

School election is tomorrow

Voters to decide millage renewal

BY DAN BODENE

Voters will decide tomorrow the fate of more than 25 per cent of the Plymouth-Canton Schools' operating revenue for the next six years.

Up for renewal are 10.36 mills of operating revenues, worth nearly $10 million to the school's budget.

Although the millage vote is a renewal and will not raise school taxes, Supt. John Hoben says his office has received many calls from parents who fear the vote is tied to Extended School Year (ESY) or re-districting issues. Not so, adds Hoben.

According to Richard Egli, administrative assistant for community relations, the renewal "is strictly for operational purposes -- lights, heat, teachers, administration and books. The day-to-day things."

Polls will be open tomorrow from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If the millage renewal passes, Hoben said there is no guarantee programs will remain unchanged, due to other cuts in state funding. If the renewal fails, however, he said the effect on Plymouth-Canton schools will be drastic.

Egli said although school board members have not planned specific cuts if the millage fails, "Some areas would have to be cut drastically, while others might remain unchanged."

He said contract stipulations and mandated services would force cuts in some areas to make up for essential programs elsewhere.

Passage of the renewal is needed to avert a "potentially disastrous" funding picture for the schools, Egli said. "This is vital. You can't cut 25 per cent out of the operating budget and expect to continue the same programs."

Funding will be tenuous at best even with the renewal, says Egli, because of state cutbacks. "We will be struggling even if it is passed. Things will be very difficult in any event."

The millage renewal election will cost approximately $4,500 and will be accomplished on paper ballots, cheaper than electronic voting on this single issue, said Egli.

Voters should remember many school precincts are different from those for government elections.

Residents of school precinct 1 will vote at Central Middle School, school precinct 2 voters can vote at Gallimore School, precinct 3 voting will be at Isbister School, precinct 4 at Starkweather School, precinct 5 at Allen School, precinct 6 at West Middle School, precinct 7 at Farrand School, precinct 8 at Fiegel School, precinct 9 at Miller School, precinct 10 at Hulsing School, precinct 11 at Eriksson School, precinct 12 at Field School, precinct 13 at Canton High and precinct 14 at Bird School.

City OKs cop pact, awaits Twp. approval

BY KEN VOYLES

Shared police protection between the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township took a step closer Monday night when the city commission unanimously approved a pending contract between the two governments.

If the Plymouth Township Board approves the contract -- full details of which are still not worked out -- at its meeting Tuesday night, city police would start patrolling the township on Feb. 1.

"I haven't seen the resolution yet, but I am assuming it's what we worked out," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen. "We are very happy it passed and hope we can work with the City." The township will discuss the contract at its Jan. 27 meeting.

City Manager Henry Graper said that the passing of the resolution on the city's part was the first of a final few steps in reaching total contractual agreement.

"With this approval we can now sit down and complete the contract with the city attorney. After that all the commissioners will have a chance to examine the contract and we may call for another discussion meeting," said Graper.

Sheriff's employes issued layoff notices

Potential layoff notifications were issued to 251 Wayne County Sheriffs employees last Friday, according to Loren Pittman, Wayne County Undersheriff.

The layoffs are scheduled to begin Feb. 1, but the five units that comprise the Sheriffs Dept. will ask for a restraining order in Wayne County Circuit Court this Friday.

"We are going to court to ask if the layoffs are proper," said Pittman. "The layoffs are impending only in the sense that it's possible. We are asking the court to decide."

Although the patrol unit would be eliminated with 251 layoffs, employees with less seniority in other departments would go first, said Pittman.

Reward 'shocks' woman

BY DONNA L. BONNER

A 23-year old Canton Township woman who assisted the FBI with testimony about two men who robbed a Ypsilanti bank last year of $421,000, was "shocked" when she was presented with a $500 reward last week.

"I had no idea (about the reward)," said Karen Dyer, of Mott Road. "It was such a long time ago. It was very kind of them."

The North American Insurance Co. of Troy, insurers for the bank, gave the award to Mrs. Dyer. The company said it was "in gratitude" for information Mrs. Dyer supplied the FBI during the robbery trial that resulted in a conviction.

Mrs. Dyer, a former employee of a clothing store in Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor, testified that two young men came into the store one night shortly before it closed.

"They were looking at leather coats," she said. "They picked one out and pulled out a huge roll of bills to pay for it."

"Right after they left the store, an FBI agent came in and said he had been following the pair," Mrs. Dyer said. "Then I overheard a conversation between the two about money in a restaurant."

"Apparently, I was the only one that saw them with a large amount of money," said the Canton resident.

The insurance company said her testimony "proved to be significant" in the conviction of David Daugherty, 18, the bank's vault manager, last fall by a federal court jury. Daugherty was sentenced to serve six years in prison.

Also involved was James Fox, 19, a former schoolmate of Daugherty's. Fox was given immunity from prosecution in return for testifying against Daugherty.

Asked if she feared retaliation from the pair, Mrs. Dyer said: "No, they're both out. (Daugherty is appealing his conviction).

"They're not violent people, they just made a mistake."

Redistricting meeting set

A special school board meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 22 to discuss possible re-districting in the Plymouth-Canton schools.

Board President Carol Davis said a representative from Ecosystems, Inc. will be present to explain the results of a comprehensive study done on the district's school population.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the school board offices at 454 S. Harvey St. in Plymouth.

Police chief credits officers in City crime drop

BY KEN VOYLES

"There is a downward trend in crime and a plus trend in community services on our part," according to City of Plymouth Police Chief Tim Ford, who recently compiled the City's annual crime statistics report.

"Things that occurred last year seem consistent with what we've seen in other years," Ford continued.

Community service activities performed by the city force were up 27 per cent from 1979 and 151 per cent over the five-year index that Ford has compiled. For 1980, the department recorded 2,337 in that category as compared to 1,836 in 1979.

"The police department -- I mean the officers -- are the ones that have to be credited," said Ford. "There is no lessening of crime to any significant degree. Pockets of crime lessened, but the results shown here are the result of officers in the street."

Ford's annual report compares a year of crime to statistics from the year before and to a master index.

The master index is a five-year average of crime rates in the city. Ford is still using the 1971-75 index for general comparison purposes and will use a new index for 1976-80 at the end of this year.

"I have no confidence in any statistics that compare year against year. The data is simply too up and down and it doesn't look at trends," said Ford. "I'm skeptical about percentages so when I give percentages, we also have exact figures."

Ford also said that filing statistical reports on crimes is just a part of the modern reporting practice that most governmental agencies follow today.

The report is broken into eight categories of crime and police service:

There were 56 reported Crimes against Person in 1980 compared to 51 in 1979. The 1971-75 index has the average at 67 for a year. There were 660 Crimes against Property this past year compared to 683 in 1979 and 684 for the overall index.

Crimes against Public Order decreased in 1980 72 per cent from 1979. Last year, there were 148 Crime against Public Order, compared to 522 in 1979. The decrease, when compared to the index, was 38 per cent.

Traffic accidents were down 20 per cent last year. Less traffic citations were issued: 1569 citations issued in 1980 compared to 2,081 in 1979. The total is a five per cent decrease compared to the index, Chief Ford said.

This year's property recovery value represents the highest value in the recorded history of the Plymouth department, the police chief said. The force recovered $182,504 of stolen property, a 541 per cent increase from the index (182,504 vs. $28,455 in 1979).

As for the property recovery, Ford said it reflects the kind of work done by Plymouth's Detective Bureau.

"The stuff recovered is largely small ticket items with cars the biggest single item," Ford said.

Ford added that FBI figures show a slight upward trend in crime across the country but Plymouth shows a slight downward trend.

"We've been lucky and fortunate and this reflects the type of community we live in," Ford concluded.

Canton trustees move proposed winter sports recreation location

BY DAN BODENE

Although a winter sports park may still be created in Canton, it won't be located next to Pilgrim Hills subdivision.

Trustees voted last Tuesday to instead look at a new location for the proposed park, directing Grants Coordinator Terry Carroll to investigate several acres next to the township administration building.

Asked what chance Canton has of retaining a federal grant if the park's location is changed, Carroll explained, "It goes back in the barrel -- back to the DNR (Department of Natural Resources) committee." The federal grant, administered by the state DNR, would fund half of the land acquisition cost.

If the new location is approved and the grant retained, matching township expenditures would come from revenue-sharing funds, said Finance Director Mike Gorman. Canton presently has $108,000 in revenue-sharing funds retained from 1980, he said, and has two years to spend the money.

Carroll said the location next to the Pilgrim Hills sub would have involved a township investment of $75,000 for land acquisition.

Trustee Carol Bodenmiller objected to spending any township funds for a winter sports park, adding, "If we have $108,000 and subtract $75,000, it leaves $23,000, and there are other things in the township to spend that money on. The Police Department building needs work -- trailers, carpeting and heating."

Trustee Stephen Larson commented, "I have re-looked at the information (on the park) and have come to the conclusion spending this money is not the best utilization of recreation funds. The township is in dire need of summer recreation."

Loren Bennett, also on the board, added, "The economy of this park just doesn't bear out. The cost per person of people using this park is just astronomical."

On a 6-1 vote, trustees voted to investigate buying acreage next to the administration building. "We won't be spending a dime," explained Larson.

New businesses to move in

Tax revenues to increase

Business and industrial projects amounting to nearly $30.9 million in tax revenue bonds and loans were issued in 1980 for Plymouth-Canton by the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, according to its annual report.

Of the eleven projects slated for this area, two began construction last year: a Steak and Ale restaurant and a Vic Tanny Health Club building, both in Plymouth Township.

Tax revenues to Plymouth Township from those two projects amount to $11,600 per year, while the school district can expect $73,832 annually. The county will receive $28,120 in tax revenue.

Nine of the projects are located in Plymouth Township. One is in the city, the other in Canton.

The expansion of a dental clinic in Canton is expected to retain five jobs, according to the WCEDC report. The city project a 9,000 square foot industrial facility will create 15

Feds arrest Twp. couple on drug charges

BY DAN BODENE

A Plymouth Township couple was arrested last week by federal agents on drug charges after their home was searched on a federal warrant.

Ted Vernier of the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) said Vincent Anthony Frigerio and his wife, Norma Frances Frigerio were arrested on Jan. 14 following a search of their home at 44504 Clare Blvd.

Acting on a federal search warrant, agents of the DEA and members of the Wayne County Sheriff's Metro Squad discovered 200 pounds of marijuana and one-half pound of cocaine at the house, Vernier said.

Arraigned in Federal District Court on Jan. 14, Mrs. Frigerio was released the next day on personal bond, while her husband posted a surety bond of $25,000 and was also released, Vernier said. He added the couple was charged with possession and intent to distribute marijuana and cocaine.

On Jan. 15, members of the Sheriff's Department also acting on a search warrant, confiscated other contraband described as various automobile and truck parts at the house, according to Lt. Thomas Harrett. No charges have been filed in connection with that raid.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES recovered what they say are stolen car and truck parts after searching a Clare Boulevard home in Plymouth Township on a warrant. According to the Sheriff's Department, this truck cab (seen in a trailer) was among the items confiscated, and was discovered "right out in back, in plain sight," said Lt. Thomas Harrett. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Township to appeal 'astronomical' tax hike

BY DONNA L. BONNER

Although preliminary property tax assessments figures indicate a 26 percent increase for 1981, Plymouth Township officials have vowed to appeal the increase to the State Tax Tribunal in April.

The increase, assessed by the Wayne County Board of Taxation will show up on 1982 property tax bills. In 1980, township property taxes increased by 13 percent, officials said.

