First Federal To Open New Building Friday

A beautiful new Colonial building at the corner of Main and Penniman in Plymouth will be dedicated with open house ceremonies starting Friday, March 22.

Residents of Plymouth and neighboring communities are invited to attend. Plymouth city officials and business leaders are expected to visit the new office during the open house, which will continue through Friday, April 5.

The structure has been under construction since last August, when ground was broken at the site where several old buildings stood in the heart of the city.

This new building, in the true Early American tradition as are so many other business buildings and homes in Plymouth, is the home of First Federal Savings of Detroit's Plymouth branch, which has moved from its location at 843 Penniman.

Designed by Aloys Frank

Herman, Detroit architect, the building also houses the Plymouth branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan. The AAA offices are rapidly nearing completion and will be opened later in the spring.

Clearing of the site started on March 12, 1962, at which time Hans Gehrke, Jr., president of First Federal, promised that the new building would be of the finest construction and in keeping with the old New England atmosphere of Plymouth, Mass., the Pilgrim City.

Architects studied the area and such buildings as the nearby Mayflower Hotel and came up with a structure that will enhance the beauty of Plymouth's downtown section and fit into the city's plans for development of the immediate area.

These plans include a $600,000 City Hall which is expected to be completed within another year. The site for the City Hall is a few doors east of the First Federal Building on the same side of Main Street.

Another reconstruction project includes modernization of business buildings on Main Street directly across from the First Federal. This work is expected to begin within a short time.

The First Federal structure contains approximately 10,000 square feet of working space. The first floor will be used for the Association's growing business in the Plymouth area.

This volume includes a considerable section of Western Wayne County, where many new industries have been located within the past few years and where industrial growth is expected to continue under the guiding hand of Plymouth's aggressive Industrial Development Corporation.

Space has been provided on the second floor for a lunchroom, storage and other needed facilities.

In front of the building will be a landscaped plaza, giving it a setting of charm and dignity. The plantings will be in as soon as frost is out of the ground and weather permits. This landscaping will complement that in Kellogg Park across the street.

Every convenience has been provided for customers. A feature is a driveway, leading from Penniman to the driveway in windows, where patrons may transact business without leaving their cars.

The driveway is designed so that those who wish may continue past the windows and drive directly into the adjacent municipal free parking lot.

There also is parking space for quite a number of cars on the premises.

Equipment in the building is the latest and finest, according to First Federal officials.

In a statement, coinciding with the open house ceremonies, Perry Richwine, First Federal vice president and Plymouth manager, said:

"First Federal now serves more than 6,000 savings customers in the Plymouth area, and has financed the purchase and construction of a great many homes in the community.

"In the construction of our new building, we decided to keep some 75 feet of land fronting on Main Street and adjoining for future expansion. We are sure this land will be put to good use, because Plymouth has a bright future and is sure to attract new industries and many new families as time goes on."

FACTS and OPINIONS by Paul Chandler

Before the Towns and Counties Committee of the State House of Representatives this week is a bill relating to public elections on the use of fluoride in water supply.

This bill would require petitions bearing signatures from 20 per cent of the voters, then a general election and a majority approval before a community could add fluoride to its water supply.

I am a member of the House Committee involved and the following are somewhat extended remarks I will give before the Committee this week—

"Gentlemen: This is to urge a 'No' vote on House Bill 53, the one dealing with compulsory elections on the matter of fluoridated water. As responsible men and elected State officials, I believe the time is long past for this subject to be taken out of the area of nonsense and superstition.

"If any regard the subject as one of adding 'poison' to the water, then we shouldn't be talking about this Bill at all. If 'poison' really were involved, then the Legislature couldn't consider any method—elections, or any other for allowing the people to treat their water with fluoride.

"If 'poison' genuinely were involved, it could not possibly be a subject for legislative action or a referendum of the people. It would belong entirely to medical experts and we would have to follow their advice. There is no such thing as a legislative committee passing 'enabling legislation' which would permit people to poison themselves.

"Yet, somehow, some of us give credence to a position where we listen to persons argue that fluoride is a 'poison' but who at the same time encourage a bill which would permit 'poison,' the only criteria being whether the public votes for it or not. This is ridiculous.

"More than that, many of those in the House are extremely disturbed by the lack of respect we have been showing for our dental profession and for our elected officials by paying lip-service to the devices of this bill.

"Our dentists are educated in science. They attained the practice of their profession through study, research and dedication. They are under oath to serve humanity and the public good. They are the best authorities we have in the subject matter with which they deal.

"The dental profession across the nation supports fluoride in water as a major 'break-through' in the chosen field of their life work. It will prevent dental decay by 60 or 70 per cent in youngsters who receive the treatment over a prolonged period. In another age and at another time, this will be regarded as one of the scientific miracles of our particular generation.

"Yet, we tolerate — and in some cases encourage — untrained laymen of the most strange assortment who say the dentists are ignorant of the scientific facts, where as they, these laymen, know more about teeth and cavities and mottling and fluoride than do our professionals.

"The insult to the dental profession contained in this bill is almost impossible to reconcile in so-called enlightened times.

"As one elected official, I will always go to the dental profession when I want to know something about teeth, and not to fanatics, superstitious civilians, and John Birchers.

"The terms of this bill—particularly the requirement of 20 per cent signatures on petitions before an election could be called—betray the apologies of some who protest 'we merely want the people to vote.'

"The initiative and referendum process, already on the books and available for voters who want a special vote on any subject, calls for only 10 percent of the voters' signatures on petitions.

"This fluoride makes it twice as difficult, and has no intention of adding the electoral process at all, but instead makes it extremely difficult.

"Further, we are indulging in hypocrisy if we pretend any fluoride election by the people proves anything. I have just witnessed such an advisory vote in Redford Township.

"The election was nearly a secret prior to the voting. The campaigning consisted mostly of appeals to fear, suspicion and doubt by the laymen. Many citizens who voted for other offices skipped this special proposal and didn't vote either way. The only literature distributed came from the imported professional poison-pen pamphleteers who churn this type of material out continually at a high profit to themselves.

"The subject is a scientific one involving professional judgment. Who in the public is qualified to make it? Obviously, only a sparse few, on a ballot or anywhere else.

"As with many other technical subjects, the one on fluoride is properly one the people should delegate to its elected officials and to its scientific professionals.

"For those to pretend that a popular vote on fluoride is more analytical and safe than a scientific analysis of the subject is about the same as to claim Einstein's theories all should have been reviewed by voter referendum before being passed on to the people.

"Some suburban representatives in the Detroit area have urged passage of the bill because they have no vote in determining the policies of the body which furnishes them the water.

"Their protest is valid but their solution is foolish. The suburbs do deserve a proportionate voting voice on the Board of Directors of their water system. But to force a public vote on the single subject of fluoridation is no progress toward attaining that representation.

"One other ground has been offered for voting on fluoride, the religious grounds. This is troublesome, but if one checks, one finds that fluoride exists in most water. In some water fluoride is present in heavy amounts. In all cases, humans consume the water. Reasonable people do not believe that a natural element found in natural situations is contrary to Divine law. To create a balanced intake of a natural element is not the same thing at all as forcing medication.

"I urge again this Bill be killed."

Plymouth Commission Backs Sunday Closing

Feeling that the Sunday closing law will have little if any effect on Plymouth merchants, the City Commission Monday passed a resolution backing the law and instructed Supervisor Arch Vallier to inform the Wayne County Board of Supervisors of the action.

The Board of Supervisors is making a study of the situation and the effect of the law on businesses throughout the county and is expected to take a vote in the near future.

The Commission learned that the future of the proposed renewal and offstreet parking project in the southwest business section appears doomed.

The planning commission discussed the matter with its consultants a week ago and was informed that buildings in the area were not obsolete enough to warrant razing. The consultants indicated the city couldn't qualify for a federal loan on the project because of the condition of the buildings and that the "outlook isn't a bit hopeful."

Dr. Jack Robison, representing the Penniman Ave. Parking Committee, requested the Commission to study a proposal from his group recommending the purchase of properties and clearance of the land for the parking facilities.

"We all know that Penniman Ave. is a thorn in the side of civic development," he said. "We are proposing that business is willing to make a contribution to help finance the project with the balance on a land contract."

