Equalization Protest Rejected Third Time

For the third year in a row, the City of Plymouth has been turned down in its appeal before the State Tax Commission over the equalization imposed by the Wayne County Board of Taxation.

In a letter to Supervisor A. E. Vallier, the State Tax Commission's secretary, Edward W. Kane, stated that "an examination of the report and the appeal definitely disproved the contention made by the City of Plymouth." The supervisor, who filed the appeal on behalf of the City, had contended that personal property (the inventory and machines of business and industry) is assessed out of proportion to real estate.

According to the City Commission's theory, personal property should be assessed the same as real estate. Right now, the City is assessing personal property at 45 per cent of its true value and real property at 43 per cent. As a result, the Wayne County Board of Taxation added 10 per cent to the City's assessed valuation in order to make up the difference. The County feels that personal property should be assessed on a sliding scale up to 70 per cent of its true value. Dollar-wise, the County and State have set the City's assessed valuation at $33,869,951. According to Treasurer Kenneth Way, the City feels that the assessed valuation should be $30,000,000. "This means we are being penalized $3,000,000," Way declared.

The situation is ironical because the State Tax Commission itself has maintained that personal property should be assessed at the same as real property. Earlier this year, an edict came out from the commission demanding that county tax boards take steps to eliminate the variance.

It appears that steps are being taken to gradually assess personal and real property equally since the equalization of City's assessment dropped $1,136,000 since the previous year.

The City Commission does not use the State equalized valuation in figuring its taxes, but the school and County do.

The City has been appealing the equalization for three years and last year was taken to the State Supreme Court but the court refused to hear the case.

Seek Owner Of Biting Dog

Help is being asked to locate a dog that bit 3-year-old Charles Lute Monday as he played in the back yard of his home at 41324 Greenbriar Lane, Lake Pointe Village. His mother, Mrs. Thomas Lute, said that Charles has already taken one of three precautionary anti-rabies shots. If, after 10 days the dog isn't found, Charles must take the series of 21 painful shots over a period of three weeks.

The dog that bit Charles on the hand is believed to have been a thoroughbred beagle and was wearing a collar and is thought to be wearing a license. It was mostly white with brown and black. The owner is urged to call the Lutes at GL 3-8835 to determine if the dog has had a rabies shot.

R. B. Evans Seeks Boat Speed Title

What may soon be the fastest boat in the world is owned by a Plymouth industrialist who last Friday unveiled his powerful craft in Detroit.

Robert B. Evans, vice-president of the Evans Products Co., had his new creation, Miss Stars and Stripes II, towed up to the Detroit Athletic Club last Friday where the press was given its first view.

Sometime this year, Evans hopes to try a record run on some Michigan lake, to capture the world water speed mark for the U.S.

The boat, powered by a jet engine that develops 5,600 pounds of thrust, has already achieved 230 miles an hour in trials on Saginaw Bay at Kawkawin, Evans reported.

Sitting across the luncheon table from Evans was Les Staudacher, the Kawkawin church pew builder, who is also recognized as one of the nation's foremost hydroplane designers and builders.

Staudacher drove the craft at 230 miles an hour despite 18 inch high waves and a moderate breeze. Evans firmly believes that the boat has demonstrated that it should be able to exceed Britisher Don Campbell's record of 260 miles an hour.

The boat, which carries the name "Evans" on its tail fin. (Continued on page 10)

School Tax Rate Given Slight Hike

The Plymouth Community School tax rate will go up thirty-five hundredths of a mill (35 cents per $1,000 of valuation) this year.

Action was taken by the Board of Education Monday night to establish the tax rate for the coming collection in December.

The new total unequalized rate is 22.25 mills. Last year it was 21.9 mills.

Millage for operating will remain the same — 14.40 mills. The Building and Site Sinking Fund millage has been increased from 4.7 mills last year to 5 mills. Also increased is the 1955 debt retirement fund. This millage has been increased from 2.80 to 2.85.

Increase of the rate was prompted by the loss in equalized valuation this year. Assessed valuation in the school district dropped from $102 million to $98 million.

For the 1955 debt retirement fund, $280,000 must be raised.

Timetable Set For New Junior High's Phase 2

While the first phase of the Plymouth Community Junior High School West is still a year from completed, the Board of Education is already giving serious thought to the second phase that is not scheduled to open until September 1964.

Some preliminary plans were presented at Monday night's Board meeting by Bennett and Straight, architects for the new junior high going up at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Trail.

The first phase, which will open in one year, will have a two-story 22-classroom building, a gymnasium, administrative offices and heating and storage unit.

The second phase will be composed of four wings. One will contain the home economics, fine arts, typing and special education rooms. Another wing will have the industrial arts section.

The third wing will probably contain the cafeteria (combination cafeteria and auditorium), music rooms and service (receiving, engineering storage) rooms. Proposed for the fourth wing is the library and permanent administrative offices.

Drawings given to the Board Monday were just to start the thinking on what the second phase should contain. Superintendent Russell Isbister recommended that they be given to a committee of present Junior High teachers and administrators for their opinions.

A timetable was drafted for the architect. It included:

June 1, 1962, complete preliminary drawings.

July 1, start working drawings.

Jan. 1, 1963, complete working drawings.

Feb. 1, final approval of working drawings.

March 1, take bids.

September, 1964, open building.

NEWS BEAT

The State Highway Department has released results of a study which says that the six-county Detroit metropolitan area will need $4.3 billion worth of highway facilities during the next 20 years. Of this amount, Wayne County needs $1,793,000,000. And the City of Plymouth is figured at $6,500,000. A City study a few years ago figured that it would take around $2 million to pave all the City's streets. The remainder would presumably go toward widening some thoroughfares and building several overpasses at the railroads. The report doesn't say who will furnish the money.

IN PRINT: Hillside Inn is featured in the September issue of Ford Times, now being distributed to motorists. The article is illustrated with a color painting of the Hillside Inn at its location on Plymouth Rd. Preparation of chicken liver paste, a specialty of the house containing seven spices and a touch of brandy, is described.

ACCUSED: The State Corporation and Securities Commission has accused three men, including John D. Hanson, 1096 Roosevelt, with selling interests in oil wells while not being licensed as securities dealers. The commission chairman said that Hanson sold interest in 17 oil and gas wells, collecting $289,423 during the last three years. Such sales should be qualified under the "blue sky law" and that the three men should have been licensed, the commission added.

HOME AGAIN: After a note in this column a week ago telling how Miss Barbara Booth of Sheridan brought home a parakeet she found strolling along the sidewalk at Blanche and Evergreen, two people took a look at the bird. It turned out to belong to Stewart Dodge of S. Main St. The bird had flown over a mile away.

New Law Permits Dual Election; Combined Vote to Save $10,000

Not only will electors in four area school districts vote Oct. 17 on the question of whether they want to form a Community college district, but it appears that they will also decide whether they will finance the institution with a one-mill tax.

The Plymouth Community Board of Education voted Monday night to place the millage question on the ballot. Boards in each of the four districts — Garden City, Livonia, Clarenceville and Plymouth — are being polled to determine if they favor the entire package in one vote.

Harold Fischer, Plymouth's representative and chairman of the executive committee of the college, appeared before the Plymouth Board Monday to seek their opinion. Fischer said that a meeting of the committee will be held Thursday night at which they will officially decide on the Millage question. He said that so far, everyone seems in accord with a "package" proposal.

Voting on the millage at the same time as the college formation question itself was not possible when the first vote was taken last June 12. It was not until June 6 that a new state law became effective allowing a vote on the two proposals at the same time.

The dual vote is expected to give voters greater interest in the election. Then too, it will save considerable money. It is estimated that staging a second election to vote on the millage would cost $10,000.

Fischer told the Board Monday that petitions will soon be circulated in each of the four districts asking the respective boards to place the college question on the ballot. Nominating petitions will also be made available to candidates for the Board of Trustees.

In the June 12 election, there was one candidate elected from each district and three at-large, making a total of nine. Because Redford Union and South Redford defeated the measure and have now been dropped from the program, the size of the proposed board of trustees has been decreased to seven. There will be one from each district and still three at-large.

Fischer told the Board that the college can still be built and the site purchased with a one-mill levy. This is the same amount mentioned prior to the first election.

There were many people in the two Redford districts who hoped to have their districts join in the second vote, feeling that a new try would change the picture. But community college planners feel that this would be too risky for the four remaining districts who approved the measure the first time.

More Township Hall Space, Fire Engine Studied

Plymouth Township's "sure and steady" growth was reflected at last week's Township Board meeting when steps were taken to once again remodel the Township Hall to provide more space, construct a Sewer and Water Department building and study the purchase of a new fire engine.

Since the Township has gone into the water and sewer business, the Township's function has increased considerably. More records must be kept, more machines needed to keep records and buildings required to store tools, parts and equipment for sewer and water main work.

It is proposed to move a storage room in the Hall and utilize the space to enlarge the treasurer's office. The present garage for a pick-up truck in the Hall will be used for storage. A new rear entrance to the building is also proposed, so that the clerk's office can be enlarged.

The Board voted last week to obtain the services of an architect to study the details.

