Speed Work On City Hall Plans

Working against a May 15 ground breaking deadline, Plymouth's Municipal Building Authority has set a tentative time schedule for preliminary work on the new City Hall that will result in the start of construction on May 14.

The Authority received official notice last Wednesday that the application for a $225,500 federal grant under the provisions of the Public Works Acceleration Act of the Housing and Home Finance Agency had been approved.

Unofficial word had been relayed earlier by Senators Patrick McNamara, Neil Staebler and Philip Hart and Congressman Mrs. Martha Griffiths, with the result that the Authority held two meetings a week ago and already has started the ball rolling on the time schedule.

The City Hall, which will be financed by the federal grant and revenue bonds, is expected to have a total of almost $600,000, including the land.

It will be erected on land adjacent to the present

City Hall, stretching along Main Street to the Dunning-Hough Library. Under the provisions of the HHFA, the building must be ready for occupancy within a year from the official approval of the grant.

The terms of the HHFA grant are that the federal government will provide 50 per cent of the cost of the building with the City matching that amount. The Public Works Acceleration Act is intended to aid areas of critical employment to open up jobs immediately for a great number of workers.

The MBA, which is headed by Harold Guenther and includes City Clerk Joseph Near, Louis Borregard, Everett Burmester and David Mather with City Attorney Edward Draugelis as legal counsel, expects to move quickly in all directions.

In its first session last week, it authorized Draugelis to become the sole negotiator in dealing for the two properties on Main Street that are included in the site. He expects to have a report within another week.

The City Commission has been asked to transfer monies to the Building Authority's account for operating and land acquisition expenses on the basis of a loan with definite arrangements for repayment rather than prepaid rent or other consideration.

The Authority has authorized the architectural firm of Wheeler and Becker and associate Harold Pine to complete plans for the City Hall as rapidly as possible.

Secretary Near and Chairman Guenther drew up and have submitted to the Michigan Finance Commission an application for $360,000 in revenue bonds to complete the City's obligation under the grant.

Near and Guenther indicated the application was for $360,000 since the Authority had no idea at this time as to the cost of the land. However, Guenther felt that the Authority would probably limit the bond sale to $325,000 or less, depending on the amount needed.

By Becker, who has been working on the plans, confirmed that the architects would have the working drawings ready for bidding purposes in approximately seven weeks.

The timetable set up by the Building Authority:

- March 1 Submit application for bonds to Michigan Finance Commission
- March 4 Transfer of $18,000 balance of improvement fund by City Commission to MBA.
- March 4 City Commission authorization to MBA to borrow necessary funds for site acquisition.
- March 4 Motion by City Commission approving final plans of Municipal Building as submitted and referring to MBA for all future action relative to changes.
- March 4 Motion by Commission waiving March 1 deadline in lease with authorizing letter.
- March 8 Receipt of contract from Federal Government and execution thereon.
- March 11 Begin condemnation of sites, if necessary.
- April 2 Receipt of approval of bonds from Michigan Finance Commission, (30 days required).
- April 6 Advertise for bond bids, legal advertiser.
- April 10 Advertise in local news outlet.
- April 20 Final working drawings for City Hall.
- April 22 Sale of bonds. (14 days required after first advertisement)
- April 22 Review and approval of final working drawings and advertisement for bids for construction.
- May 7 Letting contracts for new municipal building

Area Water Authority Proposed By Industry

Other members of the Plymouth City Commission may not be aware of the thinking of area industrial leaders about the controversial Detroit water situation but Mayor Robert Sincok knows now that many are thinking in terms of a community wide water authority and that means Detroit water.

At least that's what came out of a meeting last week between the Mayor and the Industrial Division of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. The session in the Mayflower Hotel's Round Table Club was for the express purpose of hearing the City's plans on the subject and airing the views of the industry leaders.

It was the largest meeting in the division's three-year history, attracting 22 industrial leaders and showing that industry is very much interested in the water situation.

Before the session adjourned, Mayor Sincok was apprised of the thinking on a water authority; was asked why the City Commission wanted to burden water system with $288,000 more in bonded indebtedness for a new reservoir when the current $335,000 indebtedness was a big stumbling block in current water talks; was asked if it was true that the City had a water tank on Byron St. that was inoperative and never did work; and was asked why it wouldn't be better for the City to negotiate with the Detroit Water Board now rather than wait until next fall or later when some of the negotiable items may be lost.

Aided by the assistance of Frank Lodge and Mel Strader, representatives of the City's consulting engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson, the Mayor was able to come up with answers—although there is still room for conjectures as to whether some of the plant representatives went back to their offices satisfied.

Mayor Sincok affirmed the recent rumors that the Byron St. storage tank, constructed in 1948, never had been operable due largely to a change in the system operations. The tank was built to insure pressure for water lines that were to extend into the Township in that area but the introduction of Detroit water eliminated the lines and left the tank sitting at the end of a line.

The question of a water authority was broached by Donald R. Ward, assistant to the president of Evans Products Co.

It had the support of Robert Jendron and D. E. Stromback, of Burroughs Corporation, who asked why the city and township couldn't get together and form a water authority.

"After all," pointed out Ward, "the City has stressed more than once that the water system bonded indebtedness of $335,000 is one of the major stumbling blocks in the thinking about Detroit water."

"I understand the Township also has a sizable water department indebtedness and I can't see any valid reason why an authority couldn't be formed to consolidate the debts and operate a community wide system for both governmental units."

Lodge, acting as City spokesman, agreed that an authority would be very logical. He emphasized that the problem isn't quite that simple however and couldn't be solved that quickly. "This is a matter of the use of 750 million gallons of water annually," he said, "the question of a new reservoir is important. It boils down to whether Plymouth water users pay for their storage with their own tank or pay the Detroit Water Board for that storage in the form of a higher rate."

Lodge referred back to reports of the Plymouth Commission and Water Dept. in relating why the City had accrued its bonded indebtedness.

He said reports show Plymouth, as far back as 1946, inquired about water from the Wayne County Commission. The answer was that it wasn't feasible and so Plymouth beefed its system with improvements.

"The same thing happened in 1952 and even as late as 1960 when Livonia and the Township were battling over flowage rights through the Livonia lines," he said.

"It appeared as if there would be a long legal battle in 1960 and Detroit indicated it couldn't get water to this area until 1970, so the Commission approved additional improvements."

Sincok and Lodge stood firm on the stand that the new reservoir is needed to maintain and stabilize pressure throughout the Plymouth system, especially for industry.

"The Commission has gone on record as favoring the construction of the reservoir regardless of whether Detroit water comes to the area or not," said Sincok.

"We on the Commission have never ruled out Detroit water and realize that it probably will eventually come to Plymouth but we are wondering about the timing."

"We wonder if it is practical and economical to take such a step now. Regardless, as most of you know, four members of the Commission bow out next month and most of us feel that the decision is up to the new Commissioners."

Sincok indicated there is a move towards friendly relations between City and Township officials and that a water authority could possibly be negotiated within a reasonable length of time.

"Why not a Plymouth Township Water Authority in the very near future?" came the question from the floor.

"Please," quipped Sincok, "don't use that word township."

Apparently the City and Township aren't as close to becoming buddies as one might believe.

Plymouth Commission Gives MBA Go Sign

Plymouth's City Commission Monday passed a resolution approving preliminary plans for APPOINTED materials superintendent at Evans Products Co. is William Green, former service manager. Green will be in charge of production planning and scheduling, traffic, receiving, material handling and service according to George Schuder, vice president in charge of operations. Green joined Evans in 1943, was production planning and scheduling supervisor from 1954 to 1958 and service manager from 1958 to now.

Name Three New Members To 'Y' Board

Three new Board members were elected and a fourth re-named at the annual meeting of the Plymouth Community Y.M.C.A. last Thursday in the meeting room at the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union.

Mrs. Wendell Lent, Mrs. Ruth Burr and Jay Hanna were added to the Board and David Wood was re-elected.

The Directors will meet later this week to pick a new slate of officers for 1963-64, according to President James Garber.

the City Hall and then turned full authority for all future action relative to changes over to the Municipal Building Authority.

The Commission awarded sale of $69,000 in Urban Renewal bonds to Manley, Bennett and MacDonald of Detroit on its bid of 2.2468 per cent interest.

The Commissioners passed resolutions backing Detroit's bid for the 1968 Olympic games and backed a resolution from the Michigan Municipal League supporting Detroit's bid.

The Board approved amendment of the lease with the Building Authority, updating the dates and setting the date of occupancy for March 1, 1964 or sooner.

In other actions, the Commission:

Approved transfer of $12,328 from the City Hall Building Fund account to the MBA as a temporary loan. The money represented the balance of a $20,000 loan made to the MBA earlier.

It authorized the transfer to the Building Authority of funds necessary for site acquisition as a temporary loan and passed a resolution waiving the building permit fee for the City Hall.

