STRAIGHT FROM THE ARCTIC CIRCLE--There weren't too many pedestrians circulating through the Plymouth-Canton shopping areas Saturday when temperatures dipped to record below zero readings and the winds almost knocked people off their feet. These hardy souls, Elizabeth Douglas, Maryann Pollock and Sharon Douglas, along with a zany Crier photographer, were the only ones showing in the main business section. There were lots of cars that didn't make it, too. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Enjoy a Super Community!

Super Bowl visitors can find things to do, places to eat and entertainment spots listed in the copies of The Crier Community Guide placed in hotels, motels and restaurants of the area.

BY KEN VOYLES

For those guests here for the Super Bowl XVI weekend The Plymouth-Canton Community has much to offer if a little time is taken to search out needs.

The City of Plymouth is a community of shops as well as homes. Over 104 different shops can be found within the 2.2 square mile city limit. Many of those can be found in the Central Business District and around the city's center square.

Shops are located on Ann Arbor Trail, Penniman, Main and Forest Streets in the CBD, and in Forest Mall and Westchester Square. Over 50 more shops can be found in the streets of Old Village, such as Starkweather, Mill, Liberty and Spring. Old Village is located in the northeast section of the city.

Eating establishments dot Main Street, the main road through the city, and can also be found along Ann Arbor Road, the southern dividing line between the city and Plymouth Township. Ann Arbor Road, along that section, is also known as fast food alley, with many eateries for those in a hurry and without much money.

Dining can also be found on Ann Arbor Road, as well as Main Street.

In the heart of the city is Kellogg Park, the historic Wilcox home, historic Plymouth Rock and the famous Penn Movie Theatre.

Local hotels and motels have all reported sellouts for the Super Bowl XVI weekend. They include the Knights' Inn in Canton, the Red Roof Inn in Plymouth Township, the historic Mayflower Hotel in downtown Plymouth, and the giant Plymouth Hilton in Plymouth Township.

The Mayflower has been named one of this year's "Super Restaurants." Dining facilities in the hotel include the Mayflower Room and the Steak House. The Crow's Nest pub is also located in the hotel.

The Hilton, meanwhile, has been named a "Super Hotel." Dining is available in the Hotel's Jolly Miller, while live music and dancing can be found at the Jolly Miller bar.

The Hilton will also be the only hotel in the area to have a complete Super Bowl

City firemen deliver baby in emergency

Surprise! It's a boy.

Two members of the Plymouth Fire Department delivered a baby boy yesterday morning at 399 Ann in the city.

According to Capt. Tom Lenaghan a call was received at 6:35 a.m., of a woman in hard labor. A rescue unit was sent to the home where it was determined that birth would occur at any moment.

Firefighters John Morrissey and Bill Warren, with help from registered nurse Sue Olson, delivered the boy at 7:08 a.m. He was then taken to St. Joseph Hospital Ann Arbor along with his mother Ann Kungel.

According to Lenaghan it was the first time in recent memory that Plymouth fire personnel had delivered a baby in a resident's home.

Lt. Dan Carpenter cited for action in City Hall siege

Plymouth Police Detective Lt. Daniel R. Carpenter received a special commendation from the city at Monday night's City Commission meeting, for his efforts during the Dec. 4 shooting at City Hall.

Carpenter, a 24-year police veteran, established a phone link with the alleged gunman after he had already fired off half a dozen rounds at city hall. Carpenter's efforts on the phone convinced the man to stop the shooting. The accused gunman then invited Carpenter to his home, directly behind City Hall. Carpenter volunteered to go into the home and talk to the man.

Once inside, Carpenter talked the gunman into giving up his weapons and with the help of other officers, made a formal arrest.

The plaque cited Carpenter's efforts as going "beyond the normal limits of duty."

Plymouth Mayor Eldon Martin said, "Lt. Carpenter went beyond the responsibility of his position and did something we can all be proud of. We think for that he deserves a special commendation."

Are citizen's advisory committees effective?

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third part of a series examining the promises and performances of cable television in The Plymouth-Canton Community.

BY DAN BODENE

Omnicom of Michigan is responsible for operation of the cable television system in The Plymouth-Canton Community, and in doing so they have the advice of local citizen advisory committees. Or do they?

Of the three municipalities in The Community only Canton, by ordinance, provides for a Citizens Advisory Committee. Membership of the Canton committee is required to be "comprised of representatives from all the major social groups in the community -- governmental, schools, major art groups, and various sports organizations."

Neither the City of Plymouth nor Plymouth Township require advisory groups as a term of their cable TV agreements. Former Omnicom president John Raines stated in his franchise proposals to the city and township in 1979 that his company was willing to work in establishing such committees.

Currently, two committees exist. One serves Canton, while another includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township citizens.

However, an apparent problem seems to be that neither knows exactly how to do its job, or even what the job is.

There aren't many guidelines to help. Albert Baxter of the Federal Communications Commission's Cable Bureau says that since 1976 there have been no FCC requirements or guidelines for setting up advisory committees.

Omnicom's Programming Director, Hugh Jencks, says the situation is "Frustrating sometimes -- we do not have an example to follow." (Jencks did write a document on the role of advisory committees, circulated after franchises were signed.)

Current Omnicom president Peter Newell adds that as far as the nature of charge to advisory committees, "The committee ought to decide. We don't want to regulate them. Their function can be anything they want if it is agreed between the group, local government and the company."

According to Gary J. Dell, executive director of Information Services for Wayne-Westland Community Schools, "As with other aspects of cable, there are few absolutes. Most communities are 'living' with their first franchise and finding that a good deal of time is spent with creative problem solving."

"In those communities with whom I have worked, the scope of responsibility of the Cable Commission ranges from 'little decision making responsibility' to total regulatory control."

Dell, who formerly worked in the broadcast industry and now occasionally lectures about cable TV, says a basic framework of the cable advisory committees should be included in every franchise.

Some minimal guidelines, suggested by the National Education Association, include coordinating and evaluating programming; ensuring fair, non-discriminatory system access; development of experimental programming; assisting with coordination of existing educational programming; setting fees for use of production facilities; monitoring expenditures of revenues acquired from franchise fees and assuring all funds are returned to local programming projects.

Indeed, the City of Wayne specifies seven duties of its Cable Communications Regulatory Commission, including establishing policies and procedures, review of operations, promotion of the system's use and review of rate changes.

Wayne's ordinance also specifies the makeup of the five members of the committee -- the mayor, city manager, one member from the school system and two registered electors.

In The Plymouth-Canton Community the two advisory committees are vastly different, which may be due as much to their relationship with the municipality as to the lack of available guidelines.

Canton's advisory committee, for example, is not connected with the township government. Supervisor James Poole says, "No government committee is getting involved with an Omnicom committee."

Nonetheless, the Canton advisory committee has developed its own by-laws and set up subgroups such as preview, programming, public relations and channel coordination committees.

Canton's problem is that there is very little cable TV programming in the township. Omnicom says because the

Area cable TV companies compared

BY DAN BODENE

It's often hard to compare rate structures between cable companies, because so many factors complicate the overall picture.

When comparing rates and services between these companies, bear in mind that each offers a different number of channels in the basic service, some periodically offer reduced "charter" or "introductory" rates as a marketing tool, and many offer other separate pay services or free equipment. Look at the whole scope of the survey.

Omnicom President Peter Newell says his company's rates are "Generally low in the metro area." Judge for yourself.

Canton board OKs Class C license for new Mr. Steak

BY DICK BROWN

Canton Township board members handed out approval for another Class C liquor license at the Jan. 12 meeting.

This one will go to Mr. Steak, currently under construction at the southwest corner of Ford and Sheldon Roads.

Ronald Chapman and Bill Anderson, both from the Denver headquarters of the Mr. Steak restaurant chain, presented the request to the board, calling the Canton Mr. Steak restaurant a "new format for the national chain" in building design and planned operation.

They told the board that the Canton building under construction is the prototype for Mr. Steak restaurants and the first of its kind to be built in the United States. It will seat 166 people, have a small banquet facility, have a service bar, offer an upgraded menu and employ 70 to 75 people. Cost of the building and fixtures was pegged at $1.2 million.

Chapman told the board that drinks would be served with meals and that no public bar would be provided. "This is not a place for people to come and spend several hours drinking," he said.

When it came to the vote on the granting of township approval for the Class C license, the vote was unanimous.

Plymouth Township works out details of golf cart deal

Plymouth Township Board of Trustees agreed to a tentative deal worked out with John Jawor, manager of the Hilltop Golf Course, for the purchase of electric golf carts.

The trustees still must vote on the final addendum wording at their next meeting. The addendum will be added to an addendum recently passed by the trustees over the golf course contract. The deal will not, however, change the contract in any way.

Voting 7-0 the trustees approved, in concept, the reimbursement plan as presented by Jawor's attorney Ronald Burke.

According to Jawor he will purchase between 25 and 40 carts for next spring.

Jawor, currently seeking bids from four companies, will not only purchase the vehicles but cover all maintenance costs, insurance, recharging, liability and future installation of needed electrical facilities.

In return the township will receive $5,500 annually for five years with renegotiation after the fifth year.

The trustees approved the construction of cart paths last fall at an approximate price of $30,000. Those paths have since been installed and will be ready for next season.

"The carts will bring more people out here which will mean more money for the township," said Jawor. He added that there are electric facilities for 16 carts at this time as well as storage facilities.

Plymouth Twp. contract talks near

BY KEN VOYLES

Plymouth Township administrators and Local 1496 representing township firefighters are ready to begin negotiations, attorneys for both sides acknowledged last week.

The contract for the 14 members of the local is up March 31, but negotiations have been stalled up to now due to an unresolved issue between the two parties.

Union attorney George Borgelt, of Dearborn Heights, said he has contacted the law firm which is handling the township's side of negotiations.

Angelo Plakas, of Bokos, Jones and Plakas in Westland, will represent the township at the bargaining table. He said that no exact date for the first meeting has been set but that the two parties are ready to sit down and discuss the contract.

Meanwhile, the issue confronting the Township Board of Trustees and Supervisor Maurice Breen over a vacancy in the fire department remains unresolved.

At last week's regular meeting of the board, local president Clayton Miller addressed the issue. Miller had sent a letter to the board expressing the local's concern over the loss of a firefighter. The letter was also printed in last week's Crier.

