Commission Learns New Facts on Water

Credit Union Sponsors Plymouth Band Concerts

Band music lovers of Plymouth and surrounding areas are assured of weekly concerts throughout the summer months and a minimum of four performances during the fall, winter and spring in future years.

The assurance was given a few days ago when the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union voted unanimously to sponsor the Plymouth Community Band in all activities.

The action, taken as another way of showing its interest in community affairs and for things the board feels will benefit Plymouth and neighboring suburbs, came after Credit Union officials learned the band had taken out incorporation papers as the Plymouth Community Band Inc. with the State of Michigan.

The action also means the band will be able to continue without having to appeal to civic, service and business groups for financial aid. Last summer band members went to the Chamber of Commerce, businessmen, the Plymouth City Commission, the Plymouth Community School District Trustees for donations.

This year, members decided to incorporate and thus become eligible to apply for assistance from the Plymouth Community Fund among other organizations. However, until the Credit Union Board acted, the musicians were faced with the task of making the rounds again in search of funds for operation throughout the winter and summer.

"Our board felt that this would be a small way of showing our gratitude to the community for the manner in which it has supported our institution," said Executive Manager and Treasurer George Lawton.

"We felt the summer and winter band concerts were a part of Plymouth's community life that should be carried on without constant economic concern. We believe the residents of Plymouth genuinely like the band concerts and we know that the musicians love to perform. Therefore, we in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union decided to make this contribution to the community and to the life of Plymouthites."

Lawton indicated that Board members were assured by the officers of the band that the organization would continue its concerts if sponsored and that assurance directly led to the favorable decision.

The band plans a series of eight summer programs in Kellogg Park and has agreed to participate in the July 4 parade and the traditional Fall Festival, that has blossomed into one of the community's major events.

The Credit Union Board includes: Dr. A. E. Van Ornum, president; Urey Arnold, vice president; Margaret Dunning, secretary; Lawton and directors Harold Guenther, Lavena Hoffman, Clarence Moore, James Thornton and Kenneth Way.

Officers of the newly incorporated band are: Keith Burton, president; Judy Leavenworth, secretary; William Edgar, business manager and treasurer; Richard Larkin, chairman in charge of publicity; James Griffith, Plymouth High School band director, will continue in that capacity with the Community Band.

It was just three years ago that eight musicians from the

Plan Year-Round Use Of College

Year round use of the facilities with classes on a 12-month basis and few breaks between semesters for holidays and vacation periods.

That's the calendar for the Northwest Wayne County Community College adopted by the Board of Trustees after considerable study by the board and the college staff.

The Board, acting on the premise that the college, which will open its doors in Sept. 1964, should serve the residents of the college district throughout the year, accepted the calendar.

The college district includes Livonia, Garden City, Plymouth and Clarenceville.

The calendar calls for two full semesters followed by two summer school sessions of eight weeks each. A summer session would be the equivalent of one-half a semester.

In order to make the schedule as attractive as possible and still take care of a maximum number of students, classes will start late in August with the first semester ending in December, the second starting in January and ending in April and the summer sessions starting in May and late June.

The calendar is set up in such a manner that students may progress as rapidly as they wish. They may follow the traditional pattern and attend two semesters each year and complete the two-year course in that length of time.

Or they may elect to attend throughout the year and thus could complete the course in a year and a third, receiving a two-year diploma in January of their second year in college. Thus they would be eligible to transfer to a four-year college or university as a junior.

"This type of calendar will enable the college to accept students four times each year," said Dr. Eric Bradner, College President, in explaining the schedule.

"Registrations will be accepted in August, January, May and June. By ending the second semester in late April, we will be able to enroll high school graduates who receive their diplomas in May and June. They can accelerate their col-

Locks Horns With Remus In Talks

Plymouth's City Commissioners as a group for the first time Monday night had a face-to-face encounter with the head of the Detroit Water Department in an informal meeting and at the conclusion a spokesman said:

"We've heard new information tonight, and some facts were presented differently than we've heard them before. There'll be no decision made until a really intelligent study of the whole subject is completed . . . and we've hardly scratched the surface up to now."

Mayor Robert Sincok and Commissioner James Houk, among others, after the meeting said, "our minds aren't closed to the idea of Detroit water coming to Plymouth—far from it . . . the subject is wide open, pending much more research."

They said part of the "study" would be personal interviews with the big industrial and business consumers of Plymouth water.

Gerald Remus, general manager of the Detroit Water Board, appeared before the Commission upon invitation of Paul Chandler, publisher of The Observer and the local State Representative.

Chandler had been told that the Commission wanted to discuss the water problem with him, and he said "only Mr. Remus can give the information he has, and offer his own views, so he's here to provide anything you might want."

Remus and the Commission were at complete odds over the proposed new reservoir.

Sincok and Commissioner Marvin Terry pointed out that the Commission had studied the need for a reservoir long before the question of Detroit water arose and that the members were on record for completing it because they felt the City must have it to maintain proper pressure.

Remus countered with a statement that he didn't feel the tank would operate efficiently or economically and that the Water Board and the City Commission should work together on a plan for mutual benefit.

"There is much merit for one water system for an area," he said, "Plymouth will have to face this fact sometime, it is inevitable, and that time may come sooner than you would believe."

"Inasmuch as the Water Board is committed by contract to supply water to this area, we would like to have the help of Plymouth to get off the hook—either by signing up for water or supplying the Sheldon Road area and giving us a chance to get out of the contract. The last is something we don't feel that we will be able to do."

The Commissioners and Remus clashed sharply a second time when he mentioned a price of $40,000 for the proposed reservoir site. It was pointed out rather strongly that the cost was $2,000 per acre for three acres.

EXTOLLING the features of a pair of shoes to a feminine customer is Plymouth City Commissioner James Houk, owner and partner in the three Fisher Shoe stores in Plymouth, Detroit and Royal Oak.

Houk Remembers Depression Days

The past 20 years as a businessman and resident of Plymouth have been happy and prosperous for James Houk, freshman member of the City Commission and owner-partner in three Fisher Shoe stores located in Plymouth, Detroit and Royal Oak.

But there was a time after graduation from high school in 1928 and during the crash depression days of the 30s when Houk didn't know where his next meal was coming from.

Those were the days when the farm boy from Hoagland, Ind. was trying desperately to get a start in Fort Wayne, Ind. when he toiled as a dishwasher for 12 hours daily, six days a week for which he received his meals and $18 a week.

The times when he had a multitude of jobs over a three-year period that found him working for a wholesale grocery firm, and an elevator operator in a Fort Wayne bank and as an office worker for a radio corporation until the day the federal government moved in, padlocked the front door and declared the company bankrupt.

Those were hectic times for the youngster who was born on a farm in Hoagland, received his early education in Auburn, Ind., where his father, Charles and an uncle, Louis, operated a shoe store for six years.

Then grandfather Houk died and the boys returned to Hoagland to take over the farm. Thus young Jim completed elementary school there, took three years of high school in Decatur, Ind., and then returned to Hoagland to a new high school for his senior year and graduation in 1928.

After two years of hopping from one job to another, Jim finally took a position with the Grace Construction Co. working on highways between Milan, Saline and Ann Arbor on the then new U. S. 24. He did every possible kind of work, driving truck, pouring concrete, digging foundations and generally serving as a laborer.

But the job also brought romance into the life of Jim who courted Elowene Tower of Saline for almost two years before popping the question and taking her as his wife shortly afterward.

Things were still rough for the newlyweds for this was during the early days of the depression and jobs were even scarcer than in the late 20s.

