

Lynch outspends Twp. pols

BY CHAS CHILD &
W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Editor's note: This is the first part of a series on local candidates' campaign spending during the August primary. The second portion will appear next week.

As expected, Plymouth Township Trustee elect Barb Lynch easily outspent all other township candidates in the August primary election in Plymouth Township.

According to figures filed with the Wayne County Clerk's office, Lynch spent more both totally and per vote received than all other candidates.

The unofficial figures are as follows:

Mrs. Lynch's total receipts were $2,443.21 — all of her own money. She spent $2,341.17, or $2.76 for each of the 849 votes she received.

In second place for spending per vote received was Trustee Lee Fidge who unsuccessfully sought the clerk's position. She took in $926.50 and spent $722.62 plus $41.79 in kind — or $1.33 per vote for the 575 votes she received. Among the contributors listed by Mrs. Fidge were: Dan Ross, who contracts with the township to operate Hilltop Golf Course; Mrs. Fidge's husband, Tom; School Board Members Steve Harper, Joseph Gray and Dick Arlen (the latter is a city resident); Township Trustee Maurie Breen and his wife, Mary; and former trustee candidate Andy Pruner.

Esther Hulsing, who won the nomination for township clerk, was the third biggest spender on a per vote basis. She reported taking in $1,750.00 and spending $1,389.37, or $1.09 for each of the 1,272 votes she received. Among the contributors she listed were: U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell; Mr. and Mrs. Loren Gould of Salem Township; former city commissioner and Schoolcraft College Trustee Arch Vallier and his wife; township Treasurer Joseph West; and Plymouth-Canton School Superintendent John M. Hoben.

Stein launches write-in drive

BY PAT BARTOLD

Undaunted by a defeat in the August primary, Canton Supervisor Harold Stein has launched a write-in campaign for the supervisor's chair in November's general election.

Stein will face fellow Democrat Noel Culbert and Republican John Longridge on the ballot.

"I've started a lot of positive programs in the township and I want to see these programs continued. I'm not running for selfish reasons, but for the betterment of the township," said Stein, in announcing his candidacy Monday afternoon.

"People didn't have the facts in the primary. Only 3,100 people voted in Canton, I don't think it was representative," said Stein.

In the primary, Culbert received 1,663 votes to Stein's 1,077. Longridge garnered 547 votes.

Stein said he was not worried about boosting Republican John Longridge's chances of winning the seat by pulling votes away from Culbert.

He added that the United Democratic Club of Canton has voted to support a write-in candidate, but didn't know if the group would endorse his campaign.

Two years ago, Canton Supervisor Robert Greenstein, after a primary defeat, ran a write-in campaign in November but lost narrowly to Stein.

Fest ends a success

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

"It's all just a piece of history now."

That's how Carl Glass, manager of the 1978 Fall Festival, summed up the event which captured the town last weekend for the 23rd year.

"All in all, it went very well with no major problems," said Glass Monday.

Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford agreed with Glass's overall assessment of the Festival. "Things went better this year than in any of the seven years I've been here," he said.

Glass and Ford did not agree on the size of the crowds, however.

The Fall Festival manager said that, except for Saturday night, the crowds were smaller than they had been in previous years. He attributed this to the heat wave. Ford said the crowd seemed larger than ever before. "I feel we had more people there this year," he said.

Both the police chief and the festival manager claimed credit for the sunny skies which held out until the very last moment on Sunday. Although rain storms were drenching the areas surrounding the city Sunday afternoon, it didn't rain on the festival until just as things were winding down.

Ford and Glass praised the traffic flow effects of closing Union Street, which was done for the first time this year. "Closing Union took the traffic pressure off Ann Arbor Trail and Main streets," Ford said. The festival manager said the move made the park area much safer and that with the street closed off next year, he would like to move the produce tent down from the front of Central School to the triangle part of Kellogg Park.

All told, said Glass, the operation of the festival should produce a slight surplus. "We'll come out ahead, but not as

Bidders shoot for Twp. golf course

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER
Hilltop Golf Course, the nine-hole course owned by Plymouth Township, is up for grabs.

Not that the township is selling out, but the three-year contract to operate the course is expiring and Plymouth Township is seeking bids for a new contract.

Dan Ross, who has operated the course under an agreement with the township since 1975, will be bidding again for a new contract, he told The Crier.

But the details of a new contract with the township are yet to be worked out.

A recommendation to the township board from Trustee Frank Millington and Treasurer Joe West suggests several changes in the golf course lease.

Ross had not seen the proposed lease changes by Monday, he said. "But we'll bid on any proposal they have."

"That doesn't mean we won't take exception to the changes. Until I can see what they're talking about, I really can't say much more," Ross said.

Last night, the township board formally discussed the new contract. Plans call for bids on a new contract to be accepted until Oct. 2.

The major change proposed by Millington and West in the Hilltop lease involves revenues to the township.

A minimum bid of $35,000 or 28 per cent of gross, whichever is greater, has been suggested to the board.

Over the past four years, the most the township has received off the course operation in any one year is $12,000, according to West. In some years, when the course fared less well, it generated less return to the township.

Under the existing contract, which expires Oct. 31, Ross also made several improvements to the golf course in lieu of rent.

Now, however, most of the improvements have been completed - many of them by the township - and therefore the course should return more money to public coffers, said Millington.

The trustee cited the township's recent efforts at drilling two wells for sprinkling the course as an example. "Sprinkling the course should draw more people (to play golf)," Millington said, "so there should be more revenues." He also told the board that because the township owned the course, which competes with private courses in the area, "we're losing $16,000 in property taxes each year."

According to Ross, the golf course operation is just now beginning to break even.

Financial reports on the course's operation filed each year with the township show that in 1975 the course grossed $69,000, in 1976 it grossed $93,000, and in 1977 it grossed $111,544. Ross estimated the course's operation might produce between $115,000 and $125,000.

He said that a 1977 profit of $7,700 finally wiped out an accumulated loss of $5,500 from previous years.