The increase means a home valued at $94,000 in the township which paid $2,533 in taxes in 1980 will see a $633.25 increase for 1981, according to township treasurer Joe West.

"The township board doesn't support this," said Trustee Gerald Law. "The strange thing is everyone (was telling voters) to fight Tisch Amendment and then we raise taxes."

"How can you say a Plymouth Township resident isn't being overtaxed when there is a 26 percent increase and no appreciable difference in services?" Law said. "Tisch will come back in 1982."

Supervisor Maurice Breen said he wanted to challenge the assessment "unless the state or governor can look toward a comprehensive tax reform."

The township board unanimously agreed to secure an attorney to determine whether their case would merit an appeal.

The resolution will be taken to surrounding communities in Wayne County to gain support for the appeal, township officials said.

The resolution reads: "The Board of Trustees of Plymouth Township shall exert every legal means to overturn the decision of the Wayne County Board of Taxation.

"Individual taxpayers, young, old and middle age, will suffer unnecessary hardship from such an astronomical tax burden."

A change in the state law is one reason property assessments increased this year. A separate State Equalized Factor (SEV) is now applied to residential, commercial, industrial, agricultural and others.

Residential rates are going up because in previous years commercial and industrial property have been overassessed, according to George McEachren of the County Bureau of Taxation, and residential property taxes were kept low to compensate for the over-assessment.

However, with its own factor to more accurately represent cash value of homes, residential tax assessments will increase statewide, according to the tax bureau.

"We're only in there for seven percent," said Law. "Wayne County won't roll back anything, they'll take the full 26 percent."

"There is still an inflationary factor in everything we (the township) buys," said West. "Services are up a little bit. But the Headlee rollback hasn't come in yet (which would decrease taxes)."

City gets extra federal funds

The Plymouth City Commission passed a resolution Monday night on how the city will use an extra $26,000 it received from the Community Development Block Grant fund.

The city received $100,000 from the federal fund this year. To receive that and the additional $26,000, a use program was presented Monday night.

"The money was kind of expected. The County (Wayne) has a formula and a pot of money in the 'Special Needs' Fund," said John Behman, federal grant coordinator for the city. "The money is for those who meet the formula and Plymouth does that."

The city allocated the federal funds for: The purchase of a new band shell in Kellogg Park at $16,000, the renovation of the Pump Station in Old Village at $5,000, additional street lighting in Old Village at $4,000 and installation of sound system in the Gazebo at $1,000.

The items were from a three year old masterlist, said Behman. The items will be discussed at the Feb. 2 City Commission meeting.

State tax rebate program 'Circuit Breaker' worth money

Angry over rising property taxes? You may be eligible to get some of that tax money back, under a state rebate program.

Called the "Circuit Breaker," the state program is the result of a belief that no one should pay more than 3.5 per cent of household income on property taxes.

Usually filed on state income tax forms, the rebate can also be filed on a special form supplied by the state Treasury Department.

Here's how it works: Divide the total household income by 3.5 per cent. Next, subtract from that figure the amount of actual taxes paid, and divide by 60 per cent (the rebate percentage for most taxpayers).

For example, if a taxpayer had a household income of $15,000 and divided by 3.5, the maximum taxes under the Circuit Breaker would be $525. If the taxpayer actually paid $900, by dividing the difference ($375) by 60 per cent, the rebate would be $225. The ceiling for any rebate is $1,200.

Percentages of rebates vary, also. Senior citizens and some disabled persons are eligible for a 100 per cent rebate on taxes over 3.5 per cent of the household income. For most taxpayers, the rate is 60 per cent.

Renters may also be eligible for the tax rebate. Instead of property tax, they may use 17 per cent of their rent to calculate the rebate.

For more information on the Circuit Breaker program, contact the Plymouth-Canton Schools, the state Treasury Department or a commercial tax preparer.

Canton mail delivery changes

Canton residents will be receiving mail from a different post office beginning this Saturday, but there will be no noticeable difference in service, according to Plymouth Postmaster John K. Mulligan.

To alleviate mail crunches in the small Plymouth post office, Canton mail will be moved to the Wayne and Westland post offices, according to Mulligan and Dennis Nott, director of customer services for the Detroit Post Office.

"We don't have the room to serve Canton any longer," Mulligan said. "There are 16,500 deliveries to Canton and only 8,800 square feet in the Plymouth office."

Carriers that deliver mail to homes north of Cherry Hill Road in the 48187 zip code area will pick up mail at the Westland post office beginning Saturday.

Canton homes south of Cherry Hill with the zip code of 48188 will have delivery based from the Wayne Post Office.

The change will be permanent, Mulligan said.

"The only thing I have to do is make sure they (the mail carriers) are ready to go on Saturday," Mulligan said.

Home sales drop

Listings of homes for sale in Canton increased by 15 per cent last year, but sales dropped by nearly 28 per cent, according to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

The average price of a Canton home increased by 1.8 per cent, up to $71,950, according to a report released by the realtor group.

Just 538 units sold in Canton in 1980, compared to the 2,298 homes listed, the report said.

WWOCBR said average prices for existing homes increased by only 6.7 per cent last year, compared to a 20 per cent increase between 1978 and 1979.

The group also reported an increase in different methods of financing homes, especially in land contracts. Land contracts increased by 17 per cent, compared to the use of standard 30 year mortgages, which fell by 33.3 per cent last year.

WWOCBR attributed high mortgage interest rates to the decline.

Charter Comish hearing slated for Plymouth-Canton

The Wayne County Charter Commission will meet in Canton Township Hall Feb. 5 to hear from Plymouth-Canton residents.

The time of the meeting will be announced later, said Bart Berg, Canton Charter Commissioner.

The Charter Commission unanimously appointed last Thursday William O'Brien, a Detroit attorney, as its Executive Director. After three ballots, O'Brien received the 14-vote majority necessary for appointment.

O'Brien will work with a budget of $650,000 in state funds and with a staff of 10.

The 27-member commission was elected last November to re-organize the Wayne County governmental system. The commission has until June to complete a charter that will offer either an elected county executive or an appointed county manager to voters. Voters can also reject either package in the November ballot.

New fire truck approved

Canton will soon have a fire truck that will not only get into some tough spots, but also extend the life of its companion vehicles.

Last Tuesday night township trustees approved a $35,000 expenditure for the new truck, a four-wheel-drive mini-pumper that will carry rescue equipment as well as fire fighting apparatus. According to Finance Director Mike Gorman, $50,000 has been budgeted for the truck.

Fire Chief Mel Paulun explained the new truck is rated for 10 years service, and could add up to another five years to the life of the department's maxi-pumper. In comparison, he stated a new maxi-pumper costs from $140,000 to $150,000.

In 1980, Paulun said, Canton's Fire Department made a total of 1,902 runs, of which 738 were due to fires. He added at least 492 could have been handled by a mini-pumper. "If we don't know the nature of the call, we send the maxi-pumper," said Paulun. "With a mini-pumper, response time will be greatly increased."

In addition to a 250-gallon water tank and rescue tools, the mini-pumper will also be equipped with a 2-ton winch and an automatic lighting system which runs on its own alternator and can be raised on a telescoping pole, Paulun said.

Job study OK'd

A study to evaluate and document job classifications in Plymouth Township was approved by the township board last week.

The township will spend $11,000 for the 90 day study, which will develop new job classifications for township employes to ensure equal pay for work of comparable worth, according to Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

Voting against the study was Trustee Lee Fidge, who said $11,000 was "way too costly for what we wanted."

The contract was awarded to the Alexander and Graham Co.

Thieves ransack Canton home

Close to $9,000 of property was stolen from a home on Calais Court in Canton Friday night as thieves used the garage service door to enter the home according to Canton police.

Among the property taken was stereo equipment, cameras, watches, jewelry, a television set, a telescope and other items, said Canton police.

Apparently the thieves entered through the garage, knocked out the window on the service door and kicked in the door, police said. Tracks and fingerprint evidence were found by police. They are continuing an investigation.

Twp. inks shared building services agreement

BY DONNA L. BONNER

In a move calculated to avoid departmental layoffs and increase revenues, the Plymouth Township Board last week unanimously voted to share building department services with the City of Plymouth and the City of Northville.

The agreement, signed last week between Plymouth Township and the Cities of Plymouth and Northville, will be in effect for six months.

It is the second agreement between the city and township for shared services. The township contracted for police service from the city, an arrangement that does not include Northville.

"I would rather find work for our employees because we carry a fixed expense on them anyway and it's better than a lay-off," said Trustee Gerald Law.

The agreement stipulates that the community performing inspections receive 75 per cent of the fee for each inspection, plus 75 per cent of fees from all permits issued.

The municipalities have agreed to standardize their ordinances and fee schedules in situations involving shared services.

Although the cities of Plymouth and Northville agreed in December to share building department services, neither had a plumbing or heating inspector. Plymouth Township has four inspectors: plumbing, heating, electrical and refrigeration, and building.

Trustee Lee Fidge voiced concerns about being short-staffed if construction increases in the township.

"You can opt out of the agreement if it backs up," Supervisor Maurice Breen said. "But our staff needs work to do."

West takes over post of City Traffic Engineer

Kenneth West, engineer for the City of Plymouth was appointed as City Traffic Engineer by the City Commission Monday night.

"He does the majority of the backup work right now and we feel it would be consistent to give him this post," said Graper.

Bait shop burglarized

Hudson Bait Shop, on Ford Road in Canton, was robbed of $9,933 in fishing and hunting equipment sometime between Wednesday and Friday of last week, said Canton police.

Included in the haul were rods, reels, knives, rifle ammunition and some cash, said police. The store had been closed for the winter season and the crime wasn't reported until Friday.

Entrance was through the store's back window, said police. They are investigating the incident.

School's March bond issue may have to wait

BY DAN BODENE

A $1.9 million bond issue proposed for a March special election may have to wait, say school board members.

During a workshop Monday night, Raymond Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business, outlined the proposed bond issue which would fund five main projects.

The projects include installation of a new roof on Central Middle School, purchase and outfitting of approximately 10 new portable classrooms, re-equipping existing buildings, purchase of furniture, equipment and media from Livonia for Lowell Junior High, and installation of air conditioning in up to five schools as needed for the Extended School Year (ESY) program.

Hoedel said the bond issue would be recommended for nine years and nine months, and under the present State Equalized Valuation (SEV) the cost to the taxpayers would be about .23 mills.

Although that cost would rise if the SEV increased as expected, Hoedel explained the current debt levy would be reduced by about .2 mills if the bond passed.

Trustee Sylvia Stetz agreed, saying, "The taxpayers want to know exactly what they are buying. The state of the economy says March is too soon for this election." Stetz also said she believed June, when a mandatory state election will be held, was more appropriate to bring the bond issue before the voters.

Trustee Glenn Schroeder said, "I agree. This is another case of rushing the voter and stampeding him into something he's not sure of."

Board President Carol Davis added, "What I think this will be is an exercise in futility. I don't think the voters will go for it."

Hoedel commented, "In June, we will know the new SEV and debt levy. We will then be able to say to the taxpayers, 'These are the cutbacks and where the problems will be.'"

The school board is expected to vote on the issue at the Jan. 26 meeting.

First ordinance repealed

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees last week unanimously repealed its first ordinance.

Ordinance No. One of Plymouth Township, entitled 'Eating and Drinking Establishment', was adopted in 1954 and amended in 1968. The ordinance provided for the licensing of restaurants in the township.

But with the ordinance on the books, the township was violating a state law enacted in 1979 that prohibited local governments from licensing food establishments.