Jim and his wife moved back to Fort Wayne where he was an insurance agent and salesman for a year for Commonwealth Insurance. Then in the fall of 1931, he took his first job as a shoe salesman—with the Mack and Co. store in Ann Arbor.

"Those were really rough days," recalls Houk, "I started on a small salary and then, after two months, came the bank holiday and I lost my salaried job and went on straight commission. I still have one of my weekly pay vouchers for $5.62."

In 1934, Houk joined the staff of the Automobile Club of Michigan in Ypsilanti and then transferred to Plymouth a short time later where he had been promised the job of branch manager.

Then came an opportunity to join the J. C. Penney Co. in Springfield, O. as manager of the shoe department with additional training for the post of assistant store manager.

But shortly afterward came the break that was to mean all the difference in the world for the Houks.

Blake Fisher, who had operated a shoe repair shop in conjunction with the Willoughby Store, had to start his own place when the Willoughby site was burned out in 1940.

Fisher decided to add a retail shoe department in addition to the repair business and made a special trip to Springfield to induce Houk to take over the retailing end.

That was the start of a partnership that lasted for 17 years until 1960 when ill health forced Fisher to retire.

Jim and his wife reside at 346 Irvin. He was a charter member of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club and active in the First Baptist Church.

Jim served for 10 years with the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts, was a member of the city's charter commission and has been active in Red Cross work for more than 15 years.

The Houks are the parents of two children, Mrs. Jane Lane, 601 Auburn, Plymouth, and James, Jr., who is taking graduate work in the field of human electronics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

FACTS and OPINIONS

by Paul Chandler

Gerald Remus, the boss of the Detroit water system, made a personal appearance before the Plymouth City Commission Monday night and when the 45 minutes were done, there was agreement that the subject at hand is far from fully explored.

To which, this reporter adds, amen. That exactly was the contention when we rang an alarm button on The Observer front page a couple of weeks ago.

If it appeared then that the Commission was plunging into a far-sweeping decision too quickly, and before all the facts were on the table, that isn't the case as of this morning.

The subject is whether the City of Plymouth should sign a contract and bring Detroit's soft water into the City lines, or whether to continue to pull its own hard water from underground wells.

"We don't know the answer right now, and won't until we have a lot more information," two different Commissioners declared after Monday's session. "Many new factors came into the picture even tonight."

Facts and Opinions suggests that two thoughts be foremost: (1) The complete actual costs of both plans, hidden and obvious should be carefully and accurately determined and furnished the public; (2) Analysis must be made of what it would mean to the general Plymouth retail and business community — and the low tax base — if Detroit water is brought in from northern Livonia and from Canton to open up for development those massive acres all around the Plymouth exterior.

This decision will be the most far-reaching any Plymouth Commission is likely to make for generations.

Recently the Editor wrote to the U. S. Army suggesting that a proposed new training Armory be located near the new Community College at Seven Mile and Haggerty roads.

It would be a good placing of a facility which will contain rooms for public meetings, dances—and it could even be adaptable to use by the college students for their physical training. At present, the College does not have funds of its own to build a gymnasium.

The Army has been seeking a location in the general Livonia-Redford area, but has not found it yet.

Following is a letter from the U. S. Army in response to the Editor's suggestion:

Dear Mr. Chandler:
This headquarters is in receipt of your letter addressed to R. S. Manning, Engineer, regarding the available land in close proximity to the new Community College. At this time no final selection for the site of the USAR Center can be made. However, the location that you propose will be given consideration along with others that have been offered.

Although the US Army encourages the use of Reserve Center by local civic and non-profit organizations, Army regulations limit and define their usage. I am mentioning this, since in all cases it is not possible to provide the community with the exact usage of the Center that they would like to have.

Our representatives in Detroit, Michigan have been instructed to investigate this site toward its inclusion and consideration and will undoubtedly contact you in the near future.

Your interest in the furtherance of the Reserve Program is most gratifying and I wish to thank you for the time that you have taken to inform us of this tract and its availability.

Very truly yours,

Plymouth to Pick Up Christmas Trees With Rubbish Collection At Regular Times

Christmas trees will be picked up in the City of Plymouth with the regular rubbish and garbage collection. That was the announcement Tuesday by Department of Public Works Supt. Joe Bida.

However, Bida indicated that the city will make the rounds early next week for any trees that may not have been put out in time for this week's collection. He warned that the trees must be placed in the spot as the rubbish or they would not be removed.

Frank Palmer Turns In Resignation

Jack Clayton Named GM For Calhoun Ford Agency

Jack Clayton, who operated a used car business in Wayne for several years and formerly served as sales manager for the Jack Selle Buick agency on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth, is the new general manager of the Leo Calhoun Ford agency, which took over the Paul Wiedman agency, at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and S. Main on Jan. 1.

Clayton assumed his new duties Saturday following the resignation of Frank Palmer, longtime general manager for Wiedman and one of the Plymouth's outstanding leaders in the Community Fund drive, Chamber of Commerce and civic and service affairs.

Clayton has been in the automobile business for 14 years, serving with Selle, Paul Mc-

Gione Chevrolet, Stu Evans and Mulligan in the past. He has been associated with Calhoun for several years and took over immediately when Palmer announced his intentions of leaving.

LEO CALHOUN

Calhoun, the new owner of the agency, has been in the automotive business since his graduation from the University of Michigan in 1949 where he received a B.A. degree.

JACK CLAYTON

He was associated with the Chrysler Corporation for five years, Lincoln-Mercury division of Ford Motor Co. for six, served as manager of the Stu Evans Lincoln-Mercury agency in Wayne and was general manager of the Mulligan Lincoln-Mercury dealership in Dearborn for several years.

A graduate of Port Huron High School, Calhoun was a football teammate of former Gov. John B. Swainson. He is a member of the University Club of Detroit, the U of M Club of Detroit and the Wash-taw Country Club.

He and his wife, Joan, and children, Catherine, 8, and Leo Jr., 7, reside in Wayne but plan to move to Plymouth as soon as they find a suitable home.

Ask 1965 Vote On Proposal

Board Would Pick Supervisor

Plymouth's City Commission Monday took action to have the City's representative on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors appointed by the Commission instead of being elected as in the past.

The resolution was introduced by Commissioner Carl Shear who indicated he thought the City's Supervisor should be a member of the Board and thus sit in on all meetings.

Under the present plan, the Supervisor is elected for a four-year term — Arch Vallier, the present supervisor, will serve until 1965 — but is not a member of the Commission and thus not required to attend meetings. The resolution adopted Monday will place the issue on the ballot in 1965 prior to the spring election. Thus the electorate will have an opportunity to decide whether the supervisor should be selected by poll or appointed by the Commission.

In other actions, the Commission: Gave the Plymouth-Northville Council of Boy Scouts permission to use Kellogg Park during the week of Feb. 7-13 as part of the observance of Boy Scout Week.

Passed a resolution requesting Detroit Edison to turn lights in the downtown business section on earlier during the winter months. Approved the name of Industrial Drive for a street in the Industrial Park on Plymouth Road.

Gave first reading to a proposed ordinance to amend Zoning Ordinance No. 182. Approved reappointment of John McLaren to a term on the Board of Review expiring January 1966 and named George Lawton to fill a vacancy expiring January 1965.

Reappointed Robert Gilles and James Green to the Board of Electrical Examiners for terms ending on January 1, 1963.

Jehovah's Witnesses Begin Special Meetings

Special meetings, a ministerial program, and field work will mark an intense week of activity for the North Livonia congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses beginning Jan. 14 through Jan. 20.

