

Vie In Judging At Wonderland

Youngsters Put On Western Show

CHILD SINGERS from the Garfield School playground will take part in the all-city talent show planned by the DPR for next Monday on the Bentley High athletic field. That's director Augie Klein at the piano leading the youngsters through one of their songs.

An old frontier town can be seen in Livonia this week.

Complete with a traditional covered wagon, sheriff's office, saloon and general store, a bit of the "Old West" is on display on the mall at Wonderland Shopping Center.

Visitors to the 1962 Department of Parks and Recreation summer playground exhibit will view an entire oldtime Western Village as seen through the eyes of 8,000 Livonia boys and girls who created each symbol of the old West.

Highlight of summer activities at the 25 playground locations, each project in the giant display was judged Tuesday night in the annual community-wide playground competition.

Television star "Sagebrush Shorty," Ted Lloyd, was on hand to help judges. Also judging the display were Councilman Ed McNamara, and A. B. McKinstry, chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

"For the third successive year, playground activities have centered around one central theme, offering the children a stimulating and creative fun-filled summer," said Robert E. Girardin, superintendent of Parks and Recreation.

This year's theme was "Westward Ho!"

"The pilot study, an Indian theme in 1960 was carefully implemented in all playground activities, with the children constructing 22 decorative and symbolic fifteen-foot poles as their summer project," he continued.

One of the few cities in Michigan to follow a theme-type playground program, Livonia's recreation activities has received state and national recognition in magazine articles.

Also featured during the judging was an amateur show starring talented Livonia boys and girls.

A grand prize trophy was awarded to the playground with the project judged "best in the city" on the basis of originality, construction and workmanship, and authenticity.

Four other trophies were presented to playground representatives whose exhibit was termed best in their district.

The Western Village will be on display in a tent on the mall between Robinson's and Federal's until Monday, August 13.

Six-Year-Old Learns Lesson About Bullets

Gerald Hoffmeyer, 6, 20126 Antago, Livonia, learned to his sorrow that bullets and rocks don't mix.

The youngster was taken to St. Mary's Hospital with a wound in his left knee when he struck a bullet with a rock and it bounced up and struck him. He had taken the bullet from a supply kept in a dresser drawer by his brother.

Gerald was rushed to the hospital by his father, Lester, for examination and treatment.

Looking Around Plymouth

Plans are underway for a plush billiard and pool establishment at the building occupied by Bill Stockton's bowling lanes. The preliminary plans call for 20 tables aimed at attracting the city's billiard and pool enthusiasts. More information is expected shortly although Stockton and his partner, Bill Ray, hope to make the changeover within a short time.

Word from New York City indicates that Julie Lent is making a satisfactory recovery in St. Luke's Hospital after undergoing a second operation from complications arising from peritonitis. Julie isn't out of the woods yet but her parents believe she'll improve so fast now that she'll be back in time for the start of classes a Plymouth High School.

The School Board is studying a request from an educational game company to lease the vacant Canton Center School. The firm, known as Career Games Inc. plans to use the Little Red Schoolhouse as a trade mark and the little red schoolhouse fits right in with their theme.

Shell dealers suggest 7 things to tell your son when he first borrows the family car

1 Don't take other drivers for granted.

They sometimes do unexpected things. In the U.S. in 1960, they ran into stationary objects more than 150,000 times.

So don't be too optimistic. Cars backing out of parking spaces do sometimes back out blindly. Cars coming from the other direction might swing into your lane—especially on hills and curves.

Your best protection is to drive defensively. The only driver you can really be sure of is yourself.

2 If the car won't start, there are a number of simple things worth trying.

Use the starter in short bursts. Press accelerator to the floor once, then hold it there while you try starter.

With manual shift, keep clutch pedal all the way down. With automatic transmission, jiggle lever to make sure it's in neutral.

Note from Shell: We recently published an advertisement with 7 simple starting tips. For a free copy, write to the Shell Oil Company, P.O. Box 272, New York 46, N.Y.

