

Civic Leaders Optimistic Over '63

Paul Wiedman Sells His Ford Dealership To Leo M. Calhoun

AFTER 11 YEARS as a Ford dealer, Paul J. Wiedman (right) this week announced the sale of his automobile agency to Leo M. Calhoun (left), of Wayne.

Clinic Seeks School Funds For Expansion

Dr. Covington said that the request to all School Districts will ask for direct grants, presumably out of general operating funds.

Candidate List Lengthy As Primary Race Looms

Frank Millington, 14900 Beck Rd., 41033 Greenbrook Lane; Eldon Martin, 880 Fairground; Leon Merriman, 147 Plymouth Rd.; Jamiel M. Jabara, 231 Irvin; William B. Silvis, 1029 Roosevelt; and Robert L. Smith, Jr., 700 Pacific.

EACH YEAR at this time, The Plymouth Mail calls upon four key civic leaders to assess the future of the Plymouth community during the coming year.

School Board Eyes New Construction . . .

FOR THE Plymouth Community School District, the year of 1963 promises to be a very busy one. In addition to the basic job of providing quality education for the more than 5,200 students enrolled in our schools, the school staff and Board of Education face major tasks in completing the curriculum and facilities programs previously established, and planning the additional programs required to meet the District's future needs.

The first three are elected by popular vote, while Herb is elected by the Chamber's Board of Directors. It is these men (or their successors) to whom Plymouth will turn for ultimate leadership during the 12 month period just underway.

Water, Sewers Hold Spotlight in Twp. . . .

EXACTLY how fast Plymouth Township moves ahead in 1963 depends on two inter-related factors. 1. How much we can afford to expand our water and sewer facilities, and 2. How speedily new residential, commercial and industrial developments then arise.

City Looks to Wide Industrial Growth . . .

THERE are a number of areas that, as described particularly as "City projects," will feel confident will be pushed forward in 1963. While they might best be labeled "City matters, I know that they will serve to propel the total Plymouth community ultimately.

Distinguished Guest Provides Surprise Talk

Mr. N. J. ... provided a surprise talk on the future of the community.

Local Economy Tied to State, Nation . . .

THE first six months of 1962 is well known in both tragically known to many. After a series of ups and downs, the market plummeted in a low on June 26 which was the lowest since Oct. 20, 1957.

Then, in the last half of 1962, the administration began an effort to regain the confidence of business. As one writer remarked, they became aware of one of economist John Keynes' lesser known statements: "Short of going over to communism, there is no possible means of curing unemployment except by restoring to employers a proper margin of profit."

'60 Pulitzer Prize Poet Is Listening Post Guest

A Pulitzer Prize-winning poet will be the featured speaker at the Listening Post series on Wednesday, Jan. 13, at 8 p.m. He is an expert on the poet's work and will discuss his poetry in relation to the current scene. The poet is Robert Lowell, who has won the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1955. He is also a member of the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

The Plymouth Listening Post series is comprised of four sessions in all over the winter season—a cultural offering conducted by the local American Association of University Women.

The AAUW strives to bring outstanding speakers from stimulating and intellectual fields of study to the Plymouth community through the Listening Post program.

Assisting the University Women as ushers will be six high school students from the special English department. They are Judy Adams, Cheryl Plank, Sue Hopperich, Art Gillick, Chuck Hamilton and Hugh Saran.

Series tickets will be available at the door for $4.

However, for high school students who have a special interest in the individual programs, the AAUW has made available 15 individual admission tickets at a special price.

The student tickets may be purchased now in the Senior High School office. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. W. V. Clarke, chairman, Mrs. James Knowles, and Mrs. Irene Truesdale.

The Knowles Buers and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buers were guests at the Ted Buers of Six Mile for a family get together on Christmas Day. Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Farmington spent Christmas evening with Mr. and Mrs. Knowles Buers.

Louis and Win J. Dowsett visited their sister, Mrs. Earl McKenna, in Detroit. Mrs. McKenna has just returned home from a stay in the hospital.

Lacey Jane Wilson, daughter of the Willard Wilsons, spent part of her vacation visiting with her aunt, uncle, and cousin in Detroit and Mrs. James Moran and Bill of Riverview of Township. Bill's fighting for stay was a trip to the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. Special Yale time features at the museum included a showing of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" in the auditorium and an exhibit of Christmas Crafts. Of great interest to the children were the glass blowing, sand making and candle dipping exhibits.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Starnes of Seven Mile Road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lacey Jane, to Dr. Wm. J. Dowsett of Eight Mile Road.

Miss Sara Lusk is a 1961 graduate of South Lyon High School and is attending Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti. Her fiance is a 1960 graduate of South Lyon High School and is attending the University of Michigan. Dowsett is employed as executive secretary of the Michigan Mobile Home Assn. in Detroit. A June wedding is planned.

Again this year, the Willard Wilsons had their traditional get-together for Christmas Eve breakfast with Mrs. Wilson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Moran. Accompanying them were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Beck of New York, aunt and uncle to the entire group. At this time the four cousins enjoy the Moran Christmas tree.

Mrs. Burton Rich of Salem Road gave a bridal shower for her niece, Kathleen Rich, of South Lyon on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 30. Twenty-two friends and relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rich of Salem spent a few days last week visiting with her brother's family, the Bill McKays, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Rich attended a New Year's Eve party at Richard Whittaker's on Brookville Road.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every one who has provided me with Salem news these past six months, and to wish all of you a most Happy New Year.

Local Hockey Teams Win 4 of 5 Games

Plymouth entries in the various divisions of the Garden City recreation hockey league entertained success last week as the hockey season got underway in earnest.

In five games, Plymouth teams came away with four victories, one of them by way of a forfeit decision.

The Plymouth Seniors, in the senior division, gained the forfeit win over Ypsilanti and later defeated Garden City, 4-3, before dropping a 5-3 encounter to Belleville.

Against Garden City, Plymouth turned to Jerry Trost (2), Dick Sharland (1) and Al Koliak (1) for its scoring punch. Koliak scored another goal in the loss to Belleville and Roy Stewart fired in a pair of tallies.

In the Midget league, the Plymouth Royals defeated Dearborn Twp., 6-2, as Randy Sharland turned in a 3-goal hat-trick and Jim McKindles scored twice. Terry Cosgrove tallied the other goal for the winners.

In the Bantam division, the Plymouth T-Birds downed Wayne, 5-1, as Lee Demond, John Gilles, Lee Breneman and Denny Shelley each scored single goals.

Goodwill Pickup

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Plymouth is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 7. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards. To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, ask the operator for toll-free Enterprise 7002.

Chips from the ROCK

One of the best ways to start a New Year is to wind up all of last year's unfinished business and that is what we shall attempt to do here.

First, we have had on our desk for several days an item appearing in the Toledo Blade concerning a refund of $140,000 to the City of Toledo from the State of Ohio brought about directly by the alertness of one of our own Plymouthites.

Through the untiring efforts of a Toledo Blade reporter, Edson Whipple, son of Austin Whipple, an error in assessing costs for the Detroit-Toledo freeway, by the usage of wrong maps, was discovered after a two month study by the young Plymouth journalist.

Needless to say Toledo officials were pleased with Edson's alertness but they were only half as pleased as was his dad who has been associated in the hardware business here for many, many years. "Next time Edson is home for a vacation I'm going to have him look over all my old papers in the attic and see if he can find some kind of a refund that I might get, too", says the proud father.

