Plymouth Township's Board Members Busy

Although the matter of extending water to Woodlore subdivision (see page one) comprised the majority of the Township Board meeting Tuesday evening, members also acted on a number of other items of business.

Among other items, Board members:

- Waived a club license fee for the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, on Napier Rd., since the fee had previously been paid when the association's club house was located in Nankin Township. The Township does not keep the fee, regardless.
- Acknowledged receipt of a financial statement on County water and sewer construction projects, a matter for information only.
- Took no action on any objection by Thunderbird Inn regarding a Township claim of $1,737 for personal property taxes. According to the County Treasurer's office, the taxes have been paid.
- Were informed by Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes that liens against Worden Specialty & Machine Co., which is in bankruptcy, have been filed with the County treasurer's office for payment of back taxes to the Township.
- Approved a $1,142 payment to the County Board of Auditors for preparation of the Township assessment rolls, tax rolls and tax bills.
- Accepted the water and sanitary sewer systems in Lake Pointe subdivision No. 6, on recommendation of the Township engineer who had inspected the installation and approved them.
- Learned that junked cars on residential property in the Township are being removed.

A FORMER Plymouth resident, A. W. Elstman, has been named vice president of Stanley Home Products Inc., Westfield, Mass. Elstman is general sales manager of the firm and is also a member of the board of directors. He started his selling career in Plymouth in 1937 as a Stanley dealer, rose to Michigan area sales manager in 1943 and became national promotion sales manager in 1954. He lives now in West Springfield, Mass.

To Landscape Farrand School Grounds Shortly

Farrand Elementary School, located in Lake Pointe Village, will be landscaped and generally beautified shortly as a result of plans submitted to School Board members Monday night.

Business administrator Melvin Blunk presented a list of planned improvements that are to be done to the Farrand School as soon as weather permits.

The action stemmed from a visit to a Board meeting in February by Donald Dugger, president of the Lake Pointe Homeowners' Assn., and several other association members.

They asked that Farrand School be landscaped so as to "blend in" with the rest of the residential development there.

In Blunk's report, it is proposed that the following work be accomplished immediately:

1. Provide simple landscaping at the front of the school building.
2. Sod the area between the sidewalk and the curb at the front of the building.
3. Fertilize and re-seed, as necessary, the front lawn area (by school personnel).
4. Apply calcium chloride to the bus turn-around and parking area to control dust until blacktop is applied.

The estimated cost of the work would be $475, the report said. It added that after July 1, and prior to Sept. 3, the bus turn-around and parking lot will be blacktopped.

Other school improvement plans include work to the athletic field at Junior High East at an estimated cost of $1,200.

William James, American philosopher and psychologist maintained that the value of ideas is found only in terms of usefulness or actual consequences.

Cautions Residents Against Raking Grass Into City Streets

City residents this week were being cautioned against raking grass and leaves into the streets.

Joseph Bida, superintendent of the DPW, admonished residents who do so, and explained that refuse of this sort can be disposed of with the regular weekly City rubbish collections.

He added that only during the fall is it permissible to dump leaves in the curb-ways and then only because the City's leaf-collector machine is constantly in use.

Residents were also warned against dumping lawn refuse into catch basins. Bida explained that this eventually plugs the sanitary sewers and the annual cost of cleaning and repairing catch basins currently amounts to $7,000.

"Further work on maintaining catch basins will simply increase the expense to City taxpayers," Bida said.

Bida also described several DPW work projects that are either underway or will begin shortly. He said that playground equipment is being painted anew and will be put in place next week.

Trees are being sprayed — beginning as early as 4 a.m. in some vicinities — to control the diseases that often take a heavy toll among the City's trees.

He said that a one inch water line is being installed along East Pearl, replacing an out-dated galvanized line there. Streets are being swept and patched and fire hydrants in the south end of the City are being flushed.

In other matters of business during Monday night's routine meeting, the Board dealt with personnel transfers and appointments.

Earl Gibson, principal at Gallimore School, will be transferred to Bird School as principal there at the start of the 1963-64 school year. He will replace Glenn Williams, who is resigning.

Donald Alexander, a teacher at Gallimore during the past four years, was named the new principal at that school starting next fall.

Warren Pelton was named head of the Senior High social studies department and Robert Stenger's appointment as head of the Senior High English department was approved. Both positions are newly-created.