The proposal for a new lease does not include any changes which might occur when the township completes the purchase of adjacent property with the idea of adding nine holes to the course. Millington said such an improvement, which would be paid for by the township like all major improvements on the course, could cost up to $250,000 and would take at least two seasons to complete.

Millington and West proposed that any changes in rates charged at the course must be approved by the township board, as the existing contract specifies.

When the township sought bids on the existing contract, Ross was the only bidder.

Millington said as many as four bidders might be interested this time.

Six police officers OK'd for Canton

Six new officers were added to the Canton Police Department last Tuesday.

The Board of Trustees voted unanimously to boost the number of patrolman by 60 per cent starting Oct. 1.

Funds for the extra police this year will come from the township's general fund surplus. The board at its previous meeting decided against raising this year's millage to support the extra manpower.

"It will probably be necessary to raise the millage next year, however," said Finance Director Mike Gorman. The board set the police levy at two mills for this year.

The Canton force has been relying on its reserves to beef up its patrols but this has become unfeasible "due to their job and family commitments," Mac Gregor wrote the board.

Chosen from the list of reserves, the names of the six new officers were scheduled to be presented to the board for its approval at last night's meeting. MacGregor said the officer would probably start around Oct. 1.

Ohio State invades the pits

The scarlet and gray had the maize and blue covered early Sunday morning - literally.

Each year, the Fall Festival barbecue pits are painted maize and blue - colors of the University of Michigan - after the cement blocks are set up Saturday morning for the Jaycee's beef rib dinner.

This year, following the Saturday barbecue cleanup, unknown Ohio State fans invaded the deserted area to spray paint the pits scarlet and gray - Ohio State's colors.

Do the Plymouth police have any leads on the ill-kept secret of who did it?

Not to worry, said Police Chief Timothy Ford of the "sophomoric" prank, the Ohio State fans will be punished enough at the University of Michigan game.

On a wing and a prayer Feathered fliers aim high

Fall Festival is over, but coming up is the fest's feathered look-alike - the Fowl Festival.

Featuring the world-famous and nationally televised chicken-flying contest, the Fowl Fest is scheduled for Oct. 1.

Chickens sponsored by individuals and businesses will compete for a grand prize of $200. Second place prize is $50, while this year a special third place prize has been added: an all expense-paid trip for two to Fowlerville. More than 150 feathered fliers are expected to enter, making it far from a poultry affair.

Last year, about 5,000 persons jammed Plymouth's downtown to watch the fowl spectacle and to dodge the frantic competitors as they left the starting roosts.

Last year "The Barnyard Bomber" flew from the coop to the nearby roof of a building on Main Street to claim the top prize.

Before the flying contest at Main and Ann Arbor Trail, contestants, their owners and trainers will parade through downtown on a different route than last year. The parade will start in the East Central lot behind the library, go down Church to Main, down Main past Penniman, around Kellogg Park on Ann Arbor Trail to Union Street and follow it back to the starting point.

The Fowl Festival will culminate in the Fowl Ball at the Mayflower Meeting House at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce, the fest has an entry fee of $35, which includes a chicken.

Here are the official contest rules:

1. All chickens must of the genus Gallus Domestica. (They must be in the beak of health... no foul fowl.)

2. Each entrant must be caged or held by its owner at all times - except when competing.

3. Each owner must provide a net and his own chicken catcher - be it himself or another party.

4. No electrical device or chemical stimulation may be used to induce the entrant to leave the perch.

5. If, after 30 seconds, the entrant has not left the perch of its own volition, it will be called a "chicken chicken" and the owner/trainer may gently nudge it with a suitable humane device (i.e., a bathroom plunger gently applied to the area of the tail feathers.)

6. After the chicken has flown, measurement from the base of the roost to the point where the chicken first touched the ground shall be made following a straight line between those points.

7. The chicken that flies the longest distance within the designated area shall be declared the winner.

8. In keeping with good sportsmanship, a trainer/owner who acts in an unsportsmanlike manner in the estimation of the judges shall be disqualified.

9. An entry fee is $35 must be paid by each applicant. (This fee includes a chicken.)

10. Applicants may enter their own pretrained chicken. However, they are still subject to the $35 entry fee.

For more information, call the chamber at 453-1540.

M-14 walkway covered

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

A protective screen will be erected to cover the potentially dangerous Robinwood walkway over M-14, Plymouth Township officials learned Friday afternoon.

The State Highway Commission gave the job a highpriority rating and said they would cover the overpass immediately, Plymouth Township Supervisor Thomas Notebaert informed Mary Grawe, an advocate of the screen.

Grawe was one of 633 area residents who signed a petition citing the potential danger to students who might fall into cars travelling below on M-14 while crossing the overpass to and from school.

The overpass also posed problems to motorists travelling underneath if an object fell or was thrown onto the expressway.

Many petition-signers have children attending nearby Farrant Elementary School or waiting at a bus-stop near the overpass to go to Central Middle School.

The petition was presented to the Plymouth Township Board of Commissioners at its meeting on Aug. 29.

Notebaert cited the potential hazards in a letter he sent to Warren Cox, district engineer for the department of state highways and transportation.

State Senator Robert Geake supported Notebaert's letter with a suggestion to construct a chain link tunnel along the left side of the overpass for school children.

Gunman strikes

A lone gunman escaped with $25 after holding up a Plymouth gas station Thursday morning.

According to police, the attendant at the Total Gas Station, 1066 N. Mill St., saw a man drive into the station about 10:30 a.m. Thursday and ask to use the toilet.

When the attendant returned from waiting on a customer he found the man inside the station looking in the pop cooler, police said. "Can I help you?" the attendant asked, whereupon the man pulled a blue steel revolver from his pants and replied, "Ya, sure," police reports said.

"Give me all your money," the bandit demanded.

Police said the attendant complied, handing over a wad of bills amounting to $25, and the bandit ordered him to stay still.

