Twp. trustees agree to pass on Detroit utility hikes

Plymouth Township Board of Trustees passed a resolution last Tuesday increasing both the water and sewer rates for residents.

The new rate increase is due to an across the board water and sewer cost increase by the Detroit water system. The increase is 10 percent for water and four percent for sewer service.

unanimously by the board, will be from 72 cents for water to 83 cents (per 1,000 gallons used) and from 69 cents for sewer service to 73 cents. The rates will be effective Jan. 1.

The other reason for the increase will be the fact that the water and sewer systems are working unpaid, according to Township Supervisor Alvin Peterson.

Knollwood faces new court action

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Knollwood Cemetery in Canton faces revocation of its license and being placed in receivership because its owner has ignored court orders to produce financial statements.

Sam Tocco, owner of the cemetery, was ordered by Wayne County Circuit Court to produce an audited financial statement to back his claims that the State of Michigan Cemetery Commission was wrong in alleging the cemetery was more than $300,000 short in required trust funds.

The audit due date was postponed at the request of Tocco's attorneys until March 5. It still has not been filed.

Elliott Perlman, attorney for Tocco and the cemetery, said Tuesday that the audit was nearly ready. "The book keeping aspects of the audit have been completed. I'm somewhat surprised that I haven't received it already."

Tocco's attorney admitted the audit showed "there is an arrearage in the trust funds."

Perlman said the audit would be filed in court soon and criticized the state. "All efforts to get them to cooperate in the conduct of the audit have failed," he said.

But state officials disagreed.

On Monday "we still haven't heard a word (on the audit)," said George Bruce from the Michigan Dept. of Licensing and Regulation.

"I've got to take some action," said Ron Styka, assistant attorney general, indicating that he would ask for license revocation and receivership. The state has threatened Knollwood with that action since 1974 when it first alleged the cemetery was not properly depositing money into its merchandise and endowed care trust funds.

Styka said he will approach Wayne County Circuit Judge Henry J. Szymanski to take action.

Szymanski is not the first Wayne County circuit judge to weigh Knollwood's problems. In September, 1979 Judge John O'Hair ordered a consent judgment in which Tocco agreed to begin repaying the trust fund shortages. The state says those repayments have never been made.

According to the latest state allegations, Knollwood is $211,986.96 short in its merchandise trust fund and $61,981.83 short in its endowed care fund.

Perlman said that because Knollwood was paying for the paid merchandise and care services, the state's allegations are unfounded.

problem," Perlman said. "It's not a question of the place going out of business."

Tocco's attorney said there have never been any complaints against Knollwood for its service.

Canton man dies in auto-truck wreck on I-275

A Canton man was killed late Sunday night when he rammed the back of a semi truck on I-275.

State Police say Charles Lee Bartels, 35, of Canton, was southbound in a 1975 Chevrolet in the middle lane of I-275 just north of Plymouth Road, when according to witnesses he pulled into the right lane to pass. State Police say two witnesses estimated Bartels' speed at from 70 to 75 miles per hour when he struck the rear of a semi driven by Gary Lawrence, 29, of New Boston. Witnesses also said Bartels did not attempt to brake before the impact.

State Police say Lawrence had previously pulled the truck over for repairs, but was back onto the expressway and accelerating with his four-way flashers on when he was struck by Bartels. Police say witnesses estimated the truck's speed at just below 45 miles per hour when the accident occurred.

Bartels was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Mary Hospital.

An investigation is continuing.

Police-Fire consolidation debated in Canton

BY DAN BODENE

Although a March 31 public hearing in Canton dealt with a possible police-fire departmental consolidation, most of the discussion centered around fire protection — police spokesmen issued no statements.

The hearing was opened by Supervisor James Poole, who said that he would not support any recommendation that would diminish police and fire capability in Canton.

On hand at the hearing were Glenford Leonard, Public Safety Director of Oak Park and Robert Deadman, City Manager of Farmington, who compiled a feasibility study on the police and fire consolidation.

Also attending was David McCormick, a Washington, D.C.-based safety and fire protection consultant.

Leonard outlined the details of the study, which concluded that a consolidation was feasible. He said several factors were taken into account, such as resources, service demands, growth, equipment, training plans, manpower and a plan for later returning to the traditional separation of departments.

Leonard said his proposal for combining the departments would take two years, and would "require sound, solid knowledge of the concept and dedication by the Board of Trustees."

McCormick, a former superintendent of the National Fire Academy, disagreed with the assessment of the feasibility study.

He said the concept of a consolidated department is used in less than one per cent of municipalities across the U.S. "It is difficult to administer, has a corrosive impact on service, and has been proven ineffective, inefficient and costly," he added.

He said although 98 per cent of fires in any community "can be extinguished by a firefighter on roller skates with a full bladder," the nature of most fires is also uncertain and departments should have the capability to extinguish one in at least a 2,000 square foot building. "This is impossible for an officer in a squad car," he added.

McCormick also said the question of emergency medical response was not adequately addressed in the study.

Asked what the extra costs of a consolidation would be, Leonard replied that in the case of Canton, another $340,000 would be needed initially to hire 12 more personnel.

The benefits, he said, would be "a better (officer) with better morale, highly qualified and better trained." A Public Safety Department would provide instant service, more complete emergency response and a more efficient chain of command at the scene of an incident, Leonard said.

Responding to a question on failures of the consolidated system, Leonard said, "The same failures of police and fire departments are glossed over every day."

Proposed salaries for Public Safety officers, if a consolidation occurred, was a frequently-asked question. Both Leonard and Poole said that salaries would have to be negotiated if the consolidation was approved.

Examples of consolidated efforts in other communities throughout the U.S. were also discussed.

Student burned in explosion

An explosion and fire in a workroom at Canton High School has left a student hospitalized with burns and lacerations.

According to Canton High Principal Kent Buikema, details of the accident are sketchy. He says two students on the CEP Perspective staff were working after school in a photo lab adjacent to a library workroom on April 1. After leaving the lab, he says, they went through the workroom where one of the pair, Bob Lattin, 17, of Plymouth Township, spun the handle of a manual duplicating machine.

Buikema says according to an interview with the other student, Thomas Conwell, III, of Canton, a can of duplicating fluid then fell from a shelf and apparently exploded, setting Lattin's clothing on fire. The fire was extinguished by Conwell.

Canton Fire Department Cpt. Art Winkel says a rescue unit arrived at Canton High shortly after 6:45 p.m. where they discovered Lattin had sustained first, second and third degree burns on his legs and lacerations to his face. He was transported by Canton Rescue to Wayne County General Hospital, then transferred by county rescue to the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

Winkel says Lattin is now in satisfactory condition at the University of Michigan Hospital.

The incident is still under investigation, Winkel says. "We can't find the ignition source," he added. "The school is mailing some of the chemicals to us, and we will check them."

Behman to leave city administration

BY KEN VOYLES

John Behman, 26-year-old Federal Grants Coordinator and Assistant City Manager for the City of Plymouth will be leaving the city administration for a job in California.

Behman has been offered, and accepted, a position with the Ford Motor Credit Company in Los Angeles. There he will deal with customer accounts in the financial company. He is slated to start on May 1.

Behman said the reason for his leaving the city was strictly "career advancement."

"Plymouth has been very good to me. I made a lot of friends here and working here was a very good experience," Behman said Monday. "Plymouth is a well rounded community and the people around town care what's going on."

Behman, an Ann Arbor resident and graduate of Michigan State University, started work in Plymouth in 1978 as an intern under then-City Manager Fred Yockey. After a year in administration, Behman moved to the city clerk's office.

When current City Manager Henry Graper, Jr. hired Behman moved back into the city manager's department. It was then that he became Federal Grants Coordinator. His other duties included personnel director and assistant to Graper. He was also the coordinator of the city's innovative Plymouth Energy Program.

According to Behman his position will not be filled in the near future due to the budget freeze extended by the administration recently.

guardrails and rolled over before coming to rest in a creekbed. Of the four occupants, one, a Canton man, remains in critical condition at Botsford Hospital. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Auto rollover leaves man in coma

After a rollover accident in Northville early Saturday morning, a Canton man remains in critical condition at Botsford Hospital.

According to Northville Township Police Sgt. John Sherman, a 1981 Dodge driven by Mark A. Collins, 24, of Livonia, was northbound on Sheldon when it left the road on a steep hill south of Seven Mile Road.

The car struck a guardrail, Sherman said, continued along the shoulder and struck another guardrail. At that point, Sherman said, the car apparently became airborne, knocked down several trees and then rolled before coming to rest on its side in a creekbed. Police were called to the scene at approximately 3:50 a.m.

Passengers in the car included Traci Lynn Minier, 14, of Plymouth; Ronald M. Simsick, 18, of Plymouth; and Jeffrey S. Boris, 18, of Canton.

All were transported by Novi Ambulance to Botsford Hospital, where all but Boris were treated and released.

Boris remains in critical condition with a fractured skull at Botsford. Late Monday afternoon he underwent surgery to relieve pressure affecting the injured area of his brain. Doctors say the operation was successful, but a waiting period was needed before a complete assessment of Boris' condition could be made.

Sherman said an investigation of the incident is continuing. No charges have been filed.

Boris is the son of Tom and Tina Jones of Canton. Tina is an ad consultant with The Crier.

At Canton hearing

Police-Fire combo studied

McCormick said most successful efforts were in relatively small communities with no great police and fire needs and no longstanding separation of departments. Leonard, however, said the incidence of consolidation was increasing throughout the country.

Both agreed that the proposal needed the full cooperation of both local government officials and the rank and file of police and fire departments.

