

City of Plymouth will hire three police officers

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

The City of Plymouth will hire three new police officers to fill ranks dwindled after two officers were heart attack victims and another was fired.

"We have advertised for police officers and we've received a number of applications," said City Manager Henry Graper. "We're interested in filling the positions as fast as possible." He added that the city will be conducting interviews in the next two weeks.

The three hired will all be patrol officers, Graper said.

He said the city will discuss with the Plymouth Police Officers Association (PPOA) the wages newly hired officers would be paid. He said the city would seek to pay the hires a wages lower than the current starting salary.

Vacancies hit the department, beginning earlier this year when Lt. William Fletcher's suffered a heart attack and retired from the force.

Officer Jerry Vorva had a heart attack last week and will be off the job for some time.

Officer Roger Roy was fired earlier this month by Graper and upon the recommendation of Police Chief Ralph White.

Graper said Roy was fired because of "a number of problems based on his performance the last three years."

PPOA President Mike Gardner said the union will challenge Roy's dismissal.

Roy had been with the department 14 years.

Community Fund starts annual efforts with bang

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Doing it the hard way is what the Plymouth community is all about, Judge James Garber told the audience at the Plymouth Community Fund kick-off dinner Thursday.

Garber, this year's drive chairman, stressed that Plymouth retains individuality and control by keeping its fund drive separate from the rest of the metro-Detroit United Way drive.

Plymouth, he said is a "missing rectangle" on United Way maps showing the Detroit areas served by the same fundraising organization.

"I suppose we could forget doing it on our own, go with the rest of Detroit, and still raise the same amount of money and maybe get the same about back (for our programs)," Garber said.

"But we've been doing it the hard way for 41 years ... the same way we don't forget about the Fall Festival, the band, the orchestra, the balloon festival and the other events that make our community special.

That kind of individualistic attitude, Garber said, is what "transforms residents into citizens, houses into homes and governmental units into communities."

Garber announced that the goal for this year's drive is $365,000, up about 10 per cent from last year's goal of $330,000. Last year $333,000 was collected, Community Fund board president William Robinson said.

Robinson, in his speech to the kick-off group, explained that the board annually reviews each organization's request for funds. "This is a face to face, honest meeting," Robinson said sometimes the organizations even return unused money.

Groups supported by the Plymouth Community Fund include the Southeastern Michigan Red Cross, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, Detroit Area Boy Scouts Council, Growthworks, First Step, Huron Valley Girl Scouts, United Way of Michigan, Plymouth Council on Aging, Salvation Army, Senior Citizen Club of Plymouth, Visiting Nurses Association, Plymouth Community Family YMCA, Michigan Cancer Foundation, Plymouth Dental Fund, Representatives from Ford Motor Company Sheldon Road plant presented Garber with the first check of this year's drive - for $4,500.

Fall Festival celebrating will kick off next week

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

The 29th annual Plymouth Fall Festival is just around the corner and with plans running smoothly, there is only one detail left unmanaged: The weather.

Of course, there's not much anyone can do about that but some people have their fingers crossed.

"I'm holding my breath and hoping for sunny skies," said Grace Light of the Fall Festival Board of Directors.

Light admitted to having a mild case of butterflies in her stomach as four day Fall Festival Sept. 6-9 approaches.

Opening night on Thursday is being dubbed Community Night, Light said, and local residents are invited to attend the opening ceremonies scheduled to begin at 6:45 p.m.

Sherman Arnold, and his Elvis Presley show will kick off opening night with shows at 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

Other traditional Fall Festival events will be back this year. The Fireman's Muster and Waterball competitions will be held Saturday morning and afternoon respectively, on Main, between Ann Arbor

Register now to vote later

Are you registered to vote?

The voters in the Plymouth-Canton Community have two important election dates coming up - a 1.74 mill tax increase proposal for schools on Oct. 2 and the Nov. 6 election of local, state and national representatives.

According to the current state law, to vote in the Oct. 2 school millage election, you must be registered by Sept. 4. A bill currently in the legislature would extend that deadline to Sept. 24, but it has not been passed yet, so to be sure you are qualified you must register by next Tuesday.

During regular business hours you can register at the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education Office, 454 S. Harvey Street, or at your local municipal office: Canton Township Hall at 1150 S. Canton Center Road, Plymouth City Hall at 201 S. Main Street, or Plymouth Township Hall at 42350 Ann Arbor Road.

Also, the school district has made a special effort to accommodate registrars. Every school will be open tomorrow, Aug. 30, from 5 to 7 p.m. to register voters. Also, the board office will be open on Sept. 4 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Library boards change status for election

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Partisan, non-partisan. Partisan, non-partisan.

If you were a candidate filing for the Canton Library Board this year it didn't matter which way you filed the petitions — both were accepted by the state election board.

In what was one of the last, and most confusing election decisions made by the Michigan Legislature before its summer recess, according to library and legislative officials, the offices of library board members became non-partisan. Members of state library boards had formerly been affiliated with a party.

"It was tough getting signatures for the petitions ..."

But the decision caused considerable headaches for candidates seeking Canton's six posts this year, according to Canton Library Director Deborah O'Connor. O'Connor said the decision to go with non-partisan offices came so late, candidates had difficulty getting signatures to complete their petitions.

The same six individuals who presently sit on the library board refiled for the seats," O'Connor said. "But the legislature played with the decision on whether to go partisan or non-partisan for so long it was a terrible inconvenience.

"First they said partisan then they said non-partisan, then they said either-or in any mix," O'Connor continued. "It was tough getting signatures for the petitions and some of these candidates had to stand out in front of Krogers to get them."

The six board members seeking reelection in November include Katherine Baldrice, Mary Feltz, James Gillig, Douglas Ritter, John Schwartz, and Norma West.

The offices for the six library board members did not appear on the primary ballot Aug. 7. Orville Tungate, Wayne County Chief Deputy Clerk and a member of the election commission said the offices of library board members did not have to appear on the ballot by law.

"You must have a contest to put a race on the ballot," Tungate said. "In this case, the library board offices will appear on the general ballot in November and people can write candidates in for office then."

The Wayne County Community College Board of Trustees offices also did not appear on the primary ballot for the same reason, Tungate said.

Representative Gerald Law said the decision to go with a non-partisan library board came about was a result of the way the primary ballot in Oakland County was structured. "The ballot made the board partisan but it ran into problems. The Senate sent back a decision making the library board non-partisan and it was signed into law by the Governor in late July," Law said.

Law said confusion over the decision caused the election office to accept candidates petitions for library board regardless of whether or not they had been filed as non-partisan petitions. "They just crossed out the party at the top of the petitions," Law said.

O'Connor said a non-partisan library board made sense.

Prison construction starts

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Construction has begun on the $330 million multi-security state prison on Five Mile Road west of Beck Road in Northville Township.

The 550-bed facility is scheduled to be completed in 1986, said a spokeswoman for the state Department of Corrections (DOC).

"Money has been appropriated in the DOC budget (for construction) of the prison for the next two years," said Gail Light, a DOC public information official.

The prison, named after Robert H. Scott, a former DOC deputy director, is a prototype for 18 state regional prisons which will eventually replace the present larger, older facilities, Light said.

"The idea is to have smaller, multi-security prisons located nearer to where prisoners come from," Light said.

The Scott prison will contain closed, medium and minimum security prisoners, Light said. Closed security is a rating between maximum and minimum, she said.

A short-term maximum security wing of 25-30 beds will be included for disciplining prisoner, Light said.

275 attack suspect arrested

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Canton Police arrested a suspect in connection with one of seven sexual attacks which have taken place on the I-275 bike path, Sergeant Alex Wilson of the Canton Police said.

Wilson said Jeffrey Clair Gruber, 23, of Flat Rock, was arrested Aug. 21 in connection with an attack which took place Aug. 18. Gruber was picked up at his work place in Monroe after a warrant for his arrest was obtained from the Wayne County Prosecutor by the police. Wilson said Gruber does not match the description of suspects given by victims in the six other bike path attacks.

Gruber was arraigned before Judge James Garber on a charge of assault and battery Aug. 21. He pled guilty to the charge and an original sentencing date of Aug. 24 was postponed. Garber has ordered Gruber to undergo psychiatric testing prior to sentencing.

