PROMINENT CITIZEN OF LIVONIA DIES

GEORGE CHILSON, 91, HELD MANY LIVONIA TOWNSHIP OFFICES: FUNERAL SERVICES HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

George Chilson, aged 91 years, for many years a prominent resident of Livonia township, passed away at his home at Newburg last week Thursday night, August 4th. Death resulted from a fractured hip, which he suffered a week or so previous in a fall.

Mr. Chilson was born on a farm in Livonia township in 1836, and lived in that vicinity all of his life. For fifteen years he conducted a general store in Nankin township, but later returned to Livonia township. At various times he had held nearly all the public offices of Livonia, having served as supervisor for several years, and subsequently as township treasurer. He retired several years ago.

The deceased is survived by two sons, Ora Chilson of Redford, and Clare Chilson, with whom he made his home at Newburg, and one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Bassett of Nankin Mills. Funeral services were held at the Union church, Livonia Center, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The interment was in the Livonia Center cemetery.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR PLYMOUTH COUNTRY CLUB

The Plymouth Country Club is getting ready to make some extensive improvements on their golf course west of the village. A water works system will be installed that will carry a supply of water to all parts of the grounds. Permanent greens are now being constructed. A number of benches have also been distributed about the course for the convenience and comfort of the players and spectators.

During the past several months the Plymouth Country Club has been a popular mecca for devotees of this great sport. It is one of the most beautiful golf courses in this section, and without a doubt will develop into one of the best and most popular in this vicinity.

NORTHVILLE'S CENTENNIAL AUGUST 26 AND 27

The date for Northville's centennial celebration has been set for August 26 and 27, on the centennial anniversary of the founding of Northville. On Friday, August 26th, the forenoon will be given over largely to the reception and registration of visitors. There will be street sports, old time bicycle races and other events. There will be a program later in the afternoon of talks by old timers and several well known speakers.

In the evening street dancing, both of the new and old time dances, will take place.

Saturday afternoon's events have not been entirely arranged. A barbecue Saturday noon is a feature. Following the barbecue, a big parade will take place. The committees in charge are planning for the biggest event in the history of our neighboring village.

Many former Northville residents now residing in Plymouth are planning to attend.

GETTING SCHOOL BUILDINGS READY

The school buildings are now getting their annual renovation. The third floor of the high school building is being redecorated and minor improvements are being made in order that everything will be in readiness for the fall term. The Starkweather school building is being rushed to completion, and it is expected that it will be in readiness for the opening of school September 6th.

MERCHANTS WILL PLAY FAST TEAM SUNDAY

The Plymouth Merchants will stack up against a fast aggregation next Sunday, when they will play the Ann Arbor Colored Stars at Burroughs Field. The Ann Arbor team has been playing gilt edge baseball all the season, and as the Merchants are playing that kind of ball too, a real game can be expected on the home grounds next Sunday. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock. Don't miss it.

NEW WOMEN'S PRISON NEARING COMPLETION

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

Work on the new women's prison, which is being built by the City of Detroit, as a part of the Detroit House of Correction, on a site nearly opposite the House of Correction farm near this village, is fast nearing completion. The prison is located upon what was formerly the E. L. Becker farm in Northville township, which was purchased by the city for this purpose about a year ago or more. The prison buildings are located on a high elevation, well back from the Plymouth and Northville townline concrete highway, and command a splendid view of the surrounding country.

Through the courtesy of Neil B. McLellan, superintendent of construction for the W. E. Wood Co. of Detroit, who have the building contract, a representative of the Mail was shown about the new buildings last Friday afternoon.

Four of the eight cottages which are to be constructed are practically completed, as is also the administration building, factory building, laundry building and power house. Four more cottages and an observation hospital building are now under construction.

In the construction of the new buildings, the English type of architecture has been used.

The buildings are constructed of concrete blocks painted on the exterior.

Slate roofs are used. The buildings are very attractive upon the outside, while the interiors are well lighted and are provided with every convenience.

The administration building is a very imposing structure and contains the offices of the superintendent, assistant superintendent, matrons' quarters, receiving room, dressing-in-room, baths, welfare and social room, Bertholm measuring room, and an auditorium with a seating capacity of about three hundred.

Each one of the cottages has a capacity of thirty-six inmates. Each cottage has its own dining room and kitchen, and quarters for two matrons.

The observation hospital will be fully equipped. Here prisoners will be held for observation for a period of two weeks to determine the physical and mental attitude of the prisoner so that proper assignment may be made.

The factory building will contain a completely equipped canning factory and a rug making, weaving and sewing shop.

The plan of construction has been carried out so that there will be a complete segregation of the prisoners in the various cottages.

The new prison will house a total of approximately 300 prisoners, while provision has been made that more units can be added when necessary. The architect is Albert Kahn.

In the construction of this prison it has been the aim of the mayor and prison board to construct a prison that will be modern in every respect and will be the last word in penal institution construction. In their work the board has had the able advice and assistance of Edward Demiston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, one of the foremost men in penal institution work in the country.

It is expected that the new prison will be completed about the first of the year.

ROTARIANS AND KIWANIS PLAY GOLF AND ENJOY PICNIC

Plinkers to the number of ninety, comprising Plymouth Kiwanians, Rotarians, wives and children, gathered at Cass Benton Park last Wednesday evening and enjoyed a delightful party among the trees.

The occasion was the culminating feature of a half holiday of sports in which the two clubs met in a tournament of golf and quota pitching at the Plymouth Country Club on Penitentiary avenue.

Tables were spread under the trees where a picnic lunch, prepared by the ladies of the Lutheran church, was served cafeteria style by members of the two clubs. Following the lunch, prizes were awarded to the various winners, together with several "bonus" prizes to the man with high scores.

This was the second tournament in which the members of the two luncheon clubs have participated this summer, the first having been won by the Rotary club. Wednesday the tables were turned when Kiwanis golfers succeeded in piling up one more point than their adversaries, the score being 26 to 27.

Presidents Wm. Wood of Rotary, and Fremont Hoyer of Kiwanis, arranged the details of the tournament and picnic, assisted by several members of the clubs. Prizes were awarded by C. R. Livengood of Kiwanis.

GRANGE NOTES

The Lily Club will hold a regular monthly meeting at Cass Benton Park, with a pot luck supper at 6:30 o'clock, Tuesday, August 16th. All members please be present with dishes, silver and a well filled basket, and enjoy the evening.

The Redford baseball team of twenty years ago is to hold a reunion next month for the purpose of playing one more game. "Dank" Smith of Plymouth, was a member of the team at that time as was also Clyde Bentley of Livonia.

HUSTON FAMILY REUNION HELD AT CHERRY HILL

The Huston family reunion took place on the Cherry Hill school grounds last Saturday afternoon, August 6th, with one hundred members of the Huston and Cobb families present. This year's event marked the one hundredth anniversary of the coming of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston from New York to Michigan, settling about one mile west of Cherry Hill.

A picnic dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour, after which a very interesting program was rendered. Mrs. Cora Rogers of Howell, gave a history of the coming of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston, the earliest pioneers of that family to Michigan. Mrs. Christine Gill Galpin of Ypsilanti, gave a history of the Huston family dating from 1572 in Dublin, Ireland.

The oldest member of the Huston family present at the reunion was Mrs. Laura Cannon, the only living child of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston. Mrs. Cannon recalled reminiscences of the first school and church at Cherry Hill, and the beginning of the cemetery at that place, the land for which was donated by her father.

Guests were present at the reunion from Mr. Pleasant, Lansing, Kalama-zoo, Howell, Birmingham, Northville, Plymouth, Ypsilanti and Detroit.

Mrs. James Honey and little son are visiting relatives at Deckerville.

ENTERTAINS MERCHANTS BASEBALL TEAM

Arthur J. Eckles, secretary and treasurer of the Plymouth Merchants baseball team entertained the members of the team and a few invited guests at his home on the Ridge road, last week Thursday evening. At 6:30 o'clock a wonderful chicken dinner with all the "trimmings" was served, and it is needless to say that the boys enjoyed the good things to the limit.

After the dinner, the boys discussed baseball topics for a short time and then left for their homes voting the genial Art a royal entertainer.

RUNAWAY CARS DEMOLISH BANK AT ANN ARBOR

The Farmers and Mechanics Bank building at Ann Arbor, was demolished shortly after midnight last Friday morning, when four heavily laden freight cars on the Detroit, Jackson and Chicago Railway, a division of the Detroit United Railway, broke loose near the fair grounds on West Huron street, coasted down the mile-long grade to the business section, and, leaving the tracks at the turn from Huron into Main street, crashed into the front of the building. Three of the cars piled against the building and the fourth tore its way inside. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

OAKLAND COUNTY FAIR NEXT WEEK

Many from Plymouth and vicinity are planning on attending the Oakland County Fair at Milford, next week. The fair opens on Wednesday, August 17th, and continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is said that the exhibits and entertainment features will surpass those of previous years.

Some classy events are scheduled in the horse races for which liberal purses have been hung up. On Thursday there will be the 2:24 trot and 2:15 pace; on Friday, the 2:36 trot and 2:20 pace; on Saturday, the 2:24 pace, the 2:20 trot and the free-for-all pace.

A Friday feature will be a horse show in which several country club stables will compete. There will be a three-day baseball tournament and an extra on Saturday, Holly vs. Northville on Thursday, Pontiac vs. Clarkston on Friday. Winners vs. winners on Saturday. Extra game at 1:00 p. m., Walled Lake vs. Ypsilanti.

Some fast auto races are on the program for Saturday afternoon. The night fair includes the full program of regular and special features and a brilliant display of fireworks.

Miss Pauline Jesson of Muskegon, spent the week-end with Miss Marion Boyer.

VILLAGE WATER SUPPLY IS O. K.

The village manager's office has received a number of inquiries of late asking about the purity of the village water for drinking purposes. In compliance with these inquiries, a test was made by the Michigan Department of Health, and the village clerk has received the following letter which is published herewith:

Department of Health
Lansing, Michigan
August 4, 1927.

Village Clerk,
Plymouth, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

The enclosed report on the sample of water collected by our representative, Mr. R. J. Van Vleet on July 25th, from the municipal supply of Plymouth shows no evidence of dangerous contamination.

Yours very truly,
Bureau of Engineering,
Edward D. Rich, Director.

The Ford Motor Co. also has had a test made and found the water at the village reservoir and at their plant all O. K. The water in the well in the little park opposite the Plymouth plant, was also found to be in O. K. condition.

NETHEM DEFEATS ROUGH AND READY

A very one-sided ball game was played at Stark last Sunday, Nethem vs. Rough and Ready. Nethem, having again calmed their nerves after the defeat handed them a week ago, took revenge upon Rough and Ready.

