Plymouth Marks Memorial Day With Services

Tree Planted To Mark Historic Spot

Plymouth honored the memory of the war dead Monday with a parade and appropriate ceremonies at Kellogg park.

A good crowd watched the parade directed by the American Legion and the Ex-Service Men's club. John Jacobs was marshal of the day and Harry Hunter served as officer of the day.

Harold P. Anderson was master of ceremonies at the program in the park. The Rev. Father Frank Lefevre pronounced invocation and the high school girls' octette sang, "Tom Brock recited Lincoln's 'Gettysburg Address' and the high school band played.

W. B. Waldrip, Detroit, vice commander of the Michigan Department of the American Legion, gave an inspiring Memorial day address.

The boys scouts placed wreaths on the monument and then a firing squad fired a salute and Howard Culver and Kenneth Stevens played taps.

After the ceremony the American Legion and the Ex-Service Men's clubs with the co-operation of the city planted an elm tree 20 feet north of the monument to mark the spot where a table set at which volunteers were enlisted to fill out Company C, Michigan infantry, during the Civil War. History shows that Joshua Minthorn and a man named Eddy were working on a ladder on Main street and decided to enlist. They were the final two enlisted for Company C. Minthorn was captured during the war but was released during a trade of prisoners with the south. The G. A. R. post was named after Eddy.

The American Legion and the Ex-Service Men's club asked The Plymouth Mail to express their thanks for the fine turn-out of participants in the parade.

Record Crowds Visit Parkways

Probably the largest number of people that ever visited the Rouge parkway system spent Memorial day under the shade trees and on the playgrounds of the parkway. So great was the jam that it was with the utmost of difficulty that parking places could be found for all the automobiles.

Stove and table accommodations were at a premium. Park visitors found it necessary to use them in rotation. At the flowing spring in the park just north of the Six Mile road, lines of people, sometimes consisting of nearly 100 persons, stood waiting to fill jugs and buckets.

Every baseball ground was in constant use, park swings and other playground facilities were not of sufficient number to provide all the demands of the thousands of boys and girls who came to the park with their parents.

Flower Beds For The Park

There is going to be a number of beautiful flower beds in Kellogg park this summer, city officials having had park attendants prepare a number of flower beds along the sidewalk on Main street. They have been neatly arranged and good judgment has been used in the arrangement and selection of the flowering plants that have been set out. They will be especially attractive late in the summer and fall, as plants for later season blossoming have been selected.

Methodists Have New Spring Schedule

The Methodist church in Plymouth has adopted a new schedule of services for the month of June. Sunday school and church services are to be combined into one without intermission. The service will begin at 9:45, and close at 11:30. Sunday school will come first, beginning at 9:45. Classes will finish at 10:30, and will then march in processional into the worship service without intermission. The worship service will be simplified for the month so that it may be concluded by 11:30.

Will Become Teacher In Fordson School

Plymouth friends of Kenneth Gust will be interested in knowing that he has been offered and has signed a contract to become a member of the faculty of the Fordson Junior high school of Dearborn, beginning with the fall term of school. The Fordson public school system, under direction of Supt. Harvey Lowery is regarded as one of the outstanding in Michigan. Mr. Gust is a graduate of the Plymouth high school and the Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti. He will attend Wayne University during the summer vacation. He is the son of Mrs. Lee Sackett of this city. During the past two years he has been teaching in the public schools of Utica.

Miss Dorothy Hubert Former Plymouth Girl, Becomes Bride

The chapel of Trinity Methodist church was the scene of the ceremony when Dorothy May Hubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bradford Hubert, of Moss street, Highland Park, became the bride of Carl Wendell Forsythe, of Detroit, son of Mrs. Allen G. Forsythe and the late Mr. Forsythe, of Milan, Michigan. The altar was banked with palms and ferns and by tall baskets of white lilies and candelabra. The Reverend J. Adolph Halmhuber officiated at the service which took place at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning, May 29, before a small group composed of the immediate families and a very few close friends.

The bride wore a lace trimmed gown of white muslin de sole cot on princess lines with a flowing train. A two tiered veil of illusion fell from the close cap and coronet which formed her head-dress. She carried a crescent bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and lilies of the valley, tied with tulle.

Mary Virginia McKinnon, of Plymouth, was the bride's only attendant. She chose a flower print in a taffeta gown under a printed chiffon redingote in the same shades. Her headress was a tiara of gardenias and rose buds. The groom's brother, Charles Forsythe, of Lansing, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

Directly following the ceremony, wedding breakfast, attended by the immediate families, was served at the Abbington hotel.

After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe will spend the summer at Macady Lake, returning to the city October 1.

John Adams Tells Of Plymouth In Civil War Days

Recalls Many Details Of Hotel's History

John W. Adams, 83-year-old son of the man who, during the Civil War, operated the famed Adams House here, recounted this week many interesting events of the early days of the hotel which is to be torn down to make room for a modern business block.

Exceptionally alert, despite being confined to bed at his home on 187 Adams street in recent months and afflicted with blindness for two years, Mr. Adams clearly recalled minute details of incidents of 75 years ago.

"My father, William J. Adams," he began, "sold his farm three miles west of Plymouth, where I was born, and purchased the old hotel when I was but four or five years old. This was a couple years after the disastrous fire of 1856 swept the hotel then known as Root's for father bought it from Ash Perrin who rebuilt it. When we moved into the hotel it was before the start of the Civil War so it was either 1858 or 1859."

"We were living in the hotel when Lee surrendered to end the war and when Abe Lincoln was inaugurated."

"My father had two stage runs, one to Wayne and one to Howell and the hotel was headquarters for the stage. Orin Moore and Pat Casey worked for my father and drove the stages. The news of General Lee's surrender reached Plymouth about 4 p. m. and along towards evening the village started a wild celebration."

"My father told Pat and Orin to go into the basement of the hotel and 'take all the beer, whisky, and cigars we have, over into the park and let them go to it.'"

"By this time it had become dark so Orin hitched a horse to a wagon and drove west of Plymouth to Bill Taft's farm. Orin and another fellow went into the house, grabbed Bill and brought him to Plymouth clad only in his night shirt. Then they routed out George Starkweather and others. In this manner the celebrating residents dragged many men who never consumed liquor and who refused to do so into the park across from the hotel. Good-naturedly, but insistently, the celebrators persisted until they poured whisky down the throats of all the men of the community. Yes, it was a wild night but everyone had a good time."

"During the long months of the Civil War the hotel was the gathering place nightly of all the people in this area. When the stage would come in my father would get up on top of the vehicle and read the latest dispatches from the war front and announce the casualty list."

Mr. Adams propped himself up in bed a little straighter before telling about the celebration that marked the inauguration of Lincoln as president.

"Father had a fine span of black horses and when the news came, he hitched them up to wheel trucks which served for a wagon and then a man, dressed to represent 'Honest Abe' was perched on the wagon and the parade began. As the team stood in front of Omy Jewell's barber shop across from the Conner hardware, someone tossed a big firecracker which exploded under the feet of the horses. Yes, this caused quite a bit of excitement. The horses ran away and the man representing Lincoln was thrown off the wagon. But everyone thought it was a lot of fun."

