

No more field trips

Gasoline crunch hits school buses

A moratorium on using Plymouth-Canton school buses for field trips is in effect until further notice, according to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business in the school district.

"This is necessary due to a shortage of gas allocated to the school district, and also a shortage of an adequate number of buses for the fleet for spares and preventative maintenance," wrote Hoedel in a memo to school principals.

Team sports, however, will be an exception to the rule.

There's a contractual obligation to other schools in league competition, said Hoedel.

"We're trying to limit -- not eliminate -- field trips," Superintendent John Hoben told the school board at its meeting Monday night.

Parents' cars can be used for field trips, but school officials are asking principals to make sure that: the driver have a valid driver's license; the driver have a good driving record; and the driver have evidence of insurance.

City squeezed by tight budget

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

With nine months of its budget year yet to go, the City of Plymouth has just $21,000 in its contingency fund with several major unbudgeted costs still looming on the horizon.

Although it started the year with some $77,000 set aside for contingencies -- including a half-mill ($52,000) tax increase collected in July -- the city has committed or spent:

Despite deputies' union 2-car demand Township proceeds on sheriff contract talks

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Plymouth Township officials are still working on a proposed contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department even though the sheriff's union objected to the proposed one-man-per-car clause in the contract last week.

"Nothing has changed on the status of the manning clause," reported Supervisor Thomas Notebaert after meeting with township officials on Thursday.

The manning clause is an "internal problem" between the sheriffs and Wayne County, Notebaert added. "Their union problems are theirs -- not ours," he said.

Furthermore, Notebaert estimated that if the township contracted for two-man cars at night -- as the union had proposed informally -- then the cost of the proposed contract would rise about $60,000 for the two additional officers.

Under the contract proposed by township officials, one man would be assigned to each car with patrols operating seven-days-a-week, 24-hours-a-day.

Last week the deputies' union rejected the idea of not being able to file a grievance against Wayne County regarding the manning clause in the contract, according to John Baier, president of Local 5-2 of the sheriff's deputies' union.

Baier proposed a stipulation requiring two men in each patrol car at night and one-man cars during the day. "There's safety in numbers. When it's dark, it isn't safe if only one man is assigned to each car," he said.

The preliminary contract proposal, which has been accepted by the township Board of Trustees, would cost about $248,044, ex-

Canton shopping center unveiled

A plan for a medium-sized shopping center on the southwest corner of Ford and Sheldon roads was presented to Canton's Planning Commission last night.

Called Three Circles Plaza, the proposed development was tabled to improve the plans for traffic flow at the intersection.

Commissioners feared that there might be a back-up in the left-turn lane on Ford Road. Westbound cars making left-hand turns into Three Circles might conflict with east-bound left turning cars entering New Towne Plaza, said Commissioner Thom Carman.

Canton's ordinance men to tote hidden pistols

BY CHAS CHILD

Canton's three-member ordinance staff will now be carrying concealed guns.

The Board of Trustees, by a 4-3 vote, granted the ordinance officers permission to arm themselves at last Tuesday's board meeting. "An ordinance officer never knows how he'll be received, or what he'll face," said Bruce Phillips, head of the ordinance department.

Phillips, and his two assistants, Fred Baker and Lloyd Young, are responsible for enforcing township ordinances not taken care of by the police. These include laws that regulate such matters as signs, junked autos, and zoning.

Violators of these ordinances can get violent when called on by ordinance officers, said Phillips. "The purpose for the gun is to allow him (an ordinance officer) to defend himself if he can't get back to his car and call for help," he said.

"I'm opposed to permitting ordinance officers to carry firearms," said Larry Bowerman, a citizen. "The potential for liability is tremendous. Possible anger doesn't justify carrying guns. Sometimes it's better to just walk away and call the proper authorities."

"It's crazy to have these guys carry guns," added another citizen, Gary Roberts. "You can always walk away. If someone hits you, what are you going to do, shoot him?"

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, however, supported the proposal. "We are constantly putting ordinance officers on the road to make this a better community," she said. "We should let them carry guns."

Another trustee, Bob Greenstein, also supported Phillips's request. "They should get as much protection as possible," he said. "I admire and trust Bruce Phillips. I trust his judgement. I'd rather take the risk of an accident than have to go to Mrs. Phillips and explain... (that he had been killed)."

"An ordinance officer can't back down," Greenstein added. "Gene (Daley, a trustee), you know that."

Rescuers identified

Three other citizens who helped rescue a man and a woman from a submerged car in Plymouth Township last Tuesday have been identified.

Michigan State Police praised several citizens who helped following the crash of a Detroit man's car into the Rouge River at Five Mile and Northville Road, but were originally unable to obtain all their names.

In addition to those identified by The Community Crier last week, two Michigan Bell employes, William Baker and Dennis Painter, and a Wayne County Road Commission sign shop worker, Ricky DeMatties, aided in the rescue.

"A police officer can't back, yes" replied Daley, a former Wayne County Sheriff's deputy, implying that ordinance officers could.

"The board wants to be sure that the ordinance officers have adequate firearm training," said Treasurer Jim Donahue. "The supervisor, police chief and ordinance director should draw up a policy for their use by ordinance officers."

"You have to think about people's reactions," said Trustee Stephen Larson. "If a person did grab a gun, would they react the same if an ordinance officer also had a gun?"

Larson, Greenstein, Bodenmiller, and Donahue voted to allow ordinance officers to carry guns, while Clerk John Flodin, Noel Culbert, and Daley voted "no."

Supervisor Noel Culbert said township attorneys advised him that there will be liability risks for the township if the officers carried guns and if they didn't.

Twp. bans cougar, tranquilizer weapon

Cougars aren't permitted in Plymouth Township and the animal warden can't buy a tranquilizer pistol there either.

In two separate motions last Tuesday night, the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees denied a request from resident Melvin Motter to keep a cougar in the township and also denied a request from animal warden Steve Rapson to buy a tranquilizer pistol for $150.

"While I drive a Cougar, I must assume what Mr. Motter is requesting is something a little different," Donald Morgan, township attorney, wryly noted at the meeting.

"All kidding aside, a cougar is a dangerous animal and those are prohibited under the township's zoning ordinance," he continued.

Rapson's pistol request was denied because "the reaction of some dogs to the pistol may be negative," said Supervisor Tom Notebaert. The township shouldn't be exposed to the legalities involved, if a dog were hurt as a result of using the pistol, Notebaert added.

Trustee Maurice Breen said: "If the warden missed a dog, the pistol could hurt a child."

Rapson asked for the pistol to help capture stray dogs. He did not cite cougars as a specific problem in the township, however he did say he had asked the Canton Animal Warden to aid him when one dog in a neighborhood was particularly hard to snare.

Both motions received unanimous support from the board.

Starting Oct. 15 City to suck leaves

The City of Plymouth will begin the annual pickup of leaves throughout the city the week of Oct. 15.

Residents can place their leaves by the curb in the street. Only leaves placed in the street will be picked up.

Residents should place their leaves at the curb as soon as possible so they can be removed prior to any accumulation of snow, said city DPW.

There is no set schedule when trucks will be in your area, although an attempt will be made to collect leaves from every area of the city at least once a week.

The Department of Public Works has set the week of Nov. 26 as the date when trucks will make the last pass throughout the city. Thereafter, any leaves, residents will have to bag them for their regular refuse pickup.

Board mulls first-aid precautions in school

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

A policy outlining the procedures for protecting the health and safety of students while in school was tabled by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Monday night.

Some board members criticized the new policy for being incomplete and not containing specific information.

Board members Flossie Tonda, Carol Davis, and Sylvia Stetz favored stronger language in the first-aid procedures listed in the policy which said: "At the elementary level, two persons in each building should be trained in standard first aid and personal safety first aid. One person so trained should be in the building at all times."

"We could change 'should' to 'will' in this policy which would force school administrators to make sure persons in the schools assume those responsibilities," said Richard Arlen, acting president Monday night because of Tom Yack's absence.

Superintendent John Hoben responded: "Employees don't want the liability involved (if such a policy were in effect). We have an adequate number of trained personnel in each building; for example, physical education teachers must take first aid training in order to get their teaching certificates."

"The school district could be sued if someone tried to prove that a school employe was negligent in giving first-aid treatment," said Hoben.

Stetz countered this idea: "Is the school district more responsible if no first-aid trained personnel are at a school or if we do require such training and then get sued for negligence?"

"In either case, if negligence is established the Good Samaritan Law (which states that a person can't be held liable for action taken during an accident if the action is done with prudence and in good faith to help someone who's been hurt in an accident doesn't hold up," said Hoben.

The policy will be reconsidered by the board at a later, undetermined date, after information on refrigeration for medicines, emergency card information, and other procedures are included in the policy.

In a related issue, board members heard the case of a child at Hulsing School who is severely allergic to bee stings. Her mother, Valerie Gildo of Canton, complained to the board Monday night, saying that her daughter's emergency medical card hadn't been transferred with her when she was switched to Hulsing because of the boundary changes.

Because of her reaction to bee stings, she must keep her medicine with her at all times, but the school wouldn't accept her medication and didn't have trained personnel there to give her shots if she was stung, said Gildo.