Plymouth Dems Urged To Oppose New Constitution

Plymouth's Citizens for Sound Government Council heard reasons why the proposed new state constitution should not be approved in a talk by Mrs. Adelaide Hart, a member of the Con-Con group which drew up the pact.

Mrs. Hart, one of the state's outstanding Democrats, presented an excellent case against the new constitution, citing taxes, reapportionment and several other valid reasons.

The Michigan Democratic Party is bitterly opposed to the approval of the constitution and Mrs. Hart is one of the leaders in the fight.

PLYMOUTH'S Michigan Week Chairman is James Jabara, prominent young industrialist and engineer, who was appointed a week ago. Jabara, a candidate for the City Commission, is a member of the Kiwanis Club, a graduate of Michigan Tech and served as a municipal engineer in the Grand Rapids area for three and a half years before moving to Plymouth.

Livonia May Give 'Commercial' Zoning To Plymouth Site

Rezoning of a parcel of land to "commercial" from "residential" at the southeast corner of Plymouth and Eckles road appeared ready for approval by the Livonia City Council this week.

The land lies against Plymouth Township, on Livonia's western boundary. Heretofore it has been zoned RUFB (big lot residential) and the new classification will be C-2.

Prior to sending it to the Council, the Planning Commission unanimously approved the change, saying: "this is a mile road intersection and it, in general, has been the policy of the city planning commission to recommend commercial zoning on most mile road intersections; any harm done to existing residences has already occurred from their facing into the GM plant, etc."

Water Talks Draw 22 From Industry

Practically every industrial plant in the Plymouth community was represented at last week's meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Industrial Division—with Plymouth Mayor Robert Sincok to hear a review of the city's plans and to express their views on the water situation.

The group included: Donald R. Ward, George Schneider and Harry Horner of Evans Products; Gunnar Stromberg, Western Electric; Boyd Armstrong, Bathy Manufacturing Co.; George Matthews, Detroit Edison Co.; James McKeon, Distribution Service Inc.; Clarence Moore, Plymouth Stamping.

James Jabara and Karl Jabara, Plymouth Tank and Fabricating Co.; Webb Smith, Edward Burkhardt and Willis Fenn, Whitman and Barnes; John Herb, The American Plan Companies who also is President of the Plymouth C of C; Curtis Copeland, Dunn Steel Products; Clarence Mitchell, Pilgrim Drawn Steel Division.

Robert Sharpe, Consumers Power Co.; Robert Jendron and D. E. Stromback, Burroughs; E. M. Sawusch, Anchor Coupling Co. Inc.; James Thomas, Consumers Power; and Arnold

Johanson, Western Electric Co. Mayor Sincok was accompanied by Frank Lodge and Phil Strader, from the firm of Johnson and Anderson Co.

Continental Plant Sale Completed

The door has been opened for anticipated use of the longtime vacant Continental Can building on Junction with the announcement that the Plymouth Industrial Development Corporation had completed a $115,000 deal for the purchase of the building and land.

It is general knowledge in the community that the IDC has been negotiating with a large door manufacturer as a probable tenant.

The latest move is expected to bring the negotiations to a head within a matter of days when IDC officials hope to announce the name of the firm and reveal its plans for the area.

IDC officers will appear before the City's Board of Review this week to seek an adjusted assessment on the property to speed up the final arrangements with the door manufacturer.

Mrs. Griffiths described the operation as "not serious," and said she should be out of the hospital within a week.

FACTS and OPINIONS by Paul Chandler

Up in the State Senate at Lansing is snuggled a bill destined to become one of the most controversial of the current legislative session.

It calls for public schools to provide bus transportation for students attending parochial schools if the latter lie within eight miles of the public school.

Most everyone is familiar with the opposing arguments:

(a) Parochial parents are taxpayers, too, and entitled to transportation for their youngsters, just like anyone else;

(b) No, public money should be used to aid or encourage one particular religion more than any other, and the public responsibility ends with providing a single school system equally available to all.

Americans have been arguing the general question for 200 years. Like all religious questions, there is no middle-ground. Opposing sides are absolutely sure their own position is supported both by either the U. S. Constitution or the Bible or both.

We would take the position today that there is a principle involved bigger than buses alone.

In the State of Rhode Island the Governor recently signed a bill which would grant "textbook aid" to pupils of private and parochial schools. Under the plan, natural science, mathematics, and foreign language text books would be loaned free of charge to the students of non-public schools. The books would be picked from a list of recommended books prepared by the State Commissioner of Education.

The new law is being fought bitterly by the same groups who oppose bus service, the constitutional question cited being "whether the use of state funds to provide secular textbooks and related equipment for use in parochial schools constitutes aid to religion."

It's a natural step, it seems to us, from "loaned textbooks" to "provision of equal library facilities." And what about athletic equipment, or gyms, or hot lunch service?

In the U.S. Supreme Court they have been arguing about Bible reading in schools. Says one protester from Pennsylvania, "it is the final arrogance to talk constantly about our religious tradition and equate it with the Bible. That suggests our schools are a kind of Protestant institution to which others are cordially invited. This Bible reading is conducted as a religious ceremony, and the lower court so found."

We're curious what Governor Romney, as a devout Mormon, will have to say about this parochial bus bill.

One of our loyal readers, also a stout full-time booster of schools, submits today an interesting bit of statistical by-play.

He notes that the 1962-63 bill of U.S. public elementary and secondary schools is $19.5 billion. This includes teacher salaries and other operating costs, capital outlay and interest on debt.

But before one thinks this figure sounds high, our correspondent declares, he should realize that the Bill is for six hours of daily schooling for one-fifth of the nation's population.

And it works out to 45 cents an hour per enrolled pupil.

This is less than the going rate for teen-age baby sitters.

One of the big success stories in retaining in this area has been the Ward's store at Wonderland Center in Livonia. This particular store is the apple of the company's eye—the most successful single outlet in the whole coast to coast Ward chain, in many ways.

There is a good explanation. This particular store, from the day the door opened, dedicated itself to a policy of gaining a "community image," as contrasted to being just another outlet in a chain complex. It has local roots, it brings its message down to the local level. It has a store "personality" all of its own, separate and apart from any other Ward store elsewhere.

The thought came to mind a few days ago when a Ward employee, Don Pfeifer of Livonia, was honored by his management for his "fine contributions to many phases of community life." He was hailed out before his fellow employees to receive recognition for work in Kiwanis, the local youth activities group, the K. of C., and the company credit union. The prize was called the "Corporate Citizens Award."

During the ceremony, store manager Jim McCoy (who is the sparkplug of the "community" approach) noted that business too often "is grasping—making a buck," taking from the community and contributing little in return.

In his own case, it would appear that good local citizenship also pays off at the local cash register.

Missionary From Japan To Speak in Livonia

Mrs. Margaret Ankeney, who served as a missionary in Japan for 40 years, will speak at Pilgrim Congregational Church of the United Church of Christ, 36075 W. 7 Mile Road, next Sunday, March 10, during the 10:30 morning worship with the pastor, Rev. Paul H. Clark conducting the service for the second Sunday in Lent.

Born in Tokyo of missionary parents, Mrs. Ankeney was educated at Hood College, Frederick, Maryland, and Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio. A year after her graduation from Oberlin in 1913 she went back to Japan to visit her family and spent a year there teaching missionary children. She taught school in the United States for four years and studied for a year at the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts before her marriage in 1923 to the Rev. Alfred Ankeney, then home on furlough from missionary service in Japan. The same year they returned together to Japan and served there together until Mr. Ankeney's death in 1951. Mr. Ankeney was for many years treasurer and manager of the Japan Mission of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. Mrs. Ankeney assisted him in this work and in the general evangelistic program in the Sendai area. She also taught English and English Literature at the Girls' School and at Miyagi College, Sendai.

During World War II Mr. and Mrs. Ankeney were in the United States. They were among the first missionaries to return to Japan and were very active in relief and rehabilitation work there during the post-war years. After the death of her husband Mrs. Ankeney continued her work in the field of evangelism in Sendai. Prior to her departure from Japan in 1962 she was given one of the country's highest honors, the Fifth Order of the Sacred Treasure, on behalf of the Emperor in recognition of her outstanding contribution to education.

Jack Hickox, Chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee for the Livonia Rotary Club, who has been the sponsor of the Crippled Children's program since its inception, gave much of the credit for success of previous years' campaign to the Rotary. "Each year the Livonia Rotary Annals raise funds by selling lapel Easter Lilies made by the crippled children. The Rotary Annals Sale this year will take place April 5, 6. Proceeds from the sale goes to the Crippled Children's Home Operations and is badly needed," commented Hickox.

"In Livonia the Rotary Club is sending out 18 to 20 thousand letters this week. They have been stuffed, addressed and sealed by members of the Gamma Alpha Tau Sorority with members in Redford Township and Livonia. I hope we will get the biggest return this year we have ever received. Our goal is 5000 dollars," concluded Hickox.

Area Girl Scouts Prepare For Biggest Cookie Sale March 8-17

Girl Scouts of all ages are brushing up on their best salesman approach as they ready themselves for their forthcoming Cookie Sale. March 8th through March 17th will be the busy week!