The Water and Sewer Department building would be constructed on the rear of the Township Hall lot. Tivadar Balogh, an architect living in the Township, will be asked to look into the types of buildings required.

A provision was made in this year's budget for purchases of a new fire engine. The Township now has three trucks, all of them built on the chassis of popular makes.

According to Supervisor Roy Lindsay, the Township intends to purchase a pure fire engine (such as American LaFrance or Seagrave) which are built "from the ground up" as fire trucks. After selecting a make, the Township expects to stick with that make so that parts will be readily available.

Appointed to a committee to investigate the type of trucks available and set the specifications were Fire Chief Howard Holmes, Trustee Louis Norman, and Supervisor Lindsay.

Extends Water
In other business before the Board, a resolution was approved to extend the Township water line from the western end of Schoolcraft Rd. to Northville Rd. and as far south as Hammill Dr. This extension, which will serve commercial buildings in the area, will cost $15,950 that will come from the water bond issue.

Another proposal to extend water along the south side of Ann Arbor Rd., from Lilley to (Continued on page 10)

Masters Motorcycle for Trip

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third in a series of articles written by the four Plymouth High Students who are traveling abroad this summer under the Youth for Understanding program. Dee Wernette is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wernette, 387 Adams. (The Mr. Andresen he mentions is Arvid Andresen, Junior High School teacher, whose wife is executive director of the program.)

By Dee Wernette

The Youth For Understanding program under the sponsorship of the Michigan Council of Churches has made it possible for me to spend two months with a German family in the northern part of their country. Our group of 100 students and 18 counselors left Wayne Major Airport on June 23 on a chartered "Flying Tiger" plane.

The plane was about one and one-half hours late. Since there were forest fires at Gander, Newfoundland, we took on extra fuel and flew direct to Shannon, Ireland. We saw little of the Atlantic as we were flying above the clouds most of the way.

We got very little sleep. There were only four hours of darkness, since we were traveling east. We spent about an hour in Shannon, Ireland. At the station there were lots of "cool" old Irishmen with beards, corduroy clothing and brogues. Ireland was beautiful from the air. The surrounding countryside was so very green. Instead of fences there are rows of thickly grown bushes or hedges.

We flew low from Shannon and in about two hours were in Amsterdam. Mr. Andresen was at the airport to meet us. The sun was shining brightly and it was very hot. We took buses to the hotel and had a good meal of Hungarian stew, potatoes, etc. We were all famished since it was noon and we hadn't eaten since the previous evening.

On Saturday and Sunday, Mr. Andresen was kind enough to show me Amsterdam. It is a really beautiful and fascinating city with more than 50 miles of canals.

Services Here For Girl, 3, Killed by Car

Funeral services will be held at Schrader Funeral Home Friday morning for Mary Katherine Phillips, 3-year-old daughter of Robert and Lucille Phillips, former Plymouth residents.

Mary was killed Monday morning when she was struck by a car in front of the family home in Baltimore, Md. Mr. Phillips, a staff manager for Encyclopedia Britannica, was being transferred to Chicago and the moving van had all the household goods loaded when the tragedy occurred.

The Phillips lived in Robinson Subdivision before they moved from Plymouth four years ago. Surviving with the parents are five other children, the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Phillips of Livonia, and the maternal grandfather, in the state of Washington.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening. Interment is in Riverside Cemetery. (Continued on page 10)

Work Ways To Hockey Session

This hardly seems like hockey weather, but eight Plymouth boys have been saving their money all summer to start a trip to Toronto a week from Saturday where they will be enrolled in an ice hockey school.

Many boyhood summer luxuries were sacrificed by the youths as they stowed away their dollars during the past few months to pay for the week-long school.

The average cost to each boy is $50 to $60.

Making the trip will be Bob Crowther, Don Gavigan, and Clark Raven, who performed odd jobs to earn their way; Mike Materna, who worked for a fence contractor; Terry Cosgrove, who was a golf caddy; Randy Sharland, and Jim McKindles, who carried newspapers; and Butch Thomas, who worked as a farm hand.

The boys will leave Aug. 26 for Scarborough, Ont., near Toronto. They will at (Continued on page 10)

Salem Population Increases by Two

Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
Mr. and Mrs. Fernan Rohaff of Six Mile Road announce the birth of a daughter Jody Lynn, born Tuesday, August 8 at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia. Little Jody was greeted by two happy sisters, Monica and Cheryl, and two brothers, Eddie and Danny, when she came home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fallott of Eight Mile Rd. announce the birth of a son Eric Allen, born Saturday, August 5 at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. The Fallotts have three other children.

Members of the Suburban Farm Bureau — don't forget this coming Sunday, August 20, is the annual summer picnic, to be held at the Brummel home on Six Mile Road.

The decision on the land to be purchased for the New South Lyon High School may be made Monday night by the school board members at the school board meeting. Land being considered at this time is the Colwell Homes Inc., property at the eastern limits of the city on Ten Mile Rd. and the property owned by Howard Latta located on Pontiac Trail between Eight and Nine Mile Roads.

The Famuliner family spent Sunday at the home of friends in Southfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Renrick, Mrs. Cora Blunk and Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Ingall attended the Chicken Barbecue held at the Rural Activities Building in Ann Arbor on Sunday.

The Tiffin family and the St. Lawrence's spent Saturday at Whitmore Lake water skiing and swimming.

The Salem Baptist Church held a picnic at Cass Benton Park on Saturday.

Mrs. William Hawes, Jr.

Ella M. Plant Becomes Mrs. William Hawes, Jr.

At afternoon ceremonies in the First Methodist Church Aug. 13, Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson and Rev. David Davies officiated at nuptial rites that united Ella M. Plant and William K. Hawes, Jr.

Coming down the aisle on the arm of her father, who gave his daughter in marriage, the bride was given in white silk organza over silk taffeta with appliques of Alencon lace. Seed pearls cascaded down the slim front of the dress and the softly pleated, full backed skirt ended in a chapel train. The neckline of the bodice was gently rounded and trimmed with Alencon lace. The sleeves were long and ended in points at her wrists. Her elbow-length, bouffant silk illusion veil was held in place by petals of taffeta and Alencon lace edged in seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of fleur D'Amour and English Ivy centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Southgate, the bride's sister, wore a white silk organza street-length dress with a rounded neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a gathered skirt with white embroidered trim. A pink organza sash and white swiss braid picture hat trimmed with pink and white flowers completed her ensemble. Her cascade bouquet was made up of pink Fuji mums and roses.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Wagner, the groom's sister from Ypsilanti and Mrs. Carl Roger Peterson of Warren, Michigan. Miss Jane Ross of Wardsville, Ont. was junior bridesmaid and Miss Cindy Wagner, niece of the groom from Ypsilanti was flower girl. Their gowns and flowers were identical to that of the matron of honor.

Dr. Jack Bush of Ann Arbor was best man. Robert Southgate, of Ann Arbor, Richard Wagner, of Ypsilanti and James Bush also of Ypsilanti were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Plant wore a navy blue silk faille and mosaic net jacket dress with light blue floral halo hat. Crushed white gloves, navy blue faille purse and shoes completed her accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hawes, was dressed in a powder blue sheath jacket dress with a varied shade blue floral pill box hat. Her accessories were white crushed gloves and a powder blue purse and shoes. Both mothers wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the bride's residence at 45004 Ford Rd., for 350 guests.

For her going away outfit to Fort Worth, where the couple will make their home, the new Mrs. Hawes selected a raspberry silk linen jacket dress. White shoes, crushed gloves and purse and her pink floral pillbox hat completed her outfit.

The bride is a 1959 graduate of Michigan State University and taught elementary school in Farmington.

The groom has his B. A. from Eastern Michigan University and received his M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of Michigan. He is director of the division of radio and television at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas.

Coltsfoot, yarrow, mouse-ear and lettuce were used in pipes in Britain for medicinal purposes in past centuries.

Newlyweds Live in South Lyon

Nancy Mae Cort and Paul A. Geiger were united in marriage at an afternoon wedding on July 15 at the St. John's Lutheran Church in Northfield Township, with the Rev. Raymond O. Frey officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drayton Cort of Six Mile Rd., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Geiger of Five Mile Road.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length dress of Schiffli embroidered silk over tulle and taffeta. It featured an embroidered bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. The princess style waist line fell into five tiers of daintily scalloped embroidered ruffles. A tiered silk illusion veil was secured to a headpiece of seed pearls, sequins and embroidered Schiffli silk, designed by the bride's mother. Streamers of stephanotis and ivy fell from a cascade bouquet of white baby carnations.

Miss Suzann Cort, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, her dress was turquoise. It featured a full embroidered silk organza skirt over taffeta. She carried a cascade bouquet of shasta daisies and white carnations with ribbons to match her dress. Serving as bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Richter of Ann Arbor, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Jacobson of Ypsilanti. Miss Richter wore mint green and Mrs. Jacobson wore lilac. Both were styled the same as the maid of honor, and all the dresses were designed by the bride's mother.

The junior bridesmaid was Miss Evelyn Gardner, a godchild of the bride. She wore a pink nylon dress and carried a basket of shasta daisies.