Former Localite On "I've Got A Secret"

Earl S. Collins, Jr., a Plymouth resident until last November when he moved to Dearborn, stumped the panelists on "I've Got A Secret," CBS network TV show, Monday evening.

Collins, a weight analyst for Ford Motor Co., is president and founder of SPAH (Society for the Preservation and Advancement of the Harmonica) which, though only six months old, boasts an international membership of 500.

His secret, that stumped the panelists, was that he and five other club members were going to play an 8' harmonica.

Collins' wife is the former Shirley Price, daughter of Mrs. George Price, of Northville.

James II was crowned at the age of six years as King of Scotland. He was killed by a cannon in 1460 at the age of 30.

Canton Center School Lease Given Okay

The status of the vacant Canton Center school, located in Canton Township, was resolved at Monday's School Board meeting.

The legendary school building, among the oldest in Wayne County, was formally leased to Canton Township for a five-year period. It will be used as a community center or library or museum.

Annual lease payment will be $1, same amount as Canton Township officials agreed to in an earlier lease pertaining to the vacant Cherry Hill school.

Under the terms of both leases, Canton Township is responsible for regular maintenance and upkeep of the buildings. Both will be turned over to community use for Canton residents.

Canton Township, in both leases, retains the first privilege to buy the two buildings at any point in the five-year period. Discussion was given to selling outright the Canton Center school to Canton Township, but action was deferred.

In other matters during the Board meeting, the National Bank of Detroit was named "cremation agent" for the School District under the terms of the state's Cremation Act which went into effect last month.

ONE OF THE BEST assurances that spring has really arrived is the first appearance of the "Good Humor Man." The Mail's photographer recorded this picture here last week, as six Plymouth youngsters crowded around the Good Humor truck to enjoy the well-known treats. Detroit Mutual Policy-Holders Exceed 131,000

Detroit Mutual Insurance Co., of Plymouth, reports life insurance in force increased this year by nearly 15 per cent to an all time high of $84,207,444.

Ray E. Larimer, president, said the company now serves over 131,000 policyholders in their life and accident & health insurance needs.

The assets have grown to $5,595,251, an increase of more than eight per cent over 1961.

As in previous years, the company's ratings are high by the standards of those who professionally review and rate insurance companies.

This is further evidenced by the fact that for each $1 of liability, there is $1.11 of assets.

It is anticipated that 1963 will show a continuation of the company's present rate of growth and that it will be a key year in its history that will reflect not only growth in insurance in force, but will see it attain its goal of "A Hundred Million or More by Sixty-four."

We Elected Mayor 1 Week Too Soon

We're a little bit embarrassed today.

We goofed last week, and several people brought it to our attention.

The City's new mayor, succeeding Robert Siscoek, won't be elected until next Monday evening, instead of this past Monday night as we reported in the last issue of The Mail.

It wasn't an April Fool's joke at all. It was a downright mistake. So you'll have to wait another few days before learning who is going to serve as mayor of the City during the next two years.

Township Dog Census Begins

Township authorities are currently taking a census of dogs in the Township under the provisions of an ordinance that makes it unlawful for any person to own or keep a dog older than four months without a dog license.

The ordinance also requires that dogs must not be permitted to stray beyond the premises of the owner's property unless on a leash or engaged in lawful hunting activities.

Applications for dog licenses must be made prior to June 1, explained Township Clerk John McEwen. The fee is $2 for each male or unsexed female and $4 for a female dog.

Owners will be required to present a certificate of vaccination when application is made for the dog license. The Township is also planning a dog "clinic" shortly. McEwen said that on Saturday, May 4, and Saturday, May 11, Township residents may have their dogs immunized for $3 in a clinic at the Township Hall. Hours of the clinic will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

City's 1963-64 Budget Still Undergoing Study

City of Plymouth's new budget — still in the proposal stages at this time — is expected to amount to approximately $1,280,000 in all. It is approximately equal to the current budget.

Included among the various departmental and administrative amounts is a proposed $617,000 figure for the general fund budget, which is supported mainly by tax revenue. Balance of the new budget consists essentially of self-sustaining funds, including water, sewer, equipment, public safety and cemetery funds, among others.

Commissioners met four times in the past week to study manager Albert Glassford's recommendations. A public hearing will be held the last Monday in April and final approval of the 1963-64 budget is expected shortly thereafter.