The octogenarian then went back 75 years or so to recall things about Kellogg park.

"There were no trees, but it was fenced. When the first circus came to Plymouth it was a one-ring affair operated by Dan Rice and the tents were pitched on the park grounds."

"I remember well that Will T. Conner and I carried water for the elephants, whose names were Romeo and Juliet, and were the first of this kind of animals to be exhibited in Plymouth."

Another incident in connection with the park was told by Mr. Adams.

"Yes, and I remember the time that Cassius Kellogg, who operated a drug store, decided he would build a house on the park. He had several loads of lumber hauled and unloaded on the park before his grandfather, John Kellogg, heard about it. The elder Mr. Kellogg, who settled in Plymouth in 1827, was pretty mad and he went right down to the park

Mary Jane Gamble Weds Alvin Wagenschultz

Mary Jane Gamble, daughter of John Gamble, of Plymouth, and Alvin Wagenschultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wagenschultz, also of this city, were married at 10 o'clock, Saturday, May 29, in Angola, Indiana, by the Rev. W. Smith, of the Methodist church of that city.

They were accompanied by Mrs. William Bunker, of Angola, an aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Wagenschultz returned to Plymouth Sunday and went to housekeeping immediately in the Second apartment on Hamilton street.

The happy couple have many friends in and around Plymouth who extend best wishes to them.

Cunningham Drug Leases Space In Lorenz Building

Work On Wrecking Old Hotel To Start Soon

Ralph J. Lorenz announced this week that the Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc., has signed a lease for the corner store space in the new Lorenz building to be constructed shortly on the site of the Plymouth hotel, corner of Main street and Ann Arbor Trail.

Cunningham's will have 20 feet of frontage on Main street and 90 feet of frontage on Ann Arbor Trail. There will be two entrances, one on the corner and one on Ann Arbor Trail.

The other ground floor space will be occupied as was previously announced, by the Atlantic and Pacific Food Stores. This store will have 40 feet of frontage on Main street.

The work of wrecking the old hotel will start within a few weeks and completion of the new building, which will cost approximately $30,000, is expected by late fall.

The building will be two stories high with office space on the second floor. It will have a modernistic Macotta front.

State "Piker" Compared To Ford Payroll Total

Auto Maker Spends Twice As Much In Year As State Does

Plymouth residents were amazed at the information revealed Sunday evening by William Cameron of the Ford Motor company as to the amount of wages paid by that company during the year, when he announced that over $18,500,000 goes into the pockets of Ford workers every month.

That is more than $222,000,000 per year—twice as much as is used by the government of Michigan to operate all of its hospitals, build its highways, maintain its country schools, university, normals, prisons, old age pensioners, needy folks on the welfare, all of its state departments, its asylums, all of the money that comes back to the counties and cities and villages from various state funds.

Of so much interest is Mr. Cameron's brief address that The Plymouth Mail publishes it in full: Friends of the Sunday Evening Hour:

Money rouses less emotional interest and less of it is actually seen in a big industry than almost anywhere else on earth. It sometimes appears so low in the scale of usefulness, that even were it physically present in heaps of silver and bills it would hardly rank in importance with a pile of coal or a dock full of ore. Industry can be conceived as going along without money but not without ore and coal. The only intelligent thrill one can extract from money is in considering its ceaseless flow and the good it effects in its course. It is like the stream that turns the mill wheel and passes on, and in its nature the water returns again in rain, so in the economy of work the money returns to all who previously earned and spent it. The only possible answer to the question, "Where does the money go?" is that "It just keeps on going."

We had a glimpse of this at Detroit last week. The man whose job is to pay the bills returned.

Common Beliefs About Rabid Dogs Contradicted

Dr. Kershaw Explains Usual Symptoms

If your child is bitten by a dog have the wound dressed immediately by your family physician and place the dog under observation.

This advice was given this week by Dr. Cass J. Kershaw, D. V. M., who operates an animal hospital at 9525 Wayne road, when The Plymouth Mail sought information relative to widespread reports of rabid dogs in Michigan.

"Contrary to common belief," said Dr. Kershaw, "the usual period for rabid dog epidemics is just about over. Rabies usually is first found late in January or during the first part of February. The maximum number of rabid dogs are usually reported in April and May with the number of cases tapering off in June and only an odd case reported here and there throughout July and August."

"People confuse dog bites with rabies," the experienced handler of dogs explained. "Dogs are liable to be irritable in July and August and there are more bites because more children are playing with the dogs at this period."

Dr. Kershaw said that he knew of only five cases of rabid dogs in a radius of ten miles of the center of the city of Plymouth this year. This record, he said, is higher than in 1936 when hardly no cases were found but the 1937 number is far below the epidemic experienced here in 1935.

"The only bite that causes a person to have rabies is a bite by a rabid dog. If the dog that bites a person is rabid it will show recognizable symptoms within three or four days."

"If your child is bitten, for safety's sake, have the wound treated by your family physician immediately and lock up your dog yourself or have it placed under observation at a veterinary hospital."

"In case of suspicion of rabies, watch the dog. The easiest recognizable symptom is a change in the disposition of the dog. If usually irritable the dog might become more affectionate or a well behaved dog might become irritable. Another sign is if the dog acts sick."

There are two types of rabies—the furious and the dumb. In the furious classification the dog shows a tendency to want to snap or bite things, animals or people. It may want to run away, leaving home for 24 to 36 hours at a time. Later the dog will begin to hold its mouth open because the lower jaw begins to become paralyzed and the dog will try to drink water but it can't swallow. It might try to lick dirt. Later complete paralysis of the jaw sets in but rabid dogs, contrary to common belief, do not foam at the mouth although saliva drips from the mouth. Death follows complete paralysis of the dog's jaw."

"In the second or dumb type of rabies the dog shows no inclination to attack anyone but its mouth hangs open as it can't swallow food or water but continually tries to do so. Afterwards complete paralysis sets in and death follows."

Dr. Kershaw warned, however, against jumping at the conclusion that any dog that bites a person is rabid.

"It is easy to mistake other things for rabies," he said, "and very often good dogs are destroyed unnecessarily. Remember that a rabid dog never has fits. In case of doubt in the mind of the owner anyone trained in handling dogs can always tell definitely whether the dog is rabid after a few days observation."

Dr. Kershaw has operated his animal hospital near Plymouth since 1933. Previously he was superintendent of the Michigan Humane society in Detroit for 18 months. He was graduated from Michigan State college in 1930. He was a major in the R. O. T. C. cavalry unit at college and now holds a first lieutenant commission in Troop K, 106th Cavalry, Michigan National Guard.

MRS. A. G. STECKER

Barbara Bake Weds Wayne Man Here Saturday

Pretty Ceremony Performed In Garden

The wedding ceremony uniting Barbara Louise Bake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bake, of this city, to Austin George Stecker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stecker, of Wayne, was performed in the formal garden of the bride's home, at 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, May 29, by the Rev. D. C. Littlejohn, pastor of the Methodist church, in Wayne.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of pink organza with short veil in pink, which was fastened in back with tiny crab apple buds. Her slippers were of matching pink and she carried an arm bouquet of crab apple blossoms.

