Families Needed For Retarded

An appeal to Plymouth married couples to participate in a new "Family Care Program" was made this week by Dr. Pasquale Buoniconto, medical superintendent of Wayne County Training School.

Under this program, a select group of mentally retarded patients will be placed in private homes. A subsistence allowance will be given to each household semi-monthly and medical care, clothing and other necessities will be considered as the need arises.

Dr. Buoniconto explained that this older group of mentally retarded individuals can often respond favorably to the close attention which is inevitable in a Family Care Program.

"Many of the patients eligible for this program can share in simple family responsibilities and can perform limited and routine household duties," the doctor added. "The individual home setting can provide the balanced security and protective environment needed by these young men and women."

Training School social workers will be available to assist in the planning and supervision of the program in (Continued on page 6)

Appoints Planning Consultant

The firm of Vilican & Leman was hired Monday night by the City Commission as the new City planning consultant, succeeding Waring & Johnson who two months ago were dismissed.

Vilican & Leman is the same firm that developed the City's Central Business Development plan two years ago which suggested installation of malls and a four-lane thoroughfare to circle the downtown area.

The firm is being hired for a two and one-half year period to develop a number of projects and redevelopment programs with the aid of federal grant. Under the program (701 Project), cities are to draw three-fourths of the cost from the federal government and pay the remaining one-fourth themselves.

Vilican & Leman will receive $18,000 from the government and $6,000 from the City for the two and one-half year period.

Postpone U-R Hiring

Hiring of a director for Plymouth's Urban Renewal Program was postponed by the Commission. The Housing and Home Finance Agency demands that a director be hired to handle the relocation of families, file progress reports and perform other duties. The government pays 75 per cent of his (Continued on page 6)

Satire Is Next Theatre Guild Presentation

"For over twenty years I've watched that marble heap casting its shadow over us in the daytime, and that light glaring at us in the night. Well — now at last I'm waiting for it to go out."

There is currently a lot of talk going on locally about "that marble heap" and the man who lives in it, and the eccentricities of the light that shines from it — and most of it is coming from the stage of the high school auditorium. There, rehearsals are in full swing for "The Biggest Thief in Town," the latest offering by the Plymouth Theatre Guild. The show opens March 1. (Continued on page 6)

Frederick Vollbrecht, 1883-1962

Frederick A. Vollbrecht

Frederick Vollbrecht, Junior Achievement Leader, Dies at 78

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Frederick A. Vollbrecht, retired industrialist, philanthropist and one of the nation's most ardent supporters of the Junior Achievement movement.

He died at 4 a.m. Saturday at his home at 1299 West Ann Arbor Trail at the age of 78.

Mr. Vollbrecht became one of the first from this area to contribute to Junior Achievement in 1945, since it was not until 1949 that Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan was formed. He had served as chairman of the Southeastern Michigan J-A for many years and was also on the National Executive Board at the time of his death.

Junior Achievement of Southeastern Michigan, which is now the largest J-A unit in the nation, was given a big boost five years ago from Mr. Vollbrecht when he donated a $100,000 building on Grand River Ave. for their headquarters. A sister also donated the Harper St. Center in Detroit.

Mr. Vollbrecht was a former chairman of the board of Oakwood Hospital and was vice-chairman of the board of Marygrove College. He was a charter member of the Masons in Detroit.

In 1913 he started the Industrial Electric Co. which in 1920 became the Industrial Wire Cloth Co. in Wayne. This firm was merged with Purolator Products, Inc. and Mr. Vollbrecht retired as president a few months later, in 1956.

He was also the owner of Hilltop Golf Club on Powell Rd.

Mr. Vollbrecht and his wife, Marguerite, came to Plymouth in 1937. In his modest way, he seldom made public appearances. One of his few appearances here was two years ago when he addressed the Rotary Club about his favorite subject — Junior Achievement.

Born in Milwaukee on July 19, 1883, he was the son of Charles and Julia (Kramer) Vollbrecht. His father was a German immigrant and worked as a printer on Detroit's German newspaper, Young Vollbrecht attended Central High School in Detroit and Detroit Business College. He married Marguerite Jurkiewicz on Feb. 16, 1914 in Joliet, Ill.

Surviving with his wife are a brother, Irvin Vollbrecht of Southfield, and a sister, Mrs. Clara Hoffman of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Schrader Funeral Home, 28514 W. Kalong Circle, Southfield.

Holding a doctor of osteopathy degree Dr. Balfour graduated from Ferris Institute, the Indiana University College of Pharmacy and the College of Medicine and Surgery in Chicago. While a registered pharmacist, he worked in various pharmacies in Detroit.

Born Aug. 31, 1905 in Frankfort, Ind., he was married to Eleanor (Rousseau) Balfour of Windsor. He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, Plymouth Rock Lodge, F & AM, Detroit Consistory, De-

Church to Observe 50th Anniversary

Plans are being made by members of St. John's Episcopal Church for the celebration of the congregation's 50th anniversary on Monday, Feb. 19.

A potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. to which all present and former parishioners, priest and lay readers are being invited. Frank Henderson is general chairman.

