City Clerk Joseph Near To Head Urban Renewal

Hiring of City Clerk Joseph Near as urban renewal director took place at Monday night's City Commission meeting. The City's first urban renewal project is expected to get underway within the next month.

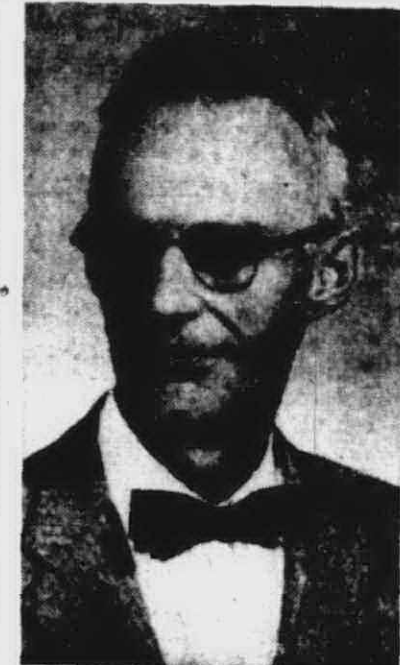

Near, who is both City clerk and head of the accounting department, will continue in these roles along with his new urban renewal job. A clerk and a bookkeeper will be hired, however, to relieve him of most of his accounting responsibilities.

Hiring of a director of urban renewal is mandatory under federal regulations covering such projects. It is the job of the director to coordinate the purchase and sale of properties, relocate residents and take care of the mountain of paper work required by the federal government.

Near starts his new job immediately. Funds from the federal government for the project have not yet been received, but are expected between April 1 and 15. The government will pay the $7,500 salary for the director. Near will also receive some pay from the City for his work as clerk and accountant. The appointment was not unanimous. Commissioner William Hartmann said that while he has much confidence in the ability of the city clerk, he feels that someone already acquainted with the job should have been hired. City Manager Albert Glasford had advertised for the job and had interviewed several applicants. But the appointment was approved 5-2 with Commissioners Hartmann and Richard Wernette voting no.

Museum Nears Start; 121 Donors

Members of the Plymouth Historical Society released today a list of 121 donors of artifacts for the museum which will be open to the public shortly in the former Anson Polley home next to the City Hall.

The Society has been working quietly here for many years collecting and cataloging things of interest to Plymouth for presentation to the public one day when a museum building might be available.

Not only has their work been difficult because of the lack of funds but when items have been given there has been, up to this time, no place to store them. However, the new museum is nearing completion, having been completely renovated and redecorated, for the future enjoyment of residents.

Members of the Society are now formulating plans for the dedication week and complete details of the opening will be announced at a later date.

Donors on record at this time are: Edna Allen, Harold Anderson, Antique Study Group of Plymouth, Henry Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bernash, Thomas Bissell, Melvin Blunk, May Bovee, Mrs. Howard Bowring, Mrs. Walter O. Breed, Harry Brown, Browns of Plymouth — Harry, Orelia and Agnes Wright Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Glasford reported.

COMING DOWN to earth are seven buildings in the middle of Plymouth's downtown where First Federal Savings & Loan will construct a building for its own office and four other stores. This photo was taken from the roof of The Plymouth Mail as wreckers tear down the service station next door and other buildings facing Penniman Ave. and Main St. All of the buildings between The Plymouth Mail and the Melody House will be leveled. The job will be completed within three weeks.

Operation Is Legal, Police Are Informed

A method of playing bingo outlined by County Prosecuting Attorney Samuel H. Olsen is now being played weekly in Plymouth and is apparently legal in the eyes of the law, Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher said this week.

Parents Ask For Another Special Class

Parents of children enrolled in the School District's special education class appeared before the Board of Education Monday night to ask that another class for elementary children be started and not to move the existing class to the new Junior High.

The district now has two classes for children who need special attention because of their limited capacities, one for elementary children at Farrand School and the other on the Junior High level. The parents pointed out that the elementary class now is full with 15 students and recommended that another be started.

They were also concerned that the Board may move the existing elementary class to the Junior High — West next year, but the Board explained that no such move is contemplated. Whether to start a second elementary class will depend mainly on budget limitations.

Language Review The board spent several hours Monday night reviewing the foreign language curriculum with foreign language teachers. German will return to the curriculum next year at the ninth grade level. The teachers made several recommendations. Among them were:

1. That language laboratories be installed for beginners in both Junior Highs. 2. That the present Senior High laboratory be used only for lab experience, not for a regular classroom. The Board reported that this will be possible next year due to increased space as the new Junior High — West opens. 3. That language classes be established for non-college bound students.

Tax Resolution The Board approved a resolution which asked that school districts be considered as cities, counties and the state attempt to find new sources of taxes. At present, Wayne County and the State of Michigan are discussing an income tax to help their financial needs. But the Plymouth Board joined other boards in pointing out that other sources of revenue besides real estate taxes are being sought, the needs of school districts should also be considered.

A donation is something you give without being required to and any particular benefit," Olsen advised, "so that if a game is operated on a donation basis and the people are not permitted to play unless they make a donation, the use of the word 'donation' is pure hypocrisy and a lottery exists."

Olsen added that the donation must be made in such a manner that under such circumstances a player can play whether he donates or not. "If the game is run on any other manner, it is illegal and will probably cause trouble," he continued. The prosecuting attorney also noted that the organization operating the bingo must be one of a non-profit nature. "All of the funds coming into the organization are used for the benefit of the organization, or its charities, or similar purposes. The other regulation is that no one connected with the operation of the game is to be paid for his services in connection with the work at the bingo game."

What Next? City Has Surplus Year

Unheard of in this day and age is the situation that faced the City Commission Monday night.

They wound up the 1960-61 fiscal year with a surplus in the treasury! While most governments and school districts are running into the red these days, the City of Plymouth ended the last fiscal year with a net cash surplus of $46,418, according to the auditor's annual audit report.

And not cash, such as delinquent taxes and loans to other funds. This leaves a net cash surplus of $67,418. But of this amount, $21,000 was appropriated in the current budget.

After all of this is balanced out, the auditors, Sutherland and Robson, reported a balance of $46,418.76. The Commission voted to transfer this amount to the budget contingency fund. Some of this amount was budgeted for City share of street improvements "which never got off the ground," City Manager Albert Glasford reported.

Band Chalks Up Another 'Superior'

For the fifth consecutive year, the 80-piece Plymouth High School Band received a rating of "First Division — Superior" at the annual District Band Festival, and they did it right at home last Saturday when 16 other bands came to town for the annual affair.

It was two Saturdays ago that the Junior High School's Rock & Band directed by Laurence Livingston won its 11th straight "First Division — Superior" rating at a district festival. This band has 100 pieces.

Plymouth High School was a busy place last Saturday as the 17 bands played at half-hour intervals in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn. Festival. Only six of the 17 were awarded the coveted First Division rating. They were Plymouth, Grosse Pointe, Wayne, Belleville, Ann Arbor and Dearborn in Class AA and Ypsilanti in Class A.

All of these winners are now eligible to compete for state honors at East Lansing on Saturday, April 28.

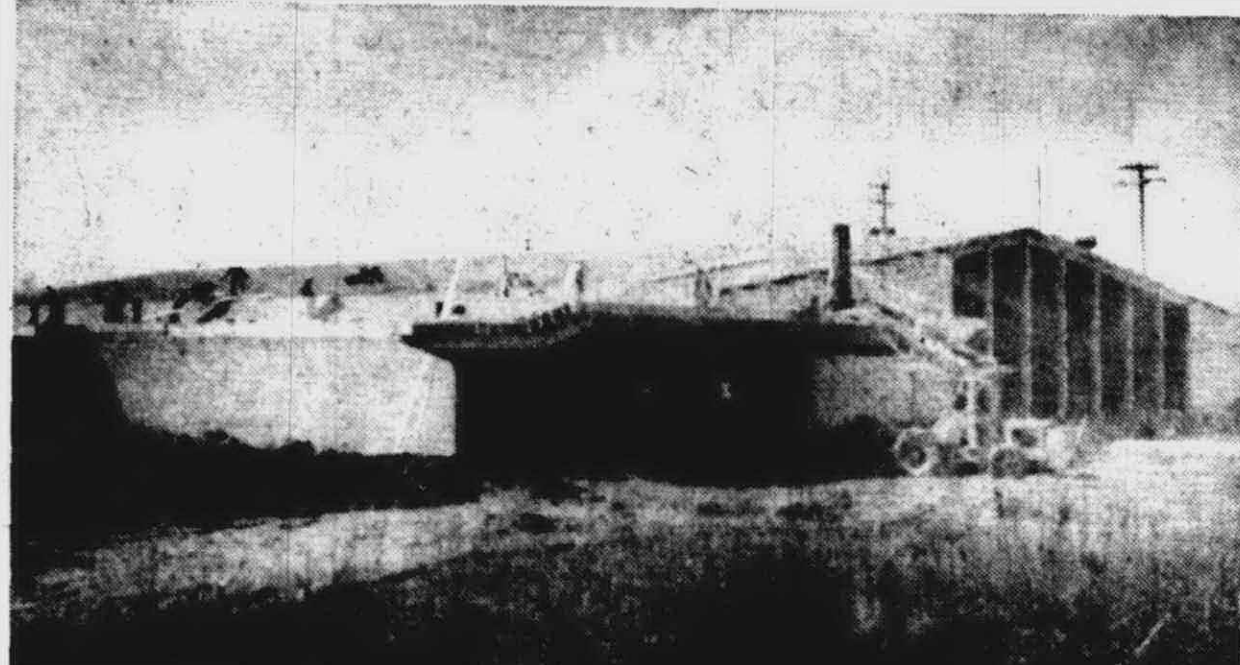

The Plymouth Band, directed by James Griffith, was highly praised by all (Continued on Page 8)

BOWLING BALLS should be crashing through the pins in this building in another few months, owners of the Plymouth Bowl say, as the large building goes up on Plymouth Rd. The 32-lane alley is expected to open in May.

Building Spree Seen As Spring Comes In

With spring finally staggering into Plymouth Tuesday night after a winter that was described as one of the worst in many years, many a man's thoughts are turning to new construction and that this will be a big year for the business in this area.

CITY BUILDING Safety Inspector Charles Thompson reported that during the past few days business in his office has picked up considerably. The firm that constructed the Kroger building on N. Main St. has been issued a permit to finish off the other portion of the building for use. Thompson was told that it will be occupied by a Super-X Drug Store, a new affiliate of the Kroger Co.