Wilson said a 22-year-old Belleville woman was knocked from her bike on the bike path at 4:10 p.m. on Aug. 18. According to reports, the suspect, who was on foot, had pushed her from the bike. The woman scrambled to her feet and was being pursued by the suspect down the path. Wilson said the suspect gave up the chase and ran to a car when a witness driving on the freeway observed the incident.

Wilson said the witness pursued the suspect's vehicle and obtained a license plate number. The car was tracked down and Gruber was later arrested as a suspect in the incident.

Wilson said Canton Police originally sought a warrant for assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct against Gruber. Wilson said, however, Canton police and the victim were unable to substantiate the charge based on the what took place during the incident.

Assault and battery is a 90-day, $500 fine misdemeanor. Gruber has been released on a 10 per cent $2,500 bond.

Canton Kroger store reopens

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Shoppers were busy scanning the shelves and buying their groceries at the Canton Kroger last Thursday morning, just a few hours after the store and 45 others across the state reopened.

Kroger's Plymouth store remains closed, however. It is reportedly for sale, along with some 35 other Kroger stores.

Jack Romeo, manager of the Harvard Square Kroger in Canton, said customers were outside when he unlocked the door at 8 a.m. Thursday.

"When I opened up the door this morning, there were people waiting to come in," Romeo said Thursday.

He said he recognized one of the first persons inside the reopened store as a price checker from Chatham Foods, a Kroger competitor.

"I imagine all the other stores will have price checkers in here this week," Romeo said. "They'll want to see what kind of prices we reopened with."

Some 26 Canton Kroger employees quit during the shutdown and, workers are being shuffled from various Kroger stores, he said. Kroger shut down 70

Michigan stores after unionized employees rejected a wage pact. After further negotiations between management and the unions, employees voted to accept wage concessions offered by the Cincinnati-based chain.

Kroger reopened 45 of its stores. Those reopened were the "high volume" stores, Romeo said.

The manager of the closed Plymouth Kroger was working in the Canton store Thursday, Romeo said.

Romeo said he had heard compliments from customers all morning.

One woman approached him with a cart full of groceries and said she was happy to be shopping in the store again.

"I'm glad you reopened," the woman said. "I came all the way from Westland to shop here."

In the parking lot, a woman loading groceries into her car asked a Kroger employee collecting carts if she would be able to keep her job.

"I've only got a year (seniority) this month, so I probably won't get to stay," the employee said.

"That's too bad," the shopper responded.

New P-C school staffers

BY RACHAEL DOLSON
Two new administrators were appointed by the Plymouth-Canton School Board and 12 new teachers were welcomed to the ranks of staff in action Monday night.

Patricia Moore was appointed principal of Central Middle School to replace Gary Owens who left the district to take another job. Moore served as assistant principal at Central during Owens tenure.

Last month, Moore was chosen for the "Extra Miler" award by the board of education. The award is given to school staff who go above and beyond their everyday job responsibilities.

Sharon Strean was appointed assistant director of community education to replace David Dursum who resigned to take another job.

Strean has been with the Plymouth-Canton Community Education staff since 1977. She has spearheaded a number of programs, a job placement service, a career planning program, business and industry program, an internship program for adult students, and adding cosmetology to the adult education curriculum.

Twelve new classroom teachers were approved by the board Monday. The district is near the end of its recall list, with all but a few of the laid-off teachers having been rehired or taking other jobs outside the district.

Assistant Superintendent for Personnel Norm Kee said only a few remain on the recall list, and those have special skills that do not match 12 positions that needed to be filled.

Board member Thomas Yack said: "This is the first time in a long time we have had this many new contracts to approve." The board had attended a welcome reception for new staff and Yack said the enthusiasm of the new teachers was enjoyable. "Every organization needs some new blood. There was a lot of enthusiasm in the room and I think that is carrying over to the buildings they will be working in."

Fall Fest changes Crier dates

The Fall Festival edition of The Community Crier will be coming out on Wednesday, Sept. 5. Because of the size of that week's paper early advertising and editorial deadlines have been set.

The deadlines are as follows: classified ads, news items and what's happenings are due in the office by 5 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 30. The deadline for display ads is tentatively set for Wednesday, Aug. 29. The display ad deadline may be moved up to an earlier date because of space and time limitations.

The Crier offices will be closed Monday, Sept. 3 for Labor Day, and Friday, Sept. 7 for the Fall Festival.

Plymouth cop blames job stress for heart attack

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT

Self-proclaimed health nut Jerry Vorva had a heart attack last Tuesday evening at his workplace.

Vorva, who has been a Plymouth police officer for six years, says it's no coincidence his heart stopped when and where it did.

"I have been under pressure every day for the last six years," Vorva, 32, said in a phone interview from St. Joseph's Hospital in Superior Township. "I have worked an inordinate amount of hours and I felt I had to do that to protect my position."

Vorva said when his heart stopped Tuesday night, he felt like he "had died." He suffered another more serious heart attack at the hospital Wednesday night. Vorva said his heart stopped for an hour and a half that time.

Thursday, he was fitted with a

Canton fires up over 1983 figure, statistics show

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

What's in a number?

Well, if you're a Canton resident, and that number happens to be 153, there's a lot in it.

The Canton Fire Department reported that rescue and fire runs in the township are up this year over last year's total at the same time by 153. While firemen handled 1,135 runs through August of 1983, they have handled 1,288 thus far in 1984.

Don Adams, a sergeant with the Canton Fire Department, said most of the extra runs the firefighters have handled have been field fires caused by dry weather and juveniles. Adams said a portion of the increase could also be attributed to a population increase in the township.

"There's an increase in population, there's more follow-up investigations and we have a lot more juvenile problems this year," Adams said. "Kids are playing with matches and setting fires in fields and subdivision parks."

Adams said the department has also seen an increase in the number of juvenile injuries they normally treat during the summer. "Kids ride down the main roads and don't cross with the signals. I've seen three or four kids who just ran into the sides of cars this summer."

Adams said the increased number of rescue and fire runs has presented no real problem for firefighters because they have been minor runs. "But we do stretch ourselves thin when we get in two and three and four runs at a time," he added.

Adams urged parents to exercise more control in keeping their kids from setting fires. "We were all 10 and 12 once, and sometimes the kids don't mean to let the fires get that big," he said. "But parents can tell when their kids get into trouble. I hope parents will get to their kids while their playing with matches and firecrackers before we have to."

pacemaker, "a deluxe model," Vorva explained.

Vorva lives in Plymouth and is an avid runner. He ran in the Rocks Run II, this summer and the Plymouth Distance Classic three weeks ago.

Vorva said he was surprised by his heart attack. "I run; I eat good; I have a low cholesterol level." He checks his blood pressure at the fire department once a month.

Vorva said the pressures the city places on its police officers have taken their toll on the force. Lt. William Fletcher suffered a heart attack earlier this year and is no longer a member of the force. Vorva said Fletcher and Officer Roger Roy, who was fired this month, were victims of the same "job pressures" he linked to his heart attack.

"I know the city is not taking the interest and concern in police officers that it should.

"If you look at the number of people (on the force) and the number of incidents, it should tell you that the pressure is always on," he said.

"It doesn't have to be that way. We don't want it to be that way."

Vorva suggested the city institute a health and fitness program for its employees which, he said, would benefit employees and lower the city's insurance premiums.

Vorva is on disability leave from the city and said he would consider his future, including his status with the police department when he is released from the hospital. He said he is still undergoing tests and didn't know when he would be released.

Vorva criticized the Plymouth City Commission at their meeting held the day before his heart attack. At the meeting, he called the commission unaccountable to the citizens because he said they had not dealt properly with questions the police union and supporters had raised. The questions centered on the city contract to provide police service for Plymouth Township, the distribution of funds derived from the contract and the resignation of Plymouth Police Chief Ralph White.

Fraternal Jaycees will now accept sisters in clubs

BY CHERYLEBERWEIN

Abolish the Jaycettes, enhance the Jaycees!!

That may very well have been the battle cry heard Aug. 18 when the Michigan Jaycees organization voted overwhelmingly to open their ranks to women. The motion to open the fraternal club was seconded by representatives of the Canton Jaycees at the state meeting held in Lansing.

