Schools seek renewal of 6.5 mills

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

District voters will go to the polls to approve or deny a 6.5 mill renewal request by the Plymouth-Canton schools on Thursday, Jan. 18.

Fourteen polls throughout the district will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The six-year renewal bid will allow school officials to plan ahead for the 1979-80 school year, said Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business. Furthermore, the bid represents about 13 per cent of the school operating budget, he said.

The 6.5-mill renewal proposal is going before voters in January because it expired at the end of 1978, said Florence Beier, administrative assistant for community relations.

According to a district-wide letter mailed to parents, the proposal does not represent an increase in operating expenses although the word "increase" appears on the ballot.

The word "increase" appears because the renewal represents expired funds, said Beier.

Board of Education President Tom Yack said, "The results of the millage election will help in terms of planning." Furthermore, he said school officials must also know the affects of the Headlee Amendment, the formula for state aid, and student population trends in order to plan ahead more securely.

Supt. Mike Hoben said, "It is absolutely essential to have the 6.5 mills to keep any semblance of the program we have been able to offer this community."

"We're optimistic the citizens will continue to provide that level of support," said Hoben.

Special snow crews and extra pollworkers have been contacted if the weather is bad on Thursday, said Beier. "We've got snowmobiles ready to take pollworkers to schools if necessary," said Beier.

Asked if school officials expected a heavy turnout, Beier said she didn't know. "We're concentrating on getting parents out to vote," she said.

By approximately 11 a.m. Monday morning, Beier said

Crime down, arrests up in Plymouth

BY CHAS CHILD

The City of Plymouth enjoyed a significant drop in crime in 1978. Police Chief Timothy Ford told the City Commission Monday night.

"Not only is crime down, but arrests are up," said Ford. The chief said that the reasons behind the good news are many. First, Plymouth's decrease in crime is part of a nationwide trend. Second, his officers are better motivated and have better work habits, he said.

"There has been some reorganization in the department and improved structure, but the officers in both the detective bureau and on the street have been mostly responsible," said Ford.

Compared to 1977, the crime figures for the city look like this: Robbery dropped 38 per cent (five vs. eight); Burglary fell 18 per cent (92 vs. 112); Larceny is down seven per cent (212 vs. 241); Fraud is down 30 per cent (57 vs. 82); Drug offenses dropped 39 per cent (15 vs. 21); and Traffic Accidents fell 15 per cent (433 vs. 509).

Also, in 1978, the department made 989 arrests, compared to 613 in 1977.

The department tripled the amount of lost and stolen property recovered to add to the good news. In 1978, it recovered $152,292, while in 1977, that figure was $49,066.

Ford not only praised his officers, but also a number of alert citizens who aided police fight crime during last year. "It seemed we had more good, hard information from citizens last year than in many years previous," he said.

The police department also stepped up its traffic enforcement, Ford reported. For example, arrests for driving under the influence of alcohol jumped from 56 in 1977 to 70 in 1978. Also, arrests for reckless drivers went from 25 to 38 in the two years, while 1143 persons were arrested for speeding in 1977 and 1401 in 1978.

"We've had some high years and some low years, and this was definitely a high year," said Ford.

Crier offices move to Main St.

After tomorrow, your local newspaper will be published from new offices at 1226 S. Main in Plymouth.

Located at the corner of Main and Ross streets about two blocks north of Arm Arbor Road, the new offices provide the newspaper with a location closer to the center of its Plymouth-Canton circulation area.

"The new offices will be more convenient for many of our readers and advertisers," said Publisher W. Edward Wendover.

The building is nicknamed "First Street" after the famous London avenue along which some of England's greatest newspapers are located. Owned by Crier stockholders, it has been remodeled to provide editorial, advertising, circulation, production and business offices for the weekly newspaper, which has become the largest independently owned newspaper in Wayne County.

'Bad stretches' in Twp. to get salt

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees approved a plan to salt subdivision streets on an emergency basis last Tuesday, but denied a more ambitious proposal to tackle icy roads in the township.

Supervisor Tom Notebaert asked the board to fit a township DPW truck with a salter and to procure salt from the Wayne County Road Commission.

With the equipment, the township could salt subdivision roads as needed, since the county does not serve these roads, said Notebaert.

However, the board voted 4-3 to deny his request. "I don't want to get into the position of taking over the roads (from the road commission)" said Trustee Maurice Breen. "Then they'll hand it all over to us."

Breen also said that the township might be liable for an accident if it took over salting the streets.

Voting to deny the proposal were: Trustees Gerald Law, Breen, Lee Fidge and Treasurer Joe West. Notebaert, Clerk Esther Hulsing and Trustee Barb Lynch voted not to deny it.

Instead of Notebaert's ambitious program, the board voted unanimously to use a township DPW truck to salt bad stretches of subdivision roads on an emergency basis.

The board voted to ask the road commission to supply the salt free of charge.

Rather than a salt spreader, which Notebaert said would cost about $2,000, the salt would be thrown on the streets off the back of DPW trucks with a shovel.

The road commission is technically responsible for maintenance of all roads in the township. When asked to salt subdivision roads, however, representatives of the commission say they have neither the money nor the manpower to serve them, said Breen. "We've been getting that song and dance for years," said Clerk Esther Hulsing.

Zech subs for Yockey

The Plymouth City Commission Monday night approved a 60-day medical leave for City Manager Fred Yockey and appointed his assistant, John Zech, as acting city manager.

The leave begins Jan. 25, the day after Yockey enters Harper Hospital for surgery to remove the remains of a tumor near his inner ear. Two earlier operations did not succeed in removing all of the tumor.

During the 60-day period, Zech's salary will be increased by $250 per month.

Mayor Tom Turner said the

Sergeants ask for compensation

The three Plymouth Township Fire Department sergeants who have been performing the duties of the fire chief for eight months asked the Board of Trustees last Tuesday to be paid for that service.

Sergeants Larry Groth, Frederick Honke, and Fred Knupp all petitioned the board for the difference between their pay and the chief's pay for the days they acted as chief. Since former Fire Chief Jim Ginnac resigned April 24, 1978, the extra pay amounts to about $650 that would be split between the three and leave would relieve Yockey of the manager's tasks while he recovered and avoid confusion in City Hall about "who's in charge."

Yockey will receive salary and benefits equal to his current level during the leave period. Commissioners agreed to consider shortening or extending the leave depending on the speed of the city manager's recuperation.

Pay boost OK'd in new fire pact

BY HANK MEIJER

The City of Plymouth and its firefighters have agreed to a two-year contract providing the firefighters with a combined wage and benefit increase of 8.09 per cent the first year and 6.69 per cent the second.

The increases are retroactive to July 1, 1978, when the firefighters' last contract expired.

