-3100, ext. 386.

3 re-appointed

Plymouth Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert has recommended the reappointment of three members of the township Planning Commission whose terms expire this month.

The Township Board of Trustees was expected last night to approve second terms for Clinton Stroebel, Fred Davids and Kenneth Hulsing.

Reward posted

A $500 reward has been posted by Wayne County Sheriffs' Local 502, to assist in the search for a man, who shot at a Wayne County Deputy on Parkview Drive in Plymouth Township June 22.

The 650 co-workers of Dep. Carl Kuban posted the reward last week for information leading to the conviction of the man who fired at the deputy's marked car. The shot missed Kuban, but shattered the windshield of the vehicle and destroyed the spotlight.

The reward, which has no expiration date, was announced by Barry Hawthorne, who is administrative assistant to the president of Local 502, AFL-CIO.

A brown-haired man wearing a red shirt was seen fleeing from the area after the shooting, Wayne County Sheriffs' report. To report information, call Det. Frank Burton at 721-2222.

Cutbacks threaten Salem schedule

The prep football season may be upon us shortly — but it may be a short season for Salem High School.

The Dearborn public schools have decided to delete all extra-curricular programs, which include athletic teams. There is still a possibility of a millage or private funding to finance the teams, but right now the Fordson Tractors and Dearborn Thunderbirds won't be taking the field.

It is also expected that

Allen Park will discontinue its sports programs to pay for increased teacher salaries. And Redford Union's sports programs may also be cut because of a financial pinch there.

If this happens, Salem could face four fewer football opponents in the fall. The Rocks may have to play some teams twice or seek schools out of the Suburban-8 Conference that also have had schedule cancellations.

Jr. League directors resign

BY ERIC OLSON

Three of the four board members of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League will resign at the end of the current season, President Jerry Stevens announced last week.

Those resigning are Stevens, Vern Parks, vice-president; and Cathy Kelley, secretary. Jeanne Goodrich, the treasurer said she will not resign.

The resignations leave the baseball program, which includes more than 1,600 kids and 110 teams, in doubt as to whether or not there will be a schedule played next spring.

"The problem is that there are no volunteers for any of the positions," said Stevens. "It's just too much work for us to do alone."

A meeting is scheduled for tonight (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in Room 100 at Canton High School for people interested in continuing the program.

"I don't know if (the meeting) is going to do any good," said Stevens, "but I sure hope it does. Although I'm resigning, I'm still going to be around next year to help — that is if there's a program."

Stevens said problems have developed over the years as the league grew and volunteer help declined. He also said that managers of the teams do a great deal of work, but that they cannot be expected to do all the work, and several teams each year are not allowed into the league because of the excess work they would create.

"Right now you should be getting ready for next year already, but that usually gets put off until April or June," added Stevens.

Goodrich, who has been in charge of the league's registration for several years, says she wants to remain in the program and does not blame the other members for resigning.

"I like working in the program, but what I don't like is that there is no one new to take over the jobs," she said.

So now the fate of the organization appears to rest with the community, particularly with parents of the young players who may find themselves without a baseball program.

Net tourney this week; still time to register

Tennis novices have a chance to compete against other beginners in the upcoming City of Plymouth Novice Tennis Tournament.

The event will be held on July 14, 15, and 16 is open to all players who have never reached the quarter-finals of a tournament or won a high school letter.

Registration forms are available at the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer in Plymouth or call 455-6620. There are two age divisions: boys and girls 15 and under as of October 1, 1978, and men and women 16 and over.

The entry fee is 50 cents and the registration deadline is July 12. Central Middle School will be the site of the competition.

First place trophies will be awarded and there will be a chance to compete in the Harvey Barcus Finals. Players are expected to furnish three USTA approved tennis balls.

Mantles in Canada

Participating in a four-team, double-elimination tournament in Montreal, Canada over the July Fourth weekend, the Canton Mickey Mantle baseball team, the Merchant, dropped two 1-0 decisions and won a 1-0 contest.

Brian James was credited with the lone Canton win against Windsor as he went 14 innings allowing five hits and striking out 16. In the 14th, Dave Meador doubled and scored the winning run after three successive walks.

