

Memorial Day parade slated for downtown

BY JIM TOTTEN

The annual Memorial Day Parade will be winding down Main Street in the City of Plymouth this Monday (May 27) morning.

The American Legion Passage Gayde Post No. 391 is organizing this year's annual event.

The parade to honor American veterans will begin at 10 a.m. at Theodore and Main streets and proceed south along Main to Kellogg Park and then to the Plymouth Rock veterans memorial at the intersection of Union and Ann Arbor Trail.

Victor Riblett, commander for the American Legion post, said that a special wreath laying ceremony will be held at the Rock.

Riblett said that Mayor R.J. Kenyon will be leading the pledge of allegiance ceremony, and Plymouth Township Supervisor Gerald Law will be the guest speaker.

The American Legion Passage Gayde Post, the VFW Mayflower Lt. Gamble Post No. 6695, and the Vietnam Veterans Association of Plymouth-Canton will be participating in the parade.

The Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Marching Band, various cub scouts and girl scouts groups, the East

Middle School Band and the Plymouth High and Drum Corps will be also be joining in the parade.

Riblett said that a flyover of B-25 bombers from Detroit City Airport is scheduled for the parade.

A Memorial Day Service will be held this Sunday at the Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth at 43065 Joy Road in Canton at 11 a.m.

School bond date debated; County to decide

BY KEN VOYLES

It may still be possible for the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district to hold a proposed bond election this September.

Although district Superintendent

John M. Hoben said that Wayne County officials are balking on the tentative Sept. 24 date for the bond vote due to scheduling conflicts with other elections, county officials paint another picture.

Hoben revealed the county's apparent position Monday during a workshop gathering of the Plymouth-Canton Schools Board of Education as board members tried to grapple with what items might be included in a bond package.

But county officials said yesterday that they will indeed recommend to the Wayne County Elections Scheduling Committee that Plymouth-Canton be allowed to hold its bond election on Sept. 24.

"The clerk's staff will recommend that date be approved," Marya Sieminski, chief deputy county clerk, said yesterday. "That's based on a review of the possible election conflicts."

Sieminski said that since the district has its own election equipment there would be no equipment conflicts.

Also, elections must be at least 30

Twp. woman killed in accident

BY JIM TOTTEN

A Plymouth Township woman was killed Monday morning in an automobile accident with a semi-truck at Ridge and Five Mile roads.

Winifred Sinclair, 73, was pronounced dead at the scene after her automobile was struck by a semi-truck, said Sergeant Robert Antal, of Plymouth Township Police. Antal said the township received the call at 9:50 a.m.

Sinclair was traveling northbound on Ridge Road and was attempting to cross Five Mile, Antal said, when her automobile was struck by a semi-truck traveling eastbound along Five Mile.

The driver of the semi-truck, a 59-year-old Detroit resident, was not injured, Antal said.

He added that the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office will decide if any charges are to be filed against the driver of the semi.

Antal said that further details of the accident are still being gathered by the department and added that there was one eyewitness to the accident.

CEP paper in the red; final edition unlikely

BY KEN VOYLES

The CEP Perspective student newspaper, beset by problems since the departure of advisor Chris Peal, will apparently not be publishing its final edition this school year.

The award winning Centennial Educational Park newspaper, managed by students from Salem and Canton high schools, yearly prints a June edition which also includes a supplement put together by students in beginning journalism courses.

But this year the newspaper is beset by financial difficulties, according to the current advisor Brian Reed.

A major computer malfunction has also made it difficult to put the edition together, Reed said.

"At this point there is no edition," said Reed. "Not unless we can get a hard drive up real fast to meet our deadlines."

Reed added, "Also, there are financial problems as well."

Reed said that the printing company which publishes The Perspective had refused to run the last edition until the newspaper pays its bills.

"It's reasonable I guess," he said. "We have enough of a financial problem to where we can't cover it this year."

Reed said advertising revenues were down this year and that the newspaper was having trouble collecting for ads already printed in the paper.

"We found out late that they're not paid for," he said, calling the problems one of "bookkeeping."

The edition was originally scheduled for next month. The last Perspective to date hit the campus hallways in mid-May. Younger journalism students at CEP usually contribute a supplement to the final edition each year as part of their course work.

Tom MacKenzie, principal at Canton High, said he wasn't aware that there were financial difficulties at the newspaper.

"I'm worried about the computer," said MacKenzie, adding that he was attempting to make arrangements for the use of another computer. "Their hard drive crashed."

MacKenzie said he spoke with Reed last week when it became clear that the final edition of the school year was in trouble.

Richard Egli, the district's community relations director, said he was surprised by the newspapers' dilemma but he also called it "ironic."

"I'm not sure of their situation," he added. "It's news to me."

Egli said that it was unlikely that the Plymouth-Canton Schools Board of Education would intervene. It may also be impossible to help since the edition's printing deadlines are soon.

LWV forum for candidates

Four candidates for two seats on the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Board of Education will take part in a Candidates Forum sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Nov.

The forum, set for 7:30 p.m. on May 29, will be held in the West Middle School cafeteria. The four candidates are incumbents Roland Thomas and Dean Swartzwetter and challengers Bobbie Cleary and Deborah Lynch.

During the forum each candidate will make a two-minute opening statement. Written questions will also be accepted from residents who attend the meeting.

Doetsch withdraws from city election

BY JIM TOTTEN

The race for the Plymouth City Commission has now been reduced to seven candidates.

Thomas Doetsch, an assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne County, withdrew from this year's contest on Friday.

Doetsch said that "personal family reasons" caused him to withdraw from the race. He said that after some consideration, he decided that he "wouldn't be able to give it a full commitment."

The general election (for four seats on the commission) is scheduled for Nov. 5.

Officials are currently discussing combining the charter amendment vote with the city commission vote.

Plymouth Library millage likely next year

BY KEN VOYLES

Residents in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township may go to the polls sometime next year to decide on a possible millage increase to support expansion of the Dunning-Hough

Library.

At a public forum last week members of the Plymouth District Library Board said that a millage vote on the library expansion will likely occur by the end of 1992.

"We hope to have something concrete for the public early next year," said Steve Harper, a library board trustee present at the meeting. Only one resident attended that meeting — the last of four gatherings planned to discuss the library and its services.

Harper added, "We are trying to reinforce the direction we're going. The board hasn't decided to do anything just yet, we need feedback on the present facility.

"We felt it would be useful to get public input while things are very fluid," he continued.

The board began information gathering last year with a survey of residents and library users. A consultant was called in last August to help refine the library's needs and select an architect for the project.

The architectural firm of Merritt, McCallum and Cieslak, of Farmington, was retained to help come up with new designs for a possible expansion, said Harper.

Some areas of concern raised by library consultant David Smith in his August 1990 space needs study included: overcrowding, handicap accessibility, parking, and staff work areas on site.

Harper said the architectural firm was asked to work with the existing structure since expansion at the current site still seems to be the favored approach by members of the board.

"We don't care what it looks like — within reason — as long as once people are inside they love it," Harper said. "As we refine our program goals they'll come up with a 'bubble' diagram."

Harper added, "We're not in a hurry to do anything. We want to move at the speed the community wants."

"This is not a crisis," he said. "We're not like an elementary school

Huntington Falls construction delayed

BY JIM TOTTEN

The Huntington Falls Project planned for property along Sheldon Road between Five and Six Mile roads in Northville Township is on hold.

Hard construction for Huntington Falls has been delayed for a year, but planning aspects will continue, said Gary Roberts, vice-president of development of R.A. DeMattia Company.

"The project is delayed, somewhat," Roberts said. He said the slowdown in the economy was the main reason for the project's delay.

"The hard construction will not begin until 1992," he added. Construction on the project was originally planned to begin sometime this year.

Last year, the DeMattia Company entered into a purchase agreement for a cash deal with Wayne County for the land. DeMattia has put down a $300,000 non-fundable deposit on the land.

"They are to close and pay us in a lump sum at a specified date," said Mike Duggan, Wayne County Deputy Executive, adding that, "I'm not sure of anything at this point."

Duey Henry, director of economic development for Wayne County, said that the closing date for the purchase agreement was originally set at May 9, but both groups involved realized it was not going to be met.

A new closing date is being discussed.

"They haven't filed anything," said Carol Maise, planning and zoning administrator for Northville Township. Maise added that there is "all sorts of stuff" that still need to be submitted to the township.

Maise explained that there is not a specific schedule for Huntington Falls.

"With us, they didn't have to submit anything on a certain day," she said.

Maise said that DeMattia has so far only submitted a form of intent stating the development plans for the land.

She added the next step would be for DeMattia to submit an impact assessment to the township.

Over joint services

Dispatchers, committee to huddle

BY JIM TOTTEN

Dispatchers from both Plymouth city and township will be briefed today by the joint services committee about progress toward sharing of services between the two communities.

"I think we've progressed to a point that it would be fruitful to bring our employes up to date," said Paul Sincok, Plymouth's acting city manager.

Sincok said that joint services are currently in the "discovery stage" which is beyond preliminary but not yet in the recommendation phase.

"At this point, they need to be involved in the process," said Plymouth Mayor pro-tem Ronald Loiselle, of the dispatchers.

The goal of both the city and township is to combine services without a loss of jobs. That will remain the number one priority during the consolidation, Loiselle said. Concerns have been raised among dispatchers that some of them might lose their jobs during the consolidation process.

Loiselle said that current committee discussion has focused totally on the dispatchers since that would be the first department to be combined from the city and township.

He said that official action to combine dispatch services could possibly take place within the next couple of months.

Loiselle said the next department that the committee would focus on would be the fire department.

City needs leadership

The first volley was quietly fired Thursday morning in the Plymouth City Commission races. It wasn't over Mettetal Airport. It wasn't even over downtown development (although that was the official topic of the meeting).

It concerned "continuity of leadership." Only two of the eight commission hopefuls were in the audience -- Bob Jones and Doug Miller -- to hear Northville architect Greg Presley tell downtown Plymouth landlords that ongoing City Hall support was one of two key factors in Northville's downtown development. (The other factor, Presley said, was having established the downtown as an historic district).

A big part of the leadership continuity, said the "one-fifth expert" (if an expert is someone from 25 miles away, what else do you call someone from the town five miles north?), is Northville City Manager Steve Walters -- who moves into the lower northwest corner of Plymouth City Hall in 10 days. "We're very jealous you have him now," Presley said.

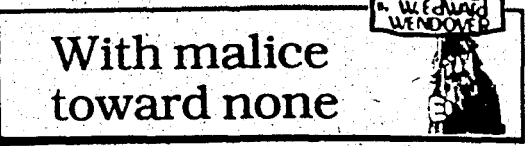

But actually, it's more than Walters. It's an ability for City Hall direction to continue on a predictable course despite changes in the names of the politicians involved.