Four varieties of cookies will be available: the sandwich creme, the mint, the peanut butter and the shortbread cookie. If it seems as though the young saleswomen are redoubling their efforts to make this the very best cookie sale ever—their determination is justified. Profits realized from the sale of cookies help equip and maintain two existing campsites, Camp Holly and Camp Metamora and will help acquire a new proposed campsite near Howell.

Won't you purchase a box of Girl Scout cookies?

TYPIFYING girls and their leaders throughout the area are Mrs. James Hamilton of 9385 Tecumseh, Redford Township and her daughter Marcia as they deliver Girl Scout cookies to Mrs. Terry Lambert, 9127 Tecumseh. Girls secure orders from friends and neighbors. They do not go door to door soliciting out of their area or to strangers. Mrs. Hamilton is leader of Intermediate Troop 2474. The sales will begin March 8.

Y'all Come to a 'Hootenanny'

Do you know what a "Hootenanny" is? If you are interested in finding out get over to the Carl Sandburg Library any second or fourth Monday of the month beginning at 8:30 p.m. and you'll enjoy a real honest-to-goodness "hootenanny."

Head Librarian Skip Rosenthal brings out his guitar—others who have one also bring it to lend atmosphere—some are interested in folk singing. In general every one has a real good time in a very informal way.

Young people are welcome too.

July Wedding Is Planned

LUCILLE CICIRELLI

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cicirelli, 33605 Plymouth Road, Livonia, announce the engagement of their daughter Lucille to Ronald J. Zaborowski, son of Stephen Zaborowski of Hancock in Detroit. The couple is planning an early July wedding.

Thue cashmere wool comes from Kashmiri goats, from Tibet.

Campfire Girls Worship Together

Four program levels of Camp Fire Girls of the Northwest District of the Detroit Area Council Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club Girls, will attend church together Sunday morning March 17, their National Founders' Day and 53rd birthday.

Recognition of Camp Fire's "Today's Program for Today's Girls" which was launched last September, will be given from the pulpits of these neighborhood churches: Redford Presbyterian, Calvary Methodist, Grace Lutheran, and St. Agatha's.

Book Bargains from AAUW

A feast of good reading awaits bargain hunters at the Eighth Annual Book Sale March 14, 15, 16.

Staged by the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women, in the Kroger supermarket on Main and Union Sts., Plymouth, the public will be able to choose from approximately 1,000 books.

AAUW has found that selling used books is a popular way to raise funds for its graduate fellowship program. There are 49 AAUW Fellowships amounting to $132,000. These Fellowships are available to women of the United States for graduate study beyond a Masters Degree who have fulfilled their requirements for a Ph.D. except the dissertation or to women who have achieved professional recognition. Fellowships may be used here or abroad and in any field of study or research.

Books to interest everyone, from pre-schoolers to the senior citizens group, will be found at the sale, priced from five cents up.

According to the general chairman, Mrs. Dale Carmine, tables will display books, sorted as to content, on fiction, mysteries, school subjects, languages, religions, cooking, humor, the classics and hobbies.

Last year's sale netted the group $175, a figure it hopes to top this year. Working with Mrs. Carmine are Mrs. C. L. Porter and Mrs. D. H. Sutherland. This committee has been busy with such chores as soliciting, marking, handling and acting as sales persons. They have drafted husbands into the gigantic transportation job and "setting up" for business.

Look for your favorite table for that book you just never got around to reading or an antique book or maybe it's some of the many paperbacks or National Geographic Magazines for your enjoyment.

For all book donations and pick up, phone Mrs. Dale Carmine, GL 3-1170.

Business Women Sponsor Con-Con Discussion

Lola Valley Business and Professional Women's Club of Redford Township will be sponsoring a seminar on the proposed Con-Con at the Manufacturers National Bank Community Room, Five Mile at Kinloch, March 13 at 8 p.m.

The community-minded women are bringing an opportunity to all women to hear the pros and cons of the new Constitution from an unbiased, unpolitical basis.

The Citizen's Research Council of Michigan was organized in 1916 to promote responsible, effective, economical government. They have made a study of the proposed constitution with the present one.

There will be a question and answer period.

There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

Mrs. Joseph Schiciano

Honeymoon in Europe

A month long European trip awaits Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Schiciano, following their candlelight wedding and dinner dance, Friday, Feb. 15. During their honeymoon, the newlywed couple will visit Zurmunt, Switzerland, for a week of skiing before traveling to Rome, Venice and Vienna. More than 300 guests witnessed the rites which united Mr. Schiciano and the former Dollee (Lillian Katherine) Csaszar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Csaszar of Gill Road, Livonia. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Schiciano of Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

The wedding ceremony, held in the Sherwood Room of the Raleigh House, was performed by a personal friend of the bride, the Reverend Robert E. Snyder. Preceding the formal dinner dance, in the Raleigh Room of the Raleigh House, the bridal party received guests in an adjoining foyer where champagne was served. Candlelight and string-ensemble music formed the background for the entire wedding and reception.

The bride's wedding gown was an original design by Sarkozy . . . Detroit Couturier, who also created the dresses for the entire bridal party.

A two-piece full length sheath (with tunic top), the bridal gown was of imported French silk satin covered with over 2000 aurora crystals and tear drop pearls. More than 20 yards of illusion, also imported from France, formed the bride's veil which extended from the crown of her round satin head band to a cathedral length train. She carried a single long stemmed white rose.

Gowns of the bride's attendants were floor length sheaths of fawn grey wool crepe with square necklines, accented by strands of pearls and crystals and 3/4 length sleeves. Maid of honor was Sonya Vartabedian, Mildred Zoller of Chicago was matron of honor and Maxine Cameron also attended the bride.

The oval shaped room in which the nuptial ceremony was performed was banked with white floral arrangements . . . over 125 candles and Boxwood Topiary trees with white roses (linked by over 100 yards of Laurel) lined the aisle-way.

Senior Citizens Probe Idea of Own Housing Development

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Next to show-biz folks, and lady politicians, I think my next favorite group of people are those active Senior Citizens.

They have a lot of things going — they square dance, bowl, have birthday parties (and don't even count 'em), take an interest in community affairs and even politics. They charter busses and go to the ball games in the summer and to the beach for picnics. They know how to have fun, but are serious too.

In Redford Township John Dearth is President and they are planning to have Democratic and Republican candidates to address them at their social-luncheon meeting March 20. They want to ask questions of these people and see exactly what they stand for.

The Plymouth Senior Citizens have as their President Arnold Kehrl and their Vice President John Gilles. Their next meeting is Thursday March 7 and they meet at the Masonic Temple in Plymouth.

In Livonia they have something going that may affect Senior Citizens all over Michigan and certainly is being watched by the local communities.

On the basis of "why go to Florida"—when everyone you love and your "tap-roots" are deep here — they want to start a housing retiree house development in Livonia designed especially for the needs of senior citizens.

President Florence Trevena (love those lady go-getters) has appointed a committee to see how much of a market really exists for this.

Mrs. Stephen (Mary) Spitzka heads the committee and she is really hot to go on the project. They also have a builder that is interested.

Now, all they need are some interested folks. They plan to have their first meeting on the subject to answer questions, etc. after they see what response they get. Senior Citizens from any committee are welcome to respond.

Those interested are asked to fill out the coupon (above right) and return it — and you will be put on a mailing list as the project develops. Real progressive, these Senior Citizens of ours.

As one of my senior citizens friends so sagely said, "It's not how old you are, but how you are old!"

As the movie points out "You've gotta have a gimmick." Well, the Photographis Center in Plymouth has a gimmick and it's to be called "A Dutch Auction Sale." It can be fun for the buyer as well as profitable. The Dutch Auction starts Thursday, March 7. Several hundred items on display will have special tags. Each show the list price and a drop of 10% each day, on each item, for 10 days. You may buy right off the table on any day, at the savings of the day, or you may take a chance, place a bid for another day, hoping it will remain there and you'll save money.

If it is something you especially want it is sort of a war of nerves, but there never could be a more precious purchase than the one you buy cheaper today than you could have yesterday.

Homemakers Graduate

This week eight busy women, housewives caught up in the endless whirl of PTA projects, church guilds, scouting, home-making duties and small children with runny noses, will graduate from the Medical Self Help Program directed by the Livonia Office of Civil Defense, W. A. Cooper, Civil Defense Director.

This class will be the first in a novel experiment, approved by the Wayne County Department of Health, which intended to take the civil defense movement directly into the homes of women too busy to take "just one more night out" a week to attend the available programs located in this area. Instead, the course location was moved to the homes of the students and instructor, an inactive registered nurse. One baby-sitter was obtained for the pre-school children, with each mother sharing the cost.

