

Filling Side Of Lake For Part Of New Park Paving

Road To Skirt Phoenix Lake For Distance Of Eighth Of A Mile

Workmen Rushing Separation Under Pere Marquette—Hope To Finish Before Winter

When announcement was made in The Plymouth Mail three weeks ago that the Wayne county road commission and the Pere Marquette would soon start work on the new grade separation at the Phoenix park crossing, few realized that the job would be pushed with the lightning speed that is characterizing the work on this job.

Already there has been a sidewalk laid by the Pere Marquette and the excavation for the thoroughfare to the east of the tracks and to the end of Phoenix lake is nearly completed.

A fill is being made along the edge of Phoenix lake where the new roadway hits the edge of the lake and it will be carried to a point almost directly east of the old bath house that served the swarms of Detroit swimmers that at one time came to Phoenix lake.

This will create a drive of nearly an eighth of a mile directly along the side of the water, adding greatly to the scenic beauty that is being created in this part of Wayne county.

While no word has officially come out of the Wayne county road commission's office, it is apparent that it is the hope of these officials to have the Phoenix grade separation completed before snow flies.

Already workmen have started cutting the concrete from the Five mile road crossing over the Pere Marquette tracks. Soon one to get on the Five mile road from the Plymouth-Northville road must go to the new paving along the east side of the Pere Marquette tracks and Phoenix lake.

Sons Injured As Plan Last Rites For Their Father

Two Lovewell Boys Are Seriously Hurt In Auto Crash

Near tragedy was written into the last rites for Scott A. Lovewell, well known Northville real estate dealer whose funeral was held Monday when his two sons, Dr. Paul Lovewell and Carly Lovewell were frightfully injured Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident while on the way to Union lake to tell close family friends of the funeral arrangements for their father.

As they circled the highway near Mud Lake in Oakland county where the father and his two sons had often fished in the years gone by a big ice truck suddenly backed from a driveway into the main thoroughfare just as the Essex coach Dr. Paul Lovewell was driving emerged over the top of the hill. It was too late for either driver to avert the mishap that followed.

Crashing into the side of the truck with terrific force, the two young men were so frightfully injured that for a time it was feared neither would live. Dr. Paul Lovewell's face was crushed in an a big gaping hole torn into his forehead. The other occupant of the car was also frightfully cut and bruised.

They were hurried to Sessions hospital in Northville, both in an unconscious condition and later removed to the University of Michigan hospital because of the seriousness of their injuries.

As doctors and nurses watched carefully over them Monday afternoon they said that Carly would recover from his injuries and that Dr. Paul Lovewell had a fair chance to survive and that unless complications developed he probably would be able to leave the hospital within a few weeks, although his face will be frightfully marked.

Has Picture Of 1st Delivery Car

Do you want to see what the first automobile delivery wagon that ever ran up and down the dusty streets of Plymouth of more than 20 years ago looked like?

Ed. Gayde in rummaging through his desk the other day uncovered an old photograph of the old one lugger—a specially built Brush delivery wagon that served the Gayde Bros. store for many years.

It bought the car from Claude Briggs, who later became head of the Maxwell Automobile Co. Do you know I thought I broke the world's record one time. I got that car up to 20 miles an hour. I did it when going down the Phoenix hill down on the Plymouth-Northville road. That was some speed for a delivery wagon in those days," declared Ed. Gayde when showing the picture to some friends the other day.

Another Youth Injured By Car

Frank Hadley, five years of age who resides with his mother, Mrs. Edith Hadley at 666 Dodge street, was injured Saturday afternoon when struck by an automobile at the corner of Union and Dodge streets as he ran into the street between two automobiles. One leg was broken and he suffered several minor bruises.

He was taken to the University of Michigan hospital where he is being cared for. The police captured the driver of the car, but from the statement of witnesses the accident was unavoidable. The car was not being driven at a high rate of speed at the time and it is due to this fact that he was not more seriously injured. This is the second accident of the kind that has been reported in the last two weeks.

He Is 97 Years Old, But Enjoys Flight

Thomas Davis, grandfather of William Pettibone, 97 years of age, got a new thrill out of life the other day when he took a trip up into the air 1000 feet or more in the giant Ford tri-motored plane that Paul Waldman brought to Plymouth last Friday. Mr. Davis, with hundreds of other local residents, thoroughly enjoyed the flight, it being his first one.

Cow Crawls Into Drain, Rescued

Everybody has heard the story of the cow that jumped over the moon. But nobody ever believed it.

But here is a true story about the cow that crawled through a four foot road drain for a distance of 75 feet and then got stuck and had to be dug out!

Yesterday morning Bert Kahrl who lives down on Plymouth road near Wayne road came hurrying into the state highway department office in Plymouth.

"Say you fellows have got to get my cow out from the drain under the road," said Mr. Kahrl. "What?" said everybody in the office.

"Yes sir, my cow is in that drain and has been there for four days. I just found her there," said Mr. Kahrl.

The road officials immediately got busy and rescued Bossie. So now you hear about a cow that crawled for 75 feet into a road drain and then got stuck. Was rescued and lives, you know it is a true story.

Beryl Smith Lands Biggest Fish Caught Near Here This Year

To Beryl Smith goes all the fishing records of the present season to date—she landed and brought home Sunday, a big mouth bass that weighed 15 pounds and 14 ounces, the biggest bass that has been taken from any lake or river in southeastern Michigan this year.

He was fishing with his brother Clyde Smith Sunday over near Holly on a little lake where there were supposed to be just some ordinary sized bass.

It was late in the day and they had mighty poor luck, when Beryl, who was using a Shannon spinner, heaved it over among some lily pads. He felt a yank on his bait and told his brother, "I guess maybe I've got a nibble."

He began reeling in and the fish swam along towards the boat just as though it was the thing to do. When Beryl got it up near the boat they saw it was a white big fish and all the once they got excited. But the fish didn't. It kept coming right along without any resistance and all they had to do was just lift it from the water into the boat.

However it did prove to be a mighty big bass.

When relating the story of the easy catch to some other Plymouth fishermen, one declared that the fish must have been sick. Another said it was probably too old to fight and another said it must have been blind. But that's the way with fishermen, when some one else catches the big one. The Smith brothers are going to have it mounted.

Tuesday The Hottest Day Ever Known

Plymouth sweltered Tuesday afternoon in the hottest weather this place has ever known. Thermometers around town ran from 100 to 108, the average being around 104. Never before has it been so hot and dry as far as Plymouth has ever known. Reports from Detroit and other parts of the state reported almost unbearable heat. Damage to crops is so severe that farmers this fall will have practically no yield of any kind, many not going to be able to produce enough for their own use.

FOR YOUR BENEFIT

This issue of The Plymouth Mail carries to its large family of readers and to all the residents in this locality a message from the progressive merchants of Plymouth who are anxious to offer you some of the bargains of the season—the merchants who are willing to share their profits with you.

After some weeks of consideration it was decided to sponsor this mid-summer sale and to conduct a three days festival of bargains at a time of the year when father and mother can take the greatest advantage of the splendid reductions offered.

