

Who's paying how much for this Middle Rouge interceptor sewer and what earthly good is it going to do me?

That is the $379,000 question being asked by property owners in Plymouth and Plymouth township as work on the big sewer project gets underway.

First of all, the county drain commissioner, Christopher Mulle, has informed the township that its share of the project cost will be $205,000.

Then there is the matter of interest. The county drain commission is prepared to sell the bonds at six per cent interest. This is considered as very high interest, so city and township officials are looking for a cheaper way out.

A definite tax formula for the township has not yet been worked out, according to Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

As for reasons for the sewer, Plymouth's city manager Al Glassford and the township supervisor had many.

The city could build its own sewage disposal plant, Glassford points out, but the cost would be much higher.

"Township homeowners won't see any immediate benefit from the project," Supervisor Lindsay states.

"We feel that the sewer will not only be for the good of the township at-large, but will benefit each property owner because of this increase in property valuation," he stated.

Some day there will be another sewer coming into the southern part of the township. It will parallel Joy road and go as far as Sheldon road.

Dunlap to Devote Full Time To Musical Activities Here

Wayne Dunlap, director of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra, has announced that he will devote full time to his work with the orchestra and his new music appreciation course.

The orchestra concerts got underway with the first performance being held last Sunday. The class in music appreciation is still in its formative stages.

The class is the first of its kind to be offered in this area, Dunlap said. Because of Plymouth's fine orchestra, he added, the course can be organized to follow the concert program in order that there might be direct application of the class work.

Assisting Dunlap with the course will be guest speakers from the University of Michigan and the Detroit Symphony orchestra.

Dunlap studied music at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, New York and served on the faculty of the University of Michigan for seven years.

... AND A LITTLE CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM" (Isaiah 11:6). Righteousness and faithfulness as expressed in this passage of the Bible were exemplified this week by four small friends of Richard Fulton, nine-year-old muscular dystrophy victim.

and especially so because his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Fulton of 246 Division, promised that he could attend the Halloween party at Starkweather on Wednesday.

Plymouth Concert Season Opens to Capacity Crowd

By Gerald J. Fischer

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra opened its eighth season last Sunday before an enthusiastic audience which filled the high school auditorium to capacity.

Sunday's concert was highlighted by the appearance of Fred Kendall, popular local tenor, and the playing of the ever-popular Tchaikovsky Fifth Symphony.

The songs varied from a "Boatman's Dance" to "I Bought Me a Cat," a game song after the fashion of "Old MacDonald Had a Farm."

The orchestra opened the concert with the Overture to "Euryanthe" by Carl Maria Von Weber.

New Home Appraisal Finished in Township

An indication of the volume of Plymouth township building during the past year has been revealed by two tax assessment officials who claim they have visited nearly 100 homes which will be on the tax duplicate for the first time this year.

Local Officials Begin Public Works Course

An "in-service" course on "Municipal Public Works Administration" is being conducted for city managers and public works supervisors for five communities.

The educational course is being conducted for the officials of Farmington, Garden City, Wayne, Ypsilanti and Plymouth to study various phases of public works.

The Ladies Aid of the Salem Congregational church will meet at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wilson on Seven Mile road on Friday, November 13 for a potluck dinner at noon.

Hunting Close To Home Areas May Ban Sport

"Something has to be done about these hunters," Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay declared this week as complaints about hunting close to homes continued to come in from homeowners.

"Someone's shooting right around our house," is the common complaint being received at the township hall since the opening of the hunting season.

Lindsay states that the township board may decide to put the issue of no hunting in the township on the ballot in 1955.

The sheriff's department has been called to investigate several complaints, Lindsay states, but the hunters are usually gone by the time they arrive.

As an illustration of the hunting which is going on in populated areas, one of the latest complaints came this week from the Plymouth Stamping company.

Nab Boys With Air Rifles After 'Shooting Up Town'

Three Livonia teen-age boys will appear before juvenile authorities after a western-style "shootin' up the town" escapade last Monday night.

Charges of destruction of property have been filed against the three youths—two of them brothers, ages 16 and 14, while their companion was also 16.

Norman Terry, 13, son of Commissioner and Mrs. Marvin Terry, 1095 Roosevelt, was riding his bicycle home on South Main street after attending a Boy Scout meeting when the three Livonia boys drove up beside him and started firing at him with their two air rifles.

A block, he rode across a lawn to his home where he reported the incident to his parents.

At the W. J. Lent home, 594 Edison, Mrs. Lent was ironing in front of a window when she heard pellets strike the window.

The youths also shot a hole in a six by seven-foot window in the Paul J. Wiedman garage on South Main street.

By 9:40 p.m. Plymouth police had obtained an accurate description of the car and its license number. The youths were apprehended and taken to the police station where they were released to the custody of their parents until their appearance before juvenile authorities.

Outlook Good For New High In Fund Drive

Early returns indicate that the 1953-54 Community Fund campaign will go well over the amount collected in the 1952 drive, announced Harry Roberts, general chairman of the local collections.

The big increase is chalked up to the fact that industrial and commercial donations are considerably larger than before, stated George Witkowski, chairman of commercial solicitations.

On the home front, Mrs. Russell Roe, heading up the house-to-house and mailing solicitations, also looks forward to a successful conclusion to the drive.

Hospital Fund Total At $83,360

The St. Mary Hospital Building Fund Campaign Committee announces a total of $83,360 subscribed as of Tuesday, October 27, in the first general report of the Memorial Gifts Phase of the Campaign.

Three committees are functioning at present under the Memorial plan. They are the Professional Committee under chairman W. W. Hammond, Jr., M.D., the Commerce and Industry Committee under chairman Patrick McGuire and the Memorial Gift Committee under chairman Mrs. Walter K. Sumner.

The Friends and Benefactors Committee held its first meeting last Thursday. This group will begin its solicitation of foundations, as well as civic and fraternal organizations, about the middle of November.

The general phase of the campaign will begin in the latter part of November, as an army of volunteer workers will visit every home in the community.

The Speakers Committee under Oscar P. Rosbitt, M.D. has been fulfilling engagements before local civic and fraternal groups, carrying the story of St. Mary Hospital and the Building Fund Campaign to these various organizations.

School Wins Cups For Safety Work

Safety patrols and teachers at Bird Elementary school in Plymouth and St. Michael school in Livonia will be honored at a school assembly Wednesday, November 4 when the school receives the Automobile Club of Michigan's Traveling Safety Cup award.

St. Michael and Bird Elementary schools are among 85 schools selected for this honor from over 2,000 Michigan elementary schools in the program. The cups are awarded for superior school safety education programs during the 1952-53 school year.

The youths also shot a hole in a six by seven-foot window in the Paul J. Wiedman garage on South Main street. Hit hardest by the shooting performance was the Michigan Liquor Control Commission store where five of the 9 by 12-foot windows had one or more holes caused by B-B pellets.

The Women's Circle of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will meet Thursday, November 5, at 8 p.m. at the Packer home.

He attributes this to the addition of the Red Cross to the Fund's agencies. The Red Cross agreed this year to abandon its separate solicitation of industry in favor of becoming part of the Community Fund.

With a goal of $19,000 to achieve this year, the Community Fund drive will run until November 12. Tom Kent, President of the Plymouth Community Fund said that all of his chairmen are now optimistic that the goal will be satisfactorily reached.

The $19,000 will all be applied to the Fund's 10 agencies operating locally. Kent pointed out that the agencies are not necessarily social welfare societies, but actually are such that they return with benefits to almost all local contributors.

These agencies are: Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse association, Recreation commission, Veterans Memorial foundation, Well-Baby Clinic, Plymouth Dental Fund and the United Foundation services.

The Community Fund committee has announced that commercial donations exceeding $10 will be published as they come in. Because of lack of space smaller contributions cannot appear.

Presbytery Head Is Rotary Speaker

The Reverend William Mulhern of St. John's Presbyterian church of Detroit was the guest speaker at last Friday's Rotary meeting. Brought to the club by the Reverend Henry Walch, the Reverend Mulhern is one of America's outstanding colored members of the ministerial field and is at present moderator of the Presbytery of Detroit which is the fourth largest in the world.

The speaker chose as his subject "Strategy For Times to Change" and used this theme to weave an inspirational address around United Nations week. He stated that the American public is too concerned with those things they think are going to happen and not enough with the things that are really happening every day.

He pointed out that inventions have transformed the world into much smaller stature and he said destructive power of nations has grown so that there is no longer complete safety in any corner of the globe.

"The people of the world are in search for something today," lethargy has developed. "People have accepted the freedom to become indifferent and have adopted the, do as I please attitude. Laxness and the don't care feeling have developed the attitude of making deals rather than being affirmative as we were many years ago.

He closed his remarks by saying we need a more adequate understanding and the peoples of the world need to understand each other better. And primarily if civilization is to survive we must have greater and stronger objectives as we face our daily living.

YOUNG PAINTERS AT WORK along the city's curbing will be a common scene in Plymouth during the next month as the sixth grade students at Starkweather Elementary school continue their project of painting house numbers on curbs.

Fog Lifts Without Auto Accidents

Plymouth and the surrounding area escaped Monday morning's heavy fog without a single traffic mishap, according to a check made of police and sheriff's department records. It was the third such heavy fog in the past two weeks.

It was 10:30 a.m. before the sun finally pierced the shroud and arrived in Plymouth. Workers traveling to their jobs by car found it necessary to use their headlights, but even then the lights were not visible further than 50 feet. Cars without lights were listed as dangerous traffic hazards by fellow motorists.

Although the fog in the city was bad enough, it was much worse outside the town. Plymouth police were certain that the morning fog would produce at least one accident, but no reports were received. The sheriff's office at Wayne which covers this area also received no reports of accidents in Plymouth township. They did have reports of numerous mishaps in other sections of the county including a collision fatal to three persons near New Boston, five miles southeast of Belleville.

Patrolman Added To Police Force

Frank T. Cooke of Dearborn, 24-year-old veteran of the Marine Corps, became the 11th member of the Plymouth police force this week when he was sworn in by Chief Carl Greenlee.

Cooke was hired after the city commission last week authorized the chief of police to add another man to his force. Addition of a new patrolman means that a patrolman will be able to be assigned to check parking meters all during the day.

The new policeman will begin his work Monday. He had previously been employed as a policeman with the New York Central Railroad and by the Michigan Steel Construction company.

THEY'RE BAKING FIRE HOSES nowadays at the Plymouth township fire department, but don't worry... they're not for consumption. The oven pictured above was recently purchased by the township to dry fire hose. Previously, it took up to three weeks to dry hoses properly by use of a rack near the ceiling of the fire department. The hose dryer does the job in nine to 12 hours. Costing over $800, the dryer can handle 10 coils of hose at a time. Shown checking the hose are Fireman Delbert Slater (left), 9073 Ball, and Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

American Legion Commanders Attend Services

Plymouth was represented at the Memorial funeral services for Sergeant Harold Cross, last allied soldier killed on the battlefields of Korea. Commander Robert F. Wilson of the Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 and 17th district commander William H. Langmaid attended the services.

Many veteran's organizations from Greater Detroit and surrounding communities participated. Interment was made in Red Arrow Memorial cemetery on Plymouth road, Redford township.

A joint meeting of the Auxiliary and Post was held Thursday, October 22, in the Veterans' Memorial home. James Gallimore, associate chairman of the St. Mary's hospital committee, gave a fine talk on the new community hospital. The Post is behind the project 100 per cent.

Commander Wilson was a delegate from the Plymouth Post at the annual fall conference held at Lansing. National Commander Arthur J. Connel gave an address on "The American Legion and the service it can be to the community."

The next meeting of the Passage-Gayde Post No. 291 will be Armistice Day, November 11, at 8:30 p.m. Americanism will be the theme.

Post service and welfare officer Vern Miller states that there are two hospital beds and two wheel chairs available for anyone in the community needing them. Phone Plymouth 715-W for any information.

Youth Groups Make Collections For Milk Fund

The three youth fellowships at the First Presbyterian church will be out on the streets Thursday evening observing the Halloween event in the old fashioned way. In an effort to really "help the poor" the 76 young people will collect money for the United Nations milk fund. This is the second year the fellowships have staged this drive.

The money collected will buy milk for stricken areas. For each $1 collected the countries will match it with a dollar's worth of milk. One dollar buys enough milk for nine children for one week.

Nears Completion Of City Improvements Costing $135,000

Street resurfacing, sidewalk, sewer, curb and gutter construction and water system improvement projects—over $135,000 worth—are being completed during the next few weeks in Plymouth as the warm days of autumn gradually turn into coldness.

The 1953 city improvement projects have mostly been completed. City Manager Albert Glassford reports. "The sidewalk project has been our major accomplishment," the city manager states, although the year's work has seen the pavement of 10 blocks of streets, completion of six sewer projects and the big increase in the city water supply.

Glassford claims that the city's effort to sidewalk the entire city was almost completed this year. The city has paid $20,600 for sidewalk improvement this summer to two contractors. Much sidewalk has been built not included in this figure, the payment being made directly by the homeowner to the contractor.

The pavement and sewer projects this year are estimated by Glassford to have cost about $100,000. Pavement included two blocks each on Auburn, Evergreen, Irvin and Jener, a block on Harding and a block on Holbrook. Storm sewers have been installed on Jener, for two blocks, the full length of Edison, two blocks of Hamilton and West Ann Arbor trail for three blocks.

In addition, the city has had a sanitary sewer installed on Cherry street. A water main is yet to be installed on Simpson and a roadbed constructed on Hardenburg for factory use.

In the city water field, new collecting galleries have been installed this year costing $15,000.

Although construction virtually halts during the cold weather, the city may use the season to clean sewers. Bids are being advertised for a sewer cleaning unit which may cost around $2,800. Clogged sewers have caused numerous complaints from home owners in several sections of the city.

Some of the city-owned parking lots also received improvements this year. The central parking lot was completed two weeks ago after curb and gutters were installed at the west entrance and blacktopping was applied.

The parking area beside and behind the city hall also got a facelifting last week when the entire area was blacktopped. The parking area behind the Masonic Temple received some improvements too. Curb and gutter was constructed at the entrance and blacktopping will be laid this year just at the entrance.

MOMS Club News

Everybody was very pleased with the card party Monday night. The results were fine. Our thanks to a fine chairman, Mrs. Mathias. The hard work is worth the good results.

The next regular meeting will be November 9 at 8 p.m. Don't forget girls, we are to pack boxes for the boys in service, and we also will hear the convention reports from the delegates. Will the girls that still have boys in service please bring the addresses to this meeting? It will save a lot of telephoning for the chairman of this project.

We also say thanks to the bazaar chairman, and of course all those that worked with the chairman. Our thanks to every one.

In Memorium

In loving memory of our dear father, Frank Wagenschutz, who passed away 5 years ago, October 31, 1948.

Days of sadness still come over us. Years of silence after flow. Far memory keeps him ever near us.

Though he died five years ago, they say time heals all sorrows and helps us to forget. But time so far has proven. How much we miss him, yet. Sadly missed by his children.

Railroad is Keeping Pace With Great Development in This Area

"A railroad is like an accordion — it expands to meet increased business and contracts when traffic declines."

This comparison was used by M. M. Cronk, vice president and general manager of Chesapeake and Ohio railway, in explaining the expansion of C&O facilities in the Plymouth area to meet the heavy traffic increase from expanded industry.

Mr. Cronk, answered the question of a reporter from the Plymouth Mail, listed specific improvements on the C&O in the past 18 months, to cope with the traffic increase.

