

Two Hundred Plymouth Mothers March Tuesday Against Cripple

Two hundred women will stage their annual march for funds next Tuesday in Plymouth City and Township to fight the cripples of arthritis, birth defects and polio.

The Mothers' March is the climax of the annual March of Dimes Drive in Plymouth and across the nation. Local drive leaders point out that their past efforts have resulted in the prevention of polio and now the dimes and dollars will help researchers work against birth defects and arthritis.

The March will be held in the daytime in Plymouth Township while mothers in the City will go from house to house from 7 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Olson, chairman of the Mothers' March, announces that her volunteers expect to call at every home, whether City porchlights are burning or not. For the convenience and safety of workers, however, it is urged that porchlights be turned on.

Workers will bear March of Dimes identification while carrying their Mason jars.

Mrs. Olson also announced the following area chairmen: Mrs. Bill Young, Mrs. Roger Bogenschutz, Mrs. Elexis Skoglund, Mrs. Jack Olsaver, Mrs. Harry Luce, Mrs. Robert Spayth, Mrs. Louis Jary, Mrs. Gerald Olson, Mrs. Roland Jarskey and Mrs. Robert Diekman.

Following the March, volunteers will return to the Veteran's Memorial Home for refreshments served by the Girl Scouts.

Ninety-two Plymouth children were on the sidewalks last Saturday selling peanuts for the New March of Dimes. They collected $297.53.

A "thanks" is extended to Kresge's and Dickerson's Market for allotting space to the young volunteers.

School Board Considers Pay Hike Requests

If the teaching staff of the Plymouth Community School District is given the pay adjustment that they have asked, it will cost $162,400 during the coming year, the Board of Education has been told.

Barbour To Head Fund Directors

Robert K. Barbour, assistant vice-president of the Plymouth office of the National Bank of Detroit, was elected president of the Plymouth Community Fund Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting held last week.

The Board also received a request for a pay increase by school custodians late last week and has been asked by elementary school principals for a pay hike.

The Annual Meeting, held the third Tuesday in January, attracted 25 people, most of them representatives of the agencies supported by the Community Fund, and the Board members themselves.

Saturday morning the Board went into special session to go to work on a preliminary budget. The budget cannot be considered without figuring in proposed pay increases.

Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister was elected vice-president of the Board. Election of treasurer has been postponed until the next meeting.

Two weeks ago, representatives of the Plymouth Education Assn. presented a 53-page report showing where Plymouth teachers stood in relation with the pay received in other school districts and with professional and non-professional people in area industry. A $300 general increase and a revision in the salary schedule itself were among the proposals.

Four directors elected at the meeting were the Rev. David Davies, pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, Robert Barbour, Mrs. Katherine Huber, 9429 S. Main St., and Edward Sawusch, manager of Anchor Coupling, Mrs. Huber and Mr. Sawusch are both new members.

Assistant Superintendent in charge of business affairs Melvin Blunk said that a preliminary computation of the PEA request showed that it would cost $162,400. This figure is out of 1.6 mills.

The retiring president, Hugh Griffin, also appointed Dr. William Covington, a Plymouth dentist, to fill a vacancy. Griffin submitted his resignation to the board two months ago because of a new position which makes him unavailable for meetings.

The school custodians, represented by the International Union of Operating Engineers, submitted six demands to the Board through a letter.

Two members leaving the Board last week were Mrs. Carl Caplin and John Pint. Mrs. Caplin has been treasurer during the past year and at one time served as secretary of the Board. Pint left the Board after nine years of service, including one term as president.

It asked for 40 cents an hour increase, time and a half for overtime over eight hours a day or over 40 hours a week, double time on holidays and Sundays, a subsidy on hospitalization and surgical insurance, longevity pay established, terminal pay policy established, and that the present pay increment period be reduced from four years to one year.

Others remaining on the Board with Robert Barbour, Russell Isbister and the two new members, Edward Sawusch, Dr. Covington and Mrs. Huber, are City Manager Albert Glassford, Mrs. Marshall North, Township Treasurer, Elizabeth Holmes; Donald Sutherland of Sutherland and Robson; Frank Palmer, general manager of Paul J. Wiedman, Inc.; James Spenseller, managing editor of The Mail; and Rev. Davies.