"I'm appalled by this kind of experience," said board member Stephen Harper. "But even first-aid training wouldn't teach personnel how to give shots," he said.

Jock-freak fracas ends in six arrests at CEP

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Six Salem High School students were arrested Tuesday afternoon following a fracas involving some 300 students and more than a dozen Wayne County Sheriff and Michigan State Police units at Centennial Educational Park.

No injuries were reported in the confrontation, which, witnesses say, began with name-calling between "jocks" and the "freaks" (also called "zarks") in Salem's South Mall and Commons areas.

Several windows were broken in the school and rocks, fruit, milk cartons and other debris littered the area following the incident. At least one sheriff's car was defaced, police said.

The students began rocking one of the first of two sheriff cars on the scene and "came close to tipping me right over a couple of times," said Deputy Andy Pruner, who was in the car. Also on the scene was Sheriff Cpl. Marty Stress.

Faced with the crowd, they called in a signal for assistance and were aided by available sheriff and State Police one-man and two-man units and the sheriff helicopter.

Five of the six students arrested for disorderly conduct were juveniles. The sixth, Lisa A. Siebert, 18, of 45020 Turtlehead, was charged with obstructing justice after she allegedly attempted to release other students from the back of a sheriff patrol car, police and witnesses said.

Witnesses to the incident reported that the arguments between the two groups began over discussions of Salem's upcoming homecoming festivities.

Salem Principal Bill Brown said he was "saddened" by the incident involving "very minority groups of students." Using the school's public address system, he directed all students to their classrooms where an official roll call was taken to account

Still no signatures on final teacher contract

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

When will Plymouth-Canton teachers ratify their contracts for 1979 through 1982.

That question still remains unanswered, according to a negotiations update from Superintendent John Hoben and John Ryder, president of the Plymouth-Canton Education Association.

Both teams are waiting to receive a written opinion from fact-finder George E. Gullen on the compounding factor in the teachers' salary scales. The teams met with Gullen last Friday to iron out their different interpretations of the compounding effect and Gullen's opinion should be forthcoming this week, said Ryder.

Acceptance of Gullen's report led to the end of a 10-day teachers' strike in early September.

After the two teams receive his report, the final teachers' contract must be written so that both sides agree to it. Then, the contract must be printed and distributed to teachers at least 48 hours before a ratification vote can be taken, said Ryder.

Meanwhile, contract negotiations are still continuing for the five other employe groups in the district whose contracts expired last summer.

Teams representing the school board and the principals have reached an impasse in negotiations and are still trying to set up a date to meet with a mediator from the Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC), said Hoben. In an earlier update, a school official reported that the two teams were "about two percentage points apart in their salary offers."

Negotiations with the other employe groups which are teachers' aides, cafeteria workers, secretaries, and bus drivers are "progressing," said Hoben. "We're still meeting with the others and progress is being made. Otherwise, (I think) there would be more hostility from them," said Hoben.

At the school board meeting Monday night, one bus driver agreed, saying that the bus drivers were almost starting over in writing their contract. "It's been a long haul, but we are making progress," she said.

Wine Lines

Ahmad and Shirley Jallad

Perhaps the greatest of the German wines is the Trockenbeerauslese. It is a mouthful of a name and a mouthful of a wine. It is made, as some of the best French wines, with grapes that have a covering of Noble rot. Noble rot is a mold which eats through the skin of the grape, lets water evaporate and leaves just the essence for wine making. Grapes with such a mold occur only under very special conditions, especially damp autumn fogs and are often hard to pick. But, wine fans will attest that the effort is worth the taste.

For great taste with little effort, come to the CHEESE & WINE BARN 515 Forest Ave. At the CHEESE & WINE BARN you will discover the many items that stock our shelves that serve as something special for meals or parties. ### MORTGAGE PROTECTION

Homeowners insurance is great. It can protect you against almost any conceivable damage or accident that can happen in, on, around and even away from your home. But do not make the mistake of thinking that your homeowners insurance will pay off your mortgage upon the breadwinner's death. It won't.

For this type of protection, and it is desirable, you must purchase a certain type of term life insurance policy for a period of time equal to the length of the mortgage loan.

The premiums on such policies are relatively low — in fact, they are about the lowest cost life insurance policies you can buy because the insurance protection decreases with the reduction of your mortgage. Most insurance companies will tailor a plan to fit your needs and in many cases you can have the payments included in your mortgage payment to the bank. Check with your insurance agent and he will be able to give you the details regarding this protection.

Refer to our Crier Classified Ad for a home which illustrates the information given in my column today.

Cops warn kids of drug dangers

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

"Don't smoke pot and drive."
"Don't drink and drive."

Seventh graders at Central Middle School heard that advice Monday morning from Bob Garcia, the community services officer from the Michigan State Police, during their health class.

"The worst drunk is not a person who staggers out. That guy will pass out before he ever gets behind the wheel," Garcia said.

"Instead, the worst drunk is a borderline case — the guy who thinks he can drive normally and doesn't realize that his responses have been slowed down by either booze or drugs," Garcia cautioned.

Garcia spoke to the seventh graders for about 45 minutes. The visit was arranged by health teacher Diane Gustin and student teacher Debbie Horic.

During the program, Garcia asked how many students knew someone who smoked marijuana. About 15 hands shot up. There were about 30 students in the class.

Are drugs a problem at middle schools? Gustin responded: "There's very, very little drug abuse here." School administrators are quick to respond to unexplained student absences and they also keep a close watch on the bathrooms — the place where students usually light up, she said.

Garcia's program was informational for students. He passed around plastic-enclosed samples of pills and hashish so that students would recognize the contrabands. "None of you have ever used these — have you?" he inquired.

"Oh, no!" the class responded quickly.

"No sampling," Garcia teased.

Also during his program, Garcia explained various procedures he uses as a state trooper including search and seizure rules and arrest procedures. He also talked about the dangers of popping unknown pills into your body. "If you can't have a good time without getting drunk, then you're like a mental alcoholic," he said.

Garcia said the state police would like to develop a breathalyzer test for marijuana so that officers can determine if a person is under its influence by simply breathing into a machine that analyzes what a person has been smoking.

"Don't drink and drive"

"AS YOU GET OLDER, you'll think that drinking is really neat. You're going to have to decide if it's worth it — if you drink and drive together," Officer Bob Garcia told seventh graders at Central Middle School Monday morning. (Crier photo by Patricia Bartold.)

City DPW workers return to job

After a brief "illness," the City of Plymouth DPW workers were back on their jobs Tuesday.

Workers called in sick last Thursday, apparently to protest the status of negotiations on their contract, which expired

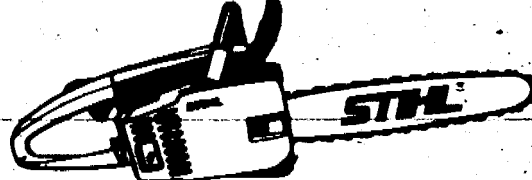

June 30.

The city notified the 16 DPW union members — 12 of whom were involved in the action, according to the city — that they were being docked for the days off. In response, the union filed an unfair labor practice charge against the city.

During the "sick out," which ended Tuesday morning, DPW management personnel handled the major tasks confronting the department, said DPW Chief Ken Vogras.

Canton gives cable TV bid to Canadian firm

BY CHAS CHILD

A Canadian firm, Maclean-Hunter, was awarded a franchise to erect a cable-television system in Canton Township.

The Board of Trustees voted 4-3 to grant Maclean-Hunter the business over three other companies, Omnicom of Michigan, Metrovision, and United.

The bidding came down to a contest between a giant in the cable TV industry, Maclean-Hunter, and a recently formed company, Omnicom of Michigan.

"We should defer to companies with a proven record of full service," said Supervisor Noel Culbert. "And that is either Maclean or Metrovision."

A letter submitted by Omnicom from Capital Cities Broadcasting, which promised financial backing for Omnicom if it received the township's franchise, failed to alter

Culbert's leaning toward a larger company.

Culbert, Treasurer Jim Donahue, Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, and Clerk John Flodin supported Maclean-Hunter, while Trustees Bob Greenstein, Stephen Larson, and Eugene Daley voted against the Canadian firm.

Greenstein opposed Maclean-Hunter partly because of its Canadian ownership. "The Arabs control our oil, and now Canadians control our TV," he said. "When will it stop?"

Scott Colbran, Maclean's representative at the meeting, objected to Greenstein's statements. "Seventy per cent of all manufacturing in Canada is owned by Americans," he said. "I don't take kindly to those kind of statements." He added that the firm that will handle Canton's franchise is a Michi-

Does wrecker await tree house?

THERE MAY BE NO HOPE for this tree house built in the backyard of the Mueller family on Westbury in Plymouth Township. Thursday night, the Zoning Board of Appeals ruled that the tree house, which measures about 10 x 10 x 14 feet, must be moved or taken down. All necessary buildings must be at least five feet from the property line and the average roof height must be no more than 12 feet high, said Jim Briggs, township building official. The tree house, pictured with sons, Kevin, 6, on the ladder, and Scott, 8, inside the house, sits on the property now, shows by the neighbor's fence above. Neighbors complained the nest is too large, too close to the property line, and the Mueller's continued to build the porch after a work stoppage order had been issued from township building officials. "If nothing's done, we'll have to issue a citation - for $500 or time in jail," said Briggs. Sandy Mueller said the family hasn't decided whether to move the treehouse, tear it down, or go to court. ## Canton ponders policy to limit costs, new hiring

BY CHAS CHILD

Strict cost-cutting guidelines for Canton's government were expected to be approved by the Board of Trustees last night.

