

New 'Heights' Election Ahead

Public To Hear Tax Program

Two authorities on Gov. John B. Swainson's tax revision program will appear at a public forum next Tuesday night sponsored by the Industrial Division of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Held at the Junior High School starting at 8 p.m., the Town Hall type of meeting will feature Roy Stevens, president of Jentzen-Miller Co. and members of the Detroit Board of Education, and Dr. Harvey Brazier, professor of economics at the University of Michigan.

According to A. D. Johanson, manager of the Western Electric Distribution House and chairman of the Industrial Division, the meeting will give citizens every opportunity to become better informed about the proposed tax revision program.

"We feel that an informed citizenry can be instrumental in forming the final tax revision program by making views known to their representatives in the Legislature," Johanson declared.

After the two speakers present the highlights of the governor's program, the audience will be invited to ask questions. There is no admission charge and everyone is invited.

OK Zoning Change For Apartments

An apartment project that will eventually contain 38 units moved another step closer to reality Monday night when the City Commission voted to change zoning on the northwest corner of Sheldon and North Territorial Roads to accommodate the project.

The second and final readings to the ordinance change were approved, meaning that the change from one family residential to R-2 will become effective in 30 days. A 20-unit apartment will be constructed first, followed by an 18-unit building, according to the real estate agent's.

Mount the Bikes Kids! Time for Annual Rodeo

Kids and bikes — like cowboys and Indians, bread and butter, or fun and summer — go together. But the Plymouth Optimist Club is again attempting to make sure they go together safely.

The annual Optimist Bicycle Rodeo will be held this Saturday, April 17, at the athletic field behind the High School starting at 1 p.m. Several hundred boys and girls are again expected to participate in the safety events with prizes awaiting the more successful contestants.

Boys and girls from 5 to 14 years of age will be judged on their riding skills, such as balancing at slow speed, steering between narrow parallel lines, circle riding, maneuvering, and braking. First prize will be an Evans bicycle. There will be a host of other prizes. For the school whose pupils gain the most points there will be a special trophy.

The Optimists, whose motto is "Friend of the Boy," sponsor Bike Safety Week each year with the cooperation of the Police Department. Police will be on hand Saturday to advise and assist in the rodeo. Bicycles will be inspected for safety and recommendations given to the young owners.

NOTICE

This week and hereafter, The Plymouth Mail will go on sale at 4:30 p.m. each Wednesday in local stores and outlets and at the Mail office, 271 S. Main. Production schedules have been revised recently to smooth the flow of work in our shop, and the new time of publication replaces the "late Tuesday night" press time. Most subscribers by mail will receive The Mail on Thursday morning.

SOME POINTERS on how to judge prize-winning cattle were given by Jim Magraw, left, of the Plymouth 4-H Livestock Club to the party of Japanese newsmen who visited the Magraw farm in Canton Township Saturday. At right, holding the cow, is Jim's father, Russell Magraw. In Japan, one visitor commented, tasty beef is provided by rubbing cattle with olive oil, keeping them in a dark place, playing soft music and feeding them beer — "but the meat is very, very expensive," he admitted.

Japanese Look Us Over

Newsmen Go Down on the Farm

With their black notebooks crammed, eight senior Japanese political newsmen left Plymouth during Sunday morning's sleet and snowstorm with a much better understanding of life in one of America's small communities.

Life on a farm, a look inside a school, an outline of how a small city government operates and a tour of a weekly newspaper plant were among the stops made Saturday as the newsmen, representing some of Japan's largest daily newspapers, visited here.

Arriving in Plymouth by train from Detroit Saturday morning, the group of eight writers, plus an escort officer and two interpreters, checked in at the Hotel Mayflower. Each carried one suitcase — enough luggage to get them around the world.

Plymouth Mail Publisher Paul Chandler made local arrangements. Plymouth is the smallest stop on the six-week tour of the United States. The tour started in San Francisco March 14. They have been in New Orleans, New York, Washington, D.C. and Detroit before coming here. Leaving from Willow Run Sunday morning, they stopped in Boston several days before heading for England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Israel and India.

The main purpose of the visit is to give the editorial writers a better background of world powers and their people. From this, the Japan Newspaper Publishers and Editors Assn., sponsors of the tour, hope to increase the understanding of Japanese journalists of the role of a newspaper in a democratic society.

Escorted here by James Sponseller, managing editor of The Mail, City Manager Albert Glassford and City Clerk Joseph Near, the group was greeted Saturday morning at the Junior High School by 25 school administrators, teachers and pupils. Seated around tables in the cafeteria, Sup't Russell Ibsister moderated the question and answer period through one of the interpreters, Manabu Fukuda. The visitors were surprised to find a Japanese girl among the newcomers. Mikiko Ichura, an exchange student from Tokyo attending Plymouth High, proved to be quite popular with the guests. During the question and answer period, the editorial writers were interested in such things as the number of schools, whether boys or girls are better students, whether there are some who fail and courses required in the Junior High.

Symphony Drive Opens Membership

A month-long campaign to enlist members for the 1961-62 concert season was opened Monday by the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Normally held in the fall, the Society this year has changed the campaign to the spring so that it can better plan its forthcoming season. Letters went out this week to former members, telling them of plans for the 1961-62 season. An invitation is also being extended by Symphony Society President Robert S. Jenkins for others to become members.

A budget of $9,600 was established for the current season. Of this, 71 per cent went for orchestra costs, 17.6 per cent for advertising and printing and 11.4 per cent for miscellaneous expenses, such as sponsorship of the Plymouth Junior Symphony, Interlochen Music Camp scholarships and Detroit Symphony Youth Concerts.

The cost of an active membership is $7.50. Supporting memberships are $15; sustaining memberships, $25. (Continued on Page 6)

Vote Is Expected July 25

Members of the Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors will today (Wednesday) consider setting of a date on which voters will agree to select a charter commission for drafting and submitting a charter proposal for a City of Plymouth Heights.

It was just three months ago that electors turned down the Plymouth Heights charter, 1,589 to 35.

A new petition calling for another incorporation election was submitted to the Board of Supervisors following the January election and it is just now coming up for action before the Ways and Means Committee.

The move starts all over again the two years of legal procedures that just ended in January that was designed solely for holding off annexation attempts.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay said this week that he personally had nothing to do with the new action, but he will be involved in today's proceedings in Detroit. He has been re-appointed to the powerful Ways and Means Committee.

The supervisor said that he believes the committee will set the election on Tuesday, July 25, the date of a special state-wide election for selecting delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

At this election, voters will face the same decision as they did on Feb. 15, 1959. At that time, a nine-member charter commission was elected and the question was also presented asking for incorporation.

The question was approved by a 65-vote margin and the charter commission began work on the charter. The charter had to be submitted to electors two years from that date.

This two year period is the important part of the maneuver, because during that time, no other action involving annexation to the City of Plymouth can take place. When it came to the final incorporation vote last Jan. 17, only 35 people actually voted for the proposal.

The Township Board and probably the charter commissioners themselves were not actually in favor of forming a new city.

Around 300 electors signed the new petition, it was reported. The new petition, according to law, had to be presented 10 days after the last Heights election. During this 10-day period, John McEwen, 4475 Governor Bradford, was the de facto mayor.

PLYMOUTH'S new mayor, Robert Sincock, seated, and Mayor Pro tem, Marvin Terry, were elected by fellow commissioners Monday night. The mayor's first official act following the meeting was signing a proclamation for Plymouth Symphony Week, April 17-22.

Robert J. Sincock Elected City Mayor

Robert J. Sincock, who for the past four years has been mayor pro tem of the City of Plymouth, was elected mayor Monday night by fellow City Commissioners while Marvin E. Terry was elected mayor pro tem.

Both men were elected unanimously during the brief organizational session at the start of Monday night's meeting.

Mayor Sincock succeeds Harold Guenther who was not eligible to seek re-election this month because of a two-term limitation of the charter.

The new mayor has been a member of the Commission since his appointment to fill a vacancy in 1954. In 1955 and 1959 he won four-year terms. He too will be ineligible to run again when his term expires in 1963.

Mayor Sincock, 44, lives at 1370 Penniman Ave. Born in Calumet, Mich., he graduated from the Calumet public schools and Houghton Co. Business School. In 1943 he moved to Plymouth and in 1952 became owner of Bob's Standard Service Station.

He is a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club, Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Holy Name Society (past president), and Knights of Columbus. Mr. and Mrs. Sincock have three children, Mary Ann, 12; Craig, 8; and Paul, 4.

The new mayor pro tem, Marvin E. Terry, was born in Plymouth 43 years ago but graduated from Rochester High School. He received a degree in business administration from Albion College.

In 1947 he joined in the bakery business with his father and purchased the business four years ago.

He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, Masons, Chamber of Commerce, Elks, and First United Presbyterian Church.

Mayor Pro tem Terry has the longest service on the Commission. He was appointed in 1953 to fill an unexpired term and was elected in 1955 and 1959 for four-year terms.

He and Mrs. Terry, who teaches at Allen School, have two children, Norman, 21, attending Jackson Junior College, and Sue, 16.

MANY PLYMOUTH people still treasure Civil War souvenirs, such as this Springfield rifle held by Jim Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Allen. Mr. Allen was given the rifle by his father and Jim brought it to the Junior High School last week for the Civil War exhibit, attended by some 1,200 students.

Plymouth and the Civil War

Local Men Fall at Gettysburg

On Aug. 23, 1862, the 24th Infantry Regiment — with over 100 men in Company C hailing from the Plymouth area — marched down Woodward Ave. on the first leg of their journey to the front. Boarding a boat, they sailed to Cleveland where they were loaded into trains. Four days later, with spirits still high, they were in Washington, War, to the eager enlistees, was still a vision of quick victories and heady valor.

From Washington the regiment marched to Fort Lyon, Va., then to Fort Wayne and from there to Camp Shearer. They made camp there until the end of September. When they arrived at Frederick City, Md. on the first of October, they made camp once again. If we could roll back the years, we might be silent observers around the evening campfires, after the chores of the day had been done, and sit with the men in the chill of the autumn night and listen. What we would hear would probably be the laughter of the young men as they joked about how they would rout the Johnny Reb in short order. The older, more settled married men might be writing letters home or exchanging stories of the antics of their children or the state of the last crop harvested back home.