The railroad has, he said, installed in the Plymouth area 25 miles of Centralized Traffic Control, at a cost of $483,500. CTC, he explained, is the installation of proper signals and passing tracks which vastly increase the amount of traffic a single track can handle. Single trackage thus equipped can handle 74 per cent of the traffic ordinarily carried on double track.

If, however, traffic density expands still further, additional track will be laid to accommodate it, Mr. Cronk said. C&O already owns the necessary right of way from Plymouth to Detroit if this should be necessary.

C&O has also created a new position of transportation supervisor, with headquarters at Plymouth, to provide a closer working relationship with the region's industry.

Thirdly, Mr. Cronk said, the recent complete dieselization of C&O's Pere Marquette district insures effective handling of railroad traffic.

Plymouth, he pointed out, is at the crossroads of the PM district. It lies on the main line of two vital routes — the east-west path from Chicago through to New York and New England, and the north-south route from the southern states across Lake Michigan to the northwest.

Most people look at a railroad yard or track and assume that "it has always been there." This is a common fallacy, Mr. Cronk said, when actually a railroad is built only after long and serious consideration and planning. It is a vital part of the community's growth, and exists only to provide dependable transportation for the community.

For instance, he said, when a large industry selects a new location, railroad traffic men work closely with industry officials to determine what facilities will be required to provide efficient transportation for the new products.

Local C&O men have worked in this way, he said, with industries such as the Ford Tank Plant, Chevrolet Spring and Bumper, Evans Products, Whitman and Barnes, Burroughs Corporation, and Barnes-Gibson Raymond company.

The result, he said, was that C&O has constructed spur tracks, switching leads and supporting yards to handle the new freight. C&O, along with the rest of the railroad industry, he concluded, is constantly improving to keep abreast of the times. It will continue, in Plymouth, as elsewhere, to supply the best service possible by bettering operating efficiency and by making whatever expansion is necessary to accommodate business.

Any European war bride living in the vicinity of Plymouth is invited to join the European club just formed in Ypsilanti. A meeting was held on Wednesday evening, October 28. For further information contact Mrs. Ralph Diedrick, phone Ypsilanti 745-M.

Those "No Tipping" signs in the dining rooms of the Mayflower cause much favorable comment. But the most unusual reaction to them was by a small youngster who said to his dad and mother: "It says 'no tipping' on this sign. We'd better put it over on the other side of the table so we won't tip it over!"

We had a complaint from ex-navy officer Glen Heathman that the writer of this column was promoted from yeoman to bo's'n's mate too rapidly. Seems we skipped over a couple of ratings, and that just isn't done in the navy. What will Glen and the other navy men around Plymouth say when they find out that every guest aboard The Mayflower is an honorary Admiral — at least they're treated like admirals.

There's a slogan that says "Watch the Fords go by." For a week or two now we've been watching the Ford salesmen go by. They're from Paul Wiedman's Ford Agency next door and are on their way to combined sales meetings and breakfast. If this group of industrious gentlemen are as enthusiastic in their work as they are in putting away bacon and eggs there are going to be a lot of Fords sold!

Who said Christmas wasn't here? Over at Les Wilson's Camera Shop in the Mayflower the amounts of photography supplies and equipment would make one think we were right in the middle of the Christmas rush. Les seems to believe in getting prepared early. There are enough flash bulbs in the shop to make the "Gay White Way" look like a wartime black-out.

Wayne County Prosecutor Gerald O'Brien and his Chief Assistant Prosecutor, Ralph Garver were in for a quiet dinner Friday evening. They indicted the Mayflower's chef on a charge of serving excellent food.

Anyone want to buy school books? The Mayflower is a good place to meet representatives of publishers in that business. Last week's register showed C. L. Peterson of Row Peterson Co., Virginia Deane of Ginn & Co., Louis Kitchel of J. B. Lippencott Co., and of course, there's local resident Jim Hardimon of Ginn & Co., who used to check in so regularly that he finally decided to bring his family here for permanent residency.

Everett Addoms, Vice President of Besley-Welles Corporation was in from Beloit, Wisconsin, this week and was seen often in the company of his firm's Michigan representative Roy Smitherman, a friend of the Mayflower's skipper. Mr. Addoms was kind enough to mention to some folks that he thought highly of the hotel's service and personnel. In return for that "pat-on-the-back" the crew of The Mayflower hopes that Besley has a most successful acceptance in these parts.

The Wine Shop is loaded with intricately woven wicker baskets. Your Bo's'n's Mate inquired what the different kinds and shapes were for. He shouldn't have done that because it's a long list. Here are some of the uses: Shopping basket, Fireside baskets, Wine baskets, Bread baskets, Bar baskets, etc. Wonder why they threw us out when we asked for a "bushel" basket.

Judges Award Ribbons to Young Window Painters

Rain and chilly winds didn't seem to matter to the 96 art students who manned the brushes for the annual Halloween painting of store windows Tuesday. And the weather also had little effect on Mrs. Gerald H. Mondrop, Mrs. Earl Becker and Mrs. Robert Wesley, whose job it was to select the windows for the blue ribbon awards.

Awards were made in five classes, with ribbons being presented by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's club. Winners in the seasonal category were: first, A & P, painted by group 8; second, West Brothers, group 5; and third, Pursell's, group 1.

Burglars Enter Service Station

Burglars made away with 35 gallons of gasoline from a local service station early Tuesday morning, but they had to work to get it.

Police reported that the theft took place at the Strasen & Diedrick service station, 798 Ann Arbor road, sometime between midnight and 6 a.m. Tuesday. A lock was broken off the gasoline pump, but this didn't get any results. They first had to break into the building (via a rear window) and turn on the electricity to operate the pump motor.

Ready for business, the intruders pumped themselves out 35 gallons of gasoline valued at $10.42.

Minister Urges Return To Old Halloween

A re-evaluation of Halloween has been urged by the Reverend Edgar Hoenecke of St. Peter's Lutheran church. He stated that originally the day was set aside as a time to give to the poor and old people. Since then it has suffered a complete switch, until its original purpose is all but forgotten.

To help remedy the situation he has urged schools to tell their students the real background of Halloween. He suggests that after the children come home loaded down with goodies Halloween night, that they sort out only what they can eat and give the rest to the poor.

The reason some Plymouth people carry a grudge around all the time is because it costs nothing and requires no effort to obtain.

Schifle - Cummins Rites on Saturday

The First Presbyterian church was the scene of the marriage of Barbara Cummins and Gene Schifle on Saturday afternoon, October 24.

The Reverend Henry Walch D. D. officiated at the five o'clock ceremony. Baskets of white mums were placed at either side of the altar.

Barbara was given in marriage by Raymond Cummins, brother of the bride. Her gown was of white satin with a chapel train. Inserts of Chantilly lace adorned both the gown and train. Her fingertip length veil fell from a headpiece of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Someone You Know, Knows Me!

WHAT'S AILING YOU?

Just looking at you I'd say nothing in particular—probably vitamin deficiency in general. But you look as peaked as a marathon runner who has just crossed the Sahara desert wearing a rubber boot over his head. In fact you're so puny you're elusive—almost to the point of vanishing from the earth. For heaven's sake why don't you duff up on Parke Davis Vitamins so if you do take off you'll need at least two pallbearers to carry what's left?

Hamlet wasn't the only guy who muttered to himself. I've been talking to myself all my life. I hear voices in my ivory tower and naturally I retort. Currently, I'm practicing a little extroversion by throwing my voice into the Mail with resounding echoes. I'm getting back-talk from strange sound recorders. For instance, one little old lady phoned me yesterday and told me that if I stopped talking the minute I stopped thinking, there would be more room on this page for important social notes. Then she asked me to pick up a couple of prescriptions to be filled. Just goes to prove that sour grapes make pretty good wine. Of course, when it comes to prescriptions, most folks come to Peterson. You can't get better professional service to save your life.

The gift-wonderful for your favorite little girl! She'll love its tingly, rose-scented spray—it's smart, grown-up look on the dressing table. Set includes plastic atomizer with "squeeze-me" bulb and a full two-ounce bottle of toilet water.

WHO RULES THE ROOST AT YOUR HOUSE?

Frankly, I wear the pants in my family. But this morning I was caught with my pants on the old ironing board when the doorbell rang. I responded in my red flannels to greet old saddle-sore the mail man with a hefty load of my fan mail. He reprimanded me for loading the weight of my customer-compliments on his shoulders while he was suffering from an attack of bursitis. I settled everything amicably by appointing him an ambassador of goodwill for Peterson's Drug Store with all the privileges he can afford to pay for.

CAN'T SLEEP, YOU SAY?

Maybe it's that wee, small voice talking to you on the inside. In that case you'll rest more comfortably on a psychiatrist's couch and get rid of your guilt complex. Personally, I have a good conscience but my jittery nerves often make the pillow hard. So I take DORMIN CAPSULES to produce oblivion quicker than quick. They're SAFE SLEEPING CAPSULES. No prescription needed—just hand me $2.25 for 36 capsules and peace be with you every time you hit the hay.

NOT TOO EARLY TO DO YOUR CHRISTMAS THINKING!

If your mind is in the bargain basement I can raise it to the dignity of street level and still keep you budget-happy. Just call me Santa Claus because I'm going to wear the cotton batting whiskers this year. Plenty of Christmas merchandise on hand right now for ear-ly lookers. Why not start with greeting cards before they're big thick mailed milk with biggest selection of fine holiday cards in Michigan. Drop in I can almost get along without a cash register at the fountain.

TAKE A LOAD OFF YOUR FEET!

Next time you're downtown on a shopping spree why not esconce your weight on a stool at my snack bar. I said snack bar. You can't make a moon-shiner out of a pharmacist. I never chin a stein myself but I do like to freshen up on a big thick malted milk with home-made pie. I cater to good taste and prices are so low I can almost get along without a cash register at the fountain.

Typing Class Prepares Red Feather Envelopes

The first hour advanced typing class taught by Edgar Brown, typed addresses on 4500 Red Feather envelopes for Mrs. Stephen Roe, local chairman of the Committee of Correspondence for the Red Feather Drive. The advanced class was the only one doing this because the beginning classes were not far enough along.

For the past six years, all the typing classes have addressed, filled, and mailed letters for the Easter Seal Drive. Last year the advanced class typed Red Feather envelopes also.

Raise Enrollment In Adult Classes At High School

The enrollment in courses offered this year by the Adult Education department has almost doubled over last year, announced Herbert Woolweaver, director. This year 656 persons have signed up for 20 courses being presented.

The increased interest has been attributed by Woolweaver to the Creative Arts festival held here last spring. He said knowledge of what has been done creatively by local people did much to bring forth this year's big response.

Broken down, the figures show that the Civil Air Patrol has 36 participants; banking fundamentals, 24; blue print reading, 15; shop math, 13; shorthand, 19; typing, 35; welding, 13; rug hooking, 8; sewing, 42; millinery, 12; ceramics, 14; flowers, 11; square dance, 90; symphony, 90; Theatre Guild, 40; badminton, 40; Swedish gymnastics, 20; parliamentary procedure, 12; community chorus, 42; and swimming, 80.

A new class has also been recently added to the curriculum, Woolweaver said, which should raise the enrollment even higher. The course is one in music appreciation with Wayne Dunlap as instructor.

A DRIVE FOR SHOES for Korean people soon to be opened at the Bird school is being explained by Principal Mrs. Nancy Tanger, center, and Mrs. Mary Miles to Student Council president Hobart Hammond. Hobart is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond. The drive is being initiated by Mrs. Miles because "we are happiest when we are helping others." The collection, which has School Board approval, will begin next week in the Bird school through its Student Council.

Shoes for Korea Is Project Close To Heart of Little Mrs. Miles

A case in point that there is always some good work for you to do was demonstrated this week by Mrs. Mary A. Miles, a charming little old lady in her eighties. Mrs. Miles has taken it upon herself to initiate a "Shoes for Korea" drive in the Plymouth schools as well as in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Miles said she was prompted to undertake the tremendous task when she saw on television the pitiful condition of the orphan children and people in war-ravished Korea. She explained, "We all know that the true road to happiness is by doing something for someone else less fortunate than ourselves."

It isn't easy to get the wheels rolling on a project such as this one, but Mrs. Miles' persistence finally won out. Monday collections will begin in the Bird school. She had to first receive approval from the School Board, and then approval of one of the principals who would start the drive. Mrs. Nancy Tanger met with Mrs. Miles and now her idea will become a reality.

For the white-haired little lady such a project is nothing new. During World War I she had charge of Red Cross operations in the city of Hudson. There, she said, tasks that seemed impossible were accomplished easily, thus the experience was a valuable one for her now.

The shoes will be collected in two large boxes in the school corridor. One will be marked for good shoes, while the other will contain shoes which need repairs. Mrs. Miles has arranged for $1,000 to be used for the repair of these shoes.

With the help of her two nephews Mrs. Miles will take the shoes from the schools and ship them to the offices of CARE in California, who will take over from there. After collections at the Bird school, Mrs. Miles said, the other schools in Plymouth will be covered in turn.

She told how the first donation to her drive came from 94-year old Aunt Mamie Weatherwax, resident of a local rest home. Mrs. Miles had taken her some fruit as a gift and Aunt Mamie asked her to stay and talk awhile instead of rushing off. When informed of Mrs. Miles' mission (she was then trying to get approval for the drive) Aunt Mamie said, "Bless you, my dear girl, for helping others and I want to give you two pairs of slippers I am unable to wear."

Thus the drive was well underway.

Mrs. Miles has urged parents of school children to check over the shoes in the children's closets to see if there are any that cannot be worn.

The Korean shoe drive started here by Mrs. Miles not only provides the little old lady with an interest in life, but served the duo purpose of giving relief to the Korean people. You couldn't ask for a more unbeatable combination.

Grange Gleanings

How many of you are coming to the dance at the Grange Hall Saturday night? As a loyal member you should, you know. Help keep up an interest in Grange activities. Any organization is no better than its members, and if the members show no interest and no desire to help how can one expect a live interesting society? Why join any group if you do not do anything to help or improve it?

On November 5 we shall confer the first and second degrees upon a fine group of new members. Come and welcome them into the Order with a hearty shake of the hand.

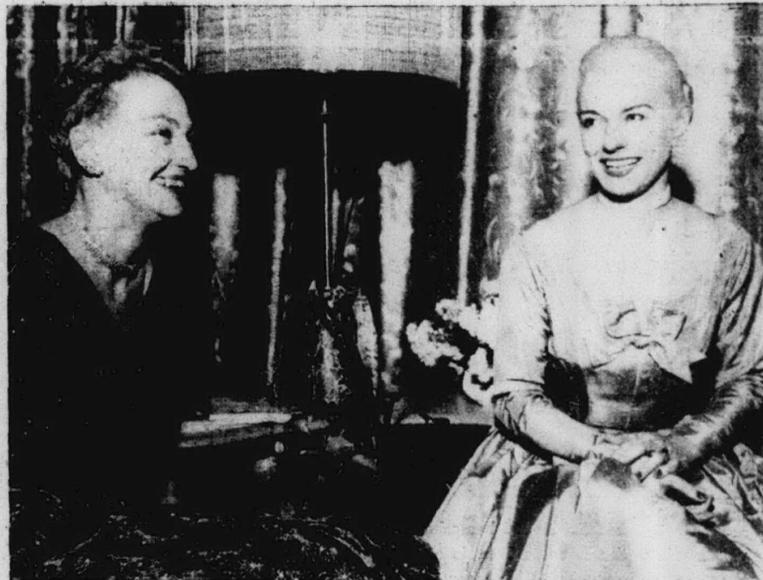

And there is that most important date, November 13. The Country Fair from 1 p.m. to the time when everything is sold. The chairmen of the different booths will be calling for donations along their lines so be ready to contribute if it is possible for you to do so. Booths are for aprons, fancy work, candy, baked goods and others besides so be sure to come in and look around. Ara Fehlig is at home now from the hospital and is improving in health. Cards and callers are in order.

