Paul, Larry Heidt, Rosemary Kubick, Barbara Haas and Lester Barton represented the nation of Cambodia at the three-day assembly. In February they even visited the Cambodian deputy ambassador at the United Nations to obtain background. Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Rawley.

Set Incorporation Vote for July 25

As was anticipated last week by Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, the Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors has set Tuesday, July 25, as the date for again deciding if a City of Plymouth Heights is wanted.

Supervisor Lindsay is a member of the Ways and Means Committee which met last Wednesday to set the date. First, they heard a report from the prosecutor's office which declared that the petition calling for the election was valid.

The July 25 election is the same date that all Michigan communities will vote on Constitutional Convention delegates.

At this election, the question will be asked if there shall be a City of Plymouth Heights. On the same ballot, there will be candidates for the nine-member charter commission.

Within two years, the charter commission must present a charter for voter approval or disapproval.

During this two years, no petitions for annexation of Township land to the City can be considered. This stalling action is the chief point of the entire proceedings. As far as is known, no group is intending to seek annexation for any Township land to the City, but those backing the petition again are using this device to make sure.

The Plymouth Heights election on Feb. 15, 1959 carried by 65 votes while the charter vote last January failed, 1,598 to 35.

Around 300 people signed the incorporation petition. The area covered in the proposed new city is the same as before — all of Plymouth Township east of McClumpha Rd.

Is New City Hall Ahead?

Area People Jump Into Con-Con Delegate Race

Names from local communities spilled into the hopper this week as candidates or possible candidates seeking election as delegate to the State Constitutional Convention.

And a host more were expected to appear prior to the deadline for filing petitions in June. The posts, to be filled in a general election following a party primary, have proved to be extremely attractive to office seekers.

The "officially announced" candidates so far are: Earl Arthur Rice, 68, of 11696 Amherst Court, Plymouth Hills; Mrs. Anne Conklin, 36, of 15809 Foch, Livonia; and Weldon O. Yeager, 16526 Shaftsbury, Detroit.

One delegate will be elected from the local State Legislative district (the 21st) and one from the State Senatorial District (the 18th). Democratic and Republican parties will run on separate slates in the primary, with the nomination going to the single high candidate on each ticket.

Rice will run for the Democrat nomination in the Senatorial district, Yeager as a Republican in the same district. Mrs. Conklin will try for the Republican nomination in the legislative district.

The primary election will be held on July 25, with the finals in the fall.

Aside from the declared candidates, many others are circulating petitions or have indicated interest. Sterling Eaton of Plymouth has been mentioned as GOP candidate in the legislative district. So has

Continue Probe Here Of Robbery-Slugging

Theft of nickel from plating companies in Ypsilanti and Warren are being checked by Plymouth police as they continue investigation of the robbery at Plymouth Plating Co. where one of the co-owners, Frank E. Henderson, was knocked unconscious.

A former mayor and widely-known in the Detroit area, Mr. Henderson was hospitalized two days from a blow struck on the side of his face.

Some 1,200 pounds of nickel were stolen late Wednesday afternoon in the daring daylight theft.

Plymouth Plating, located at Farmer and Amelia Streets, closed at 4 p.m. last Wednesday. Henderson left around 4:30 and had returned at 5:30 to turn up the voltage on a tank that was being readied for a plating process the next day.

Police believe that there were at least two and probably three men inside the plant, loading up the nickel anodes when Henderson arrived. A red stake truck was backed up to the rear door, according to workmen who were busy across the street tearing down the old Roe Lumber Co. building. But sight of trucks at the loading door are common at the building.

Henderson said he went into the building through the front overhead door. As he entered the shop area, he was struck on the side of the head. Police believe that he was hit with a fist.

Bleeding inside his mouth, the plant owner regained partial consciousness and walked across the street to the Pete Lomonaco home where he was found sitting on the back porch. Police received the call at 5:43 p.m.

Not until he reached St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor did he regain full consciousness. He could remember nothing that happened after entering the plant.

The nickel anodes were stolen from a plating tank, apparently by people who knew what they were doing, police said. The anodes measure about 30 inches long and weigh one pound per inch. They are worth $1 a pound. One was found later at Pearl day night, 190 of the anodes, worth $5,000 were taken from a firm in Warren.

Mr. Henderson has lived most of his life in Plymouth. He was on the City Commission and was mayor in 1948.

He has been president and district governor of Rotary, chancellor commander of the Knights of Pythias and active in the Masons, St. John's Episcopal Church and numerous other organizations and committees.

"HEY, LOOK at that funny car outside," is the remark heard in many households this week as eight 1906 Oldsmobile replicas are touring Plymouth and giving bags of groceries to every household. The promotion is in connection with the May 2 opening of the New Kroger store on N. Main St. Ron Bunch and Bob Kerske are shown in one of the cars loaded with groceries. The job of calling at 8,000 homes is expected to take another week.

Plymouth and the Civil War

South's Prison Camps Claimed Many Lives

(This is the third in a series of articles concerning the role that Plymouth men played in the Civil War 100 years ago.)

By Jean Campau During those memorable four years of the Civil War, Americans were exposed to all of the extremes in weather in which they lived and did battle. Marching and fighting in mud and rain, lush cornfields and rugged mountain terrain were all in a day's work for the soldiers of both sides.

And throughout those years illness was as great a killer as the enemy and every ailment plagued the combatants from the common cold and children's diseases to typhoid fever, malaria and smallpox.

Sgt. Clark Eddy of Plymouth died of typhoid fever in January 1865. Charles Burr, 24, succumbed after falling ill. Roswell B. Curtiss was 21 when he died in Harewood Hospital in Washington from diphtheria he contracted during the rain march of Oct. 28. Others from Company C that disease claimed were: John H. James, 27; Bristol A. Lee, 26; Daniel B. Stevens, 19; George W. Soper, 27; Andrew E. Mitchell, 29; and Gideon B. Siles, 22.

However, if one had the opportunity to select one's end and weighed the alternatives between being killed on the battlefield, dying of disease or life in a Confederate prison, undoubtedly the former would be the likely choice.

Today we shudder at the atrocities of German and Japanese concentration camps, but those dating back to those Civil War years were no less horrifying because they lacked the science of mechanization to reduce the rolls of their inmates. The Confederate jailers did the best they could, by simply neglecting their unfortunate charges. Food was meager and of the most rotten sort.

Alman J. Houston, of the 24th Michigan, wrote of his confinement at Belle Isle, Va. "At first we had a very small piece of meat and a cup of pea soup once a day. These were infested with black bugs in the shells and often they had eaten the entire pea out. Of such peas was our soup made, bugs and all. Often we had to scrape the bugs off the top before we could eat it."

Belle Isle was an island of about eight acres in the James River in front of Richmond. About three acres of it was a beautiful shady, grassy bluff. The other five acres were low, treeless and sandy and it was here that the 11,000 Union prisoners were kept and never allowed to seek the shelter of the trees only a few yards off in some instances. Sgt. Oscar M. Bentley, 22, Co., H., 22nd Michigan Infan-

Is a new City Hall in the City of Plymouth's future?

For the very first time, City commissioners have considered construction of a new City Hall seriously enough to include a $10,000 building fund in its budget.

The 1961-62 budget, which will be approved by the Commission at its

May 1 meeting, includes the $10,000 in an item tagged "City Hall contribution building fund."

Built in the 1880's as a combination theatre and village hall, "the building is gradually becoming cramped and inadequate," according to the budget report made to Commissioners by City Manager Albert Glassford.

The coming year's proposed budget is $598,170, which is $17,575 higher than the budget adopted a year ago. According to the manager, around $4,500 of this needed additional revenue will come from increases in assessed valuations and property assessments, while the remaining $12,730 will be realized from the City's newly-acquired share of the State-collected tax receipts. The allotment is made according to population and the 1960 federal census is applied for the first time.

According to the City Manager, "administration of the fire department should be brought back to City Hall (it is now at Fire Station No. 2 on Spring St.) and the Department of Public Works should also be under the same roof (it is in the former church building next to City Hall).

"The public finds the climbing of steps an inconvenience," the manager added. "By proper planning of finance, a bond issue in the future could be avoided."

The City Hall was constructed in 1889 at a cost of $4,519 and on a lot that cost $750. There was controversy even before it started whether it should be just for village offices, or be large enough for an entertainment center. An injunction was filed before it was finally decided to include a theater.

Where the Commission chamber is now located, was the balcony and the police department site was the stage.

NEWS BEAT

While it is over two months until Independence Day, the Jaycees are already making plans for the Community's biggest annual celebration... There will be a parade, Miss Plymouth Contest (girls should contact Joyce Crimmins, GL 3-5550, for details), a Governor's Day Dinner, horse show, games and carnival (same place as last year). The observance will run four days.

HEARING AHEAD: The Board of Education will hold a public hearing Monday, May 8 on the changing of school hours for next year. It is proposed to start Junior and Senior High School pupils at 8 a.m. and dismiss them at 3 p.m. Elementary children would start at 8:45 and dismiss around 3:45. Several parents registered disapproval several weeks ago. The May 8 meeting will be in the Junior High Library at 8 p.m.

CONCERN: Some of the young friends of the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guenther have been asking what their father is going to do now for a living, since he is no longer mayor. The former mayor, who received $5 a meeting (it's now $10), figures he earned 10 cents an hour.

MONKEYSHINES: A Pearl St. lady resident woke up one morning last week and was stunned to find a monkey looking in her bedroom window. A Holbrook Ave. housewife let the monkey in and after it started swinging across the tables, she called police while her husband captured it. Police took the animal to the veterinarian where a Schoolcraft Rd. resident later claimed it.

POLICE BEAT: That woman who had a TV set delivered several weeks ago to an apartment she was just looking at (and then didn't rent it after taking the TV) was apprehended by police. She also obtained other items by trick. After making good her purchases this week, she told police that the merchants were so eager to carry the goods out to her car that they didn't ask any questions. Wheels were reported stolen last week from the Christian Scientist Church parking lot and from a car parked on Church St. ... A collision at Evergreen and Maple Saturdays, slightly injured two ladies, Lucy Ware, 1017 Holbrook, and Ina Culver.

NAME PROBLEM: With one school now called the Plymouth Community Junior High, the Board of Education will put some thought to what to call the new junior high. At the same time, the superintendent is taking applications for the job of principal, who will probably come from the present staff.

SUCCESS: Thomas Davison, 60, Birmingham, driver of one of three cars involved in a crash April 10 at Haggerty and Ann Arbor Rd., died of injuries last week. The crash also took the life of Joy Stallings, partner in Stal-Van Wire & Metal Products Co. here. Davison had HOUSING LAG: Permits issued for new homes continued to sag in the metropolitan area during the first quarter, but the City of Plymouth, with 19 permits, was relatively high. Plymouth Township issued four permits; Northville, 7; Northville Township, 1; Canton Township, 2; Salem Township, 1; Livonia, 1, 200. The leader was Warren in Macomb County with 588.

OPEN HOUSE: Those long wanting to look inside the nearby Plymouth State Home and Training School or Northville State Hospital will have a chance next week. Northville will be open from 1 to 3:30 p.m. on Sunday and Thursday, while Plymouth State Home will be open from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday. Tours will start at 1 and 2 p.m. at the State Home.

Building Projects Coming Up

A number of new construction projects are coming up in the Plymouth area — including two service stations, two bowling alleys and a professional building.

Speedway Petroleum will build a station at Harvey and Feniman. A home on the corner is now being razed. The Building Department originally denied the permit for the station because of the lack of signatures of nearby property owners. But the firm took the matter to Circuit Court and the portion of the zoning ordinance requiring neighborhood approval was declared invalid.

A permit has also been issued to Clark Super Stations for a station on the northwest corner of S. Main and Palmer.

The fate of another service station in Plymouth Township is still undecided. The Township Planning Commission last week decided to continue its consideration of a request for re-zoning the southwest corner of Territorial and Sheldon Roads for an Ohio Oil (Marathon) Co. station. The land is now zoned for homes.

Approved for re-zoning was land on Plymouth Rd. across from Whitman & Barnes that will be occupied by a new bowling establishment, Plymouth Bowl. Township Building Inspector Howard Holmes said that he will soon issue a permit. A permit has already been issued for Lake Pointe Lanes, a bowling establishment that will go up on Schoolcraft Rd. in Lake Pointe Village.

A professional building to house a medical and dental clinic of three units will be built on Ann Arbor Rd. at Marlowe. Holmes said the estimated cost of the building will be between $30,000 and $40,000.

Bike Rodeo Re-Scheduled For Saturday

The Optimist Club Bike Rodeo was washed out last Saturday but it will be held this Saturday morning, Optimists announced.

Scheduled last week for 1 p.m., it was postponed because of rain as a few hardy cyclists showed up.

This Saturday's Rodeo will be at 10 a.m. instead of at 1 p.m., the Optimists pointed out. A new bicycle and a host of other prizes will be awarded. Boys and girls from 8 to 14 years of age are eligible to enter. Their bikes will be safety inspected and riders will then be judged on their riding skills.

Band Wins 'Excellent' In Festival

For the second time in four years, the Plymouth High School Band, directed by James Griffith, received a rating of "Excellent" at the annual State Band and Orchestra Festival, held last Saturday in Ann Arbor.

The band, competing in the highest possible classification known as "Double-A" was termed, "an exciting band" and one that "plays very musically and deserves much credit." Individual tone quality and the overall fine band sound were two other facets of the band's performance which were highly praised by the panel of four college judges.

Judges were: Professor Keith Stein of Michigan State University; Doctor Hugh McMillen from Colorado State University; Norman Dietz from Central Michigan University; and Dr. ... The individual band members will receive a distinguished red medal, and the entire band will be presented with a beautiful walnut plaque for this outstanding achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bowers

Former Plymouth Girl Marries in California

Miss June Marie Norman and William Edward Bowers repeated their wedding vows beneath a gardenia and fern entwined bridal arch at the Florence Avenue Baptist Church in Santa Fe Springs, Cal., at a March wedding ceremony.

The bride was gowned in hand clipped Chantilly lace, five tiered skirt with tiny seed pearl trimming. Her veil was fashioned in a mantilla style and was of matching Chantilly lace. The bridal bouquet consisted of orchids and gardenias. The wedding party included an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Melvin Korte of Plymouth, who was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Sue Murphy and Pamela West. They were gowned in pale blue organza carrying variegated coral carnations. Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Al Bowers. Ushers were Ronnie Beason and Carl Bowers. Reverend Woods officiated.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Rio Hondo Country Club with approximately 150 attending. A four tiered wedding cake claimed attention with its identical miniature replica of the bride and groom.

The bride and groom are in their new home in Anaheim, Cal.

June is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Norman, formerly of Plymouth and she is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Korte of Warren Rd., Plymouth.

William Bowers, the groom, is the son of Mrs. Thelma Bowers of Bell, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Charles McKenna

Sinclair-McKenna Vows Spoken at April 8 Rites

Sara Morgan Sinclair became the bride of James Charles McKenna at a 9 a.m. ceremony Saturday, April 8, at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Edith Ann McKenna, sister of the groom, attended the bride. Lawrence Wilhelm of Plymouth was best man and ushers were Patrick McKenna, the groom's brother, and William A. Hoffman of Allen Park.

A wedding breakfast at the Mayflower Hotel followed the rites.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William R. Morgan of 659 Ann St., Plymouth, and the groom's mother and father are Mr. and Mrs. James E. McKenna of 233 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

The couple returned to Ann Arbor where they are both students at the University of Michigan.

Women Form Auxiliary For State Home

George Ebling, director of community relations for the Plymouth State Home and Training School, announced that nearly 100 area women have joined to form an auxiliary for the Home. The state institution now houses some 170 mentally retarded children.

Mrs. Glenn Fraleigh of Plymouth and Mrs. Albert Spaeth and Mrs. Jonathan Goldsmith, who were responsible for its formation got the idea while doing volunteer work at the hospital.

The Auxiliary will help in three ways, by aiding the nurses in caring for the children, organizing and operating the medical library and doing general clerical and stenographical work.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hewer

The Charles Hewers Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hewer celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday April 16 with an open house at the Veterans Memorial Center. Between the hours of 3 to 7 p.m. they received approximately 300 guests who had come to honor the couple.

