108 Kids Eager to Win Free Bikes

If your doorbell is working overtime these days don't be dismayed because in all probability it is one or more of the 108 ambitious Plymouth youngsters trying to earn themselves a free bicycle. Jobs for kids are hard to come by these days and The Mail wanted to make sure everyone in the Plymouth area had a Plymouth Mail delivered to their home each week...so...the two thoughts just naturally made one fine idea. Let our kids sell subscriptions to those people who do not receive The Mail and let the kids win a $45.95 bicycle for each 25 subscriptions sold. The youngsters are ambitious and already over 58 new subscriptions have been turned in and our young salesmen given credit toward their bikes. In some cases, our eager youngsters preferred to take the cash, so The Mail pays them $1.00 for each subscription turned in, if they prefer. We hope you will welcome these ambitious youngsters when they call at your door, and please excuse us for frequent interruptions in your daily routine. Their energy is to be applauded and we hope all of them can win a new bicycle or at least rack up a sizeable amount of cash for their efforts. To date these youngsters have registered in this project: Robert Anderson, 1095 Dewey St.; Terry Anderson, 1113 S. Harvey St.; Dale Bamford, 1432 W. Predict 35 Per Cent Turn-Out During Balloting Here Monday

Township In wide contrast to the biennial spring general elections of 1959 and 1961, the Republican party in Plymouth Township has virtually a free hand in Monday's election. Only in the race for Township justice of the peace does a Democratic candidate's name appear on the ballot. Heading the Republican slate is Roy Lindsay, incumbent candidate for supervisor who seeks his sixth term. Clerk John D. McEwen is similarly unopposed as is Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes. The Township trustee race, involving three vacancies, is also as good as settled right now, since there are only the three Republican nominees on the ballot. Chosen from a field of seven candidates at the primary election in February, Ralph Garber, C. Veach Sparks and Dick Lauterbach

Award School Contracts After $41,000 Cutback

School Board members Monday night trimmed $41,000 in construction costs from a three-way building program here and, as a result, moved back within the limits of their earlier budget allocations. The action promptly led to the awarding of contracts on the construction of Phase II of Junior High West, along with a two-room addition to Farrand School and the further rehabilitation of the Senior High. Low bidder Ray Misch & Son, Inc., of Birmingham, was awarded a $618,910 contract for the Junior High West project. The Burger Construction Co., of Plymouth, received contracts on both the Farrand addition ($58,912) and the Senior High rehabilitation ($177,922). Total construction contract costs amount to $855,744 for the trio of projects, a figure $41,000 less than the one submitted in original bids two weeks ago. At that time, the $896,000 amount was $35,000 over budget.

Struck by Auto, Girl, 12, Escapes Serious Injury

A 12-year-old Plymouth girl escaped serious injury last Wednesday when she was struck by an auto at the intersection of Wing and Main Sts. Christine Hoepflich, who lives at 42490 Schoolcraft, was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where she was treated and released that evening. She was struck by an auto as she was crossing the street. Driver of the car was Fred H. Otto, Sr., 80, of 15596 Maxwell Rd. He was (Continued on Page 4)

City

For the second time in a row, voters in the City of Plymouth will be electing four Commissioners from a field of eight nominees during Monday's biennial spring general election. Two years ago, there also were eight candidates in the City Commission race, just as there are today. However, in 1961, three were incumbents. This time, none of the eight are incumbent Commissioners. During Monday's balloting, City voters will also have their say on Michigan's revised state constitution. The question on the constitution reads: Shall the Revised Constitution Be Adopted? It is the controversial nature of the constitution proposal that may draw far more voters to polling places than local estimates indicate. With approximately 4,500 registrations in the City, Clerk Joseph Near estimates that 35 per cent will turn out for Monday's election. It would result in fewer than 1,600 ballots. In 1961, a total of 1,661 cast ballots at the spring election, 189 more than voted in 1959. The eight candidates for City Commission, listed alphabetically, are: J. Rusling Cutler; Neil M. Davidson; George A. Hudson; Jamiel M. Jabara; George F. Lawton; Leon L. Merriman; Robert L. Smith, Jr.; and Archibald E. Vallier. Their photos are at right. Voters may cast ballots for no more than four of the candidates. The three top vote-getters will receive four-year terms on the City's governing body, while the fourth (Continued on page 4)

Plan Dedication Tuesday Of New Auto Club Office

Nearly 30 leading civic officials from Plymouth and Northville will join with Automobile Club of Michigan representatives next Tuesday to formally dedicate Auto Club's new Plymouth division office. The move to the new home at 798 Penniman Avenue, corner of Main, is taking place this Thursday, with all facilities available the following day. Present offices are located at 479 S. Main Street. This newest of 56 Auto Club offices in Michigan, which will serve as area headquarters for some 4,600 members in Plymouth, South Lyon and Northville, is housed in the same building with

Fund Officials Get $8,000 Surprise Here

Final tabulation on Plymouth's 1962 Community Fund drive could conceivably reach the $65,000 figure, according to Fund President Russell Isbister this week. What was believed to be a complete tally was made about two months ago, at which time total contributions had amounted to $56,500. This week, the figure is being revised upward. Isbister learned that additional donations, made originally to the Detroit United Foundation but earmarked for Plymouth's Community Fund, would amount to approximately $8,000 and perhaps as much as $8,500. As the funds are received from payroll deductions at United Fund headquarters in Detroit, they are checked over to see if donors had designated them for a particular independent drive such as the one conducted in Plymouth. Far more contributions than originally estimated have been specified for Plymouth's campaign in this fashion.

THIS ISN'T the signing of The Mayflower Compact or even the Declaration of Independence, but it is almost as significant as far as the Plymouth Community is concerned. These pictures graphically portray the new heights of cooperation and togetherness which our civic leaders in the City and Township have reached and they mark a new era of goodwill to the benefit of all. Signing an agreement confirming the mutual use of sewage and flowage rights between the City and Township are Clerk Joseph Near and Mayor Robert Sincok of the City and Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Clerk John McEwen signing for the Township. Much credit is due Lindsay and Sincok for their determined efforts to work out mutually the similar problems effecting the two municipalities and which ultimately will bring about the savings of many tax dollars as well as to provide high efficiency for the areas concerned. These four officials deserve the highest praise of all the residents of this area.

Letters Shed New Light On Worden's Collapse

Further light was shed this week on the collapse of Worden Specialty and Machine Co., 15169 Northville Rd. The firm was closed Friday, March 15, by order of the receiver. Extensive financial difficulties paved the way to the failure, according to letters sent employees, union officials and general creditors. The letters were signed by Morey Abrahams, president. It was a man identifying himself as Abrahams who last week told The Mail that workers had requested a 30-cent-an-hour pay increase when contract renewal negotiations got underway last fall. Not mentioned was the fact that he, himself, had later asked employees to accept a 50-cent-an-hour pay cut under a plan whereby "the company finds it mandatory to re-trench." In a letter dated Jan. 4, 1963, to the United Steel Workers union headquarters in Detroit, Abrahams described "demanded terms" that would go into effect Jan. 14 at which time his company threatened to terminate "contract agreements, supplements and extension agreement." The 50-cent-an-hour pay cut was among the terms listed in his letter. He wrote: "In the event a new contract is not signed within the ten day period set forth (in his letter), the demanded terms will go into effect immediately thereafter." The letter went on to say: "Should the Union refuse the demanded terms and the plant be closed as a result of such action, management has decided that the plant will remain closed permanently. No further negotiations will be held thereafter." Among the terms set down in an attachment to his letter, Abrahams listed: elimination of all holiday pay; a union guarantee of production standards; restricted use of vending machines; forbidding employees to eat or drink during working hours; and no smoking in the plant. One of the other terms he included pertained to visits to the washrooms by employees. "Employees shall not shut down machines or leave assigned task to go to water fountains or toilets except for one visit in first half and one visit in second half of shift," the letter said. Employees who violate the rules, the letter said, will be subject to a warning letter at the first offense, a one-week lay-off at the second offense, and discharge at the third offense. In another letter, this one to employees, Abrahams said that the union agreement had been terminated as of midnight of Jan. 15, 1963. He wrote: "Rates of pay will be 30 per hour less than they were under Union agreement. Vacation, holidays and other conditions of employment will be determined by (Continued on page 4)

25 Hear Remus Talk

Gerald Remus, head of the Detroit Water Board, spoke last Wednesday noon to a number of Plymouth area industrial officials at the Consumers Power Co. main offices in Livonia.

