Local races share primary spotlight

Stein faces Culbert in Canton primary

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton residents who have grown used to wide open election campaigns in the township are experiencing a turnout this year — a quiet primary.

No emotional issue faces the voters where the race for two trustee seats on the Board of Trustees is drawing more attention than the fight for supervisor.

"Optimistically, I'd predict a 40 to 45 per cent turnout," said Canton Clerk John Flodin. "I don't see much enthusiasm."

If there is a major issue in the campaign, it's the performance of supervisor Harold Stein's administration. The incumbent has been busy defending his record on homeowner's complaints, growth management and land purchases.

Two Democrats, Stein and challenger Noel Culbert, are seeking their party's nomination for supervisor. Republican John Longridge, with no opposition, is assured of a spot on the November ballot for the township's top job.

A similar line-up of candidates is seeking the treasurer's position. Incumbent Anne Bradley faces Maria Falkiewicz for the Democratic nomination, while James Donahue is the lone candidate for the job in the Republican party.

Seven candidates are vying for the two trustee seats — five Democrats and two Republicans.

Two of the Democrats, Robert Schaeztl and Frank MacMurray, are running on a slate with Stein and Bradley. Former supervisor Robert Greenstein, Carol Bodenmiller and Larry Bowerman are the three other Democratic hopefuls.

Gary Roberts is the only Republican who filed although Sally Mundo has mounted a write-in effort in the GOP to get her name on the November ballot.

She needs 15 per cent of Roberts' total to succeed.

Greenstein's campaign is an effort to regain a seat on the board he lost two years ago when he was unseated by Stein in the primary race for supervisor.

He mounted a determined write — in campaign in the general election, but fell short of Stein again.

The primary will pare the trustee field to two Democrats and two Republicans (if Mundo gets enough votes). The four candidates will then face each other in November for the two open positions.

In the supervisor and treasurer races, one Democrat will be eliminated and the winners will face their Republican challengers in November.

Flodin has no opponents in either party and assured of re-election.

All terms on the board will last two years.

7 vie for judgeship

A field of seven attorneys seeking the second judgeship in the 35th District Court will be pared to two after next Tuesday's primary.

The second seat was created by the legislature in June to relieve Judge Dunbar Davis of a high caseload caused by increased population in the district in recent years.

Davis is running unopposed for his seat which will last six years. The first term of the second seat will last four years to stagger the two positions.

Seeking the new position are Maurice Breen of Plymouth Township; James Garber, also of Plymouth Township; Walter Guth, of Plymouth Township; Allen Ingle of Northville; Craig John of Canton; Philip Ogilvie of Northville; and Aloysius Suchy of Northville.

With courtrooms now in both Plymouth and Northville, the 35th District, with a second judge, is due to meet in Canton soon.

Canton's present meeting hall is scheduled for remodeling to accommodate the court when the township administration moves into the new hall probably within a month.

Showdown looms for Twp. clerk

BY HANK MEIJER

The fight to succeed Helen Richardson as clerk has produced the liveliest scrap on this year's Plymouth Township primary election ballot.

The battle is being waged in the Republican primary, where three candidates are vying for the nomination — and election, since the winner will face no opposition in November.

Three candidates filed petitions, Frances Ardanowski, Weyona Lee Fidge and Esther Hulsing, but Fidge and Hulsing, two of the township's best-known political names, have emerged as the front-runners.

Fidge, who lives at 49125 North Territorial Road, is a frequent critic of the current township administration. She was first elected to the board in 1976.

Hulsing is a former president of the Plymouth School Board. The resident of 12619 Beacon Hill is currently chairman of the township's Civil Service Commission.

The third candidate, Frances Ardanowski, lives at 15706 Robinwood and has done little campaigning.

In the only other contest on the Republican primary ballot, eight candidates are seeking nomination to two seats. No Democrats have filed in this race, either, so nomination assures election.

One incumbent, Richard Gornick of 11849 Amherst Ct., is running for re-election. Also in the race are Woodward Burbank of 39576 Mayville, Charles Childs of 42351 Hammill Lane, Gregory Dean of 12935 LeBlanc, Brian Kidston of 47127 Beechcraft, Gerald Law of 45209 Woodleigh Way, Barbara Lynch of 10028 Wolfriver and Gary Pickering of 8908 Pepperidge.

Dean, who was defeated by Supervisor Tom Notebaert in a bid for that office in 1976, is president of the Community Improvement Association, a homeowners' group. He has sometimes been allied with Gornick and Fidge in criticism of the current administration. Kidston is a principal at Central School.

Also on the township ballot, Notebaert is unopposed in his bid for re-election as supervisor while Joe West is unopposed for treasurer.

Senior co-ordinator hired

Canton Township has hired the City of Plymouth's senior citizen co-ordinator, Terry Carroll, as its grant co-ordinator. Carroll, 27, who has worked for the city for two years, will start his new job later this month.

"I will be co-ordinating

Canton's funded programs, including community development grants and revenue sharing," said Carroll. "I will also be searching out new categorical grants from both the federal and state governments."

The Canton Board of Trustees voted unanimously last Tuesday to hire Carroll, choosing him over two other finalists for the $14,000 position.

The city has now lost two senior citizen executives in the last month. Fran Yoakum recently left her job as manager of Tonquish Creek Manor, Plymouth's senior citizen housing complex.

Carroll holds a BA in sociology from Wayne State University and lives with his wife Susan on Joy Street in the city. He grew up in Livonia and Westland.

County to ask for 1 mill

Wayne County voters will be asked next Tuesday to approve a one-mill renewal for general county operations.

The millage, which would keep on local tax bills about $25 for the owner of a $50,000 house, would help keep Wayne County General Hospital afloat, county officials say.

County postpones arrest of trustee

BY CHAS CHILD

The arraignment of a Canton trustee, originally scheduled for last week, has been indefinitely delayed, according to Canton police.

A warrant for the arrest of Trustee Bob Myers on a charge of holding a campaign fundraiser without a one-day liquor license was issued last week.

Officials in the Wayne County Prosecutors office decided to "further review the case," said Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart of the Canton force.

Stewart was told of the decision at a meeting last week at the prosecutor's office.

Myers issued charges of political harassment after the Canton police investigated his fundraiser on July 22 and issued the warrant.

He claimed that the administration of Canton Supervisor Harold Stein instigated the investigation, although Stein denied the accusations.

Stewart did not say when or even if the charges would be pursued.

Water saving urged

If the temperature is over 80 degrees, Canton residents will be restricted to every-other-day lawn sprinkling, according to guidelines passed by the Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

Even on a day watering is permitted, it will be restricted to the following hours: 8-11 a.m., 2-4 p.m. and 9 p.m. - 6 a.m.

The board passed the restrictions to conserve water as residents use their sprinklers overtime in the hot weather. Sprinkling is not the only watering that is being limited, however. The guidelines extend to all non-essential water uses like car washing.

According to the restrictions, if the last digit in your address is an even number, you can water on an even-numbered day.

Similarly, if the last digit in your address is an odd number, you can water on odd numbered days.

Freight-hopper stopped here

IF it's Friday, this must be Plymouth. Getting kicked off a C & O train last week in Plymouth was an unidentified hobo from Tacoma, Wash. The Plymouth police were searching the train for an escapee from DeHoCo when they found the train's uninvited guest. "I guess I took a wrong turn," said the traveler. "I should be in Cleveland by now." (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Twp. ballot asks sewer OK

Plymouth Township voters will have a ballot filled with more than candidates when they go to the polls Tuesday.

Also to be decided are the fate of three township requests and an advisory question on hunting in western areas of the township.

Proposition A asks voters to empower the Board of Trustees to purchase 34 acres just north of the Hilltop Glen Golf Course for expansion of the course and the Township Recreation Park. The site would also be used to provide retention ponds for Tonquish Creek.

Township officials expect to use Federal revenue-sharing funds to make the purchase, but must have approval of the voters before entering into any contract. Officials have said they will not raise taxes to raise the money.

Man nabbed for assault

A 50-year-old Canton man was arrested Friday on a charge of sexually assaulting a six-year-old girl, State Police report.

George Cole, of 8318 Honeytree Boulevard, stood mute on the charges in 35th District Court and was released on $10,000 bond, said the police. The pre-trial hearing was set for Aug. 31.

Stores due next to school?

An anticipated problem with traffic congestion may force the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education to take a stand on a rezoning ordinance.

The southwestern corner of Joy and Sheldon roads has recently been zoned to C-2 commercial zoning allowing construction of a bank and township officials plan with no affect on millage is Proposition B, which asks permission for the township to buy the vacant building formerly occupied by Teledyne Corp. adjacent to Township Hall on the east.

The $117,500 building would allow the township to nearly double its office space at the Ann Arbor Road site.

Supervisor Tom Notebaert stressed that funds for the purchase will come from the township's general fund, and will not require additional millage.

Most important of the three questions, and the one which will likely have some effect on township tax bills, is Proposition C, a referendum which asks voters whether bonds should be issued to finance the $2.8 million extension of sanitary sewers lines into western Plymouth Township.

While the project would also provide sewers for a section of the Lake Pointe area in the northeast which currently does not have sanitary sewer lines, its chief impact would be in the west, where it would serve the Plymouth Hills subdivision west of Beck and north of Powell Road and extend along Powell out to Ridge Road.

Plymouth Hills residents say the sewer is necessary - a lawsuit filed in 1975 and revived last month brought what seems to be judicial agreement - but opponents say extending it on out to Ridge would hasten residential development in that area.

Also on the ballot is an advisory question, Proposition D, which asks township residents whether they favor or oppose closing the entire township to hunting. A small portion of the western side of the township is currently open to hunting. Because the question hinges on actions of the State Department Resources, the vote here is not binding.

Foot slips, gas ignited

Two gas pumps at a service station in Plymouth caught on fire Friday night after they were knocked over by a motorist, police report.

The Plymouth Fire Department extinguished the minor fires at the Gulf Station at Ann Arbor Trail and Mill Street.

Paul Diggs, 20, of Livonia, backed into the pumps after his foot slipped off the clutch of his car, police said.

Kids loiter at Farrand

A juvenile problem at Farrand Elementary School in Plymouth Township was discussed at the Monday night meeting of the Board of Education.

"There is a continual gathering of middle school and older students in the courtyard of the school who loiter, drink, and smoke during the evening and night," said to Norm Kee, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

Child named editor

As announced previously, Chas Child has succeeded Donna Lomas as editor of The Crier. The 26-year old university of Michigan graduate joined the Crier staff in March, 1977, and has served as sports editor and assistant editor.