The culprit escaped in a white and yellowish orange 1973 Buick Electra, heading east on Wilcox, police said, adding that the suspect was about 26-28 years of age, six feet tall, with shoulder length, dirty brown hair and a stubble of beard.

4 mill approval sought

Residents to vote on land use rights

A request for four extra mills to buy development rights in the western half of Canton Township was expected to be placed on the November ballot by the Board of Trustees last night.

About 5,100 acres of open and farm land would be preserved in the $16,000,000 program.

Under the proposal, the township would buy the development rights of the land. The landowners would hold the title to their property but would be prohibited from developing it.

If approved, Canton would be the only township in Michigan using the purchase of development rights to preserve open land.

The township has completed three studies on the project, but its cost and legality are still in doubt.

Township Attorney Bert Burgoyne wrote the board that "the safest course would be to obtain new, explicit legislation from the state," considering that existing law may be inadequate to permit the program.

Bob Padget, chairman of the Canton Farmland Preservation Education Committee, has said that a court test from one of the landowners is virtually inevitable.

Whether $16,000,000 is enough to buy all the land is in doubt also. Although Canton's accountants, Seidman and Seidman, estimated the price, "in our experience, the costs of land acquisition for large public projects always run well over estimates," Burgoyne said.

The four-mill levy, planned for 20 years, will cost the taxpayer with a $50,000 house, $100 per year.

However, Seidman and Seidman estimated that within eight years, tax bills in the township would be lower since taxpayers would not have to pay for schools, utilities, police protection and other services that would have been necessary if the preserved area had been allowed to develop.

"The peak savings would be realized in the 10th through 12th years of the program when the required millage would be about five mills lower under the preservation program," according to an extensive question and answer booklet released last week by Padget's committee.

The booklet and a slide show on the proposed program are available through Township Planner Jim Kosteva, 397-1000.

Attic blazes

ALTHOUGH THE CAUSE of this Sunday evening fire at 647 Maple in Plymouth is still under investigation, lightning may have started the blaze which damaged the house's attic. Bystanders reported seeing lightning hit the roof. Other storm damage was reported in the Plymouth-Canton Community including: downed wires and trees, utility pole fires, and one home where the telephone and plaster was blown off the wall. The storm struck in areas around the City of Plymouth first and then hit the city just as the annual Fall Festival was drawing to a close. (Crier photo by Bill Brasler.)

Canton planners keep large house lots in west

A request to rezone a key parcel of land west of Canton Center Road to permit 70-foot lots was denied by the Canton Planning Commission Monday night.

Presently zoned to permit 100-foot lots (about one-half acre) the land is north of Saltz Road, west of Canton Center, and south of Ford.

"If we are ever to check growth, this is where we will have to do it," said Commissioner Joyce Willis. "Canton Center is a natural dividing line. If we open this land to sewer, it will be setting a dangerous precedent for growth in the western half of the township.

The denial was viewed by some as a trend-setter for saving open land in the western half of the township.

Willis, Frank McMurray, Richard Kirchgatter, Brian Schwall and Bart Berg voted to deny the rezoning, while Bob Padget, and Robert Schefferly voted not to deny.

Leon Zolkower, of the Republic Development Corp. which owns 50 acres of the parcel, said the rezoning would provide a buffer between the commercial area (Meijer Thrifty Acres) and the undeveloped area to the west.

Township Planner George Peek agreed with Zolkower that the rezoning was compatible with the township's land use plan, but recommended 80-foot lots instead of 70-foot.

"You're only considering the pocket books of the developers, not the people," said one resident of the area.

"The schools are already overcrowded," said another man who lived in the area of the proposed rezoning. "Do you want us to lower our educational standards to allow smaller lots?"

LWV to meet

The League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton, and Novi will hold a membership kick-off meeting Wednesday, Sept. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at Mead's Mill Elementary School, Six Mile at Bradner Road in Northville.

All aspects of the organization's activities will be explained by Kari Miller, President, and a slide presentation, "What's in us for You" will be shown to prospective members.

IRENE MURPHY

Top senior named

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

"I'm excited but sort of embarrassed," said Irene Murphy, who was named Senior Citizen of the Year from Canton Township.

The active, 65-year-old housewife and mother was also presented with a Merit Achievement Award from the State Fair for helping her fellow man.

Irene, who received notice of the awards in the mail last week, said she was very surprised. "My husband was elated," she said, "in fact, he already has both of the awards framed."

She admitted she hadn't told any of her friends about the awards "because it was embarrassing - but, I guess they'll know when they read the paper," she said.

Irene and her husband, Timothy are both constables in Canton. They moved here from Detroit six years ago, and live in the Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park.

Delores Edwards and Dale Hall, senior citizen co-ordinators in Canton, submitted Irene's name for the awards.

"She does anything and everything that has to be done," said Delores. "It's easy to call Irene, because you go to busy people to get the job done."

Before moving to Canton, Irene worked as a foster grandparent in hospitals and schools. With her warm, friendly smile, it's easy to see how she wins the friendship of both children and adults. Since living here she has signed up for the foster grandparent program, but spends most of her time working with senior citizens.

"We have accomplished a lot for the seniors," said Irene, "but there is still so much more that has to be done."

With her active involvement in the Canton Community, it's easy to see why Irene was chosen as the Senior Citizen of the Year from Canton Township.

Officials seek traffic jam solutions

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD
Too many buses, bikes, cars and students converge on Plymouth Centennial Educational Park at school opening and closing hours every day causing traffic jams. What can remedy the situation?

On Monday, various solutions were tried to ease the traffic headaches. First, an officer from Wayne County Sheriff's Department manually operated the traffic light at the intersection of Joy and Canton Center roads which allowed traffic to pass more smoothly.

Second, 14-20 buses were diverted to Canton High School to pick up and deliver students allowing buses more direct access to routes.

Third, student parking lot permits are getting harder to get. "We're trying to cut down on the number of students who drive, unless there's a need such as an after-school job," said Ken Jacobs, director of transportation at the park.