In these trying days every buyer—and buyers are in most cases the mothers—is forced to watch the nickels and pennies. That is just why this great mid-summer sale is being sponsored collectively by the business men of Plymouth.

FEEDING STRIKERS

When John F. Ballenger, Wayne county relief administrator, announced a few days ago that because of the shortage of public funds it would be necessary to the hours of employment of men working on County Emergency Relief projects, thousands of the men went "on strike".

WHAT YOU PAY TAXES ON

Some one wrote The Plymouth Mail the other day and asked for a list of things we are taxed for. In pondering over the question, and in seeking information on the subject, we came to the conclusion that there is absolutely nothing that now escapes taxation, except the air we breathe.

We pay taxes on land, food, clothing, drugs, stocks, bonds, light and power, wood and coal, shoes—yes we are now taxed for the repairs we have made on an old pair of shoes—gas, water, automobiles, repairs, automobile tires, horses, cattle, sheep, chickens, the vegetables, fruits and grains we sell to our neighbor, the bread and butter we eat to keep body and soul together, we are taxed if we go down to the creek to try and catch fish for dinner.

And finally, those of us who are not ashamed to admit a little sentiment in our make-up feel that we have lost one of the finer things of life when we lose that fellowship and neighborliness which is certainly fostered by a community newspaper.

fuss. Outside of England we have in the brief space of a few years become the heaviest taxed nation in all the world and by the end of another year if things keep on at the rate they have in the past year, this will be the heaviest taxed nation in all the world.

89,000 NEW POLITICAL JOBS

Washington dispatches say that under the "New Deal" there has been added to the federal payroll 89,000 new jobs. During the month of May alone there was a gain of 14,978 more people drawing public pay than in the preceding month.

THE HUNK

An article published in a recent issue of that Socialist paper, the Michigan Journalist, endeavors to point out the fact that some of the municipally owned light plants in Michigan are not a burden on the taxpayers of the communities where they are operated. TO SPEND $50,000

Don W. Canfield, secretary of the Democratic State Central committee, announced a few days ago that it was the plan of the state Democratic organization to spend $50,000 for the election of the Democratic ticket in Michigan this fall.

Farm Foreclosures
By FCA Rise Less
Than 5 P. C. In Year

The number of farms owned outright by the Federal Land Banks and subject to redemption by the borrower increased less than five per cent in the last year, according to a statement made by the City Fusion Party. In made by W. L. Myers, governor of the Farm Credit Administration. During the calendar year 1931 the numbers increased about 50 per cent and in 1932 another 50 per cent increase was recorded.

The governor also said that the farms held by the banks in May amounted to $2,929,000, which was an increase of a little over 2 per cent or about $1,929,000 over the amount carried in May, 1933, when the Farm Credit Administration was organized.

The number of farms now owned by the land banks or held by them subject to redemption by the borrower totals 22,078. These farms were acquired over a series of years. The total is about 1000 greater than a year ago. Also, the period of redemption on a rather large number of farms expired during the year.

While the Federal Land Banks and the Land Bank Commissioner together now hold 20 to 25 per cent of the total farm mortgage debt in the United States, data obtained from officials in about 700 counties in the United States indicate that foreclosure action instituted by the Federal Land Banks during the last seven months has constituted only 1 to 7 percent of the total farm foreclosures instituted throughout the United States by all institutions and individuals," the statement said.

Nation's Capacity To Produce Ingots

The capacity of the nation's steel mills to produce steel ingots reached 69,390,625 gross tons in 1933, the largest ever reported for the industry, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Ingots capacity increased 1,191,449 over 1932, the smallest gain in a decade with the exception of two years when there were declines. Since the end of 1929, capacity has grown by 6,323,061 gross tons, despite a drop of 99,780 in 1932.

Annual capacity to produce pig iron and ferro-alloys rose 654,086 gross tons in 1933 to a total of 51,110,061, while capacity for steel casting declined by 29,104 gross tons to 1,963,151.

Chicago Banks Are In Best Condition
Since End of 1931

With total deposits of $2,083,000,000, an increase of $200,000,000 in the last three months, Chicago banks are in a better cash position than at any time since the end of 1931, according to the latest complete check-up which is taken in financial circles to indicate a return of confidence as well as an opportunity for new credit expansion.

Contrasted with the increase in deposits is a decrease in outstanding credits, so that the deposits appear to be actually more liquid than they would be if credits had kept pace with deposits.

An interesting sidelight on the local banking situation is the fact that whereas the December, 1931, deposits of $2,140,000,000 were distributed among 138 banks the are distributed among only 50 banks as a result of the great number of closings and reorganizations which have taken place in the past critical years.

The largest individual gain in deposits was made by the Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Company, which reported an increase of $83,000,000 since March 5.

Jessie, queen ostrich at the London zoo, died rather suddenly, and when they tried to find out what had caused poor Jessie's death they found she had not been sticking to a strictly usual ostrich diet. Her stomach was found to be rather hard and lumpy, a condition which was readily explained when it was opened, for there Jessie had concealed. Three handkerchiefs, a pair of gloves, 4 pennies, a half-crown, 13 nails, a lead pencil, 5 screws, 2 staples, 6 washers, 4 yards of string, and 3 buttons.

A skull on exhibition in the London Museum contains evidence of an operation performed 2,000 years ago. In the center appears a neat round hole, drilled, according to experts, to let out the Evil. One inside the patient, who was probably suffering from epilepsy.

The tiniest man in existence is Hussein Bey, a 36-year-old Turk. He is only two inches taller than one foot.

Our Best Salesmen are the Users of the NEW

Yes sir—people who got the new G-3 All-Weather before it was advertised and have driven this marvelous tire many thousands of miles, are singing its praises louder than our advertising does! Particularly do they insist that the new G-3 gives better than the "43% more non-skid mileage" we advertise! All we ask is, before you buy tires give us a chance to show you why G-3 users boost it even stronger than we do!

ASTONISHING NEW "G-3" GOODYEAR ALL-WEATHER

Look!—at No Extra Cost . . . 43% More Miles of real non-skid safety . . . Flatter Wider Tread . . . More Center Traction (16% more non-skid blocks) . . . Heavier Tougher Tread (average of 2 lbs. more rubber) . . . Supertwist Cord Body (supports heavier tread safely)!

PLYMOUTH AUTO SUPPLY

WE HAVE THE LARGEST TIRE STOCK IN PLYMOUTH

Thought $6 Week Big Pay Years Ago

If the young men who have recently graduated from high school and who have started out to look for jobs and are bemoaning the fact that they cannot find work and if they find it the pay is insufficient, they should have been present at the meeting of the Rotary club last Friday noon when some of the other members of the club told about the jobs they had when they were 21 years of age and what they were getting for the long hours they worked.

William Wood, who was in charge of the program, hit upon the idea of making a comparison of the quarter or more of a century ago with conditions as they are today.

"Salaries" of $6.00 and $7.00 a week seemed to be the prevailing wage that most of the older Rotarians were getting when they were 21 years of age.

Harry Robinson was clerking in a general store over at Wayne. He went to work at 6 o'clock in the morning and was seldom through at 10 o'clock at night. He got $7.00 a week for six long days and in addition he had to sleep in the store at night time.