The budget review, Blunk said, must take in such unknowns as the next fiscal year's state equalized valuation and the state aid formula.

Terms on the 12-member Board are for three years. (Continued on page 6)

The final budget will depend on how voters will react to a millage proposal that they will face in early April. Such a proposal would take into account 3.5 mills of operating millage that is expiring, additional funds needed for opening the new Junior High - West, and any pay increases.

There were no pay increases granted last year.

College President Appointed

The Board of Trustees of the Northwest Wayne County Community College has appointed Dr. Eric J. Bradner as president of the College.

The Board arrived at its decision to hire Dr. Bradner after an extended survey of potential candidates throughout Michigan and the Midwest. This survey was undertaken to assure the selection of the best qualified educator possible.

Dr. Bradner comes to the college with the highest of recommendations from other educators that he has worked with and for. He has over 20 years' experience in most all aspects of the Community College field, 11 years of which were as dean of the Bay City Junior College.

How to Check on Peddlers

He is past president of the Michigan Association of Junior Colleges, past secretary of the Michigan Council of Community College Administrators and has been a member of the Michigan Commission on College Accreditation for the past eight years.

Plymouth Township householders who are suspicious of house-to-house salesmen should ask the salesman to show their registration card from the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Bradner worked assiduously as coordinator of the two campaigns to sell the proposed Community College to the voters during 1961. He has continued as coordinator of the college since the Community College District was formed last October.

Engineers Check Structures In Program Sponsored by U.S.

A search for existing buildings that would serve as suitable fall-out shelters in the event of enemy attack has been started for the Plymouth community, the Plymouth and Wayne County Offices of Civil Defense announced at a meeting of Civil Defense leaders here last week.

Engineer Corps, along with the architectural firm of Giffels and Rossetti will have completed the survey. The preliminary survey will be made from insurance and tax assessment records of Plymouth on file in Detroit. After potential shelter structures are selected, a personal inspection will be made by the engineers.

By the end of January, the Army

A list of shelters will then be submitted to the local Civil Defense office and signs later erected directing the public where to go in case of attack.

200 Children, 3 Orchestras Perform Sunday

Music to please the ears of the young and the old will be heard this Sunday when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presents its annual Family Concert in the High School gymnasium at 4 p.m.

Details of the survey were announced by Plymouth CD director Albert Glassford and the assistant Wayne County Office of Civil Defense director, William Siebert at a meeting at Dunning-Hough Library. Attending were representatives of industry, businesses, schools, public institutions and government.

Not only has conductor Wayne Dunlap planned a program that appeals to the children, but over 200 children will actually participate in this program.

The search for suitable fall-out shelters in existing buildings is being carried out throughout Detroit and suburbs. On a national scale, the federal government is spending $96 million for the survey.

Assisting the 100 piece Plymouth Symphony will be the young members of the Plymouth Junior Symphony Orchestra, directed by Bettie Norman, and the Ferndale High School String Orchestra, directed by Kenneth Sanford.

Engineers will especially be interested in schools, area institutions, public buildings and downtown buildings.

Both Miss Norman and Mr. Sanford are members of the Symphony Orchestra.

Their findings will pinpoint suitable shelter in the Plymouth community in the event of enemy attack. Buildings selected as adequate will offer a protective factor of "20" or better and will house 50 people.

The Fifth and Sixth Grade Chorus of the Plymouth Community Schools will present a medley of traditional American Folk Songs as their contribution to the concert.

The figure "20" means there will be 20 times more protection inside the shelter than if one were exposed to direct fall-out.

The two featured soloists for the afternoon will be Carolyn R. Rabson of Ann Arbor and Louise Hauenstein, also an Ann Arbor resident and a member of the Plymouth Symphony for the past 10 years.

Protective structures will be provisioned with government issues of water, packaged food stuffs, radiological instruments, and some medicines, in case of a prolonged stay. These commodities will have a shelf-life of five years.

Mrs. Rabson's performance should be of particular interest because of the instrument on which she will perform, the recorder, was considered extinct by the beginning of the 20th century.

