Twp. considers special waste ballot

BY TODD LANGTON

Plymouth Township's garbage collection system, which to this point has consisted of voluntary resident participation, may itself be trashed soon.

At the request of Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen, the township board of trustees will consider placing a special assessment for trash pick-up and disposal on an election ballot.

"Given what is happening in the area of solid waste it would appear that we are all going to be involved in a collection system," Breen said.

The township is going to need a mechanism to include everyone in the system, Breen added.

"One of the easiest mechanisms is to have a tax across the board," he said.

The apparent ballot decision comes in the wake of skyrocketing landfill costs.

The BFI landfill at the corner of Six Mile and Napier roads, which is the recipient of Plymouth Township's solid waste, will increase its rates by 52 per cent, from $6.50 to $9.90 per compacted yard, as of Oct. 1.

Even with the increase, Michigan still has some of the lowest landfill rates in the nation, Breen said. Which means that landfill rates have nowhere to go but up, he added.

"There is no way we can finance this the way we've been doing.

"It is quite obvious that, the way everything is coming down, there are two significant players in terms of the landfill and pick-up," Breen said.

"They are going to dictate the costs."

The two significant players in this area are BFI and Waste Management of Michigan.

The City of Plymouth is also feeling the weight of rising solid waste costs.

Will Central pool reopen?

BY JOHN BRODERICK

The Central Middle School swimming pool, which was closed because of budget cuts, may be reopened, if Plymouth-Canton Community Schools and City of Plymouth officials can work out an agreement on how to foot the bill.

A number of citizens have raised questions about how much the district is saving by keeping the pool closed, and have urged school officials to look into other ways of funding the pool.

School Superintendent John M. Hoben sent a letter last week to Acting City Manager Bill Graham, and city parks and recreation director Chuck Skene, offering to lease the pool to the city.

"We need to talk more about it," Skene said. "We are definitely interested -- we'd like to use the pool for open swimming and senior citizens groups -- but we need to have more information."

School officials initially said that the district was saving $34,000 by closing the pool -- $4,000 in chemicals, $1,520 in custodial supplies, and $28,480 in utilities.

But Diane Barnes, the district's director of finance said Monday that the cost was lower than previously thought.

"We can't calculate precisely how much was saved by the closing of the pool, for utilities. But over last year $21,549 was saved in utilities in the building. You have to remember that it could be lower because it was a warmer winter," she said.

Although the pool is not being used, it is full of water. Chlorine is being added, and filter pumps are being run about twice a week, according to maintenance employees in the building. When the pool is in use, pumps are run continually.

Many parents, teachers, and students were under the impression that the Central pool was scheduled to be reopened if the June millage request was successful, and were disappointed when they found it was not.

Gunshot victim discovered

BY JOHN BRODERICK

The Washtenaw County Sheriff's office is asking for help with an investigation into an apparent homicide after a woman's body was found Monday near Gotfredson Road in Superior Township.

According to Lt. James Fink of the Sheriff's office, the victim was 30-year-old Beverly Wiewell. Her body was discovered by a passing motorist at 10:19 a.m. Monday.

"The victim was discovered on Gotfredson, south of Ford Road. The victim had suffered a gunshot wound," said Fink, but he would not say whether police believed the woman was shot at the scene or elsewhere.

"We're conducting an investigation -- we're interviewing people right now," he said.

Wiewell's husband lives in Canton, and her parents live in Ann Arbor, according to Fink.

On fire

Plymouth Township firefighters battle a blaze at a home on Ridge Road, Monday. The fire apparently started in an electrical box in the basement, and rose through the floor, causing $30,000-$50,000 of damage. No one was home at the time, and none of the 16 firefighters present were injured. (Crier photo by Chris Farhan)

Canton considers hiring 5 more police officers

BY KEN VOYLES

The Canton Police Department needs to hire five additional patrol officers, according to information in the department's 1990 budget request.

Canton Police Chief John Santomauro said the additional staffing is necessary to enhance the department's patrol visibility and allow the department to continue its present level of service in the township.

"In order for this department to continue to offer the present levels of service we need to hire five additional officers," Santomauro said. "That's really based on the projected number of calls for service."

The department, which currently employs 32 patrol officers, averaged approximately 70 calls for service each day during a period from January to May 1989. During that time the department answered a total of 10,306 calls for service.

Santomauro said that during the previous year (1988) the community experienced a 12 per cent reduction in serious crimes, but calls for service increased by 10 per cent. Total calls for 1989 are projected to hit 27,000 by year's end.

If hired the officers would be assigned to the uniform patrol division, the chief said. The additional officers would cost the township about $214,000.

Santomauro based part of his budget request on information from a comparative analysis of similar departments throughout southeast Michigan.

The chief said Canton has the lowest number of "both sworn and total department personnel" of the nine communities surveyed.

In a budget synopsis for the Canton Board of Trustees, Santomauro said, "The department's budget proposal is based on the simple philosophy that the township board determines the level of service provided to the community and establishes necessary funding to provide and maintain that level of service."

The department hired two patrol officers last year, said Santomauro.

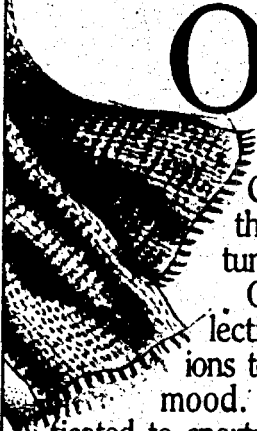

"It's my understanding that in the preliminary budget discussions there were no indications (the request) would be removed from the budget," he said.

The board is expected to give final approval to the 1990 budget during a meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

According to a member of Canton's finance department, the money budgeted for additional officers is still in the budget package expected to be approved by the board.

Canton's estimated police expenditures budget for 1990 is $3.8 million.

State Police holding assault warrant

BY KEN VOYLES

Police say a Westland man wounded by Canton Police 10 days ago will be charged with felonious assault.

Michigan State Police are holding a warrant for the arrest of Westland resident Jeffrey Bushbacher on the charge but have not yet served him.

Sgt. Greg Leech, of the State Police, said Tuesday that arrangements were being made for the formal arrest and arraignment of Bushbacher, who allegedly attacked Canton police officers Joe Bippus and Dave Boljesic on Sept. 10.

Bushbacher, who has already been charged with armed robbery, is currently in the custody of the Wayne County Sheriffs at Westland Medical Center. A preliminary exam is scheduled on the robbery charges for

Oct. 13 in 35th District Court.

Bippus and Boljesic shot Bushbacher three times during the incident. They have been cleared of a wrong doing by the Wayne County Prosecutor, said Leech, who said the prosecutor concluded that the officers fired in "self defense."

"There's no evidence to show the officers acted in any other manner than self defense," said Leech, who forwarded the State Police investigation of the officers conduct to the prosecutor.

Canton Police Chief John Santomauro said his officers used "extremely good judgement" during the incident. He added that Boljesic "unequivocally saved" Bippus, a rookie, from "serious injury."

City to provide $20,000 for festival

BY TODD LANGTON

The Plymouth City Commission has agreed to provide up to $20,000 in materials and in-kind services for the Ice Sculpture Spectacular in 1990.

There was some debate, however, as to whether the city should make such a large contribution in manpower for the ice festival.

"I feel that agreeing to $20,000 is too much when I say that we provide zero for other festivals," said Commissioner Robert Jones.

