

Army Officer's Body Returned For Burial Here

Lieut. Chappel To Be Buried In Detroit Sunday With Military Honors

He Was Plymouth Resident Who Died A Hero's Death In Northern Russia In War

Final tribute to a nation's fallen hero: one of Plymouth's priceless sacrifices in the World War. First Lieutenant Charles E. Chappel of the 33rd Infantry, Company 85th Division, will be buried in New York City today and in Detroit Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The remains of Lieutenant Chappel who was killed in action while leading a daring charge against a far superior force of the enemy in bleak northern Russia September 28, 1918, have been shipped back to America, with those of a number of other veterans who met their end in the invasion of northern Russia.

Mrs. Zada H. Geer, 356 Blunk avenue, the former Mrs. Chappel, has been advised of the numerous ceremonies in honor of the dead veterans who are to be buried in Detroit Sunday.

The remains of these veterans, arrived in New York early this week, will reach Detroit tomorrow. In New York city this afternoon there will be a special service attended by many of the prominent army men and veterans of the east. At this service a delegation of the Polar Bear Association and representatives of the state government of Michigan will be present.

In Detroit Sunday morning a short service will be held at the city hall by the Governor of Michigan and the Mayor of Detroit being present to take part in the ceremonies. From the city hall the remains will be taken immediately to the cemetery in Detroit.

For the accommodation of relatives and friends, the Polar Bear Association has arranged a suite of rooms at the Statler hotel where all of the families will meet Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. From there they will go to the city hall and later to the cemetery where all military honors will be accorded these fallen veterans.

Harry Mumby, well known Plymouth resident and veteran of the world war, has a number of other soldiers from about here saw service with Lieutenant Chappel. When Lieutenant Chappel, leading the charge against a machine gun company, fell mortally wounded, Mr. Mumby and two other men were within feet from him. He too was in the charge that proved so costly to American troops.

The son of Lester and Mary Chappel, Lieutenant Chappel was born in Dayton, Ohio, June 6, 1889, where he lived till the family came to Plymouth in 1894 where he entered Plymouth high school showing a literary and mathematical ability.

At his home on the Golden road he improved his military horsemanship and was a soldier's inheritance from the La Chappelles who came over with LaFayette to help America. He left Plymouth high school in 1898 engaging in various duties serving one summer with naval reserves on the York.

In 1901 he joined the regular army as a member of the 3rd U. S. Cavalry serving in the Philippines and later at Fort Assiniboine, Montana. At the time of his discharge he was top sergeant of Troop I of the then famous milk squadron of troops M. I. L. K. holding world's record for horsemanship competing with the best riders of Europe and America.

Soon after his discharge he returned to Michigan, married Miss Zada McClumpha, and worked with P.M.C.R. as express agent, then cashier at the depot. In 1913 they moved to Toledo where he became chief clerk in N. Y. Central Lines.

When America entered the World War he re-entrained going to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Officers Training School, received appointment of First Lieutenant, refusing a Captaincy in Quartermaster department because he wished active service.

Young Men Are Held On Serious Charge

Frank Hinchman, 20 years old, of Northville, former star football and track athlete for Northville High School, and Norman Goebel, of Plymouth, Tuesday were indicted by a Federal grand jury and must stand trial on a charge of impersonating Federal officers.

The young men were arrested on complaint of Serge Kremer, of 115 E. Main St., Brighton, who charges that they represented themselves as immigration agents and demanded to see his naturalization papers. Kremer's call for help frightened the two away, officers said.

Cooperage Co. To Move Machinery

Word has been received from H. S. Freshman, secretary of the Plymouth Cooperage Corporation that the company plans to move its machinery to its new location.

The former Peninsula Products plant on the south side of this city, in the near future. "Our plant at Plymouth provides an ideal set-up both from the standpoint of the production and the distribution of cooperage," Mr. Freshman said. "When fully equipped will give a production of 1200 barrels every eight hours. Our present machinery alone, now at Ann Arbor, will furnish more than four hundred barrels per day, and we shall of course add additional equipment as the business warrants expansion."

"The fact that our new plant is located on trackage of the Pere Marquette railroad and accessible to the concrete paved road system of the state will enable us to handle distribution economically both by truck and rail."

Asked what type of cooperage the company would produce, Mr. Freshman said the corporation planned to manufacture both beer and liquor barrels.

The superiority of the wooden barrel to the steel barrel as a container for beer is now generally recognized," said Mr. Freshman. "And the return of beverages of high alcoholic content to the markets creates a steady demand for wooden cooperage. Hiskey barrels are used extensively by Michigan industries as containers for pharmaceutical tinctures and extracts, and for paints. Even pickles come in barrels."

"Several other industries in addition to the beer, wine and liquor trade help to keep the cooperage busy," Mr. Freshman explained. "Wooden barrels are used extensively by Michigan industries as containers for pharmaceutical tinctures and extracts, and for paints. Even pickles come in barrels."

Official Tests Of Red Rose Herd

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Madison, Wisconsin, reports that the Red Rose Farms on the Six Mile Road herd of registered Holsteins has completed 311 days of its annual production test and has maintained an average of nearly a pound of fat per cow per day. This average does not include the cows in the herd which are on official test. Four cows in the herd exceeded the 40 pound fat mark during the last month of test, two of them nearly tying for first place honors by exceeding the 60 lb. mark. First place went to Roode Roos Louise with a yield of 65.9 lbs. fat and 1767 lbs. milk. The cow named Roode Roos Double Maple Crest was a close second with a credit of 65.5 lbs. fat and 1738 lbs. milk. Six cows in the herd have already exceeded the 300 lb. fat mark, and the group is being led by Roode Roos Belle with a credit of 358.6 lbs. fat and 851 lbs. milk. The cow named Roode Roos Colantha Howell is high on milk yield with a credit of 10,213 lbs and 351.5 lbs. fat.

The importance of continuous testing year after year in the Herd Test is being appreciated more than ever as a means of furnishing necessary information in building a sound breeding program. Thirty herds have completed six consecutive years in the Herd Test and at present there are 264 herds on test located in nearly every state in the Union. In spite of adverse conditions the Herd Test has shown a gradual growth during the past few years. Many breeders feel that they cannot afford not to test.

Relief Work Is Re-Organized To Reduce Expense

Long Drives By Workers Cut As Result Of Starting Township Office

Relief Work For This Locality To Be Handled From New Headquarters At Inkster

During the past month the Wayne County Emergency Relief Administration has undergone several changes. The township office which has been in charge of fourteen townships as well as relief in Plymouth, Northville and Wayne has been moved from 677 E. Jefferson avenue, Detroit, to 26957 Michigan avenue, Inkster, where it is in the heart of its working area. The township relief workers now have a centralized office and need not drive 25 miles to Detroit for advice and instructions. Furthermore, the township office has a new superintendent, Mr. S. W. Grant, who has been very successful in securing a number of years and who has already made many improvements in out-county relief administration.

Another important change concerns the works division. When Mr. L. P. Cookingham resigned in July, George Thompson was appointed to be deputy administrator in charge of the works division. Mr. Thompson is an unusually able engineer and executive with a long record of great professional success. He was chief construction engineer on the Detroit River Tunnel for two years, and was state budget director for Michigan under both Gov. Brucker and Gov. Comstock.

A third important change in administration was made in August when the county commission promoted Mr. Tobin to the position of deputy administrator to have charge of such problems as milk, coal, surplus commodities, and reclassification of employees. Mr. Tobin has been chief accountant of CERA the past year, and did unusually good work in the trying months of CWA. His ability and integrity helped in the Wayne County CERA to keep from graft and waste. Mr. S. Poole, of Indianapolis, an accountant and recommender by Washington, was appointed to Mr. Tobin's former position.

Another change is the resignation of Father Frederic Siedenburgh from the county commission. Father Siedenburgh has been serving on the local labor board the past six months. Tuesday of this week he was appointed regional director for labor disputes which work will take all of his time from now on. Father Siedenburgh has given most generously of his time and ability during the past year and his resignation is a distinct loss to the Wayne County Emergency Relief Administration. It is very difficult to find many people who have Father Siedenburgh's splendid background of social welfare work and who have the sound judgment, impartiality, the ability to weigh both sides of a question, and the faculty of comparing important from unimportant issues which he has shown. His rare sense of humor endeared him to every one, and his ability to grasp the problems of the community made him invaluable. His successor has not yet been appointed. His resignation leaves only two members on the county commission, James Fitzgerald of Detroit, chairman, and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple of Plymouth, secretary.

