BUSINESS MEN HEAR BROOKS FLETCHER

ABOUT FORTY BUSINESS MEN AND OTHERS ENJOY SIX O'CLOCK DINNER AND HEAR NOTED LECTURER.

About forty business men and others partook of a six o'clock dinner at the Plymouth Hotel, last Saturday evening. The primary reason for the gathering was to hear a brief address by Thomas Brooks Fletcher, the lecturer for the Redpath Chautauque for that evening. After enjoying a most excellent dinner, F. D. Schrader, president of the Plymouth Improvement Association, in a few happy remarks introduced the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Fletcher prefaced his remarks by expressing his appreciation for the opportunity of speaking to our business men upon this occasion. He spoke along the line of community welfare and civic affairs. He urged a closer co-operation of the business men, and the necessity and importance of organized effort in all movements for the welfare of Plymouth. His remarks were filled with most helpful ideas, which if they were carried out would be of great benefit to the welfare and future progress of Plymouth. At the conclusion of his address he was given a hearty round of applause. It was greatly regretted that he could not have spoken longer. Mr. Fletcher is editor of the Marion, Ohio, Tribune, and an active member of the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

It was a pleasant and profitable occasion, and much credit is due to F. D. Schrader and Rev. Frank M. Field for its success. These get-together occasions for the business men are a fine thing and would rebound for great good if they could but happen oftener. Let's have another in the near future.

GIDEONS ARE COMING

DETROIT BUSINESS MEN TO SPEAK IN THE PLYMOUTH CHURCHES, SEPT. 5.

Arrangements are being perfected for a big day in Plymouth churches a week from next Sunday, with probably a union service addressed by representatives of the Gideons, the Christiana traveling salesman's organization.

Accompanying the speakers will be two highly trained specialists in music, E. J. Bellings, who has been musical director for W. E. Biederwolf, Clifford H. Lyon and Henry W. Stoughton, all evangelists of national reputation, and Norman Curtis, one of the greatest musical pianists in the country, and traveling for the past season with Henry W. Stoughton in the east. These men will put on five wire musical features in the service both morning and evening.

The speakers at the meetings will be George N. Baker, president of the Baker Body Corporation and vice president of the Gideons, and M. C. McLaughlin, another Detroit business man.

The party will also have special features for the Sunday-school sessions. Further announcement will be made in the churches Sunday, and in this paper next week.

PRIMARY ELECTION TUESDAY, AUGUST 31ST

A primary election will be held Tuesday, August 31st, in the city of Plymouth. The election will be held at the Plymouth Hotel. The election will be held at the Plymouth Hotel. The election will be held at the Plymouth Hotel.

YOUNG PLYMOUTH GIRL MISSING

LETTERS GO NATION WIDE IN SEARCH OF MARGUERITE HUGER OF THIS VILLAGE.

Marguerite Huger, the pretty 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Huger of this village, left her home, last week Thursday, in the company of Mrs. Belle Morey of Novi, an old friend of the family. Mrs. Morey drove down from Novi in an automobile, on her way to Detroit, and invited Marguerite to ride with her. As the girl had contemplated visiting an uncle, A. M. Wade, in the city, advantage was taken by her of this opportunity.

From certain circumstances the Huger family became suspicious that all was not right, and in the evening of that day, inquiries were made in Detroit, which developed that Marguerite had not arrived at the home of her uncle. A man known to the Huger family also left Plymouth the same day. This man is past 35 years of age, and said to have been married. It is said he possessed unusual psychic powers, and could easily have influenced a young person.

The Detroit police department was informed of the matter, as was also the prosecutor's and sheriff's offices, with the result that Mrs. Morey and her brother were called in and questioned. Mrs. Morey admitted that she had left the girl at the D. U. R. waiting room in the city on the Thursday evening in the company of the man above described. Since that time postal cards have been received by the Huger family, written by Marguerite, in which she says she is "well and happy." These postal cards were dated at Grand Rapids, but bore the Detroit postmark. It has developed that the cards were mailed in the city by a brother of Mrs. Morey, who also lives in Novi. It is believed, however, that these cards were written by the young girl under threats, and not of her own volition. The family also believes that she is kept in hiding and unable to communicate with anyone who might interest themselves in her behalf. This belief is well founded, because of the quiet, religious and moral disposition of the girl. She was never in the habit of being out in the evening, was an ardent worker in the Epworth League and other church organizations, and a girl whose ambition was to become connected with evangelistic work, following her sister, Miss Beatrice Nellis, in that line, and between whom there was a deep sisterly affection. There is no disposition against the part of the family and the people of Plymouth to believe that this act was premeditated by her, but that being brought in contact with this man by the Morey woman, she was influenced or threatened to accompany him. While this man has been visited in the Huger home, he has never been allowed to be alone in her company, except upon one occasion.

The case has attracted wide attention through the publicity given it by the Detroit newspapers, and with the work of the sheriff's office and the city police, it will undoubtedly be but a short time before the young girl will be located.

SCHOOF-WILLET

Miss Vera Willett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Willett, and William Schoof were married at the home of the bride's parents on Holbrook avenue, last Friday afternoon, at two o'clock. Rev. Charles Strain performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom. After the customary light refreshments were served, the young couple were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents. Later in the afternoon they left for a "honeymoon" to St. Ignace, Mich., where they will be joined by Mrs. Myron Willett. For the present they will make their home with the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Willett. They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

SALVATION ARMY BAND ARE COMING

FAMOUS DETROIT ORGANIZATION WILL GIVE CONCERT HERE ON PENNIMAN AVENUE, SATURDAY NIGHT, AUGUST 28.

The famous Salvation Army band of Detroit, will give a concert here tomorrow, Saturday evening, August 28th, from 8 to 11 o'clock. A special car on the D. U. R. will bring the band of fifty pieces here from the city. The committee have arranged to have the band seated on the walk in front of Schrader Bros.' store on Penniman avenue. Seats will also be arranged in the street to accommodate a large number of people.

The Detroit Salvation Army band have the reputation of having one of the best musical organizations in the country, and the concert tomorrow evening promises to be a great musical treat for all who hear them. It is expected that the largest crowd that has gathered in Plymouth this summer for the Saturday night free entertainments will hear this band of fifty talented musicians. Everybody is cordially invited to come and enjoy the music. Come and bring your neighbors. The concert begins promptly at 8 o'clock.

CHAUTAQUA A GREAT SUCCESS

LARGE CROWDS HEAR REDPATH CHAUTAQUA PROGRAMS.

The Redpath Chautauque, which closed a six days' course of entertainments on Tuesday evening, was one of the best and most successful that has yet been held in Plymouth. The local committee, who were back of the chautauque, went over the top in disposing of the required number of person tickets, which they had guaranteed the sale of to bring the chautauque here, on the first night of the course.

The various lecturers, musical numbers and entertainers, taken as a whole, were of a high class, and everybody was pleased and well satisfied with this year's chautauque.

Owing to the fact that the guarantee to bring the chautauque to Plymouth next year, was considerably higher than was the one just closed, the local committee were reluctant to sign up another contract, although they would have been willing to do so had they thought the people would have been ready to purchase tickets at the increased price of $3.00 each, plus the war tax. In all probability this will not be a chautauque next summer.

KEEP BOOSTING

We are nearing the end of another harvest in this country, and all reports indicate satisfactory production of all commodities. Everything the farmer has to sell is bringing a good price, and never before in the history of the nation have the people who labor had as much money to buy the things they need. Outside of a lot of political agitation matters are fast assuming the normal, and we have less to complain about than we've had for a good long time.

So with conditions so favorable, let's decide here and now to use more of the time we have been devoting to war discussions and worrying to boosting Plymouth and her many advantages. Let's talk more about the improvements we need all over town—and get the other fellow talking with us. Let's not let a stranger go away from here without a good word for the town on his lips. And we can put those words there by showing him we are interested in Plymouth more than we are in any other town in America. Let's send out through every possible channel, word to the outside world that we have everything that goes to make a good town and a good place in which to live, that unusual advantages are offered the man who seeks a business location or the struggling manufacturing concern that is seeking a chance to get on its feet in a community where every man is a booster. Let's do less talking about the advantages to be found in the bigger towns and do more to make this one grow. Let each man start in now to put his shoulder to the municipal wheel, and push until even the drones among us will become ashamed of themselves and join in the boosting.

THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE RIGHT PLACE
One of the most important offices—if not the most important one—is that of County Treasurer. The man nominated for this office will, during his term of office, have the handling of hundreds of thousands of dollars belonging to the taxpayers of the county. The office consequently demands an intelligent, educated and efficient business man at its head.
For this office, Charles O. Bell, formerly chief bookkeeper in the Treasurer's office, probably is receiving more support and more mention than any other candidate.
Mr. Bell is an experienced bookkeeper, auditor and financial man having installed bookkeeping and auditing systems in many of the large firms of Detroit. Not only is he experienced along these lines, but his many years' experience in the Treasurer's office has given him an insight into the needs of that office, that no other candidate possesses. Thousands upon thousands of voters all over Wayne county will remember Mr. Bell as the man who first discovered the Kloka defalcations and reported them to the County Auditor nine months before that body of county officials made them public. For this reason alone, Mr. Bell has been persona non grata with the Auditor ever since and accounts for the fact that they are against him to a man, just as they were against Bill Green. Like Mr. Green, however, Mr. Bell is making his campaign direct with the voters, and is not letting a few politicians who have been in the trough for a decade, decide whether or not he can run for office.
If the voters of Wayne county consult their own interests, they will see that Mr. Bell is nominated for County Treasurer next Tuesday.—Advt.

GREEN IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY AUDITOR
MAN WHO EXPOSED COUNTY BUILDING ROTTENNESS HAS OTHER REVELATIONS IN MIND.
Wm. H. Green, Jr., present County Auditor, is a candidate for County Auditor at the primary next Tuesday, August 31st, on the Republican ticket. It is just three years since Mr. Green exposed the rotten conditions in the County Building in which more than $100,000 of the taxpayers money was stolen. Before taking office he had demanded an audit, but this was refused, and in an official letter it was announced that the books in the Treasurer's Office had been audited. William Gutman, present Auditor and Candidate for reelection, who signed that letter, later admitted on the stand that he had known for many months of dollars lost by the taxpayers was never revealed, but it was on account of this suppression by Mr. Gutman and his associates that caused the loss.
Mr. Green paid for the audit personally that caused the refunding of more than $50,000, and he further pledged revelations that will get back into the treasury other moneys illegally taken, provided he is elected County Auditor by the people and given the co-operation of other officials.

During the past three years as County Treasurer, Mr. Green has given the public a very efficient administration of the affairs of that office, installing new business methods that have proven of great benefit to the taxpayers. Previous to that time the County Auditor, who has given him a close insight into the public affairs of Wayne County. It was on account of his knowledge of county affairs gained in this way that induced the friends of Green to induct him into this race, feeling that the public wanted him to finish a job of housecleaning that he had started so thoroughly.
Mr. Green is a life-long Republican, was born in the city of Detroit, and has always been active in the affairs of his party and in matters of interest to the city, county and state. After the upheaval in the county building three years ago, he became known as "The Man Who Dared," and he promises to live up to that reputation if selected by the people as their Republican candidate for County Auditor next Tuesday, Aug. 31st.—Advt.

REVERE MEMORY OF MACEO
Negro Patriot Said to Hold the Chief Place in the Hearts of Cuban Masses.
Graves in the cemetery of Santiago de Cuba are family affairs, built of cement and six or eight "stories" deep, so that the coffins are set one above the other, as their time comes, in perfect chronological order, writes Harry A. Franck in the Century.
Over the top, commonly a bare three or four feet above the grass, is laid a huge stone slab, preferably of marble, with immense brass or nickel rings at each corner by which to lift it, and space on its top for a poetic epitaph to each succeeding occupant.
As in all Spanish countries, the tombs of all but the wealthiest families are rented for term of years, at the end of which time, if the descendants fail to renew the contract, the bodies are tossed into a common graveyard, to make room for those of greener memory.
Martí, the Cuban "Father of Liberty," is buried here, and Estrada Palma, promoted from humble pedagogue in an American school to first president of Cuba. But neither holds the chief place in the heart of the Cuban masses. That is reserved for Maceo, the negro general killed just before the dawn of independence during a foolhardy scouting expedition in the woods of Caguay, in company with a bare half-dozen soldiers.
Cuban "Memorial Day" is observed throughout the island with much spouting of poetry, and laying on of flowers, on December 7, the anniversary of Maceo's death at the hands of the Spaniards.

HAS SUPERB WATER POWER
That of British Columbia is Said to Equal Five Niaragas in its Possibilities.
The potential water power of British Columbia, experts declare, is equal to that of five Niaragas. Pouring down from the mountains comes enough water to develop 3,000,000 horse-power. Niagara falls, when all the water that is available on the Canadian side has been harnessed will produce only 650,000 horse power.
Only 123,000 electric horse power is now developed by the plants supplying Vancouver, New Westminster and the towns in the vicinity. This power turns the wheels of mills and factories, propels the street cars of those cities and provides lights for the streets and homes. If the entire wealth of British Columbia in water power were harnessed it would be sufficient to provide power, light and heat for 40 cities the size of Vancouver and New Brunswick combined. With this cheap power available, economists predict that some day the province will become one of the greatest manufacturing centers of Canada.

Fine Tune Will Live.
Probably the majority of church-goers will agree with the vicar of Wellington in his refusal to allow the church bells of his parish to ring out "Tipperary" in honor of the great peace, for in these matters one must of course draw the line somewhere.
Yet, when the vicar asks: "If 'Tipperary' why not 'Tommy, Make Room for Uncle?'" the analogy is not very apt. Both songs, it is true, are not-well, classical music. But the glorious associations of "Tipperary" have raised it far above such criticism; and though the famous tune may never reach the height of a church bellry it is, nevertheless, likely to go down to posterity as the immortal "Marseillaise" of the Old Contemptibles.—London Chronicle.
Happy on His Way.
In one of the Indianapolis schools recently the teacher announced to her pupils that they would study China during the afternoon, and told the children to bring various products of the country. Very excitedly a little chap rushed into the grocery store and told the grocer to give him a nickel's worth of sasfras, as he was to study China at school, and the grocer told him she must have said Indiana, but he gave him Gunpowder and Imperial mixed, instead of the good old Hoosier product, and sent him happily on his way.
A One-Funnel Gunarder.
The new Cunarder Scythia, according to an English newspaper, is to have only one funnel, for all her 20,000 tons. Time was when a liner's standing was in direct ratio with the number of her funnels. Four funnels indicated A1 rank. One famous steamship was, it is said, equipped with an unnecessary fourth funnel, simply for appearance's sake. But now, it seems, the funnels are to go, for only one is really necessary.—From the Outlook.
Seals Migrate Early.
The protective measure adopted by the government for the benefit of the seals in American waters has been entirely successful, as indicated by the great number of animals seen to be migrating to the Arctic seas. The migration was three weeks earlier than usual, and an unusually large number of animals were noted on their way to the north.

An Old Fault Finder
An irritable and fault-finding disposition is often caused by indigestion. A man with good digestion and the usual cheerfulness is usually a good natured man. Indigestion, on the other hand, is a source of trouble. It weakens the stomach and makes it so poor in its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.—Advt.

Fordson
TRADE MARK
The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land almost to half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmers time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season; getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it solves the labor problem.

As ever, the machine is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old-hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it solves the labor problem.
The Fordson's first cost is the lowest in the market; and the after operating cost is lowest. It is a compact easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the United States.
We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson.

Tots Dance to Amuse Throngs At State Fair

One of the centers of attraction at the Michigan State Fair this year is the big open air theater in the grove adjoining the arts and crafts building. Mrs. Gertrude Sackett, who has had charge of the children's department for the last 15 years has a large number of children in training for the dances and children's plays which will be given. The picture above shows a small group of bright-eyed youngsters who last year won round after round applause with their folk dances.

He Will Defend Throne In Cattleodom At Fair

Thorough going gentleman from the tip of his nose to the end of his tall Flint Hengerveld Lad, the big fellow in the picture above is calmly ruminating over the possibility he has this year of again walking away with the highest honor at the Michigan State Fair. The Lad is the lord of the great herd of Holstein cattle at the Pontiac State Hospital farm. He is almost literally worth his weight in gold and he is no light weight to say the least. Last year he won first senior championship honors and was grand champion of the "Million Dollar Stock Show." He is entered for this year's fair at Detroit from Sept. 3 to Sept. 12. Offers of $17,140.45 in this year's cattle show have brought so many entries that G. W. Dickinson, secretary manager of the fair, is arranging now to house hundreds of cattle in tents. The cattle barns on the fair grounds will not be able to accommodate all of the entries. The Pontiac State Hospital was responsible for bringing the Holstein breed of cattle to America and for that reason the hospital's herd of Holstein's grips the attention of cattle breeders from all over the country.

SHERIFF COFFIN MAKES GOOD RECORD

When a manufacturer has a contract with a business associate and that contract is about to end, before renewing it he goes over the period of his relations with the gentleman and gives a careful scrutiny to his record—if the record is such as shows efficient service and high regard for duty it is say that he will renew his contract.

