Merchant protest sinks City deck assessment plan?

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Downtown Plymouth merchants and property owners spoke resoundingly Monday night against a city-proposed assessment plan drawn up to raise the $40,000 annual maintenance costs for the Central Lot parking deck.

Shopkeepers and owners packed a Plymouth City Commission public hearing called to discuss the assessment plan and told commissioners they preferred a 25-cent daily charge to enter the Central Lot deck.

"Looking at it from a layman's standpoint, I think (the assessment plan) is very unfair and unequitable," said Pam Armstrong of Hugs and Kisses, a nursery school on Main St.

"I don't think people would object to paying 25 cents to park," said Marj Showalter of the Fabric Shoppe, also on Main Street.

The assessment plan was drawn up by the Plymouth Parking Commission and would assess downtown property based on nearness to the deck and the number of parking spaces currently provided by the property owners.

The City Commission will decide at its next meeting whether to call a required second public hearing on the assessment plan, or vote instead to install gates and charge a 25-cent parking fee, said City Manager Henry Graper.

After listening to the assessment plan's opposition during the 95-minute public hearing, city officials say the commission may choose the latter.

"Obviously, if the people who are affected are against the assessment plan, that has to have a big impact on the city commission," said Mayor David Pugh.

Graper said the city's projections show the 25-cent gate charge would raise approximately $40,000 annually. The $40,000 would pay for snow removal, electricity, sweeping, insurance and other maintenance costs of the structure, Graper said.

The merchants and property owners spoke nearly unanimously against the assessment plan, which divided the downtown business district into five rings. Properties in each ring would be charged a percentage of the $40,000 ranging from 36 per cent or $14,400 in Ring 1, to six per cent in Ring 5.

The owner of the Penn Theatre told the commission she didn't want to increase the cost of an admission ticket but "I can't afford to pay the assessment without passing the cost on to the customer."

Jim McKeon, who owns property along Main Street, said he had at first supported the assessment plan but changed his mind.

McKeon said he backed 25-cent parking in the deck but said because of increased competition for customers with area malls, paid parking was only a temporary solution.

"We're going to have to face up to the fact that sooner or later, we will have to offer free parking" to compete with the malls, he said.

McKeon also said he was happy that the deck had been completed two months ahead of schedule and in time for this year's Fall Festival.

Ralph Lorenz, owner of the Mayflower Hotel and other downtown properties, said he didn't think it was fair that downtown merchants would have to "pass the hat" to pay for free parking for Central Lot merchants.

"What's 25 cents to people these days?" he added.

Merchant Bill Armbruster suggested the city commission set up 25-cent central lot parking for a one-year trial period.

Merchants, citizens and property owners took the opportunity to air complaints they had about the two-month old deck.

Some complained of the drinking and rowdiness of youths on the deck and around the entire downtown area and vandalism on cars parked on the deck.

Graper said the city had installed lights on the deck and would also install cameras around the deck which would be

Canton's Cherry Hill seeks National Register

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

It all began in 1825 with a blacksmith shop, a school, a church and a name - Cherry Hill.

The little village at the crossroads of Cherry Hill and Ridge roads grew, collecting an unusual assortment of businesses and people along the way. An inn, a general store, later a hotel and dormitory brought life to the area. A stage coach stop in 1860 brought the community into the bustling world of transportation and later the last of Henry Ford's cottage industries would be established there, welding the village to a by-then growing automobile industry.

Now this little area of Canton Township which has thrived for over 150 years is entering yet another phase in its history. The Canton Township Board of Trustees, through the efforts of two Eastern Michigan University graduate students, has asked the State of Michigan to place the village of Cherry Hill on the National Historical Register.

EMU's John Tobin and Diane Wilson, Canton history buffs and co-authors of

The Canton Sesquicentennial Time Capsule newspaper edition, have begun the process of getting 26 structures in the village area placed on the National Register. Tobin said an earlier attempt to place the village on the Register failed when too many property owners in the area were against the idea.

"People were afraid they wouldn't be able to do anything to their property if they were placed on the Register," Tobin said. "There are no restrictions on property owners who become listed on the Register, however."

Tobin said 22 conforming historical structures and four nonconforming structures will be included in the historic district if it is established. Conformance is based upon guidelines established for the National Historic Register.

A preliminary application to consider the village for historical designation has already been submitted to the Michigan History Division, Tobin said. Although Tobin and Wilson hope to place Cherry Hill on the National Historical Register, the process involves state approval of the site as well.

Tobin said if the state accepts the

7th bike path assault occurs

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

In what have become the sixth and seventh sexual attacks to take place on the I-275 bike path in the last two and a half months, Canton Police reported that two women riding on the path over the weekend were sexually assaulted in separate incidents.

The attacks have all taken place on the I-275 bike path; the first such incident was reported early in June.

Sergeant Alex Wilson of the Canton police said the incidents both occurred at 4:10 p.m. Wilson said the first attack occurred on Saturday, the second on Sunday.

Wilson said the victim in the Saturday attack was a 22-year-old female from Belleville. Wilson said she was northbound on the bike path when the

Kids creating City havoc

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Downtown Plymouth has become a popular hangout for area youth and the trend has caused a few problems for Plymouth police.

"Last summer was the worst I had ever seen and this summer it's even worse," said Plymouth Police Chief Ralph White, referring to problems caused by some youths in the downtown area.

White named the problems specifically as drag racing on Main Street and drinking and noise complaints near the Tonquish Creek walkway, Kellogg Park and the newly-completed Central Parking Deck.

White said his department lacks the manpower to effectively patrol the Tonquish Creek walkway but said police "close Kellogg Park two or three times a night."

He said tickets issued to downtown "drag racers" show most offenders come from out of town.

"They're usually not locals but others who like to come to Plymouth," White said.

He said while the parking deck is a natural place for kids to congregate, there haven't been many complaints about activity there. Because of the visibility of entrances and quick exits on the deck, patrolling is difficult for police.

White said he has concerns about crime during Fall Festival, in light of the downtown problems.

4 shots fired in burglary

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Canton Police fired four shots at two suspects fleeing an attempted burglary at the Cracker Barrel Party Center, 41741 Ford Rd. in Canton, Saturday morning. The suspects later escaped from police on foot, Sergeant Alex Wilson of the Canton police said.

Wilson said officers responded to an alarm at the store at approximately 1:12 a.m. When they arrived at the scene, Wilson said they found the suspects' brown '75 Oldsmobile pushed through the front doors of the business.

Wilson said the police officers saw two male suspects flee from the store and get into the car. Officer Robert vanLith of the department fired four shots at the suspects' vehicle in an attempt to blow up one of the car's tires. Wilson said vanLith did not hit the tires, however, and the suspects escaped east on Ford Rd.

Police chased the suspects onto southbound I-275 to a location south of Palmer Rd., Wilson said. The suspect's vehicle crossed over the median and into the northbound lanes of 275 where it spun out of control.

Wilson said the suspects fled their car and escaped on foot. Although tracking dogs were used at the scene, Wilson said the dogs lost the track of the suspects near Lotz Rd. and the suspects escaped. Police have no description of the suspects at this time.

Wilson said the suspects did not take anything from the store but were attempting to steal cigarettes. The vehicle was reported as stolen out of Detroit.

Commission nixes zoning; residents, company battle

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

It was standing room only and majority rules last Wednesday as dozens of critics of a proposed shopping center on Ann Arbor Road packed the Plymouth Township Planning Commission meeting and heard the commission vote unanimously against the project.

Those who arrived early enough for the meeting and were lucky enough to get a seat or space to stand, heard arguments against and for the project, including a 45-minute presentation by its would-be developers, the Selective Group, of Birmingham.

The critics were vindicated about an hour and a half later as the planning commission voted 6-0 against a zoning change proposed by the developers. The developers had sought to have some 13.3 acres on which they proposed to build a shopping center, rezoned from its current R-1 single-family residential to C-3 general commercial.

Opponents of the project -- mostly residents of subdivisions near Ann Arbor and Haggerty roads -- said they were happy with the meeting's outcome but said they would continue to monitor the project and others like it proposed for the parcel.

"I plan to keep notes on the meeting -- and especially on what the planning commission members said," said Robert A. Zaetta, president of the Arbor Village Homeowners Association. "I'll hold them to their words."

David Horowitz, president of the Selective Group said he would appear before the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees when they vote on the proposed zoning change. The planning commission makes recommendations to the board of trustees on planning matters while the trustees make the final decision.

Horowitz said the Selective Group has an agreement to buy a 13.3 acre parcel from the land's current owner Don Massey, but the sale is contingent upon a

"We're very, very skeptical about promises and that's why we showed up in force."

— Robert A. Zaetta

zoning change from residential to commercial.

Homeowners near the project circulated a petition against the development and presented it to the planning commission with 430 signatures.

The petition cited five concerns including unwanted increased traffic near homes and schools, negative financial and environmental impacts and increased crime rates, if the center was built.

Zaetta, representing the Homeowners groups at the meeting, said traffic on Ann Arbor Road makes it difficult to leaving the subdivision and said the development would increase traffic problems.

Zaetta said the development would increase crime and traffic around Allen School, located on Haggerty Road. Zaetta said the development would decrease property values on nearby homes and would create a "patchwork" look to Ann Arbor Road which would eventually deteriorate.

"We're very, very skeptical about promises and that's why we showed up in force," said Zaetta, about residents in Arbor Village and others who showed up for the meeting.

"The important thing is that the township has organized a master plan and Future Land Use map. We felt the proposed development flagrantly violated both and if you keep making exceptions, the whole thing would go right out the window."

"I'll fight like hell for what I believe in but I'm not going to run away if I lose."

— David Horowitz

Another opponent of the proposed development is Bill Nipp. Nipp said he, with the help of neighbors involved in the Neighborhood Watch program, helped to distribute the petitions and record signatures.

Horowitz, speaks of the development in present tense, calling it a "first class project." He says there is support in the township for a shopping center at Ann Arbor and Haggerty roads.

"I try to stress the fact that we're not in for a hit and run here," Horowitz said later. "I'll fight like hell for what I believe in but I'm not going to run away if I lose."

A traffic specialist, hired to study by Selective to study traffic patterns on Ann Arbor Road, told the planning commission that Ann Arbor Road, with some minor improvements, could handle the increased traffic resulting from the shopping center.

The township has designated -- purposely or not -- Ann Arbor Road as its commercial zone and he says the parcel should be rezoned commercial to go along with the road's designation, Horowitz said.

In the end, the planning commission sited various reasons in voting against the project. Commissioner Donald Skinner said the proposed zoning change goes against the township's Future Land Use map.

"The township has chosen to limit commercial developments and remain a residential community," said commission chair Richard Gornick.

Commissioner Barbara Lynch said the township would see little of the $120,000 to $150,000 annual tax revenues Horowitz said the project would produce.

"The township would realize maybe $7,000 of that," said Lynch, who also sits on the board of trustees.

Commissioner Abe Munfakh sited the Selective Group's "track record" in the township. The developers are currently building a office building, also on Ann Arbor Road, east of Main Street.

"I drove by that development today," Munfakh told Horowitz. "and I'm disappointed to the way you treated the land."

PSO discussion delayed, reset for a later date

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper said he hopes to present the concept of public safety organization (PSO) in Plymouth to the city commission within 30 days.

Graper had said early he would present a PSO plan to the commission in time for Monday's commission meeting but PSO was not on the commission's agenda Monday.