Barbara Horton was her only attendant. She wore a gown of blue net with blue slippers, a garden hat of yellow and carried an arm bouquet of yellow tulips. Kenneth Lockhart, of Wayne, was best man. William Bake, brother of the bride, was the usher.

A reception was held in the garden following the ceremony with 75 relatives and friends present. White lilies and a beautiful four-tiered wedding cake decorated the table.

Mrs. Bake chose a gown of oyster flowered satin and wore a hat of black straw and corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Stecker wore a Dubonnet dress with cape, a white felt hat and a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Stecker left immediately on a motor trip to Montreal and Quebec. They will make their home in Detroit. For traveling the bride wore an ensemble of light beige and brown, a blouse and bag of saharah red and beige and brown slippers. Her corsage was bronze tulips.

The happy couple have many friends who extend best wishes to them for a long, contented life together.

Neva Lovewell Takes Part In Detroit Conclave

Outlines School System of Crime Prevention

Miss Neva Lovewell, an English instructor of the Plymouth high school, took part in the Thursday morning panel session of the Central States Probation and Parole conference which attracted representatives of 40 states to Detroit this week.

Miss Lovewell, the only public schools representative given a place on the extensive four-day program, was a speaker on the special program on Crime Prevention. She outlined the vocational, music, recreational, and health program being carried out in the Plymouth school system and which is considered as a model in crime prevention circles.

Others who took part in the Thursday morning panel discussion, besides Miss Lovewell, were Fred Johnson, and William Norton, Michigan Children's Aid; Herbert P. Orr, vice chairman of the State Crime commission; Ruth Collins, superintendent of the House of Detention for Women, New York City; former Probation Judge George Read, of Detroit; and Winthrop D. Lane, division of paroles, New York City.

Hilmer Gellein, state commissioner of pardons and paroles, presided at the afternoon session Thursday. Between 300 and 400 delegates attended the conference.

Musical Is Attended By Few

It is seldom that a city the size of Plymouth has an opportunity to enjoy an evening of such unusually fine music as was given on Wednesday evening in the high school auditorium. Three choral groups representing choruses from Plymouth, Northville, Walled Lake and Clarkston presented a varied and beautiful program. It is a pity that so many Plymouth music lovers were absent and that the audience consisted of a mere handful of people.

Professor Frederick Alexander, director of the well-known Michigan State Normal choir at Ypsilanti, made a special effort to come over for the concert as he felt a great interest in this worthwhile project of combining singing groups from different towns for a spring festival. He, as well as Mrs. Annis Dexter Gray, voice teacher, Miss Dorothy James, composer and instructor at M. S. N. C. and Miss Lillian Ashby, public school music supervisor and critic later met with the singers and directors for an after-concert get-together. Mr. Alexander, who very graciously consented to say a few words to the group, praised both the choral groups and their directors very highly. Charles Hutton, director of the Walled Lake and Clarkston groups and Leslie Lee, director of the Northville-Plymouth male chorus and the combined mixed choruses are to be congratulated for the splendid results they have achieved.

TAXES.

Following closely the trend of public sentiment in Lansing official circles, one has a right to come to the conclusion that there is little interest left in the question of economy in the conduct of public affairs any more. It seems that everybody has the idea that the taxpayers of Michigan have unlimited funds with which to pay the state all the money its officials may demand in tax ransoms.

In fact, one seems to be sort of out-of-step with the trend to oppose unlimited public expenditures. New taxes and more taxes are all that some think about and talk about.

Little, if any thought, is given to ways in which public monies might be saved and more efficient and economical ways injected into the conduct of public affairs.

The Plymouth Mail will make one prediction—some day the pendulum will swing the other way and when it does, you can rest assured that there will be such a scattering of the squanderers of the taxpayers' money that they will become like the wandering tribes of Israel. For the last half dozen years we have been throwing taxpayers' dollars to the four winds, without a protest from the taxpayers. But look out when the taxpayers rise up and demand an accounting—and that is coming, just as surely as the day of judgment.

THE BIG LAUGH.

It seems that Dearborn city officials have so far looked upon the request of Prosecutor McCrea for data pertaining to the riot in Dearborn the other day when Ford property was invaded by some trouble makers, with the same attitude most folks assume when they get a circular through the mail offering something that looks like a swindle. In other words, they feel that the prosecutor's request is not worthy of notice.

Mr. McCrea has no one to blame for such a feeling against his office but himself. He has demonstrated clearly that he is the prosecutor for one clan and the persecutor for another group.

When the public knows that Mr. McCrea has refused to consider the issuance of warrants for people known to be guilty of brutal assaults, where the law has been openly defied, how can he expect decent and respectable public officials of Dearborn or any other community in Wayne county to pay the slightest attention to anything that comes from his office?

Might we not ask the prosecutor right now something about the slot machine racket that blazed forth in all its glory in Wayne county right after the fall election last year. What about it Mr. Prosecutor, is there any graft anywhere in connection with it, and if so, WHO is getting it? You, Mr. McCrea, are in a position to know all about it.

FOREVER GRATEFUL.

Certainly it was a happy occasion for the editor of The Plymouth Mail when nearly half a hundred business men who hurriedly and without much thought for prepared arrangements, came over to Lansing last week to say "hello" and offer expressions of commendation for his attitude on various issues before the state legislature. It was one of those groups called together quickly and without any prepared list of those to be invited. "Everybody's welcome", said Leonard Murphy of the Chamber of Commerce as he tried to contact as many as he thought could get away for the evening. Unfortunately, some were missed. But everybody had a good time, visited the legislature and presented the editor with a beautiful gold watch. "Just for using your head", said some of the visitors. Probably all cannot agree with that sentiment, but the writer feels that he is forever bound to Plymouthites for their display of confidence and good will. Possibly the visitors did not realize it, but the expression was one that has made permanent for all time a never-ending duty and service to Plymouth, one of the finest and most progressive little cities in all America.

Dear little girl, may you fill this day
To the very end with the joy of play;

In the kindly glow of the morning light,
May your heart be happy and warm and bright;

Through delightful hours the whole day long,
May you romp with laughter and cheer and song;

In whatever way you may choose to go,
May the flowers of beauty and kindness grow;

And when shadows tell that the day is done—
When you weary of pleasure and play and fun—

Then may gentle arms and a loving breast
Hold you tenderly, and bring blissful rest.

RAMBLING with Editors AROUND of Michigan

$100 FINE FOR FARMERS?

Farmers generally seem to have been pretty well pleased in a lot of cases with the AAA program, and this is not surprising when it is considered that much money has been disbursed to them.

Up to this time the program has been more or less voluntary. A farmer could take up with the plan if he wanted to, or he could leave it alone.

Now, however, under a new proposed federal law, an agricultural policy is being formulated which farmers may not like quite so well.

One section of the bill says "Farmers engaged in the production of any major agricultural commodity for market shall furnish such proof of their acreage, storage and marketing of commodities in the form of records, marketing cards, reports, storage under seal or otherwise as may be necessary for the administration of this section and prescribed by regulation of the secretary. Any farmer failing to furnish such proofs in the manner and within the time provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and under conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not more than $100."

This one section alone would apparently make it necessary for a farmer to keep complete sets of books on every crop he raises, and it is our idea that few farmers could set up a system of books that would answer the requirements, or would think it worth while to keep them up afterwards.