Six permits have been issued for new homes in the Symar Subdivision (near the Junior High), one in Birch Estates and one in Hough Park during the week, Thompson said. The Early American Shop has also been issued a permit for an addition. Several other developers have also indicated they will soon be applying for a number of permits.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Building Inspector Howard Holmes said that he has received indications that several subdividers in the Township are seeking permits. Greenspan Developers is opening Subdivision No. 5 soon and Garling Construction is waiting for the weather to break to start home construction in its subdivision.

One major project well underway in the Township is the 32-lane Plymouth Bowl, on Plymouth Rd. The Township has also issued a permit to the Western Wayne County Conservation Club for erection of a $57,000 clubhouse on Napier Rd.

Finds Breakup Much Worse Elsewhere

This year's frost, which went down as deep as 40 inches, is causing a barrel of headaches in many communities as mud makes many roads impassable, but the situation seems to be well in hand in the Plymouth area, a survey showed this week.

Streets in the City of Plymouth are holding up very well considering that the winter was the worst for roads since 1928, DPW Superintendent Joseph Bida said.

In a good position to know the rural road situation well is Robert Houghton, director of school bus transportation. Houghton said that last

PHS Vocalists Welcome Spring With Concert

"Anthems for Spring" will be the title of an evening of music presented by the choral department of Plymouth High School next Tuesday (March 27).

Seven vocal groups under the direction of Fred Nelson will be featured in the seasonal concert. The program will start at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Opening the program will be the Mixed Chorus with "Let Us Break Bread Together," "One Little Candle" and "Buffalo Gals."

The Triple Trios will sing three songs — "Koom Bah Yah," with a solo by Nancy Canning, "True Love" with solo by Hollis Haynes and "The Beauty Shop Quartet." Offered by the Boys' Quartet will be "Passing By" and "Wade In De Water." These songs gave the boys a first division rating at the Choral Solo and Ensemble Festival at Wayne State University last month.

Another first division song is sung by the Madrigal Singers. It is "Sing We and Chant It." They will also sing "Maiden, Lovely Maiden."

The Girls' Quartet will entertain with two songs and the Girls' Glee Club will sing "The Song Is You," "Blessing, Glory and Wisdom," "I Hear a Thrush at Eve" and "The Gardener," accompanied by two French horns.

Concluding the evening will be the Choir presenting "Halalujah, Amen," "How They So Softly Rest," "The Falling of a Star," "Are you Sleeping, Brother John?" and "Anthem for Spring," for which the concert was named. Tickets are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Defrosting Is Kind Here

week it was "touch and go" for a few days when it seemed apparent that some buses may have to be pulled off the unpaved roads. "But then the County seemed to have caught up with the situation and the roads are now passable," Houghton said.

The roads are still rough, however, Houghton reports, and buses must travel at a slower speed, putting them behind schedule.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay said that he has received many complaints from those living in rural areas about ice clogging up culverts under drives and then water washing away the drives.

"Mine is washed out too," the supervisor admitted, "but when we decide to live out of an urban area, we must expect some inconvenience, I guess."

City DPW chief Joseph Bida said that City streets not sealed during the past few years are worse than the ones that were. "Streets that were salt stabilized and seal coated are about 98 per cent perfect except along the edges where the water stands," he noted.

"Some nearby communities have asked why we have no break-up when they have block upon block which are impassable."

"We in the DPW have been busy patching some of the old paved streets, keeping them passable. Some of the bad ones are Penniman, East Ann Arbor Trail, a few blocks of Farmer and several others. Most of our complaints," Bida continued, "are about muddy driveway approaches and a few complaints about muddy alleys."

"I feel that keeping our roads open is much more important than alleys and if the alleys get bad we can always block them off."

Bida reported that the City DPW has used 100 tons of cold patch in February and March. The cost of labor for this job is $12 an hour.

"The frost went out very well and at present it is all right," he said.

Thief Didn't Wait In Waiting Room A good watchdog may be the answer for Dr. Marion Weberlein, who operates her veterinary business at 367 S. Harvey St.

Last Friday as she worked with a patient in the back room of her office, Dr. Weberlein heard someone enter the waiting room, and a few seconds later leave. The visitor had helped himself to a table lamp.

On second thought, Dr. Weberlein has a pet ocelot which may be the answer for dealing with such customers.

Busch-Drews Nuptials Pledged at Morning Rites

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Drews

In a morning ceremony performed by the Rev. Father Renaud, Barbara Busch and Dennis Drews exchanged their wedding vows at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church Feb. 3.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Busch of 15512 Bainbridge, Livonia, was given in marriage by her father.

Her long, full skirted gown of Chantilly lace featured a scalloped neckline trimmed with sequin embroidery. The long lace sleeves ended in points at her wrist and the finger-tip veil she wore cascaded from a Dior bow headband. Her bridal bouquet was fashioned of white roses centered with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Pat DuSablón of Detroit was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress with three quarter sleeves. A chiffon skirt fell from the bodice of red velvet. Bridesmaids Marilyn Busch, and Patricia Busch, sisters of the bride, and Gloria Drews, the groom's sister, were dressed identical to the matron of honor. They all carried white bouquets of red and white roses and stephanotis.

Jerry Drews served his brother as best man while Ronald Essick, Pat Nester and Tom Drews seated the guests.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Busch, chose an aqua jacket dress and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother, Mrs. Drews, wore a beige silk shantung dress with green accessories. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 225 guests was held at the V.F.W. Hall on Lilley Rd. Out-of-town guests came from Imlay City, Midland, Greenville, Wayne, Garden City, Northville, Ann Arbor, Livonia and Detroit.

For their short honeymoon trip the bride changed into a brown jacket dress with brown and white accessories.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Drews, 623 Jener Pl., is a Plymouth High School graduate and is employed at Burrough's Corp. His wife, who graduated from Bentley High School and attended Cleary College is employed with Parke-Davis in Ann Arbor.

The couple will make their home at 223 S. Center St., in Northville.

Newlyweds Settle in Ann Arbor

Rev. Elwood Chipchase officiated at the evening marriage of Joan A. Wilson and Ralph N. Frey March 17, in the Salem Federated Church.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Robert Wilson of 9316 Six Mile Rd., wore a white floor-length gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over satin. The bodice, styled with a scoop neckline, was decorated with iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt of tulle was accented with long points of lace ending in a chapel train. Her finger-tip illusion veil was held in place by a pearl and iridescent sequin band.

Mrs. George Carroll, sister of the bride, was matron of honor while Miss Bonnie Burnham of Salem and Mrs. Robert C. Wilson, the bride's Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Roland Frey, of Ann Arbor. Douglas Frey, Tom Hutchins and Wesley Wilson seated the guests.

Renee Carroll, the bride's niece, was flower girl.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement for family and friends.

After their wedding trip through the southern states the young couple will make their home at 110 Ninth St., Ann Arbor.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Frey of Seline is a graduate of Arbor High School and is employed by Buick Machine Tool Co. His wife, a South Lyon High School graduate, works for Advance Interiors.

Orange Bread
2 small or one large orange

Juice the orange. Liquid should measure 2/3 cup, if not, add milk.
Cook first three ingredients until rind, which has been cut up, is tender.

2 tsp. shortening or corn oil
1/4 tsp. salt
2 tsp. baking powder
2 cups flour

To the dry mixture add the 2/3 cup of orange juice and the last of the rind-syrup mixture. Bake in a well-greased bread pan or Pyrex baking dish in 375 degree oven for 50 or 60 minutes. Test at 50 minutes.

"Creamed cheese makes a delicious filling for the Orange Bread if tea sandwiches are made," says Mrs. Strong.

MUNA was great! This was the verdict of the 14 Indian and Colombian delegates who spent last weekend at Hillsdale College's 13th annual Model United Nations Assembly.

Campaigning for offices was underway when the Plymouth caravan pulled up to the college field house, but by every delegation had heard about Doug Eder, the Indian candidate for committee chairman and had at least one of the handbills with Doug's picture and qualifications.

THE ELECTION results? Don Ziegler, a French delegate from Ann Arbor University High, was voted President of the Assembly. And the all-important committee chair posts went to: 1) Doug Eder, Indian delegate from Plymouth! 2) Lynn Lopucki, Cuban representative from Belleville; 3) Kelley Rea, Dahomey delegate from Ann Arbor High, and 4) Jim Griffin, French representative from Ann Arbor University High.

After having checked in at the Jonesville Inn, hot Colombian Dave Fey and Indian Dave Raafaub participated in Eder's general debate during the General Assembly meeting in the campus church.

BESIDES BEING a lesson in international relations, MUNA presented a terrific opportunity for people-watching. The Saute Arabians came in costume; the Russians were either naturally obnoxious or really terrific actors (which is more likely), because, despite their "Coffee" given for all delegates, they weren't the most likable people around; the US delegates made their presence felt only by voting in a distinctly un-American manner on several issues, and the adviser for Iceland read a book during most of the general debate.

One of the most interesting people was Rehner Scudder, a Portuguese delegate from Battle Creek Central who tied up the Trusteeship Committee's discussion of the capture of Portugal so expertly it was amazing. He seemed to be an actual Portuguese and was one of MUNA's most impressive speakers.

ANOTHER impressive speaker was Mr. Chesley Manly, a Chicago Tribune editorial staff member who covered the United Nations for eight years and who knocked the United Nations after Friday evening's banquet at Curtiss Hall. Mr. Manly's general idea was the UN is doing more harm than good and that it is an extremely poor investment for America's millions. The audience, needless to say, was neither convinced nor enthusiastic about his comments.

Saturday's official activities began with breakfast at 7:30 in Curtiss Hall, the campus newest and most attractive building. The second session of committees and conference began at 9. Proposals not discussed in Friday's meetings were covered and the groups chose two proposals to be presented to the General Assembly.

"LEFT-OVERS" from Friday's general debate spoke at the opening of the second plenary session of the General Assembly. A highlight of the debate was the wild demonstration by the Soviet-dominated countries, after a Soviet delegate vigorously and vehemently tore into the United States "imperialistic policies."

Another highlight of the General Assembly occurred after a majority of the countries voted to take strong measures against South Africa because of their controversial apartheid system. The South African delegation chairman rose, shouted that it greatly distressed him that he had to see the first step taken in the disintegration of this previously noble Organization and then stalked out at the head of the other South African representatives.

THE GENERAL Assembly meeting was adjourned around 1:30 and the 1962 MUNA activities were concluded with a luncheon at Curtiss Hall.

MUNA is basically a Rotary-financed project organized and administered by Hillsdale's International Relations Club. Members from Plymouth's delegations will report soon to Rotary members.

School Musicians of Yesteryear Return for Benefit of Band Trip

Four members of a five-member combo who at one time played in the Plymouth High School band and orchestra will try to help repay their alma mater Saturday, March 31 when they play for a dance that will send the PHS Band to Interlochen this summer. Margarette Filmore and Rip Collins were members of the school orchestra in 1927 to 1929. Mel Michaels and Tiny Filmore were also members of the High School Band a few years later and have been playing dance jobs since 1932.