Graper, who returned from a two-week vacation Monday, said he didn't have time to put the package together for this week's commission meeting.

Graper said he will meet today or tomorrow with city labor attorney Ron Acho to discuss legal issues involved in PSO and the city's contracts with police and fire unions.

PSO plans generally combine police and fire departments into one public safety department. Graper has said he would favor cross training of city firefighters and police officers.

"I'm going to present PSO as a concept to the city commission in written form" in two weeks to a month, Graper said.

Graper said he is waiting on a combined PSO report from former city fire chief Roy Hall -- who the city is paying as a PSO consultant, fire chief Al Matthews and police chief Ralph White.

Graper said previous plans to present PSO to the city commission had been altered slightly after the Plymouth Firefighters Union had met and agreed to discuss cross-training. Graper said he expected the fire union to oppose cross-training.

Both police and fire union officials said they have adopted a "wait and see" attitude toward PSO in Plymouth.

Fall Fest changes Crier dates

The Fall Festival edition of The Community Crier will be coming out on Wednesday, Sept. 5. Because of the size of that week's paper early advertising and editorial deadlines have been set.

The deadlines are as follows: classified ads, news items and what's happenings are due in the office by 5 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 30. The deadline for display ads is tentatively set for Wednesday, Aug. 29. The display ad deadline may be moved up to an earlier date because of space and time limitations.

Carrier collections are due in the office Saturday, Aug. 25. The office will be open that Saturday only between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The Crier offices will be closed Monday, Sept. 3 for Labor Day, and Friday, Sept. 7 for the Fall Festival.

Motion by Larson, supported by Sterlini and unanimously carried to establish the following tentative millages for the 1984 tax year:

GENERAL FUND	2.00
FIRE FUND	3.06
POLICE FUND	4.07
	9.13

Motion by Padget, supported by Bennett and carried to adopt the following resolution:

WHEREAS, the Charter Township of Canton has been requested to execute the attached North Huron-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System Service Agreement; and

WHEREAS, all engineering reports indicate that the Charter Township of Canton is currently exceeding its contracted sewage discharge capacity; and

WHEREAS, the County of Wayne and Michigan Department of Natural Resources has indicated that unless this proposed contract is signed on or before August 15, 1984, the North Huron-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System project will be bypassed on the funding priority list; and

WHEREAS, unless a project is approved and certified on or before October 1, 1984, the Federal funding participation will be reduced from 75% to 55%; and

WHEREAS, the following concerns have been raised regarding this proposed contract;

- That the engineering design criteria is premised upon a five year storm frequency which is normally used only for storm drainage facilities, and not the combined storm-sanitary sewers found in this particular service area.
- That the City of Detroit does not have sufficient sewer capacity to handle the additional flows generated from this area.
- That it appears that additional costly capital improvements will be necessary to effectuate this proposed system.
- That there has never been a complete cost effective analysis between the proposed project and the original Huron Valley Wastewater Control System.
- That the proposed system fails to have a facility plan as is required by Federal regulation.
- That the proposed system might have a significant adverse impact upon the environment.

WHEREAS, the Charter Township of Canton has been informed that unless it participates in the proposed system, a sewer extension permit ban would be imposed which would result in a total growth curtailment within the Township and that violations may be issued for emergency pumping from the system, which currently occurs.

NOW, THEREFORE in consideration of all the foregoing, and being cognizant of the devastating impact of the threatened sewer ban upon this community, and subject to all of the above reservations, the Board of Trustees of the Charter Township of Canton hereby reluctantly authorizes its officers to execute the proposed North Huron-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System Service Agreement.

Yes: Bennett, Flodin, Larson, Padget. No: Poole, Sterlini.
Motion by Sterlini, supported by Flodin and unanimously carried to adjourn at 9:16 p.m.
James E. Poole Supervisor

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH BOARD OF TRUSTEES - REGULAR MEETING AUGUST 14, 1984 SYNOPSIS OF THE OFFICIAL MINUTES

Supervisor Breen called the meeting to order at 7:35 P.M. and led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. All members were present.

Mrs. Lynch moved that the Board of Trustees go into an Executive Session for the purposes of discussing the lawsuit concerning the Huron Valley-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System. Supported by Mr. Pruner. Ayes all on a roll call vote, except Mrs. Fidge who voted no.

Supervisor Breen closed the meeting at 7:40 P.M. and the Board went into Executive Session. The meeting was opened at 8:08 P.M. Supervisor Breen noted that there was no action taken at the Executive Session and returned to merely outline the problems involved in litigation and the Board is ready to go back to the item at hand for discussion. Mrs. Fidge did not attend the closed Executive Session.

Mr. Pruner moved that the Board of Trustees, for the Charter Township of Plymouth, adopted the affirmative resolution, Resolution No. 84-8-14-34 which basically reads: BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED: TAHT, the Charter Township of Plymouth Board of Trustees hereby authorizes the Township Clerk to execute the Service Agreement with Wayne County providing for the participation of the Charter Township of Plymouth in the combined North Huron Valley-Rouge Valley Wastewater Control System at an estimated cost of $1.9 million dollars (local share) to provide an additional 15.95 cfs in sewer capacity, currently anticipated to meet the Charter Township of Plymouth sewer capacity needs through the year 2025. Supported by Mrs. Fidge. Ayes all on a roll call vote.

Mrs. Hulsing moved that the request for Press Box Tavern, Inc. (formerly known as Copper Coin Restaurant) for transfer of ownership for 1984 Class C License business located at 1507 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, MI 48170, Plymouth Township, Wayne County from Dick and Dan, Inc. to be considered for approval. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all on a roll call vote. Resolution No. 84-8-14-33 was approved.

*Resolutions 84-8-14-33 and 84-8-14-34 are on file in the Clerk's Office.

The Board of Trustees reviewed and discussed the budgets as submitted by the various departments. Supervisor Breen said the Board does not have to adopt the Water and Sewer Budget until December. It is only the General Fund Budget that has to be recommended by the Supervisor by September 1 and has to be adopted by the Township Board.

The Board will further discuss the General Fund Budget at its next meeting, August 28, 1984. Mrs. Hulsing moved to adjourn the meeting. Supported by Mr. West. Ayes all.
Meeting adjourned at 9:35 P.M.

Esther Hulsing, Clerk

BALLOONS, FLOWERS and plenty of welcoming smiles greeted visitors who stopped at the corner of Sheldon and Joy roads Aug. 15. The Canton Beautification Committee officially dedicated their 'Welcome to Canton' sign amid speeches, pomp and lots of pride. Committee Chairman Donna Belzer, Canton Supervisor James Poole, Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen and City Commissioner and Plymouth Beautification Chairman Mary Childs were on hand to fete the occasion. Committee members worked throughout March, April, May and June to have the sign put in. Many civic groups and businesses donated time or money towards the project. (Crier photo by Chris Boyd)

Canton millages proposed

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

The Canton Board of Trustees tentatively agreed not to raise police or fire millages in the 1985 budget above their current 1984 levels at the Aug. 14 board meeting.

The agreement, a formality required by law in order to inform the public of the millage levels being considered, will be further discussed at a public hearing on township budgets set for Sept. 11. The agreement does not bind the board to adopt these millage levels, but Canton Finance Director Mike Gorman indicated these are the millage levels the board will consider that evening.

The current 1984 police department millage is set at 4.07 mills, while the fire department millage is 3.06. Gorman said the police department millage was increased in 1984 from its previous 3.40 mills to 4.07. The fire department millage has not been increased in Canton since 1976 when the second fire station was built in the township.

The board also voted to keep the general fund millage at its 1984 level of 2 mills. A total millage package of 9.13 mills will be considered by the board at the September meeting.

Gorman told the board setting tentative millages higher than what will be levied in September is not a problem because the board can choose to lower them. But Gorman said raising the millage rate in September would require the board to set up a new public hearing for the increase.

The tentative operating budget for police department for 1985 has been set at approximately $2.1 million; the 1985 fire department budget has been set at approximately $1.6 million.

Canton Police Chief Jerry Cox had recommended to the board the 1985 police millage be increased from 4.07 to 4.37. In an preliminary budget statement submitted to the board, Cox said the 1984 police department budget was estimated at $2 million while the 1985 budget was expected to increase to the $2.1 million figure.

Cox said the elimination of several new proposed police positions in the department would lower the budget enough to justify a reduced millage of 4.015 in 1985. He has proposed that two sergeants, three police officers, approximately four dispatchers, a secretary and a clerk be added to the department in 1985.

Auction coupon a bill bonus

Not everything bad comes with a bill -- and Omnicom of Michigan is out to prove that this month with its customers.

Omnicom is the cable television network for The Plymouth-Canton Community. Subscribers will receive a coupon in their September bills worth $1.50 off any single bid for an item during the Canton 150 Fund Auction to be held Sept. 28 and 29.

The auction is an Omnicom sponsored event patterned after the televised auctions seen on channel 56. Money raised from the auction will go to the Canton 150 Fund to help fund Sesquicentennial events for the remainder of the year. Money left in the fund at the end of the year will be used for historical, recreational or educational purposes in the township.

The Sesqui-buck, as the coupon is called by Omnicom personnel, has been enclosed in the bills to remind residents throughout the Omnicom viewing area to tune in and bid on the many bargains which will be available through the auction. Among those items are plane rides, professional tutoring, a strip-gram, a painting, six weeks of unlimited aerobic lessons, dinners, a deli party tray and a blood pressure machine.

Auction chairman and Omnicom Program Director Suzanne Skubick said the company wanted to promote the auction. "We thought it would be a nice idea to give $1.50 off on one item bid per coupon to celebrate Canton's 150th birthday. This extra incentive is available to our subscribers through their billing."

Skubick said those who don't have cable but intend to watch the auction on a friend's set can pick up a Sesqui-buck at the Omnicom office on Ronda Drive.

Skubick said the auction is beginning to roll, but many items are still needed to fill the six auction boards for the sale. Skubick said 30 items are needed for each hour the auction goes on.

"We hope to go at least 10 hours during this auction so we still need many more items," she said. Businesses and individuals interested in donating new items to the auction with a minimum value of $25 or a service may call Skubick at 459-7306.

Sell your crafts, treasures

Are your closets bulging with items you no longer use? Would you like to discover some hidden storage space? Well, now is the time to put those unused, but still good, items to work for you.

Come sell them along with your crafts at the End of Season - Craft Fair and Garage Sale 4-H is sponsoring on Sept. 8. This huge Garage Sale will take place on the beautiful grounds of the Wayne County Extension from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

If you are interested in selling your treasures, call the Wayne Extension Office (721-6576) to request a dealer registration form. But, if you have no treasures to part with, come and find the bargain you just can't pass up!

Sidewalks on school hit list

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Three areas currently without sidewalks have been designated as "priority" by the Plymouth-Canton School administration and efforts will be made this year to get sidewalks so children in those areas may walk to school.

Discussion on the lack of sidewalks in some parts of the community came up several weeks ago when the board was approving "safety busing" routes. In some areas where there are no sidewalks children are bused to school -- even if they live within the one and one-half mile legal walking distance -- because of safety concerns.

The school safety committee, in their recommendations for safety busing, noted that in many areas of the district the construction of sidewalks would eliminate the need for busing.

The school board decided to designate one spot in each community a priority for the year and work with local municipal officials and other sources to get the sidewalks in. The board instructed Dale Goby, director of transportation and safety, to look over the safety committees comments and prioritize sites.