Several of our members are at Grand Rapids attending State Grange this week. Amy Northrup is in Mt. Carmel hospital quite seriously ill following an operation last week. She is getting better however and will soon be able to go to her daughter's home in Salem for a while.

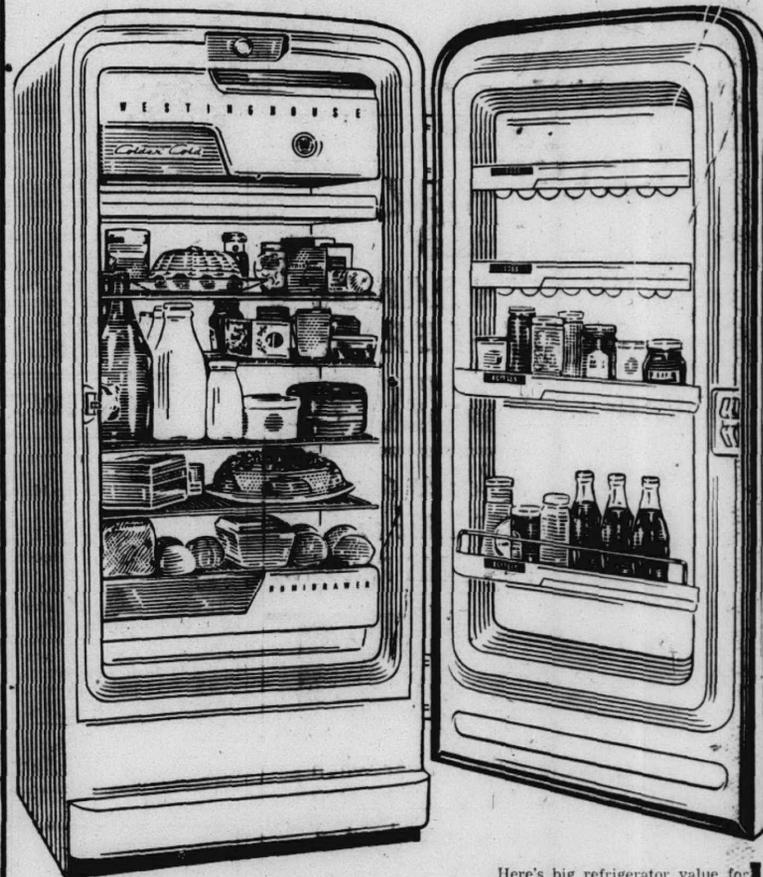

A woman should pick her company but that doesn't mean she should pick her company to pieces.

Delegates Report on Cancer Society Conference Held at Michigan State

Local delegates to the leadership training conference of the Michigan divisions of the American Cancer Society were Mrs. William Norman and Mrs. Harry Bartel. The conference was held at the Kellogg Center on the Michigan State college campus.

Outstanding cancer control leaders from throughout the country attended the two-day meeting. Trained leadership and well-informed volunteers in the fight of cancer were the principal aims of the leaders and planners of the conference. The most highly trained men of the cancer field used their experiences and theories as a guide for the laymen to better understand the principles involved concerning the cancer problem.

The conference followed a heavy schedule. But Mrs. Norman said that every volunteer worker came from the meeting feeling as though he or she could handle the gigantic undertaking of helping the public to understand the cancer fight much better than ever before.

As local public relations officer, Mrs. Norman brought back the following message: "Cancer is not to be the dreaded killer, hidden in the dark, but instead the facts available should be brought into the light—facts that will educate each and every one that cancer can be fought out in the open, without fear and ignorance. These two elements, fear and ignorance, cause needless deaths each year. Periodical checkups with your family physician, keeping on the alert for the seven danger signals, having a good attitude toward the ever-present fact that you and only you can help yourself, are the most important steps for laymen in cancer control."

"Remember, the most important person to help fight cancer is you. Statistics prove that early diagnosis means cure. Here are the seven danger signals. Learn them and tell your friends to learn them.

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.

7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

"These symptoms do not mean you have cancer. They are merely warning signals for you to see your family physician. The medical world is working tirelessly, day and night, year after year, to help fight cancer. You can help them by helping yourself. Learn the seven danger signals and you will be helping in the fight that some day soon will come to an end."

Auxiliary Smorgasbord Menu Offers Wide Variety of Dishes

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary has planned a smorgasbord table that they say would be the envy of Stockholm. The menu the Auxiliary has planned will have imported delicacies, prepared recipes from Sweden. The Auxiliary described the menu as one that could be rated as a gourmet's idea of heavenly eating with juicy hams, turkey, cold cuts, eight varieties of imported cheeses, among them, Swiss and Edam, scalloped potatoes, brune bonner, Swedish baked beans and escalloped corn.

Among the salad department will be cabbage, molded rainbow salad, tuna fish salad, Argurker, the Swedish pickle comparable to the American epicurish jerkins, spiced crab apples, liver paste, pickled ashar, a Swedish cucumber concoction and pickled beets.

Breads that will be featured will be the Limpa Caraway and Rudbrod, which is a well-known Swedish brown bread. Deviled eggs and corn relish will add to the plentiful menu. Not to be forgotten will be imported herring and sardines.

The Auxiliary will again serve meat balls that proved to be so popular in the past, using the same recipe this year. Betty Marquis, general chairman, stated, "2800 meat balls were served last year and this year many more will be made."

The Auxiliary received letters of praise after the smorgasbord a year ago. People who had passed through Plymouth, stopped and enjoyed the palatable food. They were from surrounding towns, including Detroit. The letters were kept on file and the writers have been notified of this year's Smorgasbord, as they requested.

The atmosphere in the new V.F.W. Home at Ann Arbor and Lilley roads, the scene of the smorgasbord, will be festively Swedish. Sunday, November 8, between 1:30 and 5 p.m. is the date. Tickets are available in advance from all Auxiliary members, or call 9117 or 286.

Ladywood Mother's Club To Hear Sister Joela

Members of the Mother's club of Ladywood school will hold their regular meeting on November 2 at 7:45 at the Ladywood school. Sister Joela of Madonna college will be the guest speaker. She will speak on parliamentary procedure.

The organization will sponsor a card party on November 10 at 8 p.m. at the Ladywood school. Proceeds realized from this benefit will go towards the Ladywood school fund.

V.F.W. News

Violet Garrison, youth activities chairman, reports a flag was given to the Salvation Army's youth group known as the Sunbeam Girls, on October 22. She presented the flag in the name of the Mayflower Post Auxiliary.

A Halloween party for the under-privileged will be given by the community service committee, chairman Shirley Swadling, and the youth activities committee on October 31.

Smorgasbord plans are shaping up. See article elsewhere in this issue. A correction on last week's smorgasbord article: All committees set up for the smorgasbord were executed by Betty Marquis, general chairman and Madolyn Hartford.

October 26 was the date of another trip to the Dearborn Veterans hospital. Virginia Batel was in charge. Others who went were Hilda Rorabacher, Sally Wagner, President Gert Danol, Eleanor Gust, Ruth McDonald and Vivian Haar. The patients always are appreciative of any effort by the Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary publicity chairman attended the mass installation at the Graf O'Hara Post Home in Ann Arbor on October 22. Auxiliaries from Tecumseh, South Lyon, Jackson, and Detroit were also represented. The department champion ritual team was on hand. This ritual team has won departmental honors as the state's best. They are of the Detroit North End Auxiliary. They have been competing the past five years. They have had three first place honors and two second place ratings. It is the first time in the history of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization that a Post and its Auxiliary have won first place in department ritual team competition.

Their president is Edna Leppman, and they have 85 members. They are proud of their standing and their conduct. Mary Walsh, stated that if our Auxiliary ever formed a ritual team she and all the members of the team would gladly assist us.

The Halloween membership party has been postponed.

The state of Nevada had a treasury balance of $10,895,910 at the end of last year. State revenues during the year exceeded expenditures by about $300,000.

Girl Scout Movement Honored By National Recognition This Week

More than 2,000,000 Girl Scouts are participating in the observance of National Girl Scout week from October 25 through October 31, in memory of the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States, the late Juliette Low, who was born on October 31, 1860.

The seven days that include October 31 are celebrated every year as Girl Scout Week. Opening on Girl Scout Sunday, October 25 and continuing through Saturday, October 31, Girl Scout Week offers opportunity to show your world what the Girl Scout program is all about. Each day of the week features one of the major interests, ideals or activities of the Scouts, such as Homemaking Day (Monday), perennially the most popular of Girl Scout programs; Citizenship Day (Tuesday); Health and Safety Day (Wednesday), an excellent opportunity to publicize Girl Scout first aid or home safety efforts; International Friendship Day (Thursday), an ideal time to call public attention to the pen pals the Scouts have made aboard or to their Juliette Low World Friendship Fund; Arts and Crafts Day (Friday), when the handicrafts produced in camp or troop meetings can be featured; and Out-of-Doors Day (Saturday), when demonstrations of outdoor skills can be held.

One of the highlights of this year's observance will be the publication of the tenth edition of the "Girl Scout Handbook."

According to the local Girl Scout commissioner, Mrs. Eber Readman, this edition contains much new material in addition to the basic program that Juliette Low introduced to American girls 42 years ago.

Since its inception, the handbook has undergone many changes in keeping with the ever-widening interests and achievements of women and girls.

The pros and cons of the value of toning prints are as sharply divided as the age-long hassle on the question of whether or not the egg preceded the clucker. Many capable photographers are loud in their defense of toning while others will have no truck with it.

Admittedly, sepia or brown tones do lend a feeling of warmth to, say, fall scenes. Also, scenes which benefit from an air of coldness or austerity take kindly to the blues of gold chloride toning. However, the final choice is rightfully up to you.

At any rate, toning (which is one of our specialties) is done under normal room lighting. Over-fixing results in prints lacking depth and substance and a muddy print is attributable to underdeveloping. Overdeveloping, on the other hand, results in prints as contrasty as a 1910 model bathing beauty vieing with a Bikini-suited number.

There are many tricks which compensate for a poorly exposed negative... down here at 821 West Ann Arbor Trail we know all of the developing, on the other hand, results in prints as contrasty as a 1910 model bathing beauty vieing with a Bikini-suited number.

Paula Hoenecke Describes Recent European Travels

Perhaps the most important lesson that Paula and Heinz Hoenecke brought back from Europe with them was that with all the wonders and traditions of Europe, an American will never be satisfied with anything but America. They said that Europe teaches an American to be an American. The pair returned Sunday from their two-months tour of Great Britain and the continent. Their parents are the Reverend and Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke.

The brother and sister team toured 12 countries in an automobile they purchased in England. They later sold the car in Paris, which is the only place Americans can sell cars without special licenses to do so. Gas they found very expensive, running from 42 cents a gallon in Belgium to 75 cents in Spain. Paula termed the Spanish gas "terrible."

She told of their visit to Vienna Austria which is ruled by the four powers. It was necessary for them to have a "gray card" in order to enter the city. Since the powers take turns ruling the city, they arrived in time to see the French take over from the Americans. Paula said they came upon a hotel in Vienna, decided to enter, only to have a Russian soldier grab her arm. He spoke to her in Russian and ushered her out of the Russian hotel. She added that they could see the Russians engaging in field maneuvers just outside of Vienna.

The highlight of the tour for her, Paula said, was when she saw the Queen in Scotland. People waited five hours in the rain to see her, and just as her car drove up the sun came out. The Queen Mother and Prince Phillip accompanied Queen Elizabeth. Paula termed the actions of the people examples of remarkable loyalty.

Paris, however, was the city which impressed Paula the most. She said that Paris has something for everyone—that it has an atmosphere one finds nowhere else. While there they lived in the Latin Quarter on the Left Bank near the Sorbonne.

For beauty Paula picked the Tyrol in Bavaria. This is where Hitler's home was located. She said that everyone was in native dress, and the houses are painted with beautiful flowers and scenes.

She concluded that it is impossible to narrow such an extensive trip down to a short description. But she added that it is an experience that everyone should have and that it is much cheaper traveling in Europe than here in the United States.

Local Debaters Attend U-M Clinic

Five Plymouth high school students were among the 550 debaters and their coaches who gathered in Ann Arbor Saturday, October 24, for a day-long debate clinic, presented by the University of Michigan Department of Speech.

Attending from Plymouth were James Isbister, 50005 Ann Arbor road; Robert Laible, 107 South Main; George Ann Bauer, 254 Irvin street; Celia Balfour, 320 South Harvey; and Richard Root, 265 Ann street. Coach Dorothy A. Midgley also attended.

Approximately 65 high schools were represented by the debaters, who spent their morning discussing the question picked for this year's high school debate topic.

Three University of Michigan political scientists conducted the symposium dealing with the question "Resolved That the President of the United States Should Be Elected by Direct Vote of the People." Taking part were: Joseph E. Kallenbach, professor; Samuel J. Eldersveld, associate professor; and George A. Peek assistant professor.

During that afternoon meeting, the students viewed a demonstration debate staged by four members of the university debating team.

Epidemic invasions of two predatory insects were experienced last year. In an area centering in the Kootenai National Forest in Montana, the spruce beetle threatened extensive stands of Engelmann spruce valued at about 50 million dollars. British Columbia was the focus of invasion of the European leaf hopper.

CHURCHES OF OUR AREA First Baptist Church

AMONG THE FEW churches in Plymouth which have celebrated their 100th year in the city is the First Baptist church. The congregation observed its centennial in 1948. Most of the 100 year history has been written at the present site at Mill and Spring streets. Pastor of the church for the past two years has been Reverend David Rieder. The parsonage is at 494 North Mill street, a block south of the church.

First Baptist Church Leads State in Giving, Membership Plan

Baptist congregations across the state of Michigan tipped their hats this summer to the First Baptist church of Plymouth when it was learned that the congregation led all others in the state in financial gain during the past fiscal year and at the same time showed the greatest strides in increasing membership.

A financial gain of 167 per cent was made by the local congregation, the Michigan Baptist Convention's annual report showed. Under the leadership of Reverend David Rieder, the membership roll has shown a 50 per cent increase during the past year. There have been 110 new members received into the church during the pastor's last 17 months here.

As the 207 Baptist churches in Michigan watch the Plymouth congregation, they will soon see the remodeling of the church's sanctuary so that instead of being able to seat 250 people, they will be able to seat between 375 to 400 persons. Plans being drawn by an architect call for the removal of the wall at the rear of the church and the building of an addition. The entire interior of the auditorium will then be remodeled. This work is expected to begin next spring.

First Baptist church has stood at the present site for many years. It was in 1848 that 11 charter members began holding services at a place called Shuckley's Corners. They later purchased the present site at Mill and Spring streets where they erected a frame church.

Today, the membership of First Baptist church stands at 235 active members. There is a Sunday school with an average attendance of 150.