"Work, say folks these days know little about work as compared to the way we had to work in those days," declared Michigan's best known auctioneer of today.

Charles Bennett, now president of the great Daisy Manufacturing company, was painting fanning mills for 50 cents a piece. Finally he got to working so fast and such long hours that they cut his pay directly in half, so he couldn't make over $9.00 a week, no matter how hard he worked. Then he got a job "peddling" fanning mills from farm to farm.

Fred Schrader told of his efforts to make a living farming his mother's place out in Canton township.

"I remember how hard it was to get cash in those days. My brother Nelson and myself in the fall would load up a wagon load of potatoes. We'd start for Detroit late in the evening and then when we got to Detroit we would sell potatoes for 10 and 15 cents a bushel. If we came home with $9.00 in cash we thought we had had a good day. We worked in those days for everything we got," he said.

William Conner, veteran hardware merchant, was working in a lumber yard in Plymouth when 21 years old for $6.00 a week.

William Pettigill was a conductor on a street car between Northville, Plymouth and Wayne, getting the big pay of $12 a week and Carl Shear was clerking in a general store for $10 a month.

"There wasn't any such thing as 'welfare' in those days — men worked for everything they got — and they really worked, they accomplished something for what they were paid for, seemed to be the general trend of the talks made. Officials of the club plan to continue the program at some future time so that the remaining membership of the club can tell of their jobs and pay when 21 years of age.

The old submarine tender Savannah has been stricken from the Navy list as being unfit for further naval service and will be disposed of by sale. She was originally the SS. Saxonia of the Hamburg-American Line, and was taken over by the United States Navy during the World War.

No U. S. Naval ship has ever been in the hands of mutineers while in other navies, whole squadrons or fleets have been taken over by mutineers.

Drouth Damage Grows Immense

Plymouth and vicinity have during recent days suffered frightfully from the terrible drouth that prevails over the entire nation. Beginning last week with warm days early in the week, the heat became nothing less than stifling Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It has continued so most of the time.

Farmers cannot estimate the damage that has been done to crops. Hopes of a fairly decent crop of corn, potatoes and beans have disappeared and if farmers can secure enough for their own use they will be doing well. One well known Plymouth farmer told the Plymouth Mail that in the fifty years he has been farming about here, he never recalls such a long and destructive drouth as this has been.

Pasture for live stock has entirely dried up. There is barely any along creek beds.

But if any one has an idea that this part of Michigan or the United States is the only part of the world suffering from the drouth, they are mistaken as news dispatches say that the drouth is world-wide, except in a few scattered localities.

When members of the Lutheran church of Plymouth conducted a prayer service for rain sometime ago, they were not the only ones in the country and world to pray for rain.

Prayers in Christian churches, prostrations before idols in heathen lands and dances designed to appeal to the rain gods in both Christian and heathen countries testified today to a drouth that spotted great areas all over the world.

In some cases, nature or the gods responded, but with torrential downpours that threatened to complete the ruin the drouth started.

Asia and India, particularly India, Russia and the Balkans, were affected.

Anxiety spread to Great Britain over the week-end after two days which a brazen sun withered crops all over the Isles.

More than 160 hamlets and villages were suffering from a shortage of water that added a fire hazard to drought damage. Many small towns resorted to milk cans to obtain water by railway as the normal supply failed.

There were fears that shortage of water might prove graver than in the great drought of 1921. The level of the Thames at Teddington, source of London's water supply, was the lowest on record. During the entire year, rain has been but 60 per cent of normal.

Consumers of water all over Buckinghamshire County in England were ordered to reduce their consumption by 25 per cent, under penalty of prosecution.

Throughout Cambridgeshire baths were forbidden.

Heath fires were increasing. Fifteen hundred soldiers were sent to Liphook, Hampshire, England, to fight a fierce outbreak.

Clouds covering half of France promised relief to parched crops. But in cases where the clouds fulfilled their promise there were terrific downpours that did great damage, carrying away railway tracks, swelling rivers and destroying bridges.

In the Balkans and the Danube valley, prayers for rain were attended by rites centuries old.

Gypsies decked in boughs danced in the streets, chanting supplications to rain gods. In some Jugoslav villages girls dressed only in green leaves danced in the streets to the rivers, then took off their leaves and threw them in the river as a sacrifice to bring rain.

Sells A Farm, He Finds Big Still

If you were a perfectly good real estate man and if you took a good buyer out to show him a good farm that you had listed for sale, a farm that had not been occupied for sometime, and if you found a great big still in the barn, a still that would produce hundred gallons of hard liquor each day just wouldn't you be surprised?

Well, that very thing happened five miles east of Plymouth the other day when Alfred Bakewell took Joseph Schultz of Newburg over to the Albert Sump farm on the Five Mile road almost across from the Patterson golf course.

The Sump family moved to Wisconsin some years ago and they left their 40 acre farm with Mr. Bakewell to sell.

The other day he took Mr. Schultz over to make a final inspection of the buildings and when they went out into the barn, there stood great vats used in the making of liquor, with all of the necessary machinery that a distillery requires.

Apparently the federal government had been just ahead of them because the equipment had been made useless for the purpose for which it had been made.

While it had been rumored during some of the time in recent years, there was a bootleg joint on the place, no one knew that there was a big distillery operating there.

Mr. Schultz plans to clear away the material at once and turn the farm back to the once good producing piece of land that it used to be. It is his purpose to move there in the near future with his family. The buildings on the place are in good condition.

Northville To Hold Best Fair

President Nelson Schrader and his efficient secretary, Floyd Northrop, are just now giving all of their time to the many details that develop as fair time approaches.

Cool Foods That Challenge Summer Appetites on Most Sweltering Days

In order to tempt jaded summer appetites your meals must be composed of cooling foods—not necessarily cold foods but those dishes that seem to promise refreshment and relief from sweltering heat. Of course you will serve plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables and only those meats that are not over-rich in fat. Here are some dishes that should quicken the palate to enjoyment.

Fruit Punch
 1½ cups sugar
 3 cups water
 2 cups orange juice
 2-3 cup lemon juice
 2 cups grape juice
 6 cups cold water
 Boil the sugar and water 10 minutes. Cool. Add the rest of the ingredients and chill. Serve in glasses one-third filled with chopped ice.

Cantaloupe Fruit Cup
 1 cup cantaloupe cubes
 1 cup diced pineapple
 1-4 cup pineapple juice
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 Garnish with a few preserved green grapes. Serve very cold in cocktail glasses.

Melon Halves with Raspberries
 Thoroughly chill small honey dew melons or cantaloupes and raspberries. Just before serving cut melons in halves and carefully remove centers. Fill with raspberries and sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar. Garnish with mint leaves. The fruit must be very cold when served.

Ham Mousse
 2 tablespoons gelatin
 4 tablespoons cold water
 2 cups cold stock
 2 cups cooked ham, finely ground
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
 4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Dash cayenne
 Dash ground cloves
 ½ cup mayonnaise
 1 cup whipping cream
 Soften the gelatin in cold water and dissolve over boiling water. Add the stock, ham and all the seasonings except the mayonnaise. Fold the mayonnaise mixture into the ham mixture. Turn into a mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with carrot cups filled with vegetable salad and sprigs of water cress.