A resident of the City of Plymouth, his duties included coverage of the Plymouth-Canton School Board and frequent contributions to The Crier's editorial page.

Child this week announced the appointment of Pat Bartold, 25, as reporter. Ms. Bartold is a 1975 graduate of Olivet College, where she was editor of the college newspaper. She also served as a correspondent for the Battle Creek Enquirer last year after a two-year stint in the Peace Corps, working in a village in Niger in West Africa.

On the Crier staff, Ms. Bartold will be covering the Plymouth-Canton School Board, the largest local governmental unit, as well as assisting with sports and feature coverage and lay-out.

"We're pleased Pat has joined us," Child said. "She will help strengthen our commitment to being our readers' best source of local news."

Ms. Lomas, a member of The Crier staff since 1975, will begin her duties later this month as marketing director of the Community Federal Credit Union.

Canton planners give top priority to buying rec land

BY CHAS CHILD

A shopping list of future land, building and equipment purchases was presented to Canton's Board of Trustees last week.

Prepared by the township's planners, the list outlines Canton's major capital improvement needs for the next five years.

Planner George Peek said he would probably give the purchase of recreation land the highest priority because "there won't be any land to buy. The absorption of land in Canton by developers is enormous."

Seven parksites ranging from four through 25 acres were put at a "first priority" category that should be purchased in 1978-79, the report recommended.

The cost of the parkland is put at $665,000, spread from this year through 1983, said the report.

Other proposals include a $1 million multi-purpose recreation building, new fire station, library, and DPW building and yard.

Also numerous general utility and drainage projects were suggested as well as eight voting machines, and equipment for the fire and DPW departments.

"Canton has gotten by for six to eight years without extensive acquisitions," Peek said. "The board has to plan for them, so all the township revenues don't get tied up in operating costs."

The money for the purchases would come from general revenues, the police and fire millages, water and sewer fees and state and federal grants, said Peek.

Besides the recreational land acquisitions, the report listed three other land purchases: 1) a two-acre off-street parking site to serve the new district court, with an $18,000 price tag; 2) a one-acre fire station site in the township's northwest quadrant ($8,000); and 3) a 20-acre site on Belleville Road ($100,000).

McCarthy eyes bench

Local voters will be asked Aug. 8 to help fill 12 seats on the Wayne County Circuit Court bench.

In one race, two candidates will be elected from a field of five which includes one local attorney, James E. McCarthy of Plymouth. In the race with McCarthy are James A. Hathaway, Richard B. Kubicki, James J. O'Donnell and Harold M. Ryan.

A second priority group of recreation land purchases to be considered in 1982-83 includes, according to the report: an 80-100 acre central township park; and two 20-25 acre community park/playfields.

With this priority group, the report lists the multi-purpose recreation building.

The new fire station will probably be needed in 1983-84, and would cost somewhere between $100,000 to $300,000, said the report.

To start up the library this year on the third floor of the new administration building under construction, somewhere between $169,000 and $394,400 for new book purchases, the report said.

Future library improvements will probably require a one-quarter mill levy from the taxpayers, according to the planner's proposals.

A number of improvements to the planned site purchases were also outlined in the report. For off-street parking at the new court, $100,000 will be needed over the next two years, said the report.

To build streets and utilities in the industrial sites, the report calls for $734,000 over the next two years.

Also, the reports proposes to spend $195,000 over the next six years on a tree-planting program.

About 50 children from the Pickwick Village neighborhood in Canton participated in the Fair for Muscular Dystrophy sponsored by four students from Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

The festival, featuring a putt-putt golf course, cupcake walk, and musical chairs, was held Monday from 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. in the park of the subdivision and raised about $30.

Steve and Jill Valli and Shannon and Skipper Zebly, seventh and eighth graders at O.L.G.C., initiated the idea for the festival, saying that,

Students should register early

New residents in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District should register students in school as soon as possible. Early registration will help establish class enrollments, speed up pupil accounting, and avoid lines of students waiting to be registered the first day of school.

Students attending Extended School Year (ESY) schools may be registered any weekday between 7:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. The following elementary schools, grades K-5, are on the year-round calendar: Field, Eriksson, Gallimore, Isbister, and Miller. Pioneer Middle School, grades 6-8, is also on the ESY schedule.

Other elementary and middle schools in the Plymouth-Canton School District are on the traditional calendar. They will have regular office hours and personnel available to register new students weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. beginning August 21. Elementary schools on the traditional calendar are: Allen, Bird, Farrand, Fiegel, Geer, Hulsing, Smith, Starkweather, and Tanger. Central, East, and West are the middle schools on the traditional calendar.

School numbers are listed in the yellow pages of the local telephone directory.

New students in grades 9-12 are assigned to Canton or Salem High School by drawing a color-chip at the board office, 454 S. Harvey Street, Plymouth. They should call Ginnie Bagon, coordinator of pupil accounting, at 453-0200, ext. 421 for an appointment for high school assignment.

After they are assigned to a high school, students must contact the high school counseling office for an appointment to register. Students registering at Canton High should call 453-3100, ext. 324 and Salem students should call 453-3100, ext. 219. The counseling offices are open weekdays from 7:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New residents who are not sure which school their children will attend can call Ginnie Bagon, coordinator of pupil accounting, at the administration office, 453-0200, ext. 421.

Six seek county job

The race for the Democratic nomination for Wayne County commissioner has been tantamount to election in recent years, and this year's contest, which features a pair of local residents, will probably be no exception.

Leading a field of six contenders for the Democratic nod are incumbent William Joyner of Plymouth Township, who was appointed earlier this year to replace Royce Smith, and Canton Trustee Robert Myers. Those two, seen by many as the front-runners, are vying with Frederick Montgomery of Wayne, Walter Hink III of Belleville, and two candidates who have done little or no campaigning, Berna V. Chenault and R. (no relation to Royce) Smith.

Joyner is expected to gain little advantage from living in Plymouth Township, because many the majority of voters there will probably cast ballots in the Republican primary where township offices are at stake.

The largest block of voters in the 27th District lives in Canton, and Myers has recognition there he hopes will help him. Montgomery is counting on a strong showing in Wayne to give him the edge.

Republican Frank Yonish is unopposed in the primary. The candidates are seeking a two-year term on the board. The 27th District includes Canton and Plymouth townships and the City of Plymouth.

High school registration scheduled for Aug. 14-18

Registration materials for high school students at the Centennial Educational Park are going into the mail this week, according to Salem Principal Bill Brown. Sign-up for classes for both high schools takes place from Aug. 14 to 18.

In order to cut mailing costs, two envelopes are being sent to each student. By first

Farmlands promoted

BY CHAS CHILD

An educational campaign to inform Canton residents about the Farmland Preservation Program was approved by the Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

The campaign will be conducted through the November election where Cantonites will vote on spending money to preserve open space in the western half of the township.

"We will attempt to present both sides of the issue," said Bob Padget, chairman of the committee to inform the voters on the program. "We're blazing a new trail in Michigan, so we need to go ahead with this education program now," he told the board last Tuesday.

The budget approved for the educational program totals $10,830. A slide presentation will cost $2,800, while attorney fees will be $4,000. The rest of the money will be spent on preparing and printing a brochure, booklet and question and answer sheet.

"We are aiming at one comprehensive ballot question to settle the (development rights) issue once and for all," said Padget.

As planned now, Padget said the ballot proposal would ask about $15.2 million from Canton voters to buy the land. The money would be used to buy the development rights of about 4,700 acres of open and farmland in the western half of the township.

If a landowner sold his development rights, he would still own the land. However, he couldn't develop the land or sell to a developer.

"Would the program be voluntary?" Treasurer Anne Bradley asked Padget.

"Yes, however, practically mandatory," Padget replied. "If all the landowners around you sold their rights to the township, it would be impossible to develop yours because you wouldn't be able to buy services."

Padget also told the board that Township Attorney Bert Burgoyne said that the farmland preservation program was legal. But, "if it passes you can bank on going to court. We have to face that realistically," said Padget.

The first of the educational materials, the brochure, will be distributed in the township in mid-August, said Padget.

class mail the student will receive a "course verification card". This card lists the courses the student signed up for in a spring meeting with his or her counselor.

Instructions, teaching staff listing, work sheets, health cards, I.D. picture information, and master schedules are included in a bulk mailing. These materials should arrive at about the same time as the course verification card.

New this year for students at Plymouth-Canton and Plymouth-Salem High Schools is a textbook deposit of $15. All students must pay the deposit at the time of registration. Checks should be made out to Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

One student handbook per family is in the packet. Parents are urged to read the handbook carefully, says Brown, so they will be familiar with the changes this year in high school procedures.

Students who cannot be present at their appointed registration time should send someone to represent them at the registration. The representative should have a note signed by the student or parent, the textbook deposit, health card, schedules, and course verification card for the absent student.

Questions about the high school registration for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools should be called to 453-3100.

The registration schedule is as follows: Seniors will sign up for classes Aug. 14, juniors on Aug. 15, sophomores on Aug. 16, and freshmen on Aug. 17. A make-up day will be held on Aug. 18.

Students will register according to the first letter of their last name, on each day, based on the following time schedule: A-B, 8 to 8:30 a.m.; Q-R, 8:30 to 9 a.m.; S-T, 9 to 9:30 a.m.; G-H, 9:30 to 10 a.m.; E-F, 10 to 10:30 a.m.; C-D, 10:30 to 11 a.m.; N-P, 11 to 11:30 a.m.; L-M, 12:30 to 1 p.m.; I-K, 1 to 1:30 p.m.; and, U-Z, 1:30 to 2 p.m.

Only 1 state seat contested

Of the two state representative and two state senate seats in the Plymouth-Canton Community, only one incumbent faces a fight in the upcoming primary.

State Senator Bob Geake, in the 14th District must beat Addison Bacon, city clerk of Livonia, to proceed to the November general election. The winner of the race will face Democrat Paul Kadish, of Livonia. The 14th District covers all of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

In the 13th State Senate District, which includes all of Canton, only one Democrat and one Republican have entered the race. Incumbent William Faust, a Democrat, will face Republican challenger Coleman Flaskant in November. Faust is from Westland while Flaskant is from Canton.

Similarly, there are no primary fights in the two state representative races. In the 37th District, which covers a small part of Plymouth Township and all of Canton Township, incumbent Tom Brown is assured of the Democratic nod, while Tom Sullivan of Westland is also unopposed in the Republican party.

In the 52nd District, which includes all of the City of Plymouth and most of Plymouth Township, Republican Roy Smith of Saline is the only candidate in his party, while Democrat Thomas Kass of Ypsilanti is likewise unopposed.