But if he did not do this, and should be asked by a government inspector how many beans, for instance, he raised last year, how many he sold and at what price, how many he stored and all the rest of it, and could not answer definitely, he might have the $100 fine to pay.—James Gallery in The Tuscola County Advertiser.

SOMETHING WRONG.

Something must be wrong with our economics. Sunday evening, William G. Cameron of the Ford Motor company, in speaking in the Ford Sunday Evening hour, referred to the increase in the Ford payrolls during the first four months of 1937 as compared with the same period of 1936. The increase is approximately $15,000,000. If the Ford payrolls alone have increased to that extent, then the total payrolls of the state must have increased many times that amount. Taking twice that amount as a conservative estimate one may conjecture some errors in our economic thinking.

The Michigan emergency welfare relief commission has expended something like $18,000,000 during the past year. They are still seeking as much or more for the next fiscal year. Something is wrong. Either the increase in payrolls is of no benefit or the money the welfare is spending is of no benefit.

If payrolls can increase at the rate indicated and still there remains necessity for continued welfare spending on the same scale as before the increase, then it is time some responsible agency set itself to the task of finding out where the trouble lies.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

New Books At The Library

Working out arrangements of flowers to fit the bowl or vase and to blend in with the room requires skill. In some countries the subject is studied in great detail. Here, most people do not devote a great deal of time to studying the art, but would be glad for a few practical suggestions. If you are interested, these books from Wayne county library branches will prove valuable. If they are not in your branch, they may be interloaned from another library.

"Flower and Vase", by Anne Lamplugh. Flower arrangements for every type of room and for all sorts of backgrounds, with excellent illustrations. At each chapter-end there is a table showing the gardener what flowers are available that month in greenhouse, garden or country lane, and what should be planted, and listing for the non-gardener reasonable flowers in the shops. Unusual features are the miniature table-gardens and recipes for sweet-jar, rose jam and the like.

"Arrangement of Flowers", by Annabel W. Hine. This book is intended primarily for those who want flowers in the house and wish to know enough about their arrangement to have them show to advantage, but have neither the time nor the inclination to go deeply into the subject.

"Arranging Flowers Throughout the Year", by Katharine Thomas Cary. She explains the three types of flower arrangement, the Japanese, the massed and the line arrangements, and advises one about the use of distinctive flower forms and of color, writes of design and composition, proportion and lighting, receptacles and other matters and warns against certain mistakes.

"How to Arrange Flowers", by Dorothy Biddle. Simple rules for the arrangement of both garden and house flowers. It contains a few hints for exhibitors. There are other more attractive books but this is inexpensive and practical, though slight.

"Flower and Table Arrangements", by Mrs. Esther Murphy. A very beautiful book, fit to fascinate any lover of flowers and to delight and inspire any devotee of the art of using them for indoor decoration.

In South Africa they have managed to speed up the rate of growth of certain fruit trees by giving them doses of oil. After severe winters it was found that blossoming was very uneven, and all kinds of remedies were tried. Eventually one experimenter sprayed them with a raw linseed oil emulsion about a month before blossom time. To his joy they not only blossomed earlier, but produced bigger fruit.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH—Loya Sutherland, minister. Our monthly communion service at 10 o'clock. This table is open to all Christians and we invite you to fellowship with us. The pastor brings the communion meditation. 11:15, Bible school. 6:30, meeting of the B. Y. F. U. Evelyn Bower, leader. 7:30, we give at this hour the first of two addresses on the Jewish race with reference to their part in the program of the Eternal God. Our own inhumanity has largely made the Jew what he is, and now we revile him for being that which our treatment has produced. We believe you will have great interest in knowing something of where we are as regards God's Time-clock, and in following out the exact fulfillment of prophecy regarding His chosen people. We continue our studies in the Book of Hebrews on Wednesday evening at 7:30. The monthly meeting of the aid society will be held next Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Richard Widemaker, on West Ann Arbor road. This church expects to conduct another vacation Bible school which is to begin on the 28th of June and will continue for two weeks. Full announcement regarding the plan and the faculty will appear later.

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN church—Livonia center. O. J. Peters, pastor. No services in this church on Sunday, June 6. Mrs. Perry D. Campbell, leader Circle No. 3 of the Auxiliary, will serve a church supper, June 9th at 5:30 p.m. A Children's Day program will be presented by the Sunday school at the regular Sunday school hour, 11:30 a.m., June 13th. Sunday morning the new combined service will go into effect for the four Sundays of June. Sunday school will begin at 9:45 instead of 11:30 as before. The worship service will then begin at 10:30 instead of 10:00 as before. Sunday school and church will be one service with no intermission between, and everyone will be ready for home and dinner at 11:30. The Women's Missionary society will have its annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Levi Clemens Wednesday at 12:30. There will be the usual luncheon. At the worship hour Sunday morning communion will be served. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joffile will act for the first time as the communion stewards. All who desire to do so are cordially invited to join a picnic pilgrimage after church Sunday to the Saline Valley Farms. Mr. Mills who has recently moved to Plymouth will conduct the trip. Mr. Mills has been connected with the Saline Valley Farms project since its beginning. Those who wish to go are invited to bring their Sunday dinner with them to church. We shall eat at the church or take the dinner to the farms, whichever the group decides to do.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Cor. Hardenburg and N. Holbrook Ave.—When driving along the highways, very often we see signs reading thus: "Danger Ahead." What does this warning mean? It means that an obstruction or some danger of a particular kind is just ahead. By driving slowly and heeding the warning, our life is saved. The Lord Jesus said: "Them which do iniquity, shall be cast into a furnace of fire; there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth." Matt. 13:41. The Bible is filled with many such warnings. There is danger of hell-fire for all who fail to obey God's divine warnings. There is no way to get out of hell and only one way to keep out. Again the Lord Jesus says: "He that heareth My Word and believeth Him that sent Me hath everlasting life and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." John 5:24. Both services Sunday will be in charge of Mr. Cameron from Detroit. Those who heard him will remember he preached on Sunday morning two weeks ago. Don't fail to hear Mr. Cameron Sunday; morning worship at 10 o'clock, evening evangelistic message at 7:30. Bible school at 11:30. Praise and prayer worship each Wednesday evening at 7:30. You are welcome to attend any of our services at any time. Meet with us at Calvary! (A.E.B.)

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Col. 3:2): "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 69): "Spiritually to understand that there is but one creator, God, unfolds all creation, confirms the Scriptures, brings the sweet assurance of no parting, no pain, and of man deathless and perfect and eternal."

Boy Scouts Enjoy Camp Brady Trip

(Omitted from last issue) Sixty-four boys and men from the Plymouth district of Boy Scouts enjoyed an overnight hike at Camp Brady over a recent week-end. The weather Saturday could not have been improved upon, and on Sunday the rain was considerable enough to hold off until the campers were ready to start home. Every one had a wonderful time.