About 25 representatives from local industries attended the meeting, hosted by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce's industrial division.

Remus expressed his interest in learning City of Plymouth's future plans concerning the use of water so that he, in turn, should make plans as far as the Detroit Water Board is concerned.

According to James Thomas, local Consumers Power Co. executive and chairman of the Chamber's industrial division, Remus reiterated a belief that City of Plymouth eventually will become a user of Detroit water.

Remus' appearance apparently concluded a series of meetings involving local industrial representatives who have sought to learn firsthand of the City's water situation.

At a previous meeting, City Mayor Robert Sincovec appeared and more recently Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay was the guest speaker.

Members of the Chamber's industrial division met Monday morning to review facts uncovered in the series of meetings and to map further plans.

Canton Taxpayers Win Battle Over $6,000 Drain Tax Refund

Some 85 taxpayers in Canton Township stand to receive a $6,000 refund from a 1957 special assessment drain tax as a result of a recent decision by the Michigan Supreme Court.

The legal action followed a directive from the Wayne County Board of Supervisors six years ago whereby the drain commissioner was ordered to spread $300,000 in delinquent taxes across the tax rolls in the form of a special assessment.

The delinquent taxes dated from as far back as 1941, according to Louis Stein, supervisor of Canton Township. When notified of their respective shares of the special drain tax assessment, Canton property owners complained to Stein and treasurer Phil Dingeldey.

Stein and Dingeldey advised the Canton residents to pay the special assessment "under protest" and then retain an attorney to battle the case for them. The Canton residents chose Plymouth attorney Dunbar Davis to represent them.

In some instances, the tax had been levied on property owners who had purchased their property earlier and obtained a clear title to the land, indicating that there were no back taxes due.

Other communities were similarly hit by the special assessment and also paid it under protest. However, not all paid under protest and the recent court decision affects only those who did. A total of $278,000 is not reclaimable despite the supreme court decision.

Stein explained the circumstances surrounding the special assessment and the steps taken to gain a refund. Davis, the attorney, advised the Canton residents to assign their claims to three persons in order to have a high enough figure for the basis of a legal case.

The assignees were Glenn Truesdell, Clarence Fischer and Arnold Folker. "About $6,000 in claims were assigned to the three men," Stein explained.

Court action followed, but after a three-year delay the Wayne County circuit court ruled that the taxes were valid. An immediate appeal to the Michigan Supreme Court resulted in the recent decision in favor of the taxpayers.

The Canton residents had brought suit against the drain commissioner and the board of supervisors. The judgement by the supreme court justices ordered that refund be made. In all, about $22,000 will be refunded in Wayne County, $6,000 of that in Canton alone.

Stein said that the refund will be made to the three assignees, Truesdell, Fischer and Folker. Davis, the attorney, will disburse the refunds to all claimants involved in the legal action in Canton. Stein said it will be "some weeks" before the full disbursement will be complete.

Stein said it was a problem that present County Drain Commissioner Henry Herrick "inherited" when he first came into office. "This isn't the fault of Herrick," Stein said. "He had to assume the delinquent taxes when he took office. It was the fault of the board of supervisors and the former drain commissioner."

Plymouth Greet Spring With Style

modeled by Beth Edelbrock, Ellen Smith, Breggetta Cook, Thelma Cushman and Jeannine Dahlager, all of Plymouth. In photo at the right, Mrs. Chaiken (Minerva) gives final inspection to Mrs. Dahlager, just before she modeled a moss green blouse and jamaica shorts outfit highlighted by a matching flowered sweater. Incidentally, the outfit shown by Mrs. Dahlager was one of the three ensembles from which Mrs. Gould was to select for her own wardrobe as Grand Door prize winner.

THE LATEST in spring fashions will highlight the April 4 luncheon meeting of the Plymouth Newcomers Club at the Thunderbird Inn. The affair will be a joint effort by newcomers from both Plymouth and Northville. Club members will act as models and three of them are shown here. From left: Mrs. Jack Krieg, 41102 Greenbrook Lane; Mrs. Richard Bailey, 14956 Lakewood Drive; and Mrs. Ray Bissell, 41062 Russet Lane. The meeting begins at 12 noon. An annual event for the Newcomers, this year's fashion show is being arranged by co-chairmen Mrs. James Knowles and Mrs. Robert Petersen. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Edward Marshman and Mrs. John Lewko.

Newcomers Schedule Fashion Show

Spring will be in the air when the Plymouth and Northville Newcomers join together to present their fashion show Thursday April 4 at the Thunderbird Inn. The hospitality period is from 12 noon to 12:30 p.m. when luncheon will be served. Fashions will be modeled by the club members and are available from "Zwiebacks" of Wonderland. Plymouth members modeling include: Wanda Bissell, Celia Krieg, Virginia Feld, Arlene Bailey, Audrey Cunningham, and Jeanne Sprague. Reservations may be made by calling one of the following hostesses: names starting with A-M call Marge Lewko GL 3-4872 names starting with N-Z call Ruby Marshman GL 3-3008. Deadline for reservations is April 2.

Lansing Bound

Attending the AAUW Legislative Day in Lansing Wednesday, March 27, will be the following AAUW members from Plymouth: Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, Mrs. Arch Valier, Mrs. Richard Fritz, Mrs. Sidney Cady, Mrs. R. E. Houston, and Mrs. W. K. Lewis. In Lansing they will attend a luncheon conference and meet with State Legislators.

Blooming Crocus "Jump The Gun"

While signs of spring are becoming increasingly plentiful, Mrs. Dale Leveille, 675 Arthur St., has some flowers that have been blooming for more than two weeks. She said that crocuses in her yard have already bloomed, died, and are in the process of blooming again. "I couldn't believe it," Mrs. Leveille said. "We still had snow on the ground when the first blooms came out."

Listen While You Look Emily Kimbrough Urges

Speaking in the same delightful and witty manner which is so evident in her writings, Emily Kimbrough urged the approximate 300 women attending the Northville Town Hall last Thursday to "Listen while they Look."

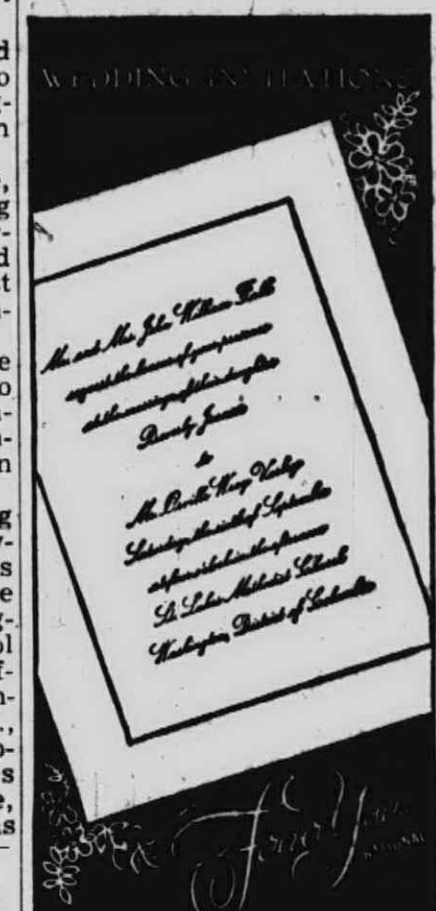

Fourth guest speaker in the popular series, Miss Kimbrough, an accomplished editor, screen writer, radio commentator, world traveler and author of a number of hilarious best sellers, pointed out that memories of sound are much more vivid than sight memories.