Shelter is the only answer for a saving lives," Siebert said in his talk before participating members of Plymouth Civil Defense.

While the government recommends community shelters as the ideal solution, it takes no positive steps toward construction. And the general public is left in something of a quandary as to whether it should go underground on its own or not.

Registration for the Plymouth Adult Education has been disappointingly slow, Director Herbert Woolweaver said yesterday at the Winter Term of activities nearing their start next week.

Community shelters are the most practical for urban areas," said Siebert. "For the average American who is dependent on social services. (Food, water, and fuel). Another distinct advantage to group shelters is the fact that there would be more minds to draw from to restore order after the attack."

"We are very disappointed with the response this time," Woolweaver declared. "It may be that people don't want some of the courses that are being offered. If a large enough group is interested in something else, we are always ready to try it out."

But, for the suburban or rural sections, individually built home shelters would certainly save many people who would otherwise perish," Siebert continued.

For most courses, a minimum of 10 people is required before it opens. Even some of the old favorites, such as Upholstering, Cake Decorating, Swedish Gym and Charm and Beauty, may not open because of the lack of students.

"The Russian government would have us believe that they are making no preparations for war defense. Such is not the case.

Spanish is in need of more pupils too, as is a new course, Ground School for those interested in flying. Reading Efficiency (speed reading) had to turn down students last term but is short this term. "You and Selling," designed for clerks, may not open. The Community Chorus is also in need of more singers.

Registration has been extended through this Friday. Woolweaver said that it is possible to register even on the first night of class, but by that time many classes may have been dropped because of the lack of students.

A NEW TYPE of sign pointing the way to municipal parking lots went up this week in the City. Nineteen of the signs were erected. They have green letters on a white background and are similar to those now used in many cities.

A STEINWAY grand piano, which today would sell for over $4,000, was bequeathed to the Plymouth Symphony by Miss Loretta Petrosky, who died Jan. 13. Miss Petrosky, who lived in Northville and was a music teacher at Redford High School, was once pianist for the Plymouth Symphony and organist and choir director at First Presbyterian Church here. Pictured are Symphony Conductor Wayne Dunlap with Miss Petrosky's sister, Miss Charlotte Petrosky. The piano will be kept at the High School. Dunlap said that when piano artists now appear with the Symphony, it is necessary to rent a piano which costs $65. Conductor Dunlap said that the piano is in like-new condition and said that the Symphony is flattered and honored by the gift from the late Miss Petrosky. Local attorney Edward Draugelis is making arrangements for the presentation.

Betty Burcham Becomes Bride

The marriage of Betty Annette Burcham to Ronald E. VanKeuren was solemnized at a double-ring candle-light ceremony in the First Methodist Church of Plymouth by Dr. Melbourne I. Johnson on Dec. 9.

The church was decorated with white mums. Miss Faith Raycroft sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Promise You" while Mrs. I. Lock accompanied her on the organ.

For her wedding the bride chose a traditional white floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace featuring a sabrina neckline sprinkled with tiny seed pearls and sequins. Her long lace sleeves tapered to callia points over her wrists. The softly gathered lace skirt over tulle, worn over a bridal hoop lace dress, was secured by a full chapel train in back. A dainty pearl crown held her finger-tip illusion veil in place. The only jewelry she wore were small pearl earrings and her mother's pearl necklace. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

She was given in marriage by her father, Z. A. Burcham. Matron of honor was Florence E. Burcham, the bride's sister-in-law. She wore a powder blue, floor-length gown of chiffon. A scoop neckline and short sleeves highlighted the bodice and the gown was trimmed with a periwinkle blue cummerbund and blue roses. Her nose-tip veil was secured by a periwinkle blue satin rose headpiece. Periwinkle blue elbow-length gloves completed her ensemble and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and blue stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Barbara E. MacDonald and Sharon S. Stremick who were dressed identical to the matron of honor. Their colonial bouquets were composed of white and periwinkle blue carnations and blue stephanotis.

The bride's four-year-old twin nieces, Calista Ann and Virginia Lee Burcham served as flower girls. Their white

Lean's Jottings

BY JEAN CAMPAU
Woman's Editor

It would be safe and fairly accurate to call Anthony Wedgewood Benn a young, (he's 36), vigorous crusader. He has made it one of the prime objectives of his life recently, to buck the 800 year old English system of titles.

