PLYMOUTH WINS SECOND IN MUSIC MEMORY TEST

Six Schools Took Part in the Contest Which Was Held in Orchestra Hall, Detroit, Last Friday Afternoon.

The third annual Music Memory Contest for the Detroit public, parochial and suburban schools was held in Orchestra Hall, Detroit, last Friday afternoon.

The suburban schools competing in the contest were Redford, Plymouth, Ecorse, Grosse Pointe, Dearborn and Trenton. Each school was represented by a team of ten pupils. Prizes were awarded to the two teams having the highest total of scores; Redford receiving first prize of twenty-five dollars and Plymouth the second of ten dollars.

Before the final contest in Detroit, a local contest was given for the purpose of selecting the teams to represent the school. The following people were chosen: Marguerite Wood, Billy Kirkpatrick, Dora Gallimore, Madelon Shingleton, Velda Larkins, Ruth Suth, Doris Jewell, Alice Chambers, Charlie Hamilton and Jean Strong.

At the contest the Detroit Symphony Orchestra played ten themes selected from the twenty-five compositions, which comprised the music memory list. After hearing each theme, the contestants wrote the name of the composition, the composer and his nationality, deduction being made for misspelling. Although there were no perfect score papers, the children did very well, Billy Kirkpatrick having the highest score on the Plymouth team.

The contest has meant a great deal of work for those who have taken part in it. In spite of that fact, all have been fully repaid for they have learned to appreciate and familiarize themselves with some of our best music.

This success is a real honor to the school and community, as well as to Miss Ruth Forsythe, director of music, and to the pupils taking part in the music memory work who were able to compete on the 19th.

WILL LOCATE GENERAL OFFICES IN PLYMOUTH

The General Machine & Iron Works of this place have leased the residence property formerly owned by F. B. Park on Main street, and now owned by Mrs. Kate E. Allen, and will use it for office purposes. The company will move their general offices here from Detroit, where they have been located ever since the business was established. The production plant of the company being located here, it will greatly facilitate the handling of the business for the general offices to be located nearer to the plant.

Aside from the general business office, the engineering department and the sales office will also be located in the same building. The large house and its modern conveniences will make ideal quarters for the offices of the company. The present office force will come to Plymouth from the city, which will mean the addition of seven more families to Plymouth.

SCROGGIN-BULL

At three o'clock Saturday afternoon, March 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Huston, 1071 Holbrook avenue, Leroy Scroggin and Miss Phyllis Bull, both of Detroit, were united in marriage by Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of the Baptist church, who read the ring ceremony for the marriage service. Mr. and Mrs. George VanTangerloo attended them. The bride was gowned in peach colored crepe de chine and navy blue messaline, highly embroidered. The bridesmaid wore pale gray crepe de chine.

Mrs. Huston is a sister of Mrs. Scroggin. Mr. Scroggin is employed at the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Co., while Mrs. Scroggin has been in the office of the J. L. Hudson Co. for some time. They go to their newly furnished apartment on Euclid avenue, Detroit.

H. C. ROBINSON CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF COMMISSION

At the meeting of the village commission held Monday evening, Harry C. Robinson was re-elected president of the commission for the ensuing year. During the past year, Mr. Robinson has given much time and attention to the municipal affairs of the village and in again choosing him as president for the coming year, the members of the commission not only paid him a splendid compliment, but his selection will meet with the general approval of the citizens of Plymouth. Mr. Robinson's long experience in municipal affairs and the interest he has always taken in the welfare and growth of Plymouth, particularly fits him for this responsible position.

Frank J. Pierce was named to fill the vacancy on the commission by the resignation of Commissioner John W. Henderson, who resigned his short term to fill his full two-year elective term. Mr. Henderson was appointed a short time ago to fill the place of Commissioner Frank Ranbo, who moved outside the village limits. Mr. Pierce has previously served on the village council, and he is well qualified to fill the office of commissioner, and his appointment will also meet with the hearty approval of our citizens.

DEATH OF LEWIS B. LANGS

Lewis B. Langs, more affectionately known as Dad, to a wide circle of friends, passed away last Saturday morning at eight o'clock at his home, 600 South Main street, after an illness of only a couple of days, with an attack of the flu. On next Monday, he would have been seventy-eight years of age, and for some days had been planning a birthday dinner for himself and friends to whom he had endeared himself by his always jovial disposition. Mr. Langs was born March 29, 1848, in Norfolk County, Ontario, where he resided until 1887, when he moved to Detroit, engaging in the real estate business, being still well remembered by the older generation as an extensive operator. In 1901, he moved to his farm at Newburg, coming to Plymouth about ten years ago. He was deeply in love with our city, and of late years could hardly be persuaded to leave it even for a visit of a day or two duration.

His wife having preceded him to rest a little over a year ago, he leaves two sons to mourn their loss, Frank E. of Detroit, and S. Roy of this place.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, with interment in Riverside cemetery.

Fisher will operate a shoe repairing shop.

MANY ATTENDED OPENING OF NEW PLUMBING SHOP.

Many people attended the opening of Albert Williams' new plumbing shop in the new Odd Fellow temple block, last Saturday afternoon and evening. Each visitor was presented with a neat little souvenir as a memento of the occasion. Everybody was delighted with the handsome new store, and Mr. Williams was the recipient of congratulations and best wishes from the many who visited the store on opening day.

The New Occupant

The Plymouth & Northville Gas Co. have about completed plans that will double the producing capacity of the local plant, and when all the improvements have been completed, Plymouth will have as modern and well equipped gas plant as can be found in the state. Manager Harry K. Wrench stated to a representative of the Mail, that the preliminary work had already commenced at the local plant on these improvements, and the coming season will be a busy one, and much additional labor will find employment in making the improvements and laying the forty miles of new mains that will carry the gas to the village of Wayne and nearby subdivisions. It will require ten miles of mains to take the gas to the village of Wayne; fifteen miles of mains in that village, and fifteen miles to cover the Marquette Park development. Besides the village of Wayne, the following subdivisions will be supplied with gas from the local plant: Rose-

WOMAN'S CLUB

The meeting of the Woman's Club in the Methodist Community Hall, last Friday afternoon, was one of the finest meetings that has been held this year. All people who did not attend surely missed something that was extremely worth-while.