Sounds are precious and add an extra dimension to nostalgia, she said, in urging her audience to heed them and be aware of listening.

Similar sounds in tone, depth and volume will bring back to one's memory a certain far off place once visited or an experience of the past perhaps forgotten by the conscious mind.

In addition to stressing the importance of listening to sound, Miss Kimbrough emphasized the need for teaching foreign languages in grammar school.

In a world that is growing smaller each day the knowledge of foreign language is gaining in significance. The time to learn a foreign language is in grammar school when a child has no self-consciousness and when learning is mainly by the ear, i.e., mimicking, she said. Introduction of language courses in high school is too late, Miss Kimbrough asserted, as

Joan Bohl, Student Teaching at CMU

Joan Bohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bohl, 9052 South Main Street, Plymouth, is finding out early what it is all about to be a teacher.

Miss Bohl, a junior at Central Michigan University, is a member of the faculty this semester of the Drayton Plains Elementary School near Pontiac. She is working there as part of her program in the Teacher Education Project at the university.

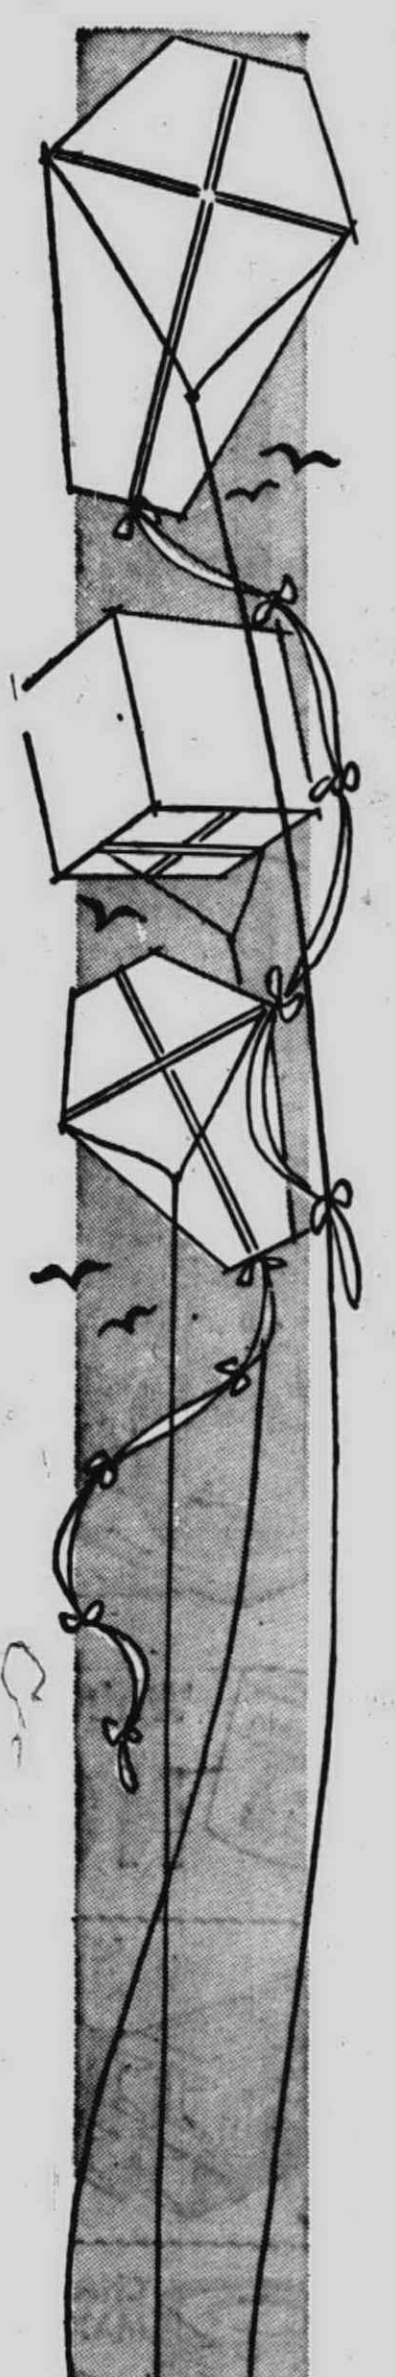

The project, which operates on a grant from the Ford Foundation, is studying ways of improving teacher education. Next semester Miss Bohl will return to campus for study, after which she will work for additional semesters as a teacher intern in school systems active in the project. She is a graduate of Plymouth High School.

DANCE at the NEW Thunderbird Inn IN BEAUTIFUL PLYMOUTH! EVERY NITE EXCEPT SUNDAY

The Professor Says...

By Ed Brown

Recently I heard a student remark that she did not like a certain class because the subject was dull, the teacher boring, and consequently it was a wasted hour as far as she was concerned. I could understand her feelings for I had some of the same while in High School and College. Now, I can see it in a little different light.

I tried to tell her that in all probability she would encounter many unpleasant situations in life, to which she would have to make some necessary adjustments, or suffer some unhappy moments.

Life is just that way; we cannot always get everything we want and as we want it, I have always had the impression that we need a few unpleasant happenings in order to appreciate the good ones — lest we take everything for granted, as so many people do.

Quite often we hear of grownups saying they do not like a particular church because of the clergyman, a "cool" congregation, or for some other "sensitive" reasons.

At one time I felt the same way until I began to realize just why I attended church. So often we are prone to pass judgement on others — wondering whether they attend for social reasons because "it is the thing" to do, or if it may be good for business reasons, or to make an impression.

As soon as one finds that he is in church for the comfort and strength to help him pursue his daily tasks as God intended, he will not be passing judgment on another for one cannot get comfort or strength when thinking about the faults of another.

I told the young lady if she had a goal in life, and, if it was great enough, she could get something worthwhile from any subject. Naturally she will like some classes and teachers more than others, but that all of them — good and bad — will make her a much better person if she would only let them.

By a goal I do not mean to be exact as to what one wants to be in life for I think that decision cannot be made until one has had certain experiences. I do think that one should have some lofty goal as to character, habits, aspirations, and that everything he takes in school will help him, in some way, attain his goals. Life is much more pleasant if we have certain values and goals.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO???
The brilliant young chap who graduated from PHS in 1950 after having had a glorious four years of school activities and debating? This ambitious gentleman shared the spotlight as one-half of the famous debating team that went to the state finals only to bow to Albion in a split 2 to 1 decision.

In high school he was a strong school leader in all activities. Later he enrolled at the University of Michigan, and graduated from that institution with a law degree in 1957.

At the U. of M. he was president of the student body, and was also head of the famous "Green" House. He also found time to join the Marine Reserves and became a Captain in that famed corps. Recently he has been appointed Commander of a unit in Indiana and Southwestern Michigan.

Our man's picture appeared recently in the Kalamazoo Gazette when he was a keynote speaker at a Republican Convention in that city.

He is an up-and-coming young Republican of Southwestern Michigan and one you undoubtedly will hear much of on the state level in a few years. He has been secretary and president of the Young Republicans of Kalamazoo.

This fellow was also an assistant prosecutor of Bay County at Bay City. He now is part owner of a leading law firm in Kalamazoo, and is known as one of the leading trial lawyers in that area.

Our noted former student married an attractive 1953 PHS graduate, who was also quite a leader while in school. She also went to the U. of M.

The popular young couple have two girls — Cheryl Ann, who is four, and Cynthia, a two-year old. They make their home at 608 Chrysler Avenue in Kalamazoo.