Written by Treasurer Jim Donahue, the budget policy aims to eliminate new hiring and capital expenditures.

"We must come to grips with our declining revenue," said Donahue. "We don't have the income we once had. We are not going to be a federal Congress that writes checks on funds we don't have."

Here are the major points of the proposed guidelines, according to Donahue:

1) No more capital expenditures of any kind, even if they're included in this year's approved budget. Capital expenditures, versus those for personnel or operating supplies, include such things as purchases of land or, on a smaller scale, a desk.

2) No new positions created in any department.

3) No replacement of personnel after they leave any department except those which deliver services called crucial. These crucial services are police, fire, water, sewer, and trash pick-up.

Besides these measures, Donahue proposed to move the authority to hire temporary or part-time personnel from the supervisor to the board of trustees. However, the supervisor may hire on an emergency basis, but his actions must be approved by the board at its next meeting, said the treasurer.

These guidelines were scheduled to be considered by the board at last night's meeting. "I expect unanimous approval," Donahue said.

A two-thirds majority of the board would be necessary to countermand the guidelines, said Donahue.

"There are two basic reasons for our declining sources of income," said Donahue. "First, thanks to Headlee, we will probably get zero money from the state next year."

We had about $400,000 this year, and $700,000 last year. With Headlee, the state is holding on to every penny they've got.

"Second, fees collected by township departments for their services are declining. Building (fees), for example, are down," he said.

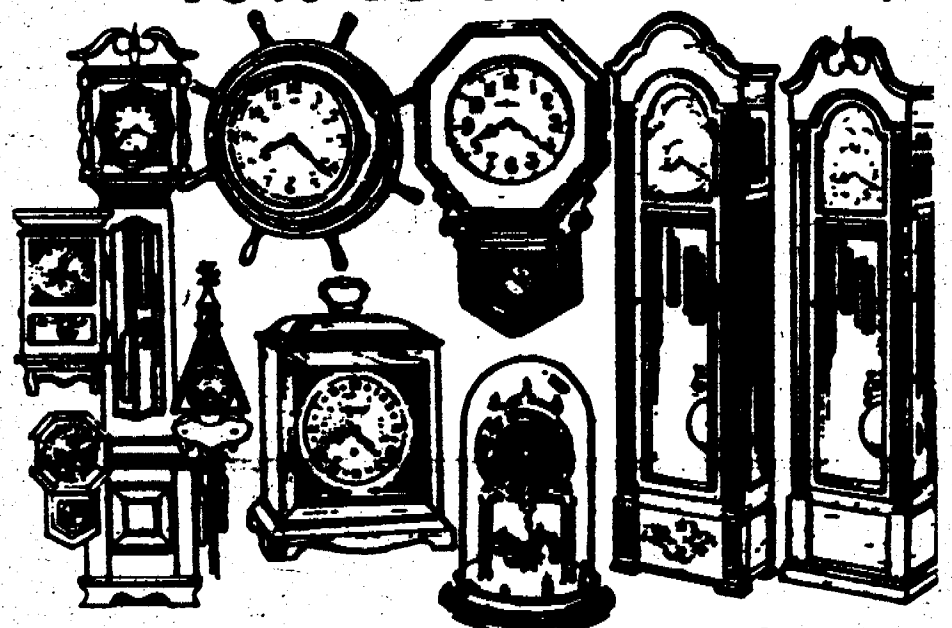

To raise more money, the treasurer said various departments are revising their fee structures, including the planning and recreation departments. This means it will probably cost athletes more to play softball and other sports offered by the Canton recreation department next year, he said.

How long will the cost-cutting measures last? "Until we know how the economy is going," said Donahue. "We're in a period of uncertainty. I believe we should play it cautious now. Any money saved now won't be lost -- it will be in the bank."

"I'd rather go this way than find in a year that we've spent everything on non-essentials and see we don't have any money for, say, police protection," he added.

The fiscal guidelines come on the heels of raises by the board in the police millage (from 2 to 3.25 mills) and the general-fund millage (from 4.5 to 5 mills).

Abracadabra! Water is now oil

Having had little success for some time in selling its Beck Road well field, the City of Plymouth may have hit upon a unique marketing strategy.

Approved minutes of the Sept. 4 commission meeting refer to the property as an "oil field" in recording the sale of the land for $393,500.

Canton denies rezoning for movie theater

Developers who want to build a movie theater on Ford Road in Canton were denied a request for rezoning Monday night.

The Planning Commission, on the recommendation of township Planning Director Jim Kosteva, voted to 5-2 to turn down the request.

Kosteva told the commission that the parcel, located on the south side of Ford, between Lilley and Morton-Taylor, should remain zoned for residential uses.

"He (the landowner) has failed to show that residential is an unreasonable designation for the property," said Kosteva. "Land zoned residential north, south, and west of this (which is residential) shows this can be a viable land use."

Neighbors of the proposed movie theater opposed the development at commission hearings held in July.

A lawyer for the theater's developer, said it would not add to Ford Road's traffic problems, would not burden the Plymouth-Canton school district, and would provide tax dollars to the community.

The developers can still take their request to the Board of Trustees, which has final say in such matters.

In late September, the developers filed suit against the township, asking for a rezoning to permit commercial uses. They claimed that the land is best suited for commercial development.

City wins housing grant

The City of Plymouth Housing Commission has been awarded a grant by the federal government to help relieve the budget of the Tonquish Creek Manor senior citizen housing project.

The $3,856 award was one of only six such one-time grants made in the United States by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The grant will offer relief to the presently strained budget of Tonquish Creek Manor, said Housing Commissioners Betty Andrews, Barry Simescu, Clyde Nichols, Liv Williams, and Dorothy Sincock.

Hazardous fun

AS WE'VE SAID BEFORE, planning for the annual Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Fowl Festival needs to include more concern for crowd control and safety. The safety of parade-watchers is in jeopardy with some of the huge vehicles that pass through the crowd without benefit of barriers. Besides, the chickens will fly better without hordes of folks staring them in the face. -- THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Child's play

by Chas Child

Anyone who's watched the film "Dr. Strangelove" will probably remember the episode of the Doomsday machine, the ultimate weapon created by the Russians, which was capable of destroying the world. It was triggered to go off if the Soviet Union was attacked.

The Russians made a fatal mistake, however: They didn't tell the world about it. So when a lone American bomber, launched by an insane U.S. Air Force officer, penetrated the Soviets' defense, the world was annihilated.

The moral of the story is: The other fellow must know you're armed before it will deter him from rash action. Which is why it made no sense for Canton's Board of Trustees to permit their ordinance officers to carry concealed weapons.

While enforcing such laws regulating zoning, junk cars, and such, ordinance officers meet nasty and often irate persons. But not once has anyone pulled a gun on a Canton ordinance officer.

Their duty is sometimes an unpleasant one, but it does not require firearms. They're asking for trouble. An argument could escalate to a shoot-out. And a death could subject the township to million-dollar lawsuits.

Furthermore, board members did not give proper consideration to their decision to arm the officers. The psychology of using guns is complex. You arm such men only after consulting experts in such fields as psychology and criminology. This wasn't done. It was a seat-of-the-pants judgment by many of the trustees.

Certainly there's risks in both arming and not arming the officers. But Canton is not playing the favorable odds.

Bartold ya'

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

"To be or not to be -- that is the question" or perhaps a more accurate rendering of Hamlet's quotation in this case is "To have or not to have -- and Shakespeare is the question."

Plymouth-Canton parents were up in arms a couple weeks ago when rumors filtered around the school district saying that Shakespeare was not being offered at the Centennial Education Park this year.

To verify that rumor, I called Gerald Ostoin, area coordinator for the Language Arts (what some of us who are not-so-versed-in-educational-ese still call "English") program.

"If that were the case, it would be tragic," said Ostoin over the telephone, as he invited me out to his Salem High School office to see for myself how Shakespeare fits into the average high schooler's curriculum. "For 15 minutes in my office, I can show you what would take an hour's explanation over the telephone," he said.

The truth of the matter is: Yes, there is not Shakespeare course as such, but it would be false to assume that Shakespeare is not included in the high school curriculum said Ostoin. Why was the separate Shakespeare class dropped? Because enrollment in the course had declined so drastically over the past three years that it became too expensive to offer.

As Ostoin duly noted, Shakespeare hasn't been dropped entirely from the CEP curriculum. His plays, sonnets, and poems are still studied in British Literature I and II and also in the graduation-required course for freshmen students.

The difference this year is that Shakespeare is not studied as one separate course.

Shakespeare, however, wasn't the only mortality in English courses dropped at the Park. Other courses which are no longer being offered, also because of lack of student enrollment, are The Bible as Literature, (which is a non-secular approach to the Bible, Ostoin assured me), Greek and Roman Mythological Literature, and Emerson.