Training was another area of concern. Leonard said studies showed that an average of only two per cent of the work done by Oak Park Public Safety officers was fire-related. The state mandates police training, he said, but firefighting training is not.

Answering questions on stress encountered by Public Safety officers, Leonard replied that "You pick men who can do it. It's been done in Oak Park for 28 years."

Opposition from Canton Fire Department personnel was also addressed by Leonard. "All programs start that way," he said. "It takes negotiation and selling of the program by the township government. There must be communication and negotiation."

Poole was asked if there were any problems with the Canton Police and Fire Departments. He replied that the consolidation study was not commissioned because of problems, and that there would be no attempt at "union-busting."

Throughout the hearing, there was no discussion from representatives of the Canton Police Department. A member of the patrolmen's union, who asked not to be identified, said the union had no comment.

Gerald Radovic, area representative for the Police Officer's Association of Michigan, said last Friday that "Our position is that we don't have one. We've adopted a 'wait and see' position. We are willing to sit down and negotiate with the employer, and if a safety department is what they want to do, we're going to negotiate and make it worth our while."

At the conclusion of the hearing, Poole said more information would be compiled and township trustees would have several weeks to research the consolidation proposal.

Twp. hikes utility rates

to maintain interest income. The water and sewer fund showed about a $117,000 loss in working capital after last year, according to an audit report by the township's accountants, Plante and Moran. The loss was the first of its kind suffered by the department in recent years.

The new rates will keep the township from further eating into its capital reserves, but at the same time will not allow for further modernization or construction work to the township's water-sewer system.

In the past such increases from Detroit have been mainly absorbed by the township, said Breen. This time there is no choice but to pass the increase on, he said, due to the working capital situation.

"It seem's to me we should pass at least part of this increase along," said Township Clerk Esther Hulsing. Her feelings were echoed by other board members.

In the past, said Breen, the township has not passed along the full percentage increase, absorbing at least part of the increase. This year the whole increase will be passed on so that the Water and Sewer Department can balance its working capital.

According to Water and Sewer Superintendent Tom Hollis the township will also have to invest in replacing its current Gamon water meters.

There are 4,800 units that need the change, he said, at a cost (over a 10 year period) of about $192,000. Where the funds for such a project would come from was not decided at the meeting.

THESE TWO DAMS, familiar sights in the area, have been identified in a recent Michigan Department of Natural Resources-Corps of Engineers study as having a high hazard potential. Based on their locations, Phoenix Dam (above) and Wilcox Dam (below) could cause property damage and even loss of life if they were to fail, says Gary Croskey of the DNR. The Wayne County Road Commission is responsible for the operation and maintenance of both. (Crier photos by Robert Cameron)

Between State and Wayne County

Dams dangerous or not? Debate continues

BY DAN BODENE

A "high hazard potential" exists at two dams in the community, according to an engineer with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

However, an official of the Wayne County Road Commission, which owns and operates the dams, says there is no danger and that both dams are in good shape.

According to a federally funded four-year study conducted by members of the DNR and U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Wilcox Dam and Phoenix Dam were among 113 statewide to receive the hazard potential rating.

Gary Croskey of the DNR Water Management Division says the study surveyed more than 800 dams, and assigned the ratings based on location. The two local dams were inspected in 1978, he added.

The potential danger exists mainly in Hines Park to property, motorists and people using recreational facilities, said Croskey, who adds that the wet season is not the only time for concern. "A dam can fail not just in flood events," he says. "An added problem is if dams fail in a series, as they are located in the park."

Under state authority, Croskey says, the DNR can order an owner to inspect, repair or remove a dam if it is felt a hazardous condition exists.

Lou Sugo of the Road Commission says no orders of that type have been received on county dams. "There is no need to worry," he says, "because we have a structural department and our people are trained to watch things like that. We're as expert as anybody. That report is four years old. We inspected those dams last summer, and they are in good shape."

City youth among 50 to visit capital

Rachel Whitmore, 12, of Plymouth, will be the Automobile Club of Michigan's guest for an all-expense-paid, four-day trip to Washington, D.C.

She will be among 50 Michigan safety patrollers chosen to tour the nation's capital and march in the National School Safety Patrol Parade during the 42nd annual Automobile Club of Michigan safety patrol trip from April 29 through May 2.

A student at Smith School, Whitmore was chosen as one of the state's top patrollers for the 1981-82 school year.

Smith School crossing moved

Smith Elementary School students using the crossing at Ross and South Main Streets, will have to get used to another route.

The official crossing has been moved to Hartsough and Main Streets, effective Monday, April 5 and will affect all students in an area bounded by Main Street, Ann Arbor Trail, Mill Street and Ann Arbor Road.

The change was suggested by parents at a meeting with Police Chief Carl Berry and City Engineer Ken West. The new location was evaluated for pedestrian-car exposure and visibility. Decreased exposure and increased visibility will provide greater safety at the Hartsough location, according to the city officials.

George Dodson, principal of Smith School, met with the parents and city engineer to map out the change.

"It is anticipated that the Hartsough location will become permanent at the beginning of the next school year," said City Manager Henry E. Graper, Jr.

"There would be school crossing flashers installed on the school crossing signs and the Harvey Street stop sign will be moved from Ross to Hartsough," Graper said.

Parents and students are being instructed on plans by Dodson with assistance from Jenny Steakley and Sue McElroy.

The cost of the installation is to be funded with Community Block Grant Funds. Graper said, "These are federal funds that the city has programmed to meet a community need."

Newsprint increase

The second newsprint increase in nine months has been passed on to The Community Crier.

This increase was five per cent.

"While we're getting used to seeing newsprint hikes twice a year, since we have no control over it, it certainly doesn't make holding our rates down," said Crier Publisher W. Edward Wendover.

Army achiever

Principal's behavior unacceptable

EDITOR:

In regard to an article appearing in The Crier on March 31, we would like to make the following points:

1. Superintendent Hoben misrepresented the actual occurrence that led up to the face slapping of our 5th grade son on March 11 by (Carroll) Nichols, principal of Tanger. At no time was there any threat to the safety of Nichols or anyone else that would justify the way Nichols handled, or, should we say, mishandled, the situation. Hoben's statements were in direct conflict with those he, himself, made in writing in letters to us, dated March 18 and March 19, and in his own written reprimand to Nichols, dated March 19, now in Nichols' permanent file. Hoben writes to Nichols, "It has been brought to my attention by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taddonio that you, on March 11, did slap their son, Swane, in the face. Having conferenced with you and through the investigation of Dr. Homes, this appears to be a true statement. You are well aware that this is in deference to school policy that bans the use of corporal punishment. There is no way that I, as Superintendent, charged with administering Board Policy, can condone such action." All three letters

Put yourself in the principal's place - he's right

EDITOR:

I think your reporters really have been cruel and absurd concerning Mr. (Carroll) Nichols (principal of Tanger Elementary School).

I am a past resident of Plymouth and I knew Mr. Nichols when I was attending Junior High West. He is a highly respectable man in my book.

It grieves me to no end that your articles all sound as if they stick up for the parents.

It sounds to me that this child did not have any respect. A lot of parents think their children are angels and do no wrong. These kinds will eventually have police records.

Put yourself in his place, if you had a child telling you off, cussing and swearing, what would you do? You would lose your temper too, because you weren't brought up to do people that way.

If teachers would be allowed to whip their rear-ends, the parents would still complain.

If parents would teach respect and discipline to children at home, children would not act this way and the incident would not have happened. Mr. Nichols, I'm all for you! It was a normal reaction.

J.W.

are available to the press and the public.

2. Any abusive language by our son came only after being slapped in the face by Nichols.

3. We, as parents, cannot accept this kind of behavior by a principal who has been trained to control his temper and not use violence. A properly trained and qualified administrator has many other avenues of discipline open to him.

4. As stated by Hoben on March 29, in a meeting with Dr. (Michael) Homes, school board president (Carol) Davis, executive director of elementary education (Shirley) Spaniel, ourselves, and other concerned Tanger parents, there are two other similar situations pending against Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Is this the kind of educational system we must now accept as a standard for our children?

5. Regarding the other complaints against Nichols from various parents during the last two years (which these parents were required to document in writing by the administration) - Where is there any written documentation as to the correctional procedures taken by the administration for these complaints? What were the results? It seems to us that the public deserves some answers in writing from the administration.

6. Again, we request an outside investigation into the behavior of Nichols, and, more important, the treatment of the students at Tanger that are supposed to be in his care.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD TADDONIO

Reprimand uncalled for

EDITOR:

This letter is in regard to your article on the slapping incident that spurred an angry reaction from the parents of the 5th grade student.

The action taken by the parents and especially Superintendent John Hoben and Michael Homes, Assistant Superintendent, and Shirley Spaniel, Director of Elementary Education, of putting a letter of reprimand in Carroll Nichols' (Principal) file was uncalled for.

Hoben, Homes and Spaniel all have long, impressive job titles but are all short on common sense. These three administrators all sit behind a desk while principals and teachers work with children every day. Their main job is to TEACH our children and not to have to hear abusive language out of the mouth of a child towards an adult.

I feel Mr. Nichols did the right thing because the boy was using excessive force towards other students and swearing at the principal is wrong. I do not know any of the people involved in this incident, but from what I have read in The Crier, I support the principal and I feel the central administrators should support their professional staff and please do not belittle them.

To the mother, I say, teach your child respect while he is young and he will respect you and others when he is older.

Oakwood's presence is a boon

Keeping our community healthy (in addition to wealthy, happy and wise) is easier than it used to be.

With the opening of Oakwood Hospital's Canton Center last year, The Plymouth-Canton Community now boasts a full-fledged 24-hour emergency room and supporting services. That is a much-needed service.

