

Ann Arbor Hosts Broadway Show Players

The Old Vic, the Stratford Festival, and the Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minnesota all take a back seat when you talk about the Professional Theater Program of the University of Michigan. The APA company has been praised by all the critics as one of the Nation's great dramatic companies.

A fall festival of four plays chosen from O'Neill, Shakespeare, Williams, Shaw, Moliere and Hellman await the lucky patrons that hold season tickets. Even though the festival doesn't start until October 7, Director Robert Schnitzer has recently indicated that over 3,000 subscription members have sent their money in for the fall series. Last year's festival of eight plays convinced a large number of Wayne County folks that the APA company provided entertainment with a capital "E."

In addition to performing plays in repertory last season, the APA company had distinguished Broadway writers, directors, and critics come to Ann Arbor for lectures. Special plays were flown in from Broadway: "The Fantasticks" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolfe." Something exciting was going on all year. As a subscription member you are in on the ground floor of all this theatrical activity at bargain prices.

Since part of the expense of bringing this Broadway company out to Ann Arbor is met by the University of Michigan, the ticket prices are within the reach of all folks. You can see four plays for as low as $6.40 in the balcony or as high as $12.00 for front row seats on the downstairs floor of the Lydia Mendelssohn theater. The Lydia Mendelssohn is a small intimate 700-seat theater where every seat is a good seat. Matinee prices are even lower for the four plays: $4.80 in the balcony or $11.20 for those orchestra seats. And student prices are 20 percent lower. Here's a real opportunity for English teachers in the area to take their entire class for next to nothing.

Complete information about the coming fall series can be obtained by tearing out the coupon in the advertisement found on the drama page of this issue of the paper. Asking for the information in no way obligates you for a ticket purchase. One word of warning: if you do decide to treat yourself to a fine series of four plays by some top Broadway actors this fall, get your check in the mail right away for it is very possible that the Standing Room sign will go up before Labor Day arrives.

'Curtain Going Up'

By Wally Roberts

As Parker Ballantine, the troubled critic, in "Critic's Choice" would say, "A memorable evening." This bit of criticism would come from his white box that held all the rave reviews. A black box contained the negative comments. Livonia-Redford audiences that saw last week's opening performances of L-R Players Guild presentation of "Critic's Choice" picked white slips un-animously. Their loud laughter and generous applause was indication enough that once again the Livonia-Redford Theater Guild had scored a direct hit. "Critic's Choice" is a rib-tickling must.

Two more performances this weekend (May 31 and June 1) complete the run of "Critic's Choice." Howard Egan in the title role of Parker Ballantine creates a host of side-splitting laughs. His highly expressive face triggers a thousand chuckles in this happy-go-lucky comedy. As the frustrated critic, Howard has ample opportunity to show us his entire bag of comic tricks. Mary Mattar as Howard's playwrighting wife fits into the stage picture perfectly. Her ability is quite evident as she storms about in a second act "take it or leave it" climatic scene. Tony, Mary's thespian hubby, had better look out or his sparkling, effervescent wife is going to steal all the community theater "Oscars" in the family.

Jim Coburn as the kookie director scored easily. His relaxed manner belied the precise pacing of his sharp lines. His utterances of "Come on, I'm Double Parked" evoked peals of laughter. Rayda Warren, Shirley Haverland, and Alice Fitzpatrick gave outstanding performances in small roles. The way they handled their small parts with such adept and perceptive characterization each of the roles became major memories in the minds of the joyful audience. The choice role in "Critic's Choice" is that of the critic's son, John. Richard Schneider came over strong and clear arching his eyebrows in all the right places. Give a child actor some exorcisingly funny lines and they will steal the scene every time. Old Wally will have to admit though that Howard Egan held his own even with Richard giving him competition. In the face of such adversity knowing that Howard conquered the two dreaded diseases of show biz: dogs and children, you can well understand why I rate Mr. Egan's performance so highly.

"Critic's Choice" deserves your attention. It's a smartly directed production by a real pro, Joe Barrett. Joe gets every ounce of acting ability out of his actors. He knows how to move his people, motivate them, and pace the production. The set as designed by Larry LeRue makes the Thurston Little Theatre look twice as large. It is colorfully pleasing and makes the evening a delightful occasion. Tina Coburn's plan for the costumes blended perfectly with LeRue's set. Mary Mattar's orange scarf, shoes, and white ensemble was stunning as was her blue evening dress. Alice Fitzpatrick's dashing coat and

Other members of the Board elected are Pat Kenny, Vice President; Jerry Pember, Don Warren, Bob Angvine, Shirley Haverland, Evelyn Jacobs, Ruth McGlove, Douglas Mueller. "Critic's Choice" winds up the Guild's season; however, several musicals are being considered for next year's productions.