Under the new salary scale, beginning firefighters will receive $14,576, compared to the existing $13,622. A firefighter with four years or more experience will receive $20,715, compared to the current $19,360.

The salary change represents an increase of 4.04 per cent in the first year along with a pension improvement of 4.05 per cent.

In the second year, salaries are boosted by 5.66 per cent, with additional increases in longevity pay and food allowance, fully-paid medical and dental insurance for retired firefighters and fully-paid optical insurance for both active and retired firefighters. Currently, there are no retired city firefighters.

Items in the contract relating to disability and sick pay leave remain unresolved pending an arbitrator's decisions.

In light of the seven per cent ceiling on salary increases urged by the White House, City Manager Fred Yockey said, "the first-year total improvements meet the guidelines established by the city commission and the second-year total improvements meet the guidelines established by President Carter."

The city commission approved the new contract Monday by a 6-0 vote, with Commissioner James Houk ab-

Township adds three firefighters

BY CHAS CHILD

Eight minutes may not seem like a long time, but when it comes to fire fighting, Plymouth Township doesn't want to take chances.

The Board of Trustees hired three extra full-time firefighters last Tuesday to insure that emergency telephones will be manned at all times.

Under present staffing (12 full-time firemen, plus 10 volunteers), the regulars manning both stations leave for fires.

The phones are attended until a volunteer arrives, which averages eight minutes, according to Supervisor Tom Notebaert.

With the three new men,

The three who passed the Civil Service examination and are therefore eligible for hiring are: Donald McDurmon, Donald Hahn and Bruce Whitaker.

Whitaker, however, has moved to Garden City. Notebaert notified him that if he returns to Plymouth Township, he can have the firefighting position. The other two, both volunteer firemen, said they wanted the jobs, said the supervisor.

Plymouthite's tools swiped

A tool chest was stolen from Sandra Combs, 1121 Station on the night of Jan. 10, police report.

Now exhausted by the selection of the three men, the eligibility list will probably be replenished by new civil service testing, said Notebaert.

The board voted unanimously to hire the men, although not until Feb. 1, when Sgt. Larry Groth is expected to officially take over as fire chief.

"I hesitate to hire them before the fire chief is hired," said Trustee Lee Fidge.

Groth was tentatively selected as chief two weeks ago by the board, but he still must pass an oral examination given by the Michigan Municipal League.

The department has been without a chief since April 1978.

State aid for college discussed

Dr. Lee Petersen from the State Dept. of Education, will visit CEP on Jan. 24 at 7:30 p.m. to cover state and federal financial aid programs for college-bound students.

He will give a general overview of cost, eligibility and major resource areas.

This program is open to students and their parents. Attendance is strongly recommended for juniors and seniors who are seriously considering college.

The program will be presented in the Canton Little Theater. R.S.V.P. by calling the High School Guidance Office (453-3100 ext. 224 or 324) before Jan. 23.

connect most of the township's subdivisions with Canton and Salem high schools, township park and other places, the system was designed by planners Norman L. Dietrich Associates of Plymouth.

The Planning Commission was directed by the board to study the plan and its cost, and hold public hearings on it.

Jim Anulewicz, a planner for Dietrich, said that there are three types of path, ranging from regular roadway indicated simply by signs, a separate paved pathway built especially for bicycles.

The township, he said, must decide what kind of paths it wants in which locations.

Mike Caffrey, of 8815 S. Main, said, "Due to the high schools, the area around Sheldon, Main and Joy should have the top priority."

"I'm concerned about my children, my neighbor's children and your children," he told the trustees. "The cars are dangerous."

Zoning needed for high-rise

BY LARRY BOLENBAUGH

Ground could be broken this summer for a new high-rise complex across from the Hillside Inn on Plymouth Road if a special zoning classification is tentatively agreed upon Wednesday by the Plymouth Township Planning Commission.

The commission is presently trying to draft a special "mid-rise" zoning classification that would allow the building of a nine-story complex. The township already has a mid-rise classification, but it stipulates that such complexes must be built next to freeways.

The commission is trying to agree to drop that stipulation. Commission Chairman Smith Horton said that it will probably be two or three months before a final classification is adopted.

Technically, the complex will be a "mid-rise" structure by township classification.

The land where the structure is proposed to be built presently is in Plymouth Township. But, the City of Plymouth has filed petitions to annex the property.

The project will be designed by Carne Associates of the City of Plymouth. Its principal financial backers at this time are Erick Carne, the architect, and Bob Stremich, owner of the Hillside Inn.

The complex, as planned by Carne, will include a nine-story apartment building and six-story office building connected by a five story parking structure. The buildings will contain 98 luxury apartments and 46,000 square feet of office space.

Each apartment will include the unique feature of an adjacent solarium, Carne said. A solarium is a greenhouse-type structure which, in addition to being used for a greenhouse or sun room, will also collect solar heat that will help heat the apartment.

"We hope to be able to break ground for the project by the beginning of the summer," said Carne. "We are still in the process of getting financial backing and it would be hard to tell when the complex might be finished."

Some of the small businesses that have inquired about space include a drive-in bank, wine and cheese shop or deli, and maybe even a health club. There is talk of a small restaurant at the top of the office complex, Carne said.

The structure will overlook Hines Park to the rear and the view from the top goes all the way to Livonia, Carne said.

If the commission arrives at a tentative classification, they would then hold a public hearing. Then the classification would have to be approved by the Board of Trustees.

Sheldon-Joy shopping plaza delayed again

A bid to build a small shopping center at the southwest corner of Sheldon and Joy roads was delayed again by the Canton Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

The board voted 4-2 to table a request by Developer Cal Jabara to build a shopping center that would house an A&P grocery store, a drug store, a bank, and others.

The tabling came after the board was deadlocked 3-3 on a motion to deny outright the development. Casting votes to deny it were: Deputy Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, and Trustees Lynne Goldsmith and Carol Bodenmiller. Voting not to deny it were Trustees Robert Greenstein and Eugene Daley, and Supervisor Noel Culbert. Clerk John Flodin was absent.

Jabara wanted the board to amend the property's Planned Unit Development agreement (a pact between the property owners and the township) to permit his project.

However, Bodenmiller said that the owner of the 11-acre parcel, Barnes Associates, had not laid all the sidewalks required in the PUD, and therefore asked that until this is resolved, the request be tabled.

Another developer, Dick Lewiston, spoke against the project. He said that it would compete with a shopping center he might build at the corner of Morton-Taylor and Joys roads.

Supporting Lewiston's contention was Trustee Robert Greenstein, who added that Lewiston had cooperated with the township in his previous development projects.

Michael Boggio Associates of Southfield was awarded on Friday the contract to prepare the architectural drawings for the renovation of Plymouth Township Hall.