The same rule should hold forth in the selection by the public of its officials. When a man presents himself as a candidate for re-election, the citizens are entitled to ask him, "What have you done? How well did you do it?"

If such a question was asked about Irving J. Coffin, candidate for re-election to the office of sheriff of Wayne county, he could present a record for successful accomplishment of his duties that would unhesitatingly recommend him for re-election.

The office of sheriff during the regime of Sheriff Coffin has been one filled with added duties, due to the sudden growth of Wayne county. While this growth has been attended with a great amount of financial prosperity, it has also brought forth a wave of crime that called for the keenest sort of police work on the part of all engaged in the running down of criminals. Sheriff Coffin brought to the office of sheriff an experience gained through years of detective work and this experience stood him in good stead when crimes of a puzzling nature presented themselves. That he is a man who knows not fear was tested by the courageous manner in which he attacked a building known to be the headquarters of a gang of gunmen. A fusillade of bullets greeted him on this occasion, but failed to stop him.

The increased amount of good roads in Wayne county have made necessary a traffic regulation system at certain bad intersections, and under Sheriff Coffin a system was worked out whereby deputies handled these crossings in a satisfactory manner.

The Detroit police department state that during Sheriff Coffin's term, they have secured the fullest co-operation they have ever secured from the sheriff's office, and in the matter of the recovery of stolen automobiles, this aid by the sheriff's office has been invaluable. One thing that has helped to create this splendid record has been the fact that when selecting a staff, to assist him in carrying out the duties of office, Sheriff Coffin picked men who had had years of experience in police work, he picked such men purely on ability, regardless of race or creed, and the result is the best and most efficient staff that ever functioned in the sheriff's office.

All in all, his record has been one of achievement—a good job well done, and if the people of Wayne county recognize in a public official qualities of efficiency, they will surely apply business principles to politics and re-

Today's Reflections

Honest confessions may be good for the soul, but some of them are bad for the reputation.

The coffee mother used to make furnishes many a Plymouth man with all he needs to kick about.

Love makes the world go 'round, but it usually takes marriage to square it.

It has been our observation that the fast young man is seldom going in the right direction.

Time is money. Maybe that's the reason some Plymouth people prefer to buy on tick.

And not trying to do more than the average in this world, is what keeps the average down.

The price of raisins going up 200 per cent will develop a "kiel" in something besides home brew.

We've noticed, too, that when money talks in Plymouth, it never fails to get a lot of attentive listeners.

The old-fashioned man who used to crank the ice cream freezer, now has a son who spends most of his time cranking a Ford.

Every woman is smart enough not to judge any smart man by his table-manners.

The Plymouth woman who wears false hair never admits it. She keeps it under her hat.

Wheat dropped sixty cents at harvest time. Goodness, but how we wished they had to harvest paper.

When it comes to making garden, most editors soon find the typewriter is greater than the hoe—and works easier.

No woman is so color blind that she can't notice a rival turning green with envy.

It is said that there are so many blackberry pickers this season, that it's a regular "jam."

What greater distinction could a man have nowadays than to have a potato named for him.

Most Plymouth men have come to realize that in this day and time even a soft bosom shirt commands a stiff price.

They say the paper in which meat is wrapped costs more than the meat. Yes, and it makes lots poorer gravy.

Most Plymouth people have the hardest time deciding what to do after they have made up their minds.

To Detroit Edison Customers!

Concerning Increased Rates for Electric Supply

Commercial Lighting Rate

Bills due in September covering current consumption for July will be reckoned at the new rate, which is an advance over the former rate of One cent per kilowatt-hour on the second and third step of the commercial lighting rate—that is, kilowatt-hours formerly charged at Four cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Five cents per kilowatt-hour, and kilowatt-hours formerly charged at Two cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Three cents per kilowatt-hour.

NOTE—The base rate of Ten cents per kilowatt-hour remains unchanged.

Open Order Power

Power formerly charged for at Four cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Five cents per kilowatt-hour.

Residence Lighting Rate

There has been no change in the price per kilowatt-hour in either step of the Residence Lighting Rate, but the number of kilowatt-hours billed at the Fourteen cent rate has been increased by one-half. Example: An account formerly billed on a monthly base of Six kilowatt-hours will have, under the new rate, a monthly base of Nine kilowatt-hours.

Discounts

On all bills paid on or before the due date a discount of 10 per cent is allowed on all lighting bills and 5 per cent on power bills.

Any questions concerning the application of new rate to your account will be answered by mail or telephone.

THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE RIGHT PLACE

One of the most important offices—if not the most important one—to be voted upon next Tuesday, is that of County Treasurer.

The man nominated for this office will, during his term of office, have the handling of hundreds of thousands of dollars belonging to the taxpayers of the county. The office consequently demands an intelligent, educated and efficient business man at its head.

For this office, Charles O. Bell, formerly chief bookkeeper in the Treasurer's office, probably is receiving more support and more mention than any other candidate.

Mr. Bell is an experienced bookkeeper, auditor and financial man, having installed bookkeeping and auditing systems in many of the large firms of Detroit. Not only is he experienced along these lines, but his many years' experience in the Treasurer's office has given him an insight into the needs of that office, that no other candidate possesses.

Thousands upon thousands of voters all over Wayne county will remember Mr. Bell as the man who first discovered the Kloka defalcations and reported them to the County Auditors nine months before that body of county officials made them public. For this reason alone, Mr. Bell has been persona non grata with the Auditors ever since and accounts for the fact that they are against him to a man, just as they were against Bill Green. Like Mr. Green, however, Mr. Bell is making his campaign direct with the voters, and is not letting a few politicians who have been in the trough for a decade, decide whether or not he can run for office.

If the voters of Wayne county consult their own interests, they will see that Mr. Bell is nominated for County Treasurer next Tuesday.—Advt.

GREEN IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY AUDITOR

MAN WHO EXPOSED COUNTY BUILDING ROTTENNESS HAS OTHER REVELATIONS IN MIND.

Wm. H. Green, Jr., present County Treasurer, is a candidate for County Auditor at the primary next Tuesday, August 31st, on the Republican ticket. It is just three years since Mr. Green exposed the rotten conditions in the County Building in which more than $100,000 of the taxpayers' money was stolen. Before taking office he had demanded an audit, but this was refused and in an official letter it was announced that the books in the Treasurer's Office had been audited. William Gutman, present Auditor and Candidate for reelection, who signed that letter, later admitted on the stand that he had known for many months of the stealings; also in a final settlement with the bonding companies for defalcations there was no money repaid that was taken from the date that Mr. Gutman admitted he first knew of the stealings. Under the law the bonding companies were no longer liable. How many thousands of dollars the taxpayers lost was never revealed, but it was on account of this suppression by Mr. Gutman and his associates that caused the loss.

Mr. Green paid for the audit personally that caused the refunding of more than $50,000, and he further pledges revelations that will get back into the treasury other moneys illegally taken, provided he is elected County Auditor by the people and given the co-operation of other officials.

During the past three years as County Treasurer, Mr. Green has given the public a very efficient administration of the affairs of that office, installing new business methods that have proven of great benefit to the taxpayers. Previous to that time he was twelve years in the office of the County Auditors, which has given him a close insight into the public affairs of Wayne County. It was on account of his knowledge of county affairs gained in this way that induced him into this race, feeling that the public wanted him to finish a job housecleaning that he had started so thoroughly.

Mr. Green is a life-long Republican, was born in the city of Detroit, and has always been active in the affairs of his party and in matters of interest to the city, county and state. After the upheaval in the county building three years ago, he became known as "The Man Who Dared," and he promises to live up to that reputation if selected by the people as their Republican candidate for County Auditor next Tuesday, Aug. 31st.—Advt.

REVERE MEMORY OF MACEO

Negro Patriot Said to Hold the Chief Place in the Hearts of Cuban Masses.

Graves in the cemetery of Santiago de Cuba are family affairs, built of cement and six or eight "stories" deep, so that the coffins are set one above the other, as their time comes, in perfect chronological order, writes Harry A. Franck in the Century.

Over the top, commonly a bare three or four feet above the grass, is laid a huge stone slab, preferably of marble, with immense brass or nickel rings at each corner by which to lift it, and space on its top for a poetic epitaph to each succeeding occupant.

As in all Spanish countries, the tombs of all but the wealthiest inmates are rented for a term of years, at the end of which time, if the descendants fail to renew the contract, the bodies are tossed into a common graveyard, to make room for those of greener memory.

Martí, the Cuban "Father of Liberty," is buried here, and Estrada Palma, promoted from humble pedagogue in an American school to first president of Cuba. But neither holds the chief place in the heart of the Cuban masses. That is reserved for Maceo, the negro general killed just before the dawn of independence during a foolhardy scouting expedition in the woods of Cachaúl, in company with a bare half-dozen soldiers.