A few might be on the fringe of the circle fighting down the nauseous waves of homesickness. But even deeper than the longing for home and the discomfort of camping, was, in all probability, the conviction that this war couldn't be so bad. Why, they hadn't even seen their fellow American enemy. On Oct. 20, the regiment continued the march from day to day through Maryland and finally in late November went into winter camp near the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Aquia Creek Railroad, where it was placed on duty to guard that line against sabotage from the Confederacy.

At daylight, on the 11th of December, the body of men marched towards Fredericksburg and remained lying on its arms until daylight, when they crossed the Rappahannock on pontoon bridges.

The smell of battle hung heavy in the sharp wintry air. Soon after reaching the Fredericksburg side the Rebel force opened with their artillery from the surrounding heights.

One of the first Plymouth casualties from the sortie was Lt. David Birrell. Others from Plymouth were Thomas A. Armstrong, 21, and Oscar N. Baker, 23, who was later discharged for wounds suffered here. James McKee, 24, was listed among the wounded and died the following year in the battle at Wilderness. Also wounded were Samuel W. Phillips, from Salem, age 21, and Frank T. Stewart, age 18. And among the Plymouth boys killed in this gallant fight was Forest C. Brown, age 25. Events from now on for the 24th Regiment would get progressively worse. They had had their baptism under fire. On the 27th of May the Regiment was furnished black hats, which they wore cavalier style, with one side of the brim turned up and a jaunty red feather to set it off. This accessory made their appearance quite unique and with their record gained for them a formidable reputation. The sight of the Black Hats in the field presented a fearsome image to the enemy. The battle at Gettysburg was unplanned and came about following the battle of Chancellorsville when Lee took his army smashing into Pennsylvania. The new Union commander, Maj. Gen. George Meade, moved north to meet Lee's offensive and both the Army of the Potomac and the Army of the Confederacy came into position on either side of the little town of Gettysburg. Because Southern Brig. Gen. James Pettigrew had learned of a store of shoes in the town, he decided to capture them for his footsore men. Federal cavalryman, Maj. Gen. John Buford, intercepted Pettigrew's foragers and the combat was begun. The Iron Brigade, as the 24th had come to be known, had an early breakfast that morning of July 1, consisting of the usual fare of hard-tack, pork and coffee and had no inkling that they would meet the foe so soon. As they came upon the town of Gettysburg about nine

With the investiture of Brownie Troop B238 on April 11 at Starkweather School, Plymouth welcomed its newest troop of scouts. The ceremony started with the Brownie greeting, after which the Brownie story was told. Then leaders Mrs. Donald Graham and Mrs. James Honey invested each girl as she repeated her Brownie Promise. The Brownie pin, a tiny golden elf, was traditionally put on upside-down, to be righted when the girl does a good deed.

Jean's Jottings

By Jean Campau, Woman's Editor

Mark Twain's famous quip that said 'everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it' may be slated for extinction. Scientists today tell us that by the time the present kindergartners are adults, man will have learned how to control the elements. This is certainly good news, but little comfort for our own current scattered spring.

Researchers have, for some time, been delving into the effect weather has on our disposition and have come up with some startling, though complicated information.

It seems that when the atmosphere is charged with positive ions, it tends to make people easily irritated, short tempered and generally out of sorts. But conversely, when the atmosphere has in its makeup higher electro-static properties and subsequently more negative ions in its composition, the reverse is true and we become easy-going and jolly and would give away our last million dollars.

Perhaps this is the reason women go on sporadic shopping sprees.

Working on the above principle, scientists are pursuing the control of the elusive ion to ease personality and emotional tensions for the men in submarine service.

German researchers have taken a different tact and have come up with the condition they call foehn. Foehn is essentially the same bit with the ions, and while to my knowledge they haven't tried to harness these vascillating charged particles, many professional people do go so far as to regulate their lives to fit foehn. Doctors have been known to postpone serious operative cases, to the advantage of patient and surgeon alike. And lawyers delay the hearing of their more difficult legal cases until the foehn barometer is in a more favorable position.

At any rate, no matter what the scientists call their discoveries, we women know that there are days when we can accomplish whopping feats and any mountain can become a mere molehill.

We found a bright spot in our singular, slushy and snowy Sunday when we attended Marion Sober's 'open house' at her Joy Rd. studio. She had on exhibit some of the oil paintings that ladies from her fall class created as well as an interesting display on the art of chair caning, looming and basket weaving.

University increased his responsibilities by adding the title director of the Dearborn Center of the University of Michigan.

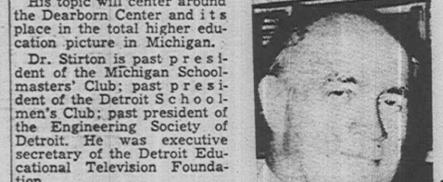

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. J. W. Sponseller, chairman; Mrs. N. E. Cimoch, Mrs. R. M. Larson, Mrs. Peter Settles, and Mrs. W. H. Baumgartner.

His topic will center around the Dearborn Center and its place in the total higher education picture in Michigan.

Oriental Culture Is Meeting Topic

Delta Kappa Gamma, Alpha Nu Chapter, an international honorary organization for women educators, met Monday, April 10 at the Northville Junior High Library.

Miss Ione Palmer presented an informative and interesting program on Oriental Culture. To put her audience in the proper frame of mind the library was transformed into an Indian village with Indian home, four temples (Buddha, Islam, Hindu and Jain), a music hall, a historical museum, a flick show and a feasting mart. Strings of gaily colored papers, plants, candles and folk crafts of the Orient decorated the village.

Hostesses Mrs. Martha Egge, Mrs. Lucille Proctor and Mrs. Ethel Gracey served refreshments at the close of the program.

'Listen Post' Brings Speakers Here from 'Detroit Adventure'

The "Plymouth Listening Post," new cultural project for the Plymouth, Northville, and Livonia community, will be the first local opportunity to participate in "Detroit Adventure," Mrs. John W. Moehl, chairman, announced.

The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women, sponsors, will be assisted in programming the fall and winter events by William Birenbaum, founder and director of the unique cultural experiment known as "Detroit Adventure."

This program, which has been growing throughout the past four years under Dr. Birenbaum's leadership, has been called "the only cultural enterprise of its kind in the country." Participating are 19 cultural institutions of the metropolitan area, including Wayne State University, the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Moehl stated that "Detroit Adventure" will supply speakers on subjects of metropolitan interest to the objective of providing not only entertainment, but mental stimulation which will motivate further interest. The Program Committee, composed of Mrs. John H. Haas, chairman, Mrs. W. V. Clarke, Mrs. Richard N. Fritz, and Mrs. Sidney D. Cady, has requested speakers for the coming year in three general areas: the arts, world geography, and international relations. Speakers will include both well-known leaders from the Detroit cultural community and top international authorities who are visiting in this country at the time.

Revenge Runs At RU Friday

Champion Rocks Seek To Offset 1960 Defeat

Weather Stops Golf Start

Keith Baughmann's Suburban Six Champions will burst back on the high school track scene tomorrow with a dual meet at Redford Union.

The Rocks, who surprised everyone last year in winning the league meet by 11-12ths of a point, will be looking for revenge against Redford Union. RU inflicted one of Plymouth's two league dual meet defeats last season.

Ten letter winners have departed from the team that stole the league meet last season, but 11 more are back. The 1961 Rocks will be led by Captain Dave Westover, who is a half mile. Baughmann lost three quarter-milers from his 1960 squad.

Gone are Captain Don Williams, Jim Carney and Dave Hoak. Williams had set a new league and school record in the quarter event. This season Baughmann should get help in the quarter from senior John Spigarelli.

Junior Byron Latta and senior Frank Eidson are two more letter winners returning in the half-mile, while seniors Gary Misto, Dick Alsbro and junior Dave Fey are returning for the sprints.

Tony Hunt, who lettered in the mile last year, is also back and senior Chuck Bowers returns for the field events. Junior Dan Stremick is back in the high jump and Mark Fisher will again lead the pole vaulters.

Coach Baughman expressed delight over the turnout for track this spring. Over 100 students turned out and 40 are being carried on the varsity squad. Baughman also hopes to develop a JV program.

Last season the Rocks lost to Bentley and RU, but won over Allen Park, Belleville and Trenton in league competition before squeaking through to win the league meet.

The Great Seal of the United States is older than the U.S. Constitution. The Great Seal had its beginning in 1776. The U.S. Constitution was completed in 1787.

The waterways of the Amazon are said to be richer in fish than any other rivers in the world.

This season finds the Rocks with a distinct scheduling benefit. Only the opening dual meet against RU is away. The rest are at home.

Coach John Sandmann's golf team today wistfully eyed a couple of dates (April 24 and 26) with Bentley and Ypsilanti next week. Weather permitting, the team will get the golf game going at last.

The Rocks were rained out against Trenton in the opener a week ago yesterday. On last Monday they were weathered from the Redford Union meet and as of press time, Sandmann doubted that the Wednesday meet at Southfield would be played. Today's meet with Thurston at Braeburn was also in doubt.

Six letterwinners return to bolster Plymouth hopes for a successful season. Captain Del McAllister, who played on the team that missed the state championship two years ago by one stroke, is back again.

Others returning include Dick Gretzinger of state championship swimming fame, Jim Izzet, also a state champion swimmer, Tom Fletcher, John Augustine and Steve Hayskar.

With only two days of practice outdoors, Coach Jim Doyle's tennis team took on Trenton last week and lost, 5-2. It's the best that a Plymouth team has done against Trenton in a long time, according to Doyle.

In three singles events Plymouth could have won by adding one more point, but each time Trenton was able to rally and win. Consequently the Rocks were shut out in the singles, although each match went three sets.

The Rocks won two doubles with Dennis Smith and Dale Livingston combining to win one match and Bob Smith and Jim Jensen getting together for the other victory.

"Everyone performed well," Coach Doyle said. John Tichy, Tom Lock, Don Conover and Ed Fisher played in the singles for Plymouth.

The Rocks were scheduled to meet Allen Park at Allen Park last Tuesday.

