

The PLYMOUTH MAIL

PLYMOUTH ROTARIANS will pay tribute to Charles H. Bennett this Friday at their meeting on the event of his 90th birthday. A huge birthday cake is being prepared by the Hotel for the event and past-president, B. E. Champe will review some of the highlights of Mr. Bennett's life during the time he has been a member of the club. The above picture is one of the most recent taken of the Daisy president, shown at his desk in his home on Main street.

PLANS FOR THE JULY FOURTH PARADE were being concluded this week by co-chairmen Frank Arlen (left) and Robert Waldecker. Shown above, they go over the list of entries received thus far. Both stated that there is an open invitation to all organizations, businesses, farm groups, etc., to take part in the parade. The parade will follow closely the pattern set forth in former years, they said. Anyone desiring to enter the parade, which begins at 11 a.m. Saturday, July 4, may contact either Arlen, Waldecker or the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

"To Hold Seat" ... Arlen

Frank Arlen, deposed from his commission seat by a 6 to 0 vote of fellow commissioners last week, asserted Wednesday that he still was a bona fide city commissioner.

In a telephone interview he declared "I have been advised that the purported action taken by my fellow commissioners was illegal and not in accordance with the city charter."

Arlen's complete statement follows:

"I have read the comments made by my fellow commissioners. To render a comment on the same would be merely indulging in their fantasies. I personally do not feel their expressions or observations deserve the dignity of an answer.

"This action by my fellow commissioners has no justification in fact or in law.

"I have searched my conscience as well as the city charter and am convinced beyond a question of doubt that I have met all the requirements of a commissioner.

"This usurpation by my fellow commissioners is a violation of trust placed upon them by the people of Plymouth.

"And at the proper time they will have to account to the people of Plymouth.

"As for myself I have been advised that the purported action taken by my fellow commissioners was illegal and not in accordance with the city charter, in fact it was no action whatsoever.

"Therefore my status today is that of a commissioner in good standing elected by the people for a specific term of office which I intend to hold to the best of my ability."

Urge Unity On Future Expansion

"Plymouth (the city) has almost reached the saturation point—a point where there won't be much more progress."

This was the warning recently retold to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Official Board minutes tell that it was the general consensus of opinion that some steps should be taken between the city and township government to work together on mutual problems, notably sewage and water supplies and the much vaunted question of expansion.

At this same time the Board laid down a three-point refusal to sanction and support a drive for contributions that would be earmarked to help construct the Livonia General Osteopathic hospital:

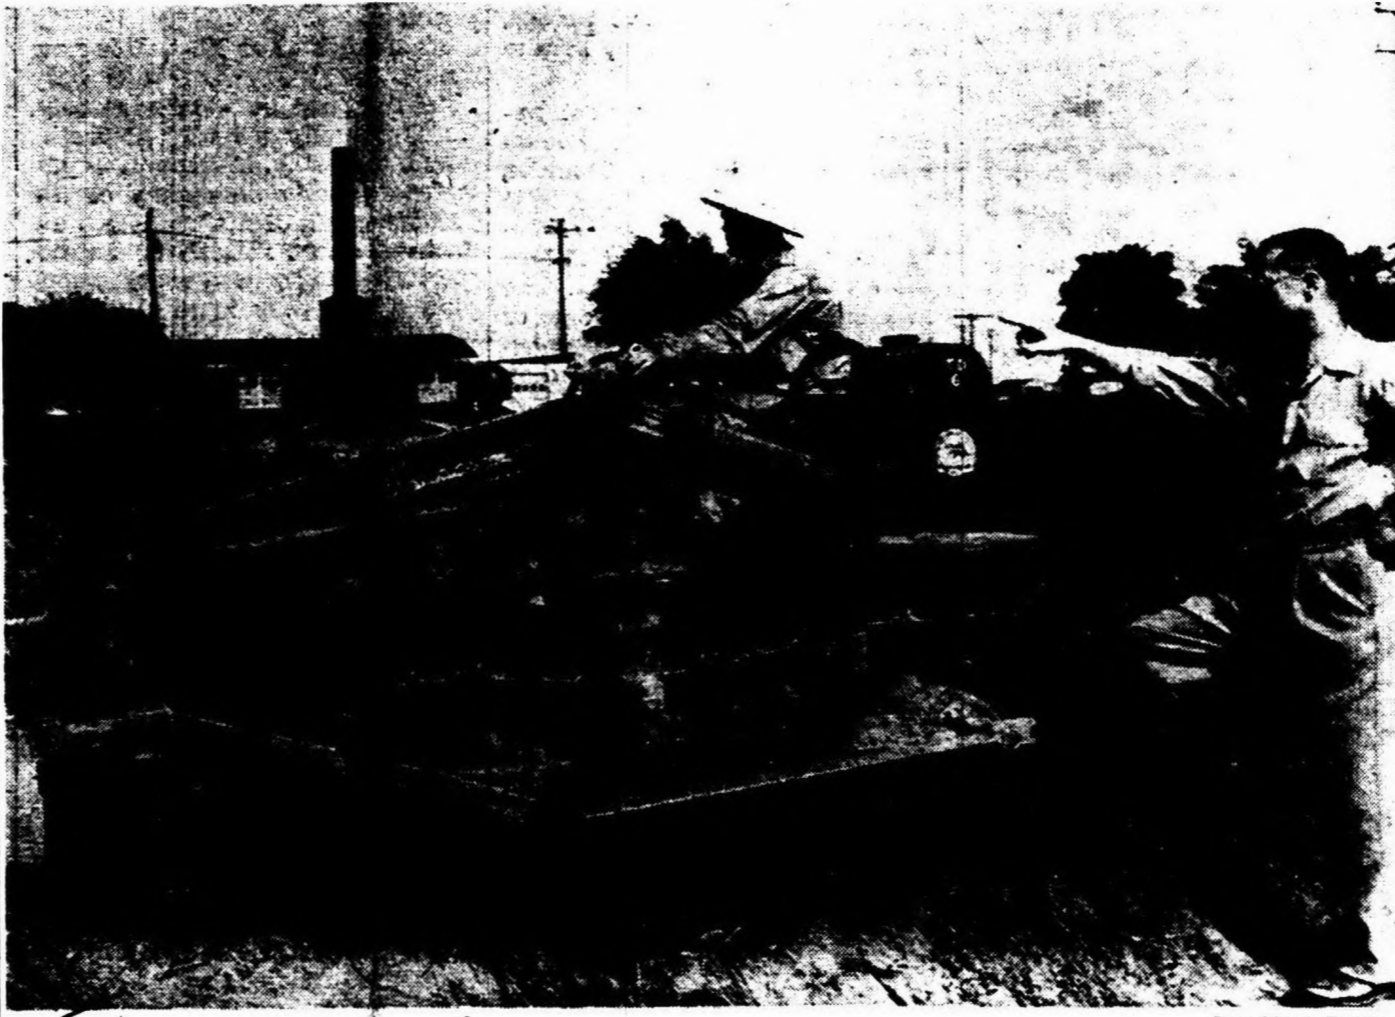

1) "The Felician Sisters have started a hospital (St. Mary's hospital), have land allotted for the hospital and several thousands of dollars contributed and are engaged in an architect.

2) "Many meetings have been held in Plymouth with Northville and Livonia groups in an effort to get the hospital started (St. Mary's).

3) "The Chamber of Commerce has been advocating the building of a hospital to serve this area and before supporting another project the first hospital should be pushed through to completion."

The seven-man Board, however, said that it would assure its support when St. Mary's hospital was completed.

In a joint statement the Board said it was vitally interested in (Continued on page 8)

WORKMEN STARTED CLEARING THE SITE of Plymouth's new Buick garage and salesroom which is being erected by Buick dealer Jack Selle on Ann Arbor road just east of Lilley road early this week. The imposing new garage will mark the second General Motors agency in Plymouth this year to be housed in new quarters. As work gets underway for Mr. Selle above right, finishing touches are being put on the Chevrolet garage on Main Street built by Ernest and Frank Allison. It took little time for bulldozer operator Joseph Hiitt to ready the land for footings.

Merger of Loan Firms Gets Washington OK

Local officers of the Plymouth Federal Association this week received official notice from the supervisory agency in Washington that their merger with First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Detroit was approved, effective July first.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Perry W. Richwine, secretary and attorney for the Plymouth Savings and Loan firm.

Richwine said at this same time that his Board of Directors gave official approval to a two per cent dividend payment in excess of normal interest earnings on all savings accounts, effective June 10. Some dividend payments will be paid in cash, others will be credited to individual accounts by June 30, Richwine said.

He also told of a meeting of First Federal officials held near press time yesterday, too late for reporting in this week's issue of The Plymouth Mail, reportedly to lay plans "to expand office facilities for taking care of the Plymouth office."

An announcement was made earlier by Richwine, who will be manager and closing attorney of First Federal's branch office here, that First Federal will open new offices in the remodelled Huston Building by October first.

It recalled that Plymouth Federal, now located at 865 South Main, was merged with the parent Detroit firm to bring to Plymouth area home buyers more than $5,000,000 in mortgage money, "immediately available."

News Report Proves Erroneous

Investigation of a Detroit newspaper report of organized dissent among Plymouth business men in regards to parking and city hall administration failed to substantiate the report as it was published.

At this writing no organized group can be found taking any action of the nature referred to in the article, and though there is general interest in Plymouth's acute parking situation civic leaders plainly stated they felt progress had been made.

Chamber officials speaking through secretary Sibbold pointed out that additional parking had been provided during the last year, some by business contributions and some by city participation. All agreed when interviewed that they would like to see more parking areas, but all realized the raising of funds is at present a stumbling block.

Mayor Russell Daane stated that there had been no secret meetings of the city commission and said sessions held in city hall offices previous to regular meetings did not constitute secret meetings. At these sessions, he pointed out, the public was welcome and no official business was transacted. He further stated that discussions in these pre-meeting sessions concerned only items on the agenda and any commissioner, early to the meeting, usually joined the session.

The author of the Detroit newspaper article when interviewed by The Mail stated the report he had had was unconfirmed and that it was entirely possible it might have been erroneous. Further investigation by The Mail revealed that at this time there is no organization functioning with any of these thoughts in mind.

Formaldehyde Poisoning Claims Mother of Seven

A Plymouth township woman, a mother of seven children, died last Saturday after she drank an unknown quantity of formaldehyde.

Dead is Mrs. Dorothy Slabaugh Schmidt of 43558 Shearer drive. The 40-year-old woman was the mother of six youths ranging in age from 6 to 17; the seventh being married.

She was born Dorothy Albright on August 19, 1912, in Temperance, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Albright, now of South Lyon.

Funeral services were held from the Sonderegger Funeral home last Tuesday with Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, of the First Methodist church, officiating. Burial was in Riverside cemetery.

Mrs. Schmidt is survived by her husband, Harold H. and seven children, Mrs. Glenadean Kennedy of Dearborn, James, 17, Donna, 16, Joyce, 14, June, 14, Mark, 10, and Martha, 6.

Pilgrim Shrine 55 of W. S. of J. will have a public installation on Monday June 29 at 7:30 p.m.

L. E. Hilts Heads Plymouth Branch of Safety Council

Seven top industrial leaders from Livonia-Plymouth area factories last week formed the Plymouth branch of the Detroit Industrial Safety Council.

Heading the local Council is Chairman L. E. Hilts, plant manager of Barnes, Gibson and Raymond. Co-chairman is Harry Roberts, superintendent of the Utilities Line Construction company. Herbert Black, safety director at Whitman & Barnes was elected recording secretary.

The local group was organized to stimulate industrial safety in area factories.

It claims the membership of the Ford Tank Plant and Detroit Transmission, a division of General Motors Corporation, both of Livonia, in addition to those already mentioned.

Other member representatives are from Burrpoughs Adding Machine company, Peerless Industries and Asplundh Tree company.

The monthly Home League Dinner of the Salvation Army will be held today, Thursday at 1 p.m.

Starts New Salesroom

Construction work on the new home of Jack Selle's Buick got underway here last Thursday at 200 Ann Arbor road.

The all steel and masonry structure will contain 9,000 square feet of floor space, housing a showroom 45 by 50 feet and a service-and-parts department some 80 by 90 feet.

Jack Selle, owner of the firm and Buick agency since acquiring it from Carl Shear last April, said the modernistic structure will be completed sometime in October.

Selle is the owner of the Selle Body Shop at 936 Ann Arbor road. He said the body shop will continue as a separate enterprise at its present location. It was suggested that the two businesses be merged, however, Selle said he turned down that recommendation.

Selle's Buick is presently located at 640 Starkweather.

Plan Many Events For July Fourth 3-Day Celebration

Last minute arrangements were this week being made to bring residents of the Plymouth area a highly diversified and entertaining array of talent for the annual Fourth of July Celebration.

Both General Chairman Marshall Kirkpatrick and Chamber of Commerce Secretary Nat Sibbold expressed the belief that the event would be the most successful yet held. Scheduled to run July 2, 3 and 4, the celebration will be held behind the Plymouth High school.

Highlights of the three-day event will be the appearances of Governor G. Mennen Williams and television personalities "Soupy" Sales and Merry Melody. Sales and Miss Melody will join Lucille Watson, former Olympic swimming star, in judging the Miss Plymouth Bathing Beauty contest. The winner will be crowned Saturday evening between 7:30 and 8:00 by the governor.

Children will find plenty of activity throughout the three days. A carnival consisting of (Continued on page 8)

Stop & Shop Owner Weds

Jay Rucker of Stop and Shop was married Wednesday night at the Presbyterian church to Nancy Kropf, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kropf of West Ann Arbor.

A wedding reception was held directly after the ceremony at the Mayflower hotel from which the couple left by car for Sun Valley, Idaho where they will spend the next few weeks.

39-Page Heating Code Passes First Reading

Plymouth's six-man city commission sat for nearly four hours last Monday and heard read to them a 39,000 word proposed reciprocal Heating Ordinance.

At times during the special session commissioners interrupted to get adopted single word revisions to the "novel-length" heating law. It is 39 type-written pages long.

It took just minutes after Mayor Russell M. Daane finished reading the last 14 pages (the city clerk read the first 25 pages) before the lawmakers cast six assenting yeas, putting the law into the "category toward adoption."

The city has been urged to adopt the Reciprocal Heating Ordinance drawn up by the Reciprocal Heating Council of Detroit and currently being used by 30 Metropolitan Detroit cities.

If adopted at two successive readings, the uniform heating code would permit only licensed contractors to install heating equipment. It would give inspectors the right to enter anyone's home or business establishment at any time of the day or night if they thought a heating unit was mal-functioning.

John M. Campbell, chairman of the Plymouth heating examining board and a member of the Detroit Heating Council, told commissioners last February that adoption of the new heating law would be a "distinct advantage."

Representing some seven other heating contractors here, Campbell said the uniform code would eliminate the multiplicity of heating laws from city to city that were seen as one possible cause of improper installations and confusion as to standards that must be met.

Before the code becomes law it must be reported out at two successive meetings with a quorum vote. It becomes law 21 days following the third reading.

No Jaundice, Lindsay Finds

Roy R. Lindsay, supervisor of Plymouth township, said Monday that reports of scattered cases of infectious jaundice in Plymouth township remained unconfirmed to this time.

"I have checked known sources of information and found that the only case of jaundice was right in the city," Lindsay said.

Nevertheless he cautioned dwellers here to report documented cases of the virus disease to the township health officer, Dr. Frederick E. Bentley, should they arise.

93 Win Bout to Keep Junction Zoned Residential

Some 93 Junction street area homeowners last Thursday won their bout with the city Planning Commission.

The planners reversed their stand and by a vote of 7-0 returned the proposed zoning of areas north of Junction street to R-1 (one family residential). Under the proposed law the Junction street area would have been zoned M-1 (light industrial) and M-2 (general industrial).

The 93 property owners bitterly contested the proposed industrial zoning at a public hearing held on June 11. Through signed petitions the petitioners told the planners that "we feel the proposed change is unwarranted, unreasonable and will be of no benefit to the city."

City planners for months now have openly asked and sought recommendation for changes in the proposed zoning law before it went before commissioners for final approval.

At a meeting to be held on July 2 city planners say they will put to a vote other recommendations for zoning changes, among them protests from the Garling Construction Company and the Chamber of Commerce.

Garling Construction company of Dearborn, through its agency representative, Thomas E. O'Brien, officially announced beginning construction of a 52-house subdivision here costing more than $750,000.

O'Brien, who has offices on Jener street near Wing, disclosed that his firm will again finance under GI home loans with a minimum down payment of 10 per cent.

"GI loans have been out of the picture for more than a year," O'Brien said. "It is expected they will be revived this summer."

The new subdivision is located just east of South Mill and south of Park drive. It is bounded on the east by the scenic Middle Rouge Parkway.

A model house now under construction will be completed at the subdivision called Parkview within the next four to six weeks. Garling will announce its official opening to public inspection at a later date.

The model house is a conventional brick-faced bungalow with basement and attic. The five-room structure will have two bedrooms.

"We'll be building a diversified type of housing. Buyers can designate the type of model they like from a variety of house plans," O'Brien said.

The average cost of the houses will be about $12,500. That cost will include city water and sewerage, paved streets and sidewalks.

O'Brien indicated that down payments for houses financed conventionally will be about 25,000 or less, although exact details of financing have not been completed up to this time.

Buyers will have choices of subdivision lots some of which are 90 feet wide with an average depth of 120 feet. O'Brien said his firm has already contracted with eight persons for houses there.

Each will be equipped with choices of kitchen equipment and ceramic bathroom tile, automatic hot water heaters and automatic forced air furnaces.

A plat map on page 8 of this section shows the layout of the subdivision. It is the second major Garling project here to be started within the last two years.

Cancellation of Kaiser Contracts Affects 350 Here

The Kaiser Motor company was told by the Air Force slightly before noon Wednesday that two contracts for "flying box cars" and a new type cargo plane had been cancelled. The two contracts totaled some $488,000,000.