Gulf Station To Open Saturday

Everything is in readiness for the formal opening bright and early Saturday morning of the Plymouth Gulf Service Station, 328 North Main street next to Ernest Allison's Chevrolet garage.

Workers during the past few days have been busy making many improvements about the new station and when it is open Saturday morning, Plymouth motorists will be able to get the same excellent Gulf service and supplies at the new location that they have always enjoyed in the past.

Norman Atchinson, local manager of the station, states that in addition to all of the Gulf supplies that are usually carried, the new station will have a complete line of tires and other automobile accessories.

"We will surely be delighted to have all our old friends and our new ones, too, come down to the opening Saturday. But that isn't the only day we want them to come, we want them to come and see us every time they need anything that the Gulf can supply," stated the manager yesterday.

Day Of Atonement Observed On Tuesday

Beginning at 5 o'clock last Tuesday afternoon the Jewish people of this country started and continued until after 7 o'clock Wednesday evening. During those 26 hours, no food was eaten by any of the faithful and all spent several hours in the Synagogue in atonement. There has always been great public admiration of those belonging to the Jewish faith because of their strict adherence to their beliefs.

All Invited To Hear Orchestra

Announcement is made of a musical concert to be held Tuesday evening, September 25 in the Jewell and Blaich auditorium, 587 West Ann Arbor street, under the auspices of Berea chapel. The popular and well known musical organization, the Berea Tabernacle Orchestra, Detroit, under the direction of Julius M. Panda will provide a program of sacred and classical music. There will also be instrumental and vocal solos. The male quartette will sing a number of negro spirituals and the selection there is no admission charge and the Berea chapel extends a cordial invitation to all to be present and hear this excellent musical program.

Miss Bernice Klinke And Louis Kanka Wed Last Saturday Morn

A wedding of beautiful settings took place in Our Lady of Good Counsel church on Saturday morning, September eighth, when Miss Bernice Klinke, daughter of Michael Klinke of Ann Arbor, became the bride of Louis Kanka, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kanka of Detroit. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, ferns and palms. Reverend Father Lefevre read the solemn nuptial high mass with the solemn Solemn Requiem. During the ceremony Joseph and John Schomberger sang two solos "Ave Maria" and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," with Miss E. Lehman at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of eggshell satin with green tulle, over which gracefully fell full length blushing bridal veil. She carried a spray of matching roses. Miss Martha Klinke, a sister of the bride who served as maid of honor, wore a model of deep pink crepe with hat to match. Her pink corsage bouquet was of roses. The Misses Frances Thomas, Rose Olshcheysky of Detroit, and Elsie Havalik of Grosse Pointe served as bridesmaids, gowning alike in hunter's green crepe, matching turbans and carried colonial bouquets. The groom was attended by his brother, Aloisius Kanka as best man, Corlis Allen, Walter and Louis Klinke, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Edward and Michael Klinke, Jr.

Following the ceremony a reception for one hundred and fifty relatives and friends was held at the Klinke home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kanka are residing in their home at 2124 East Forest avenue, Detroit.

The happy couple have many friends in Plymouth who wish them a long happy married life.

Plymouth Savings And Loan Assn. Appointed By Government To Make Loans For Home Improvements

Notice has been received by the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association that it has been designated as a loaning agency for the Federal housing administration and that it now can make loans for the United States treasury department for house repairs and improvements in this vicinity. The Savings has already received a large number of applications for loaning for the new housing act and a meeting of the board of directors will be called for tonight at 7:30 to pass on the applications on hand at this time. The local association will be making loans under the national housing act for the purpose of modernizing and improving homes only to property owners who have their property free and clear. From the applications received to date there appears to be a wide spread local interest in the Federal modernizing program. The federation housing act was adopted primarily to assist people in painting and improving their present homes and assist unemployment and remove stagnation from the building trade for this fall and winter. All loans made by the local association are being guaranteed up to 20 per cent by the U. S. Government.

Church Is Now One Way Street

At the city commission meeting on Monday evening it was decided to make that portion of Church street from the west edge of Central Park to Main street a one way street, requiring east bound traffic to enter Main street through Park drive. All west bound traffic will use Church street as in the past. The decision to make this change in the use of Church street is the result of several years discussion changing the traffic hazard in front of the high school. The city manager was authorized to have traffic signs prepared, diverting the traffic over the new route.

As soon as this plan has been given a thorough try-out it is contemplated that the necessary changes in the Traffic Ordinance will be adopted providing for the permanent diversion of traffic at this location.

Schrader Block Is Being Painted Up

Apparently Dewey Holloway has decided that most of the business blocks along Penmanman avenue need painting. While he and his assistants finished the Penmanman-Allen block the other day, the job looked so good that it didn't take any urging on the part of any one to get Fred Schrader to do up his big block on Penmanman to only the entire second floor being cleaned and painted, but the old granite block that designated the building as the "Masonic Temple" has been removed and a new granite block put in bearing the name of the Schrader building. The name "Schrader" stands out prominently and has been so cut in the block that it adds greatly to the general appearances of the structure.

Grass No Longer Grows In Paving

Prosperity is back in Plymouth again! The grass that has been growing in the paving and concrete around the busiest business corner in Plymouth is no longer there.

INDUSTRY took it out after last week's issue of The Plymouth Mail had reminded local Democratic chiefs that former President Hoover's prediction about grass growing in the streets of business cities if he was defeated had come true in Plymouth.

But the kind of "industry" that took it out was the kind that William Conner, who can count more good years of loyal service to the Democratic party than any other Democrat herabouts used on the end of a spade handle. He even poured kerosene down the cracks so that never again would grass sprout up through the paving to taunt Plymouth Democrats of the truthfulness of Mr. Hoover's statement.

No sir, there will be no more grass growing in the paving or in the sidewalk about Plymouth's Democratic headquarters—not if such a good true local Democrat as Mr. Conner can prevent it!

Legion Starts Fall Activities Friday Evening

New Hall To Be Used At Newburg — Has Been Entirely Refinished

Installation Tonight To Be Followed By Big Dance Tomorrow Night — New Flag Pole Up

Friday night will mark the opening of the fall and winter series of events planned by the Plymouth American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary.

All of the affairs of these two patriotic organizations will center in the new Legion hall at Newburg. It will be recalled that the Legion purchased the old Grange hall at Newburg last spring and since that time members of the organization have been as busy as a hive of bees putting it in order for the fall and winter series of events that have been planned. The building has been painted and redecorated throughout. New drapes have been provided for the windows. The heating plant has been put in first class shape. Fish have been made about the grounds and considerable landscaping will be done before spring, with trees and shrubs being planted about the grounds.

A flag pole has been erected and the story is told of one member who thought it didn't fit square with the world. He brought down his level to test it out—and sure enough the big pole points as straight skyward as any pole could.

Friday evening there will be a pot luck dinner for both the Legion and Auxiliary and the new officers will be installed. Melvin Guthrie will assume the command of the Legion and the new president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Don Ryder will be the president of the Auxiliary. This is to be followed Saturday night by a dance to which everyone is invited. There will be good music refreshments and the committee in charge says there will be old time dancing too.

Produces Attractive Garden Of Flowers

Possibly one of the most beautiful flower gardens in Plymouth is the one that has been grown during the present summer by Mrs. Lillian Karker in the rear at 829 Forest avenue. There are colors of all kinds and the arrangement of the various plants makes the garden most attractive indeed.

Mrs. Karker has accomplished such an attractive spot. She planted the seed, arranged the various color combinations and has kept the flower garden clear of all weeds.

Local History Teacher Makes Talk At Last Meeting Of Constitution Of Government

The Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the D. A. R. held the first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Hattie Baker, our former regent, Monday, September 17. Mrs. Carl Bryan, of Northville, our newly elected regent presided at the executive meeting of the board four new names were accepted for membership Mrs. Donald F. Yerkes, the chaplain, after reading portions of scriptures from Matthew and Isaiah commented upon them and two outstanding sentences were "Worry is a tragic misuse of the imagination" and "Have we an imagination controlled by a perfect trust in God?"