Robison, Perry Richwine and James Houk are members of the committee which made the presentation.

The Commission voted to table the request until after the new commissioners take over in April at which time the newcomers will have a chance to discuss the matter with the parking committee.

City Manager Albert Glassford reported that three city lots are available at tax sale for a total price of $75. He gave the Commission figures which showed the cost of the Industrial Park as follows: sanitary sewer, $58,300; storm sewer, $26,400; paving Industrial Drive, $26,461; and industrial water mains, $8,000.

The Commission authorized transfer of funds to pay the costs of the development.

Glassford reported acquisition of the site for the new reservoir and reported Northville Township officials had inquired as to whether it would be feasible for the city to furnish water for

Bids Run Over Board Estimates

How to trim $35,000 from the construction costs of building projects at Junior High West, Farrand School and the Senior High School and will keep the new facilities at the high standard desired for the Plymouth Community School District?

That's the problem facing the Plymouth Board of Education after opening bids on the projects and learning that costs will be some $35,000 more than the $861,000 available.

The Board was optimistic over the probable costs after opening bids for the Farrand and Senior High projects but received quite a jolt when it was discovered the bids for the four contracts on the Junior High West were almost $72,000 more than the architect's estimate.

The low bids for the Farrand and Senior High School jobs, which were placed by Burger Construction Co. of Plymouth, were $37,000 under the estimates. That led the Board to believe it was home free and could look forward to similar bids on the Junior High.

But such wasn't to be—the four bids totaled $658,112 contrasted to the estimates of $583,550 and left the Board in a quandary as to where the trims should be made.

The facilities and finance committees are expected to hold several meetings within the next few days to study the situation.

Board members are reported to be thinking in terms of eliminating some of the rehabilitation work at the Senior High. Presumably that was the reason for asking bids on nine segments of the proposed improvements and rehabilitation at that building.

The Board is committed to completing the second phase of the Junior High West and the additions to Farrand School —thus it appears the Senior High will lose some of the improvements which will be set back to some future date.

Burger's low bid included $60,036 for the two-room addition to Farrand and $177,922 for the high school.

The Board has not awarded any bids for the projects and isn't expected to take such action until it has studied the situation and determined where the cuts will be made.

The bids for the four segments of the Junior High West program included:

ARCHITECTURAL TRADES: Ray Misch and Son Inc., low with $403,610; Hickson-Costigan Co., $414,440; M. Herbert, General Contractors, 424,488; and Chase Co., $427,536.

MECHANICAL TRADES: Allen Briggs Co., low with $171,800; John E. Green, Plumbing and Heating, $173,370; Joseph Kropp Co., $173,883; H. L. Johnson, $174,590; Eames and Brown Inc., $176,900; Standard Plumbing and Heating, $177,350; Brady Plumbing and Heating, $178,000; W. J. Rowoldt Co., $180,465; and Evans Plumbing and Heating, $182,200.

ELECTRICAL TRADES: E. R. Switzer Electrical Co., low with $54,344; McGee Electrical Co., $65,000; Darwish Brothers Electrical Co., $66,174; Lowney and Hickman, $66,250; Penn Electrical Co., $68,777; Colonial Electric Co., $70,970; and McGarvey Electric Co., $74,990.

KITCHEN EQUIPMENT TRADES: Gold Star Products, low with $28,358; Great Lakes Hotel Supply Co., $28,493; F. D. Stella Products Co., $28,571; Canton China and Equipment Co., $29,654; Illinois Range Co., $29,699; and Reichle Sons Co., $30,328.

Township Isn't Buying City's Price on Main

There may be moves in some directions for peace and goodwill between City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township officials but the latter group isn't about to buy a "pig in a poke."

At least that's one way of describing the negotiations in which the City is attempting to sell the Township on purchasing the General Drive

Plymouth Police Nab Three Area Youths In Garage Robbery

Two Livonia youths and a third from Redford Township have been arrested by Plymouth City Police on charges of breaking and entering Bowling's Garage, 882 Holbrook.

The trio, including Richard DeLorey, Redford Township; Craig Rogers and Samuel Root, of Livonia, waived examination before Municipal Judge Harry Deyo and were bound over to Circuit Court on $500 bonds.

Police charge the youths broke into the garage early in the morning and stole a four-barrel carburetor and manifold, a racing cam and rods, set of lifter rods and a Hurst floor shift.

The carburetor and manifold were found shortly after the robbery in Hines Park.

Police followed footprints from the garage to Five Mile and Merriman Rds. and then noticed a car parked nearby. They reportedly checked the license and found DeLorey had been driving it.

He was taken into custody for questioning and implicated the other two, according to the reports.

Plymouth Lions To Hear Talk By George Lawton

The "Uncommon Common Interest" will be the unusual topic of a talk by George Lawton, treasurer and executive manager of the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union, to members of the Plymouth Lions Club Thursday evening at 6:30 in the Mayflower Hotel.

Lawton, who led the field of eight successful candidates for City Commission in the February primary, has been manager of the Credit Union for the past six years and has had 13 years experience in this field and in community activities.

Lawton's talk will emphasize the desirability of each individual's interest in community affairs. He was elected as "Man of the Year" by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce in January.

Community Band to Play At Senior High

The Plymouth Community Band will present its second annual spring concert Sunday, March 24, in the Plymouth High School auditorium. Admission is free.

The band, under the direction of James Griffith, will play selections from Broadway hits, popular songs, marches and classical numbers.

The band plans to commence its Friday night open air concerts during the summer with the first slated in Kellogg Park on June 21.

There are openings for clarinets, flutes and French horns. Anyone playing these instruments will be welcomed. Rehearsals are held on Wednesday nights in the band room at the high school, from 8 to 10 p.m.

Township Ponders DPS

Plymouth Township's Board is thinking in terms of a Director of Public Safety instead of naming a fire chief to replace Howard "Bud" Holmes. At least that was the indication at last week's meeting when the Trustees ordered Clerk John McEwen to draw up a resolution for a Director of Public Service for presentation at the April meeting.

Holmes, who served as fire chief and building inspector, requested a six-months leave of absence last July to take up residence in Florida due to illness in his family.

McEwen notified the Trustees in February that the leave had expired on Jan. 14 and that no word had been received from Holmes, indicating that he had allowed the leave to die and with no intention of resigning.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay asked Township Attorney Earl Demel for an opinion on the matter of whether the Trustees had to appoint a successor to Holmes.

Demel in his opinion indicated that inasmuch as the fire department included only five firemen—two of whom are captains—it "appears from an economy standpoint, premature to have a full time fire chief and it appears a better solution would be to have a Director of Public Service until such time as growth of the fire department or a police department

Clayton E. Nordstrom, executive director of Methodist Children's Home in Redford Township, has been named chairman of the 1963 Committee For Foster Children according to an announcement today by Niel W. Talling, of Chrysler Corporation, chairman of the committee's advisory council.

Nordstrom succeeds 1962 chairman Harold Silver, of Jewish Family and Children's Service. Named to assist Nordstrom as co-chairmen are Elaine Orheim, of Lutheran Social Services, and Leonard Jagels, of Catholic Social Services of Oakland County.

Agency members of the 1963 Committee are: Baptist Children's Home; Catholic Social Services of Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland Counties; Children's Aid Society; Florence Crittenton Maternity Home; Jewish Family and Children's Service; Lutheran Children's Friend Society; Lutheran Social Services of Michigan; Macomb County Children's Aid and Family Service; Methodist Children's Home Society; Michigan Children's Aid Society, Oakland County.

"Our search for new foster homes in Wayne, Oakland, and Macomb Counties during 1963 will be intensified in these areas," Chairman Nordstrom said, "since demands on the agencies and their accompanying problems are never ending. This community-wide problem," said Nordstrom, "is so widespread and overlooked under the stress of everyday living, the public is unaware of its urgency. It is evident we will be unable to meet our 1963 objective of 1,200 new homes unless more potential foster parents call or write the committee to learn the facts."

"Ordinarily," said Nordstrom, "when the public becomes aware of a community need, some good citizens come forward to plug the leak in the dike. At this moment, however, the committee is looking for more than one solid family; in fact, it is seeking 1,200 parents to meet current child care needs of the agencies and the courts."