The City of Plymouth, due to its age and city-atmosphere, has sidewalks on almost all streets. No priority was listed for the City.

In Plymouth Township, Goby listed an area near Bird Elementary School as the priority. A distance of 887 feet, located on the north side of Ann Arbor Trail between Beacon Hill Drive and Pinecrest, could have sidewalks constructed for about $8,000, not including any land purchases or major excavation work.

This year, 69 students from that area were bused that could have walked if a sidewalk had been there. The average cost per student annually for busing is $163.76, Goby said, meaning the annual cost to transport those students is about $11,230. Because those students are within one and one-half miles of Bird, the school district is charged a penalty (taken out of their transportation reimbursement) of $2,807.

In Canton Township, an area within walking distance of Gallimore Elementary School has been chosen as the 1984 priority. The location which needs a sidewalk is on the west side of Sheldon Road between school property and Windmill Street, and on the west side of Sheldon Road from Sheldon Center to the church sidewalk.

The two stretches total 1,535 linear feet. Cost, not including sidewalk over right-of-way for Sheldon Center or party store area, would be $13,825 approximately.

Goby said 48 students in this area rode the bus last year that could have walked if a sidewalk had been in. Using the district average, the cost for the year to transport these students was $7,812 and the reimbursement penalty for transporting ineligible pupil was $1,953 annually.

In Livonia, an area near Lowell Middle School could be sidewalked and save the district money on transportation costs. Plymouth-Canton Schools rents the Lowell building from Livonia Schools and it is in the Livonia city limits. Goby said 266 middle school students from our district live within one and one-half miles and could walk if there were sidewalks in that area of Livonia.

The area is on the north side of Joy Road between Pere Street and Hix Road, and the north side of Joy Road between Hix and Tavistock. The total distance of 4,065 linear feet could be constructed for about $35,500 not including land purchase and major excavation, Goby said.

The schools are spending an average of about $43,300 a year to transport those middle school students by bus, Goby said. The reimbursement penalty for transporting those non-eligible students was $10,823 last year.

School officials agreed that the township governments should be approached to see if sidewalks can be added in those two areas.

The board discussed paying for the sidewalk construction in the priority areas if the local municipalities were not willing to finance construction.

The board consensus was to refer the matter to school attorneys to see if the board could finance construction of sidewalks inside the district and-or in the Livonia district.

City will travel to Canada

The City of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department in cooperation with Bianco Travel and Tours is sponsoring a day trip to the Elmira area of Ontario, on Tuesday, Oct. 9.

The tour price of $35 includes: round trip motorcoach transportation, lunch at The Loft, colorful countryside tour with stop at the last remaining covered bridge in Ontario, shopping at Brox's Olde Town Village, coffee and donuts served enroute, and an experienced tour guide who is knowledgeable about the area.

Any mature adult interested may contact the recreation department at 455-6620.

City's police, fire service declining

EDITOR:

The following is an open letter to members of the city commission and City Manager Henry Graper.

To the members of the city commission and Mr. Graper:

As a resident of the City of Plymouth, I have some great concerns regarding the actions of Graper and the city commission.

Within the last year, the City fire department has lost two men and its ambulance. One firefighter was laid off and Chief Roy Hall has retired. The two-year-old City ambulance was sold and we now have an "outside" ambulance service.

As if these actions were not serious enough, it appears that Graper and the city commission are now intent on taking actions which only impede a very fine, professional police department. If Plymouth Township does not renew its contract with the Plymouth Police Department, there is the very real possibility of lay-offs within the department and requests for contract concessions.

It is my belief that any city, anywhere, has the moral obligation to provide its residents with two basic services, fire and police protection. Prior to Graper's arrival as city manager, Plymouth had outstanding fire and police departments. Since Graper's arrival, these two basic units have had their ability to protect the residents of Plymouth greatly reduced.

While new businesses and buildings rise in the City, the ability of the City's fire and police departments to protect these establishments and the citizens who frequent them diminishes.

The facts are simple:

1. From 1969 to 1983, the City of Plymouth had nine fulltime firefighters plus a fire chief. We now have seven men and Acting Chief Al Matthews. Meanwhile, the City grows.

2. From 1969 to 1984, the City had its own ambulance service manned by proficient men who knew the City and the job. Now we have an ambulance which is often out of the City and manned by personnel who are often unfamiliar with the City and whose proficiency has been questioned. Meanwhile the City grows.

3. From approximately 1976 to 1984, the City of Plymouth had a 20 man police force. It is now down to 19. Meanwhile the City grows.

4. Beginning in February, 1981, the 20-man Plymouth Police Department took on the added duty of servicing Plymouth Township. This increased their responsibility to 18 square miles, a significant change from the original two and a half square miles encompassing the City of Plymouth. Meanwhile, the City and the Township grow.

5. It appears we are about to lose Ralph White as our police chief. Interference by the city manager and political figures have driven a very qualified and concerned man from his leadership position.

6. Lastly, the city manager and city commission have yet to answer the questions posed to them by Michael Gardner, president of the Plymouth Police Officers Association, at the commission meeting on July 16.

Perhaps the commission and city manager will find the time to afford all the citizens of the City of Plymouth answers to the concerns expressed in this letter.

Salem grads thank all

EDITOR:

On behalf of the Salem High School graduating class of 1984, the prize committee would like to thank all the merchants for their generous donations for the senior party "Puttin' on the Ritz."

Your donation helped make our party a huge success and a night that will long be remembered by the seniors. The seniors truly had a great time and were overwhelmed by the generosity of the Plymouth-Canton merchants.

The merchants of The Plymouth-Canton Community have in the past years been most cooperative and generous in donating a wide variety of gifts. This year they outdid themselves and the committee can't thank them enough.

We want you to know that all of us, the graduates, and their parents appreciate the donations.

Thank you and have a great summer.

Treat school's breach of confidentiality harshly

EDITOR:

I have had children in Plymouth-Canton Schools for the past 15 years. I, too, received a letter from Bruce Patterson as a parent of a child who needs special help in schooling.

I have felt for many years our children's names, addresses, ages and etc. have either been sold or given to many, many people and this is not the first time the list of special education children has been used.

The letters and "junk" the children and parents receive as a result include books, careers, things to buy, and even letters from the Army, down to items I care not to mention nor to even let my children see.

When I brought this up at different schools at different times, I was always told "all the children's records are confidential, especially anything concern with special education." They told me these people must be getting their information from our records at banks, credit applications, and the government.

I know these people sell our records but I trusted our school system -- with reservations. Now it comes to light that it is true, our school personnel are using these records that they have access to, but we don't, for their personal use.

I realize these infringements of our confidence are only by a few, but when our school system is in the shape it is, due to lack of concern by the personnel of our schools, I feel this should be dealt with harshly.

I have personally witnessed waste and destruction in our schools as well as concern and learning by some. Some personnel will tell you they only deal with one area of the system, but I feel all personnel should re-examine their aims and responsibilities to the children, parents and taxpayers of this community so they can again be treated with respect.

PATRICIA BUNYEA

I wish to commend you and your staff for your informational articles on the 35th District Court race. I personally felt that the treatment was fair and objective.

I also wish to take this opportunity to thank all of those who supported me in the primary election and would appreciate that support continuing in the November 6 election.

I want to thank you for The Crier's endorsement in the August primary for Wayne County Commissioner.

I'll be back in two years campaigning harder in your area and I hope you'll once again support me then.

Through Bifocals

By Fred DeLano

Recent discussion in this space of Belleville's consideration of going the "pay-to-play" route to save high school athletics spawned several conversations in which the clock was turned back 15 years to the night the fellows of the newly-formed Plymouth Athletic Boosters Club made good on their first real opportunity to turn on the heat in support of a local ball club.

More of that in a moment, but first let's bring you up to date. Yes, the Van Buren School District Board of Education, which rules Belleville, has voted unanimously in favor of the "pay-to-play" policy.

The fee will be $175 per student per sport, with a maximum of $350 per school year for anyone playing more than two sports.

Although neither Salem nor Canton high schools are in the same athletic conference with Belleville any more, some non-league contests still are scheduled. Oldtimers will recall, however, that when the Suburban Six was alive one of the most intense rivalries was that between the Belleville Tigers and Plymouth Rocks.

Reminiscing about one of the most memorable of those contests, Mel Bobcean talked a few days ago about that evening of Feb. 21, 1969 when Coach Dick Bearup took his varsity basketball club down to Belleville and in sort of a crazy type ball game brought old Plymouth High School its first outright Suburban Six cage championship.

Closest the Rocks ever had come before was to tie for the title with Trenton in 1955.

Plymouth beat Belleville that night, 67-64, without scoring a single field goal in the entire fourth quarter. By early in the third period the Rocks had built up a 24-point lead and from then on had to hang on for dear life as the Tigers turned red hot and darn near pulled out a victory.

While the night belonged essentially to players like Don Gullekson, Pat Cunningham, Don Jones, Greg Corrigan, and Bob Kellerman and Bob Thornbladh, there was another bunch that got into the act and helped make it an evening to remember. These were the Boosters who had formed a club during previous months to aid all high school athletics.

During the third quarter, members of the Plymouth rooting section were tipped off that IF the Rocks should win, there would be a big welcome home party back in Plymouth.

The spontaneous outburst of elation by members of the team and student fans as soon as the final buzzer sounded could be anticipated, for it had been a long wait. But the jumping for joy, hugging, arm waving and shouting didn't stop there.

By the time the team bus was back in town, a big banner had been strung across Main Street at the Ann Arbor Trail intersection proclaiming the rocks as champions. When the bus pulled into the parking area at the high school (now Central School), several hundred students, parents, alumni and friends were there to scream their compliments and to acclaim all these young lads during the rally that followed.

It was the doing of the Sports Boosters whose officers at the time were Jerry Vettese, Bill Bauman, John Rumberger, Don Bidwell, Harold Rossow, Ashley Carlson, Carl Cederberg, Russ Ash and Merle Schantz.

In a lasting community sense, the spirited glow they lit that night still thrives, even though others have taken up the cudgel. Now there are two high schools with nothing left downtown. Just remember, the next time there's a Booster Club plea at Canton or Salem, the roots trace back a long way.

And our kids still don't have to pay $175 to play ball.

In last week's Crier opinion pages, a typographical error occurred in "With Malice Toward None."

A reference to a real estate offer made by Commercial Realty Specialties, Ltd. to Jerry and Mae Hoelscher, who live at the northwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Harvey Street, said they were offered 15 per cent of the $120,000 appraisal. The correct figure is 15 per cent OVER the appraisal.

Replace City Manager

EDITOR:

When the City of Plymouth hired Mr. Henry Graper as the city manager, many taxpayers felt that the commission could have, and should have, made a better choice.

I have lived in the Plymouth area most of my life and have been a taxpayer the last three years. I can't speak for other taxpayers but I, for one, am very dissatisfied with his performance.

In my opinion, if the city commission really wants to do something positive, they should start looking for a new city manager.

Don't read this

The sign on the rack in the Lawsons store says "Don't read the magazines." Or something like that. The meaning is clear.

What an idiotic sign. How can you try to sell magazines but refuse to allow people to leaf through the pages?

Magazines, especially those dazzling, extra glossy jobs are designed to reach out and grab any innocent just passing by. Even good old Time and Newsweek are made to look good for the glancing.

The girl behind the Lawsons counter disagreed. "If you want to look at a magazine, you have to buy it," she said, adding it was the store's policy not hers.