Cuban "Memorial Day" is observed throughout the island with much spouting of poetry, and laying on of flowers, on December 7, the anniversary of Maceo's death at the hands of the Spaniards.

HAS SUPERB WATER POWER

That of British Columbia is Said to Equal Five Niagaras in Its Possibilities.

The potential water power of British Columbia, experts declare, is equal to that of five Niagaras. Pouring down from the mountains comes enough water to develop 3,000,000 horse-power. Niagara falls, when all the water that is available on the Canadian side has been harnessed will produce only 630,000 horse power.

Only 123,000 electric horse power is now developed by the plants supplying Vancouver, New Westminster and the towns in the vicinity. This power turns the wheels of mills and factories, propels the street cars of these cities and provides lights for the streets and homes. If the entire wealth of British Columbia in water power were harnessed it would be sufficient to provide power, light and heat for 40 cities the size of Vancouver and New Brunswick combined. With this cheap power available, economists predict that some day the province will become one of the greatest manufacturing centers of Canada.

Fordson
TRADE MARK

The Fordson cuts the cost of preparing land almost to half of what it costs with horses. But even more important is the fact that the Fordson saves from thirty to fifty per cent of the farmers time. And time saved—getting fields in shape to plant in the proper season, getting things done when they should be done—means money to the farmer. Besides it solves the labor problem.

As ever, the machine-way is proving more efficient, faster, easier than the old-hand way. In the factory, the machine increases production, saves labor—produces more at less cost. And that is what the Fordson does on the farm. The Fordson way is the machine way of farming. Besides it solves the labor problem.

The Fordson's first cost is the lowest in the market; and the after or operating cost is lowest. It is a compact easily handled tractor, backed by the greatest tractor service organization in the United States.

We are Fordson dealers. Not only do we sell Fordson tractors, but we carry a stock of Fordson parts and employ Fordson mechanics to help the farmers get the best results from the Fordson.

PRIMARY ELECTION

A general Primary Election will be held in the township of Plymouth on Tuesday, the thirty-first day of August, 1920, for all political parties, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Representatives in Congress, State Senators and Representatives in the State Legislature, also for nominating candidates by each political party in county. The polls of said election will be open at 7 a. m. and remain open until 5 p. m., Central Standard time.

Dated August 17, 1920.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Says nothing like plain Argo-Phosphate to put on firm, solid, stay the flesh and muscle and increase strength, vim, vigor and nerve force.

Physicians claim there is nothing that will increase weight, strength and endurance like organic phosphate commonly known by druggists as argo-phosphate; it is inexpensive and is sold by all leading druggists everywhere under a guarantee to give satisfaction or money refunded. Weakness and thinness are usually due to starved nervous conditions. Our bodies need more phosphates than are contained in the foods we eat.

If you wish a more rounded figure and plump well-developed arms, neck and hair in place of hollows you should simply take plain argo-phosphate as it builds up and restores run-down nervous conditions by phosphatizing the system. It transforms the appearance and an increase in weight is often times quickly produced.

The increase in weight also aids in improving the general health. Sleeplessness, nervousness, lack of energy and ambition quickly disappear.

Pale cheeks are changed to rosy ones and dull eyes become bright.

Miss Lena Brown of Atlanta, Ga., who only weighed 90 pounds reports that she gained 10 pounds in two weeks' time, and says argo-phosphate has made a different person of her and she has never felt better in her life.

SPECIAL NOTICE:—Owing to the fact that so many physicians and druggists are recommending argo-phosphate for relieving all nervous weakness and disease, and because of the unusually large sale for argo-phosphate, there will be found in the market numerous substitutes for the genuine article. All substitutes are inferior preparations and owing to the unusual high producing qualities of argo-phosphate, it cannot be made by any one else.

Fine Tune Will Live.

Probably the majority of church-goers will agree with the vicar of Wellington in his refusal to allow the church bells of his parish to ring out "Tipperary" in honor of the great peace, for in these matters one must of course draw the line somewhere.

Yet, when the vicar asks: "If 'Tipperary,' why not 'Tommy, Make Room for Uncle?' the analogy is not very apt. Both songs, it is true, are not—well, classical music. But the glorious associations of "Tipperary" have raised it far above such criticism; and though the famous tune may never reach the height of a church bell, it is, nevertheless, likely to go down to posterity as the immortal "Marsellaise" of the Old Continentals.—London Chronicle.

Happy on His Way.

In one of the Indianapolis schools recently the teacher announced to her pupils that they would study China during the afternoon, and told the children to bring various products of the country. Very excitedly a little chap rushed into the grocery store and told the grocer to give him a nickel's worth of sassafras, as he was to study China at school, and the grocer told him she must have said Indiana, but he gave him Gunpowder and Imperial mixed, instead of the good old Hoosier product, and sent him happily on his way.

A One-Funnel Cunner.

The new Cunarder Scotia, according to an English newspaper, is to have only one funnel, for all her 20,000 tons. Time was when a liner's standing was in direct ratio with the number of her funnels. Four funnels indicated A1 rank. One famous steamship was, it is said, equipped with an unnecessary fourth funnel simply for appearance's sake. But now, it seems, the funnels are to go, for only one is really necessary.—From the Outlook.

Seals Migrate Early.

The protective measure adopted by the government for the benefit of the seals in American waters has been entirely successful, as indicated by the great number of animals seen to be migrating to the Arctic seas. The migration was three weeks earlier than usual, and an unusually large number of animals were noted on their way to the north.

THE RIGHT MAN FOR THE RIGHT PLACE
One of the most important offices—if not the most important one—to be voted upon next Tuesday, is that of County Treasurer.
The man nominated for this office will, during his term of office, have the handling of hundreds of thousands of dollars belonging to the taxpayers of the county. The office consequently demands an intelligent, educated and efficient business man at its head.
For this office, Charles O. Bell, formerly chief bookkeeper in the Treasurer's office, probably is receiving more support and more mention than any other candidate.
Mr. Bell is an experienced bookkeeper, auditor and financial manager, having installed bookkeeping and auditing systems in many of the large firms of Detroit. Not only is he experienced along these lines, but his many years' experience in the Treasurer's office has given him an insight into the needs of that office, that no other candidate possesses.
Thousands upon thousands of voters all over Wayne county will remember Mr. Bell as the man who first discovered the Klokka defalcations and reported them to the County Auditors nine months before that body of county officials made them public. For this reason alone, Mr. Bell has been persona non grata with the Auditors ever since and accounts for the fact that they are against him to a man, just as they were against Bill Green. Like Mr. Green, however, Mr. Bell is making his campaign direct with the voters, and is not letting a few politicians who have been in the trough for a decade, decide whether or not he can run for office.
If the voters of Wayne county consult their own interests, they will see that Mr. Bell is nominated for County Treasurer next Tuesday—Advt.

GREEN IS CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY AUDITOR
MAN WHO EXPOSED COUNTY BUILDING ROTTENNESS HAS OTHER REVELATIONS IN MIND.
Wm. H. Green, Jr., present County Auditor, is a candidate for County Auditor at the primary next Tuesday, August 31st, on the Republican ticket. It is just three years since Mr. Green exposed the rotten conditions in the County Building in which more than $100,000 of the taxpayers' money was stolen. Before taking office he had demanded an audit, but this was refused and in an official letter it was announced that the books in the Treasurer's Office had been audited. William Gutman, present Auditor and Candidate for reelection, who signed that letter, later admitted on the stand that he had known for many months of the stealings; also in a final settlement with the bonding companies for defalcations there was no money repaid that was taken from the date that Mr. Gutman admitted he first knew of the stealings. Under the law the bonding companies were no longer liable. How many thousands of dollars the taxpayers lost was never revealed, but it was on account of this exposure by Mr. Gutman and his associates that caused the loss.
Mr. Green paid for the audit personally that caused the refunding of more than $50,000, and he further pledges revelations that will get back into the treasury other moneys illegally taken, provided he is elected County Auditor by the people and given the co-operation of other officials.

During the past three years as County Treasurer, Mr. Green has given the public a very efficient administration of the affairs of that office, installing new business methods that have proven of great benefit to the taxpayers. Previous to that time he was twelve years in the office of the County Auditors, which has given him a close insight into the public affairs of Wayne County. It was on account of his knowledge of county affairs gained in this way that induced the friends of Green to induce him into this race, feeling that the public wanted him to finish a job of housecleaning that he had started so thoroughly.
Mr. Green is a life-long Republican, and has always been active in the affairs of his party and in matters of interest to the city, county and state. After the upheaval in the county building three years ago, he became known as "The Man Who Dared," and he promises to live up to that reputation if selected by the people as their Republican candidate for County Auditor next Tuesday, Aug. 31st.—Advt.