Outstanding parts of the program were the baseball games, the campfire Saturday night down by the lake, the bird study hike on Sunday morning, the church service in the lodge before breakfast, and last but not least, the three exceedingly good meals that Camp Chef Mike Monahan, gave the boys. Scouting advancement was not forgotten either. One boy finished up his second class card, another boy finished his first class work, and a number of boys took their tests in scout pace, tracking, fire building, and the use of the knife and hatchet. When the troop was on the hike Sunday morning they saw a total of 35 different kinds of birds, ranging from wrens to cranes and hawks. They became acquainted with a pair of big blue racers and some of the boys even included a big airplane among their birds.

Several features of the camp resembled those of previous district camps. During the night several flash lights changed their positions to the camp commander's cot, and on Sunday morning one would have thought that a farmer had been planting a field to beans to see the floor of the lodge, but all that is part of the fun of the Camp Brady overnight. Two or three of the boys also will be able to recognize poison sumac all the more easily the next time they go to camp. Their knowledge comes from experience. Those among the boys who follow Isaac Walton caught several fish from the swimming dock. Some of these must have been as much as four or five inches long. Naturally, the fish went back to tell their fellows their strange experience. At the camp fire Saturday night, Dick Loomis entertained the campers with the first chapters of Paul Bunyan's life and adventures. Other items of this camp fire program were Don Moore's harmonica playing, and the impromptu solos by Harold White, Alan Strong and Howard

Ebersole. Field Scout Executives William F. Church and Charles B. Warner, were the headquarters representatives at camp. Mr. Warner has only recently come to the Detroit scout office from Kansas, and this was the first time he had been at Camp Brady. He made a very good impression on all the boys and men.

It is hoped that another overnight hike can be undertaken by the district next fall when perhaps even more scouts and leaders and fathers can take advantage of this very pleasant outing. Announcement was made at camp of the next three events which will interest the Plymouth scouts. The first will be a council camporee which will be held in Rouge Park on June 4, 5 and 6. This camporee is an exhibition of patrol camping by the boys themselves without adult supervision. On June 12, occurs the 10th annual commissioner's boat hike. This hike is a cruise on the steamer Putin-Bay to Put-in-Bay Island. Probably 2500 scouts with their families will attend.

The last formal part of the scout program of the Plymouth district will be the outdoor Court of Honor to be held in the Northville play field of the Middle Rouge parkway on the evening of June 10. It is hoped that there will be a large amount of advancement for which the boys of the district will receive awards at this time.

News From The Kenyon School

(Omitted from last issue) (By Doris Williams) We were recently presented with a bronze trophy by the Automobile Club of Michigan. We were one of five rural schools in Wayne county to receive this honor. Earlier in the year we received an honor award banner. The three eighth graders, Jack Schaufele, Doris Williams, and Earl Squires, received their diplomas Wednesday. Our school picnic, the last day of school, was held Thursday, the 27th at Riverside park. (By Robert Bramblett) Alta and Glenn Moyle visited Milan Saturday and saw a carnival and furniture exposition. Doris and Harold Williams visited their sister at Lansing Sunday. Robert Bramblett attended the Northwestern high school graduation play in Detroit Friday.

MACCABEES HOLD MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

(Omitted from last issue) The Lady Maccabees entertained their mothers and daughters at a banquet, May 19, at the Jewell-Blach hall.

About 125 were served a most delicious dinner. Vaneta Algure was chairman of the kitchen committee and Naomi Atchinson had charge of the dining room. The tables were tastefully decorated with spring flowers and presented a very attractive appearance.

After the dinner Commander Grace Martin in her pleasing manner, spoke a few words of welcome to the guests and invited all upstairs to the lodge room where the program, in charge of Dora Wood and Edna Magraw was given almost entirely by members of the Junior Court.

The program consisted of songs, readings, tap dancing and a play entitled, "What is Home Without a Mother?"

A fitting tribute was paid to Lady Hattie Holloway for being the oldest Maccabee mother present by the presentation to her of a beautiful bouquet as the Junior girls sang "Little Old Lady". Much credit is due the committees in their combined efforts to make this mother and daughter banquet the success it turned out to be.

Push Rural Electrification

Consumers Power company, pushing its rural electrification program built during the first four months of 1936 the largest electric mileage ever constructed by a single utility in a similar period. D. E. Kain, vice president and general manager, announced today.

By building and energizing 1-108.35 miles of rural-line between January 1 and May 1, the company took electricity to 5,660 new rural customers, and brought the total of farm users to 32,212.

At various stages of construction were 190,638 additional miles of line.

Applications on file with the company and accepted for construction involve 1,510.6 miles more, with 7,550 customers. Requests for service are being received at the rate of 1,000 customers per month, according to Mr. Kain, suggesting that by the year's end Consumers will be serving almost 48,000 farm customers.

In the 506 townships served by the company in 44 counties are 80,628 farms. About 4,000 are served by municipal plants and other utilities. With construction by Consumers maintaining its present pace, January 1 will find the area more than 64 per cent electrified, with 51,800 farms connected with electric lines. This will give it a leading place among rural areas of comparable size throughout America.

Farm customers of Consumers used an average of 80 kilowatt hours during April, as compared with only 64 in the same month last year. The cost was slightly more than three cents per kilowatt hour—a bit less than in 1936 because of increased use.

The April report shows that many farmers have installed electric water heaters and obtaining the benefit of the one-cent rate step," said H. J. Gallagher, farm service supervisor.

In one case a farm customer was using 800 kwh for refrigeration, cooking, motors and appliances. His bill was $14.20, the first 200 kwh costing $5.20, the remainder a cent and half per kilowatt. By installing a water heater and obtaining the rate of one cent, instead of a cent and a half, after the first 200 kilowatt hours, he was able to use 300 additional kilowatt hours without any increase in the monthly bill, practically assuring free water heating.

Plymouth Corners Society of Junior D. A. R. Holds Dedication Service

Leaders of State Prominence In D. A. R. Present

Mrs. Frederic B. Stevens, D. A. R. presented a beautiful silk flag to the Plymouth Corners society. C. A. R. at an impressive dedication service, held Saturday, May 22, 1937.

Betty Ann Mastick, the Junior-president, presided over the meeting. The pages who led the professional were all members of the local society, Jane Holden, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Yerkes of Northville, Maribelle E. Horst, Margaret Jean Nichol, Jean Ruth and Mary Lou Litsenbecker of Northville, Zedonna and Sally Ann Horst and Nancy Jean Mastick. The color-bearers were Charles W. Horst, who carried the United States flag loaned by the Kiwanis club, Robert Vibbert, Detroit, with the D. A. The junior president called the meeting to order with these words: "We assemble to perpetuate the memory of our forefathers, who by their valor, devotion and unselfish sacrifice, builded a glorious nation, that gave birth anew to the cardinal principles of freedom, liberty and righteousness." Edward Strong, color-bearer for the C. A. R. society marched in and placed the new flag in its pedestal.

Mrs. Frederic B. Stevens, the donor, presented the flag to the Plymouth Corners society and the junior president accepted it in behalf of the society. Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, the chaplain of Sarah Ann Cochrane D. A. R. led in the pledge of allegiance to the new flag. All assembled joined in singing the "Star Spangled Banner" led by Mrs. Warren Ross Carlin at the piano. Mrs. Robert L. Kerr, the state director of C. A. R. then read the dedication service compiled by Mrs. Sidney D. Strong of Plymouth.