Pottage Steak
 Pound very thin slices of top round beef. Dip in flour and brown in butter. Boil in water with bay leaves 1 hour. Make gravy of butter, flour, juice. Broil meat and gravy together 5 minutes.

Crisp Bacon With Pineapple
 12 slices bacon
 6 slices pineapple
 Salt and pepper
 Flour.

Fry the strips of bacon, pouring off the fat as it forms so that the bacon will be dry and crisp; remove to hot platter and keep hot. Sprinkle the flour with salt and pepper. Slip the six slices of canned pineapple into the flour to cover both sides. Brown in hot bacon fat.

Noodle Ring With Chicken and Mushrooms

2 cups noodles broken in pieces
 2 cups milk
 3 tablespoons fat
 2 teaspoons salt
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 4 eggs
 2 cups minced spinach.
 Cook noodles in boiling water until tender. Drain and rinse in cold water. Scald milk and add fat, salt, pepper and slightly beaten eggs. Drain noodles. Grease ring mold. Fill one quarter of it with spinach; the next quarter with noodles, the next with spinach and top with noodles. Pour the milk and egg mixture over it. Place mold in pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven. When done unmold on a platter and fill the center with creamed chicken and mushrooms.

Frozen Pineapple and Marshmallow Salad

1 cup whipping cream

½ cup mayonnaise
 ¾ cup diced, canned pineapple drained
 1 slice pineapple quartered
 12 marshmallows quartered
 ½ cup nut meats chopped
 ½ cup diced maraschino cherries.

Whip the cream and fold in the mayonnaise. Combine the diced pineapple, marshmallows, nuts and cherries. Fold in the mayonnaise mixture. Freeze in the tray of an automatic refrigerator. Unmold on crisp lettuce and garnish with pineapple slices, quartered and whole maraschino cherries.

Crabmeat Salad

1 cup crabmeat
 2 hard cooked eggs diced
 ½ cup diced celery
 2 tablespoons chopped pickles
 2 teaspoons chopped pimientos
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 1-3 cup mayonnaise

Chill ingredients. Combine and serve on crisp lettuce leaves.

Chocolate Ice Box Pudding

4 eggs
 4 tablespoons sugar
 2 cakes German sweet chocolate
 1½ dozen lady fingers
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Melt chocolate in the top of a double boiler, add sugar, then well beaten egg yolks. Remove from fire and vanilla and then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Split lady fingers. Line mold with them, add layer of chocolate mixture, then lady fingers, continuing until all ingredients are used. Leave a layer of lady fingers on top. Let stand in refrigerator over night. Remove from mold. Cut in blocks and serve with whipped cream.

Yorktown, scene of one of the most decisive battles of the Revolutionary War, has again been selected as the name for one of our battleships, making the third warcraft so named. This time the name is to be borne by a powerful airplane carrier, now in the course of construction.

A Banister is not the hand-rail which fences off the stairs. It is one of the vertical bars which run from the balustrade to the steps. Cork legs are not made of cork. They are made of wood, metal, leather, or strong canvas; they were invented by Dr. Cork. Hackney coaches are not so called because they were first made in Hackney, London. The word comes from the French "Haque-nee," meaning an ambulating horse. Briar pipes are not made from the roots of the sweet briar. The name is derived from the French "Bruyere," which means virtually the same as health.

Scientists can explain why leaves turn red in the autumn or why chameleons and tree toads are able to disguise themselves, but they admit defeat when asked why waters of certain lakes and springs in New Mexico turn red every autumn. This colored water appears for a short while, changes to a milky white, and finally regains its normal transparency again until the next year. Many visitors are attracted to the White Sands National Monument, a national park, to see this wonder, which as yet has no explanation.

The talking clock of Paris, which automatically tells the time when rung up, has earned $125,000 in a year, 4,000,000 persons having used it.

NOW, ARE THERE ANY OTHER BRIGHT SUGGESTIONS?

A wingless Plymouth Rock rooster, now in the National Zoological Park in Washington, may afford science some light on the evolutionary origin and mechanism of flight. This bird, about six months old, is a normal specimen in every respect except that it has no wings. Wingless specimens of normally winged birds hitherto have died shortly after birth. But apparently the abnormal progress of this rooster in the egg went on without the disturbance of anything except the flight mechanism.

Arthur Beaman, grocery store clerk at Vinita, Okla., has a hen that lays "dumb-bell eggs." The eggs are shaped like a dumbbell, with the yolk in one and the white in the other.

In the stratosphere, a man without an air suit would be frozen to death, while the surface of his skin would be burnt black by the heat of the sun.

Like Stephen Leacock's hero who mounted his horse and rode off in all directions, a baby chick at Holdrege, Neb., tries to walk in all directions simultaneously. Hatched with four perfectly formed legs, the chick experiences much difficulty in deciding which way to go.

Krauter-Rowland Marriage Saturday

St. Peter's Lutheran church of Plymouth was the scene of the marriage of Irene Krauter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Krauter, of Plymouth, and Joseph Rowland, son of Murray Rowland, also of Plymouth, on Saturday evening, July twenty-first, at seven o'clock, with only the immediate families as guests. The ceremony was performed by Reverend Edgar Hoenecke before an altar decorated with garden flowers.

The bride entered on the arm of her father to Lohengrin's Wedding March and was lovely in a dainty ruffled frock of pale blush silk muslin, white organdy hat with white accessories. Pink and white roses formed the arm bouquet she carried.

Preceding the bride came the matron of honor, Mrs. Allan Campbell of Plymouth, becomingly frocked in turquoise blue moss crepe with a white organdy hat and accessories to complete her costume. Her flowers were blue larkspur and tulle arranged in a corsage bouquet.

The groom chose as his best man his brother, Harry Rowland, of this city.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Ford Road. Members of the bridal party were seated at a table beautifully appointed in white damask and centered with the wedding cake and white tapers. Small tables accommodated the rest of the guests during the repast.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland left Saturday evening on a short motor trip through Michigan and upon their return will be at home at 465 Ann street, Plymouth.

Both are well known in Plymouth, the groom having been graduated from the local high school in 1924 and the bride in 1923. The groom later attended Michigan Normal College and is now a teacher in the Cady school at Wayne. The bride has been secretary to the superintendent of schools in Plymouth for the past five years.

Lumber Prices

Are They too High?

If you will take a few moments to study these comparative figures you will see that lumber prices are not high. In fact you will find that they are considerably lower than the average price of lumber over a period of years. It is true prices are higher than they were in the past few depression years but those prices were not real prices, they were merely attempts on the part of lumber manufacturers to try to get enough business to keep their heads above water. They were starvation prices and could not be expected to last for any great length of time. In order to survive at all lumber dealers and manufacturers were virtually forced to sell their surplus stocks at any price they could get. Prices were not based on manufactured costs but rather on conditions dictated by economic necessity.

The following comparative cost figures are highly interesting. They show a year to year record (kept by the Lumber Code Authority) of an identical five room house.