Doug Ritter, a member of the Canton Jaycees, said Michigan is the first state to voluntarily open its Jaycee organization to women. Formerly, women interested in the Jaycee cause were forced to join an auxiliary to the group known as the Jaycettes. Ritter said Jaycettes were not full fledged voting members of the group.

Tod Macauley, legal counselor for the Michigan Jaycees, said the decision to open the Jaycees up to women stemmed from a legal battle which recently took place in Minnesota. "In a Supreme Court decision there, the Jaycees were ordered to open their club to women," Macauley said. "The Michigan Jaycee clubs saw this as a positive move and decided to no longer bar women voluntarily."

Macauley said the Jaycee by-laws and constitution were changed so all references to "young men" now read "young people." Macauley said women are playing an ever-increasing role in the professional and business world and this also prompted the state's action.

Macauley said the Jaycette auxiliaries will continue to exist through May of 1985, but will be completely eliminated after that. Ritter said local women in the Jaycettes will probably be able to join the local clubs at a pro-rated membership fee because of their former Jaycette affiliation.

Macauley said some Jaycee chapters support the move to allow women into the ranks of their club, while others are against it. Macauley also said some Jaycette clubs have raised objections to the change.

"When they're in the Jaycettes, women have no voting rights in the organization," Macauley said. "Now they will be full-fledged members who hold offices."

"But some women joined the group because they wanted to be in an all-women group rather than joining for the things the Jaycees stand for. They joined for an all women club rather than leadership and service to the community. Frankly, some men joined the Jaycees for the same reasons." Macauley indicated these clubs were most strongly disfavored the change.

New clothing bank phone number

The correct phone number for the Clothing Bank, a place for needy families to get clothes, is 451-6673. When the Clothing Bank moved to a different portable in the Central Middle School parking lot, there was some confusion over the new phone number and an incorrect number was printed in the Aug. 15 edition. The Bank is open from 9:30 a.m. to noon on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Persons wishing to donate or to receive clothing should call for an appointment.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON OBJECTIONS TO FIRE AND POLICE PROTECTION SPECIAL ASSESSMENT LEVY

Notice is hereby given that the Charter Township of Canton Board of Trustees will hold a public hearing pursuant to 1951, Public Acts 33 and 181 as amended for the purpose of hearing objections to defraying the expenses for the fire and police protection districts by a special assessment levy to be spread on the tax rolls effective December, 1984.

DATE: Tuesday, September 11, 1984

TIME: 7:00 P.M.-9:00 P.M.

PLACE: Canton Township Administration Building
1150 South Canton Center Road

On May 18, 1976, a Fire Protection Special Assessment Levy was approved by the voters, and at the June 22, 1976 Public Hearing, the Board of Trustees for the Charter Township of Canton unanimously approved the creation of a Fire Protection Special Assessment District for the entire Township.

On August 27, 1977, a Police Protection Special Assessment Levy was approved by the voters, and at the September 13, 1977 Public Hearing, the Board of Trustees for the Charter Township of Canton approved the creation of a Police Protection Special Assessment District for the entire Township.

The 1985 estimated budgets submitted by the Fire Chief, Police Chief, and the Administration are as follows:

FIRE DEPARTMENT		POLICE DEPARTMENT
Salaries	$ 1,075,000	Salaries	$ 1,241,000
Fringes	286,000	Fringes	345,000
Capital Outlay	30,000	Capital Outlay	103,000
Operation Costs	198,750	Operation Costs	372,385
TOTAL	$ 1,589,750	TOTAL	$ 2,061,385

The Township is proposing that the millages remain the same — Fire Fund 3.06 and Police Fund 4.07. These millages are less than what the Township could levy under P.A. 5, 1982.

P-C School Board targets proposed budget cuts

BY RACHAEL DOLSON

Spring sports, maintenance and safety busing are some of the areas that could be cut this school year if the Plymouth-Canton School Board's 1.74 mill tax increase fails on Tuesday, Oct. 2.

The millage increase request, which failed nearly two-to-one on the June ballot, would net the district $1.7 million more a year.

Budget projections put the 1984-85 year-end fiscal balance at $300,000 - still in the black. But without the millage increase the deficit at the end of 1985-86 would be $1.5 million and go up to $3.9 million by 1986-87, school officials said.

The school board has requested the administration prepare a list of cuts that could be made in the second semester (winter) of this school year to start saving money if the millage is defeated again.

The list of possible second semester reductions could save between $280,000 and $395,000 if implemented, said Superintendent Dr. John Hoben.

"(It's) highly improbable we could make these (cuts), but if forced to do so, these are the cuts we would consider," Hoben said.

No replacement of mid-year staff leaves, except classroom teachers, could save $50,000 to $75,000.

Reductions to spring sports could save $10,000 to $15,000.

Discontinuation of safety busing could save $40,000 to $50,000.

Elimination of workshops for staff could save $10,000 to $25,000 and $20,000 to $30,000 could be taken away from staff development.

Delaying maintenance work could save $75,000 to $100,000.

And a freeze on all internal accounts could save $75,000 to $100,000.

Final phase of Haggerty project promises paving

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

The final leg of a long Canton Township journey will begin shortly - if all goes as expected.

Haggerty Road, between Ford and Koppernick roads, may see the likes of paving equipment, cement and a smooth surface before the end of the construction season this year, according to David Nicholson, director of economic growth. Pavement of this stretch of Haggerty will complete development of this two and half year old project.

In a six to zero vote of the Canton Township Board, the Tony Angelo Concrete Construction Company was awarded the bid to pave Haggerty Road at the Aug. 14 board meeting. Trustee Carol Bodenmiller was absent from the session. The Angelo bid was the low bid, Nicholson said; paving costs from the company were estimated at approximately $1.4 million.

Nicholson said construction and paving of Haggerty Road "could start as soon as next week (Aug. 27)." The work will be complete 60 to 90 days after it is started, Nicholson added.

"The last of the drainage contractors have finished up and completed what was necessary for the road right-of-way. Wayne County has accepted the bid and approved the paving contract," Nicholson said. "They could get started immediately."

Canton Township has an agreement with the Wayne County Road Commission on the Haggerty Road project. While the actual road paving costs will be paid through local funds, the commission has provided engineering service to Canton on the project at a reduced fee of nine and a half per cent of the construction costs.

Nicholson said the township will save a substantial amount of money with the agreement since most engineering fees amount to 15 per cent of a project's construction costs. "We'll save about $77,000 through the Road Commission," Nicholson said.

The paving of Haggerty Road, which was originally suppose to run from Ford to Joy roads, is to take place in conjunction with the area's development as an industrial park. The original project was modified to its present boundaries when some property owners along Haggerty Road complained about the paving assessment which would accompany the cost of covering the road.

Nicholson said traffic will be re-routed along Lilley and Lotz roads during the paving of Haggerty.

2 men robbed at gunpoint

Canton police are seeking suspects in an armed robbery which took place in the home of a Canton man Aug. 23.

Sergeant Alex Wilson of the Canton Police said Glen Hess, 50, of Canton and a friend Dana Leader, 28, of Plymouth were robbed of their wallets at gunpoint in Hess' trailer. The robbery took place in the 46000 block of Gedded Road, Wilson said, at approximately 9:40 p.m.

Wilson said Hess and Leader heard a noise at the door and then the suspect entered the trailer through the screen.

Wilson said the suspect produced what appeared to be a 9mm blue steel revolver and demanded the pairs' wallets. Wilson said the suspect stole approximately $540, ordered the pair to lay down on the floor and then fled on foot.

The suspect was described as being 5'11", 155 pounds, and wearing a light colored tee shirt and blue jeans. The suspect wore a yellow mask made from a shirt over his face. Wilson said no one was injured in the incident and police have no suspects at this time.

Bus drivers and monitors should be commended

EDITOR:

For six years I worked with a group of employes in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District that need to receive recognition for a job well done. These employes safely and efficiently transport over 13,000 students to and from school each day. They tolerate all kinds of behavior from students, abuse from some parents and drive under some of the worse weather conditions possible.