Teachers Reject School Board's Pay Proposal

Say Needs Not Being Considered

A letter has been sent to the Plymouth Board of Education by the Plymouth Education Association (PEA) rejecting the Board's counter-proposal for a salary increase which the PEA presented last month.

The PEA had requested a salary schedule that would have granted a beginning teacher an increase of $300 annually. Last week's counter-offer made by the Board failed to meet this request.

It was on Jan. 10 that the PEA submitted a complete presentation to the Board of Education outlining the needs of Plymouth teachers and highlighting the inequity of teacher salaries as compared with wages or salaries received by other groups in the area.

The Board issued a counter-proposal, a report of which appeared in last week's edition of the Plymouth Mail. According to John N. Donegan, president of the PEA, the organization now finds it necessary to clarify and enlarge upon certain statements found in this report.

"It would appear from this report that the Board of Education's counter-proposal provides for an increase in teachers' income in the amount of $200 per year at the beginning teacher level and an increase of $300 at the maximum level," Donegan said.

"The PEA's figures show that as a matter of fact the beginning teacher is being offered a $100—not a $200—annual raise, and the teacher receiving maximum salary is being offered an annual raise of $200—not $300.

Part of the Board's counter-offer included a request for a work year of 194 days instead of 189 and compulsory attendance at a pre-school workshop. These added stipulations compose the heart of the PEA's rejection.

Donegan said that last week's report in The Mail stated that "the 194 days would include compulsory attendance at a pre-school workshop for which teachers would receive an additional $100 if they attend."

To clarify this statement, Donegan said that "the 194 days schedule will add one week to the regular school year and will be paid for out of each teacher's annual salary. This additional week would be the pre-school workshop. For the past two years the pre-school workshop has offered the teacher an opportunity to earn $100 in addition to his annual salary. The new plan, however, makes it possible to discontinue this additional payment."

The PEA president said that in order to show a clear salary comparison, it is necessary to include this $100 payment in the present school year's salary since payment for pre-school workshop is included in the Board of Education's proposal for the new school year's salary.

The Board's plan would therefore appear this way:

	A.B. or B.S. Degree
	1 A	1 B	Raise
1st Year	$4,800	$4,900	$100
Maximum	7,600	7,800	200
	Masters Degree
1st Year	$5,100	$5,200	$100
Maximum	8,150	8,350	200

The executive board of the PEA unanimously passed a motion rejecting the counter-proposal based on the above figures.

"After careful deliberation of the counter-proposal, it became apparent that the just needs of the teachers in this community are not being met nor even carefully considered," the executive board declared.

Early Evening Ransacking of Home

Thieves Make $2,500 Haul

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives are continuing their investigation of a bold breaking and entering of a Pilgrim Colony home where thieves carried out $2,500 worth of household goods and clothing during the early evening.

The home was that of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bratton of Priscilla Lane. They were being visited by Mr. Bratton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Bratton, who formerly lived in the home and recently moved to Houston, Tex.

Both families had gone out around 5 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20, the elder Brattons visiting former neighbors while the younger Brattons went to visit Mrs. Bratton's parents. When the Gary Brattons returned, they found the back door open. "We thought that my in-laws had returned home first," Mrs. Bratton related, "but when we went into the kitchen we found frozen food thrown on the floor, drawers open and things missing."

Among the appliances taken were a toaster, blender, port-

A LARGE "Welcome to the Plymouth Community" is expected to greet motorists as they near Plymouth from five directions, should approval be given to this design by participating organizations. Pretty Miss Margo Robson, a City Hall clerk, shows a model of the sign which would be 12 feet tall. Round signs on the side would carry the emblems of the Jaycee, Optimist, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs and the Chamber of Commerce. The Jaycees are coordinating the project and one of its members, Howard Oldford, constructed this model which is now being shown to service club members. Five of the signs would be erected.

New Taxi Firm Gets Permits

City Commissioners paved the way Monday night for a new taxi firm to begin operations in Plymouth by granting the Checker Cab Co. of Livonia and Detroit four taxi permits.

Another firm, the Colonial Cab Co., had also requested three permits but no action was taken on these.

Plymouth's sole cab company now is Plymouth Cab, which has its headquarters at 413 N. Main St. While this company is still in operation, the Commission has been unhappy for some time with the condition of the taxis, although the firm has changed hands several times.

A report given to the Commission Monday night by Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher showed that all three of the Plymouth Cab Company's cabs now in service have serious deficiencies.

Asked by Commissioner Robert Beyer why the cabs have been allowed to operate when they are in such bad condition, Fisher said that his department has been attempting to get the firm to improve its vehicles, but that loss of the service abruptly would mean that many older people and others who have (Continued on page 6)

Northville Road Crash Kills Two

Two young men died last Thursday night when their car crashed into a bridge on Northville Rd.

They were Daniel Joseph Hoban, a former Plymouthite who later moved to Northville, and Salvatore S. Quinci, 29, of 11820 Braille, Detroit.

Sheriff's Road Patrol deputies quoted a witness as saying that the car driven by Hoban passed him while traveling south on Northville Rd. The car started to "fishtail" and skidded sideways into the guardrail and concrete abutment of a bridge that crosses Rouge River near the Haller, Inc. plant, south of Six Mile Rd.