At the meeting Trustee Gerald Law derided Miller for going to the local newspapers before coming to the board. He also said that the department remains a subsidized component of the township despite the passage of a half mill increase by voters last August.

Trustee Lee Fidge agreed with Law on both points and added that she took exception to Miller's statement in the letter that the board is disregarding the safety of its residents.

Miller replied that he spoke with Breen before circulating the letter. "His (Breen's) explanation was that he hadn't hired anybody to this point and as far as he knew he wouldn't hire anyone in the near future," he said. Miller added that Breen's statement prompted the letter.

Breen replied, "You're totally wrong and totally off base. I don't think the board has ever disregarded the safety of the residents. It is my duty to make the appointment as a managerial decision."

Breen also took exception to phone numbers in Miller's letter for unhappy residents to call, saying it is an "improper way to do business."

He added that "on this particular item you would have been better off not to have brought the board into it because they can't really do anything until I make a recommendation."

At that point Fidge entered a motion that Miller's letter and a copy of the discussion that night be put into Miller's personnel file. She was supported by Trustee Barb Lynch.

Miller said, "I believe you're missing the entire point of the letter. I can appreciate your character assassination, but the point is, what is the board going to do about the firefighter vacancy?"

Breen asked that the motion be held in abeyance for the moment, but Fidge said she felt strongly that it should be a part of Miller's records since he is the local's president.

"I'd be proud to have the records in my personnel file," Miller said.

The motion passed 5-2 with Lynch, Joseph West, Fidge, Law and Breen voting for it, and Esther Hulsing and Andy Pruner dissenting.

After the meeting Breen said he didn't think the loss of one firefighter was dangerous unless firefighter absenteeism increases. "I don't think it affects the efficiency of the department," he said.

He added that in the past the township has operated two stations with less than 15 firefighters. He then reiterated that the hiring was a "managerial decision and I'm not ready to make an appointment at this time."

Miller still claims that 14 firefighters puts a strain on one of the three work shifts.

Normally the township runs three shifts of five men. Three firefighters are at Station 1 and two at Station 2.

With the reduced shift, four firefighters operate the two stations with two men at each. When an ambulance call comes into Station 2 on Wilcox Road, for example, the run can't be made until Station 1 is notified and sends support, increasing response time.

Fire Chief Larry Groth said the loss of one firefighter does have an effect on the department especially since the township has not allowed the department to fill the weak link using personnel working on overtime.

Township firefighters are not allowed to strike. If an agreement between the two parties is not reached the talks will go before an arbitrator.

Neighborhood Watch program scheduled

Make sure your neighborhood is protected.

On Jan. 26, Plymouth Police Officer Mike Gardner and Lark Samouelian will present the necessary details required for a successful Neighborhood Watch program, at a meeting in the Central Middle School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

The program, funded by the First National Bank of Plymouth, will feature a video tape of a simulated breaking-and-entering incident. Actual preventative methods will then be explained.

Neighbors who are interested in gathering together in a block group to attend are encouraged to do so. For those citizens who have already attended a Neighborhood Watch meeting, updated forms will be available for record-keeping.

Board reports some schools may drop ESY

P-C school forum airs public opinion

BY DAN BODENÉ

A public forum held Monday night at Lowell Middle School was apparently quite successful: residents voiced many concerns to the Plymouth-Canton School Board, and in turn heard immediate replies to the issues.

For example, in one discussion it was revealed some schools may be taken off Extended School Year (ESY).

After an introductory assessment of the status of the district, given by Superintendent John Hoben, residents discussed issues ranging from program to safety.

Marge Kroll, a former middle school and high school mathematics teacher, said she is encouraged by the "tremendous awareness" displayed by teachers, but that there has been a concern raised of middle school students being hampered by a lack of accelerated math classes.

She said she found some students had the opportunity for accelerated work, but not all the students that want it. The opportunity to participate in a more demanding math program should be built into the middle school program, she added, and should be investigated carefully.

Hoben replied that an accelerated and enrichment program was instituted years ago, but that problems were experienced when middle school students studied under the shorter class hours at the high school. "The challenge and the issue, I think, are good ones," Hoben said, adding that such a program will again be discussed.

Carol Shasko and Virginia Parker both requested the board investigate the possibility of taking Miller School off ESY.

Shasko said parents, students and teachers were tired after seven years of ESY configuration at Miller. Many disruptions to families have been noted, she said.

Parker added that many working women in the Miller community have found it difficult to find suitable child care.

Ginnie Hauk, however, voiced her support for ESY but said that it worked well in her case because she has only one child. She said of eight teachers she talked to, all replied they wanted Miller to remain on ESY. "I think we need to accentuate the positive as well as the negative," Hauk explained.

Hoben said the issue of ESY is one now being reviewed at cabinet and board level, and that "it is reasonable to expect that between two and four schools will go off ESY." Meetings with building principals will be held next week, he said, and a decision will be made prior to mid-February.

Safety was another major area of concern for district parents.

Jack Klosterman detailed conditions on Lilley Road south of Ford Road, saying the speed limit was still too high and that inclement weather makes the situation even more hazardous. He asked the board to participate in efforts to have the Wayne County Road Commission reclassify the road as a primary road, so it can be salted in winter.

Cheryl Rivard echoed Klosterman's concerns, but called reclassification efforts "a Catch-22."

Board President Carol Davis said the superintendent has written a letter to the Road Commission requesting the reclassification, and that the district Safety Committee will also work with Canton police in the effort.

David Artley, spokesman for Parents After Safety for Students (PASS), presented to the board a report entitled, "Criteria for Evaluating Safe Pedestrian Walk Areas."

The report was not an attempt to circumvent channels, he said, but was the result of "a clear and present need for differentiating criteria."

Members of PASS listed safety criteria in categories, including age, climate, total walking distance, driveways, walking areas, emergency accessibility and miscellaneous potential problem areas such as railroad crossings, woods, ditches and others.

The key function of the report, he explained, was to provide safe walking areas.

Twp. Firefighters need help

When people consider the various services offered by their local unit of government, at the head of the list is fire and police protection.

Even in these times of heavy money crunch residents often take such protection services for granted.

But in Plymouth Township it's the government which is taking for granted a vital service -- and at residents' expense.

A vacancy in the township fire department created last summer has gone unfilled, leaving the department 14 men instead of 15. Trying to man two stations in three work shifts with the loss of even one firefighter leaves the department dangerously understaffed.

The weakened shift (there are usually five a shift, with three men at Station 1 and two at Station 2) suffers a dramatic increase in response and reaction time to both of its main services, fire calls and ambulance runs.

When one station on the weakened shift -- two men at each station -- gets a call for an ambulance run, for example, the other station must be notified and send support to keep the station from shutting down while the firefighters make their run.

Many of those in the know say that such a situation is bound to cause a critical manpower shortage in time of major emergency. It also causes resentment among firefighters and in the end does affect the safety and well being of all township residents.

The township has taken the position of "wait and see," saying that the vacancy will not be filled in the near future. Neither the township trustees nor the township administration seem to realize the need and thus the biggest department suffers from a morale problem as well as being understaffed.

It's time the Township Board listens to the experts in the field of fire protection, put current contract negotiations aside, hire a qualified firefighter, and stop being so defensive about the entire issue.

This is a matter of safety and shouldn't be taken lightly as it has been by the township administration.

We get the county shaft once again

So, what's new?

That is the general reaction of Plymouth-Canton residents to the adoption of the 15 new Wayne County commissioner districts. "We got the shaft, again" is the most common reaction.

The old 27th Commissioner District which grouped townships and cities in Western Wayne County which had similar problems, similar interests and pretty much the same economic and social makeup, has been splintered by the adoption of the new districting plan by the five-member county re-districting commission.

It is particularly divisive for the Plymouth-Canton Community which is united by a common school district, retail business core, organizations, geography and many utilities.

Under the new plan Plymouth and Plymouth Township, along with Northville and Northville Township are thrown in with Livonia and a sliver of Westland. The result is that not only are interests and problems different, there is a great difference in population punch. Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and Northville Township have a total population of 48,000. Livonia has a population of 105,000. Obviously Livonia is in a dominant position in the new 10th District as far as electing and influencing a commissioner.

In the new 11th District the picture is unbalanced but in a different way. Canton Township with its 48,000 people is thrown in with VanBuren, Sumpter, Huron, Belleville, Romulus, Wayne and a portion of Westland.

Canton, VanBuren and Belleville are similar in many ways. Sumpter and Huron Townships and the cities of Romulus, Wayne and Westland are dissimilar.

In its pure state, re-districting is supposed to be a non-political process. It didn't work out that way in Wayne County.

The process was Democrats vs. Republicans, Detroit vs. suburbs, bureaucrats vs. the public interests of all the people.

Western Wayne County, in particular, deserved better treatment. We didn't get it.

Firefighter Union challenges letter

EDITOR:
This is in response to former Plymouth Township Trustee Frank Millington's letter (Jan. 13, 1982 issue) questioning the fire fighter's concern over the reduction of the Fire Department.
I would like to explain that both my letter to the Township Board and this one were reviewed by fellow union officers and express the sentiments of the entire union membership.
While we feel there is no one better qualified to judge the requirements of the Fire Department than those who are involved with it daily, our concern in this matter is simply that promises were made during the millage campaign which are not being kept. Those people who supported the millage increase (including ourselves) were told that its passage would insure the maintenance of a Fire Department (and I quote the campaign literature) "... staffed by a Fire Chief, 15 full-time firefighters . . . and 15 volunteers." This promise has not been kept.

We agree that we have a very capable Fire Chief. He has asked the Township Board to fill the vacancy. We stand behind him in this effort.
We have stopped to consider whether we are putting our interests over those of the public and we don't believe so. While filling the vacancy will help us more effectively deliver fire and rescue services and increase our union's income $20 a month, each of our members will suffer a reduction in income by the addition of one fire fighter to the overtime rotation.
Frank made some mention of budget deficits. We have not heard anyone claim that filling this vacancy will create a deficit in the township budget. In fact, we have not heard any reasoning for not filling the vacancy. The Township Board has simply ignored the matter (see minutes of Jan. 12, 1982 meeting).