FRESH PRODUCE like these onions might be part of a proposed farmer's market in Canton. A site on Michigan Avenue is being eyed for the market, but the plan rests on whether the Farmland Preservation program is approved by voters in November. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Canton still eyes land for market

If Canton voters approve saving the farmland in the western half of the township, they may get a bonus: a farmers market.

Plans for the market were included by the township's planners in a list of possible purchases by Canton in the next five years.

"Although I included it in the capital improvement list, I would only recommend it if the farmland preservation proposal was passed," said Planner George Peek.

The 20-acre market site on Michigan Avenue west of Belleville Road would cost about $100,000, according to Peek. Stalls, or roofs on the site would cost more, he said.

The farmland preservation program, if approved in November by the voters, would buy the development rights of open and farmland in the western half of the township.

Studies indicate it would cost about $15,200,000, which would be raised by a millage.

Sewer Bond Referendum

The Community Improvement Association of Plymouth Township sponsored a petition drive to place this issue on the August 8th ballot. We offer these facts to promote informed citizen involvement in local government.

The proposed sewer project, with a total estimated cost of $2,800,000.00, consists of five separate and district parts:

1. The Byron Creek Trunk Extension,
2. the Sly Drain Trunk Extension,
3. the Plymouth Hills Laterals,
4. the Powell Road Extension, and
5. the Tonquish Creek Extension.

The first three of these would serve areas of demonstrated need where residents either have inadequate sewers or lack sewers entirely. If proposed separately, we would support these extensions - as we have gone on record with the Township Board in the past.

However, the Powell Road and Tonquish Creek Extensions would serve more than 1,000 acres of undeveloped land - primarily for the benefit of a few land speculators at the expense of all taxpayers.

Therefore, We recommend a "NO" Vote on this issue

The present "package" denies the citizens the right of choice. We ask for your active support in urging the Township government to appeal the court order which resulted in combining the five sewer projects. These issues can and should be separated to allow construction of sewers to service the areas of demonstrated need. We believe that a vigorous appeal of this court decision would result in such a choice - and large savings for the township residents.

Myers snafu clouds election

Walsh tapped

Michael J. Walsh of Gloucester in Plymouth was sworn in as Postmaster of the Taylor Post Office last Tuesday, July 25.

A 15-year veteran of the Postal Service, Walsh began his career as a sub clerk carrier in 1963 in Plymouth. He served in supervisory positions in Plymouth until 1972, when he was promoted to Postmaster at the South Lyon Post Office.

Walsh graduated from the University of Detroit High School, and attended Schoolcraft College. He belongs to Veterans of Foreign Wars, is a member of the Kiwanis Club of South Lyon, was president of the Wayne County Postmasters Association and received a Purple Heart in Korea with the Marine Corps.

A Plymouth resident for 14 years, Walsh resides with his wife, Janet and his two children, David and Kathleen.

BY CHAS CHILD
In the combined memory of Canton Police Chief Walter MacGregor and his Detective Sergeant, Larry Stewart, there had never been a case like it.

One of Wayne County's assistant prosecutors said he had never seen a case like it.

The case, which has muddied headlines just before the primary election on Aug. 8, is Canton Trustee Bob Myers' liquor license snafu.

And a clean election isn't the only casualty of the incident. The Canton Police Department, which has been mixed up with politics in the past, is now caught in the middle of another township mud-slinging contest.

This time, however, the Canton police had little choice. When they received a call from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department that Myers didn't have a one-day liquor license for his fundraiser last Saturday night, they couldn't ignore it. (The sheriff incidentally refused to touch it, according to a Canton policeman.)

So rather than shutting the fundraiser down, MacGregor decided, with advice from the prosecutor's office, to investigate it and gather evidence. This evidence was presented to the prosecutors and a warrant was issued.

A conviction under the felony charge would end

Analysis

Myers's political career and he is predictably outraged. Not only would he be unable to run for office for eight years, but he would be barred from voting for the same period.

Myers is running now for Wayne County Commissioner and is getting good political mileage out of the headlines, which has incumbent Bill Joyner worried that a non-campaign issue will swing a lot of votes to Myers.

The case is just another in Canton's long history of emotional and clouded politics. This time, not only has the police department been dragged in, but the county commissioner's race has been fogged.

The unanswered question of the whole affair is how did the Sheriff's Department learn of Myers' lack of a one-day liquor license?

Sheriff's officers said it was an anonymous tipster. Was it someone who wanted to embarrass Myers, or the Canton police, or both?

Myers claims it was the Stein administration who called the Sheriff, since Myers and Stein are political enemies and Stein has received considerable campaign contributions from the sheriff's deputies' union.

Stein and slatemate Eugene Daley, a Canton trustee and a former lieutenant in the sheriff's department flatly deny all of Myers's charges.

After the recall campaign last year, many persons hoped Canton's politics would return to an even keel. But the mud-slinging continues, and with the current crop of uninspiring candidates, hopes for improvement are dim.

Stein, Culbert: no choice for Canton supervisor

How does The Crier arrive at its endorsement decisions?

After evaluating the candidates and the issues, the staff (listed in the box on this page) votes, with the majority deciding in each case.

We aren't telling anyone how to vote. Rather, we offer a guide prepared from our perspective in covering local affairs.

The two candidates for the Democratic nomination for Supervisor of Canton Township leave us at a loss: Both are unacceptable.

Incumbent Harold Stein in his two years in office has been uncompromising, heavy-handed, and narrow-minded. However, Noel Culbert is by no means an alternative. The township needs a strong leader and Culbert simply couldn't provide the executive authority to run any township, much less Canton.

Local leaders must from the beginning consider and encompass all views. Stein, with an "enemies-list" mentality, hasn't provided this kind of leadership for Canton.

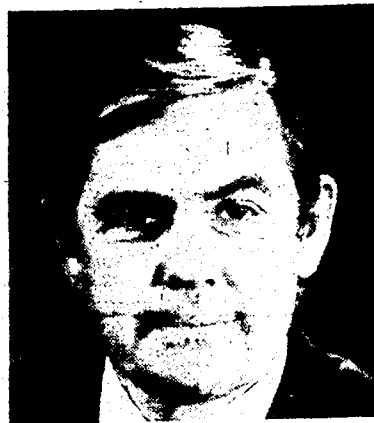

His handling of the hiring of the full-time police officers is a good example of his performance.

Canton went for six months without a full-time force while the township administration and the police officers union argued over who would get the full-time positions.

At best, Stein has a work a day competence which is more than Culbert has, but it is no basis for an endorsement.

Someday Canton may get the leaders it desperately needs. So far, no one has stepped forward.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

JAMES GARBER

ALOYSIUS SUCHY

Ogilvie also good Garber, Suchy lead for new judgeship

The state legislature gave the 35th District Court a much-needed second judgeship in June, and the field of seven candidates will be narrowed to two in next Tuesday's primary.

To guide voters, we have divided the seven into three categories: preferred, well qualified and qualified. We found none of the candidates unqualified.

Two candidates are preferred, James Garber and Aloysius Suchy. Garber has an impressive list of qualifications, including a record as assistant prosecutor for Wayne County and executive director of the Criminal Justice Institute.

Suchy, corporation counsel for Wayne County, is also very experienced. Both men seem to have sound judicial temperaments.

Well-qualified for the judgeship are Allen Ingle and Philip Ogilvie. Both candidates were at one time municipal judges and served the 35th District well.

Qualified for the post are Maurice Breen, Walter Guth and Craig John. Breen, has been supervisor of Plymouth Township and now is a trustee on the board. He practices law in the Plymouth-Canton community as do the other two candidates, Guth and John.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Send a message to county leaders

Wayne County government, faced with huge deficits and imminent cutbacks in services, is asking for renewal of one mill for five years.

It is tempting to vote "yes" to keep the county's head above water, but we urge a "no"

Of all governmental units in this area, Wayne County is by far the worst managed. Big labor cronyism has mired the county in red ink, and we do not feel like paying one more dime until its fiscal integrity is restored.

Vote "no" on the county's one-mill renewal request.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Bowerman, Bodenmiller top Democratic trustee prospects

Unfortunately, the old saying, "There's safety in numbers" doesn't hold true in the race for two trustee seats on the Canton Board of Trustees.

Five persons are seeking the two Democratic nominations, but none can we unhesitatingly endorse. However, we do recommend, Carol Bodenmiller and Larry Bowerman as the two best choices.

The race is highlighted by former Supervisor Robert Greenstein's bid to regain a seat on the board which he lost two years ago to the present supervisor, Harold Stein.

Although well-versed on the issues, Greenstein's contentions and blindly uncompromising style would simply poison the board.

Frank MacMurray is another candidate who has a solid record of involvement in township affairs. But his ties with some business elements and other interest groups lead us to believe that he would not have all of the township's residents in mind while making decisions on the board. He too has sometimes displayed a contentious attitude where a spirit of cooperation is called for.

Robert Schaeztl, who is running on a slate with Supervisor Stein and MacMurray, has little experience in Canton affairs.

Bodenmiller and Bowerman, while also relative newcomers to township government, have done their homework and would be reasonable voices on the board.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Why bother with treasurer? (Thank God for Gorman)

The two Democrats chasing the primary nomination for Canton Township treasurer constitute perhaps the weakest pair of contenders in any race in the Plymouth-Canton Community.

Incumbent Anne Bradley, in her two-year term, has shown little understanding of Canton's problems. Furthermore, she is a virtual rubber stamp for slatemate Harold Stein, the current supervisor. Her opponent, Maria Falkiewicz, is a political unknown. She has not done her homework and does not rate serious consideration for the job.

Fortunately, Finance Director Mike Gorman does an excellent job running the township's day-to-day monetary affairs.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Joyner is clear choice for county commissioner

If there were an award for youngest politician with most polish, our new county commissioner, William Joyner, of Plymouth Township could retire the trophy.

Although we're sometimes leery of his over-eager style, Joyner in his few months as Royce Smith's appointed successor has impressed us as a perceptive and hard-working politician.

His talent clearly exceeds that of any of the other contenders for the Democratic nomination to a two-year term on the county board.

Among the other candidates, Canton Trustee Robert Myers lacks Joyner's grasp of government and county issues.

Walter Hink III and Frederick Montgomery have not impressed us, and Berna Chenault and R. Smith (no relation to our former county commissioner, Royce Smith) appear not to be serious candidates.

We endorse William Joyner.

Geake merits primary nod

In the 14th District of the State Senate, which includes the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, two candidates are vying for the Republican nomination, incumbent Bob Geake and Addison Bacon, Livonia city clerk.