Now I know this stupid no-look policy isn't Lawsons' alone; there are other stores around town that have the same stupid idea. No thumbing through the pages allowed. Heaven forbid if a customer started reading an article or an advertisement.

To Lawsons and the other stores I make a suggestion or two. Why not design and install a vending machine to sell your magazines? Certainly it's the most efficient way to force customers to keep their grubby hands off. Let em' slap in a few quarters, push their favorite button and watch their choice come tumbling down a chute like a pack of cigarettes.

Or why not place the magazine rack behind the counter. I know it's pretty jammed up back there already, but maybe you could edge out the slurpee machine or the cigarette rack.

From behind the counter, magazine customers would be forced to point and pay. No reading.

Quit teasing the customers Lawsons. Magazine racks are designed to attract the interest of those passing by. So are the bright colors and interesting headlines.

Do me a favor: Tear down the sign or get rid of the magazines.

Will Greenstein come from behind as Garber did in '78?

City - Twp. will decide 35th district judge race

Typically, Bob Greenstein started the judicial run-off election for 35th District Court with bravado.

Since such occurrences are rare in our court politics, his comments -- made on election eve -- bear analysis.

"I feel very strongly that if he was not able to beat me by four or five times my total, the race is ours in November."

Now that may seem to be a bold statement from Greenstein, who had just lost by more than two-to-one to John MacDonald. But it may not be.

Compare the recent primary election results with those of the last contested 35th District Court race when Judge Jim Garber beat Phil Olgilvie in 1978, and a few points weigh towards Bob.

Foremost, Garber ran second to Olgilvie in the primary -- 1,893 to 2,199 -- but won the run-off -- by 11,437 to 8,437.

With Malice Toward None

By W. Edward WENDOVER

Secondly, the judgeship race shows more parochial "home-town" voting trends than is probably healthy. In the 1978 race, Plymouthite Garber gained votes when higher percentages of Plymouth-Canton voters came out for the run-off than came out for the primary. That trend worked against Northville's Olgilvie.

While Greenstein may have a larger, 1,600-vote lag to make up in November (compared to Garber's 300 vote shortfall), the expected higher Canton turnout this November will undoubtedly help him.

There is some valid question about Greenstein's bold assumption, however.

On election eve he laid claim to the votes cast for the other four runners of the primary. Since three of the also-rans were Cantonites, like Greenstein, he feels their votes will be his come November.

But based on the positions taken by Cantonite Bruce Patterson for one, it'd be surprising to see a half dozen of his 846 primary voters flip to Greenstein.

As far as the parochial aspect goes this November, it will be the Plymouth-Plymouth Township votes that call the shots. Since the Northville-Northville Township vote amounts to about 28 per cent (and will go heavy for MacDonald) and the Canton vote of 30 per cent of the district (the only community Greenstein carried in the primary), the remaining Plymouth vote will be the major battleground.

One thing is for certain.

With two candidates who came up through partisan township politicking ranks, the race will be more political and rough and tumble than the 35th District has seen since Retiring Judge Dunbar Davis won election when the seat was first created.

A Quiz: Are you a tourist or a townee?

Living here -- or just existing?

They come by car and by bus. Their favorite past-time is crossing the street slowly against the light while you wait patiently in your car for them to get out of the bloody way. Their outfits always match in atrocious colors and generally are made by Janzen or Izod.

That's right, I'm taking about the tourists -- and boy is it the season. It seems like everyone that has said Yes to Michigan did it in Plymouth!

But being a tourists or a townee is more that just whether you're on vacation -- it is a state of mind. Some long-time Plymouth residents act like tourists and some genuine out-of-staters have enough savvy to blend in. Hence, the need for a test --

Unsolicited Remarks By Rachael Dolson

answer these questions to see if you are a tourist or a townee:

THE QUIZ

1. T or F? I always use Main Street when driving about town -- it's wide, direct, and interesting.

2. Trains are: a) an economic asset b) a fact of life c) a real pain d) a convenient excuse for being late for appointments.

3. Which of the following have you eaten at in the last 10 days: The Box Bar, Plymouthrock Saloon, Grandma's (excuse me, Shelley's) Chicken Manor, Penniman Deli, The Plymouth Landing, Side Street, Station 885.

4. Can you name the shortened version, or nickname of these:

The Box Bar and Grill

Henry P. Graper

Plymouth Township

The Mayflower Hotel's Crows Nest Pub

W. Edward Wendover, Crier Publisher

Plymouth's Old Village

5. How much does it cost to go to the 9 p.m. show on Friday at the Penn Theatre?

6. How much money have you put in parking meters in the last 30 days?

7. What brand of ice cream is in your freezer?

SCORING

1. True - 0, False - 5. Only townees under the age of 19 use Main Street, and they use it for recreation, not transportation.

2. a) 0, b) 2, c) 4, d) 6. No one who has lived here very long has a good attitude about trains, but some of us have learned to use it to our advantage.

3. Two points for each place listed. Deduct three points if you ate with the tourists at any franchise outlet lately. Tourists love to eat at Burger Doodle because it tastes just like the Burger Doodle at home!

4. Either you know these or you don't, give yourself two points for each you do.

5. Five points if you answered a slim $1.50. Five bonus points if you included the price of real buttered popcorn in your Friday night budget.

6. Deduct one point for every nickel you wasted, tourist. True townees are smart enough to use the deck while it's still free.

7. It better be Cloverdale's for five points.

RANKING

If you scored 28 to 45: Congratulations, you're a bonafide resident! You probably even know what Hank loves to barbeque grill in the summer -- the side of his house!

If you scored 15 to 27: You have potential. Some days you do well, other days you'd let Carl Berry watch your dog.

If you scored less than 15: Please spend as much money as you can in the next 48-hours and then get back on the luxury motorcoach you came on.

(Coming later this year: Trivial Plymouth Pursuit. Who built the Wilcox House? What's the official flower of Fall Fest? Why are there no sailors in the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club?)

'Word of Honor' relived

BY DAVID PIERINI

The night was a reminiscence of a proud day in Plymouth history.

Last Wednesday night was the second premiere of the movie "Word of Honor" which was shot in parts of Plymouth and starred renowned actor Karl Malden. So the Mayflower Meeting House was the site for a reunion of local cast members who were brought together to view the movie and to look back on that day in 1980 when Hollywood came to town.

In honor of the movie's journalistic theme, a $5 admission fee was charged so that the proceeds could go to the Centennial Educational Park journalism scholarship fund.

The movie was about a murder in a small town and a newspaper reporter who obtains information the police desire. In order to protect his source he defies a court order and faced the consequences of imprisonment.

Scenes in the movie included a beauty pageant in Kellogg Park, a police search in Hines Park and several downtown scenes.

Among the talent in attendance was April Richeson who appeared as a contestant in the beauty pageant scene.

That appearance sparked a successful modeling career with jobs in Europe and appearance for Hudsons, Jacobsons and a present Lincoln Mercury Cougar T.V. commercial. Also in attendance was I.B.M. retiree Jack Fish who played Malden's neighbor. "It was delightful to work with Karl Malden," said Fish. "I saw this man in 'On the Water Front' and I've admired him since. I've always been interested in acting but I never even dreamed I'd ever work with him."

After the city of Birmingham declined Georgian Bay Production's request to shoot there, Plymouth opened their arms to the movie. Perhaps one person instrumental in the hiring of the local talent Plymouth resident Ann Arendson. "You just can't go wrong with Plymouth," Arendson said. "The thing I wanted to do was, there are so many good people that work for the community. The Motion Picture Film Association of the State of Michigan didn't know who to get for extras. They were calling churches and using the phone book. I thought they needed help."

The party was sponsored by the Plymouth Observer.

DPW gets new workers

BY CHERYLEBERWEIN

Canton's Department of Public Work's has been busy in the past year -- so busy in fact, DPW Supervisor Jake Dingeldey has asked for and will receive two additional workers by the end of August.

Dingeldey went to the Canton Board of Trustees with the request that they hire two additional laborers in the DPW department at the Aug. 14 board meeting. The Township granted the approval six to zero; Trustee Carol Bodenmiller was absent from the session.

The DPW is currently working with a staff of eight full-time personnel, Dingeldey said. Of these eight, only two positions are laborer positions; the other six people are service installation operators and mechanics.

Dingeldey said a full-time staff of 20 DPW workers served Canton in 1976. At that time, workers were putting in about 1,500 water service installations a year. Dingeldey said as Canton's building activity decreased, so did work activity in the DPW. Although workers were not laid off, job positions in the DPW were not refilled when employees retired because of the slow down.

The DPW was put in charge of maintaining the parks and recreation grounds for the township last year. In addition to their normal activities, such as service installations, cleaning out sewers and maintaining township driveways and roads, Dingeldey said the added burden of mowing and caring for the township's parklands has put his staff behind schedule.

"We used to have someone working on the sewers every day," Dingeldey said. "This helps prevent sewers from backing up into basements. We're falling behind on manholes and this is a high priority item. Our recreation assignments are keeping us too busy. We have a good maintenance program now and we want to keep it up."

Jewel thieves out on bound; face unarmed charges Mon.

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Two men charged with unarmed robbery after a nearly $1 million dollar jewel heist in Plymouth Township last week are free on bond and face a preliminary examination on their charges Monday.

At their arraignment last Wednesday, Judge James Garber set $50,000 bond for the accused, Billy Lee Spence, 23 of Detroit and Lek Gjckaj, 18 of Farmington Hills.

The men are accused of robbery unarmed, after a jewelry salesman was beaten and his attache, which was carrying between $750,000-$1 million dollars in jewels hand approximately $43,000 in cash, was stolen. The robbery took place at Jer Richards Jewelers on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township.

Police reports say the dealer, Tribhovanbhai Mohanbhai Patel, was called to Jer Richards to sell diamonds. As Patel parked and got out of his car near Richards, two men drove up behind him, got out of their car, and began beating him with their fists.

One of the men, grabbed Patel's attache and the two drove off down Ann Arbor road. Patel and a witness got a description and license plate of the car, then called Plymouth Police, police say.

Spence and Gjckaj were stopped at Five Mile and Beck roads by Northville Township Police Officer Clyde Anderson, after their car and license plate matched a police radio description of the get-away car, police say.

Patel suffered a fractured jaw and various cuts in the robbery, police say.

Prelim millage set in Canton

But the chief added that the department cannot continue "to operate at its current inadequate administrative, managerial and operational staffing levels." In a letter to the board Cox said although he has made recommendations to the board annually to improve staffing levels in his department, they have not been followed. Cox criticized his own department for inadequate service as a result:

"It is with sincere regret that I tell you we have reached that time (when the department's ability to provide professional quantity and quality services to the citizens has declined). Professionalism has given way to expediency, expediency leading to inadequate, unprofessional hasty service, inadequacy to decreased employee moral and increased citizen complaints; complaints that are completely justified," Cox said in his letter.

Cox proposed an alternative millage plan to the board in which the current 4.07 millage level would be maintained along with the immediate hiring of the dispatchers, a sergeant and a secretary. The positions could be added with the current 4.07 mill rate, Cox said.

Canton Fire Chief Melvin Paulun said he was recommending the board adopt the current 3.6 fire millage again in 1985. Paulun said firefighter wages will increase in 1985 but the increase has already been figured into the 1985 budget.

"We've received more tax money every year since 1976," Paulun said. Paulun said the increased taxes have allowed him to maintain millage requests of 3.6 since 1976 despite increasing department costs like higher salaries.