Although these courses have been dropped this year, they may be revived next year or the year after that, Ostoin said. Many of those courses were paired up and offered on an alternate basis every other year, Ostoin explained.

In essence, there's still a glimmer of hope for Shakespeare and his counterparts at the Park. "Historically such classes have been brought back into the curriculum," said Ostoin. "However, I don't know about these classes now."

Ostoin's dilemma is a classic one: As parents have clamored, a high school curriculum without Shakespeare is incomplete. Yet, without enough students to justify a course for it, educators can't be expected to crowd 40 students in a more popular course in order to allow a handful of students to take a less popular course, such as Shakespeare apparently was at the Park.

The most popular courses being offered in the Language Arts program at the Park are in grammar, composition, and British and American Literature, said Ostoin. "Their popularity is in response to mom and dad's influence," Ostoin added.

So, the real question of why Shakespeare isn't being offered as a separate course at the Park, is dropped right back into the parents' laps.

Maybe, if sons and daughters found their parents sitting up reading Shakespeare instead of being glued to Laverne and Shirley on the tube -- there might be more students who want such course offerings at the Park.

Therein lies the glimmer of hope for getting Shakespeare back into the Park's curriculum.

'Erratic' people needed

EDITOR:

In regard to your article Oct. 3 Child's Play, for print, the following, it is time to answer you.

In the past, you have charged me with grandstanding and being an opportunist. Because I was loud in defending homeowners, who had warranty problems with their houses.

I got over 50 homes repaired, sidewalks, driveways put in, raised so much hell, former supervisor enacted HOW, homeowners insurance.

You say my criticism is mostly erratic and weak. Is it because I defended business and industry (that is a good tax base) and criticize the Canton Township board for too much spending, not prepared at times on important decisions, allowing (Supervisor Noel) Culbert to moonlight during office hours, trustee Bob Greenstein law firm's conflict of interest in Canton, the township board giving a Canadian-based company cable TV rights in Canton, instead of American-based firms, and also I speak against Canton ordinance officers carrying firearms (which Trustee Carol Bodenmiller, Treasurer Jim Donahue, Greenstein and Trustee Stephen Larson support).

If that is being erratic, we need more erratic people in Canton Township. If that is being weak what do call strong?

GARY ROBERTS

Highway drive still needed

Before the state opens the new M-14 expressway to Ann Arbor, the Plymouth Township Board should do a bit of housekeeping.

As previously discussed through the Citizens Committee for United Services study of firefighting facilities, the location of the township's Station No. 2 on the edge of the freeway -- without access to it -- leaves a dangerous situation.

A simple relatively-inexpensive entrance ramp for emergency vehicles would not only allow for access to expressway mishaps, but would also provide better emergency services to the western portion of the township as well.

By resolution, the Plymouth Township Board should serve notice to the state that it protests the opening of the expressway without such a ramp since the township is expected to provide fire and rescue services when the location of the expressway makes it almost impossible to gain easy access.

Without such a statement, the township bears the responsibility of added problems it is not now prepared to handle. That resolution won't stop the state from opening the expressway, but it will provide motivation to correct the problem.

A round of applause to ..

In these times of "not getting involved," it was heartening to see the instant help of several citizens following last Tuesday's car crash at Northville and Five Mile roads in Plymouth Township.

According to Michigan State Police Trooper Larry Richardson and his partner Mike Oliver, the 20 or so men who pitched in immediately saved the lives of a Detroit couple who were trapped under water in their car.

Although the driver of the car could not be saved, the two passengers were pinned in the flattened car which fell on its roof in the Rouge River.

In addition to the troopers wading in, the following passersby (among others) were instrumental in rescuing the passengers: Wayne County Road Commission sign shop employes Abdal Badalah, Richard Crantson, Keith Benning, John Parsell, Larry Ashley and Ricky DeMatties, and Michigan Bell Telephone workers William Baker and Dennis Painter.

Without the quick thinking of those men, the man and woman may have died in the submerged car. They deserve the community's round of applause.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

by Fred DeLano

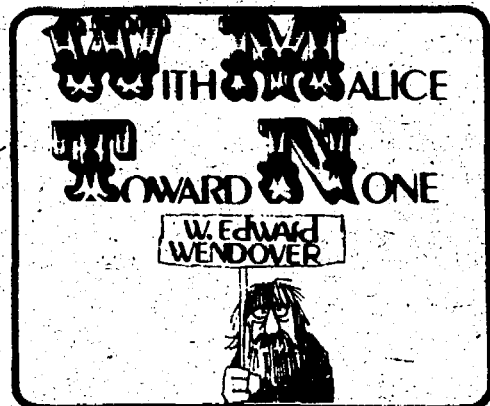

through bifocals

A milestone of significance to many of this area will be reached later this year, but it probably will pass with little fanfare.

The reference is to the fact that on Dec. 8 it will be just 20 years since St. Mary Hospital opened its doors.

Although St. Mary possesses a Livonia address, it is truly a regional entity which through the years has had strong support from residents of the Plymouth-Canton Community in a number of ways -- not the least being the fact that a day never passes without some of our local folk being among the patients.

With only three months of the City of Plymouth's budget year already gone, there's not much of a cushion left to get through the year.

The growing costs of city services is rapidly pushing the city close to its charter millage limitation.

Of late, the boost in depleting the contingency fund for the city has come from "unexpected" places -- as is always the case.

A new roof here, a new compressor there plus the retirement of three key city employes -- including former City Manager Fred L. Yockey -- leaves the city close to red ink with nine months of the year to go.

With labor contracts in the DPW and police departments unresolved, and with a new refuse-collection contract to be negotiated, there's just not much hope for ending this budget year on a good note.

The implication is clear: unless new tax base or revenues are found, further cutbacks or tax hikes face city residents.

community opinions

In fact, it might surprise you to know just how many from our midst do turn to St. Mary for their care.

Sister Mary Columbine, who has been president of the hospital operational organization all these 20 years, dug into her files for such an analysis and it was revealing.

Checking residential addresses for the last full year at her fingertips, Sister Columbine revealed that in 1977 there were 1,113 Plymouth occupants in the hospital for overnight care for varying periods at one time or another, and 478 from Canton. That averages out at a fraction more than four people a day and is about par for the course.

Some of the most respected doctors of our community are oldtimers on the St. Mary staff and have added greatly to the professionalism of the hospital's reputation as the years have gone by. Without attempting to list the full roster, you can start such a list with Dr. Ray Barber, Dr. Willard Den Houter, Dr. Walter Hammond and Dr. David McCubbrey.

It isn't the intention here to cite St. Mary's local popularity, if you want to call it that, at the expense of University Hospital, St. Joseph, Beyer, Garden City Osteopathic, Botsford or any other institution within easy reach that may have earned your own accolade.

Nor is this to say that the dedication and skills of one staff exceed those of another. They all are men and women of giant professional stature on whom we can rely in the hour of medical need, and in all honesty they are too often taken for granted.

What prompted this columnist's St. Mary train of thought originated in an August golf outing where the total proceeds were earmarked for the hospital. I was curious to find out from Sister Columbine how much money was raised and how it will be spent.

This was the second summer golfers had participated in such a St. Mary benefit and among the participants no community was better represented than ours. It turns out that the hospital has been enriched by $72,000-plus from the two outings, and it will go for much needed cardiac equipment.

The aspect about the 20th anniversary came into the conversation by accident, and one senses that among those for whom St. Mary is a home away from home the digits aren't much more important than 19 was last year or 21 will be in 1980.

Besides, Sister Columbine, who admits to having reached "the age of maturity," is already thinking about turning the silver anniversary in 1984 into one of lasting significance; with years of pre-planning giving it area impact.

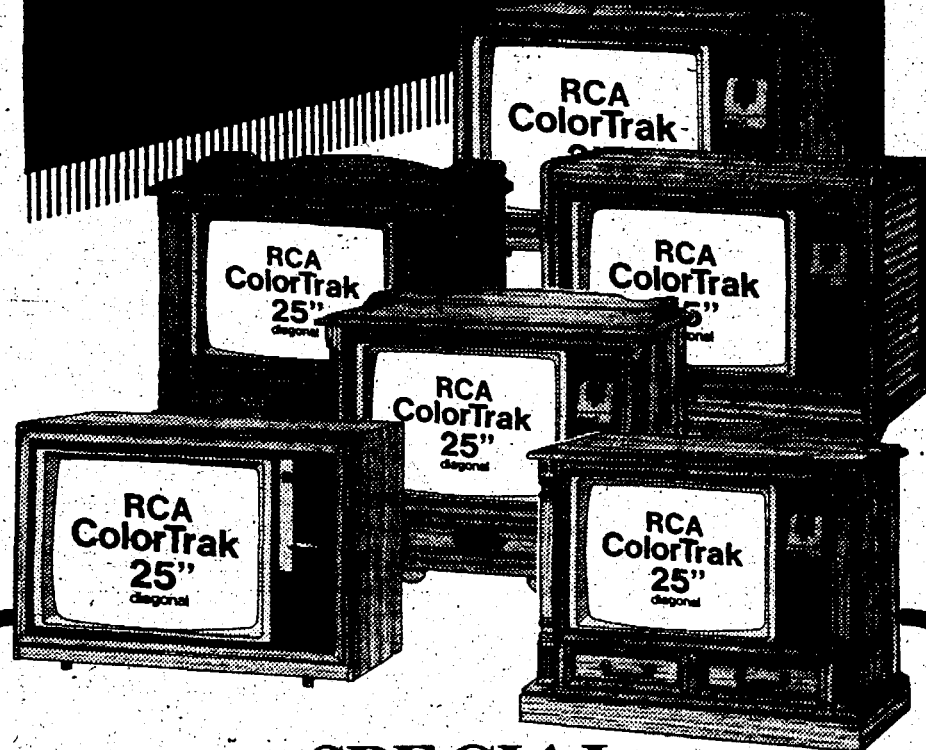

Lest you confuse the word silver with loose pocket change, you are welcome to substitute folding green. Or hadn't you noticed how medical costs are rising too?