Mrs. Bessie Howe Geagley, the state regent of Michigan D. A. R. gave an interesting talk, entitled "Flags". She had miniature flags with which to illustrate her talk; each one representing the different flags that were used by the colonists. This made a complete and appropriate picture of the flag that we honor today.

Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, the regent of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, D. A. R. which sponsors the C. A. R. group made a charming speech of welcome and invited the guests to tea.

Mrs. Charles W. Horst, Jr., senior president, introduced the distinguished guests:

marked to each man whose job is to buy the materials. "Well we have to pay out $43,000,000 on the 20th for you." Of course, checks go out daily, but the 20th happened to be a "heavy" day. These checks for materials go to 6,943 other employers who supply us with what we need and who in their turn employ several million men. Every day is pay-day for Ford employees too; it is impossible to pay all our 122,000 shopmen at one time. And none of it is seen or handed except by the pay office and the men who receive it.

Last month Ford checks for materials went to 45 of the 48 states. Each of seventeen states received sums ranging from one million to 26 million dollars. Each of four states received from half a million to one million dollars. Three states each received between a quarter and a half million. The rest received a quarter of a million dollars or less. And, naturally, each state paid part of that for supplies from other states. The total for the month's material, more than 72 million dollars, was used by our nearly 7,000 suppliers to pay their workmen and their material bills. For it must be remembered that those who supply us have their suppliers too. One of our suppliers deals with 3,711 manufacturers who supply him; another with 1,050; another with 729—and so on. All one can see of the money is its endless flow from buyer to seller, which instantly makes the seller a buyer again and the buyer a seller with wages all along the line.

The mention of large sums of money often causes people to wonder what they would do if they had it. The answer is that if it came to them by honest industry there would be little choice what to do with it. They would first have had to pay it out before they could receive it at all, and then, if everything worked well, it would return to them; but, in order to keep everything working well, they would immediately have to pay it out again—that is the way the world is made. Money is just part of a mechanical round. Our basic wealth is the life that money helps to support. The sales department announces that it will need next month, say, 100,000 cars. The purchasing department proceeds to buy material to make those cars. The disbursing department pays for that material. The money goes back to every community that contributed in any way to the manufacture of the cars—and that means farms, forests, mines, shops, mills, oil wells, railroads, ship lines and laboratories over all the land. It would be difficult to name anything our industry does not use. We buy everything from straw to radium. The money for this comes from everywhere and goes back everywhere.

"Yes," some wisecracker says, "and plenty of it sticks that never comes back." Well, we often wish that everyone could have a grandstand seat overlooking the whole industrial process, to see how far such a remark is true. In the ordinary run of business the Ford factories, considered as an investment, ought to yield private dividends of many millions of dollars a year. As a matter of fact, in 33 prosperous years less has been taken out of the Ford business than has been taken out of some other concerns in two depression years. It makes hard-fisted money-makers wonder why Henry Ford is in business at all. Those who know him are sure that the principal satisfaction he gets out of his business, and he gets plenty of it too, is the satisfaction of seeing his production of cars go out in the interest of the public and his men. Plain people very readily understand that; the exceedingly clever often find it a bit difficult to grasp.

Money figures are useful in showing which way we are going as a nation, and for the first four months of 1937 they are reassuring. In the first quarter of this year the Ford Motor company spent for materials 271 millions, as against 199 millions for the first quarter of last year, and 70½ millions for wages as against 54 millions for the first quarter of last year. Always remembering that materials, in the last analysis, are wages, this is a substantial increase in general benefit. The country would seem to be making some progress in spite of the numerous and costly hindrances that have been put in its way.

Plymouth Girl Wins College Honors

Miss Mary Mettetal of Plymouth was one of 12 junior girls selected by the faculty of the home economics division of Michigan State college for outstanding personality, activities on campus, and service to the college home economics club during their three years of college.

From this group, a final selection of one girl, Miss Jean Mann of Tekonsha, was made, to receive a $50 scholarship to Merrill-Palmer school in Detroit next year.

THE TONQUISH CREEK BREEZE

Vol. No. 1 Tonquish Creek, Michigan U. S. A.

Maybe The BREEZE has missed two or three issues, but that's no sign the BREEZE is dead. It's wide awake and right on the job. The BREEZE announced some time ago that the editor had gone bank robber hunting. Well, he's back and one of them daring robbers that gagged two of our bankers is now in the calaboose. How's that for doing things in a big way?

We wish to announce that this is our Fourth of July edition. We want you to know how dead from the heels up is our competition. They'll be dragging along in three or four weeks with their Fourth of July special edition with nothing in it. Read The BREEZE Fourth of July special edition. It's this week's paper.

Harold Finlan has been appointed chairman of the fire cracker committee. See him for details.

Clair Maben has been put in charge of the picnic dinner. It seems that Leonard Murphy couldn't get along with members of the Auxiliary society. He wanted some new fangled tomato drink on the menu and the women wouldn't have it. The women was right, so Clair has got his place at the head of the picnic committee.

Committee members will erect the grandstand tomorrow night where the speaker of the day, Carl Shear, will give his famous Fourth of July address upon the subject, "The Riparian Rights Along Tonquish Creek". Some bass wood poles have been cut up the creek and will be floated down to where the grandstand will stand.

The Fourth of July parade will form in front of The BREEZE office, with our G-Man Chief on a big white horse leading the parade. The parade will go from The BREEZE office west of the Creek where it will proceed down the waterway to where the grandstand will stand. At the crossing of Harvey road the parade will be joined by a detachment of swamp elm loggers, who will parade with cant-hooks over their shoulders, carried like guns. Fred Schrader, pioneer Cherry Hiller, will be in charge of the swamp elm loggers.

Abe Goldstein has just imported some new sort of gas masks. He says he will have enough for every one at the picnic. So far the creek hasn't been sending up its famous aroma this year, but Abe thinks by the time the Fourth gets here the aroma will be here too. He believes in preparedness. He fit in one of the great Injun wars. The creek is worldwide famous for its smell, it's just like the big gysers out west, only you can't see the aroma like you can the steam. But the Tonquish creek aroma is stronger than any gysur that ever was discovered.

Floyd Kehrl and Jack Taylor, the only two Tonquish Creek bankers who were ever gagged, have made plans to see to it that the BREEZE editor gets a congressional medal of honor for what he has done in hunting them bank robbers. They hope to have the medal here to present to The BREEZE at the Fourth celebration. The editor ain't saying much about it, but he did the whole job single handed.

There's lots more Fourth of July news. Just keep on reading every item you find in The BREEZE. It's full of fire cracker news and all other kinds of news.

The first letter that ever come to the BREEZE office by special delivery from the air mail got here while the editor was huntin' bank robbers. It came from John Larkins, way down in the alligator country. He says he knows how Tonquish Creek became a creek in the first place. It seems that all the folks around here when they dug holes for their first line fences dumped the post holes in the creek—and that's what made the creek, says the former Creeker who is now down selling alligator land.

Frank Rambo says Old Chief Tonquish never knew anything about Tonquish creek. He says the real Tonquish creek runs down through his cow pasture. Historian Charles Finlan says the records show nothing of the sort.

Our medical staff has been laying off late. Paul Butz has been brushing up on some sort of new basic science there's been something in the newspapers about lately. Some creekers think may be it's a new medicine to cure bunions and arge.