With 23 separate Baptist denominations in the United States, the Plymouth church belongs to one of the larger groups, the American Baptist Convention, commonly called the Northern Baptists. At one time all Baptist churches were completely independent. But 123 years ago there was a demand for uniting for the purpose to give stronger support to such efforts as the mission program.

The Baptist churches still remain in the peculiar position of being independent in so far as government is concerned. Churches are free to join or leave the national body anytime they desire. The present-day membership of the American Baptist Convention is 1,550,653. They worship in 8,000 churches. Altogether there are over 15 million Baptists in the nation, the largest group being the Southern Baptist Convention which claims about six and a half million members.

Because of the undivided number of Baptists, there appears to be no movement to unite the varied groups, Reverend Rieder states. Like many denominations, formation of the Northern and Southern Baptist groups came about when the war between the states broke out.

The American Baptist Convention is a very strong believer in missions. It was the Baptists in England that formed the earliest modern missionary society in 1792 and sent out William Carey to India. The denomination has 500 missionaries working in mission fields all over the world where they are politically allowed. Last year they counted 37,042 persons won over to Christianity because of the missionary movement.

Persons outside the Baptist church know the Baptists for one outstanding belief—their method of Baptism. Their distinctive principles are two: (1) That Baptism should be given only to those who profess their faith in Christ, and consequently that infants should not be Baptized; (2) That the only scriptural form of Baptism is by the immersion of the body in water, not by sprinkling or pouring.

As mentioned before, each local church is absolutely independent of all outside jurisdiction fixing its own standards of membership and making its own rules. They have no general confession of faith, and no catechism for the instruction of the young in their tenets. And yet the church remains united in its spirit active and aggressive in its labors and loyal to its principles.

The Baptists appeared soon after the opening of the Reformation in Switzerland in 1623 and spread rapidly in North Germany and Holland. They were first called Anabaptists because they baptized again those who had already once been baptized in infancy. They were at first at union in England with the Independents or Congregationalists and gradually became a separate body.

In America, they began with Roger Williams, a clergyman of the Church of England who came to New England and was driven out of Massachusetts because he refused to conform to Congregational rules and opinions. He founded the colony of Rhode Island in 1644. From Rhode Island the Baptists spread rapidly and widely over all parts of the continent.

Reverend Rieder, a native of Chicago, received his Bachelor of Science degree at Wheaton college (Illinois) and took graduate work at the University of Illinois and Northwestern university. He took a course at the Moody Bible Institute and received his bachelor of Divinity degree at the Northern Baptist Theological Seminary in Chicago.

With 15 years in the ministry, Reverend Rieder started as an associate pastor in the Gratiot Avenue Baptist church in Detroit, and later served at Hillsdale and Grand Rapids before coming to Plymouth two years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Rieder have two sons and an adopted daughter.

ST. PETER'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH, 261 Spring St. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Early service-9:30. Late service-11:00. Sunday school-9:30. Reformation Festival next Sunday, November 1, with Holy Communion in the 9:30 service. The actual date of the Reformation is October 31. On that day in the year 1517 Martin Luther, a monk and a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, nailed 95 sentences on the door of the Castle Church at Wittenberg, inviting anyone to an open discussion and debate on the matter of the sale of indulgences. Through his study of the Holy Bible, which was his duty as a professor of religion at the University of Wittenberg, Luther had discovered that, among other errors, the practice of selling absolution or indulgence from certain penalties for sins as it was being carried on in the church of his day, was entirely contrary to the Word of God. "The whole life of a Christian," he wrote, "is to be one of repentance." The value of this repentance depends not, he taught, upon the treasure of good works of the saints which could be dispensed for the benefit of the one who bought a certificate of indulgence, but solely upon the merit of the suffering and death of Jesus Christ, the world Savior. It is encouraging to note that the Reformation is being remembered and observed in our day more than ever before, however, let us make sure that we understand Luther and the great Reformers, when we do celebrate the day. Luther preached FREEDOM of the individual from domination by any church or pope, whether this be Roman or Protestant; Luther was an enemy of compromise for the sake of greater union; Luther taught strict adherence to God's Word as the only norm for faith and life to the point of separation from those who took the Word lightly. He believed in the divine, verbal inspiration of the Bible, in the justification of the sinner in God's sight solely by grace through the merits of Jesus Christ; to the exclusion of all works; these, he taught, were the natural results of the repentant and believing life in Christ and had value only as such. He denied the right of any man to set himself up in the Church of God as lord and master over believers, with pomp and lavish splendor, when Jesus Christ, the very Son of God, had "not where to lay his head." These are the things of the Reformation which must be reaffirmed and restated in our day to make the observance of the Reformation Festival truly God-pleasing and beneficial.

We have received 19 new members during the past three weeks. Transfers for five other families have been sent for.

Rosedale Church Women Sponsor "African Safari"

The women of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church are getting ready to welcome home "Miss Africa," an imaginary ocean liner on November 11, 1953, which is bringing five of their ladies home from an African Safari (Expedition). These ladies: Mrs. James Dingman, Mrs. Richard Duncau, Mrs. Earl O'Harra, Mrs. Stanley Stevenson, and Mrs. H. E. Wilson will have many interesting experiences to tell about their "Visit" to the mission work of the Presbyterian church in Africa.

Miss Evelyn Porteous will be the guest soloist for this special event.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The
MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

The forest fire hazard is getting worse. Twenty-eight fires burned 125 acres of Michigan woods and grasslands during the last week, the highest weekly total since the end of August, the conservation department reports.

Lack of rain is drying out vegetation throughout the state, making fields and forests dangerous places for fire.

October is generally the most hazardous fall month for fires anyway, and now that hunting seasons are open, sportsmen are urged to think about what they're doing when they light or finish smoking a cigarette, cigar or pipe. There's no question about it, the woodlands you save are really your own.

Field reports indicate the acorn crop is poor this year across the lower peninsula meaning a tough winter may be ahead for Michigan's deer herd, the conservation department notes.

Deer feed heavily on acorns whenever the winter is open enough so the animals can reach oak uplands. Last winter, deer made considerable use of acorns. Game men believe this was one reason no whitetails were reported starved in the lower peninsula.

This winter things may be different, however, and game division workers are hoping hunters will make a substantial deer kill during the coming regular and special seasons so that available natural foods will keep the herd from starvation.

If you become lost in the wilds this year while on a hunting trip, you might do as two persons did recently in the south part of Roscommon county.

Hunting season had opened, but it was after the evening closing hour when conservation officer Ralph Fisk of Ogemaw county heard shots fired in the woods west of his territory.

Suspecting someone was shining and shooting deer illegally, he radioed officer George Luhrs and towerman Ken Haines who were on patrol in the area.

Luhrs and Haines investigated and found tracks leading down a trail road to where a man and his wife had gotten stuck in deep sand.

Fearing a long night in the wilds, the couple had fired 10 shots from their small-bore rifle in hopes of attracting help. The officers assisted and soon had the stranded pair back on the main highway.

Nine wolves were bountied in the upper peninsula last month, the largest number since August, 1952, when 10 were bountied, the conservation reports.

Four were taken in Gogebic county and one each in Alger, Delta and Luce counties.

Also, 694 coyotes were bountied in the upper and northern lower peninsulas during the month, the highest total since April.

Of this total, the leading upper peninsula counties and the number of coyotes bountied in each were Delta with 84, Schoolcraft with 82, Ontonagon with 78, Iron with 73 and Marquette with 50. In the lower peninsula trappers and hunters bountied 10 coyotes in Alpena county and six in Montmorency to lead the field.

Bounties paid to hunters and trappers totaled $12,345 for the month for both wolves and coyotes.

Portage Trails Council of Boy Scouts will work with conservation department land appraisers to find $20,000 worth of land in the southeastern Michigan area so an exchange involving state property on Bruin Lake, Washenaw county, can be worked out.

The conservation commission in recent meetings at Higgins Lake training school decided to exchange about 90 acres of state property, including a hill overlooking the lake, for other property in southeast Michigan of the same value.

The Scouts plan considerable development of the lakeshore property as an addition to their present holdings at the site.

Dissemination of law enforcement information was also discussed at length during the meeting. Discussion centered around the question of when names of law violators should be released to newspapers. The commission finally decided "to continue its policy of not withholding information on arrests prior to conviction, contingent upon the attorney general's interpretation of the legality of this policy." Lists of names of violators also will be made available at periodic intervals and upon request for the benefit of the press, the commission decided.

Timber operators in Michigan cut a total of about four-fifths as many sawlogs, posts and cords of pulpwood during the 1952-53 fiscal year as they did during the 1951-52 year, the conservation department reports.

Nonetheless, the total amount of money turned over to the state in exchange for the timber increased despite the decrease in stumpage cut from state-owned forests. Nearly $303,000 was received last year, while in the previous period about $296,500 was realized.

Foresters say stumpage prices were higher in the latter period, accounting for the increase in total receipts.

One important reason less timber was cut was because of a decreased demand for pulpwood.

This was about the same as the forestry picture elsewhere throughout the Great Lakes area last year. Generally in Great Lakes states last year, less timber was cut and more money realized because stumpage prices were up and the total demand for pulpwood was down.

Better Check New Law Before You Go Into Christmas Tree Business

Citizens of Plymouth or the area who plan to go into the Christmas tree business this year are being reminded by the Michigan Department of Agriculture of the laws which govern the re-selling of trees. The law does not affect original owners of trees. Passed by the 1953 Legislature, the law lists these major changes.

1. Any person, except the original owners of trees or boughs, must upon reselling Christmas trees or evergreen boughs, give the buyer a bill of sale which shall contain the names and addresses of both seller and purchaser and the number and kinds of trees or boughs that are sold. No particular form is required, and any person handling six trees or less does not come under the act.

2. Persons such as brokers, truckers, sales lot operators or anyone buying and selling who is not the original owner must keep for a period of two years bills of sale received from persons from whom the trees were obtained. These must be presented to any enforcement officer upon his request.

3. Anyone buying trees from a property owner must have in his possession a bill of sale on a form furnished by the Department of Agriculture and available at state police posts, conservation headquarters, county agents' offices and sheriff's offices. This is the same form that has been required under the Christmas tree law for many years.

4. Property owners may transport Christmas trees or evergreen boughs from their own property without a bill of sale provided they can provide their ownership of such property.

A bill of sale is not adequate for persons who wish to transport native trees or plants with roots attached, says C. A. Boyer, chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry. An inspection is essential before these may be moved from the property on which they are growing. Such inspection will be arranged on request to Mr. Boyer at the Bureau of Plant Industry, Michigan Department of Agriculture, Lansing 13, Michigan.

The state of Nebraska produced 97,695,000 bushels of wheat last year, more than in any other single year in its history. The corn harvest in the state of 261,960,000 bushels, maintained the high levels attained in recent years but increased operating costs resulted in a slight dip in state.

To Hike Social Security Tax First of Year

Plymouth workers taking home pay slips after January 1, 1954 will notice a bit more shrinkage in their check.

Taking a look at your pay slip now you will notice you are paying out one and one-half per cent of your gross pay to old-age and survivors insurance. After the first of the year it will be two per cent.

According to the Detroit office of the Social Security Administration, the employer's contribution will also be raised to two per cent of the worker's wages. Only the first $3,800 of wages is taxable.

The present tax rate for the self-employed person is two and one-fourth per cent of the net earnings up to $3,600. This rate will be increased to three per cent beginning January 1954.

These increases were planned when the social security law was passed to meet the needs of retired workers and families of deceased workers. Social security taxes earn valuable insurance protection for workers and their families. Over five and a half million persons are now receiving social security monthly benefits. For further information about old-age and survivors insurance, Plymouth area residents can contact the Detroit-Northwest office located at 14600 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan.

Michigan State College's New Educational Television Station Nears Completion

Another step toward completion of Michigan's first educational television station was reached with installation of a 3,000-pound antenna atop the transmission tower of WKAR-TV, the Michigan State college television station.

The completed tower, near the community of Okemos, stands

1,034 feet. As the tallest structure in central Michigan it rivals New York's 1,046-foot Chrysler building in height.

A milestone in the history of Michigan State college will be reached in January, the first month for scheduled programming by WKAR-TV on UHF Channel 60.

According to advance estimates, reception will be possible within a 65-mile radius of East Lansing, covering 13,000 square miles.

WKAR-TV will beam programs of informational, educational, cultural and entertainment value, extending the college's resources and services to a large area of central Michigan," according to

Dr. Armand L. Hunter, director of television development at M.S.C.

Programs will include news and special events, sports, arts, music, literature, agriculture, women's programs, adult education, including some courses for credit; programs for school and pre-school age children; information and entertainment programs of general interest; hobbies and "how to" programs, foreign films and documentaries.

Both "live" and filmed programs will be telecast by WKAR-TV. Supplementing the studio programs will be complete facilities for remote use. A 31-foot mobile unit is available to go to the scene of an event and televise the action as it occurs.

Hunting Season Is Open Season On Children Too

Now that Plymouth hunters are taking their guns out of locked closets, the next three months may well be termed "open season on children." While all hunting accidents are needless, the maiming and killing of children as a result of the sport of hunting is particularly tragic.

Deaths and injuries will occur in the field or in public places, while the remaining two-fifths will happen because of carelessness with guns in or around the home.

How many children will be involved? Last year's figure topped 2,700 killed and injured.

According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance company, parents should be as gun-wary during the hunting season as battle-shy vets.

If you live in the country or wooded areas, don't let the children play in the fields.

Warn the children not to pick up or throw rocks at any "hotgun shells they may see on the ground. Ammunition is not to be played with.

Don't let Dad toss his hunting jacket over a chair when he comes in from hunting. All ammunition should be cleared out of hunting togs, placed beyond the reach of children, and locked up before the hunting clothes are even put away.

The hunting gun should be broken down and put safely in its case before the hunter enters the house.

When Dad cleans his gun, make sure the children are not present.

Finally, never allow a child under the age of 14 years to accompany a hunter on a trip. No matter how cautious the child or his parent, there probably are other hunters in the field. Too many of them are thoughtless and "trigger-happy."

Why will some auto drivers continue to refer to a certain class of people as "road hogs" when even a hog has more sense than to take a chance of being killed.

Plymouth Downs Bentley 33-0 to Win Share of 6 B Title

Allen Park Upsets Trenton To Knot League Leadership

Clinching a share of the Suburban 6B League title, the Plymouth Rock's varsity football squad downed Bentley 33-0 last Friday, October 23, under the arc lights on the local's home field at Allen Park upset favored Trenton 25-6. The Bentley Bulldogs won the toss of the coin and chose to receive at the north end of the field. Gary Gothard's kickoff

Rocks' Comeback Unmatched in Local Grid History

Clinching a share of the Suburban, 6B League title was the climax of one of the greatest comebacks in the annals of Plymouth high school athletics. Coach Charles Ketterer's varsity football team started its season at Northville in the middle of September. The Mustangs ran all over Plymouth 21-0. Fumble after fumble was committed by the Rocks and from that game walked a saddened football squad and many more downcast fans.

With that dismal showing, folks thought the local eleven scoreboard at the north end of the field smiled 53-0. The remainder of the game saw coach Charles Ketterer clear the Rock bench as everyone saw action. The Bulldogs picked up four first downs in the last quarter while the Plymouth team racked up three. A recapitulation of the statistics showed that Denny Luker picked up 150 yards on 15 tries for a 10 yard average, Bob Gobiell had a 5.8 yard average as he made 41 yards on 8 tries, Lee Juve picked up 53 yards on 12 attempts for an average of 4.5 yards and Jerry Kelly averaged 4.4 yards with 48 yards on 11 tries. Kelly had a punting average of 37.2 yards.