This Tuesday, they meet Bentley at home.

Coach Bill Brown's Rocks were rained out of last Monday's opener with Ypsilanti and Wednesday's game was also likely to be called. Snowed out would have been a better word for Monday's occurrence.

Plymouth finished second in the league last year. All games start at 4 p.m.

Walled Lake Outing To Benefit Little League

The Plymouth Little League, in cooperation with Walled Lake Amusement Park is sponsoring a special fund-raising program from April 15 through May 7. During this time young ball players will sell tickets to a "Little League Booster Outing" to be held Sunday, May 7 at Walled Lake Park.

For $1, friends of the Little League can take a $2.50 worth of amusement rides. The bulk of the proceeds will go to the junior sandlotters to help finance their project.

Plymouthites are invited to pack a picnic basket and join their friends and neighbors at Walled Lake Amusement Park on Sunday, May 7. A special area is set aside for all Plymouth Little League boosters and there is ample parking space.

"Play Ball" At Bentley?

Suburban Six League baseball is scheduled to get underway this week. Plymouth meets Bentley away on Monday and returns home to meet Belleville on Thursday.

SPORTSEEN

By Bill Nelson

On the theory that Major Yuri Gagarin's big leap forward in space is simply the world's greatest field event, the subject for today's discussion is oddly a letter to the editor of a Detroit paper.

The writer, who signs himself, "Frank Maguire" complains that upon entering a grade school to vote in Dearborn he saw a color poster that was prominently displayed, showing the top Russian gymnasts in the recent Olympic games.

Further, he says, "The captions described them as world renowned Soviets who had defeated the American and all other entries... in this field."

Mr. Maguire was then told that a program was underway to encourage participation in gymnastics. He says further that "While such a program has real value, I think placing Russian athletes on a pedestal as heroes of impressive school children is not the wisest approach." Further Maguire says not much.

The fact that the Russians have made superior strides in athletics in the Olympics is cause enough for concern. The real worry should not be directed at posters in grade school bulletin boards, but over the fact that American has slipped in relation to the Soviet sportsman.

I'm not sure posters in grade schools are the best approach (although the truth shouldn't hurt us), but it is certain that American adults could use such a shock, which, after all, is simply a reminder that the Russians want to exceed us.

And that gets us back to Major Yuri and sports. One of the great benefits of sports is that they provide a chance to excel in a world increasingly bent on making everyone completely equal.

Major Yuri excelled. Man, he's been there. And back. His feat should call attention to what can be gained with dedication and work. This is not to leave unquestioned Soviet motives, but the achievement does illustrate what can happen when a society rewards excellence. The irony is that the Communists, who preach a doctrine of sameness, performed this great event.

The thousands who cheered the young red in Moscow were cheering excellence as much as anything else. They were cheering also the simple fact that he was first.

It was the same kind of glee that Plymouth fans felt when the Rocks won the state swimming championship. The idea of excellence is crucial to any field of endeavor. Somehow we must get back to it with a vengeance.

That's the lesson of Russian Olympic successes and Major Yuri.

PHS Students Offer 'The Mikado'

Finishing touches are being added to Gilbert and Sullivan's famous musical comedy, "The Mikado," as High School students and teachers prepare for three weekend performances.

Held in the gymnasium, the musical will be staged Friday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock and 2 p.m. Saturday.

The cast, composed entirely of High School students, consists of Leroy Lane as the Mikado, Don Larson as Nan-Ko, Bob Evans as Ko-Ko, Paul Malboeuf as Poo-Bah, Art Gulick as Pish-Tush, Grace Kuhns as Yum-Yum, Jody Edgar as Piti-Sing, Shirley Blanton as Peep-Bo and Marilynne Moss, Katisa.

Produced by Robert Stanger and directed by Fred Nelson, Robert Southgate and James Griffith, the comedy also employs all the vocal groups for off-stage music.

"The Mikado" is a play whose popularity has continued from the turn of the century when it first became a great theater attraction. The authors, Sir William Gilbert and Sir Arthur Sullivan, won recognition and honor for their many musical comedies.

Although often compared to the American team of Rogers and Hammerstein, Gilbert and Sullivan's friendship—and team work—was marred by frequent and bitter arguments. As a result of these disagreements, the men were not on speaking terms for many years.

For their great contributions to the theater, both men were knighted but because Gilbert insulted Queen Victoria's Navy in the whimsical play, "HMS Pinafore," he received his knighthood 24 years later than Sullivan.

Tickets, costing 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students, are available at the door.

The first Bible published in what is now the United States was in the language of a Massachusetts Indian tribe, translated by John Eliot. The second Bible published here was in German, printed in 1744 at Germantown, Pa.

REHEARSALS for Plymouth High School's most ambitious play production, "The Mikado," continued this week. Performances will be Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night. The nine-member cast is composed of, from

Plymouth High School
By Lester Barison

A magnificent trophy for being the best delegate of a minor power went to Paul Rawley last Sunday night at the conclusion of the three-day Model United Nations Assembly of the University of Detroit. Paul headed the Cambodian delegation, composed of the following students of the International Relations class: Larry Heidt, Rosemary Kubick, Barb Haas, and this reporter, who have been preparing for their participation in the assembly for the past two months, doing research, studying UN actions, and corresponding with the ambassadors of the UN countries.

Back in February they even visited the Cambodian deputy ambassador to the United Nations in his New York office, Cambodia, by the way, is a hot country in southeast Asia, having a population of about five million people. It has been brought into the limelight since the disturbances in Laos, its neighbor to the north. In spite of Communist aggression so nearby, Cambodia has maintained a policy of constant neutrality and has even established friendly relations with Red China.

The three day assembly, taking up Friday night, all day Saturday and most of Sunday was a thrilling experience, and a demanding one. The assembly was organized almost exactly as is the real UN, with a General Assembly presided over by a president (John Grubba, a U of D political science major) and committees on various current problems. Each delegation had one vote in the General Assembly.

The huge U of D Memorial Building arena was set up especially for the event, with an elaborately constructed desk for the president and secretary general and a speaker's platform, behind which were special walls, making use of a striking pattern of raised orange-rust rectangles on white, to serve as a background and acoustic baffle. Each delegation had a table on the floor, while numerous microphones were stationed at many points for use by the delegates in addressing the president and the Assembly.

On Friday evening the General Assembly was in session until the early morning hours, when a proposal to admit Red China to the organization was defeated. Rising early Saturday morning the Plymouthites, or more correctly, the Cambodians, again made their way to the U of D McNichols campus.

The morning and afternoon were taken up by meetings of five committees dealing individually with the Congo, aid to underdeveloped countries, Arab refugees, disarmament, and outer space. Each was attended by one of the five Cambodians. The proposals submitted by these committees were voted on by the General Assembly on that evening and Sunday.

The Assembly passed a resolution dealing with containment aid to underdeveloped nations, and one to maintain UN troops in the Congo. At the passing of the latter, a number of delegations walked out, with much clamor, unsetting chairs and even a table in the process. This, along with other demonstrations during the evening, provided the viewers of Channel 56, which televised nearly the whole assembly session, with some interesting action, as did the demand by the Cuban delegation for the expulsion of the United States from the UN, due to the bombing of Havana and Santiago by "American B-29" airplanes. But for the most part the MUN was serious and intensively studious, and thus a most rewarding experience.

Winning the oak trophy bearing three symbolical gold figures, Paul gave much credit to his speech of acceptance to Miss Gertrude Fiegel, teacher of the International Relations class, of whose efforts, help and guidance he said he was "a product."

What better tribute? The flood belt along the Mississippi River in Louisiana is about 50 miles wide and miles long. It is protected by many miles of levees.

GARDEN NOTES

If Crabgrass has been a problem in your lawn, Spring is the best time of year to rid yourself of this pest. Crabgrass can be eliminated easily and positively NOW with a group of products known as "pre-emergent seed killers". There are many brands available — one tailored to suit your needs.

Lawns should be raked, fertilized and reseeded now. Also any low or irregular surfaces can be leveled up at this time, with the least damage to your turf. Extremely low spots are best corrected by lifting the sod and placing the soil underneath the sod. For minor irregularities of 1/4" - 1/2", soil may be added over the turf in layers of not more than 1/4" at a time.

Roses should be unhilled now, pruned and dormant sprayed as soon as possible. Paint ends of large canes with tree paint or a special rose cane paint to prevent entry of the Rose Borer.

It is a good policy to dormant spray all your flowering shrubs and shade trees while they are still dormant, particularly those that get scale.

Soft maples should be sprayed with Lime Sulphur to kill the Bladder Gall mite immediately. Hurry, this week will probably be the last opportunity for dormant spraying.

Prune flowering trees and shrubs right after they have bloomed — not before. Prune fruit trees and other plants raised for their showy fruits (such as Firethorn) immediately.

Please feel free to ask us for additional help and information.

Local Men Fall

Three months earlier Peck had written his daughter: "some of the men do not think the Army of the Potomac will have much to do during the coming summer." As his regiment crossed Willoughby Run, a bullet came out of the smoke that hung low in the ravine to still his thoughts.

There were nine others that rose up to take Peck's place that day and all of them gave their lives. Col. Henry Morrow said of him, "he was singularly pure in his private life and in all the engagements in which his regiment took part, he was conspicuous for his gallantry."

In September, the 24th made temporary camp, three miles from Culpepper and the town named the place Fort Peck, in honor of the late color bearer.

The list, in part, for Plymouth's Company C read:

Killed, Lt. Lucius D. Shattuck, 24; Lt. W. S. Safford, 21; George Cogswell, 24; Cpl. Abel Peck, 42; Edward Cory, 37; Oliver C. Kelley, 20; John E. Ryder, 19; and Thomas C. Ballou, 22.

Wounded, Christian Stockfleth, 32; William Whalton, 27; Alford Willis, 18; Asa Joy, 22, who had his leg amputated, resulting from the wounds; George W. Kynoch, 27; Daniel McPherson; Augustus Pomeroy, 25; Roswell L. Root, 21; Alva Hill, 36; Benjamin Brigham, 32; Ami Collins, 19; Edgar O. Durfee, 19; Clark Eddy, 19, who died shortly afterwards near Petersburg, of typhoid fever; and John W. Babbitt, who had his right leg amputated.