Fourth, a second entrance to the student parking lot was constructed at the soccer field to take some pressure off

Joy road and divert some traffic to Canton Center road.

"We hope that these measures will alleviate the problem temporarily, but we're looking for some long-range solutions," said Tom Yack, president of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Solutions will be investigated at future meetings with the Wayne County Road Commission and proposals include: establishing a four-way stop at Joy and McClumpha roads, expanding the number of lanes on Canton Center Road, and establishing parking lots off-campus.

Critical congestion times are 6:45 - 7:30 a.m. and 2:05 - 2:35 p.m.

Board denies contract violations

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education denied Monday night it had broken its contract with teachers covering shortened school hours and lunch periods.

The dispute will be settled by binding arbitration, starting Tuesday, Sept. 26 or Wednesday, Sept. 27, said Tom Yack, president of the board. The ruling was 5-0 against the teachers with members Steve Harper and Joseph Gray absent.

The Plymouth-Canton Education Association also charged the board with other violations including: changing planning time assignments of elementary school teachers, assigning excessive classes to elementary art, music, and physical education teachers, and the involuntary transfer of teachers.

Opening and closing times and lunch hours are part of a program that must be flexible in order to meet all the demands of the system, according to Norm Kee, assistant supt. for employee relations. These items do not need to be negotiated, according to Kee.

Tax man strikes

Even the Fall Festival can't avoid the tax man. For the first time, this year's Fall Festival felt the sting from the State of Michigan. Representatives from the state Treasury Department's sales tax division contacted groups participating the festival to file sales tax information.

According to Fall Festival Manager Carl Glass, most of the groups absorbed the four per cent tax rather than charge extra.

Stewart signs up for hypnosis training

BY CHAS CHILD
Hypnosis training for Det. Sgt. Larry Stewart was approved by the Canton Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

At a cost of $700, Stewart will attend a seminar in Atlanta, Ga., to learn how to search unconsciousness's of witnesses for clues to crimes. It will not be used for criminal suspects, Stewart said.

"Are we getting ahead of ourself?" asked Treasurer Anne Bradley referring to Canton's use of the modern police technique.

"I don't like to stand back and be a follower," said

Chief Walter MacGregor. "It's a new field in police work, but the State Police have it and what's good enough for the State Police is good enough for MacGregor."

Asked by Trustee Lynne Goldsmith if Canton could use the State Police hypnotist, MacGregor said that it was possible, "but you wear out your welcome."

Goldsmith was the only "no" on the vote to send Stewart to the seminar. Harold Stein, Anne Bradley, Eugene Daley, Brian Schwall and John Flodin all voted "yes". Bob Myers was absent.

Fall Festival: It's the people

EDITOR:

Another year, another Fall Festival but why is it every year they seem to always be better than the one before?

The place is the same, the booths are the same, the same service clubs are involved and the food is always the same - great!!

Then what makes it better? Its the people!

Its the community, its our city, its our park, its showing off by sharing what we have - pride in knowing this is our town and once a year we open it up for all to enjoy - and enjoy they do.

Little do most know what it takes by a few on the Fall Festival Committee to do the planning, the Fall Festival Manager to make it happen, and all those who work long and hard to provide the material, food, games and you name it to make this once-a-year happening the success it is.

The "Plymouth Pride" shows wherever you look or whoever you talk with.

I for one am proud to know that I am part of this community and am involved. A Big Thank You Fall Festival.

Helicopters, hypnosis; Stein's write-in in Canton

Child's play

By
Chas
Child

The Canton Police Department has come along way from its "vigilante" days three years ago, but it took a small step backwards last week.

The department asked and received permission from the Board of Trustees to send its detective sergeant to a seminar to learn hypnosis.

Aimed at looking into the unconsciousness of witnesses, the technique brings back details of crimes which were forgotten.

There's no doubt the technique is effective, but a small and understaffed force like Canton's should not be exploring the frontier of police methods. The State Police, with thousands of troopers, has one officer trained in hypnosis.

There is simply not enough major crime in Canton to justify the technique. Like Supervisor Harold Stein's helicopter scheme, hypnosis training is too much, too early for a township struggling with a high growth rate, and considerable political upheaval.

They say the difference between men and boys is the price of their toys. Helicopters and hypnosis are expensive toys.

Jerry's kids benefit from generous kids

I'd like to take this opportunity to personally thank all the people who reside on Porterridge Lane in Canton who donated their money to help "Jerry's Kids" fight against muscular dystrophy.

They should feel proud to be able to help the many unfortunate children and adults, as well, who are stricken with this dreadful disease.

Thank you again. You're all terrific.

Congrats, Cloverdalers

EDITOR:

I would like to make it known that the 3:30 to 11 p.m. Cloverdale Kids are very generous.

For "Jerry's Kids" they all got together and donated $5 apiece calling in a grand total of $70!

It was a very touching and unselfish thing for them to do and I think they all deserve a round of applause.

Education needed for farm vote

Whether Canton will be wall-to-wall subdivisions or whether it will retain some of its rural character will be up to the voters in November.

The Board of Trustees were expected to place on the ballot a request to levy four mills to buy development rights of about 5,000 acres in the western half of the township.

To make an intelligent decision on the question will not be an easy task for the township's voters. The program will affect Canton's taxes, schools, its future development and more.

We urge citizens, therefore, to read the excellent question and answer booklet prepared by Canton's Farmland Preservation Education Committee.

Virtually every aspect of the program is explained in the thorough and readable booklet.

It is available at Township Hall, as is a slide show prepared by the committee. Any club or neighborhood group wishing to see the slide presentation should call James Kosteva, township planner, at 397-1000.

City Commission approves paving of central lot

Repaving of Plymouth's Central Parking Lot were approved by City Commission last Tuesday night.

However, the commissioners couldn't agree to change the angle of parking. The stripes in the parking lot could be repainted to 90-degree angle parking which would allow an additional 45 spaces in the lot.

