Suburbs Seek Amendments by 'Initiative'

Petitions To Fight Detroit

Petitions will be circulated among suburban voters through the rarely-used Initiative process, this newspaper learned this week, to try to stop Detroit's collection of an income tax from those who work there but live outside.

The petitions would require the placing of proposed Constitutional amendments on the ballot, to become actual law if approved by a majority of the voters.

Mayor Harvey Moelke of Livonia disclosed the new strategy plans today. He has been active in the Vigilance Committee of Suburban officials which has been fighting the Detroit tax for many weeks. He said petitions would arrive from the printers and appear in about a month.

The "Vigilantes" also, on Moelke's motion, voted to carry their legal fight to the Supreme Court, appealing a recent decision by Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald which condoned Detroit's taxing of employes who work there but live elsewhere.

Under the State Constitution, proposed amendments to the constitution must be placed on the ballot if petitions bearing the required number of signatures are presented to the Secretary of State four months prior to the proposed election. The signatures must equal 10 percent of the total vote for Governor in the last election. (An alternate method to get amendments to the ballot is for both houses to pass such proposals by a two-thirds majority.)

Initiative is a difficult process because of the large number of signatures required. The suburban "Vigilantes" are dealing with large population groups, however, and appear to be rather well organized.

Actually two amendments will be proposed: 1. One would prohibit a City levying income taxes against persons with legal residence elsewhere.

2. Another measure woud permit communities. villages, and townships to levy such taxes upon their own citizens. Today Townships (such as Redford and Plymouth) have no legal power to levy such taxes, and hence are unable to "retaliate" against Detroit, if they should so desire.

The "Bowman Bill" which passed the legislature would have forbid Detroit taxing suburbanites, but it was vetoed by Governor Swainson, and in the legislature insufficient votes were mustered to override

The Governor cannot veto any amendments approved by the voters at an election.

The earliest the amendments would get to the ballot would be next September.

After college courses on the subject, and six full years of looking at local government hereabouts, this erstwhile student of politics is in favor of city manager government for Livonia and Redford Township (and in due time, when the area is populated-but not now- for Plmouth Township) and we hope the City of Plymouth appreciates the city manager government it now has.

Redford Township is in Town Hall chaos, with re- jected. sponsibility for governing 80.000 people split seven different ways. There is no executive responsibility, because the "legislative arm", the Board, has decided to make the Supervisor "just one of the boys," and any in order if it was forced to Board can do this, if they really try.

Livonia is near a hot City Hall war because the most 1962-63 instead of the much persuasive Councilmen have determined that life con- needed 15.9 as provided with sists of an never-ending contest with the "administrative department", the Mayor.

Thus in due course, in this City, the Council decided to hire "its own" full time subordinate at $10,000 a year, with three-vear contract. This new fellow would be nothing less than a "city manager", really. The "Mayor" would become a host, a giver of keys to the city, and a figurehead. The power would lie with the Council's guy, called for technical purposes up to now a "legislative coordinator" a title that should fool no one.

Councils, or Legislatures, or Township Boards, always can handcuff an "executive", if they choose and the battle gets down to brass tacks. This is true because the legislature controls the purse.

It is true legislators also can control city managers, and fire or hire them at whim, but that is less messy and more efficient than the other process of constant facts whether one likes them or wrangle, log-rolling, and stalemate with an elected not "Supervisor" or "Strong Mayor" they have chosen to embarrass or eliminate.

Four different applications for Drive-In movie theaters are in the works in Livonia, and the jockeying for favoritism is frantic. The game, from an applicant's point of view, is to get one's own petition approved and the rival's torpedoed

This takes "friends" on bodies of decision.

As we said - it isn't just getting your own license approved; the other fellow has to be blocked, too. This makes a pretty fair tactical problem, even for the more sophisticated solons.

In a way, the Redford and Plymouth legislators can be thankful it isn't happening in their towns.

The maintenance and custodial staff will be trimmed and all put on shorter hours.

Bradner said in his unan-

Shell dealers list some causes and cures of 10 sounds, smells and other symptoms that often puzzle drivers

Even if your car's in good condition, it may act up occasionally. When puzzled, consult this chart. It doesn't cover every problem, but it will help with some of the more common ones.