The city generally only contributes the straight time of its employees to local festivals.

The resolution provides for $20,000 worth of overtime and materials in addition to the straight time worked during the spectacular.

The resolution also contained an amendment, introduced by Commissioner David Pugh, aimed at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber has expressed interest in helping create a public, non-profit organization, much like the Fall Festival Board, to sponsor the event after 1990. The amendment stated support for that idea.

Pam Kosteva, president of the chamber, said that it will now cost approximately $135,000 to put on the event. The Chamber previously estimated the cost of the festival to be between $90,000 and $100,000.

Changing prices and incomplete cost estimates were the reason for the expected increase in expected costs, she said.

The chamber currently has commitments of more than $100,000 in contributions to help put on the ice festival, she added.

Possible Riverside improvement in works

BY TODD LANGTON

Residents may soon find some smooth riding along one of the rougher roadways in The Plymouth-Canton Community -- Riverside Drive.

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees last week approved an agreement with Wayne County in which the township will cover 25 per cent ($7,500) of the cost for fixing a road that some consider one of the worst in Plymouth-Canton.

In order for the agreement to take effect, the City of Plymouth must also agree to cover 25 per cent of the cost. Under the agreement the county would then cover 50 per cent of the cost of the road repair.

The road, which at one time belonged to the city, was deeded to the Wayne County Parks and Recreation Department as a parks road around 1925, said Maurice Breen, Plymouth Township supervisor. The road remains marked on local maps as being within the city.

The homes on either side of the roadway, however, are under the jurisdiction of the township. Just east of Mill Street, Riverside links Ann Arbor Trail with the Edward Hines Parkway.

The county, Breen said, has informed both the city and the township that it does not have the money to repair Riverside Drive.

Therefore the county introduced the agreement, he said.

"We felt $7,500 was a reasonable contribution to get rid of a very nagging problem," Breen said.

The city, however is still debating the issue.

The administration has "mixed feelings as to whether we should or shouldn't (use city funds to repair the road)," said William Graham, Plymouth's acting city manager.

While the city, Graham said, receives tax monies to maintain most of the municipality's roads, no such monies come from Riverside Drive because it belongs to the county.

"I would quite frankly like to see the city participate," Graham said. But the administration and the Plymouth City Commission still need to debate the issue, he said.

If an agreement is reached the roadwork will be completed this year, said James Anulewicz, director of the Plymouth Township planning department.

Township board members also recently agreed to create a special assessment district to pave Morrison and Judson roads.

Under the special assessment the township will loan money to the residents so that the residents can have the roads paved.

The residents will then pay back the township's initial investment plus interest over a specified period of time.

A petition with the signatures of at least 51 per cent of the residents in the proposed district must be presented in order to create a special assessment.

Paul Hancock, a resident in the proposed special assessment district, has circulated a petition and received the signatures of approximately 70 per cent of the effected residents.

The township has agreed to loan the money to the residents even though Morrison road belongs to the county.

The county has indicated that it does not have the money to loan to the residents.

United Way kicks off campaign

BY M. THERESE NOLAN

Contributors to the 1989 United Way fund raising campaign can personalize their donations by specifying that their money be used in the community of their choice.

It's as easy as filling out a form.

Residents of Plymouth who work outside their community can earmark their donations for use in their own community, rather than the one they work in, said Marie Morrow, executive director of the United Way in Plymouth.

The designation process is a simple one. Forms may be picked up at the United Way office, 960 W. Ann Arbor Trail, or by calling Morrow at 453-6879. Return the completed form with your contribution to ensure your own community benefits.

Nearly 160 people helped the Plymouth chapter of the United Way kick off its annual fund raising drive at the Mayflower Meeting House Sept. 13. Early contributors presented the organization with more than $23,000, and gave them a jump start as they strive to reach their $475,000 goal.

Early contributors include: Eric and Mary Childs; Ken and Esther Hulsing; The Adistra Corporation; Bob Jeannotte Pontiac; First American Bank; Ford Motor Company; Heinz Park Lincoln Mercury; Manufacturers National Bank and National Bank of Detroit.

Canton eyes land for golf course

BY KEN VOYLES

Canton's Board of Trustees last week agreed to purchase approximately 90 acres of land south of the Canton Recreation Complex on Canton Center Road.

The land -- valued at about $800,000 -- may eventually be used by the township as a site for a new golf course development.

The board approved the purchase 4-

1. Gerald Brown dissented. Loren Bennett, Canton clerk, and Trustee Henry Whalen, were not present at the meeting last week.

The township has been actively working to assemble acreage around the township buildings on Canton Center to help facilitate the development of a new golf course and possibly a future residential community, said Canton Supervisor Tom Yack.

The supervisor told the board that the township would make the first payment on the land contingent upon a favorable environmental review of the property.

The land purchase is another step by the township in the direction of creating a "civic area" around the current complex of Canton buildings, which includes the main administration facility, the new public library, and police and fire offices.

Yack has been pushing the development of a "core" area for Canton as a focal point for residents and to draw new development west of Sheldon Road.

Included in the idea of a "civic area" is the construction of a new golf course.

This ray of sunshine -- of hope -- can help less fortunate people rise above problems which can sometimes reach crippling proportions.

This ray of sunshine is made possible by the Plymouth Community United Way, and people in this community who care.

They prove that indeed miracles can happen.
The goal for this year's Plymouth Community United Way fundraising campaign is $475,000. Imagine how many people in this community can be helped with $475,000.

Imagine, too, how it feels knowing that you did your part to help make the campaign a success -- knowing that you helped perform a miracle.

Richard Egli, director of this year's fundraising drive, noted at last week's kick-off dinner how science has proven that giving makes you feel good.

The act of giving, he said, stimulates endorphins in the brain. The stimulation of these endorphins makes you feel happy, he said.

Now is the time to get those endorphins moving in high gear -- residents can make themselves feel good by giving to help those who are in need.

It's time to feel good by helping perform "the miracle that money can buy." Support the Plymouth Community United Way campaign again this year.

Thanks for years of happiness

EDITOR:
Through this medium we wish to reach our many friends and neighbors residing or working in the Plymouth/Plymouth Township area to thank you for our many years of happiness in your community...and "this'n that."

While we have chosen to make the "typical" move to Florida, and have most of our paraphernalia and keepsakes unpacked, we found we have left some materiality behind that couldn't be wrapped and shipped with us...and that's you! Our daughter, Diane Spain, and her family, already know we'll miss them greatly!

While we'll be participating in a different lifestyle, our hearts will always be in Michigan.

In addition to missing our favorite radio station -- WJL, Carmen Marica and Mort Crim and their staff at WDIV, Minerva and her crew, Station 885, the Mayflower Hotel and its quaintness, our various doctors, and The Crier. We'll also miss many other local merchants and agents who provided service and their friendship to us over the years -- entities you live with day to day and take for granted.

If you'd like to keep in touch, write to: 1200 Santana Ct., Punta Gorda, FL 33950. We'd love to hear from you.

...Just wanted you to know.

Why is pool still closed?

EDITOR:
Why isn't the Plymouth-Canton Schools district opening the Central Middle School pool now that the millage has passed? Almost all of the kids at Central want it open. All they have to do is heat it and put in the chemicals. The water is in already, but we can't use it. Why?

Congrats on Ice Fest rescue -- now keep it alive

Congratulations to the Plymouth Chamber and all the others who helped rescue the Ice Festival for, at least, the time being.

