Sparks, Garber Win Four Year Terms in Twp.

C. Veach 'Sparky' Sparks, lone incumbent, proved to the satisfaction of all that it does pay to have a bit of experience in a political battle, running well ahead of his two rivals in the battle for the No. 1 spot for trustee in Plymouth Township.

Although it was apparent from the returns that voters were pulling down one handle on the voting machines—easy to say since only one Democrat appeared on the entire ticket—Sparks led the trustee candidates Monday with a total of 1,162. That assured him of a four-year term on the Board.

Ralph Garber, the retired former assistant prosecuting attorney of Wayne County, won the second spot and a four-year term with 1,146 votes and Dick Lauterbach finished third with 1,141 and receives a two-year term.

All other Republican candidates had been elected earlier in the primaries for lack of opposition and it was simply a matter of how many votes each received.

Re-elected to Township offices were:

Supervisor — Roy Lindsay, 1,236.

Clerk—John McEwen, 1,219.

Treasurer — Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, 1,233.

Justice of Peace — Lawrence Schendel (R), 1,039; Maurice Breen (D) 209.

Board of Review — Walter Sumner, 1,115.

Constable—Louis Schomberger, 1,139; Donald King, 1,135; Philip Truesdell, 1,132; Robert Burns, 1,104.

Lindsay, who was named to his fifth term as supervisor, topped the voting with his 1,236 total followed by Mrs. Holmes with 1,233.

But the battle, even though friendly, was in the trustee race where Sparks was determined to show that he deserved the No. 1 spot because of his record on the Board.

"Sparky" did an excellent job of getting the word around, leading Garber by 16 votes. This was a bit of a surprise since most political observers thought Garber might be the leader by a fairly good margin.

Garber and Lauterbach become new members of the Board under the increased membership voted a year ago. The Township electorate approved a move to boost the size of the Board from five to seven members.

Lauterbach, a teacher in the Dearborn School system, was expected to receive the two-year term but will have an opportunity to join Trustee Lou Norman then and seek a four-year post.

The three trustees will be officially sworn in by Supervisor Lindsay and Clerk McEwen prior to the monthly meeting on Tuesday, April 9.

Each has been in attendance at meetings since the February primary and each has been brought up to date in the Board's thinking on the various projects coming up.

In typical Republican fashion, the Township approved the new constitution by a tremendous majority, 1053 to 469.

Lawton, Vallier Top Vote For City Commission

City of Plymouth voters spoke their piece Monday by electing three political newcomers to the City Commission along with poll-wise Arch Vallier, currently the city's supervisor on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Joining Vallier on the Commission which will take office in two weeks are: George Lawton, 851; J. Rusling Cutler, 603; Leon Merriman, 582; and Neil Davidson, 541.

The remaining four candidates finished: George Hudson, 851; J. Rusling Cutler, 603; Leon Merriman, 582; and Neil Davidson, 541.

Thus Lawton, Vallier and Jabara will fill four-year terms and Smith, as the fourth finisher, will receive a two-year term. The four vacancies came about when Mayor Robert Simcock, Marvin Terry, Carl Shear and William Hartmann finished their second consecutive terms and thus, under the charter, were ineligible to run for re-election. Each has to sit out a two-year term before becoming eligible to run again. The new commissioners will join with the three holdovers, Richard Wernette, James Houk and Robert Beyer, in handling the city's affairs and will hold a meeting shortly after the swearing-in ceremonies on April 15 to select a mayor.

Wernette and Houk are top choices at the moment, because of their Commission background, but there is considerable conjecture that the new commissioners may hand together and upset tradition for the first time.

Thus, voters Monday answered the challenge of naming new, young commissioners with a forward look by selecting three comparative youngsters in Lawton, Jabara and Smith.

Vallier has had considerable experience with the Commission and Commission affairs through his duties as City Supervisor during the past few years. He is a research engineer for Ford Motor Co. and is expected to give the Commission some much needed help in that field, especially in the Detroit water and City Hall projects.

Lawton, executive manager of the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union, is generally considered one of the most astute younger members of the city's business colony.

He was selected as 1963 "Man of the Year" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in January.

Jabara, part owner of the Plymouth Tank Co., is a graduate engineer with considerable experience in municipal engineering which should make him a valuable addition to the Commission.

Smith, assistant principal and head of the counseling department at Plymouth Senior High School, adds an educational touch to the Board and also a younger look. Bob is a Plymouth native and received all of his schooling in the Plymouth Schools.

City Clerk Joseph Near indicated the vote was a bit higher than anticipated with a total of 2,077 casting ballots for a 46.2 per cent. He had predicted a 35 per cent turnout earlier in the week.

Plymouth backed the constitution by an overwhelming 1,371 to 517. Voters rejected the proposal to have the supervisor appointed rather than elected and approved the charter amendment giving the City Manager the right to make expenditures up to $1,000 without bids rather than $500 as in the past.

The supervisor proposal failed 982-763 and the second proposal passed 1,220 to 532.

There wasn't any question about Lawton's popularity in the voting for he was the leader in each of the city's five precincts.

George rolled up 218 in precinct one; 137 in No. 2; 264 in No. 3; 231 in No. 4 and 300 in No. 5.

The turnout by precincts was: No. 1, 401; No. 2, 243; No. 3, 546; No. 4, 378; and No. 5, 509.

Plan Open Forum to Discuss What's Ahead for Plymouth

What does the future hold for the Plymouth Community?

This and other questions will be discussed at an open forum in the Plymouth Community Junior High East on Wednesday, April 24 to which the presiding officer and at least one representative from each existing community service organization, industrial and business groups, governmental units, planning bodies and the board of education are being invited.

Plans for the forum were revealed by School Supt. Russell Isbister, who is serving as acting chairman of the sponsoring group of citizens.

Isbister explained that it will be an exploratory meeting, an idea sharing forum, one in which complete freedom under guided leadership will invoke critical thinking.

In his letter announcing the meeting, Isbister writes: "Citizens of the Plymouth Community who have lived here for any period of time seek ways of discharging their individual citizenship responsibilities. Many were born here and had a part in shaping its destiny. In a very real sense what the Community is they help it to be."

"Others for one reason or another have chosen either to live in or operate businesses in the Plymouth area. They, too, have had a part in directing the continued growth and development of the Community."

"All of course, want to share in helping determine what lies ahead. This poses some interesting questions."

These questions which are expected to come up for discussion at the forum and which are of interest to all in the Plymouth Community include:

What are the component elements which contribute to the uniqueness of our community—(a) cultural, (b) education, (c) economic, (d) social, (e) government, (f) business and (g) industry?

What steps should be taken now to preserve the Plymouth Community within a rapidly growing suburbia?

What physical facilities are needed in the immediate future to house and program the community services and cultural organizations? (Historical Museum, Symphony, Theater Guild, Listening Post, Creative Arts, Adventure Series, social services, recreation services, etc.)

What about the Fall Festival? What are its implications for the future? Should it be expanded? If so, how?

What is the power potential of a cooperative approach through the existing organizations in examining problems of mutual concern?

Isbister indicated many citizens in the Community have already expressed their interest in this method of communicating ideas. He points out that change is inevitable and the direction of the change rests in the hands of the citizens.

Plymouth Twp. Clerk OKs Swainson Votes

The Plymouth Township Board of Canvassers will have to decide whether the absentee votes of former Gov. and Mrs. John Swainson shall count.

Township Clerk John McEwen, who heads the election board, ordered precinct workers to place the ballots through the voting machines after listening to a challenge from Mrs. Barry Alford, chairman of the Precinct 3 election board.

"After a study of the election laws," said McEwen, "I ordered the votes to be placed through the machines. The final decision rests with the Board of Canvassers."

Mrs. Alford challenged the legality of the votes on the position that the Democratic ex-governor and his wife, who live in Lansing and rent their home in Plymouth Township, are not qualified voters.

Pair From Plymouth Wins Band Award

Two Plymouth High School musicians passed the difficult proficiency III examinations after receiving superior ratings in the state solo and ensemble festival at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. The competition is sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association. The rules provide that only those who receive a superior or first division ranking in the district festival are eligible for the state finals. Cheryl Wright, trombone soloist, and Charles Hampton, tuba soloist, passed the proficiency III exam, becoming the third bandmen in Plymouth High history to gain that rank.

To pass the exam, the performer must play a prepared solo, be able to pass all of the major and minor scales and read an unknown composition at sight after 30 seconds of study.

The only other Plymouthite to win the honor was Leroy Lane, who was graduated a year ago and now is enrolled in the University of Michigan's School of Music.

Others winning a superior rating were: Bob Hill and Dave Jordan, snare drum duet; and the clarinet choir of Christine Cutler, Mary Lou Smith, Bob Webber, Janice William, Georgia Ann Kippola, Joe Mecklenburg, Nancy Miller and Dick Bowman. It was the second straight year the choir won the No. 1 rating.

DPW News and Notes

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA

Plymouth Dept. of Public Works Plymouth householders, who have alley refuse pickup, are urged to have their rubbish on the curbs, on the regular pickup days. The garbage and rubbish removal contractor has informed the DPW that alleys are so muddy that it is impossible to drive the heavy trucks through without making deep ruts.

Thus for the next four weeks, we are asking the cooperation of all.

The City of Plymouth does not maintain alleys in the residential section because of the high cost. There are no storm sewers and many residents dump leaves in the ruts. Then when the grader goes through, it can't grade mud and leaves and makes more of a mess.

If a resident desires, he may have gravel hauled in to fill the holes. However, if the DPW does this work, then there would have to be a charge.

Householders who had water taps open because of frozen lines are urged to shut all off now. The meterman will be around shortly to reinstall the meter.

DPW workers have started flushing all water hydrants. This will be done on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The department also has started sweeping all paved streets.

Entries Pour in for Area's First Mixed Doubles

Although the first ball won't be rolled in the first annual Observer Newspapers invitational mixed doubles tournament until Saturday, April 20, entries are rolling in and tournament officials expect them to keep snowballing until the anticipated entry of 700 is passed well in advance of opening night.