Missing was Cpl. Bela C. Ide and taken prisoner were James Gillespie, 25; Joshua Minthorn, 23; Charles Root, 24; John A. Sherwood, 31, and John A. Bartlett, 23. Most of the soldiers taken prisoner were released shortly and rejoined their outfit.

Cpl. Abel Peck, a 42-year-old farmer from Nankin, who had enlisted that August day nearly a year before in Plymouth, was the Regiment's first color bearer and was the first to lose his life, literally, for flag on that opening day at Gettysburg.

The brigade dashed up and over a hill and down the ravine and found themselves in the thick of the fierce clash. It was here, on that first day of fighting, that the 24th suffered its greatest losses. Out of 496 men, 399 were killed, wounded, missing or taken prisoner.

Much of the fighting was hand-to-hand combat, due to the growth artillery could not be used to any great advantage by either side. The woods caught fire in many places and estimates say 200 Union men perished in the smoke and flames.

The Plymouth casualty list stated:

Killed: First Lt. William B. Hutchinson, Sgt. Charles Pinkerton, Cpl. John A. Bartlett, James McKee, William McLaughlin. Wounded: Capt. John Witherspoon, Cpl. Aiken Holloway, John A. Sherwood, William A. Herrendeen and Frank T. Stewart.

Captured and taken to Southern prisons were Charles R. Dobbins, George W. Kynoch, Andrew B. Lanning, who escaped May 15 and was lost on the Steamer Lyon, Nelson Pooler and Alfred C. Willis.

The War of the States still had another 11 months before its course in history had been run. Many more battles were fought and thousands on both sides were yet to die.

Ralph G. Terry, 30, was wounded at Laurel Hill and again at Petersburg. Orson Westfall, 23, was wounded at Laurel Hill, also, as was John Passage, Jr., 27. He was taken prisoner near Richmond and died of disease.

On the 11th of February the regiment was ordered to report to Baltimore for special duty and reaching there on the 15th proceeded to Springfield, Ill.

It was while they were stationed here that they had the honor of being selected to escort the funeral of the assassinated President Abraham Lincoln.

June 20, 1865, the regiment arrived back in Detroit after what must have seemed an eternity, and it was mustered out of service. Those of the original company returned home to pick up the threads of their pre-war lives, greatly sobered by the devastation and death they had lived with for so many months.

Next week: Prison life.

Sam Rayburn, Speaker of the House, on 78th birthday: "I'll stay around as long as possible. I like it... Life has been a great romance, I have had no sickness in my life and never really felt bad."

Township Board Approves Garling Subdivision Plat

Approval of a subdivision plat for the Garling Construction Co. and tentative approval of 100 water taps for water along Canton Center Rd. in Canton Township were some of the transactions handled by the Plymouth Township Board last week.

Garling plans to build 17 homes along both sides of Park Entrance Drive (from Ann Arbor Trail to Edward Hines Drive). This is the number limited to the builder because of sewer restrictions.

Although subdivisions have been held up in Wayne County for the past two years because of the lack of interceptor sewer facilities, there is a sewer already going down Park Entrance Drive into the park. Garling has been allowed to erect no more than 17 homes.

The property upon which the homes will be built was the subject of much controversy during the past three years. Garling petitioned any objection to the issuance to his firm of a SDD license (packaged liquor). He noted that he first filed a request in 1945. The Board noted that while the State would issue to license, the Board would have no objection.

The Board also approved the Class C liquor license (with dance permit) change from Henry Halprin to Robert Cambell as new owner of the Thunderbird Inn.

Also approved by the Board was a resolution agreeing that the proposed Northwestern Wayne County Community College is a worthy project and that it supports the effort to submit the question to voters June 12.

As far as can be determined, there are no petitions circulating asking for annexation of Township property to the City at this time. When the incorporation petition was filed three years ago the Garling Construction Co. had been circulating an annexation petition so that it could secure City water for a proposed subdivision. This property is soon being provided Township water.

The new City supervisor, A. E. Vallier, reported to the City Commission Monday night that a new incorporation petition is being considered by the supervisors. But commissioners expressed no concern.

The new petition for incorporation includes the same area as the last one — the portion of Plymouth Township.

The caravan moved into Canton Township for the afternoon, to the farm of Robert Waldeck near Canton Township. Russell Magraw, on Warren Rd. The Plymouth 4-H Livestock Club held a short business meeting for the visitors and then brought on their cattle and sheep for judging.

The guests, who carried their cameras wherever they went, shot up many rolls of film as the 4-H boys and girls performed. Dale Hawk is president of the club. Extension Agent Robert Paulson also took part.

Moving through the barn, the Japanese newsmen showed particular interest in the milking machines. The escort officer, Yuji Maeda, let it be known that the men would be delighted to see the inside of the farm home. So the Waldeck home was thrown open and the caravan moved inside. Several tried out a comfortable rocking chair.

Back in Plymouth, a tour was made through some of the residential neighborhoods. The newsmen seemed elated that the St. John's Episcopal Church had employed oriental architectural lines.

At the Plymouth Mail office, the visitors were hardly impressed by the size of the plant, since their newspapers have circulations ranging up to 7 million (the world's third largest). But they were surprised to find so many pages in the weekly newspaper, since their own dailies have but 16 to 24 pages.

The visitors walked back to the hotel, stopping to look at store windows along Main St. Following a rest period and dinner at the Mayflower, they traveled to the Livonia Bentley High School where they saw some of the Country Music Jubilee (such music is found in Japan too). They were guests of the Livonia Optimist Club.

It was breakfast at 7 a.m. and departure for the airport at 8 as the Japanese writers said goodbye to Plymouth Sunday.

The travelers have an agreement not to write anything about their trip until a month after they return. ("While we are competitors at home, we must remain the best of friends on the trip," one declared.)

When they return, they will be the center of a series of country-wide seminars sponsored by their Newspaper Publishers and Editors Assn.

MR. AND MRS. Perry Hix of 41454 Warren Rd., Canton Township, were honored recently at a Centennial Farm luncheon by the Michigan Historical Commission and Detroit Edison. Above Edlin W. Kivela, senior customer business representative for Edison's Wayne sales district, presents Mr. and Mrs. Hix with a plaque recognizing ownership by their family of the same Canton Township farm for more than 100 years. The Hix farm came into the family in 1852 when the land was purchased by Ezekiel Anderson, grandfather of Mrs. Hix. The Michigan Centennial Farm program was inaugurated in 1948 by the Michigan Historical Commission and is co-sponsored by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Co. Under the program, each owner receives a Centennial Farm certificate and a plaque. To date, there are some 1,500 farms throughout the state.

Postmaster Tells Conditions Of Obtaining Foot Carrier Service

1. Like thousands of other communities across the country, Plymouth is sufficiently large in terms of postal receipts and population to qualify for city delivery service. In such communities there is generally a recurring need for increased postal services, particularly extensions of delivery service to house receptacles by foot carriers or to curb boxes of new homes by carriers in motor vehicles. Before delivery by foot carrier can be extended to a new street, the following conditions must be met:
2. Streets must be paved or improved to permit travel of post office vehicles at all times without damage or delay.
3. Continuous sidewalks must be installed in sections of the city where the traffic hazards or extreme weather conditions preclude use of the street by the carrier.
4. Street signs must be erected and homes and business places must be equipped with proper numbers.
5. Mail receptacles or door slots must be installed except in the case of business places where someone is regularly present to accept delivery when the carrier arrives.
6. Walks of any material, including gravel and cinders, passable throughout the year, between the street and sidewalk and the front entrance of the dwellings must be constructed.

"The requirements for delivery by carriers in motor vehicles to curbline boxes are the same as those shown above for foot delivery," says Postmaster George Timpona. "except that sidewalks need not be installed and it is not necessary that 50 per cent of the lots have buildings erected on them." Before a new street can receive delivery service, it must be inspected by a qualified postal supervisor. A request from one person (petitions are not necessary) is sufficient basis for initiating an inspection to determine eligibility of a street for curb or house delivery. "Calls regarding extensions of service are most welcome at GL 3-6110," says Postmaster Timpona.

The value of chlorinated sea water in preserving fish while aboard a trawler has been demonstrated. The "Tidal Wave" warning system, begun in the Pacific after the 1946 disaster, now entirely covers that ocean.

Registration for the $6.00 course can be made by calling the recreation department office at GL 3-3100 or by going in person to the office.

American Hospital Offers New Type of Combination Policy

A hospitalization policy which includes life insurance protection — first such policy to be introduced in Michigan — is announced by the American Hospital-Medical Benefit and the American Community Mutual Insurance Co. of Plymouth.

John J. Temple, president, said this new American Plan "plus" policy is guaranteed renewable for life for the hospital and surgical benefits, and it provides life insurance. It is wholly new because it enables one-premium, one-policy coverage.

Three choices of benefits are available under the hospital and surgical section of the "plus" policy, depending upon the amount of coverage desired. Three other optional riders are provided for extraordinary nursing, physician or accident expense benefits.

The American Plan "plus" policy has $50, $75 or $100 deductible optional features.

Temple explained that the policy "provides dependable protection at lower cost because of the savings in elimination of processing and payment of many small claims."

American Hospital - Medical Benefit is one of the oldest companies of its kind in the state and was established in 1938.

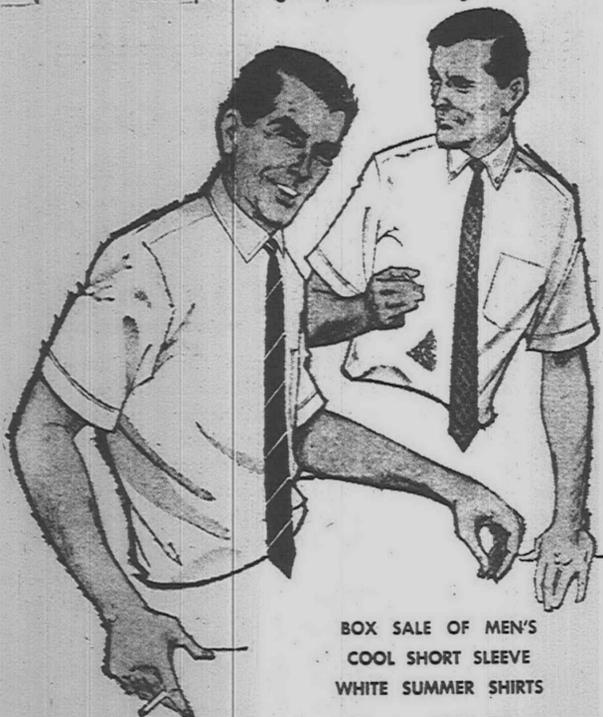

American Community Mutual Insurance Co. was formed in 1949 as a companion company providing life insurance coverage. The life company also has introduced a new line of health and accident policies which are non-cancellable, guaranteed renewable for life and with deductible features.

