Board Tosses Tax Back To Voters

Failure to get a quorum brought a postponement of Monday's meeting of Plymouth's City Commission for a week.

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has received donations of $425 for the July 4 fireworks celebration. The program will cost in the neighborhood of $700. If you care to contribute, just get in touch with C of C officials.

Congratulations have been heaped on City Manager Alfred Glassford this week. He was to receive his degree from Wayne State University Thursday night, completing studies that started originally back in 1931.

When Mrs. Esther Hulsing, secretary of the Board of Education, presented a diploma to her daughter, Mary, at last week's Plymouth High commencement program, it marked the third time she had participated in such an event. Mary is the third and last of her daughters and Mrs. Hulsing won't have the same pleasure again as a member of the Board.

the new school aid bill passed by the legislature but still unsigned by Gov. John Swainson would add enough to the income to take care of almost a half-mill.

"Thus." he pointed out, "We could do almost exactly the same with five mills as we could have done with the 5.5 mills asked for and rejected by voters on June 11.

"However, if we should ask for only a renewal of the 3.5 issue, then the Board wouldn't be able to open the new junior high next fall and would have to make other cuts all down the line."

down a proposal for a renewal plus increased millage as they have done in April and again on June 11

"I think we have to be a bit cautious in what we do." he said. "Personally I think that we should present a two-fold package with the renewal as one and perhaps a one and a half mill increase as the other."

When it was pointed out that voters might decide to approve the smaller of the two proposals and reject the renewal, he just shuddered and said, "That's what I mean, just how can you hope to come up with the right solution. I don't know if there is one."

SUPT. ISBISTER made a recommendation that the Board should consider a five mill proposal and attempt to get the point across to the voters that actually it was equal to the 5.5 issue in lieu of the expanded state aid.

Visiting Nurses, (VNA) Are a Symbol Of Traveling Angel

To Women It May Concern By MYRA COX

(P2

I don't know what your politics is, or how you feel about George Romney, but I think you might agree with me and be impressed with his wife. She is charming, intelligent and a mighty campaigner. I hope her health holds out.

"I covered the "Luncheon with Mrs. Romney" at Botsford Inn Coach House last Thursday with two friends from Redford Township,

The committee had planned on serving about 400 ladies, but over-sold by about 200 and held the affair out in the open. It worked out perfectly. This typifies Mrs. Romney. Fresh air, open-face, full to the brim with inspiration and faith in America and in Michigan and of course in George.

In spite of her reason for being at the luncheon her talk was not as political as it was appealing. She urged us all to pull together as a team toward a better Michigan. Her homespun honesty was refreshing.

She told how she was introduced in her tour as "the Governor's new wife, or new Governor's old wife," how she enjoyed meeting and talking with women around the state; how she was interested in basic education i.e. primer reading of Great Americans such as Nathan Hale instead of the dull "Dick and Jane" our children are exposed to; how the 60's will prove the crossroads for all America on whether we have just been mouthing brotherhood, or now able to live up to it; how if you don't use your ballot you might as well live behind the iron curtain; the greatest responsibility women have, is marriage and acception of ALL of the responsibility that goes with it, children, sharing in the activities of the community; she stressed the importance of passing the new con-con; how it boiled down our cumbersome agencies from 128 to 30 and would save tax-payers millions; she warned us not to listen half-truths against it but question ourselves; that even though there could be more ideal changes-it was so much improved and modernized.

She didn't appear to be a very strong woman, but one whose strength comes from within and would always give every ounce of herself for what she believed, rather than stay in the safe, serene walls of her home and sunshine of her own garden. She will always constantly fight the weeds of the field. I'll bet.

Assisting in the planning of Thursday's affair from our area were Mary Lou Barth, Kay Lyness, Ruth Carl-

Nine months ago the picture was not so bright. Mrs. Kufahl was told by her doctor that Gina would need special care as a result of a birth injury. The doctor suggested she contact the Visiting Nurse Association for help.

The day VNA went to work was a happy one for not only did the Kufahl's open the door to VNA but they found a friend in the competent hands of Barbara Tannian, registered nurse.

Everyday, cases like the Kufahls are handled by VNA and many people are not aware this care is available in Livonia. Plymouth and Redford. Each of us can have this fine service anytime the need arises.

We know, not all of us need this same kind of care, but sometime, in every community there is someone who can be helped whether it be home nursing, infant and maternity care, therapy, child guidance, or problems of old age.

Bedside care for the chronic illness, even complicated medications when ordered by the physician, such as injections of insulin, are available.

Under the direction of skilled dieticians, there is diet therapy and nutrition service. Qualified physical therapists give massage, heat and light treatments and corrective exercises when prescribed by a physician for illness from fractures, infantile paralysis, cerebral accidents and poor posture. Eyes $50,000 Pot Saturday At DRC Bass Clef Choice In Mich. Mile

Michigan's richest horse race (which goes over a distance of a mile and a sixteenth), will have its 14th renewal at the Detroit Race Course next Saturday and upwards of 25,000 fans are expected for this traditional classic of Michigan racing.

It is the richest stake of the year in the state, thoroughbred or harness racing, and a select handful of 10 or 12 top handicap nominees are expected to go to the post in what could be history.

And for the first time in its uled for Saturday and Sunday, history, a Michigan-owned and over the mile and a half cirbred is expected to go off as the favorite.

That horse is Bass Clef, a four-year-old gelding by Gold Note-Etelka, who carries the colors of Detroiter Mrs. V. E. Smith and is trained by veteran Johnny Hart.

THE SPORTS OBSERVER—By George Maskin Attention Preps: Protect Your Eligibility

Most times repetition is boring. We know that as well as the next fellow. Or gal, too.