The award was made at a special meeting of the Board of Trustees. Boggio's bid was

"We hope to go out for construction bids around Feb. 15," said Notebaert. Tentatively priced at approximately $250,000, the renovation should be completed in about three or four months, he said.

The project will join the Township Hall with the Teledyne Building next door. The new structure will have 5,515 square feet versus the 1,950 in the present hall.

School millage warrants 'yes' vote

Vote "yes" tomorrow on the Plymouth-Canton schools' request for renewal of 6.5 mills.

Since it accounts for about one-eighth of the total school budget, the millage is indispensable for proper operation of the district.

If voters turn the request down, far-from-expendable programs will be on the chopping block. Furthermore, voting "no" to send a message makes little sense. School officials would be forced to waste hundreds of hours planning for the next election and mapping possible cuts.

To insure good planning and good schools, vote "yes" on Thursday. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

League urges millage OK

EDITOR:

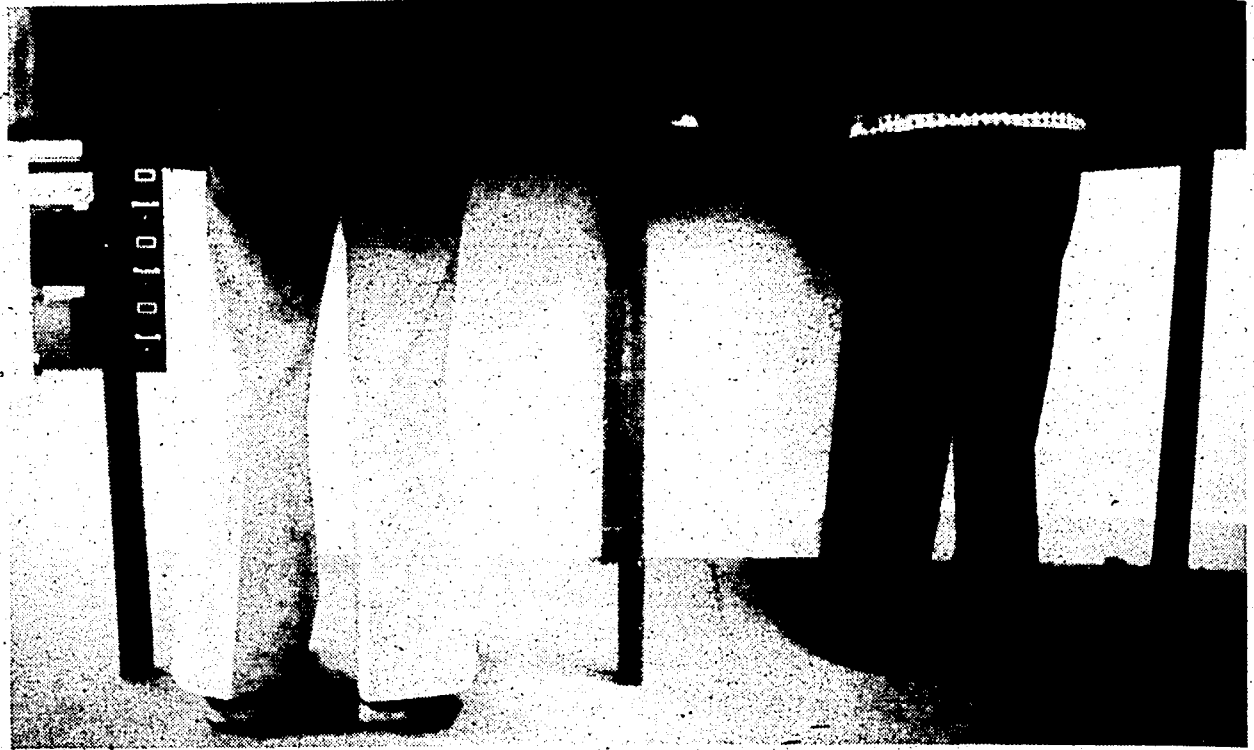

The League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton- Novi urges voters to approve the renewal of 6.5 mills for six years for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools on Jan. 18. The League strongly supports the continuation of at least the present levels of taxation in order to provide basic educational experiences for children in this school district.

This millage represents 13 per cent of the school district's operating funds. We cannot afford to allow a sizable portion of the district's revenues to be dropped without serious damage to the educational program.

The League is a national, nonpartisan organization that, following study and consensus, takes action on selected governmental issues. We urge a "yes" vote on Jan. 18.

Employee defends postal staff's manners

EDITOR:

The letter which you entitled "Post Office 'help' not friendly" requires some rebuttal. As a witness on Dec. 14 at the Plymouth Post Office, and in fairness to the employees involved, I would like to relate the story as it really happened.

"Waylon Jennings's" name is Richard Davidson and his questions to the Vietnamese customer were in accordance with the Postal Manual time.

As for the package being overweight, the regulations for mailing are on an independent basis depending on the country, and it is not possible for a postal employee to overrule the manual. The parcel would have been returned undeliverable by Customs.

It is the responsibility of the employee to advise the customers of the various postal regulations of the countries where parcels are being sent. It was totally inappropriate for Mr. Roger Kehrier (the poor "brutalized dove" that he is) to interfere to begin with, and his carrings on about the "loss of the war" were out of context and ridiculously misplaced.

(I might add that Rich Davidson is a Vietnam Veteran, and certainly wasn't impressed with Mr. Kehrier's tirade. Were I a veteran, I certainly wouldn't want to be "represented" by someone who acted as unbalanced and made such ludicrous statements as he did that day in the Post Office.)

As for Janet Covach (Ms. Personality, as he so glibly referred to her), to begin with, she didn't tell any customer to "move on" nor was she short or abrupt.

When Mr. Kehrier complained about the lines, and having to travel "all the way from Canton," she explained that Meijer Thrifty Acres has a substation, if he didn't want to travel into Plymouth. It was his complaint - keep in mind this is one week before Christmas - that generated the remark, not as he tells it. Nor was there any remarks about "hacks".

Janet is a good postal employee, efficient and well-versed in her job, and that public attack on her is more than reprehensible. She did nothing that wasn't required of her by her position. She never "rattled" a parcel, claiming it was "already broken."

The only thing I can add here is that the only person who came off looking bad as a result of that "incident" was Roger Kehrier. He is so quick to criticize the way a customer was serviced, and yet he refers to the Vietnamese woman as the "female" as if she were a non-person.

You were so willing to print Mr. Kehrier's fiction story disguised as a letter to the editor, please give the truth the same chance.

Druggist rude, not post office

EDITOR:

I am not related or acquainted or in any way have any interest in employes of the Plymouth Post Office.

I can truthfully say I am treated with respect there. And I have never seen anyone else being disrespected.

I can tell you where I have been disrespected: at one of the local drug stores.