These four, along with Herman Scheel, who serves as caller, compose the combo that will play for a dance on March 31 in the High School. The dance, open to adults as well as students, is being played free by the combo with proceeds being used to help send the High School Band to the National Music Camp at Interlochen. Admission is 75 cents per person.

The orchestra and caller have been together for the past 15 years. "Now our children are in the band or have been, and we feel it a great pleasure to furnish the music for the dance," Collins declared this week. "A lot of credit is to be paid to the orchestra and band leaders of past years who have provided the background for many a student's musical career, whether it be professional or pleasure," Collins added.

Mel Michaels plays trumpet and bass; Rip Collins, bass and banjo; Tiny Filmore, drums; Margarette Filmore, piano; and Herman Scheel is the caller. Scheel has been in square dance business for the last 40 years.

Insurance Firms Have Sales Meeting

The group had lunch in the Round Table Club and continued their meeting in the afternoon. John J. Temple, president, welcomed the group.

Spring Trip Planned By Senior Citizens

The weekly meeting for the Senior Citizens was held March 15 in the Masonic Temple. President Mildred Higgins opened the meeting with a report from the secretary. A trip to the Holland Tulip Festival was discussed. No date has been set for the trip.

We were pleased to hear that most of our sick members are out of the hospital. Greetings were extended to those who had birthdays in March with a birthday cake served as refreshments.

The Professor Sez... by Ed Brown

Last week I mentioned the hours a teacher works during the day, and some of the non-paying extracurricular activities connected with the job.

I know many teachers who put in a number of hours at these outside activities, and some consider it a part of the job. As I related last week, the average teacher puts in around 15 extra hours a week. I also know some teachers who spend very little time on the above-mentioned activities unless there is pay connected with it, and I believe this is becoming more and more common — a fact I hope to cover though I think I understand most of the reasons for it.

SOME OF this can be attributed to the fact that there are fewer so-called dedicated teachers today — a term applied to teachers who enter the profession, much like a missionary, with the main interest being a humanitarian one — feeling that they are contributing something to mankind by helping a child grow, with the pay being of a secondary nature.

I still think that to enter the teaching profession, or the medical, social service, nursing, or the clergy, a person must have some degree of dedicated humanitarian traits in order to have a successful career.

I once believed that we received much of our pay in satisfaction, and I still believe that to a certain extent, but the plain fact remains that if we want to live a normal life today, marry, raise a family and educate our children, we have to receive an adequate salary, particularly at the beginning of our career. I do not believe, as some do, that a high minimum level would attract only those who are interested in the money. This could not be so if we do a thorough job of selecting teachers when hired, and get rid of those who prove unsatisfactory during the two-year probation period provided by all teachers before gaining tenure status.

SOME SAY we should keep the beginning salary low, and then through a trial period eliminate the poor teachers. Who suffers by using this method — the children. And then, too, the beginning teachers have to cut in. You see the butcher, baker, grocery, doctor, plumber, auto agency and insurance company charge just as much for their services to a beginning teacher as they do to a doctor, lawyer or a businessman.

I do know that men with children are expected to make more sacrifices than others, the same as they have to do in other professions. We have seen who make many sacrifices — and then a while later make any — I think this is another trend in most professions — that some of the trained people coming from our colleges today want to start at the top rather than working up to the top.

However, I do think that the minimum pay for teachers is far too low as compared to other professions, whether the teacher be a single person or a married man with a family. It used to be that the clergyman was the lowest paid professional person in town, with the teacher running a close second, but now even the beginning clergyman gets more than the beginning teacher — in most metropolitan areas anyway. And as the survey related a while back, the janitor in the fac-

College Publicity Group Finds It's Too Small

Kenneth Lindner, administrative assistant of the Garden City public schools, was elected chairman of the Central Publicity Committee of the Northwest Wayne County Community College. The committee is to bring information to the public about the one mill proposal for the college on the June 11 election.

Lindner served as chairman of the committee which handled publicity for last October's election when the college was established.

The committee then reviewed its responsibilities for the future. Several ideas were discussed and as these ideas were expanded, it became evident that the committee was too small. It was decided to ask the Board of Trustees to appoint several additional members, perhaps including some ladies. The lack of ladies was pointed up when a photographer came in to take pictures of the group at work.

The committee will meet each Monday at 8 p.m. at the Newburg School, 9901 Newburg Rd. Anyone who has the desire to help is warmly invited to attend these meetings. Meanwhile, the Board of Trustees has concluded another phase of work in its search for an architect and hopes to arrive at an early decision.

Still to be decided it is the basic question of whether or not the one mill to be asked in June will enable the Board to provide enough land for the ultimate establishment of a cultural center in connection with the college. If a benefactor were to provide a site, this question would be settled; or, if additional funds were made available by private donors for buildings or portions of buildings, the Board's decision would be made easier.

It is hoped that these basic decisions will be made in plenty of time so that the electors will have a clear picture of what they are voting for on June 11.

Theatre Parties Forming For Premiere at Fisher

Local theatre-goers are forming parties and making plans to attend Plymouth Symphony Night at the Fisher Theater for the world premiere of "Bravo Giovanni" on April 9.

Cesare Siepi, internationally known concert and opera star, makes his musical comedy debut in this warmly comic role of a Rome restaurant proprietor who resorts to outrageous schemes with hilarious and romantic complications to defeat a gigantic cafeteria competitor. Siepi is joined in the cast by pretty newcomer Michele Lee and by stage and screen character actor David Opatoshu.

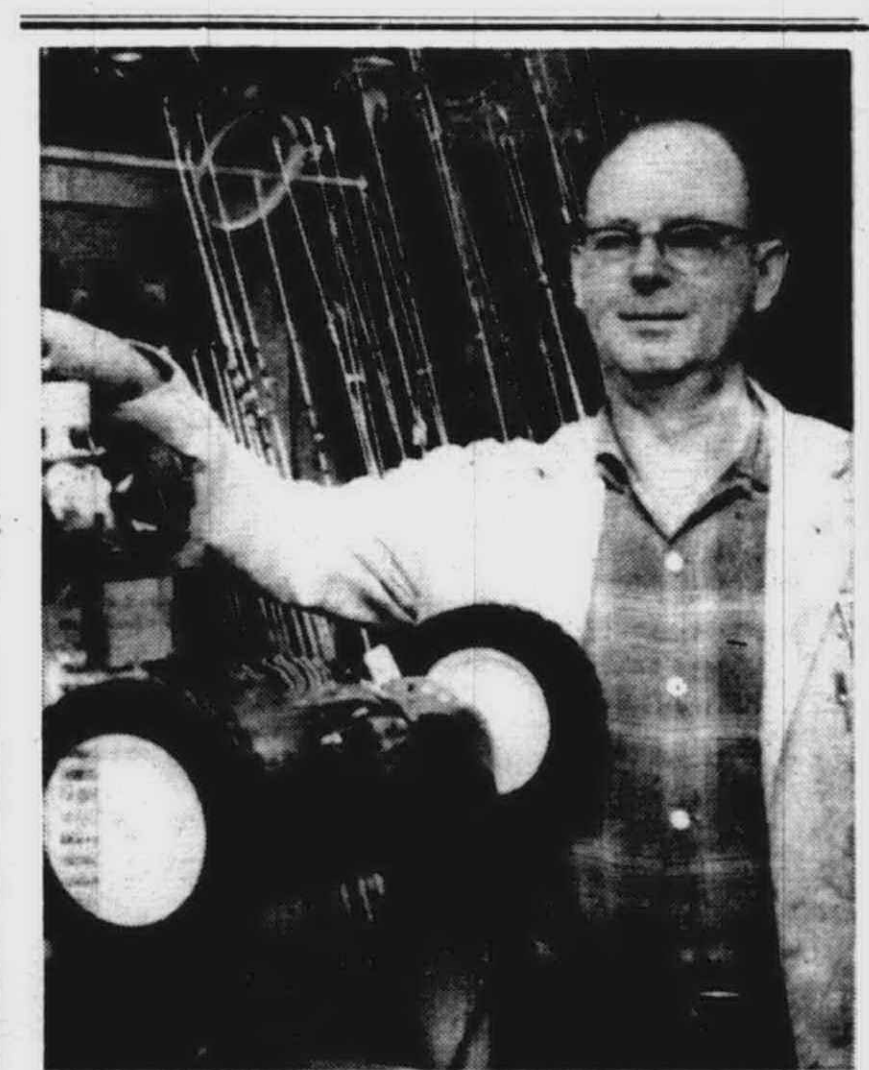

The women of the Symphony League are pleased to have this particular show for their theatre party, as it has aspects which will appeal to many people. The high quality of Mr. Siepi's musical ability will interest the serious music lovers who want to support the Plymouth Symphony benefit. The delightful story and the promise of excellent choreography by Carol Haney will appeal to the more casual theatre-goer who is looking for light entertainment. The opening night aspect and the opportunity to see the Fisher Theater possibly for the first time will satisfy those hoping for an additional "show" on this side of the footlights.

There is still an excellent choice of seats for the performance, the symphony pointed out. Tickets for main floor seats are available from Mrs. Paul Malbouc, GL 3-6466, and for first balcony seats from Mrs. John Pulker, GL 3-9247.

A WORLD premiere of the musical comedy, "Bravo Giovanni," will be attended by many Plymouthites at the Fisher Theater April 9. Cesare Siepi is shown here surrounded by some of the talent and beauty of the cast of his new musical comedy, "Bravo Giovanni." The opening night will be a Plymouth Symphony benefit.

How I Earned My First Dollar

Alvin "Rip" Collins

It was while he was a student at Plymouth High School that Alvin "Rip" Collins earned his first dollar, and it was the grand rate of 20 cents an hour.

Mr. Collins, who today is owner of Western Auto Store on Pennington Ave., started his working career with Plymouth's only full-fledged gasoline station. It was a Standard Oil station owned by Paul J. Wiedman on the site now occupied by the Mayflower Hotel.

"There were several curbside gasoline pumps in town at that time, but this was the only one where you actually drove into a station," Mr. Collins recalls. He worked there from 1924-26.

After graduation, he went to work in 1927 in the Earl S. Mastic garage, first doing odd jobs and later as its bookkeeper. In 1931 he started in the auto repair business with his father and the firm was called Collins & Son Garage. This business operated in part of the present Perfection Laundry building.

In 1937, Mr. Collins built the building now occupied by Loper Firestone and he sold out his business in 1951. After a short term with Novi Auto Parts, Mr. Collins started his own business in conjunction with Western Auto eight years ago.