Lauren Geiger of South Lyon was his brother's best man. Serving as ushers were Lather Schaible of Manchester, Dale Kapp of Ann Arbor and junior usher was Richard Cort, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Cort wore a nylon jersey in tones of green for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white carnations. Mrs. Geiger chose gray lace for her dress and had a corsage of white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Alfred Honke, Jr. presided at the organ.

A reception at the Cort home followed the ceremony. A five-tiered wedding cake frosted with pale yellow roses was cut and served by Mrs. Roy Richter, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Grace Geiger, aunt of the groom, served individually decorated chocolate groom's cake, which was made by Mrs. Ray Cather and Mrs. Jerry Kilinski. Serving punch was Mrs. Jack Steiner and Miss Sharon Becker served ice cream to the guests. In charge of the guest book was Miss Luthera Haas of Ann Arbor, cousin of the groom. Guests were from Ann Arbor, South Lyon, Dexter, Brookline, Manchester, Saline, Walled Lake, Trenton, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Wixom, Northville and Belle Center, Ohio.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of South Lyon High School. Nancy attended Michigan State University and is a teacher at the Amerman school in Northville. Paul attended Michigan State and is engaged in farming.

The newlyweds are living at 5379 Five Mile Road, South Lyon.

250 Honor Retiring State Legion Adjutant

More than 250 friends, relatives, well-wishers and co-workers gathered in at the Northville Community Building Saturday evening, Aug. 12 to pay tribute to Lisle H. Alexander upon his retirement as adjutant and welfare officer of the Michigan American Legion.

Extending the welcome for both Northville and Plymouth were the respective Mayors A. M. Allen and Robert Sincok. Alexander lives at 210 N. Mill St., Plymouth.

Wilson H. Morrison, the immediate past commander for the State of Michigan, The American Legion, was introduced as pastmaster of the affair by Past State Commander William J. Claraham of Detroit.

Lawrence Knox, also a past state commander and presently the chief of police in Wayne, delivered the address of tribute on behalf of all the Legionnaires of the state and for the 19 state commanders under whom Alexander had served.

Alexander received and was presented with a large number of gifts, emblematic of the many friendships and the respect he had gained throughout his 19 years of service.

The Plymouth School of Dance under the direction of Mrs. Stennitz presented a short program of various dances by her students.

Following the testimonial, dancing was enjoyed both at the Northville and Plymouth American Legion Posts.

Senior Citizens Meet All Summer

The Senior Citizens of Plymouth met at the Masonic Temple, Thursday, Aug. 10. Despite the fact that so many were away on vacation, there was still a good attendance of 47 members.

Refreshments were served by the Senior Citizens after which all enjoyed playing cards.

Hostesses for the meeting were Katherine Manner and Elsie Hohl and host Alfred Hohl. The next meeting will be held Thursday, Aug. 17.

Jean's Jottings

By Jean Campau, Women's Editor

Working in the front office of a newspaper is a cracker-jack of a job, but like cracker-jacks, each day holds its own surprises.

One such surprise was when Alfred Hohl of 792 Forest, walked in to show us the 'thing' his 14 year-old grandson, David L. Grimes of 948 Palmer, had found in the woods near Kent Lake.

A delicate shade of orange, the growth measured 13 inches in length and eight inches in width. The weird object could have been a 'pilot plant' for the invasion and population of earth from outer space, or a bewitched mushroom. We all speculated and considered many such possibilities. Actually when Mr. Hohl consulted the botanical department at the University of Michigan, he learned that the plant was fairly common and considered an edible delicacy. Its scientific moniker is Polyporus sulphureus, though it is usually called 'chicken fungus'. (See picture below).

Still another rather unusual growth we learned of concerned the sunflower seeds young James Piach of Fry Rd., planted among his corn. They all grew quite normally, except for one 'thyroidian' seed which was not content to develop just one flower, instead it sprouted 21 blossoms upon the same stem. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Piach.

While we are on the subject of plants, Vera Newkirk, a registered nurse, prepared an article for the Nurses Digest entitled 'Safety With Flowers and Plants', which we would like to pass along in part. Did you know that there is enough poison in a ten cent packet of Castor Bean seeds to kill five children? That one tulip bulb contains enough poison to kill a man? That sweet peas contain a poison that causes a form of paralysis? While it is seldom fatal, it can keep its victim bedridden for months. There is a poison in 'Elephant Ears' that causes a painful swelling of the mucous membranes of the mouth, tongue and throat? 'Dumb Cane' has earned its name because chewing the leaf causes your mouth to swell so that speech is impossible.

Even honey made by bees in an area grown with Rhododendron and Mountain Laurel has been found to be poisonous? A noted pharmacologist has listed more than 100 plants containing poison which are grown in the average American garden. In an issue of a standard seed catalogue, he listed 54 plants as harmful.

There is no reason, of course, to stop growing beautiful flowers just because some contain poison. But avoid the common habit of chewing on a piece of leaf or stalk. Remember to tell your children that it is dangerous to put leaves or stems of plants into their mouths. Above all, don't store plant bulbs where children can get at them.

We conclude the column with a list of poison cultivated plants that can be fatal if taken in quantities which a child might eat. They are: Elephant Ear, Narcissus, Four O'Clock, Cyclamen, Ivy, Potato (seed or sprouts), Pimpernel, Oleander, Lily of the Valley, Burning Bush, Jimson Weed, Rhododendron, Iris, Pinks, Mock Orange, Spanish Bayonet, Bittersweet, Castor Bean, Foxglove, Scotch Broom, Tulip, Mountain Laurel and Monkshood.

Camping Calls Cantonites

By Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0194

Sorry, no column last week, but the Sprengel family was away from home trying out the rugged life, camping, more about that later on.

As most township folks now know, or we hope know, is the fact that the community college issue will again be on the ballot for the Plymouth Community School tax-payers to consider on October 17. The last time Plymouth tax-payers said they wanted a Community College, but it was turned down by Redford. Redford has now dropped out of the plan, but after much study and research, I am told that the remaining areas of Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, and Clawson may have the proposed Community College for the same tax base of one mill. I hope this bit of information will spur residents in Canton and the Plymouth school system, to read and find out all they can about the proposed college and then go to the polls on October 17 and vote intelligently.

Ella M. Plant became the bride of William Hames on Sunday, Aug. 13, at the First Methodist Church in Plymouth. A reception followed the ceremony at the bride's home on Ford Rd. Ella is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Plant. The couple plan to make their home in Texas.

The members and friends of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church on Ridge Rd., were host to Mrs. J. W. Lyons on Aug. 10. Mrs. Lyons showed the group her rare doll collection that included antique dolls, foreign dolls and many others. A tea followed Mrs. Lyons' doll presentation.

Vacation time is of uppermost to many township residents currently. One family recently vacationing was Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grady of Cherry Hill and their family, Bill, Ralph and Sue. The group enjoyed their week at Alpena, Mich. The number of fish caught and size of same, seems to be a military secret.

Another family spending a week away from Canton, was Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Longwish and family, Barbara, Kathy, Lauren and Debbie. The Longwishes also spent their vacation at Alpena. We have it on good authority, that daughter Barbara did better fishing than Dad, at last report.

Now for the more rugged type vacationers. Mr. and Mrs. William Plymale of Beck Rd. and their family, Wolinda, Jean, Bill and Gary, spent a week camping around the Alpena area, at "S" Lake. Son Bill reports the catch of a large fish, but said nothing about the other members' trophies.

I don't know if you would call us rugged, but the Sprengel family tried their hand at camping for the first time. Alpena County Park was the site for our venture. Our camp was surrounded by white birch trees, and our tent was up on a hill overlooking Long Lake. The swimming was good. I'll leave the fish stories up to the men of the family (we enjoyed a wienner roast with other township residents one evening, however; even the stores didn't sell fish. All in all it was fun, even though the camp had the pleasure of the company of three skunks. We left them alone, and I happily report they left us alone. We found the people camping a wonderful kind of people; friendly, fun, and most accommodating. Except for a few conventions we usually enjoy, we recommend this type of vacation for families with kids. We won't mention the night crawlers that invaded our tent one night, we don't want to discourage the brave of heart. We're back though and as soon as I can get the mountain of clothes clean, we may just try again.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Combs of Beck Rd., were host to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bellway of Kentucky and their five children for an overnight stay.

We are glad to report that Mr. Thomas St. Louis of Beck Rd. is home, and well on the road to recovery following his recent illness.

Wins School Loan Bidding

Three bids were received by the Board of Education Monday night for two different loans — one for $420,000 and the other for $600,000.

The Board is borrowing $420,000 to finance its building program under the Building and Site Sinking Fund. As was originally planned, short-term loans will be sought to finance construction (such as the new junior high) and then repaid after future tax collections. The $420,000 is to be repaid by April 1, 1963.

The $600,000 loan is to finance operation of the school until taxes are collected this December and January. It is to be repaid by next April.

Winner of both bids was the National Bank of Detroit. Bids on the $420,000 loan were as follows: National Bank, 2.20 per cent interest rate, premium of $133, total interest cost of $14,497; Detroit Bank and Trust, 2.25 per cent interest, $14,962.50 interest. Braun-Bosworth & Co., 2.30 per cent interest, $108,40 premium, interest cost of $15,186.50.