FIVE ROOM HOUSE

9283 foot—Includes
Hardware, Sash & Doors, Lumber and Shingles

October	1920	$1,024.45	1927	$ 597.32
	1921	796.07	1928	576.97
	1922	705.18	1929	566.40
	1923	832.63	1930	510.25
	1924	701.32	1931	441.32
	1925	625.75	1932	352.30
	1926	632.45	1933	482.36
			March 1934	553.72

A recent 10% drop in lumber prices lowers this figure considerably.

The average price of this house has been $626.55 or $73.-83 higher than the present price, which means that present prices are 11 1/2% lower than the average. . .

Many Issues To Vote On In Fall

When Mr. and Mrs. Plymouth go to the polls at the November election besides the great array of candidates on the ballot who will be running for office, there will also be six constitutional questions to vote on—six changes that various "groups" would like to have made.

Although nearly a score of proposed changes to the state constitution were discussed in the last few months, six of the proposals have been qualified for places on the ballot at the November election. Five of the questions will be submitted to the voters after initiatory petitions bearing sufficient signatures were filed with the Department of State. The sixth question was ordered on the ballot by the legislature. The order in which the proposals will appear on the ballot and brief summaries follow:

1. This provides that all judges be elected on non-partisan ballots.
2. This proposal would reduce the gasoline tax from three to two cents and would prohibit the legislature from increasing above two-cents a gallon.
3. At the present time the automobile weight tax is 35-cents per hundredweight. This proposed amendment would prohibit the legislature from increasing the weight tax above the present figure.

4. Reorganization of county systems of government along plans adopted by the legislature or submitted by initiatory petition, is provided for in the fourth proposal. The amendment would permit abolishing any present constitutional office upon approval of a majority of the voters in a county.
5. This proposed amendment would eliminate the "uniform taxation" provisions from the state constitution and would allow the legislature to enact an income tax law.
6. This proposal would give justices of the peace jurisdiction in civil cases up to $300 in cities of more than 250,000 inhabitants.

Miss Grace Carr of Hubbard Lake was the guest of her uncle, L. E. Wilson, and family Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Mrs. Clara Galsterer and her son, Dr. Andrew Galsterer, and wife of Frankmouth spent Saturday and Sunday with the former's sister, Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith, and Mr. Goldsmith.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hondorp enjoyed the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. Harold Turner, and Mr. Turner at their lake cottage at Goodrich.

Mrs. Jennie Park returned from the Plymouth hospital last week, and is with Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Root.

One other person besides the members of the school board attended the district meeting of the Kinyon school. The finances seemed to be adjusted very satisfactorily, but apparently the interest of the taxpayers wasn't keen enough to induce them to attend the meeting and find out.

It has been thought best to postpone until another year the annual picnic of the Kinyon school usually held the last Saturday in July.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Root visited friends and relatives in Adrian and Clayton last week. The drought and the heat seemed much worse in Lanawee Co. than here.

Mrs. Frank Truesdell, and Mrs. H. C. Root attended the funeral of Miss Pearl Dicks at Saline. Miss Dicks was a cousin of Mrs. Truesdell. The burial was at Cherry Hill.

Eddie Godette was quite severely injured by a loosened stone in a well falling upon him while he was attempting to dig the well deeper. The drought is occasioning a serious shortage of water on many farms.

Big Marsh Fire Destroys Land

The fire burning in the muck land west of the standard gravel pit near the Milford-Lyon town line, has presented a puzzling problem since the first alarm was turned in Monday and was answered by the Milford township truck and crew. The truck answered another call on Tuesday and on Wednesday spent several hours on the job.

On Wednesday afternoon the lighter New Hudson pumper was called to the scene. This was run with the help of men pushing through a swamp to a ditch where it pumped water to a milk can. The heavy Milford truck in turn pumped from the milk can into its own booster tank. The latter had from 1500 to 1900 feet of hose out in an effort to prevent the fire from spreading. Men employed by farmers interested in the land were also doing some ditching in order to cut off spreading of the fire in the peaty ground.

A one-sound alarm Wednesday afternoon called the village crew and many volunteers to a grass fire spreading in the field east of the Cherry Hill Subdivision. It started from some rubbish burning at the rear of the house occupied by Harry Harrington. Another alarm concerned a grass fire at Rowe Lake but this was in Highland township and out of the territory of the Milford fire fighters.

An alarm at 10:30 Wednesday night called the township truck and crew again to the peat fire where they were on duty until five o'clock Thursday morning.—The Milford Times.

The estate of Roald Amundsen, famous explorer, at Oslo, Norway, is open to the public as a national shrine. The house will be preserved with its furnishings exactly as Amundsen left them, in 1928, when he left hurriedly on his ill-fated attempt to rescue the Italian explorer, Umberto Nobile, and his negligible expedition in the polar regions.

Under a drastic bill which has been laid before the senate, Belgian factories, shops, and offices would be prohibited from employing women. The measure would deprive 400,000 women of their positions, it is estimated. The only ones who would be exempt would be agricultural and home workers, servants, private secretaries to professional men and women in posts of high responsibility.

Lieut. George Moffett, son of the late Admiral Moffett who went down with the Akron, is the first visitor to land his plane on the deck of the new plane carrier, Ranger, while that ship was making full speed.

Tom Conlin Discusses High Fees Collected By Banking Lawyers

Thomas Conlin, veteran editor of the Upper Peninsula made the following comment in his Crystal Falls Diamond Drill recently about the high fees charged by receivers:

It's interesting just now to notice the difference in the demands of certain of our legal fraternity in the case of bank receivership fees. Recently it was disclosed that Judge Lacy, who seeks the office of governor on the Democrat ticket in opposition to Governor Comstock, was paid a total of $109,999, part personal and part to his firm, for legal services.

The grand jury at Lansing is now dipping into the charges for service rendered in bank cases and its likely that the public will hear more on that subject before the election is over with.

Alex J. Groesbeck was appointed receiver for the Guardian Detroit and he handled the situation so ably that every depositor with a claim of $1,000 and less has been paid in full and the balance of the assets have been taken over by a few of the large depositors and the small fellows paid up. When it came time to fix fees in the case Mr. Groesbeck wouldn't take any pay for his work. Here is the way "The Guardian," a Detroit paper puts it:

"One of the finest things done by man during these trying days, was when the time came for Mr. Groesbeck to be paid his fee for acting as Receiver for the Guardian Bank, and his answer was that he donated his services, and refused pay, stating that the people had lost enough money without him placing an extra tax on them by accepting an attorney's fees."

Fourteen-year-old George Rogalski, who enticed Dorette Zietlow, three, into an abandoned ice-house in Chicago and left her there to die from exposure, has been convicted of kidnapping and sent to the penitentiary for ten years.

Herman F. Valke, a cripple, of Battle Creek, Mich., had his life savings impounded in a bank for nearly a year. Recently 65 per cent of the total, $1,576.45, was handed out to him in cash. He took the nearest elevator to the first floor, walked across the lobby, and discovered he had been robbed of the whole amount.