I take one pill each day and that is all; no more, no less, no skipping one day (says my doctor).

The problem was when I got a prescription filled. I would find one or two short, maybe three.

Since Blue Cross prefers to pay for prescriptions once a month it created a problem with my prescription.

I offered to pay for the two pills. Talk about a hassle over two pills - you aint seen nothin.

New fence funs afoul of sub's rules

BY CHAS CHILD

The cedar fence in Mike and Beth Maupin's backyard in Canton adds a lot to their home. It provides privacy and a secure place for their two young children to play.

Unfortunately, they may have to tear it down. The $1,500 fence violates an often overlooked part of buying a house — deed restrictions — and the Forest Brook subdivision Homeowners Association may sue to force the Maupins to remove it.

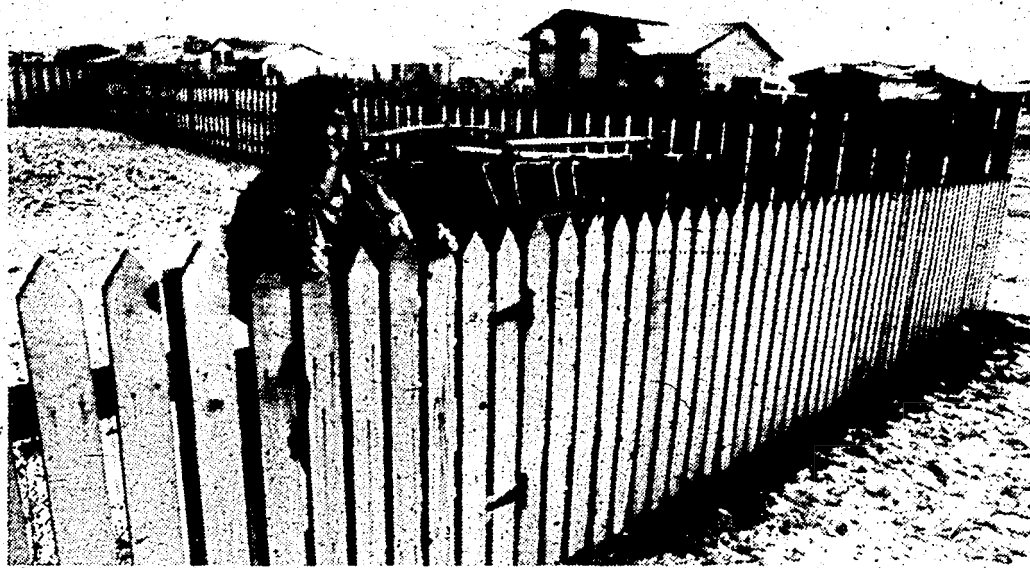

"We're mad about this," said Beth, who lives at 2079 Brookfield. "We had never heard of deed restrictions. We didn't get a copy of the deed restrictions from the builder until a month after closing. In fact, it was our first house and I didn't even know what a deed restriction was."

Deed restrictions regulate the use of property. For example, they bar homeowners from raising livestock in their yards and operating auto repair shops in their garages.

The restrictions can cover many things, such as requiring homeowners to pay their association dues, and in the Maupins' case, say fences should not sit any closer to the sidewalk than the side of their house.

However, they are on a corner lot, and while their fence runs parallel to Brookfield from the back corner of their house, it sits near the sidewalk on Applewood.

If the fence is attractive and doesn't bother anyone, why might the homeowners association go to the extreme of suing to bring it down?

$1,500 DOWN THE DRAIN? Beth Maupin stands near her cedar fence which her neighborhood association may sue to have torn down. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Jim Donahue, former president of Forest Brook Homeowners Association explains: "If we don't make everyone obey the restrictions, we can't force anybody to. What do we do with the chickens in the backyard, the garage being used to fix cars, and the catering service being run out of someone's home?"

"All of these things have happened and we legally can't touch them unless we make everyone stick to the restrictions," he said.

"It's better to have 16 unhappy people now (the number with improper fences in Forest Brook) than 308 unhappy homes in the future," he added.

The association's board was also overwhelmingly requested to enforce the restrictions at a heated association meeting last year attended by hundreds of homeowners, said Donahue.

"These are not minor problems," said Donahue. "I made a lot of enemies while we were pursuing enforcement of the restrictions. I had eggs thrown at my house."

Donahue, elected treasurer of the township in November, was replaced as association president by Jim Stolt. Asked if the association was going to court to bring down the fences of the Maupins and others, he declined to comment.

Meanwhile, the Maupins have a lawyer and threaten to fight the association if it proceeds with legal action.

Despite the messy neighborhood problem, Donahue believes there may be a solution — for the future, anyway.

"Very few home buyers know about the deed restrictions. In fact, 50 per cent never get them at closing. So, perhaps the township government should require the builder to inform the buyer," he said.

Also, the township should make sure that additions to a house that requires a building permit, like a fence, conform to the property's deed restrictions, he said.

The Maupins are a good example of how this measure could help. "We got a building permit from the township and thought everything was OK," said Beth.

With an eye to instituting these regulations, the township Board of Trustees recently referred the matter to the Building Department, despite an opinion from the township's lawyer that the township had no legal jurisdiction over the deed restrictions.

They are purely between the homeowners association and the property owner, said the lawyer.

The courts may well have to untangle the mess caused by the deed restrictions. In the meantime, the Maupins try to enjoy their fence. "It's my yard," said Beth. "We're protecting our rights."

Having trouble paying your electric bill?

Help us help you.

All of us, of course, must pay for the goods and services we use. From time to time, many of us may have difficulties making those payments—due to illness, loss of employment, an accident or a disability.

If this happens to you, let Detroit Edison know. Detroit Edison has programs to help you if you're having problems with electric bills and to help you avoid overdue bills in the future. The programs are designed to assure uninterrupted electric service.

You can help Detroit Edison help you by getting in touch as soon as possible—by mail, by telephone or by stopping in at any Detroit Edison Customer Office.

Here are Detroit Edison Programs to help when your bill is overdue:

Bill Payment Counseling

Company Customer Representatives will offer advice and assistance and suggest ways to obtain aid in paying Edison bills through public assistance programs such as social service or welfare agencies, if needed. So call or stop in at any Customer Office and talk things over.

Payment Plans

If an extra-large overdue bill seems impossible to pay, don't despair. Payment plans can be tailored to fit your situation and clear things up.

These Detroit Edison Programs can help you avoid problems arising from overdue bills:

Double Notice Protection Plan

When you sign up for this plan, if your overdue bill could result in a service shutoff then a friend, relative or community agency is notified so they can remind you that your bill must be paid, or pay it for you. This plan is especially helpful for the elderly, the sick, the shut-in or persons who spend extended periods of time away from home.