Plymouth City Hall has failed at that of late.

Put those American flags back up

EDITOR:
I am really disappointed that the City of Plymouth has removed all the American flags that were so proudly displayed during the Persian Gulf crisis. President George Bush and General Norman Schwarzkopf have expressed publicly the deep appreciation and honor to all Americans during the conflict.

History has been made and the flying flags

Ever since the city commission rose up to drive Hank Graper's bad habits out of City Hall, the commissioners have struggled to work together.

It isn't that all seven commissioners have to agree or that with any city commission election there shouldn't be changes in the balance of power. One of the city's strong points is its City Charter requirement of the four seats -- three long, one short term. That encourages citizens' access to the issues of the day.

In fact, it's too bad that Jerry Vorva's 2:45 p.m. sprint to City Hall for another set of city commission petitions was in vain. Sure, a city commission primary on Aug. 6 -- which would have been required if just one more person filed -- would have helped Vorva's chances in the state representative primary.

But it would also have helped the citizenry focus on city issues and to get the attention of the city commission focused on the Number One issue:

Continuity of leadership at City Hall.

helped everyone feel they were a vital part of it. Taking the flags down erodes the feeling of pride and is truly a disservice to everyone in the community of Plymouth.

Let's put them back up and leave them up until the national celebrations are completed on July fourth.

Airport association thanks residents

EDITOR:
The Plymouth Canton Airport Association and Emerald Aviation would like to sincerely thank the residents of Plymouth and Canton for making Mettetal Airport's first annual open house and grand opening a huge success.

Please continue to feel that everyday is an open house at your local airport. You and your family are welcome to come and enjoy watching the daily operations. Perhaps you'll take that second ride or begin a private pilot course. Picnic tables are available for your outing as well as tours for your scout, school or community group.

Our thanks also to the many pilots and true aviation enthusiasts who freely donated their time, energy, knowledge, and airplanes to make this event what may become the most eagerly anticipated festivity in our combined communities.

Task force plan worth closer look

The Plymouth-Canton Substance Abuse Task Force has an idea whose time may have come in this community.

The organization is made up of local residents doing their best to help combat substance use in the community. During recent discussions the task force has been trying to find ways to raise public awareness of local substance abuse.

Along that line the organization has proposed that The Crier (along with other local papers) publish the names of individuals convicted of substance abuse crimes in the community.

The task force organizers said they are also seeking the help of the 35th District Court and local police departments to make such a weekly list possible.

It has been suggested that the list run on a trial basis to help gauge public awareness of substance abuse in this community and as a way to judge how the community will react to the weekly reporting of a crime that many people don't see as a crime but as a disease.

In the margin

By Ken Voyles

The task force was formed to support parental, community and law enforcement effort to eliminate the drug abuse problem our society faces daily. It supports appropriate enforcement and counseling efforts and the need to take positive action to create continuing awareness about the problem.

The issue of publishing the names of drunk drivers, for example, is one long debated in this profession. Many newspapers do it as a rule, others avoid it like the plague.

I don't think The Crier has ever taken any specific position on such a weekly list of substance violators, but the call to arms from the task force will force us to come to grips with the idea.

Logistically, it would not be that difficult for this, or any, newspaper to compile such a list. The information is there in black and white every week on the police blotters.

And the intention is only the best.

But I have several concerns which I must raise. I want to do this in public because I think this issue should be addressed to the entire community and not just the newspapers.

My first concern relates to the definition of what is a substance abuse crime. Would the students at West Middle School fit this description? School officials seem to think so. How about those in treatment?

Another concern relates to whether or not publishing the names of such abusers would really do any good. It might do more harm than good. Those people who are sincerely trying to fix their lives, whether convicted or not, may find it all that much harder to get support, help, or understanding.

Yet another concern relates to whether or not this newspaper should become an arm of the law. Yes, we do plenty of cop stories, even some where we help out the police by giving a suspect's description, etc.

But to take over the justice system's role as punisher (and educator) smacks of betrayal to our own ideals of being an objective source of information on all kinds of topics.

And yes printing someone's name in the newspaper is a form of punishment.

Still another concern centers on the need in our society for that kind of catharsis which in the long run only makes things worse. All too often we act as if purging our society will help purge us, but let me tell that grasping at emotional releases doesn't necessarily save one from the pain and sorrow of everyday life.

We must confront our problems, including substance abuse, and we must do it openly, but without a need for emotional revenge.

This is a new issue for Plymouth-Canton, but it's time we discuss it. What we decide will depend on who we are and how we cope, not only with society's ills, but our own.

I have not yet formally responded to the letter from the task force and they may be a bit surprised to read this in The Crier.

But this is not an easy decision. I need help.

I think of such a plan practically and I want to do it. I think philosophically and I am opposed to it.

Where do you stand?

The White pages

Ray Givens feels cheated.

The 37-year-old Salem Township resident has pursued training that will make him the best firefighter he can be.

He has been certified as a deputy sheriff and has studied Michigan State Police investigative techniques as well as taking enough advanced first aid to qualify him as an instructor. He has done it on his own time not for career advancement but to insure Salem residents are served by the best possible emergency personnel.

Two weeks ago, Givens was bypassed for the job of fire chief. Mark Hamilton, a man who only qualifies as a firefighter under a 1982 state grandfather clause and who received some of his first aid training from Givens, is the new chief of the department, which consists of 17 volunteers.

Hamilton is white, Givens is black. It's hard for Givens, who has lived in Salem all his life, to believe color could be the reason. But the longer he has to wait for an explanation of the selection process, the more he wonders.

The Salem Board of Trustees "didn't go by the interview, by seniority, or by training," Givens said, "so what did they go by?"

"I've been here 37 years," he said. "There has never been a color issue here. I didn't know what color was. This just blows it away."

Givens said he could understand the choice if the board would just explain their reasoning.

"But until they tell me why they haven't hired me," he said, "they have violated my civil rights."

Givens isn't in a fight for the money. While the chief gets a salary, Givens would still keep his job at GM Willow Run Assembly and would still coach wrestling at Canton High School.

And he's not in it for the glory. The chief has to complete a lot of paperwork to keep his staff current in training. Givens was doing much of that work already under the old chief, Bill Hirth.

Givens bears no ill will towards Hamilton. He is more worried about how this makes the department look than about himself.

"We are just now getting a good relationship with surrounding departments," he said. "Now we're being kicked in the stomach. We're set back 100 years."

The board voted unanimously 4-0 to select Hamilton. Trustee, Ferman Rohruff, whose son is in the fire department, abstained.

Salem Treasurer Suzanne Witthoff made the nomination. She later tried to withdraw it after seeing the commotion caused in the fire department, who supported Givens.

"I could have been happy with either candidate," she said. "Neither one had 100 per cent support. How much training do you need to be fire chief?"

Massey zoning denied

BY JIM TOTTEN

In a packed meeting room, the Plymouth Township Planning Commission voted down another rezoning request from Don Massey for land along Ann Arbor Road and Southworth Street.

Approximately 180 people attended last Wednesday's meeting during which the planning commission unanimously voted — with automobile dealer Tom Bohlander abstaining — to recommend to the township board of trustees that the rezoning request be denied.

Massey was requesting that the 15.8 acres of land north of Ann Arbor Road and west of Haggerty be switched from R-1 (single family) and OS (office service) to C-2 (general commercial).

"We feel that there is enough commercial along Ann Arbor Road," said Richard Gornick, chairperson of the planning commission. He said that Massey's plan was to use the property for an automobile dealership.

This is the fourth rezoning request for the land Gornick said. A request for rezoning can be made only once a year and must be revised each time it is presented.

Gornick said that the commission strictly follows a "step-down concept" for development in the township. He said that the master plan is designed to move development from commercial, to office, then cluster residential and finally to single family homes in a gradual progression.

Gornick said that within the next 30 days the Massey request will be reviewed and voted on by the Wayne County Planning Commission before heading before the township board of trustees.

Gornick said the county "normally" supports the local body in its recommendation.

But attorney John Thomas, who is representing Massey, said that he expects the county to recommend in favor of the proposal.

"I expect that the recommendation from Wayne County to be positive," said Thomas.

Thomas said that the township planning commission is only a recommending body, adding that the battle was lost but the war is definitely not over.

"This one is considerably different," Thomas said about the Massey proposal. He described it as a "well conceived" plan that takes into consideration residents' concerns about traffic and noise and light pollution.

The increase in traffic and noise/light pollution were the two major concerns of residents against the rezoning request said attorney Cameron Miller, spokesperson for the area residents.

"It is really rare that the board of trustees doesn't follow the recommendation," said Miller, who lives along Southworth Street.

"A lot of people bought into the area because it was residential," he said, adding that the planning commission drew up a "brilliant" master plan and has strictly followed it.

Miller said that if the trustees were to vote down the rezoning request, Massey could decide to take the proposal to the Wayne County Circuit Court in an effort to force the township's approval.

"I don't see any way that the court would allow it," Miller added.

Mary Heskett, a resident along Southworth, said that the increase in noise and traffic from the proposed dealerships are two of her concerns. Heskett also said she is concerned about property values.

"We feel it is going to lower the value of our homes," Heskett added.

Gornick said that he expects the Massey proposal will go before the board of trustees within the next 45 days.

Airport extends invite

BY JIM WHITE

Another invitation is being extended to Canton to join the Mettetal Airport Board.

The board, now consisting of representatives from the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, will invite Canton, Livonia, the City of Northville, and Northville Township to join at its meeting tonight.

"I don't have any feeling whether any of them will join or not," said city board representative Wes Kappler-Monday. "Just based on their location, we felt we should ask them."

The airport is located at Joy and Lilley in Canton but Canton voted last year not to join the airport board.

In answering a list of questions from the board regarding Mettetal, the state aeronautics commission confirmed this week that any cleanup necessary to meet Michigan Department of Natural Resources requirements is the responsibility of the present owners.

"Any cleanup requirements set by the DNR must be done prior to the purchase of the property," said the commission.

Presently, the Klochko family, which owns Mettetal, is investigating the site for possible contamination under DNR supervision. Monitoring wells will be sunk in the near future, but some lab work has to be done first.

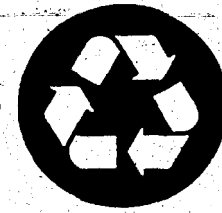

"We are still in the process of analyzing some soil samples," said Tom Klochko last week. "That's part of the work plan."