Perhaps every parent in this district should ride a school bus for just one day to see for themselves what must be tolerated by these employes. Perhaps the parents of this district should listen on the bus radio during one of our winter storms to see how carefully and wisely these drivers anticipate the road conditions and deliver the students home.

The parents of this school district should also hear for themselves the care and concern the drivers give to the youngsters who are lost, sick or afraid because their parents are not at the bus stop as they promised.

It is true that buses are occasionally late due to road conditions, breakdowns, etc. but if the public was aware of the enormous task of setting up transportation for this many students perhaps they would be more tolerant of these minor inconveniences.

Many in this school district expect door to door service for their youngsters, are angry because their children walk 20 feet further to the bus stop than their neighbors children, are outraged that they cannot sit in their kitchen and see the bus stop, etc., etc.

Every possible accommodation is considered for all students when transportation services are set up for the school year but certain guidelines and legalities must be abided by. The school district is in the business of teaching, not transporting. Be grateful your children are transported safely and with a great deal of care and concern by the drivers.

Among this group of transportation association employes are a group of monitors. These women ride the special education vans and give their students extra care far and above what is expected of them. They are kind and thoughtful of these youngsters during the ride to and from school. To me they are exceptional.

I am glad I had the opportunity to see first hand just what a fine job these employes do for this community and for our most cherished possessions, our children.

Take a friend to the Fall Festival

It's not something easily detected in the air. It's more an inner feeling, a sense of anticipation, an excitement which seems to bloom around this time of year.

Long-time residents know the source of this excitement and even those new to The Plymouth-Canton Community don't take long to catch on. It's the week before Fall Festival - a week when last minute details will soon give way to crowds, aromas, activities and early autumn celebrating.

Fall Festival. For 29 years this homegrown holiday has added color to the community and highlighted the very best of everything it has to offer. From the cooperative efforts of the civic groups who sponsor it, to the thousands of guests who are annually drawn to this spectacle, the Fall Festival has become a showcase of the qualities and people which make The Plymouth-Canton Community what it is.

While there are always changes, new events added to the Fall Festival to keep its repertoire of offerings current, the charm and attraction of the event are in those annual traditions which reappear. Rotary chicken and the Bunyea steam engine, booths along Main Street, the waterball contest, the Antique Mart and art fair and just sitting in the company of friends in Kellogg Park are memories which will linger long past the actual event which starts Sept. 6 this year.

And if you somehow can't get into the spirit of the Festival this year, if you somehow can't muster any excitement for this all-too-familiar event, then take a friend whose never been to the celebration before. Through the eyes of this newcomer, the color which is Fall Festival will resurface.

Fall Festival is, after all, people - people who laugh with its silliness, escape with its events and give it new life every year.

'Good citizens' should speak out on PSO plan

EDITOR:

I would like to plead to all the good citizens that were at the City Commission meeting Monday, Aug. 20 to come on back - WE have another PROBLEM!

WHAT IS THE PROBLEM? Well, while you were looking at the assessment data, some of the concerned citizens were voicing their complaints over the future plans the city commissioners and the city manager have for the city police and fire departments.

WHAT ARE THOSE PLANS? Well, they want to take a policeman and give him the duties of a fireman and then they want to take fireman and make a policeman out of him! Then they want to lay the remaining personnel off.

WHAT WILL THIS DO? Well, it will deplete both department's effectiveness so much we'll have to depend on the County, and State for a larger degree of law enforcement. We'll also have to depend on the Township and neighboring cities for "backup" in case of major disasters. Of course, we would maintain one or two police cars to give the appearance that "THE PLAN IS WORKING!"

WHAT CAN YOU DO! Well, you did something about the assessment - don't you think this is just as important? How about attending the next city commission meeting and letting them know that you are BEHIND YOUR POLICE AND FIRE DEPARTMENTS!. Let's not go FORWARD in CIVIC matters and BACKWARDS in our city departments! It doesn't add up, does it?

SEE YOU AT THE MEETING!

City Manager represses T-shirt criticism?

EDITOR:

"Congress shall make no law ... abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Let's Keep Plymouth Free!

We, the undersigned friends of Jerry and Mae Hoelscher, are appalled by the efforts of City Manager Henry Graper to condemn their Harvey Street home to make room for a commercial office complex. We are further appalled by Mr. Graper's attempts to silence our peaceful protest of his action. On August 17th a number of us attended the Yacht Race in Kellogg Park wearing shirts inscribed, "Save Jerry's Studio, Condemn Graper." Jerry and Mae knew nothing about our protest, and as Americans we had every right to express our opinion without fear of repression. Yet, the following Monday Mr. Hoelscher was summoned to the City Manager's office and severely scolded for our action.

We, the undersigned, ask the people of Plymouth to consider three issues:

1. The right of a family to their home.
2. The right of citizens to express their opinions publicly and without fear of punishment.
3. The ethical and moral implications of a city administrator who values neither of these rights.

We think it's time for a change.

Through Bifocals

By Fred DeLano

Did city get what it wanted in hiring Graper?

Perhaps it's a stroke of good fortune that Plymouth's City Commission elections are held in odd-numbered years. That being the policy, some of the issues which seem to have provoked current grumbling among the citizenry should be laid to rest by the time four of the seven commission seats go up for grabs in November 1985.

If I read the pulse of the municipality correctly, the target for most of the darts being hurled toward city hall this season is City Manager Henry E. Graper Jr., who has held this position since the beginning of December 1979. Previously he had held the identical title in Dowagiac for eight years.

Pro-Graper and anti-Graper slates might, indeed, have enlivened the local political scene if Plymouthites were to ballot on commissioners this autumn, but that's not the case. What the situation will be a year hence is beyond our ken. But if it hasn't changed, one humdinger of a campaign could be in the offing.

Incidentally, commissioners whose terms expire next year are David A. Pugh, mayor; William L. Robinson, mayor pro tem; Ralph J. Kenyon and Ronald G. Loiselle. Of that quartet, only Robinson is eligible to seek re-election under terms of the charter defining the number of consecutive terms a person may hold.

Focal points of the present murmurings of discontent include the hassle over how to pay for downtown's new parking deck, proposed unification of police and fire operations into one public safety department, and the question of who the hell is to command the police phase anyway — a city officer or the top cop in the township.

"Change creates animosity," Graper commented a few days ago in reflecting on the almost-five-years he has spent in our midst. "The city is in a healthy financial situation, but it does not enjoy the luxury of an isle of plenty in a sea of need."

He points to a sharply increased tax base and an equally sharp reduction in the number of municipal employees as evidence that his stewardship has not been in vain, and states bluntly that he has no plans on the griddle for moving elsewhere. "We love it here," he said, including his wife and two sons in the summary.

There's no question in my own mind that Graper realizes full well there are a number among us who wish Plymouth had been kept a sleepy little western Wayne County outpost with hitching posts, muddy streets and wooden sidewalks, at least figuratively speaking.

"The growth pattern has been forced on us by what's going on around us," contends the city manager. Those who wish to quarrel with that should first spend a day cruising through Plymouth township, Canton, Northville Township and out into Washtenaw County. The development that is going on is amazing.

Plymouth must either keep up or be lost as we turn into the 21st Century. And don't forget; a child born this year will celebrate that important 16th birthday in the year 2000. It isn't far off.

Graper has a positive, determined way of doing things. He will be 44 next month and is not a "personality kid;" he does not consider the city manager's profession a popularity contest.

Shortly after Graper had been hired here, The Community Crier quoted a long-time staff member of the Dowagiac Daily News as saying, "I don't like him, but he is effective. When he gets his teeth into something, he doesn't quit until the job is done."

Maybe we didn't want that kind of an administrator after all, but five years later it looks as though that's exactly what we got.

East needs sidewalks, too!

EDITOR:

Recently I read in The Crier that the Plymouth-Canton School administration is thinking of asking the city of Livonia to construct sidewalks for Plymouth-Canton students who attend Lowell Middle School and live within walking distance of the school.

There are students who walk to East Middle School and have no sidewalks to use. Rocker and Plymouth Estates subdivisions have repeatedly requested sidewalks but we were told that sidewalks were not a safety requirement for middle school students. Further, we were told that sidewalks would do no good because middle school students don't use them anyway. Are the students who attend

Lowell different from ours, Mr. Goby? (Dale Goby, school director of transportation.)