The companion companies have branch offices and representatives in all major cities throughout Michigan.

Election Post Mortems

ELECTION POST-MORTEMS reach fever pitch a few days after each time Michigan voters go to the polls. Losers want to explain why they lost. Winners are even more anxious to tell why they won. The 1961 Biennial Spring Election was no exception and may provide more fruitful ground for both winners and losers than most. At least one reason for this is the fact that the Constitutional Convention issue was on the ballot. In a lot of ways, the spring election "followed the rules" by the book. None of the incumbents seeking reelection was ousted. Democratic party candidates pulled their heaviest vote in the densely populated areas, especially around Wayne County. Republicans showed more strength outside. But consider this: While it was still enough to outweigh the vote in the rest of the state, the vote in Wayne County and surrounding areas was down, overall, from the record number of ballots cast two years ago. Detroit, especially, saw the number of people going to the polls fall off. Democrats, who won seven of the nine partisan offices contested, relied heavily on the metropolitan vote, of course. But significantly, the margin by which Republicans won outstate was down in many areas. This was not true all over, naturally. It cannot be attributed to any one factor in most cases, either. One fact stood out in the spring election as never before, however. Democratic organizations all over the state are getting stronger. They are more active, they turn out a bigger vote and they are better able to count on a certain number of voters coming out in a given area. In most past elections, a huge turnout in the metropolitan areas with Detroit leading the way was the obvious factor when Democrats came out on top. This time, Democrats were able to show strongly without the great mass of party-line voters in Detroit. The lesson seems obvious: Party organizations, which more often than not can mean success or failure in an election, are just as effective—and necessary—out in the boon-docks as they are in the asphalt jungle.

VERY SURPRISED to find a Japanese girl in the receiving line at the Junior High School Saturday morning, the visiting Japanese newsmen eagerly shook hands with Mikiko Ichiara. Mikiko is an exchange student attending Plymouth High School this year.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Teen-Agers: Many of you are still asking where and how you can get in contact with foreign pen pals and for new readers this week, once again I'll give you the addresses to write to for pen pals. American teen-agers write to Children's Plan for Peace, World Affairs Center, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis 1, Minn. Enclose along with your name, age, address and sex 25 cents in coin for each name requested. Canadian teen-agers may also contact the foregoing address for the names of American pen pals. However, they should write to Mrs. R. T. Tanner, Box 178, Markham, Ont., Canada, for the names of pen pals in overseas countries. In all cases, 25 cents in coin should be included with your letter for each name requested.

Dear Dan: I'm 16, old enough to qualify for a driver's license but my father won't teach me. He always says he's too busy. A boy at school says he'll teach me but Dad won't let him. He says if the boy has any bad driving habits, he'll teach me them and I'll wind up in a car wreck. I say my father is unfair. Don't you agree that when a friend offers to teach someone to drive, the offer should be accepted especially considering what I've described?—Barbie.

Dear Dan: How can a girl who doesn't believe in kissing a boy the first few times out impress on him that she isn't a prude and that she likes him and would like him to ask for a second date? Ever since I started dating a few months ago this problem has been worrying me. I've had dates with boys but very few of them have asked me out a second time and I'm wondering if it isn't because they think they were cheated because they didn't get to kiss me goodnight. Is a goodnight kiss a "must" when a girl is brought home? If it is, I guess I'll wind up an old maid because I won't trade my principles just to make a boy feel good. Am I wrong in my thinking?—Mona.

Dear Dan: I like a girl in my room but whenever I'm anywhere near her and we're alone, I ignore her and won't even look her way. Is this normal for a 12-year-old boy?—R.R.

Dear Dan: I'm a boy of 14 and am ashamed sometimes to go to school because of the way my hair looks. My father won't send any of us kids to barber shops except about three times a year and when he cuts my hair, you can tell it's a home-made job. It isn't that we don't have the money for the barber because we do. We're not rich but we have enough money from one week to the next. Dad always goes to the barber shop but whenever I complain he says, "No one notices kids." They do too. What do you think?—Ashamed.

Don't you agree that when a friend offers to teach someone to drive, the offer should be accepted especially considering what I've described?—Barbie.

Dear Dan: I'm a boy of 14 and am ashamed sometimes to go to school because of the way my hair looks. My father won't send any of us kids to barber shops except about three times a year and when he cuts my hair, you can tell it's a home-made job. It isn't that we don't have the money for the barber because we do. We're not rich but we have enough money from one week to the next. Dad always goes to the barber shop but whenever I complain he says, "No one notices kids." They do too. What do you think?—Ashamed.

How's Business

What Barometers Are Saying

By ROGER W. BABSON

Six months ago, this column surveyed a number of business barometers which in the past have generally reversed direction ahead of a reversal in the trend of total business. At that time, this group of economic indicators warned of additional rough weather for the economy. A fresh reading of these barometers seems in order now.

The strong rising trend of Industrial Stock Prices is now the most prominent optimistic indicator. Some of the enthusiasm which pushed the market to within 1 per cent of its all-time high may spill over into business. Since the turn of the year, Wholesale Commodity Prices have also strengthened. Firmer price structures, particularly for basic industrial commodities, suggest a healthier business climate.

Dollar volume of Business Failure Liabilities decreased moderately during the fall and winter periods. Although the monthly volume is still near peak levels, the easing of this mortality rate is another indication that the economy may be on the road to recovery.

Commercial and Industrial Building, one of the few strong points during the recession, continues to trend moderately higher. New Housing Starts have been running slightly above seasonal norms thus far in 1961. This may signal a reversal of the long decline in home building which commenced in the winter of 1959.

The Average Factory Work Week lengthened a little in the early months of 1961, and it may be that the long contraction of well over a year has been reversed. Corporate Profits, Manufacturers' New Orders, and New Incorporations continue to be disappointing, however. Nevertheless, it is likely that these two will soon turn in better performances. Admittedly, the improvement of most of these advance barometers requires additional confirmation. Yet, the group as a whole has been behaving more favorably of late, which lends substance to the more general out-cropping of optimistic business sentiment.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

The (New Deal) Village Blacksmith

Under the spreading Bureau-racy The village blacksmith stands Living a life of ecstasy His pockets full of hands. Into his horseless, wheelless shop The mail man makes his weekly stop It's hard for you to understand A subsidy from some New Dealer. It's hard for you to understand What claim he has upon the land How he rates his weekly pay With his shop closed up all day. So, to find the reason for it Turn time backwards, and explore it. Remember, when they killed the pigs And burnt the cotton every spring And paid the farmer every spring For not planting anything. And plowed up corn and what and such Because they thought we had too much?

Well, this business of reducing Stopped the Smitty from producing. You don't need shoes on horses' feet To let them stand around and eat. And when the horses worked no more The Smitty had to close his door. Now you can see his consternation Was caused by New Deal legislation. The Smitty said, "Without a doubt, They must have some form to fill out To right the wrong that they have done Down in good old Washington." So he filled it out and sent This form to the Government. From the seat of this great Nation Came a five man delegation, Came to see the Smitty's ware. Liked the color of his hair And set him up a life of ease Under the spreading chestnut trees. MAX TRUCKS

SCRUBBED AND DRIED IN A $360,000⁰⁰ BATHTUB

No Wonder Natural Gas is So Clean!

Before Consumers Power Company pipes Natural Gas into homes and industries, it gives it a thorough scrubbing! This cleanliness means more efficient operation and longer life for appliances and industrial equipment. Yes, to make sure you get the cleanest fuel possible, all Gas is forced through huge cleaners called "scrubbers" (such as these pictured here at the Company's compressor station near Manchester, Michigan). Each "scrubber" costs $10,000 and this is only one of the many compressor stations operated by Consumers Power Company performing this cleaning operation.

Important Social Security Information

Employers will save money by filing their quarterly social security tax returns for their employees on time. Returns for the first quarter of 1961 are due by April 30. If returns are filed later, the Internal Revenue Service may assess a penalty.

If you employ a babysitter or cleaning woman in your home and pay her $50 in cash during a calendar quarter — as little as $3.85 each week — you must report these earnings and pay social security tax to the Internal Revenue Service. The report for wages paid in January, February, and March is due by April 30.

If you worked as a maid, cook, cleaning woman, or babysitter in a private home and were paid $50 or more in cash wages during January, February, and March, make sure that your employer reports your earnings and pays social security tax to the Internal Revenue Service. Your employer's report for this period is due by April 30. Failure to file this report can reduce the amount of your social security benefit when you retire.

Employers are required by law to report cash wages of as much as $50 a calendar quarter paid to household help and to send social security tax on these wages to the Internal Revenue Service. April 30 is the deadline for reporting wages paid in January, February and March 1961.

Survivors of any worker who died between March 31, 1938, and January 1, 1940, and who had worked under social security for at least a year and a half before his death may now get benefits.

Michigan Will Have 22 Rest Areas By '62

LANSING — Contracts for construction of eight safety rest areas on Michigan's freeway system will be let during the next 12 months, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced this week.

By the end of 1962, Mackie said, Michigan will have nearly two dozen rest areas in operation. Three rest areas are now in operation on Interstate 94 Freeway while 11 others are under construction. "Federal law prohibits any commercial service facility within the right-of-way of Michigan's new freeways," Mackie said. "However, some kind of facility is needed to give motorists an opportunity to stop and rest."

The 11 rest areas now under construction are located on Interstate routes 94, 96 and 196 and on the US-27 Freeway.