The car was completely demolished, with the engine falling into the river. The occupants were taken to Wayne County General Hospital where they were pronounced dead. (Continued on page 6)

Commission Okays Curb Projects Despite Protests

Despite petitions and verbal protests against installation of curb and gutter along four of the project at a public hearing last week, the City Commission voted the improvements a necessity Monday night and made plans to move ahead with the projects this summer.

Over 40 people jammed the Commission chambers last week for the hearings. Most of them were opponents to four of the eight projects proposed. There were no protests heard against two of the projects, the majority on another favored the curb and gutter, while those along another also wanted paving. The Commission did not act on the paving project Monday night. This project, Hartsoogh Ave., from Evergreen to McKinley, will be handled later.

Only a few of the citizens who were at last week's hearing also attended Monday night's meeting where the Commission announced its decision. Approved for curb and gutter were these blocks:

- Dewey St., from Hartsoogh to Ross; Harding St., from Hartsoogh to Ross; S. Harvey St., from Wing to Ann Arbor Rd.; Maple St., from S. Harvey to McKinley; Roosevelt St., from Hartsoogh to Ross; Ross St., from Evergreen to McKinley; and Ross, from S. Main to S. Harvey.

After the unanimous vote on each project, one citizen arose and suggested that the City stop all public hearings (Continued on page 6)

MRS. KENNETH STEVENS, 557 Jener St., was a blue ribbon winner and the recipient of a $75 check with her winning entry in the National Grange Needlework Contest. William J. Brake, State Grange Master and National Grange Officer presented the awards during Plymouth Grange's Annual Open House last week. The white, 62-inch knitted stole that she worked in a lacy pattern was made over the past year in Mrs. Stevens' spare time. Her last year's entry, another stole, was also the object of a $10 State Grange award.

The Detroit Tiger clinic will be conducted by Lou D'Annunzio, Michigan supervisor of Tiger scouts. It will include demonstrations of batting, pitching and fielding by professional instructors with the use of official Tiger training films such as "Batter Up" and "Double Play Kings."

Jean's Jottings

BY JEAN CAMPAU
Woman's Editor

Communicating with Lewis Redmond, pastor of Cass Community Church in Detroit, left little doubt as to how members of W. S. C. S. could help out.

Mrs. Marshall North, secretary of supply work, set about using the groups' Christmas monies, with wholehearted member support, supplying what they could to aid the depressed community.

Their collections purchased four reconditioned portable sewing machines, six pair of shears, 12 bright red sleds and 18 pairs of used ice skates. Additional gift baskets were made up of items gleaned from their annual Harvest Bazaar. Articles included aprons, pillow cases, knit slippers and hand-made toys.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church is composed of 12 circles and 348 members. Having allocated their funds for other worthy causes, two of the 12 circles did not participate.

Circle leaders involved in the Cass project were Mrs. Benton Goodhand, Mrs. Woodrow Ross, Mrs. Sam Dibble, Jr., Mrs. Donald Tapp, Mrs. Hall Bailey, Mrs. Howard Bowden, Mrs. Eugene Jordan, Mrs. Richard Larkin, Mrs. Howard Schryer and Mrs. Clarence Jetter.

Mrs. Charles Childs arranged for delivery of the gifts to the church.

Plymouth and this metropolitan church seem to have an affinity for each other. Two of Cass Community Church's former pastors have made their homes here after retirement:

Rev. Ray Norton, settled here for a time before going on to Clinton, Mich., and Rev. William Perkins and his family also found Plymouth to their liking. Their home is on Ann Arbor Trail.

Pastor Perkins was shepherd at Cass for 17 years. His Christian contributions to his congregation during the lean depression days called frequent newspaper attention to the church. But even more important it brought new souls into the fold.

Last June Rev. Perkins, 70, received his master's degree in sociology from Wayne State University. Waving aside his retirement he put it to immediate practical use, by working with the young people of a Ferndale Methodist Church.

Architects Plan State Convention

"Major policy changes in overall planning are expected to attract a record number of registered architects and representatives of allied professions to the forthcoming Michigan Society of Architects 48th Annual Convention," said William T. Smith, Jr., a Plymouth spokesman. "Registrations, speaker selection, program scheduling and financial policy changes revealed by General Chairman Robert W. Yokom," Smith said, "have been introduced to broaden the scope of the annual affair and make it possible for every registered architect in the State to attend."

"I'VE NEVER seen a school so big," was the comment made by German exchange student Margret Muller, who is spending this week visiting the Julius Eder home, 254 Blunk. Douglas Eder, while an exchange student in Germany last summer, became acquainted with Margret. The 17-year-old Wallaw, German girl then came to Hart, Mich. this year to attend school under the exchange program and decided to pay Douglas and his family a visit. Neither her school in Germany nor the Hart High School is as large as Plymouth High. Douglas and Margret are shown in the center. Walking with them are Bob Webber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Webber, and Judy Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Adams, who this summer expect to go abroad as exchange students.

Grange Gleanings

Thursday evening, Feb. 1 one hears such remarks as "why we were in the same graduation class" or "she sat right in back of me in school," and so it goes. What a warm feeling one gets to have such pleasant memories and see folks they haven't seen in years.