The meet, open to all sanctioned bowlers in leagues at the Merri-Bowl Lanes, 30950 Five Mile; Livonia Lanes, 31630 Plymouth Rd.; and Wonderland Lanes, 28455 Plymouth Rd., and to residents of Livonia, Redford, Plymouth and Nankin Township, will determine the mixed doubles champions for the area.

It carries an estimated $1,000 first prize—rules of the ABC and WIBC forbid guaranteed prizes in the first few years of a new tourney—with an estimated $500 for second, $250 for third, $125 for fourth and $100 for fifth.

The entry fee is $10 per team of which $5 goes into prize fund, $3.30 for bowling and $1.70 for expenses. A bowler may enter three times with a different partner in each appearance but may compete in the rollofs only with the partner with the highest team score.

Inasmuch as the teams will be rolling on all three lanes, the tournament rules provide for a rolloff at Livonia Lanes for the prizes. The tournament committee indicated that one of every 10 teams qualify for the rollofs and automatically become eligible for a prize.

The estimated $1,000 first prize is based on an entry of 700 teams although the committee composed of Mac Goldman, manager of Merri-Bowl; Cass Hoffman of Livonia Lanes and George Bashara of Wonderland, feels the total will go well over that figure.

The entry blanks were still wet with printer's ink when the first entry was made by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lord, 9918 Fairfield, Livonia, who bowled in a mixed league at Merri-Bowl.

Lord is an employee of the Livonia Public School system in the cafeteria department and indicated he and wife figured this was an excellent chance to try for some of the big money.

"We're just average bowlers," they smiled, "but we feel this Observer Mixed Doubles Tournament is for our kind of folks. Who knows when a man and wife will hit a hot streak that will net them a high score and a share of the pot of gold?"

Numerous inquiries for entry blanks have been received in the Observer office at 33050 Five Mile Rd. and everything points to a tremendous interest in the tournament.

Hoffman, Bashara and Goldman have handed out bundles of entry blanks in the past few days and each has had queries from mixed leagues as to the possibility of taking over an entire squad.

These are a few of the reasons why bowlers should get their entries in now and make their requests known for the choice times and dates.

The committee will handle all entries and draw up weekly schedules so that an equal number of teams will compete at each of the lanes, each weekend.

The tourney dates are: SATURDAYS—April 20, 27; May 4, 11, 18, 26; June 1, 8, 15. SUNDAYS—April 21, 28; May 5, 12, 19, 26; June 2, 9, 16. The squad times are: 1 p.m., 2:30, 4, 5:30, 7, 8:30 and 10 on each date. The rollofs are slated for Saturday and Sunday, June 23 and 24. Entries will be received until noon on June 16 with the final qualifying squad taking the alleys that evening at 10 p.m.

So, if you qualify under the rules—remember one member of each team must be either a sanctioned bowler at one of the lanes or a resident of the communities covered by the Observer newspapers.

This is your chance to cash in on some of the rich loot. One of every 10 teams is sure to get a piece of the prize fund and the 70 per cent handicap gives every team a chance whether a couple of novices or two all-stars.

Get your entry blank today at one of the three participating establishments or write to the Bowling Tournament Editor, Observer Newspapers, 33050 Five Mile Rd., Livonia.

CONGRATULATIONS for his achievements during the Livonia Hockey League season are given to Bill Prisk, leading scorer of the Midget League who played with the unbeaten Barons, by Ernie Epps, executive secretary of the Wonderland Merchants Council. The Council sponsored the annual awards dinner at Pandora's and also donated the trophies to the various individual winners.

Clarenceville Revises Teachers' Pay Schedule

After several months of consideration and study of the budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year, the Clarenceville Board of Education provided for expansion in a number of areas. Much of the expansion will be the result of increased pupil enrollment, which is estimated will be about eight to ten percent over this year.

Provisions were made by the Board to provide for eight additional teachers at the elementary level, one at the junior high school level, and two at the senior high school level.

Inasmuch as the Grandview Elementary School and the Botsford Elementary School will have in excess of 800 pupils enrolled, it was deemed desirable to provide parttime service of assistant principals. The two will have other responsibilities—one in the field of coordinating the audio-visual education activities, the other to supervise and direct the activities of all instructional materials center.

A parttime consulting and helping teacher will be provided. This will be a responsibility of Mrs. Kitzman, who participated in the Oakland County Social Studies project during this school year.

The Board also made provisions in the non-instructional area by authorizing the employment of additional custodial and maintenance personnel and additional clerical and secretarial help. The employing of these people will be delayed until the new facilities are developed or the additions to existing buildings have been completed.

In an endeavor to provide for the needs of the school district in acquiring personnel, in retaining and attracting experienced personnel, and in being in a competitive position to acquire the services of instructional staff members, the Board revised the salary schedule which provided for a beginning salary for a degree teacher of $4,950 and for one with a Master's Degree, $5,250.

The maximum for a person with a degree, after 10 years on the staff, would be $7,550, for one with a Master's Degree, $7,880.

Other items acted upon at the March 28 meeting: Official approval of the budget to the Oakland County Allocation Board. This budget provides for the additional personnel and salary changes mentioned above, and will mean approximately a 10 per cent increase in the total budget. It is estimated that the operating budget for 1963-64 will be $1,385,000.

Bryant's Parents Learn About School

Bryant Junior High School teachers and students provided parents with an opportunity to see Livonia's junior high school program in action at an open house held the evening of March 12.

Parents viewed Bryant students participating in a variety of activities, such as a modern math workshop, a choral rehearsal, a Spanish vs. French spelling bee, a student council meeting, a panel discussion, a girl's tumbling demonstration, and many other classroom situations. Displays of student work added to the visitors' information about the school program. These displays covered such topics as auto mechanics, geology, library research, and shop design.

"School staffs often learn as much about parents' expectations for their schools, as parents do about the school program," Board of Education president, Lee Landes, who attended the open house with his family, expressed appreciation for the efforts of Bryant teachers and students and the fine showing made by parents. "People in the community should take every opportunity they can to get into the schools to see how they operate," he said.

The Bryant P.T.A. added to the evening by holding a bake sale and serving refreshments to the crowd of over seven hundred parents and students.

Several of the more unusual activities use materials donated or loaned to the school by private businesses. A school newspaper was produced and distributed by students using equipment loaned by The Livonian Observer. Shop students worked on lawn mower engines given by the Lawn-Boy Corporation, and a science class displayed an engine given to the school by the Ford Motor Company.

Bryant principal, Kenneth Cogswell, said the idea for the "classroom-in-action" open house grew out of observations made by his staff during last year's program, which emphasized displays of student work with only a few classroom demonstrations. Teachers pointed out that those rooms which had actual classes going on drew the most interest and comment from parents. Because of this interest, the teachers and students of Bryant made an effort to reconstruct as many classroom and school activities as possible for this year's program.

"This open house is one of the many attempts by the Livonia schools to encourage parents to become interested in our program," Mr. Cogswell said.

LIVONIA TEEN TALK

By LEONARD LENTZ

We would like to thank the 900 people who attended our wrestling show and made it a tremendous success. From the comments heard as people were leaving, everyone enjoyed themselves and are looking forward to a future show.

Our dance on Saturday turned out to be a real success, too. Approximately 350 teens were in attendance and enjoyed the tunes played by the Trebletones, the Chargers, the Four Demotions and the Royal Coachmen.

Thanks to all who chaperoned. We invite anyone who is interested in chaperoning an affair of this type to contact Robert Netherton, GA 7-1091.

The next dance will be held at Bentley High, Saturday, April 20 for all 10th, 11th and 12th graders from Bentley, Franklin, Clarenceville and Ladywood high schools.

I shall never permit myself to stoop so low as to hate any man. —Booker T. Washington

Gad-A-Boat Plans Open House

Gad-A-Boat, Livonia's newest and most modern boat, outboard motor and trailer firm, will hold a four-day open house at its new quarters, 30303 Plymouth Road, starting Thursday.

Manager-Owner Robert Hayes, of Belleville, announced a program that finds the showroom open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and from noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

There'll be gifts and refreshments for adults and balloons and other knick knacks for the youngsters.

Gad-A-Boat was located on Telegraph near Plymouth Road in Redford Township for a number of years but decided to move to Livonia for expansion and also to take advantage of a chance to secure the Johnson boat franchise for Livonia.

Gad-A-Boat manufacturers its own boats in its plant in Plymouth in the 15-foot and 18-foot class. All are of fiberglass and the designs also include in-board and outboards.

Hayes and Sales Manager Jack Smith, of Plymouth, stated the Livonia operation will include boat assembly and sales.

The firm will handle all Johnson outboard motors which now feature the electromagnetic shift.

To supplement its own manufactured boats, Gad-A-Boat has taken over a franchise for Glassmaster boats to fill in its line. Glassmaster produces those in the 14, 16, 17, 19 and 20-foot sizes.

Hayes will have a staff of six employees to handle the present operations but plans to make additions if the volume warrants it.

4 Livonians Get Degrees

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

A friend (boy) of a friend (girl) of mine took time off from the merry-go-round a few weeks ago and put some thoughts on paper for the "40-soon or 40-over" group of females.

Actually he, with fond affection, put the words on paper for her and the result was so elating to her she graciously decided they should be shared with "our" group.

The group that can see the hill but sure as heck aren't over. True, they're a little bit scared cause the hill is there, but they still ignore it — they "do" things with their hair, exercise, keep their figure, play golf, try new creams and sometimes even go to school.

The words were expressions of love to my friend, but to all of us they are a pat on the head from a man which somehow makes it more precious. So maybe the man across the breakfast table doesn't have time to understand, but someone, somewhere DOES and it's comforting and re-inspiring.

"Youth is not a time of life. It's a state of mind. It's a test of the will, a quality of imagination, a vigor of emotions a predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite for adventure over love of ease. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

"Worry, doubt, self-distraction, fear and despair, —these are the quick equivalents of the long, long years that low the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust. Whether 70 or 16 there is in every beings heart, the love of wonder, the sweet amazement of the stars, and the starlike things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unflinching childlike appetite for "What's next?"