Because of this ignoring and because of the heartening response of Township residents to our first letter, we are taking this matter to the employers of both the Township Board and ourselves—the residents of Plymouth Township.
Township residents interested in signing and/or circulating a petition asking the Township Board to fill the Fire Department vacancy should contact:
Clayton Miller, 981-0218; Mark Wendel, 455-4918; Don Hahn, 459-1581; James Haar, Jr., 455-6381.
Please don't try to contact us at work. We're forbidden to conduct political activities while on duty and we don't need any further reductions in the Fire Department.

DeHoCo use of school is a worthy program

At first thought the welding class held at Salem High for inmates of the Detroit House of Corrections, may bring out fears among Plymouth-Canton residents.
But the nature of the program -- the only one of its kind in the community -- is such that those fears need not lead residents into a battle to discredit and destroy the class.
The program deserves support from residents because it fulfills a basic need to the "other" members of our community. It helps educate and rehabilitate offenders of the law and gives them something to look forward to like most seniors at CEP -- finishing class and getting that welding certificate.
Besides, the welding facilities at Salem are put to good use at a time when most students are at home studying. DeHoCo inmates take full advantage of the equipment supplied by the school district (regular daytime welding classes are held at Canton) and the experienced teaching of Elwin Lindke.
Also the program does not cost residents one dime. The Community Education program generates state aid because it has such a program. Without it the district would lose money from the state.
As for fears that inmates will cause trouble once inside the school, those are also unjustified. There is a good rapport between teachers and students, and Lindke and DeHoCo Counselor Herman Gillery rule their charges with an iron fist.
In the seven years the program has been at the high school there has not been one incident of trouble caused by the inmates. The record stands spotless, according to DeHoCo and school officials.
Residents should not create an incident where no incident has occurred before.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

This past week end was a good time to stay by the hearthside instead of roaming around. With the mercury frozen in the bottom of the thermometer it seemed like a good idea to forget the snow in the driveway, a shopping excursion and all other outdoor fun and games.
The trouble with hibernating is that too few of us know how to take advantage of the opportunities that activity (or lack of activity) allows.
A recluse Saturday is fine if you like kiddie cartoons on the idiot box. It is fine for reading. It is fine for getting some inside-the-house chores done.
One of those chores was digging among some packing boxes that had been shuffled over the last 8 years from Brown homesteads in Mason, Higgins Lake, Belleville, Plymouth and finally Canton.
Mixed in among the memories and paraphernalia accumulated by Ma, Pa and eight kids were such things as cheerleading uniforms, old family portraits, school report cards, junior prom dance programs, dolls, football pennants, old letters, etc.
There was also one sheaf of yellowed notepaper with the University of Michigan Hospital printed at the top. The scribbling was in the handwriting of a 60-year-old energetic man who had enjoyed life and its trials to the fullest. The writing on those note sheets had been made from his bed in the hospital where he was in the throes of terminal leukemia.
The writing at the top of the first sheet said, "Some of the things I have learned in life."
Those "things" were listed as follows:
If you don't have bad days, you won't be able to recognize good days.
Money is good only to exchange for happy memories. All other uses for money are fleeting.
The harder you work, the better your luck.
Fear causes more pain than injury or disease.
If you think man is inventive and has made great progress, remember, there has been no new sin in the past 2,000 years.
Perseverance achieves more than ability.
One of God's greatest gifts to mankind is his inability to smell himself.
Contrary to popular opinion, pain and death are not the worst things in life. The worst thing is loneliness. The next worst is to be ignored.
I am not as old or as wise at 60 as I originally expected.
These words, among others, were written on that hospital scratch pad by my father. Finding them and re-reading them was a great way to spend a cold Saturday morning.

Twp. pickup program doesn't need change

EDITOR:

Open letter to Plymouth Township Board:

In reference to Township residential garbage disposal, we would like to make a few comments.

We have lived within the Township of Plymouth for nine and a half years and have dealt with three disposal companies during this time. We have been satisfied with each company and have found their fees, even with the sharp increases since 1978, to be reasonable for both regular and large-item pickup.

Through membership in our homeowners association we can exert more control over the disposal company servicing our subdivision than would be possible with a township-wide service. We resent your interference with that control.

Some on the board have stated (and others left the statement unchallenged) that a township-wide service would save residents money. Specifically, you have told residents that the cost of garbage collection would be placed on property tax bills issued by the township and this would save the residents money because the fees would be tax deductible.

We believe that a cursory review of the tax law would reveal this is untrue. If we are correct, then, clearly, you have misled the public and you are obligated to publicize your error so that residents may re-evaluate the savings you claimed we would incur under a township-wide disposal service.

It is our belief that a township-wide service is not a significant issue at this time and we fail to appreciate why you have insisted it is.

Furthermore, we feel your rejection of the suggestion to put the issue to a vote reflects a patronizing, big-brother attitude toward your constituents.

Therefore, after you have publicized your error in reference to the deductibility of collection fees under your proposed system, we ask that you establish another public hearing so that the residents can respond to an accurate presentation of the savings we are supposed to incur through a township-wide garbage collection system.

We further request that you allow the residents to vote on this issue or any other issue that so tangibly affects each homeowner each week of the year.

Don't slash school programs

EDITOR:

To the citizens of the Plymouth-Canton Community:

Whether you realize it or not, our public schools are on the verge of severe cutbacks.

For example, there has been a proposal to cut the high school and middle school day to five hours. The impact of this on the student entering the seventh grade would be the loss of one full year of education by the time that student had graduated.

The implications of this cutback could include: loss of foreign language, art, vocational education, limits on student freedom in choice of electives, and possible loss of prestige for the highly-regarded Plymouth-Canton Schools.

We haven't received a very-promising picture for the next school year or for the years to come, and with decreased assistance from the state, the schools need the continued support of the community more than ever before.

Plymouth-Canton students believe in their education today, and we want those who follow to believe in it tomorrow. Kids DO care!

Serious questions need to be asked before all the decisions are made so that in the long run, kids will be least hurt.

The citizens of this community must know what is at stake.

Keep police juvenile officer

EDITOR:

Last week you printed an article concerning the cutback of the juvenile officer in the Plymouth Police Department.

Police Chief Carl Berry said, "If we lose the township contract, do we have a need for a youth lieutenant?"

It's my understanding we had a youth lieutenant long before we had a contract with the township.

Chief Berry also stated that "second on the list of priorities we need to continue to develop a good community relationship program, and last on the list was the youth bureau."

What better way to improve community relations than by working with the youth of our community. The youth officer becomes involved with his regular duties, visits the schools and deals with youth crime and I cannot understand why this is considered a luxury position.

I would also like to say that all the officers in the Plymouth Police Department are involved in community relations every day, so why do we need a special program in lieu of a youth officer?

It seems to me that our detective bureau is slowly but surely being torn apart.

DEADLINE: January 22, 1982

What is your opinion of joint police pact?

In response to criticisms by two Plymouth Township residents who have used Plymouth Community Police services to investigate breakins of occupied residences, The Community Crier is seeking opinions from city and township residents concerning police protection.

Defending the police department's handling of the cases and policework in general, city and township officials (who are currently negotiating renewal of the shared police service contract) say that the level of law enforcement here is adequate and efficient.

While negotiations center on the amount of the police department's effort spent on city versus township and the related costs, the issue of whether current police efforts are sufficient is still present.

Your answers to the questions posed above will help us evaluate the community's position. Please take a few minutes now to complete the questionnaire and return it promptly. Thank you.

Plymouth Twp. trustee cites closed sessions

BY DICK BROWN

Plymouth Township Trustee Lee Fidge, who has challenged Plymouth Township Board's use of closed meetings and meeting notifications and the procedures for going into closed sessions and reporting of closed sessions in the board's official minutes, during her five years on the board.

She has come up with 11 alleged violations dating back to 1977 which she has brought to the attention of the board on several occasions in letters and at board meetings.

Among those cited was a Nov. 27, 1977, restaurant meeting of four members of the board, Clerk Helen Richardson, Treasurer Joe West, Supervisor Thomas Notebaert and Trustee Frank Millington, and County Commissioner Royce Smith concerning the Tonquish Creek Sanitary Sewer at which action was taken.

She cites another instance of a special meeting called for Aug. 9, 1978, for purposes of a public discussion over the amount of sewer capacity being used by the township. In this instance she contends that proper notification of the meeting was not made according to state law. She cited at that time that she received notification of the afternoon meeting just five hours before the meeting was called and that the board rules required 18 hours advance notice.

Fidge also claims the negotiations between Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth over unified services at which "tentative agreement" was reached without the full board taking part in the discussion, in violation of the state open meetings law.

In another instance in September of 1980 she challenged the signing of an amendment to the Hilltop Golf Course contract with John Jawor by Township

Attorney Donald Morgan without authorization recorded in any board minutes.

"There was another instance of violation of the open meetings statute, in my opinion, when a dinner meeting was called for Sept. 9, 1980, for the township board and two representatives of the township's accounting firm," Fidge said. "After receiving notification of the dinner session by phone, I protested the meeting and called attention to my concern over what I considered a violation of the state Open Meetings Act and I informed the board I would not attend. The meetings was posted as a public meeting."

"The meeting was held and the minutes of that meeting were never approved by the board nor were they published," Fidge added.

She also listed an alleged violation of board procedures and the open meetings act on May 15, 1981. "A telephone vote was used to accept terms of a consent judgment in the court case brought by James McCarthy against the township," she said, "obviously a violation of board rules and the state statute."

Another possible violation she pointed to was a special meeting called for the purpose of a management by objectives seminar on Sept. 14, 1981, which she did not attend.

"And then there were the two meetings of June 29, 1981, and Sept. 25, 1981," Fidge said, "which were acknowledged by Supervisor Maurice Breen as being in 'technical violation' of the open meetings act."

She concluded by saying that "The township's approved procedures and the state Open Meetings Statute have been bent and sometimes broken by the Plymouth Township Board."

Skate-A-Thon needs skaters and volunteers

More skaters and volunteers are needed for the skate-a-thon, "Skate to Beat Diabetes," scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 30 and 31.

Canton's Skatin' Station at 8611 Ronda Drive, off of Joy Road and west of Haggerty, is one of the 10 participating skating rinks in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Money raised by the skate-a-thon goes for the Diabetes Association's programs of research, education, summer camping for diabetic children and statewide detection every November in cooperation with Michigan health departments and hospitals.