The Kiwanis orchestra, in their black and white suits, furnished several "catchy" numbers. Little Junior Zimmerman of a Detroit, sang a number of old songs and a few new ones that were appreciated very much.

The speaker of the afternoon was Dean Jean Hamilton of the University of Michigan, sent here by the U. of M. Extension Course. Miss Hamilton is a woman of charming personality, both on and off the platform, and she handled her subject, "The Social Ideals of Today," in an instructive and interesting way. The audience was left with the feeling that they could have listened to her wonderful flow of language and excellent thoughts for a much longer time. The program committee of this year are to be congratulated on the type

A PROCLAMATION

Department of Conservation, Lansing, March 17, 1926. In view of the fact that the European corn borer is threatening to destroy the corn crop of Michigan, one of the important farm crops of this state, and in view of the fact that the United States government in co-operation with the State Department of Agriculture has outlined the quarantined areas comprising the counties of Huron, Sanilac, Tuscola, Genesee, LaPere, St. Clair, Macomb, Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw, Wayne, Monroe, Lenawee, the southeast township of Jackson county, the east half of Saginaw county, and the southern part of Bay county, and in view of the fact that the State Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the United States department of agriculture has issued rules and regulations providing for the burning of the refuse, including the corn stubble, as a means of destroying the European corn borer, I deem it advisable for the general good of agriculture that these rules and regulations be carried out and that the provisions of Act 143 of the public Acts of 1923, as amended by Act 841 of the Public Acts of 1925, be construed so as to allow the burning of stubble and refuse in farm fields without a written permit where due precaution is taken to prevent the spread of the fire, in view of the fact that this is an emergency, which has arisen since the passage of this Act and may not last indefinitely. The above will be the position taken by the State Conservation Department until you are advised to the contrary. JOHN BAIRD, Director.

FAMOUS BAND COMING HERE

NUMBER ONE SALVATION ARMY BAND OF LONDON, ONTARIO, WILL GIVE CONCERT IN PLYMOUTH, SATURDAY.

The famous London No. 1 Salvation Army Band of London, Canada, will be visiting us on Saturday, April 3rd. This is one of the most outstanding of the many splendid musical organizations of the Army in Canada, and no doubt will live up to their enviable reputation while here. Each of the men who were of military age have seen active service in the Great War. They will be at Northville for an open-air concert from 6:00 until 6:30 p. m.; then on the bandstand here in Plymouth from 7:00 until 7:30 p. m., and then will render a lengthy program in Masonic temple, which will be presided over by Lt.-Col. David McAmmond of London, who accompanies the band on their trip to Plymouth and Detroit. Their program will present many interesting features, including vocal numbers, stringed trios, instrumental quartettes, saw solos, band selections, marches, etc. The Boy Scouts and the Hi-Y Club with the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Snavely and Mr. Holcomb, have the tickets for sale for the concert in the Masonic temple.

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE AT LOCAL THEATRE.

The first of the vaudeville entertainments in connection with the feature picture at the Penniman Allen theatre on Wednesday evening, took place on Wednesday evening of this week. There was a large crowd present, and judging from the liberal applause that greeted every act on the program, the audience was highly pleased with the entertainment. Every one of the five acts was high class, and the best that has ever been seen in Plymouth. The troop of Scotch Highlanders in their song, dance and musical number was especially good. The feature picture, Pola Negri in "A Woman of the World," was extra good. Finzel's five-piece orchestra of Detroit, furnished the music for the vaudeville numbers. The stage furnishings were supplied by Schrader Bros., and added not a little to the success of the entertainment.

NEW CIVIL ENGINEER COMING TO PLYMOUTH.

In the past, it has often been necessary to send to Detroit or elsewhere for engineers to make surveys, estimates, etc. Believing that he is filling a long felt want Herald F. Hamill is moving from Ann Arbor to 120 Union street, Plymouth. Mr. Hamill is the son of F. W. Hamill of the Pere Marquette, and his wife formerly Miss Mildred Tyler of Plymouth. Both are graduates of Plymouth High school, and Mr. Hamill of the U. of M. He comes well equipped with the latest engineering instruments and five years of successful experience along his line. He will trade his house in Ann Arbor for Plymouth property or sell and buy or build here, which shows he is casting his lot with Plymouth people for better or worse. The fact that he resigned a good position with Prof. Atwell of Ann Arbor to come here and go into business for himself is proof he believes in the future growth and prosperity of our community. The Mail wishes him every success.

 BY THE MANAGER

TAKING A STRAW VOTE
 Citizens of Plymouth who keep posted on national affairs doubtless have noticed with interest the "straw vote" on the Volstead, or prohibition amendment, now being conducted by a large group of daily papers throughout the country. And they also note, no doubt, the attempt being made by several members of congress to bring the argument before that body in such form that some kind of action will be taken toward amending it.

The Village Commission of 1925 came to an end Monday evening, and adjourned sine die. The terms of office of Mr. Hillmer and Mr. Wilcox expired at the same time. The new commission, on being called to order by the clerk, chose Mr. Robinson to be village president for another year. They then appointed Mr. Frank J. Pierce as commissioner to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Henderson, who resigned his short term to fill his full two year elective term.

We have never used the columns of this paper for a discussion of the merits or demerits of the prohibition act. We have always felt, and still feel, that it is a matter for each individual to thresh out for himself, and that each individual is entitled to his or her own opinion. Congress has passed a prohibition amendment, and bitter arguments among our citizens will not be apt to affect it either way. If those newspapers conducting the "straw vote" feel that they can change it, then they are entitled to whatever comfort such a feeling will give them. One thing they do not force anyone to take part in their "straw vote," so no harm can result from it.

Next Tuesday night, bids will be received for the construction of the 1926 sanitary sewers and also for the purchase of the sewer and water bonds of this year's series.

But, be you wet or dry, you must feel more or less interested in a nation wide survey of opinion on the subject and, like millions of others you will doubtless watch it closely, even though you may not have taken an actual hand in the voting.

The fire department answered a call Sunday morning, to the house of Christ Schiesewitz on Maple street, where there was a small roof fire. A little chemical soon put out the blaze, with the loss of a few old shingles.