The Klochkos and the DNR are trying to determine the extent of any possible contamination left after two jet fuel tanks were removed last fall.

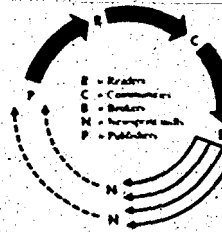

In a previous Mettetal Airport story, Plymouth Township Concerned Citizens member Robert Zaetta was misquoted as saying Plymouth Township does not have a charter.

He said the township's charter cannot be amended by referendum as in the City of Plymouth. City residents will have a chance to vote in November on a charter amendment that would not allow the city to operate an airport.

Zaetta's group is collecting signatures in an effort to persuade the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees to hold a similar referendum.

How people think newspaper is recycled.

How newspaper is recycled.

Newspapers across the country, including The Community Crier, are committed to buying recycled newsprint.

But right now, there's a shortage. Part of the reason is, turning old newspaper into recycled newsprint is more complicated than you might expect.

There are lots of players: readers, brokers of old newspapers acting as middlemen, newspaper publishers, and the recycled newsprint manufacturers themselves, most of whom do not have the capacity to accept more old newspapers.

The situation is improving, though. More paper mills are planning to manufacture more recycled newsprint, which will make more supply available to more newspapers. Eventually, as supply and demand balance out, the situation will resolve itself.

It's about that simple.

Reed retires from EMU, will stay with PSO

Eastern Michigan Music Professor Russell Reed may be only 56, but after 34 years as a music teacher, the last 12 as director of EMU's Symphony Orchestra, he is ready for retirement.

Reed, who retired from the university last month, spent 22 years teaching in secondary schools before joining EMU's music faculty in 1979.

Reed is also well known as the conductor of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra (PSO), a post he has held since 1987.

Despite retirement Reed plans to continue serving in that position.

"This is a demanding, draining kind of job because you're always working right on the edge of emotions," Reed said recently.

"After you've taught for 34 years in the public sector you begin to think about things on the outside," he added. "Conducting the Plymouth Symphony is the kind of thing I can spend a lot of time on if I have the time, and that's what I want to do. It's freer and it's not the same as working with students."

But Reed is likely to miss working with students, especially in the role of recruiting new students for EMU's orchestra from a shrinking pool of high school musicians.

Reed said EMU's music program is not geared toward performance majors, making it tougher for the school to maintain a strong symphony orchestra.

"We're really a music education school," he said. "Most of the people who come out of our program are going to be teachers and I really feel like that's our field of expertise."

While retired Reed also plans to continue his long time practice of consulting with secondary schools on their music programs. It is a passion for which he is well suited.

"Learning how to make a living is one job of education but another part is teaching people how to live and how to enjoy living," Reed.

And now it looks like Reed will be able to enjoy living a little bit more himself.

Friends & Neighbors

Brandy's joy may be gone, but special memories live on

BY KEN VOYLES

A treasured friend died last week.

Brandy, a very special apricot toy poodle owned by Kathy and Bob Mount, of Plymouth, succumbed to an inoperable neurological disorder last Tuesday.

In his 17 long years, Brandy touched many hearts, partially from his talent as a volunteer entertainer at Mott Children's Hospital as well as at orphanages, churches, nursing homes and brownie troops.

Recently Brandy had experienced failing heart and kidneys and he took a turn for worse on May 14.

"It seems that my life began 17 and half years ago with Brandy," said Kathy Mount. "For all this time he has been my faithful companion for 24 hours a day. He had many part-time jobs, spreading cheer where it was needed most."

These past several months were not without tender mercies, said Mount.

• Learning that the Mounts were "house bound" with Brandy, a local church invited the Mounts and Brandy to attend Easter service. Brandy had performed at the church 10 years ago.

• In April the University of Michigan Mott Children's Hospital conducted a service in its chapel to acknowledge Brandy's 13 years of service there and to offer prayers of blessing, and thanks.

• Less than two weeks ago Brandy was featured in the recent edition of Pet Focus magazine.

• Last week Eugene Freedman, chairperson of Enesco Corporation (Precious Moments) called the Mounts to tell them that the company planned to create a figurine in honor of Brandy.

"We have never loved this way before and we will never love this way again," said Kathy Mount.

City man takes Vegas poker event

BY KEN VOYLES

Some people play cards, other work at cards.

James Courtney, president of Remerica of Michigan in Plymouth Township and a City of Plymouth resident for 20 years, works at cards.

Recently all of the effort paid off when he earned more than $58,000 in the famous World Series of Poker held in Las Vegas each year.

The 46-year-old competed in his sixth World Series of Poker tournament on May 11, finishing third in the "Texas" hold-em" round and collecting more than $58,000.

That round is a warm-up each year to the tourney's major event, the $10,000 no-limit competition, which draws gamblers from all over the world.

The world famous tournament draws about 3,500 poker players each year, said Courtney, who faced 105 players in the "Texas" competition.

"I led from 75 players down to three players," he said. It was Courtney's best finish since a 13th. He has also finished 32nd, 41st, 64th and 77th in past competitions.

"It was different this time," he said. "I had the experience. Playing with the big boys takes a while to understand."

A poker player since the age of 10, Courtney said the game on May 11 lasted from noon to 2:30 a.m. One pot during the game reached $180,000.

"This is forced betting so you can't sit back. You've got to play. I always felt my play was good enough to win if I had a little luck, and I got it," Courtney said. "It's quite tense. It's very strenuous mentally."

"It's very strenuous but exhilarating at the same time," he continued. "At my age what other world class event can I play in? This is it."

"I've always gotten a kick out of people who say they are playing cards. When you're at this level you're working cards."

Courtney said, in fact, that he played so many hands during the tournament that he couldn't remember "any of them."

"It was just so fast and furious," he said. "I went there to get in the big game but I felt it was prudent to leave and not stay."

He added, "I'm going to go back until I win the big one."

Some 80 per cent of the gamblers at the competition are "professionals," Courtney said, and the rest are just average players out for the big stake. It's held at Binnions Horseshoe in Las Vegas each year.

"I knocked out a guy who had won it twice before," said Courtney smiling. "I'm extremely happy."

Goss retiring, memories sought

Dallas Goss, a Canton High School science teacher, is retiring this June after more than 20 years' service.

Goss recently won the Michigan Can Do Award for educators.

Any student or former student who has memories, stories, or anecdotes about Goss is asked to contact Sue Gentz at Canton, 451-6600 ext. 304, before June 1.

Tell it to Phyllis

By Phyllis Redfern

Graduation is a special time. As we celebrate an accomplishment, it represents the ending of one period of our lives and the beginning of another.

Last weekend I watched my son receive his degree from Northwood Institute. As a tear escaped down the side of my face, I couldn't help thinking, this is the kid I never thought would ever learn to read. In fact, there was a time I didn't think he'd make it out of first grade. He spent more time with George Dodson (then principal of Gallimore) than he did with his teacher.

The fact that he graduated with honors in Business Management and Marketing is a miracle in itself. He enjoyed math, but English and reading weren't quite so much fun. When he and I met with his counselor in middle school to pick classes for high school, he was told not to take college prep because he wasn't smart enough to go the college. Needless to say a certain counselor will receive a copy of this.

Of course I'm a proud mom. This kid who has driven me crazy, teased his sister and left a trail of his junk throughout the house, has accomplished a few good things.

He was once quiet and shy but could win people over with his sheepish grin. He still has the grin but the shyness has disappeared.

It's hard to believe these four years of college have gone by so quickly. It's even harder to believe my baby is 21 and ready to enter the real world without any help from mom.

As he enters a new segment of his life, I find that I am also. After his first week on the job, he likes what he is doing and is excited about moving to Tennessee next month. While I have to admit I'm excited about his job, I'm not quite so ecstatic about him moving out state.

I'm working on those darn apron strings and at the same time dealing with the fact that no one is dependent on me like they have been. I know once a mom, always a mom, but I'm suddenly starting to feel vibes of a new freedom.

Well Ron, your growing up years haven't always been easy, but you managed to survive despite your sister's threats. Now as you start out on your own I have to tell you how proud of you I am and how much I love you (and I'll smack you if you laugh at my tears). Congratulations kid.

School, Mauro House will be 'landmarked'

"Landmarking" ceremonies will take place at two local points of historical interest today (May 22).

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) presents their landmark awards annually.

This year, the Cherry Hill School in Canton and the Wood Mauro house in the City of Plymouth will be honored by the group.

The present Cherry Hill School was built in 1876 in the crossroads village at the intersection of Ridge and Cherry Hill. It was a one-room red brick schoolhouse with narrow planked wood floors and a round wood burning stove.

The brick has since been covered with plaster. Plumbing was installed during Henry Ford's industrial involvement with the community in the 1940s. The school was closed in 1962.

Cherry Hill School was bought by Canton in 1986 and is now in the process of being restored with a grant from the Michigan Equity Fund and a General Motors sponsored retiree program.

The Wood Mauro House, 1165 W. Ann Arbor Tr., was originally built in 1880. In 1919, Romey and Dora Wood moved into the Gothic Revival farmhouse. Romey Wood opened a photography studio and the house has since been known as the Wood Studio.

Romey Wood died in 1975 and the house was sold in 1987 to Craig and Mary Mauro, who have worked to restore it to its original grandeur. Dora Wood, who will turn 104 next Wednesday, has shared stories with the Mauros about the original state of the house.

Both buildings will be adorned with a brass plaque denoting their history today -- Heritage Day -- as part of Michigan Week. Ceremonies will take place at Cherry Hill at 4 p.m. and at the Wood Mauro house at 5 p.m.

Twp. approves proposal DPW to undergo study

BY JIM TOTTEN

The Plymouth Township Department of Public Works will undergo an "organizational review" as part of a proposal to examine its structure and personnel staff.

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees last week approved a proposal by Grant Thornton, accounting and managing consultants, to conduct a study of the department. The study will cost $9,930 and will be covered by the DPW and the water/sewer fund, said James Anulewicz, director of public service.

"We want to review the current organization and the work demands," Anulewicz said at the Tuesday meeting, adding that the review is an effort to make sure the DPW is properly structured and staffed.

Anulewicz said that the possibility of expanding the work force and studying recent personnel changes were the two main reasons for the review.

"Our feeling is that we need to look at that end (personnel) of it to make sure we have it covered," he said.

Anulewicz added that the review should answer questions such as "Is everything being taken care of at this time?" and "Where can we best place those duties from the empty position?"

"Because of the investment we've made in the department now is the time for a review," Supervisor Gerald Law said.

Anulewicz said the report will contain vital information about staffing, duties and efficiency of the township's DPW.