First Step volunteers needed for domestic assault victims

First Step, a Western Wayne County project on domestic assault, needs volunteers to help with telephone crisis counseling, emergency transportation, clerical jobs, and writing newsletters, according to Barbara Troy, volunteer coordinator.

Volunteers are asked to give a minimum of four hours per week plus a time commitment of at least six months.

Crisis counselors will receive training in spouse abuse, empathy training, crisis counseling, and legal and social services advocacy. Services, which are free to battered women of 32 area communities, include crisis counseling; individual, group, and family counseling; assailant counseling; and court and police liaison help.

First Step is partially funded through a grant from Plymouth Township. To volunteer, call Corinne at 595-1112 for a screening interview.

tell it to Phyllis

Being stopped by a train in Plymouth is a common, everyday occurrence that most of us take for granted. It's one of those facts of life, like brushing your teeth, combing your hair, and making lunches every morning. You can also expect to be 10 minutes late for work because of a train.

However, before using the train for an excuse, it's best to make sure there is a train track between your house and your work. Speaking with a voice of experience, you look pretty stupid trying to explain about the long train, when the boss knows there's no train track within miles of where you live. Oh well, anything is worth a try once in awhile. I wonder if he'd believe me if I said an airplane landed on the road ahead of me.

While trains may be a fact of life, they are also a royal pain in the neck. No matter where you go in Plymouth, there seems to be a track blocking your way.

Have you ever wondered how many marriages have ended in divorce, or how many friendships have gone down the drain while waiting for a train? Next time you're trapped at the tracks look around at the people in the cars next to you. There's the husband and wife who are not speaking because she wanted to come this way and he is missing the kick-off to the all-important football game. Behind you is a car loaded with eight tired kids and a mother and father ready to sue the train company.

Then there's the car in front of you - the young couple, either they're just getting to know each other, or they're getting to know each other very well (not realizing they have an audience in the car behind them).

Last week I encountered one of those not so unique experiences. After waiting for 20 minutes, I decided either there was an accident or the darn train was just sitting there to see how far my frustration level could be pushed. I finally gave up and drove around to Haggerty Road just in time to see the crossing gates come down. There I sat watching the same darn train go by that was blocking Main Street only moments before.

There is nothing worse than having a "former" friend sit there and say, "if you had stayed at the first crossing, we would have been home by now."

I kept my cool when I explained to my "one-time friend" that she could be my guest and run back to the first crossing to make sure it was clear, or if she was in that big a hurry, she could try jumping between the train cars (I'm sure the train wasn't going much over 45 or 50 miles per hour).

Since the railroad companies don't seem to be doing much about the law limiting them to blocking the cross roads for only five minutes, I wonder if they would consider building little wait stations. The stations wouldn't have to be very big, just big enough to sell a cold beer or two to frustrated drivers trying to think up a good excuse for being late again.

Bill's flying the friendly skies

Up, up, and away went Bill White's helium balloon on Sunday, Sept. 9 during Fall Festival and nine-year old Bill wasn't sure whether he'd ever hear about it again.

Inside the balloon, Bill placed a note with his name and address on it and he asked the balloon recipient to respond.

That very same afternoon, a little girl found the balloon in her backyard while she was playing, according to Bill's mom. The balloon had flown to Fraser, a town north of Detroit, within hours of its launching from Plymouth.

The two kids are pen-pals now, reported Bill's mother, Helen White. Fall Festival, 1979 meant making a new friend for Bill White.

Father Berry reported the day was "memorable" because he was promoted to vice president of the First National Bank of Plymouth where he works on the same day that his son was born.

City budget

of which $17,480 will probably come from the contingency fund.

*A retirement settlement for former Fire Chief George Shoenneman of $10,010.79 from the contingency and for Deputy City Clerk Linnea Sallow of $5,272.47, of which $3,954 will probably be paid by the contingency.

*Part of the cost of reroofing the library and city cemetery mausoleum, amounting to $5,281 out of the contingency.

*A total of $8,900 out of contingency funds for a new ice arena air compressor.

Thus far, the City Commission has not formally acted to use the contingency fund for the retirement severances, but Acting City Manager Ken Way and City Clerk Paul Brumfield say that is the likely way of handling the payments.

Only a portion of the Yockey and Sallow retirements will be charged to the general-fund contingency, Brumfield said, because the remainder would be spread over other city fund accounts. But, he added, since the other funds were not budgeted to cover those costs, "the general fund may have to kick in more from the other funds."

The problem facing City Hall, therefore, is a nearly spent contingency fund with the following several expenses which may yet be placed on it:

*The expiration in December of the city's refuse collection contract. Although the proposed budget originally called for a $24,600 increase, the budget currently calls for spending about the same as in the past year for this service -- some $145,000. But, Way agreed with Brumfield, who said, "We don't expect to get the same service for the same cost."

*Labor negotiations with the police and DPW unions are not as yet settled, and if the contracts cost more than is budgeted, the difference will likely have to come from contingencies.

FLYING THE COOP, SO TO SPEAK.

CHASING CHICKENS

'Millage Idiot' wins!

BY EGGMAR BIRDMAN

The millage won Sunday. No, not a school millage, but "Millage Idiot," the winning bird in Sunday's Fowl Festival chicken-flying contest.

Entered by the Northville Township trustees, Millage Idiot flew 70 feet from the starting basket to win the $300 top prize.

Second place was captured by Weed Eater II, entered by Saxton's Garden Center, who won 450. Saxton's chicken also took second last year.

The winning float in the parade which preceded the flying contest was owned by the Plymouth-Canton Parents Without Partners, who won $100 for its efforts.

One hundred and two chickens entered the contest sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. Proceeds from the event will benefit the Chamber's upcoming advertising efforts, said Larry Janes, the "King of the Coop," who organized and emceed the event.

"It went very well," said Janes. "And I want to thank some people whose help was really appreciated -- Woody Lynch, Sharon and Dave Pugh, Dick York, and ERic Lorenz and his friends."

Janes added that he was a little disappointed with the way the chickens supplied by the Chamber flew. "Next year I hope we can find some chickens that are used to flying, that aren't coop chickens," he said.

Crier Flier shyer

Where was The Crier Flier -- Pullet Surprise -- in Sunday's race? Well, admitted The Crier's Chicken Trainer and Advertising Director Ron Henn, Pullet was sitting on a bar stool keeping warm when the call went out for the 12th heat.

The slightly frozen capon had left his warm-up jacket back on the farm and was downing a medicinal hot toddy to revive his flying spirits, said Henn.

Despite the poor (or none at all) showing of The Crier Flier, Henn noted optimistically that the total distance flown this year was better than last year when The Flier gained a negative yard out of the chute.

Next year, pledged Henn, "our bird won't chicken out."

for missing students.

Brown said he called for police surveillance because "I was not going to allow the school to be destroyed. I was concerned for the safety of these young people."

According to the principal, the schools may follow up the incident with disciplinary actions.

Following the fifth hour of classes at Salem, Dismissal was delayed shortly until the halls and commons were cleared. Later class changes and the end of the school day occurred without incident, Brown said.

MORE THAN 200 persons came to watch the Rotary Club of Canton's Song and Dance STAGE Show Saturday night at Salem High. Above, Little Miss Easter Seal Mosaic Evans wows the crowd with her songs. Proceeds from the Friday and Saturday night performances were donated to support Canton Community services.

gan corporation owned by its parent firm in Canada.

Greenstein and Larson, both on the three-member committee chosen to study the cable TV issue, supported Omnicom. Larson said that the township would have more control over a local American firm.

Greenstein objected to an offer by Maclean to give the township five per cent of total revenues, rather than three per cent the firm offered earlier.

The trustee said that Maclean had said that a five per cent franchise fee proposed by United was unrealistic and had little chance of being approved by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

"I detest Maclean for offering the five per cent, which they said was a phony offer earlier," said Greenstein.

"We won't get in a bidding war," said John Raines, of Omnicom, who had offered the township three per cent. "We've put our emphasis on building the best system. Maclean will favor their most profitable communities and if they're offering five per cent, Canton will be slighted."

After Maclean received the franchise by the 4-3 vote, Larson moved that Omnicom also receive a franchise. "Omnicom (officials) said they could beat them (Maclean)," he said.

"I can't believe one company will come in an overwire another company," said Colbran, objecting to Larson's motion. "I defy you to find another place in the U.S. where there are two companies."

Larson's motion failed 4-3, with Greenstein, Larson, and Bodenmiller casting "yes" votes.

Finally, Daley moved to grant Metrovision franchise, "to give them an equal chance," he said. By the same 4-3 vote, though, the motion failed.

Holly's fined

A Plymouth restaurant, Holly's by Golly, was ordered to pay two $300 fines by the Liquor Control Commission for selling to persons under 21 years of age, according to the Michigan Beverage News.

The restaurant was cited for two counts by the LCC for selling to minors on January 20, 1979, the trade journal said.

Patrol snags

cluding about $3,000 per year for each officer in overtime and court costs.

Furthermore, the three-year contract proposal calls for the township to pay for the salaries of five officers and four officers would be funded through Wayne County.

A one-mill increase for police services was approved by township voters on Sept. 11.

Notebaert said township officials would like to see the contract settled and patrols on the road by Dec. 1. If, however, the contract proposal doesn't work out with Wayne County, Notebaert said that officials had also talked informally with Northville Township and the City of Plymouth about instituting police services for township residents. "But we haven't been told that the sheriff's union isn't interested (in contracting with us)," said Notebaert.

He also added that he was bolstered by the fact that the Wayne County Secondary Road Patrol which assigns a one-man car to the township now is still operational. "The secondary road patrol has one-man cars and the sheriff's management felt that was sufficient," said Notebaert.

The road patrol car is usually manned by Deputy Andy Pruner, a resident of Plymouth Township.

Let's Talk Real Estate

by Barbara M. Olson

Looking for a house to buy? Do you have or are you planning on a family? No doubt the quality of the local schools will be a prime concern. Many school systems are in turmoil these days because of problems with budgets, teachers, integration, and even student violence. It is a good idea to investigate the schools before buying. Ask the neighbors and your real estate broker. Often, your broker can suggest reasonable, viable alternatives if such is the case. He also can allay flaws based on information and rumor that are simply not accurate.

Let professional real estate personnel at the office of REALTY-WORLD-COLONIAL VILLAGE INC., 42142 Ford Rd., Canton, 455-7790 help you select a home in a community that best suits your families particular needs. We know real estate values throughout this area and are familiar with the school systems and other services. "The All Service Real Estate Office" Open: Mon.-Sat. 9-9, Sun. 10-6.

DID YOU KNOW?

Chiefs lose homecoming battle Defense tough till closing minutes

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Livonia Churchill scored all three of its touchdowns in the final nine minutes Friday night to hand Canton a 20-0 homecoming game defeat.

The Chargers' defensive team accounted for two of the scores, one on a 27-yard run following a fumble recovery and the other on a 34-yard interception runback.

The turnover touchdowns spoiled a fine performance by the Canton defense, which shutout Churchill for the first three quarters.

"We had a great overall team defensive effort," said Canton coach Dave Schuele. "They kept us in the ball game, giving up only the one touchdown."

The two teams battled to a scoreless first half, both offenses hurt by penalties and sloppy ball handling. Canton managed only one first down, that by way of a Churchill penalty. The Chargers farthest penetration was to the Canton 27 on the opening series, where an eight-yard loss on a fumbled hand-off forced Churchill to punt. Another drive ended on an interception by the Chiefs' John Tarr on the Canton 40.

The Chargers finally scored the game's only offensive touchdown with 8:54 to go in the game. Quarterback Bill Keller scored on an eight-yard run to cap a five-play, 54-yard drive. The extra point attempt was fumbled and the Chargers led 6-0. A 30-yard pass play from Keller to Craig Williams set up the score.

It was then that the Charger defense took control of the game.

On the first play after the kickoff, Chief quarterback Steve Gray's errant pitch on an attempted option play was scooped up by Churchill's Walt Tadday on the 27, who ran into the end zone untouched to make it 12-0 Churchill with 8:19 to go in the game.

Churchill's final score came when Gary Vendetilli picked off a Gray pass on the 34 on Canton's last ditch effort to get back in the game and ran it down the right sideline to make it 18-0.

The two point conversion gave the Chargers their final margin of victory.

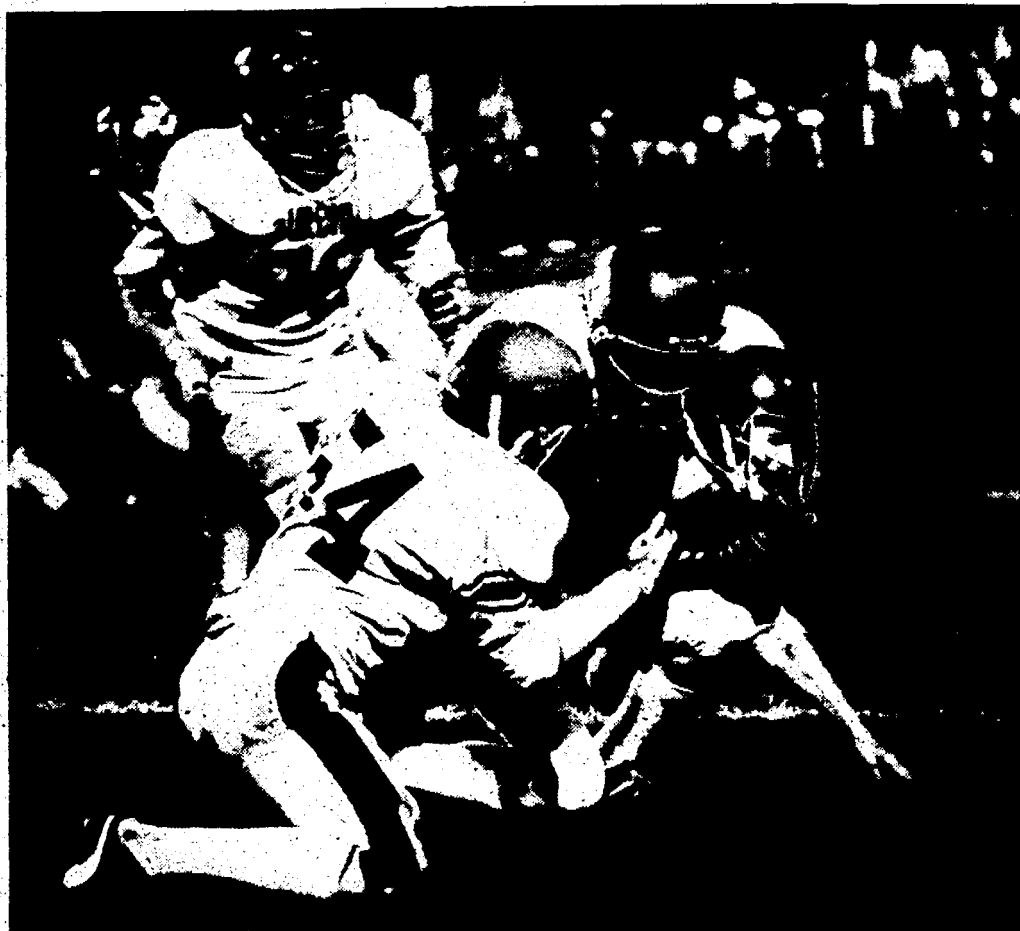

"We just haven't done anything offensively this year," said Schuele. "We'll get something going and then there will be a penalty or turnover that stops us. We just aren't able to drive."

The Chiefs were penalized nine times for 75 yards and turned the ball over three times on a fumble and two interceptions. Canton, troubled with poor field position all night, never got farther than the Churchill 46-yard line.