I'm sure Lowell parents feel uncomfortable about their children walking along Joy Road. I also feel uncomfortable about my children having to walk on Lilley Road with no sidewalks and having to cross Ann Arbor Road at peak traffic times.

If the school administration does make this request of the city of Livonia, certainly they could do the same of Plymouth Township.

KAREN DEGENHARDT

(Editor's note: Middle school students in the Lowell area proposed for sidewalks are currently bused by decision of the school board for reasons of safety.)

What do you mean summer is over? It can't be. It seems like the kids just got out of school.

Some mothers are glad the kids are back in school, but I'm not one of them. I'm simply not ready for fall and having to get into a routine. I hate having to make sure everyone is up every morning, figuring out who has to be driven to or picked up from sports practice and work, and nagging about homework.

With both kids in high school, this year should be interesting. I can just hear one kid yelling at the other to hurry up in the shower, or the older kid complaining about having to drive the younger one to a football game. I guess I didn't realize how nice I had it when they were in different schools and on different schedules. For the last two years one kid was ready to walk out the door in the morning before the other had to get up.

The other hassle with starting school is the cost factor. By the time you pay for book deposits, school pictures and lunch money, there's nothing left in the check book. Of course every kid needs new clothes for school. "What do you mean you can't get into those pants, we just bought them a couple of months ago." I don't understand why kids have to grow so much during the summer.

I suppose there are some good points about the kids being in school. I'll get to use my car more often, even if I am playing chauffeur half the time. Although the kids won't admit it, I think they're glad to get back and see all their friends.

Get out the alarm clocks, notebooks and pens. Ready or not, here we go with another school year.

April Majerus took second place in Michigan in the Multiple Sclerosis Read-A-Thon. The seven year old received an honorable mention because she read 96 books and raised $125, and she received the second place honor in the Mystery Short Story competition, with a short story entitled, "The Teacher Is Missing". She was honored in Lansing, where she received a medalion and a published anthology of all the first prize winner's stories. Emily Guettler

BAHAMAS BECKON
Just 50 miles east of Palm Beach, Florida, a dazzling mosaic of tropical islands stretches southward almost to the shores of Haiti. I'm talking about the beautiful Bahamas, a string of 700 islands and 2400 cays (pronounced keys) warmed by the Gulf Stream year-round and cooled in summer by soft trade winds. These low-lying islands have become a reasonably-priced, easy-to-reach vacation mecca for thousands each year.

Wherever you go, the beauty of these islands is breathtaking. Magnificent beaches are soft-sanded and abundant and bright-colored blossoms accent the foliage.

What's more, you can get to the Bahamas easily. A number of airlines fly regularly to Nassau, the islands' capital and to Grand Bahama (Freeport). Cruise ships make frequent stops here. Now, regular local flights go to over a dozen islands from both Nassau and Florida. This means you can choose almost any kind of vacation you want because the Bahamas vary greatly in mood and style.

Moses named principal at Adventist Academy

Plymouth Adventist Junior Academy is pleased to announce the arrival of their new principal, Dr. Y.J. Moses, Ph.D. Dr. Moses is looking forward to the beginning of the new school year, slated for this week.

Dr. Moses was born and raised in Malaysia. He attended Spicer Memorial College in Puna, India, where he earned a bachelor's degree in education. While attending Spicer College, he met, and married, his wife Gnani Ruth. After teaching for 13 years in Singapore, he decided to attend Andrews University in Berrien Springs, Michigan.

He finished his doctoral program at Michigan State University, and stayed there for three years as an instructor. Longing to get back to teaching in church affiliated schools, he accepted the responsibilities of principal of Grand Rapids Junior Academy. He comes from Grand Rapids to Plymouth.

Dr. Moses has been a popular lecturer throughout Michigan and other states, due to his expertise in brain growth and nutrition as they relate to childhood development. Plymouth residents were able to hear one of his lectures this past February.

Dr. Moses' wife, Gnani, is just a few months from completing her doctoral studies in Business Education at Michigan State University. The Moses' have two children, Kenneth, 14, and Juanita, 12.

Dr. Moses will be teaching grades 7-9. Plymouth Adventist Junior Academy is located at 4295 Napier Rd., Plymouth, MI 48170. The school is open to the public, and any inquiries regarding the school program can be made by calling 459-8222 during business hours or call 981-3329 if unable to reach anyone at the first number.

Ehrles teach antique class

Lynn and Doris Ehrle of Plymouth are two of the lecturers in a series of arts and crafts classes at the Mill Race Historical Village in Northville this fall.

Sponsored by the Northville Historical Society, the classes and workshops range from magic to antiques, stenciling to stichery. Registration will begin in September.

Mill Race Antique Forum will be the title for the Ehrles' three part lecture series on buying antiques, restoring your find, redware and stoneware and American historical flasks.

For further information on any of the classes or the village, call Sally at 349-4607, Linda at 349-6945, or Barbara at 348-7244.

Bell spends $2 million on Plymouth plant

Michigan Bell this year plans to spend $2 million to expand its telecommunications facilities in Plymouth as part of a $425 million state-wide project.

Plymouth's share of the company's 1984 construction program includes $182,000 for land and buildings, $1.6 million for central office equipment, $11,000 for other equipment and $200,000 for outside plant facilities.

"Of the state-wide total, we've targeted about $132 million to modernize our facilities by continuing to add to the company's digital and fiber-optics capabilities," Vititoe said.

Digital technology converts voice, date or video signals into a stream of electronic pulses which can be more efficiently transmitted through the communications network. Fiber-optic customers who rely on us to move data quickly an accurately between computer terminals, and we anticipate that in the future an increasing number of residence customers will have the same need," he said.

The largest single state-wide expenditure planned for this year -- $180 million -- will be used to purchase and install telephone switching equipment.

During the year, Vititoe said, state-of-the-art electronic call switching equipment will be installed in Evert, Irons, Marquette, McBain and Romeo.

The equipment will make available to the 23,000 customers in those communities such services as touch-tone calling, international direct distance dialing, and custom calling service features such as call forwarding, call waiting, speed calling and three-way calling.

Michigan Bell expects to add 75,000 new residence and business customers lines to the state-wide telephone network in 1984 and anticipates serving 3.75 million customer lines by the end of the year.

"Of the state-wide total, we've targeted about $132 million to modernize our facilities..."

— William P. Vititoe

William P. Vititoe, Michigan Bell president, said this year's construction expenditures, up $25 million from 1983, are earmarked for improving basic telephone service as well as "continuing to build the sophisticated telecommunications network Michigan will need in the future."

For the third consecutive year, he said, the construction program will be financed entirely with internally generated funds.

technology converts the electronic pulses into pulses of light and transmits them at a very high speed over glass fibers.

By the end of this year, transmission cables of the hair-thin optical fibers will be used in switching offices in Birmingham, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Pontica and Royal Oak, Vititoe said.

"These advanced systems are especially useful to the many business

Plymouth man is group V.P. for AMC Responsible for AMC's manufacturing operations

Plymouth resident George A. Maddox has been promoted to the position of group vice president-manufacturing and supply for American Motors.

In the newly-created position, Maddox is responsible for the company's manufacturing operations and the purchase of all goods and materials used by the company.

Maddox has been an AMC corporate officer since November 1975 when he has elected vice president-manufacturing. He was promoted to vice president-manufacturing operations in February 1979 and to vice president-manufacturing and supply group in June 1983.

Maddox held staff positions with Ford Motor Company and Chrysler Corporation prior to joining American Motors in 1963 as chief industrial engineer at the company's Kenosha, WS. plant.

He held a number of positions prior to his election to vice president-manufacturing in 1975.

He is a member of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers.

Chamber says Geake 'perfect'

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce has given Sen. Robert Geake (R-Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton) a perfect rating of 100 per cent in its annual evaluation of state senators and representatives on business issues.

The Job Provider's Index, prepared each legislative session by the Chamber, assesses the voting records of state legislators on proposals of interest to Michigan's employers. The issues this session included reform in Michigan's unemployment compensation and worker's compensation guidelines, a federal balanced budget amendment, re-establishment of the "waiting week" for gubernatorial appointments, and the reapportionment plan.