Estimated expenditures and revenues for the 1985 fiscal year are as follows: approximately $3.7 million for the general fund; $1.6 million for the fire fund; and $2 million for the police fund.

Other expenditure and revenue figures for the 1985 budget include $185,000 for the golf course; $600,000 for public improvement; $69,000 for the building authority; $804,142 for federal revenue sharing; $886,087 for capital improvement projects; and $136,326 for street lights.

Ad promotion not The Crier's

An advertising promotion currently being sold in The Plymouth-Canton Community has been said to be connected with The Community Crier newspaper.

The program involves a coupon book being sold by an independent company, which has advertised in the newspaper, but is in no way connected or endorsed by the paper, said Crier General Manager Phyllis Redfern.

Inquiries about sales companies should be directed to those companies, the chamber of commerce or to local police, Redfern suggested.

Canton man trades old radio dramas for fun

BY CHERYLEBERWEIN

What do Johnny Dollar, Baby Snooks and Jack Benny all have in common? If you don't know, you're showing your young age. — and you haven't met Canton's Bob Burnham yet.

Dollar, Snooks and Benny were, of course, the stars of radio broadcast dramas which aired in the days when radio was the king of home entertainment. Burnham, on the other hand, is a bottle plant manager with an unusual hobby — collecting these old radio dramas for fun and profit.

Burnham is one of a handful of old time radio program enthusiasts in the country who covets old radio programs. One of five collectors in the Detroit area, Burnham's library of old radio recordings includes quiz shows, band and radio song shows, suspense dramas, mystery theaters and early talk shows from the 1930's and 1940's.

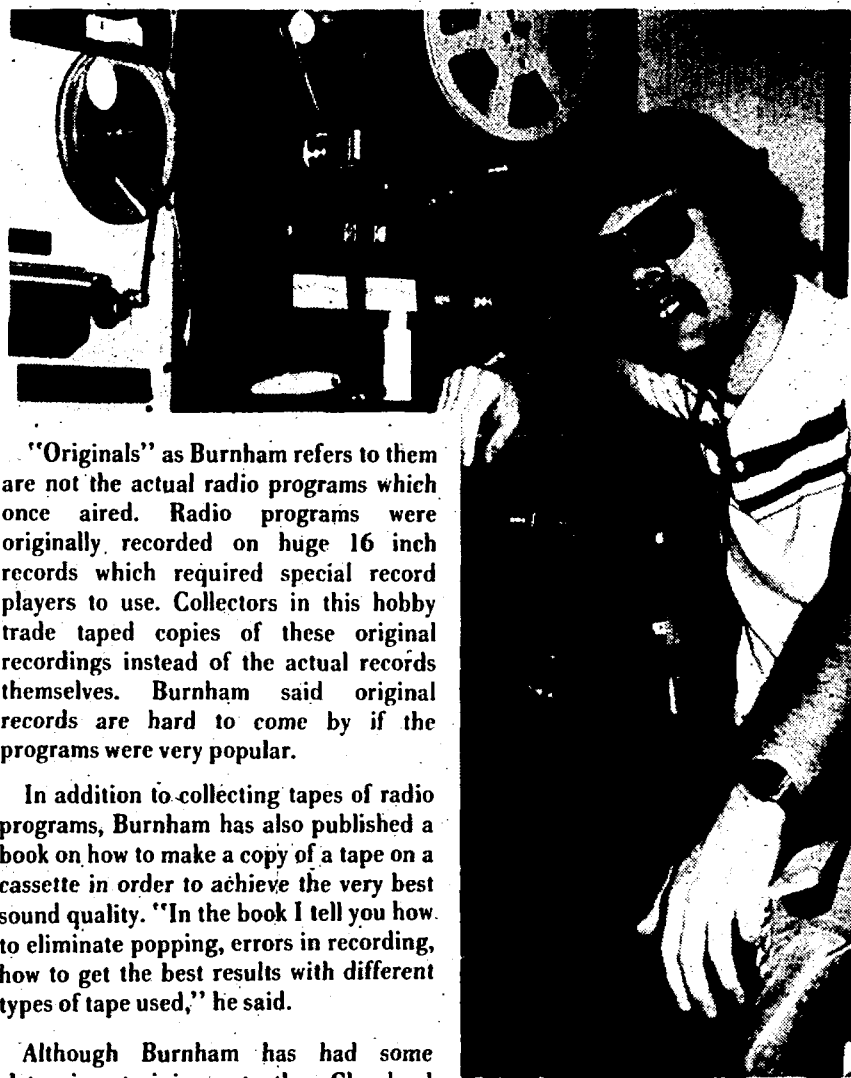

"It takes a certain type of person to have any interest in collecting old radio programs," Burnham said. "A lot of people can listen to an old broadcast and enjoy it, but whether they take that enjoyment further and build it into a collection is another matter."

Burnham, 27, has been collecting old radio broadcasts since he was 13-years-old. One room in his Stoneybrook apartment is devoted entirely to his interest. Over 30,000 reels of tape, recording all types of programs, line one wall of the study. Recording equipment which re-records the old programs onto cassette tapes lines the other side of the room. Posters, magazines and other radio broadcasting information and publications are crammed everywhere else in the room.

Burnham said he first began to collect radio programs when he heard a replay of an early radio favorite known as "Suspense." His interest was heightened and subsequently fed when he later discovered a small company which sold tapes of original radio broadcasts.

Burnham slowly began to assemble his own collection of radio tapes by purchasing programs and trading tapes with a few other collectors in the area. He now has copies of approximately 360,000 old time radio programs.

"One of the advantages of this hobby is you never trade your original copies away. You just make a recording, keep the original and your collection keeps on growing," he said.

"Originals" as Burnham refers to them are not the actual radio programs which once aired. Radio programs were originally recorded on huge 16 inch records which required special record players to use. Collectors in this hobby trade taped copies of these original recordings instead of the actual records themselves. Burnham said original records are hard to come by if the programs were very popular.

In addition to collecting tapes of radio programs, Burnham has also published a book on how to make a copy of a tape on a cassette in order to achieve the very best sound quality. "In the book I tell you how to eliminate popping, errors in recording, how to get the best results with different types of tape used," he said.

Although Burnham has had some electronics training at the Cleveland Institute of Electronics, he said he learned most of what he knows about recording by a trial and error process. He now publishes a catalog of the thousands of old radio program tapes he sells to people.

Burnham purchases cassettes in bulk to record his radio programs on. He formed a company, BRC Productions, to sell the tapes and information about the hobby the same year he began to collect tapes and although Burnham said he makes some profit off the sale of his cassettes and literature, most of the money is put right back into the purchasing of new tapes for his collection.

CANTON'S BOB BURNHAM has made a hobby of collecting and trading of recordings of old radio shows. (Crier photo by Cheryl Eberwein)

What will Burnham eventually do with this library of words which threatens to overrun his entire apartment? He said he'd eventually like to go into commercial broadcasting as well as writing on the topic of collecting radio programs. He has practice at both.

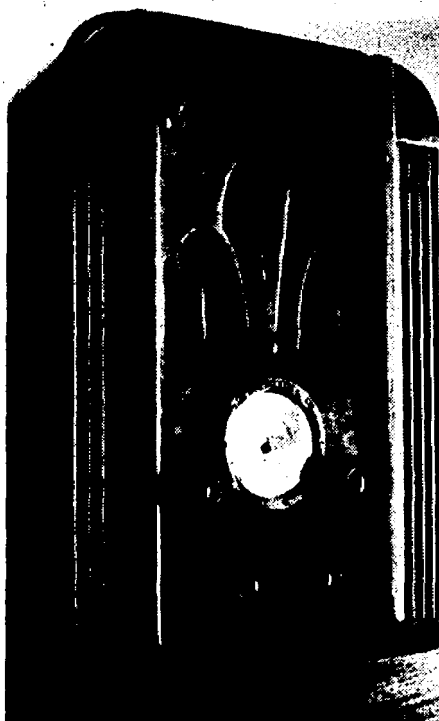

Burnham worked as a production manager and broadcaster for five years at various radio stations in the area. He also published his own collector's magazine for several years.

Although Burnham's collection of radio tapes does include some more recent radio programs, like the CBS Mystery Theater series, he said there is no comparison between radio of today and radio of the past.

"In the 40's, 50's and 60's there were a lot more writers who specialized in writing nothing but radio scripts. There were actors who did nothing but radio acting," he said. "Because of this and because of production techniques, radio program quality was better back then. It was a lot more exciting."

Burnham, like many radio enthusiasts, sees television and the movies as the downfall of creative radio broadcasting. "Radio is used for an entirely different purpose today," he said. "We're using it for entertainment and information but back then, radio was all they had — they had to rely on it completely. There has been a real loss to people with the loss of radio."

Those interested in learning more about Burnham's collection of radio programs can write him at P.O. Box 39522, Redford, MI. 48239.

tell it to Phyllis

The day before pay day is always a pain in the neck (not to mention the check book). Some days before pay day are much worse than others.

Last Thursday morning as I dashed out of the house and jumped in the car I realized the gas gage was on the big E. Oh no, I was trying so hard to get to work early, I had a million things to do, and I knew there wasn't enough gas to make it to the office. In fact, I'd be lucky if there was enough gas to coast into the nearest gas station.

After rummaging through my purse, all I could come up with was a button, three paper clips and 89 cents. Since the kids were out of town and I couldn't ask to borrow money, I did what any desperate mother would do - I decided to go through their rooms to see if they left any money.

Going into my daughter's room is like entering a jungle, you never know what will attack you, or if you'll ever find your way out. It only took one glance in her room before I decided to try my son's room first.

Nobody but a crazy, desperate mother would find herself crawling over a dresser and trying to squeeze between furniture to get to her son's desk and dresser at 8 a.m. (All my bedroom furniture was stuffed in his room, while the carpet in my room dried). Climbing off the dresser I managed to bang my knee and step in the waste basket, before coming face to face with his desk (believe me, when you land on all fours it's easy to think you're staring at a face on a desk). Of course there was no way to open the desk drawers with my fat body in the way. After a bit of a struggle, I somehow managed to regain a standing position.

It only took about 20 minutes of shifting myself and some furniture around before I hit the jack pot. I opened the right drawer and discovered a couple of dollars.

With a sigh of relief, I closed the drawer and turned to face the blockade of furniture. As I climbed over the dresser again, I knew why I never found any interest in mountain climbing.

Needless to say I didn't make it to work early. But, the thing that really bothered me was that I couldn't yell at the kid for leaving the gas tank on empty.

TRAVELER'S CHECKS ABROAD

Is there a best way to take money on a foreign trip? Yes - traveler's checks, for two important reasons: safety and convertibility.

You don't stand any loss if the checks are lost or stolen and you can readily obtain local currency in exchange for traveler's checks at just about any stop on your route from airport, to hotel to small shop.

Traveler's checks must be signed by you in the presence of the person cashing them - and your signature must match the one you wrote at the time you bought the checks. The cost of the checks is about one percent of the purchase ($1 for $100 worth of checks).

Abroad, it's best to cash your traveler's checks at a bank or a branch office of the issuing organization. Banks usually stick to the official exchange rate and don't charge you for converting into local currency; or at least, a very nominal fee. Some shops and hotels charge a service fee for cashing checks and some airport counters are known to be competitive with local banks.

A 'Flossie Fest' Dinner honors Flossie Tonda

A Flossie Fest, to honor former school board member Flossie Tonda, is being planned for Tuesday, Sept. 18.