In another attempt to reduce the number of foster children still needing attention, The Detroit Foster Homes Project under the direction of Dr. Douglas A. Sargent and the Wayne County Juvenile Court has joined forces with 12 U-F agency members of the Committee in an effort to tell the story of foster children and their need for personal care and guidance.

"It is relatively easy to find a solid family to qualify as adoption homes," said Nordstrom, "because adopted children become permanent members of their adopted families."

"The big problem is in the field of foster homes," he said, "where youngsters through no fault of their own are placed on a temporary basis. It takes constant search for foster homes.

"In the meantime," Talling concluded, "potential foster parents who are willing to care for one or more children on a temporary basis should direct their inquiry immediately to Committee For Foster Children, P. O. Box 200, Detroit 26, Michigan, or call Chairman Nordstrom, KE 1-4060 for additional information."

Wiebeck Cracks 2 State Marks

Michigan's greatest all-around high school swimmer has to be Ken Wiebeck, a junior at Thurston high school.

As a junior last March, Wiebeck swam to state Class A championships—in the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard back stroke — and set Michigan prep records in both.

In last Saturday night's 1963 state meet at East Lansing, Wiebeck won two more state titles. This time he lowered the Michigan standards in both the 50- and 100-yard free styles.

In the "50" Wiebeck was clocked in 22.1 seconds; in the "100" 49.3 seconds.

Unfortunately for Wiebeck, the fact he couldn't enter more than two events, because of the state rules, cost him his name as the state record holder in the individual medley and the back stroke.

The two marks he had set 12 months ago didn't survive last Saturday night's record bombardment which saw new standards created in all but the breast stroke and the 400-yard free style.

"What a meet," declared John McFall, coach at Plymouth high school. "I never saw anything like it. Some of the kids, who finished eighth and ninth this time, would have set state records two or three years ago."

"That shows how much our high school swimmers are improving every year."

Wiebeck alone wasn't in Saturday night's spotlight. Bill Jennison of Detroit Cooley surged to a new national record of 52.6 seconds in the 100-yard butterfly while Rick Skarbo of Detroit Western beat Wiebeck's old state records in the individual medley and the back stroke.

Another double winner was Detroit Pershing's Pete Adams in the 200 and 400-yard free style races.

When it came to the team championship, it was Birmingham Seaholm in a runaway. Seaholm ran up 98.5 points to Grosse Pointe's 44.5 and Ann Arbor's 42.5. Thurston tallied 19 1/2 points, Plymouth 16 1/2 and Bentley 8.5.

In winning the 50-yard free, Wiebeck topped the old state mark by three-tenths of a second. He easily beat Jim Lotzette of Grosse Pointe. James MacMillan of Detroit Eastern had held the old 50-state record of 22.4.

In the 100-yard event, Wiebeck became the first Michigan

"Work Smarter - Not Harder" has been chosen as the theme of the convention which will follow through with bringing new ideas and methods to all school lunch employees.

The membership is composed of school administrators, school lunch supervisors and directors, and school lunch managers and other employees actively engaged in the preparation of the school lunch employees. Ron Upton, Livonia business administrator, will speak before the group.

To quote Mrs. Sweet: "The purposes of our state organization are to improve the health of students through nutritionally adequate and educationally sound non-profit school food service, to develop and maintain high standards of quantity food service, and to provide for an exchange of ideas and a sharing of experiences among members. The program of the annual convention is planned to offer help and inspiration to all school lunch personnel toward the accomplishment of these major goals."

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Odd as it seems, isn't it true that the man in your life always wants you to be the most elegantly dressed in the room, but "woman, what are you trying to do, drive me to the wall" — is the comment when the charge account comes in; or he wants you to keep sharp (but stay home) look sharp (no hair color) and keep a trim figure — but fix a T.V. snack every night; he wants steak on the table — but for hamburger prices — and really wants your honest opinion — but "do you always have to take the opposite view" is often the comment.

Bless their hearts, they may not ALL be guilty of ALL of the above — but I'll guarantee EACH is guilty of at least one.

There is another area that a fascinating little friend of ours liked. I don't know a livin'-breathin'-complaining husband that isn't fond of a peaceful looking, attractive place to come to, to shut away the trials and tribulations of the world.

Unfortunately this can cost and cost and cost—particularly with kiddies—to keep the stuffing in the sofa—the scratches from coming and the carpeting from going and walls, lamps and such from becoming drab and dismal.

Admittedly our friend is clever and artistic — however — she said imagination gains momentum as you use it and she says along the way you will find yourself having the time of your life — she "goes junking."

She guarantees it beats daily afternoons at the bridge table, or cocktailing — or just plain bored at home.

It works like this—you call a friend and you start out—she said there are a million places to go—not necessarily antique stores but places like Dorothy McCollum's on Locust Drive just off Grand River in Farmington.

Dorothy calls herself a "junk lady" — she isn't though. She's a warm hearted personality who has an eye for design and color. She loves to see others make just the right "find."

The middle of June she plans to have her second annual Flea Market on the grounds of her interesting farm home in Farmington and artists and antiquers will gather from all over to display their wares out-of-doors in gypsy fashion—and of course it won't rain—

My friend, Beverly Seger says there are many places to adventure to for a fascinating afternoon.

In fact, she found her home, pictured at right on one of these junkets. She and her husband Robert had been looking for something — just right for them — not in a subdivision, but not isolated; large but not pretentious, a place to raise their children with nature and still give expression to some of their sophisticated ideas of decor; a place to enjoy their friends and not worry about their kids.

The amazing thing is they found the house, and not far off the main drag of Grand River.

The Segers have had the home for three years and are still "working" on the inside. "We didn't have to do a thing but both Bob (he is an architectural engineer grad. of U. of M.) and we love to do things ourselves."

By doing things herself Beverly doesn't mean—incidentally to go down town and shop and buy something at the counter.

Having lunched with her a couple of weeks ago and browsing to my heart's content I can tell you there isn't one room in her home that doesn't have her original touch — many things she had "picked-up" at McCollum's and "done something with." — I was so excited when I came home I felt like getting to work on ALL my unfinished projects ALL at once.

The house is 30 years old but the layout is perfect, Beverly did want to modernize the kitchen. She didn't want to "slic" it up just "efficienize" it.

With a good buddy and her kids in the car she scoured the country side looking for an old tumble-down barn — the barn had to be unpainted and one that had taken plenty of sunshine, rain and wind, because she said wood like this had a silver sheen all of its own. All of her friends kept an eye out for Beverly's barn — she knew immediately when she had found it and she carted it home herself — it was falling down and seemed to be very inexpensive—in fact free—one thing about going "junking" it won't break up the pocket-book.

Now, the entire wall of Beverly's kitchen are cupboards, with the doors paneled in this marvelous silvery wood complete with unpainted wrought iron hinges and handles — you just can't resist feeling it. She has white formica on her sink and the cupboard tops — has painted various drawers in colors of putty, umber and turquoise—there is a bit of orange here and there too.

She is presently sketching flowers of the field in block form on her walls in lieu of wall paper — the effect is absolutely the most desirable kitchen I have ever been in. Add a little music and the aroma of a roast beef cooking and you can remove the tranquilizers from your man's diet for true.

This is only the kitchen — each room has its own charm and each fits the mood as far as shape and exposure is concerned. There is little regard for color continuity from one room to another or design. Beverly uses all colors — and designs — contemporary, period and her favorite "junk" periods.

I loved her green wrought iron bedstead with the rich gold velvet spread and bright as sunshine yellow nylon drapes — her impossible to decorate Spanish narrow windows — positively romantic when she finished with a bolt of white felt — cut out like snowflakes in perfect circles — ball fringe sewed on the bottom and the top on rollers fitting the windows to perfection.

Two things you must remember — use color when you lack design — and don't be afraid to tackle things.

Maybe Beverly was a warm-hearted, sensitive person before she took up her hobby of "junking" — maybe not — but on a dull day — when the blues are bigger than the pink clouds she and her home are just what you need to be with.