These enthusiastic ladies, neighbors and occasional coffee klatchers, all live in one Livonia subdivision, Brookwood Estates. The unusual part of this coffee klatch has been that along with the coffee and doughnuts, they have ingested first aid, including emergency childbirth and artificial respiration. Also included were lessons in disaster living, such as shelter, radioactive fallout, water, food, hygiene, sanitation and vermin control. Learning to live with the reality of a possible nuclear war was not uppermost in their minds, although now they are better prepared to do so if such occurs. They all were impressed with crises which have occurred in our own country which included tidal waves, blizzards, winter and summer floods, tornadoes, and the possibility of epidemics with the resulting lack of food, water and medical care.

Dr. G. A. Eadie, Medical Civil Defense Coordinator of the Wayne County Department of Health, hopes this experimental but very successful idea will be carried on and reach and enlighten the large segment of our population directly responsible for home and children during the long day, namely the housewife. Any group or organization may contact the Livonia Civil Defense Office at GA 1-2000, Ext. 257 for information about forming a class or entering the classes now conducted by Marcus Bass, Mrs. Jack Lampard, and Mrs. Jack G. Donovan.

This week's graduates are Janet Heath, Doris Schmitke, Nancy Belanger, Kay Elliot, Beverly Nagowski, Patricia Centofanti, Irene Nemcheck and Eleanor Strong.

Enjoys Variety Gourmet Night

Roosevelt Garden Club held a Gourmet Night at the home of Mrs. Richard Nott. There were 38 ladies present and each brought a favorite recipe to serve at the buffet-style dinner.

A special feature of the evening was the award for the best table settings.

Mrs. Cleighton Melin, Mrs. Hays Giles and Mrs. Jack Yarcho won with an Easter Morning Table, set with a pink cloth, flower cart vase with a crescent design of sooth broom, pink carnations, pink glads and huckleberry accented by a pink bunny. Dyed Easter eggs at each place completed the arrangement.

An undersea effect won the luncheon award for Mrs. Chris Scutro, Mrs. Evan MacLeod, Mrs. Alexander Duncan and Mrs. Thomas Basehart. The table cover was a fish net, centerpiece was composed of coral, various sea shells, driftwood and sand, highlighted by sea fan, fish net, globe candle and fern.

The dinner table prize was taken by Mrs. Richard Nott, Mrs. John Paterson, Mrs. Ambrose Calcaterra, and Mrs. Robert Bertoli. A dark green cloth was set with yellow napkins, a green bowl centerpiece with yellow mums and yellow candles. Dishes in yellow and green and yellow wine carried out the theme.

A special award was given to Mrs. Donald Pentecost. Mrs. Ronald Monsun, Mrs. Robert Halleck, and Mrs. G. Winfree for their dramatic Hawaiian table. An artificial palm tree complete with monkey was placed on a low table with pineapples concealing drinking cups around the base. Floating candles and flowers in small glass bowls, mums and cushions as chairs finished off the imaginative arrangement.

With a short agenda and a minimum of discussion, the Clarenceville Board of Education authorized purchase of two new automobiles, made an addition to the staff, approved use of school facilities by the MSU Extension service and tabled a report on transportation equipment in the shortest meeting in history. The entire list required less than a half-hour. The Board voted to replace

THE WASTED SPACE AND CLUTTER OF AN OLD ATTIC was converted into this bedroom-playroom with an imaginative, well-planned remodeling program. Plywood panel ceiling set inside rafters and painted different shades of grey makes the room look larger. Plywood storage area is built in over the roll-under beds; shelves, closets and plenty of space are all provided with close attention to making "every inch count."

EVERGREEN SHRUBS

Flowering evergreen shrubs include the rhododendrons, azaleas, laurels, pieris and many others that can be spectacularly beautiful in flower. There is a long list of these, particularly in the less severe climates. Consult a nursery catalogue, or talk over with your nurserymen the different species that will grow in your location.

Remodel to Solve 'Space' Problems

A family that is content with its neighborhood—has children in school and except for its space shortage, is satisfied with the house, is not likely to want to change dwellings. What, then, does this family do to find that needed extra space right at home?

Look for Space It's obvious that you "make space" if it doesn't exist. Generally, any home can be expanded when skillfully remodeled. For instance, unused attics and basements can be converted into useful living space. Kitchens, bathrooms and other areas can be re-arranged to be more efficient within existing space. Where the lot size and shape permit it, adding on a room may solve the space problem.

One of the best ways to figure out what you can do is to look at what some others have done in similar situations. Here are some examples of families who solved their space problems through remodeling. Attic Finished One family, with a post-war two-bedroom home, discovered that the attic helped solve their problem. Its 325 square feet was being used as a catch-all for unwanted "junk": the kind that most families collect.

The family consulted with an architect to determine how the space should be divided. The architect resisted the impulse to "honeycomb" the space with a series of cubicles. Instead, he made one basic division of the attic space: one end for the parents, the other for the two girls.

A large plywood wardrobe-storage unit separated the spaces. In addition to acting as a divided with storage space, the unit also contained a folding bed—making the adult space a guest room too.

In the girls' end—all furnishings were built in. The "wasted" space next to the wall under the steeply-pitched ceiling, was fully utilized by plywood bunks for the girls, mounted on casters. Thus they could be pushed back under the built-in to provide a large clear area in the center of the room. Rolling toy storage bins also provided a greater play area for daytime activities.

The adult end of the attic became a center for sewing, typing and general utility when not used as a guest room. For simplicity, economy and appearance, the architect specified fir plywood paneling over the exposed rafters and for construction of the built-ins. The 4x8-foot plywood panels go into place quickly, cutting labor and providing a smooth surface for painting or other finishing.

Kitchen Offender Kitchens in older homes originally were designed for now-outmoded living habits. Spaces aren't suited to modern appliances; they lack storage space and generally are located so they get all the traffic in the house.

Two families who liked the spaciousness of their pre-war homes, but found their kitchens wholly inadequate for such reasons, decided to bring them up-to-date by remodeling.

One kitchen was located in the center of the house, with five doors opening into it. Unfortunately, none of these doors gave direct access to the dining room. Only one, through a bathroom, reached the dining area even indirectly. To correct the kitchen's many faults and get exactly what they wanted, the family commissioned a reputable remodeling firm.

A whole new room was created within the confines of the old kitchen. Not a single surface of the old kitchen is visible in the new. The ceiling was lowered, three of the doors eliminated and one door was punched through to the dining room. A U-shaped plywood work area evolved from which the home maker could keep track of—but not bothered by—the traffic of her large family.

The other old kitchen was at the back of the house instead of the center, but the same problems existed.

In this case, the architect decided to knock out the outside wall and install large glass panels to brighten up the space. A large deck was added on the outside to connect to the kitchen. A space-saving U-shaped plywood work area was also used in this remodeling plan.

A second sink and cabinet arrangement was provided for the purpose of preparing cocktails and snacks away from the preparation of the main meal.

To provide added artificial light inside, a suspended ceiling system was installed to provide a bright but gentle over-all lighting effect.

Basement Development Space problems for a growing family, were solved in an unfinished basement area by converting it into a handsome and functional bedroom-playroom for the family's two boys.

The more than 150 square feet of space converted for the boys' use included wardrobes and plenty of built-in storage space. A double storage unit divided the boys' wardrobe while providing additional space for books, toys and other necessary items. The beds also were de-

DPW News and Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA Plymouth DPW The Department of Public Works received a rush call to South Evergreen on Feb. 26 to take care of a break in an eight-inch water main between Sheridan and Penniman. The break caused rust in most taps in the area but no customers were without water.

The Department has had the responsibility of making and installing 62 new scotchlite street name signs and 39 no parking and stop signs. Most of the work will be completed shortly.

Workers poured 77 tons of salt on the streets following Wednesday's heavy snowstorm and all streets were reported safe for driving by Thursday morning.

Ten frozen water line calls were received during the past week as the unusual cold wave continued. Department crews flushed and cleaned more than 900 feet of sanitary sewer.

signed to allow for storage space. Points to Consider On any home remodeling project, it's best to consider some important points:

- Plan the project carefully with the help of professionals. A remodeling job is as important as building a new home. Consider materials, to be used in the remodeling, for maintenance as well as eye-appeal. Keep in mind the future value of the residence. The remodeling may cost more than the amount its value may increase. Never hurry into a remodeling project. Take as much time as you would in planning a new home. Just remember, you'll be living with it a long time.

Kiwanians Learn Value of Humor

"American Sense of Humor" was discussed by Steve Filipiak, vice president in charge of public relations for Radio Station WOIA-FM in Ann Arbor, to Plymouth Kiwanians in the weekly meeting at Lofy's Arbor-Lil.

"A good sense of humor is America's greatest asset," said Filipiak. "That's being able to laugh at yourself and everyone should know that laughter is the best of medicines."

"When you arise in the morning, always step back, take a good look at yourself and accept what the day has to offer with a smile. Never be too busy to speak friendly word to have a smile for those people you meet each day." Filipiak warned the Kiwanians not to become too serious as many Americans tended to become in recent years.

"Always be a good listener for other people's humor and you'll find things work out much better," he said.

Guests from clubs in South Lyon, River Rouge and Northville were introduced by William Rosow.