"We cannot have an ordinance in violation of state law," said Clerk Esther Hulsing. "Let's clean the slate."

"That's progress," quipped Supervisor Maurice Breen.

Corner gets lots of attention

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

A committee of parents from Smith School met last week with George Dodson, Smith principal; John Behman from the city manager's office, and Sgt. Dan Carpenter from the Plymouth Police Department to discuss the possibility of getting a traffic light at the corner of Main and Ross.

"It's a dangerous crossing for school children," said Debbie Eisenlord, a parent on the committee. "We've been trying for years to get something done about this school crossing," she said.

The police will keep an eye on the crossing, said Sgt. Carpenter. They will be enforcing the 25 mph speed limit on Main Street, while checking into the possibility of cutting the speed limit to 15 mph in that area.

Behman said he would investigate the cost and possible funding of a traffic light. However, Carpenter said the police department would rather try to lower and enforce the speed limit, because "a light at an intersection interrupts the flow of traffic," he said.

Dodson and the committee (Eisenlord, Phyllis Partain, Harriet Bright) agreed to go along with lowering the speed limit, but said they would still favor having a traffic light at the intersection. Another discussion was the possibility of having two crossing guards at that corner.

The committee plans to meet again in two weeks with an update from city hall and the police department.

Twp. appointments

Appointments made by Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen last week were approved by the township board.

The firm of Morgan, Kerr, Wattles and Weber were reappointed as township attorneys for an eight percent increase over 1980 fees.

Also appointed to the Township Board of Review were Kenneth Sabo of Glenview Drive, Frank Ross of Lakewood and reappointment of Joyce Dasher of Cedar Lane.

Appointed to a two year term (to Dec. 31, 1982) on the Board of Appeals was Barbara Lynch, Audrey Etienne and Lawrence Schendel.

Judge halves charges

Almost half of the charges against two Detroit men arrested following the Dec. 31 robbery of a Plymouth Township store have been dropped.

Stanley DuBose, 25, and Steven Foster, 25, appeared before Judge James Garber of the 35th District Court on Thursday for a preliminary examination in connection with the robbery of the Jaroh Party Store, 49429 Ann Arbor Rd.

At the examination, charges against each of the men of one count of robbery and one count of possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony were dropped. Charges still pending against each include one count of armed robbery and one count of possession of a firearm. In addition, DuBose faces charges of one count of assault with intent to commit murder and another count of possession of a firearm.

Charges were dropped when a witness to the robbery, William Studnick, failed to appear at the examination.

The pair will appear before another preliminary examination on Jan. 27 in Livonia in connection with the death of Mary Etta Bernard, 40, of Livonia. Bernard was killed during a high-speed chase, when her car was struck broadside at Merriman and Schoolcraft.

Your schools need millage renewal

Vote "yes" tomorrow on the school district request for a 10.36 mill renewal. The request will not raise school taxes -- it is a renewal, and we believe it is justified.

State funding to schools has already been curtailed to the point that some programs may be cut even if the renewal is defeated. Plainly, the Plymouth-Canton Schools need the revenue to come close to maintaining programs already in effect.

The vote tomorrow will decide more than one quarter of the schools' $38 million operating budget.

Administrators are quick to point out what a disastrous effect losing that much money would do to the overall funding for a school system already beset with financial woes now common to any tax-supported unit.

Voters should remember the vote is not an increase, nor is it tied to Extended School Year or re-districting questions. These are separate issues.

Tomorrow's election may be only for 25 per cent of the operating revenues, but that's better than having to decide the fate of the whole budget at once, as some school districts do. Voters don't need that kind of "gun to their heads," as one school administrator put it.

It may be for 25 per cent, but the schools need it all. The consequences of its defeat might spell doom for the fine educational programs the entire community benefits from.

Fall Fest board saluted

FALL FESTIVAL volunteers took a well-deserved bit of recognition Monday night at the annual Festival meeting where new officers were elected. The wine and cheese party held at Emma's Restaurant was hardly reward enough for the many hours all those participating in the Festival put in. Newly elected are: Fred Eisenlord, president; Eleanor Shevlin, first vice president; Jim Anulewicz, second vice president; Jean Harsha, secretary; Grace Light, treasurer. New board members include Hazel Gibson, Pat Carne, Louise Tritten, and Jim Venitelli. Gene Kafila, Erick Carne and Ken Fisher are also on the board. The 1981 Festival will be held Sept. 10-13 -- mark your calendars now. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Parks are the first to go...

I was sorry to see the winter sports park go down that easy.

Parks are kind of a sensitive issue with me -- I've lived in half a dozen states in my life, and none had the availability and range of state, county and local parks that Michigan has.

I know why the winter park was not approved for the location half the township staff recommended -- trustees felt there simply isn't enough money to commit to a project that size and type. Not right now, anyway.

That sentiment isn't so bad -- I looked at all the candidate interviews The Crier staff held before the election, and all stated they were in favor of increasing recreation in Canton if it could be afforded. I guess they feel this kind of park can't be afforded now.

But I also know what I think helped clinch the decision. There were a lot of Pilgrim Hills residents who didn't want the park, either, for reasons that had little to do with funding.

Well, a new location will be scouted now. A location that will make many of the winter sports proposed for the original location impossible.

Kids can now go sledding at some of the existing parks within 20 miles -- like Hines Park, where the Road Commission sanded the hills and the Sheriff's Department gives tickets for tobogganing.

Have fun, kids.

The raid next door was no accident

Most people can't even find Clare Blvd. in Plymouth Township. After living on the street for two years, the only noteworthy activity has been the clatter of snowplows clearing the street.

It was surprising to hear voices and commotion coming from the street one night last week, but I was thawing out in a hot bath, so I didn't think much of it.

Later, I looked out the window and saw several cars and a van and assumed there had been an accident.

My idea of offering hot coffee or the use of my phones wouldn't help, I thought, since the group looked as if they had access to the house next door.

It wasn't until the next day that I began to think something was strange on our normally quiet street.

Why was a car parked across from my house all day with someone sitting in it? Maybe it's a survey on the school bus schedule, I thought. (Innocence in rare form.)

But a phone call I received at work the next day started my wondering.

"Hey, I heard there was a raid at your house last night." My house? I didn't think so, I replied, but my sons know never to disturb me while I'm soaking in a hot tub.

I said there might have been an accident, but a raid?

It was no accident, I discovered later.

I left work a little early to be home when my sons arrived from school. We were discussing the strange car and even stranger phone call when the dragnet moved in.

It was like watching a drive-in movie through our picture window. Cop after cop emptied out of patrol cars and surrounded the house next to mine. I thought I was watching an action movie that had no plot.

What was going on?

Working for a newspaper has a few advantages. I called one of the ace reporters to find out why the police were disturbing our tranquil boulevard.

Now I feel a little foolish as I think of how many different cars I saw being repaired next door throughout last year. How was I to know the cars were stolen?

I thought about the trouble I had with my car and how I considered having my neighbor take a look at it.

It's strange, but I didn't even know my next door neighbor's name. I've been working a lot and it seemed as if they had just moved in. Their children don't play with mine. We never did introduce ourselves to each other.

What are you supposed to feel when your next door neighbor is arrested? Compassion? Disgust? They never hurt me or anyone I knew. Should I get to know my other neighbors better?

I can't decide yet.

Visiting profs describe Renaissance thinking

BY DAN BODENE

At one time, people thought planets stopped in their orbit and moved backwards slightly. They thought the earth was the center of the universe, and that there were two kinds of blood in the body.

Not the figments of wild imagination, these ideas were researched and accepted by the greatest minds of one of the most significant eras in history -- the Renaissance.

Explaining these ideas and how they became prominent in Renaissance thinking were Joseph W. Dauben, Ph.D. of New York University and William Hood, Ph.D. of Oberlin College in Ohio, first in the Distinguished Lecturer Series of the CEP Humanities program.

Topic of the seminar was "Revolutionary Perspectives on the Renaissance" and major areas covered by the pair of lecturers included astronomy, physiology and art.

Dauben, a fast-paced, intense speaker, first provided a sketch of the history of many of the most significant developments in astronomy.

Reaching far beyond the notion that the earth was the center of the universe, he said, Renaissance astronomers and mathematicians provided not only a more accurate picture of the makeup of the galaxy, but also of the impact that knowledge had on culture.

The church, for example, was extremely interested in many of the insights provided by Renaissance astronomers because of the ever-increasing accuracy of the solar calendar they helped devise.

The church wanted to know precisely when to schedule Easter celebrations, and so encouraged Copernicus in his studies, Dauben explained.

The church also provided problems for early scientists, however. Dauben traced the development of the concept of the sun as the center of the galaxy, including the case of Galileo, who published the theory without apology to the church. Tried, condemned and forced to recant in 1633, Galileo's censure was only recently re-examined by the church.

Many other notable Renaissance astronomers were illuminated by Dauben's vigorous style of presentation. Tycho Brahe, for example, was described not only as a brilliant astronomer but also as an eccentric character with a gold nose (he lost his own in a duel) who built a huge observatory on an island off the coast of Denmark.

Johannes Kepler, too, had his peculiarities. A student of Brahe's, Kepler was afflicted with multiple vision. "Can you imagine trying to chart the path of one star when it looked as if there were six?" Dauben asked.

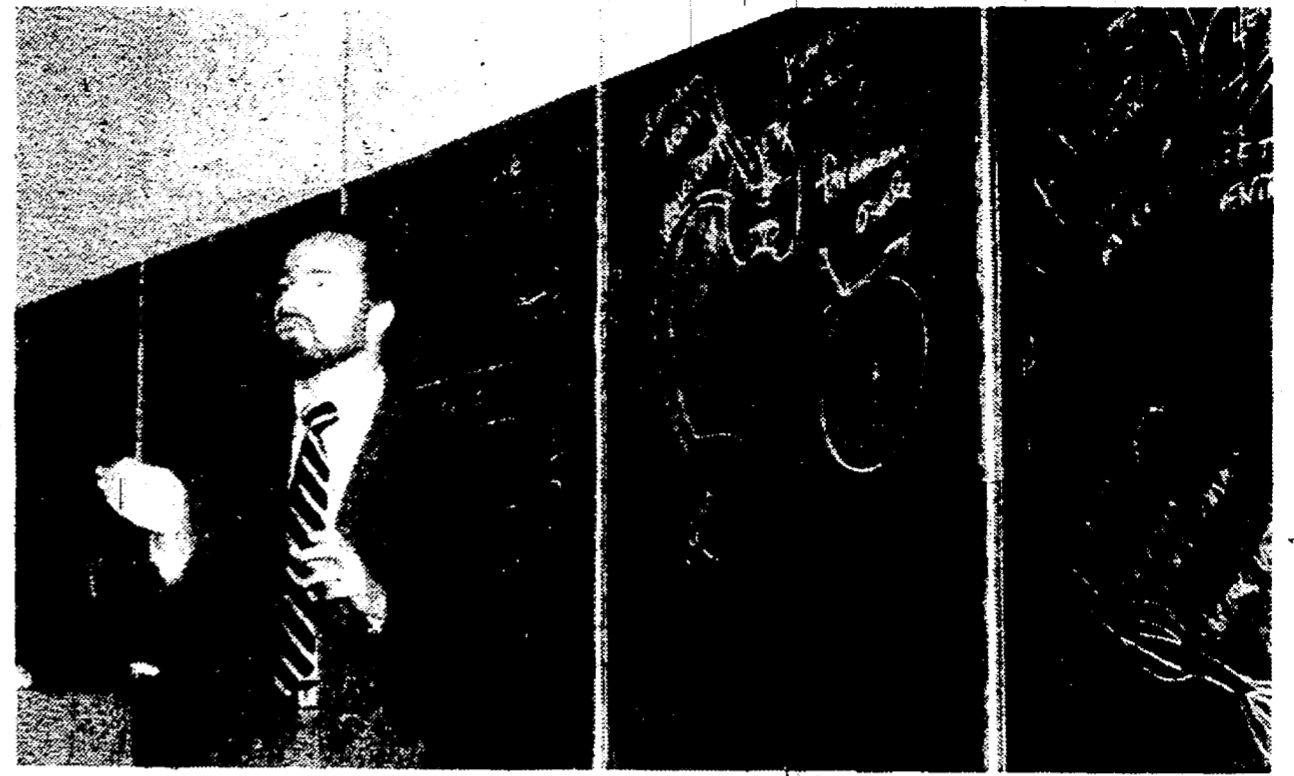

Significant in terms of broad impact were the discoveries of Sir Isaac Newton, who built upon the knowledge of his predecessors. Bringing together the terrestrial knowledge of Galileo with many of the mathematical concepts of Kepler, Newton created a storm of controversy over the nature of the heavens.