Also on our desk and unattended due to illness and the holidays is a most interesting letter from Mrs. Frederick Green in Canton Township regarding the Community Fund. As Canton Residential Fund chairman she is concerned with the fact that many Canton residents contributed to Plymouth rather than Detroit and yet Plymouth services are not available to the Canton area.

She has raised an area question which is important and one that needs considerable study in the discussions with all parties concerned. I'll have more to say on this particular matter at a future date.

Ever so often some of our fine readers get ideas and ask us for information on various subjects. As an example Dr. A. C. Williams, many months ago, suggested we research the number of acres of land in Michigan owned by the various arms of government. Says Doctor Williams, "I think you'll find that there is more government owned land in Michigan than there is privately owned." Well, to this time we still haven't put together the multitude of acres gathered from the Coast Guard, Army, Navy, Department of Interior, Conservation Department, municipalities, etc., etc., but, in time, perhaps before another year, we may be able to solve that one too.

But one that does have us covered with confusion is the one posed by Charlotte Lush and Margaret Wilson. "Why is Territorial road called North Territorial road when it runs west?" After consulting our two most authoritative local sources of early Plymouth information, Ernest Rowe and Karl Starkweather, we admit at this point we are stymied.

So far we believe that Territorial road actually ran through Plymouth covering the area that it presently does on the west, Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor Trail on the east. Probably Territorial road was a major connecting artery from Ann Arbor to Detroit. As our village grew the major section of that road within the village limits had its name changed to Sutton street as far west as Sheldon road and east to Mill street. In fact, I am told there are still some imprints in old existing sidewalk areas that carry the name Sutton street today.

In honor of banker Penniman the name Sutton street was dropped later and the street became Penniman avenue as far west as Sheldon and to the park. Since Ann Arbor Trail was at that time becoming a new western route to Ann Arbor supplementing Territorial, and Penniman avenue ran to the end of Kellogg Park, the extension of Ann Arbor Trail replaced the east end of what was formerly Territorial. Where the North came from no one seems to know and it seems out of place as the road does primarily run west, but for the benefit of these interested parties we'll report further research is under way and, here again, perhaps before the New Year is over we may have a complete answer.

The above items account for most of my unfinished business with the exception of taxes and it is with great enthusiasm that we look forward to the excitement and challenge of 1963.

If our community can enjoy the same amount of expansion during the next 12 months that it has the last, I think we should point with pride to the accomplishments of our unselfish, sacrificing civic leaders who have brought us this bonanza.

Most of our merchants have enjoyed an unusually profitable year and there is no reason to feel that they will not have a continuation of substantial growth during 1963.

I further feel our citizens are deserving of a special pat on the back for exhibiting the kind of loyalty to their home town that they did, during the heavy shopping days preceding the holidays. It came back to us in many ways that local dollars were being spent at home this year, and the most encouraging factor of all was the fact that the buyers were more than pleased with the service received in our local stores, and more than satisfied with the merchandise and the prices they found right here at home.

We cannot overlook the fact that it was evident our shopping areas do not have sufficient parking spaces to handle the demand when we have crowds such as those preceding the holidays. This is a problem that must have prompt attention this year.

One encouraging item of note for the New Year is the fact that there are many qualified candidates who have chosen to run for seats on the City Commission and the Township Board. The future development of this area will depend to a great extent on the caliber of people serving on these two important governing bodies. As in the past, we are confident voters will select those whom they think will serve this community best and certainly there is no dearth of talent from which to choose.

There are many problems to be encountered, too, but, having lived here over 30 years, I am not concerned with their outcome. It has been my observation that nothing that this community has ever encountered hasn't eventually been solved by our own intelligent residents to the best advantage of all concerned. Mistakes made in the past were corrected and I have every reason to believe that Plymouth will enjoy one of its most productive years and one of major accomplishment.

Dr. H. W. Ferrin

College Head To Speak To Baptist Here

Dr. Howard W. Ferrin, president of Barrington College in Barrington, Rhode Island, will speak Sunday morning at Calvary Baptist Church. He will make two appearances at the local church.

At 10 a.m. Dr. Ferrin will address the junior and senior high school group on "Christian Higher Education," and at 11 a.m. Worship Service his topic will be "Things That Cannot Be Shaken."

A graduate of Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Dr. Ferrin received his A.B. degree from Northwestern University in 1922. In 1947, he was honored with a degree of Doctor of Laws by Houghton College in his native New York state.

In 35 years under Dr. Ferrin's leadership, Barrington college has grown from a mere handful of students until today it has a resident student body of more than 400.

The college has been regionally accredited by the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

At the present time eight liberal arts majors and six church vocations majors are offered. In addition, evening schools are conducted in Providence and in Boston with an enrollment of about 500.

For many years, Dr. Ferrin has been active in religious radio broadcasting. The Mountaintop Hour, which he started in 1926, is heard over several stations of the Yankee Network. Many of his radio sermons have appeared in pamphlet form. Dr. Ferrin is also the author of seven books.

Some years ago, Dr. Ferrin was a seminar instructor on a tour of several European countries and the Holy Land. His book, entitled "The Riddle of the Middle East," is based upon his impressions gained during this trip.

Dr. Ferrin served for 10 years until 1958 as President of the Africa Inland Mission. In the summer of 1948 and again in 1955 he toured eastern and central Africa, visiting the six fields of activity of several missionary societies.

Declare Dividend For Participants Of Trust Fund

The Plymouth Trust Fund, an outgrowth of the nonprofit Plymouth Industrial Development Corp., will meet next Wednesday, Jan. 9, at Hillside Inn and is expected to declare a three per cent annual dividend for all of its participants.

Half of the annual dividend will be paid at that time, a spokesman said.

The Plymouth Trust Fund is comprised of approximately 50 civic leaders who combined to put up $48,000 which aided in bringing RCA to Plymouth last year.

The new RCA plant is located on property that was part of the City's Industrial Park along Plymouth Road. The new plant has been completed and is fully occupied.

On the Plymouth Trust Fund's agenda for its meeting next week is a discussion of how the $48,000 has been secured, the interest factor return, and other related matters.

In another dividend announcement here this week, the Plymouth Community Credit Union, its Board of Directors has declared, will issue a four per cent dividend on savings.

The announcement said that over $19,000 will be paid Credit Union members in dividends for the six month period just ended.

It is the seventh consecutive four per cent dividend on savings declared by the Plymouth Community Credit Union's Board of Directors.

Tells of Car Troubles, Robs Woman of $35

Helen Harrington, who lives in an apartment at the rear of the Ralph Garber home on North Territorial here, was robbed of $35 Wednesday morning by a man who told her he was having car trouble and wished to use her phone.

Wayne County Sheriff's deputies were investigating the incident.

She told them that a man knocked on her door about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, told of having trouble with his car, and asked to use her telephone.

The new operator is Russell Keller, a Plymouthite, who has worked previously at another beauty shop here.

HAPPY NEW YEAR! BUT REMEMBER TIME DOESN'T COUNT AS MUCH AS YOU DO!

INSTRUCTIONESE SPOKEN HERE

So someone presented you with that new camera or projector for Christmas.

Great!

But what's that you say? The hieroglyphics in the instruction book about "Shutter Speed Ring (Q)" or "Film Index Dial (7R)" are just too much?

Don't call Berlitz! We're old hands at translating instruction book jargon into clear, comprehensible American. And if you'll bring that new camera or projector down to the store along with the instruction manual, a few on-the-spot demonstrations with the equipment itself sure beats diagrams with "key" letters splashed all over them like alphabet soup. We'll be glad to fill you in on the accessory items too — such as flash attachments and carrying cases — that are available to make your photo-gift even more enjoyable.