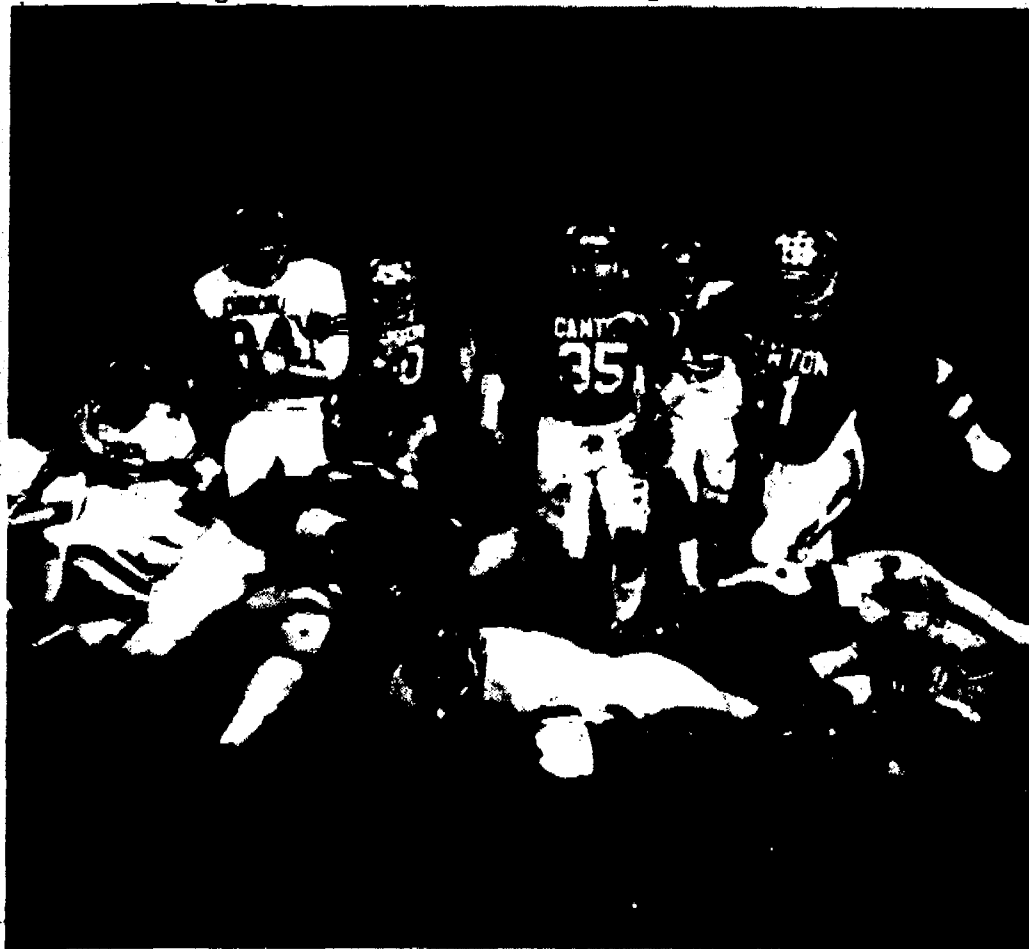

The Chiefs lost the services of running back Bob Hamblin for the remainder of the season with a broken collarbone suffered on an option run in the second quarter. He joins junior quarterback Billy Childs, who suffered the same injury in a preseason scrimmage.

Canton's next opponent is Waterford Mott, a team that like Canton is struggling.

"We are going to have to generate some kind of offense, that's all there is to it," said Schuele. "Our defensive played very well tonight, but our offense couldn't score."

CANTON'S DEFENSE made progress this week, keeping Livonia Churchill scoreless until the fourth quarter. Although the Canton defense held Churchill until the end of the game, the Chief's offense was unable to get on the board and resulted in 20-0 Western Six League defeat. The Chiefs are 0-5 for the season.

Salem football will be on WSDP

WSDP, 88.1 FM, will broadcast the Salem-St. Clair Shores Lakeview football game this Friday, Oct. 12. The program, starts at 7:45, will include homecoming activities.

Salem cagers pull out win over Dearborn Edsel Ford

After being down four points at the end of the second quarter, the Salem girls basketball team put things together in the second half to earn another Suburban Eight League victory by defeating Dearborn Edsel Ford last night (Tuesday), 64-49.

"We let Edsel Ford get inside too much in the first half," said Rock coach Bob Blohm. "Besides that, we didn't get the ball to our open players enough."

"During the second half we accepted the challenge and adapted more quickly to what was going on on the court. Our defense was stronger and we read the court better in the fourth quarter and the score proved it."

Salem was down 13-10 after the first period and widened the gap to four points with a halftime score of 26-30. The improved Salem offense capitalized for 18 points in the third period while holding the Thunderbirds to only eight points to take the lead, 44-38.

Another 20 points in the fourth quarter gave the Rock cagers their seventh win of the season against only one loss. Salem holds a 3-0 mark in the Sub-8.

Leading scorers in the Salem victory included senior Patty Weidman with 16 points and senior Nan Horwood and junior Cheryl Sobkow each putting 13 points towards the Salem total.

Sophomore Eileen Moore added 10 points to the final score and freshman Jackie Merrifield added four.

Sue Bearslee lead all scorers with 17 points along with Patty Jones, both from Edsel Ford. Edsel's Linda Jagger added nine points to the T-bird total.

Salem will face Livonia Bentley Thursday at Bentley. The junior varsity game starts at 6 p.m.

Canton girls basketball remains undefeated in league action

The Canton girls basketball team remained undefeated in Western Six League action with wins over Livonia Churchill and Farmington Harrison. The Chiefs are now 3-0 in the league and 6-3 overall.

Cindysovino's 14 points lead the Chiefs to a 48-29 triumph over Harrison Thursday night. Marianne Pink added eight to the Canton total.

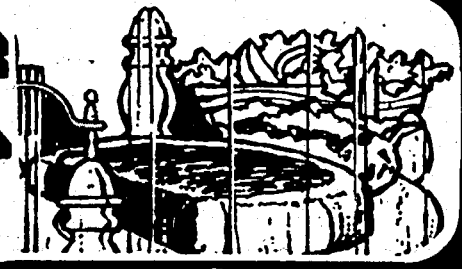

Monday night, the Canton squad defeated

Churchill 41-35 on the Charger's home court. Pink and Pearly Cunningham were high scorers for the Chiefs with 12 points a piece followed by Sovino with 10.

Canton will try to keep their perfect league record in tact when they face Waterford Mott at home tomorrow (Thursday) night.

The Canton freshman team defeated rival Salem last Wednesday afternoon, 35-23.

Salem homecoming marks Rock home opener against Lakeview

BY-FRED DeLANO

At last, with the football season's regular schedule more than half finished, Salem's Rocks finally will play before the home folks Friday night and in doing so they will be seeking their fifth straight victory on the heels of a smashing 34-8 win over Belleville last week.

Appropriately, this will be Salem's official homecoming game and because of those festivities the kickoff has been advanced to 7:30 p.m. The foe will be St. Clair Shores Lakeview, which is appearing on a local schedule for the first time ever.

Lakeview has a 2-3 record, winning its last two times out.

The Rocks, on the other hand, are 4-1 for the season, and 3-0 in the Suburban Eight. Remaining opponents after this week will be Trenton, there Oct. 19; Edsel Ford, here Oct. 26; and Farmington Harrison, here Nov. 2.

Co-captain Craig Stack, a 5-11, 176-pound senior halfback, had a field day at Belleville as he raced for 149 yards in 17 carries from scrimmage, scoring three touchdowns along the way on runs of 11, 4, and 21 yards.

The slightly built speedster was an all-league selection last year and this spectacular performance shot him to the fore for repeat consideration in 1979.

The winless Tigers of Belleville simply were no match for Salem, which piled up 353 yards, 290 on the ground and 63 through the air on five completions in 12 attempts. Salem's defense was just as sharp, holding the Tigers to 76 yards rushing and 49 yards passing.

Salem coach Tom Moshimer confessed he "didn't like the second half," when the Rocks added only one touchdown to their 27-6 halftime lead, but the truth of the matter was that reserve units played much of those final two quarters.

Moshimer has personally scouted Lakeview, which plays most of its games on Saturdays, and warns, "They're big, they're powerful, and they have a mighty strong running game. Our defense will have its hands full to contain these guys."

On their first possession at Belleville the Rocks marched 46 yards for their initial touchdown, Stack carrying the ball seven straight times and scoring from the 11. Brian Lewandowski kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead.

Belleville cut it to 7-6 following a fumble recovery on the Salem 33. The touchdown came on a 27-yard pass from Mike Sampson to Jim Donaldson, but the Tigers' extra point try was blocked.

Twenty points in the second quarter for Salem put the game out of Belleville's reach.

Stack started the parade when he scored from four yards out, Lewandowski again converting. Fullback Phil Anderson went 57 yards a few minutes later for another six-pointer, Lewandowski adding the point, and then end Ron Schultz ended first half scoring by catching a 12-yard TD pass from quarterback Jim Anderson. The Rocks tried for a two-point conversion on a pass, but it was incomplete.

Belleville managed to boost its total by two points on a safety in the third period when penalties backed the Rocks up to their own six-yard line and then, in a punting situation, a bad pass from center sailed over the Salem kicker's head into the end zone.

Salem's final tally came on a 21-yard run by Stack on an end-around reverse pitch from Schultz in the last period, and again the reliable Lewandowski booted the extra point.

After being upset at Livonia Franklin in the season's opener, the Rocks now have chalked up successive victories over Livonia Bentley, Dearborn, Utica Eisenhower and Belleville to set the stage for their home debut.

Canton golfers avenge loss; come back against Lakers

Canton lost to a tough Waterford Mott team for the second time this season in Western Six League golf action Thursday, 202-209.

"We haven't played as well as we can these past few matches," said Canton coach Casey Cavell. "We need to start shooting team scores around 200."

Brad Rasiar was medalist for Mott with a 36. Low scores for Canton were Dave Visser and Scott Adler who each carded 40's. John Matthews added a 42 to the Canton final score and Steve LaReau came in with a 43.

Doug Moffit rounded off the Canton score by coming off the nine-hole round with a 44.

Canton managed to avenge the league loss to Mott by defeating Walled Lake Western on Tuesday, 230-232.

Raising their league standing to 4-5, the Canton squad was lead by Matthews who tied for medalist honors with Walled Lake's Joe Golden at 39.

Cavell feels that even though his team can't boast as an impressive record as some teams, the Canton golfers can still be a strong competitor in the regional tournament on Friday at Brae-Burn Golf Course.