DESCRIPTION	LIKELY CAUSE	WHAT TO DO
High-pitched squeal when you first start the engine.	 Worn or glazed fan belt. Loose fan belt. Water pump seal needs lubrication. 	1. Replace the belt if it looks worn. It could break. 2. Have the fan belt tension checked. A loose belt may not turn the generator fast enough to charge the battery. 3. Add Shell Cooling System Protector to radiator water.
Throbbing roar.	Damaged or worn muffler.	Replace muffler. Your Shell dealer can do this for you.
High-pitched erratic pinging noise— usually lasts just a few seconds. (Often called wild ping.)	Erratic combustion caused by glowing carbon deposits that flake off and ignite the fuel too soon.	Try Super Shell gasoline. It contains three anti-knock ingredients. One is TCP.* This famous Shell additive works to "fireproof" combustion deposits that could otherwise cause wild ping.
Screeching brakes.	Badly worn brake linings. Glazed brake lining.	Any brake trouble should be checked immediately by your Shell dealer. It could be dangerous. If linings are badly worn or glazed, brakes should be relined soon.
Strong gasoline odor when you can't start the car.	Flooded carburetor.	Let the car sit a minute. Push the accelerator to the floor (don't pump it). Then try the starter.
Exhaust fumes. Most noticeable when driving in town or when your engine is idling.	Leaking tail pipe or muffler.	First, open a window—those fumes can make you groggy fast. Replace damaged part promptly. Note: Always have exhaust system inspected when your car is lubricated.
When cruising, dashboard generator light goes on – or ammeter needle continuously shows "discharge."	Broken fan belt. Faulty generator or voltage regulator. Or loose connection in electrical system.	Stop at the first station to avoid running battery down. 1. Replace fan belt. Suggestion: Carry a spare belt—it could save you time and trouble. 2. Have electrical system inspected to locate the trouble.
Brake pedal action feels peculiar: 1. Pedal feels spongy. 2. Pedal slowly sinks to floor under pressure.	Air in brake lines. Hydraulic fluid leaking past master cylinder piston.	Brakes with these troubles should be fixed immediately. Have your Shell dealer inspect your brake system.
Car pulls to either side: 1. When braking. 2. When cruising.	Water, oil or hydraulic fluid on brake lining; brakes out of adjustment. Uneven or low pressure in tires.	1. Think back. If you've just driven through water, drive with caution until linings dry. Otherwise, have brakes checked soon—it could be dangerous. 2. Check tires for correct pressure. Do this soon. Underinflation can also cause excessive tire wear.
Engine temperature suddenly passes the danger point on your dashboard gauge.	Broken fan belt. (You may hear the clatter when this breaks.) Loss of cooling water.	Turn off engine. 1. Check fan belt. 2. To check coolant —follow these rules. Let engine cool down. Remove radiator cap slowly using extreme care to avoid scalding. Add water slowly with engine idling. Check for leaks.

containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

which this newspaper will serve as co-sponsor with the Recreation Department. Cornell eyes another record entry, 'We had over 60 players last year, the biggest ever," said Cornell. "We envision a possible enrollment of 80, or maybe even 100 this time. 'Tennis interest is booming around here. If you don't think so, drop around the Bentley and Clarenceville courts all day long . . . and into the evenings. 'The courts are busy-with youngsters and adults."

Further details as to how to enter the Livonia meet will appear in this paper in subsequent editions, or you can discuss the matter with Cornell or any of his representatives at Bentley or Clarenceville,

Or you can call the recreation department.

Now to bring up the tennis "iron mike" which simplies the teaching of the sport.

used in baseball. The tennis device dishes up all kinds of shotsvolleys, forehands, back hands, high bounces and low bounces.

'We had it around here on loan from the Western Lawn Tennis Association for about 10 days and it helped us tremendously in our instructional program," continued Cornell.

"It cut our teaching time with each pupil in half. Instead having to locate somebody to deliver the various shots to the student, all we had to do was to fill it with some balls, flip the switch and we were in business."

How will Livonia be able to purchase one?