Jim McKeon of Plymouth said most drivers didn't stay between the lines in 90-degree angle parking lots, and he showed photos of improperly-parked cars. He said this type of parking was inefficient.

Commissioner Mary Childs said the business community was unaware of the change to 90-degree angle parking, and suggested meeting with merchants whose patrons park in the central lot to discuss the angle of parking before the stripes are painted.

The repaving contract was awarded to the Cunningham-Gooding for $49,705.

Canton Rec supervisor hired

Mike Gouin of Westland was hired by the Board of Trustees last Tuesday as Canton's Superintendent of Recreation.

Presently Westland's assistant superintendent, Gouin will receive $21,120, which is higher than what was advertised by the township.

"The salary was set between $14,000 and $18,000 when we advertised and I don't think we should raise it now before he's started working," said Treasurer Anne Bradley.

Supervisor Harold Stein said that Gouin was by far the best person for the job and it was necessary to offer him more money to lure him away from Westland.

"I know his boss very well, and he has done a super job," said Stein.

"It's realistic in the business world to apply for a job and then try to sell yourself and talk up the salary," said a member of the audience, Gary Roberts of Canton.

Gouin will take over the recreation duties in about two weeks from Acting Director Bob Suggs. In Westland, Gouin earned $22,000, according to Stein.

The new superintendent is a member of the World Champion Detroit Caesars professional softball team.

Schoolcraft auditions

Schoolcraft College will hold auditions for its jazz ensemble on Sept. 18 and 25.

Anna Krumm celebrates 90th

Anna Krumm, a long-time Plymouth resident, celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday.

Born in Germany in 1888, Anna came to Detroit when she was a child. She married Bert Krumm in 1908 and they moved to Plymouth in 1932.

Most of her family joined her Sunday at her home on Ann Street, for the birthday party. Helping their mother celebrate were: daughters Ione Gow and Marion Robertson of Plymouth and Gladys McBride of Westbranch, and her son, Gerald Krumm of Plymouth. Other party guests included her eight grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and her sister, Ema Dumka from Detroit.

Mrs. Krumm has been active in many Plymouth organizations and is a member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Manor clean up promised

Measures to upgrade the appearance, living conditions and clientele of the Manor Rooming House were presented to the Plymouth City Commission by owner Richard G. Kirchhoff at last Tuesday night's meeting.

"I am aware there is a neighborhood problem," said Kirchhoff, in responding to recent allegations of rowdiness, indecency, and drunken tenants living at the house. The problem was discussed at the Aug. 21 commission meeting after neighbors' complaints.

More than $11,000 will be spent to refurbish the house -- including paving the parking lot, screening the porch, and installing locking doors

Dutch visitor sees U.S.A. by Greyhound

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN
What's the best way to see our country for little money, and have a good time doing it? Graham Matthew, from Holland, saw more of the United States in one month than most Americans ever see -- by Greyhound.

Graham and his family (mother, father, brother and sister) were in Plymouth this summer visiting his Godmother, Lynne Lyons of Plymouth Township. They flew here from London eight weeks ago. After spending the first three weeks traveling with his family through Niagra Falls, New York and Montreal, Graham took off and traveled by himself for a month.

In Europe it's not uncommon for young people to travel by train or bus by themselves, he said. He purchased a Greyhound Bus pass that is good for traveling anywhere Greyhound goes, for one month. He said "You meet a lot of weird people in bus terminals," but said he wasn't concerned about being alone. "If someone comes up to you and offers you drugs, all you have to say is 'no thank you' and they leave you alone." He added that there were always police around, especially in the rough areas.

He left Plymouth, Aug. 5 for San Francisco. After 58 hours (three nights) of traveling on the bus, and a stop in Salt Lake City, he finally arrived. The Golden Gate was covered with mist, but he said he really enjoyed Fisherman's Wharf.

"While traveling, I met many people, but very few were Americans," he said. Most Americans traveled by car, while in Europe most prefer trains, he said.

Graham traveled on to Vancouver, where he spent a week with some friends. They showed him the logging camps and paper mills. From there he went down to Newport Beach (south of Los Angeles), and stayed with friends of friends.

"I had never met these people before, and they were very friendly and nice to me," he said. They took him to a baseball game, where he saw the Angels beat the Yankees. They also went to Disneyland, Universal Studios and the beach.

The most expensive part of the trip was Las Vegas said Graham. "There was a convention there and all the inexpensive rooms were taken." He said it was fun staying up until two in the morning, watching everyone lose their money.

"The Grand Canyon is a great place, I want to go back and spend more time there," he said. He added that he spent one day just walking along the edge. He met lots of English people there and traveled with one when they went through the Black Hills in Rapid City, South Dakota.

While in the Black Hills they went through the reptile gardens, explored the crystal caves and went on to see Mount Rushmore, before returning to Plymouth on Sept. 1.

He said he spent about $10 a day, and most of that went toward food and postcards. He said he could have cut the cost down almost in half, "but I ate very well. I didn't like the bus food and I tried not to eat any hamburgers." He paid $225 for the bus pass, but said the secret was spending most nights on the bus or with friends. He only stayed in a hotel three nights, in Las Vegas, Flagstaff and San Francisco.

"It was a great trip, and I could have spent my entire holiday in each place I went and enjoyed it just as much," said Graham.

He is already planning his next trip over here, but for now his thoughts are at Loughborough University in England where he is starting a three year course for a Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering.

New Canton hall: open for business

Canton Township moved into its new Township Hall last week with plenty of room to spare.

On 65 acres at the corner of Canton Center and Proctor roads, the new hall was built mostly with federal funds — $4,715,300 — and some township money — $60,000.

Although some departments filled their allocated space with desks, the whole third floor is vacant, and the basement storage area is practically empty.

A township library would have occupied the third floor, but voters defeated a one-mill request to finance it in the August primary.

Among the special features of the hall are: a sophisticated $40,000 phone system, an emergency room stock with supplies, a night deposit box for after-hour payments, four conference rooms, and a main meeting room with seats for 175 persons.