Who are these former students? Roger Kidston and the former Ann Hammond. Their parents are the Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kidston of Ann Arbor Trail, and the Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammonds of West Maple Avenue.

Letter to the Editor

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Mich.
Dear Editor:
What is happening to us Americans? Have we completely lost our ability to think for ourselves? We seem to be completely brainwashed and obsessed by the idea of "Live now, pay later". Thus becoming, without being aware of it, easy victims of money lenders and too easy credit. God help us if we don't wise up soon.

Freedom is a priceless gift of God and we Americans give it away every time we say, "Charge it." I thank God that I am an American but I refuse to give up my freedom so easily. How many of us have given up our dreams, our ambitions, our hopes, for a bright and happy future, because we have let ourselves become buried alive by our debts and our greed?

That is why we have forgotten God and His priceless gifts to us. His gift of love, of life, of a sound mind and sound body, of time, of loved ones and friends. Is there any one of us who would not give up all of his material possessions to get back just one of these gifts, if it should be taken away from us?

It is not the cost of living that is too high, it is the cost of "wanting too much" and not being grateful for what we already have.

Here is what I have found to be the solution to this problem. I hope that it will help some of your readers as it has helped me. You must free your money before you can free yourself. It can be done. Start by saving all the dimes you get and applying them at the end of the year, along with your regular payments, on your smallest bill. Work both ends toward the middle and your bills will melt away before your very eyes.

The next year save the payments you were making on your smallest bill, and the dimes, and apply that amount along with your payments, on your next bill and to your astonishment they will all be gone in a third of the time it otherwise would have taken you by making only one payment at a time in the regular way.

Time is money, your money. Don't forget that, it is very important that you are aware of that. At the same time pray and give thanks to God (privately, when you are alone) for His gift of time to enable you to free yourself of those economic chains. God be with you.

Sincerely Yours,
R. E. Rowland

An Open Letter to the Voters of the City of Plymouth...

April first is probably one of the most important elections in the recent history of the City of Plymouth. It is a strange co-incidence that four of our seven commissioners must retire according to the provisions of our City Charter. It would be well then to examine carefully the qualifications and capabilities of each candidate to insure that our city will be governed as you, the residents of this city, desire.

Why should you vote for George Hudson?

What are my qualifications?

1. I have been interested enough in city government to have attended practically all the regular meetings and some of the special meetings of the City Commission during the last two years. Let us examine why anyone would put forth this effort. I feel that any candidate should learn as much as possible about the position he is seeking. This interest over a long period of time indicates that my seeking office is not a decision made in haste, but is the result of a complete study of the job requirements and my capabilities.

2. I have been a member of the City Planning Commission for about sixteen months. This experience has permitted me to become familiar with the City and its problems.

3. In working with public spirited members of the community I believe I have demonstrated a firmness of purpose, but not a bull-headed unwillingness to listen to sound argument.

4. My personal life should be known. My wife and I moved to Plymouth in 1954. We have four children - the oldest nineteen and the youngest eight. I have been employed as a supervisor at Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors since 1940.

A question that is very often asked - "Why do I seek the job?" A common answer is "somebody must do it". I would go further than that. Ours is a wonderful community and I have a sincere desire to make a positive contribution to continue to make Plymouth the kind of community it should be.

Be sure you vote April 1, 1963

Most sincerely,

GEORGE A HUDSON

The Good Old Days

TAKEN FROM THE FILES OF THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

10 YEARS AGO

25 YEARS AGO

Sale of one of Plymouth's oldest business firms was consummated this week when announcement was made of the purchase of the Plymouth Buick Sales by Jack Selle. The announcement of the transaction was made by Carl G. Shear on Monday, who after 33 years as Buick dealer in Plymouth, revealed the transfer of his business, building and car inventory to Mr. Selle...

A suggestion that the city of Plymouth turn Main street, from the Mayflower Hotel north to Mill street, over to the Wayne County Road Commission was discussed Monday noon at the regular weekly round table meeting of the Chamber of Commerce...