The anti-climax to this thrilling game came in the dressing room after the game when Coach Charles Ketterer announced that the favored Trenton Trojans had bowed to Allen Park, thus giving the Blue and White a co-championship in the Suburban 6B league, an honor undreamed of at the start of the season. Plymouth's chances for a championship seemed slim indeed after dropping the first two games of the season.

Junior High Gridders Win Thriller at Northville

Winning its third game of the year as against one defeat the Plymouth junior high football team downed Northville's seventh and eighth grade squad 20-14 on a blocked kick with 30 seconds remaining in the game at Northville Wednesday, October 21 under the lights.

The young Rocks hit pay dirt midway in the first stanza as Hoe Barraco pranced 30 yards to the end zone. Dave Walasky passed to Gary Baggot to add the extra point to give the Rockmen a 7-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Early in the second period Barraco passed to Baggot, a play which covered 80 yards, to tally for the second time. The extra point was missed. Halfway through the second quarter Northville pushed over a counter and added the extra point leaving Plymouth a 13-7 lead at the half.

In the third period the Mustangs scored again, adding the extra point to go out in front 14-13. The remainder of the third period and the most of the final stanza was a seesaw battle with little advantage to either team. With 30 seconds remaining in the game the young Rockmen forced Northville to punt from its eight yard line. Tackle John Walker broke through and blocked the kick which rolled to the end zone where he fell on it for the touchdown giving Plymouth its margin of victory. Jim Dzurus passed to Stan Good for the extra point and a well earned 20-14 victory.

Starkweather Continues Hold On League Lead

In the local grade school touch football league last week Starkweather kept its championship hopes alive by downing Our Lady of Good Counsel 19-0 while Bird school shutout the Allen school team 14-0.

The Bird school team wasted little time scoring as it pushed over a touchdown in the early minutes of the game from the five-yard-line and added the extra point. The score at the half stood at 7-0 in favor of the Bird school squad. Midway in the third stanza the Bird squad added its second touchdown and the extra point to give them a 14-0 victory. This game was played on Thursday, October 22.

Starkweather ran all over Our Lady of Good Counsel 19-0 on Monday, October 19. In the first frame Bill Ruehr scampered 15 yards around right end to hit pay dirt and give Starkweather an early 6-0 lead. A few minutes later Dave Timcoe returned a punt 30 yards for a touchdown and a 12-0 lead. In the fourth period Timcoe passed 10 yards to Ruehr for a touchdown and Ruehr added the extra point as he rambled two yards to the end zone to give Starkweather a 19-0 win.

The next game in the grade school league will be played tonight as Allen school takes on Starkweather who is in quest of the championship. On Monday, November 2 the Bird school team meets the Smith school squad to end the season.

The league standings are as follows:

	W	L	PF	PA
Starkweather	3	0	44	7
Bird	2	1	27	12
Smith	1	1	6	13
Good Counsel	1	2	9	25
Allen	0	3	0	33

Home Season Ends Friday For Plymouth

Plymouth's varsity football squad meets Garden City Friday behind the local school under the arc lights at 8:00 p.m.

Garden City has won only two games and finished fourth in its league. Last week they fell to Romulus 26 to 0. The Garden City squad is not to be taken too lightly, however. They are a fast and hard hitting outfit. This is the Rocks last home game and promises to be an interesting tilt.

Other teams about the area fared well last weekend as Van Dyke beat Southfield, a future foe of Plymouth, 14 to 0, while Redford Union moved by Belleville 25-20. Milford stunned Brighton 20 to 6. Clarenceville shut out Holly 13-0. Jackson St. Mary's crushed South Lyon 31-0. Hillsdale squeaked by Tecumseh on a blocked extra point kick 14-13 and Class A powerhouse Ann Arbor moved merrily along over Lansing Eastern 45 to 0.

Frosh Defeated By Northville 11

Northville's reserve football squad dropped the Plymouth freshmen team to its second defeat of the season as against two wins 12-6 under flood lights on the local's home field last Thursday.

John Thomas scored the Rocks' only touchdown early in the first quarter on a three-yard plunge to put Plymouth out in front 6-0. In the second period Northville recovered a Rock fumble deep in Plymouth territory and rushed into the end zone on a seven yard run to tie the score at 6-6 at the intermission. Midway in the third frame Northville scored the winning touchdown on a four yard buck to give the Mustangs a 12-6 victory.

Coach John McFall's squad plays Bentley on the Bulldogs' home field tonight at 4:00 o'clock to end its season.

Sport Glances

Hail to the champs! After the high school team had groped its way through the first game against Northville, and the first league game against Trenton, it got off the floor to take the remainder of the league contests with true championship caliber. Many mistakes were made in those first two contests by this inexperienced outfit, but with each succeeding game a more powerful and confident team developed. Last Friday's clear-cut victory over Bentley enabled the boys to tie Trenton for the championship when the Trojans bowed to Allen Park. The new co-champions each lost one game.

I know the boys would like to replay those first two games, and the way they are going at present they could take the opposition in easy fashion. A "green" team with only one regular back from last year really came across in grand style, and much credit must go to the spunk of these boys and the good coaching they received from their coaches, Charles Ketterer, John Sandmann, Bill Harding and John McFall. Harding and Frank Sullivan also did a "bangup" job of scouting games.

I like the way they came back after those first two losses—some teams would have been demoralized, but not this splendid group of lads.

They still have two games to go, and another thing I like about this outfit is that the lads take one game at a time—they haven't shown any cockiness yet, and a team can't do that and even win a game from a weak opponent. The last game of the year on the home field will be played tomorrow night with Garden City as the opponent. A strong Southfield team will be met at Southfield next week—this last game will be held in the afternoon as Southfield has no lights for night football.

It would be nice to see this team go all the way undefeated after those first two befuddled games.

Many of you have noticed the gentleman in the parka perched atop a platform on the light pole at the football games this year. No, he isn't a crackpot who desires a special box-seat where he can get a better view of the proceedings below, but he is taking motion pictures of the game for the coaches to use in perfecting flaws detected in the game. This man is Bill Lyons, a sporting goods representative who lives on Adams across from the field. Bill does this work gratis, donating his time for the cause while absorbing the chilly night air. The weather sure has been on Bill's side this fall as each night has been a wonderful one for his work.

The downtown windows are again wonderfully painted in keeping with the halloween theme of the past few years. Mrs. Frances Overton's high school art classes are to be congratulated for the lovely work accomplished each year. These students sure do a swell job and enjoy painting the windows. Many visitors to Plymouth have favorably commented on this yearly feature. It is nice that a community spirit prevails in our city to give such occasions and holidays a meaning to the citizens of this wonderful community.

Did you ever go over to the Franklin Hills cider mill for some of those donuts and jugs full of cider right off the press? We went over the other day and it was quite a sight to see them making cider, the old water-wheel, and the hundreds of people gathered there to see the same thing. They sell donuts, cider and hotdogs—and one can partake in the food at one of the many picnic tables thereabouts. Hundreds of cars line the road near this ancient cider mill. The mill is off Northwestern highway on Franklin road, a little east of Farmington. Take your family there some day soon and see this wonderful thing.

Last Saturday was certainly a day of upsets in college football. Michigan State and Michigan fell by the wayside. Michigan's was not so much an upset, but the one suffered by MSC certainly was as it broke their unbeaten string at 28. At the beginning of the season Purdue was rated as a contender for Big Ten honors, but lost the first four games—apparently they got together and played the way they were capable of playing against State. All streaks have to come to an end some time.

The Detroit Lions pulled one out of the fire against the 49ers last Sunday by scoring in the last half. The loser thoroughly outplayed them most of the game, but a fourth down gamble and a pass brought them victory. The big one is this Sunday with the Rams as the opposition—the Lions will have to play better than they have the past couple of weeks if they want to win this one—a big one in their quest for another pro title.

COACH CHARLES KETTERER was a double winner this weekend. First of all his Plymouth High school eleven won a share of the 6B league title and then he won the weekly "Pick-the-Winners" football contest. Ketterer is shown above receiving the $10 winner's check from Mrs. Florence Wood of the William Wood Insurance Agency, one of the sponsoring firms of the contest. See story elsewhere on this page.

Ketterer Wins Football Contest

A football coach, an automobile dealer employee and a 12-year-old seventh grader were winners in last week's "Pick-the-Winners" football contest. Each missed two selections as upsets marked the weekend's grid schedule.

Coach Charles Ketterer, who saw his own Rock gridders win a share of the 6B league title last Friday, took top honors in the contest as his score of the Lions-Rams game was closer than any of the six contestants who missed but two games. Right on his heels were Clarence Wolff of 643 Starkweather, an employee of Jack Selle's Buick, and Bill Bakhaus of 49475 North Territorial, a junior high student.

Ketterer tied for third place in an earlier "Pick-the-Winners" contest and has been a regular entry. Wolff said that he had entered for the first time but would be a "regular entry from now on! Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bakhaus, was happy as could be when informed of his win. "How much did I win," he

Harriers Cop Third Place In 6-B League

Plymouth's varsity cross country team finished in third place in the Suburban 6B league meet last Friday, October 23 on Trenton's home course in Elizabeth park.

An underdog Trenton squad copped the championship with a total of 51 points. Bob Burgor placed second in the meet for them. Bentley captured second place with 57 points as Bob Middlewood ran the course in 10 minutes, 35 seconds, for a new record. The first four men in the race bettered the old record of 10 minutes, 56 seconds.

The Plymouth Rock harriers scored 73 points for third place. Bob Danol was third in the timing at 10 minutes, 51.5 seconds, followed by Tom Davis who led the field at the mile and one quarter mark. His time was 11 minutes, 18 seconds. Bob Middleton placed 14 in the time of 11 minutes, 24 seconds, while 20th place was taken by Pete Schipper in 11 minutes, 35 seconds, Wayne

Smith placed 24th running the course in 11 minutes, 52 seconds. Belleville placed fourth in the meet with 77 points, as Art Gregg finished fourth in the field. Redford Union had 121 points for fifth spot while Allen Park was last with 132 points.

Another reason why everyone in Plymouth should go to church is because nobody notices your presence if you're there and everybody notices your absence if you're not there.

Does Your Child Know Where To Ride His Bicycle?

WHICH OF THESE BICYCLISTS IS WRONG? Ask your children that question and find out if they understand the rules of bicycle riding. If they answered that both are wrong then you have little to worry about. The young riders shown here posed for the picture after first assuring the photographer that this isn't the right way to ride. The pair on the left are wrong since John Nolan is riding his young friend, Dennis Papo, "double." A worse and more dangerous violation is illustrated by Dale Guldbrandsen, who is riding on the wrong side of the street.

The dangers of bicycle riding were doubly-impressed on Dale last week, when his seven-year-old brother, Francis, was injured while riding his bike. Francis was not seriously injured but suffered bruises. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. T. Guldbrandsen of Irvin street.

Many Plymouth youngsters have the impression that because they ride on two wheels instead of four, traffic rules do not apply to them. That mistake can be a bad one, because it could cost a life.

Actually many youthful bicycle riders are confused on just what is the right place to ride a bike. Often when driving through town you will find a child coming toward you, rather than traveling with the automobile traffic. If the child does not already know where to ride, parents should stress that he should ride on the right hand side of the street.

A local resident tells just how difficult driving is made by bicycle riders who don't obey the laws. "I drive through town after my husband between 4 and 5 p. m.—our busiest time uptown. Today it was a girl. Yes, on a bicycle, coming on her left in the street toward town. I was going north with a line of cars coming on my left, so I was between them with very little to spare on either side." Drivers face these difficulties every day in Plymouth.

Other traffic regulations also apply to bicycles. Stop light, stop streets and turn signals should not be neglected by bicycle riders either. And they are required to yield the right of way to pedestrians as well.

If your child knows the rules and obeys them, riding will be more pleasant and safer for both the man in the car and the boy on the bicycle.

We can't help feeling that when Gabriel blows his trumpet there will be some people stubborn enough to criticize his music.

SPORTS FLASHES

from The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

MCDONALD PASSES AWAY AS MICHIGAN STAR

The "burial" of Duncan McDonald of the University of Michigan as a "big time" college player appears to have been premature, says The Sporting News.

The 175-pound junior from Flint was pronounced "dead" as a grid star before the 1953 campaign opened. He was termed a victim of an offensive system and the revised rule.

McDonald, however, refused to believe what was said and written about his football chances. He's proved to be an extremely lively "corpse" and was a big reason Michigan moved into the second half of the season with a perfect record.

It has been the accurate passing of McDonald which has provided Michigan with key Big Ten victories over Iowa and Northwestern, points out The Sporting News.

Critics still say "All he can do is pass," but Michigan followers answer: "But HOW he can pass."

O'MALLEY PRIZES LETTER ON DRESSEN INCIDENT

Among all the mail the Dodgers received on the Dressen incident, Walter O'Malley, president of the club, has one favorite piece, says The Sporting News.

It was written by a Brooklynite who opened by stating that never before this moment had he feared the atomic bomb.

Then he continued: "But what I do fear is what will happen next in Brooklyn. When that bum (Dressen) blew the pennant in '51 you hired him again. All of us knew better. Then, he wins twice, you fire him."

In disgust, O'Malley's correspondent concluded: "You and my wife keep me puzzled."

THE SPORTING NEWS PICKS ROOKIE ALL-STARS

The American League, torn by top-level bickering, might find cause for unity of alarm over the fact that for the third time in the last four years the rival National League has dominated the Rookie All-Star team selected by The Sporting News, national baseball weekly, this time by an overwhelming majority—nine players to three.

Here they are: Paul Smith, Pirates, first base; Junior Gilliam, Dodgers, second base; Ray Jablonski, Cardinals, third base; Harvey Kuenn, Tigers, shortstop; Tom Umphlett, Red Sox, left field; Bill Bruton, Braves, center field; Rip Repulski, Cardinals, right field; Red Wilson, White Sox, catcher, and Harvey Haddix, Cardinals; Ruben Gomez, Giants; Fred Baczewski and Bob Buhl, Braves, pitchers.

Ranging in age from Smith, Kuenn and Umphlett, all of whom were 22 during the past season, to the 27-year-old Haddix and Baczewski, the 1953 The Sporting News Rookie All-Stars averaged a most youthful 24, considering the nature of a world in which military service takes a youth either before or during his pro career.

MARCIANO RATED BEST CHAMP SINCE DEMPSEY

Better than any heavy weight champion since Jack Dempsey, "and that would be a fight," is Trainer Charley Goldman's rating of Rocky Marciano in The All-Sports News section of The Sporting News.

"He takes a punch better than Joe Louis did, even when Joe was at his peak. Joe probably would have made Rocky look bad for a while. Still, Rocky would have outlasted him. Rocky would have been too strong for Jim Braddock. He'd of taken Max Baer's punch and made him fold. Jack Sharkey couldn't have stayed with Rocky. Max Schmeling? Dangerous, but Rocky would have clubbed him. Gene Tunney was too straight up. Rocky would have clubbed him down.

"Jack Dempsey?" Goldman asks in The Sporting News story, "Ah, there would have been a fight!"

Delicious Fried Cakes

Some of the most popular items in the St. Peter's Lutheran church bake sales are the delicious fried cakes made by Mrs. Oscar Freiheit of 455 North Mill street. Mrs. Freiheit uses a technique which was handed down to her by her mother.