James Winterhalter will have charge of the March 12 program which will honor National Girl Scout week.

Most Improvements Can Raise Value of Home

Many homeowners are now seriously planning to install a swimming pool or to finish the basement into a playroom or to convert the garage to an apartment or den this year just to add comfort and more space to the family's way of living. Such improvements mean better living, yet they may add thousands of dollars to the value of the home if they are wisely planned and constructed.

Increasing the value of a home can be done not only in cities where there is a ready market available for resale, but also on farms, in small towns and other rural areas. A purchaser almost always is willing to pay for added living comforts that are offered to him.

A swimming pool may be a profitable investment in many instances, for it may make a home worth hundreds of dollars more than the cost of the pool to assure profit for the far-sighted owner.

A swimming pool has an added value in that it can be used for fire protection simply by keeping a water pump nearby for immediate use if needed. An LP-gas pump is excellent for such emergency because it can't be put out of action by fire which may burn incoming power lines.

A favorite value-adding project is the conversion of a drab basement into an eye-appealing playroom where youngsters can have friendly gatherings. Not only does such a room add value to the home, it also keeps children at home where they can be supervised properly.

A laundry room can be included as part of the basement conversion, screening it with a low-cost lattice work or other attractive cloak. Heat for the playroom and for the laundry room's clothes dryer is available simply by connecting onto the home's LP-gas system providing fuel for the kitchen range, furnace and other appliances and equipment.

SuperX Fight Key to Dispute

Romney Raps Board Head

A fight, that started in Plymouth when Druggist Robert Beyer organized the independent druggists in Michigan to battle the issuance of a license to the Kroger Co. for a discount drug chain known as SuperX, currently involves Gov. George Romney and David Moss, director of the State Pharmacy Board.

However, it could indirectly result in Kroger receiving a license in which case it may be able to open the SuperX stores in various parts of the state including Plymouth. All stores have been stocked for some time and all are ready to open at a moment's notice.

The dispute between Romney and Moss developed a week ago when Calhoun County Circuit Judge Creighton Coleman made a report to the Supreme Court in which he was critical of Moss and the Board for abuse of discretion in rejecting a license renewal application to Kroger for the SuperX Drug Co.

Gov. Romney read Coleman's report and immediately asked for Moss' resignation.

Tuesday, Moss, with the backing of the Board, rejected the Governor's request.

The Governor claimed that Coleman's report "raised grave questions as to the conduct of Mr. Moss as director of drugs and druggists."

At issue in the dispute is an attempt by Kroger to enter the Michigan market with a chain of discount drug stores.

The firm purchased a store in Battle Creek last year to secure a license which would permit it to open stores in four other cities—Ypsilanti, Plymouth, Port Huron and Saginaw.

The Pharmacy Board rejected the license renewal application on the ground that the Battle Creek SuperX store had filled prescriptions without a doctor's signature in violation of State law.

Kroger appealed to the Supreme Court which appointed Judge Coleman to hear testimony and make findings of fact.

It was his findings in his report that triggered the current battle.

REPORT from LANSING

By PAUL CHANDLER

LANSING — Some of the most suspenseful bills here don't sound glamorous at all. House Bill No. 57 sits on the calendar today, awaiting debate on the floor. If it can be navigated through the various tricky shoals of the legislative process, it could save the City of Livonia $800,000 over the term of some water revenue bonds, at the rate of about $32,000 a year.

But it's not only Livonia's bill — it has drawn the keen interest of every public corporation in Michigan, and the sums of bond money which might be involved run into multi-millions.

Here's the story—Livonia recently received an improved credit rating from the bond rating houses in the East. This enables the city to sell future bonds at a more favorable rate of interest, but soon afterward some of the Livonia officials began wondering, "what about our existing revenue bonds?"

On the books today are $4,350,000 of bonds being paid off through revenues from the sale of water. If these bonds could be cashed in, and new ones refunded at better interest rates, wouldn't that save some money?

Bond counsel said, "Yes, but it's never been done, and it'll take some new legislation to enable it." I was contacted, a bill was written, it was introduced in proper manner, and sent to the Committee on City Corporations.

Now, we've nursed it out of the committee to the floor. At this point, the magnitude of the proposal is beginning to become evident to the House membership. The legislation would apply to hundreds of Michigan public corporations, if they wanted to avail themselves of it, for one reason or another. Multi-millions of dollars of revenue bonds sit on the books. Every municipality in our 21st District has an indirect interest in the bill.

As written, it would permit legislative bodies (such as City Commissions, City Councils, Township Boards, Water Authorities, Building Authorities, etc.) to refund their bonds and, by a two-thirds vote, place the faith and credit of the municipality behind the new bonds. The latter clause would make the bonds more attractive to purchasers and, hence, bring lower interest rates.

Because the change is so sweeping and involves so much, some of the House members were a little gun-shy on their first reaction. They wanted assurance.

We've since been in touch with bond counsel, with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, with key legislators, trying to get the story told among all of them and a common agreement that House Bill No. 57 is safe and sound.

The Michigan Township Association and the Municipal League have endorsed the bill.

One of the worries is that municipalities might use the new authority even if it didn't bring better interest rates on the new bonds—in effect, maybe just to start over again on a term of bonds, which would provide, in effect, some fresh capital.

This would be outside the intent of the legislation, and I'm having an amendment written which would prohibit this, which may or may not have to be added to the bill during floor debate.

It comes up on the calendar again next Thursday and that's where the first floor debate will occur.

It's my own first bill to emerge from committee, it involves immediately $800,000 in potential savings for Livonia taxpayers, and... as we said, there's suspense in some of the most dull sounding titles.

Romney Gives Local GOP Con-Con Facts

A stimulating and inspiring plea for the new Constitution from Governor George Romney was brought to members of the 17th District Republican Party last Wednesday at the "First Annual Romney Dinner" at Roma Hall, a highly successful gathering of 350 men and women.

Notables of the District and candidates running on the Republican ticket for State offices to be elected April 1 were introduced.

James O'Neil was Chairman of the affair which drew Republicans from Detroit, Redford Township, Livonia and Plymouth. O'Neil is a candidate for the State Board of Education. He also serves on the Schoolcraft (formerly Northwest) Community College Board of directors. Romney emphatically repudiated many "false statements" concerning the new Constitution and particularly those involving loss of rights to the citizen and increase in taxes. He said it would do just the opposite in reality — approved, he said, the new constitution would cut down on Federal control over the States, condense an over-burdened structure of government bureaucracy—and give the individual more direct control in government affairs — particularly in the area of education. He urged residents to get a copy of the issues and study them pro and con for their own enlightenment. Copies are available by contacting this newspaper, 33050 Five Mile Road, Livonia, Mich.

Bentley Starts Tournery

Boasting one of the area's top records—15 wins and two defeats—Bentley High School's basketball team plunged into the first round of state tournament play this week on its home floor.

The Livonians were to meet Southfield Tuesday evening with the winner advancing to the second round Thursday against Franklin. Meantime, Redford Union and Thurston were to face this Wednesday night for the right to advance to the finals on Saturday.

All signs pointed to a Bentley-Redford Union showdown for the district crown on Saturday, since Redford Union finished second behind Bentley in Suburban Six League action.

But, as everyone knows, the form sheet means next to nothing in the state tournament.

Bentley had its troubles last Friday night in squeaking past Belleville, 62-60, to gain a 9-1 title record in the league. The team's only losses were to Redford Union and Grosse Pointe. The latter, second-ranked in the state, finished with a 17-0 mark.

A bad second half almost ruined Bentley. After jumping in front, 22-13, Bentley's lead dwindled to 30-24 at the intermission and then 42-37 after three periods.

The aroused Belleville cagers, sensing a major upset, went to work in earnest in the last period and finally tied the count on a three-point play by Dave Sala.

A basket by Wayne Stevens and a free throw by Jim Storm shot Bentley ahead again by three. But another three-pointer by Sala again evened the count.

Then came two free throws by Roland Kent and a tip basket by Bill Bollin to give Bentley a four-point bulge. It mattered little that Belleville tallied again with less than ten seconds to go.

Stevens with 22 points, Roland Kent with 21 and Bollin with 18 topped Bentley. Vern Bergman, a regular, had to sit the game out.

Bentley's reserves also triumphed in their season's final, scoring a 48-45 verdict as Mike O'Hare notched 13 points.

Redford Union, which has had some problems of late, finally regained its earlier season explosiveness to trim Allen Park by an 86-62 count.

It was the biggest score that R.U. had compiled this season—a year which saw the Townshippers post a 7-3 record in the league and an overall 13-4 mark.

The return of John Cross, who had been sidelined with an ankle injury, helped Redford Union tremendously. He counted seven baskets and four free throws for 18 points.

Ben Maebach made 12 of his 15 points in the first period to shoot R.U. into a commanding lead. Len LaPla and Tom DeWitt each had 14, while Clyde Ziegler tossed in nine.

Coach Milo Karhu said after-ward that his R.U. team turned weeks.