Sunday, Jan. 20 on the subject "Is it God's Will That Men Suffer and Die?" Meetings will be held at 27484 Ann Arbor Trail near Inkster Road.

A special representative of the international Watchtower Bible and Tract Society H. S. Sawalich will be making an exceptional visit to the congregation to provide them opportunity to share in the benefits of a world-wide preaching fellowship, according to an announcement by D. N. Hoffman the Presiding Overseer of the Livonia group.

"The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society is considered to be the largest and fastest growing Bible society in the world today having branches in 189 far flung posts in every part of the earth including strenuous activities behind the Iron Curtain," reports Mr. Hoffman.

Mr. Sawalich has spent many years in teaching and missionary work and is a graduate of the internationally acclaimed Watchtower Bible School of Gilead.

The theme of the special visit will be "Spreading the Word of Life" and will emphasize the importance of the personal witness of the Christian for his faith. The activities will be highlighted by a public talk on

Mother's Club Gives Check To Association

Redford Association for Retarded Children received a check from the Stuckey School Mothers Club for 56 dollars earned from their recent minstrel show given at the school. They also received 100 dollars from the Kiwanis Club; 70 dollars from the Optimist Club and 60 dollars from the office of Treasurer of Redford Township John Bennett.

The Student Council from Lola Valley Jr. High School was also given a vote of appreciation for their wonderful toys they brought for the Christmas party given to the children at the Happy Horizon Training Center located at 18499 Beech Road.

"Escape to Egypt" the second of 12 full-color motion pictures covering life of Christ is to be shown Sunday, Jan. 13 at 7 p.m. in the Southfield Community Church 21122 Indian street (between Beech and Inkster, north of Eight Mile) according to Pastor Bayne. The film reverently portrays why Joseph remained in Bethlehem after the birth of Jesus, the recognition of Simeon, the ceremony of redemption, Herod's attempt to outwit the wisemen, the adoration of the Magi, the order for the slaughter of the innocent, and the escape of the holy family. This 12-episode film series provides an excellent opportunity to gather visual grasp of the stories of the Gospel, leading to a much greater understanding and appreciation of the Bible stories. Admission is free. Friends of the community are invited.

All Science Churches To Hold Communion

Communion services will be held this Sunday at all Christian Science branch churches and societies throughout the world. The church tenets will be read, and the congregation will be invited to kneel in silent communion.

The Lesson-Sermon is on "Sacrament," and Bible readings will include this verse from Matthew 5: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."

Jewish Men to Hold First Meeting of '63

Livonia Jewish Congregation Men's Club announce the first meeting of the 1963 season Sunday, Jan. 13 at 9:15 a.m. at the Synagogue Building. Fathers of children in the 9 a.m. Sunday School classes can drop their children and be back at the school by 11 a.m.

Landmark Of A City — 'Quaker Acres'

By MIMI SINGER

The concrete mixer and the steam shovel rattle down Seven Mile Rd. This is the job of putting tomorrow together in the form of new homes, new stores, new buildings. Sometimes this necessitates destroying the old.

Livonia is a new city, but snuggling up to the land at 34004 West Seven Mile Rd., unshaken by mixers and shovels, nestles the charming 117-year-old Quaker Acres. Once Quaker Acres was a church, then a home, now it's scheduled to see tomorrow as a museum, possibly a children's museum. It has become part of our cultural heritage.

Sunday, Dec. 16, the Livonia Historical Society invited city officials to attend a tea at Quaker Acres to become familiar with the little gem that now belongs to Livonia.

Quaker Acres built in 1844. It was purchased by the City of Livonia for $23,550 (land contract) in December, 1961.

It was built to be a meeting house for The Society of Friends, frequently called Quakers because they were said "to tremble and quake in the fervor of religious feeling."

From 1860-1961 it had a series of homeowners.

Quakers came to the United States from England seeking religious freedom. Under William Penn they settled in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The Quaker believed that they could communicate directly with God through the Inward Light. Contrary to Puritan thinking, they insisted on the possibility in this life of complete victory over sin. They lived and dressed simply, used "thee" and "thou" in their speech. Their religious services contained long periods of silence.

They were among the groups advocating abolition of slavery. According to the Encyclopedia Britannica, "Towards the end of the 18th century, large numbers of southern Friends, finding it difficult to live in a slave-holding society after freeing their own slaves, emigrated to free territories of Ohio and Indiana." Could this be the reason that brought the Quakers emigrating to the Livonia-Farmington area? New York State may have been the point of origin of the local Friends.

The meeting house originally was surrounded by 40 acres of land, a corner of which was a burial ground. The one body interred there was removed to the Farmington Quaker cemetery when that parcel of land was sold.

There are two large meeting rooms in Quaker Acres, each with its own front door. "One was the men's entrance," says Lloyd S. Gullen, owner and restorer of Quaker Acres, 1946-1961. "The other for women. The men and women sat apart." The Gullens used one room for living room the other for dining room. Between these rooms is a stairway to the attic where Mrs. Ann Gullen, an artist, had her studio. There are two small rooms opening off each of these rooms. A bedroom was added by the Gullens. The floors were in such a dilapidated condition when the Gullens bought the home that only those in the small front rooms are original.

"The building itself is truly a fine example of the kinds of material and the type of construction methods which the early settlers here used to build their dwellings and public buildings," said Quinn C. Smet, a Dearborn curator.

The two fireplaces are of handmade brick salvaged from the old chimneys. The frame of the building is of hand-hewn oak beams and the joists are 10-inch logs of black walnut and maple. The rafters are rough log poles. The ridge pole is a single hand-hewn timber, key-stone-shaped and extends the full length of the building. The rafters are not, nailed to the ridge but are wood-pegged.

Two of the original church pillars that supported the ceiling beams have been used to make lamp posts in the yard. The Quakers are gone. The Gullens have retired to a home in Farmington, where they recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. (Incidentally, Mrs. Ann Gullen is cousin to a renowned Quaker, Susan B. Anthony, the suffragette. Mr. Gullen, before he became a real estate man taught school, including one year in Livonia, 1910.)

Today Quaker Acres sits quietly, partly occupied by John Glanz, a Bentley High School art teacher who acts as caretaker. It is used for functions by the Historical Society, under its president, Dominic P. Paris, faculty member of Franklin High School. Historical Commission will make recommendations concerning its future use. Hasein Kunz is chairman of the Historical Commission.

Hopefully, it may become a children's museum where colonial arts such as candlemaking, spinning cloth, etc. could be demonstrated. There has also been discussion concerning moving other historically important buildings onto its one acre site, buildings such as Newburg Methodist Church, the Judge Blue Court House and/or Brigg School. It is hoped that the City and the Schools will work together on this project.

As Quinn C. Smet said, "A good museum tells the world that the people of the community are aware that man indeed, does not live by bread alone."

BEFORE AND AFTER. This is Quaker Acres when Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Gullen purchased it in 1944. With imagination and the help of an architect they turned it into this cozy Cape Cod style home where they lived until 1961 when Quaker Acres was bought by the City of Livonia to become a museum. The living room of the Gullen home is one of two large Quaker meeting rooms. The fireplace is constructed of handmade brick taken from the original chimneys. The furnishings are antiques.