Anyone can join the skate-a-thon regardless of age. Entry forms are available at the participating rinks or can be obtained by calling the American Diabetes Association at 552-0480.

The grand prize to the top fund raiser is a stereo radio receiver, turntable with cartridge and a pair of three-way speakers. For this prize skaters must be 18 years old or over and collect a minimum of $500.

The grand prize for youngsters 17 and under with a minimum collection of $200 is a FM cassette.

To the two top money raisers at each rink, a pair of roller skates will be awarded.

All participants will receive a free Skate-A-Thon embroidered patch.

Mark D. Secker awarded scholarship

Mark D. Secker, Plymouth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Secker, was one of 43 college food service students in Michigan awarded college scholarships for the spring term by the Michigan Restaurant Association.

The MRA through its scholarship program, encourages young people to pursue careers in the food service industry.

Secker will use his scholarship at the Culinary Institute of America.

INSTRUCTOR ELWIN LINDKE (in white) moves from lecture to the real thing as he takes a new class of inmates from Detroit House of Correction through the basics of welding. "I've taught half a million

A class for the "other" members of our community

BY KEN VOYLES
AND MIKE BLEDSOE

By early evening the halls of the high school are silent. Most of the day's students have departed from the building, leaving empty classrooms for a far different kind of student, but students nonetheless.

At night the fluorescent lights give off an eerie glow in the welding room at Salem High. Lockers filled with welding tools line the walls and students, clad in prison blue, listen attentively as a teacher discusses the basics of the trade.

These are not students daydreaming of graduation in spring -- the room is filled with inmates from the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) located in Plymouth Township, learning skills they hope to use one day.

The class is part of the Plymouth-Canton School District's Community Education program, and the only one of its kind to offer DeHoCo prisoners a chance to learn outside the confines of the institution. Inmates must be in DeHoCo at least three months to qualify for the class.

Inside the Salem shop room a rapport exists between teacher and students. Security is tight, but there is a relaxed manner in the motions of teacher Elwin Lindke as he takes his students through the basics of welding, from lecture to the firing of the weld torch to the final product.

Lindke, 68, has taught vocation classes for over 30 years, first at Wolverine School of Trade and then in the Plymouth-Canton School District. Now retired, Lindke is one of the original teachers of the trade school programs offered at DeHoCo.

"I'm firm and I'm fair, but I'm very firm," Lindke said during a recent nighttime class at Salem. "It doesn't matter who a student is or how big he is, you must gain their confidence, and I try to be a friend to all the students."

Less than one per cent of the students in the program drop out, Lindke says, while 30 to 35 graduate each term. Over 400 inmates have received welding certificates in the seven years the class has been taught at Salem.

"They are here because they want to be here," DeHoCo counselor Herman Gillery, 43, says. "Every prisoner is carefully screened before they are brought into the school."

"I've met men on the streets of Detroit who have said, 'Thank you, Mr. Gillery, for what this class has done for me.'"

Bussed in from DeHoCo four nights a week, inmates receive four hours of instruction a night from Lindke. By the time they complete the course they will have spent 32 hours in the class and will receive a certificate that can be used to get a job on the outside. Students can continue the class for up to 96 hours.

Gillery and Lindke oversee the inmates each night, but their task is that of instructor more than of guard.

"If there is any trouble I have a radio

WITH THE SPARKS of this weld torch filling the air, a DeHoCo inmate applies himself to his class in welding. Inmates learn the welding craft four nights a where I can reach the institution and get help immediately," said Gillery. He added that hasn't had to do that yet.

Randy B., 18, one of 14 inmates in the welding room that night, looks forward to his training. "You don't feel incarcerated when you're here, and you're learning something that won't hurt you unless you burn yourself," he said.

Randy said he plans to use his welding skills when he is released in March. He hopes to then work for his uncle's construction company in New Jersey.

"This place teaches you that the life of crime isn't where it's at. I was arrested for possession of narcotics and I'm looking forward to making an honest living," Randy said.

Another inmate, Donny A., 29, was already a skilled welder when he joined the class. "I'm here to tighten my skills to the level they were at when I got here," he said.

Donny hopes to work for the Job Corps Community Center when he is released, and though he will not use his skills as a welder he feels it will be something he can fall back on. "I've got a family of three kids to take care of. This was my first offense," he said.

Donny was also arrested for possession of narcotics. He and Randy work next door to each other at DeHoCo, Donny as a butcher, Randy as a baker.

The pair are scheduled to be released from prison on the same day. For Randy it's, "Back to work, that's what time it is, back to work."

The welding class is but one of several programs offered the inmates through Community Education.

Originally the school district had a set of classes for the women inmates at Phoenix Correctional Institution, also in Plymouth Township. When the state moved in to run the programs, the district withdrew and considered classes at DeHoCo.

Schoolcraft College had already developed classes at DeHoCo through a federal grant. The college bought equipment and supplied teachers. When the grant ran out in 1974 Schoolcraft withdrew.

In that year the district became involved at DeHoCo, picking up the classes Schoolcraft had started, such as auto shop and building classes, and starting General Education Development (GED) testing.

The classes were integrated as a part of the Community Education program.

"When we decided to expand our efforts we looked at welding. There are no welding facilities at DeHoCo but we knew if we could get inmates to Salem we could offer a viable program. When we found out that the inmates were interested we decided to go ahead and use Salem," said Larry Masteller, head of Community Education. "It's been running smoothly ever since."

Two years into the program the district considered moving the class to Central Middle School in Plymouth and offer it during the day, but when word got out local residents vetoed the idea.

According to Masteller, Central was going through a transition and the welding room was unused. "We thought we could get a better response from the inmates if the class was during the day," he said.

After several stormy board meetings the idea was rejected and the class stayed at Salem. This year the inmates are the only students to use Salem's facility.

The class at Salem and those at DeHoCo are funded by money received from the state for having such a program, said Masteller. "This is a self supporting program. If we didn't have them we would lose state money. The welding class has an awfully good record -- it has worked," he said.

"I think we've proved the program," says Director of Treatment at DeHoCo Patrick McAlinden. "If the school district came to us with another program tomorrow we wouldn't be able to start it, we wouldn't have enough students." Most inmates are already enrolled in one or more classes, besides working in other areas of the prison.

McAlinden said a few students drop out of the welding class because they think about getting outside the prison and don't realize the work it takes in the classroom. "Prisoners are taught work habits that they may not have had at all before," McAlinden said.

DANCE, ILLUSIONS AND MIME will be mixed with music at the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's Young People's Concert set for Salem High School on Sunday, Jan. 31, with performances at 2:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. Franz Harary and Company's "Odyssey in Illusion," a locally produced magic show, will be featured along with the orchestra.

Youth concert to mix music with illusions

This year's Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's Young People's Concert, "The Magic of Music," is scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 31, at 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. at Salem High School Auditorium. The program will feature Franz Harary and Company's "Odyssey in Illusion," a locally produced magic show. In addition to the magic show with its elements of dance, illusion and mime, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will be performing selections from Moussorgsky's "Night on Bare Mountain" and Dukas' "The Sorcerer's Apprentice." Pauline Martin, nationally acclaimed pianist, will be the featured guest artist. Tickets will be on sale in all Plymouth-Canton elementary schools on Jan. 19, 20 and 21 in the morning. The price of the ticket is $1. Tickets can also be purchased after Jan. 22 at Beitner's in Plymouth, IV Seasons in Northville and Book break in Canton. The concert is being funded in part by a grant from the Plymouth Rotary Foundation.

Dogs and cats suffer when left in bitter cold

The bitter sub-zero cold of the weekend and the prospects of even more cold weather brought a warning from Dr. Mary Beth Leininger of Plymouth Veterinary Hospital about care of household pets.

"Dogs and cats can get severely frostbitten in weather like this," she said. She urged pet owners to use extreme caution in turning pets, particularly cats, outdoors in cold weather.

Advisory groups ineffective?

system must be developed from the "head end" outward, Canton is among the last areas to receive cable service, but will be put completely on line soon.

Until then, Canton's dilemma is explained in the October minutes of the advisory committee: "The Preview Committee is anxiously awaiting something to preview."

Meanwhile, the committee serving Plymouth and Plymouth Township seems to have a more cooperative relationship with the city, but not necessarily with the township.

City Manager Henry Graper, Jr. says an advisory committee would probably have to have a representative from government because of the licensing authority involved. "How do you separate them?" Graper asks.

Although he says a definition of what the advisory committee should be doing is needed, Graper adds the relationship of the committee to the city is not as political as it is in Canton, where the chief administrator is elected.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen is not as sure governmental cooperation is vital to the advisory committee. "We never saw the need for one," he says flatly. "If the need arises, we will look into it."

Unfortunately, members of current advisory committees are also asking themselves whether or not that need exists.

Graper, chairman of the Plymouth committee, sees its function as more reaction than action. During the last two or three meetings, he explained, committee members mainly talked about types of programming they might have to deal with in the future.

There has not been a meeting of the Plymouth committee in nearly three months (one is scheduled soon), Graper said, although, "There is not a lot to do. It's not as if there are 15 people trying to get on a channel." Most meetings, he said, were spent trying to decide what the committee's function really is.

Charles Miller, chairman of the Canton advisory committee, sounds downright pessimistic about his group's role.

"We thought we'd be an outlet, a focal point for information on cable access and use," Miller says. "For a year and a half we put together a dandy set of bylaws and had some dandy arguments on those bylaws, but we have really done nothing. Frankly, the advisory committee is wasting a lot of time."

The overwhelming feeling among Canton committee members, Miller says, is frustration. "We feel like the unwanted child. The cable company wants nothing to do with us and the township wants nothing to do with us. We're being ignored. It's a pity, because these people are genuinely interested in cable TV in Canton."

Miller also says some of the frustration is apparently caused by a limited committee function. "The only function Omnicom says we have is to advise on the access channel, and they said they'd only call us if they think something is controversial."

"There's nothing for us to do, because nobody asked us to do anything."

NEXT WEEK: A concise history of Omnicom's involvement in The Community and a wrap-up of the series.

Here is a week's local programming

Local programming is certainly one of the most interesting facets of cable television, and two channels in the Omnicom system provide many types of locally originated shows for viewers in The Plymouth-Canton Community.