Much of the literature of the era was concerned with the psychological impact of the new theories, Dauben said. Cardinal Boronius wrote, "The intention of the Holy Ghost is to teach us how to go to heaven, not how the heavens go."

Also tracing significant developments in physiology during the Renaissance, Dauben explained the founding theory was that the body made use of two separate blood-carrying systems -- the veinal and arterial. Both began and ended separately, according to early medics.

Vesalius, however, changed all that, said Dauben. A careful observer, Vesalius was the first medical lecturer to do his own dissection as he talked. Till then, Dauben explained, the lecturer spoke while a bar-

Job training and care center

Children's Corner not just for kids

BY KEN VOYLES

Canton's Childrens Corners started nine years ago as a care center and a place where Canton high school students could receive job training and learn how to work with children. The students can earn two high school credits from the program.

"This is a very popular class at the high school. We have a lot of students that want to get in and can't because we've only room for 25 students in a class," said Child Care Instructor Sue Visser.

Prospective parents are invited to an Open House of the Canton Childrens Corners this Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Open House will be held at the child care center at Canton High School (off room 138) and all children who live in the Plymouth-Canton School District are eligible.

There are two classes so 50 students can take advantage of the unique program. "By the second semester of a year the students are doing the planning, teaching and evaluating," Visser said.

Four mornings a week at 8:30 a.m. (until 10:30 a.m.) pre-school children come to the center, which provides an atmosphere where children can experience activities with their peers.

Every week 120 pre-schoolers come through the center, said Visser. "We try to teach the pre-schoolers independence, how to share things and how to take directions from adult supervisors."

Visser has been associated with the program for seven years and her assistant Lois Santer has been with the program for five years. Together, along with the

Remote broadcast unit debuts

WSDP-FM (88.1) will introduce its remote broadcast Marti unit this Friday when the station follows the Canton basketball squad to Walled Lake Western for a Western Six League cage clash. The live play-by-play coverage will start at 8 p.m.

The new broadcast equipment was purchased with funds raised at last year's WSDP radio auction. The equipment can be set up in 10 minutes and gives the station a chance to expand its coverage.

"It is a transmitter and receiver which enables us to travel within approximately a 20 mile radius. The transmitter sends a signal back to the studio and then it can be aired live," said Administrative Coordinator for WSDP, Jeffrey Cardinal.

The remote antenna transmits a 25 watt signal to the remote tower 20 feet above the Salem High roof. It then travels through circuitry and is broadcast at the operational power of WSDP -- 200 Watts.

Installation of the remote tower was completed by the first of this year by Mike Schulte, Chief Engineer at WSDP.

tell it to Phyllis

I hate January! Everyone is on a diet, they're ornery, and grumpy, and everywhere you go people are complaining about the January blahs.

I'm not ready to admit that I've been hard to get along with, but ask anyone who has had to work or deal with me. You start getting the hint when co-workers call you 'Oscar.' When your stomach is growling and a voice yells, "that's not the only thing growling in that office."

The outside world may find me impossible to deal with. I realize the postmaster has to follow strict rules and regulations, but you'd think someone at the post office could create rules that would be accommodating to the public once in awhile.

I visited the local post office three times to buy a box of pre-stamped envelopes, only to find the person with the right key wasn't there. I hope they can notify us when this particular person takes a two-week vacation so we can stock up on pre-stamped envelopes.

I enjoyed returning a roll of stuck together stamps on one of those trips.

According to the postmaster this problem usually occurs when people put stamps in a damp place. There was no way of proving that roll was one of four purchased a few weeks ago and had been stored in a very dry desk drawer.

However, the postal officer said according to section 57938, article 9583 (or something like that) in the post office Bible of regulations, an item could be returned if there was a problem in manufacturing.

Just when I thought we were making progress with this discussion, he told me what I had to do to return the stamps.

First, you have to soak the stamps so they'll come unglued. Then, he said, glue them back on a piece of cardboard.

There is no sensible reason for this -- it's just that the post office doesn't trust its customers. By regluing all the stamps, a postal employe can count them and make sure you are returning a full roll.

"I'm returning exactly what you sold me," I protested. If you won't take my word that I'm returning a full roll of stamps, why should I believe it when you say you're selling me a full roll?"

Unfortunately, like city hall, it's frustrating to fight the post office, too.

There's a rumor of another increase in postal rates, and the ghost of nine digit zip codes still haunts us. It's so local post offices can give better service, say Washington politicians who hack such proposals.

I wonder how much of the increase will be paid to the regulation makers and how much will actually go to the real workers at the post office.

Canton Chamber hosts annual fete

Renaissance art at Salem

ber-surgeon dissected.

"The professor might be talking about a brain while the barber held up a kidney," joked Dauben.

Servetus, who discovered the link between veins and arteries, was not so highly regarded for his contributions. He was condemned and burned for heresy.

Other advancements in physiological knowledge were made by Realdus Columbus, who theorized blood flowed away from the heart as well as to it; Fabricius, who detailed the one-way valves in blood vessels, although he thought they existed to keep all blood from flowing to the feet; and William Harvey, who decided blood couldn't be produced strictly in the liver.

Dauben concluded his portion of the seminar to a loud round of applause.

After lunch, William Hood began his lecture with a series of anecdotes designed, he said, to keep students awake during the portion of the program when the lights were turned out.

Peppering his talk with stories and jokes, Hood dealt, nonetheless, with some of the more serious issues of the period. "Renaissance artists turned to the visible world," he said. "They saw it as a temporary vessel where universal truths existed."

Perspective and realism were two of the most influential aspects of the revolution in art during the Renaissance, Hood explained. "People had to be taught to see single-point perspective," he added.

Indeed, many of the period artists began to develop such an affinity for it that several estates in Italy are adorned with murals so lifelike that a landscape painted on a blank wall is even today virtually indistinguishable from the real thing without close examination.

Perspective in art had many of its antecedents in architectural drawings of the period, Hood said. From various paintings, one can actually diagram floor plans of the buildings in which they were set.

The Renaissance depiction of anatomy included much more emphasis on the real, according to Hood. Michelangelo's work on the Sistine Chapel, for example, became a model for many later artists. The Chapel ceiling contains "almost an infinite variety of poses of the human figure," explained Hood.

Due to the increased anatomical accuracy of figures in paintings, Hood explained, Renaissance art differs from earlier works of the same theme in its focus. Whereas antique paintings of a religious event, for example, tended to show primary identification of characters in an almost abstract way, Renaissance versions provided more narrative and realism. Figures were more lifelike and more of the story of the event was told in the paintings.

Finally, Hood said, Renaissance art has a very identifiable focus with the divine. "God is imminent in every aspect of life, and it infuses Renaissance art," he added.

CEP's Distinguished Lecturer Series is funded in part by the Plymouth Community Arts Council, and is the brainchild of Ruth Tonner, head of the team for the Humanities/Odyssey program. While on sabbatical at the American Academy in Rome last year, Tonner contacted Dauber and Hood, who were both also at the Academy.

For more information on the Series, contact Tonner at CEP at 453-3100.

Rec parking to expand

A parking lot expansion at township park was unanimously approved by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees last week.

The board approved 50 to 60 gravel spaces in a lot across from the park and Powell Road.

Other recommendations from the township's recreation committee will be discussed at Tuesday night's meeting.

Among those are allowing township, then city residents first use of the pavilion and shelter, whether to request a $100 deposit from groups who use the pavilions, maintenance, and possibly sharing a Summer Recreation Director with the City of Plymouth.

The Recreation Committee, which is comprised of trustees Andrew Pruner, Barbara Lynch and Gerald Law, also recommended not building a new clubhouse now, nor adding to the current in one due to lack of funds. The committee did recommend the purchase of wooden signs for the golf course.

Funds discussed

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees proposed several uses for its 1981 share of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds and Community Block Grant funds.

The proposals were brought out at the first public hearing on the use of the federal funds.

Proposals for Federal Revenue Sharing Funds this year included the purchase of a $4,000 sign for the front of township hall, recreation aides and equipment, and stormwater projects.

Proposed uses of the Community Block Grant funds included spending $120,000 to buy a State Highway owned building in Lake Pointe for senior citizen use.

JC's expand

The Canton Jaycees, with assistance from the Plymouth, Livonia and Northville chapters, plan to extend membership to residents of the Phoenix Correctional Facility in Northville.

The facility, a low security prison which prepares inmates to re-enter society, opened last August.

The Jaycees are planning personal dynamic activities, employment interviews and positive approaches to life seminars for members at the Phoenix institution, said Canton Jaycee Jim Lane.

Canton Chamber holds ninth annual dinner

Some 60 persons attended the ninth annual Canton Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting Saturday night.

New officers, led by John Schwartz as president, were sworn in at the meeting which featured Canton Supervisor Jim Poole as the speaker.

Poole joked that while the chamber meeting spent five minutes on four pages of by-laws changes without any dissent, the township board "could take eight hours to work that over. That doesn't seem right at all."

"I want to work with you," the supervisor told the Canton business leaders. "Cooperation and the spirit of working together is a two-way street."

Poole also suggested that business people promote a "buy in Canton" campaign and told the chamber "I'm going to eat lunch only in Canton Township."

That remark prompted chamber officials to say their dinner was held at the Plymouth Hilton in Plymouth Township because no Canton location was available for Saturday date.

Schwartz also responded to Poole's lunch in Canton remark relating the following: the two men had scheduled an appointment to go out for lunch a couple weeks ago but when Schwartz arrived at Canton Hall Poole said he was too busy to go out and promptly pulled out a brown bag lunch he ate at his desk while Schwartz and he talked. "That's what Jim Poole calls eating lunch in Canton," the chamber president laughed.

Other members of the new board are: Arnoldt Williams, 1st Vice President; Jack Koers, 2nd Vice President; Al Flower, Secretary; Bill Tesen, Treasurer; and Al Daly, Bill Brown, Teresa Solak, Mary Perna, Jack Ronteo, Art Ederes, Joel Clark, Frank McMurray, Hank Johnson, Eldon Johnson, directors.

Helping with the chamber's dinner program were Bill Tesen, Al Flower, Teresa Solak, Arnie Williams, and Canton chamber office manager Karen Dixon.

Former Canton Township supervisor Noel Culbert has opened a law office in the Harvard Square shopping center.