Big turnout for Canton post

BY JIM WHITE

A slew of applicants is lining up for the executive director post at the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber is trying to fill the vacancy created when Joan Bolek resigned rather than take a pay cut for diminished responsibilities.

"We have placed our ads in a couple of newspapers," said chamber board of directors President Mary Domeier Monday. "We have placed them at the Michigan Employment Security Council, at the Carriage Park seniors residence, and at local colleges."

As of Friday, Domeier said, there were 19 candidates. She said five members of the board will sort through applications this week and begin interviewing sometime next week.

"I'm looking forward to interviewing," Domeier said. "We're going to be able to pick a good person."

Bolek held the $12,000 executive director post for five years before resigning earlier this month.

Public hearing scheduled

A public hearing on the operation of an AFC small group home in Plymouth Township has been scheduled for May 28.

The board of trustees voted last Tuesday to hold a public hearing on the licensing of a group home at 41167 Ann Arbor Tr.

Neighborhood residents, local officials, state department representatives, the applicant, the developer and other interested people are invited to attend the public hearing.

Places to be

AAUW book sale set

The annual book sale of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) will be held at a new location this year.

The 37th annual sale is set for the Starkweather Center Gym in the City of Plymouth's Old Village. It is located at 550 N. Holbrook.

The sale will be held Friday, May 31 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. All remaining books will be half-off on Saturday, June 1, with the sale running from 9 a.m. to noon.

The fundraising event helps the AAUW offer scholarship money to local women returning to school.

More than 300 boxes of books sorted into 26 categories including biography, children's selection, science fiction, history, etc. plus records will be on sale.

Members of the Plymouth Branch AAUW collect, sort and price used books throughout the year. Donations of books may be left in the AAUW drop box at the Dunning Hough Library in the City of Plymouth.

Renown flutist to perform

A world renown flutist will perform on the streets of Northville in June.

Ervin Monroe, principal flutist of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra (DSO), will be playing a free concert at the band shell in downtown Northville on Wednesday, June 5.

Monroe's 7:30 p.m. performance will feature both classical pieces and popular showtunes.

The Northville Arts Commission and the Flute Centre Plus, located in the J. Giordano Gallery, are sponsoring the concert.

Monroe has been principal flutist of the DSO for the past 24 years and has also performed with the Mozarteum Orchestra, the Chamber Symphony of Philadelphia, the Royal Ballet and the Royal Danish Ballet.

He has also served as musical director and conductor of several Michigan orchestras and is an applied music studies teacher at Oakland University and Wayne State University.

The public will have an opportunity to meet Monroe at an afterglow gathering at the gallery.

For more information call 348-0282.

Theatre guild performs

A special one night performance is being planned by the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

"Lovers, Dreamers, and Madmen" is the title of a benefit show to be hosted by the guild to raise money for a new sound system.

The multi-talented James Morrison and Cheryl A. Bubar will perform musical scenes from musical favorites such as "Sweeney Todd," "A Little Night Music," "Miss Saigon," "Les Miserables," and "Phantom of the Opera."

Dreamers, lovers, skid row losers finding strength in each other and madmen will be just some of the characters in scenes from the show.

Advanced tickets are $5 and those purchased at the door are $6.

An afterglow party will immediately follow the performance, and all those in attendance are welcome to attend for dessert and hors d'oeuvres.

The show will be held at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 1 at the Water Tower Theatre, located on the campus of Northville Regional Hospital on Seven Mile Road.

For reservations or more information call 349-7110.

Local host families needed

A group of French students are coming to The Plymouth-Canton Community for three weeks this July and local families are needed to house some of the students.

The students, ranging in age from 11 to 19 years old, live in Lyons, the second largest city in France and located in the Rhone Alpes Region.

While the students are here, a French chaperone will also be in the community during the entire stay. All of the students are fully insured.

Some 14 students are expected in the community.

Any family interested in helping support the exchange program should call Barbara Schendel or Chantal

Roger-Dalbert at 453-3905.

Homes for six French boys ages 17-18 are needed currently.

PCAC sale

Bargains at the art gallery. The Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC) Art Rental Gallery will be holding an annual Birthday Sale on Wednesday, May 29, from 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

The sale will be held upstairs at the Dunning-Hough Library on Main Street in the City of Plymouth.

The sale will be a chance to purchase pictures at bargain prices and those being rented. All are welcome to come in and browse.

Welcome to Canton. To celebrate the third annual Canton Challenge Fest, The Crier has captured the sights and sounds of a varied community.

Part urban, part rural, Canton has something for everyone. Come listen to Canton's heartbeat.

Photos in the section were taken by Crier photographers Eric Lukasik, Jay Keenan, Ken Garner and Jim White.

BY JIM WHITE

Debate arises from time to time about Canton's identity, or lack thereof.

The 36-square mile community is far-flung, to be sure. Farms, shops, homes — no single label will fit the lifestyle of the community. But just take a day to watch life go by, and you just may be able to say you know Canton a little better.

Take any day, say Friday, May 18, 1991.....

12:01 a.m. — Cars swish through the puddles on Ford Road. The air is heavy after an early evening thunderstorm.

12:14 — The whiskey-and-cigarette growl of Kenny Rogers fills the Rusty Nail Saloon. Glasses sweat and there's not an empty stool at the bar as John Johnson serves the crowd.

12:28 — Sprinkles begin to fall again, but end just as quickly.

12:46 — The soft pink and purple neon glow of Canton Rental's sign is the only light on Canton Center for a quarter mile.

1:04 — Bruce Nelson serves last call and tells bad jokes to the stragglers at Kenny's.

1:11 — The giant American flag ripples limply in front of BJ's Bowery on Ford.

1:15 — Just two tenths of a mile south of Ford on Lotz Road, crickets chirp and frogs croak.

Slowly, Canton stirs itself awake

1:32 -- Tires hum as trucks roll south on I-275 under the Cherry Hill bridge.

1:35 -- Red and blue lights stab the night in front of Village Green Apartments as officers from three Canton Police cars arrest a man for carrying a concealed weapon and possible narcotics possession.

2:06 -- Sherry Fondaw, night clerk at the Country Hearth Inn on Michigan Avenue, says the businessmen are asleep but any second now the bar crowd will roll in with their dates.

2:15 -- Four pickup trucks are still parked at Lucille's while the last few cowboys dawdle.

2:21 -- A lone customer, dressed in black jeans, boots, and a T-shirt, buys a pack of smokes at the Hop-In at Michigan and Canton Center.

2:33 -- There's plenty of graffiti but no ghosts on the Denton Bridge.

2:37 -- The damp air glows orange for miles around the Meijer parking lot lights.

2:40 -- It's 64 degrees at Standard Federal on Ford.

2:46 -- The stream of cars in the White Castle drive thru is steady but not constant.

2:49 -- A jet roars overhead taking off from Metro. It is invisible in the low clouds.

3:01 -- Rain spatters the pavement in earnest.

Ryan Johnson hits the books in the Canton Library.

3:27 -- Amber lights flash on the construction signs at Lilley and Palmer.

3:42 -- Diesels murmur idly as 16 trucks sit at the I-275 rest stop.

3:58 -- Char Jenkins at the Donut

Scene tells Bob and a Canton police dispatcher on break how she's going to join the Navy. The dispatcher answers but Bob's not talking while the flavor lasts.

4:11 -- The rain stops, leaving the air just as muggy and damp as before.

4:32 -- Yellow lights blink out of sequence over Sheldon at Hanford and Warren.

4:37 -- Birds awake along Joy Road.

4:44 -- Stoney Brooke apartments are still dark.

4:46 -- A blue beacon sweeps the sky over Mettetal Airport.

4:51 -- It looks like the crew is resting at Fire Station No. 2.

4:56 -- Easy rock plays for the stockers and maintenance crew at Kroger's.

5:22 -- An 18-wheeler's diesel engine rumbles as the truck moves east on Joy then north on Haggerty.

5:46 -- A woman in rain gear walks her dog north on Sheldon.

6:07 -- Coffee steams and country and western music plays softly as Canton Cafe customers wait for Mary Hicks to serve eggs and hash, or biscuits and gravy.

6:36 -- The sky turns from midnight blue to battleship gray -- there is no rosy dawn this morning.

6:41 -- Look out for the day shifters on Michigan Avenue, they're making up lost time.

With daylight comes the hustle, bustle -- and traffic

6:55 -- The first buses unload their young cargo at the Centennial Educational Park.

7:07 -- Hop In does a steady business. Customers wear suits and ties now.

7:32 -- The trees are heavy with rain along Van Born Road.

8:03 -- A man runs north along Canton Center at a pretty good clip.

8:54 -- Sunlight filters through the leafy canopy over Napier.

9:06 -- High tension wires hum and crackle above Napier Road.

9:23 -- Sue LaPrairie plants vinca, baby mums, and alyssum in Wagon Wheel Mobile Home Park.

9:35 -- "Welcome to North Spoon. Field strip your cigarettes," reads the sign in a yard along Beck.

9:48 -- Township workers Greg Pyle, Scott Baker, and Ken Kunka "work real hard" at picking up trash along Beck.

9:59 -- Craig and Dianna Bradley stretch before their three mile walk at the Canton Recreation Complex.

10:04 -- John McDermott works on his car in Griffin Park. "It looks like the seventh Fetzer valve is stuck," he says.

10:06 -- It's 67 degrees at Standard Federal.

10:17 -- A street cleaner moves westbound on Van Born at Lotz.

10:28 -- Three Waste Management drivers talk shop in the parking lot at Jonathan's Family Restaurant, then one heads into Dawn Donuts next door.

10:35 -- A Michigan Bell repairman works on a switch box on Hannan.

10:43 -- Lesley Parker directs traffic at the entrance to the Waste Management landfill on Van Born.

10:54 -- Bob Kabian finishes nine at Fellows Creek Golf Club.

11:08 -- Anthony Gizicki delivers the mail in Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park.

11:34 -- A woman in pale green shorts and yellow top jogs west on Koppernick.

11:58 -- The lunchtime crowd chatters away at Mexican Fiesta.

12:46 p.m. -- A Detroit Edison crew works in the median at Michigan and Haggerty.

1:03 -- Sunlight is burning off the mugginess, now it's just hot.

1:17 -- Two sweaty cyclists stop for a Big Gulp at 7-11.

1:48 -- A rabbit darts across Warren Road west of Beck.

2:10 -- Acrid diesel smoke fills the air as a bulldozer grades the parking lot at UAW Local 845.

Lesley Parker mans his post at the entrance to Waste Management.

Challenge Fest May 24-June 2

Accept The Canton Challenge

The last weekend in May and the first weekend in June begin to take on added significance with the development of a Canton Challenge Festival, designed to showcase Canton as a community that cares about family, fun and fitness.