The week of Jan. 11 to 15, for example, included the following programming for Omni 8 and Video Services Cable 13 (time slots in between scheduled shows were programmed with character generated messages):

tell it to Phyllis

I sometimes wonder if Mr. Bell knew what he was doing when he invented the telephone. I know it's a great form of communication, and there's no way we could live without it. However, I've often thought about what would happen to teenagers if they didn't have a telephone growing out of one ear. Would they be able to survive?

I realize I'm not the only parent in America who has to remind a kid that someone else in the family might want to use the phone. It's funny how a five-minute limit can stretch if someone isn't there to remind them to hang up.

My daughter can spend the whole day with a friend and two minutes after she walks in the house she has to call the same friend to talk about something. As mad as I get at the kid, I can remember doing the exact same thing when I was her age. I can hear myself repeating the same warnings my mother yelled at me, "If you don't get off that phone right now, you won't be allowed to touch it for a week."

It never seems to fail, as soon as I pry the kid loose from the phone, the darn thing rings again, and of course, it's always for her. There are times when I feel like answering the phone, "Debbie's answering service." When an occasional call gets through for someone else in the family, she's disappointed that it's not for her.

Last week the mother of one of Debbie's friends called and she and I talked more than the five-minute limit. Both girls had a fit because we were tying up the phone and they couldn't talk to each other. We even pulled one of their routines of taking the call on the bedroom phone, so we could talk privately.

After hanging up the phone, I couldn't help but laugh at the kid as she stood with her arms crossed demanding to know what we had to talk about that was so private. Wow, what a switch in roles. I must admit, it was fun to be a teenager again for just a few minutes.

Plymouth Library to close for week

The Dunning-Hough Library will be closed from Friday, Jan. 22, through Saturday, Jan. 30, to allow for installation of additional shelving. The new shelving will allow all adult books to be shelved plus additional space for two to four years for future growth.

It will be quite a moving project. Approximately two thirds of the Library's 40,000 books will be moved and rearranged by staff and volunteers.

The book drop at the rear of the building will be open throughout the remodeling period for library patrons to return books and materials.

The library will resume regular hours at 10 a.m. on Monday, Feb. 1.

Hartwig trial may get a postponement

The case of the state versus Ronald Hartwig, 31, accused in the slaying of Plymouth resident Stacey Hurrelbrink last August, may be postponed until next Monday.

According to Asst. to the Prosecutor John Thompson, prosecuting attorney Lewis Gutter threw out his back Monday, putting him out of commission for at least a week.

Thompson said the prosecutors office is in the process of obtaining a postponement until Monday (Jan. 26).

Hartwig's trial started last week. A jury had been selected and the prosecution was in the middle of the testimony of its key witness, Darrelle Payne, when the mishap occurred said Thompson.

Payne is the prosecution's first witness in its presentation of the case.

As of yesterday the postponement had not been confirmed.

February hearing set for Knollwood suit

BY LESA BROOKS DOLL
 Lansing News Bureau

A hearing date has been set in the case of a Canton cemetery that has allegedly incurred what may be the highest debt in Michigan Cemetery history.

Judge Henry J. Szymanski, Wayne County Circuit judge, will hear the case against Knollwood Cemetery, 1299 Ridge Road, Canton, brought by the Michigan Attorney General's office in behalf of the Michigan Cemetery Commission.

The state cemetery commission, the watchdog for cemeteries in the state, has maintained in its accusations against Knollwood Cemetery, that Knollwood may owe up to $260,912 to its perpetual trust fund. By law each cemetery is required to put 15 percent from the sale of each plot into a fund to provide for future upkeep.

Sam Tocco, principal owner of Knollwood, maintains that the cemetery commission figure is not accurate and does not reflect cemetery lot contracts that have been cancelled or turned back. For the past four months Knollwood has been conducting an audit to submit to the court.

If Knollwood loses the February case, the cemetery may be one of only three cemeteries in the state to lose its license, said George Bruce, executive secretary of the Michigan Cemetery Commission.

Bruce said Knollwood was brought before the court in 1979 for incurring a trust fund debt and agreed at that time to comply with the law, but has failed to pay back a fraction of the debt to the trust fund.

"Knollwood never lived up to the agreement it made in court," he said.

"They are keeping the cemetery up now, as far as we know. What we are talking about is down the road 30 or 40 years."

Margaret Wilson, director of Knollwood Cemetery, said she has received no complaints from patrons, and that the 80-acre cemetery "has improved" in the past four months.

"The place . . . is beautiful," she said. "There have been no complaints or any orders that were not fulfilled."

"I don't understand why the state is harrasing us."

Wilson said that the cemetery owner, Tocco, frequently donates cemetery plots to families which cannot buy their own. No money was put in the trust fund for these graves, she said.

"Families that have been hardship cases have had family members buried for nothing," she said. "He couldn't put the money in if he didn't receive it."

Bruce said that if Knollwood loses its license in February, bodies buried in Knollwood will not be moved. He said the state would take over the cemetery and appoint an experienced caretaker for the grounds.

The Knollwood case has been dragging along for months, due in part to lack of funds for staffing which has curtailed a trust fund audit by the state commission. Knollwood officials have been conducting their own audit.

Police warn residents of IRA retirement scam

Plymouth bank and police officials caution local residents to beware of "door-to-door" salesmen peddling Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs).

According to police and officials of the First National Bank of Plymouth, a customer reported that a salesman, who said he was associated with "ITT" and First National, approached a bank customer at his home.

Ken Currie, First National Bank president, said no one connected with the bank would be contacting customers directly trying to sell IRA accounts. "Banks are certainly not going to be going door to door."

"I'm afraid some people might get hurt handing some money over," Currie said. The First National president said the "salesman" might use the names of other financial institutions as well.

Plymouth Police Chief Carl Berry cautioned residents to "always ask to see identification" of salesmen. "They should have some proof that they're who they say they are. They should have a card or something or don't let them into the house."

Berry said his department is investigating the complaint and asked residents who might have been contacted by the IRA salesman to call the Plymouth Police Department at 453-8600.

Canton woman killed in Joy Road car crash

Lynn Marie Love, 32, 6153 Stonetree, Canton, died in a two-car collision 1 a.m. Saturday morning when a car driven by her husband, Howard Love, went into a skid in icy Joy Road 100 feet west of Ronda, crossed over into eastbound Joy and was struck broadside by a car driven by Gregory Lawrence Barnes of Plymouth.

Katherine Pertect of Plymouth, a passenger in the Barnes car, was taken to Oakwood Canton Center with minor injuries by Canton EMT service.

Canton Police report that the accident was triggered by bad road conditions.

P-C winter sports areas are ready ### for sliders, skaters

There are plenty of skating, sliding and cross country ski areas available for use in and around The Plymouth-Canton Community this winter.

Besides Edward Hines Parkway, both Plymouth and Canton Townships have prepared outdoor skating rinks for their residents.

Plymouth Township residents can skate from 8 a.m. to half an hour before dusk seven days a week at the ice rink in Township Park, on Ann Arbor Trail near McClumpha Road.

According to Gene Hood, superintendent of the park, the rink is laid out on the park's retention pond, and can hold over 100 skaters.

Moving along as scheduled is the placement of lights throughout the park area. Hood said the wiring is in and the bases have been poured. When the lights do go up the rink will be open until 8 or 9 p.m. on weekends, said Hood.

The hills of the park are also a good place for local cross country skiers and kids wanting to use their slides.

"By far the biggest use comes from the kids wanting to slide," said Hood.

Canton will have two outdoor ice skating rinks in operation through the rest of this winter.

Open for residents is a rink located directly behind the Township Administration Building on Canton Center Road. Plenty of parking is available in the administration parking lot.

The second rink, at Flodin Park on Saltz Road between killey and Sheldon, is also open for local skaters. Skating is available until dark at both parks.

For those that wish to stay indoors and still enjoy some ice skating there is the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer, with its full size ice arena. Call 455-6620 for open skating information.

Canton Public Library schedules pre-school storytime sessions

The Canton Public Library will be conducting a pre-school storytime for three, four and five-year-olds who can sit attentively for a 30-minute period without parental attendance.

The half-hour program will introduce the children to Caldecott medal-winning books.

Registration begins on Wednesday, Feb. 3, at 7 p.m. in person only. Children must be three years old by the beginning session date and cannot be attending kindergarten. Children who attended the fall storytime will be eligible for registration on Thursday, Feb. 4, at 10 a.m. in person or by phone.

Five different classes will be offered, each lasting for a six-weeks period. Tuesday sessions will begin on Feb. 16 at either 10:30 a.m. or 11:30 a.m. Beginning on Wednesday, Feb. 17 classes will be held at 10:30 a.m. or at 1 p.m. An afternoon session will be offered at 1 p.m. on Thursdays beginning on Feb. 18.

Registration for the spring sessions of pre-school storytime will be on Tuesday, April 6, at 7 p.m. in person only.

Girl Scouts gear up for annual cookie drive

Girl Scout and Brownie Troops in the Plymouth-Canton Community are gearing up for the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

The sale will be conducted from Jan. 22 through Feb. 12 with Girl Scouts and Brownies making their annual door to door trek taking orders.

Girl Scout cookies have become a great American tradition. This tradition is the financial backbone for providing the Girl Scout program to over 10,000 girls in Western Wayne, Washtenaw, Livingston and Monroe Counties.

The sale does more than sell cookies. It provides the community an opportunity to meet and learn more about Girl Scouts. The sale also offers the girls a meaningful form of service for the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council and for their own troop.

The troop bonus on each box sold enables the girls to cover the cost of troop programs.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council recently gathered to start drumming up enthusiasm for the cookie sale drive with a Clown Day.

PUTTING ON A HAPPY FACE is serious business for Eileen Malley (left), of Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 216 of Plymouth. She's getting a makeup job from Happy, the Clown, at a recent Huron Valley Girl Scout Council clown jamboree which was used to drum up enthusiasm for the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale which will run from Jan. 22 to Feb. 12.

Industrial coordinator search starts in Canton

BY DICK BROWN

Canton Trustee Bob Padget moved the Canton Township Board off dead center Jan. 12 in his ongoing efforts to hire a Canton industrial coordinator.

The township board approved going ahead with screening the 20 applicants for the job already on hand.