Quick action by Pam Kosteva, chamber president, and others have identified major sponsors and funding sources to raise the estimated costs.

But now attention needs to focus on the other aspects of the Festival to keep it from joining the ranks of its sister Fest -- the Balloon Festival.

A number of concerns include:

- Broadening the input base for the Festival. While the Chamber is a logical start and principal organizer, the Festival affects much more of The Plymouth-Canton Community than just that segment represented by the Chamber. Just as the Chamber did with Fall Festival, it can be the active ingredient, then establish a broad-based community board.

- Form a new non-profit corporation to handle the Ice Fest. This will make a clean break with the liability of past confusions.

- Keep general Chamber funds and staff separate from the Ice Festival.

- Keep City (and hopefully Plymouth Township) funds and services for the Ice Fest accountable. Monday night's City Commission action is a step in the right direction; the City will commit $20,000 in services to this year's Ice Fest. That's far superior to the recent City Hall embarrassment of a $14,000 write-off of a bill it didn't know was on the books.

- Evaluate the need to make the Ice Fest a 10-day event. That duration lays siege to town that makes it difficult for many businesses.

- Look for additional tie-in opportunities like the Plymouth Community Arts Council exhibit. With so many tourists attracted by the Ice Fest, the community has a terrific opportunity to show itself off.

- Look for more service clubs to use the event as a fund-raiser. The Masonic Lodge sells cocoa -- why not add other crowd-pleasing ideas.

- Promote the scholarship aspect of the ice carving competition. The Ice Festival is a great, family-oriented showcase at a time of the year that needs some cures for the winter-blahs. Chamber and sponsor efforts are steps in the right direction.

Now a few more steps will put the festival on firm footing.

Accurate price tag could re-open Central pool

Swimming upstream

By John Broderick

Let's get a few things straight about the Central Middle School pool.

First, it's closed.

Secondly, it was never promised that the pool would be opened if the millage passed -- ask the (very) few people in town who attend school board meetings.

A number of students, parents, and teachers had that idea, and were less than pleased to return to see that the pool was still closed.

Third, there is not a conspiracy among school board members and administrators to keep the pool closed -- they're not out to keep kids from learning how to swim, or from having fun. They honestly wish the money was there.

The money is not there -- in the school district's budget.

But it may be around.

The Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department, and the local YMCA have expressed interest in using the pool, and helping with the costs.

But how much will it cost?

The district has offered to lease the pool out for $1 a year -- the pool would have to be maintained and operated by the city and/or the YMCA.

Chuck Skene, the city's parks and recreation director, said the city would like to lease the pool, but that it would have to be self-supportive. That means admission charges, and costs for swim classes and programs would have to raise a lot of money.

How much, exactly, is the important issue now.

If the price tag is $34,000 -- that's how much the district said was saved by closing the pool -- the whole idea is sunk.

But if it is lower, the goal may be much more reachable.

Figuring out the exact savings of utility costs is difficult, because there are no separate readings for the pool.

In a Sept. 11 letter to a concerned resident, the district's director of finance Diane Barnes said the cost were: $4,000 for pool chemicals; $28,480 for utilities; and $1,520 for custodial supplies (not to mention another $22,000 that was saved by cutting one custodial position from Central).

These figures were estimates, and they are now changing -- how much they change will determine the fate of the pool.

The $28,480 has already changed to $21,549, as of Monday -- and that represents how much less Central paid for its utilities over the year in question -- not how much was saved by not heating, lighting, and filtering the pool.

Considering the filters are being run twice a week, and that last year was a very warm winter, that figure could probably drop some more.

And considering that there is some chlorine in the pool to keep it from turning green, the $4,000 could probably come down.

And $1,520 seems a bit much for custodial supplies to mop up around the pool area.

I don't know how far these figures realistically can come down -- I just hope an accurate, fair price tag can be worked out quickly, and that a deal can be struck that is within the reach of the potential lessors.

The idea of middle school equity -- the old 'the four other schools don't have a pool,' does not hold water.

Other middle schools have assets that Central lacks -- like modern cafeterias, and classrooms that open up for team teaching. How can everything be equal, and why should that be an excuse to not use one of the district's valuable resources?

A lot of people expected the pool to be opened -- a lot of people who probably voted "yes, yes" on last June's millage ballots.

And while there were no promises broken, those people may just feel that they were listened to, like their voices were heard, and that somebody really wants to help them to get the pool open. They'll likely remember this little episode when the next ballot issue rolls around.

Good job on festival edition

EDITOR:

Congratulations to The Crier and its staff for producing such an outstanding special edition -- The Plymouth Fall Festival.

Having been through more special sections than I care to remember, I can really appreciate the amount of work and dedication that you and your people invested.

Hopefully it won't be too long before Canton will have an event that can be used as the nucleus for a similar edition.

Thanks for your support.

Donate for fire safety house

EDITOR:

The Plymouth Jaycees, in conjunction with the City of Plymouth Fire Department are seeking donations for the construction of a Children's Fire Safety House similar to the one that was at the Fall Festival.

The Plymouth Jaycees are firmly behind this program, because of the great benefit that this program will have in the community, especially the many children that will benefit from the education on Fire Safety.

This program is in need of many donations of materials and/or funds to make this project a reality.

For further information, please contact Fire Chief Al Matthews at the Plymouth Fire Department 201 South Main St., Plymouth 48170, 453-1234, or Fred Eagle in care of the Plymouth Jaycees, Post Office Box 279 Plymouth 48170.

Wilcox plan approval delayed; project scaled down

BY KEN VOYLES

The Plymouth Planning Commission last week tabled final approval of a plan to restore the historic Wilcox House and develop apartments on the adjacent property.

The move followed a request by the developers -- Jack Wilcox and Marcello and Silvio Scappaticci -- who told the commission that they had not yet completed all of the necessary engineering studies.

The Planned Unit Development (PUD) received "conceptual" approval from the Planning Commission back in August. The development will again be discussed by the commission at a meeting in October. If approved at that time the Plymouth City Commission will then consider the project.

Before the commission moved to table action on the project last week, the developers briefly discussed some of the changes being made to the original design.

Wilcox said the two apartment buildings would be scaled down in height and the design of the roof line and slope was being reworked. He said the new height of the building would be slightly higher than the Masonic Lodge building on Penniman Avenue and the Wilcox House itself.

"We are lowering the building and revising the parking lot also," said Marcello Scappaticci during the meeting.

Doug Miller, chairperson of the Planning Commission, said the project would have to be considered again by the commission before going to city's governing body. He called the conceptual approval nothing more than a "green light" which allows developers to move ahead with the design work of a project.

"Nothing is in concrete yet," said Miller of the proposed project.

The multi-million dollar development consists of two five-story apartment buildings (about 60 units) and the complete restoration of the historic home.

Work on the exterior renovation of the house began more than five weeks ago.

Travis House may finally be moved

BY KEN VOYLES

Canton officials are hoping to finally move the historic Travis House from its current location at the corner of Warren Road and Canton Center Road.

The home was originally scheduled to be moved back in May this year, but a series of delays held up the township's plans and forced the move to be postponed three different times.

Now Canton officials are hoping to make the move next week on one of three days -- Sept. 26, 27 or 28.

Coordinating the move has not been an easy one -- part of the delay this summer came when workers from Michigan Bell went on strike.