Geake has worked hard since assuming his job in a special election last year and is campaigning diligently for re-election.

Bacon has made little effort to get out and reach the voter, so we endorse Geake for the nomination.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Hulsing is best for township clerk

The three-way race to succeed Helen Richardson as Plymouth Township clerk has become instead a showdown between two of the townships' most prominent political names, Esther Hulsing and Lee Fidge. The third candidate, Frances Ardanowski, has campaigned with little ardor and is not a serious contender.

Weyona Lee Fidge is currently serving her first term on the township's Board of Trustees. Esther Hulsing is chairman of the township's Civil Service Commission and former president of the Plymouth School Board.

Although Lee Fidge has explored more than any other trustee such complex issues as sewer needs in the township, she has not displayed the

Time has come for 'yes' vote on extending sewer west

The most important question on Tuesday's Plymouth Township ballot may be a moot one if the courts find the subject of the vote too vital to the rights of western Plymouth Township property owners to be left to the whim of the ballot box.

But moot or not, voters will be asked to consider a proposal to issue bonds to finance a $2.8 million extension of sanitary sewer lines into areas of Lake Pointe, and, more significantly, the western third of the township.

Community
opinions

Even foes of the proposal seem to agree that the sewer should be extended to a remaining section of Lake Pointe in the east as well as to the Plymouth Hills subdivision on Beck Road north of Powell in the west. The sore spot is just how far west the sewers should go.

The current project - which has jumped in price from $1.5 million just five years ago - extends west as far as Ridge Road. That's too far, opponents of the project say. They contend it would only benefit property owners there who will sell off or subdivide their parcels and add to the township's growing pains.

The problem, as we see it, is that sewers were installed throughout the rest of the township through the sale of bonds which property owners in the west as well as east underwrote. Votes have never been taken on other sewer extensions, only on this one (it was defeated once before in 1975). And while it's easy to turn down anything that could raise our taxes, we still have to answer this question:

If you were a Plymouth Township property owner whose taxes over the years have gone to support sewer construction in other parts of your community, wouldn't you expect the same consideration when it came time to put the sewers out your way?

We think so. That regard for the rights of a minority, as well as the pressing need for sewers in the Plymouth Hills subdivision and the reality that extension to Ridge will actually open relatively little land to development, compel us to urge a YES vote on PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP PROPOSITION C.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

End hunting in township

On the primary ballot, Plymouth Township residents will be asked if hunting should be prohibited in the total area of the township.

We believe it should be. In a rapidly urbanizing area, the danger of high-powered rifles is too great for adults - and especially for children.

Vote YES on PROPOSITION D.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

spirit of cooperation and managerial expertise essential to the clerk's post.

In Plymouth Township, the clerk has assumed or shared many of the duties of running Township Hall. Mrs. Richardson has developed a strong office staff, but some employees have indicated they will quit or be fired if Mrs. Fidge is elected. If that's the case, all township residents would feel the loss of a level of efficiency they've grown accustomed to in the clerk's office.

Mrs. Fidge seems to look at people as friends or enemies. Mrs. Hulsing appears more open-minded.

The feuding which sometimes divides Fidge and other members of the Board of Trustees could create a volatile atmosphere in an office which must oversee township accounting and election activities without bias.

None of the contenders offers the administrative talent of Mrs. Richardson, but Esther Hulsing, with a long history of public service in governmental and charitable organizations, is the one candidate who can maintain the integrity and efficiency for which the clerk's office has become known.

We endorse Esther Hulsing for Plymouth Township Clerk.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Empower township to expand golf links

Plymouth Township residents will be asked next Tuesday to empower township officials to purchase a 34-acre parcel of land north of the township's Hilltop Glen Golf Course on the east side of Beck Road.

The acreage has been sought to permit expansion of the golf course from nine holes to what some officials say would be a more profitable 18, and to expand the Township Recreation Park to the east and provide retention ponds for Tonquish Creek, which flows through the area.

The key word on this township Proposition A ballot is "empower," because voting yes does not affect your tax bill. Township officials plan to purchase the land only when federal or state grants become available, but they still need residents' permission to do so.

Because the property would be a boon to township recreational plans, and because the administration vows to buy the land only when it can be done without raising township taxes, we urge a YES vote on PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP PROPOSITION A.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Building purchase is bargain for township

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees needs the permission of township voters before it can purchase the Teledyne Corp. building directly east of Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road.

At a cost of $117,500 plus remodeling, office space for Township Hall can be nearly doubled. The space is needed - the township board has been meeting for years in a portable building tacked on to the real hall. Not only that, but the space in this new building could postpone for years the need to build a new township hall on land set aside for that purpose at the triangle where Powell and Beck Roads and Ann Arbor Trail come together.

We prefer the remodeling to new construction, especially when you consider the million-dollar price tags new township halls are carrying these days. Besides, the money is available in the township's general fund, so your tax bill won't be raised to make the purchase.

Therefore, we urge a YES vote on PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP PROPOSITION B.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Make your vote count on Tuesday

Light turnouts are expected at all polling places in the Plymouth-Canton Community in Tuesday's primary, although voters are still asked to cast their ballots early.

Polling places will be open from 7 a.m. through 8 p.m. in Canton and Plymouth townships, as well as the City of Plymouth.

"The heaviest time is always between 5 and 8 p.m.," said Plymouth Township Clerk Helen Richardson. "So if you can vote before then, do so. Don't wait for your husband to get home."

The Aug. 8 primary features statewide races for governor and senator, and local races including state senator, state representative, all township offices.

Gornick, Law pace weak trustee field

We are not enthusiastic about the field vying for two-year seats on Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees.

Only one candidate, incumbent Richard Gornick, has any experience in township government. The other seven candidates are Woodward Burbank, Gregory Dean, Brian Kidston, Gerald Law, Barbara Lynch, Charles Childs and Gary Pickering.

All are Republicans and the two winners of Tuesday's primary face no opposition in the fall.

While we have sometimes been disappointed in Gornick's tendency to join the Lee Fidge-Maury Breen faction in township board debate, and in his encouragement of anti-sewer forces when his own Plymouth Hills subdivision needs sewer service, he is an honest, competent public official.

Among the other contenders, we have been most impressed by Gerald Law. He seems to have a better grasp of local issues than any other of the others. Gregory Dean, as president of the Community Improvement Association homeowner's group, has a knowledge of township affairs, but he has used it to undermine added sewer service and other changes we consider necessary.

Lynch has waged the most active campaign of any candidate - in fact, few of the candidates have done any campaigning at all. Kidston has often attended township board meetings and also seems an earnest contender.

We endorse Gerald Law and Richard Gornick for Plymouth Township trustees.

School camp fee raised by $11

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: August 2, 1978

Inflation has hit every thing, even the Plymouth-Canton schools' sixth grade camp program.

The four-day camp fee, which was $21 per student last year, will be increased to $32 per student this year, Max Sommerville, Director of the Outdoor Education Program, announced to members of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education at a workshop Monday night.

The increase, explained

Sommerville, is due to a 25 cent per student raise for each night of renting the facilities. Plymouth-Canton has also added one more camping week to the program, increasing the number of camp weeks to 13, he said.

Each four-day camp session provides housing, food, classes, and outdoor living experience to 115 sixth grade students from various Plymouth schools at the Proud Lake Recreation Center Outdoor Center near Milford, Michigan.

Board Members Flossie Tonda and Carol Davis expressed a high level of support for the camping program saying that it was an opportunity for the students to participate in a community of students and teachers who live, work, and enjoy each other's company together.

Afterwards, the Board met in executive session to discuss contract negotiations for teacher's aides.

Miller Woods paths await local walkers

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN
Miller Woods is being restored to its natural beauty thanks to the help of local students. The students are members of the Youth Conservation Core, a project which employs 24 young people in a eight week work-study program.

The main part of the project consisted of a major clean-up said John Campbell, director of the YCC program. "We took four dump truck loads of junk out of here," said Campbell. He added that along with the bottles, cans and ordinary trash, they found some unusual things. They found a milk of magnesia bottle dated 1906, a license plate dated 1929 and an old hub cap.

One of the most unusual items found was part of an old still. Mark Griffith, assistant director of the project, said he tried to give it to a museum, but nobody was interested.

Now that much of the junk has been hauled out, the students are working on the paths, making them accessible to anyone in the community who wishes to walk through the woods. They are putting wood chips on the paths and putting in posts to keep people from driving on the paths.

The students, who are paid minimum wage, will receive up to one school credit for successful completion of the program. About half of their time is spent on environmental education. "Once a week we have a field trip," said Campbell "and we've had people from the University of Michigan come out and talk to the students."

The students agree that it's a worth while project. "It's fun and you learn a lot about the environment," said Jill Hobbs, one of the students. "I'm getting a lot more out of it besides making money," she added.

Another student, Marc Mosher said that he liked working with college students. "They show us how to do things, but they're not as high an authority - they seem more on our level."

Anna Gotts, a senior at CEP, who is also working on the project, said she learned to respect the area. "I've learned about environment and what littering can do."

Rotarians plan barbecue

Chicken will be king this year on Sunday, Sept. 10, during Fall Festival.

Plymouth Rotary Chicken Barbecue Chairman Dr. Joe Smulsky says his fellow Rotarians will serve about 16,000 of the complete chicken dinners this year.

The bill of fare includes chicken, potato chips, a roll and butter, milk (white or chocolate) and coffee. Tickets are $3.25, as rising costs have forced a 25-cent increase in the price, Rotarians say. Serving time will be noon to 6 p.m. at Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

Pick-up service will be at a new location this year, the southwest corner of Ann Arbor Road and Sheldon by Michigan National Bank.

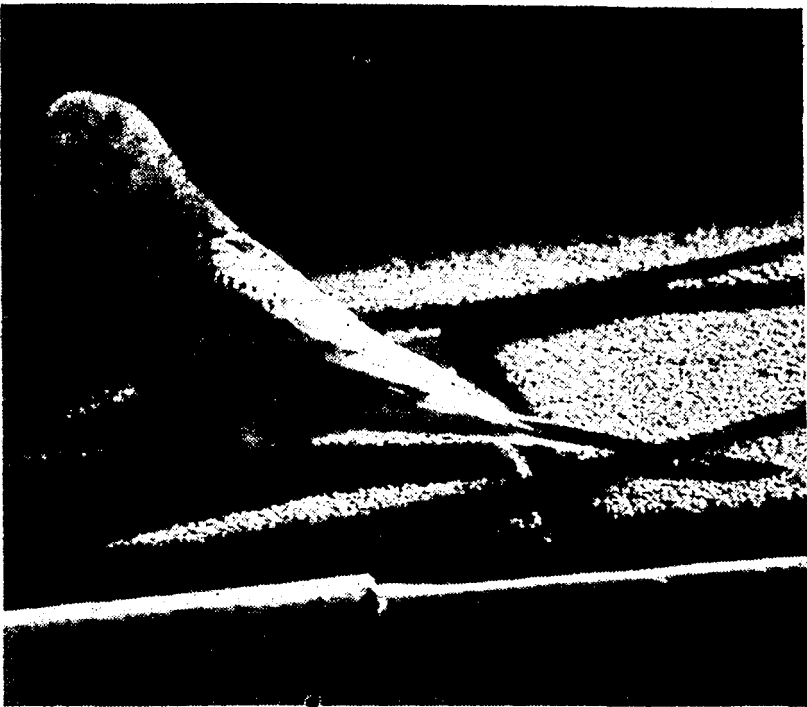

Offered this year in addition to the dinner will be soft drinks, ice cream and pies baked by the Rotary Anns.