Padget has been pushing for the new position to coordinate activities in bringing new business and industry to Canton Township. The 1982 budget included funds for the position and authorization for seeking applicants was approved by the board several months ago, but the selection process was put on hold.

At last week's meeting Padget moved that a five-member selection committee be named to narrow the field of applicants down to three candidates to be presented to the board.

The motion passed 5-2 with Supervisor Jim Poole and Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz voting disapproval.

The special screening committee will include Trustees Bob Padget and Steve Larson, Finance Director Mike Gorman, Personnel Director Dan Durack and a member of the Canton Economic Development Corporation (EDC).

In urging that the township go ahead with the industrial development coordinator, Padget said, "We need to create a program for industrial development.

We don't have any central leadership."

He called the present township approach to industry "disorganized."

Padget was supported by Larson who said, "You don't get business by hoping business comes to you."

During the discussion Falkiewicz urged that the industrial coordinator job be combined with the responsibilities of a township assessor. She got little support for that idea.

Canton has industrial development plans in various stages of completion. The Dye Brothers property south of Michigan Avenue owned by the township is one area. The township also owns industrially-zoned property on Haggerty Road. Key to the development of the Haggerty road land is the road improvements to Haggerty Road, a project the board has in the works.

At Tuesday's meeting business and industrial development along Michigan Avenue was offered as a prime location.

Supervisor Poole expressed his opinion that he isn't convinced that Canton needs to hire an industrial coordinator and having one would be "premature."

Padget countered that a trained industrial co-ordinator was necessary to provide the planning, the leadership and the organization to bring much needed industrial and business tax base and employment opportunities to Canton township.

City-Township police contract talks to start

BY KEN VOYLES

The joint police contract between Plymouth and Plymouth Township is up in the first week of February and plans are already underway to renegotiate.

According to Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper Jr., official negotiations will begin the final week of January.

"Right now we're in the process of reviewing all the material relevant to the contract and sending that material back and forth between the city and township," Graper said yesterday.

Graper added the two parties will work toward a three year contract, because the cost of operating a force the size of Plymouth's -20 officers strong - will increase every year.

Graper did not go into detail on such a three year contract, but said, "Any additions to the force would have to be borne by the township." He added the city could operate a force of 13 officers if it wasn't involved in the township.

In the original contract the township agreed to pay approximately $270,000, or roughly $26,000 monthly. The city has also billed the township during this past year for additional costs to the tune of $50,000, according to Graper.

"From our end we want to make sure we're doing what the township wants in terms of service. We are reasonably sure we're meeting our goals in that area," Graper said. "Our costs are not illogical costs and I think the township has recognized that."

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen was unavailable for comment on the pending contract.

In a related note the Wayne County Board of Commissioners approved the signing of two contracts to bring back 40 Wayne County Sheriffs Deputies for patrol. One contract is with the state and will be paid for by the state. Seventeen deputies will be assigned secondary roads and the county's various parks.

The second contract is with Metropolitan Airport where 23 deputies will put into service.

USCG Auxiliary plans classes for boaters

Coast Guard Auxiliary boating classes are scheduled for Western Wayne County boaters this winter.

Among the 13-week sessions on the schedule are one at Schoolcraft College on Tuesday nights beginning Feb. 2; Holmes Junior High School in Livonia on Wednesdays beginning Jan. 27, and Cambridge Junior High School in Garden City beginning Feb. 11.

CEP orientation set for oncoming sophomores

Plymouth-Canton ninth graders who will be attending the tenth grade at CEP the next school year have been invited, along with their parents, to a high school orientation program.

The programs will be held at Canton High School at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 2 and at Salem High School at Salem High School on Wednesday, Feb. 3.

Prospective students should attend the program at the school to which they have been assigned. However, according to Principal Kent Buikema, if it is not possible to attend the session in the school to which students have been assigned, they may attend the other high school orientation session.

The evening's agenda will provide an opportunity for the students and parents to interact with high school counselors, to ask questions of teachers in various departments and to tour the buildings.

The orientation sessions are important, according to Buikema as students will be selecting their high school classes in the weeks immediately following the orientation sessions.

community births

Patten

Better late than never -- contrary to an earlier report published in The Crier, the newest baby in The Plymouth-Canton Community for 1982 is apparently Kerry Lynn Patten, born Jan. 2 at 1:48 a.m. at Providence Hospital, weighing seven pounds, four ounces.

Kerry is the daughter of Patrick and Maryanne Patten of Canton, and the grandchild of Mary and Russell Bailey of Southfield and Joseph Patten of Westland.

Kerry also has a sister, Marianne, eight years old.

Giesler

Keith and Cheryl Giesler, Plymouth, are the parents of a son, Keith Anthony, born Jan. 12 at St. Joseph Hospital. He weighed eight pounds, two ounces.

Grandparents are Beverly Signorelli of Plymouth, Joseph Signorelli of Canton, Yvonne Conley of Manchester and Ralph Giesler of Detroit. Great-grandparents are Loren Goodales of Grayling and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Signorelli of Plymouth.

Gracy

Alissa Jane Gracy was born Jan. 5 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, weighing eight pounds, four and one-quarter ounces.

She is the daughter of David and Barbara Gracy of Plymouth, and the grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gracy of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Diadiun of Wayne.

Haab's ★★★★★

My personal favorite. This forty-seven-year-old Ypsilanti mainstay serves a one-pound New York strip that is awesome both in quality and price ($11.95). It's served with hand-cut shoestring potatoes that are absurdly delicious. A good salad or fine-chopped coleslaw with a clear dressing is another buck or so. The Colombian coffee is fresh-brewed from whole beans, and the steaks are cooked over charcoal. Food is served generously -- a fresh loaf of bread, pots of butter, a big dish of sour cream for baked potatoes, and despite our arrival at six o'clock the evening of the University of Michigan/Ohio State game, the service was serene. All of this is packaged amid lots of beams, fruit-and-flower wallpaper, dark wood wainscoting and Tiffany style lamps that are better than most. This is the kind of place where the bottles of Lawry seasoned salt and pepper have Haab's picture and logo on the other side of the label just above the list of ingredients. There's a New York-style cheesecake with strawberries, if you want to end it all with a caloric bang.

Salem wrestlers 2nd at N. Farmington tourney

BY KEN VOYLES

Salem High men's wrestlers scored a fourth second place finish in invitational competition as they were runners up at the North Farmington Invite Saturday.

The Rocks scored 153 points behind first place Wayne Memorial, 163.5 points. Milford was third. Eight other teams completed in the event.

"We put seven wrestlers in the finals and beat Wayne head-to-head. I think when we put a team on the mats we'll be as tough as any team around," said Salem coach Ron Krueger. "We're getting better each week. The kids did a good job we just didn't have enough animals out there."

Salem's Marty Piper won the heavyweight division with a pin at 3:02 over Richardson of Walled Lake Western. Piper won three matches on Saturday.

John Beaudoin captured the 138-pound class with a win over Denny of Farmington, 8-2. He also pinned two other foes.

At 145 pounds Salem's Bruce Bachman defeated Cotter of North Farmington, 12-7, to win that weight. Bachman also had two other wins that day.

Scott Wickens was the other Salem first place finisher. He beat Nesbitt of Wayne Memorial, 5-0, for first at 185 pounds. Wickens also knocked off two other opponents by pins.

Randy Beaudoin finished second at 155 pounds for Salem. He lost to Petrillo of West Bloomfield, 1-0, in the finals of his weight. Beaudoin also pinned two other foes at the meet.

John Wochuck finished second for Salem at 167 pounds. He fell to Buttazzoni of Walled Lake, 6-2. Earlier he defeated two opponents.

At 198 pounds Salem's Tom Walkley lost in the finals to Russo of Milford, 2-0, for second place. Walkley defeated a Wayne wrestler earlier in the day.

Rob McDonald, at 132 pounds, finished third for Salem after he fell to Pollands of Detroit Country Day, 2-0 in the consolation finals.

Rick Vershave, at 100 pounds, lost his first two matches for the Rocks, while Bill Hall at 105 won his first match and dropped his next two.

John Jeannotte, at 119 pounds, won his preliminary to the preliminaries match over Magoros of North Farmington but then lost to his next two, while Craig Catalo, at 126 pounds lost his first match, won his first consolation match before falling to Millitlo of Walled Lake in his next match.

Earlier in the week the Rocks captured two out of three wins in a triple dual. Salem defeated Walled Lake Western, 47-18, and Southfield Lathrup, 51-21. The Rocks fell to Milford, 30-29. According to Krueger the Rocks wrestled short six starters that day.

Salem will next face league foe Dearborn tomorrow night starting at 6:30 p.m. at home. On Saturday, the squad will compete in the Monroe Invitational.

Chief swimmers continue league domination

BY DAVID CAELAHAN

As the competition fades in the Western Six League, Canton High's men's swim team has to look for other goals to set.

The Chiefs continued their annual domination of the Western Six on Thursday, as they picked up their 25th consecutive conference victory beating Northville, 125-46. Canton scored first place in every event, despite changing its line-up around.

"This is really an off year for Northville," said Canton coach Bill McCord. "They just don't have the depth."

McCord said that with Redford Thurston and Western Six dual meets left, his team, now 4-2 in dual meets, shouldn't have too much competition. "We shouldn't be challenged in duals," said McCord, "which is a problem, since we could use the competition."

McCord also added that the Chiefs will start to look towards the state meet. "We will have to shoot for times," he said, adding, "we have a lot of people close to qualifying for the state meet."

Canton began the meet by sweeping the 200-yard relay. The Chiefs foursome of Bob Simrak, John Simone, Jim Luce and Ron Hurley were first, clocking

1:49.43. Canton's other quartet, Bob Lewelling, John Luce, Joe Gibbons and Glen Plagens, was second with a time of 1:55.5.

Canton continued its series of sweeps by taking first, second, and third, in the 200-yard freestyle. Pete Stern captured first with a time of 1:56.2, while Scott Simmons was second, clocking 2:00. Matt Krawzak finished third in 2:07.2.

The Chiefs' Simone, Simmons and Greg Schnurstein captured first, second and third, respectively, in the 200-yard individual medley. Simone clocked 2:10.1, Simmons, 2:25.0, and Schnurstein, 2:31.7.

