SCOPE AND WORK OF SURVEY COMMITTEE HIGH ENLARGED

Second "Follow-up" Committee Formed; Local Housing Situation To Be Studied.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that our housing problem is deserving of deep study on the part of the best brains in our community...

Others interested in locating in Plymouth. The first interest-challenging and thought-stimulating fact given public attention as a result of our chamber of commerce investigation was the information supplied by our reporters that quite a large number of desirable families had been temporarily lost to Plymouth because of the small number of attractive thoroughly modern homes to show them.

Several factors not apparent on the surface are probably having a bearing on this increasing interest in our community as an attractive place to live. Too few of us, absorbed as we are in our daily routine and accustomed as we are to our familiar surroundings...

A Real Service Available to Property Owners. A chamber of commerce committee meeting was held last Monday evening in the chamber of commerce office...

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS TODAY. Every member of the Woman's Club is urged to be present this afternoon at the regular meeting of the club held at the Hotel Mayflower at 2:15 P. M.

JOSEPH SIMICH, SR. SUCCUMBS SUNDAY. Joseph Simich, Sr., passed away at the home of his son, Joseph Simich, Jr., on Evergreen Ave., Plymouth, Sunday morning, at the age of 71 years, ten months and twenty-one days.

Thieves Butcher Calf. Someone entered the orchard of Harrison Cooper who resides on the Schoolcraft road the other day, where a six months old Guernsey calf was tied. They butchered it and dragged it into a fence and drove away.

well qualified to advise in this connection, and likewise are offering their time and benefit of their experience in a sincere desire to help solve our housing problem.

Ex-Service Men To Help Needy

Edgar Guest wrote a great poem, a poem that should live as long as men live who do the things that "couldn't be done."

There is a "thing" right now in Plymouth that most of us are saying cannot be done. Poverty, privation, want and actual physical suffering is an actuality here in Plymouth.

Every ex-service man in Plymouth has enlisted. They will tackle it, alone if necessary, but they know that Plymouth is behind them, always has been behind them, and that working hand in hand and shoulder to shoulder Plymouth will make it a better place.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET. The October meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held Monday afternoon with Miss Lina Durfee and Mrs. Sarah Armstrong as hostesses, at their home on Pennington avenue.

Central P. T. A. The Central Grade School held its monthly P. T. A. meeting on Monday evening, at 7:30, in the high school auditorium, with a large attendance.

DAVID DALY, 15, DIED THURSDAY MORNING. David Daly, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Daly of 511 Holbrook avenue, passed away at Harper hospital, Detroit, Thursday morning, where he had been taken last Saturday suffering with appendicitis.

TRUMBULL-WILLIAMS. Miss Hazel Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Williams, and Truman Trumbull, son of Mrs. Louise Trumbull, were quietly united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage, Friday, October 10, at three o'clock.

BARSTOW-SAMSEN. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Samsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Samsen of Willoughby, Ohio, former residents of Plymouth, to Thomas Barstow of that city, Monday, October 6th.

DENTAL CLINIC AT PLYMOUTH SCHOOLS

CONDUCTED THROUGH THE CO-OPERATION OF OUR LOCAL DENTISTS.

CLINIC BEGAN TUESDAY AND CONTINUED THROUGHOUT THE WEEK.

Dr. Champe, Haver, Olsaver and Thomas are examining the teeth of the boys and girls in our public school. This service has been extended free to the school by our local dentists for several years and the improved condition that they are finding this week justifies the hopes of both the dentists and the school management.

As soon as the examination is completed, notices will go to each and every parent congratulating them on the splendid condition of the teeth of their son or daughter or else suggesting that they have certain remedial defects corrected.

There are probably few towns in Michigan in which the teeth of the boys and girls are so thoroughly watched and cared for by experts as they are in Plymouth. The services rendered our boys and girls have meant happier and better students today and healthier young men and women in the future.

Class of Seven Confirmed Sunday

A class of seven persons was confirmed at St. John's Episcopal church last Sunday morning by the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan. There was an unusually large congregation present, including a number of visitors from out of town.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET. The October meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held Monday afternoon with Miss Lina Durfee and Mrs. Sarah Armstrong as hostesses, at their home on Pennington avenue.

JOSEPH SIMICH, SR. SUCCUMBS SUNDAY. Joseph Simich, Sr., passed away at the home of his son, Joseph Simich, Jr., on Evergreen Ave., Plymouth, Sunday morning, at the age of 71 years, ten months and twenty-one days.

Thieves Butcher Calf. Someone entered the orchard of Harrison Cooper who resides on the Schoolcraft road the other day, where a six months old Guernsey calf was tied. They butchered it and dragged it into a fence and drove away.

well qualified to advise in this connection, and likewise are offering their time and benefit of their experience in a sincere desire to help solve our housing problem.

BARSTOW-SAMSEN. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Samsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Samsen of Willoughby, Ohio, former residents of Plymouth, to Thomas Barstow of that city, Monday, October 6th.

BACK IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

RURAL MAIL CARRIER RETIRES AFTER 30 YEARS OF SERVICE

Robert Walker, Plymouth's first rural mail carrier, will complete thirty years, two months and fifteen days of service November first.

Mr. Walker not only was the first rural mail carrier to give mail service to the rural patrons of the local office, but he was one of the first in the state.

The accompanying picture shows Mr. Walker and his mail wagon before the days of automobiles. Mr. Walker says, are patrons now who were receiving the mail service when he first started.

At the end of the month Mr. Walker goes on the retired list, and his patrons and friends wish him all kinds of good luck and happiness.

Redmen To Hold 1932 Convention In Plymouth

The Great Council of Michigan Improved Order of Redmen held its biennial council at Albion, on October 10 and 11. Henry Goedel of Plymouth was a delegate to the convention and Ottawa Tribe of Plymouth held honor that their delegate was elected to the office of Great Senior Sagamore of Michigan.

Civil War Veteran, 85, Passes Away. Minor S. Weed was born in Salem, Washenaw County, on November 16, 1844, and passed to the spirit realm October 7, 1930. His age was 85 years, 10 months and 21 days.

WOMEN VOTERS MEET. The October meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held Monday afternoon with Miss Lina Durfee and Mrs. Sarah Armstrong as hostesses, at their home on Pennington avenue.

BARSTOW-SAMSEN. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Samsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Samsen of Willoughby, Ohio, former residents of Plymouth, to Thomas Barstow of that city, Monday, October 6th.

Trust Co. Officer Analyzes Conditions

Julius H. Mueller, vice president of the Equitable and Central Trust Co. of Detroit, addressed the Kiwanis Club on Business Conditions at the Tuesday luncheon at the Mayflower this week.

He spoke on the brighter side of the picture showing that there was a much greater percentage of people who had not suffered any curtailment of their income compared with the number who were actually out of employment and suffering for the necessities of life.

An increased confidence in things improving would gradually release money that is now lying idle. He stressed the fact that it is a better time to buy for those with a normal income on account of the decline in prices on practically everything.

Central P. T. A. The Central Grade School held its monthly P. T. A. meeting on Monday evening, at 7:30, in the high school auditorium, with a large attendance.

DAVID DALY, 15, DIED THURSDAY MORNING. David Daly, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Daly of 511 Holbrook avenue, passed away at Harper hospital, Detroit, Thursday morning, where he had been taken last Saturday suffering with appendicitis.

Mrs. C. H. Bennett Will Be General Chairman of the Local Campaign and a Corps of Workers Will Have Charge of the Booths.

CHIEF SPRINGER IDENTIFIES BANDIT

Wednesday afternoon of this week, Police Chief George W. Springer was called to Ann Arbor by the Washtenaw County Sheriff's office to identify, if possible, William Brown, captured this week by Port Huron officers as one of the assassins of Police Officer O'Rourke of New York, recently shot by bandits during a holiday upon Ann Arbor road.

Chief Springer viewed Brown at the Washtenaw County jail, Wednesday afternoon, and positively identified him as having been in custody in the Plymouth jail two years ago as a suspicious character. Brown admitted having been picked up in Plymouth at the time mentioned.

Arthur Fitzgerald Talks To Rotarians. At its regular weekly noon luncheon meeting last Friday, the Plymouth Rotary Club had the honor of entertaining Arthur Fitzgerald, of Windsor, Ont., governor of the twenty-third district of Rotary International.

THIS IS SAD NEWS

Those citizens of Plymouth who have a hatred for mosquitoes, and that probably includes everyone in the community, may now prepare for some sad news. All summer Dr. Willem Rudolph has been experimenting in the swamps of New Jersey with every kind of mosquito repellent ever heard of. He even used some that hadn't been heard of. Now he has packed up his outfit and come out of the swamps declaring his experiments are a failure. He found many concoctions, he said, that would repel mosquitoes temporarily, but nothing that would keep them repelled for more than two hours at a time. Citronella, wintergreen, oil of camphor and a hundred other things along that line were tried. They are pronounced fit only for temporary use. So in the war between mankind and the mosquito, you'll have to mark up a victory for the latter.