Bids on the $600,000 loan were: National Bank of Detroit, 1.93 per cent interest, $70 premium, interest cost of $6,685; Detroit Bank and Trust, 2.18 per cent interest, interest cost of $7,560; Braun-Bosworth & Co., 2.02 per cent interest, interest cost of $7,070.

Blunk-Luedtke Vows Repeated at Afternoon Rites

St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church was the scene of the Saturday afternoon wedding, Aug. 5, of Janet Kay Blunk and Franklin Charles Luedtke. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Norman Berg and the Rev. Robert Hoenecke.

The couple's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Blunk of Ann Arbor, Mich. and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Luedtke of Watertown, Wisconsin.

The bride chose a white mousseline de soie gown with eyelid embroidery. The bodice featured a high, turned-down collar and full bracelet-length sleeves. Her bouffant skirt with back bows flowed into a court train.

A filagree diadem crown of seed pearls held her tiered veil of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Gowned in white silk organza with pink accessories were the maid of honor, Miss Susan Blunk of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Miss Judith Klasner of Detroit, and Mrs. Milton Bugbee of Benton Harbor.

Allen Luedtke of Detroit was best man for his brother. The ushers were Marvin Blunk, Ann Arbor, brother of the bride; Neil Turnbull, Milwaukee, Wis.; Milton Bugbee, Benton Harbor; and James Burgett of Plymouth.

A reception in the church fellowship room followed the ceremony. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Washington, D. C., and Hickory, N. C., after which they will make their home in Watertown, Wisconsin.

State Hospital Cooks Learn How to Make Tasty Dishes from Surplus Commodities

Take 60 pounds of lamb ... add two pounds of shortening ... 110 pounds of water ... two pounds of garlic ...

This is the recipe for one of the dishes demonstrated last week when 35 business and food department executives from 11 Michigan state hospitals gathered at Northville State Hospital to learn of interesting, unusual and economical ways to prepare surplus commodities available to state institutions.

In keeping with the state's economy programs to conserve expenses and labor in its food preparations, the institute emphasized the many labor-saving procedures that could be utilized.

The L. J. Minor Company of Cleveland, wholesale preparers of food bases, and with which company each of the three chef consultants is associated, co-sponsored the five-hour program with A. A. Brewer, food service director, Northville State Hospital.

Ernest Koves of New York, associate editor of "Chef" Magazine and First vice-president of the American Culinary Federation, Eugene Erie of Chicago, formerly president of that association and an internationally known culinarian, and Eugene Coubet of Detroit, executive chef with the Sheraton-Cadillac for 24 years and more recently chef of Cobo Hall, were the chef consultants who served as demonstrators and lecturers.

Curried, stewed, fricasseed, Scotch brothed, cassouleted, and Hungarian goulashed lamb were among the variety of preparations. For one of them, French Lamb Stew, the base ingredient is 60 pounds of lamb, to which are added items such as two pounds of shortening, 110 pounds of water, and two pounds of garlic. This quantity is served with five vegetables, including five pounds of peas and sixteen pounds of red potato balls.

The Institute members crowded into the hospital's diet kitchen in the morning to observe the preparation procedure. True to the adage, "the proof is in the pudding", those in attendance ate what had been prepared in a noon buffet luncheon served in the hospital's "A" Building cafeteria. During the question and answer period that followed, the state hospital personnel made frequent referrals to the economical aspects and tastiness of the food and the ease in which the various recipes could be prepared in their own institutional settings.

Those attending from the Plymouth State Home and Training School were Mrs. Jean Dwyer, supervisor; Mrs. Irene Hieber, administrative dietitian; Mrs. Beatrice White, cook; Mrs. Alice Turman, food service; William Johnson and Roger Moss, cook.

From Northville State Hospital were A. A. Brewer, food service director; Thomas Paterson, Food service supervisor; Nelson Rich, food service supervisor; Tom Saunders, head cook.

10 Years Ago

The 1951 Regional Conference of the Michigan Business Women's Clubs will be held in the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, September 7, 8 and 9, states Mrs. Agnes Pauline, president of the local Business and Professional Women's club. It is, she says, an especially important conference as it is the first one under the new re-designing of the Regions.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Sunday afternoon at the corner of Fairground and Maple, site of the new Salvation Army Citadel. The building, which will cost an estimated $20,000 is expected to be completed in three months. Much of the work is to be volunteered by members.

The First Presbyterian Church on Church St., was broken into Saturday night or Sunday morning for the second time in two years. Although considerable damage was done, the burglars received but little for their trouble. According to Mrs. Henry J. Walch, wife of the church's pastor, only the contents of a piggy bank were taken. The exact amount it contained is not known.

Plymouth's new superintendent of schools, Russell Isbister and his family have moved into their new home at 50005 W. Ann Arbor Rd. The Isbister moved here from Centerline, where Mr. Isbister had been superintendent of schools before transferring to Plymouth.

Miss Margaret Dunning entertained at a farewell picnic in Riverside Park honoring Mrs. Ruth Cooley, who left Thursday for Shelby, Mich., where her husband, a former high school teacher in Plymouth, is to be principal. Guests were Mrs. Zella Collon, Mrs. Irene Reamer, Mrs. Florence Conery, Mildred Levering, Virginia Shaw, Mrs. Ruth Rotnour, Pauline Sowle, Mrs. Bessie Dunning, Mrs. Carrie Gladstone, Mrs. Hattie White, Sallie Mackintosh and Miss Irene Waldorf.

During the seventh week of the summer recreation program, 1957 took part in the various activities at both playgrounds. An inter-playground baseball league was started with two teams from Central and two from Starkweather. They play on each grounds every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Miller of East Ann Arbor Trail celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary last Sunday with a garden party attended by their immediate family and relatives. Present beside Mr. and Mrs. Miller were: Mr. and Mrs. George Treis and family of St. Clair Shores, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller and family of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Watters and Mr. Mrs. Peter R. Miller of Detroit, Mrs. Harold Cook of Riverside, Calif., and Grand Miller of Plymouth. Other guests included: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Tresise and family of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. George Moranty and family of Dearborn, and Mrs. Mary Miller and daughter Gertrude of Plymouth.

Construction of a curb and gutter along Farmer St., between the Pere Marquette tracks and Starkweather Ave., has been started as a WPA project. The improvement will cost the property owners along the street less than 25 cents a front foot.

Dr. Eugene Keys of Dearborn, candidate for the Republican nomination for coroner, who has won much support for his candidacy in both Plymouth and Northville townships, has stated that if he should be nominated and elected he will cooperate to the fullest with residents in this locality in putting an end to the practice of the coroner's office in permitting bodies to lie for hours along highways or on banks of lakes where death has been due to accident or violence.

50 Years Ago

There was a large attendance at the Gleaner Social held on Mr. Carson's lawn last Thursday evening. Ten gallons of ice cream were disposed of.

The L.A.S. held a very pleasant and profitable meeting at their hall last Friday. They voted to hold their annual fair and homecoming the same as usual this fall. Work is progressing nicely for the event. Mrs. Langs was presented with a little remembrance by the L.A.S. Mrs. Jewell brought her phonograph, which all enjoyed hearing.

There was a large crowd out to the social at Mrs. Josephine Smith's Saturday evening and the ladies of the cemetery association received a neat little sum to help paint the cemetery fence.

The Helping Hand society of West Plymouth met with Mrs. Ada Root Wednesday, an excellent supper was served and all report an enjoyable time.

On page 3 of the Plymouth Mail of Aug. 18, 1911 were listed six rules that echoed the thoughts of the era. They are:

1. This is a fast age, with a few slowdowns and many wrecks.
2. Although a graduate earns his sheepskin, he pays ten dollars to get it.

Carling's Wins Final; Cloverdale Moves Up in State

Herby's halted Carling's momentarily in their drive to the Plymouth Class A softball championship last week by winning the first game of a "do or die" doubleheader, but the brewers came on to win the second game and the fast-pitch championship.

Carling's catcher Orville Turner provided the punch in both games, totaling five for seven for the twin-bill and adding a walk. He was on base eight times.

In the first game, while the brewers were losing 2-1, Turner hit three for four. In the second game he walked and got two out of three as Carling's shut-out Herby's 3-0 to win the title. Jim Lowe tossed the shutout for the champs in the second game.

In State District Class A competition, Cloverdale Dairy moved closer to the finals with a 1-0 eight inning win over the South University Business Men (Ann Arbor) last week.

Harold Secord singled with two out in the top of the eighth to drive in the games only run. Joe Thibodeau was the winning pitcher.

Last Saturday Cloverdale moved even closer with a 6-3 victory over Ypsi Press of Ypsilanti. The Plymouth team trailed 3-0 at the end of the third, but a three run rally in the fourth evened the score.

Ray Doolin got things going with a tremendous home run that cleared the fence on the diamond behind the High School, bounded across the street and rolled into the coal bins. Secord followed with a double and Bob Gow scored him with a triple that hit the right field fence. He scored the tying run later in the inning.

Gow belted two for three to lead Cloverdale, while Thibodeau was again the winning pitcher. Cloverdale was scheduled for another playoff game early this week at Adrian. Because they have one loss, they must win to stay in competition.