Events and activities are scheduled throughout the community, each providing an opportunity for people and families to join together in a spirit of community.

The activities kick off over the Memorial Day weekend with the annual Canton Soccer Festival bringing over 5,000 people to the community from throughout the Mid West. The highlight of the weekend for Canton families is the fireworks held at the Canton Recreational Complex, on Canton Center Road, just South of Cherry Hill, Saturday, May 25.

Throughout the week, activities are held highlighting various aspects of Canton life, ranging from concern for the homeless and hungry, recognizing local educational efforts with a scholarship reception.

The first weekend in June provides families with an opportunity to explore the recreation complex, take their children fishing, or watch the world champion kite flyers. The list goes on and on... but without a doubt the weekend is one that has something for everyone.

Take a few minutes and study the schedule of activities. We hope you will agree that Canton is a community that has pride in our people, our neighborhoods, and our spirit. Enjoy the Challenge!

Bittinger/Remax Realty Youth Fitness Field Day

One of the largest spectator events of the Festival is the Youth Fitness Field Day, Saturday, June 1st, sponsored for the third year by Lee and Noel Bittinger or Remax Realty. The Youth Fitness Day is for all children involved in the 4th and 5th grades. In 1990 over 400 children participated in one of over 1,000 parents and friends.

The day begins at 1 o'clock at the Centennial Educational Park. Refreshments are available through the cooperation of the Canton Community Chamber of Commerce. Come out and cheer on a neighbor, friend, or your son and daughter. It makes for a great afternoon!

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY - JUNE 1 & 2 EVENTS AT THE RECREATION COMPLEX

FREE ENTERTAINMENT
 New this year is the entertainment complex tent. Every hour, on the hour, from 10 until 8 on Saturday and 1 until 5 PM on Sunday, entertainment or programs will be provided, sponsored by Fairfield Inn and The Subaru. Bar Association, Dennis Silverbury, President.

Activities already scheduled include: the Plymouth Concert Band, the Canton Kitchen Band, the Recreational (90 and 80's music), a Pet Show and Dentists.

In addition to the entertainment tent will be food available and a special seating section and information booth for those 65 and over that wish to learn more about Canton programs for senior citizens.

Make a point to stop by the entertainment activities tent when you first arrive at the Complex, check out what is happening and maybe even sit in for some fun.

Kites & Fun Things
 June 1
 Once again the Windmatters, National Champions will perform for your enjoyment. A kite workshop and the kite fly will take place from 10 AM until 5 PM. All other Windmatters will perform. Kite kits will be available to purchase for $3.00, or bring your own kit and win national champions by up to 27 Kites at one time.

Used Book Sale
 May 30, 31 - June 1, 2
 We are looking for more people to help with this good book sale. This is the place to be. The book sale will help raise funds for the Friends of the Library. The sale runs from Thursday, May 30 through Sunday, June 2 at the Canton Public Library. Buy a book and take a drive to the fishing pond to read a whole new world to you.

Public Safety Display
 June 1 & 2
 The Canton Public Safety Department will have a full display of their fleet including: Police cars and ambulances, emergency medical vans.

Fire Safety House
 June 1 & 2
 Canton Township has recently purchased a Fire House. This building provides children the opportunity to experience being in a house full of smoke and fire. They learn the proper way to exit a building and how to handle a fire emergency. Plan to bring your children to the display. It may be a valuable lesson.

WaterBall Competition
 June 1
 Join the Canton Community in holding a waterball competition. This year is no exception. On Saturday, June 1, five departments from throughout the area will compete by trying to hook a water ball from one end of a court to the other using a fire hose. From 9:00 until 2:00 the teams will practice, and at 2:00 the competition begins in earnest.

Photo Contest
 Daily
 F.A.M.E. is the sponsor of this year's Photo Contest. Stop by the entertainment tent to see all the entries and the award winners.

Gospel Song Fest
 May 31 - First Baptist Church
 The second annual Gospel Song Fest is scheduled for Friday, May 31st, beginning at 7:30 PM. The host church is the First Baptist Church of Canton, at Cherry Hill and Sheldon roads. There is no charge for admission. Check with your pastor and ask if your church choir is performing, and even if they are not, come on out and enjoy an uplifting night.

Tennis Tournament
 May 31-June 2 - High School
 The tennis courts at Plymouth-Canton High School will be the location for this year's Tennis Tournament, to be held on Friday, May 31, Saturday, June 1, and Sunday, June 2. The event is one that requests you to pre register by calling the Parks and Recreation Department, 397-5110.

7% Solution
 May 27 - Various Restaurants
 On Monday, May 27th, Canton restaurants are being asked to donate 7% of their income to area charities. It is estimated that 7% of the population goes to restaurants each night. Each participating restaurant will have a sign in the window announcing that they are a 7% supporter. If you see a sign, say thank you. If you don't see one, ask if they will participate next year.

Fireworks
 May 25
 Saturday - Dusk
 Recreation Complex
 Once again the Festival committee is providing fireworks on Saturday, May 25th. The fireworks, sponsored by the Canton Township Board of Trustees, will be displayed behind Canton Township Hall at the Recreation Complex. Families may want to plan a picnic for friends and neighbors. The fireworks are scheduled to go off at dusk.

Scholarships
 May 28 - Village Green
 Three organizations are coming together to present over $6,000 in scholarships to Canton residents. The Canton Community Foundation, the Canton Business and Professional Women, and the Canton Community Chamber of Commerce will present these scholarships at a special reception to be held at the Village Green Club House. The event is open to the public, refreshments will be served.

Soccer Tournament Highlights 1st Weekend

The Challenge Fest is centered around the successful Canton Soccer Festival which will bring over 5,000 fans throughout the Mid West over the Memorial Day Weekend. The Soccer Festival has helped provide funds to construct and maintain soccer fields throughout the community.

Canton has a heritage rich in soccer tradition. All of us in Canton salute the Canton Soccer Club and say "Thank you" for a job well done over the past 10 years. It was only natural that a community wide Festival be developed around the tournament that stresses family, fun and fitness.

Recreation Complex Focus of 2nd Weekend

As the Challenge Fest continues to grow, so too does the number and quality of activities being offered at the Canton Recreational Complex. The 55 acre development is home to 4 soccer fields, 3 baseball diamonds, the Canton Historical Museum, pavilion and fishing pond. Soon the complex will include an amphitheater, mini sledding hill, sand volleyball court and adventure playground. But during the first weekend in June it is transformed into the focus of the Canton Challenge Festival.

Families bring their children to fish in the stocked pond, stroll over and watch the World Champion kite flying Wild jammers, take a tour of the newly purchased Safety House, watch the remote control car races, purchase books at the Used Book Sale, or visit the entertainment and activity tent.

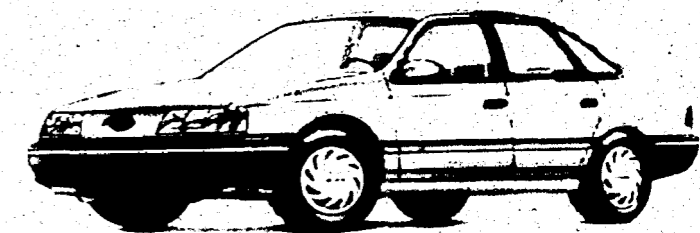

New this year is the entertainment tent, which will include concerts by the Plymouth Concert Band, Canton's own Rockabilly the Canton Kitchen Band, or watch dancers from a number of local dance studios.

As if the Recreation Complex activities are not enough, there is the Youth Fitness Day, where over 400 students last year competed in a variety of track and field events at the Centennial Educational Park. Or, if you have a mind to do so, you could enter the Tennis Tournament of the Jr. Golf Tournament.

Over 300 people last year attended the gospel song a long at the First Baptist Church of Canton. This year over 15 groups have already registered to perform. Better get there early this year!

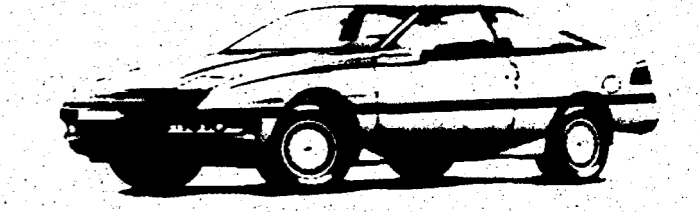

No matter what venue you select, we hope that you come and join with the feeling that Canton is your community, and that you shared your pride with your neighbors in an exciting weekend.

Challenge Fest adds new events

BY JIM WHITE

When the first soccer games get going Friday, Canton will kick off its third annual Challenge Festival, a 10 day extravaganza of activities, food, and family fun.

Over 200 soccer teams and over 5,000 spectators from across the Midwest will come to Canton for this weekend's Soccer Festival. Now in its eighth year, the fest has become a hugely successful and popular tournament.

The Challenge Fest grew out of the soccer tourney, and has itself expanded every year. Highlights of this year's new activities include Northville Appreciation Night and an entertainment tent.

"Each year, we would like to acknowledge one of our neighbor communities at a special reception," said Bill Joyner, a member of the fest organizing committee. This year, Northville will be recognized on May 31.

From 6-9 p.m., refreshments will be served and the band Rockstalgia will provide '50s and '60s music in the entertainment tent at the Canton Recreation Complex.

The event is by invitation only or by tickets available from homeowner association presidents. Canton residents wishing to meet Northville government and Chamber of Commerce leaders should call their association president or Canton Supervisor Tom Yack's office at 397-5380.

The entertainment tent will be at the center of activities in the Canton Recreation Complex June 1-2, the second weekend of the fest.

Every hour on the hour, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. June 1 and from 1-5 p.m. June 2, there will be entertainment or programs sponsored by Fairfield Inn and by the Suburban Bar Association.

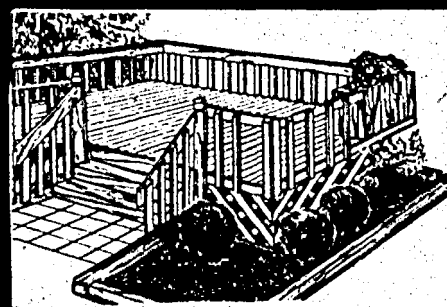

Rockstalgia, the Plymouth Concert Band, the Canton Kitchen Band, and dancers from local studios will perform. There will also be a pet show and a chili cookoff.

The sky over the Canton Recreation Complex will explode in color again this Saturday night.

Fireworks light up first weekend

Seniors will be able to get information about Canton senior programs in the tent. There will also be Mexican food, ice cream, hot dogs, and soft drinks.