Doyle Rowland started the game, pitching five innings, and then Hy Gale ascended the mound for the remaining innings. All Nethem got a chance last Sunday, and each seemed to be in the hitting mood, a good trait in baseball.

Next Sunday, Nethem vs. Northville, at Newburg.

MERCHANTS DEFEATED AT CHESANING

The Plymouth Merchants baseball club journeyed up to Chesaning, last Sunday and were defeated by the Donovan Checkers 5 to 2 in a game that was full of action from start to finish. The Merchants can lay their defeat to their failure to hit at the opportune time, and also to some very poor base running, when they were on the sacks.

The boys deserve much credit, however, for they were in their fighting mood all the time, and it was anybody's game until the last man was out.

Between thirty and forty fans accompanied the team and felt amply repaid for the trip. The intense heat caused the team plenty of discomfort, and "Tiny" Strassen, the Merchants' shock absorber, was compelled to retire in the seventh inning. Williams finished the game. Quinn, the Merchants' star chucker, held the Checkers to five scattered hits, and should have won with a little better support.

Next Sunday the Merchants will play the Ann Arbor Colored Stars at Burroughs Field, and fans are assured of a first class game, as this is one of the best colored teams in the state.

ENTERTAINED AT GARDEN LUNCHEON

Mrs. Charles Livrance and Miss Dorothea Livrance entertained fifty friends at a garden luncheon at their home in Plymouth Gardens Thursday, August 4th. After a dainty luncheon had been served, the guests found their places at tables on the lawn and enjoyed several games of bridge. The house and lawn were attractive with flowers of varied hue. The tables, place cards and prizes were in keeping with the color scheme, being clever arrangements of butterfiles and ribbons.

As the last prize was unwrapped, a butterfly was disclosed. Fastened to it were two ribbons, one holding a lovely diamond ring, the other an announcement of the engagement of Miss Livrance to Jack Meyers of Redford.

The guests departed after showering the bride-to-be with their best wishes. Guests were present from Detroit, Royal Oak, Redford and Escanaba.

WASTING ROAD MONEY.

At a conference of road builders in Chicago a few days ago facts of general interest and suggestions of great value to every community were brought out. Space forbids going into detail, but we do want to call attention to the statement of one expert present at the meeting, because we feel it applies especially to our own territory.

This gentleman said, and we believe Plymouth citizens are in position to agree with him, that the greatest mistake we are making in building roads today is in sticking to original routes. He pointed out that in the day of horse-drawn vehicles roads were laid out to satisfy as many people as possible; they followed any path or trail, regardless of crooks and curves. Just so it passed as many houses as possible and still wound up where it was trying to get to. Today we are wasting millions of dollars in this country by building good roads, for auto travel, along the same crooked, winding trails. Millions could be saved by straightening them out because many miles could thus be cut from the original routes. Highways, says the expert, should be surveyed as near on an air-line as are the railroads.

Here is a tip for local citizens interested in better roads. They can do much in the way of saving our road money by insisting that those who build our highways build them to meet modern conditions, instead of sticking to the wobbly and winding ones as they were originally laid out.

"DOG DAYS" AGAIN.

The arrival of August each year sends thousands of editors and writers to issue warnings against the season long known as "dog days." It is the season when vegetation begins to wither and dry from the effects of scorching July and August suns, when the air is filled with dust and unseen particles of plant life, and when green, sickly-looking skua forms on "the old swimming hole."

"Dog days" are possibly not as dangerous as the Plymouth mother declares they are when she is trying to get her boy to spend more of his time on the land than he spends in the water. And yet it is a season when the utmost precaution must be taken to avoid disease. It is the season when hay fever victims suffer untold agonies; it is the season when typhoid fever germs are more plentiful and more virulent than at any other time. It is also the season when blood is running thinnest, and when the aged should seek the shade, always avoiding the scorching rays of the sun.

No matter how healthy you may be, or how well you may be feeling, it's a good idea to believe in "dog days" just enough to be careful. Don't over-eat, don't over-work, don't drink too much ice water—and don't do any more worrying than is absolutely necessary. Fretting and losing your temper is bad enough at any time—during "dog days" it is absolutely dangerous.

WE'RE AWAY BEHIND

Every spell of hot weather serves to show us how far back we are in the matter of inventions that bring us comfort. We have our homes equipped with heating devices to protect us from the cold in winter, but in summer we go right ahead from year to year suffering with the heat, not even taking advantage of the few devices that have already been invented for keeping us cool. Why isn't someone with an inventive turn of mind looking into this? Why can't some way be devised whereby, since we are able to keep warm in winter, we can also keep cool in summer? Possibly the next generation will see every home in Plymouth fitted with a summer cooling system, just as it is now fitted with a winter heating device. But from present indications it doesn't look like it will come in our day. At least, we haven't made any closer approach to it than an electric fan—and to install and operate them in every room in the house would bankrupt the average family.

PASSING ON

They tell us the old-time cowboy, familiarly known as the "cow puncher," is passing on; that the slump in prices for range stock is here to stay, and that the cattle industry as it was followed in the old days will never return. The eastern demand for young beef and the increasing tendency of Middle Western farmers to sell their grain on the hoof, has increased the cowman's problems. To own cattle now, in bad years, is to be poor in proportion to the number you own, and so the demand for cow hands is rapidly decreasing. The only thing left for them to do is to become farm-hands. It is disheartening news, for most of us around Plymouth have long held a warm spot in our hearts for the cowboy and admired his picturesque life. He has always been a typical American and a he-man from the ground up. If it is true that he is fading out of the picture, then our only consolation is that we lived in the same generation he did.

BEATING THEM TO IT

Our mails are going to commence to get heavier now, because the concerns that depend upon mail patronage for their profits are mailing out their fall catalogues and announcements. They are the smartest advertisers in the world, these mail-order folks, and they never let any grass grow under their feet. If they are advertising for business now there is nothing to keep the man here at home, who has to compete with them, from doing the same thing. Where the home man loses out is in waiting until the mail-order and catalogue men have jumped in ahead and skimmed the cream. Time waits for no man, and neither does the fellow who wants to buy something and has the money to pay for it. The first one that gets to him is usually the one who sells him. The Plymouth man who has something to sell and who wants to beat the mail-order man to it can do so by advertising NOW, while the catalogues are just commencing to flood the mails. He will also be the one with the least to complain of when the fall and winter season has passed.

In 1886 he was united in marriage with Miss Margaret Bentley, who died in May, 1920. To this union six children were born, two of whom died in infancy, and Mrs. William Barrows who died twenty-six years ago. Three survive, Ora Chilson of Redford, Clara of Newburg, and Mrs. Mabel Bassett of Nankin Mills; also one sister, Mrs. Volney Gunning of Plymouth, who is the last one of a family of nine children.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Livonia Center Union Church, Rev. Gullen officiating, assisted by Rev. Lucas of the Livonia church. Two musical numbers were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Kingsley and daughter, Inis, and Charles Millard. The pallbearers were six nephews of Mr. Chilson, Calvin, Austin and Elmer Whipple of Plymouth, Revard Chilson of Detroit, and Jesse and Heon Ziegler of Livonia.

Those from away who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Millard, Mr. and Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Rose Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McDowell, Mrs. Flint and Mrs. Elmer Chilson and two children of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Keer and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dickerson of Farmington, and many from Northville, Plymouth and Wayne.

THIS AUTO PICKS UP ITS OWN ROAD DUST

English Idea Not Needed in This Country, However, Experts Say.

A MANCHESTER, England, engineer 15 years ago patented an apparatus to be used on automobiles which would collect its own dust.

As described by Church Howe, then American Consul at Manchester, the device drew the dust into funnel-shaped conduits which ran from the rear of the front wheels to the rear of the back wheels.

The dust was blown into a central box, either by air pressure of the moving automobiles or by a centrifugal fan geared to the driving shaft of the car.

Such an apparatus would have little success in America today, highway engineers point out. Recent improvements in road construction have eliminated the dust problem almost to the minimum in some sections and even old dirt roads may be modernized by applications of calcium chloride.

BACKYARDS GIVE JOY TO CHILDREN

TURN your backyard into a children's playground!

That is an idea growing rapidly in various sections of the United States and Canada.

One of the first to do that was George W. Perry, Director of Parks and Playgrounds, of Orange, N. J., who one year ago established a recreation center in the rear of his property.

So pleased was he with the success of the idea that he told others of it and today a well-established organization, called the Backyard Playground Association of America, is functioning with headquarters in New York City.

In hot weather the most popular part of the equipment is a garden hose which serves as a shower bath for the children.

Those playgrounds have been salvaged from dismal areas of tin cans and other rubbish. The janitor has been enlisted as groundkeeper and director of activities, and when he is of the alert type, he has worked to make the ground quite in keeping with the more ambitious recreation centers, rolling the earth or pounding it down firmly and spreading a thin layer of calcium chloride to keep down the dust.

In the congested districts of the larger cities, particularly in New York, the idea has caught on, the playground experts declare.

Our liner ad column has helped many people find their needs.

Now that flying from ship board to shore is proven practical, there will be a lot of seafaring passengers trying to mail themselves home—special delivery.

WHEAT GROWERS: TAKE NOTE

$366.60 Added Profit
On 15 Acres of Wheat

Definite figures from other farmers in this locality tell the same story. Greatly increased yields as high as 49 bushels an acre. Average increase, 14 1/2 bushels. At last year's wheat prices a 15-acre field fertilized with "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers gave the farmer $366.60 added profit. This is an average; in some cases the net return was almost three times as much.

You too can make such increased profits if you select your fertilizer on its crop-producing record. The sure way to do this, is to insist on getting "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers. "Worth more per dollar because they produce more per acre."

LIVONIA CENTER DANCES - Given by - SCHAFFER'S ORCHESTRA - AT - LIVONIA TOWN HALL EVERY SATURDAY EVENING Beginning August 13 Come and Have a Good Time

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

The petitions for pavements are rather slow in coming in. The petitions for streets to be paved next year must come in at once, so we can get all the underground work in this year and have the road settle properly before putting the pavement on. If these petitions do not come in so that we can get all the underground work in before winter the street will not be paved next year.

If we attempt to pave a street next year for which a petition comes in next winter we would have the gas company, Edison company and the village men all putting in underground work at the same time while the paving contractor would be trying to excavate. They would all be in each other's way, and the pavement would settle over all these trenches which would not have time to settle, and possibly break through in a year or so.

The village will start cutting all noxious weeds in the village, on August 15th, which have not been cut, and a bill will be sent each property owner for the cost thereof.

Our water supply is very satisfactory according to the report from the State Board of Health and the Ford chemist, who have both made an analysis of it.