REVERE MEMORY OF MACEDO
Negro Patriot Said to Hold the Chief's Place in the Hearts of Cuban Slaves.
Graves in the cemetery of Santiago de Cuba are family affairs, built of cement and six or eight "stories" deep, so that the coffins are set one above the other, as their time comes, in perfect chronological order, writes Harry A. Franck in the Century.
Over the top, commonly a bare three or four feet above the grass, is laid a huge stone slab, preferably of marble, with impense-brass or nickel rings at each corner by which to lift it, and space on its top for a poetic epitaph to each succeeding occupant. As in all Spanish countries, the tombs of all but the wealthiest inmates are rented for a term of years, at the end of which time, if the descendants fail to renew the contract, the bodies are tossed into a common graveyard, to make room for those of greener memory.
Marti, the Cuban "Father of Liberty," is buried here, and Estrada Palma, promoted from humble pedagogue in an American school to first president of Cuba. But neither holds the chief place in the heart of the Cuban masses. That is reserved for Macedo, the negro general killed just before the dawn of independence during a foolhardy scouting expedition in the woods of Cachaui, in company with a bare half-dozen soldiers.
Cuban "Memorial Day" is observed throughout the island with much feasting, and laying on of flowers, on December 7, the anniversary of Macedo's death at the hands of the Spaniards.

That of British Columbia is Said to Equal Five Niagaras in its Possibilities.
The potential water power of British Columbia, experts declare, is equal to that of five Niagaras. Pouring down from the mountains comes enough water to develop 3,000,000 horse-power. Niagara falls, when all the water that is available on the Canadian side has been harnessed will produce only 670,000 horse power.

SHERIFF COFFIN MAKES GOOD RECORD

When a manufacturer has a contract with a business associate and that contract is about to end, before repaving it he goes over the period of his relations with the gentleman and gives a careful scrutiny to his record—if the record is such as shows efficient service and high regard for duty it is say that he will renew his contract.

The same rule should hold forth in the selection by the public of its officials. When a man presents himself as a candidate for re-election, the citizens are entitled to ask him, "What have you done? How well did you do it?"

If such a question was asked about Irving J. Coffin, candidate for re-election to the office of sheriff of Wayne county, he could present a record for successful accomplishment of his duties that would unhesitatingly recommend him for re-election.

The office of sheriff during the regime of Sheriff Coffin has been one filled with added duties, due to the sudden growth of Wayne county. While this growth has been attended with a great amount of financial prosperity, it has also brought forth a wave of crime that called for the keenest sort of police work on the part of all engaged in the running down of criminals. Sheriff Coffin brought to the office of sheriff an experience gained through years of detective work and this experience stood him in good stead when crimes of a puzzling nature presented themselves. That he is a man who knows not fear was tested by the courageous manner in which he attacked a building known to be the headquarters of a gang of gunmen. A fusillade of bullets greeted him on this occasion, but failed to stop him.

The increased amount of good roads in Wayne county have made necessary a traffic regulation system at certain bad intersections, and under Sheriff Coffin a system was worked out whereby deputies handled these crossings in a satisfactory manner.

The Detroit police department atate that during Sheriff Coffin's term, they have secured the fullest cooperation they have ever secured from the sheriff's office, and in the matter of the recovery of stolen automobiles, this aid by the sheriff's office has been invaluable. One thing that has helped to create this splendid record has been the fact that when selecting a staff, to assist him in carrying out the duties of office, Sheriff Coffin picked men who had had years of experience in police work, he picked such men purely on ability, regardless of race or creed, and the result is the best and most efficient staff that ever functioned in the sheriff's office.

All in all, his record has been one of achievement—a good job well done, and if the people of Wayne county recognize in a public official qualities of efficiency, they will surely apply business principles to politics and re-

Today's Reflections

Honest confessions may be good for the soul, but some of them are bad for the reputation.

The coffee mather used to make furnishes many a Plymouth man with all he needs to kick about.

Love makes the world go 'round, but it usually takes marriage to square it.

It has been our observation that the fast young man is seldom going in the right direction.

Time is money. Maybe that's the reason some Plymouth people prefer to buy on tick.

And not trying to do more than the average in this world, is what keeps the average down.

The price of raisins going up 200 per cent will develop a "kick" in something besides home brew.

We've noticed, too, that when money talks in Plymouth, it never fails to get a lot of attentive listeners.

The old-fashioned man who used to crank the ice cream freezer, now has a son who spends most of his time cranking a Ford.

Every woman is smart enough not to judge any smart man by his table manners.

The Plymouth woman who wears false hair never admits it. She keeps it under her hat.

Wheat dropped sixty cents at harvest time. Goodness, but how we wished they had to harvest paper.

When it comes to making garden, most editors soon find the typewriter is greater than the hoe—and works easier.

No woman is so color blind that she can't notice a rival turning green with envy.

It is said that there are so many blackberry pickers this season, that it's a regular "jam."

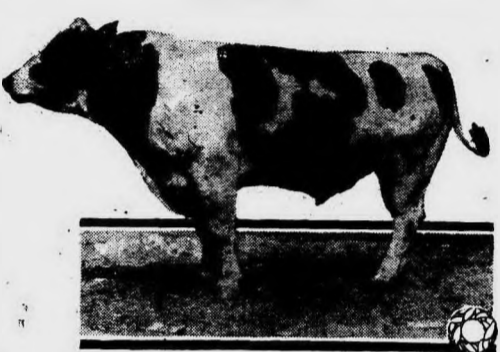

What greater distinction could a man have nowadays than to have a potato named for him.

Most Plymouth men have come to realize that in this day and time even a soft bosom shirt commands a stiff price.

They say the paper in which meat is wrapped costs more than the meat. Yes, and it makes lots poorer gravy.

Most Plymouth people have the hardest time deciding what to do after they have made up their minds.

He Will Defend Throne In Cattelom At Fair

Thorough going gentleman from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail Flat Hengerveld Lad, the big fellow in the picture above is calmly ruminating over the possibility he has this year of again walking away with the highest honors at the Michigan State Fair.

The Lad is the lord of the great herd of Holstein cattle at the Pontiac State Hospital farm. He is almost literally worth his weight in gold and he is no light weight to say the least. Last year he won first senior championship honors and was grand champion of the "Million Dollar Stock Show." He is entered for this year's fair at Detroit from Sept. 3 to Sept. 12.

Offers of $17,140.45 in this year's cattle show have brought so many entries that G. W. Dickinson, secretary manager of the fair, is arranging now to house hundreds of cattle in tents. The cattle barns on the fair grounds will not be able to accommodate all of the entries.

The Pontiac State Hospital was responsible for bringing the Holstein breed of cattle to America and for that reason the hospital's herd of Holstein's grips the attention of cattle breeders from all over the country.

To Detroit Edison Customers!

Concerning Increased Rates for Electric Supply

Commercial Lighting Rate

Bills due in September covering current consumption for July will be reckoned at the new rate, which is an advance over the former rate of One cent per kilowatt-hour on the second and third step of the commercial lighting rate—that is, kilowatt-hours formerly charged at Four cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Five cents per kilowatt-hour, and kilowatt-hours formerly charged at Two cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Three cents per kilowatt-hour.

NOTE—The base rate of Ten cents per kilowatt-hour remains unchanged.

Open Order Power

Power formerly charged for at Four cents per kilowatt-hour will be charged at Five cents per kilowatt-hour.

Residence Lighting Rate

There has been no change in the price per kilowatt-hour in either step of the Residence Lighting Rate, but the number of kilowatt-hours billed at the Fourteen cent rate has been increased by one-half. Example: An account formerly billed on a monthly base of Six kilowatt-hours will have, under the new rate, a monthly base of Nine kilowatt-hours.

Discounts

On all bills paid on or before the due date a discount of 10 per cent is allowed on all lighting bills and 5 per cent on power bills.

Any questions concerning the application of new rate to your account will be answered by mail or telephone.

RESEMBLE ACRES OF LILIES

Visitor's Beautiful Description of the American Cemeteries in France—Exquisite in Uniformity.

Though American relatives usually want to plant flowers on the graves of their sons or brothers in the American army cemeteries in France, an army ruling forbidding this has been adhered to. The cemeteries, a uniform stretch of green grass with white crosses, look like "acres of white lilies," according to Miss Elsie Goddard, a Wellesley graduate who has returned to this country after having had supervision of the Y. W. C. A. rest huts built for the comfort of relatives visiting the graves in four of the American cemeteries in France. "At first every one wants to plant flowers on the grave they love," says Miss Goddard, "but they soon see that the army ruling keeps the cemeteries most beautiful and impressive because of the uniformity. Cut flowers can be placed on graves and flowers can be planted in the flower beds near by, but not on the graves. The French people who are eager to decorate the graves in some parts are often surprised at this ruling, but our cemeteries, as cared for, are wonderfully impressive. After visiting them few Americans want to take the bodies of their boys home, though they have been determined to do it before they came." The Y. W. C. A. and Red Cross combine in maintaining rest huts at Romagne, Bony, Belleau Woods and Fere-a-Tardenois. "No matter how prepared a mother and father are for what they expect to see, the first sight of the field of American graves overwhelms them," says Miss Goddard.