Whether your holiday picture-taking was done with a new camera or old, we'd like to suggest that the time to get your film in to us for expert processing is right now.

A snapshot of junior with the new chemistry set the folks sent him, or of your little girl with the new doll from Aunt Clara, makes a wonderful enclosure with post-Christmas thank-you notes.

City Looks

City administrators will strive to resolve all of these aspects.

Now, let's take the items, one-by-one:
For retail business in the City in 1963, I look for an increase in smaller, specialty shops rather than the sudden appearance of large department store-type operations. As much as I can, I intend to urge further concentration on the improvement of parking facilities in the Penniman-Main St.-Fralick St. area. In conjunction with this, we must rejuvenate the badly deteriorated retail stores that now stand vacant on Penniman Ave.

WITH THE accomplishment of these three projects, a greatly improved overall business district will result.

The City can't afford to stand still, and one of the most logical starting points in 1963 involves all three of the above items.

While the City's residential growth is nearing a saturation point, there are still areas for further activity involving residential dwellings. Multiple-family units — apartment buildings, if you prefer — will serve the City well in the years to come, particularly the modern, up-to-date ones that are properly maintained. Two such apartment-house projects are on the drawing boards and I feel confident that these, and possibly others, too, will fill a definite need here.

A significant thought here is that all of us, City and Township officials, landlords, and residents themselves, must strive to maintain our community's superlative residential appearance. It is a seldom-thought-of factor, but it goes a long way in creating and assuring a favorable growth situation.

CITY OFFICIALS will be on the look-out for the possibility of a Senior Citizen residential building, which could house possibly 175 elderly couples. This is a project that is nearing the foreground and, with federal assistance, could conceivably be undertaken in 1963.

One of the most essential ingredients to a community that seeks further growth and prosperity is "Industry." During 1962 and 1961, the City geared itself carefully to accommodate further industrial concerns. The City's industrial park, in 1963, could conceivably fill the need. Even now, there are three companies considering sites there.

Our long-awaited Urban Renewal project got firmly underway last year and plant sites there should become available this spring. Practically all of these industrial locations have been reported in an unofficial form, and we foresee no problem in filling the U.R. area as the land becomes fully available.

Back to the Industrial Park along Plymouth Rd., the firm of Wheel-Truing, is expected to break ground sometime this spring, too. It was the first company to purchase land there soon after the City in 1959 established the acreage for industrial use.

UNQUESTIONABLY, the Plymouth community will require more space for new industry in the years to come, if it wishes to maintain a broad tax base for the benefit of the City and Township, and particularly the School District. Our community's basic economy would thrive, too, on the new jobs that would result from any new industry that should choose to locate here. There are any number of industries that would consider moving here, providing they could be assured adequate municipal services and utilities. This is a major goal for 1963.

While I'm on the subject, I want to pay a solemn tribute to the men who direct the work of the community's Industrial Development Corporation. These men, who have encouraged so much new industry here already, have as their goals, the industrial growth of the School District, which essentially constitutes the community as a whole.

Two other matters still remain to be discussed here:

First, I sincerely hope to see the start of our new City Hall building this spring. The mechanics of the project have been set in motion and all that remains is approval of our request for a federal grant, which will provide up to 50 per cent of the cost of the building.

A NEW CITY Hall would do many things for Plymouth, not the least of which is to create a full consolidation of our many municipal departments under one roof. I feel we could increase the efficiency of our City administration in this way, too, and certainly a brand new colonial-styled City Hall building would greatly enhance the appearance of our Downtown area.

The final project that carries a singularly important label for 1963 concerns the matter of Detroit water and our intentions to construct a new three-million-gallon water reservoir on Beck Rd.

Without going into the innumerable details of the two projects which are so closely related, let me instead outline the City's goals on both items for 1963:

1. We hope to get the new reservoir in operation during 1963 and, during the same period, we intend to mutually resolve our problems with Detroit over its offer to furnish the City of Plymouth with water eventually.

2. We intend to resolve, with our industrial users and the other major water consumers, the many questions that have arisen over the possibility of Detroit water here.

3. We will strive, as we have in the past, to act with the best interests of the residents uppermost in mind, not only on the matter of Detroit water but on all problems that arise within our community as it continues to grow and prosper. Interestingly, the matter of the new reservoir and the Detroit water proposal is not simply a "City" subject, but instead is something that affects the entire Plymouth community along with several neighboring communities as well.

THESE, THEN, are City of Plymouth's goals, intentions and hopes for 1963. If it has sounded at all like a campaign speech, it has been improperly presented, because it is not one. Instead, it is the City's pledge to aid the Plymouth community in its days and months of progress ahead.

Local Economy

creation of a seven per cent income tax credit for firms investing in new equipment.

One of the big problems of American industry, in its struggle to compete with foreign manufacturers, has been their inability to modernize equipment due to a small profit margin. These two concessions, although many businessmen feel they do not go far enough, should help to correct this problem.

ANOTHER PROBLEM facing the American economy is the increased effect being felt by the European Common Market. While there are many who deplore the importation of foreign goods, one cold fact remains: if the economy of the United States is to continue to grow, then we must expand our penetration of foreign markets. For it is clear that our own population growth is not going to be sufficient to support our industrial potential. We must look for new markets outside of the United States.

But, and this is a fact many people overlook, foreign trade is a two-way street. If other nations are going to trade with us, then we, in turn, must make it possible for them to sell their products here. The Trade Expansion Act, which was passed in 1962, gives the President broad powers to bargain on tariffs. This will undoubtedly aid American business in their quest for new markets.

Of greater importance, however, it will make possible a great deal more cooperation with the Common Market.

Widely discussed and widely debated is the Administration's proposal for a cut in personal income tax early in 1963. Unquestionably, a meaningful cut would increase the spending power with a resultant boon to business. I am inclined, however, to view the long-range effect to such a cut with mixed feelings.

I AGREE on the desirable effects such a cut would have on the economy. However, I feel it should be viewed as a temporary measure which must be followed by intelligent study and revision of the overall tax structure and fiscal policies in all levels of government. It is inconceivable to me how any lasting benefit can be derived from a policy of cutting taxes and, at the same time, permitting expenditures to rise.

We, in this country, have lived too long with a two-headed monster: an illogical patch work of taxation, and a dubious philosophical concept that our government must be all things to all men. Either we surrender entirely to government, and that day of surrender is closer than many care to admit, or we regain control of government and insist on these things.

Despite the above reservations, I do feel 1963 can be a year in which the economic growth shown in the last quarter of 1961 will continue.

HOW DOES this effect Plymouth? Certainly, Plymouth is no island isolated from the rest of the country. The destinies of Plymouth are tied in just as close with the state and country as are those of any community. We must remember, however, that a prosperous country does not necessarily mean a prosperous Plymouth if we are content to merely ride on the tide generated by our more active neighbors. The country is full of many listless communities who are mute testimony to this do-nothing philosophy.

Fortunately, Plymouth is not this kind of a community. The citizens and businessmen of this community have shown in the past a desire to solve their own problems with the realization that the profits of the future accrue only to those who plan for them. It is important that we continue this philosophy if we are to continue to grow. Yesterday's scores can have no significant effect on today's game. If we are to reap the benefits of what appears to be a prosperous 1963, then we must continue and expand the efforts of years past. To achieve the objective, our efforts must be threefold: help our present business to grow; attract new business and industry; and, maintain and expand our community's assets.