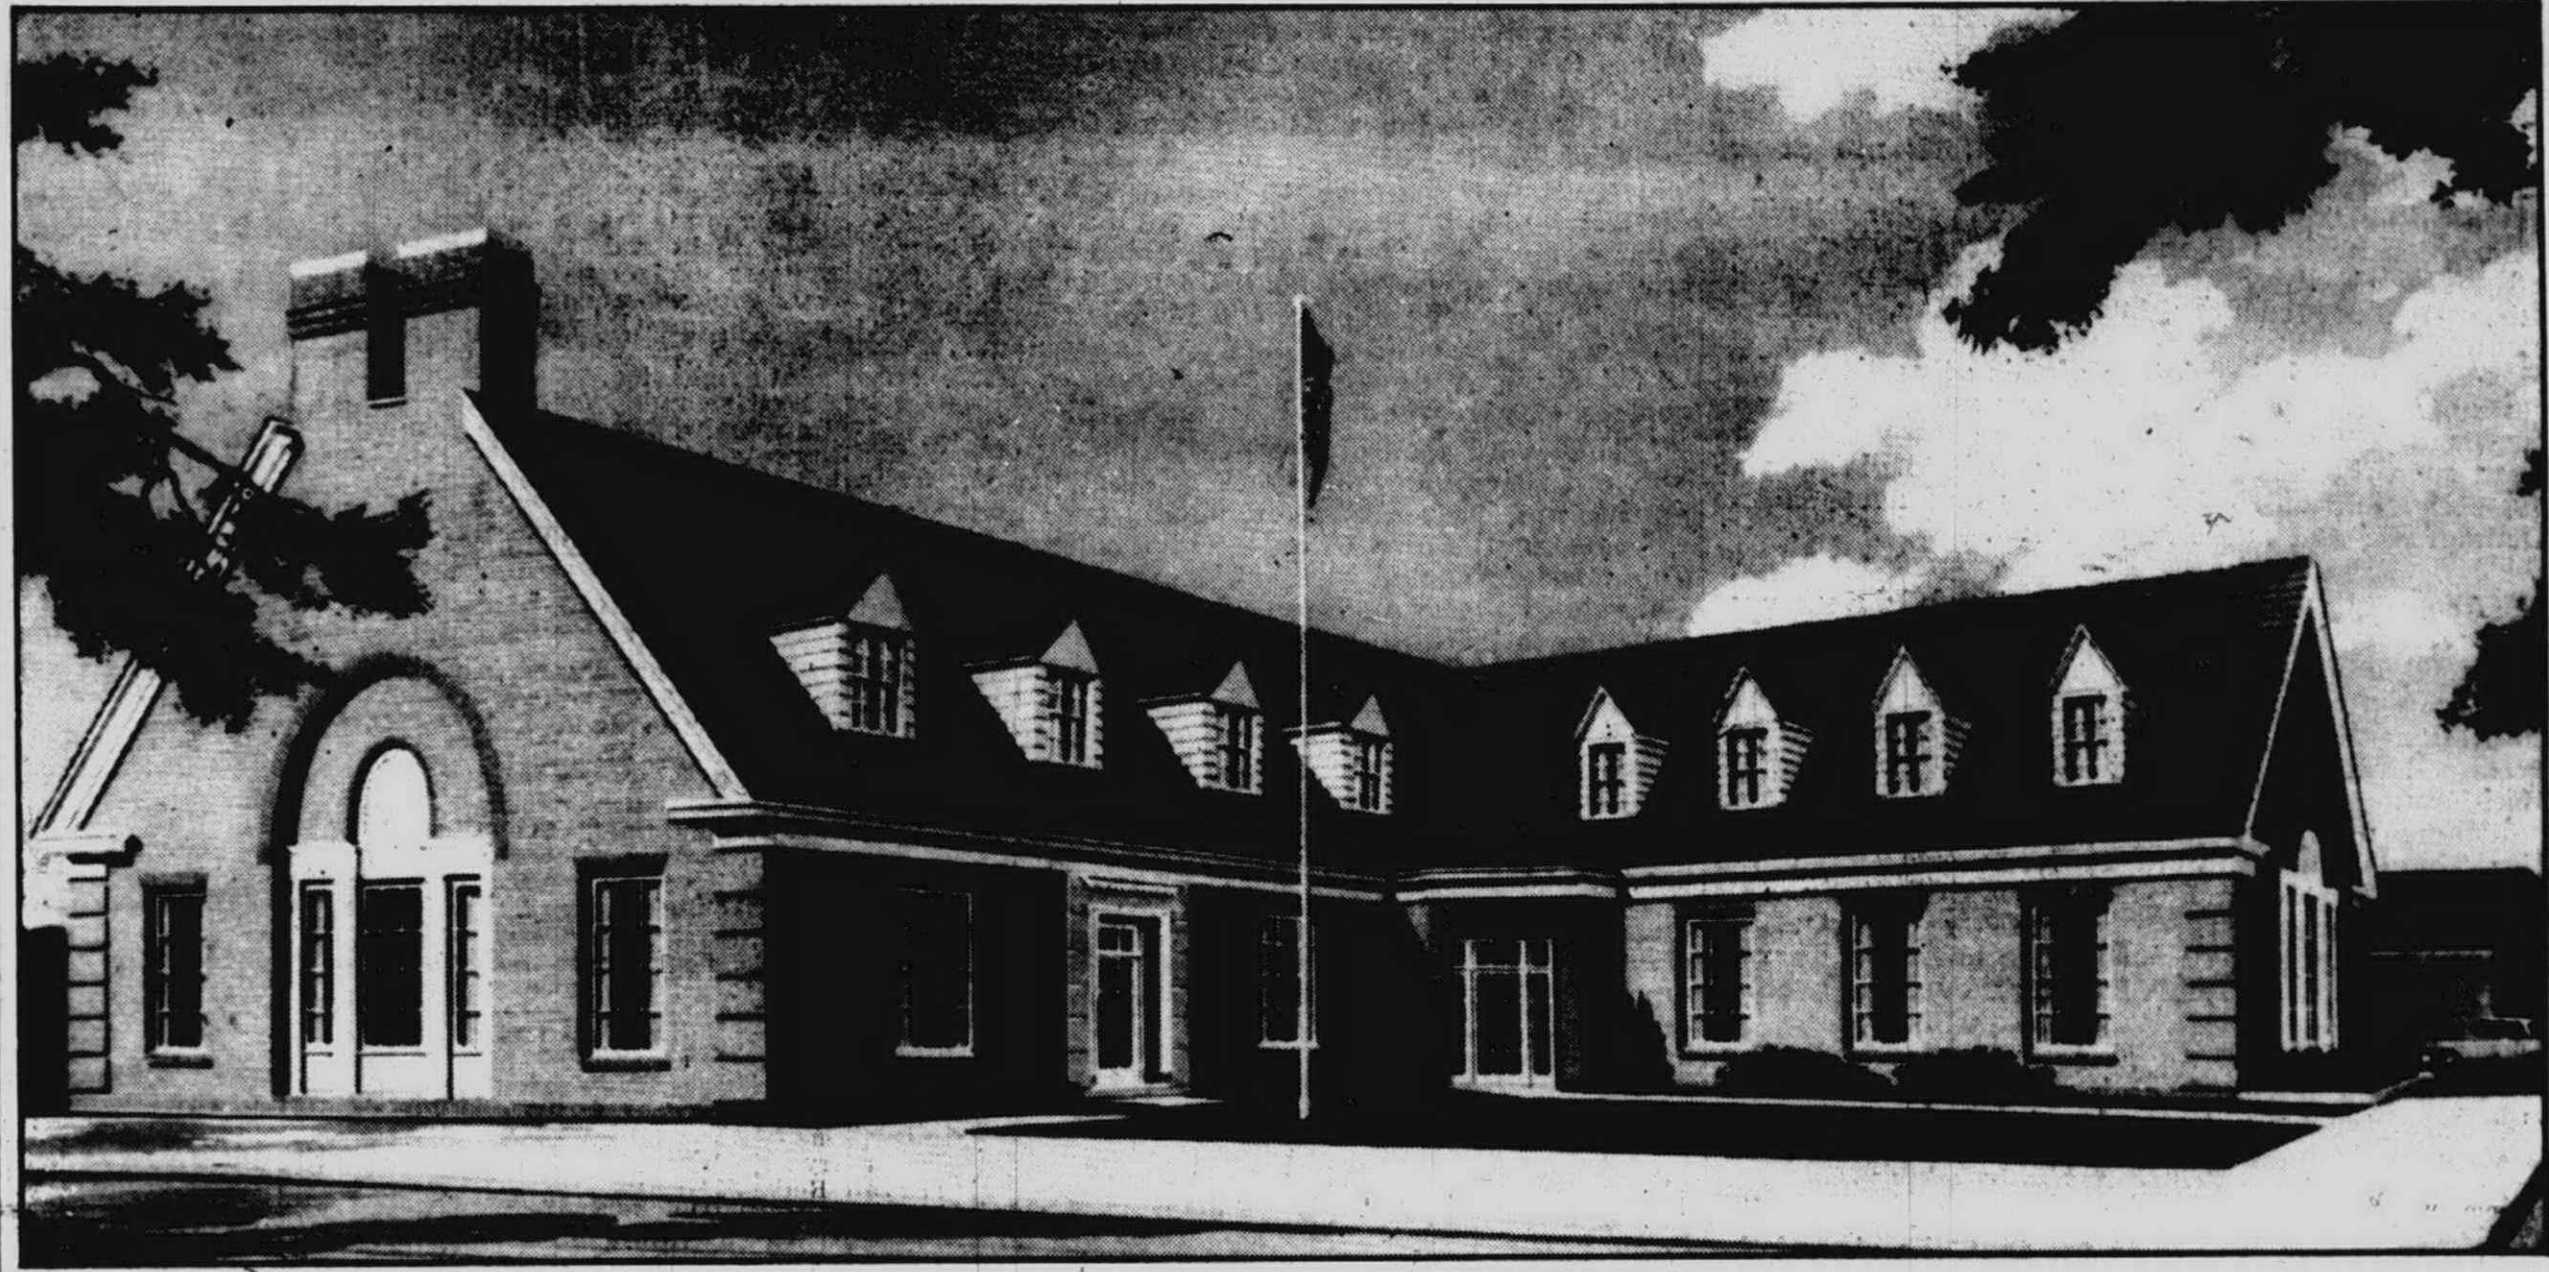

There was a good turnout to the Republican township caucus held in the village hall, Wednesday afternoon. The caucus was organized by electing Karl Hiltner chairman and Edward Gayde secretary. George Springer and Jay Burr were appointed tellers. Supervisor Bradner and Clerk Gayde were renominated without opposition...

Chips from the ROCK

After suffering through our maze of problems last week in trying to produce a newspaper, what with the Asian Flu claiming half of our staff and then our faithful old press bucking in the middle of the night, I questioned whether I should venture a column this week.

However, in spite of the "perils of the publishing business" we are seemingly back on schedule and I am courageous enough to try another attempt for this week. I can't publicly thank enough our faithful employees, who were left on the job, for their 24 hour toil last week, nor can I say enough in appreciation to Bill Sliger in Northville who loaned us the use of his newspaper press and other facilities to produce our weekly effort. To all we are grateful.

Martha made it! Our pretty and competent Congresswoman Martha Griffiths took me at my word a couple of weeks ago and last weekend a beautiful enlarged photograph bearing the following inscription arrived at my desk; "To Sterling Eaton a Republican with a wonderful sense of humor. With the warm regards of Martha Griffiths, Congresswoman."