How did he get his nickname? Rip was the star pitcher on the PHS baseball team and he did a creditable job of ripping the ball across the plate because in 1929 his team won the championship by beating Michigan State Normal. Rip pitched a one hit, no run and one error game. And these were the days when a pitcher was expected to pitch the whole game and Rip pitched almost every game.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins have two sons and a daughter.

Alpha Nu Chapter Elects New Officers

At the regular meeting of Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Monday evening, March 12, Miss Ione Palmer was hostess, assisted by Miss Diana Lance and Mrs. Edith Renwick.

The program was presented in two parts by Mrs. Lucille Proctor. The topic, "Studying the Effects of Automation," was introduced by a report of the special project, "Educational Implications of Automation (EIA)" symposium held in Washington D.C. Jan. 17-19. That group explored the many impacts of automation on our society today with special attention to the responsibility of education.

Mrs. Proctor called attention to several articles from recent publications on the subject of automation and other technological innovations, and problems arising from them.

The second part of the program consisted of slides showing places in Sweden, Norway, and Denmark visited by Mrs. Proctor and Mrs. Renwick. Mrs. Renwick's relatives entertained them and they were able to see many interesting places.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Eva Donovan, president, called special attention to the state conference to be held in Traverse City in May. Several members plan to attend.

The following officers for Alpha Nu Chapter were elected: president, Mrs. Myrtle Funk; first vice-president, Miss Ada Fritz; second vice-president, Mrs. Orpha Mosher; recording secretary, Miss Kathryn Giltner; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lucille Reeves; parliamentarian, Violet Bradford. Their term of office starts July 1.

A graduate of Plymouth High in 1954 and the University of Michigan in 1958, Richard moved to California where he teaches freshman zoology. He will use the fellowship award by devoting his time to research in ecology at the university.

He is married and lives with his wife and two-year-old daughter in Albany near Burbank, Calif.

Possibly the oldest staircases existing are the ancient granite steps up the sacred mountain of Tai Shan in China. But, the oldest stairs, on which dates of origin have been definitely established, are stairs in Egypt which date from the second millennium B.C.

Dupes Savings Institution To Pay Bad Checks

A Northville resident who allegedly bilked a local banking institution out of $300 in order to make good other checks which were not good was returned to jail Monday and later taken to Wayne County General Hospital for observation.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges, 33, of 345 Cady, Northville, had been arrested last week for paying for a $35 watch with a $65 check with no funds in a bank. Released on bond pending her trial last Monday, Mrs. Hodges telephoned First Federal Savings & Loan Co. the day after her release and represented herself as a Mrs. Michaels from First Federal Savings & Loan of Chicago, police said. "Mrs. Michaels" said that Mrs. Hodges had an account in their institution and asked that the Plymouth office honor a withdrawal. Mrs. Hodges later showed up and withdrew $300. She told police she wanted the money to make good other checks. Mrs. Hodges was not located again until Monday when she attempted to purchase barbiturates in Plymouth and police were called. She was again jailed on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson said that she was committed to the hospital five days for observation.

Wayne Driver Dies in Crash

A curve on Ann Arbor Rd. near Beck where many motorists have been killed and injured over the years was the scene of another fatal accident early last Saturday morning. Killed was Dean Hopkins, 27, of 3480 Winifred, Wayne. His wife, Christine, 28, is in Wayne County General Hospital with injuries she received when she was thrown through the rear window. Hopkins was driving east on Ann Arbor Rd. and apparently lost control of the car on the curve. The car hit a utility pole.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Mrs. Della Binkley

Mrs. Della Binkley, third grade teacher in the Truesdell School had a wonderful and exciting experience when CBS television officials decided that her building would serve their purpose for a part of a nationwide program entitled, "Schools of Tomorrow."

Her situation filled CBS's requirements in that she taught third graders, she was in a small rural school, and her room was spacious enough for children, their desks, television equipment and television personnel.

For an entire day, people and equipment were all over the place. The north windows were blacked out, huge lights were focused on the class, the sound control instrument set up. "It was an education in itself," she said.

Another educational experience in watching people at work was gained when she worked at the Kaiser Shipyards in Richmond, Calif. during the war and later at the Detroit Diesel branch of General Motors.

With the exception of these two ventures into the factory world, she has devoted her time to study, teaching and family.

Mrs. Binkley received her formal education at the Holcomb, Mo. High School where she met a very nice young boy named Elzo, now her husband and an employee at the G. M. Detroit Transmission plant. Then she enrolled at Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Later, after WW II, she studied at the Arkansas State College in Jonesboro, Ark. while teaching in Ash Flat. While Della was teaching Ash Flat children first in grade three and then in grade eight, her husband, a graduate of the University of Missouri was teaching veterans who were enrolled in a course of institutional - on - the - farm - training.

Next they moved to Michigan where she completed her work for a Bachelor of Science degree at Eastern Michigan University, and continued with graduate study in education.

Her teaching experiences began in Holcomb, Mo. where she taught all elementary grades for seven years, continued in Flat Ash, and has been at the Truesdell School for the past eight years. Here she has taught grades three through six.

At home with her family she enjoys raising flowers and spending musical evenings with her boys just as she did as a girl in a family of 11 children with all of her brothers who played string instruments.

Self-taught, she plays the piano while her sons Kenneth, age 17, the first cornetist in the Wayne Concert Band and Barry, age 12 a clarinetist in the Jr. High Concert Band make up a trio. Though Kenneth spends a great deal of time with his music, he will major in math and chemistry next year at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Binkley is a supporting member of the P.E.A., M.E.A. and N.E.A. and an active member of the Wayne Assembly of God Church where she is a member of the choir and treasurer of the Womens Missionary Council. For six years she was secretary of the Missionary Group. Since she feels that she does not have the time to make adequate preparation for Sunday classes, she serves as a substitute Sunday School teacher.

Consumers Adopts Budget Heating Plan

Budget billing for customers who heat their homes with natural gas was announced today by Consumers Power Company.

A customer who chooses to adopt the plan will pay one-twelfth of his estimated annual service bill each month during the budget year, which begins with May and runs through the following April. The final bill of the budget year will be adjusted to cover any difference between the estimate and the customer's actual use of service during the 12-month period.

"We are putting this plan into effect as a convenience to our home heating customers," said James P. Thomas, division manager for Consumers. "People who heat their homes with natural gas use much more service in winter than they do at other times. Under normal billing there is a wide variation between their smallest and largest service bills.

"The budget plan will enable customers who wish to do so to pay approximately the same amount each month, spreading their heating cost evenly through the year."

ANNOUNCING A BUDGET PAYMENT PLAN

For Home Heating Customers of Consumers Power Company

SPREAD YOUR YEARLY COST OF HEATING OVER 12 MONTHS

It takes a lot more heat to keep your home warm in January or February than it does in July or August.

Monthly service bills of home-heating customers therefore vary considerably as between summer and winter.

Many home-heating customers have told us they would like a plan that would permit them to pay about the same amount every month.

The Budget Payment Plan makes this possible.

HOW THE PLAN WILL WORK

The budget year begins with May and runs through April of the following year. The total amount to be paid for service during the budget year will be estimated on the basis of past usage or other available data. Your monthly service bills then will be approximately one-twelfth of this amount.

During the first part of the budget year, your monthly payments will be somewhat larger than they would be under normal billing. You will thus be building up a credit against the winter months when your use of natural gas reaches its peak.

You will be billed for the same amount each month unless the credit you have built up is insufficient, when combined with the amount of the budget payment, to cover the service used, in which case you will be billed for the amount due.

In April you will receive a bill for the amount then remaining due, which may well be less than the amount of the monthly budget payment. Small overpayments of a year's bills can be carried over to apply against the next year. Larger overpayments can be refunded.

IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO PAY YOUR SERVICE BILLS ON THE BUDGET PAYMENT PLAN, JUST FILL OUT THIS FORM AND MAIL OR TAKE IT TO THE NEAREST CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY OFFICE. YOUR FIRST BUDGET PLAN BILL WILL REACH YOU IN MAY.

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

I would like to equalize my monthly service bills. Please determine my monthly payment and bill me on the Budget Payment Plan.

Dr. Jaslow At Fluorine Meeting

Attending the Fluorine Research conference held at Brook Lodge, Kalamazoo, March 1 and 2 were Doctor Robert L. Jaslow, Medical Superintendent of the Plymouth State Home and Training School and Doctor Henry Kanar, staff dentist at the Institution. Doctors Jaslow and Kanar presented a paper entitled "The Procurement of Samples From Infants For Balance Studies."

The Fluorine Balance studies are being made in an effort to determine the effectiveness of various fluorine compounds in the control of dental caries. At present, fluoride is usually ingested in drinking water, in which it is present either naturally or by chemical addition, or may be applied topically by dentists.

The work done at the Plymouth State Home consisted of developing methods of collecting samples and administering the various compounds being tested so that the amount of fluoride retained in the system could be accurately measured.

The Missouri and Mississippi rivers meet about ten miles north of St. Louis.

GATHERED AROUND Lloyd Fillmore, at the Sixty Plus Club's Cherished Treasure and Hobby Show, examining one of a pair of vividly painted china vases, is Hazel Hagen, Mrs. Fillmore and Leona Harer. These particular vases, over a hundred years old, graced one of the rooms of the White House until 1850 when Millard Fillmore's term of office expired. Lloyd Fillmore is the great great nephew of America's 13th president. Mrs. Hagen lends an atmosphere of yesteryear by wearing the dress her mother wore on her wedding day 75 years ago. Also shown, among the interesting mementos, is a well cared-for china doll at least 90 years old.

MRS. ALBE SALMONSON on the right, examines some of Mrs. Harry Brown's hobby handiwork. Mrs. Brown's contribution to the Sixty Plus Cherished Treasure and Hobby Show included several pieces of beautiful cut glass as well as an extensive display of china. The original Bandage Rolling Machine was invented by her husband, Harry, which was shown and demonstrated in another section of the Show.

Sixty Plus-ers Turn Up Wealth Of Treasures for Hobby Show

MRS. SARAH YEOMAN, against a background of some of the handsome quilts she has fashioned, shows a ceramic bowl she made to Mrs. Melbourne Johnson and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Hoshal of Toledo. Other objects in her display include historic pieces of Wedgwood and several silver articles handed down in her family.

By Jean Campau

Some apprehension tailed the preparations for the Sixty Plus Club's Cherished Treasure and Hobby Show, but they needn't have worried. Their initial public venture was a resounding success as the 176 people attending will attest.

Out of boxes, trunks and storage places came lovely old cut glass and china, antique jewelry, dainty tables, carefully preserved clothes and various objects of interest that made up the fascinating exhibit at the Methodist Church on March 12.

This lively group of Sixty Plus-ers also showed some of their current hobbies including picture-perfect needlework, knitting, crocheting, ceramics and painting.