Kim Scherschligt, of the township's Community Economic Development office, said the move involves coordinating efforts of the moving company, Detroit Edison, Michigan Bell, and several Wayne County departments.

The house is planned as the first structure in the township's new historic architecture park. It will most likely be moved south along Canton Center Road to Cherry Hill and then to the park, but the path of the move is still being studied.

Declared dead 3 times

Twp. woman tells her near-tragic story

BY ANDREA WATTS

Most everyone has heard the old adage, "Live every day as if it were your last."

Well, Christine Helewski of Plymouth Township is one person who can really take that saying to heart.

In case residents don't remember, Helewski and her husband, Stan, were involved in an automobile accident in northern Michigan in October of 1984.

Christine Helewski survived a three-month coma and 11 surgeries -- she repeatedly fooled her doctors who pronounced her dead three different times.

Today, Helewski, 59, is living an active and happy life. She exclaims with a sparkle in her eye, "With God, all things are possible."

She and her husband have also been doing a lot of traveling lately. They've been to Spain, Yugoslavia, Mexico, and all over the United States. However, Helewski said that Plymouth is "the best place we've ever lived."

Helewski enjoys tutoring the subjects of math and science, teaching catechism at St. John Neumann Church in Canton, and holding the positions of coordinator of Lectors and worship chairperson at the church.

Since Helewski was principal of a Catholic elementary school in 1981, she especially loves working with the children in her catechism classes.

She remembers being motivated to regain the use of her legs by the love and encouragement from her students.

Today Helewski is physically active every day -- she walks approximately three miles and also loves to bike ride often.

CHRISTINE HELEWSKI

As author of "A Thread of Life," a recently published story, Helewski brings to life her experiences and her message to the world.

"One reason I wrote the story was tell people in similar situations to have hope and to keep trying," she said.

Helewski titled the book as she did because she learned to cross-stitch and crochet in order to acquire the use of her fingers after the accident.

Her motivational story was published by The Letter Writer in Plymouth about four weeks ago.

When commenting about the success of her work, she replied, "I didn't think it would happen so fast.

"I'm not interested in getting rich," she added. "I've got everything I need."

Helewski hopes her story will show others how lucky they are, and help people live life to its fullest.

"I'm real happy with my life," she said. "I always think -- wow! What a wonderful day."

A copy of her book is available by contacting The Letter Writer at 455-8892.

Coming together

60 years and counting ... Classmates of the Plymouth High School Class of 1929 gathered at the Plymouth Landing to rekindle memories and old friendships. Members from other PHS classes, from that time, were also present. Margaret Dunning, class of '29, gave the toast and Henrietta Burch gave the closing comments. (Crier photo by Robert Richards)

Aurora makes appearance

Plymouth-Canton residents who happened to be out Monday night (and early Tuesday morning) may have seen a light show rare to our skies — the Aurora Borealis.

Conditions were just right to make the hauntingly beautiful aurora visible throughout the community; some of the best viewing was along North Territorial, Five Mile and Six Mile roads. The aurora was visible even on the edge of downtown Plymouth.

Rarely seen this far south of the North Pole, the aurora created a breathtaking light show of shimmering green "clouds," waving in ever changing curtains of frosted light. Auroras result when particles from the Sun strike the magnetic swirls around the poles.

As the night progressed (from midnight onward) the aurora slowly drifted higher and higher into the northern sky, reaching, at one point, in a long loop from one end of the horizon to the next (this was along the Six Mile plateau).

Graper contract clarified

BY TODD LANGTON

The Plymouth City Commission closed a portion of its Monday night meeting to discuss sections of former city manager Henry Graper's contract and terms of resignation.

The commission adopted a resolution approving a letter sent to the board by Graper's attorney clarifying the former city manager's understanding of the terms of separation of employment.

The letter stated that Graper's resigned on July 3, 1989 but that the resignation will not be effective until Dec. 2, 1989 so that Graper can obtain 10 years of service to the city, thereby receiving his pension.

The letter also states that Graper will be paid his base salary from the day that he resigned to the day that his resignation becomes effective.

Graper's base salary was $51,480 and the sum earned from the day of his resignation to the effective resignation date will be $11,880, the letter states.

Graper makes dent in City

BY JOHN BRODERICK

Former Plymouth City Manager Henry E. Graper Jr. was issued a ticket for "failure to yield — left turn," following a four-car accident shortly after noon Saturday.

According to Plymouth Police, Graper was pulling onto northbound Sheldon Road from Lexington, near his home when the accident occurred.

Graper told police that traffic was heavy because a train had just passed, and the driver of the car in the right lane of southbound Sheldon had motioned for him to pull out.

Graper pulled out, and was struck by a car headed south in the left lane, said police. That car then slid across the double yellow line, striking a northbound car, which in turn struck another in the right lane.

None of the drivers were seriously injured, but two of the cars were towed away, police added. Graper drove his car away.

Graper, who turns 49 Saturday, was recently hired as city manager in Sault Ste. Marie, in the Upper Peninsula, was ticketed for failure to yield.

City compensates Graham

The Plymouth City Commission voted at its Monday night meeting to compensate Acting City Manager William Graham at the rate of $51,500 per year, to be pro-rated from July 3, 1989.

Members of the commission said that Graham deserved more compensation because he is actually serving in two capacities for the city — acting city manager and finance director.

Commission members also said they felt Graham was doing a good job as the acting city manager.

Board appoints architect

BY JOHN BRODERICK

The area around Harvey Street, south of Ann Arbor Trail will soon be getting a facelift.

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education voted last Monday (Sept. 11) to hire an architect to complete plans for an addition to and remodeling of its administration building, and the surrounding grounds.

The new building will include a basement for storage, a new board room, new offices, and a lobby. The exterior of the renovated building will have a sloped, shingled roof, a red brick facade and new windows.

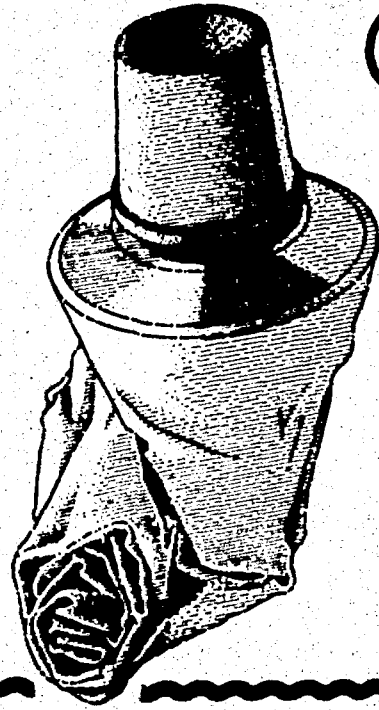

The contract, awarded to Carne Associates of Plymouth, includes developing a master-plan, of how the district should use space in the building, and how it should use the vacated space when the new addition is complete.

The $975,000 project is one remaining item left from a $13 million bond project that voters approved in 1986.

In addition, a central maintenance building, and renovations to the Salem High auditorium are still awaiting action by the board.

PSO's 44th year

BY ANDREA WATTS

And now....
...the PSO.

Yes, that's right, residents of The Plymouth-Canton Community should get ready for the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's (PSO) 44th season.

The orchestra, consisting of 80 instrumentalists, and directed by Russell Reed will fill the community with the sounds of music all year.

First of America will be sponsoring the Oct. 6 concert of 'Piano Brilliance' including pieces by Beethoven, Stravinsky, and Berloiz.