Friday September 28 at 3.30 p. m. was set for the dedication of the Washington Elm in Kellogg Park. A marker will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies. The children of the public schools will be invited as honored guests.

A Kraft tea is to be held at Mrs. Royal Larkin's home in Northville in the afternoon of September 26.

Constitution Day was emphasized by the regent's reading two very interesting and impressive letters from Mrs. Magna on the constitution. The dangers besetting our loved country from communism was called to the attention of the members by Mrs. George Wilcox and Miss Mabel Spicer.

After the business meeting, the program in charge of Mrs. Sidney Strong was as follows: Miss Mabel Spicer told of the origin and history of our flag. Then followed a most timely and interesting talk on the constitution from Miss Gertrude Piegel, senior history teacher in the public schools of Plymouth. She said in part: Gladstone declared the constitution to be "the most remarkable document ever written from the brain of man." Its high aims are stated in the preamble. The main text falls easily into three divisions, first is stated the fundamental principles, an outline of government, second, check and balances and third, its flexibility.

The wisdom of the document is shown by the fact that in all the years of its administration only 21 amendments have been made. This is amplified on each of these points by reading them in turn, especially interesting was her exposition of the amendments. The fact that the constitution was written for 4,000,000 people in stage coach times is still functioning in this age attests its remarkable flexibility. She also touched upon the arguments used by the supporters and those opposed to the constitution for endorsement.

The program closed by Mrs. John Shaw's reading from several of the local pioneer history records which have been placed on file during the last two or three years. Some of the interesting high lights in various historical records were read.

The chapter is looking forward to an afternoon when Mrs. Knapp will tell them of her interesting visit to Norway and Sweden.

W.C.T.U. Will Meet On September 27 At Home Of Mrs. Vealey

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Plymouth will hold its September meeting, on Thursday the 27th at 2:30 p. m., at the home of the President, Mrs. E. C. Vealey.

A program will be arranged and it is hoped to have a speaker for the occasion. A ten-cent potluck tea will be served and a good time is anticipated. Please bring plate, cup, knife, fork and spoon. It is hoped that all members of the W.C.T.U. will be present, also those who have ever been identified with the Union, or are interested in the temperance work. Members are asked to bring short current events.

From the Michigan Union: "As a young man Mr. Lincoln signed this pledge and asked others to sign it. 'Whereas the use of alcoholic liquors as a beverage is productive of pauperism, degradation and crime, and believing that it is our duty to discourage that which produces more evil than good, we therefore pledge ourselves to abstain from the use of alcoholic liquor as a beverage.'"

FRANK D. FITZGERALD

Republicans of Michigan are now entering upon an active campaign to elect Frank D. Fitzgerald Grand Lodge as Governor of Michigan. Mr. Fitzgerald won the Republican nomination by an overwhelming vote—and a vote that was emphatic in expressing the wishes of the people. In our mind there is little question but what Mr. Fitzgerald will be elected Governor of Michigan. However in these troublesome times, one is no longer sure of anything. Mr. Fitzgerald's first test is going to come almost immediately. While the people of Michigan by popular vote named the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, the party conventions will nominate the balance of the ticket within the next week or so.

In the Republican party convention there is going to be the opportunity for Mr. Fitzgerald to indicate whether he is willing to permit the fixers to get up the ticket, or whether he will see to it that the balance of the Republican ticket is selected to suit the wishes of the people and himself.

We firmly believe that Mr. Fitzgerald will dominate the situation and that he will see to it that the doors of the Republican party are closed once and for all time to the element that has brought the great Republican party to the inglorious defeats it has suffered in Michigan.

Mr. Fitzgerald has long been in public service. He has in the past demonstrated the fact that he has a mind of his own and that he can say NO when necessary. His future success will lie to a very great extent in his ability to say NO—and his first opportunity to show his independence is almost at hand.

The Plymouth Mail, a supporter of Alex J. Groesbeck during the primary, will always remain proud of the fact that it did what it could to advance the nomination of the former Governor. There is not the slightest question but what he was the greatest executive Michigan ever had and if he had been nominated and elected, Michigan would have profited by his administration. We supported him not only because of personal loyalty to a great executive, but because we believed that in these times of intense public stress one possessing the will power, the independence and intelligence of Alex Groesbeck is needed. But the voters decreed otherwise and we have always been a firm believer in the rule of the MAJORITY. It is for that reason that we propose to support the nomination of Mr. Fitzgerald. In return for the tremendous vote he received, Mr. Fitzgerald owes to the people of Michigan the highest degree of public service, a service that is absolutely fearless and without favor.

Having known him almost a life time, and having first hand knowledge of his past excellent public service, we believe that he will meet the great and grave responsibilities that have come to him. The masses are in distress. They need help. Mr. Fitzgerald came from the masses and we have faith in his intent and desire to govern the great commonwealth of Michigan in the best interests of his own people.

ONE LIBERTY WE CAN DO WITHOUT

When he joined the American Liberty League Mr. Wendell Du Pont doubtless was mindful that one of his most important liberties is being seriously threatened.

Senator Nye intends to take away Mr. Du Pont's freedom to make a profit out of war.

The Du Pont company was among those listed by the Senator as making millions from the sale of munitions to foreign countries during the World War.

According to Senator Nye's figures, Du Pont's profits during the war years increased from an average of $6,092,000 to $58,076,000.

Quite a tidy liberty to fight for.

But a liberty which the American people in general can well afford to do without.

Every month rising public sentiment for taking the profit motive out of war makes it more likely that Nye will succeed in nationalizing the

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Great discovery at Washington? Committee unearthed fact that arms used by nations are made by somebody? Where did the investigating committee think U-boats and guns came from, the back garden? Where'd they think the makers of U-boats sold them—in the vegetable market? The gravity with which these investigating committees uncover the most obvious facts, and the rapid ignorance with which editors play them up, become more and more nauseating. Let me call the attention of the committee to one thing—all arms and munitions are useless without men. Who supplies the men? Why the very congressmen who are now raising their hands in simulation of holy horror. A million U-boats, and a million guns, and mountains of powder are so much trash until the American Congress drafts men to fight. Will the Committee investigate that?—William Klansner in The Dearborn Press.

WHAT'S THIS ABOUT A BAD SMELL?

An irate Detroit gentleman has taken his pen in hand and written a half column to his city editor protesting because on a recent trip across the Straits of Mackinac on the state highway ferry, he and his family were forced to ride on the same boat with a truck load of cattle being transported to the Bay City market. The correspondent complained that he was afraid the steers would break out of the trucks and imperil the passengers and then again he did not like the smell—in fact he is as much admitted that he is not accustomed to association with cattle.

Why, actually, the Detroit man states, he had to pick his nice wife up on his arms and carry her across a wet spot on the deck where the cattle truck had been parked during its trip across the blue waters.

Terrible Mr. Detroit! Something should be done about this rank imposition. Next time the legislature meets a law should be passed making cattle swim the straits. And while the matter is up why not prohibit hauling all offensive livestock along the public highways.

BUY "LIFE'S HANDICAP"

The Plymouth Mail has during the past few days received information pertaining to a new industry that has been started in Michigan that has for its purpose the support of people who are handicapped through blindness or because they have in some way become permanently crippled. They have organized a cigar factory in Detroit and they have named the cigar that they are going to sell "Life's Handicap." The organization is known as the Handicap Co-Operative and is located at 3437 Goldner avenue in Detroit. The Mail is pleased to publish the following article which has been sent to various newspapers. It is not only pleased to publish it, but it also urges its readers who enjoy cigar smoking to give this organization a "life." As every one knows the cigar business is practically in the control of big tobacco outfits and no one will suffer if a bit of business is turned to these unfortunate people who are endeavoring to keep from becoming public charges. The article follows:

A national program to help the blind, lame, deaf and otherwise physically handicapped people to be self-supporting and economically independent, was launched in Detroit recently with the formation of Handicap Co-operative, a non-profit corporation, headed by Omer H. Wilson, a blind man.

The new company is engaged in the manufacture and distribution of a five-cent cigar, appropriately named "Life's Handicap."

"Handicap Co-operative," Mr. Wilson explained, "employs only handicapped people who are recommended by the bureau of vocational training of the Michigan State Department of Rehabilitation."