The new budget will go into effect July 1, the start of the City's new fiscal year. Among City Manager

Glassford's recommendations are:

1. A five cent an hour across-the-board pay hike for most City employees.
2. A five-cent boost in the present tax rate, based on

Many of Michigan's major highway routes follow generally the course of the trails of Indians who roamed the state wilderness hundreds of years before the white settlers arrived.

$1,000 of assessed valuation. 3. A salary boost of $200 for the City Assessor.

The pay increase to employees amounts to a total additional expense of approximately $5,500 and the tax rate proposed boost would pay the present 14.65 mill rate to 14.70.

The increase suggested for the City Assessor is designed to bring his salary more in line with those paid other department heads.

All scout leaders are urged to attend the program change workshop to be held on Wednesday, April 24, at the Veteran's Memorial Building. The service work of Scouts and Guides in Mexico, Burma, Finland and the United States were some of the countries shown.

Each of the 21 girls in the troop was assigned two countries of the world where there are Girl Scouts or Girl Guides. In the coming weeks they will take turns telling of the countries, their locations, industries, climate and people. Then the girls are shown pictures of that country's Guides uniforms and are read the promise of the girls.

ous precedent to free Oldford of all cost of extending the line the final 1,000 feet," remarked Trustee Lauterbach.

By ordering a call for bids this week on the initial 1,400-foot extension, members will be opening the contract estimates at the next meeting, the one in May.

They are empowered, however, to refuse any and all bids.

The matter of Woodlore's interior lateral water lines also arose. Engineering plans were submitted for approval. The interior lines are proposed as 8-inch mains.

Garber, the new Trustee, suggested converting to 12-inch mains at the entry and exit points into the subdivision in an effort to avoid the need for an additional 1,000-foot extension along Ann Arbor Rd. to Beck.

His suggestion will be explored as a result of the Board's action on the issue.

Approval of the interior water line plans was tabled until Lindsay — or Clerk John McEwen — contacts the developer in regards to the $5,000 offer to defray costs of the trunk line extension.

At that time, the possibility of converting certain 8-inch mains to 12-inch lines within the proposed development will also be explored, on the strength of Garber's suggestion.

The eventual growth of that portion of the Township west from Beck Rd. along Ann Arbor Rd. was also discussed briefly in connection with the trunk water line extension.

Further action on the water-to-Woodlore issue is expected at the May monthly meeting of the Board.

telephones and a significant increase in individual telephone use in the state.

"Our 1963 program represents the best estimate of what will be needed to meet customer's demands for service when and where they want it. It will also enable us to continue introducing improvements and innovations that make the telephone more convenient and useful," Wilson said.

The outlay, surpassing last year's construction expenditures by nearly $1 million, also reflects Michigan Bell's confidence that the economy of Michigan will continue to expand with an accompanying demand for more and better telephone service, Wilson said.

The largest portion of the Plymouth total — about $184,000 — will go for telephone equipment in homes and offices. New central office equipment will require an expenditure of about $43,000. Nearly $39,000 will be spent for outside plant facilities, while $16,000 is earmarked for land and buildings.

Statewide, the program calls for the expenditure of $39.8 million for new service resulting from growth; $11.9 million for improvements, and $34.8 million for the replacement of worn out equipment.

The program will provide for the construction of three new buildings and 17 building additions at a cost of $5 million.

Approximately $2 million has been set aside for expansion of long distance equipment in anticipation of an expected increase in the number of long distance calls of

Andrews Tells Special Education Parents About Plymouth State Home Program

George Andrews, director of physical therapy at Plymouth State Home & Training School, discussed the school's program at the March 27 meeting of parents of children in the two special education rooms of Plymouth, held in the special education room at Junior High East.

He said about two-thirds of the patients there have motor dysfunction and are mentally retarded and would have many problems in a home setting. Plymouth State Home is sending, and hopes to send more, of its patients back to their homes. This is being accomplished by the training given the patients, coupled with the cooperation of their parents. In most cases, the patient does much better in a home setting after he has had some training. Only about 4 per cent of retarded children are in institutions.

parents and school personnel, on March 20, 1963, and George Conover reported on the afternoon portion. Taking the trip were William Green, Carvel Bentley, Don Francoeur and Mrs. Shirley Johnson from the Plymouth School's staff; Mrs. Benson,

Mr. and Mrs. Mecklenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Conover, Mrs. Barbara Lockwood, and Mrs. Geo. Andrews.