PSO offers Christmas shows

Then Nov. 10 brings a 'Violin Virtuoso' sponsored by AT&T. The audience will hear works from Sibelius, Brahms, and Mendelssohn.

The Christmas season brings a special holiday treat called 'The Nutcracker Ballet' by Tchaikovsky.

The PSO will perform this event in association with the Ann Arbor Ballet Theater on Dec. 15-16 at Salem High auditorium. This affair will be sponsored by Don Massey Cadillac & Durr Industries.

"Fantasy For Flute" will be seen on Feb. 23 featuring Corigliano, and Beethoven. The show will be sponsored in part by UNISYS.

Roar into March with the "St. Patrick's Cabaret Pops" on March 16 and 23.

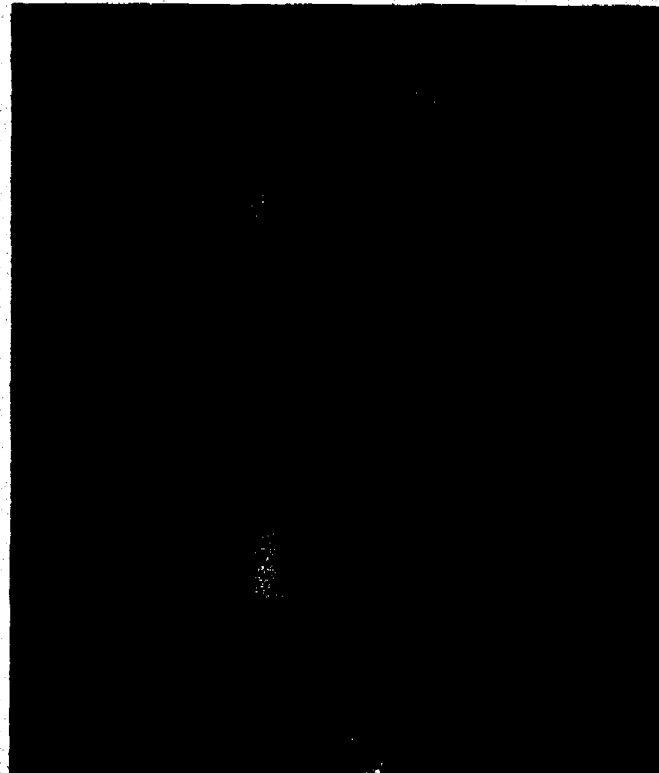

Selections from Langey, Hermann, Grainger, Sowerby, and Ball will be taken for this evening. Sponsorship will be assumed by Ford Motor Company.

Artists Rachmaninoff, Borodin, and Dvorak will be heard on April 27. The "Come Dance With Us" show is sponsored in part by Michigan Bell.

All of the PSO concerts begin at 8 p.m. in the Salem High auditorium.

Single tickets may be purchased at Beitner Jewelry in Plymouth, Hammell Music in Livonia, Orin Jewelers in Northville, or the PSO office in Plymouth.

For further details about each show call 451-2112.

Band seeks new players

BY ANDREA WATTS

The Plymouth Community Band is seeking residents interested in joining the organization. They can audition on any Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Canton High School band room.

The band has several scheduled performances planned throughout the upcoming season:

The band's first appearance will be at the First Baptist Church on North Territorial Road on Oct. 13.

The band will also be performing at the Canton Little Theatre at Canton on several occasions. The dates are Nov. 17, Dec. 8, Feb. 9, and March 23.

Admission for all of the concerts are free of charge.

The group will participate in the Festival of Community Bands at Twelve Oaks Mall on Jan. 27, 1990.

Theatre Guild has new home

BY ANDREA WATTS

The Plymouth Theatre Guild is beginning a new season at a new location -- the Water Tower Theatre on the campus of the Northville Regional Hospital.

Since the new location has been acquired, the theatre group has a full four show season planned.

The first of these performances will be the female version of "The Odd Couple," by Neil Simon. Performance dates are as follows: Nov. 3-4, 10-12, and 17-18.

"Showboat," a musical by Jerome Kern and Oscar Hammerstein II, will be the first show of 1990. Performances are slated for Feb. 2-3, 9-11 and 16-17. Auditions will be held on Nov. 27-30 at 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Paul Osborn's comedy "Mornings at Seven," will be acted on March 30-31 and April 5-7, with auditions being held on Feb. 12, 14, and 15.

The season comes to an end with a musical called "Dooley's Deli," by two local Plymouth residents, Marc Holland and Mike Davis. Auditions are on April 9, 11, 12 from 7-9:30 p.m. Show dates are set for May 31, June 1-3 and 8-9.

Ticket prices for the comedy shows are $6 for adults (18 and older) and $5 for students (18 and younger) and seniors (62 and over). Musical ticket prices are $7 for adults and $6 for students and seniors.

Season tickets for all four shows are $18 for adults and $15 for students and seniors.

For further information on auditions call 420-2161.

PSO League supports orchestra

BY ANDREA WATTS

The Plymouth Symphony League, dedicated to assisting the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra (PSO) by organizing activities to raise support funds, is open to anyone dedicated to preserving the symphony's status as the top cultural draw in Plymouth-Canton.

Those who are interested should contact Linda Hart at 453-7445.

The league's upcoming year is filled with an array of activities to benefit the orchestra.

A garage sale will be held at 12217 Glenview in Plymouth on Thursday, (Sept. 21).

The public is invited to join the members on Oct. 5, at the event called "Meet the Artist." Pianist Rina Dokshinsky will be attending from 3-4:30 p.m. It will be held at the Evola Music Center.

During the months of November and December, the League will be selling Christmas luminaries. For information call Linda Cygan at 455-8114.

The Plymouth Symphony League Ball will be held on Dec. 2, 1989 at the Mayflower Meeting House.

The league will be sponsoring the Plymouth Winter Antique Show at the Plymouth Cultural Center during the Ice Sculpture weekend on January 19-21.

A Pops Concert will be held at Domino's Farms on March 16 and 17, 1990.

For further information, call Carolyn Simons at 453-8984.

YMCA offers cultural variety

The Plymouth Community Family YMCA will offer a variety of classes for all ages beginning this month.

Youth sports include the traditional sports like soccer, as well as flag football, street hockey, tumbling, and pillo polo.

Other youth classes include magic, non-competitive bowling, karate, and horseback riding. Also offered are a babysitting workshop culminating in Red Cross certification, drivers education, and a leader's club.

Classes are also available for preschoolers, including soccer, fitness, pre-ballet, cooking, and social etiquette. Parents can take part in parent-tot tumbling.

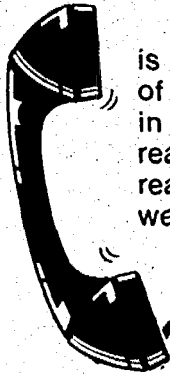

"Kreatives" preschool is offered twice or three times weekly, for children ages two to five. Daily schedule includes free play, group time, and large and small motor skills.

Preschool mini-sessions are one-time trips of the imagination, including the zoo, boats and trains, outer space or the world of Dr. Seuss.

For adults, the Y offers health enhancement classes and other programs. Aerobics, yoga, golf and tennis are among the selections. Also offered are a stop-smoking clinic, dog obedience, and quilting, as well as senior citizen activities.

Further details about the courses is available by calling the YMCA at 453-2904.