The finals start tomorrow.

Junior Golfers End Season

Parents and friends of the players gathered at the Hilltop Golf Course last week to watch the windup of the season for the Plymouth Junior Golf Association. Forty boys and girls in the advanced league had finished six weeks of play and competed in a two day tournament for the golfing Oscars.

In a hard-fought contest, Bob Beck was declared Boys

Champion of 1961, with Joe Light breathing down his back to become runner-up. Sandy Pentecost played through the three rounds of the tournament to win the Girls Championship with Joan Reas, runner-up.

Both first and second flight contenders were evenly matched. Jim Janicki won first flight with John Park, runner-up, Steve Hulce won 2nd flight with Mike Manley, runner-up. John Holmes won third flight with Mike Coxford, runner-up. In the girls' division, Gail Schnegg won first flight with Anna Zoet, a first year golfer, runner-up. Mary Ann Sincok qualified for second flight and had the field to herself.

The two-day competition provided a large gallery with a display of fine golf play and plenty of excitement. In Monday's semi-finals, Joe Light and Gerry Scott went four holes in sudden death to determine Tuesday's play.

Dick Borso and Paul McKeever played through the second hole after their match to qualify Borso for the second round of play. Gary Fueling and Jim Janicki and Mike Manley and Terry Holt took an extra hole for Manley and Janicki to come out on top.

Because of Michigan Amateur rulings that an amateur cannot receive a award of over $3, where more than one prize was earned by a contestant, certificates were given. For low medalist in the Boys division for the tournament, certificates were given to Buck Zornow and Bob Beck, with the trophy awarded to Gerry Scott. In the girls division, certificates were given to Sandy Pentecost, Joan Reas, Sue Reas, Gail Schnegg, with Nadine Criger's 79 earning her the trophy.

For the league awards, Buck Zornow had no competition to match his score of 35 and was given the trophy (Continued on Page 1B)

SPORTSEEN

By BILL NELSON

With softball and Little League baseball all but completed in Plymouth, there is a little lull before the crush of fall sports. There is now an opportunity to be helpful to our neighbors, the Tigers of Detroit.

Earlier, we have mentioned that the Tigers had a considerable chance to win the American League pennant and also we have mentioned that Al Kaline would be the key in September, because of his talent and experience.

There is another factor. Charlie Maxwell.

Charlie Maxwell should be in the lineup every day for at least two weeks, if only to see if he is capable of one of those hot streaks that have endeared him to Tiger fans everywhere.

The next question: Who do you take out of the outfield?

Answer: Kaline — but you put him on third base. Or you put Colavito or Bruton on third. That way you have more power in the lineup and you have sacrificed some fielding. With Chico Fernandez at short, however, you can afford to experiment defensively with third basemen.

Sound nutty?

Not so. For years baseball men have been willing to switch outfielders to first and vice-versa, but have been unwilling to experiment out there. Sometimes they'll make an outfielder out of a catcher.

The time has come to break with tradition. Think of the effect Kaline, Colavito, Cash and Maxwell would have on opposing pitchers. They would almost be as fearsome as Maris and Mantle.

At this hectic date this would seem worth a try until Steve Boros recovers.

Who would pinch hit? Maxwell with four swings a game ought to be better than Maxwell with one. Additionally, if the Tigers were leading late in the game, one of the infielders could be substituted as a defensive measure. With four power hitters in the lineup it's more likely that the Tigers would be leading late in the game.

It would tend to shift the emphasis from one of batting juggling late in the game to defensive juggling. The fact that this hasn't been tried already seems to be typical of the conservative thinking that dominates that national game.

With the exception of New York, of course. Elston Howard, Yogi Berra and others may show up anywhere, it seems. And the Yankees do win an occasional pennant.

With a little free time, it just seemed the neighborly thing to offer this advice to the Tigers.

"CHARGE IT" AT KRESGE'S

Co-Chairman Is Named for Redford, Livonia Torch Drive

Appointment of Mr. A. Russell Clarke as co-chairman for Community Business was announced this week by Mrs. Cyril M. Brown, 1961 Torch Drive chairman for the Northwestern Wayne County Region.

"Mr. Clarke has a long background of Torch Drive service," Mrs. Brown stated. "Last year he served as Northville Community business chairman. In this role, with important help from local businessmen, he led his team to an over quota performance. We are happy to have his leadership available in this broader responsibility," Mrs. Brown concluded.

Mr. Clarke is a vice-president of the Manufacturers National Bank in charge of its Northville branch. He will be responsible for planning and organizing Torch Drive solicitation of local businesses in the Northwestern Wayne County Region's five divisions: Northville, Livonia, Redford Township, North Dearborn Township, and Garden City.

The 1961 Torch Drive begins Tuesday, Oct. 17.

E. C. KLOTZBURGER, General Motors vice president and general manager of Fisher Body Division (left), congratulates Richard Held, 16693 Bell Creek Lane, Livonia (center), and John Marvin, 15617 Norborne, Redford Township (right) who both won $3,000 university scholarships in the 1961 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition. Be-Boys' fathers are GM employees.

It's Tourney Time

It's state tournament time for Livonia's baseball and softball champions.

Battling at Wayne this week are the Tennyson Tigers (Class F), Redlegs (Class E) and Plymouth Elks (Class D), all winners during the regular season's campaigning in Livonia's Recreation baseball program.

The Tigers are hopeful of bringing Livonia its second straight state Class F crown for boys in the 11-13-year-old age bracket. The Redlegs are made up of boys 14 and 15, while the Elks have boys 16-18 on their rosters.

If they can come through at Wayne, the Livonia teams then will advance to the state meets proper. At Wayne play is limited to district representatives.

District action, the first phase of the trail to state laurels, also is underway in softball.

General Sports for Livonia is in Trenton for the State-District Class B meet. Chevrolet Spring is carrying the Livonia hopes in the district Class C tourney at Allen Park.

Livonia has two entries in the Class D district meet at Dearborn. They are Silver Bar and Carlings.

Nick's Barber Shop and Organized Church were to open a best-of-three series to decide Livonia's slow-pitch league baseball championship.

Area Boy Breaks Bard Barrier at Stratford Shakespearean Festival

By George Spelvin

Persistence pays dividends and answers dreams. Gary Krawford, local Wayne State University student now appearing in the second season with the Stratford Festival company, informed George such was the case with his career.

Old George met Gary at the stage door. His 20 years were evident as he jounced quickly up the stairs to the Green Room. "Guess we can talk in here."

I looked around at the comfortable chairs, bookcases, and a sleepy actor taking a fast 40 winks. "We won't bother him. He doesn't appear in 'Henry VIII,'" Gary quickly assured me.

"What about the 'K' in your last name. Any special reason for it?"

Gary smiled and explained his folks were of Polish descent. All that remained of the old-country name was the "K." With that startling fact out of the way we plunged into more significant matters. And, no doubt, Gary was happy since he is usually asked that question by all curious reporters.

"How did you get interested in a career that embraces acting in one of the top Shakespearean troupes of this country?"

"It all goes back to a day when I was 14 years old. My uncle had a job with the Stratford Festival folks when they operated in the big tent. He wanted me to come and pay him a visit. The thought of seeing Shakespeare in the summer in a tent did little to thrill me. If he had had a job at Briggs Stadium selling hot dogs I might have felt more excited. However, I agreed to the visit."

Gary leaned back on the couch and closed his eyes momentarily, and pulled evenly on his cigarette.

Through the smoke you could see him slowly visualize that first visit to Stratford. Suddenly he spoke with an inward intensity that did little to betray his real feelings. "I'll never be able to express how I felt after seeing that first performance of Shakespeare in the tent. I came backstage to my uncle and told him that someday I'd be in the Festival company."

"How did you put the wheels into motion?"

"I bombarded the Festival folks with a series of letters. They answered them all, politely and kindly. I kept my correspondence up hoping that one day they might grant me an audition. Meanwhile I took some speech classes, did some dramatic work at Wayne State (Gary played in Chekhov's 'Three Sisters,' Ibsen's 'Enemy of the People,' and the lead role in 'Waltz of the Toreadors'), and kept hoping for the big break."

"And when did it come?"

"In the spring of 1960 I received a letter indicating that I had been granted an audition. From the successful audition to three minor roles of the 1960 season was a short hop physically, but a long jump career-wise. And this year I hit the jackpot and landed a featured role in 'Love's Labour's Lost.'"

"What about the future?"

"I really should go back to Wayne State, but I'm afraid I'm going to let that wait for a bit. I want to travel with the Canadian Players on tour for some additional experience. After that, some schooling at the London School for Dramatic Arts. Young George and I thanked Gary for taking time out from a busy schedule to talk with us. He showed us the historic fourth folio of Shakespeare's 'Henry VIII,' gave us a few inside stories about the rehearsal weeks, and finally posed for a couple of pictures. All too soon it was time for him to don his costume and make-up for the evening performance.

We rushed around to the front of the house, thinking about the vagaries of "show biz." Here was a lad buried deep in the heart of bustling Detroit with nary a thought in his head for the Bard... when suddenly a chance visit to an uncle in Stratford has sent rushing forth into a new career. Who knows, Gary might well follow in the footsteps of Larry Olivier, John Gielgud, or Christopher Plummer.