Welcoming visitors in the receiving line along with their parents were sons Richard from Huntsville Ala. and Robert from Garden City. Their granddaughter, Veslyn, stood with them.

Other granddaughters, Janet and Charlene, served at the table and Nancy kept the guest book. The serving table was centered with a handsome wedding cake, around which were arrangements of yellow and white roses and gold candles.

Millie B. Smith and Charles M. Hewer were married April 17, 1911 at the Boulevard Congregational Church in Detroit. They moved to Plymouth in 1920 to 8120 Canton Center Rd., where they have operated the Hewer Feed Store for many years.

The Hewers have seven grandchildren.

About one million Americans today earn their livelihood by providing goods and services for recreation.

SOME OF THE Plymouth women honoring the first lady of Michigan, Alice B. Swainson, at the 17th District Democratic Women's Luncheon and Style Show, Saturday, at Western Golf and Country Club are l. to r. (sitting) Neva Lovewell, Lila Humphries, Agnes Pauline, Camille Wimsatt, (standing) Dorothy Frank, Alice Swainson, the guest of honor, and Janie Hart.

Jean's Jottings

By Jean Campau, Woman's Editor

Though Alice Blue was the central color theme of the 17th District Democratic women's annual luncheon held this year at Western Golf and Country Club, the guest of honor, Alice Swainson, arrived in a stunning red linen suit dress.

When we inquired about her health since her recent illness, she replied she was feeling fine. Certainly she looked wonderful.

The guest list included many of the dignitaries whose names we read nearly every time we pick up the paper. Miss Mary Beck (we emphasize the 'miss' cause she is quite emphatic about it), is a truly charming person. She was wearing a Parisienne Pink straw toque hat that was every bit as sunny as her nice personality.

As a matter of fact, hats seemed to be the order of the day and they were in evidence in every hue of the spectrum and festooned with garlands of every dimension known and some not known.

We thought Agnes Pauline's hat of magenta red flowers was lovely. Sitting with Agnes at her table were Neva Lovewell, Lila Humphries and Camille Wimsatt, all of whom it was a pleasure to meet. Also there from Plymouth to honor Michigan's First Lady was Dorothy Frank and Jean Hay. Jean, incidentally, won one of the many door prizes.

The piece de resistance of the fashion show, narrated by Kim Lincoln, wife of the juvenile court judge, was a silhouette of what the well-dressed campaigner might wear. Sylvia Hart, an astute, young lady lawyer, modeled a dashing burlesque creation that brought down the house.

We particularly enjoyed the witty anecdotes Janie Hart, wife of the senator, told about Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, the matriarch of the 'Kennedy Klan.'

If you haven't already, don't fail to see Norma Cassidy's window display on the Civil War years. The items on exhibit include a Lincoln chair, a lovely old dress of the period, a powder horn, Union caps and jackets and muskets, all curios from Plymouth's contribution to that turbulent era. The artifacts shown in the shop window are the property of the Plymouth Historical Society or its members.

Dinner Program on May 9 To Initiate Organization of YMCA

A dinner and program to initiate the organization of YMCA might be of service to the community without duplicating the numerous activities of the City Recreation Department and other youth programs. At a meeting during February, a committee was formed to further explore ways the YMCA might be of service to the community without duplicating the numerous activities of the City Recreation Department and other youth programs. James N. Garber, attorney, 42289 Hammill Lane, chairman of the committee, reports that several meetings have been held, programs reviewed, and the decision made to move forward in providing opportunities for Plymouth residents to participate in "Y" programs, and that a committee of management be immediately organized.

At the May 9 meeting, to which all persons are invited, nominations for members on the committee will be presented. A program will suggest possible YMCA activities which might be started in Plymouth. Advance reservations will be necessary with tickets available from any of the following:

James Garber, GL 3-3888; Kenneth Leader, GL 3-0391; Donald Koch, GL 3-0132; Kenneth Bisbee, GL 3-2933; Donald Chapman, GL 3-5425; or Roger Blood, GL 3-1722.

The dinner is being served by the Women's Society of Christian Service, with tickets being $1.50 each.

Judge Bowles Addresses Optimist Club

Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles, once a resident of Plymouth, was guest speaker at the last meeting of the Plymouth Optimist Club held at Lofy's Arbor Lill, using the topic, "Saving Marriages."

Now serving as chairman of the marriage counseling committee, Judge Bowles emphasized that institutional charges in family life contribute to family problems. Present-day early economic independence in youth was also stressed as having an important bearing on marriage problems to follow.

He dwelled on the matter of more stability in the home, the high desirability for premarital training and marriage counseling through public and private agencies.

A large proportion of today's youth are ill-prepared for marriage and should not be mortified to approach the trained and experienced counselor before the marriage vows are spoken, the judge noted.

These counselors are always for them, not against them. In any case, there is nothing to be lost, whereas a life time of tranquility and happiness may be gained with a visit, he continued.

"And if enough of the mature elders could take enough time out to so advise the upcoming generation this would go far toward stemming the growing tide of family problems."

The Bowles family lived in Plymouth 14 years. He was appointed state labor mediator before being appointed and later elected to the Circuit Court bench. The family now lives in Grosse Pointe.

Sparkling Spring Salad Tips

'A salad to a menu is like a garden to a home; both delight the eye and refresh the spirit.'

Many centuries ago, a Roman citizen tossed salt on lettuce. He called his creation 'salad' from the Latin word 'sal', meaning salt.

One of the best ways to add sparkle to salads is to use a variety of salad greens in one salad. Besides head lettuce, use leaf lettuce, escarole, endive, romaine, spinach and watercress. For contrast in color and flavor, try using equal parts of head lettuce and one or more of the other varieties.

The darker salad vegetables give larger amounts of Vitamin A and Vitamin C than do the paler greens.

You can turn a tossed green salad into a quick and easy main dish by adding one or more protein-rich foods. A salad containing one ounce of cheese, one ounce each of silvered ham and turkey and a half of a hard-cooked egg easily meets the protein requirements for a meal.

Eight Rules of Salad Making

1. Choose a variety of salad greens, and tear them into bite-sized pieces rather than cutting them.
2. Wash and drain all greens before storing them. Be sure that greens are thoroughly dry before tossing them in a salad.
3. Chill all salad makings, including greens, canned foods, dressings, and the salad plates.
4. If you like to create the salad dressing as you make the salad, add the oil first, then the vinegar. Use about three parts oil to one part vinegar.
5. Use only enough salad dressing to lightly coat the greens — don't drown the salad.
6. Add salad dressing at the last minute. The acid and the salt will cause the greens to wilt rapidly.
7. Aim for a simple, uncluttered arrangement of the salad on the plate. Much of the appetite appeal of a salad lies in the creative touch of the person preparing the salad.
8. Never let a salad garnish hang over the edge of the salad plate. Be sure the salad plates are large enough. Too much greenery dwarfs the salad.

Summer Editor With Waa-Wu

Karla Herbold, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Herbold, 1376 W. Ann Arbor Trail, is the Public Relations Manager for Northwestern University's 30th annual Waa-Wu Show. This year's original musical revue, "Don't Make A Scene," will be presented for seven performances May 1-7 at Cahn Auditorium on the Evanston, Ill., campus.

Karla, a junior in the Medill School of Journalism, has worked with Waa-Wu as a production assistant and as Press Representative with the department she now heads. A member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Karla has held the offices of Music Chairman, Editor and Activities Chairman. While at Plymouth High (she was graduated in 1958), she was active in music and theatre. Karla was co-editor of the high school paper and has also been summer women's editor with The Mail.

Runners Start '61 With Win Over RU Fey Wins Two As Rocks Roll

Defense of Plymouth's 1960 Suburban Six League title got off on the right foot last Friday as Keith Baughman's charges bounded by Redford Union 69 1/2 to 39 1/2 in the opener.

In addition, it evened matters a little. Redford Union had inflicted one of Plymouth's two dual meet losses last season before the Rocks got going to win the championship by less than one point.

The 1961 Rocks scored their opening victory this way: Hugh Sarah won the shot-put with a heave of 42' 1 1/4". Rick Sweet was third for Plymouth. Herb Park was second in the pole vault and Gary Sciba tied for third. In the high jump, Dan Strickland 5' 4" and Chuck Bowers was third. Bowers was also third in the broad jump. Bob Steele was second in the high hurdles. Plymouth won the mile relay in 3:51.7 when Chuck Bowers, Phil West, Eric Morgeson and Dick DePencier combined efforts. Dave Fey won the 100 yard dash in 10.4 and Gary Mirto was second. John Spigarelli was second in the 440 and Rick Sweet was third. Bob Steele won the 180 yard low hurdles in 2:17 and Norm Fullerton was third. Dave Fey became the only double winner of the meet by adding a first in the 220 to his victory in the hundred. He was timed at 24.0 and Gary Mirto was second. Dave Westover was second in the 880 and Bob Winterhalter placed third. Byron Laster won the mile in 4:51.2 and Tony Hunt was second. Steele, Spigarelli, Dick Alsbro and Fey combined to win the 880 yard relay in 1:39.5. The Rocks meet at Belleville at 4 p.m. Friday here in Plymouth.

PFC William E. Stockton, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Stockton, of 41575 Joy Rd., turned in his hockey stick and returned to duty with the 488th QM Co. here in Kaiserslautern. Bill was on temporary duty with the Seventh US Army hockey team, The Trojans, for the past six months. He gave valuable assistance to the team from his slot as left defense man.

Golfers Win Two; Lose 'Tie' By One

Plymouth golfers took advantage of the first break in the weather to drive to an early 2-1 record last week. Except for one play-off hole, the Rocks would have been unbeaten.

Plymouth sliced by Thurston 170-179 in the opener at Brae-Burn Wednesday, but was jolted by Southfield at North Hills the following day. The two teams were tied 181-181 at the end of nine and played an extra hole, which Southfield won, 18-17, by one stroke.

Coach John Sandmann's charges got back on the victory trail Friday with a 178-184 win over Redford Union back home at Brae-Burn.

Del McAllister was medalist in the Trenton and Southfield encounters, shooting a 38 first and following with a Steve Hayskar took honors in the Redford Union match with a 41. McAllister was right behind with a 42 total.

Junior Phil Bender was second in the Thurston match, carding a 42, while Carl Zornow and Bill Rietz tied for third with 45 each. Tom Fletcher scored 46 and Steve Hayskar 50, but only the first four scores counted in team total.

Against Southfield, Bender returned home 46 and a new 49. Jim Izzett was third with a 43 against Redford Union and Tom Fletcher fourth for Plymouth with 52. Tom Welard, 43, led Redford Union.

Bill Kenyon with 43 led Southfield, while a lad named Caraker, who John Sandmann says lives in Lake Pointe, led Thurston with a 43, hardly a neighborly act.

The Rocks got back on the links Monday at Bentley and Steve Hayskar took honors in the Redford Union match with a 41. McAllister they'll travel to Trenton.

Achiever Company Scores Heavily in Competition

Whit-Ply, a Junior Achievement Company operating at the Plymouth Business Center, has scored heavily in Junior Achievement competition. One of their many accomplishments was to win the "Company of the Month" contest for three consecutive months—setting an all time record for the Plymouth Business Center.

In order to win this outstanding contest the company must have an overall proficiency in such categories as profit and loss statements, reports, attendance, board meetings, sales, safety and good housekeeping.

They are presently trying to win their fourth award in an all-out attempt to break their own record.

Recently Whit-Ply Co. entered the Industry Award Contest, the granddaddy of them all, competing against companies in all of southeastern Michigan. At the final judging Whit-Ply Co. was awarded second place, barely missing first place by the narrowest of margins in the most competitive contest in Junior Achievement history.

In fact, the judging was so close that their entry was sent to Cleveland, Ohio, where it will compete with Junior Achievement entries from five states and Canada.

Their products were costume jewelry and adjustable reel type extension cords. Should this company win an award in Cleveland, their entry will go to New York for final international competition.

This outstanding company has $1,592.85 in gross sales and a net profit of over $510. The Achievers operating this company are:

Ben Creech, president, Plymouth; Margie Redinger, vice-president, Bentley; Arai Grizzle, sales manager, Plymouth; Joel Barnes, production manager, Plymouth; Sharon Wesley, secretary, Plymouth; Sylvia Godwin, treasurer, Plymouth; Richard DePencier, personnel manager, Plymouth; Joyce Kollock, safety director, Plymouth; and Helena Belling, Doris Cunningham, Glenda Distler, William Henry, Esther Loskowske, Jean Schwartz, all of Plymouth; Ginny Medaugh, Barbara Parker and Judy Woods, Wayne.

Advisors are Leonard Waltz, Lloyd Baumgardner, Walter Judd, and Eugene Bros.

Another Junior Achievement company, Poly Plexo, was also awarded second place in the plastics category. Here again, the competition was so keen and close that their product was also sent to Cleveland for regional judging. The president of this company is Austin "Woody" Lynch of Bentley High who was also awarded the title of "Junior Executive," along with his treasurer, Carol Hudson of Plymouth High. The sponsor is Chevrolet Spring and Bumper of Livonia.

Kitco Junior Achievement Co., sponsored by Western Electric Co. of Plymouth was awarded an Honorable Mention in the wood category.

Fabco Junior Achievement Co., sponsored by Burroughs Corp., was awarded an Honorable Mention in the ceramics division.

Nine Rallies; But Loses 3-2

Pitcher Dick Schryer struck out 10 batters for Plymouth in the opener against Dearborn last week, but his opponent held Plymouth to two hits and struck out 12 to beat the Rocks, 3-2.

In the game at Dearborn, Schryer gave up only five hits in going the full nine innings. All five runs in the game were unearned as Plymouth committed four errors, while Dearborn bobbled three.

"It was a typical opening game," Coach Bill Brown said.

Tomorrow Plymouth will open at home with Trenton and Monday they meet Allen Park at Allen Park.

Plymouth nearly pulled the game out against Dearborn in the seventh inning. Dearborn had gone ahead, 3-0, on two runs in the first and one in the fifth.

In the seventh third baseman Pete Lomonaco was hit by a pitch. Shortstop Jim Ralston got on with a walk and then second baseman Art Nelson walked to fill the bases with none out. The next two batters were disposed of easily.

Brian Gillis, the Rock right fielder, then became a hero and got all in one play. He drove a single that scored Lomonaco and Ralston but was out trying to stretch it into a double.

The rally ended the scoring for both teams, and Dearborn was able to contain Plymouth for the rest of the game.

Good Counsel Teams Open With Losses

Our Lady of Good Counsel grade school teams opened the season Sunday on a dismal note. Both boys and girls lost.

The boys' baseball team traveled to St. Henry's, Lincoln Park, and suffered a 14-4 setback, caused mainly by the inability of the pitching staff to control the delivery. Coach Fred Crissey's main concern this season was to have been his pitchers; in his first game he saw how true this was.

Last year the Good Counsel team took the Catholic Youth Organization Inter-City division championship with 12 wins. The star of last year's team was pitcher Joseph Janicki who died in an accident at the close of the season. As yet there is no one to replace the boy.

Games to follow include:

April 30, St. Francis Cabrini, Allen Park, 1 p.m., home

May 7, St. Mel's, Dearborn, 3 p.m., away

May 14, St. Linus, Dearborn, 1 p.m., home

May 21, St. Mary Magdalene, Melvindale, 2:30 p.m., away

May 28, St. Raphael, Garden City, 1 p.m., home

(No date), St. Mary's, Wayne, 1 p.m., home

Home games are played at Haggerty Field.

The girls' softball team also suffered defeat while traveling to St. Sebastian's, Dearborn. The visitors handed the Good Counsel girls a stinging 15-2 rebuke. Coaches Frank Przeklasa and Jeff Fraser, who have taken over the reins this year for the first time, recognized the need for more consistent handling of the ball in the outfield, and have laid plans for a more intensive practice session this week.