'Facts On Fluoridation'

Dental Decay Could Be Reduced By 67 Percent

Editor's Note: Fluoridation has been proven absolutely safe and extremely effective in reducing the incidence of dental decay by the U.S. Public Health Service, the American Dental Association and the American Medical Association. It is called "poison" and an invasion of personal rights by the John Birch Society, the Ku Klux Klan and other groups. What is the truth? Today, The Observer begins a series of authoritative articles discussing this public health measure. The series is presented in cooperation with the Detroit District Dental Society, the Wayne County Medical Society, and the American Dental Association. The price of apathy comes high. Indifference—and misinformation—has blocked adoption of fluoridation in the metropolitan area and has denied more than a third of a million Detroit children the benefit of this safe, simple protection against tooth decay. More than 10 years have elapsed since the American Dental Association and the U.S. Public Health Service, after a long and careful evaluation, recommended that communities of the nation reduce tooth decay by adding enamel-hardening fluorides to the water supply. A small band of misinformed and overly emotional opponents have set out to wreck this greatest single development in dental health history. Only about 42 million people living in 2,200 communities are drinking fluoridated water when it should be made available to 125 million Americans in 20,000 communities.

In the deprived communities, painful, disfiguring and costly tooth decay is outrunning the efforts of health authorities to keep pace. By the time a student has graduated from high school, he has 10 teeth attacked by decay. Many go on to lose all of their teeth. The cost of dental care—for repair, bridges, plates and dentures—is in the billions.

Fluoridation has been adopted in two thirds of America's largest cities. The U.S. Congress, after hearing the anti-fluoridationists speak their piece a few years ago, quietly fluoridated the water of the city it governs, Washington, D.C. However, in many areas, a deluge of smears, wild charges, and hate campaigns have obstructed and nullified efforts of local dentists and doctors to begin fluoridation.

Not only does the loss of teeth interfere with the enjoyment and possibly the digestion of food, but carious teeth with their complications of abscesses often lead to other serious consequences of health.

Repeated studies have shown the decay toll could be reduced by two-thirds through fluoridation. But misinformed, vociferous, emotionally swayed opponents have so overwhelmed the public with scare statements and fact-distortions that the scientific message of benefit cannot get through. In Detroit, public energies have not sufficiently mobilized to remove the cloud of untruth.

In the rise of the unscientific opposition to fluoridation, history is repeating itself. In an earlier day, efforts to enforce vaccination, to pasteurize milk and to chlorinate the public water supply met with similar attacks.

No public health measure in history has been backed up with as much research and supportive evidence as fluoridation. The scientific literature contains more than 9,000 references to the relation of fluorides and public health. The recommendation for universal community fluoridation was made more than a decade ago and research has been going on continuously for the last 30 years. Our own neighbor city of Grand Rapids pioneered in fluoridation in 1945, with a resultant decrease in tooth decay of 6 year olds of nearly 80%!

Today, every important organization in the health field has endorsed fluoridation. The list includes the U. S. Public Health Service, which has the responsibility for the health of all Americans; the American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Academy of Pediatrics, American Public Health Association, Commission on Chronic Illness, National Institute of Dental Research, National Academy of Sciences, National Research Council.

View Movies

Color slides and movies of fishing expeditions in the Algonquin area of Canada featured the opening 1963 meeting of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

The movies and pictures were presented by Kiwanians Slim Terry, Lefty Taylor and Bud Schrader who have made several trips to the area which is located some 200 miles northwest of the Canadian Soo and can be reached only by train or plane.

The fish are big—report the picture takers—the scenery is beautiful—as the Kiwanians were able to attest after viewing the films.

Plug For Paul

(By Glen Shepherd in the Belleville "Enterprise Roman" Jan. 2, 1962)

When a newspaper editor puts his hands on the typewriter keys to write an editorial endorsement of a candidate he always does so with a question of doubt.

If the candidate he is editorially urging be elected gets the nod from the people will he live up to the expectations you hold for him? Or will he fall flat and be a "do nothing," or worse, a cheat?

Sometimes the editor feels a bit relieved if the man loses. Then he doesn't have to question his judgment, by watching the winner's performance.

It's darn rare that the man you endorse far exceeds your editorial prophecy. But such a man is the 21st District's new State Representative, Paul Chandler.

Chandler, as Belleville, Van Buren, Sumpter and Canton's man in the Michigan Legislature, is going after his job with a gusto that leaves me a bit stunned.

Of all things he's actually looking for work. Work that will cost him money! And, perhaps, just as important, valuable time away from his own newspapering enterprise.

A state representative doesn't get paid for initiative, or ability. Whether he's a dud, or a go-getter, he draws the same anemic salary.

And yet if you look on our classified pages under "Notices" you will find Chandler soliciting work. It's right there in black and white, paid for out of Chandler's pocket; he wants you to find things for him to do in Lansing.

What's more, Chandler's written to local school and government officials asking them to arrange a meeting with him to discuss possible legislative needs.

I don't think school, city and township officials are prepared for this. It's been so long since they've had anyone to really represent them in Lansing they aren't ready to digest its full value.

Chandler has a mighty big job ahead of him. In addition to the local school and government officials, his district includes heavily populated Livonia, Plymouth, Redford, and others up that way.

It's the biggest district in the state. We're darn glad to see it has a big man representing it.

Though he's a Republican, I suspect Chandler is going to make things rather uncomfortable for the anti-everything GOP bloc that has helped stall Michigan progress.

Romney is going to find his team a lot stronger with Chandler pulling with it.

TAPE CUTTING CEREMONIES for the new Sam's Inc. department store in Southfield at the corner of W. Eight Mile and Beech Roads will take place on Wednesday, Jan. 16 with Southfield Mayor James Clarkson welding the scissors. Covering an area of 85,000 square feet, the one-floor building will be the largest of several stores in the center being developed by Detroit Harry Granader. Max Osnos, president of Sam's, said "By moving into this location we hope to make this store the focal point for shoppers from every part of Northwest Detroit, Redford Township, Livonia and Farmington as well as Southfield."

THE LIVONIA EDUCATOR

Puzzled by Schools' New Math? Here's How Teachers Explain It

(This is another in the "Livonia Educator" series, prepared by the Livonia Educators Association, representing 1000 community teachers. This week's column is written by James Carey, Whitman Junior High School, and George Calder, Emerson Junior High School.)

Having trouble doing your son or daughter's mathematics homework? You should be. Chances are he's learning the "new" mathematics.

Set theory, structure, measurement, graphical representation, systems of numeration, properties of numbers, operations and their inverses, logical deductions, and valid generalizations.

These terms may be new to you and to your children, but they are part of a language with which this city's school-age youngsters will become increasingly familiar—it is the language of the "new mathematics."

Perhaps you've heard or read something about the new mathematics and have been wondering about it casually. Or maybe it has come to your attention when you haven't been able to understand the arithmetic or other mathematics homework your child has been bringing home.

Whatever the reason, here are answers to some questions you may have in mind.

WHAT IS THE NEW MATHEMATICS? The new mathematics is both new in content and intent. Many old topics are still highly important, but to keep pace with our rapidly changing world many new topics have been added to the curriculum. Sets, special properties of numbers, inequalities as well as equalities, systems other than our decimal system, and some different approach to geometry, are a few of the new topics.

In teaching both the old and new topics the emphasis is placed on "why" rather than "how." The student learns that every bit of manipulation he does is for a valid reason. The discovery method of teaching is utilized. Questions and illustrative examples often lead the student to make and test rules of his own, as well as to question old standbys like "invert the divisor and multiply."

New vocabulary and symbols created by the recent growth in mathematics are introduced. At the same time old vocabulary is made more precise. For example, since to "reduce" means to make smaller, we "simplify"  $\frac{4}{8}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$ , rather than reduce it, because  $\frac{1}{2}$  is, not smaller than  $\frac{4}{8}$ .