"Our plant in Detroit now employs 60 handicapped girls and we have more than 25 salesmen, physically handicapped, calling on the regular retail cigar outlets in Detroit. Sales staffs are rapidly being organized in other Michigan cities. Prominent retailers of all types throughout the state have endorsed our movement and have placed orders for our cigars."

"We do not intend to confine our activities to Michigan alone. With the aid of State and Federal Rehabilitation Department, we hope, in time, to build a nation-wide organization, employing more than 10,000 handicapped salesmen."

"The people of this country have always shown a willingness to aid those who are courageously and valiantly fighting life's battles, and we, the physically handicapped, are confident that Life's Handicap cigars, made of choice tobaccos under ideal working conditions, will have the support of every fair-minded citizen."

Wilson, a former insurance salesman was blinded more than 10 years ago in an accident. Handicap Co-Operative is the result of a plan he has been working on for years to give people a chance to earn a living despite their physical limitations.

CONGRESSMAN ROXBOROUGH

During the recent primaries in Detroit, Attorney Charles A. Roxborough was nominated for congress in the First district. Mr. Roxborough happens to be a colored man and we suppose this will enter strongly into the final campaign, but if all the congressmen were as clean, intelligent and as decent as Mr. Roxborough there wouldn't be so much abuse of congress as there is now. Mr. Roxborough is a citizen of the highest standing and his nomination can bring no discredit to those who voted for him. He is an honor to his race and one who has done much for its advancement.

KINGFISH LONG AND THE NEW DEAL

Senator Huey Long who seems to have the state of Louisiana in the palm of his hand, is not at all in accord with Washington in the way he speaks of the new deal—and Huey is just about as hot a Democrat as the south has ever produced. He says: "Times are not getting better—they're getting worse. Every day the Government is going further in the hole."

There are too few who have too much and too many who have too little.

"If the wealth of the country was distributed among all the people there would be no need for the Government to expend billions of dollars on temporary relief."

CARNEY'S VOTE

Final primary election returns show that Labor Commissioner Claude Carney secured something like 37,000 votes in Michigan in support of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator. Which all goes to prove that there are 37,000 people in Michigan who do not know Commissioner Carney.

SOME WASTEFUL PROPAGANDA

Under the Roosevelt administration we have had a "loose" upon us, the greatest system of propaganda the country has known since World War days when churches, lodges, commercial organizations and all other groups got behind the World War propaganda, against which dissenters were jailed.

The NRA propaganda that comes in every mail reminds us somewhat of the misused efforts made seventeen years ago. Some of the headlines in material sent out from Washington are: "Blue Eagle Proves Worth," "All Industries Eager to Comply with NRA Code," "Court Decisions Favor NRA," etc.

"We think that headlines something as follows might just as truthfully be written: 'Blue Eagle Funeral Over Due.' 'Most Industries Chisel All Parts of So-Called NRA Codes' or 'Constitutionality of NRA Side-Stepped,' etc."

It is no use to try to put over propaganda so lacking in merits as the collection of codes so suddenly foisted upon the public that only a tangle has resulted, ensnaring the public in its meshes so much so that business is very much worse now than it was a year ago when half-baked ideas were first intruded upon the consciousness of a long suffering and much exploited public. Floyd McGriff in the Redford Record.

KILL THEM ALL

Now that the primary election is over people can well turn their attention to the six proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Michigan is going to be sorry if it continues to load up its constitution with amendments which do not belong there. Take the reduction in the gas tax as an example. That is not a proper constitutional proposal. If the gasoline tax should be reduced it should be done by law. If the people have no confidence in the integrity and wisdom of their lawmakers it is time that they should get busy and elect men whom

To The Pioneer Woman

by Lawrence Hawthorne

One hundred years ago, or more, or less, You braved the perils of a wilderness! You faced the hardships of a bleak frontier— Courageous, earnest, noble Pioneer! It mattered not that your heroic hand Broke trail across a rugged, unknown land; It mattered not that danger and despair And loneliness were waiting for you there; It mattered not that you had left behind The comforts you could never hope to find; Your mother-heart was filled with faith and cheer, And life was good, for those you loved were near.

Yours was the spirit humble, brave and free That guided well a nation's destiny; Yours was the fortitude and wholesome grace That made a cabin joy's abiding place; Yours was the charm and noble strength of soul That ever sought a better, higher goal! And we, who are your sons and daughters, pay Our tribute of esteem to you today; Rejoicing in that priceless heritage That grows more glorious from age to age We voice our veneration for you here, Courageous, earnest, noble Pioneer!

Fitzgerald Is Most Grateful

"I am sincerely grateful for the wonderful endorsement the people of Michigan gave me on Sept. 11. If it were possible, I would like to extend my personal thanks to everyone who voted for me and I shall endeavor to conduct my affairs in a way that they will not have cause to regret their support." Frank D. Fitzgerald asserted after being assured that he had secured the Republican nomination for governor by a fine majority.

His nomination won almost universal acclaim in the Michigan press. Typical of the comment upon the results of the Republican primary is the following editorial by Hon. Muriel H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican Tribune: "The victory of Frank D. Fitzgerald in Tuesday's primary is outstanding. It is more than a tribute to a popular man and his years of public life; it is a definite notice from the rank and file of the party that new blood is out in front and expects recognition. In many counties new names and energy sponsored the Fitzgerald campaign. These men are willing to serve the type of leadership promoted by Fitzgerald but they will not long mark time waiting for an occasional call for service. Another fine thing about the Fitzgerald victory is the lack of threatened backfire from other political factions and parties. The Grand Lodge citizen alluded many times to the ability of his opposition within his own party and the meanness thing he ever said about Governor Comstock and his associates was that they were, in his opinion, inexperienced for a tough job at any time but particularly during the bewildering period of the present."

As soon as the outcome of the Republican primary was certain, former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck wired Mr. Fitzgerald his congratulations and "best wishes." The telegram was conclusive proof that the primary campaign had not disrupted a friendship of nearly 20 years.

THE 1934th PSALM

F. D. R. is my shepherd, I am in want. He maketh me to lie down on park benches. He leadeth me beside the still fountains. He disturbeth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of destruction for his party's sake. Yea, tho I walk thru the valley of the shadow of depression, I anticipate no recovery. For He is with me. He prepareth a reduction in my salary and in the presence of mine enemies. He averteth my small income with taxes and my expenses runneth over. Surely unemployment and poverty shall follow me all the days of my life and I shall dwell in a mortgaged house forever. When he gets thru with his CWA, TERA and AAA and gets down to his XYZ's, he will need the G.O.P. to pay his I.O.U.'s.—Contributed.

Rock Gridders vs. MSD, Saturday

The Plymouth gridders open their season tomorrow when they play the Michigan School for Deaf and Dumb, on the Riverside gridiron. The local team has been practicing for about three weeks and are rounding into very good condition. The Rocks look good so far this year and they are improving as practice continues. Although these boys from Flint can neither hear nor talk, their football playing comes as natural to them as it does to us. The game begins at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon. Let's have all the Plymouth fans out to see this game. Start the season right.

Mr. Dykhouse Tells Hi-Y of Southland

Mr. Dykhouse told the Hi-Y club at the last meeting, many interesting facts concerning the southern states which he visited this summer.

He described his descent into the Mammoth Caves of Kentucky, the work which the government is doing on the Tennessee Project, and the unsanitary mountain shacks in which many southerners live. He also dwelt to some extent upon the negro problem in the south.

The following new members were taken into the club from Torch Club: Donald Thrall, Jack Sessions, Harry Fischer, George Stetzel, Jack Blackmore, Edsel Forsthee, Claude Bauman, Jack Kinsey, Norman Kincade, David Gates, Jack Williams and Kenneth Jewell.

The following members were taken into the organization for the first time: Lester Upton, Lloyd Renaud, Lionel Coffin, Sterling Rorabacher, Robert Herter, Harold Wagenschütz, Don Schiffe, Harold Rossov, Louis Shotka, and Joe Bauer.

EDITORIAL Nowadays

The Senate investigation of the munition makers has reached sensational heights when King George V was mentioned as a munition salesman and Adolph Hitler was accused of being a tool of the munition makers.