Tenderay Steak

Kroger's exclusive Tenderay care is what makes this great beef the favorite of so many. It's really quick aging. It gives U.S. Choice beef the kind of tenderness and "steakhouse" flavor usually found only in beef that has been expensively hung in aging rooms for several weeks or more.

Wayne County's Northwest District of 4-H is holding their annual Achievement Day for completed winter projects, this Saturday, April 22, at Plymouth Junior High School on Mill St.

Exhibits in clothing, cooking, knitting, bicycle safety, personal improvement, home improvement, health improvement, wood handicraft and first aid will be on display. Projects will be judged and awards received.

Earl Threadgould will be master of ceremonies at the evening program which will start at 7. Carolyn Korte, JoAnne Jarrett and Patricia Variot will narrate for the dress review as the girls model the outfits they made last winter.

The fun festival will be a variety of acts by the 4-H'ers. A few younger 4-H'ers will lead in group singing. Special award winners will also be recognized.

The public is invited and will be welcomed to see the accomplishments of these young people. The doors will be open to the public from 4 p.m.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

With the season here again, it's time for the annual words of prophecy on the Detroit Tigers.

There never was a really great baseball team which didn't have a mighty catcher and a solid shortstop. Detroit has neither.

Fourth place for these guys. Another break-even, .500 season.

As for the Red Wings, they might have won the Stanley Cup with different strategy.

There was no logical reason that I could come upon for using Sawchuk in the nets of that fifth game in Chicago Friday night, the one the Black Hawks took, 6 to 3.

Bassen had been a steady citizen every time he appeared prior to that, and further, the team seemed to be steadier in front of him than Sawchuk. Most hockey fans realize that player confidence varies greatly according to the confidence of the moment toward the net-tender.

The 6 to 3 whipping was a heavy psychological depressant upon the Red Wings, who had been sailing for days on a high head of exuberance.

Then when resistance got a little rugged in the next game, all the air seemed to instantly escape the balloon. The Wings sank like a band of leprechauns who had suddenly discovered they were mortal, after all.

Somehow, somewhere rumors got started last week that this newspaper was out of business because vandals had entered the shop and wrecked all the machines.

It's untrue. We did, however, completely streamline and reorganize our shop operations, and changed the publication hour of The Plymouth Mail by a few hours. It will be on sale at our plant and in local stores at 4 p.m. each Wednesday henceforth.

Like many businesses, we've been pressed by a cost squeeze and have screwed down for the maximum possible efficiency.

Sterling Eaton, former publisher of The Plymouth Mail and the Livonian, a well-informed citizen and a liberal Republican (as contrasted with rural conservative) is being encouraged to run as delegate to the Constitutional Convention, and probably will do it. He also has the experience of a term as State Representative behind him.

300 Coin Enthusiasts Attend Plymouth Show

More than 300 coin enthusiasts from Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Garden City, Novi,

Detroit and the surrounding area passed through the doors of the American Legion Hall on Sunday as they viewed Plymouth's first Coin Exhibit. For a period of two consecutive hours, there was no break in the line as they filed slowly past the tables, viewing the various collections of the exhibitors. "When the snow and poor weather broke early Sunday morning, we, the exhibitors, felt that not many would come out to the show," stated Chairman Koi. "We are most happy and flattered, and most excited about the interest and enthusiasm that was indicated by the large number that turned out."

Among those displaying their collections were Mel Blunk, Carvel Bentley, Mike Bentley, Larry Nairn, William Grimmer and Ernest Koi. Due to circumstances beyond their control, Roy Fisher and Kenmy Butterfield were unable to participate in the exhibition. More than 50 of the visitors indicated a sincere desire to become active members of a Plymouth Coin Club. Chairman Koi states that within the next two or three weeks, an organizational meeting will be called for the purpose of organizing the club. Present plans call for membership for both youngsters and adults of both sexes. Anyone wishing to become active in the club may contact any of the above mentioned collectors for further information as it develops. Coffee and cookies were served by Mrs. William Grimmer and Mrs. Ernest Koi.

Joseph L. Hudson Realty. The $300,000 project will have one and two story sections and one and two-bedroom apartments.

There had been some opposition from neighbors to the project, but Mayor Robert Sincock stated that he had heard from some of the early objectors that they had changed their minds. The Commission had fears that if the corner was not used for an apartment, it may eventually be turned into a service station — which they considered a less desirable neighbor for homeowners.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN
Memories of New York City continue to haunt us this week. It's amazing how many Plymouthites were in Cementville - on the Hudson over the Easter Holidays. I was walking quietly down 8th Avenue when my ears were assailed with a breezy greeting from Mary Fritz and husband (160 Amelia St., Plymouth is their native habitat). Mary informed me that the Ketterers, the McFalls, and the Isibsters were taking up residence in the big town for the holidays. We agreed it appeared that the Plymouth delegation was gathering strength and without too much prompting we might schedule a special meeting for discussion of our mutual tourist problems. Russ Isbister met me after I had reported on the fine points of "Advice to a Traveler" and "Critic's Choice," the two Broadway shows that he attended with the wife. On Sunday, he attended the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church while young George and I were right around the corner on Park Avenue at the Christ Methodist Church. If memory serves me correctly, the 5th Ave. church was John D. Rockefeller's favorite house of worship. Many a dime did John drop into their collection plate. Of course, the Christ Methodist Church with Dr. Ralph Sockman at the helm as their pastor doesn't suffer for adequate support. The ornate chancel with its golden mosaics and vaulted ceiling made me feel that more formal wear might be the proper mode of dress for their Sunday service. The ushers, resplendent and immaculate, directed the pew traffic in grey kid gloves.

Cap Edwards' little boy started taking saxophone lessons a few weeks ago, and they tell me the noise on Upper Main Street was pretty bad. Then one afternoon, the Edwards' house was quiet again, and Mrs. Jackson next door figured the boy must have given up tooting his horn. Next time she saw Sis Edwards she asked her about it. "Well, Sis said, 'we know that racket must be driving you folks crazy. So Cap got a soundproof telephone booth from the phone company second-hand. John practices in it to his heart's content. Even I don't have to hear him!'"

Next attraction at the Campus, opening on April 28, is a British comedy, "Make Mine Mink." Terry Thomas, the current comic that is all the rage in England and America, has a starring role in this gay, mad comedy. Not much to report about the world of TV. NBC had JFK peddling some toothpaste on a heavily advertised documentary the other evening. Show was entitled "JFK - Report No. 2." I'm happy to report that NBC and the sponsors did not ask John to personally indicate the condition of his cavities. Although I did notice that he did little smiling on the program and seemed persistently to hide his usually brilliant white teeth.

Over at the Campus Theater in Ann Arbor "Ballad of a Soldier," the prize-winning Russian film, is in the process of completing a two-week run. With their space man causing consternation in Congress and across our land it begins to look like Russia's threats to move ahead of us economically, politically, and materially begin to take a less ephemeral appearance. A year ago we passed Papa Khrushchev off as an ill-tempered idiot that sounded all too boastful and intolerant of anything but Russia and their place in the sun. The Russian man out into space on his significant circling of the earth at 17,000 miles per should give all of us a meditative moment or two. Go and see this Russian movie "Ballad of a Soldier." It's a heart-warming story that shows the human side of our usurpers of outer space.

A happy birthday goes to Sharon Ferrari, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Ferrari of Ford Rd. Sharon was the guest of honor at a birthday party given in honor of her 10th birthday, Saturday, April 8. Mr. Gerald Elston will give a history of the outdoor education plan in our Plymouth schools.

Mrs. E. Evalena Williamson and Mr. James Grinenko will speak on classroom preparation that leads up to the actual camping experience. They will explain how the children raise the money to pay their expenses.

Mr. Warren Dusbiber will conduct the nomination of officers for the coming year of '61 and '62 in the P.T.A.

Flower sale plans are progressing with many willing helpers. This event is to be held at the school mall on May 19 and 20. Some of the flowers are geraniums, petunias, snap-dragons, salvia, tuberous begonias and also pepper and tomato plants. Prices will be comparable to local greenhouses.

Plan now to attend the P.T.A. meeting.

Bird P.T.A. Meets April 25

The children in Bird Elementary School will take over the April 25 P.T.A. meeting, which begins at 7:45 p.m.

Fifth and sixth grade instrumental music groups under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, and the choral reading group with Nancy Tanager, will present the program.

The new and continuing officers for next year will be installed. They are: John DeMott, president, James Warren, secretary, Doris Ritchie, treasurer, Janet Lawson, first vice president, Wilma Newton, second vice president and Marjorie Ackerman, third vice president.

This will be the closing P.T.A. meeting for the current school year.

TWO BELLES dressed for the Civil War era are Lee Philip and Linda Boon, who made dresses especially for the Civil War exhibit held last week at the Junior High School. They are shown looking at doll clothes also made by Junior High girls that depicted styles of 100 years ago.

Civil War Reviewed With Exhibits by Jr. High Pupils

Over 100 exhibits made by 300 social studies students of the Plymouth Community Junior High School depicting phases of the Civil War were on display in the school's library last Wednesday and Thursday.

the elementary schools and the Junior High. Recorded Civil War music was played as the visitors moved past the exhibits that depicted such things as battle scenes, burned-out plantations, models of boats, artillery, guns, and Ford Theatre where Lincoln was shot.

The display was viewed by some 1,200 people, most of them students in photographs taken from magazines, and drawings made by the students themselves. In one corner, guarded by several students, were relics of the Civil War that included several rifles.

Community College Meet

The first meeting of the Action Committee on the Proposed Community College met last week at Thurston High School in South Redford School District. The six-community college proposal will be brought to the polls June 12. If one of the six communities fails to approve the college the entire project will fail.

four sub-committees reported on the activity of their committees in the survey establishing the need for the college.

Joseph Crafton of Livonia, chairman of the Finance Committee told the assembly the six and a half million dollar college would cost the taxpayers no more than one mill (about $5 to $8) for building and operating.

One-third of the operating expense would come from students, one-third from State and Federal aid (both have budgeted money encouraging community colleges) and one-third from the local tax base, which, in the case of the six-district area, is the largest accumulative tax base of any of the presently established junior colleges.