3 Courtesy is contagious—and adds to everyone's driving pleasure and safety.

Nobody ever cured a traffic jam by losing his temper. If you can keep your sense of humor and wait your turn, everyone will probably get where he's going sooner. Including you.

Another suggestion: It takes only seconds to let someone enter the roadway ahead of you, but it can save the other driver minutes. Just remember to signal the car behind that you're slowing down or about to stop.

4 Cars respond to good care. Have the oil, battery and water checked every time you stop for gasoline.

When you're driving, listen for unusual mechanical sounds. If you hear one, have it checked right away. It could save a big repair bill later on.

On rough roads, take it easy—tires are tough, but they are destructible.

Note: For a free copy of Shell's 12-page booklet, "44 ways to make your car last longer," write to the Shell Oil Company, P.O. Box 272, New York 46, N.Y.

Many a young man first borrows the family car for a summer dance. On this page, your local Shell dealers offer some driving tips that can be useful to him all his life.

5 Remember what you learned to get your driver's license, and you'll be a better driver.

Eight out of ten car accidents stem from improper driving practices—such as speeding, failing to yield right-of-way and following other cars too closely.

Truck drivers and other professionals have very few of these accidents—mile for mile, about one-quarter as many as other drivers. The professionals know the rules of good driving—and obey them.

6 If you're going to be late, call home.

And if car trouble is the reason, call the nearest service station, too.

Park off the traffic lanes and wait in the car until help arrives—with the hood up to show you're disabled. Making repairs close to a busy road can be dangerous.

Note from Shell: Over 12,000 of our dealers go to special training schools each year. There, they learn how to spot trouble in a hurry. A Shell dealer can be helpful to you in almost any emergency.

7 Have a good time. So far, almost everything you've heard about cars has to do with safety.

Now you're about to find out what a pleasure they can be. Here are the keys. Just take your responsibilities in stride. And have fun.

Comforting fact for parents: Drivers with less than three months' experience account for very few serious accidents. That's a good sign that most new drivers do take their responsibilities seriously. So you can relax.

Colts Go Down Fighting In Regional Tourney

After staging a comeback to win the state district crown, the Redford Township Colts baseball team for boys 16-17 succumbed in two straight games in the regional tournament at Hamtramck last week.

single before getting the side out. The Redford Colts had come from behind in the bottom of the seventh to pull even at 3-3 when Jim Sproul singled, Johnny Eszes reached base when he was hit by a pitch and Jerry Rock delivered a key single.

to pace the losers. Against Midland, Jim Sproul pitched in a losing cause, giving up six hits while fanning seven and walking three. Eszes scored the lone Redford run in the sixth when he tripled and came home on the catcher's error.

SPORTS OBSERVER

By George Maskin

And, where has the summer gone? The first football game of the 1962 season has entered the records. The Lions swing into action Saturday night. They tell me that one high school football coach around these parts—he doesn't work for a school in Livonia, Plymouth or Redford Township—has his charges working out twice weekly for the upcoming grid campaign despite the fact that the state rules bar any lower peninsula teams from drilling until Aug. 24.

BUT IN the few precious weeks that remain of summer, let's have fun. After all we do live in the state known everywhere as the Water Wonderland.

Within minutes of our area we can jump into the cooling waters of as many as 100 different lakes. No state boasts more registered boats than Michigan. Everywhere you look, you'll spot folks hauling boats to or from a lake or river.

While most of the baseball teams hereabouts have wrapped up their season's play, the championship tournaments still remain on the docket. Livonia hosts a kids meet for teams some 20 communities next week.

Other Livonia teams will head into qualifying rounds for the state tournament. The annual city closed tennis tournament is underway and the city has a six-man delegation tuning up for the State Recreation golf tournament later in the month.

Looking back, we'd have to say the summer has produced some interesting developments. The success of the Colt League team from Redford Township in the state district tournament naturally takes No. 1 ranking. Here was a group of stars which literally had to get off the ground, after losing in its second game, to wind up as the champ by winning four straight games.