Since only a portion of the members' treasures were shown, they are considering making the affair an annual event based on the enthusiastic response shown by visitors.

The Club meets monthly at the First Methodist Church for fun and fellowship, mission work and other charitable pursuits.

For further particulars on membership call Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, president, at GL 3-2493.

Larry Sexton Helps Direct CMU Play

Larry Sexton, a Plymouth senior at Central Michigan University, was co-director of a children's theater production held last week.

Our local theatrical boards have been creaking loudly lately under the weight of the eager thespians in our town. American Association of University Women players pranced about in an engaging version of "Rumpelstiltskin" written by Caroline Guicking. The Plymouth Theater Guild caught "The Biggest Thief In Town" and gave audiences a chance to chuckle at the antics of a small town undertaker. The Lions Club packed in the Plymouth citizenry to the rafter-level with a breath-taking Canadian travelogue at the Junior High. And the Plymouth Symphony presented a magnificent concert March 4.

Yes, we've had entertainment aplenty right here in town. Looking to the weeks ahead more fun and live stage productions are on the horizon. The Plymouth High School dramatic students are rehearsing "Gramercy Ghosts" under the watchful eye of Drama Robert Stenger. Bill Moore has left the confines of his Karmara Fris, Peggy Heiney as the rehearsal hall ready kept her youthful audience wide-eyed in anticipation of what was to come. No easy job when you have a full house of 325 twisting, squirming bodies.

Kay Derveaux's costumes were handsome and gay. Mimi Settles did a yeoman's task in providing for the many settings required for a fast-moving children's play. Approximate music for the production was provided by Marian Maas and Mimi Settles with some stereophonic records. Two gentlemen that assisted with the lights should be given a mention, Bill Campbell and Harry Ingram. Oh, yes, three moose!

Another hit Let's examine a few of these past theatrical events with our critical and sometimes caustic calipers. "Rumpelstiltskin" featured the joyful acting of Margaret Smith, Nancy Messerly, Katherine Holland, Clara Scharmen, Lois Vetal, and Mary Elizabeth Heiney as the Story Book lady kept her youthful audience wide-eyed in anticipation of what was to come. No easy job when you have a full house of 325 twisting, squirming bodies.

College Circuit The University Players at Wayne State, Michigan, East-ern Michigan, and the U of D are taking center stage with a rash of productions. Wayne State is doing Moliere's "School for Wives," a timeless comic masterpiece. U of M opens up this weekend with Graham Greene's "The Living Room," a drama of suspense and mystery. Eastern Michigan University dips into to avant-garde drama by presenting Jean Paul Sartre's "The Flies." You don't get a chance to see this unusual drama too often.

The Plymouth Theater Guild in the near future to explore the possibilities of doing two productions a year. The Guild could provide men for the male roles, light erection, etc. It could be a happy marriage if all the covenants could be agreed upon for a happy co-existence. And who would benefit? Why, the children, of course by getting two shows where now one only flourishes. Wave your own, storybook lady, and make this "wish" come true!

THE WAY OUT WORLD - Long John Nebel. The author tells of some of the experiences he has had with people who claim to be clairvoyant or telepathic, or participate in other manifestations of ESP.

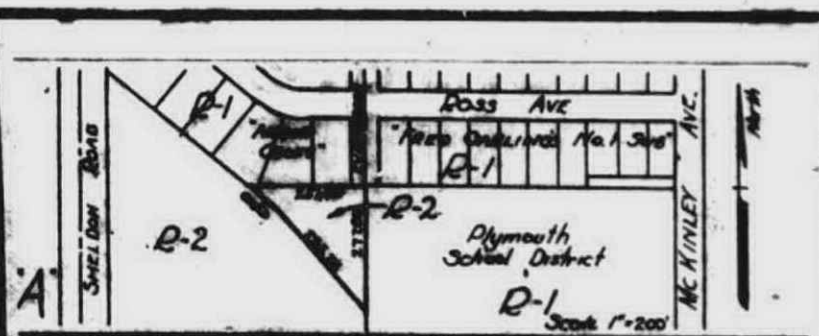

MY SABER IS BENT - Jack Paar. The midnight maverick tells more about his life and his show, in this, his second book.

Salem Church Group To Visit Missions

By C. W. Clair
GL 3-2610
Mrs. Anna Quackenbush of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Irene Stein of Wayne and her daughter, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson last week, on W. Seven Mile Rd.

Dannie Hopper of the W. Seven Mile Rd. is being confined to his home with mumps. We hope that Dannie will be well and out again soon, because with spring coming on, and all there is to do around, I know that Dannie is a real good boy to have around.

Charles Angell on the Seven Mile Rd. is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. He was taken there March 7 for check over and was to have surgery the first of this week.

Mrs. Carmine Meyers from the Tower Rd. has been home with the flu the past week.

The Ladies Aid of the Salem Federated Church will go to Detroit March 22 to visit the Group Mission Headquarters for the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade. They are also scheduled to visit The Detroit City Rescue Mission.

Miss Joan Wilson, formerly of the Six Mile Rd. in Salem, and Ralph Frey of Saline, were married in the Salem Federated Church Saturday Saturday evening in the church parlor, the Rev. Chipchase officiating. Immediately following the service the Ladies Aid had charge of the reception in the basement. Miss Wilson is the daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Wilson who has been in the South doing missionary work for the Southland Bible Institute, at Pikesville, Ky.

Spring can't be very far away now. I have received a report of the first robin seen in the Township late last week, and not to be outdone by the robins it was also reported two red winged blackbirds in the Brookville and Salem Road area, and in this same area three flocks of geese were reported to have flown over last week.

Mrs. Clara Baumgartner of the North Territorial Rd. section is having a bout with the flu this week.

In writing this column, or for that matter, anyone who writes a column for the home-town newspaper, in a small community, like this one of ours learns a little about a lot of people. In our Township there are a lot of very fine people, there are a number of local, small organizations. There are a number of people who get to know you who have never known that you lived in the community before. Some of those fine people are complimentary on the work you are trying to do then again you meet with the others.

I know from experience that living in the city you seldom know your next door neighbor, but, in a suburban community or small farming district, usually it is different. People are more friendly. I am probably going a long ways around to get my point across, but I believe the people of our Township and the small organizations, could get in on some problems that exist here, if they knew about them. There is, in this community of ours, a lot of distress. Some of it may be relieved by a kind word. Then there is some that is a lot more serious.

I received a letter this past week, purely a letter of distress. It caused me to do some serious thinking, and to you, the writer of that letter, I believe you know by now that your problem was turned over to the proper man who has, I know, taken care of it, because he called me back on the phone and gave me the report. That is where I believe we the people and the organizations out here have failed our brother.

What a difference does it make what his belief may be, if he needs help? It's really up to us to give it to him and question his beliefs later. After all is said and done, he is a human being. Therefore I believe that an article that I read in another publication last week should be read by all, it is quite timely and fits in with what I am trying to say. I quote: Dear Lord and father of us all, our hearts ache with the strife and stress of our neighbors nearby, and around the world. Help us to make their fears and pains our own and to express Christ-like concern by kind words, helpful acts and gracious gifts to all whom we meet directly and through our agents of mercy to people in every land. Amen.

The above was written by Alfred N. Sayres, of Lancaster Theological Seminary, The United Church of Christ. He is a professor emeritus.

I rma Shoebridge of W. Seven Mile Rd. has been home for a few days the past week. It hasn't been determined at this writing what is causing her trouble, but I am definitely told that it is not the flu. Perhaps by the next report, I'll be able to report to her friends what the trouble is with Mrs. Shoebridge.

Joe Malik, W. Seven Mile Rd., is in the Barleson Hospital in Grand Rapids. He was operated on Monday of last week and it is reported he is doing as well as can be expected at this time. He will be in the hospital at least two weeks.

Here's another good sign of spring. The boys who work the "sugar bush" on the farm over on Tower Road started their season's work March 12. I would say they are true optimists for starting that early in the season, but from the syrup they make there, they know what they're doing. I have tried it.

Miss Mayme John of 10471 North Territorial Rd. has had a very bad throat condition. I talked to her Saturday; she said she was better. She told me too, that her brother Henry had just come home from a trip to Florida. She termed her ailing condition as the old fashioned gripe.

STOCKING THE shelves with cancer dresses becomes a team project when Mrs. Francis Patterson, office chairman and Mrs. Harry Bartel, vice president of the Plymouth Unit of the Michigan Cancer Foundation get together for volunteer work in the Cancer office at 849 Penniman Ave.

Volunteers Lend Helping Hand

By Jean Campau

Nearly in tears, a distraught young woman, at the end of her endurance approached the smiling, pleasant woman at the volunteer desk. She was seeking advice on how to obtain around-the-clock nursing care for her cancer-stricken father.

While this is one service not within the jurisdiction of the Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, they do provide many benefits to cancer patients and their representatives.

"Anywhere from 10 to 15 patients a month are furnished with cellulose and white goods dressings," said Vice President Virginia Bartel. "And no doubt the number would be higher if more people were familiar with this service."

The Loan Closet of the Plymouth Unit offers, free, many items to cancer patients for as long as they need them. Articles include hospital beds, back rests, bed trays, blanket supports, commodes, crutches, sick-room utensils, foot stools and side rails, among others.

Expendable things like colostomy bags, vaseline, alcohol, adhesive tape and powder are also available at no cost to indigent patients.

With the exception of hospital beds loans are made to patients in compliance with doctors requests, thereby insuring proper and suitable equipment for each separate case.

Currently the organization here has 45 volunteers. More are needed and would be enthusiastically welcomed. "Volunteers lend a helping hand in several ways," explained Mrs. Lyla Patterson, local office chairman. "We need people to work in the office to handle phone calls and to cut the cellulose and white goods in preparation for distribution to the groups that make cancer pads for us." "Also, the finished pads, when returned, must be packaged according to size and added to our shelf stock. There is now a great need for volunteers who can provide transportation to and from hospitals for those cancer patients requiring regular treatment," continued Mrs. Patterson.

A host of churches and civic and service groups in Plymouth regularly donate their time to making cancer pads. The list includes, in part, The Senior Citizens, Alpha Delta Kappa, Sixty Plus Club, Plymouth G Range, American Legion, Passage-Gayde Post, Moms' Club, Navy Mothers, Neighborhood Sewing Club, Nu Phi Mu and the Sunshine Club.

The office, located in the basement of the Plymouth Office Supply at 849 Penniman, officially set up headquarters on Feb. 24, 1955. Prior to that the group had met for several years at the home of Mrs. Walter Nicholson on Church St. Office hours are from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Operational costs and supplies come from contributions to the Community Fund conducted each fall. Local officers, all unpaid volunteers, include Thomas Adams, president; Mrs. Harry Bartel, vice president; Mrs. Francis Patterson, office chairman and Evelyn LaFever, treasurer.