As promised the picture of this attractive public servant will now be added to my autographed collection of celebrities from all over the world, and I am sure the addition will do much to glamorize the collection which does have its dull areas, some Democratic and some Republican.

According to his honor the Lord Mayor of Wixom, also famous for his roof top parking plan along Wixom's soon to be widened Main street, Wesley McAtee and Kenneth Harrison, widely circulating realtor and sportsman, this cold winter has produced the deepest frost line yet recorded in Michigan.

There are places where highway crews and Jim Thomas' Consumers Power crews have encountered frost to a depth of seven feet in this area, according to these two frosty experts. No wonder the septic tank people are having a harvest this year with drain fields frozen all over the area... ours included.

Plymouth's Rotary club will soon boast 100 members, the largest membership it has ever had. Last week it inducted into membership Whitman Barnes general manager, Edward Burkhardt and Cadillac Drapery expert, Verne Steele.

Of more significance to me than the size of the club, as announced by president Harold Guenther at the meeting, was the talent of three local high school students who presented a program planned by school superintendent Russell Isbister.

These three students, Judy Adams, Charles Hampton and Michael Clinansmith gave specific evidence that the products of our local educational system are superb.

Their assignment for Friday's meeting was a half hour dissection of the pros and cons of Michigan's proposed new constitution. They divided the total discussion in three parts and each analyzed one third of the whole content of the constitution.

They drew verbal comparisons with our present constitution and explained the good and bad features of the new and how it compared to the one we now have.

The total discussion was clear, concise and unbiased and any Rotarian in attendance at that meeting just had to go home far better informed about this instrument than he was before.

Interestingly enough during a question and answer period at the end of the program each of the three, when posed with the question, "how would you vote if you could at the next election?"... all came up individually with the same answer, which was, there is no doubt but what there are still many things to be desired, which are not included in the constitution as it is drawn, but under present day conditions it is far superior to the present constitution and they would each vote YES.

If superintendent Isbister has any influence with their government instructor, I hope he'll see that each ends up with an "A" for the year, because as representatives of our public schools they displayed in no uncertain terms that they were educated far above and beyond Mr. Average Man on the street, especially along the lines of government.

Last week The Plymouth Mail announced a new beautifully illustrated catalog now being made available by Schoolcraft College (that name still bothers me)-which provides a complete prospectus for future students.

Since the catalog was a surprise to us we called the office of the college business manager to inquire about the same and, since we are in the printing business and DO HELP support the institution as a major taxpayer in the area, we inquired where the booklet was printed.

The business manager was in conference and too busy to talk to us but his secretary informed us the catalog was printed by Kramer Printing in Detroit. I then asked if any of the 40 printers in the college district had been given the opportunity to at least quote on the job. She said she didn't know but the business manager would call us back shortly. A week later, after not having my call returned by the business manager, I called him again. This time he was too busy getting ready that night for a board meeting to talk to me but his secretary said he would call me the next day. Well, it's now one whole week later and I still haven't heard from this busy, business manager or his secretary, whom I told could at least return my call and provide me the information I wanted when she found out from her boss.

At this writing, after getting no response from this busy, busy office I have about concluded that some friend in Detroit with a printing press must have produced the catalog with no thought being given to the 40 business firms in the area who might have provided the same and perhaps at less cost had

LABOR FACTS

DID YOU KNOW...
IN 1914 IT TOOK THE AVERAGE FACTORY PRODUCTION WORKER ONE HOUR AND THIRTY-FIVE MINUTES OF WORK TO PAY FOR A DOZEN EGGS... TODAY IT TAKES THE SAME KIND OF FACTORY PRODUCTION WORKER ONLY FIFTEEN MINUTES!

IN 1914 IT TOOK SEVENTY-FIVE HOURS AND FORTY-SEVEN MINUTES OF WORK FOR AN AVERAGE FACTORY PRODUCTION WORKER TO EARN ENOUGH MONEY TO BUY A TWO-PIECE SUIT OF MEDIUM QUALITY... TODAY, TO BUY THE SAME KIND OF SUIT, IT WOULD TAKE THE SAME WORKER ONLY TWENTY HOURS AND TWENTY-SIX MINUTES!

ALL OF THESE COMPARISONS ILLUSTRATE DRAMATICALLY THE IMPROVEMENT IN THE LIFE OF THE AMERICAN WORKER IN THE LAST FIFTY YEARS... THE FIRST FIFTY YEARS OF LABOR!

they been given an opportunity to submit prices. This concerns me because in the not too distant future this college is going to come crying to us, the local taxpayers, and ask us to vote them another half mill or two for additional funds to expand their facilities. AND I ASK, if they spend their dollars, which we now provide for them, by having out of district builders, contractors, suppliers, printers or what have you, doing their work and syphoning off our dollars, there will be little left in the pockets of our taxpayers whether it's Livonia, Garden City, Canton or Plymouth, to help their expansion...much less leaving a desire in the minds of their supporters to give them any further aid.

This is an area of concern which especially our own two Plymouth members of the board, Jane Moechele and Harold Fischer, should take under consideration. It's also an area which college president Eric Bradner should be most interested in. Perhaps I shouldn't make an issue of an item so small but the time to institute a policy regarding the expenditure of our taxpayers funds is at the very beginning so that in the future, everything being equal, the people who support such an institution, or school or municipal body, should be given an opportunity to recover some of their hard earned tax dollars, if possible, or at least keep them spread throughout the area that the body serves.

Now, it's possible some of our college authorities may dismiss this approach as "infantile", as they did my criticism of their choosing a name, but, believe me, I am of the opinion that with a little effort enough interest can be generated in such thinking in the college district to make them fully aware of the importance and impact of this suggestion.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Sterling Eaton
Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Sterling:

Perhaps you recall a letter I sent you about five months ago relative to the bout I was having at St. Joseph Hospital and how I detested the entire business of confinement. Well now this has extended to over six months and as far as I can see there appears to be no end to it all and the powers to be say, no work, no driving a car and no nothing. But gee whiz Sir you are having your own troubles, so how can I tell you anything, except I would like to tell you and all the fine people of Plymouth just how much your fine cards, beautiful flowers, the wonderfully chosen words of encouragement and prayers have really meant and will forever mean to me. And then I can't forget those good customers of mine. Six months from the store, and how after an absence of six months from the store they still believe in the sincerity, integrity and quality of Pease goods to remain good customers. Truly, Sterling, I honestly believe that it is this quality in people that makes a person try to carry on, because I truly believe that had these same folks lost faith in me, I may of lost it in myself but when people write you to say they hope they are my friend and not just customers and that they pray for me every day and then even little kids tell me I am in their prayers every night and the attentiveness of some of these wonderful women in this grand town of Plymouth, goodness Sir, what can one do but fight, too.

Well so much for the last six months. Now for the future. As a starter I am adopting a policy of surrounding myself with all of the physical and knowledgeable help that I

Dear Editor:

Please try to find a place in your lovely paper for this Lyric, "My Neighbors". Some of my neighbors have read this and would like to have it printed, too. The "My Neighbors" I refer to are — Mrs. Joe Near and Mrs. Narvin Smith as the "dedicated teachers". Mrs. Paul Sanders and Mr. Gardner, recently turned my gloomy kitchen into a very cheery neat room. Mr. Jim Munding, though employed as a pool and die maker, can sketch about any picture with a pencil. Mrs. Garner, like me, likes to write poems. Mrs. Roy Bennett has taught our pre-schooler's art during the summer, and she also does oil paintings. Mrs. Dely I, I think, a good piano player, plus being a fine ballet dancer. Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Fleasgar, Mr. Glenn Aldrich and Mrs. Munding are the mothers I had in mind.

The poem follows:
"Irvin Street"
-or-
"My Neighbors"
I live among the great; those whose pontifications are to create. Some in pencil art; Others teach with dedicated heart.

Sterling this letter may appear to make me sound a little mouthy but how else could I thank you for your encouraging remarks when

Then there's that gal across the street; who can turn a room of gloom into one so neat. There are others; that master of art of being exceptional mothers. As I look down the street, I see "Winnie" with her brush. I think her paintings are so lush.

Some of us write rhyme; that may never be worth a dime. Then we've all been blessed with the talent to recognize within each of us there is fault.

Yet we've never let this our friendship halt. And when there's one of us in need We can depend on our neighbor to do us a good deed. And though not one of our names, May ever reach fame, I'm proud I live on Irvin Street; because I live with artists that can't be beat

FOUR SWIMMERS from Plymouth were key figures this winter on Western Michigan University's unbeaten swimming team. The Broncos raced undefeated through 12 dual-meet clashes and then added the school's first Mid-American Conference swim title 10 days ago. The quartet of Plymouth swimmers who contributed to WMU's success is shown here. From left: Beau Toll, Nick Herrick, Bob Isbister and Don Carney. In the conference championship meet, Herrick swam on the 400-yard medley relay team and on the 400-yard freestyle relay as well. Toll set school, pool and league marks in the 500-yard freestyle. Isbister scored points in three events. Carney, although held scoreless in the championship meet, contributed solidly to the Broncos' unbeaten dual-meet record during the regular season. All four are Plymouth High graduates and learned their swimming prowess under the wing of varsity swim coach John McFall here.

Salem Country Club Semi-Private

Salem Country Club, at Six Mile and Currie Rds. in Salem Township, will open its season 'as soon as weather permits' on a semi-private basis. A year ago, it was declared a private course. George Schmemman, one of the officers of the course and well-known in Plymouth as the owner of Salem Real Estate, said that memberships will also be available. Doug Jetter, a Plymouth High graduate, is the professional for Salem Country Club. During the winter Jetter is chief instructor at the Gorman Indoor Golf school in Southfield. Laid out only last spring, the course was landscaped last fall with approximately 1,000 trees outlining the fairways. Schmemman said that many of the trees, all the fastgrowing variety, are as tall as 15 feet.

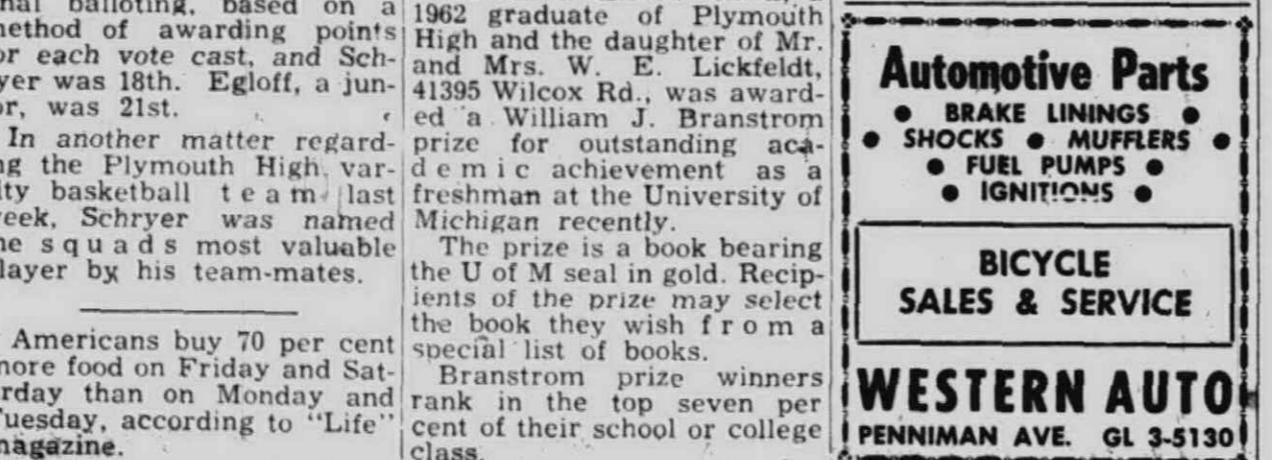

Three Rocks Gain All-League Team Honorable Mention

Three Plymouth athletes, Jerry Kisabeth, Dick Schryer and Dick Egloff, earned honorable mention last week in balloting that led to the Suburban Six conference's first and second all-league basketball teams. The Rocks emerged with no representation on the first or the second teams. League champion Bentley High dominated the first team as three of its players gained recognition. The three, who helped Bentley to the finals of the regional class A play-offs, are Roland Kent, Bill Bollin and Wayne Stevens. Redford Union's Len Le Pla a center, and Trenton's Dick Helminger rounded out the all-league first team. In balloting by coaches of the six member schools, no coach was permitted to vote for any of his own players. Kisabeth wound up 15th in the final balloting, based on a method of awarding points for each vote cast, and Schryer was 18th. Egloff, a junior, was 21st. In another matter regarding the Plymouth High varsity basketball team last week, Schryer was named the squad's most valuable player by his team-mates. Americans buy 70 per cent more food on Friday and Saturday than on Monday and Tuesday, according to "Life" magazine.

Wins Branstrom Award at U of M

Marianne Eileen Shirk, a 1962 graduate of Plymouth High and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lickfield, 41395 Wilcox Rd., was awarded a William J. Branstrom prize for outstanding academic achievement as a freshman at the University of Michigan recently. The prize is a book bearing the U of M seal in gold. Recipients of the prize may select the book they wish from a special list of books. Branstrom prize winners rank in the top seven per cent of their school or college class.