But Oakwood contributes more to our well being too.

As a resource center, with many classes and seminars, the hospital is contributing to the general health and welfare of Plymouth-Canton residents.

And take Saturday's Health-O-Rama, sponsored by Oakwood at Canton High School Phase III. The annual event gave a long line of local folks the opportunity to get some basic health testing and suggestions for improving their bodily state.

There's no question about it, Oakwood's presence is a boon. Keep your eyes open for these special services the hospital's center, located at Warren and Canton Center Roads, and you'll be healthier too if you take advantage of them.

With Malice Toward None

Should chambers of commerce get involved in politics?

That burning issue, which raises its ugly head at least every couple of years, is facing both the Plymouth and Canton chambers with election year approaching.

In reality, chambers ARE involved with politics whether they like it or not. By inviting speakers who are politicians, by mentioning politicians in their newsletters, by stumping for or against some local or state law or issue, by accepting paid advertisements in their newsletters and just by being active in community affairs, chambers are in the thick of it.

And there's nothing wrong with it either.

That is, as long as the chambers are open with their members about what the politicking will be and fair to all concerned (it would, for example, be inappropriate for chambers to donate money to political hopefuls), the members are best served.

After all, a chamber is supposed to be an alliance of retailers, industrialists and other members all interested in fostering commerce in the community. Sometimes, that requires participation in the decision-making process - politicking.

Most chamber members have no better way to band together to accomplish their goals.

But where the local chambers have gone astray in past political frays, is they have not established any guidelines or consistency to their involvements. That's all that's required for chamber members' protection and for firm footing for chamber representatives when they are involved.

Let's get our chambers involved -- properly.

formed. It is called the Libertarian Party.

As a matter of fact, in 1980 its presidential candidate, Ed Clark, received 41,000 votes in this state with one trip to the state and seven television ads. In a three-way race for governor this year, the victorious candidate may only require 800,000 votes to win. I encourage all individualists who believe they know best how to spend their own money and run their own lives to become involved this year.

More than 50 per cent of the eligible voters have not been going to the polls. Those individuals, if they want a change in representation at any given time have the ability to reverse the stagnation that has enveloped our state by registering to vote and expressing their opinion.

If you want a change in government policy the time to act is now. Contact the Jacobs for Governor Committee.

We can't believe everything

Perhaps we can blame it on air pollution which has fogged the thinking tools. Maybe we can blame it in this being an election year. Perhaps we can blame it on too much sugar in the diet.

At any rate this seems to be the time for gossip. Whether it be about national figures, state figures or right here in the Plymouth-Canton Community, there is a lot of rumor-mongering.

Everyone is quick to talk about labor union ripoffs, business ripoffs, the next door neighbor, the church choir director or the local elected official. It's become a way of life as indicated by the large number of expose gossip tabloids which greet us at the food store checkout counter.

Gossip is certainly nothing new.

Greek philosopher Platus, 2,000 years ago, give a day or two, observed, "Slander-mongers and those who listen to slander, if I had my way, would be strung up, the talkers by the tongue and the listeners by the ear."

While such punishment would be just reward, the sheer logistics problem of finding enough trees and enough rope to use in the stringing up-process would be insurmountable.

The fact is that we are all powerless to entirely avoid the pitfalls of spreading a little dirt of our own. The problem is one of temperance. We should demand proof when confronted by rumor and conjecture.

A lot of our problems come from the use of rumor by government. The trial balloon is a tool of the trade in Washington, Lansing, city hall and township hall.

Television and the big city newspaper columnists feed on those rumors and pass them along to us peons. We are getting darned few facts these days. Politicians and bureaucracy thrives in a climate of half facts and no facts.

The result is confusion and division-much of it programmed and orchestrated by this layer after layer of government to which we have saddled ourselves.

Stop trying to hurt Knollwood Cemetery's growth

EDITOR:

I would like to make a comment on one of the articles that I have read in your paper.

There have been at least four articles about Knollwood Memorial Park Cemetery.

Knollwood is a new or young cemetery. It had its first burial in May, 1969. It is not as old as most of the cemeteries in this area. It has to be developed more. I have several friends and relatives who are either buried there or own lots there. They all say how well they like it and how peaceful it is. It used to be my neighbor's farm. I have many happy memories of it as a farm and I know several of my friends and relatives do also. I also know this is one of the reasons they have bought lots there.

It seems that your paper is trying to belittle something that a lot of people enjoy. Why do you have to keep on pounding away, trying to beat Knollwood into the ground? Do you have an axe to grind?

Sure, it needs more development, so do our county and state roads, why not write articles on them?

Why not write about the things wrong in our school system?

Why not write about the high taxes and what a burden they are on people?

I could go on for page after page of things you could write about that need to be brought to the public's attention.

Knollwood is a young cemetery, it has to grow.

It is under new management.

It is trying to grow and you are trying to keep it from growing. It needs help to grow, just like children need help to grow.

Just as farm animals need help to grow.

Why not help it, instead of trying to hurt it? It will grow and it will be a pretty cemetery. It has come a long way in a short period of time as cemeteries go. It has come from a farm with crops and cattle to a nice peaceful Memorial Park.

It has a storm sewer system which most cemeteries do not have. It was open all winter long, the snow was removed from the roads and the funerals were all taken care of according to the person's religious belief including graveside services. All burials were made within two hours. It has a perpetual care fund to pay for the upkeep of the cemetery.

I know because my brother and I took down the big barns and silo, and I have been caretaker at Knollwood since it started in 1968.

In addition

by Dan Bodene

This Saturday there's a couple things going on that are close to my heart.

One is the Easter egg hunts - for a long time in my ignorant youth I really wondered why Easter rabbits had anything to do with eggs. I guess Easter chickens were just too ridiculous.

The other thing on Saturday is that the Plymouth Jaycees are asking residents in the community to fly their flags on that day, as a tribute to reaching the goal for donations to the Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

Vietnam has lately been coming out of the back room of American consciousness, so to speak, but I wonder if in the right way.

I've noticed that on television, for example, there has been an increase in the number of plots with involvement in the Vietnam experience.

But how are the characters most often portrayed? As a disturbing cliché. Vietnam-veteran-as-walking-time-bomb.

I'm willing to concede that perhaps because television (a cultural mirror?) is willing to deal with Vietnam in some way, any way, it may be the first signs that mainstream Joe Citizen will start trying to accept the veteran as more than a psychopathic wreck.

I have somewhat of a personal stake in this. In 1972 as a 17 year old kid I enlisted, and asked for Indochina service. I didn't go because at 17 I couldn't legally be sent to a war zone. But that year I met a lot of men just 30 days back from Bong Sa, and Dak To, and a hundred other places from the delta to Cambodia. They told me horrible stories.

And in January, 1973 I rang a bell in the First Presbyterian Church in Raleigh, N.C. the night the treaty was signed.

I learned from the men I talked to. One of the things I learned is that nobody else but the military fraternity wanted to even talk about the war. It was gauche enough just to be in the military then, but talk of the war was considered utterly taboo in polite civilian conversation.

Are we coming to the point now where we can talk about it? I don't know.

I hope people don't wonder any more why some Vietnam vets are so angry. I'm glad that at least in this community, people cared enough to give for a memorial in honor of the men and women that served in a war that gradually became a matter of personal, not national survival.

Please fly the flags this Saturday. The people that served in the war are not your enemies, or a group of undesirables.

They are part of your community.

Tanger staffers support discipline

EDITOR:

We would like to compliment and applaud the writer (Barbara Timmerman) of the discipline letter in The Crier of March 24. The insights and viewpoints of this concerned parent were extremely well presented and in a very comprehensive and fair way.

In our discussions, as a group of concerned teachers, of the letter we felt good discipline in school was something in which every Plymouth-Canton family is interested. The issue involved is not one which has a simple solution. It does indeed involve everyone's cooperation; parents, teachers, community leaders, et al, to maintain good discipline in our schools if we are to guide the children toward adulthood.

It is everyone's job and as teachers we cannot do our best job of teaching if we have to spend excessive time disciplining one or two unruly, boisterous, youngsters to the detriment of those other youngsters in the classroom who have a right to learn. We need students who come to school having been taught self-discipline and control at home so that we may follow through with firm but considerate discipline at school. We cannot begin the process of instilling discipline in an individual child and expect to effectively teach other children at the same time.

Plaudits to the letter writer! Thanks for providing a forceful opinion for discussion and thought. Good luck on your organizing efforts.

THE TANGER ELEMENTARY SCHOOL STAFF

EDITOR:

This is really two letters.

First, I must ask for the Board of Education's reconsideration of some of their proposed administrative layoffs. In particular that of Shirley Waters, Attendance Officer. The title does nothing to describe the importance of her job or the need for her in the community. Granted, there are numerous parents who have not had need for Mrs. Waters' services. For those who have, she has been invaluable. Of course, there are always parents who can't accept an official evaluation of their child's behavior, attendance, etc. But with the increasing juvenile problems it would seem we need Mrs. Waters more, each year.

Joanne Smith's special program-resource room is also in jeopardy, but much needed. I believe that as much as it is each child's right to an education, it is equally our responsibility to educate each child; even those who reach adolescence and no longer feel the need for school. Ms. Smith's original program is designed to try to keep the latter type student in high school through his-her "difficult times" to graduation. Some taxpayers may say those kids don't want an education - they don't deserve such a program. Those same taxpayers would not like to support those kids indefinitely. Special Ed covers a very large area and must include those kids with emotional, psychological or imaginary problems which, for a time, prevent them from following the rules as we expect them to. Joanne Smith has a sincere interest in and a liking for these "juveniles," many of whom even a mother can't like all the time.