The games to follow for the girls:

April 29, 2 p.m., home

May 9, 4 p.m., St. Joseph, Wyandotte

May 13, 2 p.m., home

May 19, 4:30 p.m., Our Lady of Grace, Dearborn

May 27, 2 p.m., home

Home games are played where the Little League played last summer.

Father-Daughter Breakfast Held

Our Lady of Good Counsel Church held its annual Father-Daughter Mass and breakfast this past Sunday. Three hundred and sixty fathers and girls joined with the celebration of the 8 a.m. Mass by singing hymns and receiving holy communion.

Father William Child offered the Mass and delivered the sermon, employing as his subject the relationship in spiritual harmony between St. Therese and her father. Breakfast followed in the church hall, where the girls were especially interested in the three professional pancake artists who fried the pancakes as swiftly as the people could be served.

Well, Saturday night's the night! Seniors are hard at work preparing for the prom — featuring the romantic setting, a "Southern Garden," an old plantation complete with magnolia trees and a pillared portico. Mint juleps anyone?

Gilbert and Sullivan's beloved characters lived again at the three Plymouth High School performances of "The Mikado" last Friday and Saturday.

The humorous and satirical story of romance and intrigue in the old Japanese empire was unfolded and brought to a happy ending by a series of lighthearted musical numbers and dances. The remarkable scenery represented a perfect setting for the fine display of talent and the truly radiant costumes.

In all, directors Robert Southgate, Fred Nelson, and James Griffith, as well as Producer Robert Stenger and all those responsible for the successful presentation of "The Mikado" are to be congratulated for such an impressive achievement under the very difficult physical circumstances existing in the gymnasium.

Jim Yost, a junior, was recently selected as a winner in the Western Wayne County Division of the Cancer Prevention Contest of the Michigan Cancer Foundation. His poster is now undergoing final judging in the Wayne County competition. Good luck, Jim!

The Pilgrim Prints celebrated the 15th anniversary of its founding in last Friday's issue. Along with pausing to look back at more than 40 awards for excellence in all fields, the staff accorded particular honors to Miss Elizabeth McDonald, a advisor since the publication of the Prints was begun. The special issue was dedicated to her, and the staff also presented her with a silver Reverebowl, in appreciation of her many years of devotion to student journalism.

The International Relations Class had one last session of a model United Nations assembly as it staged one of the auditorium during fourth hour for all interested social studies and English classes. During a General Assembly discussion and voting on a proposal to admit Red China the spectators were able to observe how the UN functions as well as the views of a representative group of 21 world countries.

This just about winds up such activities for the class, one member of which was heard to remark that a hand clapping group for leading agents, is with the company's Detroit branch office.

SPORTSEEN

By Bill Nelson

Horse racing can be a little like the Grand Canyon at sundown. It's different every time you look at it. In the canyon the sun paints wondrously changing colors on Nature's work as it sets.

In racing, a horse or a race can be colored by time. Often the common place takes on an aura of greatness in retrospect, especially if you hold a winning ticket. Sometimes a fan feels called upon to embellish a story that would be good enough without exaggeration. Rarely is an event great enough to impress without any alterations after the fact.

There was this horse. Golden Trend was suspected to be over the hill and was not given much chance in the big Michigan Mile at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia seven seasons ago.

She was in a race that dopsters said was certain to go to younger horses, which had clocked better times just prior to the race. Still, Golden Trend had a good solid record.

Some of the fans thought enough of her so that she went off at 6-1, but three others offered more inducement to the patrons, according to the tote board.

It was the usual fight for position in a large field in the early part of the race. At the halfway point Golden Trend was third, a good position from which to move. She had run a few times before.

As the leaders entered the far turn, they were bunched tight; she was still third. At the beginning of the stretch, Golden Trend made the classic, hard move—swinging to the outside to come pounding up the track.

With an eighth of a mile left, she was half a length in front and running strong. Suddenly, she appeared beaten as one of those younger breeds came from way back up the inside to sneak a head lead.

With a sixteenth of a mile left Golden Trend pulled up and nearly stopped, trailing now by a length. The crowd actually groaned. The big old horse had quit.

But no. Just as suddenly she came on again. The momentary pause was only a stop for second breath. She was alive again and bounding like no old gal should.

At the end, she had the big prize by a head with no photo necessary to prove it.

The crowd buzzed approval and racing veterans marveled at the show. The late George Krehbiel of The Detroit News said, "Son, you have seen a great horse race." It had been years since anyone had seen anything like it anywhere.

Nobody could successfully interview the horse. When she came into the winner's circle, however, it seemed Golden Trend almost smiled.

When you're in a sports contest, a rocket race or whatever, it sometimes pays to run like that. In the Michigan Mile it was worth $50,000, more or less.

Unlike the canyon's sunset, this picture hasn't changed in seven years.

Netters Nab Pair After 2nd Loss

The tennis team moved up to a 500 percentage for the season with two victories last week after dropping the second of the season's first two matches.

The Rocks whipped Taylor Center 7-0 and Fordson, 4-2, after dropping its second league encounter to Allen Park, 7-0.

Only Otto Dobas and Larry Hall were able to win a set against Allen Park, a team which Coach Jim Doyle described as "surprisingly powerful."

Dennis Smith and Dale Livingston (younger brother of Larry who used to play for Plymouth) won three of four doubles matches last week for Plymouth. Jim Jensen and Bob Smith won two of three matches in the doubles and were ahead in another against Fordson, but it was called because of darkness as Plymouth already had the match won.

Larry Hall and Otto Dobas also won two of three sets of doubles during the week.

Food Runs Out as Fathers, Sons Turn Out For Gallimore Banquet

By Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0194

The Father and Son banquet at the Gallimore School was a smash hit, according to guests and Chairman John Schroeder. The mystery of what happened to the sausage on the menu can be answered in only one way — gentlemen, next year be sure to get there early before they run out. The committee was not entirely prepared for the approximately 200 guests. The pancakes, sausages and pies disappeared in no time and then the guests settled back to what has been described as one of the best father and son get-togethers by a member of my family.

All the little guests would love to know where Roy Hewer, the magician, buys his hats with the automatic rabbit dispenser. The students of Gallimore were surprised at the appearance of the men teachers, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Alexander, performing the duties of kitchen help and waiter, with their principal, Earl Gibson, scurrying about in shirt sleeves caring for the dishwasher. All in all, it was a success and next year, fellows, don't bank on coming late and getting a full menu. The committee extends their thanks to everyone who helped put the supper across.

The family of Mrs. George Longwish wishes to thank the many wonderful friends and neighbors for their many cards, flowers and kindnesses shown the family in their time of grief. Mr. Longwish wanted to extend a special thanks to the ladies of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church for their help the preceding days and the day of the funeral.

A welcome home is extended to Airman Larry Krause, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krause of Maben Rd. Larry is visiting with his family from his duties with the Navy air station at Whiting Field, Milton, Fla. until May 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewer, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, April 16, were both happy and surprised by the turnout of friends, neighbors and relatives. It was believed approximately 300 guests joined the Hewers throughout the day to extend their congratulations.

The guests were greeted at the door by the Hewers' 18-year-old grandson, Richard Hewer, and the guests were requested, with a smile, to sign the guest register book by granddaughters Nancy and Janet Hewer, Verlyn and Charlene Hewer, granddaughters, were served refreshments. The only sad note to the occasion was the absence of Terry Hewer, 8-year-old grandson, who resides in Garden City, who came down with the mumps, but his grandparents sent out one of their many flower arrangements to brighten his day. The youngest of the Hewers' grandchildren, Michael, 2, made his appearance among the guests in the afternoon.

Mrs. Hewer said they received many beautiful and unusual flower arrangements. Among the gifts the couple received was a money tree. The Hewers had three sons. Charles passed away this past year, but on hand were Richard and his wife, Ann, from Alabama, and Bob and his wife and children from Garden City, and Charles' wife and her four daughters. The guests were not kept a way from the festivities because of the reappearance of Old Man Winter, but arrived from surrounding areas — Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Northville, Garden City and Detroit.

The Cherry Hill Methodist Church ladies were hosts to a Wrigley luncheon on Tuesday, April 25.

A date to circle on your calendar is May 3. That is the date of the mother and daughter banquet to be held at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church. We'll fill you in on details next week.

A family get-together will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley West of Ridge Rd. on Sunday, April 23. The occasion, to celebrate the birthdays of the Wests' daughter, Nancy Smith, and her husband, Andy Smith, their son Terry's birthday, and last, but not least, dad, Stan West's birthday. The guest list will include Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lent and family and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart and granddaughter, Dawn Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hargrove of Canton Center Rd. received a call last week from their son James, who is serving in the U.S. Navy stationed in Guam. Mrs. Hargrove said it was quite an experience to talk with Jim from that distance. The call came by short wave from Guam to Santa Anna, Calif., and then by telephone to Canton Township. Beaton said each time they completed their conversation they would have to say "over." Then Jim would speak. When finished he would say "over."

The phone bill you ask? Who cares. Mom and Dad enjoyed hearing from Jim at any cost. The couple is also looking forward to the wedding plans of their son Danny to Marion Mawhorter of Plymouth. The wedding is to take place in June.

Although a resident of Superior Township, the name of Mrs. "Hank" Boehmer is not unfamiliar to many Township residents. Fanny Boehmer, the former Fanny Gotts, passed away on Thursday, April 20. Mrs. Boehmer spent her childhood in Canton Township on her parents' farm.

The Boehmers resided in Dearborn for many years before they moved to Superior Township, where Mr. Boehmer worked for the Dearborn Schools and has now retired. Mrs. Boehmer is survived by her husband, Henry, son William and three grandchildren. The funeral services were held at the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth and Mrs. Boehmer will return to Canton Township to rest in the Cherry Hill Cemetery.

Tours Through Northville State Hospital Offered During National Mental Health Week

Tours through Northville State Hospital will be available for the public next week during the Observance of Mental Health Week, Sunday, April 30 through May 6.

The hospital, located at 41001 Seven Mile Rd., will have general tours for the public on the afternoons of Sunday, April 30 and Thursday, May 4.

Tours will leave continuously from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. those afternoons, with exhibits open until 5 p.m. The public will have an opportunity to visit many of the departments in action during these general tours.

Much of the effort will be devoted to outlining the many changes in treatment and care of the last several years. Doctors, social workers, occupational therapists, psychologists, barbers, beauty, laboratory, and X-ray technicians, pharmacists and food department personnel will be available to describe their work, and how their skills relate to the total treatment effort of the hospital.

As the emphasis nationally this year is upon Careers in Mental Health, many of the departments are being invited to prepare individual exhibits in one of the gymnasiums to illustrate not only their specific work, but how interested young people may prepare themselves for a career in a rapidly changing and most worthwhile field of endeavor.

Each department's exhibit in the gymnasium of the Occupational Therapy Building is being prepared to be descriptive of that department's work and responsibility. A newly opened Snack Shop will be in use on Sunday afternoon, for the convenience of visitors. Young people 14 and over may tour; a nursery will be provided for those who are younger.

For the week, invitations have been extended to high schools in the area to bring groups of students to the hospital for not only tours and a viewing of the exhibits, but a special program, with hospital practitioners in the various professions outlining and answering questions about career opportunities.

Service club members of the northwestern part of Wayne County have been invited for a luncheon on Wednesday noon, May 3, following which Philip N. Brown, M.D., superintendent, will speak on the hospital's present efforts, its problems, and its goals. A tour of selected hospital areas will follow.

OPERATING Northville State Hospital is a big business. A key punch machine has recently been installed. Ernest Berridge, 496 Irvin, Plymouth, the hospital accountant, is shown at the machine. Standing are William Hedberg of Royal McBee Co. and Joseph Gill, hospital business manager.

Joseph H. West Attends Conference

Joseph H. West of West Brothers Motors Inc., 534 Forest Ave., Plymouth, was among a group of dealers and dealership general managers from northern Ohio and lower Michigan who attended a marketing management conference in Detroit on April 20. The conference was one of a series of top level sessions scheduled throughout the nation by Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co. to review all aspects of effective dealership management.

Greetings again from the southwest corner of Livonia and sorry that we couldn't have gotten together before this. Hope you have missed the column and will remember to call me with your news.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grosjean of Newburg Road entertained the Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist Church on a recent Saturday. After a potluck supper, the Grosjeans showed pictures of their European trip.

Guests present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case, Mrs. Florence Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Halloran, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mahl, Rev. and Mrs. Roger Merrell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nyman, Mrs. Angeline Norris, Mrs. Dorothy Pringle, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson and Mrs. Arthur Trost. This class group will meet again on the second Saturday in May at the home of the Clyde Smith's on Newburg Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buxton of Wayne are proud to announce the arrival of a baby daughter, Debbie, at the Annapolis Hospital in Wayne on Thursday, April 13. The young miss weighed in at six lbs., 14 oss. Mrs. Buxton is the former Donna Howden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Howden of Joy Road.

On Sunday, April 9, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gennis and daughters, Kathy and Mary Ellen of Joy Road, visited at the home of Mrs. Gennis' mother, Mrs. Mary Watt in Mason, Mich.

The Joy Road Canasta Clan met at the home of Mrs. Stuart Flaherty on Narise Dr., Tuesday, April 18 for an evening of cards and fun. Guests present for the evening were Mrs. Claude Desmond, Mrs. Arthur Gennis, Mrs. Clifford Hocking, Mrs. Victor Deters, Mrs. William Kenner, Mrs. Raymond Peterson and Mrs. Emil LaPointe. This group is planning their annual outing on Tuesday, May 16, at which time the group will go out for dinner and then take in a show.

"Every Child in Summer Camp" is the theme for the coming year party being sponsored by the Willing Workers of Livonia. The party is being held at the Myron Beals Legion Hall on Newburg Road, Saturday, April 29 at 8 p.m. and tickets for $1.25 will be available at the door. All proceeds from this affair will help the youngsters of the Newburg Methodist Church Sunday School attend summer camp. Table prizes, door prizes and fine refreshments are being planned for your pleasure. Bring a foursome and enjoy an evening of fellowship.

The Good Neighbors of the Newburg area met at the home of Mrs. Henry Mende with Mrs. Winford Blanton and Miss Dorothy Blanton acting as co-hostesses for the evening. Present were Mrs. Stella Hocking, Mrs. Florence Peterson, Miss Esther Stottlemeyer, Mrs. Johnnie Leveck, Mrs. Margaret Desmond, Mrs. Clarice Nesbitt, Mrs. Lulu Westlake and Mrs. Eleanor Rosinski. Officers elected for the coming year were the same gals who served this past year.

They are: President, Lulu Westlake; Vice-president, Stella Hocking; Secretary, Margaret Desmond and Treasurer, Eleanor Rosinski. This group, too, is planning their annual outing to be held at Arbor-Lil's on Thursday, May 25. The members will meet at 7 p.m. for this fun evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waltz and daughters, Jennifer and Sara of Richland Ave., have returned home after spending a recent weekend visiting at the home of Mrs. Waltz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whaley in Gloucester, Ohio. They reported a fine time but that the inclement weather, snow that is, made their return trip most hazardous.

Home, too, from the sunny clime of Florida after vacationing for the past two weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beasley of Joann Ave. They chose the snowy Sunday to Caplin, local businessman and flier, Piper, Al Finney, local agent for Piper, and Paul Neff, company representative. They stand beside model No. 1 of the new Piper Cherokee.

More Small Landing Fields Needed, Says Piper

Most people who live to be 80 years old wonder what they are going to do from one day to the next. But that's no problem for William Thomas Piper who flew into Plymouth's Mettetal Airport last Thursday to show off the newest plane that his company, The Piper Aircraft Corp., is starting to turn out.

Piper Aircraft, maker of the once world-famous Piper Cub, has turned out more civilian planes than any other manufacturer. And its president, William Piper, still keeps an active hand in the plant's operation at Lock Haven, Pa. Even his three sons, vice-presidents of the company, seldom change his mind.

Eighty-year-old Piper was greeted in Plymouth by the local Piper distributor, Al Finney of Finney Aviation, along with airport operators, Bob and Marvin Mettetal, Carl Caplin, Jim Heisy of the Wayne Dispatch, and Jim Sponseller of The Plymouth Mall.