"You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt, as young as your hope, as old as your despair. So long as your heart receives messages of beauty, cheer, courage, grandeur and power from the earth, from man and from the Infinite, so long are you young. When all wires are down, and all central places of your heart are covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then and only then are you grown old indeed, and may God have mercy on your soul."

Supporting School Districts Of NW Clinic Up To Seven

Seven school districts have pledged $15,000 to begin a Child Guidance Clinic in this area shortly after July 1, according to Mrs. Crispin Hammond, president of the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic. Most of this money is pledged on the basis of 25 cents per child enrolled in each of these school districts.

The districts now participating are Dearborn, Dearborn District No. 8, Inkster, Romulus, Van Buren Twp., Wayne and Northville. Redford has granted a temporary approval of the plan to be reevaluated in the spring. The clinic is to be housed at the Wayne County Health Center on Merriman Road. Arrangements for this housing are being worked out by Dr. Joseph Molner, director of the Wayne County Health Department. The County Board of Health has given its assent to working out housing arrangements.

If all of the financing efforts of this Board work out a substantial clinic will be begun according to Mrs. Hammond. The Board is seeking funds from the State, the County and the The State Mental Health Commission recommended that this clinic be established with an initial grant of $17,600.

The grant is now being considered by the House Ways and Means Committee in Bill 1378. Two up-state clinics have been granted funds this year but this clinic in Wayne County has not been okayed at this time. Citizens are urged to let their legislators know of their interest in the clinic according to Mrs. Arthur Pio and Mrs. Eugene Pilarski, legislative co-chairmen.

In this area the State Representative is Paul M. Chandler, Houses of Representatives, Lansing, Michigan; and Raymond Dzendzel, Senate, Lansing, Michigan.

Reader Writes of Polio Drive

Editor:
A sincere thanks from myself and The Wayne County Chapter of the New March of Dimes, for a job well done by the Citizens of Livonia, and the following Organizations, Groups, and individuals, in helping to raise $11,336.19 to help wipe out the terrible crippling diseases, Birth Defects, Arthritis, and Polio.

A thank you to Mrs. Robert Fox, Chairman of the card party and the Mothers March, and her area chairman, Mrs. Louis Pearlman, Mrs. Kenneth Aird, Mrs. John Kaiser and Mrs. Robert Hoarf, and all the mothers who marched on that cold night in January, for the outstanding job they did on the Mothers March and the card party.

Many thanks to the Livonia School System for their help and cooperation. Also the students and counselors of the following schools: Bentley High School, Franklin High, Whitman Jr. High, Emerson Jr. High, Riley Jr. High, Whittier Jr. High, Bryant Jr. High, and the Elementary Schools.

Thanks to Sister Mary Lilyose and the students of Ladywood High School.

The amount raised by all Livonia schools was $1,430.32, proceeds from the peanut drive and dances.

The Kiwanis Club, President Mr. Donald Phifer and Chairman Mr. Harold Anderson did an outstanding job on the canister drive.

Thanks to the Business and professional Womens Club for their continued support of the March of Dimes, by putting on the Mile of Dimes, Chairman, Mrs. Edith Allen.

Thanks to the Livonia Bowling alley, for their contribution, and to Mr. W. W. Edgar National Chairman of Bowling for March of Dimes.

Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. William Brashear for their continued support of the March of Dimes, and their Chairmanship of the 1963 March of Dimes Dance, which was a big success, and Mr. Harry S. Wolfe for ticket donations.

Thanks to Mr. Donald Klein and the First Federal Savings Bank of Detroit, my treasurer for the five years I have served as campaign chairman, and my friends who help count money at the bank the night of Mothers March, and to the Auxiliary Police of Livonia, who do such a wonderful job of protecting the bank and the mothers who march.

And last but not least, the Outstanding Publicity and Cooperation given the Campaign by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chandler, of the Livonia Observer, working in conjunction with my publicity Chairman, Mrs. David Warner. Many thanks, Myra and Paul and Nancy.

Editor:

As an announced candidate for the Livonia Board of Education, I'm hopeful of using the public letter box periodically to inform local citizens of ideas and suggestions for improvement in our schools as the time nears when board members will be selected.

It is my intention to confine my activities to a constructive course and not to engage in techniques of appeal that too often "damn" everything about the present and offer will be selected.

It is apparent to all citizens today that schools are tremendously "big business." We will operate the schools of Livonia this coming year under an eleven million dollar plus budget. To simply cry "economy" is not enough for any candidate to announce unless he brings this term down to the very specifics.

One point I hope to discuss during this campaign is the obligation of a school program—are certain areas of responsibility being turned over to schools that should logically be the concern of the community of the whole. For example, the Mental Health Programs of the state now seem to be about equally divided between social agencies and the schools. There seems to be some overlapping of these services that might better be served by deciding who can most effectively and better handle this important area. We recently saw legislation passed that brings to the schools the responsibility to serve uneducable youngsters in trainable programs. I am not opposed to this expenditure and if this is then accepted as logical what about "Guidance Clinics" and other "Child Service" facilities that might also eliminate duplicate administrative costs.

As a board member I would attempt to evaluate all facets of various programs in the area just mentioned. While this presents only a small percentage of the total school enrollment it reflects a considerable outlay of monies beyond the state subsidies for such programs.

"School Dropouts" seems to be the vogue today for candidates to play upon. If this is a great concern and I don't doubt that it isn't then it would seem to me to be a curriculum problem that needs scrutinizing. I definitely would like to see more emphasis placed on the work-experience type programs that are geared more to the needs of a community in lieu of ignoring the forgotten group of youngsters who will never be college bound.

These are but a few of the areas of concern to me. I hope to meet and discuss these and other important items with those who will be expressing their interest when selecting Board of Education members in the coming June election.

Respectfully,
George J. Gannage

Dear Mayor Moelke:

On Sunday, March 31, there was an accident on Merriman Road, just south of Six Mile, involving three teenage boys in a small foreign car which rolled over. The accident took place at 3:35 p.m., and less than two minutes later the Brooks ambulance and three police cars arrived on the scene, directing traffic and seeing to the needs of the injured youngsters.

Luckily, a neighbor saw the accident happen and reached for the telephone. The police operator was very efficient, along with the officers who arrived on the scene. Everything was taken care of in less than 20 minutes, including removal of the wrecked car.

I think we, as citizens, many times take for granted the excellent service that given by our City employees, and we sometimes fail to tell you about it. Please compliment your officers, the ambulance company, and your police telephone operator on an excellent community job well done.

Sincerely,
R. H. Upton

Editor:

Judging from your column on raising the driving license age, it seems to me that you aren't very familiar with the maturity of teenagers. If this bill is passed, the 65 per cent of juvenile arrests that are connected with car thefts should definitely increase. The small percentage of our kids that get into trouble would get into more, trying to show that they feel that this law is unfair. Car thefts and illegal driving of automobiles would increase, along with the number of accidents.

If you change the driving age, it would be almost imperative that you change another age law. I am referring to the present law that forbids teenage girls to wed until they attain the age of 16. If the new driving law is passed, a young wife or mother would be stuck without the privilege of using a car (you will admit that it would be very expensive to call a cab every time she needed a loaf of bread or a glass of milk).

When you consider how few kids get into trouble, you see that there is really no need for this law. I'm not saying that I think that you (adults) pick on kids, but I believe that this is like the male driver that can't see the faults of his own sex, but only those of the "crazy woman driver" (no offense) who endangers everybody.

If you ask me, you should place a maximum age law for driving, not a new minimum.

Yours truly,
KEITH KIMBLE
P.S.: I am a teenager.

Editor:

I'm writing concerning your editorial about the proper age for attaining drivers' licenses. I agree with you in part.

In your publication you stressed the importance of a "standardized" age of maturity. I'd back up any law that purpose is to assure this change. But why must the first movement in the direction of this goal be to take away a privilege rather than to give one?

It seems that the people that are voting, the adults, are frequently more hasty in the process of taking away privileges than in giving them. If the intents are really sincere, why not, for example, push a bill to make the voting age 18 while at the same time push a bill to raise the age for attaining a drivers license. Something like this would be a fair give and take proposition, rather than a "take" now and "give" maybe five years from now.

REGINA VAN HORRICK

I agree with your proposal that youths should not be able to drive an automobile alone until they are 18. You read the newspapers about how kids think they have a fast car and go out and race. I'm not saying all teenagers go out and do this, but there are quite a few. When kids go out and race it sometimes results in a serious accident. I think that if a teenager could drive with a parent or guardian it would teach them what they should do and what they shouldn't do. This is a major problem of today and somewhere there is a solution.

Sincerely yours,
LOUIS HELLER,

Curtain Going Up

by Wally Roberts

The theater when it's good its terrific . . . when bad . . . the evening can stretch out interminably. Fortunately, members of the audience experience more good evenings than they do disappointing sessions. This week was an excellent case in point. "Milk and Honey," "The Hostage," and "Bye, Bye Birdie" were seen by local audiences and if old Wally is any judge I'd say the audiences were beside themselves with pleasure. In fact, even old Wally became a bit delirious at times.

Miss Gilchrist, a social worker, is the best thing she has done for the Vanguard in the past three years.

Brenden Behan wrote this explosive comedy. Just as it took New York by storm a few years ago I predict it will stir Detroit. Behan's satiric wit has an infectious quality that keeps you wanting more. At the final curtain you are saying to yourself . . . "I've got to come back . . . this was so much fun the first time around."

"Milk and Honey" with perky Molly Picon and the booming voice of Robert Weede fills the Fisher Theater to the brim with the best of comedy and fine singing. If the comedic actions of Molly and the singing of Mr. Weede are not your dish, you can't help enjoying the vibrant, vigorous dancing of the athletic males, and the curvaceous females. This musical comedy moves along briskly and provides a pleasant evening in the theater. You will have three more weeks to drop in on Molly Picon at the Fisher. Her high-kicking routine in the second act is not the sort of action you'd expect from someone that has as many years on her shoulders as Molly does. You marvel at the amount of energy Miss Picon exudes at each performance. Wish she'd let all of us know where that fountain of youth his that she sips.