3 Cities Art Club plans season

BY ANDREA WATTS

Being an artist isn't necessarily what it takes to be a Three Cities Art Club member. All you have to do is enjoy art to join the group.

Here's a look at what's planned for each monthly meeting during the coming year:

October -- Julie Giordano will demonstrate portraits in oil.

November -- Marjorie Chelstron will be doing landscape in water color.

December -- There will be a member Christmas party.

January (1990) -- There will be an art auction consisting of art supplies and some art works.

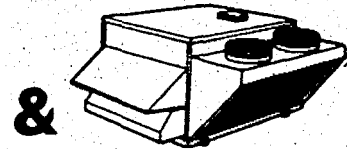

February -- Members will bring art work to be critiqued by a qualified professional.

May -- Roy Rinker will perform air brush for members.

All meetings are held at the Plymouth Township Hall on the first Monday of every month at 7:30 p.m. There is a public admission fee of $2 for each meeting.

Canton mulls Chuhran settlement

BY KEN VOYLES

The Canton Board of Trustees last week reluctantly approved a tentative agreement to settle with one of two attorneys retained by previous township clerk Linda Chuhran in her legal action against the township board.

The board approved the tentative settlement 4-1 during its regular meeting. Elaine Kirchgatter dissented; Loren Bennett and Henry Whalen were not present at the meeting.

official duties as Canton's clerk.

The board also directed the township attorney to continue "in the defense" of the township.

Trustee Kirchgatter said using the money on such a settlement was just not "proper."

Trustee John Prenciczky said, "We could be liable for those fees if the court rules she (Chuhran) used the attorneys as part of her job as clerk."

Canton Treasurer Gerald Brown said some residents "are going to scream that we paid anything." But, he added, there may be enough "valid" issues in the case that Canton could be forced to pay the entire bill.

The settlement calls for the township to pay $6,299 to attorney Alan C. Helmkamp. That represents 50 per cent of Helmkamp's claim for legal services against his former clients (Linda and Terry Chuhran) and the township.

"It's a difficult issue," said Canton Supervisor Tom Yack. "Nobody likes to spend money this way."

Yack told the rest of the board that he "reluctantly" recommended the settlement plan.

Helmkamp expressed a willingness to dismiss his portion of the lawsuit if the township agreed to pay 50 per cent of his requested fees, according to township attorney C. Gerald Hemming. The money will be paid upon Helmkamp's dismissal of his portion of the case.

P. Kelley O'Dea, another attorney representing the Chuhrans has also filed a claim against his former clients for $19,348 in fees.

Chuhran has also filed a third party claim against the township and the board for indemnification of the legal claims, since those legal expenses were allegedly incurred during her term of office and within the course of her

Fly on out to Pilgrim's

Flying high.

That's what members of the Flying Pilgrims Model Airplane Club will be doing this weekend (Sept. 23-24) during the IMAA Chapter 31 "Fall Fly for Fun Phase Out."

The two-day flying event will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on each day and features a variety of miniature planes as well as giant size planes, jets, monoplanes, and biplanes. There will also be some novelty items including a flying lawnmower, a flying Porsche, a witches broom and maybe even a flying wheelbarrow.

This year the event will feature more than 50 fliers from all over Michigan and Ohio. It will be held at the flight area located at Lilley and Van Born roads in Canton. There is no charge to watch the fly out but a donation is requested.

There will also be a concession stand area set up for spectators during the event. For further details on the flying festivities call Don Kehoe at 397-0410.

Canton millage down; taxes still increase

BY KEN VOYLES

At last week's public hearing on the 1990 Canton budget it was revealed that the township's proposed millage rates for 1989 will decrease from 9.79 to 9.53.

But with state SEVs (State Equalized Valuation) up again this year, township residents can expect another increase in their individual taxes. Canton's SEV increased by about 17.50 per cent this past spring from $658,843,550 to $774,130,580.

Canton's Board of Trustees are expected to give final approval to the township budgets at their next meeting on Tuesday (Sept. 26).

The proposed millage rates are as follows:

The special assessment levy for fire protection will be 3.46 mills, down from 3.48 in 1988; the special assessment levy for police protection will be 4.96 mills, down from 5.20 in 1988; and the charter (general fund) levy will be 1.11, the same as in 1988.

Because the charter millage is 0.11 mills more than what the township can levy under Public Act 5, 1982, last week's public hearing was required by state law, said John Spencer, the township's finance director.

In a millage breakdown for the trustees, Spencer noted that tax revenues from the millage rates will increase from 11.32 per cent to as much as 17.50 per cent.

Estimated budget expenditures for fire and police total more than $6.5 million, much of that to cover salaries and fringe benefits.

Total estimated expenditures and revenues in Canton for 1990 are approximately $14.4 million.

Central pool remains closed

multitude of possible programs to restore before the June election, including the pool, the issue did not make it to the final list, and was never printed on any informational, or promotional material published by the district.

Janis Schroth, a Canton resident who spoke to the board about the issue last week, said that students in her neighborhood were upset about returning to school and finding the pool still closed.

"I feel like we were cheated as taxpayers, and the kids were needlessly disappointed. They were pumped and brainwashed by the millage campaign, and came back to school thinking things would be better," she said.

If the board does not address the issue at its next meeting, Schroth said she and other parents plan to form a committee to press the issue further.

"We intend to follow up, and get more answers," she said.

The high cost of landfills

by $104,000, said William Graham, Plymouth's acting city manager.

"The costs are far outstripping the ability of the community to generate revenues through its normal millage," Graham said.

Graham said an additional millage request to pay for trash removal in the city is "certainly a possibility".

"Obviously it has to be paid for somehow," he said.

Graham said he feels the rate increases are getting out of hand.

"I feel that there has got to be some control over (the landfill operator's) ability to structure rates," he said. "It just seems that their rate increases are exorbitant compared to the rest of what is going on in the economy."

Landfill costs are rising so dramatically that costs which the township projected would occur four years from now have occurred within a three to six month time period, Breen said. "Obviously we were indulging in fantasy," he said of the somewhat positive cost estimate.

The township board might have to "bite the bullet" and go to the community to get the money for a township wide solid waste disposal system, he said.

"We have no other way to assess a tax except by approval of a ballot issue."

The township is also exploring avenues which would reduce the amount of solid waste going into landfills, thereby reducing costs.

"We have to realistically look at the whole area of solid waste collection and disposal, including the recycling option and the composting and everything else," Breen said.

As a first step in achieving its solid waste reduction goal the township board approved two recycling drop-off centers at its Sept. 12 meeting.

One site will be located in the township park and the other will be located at the fire station on Wilcox Road. The centers will accept newspapers, glass, tin and possibly plastic.

Chief swimmers 2nd at relays

BY RITA DERBIN

With the blend of youth and experience the Canton Chiefs put in a good showing at the Western Lakes Relays on Saturday.

The Canton girls swim team finished with 232 points during Saturday's Western Lakes Relays. The Chiefs finished second behind North Farmington with 265 points.

Senior tri-captains' Kristy Brugar, Renee DeBell and Nicole Drake helped lead the team to a second-place showing along with the team's other seniors: Cassie Cummins, Kelly Ricshe, Val Gildhaus and Nina Riley.

"The seniors are doing a great job," said coach Hooker Wellman. "And the team is doing great -- we have a team effort every time out -- that's going to help us in the conference."

Freshman Pam Pritchard is also doing well, according to Wellman.