Piper landed here in his newest plane, the Cherokee, the plane that will probably take the place of the Tri-Pacer.

A man who doesn't withhold his opinions, Piper declared that every town, no matter how small, should have a landing strip, preferably on the same side of town. "We should have thousands of these small grass runways so we can set down anywhere. It wouldn't have to be anything fancy," Piper pointed out. "You could just turn over some painted bushel baskets with their bottoms painted, put up a windsock, keep the grass mowed and have a telephone handy."

He noted that until the government started paving roads, the auto industry was stifled. "The aviation industry is in the same position today."

Piper also had much to say about government regulations, which he claims are unnecessarily causing the cost of flying to increase. He declared that it is the most regulated business in the country.

Piper was 45 years old before he took his first plane ride around Bradford, Pa. He was president of a motor club and handled some small oil property holdings. C. G. Taylor owned a small factory in town and aided by local financing, started to build small planes. A friend invested $400 for Piper "before I even knew anything about it," said Piper.

Piper was soon on the board of directors. In 1930 the forerunner of the famous Cub was born. But the following year, Taylor Brothers Co. went broke and Piper was treasurer of a company without a treasury.

But rebirth of the firm took place and in 1931 22 Taylor Cubs were sold. In 1936, Taylor and Piper split and Taylor moved to Alliance, O., where he founded the Taylorcraft Corp. The remaining firm was re-named Piper Aircraft Corp. in 1936.

More than 5,000 Cubs went to work for the U.S. during World War II. Now the firm makes planes ranging from the new "compact" Piper Colt, costing $4,995 to the multi-engine Aztec at $55,000.

Over the table at lunch here Thursday, Piper admitted that he recently allowed his pilot's license to expire. "We've got so many good pilots with the company now, and they can spot airfields much further than I can," Piper declared. "That I just let someone else do the flying." Seven years ago he obtained his multi-engine pilot's rating when Piper made its first twin-engine plane.

Piper is traveling across the country to visit over 50 Piper dealers. The new Cherokee (the plane he flew here was No. 1), will be built at Vero Beach, Fla.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

10 YEARS AGO
Arriving in Washington, D.C., Monday morning will be 69 members of the Plymouth High senior class, who will view the nation's capital and watch their government in action. The group will return to Plymouth Wednesday. The chaperones on the trip will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and Mr. Walter Goodwin.

Paul Wagner will conduct the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in a musical festival on April 30. Presented by the combined choir of St. James Methodist Church, Archdale and Puritan in Northeast Detroit, the three-day festival will be supervised by Mrs. Edna O'Connor of Plymouth.

The golden wedding anniversary will be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Tuck of 622 Fishery Rd., Northville. The couple will hold an open house at their home.

Sixty dollars was stolen from the law office of W. Lee Butler sometime during the night of Thursday, April 19. Police found the cash box open and the inside doors locked. The thieves have not been discovered yet, but the police suspect that someone hid in the office when it was locked up for the night.

The Starkweather Mothers' Club reports that proceeds from their production of "Going Places," a musical, will go into their school projects fund. Members of the club state that the musical was a big success.

25 YEARS AGO
Preliminary plans for the third annual Flower Market to be held Saturday, May 16, under the auspices of the Plymouth Woman's Club are being made by the chairman, Mrs. Cass Hough, and her committee.

Soy bean seed for planting during the 1936 season will be advanced to farmers by the Ford Motor Co. The crop raised from the seed is to be sold to the company after the quantity of seed advanced has been deducted without cost to the farmer.

Whitbeck Rd., south of Plymouth Rd., which was closed last fall on account of the condition of the bridge over the Rouge River, has been reopened by the Wayne County Board of Road Commissioners following the construction of a new bridge.

The first Daughters of America rally to be held in Plymouth is planned for Friday, May 1, at the Masonic Temple. The sessions will open at 1 p.m. Fancy drills will be put on during the evening.

About $20,000 belonging to depositors in the Plymouth United Savings Bank before its reorganization is still unclaimed of the $50,000 released for payment as of March 1, 1935.

Earl Mastick was elected chairman of the Plymouth branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan at a luncheon meeting, Thursday at the Mayflower Hotel, succeeding Ernest Roe.

30 YEARS AGO
There was a fair attendance at the Gleaner Social Tuesday evening considering the hurrying time of the year. Farmers are hustling to get their cabbage in.

Word was received from our former townsman, C. H. Armstrong, of Los Angeles, that he has purchased a new Buick machine. No doubt they will make a trip east with it.

The second grade is finding great pleasure in the dramatizing of the story of the turtle and the rabbit.

All the world loves a lover, and this must be especially true of "Central," for she seems to forget to say "five minutes, please."

At the annual meeting of the W.C.T.U. held last week, one of the best arguments of the opponents of woman suffrage was sung by Master Douglas Whipple. Each verse was followed by the chorus, which ran thus to the tune of Yankee Doodle: "The women surely should not vote, because they should not vote, sir, and the reason why they should not vote, is because they should not vote, sir." It is needless to say that he brought down the house.

W. E. GOUDEY, Dearborn Iron and Specialty Foundries manager, congratulates Plymouth High senior Lester Bartson III and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bartson, 14565 Shadywood Drive, on winning the Ford Motor company Fund Scholarship, which for four years will cover all tuition and fees to any college, as well as $750 for room and board each year.

Lester Bartson Wins Ford Motor Fund Scholarship

Lester Bartson III was notified by personal telegram from Henry Ford II recently that he had received the Ford Motor Company Fund Scholarship.

Won in competition with 1,000 other children of Ford employees the scholarship was awarded on the basis of scores on the three-hour scholastic aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board, high school grades and activities, teacher recommendations, achievements,

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th Senatorial District

"Politics" has no place in the choosing of delegates to the Constitutional Convention or in the deliberation of those delegates after their election. By politics, I mean partisan politics, the kind of politics that has just about destroyed Government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Yet politicians have required that delegates be nominated and elected on a partisan basis instead of non partisan, and it is apparent that important money and great effort is to be expended by both major parties to elect delegates thoroughly indoctrinated and brain washed with "party" ideas.

A delegate must run as a Democrat or Republican, whether or not he or she accepts the partisan ideas of either political party, and become "tainted" in the minds of people, who have the responsibility of judging the candidates qualifications.

If the people of this State cannot forget "party" allegiance in the primary and general elections for once and make a determined personal effort to elect delegates dedicated to the principle that GOOD Government, in the best interests of ALL is safe, sound and equitable for everyone, they can expect little, if any, good to be derived from the Convention, which may cost the people from two to several millions of dollars.

Postmaster Wins Award for 'Superior Accomplishment'

A Superior Accomplishment Award was presented to George Timpona, Plymouth Postmaster, while he attended a meeting with other postmasters in Detroit Saturday morning. A. C. Petersch, regional director in charge of post office operations in Michigan and Illinois, presented him with a Certificate of Honorary Recognition which he issued jointly with Postmaster General J. Edward Day. The citation which Petersch read, explained that the award was based on outstanding performance in serving his patrons at minimum cost under adverse circumstances. Although confronted with serious problems caused by inadequate space for processing his mail before the new post office was available, he said that Postmaster Timpona was able to maintain a high degree of efficiency through exceptional ingenuity and foresight in planning. The dedication ceremonies conducted at the time the new post office became available were also mentioned in the citation.

The Postmaster, however, said that a great part of the credit for the success of that program was due to the excellent cooperation he received from business people in the community and from his other patrons. Peterson stated that Superior Accomplishment awards are presented as part of the Post Office Department plan for showing appreciation for employees whose contributions are above and beyond what might normally be expected from their assignment.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th Senatorial District CON CON

What qualifications should individuals have if they can reasonably be expected to serve as your delegates?

Honesty and personal integrity head the list. The ability to think and reason to logical conclusions, to suggest ideas and consider new ideas advanced by others is essential. The will to promote the best interests of ALL is indispensable.

Specialized knowledge of and practical experience in some one or more fields of human endeavor, including business, social, political, and economic, is very important.

People, with a variety of viewpoints representative of all shades of opinion, but with a sound sense of JUSTICE, are needed. The ability to speak consistently to the point and to listen with attention to the words of others is an admirable qualification.

How are you going to KNOW who have these, and many other qualifications? Yet the responsibility of choosing delegates is yours!

Americanism vs. Communism
Guarding America's liberty is a prime concern of all Americans. The danger of Communism is always with us and its philosophy never changes. Communists are constantly at work infiltrating into the fields of school, church, industry, government and wherever it will best serve their interests. This is a doctrine that proposes the abolition of private property in favor of all control being held by the state; the interests of the individual rank second to the state. Under communism there is no freedom of worship; through the spread of atheistic propaganda, churches play a minor part in the lives of the people. While we Americans, with our freedoms choose through elections who shall lead us, those living under communism are governed by a ruthless gang of hierarchy which is always battling each other for the top position as ruler. In America when the public trust placed in those elected to serve is handed over and meets with the disfavor of a substantial number, future elections would find them replaced. This is not the case under Communism, for the people must put up with all decisions of their leaders.

The amazing record held by America is the only proof needed that free people making free decisions is best for both nation and people. Under America's system of free enterprise, this country enjoys a standard of living unequalled and envied by Communists — we must guard this zealously. Each person in our way of life is free to decide where he wants to work; all are able to choose their manner of work and mode of living. In the Communist way of life, the ruling group attempts to govern even the thoughts of the people. There is no freedom of the press. All publications are slanted in such a manner as to convey only ideas they wish presented; all criticism of their political group is suppressed. Any open defiance is met with stern disapproval.

and people who make vain attempts are condemned to banishment and to greater degradation, as in the case of Pasternak — he dared not even accept honors bestowed on him because his writings were contrary to ideas felt by those in authority. Our freedom of speech and press permits us to criticize what we deem unfit; in this manner improvements and corrections are rendered.

Our government has weaknesses, but as long as we Americans — each and every one — remain alert, we have the power to see laws enacted that can overcome ineffective handling of trust. This will come about only if Americans give serious thought to all who run for office. Our leadership must be sincerely interested in saving our freedom. Many have fought and died for it; every generation must work to guard our freedom to insure that Khrushchev's statement: "The children of the present-day Americans will live in a Communist society" does not become a reality.

Terry Kot, 42036 Micol Drive, Plymouth, GL 3-5107. Plymouth Community Junior High School, Grade 9, Junior Group.

People of the world today live in a struggle between two great political forces, communism, Russia and democratic United States. What is Communism? Communism, which has been called a government, is really a secular religion. How can it be classed as a religion? In the dictionary, a religion is a group which worships a god. The Communist's god is Lenin. Lack of religious freedom is shown by the scant number of churches found in Russia.

Life under Communism is very unpleasant. Government ownership is seen everywhere. The Communists believe that all should work for the good of the state. While newspapers are plentiful, they are also government owned and operated. Although Russia has a very good educational system, the student has no choice of subjects or in later life, jobs. All of this is planned by the government.

Why then do people turn to Communism? One of the many reasons is poverty. The Communists promise wealth, jobs and plentiful food. People who are hungry listen to any offer.

The threat of communism is everywhere. In any country where poverty-stricken and uneducated people live, there is a chance for Communism to start.

The other political force, democracy, is a government in which the people rule either directly by assembly or are indirectly represented in Congress. People who have lived under both governments could tell you very quickly which is superior. When living in a democracy, you have the right to private ownership of business, which is not permitted under Communism. Freedom of speech and freedom of religion are a couple more advantages of democracy. Third and most important is the right of trial by jury. In the United States, a person is innocent until proven guilty. People living in a democracy have a sense of pity towards those under Communism. Feeling sorry for them is not enough. We must help them.

Can Communism be stopped? There are many ways in which Communism may be kept out of countries. Education of the people is one of the most important. People who are educated will not be easily taken in by false promises. Another way is to supply countries with food and clothing. The people will then need to be helped by Russia. The United States has just lately started a new program to combat Communism. President Kennedy has formed an organization called the Peace Corps. In the corps, young men and women will be sent to other countries to teach the people to read, write, plant their own food and learn a trade. This should help immensely in wiping out the threat of Communism.

While both political powers are very strong at this time, democracy, in my opinion, will win out. It will not be accomplished easily, but will take many people in all countries of the world working together. In addition it will help a great deal when the people, being taken in by Communism, wake up to the fact that they are being treated in an unhuman manner. We must wipe out Communism to survive!

Many years of theatrical study and work lie in the background of the four young Plymouth Theatre Guild people playing the leads in the coming production "Philadelphia Story," being presented May 11 through 14.

The difficult role of the cold, calculating socialite, Tracy, is proving a challenge to Elizabeth Scott Gibson, even with her stage background. Warm, vibrant Betsey is so much the opposite of her role that she has trouble staying in character. Miss Gibson, as her seventh grade Plymouth Junior High students address her, started with the Michigan State University Players, and toured with the Children's Theatre. While at State she qualified for the dramatics honorary, Theta Alpha Phi. Teaching in Flint, she directed and produced high school plays, while working with the Flint Community Theatre. Betsey has been on the PTG stage in "Ann Frank" and in "Crucible."

Opposite Betsey, as playboy socialite Dexter, is another capable Guild member, John Canon. John is also an instructor at Plymouth Junior High. Hoosier born John puts a Herb Shriner interpretation on his role of the ex-

John has a background of dramatics work at Eastern Michigan University, University of Detroit, and Dearborn Junior College, where he, too, made the dramatics honor roll. John appeared in the last PTG play, "Inherit the Wind."

Wise-cracking, humorous, cynical reporter Mike was a role Director Al Murdock had difficulty in casting. Finally he found a refugee from California, Carl Skip Lucas. Skip had worked with the nearby Garden City Footlighters for several years, appearing in "Hasty Heart," "The Bat," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "My Three Angels," besides doing set design and construction work. Skip tried the Hermosa Beach Players for one season, and came back to join the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

The second feminine lead, photographer Liz, is being done by a Guild veteran, Mrs. Hal Young. Loretta is remembered for her work as producer in such PTG hits as "Teahouse," and "Mr. Roberts," as well as lead roles in "Desk Set" and "Bell, Book and Candle."

Mrs. Young is a member of the Guild Board of Governors and is its secretary. She comes from a talented family, husband Hal being known for his directing ability, while daughter Janet was onstage in "Crucible" and "Inherit the Wind."

Director Al Murdock feels he is fortunate in having this talented group of leads. "Usually," Director Al explained, "in community theatre one or more of the important roles go to newcomers. The director then must spend extra time with these

Speakers Luncheon To Follow Northville Town Hall Series

The Northville Town Hall Series committee with Plymouth members, Mrs. R. D. Willoughby and Mrs. Harry N. Deyo announced rapid completion of plans and arrangements for the fall and winter lecture series.

The Speakers Luncheon will be held at Lofy's Arbor-Lill in Plymouth with space for 350. Mrs. Frank W. Angle, co-chairman states, "Since the Northville P & A Theatre holds 600, luncheon reservations will be made on a first-come, first served basis and tickets will be sold at the theatre."

Mrs. Claude A. Crusoe, noted that the Sponsor-Patron Drive was virtually completed, while Mrs. George W. Kohns, Ticket Chairman said that requests for season tickets were being made even though the sale does not start until May 5. "We are particularly pleased to have many requests from Plymouth, Novi, Farmington, Livonia and South Lyons," Mrs. Kohns said.

Mrs. Robert M. Rahaley, chairman of the committee, said that the choice of speakers has been widely approved. "With well known speakers covering literature, world affairs and women's fashions, we feel that we have a balanced, timely and informative program. John Mason Brown, Editor at Large of the Saturday Review of Literature and Bennett Cerf, Publisher, Author and Television Panelist, contribute expert and interesting views on literature. Anthony Wedgewood Benn, Member of Parliament of Great Britain and foreign policy authority, with Ian Ross MacFarlane, a newspaper man whose wide travels have made him an authority on foreign countries, especially Africa, offer us current information on world affairs. Madame Ginette Spanier, Directress of the world famous "House of Balmain" provides us with news and information on top Paris fashions and the people she has met."