Senior Citizen Rate

If you are 65 years or older and the head of a household, this new rate can help lower your electric bills if you use less than 548 kilowatt-hours a month—848 kilowatt-hours or less if you have controlled electric water heating combined on your regular meter. If you want more information, call or stop in at any Customer Office so that a Customer Representative can review this new program with you.

Wise Use of Electricity

Detroit Edison has booklets on how to use your electric lights and appliances wisely and other ways to save energy around the home.

Stop in at any Customer Office and pick up what you need to get the most out of your energy dollar.

Detroit Edison does everything possible to get in touch with you to see if you need help when your electric bill is overdue. But you can help by getting in touch with Detroit Edison.

Detroit Edison wants to do everything in its power to keep the power in your hands.

So please help us help you.

Dog catcher snares strays

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: January 17, 1979

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

If you were guessing who's the most unpopular person in the community, you might choose Plymouth Township's Dennis Smith.

He admits his popularity ratings are generally on the wane. "Persons who complain about dog barking in their neighborhoods love me, but most of the time I feel like a bad guy," said Dennis.

His job? He's the dog warden in Plymouth Township. He checks in about 8:30 a.m. weekdays at township offices and then climbs into the township station wagon. Each month he clocks about 1,200 miles around the township's 16 square miles.

Dennis has picked up about 225 strays since he started working in October, 1977. Only one bit him. "The dog was hit by a car and when I put my hand under his belly, I hurt him more than he was already hurting," said Dennis. But, he added, the bite required no stitches.

His strangest call? "One lady called to complain about friends & neighbors

stray pigs wandering through her back yard," he said.

But Dennis doesn't go to work alone. He's accompanied by Buddy, his own dog, which is part Doberman, part German shepherd. Buddy helps make friends with dogs who might not otherwise be so eager to please, said Dennis.

Besides using Buddy as "bait", Dennis also keeps dog biscuits in the car. "I use a handful to lure the dog to me," he said.

Asked if he recommended any particular brand, Dennis replied, "Nah, I never even let Buddy eat them."

A snare is the only other tool he uses to trap a vicious animal. It doesn't hurt, said Dennis, as he demonstrated how the pole with the nylon rope helps capture the dog around the neck.

Stray dogs are delivered to Parkway Veterinary Clinic on Wilcox Road. The dogs are kept up to four business days if they aren't claimed, said Dennis.

He also favors a new dog ordinance which may be enacted. It requires all dogs to be licensed, and tagged with $5, $10 and $25 fines for first, second and third offenders, said Dennis.

"Everyone should make sure their animal is tagged. It would make my job easier and the dogs happier," said Dennis.

"And," he added, "new $3 dog licenses are required for all dogs." The deadline is May 31.

Kiwanians show Eire

On Wednesday, Jan. 17, the Kiwanis clubs of Plymouth will present "Welcome to Ireland," the third program in its travel and adventure series, at 8 p.m. in the Salem High School auditorium.

THE DOG, BUDDY, is Dennis Smith's best friend even though Dennis is the local dog warden and ordinance officer. Above, Dennis demonstrated a snare which he uses occasionally to capture a vicious animal. Top, Buddy takes the driver's seat of the warden's station wagon. (Crier photos by Bill Bresler)

Fire volunteers sought

Aiming to double Plymouth Township's volunteer firefighting force, Fire Chief-elect Larry Groth is asking anyone who might be interested to contact him.

To be eligible, you must be a resident of the township and be between 18 and 35 years old.

Women are eligible if they are able to do the work, said

Township Supervisor Tom Notebaert.

Volunteers are required to attend two training sessions per month. Each session is three hours long.

The pay for volunteers is $8 for the first hour of a fire or emergency run and $4 for each hour afterward. And Groth estimated that the department makes about 25-30 runs per month.

"We have 10 volunteers right now," said Groth. "I'd like to see 10 more."

Kids aim for school safety

Kids in the Talented and Gifted Program (TAG) at Tanger Elementary School wrote and produced a 15-minute slide and tape show which was presented to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last Monday night.

The subject was school safety. The kids used Tuffy Tiger, Tanger's school mascot, to illustrate how students should act in the hallways, in the lunchroom and on the playground.

Lolly Buikema, principal at Tanger, said the TAG students learned about photography, graphics and illustrations, and the organization of integrating a script with pictures. She said there were 29 TAG students at Tanger who worked on the project.

Parent Linda Alvarado and teachers Kathy Allen, Margaret House, Bob Johns and Rick Ruland directed the project.

After the presentation to the board, Buikema said the slide and tape show would be used to orient new students at Tanger.

The TAG program is geared to students who are capable of high performance in school, said Rick Olenchak, TAG coordinator in the Plymouth-Canton school district.

Overall, Olenchak said about 500-600 students participate in TAG programs throughout the district. Furthermore, Olenchak said there are two elementary schools, one middle school and both high schools without TAG programs in the district. He said parents and administrators are working to establish programs in those schools.

TAG students are identified by meeting three of seven qualifications: teacher recommendation; parent recommendation; group achievement tests; individual intelligence tests; proven demonstrated ability; and past placement in a TAG program.

Members of the Apple Run Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association chased the January blahs away with a cooking demonstration. Chef Larry Janes of Gourmet Gallerie gave the demonstration last Tuesday evening.

After a welcome refreshment of Russian tea on a cold night, Chef Janes made a number of hors d'oeuvres including hot artichoke spread, Phyllis spinach pastries (with a name like that, it has to be good), and clam appetizers, the main highlight of the evening.

Members enjoyed not only sampling each dish, but also Chef Janes's casual and witty approach to cooking.

Greek Revival home retains style of past era

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Moving an old house from the hustle and bustle of the city out to Plymouth Township was quite an undertaking, according to owner Marion Sober.

After spending weeks trying to get approval to move the house to their township property, and a trip to Lansing to get permission to move it along a main road, Marion's dream came true on June 23, 1971.

The house was moved in two parts, and in place of the dirt cellar, it was placed on a cement block foundation. Cut stone surrounds the foundation, making it look much like it did when it was first built.

Upon entering the Greek Revival home, you find yourself in a warm, old fashioned kitchen. The cupboards are orange with stencils painted on.

Murals are painted on the dining room walls, showing the different fashions in 1862, 1890 and after the Civil War. Marion said she copied pictures in Godley's Ladies Books when painting the murals.

The original horse hair plaster is on all the walls and ceilings throughout the house. You can see lines in the ceilings where the stove pipes used to be.

Instead of wallpapering, Marion painted stencils on the walls for decoration. "Absolutely nothing is straight in this house," she said. In the living room she used an 1880 English designed stencil, painted over a beige background.

The tea room is decorated with stencils resembling the 1760 era. The walls in the front office are painted with oriental designs. "Between 1830 and 1840 when this house was built, people in this country were starting to get decorating ideas from the Chinese," said Marion.

The Greek Revival style home started mostly in New York and Ohio, and according to Marion they painted the woodwork instead of leaving it natural. The Greek inspiration during that time was to use a dark color on the woodwork and a light color on the walls, she said.

The Sober home is a Greek Basilica design - like the Greek temple. According to Marion, Michigan built more of these than other Greek Revival designs.

Most of the floors throughout the main section of the house are the original hardwood. Since there were no bathrooms when the house was first built, there have been few additions and changes to the house, she said. They changed from radiator to base board heat.

"We always seem to be in the process of painting or patching something," said Marion.

Along with the main structure of the house, many extras have been added to the furnishings. Marion is talented in chair caning, lace making and knows a lot about basket weaving. Her many artistic talents are demonstrated throughout the house.

In Greenfield Village

Plymouth House adds local historical flair

A two-story, white house with green shutters is tucked into the back of Greenfield Village near the intersection of Main Street and Washington Blvd. The house is small and unimposing and was built in the Greek Revival period of mid-19th century in a simplified form.

It is called the Plymouth House and represents a local contribution to the historical artifacts kept at Greenfield Village in Dearborn.

The house once stood at 519 N. Mill St. in Old Village. In 1929, the house was moved to Greenfield Village where Henry Ford's architect, Edward Cutler, used it as an office for historical projects.

Originally, it was built by Peter Trinkhaus for his brother-in-law, Christian Fisher. Trinkhaus came to Plymouth in 1832.

Christian Fisher made shoes and sold them from his home. A later owner, Louise Kensler, was also a shoemaker and used a room for his shop until 1869 when he converted the house into a saloon.

The saloon closed in 1871. Today the house remains essentially the same as it was in the mid-1850's except for slight modifications which were made about 1855 and a stairway which was rebuilt after it was damaged by fire about 1895.

Visitors to Greenfield Village can see the Plymouth house year-round. During the fall and summer, the house is open.

During the winter, visitors can see the Plymouth House from the outside. And a peek in the windows shows restored rooms and furnishings as well as storage space for reproductions. Today the building is used to sell and house reproductions of furniture and artifacts for the Henry Ford Museum.

THE PLYMOUTH HOUSE IN GREENFIELD VILLAGE. The house, which stands at the corner of Christie and Main streets in Greenfield Village, originally stood at 519 N. Mill St. in Plymouth's Old Village. The house was moved to Dearborn in 1929 and served as the office in which many Greenfield Village projects were designed. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Canton still growing

Canton Township continues to be one of the fastest growing communities in southeast Michigan, according to statistics released last week by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

With 842 housing permits issued in the first six months of 1978, Canton was second on the list of top 10 housing leaders. Sterling Heights was first with 933 residential building permits issued.

Third was Clinton Township (633), and following it were Ann Arbor (613), Avon Township (576), Waterford Township (524), Farmington Hills, (476), Troy (450), W. Bloomfield Township (395), and Detroit (392).

What do you do with the kids' rooms?

It's that time of year again -- when marriages and houses start getting a little shakey: The old house needs some sprucing up to make it more attractive. But is the marriage stable enough to withstand even a minor home improvement?

It's a complete mystery to me how two people can live in the same house year after year, and still see every room completely different. Add to the confusion a son and daughter who have their own ideas on what their room should look like, and you come out with a real circus.

I consider myself a reasonable mother and wife, (well, at least sometimes) but there's no way I'm going to put some of that junk on the walls of my house. The sales people in the wallpaper stores don't run and hide when they see me coming anymore. They just try to ignore me -- they know I'm not really going to decide on anything. As the pages in the wallpaper books become frayed, so do my nerves.

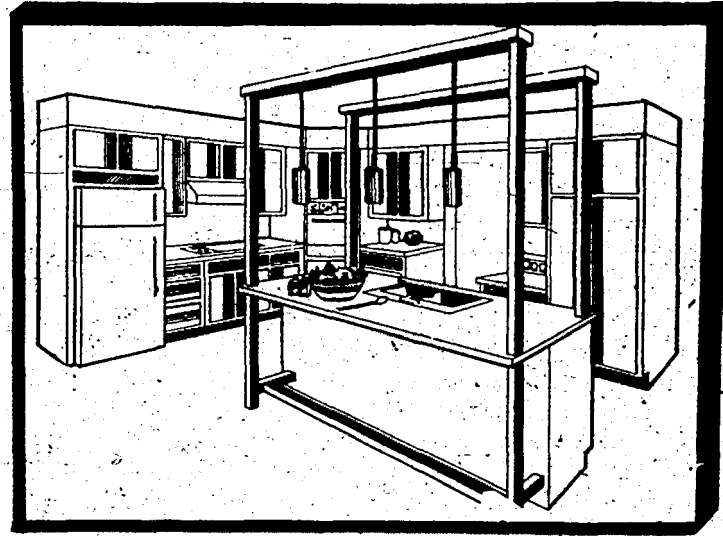

My main project for this year is doing something with the kids' rooms. I've been giving it a lot of thought for about two years now, but still haven't quite decided what to do.

Standing in the doorway of my daughter's room, you can see the French provincial canopy bedroom set. The ruffled spread looks so feminine, until you notice the baseball hat hanging from a corner of the canopy. Above the desk is a Shaun Cassidy poster, next to the dresser is a Raggedy Ann wall hanging and rolling out of her closet is a tether ball. Since I'm not sure just what her interests are, maybe a simple coat of paint would look nice for this year.

No, with yellow and green print throughout the room, we are not painting the walls pink!

Then there's my son's room. His room is decorated with a unique display of Star Wars, mixed with football and a picture of a whale sitting on his desk. I like the idea of chair-rail molding, although the walls look a little curved (maybe that's because they're bulging at the seams from all his treasures). I wonder if they make a wallpaper showing a star wars whale (what ever that might be), playing football.

Spacious designs make creature comforts reign

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Not every home in Plymouth depends on a colonial theme. At least one place - the penthouse apartment on Joppa Place - is different.

Its style depends on a high, wood-beamed ceiling, tall windows without curtains, and, a combination of antique and modern furnishings. Chuck Avis is also a co-owner of the Penniman Avenue apartments, above the Penniman Avenue Shops, with Plymouthite Marda Benson.

To keep its open atmosphere, the ceiling is high - at least one and one-half stories in the living room. Wood beams from an old school house in Pontiac stretch across the ceiling measuring 24 or 25 feet wide. The floor is also its original hardwood.

For lighting, Chuck depends on sunlight during the day, and soft, indirect lamps and floodlamps at night. The original, tall, skinny windows allow sunlight to stream inside. Spider plants sit on some windowsills adding color against the wood grain.