The recipe is unusual, Mrs. Freiheit said, because she uses mashed potatoes in the fried cakes. Trying to bring the recipe down to exact measurements is difficult, she added, since she can tell the right consistency by the appearance of the dough. However, after considerable thought she presented this recipe for her fried cakes.

Fried Cakes
1 cup mashed potatoes
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs
4 tablespoons melted oleo
1 cup sweet milk
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups flour
Sprinkle of nutmeg
Sprinkle of salt
To the mashed potatoes, add sugar and then two well-beaten eggs. To this mixture the melted oleo, milk, baking powder, salt, nutmeg, and flour are added. Mrs. Freiheit said she starts with two cups flour and adds until the dough reaches a consistency which she can easily roll out. Roll the dough out on a board and cut with a doughnut cutter. Drop the doughnuts in deep fat and fry until golden brown. Mrs. Freiheit says that she seldom sugars the fried cakes, but they are delicious with powdered sugar as well. The yield is three dozen.

Mrs. Oscar Freiheit tests her fried cakes.

Donna McKinley and Paul Zimmerman Wed on Saturday

At a quiet but impressive ceremony on Saturday morning, October 24, Miss Donna McKinley became the bride of Paul Zimmerman.

Donna is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret McKinley and the late Arthur McKinley of 702 North Harvey street. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Zimmerman of 730 South Harvey street are the bridegroom's parents.

The Reverend Henry Walch D. D. officiated at the ceremony at 10 o'clock in the morning in the First Presbyterian church.

Donna was given in marriage by her brother, Richard McKinley. She wore a green shadow stripe suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and baby mums.

Mrs. Dneyse Ebersole was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a light blue suit with black accessories and her corsage was of white roses and baby mums.

Richard Williams of Rochester served Paul as best man.

Mrs. McKinley, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue suit with red accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. Mrs. Zimmerman chose a royal blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Following a trip to northern Michigan the young couple will return to Plymouth where they will make their home, for the present, at 702 North Harvey street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman graduated from Plymouth high school and Western Michigan college at Kalamazoo.

Halloween Has New Meaning To Youth Group

The young people of Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church will be raising money instead of havoc this Halloween. As always, their cry will be "Trick or Treat." But the treats this year will be for the world's underprivileged children.

This is the way it will work. The junior high youth group of the Rosedale church will team up in twos and appear at the homes in the community on Halloween. They will be identified by the arm band bearing the initials UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.) They will ask for a contribution to "Treat for the World's Children." This treat will go to help the world's children who are in need.

These young people have discovered that $1.00 stretches far. Through the UNICEF a dollar will buy:

1. Enough powdered milk to give nine children a glass every day for a week; or
2. Enough vaccine to protect 33 children against diphtheria; or
3. Enough penicillin to treat eight children for YAWS.

After the young people make the rounds, they will have their own party, and between bobbing for apples and other Halloween games, they will count their collection and send it to the United Nations to help the world's children.

Your generosity will encourage these young people in this great service.

Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church is located at Hubbard and West Chicago.

Local Engineers Receive Citations

Among the 241 distinguished alumni honored at the University of Michigan College of Engineering Convocation last Friday were two Plymouth men, George Maynard Chute, Jr., and Franz Perrine Zimmerli. The occasion was the observance of 100 years of engineering instruction at the university.

Chute was a member until last year of the Detroit office of the General Electric company. He is an author on electronics and its application in industrial control processes. Past chairman of the Michigan Section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, he is currently a member of the electrical engineering staff of the University of Detroit.

Mr. Zimmerli is a chief engineer of the Barnes Gibson Raymond Division of the Associated Spring corporation. He received his citation for being active in the improvement of existing materials and in the development of new materials for the spring industry.

Mr. Zimmerli was the recipient of the Saverio Achievement Award of the American Society of Metals in 1947 in recognition of pioneering work on the effects of shot peening. He was also a Woodside lecturer of the Detroit Chapter of the American Society for Metals in 1951, and a member of the University of Michigan Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering department in 1918-1920.

The total civilian population of the United States at the beginning of the year was approximately 158,000,000. Population in this country increased at an average monthly rate of 220,000 in 1952.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

KEEP YOUR LOOKS
Many women who formerly had servants to do the heavy work, find that it now devolves upon them. Do not let this discourage you. You can make it fit in with your beauty program in such a way that your housework can be turned into physical culture.

When you make beds, sweep the floors, hang curtains or engage in other domestic work, you are going through movements that develop in an all-around way the various muscles of your body.

After lunch, always lie down and relax for at least half an hour. If you have a small radio beside your couch, it will rest your nerves to turn on a pleasant program to which you can listen while you rest. You will get up refreshed after which you will want to dress for the afternoon.

Apply to your face and neck a little cleansing cream, which you must carefully remove, with tissue. Then you will be ready to put on your powder, for as you know, powder should never be applied to a dry skin, for it will tend to make it harsh and rough.

Before putting on the powder, a thin coating of skin food, or a specially-prepared lotion should be applied. All excess should be removed with a dry, clean cloth. Enough will be left to protect the skin and form a base that will cause the powder to adhere.

Do not go out into the sun and wind without this protection covering your face. It is much easier to keep a fine complexion than it is to restore one that has been ruined by neglect and needless exposure.

Every day we see women on the street who look tough and weather-beaten. Their faces have been accustomed to plenty of soap and water. This treatment has aged them in appearance many years.

Fortisan and Saran Are Made Into Newest Window Curtains

Fortisan and Saran are two of the newer man-made fibers now being used in window curtain fabrics.

Fortisan, used for parachutes during World War II, is a cellulose fiber which is frequently blended with other fibers. It is used with cotton and with rayon to make sheer, gauze-like window fabrics available in a variety of colors.

The manufacturers claim Fortisan's special qualities to be great strength, light weight, fade resistance and resistance to stretching and shrinking. Stretching and shrinking stability is important in curtains, of course.

Saran marquisette is woven from plastic yarns and may be dyed many colors. These yarns are very tough, flexible and resistant to wear, water, fire and chemicals. Although fabrics made from these yarns may be easily cleaned with soap and water, they will shrink excessively at high temperature.

Crumpling of the Saran fabric will result in permanent wrinkles or folds.

Observe Halloween Holiday With Children By Serving Them Special Spaghetti Meal

- Halloween Menu
- Beef Balls and Spaghetti
 - Tossed Salad with Roquefort Cheese Dressing
 - French Bread
 - Butter or Margarine
 - Orange Sherbet
 - Chocolate Drop Cookies
 - Beverage

When dinner time arrives on Halloween treat your family to a meat ball and spaghetti dinner. This is a combination that is easy to prepare and lends itself to an interesting menu.

For instance, French bread is a must with this team. Perhaps you will want to serve it as garlic bread. Cut the French loaf diagonally at 1-inch intervals (but not quite through). Add a minced clove of garlic to melted butter or margarine, then remove the garlic before brushing the bread with the melted butter.

Wrap the loaf in aluminum foil or place in a waxed bag and heat it in a moderate oven for about 15 minutes before serving. Also include in your menu a tossed green salad and for a Halloween air turn to the colors orange and brown—orange sherbet with chocolate drop cookies.

Meat balls served with spaghetti is only the beginning of the dishes you can prepare with meat balls. Make them large or small and heat in a spicy barbecue sauce and serve over rice. Or brown the meat balls and add condensed mushroom soup and serve over fine egg noodles. Or cook them with chopped vegetables and serve over mashed potatoes. For still another dish, mold the meat balls around stuffed olives or gherkin sections and serve with a cheese sauce.

- Meat Balls and Spaghetti
- 1 pound ground beef
 - 1 onion, grated
 - ½ cup soft bread crumbs
 - 1 egg, well beaten
 - 1 teaspoon salt

Prepare Slice of Ham With Cider Sauce

Sweet cider time is here! What is a surer sign of autumn than jugs of apple cider flanking pumpkins at roadside stands and markets across the country.

Bring apple cider right into your kitchen and menu planning. You will find it a grand accompaniment for ham. For instance, serve a slice of ham with a sweet cider sauce. For this serving purchase a ham slice cut 1½ to 2 inches thick. Place the slice in a baking dish and cover with sweet cider. Add 3 or 4 whole cloves and 1 cup of seedless raisins.

Cover the meat and cook in a slow oven (300 F.) until done, from 1 to 1½ hours. Then remove the slice of ham to a warmed platter. Around it arrange cooked apple halves, sprinkled with cinnamon. For the sauce, thicken the cider in which the ham was cooked with 2 tablespoons of flour smoothed in cold water. Serve the cider sauce over the ham.

Hallowe'en Dinner

Plump, beef balls ring the platter of spaghetti. A zesty tomato sauce is served in a side dish—adding up to good eating on Hallowe'en night. Complete your menu with French bread, a tossed garden salad and a Hallowe'en dessert of orange sherbet and chocolate drop cookies.

- Dash of black or cayenne pepper
 - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 - ¼ teaspoon thyme
 - ¼ teaspoon basil
 - ¼ cup lard or drippings
 - ¼ cup water
 - 8 ounces uncooked spaghetti
 - 4 tablespoons flour
 - 2 cups tomato juice
 - ½ teaspoon salt
 - ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Combine ground beef, grated onion, bread crumbs, egg, and seasonings; mix well. Shape into balls about 1 inch in diameter.

Brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings and save. Add ¼ cup water to meat balls, cover and cook slowly for 20 minutes. Meanwhile, cook spaghetti in boiling salted water. Make a Tomato Sauce as follows: Add ¼ cup drippings to pan and stir in flour; add tomato juice, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper, and cook for 10 minutes. Combine with cooked spaghetti and cook 5 minutes longer. Serve on hot platter with meat balls, 4 to 6 servings.

Be Family's Queen of Hearts By Baking Apple Sauce Tarts

Who is the queen of hearts at your house? Why, you. Naturally. Who else wins such affection for cooking the foods each one likes best? And the queen of hearts this week will cook a favorite dish with apples because it is National Apple Week all over the land.

Nearly everybody likes apples, and the family will like applesauce spice tarts. These are a new kind of tart. The flaky pastry is zesty with spices like cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. The spicy baked tart shells are filled with applesauce and topped with whipped cream flavored with almond. Happy cooking to you during National Apple Week and all apple season. May all your apple recipes be as delicious as tested applesauce spice tarts.

- Applesauce Spice Tarts
- 1 cup flour
 - ¾ teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
 - ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
 - 1/3 cup shortening
 - 2 to 3 tablespoons ice water
 - 2 cups applesauce
 - ½ cup heavy cream, chilled
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - ½ teaspoon almond extract
 - Dash of salt

Sift together flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves. Add shortening mixing in with a blender, fork or fingertips until crumbly in appearance. Add water, mixing until dry mixture is moistened just enough to hold together. Form the dough lightly into smooth, rounded shape with the hands. Chill in the refrigerator about ½ hour.

Divide dough into four parts. Form four balls. Roll each ball with rolling pin until it forms a circle about ¼ inch thick. Turn a 4 inch tart pan, or a muffin pan with large muffin cups, upside down. Fit circle of dough firmly on outside of tart pan or on one of the muffin cups. Prick well with a fork. Repeat with the 3 remaining balls of dough using 3 more tart pans or muffin cups. Place the tart pans or muffin pan upside down on a cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (425 F.) for about 10 minutes or until tart shells are set enough to lift off easily. Lift tart shells from the pans. Place right side up on cookie sheet and continue baking 5 to 8 minutes or until done. Cool. Fill with applesauce.

Just before serving beat cream with rotary beater or electric mixer until it begins to thicken. Gradually add sugar, almond extract and dash of salt. Continue beating until thick. Spread lightly on top of applesauce. Makes 4 servings.

Have you heard about Pellon? It's a new type of non-woven material now being used as an interfacing in coats, suits and dresses.

It is made from 60 per cent wool, 10 per cent camel's hair and other soft fibers bonded together. Because it is unwoven, it can be cut in any direction and will not ravel. The manufacturers of Pellon claim that it is resistant to wrinkling, will not shrink or stretch, and is not affected by washing, steaming or pressing.

European Clothes Are Unlabeled

Shopping in Europe is exciting; but neither the European woman nor the tourist has any way of making certain what's in the fabric of the clothes she buys. Her only security, beyond what the salesperson tells her, lies in the price she pays.

This is the observation of Miss Ruth Jackendoff, director of economics and statistics for the Wool Bureau, who has just returned from a tour of the European Continent and England.

Lack of protection for the consumer prevails in Europe—in contrast to the guarantees available to the shopper here, she reports.

The American consumer is protected by the Wool Products Labeling Act, which requires that all apparel containing wool be labeled. If other fibers are used with wool, they must be identified, and the quantities present listed. The condition of the wool before its manufacture also must be disclosed by statements as to whether it is "virgin wool," "all wool," "reprocessed wool" or "re-used wool."

Where fabric labeling does exist in Europe, it is often suspiciously misleading, Miss Jackendoff says. In Italy, for example, the label "pura lana," translated as "pure wool," is frequently used, she found. Most Italians, and visitors to their country, take this to mean that the garment is all-wool.

Actually, this label merely means that whatever wool the garment contains is "pure" wool—and a fabric containing only a minute quantity of wool may be labeled "pura lana."

A second type of label is also used by the Italians, Miss Jackendoff learned. This label identifies the fabric as being "tutti lana," thus assuring the consumer that it is all-wool. However, there is no distinction made by this label between virgin, reprocessed and re-used wool, as is required in this country.

Writing in a current magazine, Miss Jackendoff cites some of her experiences in stores throughout Europe. When she bought a suit in London, the sales girl told her: "At the price you are paying, there is no doubt that this suit is all-wool"—but she could obtain no guarantee as to its fiber content.

Even less assurance was available in Italy, the economist reports. She purchased a wool jersey dress on the presumption that it was all-wool, but the store would not offer even verbal assurance of its fiber content.

Italian women dress smartly and in good taste, despite the economic condition of their country, Miss Jackendoff found. To do it, however, they exercise painstaking care in their selection of clothes.

The Italian woman buys her own fabrics, selects patterns and has the finished garments made up for her. Because ready-made clothes are costly in Italy, she is able to save money by shopping in this manner.

Department stores throughout Italy place great emphasis on their piece goods section, and stores devoted entirely to the sale of patterns are common. Long hours are spent by the Italian woman (often accompanied by many members of her family) in selecting fabrics and patterns, the economist observed.

New fibers have had no noticeable impact in the markets of European countries, Miss Jackendoff learned—although there is some experimentation with the new fibers in Italy.

In France, a strong preference for wool was also noted. The French people still remember the poor quality fabrics, many made from substitute fibers, that were available during World War II she reports. As in other European countries, French clothes are expensive and the consumer is concerned with the durability and quality of everything she buys.

Acorn Squash Now Available In Stores Here

You will find several varieties of squash available in Michigan markets.

The large Hubbard, Golden Delicious and Green Delicious varieties are especially good for baking and for pies. The smaller Butternut and Buttercup squash are suitable for boiling, steaming, pan-frying or for baking and for pies.

The Butternut squash is light, creamy yellow with a round seed cavity tapering to a long straight neck. The Buttercup squash is dark green and flat with a lighter green cup or bottom. Both of these average two to three pounds in weight - good for a family of four to six people.

The Acorn squash, sometimes known as Table Queen or Pepper squash, is popular for a family of two. They may be baked plain with butter or stuffed with chopped meats or apples.