Stern led the Chiefs in the 100-yard butterfly, scoring first with a time of 56.2 seconds. Pete Sickels was second, 1:02.0, while Joe Gibbons finished third, 1:03.5.

Hurley paced Canton to a sweep of the 100-yard backstroke, with a first place time of 1:04.1. Sickels was second with a time of 1:07.0, with Lewelling third, clocking 1:08.2

Canton scored first and third in the 50-yard freestyle, as Hurley clocked 23.9 seconds, good for first. Simrak finished third, clocking 24.8 seconds.

Canton had 1-2 finishes in two events, the 100-yard breaststroke and the 500-yard freestyle.

In the breaststroke, Simone finished first, 1:06.5, while Jim Luce was second, 1:08.3. In the freestyle, Simmons won, clocking 5:26.2, while Krawzak finished second, with a time of 5:58.5.

Canton also had a 1-2 finish in a relay, as the 400-yard medley relay squads garnered the first two places. Clocking 3:38, the squad of Stern, Simmons, Sickels, and Gibbons, took first, while the foursome of Plagens, Schnurstein, Krawzak, and Rupprecht finished second, clocking 4:09.

Lone firsts for the Chiefs came in the 100-yard freestyle, where Simrak clocked 53.7 seconds to win, and the diving competition. Jerry Fleischer scored 188.05 points for the victory.

Canton, now 1-0 in its conference, swims again tomorrow, when it swims league foe Livonia Churchill. The meet is at Phase III and will begin at 7 p.m.

Chief cagers falter after leading

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

For a rookie coach, a 1-8 start has to be a frustrating experience.

But Dave VanWagoner, Canton High's first-year basketball coach has remained optimistic about his team. Even Friday after the Chiefs dropped a 51-47 decision to Western Six League foe Northville High, VanWagoner was still able to look at the bright side of things.

"We beat them in every quarter except for the third," said VanWagoner, whose Chiefs were outscored 22-6 in the third period. "In the third quarter, we just went ice cold from the floor and the line. We didn't get the job done defensively."

biggest of the evening.

Then Canton fell apart. For almost five minutes, the Chiefs were unable to put any more points on the board. Meanwhile, the Mustangs were rolling off a streak of 10 consecutive points, taking a 25-24 lead.

After Thomas sank two free throws to regain the Canton lead, Northville scored four more points and never looked back, as Canton never got closer than three. Northville led, 37-28, at the end of the third quarter.

In the final period, the Chiefs were unable to capitalize on several Mustang errors. Thomas scored a three point play to pull Canton to within three, but Northville scored the next six to put the game on ice.

Thomas and Tuttle led the Chiefs with 11 points each. Northville's Carl Lang led all scorers with 14, while teammate Jim McLaughlin added 11.

The Chiefs junior varsity fared better than the varsity did. Led by Mark Bennett, who scored 14 points, the Chiefs defeated Northville, 41-36, and in doing so, raised their season record to 5-4.

Canton's next game is Friday, when it faces Livonia Churchill at home in another conference battle.

Chief gymnasts

Despite the loss of its key gymnast to illness, Canton High's women's gymnastics squad managed to squeak out a 99.95-97.6 triumph over Walled Lake Central, Monday.

"We sweated it out the whole way," said Canton coach John Cunningham, whose team was without Laura Michalik.

In her absence, the Chiefs were led by Linda Beale and Amy Albaugh. Beale won firsts on the parallel bars, and in the floor exercise, to take the overall title, while Albaugh finished first in the vault to take second place overall.

Saturday, the Chiefs competed in the Dearborn invitational, finishing ninth out of 17 teams. Michalik finished 19th out of 68 competitors, while Beale was 20th. Albaugh finished fifth on the bars.

Canton travels to North Farmington tonight, to take on the winners of the Dearborn Invitational. "I think it will be relatively close," said Cunningham. The meet begins at 7 p.m.

Rock spikers

After having its first scheduled match cancelled, Salem High's women's volleyball team dropped its season opener Monday. The Rocks spikers dropped a Suburban Eight League contest, losing to Dearborn High in two matches, 15-4 and 15-6.

"Dearborn was 2-0 coming into the meet, and they executed at the net very well," said Salem coach Jeanne Martin. "Our only problem was that we couldn't get our serve up. We played well at the net, but we lost all our points on service."

Martin credited Lisa Granger and Kelly Tucker as the teams top setters, while Carol Ross was the key hitter.

The Rocks play their next match tonight, when they face conference foe Belleville High. "They shouldn't be too tough," said Martin, "but they won't be pushovers either." The Salem-Belleville clash will begin at 7 p.m.

Both teams played an extremely slow opening period, scoring only 10 total points. Ron Rienas, Matt Thomas, and Tommy Harris scored for the Chiefs to give them a 6-4 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Chiefs continued to play scrappily in the second period, as the two squads exchanged the lead several times. Rienas and Steve Tuttle both put in four points in the final minutes of the half to propel the Chiefs to a 22-15 lead at the intermission.

In the opening seconds of the second half, Rienas hit a seven-footer to give the Chiefs a nine-point lead at 24-15, their

Salem cagers up league record to 5-0 with win over Dearborn High

Salem High's men's basketball squad upped its record to 7-2 overall and 5-0 in the Suburban Eight League with a 54-45 thrashing of conference foe Dearborn High Friday night.

"We played 28 minutes of basketball that was as good as we've played all year," said Salem coach Fred Thomann.

"We handled their defense, found the open pass, and got the rebounds when we needed them. We took a lot of perimeter shots -- we're just now getting the opportunity to shot. As this club continues the season we're going to see a continued growth every week."

Mike McBride paced the Rocks against Dearborn dumping in 18 points, while Dave Miller added 19 points. Dave Houle scored eight points and John Cohen had five.

The Rocks worked their way to an 8-6 lead at the end of the first quarter then held on in a close second quarter to lead, 20-18, at the halftime.

In the third quarter Salem took control of the game. The Rocks scored 17 points while holding Dearborn's Pioneers to eight. McBride had five points in the period.

Salem went up by 20 points at the 5:45 mark of the fourth quarter, 47-27, which cont. on pg. 28

Canton grapplers 4th at Clarkston Invitational, win 3 dual meets

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

Last week proved a successful one for Canton High's wrestling team, as the Chiefs won three dual meets and placed fourth at the Clarkston Invitational.

Canton coach Dan Chrenko, whose squad traveled to Clarkston on Saturday, said "We had a good day, but we ran into some really good teams. If we would have had another kid or two in the finals, we might have made it close."

Warren Lincoln High, the second ranked team in the state, finished first, with 146 points. Host Clarkston High, ranked 10th, finished second with 133.5 points, while Fenton High was third with 128.5. Canton scored 106.5 points.

After the Chiefs came Trenton High, Grand Blanc High, and Walled Lake Central. Frazier High, scheduled to compete, was not able to make it to the meet due to the inclement weather.

Canton had a lone tournament champion, Todd Gattoni, at 100 pounds. Gattoni beat Greg Ellis of Clarkston, 5-0, in the finals. On his way to the title, Gattoni beat Zeller of Fenton, 8-0, and Trandell, of Walled Lake, 5-4.

"I'm really proud of Todd," said Chrenko, "he has established himself as one of the best wrestlers in the area at 100 pounds."

Second place finishers for the Chiefs were Todd Bartlett, Brett Haarala, and Steve Hamblin.

Bartlett had an early bye, then beat Budziak of Trenton, 5-0, before losing to Steve Kern of Warren Lincoln, 9-8, in their championship match at 107 pounds.

Haarala upped his record to 18-9 before he was pinned by Miracle of Clarkston in the final match at 140 pounds.

Hamblin lost his final match to Bobchick of Trenton, one of only two wrestlers who have defeated Hamblin in the 147 pound weight class this season.

Marty Heaton and Kevin Decker were third place finishers for the Chiefs. At 128 pounds, Decker lost to Lawrence of Clarkston before coming back to beat Kidder of Clarkston in the consolation finals by a score of 13-0.

In his final match, Heaton defeated Kerley of Trenton by a pin 3:45 into their match, at the 157 pound weight class.

Fourth place finishers for the Chiefs included Tim Collins, Brian Lee, and Paul Fletcher.

At 121 pounds, Collins lost to Regan Goines of Walled Lake in the consolation finals. Before that match, he had beaten Belars of Grand Blanc and Polaner of Trenton.

At 134 pounds, Lee lost to Owens of Clarkston after beating Bobchick of Trenton and Nichols of Fenton to earn his place in the consolation finals.

Fletcher had a bye before falling in his consolation match.

On Thursday, the Chiefs defeated Western Six League foe Northville High, 42-26, in a dual meet at Canton.

Earlier in the week, Canton won both ends of a double dual meet, beating Clarenceville High, 55-18, and defeating Garden City West 47-15.

With the three dual meet wins, the Chiefs now sport an 8-2 overall dual meet record, with a 2-0 Western Six record.

The Chiefs wrestle again tomorrow, when they face Livonia Churchill in a conference clash. The meet is at Phase III, and begins at 6:30 with junior varsity action.

Local skaters shine at Midwesterns

The Plymouth-Canton Community was well represented at the Midwestern Figure Skating Championships, held Jan. 5-9, at the St. Clair Shores Civic Arena. Over 150 skaters competed.

Deveny Deck, 14, of Plymouth, and her partner, Kevin Poit of Lapeer, finished second in the Novice Pair Skating. To qualify for the Midwesterns, the pair had finished second at the Eastern Great Lakes Regionals. Deveny attends Central Middle School, where she is in eighth grade.

The other community representative was Gwen Cirbes, 11, of Plymouth Township. Cirbes, who attends Farrand Elementary School, and is in sixth grade, finished third at the Midwesterns in the Intermediate Ladies class. She also finished third at the Eastern Regionals, in order to qualify.

Both girls are members of the Plymouth Figure Skating Club, while Deck is also a member of Detroit Skating Club.

Both girls will appear in the Super Bowl WinterFest, along with figure skater Jo Jo Starbuck, at Pine Knob, to be held Saturday, from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Canton spikers up record to 2-1

Canton High's women's volleyball team raised its record to 2-1 with a victory over Redford Thurston Monday, and a win against Western Six League rival Northville High last Wednesday.