People attending the activities in the rec complex June 1 and 2 must park (for free) in the lot off of Proctor Road west of Canton Center.

The tent will be up for all 10 days of the fest. Festival goers may stop by and register for a $1,000 shopping spree, courtesy of Woodland Meadows Recycling. The drawing will take place at the Bowl for Charity June 2.

Popular events from last year brought back this year include the Gospel Song Fest May 31; the Pat-Danna One-on-One Basketball June 1, the Windjammers champion kite flyers June 1, the Friends of the Canton Library Used Book Sale May 31-June 2, and the Fishing Derby June 1-2.

Festival organizers are promising the biggest and best fireworks show yet for this year's fest. The display, put on by Liberty Fireworks and Burda Brothers, begins at dusk Saturday at the rec complex.

Other sponsors for Challenge Fest events include: Canton Parks and Recreation Services, Frame Works, Feed Rite Pet Supply, Oakwood Hospital, and Elias Brothers Big Boy, which paid for the fest newsletters sent to each Canton residence.

The Festival organizing committee includes: Joyner, Wally Baker, Bruce Patterson, Russ Courville, Cathy Johnson, Kelly Baldrice, Kathleen McCarthy, Cindy Burgess, Don Voyles, John Schwartz, and Phil LaJoy.

For more information on any of the events, call the fest hotline at 454-5428 or Canton Parks and Recreation at 397-5110.

Soccer draws a crowd

Kicking off the Challenge Fest again this year will be the Canton Soccer Festival.

Now in its eighth year, the tournament will bring in over 200 teams from across the Midwest during the Memorial Day weekend (May 24-27).

Games will be played at various fields throughout Canton. The Canton Soccer Club has used proceeds from the soccer fest to construct and maintain Canton's fields in tip-top shape.

For more information, call Jerry Parent at 1-800-441-6188.

Used book sale

Bibliophiles looking for a bargain will be in paradise.

Friends of the Canton Public Library will hold a used book sale from May 30 to June 2. Take time out from the madding crowd to browse through the selection.

Last year's sale raised over $10,000.

The sale will be held at the Canton Library. Call 454-5428 for more information.

Remote controllers

ESPN's Speed Week probably won't be there, but the Canton Recreation Complex will be the venue for some hotly-contested races June 1 and 2.

Remote control car enthusiasts will be "driving" on the dirt track June 1 and on the paved track June 2.

Registration both days is from 10 a.m. to noon and the racing starts at 1 p.m. There is a $10 entry fee, except Canton Radio Control Club members may race on June 1 for $8.

There will be trophies for first, second, and third place in all events.

For more information, call Bret Martin at 981-8700 (Rider's Hobby).

The Flying Pilgrims will also put on a remote control airplane show June 1 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. About 50 to 70 planes will fill the air over the field at Van Born and Lilley roads. The rain date is June 2.

Gospel Fest returns

Come hear voices uplifted in song at the second annual Gospel Song Fest.

The concert will be held May 31 at the First Baptist Church of Canton, Cherry Hill and Sheldon roads, beginning at 7:30.

Over 30 local choral groups are set to perform. There is no charge for admission.

Call 454-5428 for more information.

Youth Fitness Day at CEP

The Centennial Educational Park Track will be the venue June 1 when young athletes gather for the Bitteringer/Remax Realty Youth Fitness Field Day.

All children in fourth and fifth grades are eligible to participate in the various track and field events. Last year, over 400 children participated in front of over 1,000 parents and friends.

The day, sponsored by Lee and Noel Bitteringer of ReMax Realty, begins at 1 p.m. Refreshments will be provided by the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

For more information, call Canton Supervisor Tom Yack at 397-1000.

Golf, tennis balls will be bouncing

Golfers will be especially busy during the Challenge Fest.

Any duffer playing at Fellows Creek Golf Club between Saturday (May 25) and May 31 should check out the Closest to the Pin and Longest Drive competitions, sponsored by Las Vegas Discount Golf and Tennis.

Then it will be a day for the youngsters out on the links June 2. Canton Parks and Recreation Services is holding its annual Junior Golf Tournament at Fellows Creek.

All golfers age 10-18 are welcome. There will be a nine hole tournament for 10-12-year-olds and 18 hole tournaments for 13-15-year-olds and 16-18-year-olds.

Awards will be given in all age groups. Tee times are from 11-11:50 a.m.

The entry fee is $10 for nine hole play, $15 for the 18 hole toursneys. Register at the parks and rec department, 1150 S. Canton Center by May 29. Call 397-5110 for more information.

Golf spelled backwards is flog, and if this is more your style, fest organizers have the event for you (though golfers are also welcome).

All day June 1 and June 2, there will be another Longest Drive contest at the Canton Recreation Complex. Competitors will drive three marshmallows for $1. Yes, marshmallows.

Safety dept. displays

Canton's finest are just a bunch of show-offs.

The Public Safety Department will have a full complement of safety vehicles on hand for festival goers to check out June 1 and 2.

Fire engines, police cars, and ambulance/emergency medical vans will be parked in front of the police station on Canton Center Road.

The Canton firefighters will be one of seven local fire departments in this year's waterball competition. On June 1, department teams will try to knock a volleyball from one end of a court to the other using a fire hose.

Practice starts at noon and the competition begins at 2 p.m.

Catch the big one at derby

A bad day fishing beats a good day at work, they say.

The annual Canton Parks and Recreation Fishing Derby is always one of the Challenge Fest's most popular events.

Canton residents age four to 15 are eligible. Prizes -- including a $100 U.S. savings bond for first -- will go to the boys and girls who catch the three largest fish.

The derby will take place at the Canton Recreation Complex pond from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 1 and from noon to 4 p.m. June 2. The pond will be stocked with over 2,000 rainbow trout. Anglers must bring their own gear.

To register, call the parks and rec. department at 397-5110 before May 30. Fishing licenses cost $1.

Tennis enthusiasts get ready, May 31 through June 2 are your days.

Canton Parks and Recreation Services is sponsoring a singles tennis tournament at the Centennial Educational Park courts. Depending on the size of the field, some matches may be played at Griffin Park.

All area players are welcome. The format is single elimination. Awards will be given to winners and runners up in each of several age groups.

Register in person at the Canton parks and rec department, 1150 S. Canton Center, by May 29. The entry fee is $6, plus each player must have one can of USTA approved tennis balls.

All participants should call the parks and rec department (397-5110) May 30 between 1-5 p.m. for their match time.

Have kite, will fly

The Windjammers, one of last year's festival crowd pleasers, are back for an encore performance June 1.

The national champion kite flying team will perform at the Canton Recreation Complex at noon. A show highlight includes flying 27 kites at one time.

A kite workshop and open kite flying will also take place from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Kite kits will be available for $2 apiece or bring your own and learn tips from the experts.

Call 454-5428 for more information.

Hoopster heaven

Charity will be the big winner June 2 when bowlers come out for a good cause.

SuperBowl will be the site for Bowling for Charity. The entire complex will be available for families, scouting groups, neighborhood associations -- anyone -- to bowl from 3-5 p.m.

For $5, a person may bowl three games and the total proceeds will go to the Canton Community Foundation Human Service Program.

There will be plenty of door prizes, gifts, and fun for all.

To reserve a lane, call 454-5427.

Bowl for charity

Hot hoops action will take place at Hoben Elementary School June 1, thanks to Danna Financial Services.

The Pat Danna One-on-One Basketball tourney gets underway at 9 a.m. Players will be divided into the following age groups: 11 and under, 12-13, 14-15, 16-17, 18-35, and 36 and over.

To register, call the Canton Parks and Recreation Department at 397-5110.

Geake gives support to Greenbrook

BY JIM WHITE

Canton residents trying to switch school districts have gotten some support from Lansing. But not yet from the Michigan Board of Education, where they need it most.

The request by Canton's Greenbrook subdivision to transfer from the Wayne-Westland Schools to the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools District has drawn support from State Senator R. Robert Geake.

In a letter responding to Greenbrook residents, Geake said, "I would like to see not only your subdivision but all of the Canton Township area become a part of the Plymouth-Canton Schools

District."

Greenbrook residents have taken their case to the state board of education, where it may go through an appeals process for six months to a year. Their request to transfer was denied May 1 by the Wayne County Regional Educational Service Agency.

A second Canton sub, River Park, will make the same request to RESA at a hearing May 30.

In the letter to Greenbrook, Geake said he agreed with residents that it would be more logical for Canton students to attend Plymouth-Canton schools.

"As a member of the Plymouth-

Canton Schools District you would pay less property taxes, be assured of a full school program at all school levels and have your children attend school in the community where they live," Geake said.

"This would help promote strong school-community spirit and a cleaner sense of identity for everyone."

However, Geake added that as state senator, he has no direct voice in the matter.

Marcia Hess, of Greenbrook, said Monday that letters had been sent to several officials in Lansing but that only Geake responded.

"It's good to get his support but he showed he can't really do anything," Hess said.

Geake himself said Monday that changing school boundaries was not "ordinarily done by legislative process."

He said the problems caused by the present boundaries are a result of different historical trends.

"When settlers came west up Michigan Avenue they identified with Westland," Geake said. "Wayne-Westland Schools consolidated several small rural districts whose boundaries

WHO

WHY PEOPLE DON'T GO TO THE DENTIST

- They had a painful experience
- They are concerned about cost
- It's been so long that there is probably not much that can be done to save their teeth.
- They have more important things on which to spend their money.
- They've been thinking about it
- The pain will go away by itself
- They can't justify spending money on themselves at this point in life

Do any of these sound familiar? Dentist hear these all the time, but the truth is that dental problems snowball. When a regular preventive routine is not maintained, simple problems grow. If you find yourself described in the reasons above, give today's dentistry a second chance. Find an office that is gentle and careful and listens to your concerns. GET ON TRACK AND STAY THERE! There are no valid reasons to neglect your teeth and lots of long lasting reasons to go back to the dentist.

During his active years Brandy performed at Mott hospital monthly for up to three and a half hours, brightening the lives of many children especially. In 1987 he was the hospital's "calendar boy."

Less than three years ago Brandy began to show sign of failing eyesight and progressive hearing loss. The Mounts turned to a veterinarian at Colorado State University who outfitted Brandy with a hearing aid.

With hearing aid in place Brandy continued to offer his services gladly, said the Mounts, bringing just a little bit more joy to a world beset by all kinds of problems.

"In his suffering Brandy remained still loving, trusting, loyal, faithful, obedient, our precious every month, uniquely special in so many ways, and the greatest joy and delight we have ever known," said the Mounts. So long, Brandy.