During his sometimes controversial, but thoroughly interesting talk as the third speaker of the Northville Town Hall Series, he discussed the aspects of his anti-title campaign.

Electing four times by his Bristol constituents to the House of Commons, he made international headlines the past year, when he rejected the title of Viscount Stansgate. With the title came an automatic seat in the House of Lords invalidating the voice of the electorate.

While by ruling of the English court he does not now have a voice in Parliament, he confidently expects to be re-seated in the up-coming election, despite the renounced title, in the House of Commons.

The Northville Town Hall Series is now entering its second season. Newly elected chairman, Mrs. Frank W. Angle stated, "We expect an even more successful series for 1962-63 than we have had in this, our first year. Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert M. Rahaley and with the excellent cooperation from the other officers and committee members we had a ticket sale of 90 percent. The lectures have been enthusiastically received and all indications are that we will have an early sell-out this year."

Other new officers elected for the current year included: Mrs. W. J. Cheatham, assistant chairman, Mrs. Lewis W. Alexander, treasurer and Mrs. Roy Mattison, secretary.

These officers appointed the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby, Mrs. Claude Crusoe and Mrs. Harry Deyo in charge of luncheon arrangements, Mrs. R. R. Yoder, publicity, Mrs. G. P. Hanley, program, Mrs. D. P. Boor, theatre, Mrs. Robert Cole, tickets and Mrs. John T. McGuire, mailing.

The popular five-lecture morning series is held at the P & A Theatre in Northville, and is followed by the Celebrity Luncheon at Lofy's, which has become the high point of each exposition.

Officers and committee members, who are drawn from Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Farmington, Novi and South Lyon, expect to make public the new season's roster of personalities shortly.

A portion of the proceeds from the Series is returned to the various charities in the communities involved.

We were proud of the joint installation team under the leadership of Captain Earl Gray. Little Sharon and Bobby Fulton, children of Sister Dorothy, acted as color bearers.

Mr. Ray Van Valkenburg of Northville sang a couple of solos accompanied on the piano by his wife.

After a lot of greetings, congratulations and best wishes for the 1962 officers, everyone enjoyed the refreshments served by the committee, composed of Thelma Zander, Carolyn Westfall and Betty Richter.

We Salute The Plymouth JayCees

NATIONAL JAYCEE WEEK JAN. 21 TO JAN. 26

Dedicated to civic betterment, the Plymouth JayCees for many years have bolstered our community through an ever-increasing program of activities and events. Simultaneously, the JayCees provide an important outlet for young men (under the age of 35) to participate in — and lend their talents to — their community's needs in a highly productive manner.

It is as much through the JayCees as any service club or fraternal organization that Plymouth, over the years, has gained the vital and intelligent leadership to carry it steadily forward and to enable it to grow and prosper. Plymouth salutes its JayCees.

Among the Many Activities of the Plymouth JayCees Are These:

- TEEN-AGE RODEO TO PROMOTE SAFE DRIVING.
- TEEN-AGE WEDNESDAY NIGHT SUMMER DANCES.
- GRADE SCHOOL TRAFFIC SAFETY PROGRAM.
- CHRISTMAS SHOPPING TOUR FOR YOUNGSTERS FROM WAYNE COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOL.
- PARTIAL SPONSORSHIP OF RECREATION JUNIOR GOLF, JUNIOR TENNIS & JUNIOR BOWLING LEAGUES.
- SIGN PROJECT TO PROVIDE NEW "PLYMOUTH" DESIGNATIONS AT MAJOR ENTRY HIGHWAYS.
- PLYMOUTH'S ANNUAL FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.
- SPONSORSHIP OF A LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL TEAM.
- PROVIDING FUNDS FOR ICE RINK BACKBOARDS.

sure the perpetuation of this worthwhile (JA) program." In all, some 180 high school juniors and seniors from Plymouth, Livonia and Northville are active in the JA program in this area which is headquartered at 680 Dodge Street in Plymouth. At the present time, ten miniature Junior Achievement companies are operating in the area.