Here is a suggestion for baking Acorn squash:

Cut squash in halves lengthwise. Remove seeds and sprinkle each half with ½ teaspoon salt and brush with melted fat. Lay cut side down in a baking dish. Bake 30 minutes or until tender in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.)

To brown the flesh side, turn face up and brush with additional melted fat. Bake until tender and golden.

Storage time for the whole Acorn squash is two months compared to four months storage time for the Hubbard and Delicious varieties.

Good beverage for your Hallowe'en party: Combine 1 quart cider, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 sticks cinnamon (broken), 12 whole cloves and 8 whole allspice. Heat to boiling and let stand overnight. Reheat, remove spices and serve hot.

An acre of tomato plants will yield from 5 to 20 tons of tomatoes.

Helpful Hints Concerning Building, Remodeling, Repairing & Redecorating

"THAT'S WHERE THE NEW REDWOOD MANTEL WILL GO" says Lee Wilson, of the Photographic Center. In describing his new fireplace to the Building Editor this week. The fireplace will be a focal point of attraction in the living room of the modern, new, Wilson home at 1121 Turkey Run in Plymouth Colony. It is constructed of Tennessee ledge rock, and the opening measures 3 ft. 6 in. The slate hearth and ledge rock makes a pleasing contrast against the red, brick veneer wall. The contractor was Garden City Construction & Realty, Inc., and the architect, Harold E. Pine, of Plymouth.

Galvanized steel laundry tub sets are available with self-drain outlets which make it unnecessary to lift the tubs. And cleaning the tubs after use requires only a clear water rinse.

Something new in refrigerator beauty has been brought out by the Servel people. I heard about them when I was out at Bill Otwell's on Ann Arbor road. Anyway these new refrigerators have colored interior trim to blend with the decoration of your kitchen.

Another thing which particularly struck my eye about the Servel is the adjustable shelves. So often it's difficult to fit tall jars into your refrigerator shelves, so the Servel has eliminated that with the shelves you can adjust to any height you want. And of course, the automatic defrosting device is a "must" these days.

Then there were those Penfield automatic gas water heaters. I know they aren't anything particularly new to home-owners or builders, but they certainly have proved their worth. Anybody who has had to go down and light the gas every time they want a bath certainly would appreciate having one of these water heaters installed in his home. So remember to put that on your list of essentials when you get around to building that home.

And while mentioning your building list, I imagine you've already listed those wonderful Youngstown kitchens. Dave Galin has one all set up in his store, just to show you what can be done in that line. I think you'll be as fascinated with the arrangement as I was if you stop in and look around.

HOME modernizing

Repairing a Broken Pane Easy Job For Homeowner

Replacing a broken pane of glass is one of the many chores a homeowner can do for himself to keep home maintenance costs down, according to Home Modernizing magazine. Here's how:

Measure the opening exactly and mark dimensions on the new pane. Score the pane with a glass cutter, using firm continuous strokes.

Place the glass over a narrow piece of wood resting directly under the cut. Snap the pieces apart with pressure on both sides.

Spread a thin layer of putty on the frame. Press the pane into place and drive glazing points around it.

Roll putty into ropes and press it around the edge, then smooth with putty knife. Paint when putty has set slightly.

Attractive Plywood TV Trays Make Excellent 'Do It Yourself' Project

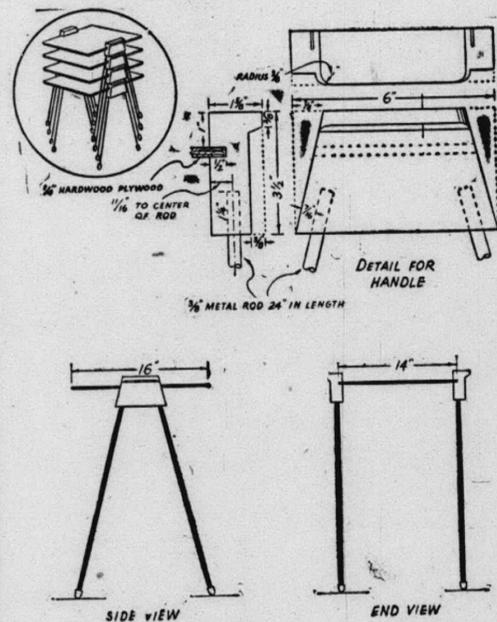

Plywood in hardwood species such as oak, mahogany, walnut, birch, maple and gum is a boon to the home craftsman who likes to turn out pieces with the true fine furniture look. Economical, practical and easy to handle, hardwood plywood is a material with which every workshop hobbyist should be familiar.

For a starter, here's a project that is useful as well as decorative—a set of "TV trays." Made to nest neatly together when not in use, they are just the thing for serving snacks to television viewers and at any buffet occasion.

The tray tops are simply pieces of 1/4-inch hardwood plywood, 14" x 16", of a species to harmonize with the room furnishings. They fit into wood blocks cut from a length of 2" x 4" lumber, preferably of a like species, although a contrasting or dark stained wood may be used if desired. Metal rods set into the blocks serve as legs.

These blocks are the key pieces. They serve as handles and join the parts. The first step is to cut eight 6-inch lengths of 2" x 4", two for each of the four trays. Next, diagonal cuts are made from points 3/8-inch in from each side of the block top (The same result can be obtained by cutting the 2" x 4" into trapezoids by a series of diagonal cuts, alternating their direction. The bottom lengths should be 6" and the top lengths 4 1/4".) The corners of one face of each block then are rounded on a radius of about 3/8-inch.

The third step is to cut 3/8-inch from the rounded face, which is to be the handle side. Extend the cut from the base to 5/8-inch from top, then cut in diagonally from the face at a point 3/8-inch from the top. (See side view of handle detail.) The protruding edge forms a convenient finger lift.

On the reverse face, 1 inch from the top, make a 1/4-inch mortise 1/2-inch into the block. Then drill two 3/8-inch holes into the base to a depth of 1 1/4-inch. These holes should be centered on the narrow dimension and drilled at an angle paralleling the slanting side, with a space of 7/16 inch between the slanting surface and the hole. These measurements are important to insure proper nesting.

All that remains now is to glue the plywood panels into the mortises and to fit 24" lengths of metal rod into the leg holes. If desired, the gluing may be supplemented by toe-nailing from the underside. Rubber caps should be fitted over the bottoms of the legs. Finish the plywood tops as you would any fine furniture.

The lumber dealers whose ads appear on this page carry hardwood plywood in regular stock or will get it quickly on order.

Ideas Speak Louder Than Money When Redecorating

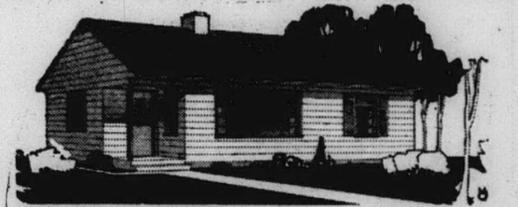

It is ideas, rather than money, that count when it comes to redecorating and refurbishing an older home. According to Home Modernizing magazine, the appearance of rooms can be improved without making any structural changes; sometimes just the addition of a little wood trim or a small amount of well-designed fabric will work miracles.

When a beauty treatment is planned for the rooms of a home, the homeowner should consider the functional aspects of proposed changes as well as their appearance. These two factors go hand in hand in successful decorating.

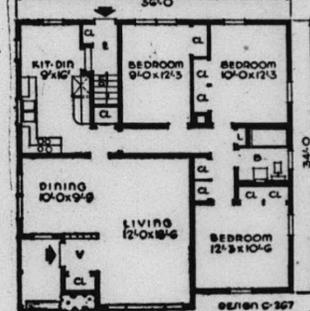

The three ideas shown here are examples of the things a homeowner can do with little expense. They are "starters" intended to make the home modernizer put on his thinking cap and develop his own ideas.

Shutters can add interest and beauty to a room; here they act as a room divider between living room and porch. Available in a wide range of sizes, new or used, shutters might give just the between rooms.

A priming coat is a "first" coat that's applied to seal the pores of a surface and prevent the uneven absorption of final coats of paint. As a prime coat provides a flat surface that is not-too-smooth, it serves as a good base for finish coats.

If the toggle switch on a power tool is difficult to reach, American Builder, "bible" of the building industry, has a solution. Take a short section of stiff tubing and slip it tightly over the toggle switch handle. This lengthens the handle and brings it within reach. Use either plastic or stiff rubber tubing.

Plymouth at home, at work or at play
This Week — MOLLY ECKSTROM

Dividing her time between her position as floor manager at Graham's and her two children keeps Mrs. Molly Eckstrom very busy. Mrs. Eckstrom has been employed at Graham's for about three years.

Born in North Carolina, Mrs. Eckstrom later moved to Detroit. It was just four and one-half years ago that she moved with her family to Plymouth. Her two daughters, Dolores, 17, and Carolyn, 11, reside with her at 9563 Gold Arbor road.

Because of the demands of her home and her job, Mrs. Eckstrom finds little time to participate in outside activities. However, she is active in St. Peter's Lutheran church.

Her personality was perhaps best described by Ralph Rostow, manager of Graham's who commented, "I'll bet you had trouble finding out much about Molly. She's a very modest person."

Playing card manufacturers report that 20,000,000 Americans play one or more games of bridge a month. The American Contract Bridge League reported an enrollment of 40,000 players in important tournaments last year and estimated that there were 500,000 duplicate players in the country.

Nelson Stresses Singers Needed For Civic Chorus

With only seven rehearsals before the Christmas concert of the Plymouth Civic Chorus, director Fred C. Nelson emphasized that more singers are still needed. The first rehearsal revealed the fact that all sections need strength, Nelson said, but particularly the tenor and bass sections.

The chorus rehearses each Monday night from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in room 3 of the junior high school. Music currently under preparation is "Music for Christmas" by Jan Meyerowitz and "The Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" by George F. Handel.

The performance is scheduled for Sunday, December 13, with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Sodality Begins Fall Activities

The Sodality of Our Lady at Madonna college has officially begun its activities for the new school term. The general Sodality officers elected last May are: Phyllis Hebda, prefect; Alice Wolak, vice-prefect; Beatrice Czenkusz, secretary and Cecelia Jakubielski, treasurer.

The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine has been undertaken this year by the Sodality as a major project. Geraldine Sprywa, Frances Novak, Martha Benito, Rosealba Slattery, Arlene Kiel-pinski and Bernadine Rys will teach catechism to public school children at St. Michael parish, Livonia, on Saturday mornings.

Sodalists will also resume their monthly visit to Maybury Sanatorium, Northville, where they distribute Catholic literature and religious articles to patients. This project was initiated last year by Mrs. Margaret Johnson, an active member of the lay apostolate group at St. Michael parish.

Chosen to head the Sodality's apostolic committee this year is Tillie Gresser. Gloria Laginess is secretary. Concerned mostly with the material aid to the needy, the group is sponsoring an old rosaries drive this month. A canned-foods drive to begin November 2, will provide Thanksgiving baskets for poor families in the vicinity.

Our Lady's committee, with Delphine Pieczynski as chairman and Wanda Onasinski as secretary, has undertaken a number of activities to develop a special devotion to the Blessed Virgin.

The committee is sponsoring a living rosary in the college chapel Friday, October 30. A Fatima club, functioning under Our Lady's committee, consists of members who pledge themselves to daily recitation of the rosary. The Our Lady's committee also plans to hold panel discussions on the Marian Year.

There were 282 producing oil wells in Nebraska at the end of 1952. One hundred new producers were added during the year, it was stated.

ROBERT J. KEES, marimbist and evangelist, will be present at Sunday services at the First Baptist church. He can also be heard each evening until November 8, announced the Reverend David Rieder. Kees has traveled through Europe giving marimba concerts, and was a member of the extension staff of the Moody Bible Institute for many years.

Name Burroughs Defense Contract Administrator

A Burroughs corporation staff headed by a newly-appointed defense contracts administrator will be maintained at the Plymouth plant, it was announced this week by Kenneth C. Tiffany, vice-president of finance.

Harry B. Rottiers has been named to head the defense contract department which will be responsible for administration of all matters pertaining to Burroughs defense contracts. He will also direct the work of company representatives engaged in contract negotiations with the armed services and prime contractors. Since the major portion of Burroughs defense work is in Plymouth, the office and staff will be maintained here.

Mr. Rottiers joined Burroughs in 1951 and since then has been serving as legal assistant to Sheldon F. Hall, vice-president and secretary. Previously, Rottiers held positions as an attorney for the RFC as regional counsel for the War Assets Administration and as legal counsel for the Federal National Mortgage Association.

He is a graduate of Culver Military Academy and has a BA and a law degree from the University of Detroit. He was admitted to the bar in 1937.

Three Pictured In Sunday Paper

Sunday's Detroit Free Press carried pictures of three Plymouthites participating in functions in Detroit last Saturday. The society section presented Mrs. Robert Willoughby, state chairman of the Children of the American Revolution, holding its annual convention in that city, as well as a picture of Janet Willoughby admiring the banquet table decorations with Winifred McQueen at the Detroit Yacht club where the meetings were held.

Model Libby Neal, daughter of Mrs. Florence Neal of Plymouth also appeared in the Free Press Sunday rotogravure section publicizing the Santo's Art exhibition of New Mexico artists which is now being shown at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Eighty-four per cent of the agricultural land in the United States has now been incorporated in soil conservation districts. More progress in the field of soil conservation was reported last year than in any other year in history, it was stated.

Teachers Attend Region Meetings

Plymouth teachers are attending the regional conferences of the Michigan Education association today and tomorrow, October 29 and 30. Dr. Ashley Montagu, famous anthropologist and author, and Omar B. Ketchum, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be featured speakers.

Region 2 members are those educators in Wayne county outside of the Detroit school system. Mary Robinson, teacher-counselor at Theodore Roosevelt high school in Wyandotte, is chairman for this region's conference; secretary for the conference is Mrs. Jean York, teacher at McCann school, Wyandotte, and Sarah McCullagh is regional executive secretary.

Registration for Region 2 began at 8 a.m. in the auditorium lobby of the Masonic temple. They attended a breakfast in the Fountain room with the Reverend H. Norman Jackson, of the First Congregational church of Wyandotte giving the invocation, a style show sponsored by Crowley-Milner's department store, and a symposium on "Education in the Political Scene," with prominent professional and lay persons as panel members was presented.

The general session for Region 2 on Friday will hear Clair Taylor and Omar Ketchum. Ketchum, who was once mayor of the city of Topeka, Kansas, is director of the National Legislative Service of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Five of last year's graduates took the recent county examination for teacher's certificates and all passed and received their certificates last Saturday. The five are Ralph Harlow, Minnie Leith, Alice Mott, Mabel Smith and Winifred Williams.

George M. Adams, better known as "Mack," formerly of this place, has purchased a weekly newspaper at Williamsville, Illinois. "Mack" is a good type and his friends wish him success in the newspaper world.

The new boiler and engine installed by the Daisy Manufacturing company was given the first test last Monday and everything was found to be working smoothly and with satisfaction. The Daisy now has a fine plant and plenty of power to drive the machinery.

New and second-hand pork barrels for sale at W. F. Hoops' meat market.

The walls of the new building for the electric light plant are nearly completed. The stones are laid in alternate courses of rough and tool face and make a pleasing contrast. When completed we believe there will be no one dissatisfied with the action of the council in substituting cement blocks for brick.

Shafer & Brown drive a dandy new delivery wagon-Plymouth make, too.