Second, I am obviously a concerned parent. I believe all parents, at one time or another, need the moral support or advice of other parents. Some of us have need more often or for bigger problems. There is a definite need to acknowledge the juvenile problems in this area and hopefully, curb some of the tendencies before they become serious. To Joe Koenig: you are not being stereotyped. I applaud you and all the other students who are getting the most out of their high school years. But don't be too hard on concerned parents. There are many who do their best but don't get to see positive results (as your parents obviously are blessed with) until years later.

Reconsider the layoffs

Lights! Camera! Roll the video!

BY DAN BODENE

There's some good news and some bad news.

Programs produced by the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) television unit at Salem High now have new broadcast slots, but students are worried this may be the fledgling outfit's last season.

Brian Harris is the CEP-TV unit's student director-producer, and it was under his direction the high school broadcast program got off the ground in November. With the help of technical advisor Mark Even (who is also the school's yearbook advisor), advisor Pat Berry and the students involved in the department, Harris took the school's available equipment and literally created the broadcast unit.

Programs are written and produced by students, most of whom come from journalism, radio and television classes, from the earliest stages of news gathering to the finished tapes. Aired on Omni cable channel 8, new broadcast slots were recently announced -- the programs are now aired Monday through Friday at 11:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

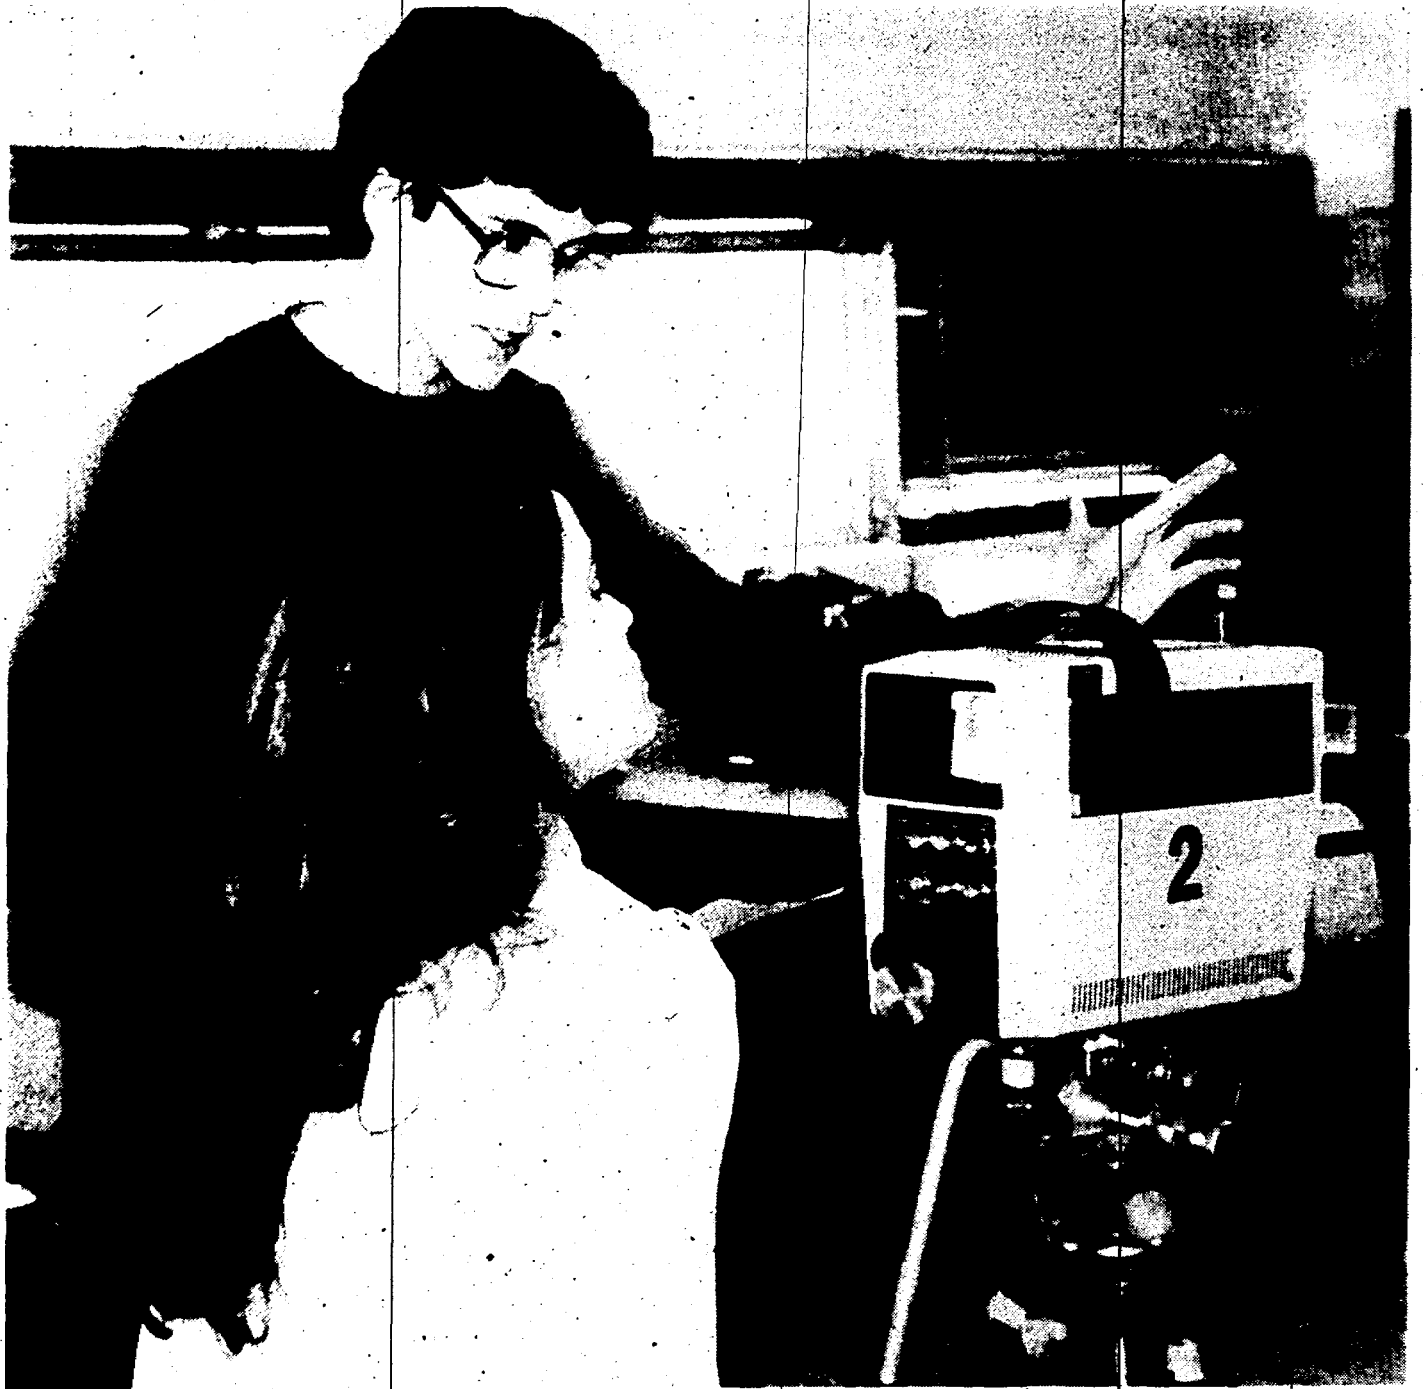

But the program may be in peril from two sources: personnel and finances.

Harris says 80 per cent of the crew are seniors, and if more interest by underclassmen is not generated, the program may fold because of a lack of interest.

The more serious problem comes from money, or, the lack of it. Harris says the equipment is "ancient," and funds are desperately needed for repairs and replacement. The school does not fund the broadcasts, and a recent candy sale was held to raise money. But as Harris says, "It's tough to sell enough M and M's to replace TV equipment."

Even so, Harris says the outfit has progressed well. In fact, the CEP broadcasts may be going live soon on cable channel 11, he says, if equipment which would enable live broadcasts (on order by Omnicom) arrives.

Until then, the broadcasts will be refined under the direction of one of the most demanding sources in broadcasting. Who? "Me," Harris says. "I'm my own worst critic."

It's a lot harder than it looks

PRODUCER-DIRECTOR Brian Harris gives some direction to cameraperson Kathy Pursell during a CEP-TV broadcast. The crew follows a straight-through production schedule for authenticity, even though the broadcasts are taped. New air times were recently announced for the daily student-produced shows.

Newcomers mix fools and fashion

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Spring fashions were out in abundance last week when the Plymouth Newcomers Club presented "From Plymouth With Love". Area women got a preview of what is in store for the upcoming season in the world of fashion.

White is the most popular color this year in everything from eyelet dresses to casual wear. Bright colors in accessories are just the thing to off set the basic white. The ever popular pastels are back in the limelight again this spring.

A fashion show held on April 1st wouldn't be complete without a few laughs and jokes. Peggy Jennings and John Miller in their evening wear and cutaway suit provided the April Fool entertainment.

Newcomer members modeling the fashions were: Jackie Blaesser, Eileen Graham, Carol McTaggart, Cindy Modras, Lorna Nitz, Sandy Pallas, Carol Patterson, Jeane Paul, Kris Reid, Lynda Stahl, Debbie Switzer and Carole Townsend. Modeling junior fashions were: K.C. Kirkpatrick, Kelly Kirkpatrick, Chris Lore and Cindy Mueller.