Rec work starts

The earth will soon move in the Canton Recreation Complex.

Canton's Board of Trustees last Tuesday awarded bids totalling more than $900,000 for construction of phases III and IV of the complex behind Township Hall. Consultant fees will push the total cost closer to $1.1 million.

DeAngelis Landscaping will begin moving dirt in the next few weeks. R.D. Holley Construction will also be involved in the work.

The first step in construction will include moving tons of earth to create a sledding hill, an amphitheater, and a fishing pond.

"It wasn't until much later when there was a greater population in north Canton that Canton was drawn to the Plymouth school district," he said.

The current southern boundary of the Plymouth-Canton district runs roughly between Palmer and Michigan Avenue. Residents of Canton south of the line either attend Wayne-Westland schools or Van Buren schools.

SHOULD PATIENTS WORRY ABOUT DENTAL AMALGAM FILLINGS?

After much discussion about the safety and possible side effects of dental amalgam, the Food and Drug Administration issued a notice saying patients should not ask their doctors to remove dental amalgam. This came after an advisory panel determined that there is no valid data to demonstrate clinical harm to patients from amalgams, or that having them removed will prevent disease or change the course of any existing disease.

The Public Health Service reiterated these findings by approving a statement that said, "there is no data that would compel a change in the current use of dental amalgams."

The long standing use of amalgam is still the preferred choice for filling decay as it has proven over the years to be the most stable, least expensive, and longest lasting alternative. Further research is being conducted on this topic, but in the meantime, the FDA does not advise that individuals ask dentists to remove their amalgams.

So in answer to the question of whether or not patients should have concern about dental amalgam fillings, the response is NO.

Plymouth Dental Associates provides these columns to answer topical questions on dental health. If you have any questions or would like further information on this or other topics of interest, please call our office.

Eye glasses for the needy

Lambert-Vermeulen Funeral Home is helping to lead a "New Eyes for the Needy" campaign, which recycles old eyeglasses for those who can't afford new ones.

The campaign, which lasts until June 16, is sponsored by the Trust 100 national funeral home network, Lambert-Vermeulen, 46401 Ann Arbor Rd. in Plymouth Township, is a member.

People are urged to bring old metal and plastic frame glasses to Lambert-Vermeulen, other Trust 100 funeral homes, or participating churches.

Non-prescription sunglasses, cataract glasses, soft cases, and precious metal scrap (old watches, jewelry, cuff links, and silverware) are also accepted.

The program benefits people here as well as in foreign countries.

Metal frame glasses and metal scrap from other items will be sold to refineries, with proceeds going to purchase new glasses for people in the United States. Simple lenses in plastic frames will go to medical missions worldwide.

Salem kickers win on penalty shots

BY RITA DERBIN

The Canton soccer team ran into a brick wall Monday night in a cross campus showdown with the Rocks in the districts. The Chiefs season ended at 11-5-1 as they fell to the Rocks, 1-0, in a game decided by penalty shots after a scoreless standoff in regulation.

"It was a very good ball game," said Canton coach Don Smith. "We had no reason to hang our heads -- the girls played excellent soccer.

"Both teams had excellent opportunities but the key is to get the ball in the net and we couldn't do it,"

Smith added. "We had Salem on the ropes at times and thought we had them but they didn't want to lose either."

Leading the Chiefs in scoring this season was senior Ayana Nash, who had 12 goals and eight assists. Freshman Britta Anderson finished the season with nine goals and seven assists; Colleen Connell had seven goals and seven assists; Leah Hutko, five goals and three assists; Amy Tortora, five goals and eight assists; and Mandi Salin had six goals.

Thursday night Rocks freshman

Mackenzie Emmett scored the lone goal as Salem (12-1-1) defeated Canton, 1-0. The victory placed Salem in third place and Canton in fourth place in the conference. The same night Livonia Stevenson defeated Livonia Churchill, 1-0, for the conference title.

Last Monday, the Rocks tied top-ranked Livonia Stevenson, 0-0 in defensive game.

"The defense played well," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. "We had our chances and could have beaten Stevenson but we played well."

On the other side of the coin, the Chiefs (11-4-1) were scoring at will against Farmington Harrison in 10-0 victory.

Scoring were Ayana Nash, Laurie McNamara, Denise Koontz, Danielle Meyka, Leah Hutko, Colleen Connell, Jori Welchans, Kathy Bahr, Amy Westerhold and Mandi Salin. Assists Christine Stansell and Amy Tortora each had two assists. Other assists went to Nash and Hutko.

Last Saturday the Chiefs downed Midland Dow, 3-0. Scoring for Canton were Nash, Britta Anderson and Salin.

Sports

First in tennis Chiefs take title

BY RITA DERBIN

The Chiefs won their fourth straight Western Lakes Activities Association title last Wednesday but couldn't sneak into the state meet Friday. The Canton tennis squad finished third at the regionals in Ann Arbor and only the top two teams advance.

"I had a great bunch of kids to work with this year," said coach Jim Hayes.

"Right now I think the kids are going to enjoy a few days away from me... it got tense at the end of season with all the matches."

Conference champions on the Canton squad include two singles Rod Jesena, who defeated Salem's Jason Grimm 6-2, 7-5 in the finals; Shawn Hart at four singles, who defeated Nabir Kahn from Livonia Churchill 6-3, 6-2; two doubles Dan Rosario and Stu Levanback, who defeated Estes and Machnian from Churchill 6-2, 6-3; and Mike Donhost and Eric Baden, who defeated Salem's Dave Bell and Javier Angulo 7-6, 5-7, 6-3, at three doubles.

Jeff Fuerst, who replaced injured Brian Schmid at one singles lost to Greg Gill, from Walled Lake Central, 6-1, 6-0. Scott Jones lost to Salem's K.C. Kirkpatrick in the semi finals at three singles 6-4, 6-0; and one doubles Adam Majewski and Joe Binder lost to Salem's Mike Mulder and Jeff Rearick in the finals 6-2, 5-7, 6-2.

Summer hockey begins at center

Summer hockey is coming to the Cultural Center.

The MSHL Metro Summer Hockey League, entering its ninth season in Plymouth, will begin June 27 and run through the championship game Aug. 7.

The league will be split into two tiers. Tier A will have eight teams and play most of its games at the Cultural Center. Tier B will have four or five teams depending on interest and play in Westland. All teams are guaranteed an 11-game season plus one playoff game.

A.J. Baker, assisted by Alan Carnes and Tom Yockey, will run the full-contact, full-check hockey league which is open to players 15 years (Bantam) and older.

Interested individuals can pick up registration forms at the Cultural Center or contact Baker at 534-5676 before May 25.

Boys soccer

A soccer sign up meeting is scheduled for Friday, May 31. The meeting is for all interested Salem High School boys who will be in ninth through 12th grade in the fall. Salem coach Ken Johnson will discuss varsity soccer at the meeting, which begins at 6 p.m. in room 2703 at Salem.

School to hold physicals

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools pre-participation physicals will be June 6 at 6 p.m. at Salem upper commons.

A $12 fee will be charged for physicals for students wishing to participate in school sports, with 75 percent of the fee going toward the purchase of non-expendable sports medicine supplies to improve student-athlete care throughout the year.

The fee, along with a registration form, can be dropped off at the participant's school athletic office. A health history questionnaire will given to the athlete to be filled out and signed by a parent or guardian prior to the physical.

Baseball team at 18-5

Canton wins division

BY RITA DERBIN

The Chiefs are getting into the swing of things on the baseball field.

Monday afternoon the Canton baseball team improved its record to 18-5 with a 13-3 victory over Farmington Harrison.

Frank Learned (4-1) pitched the first five innings for the win and Scott Kennedy finished the game, striking out five in two innings.

On Saturday, the Chiefs' Scott Kennedy (8-2), who relieved starter Dan Conrad in the fifth inning, took the win as Canton downed Adrian, 7-5, in the first game of a doubleheader. In the second game, Kennedy started and took the win in a 17-1 pouncing of Redford Union.

Last Monday the Chiefs clinched the Western division title with a 6-0 victory over Northville and will play for the Western Lakes Activities Association championship Tuesday (May 28) against Westland John Glenn.

Canton will host Romulus tomorrow in pre-district action at 4 p.m. Saturday the Chiefs will host Belleville in a doubleheader beginning at noon.

Lions offer football camp

Youths interested in playing junior football in the fall can attend a non-contact instructional football camp sponsored by the Canton Lions Football Club.

The camp is planned for Friday and Saturday (June 21-22) and is open to youths ages seven through 14.

Participants in the instructional camp will receive a t-shirt and a daily lunch will be provided.

The cost for the camp is $15. For more information call Debby at 397-1720 or Cindy at 981-4856.

Softball record now 17-3 Canton buries Farmington

BY RITA DERBIN

The Chiefs pounded Farmington in softball action Monday, 12-0. They are now 17-3 overall and 8-2 in the league.

Shannon Murphy (4-1) struck out two, walked one and gave up one hit as the Chiefs won the division matchup. Kelly Holmes, who has a 13-2 record, pitched the final three innings for the save striking out four, walked three and did not give up a hit.

"I just wanted to work both of them," said Canton coach Jim Arnold, who was able to play his whole team in the game.

Sarah Schimmelpfenneg hit her first home run, a two-run blast. Esther Buzuvis also had two RBI for the day.

Tomorrow the Chiefs will host Romulus in pre-district play.

"We have to get in focus and go right at them," said Arnold. "We didn't get as many hits against Harrison as I would have liked."

Across campus, the Rocks downed Farmington on Monday, 15-9. Emily Giuliani powered the Salem squad when she became only the fourth player to hit a home run over the Salem fence. Jenny Garvey won the game to improve the Rocks' record to 6-19.

Saturday the Rocks lost three at the Allen Park Invitational. The Rocks committed nine errors in the first game and lost to Monroe Jefferson, 12-6, with Garvey getting the loss.

In the second game, Andrea Welling started and was relieved by Garvey who took the loss as the Rocks lost to Allen Park, 9-8. In the third game, Salem fell to Farmington Mercy, 7-1. Chris Schroeder took the loss.

Earlier in the week, the Rocks lost a heartbreaker Thursday in extra innings to Ann Arbor Huron in the pre-districts, 4-3.

The game was scoreless until Huron picked up two runs off Salem pitcher Jenny Garvey in the bottom of the sixth inning. The Rocks bounced back, however, and rallied for a 3-2 lead in the top of seventh.