Earnie Allison, Clyde Smith, Walt Harms and general overseer Stewart Dodge have figured it out that the Shear address on the Fourth should be made before the picnic dinner. They say folks will be so hungry they want go to sleep during the speech. That's what The BREEZE calls pretty good judgment.

Plymouth Loses Free Hitting Affair

The Rocks lost to Rouge Tuesday, May 25, by a top-sided score of 15 to 5. The visiting Panthers collected 12 hits and 15 runs off Trinka, who pitched the game for Plymouth. The greatest part of these runs were unearned, for Plymouth made nine errors, which is poor support for any pitcher.

Although the Rocks got only eight hits, they made them count for they got five runs. Rouge made one error in the seventh which gave Plymouth their last run of the ball game.

The Panthers had men on bases in every inning and scored every inning except the sixth.

The first inning was the biggest scoring inning for either team. Crosson opened the game by arriving safely at second on an error. Montroy tripled. Crosson scoring. Nemith got on by a fielder's choice, scoring Montroy. Settler singled, then Poliska smashed a terrific home run over Gilles' head in center bringing in three runs. Mondon singled but was out at second, trying to stretch it to a double. The next two batters walked. Colvoco died to right. Crosson ended the inning by flying out to center.

In the second Rouge collected three more runs on errors by Hitt and May and a single by Nemith. Poliska singled and got home on three errors.

Rouge got one run with no hits in the third. Crosson got to third on three errors. Montroy walked but was out stealing second while Crosson scored.

The fourth brought three more runs for Rouge and—the fifth brought two more, but Rouge was stopped in the sixth and got no runs.

In the seventh Settles tripled and scored Rouge's last run on an out at first.

Plymouth's big inning was the first when Martin opened by drawing a base on balls. Hitt flied to Crosson. Then Trinka doubled scoring Martin. Hobbins got on by a fielder's choice and stole second. Leach flied out and Krumm singled. May walked and Gilles singled. Hoffman ended the inning by flying to right.

Plymouth was blanked in the second but got a run in the third on a single by Leach, a stolen base, a walk by Krumm, and a single by May. Plymouth should have had another run that inning and perhaps more, had Krumm not left third too soon on a fly ball and was doubled off third.

The fourth, fifth and sixth innings were bad for Plymouth for they were set down without any runs. In the sixth May, Martin and Gilles were struck out in order.

In the seventh Plymouth got its last run. Hitt got on by an error by Horn. Curtis singled, and Hobbins struck out. Folsom singled scoring Hitt, but Krumm and May struck out to end the ball game.

The winners of the annual D. A. R. essay contest have just been announced. For the best essay submitted on the topic of "The Development of Natural Resources in Michigan," Jeannette Brown was awarded the first prize of three dollars. The second prize of two dollars was won by Jewel Starkweather. These contests are sponsored each year by the Plymouth chapter of the D. A. R. The essays must be from 1500 to 2000 words long and always deal with some phase of state or national history. This year's contest was entered by six seniors.

Through the courtesy of the University extension service the girls of the high school will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Bertha N. Ashby speak at a special assembly next fall. Mrs. Ashby will be the main speaker of the mother and daughter banquet and expressed pleasure in the Girl Reserve groups here, saying that she was greatly impressed by the work they have been carrying on. Although Mrs. Ashby is officially the director of the Ann Arbor vocational placement bureau, she spends much time in talking to girls and helping them solve their problems. Thus the Plymouth Girl Reserves have accepted her offer to conduct an assembly here, and as the engagement has been made earlier than usual it will be financed by the extension department.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHERS

Russell Magraw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Magraw, has been a student in the Plymouth schools from the kindergarten on. Russ is quite a hunter and often tramps around in his idle moments trying to bag a rabbit or something else that crosses his sights. His favorite food is a nice piece of beefsteak slightly rare and Horace Heidt's Brigadiers are tops in orchestras. Russell has been a member of the glee club, F. F. A. band and the orchestra during his high school days. Although he is undecided as yet whether to become a plumber or an undertaker, Russell plans to be quite busy after graduation.

Dorothy Schmidt was born January 20, 1919, in Rosedale Gardens, and has always attended school in Plymouth with the exception of the sixth grade. That year was spent in Child's Park school near St. Petersburg, Florida. Her interests in high school have included Girl Reserves, Leaders' club, and all interclass sports, while for hobbies she likes ice skating and bicycling. Next year Dorothy wants to major in home economics at Michigan State college.

Weltha Selle (telephone number 177), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Selle, entered the Plymouth school in the sixth grade from Huntington, Indiana. This Hoosier girl claims to be quite a cook, having recently taken a home economics course, but can never forget the time she attempted an angel food cake without any sugar. Weltha has also been an active figure in class affairs taking part in both the Junior and the Senior plays and appearing in numerous stunt nights. Swimming and dancing occupy most of her time, but she will readily take time to enjoy a meal of French fried potatoes and steak or to listen to Wayne King's orchestra. After graduation, Weltha intends to turn secretary or something along the business line.

Winifred Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, was born near Salem, on October 4, 1919. She attended a Detroit school for one year and then came to Plymouth. Winnie likes to spend her spare time dancing or drawing and her favorite subject is biology. When Hal Kemp's orchestra is on the radio he holds her undivided attention. Winnie has been a member of Girl Reserves for six years and was "Hannah" in the senior play. After graduation she hopes to attend a business college.

Elaxis Skoglund, who hails from Duluth, Minnesota and who entered the P. H. S. in the ninth grade, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Skoglund. Lex, as he is commonly called, has a great number of diversions—mainly target shooting, hunting, fishing, swimming, and dancing. Lex prefers Ted Weems' music and for food will always take French fried potatoes and steak but not one slice of onion. He also has a tenor voice and has been in the school musicals and in the senior stunt. He claims that Walter Damrosch is, at the present time, writing an opera in which our tenor will yodel his way into the Metropolitan. All diversions aside, Elaxis plans to get a job soon after graduation.

Jewel Starkweather was born November 12, 1919, in Detroit and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Starkweather. It seems unnecessary to review her school life, for she has become so outstanding in her many activities that everyone is acquainted with them. She has gained honor especially for her work as a debater and has been in the senior Pilgrim Prints, and double quartet. She is president of the student council and served as secretary last year. She is also vice president of her senior class and was secretary last year. In spite of the fact that she has earned an all "A" record and is thus one of the valedictorians, she likes sports and has participated in many inter-class games. Her versatility was recognized when she was chosen as one of the two best

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS HIGH SCHOOL MUSICALS

(Omitted from last issue)

A large audience attended the annual high school musical, held in the auditorium last Friday evening to present the work of the music department under the direction of Miss Gallimore and Mr. Evans. In addition to the orchestra, junior and senior bands, junior chorus, and boys' and girls' glee clubs, several smaller groups were featured on the program. Among these were the woodwind trio, junior boys' choir, brass quartet, junior woodwind quartet, and girls' double quartet. The seventh grade chorus and a mixed chorus composed of the two glee clubs each sang two numbers also. The program included many familiar and well-liked compositions, some of which were "Valse Triste" by Sibelius; "Deep River" a Negro spiritual; "Cradle Song" by Brahms; "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn; "The Lost Chord" by Sir Arthur Sullivan; and "Will You Remember" from Romberg's "Maytime". All of the groups united in the singing of the finale, "Goodnight, Goodnight, Beloved" by Pinsuti. The accompanists were Norma Jean Roe, Carol Campbell, and Jean Hamill.