Mercury division. Mills said that over 500 campaign workers are active in the 1962 campaign. He said he felt confident that the goal can be attained but has previously warned the campaign leaders of the hard work facing them in attaining this goal.

Eta Psi Joins Mothers March

Mr. Sawusch said that JA membership representation at the Plymouth operation is equally divided between Plymouth, Northville and Livonia at the present time.

Nineteen members of Eta Psi sorority met at the home of Mrs. Howard Drennan of Simpson St., on Tuesday, Jan. 17.

Official dates of the local JA campaign are Jan. 23 through Feb. 21, Sawusch said.

Mrs. Robert Mayes introduced her husband who spoke on air traffic control and the control center at Metropolitan Airport.

Southeastern Michigan's announced JA fund campaign goal is $250,000. General Chairman of the six county campaign is Mr. Ben D. Mills, Ford vice president and general manager of the Lincoln.

Mayes is a registered controller and is employed at Metropolitan.

The sorority, as a whole, is planning to assist in the Mothers March on Jan. 30. Following the business meeting the hostess served refreshments.

Industrial production in Britain in the postwar years has risen by an average of five percent annually.

AMONG THE PRINCIPAL figures at the Salvation Army Annual Meeting Monday night were these six men. From left are Capt. William Roberts, former head of the Plymouth Citadel; Major Hugh Turner, divisional secretary; Richard Hedke, the speaker; Frank Henderson, chairman of the Advisory Committee; Robert Willoughby, a 33-year member of the Advisory Committee and now a life member; and Capt. John Cunard, present officer in charge of the Plymouth Citadel.

Frank Henderson Re-elected Chairman Of Salvation Army Advisory Board

Frank Henderson was re-elected chairman of the Salvation Army Advisory Board Annual Meeting held Monday night with some 75 members and guests attending.

The meeting, opened to the public for the first time, was held at Lofy's Arbor-Lill preceded by a dinner. Richard Hedke, past international president of Rotary, was the guest speaker.

Re-elected as officers with Henderson were Mrs. Elizabeth Mather, vice-chairman; Mrs. Katherine Todd, secretary; and Donald Sutherland, treasurer. Other members on the Board are Robert Willoughby, life member; Sylvester Cooper, Russell Ammerman, Ted Kuckleman, Mrs. Nell Curry, Mrs. Lillian Roe, Mrs. Heidi Arnold, Mrs. Alice Gebhardt and Mrs. Margaret Daniel.

Music throughout the evening was furnished by the Detroit Citadel Ensemble. Among the guests were Major and Mrs. Hugh I. Turner, divisional secretary; Township Supervisor and Mrs. Roy Lindsay; and Capt. and Mrs. William Roberts, former officers in charge of the Plymouth Citadel.

The speaker, Richard Hedke, has a long and distinguished service to the Salvation Army and has served seven years as chairman of the Detroit Advisory Board. In his address he reviewed some of the major problems of the world today, then declared, "Somehow, I feel that God will someday work this out, but this does not mean that we can lay aside our responsibilities."

Hedke, who had traveled the world as Rotary's international president, hailed the Salvation Army as one of the world's great forces which practices "Love thy neighbor."

Capt. John Cunard, current officer in charge of the Plymouth Citadel, reviewed some of the past year's activities of the local unit, which included such things as emergency family welfare to 75

VOLUNTEER SOLICITORS for the YMCA membership enrollment campaign received their supplies last week. Now making their calls upon interested individuals, the volunteers hope to complete their canvass within the next week. From left are Ralph Garber, George Bauer, Rudolph Norquist, chairman of the membership campaign; and Roger Blood, program director of the State YMCA and a Plymouth resident.

Barbour to Head Fund

Last week's Annual Meeting, held at the Plymouth Township Hall, actually attracted only a few citizens who weren't connected with the Community Fund or its agencies. One of them was City Treasurer Kenneth Way, who questioned the use of $6,000 that the Fund allots to the Boy Scouts.