PAYING HIS DEBT

Older Plymouth residents who recall the spectacular career of "Doc" Cook, and the flurry he created through claiming he had discovered the North Pole, may have lost track of him. They will be interested in knowing that since his release from Leavenworth prison, where he has served a term for misuse of the mails he has been touring the smaller towns of the country lecturing on "Crime and Its Consequences." He came out of prison determined to give back to the world more than he had taken from it. So he is lecturing to boys and young men, urging them not to be lured from home by the bright lights of the big cities, but to stay where they are, lead clean lives and shun crime in every form in which it may be encountered. "Doc" Cook could have chosen no better method of paying the world the debt he feels he owes it.

WORKING WOMEN

If it doesn't do anything else, the unemployment flurry that has been sweeping the nation promises to bring about a settlement of the old question: "Should married women hold business jobs?" So warm has the discussion grown that hundreds of appeals have been made direct to the government asking it to set an example. It is argued that if married women who have husbands capable of supporting them could be dismissed now it would provide places for thousands of men and dependent widows and girls who are acutely in need of jobs. On the other hand, the married women employes are said to be lining up to fight such a proposition to the bitter end. Already the argument has spread to the industrial world, and factory heads are faced with a hard problem. Newspapers are for once showing rare judgment in refusing to express an opinion either way. They recognize that the question is one that is "loaded at both ends."

THE BISCUIT ARGUMENT

The time will probably never come when people cease to argue over the relative merits of old things and new ones. They contend machinery isn't as good as it used to be! they say this applies to shoes and to clothing, and often to the things we eat.

Now comes an argument between two eastern editors we know everyone around Plymouth will be interested in. They are arguing whether or not the biscuits we get today are as good as those mother used to make. As all of us recall, mother didn't have a printed recipe. All she had was a word-of-mouth formula handed down for ages. She put in "so much of this and so much of that" and then shoved the pan into the oven heated by fuel from a wall-paper-covered box alongside the stove. By the time the coffee began to boil near the top of the pot the biscuits were ready for the table. Broken in circular halves and plastered with a knife-end of butter, they made the feast ready. The crusts were brown, but not hard—and those biscuit had size! The best recommendation for them was that none ever went back to the kitchen, and they did not have to be dolled up with a napkin beneath them, deftly folded across the top.

Today's scientific biscuit may be just as good. But when it comes to being better—Never! For, considered from a molasses and jam standpoint, a biscuit has got to have size. And the modern, scientific biscuit doesn't measure up to requirements in that respect.

NEXT YEAR'S WHEAT

For several weeks winter wheat farmers have been busy preparing for their next year's crop. In fact, the biggest part of it has been put into the ground.

Despite the slump in price during September, due it is said to the manipulation of the Russian government in its determination to strike a blow at the U. S., it appears that the acreage this time will show no reduction. The wheat farmer apparently takes no stock in the argument that he will get better prices if he sows a smaller crop. Prudence doesn't seem to go very far with him. The plea to put more of his acreage into other crops so he will have something to fall back on if wheat fails, seem to fall on deaf ears.

All these problems, of course, have to be worked out by the growers themselves. How much to plant, not only of wheat but of everything else, has always been a subject for argument among rural residents. You don't have to leave home to hear it; rural residents around Plymouth are divided on the subject. But somehow or other this question always seems to take care of itself. This year we faced an over-production in most everything, and nature came along with a drought and levelled it to about what it ought to be. So this thing of trying to fix an exact acreage for wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco—or anything else that grows—looks like a waste of time. Give the grower of anything decent growing conditions and a fair break on the market and he'll solve his own problems.

Opium Seized on an Oriental Liner

United States customs officers seized opium valued at $34,500 during a search of the Dollar liner President Jefferson after its arrival in San Francisco. The dope, packed in 200 tins, was found after a search that covered the entire vessel.

Local Red Cross Campaign Soon

by the National Organization in this foreign disaster work. Red Cross workers in 64 Veterans Bureau and Government hospitals assisted more than 26,486 disabled and sick veterans monthly through solving home and personal problems that interfered with their medical treatment; and through entertainments, motion picture shows, card parties and in contributing small comforts. The Red Cross program in these hospitals supplements the governmental program. The Red Cross performing numerous services not permitted to Government workers.

A monthly average of 55,209 service men and ex-service men and their families were reported by Red Cross Home Service workers in chapters, camps and hospitals. Home Service workers straightened out home problems, helped in filing veterans' claims, aided in obtaining hospitalization for the sick, and assisted men and their families to rehabilitate themselves.

Red Cross workers in 348 camps, army posts and naval stations aided 37,250 men in the regular army, navy and marine corps by solving home problems, and in many other ways. This work is carried on under the Congressional Charter which establishes that the Red Cross shall be the medium of communication between the people of the nation and their regular armed forces.

Nurses enrolled in the Red Cross Nurses' Reserve at the end of the fiscal year totaled 51,047, of whom approximately 27,000 were on the active list, ready to respond to calls from the army, navy or the disaster service. Red Cross public health nurses made 1,242,424 visits in behalf of individuals, and inspected 908,000 children in schools during the year. At the end of the year, 795 nurses were on duty in 555 chapters. These classes, teaching the fundamental principles of health and of simple nursing procedures in the home to groups of girls, boys and adults, reached 50,415 in the year. To date 757,963 certificates have been issued.

In nutrition classes more than 100,000 children were taught the principles of nutrition and its application to their daily lives, while in Food Selection and Nutrition classes more than 10,000 adults were instructed. The Red Cross teachers' course has been taken by 1,407 teachers.

To 74,437 persons first aid certificates were issued on the completion of courses in first aid to the injured. The total number of first aid certificates issued is 423,928. Not only are these men and women proficient in helping the injured, but they are lay instructors, who may pass on their knowledge to others.

Life-saving classes graduated 52,798 this year. To date 273,202 life-saving graduates have been enrolled, and are entitled to wear the Red Cross insignia as life-savers.

Boys and girls in Junior and high schools, private, public and parochial schools of the nation, numbering 6,930,849, are enrolled as members of the Junior Red Cross. Their motto is "I Serve," and they engage in volunteer activities to bring comforts to veterans in hospitals, to orphans, the aged, the crippled, and to their own school-fellows, if need exists. They conduct correspondence and exchange portfolios with the school children of 44 other nations. The National Organization contributed $6,478,119 last year to carry on Junior Red Cross activities and two Indian schools and $54,342.73 toward aiding children in other lands, including League of Red Cross Societies' Junior Red Cross activities. An increasing activity of the Red Cross, carried on by 933 chapters, resulted in Home Service workers aiding over 80,000 families last year in communities where no other family welfare organization existed to which they could appeal for help.

Thousands of men and women constitute the volunteer army working for the Red Cross. In production, 192,651 garments and 3,453,337 surgical dressings were made. Braille transcribers added 2,038 volumes of popular novels, biographies and class books to the libraries for the blind. Motor Corps drivers answered 22,470 calls, and ambulance workers fed 24,184 refugees, disaster sufferers, veterans on outing from hospitals, and others.

The local drive for membership which begins Monday, October 20th, and ends Saturday, October 25th, will be under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Bennett, who has so efficiently carried on this work for the past several years. She will be assisted by the following chairmen: Mrs. C. H. Buzzard, Mrs. Fred Lee, Mrs. Robert Munnick, Mrs. F. W. Hillman, Mrs. Wm. S. Burke, Mrs. H. S. Doerr, Mrs. Albert Steyer, Mrs. H. E. Clumpe, Mrs. Isaac Gunnolly will act as chairman of the work at Newburg. Mrs. F. E. Reddeman will have charge of the posting of the posters, and L. B. Samsen is chairman of publicity.

Booths for memberships at the three banks in Plymouth as usual, will be open from 9:00 o'clock a. m. until 3:00 o'clock p. m., and will continue to be open until Saturday evening, October 25th. The membership fee is only $1.00, and we predict the same generous aid that the citizens of Plymouth have given this cause in the past.

Among the things our Red Cross chapter does for Plymouth is the maintenance of a baby clinic which is carried on at the Plymouth High School the second Wednesday of each month throughout the entire year. This is largely attended. Also during the past winter, a skilled instructor was sent from Detroit, who conducted a school for the instruction of all those who desired knowledge in first aid of life saving. These classes were well attended by many of our local firemen and police.

Blue And White Blank Day School

Three touchdowns and a point formed the margin by which the Rocks defeated the Detroit Country Day School team. Two were put over the line by Curtis and one by Dudek. The first touchdown was as a result of a pass which Lanker shot to Curtis who galloped 75 yards to cross the line. Horton and Lanker also scored touchdowns which were called back because of offside and holding.

Mr. Dykhouse Completes Story of His Trip To Yellowstone National Park

Two weeks ago, the Travel Club members had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Dykhouse speak about his trip to Yellowstone Park last summer. The story was so interesting that the club members had a talk with him to complete his talk and so he finished last Thursday's fifth hour.

Starkweather Notes

In Miss Stueky's room the following have been neither absent nor tardy during the first five weeks: Dorothy Drews, Virginia Dumbam, Laurie Jones, Virginia Marshall, Patricia McIntosh, Nelson Parmenter, Louis Smith and Robert White. The children have been busy making Jack-O-Lanterns and black cats for Halloween. They have also heard a few Halloween stories.

Queer Air Pockets Floating In P. H. S.