Barbecuing all those chickens will require five tons of charcoal, according to Purchasing Chairman Mike Corp. He has also ordered 90 cases of coke and sprite; 9,000 pints of milk; 1,400 dozen dinner rolls; 18,000 napkins; 16,000 bags of potato chips; 75 pounds of salt and nine pounds of pepper.

Assisting Smulsky in planning the massive dinner are last year's chairman, Jim Carney; Mike Corp, purchasing; Glen Meadows, food preparation; and ticket sales, Bill Morrison.

Proceeds from the Rotary Barbecue and other service club dinners benefit the charities those groups serve throughout the year.

LOST. This unidentified parakeet was seen flying around a Plymouth neighborhood last week. A city resident is looking for his owner so the bird won't die of exposure. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Local bird on the lam

BY PAT BARTOLD

Freedom, for a parakeet at least, may not mean happiness.

The brightly colored bird was seen being chased by sparrows Friday in the yard of city of Plymouth resident Mrs. William Stokes.

Obviously someone's pet, the yellow-headed bird with the green body and the blue tail, was too frightened to heed the calls of Mrs. Stokes, as she tried to come to the bird's rescue. "I tried to get it to come to me," she said, "but it wouldn't. It can fly real good, though," she added.

If you can claim this flying friend, call Mrs. William Stokes, 1386 Beech, at 453-1272 and perhaps she can tell you toward which horizon the bird was last headed.

Young artists presented PCAC Isbister awards

The Plymouth Community Arts Council has presented Russell Isbister Memorial Awards for excellence in art to 11 Plymouth-Canton Community School students. Fifth grade students who received awards of $10 each include: Steve Ratke, Gallimore; Doug Peterson, Eriksson; Vadim Beginin, Miller; Scott Bowman and Shaun Carson, Hulsing; Scott Schoate, Starkweather; Tim O'Leary, Fiegel; and Rudolfo De Chavez from Field.

Awards of $20 each were presented to eighth grade students Terri Miller from East Middle School and Mark Mosakowski of West Middle School. Kelly Elmore, a junior at Canton High School, received an award of $30.

Recipients of the Isbister Memorial Awards were selected by art teachers at the request of the PCAC. One award was made available to each school. Only 10 schools responded.

The Russell Isbister Memorial Award, named in honor of the former superintendent of schools, is part of an on-going program begun in 1972 with funds donated to the PCAC by the Plymouth Rotary.

Those lazy, hazy days of summer are going by all too quickly. Here it is August and a month from now we'll be digging out the sweaters again. Wouldn't it be great if we could save some of these hot, sunny days for January?

Fall is coming up quickly for many people who are working on Fall Festival Committees. Chairmen for the Plymouth Community Arts Council Arts and Crafts Show had a luncheon, meeting at the home of Judy Morgan last week. Judy and Marilyn Whittaker are chairmen of the show this year.

Committee chairmen for the Artisan Selection are Dee Schulte, Elise Murphy, Joan Englehart, Cheryl Ahlgren and Madonna Bird. Gallery chairmen include Carol Carlson, Marg Moon, Nancy Sharp and Nancy Johnson.

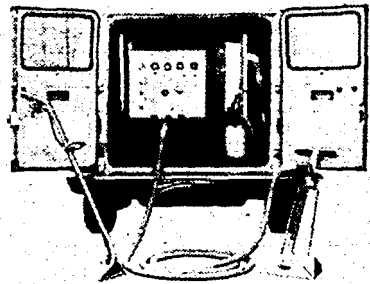

Dot Balough is in charge of the student booth, and Martha Ahern and Barb Church are in charge on the facility. Chairmen for the finance committee are Gil and Clara Camp and Mary Rose Hausman. Nancy Hayes and Sally Bila are hostesses, and posters and programs are being put together by Cheryl Ahlgren and Madonna Bird.

Sally Arthur and Marion Sullivan are in charge of admissions, Bobbi Abbott, Publicity, and Marilyn Carl the Edison window.

Another person planning fall activities is Judy Humberger of the Canton Parks and Recreation. According to Judy, they have many arts and crafts groups planned as well as other activities, but they're trying to find out just what the citizens in Canton are really interested in. "We are open to suggestions from anyone," said Judy. Anyone with questions or suggestions can call the recreation department at 397-2777.

The Plymouth Symphony League still needs bowlers for their fall league. They will be starting in September. If anyone is interested they can call Mima Tothornel at 349-6313. Also the league's coupon books are still available. If anyone is interested in purchasing one contact Joyce Kelly at 420-0694.

Real Estate

BY WILLIAM DECKER

REALTOR

THE OFFER TO BUY

You are selling your home. A prospect inspects it, likes it, and decides to make an offer. You can depend on human nature. He will try to have you accept an offer lower than your asking price.

Now what? First of all, if you are going to even consider an offer, it must be in writing and signed. It must have a definite time limit, and it should be accompanied by a respectable amount of the buyer's money as an indication of his sincerity. The specific amount will depend on the value of your home, the mortgage market and the buyer's financial condition. Respect your Realtor's advice on this subject.

Once these elements are fulfilled, it's up to you to either accept his lower offer, reject it outright, or make a counter offer to sell somewhere between the two. Just remember, if it's not in writing and accompanied by a reasonable amount of money -- taking your house off the market would be poor judgment.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 678 S. Main St., Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

Bradley, Falkiewicz vie for Canton Dem treasurer

Democrats

ANNE BRADLEY

Incumbent Canton Treasurer Anne Bradley, who will be facing two opponents in the Aug. 8 primary election, said in a Crier interview that she sees "no fat" in the township budget, and that a tax surplus is necessary for the township.

"Hopefully, litigation costs for the township will go down," Bradley said.

"I believe in a rainy day fund," she said. "The faucets (federal grants) may be turned off someday. Some years the township doesn't receive tax money on properties that it should."

Bradley said the land purchases the township has made for recreation are "sound and the township is on good financial ground. Our debt is not serious."

Since she has been in office, Bradley cites collection of overdue ambulance run fees, builder's fees reduction by $20,000 of the township's weed cutting bill, and has discontinued free coffee for township employees.

"We charge 10 cents for the coffee now and expect to break even this year," she said. Bradley noted that since January, $500 has been taken in from township employees to pay for the coffee service.

Bradley said she has added 54 businesses to property taxes and has begun an inventory of all township property.

"The people have to decide about development rights," she said. "It should be voluntary for the farmers, the sellers have to decide. I could live with paying for it."

On the library for Canton which will be on the ballot this November, Bradley said the township could not pay for it.

"We can't afford a library, without the millage," she said. "The people will have to pay for it."

"We need industry here," Bradley concluded. "The super sewer would be an advantage for bringing in industry. Any community needs that."

MARIA FALKIEWICZ

"Every grant Canton gets costs us money. To get $200,000 from the government we have to spend $800,000. Just because grants are available doesn't mean it is good for us to use."

So says Maria Falkiewicz, candidate for the Canton treasurer's seat in the Aug. 8 primary. In an interview with The Crier, Falkiewicz, although a Democrat, says she is not concerned with "the political end. I just care about the job and I want to do it."

"Whatever time is necessary I will devote to it," said Falkiewicz, who said she has a government patent pending on budget and financing book.

"A lot of spending is waste. We need more control on our budget," Falkiewicz said. "Why did we have a real estate agent handle the $105,000 purchase of the recreation building when we had an option on it anyway?"

Falkiewicz also thinks that the township's purchase of the Fellows Creek golf course was a mistake. "I'm for recreation, but not for the golf course," she said. "That grant cost us money."

On the location of the courtroom in Canton, Falkiewicz said "it bothers me that not all alternatives were checked out. The police and court should be combined. We have to know if we are staying there (at the proposed Canton meeting hall location) for 10 years or if it will be moved."

"Land bought so far doesn't put us on shaky ground, but it could get out of hand," Falkiewicz said. "We have to slow down growth."

Falkiewicz said she would "cut down" attorney fees for the township. "We don't need expensive attorneys to do studies," she said. "Township employes could do the work, unless it deals with a very technical problem."

"We should get a good education now on what development rights will cost," the candidate said. "Until all the facts are in we can't make a real financial commitment."

Republican

JAMES DONAHUE

Canton Township has wasted money on several land purchases said Jim Donahue, Republican candidate for treasurer of Canton Township.

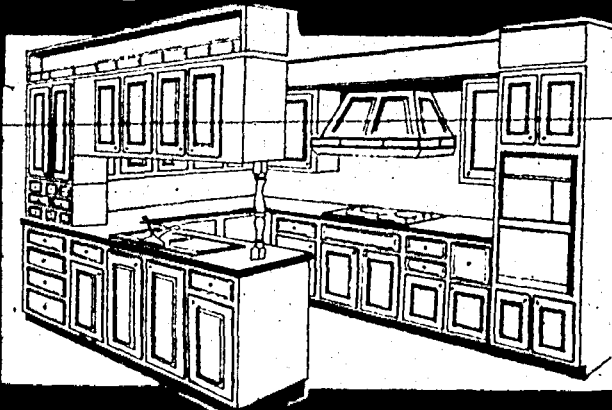

"The township administration thinks it is the local real estate office," he said in a Community Crier interview.

Donahue is assured of the GOP nomination since he has no opposition in the primary Aug. 8. He will face the winner of the Democratic primary in the November general election.

The candidate criticized not only the purchase of Fellows Creek Golf Course, the Dye

Stein, Culbert chase Canton supervisor's chair

NOEL CULBERT

If elected Supervisor of Canton Township, Noel Culbert plans to "crack down on builders," and to ration building permits to control growth.

He also said in a Community Crier interview that he does not support buying development rights of the land in the western half of the township because it would be too expensive.

Culbert hopes to unseat incumbent Harold Stein in the Aug. 8 primary.

To protect homeowners against alleged shoddy building practices, Culbert said the township should enact legislation that would enable homeowners to set up escrow accounts of $1,000 or $2,000. The builder would have to complete all repairs on the new house before he could get the money from the account, he said.

Culbert advocates two steps to limit growth: 1) rationing building permits, and 2) limiting lot sizes in the western portion of the township to five or 10 acres.

"We're approaching the capacity on Canton's sewer system," he said. "We could be heading for emergency measures if the population of the township keeps growing."

Expanding lot size minimums to five or 10 acres in the township's western half is a good alternative to buying development rights, said Culbert.

"The development rights acquisition plan is a good idea, except who's going to pay for it? It's too much and I wouldn't vote for it," he said.

However, if the federal or state government would help meet the proposed $15 million price tag, he said he would support it.

On meeting the recreation needs of the township, Culbert says Canton needs more park land. However, he criticized Stein's purchase of Fellows Creek Golf Course for the township.

"The people weren't consulted," he said. "It was snuck on the people."

Overall, Culbert said Stein is "rude and obnoxious to the people. He has turned many people into enemies. Also, as a corollary to this, he hasn't listened to the people in enacting legislation."

Stein also "quarreled and bickered" with the police and delayed starting a full-time force, said Culbert.

To lower taxes, Canton needs industry, said Culbert. "But you can't have industry near the subdivisions. Maybe the answer is creating new industrial zones in the western half of the township, but it does lack good roads," he said.

Also, Culbert said Canton's surplus should either be returned to the people, or taxes should be reduced to compensate for the extra money.

nents in the Aug. 8 primary election, says he is aiming to create a "calm-down atmosphere" in Canton and an "efficient, budget minded approach" to running the township.

In an interview with The Crier, Stein said a "stable" political situation in Canton is necessary if the township is to attract new commercial and industrial development.

"They're not interested in coming in until the dust settles," Stein said. He said with more industry in Canton, the tax burden for residents would be less.

"It isn't fair to hold up certain things unless they are very controversial or raise major questions," Stein said in a response to a query about the township's zoning ordinance, which has yet to be adopted by the township. "We need orderly, controlled growth. A comprehensive land use plan (is needed) for a broadened tax base."

Stein said he is taking a "neutral" position on the purchasing of development right on farmland in western Canton.

"The people have to decide," he said, adding that "100 per cent participation is necessary to make it (development rights) work. No one knows the repercussions of this thing - everyone should know the pluses and minuses."

Stein defended major land purchases the township has made since he took office in November, 1976. "With industry, we can generate more taxes to pay for land," he said.

One of his major goals, Stein said, is the development of Griffin Park according to its master land use plan. He said the township's new golf course, Fellows Creek, will bring in revenue and also provide residents with open recreation land.

"Services to senior citizens, a stable land use plan and a unity between government and residents are other goals," Stein said.

His biggest disappointment has been the "unnecessary litigation caused by the former supervisor", Stein said. The township lost three cases in court on sign use because "we didn't take our attorney's advice," Stein noted. "Plus the Silveers (police) case and the recall was a needless expense. It was all political. It was bad and it hurt. But I've worked harder because of it."

The Canton police force "will expand," said Stein, but he said he was "not in favor" of a contract with Wayne County Sheriff's Department to meet the needs of the expansion.

On the poor workmanship complaints the township has received from Canton homeowners, Stein says "there is a procedure which a lot of people have ignored. The building department enforced the state code," he said. "There's not one complaint I haven't damn near handled myself. I've yet to find a builder that hasn't complied with homeowner's wishes."

The incumbent supervisor said his administration has been open. "The door's always been open - more than before," he commented. "When it begins to affect my ability to function, I don't see a lot of people. But I don't ignore the responsibility of the job. I'm not always right, I've taken the criticism. Things get done."

Hopefuls seek Plymouth Twp. seats...

The League of Women Voters asked the following questions to candidates running for office in Plymouth Township. The League does not endorse or oppose any candidate of any political party. As a service to our readers, The Crier is printing the responses.

1. What are your views on the unification of the Township of Plymouth and the City of Plymouth?
2. How would you encourage greater citizen participation in Township government?
3. Give your views on the sewer referendum which is appearing on the ballot.
4. What role do you think the Township government should play in providing open space and recreation programs for Township residents?
5. Why are you a candidate for this office?

Clerk

LEE FIDGE

1. The consolidation of the two communities historically has been voted down by township residents. Therefore, the issue today is that cooperative efforts with the city by combining service areas, purchasing powers, and projects can be accomplished without legal impediment. Such mutual commitment could enhance each governmental body and eliminate the unnecessary duplication of personnel that presently exists. The end result achieves a reduction in cost but a better level and more efficient government for both municipalities.

The most effective local control on the rate of a community's growth is by controlling the extension of services - water and sewer - this the citizenry recognizes. Plymouth Township residents have become increasingly aware that development has caused increased demands on other services as schools, roads, police, and fire.

2. The recent example of citizen "grassroots" participation is most encouraging. People are concerned and watchful of their elected officials' decision making and this promotes efficient and responsible public officials.

3. By petitioning for a referendum on the sewer extension the electorate is asking for the right to determine the future of their community.

4. Sound land use planning includes the setting aside properties for open space. (Open space is recognized land use.) This use of such lands may be structured or nonstructed recreational, or protective in nature to meet existing and future needs of all areas of the township and provide unanimity throughout the community.

Any given area becomes very desirous and economically feasible as open space if it can provide the community with several functions. Therefore, open space use of land is a necessity rather than a luxury when considering the development of the township.

5. The Clerk's position is a many facet job - a voting member on the board, an administrator in the office, and by law official custodian of all township records.

During the last two years I've familiarized myself with and developed a working knowledge of board policies, fiscal (budgetary) responsibilities, administration of union contracts and working agreements, township services, land use and zoning, departmental operations, and adoption of employe policies.

I've also acquired the necessary skills related to the clerk's technical functions - bookkeeping, Michigan township government course, federal funding, revenue sharing, fixed asset and fund balance accounting, workmens compensation, and CETA program, and applicable law interpretation.

I have the background, experience, and interest to be a good administrator. My 12 years of township involvement and service proves that I also have a sincere dedication to township government. I will give a full time and longterm commitment to this fascinating and challenging position.

ESTHER HULSING

1. I believe that cooperation is the way to proceed - not unification. Until tax rates for local services desired by township residents more nearly approximate the same level as those in the city.

Township residents will be against unification. A feeling of mutual trust needs to be established between the city and the township. Full cooperation for delivery of services whenever and whenever it could be mutually advantageous should be thoroughly explored. Eventually I would hope that there would be one city. Feel that it is ten years or more away. Depends on the rate of change in our community.

2. Appoint knowledgeable citizens with expertise in various fields to study problems and issues and report to Board with recommendations. If there is a minority report it should also be presented. Report should be made in "town-hall" like atmosphere. Final decision is the responsibility of elected officials.

3. Provision of adequate sewer system for current township residents is a must. D.N.R. and Wayne County Health Department concerned about raw sewage. Hope that new sewer and water can be provided in such a manner that orderly growth occurs. (10% yearly)

4. Should lead in providing open space and recreation programs for residents. Study value of and the possibility of providing areas for recreation accessible to all. Cooperate and coordinate programs and areas with neighboring governmental units and school system. Citizens' committees could well study this to determine needs and recommend to all units of government where they could cooperate to their mutual advantage. Overall look at community at what is needed - what's available - what should then be provided by township as it's share.

5. Wish to help solve problems - not be part of one. Local government is first and most effective place to assume responsibility as a citizen. Change is inevitable as completion of expressways make this area so readily accessible to all southeastern Michigan. Hope to help make those changes in the right direction. Keep township the desirable place to live that it is. Consider the job a very challenging one.

Trustee

WOODWARD BURBANK

1. I would eventually like to see the two governments become one, but with certain restrictions: A. To include the entire township and not just our industrial tax base property, as is called for in the annexation. B. Dissolution of both present governments and a new government elected to insure adequate and fair representation for all.

This I see as a long way down the road before the voting public becomes aware of the need, and this can only be done by getting people involved in local events and governmental affairs.

2. Getting people involved in local government is a difficult task, I agree and don't have any sure-fire ways to build interest in a community, and nation where apathy seems to be the way of life. But if I am able to get just a couple people interested enough to act and find out what's going on I will think of it as success.

3. The sewer situation has to be looked at in long term benefits, and with a community growing as fast as ours, there definitely has got to be an advantage by getting away from Detroit and its problems. Such a move is like adding insulation to your house: it pays for itself. I am not saying the super sewer is the only answer, but it seems to be the best alternative I have heard.

4. The township has to play the leading role in providing recreation and open areas to the community. These programs should be expanded to include areas in different parts of the township so that all might use this worthwhile benefit. Today's youth, living in subdivisions as we do, has a harder time keeping occupied. The more we provide areas for recreation and organized programs the better for all.

5. I am a Candidate for Plymouth Township Trustee because: The past two to three years I have been wondering what happens to my tax money. It seems that we pay first class rates and receive economy service. The only service that is visible is the fire department.

By becoming involved I hope to bring new fresh look and ideas to the community in which we live. But by my participation maybe we can get a few people involved and that is the whole idea, to get people involved.

I have no magic answers; I am just a tax paying citizen like the rest of the community.

CHARLES CHILDS

1. I am absolutely against unification as there would be no advantage for the township, and we would completely lose our independence. We have had a very efficient, effective and responsive government whose main concern has always been to hold down costs with no sacrifice in quality. I don't see how unification could possibly be an improvement.

2. The township government has always encouraged citizen participation and has been very responsive to their wants. But, in addition, I would like to see a volunteer recreation committee which would be authorized to carry on a wide variety of programs. I would like to see an advisory committee of the various homeowner groups to get their thoughts and concerns on various problems. Other committees could be organized as problems arise.

3. The people will be given an opportunity to choose if the sewer should be expanded and bond issue approved; and they should have the right to decide. I believe it would be better to take one area at a time and solve problems where needed.

4. Providing open space and recreation are among the greatest things this township can do. Good progress has been made along these lines as witnessed by our comprehensive development plans, the township park, and the purchase of the golf course. Plans are being made to enlarge the golf course and improve the park. We should take full advantage of this area with active summer and winter programs, and invite the City of Plymouth to participate.