Way said that he has been a Boy Scout committeeman and has a daughter in the Girl Scouts. Whereas the Girl Scouts provide camping equipment and other visible aid to local units, he sees nothing that the local Boy Scout troops receive for the money poured into the Detroit Council. He noted that Boy Scouts must earn every cent that they need, for camping and other projects, or else appeal to the sponsor. "The boys are not allowed to wear their uniforms when they sell from door-to-door and this makes it all the tougher to raise money," Way asserted.

On hand to defend the Boy Scouts was M. P. Russell, director of relationships services. He answered that Boy Scouts of America has never subsidized operations of any unit. "It is up to the sponsor to devise ways to earn money, whether it be contributed or earned by the boys."

Russell said that he does not want to debate whether the Girl Scouts use their money more effectively than the Boy Scouts. "They operate differently. In Detroit, one our budget is devised by a voluntary operating committee which makes recommendations to a voluntary Board and this becomes the operating budget of the council. We also have a sustaining membership drive in Detroit but we have not conducted this in Plymouth because the Plymouth Community Fund has met its fair share.

"Anyone interested in our budget may obtain a copy. Our books are open," Russell pointed out. "We can show what money is used for, what comes back to Plymouth in terms of service, supplies, visual aids and other forms."

A representative of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council said that the council makes supplies and camping equipment available to troops by storing it in depots, one of which is in Plymouth.

Another speaker was Captain John Cunard of the Salvation Army, who thanked the Community Fund for its support and outlined the many services that are afforded or are available to the distressed.

At the conclusion of the meeting Russell Isbister offered a resolution commending the retiring president, Hugh Griffin, for his expert leadership. He had served as president for the past two years.

Best laugh of the week is the "near-perfect" husband who arose early Saturday morning to do a little home work for his sleeping spouse . . . seems she had been wanting some touch up done around exposed iron lintels on the fireplace in their new home . . . armed with a quart of Rustoleum, screwdriver and brush. "Michael Angelo" attacked the can of paint with the screwdriver to have it suddenly jump high in the air, cover him from head to foot, the white Formica kitchen counters, two chairs and practically all of the wall and floor area of the room . . . Sleeping mother arose to his cries for help and the happy couple spent the next three and a half hours dousing anything within reach, including hubby, with turpentine, Lestoil and anything else which would wipe up paint . . . Said cleaner Cliff Tait when the Mrs. presented a big bundle of paint-soaked clothes for sozzling Saturday noon . . . "That husband of yours should stick to writing his column and let someone who knows how to paint do your touch-up for you in the future." Need I say more!

An interesting telephone call came to our home last Thursday night . . . one of our readers wondered why we would write such a horrible column about our Mayor, who he thought, incidentally, was the best mayor Plymouth ever had . . . Well, maybe he didn't read the whole column, or misread it, but it was my feeling that I was giving my good friend, Bob Sincock, quite a pat on the back . . . For this one Sincock fan I'll just merely add, "I think he's all right, too."

It might also be of interest to our readers to know that two new high speed job-printing presses are presently being installed with our already huge battery of automatic printing producers. If you care to take a hint from this news you may know we are back in the printing business 100% and would appreciate an opportunity to be of service to all and any of the firms in this area.

Quite a dilemma in this family . . . Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader are among Plymouth's championship swimming team's best rooters . . . Father can't stand to miss a meet, but son Win feels pressure when he's in the stands watching, and invariably loses a second or two in whatever race he is in. Says the swimming 18 year old . . . "if Dad would stay home I could do better" . . . says Dad . . . "I get my biggest thrill watching my son swim so I can't stay home . . . Anyone have an answer?"

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Zielasko of Hix Road in company with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lorenz (former Plymouthites) visited Knott's Berry Farm in California. The Zielaskos admired a dried desert floral arrangement but didn't buy it because they thought the price of $17.00 was too high. Recently a big box arrived from Allen Industries in California carrying an insurance tab for $500.00 and labeled valuable cotton samples. Knowing they hadn't ordered anything from the coast they were inclined to not accept the package which had an airmail postage collect fee of $17.00. However, curiosity got the best of them so they paid the postman to open the box to find the plant they had seen at the Berry Farm. "Thought you would like to have this to remember the fun we had while you were here last year," said the accompanying card from the Lorenzes.