Emily Giuliani walked to start the rally and advanced when Stephanie Beech singled. Giuliani scored on a single by Dawn Marocco, and Beech and Marocco scored when Amber Trobeta hit a fly ball to the outfield that was dropped. Garvey, who coach Rob Willette said, "pitched the best game of the year," took the loss when Huron, which tied the game in the bottom of the seventh, scored in the bottom of eighth to win.

Rock diamondmen 2nd

BY RITA DERBIN

Jeff Belisle (3-0) struck out 14 as the Salem baseball team (19-4) defeated Farmington, 6-0. Scott Niemiec had three hits at the plate to lead the Rocks.

The victory was not enough to clinch the Lakes division, however. Salem finished second with an 8-2 record to Westland John Glenn, which held a 9-1 division record.

On Saturday, the Rocks won two against Redford Union and Adrian. Against Redford Union, Chris Tomas (3-1) won the game and got offensive support from senior catcher Nate Williams, who had two hits; and juniors Dan Hutchinson and Chip Wadowski who each contributed two hits.

In the nightcap, Salem defeated Adrian, 5-4. Hutchinson got the win and Eric Nielson pitched the sixth and seventh innings for his third save.

On Thursday, Scott Rodgers struck out 10 enroute to a 6-4 win over Ann Arbor Huron in the pre-districts. The Rocks jumped out to a 5-0 lead but Huron battled back with four runs to make the score 5-4 after six. Salem added an insurance run in the top of the seventh to make the final, 6-4.

Scott Niemiec hit his second home run of the year in the game and Ed Gundry added a solo homer and two singles. Also getting two hits in the game were Tom Davey and Belisle.

Last Monday the Rocks defeated Walled Lake Western, 6-5. Scott Rodgers won the game and Chris Tomas struck out two in the bottom of the seventh to preserve the victory and get the save.

Tomorrow the Rocks will host Ypsilanti in the districts at 4 p.m. They will then host Detroit Catholic Central Saturday in a doubleheader beginning at 11 a.m.

Girl tracksters make state

BY RITA DERBIN

The Centennial Educational Park girls track teams will be well represented at the state meet June 1.

The Chiefs finished third with 65.5 points and qualified in five events at the regionals in Novi. Ann Arbor Pioneer won the meet with 162 points Brighton (70 points) was second. Finishing sixth with 30 points were the Rocks. The Salem squad qualified two girls for the state meet.

Aleah Collier was the lone Canton regional champion. She was first in the shotput with a throw of 36-9. Other field event state qualifiers include Stephanie Gray's five-foot high jump, which was good for second place; and Selena Bastine, who finished third with a qualifying throw of 108-5 in the discus.

In the track events, finishing second and qualifying for state were the 3,200-meter relay of Kim Gudeth, Christie Saffron, Lana Boroditsch and Amy Smith (9:51.7). Also finishing second and qualifying for the state meet was the 1,600-meter relay of Saffron, Smith, Ndu Okwumabua and Gudeth (4:13.3).

"I thought it was a great meet," said Canton coach George Przygodski. "The competition was excellent and the kids rose to the occasion and competed well."

For Salem, sophomore Tonya Wheeler qualified for state by finishing second in the 400-meter dash (1:00.5); and junior Theresa Giachero finished in a four-way tie for third place (47.76), which was good enough to qualify.

"In Tonya's case it was a lot of hard work beginning Jan. 1 that paid off -- she's knocked off five seconds of her time in the 400-meter dash," said Salem coach Mark Gregor.

Gregor said Giachero was motivated in the 300-meter hurdles after a disappointing in the 100-meter hurdles.

"She didn't look that good the first 200 meters but she ran great that last 100 meters and had a great finish to qualify herself."

Finishing third for the Rocks and missing the state cut by .15 was the 1,600-meter relay of Stacey Witthoff, Lynda Sebestyen, Tracey Livermore and Wheeler (4:15.85). In fourth place was the 3,200-meter relay of Witthoff, Jill Czapliski, Corey Gulkewicz and Kristin Barnhardt (10:46.5).

The Western Lakes Activities Association conference meet will be today at Farmington beginning at 1 p.m. The two teams will then participate in the Ypsilanti Lady Braves Relays on Friday.

Chief linksters finish at 7-0, win title

BY RITA DERBIN

The Centennial Educational Park girls golf season is over but not before the Canton squad set a standard for the teams to come.

The Chiefs finished their dual meet season with a 7-0 and capped the season off with the Western Lakes conference title last Wednesday.

Canton came from behind after nine holes to beat the eight-team field with an 18-hole score of 422. Northville was second (434) and Livonia Stevenson was third (454). Livonia Franklin finished fourth (475), Walled Lake Western, fifth (492) and Salem was sixth (519). Walled Lake Central was seventh and Livonia Churchill finished eighth (587).

"The girls went after it -- they were ready to go on Wednesday and played great," said Canton coach Dan Riggs. "After nine holes my girls checked out the score and knew what they had to do to win and did it."

The Canton squad was 10 strokes back of Stevenson and five strokes behind Northville at the halfway mark.

Stevenson's Meghan Johnson was the tournament medalist, shooting 88 for the day.

Canton's top four golfers throughout the season made the all conference squad. Seniors Sarah Beckman, Kerri Kittleson and Katie Konovaliv were all conference, along with sophomore Audrey Meissner.

For Salem, senior captain Elizabeth Koehl was an all conference selection.

Rounding out the conference squad were Wendy Ayres from Stevenson; Laura Banion from Walled Lake Central; Kristen and Kelli Woodsum from Northville; and Tracy Garton from Walled Lake Western.

"We were pleased with our sixth place," said Salem coach Jim Stevens, whose squad went 2-5 during the regular season and look forward to next year when many girls will return. "Elizabeth Koehl was out captain and probably the most valuable girl on the team."

"She did a nice job leading this team," Stevens added.

Saturday Canton finished sixth at the regionals with a 416. Salem finished the day with a 524.

For the Chiefs, Beckman shot 100; Meissner, 104; Melissa Vernon and Konovaliv, 106 each; and Kittleson, 109.

There will be a pre-trial conference Friday (May 24) in front of Recorder's Court Judge Craig Strong before a trial date is set.

The six-year-old son testified yesterday that his father told him to have sexual intercourse with his sisters, now four and eight years old.

The incidents allegedly took place in the family's Canton home between November, 1989, and November, 1990.

During questioning, Thomas Howard, the defendant's attorney, painted a picture of a family involved in a messy divorce, of charges being made by the doctor's wife out of spite.

"I asked the question, 'Did mommy ever say if daddy left she would ruin him?'" said Howard after the exam. "That question will come up again if you follow this trial."

Howard described his client as "an outstanding surgeon in his specialty. There has been no hint of impropriety in his practice. Why? Because he's not divorcing his patients."

Howard pointed to the boy's testimony that he told his mother about the alleged incidents when she brought the subject up first.

"Since mother is mad at daddy, you are, too, aren't you?" Howard asked during questioning.

Prosecutor Nancy Diehl said after the exam that the boy gave very specific descriptions of what allegedly happened.

"He was not the first child to disclose what was going on," she said, "so of course the mother was upset. She took her children and moved out. I wish more of our mothers would react that way."

Diehl requested that the defendant be banned from treating children in his practice, due to the gravity of the charges. MacDonald ruled that he could not treat anyone under the age of 16.

The defendant is free on $10,000 cash bond. His wife and children have moved to an undisclosed location.

He is forbidden to have any contact with the children, including through the mail.

Bond vote date debated

days apart, she said. A special election is planned for the 10th County Commissioner district and the 36th State Representative district on Aug. 27, just 28 days prior to the school's projected date.

The closeness of the two dates may dictate the committee's final decision, and whether or not the committee approves the date is still an open question, said Sieminski.

"We're attempting to lock-up a date," Hoben told the board Monday.

Hoben added that the district's bond attorney did not agree with the county's initial negative reaction to the Sept. 24 date.

"Our bond attorney doesn't believe it to be true," said Hoben, that the Sept. 24 date is out of the question. "We have our own precincts, our own equipment."

The school district election will be reviewed by the scheduling committee next Wednesday (May 29). Tom Nordberg, the district's bond attorney, will present Plymouth-Canton's case at that meeting.

Several board members, notably Dave Artley and Roland Thomas, expressed concerns Monday about "rushing" into a bond this fall without having specific information for voters.

"I'm really concerned about the timing of this," said Artley, adding that it "strikes me as prudent to wait until January."

"I have no doubt that we need this," he added. "My concern is that if we go in September and it doesn't pass we won't be able to come back in January."

It was suggested Monday that if a Sept. 24 date is out of the question that the next most likely time for a vote would be in January 1992.

Thomas said that several residents had expressed concern about the voters being "pummeled" by elections this year.

"I'm concerned about potential apathy and overwhelming the voters by the number of elections this year," Thomas said. He too suggested

January as a likely bond date.

Thomas also said that details on a major part of the bond package as proposed -- the $12 million for an integrated technology system -- had not yet even been worked into a clear proposal.

"It may be September, October, November, before we know," he said. "I'd hate to lose a year on an elementary school, but I'm really struggling with this."

Hoben said a report on the integrated technology plan would be completed by the end of June.

Barton Malow consultants working on the bond said Monday that pushing back the bond vote three months to January would cause a year delay in the completion on any new elementary schools (two are proposed).

The Barton Malow representatives said an elementary school could be completed by the fall of 1993 if the bond were approved in September. The district's newest elementary, Hoben, will be the likely prototype.

Board member Lester Walker said he would like a full timetable of important dates from the consultants based upon elections in both September and January.

Board member Carl Battishill said he sensed from residents that the needs for the bond were "crucial" and that they want to "see this stuff happen soon."

Hoben said that the bond attorney also suggested increasing the bond request by more than $4 million to help cover "site acquisition" costs for future school facilities. Inflation will also be factored into the proposal, he said.

If approved by voters, the consultants said, the new bonds would be sold in two series and all of the work would be phased in accordingly.

Library decision based on capacity, needs

Continued from pg. 3 where we have limited time to meet the needs."

Most questions raised by residents of Plymouth, said Harper, focus on the parking situation at the library and whether or not the facility will stay downtown.

"Staying here is the most expensive alternative," Harper said. "But the feeling is to stay downtown."

The board has generally supported the notion of keeping the library downtown, but expansion on the current may not be possible without affecting the surrounding buildings and the city parking lot behind the Penn Theater.

Other sites in the downtown area may also be considered if it becomes obvious that the current building cannot be expanded.

"We're extremely sensitive to operating costs," said Harper. "We don't want to give the community something that is inherently expensive to run."

Harper said that the idea of a satellite library branch has also been considered, but is probably cost prohibitive. He said that an expanded library would cost more to operate than the current 13,700-square foot facility on Main Street.