Oh, yes, we enjoyed Gary's thespic efforts that evening and recommend that you travel over the bridge and see how effective Shakespeare is being presented in the Festival city of Ontario—Stratford. Remember this important fact: order your tickets well in advance—at least two weeks. They dust off the S.R.O. nightly in this town that has gone buggy over the Bard.

Veterans of Foreign War's

Another Juke Box Dance will be held at the Post home on August 26 starting at 9:30 p.m. There is no admission charge. Come out and bring your friends.

We have two Post members who have been in the hospital. We hope both of them, J. I. Birtles and Ken Schifle, have a speedy recovery.

The color guard will be making final preparations and practice this week for the Miami competition.

If anyone has any ideas for raising money for the Post building fund, please call Eddie Olson at GL 3-0332.

On Sept. 17, the Fourth District Rally for men will be held at our Post and the women will meet at Northville. This would be an excellent time for members who have not attended one of these meetings to attend this one.

Auxiliary

Tuesday, August 29 is the date of the Fourth District Planning Conference to be held at Fort Dearborn, and all chairmen and officers are urged to keep the date open and attend if at all possible.

We would like to extend get well wishes to Gladys McBride who is ill in Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn. Remember to save your luggage for the sale to be held in Sept.

Let us urge you again to write on the bill, R. 673 immediately. This bill is explained in the August issue of the MOV, or information can be obtained from the chairman, Norma McKindles. These bills are of the utmost importance to veterans and their families and our goal can be obtained only through the cooperation of all members.

Sunday, August 20 is the date of the annual trip to the National Home. Please try to attend and call Ioma Bassett for further information.

GARY KRAWFORD, an active member of the Stratford Festival Company, was interviewed by George Spelvin in the Green Room of the Festival Theater. Gary is one of two Detroit people that are a part of the 1961 company. Nelson Phillips, a U of D student, appears in some of the minor roles. Gary has the featured role of Dumain in 'Love's Labour's Lost' and has a speaking role in 'Coriolanus.' In 'Henry VIII' his presence is required on stage, but no lines. Last season he appeared in all three productions as an apprentice and worked "spear-carrying" parts. Good experience for years to come and Gary has many years yet to act in Shakespearean productions since he has just finished his freshman year at Wayne State University.

Lawrence Cowger

Lawrence J. Cowger, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cowger of 7264 Joy Rd., is home on a 14-day leave from Great Lakes Naval Training Center, Ill. He will be stationed on the USS Sierra in Norfolk, Va. as a fireman apprentice and will study to become a machinist mate.

Family-Test a flameless electric water heater!

DETROIT EDISON GUARANTEES SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

Want a water heater that's "satisfaction guaranteed"?

Here's all you do: Buy a flameless electric water heater that bears the H₂O-T guarantee. Family-test it. Call on it for plenty of hot water day after day. Get all the hot water you need, or your money back!

What does "satisfaction guaranteed" mean? Just this—if at any time within one year after purchase of your flameless electric water heater you are dissatisfied with its performance, just let us know. We'll remove it and return the full purchase price, including any installation charge. This guarantee covers any Edison-approved electric water heater, sized according to the recommendations given at right, and installed in a dwelling of up to and including four-family in the Detroit Edison service area. This Edison satisfaction guarantee is in addition to the manufacturer's own warranty.

Where to buy? That's easy, too. At appliance dealers, plumbing contractors or Detroit Edison offices where you see the H₂O-T satisfaction guaranteed seal.

Family-test a flameless electric water heater for yourself. Get all the hot water you need or your money back!

John Jay served as United States minister to Australia from 1909 to 1917.

Friends and I Ladies Gather During Vacation

The Duff's with accompaniment by her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyster Wick of Grandville, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elders of Alaska during their recent vacation here.

The family consists of Ferr Gohlke, who is a postal clerk in the Rhineland, (about 200 miles from Silken), Frau Gohlke, his wife, a daughter, Rosemary, 24, who also works in the Rhineland, and Ulrich, 19, who will graduate from the 10th grade of the Gymnasium. After graduation, the family plans to move to the Rhineland.

Silken is only a few miles from the larger port city of Rinteln (about 13,000), which is located on the Weser River. These localities have real histories. One can still see the ancient walls which surrounded Rinteln. The church we attended was built in the 9th century while in the 30's Silken celebrated its 1000th anniversary. Medieval castles and other fortifications in the surrounding countryside are a constant reminder of a Germany of long ago.

Soon after my arrival, Ulrich proudly took me to the high hill near Silken where, in front of us we could see the lovely Weser River Valley and to the sides, the rolling country. This is an agricultural area with grain crops, milk, and meat. Most of the houses are built on the hillside and are quite different from any which we would find in Michigan or the U.S.A. With hay in the attic, wagons and equipment in a large room in the center of

The house, livestock in an adjoining shed, they often keep swine, chicken and cattle in the backyards. It is not uncommon to see cattle being herded to and from nearby pastures. In spite of the adjoining livestock, we have no need for screens at the windows, as Germany seems free of flies and mosquitoes.

Although I have seen some tractors, horses aren't out of style for farming here. They are now harvesting hay. They cut it and then place it to dry on tontike racks made of sticks or boards. Most of the houses are two stories with large attics in which they store the hay. This hay acts as an insulator and is handy to feed the cattle in the winter.

There is no unemployment problem here in Germany. (Perhaps this is the reason why it is not difficult for the East Germans, by the thousands, to locate in West Germany). Virtually everyone is working and nearly 650,000 Italians, Greeks and Spaniards have been brought in to work in factories. Although their standard of living are not as high as ours at home, at the present rate of economical growth, I think it would be safe to say that in the next 10 years their standards will be the equivalent of ours today. One cannot help admiring these people, who have bounced back so capably after being twice defeated and so devastated. Their roads are excellent—mostly all black-topped. The people are industrious, thrifty and exceedingly clean.

Although my German brother, Uli, and I haven't done much traveling so far, we are planning to see some of Germany and Europe in the remaining month. We have planned a trip through Southern Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, France, and back through the Rhineland. We shall make this trip on a used motorcycle purchased for $20. During the week of August 11-18, we are going to Berlin with Uli's graduation class. This is a traditional trip for graduates.

Here most people travel by bus, motorcycle, moped (a motor driven bike) or bicycle. Only about one family in 12 has a car. Autos are highly taxed and driver licenses are very costly.

Test Soil Before Buying, Salem Supervisor Advises

People wanting to build homes in Salem Township are finding it more and more difficult to obtain sewage disposal permits because of a code adopted by the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors last February, Salem Supervisor Harlow Ingall said this week.

The code, submitted by the Health Committee of the Board, said that the sewage disposal permit must be obtained before a building permit can be issued.

"Property owners, realtors and would be purchasers of land for home sites are all affected by this situation," Ingall said, "and having this land—particularly our clay soils—tested and approved by the County Board of Health before purchases are consummated, could be to their mutual advantage."

"We realize the effect this is having in Salem, and to other townships as well, and feel that it is very urgent that our people understand the situation," the supervisor added.

He noted, however, that there may be a silver lining to this dark cloud.

"With our county planners and Health Department insisting that most of our soil should be used for farming and having the power to carry out that plan, how long can the State Tax Commission value our land at suburban prices?" Supervisor Ingall asked.

"We have already presented this matter to the County Board of Supervisors and others who have some influence. Information in regard to prices asked or received for land could often be used to our advantage."

Ingall said that an attorney general's opinion in 1957 held that county codes requiring sewage disposal permits cannot be avoided by the township enacting its own building code.

City Tennis Tournney Ends

The Plymouth City Tennis Tournament came to an end last week with Larry Zaitzeff of Detroit winning the men's singles and sharing the doubles honors with Jim Hayes of Detroit.

Held on the High School courts, the tournney drew 40 entries, according to Jim Stevens, chairman of the tournney. Zaitzeff defeated Craig Henzel of Royal Oak for the singles crown.

(Continued from Page 1) is a three foot plane that is 3 1/2 feet long and weighs 5,800 pounds. It is powered by a J-35 Allison turbo-jet engine.

It presents a unique appearance due to the use of distinctive outboard spousons which act as lifts and stabilizers. It was conceived by Evans. The Aluminum Company of America joined the effort and provided the two tons of aluminum sheets and stampings for the streamlined craft.

"When does a boat become an airplane?" one of the reporters asked as he viewed pictures of the boat skimming above water with just three points touching.

"The big problem is keeping the boat from becoming airborne," Staudacher admitted. He claims there is enough power to go up to 500 miles an hour. Staudacher says that he has shot the boat down again. "I've no doubt that she's capable of a new record."

Campbell's Bluebird is similar in appearance to the Stars and Stripes but it was made of steel instead of aluminum and Campbell's engine developed 4,400 pounds of thrust instead of 5,800.

A COMMON sight on Michigan airports this week will be pilots and navigators checking their charts and getting ready for the 1961 Annual Michigan Air Rally. Charles Rappeley and his wife Barbara are shown working out a navigational problem in preparation for the rally at Mettetal Airport this Sunday.