It was a different story last week in the regionals. The Townshipers went out in two straight at Pontiac. Redford's Pony Leaguers also did well, reaching the district finals before bowing out.

The kids baseball in Plymouth and Livonia also has been on the upswing. Not only did 1962 see more boys and more teams in action, but the caliber of play showed an improvement over what had taken place in years gone by.

THE AREA also could rave about the most unique schoolboy and schoolgirl swimming program in the state. From eight to 18, the kids of Livonia, Plymouth and the Township, along with Belleville, vie weekly in an activity which stressed participation rather than who won or who lost.

THE GRAND climax to this program came last Thursday in the Bentley pool. The boys and girls made quite a splash.

THERE'S ONE piece of sad news to report this week. Shell Chambers, the No. 2 man in athletics in Livonia's Recreation department, has taken off for Phoenix, Ariz., where he takes over a new teaching job in the school system next fall.

Chambers has taught for the last five years in the Redford Union system and worked summer with Al Roscoe in Livonia's recreation office. He has had considerable to do with the building up of the ladies and teenage golf leagues hereabouts.

All we can say is that Phoenix' gain is Livonia's loss. Steve Powers, fresh out of Bentley High where he has starred in sports the last three years, will replace Chambers in the recreation office during the rest of the current summer. Powers enters Michigan State University in the fall.

Rusty Range Faces Livonia Boy

Livonia's Pacing Stars To Duel At Wolverine

Harness racing fans in the Detroit area, especially in Livonia, Plymouth and Redford Township, have some unusual treats in store at Wolverine Harness Raceway in the next week.

Stan Dancer's Lehigh Hanover (1:59.1), Al Eastin's Knight Latch (3:00.2), Dick Downing's Play Bill (2:04.3), Del Cameron's Meadow Newport (2:02.4), and Dave Selden's Surprise (2:04).

The Wolverine meeting—50 nights which started last Monday—is conducted at the Detroit Race Course located at the intersection of Middlebelt and Schoolcraft Roads.

Then on Saturday, Livonians and the state's standardbred fans will view one of the top duels of the year when Livonia-owned Rusty Range clashes with Livonia Boy in a $5,000 invitational pace.

The unusual events start Thursday night when eight of the nation's top three-year-old pacers clash in the $19,000 Matron stake which may give fans a chance to see the 1962 Brown Jug winner in action.

Rusty Range, owned by Bill Eggers, was termed as the state's wonder horse and the best Michiganbred three-year-old in history until Livonia Boy, owned by Jack Richards, came along and beat him three times in the state's colt stake series.

Saturday's meeting will be the first in the area since early season and promises one of the best races of the early Wolverine campaign. Livonia Boy beat Rusty twice at Hale and once at Crosswell and now appears to be the best of Michigan's sophomore pacers.

Then on Tuesday, the track will have the second of its ladies night programs—all members of the distaff side admitted free—and one of the gals will walk home with a mink stole, compliments of the management.

That makes the week one that should be of interest to all and one that all followers of the pacers and trotters can't afford to miss.

Benefit Dance Aug. 18

War Hero's Family Aided By DAV

If members of the Livonia Chapter 114 of the Disabled American Veterans have their way, there'll be brighter days ahead for stricken veteran Neil Rogers and his family. They are planning a benefit dance on Saturday, Aug. 18 with all proceeds going to the Rogers family.

Rogers, a thrice decorated hero of World War II, is in serious condition in Veterans Hospital in Dearborn with an incurable ailment and his wife, Patricia, and five children are at home, 8936 Hubbard.

This was mentioned earlier in a story in this newspaper and all were urged to chip in and do their best to aid the family.

And that's exactly what has happened. DAV posts in Livonia and Redford and the Lions Club made cash donations to help the family over the rough days. The DAV executive board made arrangements for aid from the Veterans Trust Fund to take care of back due payments on the mortgage, which was in danger of being foreclosed, and the fund also will pay the monthly installments for the next three months.