The order, following on the heels of Senate probe into the cost of C-119's produced at Willow Run, affects some 350 Kaiser workers living in the Plymouth area.

The Kaisers' have delivered 59 C-119 planes at a cost of $1,200,000 each—some five times above contracts costs by Fairchild Aircraft Corporation.

Company officials said early yesterday that it was too early to tell just how the close-out order would affect Willow Run workers.

Edgar Kaiser, chairman of the Board of Kaiser Motors, was to have made press announcements late yesterday afternoon, too late for publication in The Mail.

The Air Force did not immediately disclose its reasons for the cancellation order. It was said to have been "completely independent" of a Senate investigation of air force costs which is now in progress in Washington.

The Air Force announcement did say that its $5,200,000,000 budget cut for 1954 was "not the prime consideration."

Commissioner Says UHF Not Inferior to VHF-TV

Washington, June 24—Former Chairman Paul A. Walker of the Federal Communications Commission, says there has been "a lot of misrepresentation" about Ultra - High Frequency television. In an interview with this newspaper's Washington correspondent, Commissioner Walker points out that there isn't too much difference between UHF and VHF (Very High Frequency) television if the UHF system gets enough power. (All the first stations in this country were VHF stations. Only now are the first UHF stations going on the air.)

"A man from Oregon told me the other day someone had picked up his UHF transmission a hundred and eighty-two miles away," Walker said. "When people talk of UHF only covering a short distance, that's all poppycock," he added flatly. "With greater power, it will cover greater and greater distances," Walker explained. Many small towns have UHF allocations for eventual stations since there are more UHF frequencies.

"Is that greater power needed in the UHF system pretty expensive?"

"The relative cost of the greater power required in UHF is not too much greater for practical be different..."

The question of the possibility for new wave lengths, and new TV station allocations came up. "There's a possibility here and there for dropping in a channel, and where one might eventually be dropped in, but there are no new wave bands," the Commissioner explained. And he added that the present wave bands were probably all TV would get for some time. Thus the allocations now in force might be considered almost permanent.

Under these allocations every section of the country will probably eventually have television stations and people in every town and on every farm will be within reach of at least one station. The allocations—both VHF and UHF—have been made and now all that is needed is someone to build and operate the stations.

Disease Fatal to Dogs Said to be Spreading

CHICAGO—The American Veterinary Medical Association, in an article published by the Associated Press, warns pet owners that a new highly fatal dog disease may be slowly spreading throughout the nation.

Called "Hepatitis X," the disease has been diagnosed in at least seven southeastern states. It is a liver infection of unknown origin and nearly 100 per cent fatal.

Afflicted dogs show typical symptoms of loss of appetite and listlessness. They often appear anemic and a yellowish discoloration affects their mucous membranes.

"Further study is needed to find out how widespread this condition has become and to determine the cause so steps may be taken to find the proper treatment," an association spokesman said.

It was observed that some dogs live a week while others die suddenly, once stricken.

The association urged pet owners to notify a veterinarian if they spot symptoms or sudden deaths occur.

The Allen Extension Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Carl Caplin, 46000 Joy road on Thursday evening, June 25 at 7:30 p.m. The topic to be discussed will be on Civil Defense. Mrs. Lee Coolman of Plymouth will give the lesson and their guest will be Mrs. Forest Olson.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

Washington, June 24—President Dwight D. Eisenhower is quietly getting his way in the Republican party, though the Chief Executive is working smoothly and unobtrusively to win over Old Guard members of the party to his internationalist views. The President's trip into the Midwest recently underscored his determination to line up the people, the grass roots strength, behind his foreign policy.

It is in the Midwest that opposition to the international policies of Roosevelt, Truman, Willkie, and Eisenhower has been strongest in the past years. Today the Republican party is still split on the same old issue. The President has found that some of his party's most powerful Senators are far more isolationist than he is in foreign policy thinking.

In trying to work out a truce, the Chief Executive has found recently that the most resistance and criticism of administration proposals has come from Republicans not Democrats. It has been Republicans who have turned many voters against the President's foreign policy, and made the Presidential job a tougher one.

To counter this, the President devoted much time and effort to his recent speeches in the West. He repudiated the suggestions of his good friends and fellow party members in the Senate like Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Knowland (R-Cal). And the President accomplished his purpose with the minimum of friction and without becoming involved in personalities.

The result is that Ike is putting over his foreign policy views well. The people still like him as much as they did last fall. Reporters watching the results of Ike's travel believe the President sold his foreign policy pretty well. They think, further, that Ike is going to win the contest between himself, and his views, and the so-called Old Guard faction of the party, which is inclined to be skeptical on foreign aid and all forms of internationalism.

In the international battle against Communism, two countries are steadily emerging as the key to the solution of U. S. problems.

They are Germany and Japan both former enemies, perhaps the toughest enemies of World War II. Though neither as yet has any military machine to speak of, the United States is pressing its European allies hard to open the door to German rearmament. Most U. S. officials feel that Germany is the key to Europe's defense and without German troops, the NATO army might not be able to stem as Red Army attack. President Eisenhower has repeated only recently his conviction that Germany is the key to the whole European defense problem.

And, in the Far East, it is now evident that Japan is our only potential major - power ally. China, usually friendly before, is now our enemy. Moreover, Japan is traditionally an enemy of the Russians, and of the Chinese, now Russian allies. Influential Japanese have prepared a rearmament plan which they hope the U. S. will help finance. It will require more than six years to accomplish. But a rearmament Japan as a U. S. ally in the Far East will strengthen Uncle Sam's hand in that area considerably.

There is nowhere else to turn for help. Thus, only eight years after Americans were being killed by Tojo's warriors, and Hitler's Nazis, we must take a position favoring the rearmament of both countries—as a crucial effort to halt the spread of a more serious threat, Communism.

Observers are now being mildly surprised as business record continue to fall rather than show a major slackening. It is true that there are weak spots in the selling picture, but income, wages, buying, new construction, industrial production, and liquid assets have continued to rise. While a slump or shakedown, in the economy is still expected, it might not be felt by many segments of the economy at all. Some "expert" predictions that the June quarter would reveal a business slowdown are being marked off the books, and new business volume records are being substituted.

Frank Lodges To Reside In Plymouth

Announcement is made this week of the marriage on Friday, June 19, of Alyce Clark and Frank Lodge.

Mr. Lodge is president of the Clark Aerial Survey Corporation in Plymouth.

The couple will reside at 45075 North Territorial Road.

The former Sarah Wiley circle 3 of the First Presbyterian church will have a picnic on Wednesday, July 1, at 6:30 p.m. at the Russell Rinehart home on Bradner road. All former members are invited to attend. Bring dishes and silver and a dish to pass.

The Fortnighter's club of the First Presbyterian church will hold their final meeting of the season at the Elmore Carney cottage on Little Silver Lake on Sunday afternoon, June 28.

Pay more? What for?

Fifty Years Forward on the American Road

You don't have to pay costly-car prices for costly-car comforts. Ford brings you everything [and we mean everything] you've ever wanted in a car, at a price that's well within your reach! And according to recent surveys, a Ford returns more of its original cost when sold than any other car at any price!

Here are a few of the "Worth More" advantages you'll find in the '53 Ford:

1. A V-8 engine—powerful and smooth
Ford's famous high-compression V-8 is a leader in quiet, flexible, economical performance. Ford, remember, has built more V-8's than all other makers combined—over 13 million!
2. America's most economical Six engine
If it's a Six you want, Ford offers you the high-compression, low-friction Mileage Maker... the engine which, with optional Overdrive, won over all other cars in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run!
3. America's finest and most versatile automatic drive!
Fordomatic Drive is the "auto-
- matic" which gives you both the get-up-and-go of automatic gears and the smoothness of a fluid torque converter.
4. Automatic gas savings!
Ford's Automatic Power Pilot (on Six and V-8) meters just the right amount of gas, times ignition precisely, burns fuel evenly and completely.
5. America's newest and finest power steering!
Ford's Master-Guide power steering gives you new ease, stability and safety in guiding your car on smooth roads or rough. Steering is up to 75% easier.
6. Largest choice of models in the low-price field!
Ford alone gives you a choice of

- 18 different models... a SIX or V-8... Fordomatic, Conventional or Overdrive... the widest variety of body, color and upholstery combinations.
7. A body that's the style-setter!
Only Ford in its field gives you the advantages of a full-tight Crestmark Body... the trend-maker in design and beauty. Ford's body is the longest and Ford's trunk, the largest.
8. New driving conveniences!
Ford's first in its field with "Worth More" features like... easier-acting, suspended pedals that eliminate floor holes... foam rubber cushions on front and rear seats in all models... and convenient Center-Fill Fueling.
9. An automatically controlled ride!
The wide front tread (widest in
- the low-price field) takes tilt out of turns... gives you a more level ride. With new "balanced suspension," new spring and shock absorber action and new rubber compression bumpers, road shock in the front end alone is reduced up to 80%.
10. It's worth more when you sell it!
An impartial survey of used car prices proved that Fords return a greater proportion of their original cost than any other cars in America.

But don't take our word for it. Stop in and Test Drive this Ford for yourself. We predict you'll be sold before you're in second! It was true last year and it's even truer this year; you can pay more, but you can't buy better than Ford.

"I BELIEVE," the hit song currently represented on the nation's best-seller lists by Frankie Laine's dynamic Columbia waxing, has won for its authors the Christopher Award for work "representative of the opportunity for those in the creative arts... to provide both inspiration and entertainment for the millions"... The Christopher Awards, in the words of Father James Keller, Director of the Christophers, are made annually for "creative works that reflect the power for good that can be exerted."

The award-winning composers are Ervin Drake, Jimmy Shirl, Al Stillman and Irvin Graham... A letter from the mother of a soldier in Korea to Jane Freeman of CBS-TV's "USA Canteen" program inspired the writing of "I Believe," the first song introduced on television to become a popular hit.

Red Buttons, CBS-TV's "comedy find" of the year by critics and viewer acclaim alike, is turning out to be a recording star, too, judging by phenomenal sales—400,000 in three weeks—of his Columbia pairing of "Strange Things Are Happening" and "The Ho-Bo Song"... Both songs are featured on his TV show, now seen weekly over 90 stations... Interesting sidelight to the Buttons hit is that members of his video studio audience were invited to Columbia's recording studio to witness the waxing... Their enthusiastic reaction can be heard on the record.

Local Authorities Order Carnival to Close Gambling Concessions

Local authorities under orders from Attorney General Frank G. Millard and the Wayne county prosecutor last Thursday ordered closed some 15 gambling concessions operated by a traveling carnival in full swing at memorial ground here until last Saturday.

Police Chief Carl R. Greenlee said last Friday he ordered the concessions closed "by request of the prosecutor's office." The carnival, operated by the Down River Amusement company from River Rouge, was one of a number put under fire in a tri-county area for alleged gaming activities.

The American Legion, Passage Gayde post, sponsored the carnival that included a "penny pitch," another in which bottles were bowled over for prizes, a dart throw, a ring toss in which kewpie dolls were prizes and a shooting gallery in which number packages determined the awards.

Criticism of the close order was evoked by Ray Gardner, American Legion amusement chairman, who said "I think such things should be left to local government." Gardner said that there were no complaints. "It was examined and sanctioned by city commission. It is one of the finest and cleanest carnivals."

The purge against carnival gambling was touched off last week when reporters from The Detroit News blanketed a tri-county area investigating into traveling carnivals in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. A "so what! They let the horses run, don't they," was Greenlee's answer to a News reporter inquiry into gambling here. Greenlee was quoted in The News as having said "you couldn't lose 50 cents out here if you wanted to. I was over last night (nine days ago) and they have a nice little setup."

Hot heads make cold hearts. Try to bring happiness to those who seem neglected.

+ RACING + Sport of Kings OR Breeder of Labor Rackets? + + +

The recent hearings before a Congressional Committee unearthed some food for thought. TEAMSTER BOSS, HOFFA, testified under oath that he ordered Buffalino and Juke Box Local 985 to raid and attempt to seize our Union. In this Buffalino and Hoffa had the connivance and assistance of one Wm. McFetridge of the Building Service Employees International Union, A. F. of L.

WHY ??? Officials of Michigan Racing Association, Northville Downs and Hazel Park Harness Raceway, appeared before the Congressional Committee and gave testimony under the guise of neutrality, which indicated a willingness to submit to or go along with this raiding technique, of Hoffa, Buffalino and McFetridge, admittedly designed to deprive Race Track Workers of their lawful right to REPRESENTATION of their OWN CHOOSING? WHY ???

Can a softer DEAL be made with these disruptionists to the loss and detriment of the RACE TRACK EMPLOYEES?

Can the RACE TRACK OPERATORS afford to adopt conditions of the Juke Box business, as brought out by the CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE hearings, in the RACING INDUSTRY?

Does this calloused disregard for the LEGAL RIGHTS of their EMPLOYEES indicate that the PUBLIC RIGHT would be properly protected?

The CITIZENS of MICHIGAN should have these questions answered when the petition for a REFERENDUM VOTE on the question of CONTINUING or OUTLAWING PARI-MUTUEL BETTING is presented to the VOTERS.

 promoting joint action between officials from Plymouth township and city on problems "relative to growth in this area that affects each group mutually."
 It advised its Area Planning Committee to "take steps to bring this about."
 Nat Sibbold, executive secretary, said no date for a joint meet has been set up to this time.
 "It is thought that as soon as township and city officials square away some pending problems a series of meetings will follow," he said.
 Some months ago it was disclosed to the public here by the Chamber that fewer than 200 building sites for houses and business properties remained.
 The Board went on record as stating "we feel Plymouth is in an odd position. We feel some efforts should be made toward consolidation and cooperation between the two governments vitally concerned with the welfare of both areas."
 In other action the Board said it was throwing its support to the Detroit Board of Commerce which has set up a committee with a view toward establishing a water and sewage authority for some 750 square miles of out Detroit Wayne county.

THIS BEAUTIFUL 1953 OLDSMOBILE AT THE PLYMOUTH FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

PROCEEDS FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE STREET LIGHTING CHRISTMAS FUND

SECLUDED PARKVIEW SUBDIVISION is Garling Construction company's second major housebuilding project to be undertaken in Plymouth. The subdivision plat map shown above shows just one entrance into the residential area, lending to its seclusiveness. The subdivision, located just west of scenic Middle Rouge Parkway, still retains its close-in urban features. It is a ten-minute walk to downtown Plymouth. Land plots 42 to 52 will be reserved for multiple-type dwelling units. Garling will construct 52 houses on the remainder of the subdivision. (See story on page 1 of this section.)

A TYPICAL GARLING HOUSE is this 1½-story structure priced between $11,000 and $14,000. It is only one of numerous types of houses that may be constructed—at buyer's option—at the 52-house subdivision located just west of scenic Middle Rouge Parkway, the 17½-mile-long recreation area (See subdivision plat map above.)

Donald LeVansellers Return from Honeymoon In East

Mr. and Mrs. Donald LeVanseler

Baskets of white gladioli and carnations formed a pretty setting for the wedding of Freeda Benton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Benton of Plymouth and Donald George LeVanseler of South Lyon. Mr. and Mrs. Theron LeVanseler, also of South Lyon are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend David L. Rieder performed the double ring ceremony on Thursday afternoon, June 4, at 1:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church, Plymouth. Only the immediate families were in attendance.

Freeda chose a ballerina length gown of lace and nylon net over ivory satin with which she wore a lace bolero jacket featuring long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip length veil of nylon net fell from a lace cap and she carried a white Bible centered with orchids and tied with long satin streamers.

The bride asked Mrs. James Henning, sister of the bridegroom, to be her matron of honor. She wore a pink net and lace gown over pink taffeta with matching picture hat. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations and yellow rosebuds.

James Henning served Donald as best man.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the James Henning home in South Lyon at seven o'clock that evening. Bouquets of iris and spirea were placed throughout the house. Presiding at the bridal table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centered with the many tiered cake, was Dolores Burke of Detroit, a cousin of the bridegroom. She was assisted by Marianna Wirgau and Jane Houk of Plymouth.

Mrs. Benton, mother of the bride chose a blue dress and Mrs. LeVanseler wore pale yellow. Both mothers complimented their outfit with white accessories and corsages of American Beauty roses.

Following a few day's trip through Ontario to Niagara Falls and New York City, the young couple are at home at 994 Starkweather avenue, Plymouth. For traveling Mrs. LeVanseler wore a light blue suit with white accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. LeVanseler is a Plymouth High School graduate and Donald was graduated from South Lyon High School.

Lorraine Pulaskey To Be Fall Bride

Lorraine Pulaskey

Mrs. Martha Pulaskey of 9044 Sheldon road, Plymouth announces the engagement of her daughter, Lorraine to Adolph J. Schmitt of Plymouth. Plans are being made for a fall wedding.

Carole Jean Henry Is Bride of William Maxwell

At an impressive seven o'clock ceremony on Saturday evening, June 20, in St. John's Episcopal church, Miss Carole Jean Henry repeated her nuptial vows to William F. Maxwell. Carole Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henry of West Ann Arbor trail and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Maxwell of Wixom are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend David Davies officiated at the service before the altar which was banked with palms, baskets of white flowers and lighted tapers. Mrs. Roland Bonamici was the organist and the soloist, Miss Mary Lou Hartwick sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Carole approached the altar, on the arm of her father, in a gown of white net over satin. The bodice featured a picture neckline of illusion with a wide berth of Chantilly lace. Tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the waist and the long sleeves ended in points over the wrists. The very full hooped skirt fell into a Cathedral train which was banded with a wide insert of the lace and a full ruffle of the net. Her fingertip length veil of illusion fell from a halo of orange blossoms and seedpearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds centered with a large purple-throated orchid.