"Join us in paying tribute to Flossie Tonda, a most deserving person," said John Schwartz, one of the organizers of the event.

"You don't want to miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to repay Flossie, in part, for all of the wonderful contributions she has made as one of Canton's leading citizens," said Art Winkel, co-chairman of the committee to honor Flossie Tonda.

A social hour will begin at 7 p.m. and the dinner and its festivities will start at 7:30 p.m. at the Roman Forum Restaurant. The menu features either New York Strip Steak or Seafood Platter as well as potato, vegetable, salad, dessert and coffee. Ticket price is $14.

Contact Shirley Winkel at 453-5159 for tickets.

The committee is also planning to present Flossie with a scrapbook, containing letters from all of her friends and organizations. The letter can be congratulatory or can reminisce about shared experiences. Contact Shirley Slezak, 397-1000, ext. 225, if you wish to make an addition to the scrapbook.

Weight loss success story told free

Weight Watchers motivational speaker, Nancy Dewar, will share her success story with the public on Monday, Sept. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Canton Calvary Assembly of God, 7933 Sheldon Road in Canton.

Dewar lost 110 pounds in less than 12 months and has successfully maintained her weight loss for four years. She will be speaking free of charge.

For more information on the Weight Watchers program, call 557-5454 or 1-800-462-7466.

Catch the fish 'Express' and dine divinely!

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

You can catch the Fresh Catch Express, the mobile seafood market, if you know where to look and when!

Superior Township residents Alan and Priscilla Toth started the Fresh Catch Express last month and since then have been appearing every week in Northville, Plymouth and Ann Arbor, peddling their seafood which is flown in from the East Coast.

"It's impossible to get fish any fresher unless you are out there catching it yourself," Toth said. "The seafood is caught, and flown from Boston that day, we pick it up at the airport late in the night before (it is sold at the mobile market)," he said.

The Toths fill orders from the back of their 'Express' mobile. They carry fresh fillets and steaked fish, live lobster and shellfish, shrimp, special crabmeat and more.

The Fresh Catch Express will normally be beside Penniman Deli at 820 Penniman Avenue every Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. This past Saturday and next they are at Plymouth's Farmers Market.

"We wanted to be exposed to these people (visiting Farmers Market), but we plan to be beside Russ's (Russ Webster's Penniman Deli) every Saturday year-round," Toth said.

"Our customers tell us we have the freshest fish around," Priscilla Toth said.

The seafood is kept in covered tins and buried in ice until it is sold - protecting it from drying caused by prolonged exposure to air as well as from the deterioration caused by higher temperatures and direct contact with ice.

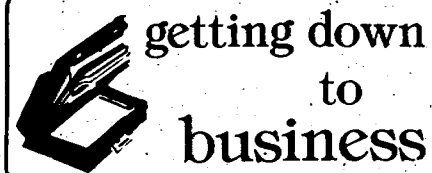

"They (our customers) say our prices are not cheap, but are reasonable," she said. Fresh seafood had never been approved for sale from a mobile unit until the Toth's got their permit, she said.

The Toths praised Webster for his assistance in getting them started in the Plymouth area by letting them use the space and promoting their products.

Penniman Deli had a lobster dinner special Friday night, featuring Rock Lobsters from the Express and salad and other extras from the Deli, which many residents took advantage of.

The Toths said they are pleased with their idea and the reception it has received so far. "We consider it to be an updated version of the street vendors of old," she said. "It's an 'unchained' fresh seafood market," he said, "You can find less expensive fish but you are not likely to find anything fresher."

Canton banker promoted

Canton resident William A. Johnson has been appointed small business loan officer at Comerica Bank-Detroit.

Johnson joined the bank in 1974 as an assistant branch manager. He has held positions of increasing responsibility since then.

Johnson received his BBA degree in 1973 from U of M.

Canton couple in 'Winners Circle'

Cathy Woolsey and her husband, Tom, of Canton have just returned from four days at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City courtesy of The Creative Circle, Cathy's employer.

The pair attended the Winners Circle convention for outstanding sales representatives. The seven-year-old direct sales firm is the world's largest needlepoint manufacturer.

Woolsey earned her Winners Circle by achieving exceptionally high levels of sales and recruiting during a three-month competition period.

Schweitzer's tops the metro chart in real estate sales!

The Plymouth Office of Schweitzer Real Estate, Inc. - Better Homes and Gardens has achieved the distinction of placing first in the company of 17 offices in the Metropolitan Detroit Area, for both sales and listings, for the month of June.

The Plymouth office is also now has its own purchaser's workbook with articles pertaining to the Plymouth, Canton, and Northville communities. The work book contains informational forms on appraisal and on cost to buyers and sellers.

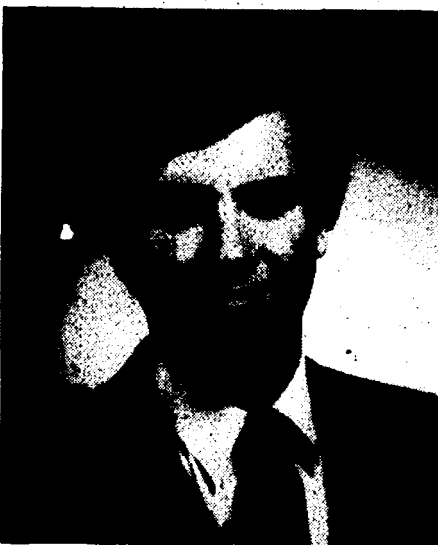

ROBERT S. LAIBLE

Plymouth man is recognized by peers in hospital administrators organization

Robert J. Laible, of Plymouth, president and chief executive officers of Redford Community Hospital, has been admitted to nominee status in the American College of Hospital Administrators (ACHA), a national professional society.

Formal conferring of nominee status took place at the 50th annual convocation ceremony of ACHA in Denver, CO. on Aug. 12. Membership in the organization is a three-stage process beginning with admission as a nominee, progressing to membership and finally to fellowship.

HENRY C. SEAVITT

Laible has been administrative head of Redford Community Hospital for the past 10 years. He was appointed to the board of trustees in 1979 and elected secretary of the board the following year.

Redford is a non-profit, 72-bed primary care facility.

Prior to joining Redford, Laible was administrative assistant at Sinai Hospital of Detroit for five years. He served six years with the U.S. Army Medical Service, 1962 to 1968. His tour of duty included one year in Viet Nam as medical supply

Seavitt's now a bank V.P.

Plymouth resident Henry C. Seavitt has been promoted to second vice president and corporate officer in the corporate services division of Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

Seavitt joined Manufacturers in 1979; prior to that appointment he was an assistant manager with Comerica. He was promoted to corporate services officer in 1981. Seavitt received his BA degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1971.

Cherry Hill on Register?

Once the Michigan History Division accepts this application, it is submitted to the Department of the Interior for national consideration. Examination of the preliminary application could take up to eight weeks, Tobin said.

Tobin said Cherry Hill represents a typical midwestern agricultural crossroad hamlet and should be placed on the National Historical Register for this reason. "As Canton continues to develop and grow, Cherry Hill can become an enclave of Canton's past agricultural core, and will show what life was once like," he said.

Buildings included in the historical district include a school, garage, inn, blacksmith shop, church, plant, dormitory, and 15 houses. Although none of the buildings currently standing in Cherry Hill are original structures, most were built throughout 1800's; the oldest house standing, a Greek revival home located at 50325 Cherry Hill and owned by the Causley family, dates back to the 1830's.

Tobin said the Cherry Hill Cemetery, which still exists in the village, is an integral part of the village and has existed since 1834. The Cherry Hill Ford facility discontinued operations in 1946, but the factory still remains.

The architectural significance of the village is also of interest to the two historians. Homes and structures in the village reflect architectural styles ranging from Greek Revival and New England Saltbox to Victorian, Gothic Revival, Italianate and Colonial Revival.

Tobin said the boundaries for the historical district extend along Cherry Hill and Ridge roads. The district will extend south on Ridge to the Hawk Queen Anne home and only a short distance north from the intersection of Cherry Hill and Ridge. The district will extend as far west as Napier road.

Tobin said informational flyers will be sent to all property owners in the area explaining how a historical designation will affect their property. Tobin said if 50 per cent of the property owners do not agree to the designation, the state will not consider the village for the historic register.

According to the National Preservation Act of 1966, structures listed on the National Historic Register are eligible for federal grants-in-aid through the state, for the preservation of the structure. Such structures are also eligible for federal tax benefits if the structure is rehabilitated for income producing purposes.

Bike path attacks increase

along the bike path caused the suspect to give up his chase and flee the scene, Wilson said.

The suspect was described as a white male, approximately 5'11", 190 pounds, with red-brown hair, a full beard and moustache.

Wilson said Sunday's attack victim was a 27-year-old Canton woman. She was riding north of Warren Rd. on the bike path when she observed someone following her Wilson said.

The victim got off of her bike and the suspect rode up next to her on a dark-colored man's 10 speed, pushed her to the ground and began to assault her. The victim told the suspect to stop and he did, fleeing north on the path.

The victim told police the suspect was a white male between 23 and 30 years old, approximately 5'9", with a stocky but not muscular build, a tan and brown hair. The victim also said the suspect had tatoos on his left upper arm and wore a white tee-shirt and red shorts.

Wilson said the description of the suspect somewhat matches the description given of a suspect wanted in connection with four other bike path assaults.

The suspect described in the attack on the 18th may be unrelated to the suspect described earlier.

Police are seeking two suspects for the other five attacks. The suspect described in four of these attacks is a white male, approximately 35-years-old, weighing 150 pounds with short brown hair. Another suspect described in a fifth attack on the bike path has been described as a white male in his mid-20's, with light brown fuzzy hair, brown eyes and wire rim glasses.

Wilson said the I-275 bike path runs the entire length of the freeway. Wilson refused to comment on how the Canton police were handling security and surveillance in the area. He did say warnings put out by the Canton police did not seem to have much of effect on some people riding in the area.

"How do you tell people to exercise extreme care and caution and only travel on the path in groups?" he said. "Some people just don't listen."

Deck parking will now cost

monitored at the police department.

Graper said crime problems on the deck could be better dealt with when all the security equipment had been installed.

"I think it's a problem and I think we can handle it," he said. "The police department and Chief White are very capable. Now that the lights are in and when the T.V. cameras are installed, it will be a matter of manpower allocation."

At least three women told the city commission they had ruined expensive shoes using the recently-installed metal grate stairs.

Parking commissioner Jim Jabara made a presentation of the assessment plan at the beginning of the meeting and three other parking commissioners were attended the public hearing.

"We tried to come up with a plan which we thought would be fair to everyone," Jabara said.

Graper said after the meeting that the planning commission had worked diligently on various plans to raise the $40,000 before settling on the five-ring assessment plan.

"They worked very hard on the plan and they deserved a public hearing to have it evaluated," he said.

Stage, Burroughs employe

Charles A. Stage, 63, of Carol in Plymouth died August 17 in Livonia. Funeral services were held Aug. 20 at the Schrader Funeral Home with Lee Buzzell, chaplain, officiating. Burial followed in Mt. Hope Memorial Gardens.

Mr. Stage was born in Poplar Bluff, MO. in 1912. He came to The Plymouth-Canton Community from Washington in 1950. He was a member of the VFW Mayflower Post number 6695 and the Elks BPOE number 1780. He was an avid fisherman and hunter and a decorated WWII veteran. Mr. Stage was employed by the Burroughs Corporation for 21 years and Dunn Steel Products for 10 years.