Canton's lone first-place came in diving where Becky Hoisington (192.30 points) and Amy Kodrik (186.05 points) combined for the win.

Second-place finishes for the Chiefs were: the 400-yard freestyle relay of Janet Roberts, Drake, DeBell and Pritchard (4:06); the 400-yard individual medley of Brugar, Beth Yack, Roberts and Cummins (4:34.36); the 200-yard butterfly relay of Ricshe, Erika Carson, Yack and Chris Lang (2:69); and the 200-yard freestyle relay of Jenny Cooper, April Billins, Dawn Sammut and Tami Santomauro (1:50.69).

Third-place finishers were: the crescendo relay team of Cooper, DeBell, Pritchard, and Drake (5:08.75) and the 200-yard medley relay of Nicole Montresor, Shelley Belisle, Ricshe and Moore.

Fourth-place finishers were: the 400-yard medley relay of Cummins, Gildhaus, Lang and Santomauro (4:34.71); and the 200-yard backstroke relay of Montresor, Christy Geddes, Jenny Hartke and Billins (2:10.48).

Canton had one fifth-place finish. The 200-breaststroke relay team of Brugar, Belisle, Moore and Gildhaus finished with a time of 2:26.5.

"I'm real pleased with our effort," said Wellman. "Everyone in the conference is tougher this year and we were second with only one first place -- that shows our depth."

Wellman said that North Farmington should be the favorite to win the conference but several teams including Canton and Salem should be in the race for second place in the conference.

The Chiefs will open their conference schedule at North Farmington tomorrow. The meet will begin at 7 p.m.

"Our schedule starts out with North Farmington and doesn't get easier -- next up will be Salem," said Wellman. "But we're eager to get started. We're all looking forward to swimming and seeing how good we are."

Salem swimmers finish 3rd

BY RITA DERBIN

The host team didn't win it, but they were pleased with a third-place performance.

The Plymouth and Canton Rotary Clubs sponsored the Western Lakes Relays on Saturday, hosted by the Salem girls swim team.

"Without the support of the Rotary Clubs we couldn't have put on the event," said Salem coach Chuck Olson. "I'd like to thank them for a great job."

Olson was pleased with his team's overall effort on the day.

"We scored well all the way through," Olson added. "I'm pleased with how close we came to North Farmington, who should be ranked in the top five in the state."

Salem finished third with 219 points. North Farmington was first (265) and Canton was second (232).

Finishing first for Salem was the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Cheri Vincent, Candi Bosse, Julie Hickey and Nicole Bosse (3:57.7).

Salem's second-place finish was the crescendo relay of Stephanie Long, Julie Hickey, Nicole Bosse and Vincent (5:07.3).

Third-place finishes were: the 200-yard freestyle relay of Anne Toms, Kim Akers, Sue Carter and Toni Lupo (1:56.4); and the 200-yard breaststroke relay team of Kim White, Megan Andrews, Amy Homan and Kristin Stackpoole (2:21).

Fourth-place finishers were: the 400-yard individual medley relay of Megan Andrews, Amy Austin, Candi Bosse and Stackpoole (4:37.2); and the 200-yard medley relay of Laura Maciag, Homan, Meg Reilly and Dawn Alex (2:09.7).

Fifth-place finishers were: the 400-yard medley relay of Carrie Vanderweele, Austin, Alex and Long (4:42.4); the 200-yard backstroke relay of Vanderweele, Alex, Jill Andrews and Maciag (2:13.5); and the 200-yard butterfly relay of Alex, Reilly, Toms and Shelley Anderson (2:12.3).

Divers Kim McCormick and Jennifer Ezzo combined for 282.20 points and a sixth-place finish.

"We were the hosts and wanted to swim well," Olson said. "I'm pleased with our team effort."

Led five seniors -- tri-captains Alex,

Ezzo and Tammy Hickey -- and White and transfer student Vincent, the team is well balanced but young.

"We have 34 girls and 10 of them are freshman," said Olson. "The seniors are really helping the freshman out."

"Three freshman -- Kristin Stackpoole, Stephanie Long and Amy Homan -- are already helping us out a lot," added Olson.

Salem will be at Dearborn tomorrow. Next Thursday the Rocks will swim against Canton at 7 p.m. to start their conference schedule.

Lions win

Sunday saw the Canton Lions junior football team in action against their rivals the Ann Arbor East Eagles.

The Lions varsity outfit won their game 13-0. Brett Neilandam's first quarter interception set up the Lions' first touchdown by Eric Burleson.

Then in the third quarter quarterback Darren Petras went in across the goal line on a quarterback sneak.

The Lions' junior varsity also won, 12-6, on Sunday.

Good defense

Is best offense

BY RITA DERBIN

Solid defense is paying off for the Salem football team.

The Rocks are 3-0 after a 41-0 victory over Farmington on Friday night.

Quarterback Rob Kowalski scored on a quarterback sneak from one yard out, and a 10-yard run. He also threw a 35-yard touchdown pass to Bryan Schultz.

Scott Austin added a touchdown on a 44-yard fumble return. Ryan Johnson scored on a five-yard run and Chris Tebben added a 55-yard run for a touchdown to finish the scoring.

"This was the best game we've played to date," said coach Tom Moshimer. "We've eliminated most of our early mistakes -- we lost the ball only once to a fumble."

Moshimer expects his team to continue to improve each week so they will be ready to compete later in the season.

"The team is coming together," Moshimer said. "The defense has played real well -- Farmington didn't even have 100 yards of offense the whole game and they only ran for 20 yards."

The Rocks will travel to Livonia Stevenson on Friday night for a 7:30 p.m. game.

Canton team is hot

BY RITA DERBIN

If this is a dream, don't wake them up.

The Canton football is 3-0 after a 21-0 shutout at Franklin Saturday afternoon.

Quarterback Karl Wukie was the key to the offense once again. Wukie threw a 23-yard pass to Chris Robinson then added runs of five and 77 yards for the next two touchdowns in a game played in the rain and marred by a bench-clearing brawl. When play resumed, Canton stopped a late drive to preserve the shutout.

"The offense sputtered at times but Wukie has been doing a great job for us," said coach Bob Khoenle. "It's been our defense that's kept us in each of our games -- the offense just has to catch up," said Khoenle. "Karl Wukie has been doing a great job but our offense sputters at times -- we had a lot of opportunities on Saturday we didn't take advantage of."

The defense did their job in preserving the shutout by taking the ball away from the Patriots four times. Brian Riggs, Jason Riggs, Jason Lee and Dave Cessante each had interceptions.

"We haven't had many turnovers, just three in three games," said Khoenle. "And all three came in the first game. We're holding on to the ball -- that's what we've got to do."

Salem girls hoop team gets busy

BY RITA DERBIN

The girls are ready to roll.

After two weeks of "practice" games and plenty of spare time, the Salem girls basketball team is ready for their conference schedule to begin.

The Rocks opened at home last night against Walled Lake Western and will be at home tomorrow night (Sept. 21) against Livonia Stevenson at 7:30 p.m.

"We're looking forward to playing consistently," said coach Fred Thomann. "Every Tuesday and Thursday sounds good after being off a week."

Before last night's division opener, the Rocks had not played since Sept. 9, against Mercy. The girls defeated Mercy in that game, 42-28, with Sarah Ruete leading the attack with 13 points.