Fearful conservatives charge that "the whole affair is socialistic." This seems to be a favorite exclamation at the present time. It has been used to describe the National Recovery Act, the textile disarmament, the platform of the Socialist Party of America in 1932 read as follows:

"We support all measures that promise to promote good will and friendship among the nations of the world including a total disarmament by international agreement if possible, but if that is not possible, by setting an example ourselves."

Thus there is a wide difference between the two groups.

While the purpose of the idea is a noble one, there are certain obstacles to the plan of "government taking profit out of war." In practice such a plan might become truly socialistic unless a line is drawn somewhere, and where ever a line is drawn, there will be profit in warfare. If the government were to make its own armaments, there would still be firms clamoring to sell them steel with which to make weapons. There would still be shipping firms seeking to carry death dealing ore. This would continue until a completely socialized nation was developed and still nothing would be done to actually end war.

Debaters Clash Throughout Week

Being held earlier this year than in 1933, the Plymouth High inter-class debate contest takes place this week, debates having been scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Four affirmative and three negative teams representing their various classes, will present the question, "Resolved, that the federal government should adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public, elementary and secondary education." Participants include Astri Hegge, Jane Taylor, John Moore, David Hale, Dorothy Hearn, Jeannette Brown, Thomas Brock, Jewel Starkweather, Roland Rhead, Russell Kirk, Jack Sessions, Harry Fischer, and Katherine Schultz.

Ad. Lib.

A cordial greeting my worthy readers! As was said by some old poet, philosopher or politician, "A fair start is a good beginning." Therefore we will start with a review called "Summer Summary."

Jack Selle had a delightful vacation corresponding with his little friends in far away places. (Pat McKinnon, Miss Ford, three girls from Ann Arbor and a cousin in in Willa Walls).

We met Junis XIV dipping double dips last month. It is rumored that he gained two pounds this summer. (There go the profits).

A headline in a Detroit newspaper this summer read as follows, costs, we mean quotes, "Plump Teachers Happiest." What do you think?

A little story in popular song titles:
 Two cigarettes in the Dark
 In my Little Grass Shack in Kehalakawhoppie, Hawaii,
 Then You Realize that Smoke Gets In Your Eyes.

Competition Column

Junius has his own little problem this week. We seem to have a Competition Column, but no competitors. Old Man of the Sea Wilcox and his Ad Lib must have gotten scared out. Even if they return, Junius still won't have much competition.

Our next victim will be Eva Scarpulla. Junius would like a bribe, and hopes that Eva takes the hint. Every race has contributed something to the hodgepodge of American civilization. The Eskimos gave us chop suey the French gave us cooties, and the Italians gave us spaghetti. One afternoon Eva presented a huge dish of her ancestors' pride to Mr. Latture, complete with pomp, ceremony, and odoriferous graced cheese. He proudly displayed it to all who remained in P.H.S. allowing the delightful aroma to escape and enchant their nostrils. He wouldn't even let Junius stick his finger in it to see if it was cooked enough. Remember Eva you are our next victim.

We can hardly wait until tomorrow's football game. The opposing team is from a school of deaf mutes. How, we ask you, do they call their signals? Worse yet, how do they know when the game is over, if they can't hear the gun go off?

Junius II.

Starkweather Notes

The total number of pupils for the Starkweather School for this year is two hundred and sixty one, also there is a new teacher, Miss Loper, taking the place of Miss Hunt who has left.

Building blocks is the big discussion in the kindergarten this year, since it has a new set of blocks with which they have been building houses and bridges and what not. The beginners are learning the nursery rhymes and the children in the advanced class are making circus projects.

The children in Miss Suter's room dramatized the story of the Three Bears this past week. Also they have talked about mothers' duties and they came to the conclusion that canning is what mother does most right now, so they decided to do some canning. They canned a pint of tomatoes, one pint of plums, and one pint of pears in the school kitchen. They made their labels in their art class. This past week they cut out a flower to use for stencil to make the curtains for their play house. The First A group have learned to write both of their names.

In the second grade Peggy Campbell and Yvette Jackson have been absent on account of illness, but both have returned. The children have cut out fruit and to make a black board border. This year every one is interested in spelling because they have new books and their words are given in a new form.

The Fourth grade under the supervision of Miss Loper has been studying "The Making of Maple Syrup" and has been making maps of the New England States. Several awards were received from the Palmer Company for pupils in both sections of the class.

The pupils in the sixth grade have been writing about their summer experiences, and also they have been collecting queer stones to bring to class.

Social News

Phyllis Barrows and Belva Barnes attended the opening of the Kelvin Kitchen and also went through the Kelvinator plant, Saturday, September 8.

Phyllis Barrows enjoyed a trip to Canada last Saturday.

Murray Rowland spent last week-end with Frank Waldecker. Don Johnson's mother and 12 of his friends surprised him by giving him a party at his home on Tuesday, September 11.

Annabel Rowland gave a party, Saturday, September 8, to which she invited ten friends from out of town.

Mary Baker was Katherine Schroeder's guest Saturday night.

The Summer Home Project is a part of every girl's Home Making Course. The home is the ideal laboratory for a girl to work out her experiments in household practices. She may gain new information or put into practice her knowledge of home making. We aim to organize and systemize our time and efforts, to gain speed, thoroughness, and accuracy, and have alert minds to new methods and information concerning home practices. The plan of work includes the following points:

1. Name of project.
 2. Reasons for choosing project.
 3. What you plan to accomplish.
 4. Where you expect to get information.
 5. The general plan of work.
- A complete record is kept of all plans, costs, references, and persons consulted.
- The story of project report includes this information:
1. Why you chose the project and how it has helped you.
 2. A description of what you did, including the statement as to where and how you obtained your materials.
 3. The sources from which you received the most help.
 4. The things which happened, such as difficulties encountered, family comments, and other interesting experiences.
 5. How the project was of value to you. How it was of value to your family. And whether you accomplished what you planned to.

There were twenty-eight girls enrolled in Summer Projects and two successful group meetings were held.

Students worked on the following projects:
 Meal preparation, garment construction, club study, reorganizing my room, home management, care and repair, and food preservation. One fourth credit is given for a successful project.

Central Grade School Notes

Miss Wurster's kindergarten has an enrolment of sixty-one pupils this semester. They have been going on nature walks this week, and are coloring pictures of animals and leaves. They are learning to rest upon rugs and mats brought from home.

Thirty-four pupils are enrolled in Miss Crannell's first grade B group Raymond and Ralph Smith and Helton Hood were transferred from the Starkweather school. The pupils have been making fall decorations for the room. In reading class they are making booklets about stories they have read.

Miss DeWaele's thirty-four first grade B's and first grade A's have been planning a radio program all week. James McGraw is the announcer and the station is ABC. They have been saving their best oral work for the week. One more pupil is expected by Miss DeWaele.

Miss Frantz' second grade B's have been talking about the State Fair and the Zoo all week. They are studying about animals and reading stories of pets. They have been drawing pictures of Mother and Father Bear. Thirty-eight pupils are enrolled in Miss Frantz' group this semester.

Miss Widmayer is the new fourth grade B teacher. She lives in Dexter, Michigan, and obtained her life certificate at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. Her pupils have been making health posters. Thirty-four are enrolled and three more are expected in this group.

Mrs. Bird's third grade B pupils have been studying the kinds of leaves and are mounting them in nature study class. George Rathburn and Dorothy Carley are this semester's spelling captains.

The second grade A's and third grade B's are thirty-three in number in Miss Weatherhead's room. They have been making a special study of trees, and are preparing for winter.

Miss Sly has twenty-seven third grade A pupils and ten fourth grade B students.

Leonard King won the contest in arithmetic for the week. In the nature study class the children have been studying about the wild flowers that are in bloom now.

Mrs. Ulrich of Northville is the new fifth grade teacher. She obtained her life certificate from Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti, and is working toward her degree. Her pupils have finished the study of Canada in geography class.

The new teacher of the fifth grade A and sixth grade B is Miss Detwiler of Owosso, Michigan. Miss Detwiler obtained her A. B. degree from the University of Michigan. She has forty-two pupils. They have been doing the regular work.

Leonard King of Grand Rapids is the new fourth grade A and sixth grade B teacher. She obtained her life certificate and A. B. degree in East Lansing. Her pupils have been making maps of the New England States and posting the products upon them.