Geake said he was pleased about his rating by the Chamber.

"For too long, our businesses have borne the brunt of a pro-labor government. It is about time we started providing some relief to those who provide jobs," said Geake.

A wet way to play Fall Fest

BY CHERYL EBERWEIN

Are you looking for a wild, wet and wonderful way to participate in this year's Fall Festival celebration? Then why not gather a few friends and join the ranks of those who'll battle for the Plymouth Fire Department's Waterball Champion title?

Captain Al Matthews of the department said there is still time for men and women's teams to sign up for this famous Festival event and at least one more practice for the event will be held before the competition on Sept. 8.

"Those teams who want to participate in the waterball contest for the trophies must attend a waterball practice session," Matthews said. Men must have five guys on their teams while women must have six gals on theirs.

The waterball competition is scheduled to take place at 1:45 p.m. on Main Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Wing Street. Matthews said teams for the contest must be registered in advance with the department.

Those who want to participate in other fire muster events can register at the event on Sept. 8, Matthews said. A practice session for fire muster events is not necessary.

"We'll accept any teams for the waterball contest," Matthews said. "They don't have to be affiliated with a fire department. Teams who want to participate for the fun of it don't have to participate in a practice session," he added.

Jewel thieves waive pre-trial exam rights

Two men, accused of robbing a jewelry salesman of between $750,000-$1 million worth of diamonds and gems, waived their rights to a pre-trial examination in 35th District Court Monday.

Billy Lee Spence and Lek Gjckaj were then bound over to trial in Wayne Circuit Court by Judge James Garber.

A circuit court trial date has not yet been set.

Attorneys for the two men asked Garber to reduce the $50,000 bond he had set for each man at their arraignments. Attorneys Ronald R. Gold, representing Gjckaj, and Leon Jeffrey Weiss, representing Spence, said their defendants needed a reduced bond to help prepare a better defense.

Weiss said Gjckaj's friends and family had to scrape the 10 per cent or $10,000 bond required for release.

Both Gjckaj and Spence paid bond.

The two men are charged with the unarmed robbery of Tribhovanbhai Mohanbhai Patel outside Jer 'richards Jewelry Store on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth township Aug. 15.

Police reports say Patel had gone to Jer 'richards to deliver gems he was carrying in his attache case.

Canton police seek suspects in arson

Canton Police are investigating a garage arson fire which took place Aug. 1 in the 44000 block of Southampton at approximately 3 a.m., according to fire department reports. Damage to the garage was estimated at approximately $8,000.

Five firefighting units were called to the scene of the fire by numerous neighbor reports, Sergeant Don Adams of the department said. Smoke from the fire could be seen from Handford and Sheldon roads, Adams said.

Adams said the fire was contained in the garage, but smoke from the fire had also entered the house. Firefighters forced windows and doors open in the burning structure to gain access to the fire and brought the blaze under control in about 15 minutes.

Plymouth police investigate gun shooting

Plymouth police received a complaint Sunday night about gunshots on Powell Road.

A man said he had found a spent .38 bullet in his kitchen cabinet, along with broken glass in the cabinet and a hole in a screen of a kitchen window on line with the cabinet.

The man told police his wife had been at the window three minutes before he heard the shot.

Police say the man went to a nearby house on Beck Road after hearing the shot and talked with the neighbor who had a gun in his hand. Police say both men returned to inspect the bullet hole but the neighbor with the gun seemed unconcerned.

Police are investigating and have a suspect.

According to fire department reports, the origin of the fire was in the southwest corner of the garage where a pile of debris had been located. The debris had been left there by a tenant who was renting the home but had vacated it on July 31.

All accidental causes for the fire have been eliminated, the report said, and the fire has been classified as an arson. Canton police are investigating the crime for suspects.

New class offerings

Comm. Ed. starts into fall

Plymouth-Canton Community Education registration for fall classes begin on Sept. 4 at Canton High School, Canton Center and Joy roads.

Registration schedule: Sept. 4, 6 to 9 p.m. at the Canton High School cafeteria; Sept. 5, 4 to 9 p.m. at Canton High School rooms 128 and 129; Sept. 6, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Canton High School room 130; and Sept. 7 to 14, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Canton High School room 130.

Many new classes and a new day adult education center with child care is being offered. All classes are free if you are a high school graduate under age 20 on Sept. 1 and do not have a high school diploma, or have a GED with no diploma.

Call 451-6660 for more information.

3 arrested in store heist

Three men and one juvenile were arrested by the Canton Police Saturday night and have been charged with breaking and entering, Canton Police reported.

The group was caught by the Canton Police trying to steal empty bottles and cans from Julien's Party Store at the corner of Canton Center and Ford roads, according to department reports.

Sergeant Alex Wilson of the Canton Police said a patrol car was driving past the store at 2:43 a.m. when officers noticed a car parked behind it. The officer called for additional backup and later arrested the four. Wilson said two men had kicked in the door to the store to gain entry and were found inside the store when police arrived.

Arrested were Jeffrey Dean Williams, 18, Steven Charles Bashford, 22, and Thomas Frederick Fisher, 18. They were arraigned before Judge James Garber yesterday and not guilty pleas were entered for all three. They were each released on a $1,500 10 per cent bond; an exam date of Sept. 6 has been scheduled.

The 16-year-old juvenile will be charged and processed through the juvenile probate system, Wilson said.

Bowling fire

A dryer fire at the Canton Superbowl caused approximately $250 worth of damage to the dryer and building on Aug. 16, Canton firefighters reported.

Chief grididders eye '84 improvements

BY MIKE MCKENNEY

If Canton varsity football coach Richard Barr has a favorite song, it must be Bob Dylan's "The Times They Are A-Changin'".

Judging from last year's miserable one win, eight loss season, it would appear that Barr and his Chiefs have hit rock bottom.

But, not so, says the ever optimistic head coach.

Barr, who is now in his twentieth year of coaching and about to begin his fifth year at Canton, says he expects to see a drastic change in the win column at the end of this year.

preview

"We expect to be over .500 at least."

He foresees a quicker, more confident Canton team rising up from the smoldering ashes of the old; a team which will be able to stand up against tough teams such as Walled Lake Central and Farmington Harrison in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA), a team which could bring the word PRIDE back into the Chiefs vocabulary.

"We've got a great bunch of kids with us this year," he said. "There are alot of hard working, dedicated players."

"We think we definately have something here."

Debateable?

Maybe.

You decide.

However, a careful eye must examine the Chiefs fast, strong, and well seasoned offensive backfield, a backfield that

contains the likes of 5' 10"; 190 lbs. Rodney Boyd, a three year varsity tailback who led the Chiefs in yards rushing last fall with 500. Also a factor is the strong, stocky and quick Matt Flower (5'6", 158 lbs.), another returnee who has a lock on the slotback position.

"I think we have just as good of an offensive backfield as anyone," said Barr. "That spot, along with the defensive secondary, is probably our strongest point."

It would also be tough to discredit the 6'2", 170 lbs. Dave Knapp, a multi-talented athlete who led Canton in pass receptions last year, but because of his sure-footedness and agility is being revamped into a Chief quarterback.

"He's easily one of our fastest kids. He's also very versatile. He can play QB, he can be a running back, he can be a receiver. I'd say he's definitely small college material."

Tony Aiken, a 5' 11" junior who saw alot of playing time at QB last fall, will be Knapp's only other competitor for the glory spot.

"Tony, like David, is very quick and knows what to do," said Barr.

So who's going to start?

"Right now I couldn't tell you. We probably won't know that until the first game of the season," he said.

'Deep' Canton tennis squad to make up for lost stars

BY DAVID PIERINI

Well it doesn't look like the Canton girl's tennis team is going to wreck havoc on conference opponents this season, but they could pull a few surprises.

True, graduation was not too kind, taking key players away especially number one player Linda Sarafian, which may present a problem according to coach Carol Micheals. "We don't have a super-star at number one or number two (singles) like many of the other schools, so I don't know how many points we're going to get at those position," said Micheals. "But I think we'll do as good as last year. Our depth should carry us."

Last year, Canton didn't finish on top of the pack but they did finish a respectable third in their division and placed fifth over all.

The depth that Micheals talks about comes from various angles including girls getting involved in racket club programs and the summer recreation program.