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18th Senatorial District

We, you and I, each registered voter have a serious problem. The State is going to spend a huge sum of money to have 144 delegates to a Constitutional Convention consider ways and means of revising the basic law. It is generally conceded that no genuine, good purpose will be served, the money and effort will be wasted, unless properly qualified delegates are found and elected.

The problem: How to find the best qualified individual, able and willing to serve, and how can such an individual prove his qualifications to the people?

Many individuals, like myself, with sincere desire to serve the best interests of the people - not the selfish interests of any political or economic group - may step forward to answer the call and submit to examination, but without any political machine or influence to get the required signatures on nominating petitions and means whereby voters could size up candidates, how are the best qualified delegates to be selected?

Will anyone offer suggestions?

4-H Annual Achievement Day Scored Many Blue Ribbons

4-H's Northwest District held their annual Achievement Day for completed winter projects on Saturday, April 22, at Plymouth Junior High School. Denton, Sheldon, Wayne, and Plymouth were represented.

Exhibits in clothing, cooking, knitting, personal improvement, home improvement, health improvement, wood handicraft, leathercraft, child care and first aid were on display. When the projects were judged, blue ribbons predominated.

Mrs. Campbell and Miss Birch's five "Peppy 4-H'ers", Mrs. Hawk and Mrs. Spigarelli's five "Plymouth Clovers", Mrs. Moyer's and Mrs. Bosman's two "Spoon and Spoolers", Mrs. Fehlig, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Erdelyi's 14 "Young Pioneers", Mrs. Chaudoin's four "Get Getters", Mrs. Reddeman, Mrs. Luefing and Mrs. Conant's 16 "Mighty 4-H'ers", and Mrs. Williams' four "Cloverettes" participated. All of the girls were in the clothing competitions and some in baking and knitting, as well as a few boys in leathercraft and one boy in electrical.

Earl Threadgould was master of ceremonies at the evening program. Mr. Wesley Kaiser of the Plymouth School Board welcomed the 4-H'ers and their parents and friends. Pat Variot, Carolyn Korte and JoAnne Jarrett narrated the dress revue as 30 girls modeled their outfits in the room on the stage where Diane Baker sat and talked about and explained 4-H to Joanie Variot and Rita Foeg. Twelve acts performed in the fun festival. Winners of the fun festival were Susan Hawk and Gretchen Steiner with a vocal novelty; Nancy Spigarelli with a toe ballet; JoAnne Jarrett of Sheldon with a piano solo; and a group of nine girls from Wayne's "In and Outers" with a vocal and instrumental act "We're for club work."

Mrs. Barber, our new Extension County Agent, announced the names of the girls who will participate in the Countywide Dress Review on May 19 at the Ford Auditorium in Dearborn. Girls selected from the Plymouth area are: Deborah Harris, Janet McMully, Kathie Williams, Marilyn Norman, Mary Foeg, Christine McMullen, Betty Ann Erdelyi, Luana Gendreau, Karen Esch, Cathie Rashiri, Catherine Foeg, Cynthia Conant, Sherada Erdelyi, Julie Lent, Linda Luefing, Susan Brinks and Pat Downing.

Mr. Anderson of the Patchen School in Wayne accompanied the song leaders, Mary Long, Shirley Rakocz, Irene Greenfield, Betty Jean Kelly and Geraldine Ciesielski in the group singing. Mr. Paulson, our county 4-H agent, presented a safety award to Mrs. Rokocz of Wayne for her leadership in the club. A large group of parents, friends and visitors viewed the grand show of these young people.

Raymond Spigarelli

Army 2d Lt. Raymond F. Spigarelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Frank Spigarelli, 1237 Beck Rd., completed the 30-week artillery officer basic course April 14 at The Artillery and Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla.

The course, designed for newly-commissioned officers, trained Lt. Spigarelli in communications, artillery transport, missiles, tactics and target acquisition.

The school, which has as its motto, "skill is better than luck," emphasizes leadership and the practical application of field artillery tactics and techniques in the employment of artillery mortars, conventional cannon, free rockets and guided missiles.

The 22-year-old officer was graduated from Plymouth High School in 1956 and from Michigan State University, East Lansing, in 1960.

Starting a new lawn this spring?

1. Don't worry about poor soil. You don't need to go to the trouble and expense of bringing in topsoil. Any soil - even subsoil - can give a satisfying lawn with regular feedings of Scotts protein-building TURF BUILDER®.
2. Don't be taken in by seed "bargains." You want a good lawn, not a hayfield. Cheap mixtures contain wild grasses that will plague you for the life of your lawn. Scotts seed is all good grass, perennial and weed-free.
3. Don't plant the wrong kind of lawn. Be realistic. If you need a lawn that stands up to the punishment of children and weather, choose Scotts PLAY seed. If appearance is paramount, Scotts FAMILY® or CLASSIC®.

PITTSBURGH PAINTS

City Supervisor To Fight Equalization

The City representative to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Arch Vallier, will register a protest Friday to the proposed equalization of the City's tax assessment.

During the past two years, the City has protested equalizations set by the County Board of Taxation and both times it has reached the State Supreme Court.

Two years ago the City withdrew the protest before the Supreme Court gave it consideration and last year the Supreme Court denied the petition to hear the case.

Nevertheless, the City's protests may have had some effect because the proposed equalization that will come before supervisors Friday is considerably less than last year's.

Last year the equalization figure was $3,400,000. This year it is proposed to drop to $2,028,120. (Equalization is the figure that tax officials add to the assessment rolls which they feel brings it up to assessments on like property in other communities.)

The City Commission told Vallier at Monday night's Commission meeting that although there will be a decrease in the equalization, he should again make a protest and attempt to gain support from other supervisors. The Commission points out that despite a declaration from the State Tax Commission requiring personal property to be assessed at almost the same figure as real property, Wayne County is continuing to assess personal property some 30 per cent higher.

THESE THREE High School teachers will be studying this summer under awards offered by the National Defense Education Act. From left are Mrs. Marguerite Bromley, who will study in France, Fred P. Meier, chemistry teacher, and Bryan Boring, mathematics teacher.

Three PHS Teachers Win Defense Act Awards

Three Plymouth High School teachers have been awarded National Defense Education Act scholarships and will be attending summer courses. They are Bryan Boring, Fred P. Meier and Mrs. Marguerite Bromley. It is very unusual to have this many from one school.

Mrs. Bromley, French teacher, will leave New York June 19 for a six-day visit to Paris and then will travel with her group of 80 to the University at Tours for intensive study in culture, linguistics and methodology.

There will be visits to literary, artistic and historical monuments as well as opportunities to hear and talk with French leaders in various fields.

The last eight days of the institute will be devoted to a conducted tour of Languedoc, the Rhone Valley, Burgundy, Champagne and the Ile-de-France. The group will return to New York Aug. 21.

The institute is being conducted by the University of Oregon. It is limited to secondary teachers of French who have completed, with a distinguished record, the program at a first level institute in 1959 or 1960.

Fred Meier, chemistry teacher at Plymouth High, has been awarded a six-week institute to study at the chemical bond approach at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind. The institute is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

The chemical bond approach is a new approach to the teaching of chemistry in order to improve this subject. A teacher attending the institute should be equipped to teach the new approach, both in lecture and in laboratory. Part of the time will be spent hearing lectures, part in discussion and part in building structural models.

Dates for the institute are June 26 to Aug. 5. Meier attended another institute at the U of M in 1958-59. At the end of this period he was awarded a master of science teaching degree. He also has a master in education degree from Ball State Teachers College and a B.S. degree from Purdue.

Bryan Boring is a mathematics teacher at Plymouth High. He will be attending a summer institute in mathematics sponsored by the National Science Foundation, at Oberlin College. It will be an eight-week course. This will be his second such course.

Vincea Angeline Battle

Resident Is Named Flight Stewardess

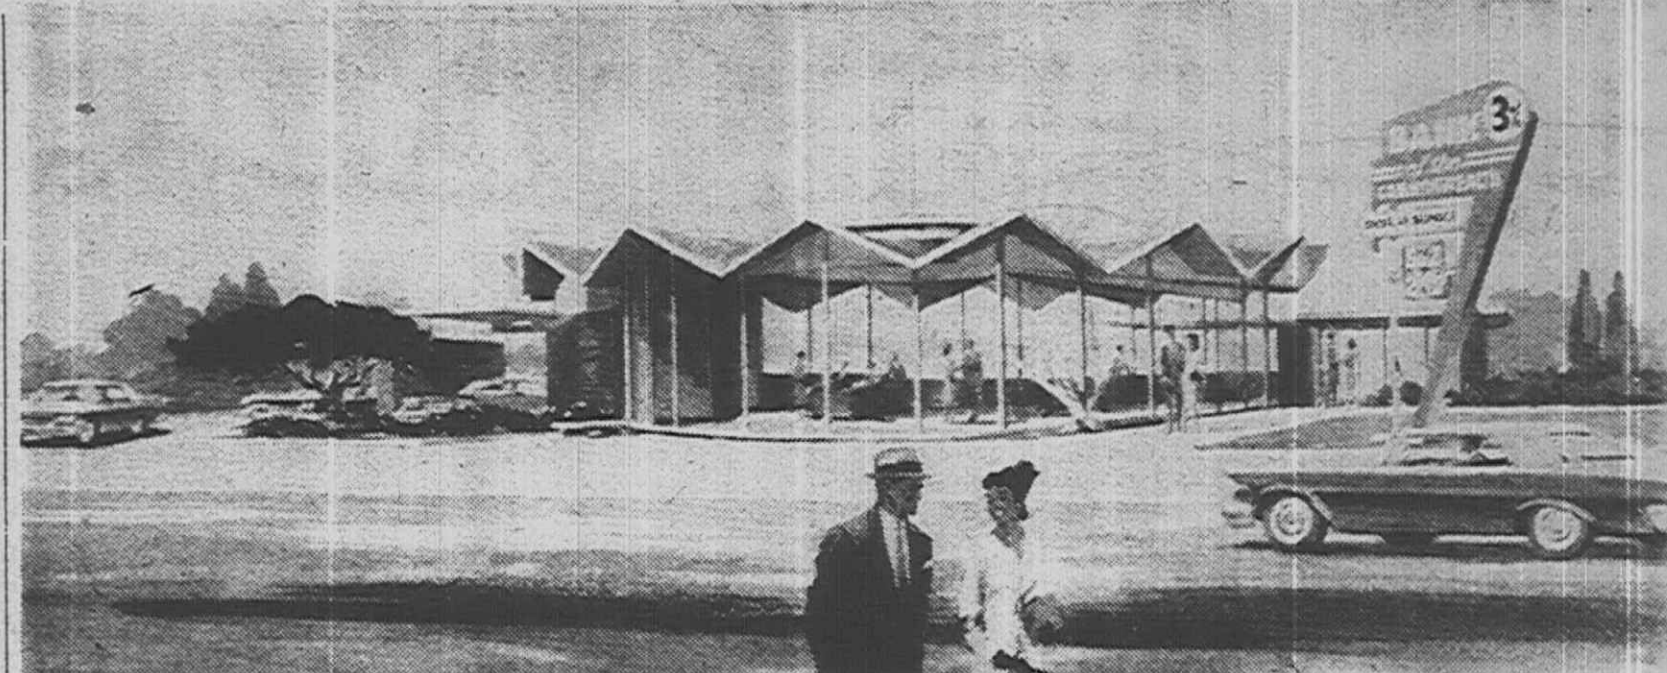

Miss Vincea Angeline Battle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Battle of 15265 Beck Rd., has completed her training for the position of flight stewardess with Pan American World Airways. Wearing her new "wings," Miss Battle will fly Pan Am's clippers on the international airline's route to Europe, Africa, Asia, the Pacific Islands, and the U. S. West Coast.

Miss Battle studied first aid, obstetrics, aerial cooking, dietetics, child care, passenger service, aerodynamics, and meteorology during her five-week training course at Pan American's Overseas Division headquarters at New York International Airport (Idlewild).

Based in New York City, she will fly a maximum of 70 hours per month to cities as far away as Johannesburg, Helsinki, and Hong Kong. Other cities she will visit include London, Paris, Rome, Frankfurt, Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Lisbon, Istanbul, Beirut, Karachi, New Delhi, Bangkok, Tokyo, Sydney, Manila, Honolulu, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Ypsilanti State Hospital Opens Doors Sunday

'Operation Friendship' gets underway, Sunday, April 30, when the staff of the Ypsilanti State Hospital will again host on this General Open House and Public Officials Day. The hospital services all of Wayne County and five other surrounding counties.

On General Open House and Public Officials Day, tours through the hospital and of the grounds will be conducted between the hours of 1 and 3:30 p.m. Since children under 14 years of age are not allowed to tour the hospital, care for children under 14 will be provided and supervised by the Nursing and Recreation Departments.

Part of the program will consist of a panel discussion presented to public officials from 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. in the Administration Building Staff Room.

Bank of Commonwealth Ready In Garden City

The new, modernistic bank office of the Commonwealth at West Warren and Middlebelt will be opened formally at 10 a.m. on May 1.

Unique in design and arrangement, the new Garden City Bank office enjoys full visibility through its construction of glass, stainless steel and aluminum. It is of circular design, with an attractive entrance to the large main lobby where patrons have convenient access to the tellers' stations, the manager's office, the safe deposit vault and several customer rooms.

Two drive-in tellers' windows will provide convenient banking for motorists. The large, multi-acre site has branches from both Middlebelt and West Warren. It will provide paved parking for a hundred or more cars.

Open House hours on Monday, May 1, have been arranged from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. with music and souvenirs for visitors. Several bank staff members will serve as hostesses, and principal officers of the bank will be at the new branch to welcome customers and friends.

The Garden City Office is headed by Michael Gaujanian, who was named manager when the site was purchased early last year. For nearly twelve months banking facilities have been provided in a mobile unit, while the new building has been under construction.

Gaujanian has been associated with Bank of the Commonwealth since 1953. From 1957 until last summer, Mr. George Merrill is the assistant manager. He has been with the bank since mid-1959. Gaujanian was the manager of the bank's Stockyards Office on Detroit's west side. He is married and has two children. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Nankin Township and several other civic and banking groups.

Donald Heinonen

Named to Detroit Mutual Position

Donald G. Heinonen, Farmington, has been appointed manager of the Ordinary Life Sales Division of Detroit Mutual Insurance Co. He will make his headquarters in the new home office building of the company now under construction in Plymouth.

Heinonen, who is a member of Detroit Life Underwriters, began his career in insurance in 1946 with Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. In 1948, he joined Equitable Life as a salesman and won many company honors, including "Man of the Year" in 1949. He was appointed assistant agency manager in 1953, and among his accomplishments was the development of four "Million Dollar" Club members and one $4,000,000 "Group Millionaire."

Heinonen joins Detroit Mutual immediately, to facilitate the company's expansion in the Ordinary Life field.

Ann St. Paving Project Okayed, Harvey Tabled

One proposed paving project was approved and another was tabled at the City Commission meeting Monday night to hold public hearings.

Approved was the recapping of Ann St. Several citizens were at the meeting, but none objected to the project. The recapping will cost $1 per front foot. Half payment can be made 30 days after completion of the job and the other half one year later. The job will take place this summer.

Before questions were raised about the recapping of Harvey St., from Ann Arbor Trail to Wing, it was announced that the Commission had decided to table this project, mainly because they didn't want to spend money for this project which felt that the resurfacing wasn't necessary this year.

In other business, Mayor Robert Sincok appointed nine men to a "Plymouth Tomorrow" committee that will attempt to promote and explain the City's urban renewal project along Mill St. Such a committee is required by the federal government before they will participate in the urban renewal program here.

Appointed were Ralph J. Lorenz, Edwin Schrader, Wendell Lent, Robert E. F. Hour, James Taylor, Robert Willoughby, John Gilles, Jr., George Lawton and Frank Lodge.

Is New City Hall?

But permanent paving is not recommended until full settlement of fill over the sanitary sewer construction is accomplished.

The new budget also proposes purchase of a new section of portable band stand, adding to the section bought this past year.