Survivors include wife Lora of Plymouth, step-daughter Dorinda Tobias of Plymouth, brothers James, Paul and Fred, sister Velma Renecker and grandchildren Sherie and Michael Stone of Plymouth.

Memorial contributions may be made to the VFW Mayflower Post number 6695.

Council on Aging pres. reflects on year of the organization's service

Niles L. Beaugrand reflected on his first year as president of the Plymouth Community Council on Aging and said the past months have been "a lot of hard work."

During his first year of office, Beaugrand has initiated improvements in the Council's existing programs for the elderly. He has established more frequent photo ID sessions, expanded the skill bank program and is presently working on a newer and larger merchant discount directory for area senior residents.

Beaugrand, a retired steam fitter from Detroit, has lived in Plymouth for the last 15 years. He and his wife, Eileen, reside on Carol Street. He is a member of the City of Plymouth planning commission, the Plymouth Lions Club, the Toastmaster's Club, and is a former post commander for the VFW Wolverine Post 171 in Detroit.

"It has been a lot of hard work by many individuals that make any organization work," he said, summing up his first year. "I hope we can increase our volunteer efforts in the months ahead. I know there are many out there who benefit by our services."

Hunting safety class offered

Two hunter safety programs have been scheduled for youngsters between 12 and 16 years of age. Michigan department of natural resources (DNR) regulations require persons between these ages to obtain hunter certification prior to obtaining a hunting license.

Classes are to be conducted at 1150 S. Canton Center Road, the Canton Township Administration Building, in the meeting room. Class sessions will meet Sug. 25 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m., Aug. 26 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., Aug. 27 from 4 to 7 p.m.

All three sessions must be attended for certification. A second class will meet on 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Sept. 9 and Sept. 16. Students attending these two classes should bring a sack lunch.

Canton reserve office Christian Mayer will teach the classes, which are open to residents of all communities. Call the Canton Police Department, 397-1000, or information or to register.

Everyone's a winner in tennis tournament

BY MIKE MCKENNEY

It doesn't matter whether you're a staunch tennis buff, or just a rotten beginner; if you didn't get around to signing up for last weekend's tennis jamboree at Canton high school, you missed competing against some very enthusiastic, as well as talented, Plymouth and Canton residents.

Solid Canton soccer team awaits season

DAVID PIERINI

Canton soccer coach Mike Morgan's face is a vision of anxious await as he and his team gets ready for the season opener at Franklin on September fifth.

"We can't wait till the season starts," said Morgan. "This is an excellent, first class team. I'd say 18 of the 24 boys play 12 months out of the year. These are kids with seven and eight years of experience."

preview

With the loss of only three players, the Chiefs will be in good shape to attempt topping last years 10 win, seven loss season and state quarter-final finish.

"We are definitely a state title contender," said Morgan.

Under the direction of Plymouth Salem High school grad Lisa Maggio, the three day tournament, sponsored by the Plymouth Parks and Recreation League and The Community Crier newspaper, went off without a hitch.

"I was very impressed with this year's draw," said John Jayson, a former high school teacher, tennis coach, and varsity tennis player who took top honors in the tournament's Men's 35 and Over Singles category.

Over 100 men, women, boys, and girls entered this year's tourney, topping last year's total by a significant margin.

"There was a lot of good, strong competition," said Jayson. "I haven't really played a lot of singles since I hurt my shoulder a few years ago. For the last five years or so I've mainly been playing doubles, so it really was a thrill to win."

Jayson and his wife also won the Mixed Doubles title.

Another happy entrant was 12 year-old Alissa Huth, who came out on top in the Girls 10-12 division.

"It was a lot of fun," said Huth. "I think I'm going to join the tennis team when I get into high school."

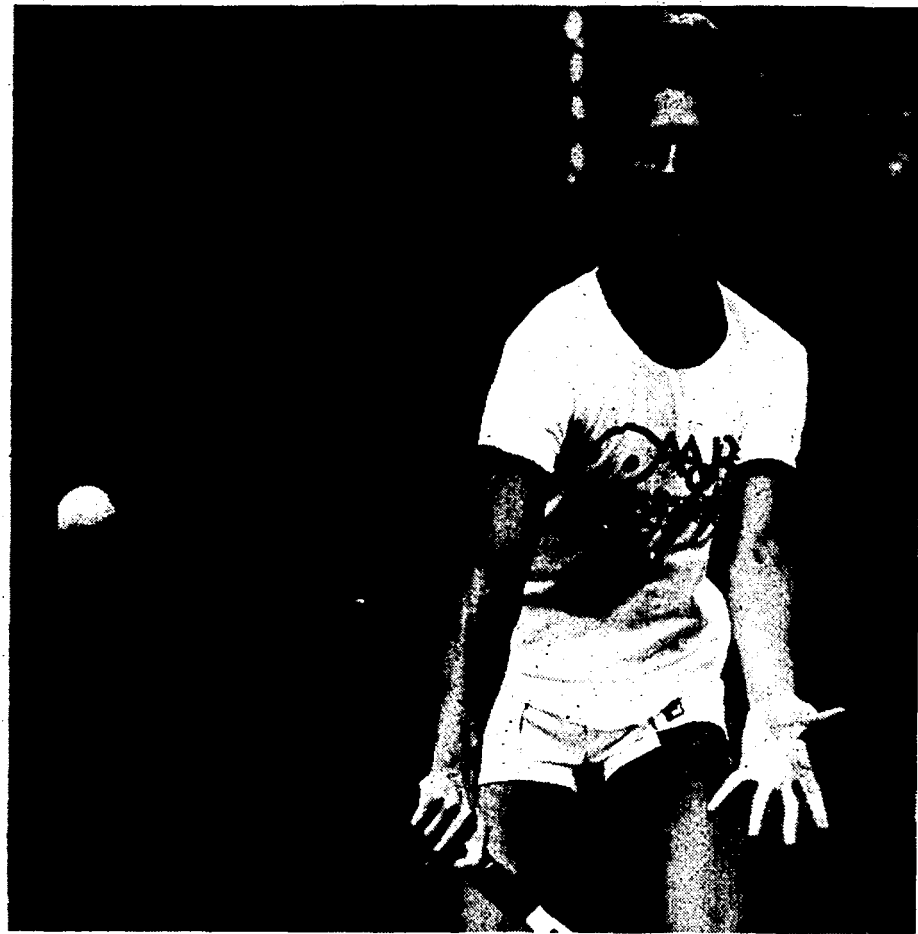

Huth has been playing tennis for two and a half years now and is currently attending West Middle School.

Other division champs include:

-Ron Austin and Kevin Johnston, who edged John Kath and Mike Minton 7-5, 5-7, and 6-2 to capture the Mens Doubles crown.

-Kathy Horton and Becky Crespo, who had no trouble disposing of the Gackebach-Miyazaki combination 6-1, 6-1 to win the Womens Doubles division.

-Scott Hobbs, who cut down Matt Lore 6-1, 6-2 to win first place in the Boys 10-12 category.

-Kristen Harrison, who won the Womens 16 and Over crown by downing Barb Hanosh 6-1, 6-0 in the finals.

-Kevin Johnston, who beat Randy Whately 2-6, 6-1, and 6-0 to win the Mens 16 and Over division.

-Bonnie Miyazaki, who took first in the Womens 35 and Over by topping Linda Gee 6-4, 6-2 in the finals.

-Mike Zaretti, who beat Jeff Kilarski 6-1, 6-1 to win the Boys 13-15 category.

-Nancy Rhinehart, who won the Girls 13-15 division with a 6-2, 6-2 defeat of Michelle Spencer.

-Cecil White, who downed Rocky Khurana 6-2, 6-3 to take the top spot in the Mens 45 and Over division.

Salem kickers rebuild, drill for season

BY DAVID PIERINI

Just call it the European connection.

Ken Johnson and his Salem soccer team is putting to use some foreign born methods which includes flexibility conditioning and various passing drills to help give the Rocks an edge for the upcoming season.

"We go 20 minutes stretching out hamstrings and cords using our method, and I tell you, it's getting them quicker to the ball, good acceleration," says Johnson. "I don't think anyone else has anything like it."

One thing that may hurt the Rocks in the loss of last years top four players to

Salem aims to compete

graduation: All-area sweeper back Bob Bowling, team captains Jeff Neschich and Matt Crook, and Randy Johnson who was last years top scorer.

"I think we'll be competitive," said Johnson. "I don't like to make predictions because they usually fall flat, but we're very fit and team oriented. There's no superstars but still, I have a good feeling about this team."

Johnson says the team is "chomping at the bit" and is ready for the seasons first game which is at home, Sept. 6, against North Farmington.

Despite the loss of depth to the team, the Rocks hope to improve on 1983's record of 11-5-2, and finish high in the conference standings. But look out for state runner-up Stevenson who is in Salem's division. "That's the team to beat," says Johnson. "There is an aura about them. They've made it to the state finals three out of the last four years. (Winning it once). That shows the depth in the Livonia Youth soccer program. We have maybe five guys that played 'Bonanza' soccer, while all 24 kids on Stevenson's team played.

But Salem can't be counted out. Though last years graduation hurt, the Rocks will have assembled a strong and experienced defense. The Rock defense will star seniors Steve Moran, Andy Ward, Phil Adzima and John Geddes, and juniors Ebon Nash and Andy Orr. The depth in the goal-keeping department will be essential as Dan Stahl, Joe Knoenl and Dave O'Malley will be fighting for the starting position.

One goal Salem is shooting for is a victory over Stevenson. Johnson says, "If we play 100 per cent with the fitness and dedication we have, we'll have a pretty good chance."

LARRY OLSON misses the putt after he lucked out landing on the green with his tee-off shot during the annual Randy Williams Memorial Golf Tournament Saturday morning at Fellow Creek. ## 'Car problems' cut Canton driver from field

It was about one-hundredth of a second too slow but it might as well have been one hour.

Canton's Jim Hull, driving an unfamiliar car in his first professional NASCAR race, endured two dashboard fires and valve problems but failed to qualify August 12 in the Champion Spark Plug 400 auto race at Michigan International Speedway. Hull's fastest lap was just shy of the 158 mile per hour time needed to make the Grand National field.

"It was kind of disappointing to me and the others involved but at least everyone knew the problems were with the car and not the driver," Hull said.

Hull said he overcame his first run-in with the gravitational forces of high speed driving on the banked oval MIS track and an unfamiliar car to make a good showing. He made the field after his first qualifying run but was later edged out. He failed to equal his fastest first lap in other tries before valve problems sidelined his car.

Hull said other drivers and crew members congratulated him after he pulled out of a slide on turn four during his first-qualifying run.

Hull signed a one-race contract with a Georgia car owner to drive the Champion 400. He said he was a bit disappointed with the performance of the Monte Carlo and will continue to hunt for a contract to drive again.

"I felt good. I was blending with the car more and more.

PM4500. This is the largest generator in the "PM Series," providing all the emergency power you need to protect your home during a power outage. With 4600 watts of power, it can operate power tools and equipment as well as serve as the electric source for remote locations. $1,395<sup>00</sup>

And all Powermates feature a 12V D.C. battery charger, a long-run fuel tank, and a low noise, spark-arrest muffler. Come in and see our "PM Series" generators today; the best thing portable power has ever seen... or heard.