Robert Schlitt, who did such a wonderful job in "Him," is back as Leslie, a British soldier. His love scenes with Nancy Wayburn have a rare tenderness and provide welcome relief amid all the boisterous saction. Call WO 3-3863 for a provocative, irreverent evening in the theater. Don't be at all surprised if Mr. Behan himself shows up to berate the actors as they do their job up on the stage. The New York cast was constantly visited by the tipping Irishman on many an evening.

"Bye, Bye Birdie" was the third hit of the week. Even though it was done by Plymouth High Schoolers the production still retained the polish of a professional troupe. Marilyn Moss, Art Gulich, Otto Dobos, Marna Roy, Line Smith, and Linda Wall deserve special mention for their spirited performances. Sixteen hundred patrons crowded into what is laughingly called an auditorium in the High School for the four performances. Poor ventilation and hard seats made many an audience member wish for a modern, comfortable auditorium in the Plymouth area. In spite of inadequate physical surroundings a cast and orchestra of over 100 students kept the audience laughing as they tumbled out of the "horrid-torium" moping overheated brows but still singing high praises of the cast and faculty members that made such a brilliant show possible.

Last call for all who wish to see "Toys in the Attic" at the Stables Theater, 22 Charlotte St., just off Woodward Ave. in the basement of the Earle Hotel. Shirley Otis (Livonian-Redford Theater Guild) makes her debut downtown with this production. Show will run until April 13. Next production is the famous continental farce, "La Ronde" in which various aspects of love are examined. A special revolving stage has been built for this production.

"The Mousetrap," the Plymouth Theater Guild's 45th production, moves into the rehearsal stage next week. Mrs. Carl Cederberg will chair a ticket committee to handle the advanced reserved seat plan that is exclusive with the Plymouth Theater Guild. In Plymouth the reserved seat plan has been in operation now for two years. This professional approach to ticket selling is most appreciated by the patrons of the Guild productions.

"The Hostage" at the Vanguard for the next month hits a new high in frisky, bold, hilarious comedy. John Gregory was never better in his shuffling, zesty role of Pat. Dolores Viola pulled out all the stops and gives a performance that is triumphant in its conception. William Feaster as Mr. Mullready adds another uproarious characterization to his long line of success. Mady Correll sheds all vestiges of glamor to be the soul-starved prototype of all gospel grovelers. Her tongue-in-cheek portrayal

IT'S ALL IN A night's rehearsal—making like a chugging (Chattanooga that is) Choo Choo train are (l-r) Enid Dobbert, Brady Ave.; Minnie Hannah, Brady Ave.; and Joe Milley, Lenore Ave. They will be in one of the production numbers of "My Aunt Wears Old Army Boots" produced by the Redford Suburban League Theatre Guild for May 17, 18, 25 and 26 at Redford Union High School.

New Theatre, "Mai Kai" Opens in Livonia April 10

The new 1½ million dollar Mai Kai Theatre, at Plymouth and Farmington Roads in Livonia will hold its Grand Opening, starting Wednesday, April 10, with the first run zone showing of Walt Disney's "Son of Flubber," it was announced by Nicholas George, owner of the new 1,400 seat theatre, the largest to be built in the Greater Detroit area in the last 20 years.

A Hollywood atmosphere Grand Opening ceremonies on Wednesday, April 10 will include a personal appearance on the giant stage of the Disneyland Caravan of Stars, including Annette, Tommy Kirk, Clarence Nash, Paul Castle and Candy Candido.

Also featured will be a stage show presentation with the Fenby-Car and the Mai Kai Orchestra, featuring Belinda Blanchard (recently seen on the Pat Boone Show), Robin Seymour, WKMH radio personality will be master of ceremonies. Many outstanding stars of radio, TV, stage, screen and civic activities will make personal appearances.

There will be special giveaways for everyone attending the first night's performance. WKMH will broadcast directly from the lobby of the Mai Kai, with all of their radio personalities in attendance. Kleig spotlights will light the sky. Their will be special performances by high school bands from the area, as well as baton twirlers, etc.

The Mai Kai is part of the 22 acre parcel of land, with spacious parking area for 3,000 cars occupying the area of approach, with a direct access to the theatre entry by means of walkways. The parking area is hard surfaced, well drained and brightly illuminated. Approaches and exits are so designed that traffic will not conflict with the traffic at the corner intersection of Plymouth and Farmington Roads.

Materials used on the main facade are white marble with accents of black vertical fins of porcelain enamel. The lower portion is of a combination of glazed brick of mild tones in light blue and light bluish green. An arcade, with a roof constructed in a series of arches, extends the entire width of the front of the theatre building. The sides of the building are in a varying buff composition of high quality face brick.

The interior consists of the lobby, foyer, auditorium and stage. Other facilities include offices, spacious rest areas, waiting areas and a snack area. The auditorium is specifically designed to accommodate a large screen 60 feet wide by 27 feet high. The projection equipment will operate either 70mm or conventional 35mm film. A closed TV circuit has also been installed for reproduction of Broadway extravaganzas or other selected programs of unusual interest on the large screen. The building is completely air conditioned and controlled to a "pin point" degree of accuracy for varying conditions. The Mai Kai is one of the few theatres designed and constructed for present day entertainment. The stage will accommodate live stage productions and full size Cinerama at its best. Sound distribution is scientifically engineered and will be clearly audible to every part of the theatre auditorium and foyer. The architects and engineers for Mai Kai are Bennett and Straight, Inc. The General Contractor is John Cooley Company.

In addition to the Mai Kai Theatre, the Nicholas George Theatre Company owns and operates a chain of theatres including the Allen Park in Allen Park; Circle Theatre in Dearborn; Fort George Drive-In in Southgate; Michigan Drive-In in Southgate; Jolly Roger Drive-In in Taylor and Madison Heights Drive-In in Madison Heights.

The General Manager for the Mai Kai Theatre will be Wilson "Bill" Elliott, a veteran of the theatre business, who formerly was with Warner Brothers Pictures. The Grand Opening movie, Walt Disney's newest laugh-riot, "Son of Flubber" stars Fred MacMurray, Nancy Olson and Keenan Wynn. Co-starred in a variety of roles are such laugh-makers as Tommy Kirk, Ed

Wynn, Ken Murray, Elliott Reid, William Demarest, Charlie Ruggles, Stuart Erwin, to name but a few. The attractive Joanna Moore cuts a glamorous figure as MacMurray's former girl friend who uses her feminine wiles to complicate the plot. "Son of Flubber" is a guaranteed blueschaser, with built-in appeal for the entire family. Robert Stevenson directs with his usual comedy flair, from a screenplay by Bill Walsh, Buena Vista releases the production. MacMurray again plays the absent-minded Professor Brainard whose scientific experiments plunge him into all kinds of hot water. His newest discovery involves an off-shoot of an earlier phenomena, flubber (an anti-gravity substance) which he labels, flubbergas.

Livonia's Band Practices Pay Off With Top Ratings

Livonia's Bentley and Franklin High School bands earned a rating of excellent in the senior high school music festival held at Taylor Center High School.

Bentley played under the direction of its band director, Robert A. Clark, Franklin under the leadership of Band Director Roy E. Ernst.

The rating, second highest of five possible categories, was done by a team of four judges led by Glenn Bainum, Director Emeritus of Northwestern University's Band.

According to Clark and Ernst, the rating places both bands in "Division II." Bands in this division "showed much accomplishment and promise and had an excellent performance in many respects with only minor defects."

Neighboring bands winning the highest rating—"an unusually high standard of performance"—were Plymouth and Garden City High Schools. Thurston High in Redford also won an excellent rating.

Ratings were based on performance of three numbers for each band. Two of the numbers were of their own choice and one required by the judges. In addition each band was required to play two pieces by sight after only five minutes of study.

Each band's performance was judged on a complicated rating system involving such technical points as intonation, technique, interpretation and rhythm. To the spectator, all these things blend together in one overall effect. The overall effect of both Livonia bands' playing was

"Superior" Ratings Given Thurston Band Students

Superior ratings in first division went to four Thurston High School students recently in the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

They include David Goode, piano and bassoon; Eris Thorson, David Mortimer, and Russell Hart, horn trio.

Second division awards for excellence were given Glen Harris, viola solo; Sue Hawk and Cheryl Behring, flute duet; Dan King, snare drum solo; Betty Wallington, violin solo; Bill DeVore and Bob Miner, clarinet duet; Tania Weiss, piano solo, and George Spurl and Russell, horn duet.

Thurston entered 13 students in 10 events. Band director is Harper Stephens.

extremely pleasing and rewarding. One parent in the audience remarked that it was the first time he'd heard the band play. He confessed amazement at the professional quality of the performance — at "the obvious skill and discipline of these school children."

But even more important, according to Clark, is that the striving for excellence in performance stimulates a taste for good music for its own sake.

"It's a taste that will last throughout a child's life whether he goes on for a career in music or not," says Clark.

And this is the basic purpose behind such music festivals—"to stimulate interest in the study of band and orchestra, and to develop a desire for good music."

The music festival was sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, an organization with a membership of 800 high school bands or orchestras throughout the state.

The Franklin Band rehearsing before its performance in the festival was the only band without uniform in the festival, but that is now being remedied by the efforts of Franklin Music Boosters to raise $10,000.

'Dirty Work at the Crossroads' Includes Audience Reaction

This Friday and Saturday nights, April 5 and 6, at 8:00 p.m., the junior class of Bentley High School will present a gay ninety melodrama "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." The stereotype villain with black cape (Hank Plante) attempts to swindle the lovely Nellie Lovelace (Marlene Boyd), and when this fails he tries to marry the wealthy heiress Leonie Asterbilt. Good wins over Evil and the villain is foiled.

There is also music by the cast and a chorus. Even the audience has the opportunity during the play to vent its feelings with booing, hissing, clapping, and other melodramatic effects.

Directed by Mr. Lucchetti, the cast consists of: narrator, Beth Koszegi; Nellie Lovelace, Marlene Boyd; Adam Oakhart, Mike Rheling; Mookie Usgugins, Dick Walker; Ida Rhinegold, Sharon Reed; Mrs. Asterbilt, Carol Lovacs; Munroe Murgatroyd, Hank Plante; Little Nell, Dianne Stieben; Leonie Asterbilt, Chris Henderstein; Fleurette, Jayne Rohan; Piano Player, Paul Johnson; Widow Lovelace, Jane Mastro.

In addition to the play there will be an art display, representing the work of the Bentley Art Department, in the lobby of the school.

Sing Along with 'Rich'

The Memorial Church of Christ (Christian), 24521 Schoolcraft, will hold its quarterly fellowship meeting at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening. A potluck dinner will be followed by a program entitled "Sing Along with Rich." Twenty-two men, led by Richard Cook will be featured in the program.

"MOUSETRAP producer Saxie Heft, 36507 Dover, (above) cheerfully displays her slightly smashed finger. She could have tied a string on her finger to remind her of her many duties in conjunction with the forthcoming production of the Plymouth Theater Guild's spring showing of "The Mousetrap," but she felt (ooh . . . it did sting a little) the trap was more appropriate. A cast of eight has been selected by Director Bob Wall and rehearsals will get underway in a couple of weeks. The Plymouth Theater Guild was able to get the Michigan rights only after considerable negotiating.

Simple Rules To Follow For Lovely Garden

You can make and enjoy a garden that's a beautiful frame for your home with a little patience, a lot of enthusiasm and these few pointers.

- Don't plant too deep. Small flower or vegetable seeds only need to be covered. When re-seeding bare patches in your lawn, loosen two inches of soil fertilizer and sow.

- Too much fertilizer is much worse than using too little, so follow directions on the package of a reliable manufacturer.
- Overwatering washes nutrients out of the soil and helps spread fungi. Let your turf dry almost to the wilting point between waterings, and then soak it to a depth of six inches. You might consider a corrosion resistant galvanized steel sprinkler, which will give you many years of service. Its great advantage is that it furnishes water only as fast as the ground can absorb it.

blades get dull, they'll split the grass tops, causing them to turn brown. The blades should be made of high carbon or alloy steel which makes them rugged—so they won't chip when they hit a rock—and hard, so that when the blades are sharpened, they will stay sharp for a long time. Once a year have the blades removed, ground and balanced.

- Buy good garden tools, so they won't have to be replaced periodically. Steel tools are lightweight, easily-manipulated, and give long, dependable service. A good basic tool set includes: a spade or shovel, spading fork, rake, hoe, cultivator, shears, trowel, sprayer or duster for plant leaves, water can, cords and stakes for vines, and a heavy and light pair of gloves.

When the sun beats down in the hot weather months, every-one longs for the cooling shade. Shade trees provide the difference between comfort and solar broiling.

Trees, according to the American Association of Nurserymen are natural air-conditioners. They transfer the layer of greatest heat from near the surface of the ground to the tree tops. There may be a difference of five to fifteen degrees between a full-sun and a shaded area, depending on the density of the shade.

In residential areas, with good stands of trees, temperatures are up to 10 degrees lower than in areas without trees in hot weather.

Resistance to the more serious diseases or insect damage also is desirable in shade trees. Best talk it over with neighbors who have lovely shade trees, and with nurserymen. Nursery catalogues usually list the more outstanding shade trees that have been developed in recent years.

Fun In Our Backyard

A great new era of robust indoor-outdoor living will contribute more physical fitness and family pleasure through gardening, is predicted by the American Association of Nurserymen.

The indoor-outdoor living concept has grown steadily in the past decade, but it is expected to grow far more rapidly in the next few years. Total sales of trees and shrubs have hit a new peak every year for the past 15 years and still are increasing. More indoor-outdoor living today is getting more people outdoors with healthful results.

Expert planting and landscaping will bring an end to the drabness of much present-day housing, in which the land is not conserved with designed-for-living plantings.

"This new indoor-outdoor living will make home life so rich and attractive that people will spend much more of their incomes on their home properties rather than spending on things that take them away from home, often without any lasting benefits," the nursery group states.

"To maintain housing values, to prevent the ruinous waste of some housing developments which degenerate into slums in 10 or 20 years, housing must be planned so the whole residential area, including the land, will remain beautiful and well-preserved for the longest possible time. When the land is not improved for living by proper planning and planting, home values depreciate at much faster rates. The indoor-outdoor concept conserves the land as well as the house and uses both for wholesome living.

"It is, however, more than increasing property values," the association adds, "it is full realization that we cannot continue to move to new housing developments forever—there is not enough land available. Now is the time when we must conserve all lands, especially in the surrounding urban areas.

"Much can be accomplished by planning housing for more permanent values and better living," it is stated. "The indoor-outdoor idea helps greatly in accomplishing this. Moreover, it is the most satisfying and healthful way to live for practically everyone, with more wholesome family fun, as well as more physical fitness through the gardening effort, which, the association concludes, 'does more for the gardener than it does for the plants'."

More than 850 different varieties of trees grow within the United States. Most can be planted at little cost. If you are willing to wait for a small tree to grow, you can buy one for as little as $2. Even one that gives immediate shade may not cost more than $25.

The planting of new trees often pay for themselves within a few years by cutting the cost of heating or cooling your home.

Most trees will last as long as your house, and as they grow they increase in value. Large trees in good condition, properly placed on a lot, often have a value of $1,000.

Income tax officials regard the planting of trees as a permanent improvement to your property. Even if you recover their low costs many times over in lowered fuel bills, you can still deduct the price you paid for them when you sell your house at a profit.

Real estate brokers agree that by increasing the attractiveness of your home, trees will make it easier to sell at a higher price than one that stands on a barren lot.

The American Association of Nurserymen say that evergreen trees planted on the north and west borders of your property will block the prevailing cold winds and thus make your home easier to heat.

A study by the U.S. Department of Agriculture of two houses in the north—one sheltered by such a tree windbreak and the other unprotected—showed that over 22 per cent of fuel was saved in the protected house.

Trees planted on the south and west can shade your home from the hot summer sun and keep it cooler. Trees also prevent solar heat from penetrating the ground, thereby keeping air around the house more comfortable.

Resistance to the more serious diseases or insect damage also is desirable in shade trees. Best talk it over with neighbors who have lovely shade trees, and with nurserymen. Nursery catalogues usually list the more outstanding shade trees that have been developed in recent years.

Use Roses For Fence

If you'd like to add a fashionable touch to your home property, plant an everblooming rose fence. Everblooming roses have two heavy blooming periods, one in spring or early summer and the other one in the fall, usually with many flowers and lavish color in between these seasons.

The modern rose blooms for an extraordinarily long period every year, longer than almost any flower that can be named.

The rose fence can be particularly lovely and fashionable and it requires only a moderate amount of care. One can have red, orange, white, pink, yellow, lavender and in-between shades. Roses of different colors may be mixed, or the fence may be solid with one color.

In planting your rose fence, select varieties wisely. Climbing red roses along a white fence can afford a brilliant contrast. Other colors may also be used.

Climbing roses may be preferable where they have such support as a masonry wall or wood or wire fence. Thick-growing rose plants such as Rosa Multiflora are not suitable as a rose fence for small homes.

Floribunda and grandiflora roses will grow into a living fence of striking color without support. Plant them close together, about two feet apart, using approximately 50 plants for a hundred foot fence. Your nurseryman can recommend varieties to grow to any desired height.

A fence of roses growing on a trellis also can form a lovely background for the family swimming pool, at the same time giving privacy. The rose blooms are reflected in the water of the pool, making it even more inviting.

According to the American Association of Nurserymen, some interesting effects are created with rose fences by planting them in short lengths, 10 to 12 feet; at several locations around the property.

Many Favor 'New Home at Old Address'

Millions of American families, who prefer a "new home" at the old address, spent nearly $20 billion on home modernization during 1960 according to Home Improvement Council, which represents manufacturers, dealers, contractors and others involved in the home improvement business.

In 1961, home owners will spend even more for this purpose, Council executives declare, pointing out that there is a growing realization on the part of the property owners that remodeling can be a good investment. The home that is well kept and periodically improved will bring a much higher resale price than the owner's total investment in it. Many families, too, improve their present homes because they do not want to move. They have made friends in the neighborhood. The children are settled in area schools. The housewife has come to know and have confidence in area retailers. These and a variety of other factors exert a tremendous hold.

Living (as million of families do) in post-war homes built to minimum standards, and with larger families, the happiest solution is often to improve the present dwelling. Responsive to the needs of the many families embarking upon such projects is the growing number of one-step home improvement centers, where home owners can obtain all of the materials and arrange for all labor needed for the most ambitious project. Financing can be arranged at the same time. As a result, home improvement projects are almost as easy to buy as a new car.

New Kitchen-Happy Cook

Changing an old-fashioned kitchen into an attractive, efficient home-making center will make an older home a far pleasanter place in which to live, work and entertain. It will also increase the resale value of the house if the time should come to move.

Remodeling the kitchen will make it possible to install a built-in electric range, which gives a distinctly contemporary look while saving the home-maker the anguish of watching, probing, and guessing that goes with cooking on an out-of-date stove.

The variety of automatic electric built-in cooking units available today gives a wide choice of kitchen arrangement. The baking center can be separated from the surface-cooking area, and extra surface units can be built into a snake section for teen-age refrigerator raids and grown-up guest nights.

Built-in electric ovens may be single or double, and surface elements in groups of two or four may be installed flush with the counter, or fold-down units that leave counters free when not in use may be preferred.

USE CORRECT TOOLS

When applying adhesives to wall or floor before laying tiles, use the notched spreaders recommended by manufacturers. Avoid applying too little or too much.

EMERGENCY SCRAPER

Coarse mesh screen wire, wrapped around a block of scrap wood, fills the bill for scraping thick layers of blistered paint.

All of us are partly blind—at least, the total amount of things we discern during a lifetime is but a fraction, compared to what is available to see.

Finance Experts Tell How To Foot Bills

Do you have any home improvement projects (ranging from simple paint or carpentry jobs to major remodeling or enlargement) on your agenda for the immediate future?

Regardless of their size or scope, these improvements are going to cost money, and here are six basic ways to foot the bills according to finance experts of the American Bankers Association.

ONE: Savings. Buy necessary materials and tools for small improvements—like painting and minor carpentry—out of current income or savings. Set up a small fund for maintenance. earmark it for specific jobs. Then, add to it regularly each month. You can deposit this money in a special account at your bank—separate from regular savings.

TWO: Time Payments. Most department stores, appliance dealers and building-supply firms offer monthly-payment plans. Usually, you can get 12 to 24 months to pay. It depends on the size of your purchase.

THREE: A personal loan from your bank. You can borrow up to $5,000 with three years to pay. Interest charges are controlled by law.

FOUR: A home-improvement loan. There are two types: a Title I loan insured by the Federal Housing Administration; and a conventional, un-insured property-improvement loan. Both are similar in form and content. You can borrow up to $3,500. Also, you can usually get three years to repay amounts under $600 and five years for larger sums. You can get both at local banks and other authorized lending institutions. Also, many contractors and supply dealers act as agents for a lender in arranging a home-improvement loan. You don't have to put up any security other than your own credit standing.

How Loans Differ

Then, what is the difference? Chiefly, interest rates and how you can use the money. Also, the Title I loan insures the lender against loss should you fail to repay.

Interest on a Title I loan is limited by law to a discount of five dollars for each $100 a year. But interest on a conventional un-insured loan usually runs about the same for a personal bank loan. "Discount" means that full interest charges are skimmed off the top of your loan at the very beginning when you get your money. So if you need a certain amount of cash, borrow that amount plus the total discount to get the actual dollars you need.

FHA Title I loans are also limited as to how you can spend the money. Your improvements must be "built-in." The law says the money must be spent for "the substantial protection or improvement of the basic livability or utility of the property." Thus, you cannot borrow money for improvements for improvements like landscaping, swimming pools or wall-to-wall carpeting.

Remember, conventional, un-insured bank loans are more flexible. Here, you can borrow for almost any kind of improvement. They even include things like electrical household appliances, outdoor barbecue pits and lawn sprinkling systems.

"Open End" Mortgages

FIVE: "Open End" Mortgage Financing. The name doesn't mean the stuffing is going to fall out of your mortgage. But it does mean you can borrow extra funds for home-improvements. Usually, the size of your loan is limited to the amount you have already paid off on your mortgage. You pay by increasing the size of our payments or extending the time for repayment.

SIX: Mortgage refinancing. If you have a conventional rather than an open-end mortgage, you can retire your existing mortgage; then obtain another in a new amount. Interest rates are usually lower. But you often have to pay charges for a new title search, recording and the other fees that go with getting a mortgage.

Discuss your plans with the loan officer at your bank or other lending institution. He will be glad to explain these loans in more detail. He can point out the advantages and disadvantages of each. And he can tailor your home-improvement plans to fit your entire financial background.

Many Wiring Systems Now Out-of-Date

Very often, homeowners continue using the same wiring system that they've been using for the past ten years, in spite of having added many new electrical appliances to their homes.

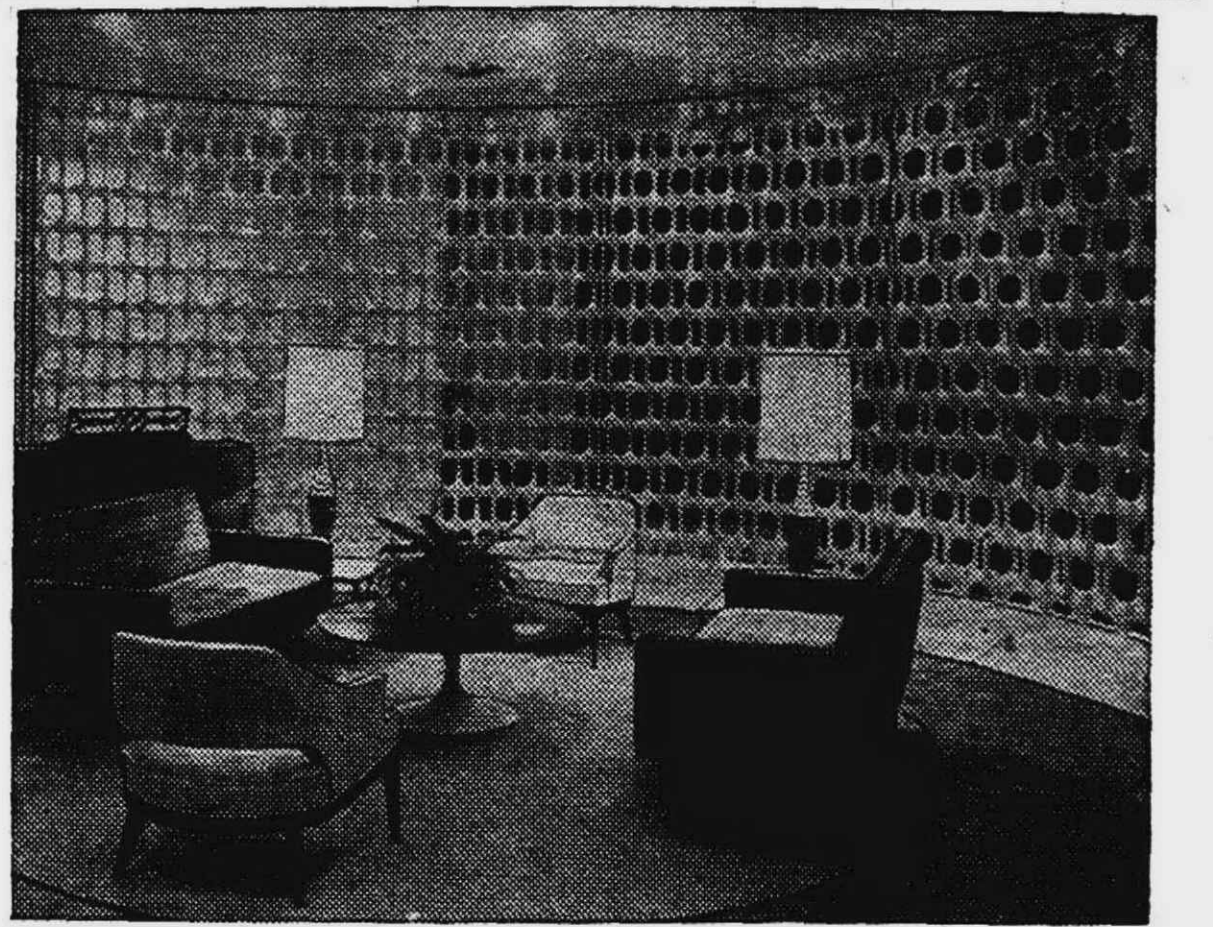

There's no doubt that electricity, through appliances and electrical utilization, has added much more comfort and convenience to our lives. But a home's wiring system must grow along with electrical use.

For one thing, the more appliances and uses for electricity, the more outlets will be needed, in the kitchen as well as in the living room, the bedroom, or, for that matter, on the patio or in the garden.

The versatility of appliances has created the need for convenient outlets and plenty of them. Such modern devices as "appliance center" for kitchens where four or five different appliances can be plugged in at the same time are among the more glamorous convenience outlets available.

To have plenty of outlets is fine. But remember, there must be enough circuits to supply all those outlets with sufficient

A NEW AND UNUSUAL HOME IMPROVEMENT for use as a room divider, dropped ceiling or other effect is achieved by dramatic panels molded of lightweight, impact-resistant tenite butyrate plastic. Adding a handsome, three-dimensional effect to decor of any period, it looks like white stone and is as durable. It is lightweight and may be installed without any special structural reinforcements or precautions and can be worked with hand tools.

Lighting Can Contribute to Home Decor

Decor-conscious homemakers are taking increasing notice of carefully planned lighting in their decorating. One significant indication of lighting's importance for pleasure, comfort, beauty, and safety is that electric utility companies define it as "Light for Living" and specify that provision for good lighting is as necessary as full horsepower and electric appliances for their Medallion Home awards.

Lighting, as much as fabric and furnishings, can be used to create dramatic visual effects, solve space problems, and complement and give richness to colors. Indeed, money spent for expensive and tastefully decorated rooms is wasted if the results cannot be seen because of inadequate lighting.

Experts in home lighting suggest the following decorative effects you can achieve with lighting:

1. Spaciousness.

Rooms can be made to appear larger when an abundance of lighting eliminates dark corners. Low ceilings are "raised" with a lighted cornice, formed by mounting the lighting channel and face-board on the ceiling over a window or wall.

2. Definition of Living Areas. Just as decorators often use area rugs and different textured wall coverings to define a dining area or home entertainment corner, so coordinated lighting fixtures can set aside activity centers.

3. Accents. Wall and ceiling fixtures will not only illuminate but also point up paintings and art objects without creating floor or table clutter.

4. Color Prominence. A proper level of illumination is necessary to do justice to a carefully considered color scheme. And special effects can be created with color lamp bulbs. A dawn pink bulb, for example, enlivens reds and enriches walnut and mahogany, while a sunny gold bulb is gay and mellow with all colors, particularly effective with green and with maple, pine and fruit-wood.

5. Controlled Lighting. Area lighting (for example, any overhead source of light) which illuminates the whole area of a room, should be controlled so that you can have a high level of intensity when there are several persons in a room or, for fewer people, less light, which produces a quieter, more relaxed feeling. Table and floor lamps provide task lighting for reading, sewing or similar seeing tasks. Perimeter lighting is illumination at the sides of the room. New light controls make it possible to dial any degree of light from off to full brilliance.