Following a question and answer period the assembly broke up into individual committee meetings to elect permanent chairmen. Each school district will be responsible for "selling" their own area. Each will be responsible for getting the necessary signatures on the petition for the June 12 election.

There will be nine trustees elected on the June 12 ballot. Each school will have one representative and may have three at large.

Elected permanent chairmen of the Action Committee were Robert Zumstein and Naomi Suni as secretary from Clarenceville; Max Shnoor, chairman; Glen Kaye, secretary from Garden City; Edward Milligan, chairman, Janet Campbell, secretary-vice chairman, Livonia; Mr. Joe Anderson Graves, over-all chairman, Plymouth; Helen Hunter, chairman, Irene Naleway, secretary, Redford Union; Harold Weber, chairman, Virginia Kissell, secretary, Clarence Hutchins, Betty Morrison, vice-chairmen in South Redford.

3,200 Diseased Elms 2-24 MI

LANSING — The Michigan State Highway Department's emergency Dutch Elm tree removal program has exceeded preliminary estimates, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today. A special work crew has removed 50 percent more diseased trees than originally thought possible.

"This accelerated program should result in almost complete elimination of diseased elm trees along state roadsides in southern Michigan," he said.

The removal program began five months ago, but was given added emphasis Feb. 1 when a 67-man temporary work force was assigned to the project. The emergency program will continue for another three weeks.

Mackie said the program was concentrated on highways in 49 counties below a line from Muskegon to Bay City. Highway Department foresters say no diseased elm trees have been found north of this line.

More than 5,700 trees have been given emphasis so far, Mackie said. Of this number, about 3,200 were diseased elms. Other species located too close to state highways are being removed from a safety standpoint while others described as being "in a low state of vigor" are also being removed.

Under Genghis Khan, Mongols were forbidden to bathe or launder clothes in running water during a thunderstorm.

LANSING — The State Administrative Board has approved sale of the car ferries, City of Petoskey and City of Munising for $25,000 each.

The Petoskey will be sold to Charles E. LaHaie of Cheboygan while Edward H. Anderson of Franklin Park, Ill. will buy the Munising.

"These are the best firm offers we have received to date for these two car ferries," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie told the Ad Board. "I recommend they be accepted because costs of watchmen are high and the ferries deteriorate rapidly when not in operation."

The two ferries have been idle since Nov. 1, 1957, when the Mackinac Bridge was opened to traffic.

LaHaie was a member of a group of 16 Cheboygan men who purchased the carry ferry Straits of Mackinac for $25,000 in March of 1959 to operate as a passenger ship between Mackinac Island, Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

Anderson purchased the City of Cheboygan, also for $25,000, in 1958, for use as a potato storage facility and plans to use the Munising for the same purpose.

Only the Vacationland — queen of the ferry fleet — remains unsold. It was sold to a Detroit firm a year ago for $1.2 million and was operated as a package freight carrier between Detroit and Cleveland for several months before the firm ran into financial difficulties. The Highway Department took Vacationland back a month ago after the firm failed to meet its payments.

LANSING — The Michigan State Highway Department's emergency Dutch Elm tree removal program has exceeded preliminary estimates, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today. A special work crew has removed 50 percent more diseased trees than originally thought possible.

"This accelerated program should result in almost complete elimination of diseased elm trees along state roadsides in southern Michigan," he said.

The removal program began five months ago, but was given added emphasis Feb. 1 when a 67-man temporary work force was assigned to the project. The emergency program will continue for another three weeks.

Mackie said the program was concentrated on highways in 49 counties below a line from Muskegon to Bay City. Highway Department foresters say no diseased elm trees have been found north of this line.

Community College Meet

The first meeting of the Action Committee on the Proposed Community College met last week at Thurston High School in South Redford School District. The six-community college proposal will be brought to the polls June 12. If one of the six communities fails to approve the college the entire project will fail.

Approximately 130 members of the newly formed committee, 30 from each district, heard Harold Fischer, chairman of the Six District Executive Committee, give a brief resume of work done on the proposed college up to the present date. Chairmen of the four sub-committees reported on the activity of their committees in the survey establishing the need for the college.

Joseph Crafton of Livonia, chairman of the Finance Committee told the assembly the six and a half million dollar college would cost taxpayers no more than one mill (about $5 to $9) for building and operating.

One-third of the operating expense would come from students, one-third from State and Federal aid (both have budgeted money encouraging community colleges) and one-third from the local tax base, which, in the case of the six-district area, is the largest accumulative tax base of established junior colleges.

Following a question and answer period the assembly broke up into individual committee meetings to elect permanent chairmen. Each school district will be responsible for "selling" their own area. Each will be responsible for getting the necessary signatures on the petitions for the June 12 election by April 20, and for getting petitions for trustees filed by May 14. There will be nine trustees elected on the June 12 ballot. Each school will have one representative and may have three at large.

Elected permanent chairmen of the Action Committee were Robert Zumstein and Naomi Suni as secretary from Clarendonville; Max Shnoon, chairman; Clem Kaye, secretary from Garden City; Edward Milligan, chairman, Janet Campbell, secretary-vice-chairman, Livonia; Mr. Jo Anderson Graves, over-all chairman, Mrs. Leon Scharme, chairman, Plymouth; Helen Hunter, chairman, Irene Naleway, secretary, Redford Union; Harold Weber, chairman, Virginia Kissell, secretary, Clarence Hutchins, Betty Morrison, vice-chairman in South Redford.

Next Wednesday, April 26, the Livonia and Clarendonville committee will meet for the first session of orientating the Speakers' Bureau available to address service, school and church groups.

Beautiful and useful gifts will be presented to her from each store in the Center.

All entries will be judged on originality, thought content, and age of the writer.

Some little son or daughter will be the apple of Mama's eye cause even mothers like to be showered with presents as everybody knows (specially if she isn't celebrating another birthday).

Eric Stephenson, eight years old, of Livonia, has had an original contribution selected for publication in the May issue of Jack & Jill magazine. His story, entitled "Fog is a Cloud," was chosen from many hundreds of contributions sent in by children from all over the world.

Eric, who lives at 9911 Brookfield St., will receive a copy of the "Jack and Jill Mystery Book," a children's anthology containing some of the best serial stories that have appeared in Jack & Jill during the last 20 years. Each month the editors will award a copy of this book to the children whose work appears on the At My Desk page.

They decided to let the children tell why their Mom should reign as "Queen" and are sponsoring a Special Mother Contest.

Any child, 14 years or under, may enter as many times as he or she wishes. They must tell in 25 words or less "why Mrs. is the greatest mother in the world." There is nothing to purchase, just submit the entry at one of the Sheldon Center stores.

The deadline is Saturday, May 6 and winner will be announced the week preceding Mother's Day, May 14.

The winner and her family will be guests of the Center for dinner.

World's Largest Interchange

BRIGHTON — Construction of one of the world's largest highway interchanges is proceeding at record speed.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today it is possible the interchange, which is part of the Detroit-Muskegon and Ohio-to-Soo Freeways, will be open to traffic late this year, about 10 or 11 months ahead of schedule.

The interchange is part of the 3.5-mile Brighton by-pass. The by-pass includes five interchanges, 11 bridges and 34 ramps. The interchanges will link Interstate 96, US-23 and existing US-16.

The I-96 - US-23 interchange is believed to be the world's largest in terms of the area it will cover. It is being built on 175 acres of land and includes eight bridges and eight ramps.

Estimated cost of the by-pass and interchange is $5 million, including right-of-way and engineering.

Project Engineer Dave Miller said the by-pass and interchange is a real challenge to a surveyor.

"The surveyor is the man responsible for establishing alignment and grade of a 11 bridges, ramps and highways," Miller said. "On a job of this magnitude, he is our unsung hero."

Easter Seal Appeal Will Fall Far Short of Goal

The Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County and its sponsoring local groups are making another appeal to those interested in the maintenance of local services to crippled children and adults to send in their contributions without further delay. It now seems evident that the goal of $50,000 for the Western Wayne County area is out of reach and that a revised goal of $30,000, slightly over the response in 1959, is more realistic.

Contributions from all areas totaled $25,789.84 in 1960. As of last week, Plymouth was in second place among the Western Wayne County communities with a total donation of $2,369.12. Of this total, $705.62 came from the Lily Parade.

The total is still $343 less than last year's.

Those active in the campaign express their appreciation to those who have contributed through direct mail response, participation in the Lily Parades, school campaigns and in the canisters in business locations. Special notice is taken that many have increased the amounts of their contributions, giving hope that this may make up for those unable to respond.

Services given from the Easter Seal Center near Michigan and Middlebelt emphasize help to crippled children and adults not available through other voluntary or tax supported agencies. These include a summer Day Camp for crippled children, classes and clubs for the adult handicapped, loan equipment and aid in reaching appropriate sources of help.

Contributions may be returned in envelopes mailed throughout the area prior to Easter, or sent directly to the Easter Seal Society, Box 101, Inkster, where they will be credited to each local area.

Herald Hamill is general chairman of the Plymouth campaign. Mrs. A. D. Johanson was chairman of the Lily Parade.

Livonia still leads the campaign total with $2,981, followed by Plymouth and then Inkster-Dearborn Township, Lincoln Park, Redford Township, Allen Park, Wayne, Northville, and other communities.

Salem Hits 100% in Red Cross Drive

Ronald R. Gauch, Washtenaw Out-County Fund Drive Chairman, announced that Salem Township contributed $300.26 to the Red Cross Fund Drive. The goal for Salem Township was $300.

The announcement was made at a victory dinner held Friday, April 7, in Ann Arbor, under the sponsorship of Parke, Davis & Company. In attendance were Mrs. Cora Blunk, Mrs. Gerald Adams, the steering committee for the drive, and Red Cross officials.

Work Resumes On Soo Bridge

Construction of the Michigan approach to the $20-million International Bridge has resumed. State Highway Department Project Engineer Dan Hines said the arrival of spring has put men to work building the $4-million approach span. Half of the footings for the approach substructure were put in last fall.

Button, Button, Have You Any?