Phyllis Norgrove of Milford was Carole Jean's maid of honor. Her orchid net gown was strapless and she wore a matching stole. A wide panel of lace extended from the center of both the back and front of the skirt to either side of the hem. She wore a halo of matching flowers in her hair and carried a spray bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Joan Tinhon of Detroit, and Gail Waterman of Northville, a cousin of the bride, wore identical gowns of net with bouffant skirts and embroidered bodices. Their halos matched their gowns and both wore matching stoles. Joan carried pink carnations with her green gown and Gail, who was in yellow, carried aqua carnations.

David Maxwell served his brother as best man and the ushers were Robert Maxwell, another brother of the bridegroom, and Donald McKelvy of Wixom.

Mrs. Henry selected for her daughter's wedding a suit of pink nylon shantung and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias. Mrs. Maxwell wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. William Maxwell

Over 200 guests attended the reception which was held in the church dining room following the ceremony. Guests were present from Indiana, Ohio, Detroit, Traverse City, Mt. Pleasant, Marshall, Carlton, Northville and Plymouth.

The young couple are honeymooning in Northern Michigan. For traveling the new Mrs. Maxwell wore an aqua suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Carole Jean is a Plymouth High School graduate and Mr. Maxwell attended Walled Lake High. They will make their home at 197 Union street in Plymouth.

Among those from Plymouth who attended the Women's National Farm and Garden Convention held for two days last week in Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills were Mrs. Austin Stecker, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Anthony Dohmen, Mrs. Andrew Vargha, Mrs. Arnold Samuelson and Mrs. Edwin Schrader. The Clarkston, Pontiac and Rochester clubs were hosts to the convention.

"SOUPY SALES." POPULAR TV STAR has been added to the roster of personalities to appear at the Plymouth Fourth of July event, according to Chamber of Commerce Secretary Nat Sibbold. Sales, who conducts the popular 12 o'clock Comics for kiddies, will appear on the program July 4 and will serve as one of the judges for the beauty contest.

Dunning Library Announces Arrival of New Book Shipment

A variety of new books, both for children and adults, have recently arrived at the Dunning Library, announced Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian. These books range all the way from historical novels to a book on plastering.

Mrs. Pauline pointed out that all the books of the library are available to Plymouth residents without charge. The individual wanting to borrow a book need only sign his name and address to secure it for a minimum of two weeks. The library is open until 9 p.m. every weekday except Saturday during the summer.

For the person who likes novels, there is the new book "Caravan to Xanadu" by Edison Marshall. The book is a story of Marco Polo which scrupulously follows the known facts of his career. Other new novels are "Sue Morris: Sky Nurse" by Dorothy Deming, R. N., "New Heaven, New Earth" by Athemise Goertz, "Glory Hole" by William MacLeod Raine, "The Scarlet Letters" by Ellery Queen, "The Southpaw" by Mark Harris, "They Buried a Man" by Mildred Davis, "Spoonhandle" by Ruth Moore, and "Hotel Talleyrand" by Paul Hyde Bonner.

Persons interested in travel will find these new books: "New Orleans City Guide," "Explorer's Scotland" and "Explorer's England" by Martin Thornhill, "North Dakota," and "The Poor Man's Guide to Europe" by David Dodge.

Books on gardening can also be obtained at the library. New ones in this line are: "Flower Arrangement Workshop" by Myra J. Brooks, "Annuals for Every Garden" by Dorothy H. Jenkins and "Flower Garden for the Amateur" by Alfred Hottes.

The man of the house will find "Power Tools for the Home Craftsman" by Edwin G. Hamilton, "Plastering Skill and Practice" and "Camping and Woodcraft" by Horace Kephart.

New children's books are also among the recent additions at the library. Some of these are "The Little Farm," "The Little Auto" and "Cowboy Small" by Lois Lenski, "Rides and Slides" by Mabel O'Donnell, "Toby" by Gates, Huber, Salisbury, "Snipp, Snapp, Snurr and the Red Shoes" by Maj Lindman and "The Color Kittens" by Mary Reed.

"John!" called the wife in the stillness of the night, as somebody stumbled on the stairs. "Is that you?"

"No dear," came the reply, a trifle unsteadily. "I'm a burglar. Call the police."

Prisoner—So they aren't going to hang me after all!

Peon—No, gringo, someone chopped down the only tree in the country, so now we'll have to shoot you.

UNCORKING THE NEWS

By Carl Peterson

Rear Admiral Dan Gallery says we've heard so much about "guided" missiles, hydrogen bombs, flying saucers & other mysterious wonders" that we're ready to believe almost anything. What we sometimes fail to remember is that all the time scientists are developing weapons, other scientists are producing countermeasures.

If the countermeasure boys hadn't been on their toes since the world began, the world would be flat on its back now. There have been times when the crossbows, gunpowder, torpedoes or airplanes were the last word in offensive war . . . but every time someone has come up with an answer. The Admiral says the same thing is true today. Guided missiles can also be misguided. So relax a little.

Church to Burn Mortgage Sunday

The Plymouth Assembly of God will celebrate a mortgage burning ceremony Sunday, June 28, announced Reverend John Walasky. Present for the event, and speaker for the service will be Michigan District Supervisor of the Assembly of God Organization Reverend Charles W. A. Scott. The services will be held at 11 a.m.

The church situated at Ann Arbor Trail and Riverside Drive was completed in November, 1948. In little less than five years, Reverend Walasky said, the mortgage has been paid off. He said the property is valued at about $20,000.

The Assembly of God has between 45 and 50 members, Reverend Walasky stated, and has a membership of 120 in the Sunday School section.

Dunnings Display Takes Award

Second place in a mid-west contest for window displays was awarded this week to Dunning's department store of 500 Forest street. According to Miss Margaret Dunning, proprietor, the contest was sponsored by the Fieldcrest Mills for window displays of their blankets and bedding. The display was created by Mrs. Bessie Sallow of Dunning's. A matched set of luggage was the prize for the display. Oddly enough, first place went to a department store in Plymouth, Indiana.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Maggie Smith, Laurel Springs, N. C.: I remember when it was proper for a boy who wanted to go with a girl to write her in the following form:

O. Mack S. presents his compliments to Miss Maggie C. and asks for the pleasure of her company to the school picnic on Theresa Mountain, May 21, 1883.

And the young lady answered like this:

Maggie C. sends her compliments to Mr. O. Mack S. and accepts his company to the school picnic on Theresa Mountain May 21, 1883.

From Mrs. Fan Nettle, Clinton, Montana: I remember when as a child 72 years ago we lived in Hardscrabble, Vt. We had a small place and made maple sugar. Mother would skim the cream off a large pan of clabbered milk. We would scrape the sugar off the sugar loaf and put it on the clabber milk and eat it with a spoon. It was delicious.

From Mrs. E. W. Nobles, Chaburn, N. C.: I remember having to walk a foot-log on the way to school after a rain had overrun a branch adjoining the mill pond and how the whirling black water caused my head to swim until, screaming with fright, I was afraid to go forward or backward. The rest of the group safely across tried to persuade me to join them. I can still close my eyes and see that rushing stream beneath my feet. It makes me shudder.

Elect Local Boys to Boys' State County Offices

The three young representatives from Plymouth to the annual Wolverine Boys' State at East Lansing were named to offices in the mythical 49th state. The boys returned home today after a week at Michigan State college.

Tony Worth was named to the office of member of the Board of County Supervisors of Tyler county. James Isbister assumed the office of representative from Baldwin county, and Brian Kidston was named representative from Bingham county.

They were among 1,000 high school boys from all over the state of Michigan participating in the annual event which is designed to instruct and educate the youths on the principles and values of a democratic and constitutional form of government.

Boys selected to attend the eight-day session are chosen for their qualities of leadership and good citizenship. Formed into two political parties (the Federalists and Nationalists) on their arrival at the campus, city and county groups were formed and the youthful participants elected their own officers.

Special features of this year's Boys' State included a mock trial presented by the Michigan Bar Association and a regular meeting of the state administrative board which gave those present an opportunity to witness Michigan's constitutional form of government in action.

Public Letter Box

June 22, 1953

Dear Sirs:
In your issue of June 18th you had a picture of two boys with Mohawk hair cuts. Aren't they horrible? I guess I can say what I please about them as I have 3 of the "awful cuts" to look at— even our 4 1/2 yr. old has one! To make it look worse, my three boys got their heads shorned (the portions that are shorned), a week ago. Now, said spots are peeling and they look like they had a horrible case of dandruff! I guess boys are no different than girls when it comes to fads. I agree with the former Ruth Allison—I enjoy the pictures in the Mail. It brings Plymouth and its inhabitants to us people, who live away. I, also, enjoy immensely, the human interest brought out in "Chips off the Rock."

Thank you for a bigger and better paper!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Elmer J. Wieland

Saving Great In Made-Over Duds For Kids

Look at some of those outdated clothes in your closet with an eye to making them over for children, or grandchildren. Outdated clothes can be made attractive and they are a big money saver.

Consider the material in an old garment first. Is it suitable for the child in color, texture and design? As a general rule firm, closely-woven fabrics that are light in weight and soft to the touch are best for a child's clothing needs. Gay colors are much better than drab or harsh shades that adults sometimes wear (and shouldn't).

Check on the present condition of the old garment. Sometimes the old article is so worn it would not be practical to remake it for a child.

Make the new garment along the lines of the old one if possible. A small boy's trousers can easily be cut from a pair of men's trousers, but you will have more of a problem cutting trousers from a woman's gored skirt.

Get a good, standard pattern for your make-overs. And remember, children's patterns should be selected by chest measurement, rather than by age. Rip the old garment apart completely using scissors or a razor blade. Wash the material, but before that stitch around the edges of the garment pieces to prevent fraying or stretching. Use matching thread and stitch not more than one-fourth inch from the edge of the material. This stitching remains in the material in the construction of the garment.

SWIMMING ISN'T THE ONLY THING that's fun in the summertime. At least that is the opinion of the many youngsters who come to the Dunning library every day to browse among the books. Looking over the collection are, from the left, Constance Burwell, Michael Bufo, Sylvia Robertson, Gaynor Robertson and Jimmy Cutler.

Children Make Library Place for Summer Fun

With summertime officially here the youthful Plymouthites are not spending all their time in swimming or playing baseball as might be expected. Would-be scientists and cowboys are crowding into the Dunning Library to get their summertime reading as well, reports Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian. With school out for vacation, Mrs. Pauline said that more children than ever find time to read books. Many of the children who have to hurry to catch the school bus now can come into the library and browse among the many books.

Mrs. Pauline pointed out that at present stories of science and horses seem to be getting the biggest applause from the young folks. She added that this is probably due in the main part to the emphasis on space men and cowboys on television and in the comic books.

The children are also extremely fond of biographies of famous people. Mrs. Pauline said she gets an amazing number of calls for this kind of reading from older children.

A special system is in effect at the library for the summer so that children can take out books for the duration of their vacations. The child has merely to state how long he will be out of town, and can keep the book until he returns.

Another large number of books are loaned by the library to camps, Bible schools and Girl Scout troops. These include books on camp crafts, hobbies, sports, etc.

All in all, Mrs. Pauline said, summer vacation doesn't mean the children want to get away from anything connected with school. Reading stories is as much fun for them as the other summer activities. At least it seems so, since the young folks can be seen pouring over the books at about any hour of the day throughout the summer.

Young lady (on first visit to Western ranch) For what purpose do you use that coil of line on your saddle?

Cowpuncher—That line, you call it, lady, we use for catching cattle and horses.

Young lady—Oh, indeed. Now may I ask, what do you use for bait?

Local Boy Scouts Ready for Camp

Plymouth Boy Scout troops have made plans again this year to leave for the council-operated Scout camps. At the 600 acre Scout Reservation near Brighton, and the 1,400 acre D-bar-A Scout Ranch near Metamora, facilities are now ready for the opening of the 1953 summer camping season—June 28 to August 22.

At the reservation two programs are offered. Scouts may attend with their troop—under troop adult leadership, either cooking their own meals or dining with provisional campers in the main dining lodge. A provisional camper is one who comes to camp by himself (or with buddies and friends) and becomes a member of a summertime provisional camp troop under council provided leadership and supervision. All campers have access to the reservation's excellent waterfront, boats, canoes, nature grove, craft department and all other facilities and programs.

Unit camping is also encouraged at the council's newer campsite, the D-bar-A Scout Ranch. As a matter of fact some units with a long career of camping at the reservation are going to the ranch for "a change of scenery". The most exciting news about the new ranch, however, concerns the new Western style, pioneer-type program especially planned for explorer Scouts. Individual explorers (or groups of explorers) will be organized in provisional crews using horses, pack burros and chuck wagon, and hiking under skilled leadership of the ranch staff.

It appears that many a future "cow-hand" will have had his start at the D-bar-A Ranch which also offers pioneering projects, stream fishing and aquatics along with trail cookery and other outdoor skills.

Both council camps are accredited by the Michigan Camping Association and are rated very highly by the State Health Department. Those troops conducting long-term camps off council sites, should remember to make application with the council office. State laws require off-council conducted encampments to be registered with the State, and this can easiest be done by filing application at Scout headquarters, 51 West Warren—where blanks and forms and other aids are freely provided. Units are encouraged to go camping on their own—but only under trained leadership, with adequate equipment, with well-planned programs and menus—matters on which the council camping department can give valuable advice and counsel.

A sportsman with a wonderful power of imagination was telling how at one shot he had bagged two partridges and a rabbit. His explanation was that, though he had hit only one partridge, the bird in falling had clutched at another partridge and brought that to earth in its claws.

"But how about the rabbit?" he was asked.

"Oh," was the calm reply, "my gun kicked and knocked me over, and I fell on the rabbit as it ran past."

City Receives Special Issue Coronation Seals

Mayor Russell Daane was one of the few individuals to receive special Coronation seals printed by the Lord Mayor of the City of Plymouth, England. The seals were sent to Mayor Daane since Plymouth bears the same name as the English city. Queen Elizabeth, President Eisenhower and mayors of city's named Plymouth received the special issue.

The seals are of five historical scenes, designed by students of the Plymouth College of Art, and five contemporary scenes. Surrounding the picture is the seal of the Drake family and that of the City of Plymouth.

One shows Sir Francis Drake and the "Golden Hind," in which Sir Francis set out from Plymouth in 1577 to sail around the world. Another is the "H. M. S. Vanguard," a modern battleship symbolizing the close link between Plymouth and the Royal Navy.

Other seals picture Winstanley's lighthouse, the first lighthouse built on the Eddystone Rock in 1699. Smeaton's Tower is shown. This was the third lighthouse on the rock. The Mayflower is also pictured, for the Pilgrim Fathers sailed from Plymouth to settle New Plymouth.

Other views shown on the seals are the Ile De France, an ocean liner, Elizabethan House at 32 New Street, Old Town Street, Buckland Abbey and the Royal Parade.

Garden Needs Protection To Avoid Ravage by Insects

While the post-war insecticide D.D.T. still kills more garden insects than any one prewar preparation, new formulations are now available which experts say do better on some pests than D.D.T.

Aphids, or plant lice, which drink plant juices, are a weak spot for D.D.T. It kills some, but misses most of them. Lindane, one of the new ones, kills aphids plus all beetles, worms, leaf hoppers and flea beetles which D.D.T. destroys.

Lindane is a chemical refinement of a German material imported when the war ended, which was handicapped by a bad odor. This has been removed. Like D.D.T. lindane kills insects which it hits, and leaves a residue on the plant which is fatal to pests that eat or walk on it. It also produces a vapor which is fatal to insects that breathe it.

Chlordane, which is also a triple threat to plant pests, is now recommended for destroying insects that are in the soil or crawl about on it. It is the best ant destroyer, and kills cut worms, chiggers, wire worms, and the like.

While thousands of new insecticides have been registered with the government, it was never before so easy for an amateur gardener to learn how to protect his plants from insects and disease. This is because of all-around pesticides now available, which will destroy all plant enemies that attack gardens. Formerly it was necessary to keep on hand one material to kill leaf eaters—and this was usually arsenic—one to kill aphids, usually nicotine, and a fungicide to keep disease from spreading. Before either was used, a diagnosis was necessary to see what the trouble might be.

But now the gardener can keep a duster filled with an all-around combination, and use it to protect his plants at the first sign of trouble, without trying to decide exactly what the trouble might be.

The time to act is before the damage is done, since nothing can repair a plant that insects have ruined.

Dust or spray your plants before insects damage them.

Pests that may be expected in the vegetable garden include aphids and cabbage worms on all cabbage, kohlrabi, cauliflower and broccoli; cucumber beetles on cucumbers, melons and squash; leaf hoppers on beans and potatoes; and flea beetles on egg plant. Protection against these should begin before they arrive, as soon as the plants have begun to grow vigorously.

Dusting and spraying are both effective. Dusting has many advantages for the amateur. Equipment may be economical, and the dusts come ready for use, whereas sprays usually have to be mixed with water before each application.

Since their object is to protect the plant from enemies, and this is done by spreading a film of liquid, or a coating of dust over the leaves and stems, care must be taken to allow no surface to escape. The plant should be enveloped by a cloud of dust which leaves a coating of dust about as heavy as face powder over all parts.

Plants should be drenched with sprays, if this method is used, so there is a heavy runoff to the ground. For spraying a sunny, windless day is required, and for dusting there should be no wind.

In cleaning a paint roller, do a thorough job on moving metal parts. Otherwise, after the paint hardens, the roller might not roll.

To make a sugar sirup for sweetening fruit you are canning, boil sugar and water or fruit juice for five minutes and remove the scum. A heavy sirup can be made by using a cup of sugar with one cup of water or juice. A medium sirup recipe calls for a cup of sugar with two cups of water or juice and a light sirup will come from three cups of fluid with one cup of sugar.

Plymouth Mail Want Ads will get you fast results.

You may can fruit without sweetening—in its own juice, in extracted juice, or in water. Sugar helps fruit hold its shape, color and flavor, but it is not needed to prevent spoilage. Process unsweetened fruit the same way you do sweetened.