I CANNOT stress too strongly that the success of 1963, indeed, of any year, rests on the shoulders of every citizen of the Plymouth Community whether you live in the Township or the City; whether your place of employment is here or elsewhere — this is your community. Its growth or lack of growth is a vital concern to all of us. Certainly, the economic health of the country affects all of us. But, like the story of the little red hen, unless we scratch for ourselves, the pickings will be pretty scarce!

Water, Sewers

primary roads, water and sewer concentration points, requirements for new schools and parks, and the ever-critical residential development potential.

The paramount factor is water and sewer. Everything will stem from these facilities. No residential, commercial or industrial centers will arise where there is neither of these services.

During 1962, Plymouth Township made significant gains on both these fronts. We completed more than 20 miles of new sanitary sewer lines during the past year and finished another 27 miles of water mains.

Similar progress must be accomplished in 1963. One of our major points of consideration during this year will be the possibility of a new bond issue in order to finance water and sewer lines along the western portion of the Township.

WHETHER we attempt the bond issue or not in 1963 is not now known. It depends on the demand for expanded facilities throughout the western side of the Township. We can't consider putting in additional water and sewer lines without sufficient users, certainly.

Meanwhile, approximately one-third of the Township now is using Detroit water, piped to us through Livonia. This, too, will be increased during 1963 as we gradually convert more fully to the Detroit supply system.

In conjunction with water and sewer expansion plans, we can't stand still with respect to new industrial tax base. While the Urban Planning study will eventually provide us with specifics on convenient industrial growth areas, we have to proceed during 1963 to encourage new industry to locate in the Township.

While no one is interested in converting the Township into an industrial community, we can't conceivably expand in other ways without the advantages of a broadened tax base. We're open for industry and we'll continue the Township's efforts to expand industrially.

THERE IS area here for continued mutual effort on the part of the Township, the City of Plymouth and the School District, through the auspices of the Industrial Development Corp.

How much our expansion will cost taxpayers is another matter. Growth, whether carefully planned and controlled or otherwise, is going to mean a tax increase, for the simple reason that growth means new homes, and new homes mean more school-age children.

This is not to say that the School District alone will require additional revenue. Our own Township's operating costs will inevitably rise, as the economy's cost of functioning gradually increases.

HOWEVER, none of this tax boost is foreseen for 1963. It is something instead that we must plan for and be ready to accept as it comes.

It is the same with growth, itself, here and elsewhere. It is certain to come, and our task in 1963 is to plan still more fully against the day when it arrives.

School Eyes

Sixties must be well-advanced. To permit the Board to establish satisfactory long-range plans for the District, it would be desirable to secure early voter approval of millages — for both operating and building-and-site funds — well in advance of the expiration of the existing millages, and perhaps as early as next fall.

The Board would, of course, solicit citizen comments and provide ample opportunity for public discussion, prior to finalizing these plans to seek voter approval.

ONE OF the principle objectives of the Board of Education in the coming year is to assure an increased public awareness of the important issues affecting the future of our schools in the Plymouth community. It was most gratifying that public recognition of the essential needs for financing education in our community finally led to a decisive margin in favor of the millage requested last summer.

The Board is determined to make information on all school developments readily available to the public, and a comprehensive report on our current situation has recently been mailed to the residents of the School District.

Since communication is a two-way street, we sincerely hope that citizens will show interest in their schools by responding to the open invitation to attend School Board meetings, curriculum reviews, and other school activities.

WITH THE support of a cooperative and enlightened citizenry, we look forward in 1963 to a New Year of increased effectiveness in the important business of educating the youth of our Plymouth community.

It's a Fact

The average American teen-age boy winks $11.30 worth of food a week. Food for his father costs $9.16, for his teen-age sister, $8.80; his mother, $7.40; his 8-year-old sister, $6.90, according to "Life" magazine.

Supermarkets have discovered that shoppers are either disorganized or have very good memories; only 1 in 4 uses a list, according to "Life" magazine.

Supermarkets represent only 12 per cent of all food stores, but they manage to get 72 per cent of America's retail grocery business, according to "Life" magazine.

About 46,400,000 Americans eat in restaurants at least once a week. They spend an average of $2.19 on dinner when they eat-out, according to "Life" magazine.

How I Earned My First Dollar

Lon E. Dickerson

Lon E. Dickerson, whose market at the corner of Liberty St. and Starkweather is a familiar shopping place for numerous residents, earned his first dollar driving a team of horses for a neighbor near Blissfield, Mich.

It actually took him four days to accumulate a paycheck amounting to a dollar, however, because he was paid only 25 cents a day. The neighbor also provided Lon, who was then about eight years old, with a meal each day.

Dickerson was born on a farm outside of Blissfield, which is located in Lenawee County. He will be 47 Feb. 7.

It was a rather lengthy route that led him over the years to his grocery business here. His task of driving a horse-drawn hay wagon for a neighboring farmer was only one of many long-ago jobs that he held.

As a youngster, he also helped his father often with carpentry work and held a job briefly with a roofing contractor. He was 18 years old when — in 1934 — he moved to Ypsilanti to live with a sister and take on his first "official" job.

It was the depths of the Depression and Lon earned $6 a week working at the Ford plant there. "I was an 18-year-old millionaire," he recalls now.

About three years later, he became a clerk at a C.F. Smith market in Ypsilanti. It was his first experience in the grocery business and he liked every bit of it.

Meanwhile, an older brother had a grocery store in Ann Arbor, and Lon worked part-time there, too. In 1939, he went back to the Ford Motor Co., however, and worked at the company's engineering department in Dearborn until the end of World War II.

In 1945, he ventured once more into the grocery business, taking a job in a small market in Ann Arbor. It was the one that his brother previously had owned, but had since sold.

Then he ventured out on his own.

He bought a combination grocery and gas station at the corner of Pontiac Trail and Joy Rd., northeast of Ann Arbor.

He prospered and on June 1, 1950, bought the former Lidgard Market at Liberty and Starkweather here. He immediately re-named the grocery "Dickerson's" and disposed of the smaller business he held on the outskirts of Ann Arbor.

He's been at the same location here in Plymouth ever since.

"I like to meet people over the counter here," he said, "and I like being my own boss." He admitted he was partially drawn to the grocery business through a brother and sister.

The brother has been in the grocery business since 1935 and the sister at one time had a small grocery store, too.

Dickerson and his wife, Maxine, have two children, a son, Lon R., 21, and a daughter, Karen Marie, who is 17 and a senior at Plymouth High. They live at 620 Simpson St.

Watch Those Envelopes !!

Now that 1963 is here, local Postmaster George Timpona has issued a reminder that effective yesterday, Jan. 1, a new minimum size envelope ruling went into effect. From now on, envelopes going through the U.S. mails must be no smaller than 3" X 4 1/4". All envelopes smaller than this in size will not be allowed to pass through the mail.

Effective Monday, Jan. 7, a new postal rate increase will go into effect, thereby boosting first class rates from four cents to five cents and airmail rates from seven cents to eight cents.

Distinguish Guest

partner in your own business. This is one of Russia's major concerns today because no one country in this age of missiles can undertake a war of any kind without active partners," he said.

"Defense weapons are merely instruments of enforcement and the great problem to be encountered are the political decisions of the future, which of course, can only be enforced if there is enough power in armament to back them up," he continued.