"MADE GOOD" WITH CAMERA

Kermit Roosevelt's Photographs, Taken in Africa, Are Looked on as Masterpieces.

In 1908, when the Roosevelt expedition went to Africa on the greatest of all safaris, by the dropping out of the professional photographer, Kermit Roosevelt suddenly was thrust into the position of official photographer to the expedition. I viewed this arrangement with many misgivings—because it was a task for maturity and long experience—but the young man made good. He made good 100 per cent, not only with the big game rifle, but in wild animal photography as well.

Mr. Kermit's masterpiece is his best picture of a whole herd of elephants in a high but rather open forest, William Hornaday writes in Scribner's. The light was none too good, but fortunately it was good enough. This real achievement was scored from a perch on a low limb of a tree, conveniently placed to drop the intervening brush out of view. Five trunks appear in the front line, and the elephants are massed together in the composition as neatly and perfectly as if the hand of man had grouped them to get all the flankers into the picture.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt was very proud of this picture, and so were the editors of Scribner's magazine and the "African Game Trail" book.

Aircraft Conditions

Several American commissions have recently made an investigation into the aircraft conditions in different parts of the world, and they agree that this country has the opportunity to lead the world in civilian aeronautical activities and as a market for aircraft in 1920. It was the joint opinion of these commissions that the United States is ahead of all other countries in number of planes actually ordered and bought for civilian purposes, number of aerial transportation lines being organized, actual daily performance of the aerial mail service, and volume of mail carried, and possibilities for the use of aircraft for commercial purposes, and that the fact that the post office has proved that military planes can be converted into mail carriers makes possible the utilization of service planes to meet the immediate demand which manufacturers are unable to meet.

Destroyed the Illusion

Into the restaurant she came with the air of a princess, a truly regal figure, clad in brown from top to toe and looking as if she had just visited a Parisian modiste and a beauty parlor—a perfectly groomed, handsome woman. There was an air of refinement about her. She looked expensively turned out in the simple, deceptive way.

She seated herself at a table and there were little exclamations of admiration from other diners near. A waitress approached; every one hushed to listen to the beautiful creature speak.

In a high-pitched, East side voice she ordered: "Bring me a onion omelette." It was brought, and she played it gaily speaking with her knife.—New York Evening Post.

Youthful Cattle Raiser

Little Edwin, age seven, lives on a farm in Grant county. It has been for some time his father's custom to sell calves to a neighboring farmer when they were about three days old. The other day little Edwin was instructed to go to the home of the neighbor, and tell him that a calf would be ready for him the following day, and that it was a "bull-calf." With an air of great importance the young farmer delivered the following message: "My father told me to tell you that our bull has a new calf, and you can have it tomorrow."—Indianapolis News.

LONG PUZZLE TO SCIENTISTS

Strange Work Left by Mound Builders Never Has Had Anything Like Satisfactory Explanation.

The Serpent Mound, near Chillicothe, Ohio, the strangest earthwork left by the Mound Builders, is one of the most striking and puzzling creations that is to be found in the Scioto River valley. Over all, the mound is more than 1,300 feet long, and depicts a serpent of several convolutions, jaws extended, and an oval within the grasp of the huge jaws. The groundwork is from two to four feet in height, and from three or four to 20 feet in thickness. Within the oval, beyond the extended jaws, archeologists have found an altar of stones and copper ornaments.

An old Indian fighter who died in the West several years ago, nearly 100 years old, declared he had heard a story in his younger days of a tribe of strange Indians in the Scioto valley who each year held a fall festival and gave a great powwow on a snake's back. He said he never could understand the meaning of the story until later in life when he heard of the Mound Builders. His recollection of the story, had it been given to students of the mounds, might have served to give them new theories on which to base their research work. He said the strange race were supposed to sacrifice a certain number of children born under the first full moon of spring. For this the Mound Builders might have used the stone altar which has been found.

JOKE ON BOTH "CHAPPIES"

Some Particulars About Their English Raiment With Which They Were Not Acquainted.

It isn't exactly their swell brand of golf that entitles them to be so decidedly English in their apparel, but they've a "lawny" for the English raiment just the same.

"How do you like my English cap, old chap?" one of them asked.

"It's a turtle, old dear, but it isn't quite so English as mine," the other said.

"Oh, mine is, quite."

"No, not nearly."

And so they compared caps. But when they looked at the names of the makers it was discovered by the "decidedly English" follower that his cap had been made in New York. The other bore a London label—and, of course, you understand, old chap, it was quite a "lawf."

And the funny feature of it all is that the New York cap was made to appeal to the English trade, while the London cap was designed to catch the fancy of the Yank.

Muscle Not Properly Applied

Every day evidence appears that the American male is physically more powerful than his ancestors. The burglars who entered an apartment on Central Park West carried off not merely the little valuables, but also a safe weighing 400 pounds. Two thieves who operated in a restaurant in business hours abandoned the old school method of smothering the money from the till and took the cash register intact. Not a week passes but some warehouse reports the theft of a dozen barrels of whisky each of which weighs at least 350 pounds. School playgrounds, the baseball fields and the gymnasiums seem to have done wonders for the biceps of our youth in certain lines. But why is it, when an effort is made to divert some of this magnificent strength to commonplace work, that an apparent disintegration of muscle ensues?—New York Sun.

Wouldn't Have Dared to Say It

A recent bride received many telegrams of congratulation on the eventful day, but there was one in particular which was out of the ordinary. Her sister lives in New York and came on to Brockton for the wedding. In the evening the following telegram was received from her sister's "hubby" in New York:

"Congratulations on having taken my wife from me if only for a day. If you keep her there, will consider the marriage a great success. Heartiest condolences to F—in having joined the family. He doesn't know what he is up against and my great consolation is that I have a fellow sufferer who can sympathize with me regularly."

At first Mrs. M—was angry, but finally consented to have it read.—Brockton Enterprise.

Japan's Trade With North America

Japan's trade with North America for the first quarter of this year amounted to 201,824,000 yen in exports and 278,934,000 yen in imports, the balance being 77,110,000 yen. Compared with the corresponding period of last year, the figures show an increase of 114,348,000 yen in exports and of 102,744,000 yen in imports. The principal article for export was raw silk, while principal imports comprised raw cotton and iron.—East and West News.

New Insulating Material

A new insulating material is being made from a kind of kelp which is found in the Australian waters. The moist precipitate is subjected to pressure, after which it is hardened by a treatment with formalin and then it is shaped in a lathe. The material takes the place of slate and marble, which is largely in use for this purpose, and is much less expensive.—Exchange.

A Traveling Man's Experience

You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky.: "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take it according to directions. I took a bottle of it according to directions and went to sleep. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my order and took the train for my next stopping place, a well man."—Adv.

Shooting the Mines.

The U. S. Mine Sweeping Detachment has just returned from its work in the North Sea. The ever present danger of floating mines was counteracted by the sharp eyesight of the men who were behind the guns. Their job was to pick off the mines as they appeared and explode them by direct hits. The lives of the other men aboard and the safety of the ship depended on their keenness.

Retaining Attorney

PAUL W. VOORHIES

REPUBLICAN PRIMARIES,
AUGUST 31

Detroit News Says:

In the opinion of the Free Press the candidacy of Paul W. Voorhies for the position of prosecuting attorney gives the voters of Wayne County an opportunity they cannot afford to overlook.

Voorhies has had extensive experience as assistant and as assistant in the office he now aspires to conduct; and his record for conscientiousness and efficiency is exceptional.

When all of Mr. Voorhies' qualifications are taken into consideration, he seems to us to be decidedly the man Wayne County needs for the job. The voters may cast their ballots for him confident that they are performing their duty by the community.—Editorial, July 30, 1920.

What the Telephone means to You

Consider, for a moment, your home—or your business—without the telephone.

Think of the extra steps you would take otherwise in your daily work to keep in contact with different departments and people.

The amount of business you can do is definitely dependent upon this service which maintains your connection with the business world.

And if your business accomplishments are so affected by your telephone service, so, too, is your every-day home life.

Throughout the long day, your home and your friends are as intimately and surely near you as if you were with them in person.

The theatre—the garage—every comfort and necessity of life are literally at your elbow—at your beck and call.

And again, when danger threatens—when minutes are vital—when the doctor must be secured quickly—when fire or destruction are upon you, the telephone is the first and surest messenger of relief.

The Michigan State Telephone Company realizes fully the vital importance of the telephone to the community—the responsibility that is ours in maintaining this service to the people of Michigan at its highest efficiency.

By arriving in every possible way to fulfill this trust.

Our friendly and complete co-operation will do much to assist us in this work.

She'll Thrill A Million At Annual State Fair

This young lady is Ethel Dare who has proven girls have just as much sand as men by doing such stunts as changing from one plane to another 1,000 feet in the air while both are traveling 90 miles an hour. She is expected to thrill a million people at the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 2-12.

One year ago millions of persons all over America at various times were thrilled by seeing daring aviators loop the loop, and do tall spins and other stunts which then seemed the very acme of foolhardiness. Since then however a slip of a girl and two men have made such stunts in the air seem as commonplace as taking a ride behind an old fashioned carriage horse in a country lane.

Ethel Dare walks all over an airplane traveling 90 miles an hour 1,000 feet in the air. After doing a few other stunts such as swinging from a trapeze bar under the plane she crowns her program by standing up on the upper wing of one plane, seizing a rope ladder suspended from another plane flying above her and climbs up into the second machine.

Miss Dare is to be one of the star performers in the aviation day program at the Michigan State Fair which will be held Sept. 5. She also will appear on other days with other aerial acrobats during the 10 days of the fair from Sept. 2 to 12. Harry McLaughlin and M. L. Tinney, the latter a Detroit boy, are the other two who have found a new way to thrill crowds with stunts in an airplane. Both will appear with Miss Dare on aviation day and both also have been booked to do stunts on other days of the fair. McLaughlin, who gained considerable fame by being Roosevelt's physical instructor and boxing companion in the White House, swings by his teeth from a rope suspended from the bottom of a plane, does many hair raising tricks on a trapeze and winds up his stunts by hanging himself by the feet on a 50 foot rope suspended from the lower side of a plane.

HAVE MUCH ECONOMIC VALUE

Official of Museum of Natural History Tells of Importance of Bats in Jamaica.

Returning recently from the island of Jamaica, in the West Indies, where he spent four months on a scientific expedition, H. E. Anthony, associate curator of mammals at the Museum of Natural History, brought back with him many fine specimens of bats, which are numerous on that and other islands in the West Indies, says the New York Times.

"The only mammals native to the island today," Mr. Anthony said, "are 20 species of bats and one species of rodent. These different bats range in size from small bats, with a wing spread of six inches, up to very large bats, with a wing spread of from 28 to 30 inches."

People in the United States, where bats are comparatively rare animals, have no idea of the variety and abundance of them in such a place as Jamaica, or of the important economic value of the bat. They are either insect eating or feed on fruits. The insect-eating variety are small for the most part, and have considerable value as insect destroyers. They feed on mosquitoes and on a great variety of winged insect life, many of which are obnoxious to man or injurious to agriculture.

AUSTRALIA HAS MUCH IRON

Engineers Report Immense Quantities Available in the Southwest Part of the Country.

Mining engineers have reported to the Australian government that immense quantities of iron ore are available at Xampel sound, in southwest Australia. The estimate puts the amount of ore available—that is, in sight above sea-level—at 97,000,000 tons. The larger quantities are at Koolan island, where the lode rises 600 feet above the water line; the lode is over 100 feet wide, and is traced for nearly four miles, but really extends right through the island. On Cockatoo island the height is 900 feet, the lode running from end to end of the island.

The quality of the ore is exceptional. There is only 1 per cent of silice present and very little sulphur. These analyses compare favorably with the best known iron deposits in the world. Newfoundland (Bell Island) ore is 51.80 per cent metallic iron, with 9.8 per cent silica. The French ores run to 57.23 per cent, the Cumberland (England) to 48.80 per cent, the Spanish (Bilboa) to 60.84, and the Algerian to a mean of about 50.

Bolshevik Stud Farm.
In the Live Stock Journal of London a correspondent relates the observations of an English horse-trainer recently escaped from Russia. "The Bolsheviks went to all the stud farms and divided the stock among themselves. The best stallion in Russia, imported just before the war at an enormous expense, was given to a peasant, who took the horse off to his village in the hamper to keep his cart for a few days and then be slaughtered for food. This happened to me. I started an improved stud farm under nationalist management. They made it up of six stallions and one mare."

RETURN AFTER MANY YEARS

Tilfish Again Caught in Vast Numbers, Though They Were Believed to Have Been Wiped Out.

Tilfish are a fish with a short but remarkable history, writes a correspondent. Their discovery was dramatic. In May, 1878, Captain Kirby of the schooner Hutchings, out of Gloucester, Mass., was trawling for cod off the Nantucket banks. No cod was found, but a large fish, unknown to science, was present in great numbers. In a very short time 5,000 pounds of the new species were caught. The fish proved to be of high food value and good keeping qualities. There was a big popular demand for them, and huge quantities were caught for three years. Then the supply failed as suddenly as it had appeared. In the spring of 1882 the boats failed to catch a single tilfish. A few days later incoming boats reported having passed through miles of dead or dying tilfish. They covered an area of 5,000 square miles, and were estimated to number 1,000,000,000.

From 1882 to 1915 no trace of tilfish was found in any waters of the world, adds our correspondent. Scientific men were convinced that the fish had been suddenly and mysteriously exterminated. Then, early in 1915, a government boat, in almost the identical spot off the Nantucket banks as that in which tilfish were first taken, again caught some of the same species. Again there proved to be vast numbers of them, and new grounds were also discovered along the New Jersey coast. Since then the tilfish has been caught without interruption, but the riddle of its strange disappearance for 33 years has not yet been solved.—Manchester Guardian.

New Meaning of "Intrigue."

The latest verbal importation from France that I have had occasion to remark is no more than the conferring of a new meaning upon an old word. In English "to intrigue" has always meant to plot surreptitiously, whereas in French it was always used, (by extension) to indicate the state of puzzled doubt in which we may find ourselves when we have reason to suspect a surreptitious plot; and this secondary French meaning is now passing over into English, so that we may read in the light stories that run through our magazines, "she intrigued me," meaning that she puzzled me, and not meaning that she involved me in an intrigue. This Gallic secondary meaning will probably force itself into our yielding Anglo-Saxon, and we shall have hereafter the privilege of employing "to intrigue" in either of two different intents. I doubt if this will be to the profit of the language; but protest is idle, since the fate of a society always depends upon its ultimate sustenance.—Brander Matthews in Harper's Magazine.

A Great Remedy

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who had no occasion to use it until he had been afflicted with the disease. I had a personal case of this kind some years ago. I was afflicted with Colic and Diarrhoea, and was in a most wonderful condition. I have since recommended it to my friends. Advt.

Should WILLIAM H. GREEN, JR., Be Elected COUNTY AUDITOR?
YES! WHY?

Previous to his election as COUNTY TREASURER in 1918, he was for FIFTEEN YEARS connected with the COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE which should naturally qualify him for the position.

In taking office as COUNTY TREASURER, altho STRONGLY OPOSED by the COUNTY AUDITORS, he FORCED an AUDIT which DISCLOSED the DEPLORABLE CONDITION in the FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT of WAYNE COUNTY, resulting in the PUBLIC EXPOSURE of the LAX METHODS in ACCOUNTING and the REFUNDING of about $20,000 to WAYNE COUNTY.

As COUNTY TREASURER he has taken advantage of MODERN METHODS and PRACTICES, resulting in SAVINGS, and EFFECTIVE and APPRECIATED SERVICE.

The COUNTY AUDITOR'S OFFICE offers even GREATER POSSIBILITIES for such CONSTRUCTIVE WORK.

EPISODE I

ONCE upon a Time a Stranger came to a City, bringing with him a Large Tin Medal. The Medal was to be pinned on the breast of THE BIGGEST LUNTHEAD to be found in the City.

The Stranger went about the City in search of The Person who deserved the Medal, and finally he found a Man WHO WOULD NOT WORK. This Man told the stranger that THE WORLD OWED HIM A LIVING, and that HE COULD BE HAPPY and could get through Life all right WITHOUT DOING ANY WORK.

The Stranger announced that his search for THE BIGGEST LUNTHEAD was over, and he then pinned the Large Tin Medal on the breast of THE MAN WHO WOULD NOT WORK.

The Great Lunthead Mystery

Follow the Travels of the Famous Medal Designed to be Worn by the Person Proving the Right to be Known to the World as the Biggest Lunthead.

EPISODE II

WHEN the Stranger pinned the Medal for being the BIGGEST LUNTHEAD on the breast of the MAN WHO WOULD NOT WORK, he told him to wear it only while he felt sure he was the BIGGEST LUNTHEAD.

So the MAN WHO WOULD NOT WORK wore the Medal and as he did not work he had time to think. As the Medal made him think he saw Other Men were GETTING HIGHER UP in the WORLD BY WORKING. He saw Others were HAPPY because they WORKED. And he saw that if HE wanted to GET ANYWHERE he would have to WORK.

So he got a JOB and he found that work is EASIER THAN LOAFING. So he decided that he did not have any right to hold the BIGGEST LUNTHEAD Medal—and he went out and pinned it on the breast of THE MAN WHO IS ALWAYS LOOKING FOR A NEW JOB.

A Traveling Man's Experience
You may learn something from the following by W. H. Ireland, a traveling salesman of Louisville, Ky.: "In the summer of 1888 I had a severe attack of cholera morbus. I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy and to take no substitute. I took a double dose of it, according to directions and went to sleep at one o'clock. The next morning I was called by my order and took the train for my next stopping place, a well man."—Adv.

Seven Things To Be Sure Of

IN THE PURCHASE OF YOUR PIPELESS HEATING SYSTEM

1. That the quality of heating service assures a comfortable, clean, healthful home in any weather.
2. That the convenience of simple operation, regulation, and quick heating compares favorably with much more expensive types of heating systems.
3. That the low first cost is due to economy of material and labor instead of cheapness of construction.
4. That the fuel bill can be reduced from 1-4 to 1-3—enough to save handsome dividends on the amount invested.
5. That the "upkeep" or expense for repairs is positively less than any other types of heating systems.
6. That you are protected at all times, because of the manufacturer's refusal to authorize installation where their trained heating engineers cannot safely guarantee it to operate efficiently in your home, their decision being made after careful study of conditions in your home—no guess work—thus protecting all concerned.
7. That the purchase will increase the value of your property more than the amount invested.

ALL ARE TRUE OF THE ROUND OAK THAT'S WHY WE SELL AND RECOMMEND IT

WAYNE COUNTY MAN SEEKS NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

THE HUMAN SIDE OF FRANK B. LELAND PRESENTS INTERESTING BIT OF READING.

A candidate for office should not be judged by what he promises, but by what he already has accomplished and by what the people know he really stands for. Measured by that rule, what kind of a man is Frank B. Leland, candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket at the primaries to be held the 31st of August?

Business Qualifications
Mr. Leland first demonstrated his business capacity when he entered the University of Michigan with one hundred dollars as his total resources, which sum he borrowed, took six full years of college work in that time, each summer by canvassing earning sufficient to pay one year's expenses in the University and at the end not owing a dollar in the world and having received no financial assistance whatever from any person.

Interest in Education
Mr. Leland always has been actively interested in educational matters. At sixteen he was a teacher in a district school in Michigan, and for over twelve years he has been one of the Regents of our University, acting continuously as chairman of the finance committee of the University during nearly the whole of that time and still occupying that position.

His Human Side
No one in Michigan ever has shown greater interest in the health and welfare of the poor than has Mr. Leland, his greatest endeavor in this direction being evidenced by his efforts toward bettering the condition of those of our people afflicted with tuberculosis, both in Detroit and elsewhere. For five years he was president of the Michigan State Sanitarium. This position he resigned for the purpose of taking up the work in Detroit, where he first suggested the plan of erecting the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium. This institution is now in its eleventh year, having cared for upwards of four thousand of the tuberculosis poor of Detroit and vicinity.

Mr. Leland designed and erected the first school for tuberculosis children in this country at his own expense and presented it to the city of Detroit, in addition to an open air school room, containing dining room, kitchen, bath rooms and a large rest room. The success of this school was such that the year following its opening at the suggestion of the Detroit Board of Education, Mr. Leland erected another school of similar design and presented it to the city, teachers for both these schools being furnished by the Detroit Board of Education.

A year later a single American soldier having tuberculosis returned from Europe, Mr. Leland anticipated the ravages which this disease was sure to make among the ranks of our men.

The following letter from Dr. F. B. Broderick, state welfare officer of the American Legion of Michigan, and published in the Legionaire is self-explanatory.
Hon. Frank B. Leland, President of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanitarium, Detroit, Mich.

My Dear Mr. Leland:
I am sorry to have delayed so long in thanking you for your kindness in caring for the tubercular ex-service men. We looked in vain for a long time for a place to put them, and your institution was the first one to give us a haven of refuge.

I know the ex-service men, as a whole, in the state of Michigan, join me in thanking you for this great aid. In my mind the tubercular is the one who needs help most.

Again thanking you for your unselfish aid in taking care of this class of ex-service men. Believe me,
F. B. BRODERICK, M. D., State Welfare Officer.

He stands firmly for economy in administration.

He believes a substantial reduction in taxes can be brought about by careful business management, and he believes it is possible to secure for the state a dollar in service and material for every dollar expended, and if elected governor, will assist in every way possible to bring about this result.

Mr. Leland's friends believe he is amply qualified to be the chief executive of his native state. Born and reared on an Oakland county farm, which he still owns and operates, experienced in the practice of law and successful in business. Indeed, the life of Frank B. Leland has been an inspiration to the sons of many of the farmers, mechanics, business and professional men of Michigan.

With Mr. Leland governor of Michigan, no resident of this state will have any doubt that Detroit affairs will be properly, conscientiously and economically administered.

This item is published and paid for by Frank B. Leland's Oakland and Wayne county friends who believe he is deserving of your vote at the primaries, August 31.—Adv't.

Some folks have so much faith in the Lord that they expect Him to spray the orchard, weed the sugar beets, hoe the corn, and keep the barn door on its hinges. They seem to forget that His part is to send the seasons, the sunshine and the rain, and seem to forget that "Faith without works is dead."

THE women should certainly be thankful for the automobile. It has given them a chance to see a lot more of their husbands.

they're beginning to insist on knowing what they are getting.

And the more they insist, the better it will be for us.

But it has done a great deal more than that.

We want our customers to know what they are getting.

It has brought people closer together, given them new interests, swept away old prejudices.

That's why we represent U. S. Tires—so there will be no doubt about it.

What affects one man now generally affects a good many of his neighbors in the same way. And they have a better chance to get together and talk things over.

Whatever the size of your car, you know that the U. S. Tire you put on it is the best kind of tire its makers know how to make.

It's had its effect on the tire business.

U. S. Tires are guaranteed for life, without any limitation of mileage.

When automobiles were new people were willing to buy any kind of a tire. Now

That ought to mean something to the man who has thought about tires.

CONGRESSMAN MICHENER HERE MONDAY

Congressman Earl C. Michener of Adrian, was in town for a short time, Monday afternoon. Mr. Michener is confident that he will be re-elected at the coming primaries, Tuesday, August 31, having received assurances from many people throughout the district of their loyal support.

During the two years of Mr. Michener's term of office as representative of the second district, of which Plymouth is a part, he has made a splendid record. He has had the welfare and interests of his constituents at heart at all times, and has always been found ready to render his services in their behalf on every request. The promptness in which he has rendered these services has made for him thousands of friends throughout the district.

During the two years Mr. Michener has been in Congress, he has been a member of the rivers and harbors committee, a most important one, especially to the state of Michigan, he being the only member from this state. Mr. Michener also had the honor to be the only new member of Congress who was sent to France after the close of the war with the committee on investigation, looking toward the re-organization of the army, future legislation, etc.

ATTENDED REUNIONS

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Becker and family motored to Fenton, last week, to attend two family reunions. The Cornell reunion, of which Mr. Becker is a descendant, was held at the farm home of Mr. Becker's brother, Wallace Becker, on Wednesday, Aug. 18, at Tyrone, five miles south of Fenton. There were 100 relatives present and a picnic dinner was served on the lawn at noon. Mr. Becker shook hands with relatives from Howell, Hartland, Battle Creek, Lansing, Carleton and Fenton. The day was ideal and all voted it a day well spent, and departed for home at a late hour to meet with F. L. Becker a year hence.

The second annual Jaynes reunion, of which Mrs. Becker is a descendant, was held at the home of Ray Welch at Fenton, Thursday, August 19. It was a beautiful day, and the Jaynes descendants turned out to the number of 114. A pot-luck dinner was served at noon, and before departing ice cream and cake. Relatives were present from Detroit, Caro, Holly, Flint, Durand, Mt. Morris, Gaines, Linden, Tonla, Plymouth and Youngstown, Ohio. Judge Jaynes of Detroit, is one of the number and is a very enthusiastic member, having only missed one year being present. He is always on the alert to learn any information about the former ancestors. The day was certainly enjoyed by all. It was voted to accept the invitation to meet in Tuscola county next year.