A combination of large and small pieces is the most satisfactory assortment for a family washing. Small items in a single load wash well, but a load of all sheets gives trouble. So put in some smaller pieces with the sheets and everything will move freely in the washer. Social items can be phoned to 1600.

Michigan State Slates Crop Day

The Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station has slated a Farm Crops Field Day for Wednesday, July 8, at Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Staff members report that farmers can get a good look at farm crops research during the tours which will be conducted from 1:30 to 4 p. m. The tours start at the Farm Crops Barn, on Mt. Hope road, a half mile east of Farm Lane and a half mile west of Hagadorn road—a mile south of the main campus.

Latest developments in wheat, oat and barley varieties in Michigan, surrounding states and Canada will be shown. Varieties include Craig oats and Genesee and Seneca wheat. Specialists will discuss weed control experiments and present recommendations for control of the pests in oats, corn and forage crops.

Also to be shown are varietal trials in alfalfa and sudangrass. The program is being arranged by a committee headed by Milo B. (Mike) Tesar, farm crop researcher.

Wait for your worries but not for your work.

It takes more than a bank draft to start the heavenly flame.

Answers Jaundice Report

June 22, 1953
On Thursday, June 18, 1953 an article appeared in the Plymouth Mail on page 8. The contents of this article dealt with the incidence of infectious hepatitis which has occurred within this community and surrounding area. The implications set forth within the article has aroused some degree of apprehension so that a statement of basic facts in reference to this matter is both justified and mandatory.

These, then, are the facts. To the date of issuance of this statement and within the knowledge of the Health Officer of the City of Plymouth, 18 cases of infectious hepatitis have been reported to the Wayne County Health Department. Five of these cases have occurred in residents living within the Plymouth City limits; 12 have occurred in those living outside the city limits. In 4 of these 18 patients, the symptoms were sufficiently severe that hospitalization was required; the other 14 were cared for in their own homes by their own family doctors.

One of the dramatic characteristics of the disease is a yellow tinge coloring the skin. This may be transient and last only a few days or may be progressive and last for several weeks. Other symptoms may consist of such things as feeling generally ill, some temperature, occasionally chills, loss of appetite, soreness in the abdomen, possibly nausea and or vomiting and occasionally loose stools.

The agent causing this disease is believed to be a virus. The manner in which the infection is spread is not certain. Several theories have been considered to explain the spread of the infection. These are as follows:

1. Direct person-to-person, contact.
2. Contamination of food and cooking utensils by flies and other insects as well as by persons who may be harboring the infection.
3. Drinking water contaminated by ground seepage.

As indicated above, all of these theories have been considered and none have been demonstrated as being the exact cause. When an infection occurs in a community, an attempt is made to track down its source whenever possible. In the reported cases, with 6 exceptions, the persons afflicted with the infection intimated that their drinking water was supplied by wells.

Rumor has it that infectious hepatitis has assumed epidemic proportions within this area. As with all rumors, the facts have been exaggerated and distorted out of proportion to the actual situation; there is no truth in these rumors. The occurrence of 18 cases over a period of several months does not constitute an epidemic. However, whether the incidence of the disease is either greater or less this year as compared to other years, remains yet to be determined.

These are, therefore, the basic facts which are never as exciting as the exaggerated reports of a situation and should permanently dispel future apprehension in this matter.

R. R. Barber, M. D.
Health Officer, City of Plymouth.

Grange Cleanings

Those members of the Grange who stayed away last Thursday night from our Grange meeting really missed something very nice. About 80 were present. The Tecumseh degree team put on the work of the third and fourth degrees and it was fine. Everyone enjoyed seeing the work done so beautifully. We felt rather sorry for the men who wore their coats as it was very warm, but they insisted that they were instructed to wear them so wear them they did. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served in the dining room after the work.

We had as our special guests Mr. and Mrs. Andy Campbell of Ann Arbor Mrs. Campbell is State Ceres. Mr. Patterson, Lenawee County Pomona Master, was also present.

There will be no more regular meetings of the Grange until September, but there will be a basket picnic in the park on our usual first meeting night which is July 2 at 6:30 p.m. Further notice next week.

Mrs. Nash has plans made for a Grange group to go to Cheshaning to see "Show Boat" on July 17. Take your supper along and eat there in the picnic park near the river. She has a list of nearly 20 who intend to go. If you would like to join the crowd you may call her and make reservations at Plymouth 1198-W.

Our Worthy Master and his lovely wife are celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary next Sunday with open house from 2 to 5 p.m. and their Grange friends are invited to drop in.

The barber on our block had a sad experience. A teen-ager came in to get her hair bobbed. There is money in the business, and he thought he might please her so much that she would bring in her mates. But after bobbing her hair he absent-mindedly started to lather her for a shave.

Dr. Walch Writes Home About Sights of Europe-Holy Land Trip

The latest letter from Dr. Henry Walch was received this week in the office of The Mail. Dr. Walch, his wife, and Mrs. Margaret Hough are completing a tour of Europe and the Holy Land. The main body of the letter is printed here for as Dr. Walch stated, "I want to let all my people in Plymouth know how things are going with us."

"I don't know where I left off when I wrote you. Our trip has been tremendously interesting all the way. Dozens of little incidents. For instance, we took a horse and carriage one afternoon from Rapallo, in the Italian

Riviera, to a little town called Portofino. Wandering around the little square on the port we saw a small crowd. We went over to see what was up and saw Clark Gable signing autographs.

"We flew from Rome to Cairo. We saw the pyramids, the Sphinx, and many other sights. Sailed on the Nile in a felucca. The Egyptians we met were enthusiastic about Naguib, their new leader, and despised the deposed Farouk. I wish I could pass on the details of their comments about the latter.

"We had a very rough plane trip over the desert to Suez, then to Aquaba, where we turned north to the Dead Sea, then to Jerusalem. We spent five days in Jerusalem and the ancient Biblical towns around it: Hebron, Manire, Bethlehem, Sicheia, Shechem and several others. Spent a Sunday morning in the Garden of the Resurrection Tomb. No one was there but ourselves—it was lovely beyond words. We saw the ancient city of Jerusalem and followed the Franciscan monks along the original Via Dolorosa, with the procession stopping to kneel and pray at each Station of the Cross. Much more of the same kind.

"We had an interesting experience crossing from Jordan to Israel. We had to carry our own baggage on foot through No Man's Land separating the two lines. The Arabs hate the Jews bitterly. We were glad to get through the Mandelbaum Gate without incident. We had to wait with the Arab frontier guards for some reason before crossing. They served us coffee—Turkish coffee—and for diplomatic reasons we had to drink it. May you never have to drink Turkish coffee!

"We spent two days in Israel. Went to Galilee, swam in the Sea of Galilee and ate fried fish on the shore while the fleas ate us. Visited Nazareth among many other places.

"We flew from Sydda to Athens, and saw, of course, the Acropolis, Mars Hill where Paul preached, Socrates' prison and so many other places.

"We had a lovely trip to ancient Corinth, and swam in the Gulf of Corinth, marvelled at the Corinthian Canal, and wandered among the ruins of the ancient town.

"We left Athens this noon by plane and now are back in Rome where we will spend a few days. We are well and happy and send love and greetings to our friends at home."

300 Living in Plymouth Township Call for More Police Protection

Lack of "adequate" police protection was this week decried by more than 300 citizens living in Plymouth township, 40 of whom banded together to get something done about it and some 250 others who signed protest petitions.

"We have no law and order now," was the complaint of Leo

F. Flowers, 9055 Ball, spokesman for the 40-man citizens' group.

A similar protest was lodged by Lewis Foster of 9416 Northern who said Monday that he had petitions signed by 250 to 300 home-owners. Calling police protection totally inadequate, Foster said petitioners were going to demand stop signs at open intersections on subdivision streets. "They should also be zoned against speeding," he declared.

For months now homeowners living in Robinson and Green Meadows subdivisions said they had watched "hot-rodgers" roar uncontrolled through open intersections on subdivision streets. There have been numerous complaints of prowlers. One such incident reportedly ended when an unidentified resident there was openly attacked in her home.

Flowers said committee representatives will meet on July first with township officials. He said "I think the township officials are responsible to see that we have scout cars and police protection."

And Flowers said "there are packs of dogs running loose, unlicensed and not vaccinated against rabies. They're attacking poultry and endangering children," he declared, observing that "it isn't fair to persons who have licensed dogs."

Flowers said that a State police official had advised that responsible governmental units furnish patrolmen and a minimum of two scout cars to patrol populated areas of the township constantly.

The citizens' group did not make it clear whether or not they would petition the township to purchase patrol cars and hire full-time police officers.

The township has three elected constables who get fixed fees for serving legal documents throughout the area. It would, under ordinary township practice, fall to them to enforce motor vehicle laws. Beyond the power of arrest of such violators, however, constables are not authorized to make criminal arrests.

Captain Clayton Johnson, of the Wayne County Road Patrol, said "we don't have the men or equipment to concentrate on one specific area." Captain Johnson observed that each patrol car crew in the sheriff's department polices 65 square miles of Wayne county, operating with minimum funds and equipment.

He pointed out that persons confronted with hot-rodgers can order them arrested.

"If they know who they are and can get their license number, we'll take them into court," he said.

Roy R. Lindsay, supervisor of Plymouth township, said "I'd want a study made. We've got to have legal advice," he said. This came in answer as the action Lindsay thought the township board might take to curtail alleged vehicle and criminal violations.

 IN THE SERVICE

Brief items of interest about Plymouthites in the services are welcomed in this column, providing the information does not conflict with press security policies.

Private Frank G. Cole, son of Mr. Frank G. Cole, Plymouth, is nearing completion of a 16-week training cycle here with a unit of the 6th Armored Division. As a trainee, he received eight weeks basic training in the fundamentals of Army life and the use of infantry weapons. He is now completing an additional eight weeks engineer training.

Private Cole is being taught the use of pioneer and power tools, construction of fixed and floating bridges and related subjects besides additional combat skills. At the end of the 16-week training cycle with the famed "Super Sixth" the men completing training here will be sent either to specialist schools or as replacements to other units.

Freeman Hover

Second Lieutenant Freeman B. Hover, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Schoof, 1007 Roosevelt avenue, Plymouth, was graduated from Air Force Officer Candidate school June 19 and will begin extended active duty as a commissioned officer.

Graduation ceremonies were held at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, site of the Air Force's OCS. Principal speaker for the class of approximately 500 new second lieutenants was Major General Eugene L. Eubank, commanding general, Technical Training Air Force. Diplomas were presented to Class 53-B members by Brigadier General Wycliffe E. Steele, school commandant and base commander.

Hover, was graduated from the University of Denver in 1951. He enlisted in the Air Force in July 1951 and was stationed at Hq 575th Air Base Group, Selfridge AFB, Michigan prior to his entry into OCS.

Awarding of the commissions culminated six months of study and practical application in Air Force administration and leadership techniques for class members. For the majority of the new officers, graduation represented an advancement from the enlisted ranks, main source of Air Force officer candidates.

Most graduates will enjoy brief home leaves before reporting to new technical training, flying training or duty assignments at bases throughout the Air Force. Customary tour of duty for OCS graduates is three years.

V.F.W. News

The State Encampment, which was held at Port Huron, June 18 through 21, was well attended by Post 6695 and auxiliary. Among those attending were Commander Dick Neale, Tony Dumick, Matt McClellan, Bill Norman, Jack Olsaver, Jim Wiltse, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Collman, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Gust, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Danol, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bartel and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grubesch.

The next meeting will be held in the New Home at 8 p.m. Let's remember to be there on time so that the business meeting will not be delayed. The date of the meeting is July 7.

Last minute changes in regard to the 4th of July activities! The auxiliary voted down participation in the parade at the June 16 meeting. Retraction of last week's article is hereby acknowledged.

The Post dance will be held at the New Home this Saturday, June 27. Don Korte's orchestra will play. Time, 9 to 12 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the ceiling fund.

The auxiliary polio drive was such a big success a few months ago, that the following news should be of interest to every girl who participated in the drive: Scientists have given us a limited weapon of defense in gamma globulin, the fraction of human blood which, if given at the proper time, may provide temporary protection against paralytic after-effects of polio. Reports of polio in Cadillac, Michigan, even though it was only a single attack, reminds us to be watchful at this season for signs of this dread disease.

This Week—Salesman DUNCAN FRY

Duncan Fry is a salesman at the West Brothers Appliance store at 507 South Main street. "I suppose you can also call me the assistant manager of this store," Mr. Fry stated, "since there are only two salesmen." Mr. West is the manager, while Mr. Fry is the assistant manager.

Since 1945 Mr. Fry has been employed by the West Brothers Appliances, selling products at their store. His job consists of helping people to purchase, and thus furnish their homes with good and necessary equipment.

Mr. Fry moved to Plymouth in 1945 since the city was expanding and houses were being built. He is originally from Northville, where he was born and received his education. While attending Northville High school, he participated in the school's athletic program, playing football, baseball and basketball.

Mr. Fry, his wife and their four children, three girls—Marilyn, Faye and Gail, and one boy—Fred, reside at 1167 Hunt street. Their oldest daughter, Marilyn, is active in the Girl Scouts; all their children are of school age.

When asked about his hobbies, Mr. Fry replied readily, "My work is my hobby; selling at the store is my greatest enjoyment." No doubt, he likes his job very well; he has been a salesman on and off all his life. While in Northville he engaged in selling products in several stores. During the war, he worked in a factory, but later returned to his salesmanship.

"Fishing is also one of my other enjoyable hobbies," Mr. Fry said. When asked what was the largest fish he caught, he exclaimed, "You're not going to put that in the paper, are you?" However, he admitted that a 5 pound bass was his largest catch which occurred several years ago. Walled Lake and places near Plymouth are Mr. Fry's favorite fishing spots.

Bowling also figures in Mr. Fry's life, especially during the regular season. He has bowled with several different leagues. "I also enjoy baseball, football and hockey—but only as a spectator, now," he explained.

Traveling is not too prevalent in Mr. Fry's life since he has a large family. All in all, his pleasant smile, hearty laugh and willing attitude permeate his whole personality.

Once upon a time people judged a Plymouth man by the company he kept. Now they judge him by the auto he keeps.

Keep Rats Out By Proofing Bins

The only sure cure against rodents and birds contaminating grain is to have rodent-proof and bird-proof storages, says Don W. Hayne, Michigan State College zoologist.

Rodents may be killed by poisons or traps, he adds, but it's only a matter of time before their numbers increase again. In fact, he asserts, killing most of the rats and mice makes living much easier for the few survivors, or for animals that wander in.

If you're going to poison rats, Hayne advises, remember that the pests must have poison almost every day until they are dead. He suggests using warfarin as the rodent poison most generally useful on the farm. He makes these points on its uses:

1. Be sure the bait is exposed continuously where rodents can get it easily.

2. The bait must be kept clean, palatable and attractive to rodents and kept away from other animals. And the bait must be inspected and renewed as long as rodents continue to eat it.

3. Bait stations are best for exposing warfarin bait. A station may be a board fastened slantwise against a wall or a box with hinged lid and holes for the entrance of rats. One bait station should be placed at each center of rodent activity.

When you're mixing the bait, he advises, use this mixture: Corn meal (freshly ground, if possible), 65 per cent; rolled or ground oats, 20 per cent; powdered sugar, 5 per cent; vegetable or mineral oil, 5 per cent; warfarin (0.5 per cent concentrate), 5 per cent.

Screening of all openings into grain storages, and covers for bins above which birds might roost, says Hayne, are by far the cheapest and safest ways to prevent contamination by birds.

Rebekah News

The regular meeting of the lodge will be held on Friday, June 26. After the meeting refreshments will be served honoring those who celebrated birthdays during the last three months.

We extend our sympathy to Eileen Krumm and her family in the death of her grandmother this past week.

Those elected at our last meeting include first representative to the assembly, Imogene Robertson; alternate, Lydia Drews; district deputy president, Lydia Drews; second representative, Margaruite McKenna; and alternate, Mabel Hunter.

Girl Scout News

Troop 1 concluded a very busy year with three outstanding events. At their last regular meeting a Board of Review was held. The girls were questioned on the badges they have completed by a board consisting of troop committee members and Mrs. Norman Atchinson, Program Chairman. Mrs. Atchinson passed the girls in the Cook and House-keeper badges. The leaders, Mrs. Sheldon Baker and Mrs. Hugo Russell, plan to hold a Board of Review and Court of Awards twice a year in the future.

A family picnic attended by about 50 was the setting for the Court of Awards. In addition to the presentation of badges, the troop committee members were honored. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Aiken, Mrs. Violet Garrison, Mrs. Charles Epps and Mrs. Henry Wagner received Girl Scout recognition pins from the troop in appreciation for their services.

On Wednesday night, June 24,

Smokey says: BE SURE IT'S DEAD OUT.

Remember—Only you can PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

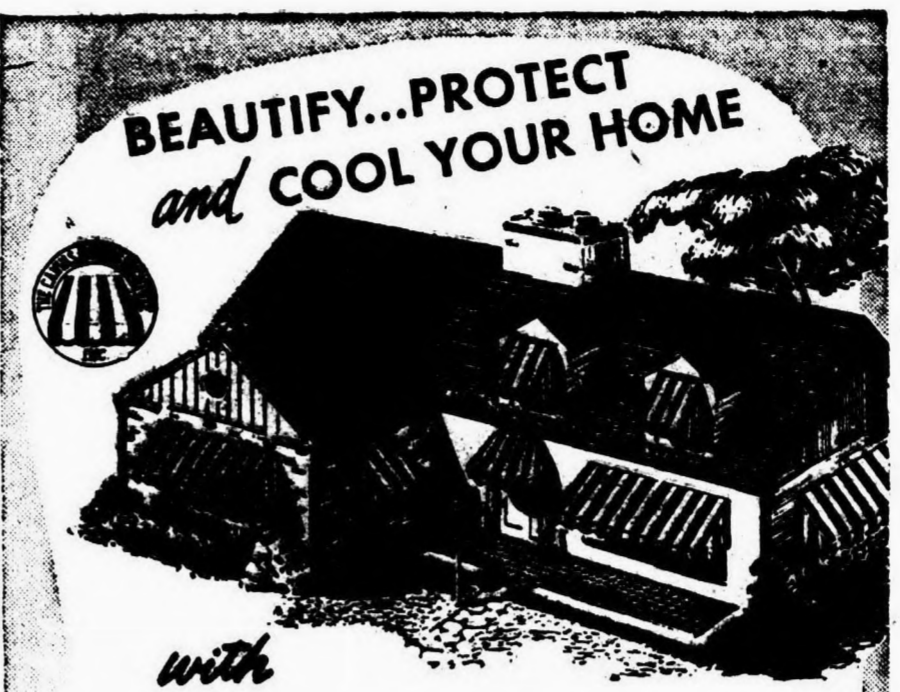

an overnight camp-out climaxed the year's activities.