"It was a great team game," Thomann said. "Everyone contributed and played well together -- the defense was excellent and everyone who played scored."

Following 7-0 victory Salem soccer at 7-0

BY RITA DERBIN

They don't look that much different than any other high school seniors but put them in their soccer uniforms and they look about seven feet tall to their opponents.

Salem co-captains, goalkeeper Matt Tudor and forward Jeff Gold, have played a big part in the Rock's being ranked third in the state.

The Salem soccer team is 7-0 following a 7-0 victory over Walled Lake Central on Monday night. In the seven games, Gold has scored 13 goals and Matt Tudor has had six shutouts and allowed only two goals.

On Monday night, Gold scored three goals and added two assists. Chris Olson, Greg Christensen, Tom Baker and Eric Stemmer each added goals. Billy Joker and John Truskowski each added two assists in the shutout.

Gold also scored the only goal in a 1-0 victory over Canton last Wednesday.

In other action on Monday, Canton was defeated 2-1 by Walled Lake Western.

Chiefs split

Jenny Russell (above) helped Canton's girls hoop team beat Trenton, 38-30, Saturday. The Chiefs were in action at Mercy last week. The squad lost its game to St. Joe's, 43-41, Thursday. Canton plays at Livonia Churchill tomorrow. (Crier photo by Chris Farina)

Starting fresh

Salem cross country

BY RITA DERBIN

New coach. New team. New philosophy. New attitude.

The Salem girls cross country team is starting from scratch with a young, inexperienced team.

The varsity will consist of 10 girls led by freshman Corey Gulkewicz.

Gulkewicz will be followed by senior co-captains Jenny Harris and Alison Rybski, senior Jennifer Marshke, juniors Payal Parekh and Cathy Boyd, sophomores Carla Kenner and Jill Czapllick, senior Kerri Slider and freshman Sharon Bansal.

"We've been hacking away getting ready for our conference schedule," said first-year coach Mike Krafchak. "We have an inexperienced team -- only three girls have cross country experience."

Krafchak feels the team is progressing incredibly well considering that everyone is learning things they should already have known.

"Some of the seniors are asking the same questions that Corey is asking but we really moving along," said Krafchak. "Some of the girls have already taken a minute and a half off their times."

Krafchak added that it has been difficult for the team to adjust to a new coach and new program but the kids are eager to get better. "They've adjusted to me and my style well," he said.

"My style of coaching is different than what they're used to," Krafchak explains. "It's more technical -- I consider cross country a thinking sport and it will take the girls a while to learn my methods."

Krafchak thinks the team will improve -- possible significantly enough to surprise some teams.

"We're going to be competing later in the season," Krafchak said. "As a matter of fact, there's a lot of teams we can compete with right now -- we're not ready for Canton but we're in the middle of the pack."

"One thing is for sure," Krafchak added. "We will not go to any meet with the intention of losing -- these girls are definitely going to compete and run the best they can."

Grandma: Thanks for picking the winners! Love, Kim

Todd, the broom was an added touch.

Has anyone seen the pictures?

How come our edit guys can stand the heat but not the cold!

John, did you think the run would have been too physical?

Did anyone see us on Channel 47?

HAPPY BIRTHDAY KATIE ELIZABETH RYBACK!!

To the "Wiggins St." guys - How many "cereal box" pictures do you have now? (Have you considered Interior Decorating 1617?)

BRETT: Can you see the carpet in your bedroom yet?!

Curiosities

Do you know where you live? Are you east or west or north or south?

LINDA missed you, hope to see you at Sue's next month!

SUE what did you feed your dog? I thought it was lettuce!

I would like to welcome our newest Crier carriers: Jamie is taking over route 44A Shawn is taking over route 79B Welcome aboard The Crier Carrier Team! Good luck, Verna FRANK: You're not lonesome, are you? You're probably partying with Chuck and Mark and George in the desert. What's that they say, while the cat's away ...

Roxanne makes phone calls that are timed, writes poetry when she runs out of pictures, and makes birthdays happier!

Kevin - do you have enough shells now?

Kathe has declared war!

Janet - it was great to hear your voice! You sounded so - Army! (Thanks for the birthday wishes!)

Julie - did you share your M&M's?

To the guys on Wiggins - we're glad the guys downstairs finally turned the stereo down so we could watch the movie! - Plymouth parents

Jeff - what did you say your tenth most favorite thing to do is? (Jackie said it is number TWENTY on her list.)

Yes, Aunt Hazel, there is a Crier Santa!

To all of Plymouth - the 12th of September was my birthday. Send me some gifts! Love, Kevin Zarow. (Go Purdue!)

Send fan mail to: 218 Wiggins, Apt. No. 6, Boismaker, USA

Kathe I said Pure!

Rita, how come all your curios got in?

When is the township coming out to fix my yard?

SUE, thanks for a fun evening, enjoyed the cupcakes, but where was the parsley?

MARY ELLEN CROCH: Good Luck on your art show.

DAVID TOMLINSON: how do you lose a tie?

Gary's nickname is "Twinkle Toes."

Beth came in late last week because she had to shovel manure!

The Patriotic Group welcomes MERCEDES HEAD She will be helping Laura & Rose run the company She will also be assigned to handle Jack.

Watch for Encore II Opening in Old Village in the Old Mountain Rags Shop location - Monday Sept. 28th.

30 again?

Shouldn't we add 4 yrs. more since you graduated PHS Class of '94 Surprise P.S.P. with your Happy Birthday Wishes 489-1867

Curiosities

WANTED TO BUY: Old Jukeboxes, Slot Machines, Neon Signs, Cash Registers, Coca Cola Items, Gas Pumps, etc. CASH PAID. Evenings, 427-1221.

ASTRID - I got your letter, your English is fine. I'm moving soon, so I'll send you the new address. Shawn Beth and John have the most distinctive laughs at The Crier!

Verna - what was that about your rubber bands?

Beth rakes pond scum.

Mom - Fitz is alive at Purdue U.

Mom, you looked great, day and night, especially when you wear your clip-on earrings to bed!!

Party: 218 Wiggins, Purdue University
Dan says, "Hey, Julie" from Purdue U. (U of M is a sham.)

Thank you drivers - Sue, Sheri, Joy, Robin, Frank, Matt, for getting the Fall Fest issue to all our carriers, and thank you Niles for helping us load all those issues into their cars. You all did a great job!!! - Verna and Kathe Thanks Mom, for a great four days!!!

And Jack has the nerve to call ME "Red"?

Jack is getting flakier by the minute!

(Sounds like a job for Head and Shoulders!)

Someone said Mich. State was going to win this weekend. Who are they playing, Northwestern or Wisconsin?

Janet, I read your letter to everyone and they will write so you don't have to bring home your rifle. Let me know about your leg. Don't you wish you were in as good of shape as your DAD. xoxoxo

Gary G. was the "star" on the dance floor at the Fall Fest Party. He said "They don't call me twink's toes for nothing."

Since when did the Knights Inn get a restaurant. Huh, Peg?

Jackie & Jen are full of surprises!! Thanks for lunch and "Garfield!"

Thanks for lunch, Jack! No, I'm not as old as you are! (I'm 2 years younger)

Julie - the flowers were beautiful and the balloon was great! It was a wonderful surprise - thank you! Love, Mom. (P.S. The "smiley" face on the card was a very special touch!)

Key - how are J.C. & K.C.?

HAPPY 18th BIRTHDAY, JILL THOMAS!