Pat McCombs was the coordinator for the fashion show. Committee chairmen were: Cathy Kirkpartick, model coordinator; Linda Stahl, favors; Joan Slocki, decorating and set up; Carol Patterson, tickets; Janie Hunt, art work; Kathy Feeney, publicity; Judy Lore, name tags; Joyce Kile, poster and distribution; Lynn Lyons, commentator; Fran Lang, music accompaniment; and K. C. Mueller, advice.

Plymouth merchants providing the fashions were: Armbruster Bootery, Before and After Shoppe, Beginnings, Enchante, Del's, Geneva's of Plymouth, Hands on Leather, John Smith Clothing Co., Kay's of Plymouth, Lent's, Little Angels Shoppe, Maggie and Me, Me and Mr. Jones, Minerva's Dunnings, New Gal In Town, Pendleton Shop, Sacks of Forest Avenue, Sandy's Fashions, Sportventure, Tadmore's and Van Dam's.

CHRIS LORE looks ready for the great outdoors in sportswear from Sportventure.

SPECIAL EFFECTS of an unusual sort were provided by John Miller at the Newcomers Show. Although the show featured many different styles of lightweight wear, perhaps this was a bit much...

CAROL PATTERSON provided a large measure of glamor, in a lounging jumpsuit with jacket from Enchante.

LITTLE ANGELS K.C. and Kelly Kirkpatrick are all decked out in spring wear from the Little Angels Shoppe, including K.C.'s Donmoor tan pants and striped shirt with Weather Tamer jacket; and Kelly's white eyelet sundress.

POINTING OUT that the show must go on, Peggy Jennings helped out with the lighter side of the Newcomers show with the presentation of what the program modestly referred to as "extra special effects."

Local experts are here to help with bridal needs

Bridal shows can be a big help in choosing not only the wedding dress, but accessories and all the other details that go into such a special occasion.

Prospective brides in The Plymouth-Canton Community are fortunate to have a group of merchants throughout the area who work in harmony to provide that extra service and total attention to detail.

In the past three months, several bridal shows have been held in the area, and all have included the special touches that are so characteristic of local bridal specialists.

These are but a few of the offerings that community merchants can provide.

Hair today - real gone tomorrow

Cosmetology students from Canton College of Beauty recently had an opportunity to show their expertise not only in hairstyles and makeup, but in fashion as well.

At a meeting of the National Hairdresser's Cosmetology Association last month, the College compiled a "Century of Style" show of beauty and fashion spanning 100 years. Of the 53 students enrolled in Canton, 30 presented their work at the show. And apparently, it was worth the effort. Professionals from the area regarded the theme and presentation by the Plymouth-Canton students as "Outstanding."

The Plymouth College of Beauty, meanwhile, presented its own show -- "Months of the Year."

Both schools are owned by Pauline Lipscomb and Wilford Arbour, and provide instruction for the two-year cosmetology program offered at Centennial Education Park. Upon completion, students can take State Board Exams leading to Michigan certification.

ALL DRESSED UP AND NOWHERE TO POGO.
Some of today's Newer Wave fashions and hairstyles are here displayed by Lisa Salagan, Pattie Dempsey and Joyce D'Argis. Creation of these styles and outfits was no mean feat -- literally hours were spent in preparation for the "Century of Style" show last month.

Introducing Spring styles

As the theme of this special "Plus" section suggests, this is the season to start building up that warm-weather wardrobe. And right here in this community are some of the finest places to do just that.

A special thanks goes out to the Steak and Ale restaurant on Ann Arbor Road at I-275, and Heide's Flowers, 995 W. Ann Arbor Trail, who graciously afforded photo locations for the fashions shown on the following pages.

And of course, to the fine stores who contributed their fashions, models and time for these pages.

Through Plymouth Community Council on Aging Skill Bank offers seniors cheap repair work

Seniors who need fast, reliable repair work can find it through the Plymouth Community Council on Aging's Skill Bank, a fairly new project in the community.

Seniors can take advantage of the service offered by experienced tradesmen, most of whom are retired, but who wish to keep active on a part time basis, doing small repairs at a fraction of the costs involved when full time tradesmen are contracted.

According to PCCA President Walter Fletcher, tradesmen with all types of experience can be found through the Skill Bank. Fletcher also said that retired seniors with particular skills should register with the Council on Aging at its office on the second floor of Plymouth's City Hall.

"Any skilled handyman can register with the Council Office, where we have a communications center maintained," Fletcher said.

Persons needing those services available through the Skill Bank should contact the PCCA at 455-4907.

The Council does not charge for its service coordinating Skill Bank activities; charges for home services are negotiated by the parties involved prior to the start of any work.

Recognized for service

RECOGNITION FOR her years of service to Canton senior citizens came to coordinator Delores Edwards on March 26, when members of the Canton Pioneers presented her with a plaque at the club's 10th birthday party. Pioneers President Liv Williams presented Edwards with the surprise award, and a kiss, after lunch and a birthday cake had been served. (Crier photo by Dan Bodene)

Surprised at shower

SURPRISED on March 24 with a gift from her friends in the Canton Senior Citizen program, assistant senior citizen coordinator Louise Hopping holds up a doll made of money. Hopping is scheduled to wed Keith Spigarelli, "in the biggest event since Lady Di's ceremony," she says. Shown flanking her at the wedding shower are prospective mother-in-law Jackie Spigarelli and grandmother Helen Hopping. Behind Louise is Charlotte Schwartz of the Canton senior citizen center. ## Twp. Trustees table snow removal ordinance

Plymouth Township Board of Trustees tabled a resolution approving the first reading of a proposed snow removal ordinance for 60 days so that the township attorney can study it for liability.

The trustees tabled the item at the March 23 meeting after discussions arose over what types of liability would be incurred with a snow removal ordinance in effect.

The ordinance calls for home owners and business owners with sidewalks abutting their premises to have snow removed from the sidewalk within 24 hours after the snow or ice has fallen.

Failure to do so would cost residents a $500 fine or 90 days in jail, if the ordinance is approved.

"I love the intent of the ordinance, but it's not always possible to have the walk cleaned within 24 hours," said Township Clerk Esther Hulsing. "We have to be careful -- what liabilities does this open up?"

Fly your American flags Saturday in honor of vets

To a successful completion of the Plymouth Jaycees Vietnam Veteran's Memorial Project, the Jaycees will be flying the flags around Kellogg Park and other parts of the city on April 10 to honor the veterans. The Plymouth Jaycees are asking all residents to display their flags at their homes and businesses to honor the Vietnam-era veteran.

Interested individuals still wishing to make a contribution may do so by sending it to: Plymouth Jaycees, P.O. Box 279, Plymouth, MI 48170. For more information, contact project chairman Ernie Rumsby at 981-2123.

Lions set for White Cane drive

In shopping centers and on street corners, members of the Lions Club of Plymouth will conduct their annual White Cane Drive on April 30 and May 1.

Club members will canvass throughout Plymouth and Plymouth Township during this year's drive, which marks the 34th year the Plymouth Lions Club has participated in the benefit.

Charles Hoitash, chairperson of this year's drive, says a number of major Lions Club projects will be supported by donations, including Leader Dogs for the Blind, Michigan Eye Bank Research Center Building Fund, Girl and Boy Scouts, Salvation Army Building Fund, construction of bridges and picnic tables at Plymouth Centennial Park, Plymouth Symphony, new trash receptacles in downtown Plymouth and other community projects.

Again this year, the Lions Club is requesting that used eye glasses and hearing aids be dropped off, so that they can be remade usable and forwarded all over the world.

Governor William Milliken has designated April 25 to May 1 as White Cane Week.

Joint meeting

A joint presentation of the Rouge Valley Wastewater Management study and the Huron Valley Wastewater Management study will be given on April 20 at Plymouth Township Hall.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting will be held to obtain public comments and input.

The public participation gathering is designed to present alternatives, including cost effectiveness and environmental evaluation, to correcting pollution problems relative to combined sewer overflows into the Rouge River and to determine if Plymouth Township should be sewered by the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System.

Township Hall is located at 42350 Ann Arbor Rd just east of Lilley Road.

Amended Twp. budget shows big deficit

In the amended 1982 activities budget recently approved by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, the township is faced with a $218,363 deficit at the end of the year.

Total revenues in the amended budget (the original was passed Sept. 1981) are $2,713,311, while total expenditures are up about $500,000 from the original estimated amount for the current year. Revenues are also up about $200,000 from the estimated amount for this year.

Township Treasurer Joseph West was the lone dissenter in last week's vote. "Just for the record I really would like to balance the budget. We've reviewed the revenues and there just is no place for pennies from heaven." West then suggested a 10 per cent cut in all general expenses except for wages but his position was not a formal call for resolution.

Some revenue highlights in the amended budget include revenue increases for the general administration, fire department, law enforcement, golf course lease and the Block Grant program.

Expenditures increased about $200,000 for general administration, while law enforcement costs nearly doubled from $364,085 to $611,257. Fire department costs are down slightly as are planning costs. Block Grant expenditures have also increased.

The township accumulated a carry over surplus of $389,302 from last year. The projected surplus at the end of this year, after being used to cover for the deficit, will be $170,939.

Model A cars to invade Twp. park in summer 83

It may be a bit premature to get ready, but Model A cars will invade the Plymouth Township Recreation Park.

Over 600 cars and 2,000 members of a national Model A Club will be using the park on June 24, 1983, as a part of their four-day festival. (The Crier reported that the event would take place this year in its March 24 issue.)