Patrolman Carl Christoffersen, of Rockland, Me., believes in getting his man—and that goes for boys, too—even though he has to swim to do it. When he sought to arrest Arthur J. Butts, 16, a fugitive from the state school for boys, the youth took refuge in Chicawaukee Lake. The officer took off his clothing, jumped in to the lake, and dragged Butts back to land.

Attend Fair, You May Get New Auto

Elmer Smith, who for years had charge of the attractions of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association, has been in and around Plymouth during the past few days creating interest in the big automobile contest that the fair association is sponsoring in connection with the fair this year.

So that the thousands of readers of The Plymouth Mail may know something of how the fair association proposes to dispose of this new automobile, Mr. Smith states that tickets will be given in exchange for any money that is paid between now and fair time to the following Northville and Plymouth business men, the tickets to be retained and presented at Fair time:

E. M. Bogart, Groceries; Northville Grocery, Groceries; N. C. Schrade, Furniture and Undertaking; P. Lyke, Hardware; Pontiac Paint, Hardware; Wm. Forney, Coal and Ice; C. R. Ely, Coal and Ice; Hills Brothers, Meats; Stewart Drug Co., Drugs; Horton Drug Co., Drugs; S. L. Brader, General Merchandise; C. A. Ponsford, Dry Goods; Stark Brothers, General Merchandise; Orlow Owen, Haberdashery; John McCully, Shoes; Harry Robinson, Plymouth; Northville Record, Northville.

This is the first time that the Northville Fair has asked the cooperation of merchants in a plan of this kind. Mr. Smith states that other names will be added to the list later. It is interesting to know that Chairman Smith, who is also vice president of the Fair Association, is largely responsible for the success of all of the free attractions that are conducted in connection with the annual Northville fair.

When it became known that Dusan Jovanovic, a poor shoemaker's assistant, of Skoplje, Yugoslavia, unexpectedly inherited $130,000, at least 200 women sought him for their "soul mate." Dusan was recently advised that he was sole heir to the estate of his long lost father, who died in 1930.

The United States Navy band recently celebrated its fifteenth anniversary.

Unable to close her mouth after she yawned, Miss Antonine Bissnette, of Montreal, Canada, went to a hospital and died while an operation was being performed on her jaw.

Despite his age of 110, Harry Still, colored, earns his living on a ranch near Vinita, Okla. He served with the confederate forces in the Civil War, and when his master was killed in an engagement he went to Oklahoma as a free man.

Barbers Make A Visit To Clouds

Plymouth folks are breathing easier today. For a few moments last Friday afternoon they had the scare of their lives—but it all turned out C. K. and everything is going along just as though nothing had happened.

Just what the big idea was or how he happened to do it, no one knows and he refuses to explain.

But when Paul Weidman of the Plymouth Motor Sales, loaded every barber in Plymouth in that big tri-motored Ford ship out at the Triangle Flying field last Friday afternoon for a trip up to the clouds, everybody gasped.

Suppose something would happen—suppose all of those barbers came tumbling down to earth like a shower of meteors—then what?

The big crowd that lined the starting line at the airport stood almost speechless as the motors started to hum. They saw the plane climb higher and higher—and then it started back to earth, without any one getting even a close shave.

But as the barbers all tumbled out of the ship just as safe and sound as they were when they took off, the crowd felt almost like giving a prayer of thanks for the safe return of the good barbers of the community.

Some had visioned long locks dangling over their coat collars, others great shaggy beards like they used to sport back in the good old days—but it was all for naught because it seems everybody is good to barbers and they can go where they please and do

No Swimming Pools For Dearborn - Out Of Government Cash

Hopes that Dearborn might construct three outdoor pools with the aid of Federal funds were not held very high Tuesday when Supt. Mark B. Owen reported to the council that the engineering division of the PWA had given an adverse report on the projects. Details concerning their report was not given by Federal engineers, says the Dearborn Press.

This, however, Supt. Owen explained, does not mean rejection as the matter still must be considered by the legal and finance divisions of the department before the Government board gives its final decision. At present, he explained many similar projects asked by Michigan cities are being held up pending the outcome of the supreme court decision on the Michigan Revenue Bond Act, the legality of which has been questioned.

The local projects, which aggregate $350,000 for sites and actual pool construction, would be self-liquidating over a period of 30 years, according to the estimates of the city engineering department. The pools would be constructed on the southeast, northeast sections of the city and at Ford Field.

Supt. Owen stated that he was in hopes that the legal issue would be cleared up soon as he was sure that Government officials could be convinced that the pools are a sound venture. He explained that the three pools would serve heavily populated sections which at present have no suitable bathing facilities.

what they please and come back without a scratch.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
 "Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 22.
 Among the Bible citations was this passage (Matt. 7:13, 14):
 "Enter ye in at the strait gate;
 for wide is the gate and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat. Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it."
 Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook
 "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker

Eddy. Included the following (p.
 302): "The days of our pilgrimage will multiply instead of diminish, when God's kingdom comes on earth; for the true way leads to Life instead of to death, and earthly experience discloses the finity of error and the infinite capacities of Truth, in which God gives man dominion over all the earth."

Garden City's fast baseball team was taken into camp Sunday by the Plymouth Buick team by a score of 7 to 5 in just as good a ball game as any one ever saw.
 Andy Gale held the Garden City boys to four hits until the eighth inning when the first two men up singled and he walked the next man. Hare Ferguson relieved Gale and he pitched two innings and held the boys hitless and the Plymouth Buick Sales team captured a 7 to 5 victory.
 Lester Bassett was the leading hitter for the local boys by getting two out of four.

Long Illness Is Ended In Death

The funeral of Scott A. Lovewell, 53 years of age, who for over 15 years had been a well known real estate dealer in this part of Wayne county, was held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home in Northville, the residence being packed with relatives, friends and associates who came to pay final tribute to him.

Mr. Lovewell had not been in good health for over three years. In a last effort to aid him, he was taken to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor where an operation was performed. He died late last Friday afternoon, three days after the operation.

He was born in South Lyon, being a member of the prominent and well known Lovewell family that was among the first to settle in that part of the state. When he left South Lyon 15 years ago, he located in Northville where he entered the real estate business, later being associated with Elmer L. Smith, under the firm name of Smith and Lovewell.

The two men for a number of years conducted one of the largest real estate businesses outside the city of Detroit. Although his health had not been the best for a long time, he remained active in his office until two or three days before going to the hospital.

Mr. Lovewell had served as president of Northville Exchange club. He was treasurer of the Northville-Wayne County Fair Association and had served a number of years as justice of the peace of Novi township.

Mrs. Lovewell and two sons survive. Miss Neva Lovewell, a teacher in the Plymouth schools is a niece of Mr. Lovewell. Rev. Whitfield of the Presbyterian church officiated at the funeral, burial taking place in the family lot in South Lyon.

Lumber Prices Cut 15 Per Cent

Reductions of from 8 to 10 per cent in the price of all lumber products ordinarily used in house construction were announced by the Lumber and Timber Products Code Authority, following approval by National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson of an order authorizing the action.

An earlier order of the Administrator approved a reduction in the modal mark-up for retail lumber dealers, and the net effect of that order, with the new order, will be reductions of between 14 and 15 per cent in the prices to the consumers.