Final activity for members of Troop 14 was an overnight at the Girl Scout cabin. Fourteen girls attended and were presented with their Second Class badges at a Court of Awards in the evening. Miss Louise Spence and Mrs. Gerald Hosier are the leaders.

Camp Cedar Lake opened on June 21 for the first period. Prior to the arrival of the campers, senior Scouts of Troop 13 Lorraine Jensen, Joyce Smith, Sara Wesley, Ann Higley and Nancy Vincent with their leader, Mrs. Phillip Theobald, went out to assist in preparing the camp for the opening. Mrs. Donald Potter, Mrs. J. H. Lodge and Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Husling also assisted. Plymouth and Belleville had the responsibility of readying the camp this year.

On Friday, June 19, a picnic was held at the camp for the purpose of introducing the committee to the staff. Mrs. B. Horton Booth, Area Camp Treasurer attended from Plymouth.

Plymouth Mail Want Ads get Results

This advertisement is the third in a special series which began over a year ago, and which is designed to give you, as a prospective buyer, detailed and helpful information. We'd be happy to have your comments about this type of advertising.

This is the 1953 Chevrolet Bel Air 4-Door Sedan. It's one of 16 Chevrolet models in 3 series, which add up to the widest choice in the low-price field.

Some Chevrolet advantages worth considering when you're ready to choose a car...

Next to a new house, a car is probably your most important purchase. Here are some facts to help you make up your mind about which make to buy.

Don't you agree that it's well worthwhile to weigh all the factors carefully before you buy any new car? Let's consider the major reasons why people choose one make over another and see how the 1953 Chevrolet stands in those respects.

Styling You Can Stay Proud Of

Styling, of course, is a matter of personal taste. Because we think Chevrolet is the best-looking car in its field, doesn't necessarily mean you'll think so, too. But we can tell you that the majority of our showroom visitors prefer Chevrolet styling and compare its appearance most favorably with cars costing a great deal more.

And you might consider this: Chevrolet styling is the newest in its field. It's the kind of styling that stays new, too. For it is based, not on fads or extremes, but on the fundamentals of good, modern design.

The One Automobile Body Almost Everybody Knows

It's not really surprising that so many people prefer Chevrolet's appearance. For Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. And Fisher, as you know, is the only automobile body manufacturer with a world-wide reputation for styling, craftsmanship and quality.

The Many Benefits of High-Compression Power

When you drive a new Chevrolet (and we hope you'll do that soon), you'll notice these things: faster acceleration from a standing start; greater passing ability in traffic and on the highway; the new ease with which you climb steep hills.

These are just some of the benefits of Chevrolet's new high-compression power. In gearshift models, there is an advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine with a 7.1 to 1 compression ratio. Teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission* is an entirely new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine with 7.5 to 1 compression ratio. It is the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field.

A Great Gain in Gasoline Economy

Along with remarkable new performance, Chevrolet's advanced engines give you far greater gasoline mileage. In fact, this year marks the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history. And that includes substantial savings on over-all upkeep, as well as on gasoline.

New Getaway in the New Powerglide*

The new Powerglide automatically drops into "Low" range for starting and for passing in city traffic. Then, as you glide along, it slips smoothly and almost imperceptibly into cruising range. The results are much faster and more positive acceleration, and much lower fuel consumption.

The First Power Steering in a Low-Priced Car

This year's Chevrolet is the only car in its field to offer you the extra ease and convenience of Power Steering, optional at extra cost. With it, you can spin the wheel with the strength of one finger. You can seasaw in and out of tight parking places without the slightest strain. You get an additional cushion against road shocks and jars. Driving is easier, safer.

A Smoother and a Safer Ride

Chevrolet is the heaviest low-priced car. Model for model, a Chevrolet will weigh as much as 200 pounds more than the other make. You often hear people say they buy high-priced cars because they're heavier, hold the road better and ride better. Well, isn't it logical, then, that Chevrolet's extra weight (which comes from extra strength of body and frame) would result in a better ride?

Chevrolet is the Lowest-Priced Line

Certainly, price is one of the most important factors of all. We're glad to be able to tell you that Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field.

Now, you might well ask, "How can Chevrolet offer me more and still cost less?" There is a simple, logical answer to that.

Remember that Chevrolet builds more cars than any other manufacturer. Chevrolet, along with General Motors, has greater facilities for research, for engineering and production. So, isn't it reasonable that these greater facilities bring manufacturing advantages and economies which Chevrolet can pass on to you in terms of higher quality at lower price?

An Endorsement Given No Other Car

Again this year, more people are buying Chevrolets than any other car. Obviously that wouldn't be true unless people liked Chevrolet better. Unless Chevrolet offered more things people want—more value.

So, when you're ready to choose your new car, wouldn't you agree that Chevrolet merits your careful consideration? We welcome your visit at any time, so that you can look the car over yourself and try it out on the road.

*Combination of 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine and Powerglide automatic transmission optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

"Psychological warfare" is the newest weapon in Michigan's battle to reduce its mounting highway death and accident record. It became available last week when the governor signed into law a bill revising state driver licensing organization. Important provisions of the law are:

1. Centralization of authority with the Secretary of State for issuing drivers licenses.
2. Permits a training program for licensing officers in which they will be made conscious of their responsibility to issue licenses only to qualified drivers.
3. Requires a state central file showing accident and violation records of Michigan drivers.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, who will direct administration of the new law, believes that every driver will soon become conscious of this file and make constant efforts to keep it clean. If a driver's right to hold a license is ever questioned, the information is immediately available with evidence of his ability.

Marked improvement in highway safety is expected to result when machinery to administer the new law grinds into action in October.

Claims that it might reduce traffic fatalities by 30% were made by its supporters when the bill was under consideration by the Legislature. "Revocation or suspension of driving privileges can be ordered as soon as accident-prone or habitual violators are identified," says Secretary Cleary. It will reduce traffic tragedy, sharply, he added, but he is unable to predict exactly how great the reduction will be.

An important function of the new law is the training of licensing examiners to recognize poor driving risks. Experts from Northwestern University's Traffic Institute and the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators are now working out a training program for local officers and new qualification tests for applicant drivers.

The new department is now being organized. It is headed by Lee C. Richardson, present director of the motor vehicle division. His staff will include about 52 people. Fourteen will be trained as supervisory examiners to work in various districts of the State. The others are needed to maintain the master file for Michigan's 3,162,000 drivers and for routine clerical work.

Initial appropriation for the department is $260,000. All jobs from director down are under civil service, thus removing danger of politics creeping into administration.

Most apparent effect on average Michigan driver is the change in the expiration date on the license he now holds. The new law makes license expiration coincide with the driver's birthday at three year intervals. This reminding device eliminates the need for sending notices from Lansing — a savings of $30,000 each year.

Cost of license will go from $1.25 to $1.50. A driver applying for his first license in Michigan must pay $3, the added amount to cover expense of road tests.

Local licensing agencies will receive from the state $2 of each $3 collected and 50 cents for each renewal to help finance their operations.

More comprehensive tests face beginning drivers, including a demonstration by actual driving, that they are qualified for a license. With evidence from the central file available to courts of the state.

Secretary Cleary expects judges to clamp down on habitually reckless drivers; revoke or suspend more licenses than previously.

These are the two mechanisms expected to raise standards for drivers on Michigan highways.

A major change in public attitude is hoped for by traffic safety experts. They want people to feel that the possession of a driver's license is a privilege (for those who have proven themselves physically and emotionally capable) rather than a right for anyone who requests it. They hope the public will realize the new regulations are designed for everyone's safety and protection, not as a means of further tormenting a driver with the "tough luck" to have a series of accidents and traffic arrests.

An appeal board is also set up by the new law. Any applicant who considers he is treated unfairly by an examining officer can appear with evidence to support his case. The board has the power to reverse, affirm or modify the original decision.

"The opening wedge," Secretary Cleary termed the new law. "It's the first step," he said, "in what we hope will be a long series of improvements in Michigan's highway traffic problems." He and Mr. Richardson, who is now devoting full time to organizing the new department, indicated that they expect little trouble getting underway.

Personnel must be selected and trained; local officers must then learn the new system. They are receiving, they say, the finest cooperation from Michigan State Police and from sheriffs and police chiefs, all of whom are involved in the new plan. Once things are organized, the department expects to function smoothly.

"My main effort while in office," said Secretary Cleary, "will be dedicated to reducing as much as possible the loss of life and money from automobile accidents in Michigan." This goal, he added, is one requiring much thought and understanding on the part of every citizen of the state.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

A trellis makes a beautiful setting for American Beauty roses. Mrs. Walter Packer and her young daughter, Pamela, of 464 Sunset, look over the beautiful blossoms which were at their peak when this picture was taken.

A rose garden is always a joy to behold for it can give a combination of brilliant and soft colors to the yard. Mrs. Packer sprays the flowers with Jackson-Perkins rose spray and also uses the rose food. As a result of her diligent care she has these many healthy plants.

Numerous different varieties of the plant are found in the Packer yard. Among these are the old-fashioned yellow roses and the Dr. Nicholas, ever-blooming climbers. These Mrs. Packer has decorated the fences in her backyard.

She also has, Aloha, an individual rose, which has one blossom to a stem. The rose beds on one side of Mrs. Packer's garden are filled with hybrid tea roses. Among these are Eclipse, a lovely yellow rose, Serenade, and President Hoover.

One of the most beautiful of the hybrid teas is the Peace rose, which often measures seven inches across. The Sunburst rose is a cluster-type.

Other tea roses are called Poinsettia, Charlotte Armstrong, Diamond Jubilee and Mary Margaret McBride. Mrs. Packer is planning to buy a Crimson Glory climber for her back fence. By adding new rose bushes each year, and by caring for the old ones, Mrs. Packer shows that roses are perhaps the best plants for a really beautiful yard.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kellenberger of Burbank, California, who have been spending the past 10 days in Plymouth, left Monday morning for a visit to the East Coast before returning to their home. Mrs. Kellenberger, the former Helen VanDeCar, came to Plymouth especially to attend the 40th anniversary of the class of 1913 of which she was a member.

Raymond Schraufnagel, who is with the United States Navy stationed at Washington, D. C. spent a weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schraufnagel of Cherry Hill road.

"Bon Voyage" was the theme of the party given Friday evening in honor of Cynthia Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, by Mary Ann Witwer, in her home on Edison avenue. Cynthia sails for Europe on July 1, on a student tour on the continent and England. Guests invited were Dorothy Curtis, Lois Hoencke, Joyce Kubic, Erna Kienbaum, Shirley Plant, Pat Wilkins, Ann Vincent, Beverly Hokeson and Myra MacPherson of Ann Arbor.

Miss Norma VanDyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred VanDyke, and a 1952 Plymouth High School graduate, has just completed her freshman year at Antioch college and on Sunday left for Schenectady, New York where she will spend two weeks at Union college before going on to Stanford, Connecticut where she will work in a nursery school until November as a part of her college training course in child development.

Mrs. Earl Lewis and four children arrived by plane the first of last week to visit with Mrs. Lewis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Buzzard of South Main street. Major Lewis, who is stationed with the Marines at Camp LeJeune, North Carolina, joined his family here over the weekend.

O. M. Valiquette of Lakeland Court has been attending the furniture market in Chicago, Illinois.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sullivan of White Lake on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ballen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick and daughter, Mary Lou, Shirley Sexton, Patricia Sexton, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett and family, Miss Amelia Gayde, Miss Sarah Gayde, Mrs. Otto Beyer, all of Plymouth and Mrs. William Krause of Detroit.

Mrs. Otto Beyer entertained at a picnic dinner on Friday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kellenberger of Burbank, California. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ebert, Mrs. Lisle Alexander, Miss Shirley Sexton, Miss Sarah Gayde, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Burgett and family, Miss Amelia Gayde and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick and daughter, Mary Lou.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Bake were joint hosts with Mr. and Mrs. Austin Stecker at an open house on June 14 in the Stecker home on North Territorial road honoring Mr. and Mrs. William S. Bake on their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. Over 90 guests attended the lovely party.

At the recent Methodist Conference held at Albion College, the Reverend Robert Richards was appointed to serve Newburg Methodist Church Pastorate for his third year.

Mrs. Lyle Bristow of Springfield, Ohio, formerly of Plymouth, spent several days last week with Mrs. Mable Blunk in her home on Blunk street.

31 members of this year's senior class and their friends were guests of Gary Kopen and his parents on Wednesday at Base Lake.

Word was received in Plymouth of the death in Indian River Michigan, of Aden M. Olds, father of Kenyon A. Olds, Paul Olds and Mrs. John Wilson of Plymouth. Burial was in Leslie, Michigan on Tuesday afternoon.

MOMS NEWS

Mrs. Hugh Gardner entertained members of Unit 18, Moms of America, in her home on Pearl street, recently. The evening was spent in preparing clothing for Flint disaster victims and making articles for the Grand Rapids veterans facility.

A silver collection was also taken to aid Flint victims. Refreshments were served and a birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Gardner in honor of her birthday.

Joyce Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett of Haggerty Highway celebrated her eighth birthday on Tuesday, June 16 following school, by entertaining 23 of her little schoolmates at a party. Sandwiches, potato chips, ice cream and cake highlighted the event.

Strawberry Shortcake Alaska

Your family will be enthusiastic about this combination of cake, ice cream, and lightly browned meringue. It's an easy dessert to put together for a family treat, and pretty enough to win compliments from guests.

Package shortcake dainties from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department are the starting point. These sponge cups, made from a cookbook recipe, are just right in shape and size for individual servings, and make it possible to put Alaskas together quickly for oven broiling.

Strawberry Shortcake Alaska

- 1 package shortcake dainties
- 5 egg whites (room temperature)
- 4 scoops vanilla ice cream
- 1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 pint sweetened strawberries

Ahead of time: Open shortcake package and chill cups. Prepare strawberries. Beat egg whites until frothy, add sugar one tablespoon at a time, beating well between additions.

To assemble: Arrange shortcake cups on cookie sheets. Place ice cream in shortcake cups, add strawberries and cover with a thick, even coating of meringue. Place in preheated oven (450 degrees F.) until browned lightly (about 3 minutes).

Good Insect Repellents Pay Dividends

A small sum spent for a good insect repellent preparation can pay big dividends in outdoor comfort and safety when warmer weather arrives. Home gardeners and other outdoor workers, campers, picnickers or families sitting out in the yard will find repellents helpful against mosquitoes, gnats, chiggers and ticks, for example. Pack a preparation with Junior's camping equipment or in the family car when starting on a vacation trip and keep one handy with gardening supplies.

Repellents should not be confused with insecticides. Repellents are applied to your skin or clothing to keep insects off but insecticides are used in the garden or elsewhere to kill insects. Repellent preparations, usually in liquid, lotion or "creamed" form, sell at drug, hardware, or even grocery stores under different trade names. Among the most satisfactory chemicals as repellents are: dimethyl carbate; dimethyl phthalate; ethyl-hexanediol and indalone. (The container usually lists the names of the chemicals in the preparation.) Unlike some of the older repellents, the substances listed above have little or no odor and give protection from insects for several hours.

Picnics Have History Which Dates Back To The First Man

Picnics may seem strictly American but actually they aren't. In a sense, the first meal man ever ate was a picnic—that is because of necessity. He had not yet learned to seek shelter in a cave or tent and consequently ate his meals outdoors against a background of natural scenery. And, because he still lived in the wilderness, it was usually no picnic.

Since that time, picnics have been going on through the years but just what they were called then no one seems to know. However, the word picnic is derived from the French word "piqueur" meaning to pick. Somewhere along the line "pic" was added to give us the present day word of picnic. But, no matter what the spelling or the name, picnics have become the favorite outdoor pastime of millions of people throughout the world. And, the ancient Greek poet, Homer, often sang its praises.

Originally, a picnic was a fashionable social gathering in which each person attending contributed a variety of foods to a common table. The people would then walk around the table picking or choosing the foods that were most desirable to them. This form of eating became so popular that they had to be held out in the open because no building could hold so many people.

History has indicated that the early rugged outdoor type of picnic developed into quite a formal affair in England during the mid-nineteenth century. Many picnic societies were formed and the fashionable members were not only treated to a buffet style meal but were amused with theatrical and social entertainment.

While picnics were held in all European countries, it took the ingenuity of the American people to develop them as they are today. Rather than confining them to strictly social gatherings, picnics became excursions or pleasure parties and were even broadened to take in all types of celebrations including fraternal and political outings.

With the advent of the barbecue pit and the portable charcoal grills, the back yard picnic came into being. For it is here that the man-of-the-house can display his culinary arts. Taking a tip from the age-old traditions of the shepherds and knights of the road, chunks of meat and vegetables impaled on skewers make an appetizing combination when broiled over red hot coals and eaten between rolls or slices of buttered bread.

And the woman of the house finds this an ideal type of lunch or supper because of the minimum of effort and work that is needed to supply the food on such a pleasant occasion. Sandwiches may be prepared in the kitchen and served out-of-doors with all the fixings of pickles, relishes, salads, potato chips, milk, soft drinks, and many other items that are a "must" at every picnic. The menu would not be complete lest a dessert is included. For this purpose bakers' cake, pie, doughnuts and other baked foods are recommended for topping off a zesty and tangy meal.