"They're a real nice bunch of kids," said Micheals. "I don't know what they'll do till the first couple of matches but I'm pretty optimistic."

preview

Lisa Hays looks likely to be the number one player due to flawless performances thus far in the challenge matches and Missy Lloyd, Nancy Rhinehart and Kelly Craig will be the other singles players battling it out for position.

Ypsilanti will be in town September the sixth for the first duel meet of the season.

Passing game tested, offensive line 'unproven'

Red-white game shows Canton strengths, faults

No matter who Barr's final choice turns out to be, one thing remains certain; he wants to work on his passing game.

"They (Knapp and Aiken) both did well in the Red and White game," he said. "However, we still need to improve our passing."

The so-called 'Red and White Game' Barr speaks of is a Canton (as well as Salem) annual pre-season inner squad scrimmage game. The Chiefs played theirs last Friday night at home.

"Overall, we were very happy with what we saw. There were many things we did right, and there were a few we discovered that we need to work on."

One player in particular, 6' 0", 175 lbs. Mike Johnson, turned in an impressive performance Friday. Fresh out of Pioneer Middle School, Johnson is currently vying with 5' 11", 170 lbs. Jim Wallace for the starting fullback honors. Johnson is the only sophomore on Canton's 58 man team.

"I think he (Johnson) has a good shot at becoming our starting fullback and maybe even one of our starting linebackers. However, I don't think he'll go both ways," said Barr.

As for receivers, Barr has a pretty good idea who he wants where. Greg Hodge (5' 9", 168 lbs.), Sean Budlong (5' 10", 170 lbs.), and Jim Bright whom Barr says "has a great pair of hands," seem to be the likely candidates for the tight end and split end positions.

In contrast however, is Canton's offensive line, which still seems to be in the cocoon stage.

"Almost all of our line was made up of seniors last year, so we're going to have to do some rebuilding," said Barr.

Presently, Jeff Rummel (5' 10" 165 lbs.) is the line's only returning starter. He is slotted to play offensive guard.

Could this mean trouble for the Chiefs offense?

Barr doesn't think so.

"I don't think I'd call the offensive line a weak spot, I'd just say it's an unproven part of our team."

One very new face on Canton's squad this season will be former Canton varsity and Bonanza travel team soccer player, Dave Liuzzo. Barr says Liuzzo will share the kicking chores with Dave Knapp.

Performing the punting will be either Greg Hodge or Dan Olsewski (6' 1", 170 lbs.).

Defensively, the Chiefs have decided to change from a 6-2 to 5-2 lineup this year.

"We need to protect more against the pass, since more teams are passing now," said Barr.

The Chiefs backfield is made up of Knapp (safety), Aiken (safety), Ray Hyder (5' 8", 155 lbs., cornerback), and Dennis Harvey (5' 11", 170 lbs., cornerback).

THE CANTON FORMATION and lineup. (Crier art by Mike McKenney and Chris Boyd)

"We're pretty strong back there," said Barr.

As for the defensive ends, Barr says the two spots are up for grabs.

Parallel to the end toss-up is the linebacker lineup.

"Mike Johnson and Scott Campbell (6' 0", 185 lbs.) both are contenders, but nothing is final yet," said Barr.

"That's also another unproven spot." Matt Flower seems to be holding the reigns to the noseguard position, while many of the other defensive line jobs are still being scouted.

This week, Canton will find out what they're made of when they travel to Redford Union to face Harper Woods Notre Dame, Grosse Pointe South, and the home team in another pre-season test, the four way scrimmage.

Any last words from coach Barr? "We feel we're going to do well this year. But, we have to win our first game to begin with."

Hopefully for the Chiefs, in just about two weeks, the times will start a-changin'.

DAVE DAMERON fingers the silver and gold medals he won in Jr. Olympic wrestling competition. (Crier photo by David Pierini)

Jr. Olympic medalist eyes high school wrestling crown

*And they gather as they've always done
With one purpose and one aim
To give their souls and bodies to
The challenge of the games.*

From the song, Olympia, the official song of the 1984 summer Olympics.

BY DAVID PIERINI

Six months ago, David Dameron earned third team all-area high school wrestling honors. Today he is a National Junior Olympic champion.

Six months ago, David Dameron finished up his sophomore year at Salem with a 34-10 record against area wrestlers. Today, he has finished his A.A.U. summer season 106-6 with 92 pins.

Dameron came home last Monday from the A.A.U. National Junior Olympics in Jacksonville, Florida, an accomplished grappler. He medaled twice taking a gold in Greco-Roman style and a silver in freestyle and he won 11 out of 12 matches.

Not bad for a kid who's only been "wrestling" for two years.

But because Dameron's sport is wrestling, not a media favorite like football or baseball, it's still necessary to run through his resume. His summer record of only six losses in 112 matches was particularly impressive because it was only his first season participating in A.A.U. and Federation competition.

Competing at the 130 lbs. weight class, Dameron won the state A.A.U. title in both Greco and freestyle and then went on to the regional tournament in Ohio where he was named outstanding wrestler of the tournament taking first in Greco and second in freestyle. Indianapolis was the next stop on his tour de force and once again Dameron came out on top, taking first in Greco and second in freestyle.

And then the Jr. Olympics, where he joined the likes of Kurt Thomas, Greg Louganis and Evelyn Ashford, all three of which competed in the Jr. Olympics and then went on to Olympic glory.

What's next for Dameron? Seoul 1988? "I'd like to try for the Olympics," said Dameron. But first things first. "I want to be a state champion in high school. I wrestled state champions from all over and I beat most of them."

"If I can beat other state champions, I think I can compete in Michigan."

The Salem junior says his coach, Ron Krueger, has been the difference in his success. "He knows how to get the best out of everybody," said Dameron. "He pushes us a lot and works us really hard." Krueger is known for his dedication to wrestling as the Salem head coach.

Perhaps another important role model is his mother Norah Morrell. "I know wrestling is tough on him sometimes," says Morrell. "It's like the real world out there; you win and you lose. Sometimes it's fair, sometimes it isn't. That's what life is all about."

"I think wrestling gives him everything," she says. "It gives him happiness, it gives him sadness. You learn responsibility, you learn to give up." Wrestling a.k.a. life.

David and his brother Dennis, who is also an accomplished wrestler (98lbs. weight class), knows what it's like to give up some of life's pleasures. "No girls during wrestling season," David sadly

Frosh jocks to be barred in '85

For the last three years, the Plymouth-Canton high schools have had a special dispensation to allow ninth grade middle schoolers to participate in high school athletics. But just recently, the Michigan High School Athletic Association instituted a new ruling stating that after the 1984-85 school year ninth graders will be ineligible to participate in the sports program because they are not considered high school students.

Athletic director John Sandman has petitioned a special letter with the endorsement of superintendent John Hoben asking for an appeal to the ruling until the Plymouth-Canton high schools switch over to a nine through 12 grade system.

The M.H.A.A. will consider the appeal in a February board meeting.

Canton seniors collect medals

Twenty-five Canton Senior athletes were part of a field of over 700 participating in the fifth annual Senior Olympics August 18 at Oakland Community College.

The Canton seniors made some fine showings and collected eight medals.

Medal winners were: Helen Livingston, gold in table tennis; Walter Rajda, gold in shuffleboard; Lena Alexs, silver in table tennis; Richard Alexs, bronze in horseshoes; Judy Bond, bronze, 100 yard dash; Al Dill, bronze, softball pitch-hit-run; Florence Parks, bronze in horseshoes; Bessie Polizzi, bronze in checkers.

Events ranged from team volleyball to baking.

Hotshots' win Canton contest

The Canton Parks and Recreation Department's Sixth Annual Pepsi-Cola NBA Hotshot Program was a big success as five local youths qualified to represent Canton in the regional finals.

In the boys nine to 12 age group, Tracey Ewald repeated as champion with an impressive score of 73 points. The contest involves shooting baskets from five hot spots marked on the basketball court. Each contestant is allowed 60 seconds to accumulate as high a score as possible.

The girls nine to 12 age group winner was Brenda Carey with a score of 36 points.

The boys 13 to 15 age group once again witnessed an outstanding performance by returning champion, M.J. Ewald with a record setting score of 90 points.