Township officials moved Thursday and Friday, and opened Monday for business, but they don't expect to be fully settled until about a month.

Crowds pack Fall Festival

far ahead as last year," he said.

That financial assessment applied only to the non-profit Festival itself, although many of the groups participating in the festival reported doing well.

The Kiwanis Club sold

1,600 spaghetti dinners, the Lions Club sold 3,100 fish dinners and the Jaycees sold 2,800 beef rib dinners, according to festival figures.

More than 15,000 chicken dinners were sold by the Rotary Club on Sunday. The drive-in location sold 4,000 of the dinners.

Artisans at the Arts and Crafts Show reported doing well although some felt crowds were down slightly this year.

Groups manning booths also said they did well. One high school class sold $1,800 worth of pizza.

There were, however, a few problems encountered at the Festival again this year.

The bees were out in force, once again, although they seemed more interested in the baklava than in the festival goers. The City of Plymouth Fire Department reports treating few cases of bee stings.

Police reported one auto accident at Union and Arbor Trail Saturday when a man allegedly fell asleep while driving. No one was injured.

The usual "number of rescue runs were made by the fire department. Among them were runs for a man who cut himself on a fence surrounding a kiddie ride and for a girl who was participating in one of the band shows and apparently passed out from the heat.

Glass reported some difficulties with businesses near the festival holding unauthorized events and politicians distributing literature at the festival, but otherwise there were no significant problems, he said.

City saves marker

The historic Plymouth Toll Gate marker has been saved.

The Plymouth City Commission approved a recommendation to relocate the marker in the vicinity of the old City Hall bell now located on museum land.

The rock, currently located at the corner of Mill and Main streets, is in the path of a proposed right-turn lane. The actual moving and relocation base will be done by Mike Allen at no cost to the city, according to Harold Guenther.

The rock marks the site of toll gate No. 4 on the old plank road from Plymouth to Ann Arbor that was operational from 1851 through 1872.

Pols' finances revealed

Trustee elect Gerald Law reported that he took in $775 and spent $755.24, or $1 per each of the 756 votes he received. Nearly all of Law's contributors were from Livonia, including: State Rep. Robert Law and other family members. Prancer also contributed to Law's campaign. All candidates in the Plymouth Township primary were Republicans.

The other Plymouth Township candidates not listed above reported spending less than $500 each and therefore are not required by law to reveal financial details of their campaign.

ROBERT SCHAEZTL

tell it to

The street blockades have been removed, the bees have sought refuge elsewhere and another successful Fall Festival has come to a close. Even the rain tried to hold off and didn't dampen festival spirit.

A special thanks to the Rotary clean-up crew from one who is allergic to bees. I shared half of my chicken with a friendly little bee, but when he was full he flew away, and didn't bring all of his sisters, brothers, aunts and uncles back to bother me.

Many exciting things happened before, during, and after the Fall Festival. Three Crier staff members had a great time Tuesday evening when Woody Lynch flew them to Mason with the final pages of The Crier's Fall Festival edition.

Flying in a small plane is much smoother than I ever imagined.

Flying to Mt. Pleasant for dinner while waiting for the paper, then seeing the skyline of Detroit at night was fantastic. Thanks Woody, we had a great time.

Homeowners feature lecturer

Video tapes by a popular college lecturer will be a feature of the fall general meeting of the Lake Pointe Homeowners' Association at 8 p.m. Wednesday on Sept. 13 in Farrand Elementary School.

Titled "What You Are Today is What You Were When" Dr. Morris Massey explores the values of today and explains how they were formed early in life according to the environment in which individuals lived at the time.

The meeting will be the first general meeting of the Lake Pointe Homeowner's group, which was reactivated earlier this summer.

"We have some important business to discuss and we're hoping for a large turnout," said Nancy Grawe, acting president of the Association. Grawe said the association will elect a permanent Board of Directors.

Will local students be bused to Livonia?

The possibility of leasing or purchasing unused school buildings in the Livonia school district will be discussed at the next Plymouth-Canton Board of Education workshop on Monday, Sept. 18. Leasing other facilities is one alternative to dealing with the growth in student population in the Plymouth-Canton schools. Legal aspects of crossing district lines must be explored fully before such a transaction can be made, said Supt. Mike Hoben.

DEBT-FREE HOUSE
 Mr. Homeowner, does it make sense to strive for a paid-up mortgage as soon as possible? The so-called experts are divided down the middle on this question. So we'll cover the paid-up mortgage advocates today:
 One of the prime motivations for buying homes is the view toward retirement. During that period, Social Security can, at best, act only as a supplement to living expenses. It will not pay for mortgage payments also. A paid-up mortgage in the latter, less affluent years of life can give a family a great sense of security and well being.
 On the strictly financial side, the larger the down payment, the more you will save on interest costs and the lower your monthly mortgage payments will be, leaving more cash for savings and other living expenses. Also, the more you have invested in your house, the more you can take out when you eventually sell.

Chiefs blast Bentley in opener, 12-0

BY PATTY RADZIK

The Canton football team made history Friday night. Not only did they win their first season opener ever, they ended their nine-game losing streak.

The 12-0 victory was achieved at the expense of the Bentley Bulldogs, who had nine of their regular players sitting out because of injuries.

Last year, Bentley dominated the season's opener scoring 20 points in the first half, and eventually winning with no seconds left on the clock. A real heartbreaker.

This year it was a totally different story. It was Canton who scored first. It was Canton who dominated. It was Canton who won.

The start of Friday's clash was marred by fumbles by both teams the very first time each possessed the ball.

Unlike Canton, Bentley's confidence was shaken, however, resulting in two penalties totaling 10 yards.

The Chiefs capitalized on Bentley's mistakes, and demolished the Bulldogs' defense.

The attack started on Canton's own 25-yard line, when Darryl Goldsmith ran a punt return back from the 15. Rusty Mandle then ran 12 yards on two plays to pick up the initial first down of the game.