Chuck used some of the original pieces of the building as furnishings. Formerly, the top floor was used as storage space until about two and one-half years ago when the building was renovated by Tex and Julie Thomann, who later moved to California.

For example, the wheel from an old elevator is a coffeetable and its base is the cable spool. A second elevator wheel serves as the bannister for the stairs to the loft. Since there are only four or five steps to the loft, the wheel's circumference provides perfect support.

Also in the living room is a pinewood rocker dating back to 1853 and an antique hutch which serves as a bar.

In the bedroom, a full-length mirror is framed with the window of an old Pullman car. The bathroom is adjacent to the bedroom and the bath tub is set into a wooden frame. "It's the old tongue-in-groove wood," said Chuck.

Measuring 2,400 square feet, the apartment's only drawback is a small kitchen, said Chuck. But he will put in a large, wooden counter to serve as a food preparation table and giant cutting board. "I need more storage space too," said Chuck.

On the outside patio, it's high enough to catch a bird's-eye view of downtown Plymouth. "Great for entertaining in the summer," he said.

Since he moved in last May, Chuck hasn't had time to work on its furnishings or redecorating. "It takes a few months to acquire the feel for a place like this," he said.

Decorating can make new house a home

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Walking into a new house in a subdivision, you can see and smell the freshly painted walls and newly laid carpeting. Although the house is completed and the family has moved in, there is still a lot to do to make a house a home. Furnishing a house makes a big difference, as well as pictures and other accents.

Mike and Pam Eudis of Canton Township recently moved into a new, ranch-style home. Their living room has a high cathedral ceiling, with stucco walls. Like many new houses, it has carpeting throughout the house.

Being a young family in a new neighborhood, their home reflects a cozy, comfortable atmosphere with many modern conveniences. The almond colored appliances in the kitchen accent the blue print wallpaper and light blue shag carpet. The built-in dishwasher and microwave oven give you an idea of the time saving, modern appliances used in the home.

The family room is furnished in comfortable, traditional furniture, with a high-low, round game table in the center. At one end of the room is a brick fireplace. Looking through the door wall, you can see the ice skating rink that Mike built for the kids.

The hall that separates the three bedrooms is decorated with a display of family pictures.

Heather, a third grader at Hulsing School has wallpaper along the bottom half of her room. Like most young girls her age, there is a Shaun Cassidy poster decorating the walls.

Craig, who is a sixth grader at Pioneer Middle School, has his room done in browns and tans. The beige wallpaper is a good background for his hockey and baseball pictures.

The master bedroom is wallpapered with grass cloth. At one end of the room is a full length closet with mirror doors. The mirrors make the room look larger, said Pam.

According to Mike and Pam, their idea of a perfect home is one the whole family can live in comfortably.

Happiness is having your hot dog your way

This week's menu definitely strives for diversity. Hot dogs are available in a multitude of forms. Take your choice.

You can have your hot dog in a bun. Or, if that doesn't appeal to you, it is available on a bun. If that still does nothing for you, have it with a bun.

If you don't want a hot dog at all, then have a chile dog. And if you don't like chile, then the steamed frankfurter is available upon request.

If you are one of the lucky ones, you won't get anything to eat Monday, because several of the local schools are closed for parent-teacher conferences.

King's scoring spree paces Chiefs

Canton captures first in Western 6 race

BY PATTY RADZIK

Thanks to two fine performances by the Chief basketball team last week, and a 10-point Northville victory over Churchill, Canton has captured first place in the Western Six, being the only undefeated (3-0) team in the league.

That lofty position could diminish when the Chiefs meet the always competitive Chargers from Livonia this Friday night.

According to Canton coach Craig Bell, all he was worried about at the start of last week, was his team's playing quality after the Christmas holiday. "We were coming off a loss over vacation, and we had to make sure we weren't flat, and to play with enthusiasm."

The Chiefs were all but deflated, as Butch King was proof of that fact, when he poured in 31 points in Canton's 91-47 romping of Farmington, on Tuesday. Rusty Mandel provided 13 points and Mike Gallnick added 10. Also aiding the victory was the 23 of 35 converted free throws the Chiefs had for a percentage of 66 from the charity stripe.

On Thursday, Canton again man-handled its opponent by scoring 28 points in the second quarter and 25 in the third. King hit for 34 points and Mike Leary chipped in 17, as Walled Lake Western fell to the hard driving Chiefs, 87-56.

Canton's record is now 7-2 on the season.

Rocks win

Rob Neu's eight foot jump shot with two seconds remaining in overtime lifted the Salem basketball team to its ninth straight win without a loss this season, 69-67, over Bentley away last night.

The Rock win left them alone atop the Suburban Eight Conference with a 4-0 record.

Salem lead 50-48 at the end of three quarters of play, but the Bullgogs tallied seven unanswered points to start the final stanza forcing the Rocks to play catch-up.

With :17 seconds left in regulation time Neu stole the ball and passes it to Jim Anderson who was fouled on his layup attempt.

Anderson canned both free throws to make the score 65-65 and put the game into overtime.

Neu paced Salem with 21 points while Kevin Kelliher added 16 and Rich Hewlett 14, unofficially.

Salem also won the junior varsity game, 67-56.

Chief swimmers crunch Churchill

After a holiday rest, the Canton boys swimming team captured two victories last week, raising its overall record to 4-0 and its Western Six Conference record to 2-0.

The Chief victory over Livonia Churchill was a stunning, 204-90, last Tuesday night. "We more than doubled their score," said Coach Bill Faunce.

On Thursday night the team rallied to a 112-56 dousing of Harrison.

Swimming in an eight-lane pool at Churchill, the team captured 10 of the possible 11 events, bowing only in the 100-yard backstroke.

Junior Jeff Seippel captured a second-place in that event with a time of 1:04.7 and freshman Ron Hurley took third with 1:05.5 to set a new freshman record. Bob Simrack held the old record with 1:05.6.

The team also had three double winners. Paul Petersen took firsts in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:04.0 and the 200-yard individual medley in 2:05.5.

Senior Dave Tanner took firsts in the 50-yard freestyle in 23.5 and the 100-yard butterfly in 59.9.

In the 200-yard freestyle, Bob Cline snatched a first in 1:55.4 and also a first in the 100-yard freestyle in 52.7.

In other action, Keith Greenleaf pared 10 seconds off his time in the 500-yard freestyle to take a first in 5:34.7. He also captured a second in the 200-yard freestyle in 2:04.4.

Against Harrison, Canton took firsts in five of 11 events, but managed to pull in second and third places to raise their score, said Faunce.