Plymouth Township Board of Trustees approved the reservation application submitted by the club to use the park on that date at the regular meeting of the board on March 23.

4-H student scholarships

Scholarships donated by the Edwin T. Meredith Foundation will be awarded to two Wayne County college-bound 4-H participants this fall, and applications are now being accepted.

Connie Testorelli, county 4-H program assistant, says, "To qualify, candidates must be present or former 4-H members who plan to enroll as freshmen at an accredited college or university this fall." Scholarship winners will be chosen by the Cooperative Extension Service on the basis of interest in pursuing a college education, financial need, high school grades, leadership ability and 4-H background.

Persons interested in applying should contact Testorelli at 721-6576 or the state office at 175 S. Anthony Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824.

Nutrition

Nutrition will be the program topic at the monthly meeting of the Plymouth Community Council on Aging, scheduled for April 13 at 2 p.m. in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The program will include two films on good eating habits followed by a discussion with Linda Luke, R.D., who will answer questions relative to diet and good eating.

According to Robert Thams, a Plymouth resident and chairman of this year's Model A event, the park will be used as a final gathering place for car judging on the third day of the convention.

Thams said the vehicles will rally together somewhere in Dearborn and drive out to the park as a group. At the park the cars will line up for judging while club members will enjoy a lunch. The park will be used by the club for no longer than two hours, said Thams.

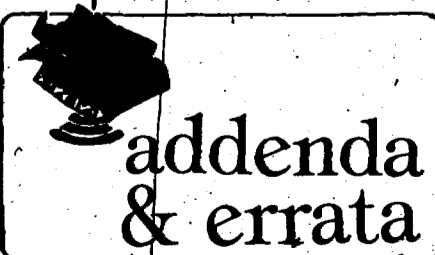

Thams also said that he has been in contact with City of Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper Jr.

"We went to Ft. Wayne (Indiana) last year and it was pretty much an empty experience," said Thams. "We think the township park would be ideal for the gathering and we hope to provide some kind of event in the city after the judging in the park."

Thams said the vehicles will probably be on display somewhere in the city for a couple of hours after the run to the park so that club members can also tour the city. "We usually don't have spectators for the judging," he said.

Trustees said that the Model A's would definitely draw many spectators to the park on that day.

Park Superintendent Gene Hood said that the 600 cars could be handled inside the park grounds, even with the addition of spectators. "We had more cars out there for the balloon festival last year," he said.

In the March 31 edition, on pg. 12 a photo incorrectly identified a craftsperson as Judy Cruz of Canton. The photo is of Agnes Asztalos of Plymouth. We regret the error.

Chris's Coney Island fights economy, Twp. board

BY KEN VOYLES

Businesses in Plymouth-Canton are as hard hit by the depressed economic times as other businesses throughout the country.

Some are fighting back by renovating, expanding, advertising, or moving to a new location within the community.

Chris's Coney Island, in the Plymouth Square Shopping Center, owned and operated by Dean and Mary Christopoulos, has been in Plymouth Township for seven years.

The Christopoulos family has been trying to convince the township Board of Trustees of the feasibility of renovating their restaurant and getting a class C liquor license in an attempt to keep the business thriving.

wants.

"If you only expect leaps and bounds in a business, or if you're an absent owner, you can only fold up," said Dean.

"We try and keep the food product consistent."

The restaurant also has a consistent staff, he says. "We've had at least 20 people I could name who have stayed with the business through three or four years at the least. The turnover in fast food is three or four months," he said.

"I want to stay here. In recessions people cut down on spending. I see a lot of customers from auto plants worried and complaining about the way things are," he continued. "We have our fixed costs such as the lease and utilities as well as our vendors to deal with. We can have good food only with good ties through the vendors."

Dean says he has invested well in his equipment, people and food products. "You just have to be tenacious during these times," he said.

Dean admits the best way of changing the board's mind would be to expand and make changes inside the restaurant at this time. But the coming of his child has turned him to other thoughts. So the dire needs of business will have to wait.

getting down
business

The board, however, has literally said that the restaurant is the "least preferential" on their list for liquor licenses.

That won't force the business into leaving the community, Christopoulos said recently. "I don't think it's necessarily the location, but if we were a little bigger," he said. "It was actually our customers who suggested the need for a liquor license."

The restaurant currently seats about 50 customers. Dean said there is an additional 900 square feet of space in the back of the business, which could be renovated, either into a bar or into a children's gathering room on lines similar to Chuck E Cheese's.

"We still might expand next year or in the future, but my wife had our first baby Sunday so things are kind of on hold," said Christopoulos. "Her name is Alexandra -- I feel like a kid, there's nothing else I want to worry about right now."

But Dean does worry. He also works between 60 and 70 hours weekly to keep his business solvent. "I think the township was fair in their decision. We plan to stay in Plymouth. We have a very good clientele here and a good location," he said.

After seven years in Plymouth, Dean believes that the community has done much to support his enterprise. "This is a strong community. It supports its local businesses. We've been here a long time, before a lot of the other restaurants along this strip (Ann Arbor Road) and it's taken some time before we got established in this mall."

Dean said people tend to forget the "Ma and Pa" businesses. He started 10 years ago with his father Louis. There are currently three Chris' Coneys in or near Detroit.

"We are looking forward to staying here for quite awhile. We like Plymouth, it has a lot of pride," said Christopoulos, a Canton resident.

He adds that the liquor license would only have "augmented" his business. He doesn't like video games and will have none of them in his business, but he does like being creative with the restaurant's food and giving the customer what he

Eberline wins new Cady

Sue Ann Eberline of Plymouth has been recognized as the top salesperson of Schweitzer Real Estate in a big way -- she has been awarded a new Cadillac.

Eberline, who joined the company in May, 1980, earned the most sales commissions of the 175 sales associates. In addition, she has been inducted by Western Wayne-Oakland County Board of Realtors into their Top Ten Per Cent Club and Three Million Club.

In 1980 and 1981 she sold more than $7 million in real estate.

Owner-seller mortgage plan offered by Smith

With the current trend toward seller-financed home sales, it's no wonder it'd be George Smith to come up with an idea to eliminate the risk to home sellers.

Smith, the Realtor and owner of Plymouth's Ann Arbor Mortgage Corp., has unveiled a plan offering 100 per cent mortgage insurance for those financing the sale of their own homes.

At least 30 per cent of homes on the market today are eligible, Smith estimates.

"Home sellers benefit by quicker sales at higher prices," Smith said, "because they are willing to finance the sale of their homes themselves. That financing now becomes riskless because of the 'MGIC 100' insurance and servicing by our company."

Buyers get the benefit of lower down payments and interest rates because of seller financing.

Ann Arbor Mortgage Corp., founded by Smith, is located at 186 S. Main St., Plymouth and services some $82 million in mortgages annually. The company works with individual sellers, attorneys, Realtors and investors to provide the insurance.

Canton diamondmen to set sights for 20 wins

BY DAVID CALLAHAN

Returning six starters and three pitchers who compiled 20 wins last year, and beginning the season rated number one in the state by coaches, won't be the big factors in the success of Canton High's baseball squad.

Rather, says coach Fred Crissey, it will be the team's dedication which makes or breaks the season.

"I see a seriousness, and a sense of purpose," said Crissey. "It depends on the size of our hat. If it gets big, the season is over."

Crissey, who is in his ninth season at Canton, wouldn't predict where his team will finish, but said that the Chiefs have three goals: to win the Western Six, to win 20 games, and "to do as well as we can in the state tournament."

Gone from this year's squad is Dave Malek, who won six games for Canton last year, as well as Jeff Stemberger, Keith Stone, and Mike Shoemaker. Stemberger, Stone, and Shoemaker were all named to the all-league, all-district, and all-regional squads last year.

"Our primary goal," says Crissey, is to replace them."

Returning for Canton, however, is all-stater right hand pitcher Dan Smith. Smith, who was 13-1 last year, will be hard pressed to equal that mark this year, according to Crissey.

Jamie Chilcuff, left hander, and Todd Bergman right hander, both seniors, will anchor the Chiefs pitching staff. Chilcuff won six games last year, and Bergman's control should make them valuable assets to the Canton staff.

Mike Battaglia, Tom Wennerberg, Dave Gerish, Jack Ford, and Scott Cowan will round out the pitching staff.

Behind the plate for the Chiefs will be Bill Hanis, who was named to the all-league, all-district, and all-regional squads last year. At the plate, Hanis batted .372 with 26 RBI's. Mike Wall and Mark Landini will back up Hanis.

Fred Rumberger, a third baseman last year, will play primarily first base, with Mike Scarpello and Don Dombey leading the challengers for the third base starting berth.

Derren Weise, who transferred to Canton from Belleville last year, should be an asset to the squad at shortstop, with Scott Bricker returning to second base.

Competition for infield spots promised to be tough, with Brian Cheeseman, Mike Fifer, and Cowan challenging for starting positions.

With the loss of only Stone from the outfield, seniors Jeff Cousino and Steve Johnson will be expected to return as starters. Bryan Capnerhurst is in the running for the final berth, and will compete for the spot against Mike Von Behren, Marty McCarthy, Wall, Cowan, Landini, and Cheesman.

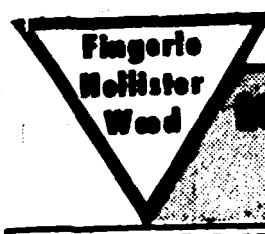

Canton begins its season Saturday, when it plays a doubleheader against Royal Oak Dondero at home at 4 p.m. The Chiefs have a tough, 23 game schedule ahead of them, featuring such squads as Harper Woods Bishop

Cruisers control swim meet

BY KEN VOYLES

Once again Plymouth-Canton and Belleville swim teams dominated the championships of the Western Wayne Aquatic Swim Conference.