Mrs. Holliday's sixth grade pupils have chosen Ardith Rowland and Robert Daniel as spelling captains. The sixth grade B's have been making rainfall maps of South America. They are forty-three in number in Mrs. Holliday's class.

Juniors Elect Class Officers

With seventy-five votes cast out of one hundred and eight Jack Kinsey honor student and athlete who was last year's sophomore president, was elected again at a junior class meeting Wednesday, fifth hour.

Other officers are Jeannette Bauman, vice president; Gwendolyn Dunlop, secretary; William Holdsworth, treasurer; and Lionel Coffin, Student Council representative. As William Holdsworth had only one more vote than Audrey Moore, the class re-voted, resulting in the election of William. Another close race was between Jack Sessions and Lionel Coffin, there being only a difference of two votes. The class will vote on the amount of class dues at the next meeting. The class advisers are Miss Graf, chairman; Miss Hauf, Miss Waldorf, and Miss Lundin.

Seniors Re-Elect Cline President

For only the second time in seventeen years has any class elected the same person for class president for four consecutive years. This honor was bestowed upon Darold Cline at the election held Wednesday, September 12, in study three.

In 1926 Elmore Carney was honored by holding the office of president for the four years of his high school.

Since there was a tie for the office of vice president the class will again have to meet to decide whether Joan Cassidy or Arnold Ash will hold the office. Other class officers are Peggy Tucker, secretary; Jean Jolliffe, treasurer; William Brown, ways and means; and Jack Wilcox, Student Council representative.

The class advisers are Miss Graf, chairman; Miss Cary and Mr. Latture.

Faculty Vacations

We shall begin the list with one of the many ambitious teachers, Miss Waldorf, who took an eight weeks course at the University of Michigan.

Miss Tyler spent a very enjoyable six weeks in Calgary, Alberta. She spent one week of this time in the Canadian Rockies. Miss Tyler was fortunate in being able to see the famous Calgary Stampede, a rodeo on a large scale.

Miss Lickly and her sister took a five thousand mile motor trip to Monterey, Mexico. They were gone about one month and returned by way of Louisiana and Florida.

Mr. Evans attended summer school at the University of Michigan.

Miss Gray spent three weeks at Grand Marais on Lake Superior.

Miss Graf went to summer school at the Michigan State Normal College. She spent the remainder of the summer visiting in Kentucky.

Miss Hauf attended the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago and took a short trip through Wisconsin and northern Michigan.

Miss Wisely worked two months at the Wayne County Training School and later spent two weeks in New York City.

Miss Lundin motored to Baraga in Northern Michigan and after remaining there for about three weeks she boarded a great lakes steamer at Duluth for Chicago where she attended the World's Fair.

Miss Allen and Miss Cary took a week's trip through New York State visiting Watkins Glen, Niagara Falls, Fort Ticonderoga, Lake George, Tarrytown, and many other interesting places, spending the rest of the summer at their Lake Huron home.

Miss Smith, Miss Gray, and Miss Lovewell took Miss Berg to her home in northern Michigan and spent several days at Miss Lovewell's cabin. Miss Lovewell also spent part of the month of August in northern Michigan.

Miss Henry went to Canada visiting Toronto, Parry Sound, and Georgian Bay. She spent the remainder of the summer at her home near Cleveland.

Miss Fiegel spent a week at Lakeside, Ohio and later took a trip through northern Michigan, visiting the Pictured Rocks at Munising and the Tahquamenon Falls. From the upper peninsula of Michigan she went to Madison, Wisconsin and Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Dykhouse took a twelve day motor trip through Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Alabama to Muscle Shoals and the other Tennessee Valley projects. After spending a few days at Oxford, Mississippi they visited the coal mines of West Virginia.

Miss Ford studied music at the University of Detroit.

Miss Kees spent a short time at Lake Huron and the remainder of the summer she was playground director at the Wayne County Training School.

Miss Fry spent the summer at her home in Saginaw. Mr. Bentley spent a few days at Pleasant Lake near Jackson and also visited the World's Fair.

Miss Hearn and her mother motored to the Pacific Coast. They visited seven National Parks and returned by way of Denver, Colorado.

Here & There

Ah, my beloved ones, 'tis great indeed to be back in this here dear old community again. This summer contained many interesting things to write about. Jack (ad lib) Wilcox, last year known as pussycat, spent some of his time behind an ice cream bar; he held a small dipper.

After two long months of vacation there are still funny Latin translations. And this summer Butch Burley started to be a contractor. That is he shoveled sand and looked for a "brick-stretcher." Maybe Butch had better look for a pall of steam or a sky-hook, but just the same Butch, there is a left-hand monkey wrench. And most interesting of all (to the girls), Darold Cline grew what he said was a mustache and while we pause to see it, may I say he should have paused on his brother's motorcycle when he was headed for that theater door.

Bill Putz was put at the head of the history class when he said that the Egyptian architecture was composed of curved lines rather than straight. (I have never seen a curved pyramid.)

Well, this year started out like always with seventy-five girls voting for Jack Kinsey for president. There's no getting around it, you have to be a football hero. We wonder if Norval Boves (Clark Gable the twelfth) will wear a turtle-neck sweater this year.

Florida Plans For Winter Rush

By John Lodwick
St. Petersburg Fla., Sept. 13—With the opening of all public and private schools here this week for the regular nine month term, first of the Sunshine City's seasonal guests have arrived to remain through to June. As the season advances into the Christmas holidays, the influx of "sun worshippers" from every state in the union and from every Canadian province and from many foreign countries, will shatter all previous registration records.

Every hotel and apartment house will be filled by the middle of January as reservations now flood the more popular hostilities.

Through the long summer months every available skilled workman has been employed making preparations for the greatest avalanche of seasonal visitors in the history of St. Petersburg.

Michigan will again have a strong representation here through the winter months.

Wayne County was represented here last winter by 801 residents, many of whom have already made plans to return. Of this number, 730 came from Detroit.

Among the Plymouth tourists here last season were Mrs. C. E. Arnold, Mrs. John Cady, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diederick, Alvin Diederick, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Larkins, Mrs. Phyllis Miller, Athalia Louise Miller, Mrs. W. D. Farmer, Mrs. Fred Peppier and Miss Melissa Roe.

From Highland Park were Miss Annie L. Donaldson, Charles E. Donaldson, Miss M. I. Donaldson, Frank Holmes, Miss May Ketcham, Mrs. Walter A. Lucas, Mrs. Mary Marshall, Miss Gertrude Parkhurst, Fred N. Sperry and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams.

Grosse Pointe visitors were Miss Margaret Ballantine, Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Beyer, Mrs. Amber Jolly, George Elworthy.

Late Crops Are Helped By Rain

Rains and cooler weather during August resulted in some improvement in the prospects for most late crops in Michigan. Corn, potatoes, sugar beets, late cuttings of alfalfa, and apples all showed gains during the past month, according to the September 10 report of the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service. Frosts August 29-30 caused considerable injury to potatoes and other crops in the Upper Peninsula, northern half of the Lower Peninsula, and on low ground in other parts of the state. Many sections are still in need of additional moisture to bring late crops to maturity.

The condition of the Michigan potato crop was reported at 59 per cent of normal which is 1 point better than for August 1 this year, but practically 11 points below the 10-year average for September 1. Frosts the last week of August caused severe injury to many fields in the Upper Peninsula and northern counties of the Lower Peninsula, the State's principal shipping area. Growers' reports as of September 1 for this section probably do not reflect the full extent of these losses. On the other hand, crop prospects are reported markedly better than for August 1 in the central tiers of counties while in areas farther south where conditions have generally been poorest this season some improvement is also indicated. For the State as a whole, the September 1 condition indicates a prospective crop of 22,960,000 bushels as against 20,670,000 bushels harvested in 1933, and 21,511,000 bushels, the 5-year average production, 1927-31.

With less than the usual seasonal decline in the condition of the State's field bean crop during August, the estimate based on September 1 conditions is for a crop of 2,412,000 bags or the same as forecast on August 1 this year. This compares with 2,519,000 bags harvested in 1933 and a 5-year average crop, 1927-31, of 2,103,000 bags. The reported condition of the crop is 45 per cent of normal which compares with 56 per cent for September 1, 1933, and 63 per cent, the 10-year average for that date. Some frost damage occurred in northern sections while in central and southern counties early planted fields did not pod well on account of heat injury during July. The later planted fields will require several more weeks of favorable weather to mature a crop. Blight is prevalent in a good many bean fields this season.