A public budget hearing was held Monday night but there were no comments from the audience.

When the Penniman-Allen Theatre was opened in 1918, entertainment shifted there and the Village Hall, through numerous conversions, was gradually converted to its present state.

The City already has acquired properties on all three sides of the main building. Just how long it would take to build up enough money in the fund to finance a new City Hall hasn't been figured out. "But we've got to start some time," one commissioner noted.

Looking at other aspects of the proposed budget, the cost of general government will go up around $800. A new voting machine is proposed. No salary increases are included, except for those entitled to merit increases.

In public works, the manager recommends that a program of curb and gutter installation be undertaken in the south end of the City to obtain proper street drainage.

Area

Richard Morell and Justice of the Peace John Ambrose and Mrs. Virginia Crawford, all of Redford Township, City attorney Rodney Kropp of Livonia is thinking of challenging for the GOP nomination in the legislative district.

William Rogell, the Detroit councilman, has been mentioned to run in the senatorial district. Chester Beadle of Redford Township, a brother of State Representative Harvey Beadle (but a Republican, whereas Harvey is a Democrat), probably will run in the legislative district.

Mrs. Conklin, first woman in the race locally, was raised and educated in New England and moved to Livonia 14 years ago. She is the mother of three children, a charter member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and has been well known and active in professional Republican quarters for many years. She has served as President of the GOP Women's Club of Livonia, as executive secretary of the 17th District, member of the State Central Committee, and was alternate delegate to the National Convention in 1950.

Rice moved to Plymouth six years ago and is semi-retired proprietor of Detroit Abrasives Company. He was born in Grand Rapids, raised on a farm, and graduated from Ionia High School. He established his own business in 1924. He has no previous political experience as a candidate. He is married, with one daughter, the latter the mother of two grandchildren. Yeager is familiar as twice having been the GOP candidate for State Senate from this district. He is married, has two children, and operates the Yeager Employment Agency. He is a member of the State Central Committee.

Historical Museum Need Outlined for Leaders

A historical museum for Plymouth was the goal outlined by the Plymouth Historical Society Monday night as they played host to representatives of the City, Township, School District, Chamber of Commerce and service clubs.

The society has in its possession many historical items associated with Plymouth's past, and many more items could be obtained if an adequate place for storing or

South's Prison Camps

The men were forced to sleep on the bare floors. There was no heat provided and many of the windows were broken. The guards were under strict orders to fire on anyone going within three feet of the windows and so there were no attempts to plug the holes. For each inmate shot thusly, the guards were given a furlough.

Still, all things considered, they were better off than most captives of the Confederacy, for they did have a roof over their heads.

Salisbury Prison, in North Carolina, was a large cotton factory flanked by a few tenement houses set up two or three feet from the ground on posts. It was under these houses that the men crowded like animals to sleep.

Each prison always had a "dead house" which was usually full, and the bodies of the men were piled one on top of the other. When their companions would carry a dead to this building, they would often fight over the vermin-infested clothes of the departed to augment their own ragged apparel. No clothes were ever issued to the inmates of any Southern prison.

As impossible as each of these internment points were, none was as unspeakably evil as Andersonville Prison in Georgia.

Andersonville was in scope about 36 acres, six of which were swamp. It was in this area that the men were confined by a double wall of very high stockade fence. The inner wall was known as the dead line. Many inmates nearly insane from hardship and privation deliberately crossed the line for the merciful release of a bullet.

Guards were stationed on an elevated walk high over the heads of the prisoners. The stockade was 106 rods long by 48 rods wide and into this pen were thrown 1,000 men to the acre, without shelter and exposed to burning sun and cold rains. Many of the soldier prisoners dug burrows to live and sleep in until they filled with rain and forced the men to locate elsewhere. Others of the more fortunate made crude lean-to's of ragged blankets and bits of clothing.

There were dense forests outside of the enclosure but the prisoners were never permitted to leave to gather the wood that would have eased their unhappy plight.

Many attempted escape, but a corps of bloodhounds soon tracked the hapless refugee and either tore him to shreds on the spot or the guards brought back the broken man to this devil's device.

In either case, the officials of the Andersonville stockade prided themselves that none ever escaped. The only way showing them could be obtained, according to Ernest Henry, chairman of the Museum Building Committee.

Speaking following the dinner served at the Round Table Club was Solen Weeks, director of the Michigan Historical Museum in Lansing. Weeks noted that there are 108 museums in Michigan with 76 of them historical museums. The prime purpose of museums is educational.

"They must not be dust-covered collections of historical items, but must be well-displayed, story-telling displays that hold interest."

Weeks said that museums usually receive their support from citizens, historical societies, rich benefactors, boards of education or through admission charges. Only large museums visited by tourists are able to charge admission, he noted.

Henry said later in the meeting that a museum would be staffed with personnel from the society and it would probably be open several hours a day, five days a week.

There is much demand from school children, he said, for information about Plymouth's history, but very little is available.

No commitments were made at the meeting from the visitors. Instead, the Historical Society is asking that clubs and governmental agencies give the matter some thought.

Frank Henderson is president of the Historical Society.

Local Central Michigan Alumni Going to Meeting

Metropolitan Detroit Alumni of Central Michigan University, including some from Plymouth, will meet at McGregor Center, Wayne State University, for dinner at 6:30 on April 27.

Terrance Bannan, principal of Tappan Intermediate School, will introduce the master of ceremonies, Dr. Woodward Smith, vice-president of public services, known to alumni as "Woody."

N. C. Bove, CMU vice-president, business and finance, will take the audience on a pictorial trip around the campus pointing out improvements and new buildings completed in recent years.

Carlo Barberi, assistant superintendent of schools of Mt. Pleasant, and president of Central's Alumni Association, will tell of the recent tremendous growth of alumni activities.

Principal speaker of the evening will be Dr. Judson W. Foust, president of Central Michigan University.

Among those expected to attend from this area are Mrs. Richard Wernette, R. B. Allenbaugh, Mrs. Rose Brown, Mrs. Cecile R. Gordon, William McAllister, Jack P. McCallum, Elizabeth McDonald, John J. Ort, Gladys O. Robinson, Mrs. Hamilton Searfoss, Mrs. Nancy E. Tanager and Mrs. Alexander Simms.

Several other popular faculty members will also be at the dinner, including Miss Frances Martin, J. P. Carey, Grace Ryan, Wilbur Moore, Nikoline Bye, Adah Clayton and Don Carr.

Alumni of all classes are urged to be present and renew old acquaintances and make new friends.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Ann Marie Packard

Ann Marie Packard, wife of the well-known local horticulturalist, Don D. Packard, now in semi-retirement, is in her fourth year as fourth grade teacher at Gallimore School.

Mrs. Packard started out as Ann Marie Schatz in Berlin Heights, Ohio, daughter of John and Alice, a farm couple who had three other daughters and a son. Both parents are now deceased. Brother Lawrence is an electrician and the sisters are all homemakers.

Following her graduation from high school in Berlin Heights, Mrs. Packard received a scholarship from the local Women's Club for her first year in college. As a member of the church choir and also a good student they realized that she was a fine teacher material, so she was sent to Detroit Teachers College for one year.

Since teaching positions were quite scarce she found a job as assistant librarian in Milan, Ohio, where she worked for one year and went back to Teachers College for another year of school. This time she succeeded in getting a position as a teacher in Coopers Corners, just a stone's throw from the Packard family residence on Territorial Rd. She taught there for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Packard have five children, one an adopted daughter. Three of the children are married and have provided six wonderful grandchildren, "all dear and precious." Barbara Mollenkopf lives in Newark, Calif., Robert lives in Garden City, but Thelma Butterfield and Lois still live in the Plymouth area. Dennis, the tenth grader at Plymouth High School, is at home.

As the children grew up and began to go to school, Mrs. Packard had the urge to go back to college to finish up her bachelor's degree, which she did at Eastern Michigan University. Now she has part of her master's degree behind her and is still working at it.

Going back to school soon made her realize that she wanted to get back into the classroom, so she began substituting in the Plymouth schools. Six years of this and now she is a full time fourth grade teacher.

She has taken part in many community projects: The Cancer Smoking Survey kept her busy for three years, and during the early War II years in the early 1940's she did Red Cross canteen service for another three or more years. When the St. Mary Hospital Guild was formed, again she offered her services and took an active part.

Many years before this she did Christian education work through Union College in Schenectady, N. Y.

She has been an active member of the Plymouth Education Assn. Last year she was the recording secretary and this year has been the building representative for Gallimore School. In addition she holds membership in the Michigan Education Assn. and the National Education Assn.

Mrs. Packer has traveled considerably. She has visited the New England states, Mexico, California, Yellowstone, Rocky Mountain National Park, and with her husband and family spent two winters living in a house trailer in Arizona from 1946 to 1948. Two years ago the Packards put in a large swimming pool in their yard at 47380 Territorial Rd. and it is the center of activity for all family gatherings each summer. Having grown up near Lake Erie, Mrs. Packard has always enjoyed swimming. Her other hobbies include music, photography, reading, sewing and, with a horticulturist for a husband, it is understandable that gardening holds an important place.

'Philadelphia Story' Leads Given Experienced Talent

Casting has been completed for "Philadelphia Story," Director Al Muddock has announced. The Plymouth Theatre Guild production will be presented May 11, 12, 13 and 14.

"Philadelphia Story" is a light, bright comedy set in society doings and centered around young socialite Tracy Lord. Tracy (Betsey Gibson) is about to be married to staid conservative George (Bill Moore). However, the arrival of a reporter-photographer team, Mike (Skip Lucas) and Liz (Loretta Young), points up her doubts about the wedding. Then her ex-flame, Dexter (John Cannon) returns, and Tracy vacillates between the two.

Humorous touches are provided by Uncle Willie (George Hudson) and playboy father, Seth (Matt Fortney). Sparking the interplay is star-struck sister, Dinah (Hollis Haynes) and sarcastic brother Sandy (Nick Carpenter).

Strong supporting roles are those of Mrs. Lord (Effie Kuisel), Butler Thomas (Larry Schendel), Elsie (Petra Schneider), Mac (Bill Kamen), May (Margie Murawski) and Reverend Parsons (John Glanz).

Starkweather Safety Patroller Selected for Capital Trip

Terry Petty, 11, of 289 E. Pearl, will join a small army of white-belted safety patrolers from Michigan converging on Washington, D.C. in two weeks.

Terry, of the Starkweather School safety patrol, has been named to represent Plymouth at the 25th Anniversary of the National AAA Safety Patrol Rally, May 11-14. He will be among 115 outstanding patrolers from schools throughout the state going on the four-day, all-expense trip.

Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety and traffic director, cited the effectiveness of school safety patrols.

"Since the patrol program was launched in 1922," he said, "the traffic death rate of children in the 5-to-14 age group has been cut in half, while the death rate of other age groups has nearly doubled. Safety patrols undoubtedly have played a major role in this reduction."

Joining the youngsters on their trip this year will be one of the state's oldest patrol teacher-sponsors, Robert Metzger, a teacher at Trinity Lutheran School in Wyandotte. In addition to his regular teaching duties, Metzger has supervised the operation of school safety patrols for 33 consecutive years.

Sister Mary Ewaldine, of St. Isidore School in Grand Rapids, holds the Michigan record for continuous years of patrol supervision, 38. Illness prevents her from attending the Washington rally. She was honored by Auto Club in special ceremonies in Grand Rapids Tuesday (April 25).

The Michigan delegation will entrain for Washington from Detroit's Michigan Central Depot aboard private cars of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad on Thursday, May 11.

On Friday the group will tour famous national historic sites, including Arlington Cemetery and the Capitol Building, and in the evening meet Michigan Congressmen at a special dinner.

The rally will reach a climax Saturday morning when the Michigan patrolers join more than 30,000 of their fellows for the Silver Jubilee parade down Constitution Ave.

The Michigan group will return to Detroit on Sunday morning. Two registered nurses and Auto Club safety consultants will accompany the youngsters on their trip.

MEN IN SERVICE

Marvin Robertson

Marvin Robertson, 1097 Hartsough, Plymouth is spending leave with his parents. After the leave period young Robertson will report to the Naval Training Station in New York for further transfer to Bremerhaven, Germany for duty.

Marvin enlisted in the Navy at Northville July 5, 1960 and completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

After recruit training, he was sent to Communications Technician School at Imperial Beach, Calif., for 22 weeks. Upon completion of this school, he was assigned to the Communication base at Bremerhaven, Germany.

Before enlisting in the Navy, Marvin attended the Plymouth Schools.

Achievers Win 'Junior Executive' Title

Five Junior Achievers from the Plymouth Business Center have been awarded the title of "Junior Executive."

To qualify for this coveted title an Achiever must meet very rigid standards as set by Central Staff Headquarters in New York. They must also have a letter of recommendation from their company adviser with approval from the Center Coordinator and be finally accepted by Central Staff Headquarters in Detroit.

Achievers honored were Alberta Hall and Louis Sackett, Plymouth High, of B & F Products Co., sponsored by the Consumers Power Co.; Aral Gribble, Plymouth High of Whit-Ply Co., sponsored by Whitman and Barnes; Carol Hudson, Plymouth High, and Austin "Woody" Lynch, Bentley High, of Poly Plexco Co., sponsored by Chevrolet Spring and Bumper.

These young adults automatically set a record at the Plymouth Business Center because only one or two have previously qualified in any one program year.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor:

This is a public thank-you to Mr. and Mrs. John Olenclor, Elmer Passage and Clifford Smith for their leadership of Junior Police Rifle and Archery Youth programs. Over a hundred boys and girls in their early teens meet weekly for this Community Fund sponsored project.

ing safety, good sportsmanship, fellowship and skills. Rifles and bows and arrows are often dangerous weapons to the untrained.

Plymouth claims the Michigan State champion rifle team. The archery group is putting on demonstrations at Scout meetings in nearby towns.

Will this youth work in a City-owned building end? A taxpayer

A to Z With No Money Down
Spring is here. We saw our first encyclopedia salesman this week.

He is one of the nearly 80,000 encyclopedia men now wading in the land bringing knowledge, culture and time payments to affluent Americans.

Reference book sales, less than $60 million annually 10 years ago, soared over the $300 million mark last year.

The impressive fact is that 90 percent of all encyclopedia sales today are made by that army of salesmen knocking on doors.

Because the encyclopedia in the living room is now as common as the husband in the kitchen, we thought this might be the time to give a rundown on the best buys available.

There are three major multi-volumed sets for adults:

Encyclopedia Britannica (24 volumes, $298) is the oldest. Originating in Scotland with a three-volume edition in 1768 Britannica has been in continuous publication since. American-owned for 60 years, its publisher since 1943 has been William Benton, former U.S. Senator from Connecticut.

An idea of Britannica's size can be gained from a few figures: it contains 41,016 articles, 40 million words; it is the work of 7,708 contributors among whom are 43 Nobel Prize winners.

Like all major sets Britannica undergoes a process of "continuous revision." The 1961 edition, for instance, involves 8 1/2 million words of change. In spite of this, several "Britannica classics" are retained: Freud on psychoanalysis, Shaw on socialism, Chesterton on Dickens, Einstein on spacetime.

The Encyclopedia Americana (30 volumes, $319.50) and Collier's Encyclopedia (20 volumes, $229) are the two other sets similar to Britannica in scope, purpose, arrangement and authority.

Since its basic edition in 1918 Americana has rivaled its older competitor in accuracy and scholarship. Its "continuous revision" policy enables the editors to announce that 22,000 of its 25,000 pages have been rewritten since 1954.

Collier's is the youngest entry in the field, having been first issued in 1949. Like the others, its aim is to be a comprehensive summary of human knowledge written for adults, both the scholar and the general reader. Collier's has more consciously tailored its articles to be readable for high school and college students than have the older encyclopedias.

Britannica, Americana and Collier's all have excellent maps, indexes and bibliographies. In the illustrations particularly have tremendous improvements been made in the past few years. And without sacrificing scholarship or accuracy they have all become more readable of late.