The morning trip was to visit the High School Special Education class at Bentley High School in Livonia. As part of the training in this class many of the students are placed successfully on jobs by their teacher. In the afternoon the group met with the director of Special Education in Ann Arbor and visited classrooms for the trainable retarded as well as elementary and Junior High classes for the educable retarded. Since Ann Arbor has a special education millage they are developing an extensive and complete special education program making it possible for parents to care adequately for their retarded children and keep them at home.

Harold Rosow gave a brief report about the school board curriculum study meeting that some of the members from the parents group attended. Of special interest was the fact that a High School special education class is planned for the fall of 1963. Rosow also informed the group that Mr. Scott, of N.A.R.C., will meet with a few of the parents April 9, 1963, to discuss the advantages of the parents group joining the National Association for Retarded Children. Tom Rytiewski and Rosow reported to the group facts they gathered from the N.A.R.C. meeting held at Cobo Hall in March.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 24, 1963, at 8:00 p.m. in the Junior High School East, special room B-17.

KDs Attend Play At Fisher Theatre

Sixty-three members and guests of Kappa Delta's Northwest Suburban Alumnae Assn. attended the Fisher Theatre's special Sunday performance of "Milk and Honey" on April 7. The sorority will donate its share of the ticket sale profit to its national philanthropy, a crippled children's hospital in Virginia.

Kappa Delta officers for 1963-64 will be elected at the April 15 meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Benjamin, 32204 Craftsburg, Farmington. "Rescue Breathing," a color sound film, is also scheduled to be shown at the meeting.

Engaged

SUE DRISCOLL

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Sue Driscoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Driscoll, Jr., of Cleveland, to Ricard Levandowski, of Livonia. Mr. Levandowski is associated with the Continental Can Co. of Cleveland, and is a graduate of Bentley High School. The couple plans to be married Sept. 14.

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

MRS. DONALD SKINNER

Cherry Pudding and Sauce Cake, a delicious dessert, is suggested by Mrs. Donald Skinner, 1217 Penniman, this week. The recipe was received from a friend in Ann Arbor 9 years ago and has become a favorite of the Skinner family.

The cake is especially good for parties because it is easy to make and can be prepared a day ahead of time. Since she has been serving it, Mrs. Skinner reports many compliments and requests for the recipe.

Eating it every night would be a pleasure for her seven children: Patricia, 16, John, 14, Kathleen, 12, Donald, 9, the twins — Joe and Mike, 5, and Cindy, 3.

Mrs. Skinner, presently involved in giving her kitchen a face lifting is an advisor on the Teen Club at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church. She also belongs to the parish's Christian Family Movement and Rosary Society. Presently she is chairing all the Girl Scout cookie sales in the Plymouth area. Playing pinochle with a local club and sewing rank as her favorite hobbies.

WINNER in the Wayne County District No. 1 spelling Bee last week was Ruth Whitmore, 13-year-old eighth grader at St. Peter's Lutheran school here and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whitmore, of 499 North Sheldon. Ruth was judged the district champ when she correctly spelled the word "camphor" to defeat her last remaining opponent, a girl from Bedford Township. The Detroit News, sponsor of the contest, awarded her a geographical dictionary and a special certificate of achievement. As a district winner, she is eligible to compete in the metropolitan area spell-down as one of 28 district champions. If she should win the metropolitan contest, she will advance to the national spelling Bee in Washington, D.C.

Easter = Eggs = Coloring

It's that time of year again — easter egg dying time, that is... and, if you've had trouble in the past with the eggs getting a little tough why not try this tip?

Place eggs in cold water in covered pan and bring to boil. As soon as water boils, turn heat down to simmer (just under boiling) and cook for 15 more minutes.

And — while you're knee-deep in egg dye, you might peel a few eggs and dip them in the coloring, too, and then use them sliced in a toss salad, or deviled, with your Easter dinner.

Familiar Faces

"Questions nobody else in town can answer are transferred here to the City Hall making my job very interesting," Mrs. Leona Dierdick, communication clerk at the City Hall, said.

"It's very enjoyable," she says, "when you see the children who used to come in crying for lost dogs come in now to get their driver's licenses. You can see the whole town grow up."