Better Eating

BY JEAN ALLEN

RECOGNIZE A GOOD EGG?

Do you know a good egg when you see one? High quality is a recognized "must" in eggs. There are several guides for you to use when you shop for this highly perishable food.

A. B. C. of Grades
One dependable guide is the government grade. These grades are A, B, and C. The most commonly found ones are A and B. Take a look at the eggs as you break them out of the shell to use them.

Grade A eggs have sunny yolks that stand up high and round when broken out of the shell; the white is thick and remains close to the yolk. These are especially good for breakfast eggs and for cooking in the shell.

GRADE A

GRADE B

Grade B eggs are economical and are good to use in making such things as cookies and puddings. When Grade B eggs are broken out of the shell the yolk will be slightly flattened and the thick white will spread out a little more than a Grade A egg.

Egg Candler

Every egg in a government-graded carton has been held before a strong light so that the quality inside the shell can be graded. This is called "candling," for when this practice began the candle was the strongest light there was.

Keep 'Em Cool

Still another guide to quality in eggs is to buy them in a store where the cartons are kept at a refrigerated temperature. Keep them in the refrigerator at home too.

Brown or White Shells?
Believe it or not—the color of the shell makes no difference in the taste, food value, or the way they perform in a recipe. One color is just as good as the other.

SCRAMBLED EGGS AND JELLY!
Eggs scrambled or made into an omelet are especially good with strawberry preserves or jelly.

Faithfully

Cook Husband's Eggs Properly

She is beautiful—the June bride—but can she cook an egg? Yes, she can if she practices a few fundamentals of egg cookery. Once in command of these fundamentals she will make eggs her ally, as all brides have done before her.

Then no matter how she prepares eggs—fried, scrambled, "boiled," poached, in an omelette, or baked in a cake—she will proceed confidently.

Here are the truths of egg cookery "for all brides who are beginning to dip into the wonderful mysteries of cooking."

Fried Eggs—Have butter, margarine or other fat hot enough to prevent eggs from spreading over the skillet. Slip eggs into skillet, then reduce heat to moderate or low. Eggs fried at this temperature will cook uniformly throughout. Season during frying or when eggs are served. To hasten cooking of top side, baste with the fat or cover skillet tightly to hold in steam. Use slotted pancake turner to transfer the fried eggs to a warm plate.

Scrambled—Mix eggs thoroughly with fork or spoon if a uniform yellow is preferred. Melt cooking fat in skillet at moderate temperature. Increase temperature to hot and pour in eggs. Stir rapidly until eggs are as done as desired. While this procedure may seem to contradict the general rule of using low to moderate temperatures for cooking eggs, rapid stirring over a high temperature produces like results.

Soft and Hard Cooked—The beginner soon learns that the size of the egg, its refrigerated temperature, and the amount of water used must all be considered. Select a saucepan suitable for holding the number of eggs to be soft-cooked. Follow any of these methods:

1. Cover eggs with cold tap water, so that water level is about one inch above eggs. Place over heat and bring water to boiling point. Eggs will be soft-cooked at that point, so take them from pan at once. If medium-cooked eggs are desired by this method, turn off heat at boiling point and, if necessary, set pan off burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand in water, covered, for four to five minutes. Eggs can be hard-cooked this way by letting them stand for about 12 minutes.

2. First hold refrigerated eggs under warm-water tap or place them in warm water while heating water in saucepan to the boiling point. Transfer eggs to boiling water with a tablespoon. Turn off heat immediately. Set pan off burner. Cover pan and let eggs stand from four to eight minutes, depending upon "creaminess" desired in soft-cooked eggs. Same method can be used to hard cook eggs, except that the eggs should be left in the pan in water kept hot but not boiling, for about 15 minutes.

3. Another soft-cooking method, sometimes called "coddling," calls for keeping the eggs in simmering water for three minutes.

In all instances, the eggs should be cooled, when removed from saucepan, by placing under cold tap water or in cold water for several seconds to prevent further cooking and assure easy handling.

Poached—Since the standard for a poached egg is a high yolk banked with a thick white, it is desirable to poach only the higher quality eggs. Put about two inches of water in a shallow pan and bring it to a boil. Reduce temperature to simmering. Break each egg into a sauce dish and slip each separately into the water. To test doneness, press yolks gently with back of a spoon. Remove eggs, one at a time, with a slotted pancake turner and transfer to warm plate, hot toast, hash or whatever the choice may be. To remove excess moisture, pat with paper napkin or towel.

Eggs in Cake—Every cook aspires to turn out a fluffy, light tender cake. All cake ingredients should be at room temperatures. This means the number of eggs needed and the measured quantities of milk and shortening. Take these ingredients from the refrigerator about one-half hour before mixing. Warming of the eggs will be hastened if the eggs are broken from the shell immediately. In whole-egg cakes, it is unnecessary to separate the yolks from the whites. Add the eggs one at a time to the creamed sugar, shortening and extract mixture and beat in thoroughly before the next egg is added.

The use of tested recipes is urged. First read the recipe carefully. Make sure you have all the necessary ingredients. Then follow instructions faithfully.

Often the homemaker finds it more convenient to use a cake mix. Eggs in all their natural freshness and delicate flavor are already in many of these mixes in the form of egg solids. The egg solids contain all qualities of the shell egg which make for efficiency in cooking generally and beautiful in particular. Simply follow package directions. Results will be rewarding.

If you do all these things you will find that eggs are the shortest way to an excellent meal.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

HERE IS A GLIMPSE INSIDE the newly remodeled and redecorated breakfast room of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Spence, 15185 Northville road. The layout and arrangement of furniture, shelves, cupboards and drawers permits full and practical utilization of available space. It is compact and cozy, yet allows easy access to all parts of the room. The walls and cupboard doors are paneled in knotty pine with a driftwood finish. Food may be passed directly from the kitchen to the breakfast room via the convenient serving bar, at the left center of the picture. A built-in sliding desk is located just above the drawers shown in the lower right corner. Carpentry work was done by Gordon Kettlewell, and color coordination was handled by Pease Paint and Wallpaper company.

Discuss New System To Make Mortgage Funds Easier To Get

A plan to make it easier for home seekers in all sections of the country to obtain mortgage funds at a fair rate of interest and to enable persons with small savings to invest them in real estate, is being prepared by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

From the plan is expected to come federal legislation to create a system of regional mortgage associations, chartered by a Central National Mortgage Association, to purchase mortgages from mortgagors who would be members of the associations, and to issue debentures for public sale against the portfolios of mortgages held. The proposal is now under discussion with federal officials and financial institutions.

Serving as a secondary market to which lenders could sell their mortgages held, the new system of associations would stabilize the mortgage market and provide a constant supply of funds in all sections of the country for lenders desiring to make well-secured loans, NAREB explained. It would break the bottleneck in rural and remote sections of the country in particular, where inadequate turnover of mortgage paper has resulted in home seekers and others being unable to obtain loans. Persons desiring to invest in real estate but who have only a small amount available could purchase debentures.

Under the plan, the Central National Mortgage Association would charter and determine the number of regional mortgage associations and set up regulations for their operation. It would also establish a sound and conservative system of appraising property upon which the regional associations would purchase mortgages.

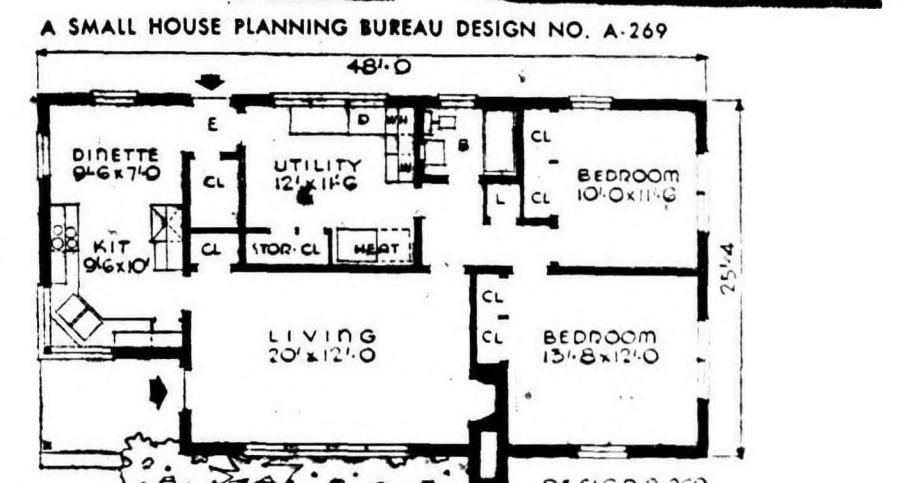

Regional mortgage associations would be chartered originally where most in demand, and they would be permitted to set up branch or district offices within their regions. The minimum capitalization of each regional association would be subscribed initially by the United States Treasury. As subscriptions from private sources increase, an appropriate formula would be provided whereby the Treasury's participation would be gradually retired, similar to the plan of the Home Loan Bank System.

Each mortgage association would be permitted to purchase all types of first mortgages on improved property. Against the portfolio of mortgages purchased, debentures for sale to the public could be issued.

The plan envisions the liquidation of the Federal National Mortgage Association and the retirement of the stock subscribed for its management. CNMA portfolio could be transferred to the Central National Mortgage Association under a trustee account for management. CUMA would manage the account, but as regional associations are chartered that part of the FNMA portfolio which covers real estate in a particular area would be transferred to the regional association for management.

The board of directors of NAREB, in approving the plan in principle at its recent meeting, prescribed that the mortgage associations should ultimately be privately owned by mortgagee members and should not be confined solely to insured mortgages or to housing mortgages, but should deal in all types of mortgages. Their operation should be based upon a sound appraisal system, the directors stipulated.

DESIGN A-269. Exterior walls are 8" concrete block, stripped for lath and plaster with stucco finish. An insulated floor slab is laid on a bed of gravel and the utility room replaces the basement. Cubage is further reduced by the flat roof which used one set of joists for ceiling and roof and is covered with asphalt roofing. The utility room contains heating and laundry equipment, work space and cabinets. Closets include storage in the entry and utility, wardrobes, linen and coat closet. Kitchen cabinets are well arranged around a corner sink, leaving a well-lighted dining space in the rear. Other features include covered stoop, fireplace, recessed tub, small hall and planting space. Floor area is 1,144 sq. ft. Cubage is 11,100 cu. ft. For further information about DESIGN A-269, write the Building Editor, The Plymouth Mail.

Heating Plant Due For Annual Cleaning, Check

Once the heating plant has been shut down for the summer, the tendency is to forget about it until fall. The Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau advises that "old faithful" should have the same attention that an automobile receives after a long and arduous run.

Householders should appreciate the fact that the heating system in the home is actually a manufacturing plant which provides comfort, the Bureau points out.

As a manufacturing plant, the heating system should be inspected at least once a year as a precautionary measure to uncover signs of possible deterioration which, if unchecked, might prove expensive and inconvenient during the next heating season.

The Bureau advises that every heating system, stoker, oil burner, and gas burner should be serviced by an expert heating service man as soon as possible. The call for such service should not be postponed until fall.

A thorough cleaning of the heating plant is the first step in the spring servicing. At the same time, the heating contractor will make a careful inspection of the boiler, the grates or burner, the controls, and the smoke pipe to see that everything is in good operating condition.

Hot water and steam heating plants should be inspected by heating and piping contractors while owners of warm air heating systems should make their arrangements with warm air heating contractors.

Ease of cutting Sugar Pine makes it a basic material for wood carvers.

With the rich natural beauty of oak floors coming into greater prominence in room decoration, many homemakers are finding that attractive braided rugs serve effectively as economical floor covering for various rooms.

Tastefully chosen, such rugs set off the beauty of the oak and add interest to the decorative plan of a room.

A college home furnishings specialist, offering tips to homemakers who wish to make their own braided rugs, emphasizes the importance of proper color selection and distribution. Each rug, she points out, should have a dominant color. With its supporting colors, this will harmonize with other colors in the room. If a striped design is employed, care should be taken to avoid repeating stripes of equal width and space, an arrangement which forms a monotonous pattern.

Western Pines and associated woods are grown in 12 western states.

Home Plumbing Job Will Be Made Easier With Plastic Pipe

There's new hope for the home plumber. It's flexible plastic pipe, easily sectioned with either a saw or a knife.

For the man who wants to tie a new outdoor hose connection, a home darkroom or a water softener into the house coldwater system, plastic pipe beats the problem of pipe cutters and threading tools. It bends around curves too.

Connection, either into conventional metal pipe or plastic-to-plastic, are made with molded hard-plastic fittings that are forced into the ends of the pipe and held permanently by stainless steel clamps.

Large cracks in stucco should be filled with an exterior crack filler before paint is applied.

Never leave a brush standing on its bristle ends. This causes them to bend and curl.

Before Re-painting

Before beginning to paint a wall, dust it thoroughly with a dry mop. Except in the kitchen, where walls are likely to have grease on them, they seldom need actual washing with cleaners before they're repainted.

Architect's Suggestions On Face-Lifting a Bungalow

Modernizing the exterior of a bungalow like the one pictured below is a problem, as the hundreds of thousands of persons who own similar ones know. But some changes can help—such as those suggested in the drawings by Architect Erwin James of Chicago for Home Modernizing magazine.

The bungalow (left) has been made more handsome by cleaning up the roof lines and adding more modern windows.

The door is moved to the front, entrance brick work replaced.

More glamorous window treatment added—the popular window wall.

Swimming - Playground Schedule Begins This Week; Register Now

Hundreds of youthful and adult swimmers, and many beginners are comforting themselves these hot days at the high school pool participating in the summer swimming program provided by the recreation department. Under the capable direction of several life guards and instructors, these waterlovers have a chance to take a dip in the pool each day.

The program this summer will consist of mixed swimming. In the morning there will be FREE RED CROSS INSTRUCTION for those beginning to swim. The afternoon and evening portion of the program will be devoted to recreation swimming for the entire family.

All persons taking part in the summer swimming program are asked not to wear wool swim suits. The girls are required to wear bathing caps. Because of the depth of the water at the shallow end of the pool, Pool Director John McFall says all children should be at least 48 inches in height.

Students tickets for the afternoon and evening will be 15 cents. Tickets may be purchased 10 for $1.

The time schedule for the swimming program is as follows: MORNING - Monday through Friday-Boys & Girls every day, 9:30-10:30 grades 1 through 4 free instruction in swimming;

W & B Drop Two Games Last Week

Whitman & Barnes lost two games last week, the first to Evans by a 5 to 3 score and the second to LaFountaine in a lopsided 12 to 1 game.

The losers led in the first game until the fifth inning when Evans opened up to score 3 runs, and counted 2 more in the last inning. Three singles and an error accounted for the three runs in the fifth, and a fielder's choice, a single and a double for the last two runs. Stevens held W & B to one hit, that being a single by the leadoff man in the first inning.

Stevens was the winning pitcher and Joe Nagy the loser.

In the LaFountaine loss, 8 walks played a prominent part in the 12 runs scored by the winners. The winners counted four times in the third on four walks and a double. Scriver led the attack with two singles and a double. Wellman held the losers to 2 hits.

Olds Gains Two More Victories

Last year's champions, Beglinger Olds, served notice that they will again be contenders for the title this year with two wins last week to remain undefeated. They won over Evans 6 to 1 in the first game and 4 to 1 from Cavalcade, the only other Open entry in this combined league in the second win.

Maas hurled against Evans and allowed only one hit, a two-bagger by Marsh which followed an error to score the losers lone run. Stevens was the losing pitcher, being touched for only 4 hits by the Olds batters, but walks spelled his downfall. He issued 7 bases on balls and each run was a direct result of a walk. Muggs Hunt had a single and a triple for Olds.

In the Cavalcade win Olds was forced to go all out in beating the scrappy Cavalcade team 4 to 1. Gabby Street chucked for Olds and allowed 3 hits, struck out 6 men and did not walk a man. Thibadeau allowed 8 hits, struck out 6 and walked one man. His double to open the sixth inning resulted in the only run for his team when he was singled home by Daggett.

Schultz had 3 hits for the winners, and Carl Pursell hit the homer in the seventh inning.

10:30-11:30 grades 5 through 9 free instruction. AFTERNOON: Monday through Friday-Boys & Girls every day, 1-2 grades 1 through 3; 2-3 grades 4 through 6; 3-4 grades 7 through 8; 4-5 grades 9 through 12. EVENING: Monday 7:30-9 Family Swim; Tuesday 7:30-9 Women's Swim; Wednesday 7:30-9 Father & Son Swim; Thursday 7:30-9 Adult Swim; Friday 7:30-9 Teen-Age Night.

The playground schedule also is released for the summer, and those children who wish to participate in the activities conducted on the various playgrounds should register today at one of the 5 centers. These centers are located at Starkweather, Smith, Bird and the Junior High Schools, with one also being located at Green Meadows. All will be open from 9 to 12 and 1 to 4 Monday through Friday and will provide a diversified program. Teen-age boys and girls will act as supervisors under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Caldwell of the high school girls athletic department.

There will also be a tot lot conducted at the four schools for pre-school children. A small fee will be charged for these as they are not of school age. Parents may leave their offspring under the care of supervisors while they go shopping or such—games and other forms of entertainment will be provided. Anyone interested in any of these should go to the nearest playground and register today—children may remain there to play today.

Dick Day Hurls No-Hitter in "E"

The fast Plymouth entry in the Class E baseball league got off to a good start with two victories—an easy win over Northville 15 to 1, and a close victory over Rosedale Gardens 2 to 1. In the opener against Rosedale, Dick Day hurls a no-hit game for Plymouth. The lone run scored by the opposition crossed the platter on a walk and an error. Plymouth scored two runs in the second on three errors, a walk and hits by Pelchat, Agnew and Day.