Fliers Participate In Air Rally Here Sunday

The checkered flag is really flying this weekend. Not a sports car rally as one might think, but the Annual Michigan Air Rally.

Mettetal Airport will be full of activity Sunday morning when pilots from all over the state will arrive flying aircraft of the latest models, including many home built and antiques.

These pilots and their navigators will take part in an exercise of navigation and piloting skill over a 140 mile triangular course.

Some will fly solo, some with navigators, and others will take the family on a Sunday air tour over the Rally route.

Before take off, each pilot will figure his ground speed, then board his plane for about 90 minutes of precision competition.

Seconds really count; because for each second a pilot is off his time of arrival, he is given one point. The lucky aerial sportsman with the lowest number of points will be awarded a cash prize and trophy.

The Aviation Sports Club of Michigan asks that any pilot wishing to participate arrive at Mettetal Airport, Plymouth between 8 and 10 a.m. this Sunday.

All of the boys were members last season of the Plymouth V.F.W. hockey team. The trip has been endorsed by the V.F.W. and Plymouth Recreation Department.

According to James McKindles, manager of the team, the team has received assistance in the past from Mrs. Roberta Steele of Cadillac Drapery who made duffle bags and from Otto Bufe of Blunk's Inc., who provided carpet for wrapping goal posts and goalie gloves.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

PLYMOUTH

By HUGH C. BRONAUGH, Manager

A SIGNIFICANT MILESTONE IN FREE ENTERPRISE was reached recently when Mr. and Mrs. Hugh T. Polson of Wichita, Kan., together became the 2,000,000th AT&T share owner.

Thus, the Bell System becomes the first privately owned business in history to be owned by so many people—people from all walks of life. This is a prime example of people's capitalism in action—a dramatic testimonial to the American economic system—democracy in action. Incidentally, just 10 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Brady Denton of Saginaw jointly became the 1,000,000th AT&T share owner.

WHEREVER YOU ARE this summer, chances are you'll be near a public telephone—whether it's an indoor booth or the familiar outdoor booth, or the handy new Walk-Up or Drive-Up variety. Any one of them—and there are more than 45,000 in Michigan—is your "phone away from home."

PRODUCING A RABBIT out of a hat is a startling feat of magic—much like the "magic" produced by Bell System scientists. A good example is a new way to increase the capacity of transatlantic cables. The equipment seeks out the pauses which are a part of every telephone conversation and uses them for extra calls. This remarkable achievement doubles the capacity of undersea cables. It's this kind of ingenuity that helps keep your phone costs low while providing you with ever-improving service.

FEATURED ARTISTS at the Dunning-Hough Library for the next few months are these five members of the Three Cities Art Club. Miss Linda Edgerton and her mother, Mrs. Kate Edgerton,

Five Contribute to New Art Exhibit at Library

Five artist members of the Three Cities Art Club of Plymouth, Livonia and Northville have placed their works on exhibit at the Dunning-Hough Library.

Taking part in the current revolving exhibit are Mable Bacon, 10151 Joy Rd., Plymouth; Marjorie Becker, 47040 Timberlane, Northville; Orville Barron, 38600 Six Mile, Livonia and Kate and Linda Edgerton, 571 Randolph, Northville.

Mrs. Bacon, with four years of painting experience, is self-taught. She has exhibited at the Rackham Galleries, Ann Arbor; the Michigan State Fair, at Birmingham and Ann Arbor Summer Festivals, in addition to the Three Cities Art Club exhibits. She is current president of the club.

She has recently been experimenting with Acrylic resin paints and enameled. During Michigan Week in 1958 she won a first place award in an art contest.

Marjorie Becker is exhibiting watercolors. She is coordinator of elementary art education in Livonia as well as being a practicing artist. She received her bachelor degree from Eastern Michigan and her master's degree from Wayne State.

Mrs. Becker's paintings have been accepted in several regional and state exhibits and have won for her several awards. She once had a hand puppet go around the world in a traveling exhibit of puppets and marionettes.

Orville Barron is represented by oil and water colors depicting his interest in boats and sailing. He is an industrial accountant but enjoys being a gentleman farmer too.

Kate and Linda Edgerton are a mother and daughter team. Mrs. Kate Edgerton is showing pottery and weaving. She is a craft teacher for the Lola Valley Junior High School in Redford Union, teaches ceramics, jewelry making and leathercraft in the Redford Union Adult Education program and offers classes in these crafts in her home studio. Mrs. Edgerton holds a bachelor degree from Wayne State University.

Linda will be showing her distinctive jewelry incorporating exotic woods, silver, copper and enamels. She is a school librarian but also offers courses in enameling in the YWCA and in the home studio Miss Edgerton also holds a degree, from Wayne State University.

What Not To Expect of College

By O. B. Jones, President Detroit College of Applied Science

Don't expect that it will be as easy to "get by" as it was in high school. Private colleges depend upon donations from their alumni for financial support. The alumni are constantly striving to add to the prestige of their alma mater and insist upon rigid disciplines regarding admissions and constant testing throughout the courses to screen out misfits and laggards. Financial and advisory support from industry, resulting in employment opportunities for graduating students, is based upon quite rigid adherence to suggestions by industry concerning content of each course and insistence upon high scholastic attainment as a prerequisite for graduation. Tax-supported colleges compete with one another for recognition and prestige. Prestige comes only from the superior records of performance of graduated students.

Don't expect that a college education will make a "bed of roses" of your life. A look around you at college graduates should convince anyone that they are the busiest and most ambitious dwellers in your community. Perhaps the greatest thing college did for them was to give them faith in the future and in themselves. They have a vision and a goal.

Don't expect that a college can fit you for immediate, high-salaried employment. Don't imagine that colleges are ahead of industry in many techniques. Industry has been employing the most highly skilled and highly intelligent personnel over a period of many years, some college graduates and some not. The processes they have developed are much beyond the understanding of even the best trained and most highly intelligent without many months or, in many cases, years of study and intimate experience with the operation.

Don't expect that your college training won't quickly become obsolete. A recent survey pertaining to employment in one of the four leading and oldest types of engineering indicates that it is better economy for an employer to dispense with the services of the average engineer who has been in its employ for the past ten years after graduation and hire someone just graduated to fill his job. This indicates that a practicing engineer, or scientist, should do a two-year stint in college after the first ten years of practice and continue on this schedule throughout his worklife.

Don't expect your college training to make you happy concerning the extent or the profundity of your knowledge. If you do not learn enough to be humbled by the extent of your ignorance you will not receive a diploma.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Readers: So many of you, teenagers and parents, Protestant and Catholic, clergymen and otherwise, have asked for copies of the previous "Under 21" column in which arguments against a mixed-religion marriage were told, that I'm repeating the column.

The questions used in this column first appeared in the Hi-Time Magazine and represent questions Catholic young people should ask themselves before becoming too serious over someone of a different faith.

Although we'll use a Catholic girl as our principal subject, asking herself the questions as she considers marriage to a Protestant boy, this in no way reflects against that Protestant boy or any Protestant boy. The questions are simply questions which reflect common sense type of thinking and should mean as much to the Protestant boy as they do to the Catholic girl.

1. What will you do if he announces he doesn't want children and wishes to resort to artificial birth control?
2. Will your husband cheerfully eat fish on Friday or will you have to prepare two menus?
3. Will you be able to hang a Crucifix in the bedroom, not to mention the living room? Some non-Catholics consider such religious emblems to be nothing more than idols.
4. How will he answer your children's questions about religion?
5. How will you divide your church support? Will he want to support a Catholic school when there is a public school on the same block?
6. What will you tell your children when they ask why Daddy goes to another church or to none at all?
7. What religious practices will you drop in order to maintain peace? What compromise will you make? Will you say prayers before meals? If so, whose? Will you be able to have the family rosary?
8. How will you answer "in-laws" who might raise matters of religion within your home?
9. Will you feel free to caution your teenagers against a mixed marriage which you yourself have entered?
10. In the inevitable family quarrels, will you be able to hold your tongue without resorting to sarcasm based on religious prejudices?
11. Will your husband be able to inculcate Catholic attitudes toward sex education, steady dating, modesty, courtship and the permanence of a marriage bond if he doesn't share your views on them?
12. Do you think your husband will enjoy seeing his children brought up in a religion he doesn't believe in? Would he tend to want to share his religion with them?
13. Will you be able to have Catholic newspapers and magazines around the house without hurting his feelings or damaging his sensibilities?

14. How long will you keep getting up for Mass on Sunday when (and if) he stays in that warm bed?

"Hi-Time" stressed that the 14 foregoing questions were only a few of the very basic problems a Catholic girl would encounter in marrying outside of her religion. In fairness to the boy involved, she wouldn't be able to understand much of his religious thinking.

Statistics show that four per cent of Catholic marriages end in divorce while 20 per cent of "mixed marriages" wind up in court.

If Catholic, Protestant and Jewish clergy agree on anything, it's the dangers of a marriage between people of different religions.

If you're facing such a problem now or know you will be, even if you're a Protestant boy considering marriage to a girl of another Protestant religion, see your clergyman right now.

About 5 per cent of wives in the United States have jobs outside the home.

Roughly 25,500,000 children are enrolled in the nation's public schools. Private and parochial school enrollment totals 4 million.