Nine lovely girls, students from Plymouth High, a large number, were brought to our attention by Brother Harry Brown who is in University Hospital, Sam Spicer, James Norman and Kathryn Simon are in St. Joseph Hospital. And we understand Emerson Woods is recuperating from a recent visit to the hospital.

Members are reminded that the Webster Grange Degree Team will be here to put on the third and fourth degree work for our new members at the next Grange meeting Feb. 15 at 8 p.m.

Pomona Grange meeting will be at Kroger's, Friday, Feb. 23. Molly Tracy is chairman.

A Rummage Sale will be held at the Grange Hall March 3. Isabelle Taylor is Chairman.

If you would like to read the Grange Gleanings every week, how about calling Molly Tracy and giving her a little helpful information about the members. It would make her work much easier.

So many of our 250 members eagerly read the Gleanings, especially our shut-ins, not to mention other folks too. Please do your part.

Milan Frank, 142 Rose, was elected president of the Plymouth Firemen's Assn. at its meeting last week. He succeeds Lt. Paul Saunders.

Newcomers Fete Past Presidents

Despite the brisk winter day, 83 members and guests met at Danny's Chop House for their monthly meeting.

"Past President's Day" was the program theme with Mrs. William Feight as the narrator.

She presented a history of the Plymouth Newcomer Club and Mrs. Byron Champion was honored as its founder.

Other past presidents honored were Mrs. William Coons, Mrs. Lawrence Becker, Mrs. Leander Rae, Mrs. Robert Fisher, and Mrs. Cameron Lambe. Mrs. William Coons and Mrs. Leander Rae were unable to attend the meeting. Mrs. Roger Stanley presided and presented each with a lovely corsage.

Home from his college studies for the weekend is Jim Kaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaiser of Saltz Rd. can be seen from the east.

less to say his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowman, and brother Dick, are eagerly awaiting his visit. Bob will be home for about two weeks.

Welcome back. That is the greeting we extend to Boy Scout Troop 298. We missed hearing about this group, but we understand they have once again started their troop. The boys had been without an adult sponsoring group, but are now being sponsored by the Cherry Hill Methodist Church. Stan West will serve the boys as their institutional representative and Pastor Neiman will serve the group as secretary and treasurer. The boys and their leaders just completed a successful camping trip at Bishop Lake, Jan. 26 through Jan. 28. The boys were accompanied by the Sunset District of Detroit Area Council. Twelve Scouts and three leaders participated. The boys of 298 were awarded second and third place ribbons, and were rated very high in winter camping. Ralph Leffler, scout master; John Thorpe, assistant scout master; Quincy McCullough, committeeman; Bill Hough, junior assistant scoutmaster; and Roy Harper, senior patrol leader, lead the troop on a successful week of winter camping. The boys and their leaders braved the weather and returned without one single cold. The boys are looking forward to many more campouts.

Mr. Leffler, announced the boys' first project this year will be a paper drive, the funds to be used to further their scouting activities. Anyone who has papers may have them picked up on any Saturday by simply calling Mr. Leffler at GL 3-0149; Sid Easton at GL 3-4836; or Mr. McCullough at GL 3-6602. The drive will continue from now until March. So don't burn those papers, folks, they can do a lot of good for the scouting movement.

The Gallimore School held its regular P.T.A. meeting on Jan. 23. This meeting was a carnival workshop. Discussion of a carnival project was discussed and the following people volunteered to take some of the booths:

Sample Room chairman, Mrs. Eugene Armstrong; Country Store chairman, Mrs. W. C. McTurner; Fish Pond, R. Breach; Handwriting Analysis, Mrs. J. Stuart; Kitchen, Bob Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. A. Williams; Parcel Post Office, Mrs. Norman White and Mrs. Roger Smith; Fun House, Mrs. Grady; Beauty Parlor, Mrs. Maxwell Allen; Ticket Salesman, Mr. Gibson.

The group will be holding meetings in the near future to organize their plans. Many more chairmen and workers are needed, so by contacting either Mr. or Mrs. William Sprengel, general chairman, GL 3-0194 or the co-chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. John Schroeder at GL 3-8014, you will be gratefully added to the list to make the carnival plans a success.

Cast for 'Biggest Thief' Announced

Casting for the Plymouth Theatre Guild's upcoming production of "The Biggest Thief in Town" has been completed, it was announced last week by Director Bob Lucchetti. Co-starring in the light, amusing and thoroughly enjoyable spoof of one of life's serious moments will be Joe Dalesandry, Ivan Griswold and Dave Dahline.

Dalesandry, who is making his initial performance in Plymouth theater, will portray Bert Hutchins, a man of integrity who owns and operates the local undertaker parlor. Ivan Griswold, who was seen in the Guild's production of "Inherit the Wind", creates the role of Horton Paige, the glory-seeking editor of the local newspaper. Dave Dahline, who will be seen as the astute small-town doctor, is a Detroit and formerly toured with the Barber Players.

Heading up the very able group of supporting players is Hal Young, who brings previous acting and directing experience from past Guild plays to his creation of the role of Sam Wilkins, the fun-loving town druggist.

Bill Mandt, whose art work was a recently exhibited in Northville, and Racena Bajley, of the dancing Bailey's of Northville, provide the extra fillip in this frothy satire as the love interest. Patricia Dorrian, who teaches freshman English in Northville, will be seen as the quivering nurse, and Matt Fortney and Merlin Heft, two well known Guild talents, as her patient's cohorts.

"The Biggest Thief in Town" represents Bob Lucchetti's first effort as director for the Guild, adding to his experiences in the same capacity at Bentley High School where his primary job is teaching chemistry. Lucchetti's name will be familiar to Plymouth theater-goers from his past appearances on stage in Guild productions.

The play itself, which will be presented March 1, 2 and 3 at the high school auditorium, is a combination of gentle spoofing, lively satire and rollicking humor that steps along at a lively pace throughout. It promises to be good solid entertainment for the whole family.

Commission Okays

(Continued from Page 1) because they are apparently a waste of time since the Commission failed to take into consideration any of the objections of the property owners. He charged the Commission with oligarchy. On his street, he said, 19 of the 20 property owners had objected.

Mayor Robert Sincok said that the Commission had taken into consideration the reports of department heads who found that the streets in that end of the City are in need of improvement.

DPW Superintendent Joseph Bida said that it is not fair to those living on streets where assessments are being paid to keep pouring money into maintaining unimproved streets. "I've been receiving complaints all day from people wanting me to get rid of the water that's standing along these roads," Bida declared. "We can't give adequate service to these people unless there is at least a curb to run the water off. If we keep pouring on gravel and building up the road we are soon higher than the drive-ways."

"Some of these same people who were up here fighting against the curb have been ready to crucify me because of the condition of their street," Bida added.

Two other men who registered protests last week indicated that they thought that many might want to go all the way for paving instead of just curb and gutter now. Both said that they would see how their neighbors felt.

Bids for the project will be sought in two months.

It Was Cold Day, But Mothers' March Donors Had Warm Hearts

Donations of $2,152.90 were made Jan. 30 when 200 women trod the snowy, icy streets and sidewalks of Plymouth City and Township for the annual Mothers' March.

The donations held up with the tri-county area in equaling its 1960 contributions. It was a bitter cold day last Tuesday when the 200 women made their rounds. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilwer, local March of Dimes co-chairmen, extended their special thanks to all the volunteers "who walked for those who cannot walk."

The Mother's March, part of the month-long March of Dimes campaign, was headed by Mrs. Charles Olson. Special appreciation was also expressed to Mrs. Harry Bartel who directed the Peanut Sale earlier in January which raised $297.53.

Sports Bulletin

Royal Oak Kimball High edged Plymouth's varsity swimmers, 54-51, Tuesday night at Royal Oak. It was the Rocks' fourth dual meet defeat in 12 outings this winter.

Plymouth's Dick Michaels and Gary Gould each posted double wins as Michaels gained victories in the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard individual medley and Gould captured the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events.

Appoint

(Continued from Page 1) salary. City Manager Albert Glassford said that out of a dozen candidates, two have "excellent reports." The Commission, however, decided to postpone their decision until the entire Commission is together (Commissioner Marvin Terry is on vacation).

Dr. and Mrs. John Robison were the only property owners along the proposed Penniman Ave. re-paving project appearing at Monday night's assessment hearing. It is proposed to re-pave and widen Penniman from Main to Harvey and put in new sidewalk. The Robisons asked if the two trees in front of their home-office could be spared. After considerable discussion on whether widening would not eventually kill the trees, it was agreed to call in a tree specialist to give an opinion.

Donates to Fund A check for $100 was given to the Fire Department's uniform fund by Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine, owners of a S. Main St. home which was badly damaged by fire several weeks ago. The Richwine's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gondek, lived in the home. The donation was given to the department for their "courtesy and cooperation."

Who Cares

(Continued from Page 1) High School gym. The auction articles will be items of "miscellaneous and questionable" value which the boys attending the clinic have been requested to contribute.

Typical of these articles are ladies' aprons, men's ties, baked goods, house plants, small household tools and other inexpensive novelties.

Col. Joe Walton, a professional auctioneer, has volunteered to conduct the sale. Proceeds will be used to continue and expand the Plymouth Little League program in 1962.

The general public is invited.

Characters led by Buddy Gwynne, who aspires to Fred Astaire fame, and Laurie Hutchins, Bert's dancing daughter. Miss Tipton is the titulating nurse who is overly concerned with the well-being of her patient, the aforesaid Mr. Troybalt, indisputably the richest man in a one-horse town.

Theatre Guild Play

(Continued from page 1) Although the entire action of the play takes place in Bert Hutchins' undertaking parlor, there was never a warmer, friendlier or funnier place to visit. The play is a humorous, tongue-in-cheek satire on a highly respected profession. "The Biggest Thief in Town" is meant as a gentle ribbing and nothing more. The Guild promises a good time for the viewers and an evening away from the problems of the world, the tensions of daily living.

The plot revolves around the relative well-being of one John Troybalt and as such concerns itself with one of life's most serious moments. Conning in the chuckle-production humor are four cronies: a well-meaning, honest undertaker, Bert Hutchins; a frustrated and headline-seeking newspaper editor, Horton Paige; a small-town doctor who is nevertheless a Mayo man, Jay Stewart; and a Scripture-quoting, foot-stomping druggist, Sam Wilkins.

The comedy begins to get gusty as the four seek to inject into their lives a little recognition for their respective arts and, just on the side to be sure, make a little money for themselves in the bargain.

Assisting in providing some of the most hilarious situations are a well-knit group of

Thieves

(Continued from Page 1) able oven and electric can opener. A portable TV was also missing. All clothes closets had been cleaned of their clothes, except for those of Mrs. Bratton's. Even the clothes belonging to the visiting Brattons were stolen, along with a camera.

Mrs. Bratton said that the thieves had even taken her collection of 200 miniature elephants. The entire loss was estimated at $2,500.

The theft is believed to have taken place around 7 p.m. A neighbor said that a stationwagon and another car was seen at the house and all the home's lights were burning.

"All the neighbors are being cautious now and making sure who is in the homes when neighbors are supposed to be away," Mrs. Bratton declared.

A 45-year-old Plymouth man who was arrested Sunday night for carrying a concealed weapon unsuccessfully attempted to hang himself in jail, police reported yesterday.

Jailed Man Tries Hanging Self

Twenty minutes after he was locked up in jail, a patrolman passing the cell saw Gera hanging. He had ripped up his undershirt to use for the act, police said. Gera was apparently discovered in time to prevent injury, but he was sent to Wayne County General Hospital for mental observation. Meanwhile, he was charged for carrying concealed weapons. Police said that Gera had been drinking. He recently was released from Detroit House of Correction on another charge.

In other police news, four flares and a bag of tools were reported stolen from the Lutheran Day School bus parked behind the school last weekend. City Commissioner Robert Beyer last week reported a spare tire had been stolen from a delivery vehicle parked behind St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

A Sheldon Rd. resident last week called City police to report that her dog was in

Crash Kills

Daniel J. Hoban was the son of Catherine and the late John D. Hoban, 8520 Brookville Rd., Salem Township. He was born Dec. 23, 1939 and was graduated from Plymouth High School in 1958.

He is survived by his mother and a sister, Mrs. Earl (Kathy) VanCise. Both father and a brother, Johnny, preceded him in death.

The Rev. John Woodstock officiated at funeral services Monday at 10 a.m. at Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville. Rosary was said Sunday evening at Casterline Funeral Home. Interment was in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

New Taxi

(Continued from Page 1) no other means of transportation would be lost. Richard Pittman, owner of the Checker Cab operation in Livonia and Detroit, said that his cabs would be metered and that he would seek a downtown location for the office if the permits were granted.

Plymouth Cab Co. now holds four taxi permits. The Commission first made a motion to increase the total number of permits allowed in the City to eight and then granted Checker the four new permits.

The application for three other permits was made late last week by Mack Hayes, operator of the Hayes Pure Service, headquarters of the Plymouth Cab Co. operation. City Manager Albert Glassford said that Hayes' Colonial Cab Co. has no vehicles at this time. Their application was tabled.

New York Times Article Features Evans Products

News in Brief

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article about Edward B. Evans, Jr., president of the Evans Products Co., of Plymouth, appeared in a recent issue of the Sunday New York Times. It is reprinted in full here because of its insight of the man and the company.)

By Robert E. Bedingfield
Edward Steptoe Evans, Jr., is one more son who has found out that his father's good advice is not always easy to carry out.

sociated with Evans Products since 1935 and president of the company since 1945. When his father died, found out in 1960 and 1961 that sometimes you can't move your feet fast enough.

When he tried to recoup in the company's principal business — plywood — he ran into a price war in the Pacific Northwest that resulted in a $5 loss on every 1,000 square feet of the company sold.

Aberdeen Plywood and Veneers, Inc. It is from warehousing operations and plywood plants, Mr. Evans said, that he is counting on profitable operations this year.

prospered, he said, largely because the United States Army became one of the biggest purchasers of the pumps. By 1955, however, Mr. Evans' father prevailed on him to sell the business and join him in managing Evans Products.

they failed to elect a member of their group to the board. Threat is Ended
The persistent Mr. Evans, was over, went back to stockholders and successfully sold his plan, with the result that Aberdeen was acquired by Evans Products last August.

Mrs. Earl Atkinson and daughter, Mrs. Dwayne Walker of Oxford St. were Friday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Krumm.

Ketterer of Sheridan Ave. participated in a ballet program at the Community Center in Northville Saturday evening.

Miss Allison Scott is spending her mid-semester vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Scott of Evergreen. Mr. Frederick Fisher of Adrian is also a house guest at the Scott home. They are both juniors at U. of M.

Experts Tell How To Avoid Being Swindled

Laws and agencies which protect the consumer from swindlers, racketeers, and dishonest businessmen were the topics presented at the second meeting of the Consumer Education Series in Dearborn. Three hundred people heard representatives from Federal, state and local agencies who convinced them that they need to be wary of the confidence-man.

- 1. Never sign a contract to buy a product when first approached by a salesman. Think over the deal before signing a paper.
2. Watch out for the referral approach.
3. Check on the bank or finance company that provides the credit.
4. Beware of fancy seals and warranties. They may not be worth the paper they're printed on.

- 10. Make all complaints in writing and keep copies of your letters.
11. Call the local police chief if you are pestered by a door-to-door salesman. He may have heard about the company before.
12. Beware of buying from samples.
13. Contracts can be cancelled. Notify both the company and the finance company. Keep a record of the cancellation order. Send a telegram for fast action!

He spent his junior year in 1927-28 studying at the University of Lausanne in Switzerland. Mr. Evans recalls that this was mainly a lark. He said that one day at Ann Arbor he was sitting around with some of his friends and decided it might be nice to spend a year in Switzerland.

That special magic that transports a member of the audience into the living, moving world of the theater hovered over the Shubert Theater last week. On the occasion: Broadway's two-year sensational hit, "The Miracle Worker." Eileen Brennan and Donna Summerman along with a most competent cast of talented folks dispense the magical merchandise at the Shubert. Incidentally, you still have a week yet to see this superb, wonderful, magnificent, and thrilling play.

Old George could go on and on spinning out polysyllabic adjectives praising "The Miracle Worker" for an entire column. It's unforgettable and deserves the attention of your entire family. If you don't get a lump in your throat during Act III, you need to heck-up on your attitude towards children and life in general. From every angle there is a show that can be recommended as a memorable experience in the theater.

IT'S A DUD

It's a shame that the performers at the Cass Theater couldn't have borrowed some of the "special magic" and made the production "From Paris With Love" a more palatable offering. Even Genevieve with a twinkle in her eye and a gay note in her voice could not save this poor excuse for a musical revue.

Act I moved faster, had a bit more spice, and generally gave evidence of being a bright, tuneful show. Maybe lack of Parisian pixie needs to start with Act II and find a great amount of new material or a different Act III. Personally, I was looking for more comedy. One of her famous "Dragnet" sketches wherein she does the tongue-wister bit with the English language would have been hilarious. I'm afraid the poor material, lack of talented personnel, and shoe-string budgets make "From Paris With Love" a genuine flop.

AT THE FISHER

"Taste of Honey" opens this week at the Fisher. It's another case of the racial lines being crossed in the sanctified areas of marriage. "No Strings" tried to explore this area and failed. "Taste of Honey" presents its case on a more realistic level of life and succeeds. Interestingly enough, this play was written by a 19-year-old usherette. Who said you had to be old and gray before you had the wisdom and experience to pen a play? I've told Bob Wall this many times when he comes into my office with a dejected look on his visage. "You've got to keep pounding those sticky typewriter keys. There's no substitute for good, hard creative work."

VANGUARD IMPORT

Good news arrived in the mail from the Vanguard Theater. Leon Shaw has been imported from New York for the lead in "The Disenchanted." Jason Robard, Jr., had the lead in the Broadway production a few seasons ago. All the New York critics enjoyed this spirited tale of the floating '20s when it played a full year on the Main Stem. The Vanguard production opens on Feb. 8 for a month's run. Call WO 3-8863 for ticket reservations.

To follow the "Disenchanted," Dr. Gregory has received the Midwest rights to do a production of Ionesco's "Rhinoceros." If you'll recall, old George caught this show in New York last season and raved about it for at least three weeks. It's a weird play where all the characters turn into rhinoceroses until in the final scene only one man is left in the world. Sounds crazy, doesn't it? But believe me, it's a powerful play that packs a message most potent.

AND IN PLYMOUTH

Barbara Elliot, current producer of the next Plymouth Theater Guild production, called me and indicated that "Biggest Thief in Town" needs a few more actors. I strongly urge any thespian-minded male individual to get in touch with Mr. Lucchetti at on the Monday, Thursday, Friday rehearsals. You'll find the hard-working gang back in the Annex auditorium of the High School. Pay them a visit and see what parts are still available. Remember!

Still Time to Enroll In Retail Selling Course

There is still time for Plymouth clerks and their supervisors to join a new course offered by the Recreation and Adult Education Department called "You and Selling."

Held every Tuesday night, the course opened last week with 25 members. The course last week and the ones for the next two weeks will be in charge of Robert A. Boyd, manager of the affiliated divisions of the Michigan Retailers Assn.

"You and Selling" has been started through the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and Small Business Administration. Store owners and managers are being urged to attend as well as their clerks. The registration fee is $6.

Boyd attended Indiana University, Vanderbilt University and Indiana State College. After seven years with the J. C. Penney Company, he joined the Michigan Retailers Assn. in 1959. He has conducted MRA Retail Sales Refresher Courses in many cities. His headquarters are in Lansing.

$28.5 Million Spent by Area GM Plants in '62

General Motors spent nearly $28.5 million during 1961 to run GM's two manufacturing facilities in Livonia, officials announced.

The statement was released jointly by R. Gordon Spear, Fisher Body Division plant manager, and Leo M. Seidl, Chevrolet Motor Division plant manager.

They said employee earnings for the year exceeded $27.7 million. An additional $750,000 was paid to 114 area businesses for supplies.

The statement noted that monthly employment averaged over 4,200 in 1961 and rose toward the end of the year to average of over 5,000 in December.

Employees at the two GM plants invested $771,861 in U. S. Savings Bonds through payroll deductions. Awards to employees for ideas received under the GM Suggestion Plan totaled $83,432. Employees contributed $63,874 to the United Fund Drive.

The Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant on Eckles Rd. manufactures chassis coil springs and bumpers for Chevrolet passenger cars, leaf springs for trucks and suspensions components. The Fisher Body operation on Plymouth Rd. is known as the Cut and Sew plant. Cushions, door pads, sunvisors and other interior trim are produced there for Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick passenger cars.

Congratulations, Bernadette!

Young savers, like Bernadette Wadzinski (pictured) deserve hearty congratulations. And our branch managers never miss an opportunity to encourage these youngsters.

It's especially gratifying to find so many young people among First Federal's 147,000 savings customers.

As they add to savings, these boys and girls develop character and build important habits of thrift.

How about the younger members of your family? Encourage them to save where their accounts are welcome—here at Michigan's largest and strongest savings association. A call from Lisle Alexander, retired state adjutant of the American Legion, reminded us that it was his original investment in wildlife stamps from Washington that actually brought the Western Wayne County Conservation Association into being.

Enclosed with the stamps was a little form inquiring as to whether or not the recipient thought he could sell more stamps if they were mailed to him and how many.

While I was enjoying the flu last week Bob Dajnowicz of Zimmer, Keller and Calvert Advertising Agency, of Detroit, presented me with a new booklet called "Ski-in' Tips."

Whoever followed druggist Bob Beyer to the meeting last Tuesday night at St. Peter's Lutheran Church knew exactly what he wanted.

We're more than proud of the congratulatory ad appearing in this issue for our Boy Scouts. Many of the participants in this greeting have never been represented in the Mail columns before and we urge you to read all of the names of the sponsors.

Judd Arnet in his very readable column in the Free Press made reference one day last week to the numbers game, in the "mass media circulation mania" which has led to the demise of so many sorely needed publications today.

The survey, conducted in various cities, disclosed customers' attitudes toward stores advertising by mail compared to those advertising in newspapers.

Some other survey results showed that four out of ten persons are considerably annoyed when they get advertising in the mail or on their door step and among the upper economic group the figure is almost five out of ten.

Don't Curb It Forever

Last week's public hearing called by the City Commission to determine if curb and gutter should be installed along eight streets produced some interesting results.

RESIDENTS ALONG four of the projects turned thumbs down on the improvements (we will use this term, although some argue that curb, gutter and pavement do not necessarily improve things).

It could be that those who were against the improvements got out and knocked on doors of neighbors while those in favor stayed home.

IT IS OUR observation that the City could do a better selling job before the hearing is called, not wait until the hearing is going on.

dollars annually to maintain streets which are not paved or are not properly drained with the help of curb and gutter.

Most of the petitions against the projects handed to the Commission stated that they were not in favor of the curb and gutter "at this time."

IT IS OUR next observation that one should never move into a City neighborhood where there is no pavement, curb or gutter without someday expecting to pay for these improvements.

As this is written, we don't know what the Commission will decide Monday night about the eight projects under consideration.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

To The Editor: Well, Well. Now the City "fathers" want to bury $143,000 in Plymouth's town park.

You can bet that few, if any, of these planners SAW, HEARD, SAT or STOOD through Sunday's wonderful Family Symphony Concert in the crowded Plymouth gymnasium.

A Civic Auditorium with a fully enclosed roof to use all year at any time of the day might bring more people to Plymouth and raise the faith in those of us who also pay taxes here.

The beautiful and perfectly-timed voices of the hundreds of 5th and 6th grade boys and girls and the fine work of Wayne Dunlap and his talented Symphony members do deserve a comfortable audience, not aching bleacher backs or fathers standing and holding younger children.

Why are our fine teachers so hesitant to put on more numerous, fine programs with present stage facilities?

Let's do our donating to a "Meetin' Place" for all of Plymouth folks, young and old. Keep us at home in a Pilgrim Auditorium!

Con-Con Sets Challenging Deadline

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association

The Constitutional Convention gave itself a challenging March 31 adjournment date some time ago, but now faces the question of whether it can meet its self-imposed cutoff date.

A legislative appropriation last year provided enough funds to pay delegates their $500 semi-monthly salary through May, but the elected members of the convention decided they should attempt to finish their work earlier.

The decision was sharply influenced by an attorney general's opinion which stated March 31 would be the last day the convention could work if it wanted to get its proposed constitution on the November ballot, when state officers will be elected.

NOW, WITH some months of committee work and several hours of heated debate behind them, the delegates are beginning to realize the sharp limitations of the March 31 deadline.

The validity of the Attorney General's opinion is also challenged as it becomes apparent the cutoff date might mean a less than fully considered document could result from the short session.

Michigan's present constitution gives the 1961-62 convention the power to put its proposal before the people any time 90 days or longer after the time it adjourns.

Delegates who had no previous political experience in deliberative bodies are just now beginning to see the full process unfold. The convention sessions have been long and tedious for committee members who have gone over and over the material in their report and must review the entire committee considerations for the rest of the delegates.

LIMITATION OF debate has been viewed to this point with great disdain but would appear to be one of the few ways to meet the March 31 deadline, if delegates want to meet it.

Honest appraisal of many of the speeches given by delegates on the floor leaves no doubt that better organized thoughts and a willingness to be concise instead of verbose would be a great improvement.