HOW DOES IT AFFECT STUDENTS? Most children find the new mathematics interesting and refreshing. At first it's not easier, but then nothing new and different is easy. Students are required to do more thinking about mathematics rather than just writing an answer down on paper. Studies across the country have shown that students taught the modern way learn just as much old mathematics as those taught the traditional way, and in addition they have learned many new ideas.

HOW DOES IT AFFECT TEACHERS? Teachers are enjoying mathematics more because their students are. Of course, the new mathematics requires extra training for teachers. Many Livonia teachers take further training through night, Saturday, and summer courses at various colleges and universities. In addition, the Livonia Public Schools have conducted summer workshops the past few years to help teachers become familiar with the new content and intent of mathematics.

HOW DOES IT AFFECT PARENTS? Parents find they can't help junior with his homework and become a little hesitant about accepting the new mathematics. However, parents who take the time to visit the schools and their child's teacher to find out more about the new mathematics are usually all in favor of the new method.

Parents who wish to learn the new mathematics can sign up for the adult education course, "A Parent's Introduction to Modern Math," offered by the Livonia Public Schools. This course requires no training in mathematics beyond regular arithmetic. The class meets on Wednesday nights at Whitman Junior High. Registration is January 8-11 at Bentley.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

This is a true story about a girl and a horse. You know there are varying degrees of unselfishness. We give our donations of money to UF, March of Dimes, take chairmanships, roll bandages, give blood, sell tickets, and generally busy ourselves through life. It's good. It makes us feel good.

But honestly how many times do we really give something away, to do someone some good, that is precious to us.

Depending on "us" of course, but i.e. our mink stole; or most valued antique; or the one day a jewel of a cleaning lady has awarded us; or a favorite piece of jewelry. Easy to think about, but wouldn't it be different to do?

We know a 15-year-old girl who lives at 16070 Southwestern in Livonia who made such a gesture. Her name is Miss Michalene Sarzynski.

The story begins really at the top with President Kennedy and the Kennedy Foundation grant awarded Dr. Samuel A. Kirk of the University of Illinois. Kirk was awarded $25,000 for his research in the field of mentally retarded children and his department $50,000.

You see, if you haven't been looking for quite some time, these special little folks (old and young) are no longer just clothed and fed and put up with. They can be worked with and progress to an absolute amazing degree be made.

Dr. Kirk discovered the use of Shetland ponies in his training mentally retarded children. His story in itself could fill the entire page.

It's true the Shetland's have to be finely trained and special—but the progress has been phenomenal enough to call attention of the President of the United States and we must admit he has many areas of interest.

This is where the deed of Michalene comes to light. She was asked by Dr. Kirk if she would part with "Mr. Mike," her little palomino with the big brown eyes and the captivating personality.

Now you see Mr. Mike has been the pride and joy of 15-year-old Michalene. Dr. Kirk wanted him for the Children's House in Carmel Valley, California. They really needed him.

It was a struggle for Michalene. He was her little pony and she really loved him. It was pointed out the little gelding could really be put to more advantage in working with the children than anything Michalene could do with him. Possibly true but difficult to evaluate when you love something, or someone.

Without pressure, however, Michalene made her decision and bravely donated her Mr. Mike.

In years to come no doubt she will be less hurt and lone-some and proud of her gesture that meant so much to her last month.

As often happens in caring your bread, Michalene's generosity has not gone unrewarded. She received in her Christmas stocking registration papers for a golden sorrel mare by the name of Goldcrest's Miss Gretchen. Gretchen is three years old and is "expecting" this coming Spring. So while the many children out at Children's House are becoming accustomed and acquainted with a new sensation—Mr. Mike, Michalene is counting the days until her first mare—Miss Gretchen, foals.

We will be anxious to hear of the new baby, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Nutt, Jr.

Button-Nutt Speak Vows at MSU Chapel

The Annual Memorial Chapel at Michigan State University, was the setting for the wedding of Bonnie Lynne Eutton to Orval Nutt Jr. as they were united in marriage at a 7:30 candlelight service on Dec. 15, by the Rev. Truman Morrison.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Button of 228 Maplewood Drive, East Lansing, and former residents of Rosedale Gardens in Livonia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Nutt of 15693 Edgington Road, Livonia.

The bride given in marriage by her father, chose a white brocade gown, fashioned with a molded bodice, which was highlighted with a scoop neckerline embellished with seed pearls, the bouffant skirt was chapel length with a bustled back. Her veil of shoulder length was adorned with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible with a detachable corsage of white orchids.

Miss Gail Gibson of Bloomfield Drive, Livonia was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Margaret McCarthy and Gwendolyn Trembley of Livonia. Junior bridesmaids were Pamela Button, sister of the bride and Nancy Bamer, cousin of the bride. They each wore dresses of peau de soie in willow green and carried corsages which were a cascade arrangement of white and white Christmas greens and white grapes.

John Chape, of Livonia was the best man. Serving as ushers were Donald Button, brother of the bride, Jerry Nutt, brother of the groom, and Donald Smith of Livonia and George Zambiasi of Detroit.

Dave Clark, roommate of the groom, sang "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." James Nutt, brother of the groom served as the acolyte to light the candles for the service.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Dines in Lansing. Miss Cheryl Ann Ball, of Belleville and Miss Marilyn Button of Farmington served as hostess at the table. Following the reception the newlyweds left for their honeymoon to Boyne Mountain Ski Lodge. Upon return they will take up residence at Spartan Village. Both are graduates of Bentley High School class of '59 and are attending Michigan State. Bonnie will receive her degree in Elementary Education in March. Orval will receive his degree in Civil Engineering in June. He is president of the National Honor Society of Civil Engineering, Chi Epsilon. Special guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bamer, of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Others attending were from Ohio, Birmingham, Farmington, Plymouth, Livonia, Southfield, Redford, Bellville and Dearborn.

Residents Urged To Support Blood Bank

Members of the Garden City Knights of Columbus #4513 and the local Red Cross branch will sponsor a visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile on Thursday, Jan. 24, in the Square Deal Hall, 5666 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, from 3 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m. James Slatery and Mrs. Harry Campbell, chairmen of donor recruitment for the two organizations, have distributed donor pledge cards to the chairmen of blood group accounts in our communities inviting them to urge their members to visit the bloodmobile and add to the credits of the blood group of their choice. Slatery, who may be reached at 248 Harrison, GA 7-5783, and Mrs. Campbell, 1749 Deering, GA 1-4390, will provide pledge cards to anyone interested in visiting the bloodmobile. Donors may credit the blood group of their choice, a 'self' account, or replace blood already used by a patient.

Pledge cards are available, and appointments which are an added convenience for the donor may be secured at the Red Cross Northwest Regional office, is open from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Michael P. Church, noted artist and lecturer, will be guest speaker next Monday, Jan. 14, at the monthly meeting of the Metropolitan Creative Art Guild, held at 7:45 P.M. in the Bentley High School cafeteria. Mr. Church, Supervisor of Special Projects for The University of Michigan Extension Service and known throughout the State as the Billy Graham of the art world, will speak on "Approach To Contemporary Painting." His lecture will be illustrated by colored slides.

Members are invited to bring guests to hear this well known lecturer.

R.U. Tunes Up with Romp

Redford Union High School's basketball team is ready to return to the Suburban Six League wars by hosting Trenton this Friday night.

The Township cagers started their 1963 phase of play on a soft touch last Friday by sweeping past hapless Franklin, 64-43.

While it was Redford Union's sixth win in seven starts, Franklin was going down to its seventh consecutive setback and still is to score its first victory in varsity competition.

As far as R. U. Coach Milo Karhu was concerned, it was a satisfying conquest his charges scored at the expense of Franklin. And Karhu wasn't making any reference to the score.