In answer to a question concerning Africa he had the following to say: "Africa should be helped into a pattern of living as we know it in our modern society. We should help train them to live as we do. The Soviet crash programs have been very ineffective and it is becoming more evident daily that they are losing their charms as far as the Africans are concerned," he concluded.

The program proved one of the club's most informative and members were sorry that they couldn't have an afternoon to hear, first hand, more from this informative, interesting, former Plymouthite.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichol are visiting during the holidays at the home of his mother, Mrs. Walter Nicol of Church St. The correspondent and his wife, Judy, also a correspondent for the London Times, who writes under the name Judy Barden, will be in this country several weeks visiting here and in Chicago, Washington D.C. and New York. Local readers of the Detroit Free Press frequently see syndicated articles by either of the Nichols.

Candidates

Trustee Louis Norman, whose term runs another two years.

Two Trustee seats are newly-created ones and consequently, beginning in April, the township's governing body will number seven instead of the present five members.

Also serving with the Trustees on the Township Board are the supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

The only declared candidates for those three posts are the current office-holders, Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, both incumbents, and Clerk John McEwen. He was recently appointed to fill the remainder of the two year term to which the late Fred Miller was elected in 1961. Miller died late this fall.

All candidates for Township elective posts are Republicans, with the exception of one. The exception is Maurice M. Breen, 41121 Greenbrook Lane, who filed as a Democratic candidate for justice of the peace. Two other petitioners for that vacancy are W. Lee Butler, 9493 Southworth, and Lawrence A. Schendel, 42257 Hammill Lane.

In the justice-of-the-peace race, a single 4-year term starting July 4 is to be decided.

All elective offices in the Township are partisan ones. Four men filed for the four constables vacancies, each of which consists of two-year terms. The four are: Robert Burns, 15071 Bradner; Donald King, 41151 Millcol; Louis Schomberger, 11686 Francis; Philip Truesdell, 42247 Brentwood.

Incumbent Walter K. Sumner, 30000 Plymouth, is also a candidate for justice of the peace. He is running for the Board of Review, and no candidate filed for Millington's seat as Township highway commissioner.

The three Trustees ultimately elected to office will fill two four-year terms and one two-year assignment. The trustee who garners the fewest votes will receive the two-year term.

A similar situation exists in the City, where there are four vacancies coming up on the Commission. The four men ultimately elected to serve will divide three four-year terms and a two-year term. Again, the one receiving the fewest votes will take on the shortest assignment, that of two years.

Every year the average American eats, among other things, 8 1/2 pounds of cheese, 7 pounds of butter, 161 pounds of red meat, 9 1/2 pounds of breakfast cereal, 44 1/2 pounds of frozen food, and drinks 130 quarts of milk, according to "Life" magazine.

Resolved:
...to promote even better relations with customers during the coming year.

Clinic Seeks

Clyde and Mrs. Ruth Munshaw. Dr. Covington indicated that several others in Plymouth are backing the project, too.

He indicated that suburban police officers would conceivably endorse the program, since one of the objects of a guidance clinic of this nature is to counsel disturbed children so that they may avoid possible encounters with law enforcement authorities.

The 25-cents-per-child goal, according to Dr. Covington, would furnish an additional clinical team for the treatment of children in the western Wayne County area.

The team would consist of three psychiatric social workers, a clinical psychologist and the supervision of a child psychiatrist from Children's Center in Detroit.

The clinic would be established as a branch of the Children's Center.

A news release from the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic states that educators from the 19 school districts concerned have reported that 900 children could be referred to such a clinic this year — if the additional facilities were available.

Present child guidance facilities require that most children wait about one year until they receive treatment for emotional problems, the news release said.

Dr. Covington said that the request for funds is hoped to be placed on the regular agenda for the Plymouth School Board's Jan. 14 meeting.

He said that local persons interested in working to develop the branch clinic may contact him or call LO 1-3800.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

Our annual frantic, frenzied attempt to ply everyone with gifts has become a matter for historical record. Time now to worry about building up that bank account for the tons of bills soon to shower down in true blizzard fashion.

Christmas time, waxing cynical for a moment, is when you go out in cold, nasty weather to spend money you really don't have on presents for many people who don't really want them. Oh, well, we have fifty-one weeks to refurbish our flagging Yule spirits.

Speaking of polishing and renovating, have you noted the change that has taken place in the State Theater in Wayne? The management decided "it was time for a change", and so, the old seats were ripped out, the lobby was re-done, and the mechanical equipment was completely renovated.

Now you can sit back in new, luxurious seats, listen to the latest sound equipment on a brilliant new screen. Last week's bill had Elvis Presley banging his guitar and shouting luscious lyrics at a bevy of beauties in the exciting movie, "Girls, Girls, Girls".

Movie houses across the nation are in the process of becoming more attractive. The competition of the all-year round Drive-Ins has forced many a neighborhood "hard-top" to take a closer look at its weak points. Movie patrons want to be treated a bit on the royal side.

You have to offer the public a little something "extra" to get them away from their own small home movie screen that blinks out the "old movies" on the 17 inch TV screen. With 17,000 movie houses in the United States striving to hold their own against the tentacles of that "talking box" in the living room, it's no wonder that many movie exhibitors are finally realizing their houses must be made more attractive. The Fisher Theater in Detroit, the State Theater in Wayne are two examples of this trend.

Old George is certain that more theaters in the area will soon realize that such "fixing-up" can mean increased business at the box office. Incidentally, the global growth of movie theaters has been quite phenomenal. In 1948, we had 79,000 movie houses world-wide. By 1962, this number had grown to 154,000. Far away places such as India, Japan, and China account for the tremendous growth of motion picture theaters. It's hard to believe, but India far outstrips Hollywood in yearly production of films for its vast audiences.

Hollywood has already conceded that, unless a picture does an outstanding job in the world market, the difference between profit and loss is almost immediate. A picture like "Ben Hur" with its world appeal cost 13 million to make but has already grossed in the world market some 57 millions. Metro has such high hopes for "Mutiny On The Bounty" whose final cost hit 20 million.

The living theater will never hit grosses of such gigantic proportions, but with the many little theater "groups" in existence throughout the world, I'm positive that stage presentations are affecting the lives of as many patrons.

Locally, the JayCees are getting into high gear with the appointment of JayCee Ron Coosia as the chairman for the March 1 "big show". Ron is meeting presently with Bob Wall, who has directed "Wake Up, Darling" and "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" for the Plymouth Theater Guild, to decide on full committee responsibilities for the coming production.

The JayCees over the years have built a solid reputation for smash hits. Starting with "It's a Blast" in 1961 and "Do You Remember" in 1962 the audiences have been pleasantly surprised at the professional polish of the presentations. The 1963 edition promises to be as much fun to those JayCee bargain prices.

The long-awaited "Camelot" unfurls its banners and lowers the bridge across the moat at the Fisher Theater on Tuesday, Jan. 8. Robert Goulet has been replaced by William Squires and Kathryn Grayson has taken over the feminine lead, but let's face it, the gorgeous settings, the liting music, and the entrancing dancing will still be in the products.

Audiences have been charmed by this Lerner-Lowe musical comedy for the past two years in New York. It's about time we get a view out our way. "Camelot" will be at the Fisher for seven weeks.

The Vanguard has another delightful smash on its busy hands. The box office finds its phone tinkling madly with requests for seats after the glorious opening last week. David Atkinson was in fine voice as he so graciously intoned the pleasant melodies of "The Fantasticks".