Day, a promising sophomore hurler at the high school, struck out 12 men, and walked 3 in gaining his no-hitter. Clark, the Rosedale hurler, also chucked a good game allowing but 5 hits.

In the easy Northville win, Henry Bonga hurled for Plymouth and allowed 4 hits, struck out 8 men and walked 2.

John Agnew led the attack with 3 hits while Jack Carter had 2.

Today Pierson plays at Plymouth and next Tuesday the locals journey to Redford Township for a game there.

Wiedman Donates Ball Equipment

Recently Paul Wiedman, local Ford dealer, donated all the athletic equipment he has accumulated from years of sponsoring local boys' ball clubs, to the Recreation Department. The donation included suits, catching equipment, bats, bases and other things that go to providing the necessities needed for a baseball team. Mr. Wiedman has sponsored the local entry in the Class D Western Wayne County League the past few years.

Herbert Woolweaver estimates that to go out and purchase this equipment new would cost around $600.

The above will go toward providing equipment for teams without a sponsor.

Olds Meets DTD in Showdown Tilt in Showdown Tilt

A showdown between the two undefeated leaders in the combined open and industrial league is due for tonight when Beglinger Olds and Detroit Transmission tangle on the diamond behind the high school. Each team has won four contests without a loss, and each will be out there trying to make it 5 straight wins tonight.

Each team has power hitting and good hurling so a very exciting game should be in prospect.

DTD Remain On Top in Softball

Detroit Transmission scored two more victories last week to remain on top of the combined Open and Industrial League standings, along with Beglinger Olds, each having won 4 and lost no games. DTD handed Bathey a 5 to 0 beating in the first game as H. Somers hurled a two-hit game.

Londeau was the big gun in the winners attack with a triple knocking in the first run in the first inning and a double knocking in two more runs in the third inning. A walk and three singles produced the other two in the sixth inning.

Bathey didn't get a hit until the sixth when Ralph Eddleman singled, and then Cadotte singled in the last inning.

DTD won over LaFountaine 8 to 5 in the second win of the week as they scored 4 in the third inning once in the sixth and three in the last inning to put the game on ice. Somers again was the winning hurler with Wellman being the loser.

Two home runs—one by H. Somers and another by Londeau featured the third inning attack. The winners scored 4 times in the last two innings without a hit.

Scriver and Vaughn got 5 of the losers 6 hits—Vaughn getting 3 and Scriver 2—one of the latter being a home run.

Cavalcade Wins Two More Games

The Cavalcade team won two hard-earned victories last week over LaFountaine 4 to 3, and Evans 5 to 2.

The first game was a pitchers battle with all the runs being scored in the third inning. The losers counted 3 times in the top of that inning on the only 2 hits they were able to get during the game. Vaughn was safe on an error, and a walk and two singles and another walk scored the three runs. Cavalcade came back in the bottom half of the same inning to score all their 4 runs. Two walks to open the inning, and two fielder's choices that went astray counted the first two runs, and then a single, the only hit of the inning, by Cole scored the final two markers.

Wellman struck out the final three men of the inning. Thibadeau was the winning pitcher with Wellman being the loser. The former allowed only 2 hits, and Wellman allowed only 3 hits.

In the Evans game Cavalcade counted in every inning but the second to score the 5 to 2 win. Thibadeau again won allowing only 2 hits, both coming in the sixth inning. Etherington started for Evans, but was relieved by Stevens in the third inning. The winners made only 3 hits in scoring their 5 runs, walks figuring in all the winners' runs. M. George got 2 of the 3 hits, a single and a double.

SPORTS

Sports Glances

by "Professor" Edgar Brown

Plymouth's small fry will again have a summer chuck full of recreation this year according to Recreational Director Herbert Woolweaver. Swimming began in the pool at the high school last Monday with classes for beginners from the first grade up in the morning, swimming for advanced in the afternoon, and for adults and teen-agers in the evening. A schedule appears in an article on this page. The playground activities begin today with registration at 5 playgrounds.

Softball for boys in the 5th and 6th grades got underway Tuesday.

All the above activities will provide much entertainment for anyone wishing that sort of recreation. It is nice that our city has such fine facilities now for a varied type of summer recreational program.

So far a number have indicated a desire to join the proposed Alumni Athletic Association to begin in the fall. It is a desire of the coaches not only to get the recent graduated athletes in this sort of thing, but those letter-winners of past years as well into this organization. If you are interested drop a card to John Sandmann at 117 Caster or call 1038-W, or to myself at 197 Amelia, or call 151-J. Please state your name, phone number, address and the sport and year in which you earned your letter. It is hoped that this can become a worthwhile, large organization, and one that will add much to the welfare of the community.

A few weeks ago I mentioned that all-around athlete Bob Hitt had been a state champion horse-shoe pitcher a few years back—many of you will get a chance to see how proficient Bob is at the barnyard golf game when he appears on the 4th of July sports program. Bob will display some fancy trick tossing of the horse-shoes on the field at the rear of the high school, and he is really good at this game. Bob is also a star bowler for Detroit's famed E & B team, and was a star on the Plymouth Merchants baseball nine until the past couple years.

Phil Barnes, a former star football and baseball player at Plymouth High School, is now coaching one of the grade school boys' softball teams. Phil has been interested in boys' athletics the past year as he also worked with the small fry basketball teams and also in football.

It is wonderful to see such adults as Phil, Bill Foster, Jim Dudley, Sam Stephens and Charlie Groth take an active interest in the development of the younger people in the city, and their splendid influence is something that should be appreciated by everyone. They give their time free to provide entertainment and fun for our young people. We should have more such men as the ones listed above for they are helping make this a better community through their character-building activities.

Every time I take a drink of the wonderful Plymouth water it reminds me of the cool deep-well water one finds on a farm. We have better water than most communities now, but I remember a few years ago when it wasn't so good. I often hear travelers remark about the tasty water this community has—just another thing we should all be thankful for and appreciate. What has this got to do with sports? Sportsmen have to drink water, don't they?

Parkview Girls Rained Out in 4th

Women's softball began last week, but the local Parkview Recreation team was rained out after leading at the end of three innings over Unistrut of Wayne. The local losses were ahead 4 to 0 as the teams finished the third inning and the rain came to wash out the contest.

Barbara McIntosh and Jennie Konazski again form the Plymouth battery this year, with Patsy Lidgard, Sara Leet, Sally Shuttlesworth, Pat Clifford, Cheri Ritter, Inez Enterline and the Misses Finnegan and Villerot the remainder of the starting lineup.

The local high school baseball team entered, almost as a unit, the Class D Western Wayne County League this year. They should go a long way in state play this year as this team was one of the best to represent Plymouth High in a long time. They won the championship in the 6-B League from some mighty good opposition. Just off the record I'll wager they take the Class D League title this year and advance a long way in state play.

I saw the Plymouth Merchants lose to the undefeated Auto Club nine last Sunday—the locals out-batted the famed Detroit team and gave them 7 unearned runs out of the 8 scored. Glen Skov, the star Detroit Red Wing hockey player is a member of the Auto Club team and plays right field. It's a good thing he is a good hockey player because he wouldn't go far in pro baseball even though he did get one single in 5 times at bat. He grounded out with the bases loaded in the second and struck out with two men on in the next inning. Afield he misjudged a long fly ball which went for a homerun scoring three runs.

Two-City League Formed for Old Timers' Teams

The few older men, too old for a fast team, but who want some recreation and fun will have a chance to get it again this summer as an Old Timers' League has been formed jointly with Livonia. In Plymouth only three teams announced intentions of playing this year, and a league could not be formed with so few teams. Recreational Director Herbert Woolweaver got busy and contacted Livonia, and as a result a combined league will be formed consisting of seven outfits from Livonia and the three from Plymouth.

The three local outfits are being sponsored by Daisy Mfg. company, Wall Wire and Contractors. The league began last night.

A new rule this year provides for 4 men under 30 years of age on a team with the exception of the hurler who must be over 30. Last year only 2 men could be on a team who were under 30.

Next Wednesday Dutch Mill of Livonia plays Wall Wire in a game beginning at 8 p.m. Each night a game from the boys' grade school league will be played either after, or before, the Old Timers' game.

Champion Rocks Enter "D" League

The 6-B league championship Plymouth Rock baseball team is entered in the Western Wayne County Class D league this summer. Nearly all the members of this good outfit are playing on the outfit sponsored by the Optimist Club of Plymouth in this fast summer league. Most of the teams in the league are representing high school teams from this part of Wayne County.

The first game was played on the diamond back of the high school Tuesday against Inkster Carver.

The winner of this league will enter the district tourney in Ann Arbor later in the season with the winner there going to Briggs stadium for the state finals.

Leaders Still Top County League

The pace-setters in the Inter-County league continued their unbeaten string last Sunday as Auto Club came from behind to upset Plymouth 8 to 5, and Northville handed Redford a 12 to 4 shelling. These two teams lead their respective divisions by wide margins.

Other scores found Teamsters blanking Farris Furniture 9 to 0; Food Fair edging out Walled Lake 7 to 6; and River Rouge walloping Lincoln Park 27 to 6.

The standings with two games not reported are as follows:

Red Division	W	L
Northville	7	0
Teamsters	5	3
Food Fair	5	3
Plymouth	4	3
Livonia	4	3
Farris	3	3
Grandale	3	4
Walled Lake	0	8
White Division	W	L
Auto Club	8	0
River Rouge	4	4
Wayne	3	3
Wyandotte	3	4
Redford	1	5

Detroit Auto Club Beats Merchants 8-5 in Loosely Played Ball Game

Undefeated Detroit Auto Club remained in first place in the White Division of the Inter-County league last Sunday as they dealt the local Plymouth Merchants nine an 8 to 5 beating at Riverside Park. Auto Club won this game with the combined pitching of Glen Chappie with numerous Plymouth errors to gain the margin of victory. Seven of their eight runs were unearned, while Plymouth had three earned runs. A good Auto Club infield killed the few scoring opportunities the locals had all afternoon.

The winners scored three unearned runs in the top of the fourth inning on one hit. The first man walked, and after the second had struck out, the next singled. Ed Hock struck out the next batter, but what should have been the third out resulted in an error by Swartz filling the bases. Then Hock hit Weiss on the foot with a pitched ball forcing in a run, the next man walked forcing in another run, and another error let in the third run of the inning.

The Merchants came back with a vengeance in the fifth inning to score 5 runs and go ahead. Shedd opened the inning with a single, Moers walked, and McComber hit a terrific liner to right over Skov's head for a homerun scoring both runners ahead of him. Hock got a life on an error, and Kubitsky singled him to second; DeWulf sacrificed them a base and an error allowed Hock to score and Kubitsky to take third from where he scored on a fly ball by Jack Dobbs, who is home on leave from the army for two weeks.

Auto Club gathered in another run in the sixth inning, their only earned run of the contest, when a fluke double and a single produced the run. They tied the game up in the seventh inning when Ossy was hit by a pitched ball followed by two singles. At the end of this inning, Hock, who had been in trouble all afternoon was relieved by Wally Dzurus. Dzurus was touched for a single by the first man he faced, the next batter sacrificed and was safe on an error by Dzurus who tried for a double play and threw the ball into center field. An error by McComber filled the bases with no one out. A wild pitch allowed one run to cross the plate, and after one was out the next batter walked filling the bases again. Froscier was cut down at the plate on a fielder's choice, but Weiss walked forcing in another run, and a scratch single put the last run across the platter. Ed Hock hurled seven innings and allowed 8 hits, 5 runs, struck out 5 men, walked 5 and hit two batters. Dzurus hurled the last two innings allowing 4 hits, 3 runs, struck out 1 man and walked 3 men. Chappie allowed Plymouth 4 hits, struck out 6 men and walked 3.

Shedd had two of the four Merchants hits with McComber getting a homer and Kubitsky a single. Wolfe and Skubisz each had two of the ten garnered by Auto Club. The winners had men on base every inning with 55 men going to bat during the game. Only 35 local men went to the plate.

Grade School Has Softball League

There will be a grade school softball league again this year. In fact, it began this past Tuesday night. Teams entered are from Smith School, Bird School, Starkweather School, and an outfit sponsored by the Optimist Club of Plymouth.

Games will continue each week until the last game on Wednesday, July 29. All games are played on the diamond behind the high school in the evening.

Coaches are Bill Foster, Phil Barnes, Charlie Groth and Sam Stephens.

Next Tuesday, June 30, Smith plays the Jr. Optimists in a game beginning at 6:30, and Starkweather takes on Bird in a later game at 7:45.

Bathey Trounced

Whitman & Barnes trounced Bathey 15 to 4 last week on only 9 hits. Wildness on the part of Bathey pitchers, and errors afield accounted for most of the runs scored by the winners. The big inning was the sixth when the W & B batters pushed 8 runs across the plate.

Onusco had a single and a triple and J. Emanuel a double and a triple.

Joe Nagy was the winner and H. Schwartz the losing hurler.

50 Years Ago

Mrs. Fred Gentz entertained the graduating class at her home on Saturday evening, it being a surprise on her son Earnest who is one of the class. The evening was spent in games and singing, after which light refreshments were served, all enjoying a good time.

A pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Spicer on Wednesday evening last, when their daughter Rhoda W. Spicer was united in marriage to William H. Wakely of Detroit.

Clarence E. Stevens, who has been director of music in the southwestern state Normal school at California, Pennsylvania returned home the first of the week and will remain in Plymouth until fall.

Probate Judge Durfee was unable to attend the funeral of his old friend, R. L. Root, but he came up Wednesday evening to take a last look at the remains.

Immediately after the marriage of her sister, Rhoda, Wednesday evening Mrs. Fannie Judson presented her infant son, Lyman Spicer, to the Reverend W. G. Stephens for baptism. The water used for the occasion was brought from the Jordan river.

J. D. McLaren has purchased a number of old vacant factory buildings at Romulus and will tear them down and use the material for building an elevator at that point. This will make four elevators under his control, besides the one in Plymouth.

An 18 year old daughter of John Mott, of Canton, is very ill with typhoid fever.

The three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Huston was playing in an upstairs room of their home Monday forenoon, in the course of which he ran with full force against a window screen. It was not fastened strong enough to withstand the shock, and fell out to the ground below, followed by the boy. The little fellow struck in such a way as to break his right hip, and also bruising his knee and face. Drs. Kinyon and Tillapaugh placed the limb in a plaster cast and it will probably be some time before the child will be able to be about, though it is not thought any permanent injury will result.

25 Years Ago

Kenneth Corey, of Ann Arbor, has purchased the building at 875 Wing street which has been occupied by McLaren & Atkinson as an automobile salesroom and will open a laundry and dry cleaning establishment there about July 20. Mr. Corey will install new and up-to-date equipment and will have a modern plant in every way.

Mrs. Bessie Dunning, daughter, Margaret, and the Misses Winifred Draper, Dorothy, Bentley and Grace Lee started yesterday on a month's auto tour of the eastern states.

R. J. Lorenz, manager of the Hotel Mayflower, announces that he has secured the services of C. H. Thompson, of Detroit, an expert chef. Mr. Thompson has served as chef at the Book-Cadillac in the English grill; the Detroit Yacht club and the Birmingham Country club, and comes to the local hotel highly recommended as an expert in the culinary art.

M. H. Longdon, of 1332 Sheridan avenue, brought to The Mail office a copy of the Joint Documents of the State of Michigan for the year 1851, which contains some very interesting information. In the list of townships in Wayne county we find the following regarding Plymouth township: Population in 1840, 2,163; population in 1851, 2,431; valuation as per census 1850, $883,472; acres assessed in 1851, 22,438; equalized valuation of 1851, $192,854. Robert McClelland was governor of Michigan at that time.

Next Saturday, July 7, Huston and Company, one of Plymouth's leading and oldest mercantile establishments will observe the 34th anniversary of its business existence, and also the formal opening of the new addition to the store which has just been completed.

H. K. Wrench and P. H. Deal, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the local plant of the Michigan Federated Utilities, attended a convention of the Michigan Gas association, held at Mackinac Island several days this week.

Dr. M. Fletcher will start a medical practice in the Woodworth building July 7. Dr. Fletcher just completed two years of internship at Harper hospital in Detroit.

The only time pedestrians have the right-of-way is when the ambulance is hauling them to the hospital.

10 Years Ago

Charles Bennett, ace salesman, will celebrate his 80th birthday this Saturday. Despite the fact that he is the city's leading citizen, despite the fact that he is the president of the Daisy Manufacturing company, the city's leading manufacturing concern, and despite the fact that he is the president of the Plymouth United Savings bank, Charles Bennett is strictly an all right guy. If one was to ask Mr. Bennett what has brought him the most joy in life, he will tell you that it has been in succeeding what he started out to do. But Russell Daane, vice president of the bank, said, "I'd say his greatest joy in life is helping other people."

Michael Huber was elected president of the Plymouth board of education at the organization meeting of the five trustees, held last Friday evening at the high school.

Born at a time when the North and South were fighting a desperate war over the liberation of the colored race, it was necessary for Charles H. Bennett of this city to live 80 years before experiencing personally some of the tears, pains and anguish that went along with that war. Yes, sir, Mr. Bennett actually shed tears, big boiling tears last Monday in Detroit. But the tears were not due to grief or sorrow or any unhappiness. The tears began to flow, and flow most freely, when a tear gas bomb was dropped almost right in front of him from an automobile occupied by four colored men who were immediately arrested by police.

Joe D. Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt of Lilley road, reported in May, 1942 by the war department as missing in action on Bataan Peninsula, is a prisoner of war of the Japanese on the Philippine Islands, his parents have just been advised by the International Red Cross offices in Washington.

Older Plymouth residents will be interested to know that Dr. Frank Field, who was pastor of the First Methodist church of this city about a quarter century ago, was made district superintendent of the Saginaw-Bay division at the recent Methodist conference held in Detroit. Buying war bonds with every extra penny she could make, donating blood to the Red Cross and making munitions for the fighting forces of Uncle Sam apparently did not satisfy patriotic Margaret Zimmerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Zimmerman of Blunk avenue. She has now joined the WAACs and left Thursday evening for Fort Devens, Massachusetts where she will enter into active military service.