The sanitary sewer contractors are coming along nicely and are ahead of their schedule.

AROUND ABOUT US

Wayne's new theatre will open Tuesday, August 27th.

Novi is planning on building a new school building to cost $80,000.

The Lenawee County fair at Adrian will be held September 19 to 23.

The Dearborn Chamber of Commerce is soon to start a drive for an open air swimming pool for that place.

The Redford branch of the Wayne County and Home Savings Bank opened for business, Monday, August 8th. They have erected a handsome new building.

The Booth stock farm near Northville, has purchased 100 purebred Ayrshires from a famous Ohio farm, and thus becomes the home of the greatest milking herd of Ayrshires in the world.

The villages of Flat Rock and Rockwood will obtain gas for commercial and home use, in the near future. If the citizens of the two villages vote to extend the Detroit City Gas Company a franchise.

About 45 or 46 acres of the Charles Ponsford farm near Northville, has been purchased by a syndicate of that village to be used as an airport. It will be known as the Stinson-Northville Airport. Work on putting the grounds in condition has already started.

Miss Jackie Walls of Brightmoor, holds the title of being the longest-haired girl in the United States. Her hair measures six feet nine inches in length. News reels everywhere have shown her, and her picture has appeared in many newspapers. She has traveled extensively, exhibiting her hair.

Prospects for the Belt Line pavement around Ann Arbor will be completed this season and ready to carry traffic to and from football games next fall are bright following receipt of word from the state highway department at Lansing that paving will continue on the section between Main and State streets. Work on this section has been held up while differences between highway officials and the Ann Arbor Golf and Outing club members regarding property for right of way were being settled.

KIWANIANS HEARD INTERESTING TALK

Kiwanians enjoyed a very interesting hour at their regular lunch last Tuesday noon when E. J. Richardson, chief chemist of Berry Bros. Varnish company, explained the manufacture of enamel, shellac, varnish and lacquer.

Mr. Richardson brought with him several exhibits comprising the raw materials entering into the manufacture of the above and in a very entertaining manner portrayed the various processes in their production.

A humorous situation that crept into the meeting occurred during the passing of exhibits, which were contained in small bottles. As these bottles were being passed among the members, a near-sighted member inadvertently (?) picked up a pepper shaker, approximately the same size, and started it along the way of the rest. The contents were always carefully examined before the examinee discovered the holes in the top. A flush of embarrassment and it was quickly passed to the next member. Suspicion rests upon Porley Deal or "Stew" Dodge.

"Uncle" Bill Burrows was the chairman for the day and officiated in his usual pleasing manner.

LOCAL AIRPORT BUSY PLACE

Plans are now being completed for the operation of a new three-motored Ford metal plane from the port of the Triangle Flying Service, Ann Arbor road.

Mr. Diehl, one of the managers of the local field, stated yesterday that arrangements could be made for the removal of wires at the west end of the field regular flights would be made by one of these Leviathans of the air.

The Ford plane is an eight-passenger ship and requires an exceptionally long runway. Under tests the ship has carried over 3,000 pounds of metal, together with two pilots. It is the latest creation of the Stout airplane division of the Ford Motor company.

Daily flights are being made at the local port and many students are receiving instruction in flying from John Koster, one of the foremost pilots in America.

Plymouth residents are urged by the management to arrange for pleasure flights in the mornings, as it will be possible to make much longer flights at that time. There is no advance in price for the extended flights, but the management is desirous of showing citizens of this locality all the beauty of this section of Wayne county from the air.

Easy to View Scenery

Tourists are able to enjoy an unobstructed view of the scenery along the Apache trail in Arizona from a motor coach with a top that slides back, converting the vehicle into one of the open type in a few seconds. The roof is made in sections of light steel. The units are operated by chains with a crank controlled by the driver. When pulled back, they rest over the baggage compartment. At the slightest indication of stormy weather, the driver can crank the three moving sections back into position above the passengers. Reeling seats also aid the occupants, as they permit an upward look without discomfort. The sliding top has been designed to eliminate rattling regardless of its position.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE SHOW IN DETROIT, AUGUST 14.

Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus, proclaimed as the foremost trained wild animal show of the universe, will shortly be in our midst. Billers have finished their work through this territory and bright and highly colored posters tell of the coming of Hagenbeck-Wallace to Detroit, on August 14.

Many new innovations have been created by Hagenbeck-Wallace for the 1927 tour. "The Geisha" said to be the greatest musical spectacle ever produced will open the exhibition, while "Blazing Glory" a patriotic presentation will bring the program to a close. Several hundred characters appear in "The Geisha" and the wardrobe and costuming is said to be the most pretentious of any circus spectacle.

The Hagenbeck standard in trained wild animal numbers has also been maintained and such noted subjugators as Clyde Beatty, Capt. Bernard and Bob MacPherson will send their jungle charges through sensational routines in the big steel arenas. In addition to the wild animal groups, there will be displays of domestic beasts. Several groups of Liberty Horses will appear in the rings, while the hippodrome track will be the scene of a horse show, second to none. Forty singing girls and forty prancing steeds appear in one display.

Other noted features include the Orrin Davenport Family of Equestrians, the Ward-Kimball Troupe of Flyers and Cheerful Gardner and the original Hagenbeck elephants. Plenty of clowns, to be exact fifty, will work all during the performances, which start promptly at 2:00 p. m. and 8:00 p. m. The big double menagerie includes specimens from all portions of the globe, including highly valuable giraffes.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my dear husband, Irving Becker, who passed away one year ago, August 6, 1926.

Dearest husband, how I miss you. It is sweet to breathe thy name. In life I loved you dearly. In death I do the same.

Happy were the years we spent together. Lonely is my heart today. For the one I loved so dearly. Has forever passed away.

He bade no one a last farewell. He said goodbye to none. The Heavenly gates had opened. A loving voice said come.

DE-HO-COS WIN TWO MORE

Saturday, August 6th. De-Ho-Co journeyed to Carleton and defeated the boys in a home-coming game to the tune of 11 to 2.

The writer was not able to attend the game, but from the stories that are told and from a brief perusal of the official scorer's report it is quite obvious that the De-Ho-Co boys have some source of inspiration unknown to the general public. Perhaps it is the antics of their Nick Attract—V. R. Smith. One would never think to see him cavort around that he occupied himself in making cement blocks all week. Nevertheless, the farmer boys know their vegetables. That cannot be denied.

Archie Constineau and Harry German pitched for the farmers and were opposed by Thorne and Reeves, neither of whom caused the farmers the least bit of trouble.

We wouldn't like to say whether it was a fans' game or not. Suffice it to say the farmer lads enjoyed their ride over there and would welcome a return match.

On Sunday, August 7th, the Redford Merchants came to De-Ho-Co park with a whole bag full of blood-thirsty ambitions, but alas, they, too, were doomed to disappointment. Along about the fourth inning considerable alarm was aroused when the rumor was circulated that the scoreboard attendant wouldn't have numbers high enough to indicate the rapidly rising number of runs the De-Ho-Co boys were stacking up.

Rowland, De-Ho-Co's ace, pitched his usual air-tight game. He was opposed by Cousins and Trombly.

All that can be said about this game is that it was a terrible laughter, and we imagine that the Redford boys did not feel altogether unlike the handful of soldiers that emerged from the battle of Balaklava for it surely was a case of De-Ho-Co to the right of them, De-Ho-Co to the left of them, De-Ho-Co in front of them, velleyed and thundered. As to whether they were dismayed, well, we'll give you the box score and let you draw your own conclusions.

Sunday, August 14th. De-Ho-Co will lock horns with the Brightmoor aggregation. Don't make any mistake about it, the Brightmoor lads are on their toes and have plenty of stuff. They are newcomers to the Inter-county league, and may be able to show the farmers a new trick or two. Who knows?

Make it a point to come our next Sunday and cheer the boys, for your moral support is just as great an asset as their brilliant manipulation of ball and bat. The grandstand seats are 35 cents, bleachers 25 cents. Come and bring the whole family. You will enjoy yourselves, we are sure.

METHODIST NOTES

At the mid-week service Wednesday, August 17th, there will be an election of delegates for the lay conference to be held in Port Huron, in September.

LOCAL MINISTER SPEAKS AT INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION.

Dr. Helen R. Phelps, pastor of the Livonia Center Community church, attended the International Convention of Community church workers that convened at Lansing, in connection with the dozen of national agricultural conventions held the past week at the Michigan State Agricultural College.

The recently constructed People's Church was the headquarters of the convention. Expert speakers discussed important rural and suburban problems. Not the least of the attractions was the splendid delegation from Canada, bringing glowing reports of the United Church Movement in Canada.

Dr. Helen R. Phelps was one of the speakers at the convention, and is one of the international directors. She is national speaker for the missionary board of community church workers, and reports an increasing interest throughout the Americas for more intensive efforts on the part of all denominations for a unity of efforts and a world-wide cooperation among all churches.

AN ATTRACTIVE SUNDAY EVENING SERVICE.

A splendid group of young people from the Woodward Avenue Baptist church of Detroit, is assisting Dr. Helen R. Phelps in an especially attractive Sunday evening service, with a community sing and interesting short speeches. The first of these services was held last Sunday night. An enthusiastic crowd greeted the sixteen young people, with their music and speeches. Five of the group returned two weeks ago from attending the national young people's convention in Philadelphia. Everybody present gave expression to a very happy evening.

The general public is welcome to all of these Sunday evening services of singing and speaking. The song service begins at eight o'clock. Many of the old songs will be sung. Some enthusiastic speeches are assured.

NEW RECORDS FOR PLAYGROUND USE IN NATION EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Over 1,000,000 Men, Women, Children in Attendance
Represents Present Figure—Communities
Report Increase Over 1926—
New York Leads.

BIT by bit children are winning back for their use as playgrounds the land won from them in the last fifty years by the march of commercial progress.

Aided by various associations and individuals throughout the country, communities are setting aside more money each year to give children what the authorities call the children's birthright, according to data now being compiled to cover 1927.

More than 1,000,000 men, women and children every day found play and recreation on public playgrounds and Recreation Association. That figure is expected to be exceeded greatly this year. In 558 cities the municipalities spent $19,202,123 for recreation purposes on 5600 outdoor playgrounds.

So far this year 790 towns and cities have reported recreational facilities at 18,123 centers, everyone supervised or directed in some fashion to give the greatest good to the greatest number.

For this year, New York State is in the lead with 1,416 recreation centers in 74 cities. Pennsylvania is second with 906 centers and Massachusetts third with 807 playgrounds.

California, however, spent more than any other state, with a total of $2,571,561 Illinois was second with $2,397,106 and New York State, was third with $2,331,262. In New York City alone the expenditure was $939,263.