Jo Anna Wiklund took top honors in the girls 13 to 15 age groups with 39 points. In the boys 16 to 18 age group Tom Westemeier finished first with a score of 45 points.

Hinz finishes third in Crim

Canton runner Dave Hinz, 31, took third place in the eighth Bobby Crim 10 mile road race last weekend in Flint.

Hinz finished with a time of 48:19. The race is a fund raiser for the Special Olympics and race organizers expected proceeds to top $100,000.

Hinz finished 12th in the 1984 Olympic Time Trials Marathon and is a graduate of Central Michigan University.

Softball team wins tourney

Buddy's Pizza, a team that played in Plymouth's mens modified fast-pitch softball league, team won the Benchwarmer Tournament in Lapeer two weeks ago.

The team played six games and won five in the 10-team tournament. They travelled to Marshall last weekend to play in another tournament.

Three Plymouthites play on the team and their impressive statistics include pitcher Brian Murphy (3-0) who leads the team in hitting with .611 average; Mike Jones second in hitting with a .543 average; and John Innes, tied for third in the batting sweepstakes at .543.

PCHA seeks teams for fall

The Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association (PCHA) is forming teams for its fall league.

Tryouts for travel teams will be held Sept. 4-7; for juniors-juveniles Sept. 5-12; and for house teams Sept. 8-9.

PCHA has divisions for ages six-19. Players need not be registered to tryout for a team but players wishing to register can do so at any try-out. For specific try-out times and more information, call 459-6444.

Last week's story on The Crier Tennis Tournament omitted some results.

Dick Rhienhart and his partner Bud DePlanche won the men's 40-and-over-doubles competition, beating John Miller and Dick Stone 6-4 and 6-2 in the finals.

John Jayson defeated Larry Masteller 6-2, 6-0, to win the men's 35-and over singles division crown.

making to take place is the match-up on the mat with a fellow gladiator in total combat.

And perhaps it also won't be to long a time, where all of America will be watching David Dameron on ABC's "Super Slo-Mo" as he pins his opponent for gold in Seoul.

Local teachers attend U of M for computer instructions

Three local middle school teachers participated in an intensive two-week summer institute at U of M School of Education this summer. Participating were: Canton resident Connie Argonis, a teacher at Pioneer Middle School; Plymouth resident Bill Deighton, a teacher at Garden City Junior High; and Canton resident Irene E. Sarkisian, a teacher at St. Anthony School in Belleville.

The 30 experienced math and science teachers selected for the institute received instruction in the latest teaching methods and materials, in microcomputer programming, and took field trips to local high technology industries and to the U of M nuclear reactor and solar research lab.

The teacher learned how to develop their own instructional programs for microcomputers. "The objective was to produce a piece of software that they thought would be useful in their teaching," said Arthur Coxford, U of M professor of math education.

"The science teachers will be able to provide a more up-to-date course that includes new science and technology, new instructional materials, more project work for their students involving microcomputers, and field studies to topics like energy," said Burton Voss, professor of science education.

The office of U of M vice-president for academic affairs and provost provided institute participants with full tuition plus a stipend and funding for instructional materials.

The teachers were recommended for the program by their building principals, and those completing the institute received professional development graduate credit from U of M.

Plymouth youth a college math whiz

Dylan Spratling of Plymouth is among 38 eighth and ninth graders who have just completed three weeks of accelerated classes at Alma College.

Dylan and the others attended classes at Alma from July 9 through July 27 as participants in the 1984 Alma College Summer Program for Midwest Talent Search. The program, designed for academically precocious junior high age students, gives students of exceptional ability in mathematics and verbal areas the opportunity to interact with others of similar ability in social and academic settings.

Students enrolled in one intensive, fast-paced course with in-depth coverage. They had three choices: Expository Writing, Algebra I and Advanced Mathematics/Computer Enrichment. All classes were taught by Alma College professors.

Dylan was one of five students enrolled in Advanced Mathematics/Computer Enrichment, taught by Professor Theodore Hertzog of Alma's Department of Mathematics and Computer Science. In the course, students learned to program computers using Pascal, a computer language designed to teach computer science with an emphasis on problems in math.

In addition to their intensive course, all students had instruction in and access to computer use. Special enrichment sessions in arts and sciences as well as recreational and social activities complemented the classwork. Included in the enrichment programs were drama, a chemical magic show, robotics and Highland dance demonstrations, and field trips to an archaeological dig and the college's 170-acre ecological station used for field study and research in biology, geology and ecology.

Dylan and 29 other students had the added college-like experience of living in a campus dormitory. Eight of the students lived close enough to commute to classes.

Alma's MTS program was coordinated through Northwestern University and promoted through Michigan's Gifted and Talented Program. Scholastic Aptitude Test scores were the basis for selecting approximate range expected for acceptance. In some instances, evaluations by high school teachers and counselors were also considered.

Dylan, 12, is the son of Bruce Spratling, 167 South Union, Plymouth. A seventh grader at the beginning of last year, he has completed ninth grade at Central Middle School and will attend Salem High School in the fall.

St. John's Seminary gets academic dean

The director of the office of priestly life and ministry for the Lansing Diocese became the tenth academic dean and registrar for St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth township at the beginning of this month.

Rev. William F. Meyers, pastor of St. James Parish, Mason, assumed his new role Aug. 1, at St. John's, the major seminary for the seven dioceses of Michigan. Archbishop Edmund C. Szoka made the appointment for the Seminary Board of Trustees with the concurrence of Bishop Kenneth Povish of Lansing. Fr. Meyers succeeds Jean M. Lambert, who was the first woman dean of a Roman Catholic theologate in the United States.

Meyers has extensive experience in education, administration and pastoral service.

In his latest role he has directed numerous programs in spirituality and continued education for Lansing priests. These included the Emmaus Spirituality program, over 20 sabbaticals, and the doctor of ministry, an extension program from St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. Twenty Lansing priests are participating in the latter.

Appointed by Bishop Povish in 1978 the first executive secretary of the Lansing Diocesan pastoral council, Meyers served its evolution from steering committee to interim council to permanent council through its first regional and diocesan pastoral assemblies.

From 1976 to 1978 Meyers was diocesan director of religious education for the diocese of Phoenix under Archbishop Edward McCarty. While there he worked with the Kino Institute for the establishment of degree programs in religious education, pastoral ministry and spirituality for local clergy and lay students. He also taught in the Kino Institute, which is affiliated with the University of San Francisco.

Meyers also taught at St. John's Provincial Seminary from 1971 to 1974 and at college and university level for Nazareth College, Kalamazoo, and the University of Notre Dame.

After earning an M.A. and a Ph.D. in educational administration and philosophy from the University of Notre Dame in 1963, Meyers was successively assistant superintendent and superintendent of schools, and general superintendent of education for the Diocese of Lansing until 1971.

A native of Lansing, Meyers was educated at Resurrection grade and high school, and St. Joseph Seminary, Grand Rapids. He received his B.A. from Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit; S.T.B. from Gregorian University, Rome; S.T.L. from Catholic University of America. He completed a sabbatical in Jerusalem last year at the Franciscan Institute of Biblical Studies.

Prior to becoming pastor at St. James, Meyers served in the same capacity at St. Agnes, Fowlerville; St. Thomas, Ann Arbor; and St. Ann, Cassopolis. He was an associate pastor at St. Mary, Flint following his ordination in 1955 until 1958.

In Memoriam

In Loving Memory

COURTNEY R. BERRY of Plymouth Twp., who passed away suddenly of a heart attack at the Howell, Michigan Auction August 31, 1983.

Mr. Berry was employed by Ford Motor Co. in River Rouge as a gear cutter, later promoted to foreman in "B" building from 1924-1942.

From 1942 to 1948 Mr. Berry devoted all his time to his Plymouth fruit farm on the corner of Five Mile Road at Bradner Road in Plymouth Twp.

In 1948 Mr. Berry went to work for the City of Detroit, Board of Health Department out in Northville — William H. Mayberry Sanitarium until it closed in 1969.

Mr. Berry is buried in Forest Hill Cemetery in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Sadly missed by his former wife, Rose, of Ann Arbor, son Errol and daughter Dawn.