"Maybe the kids have come back alive just at the right time... for the state tournament," Karhu said.

The district encounter between Redford Union and Thurston at Bentley will mark the second head-on meeting of the season between the Township rivals. R.U. won the previous clash with little trouble.

3-Team Battle in Swim Meet Due

A hot battle between three teams looms this weekend when the Suburban Six League swimming championship is decided at Allen Park.

Up until last Friday, it appeared that Plymouth's Rocks would enter the championships as heavy favorites. The Rocks had stormed through nine straight meets to take the dual-meet crown.

But then Plymouth was upset by Trenton, 55-50, and the picture has taken a change for the loop meet. Now it is expected that Trenton and Bentley both will offer a considerable challenge to the Rocks.

Thurston Bids for Tank Title

It'll be Thurston vs. Fitzgerald for swimming honors in the Northwestern Suburban League's annual championship meet at Southfield Friday and Saturday.

Thurston took dual-meet honors with an unbeaten record against conference rivals, while Fitzgerald finished in second.

All Losses Mark Last League Bid

Coach Mike Pasternak of Thurston High School's basketball team probably is happy that his charges are through competing in the Mid-Wayne League.

Thurston's 1962-63 record in the loop ended up with 10 defeats, no victories... also last place.

With the start of the 1963-64 school year, Thurston will enter a new league whose membership will include Franklin, North Farmington, and Oak Park.

Thurston came close to pulling an upset last Friday night. The Townshippers stormed ahead of Inkster, 12-4, by the end of the first period and held command until the final three minutes.

Then a couple of bad Thurston passes helped Inkster engineer two cheap baskets and Inkster went on to gain a 71-68 victory.

Keith Spicer, John Page and Jerry Samuel each scored 16 points for Thurston while Ken Black and Dan Stegani had 10 points apiece.

Thurston won only twice during the season. Each win was against Franklin, once in overtime.

Matmen Triumph

Capturing 11 of the 12 events and finishing second in the other; Thurston High School's wrestling team captured the Northwest Suburban League title with an overwhelming 98 points.

North Farmington followed with 47 points. Franklin had 43 and Oak Park 37.

Here's how Thurston and Franklin wrestlers fared:

95-pounds: Jim Todd (T), winner; Weisbach (F), third.

Northville GOP to Meet
The Greater Northville Republican Club will meet Thursday, March 7, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, 849 W. Main St., Northville.

Benjamin Franklin retired at the age of 42, a wealthy man. He did not become wealthy by the "Buy now-pay later" idea, however.

Clarenceville Pulls Upset In Finale

Clarenceville high school's basketball team saved its best for the last—in Wayne Oakland League play.

All winter the North Livonians had been kicked around. Going into last Friday night's finale at Clarkston, Clarenceville could show only one win in 13 games.

It appeared defeat no. 13 was on the docket when Clarkston roared ahead, 52-40 at the end of the third period.

Although doomed for the cellar spot in the league, Clarenceville still had one super effort in its system. With a great, fourth-period rush that netted 26 points to only eight for Clarkston, Clarenceville came out on top, 66-60.

Walt Doherty Takes Fulltime DRC Job
Walt Doherty, Sports Information Director at the University of Detroit, resigned that position, effective on March 1, to become a full-time assistant to Budd Lynch, Director of Public Relations for the Detroit Race Course.

Doherty is a native of Cincinnati, O., and was graduated from St. John's University in New York in 1956. He was General Editor of the National Collegiate Athletic Association service bureau in New York prior to coming to Detroit in 1960.

Joe Hawkins with eight points, Denny Claramont six and Dave Graves five stopped the late bombardment which saw Clarenceville get even midway in the last period, then roll away in the closing stages.

Graves wound up as top scorer with 18 points and 18 rebounds. Hawkins made 13 points, plus 15 rebounds.

Clarkston, generally strong on the boards, was out-rebounded, 49-22.

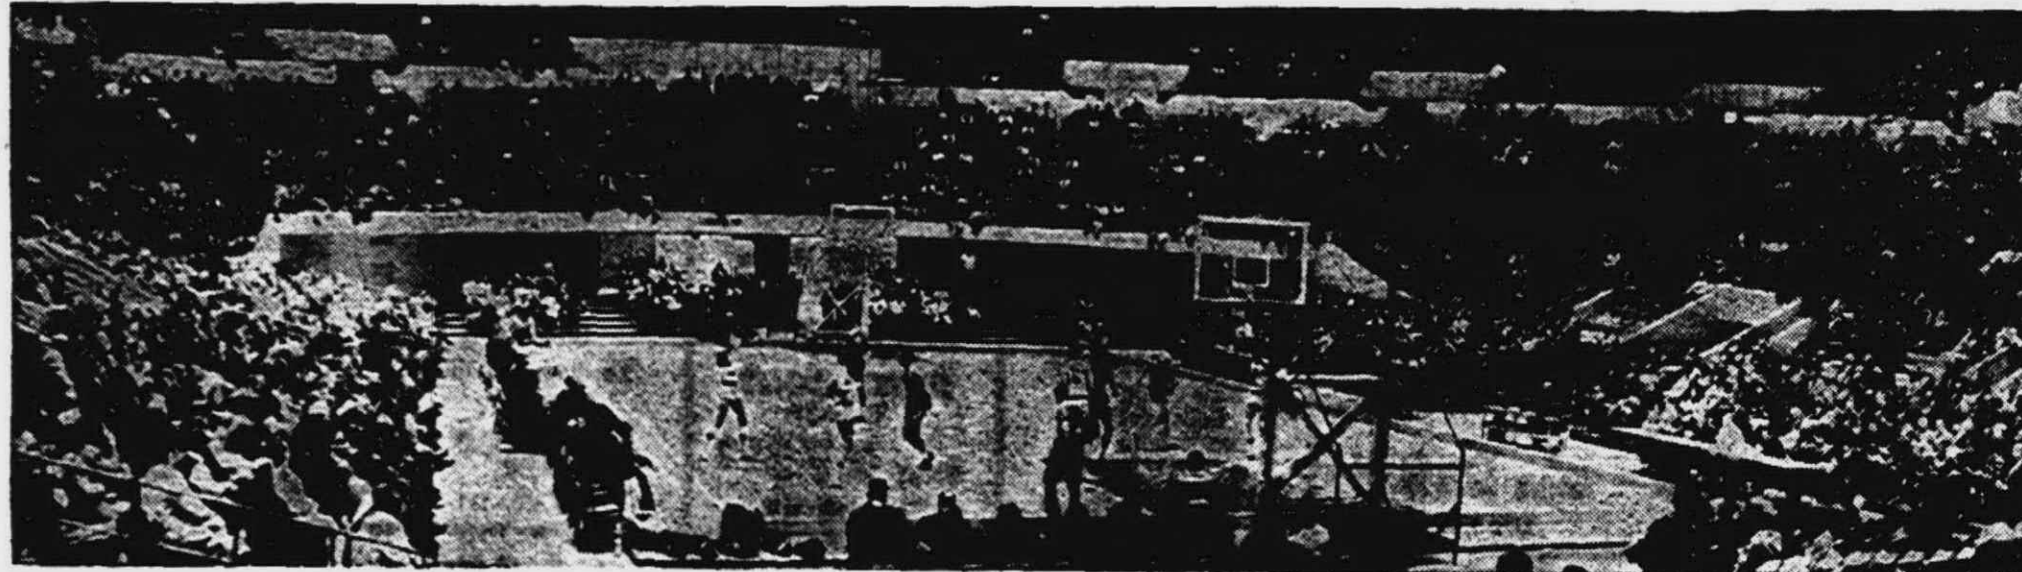

The Clarenceville reserves dropped a 47-36 verdict to Clarkston as Ron Latimer led the Livonians with 10 points.

In the district tourney this week, Clarenceville drew strong Clawson Tuesday night at Pontiac Central as its first foe.

OBSERVER NIGHT AT COBO ARENA ON MARCH 7th

IN COOPERATION WITH OBSERVER NEWSPAPERS

COBO ARENA — HOME OF THE DETROIT PISTONS

It will be a historical night at Detroit's beautiful Cobo Arena on Thursday, March 7, starting at 8:30 p.m.

Bob Cousy, one of the greatest names in basketball history, will be making his last regular-season appearance in the Motor City as an active player—when he leads the World Champion Boston Celtics against the Detroit Pistons.

When the current season ends, so will Cousy's playing career. He already has signed to become the head basketball coach at Boston College next winter.

Readers of this newspaper can participate in Detroit's "Farewell to Cousy" by taking advantage of a special price for reserved seats being made possible through the courtesy of the Pistons.

By filling out the attached coupon in today's issue of the Livonia Observer, you can get a $3 reserved seat for only $1, while the supply lasts.

"We know that readers of the Livonia Observer will want to take advantage of this special price and be on hand to see Cousy for the last time in Detroit," said Piston Director of Staff Fran Smith.