Air pockets, which are to be solved in Senior Girl Reserves meeting Friday, were floating around the halls of Plymouth High School today on slips of paper. Each member was to hand in a question, puzzling her which was handed to another member to solve. Many interesting questions were solved as follows:

Baby Spills Eggs

While mother was visiting in the high school for a minute with some teachers, her small daughter took care of a baby brother. As the baby boy was restless his little sister set him back in his buggy every time he tried to get out. This road, for 31 miles, is entirely up-grade and is very hard on an automobile. Besides this, the road is very narrow and has very sharp curves which are rather dangerous. They drove home, having spent a very delightful trip, and we members of the Travel Club very much enjoyed Mr. Dykhouse's interesting account of it.

New Field of Competition Open To Rocks

Perhaps the weaker sex could show the Rocks a few twists in 'tackling, that is if one of the boys on the football team could find standing room in the hall between the typing room and No. 33. Anyway, we doubt the ability of any of the Rocks to crash the line through the hall between fourth hour and noon.

LINE-UP

Table with 2 columns: Name and Position. Includes DePorter, Ferguson, Myers, Ball, Towle, Lanker, Curtis, Wagenschütz, Dudek, Substitutions, and Touchdowns.

Blue And White Blank Day School

Another backfield man, John Randall, is back in practice after breaking his nose in the Walled Lake game, and may see service soon.

Starkweather Notes

The road around Yellowstone Park is shaped like a figure eight, and is 108 miles around. To give an idea of how many people go to Yellowstone Park every year, Mr. Dykhouse told us that there are 617 seven-passenger cars which are used daily from six o'clock in the morning until eleven o'clock at night. This year, as times are harder, 175 of these cars were not in use. The Dykhouses, however, drove their own car.

Nine People Try Out For School Debate Squad

The annual debate tryouts for the squad were held last week in the Public Speaking room. The nine people who responded to the tryout were: Marian Gust, Zephira Blunk, Alice Chambers, Claire Shontz, Lester Daly, Harold Stevens, David Daly, Ernest Archer and Maurice Bloom.

While mother was visiting in the high school for a minute with some teachers, her small daughter took care of a baby brother. As the baby boy was restless his little sister set him back in his buggy every time he tried to get out. This road, for 31 miles, is entirely up-grade and is very hard on an automobile. Besides this, the road is very narrow and has very sharp curves which are rather dangerous. They drove home, having spent a very delightful trip, and we members of the Travel Club very much enjoyed Mr. Dykhouse's interesting account of it.

New Field of Competition Open To Rocks

Perhaps the weaker sex could show the Rocks a few twists in 'tackling, that is if one of the boys on the football team could find standing room in the hall between the typing room and No. 33. Anyway, we doubt the ability of any of the Rocks to crash the line through the hall between fourth hour and noon.

Intermediate Group Harmonizes Program With Senior Club

Following the program of the Senior Club, the officers of the Intermediate Group have harmonized their plans for the year with the Senior Club. They have their discussion, cabinet, and song meetings all falling on the same dates. Their discussion meetings are held on the second of the month, the various parts of the code as subject. At their last meeting the first, Gracious in Manner, was the theme of the discussion. The officers, of course, were elected at the beginning of the year and are as follows: Geraldine Vesley, president; June Fredericks, vice president; Anne Urian, secretary; and Gertrude Schryer, treasurer. Song leaders are June Fredericks and Anne Urian.

"Look Before You Leap"

Save Money When You Buy
A New Roof
Here's a Simple Yet
Sure Way to Do It

INVESTIGATE
Before You
'SIGN UP' with an
Out-of-Town Roofer

When a salesman or solicitor representing some unknown or out-of-town roofing company comes to your door to talk to you about putting on a new roof, don't be fooled into signing a contract right away. Don't sign anything right away, for if you do you will probably get "stung."

In fairness to yourself, have the salesman submit a written bid for the work, have him specify the number of squares that are required to cover your roof, have him specify the style* of roofing he proposes to use and last but not least, have him submit a sample containing at least two square feet of the material he intends to use. Then have the salesman sign the bid, but DON'T YOU sign it.

Tell the salesman to come back four or five days later and in the meantime secure bids from the local lumber dealer for the same kind of material. Nine times out of ten you will find that the local lumber dealer will give you a better job of better material at a price 25% to 50% lower than the price offered by the out-of-town roofing salesman.

BE SAFE, DON'T SIGN RIGHT AWAY. If the salesman is sincere and honest he will be glad to submit a bid and leave a sample with you. But, if he tries to talk you into signing right away and tries to give some excuse saying he won't be able to come back later—then he is the man you want to avoid.

THE GUARANTEE

These out-of-town roofers will tell you that they will guarantee their roofing for 15 or 20 years. Their guarantee means absolutely nothing. They are in the business for only a year or two, and when your roof goes bad, they can't be found. One man whom we know and whose roof went bad, went to the out-of-town roofer and asked him to make good on his guarantee. He was told to go to the one with whom he had made the agreement, but this party could not be found. Your local dealer will give you all the guarantee it is possible for anyone to give you, and he is on the job all of the time. You know where to look for him if your roof starts to leak.

* NOTE—Slick roofing salesman have been fooling the public and selling Diamond Point Roll Roofing as Shingles which is not a Shingle at all. There's a big difference between roll roofing and shingles which we will be glad to explain to you.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

"THE SAP FROM SYRACUSE"

NOW they call him "The Sap from Syracuse," but Jack Oakie's fun belongs to the nation. The wise-cracking grin magnet is the nation's latest craze, and at the Penniman Allen Theatre on Sunday and Monday, October 19 and 20, he is at his best in a comedy made to order for his brand of light-hearted laugh-making.

As the butt of Syracuse smart-alecks, Oakie chins his way to new glory. Enabled to gratify a life-long ambition to see what the other side of the "big pond" is like, Oakie borrows the boat only to find himself mistaken for a famed engineer reported to be traveling incognito. From then on the fun mounts in rapid crescendo. He meets a girl in distress, saves her from two scheming rascals, accidentally stumbles on a solution for a big engineering problem, and finds himself with a wife and a fortune.

"The Social Lion," Oakie's first starring picture, increased the national clamor for more Oakie joyousness. "The Sap from Syracuse" is the climax to all the fun. Here, as in "Sweetie," where his shaming of "Alma Mammy" wowed audiences all of their seats, Oakie sings "I Wish I Could Sing a Love Song" and suits action to the words by trying.

Ginger Rogers, the cigarette-smoking girl of "Young Man of Manhattan," here has another role as a youthful character. Her mission in the picture is to capture Oakie's heart and the methods this young sophisticated maiden uses on the naive boy from the backwoods would knock off many a man of the world. The rest of the supporting cast is composed of veteran stage actors, many of them drafted from the original stage cast of "The Sap from Syracuse," which last season kept Broadway roaring for months. A. Edward Sutherland, maker of "The Social Lion," also made this picture.

"SHE'S MY WEAKNESS"

HERALDED as the most delightful light comedy treat of the season, "She's My Weakness," Radio Pictures' adaptation of the successful New York stage hit "Tommy," appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, October 22 and 23.

The picture version features clever young Arthur Lake and vivacious Sue Carol in the leading roles, and their portrayal of two young lovers so typical of the present day is said to mark a new high spot in the career of both.

Arthur is seen as the youth who is so highly regarded by the parents of the girl that his courtship of Sue is rendered doubly difficult. She tires of having him so flatteringly recommended to her that it takes the ingenious planning of several people and a number of novel story twists to bring them together.

"She's My Weakness" boasts a supporting cast of exceptionally talented players. Lucien Littlefield, father of the girl, gives one of the ever-delightful performances which have given him a name as one of the best-liked featured players in motion pictures. Helen Ware, who has contributed several unforgettable roles in talking pictures, plays the mother. William Collier, Sr., one of the legitimate stage's best loved players, also is seen to advantage. Alan Bruce plays an important role—a character he created in the original stage version during the play's 80 weeks on Broadway.

The picture was directed by Melville Brown, recognized as Hollywood's most adept director for light comedy productions. He has contributed a number of hits for Radio Pictures including "Dance Hall," also featuring Arthur Lake, "Jazz Heaven" and Richard Dix's "Lovin' the Ladies."

"STRICTLY MODERN"

DOROTHY MACKALL and Sidney Blackmer, who appeared together in "The Love Racket," are again the heroine and hero in "Strictly Modern," the first National picture coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, October 24 and 25.

Blackmer, who has in a measure taken the place of Jack Mulhall as Miss Mackall's leading man, steps into the Mulhall type of roll in "Strictly Modern." He is a small town fellow who almost marries the wrong girl. His situation with Miss Mackall, who is a writer of cynical novels, are the humorous, whimsical style that Mulhall might play, too.

The story is also a return for the actress to her former type of portraiture. After making "The Barker," First National cast her in more dramatic parts, such as those in "Her Captive Woman" and "The Great Divide." Now she again becomes a comedienne.

"Strictly Modern" is the story of a feminine novelist who returns to her small home town to attend the wedding of her younger sister only to find that the marriage has been called off. After trying to mend the broken romance, she solves the situation as she might a plot in her novel and directs the characters into entirely different channels. And falling in love herself, she forgets to be cynical!

The picture is an adaptation of the play, "Cousin Kate," by Hubert Henry Davies. Ray Harris and Gene Towne wrote the screen adaptation and continuity.