The later reductions were made in accordance with the previously expressed pledge of the industry to cooperate to the fullest extent in the President's housing program. The new schedules, although primarily intended to stimulate house construction or modernization, will also include price reductions in grades and sizes for items used for other purposes such as, for example, the manufacture of wooden packages.

In his new order the Administrator declared an emergency to exist in the lumber industry justifying the establishment of minimum prices based on reasonable costs determined and approved in the order. Prior to the issuance of the order the Administrator approved an amendment of the code authorizing him to determine reasonable costs during an emergency in the industry.

Kill Your Stock, No Winter Feed

Farmers around Plymouth and throughout the state for the first time since the settlement of this country are urged in a bulletin just received by The Plymouth Mail from the Michigan State College, to begin killing off their poor stock. Maybe you will have Michigan livestock stock before spring. The bulletin says:

Prospects of a very pronounced shortage of forage for Michigan livestock next winter are pointed out by the Michigan State College, and State livestock owners are advised to cull their herds in preparation for this unavoidable condition.

Rains between now and winter will furnish little relief. Other sections of the nation have no surplus hay to sell and many states are in desperate straits. Michigan livestock owners will have to adjust flocks and herds to the supplies of forage available.

Dr. William Haber, state relief administrator, says that he has no authority to expend relief funds now or next winter to purchase hay for livestock even if such forage could be found. Last year Michigan farmers near $200,000 for hay for Michigan livestock. This amount was paid out in a year when hay was comparatively cheap and when Michigan livestock had no forage shortage.

Michigan farmers who accept now the advice of men who can not possibly profit or lose from the sale of their livestock will have much the best chance of avoiding heavy financial losses. Cattle which are in fair condition and which can be marketed anytime within a period of three months can be sold much more advantageously than thin stock which must be sold within a period of a few days.

County chairman of relief commissions have been advised by Dr. Haber to make certain that all wild hay in their territories is cut and stored for use. Grass on roadsides is being cut in many places in the State. These measures will help locally, as will the planting of rye to furnish fall and early spring pasture.

However, such small additions to the forage supply can not solve the main problem which is the presence in the State of greater numbers of livestock than possibly can be carried through the winter on the forage available.

Members of herd improvement associations are advised by the dairy department at the College to use their production records as a basis for culling their herds and to take out the lowest producers until the owner is certain that his feed supplies will carry the number of cows retained. Dairymen who do not belong to associations can not be as certain in their culling work, but they should have tests made at cream or milk testing stations to determine as nearly as possible which are their cull cows.

The poor producers should be moved out as rapidly as market conditions permit, and it should be remembered that it is a human tendency to wait as long as possible. If that happens in Michigan, all the stock will go on the market at the same time and the prices will reflect the effort to sell more stock than the market will absorb.

On the basis of present prices for feed and of 25 cents per pound for butterfat, no cow producing less than 300 pounds of fat per year can make a profit for the owner. With feed prices increasing, no chance for profit with low producing cows is in sight. Low producing cows are apt to be in better flesh than good dairy cows and will make better beef.

Owners of beef cattle and sheep will have the same problems that confront the dairymen, according to the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College. Beef herds and flocks of sheep should be culled to meet the forage available in the community in which the animals are to be wintered.

Disposing of surplus beef stock and sheep will involve market complications similar to those encountered by dairymen. Early selection of surplus stock will permit their owner to choose the time of marketing better than if the decision to sell is postponed until winter. Beef cattle usually lose weight in periods of dry pasture and when flies disturb the animals the most. This often occurs in August in Michigan.

Many Michigan farmers themselves or in cooperation with neighbors, can realize more profit from butchering surplus stock and preserving the meat for home use than by selling the animals alive on the open market. The animal husbandry department at the College has tested many ways of curing meat and will furnish salting and pickling receipts to anyone who requests them.

The home economics division at the College now is showing at many places how meats can be cured and held through indefinite periods. Either tin or glass cans can be used and one or more women can work together to care for large amounts of meat. Bulletin describing this method of canning will be sent to anyone who requests. Successful Home Canning, Extension Bulletin No. 132, from the bulletin clerk at East Lansing.

Livestock owners, of course, will remember that no person now can foretell exactly what will happen in the future. Members of the College departments are performing their duty in pointing out present conditions. Favorable weather between now and winter can not change the situation of too little forage for the numbers of livestock now on farms in Michigan.

Yodeling About Under The 'Yokes'

Predicating his theme on the apparent fact that the voter this fall will not be boss controlled and will do a lot of independent and free thinking, George W. Welsh, Grand Rapids Chronicle publisher, last week printed the following story in his weekly under the heading "Under the Yokes".

"UNDER THE YOKES"

The Republican party has lately been celebrating its birthday "under the oaks" at Jackson. That phrase "under the oaks" has done yeoman duty for years; whenever any GOP orator has felt it wise to abandon the specific for the general, he has been able to fill in the gaps in his walk-in ring with a few fervid protestations of his eternal devotion to the principles of the party that had its birth "unless you listen to the opposition Wisconsin claimants" under the oaks" at Jackson. He could rely on getting quite a hand, as well as his second wind, with that one.

Old John Public doesn't spend much time under the oaks, but he does spend a great deal of his time, until he learns better, "under the yokes"; the yokes of that class of political leaders who were recently described by the Iron-Mountain News as "political porch climbers. These men function behind the smoke screen of fervent oratory, concealed by a front line of good citizens who seem quite unaware that in their grateful shadow, the porch climbers are tasting lots for the loot. It has been that way since Alex Groesbeck arch enemy of "the gang" left office, and as far as the state GOP is concerned, it is that way today.

No amount of platform oratory will convince any sensible voter in Kent county that Frank Fitzgerald is a free and independent candidate with no strings on him, while it is so plainly evident that the financing and direction of the Fitzgerald campaign in this county is wholly in the hands of men who have been identified with the McKay forces for years past. Nor will Wayne county voters be particularly impressed by the last-minute casting off of John Gillespie by the Fitzgerald high command, in a belated effort to do a little winnow dressing before the campaign. The Fitzgerald candidacy has the enthusiastic backing of the least desirable elements of the Republican party, and the conclusion is inescapable that they are supporting Fitzgerald because they believe, rightly or wrongly, that his election would constitute no menace to their continuance in power.

The Fitzgerald strength at present consists of the backing of those Republican leaders who see in his election another chance to get back to the public trough. To this class of politician the name of Groesbeck is anathema; his ability to chase chiselers out of the capitol is too well tested to leave them in any doubt that his election would mean their finish as far as getting any sustenance out of Lansing goes. Hence they have been filling the air with alternate praise of Fitzgerald and propaganda to the effect that Groesbeck is too late; that the swing to Fitzgerald is too pronounced to overcome.

Regardless of the final lineup for the primary election Republican voters may as well get it firmly fixed in their mind that Fitzgerald's candidacy means merely more of the stuff that marred the Green regime and then under Brucker led to the repudiation by the voters of the party responsible. If the Democrats are as smart as they should be they will pray for the success in the primary of Frank Fitzgerald; his motley crew of supporters makes him the most vulnerable candidate that the GOP has considered in many a year. His nomination would probably be the prelude to a demonstration by the voters that they are no longer sitting quiet "under the yokes."