Men are now engaged in shaving poles for the electric light plant and they will soon be placed in position. While the contract states the plant must be completed by December 1, it probably will be January 1 before the lights will be turned on.

A truck owned by M. Powell & Son caught fire at the Red Indian gas filling station Monday morning and a fire alarm was turned in. The cab of the truck was badly damaged.

Last Monday evening the school house at Canton Center was broken into and a phonograph, a gold watch and several other articles stolen. This is the fourth building that has been broken into.

Army will depart hereafter on the 9 o'clock train in the morning instead of the afternoon train.

Strange things happen in war times—sometimes terrible things now and then very happy incidents. It was one of the latter that took place in a garage on the island of Sicily recently when Robert Cash, serving in the Air Corps, and James Cash in the Army Ordnance Department, brothers of Mrs. Elmer Reddeman of Arthur street met for the first time in nearly two years.

It isn't often that a newspaper itself makes news. But this week, The Plymouth Mail has made big news! It is, with pride that we are able to announce that EVERY male employee on the mechanical force of The Mail at the outbreak of the war, is now wearing the uniform of some branch of the military forces of the United States.

Don Horton, prominent Plymouth farm implement dealer, said this week, that despite all reports, there is expected to be another shortage of farm implements next spring unless the government does something to release more steel to the farm implement manufacturers.

Sylvester Pace, who lives on Plymouth road, woke up Saturday morning to discover that 30 chickens had been taken from his chicken house during the night. The culprit or culprits left no clues as to their identity. Other chicken raisers say they will shoot the first person they catch stealing their chickens.

Like sweet cider? Like hard cider? You do? Here's bad news for you. Norman Miller is not going to run his cider mill this year. Reports are that there is not a single cider mill in this entire locality that expects to make apple cider this fall.

Hunters provide most of the material for this column this week since pheasant season is at its height and at this writing its lowest as far as this hunter is concerned.

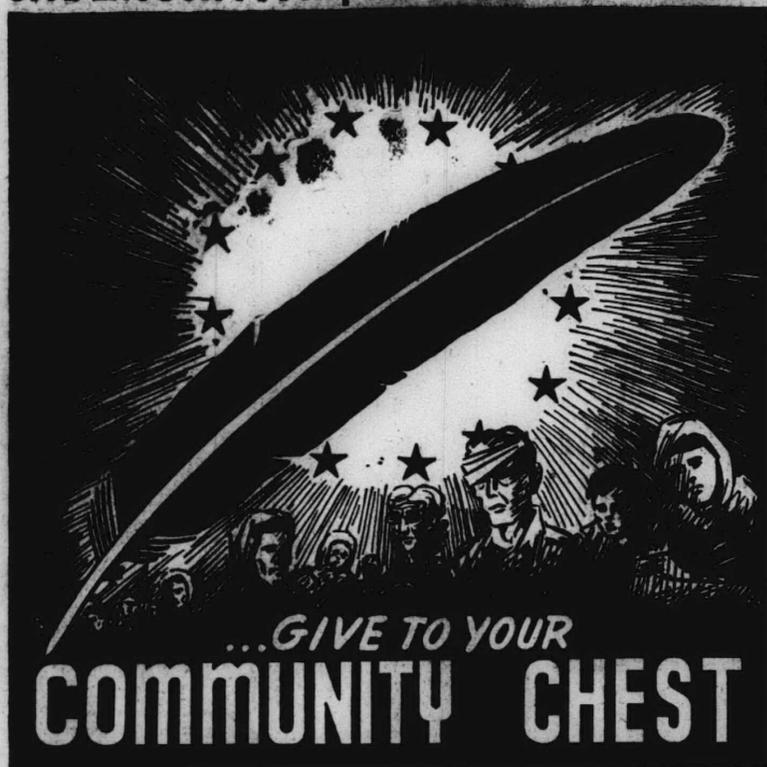

Novice hunter Shirley Bullard holds the prize so far for new experiences on her first day in the field with a gun. It seems husband Robert decided to put her on her own up near Tawas so he took one way and she another. The first bird to flush for her was dropped with a perfect shot and proved to be as beautiful an owl as has been seen in a long time. An hour later she approached a small swail and saw several ducks. Not to be dismayed she fired and all flew away but one. Since the duck didn't move and was about 20 feet off shore she waded out to retrieve the same. When she got close to it the crippled bird just sat in the water looking at her. She was frightened and not knowing what to do called her husband who was some distance away. When he arrived and sized up the situation he told her to wade back to shore because the duck was a non-edible fish duck anyway. That was enough for Shirley who returned home tired, empty-handed and soaking wet.

Attorney Earl Demel has been enjoying the bird season from a fence row due to a sprained ankle received the evening before the season opened when he tripped in a fence post hole while posting his farm.

Proclaiming loudly that for many years Jack Selle and Russell Powell had all the publicity for hunting on Wildfowl Bay, Wall Wire's Earl Russell brought back the proof that there were other local nimrods equally as skillful and perhaps more lucky. According to Mr. Russell he was prevailed on to stay over Monday on the Bay for one extra day of hunting with Elmer Horvath and William Rambo. This he did but when the temperature rose to the high 80's he held off his hunting until 4:30 that afternoon. Setting out their decoys the threesome then pulled back in the rushes to await their prey. No sooner had they settled however when a flock of Canadian Blue geese appeared from nowhere and actually landed in their decoys. This is most unusual for geese and the hunters could hardly believe their eyes. Not to be daunted however when the geese had set, the hunters fired their three rounds each and had accounted for 12 of the Blues. Making an actual count of nine shells killing 12 birds which when weighed tipped the scales at 51½ pounds. The almost unbelievable incident was the cause of quite a flurry in Sebewaing and made daily newspaper and television presentation. There were 19 geese in the flock that decoyed in front of the Plymouth hunters. Says hunter Russell of the whole affair, "if anyone can top that for an experience or account for a better bag I'll buy my truck-driving wife a truck all her own."

Rev. Patrick Clifford having had a couple of bad seasons with a single shot decided he would be better off this year with a new double barreled gun which he bought. Taking his 16 year old son on his first trip in the fields up near Marlette and giving junior his old single shot they counted their day's bag, two birds for Junior none for dad.

Babson Park, Massachusetts, October 22. Let me name some which are now progressing:

(1) Indestructible Plastics which will not bend or rust, crack or split. These are based on certain new chemical compounds. They will be used for everything, from houses and bridges down to automobiles, and even soft goods. (2) The production and use of New Metals and Alloys. There are less than 100 elements, but these can be put together in millions of different alloys, of which only a small fraction has now been tested. These new alloys offer great opportunities for development.

(3) Commercial Isotopes, some of which the Atomic Energy Commission has released to the public. They are now being used by hospitals. The time is coming when these isotopes will be used for all kinds of industrial work, to find flaws in machinery, in steel rails, textiles, etc. They may develop into a great industry.

(4) The "Do-It-Yourself" Industries, which have a promising future. With the shortening of hours, everyone is given more opportunity to work at home. If I wanted to open any kind of store, I would have a store which would handle materials to help people get along without carpenters, painters, electricians, etc.

(5) The Mechanical Brain—an invention with great possibilities. The time is coming when these new mechanisms will do much of our thinking and analyzing, and may become almost as common as the adding machine.

(6) Watch Superponics. By this I mean very rapid mechanical vibrations which are faster than sound waves. Superponics may completely eliminate present washing machines and other household utensils. They have the power of cleaning metal and even cutting metal. We first had the electrical age; we are now entering the electronic age; and will some day enter the super-sonic age.

(7) Vending Machines. Some years ago we had vending machines in railroad stations and on street corners, but the industry got into a bad rut because so many of the machines were broken and the products and money were stolen. Now, with the introduction of self-service, the vending machine is protected within the store. It is again coming into its own.

(8) Electric Power. The time is coming when electric power, sufficient to run home appliances, may be broadcast like radio. Some even claim that we will buy our electricity in batteries, which will be brought to us once a month like bottled gas. This may give us electricity for the household cheaper than we could get it from the big central power stations.

(9) The Conveyor Belt, coming into use more for both people and goods. This will develop into a new industry, especially after the synthetic rubber plants are re-converted to private industry. A belt is now being devised to carry people from the Grand Central Station to Times Square, New York City.

(10) I am particularly interested in getting power, light, heat and refrigeration from Solar Radiation. Statistics show that the amount of sunlight on an acre of land is equal to a thousand horse-power. A very complete report on the future of Solar Radiation appears in the September issue of Fortune Magazine.

(11) Automatic Factories should permit decrease of prices and should allow workers more time for study and leisure. They are destined to increase rapidly in number. The printing industry is already on the verge of revolutionary changes whereby it can get along with a fraction of its present number of employees. Shoe factories, cotton mills, and others will enter the push-button stage where practically the entire operation will be done automatically. This will solve the union labor problem.

"It Could Be Your Life at Stake"

From the columns of the Northville Record

Over the years since 1935, a number of attempts have been made by community groups in the suburban area northwest of Detroit to cooperate in the erection of a hospital to serve this rapidly growing area. For one reason or another, the project has never gotten further than the talking stage until now. Perhaps the need was not felt to be great enough to warrant the cost, or the timing was not right to insure the widespread public cooperation that is necessary to raise funds for such a project.

Whatever the reason may have been for previous failures, two facts are important today. First, the need for a large modern community hospital in the area has grown a hundred fold since the idea was originally brought up nearly two decades ago. Second, the project is again being advanced for consideration, under the sponsorship of a determined group of men and women from Northville, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Farmington whose efforts promise success instead of failure.

This time, the plan calls for a 120-bed hospital to be erected in a central location at the southwest corner of Levan and Five Mile Roads in Livonia, on a 20-acre site contributed by the Felician Sisters. It is known as the St. Mary Hospital. The Felician Sisters are also contributing $50,000 in cash toward the $2,000,000 which it is estimated will be required to erect and equip the structure. Members of their Order have been trained in the highly technical skills required in a hospital and are prepared to administer it to serve the entire area. Its medical staff is to consist of doctors chosen solely on the basis of professional qualifications and high ethical standards.

Those who may question the need for such a community hospital should be interested in these vital facts:

At present there is no modern general hospital in the rapidly growing communities of Farmington, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth and Redford, with a total of over 90,000 persons.

In these five communities, the population is expected to go 136,000 during the next five years.

Persons now requiring hospitalization for serious illness must rely on Detroit hospitals where it is becoming increasingly difficult and at times impossible to be admitted.

The development of new drugs and medical techniques today require facilities that are available only at a hospital for effective application.

Participation in group insurance hospitalization plans has practically tripled the demands for hospital care in the past 25 years.

Prospective mothers in increasing numbers are seeking admission to hospitals to give birth to their babies and receive maternity care.

In the event of epidemics, natural calamities and industrial or other disasters, the immediate availability of hospital facilities and service may mean the difference between life and death for the stricken or injured.

Statistics show that approximately one person in every ten will require some form of hospital care during the coming year.

St. Mary Hospital will be a valuable and vitally needed, facility for civil defense in the case of enemy attack.

Leading citizens, both men and women from all walks of life, have been organized into committees that are spearheading an intensive money-raising campaign to secure funds for construction of the building.

While it is to be expected that industry and business in the area will contribute generously to the project, and in fact will account for a very substantial part of the entire $2,000,000 that is needed, the unselfish financial support of individual residents of the community also will be necessary. The hospital is a vital community need that merits universal support without any thought of religion or sectarian considerations.

A red hot battle is shaping up between Michigan's 1,267 townships and a movement which wants to siphon off part or all of the $13 million now being returned to township governments from the state treasury.

Fighting started when the September issue of "Inside Michigan," a magazine reporting state affairs with particular attention to finance, announced a crusade against townships. Their claim: "township residents are riding a 'gray train' at the expense of those who live in organized municipalities." Using figures compiled by Princeton tax experts for the Michigan State Aid Survey, the magazine presented a strong case.

Township officials responded by forming an organization dedicated to "sponsoring of legislation beneficial to local government, particularly townships, and to engage in the exchange of ideas and services for the improvement of township government." The quotes are those of Joseph A. Parisi, Kalamazoo Township clerk, who was elected executive secretary of the newly formed lobbying group.

Best argument favoring townships is the "grass roots" aspect. Advocates claim this system is the only method to keep voters close to their government.

Opponents assert that county agencies could maintain an equally desirable relationship with the voter, perform more and improve services, and for less money. What's more, they say, the change would permit a fairer distribution of tax money returned to local governments under present state law.

Facts and figures from the State Aid Survey show that 35.7% of Michigan's population is in township areas; 64.3% in cities. Cities and villages produce 90% of all taxes collected, but receive back only 80% of diverted funds. Looking at it another way: townships raised 5.1% of the taxes to be diverted, received 19.6% of the money diverted. This contrasts with cities which supply 91.5% of the taxes, receive 75.3%; and villages supplying 3.4% and receiving 5.1%.

Supporters for both sides of the fight are hard at work. Politicians are sizing up the contest and wondering how it will affect voting. Observers are preparing to watch as interesting a struggle as has occurred in a long time.

You'll hear much more about the value and drawbacks of township government—and soon.

Are there strings attached? That seems to be the question both Michigan State College and University of Michigan officials are asking themselves—but very quietly. On its face, the idea submitted by Gov. Williams that a trophy be presented each year to the winner of the MSC-U of M football game looks like a fine idea. But college people are wondering and stalling while they try to decide the answer.

Before accepting the trophy idea, college officials want to know more about it. Although they do not admit it publicly, it's certain they want to know whether the award will be known as the Governor's trophy or as the Governor Williams' trophy. It's understandable that they would want to keep individual names out of the tremendous interest in the annual MSC-U of M classic.

"It's a very fine idea," said an MSC representative. "We'll discuss it in the college athletic council." U of M authorities were cooler but they also agreed to consider the proposal.

Gov. Williams thinks this year is a good one to launch the trophy because it's the first game played with State a member of the Big Ten.

Michigan won honors at the National Future Farmer Convention in Kansas City this month. A Marlette youth, David Boyne, was elected national president; the Cassopolis chapter was awarded the top Gold Emblem rating while Owosso and Williamston were awarded Silver Emblem ratings; Rollin Blosssey of Williamston, was winner of a Star American Farmer award for the central region and a check for $500; his father, Clarence Blosssey was presented with an Honorary American Farmer Degree.

Competition was keen for these honors. FFA has 8,500 chapters and gave only 97 emblem awards. Rollin Blosssey's distinction was won from a field of 363,000 members. Only five were selected.

Duties of the national president require David Boyne to spend approximately 180 days away from home during the next year. He is now a student at MSC, majoring in dairy production. Young Boyne recently returned from a four month tour of Great Britain where he represented FFA as an exchange student. He has a long list of honors in high school activities as well as farming accomplishments.

QUALITY

MAINTAINING and improving the quality of its products is the most highly emphasized activity of this cooperative milk marketing association.

For thirty-seven successful years the Michigan Milk Producers Association has carried on an intensive quality control program in the belief that it provides its members the maximum of protection in holding and expanding their markets.

The Quality Control Department is adequately manned by competent technicians who are provided with the most modern, approved equipment for both field and laboratory work. The illustration above shows a section of the splendid facilities in which the members of this organization have invested at their Imlay City, Michigan, manufacturing plant. Such a laboratory is available to the dairy farmer only through the means of a cooperative organization spreading the cost among thousands of members.

Consumers share equally with members in the benefits which accrue from the production of highest quality products.