Cornell is hopeful that the tennis bugs will make the necessary contributions , . , or at least a fare share of same. "Maybe," says Cornell, "if we can raise a couple hundred bucks among the players, we can get the rest out of the city's recreation budget."

In any commentary on tennis, it should be added that it's the kind of a sport which doesn't require a host of players to get a game going. Just two and you're in business.

"What's more," concludes Cornell, "tennis a game in which age doesn't slow down the performer. You can keep playing tennis when you're 40 and 50 and even 60. The same doesn't hold for baseball and football and basketball." One might also say of tennis-

Nation's Top Trotter Heads Downs Card

Duke Rodney, America's finest trotter, and Rusty Range, the greatest homebred pacer in Michigan history, will share the Braves edged out the Dodgers limelight Friday night at to take the lead in the Major stacks up as the finest double bill ever presented at the track.

The Duke, who was voted the top three-year-old of 1961 even Eagles though he didn't win the coveted Hambletonian, is even 7: Hawks 6. better as a four. In fact, he's so brilliant at the moment that Falcons he may hold down the entry in Friday's $10,000 added HTA Hawks trot, first leg of the nationwide series th.t ends with a $50,000 finale in New York City in late September

Plymouth Teams Record Triumphs

Two Plymouth teams came through on the victory side in the Class E Western Wayne County League for boys 14 and 15 years of age.

The Plymouth Kiwanis socked Northville Plumbers, 6-3, while Bill's Market of Plymouth swamped Novi Giants, 9-1.

In other action, the Northville Recreation took the measure of the Wayne County Training School, 12-8, and the Novi Flyers beat the Good Counsil

RUSTY RANGE, currently rated as Michigan's 'Silky Sullivan' of harness racing, has the attention of Owner Bill Eggers, of Livonia, and Driver-Trainer Willard Niles as he prepares for a race at Northville Downs. Rusty has won nine in a row, always coming from as many as 15 lengths back in the final half-mile to gain the attention of the state's sulky fans.

Plan Retirement

"Inquire before you retire!" The Social Security Administration suggests that you plan ahead for your retirement It is a good policy to find out in advance from your local social security office what benefits you may expect to get when you retire; and when you have set your retirement date, come in as much as three months ahead of your retirement to file your claim.

Our 'mama san' gave bought a Korean record with a lot of their folk songs and almost all of the people we meet teach us more about this country. In order to get a pig to market they first get him drunk and then tie him to a bicycle and away they go. Since the pig is stone drunk he is very easy to manage.

"I have eaten enough rice here to last me a lifetime but I still like it. Since the student revolution in 1960 when General Park took over Korea they have had a military government. One of the things proclaimed is that the people must mix barley with the rice to make it more nutritious. They can't sell cosmetics in Korean stores and any Korean caught smoking American cigarettes goes to jail.

"The present government is making compulsory education up to the ninth grade instead of sixth grade and they are also cleaning up a lot of the slums. Apparently this regime is a turn for the better."

Mrs. Heil concluded her impressions with a description of a typical Korean dinner, "Sunday," she writes, "we had dinner at the home of a Korean man. The style was completely oriental from taking off our shoes upon entering, eating with chop sticks. We had candied oriental nuts, pressed dried shrimp, deep fried oysters fried shrimp, clams. Sea food is an oriental specialty. We also had chicken, rice, a chicken soup with vegetables, rice tea and for desert rice cooked with dates and chestnuts-needless to say this meal took three hours to eat."

Mrs. Heil, who is a registered nurse, will return to the United States later this summer.

Funeral services for Robert F. Prav. 37. 14447 Oxford Drive, Plymouth Township, were conducted in St. John's Vianney Church in Flint on Saturday.

Mr. Pray died July 4 at St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, after a short illness. The body was removed to the Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth and then taken to Flint for the services.

Mr. Pray was born June 1. 1925 and was the son of Loretta Ringlein and Clifford Pray. He was employed in the material handling division of the Fisher Body plant in Livonia, coming here from Flint three years ago. He is survived by his wife. Barbara; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pray of Flint; a son. Michael at home; and a brother Jack of Flint.

Burial was in the New Calvary cemetery in Flint.