He joins another former Canton supervisor, Robert Greenstein, in establishing a law practice located on Ford Road after defeat for reelection to the township's highest office.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has filled the vacancy left by the resignation of Diane Williams as executive secretary. Newly hired is Diane Dart, although further details will be released at a later date, said Chamber President Betty Stremich.

Soil and Materials Engineers, Inc. recently named Richard O. Anderson, of Canton as vice president.

Anderson, who joined SME in 1972, is responsible for the direction of the firm's geotechnical and hydrogeological engineering services. He is a graduate of Michigan Technological University with a B.S. and M.S. in civil engineering.

Henry Baker house listed historic

The Henry Baker House on Main Street in the City of Plymouth has been listed as a State Historic Site, the Michigan Historical Commission announced last week.

The pink-painted house, located next to Dunning-Hough Library, received an 'A' category: protected site with local significance, from the State Historical Commission.

A historical plaque commemorating the site will arrive from the state this summer, said Baker House owner David H. Frost.

Frost, an attorney, has renovated the first floor of the house for his offices. The second floor will be rented for office space when construction is completed, Frost said.

The attorney said the exterior of the house will be renovated next. The Baker House joins three other sites in the Plymouth Canton community judged to have significant historical interest by the state.

The three are: Canton Center School District Building No. Four, the Cherry Hill United Methodist Church in Canton, and the information marker at Plymouth City Hall.

School officials take CPR health course

More than 50 Plymouth-Canton school district administrators recently took a basic cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) course at Canton High last week.

Certified Red Cross instructors Dee Basher, Judy Clement, Bonnie Crosley, David Dursum, Larry Masteller, Virginia Parker, Heather Shephard, Sue Triplett, and Tom Workman trained the group.

CPR is used to provide artificial circulation and breathing for a person whose heart and lungs have stopped functioning. It involves mouth-to-mouth breathing and manual heart massage to keep a person alive.

According to David Dursum, assistant director of Community Education, mannikins and materials donated by the Plymouth Rotary Club last year started a program to provide CPR training to the community. Red Cross CPR training is now a part of all health classes taught at Canton and Salem. Community Education will be offering training courses in CPR and for CPR instructors.

For further information about the courses or about CPR training call the Community Education Office at 459-1180.

Film series on family life

The People's Church of Canton is sponsoring a series of seven films by Dr. James C. Dobson entitled "Focus on the Family."

The film series, open to the entire community, is in seven parts. Each film is approximately one hour in length. The films will be shown in the Canton High School auditorium at 7 p.m. Sunday evenings for seven weeks beginning February 1.

There is no charge to see the films. Dr. Dobson is a professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California school of medicine and is an attending physician at the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. He is the co-editor of the textbook "The Mentally Retarded Child and His Family."

The seven films cover the entire range of family life, said Rev. Paul Hansen of People's Church. The first film deals with irresponsibility and defiance in a child as well as the conflict between parents and children, said the Reverend.

The second film depicts with the shaping of a child's will and illustrates constructive methods in child rearing.

Film three discusses a father's responsibility to the family and the family's priority in his life. A father's leadership role will also be discussed.

There will be two films directed to adolescents. The first deals with self-doubts and ways to help teens become self aware and to cope with stresses.

The second film shows peer pressure and sexual aspects of teen life.

Films six and seven show women encountering problems in married life. It will also show other aspects of married life.

For further information, call Rev. Hansen at 981-0499 or 397-3615.

Cookies!

Area Girl Scouts will be selling cookies to area residents through Feb. 17, according to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council Cookie Chairwomen.

Chairwomen this year are: Plymouth District A, Ruth Dostie, Plymouth District B Doris Prosyk, and in Canton, Jeanne Wood assisted by Sue Hoffmeister.

The goal for cookie sales this year is 500,000 boxes, said Doris Rorabacher, a Plymouth resident who was chosen Huron Valley's first Area Cookie Chairwoman Emeritus. Before retiring this year, she logged nine years of service and raised $362,000 for the local council.

The cookies will sell for $1.50 a box, same price as last year. Two new cookies have been added: Old Fashioned Oatmeal and Sumores, a coconut, caramel and chocolate cookie. Other cookie types include: thin mint, peanut butter patties, peanut butter oatmeal, chocolate vanilla sandwich cremes and shortbreads.

Salem cagers beat RU

Salem's aggressive style basketball paid off Tuesday night as the Rocks beat Redford Union in a non-league game, 61-54.

Offensively the Rocks looked loose, fast, physical and prepared. "The key to the game was we only gave up five offensive rebounds," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "Scott Bublin gave us a nice lift off the bench as did Dave Houle. Those two and John Cohen have really helped us develop an inside game."

Salem opened the game aggressively and went ahead 6-4, but stalled. RU led 12-10 at the end of the quarter.

The second quarter was an intense physical scrap. RU went up by five points with two thirty left in the half, 25-19, but the Rocks stayed close. Bublin and Cohen scored six points each. RU led 27-25 at the half.

Salem trailed by two points through most of the third quarter but tied it at 37 with 58 seconds left. RU led 41-39 at the end of the quarter.

Mike Sharp tied the score at 41 to start the final quarter. The Rocks surged ahead 47-41 with two points from Houle and four from Paul Horton. Cohen added six in the final four minutes.

Bentley defeats Canton

By Patty Radzik

The Canton basketball team dropped its record to 5-5 overall Tuesday night, falling to Livonia Bentley 53-43.

Sean Houle was high scorer for the Chiefs with 22 points, and Nat Thomas collected 10.

Mike Cacicchio led all Bentley scorers with 17 points and John Kilger added 12 for the Bulldogs.