Others have done their best but the fact remains that things aren't going too well for the Rogers and additional help is needed. The DAV has gone to bat to try to arrange ADC payments and is seeking a 100 percent disability pension for the stricken hero from the federal government.

Meanwhile, Neil is still in critical condition after an operation to amputate part of his right foot. He faces additional operations and a long hospital stay.

That's why the Livonia DAV members are asking all to get behind the benefit — every penny goes to the family. Tickets are $2 and may be purchased from any member of Chapter 114 or at the business offices of the Livonian, 33050 Five Mile Road.

The affair is in charge of Commander Kenneth Noury of Plymouth and Adjutant William Howard of Livonia who hope to raise more than $500 to aid the family and to bolster the spirits of an ailing war hero who thought that everyone had forgotten.

Police Stalking 8 Stolen Bikes

With school out and plenty of time for mischief, Livonia Police have been kept busy all summer with reports of bicycle thefts.

A total of eight stolen bikes were reported last week, and that has been the story each week since the school vacation period started in mid-June.

Douglas Savage, 9, 14750 Hubbard, left his bike in the front yard overnight and discovered it was gone in the morning.

Bernard Schwarb, 11, 30585 Five-Mile Road, parked in the lot at Riley Junior High school while attending summer classes—when he came out two hours later he couldn't find his bicycle.

Michael Runnel, 14, 13974 Cardwell, parked his two-wheeler in front of the house and when he returned it had vanished.

Mrs. Doloris Jones, 29909 Gladys, reported theft of her daughter's bike while parked at Wonderland.

Mrs. Paulette Stolver, 18418 Foch, told police her son's bicycle was taken from the back porch while the family was out-of-town.

Andrew Horn, 15, 33553 Nancy, left his bike in the back yard and a thief removed it before he returned.

Mrs. Roberta Knox, 13932 Cardwell, complained that her daughter's bike was stolen while she was playing at Adams School.

Steve Widak, 15, 9601 Inkster Road, left his bicycle in the lot at Wonderland and, like a good many others, it wasn't there when he came back after a short shopping tour.

Two Share Honors In Golf Meet

Theresa Courtney and Millie Hancock shared honors in last Friday's weekly Livonia women's golf tournament at Idyl Wyld.

Mrs. Courtney posted a 46 for low gross honors, while Mrs. Hancock came in with a 49 to go along with a 11 handicap for a 38 and the net prize. Peg Silverman shot 51-10-41 for third place in the Flight A competition.

In Flight B Mae Okerstrom took the honors with 64-18-45. She was followed by Mary Wooten with 66-20-46 and Sandy andback at 66-18-48.

In Flight C the low tally was posted by Irene Mann at 67-22-45. Helen Scheffli had a 74-28-46 for second and Gretchen Holwig 70-21-49. Cathy O'Connor and Anna Marie Hargie tied for first in Flight D with 69-29-40 and 74-34-40, respectively.

COLORFUL STRIPED BLAZERS and straw hats provided a lure for customers to the Davis-Lent Men's Store during Plymouth's sidewalk sales. Tom Marshall (left) and Jim Lent were busy most of the two days handling shoppers.

Perform In Area League

Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation is sponsoring two tennis teams in the Little League Tennis program in the Detroit area, directed by the Southeastern Michigan Tennis Association.

George King travels with the two teams, who play out of town once a week.

The girls boast a 4-1 record, losing one match to Stoepel Park in Detroit.

Members of the girls team include: Darlene Gaymer, 15; Laura Gauthier, 14; Kay Albrecht, 15; Mary Ellen Senowski, 15; Joanne Funk, 15; Diane Stieber, 15; Terri Gillette, 13; Nancy Duncan, 10; Debbie Gaymer, 11; and Paula Crafton, 11.

The Livonia boys play teams from Allen Park, Detroit Tennis Club, Dearborn and Stoepel Park. The boys record is two losses against no wins.

Marvin LaVasseur heads the team with Steve Allen, Mark Rabinovitch, Mark Ranstaddler, Charles Gillette, Gary Arthur and Ken Bollin.