What's This About Christmas Trees?

If you're growing pines for Christmas trees, this is a good time to trim them—up through the first week of July.

That's a tip from Extension Forester William G. Stump of Michigan State College. Pine trees usually grow too fast and leave too much space between whorls of lateral branches, he says. Pruning will help give a compact tree with the right height.

All you need to do the job, he advises, are a pair of hedge shears and a jackknife. Cut back the terminal growth at the top of the tree to control the height growth. Then cut back the lateral growth of the terminal whorl so they are an inch or two shorter than the terminal growth.

Next come the lateral branches on the remainder of the tree. Some of these may be growing too rapidly and will have to be pruned in order to give the tree a conical outline. Occasionally, Stump suggests, it may be necessary to remove some old growth in order to shape the tree.

You don't need to worry about pruning spruce and fir trees now, he says. They can be pruned during the dormant season.

Details on pruning can be obtained in a publication called "The Pruning of Red and Scotch Pine for Christmas Trees." It's available at the county agricultural agent's office or by writing to the Extension Forestry Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

City Attorney Clarifies Ruling on Sewer Permits

City fathers last week heard legal counsel tell them that the State health commissioner has broad powers of control over construction of sanitary sewers that cannot be constructed here without certification.

It confirmed to commissioners a get tough order that asserts Plymouth must unconditionally guarantee new sanitary sewers will have "adequate pollution control" by January, 1955.

Commissioners early in June asked City Attorney Harry N. Deyo to confirm the legal powers of the health commissioner in ordering a signed resolution guaranteeing pollution control.

"The State Health Commissioner (has) broad powers of control and supervision over waterworks and sewage systems," Deyo told commissioners. "No sewers may be constructed without a permit from him."

Deyo said that construction without a permit is a misdemeanor and funds spent for unauthorized construction are an illegal expenditure.

The get tough order affects all communities along the right-of-way of the Middle Rouge Parkway Interceptor. It is the $3,500,000 interceptor that presumably would guarantee adequate sewage disposal for large areas of Western Wayne Out-county. Whether or not construction will be completed by January, 1955, is not known.

For Plymouthites besides a flat assessment tax for the main sewer to be built between Southfield and Merriman, there will be added costs for lateral and spur lines. That cost was placed upwards to $1,200,000 and will be paid by property owners here and in the township as a direct tax levy.

Dwellers living south of Wing street will be heavily affected by the county sewage system that will be ordered into use to replace septic tank disposal units. Exact costs of the project to each property owner has not been accurately computed up to this time.

4-H Livestock Club Practices Cattle Judging

The Plymouth 4-H Livestock club met last week for a business meeting and to judge Guernsey cattle. The leader, Don Korte, supervised the judging in the barn of David Brinks on Ann Arbor road.

The business meeting was held in the Brinks' home, with vice president Earl Lungiedy presiding. Movies were shown on the life of the Pueblo Indians and on the fishing industry and people of Gloucester, Massachusetts.

The group discussed the 4-H events for the coming month, including 4-H Club Week, June 29 to July 2, and Wayne County 4-H club camps, July 26 to 31, and August 1 to 8.

"OUR MODERN MIND," the television series over WJBK-TV, channel number 2, from 12:00 to 12:30 Sunday afternoon, will this week tell about the way patients are helped to get well through Northville's treatment program. This series of programs has been worked out so that they will acquaint you with what your state hospital at Northville is doing to help the mentally ill get well. On the July 5th program local citizens will be mentioned in connection with their volunteer work at the hospital. In the above photo (left to right starting with second from left) Mrs. A. H. Dohmen, Mrs. Roy Jacobus, Mrs. Otto Beyer, Mrs. Byron Champion, Mrs. Albert Pint, and Mrs. Austin Whipple, are seen with patient Jerry, far left, getting ready to enjoy the food and games that are brought out for the monthly ward parties sponsored by these and other Plymouth women. Dr. Edward N. Hinko, assistant medical superintendent at Northville, states, "The ward parties and programs sponsored by groups have gone a long way to help the patients feel that not only are the staff interested in getting them well, but also the citizens in the community."

ROGER BABSON SAYS:

It is time for both businessmen and educators to put an end to the reckless overexpansion in the field of engineering education. Many educators and their young student counselors are being misled by the current strong demand and high wages for "physicists, engineers and draftsmen." I predict a lot of disappointments. In just a few years many of these hopeful engineering students may well become mere technicians simply because the supply will far outrun the demand.

BUSINESS DEPENDS ON WHAT PEOPLE DO

The economic welfare of any nation depends upon two general factors: (1) the development of its material, educational and spiritual resources; and (2) the efficiency and fairness of its distribution methods. In a free economy this is the way the real, lasting welfare of a people is improved—by producing more and distributing same at less cost with less waste. My years of studying business conditions have forced me to conclude that reckless overexpansion in any field can never become permanent.

Our economic history has usually consisted of distinct movements, and these movements have usually consisted of four periods: (1) a period of overexpansion; (2) a period of depression; (3) a period of improvement; and (4) a period of improvement. Our history clearly outlines periods of intense activity, high prices, speculation, and borrowing, followed by periods of falling prices, periods of depression and failure. The movement which business follows depends on what people think and do. When people get careless and fail to heed the danger signs—when people become greedy and try to get more than they give—overexpansion usually follows. Following the crowd is usually followed by panic, contraction and readjustment. Remember 1929!

REALISTIC PLANNING NEEDED

The trouble with most of our high school and college youths is that they don't remember 1929. I'm glad they don't. But they should know the lesson that 1929 taught. And then teachers and business—should try to help prevent another such period by avoiding the temptation to over-expand and get the last dollar in profits or wages.

Let me be more specific. I read dozens of newspapers and periodicals each week; and I have dozens more digested for me. I read everywhere about the demand for engineers. One recent study of 174 companies indicates companies are hiring about 25% more engineers this June than last year, and at salaries nearly 10% higher than last year—ranging up to $400 per month. Not once in my reading have I yet run across any warnings from company recruitment officers or top management that the demand for engineers is coming perilously near the saturation point. Is this not a responsibility of both business and the school?

EMPHASIS ON DISTRIBUTION In the last half century we have succeeded in doubling our manhour output and at the same time in improving our quality of manufacturing. We can now produce in most industries more than we can consume. During the last ten years, however, we have improved our distribution very little indeed. As a matter of fact, some sales forces have lost ground. They have forgotten what efficiency and service require. I predict the second half of this century will see a belated revolution in our distribution efficiency. This is where the jobs really are! Why aren't our high school and preparatory school counselors calling attention to these opportunities? Why isn't business doing a better job of long-range planning and making those long-range distribution needs known?

Young people, in fairness to them, should be made aware of the fact that no company can guarantee to hold them at the drawing board or on the production line when business declines. As readjustment develops out of our postwar period of overexpansion, only the most fit engineers will survive. Demands for engineers are at a maximum now. Those who will graduate from engineering schools and colleges a few years hence will not have it so good. They should learn in our economy and avoid being disappointed by present rosy engineering promises.

Start Build-Up Of Alfalfa Now

Start your August-September build-up of alfalfa fields now, as soon as your first cutting is harvested, advises Edward D. Longnecker, extension soil scientist at Michigan State College.

One principal cause of unsatisfactory alfalfa yields in Michigan is lack of readily-available plant food in the soil, he claims. The 1950 agricultural census showed the average Michigan alfalfa acre yielded only a ton and a half of hay. Yields of twice and three times that amount are not uncommon—where plant food is available.

This necessary plant food can be added to the soil any time during the growing season, Longnecker explains, but there is no better time than shortly after the first cutting. This provides for the important August-September build-up.

This fertilizer application right after first cutting should increase next year's yields more than nutrients put on in late summer, fall or early next spring, he notes.

Farmers should not try to place fertilizer in the soil on established stands, the M. S. C. soil scientist warns, because discs of the drill will injure plant crowns; this might be a factor in spreading bacterial wilt. He advises broadcasting the fertilizer over the surface.

On heavy clay soils, use 0-20-10 analysis fertilizer, Longnecker suggests. For light or sandy loams, he prefers 0-20-20, and 0-10-20 or 0-10-30 are better adapted to light sands. Don't skimp on quantity, he adds. Plan on at least 200 pounds per acre per year of this fertilizer.

Chips from the ROCK

I think the air arm of the Navy did a pretty good job of getting me, along with some 30 other news and radio men, "aboard" and well sold on their branch of the service last weekend as we visited the Pensacola air base and the aircraft carrier USS Monterey.

Our flight from Grosse Isle on Wednesday came to a landing at Sausley field at Pensacola shortly after lunch. We were greeted by Vice Admiral John Dale Price, chief of Naval air training, and Rear Admiral J. P. Whitney, chief of Naval air basic training. After a brief hand-shaking ceremony we were loaded in buses to the strains of a Navy band and started a trip to the Pensacola base some 15 miles away.

The town of Pensacola is located on the Gulf of Mexico in northwest Florida, 62 miles east of Mobile, Alabama. The city has a population of 43,000 and an elevation of 15 feet. The town boasts a mean temperature of 68 degrees, but our visit happened on one of the hottest periods ever recorded. Actual recorded temperatures that day were not released by the Chamber of Commerce.

"The Annapolis of the Air," as Pensacola is known, consists of 4,218 acres and was established in 1825 as a Navy base. In 1913, after it had been abandoned as a Naval base, it was selected as a site for the Navy's first air station, and today it is one of the finest and largest in the world. In fact all Navy and Marine pilots today must be trained basically at this station and pass the various tests given there before they can secure their Navy wings. The weather permits usage of the field 90 percent of the time, ideal for flying.

Under the direction of Vice Admiral Price four functional commands are directed from Pensacola: the air basic training command, the air advanced training command, the air technical training command, and the air reserve command. Also included under the Pensacola command are some 27 reserve stations throughout the United States, such as the one located in Michigan at Grosse Isle.

We were much impressed by the intensive training given cadets. They spend many long hours in air conditioned class rooms over books and in the hands of most capable instructors. At the first orientation period each cadet is taught Naval history, customs and etiquette to provide him with a thorough background of aeronautical subjects to be used when actual flight training begins.

He spends 16 weeks of intensive training in the academic department studying such subjects as navigation, principles of flight, engines, gunnery, communications, etc. During the same time much emphasis is put on sports and each cadet is taught to swim and to pass rigid swimming tests. Also in his daily program is a period devoted to discipline and marching.

During the last weeks of his pre-flight training he is introduced to a synthetic device known as a Link trainer where he will receive the primary stage of flight training. At the end of this course he is transferred to Whiting field where his flying days start. From here on he gets instrument flight training, tactical and gunnery training, then carrier landing. From there he goes to Corpus Christi, Texas where his advanced training starts. After four months here he returns to Pensacola for final carrier qualifications and receives his wings and assignment to duties in the fleets of the Navy.

In addition to a complete survey of the training program we were given a most intelligent dissertation on Navy finances and its procurement program. A surprising statement was made by Admiral Whitney when he said that this remarkable program has cost the taxpayer less than one cent of the appropriated defense dollar.

We witnessed a simulated jet attack on the air field which set fire to a Navy plane (see picture) which was quickly brought under control by fire-fighters using a new chemical made from soy beans. At the same time a flyer was dropped in the sea and rescued by a helicopter which rushed him to the nearest medical base. The show was an interesting one and we were impressed by the quick acting Navy cadets.

Another interesting demonstration was the "Dilbert Dunker." It is a device looking like part of a plane (see picture below) in which a cadet is dropped from a 50 foot height into a pool. The cockpit turns bottom side up and he releases himself in 12 feet of water and swims safely away from a supposedly damaged plane. Each cadet must pass this test to the satisfaction of his instructor before he can ever fly a plane. At the same time the cadet demonstrated his neck life preserver and his life raft which he sits on in the plane.

Late that afternoon we witnessed a show by the Navy's famous "Flying Angels," a quartet of aces that fly jets at speeds up to 700 miles per hour in perfect flying, diamond formation at six feet apart. Their show was tremendous and the pilots, whom we met later, were brilliant young men with outstanding records of achievement in Korea and World War II.

Speaking of Korea brings to mind the fact that all personnel we queried on the subject were vehement in their denunciation of our participation in that war. One Marine Colonel, recently back with a most formidable record, pointed out the fact that when he left this country for Korea he knew he had one chance in seven of returning. After serving in that theatre he could see no reason for our actions. Another Navy Commander was equally as violent in his denunciation of the effort saying he had lost 40 percent of his entire command while in Korea.

ALL WERE OF THE OPINION THAT IF WE WERE THERE TO FIGHT WE SHOULD FIGHT INSTEAD OF STOPPING OUR ADVANCES AT SOME NORTHERN LINE WHERE IN EACH CASE, WHEN REACHED, WE STOPPED TO BE DRIVEN BACK FOR A FRESH START. None could see any accomplishment from our efforts and all commented on the fact that most South Koreans (our allies) lived from day to day, not even knowing a war was going on unless some member of their family might be called for duty. My personal observation was that all felt we were mighty foolish to lose our men in this action.

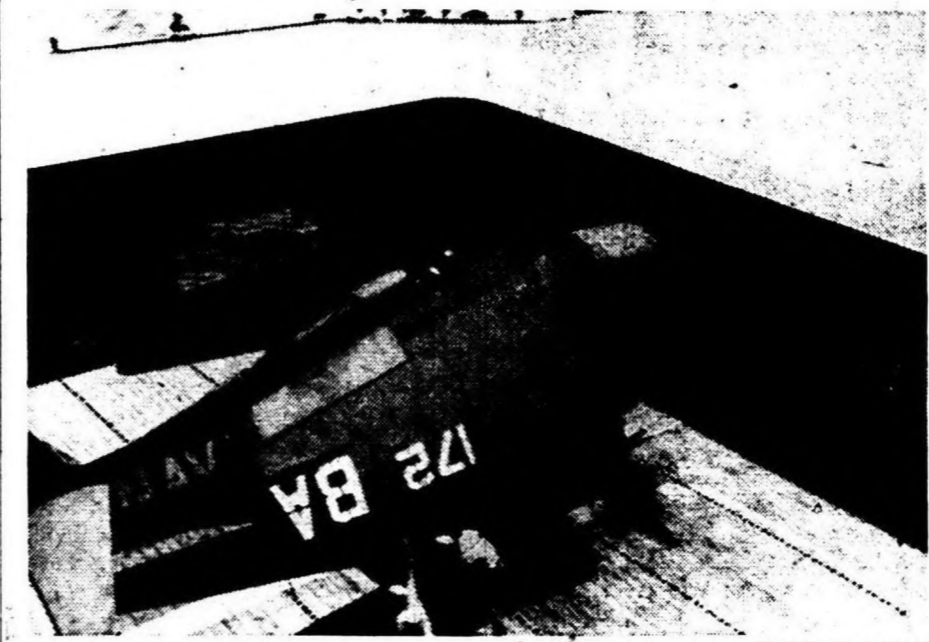

Our visit on the aircraft carrier USS Monterey was most pleasant and we spent the entire day watching cadets make landings and takeoffs from its deck. Two minor crashes occurred but no personnel were injured. It was amazing the speed with which the crews could handle the planes as they arrived. They are the little-sung heroes of the Navy who contribute most to its actions.

One realizes why the Navy training program is so intense when he learns that it costs $64,000 to pin the wings on a Navy cadet. In fact after the cadet has spent another two-and-a-half years in Navy service he has cost the taxpayer an investment of over $100,000. No wonder every possible method is taught which can save his life in an emergency, and no wonder every piece of available life saving material is at his command when he is in the air.

Pictured below is a shot taken as the foremost plane is taking off and the second plane is approaching the deck for a landing. Little time is lost when a ship is actually in action.

Also pictured below is one of the planes which cracked up. It is now on the carrier's elevator being whisked to the repair deck in the center of the carrier flight deck. Removal of a damaged plane takes no longer than a regular takeoff.

The Monterey which is now retired to flight training has an enviable war record having destroyed 121 enemy aircraft in the air, and its air groups accounted for 336 on the ground. It sunk 21 enemy ships and was awarded 12 battle stars. Every flight cadet makes 12 landings aboard the Monterey in two different types of planes before he moves to advanced training.

The trip was a most enjoyable one in spite of the weather, and the Navy officials were most gracious hosts though they kept us busy from six in the morning until 10 at night. I should publicly like to thank public information officer Lieutenant Jim Anderson of Pensacola, Commander Bart Slattery of Glenview, in charge of press and radio relations and possessor of an unusually fine sense of humor, Lieutenant Commander Fred Francis of Pensacola, Captain Eddie Sanders, in command of the Grosse Isle Base, Rear Admiral J. P. Whitney, who gave us a most inspiring address after dinner the evening before we departed, and Vice Admiral Price. It was a most inspiring and informative three days.

Of further interest to our readers, I would also like to make it clear that the trip for all of us was at no expense to the taxpayers. Each picked up his own tab covering actual expenses.

See $1 A Dozen Eggs by Fall

Plymouth housewives by September may be paying upwards to $1 a dozen for eggs. This was the forecast at the annual meeting in Lansing of the Michigan Allied Poultry Industries, an organization of poultry interests which since 1939 has promoted ever increasing egg usage among Michigan consumers. Crux of the predicted price hike revolves around a slackening egg production. Experts blame it all on a retail market last fall that saw prices fall to new lows. Howard C. Zindel, Michigan State college extension poultryman and secretary of the Michigan Poultry Improvement association, set the $1 a dozen outlook. Zindel predicted the high would be reached in better stores in cities like "Detroit and Chicago." He told that higher retail prices of eggs to housewives reflects a decline in egg production. "Farmers have reduced their laying flocks because of low egg prices in November, December and January," he said. Zindel blamed feed costs for making farmers reluctant to plunge back into the chicken business early this year when the situation was not yet clear to them.