Only Five Lettermen Return To Varsity Baseball Roster

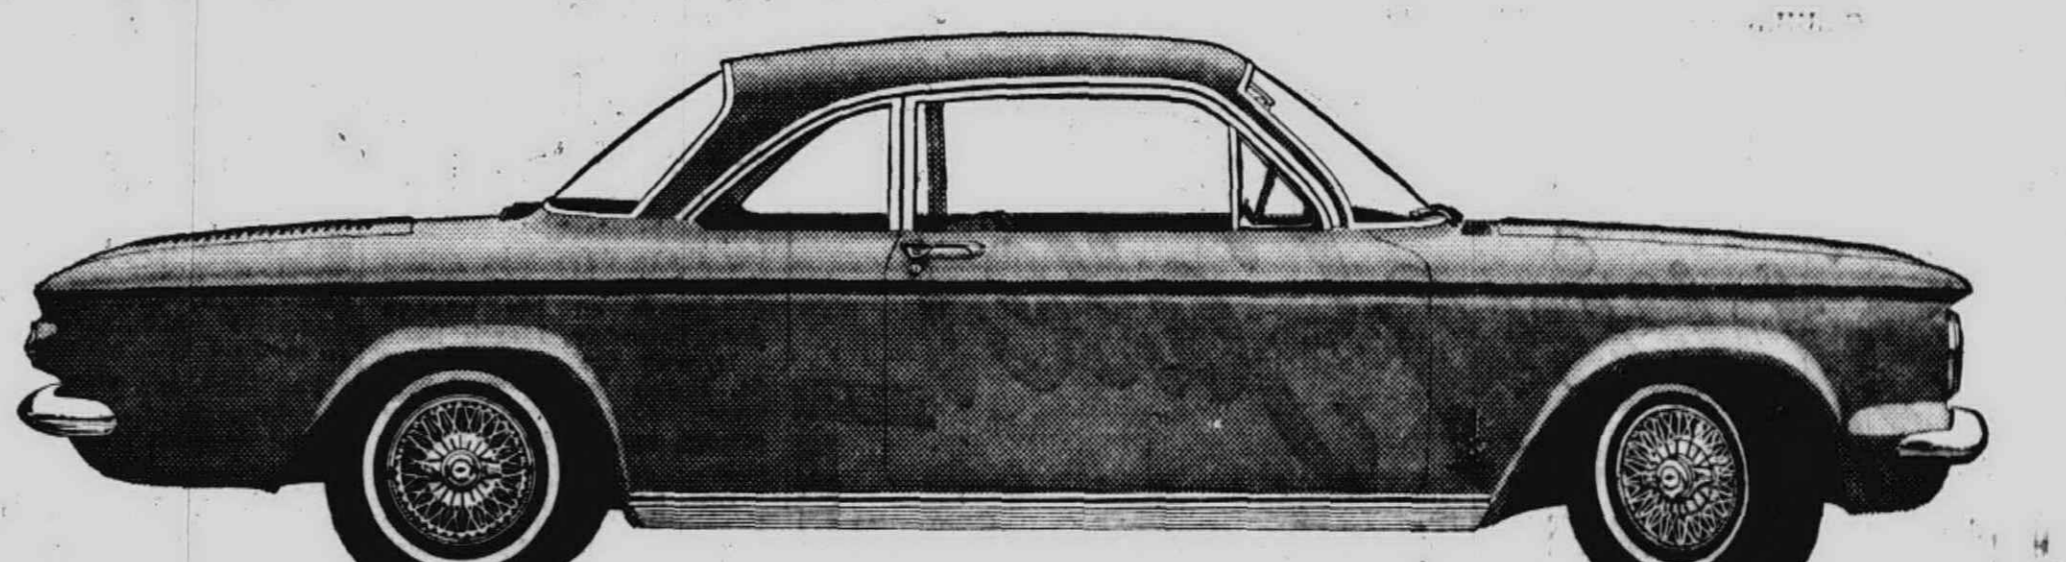

(Editor's Note - This is the second in a series of articles describing Plymouth High's 1963 varsity athletic teams. Last week, the varsity track team was the subject. Today, varsity baseball is discussed.) Smith, who had a 1-0 record a year ago, and Edwards, who had no record at all on the mound in 1962, don't qualify as regular players for each game.

Plymouth High's winning ways in baseball circles were brought to a relative halt last spring when the Rocks, for the first time since 1956, failed to win or share in the Suburban Six League championship. While Allen Park and Belleville shared league honors during 1962, the Rocks slipped to a third-place finish in the conference with a 6-3 won-lost record. For the season, Plymouth posted a 9-4 mark. Last Monday, veteran varsity baseball coach Mike Hohen greeted approximately 60 candidates for the 1963 team, including five returning lettermen. Hohen minced no words late last week as he looked over Plymouth's 1963 baseball chances. "We're weaker than we've been at this point in a long time," he said. He lists only three regulars among the five returnees. There are a lot of question marks," Hober asserted.

The birthday cake, provided by the club's refreshments committee, was decorated in green and white. Members were saddened by the death of Andrew Johnson, who died March 16. The Senior Citizens extend heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Johnson and her family. Several of the club's members have been shut-ins recently, but at the last report all are recovering and it is expected that they will be back among the other members soon. Plans for attending the potluck dinner in Ann Arbor have been completed. The club will leave the Masonic Temple here on March 28 at precisely 10:45 a.m.

Heavy drama well larded with symbolism and fancy flights of poetry can be steep going even with a top professional cast. Over in the Quirk Theater the Eastern Michigan Players did what they could with the Russian classic "He Who Gets Slapped."

This seldom-seen somber allegorical drama builds slowly to a "Hamlet" type conclusion with poisonings, suicides bringing the curtain down slowly on a macabre scene.

Author Leonid Andreyev tackles the humanities in this play that is larger than life itself. His characters wonder about death, the need for truth, and pleasure-loving in a world of bleakness.

The Eastern Michigan University Players always mount their plays in exceptionally fine style.

The Humanities are not only on exhibit over at Eastern Michigan University, but you can examine life's basic truths by attending a series of lecture-discussions being conducted on Saturday in the Dunning-Hough library.

Mrs. Agnes Pauline informs me that Bob Wall is showing a series of films dealing with Shakespeare's "Hamlet." The film-discussion programs begin at 1:30 p.m. and run for about an hour and a half. The Plymouth Theater Guild is cooperating with the Wayne County Library in sponsoring this cultural Saturday afternoon activity. The series will be running until April 6.

An extremely absorbing drama in the form of Federico Lorca's "The House of Bernarda Alba" takes over the stage of the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater in Ann Arbor. This Spanish drama is a tragic story of a stern matriarch who forces her five daughters into a traditional eight year mourning period when she is widowed.

Their longing for contact with the outside world stifled, they turn to pursuits fitting their bereaved state. One girl, however, manages to have a secret tryst with a scurrilous suitor and the action starts.

In the U of M production, music prepared in the Spanish ethnic style by the School of Music professor William Malm is sung off-stage by the U-M Glee Club octet, the Friars. Prof. Hugh Norton is directing this vigorous and memorable production of a Spanish play seldom-seen in the United States. "The House of Bernarda Alba" opens March 27 for a four-day run.

Over in the Plymouth High School auditorium this weekend, if you're lucky to get a ticket, a wild, raucous up-to-the-minute musical comedy will be rocking the building. "Bye, Bye Birdie" opens for four performances on Thurs-

Fishermen Exhibit Catch

FORD SALES GAIN
 Ford Motor Co. established sales and earnings records in 1962 and "looks for another very satisfactory year" in 1963, according to Henry Ford II, chairman of the board, and John Dykstra, president of the company.

Worldwide consolidated sales for the company in 1962 totaled more than $8 billion, 18 per cent above the previous record total set in 1957. Net earnings reached a new record, too, at $480 million and dividends amounted to $1.80 per share, up 20 per cent over 1961 dividends.

Township Community Improvement Group To Hold Annual Meeting on March 27

Plymouth Township's Community Improvement Association will hold its ninth annual meeting on March 27 at 8 p.m. in the Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd.

Current president is Melvin Fuelling, 11767 Priscilla Lane. The slate of officers nominated includes:

Ray Arnold as president; Frank Millington as vice president; John McEwen, treasurer; and Lillian Barber for secretary. Nominated for the four three-year board terms are James Barber, Roy Rogers, Austin Stecker and Arnold Johanson.

John Izett has been nominated for the two-year term on the board. A review of the association's activities during the past year will also be accomplished and reports will be heard on Township finances and recent major projects.

All members of the association are invited to attend.

Randy Munshaw New President of State Hi-Y Group

A Plymouth youth has been elected president of the Michigan State Hi-Y council. He is Randy Munshaw, a Plymouth High junior and the son of Dr. and Mrs. Carroll M. Munshaw, 555 Byron.

As part of his new duties, Randy will represent youth on the State YMCA Youth Committee and will be called upon to represent the Hi-Y movement at various YMCA conferences.

His election also qualifies him to be one of the Michigan youths to attend the National Hi-Y Congress to be held at St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn., on June 27 to July 2.

The Michigan Hi-Y Council is composed of about 30 high school students from all parts of the state. They represent over 200 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs.

Randy is active in Plymouth High school sports and organizations. His hobbies include shortwave radio, electronics, model cars and sports cars.

He is a member of the track team and is treasurer of the local Hi-Y club. Randy is a former member of the Plymouth community band and was a gubernatorial candidate for the 1962 YMCA Youth Legislature. Last summer he attended the YMCA-sponsored Leadership Development Camp at Torch Lake.

Scotchman's Garage Gets Real Irish 'Stamp of Approval'

John McEwen, Plymouth Township clerk, is wondering these days who put a three-foot-square green shamrock on his garage door Saturday, March 16.

It was the night before St. Patrick's Day and McEwen doesn't hold any grudge against the Irish, he says.

But, as past president of the Detroit chapter of the largest Scottish benevolent organization in the world — the St. Andrew's Society — McEwen had an idea that maybe someone was attempting to convert him.

The shamrock was inscribed "All the World Loves the Irish." No mention was made of scotchmen. McEwen noted immediately. The popular Township clerk lives at 44475 Governor Bradford Rd.