And Virginia Wing stopped the show on several occasions. You will have only four weeks to catch this latest Vanguard triumph. Old George predicts that "Fantasticks" will have even more appeal than the earlier Vanguard success, "Three Penny Opera".

If you find tickets difficult to purchase for the Vanguard's presentation of "Fantasticks", look to the West and the hills of Ann Arbor. Robert Schnitzer reports that the Professional Theater Program is having the pleasure of presenting the same company that is now in its fourth year of off-Broadway doing the "Fantasticks" at the Trueblood Auditorium. The entire cast, crew and director is being air-lifted to Ann Arbor for this special one week engagement, Tuesday, Jan. 15 through Sunday, Jan. 20.

The largest cheese ever recorded was a 5-ton, 615 pound cheddar made with the milk of 6,000 cows in Flint, Mich. in 1957. The largest cake-in history was baked this year in Las Vegas, Nev. It weighed 11,338 pounds, required 60 pounds of baking powder, served 55,000 people. But the largest dish prepared regularly anywhere in the world is eaten by Bedouin tribesmen at wedding feasts. It consists of 1 white camel stuffed with 1 sheep that has been stuffed with several chickens, each stuffed with fish that have been stuffed with eggs, according to "Life" magazine.

Attends 3-Day Meeting Of Jehovah's Witnesses

Thomas Bloxom, 662 Adams Street, recently attended a three-day Bible convention at Ann Arbor High School sponsored by the Watchtower Bible Society of Brooklyn, New York.

The occasion was the winter Circuit Assembly of Michigan circuit 8 of Jehovah's Witnesses. Despite inclement weather more than 1,000 persons were present for the feature of the event, a lecture by Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., on the subject of "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival".

Kovalak is district supervisor of Witness' activity in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Bloxom quoted Kovalak as saying, "Go where you will in this world and you will find that the problem of survival confronts all mankind. Most are concerned only with the daily necessities of life. Some look beyond these to the threats of nuclear war, CBR warfare, atomic fall-out and population explosion. A few even look beyond this to the threat to survival that is posed by the impending battle of Armageddon described in the Bible".

Bloxom denied that Jehovah's Witnesses are preachers of doom and he used Kovalak's concluding words in proof of the hope that they convey. Said Kovalak, "But God's Word the Bible alone has the answer for survival. Read it! Study it and apply it in your life now. Jehovah's Witnesses have a free home

Our annual frantic frenzied attempt to ply everyone with gifts has become a matter for historical record. Time to worry about building up that bank account for the tons of bills soon to shower down in true blizzard fashion.

Christmas time, waxing cynical for a moment, is when you go out in cold, nasty weather to spend money you really don't have on presents for many people who don't really want them. Oh, well, we have fifty-one weeks to refurbish our flagging Yule spirits.

Speaking of polishing and renovating, have you noted the change that has taken place in the State Theater in Wayne? The management decided "it was time for a change", and so the old seats were ripped out, the lobby was re-done, and the mechanical equipment was completely renovated.

Now you can sit back in new, luxurious seats, listen to the latest sound equipment on a brilliant new screen. Last week's bill had Elvis Presley banging his guitar and shouting luscious lyrics at a bevy of beauties in the exciting movie, "Girls, Girls, Girls".

Movie houses across the nation are in the process of becoming more attractive. The competition of the all-year round Drive-Ins has forced many a neighborhood "hard-top" to take a closer look at its weak points. Movie patrons want to be treated a bit on the royal side.

You have to offer the public a little something "extra" to get them away from their own small home movie screen the many little theater groups in existence throughout the world. It is positive that stage presentations are affecting the lives of as many patrons.

Locally the JayCees are getting into high gear with the appointment of JayCee Ron Coons as the chairman for the March 1 "Big Show". Ron is meeting presently with Bob Wall, who has directed "Wake Up, Darling" and "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker" for the Plymouth Theater Guild, to decide on full committee responsibilities for the coming production.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Totzke

JULIE STECKER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anstin George Stecker, of 45455 N. Territorial Rd., became the bride of Donald Harvey Totzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Totzke, of St. Joseph, in a double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Plymouth, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22.

Julie Stecker, Donald Totzke Repeat Vows

Before an Altar decorated with two bouquets, Altar candles, candelabras, and a large wreath, trimmed with white berries, Miss Julie Stecker became the bride of Donald Harvey Totzke, in a double ring ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church, Plymouth, on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 22.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin G. Stecker, of 45455 N. Territorial Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Totzke of St. Joseph, Mich.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional floor length gown of white tulle, tulle, and tulle, with a scalloped, shallow scoop neckline, basque waistline, featuring a large back bow, and long, tapered sleeves, pointed at the wrist and a chapel train. Her skirt was highlighted by a princess front panel with side and back fullness. A petal cap of taffeta and Alençon lace held her bouffant fingertip veil in place. She carried a white prayer book, covered with a cascade of white orchids.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister Mrs. Eric Caplin, of Plymouth, who wore a frock of light gold and white brocade and carried a cascade bouquet of Yuletide and Garnet roses.

Miss Janet Toepel, of Grosse Pointe Woods, and Mrs. Suzanne Robertson and Miss Caroline North, of Plymouth, bridesmaids, wore gowns of moss green brocade, fashioned with a round neckline, cap sleeves and a slanted bow in the back. They carried colonial bouquets of Yuletide and Garnet roses.

Serving his brother as best man, was SSG Duane Totzke, and Robert Totzke, brother of the bridegroom, William Wash, and Robert Lennon, of St. Joseph, and William and Robert Bake, cousins of the bride, of Northville, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stecker chose a Dior blue sheath, featuring a lace bodice and jacket, and matching accessories. Mrs. Totzke wore a two-piece, cocoa brown sheath with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Skyline Room for 200 guests from Plymouth, Northville, St. Joseph, Grosse Pointe Woods, Ann Arbor, Galesburg, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Alhambra, Lathrup Village, Okemos, Niles, East Lansing, Royal Oak, Wayne, Saginaw, Chicago, and Albuquerque.

When the couple left on their wedding trip through lower Michigan, the new Mrs. Totzke wore a two-piece red mohair suit with navy blue trim and navy blue accessories. They will make their home at 922 G. Cherry Lane, East Lansing, where they will

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

Mrs. James Garber and sons, Ralph and Jimmy

For a new taste treat that is sure to delight your guests after an evening of card playing or just chat Mrs. James Garber, of 42269 Hammill Lane, suggested our readers try her recipe for "Jan's Temptation". When not caring for her two sons, Ralph, a kindergarten at Therran School, and two-year-old Jimmy, Mrs. Garber is busy with her duties as president of the Plymouth Newcomers Club or attending meetings of Plymouth City Panhellenic, Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Therran School PTA, or singing in the Presbyterian choir. In leisure moments she likes to bowl, knit, dabble in art or help her father, who is Swedish Consul of Michigan, translate Swedish to English. Mrs. Garber moved to the U.S. in 1950 from her home in Sweden. The recipe for "Jan's Temptation" was culled from a cookbook used by Mrs. Garber while she was in school in Sweden. When

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

In this modern age of giant canvases it is a surprise, at first, to find so many small paintings at the Van Gogh Show at the Detroit Institute of Art. The largest painting, the famous and often reproduced, Potato Eaters, is only 32 1/2 inches high and 45 inches wide, a small painting in comparison to the 8 x 7 foot monsters so prevalent in current exhibitions. And conditioned as we are to abstract expressionism in strong primary colors it is a surprise and delight to find Van Gogh's little gems in harmonious monochromatic or analogous color schemes. His early paintings, in fact, are in dark, brooding colors, without the frenetic textural strokes so characteristic of his last works. These paintings, done in Nuenen from 1883-1885, are somewhat reminiscent of Rembrandt's somber, flowing tones. As Van Gogh grew in dedication to his art, his colors became more intense and his textural strokes more emphatic, so that his latest paintings are almost sculptural in thickness of paint, the composition dictated by dramatic directional patterns of broad strokes of color. Van Gogh painted about what he felt, rather than about what he saw, and sometimes he used dramatic foreshortening or distortion to heighten the emotional effect of his feelings. It is interesting then to see, in his drawings, that he could be very realistic when he wanted to be. Draughtsmanship and perspective are both in evidence, though his drawings show the same swift, vigorous calligraphy that became a part of his later paintings. It is difficult to believe that such drawings were ever considered inadequate, but his biography recounts that he was once sent back to a preparatory class in drawing by a professor of art in Antwerp. Even art teachers, it seems, can sometimes be blind. His pencil portraits are executed with economy of line, with expressive shading, and bring out the essential character of the individual under study. The overall impression of the works on display is of a man who loved simple people, everyday objects, and quiet, undramatic views. To all of these Van Gogh added his own kind of drama. The working people with whom he identified he bathed in a glow of human dignity. His own old, broken shoes, are a picture of pathos. Quiet fields imbued with a sense of vital growing; the trees with the grain bursts from the red soil in its eagerness to reach the golden sun, clouds spin in a dancing orbit. Soon to leave the Detroit Institute of Arts, this exhibit will make one more appearance in the United States, at Kansas City, Missouri, before returning to permanent placement in a new museum being specially built in Holland. It is a very popular attraction. Detroiters in the hundreds are paying the admission fee for the privilege of seeing these important paintings in the original. The show will leave for Missouri on January 27, 1963. Admission is $1. for adults, 50 cents for college students, 25 cents for high school and younger children. The automatic Lectour device proved quite inadequate.

Local Dentist Seems to Attract Sleepy Raccoon

Dr. William Covington, local dentist, was starting to wonder this week if he held a strange attraction for raccoons.

A couple of months ago, Dr. Covington arose one morning, was about to leave for his office and spotted a raccoon snoozing on the sidewalk in front of his home at 417 Evergreen.

After considerable excitement throughout the neighborhood, a Wayne County conservation officer came by, put the raccoon in a cage and took it away after announcing that the animal was blind.

Monday morning about 8 a.m., Dr. Covington reached his office at 376 South Harvey and promptly spied another raccoon asleep in the back yard of his office property.

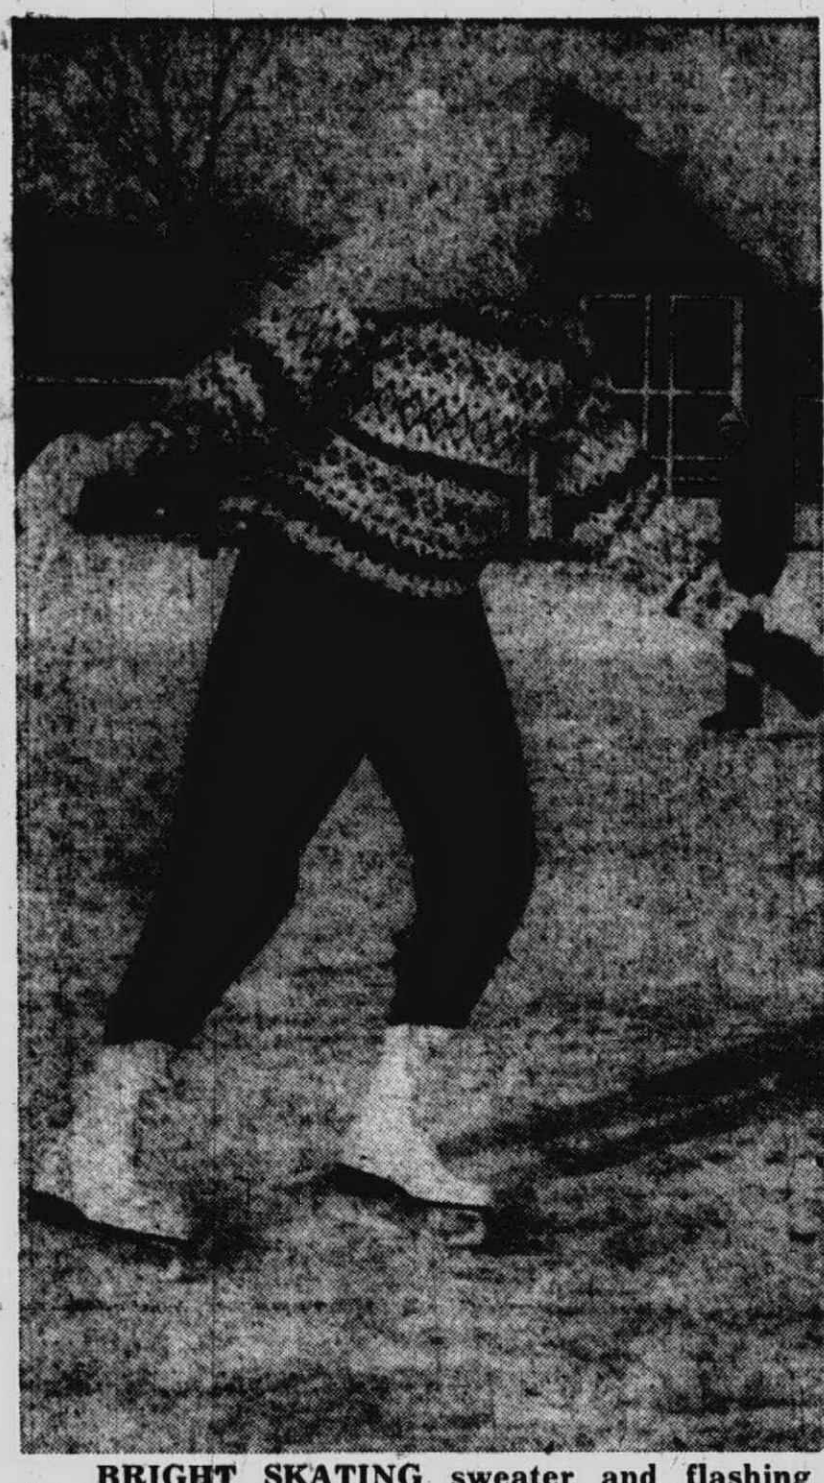

This time, City police handled the situation and were forced to kill the animal. Instead of using a service revolver, however, they obtained a .22 rifle so as not to disturb the neighbors.

Dr. Covington, understandably, was wondering when the next sleeping raccoon would put in its appearance...and where.

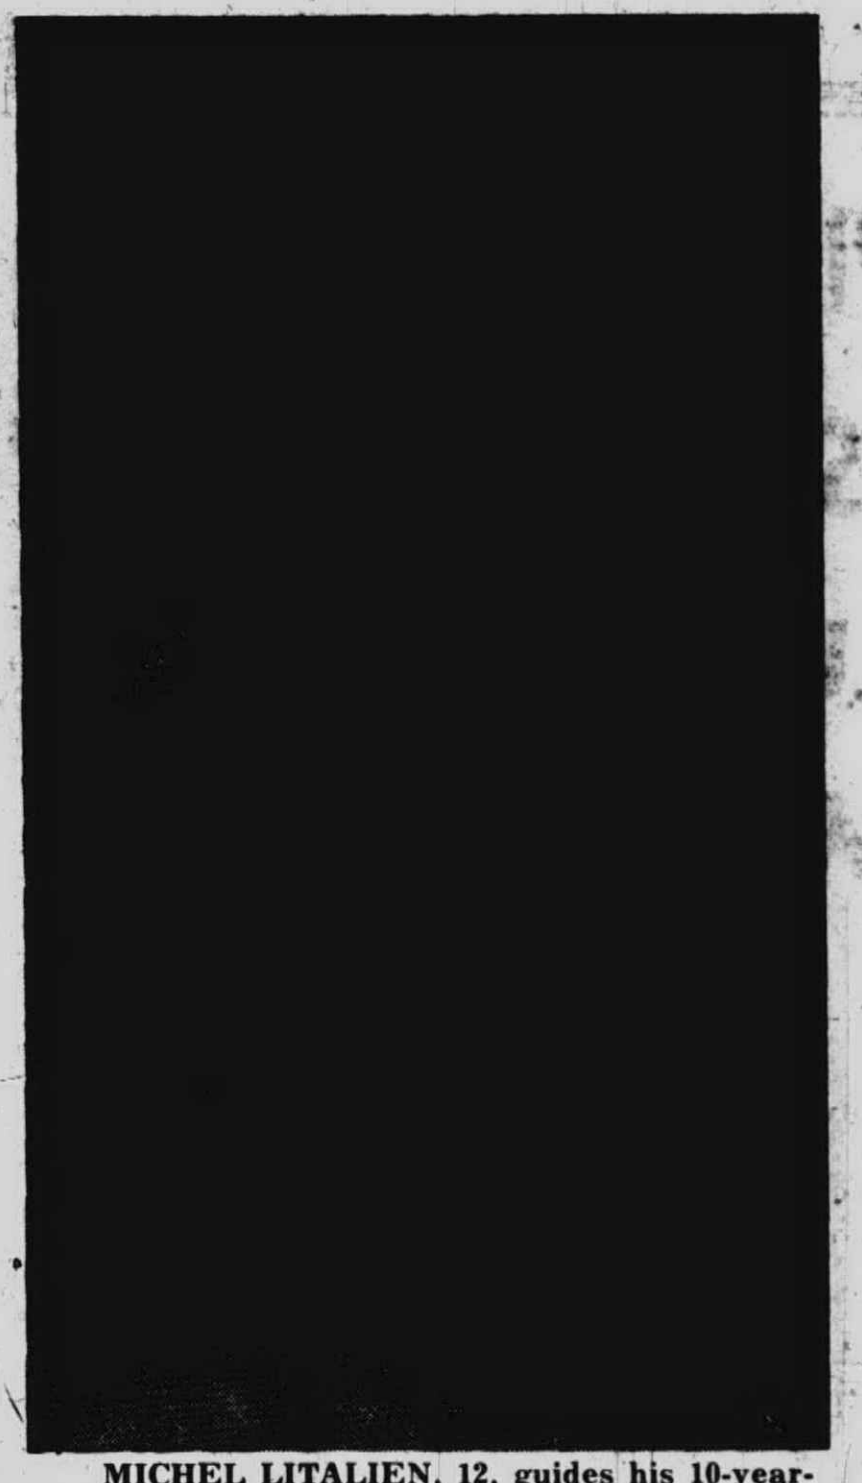

'Ice'-Say, Skating's Fun at Wilcox Pond!

A FRIENDLY WINTER sun and plenty of ice brought skaters out in throngs much of last week to the pond at Wilcox Lake. Youngsters, who were enjoying holiday vacation from school, even brought along their parents to take part in the fun. Here, Cameron Dostie, 41134 Russet Lane, laughs as his 4-year-old daughter Susan declines to help him up after he and the photographer had staged this scene.

BRIGHT SKATING sweater and flashing figure skates made Linda Cenko, 11, of 42011 Clemons, a stand-out among the many skaters at Wilcox Pond. Here, she attempts a careful turn. She was skating with a close friend, Bernadette Regan, 12, of Farmington. At one time, there were an estimated 300 skaters at the pond.

MICHEL LITALIEN, 12, guides his 10-year-old brother Rene through a tricky skating maneuver. While Michel wore only ordinary gloves, Rene preferred heavy hockey gloves although the temperature was in the high twenties. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Yvon Litalien, who live at 433 Provincetown Lane, Plymouth.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS-AT-HEART
 BY MELVIN L. WOELL, MGR
 INFORMATION DIVISION
 MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

The winter season brings with it heavy use of electricity, tied to heating systems, and often to new machinery and appliances that enter the home during Christmas. Winter is a season of heavy tool usage on most farms and in home basement workshops.

All these reasons for more electrical flow around the farm and in the home, add up to a high danger potential for those who carelessly overload or abuse wire circuits.

Noting that three of the fastest growing consumer products in the United States during the past dozen years have been air conditioners, television sets, and clothes driers, — and that all of these are electrically powered, offices of the Michigan Farm Bureau have resolved to remind farmers and the general public about these seasonal hazards.

Further, the Farm Bureau officials have found that the consumer products closest rival to the top three is the use of electricity itself. Electricity for use in residences has shown a 272 per cent gain during a twelve-year period.

Although most modern homes are equipped with heavier wiring in keeping with the growing trend toward electrically powered appliances, older homes and farm buildings frequently are dangerously overloaded.

Farm Bureau cautions against this misuse, pointing out that electricity can be very dangerous if not properly handled. As equipment increases, so must safety knowledge if electrical tragedy is to be avoided.

Among safety suggestions are these: Always place air conditioners and heavy-duty appliances on a single circuit.

Always disconnect electrical appliances when not in use, but never plug or unplug them with hands that are wet.

Refuse to tolerate a frayed cord.

Teach children about electrical dangers.

Safety Director Issues Winter Driving Advice

A variable and uncertain caused by snow-covered pavement is a leading factor in wintertime traffic mishaps, cautioned Plymouth's director of public safety Kenneth Fisher this week.

He urged drivers to exercise special care at all times, and especially during — and immediately following — each snowfall.

"Just because you seem to be able to chug right along on a neighborhood street, don't assume that a well-traveled through street will give you the same kind of footing," he said. "It may surprise you and just because the footing seems pretty fair in mid-block, don't assume you'll find it the same at the next intersection."

Fisher pointed out a large accident "spot-map" with small clusters of colored pins located at well-traveled intersections.

"Places like these should be approached at reduced speed," he warned. "It's an unpleasant feeling to hit the brake and then discover there's nothing for your tires to get a grip on. To skid through a stop sign or stop signal, or to shoot straight ahead when you're trying your best to turn, is a bad experience at best."

He had another word of advice: "Test drivers have found that if you pump your brakes rapidly you have straighter stops and better steering control on slippery surfaces."

"This process has the secondary advantage of flashing your brake lights at the driver behind you. Then he can stop with ease, too. Bearing down hard on the brake pedal only locks your wheels and sometimes makes matters worse."

Escapes Injury In Auto Mishap

Jerry Helmer, 22, of 15812 Maxwell St., escaped injury Christmas Eve when the car he was driving was involved in a three car collision in Livonia.

While none of the other drivers was injured either, damage to all three autos was termed "considerable." Helmer said that damages to his car amounted to $500.