A challenge to the sanity

I was at the Crier tennis tournament this past weekend and I must say I was impressed with some of the local talent. But I think I was more impressed with the fact that everybody out there was having fun and that's something you don't see to much of these days.

Instead you see a lot of broken rackets, frayed tempers and shouting matches and it's really a shame because tennis tantrums are becoming increasingly visible in the sport.

Sure, McEnroe at time acts juvenile, Lendl sulks, and Nastase has one heck of a side show. But these guys are playing for big bucks, though they tend to forget that tennis is suppose to be fun and that flash, cash and fame should be secondary.

I think pros need to be more aware of their effect as role models on younger players. Aspiring youngsters can copy the service motion of McEnroe or the Connors grunt, but they can also copy their court etiquette.

That's only one reason why temper out burst are more common in tennis today. Another is that tennis is a difficult and demanding sport which requires total concentration. It ranks right up there with golf and fork bending as the big mental challenge.

Frustration is understandable. Trying to get those fuzzy balls over a net that sometimes feels 10 feet high can have an adverse effect on your sanity. Now once you've mastered getting the ball over the net, the next step is trying to keep the ball from going over the back stop.

Sound familiar?

It's like any other sport with various barriers to overcome, but those barriers shouldn't get in the way of having fun.

In fact, when you come right down to it, having a fit on the court is senseless. Besides not doing wonders for your game, fits make you waste energy that should be geared toward your match. Not to mention it doesn't make you look any better as a player. So why get carried away when you miss a shot that you couldn't make in a dream? Just say, "Nice shot!"

Players must make a concious effort to control their emotions. Take each point individually and put the last point behind you. Look at it this way, if you're concentrating 100 per cent, there won't be any mental room for anger.

I guess I can see getting ticked off when it comes to an opponent who cheats on line calls, but there again is a loss of concentration. An opponent can't hook you enough times in a game to take that game away from you, right? Concentrate right through all of this.

It doesn't matter the level of play you're at, or the competition you face, just enjoy the sport. Play for yourself, play your best and be satisfied.

Returnees help build Canton for new season

Though Canton is in what area coaches consider, "the toughest conference in the state," with the likes of Stevenson, Churchill, Northville and Salem, the Chiefs stand a favorable chance with other teams suffering considerable losses due to graduation.

Morgan says the Chiefs have a powerful offense backed up by talented midfielders and a solid defense.

Morgan feels games might be decided by the performances of players like junior Brad Neville and sophomore Scott Morgan who were both members of the A.A.U. state select team and in the net-mind abilities of Mark Fisher and Brian Gaulgan who will both be contending for the starting position through out the year according to Morgan.

But there is one thing Morgan feels is in the way of a flawless season. A flawed field. "We're a first class team playing under second class conditions," says Morgan. "The field hasn't been watered or cut all summer and it's full of ruts and rocks. I've had three injuries so far this summer because of the field. These guys deserve better."

Some of the players added, "The football team was one and 13 and look at their field."

Point made.

That extra mile...

PAT MOORE, assistant principal at Central Middle School, received the Plymouth-Canton School Board's Extra Miler award on Aug. 13. The board has been honoring two hard working employees a month. Board member Dave Artley (left) said Moore seeks creative solutions to problems, set a good standard of professional behavior, cares about students and staff, and is available to teachers and kids for their morale and emotional needs as well as educational. WSDP hits air waves again

WSDP-88 FM, Plymouth-Canton's community radio station returns to its regular broadcast schedule on Tuesday, Aug. 28.

FM 88 broadcasts from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Monday through Friday, plus some weekends. The station has been off the air since Aug. 3 for maintenance purposes.

WSDP plans to continue its adult contemporary music format which air 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily as well as the "88 Escape" progressive music format from 6 to 10 p.m.

FF 88's daily news operation will continue to air five-minute newscasts at 4 and 5 p.m. and an expanded 10-minute cast at 6 p.m.

Monday hour-long music specials featuring Vintage Rock, Funk, Classical and Big Band sounds will be broadcast at 7 p.m.

A new 20-minute public affairs-interview program "Community Focus" will air Wednesdays at 7 p.m. and will discuss issues of direct concern to area residents.

WSDP will also emphasize community information through its continued use of public service announcements and its remote coverage of special events such as the upcoming Fall Festival.

High School sports coverage will be highlighted by a girls' basketball and football "Game of the Week" with WSDP broadcasting Salem and Canton home and away contests.

"This year could be the most important year in WSDP's 12-year history," said Station Manager Andrew Melin. "We are committed to continued quality programming and the student skill development as well as initiating a station funding program and scholarship fund for deserving station graduates."

Curiosities

Thanks Joan and Dick Palmer for the delicious corn. The Crier Staff

Russ,

Your Penniman Deli has the best meat, let alone lunches and your staff there are the greatest. Caryne

Fresh hot pizza rolls from The Porterhouse make a good lunch.

CC & RC — Your help at the Wildwood Manor the other weekend is much appreciated!

Kristina,

WELCOME HOME!! I sure do miss you. Hope you had fun Sunday night with Rob, Deb and I. Thinking about you always! I Love You! Ryan

Dear Pastor & Mrs. Mesic

Joshua 24:14, 15. Arizona's gain is our loss. Remember to stay out of the noon day sun. Our youths will be better adult for having known you.

HAPPY 15th BIRTHDAY RON REDFERN

Tom and Marnie,

Thanks for the glass. Really do appreciate it. It was very thoughtful.

Love, L. and J.

Will try and get down sometime soon. Just have been so busy. Think of you a lot.

Love, Joyce

Hi to everyone in Upper Sandusky. Enjoyed being with all of you. Love, L.J.-L.J.

Sure enjoyed the lobster dinner Friday night! It was a little messy, but otherwise very good. Thanks Ed!

Mr. Arnie and Mrs. Arnie

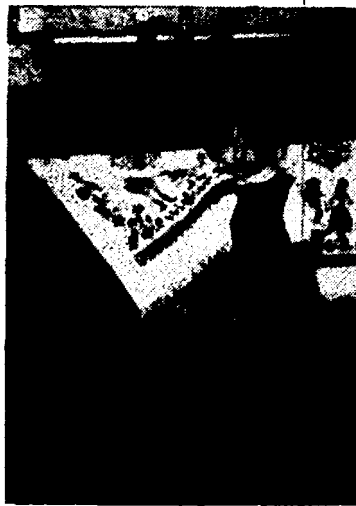

Thanks Penniman Deli!

Ellen,

Congratulations on being in the sorority you like best at A.S.U. Enjoy! Mom & Dad

Dave,

All the summer house guests have gone and no-one took any souvenirs out of your rooms. Bring home some from Okinawa! Mom and Dad

ISTERRI — NO REALLY A FRESHMAN AT CONCORDIA

Curiosities

Fran,

The snap dragons were beautiful. A love lady doing very thoughtful things often.

Thank You

Okay, so you don't need to lie on the hill to taste Frankenmuth's finest and a library card isn't the greatest ID, but, isn't it more fun that way?

Jeff — Thank you for answering the telephone so professionally — you did a great job — Fran Tigers — Lions — Panthers — its more fun watching the games with a bucket of chicken — Famous Recipe, of course!

Chippewas Laura, Jeff, and Julie — wish I was going back to the Mountain town with you! Enjoy it! — Rachael, Chippewa and Concord Queenie.

Congratulations! Newlyweds Dan & C.T.

Mom and Dad: I know "I'm just a girl who can't say No" is one of your favorites, but we're hoping you'll say yes to 'Oklahoma.'

Many products made in Plymouth-Canton are sent all over the world — see the Crier's Fall Festival edition Industry and Commerce section.

Aunt Jo — Thanks so much for the present. I love to drool on it. — Nipper

Dear Sensitive —

I'm glad things worked out the way YOU wanted them to ... It really is nice to see you happy!

— Care

Friday was such a blast! Thanks Kat-Tee, Paul & Kelly!

Mom,

How did we ever handle three teens in the bathroom with only 2 sockets? Anne

Mag & Mary Clare,

Some things never change! Like borrowing my hairspray and your clothes!!

Love, Your sister

KAT-TEE LOVE LICORICE!

Tee,

Make some more faces, please!

Kau-Tee, Plau-Slic,

This is getting to hard for our readers to understand!

Hi Nanny & Bumpa

"YOU HAVE TO BLESS his cotton socks."
— Jayne C.; excerpts from her 1984 Marriage Manual

"I ALWAYS KNOW when I've had enough to drink, when me feet don't hurt and my ears don't hurt from my earrings."
— Sallie Roby; excerpt from "Life as an Advertising Director." 1984

Phyllis — has anyone ever told you that you were a wonder woman? You are!

— An admirer

SEE YOU AT the Skate-a-thon for Jerry's kids — all night long, 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 25 to 8 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 26. Many prizes and fun at the Skatin' Station.

"GO TO WORK ON AN EGG"

— Olde English proverb ... can your egg council use it Steve?

Curiosities

Could Joan Blough possibly be a "Yooper"? Holy wah — You betcha bruno. Yah fer sure!!!

Git out da way!!

Hey Knee!!

How's your little buddy DuWay-ay-ay-ayne?

Chris Boyd sure loves Fall Festival — about as much as his "predecessor" does. Well, maybe he just better WATCH HIMSELF.

— A ghost from the past

Gayle grows great cucumbers!

Cheryl — I loved your natural colored nylons!!

— K.P.

Boy, licorice can sure be fun!

I wonder what dolly thinks of these funkadelic curios!!

Once she recovers, she'll be just fine!! Just can't seem to get the mind and fingers to track at the same time on some of these!

Peggy —

Mmm ... Long Island ice teas are great! We have to stop running into dark parking lots though ...

— Gayle

Anneknee & Kat-tee, workon' wit you guys is real spazztic!

— Gayle

Chris,

Are you SURE the staples are supposed to be there??? — G.D.W.

Joan,

Thank you for the beautiful flowers!

— Gayle

P.S. — Aren't whirlpools heaven?! G.W.

M.E.

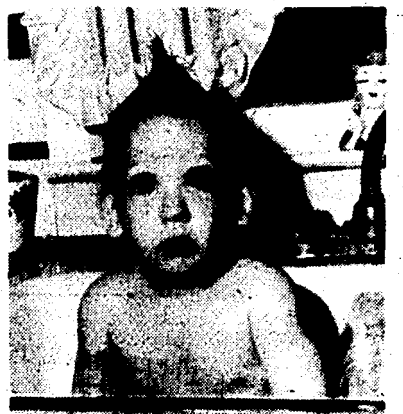

If I come visit this weekend, will your battery be charged? By the way, what does a mouse turd look like?

HISAM,

SORRY TO HEAR ABOUT YOUR MISHAP! HOPE YOU WILL BE FEELING GOOD AS NEW SOON.

I love Fall Festival, I love tabloids in massive amounts, I'm also losing my mind.

Who in the e! eclairs?

HAPPY 21st BIRTHDAY

FALL FESTIVAL

It is the spirit and essence of The Plymouth-Canton Community.

It is the chance for us to show ourselves, and others, all of the things that make our community the great place it is: to live ... to work ... to do business.

Fall Festival participants ... be sure your up-to-date information is on hand with the Fall Festival board, or call The Crier at 453-6900.

Advertisers ...
The Crier's annual Fall Festival Edition is now in the works. Due to the scope of this project all deadlines are early — and rapidly approaching. Please call your Crier advertising representative today to arrange your participation in this community showcase.