With the ball on the 37-yard line, Steve Gray carried the Chiefs into Bulldog territory with a 12 yard carry. On a third and five situation, Quarterback Scott Dawson completed his first pass of the season, hitting Steve Gray for a nine-yard gain and another first down.

The Chiefs picked up another first down two plays later when Bob Hamblin ran 25 yards for the gain. That put Canton on the 19, and then Dawson moved them up another five by running out the option.

Four plays later on the six, Bentley committed an incroachment penalty which made it third and goal for the Chiefs. With just six seconds left in the first quarter, Dawson chose the option and scored. The extra point was missed, and at the end of the quarter, Canton was ahead, 6-0.

In the second quarter, the Bulldog offense was stopped cold by Canton's tough defensive unit. They kept the ball for only two minutes until they were forced to punt.

Canton's offense took advantage of the situation and opened the door to another touchdown.

Mandle scored this time, on a short three-yard advance into the end zone with 5:24 left on the clock. Mandle was a key figure in setting up the touchdown by carrying the ball for 25 yards and picking up three first downs when they were needed. The extra point attempt was again missed and Canton had the lead 12-0.

After failing in three previous attempts to move the ball, they finally caught on.

The Bulldogs advanced to Canton's 38-yard line in just three minutes, with a crucial nine-yard run for a first down by Greg Peirson. However, on the 38-yard line of Canton, Bentley was penalized for the third time, and it put Bentley in a first and 11 situation. They couldn't move and were forced to kick the ball away.

While Bentley's band saluted Elvis Presley, Canton Coach Dave Schuele was saluting his players in the locker room... perhaps a bit too much.

Canton had the ball at the start of the third quarter but could not move. They fumbled the ball, but luckily Jay McKinley pounded upon it, but not before it rolled back another five yards. Then Mandle was crushed by Bentley's defense, and lost another five yards. On third and 27, Dawson passed to Mandle, but fell short of the first down.

Canton punted but Bentley flubbed it up, again. Quarterback Cabrera and the tailback Cox got mixed up on a play and the ball wound up on the ground seven yards back. Once again their charge dematerialized.

Bentley got a break later in the third quarter when Canton was called for roughing the kicker. But as before, nothing became of it. Two passes were incomplete, and they gained only 8 yards in 4 plays.

At the start of the last quarter, Chief Craig. Kearns sacked Bentley's quarterback, and pushed him back 26 yards. Canton took possession of the ball and got it to their 48. But with 8:47 in the game, Scott Gray fumbled and Bentley grabbed the ball for the last time.

36 Chiefs were yelling and screaming. Someone in the crowd yelled out, "You guys look like you haven't won in a long time."

Schuele was estatic: "It feels pretty damn good. We showed a lot of heart out there. They put it to us, but we really buckled down. I'm proud of them."

Canton gained 232 yards offensively, compared to Bentley's 89. Quarterback Scott Dawson completed all seven passes he threw, opposed to four of nine from Bentley's Cabrera. Canton made 12 first downs while the Bulldogs made only three. Canton did out-fumble Bentley four to one.

The Chiefs' next game will be this Friday, Sept. 15 at home against Annapolis. Game time is 8 p.m.

WHILE CANTON was ending a nine game losing streak against Bentley, quarterback Rich Hewlett (No. 2) was directing Salem to a

28-19 home victory over Franklin on Friday night. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Salem grididders gallop past Pats

BY ERIC OLSON

Two out of three quarters isn't bad.

In fact, it was good enough to carry Salem to a 28-19 victory over the Franklin Patriots Friday in the Rocks first game of the year at home.

Salem dominated play for two quarters, was outplayed in one, and played to a draw in another. The Rocks outscored Franklin 14-0 in the second quarter and 7-0 in the third to hold off a 12 point rally by Franklin in the last stanza. The first quarter ended 7-7.

Leading throughout the game Salem was on top at one point 28-7 late in the fourth. Two unusual scoring plays by Franklin with less than three minutes left in the game made the score close.

Head Coach Tom Moshimer was, needless to say, pleased with the win.

"I was very much pleased with it (the win) because we had the right attitude. It is really important that you start the season with a win and the right attitude," said Moshimer.

"I was also pleased that we were able to beat a good team like Franklin. You know I can't remember when they (Franklin) didn't have a winning team," added Moshimer.

Salem got on the scoreboard first with 5:19 remaining in the first quarter on a 17 yard gallop by halfback Craig Stack. That was the first offensive drive the Rocks could put together against Franklin as it covered 68 yards in 12 plays. Rich Hanschu converted the extra point to make it 7-0.

It set the tone for the game as both teams used the ball control ground game. It was the running of Stack and the ball handling of quarterback Rich Hewlett that made the Rocks roll. For the night Stack had 136 yards and two touchdowns.

Hewlett did not start at quarterback but rather at halfback as Paul Dillon started as the signal caller. As Moshimer said, "It gave Franklin something to think about."

After receiving the kickoff Franklin had a 61-yard scoring drive that ended the quarter.

The big play was a 44-yard pass from Don Boka to split-end Joe Fulkerson which went to the Salem four yard line. On the next play fullback Jerry Cifor broke up the middle for the score and the kick was good.

The second quarter was all Salem as Stack scored on a 12-yard jaunt and Hewlett on a two yard dive. Hewlett's tally was set up by a 34-yard sprint by fullback Kris Kappler.

A late first half dive by Franklin was thwarted by an aroused Rock defense. The Patriots had a first and 10 on the Salem 33 and then the Salem defensive line stiffened as three running plays netted just two yards and a fourth down pass fell incomplete.

The third quarter was a battle of field position which Salem won. A good punt by Salem put the Patriots inside their own 10 and Franklin, unable to move the ball, had to punt.

Salem took over at the 30 of Franklin and pushed the ball into the end zone on the ground. Kappler slammed in from the two yard line for his second TD of the game.