This marks Cousy's 13th season in professional basketball after coming to the Celtics from Holy Cross where he gained All-American recognition.

Cousy has re-written the N.B.A. record book, particularly in the department of assists and playmaking. Even today, despite the number of years he's been pounding up and down on the basketball floors of the country, Cousy rates as the premier playmaker and the flashiest performer in the game.

"He is exciting to watch," says Piston Coach Dick McGuire, who for many years played against the Celtic whiz while in the uniforms of the New York Knicks and the Pistons.

"Nobody can pass the ball better than Cousy," McGuire says. "It's amazing how Bob will find the open man with his tosses. He must have eyes in the back of his head and on the side, too."

Although playing less than half the time now for the Celtics, Cousy also has maintained a fine point average of almost 14. He's at his best when the going becomes the toughest.

More than once this season, Cousy has jumped off the bench in the final few minutes of a game to spark the Celtics in a rally which has paid off with a victory instead of a loss.

The Pistons are planning appropriate ceremonies to honor Cousy on his last visit to Cobo Arena.

"Cousy has been a tremendous asset to the game of basketball," says McGuire. "The least the Pistons can do is to show their appreciation to a name which never will be forgotten as long as there is basketball and sports in these United States."

The Celtics, now nearing their seventh straight Eastern Division title, also are bidding for their fourth world crown.

Many experts insist that the Celtics are a cinch to win the golden laurels again, because "Cousy will be flying like never in a row and sixth in seven years.

before when the playoffs begin" later this month.

In addition to Cousy, the Boston roster includes such luminaries as Bill Russell, the finest defensive center basing he's ever had; Tom Heinsohn, the great shooter; Sam Jones, the unsung guard whose shooting has won a dozen games for Boston this year, and the star rookie, John Havlicek from Ohio State.

Boston Coach Arnold (Red) Auerbach also is the most colorful in the business. The fans "hoot" Auerbach every place he goes.

While the Boston team is rolling merrily toward the end of the regular season, the Pistons still are engaged in a red-hot battle with the San Francisco Warriors for third and final playoff spot in the Western Division.

The Pistons boast several stars in their own right, led by Bailey Howell, the former All-American at Mississippi State; Don Ohl, who won similar honors at Illinois, and the great Dave DeBusschere from the University of Detroit.

DeBusschere has enjoyed a fine rookie season. After starting at forward, he has been moved back to guard and worked in very well. He has averaged 12 points a game, but more important, he ranks third behind Howell and Ray Scott in rebounding.

Center Bob Ferry and Scott round out the Piston starters.

On the reserve list are Walter Dukes, the seven-foot pivotman; Forward Jackie Moreland and Guards Kevin Loughery, Willie Jones and Johnny Egan.

Detroit-Boston games always produce exciting action. So readers of this newspaper should act immediately to assure themselves a $3 seat for just $1 at Cobo Arena on Thursday, March 7.

It will be a night no sports fan will want to miss!

BAILEY HOWELL

High-scoring forward of the Detroit Pistons, Howell has topped the team in points in the last two seasons. Also No. 1 rebounder on his team—Bailey averages 22 points per game.

DAVE DeBUSSCHERE

Rookie star of the Detroit Pistons, DeBusschere, the former University of Detroit and Austin High great, has blossomed into a stellar guard with the Pistons.

SPORTS OBSERVER

By George Maskin

And this is the time of the year when we wish we were double . . . yes, maybe even triple.

With all that's going on, sportwise, it's impossible for any person to see as much as he wishes. Because there are two and three events going on simultaneously almost every night of the week.

As you probably know the annual State High School basketball tournament again is with us. Some refer to this time of the year as "March Madness."

Round one in the district tournament already is history. Bentley played Tuesday night.

The show continues at Bentley through Saturday, then the local spotlight switches over to Franklin for the regionals in Class B and D while the Bentley "A" winner goes on to Pontiac for the regionals.

Meantime, the high school swimmers will be going after league championships this weekend. A three-team battle between Plymouth, Bentley and Trenton looms for the Suburban Six League tank laurels. In the Northwest League, Thurston should walk away with the honors.

The state finals also are on deck in high school wrestling this week . . . and they figure to be very interesting.

THEN, TOO, THERE is the big basketball game down at Detroit's Cobo Arena in which the Detroit Pistons are cooperating with the Observer newspapers to present a very special ticket price for Thursday's Pistons-Boston Celtics encounter.

Although time is running out on the regular season in the National Basketball Association, the Pistons and Celtics won't be playing just for kicks . . . and for getting the campaign over.

The game means a great deal to both sides. The Pistons still are fighting to wrap up a place in the NBA's Western Division playoffs. A victory over Boston Thursday and another triumph over San Francisco at Fort Wayne Friday would just about do the trick for Coach Dick McGuire and his forces.

As for Boston, the Celtics already have salted away their seventh straight Eastern division championship. But they still are out to take overall league honors from the Los Angeles Lakers.

The team with the top average for the entire schedule not only collects $2,000 extra, but also enjoys the advantage of an extra game at home in the best-of-seven title round. So you can see there'll be no letting up by the Celtics until the final bell rings a week from Sunday.

EXTRA SIGNIFICANCE is attached to Thursday night's game at Cobo Arena. This will be Bob Cousey's swansong in Detroit, unless the Pistons and Celtics should reach the final round of the playoffs.

No words that this reporter could beat on his typewriter—or for that matter no words any writer could pound out—adequately could describe the play of Cousey during his 13 years with the Celtics in the NBA.

He's been one of the greatest of the greats. His ability to feed the open man for a shot . . . his uncanny shooting . . . his floor work . . . his dribbling . . . his everything all add up to making Cousey a player whose presence will be sadly missed when the next NBA season rolls around.

Despite his longevity in the NBA, Cousey hasn't slipped too noticeably. One NBA coach told us recently:

"Cousey is still as brilliant as ever, except that nowadays he just doesn't play as long as he did five years ago."

We would suggest that if you haven't seen Cousey play that you take advantage of the Pistons' special offer—a $3 for $1—and get down to Cobo Arena Thursday night.

Join with other area fans in not only seeing this fabulous player in his Detroit swansong, but also in giving him a salute which will make him always remember his performances in the Motor City.

If you need extra coupons for Thursday's game they are easy to obtain. So put together a gang . . . and head for downtown Detroit.

You'll thank me for not steering you wrong.

Livonia Mat Show Scheduled March 23

Big time professional wrestling is coming to Livonia, according to Herbert R. Ford, president of the Livonia Youth, Inc. which will sponsor a 5-bout program at the Franklin High School gym on Saturday, March 23, at 8 p.m.

General admission tickets for $1.50 and ringside-reserve seats at $2.50 each are being sold at

Plymouth Finishes in Rush

There were some dismal days during the first half of the season for Plymouth High School's basketball team.

At the halfway mark in Suburban Six League play, the Rocks could show only one win in five games.

But the second time around provided a different story. The Rocks copped three out of five, including a 47-33 upset over Trenton in last Friday night's finale, to finish with a 4-6 mark and fourth place in the conference standings.

More important, the improved play offers Coach Charles Ketterer extra encouragement for the state tournament which will find Plymouth playing Ann Arbor at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

Defense highlighted Plymouth's victory over Trenton. It was the second time that the Rocks had held a foe to only 33 points—something which doesn't happen very often in the modern version of basketball.

Plymouth took a 15-6 lead at the end of the first period and opened the gap to 24-12 at the half and 30-24 after three quarters.

The Rocks outshot Trenton from the floor, making 18 baskets to their rivals' 10.

Cal Lubrand led the winners' balanced attack with 14 points. Dick Schryer had eight, Doug Sutherland and Gary Grady seven each and Jim Lake five.

Plymouth's reserves lost by a point, 49-48.

the following locations: B & B Drug Store, 23237 Plymouth Road, Jahn's Livonia Hardware at 5 Mile and Farmington, and Montgomery-Ward at Wonderland at their customer relations windows on the second floor.

Bill Krause, general chairman of the event has announced the following program: Johnny Gates vs. White Eagle, Leaping Larry Shane vs. Crusher Cortez, Poncho Lopez vs. Fuzzy Cupid, Deno Brabo vs. Kurt Von Stroheim, 6-man tag team—(4 heavyweights and 2 mid-weights).

The LYI is holding the event to increase its funds for teenage activities and to pay off existing obligations arising from previous teenage dances and sock hops held by the organization. A teenage counterpart to LYI is already formed, with its own Board of Directors, to plan leisure time programs for Livonia youth with the assistance and guidance of the adult principals of LYI.

Teenagers will play a part in the March 23 event. They are manning refreshment concessions for that night.

PAPARELLI'S OPEN NEW ROMA HALL MONDAY

Fabulous Family Writes Success Story

One of the most successful family operations in the state of Michigan, and certainly the most lucrative in the Detroit area, will be unveiled to residents of the Livonia-Plymouth-Redford Township-Farmington-Nankin Township-Garden City area Monday when the mammoth Roma Hall, 27777 Schoolcraft, in Livonia, formally opens its doors.