The condition of the Michigan corn crop on September 1 was 58 per cent of normal for that date, 1 point better than for August 1 this year, but about 12 points below the 10-year average. The outlook improved in a good many southern and central counties as

Milford Talks New Bank Plan

Since the First State Bank went into receivership the question "what next" has been in the minds of the people of this community. To get something definite as to what could be done and how a group of men met at the Milford Club rooms Wednesday afternoon. Present by invitation were Howard C. Knickerbocker, cashier and Earl Phillips, attorney of the new bank at Farmington, Eugene Carey, receiver and Elmer Field, late conservator of the First State Bank at Milford.

From the discussion at this meeting it appeared that any one of three things may be possible:

1. Organize a new bank.
2. Establish here a branch of some bank already organized.
3. Get along with no bank at all.

Of the three the first, of course, is much to be preferred if it is possible of accomplishment. It would involve the raising of at least $300,000 of which $25,000 would be for stock and $50,000 for surplus.

In this connection it should be said that bank stock purchased these days is not subject to the double liability which prevailed formerly. The provision regarding double liability was included in bank legislation enacted by the last legislature.

Persons who might be interested in purchase of stock for a new bank are invited to consult Mr. Carey or Mr. Field at the First State Bank building.

The procedure followed in some cases has been to secure an RFC loan on assets of the old bank. The proceeds used in a payoff. Depositors receiving the payoff turn over a part of it to help purchase stock and get the new bank started.

Of course, a new bank opened here would carry Federal so-called insurance.

As to the branch bank proposition a combination of this kind

Walled Lake Church Is One Hundred Years Old

A pioneer supper at the Walled Lake Baptist church Friday evening, Sept. 7, marked the 100th anniversary of the founding of that church. The after-dinner program included addresses, songs, reminiscences of the early days while old-fashioned costumes prevailed. Invitations were sent to former members and many of them were present.

The centennial was further recognized by a special service at the church on Sunday, Sept. 9.

With the Farmington Bank Was Mentioned

The branch or combination proposition would require no stock investment from this community. It would, however, require an assurance of support on the part of the community—Milford Times.

"We Serve Michigan"

The days of the "3 R's" have returned for 1,382,630 of Michigan's school children . . .

Railroad taxes—$7,829,198 in 1933-34—go directly toward the education of those youngsters.

Railroad taxes are the bulwark of our primary school fund. But now those tax payments are in danger.

Unfair, inequitable competition, particularly from unregulated trucks, has so cut into the railroads' income that their tax payments have become a problem. If this situation continues those tax payments inevitably must stop.

To the extent that the railroads are destroyed as a source of tax revenue the payments they now make will have to fall upon the citizen.*

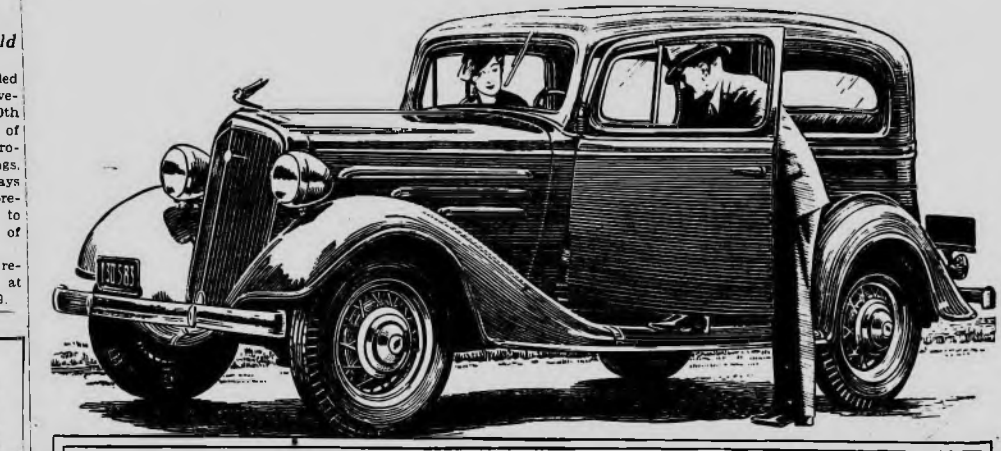

Can he afford, then, to permit the job of transportation to be shifted largely from a tax-yielding agency—the railroad—to a tax-consuming form of transport? Is he ready to take on this added tax burden?

The railroad problem is deplorable, but not beyond remedy. It can be solved within our legislatures.

Our next Michigan legislature should see that motor trucks and buses are taxed to meet fully the costs to the public which their operation entails; that they submit to regulations comparable with those governing the railroads, and, in addition, that they contribute equitably to the general expense of government.

Michigan and the "3R's" need the railroads. And the railroads need constructive legislation. It is only fair that they be given at least an equal chance.

Famous Singers For U. of M. Series

President Charles A. Sink has announced an exceptionally attractive series of musical programs for the current Choral Union Concert series which will be the fifty-sixth uninterrupted series to be given in Hill Auditorium at Ann Arbor.

Rosa Ponselle, distinguished prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera Association, whose successes in Ann Arbor have been so glamorous, will inaugurate the series by a recital, October 24.

Lawrence Tibbett, operatic baritone, distinguished in the field of concert, opera, radio and the movies, will be the second attraction, November 1.

The Don Cossack Russian Chorus, under the magnificently directed of the diminutive but dynamic Serge Jaroff, will be heard November 19. This group of expatriated former officers of the Imperial Russian Army, men without a country, have won distinction throughout the civilized world.

Josef Szigeti, the renowned Hungarian violinist, never before heard in Ann Arbor will be heard for the first time in the University city, December 2.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, led by Serge Koussevitzky, consisting of 110 players, will make their annual Ann Arbor appearance on December 11.

Lotte Lehmann, spectacular German soprano, of the Metropolitan Opera Association, will make their Ann Arbor debut January 25 in a recital of German songs of operatic airs. This prima donna has won great distinction in the great opera houses of Europe and is one of the few great prima donnas not before heard in Ann Arbor.

Jose Iturbi, distinguished Spanish pianist, renowned also as conductor and composer, will be heard for the second time in Ann Arbor, February 12.

The Gordon String Quartet, led by Jacques Gordon, for many years concert-master of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, assisted by Ralph Silverman, Second Violinist; Paul Robyn, Viola; and Naoum Benditzky, Cellist, will make their Ann Arbor debut on February 20.

Arthur Schnabel, eminent German pianist and pedagogue, will appear in piano recital on March 4.

The Cleveland Symphony orchestra under its spectacular and resourceful conductor, Arthur Rodzinski, will be heard in Ann Arbor for the first time, on March 28.

Season tickets, including $3.00 May Festival coupon) may be ordered by mail at the office of the University School of Music, at $5.00, $7.00, $8.50, and $1.00 each. Orders are filled in sequence.

Mrs. Dwight Randall who is state chairman of the D.A.R. committee having charge of the work of marking historical spots in this state, with Mrs. O. D. Heavenrich of Detroit, state recording secretary of the D.A.R., went to Adrian Monday to assist the D.A.R. chapter of that city with its Constitution day program.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH
Provoking One Another." will be the pastor's theme on September 23. Service for worship begins at 10:30 o'clock.
Bible school follows at 11:45 a. m. The lesson, "Isaiah Counsels Rulers" will be taken from the thirty-first chapter of Isaiah. Memory verse: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed upon thee, because he trusteth in thee." Isaiah 26:3.
The next regular meeting of the Aid will be held on Thursday afternoon, September 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Atchison. Supper will be served at five o'clock.

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR
Independent Baptist
You are invited to lay aside the cares and the problems of the week and to meet with us this Sunday morning and evening for fellowship and profit in the study of God's searching and startling revelation, the Bible. Mr. Neale, our pastor will preach at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on the 20th and 21st chapter of The Revelation. You may hand in any question you wish, and be sure of a scriptural answer. This offer will never be withdrawn. Try it!
"How Can We Reach Earth's Golden Age?" is the Sunday morning topic. "Seven New Things, and Who May Enjoy Them" is the evening message theme.
On next Wednesday evening at 7:30 the pastor will speak on "The Last Message of The Bible." This message contains what many affirm to be the greatest offer any man has yet received. This amazing offer is absolutely free. You may have it for the taking. But there is a time limit. Act now!