Actually Belleville won last week's two-day swim event for boys and girls aged eight and under to 13-14, amassing 2,289 points. The Plymouth-Canton Cruisers Swim Club was second with 2,018 points, while Wayne was third and Willow Run fourth in the four-team league.

Eight age group trophies were also awarded to the team with the most points in each age group.

Plymouth-Canton won the boys eight and under and 11-12 age trophies, and the 9-10 girls title.

In the boys championships Don Harwood and Scott Swartzwelter paced the Cruisers with Harwood setting six team records and Swartzwelter five. The top 12 finishers in each event scored either a ribbon or medal.

Harwood won two events in the 11-12 age group, the 50-free and 50-back, while Swartzwelter won the 50-fly and was second in the 100-free in the 9-10 age.

Other individual firsts included Mark

Cruiser boys relay teams scored four firsts, in the eight and under 100-medley, 9-10 200-medley, 11-12 200-medley and the 11-12 free relay.

In the girls championships (last Wednesday) Jill Estey paced her teammates winning the 9-10 50-free and 50-back.

Other individual firsts in the girls races were Lori Shaffer in the 11-12 50-free, Maureen James in the eight and under 100-medley, Janet Roberts in the eight and under 25-back, Kristen Stackpoole in the eight and under 25-breast, Bev Gale in the eight and under 50-free, Katie Vesnaugh in the 9-10 100-free, Shannon Murphy in the 11-12 50-fly and Theresa in the 13-14 100 fly.

The girls were also first in the seven relay races including the eight and under 100-medley, 9-10 200-medley, 11-12, 200-medley, eight and under 100-free relay, 9-10 200-free, and the 11-12 200-free relay.

Defense and pitching will be the key factors in the success or failure of this spring's edition of Salem High mens baseball.

According to coach Brian Gilles, his squad will return 13 players from last year. "We will have a lot of depth in our defense and pitching," he said, "but we're still a fairly young ball club."

Gilles said he has a good group of returning hurlers, but that most need to be tested on the field before their final role on the team is decided.

"We'll still have a lot of young kids defensively and untested depth in pitching," Gilles said.

The top returning players for Salem this spring are Bill Culver and Joe Humphries. Both are seniors and among three tri-captains. Culver is a lefthanded pitcher and outfielder, while Humphries is a righthanded pitcher and third baseman.

Eight other Rocks are pitchers according to Gilles.

Among those are senior lefthander Greg Chapel, senior righthander Brian Kelly, senior John McDowell (also a swing man in the Salem infield), senior righthander Ken Vermeulen (also a first baseman), junior Pete Steyeart (also an outfielder), junior Barry McNamara, junior Dave Hout (also an outfielder) and sophomore Rick Berberet.

"We've been weak in pitching in the past. We happen to have a lot of guys in that area this year working hard at it," Gilles said.

Catching for Salem will be junior Dave Slavin with help from junior Frank Meade and senior tri-captain John Blanchard. Blanchard is also an outfielder.

At first base junior Dan Carlson, junior Bob DeBenedet and Tom Yakas are potential starters, said Gilles. Two are righthanded hitters, while Yakas is lefthanded. Yakas is also an outfielder and DeBenedet has a good chance of being Salem's designated hitter.

Junior Todd Riedel will play second base, with help from junior Mike Janovsky. Janovsky is also a third baseman.

Salem's most valuable player last year,

Mic Madsen, will start at shortstop.

Other potential third basemen for Salem include junior Jerry McMahon and senior Larry Lanphear.

Other outfielders include senior Jud Scott, senior Jeff Hubert and sophomore Mike Cindirch.

"Overall we are strong in team speed. We'll do some running if we're not way out of games," Gilles said. "Defense is sound and I hope the pitching is also. We hope to be consistent this year. Our pitchers need work on consistency and throwing strikes."

Gilles also wants his hitters to come through on a more consistent basis than last year. "Our infield should be consistent. We've been working hard in the areas we didn't do well last year like bunting or holding runners close to the bases.

The Rocks were fourth in the Suburban Eight League last year after seven years of being in the top two places. "Last year was very disappointing. We're hoping the club can climb back up to the top," said Gilles.

As for the conference Gilles said Belleville and Livonia Bentley (last year's first place teams) should be strong once again. He also said Trenton and Allen Park will have improved teams.

"I think we can have a good year if we work hard. What's hurting us right now is this frost," Gilles said. "If the frost doesn't leave by Wednesday (today) the stuff on top will turn to slick mud. It takes a day or two to dry."

The Rocks are scheduled to start play this afternoon against Trenton at home. Game time is 4 p.m. The condition of the Salem field, however, remains in doubt.

Rec nights at Field

Canton's Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring a recreation night for men on Wednesday nights starting April 7.

Recreation activities will include basketball and be held at Field Elementary School for $8 per person. Time is 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. The nights will run for eight weeks.

Canton All-leaguers named

A number of Canton High athletes who participated in winter sports were recently named to All-Western Six League teams.

Canton's wrestling squad, which won the Western Six League title for the second year in a row, had six all-league wrestlers on the first team, and three on the second team.

All wrestlers who won league titles were placed on the first team, while runners-up garnered second team honors.

Todd Gattoni, Todd Bartlett, Tim Collins, Brian Lee, Steve Hamblin, and Marty Heaton all won their weight classes, contributing to the Chiefs narrow victory over conference runners-up, Walled Lake Western.

For Bartlett and Lee it was their second consecutive individual title. It was Hamblin's second in three years.

Runners-up for Canton included Scott Rodgers, Kevin Decker, and Brett Haarald.

Canton coach Dan Chrenko commented about the teams league champs, saying "We needed every one of them."

Canton High's men's basketball squad, which finished with a 4-17 record on the year, also managed to place three players with all-league status.

co-captains, was named to the first team, while senior Tommy Harris, the squad's other captain, was voted to the second team.

Junior forward Ron Rienas, one of Canton's top scorers later in the season, was an honorable mention.

"I was really happy for Matt and Tommy," said Canton coach Dave VanWagoner. As for Rienas, VanWagoner added, "I was glad to see Ron named honorable mention. He should be a fine player next year."

Canton's men's swim team, which finished second in the Western Six League, had several all-league players named.

All individual swimmers, as well as relays, which placed first at the league meet were automatically named all-league.

Peter Stern, Bob Lewelling, Jim Luce, and Bob Simone were all awarded all-league for their individual firsts, as were the squad's two relays.

Lewelling, Jim and John Luce, and Stern won the 200-yard medley relay, while Scott Simmons, Matt Krawzak, Greg Schnurstein, and Simone won the 400-yard free relay.

"It wasn't easy for any of them," said Canton coach Bill McCord. "All of our swimmers had to win close races."

Metroparks offer outdoor fun

Spring is one of the most popular seasons for a visit to the Nature Centers at three Huron-Clinton Metroparks - Stony Creek, Kensington and Oakwoods Metroparks.

Each Nature Center features exhibits, games and live displays to enhance the enjoyment of nature. Naturalists are also on duty to answer questions. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday during the school year and 1-5 p.m. during weekdays. Summer hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Nature trails are also available at each site from half a mile to two miles. Also programs are offered almost weekly at all Huron-Clinton centers.

For information about weekly events and other items of interest call 781-4621 to reach Stony Creek, 685-1561 to reach Kensington and 697-9181 to reach Oakwoods. Stony Creek is in Romeo, Kensington is near Milford and Oakwoods is near Flat Rock.

Canton golf squad cancelled

Due to a lack of interest and student-athlete participation the Canton High School womens golf squad has been cancelled as a spring sport this year.

According to Centennial Education Park Athletic Director John Sandmann, the decision was discussed with all concerned parties and was mutually agreed upon.

All high schools involved on the Canton golf schedule have been notified and understand the necessity of the cancellation, according to Sandmann.

Improved pitching to spark Rocks

BY KEN VOYLES

Last year Salem High's womens softball squad suffered from a chronic shortage of good pitching.

This year, second year coach Rob Willette has made a vow with himself that his team's pitching will improve, it has too, in fact, for this year's team to succeed in the final year of the Suburban Eight League conference.

"We'll have a better record this year just because I'm not going to put up with so much nonsense on the pitching mound," Willette said. "The pitching really hurt us last year but we're gonna be better this year because I'll make it that way."

Salem's pitching crew thus far consists of senior Lori Jarski and juniors Diane Murphy and Leslie Etienne. Murphy came up from the junior varisty late last year and gained Willette's confidence as a full time starter.

"I'm happy when Diane is pitching," Willette said. "Jarski is probably the hardest thrower in the Sub 8 but she has had control problems which she is trying to overcome."

The co-captains for Salem this year are seniors Jeanne Papa, shortstop, and Bonnie Southerland, outfielder.

The Rocks are slated to open their season this afternoon, with an away game at Suburban Eight League foe Trenton's diamond. Game time is 4 p.m.

The rest of Willette's line-up for today's game includes junior Sarah McKenna at first base, senior Mary Kay Munding at second base, and Kelly Strautz at third base.

Willette said his outfield is still up for grabs. Among those vying for the positions, besides Southerland, are sophomore Cheryl Viele and Amy Sidorsky and juniors Dawn Henning and Lynne Gamache. Junior Mary Pryslak will catch for the Rocks.

"We haven't been able to get outside much. We've had a little batting practice," Willette said. "Our infield looks pretty solid but in the outfield Bonnie is the only one I'm sure of."