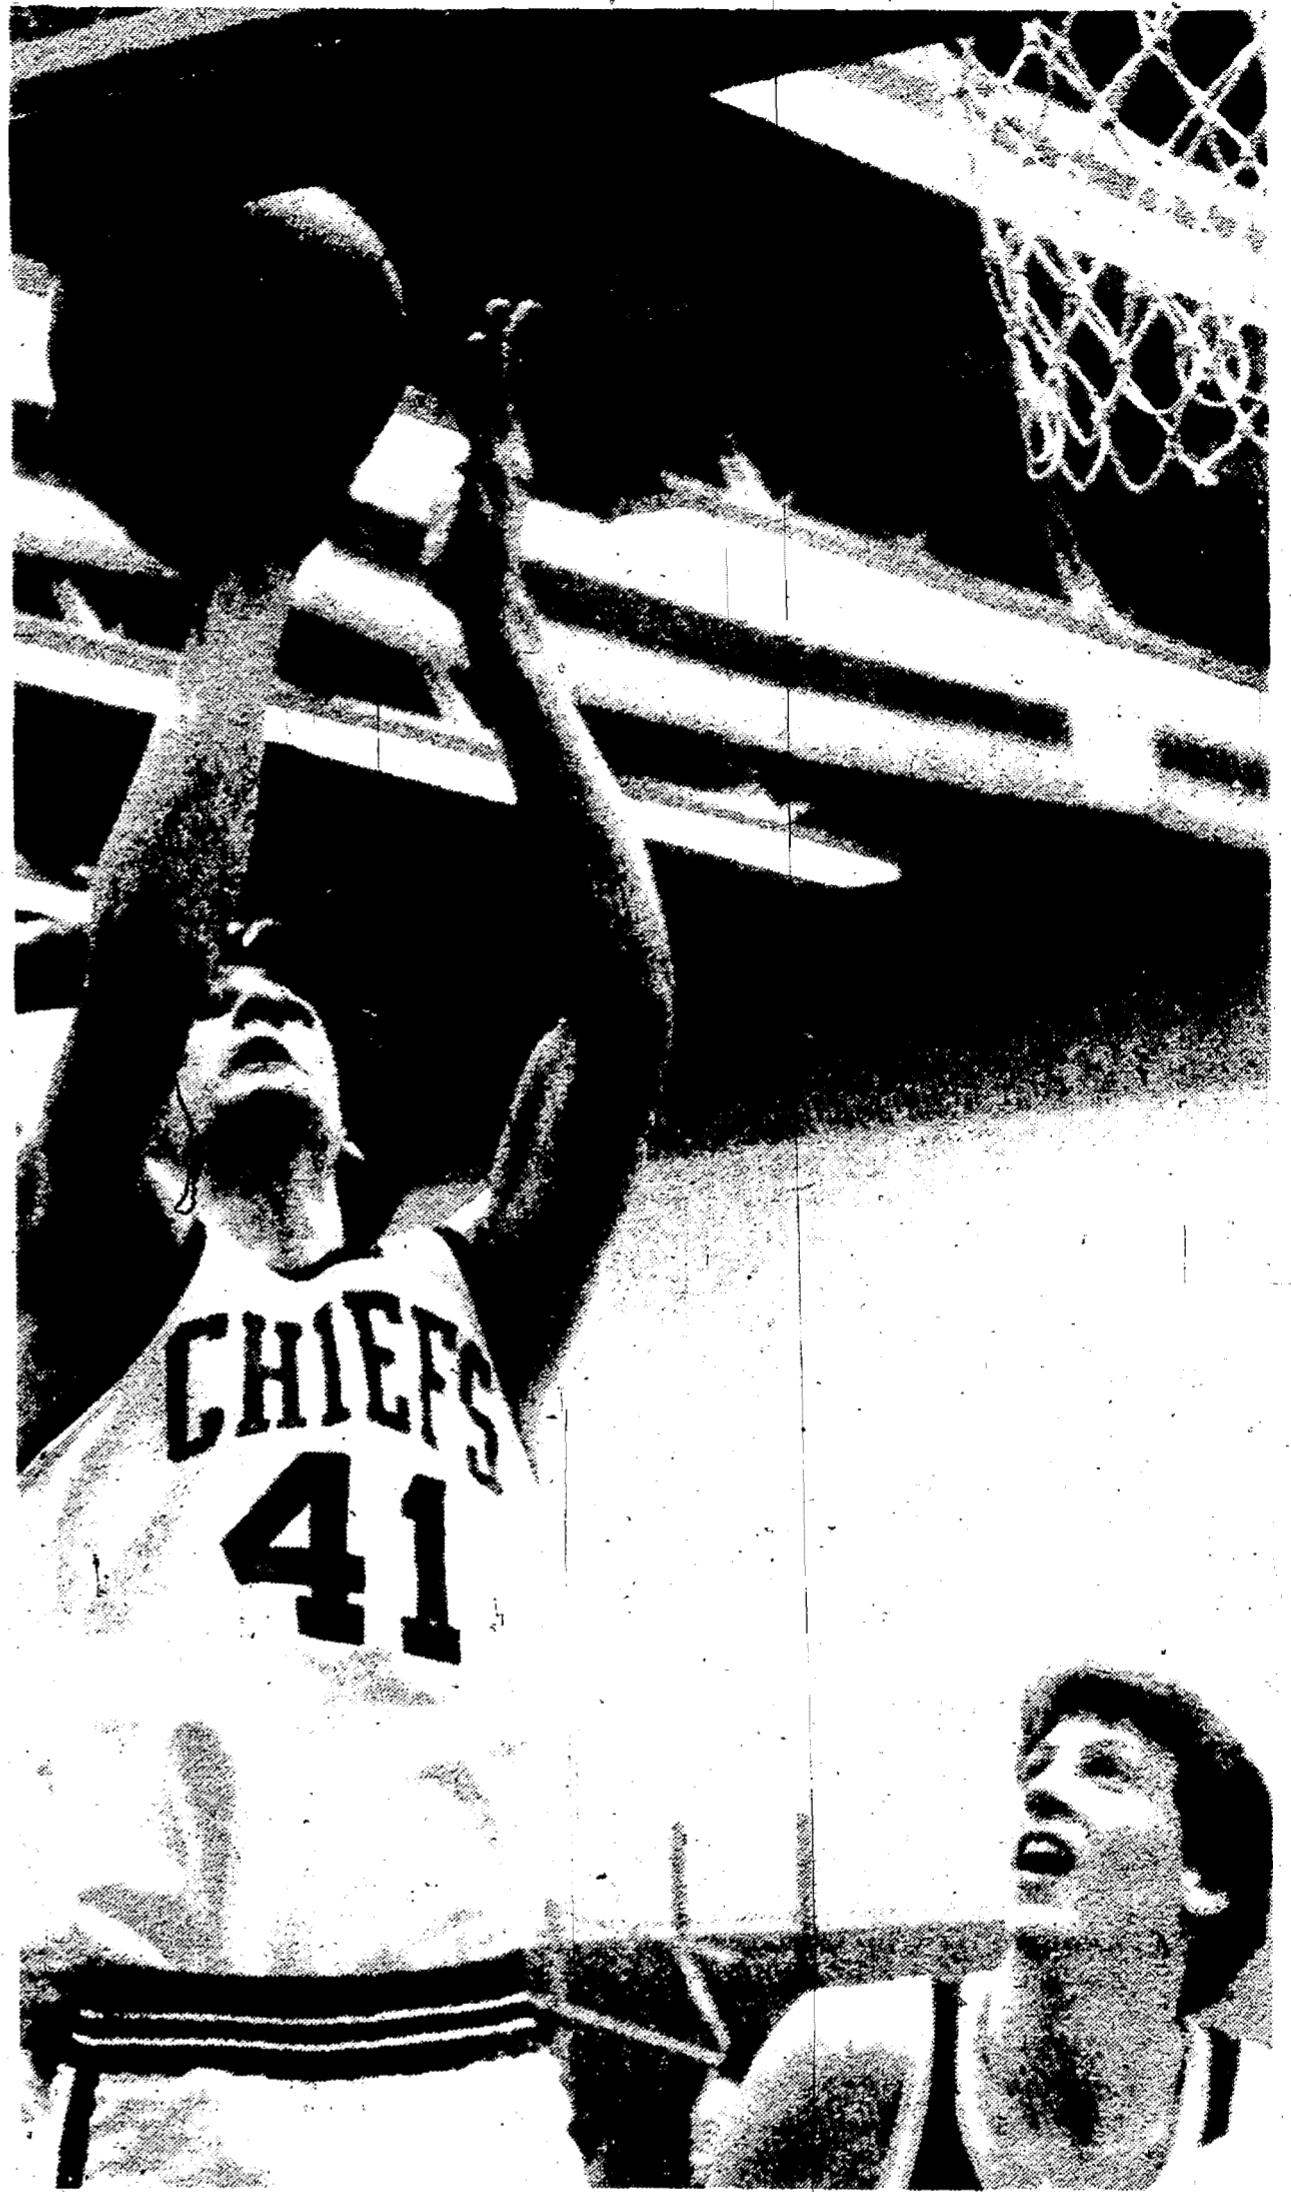

Canton led 14-8 at the end of the first quarter and went up 25-22 at the half.

Despite the fact that Canton outrebounded Bentley 36-20 for the game, 18 turnovers (nine in each half) spoiled the Chiefs 38-37 after three periods of play.

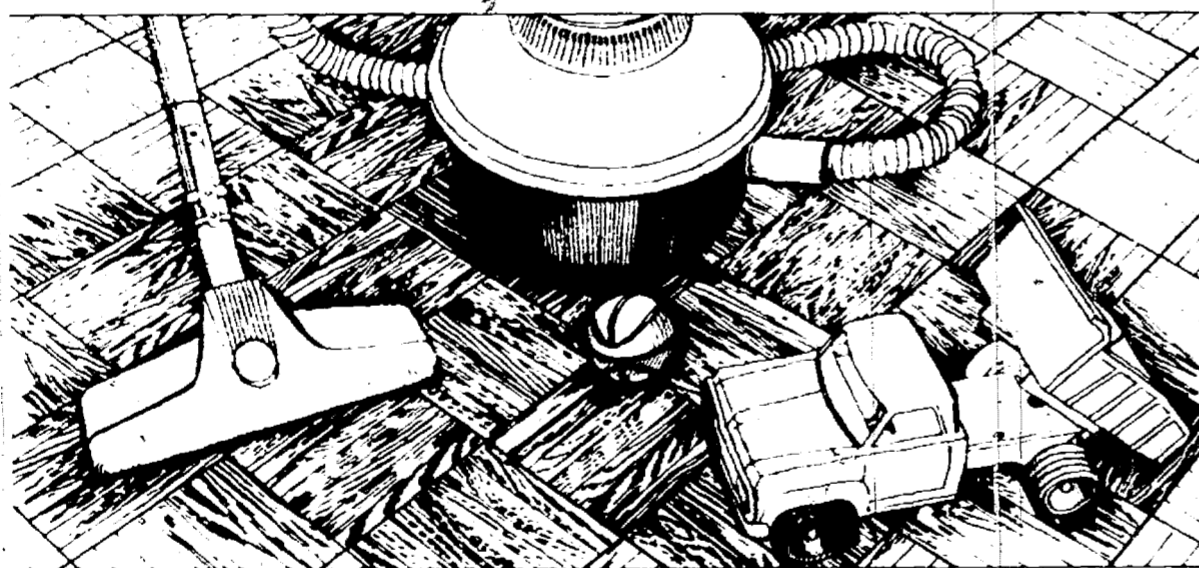

The Bulldogs outscored Canton 16-5 in the fourth quarter and took the lead with 6:36 remaining 40-38.

Canton hit for just five points in the final period and Houle sank a shot with 3:43 left to play putting the Chiefs behind 46-43. That was the last basket Canton made however as Bentley's Richard Ginsmore connected on a 25-footer at the buzzer to end the contest.

CHIEF CAGER Sean Houle is in the process of adding two points to the Canton tally in this photo. Houle paced Canton's scoring with 21 points against Farmington Harrison in a game that Canton lost. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Cumberland II. The hardwood floor you don't have to baby to love.

Gone are the days of hard-to-care-for hardwood floors. Prefinished Cumberland II oak parquet by Bruce is easy to maintain because the wax and stain are baked into the wood grain. Just vacuum it as you would a carpet. Or dustmop it. And wax it with a good solvent-based wax whenever you shampoo your carpet. It's that simple.

See Cumberland II, along with the entire family of Bruce floors, at a Bruce dealer near you. You'll be surprised how economical it is. And you'll love what it can do for virtually any room in your house. Without being babied.

Monday's varsity scores

Salem swimming

The Salem swim team defeated Northville 60-29 in a non-league swimming meet Monday night.

Paul Neschich, Gary Workman, Jeff Kleinsmith and Paul Perkowski won the medley relay with a time of 1:51, while Bruce Harwood, Ashley Long, Russ Schaffer and Tim Harwood were second, 1:51.9.

Doug Kleinsmith was second in the 200-yard freestyle, 1:59.5, and Jim Kindree was third, 2:04.8.

Schaffer won the individual medley, 2:10.4, and Tim Harwood was second, 2:13.2. Perkowski was first in the 50-yard freestyle, 23.9 seconds, and Jeff Kleinsmith was second 24.3.

Joe Rudelic won the diving, 231.55 and Todd Riedel was second, 175.15. Jeff Klein-

The Canton volleyball team dropped its overall record to 2-2 Monday night, losing to Redford Thurston 15-17, 4-15.

Canton was on the verge of winning the first game, when bad serving, by the Chiefs allowed Thurston to catch up and eventually win.

"Our team has an offense," Canton coach Cyndi Burnstein said after the frustrating defeat. "If our offense is good then we do okay," she continued. "If not, we're in trouble, because our defense is not quick enough."

Canton's inconsistent offense and a hustle on defense by Thurston were what decided the second game, according to Burnstein.

"We have a lot of potential, but we just haven't realized it yet," Burnstein commented.

Canton will play at home tonight against Farmington Harrison at 7:00. The Chiefs are still 2-1 in the league.

Late surge fails; Chief cagers lost to Harrison

BY PATTY RADZIK

A surge late in the game saved face for the Canton basketball team Friday night, as the Chiefs outscored Farmington Harrison 10-2 in the final minutes of the contest, but still fell short of victory, 60-59.

The Chiefs trailed by as much as 11 points in the concluding minutes of the third quarter, but when Canton's Dave Malek hit a shot with 22 seconds remaining, the Chiefs caught up 43-39 at the start of the fourth period.

Turnovers, and Harrison's tough zone defense proved fatal for Canton all throughout the game, and these factors enabled Harrison to climb back on top 60-49 with a minute 50 left to play.

"We didn't do well attacking their zone defense," Canton coach Craig Bell said. "We had a hard time getting inside," he continued. "They gave us just one shot at the basket."

When all looked dismal for the Chiefs, Malek sparked a rally by connecting on two outside shots, and Sean Houle followed with a pair of free throws and a jumper to lift Canton's hopes, though still behind 60-57 with 25 seconds of playing time left.

Harrison's Steve Shanbom missed the front end of a one-and-one free shot situation, and Canton scooped up the rebound, frantically tossed up two shots but missed both.

With ten seconds remaining, Harrison managed to get by the Chiefs' pressure defense into its own end of the court, but Canton got the ball back one more time and Malek hit a 20-footer at the buzzer to no avail.

The loss drops Canton to third place in the league with a 2-2 record, and an overall mark of 5-4. Harrison now moves into second place in the Western Six race with a 3-1 record, just behind Northville, who beat Waterford Mott 61-56.

Canton had the lead over Harrison for a little than three minutes, and that was all. "If we could have gotten a lead later on," Bell commented, "We could have controlled things."

Sean Houle appeared to be back in top form after recovering from a bout with the flu, scoring twice in the opening minutes of the game to give Canton an early 6-4 edge.

Houle was high scorer for the Chiefs with 21 points. He made eight of those points in the first half.

"Sean was back with us just one day. He practiced with us yesterday for the first time," Bell said Friday. "He looked pretty good, but he was tired."

Goran Vasovski had 20 points for Harrison and Steve Hollatz added 16.

Both players put on a two-man show in the first period and each combined for all of Harrison's points to lead their squad to a 12-8 early advantage.

In the second period, Harrison outscored Canton 19-14, but the quarter was highlighted by the shooting of Bill Childs and Tommie Harris. Childs scored four points for the Chiefs, and Harris put eyes on the ball at the buzzer, hitting a 30-footer to end the half with Canton lagging behind 31-22.

According to Bell, something positive did come out of the game. "Being down by so much in the third quarter, we could have folded, but we fought back."

Bell also praised the work of his players from the bench. "Ron King gave us good defensive efforts and added solidness to our offense."

The victory for Harrison marked the first time ever that they have beaten the Chiefs in the Canton gym.

Dave Malek contributed to the Chief scoring attack with a total of 16 points.

The Chiefs will play at Walled Lake Western this Friday, and then on Tuesday will compete against Belleville.

Monday night results

smith won the 100-yard butterfly, 58.8 seconds, and Scott Stinebaugh was third, 1:10.3.

Doug Kleinsmith won the 100-yard freestyle, 52.5 seconds and Schaffer was second, 53.6.

Kindree second in the 500-yard freestyle, 5:32, and Tim Smith was third, 5:37.5.

Bruce Harwood won the 100-yard backstroke, 1:02.9, and Neschich was second, 1:03.9.

Workman was second in the 100-yard breast stroke, 1:07.2 and Long was third, 1:09.2.

