MARIAN KEHRL, Plymouth businesswoman, shows she packs more than just a shrewd sense of economics at the "Who Shot J.R." party Friday at the Mayflower Meeting House. Kehrl was among many area residents who attended the bash, although the identity of the culprit never was established on the season's premier episode of "Dallas." ## Schools to request 10.3-mill renewal

Plymouth-Canton school voters will be asked to renew 10.36 mills at a Jan. 22 election.

The Board of Education officially set the election for renewal only of about one-fourth of the school district's 1981-1982 budget. No extra mills will be requested.

"The election is very important," said Board member Flossie Tonda. "It will give the board an idea just how much money we can count on. The sooner we know that the better."

Superintendent John M. Hoben, said, though, that cuts in the 1981-82 school budget may be necessary even if the 10.36 mills are renewed. A preliminary budget projection for next year shows revenues will be $4 million behind the total needed to maintain current programs, he said.

Growth in student enrollment, requiring more classrooms, will continue to strain the budget next year, said school officials. The following changes may be necessary, they said:

1. Expand Extended School Year (ESY) to as many as four more elementary schools.
2. Re-align some grades.
3. Change boundaries of some elementary and middle schools.

More money will also be needed for major maintenance projects, such as roof repairs, and asphaltting, for negotiated wage increases, and for the bus-replacement program, school officials said.

Ill will grows in long Plymouth Stamping strike

BY CHAS CHILD

"They're trying to break the union. No question about it."

So said a long-time employe of Plymouth Stamping, Ruth Seidenstricker, while walking the picket line in front of the firm Friday.

Little if any progress has been made toward a new contract since Sept. 8, when the 35 employes refused to take sizable pay cuts and went out on strike. In fact, the company latest offer includes even larger pay cuts than originally demanded.

And in response, the workers, organized by the United Auto Workers (UAW), is considering filing a "bargaining in bad faith" complaint with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

"I've been here 29 years," said Seidenstricker, a Canton resident. "With one more year I could retire. This is just a slap in the face." Her income during the strike, she said, is a $65-per-week strike check.

The UAW representative handling the strike, Miriam Elston, said, "I don't know what their (company officials) intentions are. I certainly hope they're not trying to break the union. But the indications are 'yes,' they are."

"Our financial situation has worsened," said Richard Taylor, vice president of Plymouth Stamping. "We received a new financial statement and the strike has hurt us too."

Asked if the company is trying to break the union, Taylor replied, "I can't settle for something that will do us in financially. I want to stay in business."

He added that the firm's wage level is well above those of competing companies. "The average pay in the shop was $10.57 per hour before the union went on strike," he said. "I'm competing against places that pay $5 and $6 per hour, and some of those are union shops."

The company is working three-quarter normal production during the current strike, using non-union workers, Taylor said.

Plymouth Stamping management, at a negotiating session last Tuesday, requested production workers to take a $2-per-hour cut in wages, said Elston. Previously, the firm had asked them to take a $1.50 cut, she said.

Management also asked maintenance workers to take a $1-per-hour cut, up from a 50-cent request, said Elston. Skilled workers were not asked to take any reductions, she said.

Besides these cuts in straight wages, Elston said the management proposed cuts in benefits totalling $1.36 per hour. The firm had earlier asked benefit reductions equaling $1.46 per hour, she said.

"I believe the company is not bargaining seriously," she said. "I'm in the process of asking our legal department whether we should file a charge of bargaining in bad faith with the NLRB."

She said Plymouth Stamping is in bad financial shape, but that it's not the workers' fault. Poor management practices, such as paying foremen too-high salaries, is to blame for the firm's woes, she said.

Moreover, for every dollar of sales at Plymouth Stamping, the firm pays its workers eight cents, she said. Comparable firms pay between 17-20 cents for every dollar of sales, she said.

"Many other companies would love to pay what they pay," Elston added. "I think management is getting bad advice. We want to continue to negotiate and get our members back to work."

"The workers are very disappointed," she added. The company seemed more of a family thing. Now they find it's completely different.

Got a stink about city's wildlife? Call for aid

The City of Plymouth Public Works Department has been receiving calls from residents regarding the presence of skunks in their neighborhood.

Residents who are experiencing a skunk problem should be sure there is no exposed garbage or lumber piles in the area to entice them, say officials.

Skunks are generally harmless. However, if they are cornered or attacked by dogs they will then defend themselves the only way they know how. Residents are also asked to keep their dogs confined or on a leash while walking them, particularly in the evening hours.

Should your dog be sprayed by a skunk, give the dog a bath in tomato juice, allow them to dry then bath with a shampoo.

Any person knowing the whereabouts of skunks living quarters are asked to notify the Public Works Department at 453-7737 and officials will try to exterminate them.

Bill Joyner hospitalized

Wayne County Commissioner Bill Joyner, whose 27th county district includes the Plymouth-Canton Community, will be out of action for at least 10 days.

He has been admitted to University of Michigan Hospital for removal of a cyst and further testing and could be in for a month or more. Joyner, who is known for his frequent use of the telephone at all hours of the day, said that while recuperating "I'll handle things by phone."

Joyner, a Democrat, said he and newly-elected 27th District Wayne County Charter Commissioner Bart Berg, a Republican, have already laid plans to work together on the county reorganization issue even during Joyner's recuperation.

Salem, Canton highs may join new athletic league <sup>3</sup>

PG.
THE COMMUNITY CRIER: November 12, 1989

High travel costs may spell the doom of Salem High School's participation in the Suburban 8 athletic league.

Salem principal Bill Brown said he is investigating the possibility of joining a new league to reduce the school's athletic budget.

Brown recently sent a letter to the president of the Inter-Lakes Conference to broach the possibility of forming a new league. The Inter-Lakes Conference was recently cut in half when Pontiac Northern, Milford Lakeland, and Waterford left, leaving behind Livonia Stevenson, Walled Lake Central, and Farmington.

Other teams may join to form a two-division league, including Canton High, said Brown.

"There is a concern whether the Sub-8 or the Western 6 (Canton's league) will remain," said Superintendent John M. Hoben. "Allen Park has withdrawn, and Trenton is looking for competition closer to home. It's a general trend all over due to high travel costs."

"It's still in the exploratory stage," said Brown. "We're not planning to up and leave the Suburban 8 right away. We've had long and good relations with the Suburban 8. There's more to consider than just athletics. There are debate and forensics teams, too."

The two-division set-up will not only cut costs but improve competition, said the Salem principal. The weaker teams could be matched with other weaker teams, and the strong with the strong, he said.

The Suburban 8 is actually a misnomer, since it has seven teams. Redford Union pulled out, leaving Salem, Belleville, Dearborn, Dearborn Edsel Ford, Allen Park, Trenton, and Livonia Bentley.

Long trips in the Sub 8, to Trenton and Allen Park, for example, have become very expensive with the high cost of gasoline, Brown said. The growth of women's sports have added greatly to travel costs, he added.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education was informed of Brown's negotiations at Monday night's meeting.

New officials to take oaths of office Thurs., Nov. 20

Two inaugural ceremonies will be held locally next week to usher in newly elected Canton and Plymouth township officials.

Beginning at 4:45 p.m. on Nov. 20, Plymouth Township administrators will be sworn in at Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road. Judge James Garber will officiate at the ceremony.

Immediately following the event, an open house will be held until 7 p.m. at the Jacob Room of the Hillside Inn. Cheese and crackers, coffee, and a cash bar will be featured.

In Canton, newly-elected administrators will be sworn in beginning at 7 p.m. at Township Hall on Canton Center Road. Judge Garber will administer the oath of office to township and Library Board trustees, and Judge Dunbar Davis will serve as Master of Ceremonies, swearing in the township clerk, treasurer and supervisor.

Pastor Kenneth F. Gruebel of the Geneva United Presbyterian Church will give an invocation to the Canton gathering.

Following the ceremony, there will be an open house featuring refreshments.

Both inaugural events are open to the public.

Dispute leads to gunfire

A Plymouth man was shot at last week after an argument with someone he apparently knew, according to Plymouth Police.

William D. Bowers of 1480 Junction was turning over some property to William Rugg, 28, also of Plymouth, and two other men when an argument broke out apparently over Bowers having to get more property in Plymouth Township, according to police reports.

After telling the three men to leave, Bowers and a six-year-old child got into a car owned by the child's mother, Constance M. Socotch of Plymouth, said the report. Then, Rugg went to his vehicle, grabbed a dark colored handgun from the front drivers seat area" and handled it as if "charging or placing a clip" in it, according to the police file.

Bowers said Rugg pointed the weapon at his car as he drove away, the report said. He said he heard "an explosion" and the rear window of the car he was driving shattered, said police.

A search of the vehicle produced no bullets, and damage was estimated at $125, according to the report. Police say the matter is still under investigation.

Gunman robs restaurant

A man with a .22-caliber pistol stole $596 from the Pizza Hut restaurant, 1425 W. Ann Arbor Rd., Plymouth, early yesterday morning, State Police report.

Reportedly in his early 20s, slim, with brown hair, the suspect allegedly robbed the eatery at 12:30 a.m., said police. He was wearing jeans, a green army field jacket, and a pig mask, police said.

No information on a possible getaway vehicle was available yesterday afternoon, police said.

Need a Christmas job? Here are some tips

BY DAN BODENE

More than 50 Plymouth-Canton High School students attended a Christmas job workshop on Nov. 6 hoping to gather tips that might brighten a bleak employment picture.

Sponsored by the Canton High Job Placement Office, the workshop featured several speakers who explained different facets of the Christmas job market. Pat Gresock, job placement coordinator for Canton High, said the workshop was to introduce a new service to area employers and students.

Speaking to a largely female audience, Sharon Pugh of Plymouth's Sideways Shop detailed what students should expect at a Christmas job interview.

She said the single most important item to consider when applying for a job was dressing for the interview. She cautioned against appearing too casual or too formal for an interview, noting employers are looking for someone dressed comfortably to do the job.

Pugh listed several basic skills needed for many retail jobs, such as making change, stocking, shelving, janitorial duties and knowledge of store policies.

Dawn Gresock, a student who worked last Christmas, provided a view from "one who has been there." She advised students who did find Christmas work that their lot would not be an easy one. "You will get the crummiest hours, and be an outsider to other employees." She suggested keeping as busy as possible and listening to other employees to attract favorable notice from management.

Gresock provided a few tips to students facing the prospect of filling out job applications. She advised reading the entire application before filling it out, watching spelling and grammar, and making sure to follow instructions.

She added students filling out applications occasionally do not use previous experience as a reference. "A babysitting job might be listed as child care," she explained.

Dave Lock of Silverman's clothing store in the Westland Shopping Mall spoke to the gathering on the interview process, noting employers look for organization and neatness in potential applicants. "There are not many jobs, and competition is tough," he warned. "The interview is the key, and the first two minutes are crucial."

Lock added neatness, punctuality and perseverance help in the interview process. "You have to keep pushing -- you're going to be turned down sometimes. Be persistent."

Gresock concluded the workshop by stressing her office was available for counsel to students. She added that students who attended the workshop would be given first preference for Christmas job referrals.

Number your house for safety reasons

BY MARY DeGRANDE

The lack of an easily read address on your home can mean the difference between life or death, said Plymouth Building Inspector Joseph Attard. The fire department cannot locate houses when the numbers are not properly displayed, he said.

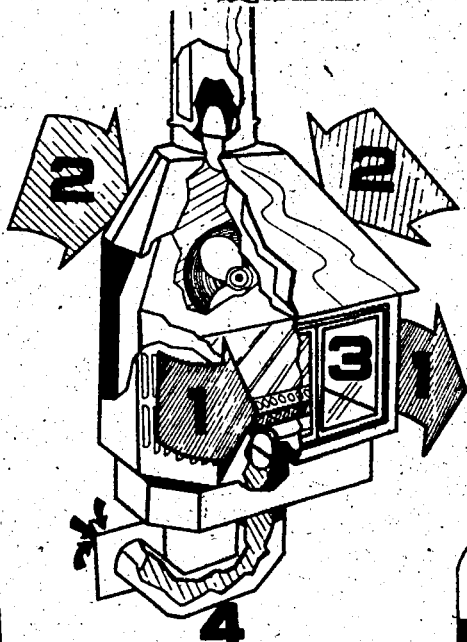

"It is quite a problem," said Plymouth Fire Chief Larry Groth. Earlier in the year, the department had trouble with an emergency call. Precious seconds were lost when the rescue squad was forced to check with a neighbor to find the heart attack victim's address.

According to township ordinances, residential buildings should have Arabic numerals that are three inches high. Houses with script addresses should have an additional Arabic numbering. Commercial and industrial building's addresses must be at least four inches high. And all addresses must be clearly visible from the road.

Since a large portion of the township is rural, mail boxes at the front of the property should display the address, preferably with reflective tape, which helps the emergency unit find the home at night or during bad weather.

FOLLOWING EARLY RESULTS in Canton on election night were Democrats Maria Falkiewicz and Noel Culbert. When this photo was taken at 11 p.m. with about half the precincts reporting, Culbert was barely ahead in his re-election bid for supervisor. By 3 a.m. when the last results were in, Culbert had won 10 of 17 precincts, but lost by 242 votes. Falkiewicz carried 12 out of the 17 precincts in her successful bid for the township treasurer's job. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

No 'typical' precinct gives good election stats

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Are you looking for a "typical" precinct in your community by which to gauge election results?

During last week's elections, many political watchers were intent on finding the one precinct which wraps it all up -- a tribute to the search for the "election prediction" trend.

No such precinct could be found in Canton Township, where not a single precinct out of 17 (including absentee voters) picked the winning order in township elections. After cross checking the seven precincts which supported Supervisor-elect Jim Poole against those who also voted for Treasurer-elect Maria Falkiewicz, only three precincts remain: 4, 7 and 13. And none of those picked the winning trustee candidates.

In Plymouth Township, where the Republicans swept everything, six out of 14 precincts (including absentees) picked the winners in the right order. Of those precincts 8 and 11 came the closest percentage-wise to the totals in the supervisor race, although still off the mark.

So, all-in-all, it would seem there aren't truly representative precincts to be found in The Plymouth-Canton Community.

Canton religious attitudes survey just completed

What are the attitudes of Canton residents towards religion and the church?

In a recent survey of 612 Canton residents, 71 per cent said they attended church. The frequency of attendance ranged from one or two times a year to every day. Of those who attend, the following proportions identified themselves with particular denominations: 60 per cent Roman Catholic, eight per cent Lutheran, seven per cent Baptist, five per cent Presbyterian, four per cent Methodist, and 16 per cent other groups.

The churches which participated in the survey were St. Michael Lutheran, People's Church, and the Faith Community Church. Paul Hansen, intern pastor of People's Church, who compiled the statistics from the survey, said that they are not scientifically reliable.

"There are several uncontrolled variables involved. However," says Hansen, "it does give us a reasonable picture of the way our community looks religiously.

Canton Rotary seeks sponsor for New Zealander

Do you know where New Zealand is? Do you know anyone from New Zealand? Could you live with someone from New Zealand?

If any of the above questions intrigue you, the Canton Rotary Club may have an answer. As part of the Ohio-Erie District Youth Exchange Program, the Canton Rotary Club is seeking families to host Roger G. Hall, a 17-year-old high school exchange student from New Zealand who will be ar-iving in the U.S. in January.

Roger hails from Ngongotaha, Bay of Plenty, a town of approximately 2,000. He is a member of the Anglican church. His father is a farmer, his mother a housewife, and sisters Kirsten, 17, Heather, 13 and Susan, 11, are in school.

In his application to Rotary International, Roger said he felt "From this program, I would expect to pass on my knowledge of my country to people of my host country, to my host family, a greater knowledge of life and customs in my country and a greater understanding of the problems our countries face in the future."

Roger says he would eventually like to farm in New Zealand, but "qualify as an accountant, as the business side of running a farm is very important as well."

Bill Tesen, International Youth Chairman, of the Canton Rotary says Roger will stay in four different families in the year he will stay in Canton. "We do this to expose the exchange students to different social and economic conditions," he explained. "It makes for a well-rounded experience."

For more information on the program, which accepts Rotarian and non-Rotarian families, contact Bill Tesen at 455-5900.

Elevators hold grudge against local officials

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

The lives of public officials in The Plymouth-Canton Community can be said to have not only their ups and downs, but also their stuck in the middle moments.

It seems that local elevators are fighting city hall -- and winning.

Last Wednesday night as the Plymouth Community's finest were gathering at the Mayflower Meeting House for the annual Plymouth Chamber of Commerce meeting, the stairway was closed so guests had to use the elevator.

With City Manager Henry Graper and a half dozen or so other dinner-goers aboard, the Meeting House elevator ground to a halt between floors.

After a 20-minute or so wait, the elevator snafu was fixed and the guests continued upward without any more serious side effect than a fleeting brush with claustrophobia.

Graper joins Canton Township Supervisor Noel Culbert on the list of local officials brought down by elevators.

Culbert and his family were in Canton Hall last year on a Sunday when the building was otherwise vacant. The elevator stopped between floors, trapping them for hours. A phone has since been installed in the Canton Hall elevator.

APPLE RUN GARDEN CLUB'S Craft Auction will be held Nov. 15 at Honey Tree Apartments clubhouse, off Joy Rd. at I-275. Open to the public, the auction will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Babysitting will be provided, along with clown face painting. Displaying some of the available wares are, from left, Elaine Lavender, Karan Bober, and Dianne Anderson. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Canton business panel to hear merchants' gripes

Canton's Business Task Force will shortly begin a series of public hearings geared toward township merchants.

Tentatively scheduled to begin Nov. 13 at 7:30 p.m., the hearings will be held to accept statements from local business persons as well as residents and consumers, according to the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

The information will then be analyzed by the Task Force, and recommendations made to the Canton Board of Trustees. Essentially a fact-finding organization, the Task Force will seek to provide a vehicle whereby areas of concern can be identified by the business persons and presented to Canton's board.

"Purpose of the group is to determine the problems of business in Canton and see if we can't respond," said Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert. "If we can, we need to know what we can do."

Loose levers no problem

Some Plymouth residents wondered why various voting machines during last week's election seemed to have loose levers.

Gordon Limburg, Plymouth City Clerk, explains, "That seems to be an idiosyncrasy of the machines themselves. We did have some complaints about it, but I really have no idea how it can be fixed."

Limburg added that the loose levers were all in the proposal section of the machines, which are interconnected differently than the rest of the voting levers. He said he was not aware of any irregularities in the actual vote count due to the proposal levers.

Patrols to end

Board of Commissioners, the police patrols in the township will end Dec. 1.

The full board is scheduled to tentatively approve the new budget, which includes the cuts, at a meeting tomorrow.

Cancellation of the Plymouth Township contract was only one of the budget-cutting moves recommended by the Ways and Means Committee, however. The committee voted 20-1 to end all sheriff's road patrols in the county, as well as other contracts with Wayne communities such as Romulus and Brownstown Township. Patrols at the Wayne County Metro Airport would also end.

If the cuts are approved, township residents would be left with the State Police to call in case of an emergency.

James Ahktar, an assistant to Sheriff William Lucas, said the sheriff plans to submit a letter to the full board saying that eliminating road patrols would leave the board on "tenuous" legal grounds.

"By the state constitution, the sheriff must respond to criminal activity and monitor it," he said.

The cuts would save Wayne County's strained general-fund budget about $1.5 million, said Ahktar.

Brownies start year with fair at Pioneer

Brownies in the Plymouth, Northville and Canton area had an opportunity to meet new friends and get their year started at the Brownie B Carnival Saturday.

Organized by PNC Brownie Consultant Liz Okon of Canton, the event was held at the Pioneer School cafeteria and gym. Assistance was also provided by Margaret Sweet of Northville. Registration and first aid volunteers were Cindy Bastion, Jo Morse and Peggy Seery.

Opening flag ceremonies for the carnival were conducted by Junior Troop 735 of Field Elementary School, led by Joanne Schlabach. Group singing was led by Cadette Troop 367 and their leader, Romaine Kling.

Games at the carnival included rocket launch, fish a meal, campfire toss, make people happy, pin the trefoil on the Brownie, and make a Girl Scout bookmark. Junior Girl Scouts from the Plymouth, Northville and Canton area ran the games, at 48 locations in the school.

Twp. to build new Water and Sewer Building

Construction of a new Plymouth Township Water and Sewer Department building was expected to begin late last week.

Last Tuesday night, township trustees approved bid of $140,850 from Corona Construction, 500 Stephenson Highway, Troy, for its construction. According to Stanley Tkacz, who negotiated the bids for the township, construction work could be started last week. It is expected to be finished in 90 days. Tkacz represents Tkacz and Associates, the township's architectural firm.

The new building will be on Lilley road adjacent to the township's current Water and Sewer building which is too small.

Although Corona Construction's bid was not the lowest, Tkacz recommending accepting it. A lower bid, from Mardon Construction in Plymouth for $136,800, was submitted, but Mardon's bid did not specifically list the details of the project included in the bid, said Tkacz.

Corona's bid is "most complete and reports on his work are extremely good," said Tkacz. "The company is qualified to do the work."

A motion to accept the bid was made by Trustee Maurice Breen and seconded by Gerald Law.

We've Outlined A Great Thanksgiving Feast.

Plan to share the full feast with us on Thursday, November 27 — in your choice of settings. The Grand Ballroom: a festive Thanksgiving Buffet with all kinds of treats, including roast Baron of Beef, roasted ham with raisin sauce, roast turkey and dressing — with all the trimmings, from fall vegetables to our bountiful salad bar, plus, of course, the best-loved traditional desserts. (From 12:00 - 5:00 p.m.; Adults: $8.95, Children 4-12:

$5.95, Children 3 and under: free; prices include tax and gratuities.)

Or if you prefer: the Jolly Miller Restaurant, where we will serve a special roast turkey dinner, as well as your favorites from our menu. (Seatings at 4:00, 6:00 and 7:30 p.m.)

Both will be memorable — as family and friends gather to enjoy the picture perfect feast we've filled in beautifully — to the last detail. For reservations, call 459-4500.

Child mistreated Carlson

EDITOR:
Your endorsements of the various office candidates were interesting but I don't understand The Crier's and Chas Child's treatment of Mr. Gerald Carlson, candidate for Michigan's 15th U.S. Congressional district).

Of all the races or political topics Mr. Child could have written about (Child's Play), the one he chose to enlighten us about was the candidacy of Mr. Carlson. There are ways of expressing disagreements with someone's views without resorting to personal attacks. To brand Mr. Carlson as a "lunatic" and "demented" demonstrates,

Girls, don't lead guys on the street

EDITOR:
This is to any girl or girls who decide to stay out late on the weekend because it's cool. Don't go unless you're in a group or with an adult.

But, if you do go out look out for groups of guys partying . . . they can really harass you, scare you, and even follow you.

My friend and I know because we decided to stay out late one night and we were actually chased by a group of guys in a car. Not all guys in cars are going to be crude to you, but if it happens to you go into the nearest open store or anyplace with a lot of people. It may cause some embarrassment but it may save you from a very scary experience.

This is what happened to my friend and me. We were out late and a carload of guys were razzing us and we yelled back to them and they started to follow us. We tried to lose them, but it didn't work.

Maybe they thought it was all in fun, but a girl we know was raped and seriously injured and that just stuck in the back of our minds. I guess they finally gave up because we got home tired and shaking after about 15-20 minutes of running.

Also a note to the six or seven guys in the green car who followed us. When you see that it's not funny anymore and that the to me, Mr. Child's liberal ignorance and his need for self ego exhalation.

Perhaps if Mr. Child had seen ABC's report on Mr. Carlson's campaign or read the Nov. 2 Free Press's article on Mr. Carlson he might have learned how professionals work.

Maybe next time Mr. Carlson runs for office Mr. Child will be able to keep his "Plymouth liberal" composure together better. After all, 236 "demented" Canton-Salem students voted for Mr. Carlson in the mock election and that does say something, doesn't it?

DAN JANUSIS

"chicks" are scared, leave them alone.
And to the two guys on Adams Street by Central who saw us about 10 p.m.: if you were two girls and a car full of guys you didn't know were following you, you'd act the same way we did.

Child's play

by Chas Child

Canton residents can expect a more conservative and business-like Board of Trustees for the next four years.

With four Republicans riding the crest of the Reagan landslide, including a GOP supervisor, James Poole, the board will probably give an extra push to industrial development and provide more funds to the police department.

A new farmland preservation policy will probably also be charted. Money for the program has been impossible to find up to now, and with a new wave of conservatives heading for Washington, D.C. don't expect the federal government to have any bucks for such "frills." And I doubt whether the township's hard-pressed taxpayers are in any mood to pass a millage for the program, even if the board puts it on the ballot.

My guess is that the board will turn to a strict growth-control plan, rather than a formal and expensive program designed to permanently preserve Canton's remaining agricultural area.

It would be unfortunate to see the program finally abandoned. But it's time the board admitted that its dreams exceed its pocket-book and a practical solution is needed.

To encourage citizen participation in township affairs, the board should also hold more orderly meetings. Many trustee candidates ran on this theme -- particularly of treating all who come before the board with more respect.

This is a badly needed reform. Simply because the administration and the trustees were ill-prepared and unruly, board meetings in the last couple of years have last six hours or more. Who can expect citizens to attend such meetings?

Another significant change may come in the board's relations with other communities. Canton has been frequently considered something of a joke, sometimes unfairly, but many times justifiably.

This will probably end in the next years, especially if Canton does such things as join the unified 35th District Court building which the other four district communities have already agreed to join.

Overall, I expect words such as "cost effective" and "fiscally responsible" to be repeated often in the next years, and well they should. But I hope the board doesn't stop looking for innovative and inexpensive ways to deliver badly needed services such as recreation, as they tighten the township's belt.

With Malice Toward None

By W. Edward WENDOVER

The democratic-bureaucratic process is rarely anything but a knee-jerk reactionary lethargy.

It takes a catastrophe to bring an issue to the floor and sometimes months more to see the final solution implemented.

The fatal accident at the intersection of Beck and North Territorial roads on Oct. 27 is a case in point.

Police reported other accidents in the preceding weeks at the same cross-road for the same reason -- Beck Road drivers, heading south on the newly improved multi-lane highway didn't stop at North Territorial. Granted, there were stop signs, but they obviously weren't sufficient.

After the fatal crash, in which 22-year-old Joseph Shafer died, the traffic signal for the intersection was finally put up. The light should be dedicated to him and his friends and family should ask the county and state highway officials why he had to die before the light was installed.

But action on that traffic light was lightening fast compared to the long-awaited improvement of the Main Street-Ann Arbor Road intersection.

In the works since June of 1978, this project won't be completed until summer of next year -- at the earliest.

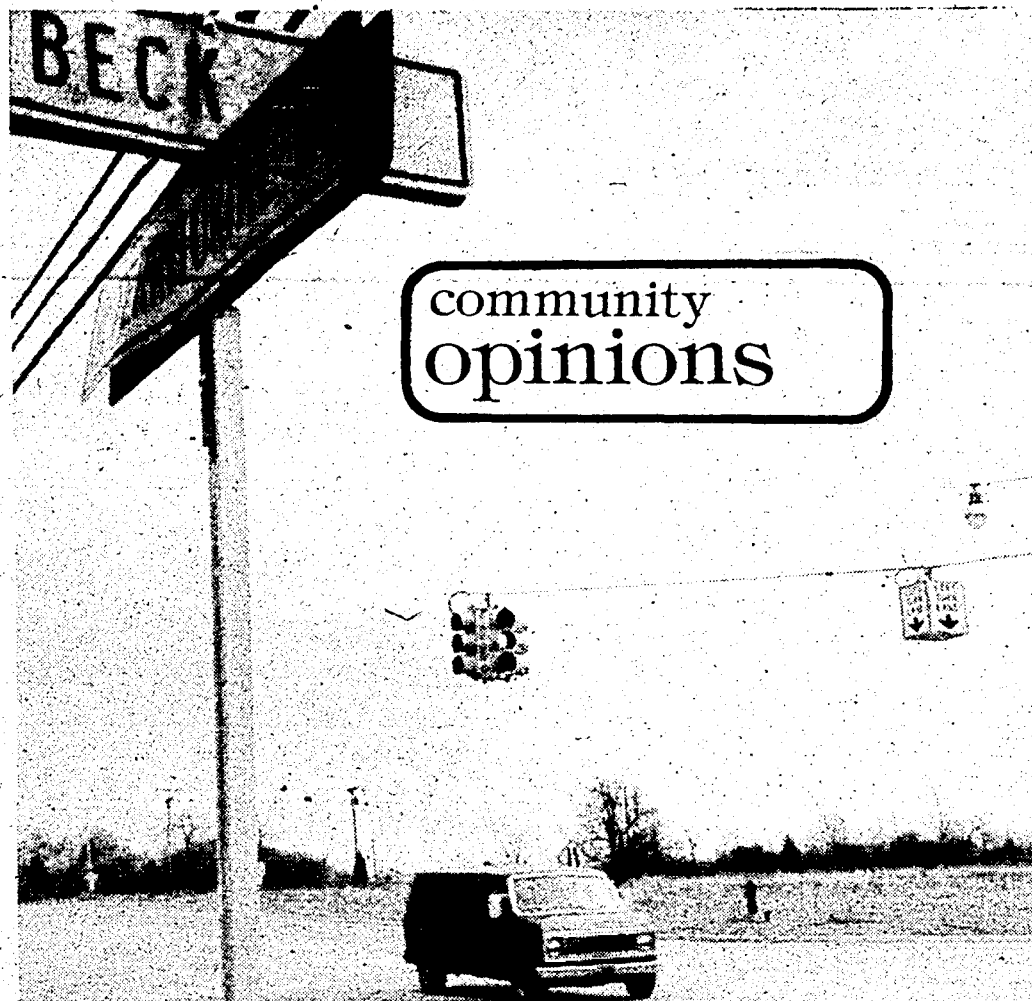

And there's been a fatal accident there since it was in the works. Additionally, a total of about 10 per cent of all accidents in the city occurring there each year, according to Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford.

The project, funded 100 per cent by U.S. safety funds, has slowly wound its way through the paperwork mill to the point where bids are expected to be taken this coming spring. That will make it three years in the works.

"That's damn fast when you consider federal funds are involved," said City Engineer Ken West.

Tell that to the friends and family of the woman who died there and to all the drivers involved in fender benders there during the past two-and-a-half years.

Even more frustrating than the bureaucrats' complacency with such red tape

community opinions

delay, is the alarming fact that the first time the city requested that this dangerous intersection be reviewed, the state or feds LOST the application! That was two or three years before the actual review took place, Ford said.

There's apparently little that can be done about such governmental inefficiency and foot-dragging. Even pleading or scathing editorials and letters don't get bureaucrats or politicians in gear.

There's just one bit of advice to get by temporarily: drive carefully when you're near Ann Arbor Road and Main Street or other dangerous areas.

In addition

by Dan Bodene

Some things never change.

For instance, we still have the saga of two of Plymouth's more notable temporary living establishments -- the Old Village Inn and Manor Rooms.

As you remember, when we last left the Old Village Inn, the city's chief building inspector had tagged the building with 30-odd violations of the state and city codes. Upon reinspection, "no visible repairs were underway."

The owner was given another extension for completion of repairs. His establishment will be reinspected on Nov. 17, and if the current pattern of repairs (or rather, the lack of them) continues, the matter will be turned over to the city attorney.

I sincerely hope something will be accomplished this time around, either by the owner or the city. Both sides have dragged this issue out far too long.

And what of Manor Rooms, you ask? Last week, a tenant filed a complaint with the city Police Department alleging that the manager of the place threatened him with a shotgun.

Everybody seems to be a victim in these escapades. The building inspectors don't want to close down an establishment and cut off a person's livelihood. The apartment managers can't pay for all the needed repairs, and can't be responsible for all their tenants' behavior. The tenants hate living in places obviously below state standard. The police don't like responding to calls involving unruly people with firearms.

What will it take to resolve these shenanigans?

CANTON LIBRARY OPEN

NEW BEAUTIFUL
TWP. HALL ★ CANTON CENTER RD.
SOUTH OF CHERRY HILL

THE CANTON BOARD approved a variance to the township's sign ordinance for the newly-opened Canton Library subject to the approval of the ordinance department before these signs could be erected. Certainly, the signs serve a temporary purpose of promoting the opening of the new facility, but the same need holds true for new businesses or the commercial sector during unusual times. The newly-elected board should consider revising the overly-restrictive sign ordinance to allow for some latitude without jeopardizing the aesthetic intent of controlling signs. ## Adults must set example for youth

EDITOR:

Several days ago when our 13-year-old daughter was caught smoking a cigarette, we asked her where she got it.

She replied she and another equally young friend purchased the, unassisted, without any problem, over the counter at a local party store. I phoned the store and discussed the situation with the manager. Her instant reply was that if our daughter couldn't purchase them there, she would simply go elsewhere and get them anyway.

I told her that was the poorest excuse I ever heard of for allowing a law to be broken. I also phoned the police department and she was given a warning.

How many other business establishments in our community have the same disgusting, money-grubbing attitude and are contributing to the delinquency of minors -- starting them at an early age on a harmful, expensive habit that has already ruined the health, in varying degrees, of millions of people?

No wonder many of our young people have disdain for our laws when adults help break them. Is the world in such a mess that adults, such as that manager, have no feelings of responsibility toward youngsters who can't realize the potential dangers?

How pathetic it is that they are more interested in a small financial gain than in the welfare of our young people who already have peer pressures from all sides. How can these kids respect our "adult" world?

In any event, I will make it as difficult as possible for my daughter to obtain cigarettes (or any alcoholic beverages) from any source, and I henceforth will file a legal complaint in any and every such instance. I wish other concerned parents would do likewise.

'Dallas' devotees debate deadly deed

BY DAN BODENE

It was Dusty. No, it was Kristin. No, no, it had to be Miss Ellie. Bobby? Sue Ellen? Jock? Digger?

Who shot J. R. Ewing, the most famous bad guy on TV? That was the question of the evening last Friday when devotees of the CBS-TV series "Dallas" gathered at the Mayflower Meeting House for a party in honor of the episode wherein J.R.'s assailant was to be revealed.

But leave it to CBS.

Originally scheduled for airing in September, the episode was delayed due to the actor's strike prior to the regular TV season opening. The original party was also postponed, according to Scott Lorenz of the Mayflower Hotel, and it took several phone calls to CBS brass to find out when the show would finally be aired.

Once the new date was set, "Dallas" fans faithfully dug out their standing reservations and trooped off to the Meeting House on Friday like pilgrims to a big-screen-equipped Mecca.

Diners feasted on steaks grilled over mesquite wood imported from the Lone Star State and sipped "Texas-sized" drinks before the show began. It was before dinner that the conversation dealt mainly to the identity of whoever pumped two slugs into everybody's favorite villain.

DISCUSSING the possibilities of the "Dallas" issue were Cara Schneider (left) and Lisa Mikkola, both of Commerce Township. Sitting by a fire and conspiring, the pair never could agree who the gunman was.

Eileen Beaugrand of Plymouth, a certified "Dallas" fan, was not sure before the episode aired. "It's a toss-up for me," she said. "It wasn't anyone in the family. Digger or J.R.'s brother?" Why? "Digger got drunk and he was mad. I applauded when J.R. was shot."

Other responses to the question of the evening were varied. "I think his wife did it," observed Bruce Franckowiak. "Why not the obvious?" Lisa Mikkola of Commerce Township wavered, however. "Definitely his wife. No, that's too obvious. It might be Dusty -- he's not as obvious. It's going to be someone not very obvious. His mother? No, she was nowhere close . . ."

Mikkola's friend Cara Schneider, also of Commerce Township, thinks it was Dusty. A close follower of the show, she recently returned from a trip to Houston. "It was fantastic," she said. "The nightlife was great. Each place had an air to it -- it made you feel really good."

By all reckoning, most of the partygoers were feeling really good, too. Maureen Morahan, a waitress at the bash, said by shortly after eight p.m. she had served "an average of three drinks to everybody." But not without reward. "Tips were really good," she added. "I wasn't expecting everyone to tip so well." All the waitresses apparently found the guests in a Texas-sized mood of generosity as well as in Texas-styled threads.

Since the ambiance of the evening was more attuned to dancing the Cotton-eyed Joe rather than the New York Hustle, boots and Stetsons were the uniform of the night. Jim Northrup, formerly a Detroit Tiger, received compliments on his attire. "Yeah, I flew it in from Texas," was his explanation.

The explanation everyone waited for was not to be aired, however. Unbeknownst to Lorenz, CBS had decided to draw out the mystery surrounding the shooting of J.R. until later this season. Plymouth partygoers were treated to the events immediately surrounding the shooting, but not the identity of the actual shootist.

But speculation still raged. "Kristin is leaving the show. They're going to convict her and you'll never see her again," said Veronica Schnarstein of Plymouth.

Was it Cliff? Lucy? Pam?
Will we ever know?

Crier photos by Robert Cameron

BOBBIE WARNOCK of Westland definitely dressed the part -- top and bottom. "I've been watching 'Dallas' since before it was popular," she says. But what of the inevitable question? "Dusty did it. I think Dusty's not dead, and he's still mad at Sue Ellen."

JIM NORTHRUP, who formerly wore cleats and cap of the Detroit Tigers, cashed them in for boots and a Stetson for the "Dallas" season premier.

Most 'soaps' can't be considered too clean

Have you ever wondered what would happen to the day-to-day living of many Americans if the soaps were taken off television? How would people know how to schedule their daily routine if they didn't center things around being home in time to watch their favorite show?

I find it totally amazing that people get so excited and involved in a silly television show. Many times when a group of people are together someone will ask, "Did you see such and such a show?" Then they go on for hours about Dr. John dying of cancer, Mary Jane (who has been married five times) running off with Bill who is still married to Laura, and then there's the big question -- did Paul really try to kill Connie when he pushed her down the stairs or was it an accident?

On the few occasions when I've been home during the day and tuned in one of the soaps, I've lasted about five minutes. It takes a couple of minutes to figure out who's who, followed by a minute and a half of commercials, and a few minutes of watching the action to drive me up the wall, and off goes the television.

I don't understand what these shows offer people, but there must be something. There are thousands of people who are glued to their television sets everyday at a certain time. I've often wondered if there was something I was missing.

Another thing that is hard to understand, is how one of the top-rated television shows can be a night-time version of the soaps. The person responsible for the publicity of Dallas did a fantastic job of promoting "Who shot J.R.?"

Even people who don't know who or what J.R. is are beginning to wonder who shot him.

Maybe I'm a little different from many Americans -- I admit I don't like television. Except for a few occasional shows, I'd rather spend my time talking and listening to real people. Somehow, I have a feeling I'm not alone.

Shevlin commands Squad 52

CMDR. JOSEPH E. SHEVLIN, JR.

U.S. Navy Reserve Commander Joseph E. Shevlin, Jr. of Plymouth Township recently assumed command of Air Transportation Squadron 52, Detachment Detroit.

Shevlin, supervisor of salaried personnel and training at Ford Motor Company's Dearborn Engine Plant, joined the Navy in 1962. Serving four years, eight months active duty aboard aircraft carriers in the North Atlantic, Mediterranean Sea, Western Pacific and South China Sea, Shevlin was awarded numerous combat decorations for missions in Vietnam.

Shevlin will now assume responsibility, authority and accountability for the transportation squadron, located at Selfridge Air National Guard Base in Mt. Clemens.

He is married to the former Eleanor Pascu, and together they have two sons, ages 14 and 10.

Gone are all the pretentious curlicues and pseudo-antique trimmings of the less-efficient, first generation wood stoves. In their place: heavy, 100% welded, honest-to-goodness steel plate construction—a firebrick-lined combustion chamber—top or rear flue venting—precise, fingertip air-damping controls—and a full-width, heat resistant CORNING® PYROCERAM® glass viewing door! Think about it: the Stoveworks CV model gives you the unbeatable charm and coziness of a flickering, open log fire PLUS all the commonsense benefits of the modern wood stove.

And isn't that precisely what you're looking for?

Students vie for national scholarship

Jayne Doyle of Canton High and Kimberly Mendenhall of Salem High have been named winners of the Century III Leaders Scholarship competition.

Both excelled in the local phase of the scholarship competition, "which emphasizes the future concerns of America." Judged on the basis of community involvement, leadership abilities and score on a current events program, Doyle and Mendenhall will compete at state level by writing a brief projection outlining what they think is one of America's future challenges and how it should be met.

At the state competition, they will be eligible for two $1,500 scholarships, two $500 scholarships and a $10,000 national scholarship.

Doyle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Doyle of Plymouth. She is a member of the Plymouth Community Junior Civitan Club, National Honor Society, and Student Council.

Mendenhall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garbarino of Canton. She is a member of Student Council, served as class director of Homecoming activities, and is a member of the Forensic team.

Bryne named St. John head

Rev. Robert H. Bryne, at 33 the youngest priest ever to be named rector of a U.S. Catholic seminary, was appointed to that position at St. John's Provincial Seminary by the Bishops of Michigan at their annual meeting, Nov. 3. Fr. Bryne succeeds the Very Reverend Kenneth Untener, who will be ordained Bishop of Saginaw, Nov. 24.

Since Sept. 1978, Fr. Bryne has been assistant professor of moral theology at St. John's, where he has taught courses in Fundamental Theology, Theology of Marriage, Medical Ethics, and Theology of Human Sexuality. Director of Liturgy since 1978, he also served as consultant to the Michigan Bishops for the recently issued marriage guidelines.

THE REV. ROBERT H. BRYNE

School PR chief tapped

Richard Egli was hired Monday as the Plymouth-Canton School District's new administrative assistant for community relations.

The Board of Education hired Egli, 46, who is now public information officer of the Lenawee Intermediate School District. He will start his new job Nov. 17.

Egli will be in charge of public relations in the district. He will assist local reporters and other members of the news media, publish the school district newsletter, answer questions from the public, and coordinate many school activities.

Besides his current position in Lenawee,

Egli has served as director of information services for the Adrian Public Schools, has held management positions at three radio stations in Michigan, and wrote editorials for the now defunct Lenawee Tribune.

Also, Egli is a member and past president of the Adrian Rotary Club, member of the board of the Tecumseh United Way, and member and past board member of the Lenawee County YMCA.

He has three daughters, the youngest of whom is a student at Michigan State University.

The salary range of Egli's position is between $29,586 and $36,744. Egli replaces Florence Beier, who quit this summer to take a public relations job for a hospital in California.

Schools remove Fiegel class partition

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

In response to crowded conditions at Fiegel Elementary School, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education OK'd the removal of a wall between two classrooms to set up a team-taught classroom for fifth graders recently.

Parents had complained recently to the school board, saying that the "centrum" area which has been set up as a classroom wasn't designed as a teaching area. They had asked the board to put up a portable classroom for the fifth graders.

A "centrum" is an area which leads to other classrooms, but because it is large, had been set up as a classroom for students. Parents said their children's education was hampered by the arrangement. "It's an intolerable situation," said James Gee, spokesperson of the Fiegel parents, at a recent school board meeting.

The area was also reviewed by the State Police Fire Marshall Division for safety and the Wayne County Department of Health. The fire marshall said the area is in compliance with the school fire safety code and may be used as a classroom.

However, the health department said the current class of 28 students is six more than minimum standards permit. It also said ventilation for the area is "not currently acceptable."

By removing the wall, more space and a better ventilation system would be created, said Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

The idea was also recommended by teachers, parents, and the school principal, Edgar Kleinsmith. Teachers will be paid for taking down and setting up the classroom when the fourth-grade teacher switches classrooms with a fifth-grade teacher in order to create two, fifth-grade classes, side-by-side, for team teaching.

A maximum of 12 hours take-down-and-set-up time for teachers was approved by the school board for payment. It received unanimous support from the board.

Outstanding Citizens Awards were presented by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at its 27th annual dinner on Nov. 5.

Cited for special recognition were Plymouth Historian Sam Hudson, Superintendent John M. Hoben, governmental leaders Hank Graper and Esther Hulsing, and commercial developers Gordon Grossman, Jim Jabara, and John Thomas.

Awards were given in appreciation for the contributions and inspiration these citizens have given to the Plymouth community.

The evening sellout crowd of 300 also witnessed honorable recognition awards given to retiring Chamber Board members
Jerry Loiselle, Jim Jabara, and Leonard Evans.

After the awards presentation, special guest speaker Woody Hayes, former coach for Ohio State University, presented a candidid talk that was followed by dancing.

Suit filed on alleged Open Meeting violation

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Has Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees violated the state's Open Meetings Act?

A suit, charging the board and six of its seven individual board members with alleged violations, has been filed by Carol and James Levitte, township residents. Carol Levitte was the Democratic nominee for the supervisor's post in yesterday's election. Individual charges were not filed against Trustee Lee Fidge.

The suit was also filed against township attorneys Donald Morgan and Nels Carlson.

William P. Hampton, a Farmington Hills attorney, has been hired by the township board to represent the defendants.

The suit includes charges the board and its members violated the Open Meetings Act because no procedures were set up for addressing the board at meetings; improper additions were made to the board's agenda in regards to the settlement of the Hilltop Golf Course suit last summer; and, a closed session was improperly held in regards to the settlement of the law suit with Plymouth III's development, according to the Levittes.

Furthermore, they ask the court to award damages, totalling $12,000, against the board members and attorneys Morgan and Carlson.

The township is asking the court to dismiss the charges. The defendants say the township has passed a resolution saying meetings will be called, noticed and held in accordance with Michigan statutes and shall follow Robert's Rules of Order.

In regards to charges that the settlement of the Hilltop Golf Course suit were improperly done, the township ratified actions, taken by Morgan, at a public meeting on Oct. 14, they say.

The closed meeting held to discuss litigation with the developer from Plymouth III subdivision was proper, say the defendants. Furthermore, they charge that the Levittes are seeking damages which exceed the "actual and exemplary damages . . . if they are entitled to any damages at all, it is in the total of an amount not to exceed $500."

The defendants ask the court to dismiss the complaint and award them costs and attorney fees incurred for defending the case.

"This lawsuit is frivolous, spurious, groundless and completely without merit," say the defendants.

New ambulance OK'd

Plymouth firefighters will soon have a new ambulance to go with their new department facilities.

Recently, city commissioners unanimously voted to appropriate $40,000 for the purchase of a new ambulance. Fire Chief Roy Hall will solicit bids for the new rig and later submit his recommendation to the commission for final purchase.

According to Hall, approximately $10,000 would be needed to bring the present city ambulance back up to standard. City Manager Henry Graper, Jr. added that the rig is a conversion on a Chevrolet chassis, and many of its parts are now unavailable.

The new ambulance will be funded out of the city's equipment reserve account and revenues from rescue runs. In addition, much of the equipment for the new ambulance will be salvaged from the present rig.

Gifted children need recognition

BY REEF MORSE

What do you think gifted children are like? Are they expert chess players at age six? Are they mathematical wizards that solve indefinite integrals at eight? Are they newspaper readers at three? They may be any of these; they may also be the class clowns, the behaviour problems, the drop-outs, or the teen-age suicides.

It is important that the myths surrounding gifted children are broken down; this was the theme of the talk given by Sandy Warren to the Plymouth-Canton Association for the Academically Talented (PCAAT) at Pioneer Middle School recently.

Warren has a teaching degree and was the co-chairman of the Midwest Regional Eight State Talented and Gifted Congress. She stressed that gifted kids are not brighter or smarter than other kids. She compared gifted kids to retarded kids: "Retarded children have minds that work more slowly than normal children's minds; gifted children have minds that work more rapidly than normal children's minds." As slow-working minds affect everything about a retarded child, so do fast-working minds affect everything about a gifted child.

Gifted children tend to relate to others on the interest level, not the age level, she said. She continued: Just as adults rarely form relationships with others based solely on age, neither do gifted children. Thus, in the school system where children are grouped according to age, they often do not "fit," even though they may desire it very much.

In addition, she said there are many ways in which a child may be gifted. The average school system is more apt to identify children who are gifted in the areas of reading and mathematics than in psychology, art, music, or the social sciences. It is a mistake, Warren said, to place gifted children on an academic pedestal. It is of utmost importance to the child's development that they be allowed to be themselves, that they be challenged, and that they be allowed to excel and to be excelled by others, she added.

She compared the amount of money and effort spent on the "psychomotor gifted," dubbed athletes, versus the amount of money and effort spent on the intellectually gifted. Society recognizes and accepts athletic ability she added, but still frowns on intellectual ability.

Input sought for White House confab

Walter N. Fletcher of Plymouth has been appointed to the Regional Steering Committee for the White House Conference on Aging.

Sponsored by the Out-Wayne County Area on Aging in this area, the conference will be convened later next year as a result of legislation signed by President Jimmy Carter in 1978.

The purpose of the White House conference is to help public and private sectors deal with the development of policies stemming from the increased health and longevity of Americans.

Six major issues have been identified by the Advisory Committee: retirement income and employment for older Americans; physical and mental health; social well-being; older Americans as a growing national resource; creating an age-integrated society; trends within societal institutions; and research, to encourage biomedical research on the aging process.

Under the direction of Fletcher, forums will be held at the local level to address these issues.

Fletcher grounded the Plymouth Community Council on Aging in 1978, serving as its first president. Currently a director and vice president, Fletcher is also an alternate on the board of directors of the Out-Wayne County Area on Aging.

He will respond to any group of older persons desiring to express their views through the forum approach. Persons wishing to contact him should call 453-4844.

LWV creates new calendar

An innovative 1981 calendar entitled, "The Miser's Touch," has been created by the League of Women Voters and the American Association of University Women, and is now on sale at several local stores.

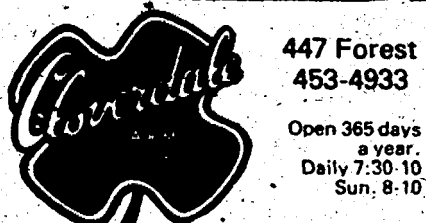

The calendar includes large squares for appointments as well as monthly dates. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the calendar is 12 pages of energy-saving tips such as reminders to wash or change furnace filters and that ovens can be dialed down 25 degrees by using glass containers for baking; how to maintain your car for optimal energy saving; and how to read gas, electric, and water meters.

Children's drawings were used to illustrate the calendar. Local artists who contributed include Jimmy Ryan, 11; Brian Kline, 5; Melissa Uhl, 9; Michael Perez, 5; Bobby Wojciechowaki, 10; Lori Allen, 10; and Julie Makowicz, 10.

Barbara Greanya, chairperson for Natural Resources, AAUW; and Cathy Price, chairperson for Natural Resources, LWV, coordinated the efforts of both groups in producing the calendar.

Calendars cost $2.50 and are available at Harvard Book Store and the Chamber of Commerce office in Canton; The Wine and Cheese Barn, Little Professor Book Center, Suntemp Energy Systems, Plymouth Book World, The Art Gallery and Lura's Patchwork in Plymouth; and Gifts by Marison and Northville Camera in Northville.

S'craft class make-up

Classes missed during the five-day faculty strike at Schoolcraft College in September will be made-up from Dec. 16 through 22.

Prior to the strike, Dec. 15 was to be the last day of classes with an examination week to follow. Now, classes have been extended through Dec. 22 and exams may be held the last two class sessions.

Agreement on the make-up schedule was reached through negotiations between the college and the Faculty Forum which represents Schoolcraft's 360 full and part-time faculty members.

Road Commish explains maintenance

BY DAN BODENE

Engineers from the Wayne County Road Commission recently explained why snow removal and road grading on Canton roads takes so long.

Representatives from the commission spoke to Canton residents at a public hearing last Tuesday detailing their snow removal and road grading policies and answering questions from local homeowners.

Gerald Dresselhouse, engineer of maintenance for the Road Commission, said his crews are responsible for upkeep of 1,800 miles of state, county and township roads.

The county's snow removal policy is based on priorities, he said. Primary roads receive first priority, and are salted to bare pavement before crews can begin work on secondary roads. "We are a melting county rather than a plowing county," Dresselhouse added.

If our trucks break down, we can't always fix them - we haven't the money'
- Gerald Dresselhouse*

Responding to criticism that residential snow removal is often very late, Dresselhouse replied that the time lag "is a function of equipment and men. We don't have extra trucks. We put out everything we have in a snowstorm."

He also pointed out the commission's reduced funding has made equipment maintenance difficult. "If our trucks break down, we can't always fix them -- we haven't the money," he said.

Road grading is accomplished with 11 graders, according to Dresselhouse. In contrast, he said the county had 18 graders five years ago. Additionally, the road commission can use several of more than 30 trucks equipped with grading blades. Dresselhouse said, however, that many of the blades are used for snow plowing and cannot be used for road grading.

Because so many roads in the township carry loads they were not designed for, Dresselhouse said it is impossible to keep them all smooth. Most roads are also sprayed with calcium chloride, a dust inhibitor, and cannot be re-graded after spraying, he said. "We can grade the roads only as fast as we can spray them." Four calcium chloride spraying rigs can each apply the chemical at the rate of four to six miles per day.

Robert Larson, assistant managing director of the road commission, stated many services must be curtailed due to budget constraints due to the decrease in revenues from the state's gas and weight tax, the only source of funding for the commission. He added that services to residents would be cut in half in two years if tax cut proposals are passed Nov. 4.

Canton Supervisor Noel Culbert told residents the township is also preparing for anticipated problems due to the forecast for a long winter. He said the township will purchase two, four-wheel-drive mini-pumpers for the fire department early next year. In addition, barrels of sand and sodium chloride will be placed at dangerous intersections during bad weather.

Other road work is also accomplished on a priority basis, said Larson. To get a project on the priority list, municipalities must submit a proposal to the Road Commission, which establishes priorities with an Urban Systems Task Force. The task force is part of the Federal Urban Aid System, which supervises allocation of federal funds for local projects.

Dresselhouse explained the costs involved in road projects, citing a figure of $1.2 million per mile for paving a road to Class A standards. An overhead signal light costs an average of $18,000 to install, he said. Wayne County is responsible for funding 10 per cent of each project, he added, with the federal government supplying the balance.

Since decreases in funding was explained as the greatest hindrance to road commission services, residents asked if revenues could be increased by raising the gas and weight tax. State Representative Thomas Brown explained that "not too many legislators want to raise any tax right now," adding, however, that the issue might again be considered next year.

Brown suggested the township investigate the possibility of a road improvement millage. He summed up the issue by saying, "We have made a mistake by not writing a state law that subdivisions must be developed with access to a paved road."

Dresselhouse added that residents with a question on road maintenance can call the Road Commission at 942-9920, 24 hours. He said residents should ask for Earl Ollila, maintenance engineer.

If you think jogging's the way to better health, read these Surprising Facts about BodiBouncer . . . .

This amazing and revolutionary new way to restore physical and mental energy is sweeping the country.

Rigorous sports or exercises, like jogging, can be discouraging and even damaging to the joints or spine. Many typical exercises stress a particular group of muscles (actually muscle cells) and work in opposition to only one force: gravity.

The Naturalife / BodiBouncer, using the principle of rebound exercise, adds to gravity the forces of acceleration and deceleration and stresses and strengthens every cell in the body!

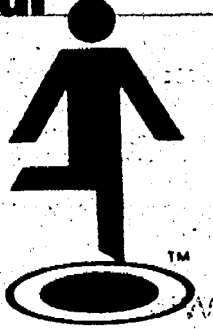

No matter who or where you are, you can benefit from the BodiBouncer. Men, women, and children of all ages, the entire family.

Business people and homemakers have discovered quick and effective relief from physical and nervous tension; the sports-minded are improving stamina and endurance; the elderly and infirmed are enjoying revitalization -- in the privacy of their own offices and homes.

Imagine all these health benefits!

- Improved muscle tone
- Natural massage of the skin and vital organs
- Improved blood and lymph circulation
- More efficient oxygen utilization
- Improved digestion and elimination
- Easier and more enjoyable weight control
- Improvement in body vitality
- Cleansing of the arteries and cardiovascular system
- Relief from mental and physical tension
- Rehabilitation for heart and orthopedic problems
- Greater relaxation and more natural sleep
- Improved balance and coordination
- Increased strength and stamina
- More positive outlook with fewer aches

WSDP announces new Afternoon Edition format

WSDP has recently adopted a new news format. Every weekday at 4 p.m., students on the WSDP Staff broadcast a complete hour of news, sports, weather, and features.

WSDP's Afternoon Edition starts with Plymouth-Canton news and Michigan news, followed by National and International news. Then the sportscaster brings you the latest scores, which are followed by feature stories. These reports are researched and produced by the students of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Radio Station.

Staff Advisor John Seidelman said, "I like it because it provides more students with the opportunity to get involved in many different aspects of broadcasting. It also gives us greater flexibility to do more things with the news hours."

Joe Koenig, News Director for the Station, said, "The new news format is really ideal for us in that it grants on-air experience to many students who would not otherwise receive it -- and it also allots more time to local news that is perhaps above Community Notes but below Michigan News in stature."

Food tasting seminar is a real mouthful

BY KEN VOYLES

It was exactly gourmet fair at the 2nd Annual Food Tasting Seminar recently at Canton High School. The 150 or so students and parents who were involved discovered the quality of food that is served at the various schools in Plymouth-Canton.

The purpose of the meeting was to check out the quality of student food served in the cafeterias, discover student preferences and involve parents in the whole process.

Students from elementary, middle and high school levels attended along with their parents. The Parent Advisory Committee (for the ARA food service) sponsored the gathering and volunteers prepared the food for waiting gourmets.

On the taste test list were samples of pizza, hamburger, hot dogs, peaches, pears, pineapple, carrots and mixed vegetables.

Before the tasting began, Dan White, a school administrator gave a brief rundown of some of the student favors from last year's first seminar.

Pizza, tacos, hotdogs and hamburgers were well liked, while chili and knockworst and sauerkraut were disliked.

Carrots and corn won out in the vegetable area, while green beans and squash were much disliked.

"We also want to clear up the pizza mystery," said White. "Last year it was our most popular item, and it was also our most disliked. Apparently there is room for change or improvement with the pizza."

The food was then served on three tables and each person was handed a checklist to be turned in when the tasting was concluded.

Three samples of pears came first. The first sample, in light syrup, proved the best. It tasted like pears should. Sample two in water lacked any pear flavor and sample three was just fair.

The peaches were next. Sample one in light syrup was very bland with a slightly bitter aftertaste. Sample two, in heavy syrup was better but not by much and sample three, also in light syrup, tasted no better than one or two.

The pineapple samples followed. Sample one in natural juice and sample two in light syrup were bland while sample three in heavy syrup was much closer to what pineapple should taste like.

Although the four hamburger samples all looked the same and almost tasted the same (without anything added) there was a slight variation. Sample one was fair, sample two was much better, sample three was fair and I didn't like sample four.

Of the four pizza samples, sample two and sample four were far better than sample one and three. Sample two was heavy on the spice and tasted like pizza, while sample four was heavy on cheese and dough.

Sample one and three just didn't have the spice or the cheese to give a good pizza flavor. Sample four is in fact the brand of the pizza currently in use among the schools.

Of the four sample of hot dogs three was rated OK and one was disliked. Sample one was all meat and tasted a little like the hamburgers. Sample two looked bad but the taste proved better than the appearance. Sample three looked bad and tasted rather dull. Sample four, the turkey dogs received boos when announced in the discussion after the tasting was completed and yet the deep red colored sample was far better than sample three.

The two carrot samples were a little less than expected. Sample one, currently in use, looked somewhat repulsive but proved better than sample two which lacked any carrot flavor.

In mixed vegetables, sample one was liked, mostly because of a simple touch of adding potato chunks to the vegetables. Sample two was weak on flavor and sample three was also weak on flavor but had more quality than sample two. Sample three proved to be the U.S. government's brand which is sold to schools for four cents a pound as compared to $1.37 for sample one and $1.49 for sample two.

Once the tasting was completed, Paul Siedel from ARA went over the checklist with the amateur tasters, gave the brand of each sample, its price and any other details such as whether the sample was currently in use.

"The parents Advisor Committee will tabulate the results and then they will be presented to the school board," said Siedel. "By doing this we hope to get some interest generated in the area of food quality. We are mostly interested in what the students have to say and we got a good cross section from all the schools.

"This is the best turnover we've had and we hope to make this a yearly event. We also make a comparison with the likes and dislikes and the prices to see if a change is needed or possible," continued Siedel.

According to White, the seminar wasn't very scientific and yet "it was a lot of fun for everybody."

BPW fashion show wins raves

Patricia Hann was named "Woman of the Year" by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club during its first fall fashion show recently. The award was given for her work in remodeling Old Village.

More than 500 persons attended the "Festive Debut" at the Plymouth Hilton. The models, who ranged from the young career woman to the senior citizen, wore fashions by Van Dam's, New Gal in Town, and the House of Glamour. Velour is 'in', but polyester still reigns as the most popular fabric. Hairstyles this Christmas are smooth, slick, and very shiny, as the 'bob' makes its debut.

The models were BPW members Mary Ellen Eckler, Mariam Kehrl, Susan Light, Barbara Martin, Kris Rautio, Grace Rix, Kathy Salla, and Tracy Flora.

Many door prizes, donated by merchants and members of the club, were given away in a raffle. All proceeds from the show go into a scholarship fund sponsored by the BPW.

Other donations to the fashion show were by the Hilton, which donated the room; Big Red "Q" -- fashion show tickets; First State Insurance Co. -- raffle tickets; Campbell's of Plymouth -- programs; and Karen LeGault of LeGault's of Plymouth -- decorations.

Redfern assumes additional duties at Crier

Phyllis Redfern, a four-year veteran of The Community Crier staff, has been given additional responsibilities.

In her position as office manager, she will now supervise the business, circulation and classified advertising departments of the newspaper. Jackie Pack, as business manager, and Joyce Drewry, circulation manager, will continue in those capacities under Redfern's direction.

Redfern will continue her popular column, "Tell It to Phyllis," and in her capacity on the Plymouth-Canton Community Crier, Inc. board of directors.

"Phyllis's promotion simply recognizes her growing overall management of The Crier's business-related functions. Her role in upgrading this portion of our operation has helped serve all our customers," said W. Edward Wendover, Crier publisher, in announcing the change.

Liquor license applications need uniformity

BY DAN BODENE

Although one agency awards class C liquor licenses throughout the state, most municipalities including the City of Plymouth and Plymouth and Canton townships, have their own policies for recommending the applications for them.

Class C licenses are needed to sell liquor by the glass, and are awarded on the basis of population within a municipality. Currently, a license may be awarded for every 1,500 persons in a particular area.

Michigan's Liquor Control Commission (LCC) is the sole arbiter in awarding the licenses. Although the LCC will accept license applications from individuals, none are granted without a resolution of support from a governing municipality.

Within the three governmental units of the Plymouth-Canton Community exist three different methods of processing liquor license applications. Since liquor licenses are often considered a development tool, the application process becomes a function of each municipality's needs.

For example, within the City and Township of Plymouth, which have relatively static populations, the application process is relatively low-key. City Manager Henry Graper, Jr. says in the past, applications were reviewed every two or three years. After determining the seriousness of the request, the city manager's recommendations were passed on to the City Commission for review, and possible action. Graper said commissioners themselves could also initiate an application review.

The city, however, recently supported the award of the last class C license it was eligible for, due to a lowered census count.

Plymouth Township processes license applications in much the same manner as the city. Township Clerk Esther Hulsing added, "We're kind of fussy about whether an applicant has a building built." The township currently has three licenses available, and may be eligible for another one or two after certification of the 1980 census, according to Hulsing.

Contrasting with the application process in the City and Township of Plymouth is the procedure implemented by Canton.

Due to Canton's ever-growing population, four licenses are currently unclaimed, and many more will probably be available after the new census is approved.

Canton's procedure for processing the applications was approved by the township board last August, and assigned to the Treasurer's Department. Deputy Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, who handles the procedure, says potential applicants must first fill out a four-page application. When the application is returned, a copy is sent to the LCC, and another internal investigation is begun by township departments.

The investigation includes scrutiny by Water, Treasurer, Finance, Planning, Building, Fire, Ordinance and Health departments before a final Police Department review. Falkiewicz then consolidates pertinent information in a report for board members.

Falkiewicz says that applicants are advised of potential problems throughout the review process, and every effort is made to resolve them prior to board review of the application.

"I'll explain what a department head suggested, and then direct (applicants) to the department head -- they're the experts," says Falkiewicz.

Time, as well as procedure, is an important factor in acquiring a class C license. All three municipalities in the Plymouth-Canton Community routinely check applications with various police agencies, which adds to the length of time needed to process the application. Plymouth Township's Hulsing comments, "It takes an infernally long time, like most things in government. Often, it depends on how long it takes to get the report from the Sheriff's Department or State Police."

Procedures for awarding class C licenses are neither quick nor easy, according to government officials who deal with them. Indeed, Canton's trustees recently voted to move the delegation of application procedures from the Treasurer's Department to the Township Clerk, who says he intends to investigate using a new procedure.

But unless the state changes its requirements, or standardizes its application procedure at local levels, a liquor license will never be had just for the asking.

Bentley stops Salem's league drive

A tremendous amount of basketball energy was expended on the Livonia Bentley court last night as Salem clashed with the Bulldogs in a game that decided who would be in on the Suburban Eight League title.

Salem needed to win to share the title with the Bulldogs, who were unbeaten in league play. It didn't happen, though, as Bentley outmuscled the Rocks 35-32 in a defensive classic.

"Their pressure was a big factor. We weren't able to coordinate our offense and you can't do that against a good team like Bentley," said Salem Coach Bob Blohm. "Our defense had a good game all night, but you have to give Bentley a lot of credit, they played hard.

Eilene Moore had 10 points to pace Salem while Jan Mackenzie had nine points. Cheryl Sobkow and Jeanine Papa had four points each.

The game opened with a style of play that would epitomize the rest of the night. Moore scored four points in the first quarter, but Bentley took advantage of repeated Salem turnovers and led 9-8 at the end of the quarter.

It was Salem's defensive prowess that made the difference in the second quarter from scoring. The Bulldogs tallied two baskets in the first two minutes, but were held scoreless after that.

Moore tallied Salem's first two buckets and the Rocks added seven more points to climb ahead 19-13 at intermission.

It was Bentley's turn to turn on the defense in the third quarter. Mackenzie and Papa scored one basket each for Salem, but those were all the points the Rocks could muster in the quarter. With four seconds left in the quarter, Bentley went ahead for good 24-23.

Canton JV fails to win a game

Canton's junior varsity football team suffered an 0-8-1 season this fall under the coaching of George Przygodski and Dan Riggs.

The Chiefs fell to Livonia Bentley, North Farmington, Farmington Harrison, Walled Lake Western, Northville, Livonia Churchill, Garden City East, and Belleville. Canton also tied Waterford Mott in a scoreless game, 0-0.

"Our kids played with a lot of heart but we were out-manned in most of our games.

We thought we should have won several of those games including the Mott game," said Przygodski.

The Chiefs tallied only seven touchdowns offensively during the season, but had several players worth noting.

Dave Szary and Marty McCarthy at running backs and Matt Santilli at quarterback gave the team a little punch on offense, while Don Page and Danny Schadt had strong season defensively.

"It wasn't a great season obviously, but the team worked hard," said Przygodski.

Chief cagers win Monday night

BY KEN VOYLES

Scare tactics and good basketball humbled yet another unsuspecting team Monday Night.

The Canton girls' basketball squad added Western Six League foe Waterford Mott to its wampum belt as they garnered a 43rd straight conference victory at home, 64-47.

With the league title already their, the Chiefs are eyeing the district tournaments to be held at Salem High from Nov. 20 through Nov. 26.

That determination was in their play Monday against the Corsairs.

Canton started its routine with a rowdy round of clapping and ended with a chorus of "We are Family." The pregame tactics were followed by a steady attack, proving Canton's court strength, that finally made a difference early in the second half.

"We played really good basketball. We were real sharp," said Canton coach Mike McCauley. "Mott is a much improved ball team and we were happy to play them.

"The defense was the key, obviously. With our defense we made them turn over the ball," continued the coach. "Anytime you win 43 games and keep on doing it you have to be pleased. This team is ready to play district basketball."

Canton started evenly with Mott. By the end of the first quarter the score was 16-14, Mott. Colleen Crissey and Reggie Ruggiero pumped in six points each in that period, but Canton stopped itself with repeated mistakes when opportunity presented itself.

The second quarter was also close. Pearly Cunningham paced the Chiefs in that quarter with eight points and Canton went into the lockerroom at the intermission, ahead, 25-24.

Rock swimmers lose final dual to EF

It wasn't exactly the way Chuck Olson would have liked to finish the dual-meet season.

The Salem girls swim team lost to Dearborn Edsel Ford, 97-74, in a Suburban Eight League meet last week. The loss dropped the Rocks to 8-5 for the 1989 effort.

"I thought we had a better shot at them than that," said Salem coach Olson. "We actually didn't swim too badly."

The Rocks garnered only three first places during the competition.

Linda Wochna, Corinne Cabadas, Amy Dunn and Nancy Lazurus teamed up to win the medley relay for Salem with an effort of 2:04.9, while Ellen Wall, Karen Kohler, Ruth Ettinger and Julie Kenny were third, 2:19.8.

Wochna and Corinne Cabadas picked up the only individual firsts for Salem. Wochna won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:10.3, while Cabadas clocked 1:14.2 to win the 100-yard breast stroke. Her effort set a team record in the event for Salem.

Terri Eudy was second in the 200-yard freestyle, 2:04, and second in the 100-yard freestyle, 56.6 seconds.

Corinne Cabadas was second in the 50-yard freestyle, 27.7 seconds, while Cindy McSurely was second in the diving competition, 179.9 points and Patti Larson was third, 176.8 points.

BJ Bing was third in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:12.4, while Kelly Brandt was third in the 500-yard freestyle, 6:10.8. Debbie Darlington was second for Salem in the 100-yard backstroke, 1:14.

Lazarus, Sally Weimer, Bing, and Eudy teamed for second in the freestyle relay with a time of 4:11.8 while Lisa Trahey, Kathy Prochazka, Wall and Brandt teamed for third at 4:22.6.

The Rocks will host the Suburban Eight League meet starting a week from today at the high school's pool. Preliminaries will start Nov. 19 with the finals on Nov. 21.

Cruisers dump Willow Run with 13 firsts

The Plymouth-Canton Swim Club Cruisers defeated Willow Run last week, 345-148.

The Cruisers posted 13 relay first places and six individual firsts during the competition.

The boys eight and under 100-yard medley relay team of Eric Bunch, Matt Wisniewski, Chris Elliott and JJ Schwinn posted a 1:32.8 for first, while the girls eight and under team of Kelly Rische, Marcey Brewer, Nicole Hilfinger and Kellie Adamczak clocked 1:40.8 for first.

Paul Swartzinski, Ross Wordhouse, Dean Roberts, and Frank Wisniewski teamed for a first in the 11-12 year-old boys 200-yard medley relay. They clocked 2:42.8 in the efforts. Lori Shaffer, Cindy Elliott, Michelle Stackpoole and Kathy Kennedy won the girls 11-12 race with an effort of 2:25.4.

The boys 13-14 year-old 200-yard race was won by Mike Harwood, Jim Dillon, Bob Bowling, and Eric Kleinsmith with a time of 2:00.2, while the girls squad of Theresa Shaffer, Lisa Godre, Laura Wochna and Kara Stella clocked 2:18.5 to win for the Cruisers.

In the boys eight and under 100-yard freestyle race, Matt Wisniewski, Patrick Vesnaugh, Schwinn and Chris Elliott were first with a time of 1:23.3. The girls eight and under team of Rische, Brewer, Hilfinger and Adamczak won with a time of 1:26.1.

Mickey Adamczak, Jim Rieminschnieder, Kevin Stackpoole, Scott Swartzwelter won the 200-yard race for 9-10 year-old boys with an effort of 2:25.2.

Jim Waker, Roberts, Wordhouse and Swartzinski team to win the 11-12 boys race with a time of 2:20.8.

Lori Shaffer, Cindy Elliott, Nicole Stackpoole, and Kathy Kennedy won the 200-yard freestyle relay with a time of 2:07.5 for girls 11-12 years, while Theresa Shaffer, Stella, Kathy Stern and Wochna teamed to win the girls 13-14 year-old 200-yard freestyle relay with a time of 2:01.8.

Harwood, Dillon, Bowling and Kleinsmith teamed to win the boys 13-14 year-old race with a time of 1:47.3.

In individual events, Cruiser swimmers picked up firsts, seconds and thirds in the breast stroke races.

Chris Elliott won the boys eight and under 25-yard race, 22.3 seconds, while Matt Wisniewski was second, 24.9 seconds.

Marcey Brewer was first in the girls eight and under 25-yard race with a time of 25 seconds, while Kellie Adamczak was second, 26.6 seconds, and Hilfinger was third, 28.7.

Erin Olson was first in the 9-10 girls 50-yard race, 43.52 seconds, Tracey Meszaras was second, 43.59, and Sue Schendel was third, 43.9.

Mickey Adamczak was second in the boys

9-10 year-old 50-yard race, 43.9 seconds, and Rieminschnieder was third.

Swartzinski won the boys 11-12 50-yard race, 41.1 seconds, while Lori Shaffer won the girls 11-12 race, 38.9 seconds. Cindy Elliott was second, 39 seconds and Kennedy was third, 40.7 seconds.

Harwood won the 13-14 year-old boys 50-yard breast stroke with a time of 32.7 seconds, while Bowling was second, 33.9 seconds, and Kleinsmith was third, 35.4 seconds.

Wochna won the girls 13-14 50-yard race with an effort of 37.7 seconds, while Stern was second, 39.4 and Godre was third, 39.6 seconds.

The Cruisers will face Chelsea on Nov. 15 and then Milan on Dec. 1.

Salem JV football goes 4-4-1

The Salem junior varsity football squad finished its 1989 season with a 4-4-1 mark, but coaches Tom Alles and Allie Suffety were not too displeased by the effort.

"We had hoped for a better season. We weren't out of any game and we felt we should have beat Livonia Bentley and Lincoln Park," said Alles.

The JV Rocks started the season with a 19-0 win over Livonia Franklin. The next game against Dearborn Edsel Ford was 20-7 defeat.

Against Bentley, the Rocks had to settle for a 7-7 tie. Dearborn was the next foe and they beat the Rocks, 20-7.

The Rocks then defeated Allen Park 42-8 and knocked off Belleville 13-0. Lincoln Park used a last minute interception to win 18-15 Trenton beat the Rocks in their second to last game and the team finished its year with a 38-8 win over Farmington Harrison.

Dave Haut and Pete Steyaret split the quarterback work for the Rocks and, according to Alles, had good years. "Haut is more of a passer while Steyaret is the option runner," said the coach.

In the backfield, the Rocks used four to six backs but it was fullback Jim Sinclair who did most of the inside work, said Alles.

End Bob DeBenedet was not only a solid blocker but he scored five touchdowns as well for Salem.

"We also had a decent line. We never ran to one side of the line and that seemed to work. We even had some size and quickness," said Alles.

Defensively, Sinclair and Keith Urban were outstanding linebackers, while Haut, Steyaret, Vince Recto and Mickey Madson also had good seasons as defensive backs.

"The team had a very good winning attitude," said Alles.

Local youths in state Hotshot competition

Four Canton youths will represent the township's Parks and Recreation Department in the state playoffs of the Pepsi Cola-NBA Hotshot competition.

Nancy Rekuc and Andrew Gee of the 10-to-12-year olds group and Annette Ruggerio and Scott Tasker of the 13-to-15-year olds group won their local age group competition and will advance to the playoffs, to be held Nov. 15 at Wayne State University.

Rebecca Shankie, eight, and Joe Roney, nine, also won their local age group competition, which does not progress to playoffs.

In the contest, participants are given one minute to sink as many baskets as they can from predetermined spots. Points are awarded for each basket, and subtracted for violations such as walking or double dribbling.

The event was sponsored locally by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department during the summer as part of the supervised playground program.

Chief swimmers dump Churchill in final dual meet

Canton girls swimmers finished their 1980 dual meet season with a Western Six League triumph over Livonia Churchill last Thursday, winning, 106-64.

The Chiefs recorded seven firsts on their way to their sixth victory of the season. The team finished the season with a 6-4 overall record and a 4-2 league mark.

Missy McMurray, Kim Massey, Mary Reardon and Debbie Dickinson teamed for first in the medley relay with a clocking of 2:09.7. Karn Mullen, Dawn Mullen, Karen Davenport and Julie Silber were third for Canton with a time of 2:35.9.

Janet Powell won the 200-yard freestyle race with a time of 2:23.7, while Jenny Anderson was first in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 32.2 seconds. Chris Wenneberg was first in the diving competition with 185.7 points. Lisa Dunbar was first in the 100-yard butterfly, 1:22.6 and Powell grabbed her second first of the meet in the 100-yard freestyle, 1:05.8.

Kathy Stern was second in the 100-yard individual medley with an effort of 2:46.4, while Dunbar was third, 2:50.1, and Lisa Godre was fourth, 2:56.9.

Ellie Wagner was second in diving with 171.85 points for the Chiefs. Godre was second in the butterfly, 1:26.4, and Sue Jarvis was third, 1:32.7. Silber was third in the 100-yard freestyle, 1:14.3.

Stern was second in the 500-yard freestyle, 6:41.6, and Kelly Salyer was third, 6:53.

Chris Burns finished second in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:17.1, while Bronwyn Fitzgerald was second in the 100-yard breast stroke, 1:23.6, and Karen Mullen was third, 1:28.4.

McMurray, Reardon, Dickinson and Massey teamed to set a new varsity record in winning the 400-yard freestyle relay with an effort of 4:05.75. Anderson, Noel Murphy, Dawn Mullen and Mai Benson finished third with a time of 5:06.1.

"It's always good to finish with a win. We had a winning season and that's what counts," said Canton coach Mark Griffith.

The Chiefs will swim in the Western Six League meet at Churchill on Nov. 18 and Nov. 19.

Correction

Corinne Cabadas did not set a school record in her 100-yard breast stroke race for the Salem Rocks last week as reported in a sports outline. Her 1:15.5 effort tied Terri Eudy's record, but did not break it.

Canton Sport makes state finals in touch football

Canton Sport of the Plymouth-Canton Touch Football League reached the state finals of touch football action last weekend after winning its district competition.

Canton Sport, made up of adults 18 years and older were among eight teams in the local program. They won the league title and represented Plymouth in a district tournament.

At the districts, the squad defeated Dearborn 7-0, to make the state finals in Grand Rapids. Before beating Dearborn the team knocked off Farmington Hills 38-6.

In Grand Rapids, Canton Sport suffered a 24-6 loss to Royal Oak in opening round action and were out of the tourney.

In that game, Canton Sport battled through four quarters. They failed to score from the one-yard line, from the seven, and from the 10. The team also missed a field goal.

Canton wins 43rd league tussle

The second half started with a Chief flurry that set the pace for the rest of the game. The Chiefs picked up 10 points; Robyn Hudgins scoring four of those, before Mott could score in the period. Canton then dominated the rest of the quarter with the entire squad getting in on the scoring.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 44-34, Canton.

The final period was all Canton as the Chiefs rolled with the flow of the game and picked up the pace. A strong defense and the ability to break Mott's full-court pressure gave the Chiefs all they needed. Canton tallied 20 points in that quarter to Mott's 13.

Cunningham paced the Chiefs on offense with 15 points, while Ruggiero had 11 points and Crissey had 10. Hudgins scored eight and Jean Timlin had six. Timlin also had five rebounds and four steals.

Canton will face Farmington Nov. 18 at home. The game will be the Chiefs final dual clash of the regular season.

"No, no, no there shouldn't be a let-up. They'll be sharp. We are ready to play basketball.

"Farmington is a tough team. They have one girl at six foot three inches," continued McCauley.

The Chiefs had won the conference crown with a win over Farmington Harrison and a 52-36 triumph over Livonia Churchill last Thursday. The Chiefs now claim a 17-2 overall record and a 10-0 league mark.

In that Churchill game, Cunningham had 12 points, while Timlin and Hudgins tallied 10 each.

Open skating at Cultural Center

There will be open skating at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center this Sunday from 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The building will be closed, however, on Nov. 27 for Thanksgiving and on Nov. 30 the rink will be taken over by the Eastern Great Lakes Figure Skating competition.

Tickets for the regional skating event are now available at the City of Plymouth Recreation office.

A weekend pass can be purchased for $11 and an all-events pass can be purchased for $20.

Tickets may also be purchased for any day or night of the regionals. The recreation office is located at 525 Farmer.

train chronicles

This is the second contribution from an anonymous bibliophile who lives "on the other side of the tracks" in Plymouth Township. The following was found as an entry in a diary hidden in the attic.

(An unfinished letter, writer unknown)

June 15, 1872
Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Zeke:

Thought I would write you with a moment at hand while waiting for a train to pass.

As I told you in my last letter, things are looking up for this village of Plymouth since the railroads came last year. But, with all the horse and buggy traffic in town, we sure have to do something about getting an overpass built for the trains.

Croffort Venable's horse keeled over just yesterday when a locomotive jumped the track and blocked up the town for over two hours.

The town leaders have assured us that they're working on the problem and it is simply a matter of time.

Speaking of time, do you realize it's been almost 5 years since the village was incorporated?

Canton et al Water and Sewage Disposal Authority

AMENDED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF THE CANTON, VAN BUREN, SUMPTER AND HURON WATER AND SEWAGE DISPOSAL AUTHORITY

These Articles of Incorporation are adopted by the incorporating municipal corporations for the purpose of creating an authority under the provisions of Act. 233, Michigan Public Acts of 1955, as amended, (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "enabling act").

ARTICLE I

The name of this authority is "Canton, Van Buren, Sumpter, and Huron Water and Sewage Disposal Authority." The registered office of the Authority will be located in the Township Hall of the Charter Township of Canton, Wayne County, Michigan.

ARTICLE II

The incorporating municipal corporations creating this Authority are the Charter Township of Canton and the Townships of Van Buren, Sumpter, and Huron all in the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, which are hereby designated as the constituent municipalities.

ARTICLE III

The purpose of this Authority is to acquire, own, improve, enlarge, extend and operate a water system of sewage disposal system or any part thereof in accordance with the enabling act. The term "water system" as used in these Articles shall include all water mains, interceptors, laterals, water purifications plants, pumping stations, wells, and all other plants, works, instrumentalities and properties used or useful in connection with the obtaining, collection, treatment, purification and distribution of water. The term "Sewage Disposal System" as used in these Articles shall include all interceptor sewars, storm sewars, sanitary sewars, combined sanitary and storm sewars, sewage treatment plants, and all other plants, work, instrumentalities and properties used or useful in connection with the collections, treatment and disposal of sewage and industrial waste.

ARTICLE IV

This Authority shall be a body corporate with power to sue or to be sued in any court of this state. It shall be comprised of the territory lying within the corporate boundaries of its constituent municipalities. It shall possess all the powers granted by statutes now in effect or hereafter adopted or amended, and by these Articles which are necessary to carry out the purpose of its incorporation, and those incident thereto. The enumeration of any powers herein or in the enabling act shall not be construed as a limitation upon its general powers unless the context shall clearly indicate otherwise. It shall have a corporate seal.

ARTICLE V

This Authority shall continue in existence perpetually or until dissolved by act of the parties or by law. Provided, however, that it shall not be dissolved if such dissolution would or could operate as an impairment of the bonds or other contracts.

ARTICLE VI

The fiscal year of this Authority shall commence on the first day of January and end on the thirty-first day of December in each year.

ARTICLE VII

The governing body of this Authority shall be a board of Trustees, hereinafter referred to as the "Board," which shall consist of eight trustees, two of whom shall be residents of the Charter Township of Canton and be appointed by the Township Board of said Township and two of whom shall be residents of the Townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron, each, and be appointed by the Township Boards of said Townships. Members of the first Board shall be so appointed within thirty days after these Articles become effective and their terms shall be staggered so that the two trustees from the Charter Township of Canton shall serve for terms expiring on June 30, in the years 1974 and 1976, respectively, the two trustees from the Township of Sumpter shall serve for terms expiring on June 30 in the years 1979 and 1980, respectively, and so that the two trustees from the Township of Huron shall serve for terms expiring on June 30 in the years 1981 and 1982, respectively. Succeeding trustees shall be so appointed on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year and shall serve for three-year terms beginning on the following July 1 and until their respective successors are appointed and qualified. Each trustee shall file his oath of office with the clerk of the constituent municipality from which he is appointed. Trustees shall serve without compensation but the Board may by majority vote of its total membership authorize payment of actual expenses incurred by any trustee in connection with the business of the Authority. The members of the first Board shall qualify by filing their oaths of office and shall meet for the purpose of organization within thirty days after their appointment and thereafter the Board shall meet for such purpose on the third Monday in July of each year at the time and place fixed for the holding of regular meetings. At each such organization meeting the Board shall select a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman, who shall be members of the Board, and a Secretary and a Treasurer who may but not need be members of the Board. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be combined and held by one person if so provided in the By-Laws. Such officers shall serve until the next annual organization meeting and until their respective successors shall be selected and qualified. Failure to hold meetings or appoint or select trustees or officers as herein provided shall not render invalid any action taken by the Board or its officers. No appointments of any trustee or election of any officer, and no action taken at any meeting, shall be invalid because it did not occur within or at the time specified in these Articles. Any member of the Board may be removed for cause at any time by majority vote of the legislative body which appointed him. Any officer of the Board may be removed at any time by majority vote of the total membership of the Board.

ARTICLE VIII

In the event of a vacancy on the Board, the legislative body of the constituent municipality which appointed the trustee whose position has become vacant shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. In the event of a vacancy in any office of the Board, such vacancy shall be filled by the Board for the unexpired term. In case of the temporary absence or disability of any officer, the Board may appoint some person temporarily to act in his stead except that in the event of the temporary absence or disability of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman shall act as Chairman.

ARTICLE IX

Regular meetings of the Board shall be held at such time and place as shall be prescribed by resolution or in the By-Laws of the Board. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the Chairman or any six members thereof, by serving written notice of the time, place and purpose thereof, upon each member of the Board personally, or by leaving it at his place of residence, at least twenty-four hours prior to the time of such meeting, or by depositing the same in a United States Post Office or mail box within the limits of the Authority, at least seventy-two hours prior to the time of such meeting, enclosed in a sealed envelope properly addressed to him at his home or officer address, with postage fully prepaid. Special meetings of the Board at which all members are present shall be deemed to be valid even though no written notice thereof may have been given as above provided. Any member of the Board may waive notice of any meeting either before or after the holding thereof and written consent to any action taken by the Board shall have the same effect as if the consenting member had been present and had voted in favor of such action. At least six members of the Board shall be required for a quorum. The Board shall act by motion, resolution or ordinance. For the passage of any resolution or ordinance providing for the issuance of bonds there shall be required the affirmative vote of at least six members of the Board. For all other actions, a majority vote of those present shall be sufficient for passage, unless otherwise provided herein or in the By-Laws. The Board shall have the right to adopt By-Laws and rules governing its procedure which are not in conflict with the terms of any statute or these Articles. The Board shall keep a journal of its proceedings, which shall be signed by the Secretary. All votes shall be "Yeas" and "Nays," except that where the vote is unanimous, it shall only be necessary to so state. Each member shall be required to vote upon all matters unless he shall be disqualified therefrom. No member may vote upon any matter in which he has a personal interest. No trustee shall have any financial interest in any contract with the Authority.

ARTICLE X

The Chairman of the Board shall be presiding officer thereof. In the absence or disability of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman shall perform the duties of the Chairman. The Secretary shall be the recording officer of the Board. The Treasurer shall be custodian of the funds of the Authority and shall give to it a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The cost of said bond shall be paid by the Authority. All monies shall be deposited in a bank or banks, to be designated by the Board, and all checks or other forms of withdrawal therefrom shall be signed by two officers of the Board as shall be designated in the By-Laws or by resolution of the Board. The officers of the Board shall have such other powers and duties as may be conferred upon them by the Board. The Board shall prior to December 15 of each year, prepare, adopt and file with the legislative bodies of the constituent municipalities, an annual budget for the next fiscal year covering the proposed expenditures to be made for the organizing and operating of the Authority, and for the necessary funds required from each constituent municipality for the next fiscal year.

ARTICLE XI

The Authority shall have power to acquire property necessary for its purpose by purchase, construction, lease, gift, devise or condemnation, either within or without its corporate limits, and may hold, manage, control, sell, exchange or lease such property. For the purpose of condemnation it may proceed under the provisions of Act 149, Public Acts of Michigan, 1911, as now or hereafter amended, or any other appropriate

ARTICLE XII

The Authority and its constituent municipalities may enter into a contract or contracts providing for the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, extension, operation and financing of a water system or a sewage disposal system or any part thereof as authorized and provided in the enabling act. The Authority may, subject to the prior approval of the constituent municipalities, enter into contracts with any non-constituent city, village, or township for the furnishing of water or sewage disposal service by any sewage disposal facilities owned or operated by the Authority, which contract shall provide for reasonable charges or rates for such service furnished. No contracts shall be for a period exceeding forty years.

ARTICLE XIII

For the purpose of obtaining funds for the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement or extension of a sewage disposal system or any part thereof, the Authority may, upon ordinance or resolution duly adopted by the Board, issue its negotiable bonds, secured by contractual full faith and credit pledges of each contracting municipality, in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the enabling act

ARTICLE XIV

The Board shall have power to secure all necessary services and to hire all necessary officers and employees to carry out the functions of the Authority and to fix the compensation therefor. Provided, however, that no officer or employee of any constituent municipality shall receive any compensation from the Authority except by the unanimous vote of the total membership of the Board.

ARTICLE XV

The Board shall cause an annual audit to be made of its financial transactions by an independent certified public accountant and shall furnish at least five copies thereof to each constituent municipality.

ARTICLE XVI

These Articles shall be published once in The Community Crier, The Daily Eagle, The Belleville Enterprise and Legal Times, and The Guardian newspapers having general circulation within the territorial limits of the Authority, and one printed copy of the Articles, certified as a true copy thereof, with the date and place of publication, shall be filed with both the Secretary of State and the Clerk of the County of Wayne within thirty days after the execution thereof has been completed. The Township Clerk of the Township of Van Buren is hereby designated as the person to cause these Articles to be published, certified and filed as aforesaid. In the event he shall be unable to act or shall neglect to act, then the Township Clerk of the Charter Township of Canton shall act in his or her stead.

ARTICLE XVII

This Authority shall become effective upon the filing of certified copies of these Articles as provided in the preceding Article.

ARTICLE XVIII

These Articles of Incorporation may be amended at any time so as to permit any other municipality to become a constituent municipality of this Authority, if such amendment and the Articles of Incorporation as so amended are adopted by the legislative body of such other municipality and if such amendment is adopted by the legislative body of each constituent municipality of which the Authority is composed. Other amendments may be made to these Articles of Incorporation at any time if adopted by the legislative body of each constituent municipality of which the Authority is composed. Any such amendment shall be endorsed, published and certified, and printed copies thereof filed in the same manner as the original Articles of Incorporation, except that the field and printed copies shall be certified by the recording officer of this Authority.

These Articles have been adopted by the several incorporating municipalities, as hereinafter set forth in the following endorsements, and in witness whereof the Supervisor and Clerk of the Charter Township of Canton and the Supervisors and Clerks of the Townships of Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron have endorsed

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools

TO THE CITIZENS OF PLYMOUTH-CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS:

November 12, 1980

The statistical report concerning the financial condition of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is submitted in accordance with Section 216, Act 269, Public Acts 1965 as amended and is compiled from data submitted to the Michigan Department of Education and from the Annual Audit conducted by the firm of Plante & Moran, Certified Public Accountants.

The report substantiates that Plymouth-Canton Community Schools is continuing to operate on a sound financial basis. In an inflationary economy we continue to work within the framework of sound fiscal practices.

The immediate future continues to pose real concerns and challenges to your Board of Education as the district's enrollment continues to climb. This year saw the addition of some 759 students over the previous year. Finding classroom space for the growing student enrollment and the escalating costs for providing a sound educational program continues to be the major problems facing this school district.

The Board of Education and Administration are appreciative of the efforts of citizens and staff for their assistance and attendance at the various committees the Board of Education has established. Be assured the Board of Education will join the staff and citizens in continuous evaluation to determine the extent to which adopted goals and programs are producing the desired educational result and make necessary changes as warranted.

It is our desire to continue to bring the youth of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools the finest education possible within the framework of existing revenues. Your participation in school activities is welcome, encouraged, and solicited.

The Board of Education meets on the second and fourth Mondays of every month, and a spot on the agenda has been set aside for suggestions from citizens. We encourage you to communicate with the Board of Education in this manner.

Dr. John M. Hoben
Superintendent of Schools

Hardee's®

IN A HURRY?
Try Hardee's Fast Drive-Thru Service

New Drive-Thru Service has been added to several of our Hardee's restaurants throughout the greater Metro-Detroit area. In Plymouth, you can enjoy our fast Drive-Thru Service at Main & Mill Sts.

For breakfast, lunch or dinner, our Drive-Thru Service has been designed to serve you quickly and efficiently. It's simple to use . . . just drive up to the order station, place your order, stop at the pick-up window, and in no time you'll be on your way with one of our Best Eatin' sandwiches like the tender, juicy Regular Roast Beef® or the delicious charbroiled Big Deluxe®. So, whether it's one of these Best Eatin' sandwiches or a Homemade Biscuit Breakfast on your way to work, be sure to drive in and drive-thru next time you're hungry but in a hurry.