Among Mrs. Dierdick's jobs as a communication clerk are answering calls, keeping records, issuing driver's licenses, and general secretarial work. She has had her job since June, 1953.

Born in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Dierdick lived in Plymouth and Wayne before moving back here for good. She now lives at 1331 Ross.

She is a past member of the Business and Professional Women's club and was Choir director for the Prince of Peace Lutheran church in Wayne. She has also been active in Church work here in the Epiphany church.

For relaxation Mrs. Dierdick likes light classical and popular music and has an organ at home that she enjoys playing. Her favorite reading is "who-d-o-n-e-i-t's" probably stimulated by working so closely with the Police Department.

She is the mother of four children. Her eldest daughter Alice Louise Herzog, is married and lives in Detroit. Frank, 23, is employed by Clark's Soft Water Service here. Mary Jane, 14, is a student at Junior High East and Kenneth, 12, attends Smith School.

Interestingly, her two sisters, Dorothy and Wilma, are married to her husband Alvin's two brothers, Milton and George. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dierdick were the last of the three couples to be married.

Jay-C-Ettes Schedule Bake Sale

The Plymouth Jay-C-Ettes will hold their second annual bake sale on April 19 at Krogers on Main St. The sale will begin at 10 a.m. and continue throughout the day. Proceeds from this sale will be contributed toward the annual 4th of July celebration which is sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees.

In its first year of their existence the auxiliary has donated Thanksgiving baskets to needy families in the Plymouth area and prepared stuffed animal kits for hospitalized children to assemble. They have also collected clothing for children at Maybury Sanatorium and assisted the Jaycees in several projects.

The group will hold election of officers at its April 16 meeting.

Nancy Spigarelli Wins 1st in 4-H Dance Contest

Nancy Spigarelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spigarelli, of 1300 Beck Rd., received a first place in dance competition at the Northwestern 4-H District Achievement Day activities held last Saturday in Plymouth High School. Miss Spigarelli, an eighth grade student at Junior High East, who performed authentic East Indian dances, is now eligible to compete in the County 4-H talent contest to be held in Ann Arbor this summer.

Miss Spigarelli was also one of a few girls to be chosen to model clothes they have made in the County 4-H Dress Review to be held at Greenfield Village on May 3. Outfit that Miss Spigarelli will model will be a blue denim wrap-around skirt and a red and white checkered blouse.

The Antique Corner

By Mrs. John Gibbons

Not too long ago I was reading a magazine article that caught my attention about wedding gift fashions in the Victorian era. Have you ever questioned yourself as to what was considered a proper wedding gift in grandmas day or what ever happened to these gifts. The article I read referred to a letter written by a woman in London who was writing to a friend in New York. Just as Paris sets the trend in fashions for the United States, England, specifically, London, has been credited with setting the social precedents accepted in this country.

The letter stated that gifts of necessity such as kitchen utensils, bedding, household silver and such items would be given the newly weds by parents or close relatives and that general acquaintances would be proper in selecting ornamental or "knick knack" selections.

China was always a wise selection and could be found in many pieces such as candlesticks, sweetmeats plates, vases, bowls, figurines, match stands, etc. One might also consider gifts of leather and steel twist shaped into mysterious forms completely elusive of their intended uses, unless they housed a clock. It is of interest to note how many clocks are given to newly weds. Majolica ware makes a gay package and egg cups are almost in every brides gift selections. Extremely popular are the egg cups shaped like brown plaited nests that rest on a tree branch with one green leaf still clinging over the edge. Also for the breakfast table or 'calling tray' a cream jug or sugar basin of clear glass beaded in color or frosted in design would be considered a delightful gift.

As to what happened to these charming gifts we can conclude a certain portion were broken, chipped, or lost. Some enjoyed being circulated from wedding to wedding, as it seemed to be a shocking fashionable trend for brides to pass on gifts they received which they found no love for or received in duplicate. Others were found by cleaning women, or relatives after laying down a mat for years and some found themselves degraded to the point of pawnbrokers. After perhaps a generation some of these are found in shops of old things and are discovered again to be quaint and of some charm. In any event "Grandmas Gifts" are not too different from todays brides and they too shall follow the same path.

Art Around Us

By Mrs. Jessie Hudson

As one of the members of the Artists' Gallery co-operative in Ann Arbor it is one of my duties to "mind the store" on occasion. Last Thursday I had an opportunity to take a leisurely look at some up-to-the minute art.