"We needed to have something like this," he explained afterward. "Our kids really were down after losing to Grosse Pointe in the finals of the Northwest Holiday Tournament just before the new year began.

"By beating Franklin, the kids built up their confidence again. They found they could score again, move the ball and rebound."

As the Suburban Six League race resumes, R. U. shares the lead with Belleville. Each has a 2-0 record. Close behind are Plymouth and Bentley, each with 1-1 conference marks. Trenton and Allen Park have 0-2 marks.

There wasn't much to last Friday night's game in the R. U. gym.

With Len LaPla and Bill Driscoll counting freely, R. U. pulled ahead by a 22-6 at the end of the first quarter. LaPla netted 11 points in the drive and Driscoll six.

Once the second period began, Coach Karhu started to clear his bench. Don DeWitt, a second stringer, then took over and netted 10 points before the intermission which found R. U. leading, 43-17.

Rocks Win Easily In Swimming

With Dick Barry and Gary Gould leading the way, Plymouth High School's swimming team scored a 57-48 win over Dearborn last Thursday.

Barry won the 200-yard free style and the 100-yard free style races while Gould copped the 200-yard individual medley and followed with a triumph in the 100-yard butterfly.

Victories in both the relays also helped the Rocks to post a conquest in the non-league meet. They return to Suburban Six League action this Thursday against Belleville in the Rocks' pool.

The results of the meet with Dearborn and how the Plymouth place winners fared:

Medley Relay—1, Plymouth (Dan Olsen, Al Curtis, George Collins, Jim Mattison.) Time—1:58.4.
200-Yard Free Style—1, Dick Barry; 2, Dave Beglinger. Time—2:07.9.

50-Yard Free Style—3, Pete Gustafson.

200-Yard Individual Medley—1, Gary Gould; 2, Jim Beglinger.

Diving—1, Mark Schultheiss; 3, Bert Quinn.

100-Yard Butterfly—1, Gould; 2, Dave Beglinger. Time—1:00.7.

100-Yard Free Style—2, Barry; 3, Dan Cook.

100-Yard Back Stroke—3, George Gardner.

400-Yard Free Style—2, George Collins; 3, Tom Blunk.

100-Yard Breast Stroke—3, Al Curtis.

Free Style Relay—1, Plymouth (Gustafson, Jim Beglinger, Mike Britcher, Mark Schultheiss).

Plymouth now has won four and lost two this season.

Trails By 16 Points, But Still Wins

Agatha Surprises

You had to be there to believe it!

Little St. Agatha High School, which is thrown regularly against athletic rivals representing schools twice as large from an enrollment standpoint, recorded the prep basketball comeback of comebacks last Friday night.

It happens frequently on the professional level that a team fights back from a 15-18 point deficit. Not so in high school play. But that's what St. Agatha did last Friday night and the result was a 64-53 win over Pontiac St. Michael in the St. Agatha gym.

St. Agatha Coach Dave Brazil probably figured the show was over when he looked up in the second quarter and read the scoreboard. It showed St. Michael on top by a 30-14 score.

There wasn't much that Brazil could say to his young charges, especially when the tallest St. Agatha man stands only 6-2, while the opposition presented one 6-6 giant and a couple of others over 6-2.

"Keep hustling and pressing," Brazil shouted to his boys. Hustle and press St. Agatha did. By halftime St. Agatha had sliced the deficit to 32-22.

At the intermission break Brazil again told his boys: "You're doing fine. Just keep up with that press, and hustle."

The athletes of St. Agatha kept in mind what their coach said. With Jack Harrington boasting the hottest hand of all, sinking seven in a row from the outside, St. Agatha kept roaring back.

Pretty soon, to the amazement of everybody, the score read: St. Agatha 48, St. Michael 48.

During the next few minutes, the teams played even basketball. Halfway through the final period, the score was knotted at 58-58.

Then Bob Davis notched a hoop for St. Agatha and the team was on top for keeps.

Claude Inch, a 5-foot sub guard, came through with a driving layup and St. Agatha was four ahead. Davis followed with a long 30-footer and the scoring was over.

Meantime, St. Michael could not get a point in the closing moments. The driving tactics of St. Agatha's pressing defense were too much for the Pontiac contingent.

"I've never seen anything like this around St. Agatha," said Brazil in the dressing room at the game's close.

Others had to agree. In the second half surge, Harrington notched 16 of his 23 points which netted him high honors. In fact, St. Agatha blitzed the hoop at a fantastic 65 per cent clip after the intermission.

Brazil credited the pressing defense as the chief reason for the victory.

Plymouth Falls Short

The final score showed Plymouth High School's basketball team on the short end of a 52-42 count to Farmington.

"I guess we couldn't expect to win it, not the way we shot tonight," explained Coach Charles Ketterer in the locker room.

The Rocks fired 55 times from the floor and made only 14. That's about 25 percent.

In free-throw shooting, Plymouth clicked only 14 of 25.

Farmington, meantime, hit 17 for 42 from the floor and 18 out of 24 charities.

But other matters disturbed Ketterer.

"We were too generous in the game," he added. "We had some fine opportunities, but just threw the ball away or couldn't cash in. That hurt."

The Rocks jumped ahead early, leading 12-4 midway in the first quarter. But the advantage had slipped to two points (14-12) at the period's finish.

In the second stanza Farmington forged in front, 24-22, and boosted the advantage to 38-31 by the period's close.

Walt Grimala knocked in 12 points in the second half to spark the winners. He happens to stand 6-6, four inches taller than the biggest man on the Plymouth squad.

The Rocks, who are 1-1 in Suburban Six League play, resume the championship grind this Friday night playing at Belleville, which shares the lead with Redford Union.

It will be the first of two games on Plymouth's weekend schedule. Strong Fordson from the Border Cities League will invade the Plymouth gym Saturday evening.

Offer Figure Skating Instructions for Adults, Children at Bentley

Figure skating lessons for Livonia children and adults are available weekly under the direction of the Department of Parks and Recreation.

There is no fee for the weekly instruction at Bentley High School Thursday evening for adults, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday mornings, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. for children six years and under; 1 to 3 p.m. for children over six years of age.

All figure skating lessons are given on the lighted rink at Bentley High School. The rink is open for free skating daily from 5:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Hot Foe Subdues Thurston

When a rival gets hot in basketball and you're pretty chilly, there's not much that can be done.

So explains the story of what happened last Friday night when Garden City soared past Thurston High School's basketball team, 65-56, in a Mid-Wayne League game.

The first half told the story. Garden City marksmen popped the ball at the basket 31 times. On 17 of the tries... it was swish... meaning two points.

Meantime, Thurston shooters had their troubles. The ball was coming close... but close never counts in sports.

As a result the teams reached the intermission with Garden City leading 43-23.

In the third and fourth periods, it was a much different situation.

The Thurston defense tightened up. Garden City could manage only three baskets in each of the final two segments.

But the damage had been done and Thurston had to absorb its second league loss without a win and its third in four starts this season.

Jerry Samuelian and Keith Spicer shared honors for the winners with 15 points each.

Free throw shooting helped Garden City tremendously. The victors cashed 23 out of 31 attempts as Thurston could notch only 12 of 23.

The Kitzman brothers starred for the victors. Pete Kitzman made seven baskets and eight free throws for 22 points. Brother John added 12 points. Thurston's reserves also lost.

This Friday night Thurston returns home to meet Inkster.

Archery Enthusiasts to Hold Organization Meeting on Thursday

Livonians interested in organizing an archery club under the sponsorship of the Department of Parks and Recreation are asked to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 10, room 110, Bentley High School.