For additional information about volunteer work and the services provided by the Plymouth Branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation call Mrs. Bartel at GL 3-2708 or Mrs. Patterson at GL 3-2499.

The income, a type of whitfish found in the Mackenzie River basin, sometimes weighs as much as 40 pounds.

Orchosis Club Has April Concert

The Orchosis Club of Eastern Michigan University will present their annual dance concert at 8 p.m., April 5 and 6 at Quirk Theatre.

Some 38 students who choreograph their own dances, design their costumes and sets, and arrange for their music, will appear in modern dances.

Janet West of 8705 Sheldon in Plymouth will participate. Accompaniment for the groups, ranging from three to ten, will be recorded, taped music or live percussion.

All seats will be reserved, with ticket sale beginning March 12 at the gymnasium, McKenny Hall, and Quirk Theatre, or from Miss Carol Sheffer, assistant professor of Physical Education.

The dance concert is directed by Mrs. Howard A. Poppo, assistant professor, and Mrs. Robert W. Moffett, instructor of Physical Education, and is sponsored by the Women's Recreation Assn.

LARY SMITH INITIATED INTO COLLEGE GROUP
Lary Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, 977 Dewey, was initiated recently into a men's society at Kalamazoo College, Kalamazoo, Mich. He is a new member of the Delmege society, one of seven social and service organizations on the campus.

Methodist Pastor Finds Alaska Still a Frontier

Home again after a trip to Alaska where he and 28 other church leaders conducted an evangelistic mission is the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D., pastor of First Methodist Church.

The mission was sponsored by the General Board of Evangelism and Missions of the Methodist Church. The 29 ministers and church leaders were selected from various points across the nation, but the cost of the trip was donated by the congregation and friends of Dr. Johnson.

"It was a tremendous experience for me, but it is a good feeling to be back home, especially after another look at the un-numbered and un-named mountains over which we flew," Dr. Johnson declared.

One of the oft-asked questions he faces is how the weather was in Alaska. Dr. Johnson was assigned to the Seward parish, which is in the southern part of the new state. He was amazed to find that the weather treated him better in Seward than in Plymouth this winter.

"At Seward it never gets very cold," the pastor pointed out, "but it never gets very warm either." Even in the summer, he learned, it rarely goes above 60 degrees and so furnaces are used the year round. It cost the pastor at Seward $475 to heat his home just from January to June last year.

The task of the visiting pastors was to visit homes of the inactive members. In an evaluation later, the Alaska Mission was considered a success. Three hundred and seven people made commitments to unite with the various Methodist churches of Alaska. Ten churches reported membership classes underway, with a total of 101 enrolled. "Not to be measured is the impact of Alaska upon those who took part in the mission, nor their influence upon present church members and leaders there," he noted.

Leaving Willow Run on Feb. 25, Dr. Johnson jetted to Seattle for a two-day orientation. He then boarded a four-engine prop plane for Anchorage for a six-hour trip. In Anchorage he was met by the Seward pastor and they drove 138 miles for the last leg. While in Anchorage, there was some time to see the annual dog sled races and the famous blanket tossing contests. Dr. Johnson also witnessed the annual fur auction. The Alaska Methodist University is also there.

While sunshine in Seward is a rarity, Dr. Johnson was treated to sunshine almost every day there which helped his color picture taking venture.

Seward, a town lying at the foot of the rugged Alaskan mountains, is a seaport and a large share of its male residents are longshoremen. It is also the site of the Jesse Lee Home, a home for orphans that is operated by the unist - he has to be to survive," Dr. Johnson observed. "Alaska is still a somewhat classless society. This carries some serious lack of social responsibilities in terms of morals. However, I recognized a generosity that more than made up for certain informalities. Mutual helpfulness is necessary for survival in any primitive environment."

It has been said that Alaskans are among the best-read Americans and Dr. Johnson saw evidence of this as he visited many of their homes. "But Alaska is still a frontier and one wonders what its long-term future will be," the pastor declared.

"Whatever else it may be, it is certain to be the hunters' and fishermen's paradise."

In talking with government officials, Dr. Johnson found that prices are on an average of 35 per cent higher in Seward than in the lower 48 states. Bread costs 52 cents a loaf; milk, 96 cents a half gallon; eggs, $1 a dozen and a hotel room in Fairbanks, $25 a day.

It costs $20,000 to build a two bedroom home in Anchorage and $59,000 for a four-bedroom home. In Ketchikan, logging and pulp mill town, the lowest pay is $12,500 a year in the mill. Carpenters are paid $14 an hour.

Dr. Johnson was perhaps most impressed by the view of massive mountains seen from five miles high. Because of the clear days, he was able to capture many mountain scenes with his camera.

The pastor intends to show the slides at a future date. "I will announce the date in our church bulletin and The Plymouth Mail, for which we are most grateful for its re-birth," Dr. Johnson said. "Its present publisher, like his father, has always shown due respect to all churches through the generous offering of its column for our use."

Dorcas Officer Goes To Adventist Meeting

Mrs. Francis S. Patterson, Dorcas Society president of the Plymouth, recently returned from a world tour during which she attended the Third Assembly of the World Council of Churches held in New Delhi, India Nov. 18 to Dec. 5. Dr. Lenox covered the Assembly as a reporter for the Detroit Free Press.

Taking her topic for the women's meeting from a statement directed to her by a guide during a tour through the depressed refugee areas in Hong Kong, she told of the work being done there and in Jordan through the united efforts of Church World Service and other agencies, in providing food and clothing relief, as well as vocational guidance and spiritual counseling among the approximately two million Chinese and Arab refugees.

Mrs. Walter Lake of Garding, a member of Northwestern Baptist Church in Detroit, was guest soloist for the meeting.

Shell dealers suggest 7 things to try if your car won't start

- 1 Use the starter in short bursts. A long, steady grinding runs your battery down drastically. In fact, if the car won't start in the first few attempts, it's a good idea to wait several minutes before trying again. This lets the battery recover some of its life.
- 2 If you have a manual shift, keep the clutch pressed all the way down when you're starting. This helps to take some of the strain off the battery, particularly in cold weather.
NOTE: An engine in good mechanical condition should usually start in 3 or 4 seconds. Today's Super Shell gasoline can help. During coldest months, it contains an extra dose of Butane, a special quick-start ingredient.
- 3 Keep the battery connectors tight. If battery terminal connectors are loose, you may not get full battery voltage, when you try to start. With reduced voltage, the engine is harder to start. Sometimes the starter won't even turn the engine. It's easy to keep connectors tight.

- 4 Get maximum value from your choke. If you have an automatic choke, give the accelerator pedal a tap before you start. This sets the choke in the correct position—the way it should be for easy starting. NOTE: A small choke adjustment can often cure cold weather starting troubles. Your Shell dealer can do it for you.
If you have a manual choke, remember to use it! When you pull the choke out, you increase the proportion of fuel in the air-fuel mixture. Could be all your engine needs for a start, especially on a cold morning. After you've started and warmed up, be sure to push the choke all the way back in.
- 5 Wipe moisture off the distributor, ignition leads and spark plugs. Condensed moisture—which can be a problem in cars left out overnight—could keep you from getting started. It's easy to find the distributor. Just follow the ignition leads—the wires that come from the spark plugs. They lead right to the distributor. Before you wipe the moisture away, make sure the ignition is turned off and nobody works the starter.
- 6 Turn off the lights, radio, heater, heater fan. This way there are no extra demands on the battery. It can devote its full power to starting the engine.
NOTE: Don't forget to turn lights on again when you start up.

7 Never pump the accelerator if you suspect flooding. It only makes the flooding worse. Instead, try this: Wait 2 or 3 minutes. Then press the accelerator to the floor once and hold it there while the starter cranks the engine. When the engine does start, gradually let the accelerator return to idle position.

- Here are the 9 ingredients in Super Shell—and what they do to give your car top performance
- #1 is Butane for quick starts. Butane is so eager to get going it could even boil on ice.
 - #2 is Pentane mix for fast warm-ups.
 - #3 is anti-knock mix to resist all kinds of knocks.
 - #4 is gum preventive to help keep carburetors clean inside.
 - #5 is TCF* for power, mileage, and longer plug life.
 - #6 is "cat-cracked" gasoline for power.
 - #7 is an "anti-icer" added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.
 - #8 is Alkylate to help control "high-speed knock."
 - #9 is Platformate for extra mileage.
- *Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCF is covered by U. S. Patent 2889212.

The local All-Star team will be comprised of players from Plymouth's recreation league and from the high school coaching staff.

Proceeds from the event will go toward the JayCees' Plymouth Youth Projects. It will be the Magicians' third appearance here in eight years. During that span, the globe-circling basketball team has lost only eight times and not at all in the past two years.

But Terry West, president of the local JayCees was confident with ever so slight a wrinkle in his eye — that the Plymouth All-Stars would upset the visitors.

Headed by Marques Haynes, best known for his wild dribbling antics, the Magicians also feature Sam "Boom" Wheeler, whose favorite shot is bouncing the ball through the hoop at the buzzer.

Josh Grider's "home run" shot is another bit of wizardry that pleases the spectators. Tickets to the event may be purchased from JayCee members and at the Plymouth recreation office in the high school (phone GL 3-3100).

Admission is $1.25 for adults. Students will receive a reduced rate by purchasing their tickets at the high school.

Tennis Opener April 10

Earliest starter on Plymouth's sports schedule this spring is the tennis team which opens its 1962 campaign April 10 with a match against Bentley here.

It marks the beginning of a 10-meet agenda that concludes with the regionals May 25-26.

Coach Jim Doyle, in his fourth year as tennis mentor, will be out to improve upon the Rocks' third place league finish of a year ago.

At that time, Plymouth compiled an impressive overall mark of nine wins opposed to only four losses, but within the confines of the Suburban Six the Rocks were considerably less effective.

They were held to only two victories in the league and were handed all four of their defeats by conference opponents.

Five lettermen are back from last year and are expected to give Plymouth a good start toward a strong club this season. However, graduation has deprived Doyle of three of his prized pupils.

Gone are Don Conover and Dennis Smith, both of whom last year qualified for the state tournament at Kalamazoo. Also missing this year will be John Tichy, who over the course of four seasons helped Plymouth to many victories.

But on hand once again will be two seniors and three juniors, all of whom bring considerable know-how to the court. They are: Tom Lock and Dale Livingston, the two seniors, and juniors Jim Jensen, Linc Smith and Larry Hall.

Despite the loss of three of both the infield and outfield. Source material for Hoben in his quest for additional talent will be a large number of newcomers up from last year's JayVee team.

This afternoon (Wednesday), Hoben will gain his first glimpse of the entire turn-out of varsity candidates. Next week, practices will get into full swing.

Formidable opposition is cropping up around the league this season, according to best estimates. A trio of teams have already been pegged for their latent strength. These are Trenton, tops on the list, and Bentley and Belleville.

Hoben Back As Baseball Coach

Mike Hoben, after a one-season layoff, returns as head coach of Plymouth's varsity baseball team this spring seeking to keep alive one of the Rocks' best success stories in recent years.

Over the span of the past five seasons, Plymouth has shared or won outright five Suburban Six baseball crowns, four of them — 1957 through 1960 — under Hoben himself, and last season under the direction of Bill Brown.

With Brown piloting the club in 1961, the Rocks rushed to a 9-3 league record and a share of the conference crown. They posted a 10-4 overall won-lost mark.

It could very well be that there is more of the same in store for Plymouth this year, although Hoben, as he slips back into harness, would be the last to say so.

The Rocks open their 1962 season on April 19 when Dearborn invades the Plymouth diamond. It will be the inaugural on a 14-game slate,

While Hoben has labeled Plymouth's baseball outlook as only "fair" this season, he will have some cause for enthusiasm when seven returning lettermen place their names on the 1962 roster.

With these as the hard core, Hoben will be searching for only two more starters and additional pitching strength. The seven veterans back for another season are:

Catcher Jared Stevens, second-baseman Brian Gilles, short-stop Eloy Menchaca, outfielders Gary Dunbar, Mike Kisabeth and Jim Gavigan and hurler Dick Schryer.

Although the majority of the pitching duties will fall to Schryer as the Rocks get underway, Hoben will be on the look-out for an alternate hurler, if only for insurance purposes.

And he will be striving to uncover further strength for Co-captains of this year's team are Stevens and Gilles. Stevens, who also plays football and basketball, will be both the infield and outfield. Source material for Hoben in his quest for additional talent will be a large number of newcomers up from last year's JayVee team.

This afternoon (Wednesday), Hoben will gain his first glimpse of the entire turn-out of varsity candidates. Next week, practices will get into full swing.

And, as Doyle himself put it, "Jensen, Smith and Hall always carry their share of the work." Beyond that however, Doyle is somewhat in the dark, not altogether sure of what new candidates will have to offer.

He doesn't plan to begin practice immediately, since the gym is occupied by either the track or baseball team during the early days of the season.

When the weather improves, the Rocks will practice regularly on the tennis courts behind the school.

Co-captains of this year's tennis squad are Jensen and Smith, the two juniors who are also returning lettermen.

MASS PRODUCTION IS FINE for some things—but never for our service. What do we mean? Simply this: we try to run our business to provide the best possible service we can—for each individual customer. It's a policy that makes for telephone service you can rightfully depend on, whether you're calling the decorator, the doctor, or the District Attorney. So, while it's true we handle hundreds of thousands of calls every day of the year, you can be sure the one you're going to make next will—as always—get the same careful attention that's become a Michigan Bell tradition.

THESE TWO TELEPHONES may look alike, but they aren't. One is a private line and the other is a party line telephone, and there's quite a difference. A private line telephone is always ready for you to use. And friends can reach you when they want you. And though it may seem hard to believe, in town a private line costs only pennies a day more than a party line does. It's a down-to-earth blessing at a down-to-earth cost. If you live in town and now have party line service, why not call us about getting a private line telephone soon?

PASSING THE BUCK usually refers to letting "George" do something nobody else wants to do. But that's a fancy from the reason why your telephone company arranges with others to accept payments for phone bills. Since many people like to pay bills in person, we had to find a way of making this possible at a reasonable cost. So, at no extra cost to you, we've arranged for several conveniently located banks and other businesses to accept payments for us. It all helps keep your phone bill low, while making sure you get the service you want.

Spring Sports Schedule

With the records and results of another winter campaign still fresh on the books, Plymouth High these days takes only a brief breather before plunging headlong into the Spring Sports agenda.

A 60-engagement schedule confronts the Rocks during the next two and one-half months.

Plymouth, as in past years, will field both varsity and junior varsity baseball teams, along with a track squad and tennis and golf teams.

The varsity and JayVee schedules have already been announced by athletic director John Sandmann and a Freshman campaign outline will appear shortly.

The baseball team will see action in 14 games. The JayVee baseball squad faces a 12-game slate and tennis and golf each are represented with 14 meets. The track team will battle in six dual-meets, plus league and regional encounters and the annual Bentley Relays.

100 Show Up for Track Squad

Confronted by a schedule that allows Plymouth only one home stand out of six dual meets, Keith Baughman none the less is entering his 11th year as head track coach here with a degree of encouragement and a smattering of optimism.

Baughman, who coached the JayVee thincalcs two seasons before moving up to take over the varsity reins in 1952, will have a total of 11 returning lettermen on hand when the Rocks open their 1962 campaign on May 4 at Belleville.

Coupled with this is the fact that nearly 100 hopeful thincalcs assembled for Baughman's first brief practice session earlier this week. But despite the apparent strength that Plymouth displays on paper at this infant stage of the season, Baughman is far from complacent about the situation.

He knows full well of the gaps that will appear in Plymouth's thincalcs ranks due to the loss of 11 regulars from last year's team which finished second in the league meet, fashioned a 4-1 dual-meet mark in conference action and compiled an overall 4-2 record.

Graduation sheared some key talent off the 1962 team. Absent this spring will be such stand-outs as Dick Als-bro, Phil West, Charles Bawers and John Spigarelli, along with Gary Clement, Jerry Fischer and Gary Sicba.

But with 11 returnees in addition to some promising newcomers from last year's JayVee track squad, Baughman has a good nucleus.

While much of Plymouth's success this spring will depend on the showing of the newcomers, the Rocks boast veterans at nearly all of the individual track and field events.

Team captain Dave Fey will return for the 100 and 220 and Dick DePencier is back for the 440. Three lettermen return for the mile, Tony Hunt, Byron Latter and Bob Winterhalter.

Bob Steele in the hurdles will add strength to the track events. In the field events, veterans Mark Fischer, Herb Park and Ric Sweet are strong in the pole vault and broad jump, while Hugh Sarah is a returning shot putter and Dan Stremick is back for the high jumper. Sweet, too, is a high jumper.

Fey, the team captain, has already lettered twice previously in track and last year took three medals in the league meet where the Rocks claimed second place.

While Baughman is understandably cautious about overestimating Plymouth's chances this season, he was quick to pin-point the opposing strength.

"Bentley High has the makings of the strongest team this year," he observed, referring to the conference race alone.

In addition to its list of six dual meets, Plymouth will also enter the regional track meet on May 19. The Suburban Six league meet is slated for May 31 at Trenton and the Bentley Relays, an annual affair, will cap the season on June 2.

"Bowl" Seeks League Members

Several league openings are still available at the Plymouth Bowl, new bowling establishment which will open here early in May. It is located on Plymouth Rd. near Eckles.

Plymouth Bowl, a 32-lane house, will also feature a bar and grill room plus billiard tables.

The exact date of the opening is still to be determined. Construction is underway.

Golfers Start April 16

With only 26 days to prepare for their first meet, veterans on Plymouth's 1962 golf squad will have little time to reflect on their success of a year ago.

And newcomers on the team will have no reason to either, other than to set the 1961 accomplishments up as a target for this spring.

The Rocks kick off their new golf season Monday, April 16, with a match against Trenton at Brae-Burn Golf Course. Plymouth's home course again this year.

The Trenton encounter, a nine-hole affair, will mark the start of a dual-meet season that includes eight matches. In addition, the Rocks will participate in two triangular meets plus the Dearborn Invitational and the regional, state and league matches.

A year ago, Plymouth finished first in the Suburban Six meet after compiling a 6-1 league record amidst an overall mark of 11-3. The Rocks lost only to Dearborn and Southfield outside of the conference.

Bentley High, which captured second place in the league meet, was the lone team to defeat Plymouth in Suburban Six dual-meet action.

And in the state matches last spring, Plymouth emerged sixth in a field of 14 schools.

On the basis of past performance, Plymouth should have good reason to be optimistic over its golfing chances this year.

But John Sandmann, the Rocks' athletic director who for the past 10 years has also doubled as golf coach, is far from being downright confident about Plymouth's golf fortunes.

"We'll win some," he admitted with due caution last week, "but we might lose some, too."

His careful demeanor was understandable.

Gone — by way of graduation last June — are two of Plymouth's best golfers in several seasons. Steve Hayskar and Del McAllister, the one-two punch for Sandmann all last spring, will be hard to replace.

But the Rocks have a solid nucleus returning, and it is upon this foundation that Sandmann hopes to build a winning unit.

The three returning veterans are seniors John Augustine and Phil Bender and junior Carl Zornow.

Sandmann greeted more than 25 hopeful golfers earlier this week when he called his first meeting. He expects to carry 12 on the squad when the season begins.

In the meantime, Sandmann may find his practice schedule somewhat hampered by inclement weather.

"The main factor in our practice schedule," he explained, "is the weather, of course."

"We won't be able to get down to serious work until Brae-Burn opens and that's up to the weather entirely," he added.

The team will elect a captain this week.

SPORTSEEN

While lingering winter belies the fact, Spring nonetheless is lurking just around the corner.

This was evident last week when Plymouth High's athletic director John Sandmann made public the Rocks' Spring sports schedule, a composite of nearly 60 engagements spread with relative equality among the varsity tennis, golf, track and baseball squads and the JayVee baseball team.

The luck of the draw left Keith Baughman, track coach, with prospects for considerable travel this season. The Plymouth thincalcs, at this moment, have only one home encounter on a schedule featuring nine meets. It's a clash with Redford Union on May 15.

Elsewhere on the sports agenda, Plymouth fans will find only a bit more variety. Out of 10 tennis matches and an equal number of golf meets, the Rocks will host only four of each.

The baseball team plays eight of 14 games at home, while the JayVee baseball six is here for six encounters and visiting during six more.

Only one coach change has been made at Plymouth as staffers turn their efforts to the Spring activities.

Mike Hoben, better known for his football success, returns to the varsity baseball scene, replacing Bill Brown. Hoben had handled the baseball team for four seasons through 1960. Brown held the post during the 1961 campaign.

The other coaching assignments are unchanged from a year ago. Jim Doyle will coach tennis. Keith Baughman, who took over from Konrad Moisiso a decade ago, will be back at the helm of the track team. Bryan Boring, Frosh basketball coach this winter, will head up the junior varsity baseball fortunes, and Sandmann will continue to coach the golf team.

On another matter, interest this week is high regarding the schoolboy basketball play-offs.

The participants, once numbering nearly 700 schools as the district tournaments got underway across the state two weeks ago, have been trimmed to only 32.