5. To serve. To try to make our Township a healthy, happy place to live. I have been fortunate enough to observe very closely the sincere dedication of our township government. Their first concern is the welfare of the people. I would try to carry on that tradition. I also feel very strongly that the east side of the Township should be represented on the Board.

BRIAN C. KIDSTON

1. Unification should not be delayed any longer. We have already lost too many opportunities to cooperate in our mutual development. Unification at this time would provide both governments with additional options to provide for recreation, public safety, senior citizen housing . . . perpetuation of this issue merely obstructs meaningful cooperation.

2. The first order of business of the Board of Trustees should be to improve communications between the citizens and the board. To lead them to think out and establish long term goals for this community. This objective could be accomplished by aggressively assisting in the organization of homeowners groups, asking for the support of service clubs . . . changing the image of the township government to a positive force for community development.

...answer LWV questions on issues

3. Opposition to sewer extension would be unfair to those residents who have supported other sewer bonds and now need sewers for health reasons. Further delay only means significantly higher costs when the sewer is constructed within two or three years. The township board has the power to control orderly growth through its planning and zoning authority.

4. Township government should, cooperating with other units of government, aggressively act to purchase recreational lands located within safe walking distance of all sections of the Township . . . cooperate to develop facilities such as pools, tennis courts, playing fields . . . establish a joint recreational authority to eliminate needless duplication and provide for more effective delivery of services.

5. I have become convinced that, while their intentions may be well meaning, the present board has been ineffective in using township government as a positive force to help our citizens improve the quality of their community life. Critical problems go unresolved . . . no sidewalks along dangerous highways, failure to provide police protection and juvenile officers to help potential youth delinquents . . . I have and can provide such positive leadership.

BARBARA LYNCH

1. Unification does not appear on the ballot this election; therefore, it cannot be considered an issue. It is inevitable that the city and the township will one day be one government. There are those who believe that we should consolidate immediately. However, we must remember that the residents of the township may not be able to afford the large increase in taxes they would have to bear should this occur at this time.

2. Citizen participation can best be stimulated through civic activities and encouragement in interested participation in subdivision civic associations. Formation of a Council of Civic Associations to work with the township in the role of a steering committee would certainly bring the people's views into more accurate focus at board meetings.

3. Sewers are necessary and this community needs and adequate sewer system. Any competent engineer looking at our hard-to-maintain eight-inch sanitary sewer system would recognize that these sewers have been built without adequate provision for their share of the cost of the larger sewers which they now make necessary.

Those now living in the township and in need of sewers should be provided with them. However to build sewers for the benefit of future subdividers is a mistake. The referendum on sewers that appears on the ballot will be decided by those who vote and not those running for office. Our township officials have the responsibility of ensuring that any future sewer development benefit the township as a whole rather than any particular developer for his specific project.

4. I believe the Township government should play whatever role the public desires in recreation programs and open space. Township government is a method devised by our forefathers to implement the will and desire of the people.

5. I strongly believe in the effectiveness of local government. This is the level where a citizen can voice an opinion or criticism and be heard. It is up to the people of this community to control its growth and plan for its future. Plymouth Township has been and still is an excellent place to raise a family. I want it to remain that way.

I have the ability and dedication to listen to the people so we make the right decisions. I have the knowledge of sewer and water systems, building codes, and zoning ordinances to prevent haphazard growth just to appease the developers and subdividers. With the experiences I've had, I believe I can fill the retiring Frank Millington's seat effectively.

GREGORY DEAN

1. From a logical standpoint, unification of township and city appears to promise benefits for both - and there are certainly many common interests - but this should be preceded by active cooperation of the two governmental units (such as in regard to the city recreational building, as well as the township park).

The current study of consolidation of services could be a step in the right direction if it is found that such consolidation would be workable and beneficial to the residents of both areas.

2. One of the most important characteristics of township government - as compared to municipal government - is supposed to be its responsiveness to the will of the citizens. The elected officials - meaning all members of the Board of Trustees - must continually demonstrate that they are actually responding to the will of the residents and that they are truly acting in their best interests - not just in the interest of specific groups.

When elected officials obviously pay little attention to the expressed will of the citizens - as in circumventing the 2:1 defeat of the sewer proposal of 1974 - the residents are made to believe that their views (and votes) are meaningless. Only true responsiveness on the part of the elected officials will encourage greater citizen participation in government.

3. There is no doubt that all sewers should be constructed by the land developers who will benefit from such construction, not at the cost of the present homeowners. (Construction of utilities can be done by governmental agencies when needed to encourage development - which is not the case in Plymouth Township at this time.)

Extension of sewers into undeveloped parts of the western township must be expected to result in a sharp increase in development. This would add greatly to the already excessive load on the school system, as well as to the need for additional services (police and fire protection, etc.). Obviously, construction of many more homes would also increase traffic, diminish open space, and - last but not least - increase taxes in all parts of the township.

In addition, Plymouth Township is already exceeding its contracted capacity in the Middle Rouge Interceptor, meaning that additional sewer construction will obligate all township residents for additional costs (taxes!).

4. The Township should plan for and provide open (recreational) space where desirable and practical - not concentrated in one corner of the township. Recreational programs, however, should be implemented by schools and other agencies concerned with - and qualified in - such matters.

5. I believe that, after many years of active involvement with township affairs (including directorship in the Community Improvement Association), my professional background and civic activities provide excellent qualifications for me to represent the homeowners and businessmen of the entire area (not just a special interest group).

GERALD LAW

1. Considering the current tax revolt, I feel that unification at this time may not be advantageous to the residents of Plymouth Township. The township organization provides the least expensive form of government. Unification with the City of Plymouth, while increasing services, would also increase property taxes.

If the citizens of Plymouth Township desire additional services they need only to vote additional millage to fund them. With the passage of House Bill 4030 in the Michigan Legislature, Plymouth Township can now avoid random annexation of its commercial and industrial property by the City of Plymouth by electing to become a charter township.

2. Greater citizen participation in township government will only be accomplished when Township officials become as responsive as possible to the citizens views. I would encourage a higher citizen interest level by giving ample advance notice of the major issues to be included on each month's agenda hoping to increase citizen participation at open meetings. I would solicit response from citizens through questionnaires or phone contacts and then try to be responsive to their views.

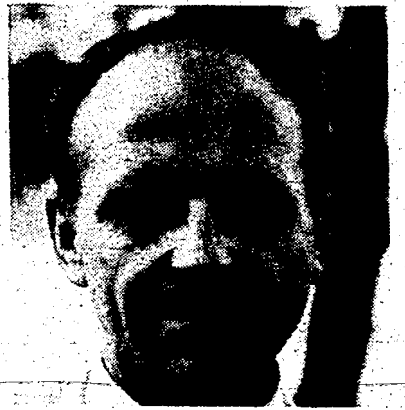

3. The sewer referendum is important for the following reasons. Firstly, it has stimulated citizen interest in the township's governmental affairs. Secondly, the outcome of the referendum will indicate to the Township Board the citizens feelings on future growth. Extension of the sewer system will undoubtedly promote rapid growth in the western part of the township. This portion of the township is in a relatively undeveloped state and extensive public facilities and services will be needed to accommodate new growth.

Rapid growth requires that expenditures of funds for public facilities and services take place at high levels over a short period of time. It is for these reasons, I feel that the Township should adhere to the views of the citizens on this issue.

4. The township government should initiate and provide recreation programs for township residents, but open space in new developments should be provided by land developers. Current recreation programs provided by the township are minimal and should be increased. The current operating budget, however, is not sufficient to provide a significant increase in recreation programs. New land developers should be required to provide open space that is both accessible and functional.

5. I have decided to run for Trustee of Plymouth Township because I believe I can make a positive contribution to the quality of life in our community. Plymouth Township as a governmental unit is facing some hard decisions about growth and industry which could materially affect the way we live in the years ahead. I believe I can represent my neighbors in the best way possible by deciding these and other questions.

RICHARD GORNICK

1. I am not in favor of unifying the two governments at this time. Many differences exist with respect to land utilization, role of citizen groups, and general philosophy. It makes sense to explore unifying certain services, however, which might result in an improved department functioning at a lower cost to both communities. Such an attempt can provide a test vehicle to examine further combinations that will benefit all citizens. A continued long term evaluation could lead to a further unification of all services including the governmental function.

2. I would encourage the formation of homeowner and other citizen advisory groups in all geographic areas of the township. We need a resurgence of the town hall participatory level of involvement; I would recommend that we hold some board meetings in schools and churches in an attempt to bring government even closer to the citizens. Citizen input should be sought on major issues perhaps through the mechanism of advisory public hearings. I would generally expand the concept of citizen input times at each board meeting.

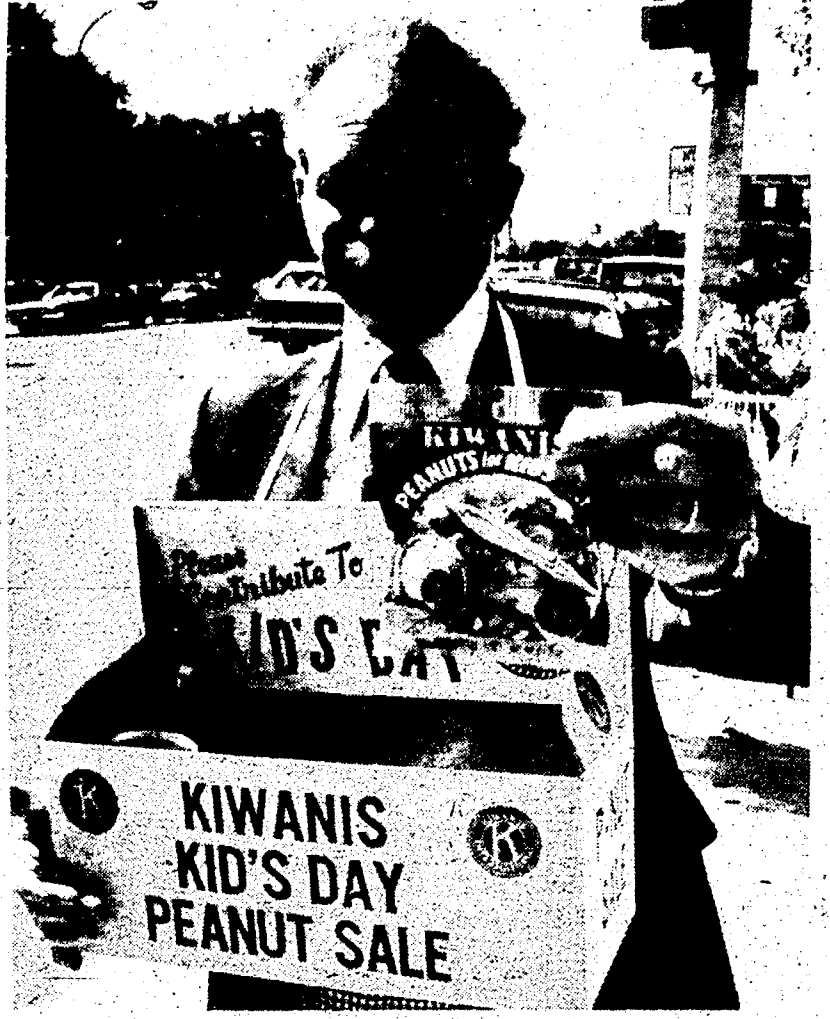

3. I am strongly in favor of extending sewers to any area of the township that has a demonstrated need. The health, safety, and welfare of our citizens is paramount in this regard. I do respect the intelligence of our electorate, and I do believe that any such long term debt obligation should be voted on by the

Slate voting hurts Canton

EDITOR:

Open letter to the residents of Canton Township --

I appeal to the residents of Canton Township to use the upcoming primary election to send a message to all present and future politicians -- we are fed up with political slates. We've been through the Dingeldey, Greenstein and Stein administrations with each being characterized by strict slate (party line) voting. In fact, I can't remember one time over the last two years when the Stein slate didn't

Trustee hits slate voting

EDITOR:

Two years ago, I ran for Canton Township Trustee primarily campaigning against "block voting" or slate control of the majority of the township board. Today, we have a different board, but the problems that result from slate voting are still very much with us.