Livonians who would like to join teen age ballroom dancing classes should call the Department of Parks and Recreation for further information and registration.

Injury Still Major Worry

For Coach Joe Mraena and his Thurston High School swimming team there isn't too much cheer.

Around Thurston everyone is still concerned over the condition of All-American Ken Wiebeck who injured his left shoulder while making a turn just before the Christmas holiday break.

The injury has been slow in responding to medical treatment. All that Wiebeck, who was a double state champion and record breaker last year, has been able to do in the pool is to practice kicking so that he can keep his legs in shape.

His arm has been too sore for him to do much swimming and there is little chance he'll be ready to hit the water against Ecorse in a dual meet this Thursday.

"Naturally we are all worried about Ken's condition," Mraena said Tuesday.

"We are wondering whether he can bounce back and regain his former form. After all he has missed about a month of work and competition now and the state meet is quickly drawing upon us.

"If Ken can't defend his state titles, it will be a tragedy. He has to be one of the greatest high school swimmers ever to perform in the state of Michigan, or for that matter, anywhere in the country."

Notwithstanding his inactivity, Wiebeck's name still appears prominently in the weekly Detroit News schoolboy swimming ratings.

His time of 22.8 seconds in the 50-yard free style still stands unmatched. Ditto for his 50.2 clocking in the 100-yard free style, where the No. 2 time is 1.2 seconds behind Wiebeck's.

Wiebeck ranks second in the 200-yard freestyle with a 1:53.9 clocking. The leader stands at 1:53.6. In the 100-yard butterfly, Wiebeck is second with 56.0 as Cooley's Bill Jennison leads with 55.4.

Harriett Fernandez To Play Jewish Widow Part

Local theatre-goers in this community are in for a special treat Feb. 15, 16, 22 or 23. The Theatre Guild of Livonia-Redford will present their second major production of the season at Thurston High School.

She will play the part of the warm-hearted Jewish widow, Mrs. Jacoby. The comedy revolves her tribulations and her hostile feelings toward the Japanese due to the loss of her son during the war.

When her diplomat son-in-law is assigned to Japan and the widow agrees to accompany her family to the Orient, the events leading to her reappraisal of the Japanese in general and Mr. Asano, a Japanese industrialist in particular, make for a warmly humorous plot.

The play, "A Majority of One" starred Gertrude Berg on Broadway. However, the Guild has their own Gertrude Berg in the personage of Harriett Fernandez who has delighted audiences in appearances with the Redford Suburban League's productions.

Jim Griffy, a Guild newcomer will portray Mr. Asano, a role created by Alec Guinness in the movie version of the play. Tom Dailey, of Livonia, has a long list of credits in Theatre Guild productions and will play Jerry Black, the diplomat son-in-law.

Kathy Elliott recreates the role of Mrs. Jacoby's daughter, Alice Black, and the Theatre Guild has gained another beautiful leading lady.

Guests Welcome At Coin Club

Riverside Coin Club meetings have been changed to the second Sunday and the fourth Wednesday of each month. This month the meetings fall on the 13th and the 30th. The Sunday business meetings start at the usual time of 3:00 p.m. and the Wednesday trading session meetings at 7:00 p.m. Coin auctions will be held at both.

Anyone desiring further information may call Leonard Marzewski, GA 1-9328. This group is open to all communities.

CHILDREN BOWLERS WELCOME

The Department of Parks and Recreation announces that it is still possible for children to join a department sponsored bowling league. Those interested may call their nearest bowling establishment for further information.

Begin New Lessons in Square Dancing

Two new square dancing classes will begin soon, under the sponsorship of the Department of Parks and Recreation. Bev Tallman will be caller-instructor for a beginners' course to begin at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Jan. 15 at Stark School. Pat Costa will call for an intermediate course to begin weekly lessons, at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 23, at Adams School. Fee for both courses is $10 a couple for 10 weeks. Contact the Department of Parks and Recreation for further information.

90-Piece Youth Symphony To Present Pop Concert Saturday

The Livonia Youth Symphony will present its first concert of the season, a "pops" concert, 8:15 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 19 at Franklin High School.

The orchestra, under conductor Lester Farkas, is one of two youth orchestras sponsored by the Livonia Youth Symphony Society, Inc.

Symphony will be the Franklin Choral Belles, girls' choir of Franklin High School. George V. Cripps is director of the singing group.

Tickets for the concert are $1.50 per person. Refreshments will be served following the program by the Women's Auxiliary of the Symphony Society.

Members of the 90-piece Youth Symphony Orchestra include young musicians from Livonia and seven neighboring suburban communities—Wayne, Redford, Garden City, Dearborn, Plymouth, Clarenceville and Ferndale.

gram will be Leroy Anderson's "Sandpaper Ballet," "Exodus" by Ernest Gold, "Gypsy Legend" by Mantovani, Anderson's "Serena," and selections from Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story."

'Curtain Going Up'

By WALLY ROBERTS

"Camelot", a lavish, beautiful musical comedy, opened last evening at the Fisher after completing its two year Broadway run. Although all its original stars (Julie Andrews, Richard Burton, and Robert Goulet) have long since left the theatrical Round Table, King Arthur's castle and the surrounding woods still retain much of its virgin vigor. In some instances the substitutions are a welcome relief over the original stars who occasionally have a disconcerting habit of going "stale" in their roles.

Byron Webster as Merlyn brings authority and force to bear on a role that could be insignificant. Mr. Webster makes his contribution to the evening's entertainment stand out and provides a genuine luster. His sister, Eileen Boze (resident of Livonia) informs old Wally that Byron understudies Arthur Treacher King Pellinore role. In fact, he played this role several times during the run in New York. With a two year-on-the-road stint ahead it's my guess that Byron will yet have a chance to be playing King Pellinore by the time "Camelot" heads back this way for a return engagement.

"Camelot" will be at the Fisher for seven weeks. Such an engagement may seem to be quite long for the Detroit area. Tickets are going at such rapid rate that the management is now quite unhappy that they didn't ask for a twelve week engagement. Detroit will support top attractions. And "Camelot" is a honey of a show. Music, costumes, singing and all the other ingredients that combine to make a joyous evening in the theater can be found currently at the Fisher Theater.

Ballet lovers are to be reminded that the American Ballet Theater is making a brief Detroit stop on Jan. 18 and 19 at the Shubert Theater. Friday evening's performance will feature "Les Sylphides" plus "Theme and Variations". Saturday matinee: "Peter and the Wolf", "Nutcracker", and "La Fille Mal Gardee". Saturday evening: "Swan Lake", "The Combat", and "Etudes". Mail orders are being accepted right now.

Word from the adopted home of the Bard, (Stratford, Ontario) has been received relative to the line-up of plays for the eleventh season. Deiving into three of Shakespeare's lesser-known works: "Timon of Athens", "Comedy of Errors", Troilus and Cressida, the Stratford Festival will proceed to show the world how exciting, universal, and meaningful these works of the Bard actually are. The Stratford Players have a knack of doing this. If you have yet to see these marvelous troupe, make plans right now to send in for your tickets by March One. Last year tickets for the weekends were gone by the time they had opened the doors to the public in the middle of June.

To become better acquainted with Bill Shakespeare you might enroll in a new course being offered in the Livonia Adult Education program. Jeound John Anderson, Livonia's efficient Adult Education director, informed me via the phone that he has a most interesting course starting in a couple weeks called "The Bard in Brief". Half hour films about a Shakespearean play will be screened at each class session. Watch for this course in the Adult Education bulletin you should be receiving at home this week.