ACKETEERS LOSE MATCH TO FERDALE

Playing on only two courts there Plymouth was beaten by Ferndale. Because there were only two courts it was too late to finish the number one doubles match. Ferndale has improved very much since Plymouth last played them.

Houghton, F. defeated Moe, P. (6-1) (6-3).

Smith, P. defeated Williams, F. (1-6) (6-4) (6-1).

Kelso, F. defeated McAllister, P. (6-0) (6-0).

Grikman and Heldt, F. defeated McClain and R. Norman, P. (6-2) (11-9).

W. Norman and Anderson, P. No Match. Baker and LeClair, F. (2-6) (13-11).

MARGARET BENTLEY THE NEW GIRL RESERVE PRESIDENT

The annual Senior Girl Reserve May breakfast was held Thursday morning, May 27. The original plan to hold the breakfast at Plymouth Riverside park was changed because of the rain, and it was held in the high school cafeteria instead. Twenty people were present to enjoy the meal served of grapefruit, bacon, eggs, cocoa, cinnamon rolls, and butter.

The business meeting third hour consisted of the election of officers and the devotionals which had been planned for the breakfast. To the highest office of the club, that of president was elected Margaret Bentley. Doris Schmidt was chosen vice president, Ruth Roediger was chosen secretary, Marian Shoebridge was elected treasurer, and Marilyn Holton was chosen interclub counselor.

ROUND THE ROCK WITH P. H. S.'ERS

Althea Shoemaker was the guest of Cynthia Kruppa of Lansing for the week-end. Saturday she attended a Sigma Kappa sorority party.

Arlene Soth visited her brother Robert, in East Lansing, Sunday. Marilyn Holton spent Saturday night and Sunday with Doris Schmidt.

Winifred Smith and Hazel Sly were the guests of Miss Gertrude Wiley at the Whittier hotel in Detroit over the week-end. Saturday they saw "A Star is Born" at the Michigan theatre.

Elizabeth Hegge spent Friday night with Pat McKinnon.

Ireta McLeod spent the week-end with her sister Mrs. Spencer Heeny, in Farmington.

Miss Kees entertained 28 guests, mainly teachers, in the school at a shower Tuesday evening, honoring Miss Hauf. The guests played hearts, and Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. J. Rowland, and Miss Gray won the prizes. Lunch was served later on tables decorated with yellow tulips, forget-me-nots, and violets, and Miss Hauf received many beautiful gifts.

Belva Barnes spent the week-end with friends in Morley, Michigan.

STUDENTS SEE HOW ICE IS MADE

The seventh hour chemistry class took one hour off last Friday, May 21, to see how ice is made. The class left as soon as roll was taken and upon arrival was shown around the whole ice plant on Ann Arbor Trail. The attendant explained the work of ammonia in making ice and how the ice is kept clear. The students were then taken into the huge refrigerator where the temperature is 24 above zero. Some fun throwing snow-balls in summer time! Next it was explained how the heat was removed from the ammonia and from the water, then the guide showed how the 460-pound cubes are blocked on a machine with a buzz-saw that circles around the ice.

THE CALL

I can't hear it, but I feel it in my bones:
Tis camp that calls us from our homes.
I want to go to Maqua—get that sand back in my shoes.
That's where I want to be; that's where I first would choose.
I want to hear the birches sway; I want to play with girls all day. Oh I could sing and shout and cheer.
For camping time is almost here!
—Betty Ann Mastick

HOBBY BECOMES INCOME PRODUCING

One of the most interesting recent visitors at school was Philip Rieger of the class of 1930. Phil's hobby, photography, has netted him hours of pleasure, and what is more to the point, an income at times. It also landed him a job with commercial photographers. He has sent some very lovely enlarged prints to a Chicago exhibit and has on hand some unique and artistic studies that he hopes to use in a series of magazines.

FUTURE DEBATERS MEET AS GROUP

Twenty-six prospects for next year's debate team met for a short time in Mr. Latture's room, Wednesday, May 26. This is the largest number of people interested in debate that has ever met in a pre-season group. Nearly all of these will be freshmen, sophomores, and juniors next year. Mr. Latture, debate coach, explained the fine record Plymouth debaters have made and the excellent chance for new material next year. The school, he said, is again entering the "Twin Valley Activities Association" and will be in ten league debates, making it necessary to have at least six regular debaters. All of this year's team is being graduated this June. Jewel Starkweather and Tom Brock also told briefly the value of debate training.

Perfection Ldy. Win One, Lose One

The Perfection Laundry nine runs even in week-end games, losing 4 to 3 at Wyandotte Sunday and winning 10 to 9 over Inkster here Monday.

In the Sunday game Warren Bassett had hard luck for although limiting Wyandotte to but eight hits and one earned run he lost. In addition Bassett connected for three hits in four times at bat.

The Perfection team came from behind in the eighth inning to beat Inkster and to earn a three way tie for second place. Harry German, Sr., the 62-year-old hurler for Perfection, helped the cause by holding the visitors to two hits and no runs in four innings he worked in the box and in the eighth Bassett came in from the outfield to finish the game and earn his first pitching victory of the season in addition to getting four hits out of five chances.

Tight Pitching Gives Garden City Double Win
Waldo Scott shut out Belleville 2 to 0 on Sunday afternoon and Ray Pyle allowed the Ace of Clubs but one run on Monday afternoon while his mates collected seven runs to win both games and give them a tie for second place in the Michigan Inter-county League.

In the Belleville game Garden City was unable to score until the ninth inning when Hill walked Schreyer, lf 3 0 0 0 then came through with a single to right field and Bud Johnson W. Bassett, p 4 1 3 0 hit a grounder to short stop on R. Levandowski, lf 2 1 0 1 which Hill scored. Eddie Garrity smashed out another single to drive in Scott with another run. It was a nip and tuck battle all of the way. Scott struck out six men and was touched for six hits, two of which came in the ninth inning.

On Monday afternoon Ray Pyle struck out 12 men and allowed but one hit in the first eight innings. The Ace of Clubs shoved across a run in the ninth on three successive singles, a total of four hits for the game. Bud Johnson collected four hits in as many times at bat in addition to driving in three of Garden City's seven runs. Garden City went on to score four runs in the fourth, a single run in the sixth, and two more in the eighth.

Garden City's record to date is three victories as compared to one defeat. In the last 27 innings, Garden City's opponents have scored but one run.

APPRECIATION

Thank you friends and neighbors for your splendid co-operation to the new Purity Market since we moved and especially on the grand opening event. Your fine response was even greater than I anticipated and I want you to know that I deeply appreciate it.

Ten years ago I pledged myself to give you honest values, truthfully advertised and courteous service. I have tried and honestly believe that I did live up to my promise and your expectations and because of your faithful support during these ten years you have the right to expect and I do promise the continuation of the same policy of fair and square business dealings in the future.