I believed then, and still believe today, that candidates who run together, vote together. A comradeship and obligation develops between slate members which is reflected in their voting records. This has been proven twice.

If you believe independence, freedom of expression, and public discussion of the issues, are critical to good government, then make your voice known in the primary election on Aug. 8.

The results of that primary are crucial in determining what kind of board you will have for the next two years. Vote for those candidates representing different factions of the township and running independent campaigns!

C. LYNNE GOLDSMITH

Culbert: I was misquoted

EDITOR:

This is in response to a letter from Mrs. Janice Malos accusing me of saying "I am not responsible for my campaign workers." I'm not sure where you got the quote from, but only one of three papers bothered to quote me on the subject, and the one that did, did not quote properly.

What I did say was "I am not criminally responsible for the acts of persons who have done things without my knowledge or consent."

Mrs. Malos should be informed that all of my workers have been repeatedly instructed to perform no illegal acts during my campaign. As a matter of moral responsibility, I have personally taken down all bumper stickers of mine believed to be illegally posted.

There might still be some around, but when brought to my attention, they, too, will be removed. I wish I could say the same for the opposition.

vote as a block.

Can we afford the narrow-mindedness, tunnel-vision, rigidity, and ultra defensiveness which accompanies slate politics? Ever notice the reaction of a slate to a divergent point of view -- outrage! In a township with varied problems can we afford hearing only one point of view?

Canton homeowner likes builder's work

DEAR EDITOR:

With all the recent complaints levied against builders in the Canton area, we'd like to make a positive mention of our builder, Gervi Homes, Inc.

Everyone connected with the builder, from the salesman, to the Supervisor, to the Builder himself has been most helpful and professional in his dealings with us.

Some of the best governments in modern time have been coalitions made up of individuals with varying points of view. Can you remember a slate in recent times that has been receptive to the opinions of others? What we need are independent thinkers who will feel no obligation to vote the slate line.

The home was completed within six months, which in itself is rather a rare happening in Canton. The workmanship was actually better than we'd expected and every minor complaint was handled quickly and to our complete satisfaction.

We have lived in our new home for over six weeks and certainly are pleased! Thank you, Gervi Homes!

MR. & MRS. B. F. FOUST

Stein answers critics

Community opinions

EDITOR:

As I have stated many times before, I welcome diverse opinion and those ideas at variance with my own. And I have no qualms about discussing or debating issues.

I am disturbed then, that there have been several instances over the past several weeks when some candidates have chosen to malign me rather than truthfully confront the issues at hand. Their distorted tactics not only assault my personal integrity, but insult the intelligence of voters as well. Here are my stands:

Homeowner Problems -- While some have recently chosen to misuse the misfortune of others for their own political gain, the facts are that: Canton was the first community in the state to institute the Homeowners Warranty Program; this administration also instituted the Homeowners Protective Ordinance; we have also increased the size of the ordinance department and building department; I personally have held dozens of meetings with homeowners; personally gone out to inspect sites; called special meetings with builders; improved building complaint procedures; and made trips to Lansing to meet with the state licensing department and Representative Tom Brown. And let us note that during this administration, only three new subdivisions have been approved -- all others are carry-overs from previous administrations.

Fellows Creek Golf Course -- The golf course is not operating at taxpayers expense. While the average debt cost payment is $75,000 annually, we have a guaranteed lease of $100,000 annually -- a yearly income of at least $25,000. In addition, the township is entitled to 50 per cent of the revenues above $100,000, and projections by the leasee are that the township could realize up to an additional $36,000.

On 5/2/78, by unanimous vote with all present, the board agreed to participate by contract in 50 per cent of the cost of golf carts -- an inducement for increased business and hence revenue. That shared cost to Canton was $8,996 not $17,750 and again projections are that this cart rental revenue could gross the township another $7,500.

Budget -- The increased budget can be directly attributed to the increase in assessed valuations. The fact still remains that through efficient management, the township continues to operate in the black and not the red.

Growth & Developmental Rights -- I am firmly in favor of a growth management plan. Having initiated those studies which explore both the pros and cons of buying developmental rights and having supported the formation of an education committee to acquaint voters with the issue,

Let me say in closing that as Canton's supervisor I believe my conduct and decorum in office are a personal reflection of the basic decency of our community's people. I also believe this same moral standard applies to my candidacy for re-election -- a goal which I will continue to pursue on the basis on my record, my qualifications, and a forthright, honest presentation of the issues.

HAROLD STEIN
SUPERVISOR

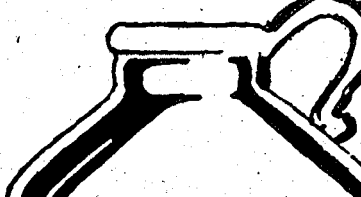

We need a board that has balance in its representation and concern for homeowners, farmers, renters and business persons. Slates are by design unbalanced and gain their support from usually one source. Consequently, the slate's votes reflect the concern for but one group of people.

I urge you to investigate the candidates' position on the many important issues facing the township, some of which include . . . sewer capacity, location of township services, fiscal management, and of course growth management! I also encourage you to make a determination about the degree of independence the candidate will be able to exercise if elected.

GOP candidates take stands

Donahue

Bros. subdivision, the recreation building and the remodeling of the present meeting hall as a court room.

"The golf course was bought at a higher price than its appraisal," said Donahue. "Also, the court room and the recreation department should be placed in the new township as originally planned."

Although he agreed with the need to attract industry to Canton, Donahue said he was opposed to the "give-away tax breaks" which he said have been proposed by Supervisor Harold Stein. "You don't have to give the cookie jar away," said Donahue.

He said money should be spent by the township as frugally as "we spend our paychecks. If any is left over after basic services, the township should create a next egg for emergencies. Then, if you still have money, return it to the taxpayers."

He would shift spending priorities to give more for fire protection and recreation programs. Also, the police department's manpower is almost a third of what it should be, he said.

"We should also look at paving more roads in Canton," said Donahue. "In particular, Warren Road between Carriage Hills and Windsor Park subdivisions.

Overall, Donahue strongly criticized the present administration's growth control policies. "With proper direction, I see Canton becoming a distinctive area, like West Bloomfield, for example," he said. "I don't want a repeat of Garden City and Westland. Nothing is being done to control the rate of growth and to plan growth."

Longridge

"Growth is good, but controlled growth is better."

According to John Longridge, Republican candidate for Supervisor of Canton, this philosophy would guide his plans for development in the township.

Longridge also said in a Community Crier interview that he would seek more industry for Canton and increase township recreation programs.

Also, to help homeowners with complaints against builders for alleged unfinished repairs, Longridge said he would limit building permits.

Longridge is running unopposed for the Republican nomination in the Aug. 8 primary. In November, he will face the winner of the Democratic fight between incumbent Harold Stein and Noel Culbert.

Asked if growth in Canton should be limited, Longridge said "limited" was a bad term. "Growth should be managed," he said. "I feel the people moved out to a rural community, so I wouldn't support any large subdivisions. But Canton has to develop.

"To improve the tax base, I would try to attract more industry for the industrial park on Joy Road," he said.

Longridge also supports more recreation programs for Canton. "Recreation is almost nil in the township," he said. "We could support our own baseball and hockey leagues for starters.

"We need a full-time recreation director now to do the job. Why is the township putting it off?" said Longridge.

Despite the need for more recreation programs, Longridge believes the township's purchase of Fellows Creek Golf Course was a mistake.

"I don't see how it can make money or even break even," he said. "The clubhouse will have to be rebuilt for it to start drawing enough people."

As it now stands, Longridge said he does not support the plan to purchase the development rights in the western half of the township.

With Canton's surplus, Longridge said he would buy street cleaners. "If the Wayne County Road Commission can't meet our needs, why can't we do it," he said.

Longridge criticized Stein for the delays in starting Canton's full-time police force. "After negotiating for six months, they gave what the officers wanted in the first place," he said.

Stein takes too many township matters to court, said Longridge. "I want to take the township out of the courtroom and give it back to the people," he said.

Longridge also said that he would let the people know what's going on in the township. "I would have better press relations. Stein has been curt with the press," he said.

citizenry. An educational campaign can be mounted to explain such a need. Our citizens will respond to such a situation. Conversely, I strongly oppose extending utilities to areas bounded by vacant land. Growth and development must be managed at a reasonable level; controlling utility extensions is the best way to accomplish this.

4. Plymouth Township has been a leader in promoting the concept of open space for residents. Many of our newer subdivisions have 10 per cent or more such area. We have both a golf course and recreation site. I am in favor of expanding our involvement into the program phase of recreation. We need a summer program for our youth, senior citizen activities, and general family programming. Leisure time is increasing, and governmental units need to provide alternatives for the public.

5. Local control of governmental functions is very basic to me. Township government is fundamentalist in terms of grass roots participation and involvement of the citizens. This is generally accomplished without the excessive bureaucracy found at other levels. I believe that our citizens need a strong voice and an advocate at the local level in order to exercise reasonable and prudent control over their destiny. The next five years are critical in Plymouth Township; we are at the point of determining the direction that the final development of the community will take.