The artists exhibiting are Eileen Anderson of Wyandotte, Judy Meyers of Saline, Celia Kelly art teacher in Ypsilanti schools, Marion and Kermit Booker both teachers of art in Detroit, Pat Martelli, George Kikunas, Sue Hodges, Pat Aeting and Bob Gray all of Ann Arbor.

An interesting feature of this particular exhibit is the variety of sculpture displayed. Nothing dresses up a gallery (or a house either, for that matter) as pieces of sculpture or attractive ceramic bowls sitting around on pedestals. Some of the "pedestals" in this show are simple concrete blocks, painted cinder blocks, or rude 4 x 8s.

The sculpture itself is mostly welded metal, some of concrete over wood slabs, and some outdoor pieces in concrete. No wood alone, which is a pity. There is something heartwarming and mellow about sculptured wood that no welded metal or piled-up plaster can impart. Even the simplest shape in warm and grained wood has charm, whereas metal seems to need twisting and torturing to tell

CITY OF PLYMOUTH firemen put in some practice time last Saturday improving their fire-fighting skills in battling residential fires. They burned down a condemned house at 521 South Harvey. Here, with the house almost entirely gone, firemen direct a steady stream of water onto the burning rubble to keep it under control while other firemen throw tree limbs on the flames to "police" up the area. Two girls (lower left) were front row spectators to the event.

Plymouth High Notes

By Jeri Gulbransen

Students are happily looking forward to a much-awaited spring vacation which will begin Thursday at 2:38 p.m. After their rest, PHS'ers will return to school at 8 a.m. Monday, April 22.

Superior ratings were earned by many band members at the Solo and Ensemble Festival March 23.

Cheryl Wright ('63), trombone soloist, and Charles Hampton ('63), tuba soloist, passed a proficiency test which had been previously passed only by Leroy Lane ('62) for Plymouth.

A snare drum duet played by Bob Hill ('64) and Dave Jordan ('65) received a superior rating.

The clarinet choir also received a superior rating for the second year in a row. Judy McDowell, a bassoon soloist, and a flute octet received ratings of excellent.

Registration for the coming school elections began today and will continue until April 12. Home room meetings were held on April 1 to select a representative for the junior and sophomore nominating board meetings.

The joint nominating board met April 2 to draw up the all-school slate and on April 9 class caucuses were held to vote on those to run in the final elections.

Deadline for petitions is April 12. Campaign week is April 29 to May 3 and voting is May 6. The Inaugural Assembly will be held May 13.

Mary Lisa Frank is the election board chairman and her committee consists of seniors Eileen Ash and Cheryl Plank, junior Tom Wimsatt and sophomore Janet Blunk. The Pilgrim Prints is putting out a special election issue May 1, presenting the candidates and their platforms.

Taking second place for a declamation speech on March 21 was Sue Pybka ('65) in the District Suburban Six Forensic contest at Belleville.

Kathy Hickner ('65) took third place for humorous reading, while Kay Griffiths ('64) also had a third place in interpretive reading. The first and second place winners will compete in the regional contest at Trenton this month.

International Relations class is preparing for the MUN program at the University of Detroit on April 26, 27 and 28.

There's still time for the boys to ask their girls to "Gay Gals" (the senior prom, of course) and it will cost only $2.50 per couple. April 27 is the date.

This week's issue of the "Pilgrim Prints" is featuring literary contributions on the entire third page for the fourth consecutive year. Works were contributed by Arthur Gulick ('63), Doug Sutherland ('64), Judy Burgett ('64), Beth Wideman ('63), Doug James ('63), Judi McDowell ('65), Nancy Austin ('63) and Mary Lisa Frank ('63).

Lack of Patrons Perils Express Bus Run Here

A three-times-daily express bus service from Plymouth to Detroit and return is threatened by a lack of patrons. The Mail learned this week.

Adolf Schiller, president of Northville Coach Lines, the firm that is providing the express bus service, said Monday that he "has no plans to discontinue the service and we'll keep it up a while longer hoping that business will improve so that we may continue indefinitely."

He admitted the commuter run is losing money, however. He said that less than 10 Plymouth residents ride the bus to downtown Detroit and only two or three return on it later in the day.

The Monday-through-Friday schedule of the service includes three daily round trips. First departure from Plymouth's C & O railway depot is at 6:30 a.m., arriving in Detroit at 7:30. The second trip starts at 7:10 a.m. and arrives in Detroit at 8:15.

The third departure is at 8:45 p.m., and arrives in downtown Detroit at 4:50 p.m. Return trips follow the Detroit arrival times.

"We felt there was a need for the commuter service," Schiller told The Mail, "but we're just not getting enough customers to make it worthwhile at the moment."

Only stop between here and Detroit is at Farmington and Five Mile Rds. in Livonia to pick up more passengers.

A round trip ticket is $1.75, Schiller explained, while a one-way trip costs 90 cents.

"If Plymouth commuters don't like the service," he said, "I wish they'd let us know what's wrong with it."

Registration Slow For Adult Classes

Further information on the spring program may be obtained from the adult education and recreation office in the Senior High, GL 3-3100.

IN THE broad jump this spring, Plymouth's track team will rely partly on the talents of Aaron Machnik, shown here in practice last week.

SPORTSEEN

BY JEROME O'NEIL

The local golfing epidemic is about to begin again. Plymouth caught a touch of it last week, and there's plenty more to come. It's better described as an addiction than a disease, although casualties are found in the ranks of housewives who become temporary widows to the game as balmy spring days blend into summer, and summer transforms to fall. Only the arrival of winter snows is known as a cure for the ailment, and even then it's no guarantee. Some golf addicts never kick it.

At any rate, while the game involves a pesky, unruly ball around wide-open spaces, counting — and sometimes not counting — golf swings in the process, many are delighted that the season has returned.

Among these: Chris Burghardt, Lillian Block, Fred Sayig. Chris reports that his Hilltop Golf Club wintered well and is ready for the annual onslaught. Only league this year at Hilltop, as in recent years, is the Plymouth businessmen's group, which meets Wednesday afternoons.

Lillian Block is the wife of Fred Block, who — with his brother — owns Brae-Burn Golf Club on Five Mile at Napier. Lillian is the club manager.

Brae-Burn, according to Lillian, survived the winter "very, very well." she added: "I've had nothing but good compliments from our early golfers and I think we got through another winter in the best of condition.

The 18-hole Brae-Burn lay-out opened officially the week-end before April 1.

"We're always surprised that we don't get more golfers from Plymouth," she said. "Our regulars are mostly from Detroit, Livonia and Dearborn. Not too many people from Northville seem to play here either."

Late last summer, four new greens were added to the back nine along with three new tees. A fourth tee (No. 10), was enlarged. The new greens were playable late last fall and the new tees will be ready for use about the end of May, Mrs. Block said.

A number of the fairways have been re-seeded, too. Brae-Burn, presently a par-68 course, will emerge with a par-70 or par-71 rating when the new tees and greens are in use. More than 40 years old, Brae-Burn has been owned by Walt and Fred Block since 1954.

With the recent expansion of the back nine, it is becoming nearly identical to its original lay-out four decades ago. Leagues are being scheduled for every weekday with the weekends left for open golf.

Meanwhile, the Plymouth area's newest course, Dun Rovin, is boasting a new manager this season in Fred Sayig. Dun Rovin opened the 1963 golf season on March 30. It was built and first opened late in the 1961 campaign.

A healthy 6,596 yards in length, Dun Rovin is 18 holes and par-72. Sayig said that the fairways this spring have filled in heavily in comparison to the course's first two years of operation and will provide even better playing conditions "than we had hoped."

At Dun Rovin, too, the week days are being reserved for league play, weekends for open golf. Sayig expects to host between 600 and 700 league golfers each week this year.

He explained that plans are being made to expand the club house in the near future. "It will include a dining area eventually," he said. "We're sort of feeling our way on the club house plans right now, but we intend to have complete facilities here as soon as possible."

HERB PARK is expected to bolster Plymouth's chances in the pole vault event this spring when the Rocks' track season gets underway. First meet is here April 11 against Bentley High. The pit is filled with foam rubber to cushion the pole vaulter's fall.

Swim Pool To Close

There will be no recreation swimming in the Plymouth High pool during the week of April 15 to April 20, announced swimming supervisor John Mc-Fall Monday. Recreation swimming will resume April 22, he said. The interruption in the swim program stems from maintenance work that will be done that week in both the boys and girls locker rooms, Mc-Fall explained. Information on recreation swimming is available from the recreation office at GL 3-3100.