Hanschu converted the point after touchdown again which made him 4 for 4 on the evening in that department.

Franklin started driving late in the contest on the passing of Boka and the receiving of flanker Tony Manzo with the long play being a 34-yard catch and run by Manzo to the Rock two yard line. Manzo appeared to be stopped for a short gain by a gang of Salem tacklers in the play, but he broke free and raced for almost thirty more yards.

Two plays later Boka took it in for six points to make the score 28-13 with 2:53 left in the game. The two-point conversion try failed as Bob Millard intercepted a Boka pass.

Tankers build endurance

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Swimming 5,200 to 6,000 lengths per day to build endurance and working out on the weight machine to develop strength, the Canton Girls Swim Team is getting ready to compete against some tough teams.

"The Eastern Six is a small league, but has some of the toughest competition around," said Coach Anne Massey launching into her fifth year as coach.

Building from a 0-6 record her first year of coaching to a 8-5 record last year, Massey hopes to pull a third place in the league this year.

"Northville and Farmington are tough teams and they will be hard to beat," she said.

The team will rely heavily on the experience and ability of Kim Massey, Cindy Shelanskey, Lisa Forsythe, and Mary Reardon, who have swam in AAU competition for four or five years. Both Shelanskey and Massey qualified for state competition last year—Shelanskey in the 100 backstroke, and Massey in the 500 free-style.

Jamie Zuyerink, Chris Wennerberg, Debbie Dickinson, and Missy McMurray will dive for the team this year.

"Swimming is a personal challenge and a personal achievement," said Coach Massey. "I build up their endurance, prod them into swimming harder and encourage them," she said. She wants to work with freshmen on stroke analysis and the structure of strokes to help develop the team for future years' performance.

Other swimmers on the team are: Robbie Bennett, Cathy Bennett, Pam Chelian, Bronwyn Fitzgerald, Diane Justice, Susan Knight, Karen Mullen, Jenny North, Lisa Orr, Janet Powell, Julie Stratton, Ann Bremer, Donna St. Pierre, Shelly Rinald, and Manager Melissa Burchard.

The team is preparing for their first inter-squad meet on Tuesday, Sept. 12, and their first meet on Tuesday, Sept. 19 against Redford Union.

An onside kick by Franklin failed and Salem had the ball in good field position. But on that first series of plays Rock quarterback Jim Anderson fumbled trying to pitch the ball and defensive tackle Tim Przysiecki scooped it up and rambled 62 yards for a touchdown.

The conversion attempt was stopped again, this time by an interception by David Mac Kenzie. Franklin attempted an outside kick but Salem fell on it and ran out the clock.

Salem's next game is Saturday Sept. 16 at home against Dearborn. Dearborn opened the season with a 15-0 win over Southgate.

Moshimer describes Dearborn as a big strong team and that Salem must use its quickness against them.

Last year Salem defeated Dearborn 21-14.

Oasis softballers 2nd in tourney

BY CHAS CHILD

Led by many Canton and Salem High players, the Oasis Golf Center softball team finished second in the Class D state tournament last weekend.

Jan Boyd, a Salem senior, pitched all six games of the tourney and added some timely hits as well. She also led the list of five Plymouthites who were named to the tourney all star team.

Besides Boyd, the all stars were Val Harben, Denise Cifaldi, Cindy Cindrich, and Vicky Cavallaro. The other

Canton or Salem girls on Oasis are Sue Lindsay, Pam Schipani and Sue McDowell.

Oasis started the tourney with a 4-3 victory over Midland Fence in eight innings. Boyd thrashed Abbie's Angels then Eaton Rapids, 20-2, in a five-inning mercy rule decision.

Village car Wash/Pub of Bay City, the eventual winner proceeded blanked Oasis 4-0, but the golfers bounced back to whip Schau Powell of Kalamazoo 7-0. McDowell, Cindrich and Boyd each collected two hits in the contest.

The win took Oasis into the preliminary finals where they downed Village Car Wash/Pub, 12-6, to force another game. Cavallaro slapped four hits in the game including a grand slam in the second inning. She also racked up seven RBIs.

In the finals, Oasis was leading 3-2 going into the sixth inning, but the car washers erupted for four runs in the inning for the margin of victory.

Cindrich blasted a homer in the seventh to make the final score 6-4.

The loss put Oasis's final record at 21-10-1 - an excellent finish considering this was the team's first year of competition.

Linda DeWitt, the team's coach, said there is a chance that Oasis may move up into Class C next year. Class D is for first-year teams.

Football is here...

...try high school game

BY ERIC OLSON

Well, it has started - another football season and there's no end in sight. At least, for the next three months.

On Friday there are high school games, on Saturdays college, and on Sundays there are CBS and NBC pro football double-headers. And, of course, there is the frustration of the Lions to watch and Howard, Frank, and Don on Mondays.

All that football makes for a four-day week of pigskins flying. It is a part-time job just to keep on top of it all. Therefore many football fans overlook the high school game. I think this is a mistake.

High school football can be just as exciting as the pro or college game. Take Friday's Salem-Franklin game for example. It had a good balance between offense and defense: there were many long open field runs, some good open field tackling, a couple of long passing plays, and a 60-yard touchdown run after a recovered fumble.

One thing in the high school game that does not measure up is the kicking, but even though it is an important part of the game I don't think it is very exciting.

Perhaps the foremost reason to go to a high school game is the price of the ticket which is usually around two bucks. A far cry from the $8 for most college games and the $10 for Lion games.

Another plus for the high school game is the seat you get for your money. It is easy to get 50-yard line seats, whereas, in college and pro games you are many times in the corner of the endzone. Also there is enough room to stretch out without bumping into the guy next to you.

The players put out an honest effort and they hustle all the time. For many of the players these are the only games they will ever play in and they will be done playing who football after their senior year. For the players who are fortunate enough to go on to college this may be the last time they can play the game for fun.

So if you call yourself a football fan then I hope you will take in a couple Salem and Canton games this year.