The policy of continuous revision has made these sets amazingly up-to-date in a world where ever new knowledge piles up at an incredible rate. (Of course, sometimes the world moves too fast even for the best of them.) A reader might search, for instance, in the 1960 editions of all three of these works for information about one Kennedy, John Fitzgerald, and come up with no information at all.)

To sum up, these are the best of the adult encyclopedias. Any judgment on which is the "best" will have to be highly subjective; one set may have features that appeal particularly to you, another set will appeal to your neighbor.

But any one of the three is an excellent buy and would be an extremely useful addition to the family's reference shelf.

Next week we will glance at the encyclopedias designed for children and at one-volume encyclopedias.

SCRUBBED AND DRIED IN A $360,000 BATHTUB—

No Wonder Natural Gas is So Clean!

Before Consumers Power Company pipes Natural Gas into homes and industries, it gives it a thorough scrubbing! This cleanliness means more efficient operation and longer life for appliances and industrial equipment. Yes, to make sure you get the cleanest fuel possible, all Gas is forced through huge cleaners called "scrubbers" to remove all impurities and liquids. Many such "scrubbers" (costing $10,000 each) are operated by Consumers Power Company to perform this cleaning and drying process.

THE PLEASURE OF YOUR COMPANY IS REQUESTED AT A SPECIAL SALON SHOWING

OF THE MAGNIFICENT 1961

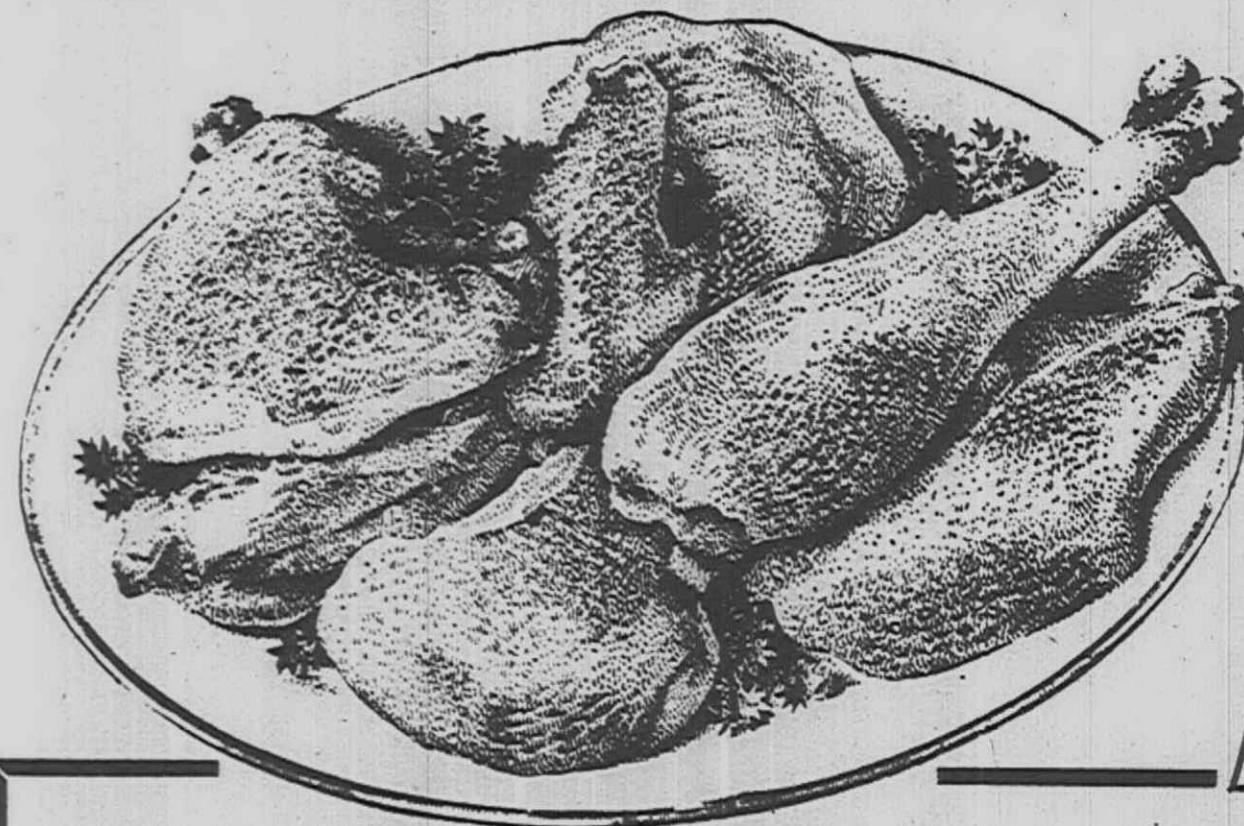

It is a distinct pleasure to invite the motoring public to visit our showrooms for an unusually fine display of the luxurious Cadillac motor cars. We are confident you will feel, as we do, that the automobile which Cadillac designers have created for 1961 is beyond question the finest ever built. We are especially pleased that for this occasion we will have on exhibit certain superb Cadillac models which you might not ordinarily have an opportunity to see. While you are here, we will be happy to arrange a demonstration drive at a time convenient to you, and to explain how very easily you can become the owner of a 1961 Cadillac.

For Pleasure, Give It

Americans from coast to coast are joining this spring in a salute to Holland, the land not only of tulips and windmills and dykes but of industry and technology...

The first American concert was presented on April 10 before an audience that included US officials, diplomats and socialites.

In the meanwhile American enthusiasm for the Hollanders, their traditions of freedom and enterprise and pioneering that are remarkably intertwined with our own...

In this pleasant mood, we are discovering some remarkable things about Holland: Hollanders are the healthiest people in the world...

ple in the world, with the world's longest life expectancy and lowest death rate and with the highest proportion of young people of any nation in Western Europe.

The Netherlands is one of the world's leading maritime and air transport powers. There are over 250 shipbuilding enterprises in Holland, while the world's first scheduled airlines originated in the Netherlands in 1920.

The Dutch electronics industry employs over 200,000 persons, symbolizing the nation's technological capabilities, while at the same time Holland is a world fashion center.

All this and music, too! It makes us wonder why the Pilgrims ever left Holland for a wilderness of red savages.

Just imagine if all the Americans with Mayflower ancestors were Dutch!

Chamber Advises How To Break 'Endless Chain'

"Like to own a shiny new car, neighbor? Give me the names of six prospective buyers... for $100 apiece! Then come in and collect $50 for every name one of them gives me..."

Would you buy a car, vacuum cleaner, water softener, based on that pitch? According to George Lawton, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce...

One of the "something-for-nothing" deals now current, this scheme is known as "Referral Selling." The prospect is told that he can get some article free, if he's willing to cooperate in a word-of-mouth advertising program.

One gentleman thought it did. By the time he realized what had happened, and got around to reporting the operation to the National Better Business Bureau...

It all began when John Dough was approached by a promoter who immediately embarked on a long dissertation...

tion on the fantastic amount of money spent on advertising in the United States.

He then explained that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45 percent of their sales were made on the strength of word-of-mouth recommendation.

The "salesman" went on to explain that his company would put Mr. Dough in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying.

For every friend Mr. Dough sent, he was told he would get $100 from the company's word-of-mouth advertising campaign.

Mr. Dough saw a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring in. From this point on, he was sold! He picked out the car, signed a contract, and left a deposit.

Soon after, he found he wasn't getting enough "referral payments" to meet even a small portion of his obligation!

Consider a chain which starts off with one person who gets six others to participate, and each of the six gets six more, and so on. Here is how the pyramid would progress:

Table showing a pyramid progression: 1, 6, 36, 216, 1,296, 7,776, 46,656, 279,936, 1,679,616, 10,077,696

This is the "endless chain"—and it is endless. There aren't enough people around a ny where to sustain this method of selling!

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated, this type of gimmick selling is operating all over the country. In some places, it has a new twist. One firm made long distance calls to its prospects, informing them they'd won a new appliance, and all they'd have to do was come in and pick it up.

When the "lucky" person arrived (one "winner" estimated the excursion had cost him $25 in taxi, train and baby sitting expenditures) he found he hadn't really won anything after all, but had been chosen to participate in the company's "referral campaign."

There is nothing new in this plan. It has been used in sales promoting involving water softeners, garbage disposals, home siding contracts, and even vacuum cleaners and sewing machines.

- 1.) A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing. 2.) At the appointed interview, the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising" campaign. 3.) He points out that through his person-to-person advertising plan the car, water softener, or what have you, will be "free" to you.

One Small Voice

By MAX TRUCKS

I wonder what lesson they're trying to teach. By keeping us guessing what targets they reach. They're louder and louder with every success. What happens in silence is anyone's guess.

Most of their shots are in mystery enveloped. But easy to prove, with pictures developed. If you have any doubt, they're sure to remove it. Cause somewhere about, there's pictures to prove it.

What keeps me confused and shook up a bit was a pre-announced shot and a verified hit. The shot at our Venus was long before told. But the Russians in silence their glory withhold.

They hit her we know, but with silence they manage to sit back and gloat without paying the damage. We have pictures to prove that their aim was not off. And here is the proof, for the yokels who scoff.

The picture will show her, devoid of her charms. With her clothing half off and two busted arms.

Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams: I have often wanted my handwriting analyzed. I have two ways of writing. The one above and also like this. If you would appreciate if it would write. Could you tell anything from either? D. E. K.

Dear D. E. K.: As your moods change, your thinking changes and you show it in your writing. Your first writing is non-emotional and shows some concern over personal benefits, the way they affect you and benefit you.

Basically, you're determined, have no desire for sports. You prefer paper work, are practical minded, secretive and prefer a narrow selection of close friends.

I would appreciate an analysis of my handwriting. Thank you very much. Grace Samson

Dear Miss Samson: You're a good thinker, alert and quick, but not penetrating. You reach up philosophically and have pride in what you do.

You have a good memory and watch details, are not sensitive to criticism and have no temper. You like to possess, own and acquire, are cautious and resent imposition.

How's Business

Stock Market Encourages

By ROGER W. BABSON

Numerous references are being made to the favorable behavior of certain economic indicators as a forerunner of a corresponding turn for the better in general business.

From a low of 566 in October 1960, the Dow-Jones Industrial Average had chalked up an advance of more than a hundred points by the latter part of March; then, after a brief consolidation phase, rose to a new high in April.

The validity of the stock market as a forecasting device is based upon certain practical tie-ins with business. A period of advancing equity values generates public confidence, particularly in view of the stock market's observed tendency to anticipate similar advances in the trend of general business.

You could be creative but do not have enough faith in your own ability. You want to go forward and acquire more knowledge and know-how. You're a logical person, determined and loyal to your own ideals and thinking.

There is good organization about you, rhythm, and you take criticism constructively. You want to stand out and be recognized, like attention and have a very good memory.

If Your Name Is 'Clara'

By ANN REYNOLDS

For the one Clara who made the name popular, we have to look back to the 13th century.

The image of an 18-year-old girl rises before our eyes. It is Palm Sunday, and Clara, the daughter of well-to-do parents, is dressed in her best finery, attending services at the church of Assisi.

Changing her rich attire, maybe a new outfit for Easter, she cut off her lovely hair, covered her features with a thick veil, and dedicated her life to Jesus.

"Clara," the French version of "Clare," is also used in our country. This pretty name never fails to make me re-live the shock and sorrow I had when I learned of the needless death of my friend Claire, Charming, golden haired Claire lost her life because someone in the building where she lived was careless with a cigarette.

"Clara" is a Latin word meaning "clear, bright." There is a men's name, too, from the Latin "clarus"; it is "Clare," and less frequent than the girl's name.

Clarus was a bishop of Nantes, France, in the third century; he has been called "the Apostle of Brittany" for his missionary work. A 7th century Norman saint named St. Clare has his name commemorated in the contraction "Sinclair," which occurs today as a first and a last name.

Our Most Famous Clara Barton by her family name, whose personal achievement was the organization of the American Red Cross, was named "Clarissa Harlowe" by her parents.

"Clara" is also used in our country. This pretty name never fails to make me re-live the shock and sorrow I had when I learned of the needless death of my friend Claire, Charming, golden haired Claire lost her life because someone in the building where she lived was careless with a cigarette.

a larger portion of their earnings on higher-priced durable goods and luxury items; and businessmen are encouraged to increase expenditures for plant expansion and modernization. On the other hand, the desire to increase savings and curtail capital outlays is a common adjunct to a period of declining stock prices.

Hence, the 20 percent stock market rise of the past few months provides a basis for hope that the business climate will improve in coming months. It is not, of course, necessarily true that business will advance in the same proportion and with the same vigor as the upsurge in stock prices. The absence of pent-up demand for goods, and ample supplies of most commodities suggest that the advance in business is likely to be moderate.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Dan: I'm not raving beauty but I'll be the first to admit it but I do keep myself neat, well-dressed and have a nice personality. I work as a stenographer in an insurance office and am 20 years old. I've worked here since graduating from high school two years ago.

Two weeks ago a new head bookkeeper joined the firm and was placed in charge of all the girls. Well, he's one of these "bright young men" you always read about, the guy who wants to be president of the company by the time he's 35.

He's strictly business which is fine with me but I think he is going too far. Yesterday he called me into his office and started telling me how much he liked my work but that I wasn't doing too well where the public was concerned. In other words he told me I should dress a little more attractively than I'm doing, change my hair style and wear a different shade of lipstick.

I operate on a budget because I send money home each week and I don't think any man has the right to tell a girl how to dress and how to wear her hair. Do you? Should we go over this man's head and complain to the district manager?—Burned up.

Dear Burned Up: This is one of the craziest letters I've ever received but where people are concerned anything can happen. As long as you girls dress neatly that's all your boss should expect.

Before going to your district boss you three girls band together and tell this fashion expert that while you appreciate his suggestions you'll dress as you please within the limits of your budget.

et. If he doesn't know when he's well off and won't accept this answer then go to your higher echelon. This bright young man is certainly nerdy!

Dear Dan: All the jobs for teenagers have been taken for this summer or at least promised and I wonder if you can tell me something I might do to earn some extra money. Would door-to-door selling work out I always see advertisements about those jobs and think I could make some money that way.

Can you make some suggestions?—Unemployed.

Dear Unemployed: If all the homeowners are like me you won't make a dime ringing door bells. You'll also get some frosty receptions and probably some dog bites.

I've said this before and I'll probably be saying it again from time to time that where teenagers are concerned when no jobs are available create some.

People with lawns have to mow them or get them mowed. People with windows either have to wash them or pay to have the job done. People with garages either have to clean them out from time to time or hire someone to do that type of work.

If you want to ring doorbells fine. However instead of trying to peddle magazines, brushes or other household supplies peddle your own talent and muscles. Shop around your neighborhood and see what you can line up—then expand into other neighborhoods.

THE MAIL BAG—Gus: One-third of your pay given at home wouldn't break you or be unreasonable.

Advertisement for All-Electric Home featuring a clock and a heater. Text: "your comfort is custom-made in an ALL-ELECTRIC HOME with flameless electric heat". Shows a bedroom at 67° and a kitchen at 73°.

Why has the number of electrically heated homes in the United States tripled in the past three years? Why will more families choose them in the future? Because built-in electric heat gives each room its own heating system—with individual control. You keep every room at just the temperature you want, change it in a jiffy. Electric heat saves space, and is as clean and safe as electric light. And electric heat is so even, comfortable. You enjoy even heat from head to feet, all over the room in every room. Features like these make electric heat worth the extra cost. And that cost can be leveled out over the year on Edison's Budget Billing Plan.

This most modern of all heating systems is available in All-Electric Homes—the homes that will still be modern when your children grow up. All-Electric Homes offer... Total electric kitchen with built-in electric oven and range for cooking without looking. Electric water heater that's flameless, cool to the touch, supplies lots of hot water over a long, long life. At least two other important work-saving appliances, such as food waste disposer, dishwasher, refrigerator, freezer, washer, dryer. Light for Living, with path-of-light switching and fixtures picked by experts for eye comfort, good looks and safety. Certified Wiring with plenty of circuits and outlets for today's work-savers, plus extra capacity for tomorrow's. Includes circuit for electric clothes dryer.