The Chiefs needed only two game to defeat Thurston, 15-12 and 15-8, while they knocked off the Northville Mustangs in three games, 12-15, 15-5 and 15-8.

"Thurston was an excellent defensive team," said Canton coach Cyndi Burnstein, "but we worked very well together.

We struggled for every point."

Burnstein said that setters Debbie Dickinson and Polly Roberts played an important role in the Canton victory against Thurston.

Canton plays again tonight, when it travels to Livonia Churchill to face the Chargers. "Churchill should be good," said Burnstein, "We always have a struggle with them, and I don't think that we have ever beaten them at home."

The Canton-Churchill match will begin at 7 p.m.

Rock tankers 5-0 in duals

Salem High men's swimmers continue to win dual meets, almost easily. The squad's latest triumph came on Thursday, as the Rocks dumped Redford Thurston, 108-64, in a non-league competition.

The Rocks are now 5-0 overall in dual meet competition. Salem will swim league foe Dearborn tomorrow at Dearborn. Meet time is 7 p.m.

"Dearborn will be a tough meet. We'd like to keep the winning streak going. Thursday is big meet for us, if we swim well and take the drops in times where we need them we can have a good meet," said Salem coach Chuck Olson.

As for the Thurston meet, Olson thought his squad had another good meet. The Rocks scored five first places in the dual.

Salem's foursome of Paul Neschich, Ashley Long, Jeff Kleinsmith and Tim Harwood clocked 1:48 for second place in the 200-yard medley relay, while Bob Bowling, Tim Ahlgren, Scott Anderson and Jeff Walker clocked 1:59 for third place.

Russ Shaffer was second in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 1:58.4, while John Thompson was third, 1:59.2.

Harwood finished second in the 200-yard individual medley with an effort of 2:14.1, while Mark Roehrig was third with a time of 2:15.1.

Long finished second in the 50-yard freestyle for the Rocks finishing in 25 seconds.

Salem's Joe Rudelic was first in the diving competition with 239.5 points, while John Henry was second, 158.1 points and Todd Riedel was third, 154.5.

Roehrig won the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 59 seconds, while Harwood was second, 59.8 seconds.

Eric Kleinsmith finished second in the 100-yard freestyle for Salem with a time of 53.7 seconds, while Walker was third, 59.6 seconds.

Thompson won the 500-yard freestyle with an effort of 5:23.8. Jeff Kleinsmith was second with a time of 5:33.7.

Shaffer finished second in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:01.5 and Anderson was third, 1:06.9.

Long won the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:08.1 and Ahlgren was third, 1:14.6.

The quartet of Roehrig, Jeff Kleinsmith, Neschich and Bowling clocked 3:36.8 to win the 400-yard freestyle relay. Thompson, Eric Kleinsmith, Anderson and Scott Stinebaugh clocked 3:40.3 for second in the relay race.

Salem gymnasts drop opener

Salem High's women's gymnastics team opened its season last Wednesday losing to non-league opponent Ypsilanti 117.95 to 68.75.

"The competition was really stiff," said Salem coach Kathy Kinsella. "Ypsilanti scored first through sixth in everything but the parallel bars. I'd have to say we did as well as I thought we would in our first meet."

"I'm not that concerned with winning at this stage of the season," Kinsella continued, "but I want the girls to get better with each meet."

The Rocks' lone scoring place came when Sarah Rubadue scored 6.45 on the parallel bars for fifth place.

Salem was unable to fill the four events with six people, said Kinsella. The Rocks had four gymnasts in two events and five in the two others, while Ypsilanti had six in each event.

Salem's next competition is tonight at home against Suburban Eight League foe Dearborn. Competition starts at 7 p.m.

Groundhog's softball

Canton's 3rd Annual Groundhogs Day Softball Classic is fast approaching.

Last year 12 teams battled the snow and wind in the area's most unusual softball tournament. On Jan. 30, of 1982, 12 more teams will square off for the classic to be held at Griffin Park.

Cost is $25 for team registration. The tournament is played only in winter conditions and will only be canceled by good weather.

Salem basketball

gave Thomann a chance to use his bench freely. Dearborn didn't give up, however, and closed to 49-39 at 1:10. Thomann brought back in several of his starters and the game was locked away.

Earlier in the week the Rocks dumped league foe Allen Park, 54-40.

Salem will travel to Fordson Friday night for a non-league game. Game time is 6 p.m for JV and 7:30 p.m. for varsity.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING TUESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1982

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Breen at 7:35 p.m. followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All members were present after Lynch and Pruner arrived ten minutes late.

Mrs. Fidge suggested the following addition to the December 15th, 1981 minutes after line 8, page 2: "Mr. Breen appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Lee Fidge and Joseph West to be assisted by Mr. Bokos which was to return with recommendations on golf cart revenues at the next meeting of the Board of Trustees."

Under Solid Waste Disposal same page eliminate paragraph 2. Insert "Mr. Law moved the Administration draft specifications for a single solid waste contractor for collection of solid waste from single family residences. Said specifications are to be approved by the Board of Trustees who will establish a bid date. Supported by Mrs. Lynch."

On page 5, item 6, line 5-strike "only" so that the line reads "informational purposes with no deliberations."

Mr. West moved that the minutes of the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth regular meeting of December 15, 1981 be approved as amended. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Mrs. Hulsing requested the following items be added to the agenda: Under New Business: 3. Lee Fidge, Trustee, Re: Conference on Solid and Hazardous Waste Management, Friday, February 5, 1982; 9. Bureau of Taxation, RE: 1982 Studies; 10. Donald and Mary Gregory, Re: Residential Garbage Disposal; 11. Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority, Re: Cost Reductions and Contingency Plan; 12. Plymouth Community Family "Y"; Re: Networking; 13. House Bill 5144, Re: Assessment; 14. Rouge River Watershed Council, Re: Meeting to be held on Wednesday, January 20, 1982 at the Northville Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile Road at 10:00 a.m.; 15. Roy Smith, House of Representatives, 52nd District, Re: Group Homes.

Mrs. Fidge moved approval of the agenda with the additions submitted. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mrs. Lynch and Mr. Pruner arrived at this time.

Mrs. Fidge presented the report of the Committee on golf cart revenues and the results of discussions with Mr. Jawor and his attorney, Mr. Burke.

The committee recommended that it was to be understood that Hilltop purchase/supply golf carts and assume liability for repairs, maintenance, insurance, recharging and/or refueling, and renting and installation of necessary electrical facilities.

Mrs. Fidge moved to accept the recommendation and approve the following settlement: (1) that Mr. Jawor pay to the Charter Township of Plymouth from the revenues derived from the use of golf carts the sum of $5,500.00 per year for a period of five (5) years with revenues of $2,750.00 to be payable July 1st and $2,750.00 December 1st of each year commencing on July 1st, 1982. (2) That at the conclusion of five (5) years the parties will renegotiate this understanding relative to golf cart revenues without affecting the terms of the existing lease agreement and addendum thereto covering the Hilltop Golf Course. (3) The parties will enter into a written agreement to be approved by counsel for the parties. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mr. Tkacz presented a plan for establishing a glass enclosed vestibule between the two wings of the Township Hall. These were passed out to the Board at this time. The following bids were submitted: Plymouth Glass $1,840.00; Henderson Glass No bid; Redford Glass $2,438.00; Huron Valley Glass $2,070.00.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that the architect be authorized to proceed with the construction of a vestibule by adding aluminum and glass doors thus enclosing a vestibule between the East and West wings of the Township Hall and to award the work to the lowest bidder, Plymouth Glass, in the amount of $1,840.00. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mr. Law moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth approve the Tramp Hollow Sanitary Sewer Repair final change order as presented by the Township Engineer which will increase the contract in the amount of $463.96 making the total contract $16,113.96. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Mr. Law moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth accept the recommendation of the Township Engineer for final acceptance of the project. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Ayes all.

Mr. West moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth approve the Final Change Order for the North Territorial Valve Pit Modifications which increases the contract by $75.00 making the new contract total $7,525.00 and authorize the Supervisor and the Clerk to sign and also finally accept the project as recommended by the Township Engineer. Supported by Mr. Law. Ayes all.

Mrs. Fidge moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth approve the Special Compensation for non-represented employees as recommended by the Supervisor of $.65 per actual hours worked for the last quarter October 1st, 1981 through December 31st, 1981. Supported by Mr. West. Roll Call: Ayes: Lynch, West, Hulsing, Fidge, Law, Pruner, Breen. Nays: None. Motion passed.

Mrs. Fidge moved to recommend that the discussion amongst Clayton Miller and various Board Members relative to filling the vacancy in the fire department and the copy of the letter submitted to the Board by Mr. Miller be put into Mr. Miller's personnel file. Supported by Mrs. Lynch. Roll Call: Ayes: Lynch, West, Law, Fidge, Breen. Nays: Hulsing, Pruner. Motion passed 5-2.

Mr. West moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth accept the recommendation of the Supervisor and postpone for one month the consideration of the administration of dust palliative to Township streets.

Mrs. Lynch moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth conform to the requirements of the enrolled House Bill 5044, and further moved that the Township Board commit itself to a reduction of the levied millage of this Township of 1983, about 22%; hopefully this will absorb the increased costs that the tax payers have incurred over the last two years. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Ayes all.

Mr. Breen explained to the Board the analysis of the bill. Essentially it requires that the Township tax rate must be reduced in the same proportion that the State Equalized Value of the Township exceeds the locally assessed value of the Township. If Plymouth Township refused to reassess the Township would lose 50% of its revenue but the schools and county would not be affected.

Mrs. Fidge moved to authorize the Supervisor to authorize the Township of Plymouth's appraisers to contract the assessors of the Bureau of Taxation of Wayne County to do all the necessary work to comply with House Bill 5044 and to post the necessary notices and mailing to owners of property. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Ayes all.

Mrs. Fidge recommended that Mrs. Fidge, Mr. Hollis and Mr. Groth attend the Conference on Solid and Hazardous Waste Management on February 5, 1982. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that the items under Communications-Resolutions-Reports one through fifteen be received and filed. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mrs. Lynch moved that the meeting be adjourned at 8:31 p.m. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Approved,
Maurice Breen, Supervisor

Respectfully submitted,
Esther Hulsing, Clerk

These minutes are a synopsis, official minutes are on file in the Clerk's Office.