Julianne Johnston is cast as Miss Mackall's sister, and Warner Richmond has a prominent role. Mickey Bennett and Katherine Claire Ward are also in the company. William A. Selter, who directed Miss Mackall in "The Love Racket," was again her director in "Strictly Modern."

Wouldn't this be a fine old world if we had beauty shops that could make a man's income handsomer?

W C T U

The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Plymouth will hold its annual meeting next Thursday, October 23, at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Wm. Smith, 608 Dodge Street.

Hereafter, in accordance with a decision of the National W. C. T. U., the Annual Meetings of all local unions will occur in October and yearly dues will be payable at that time.

It is hoped that members will make special effort to be present at the meeting of October 23.

We clip the following from the Michigan Union of October. President Hoover said: (In his Inaugural Address)—"There would be little traffic in illegal liquor if only criminals patronized it. We must awake to the fact that this patronage from large numbers of law-abiding citizens is supplying the rewards and stimulating forces."

The duty of citizens to support the laws of the land is equal with the duty of their government to enforce the laws which exist. No greater national service can be given by men and women of good will who I know are not unmindful of the responsibilities of citizenship—than that they should, by their example, assist in stamping out crime and outlawry by refusing participation in and condemning all transactions with illegal liquor."

Maybe old-timers around Plymouth were not so accustomed to hell because they were not used to seeing so much of it raised.

It certainly does pay to look ahead. It wasn't raining when Noah built the ark.

A play is about the only thing we know of that is successful when it is run into the ground.

The good old days in Plymouth were those when the whole family always ate breakfast at the same time.

If you're not good the devil may get you when you die, and if you are good the tariff goons will have you for life.

A genuine dry is a fellow who doesn't separate dandelion from other weeds when he is pulling them from the lawn.

How many old-timers around Plymouth can remember when a man was expected to ask the ladies present if they objected to smoking before he touched off a cigar?

Next to a paper napkin, nothing could be as playful as a straw hat in a strong wind.

The modern girl is more restless than the old-time girl, even if the old-timer was often badly scratched by the lumps of starch in her underthings.

As a matter of fact, the average Plymouth woman doesn't change her mind as often as she changes the mind of her husband.

NEWBURG

There were sixty in Sunday-school last Sabbath. Rally Day will be held last Sunday in this month. Several young people from Plymouth, attended the church service. A most cordial invitation is extended to all to attend our Newburg church.

The date for the L. A. SAFair has been set for Saturday, November 1. The Newburg Recreation Society is giving a chicken supper at their hall, this Saturday evening.

The P. T. A. gave a jolly Halloween party at the school house last Friday evening, which was largely attended and lots of fun for the youngsters.

Last Friday afternoon, one of our old Civil War veterans, Mr. Weed of Plymouth, was given a military burial in Newburg cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Farwell Brand recently attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Said of Detroit.

Wm. Smith returned Saturday, from his trip to St. John's, accompanied by his nephew, Lewis Pearson, and niece, Glennia Brown.

Miss Margaret Purdy, who is teaching at Laketown, is home for a week, on account of its being potato digging week in the north.

Miss Ruth Carney of Detroit, is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney, this week.

Mrs. Clark Mackinder spent Sunday afternoon with her grandson, Edwin Norris and family.

Mrs. Clyde Smith and several young people from Plymouth were entertained by Mrs. Sarah Wilson-Campbell, in Detroit, last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lee and daughter of Hastings, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowler of Eaton Rapids, were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grinnon left Tuesday, for a motor trip to Niagara Falls and other points.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mrs. E. Ryder made a trip to Toledo, last Friday, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, and bringing Mrs. M. Eva Smith home with them.

Friends of Mrs. Jesse Jewell are glad to learn she is able to ride out, and seems to be on the road to recovery.

The Newburg Home Economics Club was organized Thursday, October 9, with Mrs. Fred Hearn and Mrs. John Thompson as leaders.

The Parent-Teacher Association had a Halloween party Friday evening, October 10. The evening was spent in playing games. Prizes were given for the funniest and prettiest costumes.

The prize for the funniest dressed man was awarded to James McNabb, and the prize for the funniest dressed lady went to Evelyn McMullen.

The prettiest dressed lady was Doris Schmidt, and the prettiest dressed man was Francis Crook. A Halloween lunch of older, pumpkin pie and doughnuts, followed the games.

The younger boys' basketball team played the Stark boys Friday afternoon and won, the score being 4 to 3. The older boys will play the Fisher school this Friday afternoon.

The eighth grade agriculture class of the Newburg and Stark schools took a trip Saturday afternoon. They were accompanied by Mrs. Brightman and Mr. Carr. The farms visited were Greenan's farm north of Plymouth, having a herd of sixty pure bred Jerseys; the Northville Training School's dairy herd, also their poultry farm of white leghorns; and Mr. Wood's white leghorn farm at Denton. He has a flock of 1500.

The seventh grade geography class has completed the study of South America with a booklet on one of the countries. The booklet contains a location map, a rainfall map, a population map, a product map, a story of the country, and a story of the most important product. Much interest has been shown in this work and many new things have been learned. They are also starting their geography notebooks.

Miss Reid and Dr. Champe of Plymouth, visited us Thursday, Oct. 2, and examined our teeth. There were six people in our room having perfect teeth. They are David Gates, David Leaman, Margaret Oster, Nell Pederson, Lionel Coffin and Ruth Schmidt.

The Sewing, Handicraft and Cooking Club had an initiation party Monday evening, October 12. The new members were asked questions concerning the club of which they were a member. Games were played, refreshments were served, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

The fifth graders are working hard on their geography, but find it very difficult. Oceana Ballen visited our room today. Clarence Schwab from the Early Elementary Room, has returned to the Plymouth school. Oceana Ballen visited our room Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Dad Plymouth says he often wondered what a cow thinks when she is standing quietly in a field and sees a locomotive go by with the remains of an auto draped over the cowcatcher.

A DIPLOMAT

That a certain young man is wise beyond his years was proved when he paused before answering a widow who had asked him to guess her age.

"You must have some idea," she said. "I have several ideas," said the young man, with a smile. "The only trouble is that I hesitate whether to make you ten years younger on account of your looks or ten years older on account of your intelligence."

Modern Maids

Maids—Are you going out in the car on Sunday, ma'am? Mistress—No. Maids—Then I'd like to ask for the loan of it; mine's being repaired.—Moustique (Charleroi).

Sentiment

"You demand a quarter of a million for breach of promise?" "Yes," answered the determined woman. "Sentiment demands it. I would not have him think, even now, that I valued his affections lightly."

And Early to Bed

"What time do you get up in summer?" "As soon as the first ray of the sun comes in at my window." "Isn't that rather early?" "No, my room faces west."—Loughborough Herald.

STOCKING RUN

"His latest book, 'The Silk Stocking,' is a good tale." "Yes, there's a great run in it, I understand."

Fate's Differences

In life some fearful contrasts lurk. Each has its own position. Some men are born to go to work and some to go a-babbling.

A Peculiar Advantage

"Do you think the historical novel will retain its popularity?" "Yes," answered the publisher. "It is the only way I know of in which gossip can be circulated about eminent people without the risk of libel suits."

At Intervals

"What, Brown, you've bought your little boy an old piano? Can he play, then?" "Yes, indeed, and often it really sounds like music"—Dorfbarber (Burlin).

'Tain't Worth It

"You'll get a raise in salary every year, provided, of course, that your work is satisfactory." "Ah! I thought there was a catch somewhere."—Arcanum Bulletin.

Always the Truth

"What became of that unpaid bill Dunn sent to us?" remarked the bank clerk to his wife. "Oh, that?" she asked. "I sent it back marked 'insufficient funds.'"

Held in Abysses

"Have your parents given their consent to our union?" "Not yet. Father hasn't expressed his opinion yet and mother is waiting to contradict him."

AH! Judge

Judge—Now, confess that you were guilty of this robbery. Accused—No, my lord, because I broke into a different house on that evening.

The P. T. A. meeting was held last night, October 14. A very interesting program was furnished by Miss Schneider and some of her pupils from Plymouth. The two-man orchestra, Joe Bhar and Russell Eloff, furnished some good music with the accordion, mouth organs and piano, after which Milton Moe played several pieces on the violin, and Bobby Champe sang.

Two pupils from Miss Peck's room in Roseale, Lonelle Holde and Wesley Hoffman, danced a tap dance, and Lois Hoffman, who is only five years old, sang. The entertainment and lunch was enjoyed by all. There were seventy-three present.

LUMBER-JACK

Published Fridays by Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co.

VOL. 1 Friday, October 17, 1930 NO. 5

Edited by BOB AND ELMER

We wish we could change a tire out on the road like they do it at the service station.

Are you planning a bazaar? Let us know about it and we'll mention it in Lumber Jack. It may help advertise it!

Maybe the reason so many people use envelopes when the collection plate is passed is to keep the pennies from rattling.

Ever been in a stock yard? Then you know how a moth feels when he walks into a cedar-lined closet. They can't stand it. We have the cedar for lining your closets right here.

Next to The Lumber Jack the news we like best in the paper is the school news. It certainly does interest us!

So far as we know, the authors of those "success stories" have never tried to hunt 'S up.

Bert Coverdill is completing his new home on Ball St., Palmer acres. We are furnishing the Lumber; also the Rock Lath (Gold Bond) and Plaster. Ernest Rossow is the carpenter on the job.

Telegraph Road To Be Open Soon

One twenty-foot strip of concrete has been completed on the Telegraph Road north from Seven Mile road to Nine Mile road in Oakland County and will be opened to traffic in a few days, stated Road Commissioner, Edward N. Hines, recently.

From Seven Mile road north to Base Line road in Wayne County, Telegraph road is being developed with two 20-foot concrete roadways on a superhighway width of 204 feet. There is now a continuous good road extending from north of Pontiac at Woodward Avenue to the Ohio State line, over 70 miles south. The 25 mile section crossing Wayne County is built of concrete forty or more feet in width and is a fine, wide, straight, fast road. It bypasses such communities as Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Ego City, Berkeley, Royal Oak, Ferndale, the center of Detroit, Dearborn, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte, Monroe, etc. At Base Line, 204-foot superhighway the grades are being separated, stated Mr. Hines.

During the month of September, 5 miles of new concrete road was added to our total mileage and 212 miles of old concrete road was widened. The total yardage of concrete built was 235,191 square yards; reduced to mileage on a 20-foot basis, this would mean nearly twenty miles of roadway. Since the first of January 1930, 1,232,033 square yards of concrete pavement has been built in Wayne County, stated Mr. Hines.

The work of acquiring wider widths of right of way is a never-ending activity.

During the past two weeks, 3,123 feet of frontage has been acquired on our Master Plan routes according to our standards for superhighways. Part of this right of way has been acquired on Base Line, Fort Northwestern, Michigan and Mound 204-foot Superhighways, and part on Allen, Ford, Goddard, Inkster and Pelham section line roads with their 120-foot widths of right of way.

Origin of Some Names of Garments Now Common

"Coat" comes from the word that formerly meant a frock as well, the same word being found in the Italian "cotta," a short surplice worn by the clergy. "Frock" is from a Latin word meaning a shaggy cloak. "Skirt" comes from the same word as "shirt." "Trousers" is from the French "trousers," to tuck or fasten up. "Doot" is connected with the Italian "botto," a hollow skin. "Sock" comes from "soccus," a kind of shoe originally worn by Roman comic actors, and "stocking" is from a Teutonic word, "stock," the stump of a tree—hence, a covering for the "stumps," or legs! "Jacket" is from "Jaque," a coat of mail. "Jerseys" were made from yarn spun in Jersey. "Robe" is from a Latin word, "rauba," meaning "spoil" or "plunder"—fine clothes being once a treasured item of military "boot." "Beret" is derived from "biretta," the black cap worn by clergymen and French lawyers. "Calico" came from Calicut, in India. "Serge" is from the Latin "sericea," silk, so called because they were made by the Seres, or inhabitants of China. "Muslin" is said to get its name from Mosul, Turkey, where it was first made. "Marocain" traces its origin to Maroc—French for Morocco. "Tweed" was originally "tweel," but its association with the river Tweed led to its being given (really mistakenly) its present name.

"Police Force" Keeping Insect Pests in Check

For a good many years now science has been fighting insect armies, and, curiously enough, amongst its most potent weapons are insects themselves. It has been found that there is hardly an insect which is not preyed upon by some other. Nature has, in fact, evolved a kind of insect police force, which keeps marauders from becoming too numerous. The greenfly, which does so much damage to roses, has a powerful foe in the larva of the ladybird, while ichneumon flies serve to keep the devastations of caterpillars within bounds.

But this police force is not always adequate, and science is engaged in the production of flying squadrons. Whenever a plague of obnoxious insects is noticed in any part of the empire, others which are known to prey upon the pests are bred in large numbers at an insect zoo in a Hertfordshire village and are sent out to do battle.

Policeman insects have already been sent to Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Africa, and the West Indies, and every year the flying squad of the scientists is waging more and more relentless war upon insect robbers and pirates in all parts of the world.—London Tit-Bits.

The Differences

J. Waddy Tate, the "hot dog" mayor, said at a dinner in Dallas:

"The post-war son thinks himself superior to his pre-war father. Well, he's superior in general dissipation, and that's about all."

"A cop went with a pre-war father to ball on" his post-war son the other morning, and on the way to the station house the father said good-naturedly:

"O my boy George is all right. Just like me, in fact. The only difference between us is that when I put in a day's work I don't feel much like running round at night, and when George puts in a night's running round he don't feel much like working next day."—Detroit Free Press.

George W. Stevens, Former Citizen, Dies

We take the following item from a Tacoma, Washington paper of a recent date, which will be of much interest to older residents.

George W. Stevens, prominent farmer of the Riverside community, passed away August 10 at the family home. His health had not been good for a year, and three weeks ago he began to fail more rapidly, but had not been confined to his bed at any time. He was 75 years old, and had been a resident of Washington since 1887, and of Riverside since 1906.

Mr. Stevens was born in Detroit, Michigan, of Revolutionary stock, his forefathers having been at Valley Forge with Washington. His ancestors can be traced back to England, 1692. He received his education in Plymouth and Ypsilanti, Michigan. In Tacoma, he was associated with his brother, the late John B. Stevens, in the grain and feed business. He married Miss Mary Connell in 1901 and five years later they moved to their present farm at Riverside, then covered with stumps and which they developed into one of the fine farms of the Valley.

He was progressive, public spirited and interested in the upbuilding of the community in which he lived. He served as a member of the school board for 14 years and was active in the Improvement club of Riverside. He was a member of the Puyallup Chamber of Commerce and of the Elks club of Tacoma.

Changes Have Made Men Subservient to Women

All fights for freedom, that succeed, go too far, and become in turn the infliction of a tyranny. Like Napoleon or a Soviet. And like the freedom of women.

Perhaps the greatest revolution of modern times is the emancipation of women, and perhaps the deepest fight for 2,000 years and more has been the fight for women's independence, or freedom, call it what you will. The fight was deeply bitter; and, it seems to me, it is won. D. H. Lawrence writes, in Scribner's Magazine.

It is even going beyond, and becoming a tyranny of woman, of the individual woman in the house, and of the feminine ideas and ideals in the world. Say what we will, the world is swayed by feminine emotion today, and the triumph of the productive and domestic activities of man over all his previous military or adventurous or flaunting activities is a triumph of the woman in the home.

The male is subservient to the female need, and outwardly, man is submissive to the demands of woman.

SEASONABLE DISHES

The bride of today with all her equipment in culinary knowledge has no fear of failures in cookery. Up-to-date cook books with clear directions for preparing even the simple foods gives assurance to the most inexperienced.

Here is one which any bride will like to try:

Fancy Biscuits—Take two cupsful of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of shortening, one egg and two-thirds of a cupful of milk, one-third cupful of sliced dates, four tablespoonfuls of peanut butter and one egg yolk. Sift the dry ingredients, work in the shortening with a fork until well blended, add milk and well beaten egg to form a soft dough. Roll out on a floured board and cut small rounds. Spread one with peanut butter, place one or two slices of dates and cover with another round. Press the edges together to enclose the butter and dates. Brush with egg diluted with a little milk or water and bake in a hot oven. If preferred cut the rounds larger and put the butter and date on one-half and fold over, pinching the edges together.

Mocha Frosting—Take one-fourth cupful of butter, one tablespoonful of cocoa, two cupfuls of confectioner's sugar and three to four tablespoonfuls of strong coffee infusion. Cream the butter, add the cocoa. Stir in the sugar and coffee gradually. Beat until smooth and spread on the cake.

Coffee Ice Cream—Scald one and one-half cupfuls of milk with one-third of a cupful of finely ground coffee, strain through a double cheese cloth, add one cupful of sugar, the beaten yolks of four eggs, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; cook over water until thick, adding one-fourth cupful of sugar and one cupful of cream; cool, add three more cupfuls of cream and freeze. Serve garnished with maraschino-cherries.

Reapportionment

There is on the ballot for the November 4th election, an amendment to the state constitution which calls for the reapportionment of the state legislative districts whereby Wayne County and other industrial centers will have a fair and equitable voice in the conduct of the affairs of the state. It will, also, enable these sections to block an income tax, proposed by rural legislators, which would adversely affect hundreds of thousands of wage-earners.

Wayne County is entitled to the equitable representation which she is asking. Under the proposed amendment, the state is divided into one hundred (100) equal districts according to the density of population. This will give each district, composed of 48,000 inhabitants according to the 1930 United States Census which governs reapportionment, one representative.

With increased representation secured Wayne County would be in a position where she could protect her interests in the raising and disposition of tax funds—a protection to which she is entitled under the constitution.

Wayne County is the most important industrial center of the state. It pays 30% of the direct property tax levied for the benefit of the state; it pays a still greater percentage of all special and specific taxes; in fact it contributes about 75% of the entire state income, but it has practically no voice in the distribution of these revenues or in the determination of the policies of the state government.

For many years Wayne County has been at the mercy of the representatives in the legislature from the rural districts. This condition is due to the fact that the districts of the state having but a meager population have had a greater voice in taxation and other legislative matters than Wayne and other districts classified as industrial centers and containing the bulk of the state's inhabitants.

If the state legislature had performed its duty this condition would not exist. But the legislative majority, representing only a minority of the state's population, has not seen fit to conform to this constitution.

With the legislative body, as now constituted, refusing to take action, there is but one recourse left, and that is a direct appeal to the voters of the state to correct this condition to the end that all citizens may equally share in the constitutional functioning of our commonwealth.

For many years the rural legislators of the state representing a minority of the population, have sought to saddle onto the workers of Wayne County and other industrial centers of the state an income tax in addition to all the other taxes that are levied at the present time. The tax proposed calls for an assessment on all incomes of $1,000 or over, which will directly affect every wage earner. There are no exemptions for personal or household expenses.

A proposed income tax offered in the last session of the legislature, and sponsored by the rural legislators, narrowly carried. If passed, in its proposed form it means that the wage earners of Wayne County, and other industrial centers, will pay nearly all of this tax. Moreover, the entire revenue, under its provisions, goes to the state, to be disbursed by state authorities controlled by the agricultural interests.

Under its provisions, the municipalities from which this revenue will be derived, receive nothing. The "Gas Tax" so-called, which raises more than $25,000,000 annually, presents a fair example of what may be expected under present conditions. The state takes nearly all of this revenue; the local governments receive practically nothing.

Naturally the rural communities which have so long and often shifted unreasonable tax burdens and legislation onto Wayne County are opposed to this reform in legislative procedure and will work against it. Therefore, in the interest of self-preservation, in the interest of lower taxes; as a protest against unwise tax legislation and as a protest against further out-state domination, Detroit and Wayne County citizens should on November 4th vote solidly for the Apportionment Amendment.

Dad Plymouth says that twice in a man's life his hair is parted in the middle—when he is young and frivolous and when he is old and bald.

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

Despite the destruction of over sixty stray dogs by our police department since the first of the year, stray dogs upon the streets of Plymouth still continue to present a problem, which will become more serious as cold weather approaches and these dogs find it harder to get food and shelter. Any assistance which our citizens may render in the direction of eliminating the stray dog nuisance will be appreciated; and if our police department is notified of any stray or undesirable dog in custody, we shall be glad to take charge of and destroy the dog.

Fall days again—and the annual problem of disposing of leaves. The attention of citizens is called to the fact that the disposal of leaves is a problem which rests with each individual citizen. Leaves must not be raked into the streets with the expectation that the village crews will dispose of them; and though burning in the streets is permitted, in no case will the burning of leaves upon our pavements be permitted.

AVOID IT!

The death angel or destroying angel looks innocent enough, but it is the one mushroom that must be avoided. Of the sixty odd mushrooms that are more or less poisonous this one excels. Others produce sickness in a half hour or less if eaten, but the death angel causes no ill effects for 10 to 14 hours. The poison dissolves the red blood corpuscles and soon weakens the victim. Blood transfusions help, but it is far better to avoid this representative of the amanita family which has tried to bulbous vase and veil about its stem.

Picked Up About Town

"It may be hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven," asserts Dad Plymouth "but it's dead easy for him to get into the United States Senate."

"One of the most pitiful sights to me," says Dad Plymouth "is that of a middle-aged woman who has tried to paint what she once looked like."

Kamm Is Like Ol' Man River

WILLIAM EDWARD KAMM, the American league's premier third baseman, is a lot like Ol' Man River in that he just keeps rolling along, year after year.

Bill may be discouraged because he's never known the thrill of playing on a first division ball club since he joined the White Sox in the spring of 1923—but it's never shown in his work. He has led the league's regular third basemen in fielding every year he has been in the majors except the first, and then he was second to Joe Dugan and accepted 70 chances more than Joe.

Since joining the Sox, by whom he was purchased from the San Francisco club for $100,000, you remember, Bill never has played in fewer than 143 games and last year led the league in number of games played by a third baseman with 175 of them counted to his credit.

It may be as well to break in right here with the remark that this piece is in no way designed to smoke up Mr. Kamm for the managements of the White Sox, a connection in which his name frequently has been mentioned. It is our opinion that Bill would be a chump to take on any such burden under the present system of running things on Chicago's South side. Bill is twenty-nine and far too good a ball player to have his career blighted by the harassing duties and huck passing that a Comiskey management involves.

If the job were a plum, Bill would deserve it, for his loyalty and continued earnest endeavor is a trait all too rare among White Sox players. Sulkers don't lead the league in anything desirable at any time, and Kamm's record is the best testimonial of his spirit.

If Kamm ever grumbles, he keeps it well to himself. And goodness knows he had plenty of opportunity to become a moaner, for he and Bib Falk were inseparable pals for years. Bib moaned himself into mediocrity and Kamm still is a star, even if the unique organization of professional baseball dooms him to serve out his career on Comiskey's White Sox.

Bill Kamm.

Nethem Closes Season

Rousseau Park last Sunday, October 12, was the scene of two games, both of which were pitchers' battles. Ray Levandowski made his debut as a pitcher with the Nethem team in the first game, and he pitched the entire game. He lost his own game by two errors that he made, thus allowing three unearned runs and depriving Nethem of a shut-out.

W. Horvath, the speed boy, let the Nethem team down with six hits, but two of which were doubles. He also got twelve of the boys on strikes. Ray allowed four hits and struck out eight.

Nethem took the second game by the score of four to one. Schultz let Nethem down with six hits. This game was only a five inning game by agreement.

The last game completed the schedule for the Nethem Club for the season of 1930. At this time we want to thank the fans for their patronage at the games during the past season.

Hobby Jones, strangely enough, still has one unfulfilled ambition in golf. For 15 years he has labored with indifferent success to make a good golfer out of his father. The elder Jones has a winceful slice, which young Bob has been able to cure to a certain extent.

Roger Bresnahan recently pointed out that Wilbert Robinson had a great habit of blocking all base runners in the days when he was one of the game's leading catchers.

One afternoon Robinson got the ball ahead of the runner, and had him completely blocked. The runner crashed into Robinson and was tagged, but Timothy Hurst, umpiring behind the plate, yelled "safe!" Robinson jumped at Hurst, screaming, "I had him, froze! He was out! I had him, froze!"

Timothy turned to the grandstand, cupped his hands and yelled to the newspaper men in the press box: "Score one froze for Robinson."

Sport Notes

Cy Letzelter, former Carnegie Tech star, probably will be one of the stars at West Point this season.

The stars of the Evansville Three-I club are brothers, Gerald and Herbert Walker, hitting .340 and .360.

Benny Bengough is rated the Yankees' best catcher but his arm is giving out and he has trouble stopping steals.

THE TRAINING OF JUNIOR EXECUTIVES

A Prominent Business Man Says:

"Our business is expanding so rapidly that we have imperative need for several junior executives, but we simply can't find young men and women with the proper training. We can get plenty of stenographers and bookkeepers—capable ones, too. They are all right for the work for which they have been trained, but they do not understand organization and management, and their limited education makes it impossible for them to assume executive duties.

"Nowadays when an executive engages an assistant he knows that soon he shall have a better position at a larger salary, and he wants the young person he selects to be ready for that better position when it develops. He is looking around and considering his future requirements. Consequently, he exercises the greatest care in choosing young men and women for his organization, knowing that they will develop into the executives of the future.

"A fundamental knowledge of business principles and administrative methods has become the key which unlocks the door to the choicest opportunities and the commercial training institution giving executive courses of university grade in Business Administration is the logical place for such training. There the science of business is stripped of all its frills and furbelows and taught in a practical, business-like way by practical business men and women.

"The young man or woman who takes an executive course at such an institution will enter the business world with a thorough knowledge of business fundamentals and a clear understanding of the administrative duties of a successful organization. He will be a potential executive, and will have responsibilities, opportunities and promotion thrust upon him."

A Good Position for You

Private Secretary to The President

The other girls in the office wonder why "the boss" picked Miss Cross for this position. The fact of the matter is that the boss didn't have so much to do with it at all. You see it was like this:

Four or five years ago while Miss Cross was still going to high school she picked out this position for herself. She made up her mind that she was going to be private secretary to the President; then she made everything else give way to that idea. She worked hard at her studies at high school, then she took a special course of secretarial training at a good business school and finally on the job she did so much more and so much better work than was required of her in each position she held that she just naturally bulged out of the minor positions and right into the attention of the President. So there was not much "picking" for the boss to do.

Why She Chose the D. B. U.'s Secretarial Course

- (1). Limited to high school graduates and college people.
- (2). School approved by State Department of Public Instruction.
- (3). Curriculum of college-grade.
- (4). Actual machine and office practice in secretarial training.
- (5). Credits accepted by Michigan State Normal College on Commercial Teacher Course.
- (6). D. B. U. graduates get better positions.
- (7). D. B. U. received over 3000 calls for office help in one year.
- (8). Over 59,000 persons have completed courses at the D. B. U., the oldest and best known Business Training school in Michigan.

The NEW PROFESSION

FOR BRIGHT, CAPABLE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

ALONG with the typewriter, the calculating machine, the billing and book-keeping machine, has come the Stenotype, the machine way in shorthand. Proved by more than twelve years of severe testing, it is now coming into a new and greater demand among business men everywhere, because of far greater speed and accuracy. It opens to young people a much shorter avenue to success.

A well-trained Stenotypist has no fear of the fastest dictators or the most technical dictation. Because of the machine's accuracy and the readability of the plain type notes you know you will be able to bring back to your employer letters that say what HE said—without the slightest guesswork, nervousness or uneasiness on your part.

Think what that means to your employer and what it means to you.

Come in today for a free lesson and demonstration without the slightest obligation on your part. Let us show you how easy it is to learn, how it lifts you above ordinary business competition—it can make you more efficient—earn more money.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

One of our oldest families has forsaken us for city life, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Suediker, Blackburn Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy P. Emerson, daughter, Jeanette, and Mrs. Lawrence and little Shirley, who have occupied the Soderstrom home, have also departed for the life in the larger city for the winter. Goodbye, come again when flowers rebloom in the spring.

Hilzoner Hurd Smith, four horses and men, have made an enormous hole "down in the woods," on W. Chicago Blvd., just east of corner Blackburn Ave., for Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Storer of Detroit. The Stovers have all arrangements made with Chief of Construction Chan G. Wilson, for to build a nice big brick home and garage. The blueprints show a wonderful front elevation, with archway over driveway, and is thirty-three feet wide. This is the largest to be built here, and will be quite a show place in the trees.

And another thing, the Gardenites, old and young, male and female of the species are all after the great Halloween masquerade party-dance for a week from tonight, the 24th instant, rain or shine, moon, fog or whatnot. It is to be some affair, and it will pack the school to the doors. Tickets are being sold at four-fifths per couple (as it is masq., we can't tell sex by the uniform). Now, one Clarence Hoffman, generalissimo on arrangements, promises great fun, music by the Schaffer Harmony Four, prizes for masquerade—Halloween only—and something else. The proceeds of the affair will be fifty-fifty with the local P. T. A. and Community church, both of whose funds need some more for current work. So everyone come, remember next Friday night.

We are in receipt of the Vol. 1, No. 1 of "The Monthly Echo," school edition, September, 1930. A monthly publication fostering the interests of the Rosedale Gardens School. It is excellently edited and managed by the children of the community. According to the issue the "newspaper" staff is as follows: Editor—Gwendolyn Dunlop; associate-editor—Eleanor Straub; art editors—Joan Loftus, Edith Davis; business manager—Virginia Thornton. Reporters contributing news for this first issue were: Edith Davis, Judith Olson, Charles Small, Alice Davis, Robert Jones, Eleanor Straub, Jeanette Marquez. Poems and story section: Mildred Walker, Jeanne Ames, Jack Reinold, Frank Bryant, Willor Chapman, Charles Hanchett. Contributions to illustrate the poems and stories, were sketches by Mildred Walker, Charles Hanchett, Bobby King. The feature section had stories on the "World Today," New Lincoln, France, Chicago, Oldest Man in the World, Helen Keller, War Ends in China. Now therefore, we are congratulating the young folks on their first edition, which we have read with great pride and interest, and are looking forward to the end of October for No. 2.

Perry Smith, Esq., first house, first street, is the latest victim of auto thieves. Mister Smith had just arrived home at and on the 3:25 p. m. bus, and had entered the house with the entire family, it being warm and all that, they had the windows and doors all open. Under the eyes of the bunch of workmen laying concrete at the corner gas emporium to be, one of the young thieves entered the Pontiac Sedan, two others pushed the car south on Arden to Sump House, to McKinney road, and south again. Perry and all saw the pushers in a model T, but could not get anyone to aid him with another car, the workmen refused to help, so they (the thieves) were out of sight, so all that was left to do was call the Wayne Detachment of the State Police, Detroit and Plymouth Police.

Possibly on US-12, day and night, are hesitating and stopping just east of the Sales Office, to view and marvel at one of the nifty window displays we have seen in a long time. We won't say anything about it, but go look for yourself. The entire display with exception of decorative paper is promenets of the local community. We have the word (only) of a local Burermilker, who claims he is the one who discovered and first started to use the words bashing their sound and meaning of and in all its branches "Ideal"—"ists" and "isms." He reminds us of Woodrow Wilson, for if he tells the truth, might we suggest it an "overt act" on part of hisson?

Fogs and heavy dew are in season. Last Sunday saw the sun all day, and half the world went west on US-12 before 3 post meridian, and the other half musta come back and went east from that time 'till midnite.

The Hay feverites report colds recurred, but at same time had colds have visited several. Even Miss Doris Smith was home ill, while Mrs. Hill used the old fashioned sulphur and molasses (excuse us please). So Miss Doris was back teaching her class in couple days, Mrs. McKinney substituting in the interim.

Come to Sunday-school next Sunday ante meridian at nine forty-five!

ROSEDALE GARDENS SCHOOL NOTES

Second and Third Grades

Miss Doris Smith
The children of the second and third grades are collecting used clothes to give to the needy. They now have quite a collection, and would appreciate any further donations. Miss Quinn, social worker, is to collect and distribute the clothes.

The music class is studying the brass instruments of the orchestra. They are now familiar with the trumpet, the trombone, the French horn, and the tuba. They are also learning some new songs, which they are planning on singing to the fourth and fifth grades in the near future.

We are still studying about the "Three Boys and the Cave Men" in language class. The third grade made the cave men land in city. They modeled some of the fierce animals of those days. They dramatize parts of the story each day.

Fourth and Fifth Grades

Miss Peck
We have an Indian exhibit in the sand table. We made some clay bowls similar to those the Indians used. We have some very attractive sponge trees in autumn colors. We have Indian teepees and a fort. We have a small Indian doll dressed in true Indian fashion. We also have a papoose.

We are learning a new Halloween song, "A Wise Old Owl."
The boys and girls in our room are using the "How to Grow Series." We like them very much.

We have a new bowl of goldfish in our room. We are going to name them Goldie and Tiny. We think they will enjoy our room.

We have a new vase made of shells, from Florida. Willor Chapman made it.

The fourth graders have been studying about Columbus. We have ship scenes they made in paper cutting class.

Reporter—Veronica Marti.
Upper Grades
Miss M. Rowe
Girls' 4-11 Club—We certainly have a large family of girls who sew—twenty-two! Yes, sew. We are getting along well and this year we have three classes, first, second and third years. The first year are making towels; second year, slips, and the third year are making smocks.

Toxin-Anti Toxin and Schick Test—All who have not had toxin-anti toxin and Schick test, just step up to the schoolhouse and hold out your arm. We urge you to have it or you will be sorry in the spring when we give out the badges.

Help For The Needy—We are gathering up all the old clothes we can to give to the needy. Miss Quinn will collect them, and she will take them to Stark school. They will be taken from there to those who need them.

Reporter—Lois Loftus.

Three cases of diphtheria have been reported in Dearborn, one child dying from the malady.

One hundred and twenty-five hunting licenses have been sold by the county clerk at Ann Arbor.

The State Normal College at Ypsilanti will hold its annual homecoming Friday and Saturday, October 17 and 18.

The laying of the City of Farmington's new sewer is near completion. Only two smaller trunk lines remain to be laid by the contractors.

Dedictory services were held Sunday for the new $50,000 Presbyterian Church House in Redford, which has been under construction since last fall.

The death of Paul Regula, 45, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Regula, on Sunday morning, October 1, marked the first victim of the typhoid epidemic in Northville.

Seven hundred and ninety-five camping permits were issued this season at the State Park on the south shore of Walled Lake. The park was closed for the season on October 15.

Salaries of 60 teachers in the Ann Arbor public school system were boosted in amounts varying from $100 to $250 each at the October meeting of the board of education last Wednesday evening.

Excavation started last week in Brighton preparatory to the laying of foundations for a new hammer feed mill which will be built and operated by A. C. Stewart. The building will be 40x11 feet in dimensions and will have thoroughly up-to-date equipment for custom grinding.

Work on the state psychopathic hospital in York township is a full month ahead of schedule. By November 15, if the weather permits, the first six structures will be roofed over and enclosed. 537 men are now employed but it is expected that 200 will be laid off with in the next two weeks.

In raiding a cottage at Oxbow Lake recently, deputies were surprised when they turned a supposed water faucet to get a flow of beer, the pipe was found to connect with a tank of liquor in the cellar, which with other wet goods, was confiscated. Hazel Shannon and Charles Curry were taken to Pontiac to answer to a liquor violation charge.

Northville has two exhibits at the National Poultry Show in St. Louis, Missouri. Hugh Balditt, winner of numerous county, state and national ribbons and trophies with his flock of white crested black Polish chickens is going to try his luck in the big league class again this year, and Gerald Woodworth sent some of his Lamonaces, a new line of poultry developed in recent years.

Mayor Robert Allen of Birmingham has a collection of cures that is quite unique and gathered from all over the world. Among them is one made of a shark's vertebrae and others of such material as leather washers, a rose-bush, Indian beads, paper pulp, cross sections of steer horn, a strip of wall-

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, stagnating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Beyer Pharmacy.

rus hide and solid ivory. One of them was used by the old king of Siam which he used in hobbling to his throne.

Another change will take place in Farmington when the Detroit Edison power plant on Grand River shuts down. The new automatically-operated apparatus on Orchard Lake road near Shiawassee built some time ago, and the completion of a similar plant in Clarenceville last week, has made continuation of the old unit unnecessary. Two brothers, William and Henry Pauline have operated the plant for 30 years.

Officials of the Ford Motor Company made an inspection, last week, of the huge tunnel, now under construction, through which will pass the water supply for the great Rouge plant. The tunnel will be 22 miles long, 15 feet inside diameter, with a daily capacity of almost one billion gallons. The immense tube will connect the Rouge plant power house with the old channel of the Rouge River. It is sunk 80 feet beneath the level of the street and passes under street car tracks, highways, a cemetery, a creek and railroad bridges.