Duncan Moshimer, John Thompson, Stinebaugh and Smith teamed for first in the freestyle relay, 3:51.6, and Chuck Eudy, Bob Bowling, Eric Kleinsmith and Jeff Walker were third at 4:02.9.

Canton gymnastics

Canton gymnast Laurie Beale set a school record in the balance beam event last Saturday at the Dearborn Invitational, scoring an 8.5.

Twenty teams competed in the weekend tournament, including eight of the top 10 teams in the state. Beale was Canton's highest finisher in all the events. Besides placing first in the beam competition with a record score, Beale also came in third in the All-around with 32.7 points.

Overall, Canton finished seventh with a 89.75 score. Troy came in second and North Farmington won the invitational with 96.20 points.

Last Thursday the Chiefs suffered its first loss of the regular season at the hands of North Farmington, 97.9-91.65. The highest placing for Canton in that meet was a second place finish by Laura Mahalik on the uneven bars with a score of 8.05.

Monday night Canton easily defeated Belleville 92.60-85.35. Mahalik finished first in the vaulting competition with an average total of 8.15. Beale placed first in the uneven, balance beam, and floor exercise events.

Canton is now 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the league. The Chiefs will compete against Ann Arbor Huron and Jackson Parkside in a tri-meet tomorrow at Huron at 7:00. The next home meet is Monday with Ypsilanti.

Meanwhile on Monday night, the Salem gymnastics squad lost its third meet in as many games, 80.25-46.80 to Trenton. The Rocks are 0-2 in the Suburban Eight, and will play away tonight at Harrison at 7:00.

Salem spikers lose Sub 8 match

The Salem volleyball team lost a hard fought match last week to league foe Dearborn 11-15, 15-13, 14-16, and then evened its record out in the Suburban Eight to 1-1 with a 15-3, 15-4 win over Belleville Monday night.

The Rocks play away at Dearborn Edsel Ford tonight at 7:00, and then face Allen Park at home on Monday.

The Salem junior varsity also beat Belleville, scoring a 15-13, 15-12 victory over the Tigers, leaving the Rocks 1-1 on the season.

Salem swimmers tie Dearborn stay unbeaten

The Salem swimming team remained unbeaten when it gained a tie with Dearborn, 86-86 in a Suburban Eight League swim meet Thursday. The Rocks are 4-0-1 overall.

"We've never beaten Dearborn since the Suburban Eight league was started, so you could call this an upset for us," said Salem swim coach Chuck Olson. "We swam a good meet. They were strong up top but we were able to beat them with second, thirds and fourths in most events.

"It would have been nice to get one extra point, but it could have gone to them," Olson continued. "This is progress for us against Dearborn."

Salem picked up just three firsts during the competition, but scored heavily in the other scoring places.

The foursome of Paul Neschich, Jeff Kleinsmith, Gary Workman and Paul Perkowski teamed for first in the medley relay with a time of 1:46.3. Bob Bowling, Duncan Moshimer, Jeff Walker and Brian McAninch teamed for third in that race with an effort of 2:01.4.

Russ Schaffer was first in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 1:56.2. Doug Kleinsmith took a first in the 100-yard freestyle with a time of 52 seconds, while Perkowski was third in that race at 53.3 seconds.

Tim Harwood was third in the individual medley with a clocking of 2:11.7, while Perkowski was second in the 50-yard freestyle, 23.9 seconds, and Doug Kleinsmith was third, 24 seconds.

Joe Rudelic was third in diving competition with 202.1 points and Jeff Kleinsmith was third in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 59.1 seconds.

Schaffer was second in the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 5:20 and Jim Kindree was third, 5:31.5.

Gilles reaches 3rd round in Avon

Plymouth's Chris Gilles failed in a bid for a claim to fame last weekend in the local Avon qualifying tournament in Dearborn's Fairlane Tennis Club.

Gilles was one of 32 players entered in the event vying for one spot to play an Avon Futures player in a preliminary match on February 2nd, opening day of the womens' professional Avon Championships of Detroit tournament at Cobo Hall.

Gilles made it to the third round of the qualifying event, losing there to the fourth seed Meghan McMann 4-6; 1-6.

The thirteen-year old also beat Maryanne Hodges 6-0; 6-1 in the first round, and upset the sixth seeded player Paula Reichert, 3-6; 7-5; 6-3 in the second round of play.

Soccer sign-up at Cultural Center

The City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department will conduct spring soccer registration thru Jan. 31 at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The soccer program is open to children six to 18 years of age. The registration cost is $16 per player. Registration will take place in the Recreation office at the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer.

League play will begin in April and those wishing to compete with a team must sign up during the registration period. All new players must bring a birth certificate to the registration.

Canton swimmers post 2 victories over league foes

BY PATTY RADZIK

The Canton swim team started league action last week and posted two victories over Northville and Churchill, 48-35 and 96-82 respectively.

In both meets the Chiefs were still without the services of top swimmer Ron Hurley, who is suffering from a double dose of trouble. While recovering from a leg injury, Hurley contracted a touch of the flu.

Against Northville, the medley relay team of Bob Simrak, Jim Luce, Pete Stern and John Simone placed first with a time of 1:49.7.

Joe Gibbons placed second in both the 200-yard freestyle event and the 100-yard butterfly with times of 2:04.3 and 1:06.4 respectively against the Mustangs.

Facing Churchill, Gibbons won the butterfly race with a time of 1:05.6.

Pete Stern won the 50-yard freestyle race in a time of 23.7 and also finished first with a timing of 52.1 in the 110-yard freestyle event.

Stern was unable to compete for Canton against the Chargers, for he too had the flu.

Steve Gaggi won the diving competition for the Chiefs against Northville with 174.65 points, and placed second at Churchill with 166.45 points.

First places captured by Canton against the Chargers were: John Simone; 200 free. 2:00.4, 500 free. 5:31.1. Steve Sickles; 100 IM 2:19.1, 100 free. 1:56.1. Jim Luce; 100 breaststroke 1:11.4.

Canton is now 2-0 in the league and 2-2 overall in dual meets. Tomorrow the Chiefs will meet Farmington Harrison at home at 7:00.

Sheriffs in benefit

There will be a two-game hockey benefit this Saturday at the Plymouth Cultural Center to help raise money for the Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association.

In the first game, at 7 p.m., the Mite Blackhawks will face the Mite Bruins, while at 8 p.m., the Midget A squad will take to the ice against a team comprising of Wayne County Sheriffs deputies.

Tickets are $1 and good for both games. Children under 12 get in free. Tickets are available at the front door or through players of the hockey association.

Rock cagers split 2 games

The Salem basketball squad upped its overall record to 7-3 Friday with a 47-44 non-league victory over Lincoln Park.

John Cohen paced the Rocks offensively with 15 points.

Earlier last week, the Rocks suffered a 64-53 defeat to unbeaten Dearborn in Suburban Eight League competition.

The Rocks had been 4-0 in the conference before the game, while the Pioneers were 3-0 going into the contest.

"They did anything they wanted to do in the first half," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "Our defense was not very good in the first half."

In fact, it was the first quarter of the clash that cost Salem the game, as a fired up Dearborn squad blitzed the Rocks 20-4 in the period behind 15 points from Dave Rucker. David Miller and Paul Horton accounted for the Rocks four points in the period.

"We really didn't do a whole lot of things in the first half," said Thomann. "They played well -- they played the way the game is supposed to be played."

The Rocks picked up slightly in the second

Neschich was second in the 100-yard backstroke, with an effort of 1:01.8 and Bruce Harwood was third, 1:02.1.

Workman was second in the 100-yard breast stroke, 1:06.8 and Ashley Long was third, 1:08.9.

The quartet of John Thompson, Doug Kleinsmith, Tim Harwood and Schaffer teamed for second in the freestyle relay with an effort of 3:33.9, while Scott Stinebaugh, Tim Smith, Kindree and Workman were third at 3:51.8.

The Salem swimmers will be on the road tomorrow night as they face Belleville in a Suburban Eight League meet at Belleville. Meet time is 7 p.m. quarter, but the Pioneers continued to have the hot hand. Salem scored eight in the quarter to Dearborn's 14.

Leigh Langkabel and Dave Houle hit one bucket each for Salem in the quarter, while Horton tallied four points.

Salem rebounded in the third quarter and scored 20 points, while Dearborn tallied 14 points. John Cohen started that second half effort to close the gap with eight points. Mike Sharp then added six points and at the 2:31 mark the Rocks were down by 18 points 44-26.

Cohen, Houle, Sharp and Langkabel rounded out the Rocks scoring in the quarter and Salem was down 48-32 at the end of the eight minutes.

"When your down by 20 points the only way to get back in the game is to start taking shots when you normally don't," Thomann said. "We also extended our defensive premier from 60 feet to 90 feet.

"They executed on offense very well through most of the game and we didn't," he continued. "By the second half there (Dearborn's) emotional thing was over and we had a chance. We didn't play at all in the first half. We played with more intensity in the second."

The Rocks put things together offensively in the final quarter, but by then it was too late. Salem tallied 21 points in the period and Dearborn scored 16. Sharp scored eight for the Rocks, while Langkabel and Cohen had four points each in the quarter.

Sharp paced the Rocks' efforts that night with 15 points. Cohen added 14, Langkabel had eight and Horton six.

Salem's junior varsity won its eighth game beating Dearborn 71-35.

The Rocks will see action Friday as they travel to Trenton for a Suburban Eight League game. Game time is 8 p.m. for varsity and 6:30 p.m. for JV.

Chief wrestlers 4th at Clarkston

Canton's wrestling squad finished fifth at the Clarkston Invitational Saturday with 106 and a half points. Trenton and Lake Orion tied for first among the 10 teams involved with 173 and a half points.

"It was a good showing for us. The four teams ahead of us are all rated in Class A or Class B," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "We really felt good about our showing. Seven of the 11 wrestlers we took placed and that says a good team performance."

Tim Collins and Steve Hamblin reached the finals for the Chiefs. Collins, a freshman, was second in the 112-pound class after he lost to Rod Schols of Fenton 11-1 in the finals. He was 2-1 for the day.

Hamblin lost to Mike Ogans of Clarkston 10-5 in the finals of the 147-pound class for second place. He was also 2-1 for the tourney.

The Chiefs also had three wrestlers finish third at the tourney. Todd Bartlett at 100 pounds defeated Frank Lopez of Grand Blanc 6-3 for third. He finished 3-1 for the day.

Kevin Decker, at 121 pounds, defeated Eric Carpenter of Lake Orion for third place, 14-5. He was also 3-1 that day.

Kevin Santilli won his 140-pound match with Fred Valente of South Lake 6-4 to finish third. He was 3-1 for the day and 7-1 for the week.

Brett Haarala and Brian Lee finished fourth in their respective classes. Haarala lost to Doug Nichols of Fenton 3-1 at 128 pounds and Lee fell to Brett Bainbridge of Fenton 3-2 at 134 pounds.

Bob Mullen was the other Chief wrestler to place. He was fifth at 157 pounds when he beat Kevin Heandley of Trenton 5-1.

Earlier in the week, the Chiefs defeated Livonia Churchill 37-30 in a Western Six League match that came down to the 187-pound weight before a decision.

Other wins for the Chiefs included Bartlett, Haarala and Hamblin, all with pins over their opponents and Lee, Santilli and Mullen.

Canton is 7-1 in dual meets and 3-0 in the conference. They share the league's top spot with Walled Lake Western at 2-0.

Canton's junior varsity also beat Churchill 35-7. It was the squad's eighth win in nine outings.

Canton will take on Farmington Harrison tomorrow at home at 6:30 p.m. The meet is the final home meet for the Chiefs and Parent's Night. Canton will also be at the Rochester Adams Tournament this Saturday.

Rock grapplers win North invite

Salem's wrestling squad won the North Farmington Invitational Wrestling Tournament Saturday when it tallied 121 points. North Farmington was second with 104 points and Milford was third with 101 and a half points. There were 10 teams at the competition.

Marty Piper won the heavyweight class for the Rocks after beating Fisher of Dearborn Heights Annapolis with a pin at the 4:38 mark.

Dave Leist, at 119 pounds, beat Abram Carl of Wayne Memorial with a pin at 3:48 then lost to Detroit Country Day's Ken Durman when he was pinned at 3:29.

John Beaudoin, at 126 pounds, scored two pins and one decision before losing to Farmington's Bill Anglin 8-7.

Bruce Bachman was second at 145 pounds after he lost to Joe Samples of Wayne Memorial on a pin at 3:19. Bachman also had one victory and one decision during the tourney.

Rob Price in the 155-pound class finished third when he beat Buttazzoni of Walled Lake Western 8-2.

Steve Szilagyi, at 167 pounds, was also third when he defeated Matyari of North Farmington 7-5.

Adam Golchuck was third, at 185 pounds, when he knocked off Joe Bauer of Walled Lake Western 10-9.

At 188 pounds, Salem's Scott Wickens defeated Darryl Brooks of Wayne Memorial 5-4 to win the weight title. Wickens was a three-time winner for the Rocks during the tourney.

Earlier in the week, the Rocks beat Dearborn 48-11 in a Suburban Eight League meet.

Shamrock icers travel to Sweden

BY KEN VOYLES

Seven hockey players and coach Pete Hind from Plymouth and Canton were among the Berkley Shamrocks that spent 10 days in Sweden touring and playing exhibition hockey games.

Coach Hind and players, Craig Hancock, Glenn Tarrison, Barry Skeen, Brian Mooney, Kevin Campbell, Grant Steele and Bob Fletcher left for the land of the north Dec. 26 and arrived in the wee hours of the 27th.

Their destination was Surahammer, a fair sized city, near Stockholm. There they played five games including a three-game tourney. Their first match was against an all-star team from Surahammer that included players that had been to the U.S. as a part of Swedish teams in the past. The Shamrocks lost that game 11-2.

"It was a fun game for us," said Hind. "They had some 20 year olds and our squad consists of 15-16 year olds."

The next day the team played three games in the Surahammer New Year's Tournament and came away with one win. The Shamrocks lost to Hunniten Sweden, 7-3, lost to the Surahammer Midgets 8-5 and then beat Norsburg 7-3 in their final game that day.

"We won one game, but we led all teams in shots on goal with 101 and Steele was the fifth top scorer for the event with one goal and three assists," said Hind. "We played in front of about 500 people, but what was great was the newspaper coverage in their papers."

In their final contest the team was edged by Surahammer's Midgets 6-5. Down 5-0 going into the final period the Shamrocks fought back and tied the game 5-5, but then Surahammer scored the winner.

After its games, the team and their guests toured Stockholm, a giant steel mill in Surahammer and Wasteras, the fourth largest city in the European country.

Wasteras has a population of 120,000 and is the country's big shopping center, said Hind.

"They treated the team to everything they wanted to do. The Swedish government subsidizes its hockey programs and they helped pay for some of our ice time and other expenses," said Hind.

"Just watching our hockey team play in Sweden was memorable to me. We aren't a strong team, but the news of our hustle were in all kind of stories in the area there," Hind added.

The final banquet thrown for the team the day before they left provided a moment to make the event an annual affair. In 1979, the Shamrocks won the New Year's tourney in Sweden and last year the Swedes came to this country to play.

"The Mayor of Surahammer extended an invitation to us to make this an annual exchange and we think that's great," said Hind. "We had a fine time in Sweden."

Winter softball tourney

Winter softball will be the order of business the weekend of Jan. 31-Feb. 1 as the Canton Township Parks and Recreation Department sponsors the 2nd Annual Groundhogs Day Classic slo-pitch softball tourney for local winter enthusiasts.

This year's event will cost $25 per team. Each team can consist of no more than 18 players and all players must play in the competition.

Registration deadline is Jan. 23 at 5 p.m. Teams can register at the Canton Township Parks and Recreation offices at 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Besides the winter conditions, the tourney will be using a 16 inch orange softball. All games will take place at Griffin Park in Canton.

For further details contact tourney director Bob Dates at 397-1000.

The tournament will be cancelled only due to good weather, said Dates.

Chief spikers lose to Chargers

BY PATTY RADZIK

Canton volleyball coach Cyndi Burnstein says she usually does not like to get upset about bad officiating, but after the Chiefs' 4-15, 15-11, 13-15 defeat by Livonia Churchill last Wednesday, and some bad calls to boot, she aired her feelings.

"The officiating has been bad and tonight it was the worst," Burnstein commented.

Volleyball rules state that two referees be present at a game, and at the match with Churchill there was only one. He tried to make calls from one side of the court, thus causing tremendous problems.

Trailing 13-14 in the third and final game, Canton's Marianne Pink hit a spike cross court from the side the official was on to the other. According to Burnstein and the Chargers coach as well the ball, which was hit right in front of the Canton bench, was clearly in bounds. The official ruled it out.

Had the hit been counted good, it would have tied the score. Instead, the Chiefs lost the point, followed by the game and the entire match.

While she deplores the officiating, Burnstein does not entirely blame the loss on that fact. "We weren't quick enough on defense, and we didn't get to use our offense."

"In the first game we froze," Burnstein said. "In the second game we were behind 10-5 and came back and won."

In the third game, the lead switched hands several times, but the bad calls played havoc on Canton.

"The calls were terrible," Burnstein quipped. "They would have made the difference."

Tonight Canton takes on Farmington Harrison at home at 7 p.m. This Saturday Canton will play in a tournament in Battle Creek. On Monday the Chiefs will face Walled Lake Western away at 7 p.m.

Canton is now 2-1 in league action.

Salem cage awards

The Salem girls basketball team which won district and regional titles this season, held its end of the season banquet last Thursday.

Coach Bob Blohm distributed team awards to the squad that advanced into semi-final action before losing its bid for state finals.

Salem finished second in the Suburban Eight League race behind Livonia Bentley with a 9-3 league record. Overall, the squad was 22-5 and won both district and regional titles before losing to Jackson 51-33 in the Class A semifinals.

Senior Cheryl Sobkow and junior Eileen Moore, the Rocks' co-captains, shared Most Valuable Player honors. Moore broke the school assist record during the past season with 66.

Junior Carol Ross was named by Blohm as the Most Improved Player. Ross shot 59 per cent from the floor and 53 per cent from the foul line. She also had 88 rebounds and had 57 steals and 41 assists.

Blohm also gave out three coaches awards at the affair. Jeanine Papa, Sarah Evans and Lynda Lybarger were the recipients of trophies which recognizes their efforts in the 1980 season.

Bantam team wins tourney

The Rebmann Plastics Bantam hockey team playing out of Plymouth recently captured the first place crown at the WYHA-Jack's Sport Center 1980 Christmas Tournament.

The squad defeated Taylor 7-2 in the finals to win the tourney.

Kurt Holda scored two goals for the Plymouth team in the first and second period, while Mark Kenyon had a hat trick for the game and Kevin Parker and Randy Wilson each added one goal.

Ed Holda, Rick Schebe and Ed Kenyon coached the squad.

City approves police contract with Township

The contract is still in draft form and although there is a complete version it is not ready for public inspection, said Graper.

Graper read from notes that he and City attorney Charles Lowe had compiled before that project the ideas of the contract.

Included: The contract will be for a one-year period from Feb. 1 to some time in January of 1982. It will be extended at the end of that time if necessary, said Graper.

All amendments to the contract must be approved by both governments.

Plymouth Township, which had been receiving protection from the Wayne County Sheriffs Department, will pay approximately $250,000 for services supplied from the city, said Graper.

Revenues up

new jobs and retain 17.

The list of projects includes: Action Oldsmobile, Inc., expansion of automobile dealership; Plymouth Place Associates, office complex; Howmet Turbine Components Corp., a 19,500 square foot expansion; Spagnoli Brothers Partnership, a 6,204 square foot office building; Everett McClure Webb, a 10,000 square foot industrial facility; Siarto Machine and Tool Co. Inc., for land purchase, building construction and working capital; all located in Plymouth Township.

The WCEDC is a non profit corporation that assists business development in Wayne County.

Other expenses incurred by the city force, such as duplicating records for township files; will be an added expense to the township and the city will bill accordingly, by month.

There are provisions for suspending the contract, such as either party must notify the other 60 days in advance. If the city defaults on the contract they will have to repay the lump $250,000, while if the township reneges it will have to pay for any hired personnel by the city plus pick up compensation for those employees.

City police cars may also lose their gray identity as part of the deal. At the pre-commission hearing several alternative names for City of Plymouth Police were proposed such as Plymouth, or Community Police. The cars could be painted white, said Graper.

The two governments will work through City Inspector Carl Berry, as liaison for the force.

"We could have 37 per cent of the man hours in the department in the township," Graper said. Also the city could provide one or two cars for the township and one car for the city on a continuous basis, the City Manager added.

In response to public questioning of this, Graper said that even if three or four cars were dispatched into the township there would still be people on active duty in the city ready to answer its needs.

"All of the details given here are based on that first year. We see what's needed and have basically outlined what the force will be doing as to one year," said Graper.

Mayor Pro Tem Eldon Martin concurred with the manager and most of the public that attended the meeting that now was the time to consolidate services.

"But we must make clear that the township is not getting equal service," said Martin. "The city will continue to get the same amount of service and the township will get as much as they contract for. They can extend that service and might, but people are still going to expect services they are not getting."

Also, according to Graper, there will be monthly meetings with the township on police matters and the city will do its best to provide what the township needs.

In certain situations, Graper added, if the city police thought the assistance of the Sheriff or State Police was needed they could be called in, such as for an emergency that drew cars away from either the city or township on a large scale.

Right now the city works with a 10-30 system. Ten minutes for response time in the city and 30 spent on the scene. That could be expanded slightly, but not to such a degree as to take away from efficiency said Graper.

According to Mayor Mary Childs, the approval of the resolution means the start of the legal work between the city and township attorneys in finalizing the actual contract.

Commissioners Karl Gansler, Dave Pugh, Martin, Ralph Kenyon and Ron Loiselle plus Mayor Childs voted for the contract at the session. Commissioner Mark Weymeyer was absent.

Kid's center builds independence

students they provide a laboratory that benefits children, students and parents.

"We also have a Kiddie Campus class in the afternoon, so the center is used most of the time," Visser said. The program receives its money from the state Vocational Reimbursement fund.

The center provides a two-day a week program for the pre-schoolers on Monday-Wednesday or Tuesday-Thursday. The cost is $115 per 17-week semester and is open to three and a half to four year old children.

"Many people have been very impressed with the operation when they first see it," Visser said. "We are very proud of the program and think it is one of the best in the state for training high schoolers and for the children themselves."

Visser said that the center's prime focus is the high school students and that through them they are able to give the children a varied program which includes group time, free choice time (with seven different areas available for use by the children), conversation time and snack time.

"It gives a wide range to our teaching and keeps the kids happy. We have to provide quality materials because of the numbers we see. We think we are able to do that as well, or better, than some of the other programs we've looked at around the area," Visser said.