In their third game, the Merchants went down on a no-hitter against Quebec. Canton hurler Matt Etienne's 16 wiffs were wasted in a losing cause.

During their five-day stay in Canada, the Merchants attended a Montreal Expo game against the St. Louis Cardinals.

If the word 'overhead' means just operating expenses and 'backhand' means a swift slap across the chops, then you should enter The Crier Tennis Tournament where overheads are assets and backhands are your opponent's weakness.

With many pros tired from play at Wimbledon, there have been a few cancellations from the incomparable Crier Tennis Tourney. There are still places in the draw, however, the Aug. 25 p.m. deadline must be made.

So use that powerful tennis grip to rip out the entry blank on this page and mail it to City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department, 525 Farmer Street. Call 455-6620 for more details.

The tournament, to be held Aug. 4, 5, and 6, is open to all Plymouth-Canton Community School District residents for $2 per person per event. All matches will be held at the Canton High tennis courts.

The age divisions for men and women are: 10-12 and under, 13-15 and under, 16 and over, 35 and over, doubles, and mixed doubles.

Players are limited to one singles and two doubles categories. There must be six players or teams in a division before it will be opened. Entries in the women's divisions are especially needed.

Players are requested to furnish three USTA, preferably optic yellow, new tennis balls.

Mackmen victorious

Both the Canton and Salem Connie Mack baseball teams swept doubleheaders Saturday, as Canton downed Farmington 10-3 and 4-3 while Salem beat Thurston 6-4 and 11-2. The wins left Canton's record at 8-2 and Salem's at 5-4-1.

Brian James and Doug Smith each had complete-game victories for Canton. In the second game, Canton trailed 3-0 with two out in the seventh inning, but rallied to tie it 3-3. Scott Dawson smacked a home run in the eighth to preserve the win for Smith.

Salem's Doug Howeway picked up the 6-4 win in a relief role. Barry Owens went the distance in the second game, as he fired a six hitter. Bob White was three for six on the day and also walked four times. Dave Wilcox added three hits for Salem.

Fans create problems

After watching several baseball games in the Canton Sandy Koufax Tournament last week something began to bother me.

It was the abuse the umpires were taking from the coaches, players, and especially the parents.

I realize that this happens often and is usually accepted as part of the game so no further thought is usually given on the subject. But as I was driving to one of the games, I listened to a radio feature report, which was about the quality of education today.

The broadcaster said that in a survey recently conducted, 80 per cent of people thought that today's education is not as good as yesterday's. The report also said that the major reasons for today's poorer education is because there is a lack of discipline and a lack of acknowledging, obeying, and respecting authority.

Why do many of the players' parents show a lack of acknowledging, obeying, and respecting the authority of the umpire? Children copy their parents -- like father like son.

One call in particular brought this to my attention.

It was a play where the umpire had to decide whether or not the first-baseman pulled his foot. On this play it was impossible to tell if the runner was safe or out from the stands. After an outburst from the fans, the players became disgruntled.

The players, 13 and 14-year-old young men, were using the umpire as a scapegoat for losing. They contested every call, even the balls and strikes. One player, after taking a called third strike, complained loudly, threw his bat and walked over to the stands to tell his mother (I assume because she called him son) that the pitch was a ball and the umpire was cheating.

The mother nodded in agreement that the umpire was cheating, thus reinforcing the player's lack of respect for authority. It is possible that this attitude is transferred to classroom with the teachers and administrators as the umpires.

How can children, who can't even compete in a simple game (which is supposed to be fun) with discipline and respect for authority, fare well in the rigors of the classrooms?

I realize that they were not my kids that were out there getting a few bad calls from the umpire, but even if they were, I wouldn't have yelled at the umpire and said that he was cheating.

The second half of Cantons Softball season began with a couple of upsets in the Men's Class B League. Meijers defeated the first half winners, Ovidon 19-14 and Cyprus Gardens defeated second place winner Chapman Brothers 20-15. In that game, Michael Whaley hit three homeruns