LENDING charm to the countryside and bringing pleasure to its residents is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seger on Drake Drive in Farmington. The two acre grounds include a lovely spring-fed lake just right for a summer swim or skating pleasure in the winter—lovely wild flowers—good-eating mushrooms — a barn and horses — and most of all a Spanish architecture home with character and rooms for everyone to spread out to pursue their individual dreams. Mr. and Mrs. Seger and their four children have had the home for three years. It was previously designed and built by Joseph Schafer. "Thirty years ago when Mr. Schafer built this home he had foresight and vision," said Robert Seger, himself an architectural engineer, "the fireplace built personally by Mr. Schafer out of marble chips was built to last as was the study door jambs and marvelous hard wood floor now left exposed by the Segers.

Garden Club to Hold Breakfast

An Auction Breakfast will be held at the next meeting in April of the Redford Township Garden Club at the home of Mrs. J. L. Langdon. The regular meeting will follow at 12:30.

Program for the day will be given by Don Juchartz from Wayne County Extension Office on "What's New in Roses." He will talk about rose culture from ground preparation, planting, pruning, disease to insect control. This will be followed by a question and answer period.

In March the Club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Hermann. The president, Mrs. C. K. Avery conducted the business for the day and welcomed a new member, Mrs. Carl Tikki. Slides on "Planting for Permanence" were shown and narrated by Mrs. Donald Beck assisted by Mrs. Elsmere Pearson.

Women's Club Invite New Ladies

Livonia City Woman's Club will meet at 1 p.m. Thursday, March 21, at the Parish Hall of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, 27475 Five Mile Road.

The slate of officers for the coming year will be presented by the nominating committee. Nominations may also be made from the floor. On the committee is Mrs. Burdette Clark, Mrs. Wendell Ellis, and Mrs. John Fulkerson.

Mrs. James Sigmon will give a book review. Mrs. James Cable and Mrs. Herbert Winegarden will be refreshment hostesses for the afternoon.

Any woman interested in an afternoon activity, living in Livonia may call Mrs. B. Clark, GA 2-6691 for more information about the Livonia City Woman's Club.

A card party, luncheon, tour to the Historical Museum are a few of the activities planned for this Spring.

Honor Two Livonians

Two Livonians, who have played major roles in the development of Omni Spectra, Inc., a year-old Detroit electronics manufacturing company, are pictured in an article about the organization in the current issue of The Livonian Journal.

The article cites the fact that the company had 15 new products on display at a trade show only five months after it was formed last March, and in less than a year has achieved nationwide acceptance as a supplier of microwave components and equipment.

The two Livonians mentioned are: Harold Ward, 14251 Cardwell, financial manager and one of the founders of the company, and Frank Moulds, 14998 Berwick, product design manager.

Curtain Going Up

by Wally Roberts

Damp, inclement, indecisive weather makes for ideal stay-at-home TV-viewing conditions. Asian flu or whatever foreign virus has bitten you can give you a few more hours at home to read or burn your eyes out looking at the idiot box. Several of my flu-stricken friends have informed me that many of the daytime programs certainly haven't helped their fevered brains. Even color TV doesn't help. Seems that the programs discovered in the many colored hues soon lose their appeal when it's dipped the same old plot is there. Slapping a coat of paint on a barn about to collapse is ineffectual insurance for its continued upright existence.

However, old Wally must hasten to add that the networks, all three of them, are doing a magnificent job in the area of the documentary program. Last month, NBC had a discussion of the need for more conservation of water—an excellently done program. The George Pierrott travelogues every day in color are superb. And the CBS reports specials shown every week, you can enjoy some fairly intelligent fare.

If the TV screen gets a bit boring, let me suggest an exciting British movie, "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner." When this movie plays at your local art or foreign film cinema, put everything aside to see this heart-warming story of a lad from the north of England. Tony Richardson has directed this picture so that you enter into the excitement and dash of his cross-country run. You can't help but enjoy this picture. The ending will be discussed and debated for many months.

Downtown in the glow of the Shubert Theater keeps the marquee containing a lively presentation of "Here Today." The play is a bit old, but still a comic tour de force. Tallulah Bankhead plays the lead role with reckless abandon and adds many a new line to this jolly farce. It's a pity she will be in town only through Saturday, March 23 with so juicy a comedy. Take time to see a stage favorite like Tallulah darling.

"Sophie" packs up its bags minus their original director, Mr. Frankel and heads for Philly. Let's hope they have done some re-writing in the meantime or I'm afraid Steve Allen's musical will never reach Broadway. "Milk and Honey" featuring Molly Picon is due into the Fisher theater next Monday for a four week stay. Broadway cheered this musical on for a full season last year. It has a vitality all its own. "Milk and Honey" is a musical adventure tale about the settling of Israel by a new generation of displaced folk. It's sort of a light-hearted version of "Exodus." Robert Weede and Molly Picon will thrill you with their fine singing ability.

The Plymouth Theater Guild is not looking for any singers but actors as they ready their current production of "The Mousetrap." Director Bob Wall says he has eight roles ready for filling. Tryouts will be held in the Plymouth City Hall on the second floor in the courtroom. Thursday and Friday nights from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m. are the times for the tryouts. You need not come to be heard. Drop in anytime and the director will be glad to hear you. Also, Saxie Hef, Producer, has indicated that anyone interested in the multiplicity of tasks that always plague any production can be asked for at this tryout session.

Bill Moore, Plymouth Theater Guild veteran, plans to have a model of the "Mousetrap" set on exhibition. You might want to see how an old English manor house appears. I'm sure Bill has provided in his stage set for the mysterious squeaking of doors, the sly sliding of a panel or two so that a hairy hand can come groping out, and the inevitable scum that is sure to chill everyone in the audience. "The Mousetrap" has been running now for 10 years in London. I'm positive that such of us will crowd to this play just to see what has made it such a perennial favorite over the years.

Tickets are now on sale for the 11th Shakespearean festival over in Stratford, Ontario. If you are thinking of going on a weekend, you'd better write to the box office immediately. Tickets disappear with amazing rapidity. A simple card to the box office in Stratford will provide you with a detailed program of all the many events planned for this summer.

Youth Symphony Performs In Livonia on March 31

The next concert presentation of the Livonia Youth Symphony Society will be a combined program, 4 p.m. Sunday, March 31 at the Bentley High School gymnasium.

The two youth orchestras of the symphony society will each perform in addition to two solo numbers and a duet by members of the Youth Society.

Cellist Ron Turner and Tom Eadie, trombone, will be the featured soloists in addition to a duet by flutist Pam Haltom and Bill Hanton on the French horn.

This is the first concert presentation of the season for the 44-piece Junior Orchestra of Livonia under conductor Robert Randall.

Youth Symphony conductor Lester Farkas will present his second concert of the year.

The Junior Orchestra was originally established by the Youth Symphony Society as a training orchestra for the older Youth Symphony. Robert Randall, who is also conductor of the Riley Jr. High School orchestra, will lead the string in works by Purcell, Kreutzer, Dancal, Mozart and Beethoven.

Boys and girls, ranging in ages from 10 through 13 years, from Livonia and surrounding communities make up the personnel of the Junior Orchestra. Ninety young musicians play in the Youth Symphony under the baton of Lester Farkas.

The Youth Symphony will present the well-known "Der Rosenkavalier Suite" by R.

Strauss and the overture to Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" in addition to "Fandango" by Perkins and Copland's "Choral Nocturne" from his "Rodeo Suite."

Soloists on the program, Pam Haltom, Bill Hanton, Ron Turner and Tom Eadie, recently participated in the solo ensemble festival in Ypsilanti where each earned high ratings.

The Livonia Youth Symphony Society, Inc., sponsor of the two youth orchestras, is supported by voluntary contributions in the form of memberships, chair sponsorships; fund raising projects of the Women's Auxiliary of the symphony society; and is aided by the Livonia Board of Education. In addition, the Department of Parks and Recreation helps to support the organization through publicity and printing.

Livonia Coed Has Part in College Revue

Entitled "Femininity," the all-class production is being given in conjunction with the annual Father-Daughter Week-end at the college.

LIVONIA telephone lines

FILL 'ER UP! Last year, Michigan Bell bought more than one million dollars' worth of gasoline to keep our fleet of 4,600 telephone trucks and cars running. When you add the money spent for lubricants, tires, repairs and new vehicles, the total amount comes to six million dollars—all spent right here in Michigan. Next time you see a Michigan Bell truck or car, we hope it reminds you of our efforts to bring you the finest telephone service possible, and that it also reminds you of the investment it represents in contributing to our state's growing economy.