We're surrounded on two sides by "The Fantasticks". Over in Ann Arbor the U of M Professional Theater Program under the able direction of Dr. Robert Schnitzer has invited the entire cast of the off-Broadway version to fly out to the campus for one week. From Tuesday, January 15 to Sunday, January 20 you'll be able to see the original cast perform in the Trueblood Auditorium.

"The Fantasticks" continues to keep audiences in a most happy frame of mind at the Vanguard where David Atkinson as the Narrator unfolds the gay tale nightly. Petite Virginia Wing as The Girl and Garold Gardner as The Boy make the cardboard romance have an aura of reality. Their singing compliments the situation and gives the production a real air of perfection. You only have until Jan. 30 to catch this marvelous show at the Vanguard. Call WO 2-3863 for tickets. They play every night except Monday. And don't forget the show for the kiddies "Many Moons" is still in operation every Saturday and Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m.

"The Manchurian Candidate" at the Terrace and the newly-remodeled Wayne Theater has been playing to capacity audiences. It's a suspenseful thriller guaranteed to keep you on the edge of the seat. "Requiem for a Heavyweight" or "The Longest Day" may be the next attractions at our local theaters. Both of these pictures are sure to be strong contenders for Academy Award honors.

A final TV note: A new series of biographies can be seen on Channel 7 at 7 on Sundays in the evening. Last week's opener about Teddy Roosevelt moved along and dispensed information in an interesting manner. "Amelia Earhart" is the subject of next Sunday's biography. These are narrated by Mike Wallace in a most competent manner.

 troit in March. I was married to
 living there until the depression of the early 1930's when my people lost that property and moved across the road into the old Dunning-Allen homestead.
 We moved to Detroit and have been here for five years improving my parents' old home little by little until it was ready for occupancy in November, when my daughter (born when we lived there in 1932, a twin, the youngest of five daughters) moved in with her husband Don White and their four children.

This is a gift subscription for them who should become better acquainted with Township doings. They are regular voters, moved from Lincoln Park. Don has recently started to work for the Viking Steel Company as a salesman.
 I hope it isn't too late to get the flag for that homestead which is over 100 years old. For the first time in its existence it has modern plumbing and heating. Our family has paid taxes in Redford Township continuously for 42 years. I cast my first vote there when women were first allowed to vote. My husband and I took vegetables and dairy products to Eastern market the first summer (1915) in a horse-drawn wagon via gravel-topped Plymouth Road.

 Pleasant memories.
 Yours truly
 May F. Roberts
 (Mrs. George A. Roberts)

 From the sublime to the re-dulous. After spending three hours listening to children over the phone at the Parks and Recreation and their wishes about ex-Mayor Brashear wanting $75.00 per month for life as a pension, I was pleased that I could still breathe fresh air in Livonia, and thankful that I was one of many of our Senior Citizens who could give freely of our time for some one to get a little pleasure.

What pension will ex-Mayor Zieger have coming in his years of service to Livonia? Compare the 30, 40, 50 and sometimes 60 years that construction men or truck drivers put in with independent companies with no hope of a pension. Myself, I have 52 years in construction, my pension I get from a three-year hitch in the first world war. I cannot compare that with Bill Brashear and his close to ten years working for the city and Bill Brashear.
 You quote from Ella Wheeler

Wilcox. Let me quote from Robert Burns, in to a mouse he says, the best laid plans of mice

 Members of our staff at me to express our thanks to the citizens of our communities — your readers — for the many incidents of Christmas generosity and good will noted during the season just past.

 The fine response to our requests for gifts for our forgotten patients, the acceptance of responsibility for special needs in certain of our wards, the contribution by innumerable hours of clerical services by volunteers in our Community Relations Department since the last part of October, the planning of ward parties by groups with Christmas extras added—for all these, please accept from us our genuine

 "Thank You." Many of such kindnesses are noted, to be sure, not only during the weeks before Christmas but throughout the year. Those extra efforts, however, contributed by so many during the past few weeks, underline and alert our awareness.
 We wish to each of your readers a good New Year.
 Sincerely yours,

Editor's Note: It was not the intention of the reporter writing the political story for the Observer last week to "camouflage" Mr. Hagerly's name—it was a case of an unfamiliar name on the political horizon mispronounced by the source revealing Mr. Hagerly's intentions. Neil Hagerly was the name the reporter thought had filed instead of Leo F. Hagerly.
 Our apologies and we agree it's a good Irish name.

Plymouth DPR Offers New Shorthand Course

An easy to learn shorthand written with the "ABC's" a phonetic system called Stenographic ABC Shorthand will be offered for the first time in the Plymouth area as one of the high spots of the winter program of the Plymouth Recreation and Adult Education activities offered by the Plymouth Community School District.

The class will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Stenger, who took a special training course to become an instructor in stenography. Because the class must be limited in size, those interested are urged to make registrations now. For additional information contact Woolweaver at the Recreation and Adult Education offices at the Plymouth High School.

Announcement of the new course was made by Adult Education Director Herbert Woolweaver as he outlined the entire winter schedule which will start the last week in January.

Classes offered during the winter include:

MONDAY

Basic electronics, German, golf, leadership training, nature hikes, men's physical education, oil painting, beginning sewing, stock market, symphony, Theatre Guild, how to handle the brain damaged child, beginning and advanced typing, upholstery and welding.

TUESDAY

Ballroom dancing, basketball, body conditioning, beginning cake decorating, guitar, hair in home, metallurgy, intermediate organ and piano, philosophy, reading efficiency, conversational Spanish, symphony chorus.

WEDNESDAY

Adult band, ballet, men's basketball, beginning and advanced bridge, drawing and designing, great poetry, millinery, intermediate sewing, advanced shorthand, beginning square dancing, stenographic, shuffleboard, how to handle the slow learner, tumbling, TOPS Club Inc.

THURSDAY

Ballet, boys' basketball, beginners drama, male chorus, driver training, elementary astronomy, hair cutting, knitting, photography, intermediate shorthand, trigonometry review and various college credit courses through Eastern Michigan University.

FRIDAY

Intermediate and advanced square dancing.

SATURDAY

Ballet, boys' basketball, bayan, cheerleaders and Spanish dancing.

Registrations for the winter classes may be made in the Adult Education and Recreation offices in the Plymouth Senior High School on Jan. 14 and 15 during the day and evening. The remainder of the week on Jan. 16, 17 and 18, enrollments may be made during the day only.

The new shorthand course, slated to start on Wednesday, Jan. 30 and continue for 10 weeks, will be taught two hours weekly, giving the students 20 hours of class work.

It is especially recommended for the college student or others wishing to take rapid notes, and for the adult who needs shorthand on the job or anyone who wishes to learn a shorthand system in a short time.

Stenographic ABC shorthand is being taught in more than 600 schools in the United States.

CANDIDATE for Queen of the 11th annual Autorama, which opens a three day run in Cobo Hall on Friday, is Ilene Zakul, 15058 Finch, Plymouth. A registered nurse at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, Miss Zakul is one of the 10 beauties competing for the crown. The winner will be announced in ceremonies Sunday night.

College Plans

legiate work by enrolling in June and thus be able to finish the two years' work and transfer to a four-year college well in advance of two years actual time.

"We feel that year round use of the facilities will enable the college to take care of 50 per cent more students than otherwise would be the case. The buildings will be air-conditioned to provide satisfactory conditions for classroom work throughout the hot summer months."

Bradner pointed out that the calendar does not add to the costs for the community or for the student.

The calendar, as approved by the board for the 1964-65 college year, is as follows:
