

Lack of Interest to Plague Primary Monday

Lack of voter interest — described as an incessant plague of all Plymouth primary elections — is expected to hold to a bare minimum the number of votes cast in the Biennial Spring Primary Election Monday.

Those who do vote in the primary balloting will be naming the community's final candidates for local elective offices for the ensuing two-year period, and will set the stage for the April 1 Biennial Spring General Election.

At that time, voters will make their choice as to whom they wish to serve in office here until at least 1965.

With more than 8,400 eligible voters in the City and Township combined, only a token turnout is expected in Monday's balloting.

Strong indication of the apathy that surrounds virtually all primaries here is the fact that, as of Monday, the City Clerk's office had issued only 19 absentee ballots and the Township Clerk's office had passed out only two.

Further illustration of the failure of registered voters here to journey to the polls on primary election day is found in past performances.

In the 1961 Township primary, just 361 residents cast ballots during the 13-hour span that voting precincts remained open.

It amounted to about 28 votes per hour. In 1957, only a scant 212 voted in the Township. In between—those two township primary elections an astounding turnout — by comparison — was recorded.

Voting on a City of Plymouth Heights proposal, Township voters in 1959 mustered 1,311 ballots during the primary.

The story has been much the same in the City over the years as far as local primary elections are concerned.

For instance, in 1961 just 8 1/2 percent of the City's registered voters made the trip to the polls as they selected candidates for City Supervisor to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and final candidates for City Commission.

That voting machines will be in use this year is not expected to alter the trend of apathy toward the primary election.

To Call for Bids On Three School Building Projects

Construction bids on three major building projects in the Plymouth Community School District are being called for this week by the Board of Education.

Total estimated building costs amount to roughly $850,000.

The three projects are:

Construction of the second phase of Junior High West; further rehabilitation to the Senior High building; and a two-room addition to Farrand Elementary School in Lake Pointe Village.

Board members Monday night approved final plans to all three and directed the administrative staff to prepare and publish a request for bids.

Mutual Use Of Sewer Lines Eyed

A mutual exchange of sewer flowage rights is being worked out between Plymouth Township and City, whereby the two municipalities will utilize common sewer lines at six points.

The move is aimed at cutting sewer flowage expense and providing for a more efficient sewer system throughout the community.

The contract between the two municipalities came up for examination at Tuesday night's Township Board meeting and, although action was deferred pending further study by Township officials, it is expected to be passed at the next meeting.

The six points of mutual use of sewer flowage rights are:

Sheldon Rd. near the C & O railroad tracks; Sheldon Rd. south of Penniman; Plymouth Rd. east of Haggerty; Sheldon near Ann Arbor Rd.; a point south of Ann Arbor Rd. running along the Tonquish Creek bed; and another point east of Mill St. about midway between Plymouth Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail.

Township Engineer Herald Hammill, Township Attorney Earl Demel and City Attorney Edward Draugelis worked out the contract. Each municipality, under the terms of the

Under the present timetable, Board members expect to receive the bids March 11 and will award contracts shortly after that date.

The $850,000 represents the architects' estimated construction costs and not actual bid figures.

Of the total, $583,550 is the estimate for building Phase II of Junior High West, $211,700 is for the Senior High rehabilitation, and $61,000 is for the Farrand school expansion.

Board members hope that all of the work can be met financially from the remaining balance of the present building and site sinking fund.

They are prepared, however, to defer portions of the Senior High project in order to stay within the balance of the sinking fund.

The Senior High bidding will be broken down into nine parts, so that the Board

THE FIRST "10 at 10" meeting of members of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday in the Hotel Mayflower. Conducted by President John Herb, the meeting — and ensuing ones — are designed to further acquaint Chamber members with each other and with the objectives of the Chamber itself. Attending Tuesday's session were, left-to-right, above: Walt Ash, Doug Blunk, Lou Borregard, Matthew Arrowsmith, Herb, Francis Mitchell, Ernest Burger, Robert Cain and Ross L. Berry. The "10 at 10" designation stems from the 10 a.m. meeting hour and the fact that 10 Chamber members are invited to each gathering. The meetings, said Herb, will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. The sessions also provide members with an opportunity to offer suggestions to Chamber administrators.

Dr. Gerald Hooper

Germany Next Subject Of Lions Travel Series

Dr. Gerald Hooper is the fourth guest lecturer to appear on the current Travel and Adventure Series, sponsored by the Plymouth Lions Club.

His fast-moving news film story, "Germany and the Berlin Story," will be shown to his audience at 8 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 16 at the Plymouth Junior High School (East) Gymnasium.

Dr. Hooper is a practicing dental surgeon whose hobby of photography and travel has won him national acclaim for the quality of pictorial excellence and ability to tell interesting and exciting stories.

Dr. Hooper graduated from Loyola University with honors and spent eight years on the faculty there.

In addition to practicing dentistry, Dr. Hooper has had other varied interests. He designed and invented equipment used by the U.S. Army and Navy and the Chemical Warfare Service, as well as a number of industrial firms in the United States and abroad.

During this same span, he developed an interest in photography which subsequently led him into the field of travelogues and educational films, earning him a high position among the top artists.

Since Germany and its problems appear frequently in the current news, Dr. Hooper's film, which explores the Germany of today, is a timely one. He records the life and people of Berlin and other major German cities, a area of historical interest on the Rhine River, Ruhr Valley, Bavarian Alps and many others.

The audience which will hear Dr. Hooper this coming Saturday will not only have an enjoyable and profitable evening of entertainment but will also aid in the support of the Leader Dog Program which is supported by the Plymouth Lions Club.

New Zoning Hints Of Canton Growth

The future and possible high-speed industrial and residential development of the northwest corner of Canton Township is drawing nearer this week.

Canton Township Board members Wednesday night are expected to call for a public hearing over proposed zoning changes, which — if made — will hasten the development of a 400-acre area extending along Joy Rd. to the Township's eastern-most boundary.

All but a small part of the parcel is already owned by residential and industrial developers, according to Canton Supervisor Louis Stein.

Approximately 280 acres has received Canton planning commission approval that it be re-zoned industrial, and the same body has recommended zoning changes that would convert the remaining 120 acres to residential use.

More than 400 homes would rise on the residential land, Stein said.

The total acreage involved extends along Joy Rd. from the east edge of Mettelle Airport to Canton's east boundary at approximately Koppernick Road.

Of the 120 acres being considered for residential zoning, about 30 acres running along Joy Rd. are proposed for R-1-H designation. The category defines minimum lot sizes as being at least one-half acre for "country homes," Stein said.

The other 90 acres under residential consideration appear slated to receive Canton's R-1-B designation.

This permits a minimum of 52-foot lot fronts, Stein explained.

It is the latter designation that has raised some concern from Plymouth Township officials, since Plymouth Township property is directly opposite the 400-acre site across Joy Rd.

Stein indicated that "very few" of the homesites in the R-1-B category would actually wind up with the minimum 52-foot lot fronts.

He said that a 500-foot setback from Joy Rd. is in the mind of Canton officials, thus further minimizing the effect on Plymouth Township land across the road.

The larger half-acre lots would be situated on the land that comprises the set-back, Stein said.

The zoning minimums on the Plymouth Township side call for lot sizes of at least 60-foot widths.

Along with Canton's planning commission, the Wayne County Coordinating Committee, a standing committee of the County Board of Supervisors, has also recommended approval of the proposed zoning changes.

The Canton Board will consider the matter officially Wednesday evening (Feb. 13) and, if favorable action is deemed appropriate, must then call within 30 days a public hearing when residents may voice objections.

Stein said that one residential developer has already told him 50 homes would be constructed this summer, if the zoning changes are approved and if water becomes available.

"All of this development in that area," said Stein, "is predicated on sewer, water, paved streets and storm drains." None of these are now in, and would remain the responsibility of the developers, Stein said.

A water line along Lilley Road is being contemplated as the source for that service, Stein said. The line would have to be extended along Lilley Road to Joy Road and then east to the residential development area.

Canton Township, with a year-old water issue amounting to more than $800,000, is seeking taxpayer relief on the bonds.

"We can accomplish this if we can encourage residential and industrial development," Stein said.

The ultimate development will be closely coordinated with School Board officials, he added.

City to Request Study Of Detroit Toll Rates

City Commissioners Monday night are expected to pass a resolution requesting Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to re-evaluate its toll rate structure between Plymouth's Glenview exchange and downtown Detroit.

The anticipated action stems from an unofficial meeting of the Commission last Monday evening at which time a local telephone company executive outlined the present calling system affecting this area.

Commissioners believe that there is an inequity in toll rates charged Glenview customers who call Detroit in comparison to the Detroit toll rates for GARfield (Livonia) users.

The resolution is expected to ask the telephone company to study its toll rate structure between Glenview numbers and Detroit with a view toward "reducing same."

At the same time, the resolution will request that the company re-evaluate its present "Metro" calling plan with an eye toward providing more daylight hours calls at the lesser "Metro" rate.

The matter came up initially at a Commission meeting two weeks ago and local telephone company manager Hazen Wilson agreed to meet with the City's governing body to discuss the matter.

Livonia is presently engaged in a wrangle with the phone company over alleged inequitable rates just within the boundaries of the neighboring city alone.

"Our situation here," said City Manager Albert Glassford Tuesday, "is akin to Livonia's, but we only want more equitable rates in relationship to those that Livonia presently pays."

As Commissioner Carl Shear pointed out at the Monday night discussion session, a Glenview call to downtown Detroit costs 35 cents for three minutes, while a GARfield call to the same location costs 15 cents for five minutes.

"This tremendous differential in toll rates to call the same spot is our point for consideration," Shear said.

Federal Funds Here? No One Is Too Sure

Precisely where City of Plymouth stands with regard to its applications for federal grants for a water reservoir, a new City Hall and extensive improvement to the internal water transmission system is much a point of conjecture, it appears this week.

Even a 23-hour whirlwind visit by three City officials to Washington, D.C., last week failed to uncover any concrete indications as to the City's ultimate chances of getting federal funds to help in the three local projects.

The trio of local authorities, Mayor Robert Sirocock, City Manager Albert Glassford and City Attorney Edward Draugelis, spent Tuesday, Feb. 5, in the nation's capital striving to strengthen Plymouth's odds for favorable federal action on the three requests.

They visited personally with Congresswoman Mrs. Martha Griffiths (17th District representative), spoke briefly with aides to Senators Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart, and discussed at length Plymouth's hopes over federal assistance with a "top-ranking" official from the Area Redevelopment Administration.

"We spent quite a bit of time talking with him," said Sirocock later, referring to the ARA official. "The three Plymouth men and the ARA representative centered their talks on the Penniman-Main-Fraick parking improvement project."

Grange Cleanings

Jesse Tritten GL 3-6387

Last week's meeting of Plymouth Grange got off to a good start with an especially good pot luck supper followed by our regular meeting. We are proud to report an attendance of 77 which is above average for this time of year. A short musical program was presented by four young ladies of which three were grandchildren of our own Jack and Margery Miller. It was enjoyed by all. We are also happy to welcome Hilda and Elmer Knight who became fourth degree members of our Grange at this meeting.

Sam Spicer returned home from St. Joseph hospital last Thursday. He is confined to home, although slowly gaining in strength.

Erma Brown returned home from St. Joseph hospital on Saturday and is feeling fine following her surgery.

Mildred Collins remains at St. Joseph hospital but is gaining steadily. We understand she is doing well on a new "anti-wrinkle" pill prescribed by one of our own Grange members and which has claimed the attention of doctors and nurses alike at the hospital. Let's all remember Sister Collins with cards and calls.

Washenaw-Wayne Pomona Grange met Tuesday night with Webster Grange as host. Mr. Nixon showed pictures and gave an account of his trip of last Summer when he and 34 other farmers visited Europe and toured farms of several countries.

Committees are being appointed and plans are being formulated for our annual Grange Bazaar for next October. Martha Gates is chairman and it is up to each and every member to help make this year's Bazaar a success by planning early to contribute. Let's all be on the lookout for unusual and interesting items that will help make this year's Bazaar one to long be remembered.

Of our immediate importance is the Rummage Sale to be held at the Grange Hall on Saturday, March 2. Now is the time to get rid of unwanted items and help to make this activity a success. For further information call Isabelle Taylor, GL 3-7323.

GOP Split Clouds Salem Township Primary

Republican party unrest continues to trouble Salem Township as the Feb. 18 primary election nears.

Two separate GOP slates will appear on the Monday ballot, while Democrats boast only one candidate in the balloting.

The lone Democratic nominee is incumbent Township Clerk Edward R. Fitzgerald, who seeks his second term.

Meanwhile, Republicans are split into two camps and will place opposing slates on the election ballot. The present supervisor, Harlow Ingall, is not running for re-election.

One GOP faction consists of Roland M. Brengle, a candidate for supervisor, Paul A. Rebman for clerk, Charles H. Steele, a candidate for treasurer, and Sam Bailo for the one Trustee vacancy.

The four have formed their own party slate and oppose three other candidates for top Township elective office. The other trio is also comprised entirely of Republican candidates.

Heading the second slate is Glenn W. Renwick, the present Township treasurer, who seeks the party's nomination as supervisor. Floyd E. Taylor is the second candidate for treasurer and Edwin M. Hamilton is the second GOP candidate for the Trustee vacancy. There is no clerk candidate on the second GOP slate.

Hamilton is also the incumbent Trustee. The Trustee vacancy is for a four-year term.

Salem Township voters will be able to split their ticket among the Republican slates, but will not be able to split their vote between parties.

Other Salem Township offices concerned in the primary election include:

A four-year justice-of-the-peace term, candidate for which is Ralph W. Cole. (There is also a partial term, amounting to two years, but no one filed a petition for candidacy.)

An opening on the Board of Review. It is a four-year term; there are two candidates, Robert Bulmon and incumbent Coda J. Savery.

Four constable assignments with candidates being Kent L. Stanbury and incumbents Raymond E. Doolin, William M. Edmunds and Carleton Hardesty.

Statements of some of the major candidates appear elsewhere on this page.

SUPERVISOR

ROLLAND M. BRENGLE
GOP Candidate for Supervisor

Brengle is 58 and has been a resident of Salem for 21 years. He recently retired, previously was 21 years with an automobile manufacturer in engineering and purchasing.

His statement:
"Salem Township's immediate problems require a

Board with the courage to apply the following yardstick in making all decisions: "Determine the facts and the law involved, weigh the advantages against the disadvantages and decide what in your judgment is best for all of Salem Township."

"It is just that simple. If elected Supervisor, this rule will be instituted, with each individual member's vote and his reasons therefor in writing, and made a permanent part of the record."

"Governor George Romney has set the tone for all levels of Michigan government by calling for a new Economic Research Commission to meet the demands of a "Population explosion."

"The Board must recognize and have the foresight to prepare for the needs of our rapidly changing community. To attract industry there must be close cooperation with County, State, and Federal agencies for power, water, transportation, and sanitation facilities. Civic growth demands comprehensive provision for orderly development in the fields of housing, education, law enforcement, and highways, plus accommodations for attendant businesses, professional and otherwise, which accompany such expansion. This growth cannot be allowed to "just happen." It must be systematically planned.

"The Board must guide this development with uniform and impartial decisions in order to stimulate respect for, and confidence in, the laws of the Township and the integrity of the Board.

"Only in this way can Salem Township attract the outside investment capital vital to expansion, and so necessary in shouldering the tax burden."

CLERK

PAUL REBMAN
GOP Candidate for Clerk

Rebman is 41 and is a salesman. He has lived in Salem for 14 years. He is a veteran of the Armed Forces, and has worked in the police profession, civil defense and zoning matters.

His statement:
"I feel that my experience in dealing with city and township officials in various capacities, such as zoning, police, and civil defense, will enable me to be of help in the planning and growth of Salem Township."

"If elected, I will do my utmost to advance the best interests of the whole Township."

TREASURER

CHARLES H. STEELE
GOP Candidate for Treasurer

Steele is 70 years old, has lived in Salem nine years, was employed 43 years by an automobile manufacturer, mostly as a general superintendent. Has background in Civil Defense work. Steele's statement:

"I am not a politician, nor am I a hand-picked candidate as whispering campaigners are indicating. Several months ago I refused the office of Supervisor, when approached by the present Township Board. A few weeks later a group of citizens asked me to run, to restore responsibility in Township government. I investigated the other men on the slate, and accepted the candidacy for Township Treasurer."

"I feel as a member of this team that I can be of help to Salem Township and its taxpayers, and if elected, will be very glad to put my earnest effort into the job."

"If you feel I am qualified for this public office, I will appreciate your support."

TRUSTEE

SAM BAILO
GOP Candidate for Trustee

Bailo is 41, has lived in Salem for 27 years, operates and manages a 540 acre farm and is presently member of Lyon Township school board.

His statement:
"If elected to office, I will diligently weigh all the facts presented to the Board, and then act in the best interests of ALL the people of the Township, without fear of contradiction from small minority groups."

"The welfare of the entire Salem Township Community will come first, because it is here that I have my home, my family, my investments and my business."

TRUSTEE

EDWIN HAMILTON
GOP Candidate for Trustee

Hamilton is 44 and is the incumbent Trustee, serving on his second consecutive four-year term. He is a lifetime resident of Salem, presently is partner in a 400-acre dairy farm. He is a 1935 graduate of Ann Arbor High.

His statement:
"A Township Trustee has an important role as well as a significant vote on every issue, whether large or small, that may arise. The Board must respond to the obvious needs and concerns of the citizenry."

"The predicted expansion in years to come makes the actions of the Board more crucial than ever before. I feel the present Board has consulted wisely, resolved firmly, and executed our program with perseverance and harmony."

"As I have a deep desire to promote the best interests of this community, I would welcome once again the opportunity to serve on the Salem Township Board as the most direct means for applying my concern for the future of our area."

David White Wins High Scout Award

David White, sophomore at Plymouth High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Norris C. White, of 7777 Sheldon Rd., received the boy scout "God and Country Award" for a year's service in church, in a special ceremony recently.

The award was presented by Pastor John Walasky of the Assembly of God Church.

David, a star scout of troop No. 862, which is sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, qualified for the honor award by passing out church bulletins, working in a leadership capacity in the church's Young People's group, studying the church's missionary program and studying the history of the church, of which he was later tested, and performing other services.

Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein, a Republican, will be seeking nomination for his sixth two-year term Monday as Canton voters go to the polls for the primary election.

Democratic candidate for the same post is Robert Waldeck, who four times previously has provided the opposition to Canton's incumbent supervisor.

A light vote in the Canton primary is predicted. Although registrations have reached about 2,400, it is expected that fewer than 20 per cent of the eligible voters will turn out for Monday's balloting.

The majority of interest in the Canton primary will center mostly on the Republican slate of Trustee candidates. Seven GOP members have filed for four vacancies.

As in all primaries, voters in Canton Township will be unable to split their ticket across party lines. Thus, three of the GOP trustee candidates will fall by the way-side after Monday's tally is in.

The seven Republicans include incumbent Trustees Harvey Vetal and Elmer Schultz. Others are John Collins, Richard Palmer, William Sprengel, Perry Hix and Robert Simmons.

The names of only two Democratic Trustee candidates will appear on the ballot. They are George Bradley and Henry Rupert. The Canton Township Board will be increased by two Trustees in the April 1 election.

Including the supervisor, clerk and treasurer, the Board presently numbers five members.

The Republican slate of candidates for the primary election also includes: Clifford McClumpha for clerk; Mrs. Bonnie Berg for treasurer; no one for justice-of-the-peace; incumbent Gerald Cather for constable; and incumbent Albert Schrader for a seat on the Township's board of review.

The Democratic slate of candidates includes: Incumbent John Flodin as clerk; incumbent Philip Dingeldey for treasurer; Alton P. Shirley for justice-of-the-peace; Lawrence Baron, Joe Canup, Samuel Grady, Ernest Mueller and Bert Walling for constable; and no one for board of review.

Canton Township voters will ultimately select four Trustees, one justice-of-the-peace, four constables and one member for the board of review. That will take place April 1.

Of the four Trustees, the two receiving the most votes will serve four-year terms while the third and fourth place vote-getters will be awarded two-year terms.

Lake Pointe Citizens Seek Farrand School Landscaping

The president of the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association appeared before the School Board Monday night requesting that Farrand Elementary School be landscaped and access drives to the school be blacktopped.

Donald R. Dugger, 4107 Russett, the association's president, was accompanied by about six other Lake Pointe residents.

He said that by paving the access drives, thus covering the present gravel topping, greater safety to children attending Farrand would result.

He asked that the school grounds be landscaped to fit more fully into the appearance of the surrounding residential area. The Farrand school is approximately four years old.

The School Board agreed to take the request under advisement.

In other business matters, the School Board:

1. Approved the appointment of Barbara Keppler, a University of Michigan graduate, as a Spanish and French teacher at Junior High East.
2. Accepted the resignation, effective June 15, of Glen Williams, principal at Bird Elementary School, who will at that time take a position with the U-M alumni association.
3. Approved funds for Senior High counsellor Mike Hoben to attend the American Personnel Guidance Association Convention in Boston April 6-11.
4. Tabled, pending receipt of further facts, an earlier request for a $1,325 grant which would assist in the establishment of a Child Guidance Clinic in NW Wayne County.
5. Announced that another curriculum meeting would be held Feb. 25 at the Junior High East library; the meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

In news from the St. Peter's Lutheran Sunday school, the teen-age class in recent discussion sessions has placed emphasis on "Winning Your Crowd for Christ."

Lawrence Carlovsky is conducting the class and the evangelism effort of the teenagers of the congregation.

A display on the program has been prepared to alert adults of the church to the special needs for evangelism among this age group.

"This program is of vital importance to the youth of the community, to our church, and especially to our young people," stated Pastor Norman W. Berg.

SPECIAL GUEST at the First Baptist Church annual men's night program last Thursday was John Felix Koli (left), a journalism student from the Congo now attending Wayne State University. He was a member of a foreign student discussion panel that appeared to express views on a variety of topics. Koli is shown with Mrs. James Corzine, president of the church's Women's Society, Mrs. Robert Boltwood, assistant advisor of the department of foreign students and religious activities at WSU, and Mrs. Dunbar Davis, the church's Christian Social Concern chairman. WHEN YOU HEAT WITH NATURAL GAS IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE THAT January this year was one of the coldest we've had in many years

Throughout most of the month gas appliances worked harder than usual. Your gas furnace worked overtime—maintaining the steady, even, comfortable temperatures that you and your family have come to demand and enjoy. The gas water heater was busier too, because the water coming into the home was colder than normal. More hot meals and beverages were prepared for cold weather menus.

This helps explain why your gas bill for January was higher than usual. It really is easy to forget how cold it has been when you let automatic gas heat take over your heating worries.

COMPARED WITH OTHER LIVING COSTS, GAS IS ONE OF THE BIGGEST BARGAINS IN THE FAMILY BUDGET

Lack of Interest Plagues Primary

 This year, in the City there are 4,550 registered — and thus eligible — voters for the Feb. 18 primary. In the Township, the total is 3,864.

Insiders anticipate a "terribly light vote" Monday. Some even predict that fewer than 15 per cent of the voters will make decisions that rightfully belong to 8,400 here.

At any rate, City voters will choose among 11 candidates for City Commission, while all of the elective offices in the Township will be concerned there.

CITY
 As always, the City election is non-partisan. Of the 11 candidates, voters may name "no more than eight." The ultimate winners will be chosen on April 1 from among the eight who survive the primary.

Those in the race include:
 Neil Davidson, Leon L. Merriman, Robert L. Smith, Jr., J. Rusing Cutler, A. E. Vallier, George Hudson, Harry L. Hunter, Jamiel M. Jabara, Eldon W. Martin, George Lawton and William Silvis.

Statements and biographies of all of them appeared in last week's issue of The Mail.

TOWNSHIP

There is no declared opposition to incumbent Supervisor Roy Lindsay. Clerk John McEwen or Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, all Republicans.

Several Republican candidates for Trustee will draw most of the limited attention that Township voters will place on the election. The seven are: David Katke, Martin Fleming, Jr., Frederick Berry, Dick Lauterbach, Ralph Garber, Frank Millington, and incumbent C. Veach Sparks.

Voters may pick no more than three.

There are four vacancies and four candidates for Township Constable. The four candidates are Robert Burns, Donald King, Louis Schomberger and Philip Truesdell. All are Republicans.

Three men have entered the justice-of-the-peace race and there is one vacancy. The trio are Republicans Lawrence Schendel and Lee Butler and Democrat Maurice Breen. The latter is the only declared Democratic candidate.

Walter Sumner seeks re-election to the Board of Review.

Biographies and statements of most Township candidates appeared in last week's issue of The Mail.

As in all partisan primaries, voters can vote only a party ballot. They are unable to mix their choices between Democratic and Republican candidates, in other words.

Will You Be There?

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold their mid-winter roast beef dinner at the Masonic Temple, on Thursday, Feb. 14, from 5:30-7:00. Tickets, available at the door, are priced at $1.50 each for adults and 65 cents each for children.

Federal Funds

Sincock returned with a feeling that previously-made plans for financing the parking improvement were inadequate to assure federal participation.

The tentative plan involved a 50 per cent federal grant a 25 per cent federal loan (re-payable by the City at large) and a 25 per cent special assessment against property owners affected by the program.

Sincock's impression was that this arrangement would not be acceptable to the government, since the decision over releasing federal funds for such projects rests heavily on how much permanent new employment would result.

"We're going to have to come up with a new plan of some type in order to rejuvenate that area," Sincock reported later. "That's going to be a major project of the next City Commission."

Prohibited by City Charter from serving more than two consecutive Commission terms, Sincock — about to complete his second straight four-year term — will not be involved in Commission decisions after the April 1 election.

While the parking improvement project must definitely undergo revisions, according to Sincock, the City is compelled to adopt a "wait-and-see" attitude regarding the other three projects.

While neither of the three men were able to hazard a guess as to the City's percentages on receiving federal funds eventually, all were in agreement over the value of the visit to the nation's capitol.

"I think this type of personal visit is far more worthwhile than any number of telephone calls or letters," one of the three related.

"To me, this type of personal interview is a must," Sincock said. "We'll keep a close follow up on all of this," he stated, indicating a standing need for maintaining careful contact with federal authorities over the three public works projects that are contemplated here.

Applications for all three have been in federal hands since late October. If each is approved — under the terms of the accelerated public works program — the City would receive 50 per cent of the total construction costs.

It would amount to more than $500,000 and would be issued in the form of an outright grant-in-aid. The City would not be required to repay any of it.

Prior to the trio's one-day junket to Washington, it was understood locally that previous appropriations for accelerated public works projects had been used up.

Sincock, Glassford and Draugelis learned otherwise during the course of their visit.

"There is still money left from the first $400,000,000 appropriation," Sincock explained, "and they're continuing to process requests, trying to determine which of them has the greatest need."

Sincock said that there are more applications for PWAA funds than there is remaining money — but that, nevertheless, there are some original funds left.

"Mrs. Griffiths and Sen. Hart's assistant both felt that Congress would appropriate additional monies sometime in March," the City's mayor related, "perhaps as much as $500 million to bring the total to $900 million, which was the amount of the original authorization."

School Board

may accept all — or any portion — of it in order to stay within budget.

By calling for a "package bid" on the trio of projects, the School Board hopes to gain a favorable advantage in total costs.

The $850,000 estimate does not include architect's fees nor equipment and furniture, explained Board President Gerald Fischer Monday evening.

Minor modifications, brought about by the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal, were discussed Monday evening for the Senior High and Junior High West projects. Approval of the modifications was granted, subject to a final review of the changes by the facilities committee.

Among the modifications was a combined increase of $14,000 for improvements in the public address, fire alarm and clock systems at the Senior High. Relocation of a storage area and the addition of another exit door was the last-minute change in plans for Junior High West.

Chips from the ROCK

Last weekend I inadvertently got hold of a copy of the Boyer Citizen, a fine little weekly paper serving the Boyer Mountain area and published by a gent, whom I've never met, named Gregg Smith. This ambitious publisher took it upon himself to expound a few of his own theories in which he was "taking apart," so to speak, the wisdom of Wayne University's Journalism Department prexy, Sprague Holden.

Holden, at last week's convention of the Michigan Press Association, scolded Michigan's newspaper columnists, first, because of the wearisome reading and their predictability and, secondly, because there wasn't enough heat in any of them to boil a breakfast egg.

These were his major criticisms based on the fact that Michigan wasn't the perfect state and that the towns these papers represented were not Utopias.

Of the 250 columns Holden examined fortunately mine was not included. First, because I am not a columnist and this particular weekly endeavor might contain things highly unsavory to those journalists who class themselves as columnists, therefore, there was no reason for any of these efforts being submitted under the pretense of being a column.

In scoring Holden, the Boyer editor had this to say. "You've got it right there, Holden. The cities and towns represented by these papers are not Utopias. In fact they are more like little Peytons."

"This is a basic fact that columnists in a small town must constantly keep in mind. Something professor Holden didn't have to repress in his literary effort when he once conducted a weekly column for the big, folksy Detroit Free Press."

The Boyer editor further tells the story of a now deceased, smart old publisher, who once told him to remember that he only had a dozen accounts to keep his paper alive and if he lost one each year for the next twelve years because they were mad, he would be out of business at the end of a dozen years.

Well, this is all interesting jargon and we congratulate editor Gregg on his perception as far as stepping on toes are concerned. I don't think any weekly editor relishes the idea of disagreeing with the people he lives so closely with and certainly the metropolitan editor can pot-shoot as much as he likes, because no matter how many he drops by the way there are hundreds more to take their place.

That isn't true in a small town and it isn't true in Plymouth. BUT of greater concern to me than those who fall by the road as victims of editorial disagreement are those we lose as victims of the creeping parasite of business failures which are making hollow tombs of the stores in our business sections.

For a while this major problem seemed to recede in importance while the community was waiting for the bounteous hand of Uncle Sam to spill some of its gravy over our town. From my window, it looks as if we have been bypassed, perhaps happily so, and that the time has again arrived for some constructive action on the part of our own citizenry if we are to prevent a ghost town from developing in our midst.

True, there are some healthy signs of revitalization on the main streets, but there are also areas that need immediate attention. A change in our city government, which is inevitable under our charter, will not immediately be beneficial as far as this particular problem is concerned. The problem must be solved by the merchants and business firms who are still active and doing business here today.

There are three local, well established business institutions, downtown, now considering the advisability of continuing on in business here. IN ALL THREE CASES THERE IS ONE MAJOR SOLUTION TO THEIR PROBLEM... foot traffic.

This, then again, raises the question of more parking facilities to bring more people on the streets. Stores cannot exist without foot-traffic and you can't get that kind of traffic today unless people can drive close to the doors and park their cars.

Some effort, some group, the Chamber of Commerce, or someone must motivate some immediate, concrete action to provide more parking, the opening of the north side of Penniman avenue and the development of close-in business locations which would and will compliment our present retail outlets.

The city will have three hold-over commissioners; Wernette, Beyer and Houk. Three capable public servants. Of these three, Commissioner Houk has spent many, many hours, that I happen to know of, studying and planning ways to help our downtown business area. I have no way of knowing the desires of any of these three in relationship to being mayor, and conceivably it probably would be one of the three, so why not give the job to Jim Houk and let his vitality tackle this momentous problem to the benefit of all. It is one of his main interests today and I just have a feeling that he might get the job done before it is too late.

At any rate, editor Gregg up in Boyer Mountain, who knows, I may have lost a good shoe account, by sticking my neck out, and suggesting that Commissioner Houk take on another major headache. That's the way the ball bounces in this hectic business, you know.

Remember... Your Loved Ones

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Eaton:
 I am not a crank and I do believe, with all my heart, in America and the principles for which America was founded. However, I now believe that we are wandering far away from those principles and our faith and belief in God. Am I also to assume that we are a free people when according to the 'Wall Street Journal' Americans owe $61.5 billion (on the cuff)? Does that make us a free people? Not in my book.

Yet we are expected to have faith in our country and in God when we are in debt clear up to our eye-brows and insist on living from pay-check to pay-check. Where will it all end? This frantic desire to get more and more at all cost to our health, freedom, contentment etc. Is this the right road to happiness? I don't believe it is.

This, to me, is the road to hopelessness and despair, both mentally and physically. I had hoped that my letter to you entitled, 'Escape' would be worthy of your attention and that it might in some way help someone to free themselves of their economic chains and maybe restore their faith in God, just a little bit. I know that the method that I described works because I have applied it to my own life and have found it to be most effective. I know that you are very busy so I won't take up more of your time. Thank you very much.

Sincerely Yours,
 Robert E. Rowland

The vicious circle of political credit-taking is an interesting phenomena to watch. A recent example of a dispute over pride of accomplishment came when Gov. George Romney presented his budget message to the Legislature. He said some $34.6 million surplus would result at the end of the current fiscal year. Some $33 million of this, he proposed, should be applied to the state's current deficit.

Gov. John B. Swainson made a similar pronouncement a few weeks before the end of his two-year term. Citing savings accomplished under his administration, Swainson then estimated the surplus at $35 million.

The Democrats, now without the attractive public forum automatically provided to the party which holds the executive office, would very much like to take credit for reducing the deficit. Ever since 1959 when the fiscal crisis of a "payless, payday" brought national attention to Michigan's problems, the Democrats were largely given the blame for creating the deficit. Their voices were hardly heard when they attempted to shift the blame to the Republican controlled Legislature.

There is no doubt that the surplus to be counted on July 1 will be a remainder from the Swainson administration, since his budget runs through the end of the current fiscal year.

The likelihood of his party getting credit for creating the surplus is very small, however. Legislative records will show that the surplus is largely the result of a $77 million "nuisance tax" package passed during 1962. The same record will show Democrats in the Legislature fought the tax down to the wire and in the end provided only the bare minimum of votes necessary to pass the package through both houses. The same record will show that Swainson voiced publicly his reluctance in letting the tax bills become law without his signature. It is rare when a Governor attempts to take credit for a law which on passage he did not approve by signing it into effect.

Gambling, prohibited by law, is practiced in one particular way almost daily in Michigan, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

"If you sit in a parked car with the motor running, you are taking a gamble with death," he said.

At least a dozen young people, and at least 45 persons of all ages, have been killed by carbon monoxide poisoning in the early part of this winter, said Heustis.

The lack of wisdom of sitting in a parked car with the motor running is never realized until it's too late, because there is no fool-proof method of detecting the silent deadly carbon monoxide. The victims are usually overcome rather suddenly without warning, because the rapid buildup of carbon monoxide causes the occupants of the vehicle to be overcome without experiencing the headache, nausea and smarting eyes which are common symptoms of exposure to the fumes.

Because of the high incidence of carbon monoxide deaths among young couples in parked cars, Heustis has issued a special request for parents to impress upon their children the danger of such a practice.

"The best way to prevent accidental carbon monoxide exposure in a car is simply never to sit in one with the motor running and all the windows closed," said Heustis.

If you want a job well done, seek an expert at it. This is exactly what the Michigan Week officials have done in naming a chairman for Hospitality Day during the May observance.

Win Schuler of Marshall, well-known for his four restaurants, plays host to thousands of visitors to the state every day.

As head of the planning for Hospitality Day during Michigan's annual "brag week," Schuler is urging every community to carry on activities to demonstrate its friendliness to visitors.

As in previous years, Schuler hopes communities will provide free meals, entertainment, gifts and parking, or just official greetings to visitors coming into Michigan from other states.

His recipe calls for presenting Michigan as "America's Hospitalityland." The ingredients are a friendly greeting and a gracious invitation to visit, mixed with a bowl of friendship and good fellowship.

"A happy and friendly place to live, a place to be proud of; these are the assets we own and must display if we are to grow and prosper to the fullest fruition," says Schuler.

If these are the ingredients which have given Schuler the success he enjoys in his commercial enterprise, it is very likely that properly applied they could also work to advantage for communities in the state.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS-AT-HEART
 BY MELVIN L. WOELL, MGR.
 INFORMATION DIVISION
 MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

When Alice followed the White Rabbit down the hole in the base of the tree, she could not have been more confused than those now involved in the "multiple price, certificate plan" scheme for wheat.

Prime difference between Lewis Carroll's whimsical tale and the Washington Wheat Wonderland, is that Alice woke up. Now, it's up to the American farmer to see if he can waken in time. At stake are strict acreage allotments, a new higher type of marketing quotas, "diverted acre controls" and a long list of new powers that may be handed to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Back of it all is a section of the Agricultural Act of 1962 that calls for a multiple-price, wheat certificate plan, to be placed before wheat growers in a referendum. Two-thirds of those voting must approve the scheme before it can be adopted. Under the law, the Secretary of Agriculture has up to the 15th of April to announce the terms of the referendum and the vote date, which must take place within 60 days of the announcement, and before June 15.

The certificate two-price plan assumes that there are two main wheat "markets"—a primary market that includes wheat for food, and the portion of wheat exported that the Secretary of Agriculture cares to include. "Secondary" wheat is that used for feed-grains and the world market. "Certificate" wheat would be supported at 65 to 90 per cent of parity, at the Secretary's decision. Non-certificate wheat would be supported on a complicated schedule in relation to feed-grains, feed value and world market prices. In all, the heavy hand of the Secretary plus political determinations would be constantly apparent.

Wide opposition to the certificate plan has been growing in all parts of the country, including the south, where farmers have seen what federal special commodity programs can do to their markets and incomes. Cotton farmers have all but lost their markets, and tobacco growers are aware that any program that brings with it constant cuts in allotments, can only guarantee that small farmers remain that way, or grow even smaller. The average tobacco allotment is now seven-tenths of an acre.

Anchor Coupling Profits Increase
Six-months' sales gains of 39 per cent, to a record $10,185,412, and profits up 32.4 cents per share, were reported by Anchor Coupling Co., Inc. for the fiscal six-month period ended Dec. 31.
Don F. Stranberg, President, said that while net profits of $544,334 indicate a jump of 110 per cent, a non-recurring expense item of $169,132 in the first half of last year was responsible for a large part of this increase.
Without the non-recurring item deducted from 1961 figures, Stranberg said, "this year's profit increase still is a healthy 27.1 per cent - earnings totalling 61.8 cent per share for the six months' period."

Swimmers Trounce Fordson, Allen Park; Now Are 10-2

On the crest of a winning streak that conceivably could bring Plymouth its 100th dual-meet victory since swimming was added to the athletic program here in 1953, the Rocks racked up two more decisions last week with the utmost ease.

Fordson and Allen Park were Plymouth's latest victims as the Rocks stretched their winning skein to eight straight this season and bolstered their overall won-lost record for 1962-63 to an impressive 10-2 mark.

Fordson bowed by a 67-38 margin on Tuesday as last week and Allen Park submitted to a 67-34 lashing two nights later.

Plymouth's two most recent opponents were so much on the "easy side" that the Rocks' swim coach John McFall shuffled his starters considerably in one meet in order to get a look at the capabilities of some of his second-string swimmers.

The shuffling of first-stringers found Gary Gould, team co-captain, winding up in the 100-yard butterfly where he gained a third place finish against Allen Park. Gould had competed in the butterfly only seldom in the past this season.

The other Rocks' co-captain, diver Mark Schultheiss, dove only for exhibition in the diving competition against Fordson, and as a result was awarded no points.

While the Plymouth swimmers have rolled easily past their last eight opponents, three of the next four dual meets on the Rocks agenda could be exceptionally tough ones.

FORDSON

Dan Olson, Dave Agnew, Jim Beglinger and Pete Gustafson opened with a victory in the 200-yard medley relay, and then Dave Beglinger won the 200-yard free with Dan Cook finishing second.

Gould was first in the 50-yard free, Tom Blunk claiming a second place ribbon. Jim Beglinger set a Fordson pool record as he won the 200-yard individual medley in 2:18 flat. It cracked the previous standard by more than two seconds.

Bert Quinn and John Herter finished two-three in the diving as Schultheiss competed only for exhibition purposes.

Dave Beglinger matched his brother's efforts as he set a Fordson pool record in winning the 160-yard butterfly in :59.9. Previous record was :60.5.

Gould won the 100-yard free (thus becoming a double winner for the Rocks in the contest) and Gustafson was first and Doug Breed second in the 400-yard free, and Agnew was third in the 100-yard breast-stroke.

Mike Drennan, Jim Norman, Geoff Burke and Mike Britcher won the 200-yard freestyle relay to conclude the event.

Jim Beglinger was second and George Collins third in the 400-yard free and Agnew won the 100-yard backstroke in the good time of 1:11.5.

Still experimenting, McFall called upon Rick Malboeuf, Mike Britcher, Jim Mattison and Pete Gustafson for the 200-yard freestyle relay, the final event of the evening.

They responded with a victory in the time of 1:40.9. The meet this Thursday is at Belleville. The Rocks previously beat Belleville on Jan. 10.

ALLEN PARK

Olson, Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Gustafson won the 200-yard medley relay, and Gould and Breed were two-three in the 200-yard freestyle. It was one of the few times that Gould had been beaten in the 200-yard free.

Berry won the 50-yard free with Blunk a close second.

Jim Beglinger and Jeff Hoffman were first and third, respectively, in the 200-yard individual medley, and Schultheiss won the diving with Quinn third.

Dave Beglinger was second in the 100-yard butterfly where Gould — in a shuffle of Plymouth players — wound up with a third place ribbon. Last time Gould swam the butterfly was also against Allen Park, but that time he was declared a winner.

Berry won the 100-yard free and Blunk was second.

(Berry and Blunk turned in their best individual performances to date in the Allen Park match. In the 50-yard free, Berry was timed in :24 flat and Blunk in :24.7. In the 100, Berry was a winner in :53.9 and Blunk was clocked in :54.3.)

Olson won the 100-yard backstroke and George Gardner turned in his best time of the year as he picked up a third place finish in the same

Neighboring Swim Club Seeks Local Members

Plymouth support is being sought this week by a group of Northville residents who are striving to organize a non-profit community swim club, complete with an Olympic-sized swimming pool.

Local representatives for the club are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson, 1461 Maple St.

Five residents of the neighboring community have incorporated and elected officers. President of the swim club is J. R. Jackson.

Jackson explained that the club's organizers are seeking Plymouth participation in the project in order to lend further strength to the move.

He said that the club's officers are shooting for 200 paid family memberships by March 1 and that they already have received 43 membership payments. Jackson indicated that an estimated 30 more memberships — each at $350 — were expected "within the next few days."

All told, the swim club will require 350 family memberships in order to meet the estimated $117,000 total costs of the project. Jackson said that the organizers have already optioned 2.6 acres of land next to the Senior High in Northville near the Eight Mile expressway.

"We started this primarily as a Northville project, but we found that it would be necessary to expand our participation considerably in order to make it a reality," Jackson said.

"Not only do we hope to obtain a great many Plymouth members in the club," he continued, "but we would also like to get representation from the Plymouth area on our board of directors."

There are provisions in the club's charter for a nine-member governing board.

In addition to the $350 membership fee, annual dues are $50, he said. "Fifty dollars a year is less than you'd pay in taxes if you installed a pool in your back yard," Jackson stated.

The pool, which eventually would be covered for year-round use, would at first be uncovered and available only during the summer season. Plans call for the pool to measure 82-feet by 44-feet. There would be full family facilities.

Jackson said that the swim club's organizers have been told by contractors that if work on the pool is begun by April 1, it would be in use by June 1. The 200 memberships represent a target that organizers must meet before going ahead with actual construction.

Jackson added that memberships are being offered to residents in the Novi area, too.

Further information may be obtained from the Larsons (GL 3-1073) or from Jackson (FI 9-117).

Both games concluded the regular season for the two teams.

Three Hockey Teams Advance in Play-Offs

Three local entries in the Garden City Recreation hockey league advanced in post-season tournament action last week as all three gained victories in their respective opening rounds in the Lower Peninsula playoffs of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association.

The Plymouth T-Birds picked up a tournament win as they defeated Nankin Mills, 4-1, behind John Hickner's two-goal spurt. Craig Freed and John Gilles contributed the other scores for the winners.

The victory moved the T-Birds into the third round of play when they drew a bye in the second round pairings. Earlier, the T-Birds concluded the regular season with a 3-2 loss to Wayne. Gilles and Jim Elias each scored once for the T-Birds who are playing in the bantam division.

In the Midget division, the Plymouth Royals concluded their regular season with a 7-3 victory over Ypsilanti and then downed the NW Trojans of Detroit, 4-0, in first round battling in the tournament pairings.

The tournament win was spurred by Brad Miller who had two goals for the Royals. The other came on single scores by Terry Cosgrove and Dale Tonkovich.

The Royals, too, moved to the third round after drawing a second round bye.

The Optimist-sponsored Blackhaws defeated Garden City, 3-2, last week as Lee Benz scored twice and Tom Lockwood once. It concluded the regular season for the Blackhaws, who compete in Garden City's juvenile division.

The win also was the Blackhaws' 10th straight in league play and capped a championship season for the local team.

Later, in tourney play, the Blackhaws' Skip Otwell fired home the winning goal as the Plymouth team defeated Livonia, 4-3, in overtime.

Otwell, held scoreless during regular time in the battle, slammed in his score with about two minutes gone in the overtime period to clinch the win for the Plymouth skaters.

Jay Vees "Platoon" Allen Park, 53-43, For Fourth Victory

Taking a page from the varsity team's playing book, the Plymouth junior varsity relied on a two-platoon system Friday evening in downing Allen Park's Jay Vees, 53-43.

It was Plymouth's fourth victory in 12 games.

The Junior Rocks trailed only once — and then just briefly — as Allen Park took a short-lived two-point lead in the second quarter.

By intermission, Plymouth had engineered a 39-31 advantage and won going away in the second half.

Bill Nelson paced Plymouth with 16 points and teammate Dave Tidwell added 10. Nelson is a center and Tidwell a forward.

Coach Dick Bearup alternated two five-man units and nine of the 10 players who saw action shared in the scoring.

Cagers Make It Two in A Row With 50-45 Win

Plymouth turned to its defense to spur a second half rally last Friday night that led the Rocks to their fourth basketball win of the season in the form of a 50-45 decision over Allen Park.

The victory moved Plymouth into fourth place in the Suburban Six conference on the strength of a 3-4 league mark. Trenton, previously deadlocked with the Rocks, dropped back a notch as it lost a 69-50 battle to Belleville.

With three games remaining in league action, Plymouth is eyeing third place on the ladder of standings, a spot presently held by Belleville.

Plymouth plays host to Belleville this Friday night. Allen Park proved a stubborn contender for the Rocks last weekend, despite its last place ranking in the conference. The Parkers marched to a 10-point third quarter lead before Plymouth caught fire and rallied to win.

Once again relying on a two-platoon system, Coach Charlie Ketterer alternated between the "blue" squad and the "white" team and found it profitable.

Ten players saw action for the Rocks and all 10 shared in the scoring. Dick Schryer, Doug Sutherland and Gary Grady paced the offense with eight points apiece.

Schryer and Grady are "blue" team members, Sutherland is a "white."

The remainder of Plymouth's scoring punch was spread widely. Dick Egloff had six points, Cal Luibrand and Jerry Kisabeth each had five. Chris Gaffield tallied four, and Tom McGill, H. I. Kuisel and Jim Lake contributed two apiece.

Allen Park took a slender 11-10 first period lead and stretched it to 28-22 at the intermission. With four minutes gone in third period, the Rocks trailed 37-27 but surged to within one point by the start of the fourth quarter.

Defense was the difference in the last half for the Rocks. As Plymouth exploded for 28 points in the last two periods, Allen Park managed only 17 in the face of the Rocks' constant defensive pressure.

An illustration of Plymouth's defensive strength in the second half was found in Kisabeth's work around Allen Park's scoring ace, Chuck Svuluto.

Svuluto wound up the night with 18 points for the losers, but got only five in the second half as Kisabeth smothered his offensive hopes with high success.

Bentley High moved into the lead in the Suburban Six basketball conference last Friday with a 69-57 decision over Redford Union, a team that had led the league or shared first place since opening day.

The victory placed Bentley at the top with a 6-1 mark, while Redford Union boasts a 5-2 record. The two teams had shared the league leadership for a week.

Elsewhere in the Suburban Six, Belleville kept its slender title hopes alive with a 69-50 decision against Trenton and Plymouth rallied for a 50-45 win over Allen Park.

The current standings:

WON	LOST
Bentley 6	1
Redford Union 5	2
Belleville 4	3
PLYMOUTH 3	4
Trenton 2	5
Allen Park 1	6

Each member school has three games remaining as far as the league schedule is concerned. Plymouth, a 55-47 victor over Redford Union two weeks ago, will host Belleville here Friday night. A win could move Plymouth into a tie for third place.

Free throws were Plymouth's mainstay in the final eight minutes. The Rocks scored only one field goal during that span, but chipped away with 11 of 13 free throws to put the victory out of Allen Park's reach.

The Rocks made 20 of 26 free throws in the second half, and 26 of 40 during the entire contest. It amounted to 65 per cent from the free throw line. Allen Park scored 17 of 31.

In the field goal department, neither team did well. The Rocks cashed only 12 shots from the floor out of 54 attempts, a 22 per cent average.

Allen Park did little better. It hit on 14 of 40 field goals or 35 per cent.

"When you shoot 22 per cent and win, you're accomplishing two things," said Plymouth's Ketterer later. "First of all, you're awful lucky, and secondly you're playing over a lot of obstacles."

He said that Plymouth's hustle and determination, particularly in the second half, was what enabled the Rocks to gain the victory.

"That was what helped us over those obstacles," he explained.

The Belleville contest Friday night will begin at approximately 8 p.m. It will follow the junior varsity game between the same two schools. A varsity victory over Belleville would move Plymouth into a third-place tie.

Letter to the Editor

Sports Editor
Plymouth Mail
 Dear Sir:
 We always read with interest your accounts of local sports events. No complaints on what you include. However, it seems you are somewhat shy on information about one of the high school swim team's co-captains.

Recently Schultheiss piled up more points than had ever been scored for a Plymouth Diver. I believe it was 77 points in the Trenton meet, but I'm not sure of this. Also he is the only member of the team who is a four-year varsity man. His performance on the football team wasn't bad, either. He regularly swims in the free-style relay event and one foursome has been clocked fourth in the state in the "best time" category.

Talk to his team-mates — I believe they will applaud his leadership qualities.

Sincerely,
 An Interested Fan

(Editor's Note: Other than its "Interested Fan" signature, the preceding letter to the sports editor was unsigned. The Mail does not ordinarily publish anonymous letters, but will withhold the writer's name upon request. We printed this anonymous one, however, because of its evident sincerity and solid intentions. Among the dozen or more outstanding members on Plymouth's varsity swim team, Schultheiss ranks particularly high and — we admit — may have been somewhat overlooked in view of his fine accomplishments. His performance as an end on the varsity football squad also was a large factor in Plymouth's success last fall on the gridiron. We might add that in the issue of The Mail for Jan. 30 we clearly stated that his 77.3 points in diving competition was a personal high.)

PLYMOUTH'S varsity basketball team has had its ups and downs this season. Loudest claim to fame by the Rocks, however, was a handy 55-47 upset victory over heavily-favored Redford Union High two Fridays ago. The Plymouth cagers with their coach and student managers are shown here. Front row, from left: Frank

Auto-Crat Runs 2nd In Men's Cage Loop

Auto-Crat Manufacturing remained a notch behind Cloverdale in the men's recreation basketball league last week, as both teams posted easy wins.

Second place Auto-Crat unleashed a 63-43 decision against D.S.I., while Cloverdale trounced Tait's Cleaners, 64-37. Auto-Crat's only loss in the men's conference has been to Cloverdale. The dairy team is unbeaten in its bid for league honors.

Ken Kisabeth hit 17 points for Cloverdale and gained help from teammate Mel Bobcean, who tallied 12. For Tait's Wayne Wood and Bill Basham each scored nine points in a losing effort.

Dan Stremick's 19-point spree paced Auto-Crat. Tom Garchow added 12. For D.S.I., Dave Gothard had 14 and Tom Ferguson seven.

The standings:

Team	Won	Lost
Cloverdale	5	0
Auto-Crat	4	1
Tait's	1	4
D. S. I.	0	5

The men's recreation basketball games are played Wednesday nights at the Senior High gymnasium. There is no admission charge.

Jay Vee Swimmers Gain No. 7

The JayVee swim team rolled to its seventh victory in eight dual meets last week as Allen Park bowed 56-49. The Plymouth JayVees clinched the decision by winning the 200-yard freestyle relay, final event of the meet.

It was a virtual repeat of the previous Plymouth-Allen Park JayVee dual meet when the junior Rocks had to win the final event to claim the victory that time by a 53-51 margin.

Jim Haarbauer and Mike Drennan turned in double victories to pace the Rocks. Haarbauer won the 200-yard and 400-yard freestyle events, and Drennan captured the 50-yard free and the 100-yard butterfly. Each gained 10 points.

The Rocks ran up a 37-11 edge in freestyle events but Allen Park stayed in the race with a 38-19 margin in the other individual action. Plymouth was second in the 200-yard medley relay, the opening event.

There is no JayVee meet this week, but on Feb. 20 the junior Rocks visit Bentley and on Feb. 25 they host Trenton.

This is the way Plymouth fashioned its JayVee victory over Allen Park:
 Rich Irvine, Don Norman, Tom Stribley and Rick Ott were second in the 200-yard medley relay, and Haarbauer won the 200-yard free with Bob Knapp finishing second. Drennan won the 50-yard free with Jim Norman gaining a second place finish.

Junior Baseball League Meeting Set for Feb. 14

First meeting for 1963 of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League (formerly Little League) will be held Thursday, Feb. 14, at 8 p.m. at the Senior High auditorium.

It will be an open meeting for parents of prospective players eight through 12 years old.

Plans for the 1963 season, which will begin the end of June, will be discussed by board members and a question and answer period will conclude the meeting.

Already, plans are underway to expand the two divisions to eight teams apiece this season. There were six teams in both divisions last year. The Junior Baseball League program was formed here in 1960.

Donald Graham is president. Gordon Robinson is secretary. Harvey Troutman is vice-president in charge of financing. Interested adults may contact Graham (GL 3-3267) for further information. John Hoffman and Al Adams are player agents for the two divisions.

The Prof and Basketball

'37 Team Was Best At PHS in Thirties

(As a result of his recent self-imposed vacation from writing "The Professor Sez," jovial Ed Brown has been taking some friendly needling over his "independence" from staffers at The Mail. Here, he resumes his popular column, first since the holidays. We hope to see Ed's byline regularly in The Mail's pages from now on.)

By ED BROWN

I suppose some of you have been wondering just what happened to the "Old Prof" since the Christmas season. Well, it has been a combination of many things — extra work at the end of the school semester, a fter Christmas let-down, the cold, snappy weather plus a general disposition of not feeling like writing when an inner urge is not present.

I believe we all have moments when we do not want to do certain things, that in the main, we enjoy doing most of the time.

My last article contained the all-star football selections of the "depression thirties." A recent letter from "Beef" Matheson, the venerable coach of that period, tells of the many good basketball players of that same span.

The popular former coach says that the best team while he was here was probably the quintet of 1937 when the Rocks captured the state district and regional titles.

The first string that year consisted of Gordie Moe and Orlan Egloff at forwards, Bob Edge at center, and Ray Martin and Jack Ross at the guards. Moe and Egge received all-state honorable mention that year, and Coach Matheson says that Jack Ross was the best player of the 1930's as far as he was concerned.

Another Plymouth team captured second place in the Twin Valley league in 1935 and 1936 and was a good outfit also. Players included Elwood Elliott, Jack Kinsey, Harold Wagenschutz, Don Shille and Dave Gates.

However, the former coach says there were so many good basketball players during that 10-year span that it is hard to single out one all-star team.

He listed some "key performers" as the following: Chuck Beagle, Elton Knapp, Pete Foster, Russ Sockow, Ken Gust, Ed DePorter, Chuck Ball, John Randall, Paul Carley, Clyde Ferguson, Jim Williams, Bob Champe, Harold Williams, Ken Gates, Clarence Levandowski.

Also Howdy Schryer, Grant Miller, Don Bronson, Mel Blunk, Ray Trimble, Jack Williams, Jack Gordon, Matt McLellan, Lindl Coffin, Douglas Prough, Loyd Trinka, Marve Sackett and Ken Klien-schmidt.

So all you alumni from the thirties can be your own judge and pick out the team you think would be the best, and someone else probably could pick another outfit that would be just as good. It is a little fun though, isn't it?

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO ???
 BOB CHAMPE, who starred in football, basketball, baseball and tennis before graduation from PHS in 1934.

As you recall Bob was a small fellow of 130 pounds soaking wet with a wash cloth in one hand and a bar of soap in the other. An informant tells me of an incident that happened during the Plymouth-River Rouge football game one year. It seems that the down-river school had an all-star tackle named Sabbeth, who happened to weigh around 250 — twice what young Champe weighed. Bob kept trying to block his opponent, but was not very effective. He said to Coach Matheson, "What can I do — I hit that guy and all I do is bounce about 20 feet." Of course "Beef" came back with, "Just keep hitting him, but harder."

While in high school this star athlete was on the student council, and since he had a good voice, he sang solos at many public functions.

After graduation Bob entered Eastern Michigan at Ypsilanti and graduated with an AB degree in education. In college he participated in track, tennis and golf; was secretary of the Men's Union, and a member of the Arm of Honor fraternity. During his junior year his classmates elected him class president.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

Time to send a valentine or two. It's that time of year when you can bring a heart-shaped box of goodies home to the beautiful wife without her casting a suspicious eye at such strange actions. Valentine's Day is truly being celebrated out in New York city where the drama critics are being wooed with an intensity that rivals any teenage romance.

The newspaper strike plays the role of Dan Cupid in fostering this unique love affair. Never before have the theater producers and publicity men sought the critical comments of the drama critics. They pay high prices for their messy carbon copies. A Mr. Copeland is paying the highest prices for carbons since he published all seven of the reviews in a special four page publication that hits the news stands on the morning after.

The price for "The First Night" is a whopping fifty cents. Copeland sold 3,000 copies of his first issue after the opening of Tennessee Williams' controversial "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore."

Drama critics are gracing the New York TV screens and sharing radio "mikes" with news casters on a weekly basis. Some press agents have even hired soundtracks to tour Manhattan blaring out excerpts from the reviews of their shows. And yet all their efforts aren't helping the situation.

Folks still miss their daily papers. Many weekly papers in the area are being rediscovered by the urban readers. Theatrical producers, as much as they might detest some of the barbed statements of the critics, fondly look for a cessation of the newspaper strike. A full page ad in the New York Times can be purchased for $7,000 (Note to our advertisers: we told you our rates were reasonable) whereas radio spots in prime time cost a cool $2,500 a crack.

And you have to order a large number of spots to plug a show. The weekly advertising bill has more than doubled for most producers. The old movies on TV late at night are being shoved out of their late, late slot. Steve Allen returned this past week on Channel 2 in the 11:30 spot formerly held by ancient flicks. His zany comments and wild stunts are a welcome relief. Old George predicts that Steve-orino will give Johnnie Carson on Channel 4 some spirited competition.

In fact, the most of the late movies are moving into the prime time slots. Channel 4 has started a Monday Night at the Movies at 7:30 p.m. The success of the Saturday Night Movies and a Channel 7 Sunday spot have prompted NBC to try this approach for the rest of the present TV season.

Of course, Old George still says that live theater is better than watching old movies. Or taking a trip occasionally to the Penn Theater where you can see and hear the best of Hollywood on the finest sound equipment makes for more enjoyment than waiting four or five years to see a cut-down version of the same movie.

Locally, the Plymouth Theater Guild moves into action this week with plans and projects for "The Mousetrap", the long-running mystery that will be their Spring production. Mary Ann Nichols was appointed Publicity Chairman. Treasurer

PLYMOUTH MAN IN Michigan Glee Club - Among the 72 members of The University of Michigan Men's Glee Club is Henry J. Naasko (right) of Plymouth shown discussing music with Dr. Philip Duey, director of the 104-year-old club which will perform in such cities as Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City April 5-10.

Jake Rumpf distributed playbooks to some of the technical personnel.

Bill Moore, Guild director and man-of-many-talents, has been given the exacting job of creating the stage set for "The Mousetrap". Guild members would like to fly Bill over to London where "The Mousetrap" has been playing for ten years now to see the set that they are using. Of course, this isn't really necessary because in past fourteen seasons the Guild has always had top stage sets.

I'm sure that Bill will come up with a stage design that will capture all the murky atmosphere so necessary for a mystery-thriller.

To accomplish all the hundred-and-one tasks so integral to the smooth operation of any community play Guild President Merly Heft has created a special planning workshop for this production. A series of planning sessions every week will be held at the High School.

First one is set for this coming Thursday evening, Feb. 14 at 8 p.m. If you're at all curious and want to find out more about the Guild, I know they will welcome your attendance. You don't have to volunteer for any work. You might want to just come and listen. Do that and make up your mind later. The Guild gang meets in the Annex Auditorium. Come over and share some ideas with them.

Kathy Moore, Vice-President of the Guild, cautioned me that by attending you will not gain access to who the real murderer is in "The Mousetrap." In fact, Saxie Heft, producer of the Spring production, has already cut out the final three pages of the script. Not even any of the members of the cast will know the identity of this foul creature.

Watch for the important dates in March when tryouts will be held or better yet drop in to the High School this week and get to know some

KIWANIS NOTES

By Ken Way

The Legion of Honor, Kiwanians with 25 years of service, added two new members, Clarence Moore and Warren Worth. Their certificates were presented by Legion member Bud Schrader.

Other Legion members are Ernie Henry, Roy Fisher, Ev Burmester, Ken Corey, George Burr and Miller Ross.

Lieutenant Governor of Division No. 6, Jack Thompson, made his official visit to the Plymouth Club for this year.

His topic was "Responsibility, The Key To Freedom". Mr. Thompson complimented the club on its selection of officers for the year. The three most important committees in his opinion are International Relations, Public & Business Affairs and Church Aims.

Active Kiwanians are everywhere accepting responsibility in other areas such as local government and other positions of community leadership.

Our world is shrinking every day and each of us must be prepared to learn to live peacefully with other members of the world community. About 250 years ago there hung a plaque over the door of a rope factory which stated "A worker in this factory weaves his conscience in this rope".

Ropes made in this factory were used for sailing vessels, and many lives depended upon them. Each of us may say - I am only one.

One alone can do very little, but many ones in a group can do a great deal to accomplish a goal. Mr. Thompson did much to bring into sharper focus the 1963 Kiwanis theme.

Jim McKeon, Institutional Representative, on Kiwanis sponsored Boy Scout Troop No. 1531, invited guests to visit with the troop on their regular Monday night meetings at Bird School.

Kiwanians Jim Winterhalter and Jim Jabara are assisting on the Scout committee. Attendance for the evening was 78. Guests included Vern Schilawski and John Schroeder, both from Plymouth.

Our program on Feb. 19 will be presented by Carl Lewis with the theme of Brotherhood Week. Carvel Bentley will be the speaker.

The new models are tilt-cab counterparts to the popular loadstar line of medium and light-heavy duty International trucks introduced last year.

"Mystery Director" To Guide Guild's "Mousetrap" Play

Director of the Plymouth Theatre Guild's forth-coming production "The Mousetrap" will remain a mystery until curtaintime, according to a recent announcement by the Guild's Board of Governors.

Although he has been selected, the director will not be revealed until local players raise the curtain on the popular stage adaptation of Agatha Christie's novel.

Tryouts for "The Mousetrap" will be held soon, it was announced. Dates, too, will be revealed shortly.

The show's planning committee will meet Feb. 14 at the Senior High annex auditorium to start the task of staging the production.

All workers and their ideas will be welcomed at the meeting, and coffee and donuts will be served. Further information may be obtained from Guild president Merly Heft (GA 2-3006) or vice-president Kathie Moore (GL 3-3809).

The next regular Theatre Guild meeting will be Monday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m. in the annex auditorium. The meeting will feature a demonstration of poster making.

THE BILLBOARD

Fisher Theater "CAMELOT" Sir Lancelot is still trying to steal Guinevere away from King Arthur nightly. Will be in town until Feb. 24.

"EVENING WITH MAURICE CHEVALIER" Opens Feb. 25 for one week. Gallic charm and singing with the wit and wisdom of 50 years of show biz thrown in. Don't miss it. Vanguard Theater "THE MASTER BUILDER" Deep, provocative drama. Ibsen at his finest. Call WO 3-3863 for tickets nightly except Monday.

Medical Self-Help Course Periled by Low Attendance

A class in family medical self-help, free of charge, was threatened by lagging attendance here last week when only a few persons turned out for the initial session at the Plymouth Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd.

"We're interested in having many more citizens of the community take advantage of this training program," said Mrs. Lyla Patterson, Plymouth leader of the Dorcas Society of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, co-sponsor of the eight-week course.

The other sponsor of the medical self-help program is the Wayne County Department of Civil Defense.

Official Name For College Is "Schoolcraft"

"Schoolcraft College" will be the official name of the newly-formed Northwest Wayne County Community College, the institution's Board of Trustees has announced.

The name honors Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, a scholar, author, University of Michigan Regent, Indian agent and explorer. His lifetime spanned Michigan's earliest years as a state.

According to the Trustees, the name Schoolcraft was chosen "to honor the memory of this man of high ideals, outstanding accomplishment and vision."

To be located at Haggerty and Seven Mile Roads in Livonia, Schoolcraft College is scheduled to open August 31, 1964, under present plans.

Ground-breaking for construction of the first group of college buildings is expected to take place sometime this spring.

Meanwhile, the name of the college district remains officially "Northwest Wayne County Community College District." The name of "Schoolcraft College" was not one submitted in the Name-the-College contest conducted by the Trustees. Hence, there is no winner of the free one-year tuition to the school.

In other business matters, the college has named Edward V. McNally as assistant dean of students. He has previously worked at Bay City Junior College and Delta College.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Burgett

BARBARA JEAN CARTER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carter, of 16515 Bradner Rd., and James Leo Burgett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burgett, of 40364 Ferguson St., repeated nuptial vows in a double ring ceremony in the Calvary Baptist Church, on Jan. 19.

Barbara J. Carter, James Burgett Exchange Vows

Making their home in Plymouth, following a double ring ceremony in the Calvary Baptist Church on Jan. 19, are Mr. and Mrs. James Leo Burgett.

The former Barbara Jean Carter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carter, of 16515 Bradner Rd. Mr. Burgett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burgett, of 40364 Ferguson St.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, fashioned with a lace bodice and cascading tiers of lace down the back which formed a church train, which gathered into a bustle. Lace flowers were set in tucks down the front of the skirt. Her elbow length tulle veil was held in place by a pearl crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Gary Heath, sister of the bride from Wayne, as matron of honor, and Mrs. Robert Schultz, of Plymouth, Mrs. William Utley, of Anderson, Ind., and Miss Nancy Braccina, of Livonia, as bridesmaids. They wore white ballerina length taffeta frocks, featuring scooped necklines, bell shaped skirts, with a bow on the waistline at the back, and three quarter length sleeves and crimson shoes and veils. They carried bouquets of red carnations. Miss Susan Robertson, sister of the bride, wore a red velvet dress with white lace trim and carried a basket of white carnations.

Serving his cousin as best man was Robert Schultz, of Plymouth. William and Nelson Carter, brothers of the bride, and Gary Burgett, brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carter chose a champagne silk dress with a jacket and matching accessories. Mrs. Burgett wore a champagne-beige and cocoa knit dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Calvary Baptist Church for 225 guests from Anderson and Fort Wayne, Ind., Detroit, St. Clair Shores, Howell, Frankemuth, Saginaw, Grosse Pointe, Wayne, Northville, Livonia and Plymouth. Later a dinner was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schultz.

Art Around Us:

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

Surrounded as we are by churches and college buildings built with soaring spires and pinnacles in the Gothic manner it is hard for us to believe that this, to us, classical ecclesiastical style was ever considered crude. In 1600 a pupil of Michelangelo described the buildings of the middle-ages as "a fantastic heap of spires, pinnacles and grotesque decorations lacking in all the simple beauty of the classical orders." The prejudice against this kind of architecture continued into the nineteenth century when it began to be admired again. It is currently in full favor and some of the principles employed in the building of Gothic cathedrals are embodied in the building of some of our modern skyscrapers.

It is impossible to talk about Gothic art and not stress the architecture of this period and even the purely artistic contributions of that time sculpture and stained-glass windows were related to architecture rather than separate forms by themselves. Sculpture was planned to enhance the buildings and to decorate functional structures. Wood carvings of beautifully designed geometric floral motifs were used lavishly throughout interiors and on outside doors on which even the hinges and locks were exquisite works of art.

But it is stained-glass windows for which this period is most admired. Like jewels in delicately ornate settings of stone, their rich colors cast a burning glow of mysterious and changing light over the interiors of Gothic cathedrals. At first these windows were closely related to illuminated Manuscripts in style, the figures stiff and distorted surrounded by bands of intricate floral and leaf designs. Later windows of exceptional beauty treated the figure, as did the early Christian mosaics, in an idealized, other-worldly way, but with the forms attenuated and exaggerated in height.

The term "stained glass" is rightly applied to glass which has been colored by fusing metallic oxides into the glass. Later artists found new metallic oxides such as copper for green tones, cobalt for blue, manganese for purple and silver for yellow, to make more variety in hue of the translucent mosaics. Glass, too, became thinner and stronger towards the end of the middle-ages and a technique known as "flashing" came into use. This involved dipping clear glass while still pliant into molten colored glass so that a thin enamel-like covering of the colored glass coated the clear thin glass.

An integral part of stained-glass mosaic windows is the lead stripping which holds the glass in place. This was pressed by a wheel device into an "H" shape to hold the glass on either side of the stripping and into the metal frame of the window. Although the main function of the lead was the practical one of supporting the glass, the artisans carefully worked the lead strips into the design itself.

By the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the old techniques had disappeared and the art of stained glass was virtually dead. However revitalizing of the art has resulted in some interesting modern treatments, notably the rebuilt Coventry Cathedral windows in Coventry, England. A handsome use of colored glass in a simple, clean-lined modern manner is the cross in the garden of the Episcopalian Church on Sheldon Road, Plymouth.

TICKETS FOR THE American Assn. of University Women's upcoming play "Beauty and the Beast" went on sale this week in local public and parochial schools. Four performances will be held in the Plymouth High School auditorium on Saturday, Feb. 23. Sorting out tickets for distribution to the schools are, left to right, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Mrs. Henry Jensen, Mrs. W. S. Miller and Mrs. Alan Read, members of the ticket committee.

K.D.'s Set Meeting

"Party Fare and Flair" will be the theme for the February 18 meeting of the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta Sorority. The meeting is to be held at Consumers Power Company, 11801 Farmington road, in Livonia.

Members are reminded that they may bring guests to this meeting.

Cast of AAUW's "Beauty and the Beast" Rehearsing Now for Feb. 23 Performance

Mrs. T. F. Devereaux, director of the Plymouth AAUW's live children's drama "Beauty and the Beast," reports all 8 members of the cast are working hard rehearsing for the February 23rd production to be given in the Plymouth High School Auditorium at 9:30, 11:00, 1:00 and 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Inomas J. Holland will portray the annual favorite - The Storybook Lady. She will wave her magic wand for the children between each scene to magically make months pass and places change as she interprets the passage of time and events. Beauty, the daughter who agrees to spend a year living with an ugly Beast, will be played by Mrs. Charles H. Heiney. Veteran actress, Mrs. L. T. Scharmen is again donning long pants and developing a deep voice for the part of the bankrupt father whose unhappy chore it is to move his three daughters from the lap of luxury to the forest of crudeness. The haughty sisters of Beauty, Tabina and Endora, are excellently being interpreted by Mrs. James Knowles and Mrs. Richard Fritz, respectively. The part of the stranger in the forest has gone to Mrs. Shirley McKeon and the fairy tale prince to Mrs. Richard Knopf. And the ugly, growly Beast will be there in the person of Mrs. W. J. Fronk!

Mrs. Robert Messerly and Mrs. Devereaux are just as magically changing bits of silk, velvet and satin into true fairy-tale gowns adorned with glittering jewelry. The costume of the Beast remains a secret until play day. Candelabras are being polished and chandelier's glittered for the castle scenes by Mrs. Jack Maas and her many helpers. Trees, doors, walls and windows are sawed and painted ready for dress rehearsal night.

Tickets are currently being sold for 35 cents in all Plymouth public elementary schools and the two parochial schools. They may also be obtained through any AAUW member, said ticket chairman, Mrs. Henry Jensen. Financial chairman for the project is Mrs. Richard A. Doherty, who happily anticipates another "sellout."

Mrs. Agnes Pauline is celebrating her tenth anniversary this year as Librarian-in-Charge at the Plymouth Dunning-Hough Library.

She had lived in the Detroit area before moving to Plymouth in 1939 and began working at the Library. Presently she lives at 190 N. Main.

Mrs. Pauline holds membership in the Business and Professional Women's club, the Michigan Library Assn., and the Michigan Button Society. She classifies herself as a "rank-amateur" as far as button collecting is concerned and is particularly interested in animal buttons and story buttons, with scenes from literature portrayed on them.

Antiques and old glass also interest Mrs. Pauline as does reading travel-books and playing cards. In colors she leans toward the autumn tones: the browns, greens and golds.

The Paulines have a home on Lake Michigan, north of Holland, where they spend summer and winter vacations.

"We're very busy here at the library in this cold weather. People must be cuddled up reading. It would certainly seem that way from all signs here," Mrs. Pauline stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Sibbold

50 YEARS AGO

An interesting company assembled at the home of John Stewart, W. Ann Arbor street, Plymouth, last Thursday evening, Feb. 6. To brother Stewart the affair was a complete surprise, his good wife having without his knowledge invited in the Eddy Post of the G.A.R. to help celebrate his sixty-ninth birthday.

Carl Heide entertained the Bachelors Club at a chicken dinner at his home last evening. It is needless to say that the members of the club thoroughly enjoyed the sumptuous repast that was served them under the direction of Mrs. Heide. After the dinner, the evening was pleasantly passed with cards.

Patterson and Bennett, agents for the Ford automobiles, sold three cars Tuesday.

A chicken-pie dinner will be given by the 4th division of the Ladies Aid Society at the M. E. Church, Feb. 19th, at six o'clock. Price 25c.

Mrs. J. L. Gale, Mrs. Ella Safford and Mrs. O. A. Fraser attended a meeting of the Detroit Review Club Monday evening, returning home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Taylor entertained the five hundred club at their home Tuesday evening.

The next important event in the village will occur on Monday, March 10th, at which time the annual village election will take place. The caucuses will be held the last of this month.

A new set of by-laws has been adopted by the Plymouth fire department and approved by the council. Every member of the department will be furnished a copy of the new by-laws when they are ready for distribution.

Twenty-one employees of the Daisy factory gave a N. Kenyon a surprise party at the home of Wm. Felt last Friday evening. Refreshments were served and it is needless to say that the gentlemen present enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

In a letter to H. B. Jolliffe, E. N. Passage says northwestern Canada is a fine country and there are fine people there, (for Canadians) but too cold for him, from 20 to 40 degrees below zero for three weeks at a time. Mr. Passage is now in Seattle, Wash., but expects to return to Calgary, Canada, to finish up his business there before returning home.

The Hough school is closed on account of the illness of the teacher, Miss Passage. She was taken sick with tonsillitis at Mrs. Anderson's and her mother was called to care for her.

Michigan produces a good sell 75 per cent of all the small fruit plants marketed within a 60 mile radius of its borders.

University of Michigan scientists demonstrated that the Salk polio vaccine was safe for public use.

How I Earned My First Dollar

Walt Ash

Walt Ash has viewed Plymouth from the same business location since 1935, but he earned his first dollar on a farm in Livonia.

The popular, genial Shell Service station owner and operator has been at the corner of Main and Wing Streets since Oct. 15, 1935, initially as a partner in the station and then as full owner.

But he was nine years old when he earned his first dollar, working on his father's farm on Middlebelt between Five and Six Mile Roads. The area there today is virtually all residential homes.

Walt recalls that he needed a dollar to buy some fireworks for the Fourth of July. His father put him to work caring for a field of early potato plants.

Walt's job was to sprinkle arsenate of lead on the plants to prevent potato bugs from destroying them. The year was 1918 and Walt was nine years old.

"My dad paid me a dollar for about a week's work and I got my fireworks," Walt related last week. "That was back when fireworks were legal in Michigan."

With several relatives living in Plymouth, Walt attended the school here and graduated from Plymouth High in 1925. He continued to work on his father's farm during his school years and even managed the farm briefly after he graduation while his father served as Livonia Township highway commissioner.

In 1926, his father sold the farm to a land developer and Walt took a job as a rough carpenter working on the first homes built in Coventry Gardens at Farmington and Five Mile Roads. He was paid 60 cents an hour.

"I retired from farming at the age of 17," he said. He also told how his carpenter's pay was considered to be a "good" wage in those days.

In the fall of 1927, Walt went to work as a gas station attendant for Jake Hines, who managed the Austin Oil Co. Shell station that used to be located at the corner of Main and Mill Streets here.

He started at 60 cents an hour. Eight years later, Ash bought a half-interest in Ralph J. Lorenz's service station at Wing and Main and has been there ever since. In 1944, Lorenz retired from the service station business and Walt purchased the remaining portion of the business.

The station in 1935 was a Sunoco affiliate, but a year later it was changed to Shell by the two partners.

Walt married the former Harriet Corwin in 1941 and the couple have a daughter, Donna, a freshman at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti. The family reside at 1116 Dewey, a home Walt purchased in 1941.

School Students Plan Collection Of Used Clothing

Students from the Plymouth School District during the week of Feb. 18-22 will be collecting good used clothing for distribution to needy children and their parents in the Southern Mountain regions of the U.S. and elsewhere.

The week has been designated as "Save the Children Federation Bundle Days."

Collection bags will be distributed to the various public schools here and students are being urged to bring discarded — but still wearable — used clothing from home.

"The determination of our students to make the Save the Children Bundle Days project a success is inspiring," said schools superintendent Russell Isbister. "I strongly urge everyone to cooperate with these young people by contributing as much used clothing as possible."

The Save the Children Federation is a 30-year-old non-sectarian international welfare organization, and is registered with the U.S. State

Old Railroad Group Cancels Winter Fun

Annual mid-winter party for the old employees of the Detroit-Jackson and Chicago electric railway has been canceled on account of unfavorable weather and the advanced age of the members. Al Augustus of Ypsilanti has announced. He is secretary of the organization.

The summer picnic will be held as usual sometime in August, he said. A number of club members live in the Plymouth area, he added.

Tuition Rate Set As $105 Per College Semester

A maximum tuition rate of $105 per semester for residents of the Northwest Wayne County Community College district was set by the institution's board of trustees Feb. 6.

Resident students enrolling in fewer than 13 hours of credit will pay at the rate of $8 per credit hour, it was announced. Rates for non-resident students have not yet been determined.

In addition to the tuition charges, each student will pay a $10 matriculation fee, to be charged only once at the time of filing application for admission.

A student service fee of 50 cents per credit hour, with a maximum of $7.50 per semester, will be added to the tuition with this extra fee to be used to cover numerous services over the year.