Tonight (Wednesday) at several sites around the state, the competitors will be reduced by half as the quarter final rounds are concluded.

On Friday, March 23, the semi-finals will be conducted at various locations in Lansing and East Lansing. The results of that battling will pare the remaining participants to eight teams.

This, in turn, sets the stage for the finals Saturday at Jennison Field House at Michigan State University in East Lansing. Always a tremendous attraction to high school basketball fans, the finals once again will be played before a full house.

Time-table for the final rounds:

The Class B championship will be decided in a contest that gets underway at 11 a.m. Saturday. Titles in Classes C and D will be determined in the afternoon, with the Class C game beginning at 3 p.m. and the Class D contest to follow immediately.

The two remaining Class A schools, out of an original 126, will confront each other at 8:30 p.m. to settle that issue.

Tells of Added Attraction For Golf Tourney

With interest growing in a new Plymouth Golf Tournament, recreation director Herb Woolweaver last week pointed out still another aspect that should add further flavor to the situation.

Woolweaver explained that the five top finishers in a Plymouth Golf Tourney would be eligible to compete in the Michigan Recreation Assn.'s state golf tournament this fall.

The recreation association tournament, scheduled for Sept. 17, will be held at the Pontiac City Golf Course this year, he said.

In past years, when Plymouth had held its old City Tournament, the top finishers had looked forward to action in the state recreation play-off.

At the same time, Woolweaver added that the Plymouth recreation department would assist in conducting a special women's division of the Plymouth Golf Tournament, should the event get back on its feet.

Woolweaver said that a women's division, under the auspices of the recreation department, would be held, regardless of how many women participants signed up.

Five women from Plymouth's tourney would then be eligible to play in the state women's recreation play-off at Jackson in September.

Further information may be obtained from the Plymouth recreation department, GL 3-3100.

The Rio Grande Valley was first explored in 1519, when Alonso Alvarez de Pineda led an expedition upstream about 100 miles to the river "Rio de las Palmas," after a grove of palm trees growing near the mouth. The grove is still there.

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

why?

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product
2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

One of the brightest stars to shine on Plymouth's horizon since the arrival of the Scott Associates in the old Daisy plant, the Detroit Mutual Insurance Company, and the American Hospital-Medical Benefit Insurance Company on Plymouth Road, was the announcement, by the First Federal Savings and Loan, that a new Colonial building was about to be erected on one of the main corners of our town.

If our downtown area ever needed a shot in the arm it is now and this excellent new addition could well be the springboard to a newly revitalized effort on the part of all of us located in this community.

The first thing that flashed to mind when we read the announcement was, how soon can we get started painting our own building and sprucing up to be a proud part of this new development? This is the time of the year for this kind of thinking, and we hope the impact of an investment of this size made by First Federal will rub off on all corners of our business area.

Certainly the addition of a modern building will be a welcome sight for all and, First Federal president, Hans Gehrke, Jr., and local manager Perry Richwine, are deserving of a specially firm hand-clasp from all of the residents and business people of Plymouth. If we could coin a phrase or word for the future possibilities of this great area we probably would borrow Astronaut Glenn's "GO" . . . and we say, Plymouth, let's GO! The people are here . . . the opportunity is here . . . the area is far above average and all it takes now is effort, and with added effort we can really GO.

I opened up the school subject last week in a complimentary editorial for the people who have devoted so much time in trying to find a solution to school problems. I also hoped to create more interest by the citizenry in the costs this new package would entail, and I did. I further urged the school administrators to take another look at their operating costs with an eye to cutting corners in school operation.

I have talked to literally hundreds of people during the past week on the subject and, like myself, none of them want to pay any more taxes than they are already burdened with, unless they are positively a necessity. All seemed in general agreement that we should pay for better teachers, and that the teachers deserved more income if they earn it . . . too, they felt those teachers who were not improving themselves in the system should have no further financial benefits.

In every case I found that the people, as a whole, are fed up with the non-essentials which schools now find necessary to provide. One pointed remark was this . . . "Today we spend thousands of dollars on school buses and transportation to haul our kids back and forth to school . . . then, to give them exercise we spend thousands more to build pools, gymnasiums and playgrounds."

I can remember a few years back when I became very unpopular with MSC administrators because I criticized the thousands of dollars wasted to add beautiful sculptured friezes to the exterior of newly erected dormitories. Agreed, they were beautiful, but what did they do to help educate the students? It is just another example of why our school taxes are rising higher and higher . . . and it is at this sort of needless expense that people are revolting.

On the basis of this cross-section questioning throughout the community I don't feel that the seven mill package has a chance of passing at the April election, particularly if we were to vote tomorrow.

In fairness to all concerned, for the purpose of educating our voters on all sides of the subject, and the writer as well, I would like to read from letters the various opinions of the interested parties. I am sure the board members have their own opinions on the subject, and I know they don't all agree. I know, too, that the teachers should be heard and so should the various committees who added their efforts to

One confident subscriber to The Plymouth Mail, Daisy Manufacturing Company president Cass S. Hough, evidenced his interest and approval of our efforts last week by the remittance of a three year, paid in advance subscription for which we are grateful. We might make it for four years or even five if he would send us a couple of samples of Daisy's new guns and products for us to put on display in our offices for local residents to see what Daisy is doing today out in Arkansas.

And on the sunnier side, with robins back in Plymouth last week, and our local sun worshipers returning home weekly by the droves, we received a full report of the Plymouth picnic held a couple of weeks ago at Lake Alfred, Florida. The day was sunny but the thermometer registered 30 degrees and the bird baths in the park where the picnic was scheduled were covered with ice. Undaunted by the cold, 49 of our hearty residents, under the direction of president Ezra Rotnour, gathered in the Lake Alfred Woman's Club House and had a most enjoyable day. Plymouthites sharing in the picnic fare were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rodmans, Mr. and Mrs. William Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Widmaier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Duthor, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Rodman, Mr. and Mrs. William Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirzel, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Al Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Blackmore, Rev. and Mrs. Arnold Kehrl, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Rotnour, Mr. and Mrs. George Michelen, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Upton and Mrs. Alfred West, Mrs. Leroy Jewell, Mrs. Mabel Blunk, Mrs. Edna Blunk, Mrs. Wayne Soth, Mrs. Bryan Post, Mrs. Nelson Schrader and Mrs. Esther Jacobs.

Dear Sterling:
The Plymouth Community School District enjoys a unique privilege in being served by a community newspaper which has as one of its objectives accurate reporting of school news.

I am not only personally grateful for the breadth and depth of school news covered in The Plymouth Mail but also its objective treatment of major policy issues which face the Board of Education in shaping the educational program to fit the expectations and aspirations of the citizens. In this regard your co-worker, James Sponseller, extends himself to reflect in his interpretations a fair appraisal of what is going on.

A community newspaper is an indispensable part of a well organized and forward looking community. Your expression of a deep and abiding faith in the future of the Plymouth Community by keeping alive The Plymouth Mail deserves special attention and commendation.

Sincerely yours,
Russell L. Ibister
Superintendent of Schools

(Editor's Note: The following are excerpts from a letter received by Publisher Sterling Eaton from Trevor Norton, formerly of Brookville Rd., who since last summer has been on assignment in England for Ford Motor Co. Their son, Glyn, is a student in France.)

The Mail, even though it arrives at irregular intervals due to its frequent postal delays, is most eagerly awaited by us all. We certainly took it for granted when we were home in Plymouth, but now we avidly read every line and as a result feel that we can still be part of the Plymouth scene, and how good that it is Plymouth's own newspaper again.

Our many friends in Plymouth may be interested to know that we expect to return toward the latter part of May and we can hardly wait. However, the past months have been the most interesting experience both from the standpoint of my assignment at the huge Dagenham installation of Ford Motor Company and the opportunity to share in the life of a quite remote little Essex village and absorbing the atmosphere of the 300-year-old home we were fortunate enough to lease for our stay.

And in addition, there have been the exciting antique hunting expeditions which have rewarded us with several lasting reminders of our visit.

Perhaps the one who will have benefited most is our son, Glyn (Plymouth High '59) now studying at the Institute for American Universities at the University of Aix in Southern France. He is having a most successful year academically and was also elected president of the student body at the university. However, he is still looking forward immensely to renewing his former contacts when he begins his final year at the U of M next September.

The only cloudy part of our stay here has been the illness of Mrs. Norton (Betty) who recently underwent some quite extensive major surgery in the Royal Northern Hospital in London. Fortunately she is now recovering and we expect her to be home in about two more weeks, although she has a very long period of convalescence ahead.

Dear Sir:
Thank you very much for your courtesy in allowing the Cub Scouts of Den 7, Pack 781 of Plymouth, to tour your office and printing plant. It was a most enjoyable outing and the boys were deeply impressed.

Please thank your personnel for their kindness in answering questions and where possible, demonstrating their craftsmanship.
Sincerely,
Mrs. Rita M. Smith
Den Mother

Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and appreciation to you for the recent welcome to our new extension of the Garling Building Company in the Plymouth area.
When I announced the new appointments, I knew the task that was ahead for them was a great one. Breaking ground in a new development, and also breaking ground in a new community, is very difficult, to say the least. With the welcome extended to our organization on your behalf as well as the welcome extended by your paper, we were able to feel success in our first attempt, which we feel was attributed to your fine cooperation.

We are maintaining the same high standards in Plymouth, as we have maintained in the Dearborn and area for the past 42 years.

I am sure you will find trust, competence and honesty in Mr. Oles, Mr. Rambo and Mr. Yinger, and I know they will return the same confidences.

"Durn them Ramblers!"

On October 12, 1960, muffler shops stopped getting business from buyers of new Ramblers. That's when the 1961 Ramblers with exclusive Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe were introduced. We've been installing them on every Rambler ever since.

Ordinarily a new car buyer can expect to spend about $40 to $75 replacing mufflers and tailpipes before he trades for another new car. But no matter how long the original buyer owns his Rambler, we'll pay the cost if either muffler or tailpipe rusts out—collision damage excepted. You just go to a Rambler dealer for free replacement. There's no charge for labor or materials. No time limit.

The Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe system is just one of 14 major steps which Rambler takes to fight rust from top to bottom—better than any other car.

Other examples of the many extra lengths to which Rambler goes to bring you a finer, safer, longer-lasting car in 1962: Double-Safety Brake System and self-adjusting brakes standard. More headroom; 3 year or 33,000 mile chassis lubrication. Higher doors for easier entrance and exit.

Want an easy way to compare cars? Drop by your Rambler dealer's and pick up your free copies of the 1962 Car X-Ray Books.

Give it a try! Your Rambler dealer is offering money-saving specials on all '62 models for a limited time only. See him, soon!