An All-Electric Home is a better investment, too. Should you move, an All-Electric Home with flameless electric heat will bring a better resale price than a similar home without a built-in electrical future. For information, mail coupon.

Hot cakes are the issue and hot cakes will be the password the evening of Friday, May 5. Cub Pack 870 has reserved the cafeteria at Coolidge School, 30050 Curtis, for a slam bang old fashioned Pancake Party from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Aunt Jemima's favorite chef, Jay Jonap, will be busy preparing and dishing out hot cakes along with sausage, applesauce, potato pancakes, sour cream, milk, coffee and ice cream.

Seconds and thirds are not only allowed but encouraged. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Jonap, Mrs. Covert and Mrs. Orrin along with all the eight den mothers. Ed

Covert, the refreshment chairman, who is doing a terrific job on his own, wishes to thank Mr. George Orrin and his co-worker, Mr. Charles Voelker, who were in charge of donations.

The amazing part of this feast is that for 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 all and everyone can eat and eat and eat to their stomach's content. So leave May 5 open on your calendar and contact the area scout leaders or Emil Angel at GA 7-8216. Tickets can also be purchased at the door.

Saturday, April 7 was a hot day in the Middlebelt - Six Mile area. A fire broke out near the cemetery and the going was hot and heavy. Four of our Scouts, Gary Randall, Mike Bass, Bob Avey Jr. and Craig Dulimba, were in the area and as good Scouts and with the firemen's permission, lent a ready hand. With brooms, dirt and plenty of stomping these four helped to quell the blaze. The disheveled and tired but happy in the fact that they had the opportunity to react as true Scouts.

April 15 started out as a nice day and Troop 870 had a dry run trial for their necessary five-mile hike. From Seven Mile and Middlebelt they hiked to Bell Creek Park. The boys found out how much fun an organized hike can be. They are all now looking forward to their regular hike.

Let's all give plaudits to Mrs. Christine Covert for her generosity in having Den 3 over for luncheon. As little boys with voracious appetites and bottomless stomachs will, they devoured hot dogs, baked beans, potato chips and ice cream. The spirit portrayed by Mrs. Covert is one to be appreciated by all. Den 3 will attest to that. Prior to the feast, Den Mother Jennie Mehrer took the den on a tour of Metropolitan Airport. After a "Jeep Train" ride around the entire airport they were presented with model planes to assemble for their weekly activity.

Livonia Police Have Eyes For Speeders

Livonia's traffic officers have been alerted to watch for speeders.

Sgt. Robert Thorne has ordered the traffic officers of the Livonia Police Department to bear down on drivers exceeding a safe speed and also those failing to keep to the right.

"When the roads open up and the weather gets better, people drive faster than they normally do," Sgt. Thorne said. "But the stopping distance needed to bring a car to a halt remains the same."

The Traffic Safety Assn. is supporting the efforts of the police department, with the erection the week of April 17 in an accident was probably of more than 1,200 posters in the metropolitan area, carrying the picture of a motorcycle officer and the message "Check Your Speed."

"This is a program much needed, particularly at this time of the year," Sgt. Thorne said.

"Last year 32 percent, or 473, of our total accidents were caused by exceeding a safe speed," he said. "These figures don't reflect the complete picture because exceeding a safe speed is often a contributing cause in other accidents. For example, a driver going through a red light who becomes involved going too fast to stop. Speed is definitely a contributing factor in rear end collisions, which account for 61 percent of the total of Livonia's accidents."

Church Plans Mother-Daughter Meal

By Lee Wicks
GA 1-2156

The Girl Scouts of Troop 1658 are busy putting final touches to their plans for the Mother-Daughter Banquet set for Wednesday, May 10. The event will take place at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, Hubbard at W. Chicago, with the meal, a family-style smorgasbord, to be served at 6 p.m. A Bentley High School choral ensemble will provide the entertainment. Tickets may be obtained by contacting Jo Crittenden, GA 1-2132 or Lee Wicks, GA 1-2156. Proceeds will go towards a travel fund for the proposed educational trip to New York City this June.

TOWNSHIP OF PLYMOUTH
OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS
TOWNSHIP BOARD
MEETING APRIL 11, 1961

Board Members Present: Lindsay, Miller, Holmes, Norman, Sparks.
There being a quorum present, the meeting was called to order at 8:05 P.M. by Chairman Lindsay. The minutes of the meeting of March 9, 1961 were read by the Clerk, and were approved without change.

Mr. Lindsay read a list of bills totaling $3,374.63 which were approved for payment on a motion by Mr. Miller, supported by Mrs. Holmes.
At the request of Mr. Demel, the Board authorized the appointment of two professional appraisers to serve at the proceedings for the condemnation of property required for the site of the water pumping booster station. Moved by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mr. Norman, the motion carried.

On a motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Norman, the request of Emma Mary Bartolo to be added as partner to the 1960 S.D.M. license business with living quarters permit held by Charles Bartolo was approved.

On a motion by Mr. Norman, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the transfer of class "C" liquor license and dance permit from Henry Halprin (Thunderbird Inn) to Charles A. Campbell was approved.

Mr. Roy Lindsay presented the name of Warren Worth as the Township's selection of a member to serve on the Civil Service Commission. Motion for appointment of Mr. Worth by C. V. Sparks, supported by Mr. Norman, carried.

Acting on the recommendation of the Planning Commission in their letter of April 10, 1961, to this Board the final plat and subdivision restrictions for zoning Construction Company's Riverside Drive Subdivision No. 1 and Park Entrance Subdivision No. 1 were approved on a motion by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mr. Norman.

A letter dated April 10, 1961, from the Planning Commission to the Township Board recommending the change in the language of Section 22.03 of Zoning Ordinance No. 14, which would add the condition "NO PART OF WHICH SHALL BE RE-FUNDABLE" to the requirement of payment of a filing fee of $25.00. The addition of a second paragraph to Section 22.03 was also recommended, and was read as follows:

If a Public Hearing is called, as provided under Section 22.01, the applicant shall deposit with the Township an additional fee of twenty-five dollars ($25.00), which must be paid five (5) days prior to the date of the first notice of publication. In the event that said additional sum is not deposited within sixty (60) days of the date that a Public Hearing is called, the application shall be deemed abandoned, and no further proceedings shall be had on the said application.

Mr. Miller requested that the language of this additional paragraph be revised as follows:
"If the Public Hearing is called as provided under Section 22.01, the applicant must pay to the Township an additional fee of Twenty-five ($25.00) no part of which shall be refundable, and which must be paid five (5) days prior to the date of the first notice of publication. In the event that said additional sum is not paid within sixty (60) days of the date that the Public Hearing is called, the application shall be deemed abandoned, and no further proceedings shall be had on said application."

The Clerk was then directed by Fred L. Miller, Clerk of Plymouth Township the Board to return this matter to the Planning Commission for further study and consideration.

Mr. Lindsay read a letter from Bi-Lateral Fire Hose Company, wherein they offered to provide 12 alerting radios and one generator on a 90-day trial basis, with the provision that, if not acceptable, the Township will agree to pay $5.00 each for the crystals, which are custom made for the assigned operating wave length and cannot be used elsewhere, plus the freight from and return to factory, which is estimated at $20.00.

Mr. Miller moved that the offer be accepted, supported by Mr. Sparks. The motion carried.
Mr. Miller presented the following resolution:
RESOLVED: that the application by McAllister Brothers, 1429 Northville Road, Plymouth, Michigan, for an S.D.D. package liquor license is rated favorably by the Board, and recommendation is hereby made to Michigan Liquor Control Commission for approval.

A discussion was held regarding approval by the Township Board of a contract between the C. & O. Railroad and the Township for the granting of a right-of-way for the installation of a water main underneath the tracks at the Hagerty Railroad siding.

Objection was taken to a clause in paragraph 10, which would require the contractor to remove surface material on 90 days notice by the railroad. It was the opinion of the Board that this clause was a threat to the uninterrupted water service to our area, and that it was unnecessary and probably not enforceable, and therefore should be deleted or modified.

Mr. Lindsay agreed to present this matter to the proper officials for their consideration, and to provide to them a copy of a letter by Mr. Miller, wherein he expressed his opinion regarding this 90-day clause.

Next business discussed was the position of the Board regarding the matter of Plymouth Township supplying water to serve approximately 100 taps on Canton Center Road in Canton Township.

It was agreed that, if at all possible, Plymouth Township should supply water provided that a contract between Plymouth and Canton Townships be executed, and that a limit be included, and that Canton Township obtain the approval of the Detroit Water Board.

Moved for approval by Elizabeth Holmes, the motion carried.
The question of support for the Junior College program was put before the Board by Mr. Lindsay. Following discussion, it was generally agreed that this is a worthy project and that the Township Board will support the proposal to submit the question of participation to the electors at the Annual Election to be held on June 12, 1961.

Motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Norman, Motion carried.
Mrs. Holmes requested approval by the Board for the payment of bills for $200.00 and $300.00 to cover audit services by Township Auditor Walter Markin for Sewer Department and Sewer & Water Department for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1961.

Motion by Mr. Norman, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the motion carried, and payment was approved as requested.
There being no further business, Mrs. Holmes moved for adjournment. Supported by Mr. Sparks, the meeting was adjourned at 10:15 P.M.

Fred L. Miller, Clerk of Plymouth Township

Want little tires or full-sized tires on your compact?

WHICH IS THE RAMBLER AMERICAN?

X-RAY BOOK COMPARES

Most small compacts like Falcon and Corvair use 13-inch tires that turn a million times more every 10,000 miles, run hotter, wear faster.

Rambler American is the economy compact with the big 15-inch tires that look better, run cooler, last longer, give you more load-carrying capacity.

Get a Rambler American!

X-Ray shows it's BETTER BUILT. Compare Falcon, Comet, Corvair, Valiant, Lark, Lancer with Rambler American's 9,000-weld Single-Unit construction, up to the roof Deep-Dip rustproofing, dependability proved by over 12 years.

X-Ray shows it's a BETTER BUY. The better-built Rambler American officially carries the lowest price of any U.S. sedan. With room for family of six, it is priced from $67* to $485* LESS than ALL other American-made compacts.

*Price comparisons are based on manufacturers' suggested factory delivered prices for lowest-priced models.

Bible Comment: What Did Those Around Him Think of Him?

When we ask what the people of His time thought about Jesus, the reply, based on the Gospel narratives, is that it depended very much upon who the people were.

Here and there in the Gospels are brief passages that appear almost as asides. They throw much light, or perhaps what more properly might be called darkness, upon actual conditions and environment.

In the main story the portrait of Jesus is of a Master, who, by the attractiveness of His personality and teaching, drew as disciples those who left all to follow Him. We see Him thronged by the multitudes as He went about doing good, and we are told that "the common people heard Him gladly" (Mark 12:37).

That record is confirmed by the various incidents of deep love and devotion; the manifested intimacy of the household of Mary and Martha, and the weeping of Jesus on hearing of the death of Lazarus; the emotional response of "the woman which was a sinner" (Luke 7:37), who washed His feet with her tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head, and the many other contacts with those who perceived in Him all that He was, and became His devoted disciples through all that He did and said.

Front Row Center

By George Spelvin

"All the world's a stage" and last week the Plymouth High School Gymnasium magically turned into a gigantic stage. "The Mikado," the melodious Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, graced the temporary boards of the stupendous stage.

High School students sang and acted with the ease of professionals. The orchestra supplemented the singing with the right degree of musical effectiveness. All in all, the production under the guiding hand of Robert Stenger was an artistic success.

I would hope that next year we might try "Oklahoma," "The Boy Friend," or "Brigadoon." Some of these more modern musicals with their scene changes and snappy plots would offer greater challenges. "The Mikado" proved that a highly competent team of high school instructor-directors under Producer Orson "Stenger" Wells can provide an entertaining evening for the entire family.

Too bad that a special matinee wasn't given on Thursday for the elementary students in the district. Those extra pennies would have assisted in paying off the cost of such a show. And a Junior High matinee might have been a good warm-up on Friday. I know the Saturday matinee was scheduled to answer this need. However, the added incentive of time-off from the school day works wonders on the box-office.

Speaking of box-office matters reminds me that "Carnival," the latest hit on Broadway, has struck a real gold mine. Original cost of the show was only $210,000 — about $100,000 lower than normal for a big Broadway show. Since "Carnival" has no name stars and few expensive sets, the musical will be able to rack up a cool $20,000 a week on the profit side of the ledger.

Quick arithmetic applied to such a problem proves the show will be paid off in 10 weeks. After all the "flops" during this past season, it's a relief to know that one of the last shows of the current season has attained that rare goal so quickly — a financial and an artistic success practically overnight.

Now if our Plymouth Theater Guild can pick some comedies for the 1961-62 season, old George feels that their financial troubles might be alleviated. My spies inform me that the script committee is busy trying to line up three solid laugh-provoking hits for the patrons of next season. "Biggest Thief in Town," "Anniversary Waltz," "Remarkable Mr. Pennybacker," "Cradle 7," and "Mighty Man Is He" have been tossed about the committee. Any and all of these would be excellent choices for our local audiences.

Meanwhile back at the Plymouth Theater Guild rehearsal hall, Director Al Mendelsohn is rightly putting a highly-skilled group of folks through their acting paces for the coming spring production, "The Philadelphia Story." "Story" opens in a couple of weeks and it promises to be a gay, witty comedy replete with comic situations. Big problem in the play is getting Tracey Lord married to the man she really loves. Al indicates you're all invited to attend Tracey's wedding in Act III. Make your plans now to attend the final play of the Guild's 1960-61 season.

Television drama reached new heights last week when "Tiger At The Gates" was presented on Channel 7, WXYZ-TV. Nina Foch, Cathleen Nesbitt, and Donald Davies scored consistently with their sharp characterizations. And the script, a fervent plea against war, was a discussion-starter. The dialogue had an adult ring to it. To bad that Channel 7 has to play this to play this series so late in the evening. The 11:30 p.m. time on Saturday makes for quite late viewing for many viewers. Let's hope that next season can see the station moving this to an earlier time. Drop Mr. John Pival a card or letter if you feel the same way.

On Thursdays watch for Ernie Kovacs' unusual TV show. It will be on once a month. It's difficult to describe this program. My best advice is "look at it and you tell me." I found the first show on April 20 to be an eye-stopper and entertaining. Check your local listing for the exact date. Should be on Thursdays at 10:30 p.m. Channel 7.

Sir Laurence Olivier's switch to the Henry II role in "Becket" left me cold. True, Sir Laurence gave an adequate performance — when would he do otherwise — but I must agree with Mr. Peter Glenville who convinced Mr. Olivier originally that the title role of "Becket" was more his cup of tea than the long part of Henry the Second. And a smaller theater than the Riviera would have helped the entire production. Here's a case where the Shubert would have been the proper theater acoustically for "Becket."

"The Music Man" has settled down in the Riviera Theater for a three-week run. The box office boys are still folding the money from that four-year run. At the last count they figure the show made a profit of three million genuine greenbacks. If you haven't seen the show, take this opportunity to see what a three million dollar winner sounds like.

Friedrich Duerrenmatt's drama "The Visit" opens tonight and plays through Saturday at the Lydia Mendelsohn Theater on the University of Michigan campus. "The Visit" is the final production for the U-M Players. Curtain goes up at 8 p.m. If you missed the Lunts when they presented this play a couple of seasons ago, here's your chance to see a suspense-loaded play about the power of money and what it does to a European village.

Offers Program For Students Going to College

High school students and their parents in the Western Wayne County area interested in information concerning college, will have an opportunity to hear a college admissions officer speak on "An Inside Look At College Admissions and Scholarships," on Wednesday, May 3 at the Dearborn Youth Center at 8 p.m. Dr. Melvin C. Buschman, associate director of Admissions and Scholarships at Michigan State University, East Lansing, has been invited by the MSU Alumni Club of Western Wayne County to give this interesting talk. Edwin Blackburn, president of the MSU Alumni Club, urged all parents or students interested in this timely subject, to plan on attending. Area high school seniors who have been awarded bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU, joined the staff in 1955.