As a permanent memorial to her brother, the late Senator Walter J. Hayes, Miss Mary J. Hayes of Detroit recently tendered to the Conservation Commission, land in the Irish Hills valued at $65,000. The property will be organized into the Walter J. Hayes State Park and will incorporate within its limits what was formerly known as the Cedar Hills Park. With an area of 466 acres, having an entire lake within its limits and more than a half mile frontage on Wampler's Lake, and located within a sixty mile radius of a population exceeding 2,500,000 people, the park is expected to become the most popular in Michigan. By next summer a paved highway will lead through the park from U. S. 112, camping facilities will be increased, the bathing beach will be improved, a baseball field will be created and playground facilities will be installed.

"It must have been a consolation to Adam and Eve," asserts Dad Plymouth "to know that neither one of them could brag to the other about the way things were done in the good old days."

Conducted with scrupulous care for economy and upon sound business principles. Greatly helped by the cooperation of its people. Remuneration of its officers is based upon immediate needs, and not upon and consideration of individual worth.

In touch with the masses—the common people of many lands. It understands their needs—visits them in their homes—counsels them in their perplexities—and seeks to lead them to the knowledge of Christ—to live unselfishly, honorably, and for the glory of God.

Unsectarian—its long arm is stretched out to all—of every creed, or of no creed at all.

Christian Science Notes
"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, October 12.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." (Rom. 12:21).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Stand porter at the door of thought. Admitting only such thoughts as you wish realized in bodily results, you will control yourself harmoniously. When the condition is present which you say induces disease, whether it be air, exercise, heredity, contagion, or accident, then perform your office as porter and shut out these unhealthy thoughts and fears." (p. 302).

EPISCOPAL NOTES
The church is very happy to welcome into communion the seven persons who last Sunday took the important step of confirmation, which is bearing witness to Christ. It was fine to see such a large congregation present.

A word of appreciation should be said on behalf of the church for the recent gifts received. A set of red altar hangings made by members of the altar guild were used for the first time last Sunday. The new brass altar basin dedicated last Sunday is the gift of Mrs. D. P. Murphy.

Confirmation instructions for the children will continue regularly each week until after the class have made their first communion. It is planned that the entire class shall meet together for instruction before the next communion service.

The annual fall program for children, "Adventuring with Christ" will be held early in November. This was a great experience last year and it is expected that every child in the church school take part this year, and that more parents visit these services, which will be held every day after school for one week.
Wouldn't it be splendid and inspiring if we could have such a large and enthusiastic congregation as last Sunday—every Sunday? We could! If all would do their part. Come again this Sunday!

METHODIST NOTES
"Sir, we would see Jesus." John 12:21.
"What the Greeks wanted when they came to the temple in Jerusalem, the world of seeking men has wanted ever since. 'Sir, we would see Jesus,' has been, worded or unworded, the heart desire of all men. It is that today. How and where are men to see Jesus? Only as He is reflected in the lives of His followers. We are the light of Christ shining out among men. What a responsibility this places on every Christian. Every Christian is an ambassador of the King of kings, bearing His authority, in charge of His honor. When people see us, do they feel that they have seen Jesus?"
Next Sunday night the young people are requested to come to the church at 8:15 p. m. to meet the young people who are coming over from the Ann Arbor church for the evening service. There will be a social time and refreshments, and at 7:15 the visiting young people will have charge of the service, to which the public is cordially invited.

Wednesday night directly at the close of school, the Junior Missionary boys will meet for their first meeting of the year. There will be a story and an interesting meeting. Bring your dues, 25c for the year, if you can, but come anyhow.
Thursday evening, October 23, the Philathea Class will enjoy a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. Wm. Farley on Adams Street. All members are cordially invited to come, and if you do not wish to pay a fine, wear a mask.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.
The Ready Service class will meet on Tuesday of next week at the home of Mrs. H. Dewey at 2014 Spring Street. Cooperative dinner will be served at noon, and the business and social meeting of the class will follow.
The pastor will conduct a class in the study of India. The text book used will be "India Looks to her Future," by Professor Oscar McMullan, Buckle. The class will meet Wednesday evenings at 7:15 p. m., and will begin on Wednesday, October 22. All are welcome to attend.

CATHOLIC NOTES
Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the ladies.
The ladies will give a card party October 23.
The Dons Scots College will be open to the public for inspection next Sunday.
Joseph Simich was buried from the church Wednesday morning.

BAPTIST NOTES
We expect to have a candidate for the pulpit next Sunday—Rev. Neale, a young minister from Cleveland, Ohio. Rev. Neale comes highly recommended and he has already built up an entirely new church organization in Cleveland.
Last Monday night Mr. Allenbaugh's class of boys went to the woods again and had a very good time.
Mr. Hamill and family and Miss Roe attended a home coming at Rose Center last Sunday afternoon.

PERRINSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mecklenborg entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Mulden of Garden City, Thursday evening.
Mrs. Nell Beyer and Margaret Kubie entertained at the former's home Wednesday afternoon, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Walter Preston (Blanche Klatt). Guessing games were played. The honor guest had to go on a treasure hunt as the gifts were hidden about the house. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The guests were: Mrs. Lilian Zimmerman of Wayne; Mrs. Albert Knortzke, Margaret and Edna of Garden City; Mrs. Minnie Brex, Mrs. Lizzie Kubie and Mrs. May Kubie.
Leona Beyer of Detroit spent Sunday and Monday with her father and grandparents.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Badelt of Wayne, called at the parental home Sunday evening.
Lawrence (Champaign) and friend of Saline, spent Sunday with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ossennmacher.
Paul Ossennmacher spent a few days recently at Harbor Beach.
Margaret Kubie and her mother, called on a school chum, Mrs. Frank Schwartz, of Middlebelt road, at the Wayne County Airport, Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kubie and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Drees of Hawthorne Valley, Wednesday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kubie, daughter, Margaret, and Henry Sell took dinner Sunday at the home of Mrs. Gordon McGregor of West Farmington, the occasion being the birthday of Mrs. McGregor's mother, Mrs. Sell, of Detroit.
Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer of Williamston, were visitors in this community, Saturday and Sunday.
Remember the place and date—there is going to be a hard time dance given in Showers' hall, 1/4 mile north of Ford road on Middle Belt, Garden City, Thursday evening, October 30. Music by the Hollywood Hayshakers under the instruction of "Chuck" Rouch. Everyone welcome. Come in your everyday apparel. Two prizes will be given, for the worst and best costumes. So come and win the prize, and dance to the 5-piece orchestra of good peppy music. The Hollywood Hayshakers.

The Business and Professional Women's Club are planning for their annual benefit bridge to be given on November 4th. Reserve lists date as special attractions are being prepared. Place and hour will be announced next week.

Responsibilities Increase Wages

The old-time theory that home responsibilities distract a woman's attention from her work and tend to make her less efficient receives a pronounced setback in figures just made public by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in connection with a comprehensive survey of the business and professional group.

According to this survey, which is based upon an intimate investigation of the careers of 14,000 women, the woman who has dependents consistently earns more money than women who have no one dependent upon them and can give their undivided attention to business routine.

In the latter group median earnings are but $1,492 annually as contrasted with earnings of $1,647 for women with one or more dependents.

Besides disclosing that dependency is apparently a spur to increased business effort, the survey also contradicts the theory that women are in business to pick up "pin money" and do not need to earn as much money as men.

Approximately 40 per cent of the women whose careers were investigated have one or more dependents, and therefore must earn more than a living wage.

A joint research project of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs and the University of Michigan, the survey was conducted by Dr. Margaret Elliott, Associate Professor of Personnel Management at the University, and Dr. Grace E. Manson, former Research Associate of the Bureau of Business Research, now at Northwestern University in Chicago. Three years have been consumed in the collection and tabulation of the data, and through it a wealth of interesting new material dealing with the woman in business has been made available, and many current fallacies exploded.

Among these is the erroneous assumption that women are birds of passage in the business world, using business as a stepping stone to matrimony. At least half of the group covered by the survey has been employed 13.7 years. Only one in four has been gainfully employed less than 7.8 years, and one in four has worked over 21.7 years.

Since returns from this survey of members of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs were carefully checked against typical communities, they may be said to be representative of the business woman's group as a whole, and to demonstrate rather conclusively that women are a stable factor in business.

Obviously the greatest opportunities in business come to the women who are free-lancing, or who head enterprises of their own. Median earnings of women who work independently are $500 greater per year than those of women who are slaves to the weekly pay envelope. Moreover one woman in every three of the former class earns $3,000 or more a year while only one in every 20 of the latter group can hope to attain that figure.

There is consolation for the older woman who is disturbed at the prospect of wage cuts, for the investigation discloses that business and professional women may fairly anticipate a period of 30 working years during which their salary will increase. Thereafter, for a ten-year period, it tends to remain stable, and after forty years of working life it will probably decrease. The prudent business woman therefore need not assume that penny will stare her in the face until well after 50.

If she is prudent, however, she will stick to one employer after her first 15 years of working life have passed. Business does not deal so kindly with the drifters, the survey demonstrates, and the middle-aged woman who frequently changes employment may soon find herself jobless or working for an inadequate wage.