UNIQUE QUAKER costume of the late '90s had Irene Treadwell (right) in the spotlight at Kresges. She and her sidewalk sales partner, Inez Campbell, didn't have any trouble getting customers to gaze at the numerous unusual offerings.

Youthful Vandals Hit Two Schools, Church

Youthful vandals are blamed for the depredations to two area schools and a church.

Clinton Silverwood, custodian of Clarenceville Junior High, 20210 Middlebelt, complained to Livonia police that vandals had tossed bricks through 21 windows in the junior high and three in the senior high for a total loss of $350. Juvenile youngsters are blamed by police for shattering a window and breaking into a vending machine at Jackson School, 32025 Lyndon. Custodian Frederick Mecham reported the vandals broke a window and then looted the machine of $21.

Trinity Baptist Church, 14800 Middlebelt, was the target of a brick that blasted a window valued at $150 by Custodian Archie McPhee.

Gem to Build Livonia Store

Plans to build a second Detroit area store in Livonia announced by Lee Gerson, general manager of GEM Membership Department stores.

The Livonia branch will be erected on a 15-acre site near the intersection of Middlebelt and Schoolcraft. Gerson said construction will start within 60 days on the 130,000-square foot building which will include a 25,000-square foot super-market.

"Getting To Know You" Handwriting Analysis

By IRENE ANDLER

(Mrs. Andler is a certified Grapho Analyst, a lecturer and teacher of handwriting analysis. Through this column she will tell you things you didn't know about your own character and personality. Address the letters to this paper, you do not have to sign your name. Answers will appear in this column. Remember this is a recognized science, not an advice column. Because of the terrific response to this column it may take several weeks before your letter is answered. Be patient, it will be.)

Dear Mrs. Andler:

I have been having considerable trouble in my life and am interested in knowing if Grapho Analysis can help me at all. I would like to know things I'm most probably adaptable to and also ways I could alter my personality to meet life's situations.

Sincerely,
J.S.

Dear J.S.:

This is a tall order from the amount of handwriting available. Yes, Grapho Analysis can help everyone in this respect—it enables us to know ourselves, really know ourselves including those traits which others see in us but we do not recognize in ourselves. Of course, we must be willing to look at our own handwriting objectively and not excuse nor alibi any traits which we may find distasteful. This is not easy to do. Secondly, Grapho Analysis enables us to understand the people with whom we come in daily contact. We are then prepared to anticipate and avoid many personality problems.

You are a methodical thinker and require time to analyze the material you have gathered so do not engage in work which calls for snap decisions. Nor would I suggest that you attempt anything which calls for rapid learning. You think and learn slowly but you can be just as thorough and accurate as the fast thinker (maybe more so).

You are short on tolerance with the highly impatient and critical side of your nature being the saboteurs. We can also add your sensitiveness to criticism and get a better picture of a person who is frequently on the defense.

You are merely drifting from day to day with no real purpose in life. If you have any interests which moderately capture you, perhaps you could follow up on them. This would give you something to look forward to each day.

Dear Mrs. Andler:

I am very curious as to what you have to say about my handwriting especially whether I have any creative talents or not.

I believe it is of importance what nationality one has to analyze correctly. I was reared in Germany.

Thank you,
Mrs. K.M.

Dear Mrs. K.M.: Nationality is important only because certain regions of the world have had problems peculiar to those people and certain traits as well as their application to daily living will be more pronounced.

You have definite artistic ability which encompasses love and appreciation of music or poetry (they are actually first cousins) as well as a good sense of rhythm. You also have an excellent sense of color with the emphasis placed on the more brilliant or strong shades. You would use pastels only for contrast to point up the colors you prefer. Incidentally, you could also be a good cook if you set your mind to it and your dishes would certainly not lack for flavor nor attractiveness to the eye.

Now, just what have you done with all this talent? There is a lot of suppressed initiative in your writing so I'm concerned if you are following through with your abilities. Also, while you love to converse with people, there is considerable fear of expression shown. You are afraid to express your opinions or ideas both verbally and creatively.