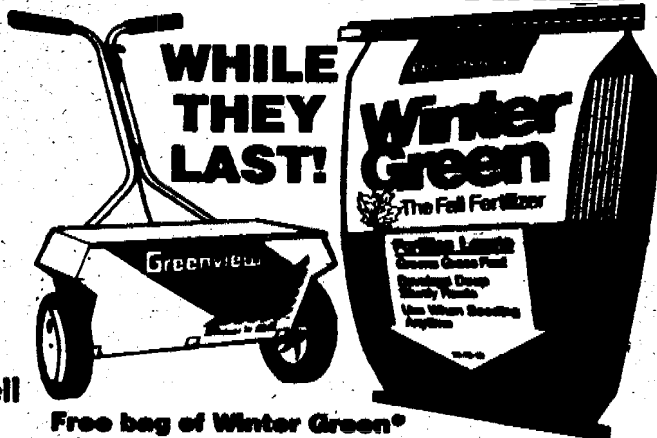

"There are a lot of tough teams in our region," said Cavell. "If we play the kind of golf we are capable of playing, I think we'll have a good chance at finishing in the top three teams that qualify for the state finals."

Before competing in the 21-team regional tournament on Friday, Canton will face Farmington Harrison in the last dual match of the season on Thursday.

CANTON CO-CAPTAIN Dave Visser made an attempt to sink this putt during Western Six League action Thursday against Waterford Mott. Visser has played a big part in the Chiefs quest for their first league title this year.

Tallaga places second for Canton victory

After a Farmington Harrison runner crossed the finish line with a first place time of 16:48, the Canton cross country team claimed the next four places for a 22-35 win over the Western Six League foe.

Mike Tallaga lead the Canton squad with a time of 17:14 for second place and was followed by Dan Inloes (17:21) in third place. Randy Hennells (17:24) was fourth and Steve West (17:45) placed fifth.

After Harrison crossed the line with places six and seven, Canton's Dan McGlenn secured the Chief's fourth victory of the season against two losses with a time of 18:00.

"We're getting better and better," said Canton coach Jim Hayes. "This is a hard-working team that's coming right along. They're improving with each race."

In last year's contest between the two Western-Six schools, Harrison soundly defeated the Canton runners en route to a third place finish in the league. Canton finished last year's league race in fifth place.

Continuing the quest to better last year's league finish and season record, the Canton runners will face Walled Lake Western on Thursday at Cass Benton Park starting at 4 p.m. Hayes is confident that his squad will come out with their fifth season victory.

Hess returns from injuires; leads Salem to league win

The Salem cross country team improved its record to 2-3 with an impressive 24-34 Suburban Eight League victory over Trenton Thursday at Cass Benton.

Mark Mayrand placed first for the Trojans by coming across the finish line with a time of 16:30. Second place went to the Rock's Paul Hess who had just returned to the Salwm lineup after a yearlong battle with injuries.

Hess' time of 16:38 was followed by Salem's Jeff Haertel with a time of 17:07 that was good for third place. Fourth was taken by Trenton's Paul Calhoon.

John Wall took fifth place and Chris Whittaker sixth for the Rocks. Wall posted a time of 17:50 and Whittaker a 17:52 mark. Brian Hendrickson rounded off the Salem scoring by finishing in ninth place at 18:30.

"Everyone has dropped their times," said Salem coach Scott Dunson. "We finally had everyone healthy."

Salem faces Suburban-8 rival Livonia Bentley Thursday on the Bulldogs home course. The Rocks are now 1-1 in the league after suffering a loss to Dearborn Edsel Ford earlier in the season.

BRUCE JENNER

OLYMPIC DECATHLON WINNER AND CHIROPRACTIC PATIENT

The face of America's new superstar Bruce Jenner, is known to everyone on the fragile globe called earth -- if they own a TV set or read magazines and newspapers. In a world that is slowly destroying its air, water, animals, natural resources and each other, Bruce Jenner's struggles and accomplishments gives us hope and courage -- about the future and ourselves.

Dr. Leroy Perry, Jr., the Pasadena, chiropractor who has the sports world buzzing, had been working with Bruce Jenner for a number of months, using kinesiology techniques, nutrition and corrective athlete exercises. Of the Decathlon winner he says, "Bruce Jenner is an exceptional person as well as athlete. His determination and eagerness to strive for perfection has made my job an extremely easy one."

Working with athletes like Bruce has enabled Dr. Perry to acquire practical knowledge on sports injuries and related stress problems which has made normal rehabilitation procedures for the average patient much more efficient. At Montreal, Dr. Perry worked on athletes from 21 different countries.

A resident of the city of St. Joseph, otherwise known as San Jose, California, Bruce and his lovely wife, Chrystie, made a team effort to reach the top of the world in sports -- an Olympics Decathlon Gold Medal. Even their golden labrador, Bertha, gave a hand -- or should we say "four feet" -- to the accomplishment by accompanying Bruce in training runs.

Holding a 7-3 record overall, the Chiefs are 7-1 in the Western Six Conference with two league matches left to be played in the season.

"The team is playing real well," said Canton assistant coach Carol Michaels.

Betty's Bench

BY BETTY DeLANO

Just to straighten out a few things that appeared to be a little off kilter in last week's "Betty's Bench:"

First of all, the Canton girls tennis team did not finish last year's season with an overall record of 11-2. If they had, the squad certainly would not have placed at the bottom third of the Western Six League just ahead of Waterford Mott.

The netters 1978 record should have read 2-11 which explains the low finish with a bit more accuracy and with less question.

The second aspect regarding last week's column is that as a result of complimenting one team and giving praise for coming along way in the form of experience and working to improve individual skills and talent, the other team (in this case the Salem girls tennis team) felt like it had been ignored or put down in saying that it didn't deserve a league title as much as the Canton squad.

The old saying "you can please some of the people some of the time but you can't please all of the people all of the time" presented itself in this case and I found out that it is certainly true, perhaps for the first time as a sports editor.

While writing that column and stating in the last line, "If there is any tennis team that deserves a league title this year, it has to be Canton, they've certainly waited long enough for it," there was no intent by this writer to take away from the Salem tennis team. The Rocks have definitely put forth their all in making the Salem tennis team a strong Suburban Eight League contender as well as a strong team in a regional and state competition.

Salem proved that it was the toughest team in its league on Thursday by smearing its league opponents in the Suburban-8 in all events except the second doubles. The Rock netters made this their third straight league title.

Maybe that's why it's a good thing that Salem and Canton are in separate leagues. If the two schools were in the same league I could see why one coach or team member would get angry or jealous over praise given to the other team. But with two schools only two hundred yards apart, there is room for each school to get its own pat on the back. In this case it was Canton's turn. Next time it will be Salem's.

Salem, Canton swimmers place
6th and 9th in R.U. Invitational

Both the Salem and Canton High School girls swim teams made good showings at the Redford Union Invitational Saturday. Salem managed to qualify for the finals in seven of the 10 events for an overall sixth place finish and Canton qualified for the finals in four events to take ninth place in the 12-team event.

The Salem swimmers claimed three third place finishes in the final competition including the 400 yard medley, the 200 yard backstroke and the diving competition.

Two fifth place finishes were taken by the Rocks in the 200 yard backstroke and in the crescendo relay. Sixth place finishes were earned in the 400 yard freestyle and in the 200 yard freestyle.

In the crescendo relay the first swimmer goes a length of 200 yards and is followed by teammates putting in lengths equalling 150 yards, 100 yards and 50 yards in the final leg.

Fourth place in the 200 yard medley was the highest place the Canton squad could muster. Other places included fifth in the 400 yard freestyle relay and two sixth place finishes in the 400 yard medley and in the diving competition.

Overall champion in the invitational was Livonia Stevenson followed by West Bloomfield, Northville, Farmington, Livonia Bentley and Salem. Dearborn Edsel Ford and Trenton filled in the gap between the two Plymouth schools.

Basketball registration will start
Saturday for grades 3 thru 12

Registration for the Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association 1979-80 season has been scheduled to be held Saturday, Oct. 13 and 20 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Canton High School gym.

Separated by grades, divisions include class C for third and fourth grade girls and third grade boys, class B for fifth, sixth and seventh grade girls and fourth and fifth grade boys and class A is open to boys in grades six and seven.

The girls class AA is open to grades eight thru 12 and the boys class AA is open to grades eight, nine and 10. Boys in grades 11 and 12 participate in the class AAA division.

Registration fees for the leagues are $12 for class C leagues, $15 for class AA, A and B leagues and $20 for boys class AAA. The association accepts players from the Plymouth-Canton Community School District and the complete Canton community.

Practice sessions are held for 1½ hours and total 3½-4 hours each week. Games for all leagues except certain class AA and AAA games are scheduled for Saturdays. Those class AA and AAA games not scheduled on Saturdays are played at night during the week. The season starts Monday, Oct. 29 and is completed on March 1, 1980.

Involving about 800 boys and girls, all players that register are placed on a team and do not have to make the league by their ability. All players are required to play for at least one quarter of each game and no more than three quarters, according to association rules. Third grade leagues are instructional and players must play one half of every game.

Referees are also needed by the association and may register during the regular registration periods. Those people who register to referee are trained and paid for their services. Recent high school graduates are needed to referee in the AAA program.

Adults interested in coaching are also needed and may inquire at registration.

Early registration is suggested because of the limit to the number of participants. Players grades seven through 12 who intend to try out for their school team must also register during these dates. In the event that the players play basketball for their school the registration fee will be refunded.