HIS STILL NEEDED
 Reports from Washington show the government is having a hard time finding enough desirable horses to equip the cavalry branch of our army, since the best horses are now bringing fancy prices for city work. And in the country animals which would have been considered "scrubs" and which would have brought scrub prices a few years ago, are now selling at good prices. We've argued all along that the Plymouth citizen who declares the auto is sounding the death-knell of the horse is forecasting too far ahead, and this ought to prove it. For general farm work, for short hauls and for getting in and out of narrow and steep places the horse will always prove best. As long as we use cavalrymen we must also have horses. There may not be as many of them as there used to be, but if you think they are not as valuable as they ever were, just go out and price one.

The contract for water meters for this season was again awarded to the Badger Meter Company of Milwaukee. These meters in the ordinary house size, cost us $8.85 each, without the connections.

A TIP TO MERCHANTS
 Income taxes have been paid for this year, and it is interesting to know that several million who had to pay something last year were fully exempt, and had nothing to pay this time. Reduction in the tax on autos and tires and many other articles, enables the American people to spend over $250,000,000 for other things this year, since that much has been lopped off of income taxes. It is but natural that this vast sum will find its way into the hands of the retail trade of the entire country. It will be felt everywhere, and Plymouth should not be an exception. And it is also true that those who will spend the money that otherwise would have gone as taxes will buy the things they see advertised. In other words, the merchant who makes a bid for this extra trade, and these extra dollars through the columns is most apt to get it. Here, then, is a tip that any live, wide-awake tradesman can profit by. Advertise for these extra dollars instead of letting someone else take them from you by the same method.

OBITUARY
 Thomas Luther Bussey was born in Salem township, Michigan, December 12, 1848, and departed this life March 18, 1926, at the age of 77 years and 3 months. He was the youngest of six children born to Thomas and Harriet Bussey, one of whom, Mrs. A. J. Stark of Rushton, survives him. In April, 1871, he was united in marriage to Lydia Kingsley. Four children were born to them, Mrs. A. C. Wheeler of South Lyon; Calvin L. of Pittsburgh, Pa.; John W. of Detroit, Michigan; and Edgar A. who died April 17, 1904.

Sixty-five years of his life were spent on the farm 3 1/2 miles south of Salem, which was taken up from the government by his father. Thirteen years ago in June, he sold the farm, and moved to the home in Salem, where he died. Over thirty years ago he was converted to the Christian faith, and was baptised in the old M. E. church west of Lapham's Corners. He was ever a devoted husband, a tender father, and a good neighbor.

our school. As our third grade had been excused, their third and fourth contested against our fourth grade. Oscar Luttermoser of Stark school won. Fifth grade contest was won by Geraldine Schmidt; sixth grade was won by a pupil of Elm school and several pupils standing. Seventh grade was won by two Stark school pupils, Viola Luttermoser and Phyllis Kahrl. Philip Kregor of Elm school and Edna Bohl of Stark school failed on the same word. The champion of each grade then stood up to see who was the champion of the two schools, which was won by Viola Luttermoser of Stark school.

Friday, March 19th, was the day the Detroit News set aside to see who was the champion of each grade. Geraldine Schmidt was the champion of the fifth grade; Eula Kuhn of the sixth grade; Roy Schmidt of the seventh grade and Helen Schmidt of the eighth grade.

The second, third and fourth grades also contested to see who was the champion. Dorothy Adams was the champion of the second grade; Max Preston of the third grade, and Ruth Schmidt of the fourth grade. Our visitors were Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. DeFer.

Monday morning, Mrs. Blake visited the school to listen to the third grade arithmetic.

The annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held Wednesday, March 31. Ice cream and cake will be served. All parents or members of the district are especially requested to attend.

This letter brought on a discussion of the number of men who should answer out of town fire calls with the apparatus, and on motion it was directed that not more than six men should accompany the truck to out of town calls.
An investigation of the freight rates on road oil having shown that the comparative prices per gallon delivered in Plymouth for this year, if furnished by the American Oil Corporation would be 7 cents, and if furnished by the Standard Oil Company, 6.65 cents, making a difference of about $100.00 on the contract. On motion the order for the oil was directed to be given to the Standard Oil Company.
A petition from interested property owners was then presented, requesting a storm sewer on Joy street. On motion this petition was granted, the work to be done in its proper order.

On motion Mr. William Petz and Mr. John Larkins were appointed to act with the Village Assessor in working out the assessment.
The Commission then upon motion authorized the borrowing of five thousand and no-100 ($5,000.00) dollars to take care of the Village share of this street opening. One thousand and no-100 ($1,000.00) dollars of which was to be placed in the 1926 budget and two thousand and no-100 ($2,000.00) dollars with interest to be placed in the budgets of 1927 and 1928.

Three Rows From the Front

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright)

THE great singer, bowing graciously to the applause inspired by his opening selection, noticed that the girl was there again, three rows from the front and in the center.

He had first seen her in Oakland, then in Denver, and had continued to find her at each recital in the various cities he visited on his coast-to-coast tour. Always she sat, as now, rapt, adoring, and, at the close of each song, clapping with her little hands.

He seized his accompanist, young Pierre Diderot, and led him forward, at which the little hands clapped harder than ever at the great singer's generosity in sharing the plaudits of the audience.

Unfortunately for his peace of mind, the girl was getting to be a necessity to the man. He had grown to look for her first of all, and if by any chance she was late his heart sank. And then when she did come in, her mauve evening cape over her slender arm, he revived again like a drooping plant after a shower, and was willing even to sing the "Volga Boat Song" as an encore.

To his audience Orloff Siechiensky was the great master, superb and supreme. To his manager, he was a refractory child who, if properly controlled and kept clear of entangling alliances with women who made fools of themselves over him, would continue to bring in with his golden voice vast sums of money at each performance.

Therefore, when, during the brief intermission, Orloff remarked that he was sending a note by an usher asking a certain charming lady to be shown into his presence, the manager frowned. But he very well knew that it was poor business to cross Orloff in the middle of a recital. He was quite capable of refusing to appear at all again that evening.

Yet something must be done. "Very well," he said to Orloff resignedly. "Give me your note and I give you my word I will deliver it at once. There, they are still clapping you. You must go on again."

It was after his rendering of an old Polish folk song that Orloff saw an usher approach the occupant of the center seat three rows from the front and after that the girl sat for a long time with her head bowed. When she finally raised it he could see that her eyes were shining.

After the last encore Orloff hurried from the stage to clasp the slender hand of a dark-haired girl and gaze into a pair of steady eyes.

"I am flattered by your regular attendance at my recitals," he said, speaking slowly, for his English was never at its best during emotional moments. "You are my inspiration."

The girl raised fathomless eyes to his. "Thank you," she said quietly. "You are to me the greatest of masters. But it is your pianist that I pursue, Pierre. We are to be married soon, but I follow to keep my eyes on him. These young artists are like wax in the hands of the flattering women. I have the time and the money, so I spend them both to keep him safe for me. Oh, I see him hardly at all. Once in a while a little dinner or a few words on the train"—she shrugged her shoulders.

Orloff's manager, carefully within earshot, grinned. "Bravo—bravo!" he said to himself. "The girl is a clever little actress. My suggestion and check, sent along with his note, were an inspiration. If only Pierre does not spoil it by bursting in and swearing he never saw the girl! How devilishly disagreeable Orloff looks with that frown on his forehead!"

Yes, Orloff looked for all the world like a very large little boy who sees a stick of candy about to be taken away from him. He had dropped the slender hand and was already sick of the interview.

"Pierre—Pierre!" she shouted suddenly, to the consternation of his manager.

"No—no, Siechiensky, Pierre has gone ahead to attend to your luggage." "What's that, monsieur?" Pierre rushed in hurriedly. "Did you wish—Nem de ciel, is it you whom I see—L'angele? Pourquo!"

"Pierre," the girl rushed into his arms. "The master sent for me and the other one—he wrote me this note and"—she held out a check and waved it in the direction of the manager, whom the rapid turns of his wheel of fortune had made speechless—"and I can't keep it because all I have said was the truth!"

"Oh," said the manager grandly. "Consider, my children, that it is my wedding present to you both."

Then: "Come, Siechiensky," he pleaded soothingly, "or you will miss your train and break the hearts of the two thousand people that await you."

Outside in the darkness he mopped his brow. It had the earmarks of a narrow escape.

Are With Us Again

Arkansas and Mississippi have inaugurated the 1926 Windstorm season. A tornado and heavy windstorm are responsible for the loss of many lives and considerable destruction of property. The entire town of Tisdale, Mississippi, was virtually demolished.

It recalls to mind the terrific destruction caused in five mid-western states just about a year ago. Then there was the visitation to New England last fall when wind ripped its destructive way through Woburn, Massachusetts, and adjoining towns.

WINDSTORM INSURANCE with this agency will protect you against this unpreventable cause of loss. The cost is very low, only $4.00 for $1,000.00 worth of insurance for three years.

Why Clare Paved with Portland Cement Concrete

When the business men of Clare, Michigan, decided it was time to pave the city's main thoroughfare, they wanted assured protection against costly repairs. They wanted a pavement that would remain true and even, firm and rigid under all kinds of traffic.

That's why they decided on portland cement concrete—the pavement you recognize by its non-skid surface and its pleasing, light gray color.

Tourists passing through Clare always praise its concrete pavement. Some day they will no doubt have the pleasure of driving on concrete over M-14, the heavily traveled highway leading to the famous summer resorts of the North Country.

Concrete on M-14 will mean a great deal to local prosperity in the years ahead. Don't just say "pave." Say "pave with portland cement concrete."

All of the facts are in our free booklet on "Concrete Streets." Ask for your copy.

Triple Seals

Reduce Engine Wear

WAR was declared on engine wear when Buick introduced the "Triple Sealed Engine" in the Better Buick.

Buick first perfected the "Sealed Chassis" which barricades each operating part inside a tight-fitting iron or steel housing.

Now, the "Triple Sealed Engine" (oil cleaner, oil filter, gasoline filter) has been added to the protection for Buick performance. Every possible avenue for the entry of dirt and grit is guarded, avoiding looseness, vibration, and all the other ills that dirt and grit can cause.

Because of the "Sealed Chassis" alone, Buick is a more dependable motor car. The additional protection of the "Triple Seal" still further reduces Better Buick upkeep costs.

The Better Buick offers the best in modern motor car design at a very moderate price. Come in and see the "Sealed Chassis," the "Triple Sealed Engine" and the many other superior features of this better motor car.

One of the Two Seats

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

MOTHER, I think it's too disgusting the way these people dock at the tennis tournaments. I have tried all over London and can't get a single seat for the finals, and it's one of the reasons I chose to come here for my holidays—I did so want to see Lenglen and Miss McKane and Miss Ryan and all the bunch of champions at Wimbledon."

"There, there, dearie," consoled her mother. "I have tried to get a word in edgewise and tell you that I have just found in the Personal column—I always read the personals, they are so amusing—one which offers two seats for sale for the games."

"Oh, mother, shall I dash straight off to get them? You will come, too, won't you?"

"Now, Molly, you know I would pass right on if I had to sit through a tennis match in a crowd of several thousands."

So Molly rushed off to the first taxi she saw and on to the address of a flat in Upper Brook street in quest of the ticket.

Arriving there and being admitted she found that the young man who had got there one minute before her had the tickets in his hand and was even then producing the necessary two pounds.

"Oh," wailed Molly, looking straight into the young man's blue eyes. "I've come all the way from America to see one of these great games and now I can't get a single seat."

"I say, that's rotten luck. Here, you have one of these. One is all I want." He told the yarn easily.

She drew a pound from her neat bag and took the ticket with a smile that sank to the very depths of the young man's heart. Also with American frankness she held out a slim hand and colored slightly at the warm pressure it received as she took it to thank him.

Molly felt she could hardly wait until the day she dressed her prettiest to go to Wimbledon.

Her heart sank down into her very dainty boots when, upon finally reaching her seat in the center court, she found that what she had been hoping was not to be. There was no nice young man with blue eyes beside her, but a young lady whose attitude as Molly sat down was not in the least cordial.

Molly realized that this was the other of the two seats, for on her left side was a large party of some eight or ten, so the aristocratic young lady must be the friend of the very nice young man.

"I'm so sorry," she said with appealing friendliness, "that I took this seat—the gentleman who had it told me he only wanted one, and now I know he gave it up. I wish I could get it back to him. I believed him when he said he didn't want it."

Lady Sybel Hove looked frankly at Molly. "My brother would say that," she told her. "He has been looking forward to seeing this set for months, but he said he would edge in somewhere. Please don't feel so badly," she added swiftly for Molly looked so distressed that Sybel's heart smote her. "A man can always make his way in."

Half an hour later when the greatest of world tennis champions were hard at play on the courts, Lady Sybel and Molly were clutching each other in excitement and munching chocolates alternately.

When the exciting games were over and the thousands of good-natured people swarming to the various exit gates, Lady Sybel turned to Molly.

"You will come for a cup of tea, won't you? Jack will be delighted to have a chat with you. He and I are taking a long trip over to your country this autumn and you must tell us all about what to see."

Molly blushed shyly and accepted happily.

There was no slightest doubt as to Lord Hove's delight when he realized that Sybel had succeeded in what he hoped, without having asked her, she would do. She had become acquainted with the girl whose green eyes he had not been able to forget since they had gazed into his own.

The second meeting was even more wonderful than the first and no one looking at Molly and Lord Hove could think anything save that they were suddenly, desperately and most happily in love. Sybel saw it right away and wondered what color her bridesmaid's gown would be.

And when the great ocean liner nosed into the dock in New York a scant month later the photographers were all there to snap the arriving bridegroom and the bridesmaid as they met the bride.

Would Lord Hove, or would he not, kiss his bride-to-be?

That was what the newspaper men wondered.

All the Sunday editions would tell the answer—one way or the other.

TEMPLE THEATRE

Detroit, Michigan

Bob and Gale Sherwood and Their Entertainers will headline the bill at H. P. Keith's Temple Theatre for the week starting Sunday matinee, March 28. The Sherwoods have a big singing and dancing flash with a company of twelve versatile people. The act is well staged and gorgeously costumed. It is one of the outstanding hits in big time vaudeville. Others billed: Wells, Virginia and West offer their latest skit, "Two Sailors and A Girl"; Bert Errol, England's famous female impersonator presenting modes and melodies; Miss Eva Clark with Dan Clasper in a song cycle; Howard Langford and Mildred Myra, musical comedy favorites in their song skit, "Speak Easy"; Fred Galecki and Iola Kolin introducing "Umtala," the only dancing monkey in vaudeville; Castleton and Mack, eccentric dancers; Kapanawa Trio, Japanese equilibrists; and the screen subjects.

The Job That Came to Helen

By JANE OSBORN

"PETER, you don't understand," said Helen for the tenth time that evening. It was midsummer then and they were walking together along the ocean's edge.

"Cut that out about my not understanding," said Peter, not without some courtesy. "I understand what you think you mean—you mean that you think just because you have spent four years in college and have come off with a degree you are too well educated to be my wife. Rot and rubbish! What I also understand is that I love you very much, in spite of your foolish notions, and that you are not the sort of girl, Helen, the Voe, who is going to be content with just a career, if that's what you call it."

"I'll always go on caring a great deal for you, Peter," she said and there was a little quiver in her voice. "Only now that I've got my degree I really think I ought to use it. I can't give up my ideals—even for you, Peter."

Helen wanted to succeed in some sort of business. So one fine day she went to the city carrying with her some nice little letters of introduction to officers of several banks and bond concerns which she had begged from the president of her home bank.

As for the bank officers—they didn't even take the trouble to see her. Helen was told that she would have to send in a request by mail for an appointment if she wished to see them. So she tried her luck with the bond dealers and brokers. She was utterly unprepared for the cool reception she received.

Then one day she managed to see a Mr. Kelly, vice president or something of one of the business offices to which she had contrived to get a letter of introduction.

"I don't want anyone around here to help run this business," he growled after she had hopefully recounted her qualifications. "Our pay roll is too long as it is. Nobody's really interested. They just do their own little jobs and draw their salaries and hurry home at half-past four. Do you think any of the girls around here would take it upon themselves to see that my private office was kept cleaned? Not much. All they'd have to do would be to keep after the cleaning woman—stay after hours once in a while to see that she did the work. But no, they wouldn't think of such a thing."

"I'm sorry," said Helen, and after Mr. Kelly had further unburdened himself and somehow apologized to Helen for troubling her with what didn't interest her, she took her departure.

"But I am interested—and perhaps what you have said will give me an idea," she said. "One or two of the other men I've talked to seemed to have trouble of somewhat the same sort."

But when Helen reached her home that week-end she was thoroughly discouraged. True, she had a little plan in the back of her mind, but when she came to consider it, it didn't seem so very good after all. Late that Saturday afternoon she telephoned to Peter.

"I'm sorry I said what I did to you," she said. "Maybe it is cowardly, but I'm going to ask you to give me another chance. You see, I don't believe that there ever would be a chance for me in the big business world. Why, the only possible chance I saw was to turn to and keep offices clean. Honestly I actually worked out a sort of scheme of hiring some cleaning women and opening a little office to take contracts for cleaning offices and personally supervising the whole matter. I wrote to Mr. Kelly about it. But nothing came even of that. So, Peter, if you want me you can have me."

And of course Peter took Helen in his arms, beyond measure pleased to find her in this humble frame of mind. Of course, he knew that Helen was accepting him because she had found no chance in business.

A few days later came a letter, signed by one J. H. Kelly.

"I didn't see any chance of giving you a job," said Mr. Kelly, "but since reading your letter and considering your plans for an office-cleaning agency I think perhaps we could come to some agreement. I see you have brains and courage. I'm interested in your plan and would be willing to back such a venture and finance it. We could make it a sort of side issue. Meantime you could be of real use to me here in this office, and I guess I could mention a salary that would appeal to you."

Helen read the letter at first with eagerness. This Mr. Kelly, she had found out, was a thoroughly reliable business man of high standing. And he had appreciated her qualifications—be really felt that he could make use of her.

Helen reread the letter and put it in her desk. She would answer it later in the day. Meantime she must keep her appointment with Peter. They were going to consult with an architect about building a little bungalow for two.

World's Large Cities
The following cities reported at the last official censuses—1919 to 1923—as having more than 1,000,000 population: London (county), 4,483,249; London (greater), 7,470,108; Berlin, 1,902,509; Berlin (greater), 3,863,770; Paris, 2,902,509; Vienna, 1,868,147; Moscow, 1,511,045; Leningrad, 1,067,328; Glasgow, 1,034,174. Several other cities had close to 1,000,000 each, and perhaps exceed that number now. These were Hamburg (985,778 in 1919); Warsaw (938,046 in 1921); Budapest (928,996 in 1920), and Birmingham (919,438 in 1921). Constantinople was formerly considered to have a population in excess of 1,000,000, but has lost considerably in late years, and after a census in 1924 was reported to have 880,000.

Fatal Dust Explosions
Dust explosions caused a loss of 133 lives, injury to 130 employees and a property damage amounting to more than $12,000,000 in the period from 1910 to 1925. More than one-fourth of the loss in life and more than one-half of the property damage occurred in grain elevators, however, which has led the dust-explosion experts of the United States Department of Agriculture to turn their attention primarily to the elimination of the dust-explosion hazard in the grain-handling industry.

World's Food Consumption
A German scientist, Rubner, declares that Americans are the greatest food consumers in the world. According to his figures, Americans devour 3,398 caloric units daily; England, 2,967; France, 2,973; Austrians, 2,825; Germans, 2,770; South Americans, 2,764; Russians, 2,696; Italians, 2,612; and the Japanese, 2,563. Rubner places the English at the head of the meat consumers of Europe and the Italians last.

On Its Way
"Last night," said the blonde cashier, "I had a dream that my watch was gone, and the shock woke me up."
"Did you find the watch gone?" asked the delivery boy.
"No," giggled the cashier. "But it was going!"—The Progressive Grocer.

Resources Exhausted
The recent expose of the so-called "secret pardons" and "secret paroles" of the state pardon board caused a certain Los Angeles judge to remark: "It is no wonder that many of our thinking citizens are beginning to ask where all this is going to lead. We jail autoists on such technicalities as cutting corners or buttons and release our murderers. How they must laugh when they hear a life sentence pronounced. The justice of today reminds me of the old dandy who was brought before me several years ago on a minor charge."
"What have you to offer in your behalf?" I asked, him and to my surprise he answered:
"I'm sorry, yo' honah, but I've turned over every cent I own to mah lawyer an' a couple ob dem joutry-men."—Los Angeles Times.

New Money Boycotted
Boycotting in a new form has made its appearance at Tzeliutzing, Szechuan province, China, where 1,000 merchants closed their places of business rather than accept paper dollar bills of a series just issued by the military governor. All food supplies are being held up in the country, transportation being denied them on the same grounds. The only business not paralyzed is the opium trade, since the military chieftains are not seeking to impose the new currency upon opium dealers. The boycott is being engineered by the merchants' guild.

and BUILT of WOOD

HOME of our first President here, indeed, it is a truly great monument to his memory. Overlooking the Potomac—it still stands for all that is really American.

Perhaps nothing else in our national life holds such a place in the hearts of Americans as Mount Vernon.

Built of wood, it has stood for years in all its quiet and imposing dignity. Quaint—beautiful—it radiates a feeling of hominess and hospitality, a striking example of the desirability of wood as a building material.

"For Generations of Joy and Comfort"—BUILT OF WOOD—Economic—long-lived—attractive, as only nature can make things, it is, without doubt, the best for your home.

We'll be glad to show you how wood can be used in almost any architectural treatment. Come in and let us know what you have in mind. There are ideas and suggestions here, aplenty—all offered freely, and without obligating you in the least.

WHAT CROPS TO PLANT

What crops to plant is a problem that confronts every farmer in the spring of the year. Some maintain a certain rotation quite closely in the successive seasons, others devote a certain fixed acreage to the various cash crops each year, while others are influenced or guided by the prices obtained for the crops of the previous season. The annual report issued in March of each year by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics in co-operation with various state agricultural agencies on intentions to plant indicates the general trend of what farmers expect to do, but is not intended as a forecast of what they will actually plant. It is merely to supply information to those who are in doubt and aid them in determining the proper course to pursue in avoiding abnormal increases or decreases in the acreage of any crop.

The report for this season, issued by the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service indicates that Michigan farmers are planning an increase of about 30 per cent in spring wheat, one per cent in corn, and seven per cent in oats; a decrease of two per cent in hay and ten per cent in barley, and no change from last year in potatoes. Some of these changes will depend upon the amount of fall-sown wheat which it is found necessary to abandon, and, of course, all changes will be more or less dependent upon prevailing weather and planting conditions. No inquiry was made concerning beans or sugar beets, but reports' comments indicate that both of these crops will suffer some loss of acreage.

For the North Central group of states, the indicated percentages of last year's acreages to be planted are as follows: Spring wheat, 101.4; corn, 99.1; oats, 101.9; barley, 105.8; potatoes, 100.8; sweet potatoes, 104.5; flaxseed, 101.6; grain sorghams, 105.2; tobacco, 97.0; hay, 100.2.

For the United States, the corresponding percentages are: Spring wheat, 98.2; corn, 99.9; oats, 104.6; barley, 105.7; potatoes, 104.3; sweet potatoes, 119.6; flaxseed, 100.4; grain sorghams, 98.3; tobacco, 99.4; peanuts, 92.0; rice, 101.4; and hay, 100.7.

Today's Reflections

About all the Plymouth man who guessed wrong on winter can do now is to prophesy a late spring.

Everybody on a political machine wants to blow the horn and nobody wants to buy the gas.

Wealth may not bring happiness, but most of us are willing to take a chance with it.

Amateur gardeners around Plymouth are now busy getting the tools in shape so their wives can do the work a little later on.

Don't look for trouble unless you are sure you know what to do with it when you find it.

Many a fellow who is thrown on his own resources falls back on those of his friends.

Here are two questions no sensible Plymouth man will try to answer: "Who settled the coal strike?" or "How old is Ann?"

Well, if prohibition hasn't done anything else it has solved the problem of what to do with dandelions.

We know of one Plymouth business man who confides his financial troubles to his wife—whenever she asks him for money.

We are almost around again to the season of the man with the hoe and the politician with the hokum.

We've also noticed that the unemployment situation picks up considerable activity when the boss steps in.

The federal government has called in all $10,000 bills. Plymouth residents getting any of them in change should not forget to mail them in to Washington immediately.

Since the Tower of Babel there has been nothing to compare with the debate in congress on what to do for the farmer.

THE THEATRE

"THE SPLENDID ROAD"

Set in California during the hectic gold rush days of '49, "The Splendid Road," which comes to the Pennington Allen theatre Saturday, March 27, is one of the most beautiful blendings of romance, beauty and suspense that have ever graced our local screen.

Anna Q. Nilsson, Lionel Barrymore and Robert Frazer—splendid players all—vied with each other in giving their interpretations. In the end it was impossible to decide which of them gave the best performance.

"The Splendid Road" is the first picture based on the early history of the West that illustrates the fact that possibly more people came from the East by ship around Cape Horn than by covered wagon. It describes the hardships that they knew and with tenderness pays a glowing tribute to the character of the women who were among the early settlers.

A clipper ship of the period, 100 days out from Boston, serves as the background for the early action of the play, and the bustling little frontier town of Sacramento with its numerous gambling halls and its lawlessness, is the setting for the balance of the story. The historical flood which drove the squatters from their appropriated property after other means had failed is graphically pictured.

"The Splendid Road" is decidedly worth while.

"THE ENCHANTED HILL"

Heralded as sounding a new note in western productions, "The Enchanted Hill" comes to the Pennington Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 28 and 29. This is the picture version of the widely read Peter B. Kyne novel, which Irvin Willat, noted director of "North of 36," produced with a stellar cast featuring Jack Holt, Florence Vidor, Noah Beery and Mary Brian.

Here is a story that graphically depicts conditions as they exist in the West today and vividly pictures the modern methods that are in vogue in the great open spaces. The rugged locals of this thrilling outdoor melodrama in the cattle ranch country of New Mexico, and inasmuch as the picture was actually filmed in the vast range territory of the Southwest, the swift, exciting action is enhanced by picturesque and scenically beautiful backgrounds.

The plot deals with the bitter conflict waged over the ownership of two neighboring ranches owned respectively by Jack Holt and Florence Vidor. For some reason, which isn't revealed until the very end, Ira Todd, the unscrupulous manager of Miss Vidor's property, enters into a conspiracy with a rascally lawyer to defraud Miss Vidor out of her ranch and gain possession of Jack Holt's land as well, by having him killed.

The fight to hold their property and the development of a wholesome romance between Holt and Miss Vidor serve to keep the plot boiling right up to the happy and successful finish. What with wild rides, airplane thrills, machine gun hold-ups, fist fights and pistol battles, there isn't a dull moment from the first flash-in to the last fade-out.

"LIGHTS OF OLD BROADWAY"

Without modern inventions the great cities of today would not exist.

As the background for "Lights of Old Broadway," a Cosmopolitan production by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, directed by Monta Bell, and coming to the Pennington Allen Theatre, Wednesday, March 31, Marion Davies has selected the seventies of New York City, a period rich in historical value and marking the introduction of many great inventions which made possible the great metropolis of the New York of today.

In it we find the first stocktickers, the first talking machines, the original dynamo, the first electric street lights of New York and many other inventions, which have been stepping stones of the city's greatness.

Among the impersonations of interesting inventor geniuses on the screen in "Lights of Old Broadway," are Thomas A. Edison and Charles Brush. The father of former President Roosevelt, young Teddy at the age of twelve and Tony Pastor, famous theatrical manager, of that time, figure in the story. Joe Weber and Lew Fields, looking for their first engagement as amateurs, are shown, and the section near Fifth Avenue and Sixty-ninth street is seen as New York's old "Shanty-town." Fourteenth street and Broadway appear magically on the screen as they looked in that period.

The picture was made only after many months of research and several pioneer New Yorkers, now aged and grey, acted in the capacity of technical advisers. Among these was Joseph Hamilton, veteran actor, who is said to be the only living eye-witness of the assassination of President Abraham Lincoln.

The supporting cast includes: Conrad Nagel, Frank Currier, George K. Arthur, Mathew Betz, Charles McHugh, Eleanor Lawson, Wilbur Higby, Julia Swayne Gordon, Bodd Rodin, George Bunny, Buck Black and many others.

"The Lights of Old Broadway" is based on the play "The Merry Wives of Gotham" by Laurence Eyre, scenarized by Carey Wilson.

LETTER FROM

CIVIL WAR VETERAN

350 Aigonquin Ave.,
Detroit, Mich.,
March 14, 1926

Mr. Editor:
Seeing an article in your last issue asking former residents of Plymouth to write for the mail, I decided to comply with your wishes.

Was born in Plymouth in 1846, graduated from the Plymouth school in 1861, and joined the army in the Civil War. Having fought in all of the most disastrous battles, I came back to establish myself again in Plymouth on July 8, 1865. I might add here that I was the "youngest Michigan soldier to carry arms," and I have always prided myself at having gained such a title.

As I have before stated, after the war was over and peace was declared, I returned to Plymouth, married, and established a future home. The townspeople at this time, were kind enough to elect me Village Marshall, in which office I served 16 years, and as Deputy Sheriff of Wayne for 22 years.

Here let me add that in 1858, George Shaffer, a resident of Plymouth, and fourteen other boys including myself, all aided in planting the trees and setting the park. The park was presented to Plymouth Village by John Kellogg, Jr., and among the most important men that helped in the building of the village were Michael Conner, Peter Fralick, Capt. John Konock, C. B. Crosby and E. L. Penniman. Charles Roe and M. R. Weeks built the band stand that stood in front of the park, where I was a distinguished member, playing the drum for many years.

It gives me great pleasure, at this time to present a challenge to the Grand Army to locate any soldier living who enlisted in the year of 1861 and fought to the finish of 1865, who can beat the record that I held. I enlisted in the First Michigan Lancers on November 2, 1861; was transferred to the Sixteenth on December 14, 1862, and from then on fought until the close of the war on April 9, 1865. I mean by this challenge, a soldier who carried a gun, not drummer boys or buglers, but one who fought as I did—over a hundred battles and skirmishes, and I have a record of them at present.

Perhaps you would like to know that I lived in Plymouth for over sixty years, until the death of my wife, when I came to live with my eldest daughter. At present I am living with my daughter and son-in-law at 350 Aigonquin avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

My next birthday I shall be eighty years old, and I believe that I may honestly say that very few men of my age, now living, can acknowledge the record that I am able to.

Sincerely,

Melville R. Weeks.

What Is a One-Cent Sale?

It is a sale where you buy an item at the regular price, then another item of the same kind for one cent. As an illustration: The standard price of Klezno Dental Cream is 50c, you buy a tube at this price and by paying 1 cent more, or 51 cents, you get two tubes. Every article in this sale is a high class standard piece of merchandise, just the same as is sold every day at the regular price.

A Profit-Sharing Method of Advertising

This sale was developed by the United Drug Co. as an advertising plan. Rather than spend large sums of money in other ways to convince you of the merit of these goods, they are spending it on this sale in permitting us to sell a full size package of high standard merchandise for 1 cent. It costs money to get new customers, but the sacrifice in profit is justified, as we know the goods will please you.

Picked Up About Town

"My idea of a quiet neighborhood," says Dad Plymouth "is one where every fellow tries to live within his income."

Of course we are a peaceful nation. Can't you tell by the government reports which show that only 67 per cent of all our annual appropriations are for war purposes?

Dad Plymouth says "Modern girls are just like autos they may be painted up pretty and then not have to brag of under the hood."

Too many people would sooner borrow trouble than to pay back the money they owe.

"Man has learned to fly like a bird," observes Dad Plymouth "but he'll never be able to imitate a bird when it comes to sitting on a barbed-wire fence."

The girl of today seems to take care of her complexion by keeping it in dust-proof boxes.

"The fellow who paid a whole lot of money for a coat of tan in Florida," says Dad Plymouth, "will soon be able to get one for nothing at home."

"Now that the women wear such short skirts," observes Dad Plymouth "it may help them in running for office."

Dad Plymouth shows he is a real philosopher when he declares that "Most of us ought to be thankful that the prayers of our enemies are not all answered."

The Plymouth man who says a woman can't keep a secret probably never tried asking one of them her age.

Speaking of spring signs, a pretty good one is to get up early and see if the milk is frozen over.

What has become of the old-fashioned evangelist who used to save our drunkards instead of turning them over to the doctors.

TORRENS SYSTEM (Continued) TITLE INSURANCE

Title companies can only give insurance. They can never through any legal powers given them, make titles good.

While guarantee policies usually save repeated examinations of title by attorneys, they neither set the title at rest nor do they save abstract fees for continuations. The same recording system is continued, and policies are written down to date each and every time a sale or loan is made, and always at an expense. Transfers are made under the Torrens System with a fee of $3.00 only, and with no recording fees, title examinations, or loss of time.

A prominent Chicago North Side subdivider recently registered 277 lots under the Torrens System at an expense of $180. The price of a guarantee policy at the regular rates would have been $450; or, in selling the 277 lots with a guarantee policy, the total cost would have approximated at least $270—$10.00 per lot. Then, in case the purchaser of each of the 277 lots had made a $3,000 loan for building purposes and paid $28 for each mortgage policy covering these 277 loans, there would have been an additional cost of $7756, or a total cost of $10,526, to be paid in the course of time by the sellers and their 277 purchasers when the subdivision should be fully built up by the individual buyers.

Saves 600 Per Cent
Under the Torrens System, 277 lot sales could be made at a title expense of $3 each, or $831. Two hundred and seventy-seven loans could also be made at an expense of $3 each, or $831, for all, making the total title cost of 554 sales and loans $1,662 under the Torrens System, as compared with $10,526 under the guarantee policy system, or a net saving of $8,864 or over 600 per cent.

In one case the titles are guaranteed by a private corporation, which in time may go out of business and its guarantee cease to be of value; nor does such a private corporation possess any legal authority or power to make a defective title good or a good title final. In the other case, under Torrens System, we have a certificate established under the law by a court decree, and carrying with it the financial guarantee of the county, as lasting as the government itself.

PAYS COMPLIMENT TO REALTORS

Simon W. Strauss of the nationally known S. W. Strauss Company, of New York City, recently made this statement: "While many elements combine to make American progress, no one realizes more than I, because of my long association with real estate interests, the tremendous part you Realtors have played in this progress, and I am proud that it has been my lot throughout my entire business life to be so closely affiliated with the interests you represent."

"Due I am sure, to the great part you play in upbuilding the country, the Realtor is now more than ever receiving national recognition. You have gone through an evolution from a modest beginning to a great constructive force in the life of the nation. The work of the Realtor necessitates such a deep understanding of the science of civic development and human advancement that I would call you not only successful business men, but members of a great profession as well—a profession embodying the highest ideals of ethics and patriotism—I say patriotism because in helping yourselves, you help the entire nation."

SEES DETROIT GROW RAPIDLY

HARVEY M. CAMPBELL TALKS TO MARQUETTE PARK ASSOCIATION.

Detroit is entering the greatest industrial era in its entire history, Harvey M. Campbell, vice president and secretary of the Board of Commerce, told 100 members of the Marquette Park Association, at its banquet last Thursday, at the Book-Cadillac Hotel.

In the industrial growth that promises to take place, Campbell said, it is imperative that transportation facilities keep pace with increasing employment. The large number of railroads which enter Detroit promise to play an important part in the forthcoming industrial development, and he called attention particularly to the Pere Marquette railway, which serves the Marquette Park district.

"With the proper cooperation of the large property holders along this railway in Marquette Park, important industries are certain to avail themselves of its transportation advantages. Industries mean employment and employment always results in development and increased valuations," he said.

Mr. Campbell also spoke of the efforts Detroit is making to offer its citizens something else except a well paying "job." A splendid example of the manner in which the city is expanding, its recreational facilities is to be found in River Rouge Park, which is planned to become Detroit's finest as well as largest park.

Mr. Campbell covered the aviation question thoroughly, and told of the concentrated efforts being made to bring commercial aviation companies to Detroit.

Members of the association were told by officials of the Michigan Federated Utilities that the company has already laid gas mains to the limits of Marquette Park from Plymouth, and that plans are being formulated to provide the entire district with service because of the rapid development now taking place in the district.—Detroit News.

Albert Schroder has sold his lot on Blunk avenue, to Ernest H. Guidner.

Hope springs eternal, and Plymouth people look forward just as anxiously to the ripening of the frying chicken crop as they ever have.