In the last ten years, it is estimated the number of public recreation centers has been multiplied by more than two and a half. The increase has been due in large measure to provision made by realty men for recreation centers in new subdivisions.

Model playgrounds today include kindergarten, swings, slides, merry-go-rounds, pavilions, field houses, wading pools and, of course, an open play area where the larger children may romp to their hearts' content, with ball games, top matches and trible tournaments.

No grass could stand the punishment of hundreds of feet and the modern practice is to roll the ground firmly and bind the surface with some agent, usually calcium chloride, which keeps the dust laid even in extremely dry weather.

Such playgrounds have an added value in keeping children off the streets, the experts assert, and there by reduce the number of deaths from automobile accidents. Some cities, notably New York, have reported substantial gains in child-savin by this means.

MANY NATIONS JOIN AT FARM LIFE MEET

BRILLIANT INTERNATIONAL DELEGATION MARKED BIG CONFERENCE PROGRAM AT M. S. C. LAST WEEK.

With delegates from 25 different nations and 23 American states in attendance, the special Country Life Conference held here last week as part of the ceremonies marking the seventh anniversary of the founding of Michigan State College proved to be a brilliant international gathering.

From far-off China, and Egypt to more immediate neighbors such as Mexico and Canada, delegates brought first hand word as to agricultural conditions in their homelands, and added to the valuable discussions on farm life.

Nearly twenty different associations and groups were included among the list which held conferences during the Country Life Week period. The American Country Life Association and the American Farm Economics Association held a joint meeting which took rank as the largest of the conferences. The International Country Life Commission, the World Agricultural Society, the Michigan Country Life Association and many other groups of national and even international scope were included.

Presence of many farmers from the middle west added interest to the discussion, which centered around the general theme of the relation between farm income and farm standard of living. There was difference of opinion on minor details, but the consensus of opinion was summed up aptly by Dean A. R. Mann, of Cornell University, chairman of the conference resolutions committee, when he said:

"Better farming, better business, and better living; and the greatest of these is better living."

Yes, Yes, Indeed.

Gerald—How long is it since you were abroad?

Julia—Three husbands ago.

Picked Up About Town

Nearly everything a small boy knows about August is that it's the month when fishing worms bore deepest.

Dad Plymouth says a fellow likes to yelp about his wife not being able to cook like his mother could, but he never picks one of mother's age and experience when he starts out to get married.

The world is growing smarter. To be known as a genius nowadays a man has to have more than long hair and a dirty shirt.

"What I'd like to know," says Dad Plymouth, "is how a woman managed to kill time in the days before we had party line telephones."

Dad Plymouth says old Noah sure could have saved the world a lot of trouble if he had put his foot on the bedbug when it was going in the ark.

One way to make a man run for office is for some of his enemies to say that he can't get it.

"My idea of a true friend," asserts Dad Plymouth, "is one you can get along with on a fishing or hunting trip."

Chiropractic for Children

The children of today will be the men and women of tomorrow. The start we give them will determine their future success or failure. Let us not underestimate our duty to our children. Their future well being is no less dependent upon good healthy bodies than upon education and finances. In fact a healthy body is your child's greatest asset. Good health is the foundation upon which success and happiness are built.

The child who grows into maturity with an unhealthy body is forced to meet the world with the greatest handicap imaginable. How easy it is for Chiropractic to make and keep your children healthy, and yet how little lives are ruined by ill health.

The number of babies whose little spines are twisted out of alignment during delivery is appalling. Many are the little fellows whose first inheritance is a lifetime of suffering, all of which could easily be avoided if the parents would have a good Chiropractor straighten their little spines during the first few days after birth. Do not make the mistake of depending upon your own examination of the spine. Remember that the little bones are so small that only the hands of a skilled Chiropractor can detect the misalignments. If your baby suffers with colic, constipation, vomiting, sleeplessness, or if it fails to grow or cries unduly, you can be sure that there is something wrong which should be corrected without delay. The normal baby is little or no trouble to its mother.

After the little fellows begin to crawl and walk they are constantly subjected to severe falls which often cause spinal displacements which, if not corrected, will later result in years of ill health and unhappiness. Chiropractic Adjustments will correct conditions in children in much shorter time than if allowed to remain until they reach maturity.

See that the kiddies get a Neurocalometer reading which will at once locate any nerve pressure which may be present.

Chiropractic Adjustments given according to the Neurocalometer reading will remove the pressure, and they will soon regain their health.

THE AVERAGE FARMER.
KNOW YOURSELF, ADD 10 YEARS.
AN EXPENSIVE SPANKING.
O. H. KAHN, WISE FATHER.

How would you like to be the average American farmer? His farm is 315 acres. His investment $16,308. His average net return for 1926 was $1,133.

He could make more than that driving a street car, getting regular sleep, not worrying about weather, lame horses, sick cows, rust on wheat, bugs on potatoes, blight in the orchards, etc.

More important to millions of Americans, cotton has gone to a new high price for this year, three times on three successive days.

When cotton, not long ago sold at half today's price this writer said to Clarence Dillon, Incognito New York financier: "Buy yourself plenty of cotton and you will make a great deal of money."

Dr. Sherman, of Columbia university, shows that man's "vital years" can be increased by the right diet. Efficiency can begin earlier and last longer if men eat enough of the right things. Chemistry applied to diet will soon add ten years to the working period of human life.

Mrs. Almee Sample McPherson, whose conversion of sinners proves her inspired, fights as well as she conserts. Her former choir leader, Mr. Nichols, says: "Confess what really happened when you were supposed to be kidnapped." Mrs. Almee Sample replies: "I told the truth, walked in the light, and you are only looking for advertising, which you need." There is nothing like courage to take you through. Mrs. Almee has it.

In Washington, Mrs. Fader spanked her three-year-old son, Bruce, because he would climb the White House iron fence. During the spanking her $5,000 diamond bracelet flew off and was lost. Bruce saw the bracelet in the air but, busy with his spanking, said nothing. Whipping children causes greater loss than that of any bracelet who in destroys the child's affection and respect for parents.

Another American, Lieutenant C. C. Champion, Jr., of the navy, sets another flying mark. He is believed to have broken the world's altitude record.

He fought a temperature 90 degrees below zero and his plane caught fire. An ambulance rushed to meet him, found him grinning instead of dead as was expected.

Our atmosphere is 500 miles high, or deep, so thin at the top that a feather would not float in it.

How high up will men go? Will they be astronomers looking through thinner air at the universe outside of us?

Lieutenant Champion's estimated altitude of 47,000 feet is questioned. He says he will go up again and higher.

Mr. Chamberlin, Atlantic flier, will try something new in commercial shipping-aviation. In a little sport model biplane he will fly from the deck of the steamship Leviathan, showing how passenger and mail transportation can be speeded up by flying from big ships, as they near port.

Soon flying machines will cross the ocean more safely than boats do now and in one-fourth of the time. Then a combination steamship and plane will seem strange, but it is a useful transition now.

A wise father lets his son do what he wants, within reason, for what a boy wants to do is usually what he can do best.

One of his boys liked music and wanted to lead a jazz band. Mr. Kahn said: "Go ahead and lead it." He knew the jazz band fit would not last long.

Now, young Mr. Kahn, nineteen years old, has taken to flying. It is his own pilot, and skillful. That does not make his father and mother sleep more soundly, probably, but Mr. Kahn says: "Go ahead and fly."

If more Americans with money would let their boys fly—as thousands of normal American boys would like to fly—this country would soon lead the world in aviation.

FARMERS SHOW CLASS
IN PLOWING CONTEST

M. S. C. ROUND-UP ON AUGUST 1.

That Michigan farmers are past masters at the grand old art of plowing was demonstrated dramatically at Michigan State College last week in the contest which was held as part of the annual summer Farmers Day.

Contestants came from all parts of the state and the champions showed a standard of skill which would be hard to beat. Horse show pitching and a milk can throwing contest were other competitive sports included in the day's program.

Inspection of hundreds of acres of experimental work on the M. S. C. farm and of the college livestock proved as usual to be the leading feature of Farmers Day, along with the afternoon program, held in the open air on the campus.

Presence of delegates from European and South American countries lent an international flavor to the Farmers day speaking program. Dr. Jacob Lange, of Denmark, told of experiences of the Danish farmers in politics, while President Butterfield of M. S. C. and Dr. Asher Holson of Rome, also presided. C. W. Pugsley, president of South Dakota State College, who delivered the main address.

The Farmers Day crowd was smaller than that of recent years, perfect weather for threshing and harvest keeping many at home.

Winners of first places in the different contests held in the morning were as follows: John Helms, Zeeland, two-horse walking plow class; H. T. Cantrell, Mason, four-horse tandem-hitch sulky plow; Lawrence Every, Mason, tractor plowing; Elmer Fought, St. Louis, horseshoe pitching; and H. L. Brooks, Bath, milk can throwing.

The choir from the M. E. church, Blissfield, was presented with a $100 check for its victory in community singing.

OLD CUSTOM SEEN IN PLIGHTED VOWS

Most of Them Handed Down
Through Centuries.

Of all the strange relics of thought, primitive fancies and beliefs so surprisingly a part of civilized life, the marriage customs of different races are perhaps the most fascinating. No one ever stops to think of the meaning of the many practices so obviously a part of the modern marriage ceremony, yet each has a story of its own which stretches back through the centuries. Each little custom that the bride observes links her to the traditions of the dim and dusty past, and, although they have long been recognized as mere superstition, no bride would ignore them for the world.

The marriage rite, emerging from the shadows of prehistory, is one of the oldest of human institutions. Certain writers of authority believe that men and women originally had no higher marriage sense than the animals, while other writers of prominence believe that, although there was a time when the modern ceremony was not observed, marriage in its true sense has existed since the beginning of time. Marriage has passed through three well-defined stages of development—marriage by capture, marriage by purchase, and marriage through mutual love. The word wedding, often so casually used, in itself reveals the old practice of securing a wife by purchase, for the "wed" was the money, horses or cattle with which the bridegroom purchased the bride from her father. As a slight compensation to the bridegroom for this money or goods, the father in turn presented the couple at marriage with a "trousseau," meaning a little bundle.

The "trousseau" later gave way to the trousseau, which in turn had its origin in the dowry. At first the value of the trousseau was an important factor in winning a husband, and many girls began making their bridal finery at a very early age. At one time it was quite the proper thing for the bridegroom to examine the trousseau and decide whether or not it was complete, and it is said that the choice of a suitor often depended upon the worth of the girl's outfit.