Bob Brooks Aids Stork 22nd Time

Robert Brooks, amiable owner of the Brooks Ambulance Service, 31621 Five Mile Rd., Livonia, gave the stork a helpful hand for the 22nd time recently. But never in such circumstances before. Bob and his aide, Bert Alberty, received a hurry-up call to get to the Livonia Police Station quickly since the stork was hovering overhead. They made the trip in short order and found Mrs. Barbara Brunk, 27234 Lucerne, Inkster, hoping that they would be able to make it to St. Mary Hospital. They didn't. In fact the ambulance had just reached the entrance to the police station lot when Bob and Bert had to take over. The stork arrived a few minutes later and Bob told the anxious father, "It's a Boy." And members of the Livonia Police Department, who also were awaiting the news, gave him a big cheer.

Youth Hurt As Speeding Car Flips

Timothy Helm, 17, 14180 Stark, Livonia, was seriously injured and two companions hospitalized when his small foreign made car hit a rut and rolled over while moving at a high rate of speed on Merriman Road near Grove, according to Livonia Police reports. Young Helm, a student at St. Theresa High School in Detroit, was thrown through the sun roof when the car overturned. He was rushed to St. Mary Hospital. Gerald Buerkle, Jr., 16, 6048 Seven Mile Road, South Lyons, and Warren Braschwitz, 14, 14999 Auburndale, Livonia, who were riding in the back seat of the car, also were taken to the hospital. Braschwitz was released after treatment but Helm and Buerkle were held for additional examination. Witnesses in a car following the Helm vehicle said it was moving at a high rate of speed when it apparently hit a soft spot, swerved to one side out of control and finally rolled over.

April 7 children of the Sunday School will attend a model Passover Seder arranged by the ladies of the Sisterhood under the direction of Mrs. Samuel (Bunny) Gaft. Later in April there will be a Sisterhood Sabbath conducted by the sisterhood members. The month will conclude with a membership dessert on the evening of Wednesday, April 24. It will be open to all members, prospective members and guests. A special interest will be a program conducted by Carolyn Stern entitled "Pathways to Beauty." Anyone wishing further information about these events may call Mrs. Frank Lewis at GA 1-2449.

Livonia's School Library Checked By Jackson Grp.

Four members of the Public School Library Committee of Jackson, Michigan visited Livonia to observe various phases of the Livonia Public School's library operation. Mrs. Viola Fitch, Livonia school library director, explained parts of the program to the visitors. The group was interested in many areas of the library program including such things as objectives, needs, facilities, financial requirements, and personnel. Livonia was selected for visitation because of the Jackson's group's interest in the efficient aspects of centralized purchasing and processing. The visitors, who were headed by the Harley Grimsey of the Jackson Citizen Patriot newspaper, spent the morning in Dearborn before visiting the Livonia Schools in the afternoon. The Jackson Committee is a part of a project, sponsored by the Greater Jackson Chamber of Commerce, to discover present operations and goals of selected library programs throughout the State. Rob Barber Shop Thieves entered a barber shop at 31513 Plymouth Road through a circulation vent and took $20 in cash and a portable television according to a report by Lou Konarski, of Detroit, manager of the shop.

WSU Honors Livonia's Dr. Johnson

Dr. Paul Johnson, Assistant Superintendent for the Livonia Public Schools, was honored by the Wayne State University Education Alumni Association with one of the three "Outstanding Alumni Awards" for this year at a ceremony held in the Community Arts Building on Wayne University's campus.

This year's awards were the first ever given by the Education Alumni Association, and they selected Dr. Johnson and two other Wayne graduates—James M. Hare, Michigan Secretary of State and Dr. Edgar Harden, president of Northern Michigan State University, as recipients of these first Outstanding Alumni Awards.

The ceremony to honor the three outstanding graduates was a part of the Second Annual Faculty Clinic sponsored by the Alumni Association and Wayne State University's College of Education. The awards were presented by Dr. Charles Wolfe, president of the Association, to Dr. Johnson, Mr. Hare, and Dr. Harden for outstanding achievements in their respective fields since graduating from Wayne.

Dr. Johnson came to Livonia in 1959 from the Public School System of Indianapolis, where he served as an assistant superintendent.

TWO LIVONIANS WERE recipients of "Citizen of the Year" town crier bells at the fourth annual Ford Motor Community Service Awards banquet. Shown participating in the presentations are: (from left) Mrs. Lee Landes, 18311 Norwich, Livonia, accepting for her husband who is on active duty with the Naval Reserve; Mrs. J. Philip Martin of Detroit, for her late husband; Governor George Romney, James O'Neil, 9840 Ingram, Livonia; and Kenneth Cassidy, Ford vice president in charge of Industrial Relations.

Area Workers Receive Ford Motor Awards

Two Livonians, James O'Neil, 9840 Ingram, and Lee Landes, 18311 Norwich Rd., were among seven Ford Motor Co. employees from the Metropolitan Detroit area, presented with "Citizen of the Year" awards for outstanding community service by the company.

The seven received cast bronze bells engraved with their name and the symbolic figure of the town crier from Kenneth Cassidy, Ford Vice-President of Industrial Relations, and Gov. George Romney, who was the principal speaker, at the annual banquet in the Central Office building in Dearborn.

The fourth annual awards ceremony also honored 113 other Ford employees for outstanding voluntary community service including seven from Livonia, five from Redford Township and four from Plymouth.

Six prominent Michigan citizens selected the 1963 "Citizens of the Year" from the 120 nominations, which were accepted from Ford employees during Jan. 14 to Jan. 31. The selection committee included: Dr. Samuel Brownell, Detroit Superintendent of public schools; Secretary of State James Hare; Rabbi Richard Hertz, Temple Beth El; Joseph L. Hudson, Jr., president of the J. L. Hudson Co.; Mrs. Worth Kramer, a director of the Detroit U.F.; and Richard Van Dusen, legal advisor to Gov. Romney.

In addition to the seven "Citizen Awards," community service plaques, bearing an engraved commendation from Henry Ford II, company board chairman, were presented to all honored employees.

Those from Livonia included: Raymond Chaiken, 20223 Weyher; George Ganage, 29200 Elmira; Richard Matson, 33001 Vermont; Edward Milligan, 16115 Burton Court; Joseph Roberts, 34260 Grove Dr.; Sherrel Walden, 11280 Oxbow; and Richard Wood, 20279 Gillman.

Honored from Plymouth were: Joseph Caloia, 9261 Marlowe; Gerald Fischer, 505 McKinley St., president of the Plymouth Community School Board of Education; Ira Hawk, 48708 Warren and Edward T. Miller, Jr., 772 Burroughs.

Redford Township residents receiving awards included: Carl Bernbach, 26701 Lyndon; Constantine Boucher, 13221 Laverne; Mrs. Zelma DeGraeve, 8427 Grandville; Bernard Sallot, 26064 Dow; and Harold Weber, 26735 Ross Dr.

Mrs. Landes accepted the "Citizen" award for her husband who is temporarily on active duty with the Naval Reserve.

Landes, a product planner in the Styling Office, was honored for his work as a member of the Livonia Board of Education. He has been a member since 1960 and was elected president in July, 1962.

He was active in the preparation and presentation of Livonia's annual school budget, Michigan's fifth largest school district; and worked to improve relations between the board and the municipal government.

O'Neil, employed in the Styling Office, was honored for his work in numerous Livonia community activities, particularly with the Northwest Wayne County Community College district now officially known as Schoolcraft College.

He was a successful candidate for the State Board of Education in Monday's election. In 1962 O'Neil was nominated in the primaries for a seat in the Congress but lost in the election to Mrs. Martha Griffiths.

He was a member of the committee that worked successfully to establish the community college and was elected a trustee in 1962. Jim is chairman of the college's personnel committee and a member of the organization and curriculum committees.

REPORT from LANSING

By Paul Chandler
State Representative,
21st District

LANSING — Money was the subject of every bill before the House on Friday.

Two bills involved the subject of how much assessment to place on iron and other minerals in the ground. The proposals were to reduce the assessments, which would make competitive life easier for the mining companies of the Upper Peninsula. But they also would take huge chunks from the tax revenue of the counties and cities of the U.P. In some cases, where there were minerals in the ground but no company working them, the change would amount to virtual tax bankruptcy for the local community.

Representatives from the iron country had made their minds up, and they argued passionately for passage of the bills. They said that the mining companies would expand if the tax relief was forthcoming—in one case a $10 million dollar processing plant would go up—but it wasn't forthcoming, then the companies would pull out altogether and more unemployment would result in the stricken U.P.

The man from Gogebic County said he had been instructed by his board of supervisors to endorse the bills, even though they would impoverish their county. The welfare of neighbor counties was more important, they had decided.

I voted "Aye" on the two bills, as did most of the House, and they now have been passed to the Senate.

Then came a packet of bills containing basic appropriations for the next year—something like $400,000,000 worth.

If all goes according to plan, revenues will exceed expenditures by perhaps $7 million dollars, which would be applied to the State's deficit. The final appropriations will be about $2 million higher than Governor Romney had budgeted. He has been firm about the legislature staying within his figures, and probably will be displeased with the new totals. He has a chance to veto any items he chooses, but it won't be easy.

Appropriation bills look dull and cold, but there's plenty of heat and many a story inside them. Fox bounties are an example. Something like $250,000 is spent every year in bounty payments and the subject has become controversial, with much pressure to have the system abolished.

The sum is contained in the new bills. Opponents got up and argued for an amendment where it wouldn't be included. The delegates from the Upper Peninsula stood up and fervently declared that without bounties the deer herd would be destroyed, rabid coyotes would run rampant, etc.

The financial experts said that the $250,000 was being appropriated because, as of this date, the bounty law still was on the books and it would be imprudent not to have some money budgeted for the payments, in case the law continued. So it remains in the bill.

In committee, $750,000 had been removed from the Governor's budget which he had sought to parcel out to colleges and universities for research work — part of the general "economic development" program. No other State has such an item.