How's Business?

By Roger W. Babson

To support his determination to keep West Berlin free and to discourage future Soviet-inspired jostling elsewhere in the world, President Kennedy has requested and received an additional $3½ billion in defense money. This raises the total allocated for defense spending in the current fiscal year to about $47 billion. Moreover, he plans to keep the nation in a state of military preparedness for an indeterminate length of time.

With business already in a natural recovery phase, the step-up in government spending gives a new perspective to the economic outlook. The shift in emphasis toward conventional arms and equipment rather than nuclear or space-age weapons, at least for the newly acquired funds, should diffuse the effects of such spending through a wider spectrum of the economy and add momentum to the upward trend in general business.

Heretofore, despite the business upturn, both businessmen and consumers have bought sparingly. The change to a "quasi-war" climate, however, should evoke some "just in case" buying. This should add to the natural step-up in buying induced by rising industrial activity, higher incomes, and more buoyant public sentiment.

Hence, the problem of inflation should again loom large. Prospects are that the government's budget deficit will soar sharply over the near term. Furthermore, improved business and employment, and rising business profits, will tend to make labor leaders even more aggressive. However, excess productive capacity and resources should act as a deterrent to serious early inflation. Improved demand will tend to strengthen price structures, but the economy can produce both guns and consumer goods in sufficient quantities to forestall shortages in the event of only "brush-fire" wars. Hence, the real danger of inflation psychology may lodge in the stock market rather than elsewhere.

Realistic Social Studies Help Child Face World

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The "wooden shoe-windmill-tulip" type of social studies is not adequate for today's modern child who gets his information, attitudes, and conduct signals from the far corners of the globe — and who may soon be getting them from outer space.

According to spokesmen for the National Council for the Social Studies (NCSS), a department of the National Education Association, social problems and their solutions, even if controversial, must be faced honestly at all levels in school.

"Sweetness and light — the glossing over of filth, disease, prejudice, starvation, death — can no longer be tolerated," said Dr. Harold Drummond of George Peabody College, Nashville, at a recent NCSS meeting. And a book published by the same organization forecasts profound changes in the teaching of social studies in the next 20 years. The book suggests that in addition to the present heavy history basis for social studies, more emphasis will be placed on the social sciences and economics in an attempt to contribute to the student's understanding of the contemporary world.

What could this mean for your child?

It may mean that he will start studying serious social problems, usually reserved for high school, at an

Roadside Stand Named in Suit

A Salem Township property owner brought suit Monday seeking to stop the sale of farm produce from a rather elaborate "roadside stand" on Territorial Rd. near Curtis.

Angelo Di Ponio asked Washtenaw County Circuit Court to stop the activity being conducted by Denver Cockrum, a Salem Township resident and owner of the property.

Through Attorney George Scherman, the plaintiff contends that the produce being marketed is raised on land elsewhere, and that this results in a "commercial" activity not permitted by the AG zoning on the Territorial Rd. parcel.

Di Ponio also charged that action by the Township Board was illegal on the night of June 12 when it "approved" a "motion" which said:

"Because public opinion in Salem Township seems to be almost unanimously in favor of allowing a farmer to grow produce at one or several locations and to sell said produce at one stand under proper rules and regulations, it is therefore moved that the resolution adopted by the Board on January 3, 1961 be repealed."

Di Ponio said that a large walk-in refrigerator and other "permanent type" installations had been made by Cockrum and that "the defendant is not engaged in a general, farming enterprise in the traditional and established manner."

Circuit Judge James R. Breakey, Jr. ordered the parties to return August 22 and show cause why an injunction should not be issued halting the operation.

WHAT IS more fun than going to the circus? Nothing, unless it is being in a circus. Peter Gadebusch, the fellow with the phenomenal nose, Scotty Nairn, the strong man, Chris Roberts, the fat lady, and Kathy Nairn, the bearded lady, were only a few of the attractions in the center ring located in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Finch Roberts' home on Ann Arbor Trail.

Special Honor Goes To Court Reporter

At the 60th Annual Convention of the National Short-hand Reporters Association at Philadelphia last week three Michigan Reporters won special recognition when they qualified for the Certificate of Merit. Among the three was freelance reporter, Warner Brown of Bay City, former Bay Circuit Court Reporter and currently president of the Michigan Court Reporters Association.

Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Brown of Sheridan Ave., Plymouth.

Up to this time only one Michigan reporter has held this honor. There are now approximately 75 reporters so qualified in the entire country.

Jr. Golf

For low medalist. In the girls division, Sandy Pentecost and Joan Reas received certificates with Sue Reas earning the trophy. Medals for point winners went to Gerry Scott, certificate, David Hoffman, medal, John Park, certificate, Bill Pentecost, medal, Skip Otwell, medal, John Duke, medal, Steve Holmes, medal, Dick Borso, medal, Paul McKeever, medal, David Dunlap, medal, Don Burleson, medal, Jim Eder, medal. For the girls, Gail Schnegg and Nadine Criger received certificates and Susan Niepoh, a medal.

One of the hottest contenders throughout the season of play and the two day tournament was John Park. In the seven weeks of play, he brought his handicap down 10 points so had no difficulty in qualifying for the certificate awarded to most improved player in the advanced division.

Forty-four boys and girls enrolled in the Beginners Division this year and had hourly lessons from Chris Burghardt, pro, for four weeks and then with their newly learned skill, had two weeks of play. Tim Nuoffer and Jacqueline Joslin were presented silver trophies for most improved swing. All other members of this division received medals as a reward for their interest and hard work this season.

The Plymouth Jaycees, in cooperation with the Recreation Department, sponsored the PJGA this year and furnished awards. The committee is grateful to them and to all the persons who served as walkers this year. Without their interest there would be no Junior Golf.

Installation of 17th District officers will be held Sunday August 20 at 2 p. m. at the Passage-Gayde Post Home, 888 N. Sheildon Rd. Refreshments will be served after the program. Let's have a good representation from our Post and Unit. The public is cordially invited.

Attending the testimonial dinner held at the Lloyd H. Green Post Home in Northville for Lisle Alexander from our Post and Unit were: 17th District Commander, Ernest Koi and Mrs. E. (Dorothy) Koi, Past Department Historian, 17th District President, Mrs. R. (Melva) Gardner and Ray Gardner, Commander and Mrs. R. (Maxine) Kunz, Past 17th District President. Following the dinner and program, Lisle Alexander and Mrs. Alexander attended our dance which was given in honor of his retirement. Approximately 50 well-wishers from the 2nd, 12th, 16th and 17th Districts attended. The newly elected State Commander

"Mike" Taylor and Mrs. Taylor of Cadillac and three past state commanders, Jack Carey, and Mrs. Carey of Grand Blanc, Giles Reeves and Mrs. Reeves, Bill Morrison and Mrs. Morrison of Detroit also attended the dance.

Attending the Lloyd H. Green Auxiliary installation of officers were Melva Gardner, 17th district president, Marion Kot, president, Mildred Hower, Maxine Kunz and Fern Burson. Installing officer was Betty Wilcox, Past 17th District President and Maxine Kunz was Sgt-at-arms. A lovely cake and ice cream was enjoyed following the ceremony.

Marion Kot, president, announces that a committee meeting will be held for the Auxiliary, Thursday, Aug. 24 at 8 p. m. at the Post Home. All members please try to attend and help us plan our coming programs.

Apprentice Workshop Seeks Local Thespians

"Send us your tired, your hungry, your anxious teenagers, and oldsters that want to do some acting and putting on shows," shouted Jacob Rump to the broad fields surrounding Bartlett School out on Canton Center Road way. On the evening of Aug. 24 (Thursday) Rump plans on starting an apprentice program for any and all folks that are interested in theatricals.

The first two meetings of the group, Aug. 24 and 31 will be held out at the Theater Guild Workshop (the old Bartlett School on Canton Center Rd. near Warren Rd.) Other meetings of the group will be held in the Plymouth High School. Meetings will start at 8 p. m. and will be over by 9:30 p. m. Organizational plans will be made and Rump stresses that everyone in the Plymouth and Livonia area is surely welcome.

Choice of two styles: Solid color jacket and trousers with matching vest that reverses to contrasting cotton suede-or-ivy plaid jackets with solid color trousers and contrasting reversible vest. Value-priced at $32.50.

Leib Brothers' complete campus shop features a wide selection of other corduroy favorites:

- FASHION-NEW VESTS in fine cotton corduroy. Two pockets, adjustable back strap. Gold, Red, Black or Pewter 4.95
- NEW IVY-LOOK SKINNIES — Narrow, trim-leg corduroy slacks! Newest no-cuff models with inside adjustable side tabs... no belt needed! Olive or Antelope 4.95

Old School House Displayed at Wonderland

The Back-to-School season starts at Wonderland Shopping Center, Plymouth and Middlebelt Roads in Livonia to commemorate Back-to-School.

An authentic Little Red School House type grandstand, complete with a pool, will be erected on the Main Mall. Modern day youngsters will be able to compare the facilities now have against the lack of conveniences associated with learning around the turn of the century.

Boston's First Church of Christ Scientist was dedicated June 10, 1906.