The 50,000-square foot building, located on a 10-acre site, with seven dining rooms and a capacity of 3,500 diners and more than 2,000 cars in the parking lots, was constructed at a cost of $1.3 million by the famed Paparelli family.

The family, which started in business as the Roma Beverage Co. in 1930, opened the Roma Barbeque at 3009 Gratiot in 1947, and then entered into the catering business in 1948, includes Mrs. Lucia Paparelli, mother of the three brothers, Alfred, Enzo and Robert.

As the head of the family, Mama Paparelli is President of Roma Halls Inc.; Alfred is secretary, Enzo vice president and Robert, the youngest, is the treasurer.

There's a bit of a story that goes behind the start of the Roma Hall Inc. The Paparellis had the Barbeque at the time back in 1948 when a family friend asked Mama if she would cater a wedding party.

The affair was such a success that the mother and sons got together and decided to make a try in the catering business and make use of some of the vacant space at their spot at 3009 Gratiot.

Angelo Paparelli, father and head of the family, was alive when the decision was made but he died in late 1948 and that left the operation entirely in the hands of Mama and the boys.

The Gratiot operation was so successful that the family held a meeting a few years later and decided to acquire the property of the old Chesterfield Club at 24845 Gratiot in East Detroit and convert it into an east side Roma Hall.

That move took place in 1955 and immediately boosted the production and business of the firm to the point where it could handle 1,200 diners at the original Gratiot site and 2,200 at the new Hall.

It was the success of the two halls that led the family to hold another session from which emerged plans for the construction of one of the area's largest dining halls and the Livonia site was selected.

The plans were more than a year in the works before the Paparellis finally awarded contracts and gave orders to proceed as rapidly as possible.

The job was completed a month ago and several large affairs have been held in the past four weeks but the formal opening was delayed until Monday, March 11.

Then comes the biggest moment of all for Mama Lucia Paparelli when she officially unlocks the door to open the largest unit of the operation.

The Paparellis comprise the largest family-owned catering organization in the United States and none is prouder of that than Mama.

The company has 15 halls in the three buildings but the largest is in Livonia where the seven halls are spread over the huge building.

The Paparellis employ 300 workers in the three Halls and keep them busy every night of the week in handling between 50 and 60 parties.

They estimate they have handled more than two million diners since they opened the hall in East Detroit and now hope to boost the output to a million annually.

They specialize in family style dinners, complete from soup to dessert and all handled quickly and efficiently so that the large dining parties can hold business meetings and programs after the dinner and still leave at a comparatively early time.

Enzo is in charge of manufacturing and production at the first Gratiot plant where the company has its own bakery, makes its own soft drinks, ice cream, spaghetti, sausage and meat balls. He has charge of all buying.

Robert is in charge of catering.

Alfred has charge of reservations, promotions and serves as office manager. He is assisted in bookings by a cousin, Clem Paparelli.

Rudolph De Rita currently is serving as manager of the East Detroit Hall and the Paparellis plan to name a manager for the Livonia operation within a short time.

Meanwhile, they are busy getting the hall in shape for next Monday's grand opening and then will settle down to the task of serving more than a million this year at the three halls.

The Roma operation is quite something and a big asset to Livonia.

State Volleyball Meet Set At Franklin Gym

Livonia will host the state Recreation Association of Michigan volleyball tournament March 30 at Franklin High School.

The two league winners in the Department of Parks and Recreation church and city volleyball leagues, St. Andrews and Stables Bar, meet for the city title and the champion will represent Livonia in the state tourney.

An excellent way to kill time is to work it to death.

'The Reader Speaks Up'

Editor,
Two separate articles on your Feb. 27 front page lead me to think that Township Democratic candidates should call a "time out" and get their signals straight. In one article Mrs. Democrat, Margaret Peoples, is described as one who "just smiles and says, well, you know how politics is" when asked if she will retire after she is elected in April and allow Sam Smith's wife to take over as Township Clerk. I wonder if this is "politics" or is it just plain underhandedness? I think that Margaret Peoples should have moral and political conviction enough to state now just what her plans are. We may elect her to an office she has served well and long, only to end up with the "Coach's" (Smith's) wife instead.

The other article was the one in which "Coach" Smith and star players Jack O'Leary and Dick Campbell claim that this same monster "politics" was the chief reason why a Township resident, Earl Kidder, would question possible irregularities concerning the rental of equipment from "Coach" Smith's company by the Township Recreation Dept. headed by O'Leary and Campbell. This cozy trio was so busy crying "politics" and "foul" that they forgot to answer the allegation as to whether or not Smith's company actually did receive a very substantial fee from the Township.

In the future are we to expect that every time a Township resident makes an inquiry of O'Leary that he will dodge the issue by crying "politics"? That happens to be the name of the game you've chosen to play, Jack, and if you need advice regarding its rules perhaps you should seek out Margaret Peoples. O'Leary's denunciation of Kidder simply because he is "a friend of Mike Regan's" is in very poor taste. Perhaps in the future O'Leary will accept comments and criticism only from his own close friends. That doesn't paint such a rosy picture for the rest of us, does it? I'm glad I've changed my uniform!

At a recent meeting of the Pleasant View Civic Association, Candidate for Township Supervisor, Albert Gire made light of an anonymous telephone call that he received concerning the Parks Commission and the rental of a trenching machine from the So-Rite Sprinkler Company. Approximately three weeks ago in one of the Township papers there was mention made also of a trenching machine allegedly rented by the Redford Township Parks Commission.

I received a letter today signed by an Earl Kidder that alleges that payments were made without benefit of advertised bids and that $1889 was allegedly paid to the So-Rite Sprinkler Company for the rental of a sod cutter and trencher and that the entire value of the machine was only $550. It goes on to state that the machine was purchased at a later date for the sum of $350. The letter also asked the question as to whether or not the Parks and Recreation Commission and its employees had knowledge of the failure to publish for bids and whether or not the Treasurer paid these on vouchers submitted by the Director of the Parks and Recreation Commission. I have myself made an preliminary investigation of this matter and find that the So-Rite Sprinkling System, Incorporated is owned by a Redford Township Water and Sewer Department employee and a prominent Redford Township politician.

I am at this time requesting the Parks Commission to make a complete investigation of this matter and to gather all the pertinent information from Recreation Director, Jack O'Leary so that proper action may be taken if standard procedures were not used or a vindication of all people concerned, if the investigation proves that no Township rules were broken.

In the best interest of all concerned this investigation should be made immediately and the findings to be delivered to my office as soon as possible.

Yours truly,
Jack H. McDonald,
Supervisor

Editor,
In your Feb. 27 issue on the front page you printed an article reiterating what had transpired at a recent Redford Township Board Meeting regarding the Parks and Recreation Department. A Mr. Kidder charged that $11,800 of the taxpayers' money had been paid to the So Rite Sprinkler Co. for rental of equipment and later the same equipment was purchased by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation for $1,350, although its actual value was only $500. And further, that the So Rite Sprinkler Co. was owned by Mr. Sam Smith, Democratic leader, who no longer heads the now defunct company.

Jack O'Leary's answer to this squandering of tax dollars was that "politics are involved here" and that Mr. Kidder is a buddy of Mike Regan, Democratic candidate for Supervisor who lost to Mr. O'Leary in the primary election. Now, I ask all of your readers to ask themselves as I have done, does this fact make the action morally right? Mr. O'Leary did not state whether this incident was true or not, he simply absolved himself, Mr. Smith, Mr. Campbell and the whole gang by saying "politics were involved." Is this the kind of man we want to run our township?

In the same issue of your paper in a letter to the editor, the Secretary of the Vandenburg School P.T.A. commends Mr. O'Leary very highly for the wonderful work he has done in establishing a youth program and for the good work he is doing with youngsters. A good example to our teenagers.

I wish no harm or ill will to Mr. O'Leary, he is a nice friendly chap who loves sports and should continue to do what he does best, however not in the capacity as Director of Parks and Recreation and even much less in the capacity as Township Supervisor. As residents we would be committing the gravest sin to elect a man who is neither capable nor qualified to run this township. He would be nothing more than a puppet for Mr. Sam Smith and the U.A.W.

Teenagers Act on Smoking Problem

Aware of the increasing problem of smoking teenagers among their own group teenagers are facing the problem themselves. Feb. 23, a Regional Student Council was held in Thurston's cafeteria. Student Council representatives from neighboring high schools and junior highs met to discuss solutions.

One point highlighted in the meeting was an attempt to see Governor Romney on the subject of repealing the present law which prohibits teenagers smoking until they are 21 years old. The consensus was teenagers have no respect for the present law because it isn't obeyed or enforced.

A campaign will begin immediately, aimed at the health hazards to the student who smokes. A representative from the cancer research program will be engaged as a speaker.

According to Chairman Don Bone another regional meeting will be planned to follow through on several ideas. Other students from Thurston on the committee are Marilyn Rouen, Cheryl RoeBuck, Patti Barron.