All young people are cordially invited to attend our Young People's meeting to be held each Friday evening at 7:30. Practical and interesting programs of Bible Study and congenial fellowship are being planned.
God will always show His will to the man who is willing to do it. Why not prove this to your own satisfaction? Meet with us this Sunday.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
Special missionary services on Sunday at 10:15 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. English. Ladies serve dinner at noon to all worshippers. Special offering for missions will be taken in each service and at tables. Welcome.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
Sunday, September 23rd. 10:30 p. m. Holy Communion Service for Consecration in performing the great work to which we have dedicated ourselves especially during September: The Preaching of the gospel unto all nations. Missions. Announcements are to be made during this week with the pastor. All regular communicants are expected and invited to attend.
Sunday afternoon, September 23rd. Great Celebration of the 400th anniversary of the Translation of the Bible into the language of the people by Dr. Martin Luther. The celebration will take place at 3:00 o'clock in the Shell at Belle Isle.
Mission Festival: The last Sunday in September. Two services: 10:30 and 2:30. Unusual and unique features of this festival will be in the morning service, the formal presentation of the contributions toward our congregation's quota by representatives of the congregation, the Sunday School and the various societies of the church. Pastor G. W. Lutke of Toledo, Ohio, will speak in the afternoon service. He is unexcelled in pulpit oratory and worth your time and interest to hear. A regular dinner will be served at noon. This is not to be confused with the previously announced. Those who attend the church services are also invited to join us in the dinner. Following is the schedule of quotas allocated to the various societies thus far:
The Congregation—Home Missions—$20.00 to be collected in the services on our Mission Festival.
The Sunday School—Negro Missions—$18.00 to be collected in the S. S. Mission Rally also—Charities—$40.00 to be raised Christmas Eve.
The Ladies' Mission Society—Indian Missions—$40.00 to be contributed formally on Mission Festival Sunday.
The Happy Helpers Club—Saginaw College—$20.00 to be contributed in part on Mission Festival Sunday.

Wednesday evening testimony service, 7:30. Reading room in rear of church open daily from 2 to 4 p. m., except Sundays and holidays. Everyone welcome. A lending library of Christian Science literature is maintained.

NAZARENE CHURCH
Robert North, Pastor
Bible school, 10:00 a. m. Morning worship, 11:15 a. m. Young People, 6:30 p. m. Evangelistic service, 7:30 p. m. Prayer Meeting, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.
"Woe unto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites, for ye are like unto whitened sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all unchanness." (Matt 23:27).
Many modern day Pharisees are only whitewashed. Jesus Christ can and will make the vilest sinner clean. His plan is to wash us and make us white as snow. David prayed "wash me and I shall be whiter than snow." (Ps. 51:7). Are you whitewashed or washed white?

BEREA CHAPEL
Jas. A. Davis, Pastor
We have a special treat for Plymouth, September 28th and October 1st. There will be a musical concert in the Jewell and Blach auditorium, 587 West Ann Arbor street. FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loyla Sutherland, Minister.
This Sunday is to be a day of privilege for this church. We shall have as our guest for the day Mr. Burtin S. Shaw for a long period of years the Judge of Probate in Oceana county, which is the home county of the pastor. Judge Shaw has given his life to the furtherance of the church and the Kingdom's work and you will want to hear his messages on Sunday at 10:00 o'clock and on seven-thirty. You will hear the Judge also in several duets with the pastor.
11:15—Bible School. Its getting better all the time and our school is more and more a time of genuine inspiration and study.
7:30—Don't forget the fine evening service with Judge Shaw speaking.

We begin this Monday night, Sept. 24, the Fellowship supper which were carried on during all of last winter. There is promise of a full attendance for this first meeting of this season and our pastor will hear Judge Shaw speaking on the subject—"That Boy What is He Worth?" and the supper will be "Filling." Don't forget men, for "We'll be seeing you!" Come at 6:30.
You better begin to get ready for that Big Rally Day in Plymouth. You will hear all about it later.
Mid-week service on Wednesday evening at 7:30.

Skidding—cause of 5 1/2 times more accidents than blowouts—becomes more dangerous as winter approaches. For quickest stops buy "G-3" Goodyears—proved safest by 8,400 tests.

When you must suddenly jam on your brakes, averting an accident often is a matter of inches. Well, stop tests on slippery pavement show: on smooth tires you slide 77% farther, on other new tires you slide 14% to 19% farther than on new "G-3" Goodyear All-Weathers. That's the Goodyear Margin of Safety—a big reason why more people buy Goodyears than any other tire. Since it costs you nothing extra, why not have this margin of safety on your car too?

WOULD YOUR TIRES STOP YOU IN TIME? " " "

PATCHEN NEWS
Mrs. Frank Kehrer has been seriously ill for the past two weeks. Mr. Kehrer's mother has been staying at the Kehrer home. Dr. Alexander held her first lecture at the Patchen School, September 13. They will continue every Thursday at 9:30 a. m. All women are invited to attend. Patchen school held its first PTA meeting September 12, after which refreshments were served. The date of the meetings have been changed to the 3rd Wednesday of each month. Little Tommy Green was very fortunate, not being hurt when his father's car ran completely over him. Mr. H. Woods has been in the hospital for the past three weeks. He is recovering very nicely. The Patchen school boys are playing their first baseball game Wednesday, with Hick's school. Mr. and Mrs. Don Granger entertained the latter's sister and husband, Polie Lieutenant Kotke, from Detroit, over the week-end. The following names are added to those attending the Plymouth high school, Clifford Funk, George Lomis, and Arno Thompson. The lower grade pupils are trying hard to understand why their teacher, Miss Butcher, formerly changed to Mrs. McCully during vacation.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER FINDS VEERY
PETER RABBIT had spent a quiet day in the dear old Briar Patch. As evening approached he decided to go back to hear Melody sing. He was near the Green Forest as he drew near the Green Forest he heard from the direction of the Laughing Brook a song which caused him to change his mind and sent him hurrying in that direction. It was a very different song from that of Melody, yet if he had never heard it before Peter would have known that such a song could come from no throat except that of a member of the Thrush family. As he drew near, those beautiful notes seemed to ring through the Green Forest like a bell. As Melody's song filled him with the feeling of peace, so this song stirred in him a feeling of the wonderful mystery of life. There was in it the very spirit of the Green Forest. It didn't like Peter long to find the singer. It was Veery, who has been named Wilson's Thrush, and by some folks is known as the Tawny Thrush.

Veery Came Out From Under Some Ferns to Greet Peter.

At the sound of the patter of Peter's feet the song stopped abruptly and he was greeted with a whistle "Wheen! Wheen!" Then, seeing that it was no one of whom he need be afraid, Veery came out from under some ferns to greet Peter. He was smaller than his cousin Melody, being about one-fourth smaller than Welcome Robin. He wore a brown coat, but it was not as bright as that of Melody. His breast was somewhat faintly spotted with brown, and below he was white. His sides were grayish white and not spotted like Melody's sides. "I heard you singing, and I just had to come over to see you," cried Peter. "I hope you like my song," said Veery. "I love to sing just at this hour, and I love to think that other people like to hear me."

"They do," declared Peter most decidedly. "I can't imagine how anybody could fail to like to hear you. I came way over here just to sit a while and listen. Won't you sing some for me, Veery?" "Certainly," replied Veery. "I wouldn't feel that I was going to bed right if I didn't sing until dark. The only way I can express my happiness and love of the Green Forest and the joy of just being back here at home is by singing."

Veery slipped out of sight and almost at once his bell-like notes began to ring through the Green Forest. Peter sat right where he was, content to just listen and feel within himself the joy of being alive and happy in the beautiful spring season which Veery was expressing so wonderfully.

Finally, from deep in the Green Forest sounded the hunting call of Hooty the Owl. Veery's song stopped. "Good-night, Peter," he called softly. C. T. W. Burgess—WNU Service.