After the next election any candidate more than 40 years old is going to be out of luck in Schuller, Okla. A decision to refuse support to such candidates was made at a mass meeting attended by three-fifths of the town's 500 voters. Public officials were criticized freely for failing to relieve a situation under which corporations are unable to obtain compensation insurance for employees more than 40 years old. The electors had observed that most candidates are past that age and so they took action.

Wind-Up Affairs Of Milford Bank

The promised pay-off of fifteen percent on moratorium accounts in the First State Bank of Milford will begin Monday next, July 23. Conservator Elmer Field has received authority from the banking department for the pay-off and has set date.

This distribution will release about $58,000 to depositors of the bank, most of whom reside in this locality. This will be the third pay-off since the moratorium, the first of 5 per cent being made in Dec. 1932, the second of 5 per cent in July 1933.

The directors of the bank have petitioned the state banking department for the appointment of a receiver but the appointment has not been announced at this date.

Mr. Field states also that the money in the special trust fund, or "new money" as it is spoken of, is available, and he would like to have such depositors get the money and close these accounts.

Those best informed say that the virtual liquidation which has been in progress for two years, has been well managed and that the bank's affairs are in much better shape than at the time of reorganization.

The matter of a new bank to succeed the old is for the present in abeyance. The absence of banking facilities will be apt to impress the entire community with the urgent need of such an institution.—Milford Times.

It was dark in the boat livery office at Rhinelander, Wis., and when Jack DeRoos saw two burglars at the cash register he slipped up behind them, jabbed a thumb into the back of each, and shouted: "Stick 'em up!" They did. DeRoos took a revolver from each. When police arrived DeRoos collapsed in a chair with a nervous chill. It had been a severe ordeal.

Well NOW What?

'Redford Record'

Mrs. Henry Ford opened her home at Dearborn to the public last Saturday afternoon, in the interests of the Girls Friendly Society. Thousands of people availed themselves of the opportunity to view Fair Lane at the height of its June glory—when the roses are in bloom. We went because we like to look at roses and were naturally somewhat curious to see what else there is to see at Fair Lane, closely guarded home of the Fords. There were roses sure enough, by the thousands, a burst of color beautifully disposed over the terraces a pergola, now a series of columns flaming with crimson ramblers, a summer house smothered in roses, a lily pool with jets of water playing over the fat gold fish, a beautiful rippling cascade of water descending to another pool and everywhere roses, roses, roses, fragrant, lovely, blooming their heads off for the garden party.

Beautiful as were the roses, we preferred the English garden, with its variety and charm. Wrought iron gates admit the visitor to this little gem of summer beauty where the delphinium are so tall and so blue and where a host of other flowers that everybody knows and loves, bloom in their trim borders. In this garden we noted, as we did of every other detail of this beautiful estate, that there is nothing exotic, nothing startling, nothing unusual. There are no oddities, no tropical plants, everywhere are the ordinary, every day flowers that everybody in Michigan knows and can grow by taking a little trouble. The winding road that leads from the gate on Michigan Avenue to the house, is bordered with wild roses. The woodland paths have little clumps now and then of violets, lilies of the valley, hepatica, the pool in the rocky garden reflects beautiful iris, but not more beautiful than those grown here in Redford by Dr. Leroy Lewis, everywhere there is a wealth of the summer flowers that flaunt their heads from the roadside and from the humblest garden. That, after all, is the great charm of Fair Lane. We have seen it all before, we know it so well. Foxglove, columbine, pond lilies, a forest pool with a figures of John Burroughs standing on a little ledge just back of it, but not a decorated pool, just a shimmer of water with a few rocks disposed around the edge; anyone could have.

Anyone cannot have something like Fair Lane, of course. A massive pile of gray stone for a residence, a river in the back yard, a slip and a boat house for a launch, and lawn after lawn carpeted with velvet bent, an underground sprinkling system, and miles of woodland walks, a natural sanctuary for birds. Not everybody can make so much out of such simple materials for after all, wealth has made this simplicity very beautiful and keeps it so. But everybody can grow the flowers that Mrs. Ford likes and

Land Owners Get Reduced Awards

The Wayne County Road commission is not buying any more land than it actually needs for its park development and it is not paying any more than necessary to get the land. That fact became known emphatically last week when a circuit court jury upheld the contention of the road commission in its effort to purchase three parcels of land just west of the Northville Wayne County fair grounds and awarded three land owners prices much lower than they had demanded for their property.

Judson C. Allen who owns a small house and barn just across Center street from the fair grounds and through which the new parkway road will be continued west to the Fishery road, wanted the county to buy some 12 acres of land he owns to the south on the Moreland road. Finally he asked something like $5,000 for the house and piece of land along the county river that the county needed.

A circuit court jury last week awarded him $2,735 for his property. It will be necessary for him to move from his place within the next thirty days, stated an official of the county a day or so ago.

The Hills brothers of Northville who owned a vacant piece of property to the west of the Allen place wanted to sell the whole piece to the county for $4,000. They were awarded $265 for that portion of the land that the county needs for park development.

Robert Thomas who will be required to sell the county a small corner of his land will get $200.

Continuation of the River Rouge parkway development has been held up at this point most of the summer waiting for a settlement of these contested cases. The grading has been done right up to the western edge of the land through the land that Henry Ford donated to the county for park and highway purposes. The county purchased a necessary additional piece of land some months ago from Sherill Ambler, paying him something like $2700 for it. There was no contest over this sale.

The three Northville property owners who contested the amounts offered feel that they were not given anywhere near the amount the property is worth by the action of the jury in circuit court. However there is no talk of an appeal in the matter.

During the night a storm broke over the little town of Micklethwaite, England. A flash of lightning made Muriel Pearnley, four, cry out and put her hands over her eyes as she lay in her bed. When she awoke in the morning she cried out again—in joy. For the first time in her life she was able to see. Only a fortnight before doctors had pronounced her incurable. She had been blind from birth.

With a weapon no more lethal than John Dillinger's wooden pistol Carl Duskey made his way out of the Larimer County Jail at Fort Collins, Colo. Sentenced to serve 15 days in jail for a traffic violation, Duskey got out in ten days by effective use of a paint brush. He painted landscapes and portraits for county officials and for the decoration of the jail to obtain his freedom.

August 1st Last Day For Plates

With the deadline for the purchase of 1934 license plates, Wednesday, August 1st, rapidly approaching, Berg Moore, manager of the Plymouth Branch office of the Secretary of State, advises motorists to not delay until the last day if they wish to avoid waiting in line.

Car owners who purchased sticker permits are requested to bring their sticker certificate of registration cards as well as their titles with them when applying for plates, at which time a regular 1934 application blank must be completed.

Truck and trailer operators who purchased stickers will not have to have their vehicles weighed a second time if they turn in their permit registration cards. Otherwise a weight receipt will have to be obtained.

So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 3200 of our customers have taken advantage of this offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!