Chief swimmers came out on top in the following events: 200-yard medley relay with Jeff Seippel, Bob Cline, Mike Gaab, Paul Petersen in 1:51.4; Mike Wolski in the 50-yard freestyle in 26.0; Ryan Smith in the 100-yard freestyle in 59.1; Bob Cline in the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:08.9.

victory of Harrison the Chief tankers are 4-0 on the season. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Spikers drop tourney

Last Saturday, Schoolcraft College hosted its annual high school volleyball tournament earlier than usual, which may be why both Canton and Salem high schools did not do so well.

The Rocks and the Chiefs are young teams this year, and after playing only one game of the regular season and then entering tournament action, both squads could not hold up against the better and more experienced field of competition.

Canton was 4-4 after completing play in their pool on Saturday, good enough for a second place finish, but not enough to go on to the quarterfinals. A certain number of points is needed as a second place team to survive in its pool, and Canton just didn't have them.

The Chiefs beat Thurston 15-12; 15-3, split with Farmington 15-7; 12-15, split with Hazel Park 15-8; 13-15, and lost to Wayne in the final match of the day, 10-15; 9-15. "It was strange," Coach

Cindi Burnstein said. "When we won, we won small and when we lost, we lost small."

"We just didn't have the momentum we needed," Burnstein continued. "We stopped talking and once that happened it was all over. You just can't play that way." Overall Canton's defense was not up to par, and the players' positioning gave the girls trouble. "We were disappointed," Burnstein said. "But we were there to learn. To let everybody have a chance to play and get the feel of tournament play."

Senior Kelly Heaton led Canton with an ever-powerful right arm and good serving. "When she was set up, Kelly did the job," Burnstein stated. "She made errors too, but her leadership on the team has been fantastic and helpful to everyone."

In the mind of Cathy Himes, Salem's coach, one word could sum up the overall caliber of play exhibited by her team. "Confusion."

"Nobody knew what was going on," Himes said. "My hitters weren't hitting and my two setters were going after the ball at the same time, which caused mass confusion."

"I set up my offense so I could have my strongest spikers in front and back. Patty Radzik did not have a good day, spiking 50 per cent of the time, making good of only half of them. Cindy Leville did better, spiking 100 per cent, and making 80 per cent of them."

Like Canton, the Rock squad was playing Saturday for experience. "We were trying something new with our game plan, and it worked against us in the first game," Himes said. The Rocks lost to a lowly Novi team 14-16; 13-15. Salem also went down to Ferndale and Stevenson. Their only victory came against Southfield, in which Salem won handily 15-6; 15-8. Salem finished third in their pool.

Prior to the tournament, the CEP teams opened up their respective seasons. Earlier in the week, Canton fell to Churchill 15-10; 15-5.

Spikers fall

"We need more confidence," Burnstein stated. "We have what it takes to be good. We'll be in competition for the league title."

The game, played at Churchill, was the seventh year in a row in which Canton was unable to beat the Chargers in their home territory.

Salem, on the other hand, started off on a better note, defeating a much improved Brighton squad, 16-14; 10-15; 15-13. "They messed up on their serves, and luckily when they did miss, it was at the right time for us," Himes said.

"We were aggressive, and everyone did an excellent job moving around," Himes continued. Cheryl Sobkow, a sophomore, and senior Leville were the outstanding players of the game for the Rocks now 1-0 on the year.

Salem plays two away games this week, both league contests. Belleville is on Monday and Edsel Ford will host Salem tonight at 7 p.m. Canton plays Harrison at home on Monday and travels to Ypsilanti tonight for a 7 p.m. contest.

PROPERTY TAX LOSES AT POLL

According to a recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation for the U. S. Government on the average citizen's opinion on taxes, it will come as no surprise that the results showed that the least popular tax of all was the property tax. The purpose of the survey was to find out attitudes on the proposed value-added tax, property tax, income tax and sales tax.

Although no particular tax received a resounding approval, it was a clear-cut message that American's major complaint with our fiscal system lies with the property tax.

When queried as to which tax was the "least fair", 45 percent selected the property tax, the federal income tax placed a far second with a 19 percent disapproval.

On the subject of raising more state revenue, 71 percent preferred increasing taxes on sales or income. On raising more federal funds, 70 percent of those polled indicated the best method would be to eliminate tax loopholes.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455-8400. We're here to help!

Gymnastics a team, individual sport

Gymnastics is a different kind of sport. It's both individual and also team-oriented," said Coach Carol Michaels as she described the Salem girls gymnastics team and its preparation for the upcoming season.

The Rock team is trying to overcome an 0-8 win-loss record from last season. To do this, the team is relying on the experience of veterans Sue Clark, Linda L'Heureux, and Tina Melone, all 10th graders.

Two team members have also competed in state clubs outside of school which has given them additional experience, said Michaels. Those all-round members are Daria Doumarnian, 9th grader, and Pam Worsnop, 10th grader.

One goal for the team is to score at least 50 points during each meet. Gymnastics could score a total of 120 points or 30 points for each of four events.

The four areas of competition in gymnastics are floor exercises, balance beam, vaulting, and routines on the uneven parallel bars.

"If we can score at least 50 points during each meet then we'll be improving the quality of our competition," said Michaels who is coaching the team for the first time this season.

The first meet for the Salem team is Thursday, Jan. 18 against Belleville at 7 p.m. The teams will compete at Belleville.

Rounding out the roster for the gymnasts are: Tracey Lawson, Lynn Hasley, Linda Wocha, 10th graders; Diane Peipick, 11th grader; Kathy Rice and Jane Kimling, 9th graders.

Canton gymnasts start second season

BY ERIC OLSON

Although last year was the maiden season for the Canton gymnastics team, Coach Barb Winn is hoping that the squad will improve enough to become one of the top teams in the area.

In their first year of competition the chief gymnasts posted a 6-8 meet record and placed in the regionals.

There are 11 letter winners from a year ago returning for this season and no one was lost to graduation. Seniors Robin Radoye, Kathy Kiefer, Wendy Gray, Ledah Schrader, and Leslie Bublin comprise the experience for Canton.

Gray and Schrader will serve as the Chief team captains.

Other returnees include: Maureen Morahan, Anita Hulack, Heather Hawkins, Kelly Harvey, Robbie George, and Chris Eschker.

There are four events in a gymnastics meet: floor exercise, balance beam, uneven bars, and the vault. Four to six gymnasts compete in each event and each girl has to participate in at least one event.

Coach Winn explained that the floor exercises are one to one and half minutes long, done to music selected by the contestant, and, consist of a combination of dance and tumbling.

Adding depth to the team is newcomer Beth Berberet, a sophomore, and five freshpersons: Kim Harvey, Julie Schauer, Ann Gregory, Julie Koliba, and Lorna Finner.

"Rhythm is important on the balance beam and graceful speed is important on the bars and in vaulting," said Winn.

"I look for Ann Arbor Huron and Farmington as being a couple of the top teams in the area," added Winn.