As for the conference Livonia Bentley will be the team to beat again, said Willette. "They have all sorts of hitters. They lost they're one good pitcher from last year and if they can't replace her we'll be able to at least stay in some games with them," he said.

As for today's game, Willette said he'd rather not play it. "If this weather keeps up I just don't see playing the game."

If the game is postponed the Rocks won't take to the field again until April 20 when they travel to Dearborn Edsel Ford for a 4 p.m. game.

Community Ed. dept., Coast Guard, to offer safe boating class

The Plymouth-Canton Community Education Department, in cooperation with the United States Coast Guard Auxillary, is offering an eight hour course on safe boating.

The course is designed for 12-16 year old students so they can earn a Safe Boating Certificate which enables them to operate a motor boat without adult supervision. Parents are welcome to monitor the class.

Classes will be held on Tuesdays, starting April 20 and running April 27, May 4 and May 11, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Canton High in Room 120.

To register call the Community Education office at 459-1180 for April 19. There is no charge for the classes.

Junior football registration

Registration for the Plymouth-Canton Junior Football Association will be held April 24, May 8 and May 22.

The PCJFA fields three teams, the Lions, Steelers and the Warriors. The Lions and Steelers each have freshman, junior varisty and varsity squads. The Warriors is a seniors team.

Registration for returning veterans will be held on the 24th at Canton High's Phase III facility. Open registration will be held on the two May dates at the Canton High cafeteria.

Registration will be from 9 a.m. to noon on all three dates.

For further information call Tammy Brand at 459-6347.

Salem netters slated to begin Sub 8 season today

BY KEN VOYLES

First year Salem High mens tennis coach Judy Braun is hoping for rain today.

"If it rains Wednesday we'll be so much better off," said Braun. "Between injuries and players out of town we won't be able to field a full squad for the first match."

That match is slated for this afternoon at 4 p.m. on Salem's home courts at CEP against Suburban Eight League foe Trenton.

Braun has 16 players out for this spring's team, including all of the members of last year's team except for one.

Tri-captains this year are Dave Goodsir, Jeff Howell and Jack Thomas, all seniors. Howell will be out at least three more weeks with a broken hand.

The rest of the team includes Jeff Armstrong, Jeff Bar, Jim Belanger, Jeff Fortin, Greg Grytza, Rob Rowland, Charlie Ploughman, Mark Purcell, John Stylianov, Paul Weber, John Wimmer, Kevin Hewitt and Peter Iverson, an exchange student from Denmark. Fortin has a broken foot bone and will also be out at least three more weeks.

"We haven't been able to get many matches in against each other so we have no true indications of our line-up. The group we use Wednesday will not necessarily be our true line-up," Braun said.

Braun, Salem coach of the womens tennis team, said she feels much in the same position she was in with her womens squad last fall in terms of the line-up problems at the start of the new season.

"So far I think we'll have a fairly strong singles line-up," Braun said. "At this time we also have strength in our attitude. The team is trying hard to work out. We have a good conditioning program right now."

Braun added, if nothing else her squad will out last the other teams on the court.

"The boys seem to think we have a pretty good chance in the league," said Braun.

If today's match is cancelled the Rocks will play again April 20 at home against Dearborn Edsel Ford at 4 p.m.

Monday snowstorm may set back opening days

Monday's blizzard will no doubt wreak havoc upon those Salem and Canton High School spring sports teams expecting to kick off their seasons this week.

Both the Salem and Canton baseball teams are expected to start this week, with the Rocks playing this afternoon against at home against Trenton and Canton playing this Saturday at home against Royal Oak Dondero.

Also slated for this afternoon is a Salem womens softball match against Trenton, at Trenton, and a Salem mens tennis match at home against Trenton.

In talking with Salem and Canton coaches for The Crier's previews this week, most revealed a wish not to start their seasons this week, especially because of poor field conditions on the ball diamonds.

25th reunion planned

Plans are underway for the 25th Class Reunion of members of the Plymouth High School Class of 1957.

The reunion is scheduled for July 3. Class members desiring more information can call 453-5576 or 459-2622.

The recent thawings and freezings of the ground have left baseball coaches in particular worried over the condition of their fields.

Gallagher, Fraser, Flint Southwestern, and Salem High as well as South Bend Clay in Indiana, and the always-tough Midland Tournament.

Far from being tentative about his teams schedule, Crissey anxiously awaits it, saying "It's not how many games you win, but who you play, and how you do."

Crissey foresees a four-team race for the Western Six title, with Livonia Churchill, Walled Lake Western, and Farmington Harrison all well in the running.

Churchill possesses one of the finer pitchers in the area in Billy Gavin, and Western and Harrison "will be looking for us," says Crissey.

A final factor in the Chiefs season will be the tradition that Crissey's previous teams have established. "They're playing from a tradition of success," said Crissey, "they have a lot of things to live up to."

Spring previews

Preview articles covering spring sports teams at the high schools will be featured in next week's edition of the Crier.

Salem tracksters will highlight spring sports for the Rocks, as both the male and female thindlads will be previewed. The women, coached by Scott Kurtz, and the men, coached by Gary Balconi, will have their squads looked at in depth, as well as an overview of the coming track season.

At Canton High, the varsity softball team will be previewed, along with the womens' track squad. The thindlads, coached by Bob Richardson, begin their season on Tuesday, April 20, as do coach Max Somerville's Chief softballers. Look for these and other previews in upcoming editions of the Crier

High and at the varsity ball diamond. Contact Al Dawson a 453-3077 for information.

The team will play in the Northwest Suburban Amateur Baseball Federation.

Dawson said at least four positions will be open.

A man who chose not to subscribe to The Plymouth-Canton Community Crier sent his little boy to borrow his neighbor's copy. In his haste, the boy ran over an $80 hive of bees and in ten minutes he looked like a warty squash.

His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barbed wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy as well as ruining a pair of $40 trousers.

The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and killed herself eating green corn.

Hearing the racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn of cream into a basket of chicks, drowning the entire batch. In her haste she dropped a $135 set of false teeth, which the family dog buried thinking it was a new type of bone.

The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the spilled cream and into the parlor ruining a $500 carpet. During the excitement, the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, a stray dog broke up eleven setting hens, the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts on the clothes line and the cat had a batch of kittens.

All this just to save 25 cents.

And in this case, the poor guy never did get to read that week's edition.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
BOARD OF TRUSTEES - SPECIAL MEETING
TUESDAY, MARCH 30, 1982

The meeting was called to order by Supervisor Breen at 7:35 p.m., followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All members were present.

Mr. West moved approval of the agenda as submitted. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all.

Representatives of Plante & Moran, Mark Chmeliewski and Joseph Heffernan reviewed the qualified audit reports for the Township's General Fund and Water and Sewer Department submitted by their firm for the 1981 year.

Mrs. Hulsing moved the following Resolution:

It being necessary to determine the intergovernmental service charges between the Water and Sewer fund of the Township and the General Fund of the Township.

BE IT RESOLVED, that effective January 1, 1982 the General Fund of the Charter Township of Plymouth shall pay to the Water and Sewer Fund of the Charter Township of Plymouth an intergovernmental service charge for the purpose of reimbursing the Water and Sewer Fund for payroll, equipment and other costs that relate to the General Fund. Said charge is to be computed as 20% of the Department of Public Works Superintendent's salary and fringe benefits plus 10% of the wages and fringe benefits of all other non-clerical Department of Public Works employees, and it is to be received annually by the Board of Trustees.

FURTHERMORE, the Water and Sewer Fund shall bill the Township General Fund $1,000 per month in anticipation of these costs and will render a full invoice (or credit) each year, after the final balance is computed for the year and credit computed for previously invoiced amounts. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Roll Call: Ayes: Hulsing, West, Lynch, Fidge, Pruner, Law, Breen. Nays: None. Resolution adopted.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth adopt the amended budget with revised revenues of $2,713,311 and revised total expenditures of $2,931,674 with an anticipated deficit of $218,363 thus necessitating the use of that amount from the accumulated available unappropriated surplus of $389,802 leaving a projected surplus of $170,939 as an activity budget with the return to the Board for consideration of any item exceeding the budgeted amount by $2,000.00. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Roll Call: Ayes: Hulsing, Lynch, Pruner, Law, Fidge, Breen. Nays: West. Amended Budget declared adopted.

Mrs. Fidge moved the following resolution:

It being the desire of the Board to eliminate inactive bank accounts, and

WHEREAS, the Water and Sewer Fund receiving checking account has been inactive and is deemed unnecessary,

NOW THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Charter Township of Plymouth close its Water and Sewer Fund Checking Account (#0009-1033-1) held at Michigan National Bank. Supported by Mr. Law. Roll Call: Ayes: Hulsing, Fidge, Law, Lynch, Pruner, West, Breen. Nays: None. Resolution adopted.

(f) Consideration of Increasing Water & Sewer Rates.

Mr. Hollis reviewed the alternatives with the Board of Trustees relative to the increases of 10% in water rates and 4% in sewer rates received from the Detroit Water and Sewer Department effective June 1st, 1982. The accountants from Plante & Moran commented on the requirement of the Township to run a cost efficient program. The accumulated increases over the years have resulted for the first time in a net decrease in the Department's working capital over a years time.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth increase the Water Rates from $.72 per 1,000 gallons to $.82 per 1,000 gallons and increase the sewer rates from $.69 per 1,000 gallons to $.73 per 1,000 gallons to be effective June 1, 1982 in accordance with the billing procedures. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.

Mrs. Fidge moved that the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Plymouth accept the Audit Report for the 1981 General Fund and Audit Report for the 1981 Water and Sewer Fund as presented by Plante & Moran. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Ayes all.