For one day, Saturday, May 20, there will be a special spring meeting in Lansing of an unusual society. It is the spring meeting of the Michigan Button Society and will be held in the Emerald Room of the Roosevelt Hotel. There will be a luncheon and a program on Michigan buttons following. If buttons have ever fascinated you and you have a sort of collection, this is the place for you. There will be women from all over the state that have made a real hobby and romance out of button collections, and, incidentally, some money too. Apparently among antique collectors' buttons have a high priority and tell tales of history even as accurately as glass or china.

Mrs. Irene Jarred, 2902 Lake Lansing Rd., Lansing 12, is accepting luncheon reservations until May 8. The luncheon which includes the afternoon program is $2.35, including tax and tip. You are asked to bring all the Michigan buttons you might have (not military). Buttons which are distinctly and typically Michigan buttons can be grouped as railroad, trolley, police, firemen, Great Lakes, steamships, industry, hotels, institutions, etc.

Some transportation lines ran through several states, so in the study will be included only those having a home office in Michigan. Many of these buttons are now obsolete as the "Michigan United Traction Co." which was used a number of years ago. Some research has already been done and brief histories of the companies using particular buttons are ready to be compiled. Much more research needs to be done. For example, the Detroit Motorbus Co. button is fairly common. "This was a private company incorporated in 1919. Double decked buses seating 48 were used. Service began on June 11, 1920, on Jefferson Ave. in Detroit." At this point information ends. How long did these buses run? In Mahala Brown's collection of the Log Cabin group is a Sanders-type button with a Michigan State seal in the center, S.H. of C. & R. around the top and with three stars around the bottom. Back-marking is Waterbury Button Co. After some research in the library, she learned that our present State House of Correction at Ionia had the name State House of Correction and Reform from 1891 to 1902 (this from Michigan manuals). Apparently this button was used on the uniform of a guard of this institution at that time.

Need Assistance With Spring Housecleaning?

Here is a thought that should be welcomed by every housewife and husband about to embark on their annual spring cleaning chores. The Volunteers of America stand ready, willing, and able to ease the burden of spring cleaning for you and at the same time offer you the chance to assist the less privileged in our community. This national social welfare organization is now launching its annual Spring Salvage Drive — a campaign aimed at helping less fortunate families of any race, creed or color.

LADY, let's face it, a bronze tan alone won't make you the belle of the beach — it's like painting a car a bright color but not removing the dents. You've got to figure in your figure too. Summer's comin' — (We can tell by the calendar) — and as a matter of being practical it's the time people see the most of you, literally speaking. Let us this year make the most of our opportunity. While you're bronze-tanning your hide, try some easy-to-do exercises. Keep your eye open. Every paper or magazine you pick up has a favorite exercise that you can do while watching "Junior" and "Jane" during the week-day. Come late afternoon, and on weekends when the men-folk wander out, relax and have fun. If you start the beach exercising during those week-day jaunts to the seaside, bet you'll start a whole new fad and others will join you. Maybe someone will even bring a record player. See you there!

Europe's white stork is so tall that when the young are two feet high, they are still babies and need their parents' care.

ALL THE BEAUTY experts agree on one thing. Bleached, dyed, tinted hair has got to be covered in the sun. More hair is damaged by exposing it to summer rays than all the other causes listed. Particularly if you have a permanent too. A cotton bandana is attractive and affords the best protection and certainly allows you to lie comfortably on the beach. The silk scarves are not adequate according to leading beauty authorities.

The International Bureau of Weights and Measures in Paris has selected a Japanese-made light bulb as the world's standard for measuring the brilliance of electric light. The bulb (the Toshiba) was selected by the bureau's advisory committee on photometry.

There are about 3,000 farms in Rhode Island that average 74 acres each, far below the national average.

Your call will bring a truck to your home and will greatly lighten your spring cleaning problems. At the same time, most of these items can be repaired and distributed to the needy. Remember: these articles which are of no value to you can mean something to an underprivileged child or a family that has lost hope.

International Ball Coming

Suburbanites seeking a new adventure in living will find it next Friday evening, April 21, when International Institute will hold its 15th Annual Gala Ball at the Latin Quarter, 3067 E. Grand Blvd.

This year's Gala, formerly known as the Folk Ball, has a completely new and unusual program arranged for some 800 dancers expected to attend.

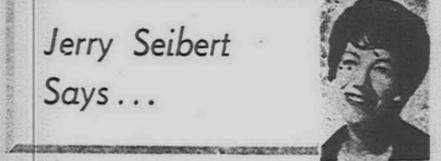

According to co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sanders, Hawaiian dancers Donald Tom and Ariene Tugab will salute our newest state with their Polynesian dances; Italian ballad singer Ilio Benvenuti will sing his folk songs of Italy, while 60 Estonian, Hungarian and Polish dancers will delight patrons with unusual folk dances of old Europe.

Program chairman, Walter C. Shamie, has also arranged performances by Belgian accordion prodigy, 15-year-old Donald DeSerrano, and pantomimist George Bonemer. From Toledo, Mrs. Bhaskaramani Chari is coming to acquaint the public with rarely seen dances of India.

Fred Crissey and his orchestra, will blend the dance music of all nationalities throughout the evening as the entire program is planned around the hospitality and friendly surroundings of a "Sunday Afternoon at the Institute."

President of International Institute, Noble D. Travis, has invited Governor and Mrs. John B. Swainson, Mayor and Mrs. Louis C. Miriani, Detroit's consular corps, city officials and other dignitaries are expected to attend.

This year's Gala Ball will be headed by general chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Willard Sanders; program chairman, Walter C. Shamie; ticket chairman, Dr. Robert B. Watson; hospitality and hostess chairman, Margaret E. Lower and admissions chairman, Kees Hooghart.

Jerry Seibert Says...

In France the saying is, "No woman is attractive until she is at least forty." Vive La France!

Even in teenage-conscious America the famous beauties are mature women. It has never been so easy for the mature woman to be attractive — even glamorous — as it is today.

Moisturizers, emollient creams and other new discoveries in biological cosmetics can give the skin more youthful qualities. Proper make-up techniques can help you be serenely ageless.

Foundation and face powder shades should match and harmonize with the skin. A darker shade will accentuate lines and hollows. Lighter shades will give a ghostly, haunting effect becoming only to lady ghosts.

Do use eye make-up. Brows and lashes fade and turn gray. Pale, straggly brows and indefinite eye outlines make the eyes look weak and faded and leave only lines and wrinkles to help give expression.

Color too-light brows softly by passing a dry eyebrow brush over the lead of a brown eyebrow pencil until it picks up color. Brush color lightly onto brows. If necessary fill in and shape brows with feathery strokes of gray or brown eyebrow pencil, or both. Never use black eyebrow pencil or mascara. It is often hard and artificial looking even for very young women.

Use brown mascara, or a soft shade to bring out the color of your eyes. Iridescent shades are more delicate than plain colors. Don't heap mascara on. Brush on lightly. Then add more. Never put it on the lower lashes. It will give an effect of raggedy holes burned in a blanket, and drag your whole face down.

Light strokes of silver or iridescent eyeshadow will give the lids an attractive, youthful shimmer.

Leave the very bright, very deep, and surrealistic colors in rouge and lipsticks to the very young who can look fresh and pretty in spite of them. Too-whitened lipsticks give a wraith-like effect best left for fading blossoms. Choose light, clear reds, roses, and pinks.

White or graying hair often develops a yellow tinge. Some women think this makes them look young and blonde. It doesn't. It looks dingy and throws ugly, hollow-looking shadows into the face.

If your hair is white or turning gray, and you want to keep it that way, there are special rinses (easily used at home) which will remove discolorations and add sparkle and shine.

Never style gray hair in small tight waves and curls, nor drooping at the sides of your face. (Theatrical make-up men create witches by letting hair dangle around the face.) Don't slick hair back in a boyish bob, nor pull it tight in a severe bun.

Emphasize loose, deep waves and upward lines. A short to medium length is most likely to be becoming and easiest to care for.

Femininity In League Bowling

If bowling is in better shape today than ever before, there's a reason: some 12 million women have taken to the lanes — housewives in daytime leagues, girls out on dates, working women on company teams. A $45 grocery clerk became a national bowling champion and earned enough to buy out the store she worked in! Besides having a lot on the ball as bowlers, the ladies add a decorative touch in fashions designed for the bowling lanes, yet appropriate for many other occasions.

The clothes are serviceable for the sport and yet sharp and fashionable enough to step out for a bite to eat following your performance as a star.

HIGH FASHION on a low budget is not only possible but easy to do with careful selection of accessories. It's easy and both homemakers and career girls can do it. By switching the shapes, textures and colors of your accessories you can turn one "classic" dress into three dramatically different outfits. This seven-picture story shows how. Act 1. For the busy morning, our girl combines severe black patent and black straw accessories, tosses in some jet and crystal beads. Presto — she's sleek and streamlined. Act 2. For the afternoon stroll, she selects a floppy felt, mixes soft leathers and suedes, adds a touch of chunky jewelry. Result: Elegantly casual. Act 3. For the evening in town, she accessorizes in gold kid and satin, frames her face in flowers. She's fragile and romantic.

Traffic Rises 25% On Freeway

LANSING — Traffic on Interstate 94 has increased nearly 25 percent since the final section of the Detroit-to-Lake Michigan Freeway was opened to traffic in December.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said a daily average of 12,800 vehicles have used the 203-mile, non-toll freeway since it was completed three months ago compared to 10,300 vehicles per day a year ago on the old route.

Mackie said I-94 is taking considerable traffic away from the Ohio and Indiana toll roads.

"This trend, the reverse of one started when the Ohio and Indiana roads were opened, will help Michigan regain millions of dollars in gas taxes lost when the toll roads were used by many motorists in preference to parallel Michigan roads," he said.

Mackie said Highway Department surveys show I-94 as a popular route for motorists entering and leaving Michigan.

"The Automobile Club of Michigan is advising use of the new freeway

THE READER Speaks Up

Dear Editor:

I would like to express a word of thanks to the Livonia Jaycees and the Department of Parks and Recreation for the sponsorship of their annual Easter Egg Hunt this year. We took our youngsters and they really had a wonderful time filling their bags with goodies. These special events for our children help to make Livonia a wonderful place to live in and will provide our children with a lovely store of memories. My hat is off to all those people who gave their time and effort for a non-commercial fun event for the children of Livonia.