The hope chest, now a relic of other days, retained because it is a pretty and convenient custom, likewise had its origin in the oldtime dowry. Long ago the hope chest was very important in the life of every girl. In most homes there was a chest set aside for each daughter, into which bits of finery and handmade linens were placed for "the home of her hopes," from which can be seen the origin of the name. A widespread superstition associated with the hope chest is that a bit of handwork by the bride-to-be must be placed on each article contained therein if happiness is to bless the home. For this reason many brides prefer to initial linens themselves, which is well to remember when making gifts.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

NOT A BAD PLACE—THE MID-WEST.

The man from the mid-west is usually the goat of all the intellectuals.

The mid-west is supposed to be the home of banality. This region is inhabited, according to Mencken, Sinclair Lewis and others, almost exclusively by morons. They are the people who form the favorite butt of almost all kinds of ridicule.

They are the lay-abouts of the world. The mid-west has Chautauqua circles, living descendants of former camp meetings. The inhabitants are bowleggs who come in for the contempt of all the emancipated and advanced Europeans and easterners.

Did they not put across prohibition? Did not their wives and daughters even go to prayer meetings?

When the world war came, however, these boys from the mid-west, Kansas and thereabouts, did a pretty good job at Belleau Wood and in the Argonne. They fought well and the heroes of Balklava and Thermopylae had to move aside and make room for them in the Hall of Fame.

A Missouri boy named Pershing and a couple of Illinois men named Grant and Lincoln demonstrated that something worth while could come from Nazareth.

And now another mid-westerner, a "dumb" Swede, has started the world. He took his life in hand, shaved a tooth brush in his pocket and flew unaided and alone across the perilous Atlantic.

Personally, I think it makes no difference what country a man comes from. A Japanese, a Mexican, or a Nebraskan is quite as liable to horn in and monopolize the front page as a noble Roman or distinguished Britisher. Man is man and you can't tell what part of the human race is going to develop a remarkable shoot.

Mr. Babitt's country, with its Chautauqs and Rotary clubs and prayer meetings, is not such a bad place after all.

Today's Reflections

Our advice to the Plymouth motorist who seeks to be careful is to drive as though the other fellow was going to turn out to be a fool.

Another reason why boys and girls leave the farm may be that in the city they can cross the road under the shelter of a traffic policeman.

Since prohibition came it has been harder to find something on which to lay men's downfall, and they are downfalling about as often as ever.

When a Plymouth man begins fitting up a home the first thing he buys is a spindle, but the first thing a woman buys is a vase.

The Russian bear may "walk like a man," but it doesn't talk like one.

The reason there are so many marriages is because no young man can imagine that "sweet and twenty" ever will be come "sour and sixty."

The average Plymouth woman can tell you that her husband's pay envelope was making non-stop flights long before Lindbergh started.

Bombing planes will cross the Atlantic to our shores in time of war, but we fancy none will ever go back.

Some men have so many expenses that adding another one doesn't worry them any more than a new rattle does the owner of a dixer.

The only thing harder to keep down than a meal on a rough voyage is a Plymouth girl's knee-length skirt.

The powers of the justice of peace are limited. The longest sentence a justice can impose is marriage.

It is only natural that single girls giggle more than their married sisters. What has a married woman got to giggle about anyhow?

Most any Plymouth woman can love her husband in spite of an ugly face, club feet or even loose morals, but she can't love him if he is tight-fisted.

A long-legged sheep in the Himalaya mountains is able to run forty miles an hour. That's the kind of lamb it would take to keep up with Mary nowadays.

A woman can be narrow-minded and still have a hard time squeezing into a Morris chair when she wants to sit down.

If you want to make Plymouth look better to you than it ever did before, take a long vacation trip and see a lot of other towns.

Wife Tired of Being

"Married to a Voice"

Radio fans who have missed the strong, silvery voice of Gene Delmar, announcer for station WABC, these past few weeks, had an explanation with the publication of a recent number of McClure's Magazine.

It seems that Mrs. Gene Delmar, petite brunette of twenty-four, got very tired of sitting at home evenings and listening while Mr. Delmar did all of the talking—out of a dial-faced box. Mrs. Delmar couldn't answer him, couldn't look at him, couldn't guess his sleek hair playfully, or any thing. She even had to share her voice with a million or so other women.

And every twenty-four year old wife knows that's no kind of a husband to have.

So Mrs. Delmar sat down and wrote herself a magazine article, telling just what it felt like to be married to a voice. She said:

"Our little boy thinks that Gene is just a hopeless eccentric who likes to spend his time curled up in a little mahogany box. When Gene speaks the baby says, 'Daddy, daddy, come out!'

"People who come to see us never wait long enough for Gene to get home. They spend the evening looking at me and listening to him, then they go home and say they've been visiting the Delmars.

"No woman who hasn't experienced it can know the utterly devastating feeling of being ill and alone while she listens to her husband chirping happily about the Edithan contralto's next selection.

"They say radio is here to stay. In that case, I'm tired of being alone all the time, of being married to a voice, and of pronouncing the baby that some day he'll actually see his daddy at dinner.

"The only reason announcers' wives hang on is this: He can't find you, he can't say he's working overtime. If he's working you hang him."

Having so unkind and herself, Mrs. Delmar sold the manuscript to McClure's. But somewhere, several weeks ago, Gene Delmar got a look at the manuscript.

Mr. Delmar and his silver voice have retired from the radio-announcing business permanently. He's writing short stories now.

Out and Up

Elliot Glynn, at a reception in Los Angeles, was describing the character of movie stars.

"They are jealous of one another's success without distinction of sex," she said. "A young man, I mean, will envy and hate a successful girl the same as if she were another young man.

"A girl star was having tea with me the other afternoon when a man star dropped in. They soon began to quarrel.

"Look here," the girl said, "you're not as young as you make out."

"Well, how about you?" said he.

"Are you as young as you make out?"

Absorbed

That Charles B. Dillingham, the theatrical manager, has a pretty wit is testified to by Marie Dressler in her "Life Story of an Ugly Duckling."

"Once, while motoring through White Plains," pipes Marie, "where he (Dillingham) owned a place with Charles Frohman, I encountered him in his car.

"Hello, Marie," he greeted me.

"Hello, Charles," I replied. "I hear they're thinking of adding you to the social register because you're, got a lake."

"Lake," he spluttered. "I had one, but some sneak came along with a sponge and stole it."

Substitute for Propeller

An amazing propellerless all-metal airship is being built by Thomas Benton Slate, well-known engineer, at the Glendale airport, California, according to Popular Science Monthly. Planned on an entirely new principle it will be neither pushed nor pulled through the air, but will "float" by air pressure from behind. A radial blower in the ship's nose will create in effect a vacuum in front of the dirigible, air pressure from behind constantly urging the ship forward into this vacuum. The power plant comprises two turbines.

The flat center-traction tread has complete four-point road contact. This makes the tread wear longer and more evenly. Its quick-grip, quick-release, non-skid design gives lightning "get-away" and unequalled safety at all speeds. Stabilized bands of friction rubber draw the center of the tread parallel to the center of the rim, thus preventing "shimmying." All Dayton Stabilized rubber is especially compounded and tempered by an exclusive Dayton process. It's so strong and durable that it will outlast extra thousands of miles of toughest driving.

FIGURES OF ANNUAL LOSS BY EROSION

Stapendous Problem Nation Must Solve.

While the flood with its tremendous damage "makes the front page" there is another loss of millions of dollars going on every year to which few pay any attention.

Two hundred million dollars a year washed away? One hundred and twenty-six billion pounds of plant food wasted annually?

This is the story that H. H. Bennett tells in Nature Magazine called "Forests, Anchors of the Hills." He sets forth the facts of a problem that demands nation-wide activity. Thousands of farmers are trying to eke out existence on poverty-stricken soil that is gripped by the force of erosion. Little help can be given them because funds and specialists are needed to learn what best can be done.

A conservative estimate of the era of land formerly cultivated in the United States and now permanently destroyed for farming purposes by erosion is not less than thirteen million acres, Bennett writes. But this destroyed area does not represent the worst features of erosion.

The slower type of land wastage known as sheet erosion is the real evil genius. By this process every rain heavy enough to cause water to flow takes its toll of soil, and takes it from the top, the richest part of the field. Rain water does not run away from cultivated hillsides as crystal-clear liquid, but rather as a turbid mixture of soil and water.

In this manner it is estimated that each year not less than 126,000,000,000 pounds of plant food material, washed from cultivated fields and pastures, are carried into the sea or deposited upon slopes and over valley bottoms where it is not needed.

Our agriculturists have devoted a vast amount of work to the problem of replenishing the plant food removed from the soil by cropping, and have given but little attention to the far more serious problem of erosion.

Certainly erosion removes from our fields more than 20 times as much plant food material as is lost in crop production, and little is being done to solve the problem, the article says. Furthermore, the crops take the elements of plant food, something which can be restored; but erosion takes the whole soil, which cannot be restored. Annually our farmers are losing at least $200,000,000 by erosion. The actual loss to the nation is far greater than this: It is incalculable. As a soil is worn down it becomes less productive, not at a uniform rate, but at a progressively increasing rate. After the removal of the forest in old, the mellow top soil goes, exposing raw subsoil, usually clay which is less fertile and more difficult to till. After this comes the bed rock on which neither trees nor filled crops can be grown.

His Condition

"As old age approaches," said Audrey's Uncle Dobb, "and the virility of the victim begins to wane, the strength of his vanity increases. He begins to fancy that he is just as young as he used to be, and that all the girls are after him. He seeks the company of young persons and giggling loves them with his wearisome reminiscences of how 'soopie' he used to be. He illustrates it by trying to dance a breakdown and breaks his leg in the attempt. He dyes his hair and fools nobody but himself. According to his own story the widders nearly mob him with their attentions, when in reality they are merely laughing at him behind his back. He could jump farther, run faster and leap higher than any of his opponents when he was young and—"

"Yes," replied little Audrey, with a merry laugh. "It's hard to be old, isn't it, Uncle Dobb?"—Kansas City Star.

Standardized Dwellings

According to German papers, American financiers are backing a big housing development in Berlin, which is to begin with the erection of 14,000 dwellings. These will be built on the quantity production plan, from standardized parts.

It is not specifically stated that these parts and the accessories are to be delivered on a belt and assembled in rows of a specified number of houses a day, but that is the general impression conveyed by the prospectus.

Each tenement is to consist of a kitchen, a living room with 20 square meters floor area, two other rooms with 16 square meters floor area, a small bedroom with eight square meters floor area, and a bathroom, and is so rent for $300 a year, including heat and hot-water service.—Living Age

Violet Ray Detective

A new kind of analysis is possible in the determination of paste diamonds and imitations of emeralds and other precious stones by the employment of ultra-violet rays from a quartz lamp.