Ole Brad's Journal

Last week's entry in ye ole journal mentioned the number of "tuns" of liquid refreshment carried by the ship Mayflower. Some folks might feel the word "tun" is a colonial version of "ton". Not so. A tun is a double-hogshead. . . .
relieve some of the state's a double-hogshead? Checking a table of weights and measures, you'll find the answer to be . . . 63 gallons or two barrels.
There's never been an accurate record of how many barrels of water, wine, or beer that the Mayflower carried on its initial journey. Only fact known is that John Alden signed on as "head barrel fixer-upper" or as they were known in those days, a cooper.
First group of settlers that booked passage on the Mayflower had no idea that they would spend eight months on board ship. The crossing alone took over two months since weather conditions were so stormy. When Capt. Jones set sail for England in March of 1621, the return voyage only took 31 days.

Exceptional Legislature Foreseen

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Assn.

Election year in Michigan usually brings forth an unproductive, non-controversial legislative session, but there are several indications that 1962 will be an exception.

Pressure to finance expanding government operations within revenue income grows harder continuously. Attempts to remove the $71.5 million-plus deficit also are being sought.

Gov. John B. Swainson has indicated to the Republican-controlled legislature he is ready for a fight over ways to increase revenue to meet the needs. The Republicans, however, now appear ready to approve, and perhaps even promote, some new sources of revenue.

The fight in the legislature this year could well center over who will take credit during the fall campaign for whatever is done.

GEORGE ROMNEY, a delegate to the Constitutional Convention and very likely 1962 Republican candidate for Governor, has spent considerable time in recent weeks hammering at Swainson's administration.

The Governor has said he was "too busy" to comment on Romney's charges of labor domination and general irresponsibility. Swainson says he is waiting for the campaign.

It would appear the 36-year-old Governor is playing a waiting game, but it is far from a quiet one. He is concentrating his efforts on legislative proposals which have some measure of bipartisan support—for which he hopes to take credit.

While Swainson says he is waiting for the campaign to start, his lieutenants are spending considerable time building up for the race. The Governor, of course, is directing the activity by his subordinates.

THE GOVERNOR recently gave two prize plums to members of his administrative board when former Auditor General Otis M. Smith and former Attorney General Paul L. Adams were named to the State Supreme Court. Both Smith and Adams undoubtedly were well qualified for the bench positions, but ulterior motives, geared to the 1962 election, were seen behind the two appointments.

Appointment of Smith, first Negro elected to a state-wide office or named to sit on the high court, was an obvious and probably successful move to keep the favor of the Negro voter in Michigan.

Adams had patiently been waiting for a judgeship at any level, and reportedly was ready to blow the whistle on his cooperation with Swainson's team when he was named.

The appointments gave Swainson the chance to bring in new party faithful from other areas to elective posts. Frank J. Kelley of Alpena replaced Adams and Billie S. Farnum, long-time party worker from Lansing, took Smith's position.

SEVERAL OTHER changes in Swainson's organization since he took office gave him the beginnings of a strong machine for the November election.

Romney's entry into the election picture raised bristles of fear on the backs of Democrats. Many thought he never would run and indications are they have strong hopes that Swainson or any other candidate they might have could beat him.

The American Motors Corporation president's position as a delegate to the Con-Con might give him a strong edge for the fall campaign.

It will be his aim in the coming months to take credit for the document presented to the people, while his party seeks to take credit for any legislative action which will solve the state's "lingering" problems.

MICHIGAN MOTORISTS now drive on 801 miles of freeway linking 12 of the state's largest cities. This is among the reasons that the state highway department ranks among the top in the nation.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads reports Michigan opened a record amount of new freeway in 1961 and maintained its lead for the second consecutive year in all types of road-building and contract-letting.

Major freeway links completed during 1961 gave motorists a continuous divided four-lane highway between Flint and Lansing, Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Lansing and Grand Rapids, and Flint, Saginaw, Bay City and Midland.

By the end of this year the department plans to complete construction enabling motorists to drive non-stop from Detroit to a point near the Indiana line at New Buffalo from Detroit to Muskegon and from the Michigan-Ohio line to St. Ignace.

Basel, Switzerland, is a place to do some quick international sightseeing. It is on the Rhine River where Switzerland, France and Germany meet.