On the floor, the item was restored in a special amendment, and it carried when the vote was taken.

The Republicans generally had agreed not to offer amendments for special projects because there would be no end, if everybody's pet project was dusted off and an attempt made to tack it to the budget.

One GOP representative was stubborn, however. He was pushing a $150,000 item which would have set up training of young men in communities. The trainees would learn a skill, earn 75 cents an hour up to 30 hours a week, and the costs would be divided between the State and the community.

He offered it as an amendment, noting that "he wasn't going to be very popular with his party colleagues". He wasn't, either, and the amendment lost.

A Democrat asked for a $10,000 addition to set up a permanent commission to "survey the whole water problem in Michigan." He was told a better approach would be to set up a legislative study commission. Another Democrat had 30 different amendments, generally raising salaries here and there on the state payroll. They were beaten down, too.

Finally resistance was stilled. Approving votes were given the bills and the House recessed for the week-end.

In a couple of hours it had "spent" more than $400 million.

The University of Michigan will receive $15 million in research funds from the Defense Department this fiscal year.

PUTTING ONE WORD AFTER ANOTHER—And will you be out at Tiger Stadium next Tuesday to welcome in the 1963 baseball season?

The operator of these words foresees a very interesting season for the Detroit Tigers, but we will make no predictions. We have learned better.

Judging by what we read, the Tigers will be an improved ball club for 1963. The additions of Gus Triandos and Bubba Phillips must help.

If—and what a big, little word that is—Frank Lary's arm can lead a hand, the Tigers should be in the thick of matters all the way. But, let's not talk pennant, right now.

Don't look for Dave DeBusschere to pitch for the Chicago White Sox in the opening series against the Tigers. It probably will take Dave a couple of weeks before he takes to the hill.

In fact, it isn't likely DeBusschere will be at Tiger Stadium for the opener. The Chisox likely will leave him behind in Florida to work with their minor leaguers for 10 days or so.

As you know DeBusschere played with the Detroit Pistons until a week ago. All of which explains his delay in joining the White Sox.

Those who voted for the National Basketball Association's "rookie-of-the-year" award cheated DeBusschere. They picked Terry Dischinger of Chicago and John Havlicek of Chicago ahead of DeBusschere. But there wasn't a better player on the Pistons in the final two months of the season than DeBusschere.

You can bet one nickel right now. Even if Dave wins 20 games for the White Sox this season in baseball, he still will be back with the Pistons next winter.

Nicer guys than DeBusschere are hard to find. Or better all-around athletes.

Call it psychic. This reporter was standing in the lobby of the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing on Friday of the state high school semifinals.

We were talking with Charles Emling, one of the top referees in these parts and the whistleblower in Bentley's hectic regional battle with Pontiac Northern.

We suggested to Emling that he might help high school basketball were the preps to adopt the professional rule which calls for the clock to stop every time a whistle blows.

Under the pro regulation, the panic situations which often develop when a violation, such as steps or three seconds, is called in the closing moments of a tight game are eliminated.

"Fine idea," said Emling. And other gents who wear striped shirts agreed.

"I'd like to see the rule adopted only in the last three minutes of each half for a high school game," Emling added. "I think that would solve the problem just beautifully in a kids' game."

If you're looking ahead to summer—and who isn't?—jot down the day of July 25 and plan to be at the new athletic field behind the Livonia recreation headquarters on Middlebelt Road.

Livonia will play host to the Metropolitan Physical Fitness finals. More than 2,000 youngsters from 42 communities in the Greater Detroit area will send their champions to Livonia for the grand windup.

The Physical Fitness program is being encouraged by President Kennedy who recognizes the fact so many Americans "are out of shape." In the event, slated for Livonia, youngsters ranging in age from nine through 16 will participate.

You'll see mass calisthenics, exercises, running events and other activities for both girls and boys.

Livonia sent 50 youngsters to Belle Isle for last year's Greater Detroit finals. The city's representatives this summer will be selected on the basis of meets held at local playgrounds and then at probably Bentley High around July 15.

Plymouth and Redford Township also are expected to send youngsters to Livonia for the big day.

The various area high school and junior high baseball teams won't be able to complain that they haven't had enough time to get ready for opening action.

Virtually every team was outside last week, which marked one of the earliest starts in some time for the prep baseballers.

It won't be long now. The horses are beginning to gather at the Detroit Race Course over on Middlebelt Road for the 72-day meeting which begins on May 6.

More than $1,350,000 in purse money will be at stake this season. The big race again will be the $50,000-added Michigan Mile on June 22. The $25,000-added Detroit Sweepstakes will go on July 13.

RU Dad's Club Votes Funds for Scholarship

The Redford Union Dads Booster Club, which backs athletics and scholarship programs at Redford Union High School, has voted appropriations of $314 for a panel board and $325 for scholarship awards.

Modern Day Observance Of Lent

STOP — LOOK — LISTEN
By REV. JAY P. COULTON
St. Andrews Episcopal Church

"Create and make in us new and contrite hearts O Lord." These words from the Book of Common Prayer embody the spirit of Lent. It is a period in which we are urged to take time to let God enter more fully into our being, to show us our past foolishness, and take over the direction of our lives. Although this prayer was written centuries ago, it is extremely important and meaningful for our time. This age is one of speed and change. Crisis follows so closely upon crisis that it is difficult to make long range plans, to see the total picture.

So Lent beckons us to stop, look and listen that we may discover self through the rediscovery of God. Lent is the season of self-examination. It is a time of reflection, introspection and repentance. Each person must come to this condition from within himself.

A famous explorer tells of an occasion when the party of which he was the leader was compelled to make a forced march through a dangerous and dense African jungle. Native carriers pushed ahead for two whole days with scarcely a break for rest, but on the third day they refused to go further. The explorer's pleadings were in vain. The chief of the carriers remained adamant and flatly refused to urge his men to continue. "But why?" inquired the anxious explorer. "Because," replied the carrier chief, "they must have time to permit their souls to catch up with their bodies."

No one would think of taking a long trip without stopping periodically to determine whether or not he is on the right road. Lent is a pause in the rapid, complicated journey through life which a person makes in order that he may come closer to his Lord. This is the way; the Truth will be found; and the Life will come.

Lenten Cantata, April 7 At Redford Baptist

The Chancel Choir of the Redford Baptist Church will present the Lenten cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Theodore Dubois this Sunday evening, April 7, at 7 p.m.

This beautiful cantata depicts the last hours of the life of Christ He hung on the cross, and illustrates each of the seven statements of Christ during this time.

The Chancel Choir of 35 voices, under the direction of William Feucht, is known in this area for their outstanding work in the presentation of oratorios and cantatas in recent years such as Handel's "Messiah," Bach's "Christ Lay in the Bonds of Death," and Stainer's "Crucifixion." Soloists appearing with the choir are Marjory McIntosh, Larry Iker, Ernest Richmond, Janice Tedrick, Barbara Swartzfager, Ted Hovey, and Doris Carmichael.

The public is cordially invited to attend this musical presentation. The Redford Baptist Church is located at Grand River and Seven Mile.

Lenten Musicale Held By Christ The King

Combined Junior and Senior Choirs of Christ the King Evangelical Lutheran Church will present a Lenten Musicale on Palm Sunday, April 7 at 7 p.m. The music is under the direction of Mrs. Treva Heller with organist Miss Diane Heger. Members of the community are invited to attend the musical which is being held in the Church at 9300 Farmington Road, Livonia. A nursery will be provided and a social hour with refreshments will complete the evening of music.

Farmington Owner A WIFE-SAVER

No cabin fever in this spread-out 4 BR., 2 1/2 bath brick ranch. Kids noisy? Send them to the paneled TV room (1 of 8 rooms on the main floor). Too rambunctious? Let them work off steam in their own 20x20 finished playroom in the walkout basement (includes their own laundry). Their toys won't intrude on the 25x30 paneled recreation room (fireplace and bar). Creative urges can be met in the workshop or in the 25,000 sq. ft. of fenced and landscaped backyard.

Now that the kids are out from underfoot, what's for Mom? Dust-free central air-conditioning. Large, cheery kitchen overlooking back yard. Separate dining room to escape kitchen clutter. Closets and storage space at every point of need. No need to cart the kids—walking distance to public and parochial schools, shopping, library.

Benefits for Dad are mainly psychological — a relaxed wife, better meals (she feels more like cooking with air conditioning), one block from air-conditioned Greyhound to downtown; room for putting, but relatively maintenance-free house and yard; 2 1/2 car attached garage with tool-storage built-ins.

Many more features, but this ad is already costing us a fortune. Come see for yourself. Asking $31,900 but will listen to offers.

Many Electrical Systems Are Now Out of Date

current to operate several appliances at one time.

It all starts with the power supplied to your distribution center through the "Electrical Service Entrance."

Adequate Wiring or Full Housewiring begins with the availability of at least 100 amperes of electrical current at either 120 or 240 volts.

This will mean that up to 24,000 watts of energy may be utilized at one time.

If you add up the watts on the washing machine, dryer, toaster, iron, vacuum cleaner, refrigerator, lamps, radio, television and all the other electrical uses, you will begin to understand why adequate home wiring is so important.

And when you count up those wattages, remember that the 24,000 overall wattage for your home must be distributed through all the circuits in the house. And each circuit must carry its own load. That depends, quite simply, on the size of the wire. For example, a "number 12" wire can carry 20 amperes of current whereas a "number 14" wire can carry only 15 amperes (the larger the wire, the smaller the number designation). Today, "number 12" wires are recommended throughout the house, enabling 20 ampere fuses to protect the circuits.

If you are concerned about the wiring in your house, call in an electrical contractor to check your entire system.

An economical way to roof is with asphalt shingles, which usually can be put on without removing old roofing. The asphalt shingles are put on top of the worn material, saving the expense of removing the old roof.

To coordinate decor in an open plan family room-kitchen, use the same wood for family room built-ins as for kitchen cabinets. Shell beige west coast hemlock is particularly favored for such projects because of its fine appearance and durability.