Since very chemical substance has its own peculiar efflorescence, which can be noted by photography, it becomes practically impossible to substitute imitation stones for real ones.

Another advantage offered by these rays to the dealer is in the improvement in luster said to be created in pale or discolored stones upon their subjection to exposure under the rays.

Lenin Worshipped as Hero by the Russians

I have heard in Russia of the "New Religion"—of Communism as the faith, and Lenin as the savior, William C. White writes, in Scribner's Magazine. There are those who profess to see a close resemblance between his life and the life of Christ, even to the vicarious sacrifice—between their economic teaching.

This is especially connected with the increase in stories, all over Russia, about the numerous returns to earth of a spirit resembling Vladimir Ilych. But two years is too short a time to establish the principles of a new religion or even to formulate them, for new religions, like whiskey, need the aging process.

But if it is a new religion, it is an unusual one: its principles are indefinite, but its spirit enters into the daily life of the people. Rather than a religion, it is a hero worship in a country where popular heroes have been few. The Russian people have sung the praises of Volga bandits and Cossack rebels, but always their golden shield is tarnished with defeat; defying the czar, they met with death.

Here is a hero who succeeded, and who had the good fortune to die at the climax of his career—an act neglected by would-be heroes, who live to anti-climax. The hero of all the Russians has appeared—here is the opportunity to see a hero worship in the making. The Russian revolution ends—in the creation of a hero.

Any group which hopes to overthrow the present system of government must count first on destroying this new hero and the popular conception of him. The first is becoming increasingly impossible, but the popular conception of him may slowly change, for hero worship can be molded by careful advertising.

Future governments will find in the worship of Lenin a powerful support, if they can mold it to their use; the figure will remain, but the attributes can be modified. And should Russia come to the capitalistic system as we know it, separate statements of Lenin's will be interpreted for the mass as being the sum of its teachings and, when that time comes, Lenin will still be revered—but as the first Russian Rotarian.

Measuring Weight Loss

The loss in weight that we all undergo every day, mostly water given off through the skin and lungs, has been the object of research by Dr. Francis G. Benedict and Cornelia Gillay Benedict of the Carnegie Institute of Washington. Two sensitive balances were used in the work. Both were strong enough to sustain the weight of a man, but sensitive enough to register small changes in weight. One of the balances would indicate a change of one-third of an ounce, and was so constructed that the volunteer for the experiment could sleep all night on its platform. The other was 100 times as sensitive, but could be occupied for only an hour or so at a stretch. Other ingenious mechanics measured the carbon dioxide given off, the percentage of water in the outgoing breath, and also its temperature.

Names and Knowledge

Most young people find botany a dull study. So it is, as taught from the textbooks in the schools; but study it yourself in the fields and woods, and you will find it a source of perennial delight. Find your flower, and then name it by the aid of botany. There is so much in a name. To find out what a thing is called is a great help. It is the beginning of knowledge; it is the first step. When we see a new person who interests us, we wish to know his or her name. A bird, a flower, a place—the first thing we wish to know about it is its name. Its name helps us to classify it; it gives us a handle to grasp it by; it sheds a ray of light where all before was darkness. As soon as we know the name of a thing we seem to have established some sort of relation with it.—John Burroughs.

Poetry Don't Pay

Governor Dern of Utah said to a Salt Lake City reporter the other day:

"The government in the past rewarded its high-grade poets and novelists—such men as Hawthorne and Walt Whitman—with consulships and other good positions, but it can't do this any longer on account of the civil service reform.

"It's a pity in a way. I heard not long ago about a shabby poet who applied in Washington for a consulship and, of course, had to be turned down.

"I'm sorry, sir," the State department official said to him, "I'm sorry we can do nothing to help you, for you are a famous man."

"Yes," said the poet sadly, "I have laurels on my brows, but I can't browse on my laurels."

Germany "Sees" Skyscraper

The erection of a 18-story office building, which was begun recently in Stuttgart, marks the inception of the skyscraper style of construction in that city, according to Consul Conger Reynolds, Stuttgart. The structure, which is being erected for the Stuttgart Tagblatt, the leading newspaper of Wurttemberg, will be 187 feet in height, with base measurements of only 30 feet at the front, 45 feet at the rear by 50 feet in depth. The reinforced concrete type of construction, which is now in general use in Germany, will be followed. This project marks a radical departure from the customary building practice of Stuttgart.

Present: All five Commissioners. The minutes of the regular meeting of July 7th and the special meeting of July 9th were read and approved.

On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, the following corrections were made to the minutes of May 10th regarding the construction of Joy street sewer:

Instead thereof to construct a sanitary sewer in Joy street from the sewer being constructed on Fairground avenue westerly to center line of Coolidge street.

On motion of Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Learned, the former motion of July 7th regarding cross-walk on Harvey street was cancelled.

On motion of Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Learned, a cross-walk was ordered constructed on the west side of Harvey street across Maple avenue.

A motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, to purchase 250 feet of Paragon fire hose at a cost of $1.40 per foot.

After general discussion it was agreed by the Commission that Wm. A. Blunk be paid one-third of the cost of Arthur street sewer amounting to $300, the balance, $600, to be paid after first special assessment on sewer is collected.

The Village Manager was instructed to notify Mr. Gayde that garbage is being dumped at the village dump on his property.

of the construction of said improvement and after having made said assessment to forthwith report the same to the Commission.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Henderson, who moved its adoption, supported by Commissioner Learned:

RESOLVED, by the Village of Plymouth, State of Michigan: Section 1. That it has been declared by the Commission a public necessity that certain storm sewers be installed and constructed in the Village of Plymouth.

Section 2. That of the said estimated cost of said improvements, the Village of Plymouth shall pay $979.37 and $1,508.73 shall be assessed against the private property particularly benefited by said public improvements, said property so particularly benefited being hereby designated as special assessment districts and being all of the lots or lands as described as follows:

District No. 1. All lots and parcels of land abutting on Arthur street from the south line of lot 15 in Wm. A. Blunk addition extending northerly in and along Arthur street 600 feet to the south line of Blanche street.

District No. 2. All lots and parcels of land abutting on Irvin street from the south line of lot 57 in Wm. A. Blunk addition extending northerly in and along Irvin street to a point 17.51 feet north of the south line of lot 44, Wm. A. Blunk addition.

District No. 3. All lots and parcels of land abutting on Brush street from Forest avenue to Harold street, on Penniman avenue from the north side of Garfield avenue west to the west line of lot 38 of Virginia Park subdivision.

Said assessments to be made as nearly as may be in proportion to the benefits which each of the assessed pieces or parcels of land will receive by reason of the construction of the said public improvements.

Section 3. RESOLVED FURTHER, that said storm sewers have been constructed under the supervision and direction of the Village Manager.

Section 4. RESOLVED FURTHER, that Arthur V. Jones, assessor of the said Village of Plymouth, is hereby directed to make an assessment on all lots and parts of lots and lands described above, along which said storm sewers shall run, its proportion of the $2,736.73 as nearly as may be to the benefits which each of the assessed parcels of land will receive by reason of the construction of said improvement and after having made said assessment to forthwith report the same to the Commission.

A motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, that the Attorney be instructed to prepare a resolution regarding the sale of special assessment bonds for four-fifths of the amount to be assessed to the property owners.

A motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, to change the flow of Harvey street sanitary sewer to the south from Ann Arbor street instead of north.

This being the time called for a hearing of the closing of an alley in the Maplecroft subdivision, and there being no objections, a motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, to confirm the closing of a nine-foot alley beginning at the northeast corner of lot 25, Brookview subdivision, of part of the northwest quarter of Section 35, T. 18, R. 8 E., Michigan, according to the plat thereof duly recorded in Wayne county, Michigan, in Liber 38 of Plats on page 78, running thence S. 88 degrees 22 minutes W. 44.5 feet; thence N. 2 degrees 17 minutes W. 9 feet; thence N. 88 degrees 22 minutes E. 44.5 feet; thence S. 2 degrees 17 minutes E. 9 feet, to the point of beginning, except that said alley, discontinuing and abolishing is not to affect in any way the right of easement at the rear of said lot 23 according to the plat of said Brookview subdivision.

A motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, to vacate Blanche street providing an acceptable right-of-way can be obtained to make a proper connection at the west end.

A motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, that a refund of 1927 taxes amounting to $22.50 be made to Frank Watkins.

The report of the Auditing Committee recommended the payment of the following bills:

POLICE IN PAJAMAS MAKE CAPTURE

PATROLMEN, AWAKENED, FIND THREE DRIVING OFF WITH CAR.

The following is taken from the Detroit News of August 3rd, and relates to a Glenn Matevia, a Plymouth boy, now on the Detroit police force:

"I had only in pajamas, two patrolmen frayed the chilly air at 3:40 a. m. today to capture three youths they say chase the garage of Detective Harry Galde, 6412 Clifton avenue, to attempt an automobile theft."

"The patrolmen, Clyde Lemko and Glenn Matevia, were asleep at 6428 Clifton avenue, their rooming place, when they were awakened by a crash of glass. They paused only to get their revolvers and slippers and ran down the alley to the Galde garage. They reported finding John Mackiewicz, 18 years old, 5435 Daniels avenue; Harry Mayshock, 19, 4968 Weston avenue; and Stanley Belch, 17, no address, in the act of driving off with Galde's car."

"The youths were taken to the Vinewood Station. They confessed intending to steal the car, the police said. Galde has pneumonia and was unaware of the attempt made to get his car."

Well—everything has been said and done at Geneva. We mean said.

proved by the Board of Review and presented to the Commission by the Assessor.

Present: All five Commissioners. On motion made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, the storm sewer rolls were ordered accepted as read and were turned over to the Treasurer for collection.

On motion by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, the sanitary sewer rolls were ordered rejected because of the change found to be necessary in the amount to be assessed. The Assessor was ordered to make a new assessment of the sanitary sewers.

The Commission adjourned. Henry J. Fisher, President. William Weltner, Clerk.

Plymouth, Michigan, July 29, 1927. A special meeting of the Commission held in the Commission Room of the Village Hall Friday evening, July 29th, 1927, at 7:00 p. m., called to consider the opening of an alley in Maplecroft subdivision, this being the time set for a public hearing.

Present: All five Commissioners. After considerable discussion on the subject a motion was made by Commissioner Henderson, seconded by Commissioner Learned, that the Commission refuse to take action on it.

Ayes: Commissioners Henderson, Learned, Henderson, Pierce and President Fisher. Nays: None. Carried.

The Commission adjourned. Henry J. Fisher, President. William Weltner, Clerk.

BENJAMIN TYLER, et al., vs. ORPHA TYLER, his wife, Plaintiff, vs. JOB W. TAFT, WILLIAM TAFT, HIRAM TAFT, ANN M. ELDRIDGE, et al., Defendants.

Modern Luxuries for the "Ordinary Citizen"

William Feather, writing in Nation's Business Magazine, takes issue with those who scorn our modern civilization and yearn for a return of the good old days of our great-grandfathers. He says:

"I am working in the living room of my home, pounding a portable typewriter. I look around and this is what I see: Light provided by a lamp in which burned two incandescent bulbs. In an adjoining room a telephone from which I can talk to any city on this North American continent."

On the wall is a thermostat which regulates the flow of gas in my furnace, and keeps the room at an even temperature of 70 degrees. A music cabinet containing records of the finest arias from the best operas, and selections by the greatest musicians in the world.

For a few cents a day I have delivered to my home the news from the four corners of the world. This news as printed in the daily paper is interpreted for me in the weeklies and monthlies, all of which are delivered to my very door by the postman.

The floors of my home are cleaned with a suction sweeper, while the clothes are put through an electric washer and ironed in an electrically driven mangle.

My children attend a school where they are given a better education than the sons of kings could command a century ago.

I go to work in an automobile, and I travel a distance in three-quarters of an hour which would have been an all-day trip for my father a generation ago.

I enjoy all these things, and yet I am just an ordinary citizen with an ordinary income, living in an ordinary way. Tens of thousands have just as much as I, and more.

Squirrel's Good Memory

Are squirrels able to remember where they hide nuts; are they guided by the sense of smell or do they just chance to find food that they or other squirrels have hidden? Naturalists are puzzled over the question, but tests performed with a squirrel by Dr. A. Brooker Klugh of Cornell University indicate that memory plays no small part in the animal's remarkable skill at locating food it has secreted, says Popular Mechanics Magazine.

A red squirrel buried nine nuts in the snow on a house balcony. The next day it came and dug them up one by one, although a new fall of snow had complicated the problem. Doctor Klugh concluded that the performance showed the squirrel's strong memory for location.

Another Frog Story

A live frog has been exhumed in Arizona from a bed of hard shale laid down billions of years ago in what was then a sea bed. The frog was found four feet below the surface by oil prospectors. It was not like the frogs in the Arizona desert. It was alive when released, but died later, probably because unused to so large a supply of oxygen. When exposed to the air the body was the diameter of a dollar, apparently without eyes or mouth. Two days later it had expanded to a shape more froglike, and was developing rudimentary eyes.

Frogs imprisoned in stone are believed to live for many years, but it is difficult to believe one could have remained alive millions of years.—Capper's Weekly.

Sound Sleeper

John Larkin of New York ate a big dinner and got awfully sleepy. With effort he found his way to the elevated railway and waited on the platform for the next train. John got sleeper and sleeper and just as the train was approaching he toppled off the platform onto the track. He was sound asleep when the first car passed over him. The motorman had seen him fall and brought the train to a stop as soon as he could. It was necessary to jack the wheels of the car up in order to extricate the man. He was still sound asleep. Examination showed no injuries except a dislocated shoulder caused by his fall.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Man's Peculiar Power

A human clock has been puzzling the members of the British Medical and Psychological Association. He is Bill Jenney, a sixty-two-year-old clock-maker, who has asserted often that he could tell the time at any hour of the day or night within half a minute. The scientists took Bill at his word and put him through exhaustive tests. The greatest divergence he made was three-quarters of a minute. The doctors' attempts to upset what they called Jenney's "acute psychomotor pulse" included attendance at a thrilling dramatic play, the enjoyment of a fine meal and the administering of alcohol.

Territorial Waters

There is still much controversy concerning territorial waters. The three-mile limit is recognized and practiced by the United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Denmark. Norway has not agreed to maintain the three-mile limit, claiming that the special configuration of her coast necessitates four miles. Spain lays claim to jurisdiction six miles from shore. For revenue purposes various limits beyond the three-mile line have been claimed and acknowledged from time to time.

Experience Speaks

"Slater" asked Tommy, "do fairy tales always begin with 'Once upon a time?'" "No, Tommy, not always. They sometimes begin with 'There's something about you.'"

B. F. KEITH'S TEMPLE THEATRE

Detroit, Michigan

A packed house greeted the inaugural bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre for the change of policy last Sunday, under which a feature motion picture is shown in conjunction with the usual high grade bill of Keith-Albee vaudeville. Under the new policy the entire bill—nearly three hours long—is shown continuously from 1:00 p. m. to 11:00 p. m. daily.

Manager Herb Jennings announces another great show starting Sunday, August 14, when "The Country Doctor," a special Cecil B. DeMille feature will be the screen offering. It is said to be the finest rural classic since "Way Down East." The cast of "The Country Doctor" includes Rudolph Schildkraut in the star role assisted by Junior Coghlan, Virginia Bradford and Frank Marion. This will be the world's premiere showing of "The Country Doctor," a special Cecil B. DeMille production, with more to follow as the season advances, since the Temple has been designated the Detroit home of the Cecil B. DeMille features.

The vaudeville starting Sunday, August 14th, includes the popular comedian, Johnny Doolley and Company in "Some Jovous Nonsense," assisted by Joe Penn; "The Balkan Serenaders," a group of six "Cooming Instrumentalists" under the direction of Will Dueth, playing everything from heavy classics to the hottest jazz; Clara Barry and Orval Whiteley in a routine of clever songs and bright patter called "Jest For Awhile"; Princess Watwasa and her loyal Americans in "An Indian Revue" with Princess Golden Rod and Chiefs "Little Tommie" and "Young Bowwow"; and Paul Remos and his Wonder Midgots. There will be a program of short reel subjects.

THE THEATRE

"TILLIE THE TOLLER"

Marion Davies should be given the laurel wreath or whatever it is that goes to crown the brow of the fairest and cleverest of screen comedienne.

As Tillie in "Tillie the Toller," her latest Cosmopolitan starring vehicle, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, August 13th, Miss Davies gives the crowning performance of her entire film career up to date.

She even surpasses the wonderful heights of acting she achieved in "Little Old New York," "When Knighthood Was in Flower," "Zander the Great" and "Beverly of Graustark."

For many months there has been a popular urge to see Miss Davies in films. Her past performances have given every indication that she would run away with a straight comedy role. Those who have longed to see her in a vehicle that gives her free rein as a comedienne should not fail to see "Tillie the Toller."

The play is based on Russ Westover's comic strip, which is run in many of the great American daily newspapers, and the screen play is said to be based on Agnes Christine Johnston and Edward T. Loew, Jr.'s adaptation of this strip. Younger wrote the screen play and, like the star, has done something to enhance his reputation for having written such excellent screen material as "Brown of Harvard," "The Taxi Dancer" and other productions.

Hobart Henley some months ago demonstrated his ability as a director of situation comedy by his admirable handling of "His Secretary," but even that splendid vehicle did not give him a chance to show his directorial powers as does "Tillie the Toller."

Miss Davies has an excellent supporting cast of screen comedians to assist her in this picture. They include at least half a dozen featured players, among them George K. Arthur, Bert Roach, George Fawcett, Gertrude Short, Estelle Clark, Arthur Hoyt and Claire McDowell.

"BLIND ALLEYS"

From Cuba to New York came Captain Dan Kirby and his beautiful bride, Maria. Winter had settled down on the city and its great crowds frightened Maria. Then, when on their first night in a new land, her husband mysteriously disappeared, everything seemed to turn upside down.

With but a limited knowledge of English to aid her, Maria didn't know where to turn. The Bureau of Missing Persons was unable to locate him. Then, the description of an unidentified man appearing in a newspaper, sent Maria out hopefully to a Park Avenue hospital. Not trusting her feet to get her there with sufficient speed, she hailed a taxi. Stepping in, two pairs of hands drew Maria to the floor, gagged her mouth and darkness fell.

That's the way Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount production, "Blind Alleys," starts. Greta Nissen is the bride and Evelyn Brent, the other woman. Curious to know what happens to Tom? Who Greta's abductors are? "Blind Alleys" will be at the Penniman Allen theatre next Sunday and Monday, August 14 and 15. Owen Davis is the melodramatic author. Frank Tuttle, director of "The Lucky Devil" and "Love 'em and Leave 'em," was at the megaphone.

"EASY PICKINGS"

Local film patrons who want to be thrilled should see the entertainment presented at the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday, August 17.

The picture, First National's "Easy Pickings," with Anna Q. Nilsson in the featured role, is a spooky mystery that has more varied and assorted thrills per reel of film than anything it has been our pleasure to review for these many years!

"Easy Pickings" is a picture with a crook conspiracy plot and a nerve-rattling mystery treatment. William A. Burton and Paul Cruger wrote it especially for the screen while developing their stage play of the same title.

Kenneth Harlan heads the supporting cast, and between Miss Nilsson and himself a really appealing love story is woven. The thrills are contributed partly by the two "villains," Philo McCollough and Jerry Miley, and by Charles Sellon, in an important character role. Billy Bevan, two-reel comedy star; Zack Williams and Gertrude Howard, colored comedians, enhance the spectator's hysterical state by introducing laughs between thrills.

The plot is well constructed, and after so many surprises have occurred that no more are expected, the most unexpected one comes at the end! However, we will not spoil it by a single disclosure—just see it yourself. If you're not pleased and thrilled, you're hard to reach.

America's Farmer Wins by Use of Machinery

Twelve cents per day is the exact value of a man's labor in terms of horse power, according to figures worked out by Farm and Fireside.

"The good husky man can develop about one-tenth of a horse power," writes J. R. Davidson, former engineering expert. "With horse power at 15 cents an hour his value as a motor is about 1 1/2 cents per hour."

"Human labor in the form of horse power is not worth much. Power and labor amount to from 40 to 80 per cent of the total cost of farm crops. The American farmer's use of power has given him a notable advantage over any other farmer in the world."

"In China a rice laborer gets 15 cents a day and feeds himself. A California farm laborer gets $3 to $6 a day and 'found.' Yet the California rice growers are each year exporting increasing amounts of rice to the Orient and underselling the yellow farmers. The Oriental labor is hand labor; the American is machine labor."

"Five Italian farm laborers with one horse get a farm production worth $45 per man. An Iowa farmer, with an average of four horses per man, gets a production of $595 per man."

"The possibilities of still larger results in American use of power are enormous. At present 18 or 19 hours of labor are consumed in producing the average acre of corn belt corn up to harvesting. Yet there are many farmers who spend only three or four hours to grow an acre of corn. Within ten years it will be possible for one man to take care of 160 acres of corn from plowing to harvest."

Too Many Eggs

Laysan, in the Hawaiian Islands, is one of the most remarkable bird islands in the world. Birds of various species flock there yearly, among them being the albatross, which arrives the latter part of October and remains till the following August. The white albatross lays one egg, usually on the ground. The eggs vary in shape and coloration. Some are long—length 111.6 millimeters, width 62.5 millimeters—others short and very thick, in length about 100 millimeters, width 70 millimeters.

In color most of them are nearly white, with irregular patches and spots of brownish maroon at the larger end. Eggs of the albatross are said to be considered the finest of all for eating, and are said to be superior even to those of the domestic hens for this purpose.

Jeypore's Musical House

What is said to be one of the strangest houses in all the world is situated in the city of Jeypore, India. Besides its peculiar architectural appearance, it boasts of being a huge musical instrument. When the wind is blowing in certain directions it produces beautiful notes said to remind one of the human voice. For many years it was a mystery why this building should, from time to time, burst into sweet song. It finally fell to the lot of an American engineer to solve the mystery. He found that the material used in the structure was cork stone, a porous stone of very light weight. In fact, every niche in its exterior is a sort of pipe designed to draw in the passing current of air. The wind, playing upon the various openings, acts as if upon reeds.—Exchange.

Hard Metals

In one respect the diamond has always stood pre-eminent in the mineral world—that of hardness. Other substances have rivaled it in beauty and at least one, the ruby, outranks it in cost, but none in the whole list equals it in hardness.

Since the invention of the electric furnace, however, which is capable of producing a heat equal to 7,000 degrees F., at least two products have been prepared which have supplanted the diamond even in hardness.

Experimenters have succeeded in producing titanium in the electric furnace. In its pure form it is much harder than steel or quartz, and when combined with silicon, to form a silicide of titanium, or with boron, to form a boride of titanium, it surpasses the diamond itself in this quality.

Art of Whittling

At one period in the history of our country whittling reached a high point of development, and many interesting articles were turned out by sharp pocket knives, patience and love of the art. But in recent years the art has almost been forgotten. Now in many places throughout the United States this ancient art is being taught in public schools with the hope of reviving that profitable pastime. In an effort to make the art as popular as of yore regular whittling contests are held among schoolboys in Chicago. A great variety of articles is entered in these contests, including airplanes, boats of various types, miniature buildings and toys of all descriptions.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Texas Leads in Autos

What seven states in the Union have motor vehicle registrations exceeding the million figures? asks Capper's Weekly. Try this "ask me another" question on your friends and see how many will include Texas in the list. The 1926 auto statistics just published show that in point of revenue derived from registration fees Texas ranks in fourth place of the entire 48 states. Her income from this source totaled $14,862,983. Texas has more motor vehicles than all of New England put together.

BRICK-MAKING GOES FAR INTO HISTORY

Introduced Into Europe During Crusades.

Just when the first brick was made history is unable to tell us except that at the time of the first historical writings the Chaldeans were already making a sun-baked brick. It is not known when the art of burning brick was introduced, but when construction was begun on the tower of Babel burned brick as durable as granite were in use, and during the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, the great Babylonian king (604-562 B. C.), hard-burned, exqu岸ely enameled brick of great beauty and expert workmanship could be had.

In Egypt the most ancient brick remains do not date back earlier than the Fifteenth or Sixteenth century B. C., and incidentally we may give to Egypt the credit for evolving the first brick "ad," for it was upon a pyramid constructed entirely of sun-dried brick, found at Dasher, slightly south of Cairo, that Herodotus is purported to have seen the following unique advertisement which was interpreted to him by his Egyptian guide as follows:

"Disparage me not by comparing me with pyramids built of stone. I am as much superior to them as Ammon is superior to the rest of the deities. I am constructed of brick made from mud which adhered to the ends of poles and was drawn up from the bottom of the lake."

Europe learned to make and use brick from the Romans. The remarkable dome of St. Sophia of Byzantium, the baths of Caracalla, the basilica of Constantine at Rome are striking examples of Roman architecture in brick.

During the period of the Crusades brick found its way into Italy, southern France, Germany and the low countries.

The Moors of Spain, too, proved themselves masters in the use of this material. Examples of this masonry are found in the Alhambra at Granada and the mosque (now cathedral) of Cordova.

Brick was introduced into England by the Romans who occupied that country for three and a half centuries. The industry was not adopted by the English themselves, however, until during the reign of Henry VIII (1509-1547), probably under the Flemish influence. The fire of 1666, however, transformed London into a brick city and a decided vogue for this commodity resulted. Consequently, scattered throughout England we find many fine old country houses built of brick, which so fittingly express the solidity, dignity and practicality of the English country gentleman of that day.

America naturally acquired the art of making and using this material from her English cousins, but even America may boast of a degree of antiquity in the use of brick, for the early Spaniards found excellent examples of adobe brickwork in Peru and Mexico. In North America the Colonial days produced fine types of brick architecture from New England to Virginia, and from that time until the present the industry has steadily grown and developed.

Gasoline From Lignite

Two French chemists, Prudhomme and Heudry, announce that they have made gasoline from lignite in commercial quantities. Their process of distillation, reports Popular Science Monthly, is expected eventually to yield 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year—half the gasoline consumption of France—from 200,000,000 tons of lignite.

Enough lignite, sometimes called brown coal, exists in France, experts estimate, to supply that country with oil and fuel for at least a century and a half. Abundant deposits, now unused, occur in the south and west of the United States.

Ingenious Electric Sign

One of the world's most striking electric signs is a globe 20 feet in diameter which hangs in air over an important street in Paris each night, glowing from within. Its silk cover bears the continents painted on in opaque pigments and revolving slowly around the outside is a translucent liner in tiny electric lamps, "tonguing the world." The huge globe, representing the earth so luminously, is suspended from the top of a new building occupied partly by a travel agency. The unusual moving electric sign has caused much international comment.

Matches in France

The French government has long held the manufacture of matches as a monopoly, but there is a proposition now to dispose of it to a private corporation which will turn over a certain proportion of the profits to the government. It is claimed that the monopoly has never been a very profitable one and that the matches were the poorest in the world. The suggestion is exciting a great deal of discussion and there is a violent opposition to the proposed change.

Feast for Gold Fish

Watch your bird baths to see if any tiny mosquito wigglers appear in the water. They are not only about an eighth of an inch long, but they wiggle to the surface very often for a breath of air. If you discover any, says Nature Magazine, place a gold fish in the bath for an hour. You will be providing him with a real feast and he will exterminate the mosquitoes before they change into the winged form.

Dumb Dan Phones

"Operator, kindly get me Jakob Stutz; he's in the cloak and suit business."

Operator (after a minute's delay)—"I'm sorry, but we have hundreds of Jakob Stutzes in the cloak and suit business. Don't you know his phone number?"

Editor (after fumbling through paper)—"Yes, here it is, Established 1876."

Repairing Faces

The recent boom in plastic, or facial, surgery has created an impression that this art is entirely new and a product of the war. Such, however, is by no means the case.

In the first half of the Fifteenth century the Blancs could make an ugly nose beautiful. The elder seems to have built it up out of skin taken from the forehead; but Antonio, his son, realized that it was hardly worth cutting off any more of a man's face to help his nose, and used the skin of the forearm.

In Butler's "Hudibras" there is a satirical picture of Tagliacozzi, who continued the art at the beginning of the Seventeenth century, and was soundly abused for it. As late as 1758 the Paris faculty forbade face repairing altogether.

Horn as Dinner Gong

The Temple, London, still maintains the age-old custom of sounding a horn each evening in term time, ostensibly to call the students to dinner in Middle Temple hall. For more than 700 years, it is stated, this horn-blowing ceremony has been perpetuated; and the self-same horn has done duty from time immemorial. A frock-coated, top-hatted, gold-laced warder blows the horn in the different courts, beginning at 5:30 p. m. For this service he receives a small annual honorarium.

Country's Many Fairs

The International Association of Fairs has a membership of about 80 of the leading fairs of America. The valuation of the physical effects of these fairs runs from $250,000 to $3,000,000 per plant and it is estimated that probably the average would be somewhat near $1,000,000 a plant. The attendance annually runs from about 75,000 to 1,800,000, with probably an average of 200,000 per fair. Then, in addition to this, there are about 500 smaller fairs, the value of which would be pretty hard to estimate.

Bets "Drinks for Life"

Horace Bruenton, a bookmaker of England, has a life program in paying a bet. He met W. Hatt, owner of race horses, at Dunstall Park track recently. Hatt, an outsider, bet on a 100 to 1 chance, Bruenton offered to double it. Hatt accepted. Bruenton then named another horse in the race, owned by him, and offered to make a side wager of "drinks for life." Hatt accepted again and won all bets. That night Hatt had a party at a hotel, and Bruenton paid the bill. "We shall meet often," says Hatt.

Does $50 "top price" for a prize fight mean that something is wrong with the ticket holder's head?

"BROADWAY" BEGINS EIGHTH WEEK AT THE GARRICK THEATRE, DETROIT.

With the 150th Detroit performance celebrated last Thursday, August 11, "Broadway" continues its rapid pace at the Garrick Theatre, and Sunday night marks the beginning of the eighteenth week of the engagement in Detroit, a record that has only been passed once in local theatrical history.

The fascination of this play of the New York night clubs is astonishing. Patrons are drawn back again and again to see the hectic doings at the Paradise Night Club which is the scene of the drama. "Broadway" has more laughs than a hyena and more thrills than were ever packed into a melodrama. And furthermore, it has the music and girls to attract the musical comedy fans. It is quick, obvious and glorifies its own theatricalism, rushing madly but expertly to its climaxes. "Broadway" has brought back to the theatre the audiences who stand at the conclusion of the play and applaud.

To quote one patron: "Broadway" is nothing but funny human and dramatic speeches and situations. In many years of theatregoing I have never seen a play technically so perfect. So much so that there is no technique apparent, which is, I believe, the highest form of technique. There is not a forced entrance or exit, not a strained speech in the three acts. I do not suppose that intellectually it stacks up so well alongside of Ibsen, Rostand or our friend, Will S., but if the mission of the theatre is primarily entertainment, "Broadway" has left the aforementioned staggering along at the first post."

While "Broadway" embraces all the essentials of good entertainment, it is so different to the usual that it must be seen to be loved. The excellent cast of the Detroit company gives the play the interpretation that the authors, Philip Dunning and George Abbott, could wish for. And in fact, returning visitors from New York are frank to say that the company at the Garrick is even better than that which has been offering the play for New York consumption for the past eleven months.

New York girl pawns her papa's pants to buy drinks for her boy friend—which means, we suppose, that there's nothing left for father to do but to try out for the truck team.