But we trust these remarks, repeated from the corresponding week of 1961 in this newspaper, may save.

1-A schoolboy athlete his eligibility when it comes to competing in sports.

2-An adult the embarassment and the joit for, perhaps, putting the clamps on a prep's athletic career at Bentley, Franklin, Plymouth, Redford Union, Thurston, Clarenceville, St. Agatha high and a score or more of junior highs and grade schools in the area we serve.

Our remarks today have to do with the awards and amateur practice rules as laid down by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, whose top man is Charles Forsythe, the able prep sports director in these United States.

Forsythe has put out his annual plea to newspapers to "get the word around" so that no boy will find himself barred from school sports when classes resume in September. . . .

You may have read our column of a year ago and still are familiar with some. Or you may have spotted our good friend Bennie Dunn's discussion on this vital topic on page one of the Detroit News sports section a week ago.

Even if you did, the matter is so important we think it should be repeated and repeated. If we save the athletic eligibility of just one youngster then all these words and all this space have more than served its purpose.

So, let's get at the crux of the matter.

The State Association minces no words on what the schoolboy athlete may do-when it pertains to athletics-during the summer months.

This by no standards means that the Association wants preps to stay away from sports while the school rooms are shut down. On the contrary, says Forsythe.

"We want all the boys to play baseball, golf, tennis or engage in any phase of sports that they wish and enjoy. But we still have rules which must guide them."

The rules basically center around two points-awards and amateur practices.

We'll take the awards first . . . because more prep athletes and adults have gone astray on this one over the years.

The state rule provides that if a boy plays on a Little League or Pony League or a baseball team comprised of older boys that the only award he may receive at the end of the season is a trophy which is valued at $3 maximum, excluding any engraving charges.

Now a trophy is defined as a ribbon, medal, badge, plaque, cup, banner, picture or ring.

IT'S NOT A BALL, BAT, GLOVE, JACKET, CAP, SWEATER OR ANY ITEM WHICH MIGHT BE DESCRIBED UNDER THE CATEGORY OF MERCHANDISE.

The rule goes on to say a prep athlete may not accept any trophy, which costs more than $3, even if the boy or his parents pay for part of the purchase price.

Nor, of course, may the boy accept any cash for his performances on the athletic field. He may, however, attend banquets, luncheons and dinners and make trips as a member of an athletic team, as long as he doesn't handle any money for expenses, etc.

Golfers are warned that if they accept a free membership tion on display at Wonderland to a course in lieu of playing on the club's team ... such a step could lead to their being barred from further schoolboy participation.

The youngsters, as well as the adults, should familiarize themselves with the above. In fact, we think it's something the pops and moms should firmly entrench in their minds, because the adults with their gracious hearts often hurt a boy when they think they're doing something kindly.

him off a school team, because he still was on the young side and in Detroit, where we live, there is no junior high activity.

But we thought that Richard should know early what the prep rules said . . . and we felt that the league should know, too. The jacket idea was scrapped. Instead the boys were honored with a trophy.

Similar situations bob up all over the state. Not too many years ago, a prominent service group thought it would be nice to award leaders in a golf tournament with some balls.

A dozen golf balls may seem like a small item, but the six youngsters, who accepted the balls, had to sacrifice playing for their schools the following spring.

We said earlier that accepting any eash for playing on a summer team or in a summer activity automatically knocks a boy out of further prep action.

But the boy may accept a job, in school or out, where he is employed as an umpire or supervisor in a recreation baseball program, or as a golf caddie, or as a guard at a swimming beach or pool

The State Association suggests that if you are an adult and your group wishes to make any award to a schoolboy athlete that before you act you get in touch with Forsythe or his office in Lansing. They stay open the year around for just this purpose.

Or you might be able to check with local athletic officialsmen like Les Anders, Howard Kraft, John Sandman, Lynn Nutter. Most of them are around all summer and would only be too happy to stear an adult or boy on the right course.

As for the boy . . . the best advice we can give you is to accept NOTHING until you have checked with your coach.

The penalty is a stiff one, as stated: It could range from one season to a full year.

Because of the defeat of the two recent bond issues, the in league play which includes recreation fathers are forced to operate with a reduced budget.

The easy way out would have been to slice the program. This would have meant fewer baseball teams, less softball teams, cuts in swimming, tennis, golf and other activities. But those behind the pro-

In particular, the interests of the youngsters disturbed the recreation heads. To cut down on baseball teams would jolt the hearts of a lot of young boys who aspire to become the Al Kalines, Mickey Mantles, etc., of tomorrow.

BIRDS INSTEAD OF LETTERS are found in a Livonia mailbox this week by Janice, 9, and Marie, 8. Tuite, of 12067 Boston Post Rd. Last week a newlyarrived blackbird from the south built her nest in the Tuite's mailbox and laid a dozen blue eggs. The Tuites have posted a sign: "Mailman, Please leave our mail in the next box until the big event is over." Meanwhile, the Tuite children watch the "maternity box daily.

'Do You Remember?', Musical Treat For Plymouthites Field. Advance reports indicate that this musical revue has more dynamite in it than "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma" all rolled into one tight package. The Harriet Fernaden dancers, 16 lovely long-legged luring lassies, will be featured as Plymouth Rockettes in a number that will have our prim Pilgrim forefathers twirling in their tombs. Miss Harriet's wild, but delightful routines stopped the recent Redford Suburban Women's League Show, "Naughtical But Nice." The same treatment seems to be in store for the Plymouth folk. Recording artist Danny Hargrove headlines the show that will take the Plymouth patrons spectacular. The Fabulous Fif-