QUICK COLOR QUIZ. Today's modern telephones are available in a number of different colors. Can you guess the two that are most popular?

- PINK
- WHITE
- BLUE
- BEIGE
- GREEN
- TURQUOISE

If you guessed white and beige, you're right. Surveys show that nearly half the color phones are either white or beige. White is most popular for the kitchen, while beige leads for living rooms, dining rooms, and dens. But no matter what color, the convenience of an extension phone is always appreciated. To order one, just call our Business Office—or ask the man on the telephone truck.

HOW MANY HATS does your telephone wear? As many as you desire! Your telephone helps you to arrange things, buy things, ask things, discuss things... and to do many other jobs in the course of a lifetime. It's hard to imagine what life would be like without a telephone. And it's still one of the biggest bargains in your family budget. Use it often.

"MOUSETRAP TRYOUTS" OFFER BAIT FOR CHARACTERS

Ever try being a "red herring"? How about making like a murderer? Or better yet try your hand at being a victim. These weird acting assignments are waiting for the brave hopefuls that will be coming out to the Plymouth Theater Guild tryouts on March 21-22 at the Plymouth City Hall in the second floor courtroom.

Eight roles will be cast by Director Bob Wall at the conclusion of the tryouts. Bob has asked to hold the tryouts in the courtroom of the Plymouth City Hall for added atmosphere. Not too many years ago several murder trials were held in the very room where aspiring thespians will be emoting on March 21-22 from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Producer Saxie Heft, 3850 Dover has announced that everyone is welcome. Previous experience is not necessary.

The Plymouth Theater Guild believes firmly in giving everyone a chance at the tryouts. Many a "star" has been discovered by this equitable method.

What types of characters are being cast? Of the eight parts

"MOUSETRAP" TRYOUTS will be choice bait for thespians in the Livonia-Plymouth-Redford area as Director Bob Wall searches for eight characters. Tryouts will be held in the Plymouth City Hall. As added atmosphere since "The Mousetrap" is a play dealing with murder and mayhem the tryouts will be held in the courtroom on the second floor of the City Hall from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. on March 21-22. Everyone is welcome to attend regardless of past theatrical experience.

"CHERRY PICKERS" bringing "SPAGHETTI"

This is not a call for dinner—it's a signal that steel pipe has arrived.

To the pipeliner working in the Gas fields of Southwestern United States, this message does not mean a cherry picker is coming down from a cherry tree to put on a spaghetti dinner... it means that a light rig (which is called a "cherry picker") is bringing a load of small diameter pipe (which is called "spaghetti") to the construction crew on a pipeline project.

In Outstate Michigan, Consumers Power Company has the big task of planning, constructing and maintaining pipelines. It has over 7,000 miles of Natural Gas pipeline supplying this wonder fuel to customers in 30 Outstate Michigan counties.

Plan Your Landscaping Now and Enjoy Garden Living

Landscaping you house and mind. Plant with a purpose: yard with definite ideas in trees for shade, screens, or accents of color and form; shrubs and evergreens to enhance the architectural lines of the house.

Gardens and shrub borders should be planned and not scattered hit or miss about the property. Notice other houses you pass by. Some will have a quiet charm, others stand out disturbingly. The architecture may be equally good, but plants and the manner in which they are used make the difference.

It is more difficult to plant the contemporary house with its long low lines, than the conventional house. Do not destroy the lines your architect has created, or chop up the house into bits and sections by over-use of conical evergreens.

Keep planting under long picture windows low, and conform to the lines of the house by using low material such as ground covers.

To add height and softness place a flowering tree a few feet from the house, not against it. Large windowless areas may need to be broken up by an individual plant or grouping of plants.

The first step in planning and planting your home is to locate a source of first class plant material. Buy at reputable nurseries where you know plants are properly dug, correctly labeled, and free from disease. Trained nurserymen know the facts concerning season and type of bloom, and the hardiness and fitness of their plant material.

From them, and from catalogs and books, learn all you can about the plants which appeal to you. Ultimate size, hardiness, and growth habits are of the utmost importance.

HOME IMPROVEMENT PAGE

Closets Important Additions

Closets should be more than "holes in the wall" with doors. Closets should have racks, shelves, narrow trays and drawers with everything in its place—and a place for everything.

Well-designed closet space is hard to find—especially in older homes. With judicious planning, one can create and outfit closets to provide efficient, compact storage in minimum amounts of space. Built-in closets can help achieve greater and more flexible facilities than furniture occupying the same space.

Pre-plan the best dimensions for the closet needed by figuring out approximate sizes and shapes of what the closet is to contain. When you've listed the items that need storing, decide on the arrangement—side-by-side or vertically—whether they are to be stacked or to be hung.

All items should be closeted in the nearest possible point of use, whether it's food, clothing or sporting goods. If better use of existing closet space will not adequately meet your needs—build new closets—because closets belong wherever storage space and good looks are needed.

Wasted space under stairs or a dead end hall can be ideal for built-in closets. Closets, by their very utilitarian nature are apt to take a beating, so ease of maintenance should be considered. Any one of the ten species of Western Pine region solid lumber is economical in purchase price, installation and upkeep.

The modern simplicity and beauty of wood give well-built cabinets and closets a custom look. Beautifully grained, durable wood harmonizes and enhances any decor.

In a family or multi-purpose room, build permanent sports or hobby closet. A hobby closet containing a special section for photographic equipment—sliding drawer trays for film projectors and editing gear—will delight camera-minded members of the family.

A built-in sewing center with a drop-down cutting board, a shelf for the sewing machine, compartmentalized drawers for patterns and materials, and narrow racks for spools of thread and the countless little sewing accessories would serve to increase the joys of home sewing.

Kitchen closets can be much more than a cubby-hole to store the broom and dustpan. Build a storage closet with defined areas for long-handled mops, brooms, compartments for cleaning supplies and a high out-of-reach of children shelf for poisonous cleansers.

BEAUTIFUL BUILT-INS enhance this simply furnished bedroom. The room is made interesting by the use of light and dark Weldwood birch "planks" (4"x8" prefinished plywood panels). The long built-in night table is topped with white Micarta, and the Novaply folding doors on closet are faced with the same peneling.

Find 'Extra' Space in Present Home

Who ever has enough storage space? There are few who can boast of it, according to a just-published guide to typical household storage problems and their solutions.

Prepared in cooperation with four leading educators in the home economics field, the new 16-page booklet is intended for all of those who are interested in using home storage space to the maximum.

Titled "Put Your Storage Problems on the Shelf," the illustrated guide discusses ways to create more storage space and how to make the most of space already available. Techniques and principles of storage planning, within the framework of better home management, are especially related to today's "compact" home floor plans with corresponding lack of built-in storage areas.

Subject heading of the booklet, authored by the home storage staff of the S. A. Hirsch Co., Skokie, Ill., include storage planning, choosing storage facilities, and specific storage ideas for every room in the house.

Storage tips for the family room, children's rooms, kitchen, utility room, basement and closets, plus ideas for outdoor store, are drawn from Hirsch's experience as the nation's largest manufacturer of home steel shelving products.

The booklet concludes with a summary of "five keys" to better home management, a handy illustrated guide for shelf storage of typical household articles, and a worksheet for do-it-yourself storage planning.

Single copies are offered free on request to S. A. Hirsch Mfg. Co., Dept. EP, 8051 Central Park Ave., Skokie, Ill.

FREE BOOKLET
Booklets giving information and additional suggestions for creating new closet space or getting more mileage from existing closets are available. "Built-in Ideas and 'Create Useful New Indoor Storage' may be obtained from local building supply dealers, or send 10c in coin for each booklet to the Western Pine Association, Yeon Building, Portland, 4, Ore.

Garling Unveils Plans for Riverside Homes

With a total of 325 lots available and 90 in the first section now completely developed, the Garling Construction Co. and Garling Building Co. plans to speed up work on the Riverside Estates subdivision and move forward with the development as rapidly as possible.

Those were the plans announced in a press conference a week ago when Garling officials, including heads of Garling Inc. which handles the sales, met with area newspaper representatives.

Garling is a well-known name in the Plymouth area and Fred Garling Sr., who started the building firm 43 years ago, has seen his company construct more than 1,700 homes in the City and Township during the past 20 years.

Riverside Estates is bisected (north-south) by Riverside Drive between Ann Arbor Trail and Hines Parkway Drive. It is on the eastern edge of the City of Plymouth and part of the subdivision is in the city and the remainder in the Township.

As of March 1, approximately one year after the subdivision was opened, 30 homes have been built and are occupied. Eighteen others have been sold and are under construction.

Riverside is ideally situated on high ground overlooking the beautiful Hines Parkway which offers unlimited recreation facilities.

Excellent schools and churches are within a short distance of the Estates. The lots are all 60 feet or wider with paved streets and all utilities and improvements are included in the price.

To provide a variety in design, Garling offers the following home styles: Three Colonial designs with 12 elevations. The Cape Cod design with four elevations. A basic Ranch with four elevations and many design adaptations.

These homes come in three and four bedroom floor plans with a choice of brick, paint color, tile and many other interior and exterior appointments.

Recognizing the potential for a quality home building program in Plymouth, Garling Inc. has appointed Daniel Oles sales manager for the area. In addition to handling sales of new homes, Oles also heads the used home sales program throughout Western Wayne County.

People who think mainly of money seldom have anything but money.

REPORT from LANSING By PAUL CHANDLER

By PAUL CHANDLER State Representative, 21st District, Wayne County

LANSING—Because the current session of the Legislature is to be a short one, the absolute deadline for bills to be released from committee is this week, Wednesday.

Every committee in the House has a portfolio jammed with bills, about 90 percent of which will never reach the light of legislative day. In some cases, they are bills which the committee happens to have judged as unnecessary or harmful; but in others, there just isn't enough time to make a judgment, one way or another.

Nonetheless, there are serious matters which will reach the floor, and today I wonder if the reader would want to put himself in my place, deciding how he would vote if confronted by the same questions.

If you're of a mood to mark your own choices, sign your name, and mail the clipping to me in Lansing, it would help guide my own decisions.

CIVIL RIGHTS) 1. H.B. 1 would outlaw discrimination based on race, color, religion or national origin. How would you vote? Yes; No

TAXATION 2. H.B. 13 would prohibit cities from levying an income tax either on their own citizens or on non-residents. How would you vote? Yes; No

ELECTIONS 3. H.B. 16 would change the date of the bi-annual primary election from the first Tuesday after the first Monday in August to the second Tuesday in September. How would you vote? Yes; No

WATER FLUORIDATION 4. H.B. 53 would require a vote of the people to authorize water fluoridation in a community water system, with petitions from 20 percent of the voters required to start the election. How would you vote? Yes; No

GOVERNOR'S RESIDENCE 5. H.B. 90 would provide for the construction of an official residence for the governor. Michigan presently has no official residence in the state capitol. How would you vote? Yes; No

DELTA COLLEGE 6. H.B. 117 would create a four-year college near Saginaw and Bay City. This bill is in response to requests in that area to affiliate a present two-year community college with the U. of M. This bill would create a separate four-year institution, rather than granting affiliation with the U. of M. How would you vote? Yes; No

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS 7. H.B. 197 would provide that one presidential elector be elected from each congressional district, and two at large, rather than having all elected at-large. This would prevent all of Michigan's electoral votes in the "college" from going in a bloc to the same presidential college. How would you vote? Yes; No

SALES TAX 8. H.B. 202 would reduce the sales tax to 3 percent from the current 4 percent level, and would exempt foodstuffs and prescription drugs from sales tax. How would you vote? Yes; No

VOTING REGISTRATION 9. H.B. 219 would require clerks to remove inactive voter registrations every two years, instead of every four years. This bill is designed to prevent the possibility of "phantom voters" and it would require each citizen to vote at least once every two years to keep his registration active. How would you vote? Yes; No

GLASS CONTAINERS 10. As a measure to remove public litter, H.B. 270 would prohibit the use of no-deposit, no-return glass bottles by brewers. How would you vote? Yes; No

CIGARETTE ADVERTISING 11. H.B. 385 would prohibit radio and television advertising by cigarette manufacturers.

How would you vote? Yes; No

BLUE LAWS 12. H.B. 567 would repeal the law prohibiting sales and business activities on Sunday. How would you vote? Yes; No

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE 13. H.B. 800 would require children to attend school until they graduate from high school, or until they reach 18, whichever comes first. Yes; No

2 Seconds Left; Bentley Loses Regional

Add to the hair-raising finishes in state high school tournament history last Friday night's Class A regional at Pontiac Northern!

Just two seconds remained on the clock when Roger Hayward, a 15-year-old sophomore, slipped in a layup that gave host Northern a spine-tlingling 48-47 victory over Livonia Bentley.

Thus, the Bentley dream of reaching the state quarter-finals for the first time went out the window just when it appeared the Bulldogs had the victory sewed up after a great comeback in the last quarter after trailing by seven points. There wasn't a seat or standing space left in the Northern gym. Many hundreds were turned away. But those in the audience of 2,500 won't forget for many days to come how Northern came out on top.

Here was the story. On single free throws by Vern Bergman with 1:24 left in the fourth period and by Jim Storm with 45 seconds to go, Bentley had pulled into a 47-45 lead.

Each team had a shot which went astray. Then with 16 seconds remaining, Jim DeFlorio of Northern fouled. He made his first try to make the score 47-46. His second attempt fell off the hoop and Roland Kent pounced on the rebound. Bentley had the ball! But not for long. Three Northern players quickly surrounded him. The referee called a jump ball. Now 10 seconds remained.

IT READ SIX SECONDS. What would the Northern strategy be? How would Bentley defense the situation. The referee blew his whistle. Time was in. Mike Burkiow, a guard, passed the ball in for Northern. His toss went directly to Roger Hayward near the foul circle. Roger dribbled across and down the lane. Five seconds . . . four seconds . . . three seconds . . . With two seconds left, Hayward slipped the ball toward the hoop. It was a perfect shot. And that was the ball game.

The seconds clicked off. Northern called time out. Everybody's eyes turned to the time clock.

call time out, just a second remained . . . and even though Wayne Stevens tried a long shot from midcourt it was too late. When you lose under such hectic conditions, what consolation is there for a team? Well, Bentley could take pride in the fact it held Northern to its lowest output of the season. The Pontiac had taken the floor with a 74-point average. Then, too, Bentley had weathered a very chilly spell in the first and second periods and also had come back in the closing quarter, just when everybody was ready to count out the Livonians. The game started on a slow pace. Neither team could find the range with any effectiveness. Bentley took an early 8-6 lead on two baskets by Kent, a basket and free throw by Stevens and a free throw by Bill Bollin. Then Bentley's attack went cold. For six minutes and 33 seconds Bentley went without a point until Kent meshed a free throw. Another 90 seconds went by before Stevens broke a long spell of no baskets. Fortunately, for Bentley, Northern wasn't hitting either and the Livonians stayed within seven points of their opposition. Then with Stevens engineering a basket and two free throws and Bollin a tip-in, Bentley started a comeback that came within five of a tie (27-22) when Stevens tossed in a 50-footer as the buzzer sounded to end the second period. Twice in the third quarter, Bentley came within two points of a tie, but when Northern erupted for seven straight points, Bentley found itself by nine midway in the stanza. A side shot by Bergman, a basket by Stevens and a free throw by Bollin helped put Bentley back into business. By the period's close, Northern's lead had been chipped to 42-37.

Within 30 seconds after the fourth quarter began, Northern again had opened a seven-point bulge. But Bentley wasn't to be denied. Kent ripped the net for a hop. Bollin and Stevens each drilled in a pair of free throws. Now the score was 44-43 for Northern. With 2:11 to go Gary Hayward made a free throw. Northern's first point in five minutes and 12 seconds. Back came Bentley again. This time it was Bergman with a basket to knot the score at 45-45.

Then Bergman broke the tie and Storm put Bentley ahead by two points. The rest of the story already has been told. Stevens led the losers with 22 points. Kent had 10, Bergman eight, Bollin six and Storm one. Roger Hayward worked 16 and his brother Gary 13. In rebounding, Northern led, 44-39. The winners made 20 baskets to Bentley's 16. In free throws, Bentley made 13 for 23, Northern eight for 16. In the first game of the regionals, Bentley won over Clarkston, 55-48. The Livonians were coasting along in fine shape in this one, taking a 17-11 lead at the end of the first quarter and reaching the halfway mark with 29-15 edge. It was 42-25 after three periods. Clarkston then resorted to a full court press which brought the team within five points of Bentley in the closing stages. But when Storm hit a pair of free throws with 18 seconds left, Bentley sewed up the verdict. Bollin led the victors with 28 points on nine baskets and eight for ten free throws. He made nine points in the first quarter, six in the second, seven in the third and four in the final period. Kent had 14 points, Storm five, Bergman and Stevens four each and Craven two. Don Craven with eight points in three-minute span paced Clarkston's fine comeback. Pontiac Northern downed Detroit Catholic Central in the other semifinal game in the regional at Northern.

All-Star Matmen Head Saturday Show at Franklin

Professional wrestling comes to this area on Saturday night, at the Livonia Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road. Sponsored by the Livonia Youth, Incorporated, the card will feature eight of the nation's finest matmen in five matches.

Leaping Larry Chene, will go against Ricki "The Crusher" Cortez in the main event.

Larry is the favorite of hundreds of thousands of mat fans from coast to coast. He has sensational material style—which wins him matches — and his warm, humble personality, which wins him friends as an unbeatable combination.

The nickname "Leaping Larry" is no empty tag. He is a leading practitioner of wrestling's perilous, exacting aerial maneuvers. The Flying Head Scissors, Flying Dropkick, and Leapfrog Drop are his favorite tactics.

Cortez is a brawling badman from Mexico City. As temperamental as he is talented, the Crusher has been at odds with Chene from the time of their first meeting.

Kurt von Stroheim, the German Juggernaut, will meet Dino Bravo in a top supporting bout. Dynamite Johnny Gates will tangle with Chief White Eagle in a third single clash.

A Midget battle will send Pancho Lopez against Fuzzy Cupid.

As a special added attraction, the winners of the first three matches will return against the losers in a six-man mixed Australian tag-team bout. Midgets will be in the ring with heavyweights. It is left to the imagination what will happen when a 4'2", 95 pound midget like Fuzzy Cupid encounters a 6'8", 260 pound heavyweight like Dino Bravo.

Plenty of free parking is available on the asphalt parking lot.

General admission tickets are $1.50 each, and ringside reserved seats are $2.50. Advance tickets are available to the following locations: B & B Drug Store, 28287 Plymouth Road at Harrison, Jahn's Livonia Hardware, Five Mile Road at Farmington Road, Montgomery Ward's of Wonderland, Gurnsey Dairy, Shelton Center.

It is hoped that Livonia Youth, Incorporated can net some profit from the wrestling attraction. The proceeds are to be used to pay off existing obligations incurred as a result of teenage programs it has conducted. The money will also be applied to teenage programs in the future.

LARRY CHENE

THE SPORTS OBSERVER - By George Maskin

'They're Kids'—Bentley Coach

Were it possible — and I suppose it could come to pass some day — I'd like to have my two sons, Richard and Doug, play basketball for George Fefles, who coaches at Bentley High School.

I'm not saying that Fefles is the greatest basketball mentor in the world. But for my money, you won't find many coaches who can match Fefles when it comes to being a gentleman.

Fefles showed his CLASS in the lockerroom after Bentley lost that heartbreaker to Pontiac Northern in the regional final last Friday night.

There were instances which could have prompted Fefles to shout angry words. He might have yelled at the referees. He might have yapped at his players because they missed a shot here or there, or let a simple pass get away.

Certainly, the deciding play on which Roger Hayward slipped in for the winning basket with less than two seconds left would have led many coaches we know openly to fault the but not the defense.

The Bentley players were quiet as they dressed. Fefles stood in the center of the lockerroom. He talked to Ken Timmons, his assistant; to athletic director Les Anders and to this reporter.

"Now if . . . would have moved up . . . well, Les (turning to Director Anders), why fault the kids? They're youngsters with a lot to learn. I know that even when I was in college I made a lot of mistakes. I still do. So how can you jump down the throats of these kids?"

"The boys played their hearts out. I thought we were going to win it there in the last couple of moments. But you can't take anything away from Pontiac Northern. Their kids remained calm despite the fact that time was running out."

"It took a perfect play to beat us, and Pontiac Northern came up with just that. Sure, we might have protected on it a little better. But these were kids out there, doing their best under some very trying conditions."

Fefles had a flock of orchids for Wayne Stevens and his fine all-around play, for the rebounding of Roland Kent . . . for some clutch shooting by Vern Bergman and some timely free throws by Bill Bollin and Jim Storm.

"What went wrong with Bollin?" somebody asked. The star Bentley junior was held to only one basket and four free throws.

"I'd have to say that Northern just played Bollin very tough," said Fefles. "They had a man guarding him from the front and rear. It was pretty tough for us to get the ball into Bill. Naturally that made it necessary for use to have to change our pattern of play."

The Hayward boys of Pontiac Northern rated a double bouquet from the Bentley coach.

"What a brother act," said Fefles. "And that Roger (who made the winning basket) is just a sophomore and only 15 years old. What a player he should be in another year!"

By now the Bentley players had dressed. It was time to take leave of the Pontiac Northern gym.

"Well, there's always next year and I think we'll do right well again," said Fefles.

Who could fault Fefles job in his rookie year as Bentley's cage commander. Nineteen wins and only three defeats . . . the league championship . . . the district title . . . the finals in the regionals.

Sticking with the subject of the regionals, I trust these words find their way to my old friend, Charles Forsythe, the state high school director and the man who runs the state prep tournaments.

It's time I think that Forsythe start moving the regional tournaments out of high school gyms. The regionals have outgrown facilities such as Pontiac Northern offered.

I don't know how many folks were turned away . . . or how many made the long ride from Livonia only to find that the fire marshall had clamped the doors.

What a shame that Mr. Forsythe didn't elect to move the regionals into Detroit . . . and held the tourney either at Olympia, or Cobo Arena or U. of D. Here are three buildings with their seating capacity ranging from 9,000 at U. D. to 11,000 at the Cobo Arena to 16,000 at Olympia.

Yet these buildings stood idle for basketball Friday night while throngs were disappointed not only at Pontiac Northern, but at Roseville, East Detroit and Ferndale.

We're aware that it costs more to run the regionals at U. of D., the Arena or Olympia than at Pontiac Northern or East Detroit High Schools.

But the cost factor should be ignored by Forsythe. The tournament is making more money than Forsythe knows what to do with . . . and even if he paid the extra rent for the bigger buildings, he'd certainly gain some of it back in increased attendance. So he couldn't lose very much.

Besides, the profits of the tourney . . . after the State Association takes its share for running the year-around Michigan meets . . . are split up among 650 schools. In the end, the returns to the schools might be sliced by three or four bucks each . . . So, who could complain, especially when one stopped to realize every fan who desired was getting a chance to see the tournament.

DPW News and Notes

By Supt. Joseph Bida
Plymouth Department Public Works

The Department was kept busy when an unexpected snow storm dumped more than three inches and forced workers to spread more than 50 tons of salt to keep streets clear of ice.

Many hours have been spent putting cold patch on the city's streets to repair some of the damage from the extreme winter weather.

A crew has been working on thawing and cleaning catch basins throughout the city.

The George Odien Co., of Detroit, has started work on the Harding and Burroughs Creek crossing and the road is expected to be open for use by late spring.

A corrugated steel tube more than 110 feet long, 10 feet wide and almost seven feet high, which was made by Armeo Steel Corp., will be used on the project.

Will Your Child Meet a Teacher Candidate?

Mrs. Zena M. Sperry, School Personnel Director, interviews a prospective classroom teacher.

One hundred and seventy-five teacher candidates were interviewed at Lincoln Elementary School as administrators of the Livonia Public Schools increased the pace of their campaign to find quality teachers to fill out next year's instructional staff.

The all day session was held on Saturday to enable teachers in other school systems and college students who had a chance to travel the opportunity to interview for a position in Livonia. The Saturday time also enabled school principals and other administrators to use time which would not interfere with their regular duties. Coffee was served to the candidates as they waited for interviews with school administrators. Candidates had the opportunity to read through materials related to the program of the Livonia Schools, and to view a display of pictures which showed some of the facilities of the school district.

Mrs. Zena M. Sperry, Director of Personnel for the Livonia Schools, stated that Saturday interviewing technique was part of an intensive program that Livonia puts on every year to bring the best possible teachers to our city. This program includes contact with over 3,000 teacher candidates with each acceptable candidate receiving two or three interviews, as well as a careful screening of their college performance.

Because of continuing growth, the school system needs 131 teachers to fill new positions and approximately 185 replacements for normal teacher turn-over.

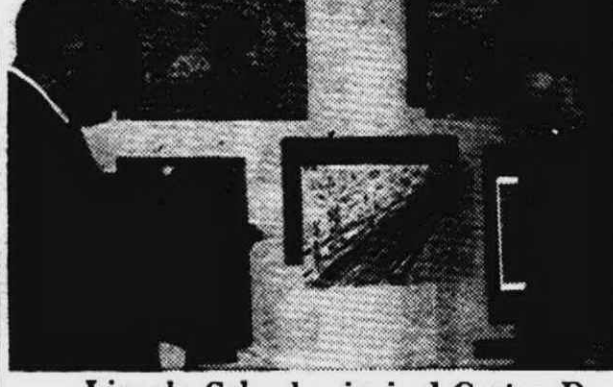

Teacher candidates waited in the Lincoln school cafeteria for their interviews with school administrators.

Dr. Harold Wells, McKinley School principal, discussed curriculum with potential Livonia teachers.

John Neefeld (left) is interviewed for a position in Livonia's secondary schools by John D. Wright, Franklin assistant principal.

Lincoln School principal Corlan D. Bovee points out his school's facilities and examples of student work to teacher candidates.

Candidates spent time browsing through curriculum materials related to the school program.

Local Communities To Have Tots Special Sight Tests

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne County health commissioner, announced yesterday that a vision screening program is to be conducted for children from three and one-half to four and one-half years of age. The program will be conducted in selected school districts in northwest Wayne County.

Scheduled to get underway in Livonia on March 25, the program will be extended to other communities in the project area in the coming weeks. The project is slated to be completed on or about June 15.

According to Dr. Molner the purpose of the vision screening program is to locate those children who need the attention of an eye doctor. He said that limited vision may cause a child to miss many experiences which are an important part of growing up. He further pointed out that early screening often disclosed difficulties when they are easiest to treat.

An important aspect of the program is the prevention of what county health department officials call "one-eyed blindness." The term refers to the situation in which a child learns to see with only one eye, and vision in the other eye does not develop. This is due to weakness in the muscles of the eye.

Emphasizing the importance of early detection and treatment of one-eyed blindness, Dr. Molner said that often by the time a child is of school age, permanent blindness has already occurred in one eye. He stated that treatment for this disorder is most effective if started before the child is five years old. This treatment may prevent blindness.

The screening will be done by trained vision technicians from the health department. Any child who does not pass the screening test will be advised to see an eye doctor for further examination and treatment if needed. The program will be conducted besides Livonia in Nankin Mills, Northville, Plymouth, South Redford and Wayne.

The Livonia Council has been asked to pass a resolution giving the Board of Taxation authority to change their records.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor:
On the evening of Feb. 20 I was asked as a guest to attend the Livonia Chamber of Commerce annual dinner which was a successful affair in every respect and our good-sized group enjoyed very much. As usual, at the speaker's table one expects to see all the dignitaries and your highest city official seated. I have never, but never, yet attended a social function of this magnitude that I did not see the Mayor of that respective city seated at the speakers' table, regardless of race, color, creed or how popular a man may or may not be. It would be interesting indeed to me and many others who asked the same question, "Why did not the Chamber of Commerce extend that courtesy to the Mayor of Livonia?"

Oh yes, introductions were in order loud and clear all around the hall, but the audience hardly heard the feeble introduction of the Mayor and his lady who were seated in the audience and not at the speakers' table where they belonged.

Either someone goofed on the seating arrangements or intentionally were biased and prejudiced politically. Whatever the reason, this is certainly no inducement for prospective members into the C of C or for future guests to attend their functions.

—Elta Kett
Editor:
In regard to your controversy between the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the people of Livonia, who have the unfortunate privilege of having the GLenview exchange, I would like to suggest a plan for these people to overpay their telephone bill by a few pennies (everyone pays a different amount). This could certainly put the telephone company to an additional expense of re-billing, etc., to correct the errors.
Maybe this might help the poor people of this Livonia exchange to feel like they are getting a little more for their money, and also might bring the needed attention to this problem.
—Mr. and Mrs. Bob Conger
—Patrick Theisen
Cavell St.
P.S.: I have a GA as of now. If you publish this letter, I will more than likely have a GL exchange.

Editor:
There used to be a saying out West that "There ain't no pancake so flat that it ain't got two sides." So, in spite of the position of the great metro dailies that anyone who takes a negative stand on the proposed constitution is a lackey of the UAW, I would like to offer these observations on that document.
The proposed constitution offers Michigan the chance to take a stride forward in several areas. The 120 odd agencies would be merged into 20 departments. There are the lengthened terms of the Gov-
A second grave error of the proposed constitution is Article 4, Section 37. This section, in effect, prevents the Governor's appointees from making decisions with which a special legislative committee disagrees. This special committee could stalemate Michigan's government to the point that would make the old Mennen Williams-Legislature feuds seem like statesmanlike progress. As if this were not enough, the courts are given special new powers over the executive branch. These mistakes could only have sprung from an inordinate fear that the Chief Executive would, more likely than not, reflect the thinking of those horrible cities.
Sincerely
Joseph H. Jenkin
(Editor's note: Mr. Jenkin, like most of the committed "No" votes, fails to state the most important fact: the new Constitution, while less than perfect from every viewpoint, is far superior than the old document, from almost any point of view. Particularly is it an improvement in the field of more fairly apportioning the cities in the Senate and House. As for legislative review of administrative agencies, this will be done by passing a new law, if it isn't done by the Constitution. Such a bill already has passed the House of Representatives this year.)

BEHIND SCENES but taking a leading part in "Bye Bye Birdie," which will be presented at Plymouth Senior High on March 28, 29 and 30, are these members of the chorus. They never get in front of the curtain during the three-act play but add their melodies to the fast-moving action throughout the evening. They're shown practicing behind the scenes during a dress rehearsal.

ment warrants a full time chief of each."

Demel went on to state that he felt the Board should consider an ordinance setting up a Director of Public Service and also outlining duties and the pay scale for such a position.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that such a position should be divorced from the activities of the departments in question and it should not be filled by Civil Service."

The Board voted unanimously in favor of the resolution ordering McEwen to draw up the proposed ordinance.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay suggested that McEwen study the ordinance setting up such a position in Redford Township and also that used in the City of Plymouth where Ken Fisher has the dual role of heading the police and fire department as Director of Public Safety.

Members of the Township's Civil Service Commission attended the meeting and heard the opinion but refused comment on the basis of any statements would be premature until they had studied Demel's findings and suggestions.

residents in the Schoolcraft-Five Mile area.

Northville Township told Glassford that the water supply in that section has given out and it must find some way to furnish water for the residents.

The Commission approved supplying the water.

In other actions, the Commission:

- Passed a resolution supporting legislation which would establish a Wayne County Tax Assessment Department and abolish the duties of local assessors while preserving the local Boards of Review. The bill was introduced by Livonia and Plymouth Observer Publisher and State Representative Paul Chandler.
- Passed a resolution approving a sewer agreement with Plymouth Township.
- Voted to deny use of the city's addressograph facilities by election candidates.
- Approved exchange of easements in the proposed Shad Brook subdivision in Northville Township.
- Authorized acceptance of bids for water main relocations on Northville Road on April 11.
- Approved waiving a delinquency charge of $524.30 to Burroughs Corporation due to delayed payment of the January water bill. Through an error, the Corporation paid the bill a day late.
- Claim of Leslie Ferenczi for injuries received when he allegedly fell over a plank across the sidewalk on Main Street, was referred back to the City Manager and City Attorney Edward Draugelis for further study with insurance company officials.
- Approved a permit for the Volunteers of America for solicitation as has been the policy in past years.
- Authorized the City Managers to take bids for one new police car.
- Authorized City Attorney Edward Draugelis to investigate the possibility of securing better passenger service for the area from the C&O Railroad.