Plymouth DPW News

By Joseph Bida, Supt.
A great deal of time was spent last week mowing, trimming and getting the parks and playgrounds ready for summer planting. Also, a lot of time was spent at the cemetery doing similar tasks with an added task of laying foundation for new markers. Two funerals were held last week.
Many hours were spent cutting down the Harding & Burroughs section and installing catch basin leads.
A stop box had to be dug up at 795 S. Harvey as it was full of stones. This box and one at 510 Byron Street had to be replaced.
A man worked out at refuse site during the week and cable was strung to restrict the area of dumping. Many people seem to be dumping rubbish wherever they happened to be and making it very messy.
Also several trees have been broken off in various parts of the city by vandals. Trees are planted between the curb and the sidewalk by the City and some had a couple of years growth. Value was about $30 each.

CIVILIAN CITATIONS in appreciation for outstanding services and co-operation were presented to four Livonians by Mayor Harvey Moelke and Public Safety Director Addison Bacon as one of the highlights of the Michigan Week celebration. The quartet furnished police officers with information that led to the arrest of bandits involved in a store holdup on Jan. 20. Mayor Moelke (left) holding tiny Jody Moore presents a citation to Mrs. Frances Moore, 15192 Paderewski, while Floyd Hopkins and his daughter, Marjorie, 15191 Paderewski, and Mrs. Frieda Harder, 15192 Paderewski, hold their certificates. Bacon (right) watches the ceremonies.

Because We Remember

On Decoration Day, many families visit our nation's cemeteries to place flowers at the gravesides of loved ones who have gone before. More than an empty custom, this tribute is an outward expression of the love that is in our hearts throughout the year.

The MAYOR'S CORNER

BY MAYOR HARVEY W. MOELKE

MICHIGAN WEEK . . . If I needed encouragement and renewed dedication to make sure that Livonia would be a good City in the future, I got it last Monday. As the guest of Royal Oak . . . seeing their accomplishments and their problems and visualizing what their community might have been with good planning . . . gave me renewed determination to see the battle through here in Livonia. The Grand Trunk Railroad bisects the center of their business district. They have no grade separations and today it would be a very expensive and difficult thing to accomplish. Last week the Livonia City Council concurred in my request to the Public Service Commission to hold a hearing of necessity for grade separation at Middlebelt and Farmington Roads and the C&O Railroad crossings.

Zoning regulations permitted inharmonious adjacent land uses . . . Today these areas have lower property values. The lack of parking facilities is a severe handicap for their local business to overcome. While our parking requirements have been considered, by some to be excessive, I am sure that strict adherence to our off-street parking requirements will be a long range benefit to our community. Royal Oak has had to condemn entire blocks for municipal parking.

Parks, playgrounds and recreation programs are an important part of the City of Royal Oak's plans for the future. They have 51 park sites with a total of 400 acres in their community which is approximately one-third the size of Livonia. They have implemented their park program with community self help . . . neighborhood groups, school association, service clubs and civic associations, service clubs and civic associations cooperating financially or work-wise with the City Recreation Department, plus increased City taxes, has made their extensive park program possible.

The City of Royal Oak acquired, for delinquent taxes, a vacant platted subdivision improved with streets, sidewalks and trees. They leased the property to Golf pro Don Soper, to be used as a Municipal Golf Course. They have done an excellent job in preserving the trees . . . causing the entire area to appear in its natural state. They have created a civic asset out of what could have been a problem area.

Royal Oak's government too is different than ours . . . their Mayor has very little executive power. The trend today is toward increasing the power of the Executive in Municipal Government. United States Manpower Commission strongly recommended this. A perfect example of organized confusion resulting in dilution of executive powers can be gained by reading the Saturday Evening Post's current article on the government problems of Los Angeles.

EMPHASIS ON INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT . . . Burl Woodward, Chairman of our Industrial Commission, put together a very worthwhile program Wednesday evening which will have a definite bearing on Livonia's future.

Our State Representative Chandler, and Bursley of Ann Arbor, discussed new State Legislation which will permit cities to sell revenue bonds for industrial and commercial development.

The meeting, held at Livonia's Elks Lodge, was attended by approximately 80 influential Livonia business and community leaders.

I appreciated the opportunity to tell them what my administration has done in getting sanitary sewers, zoning changes, fair assessments and about the strong emphasis the city has placed on industrial and commercial expansion.

HERITAGE DAY . . . It was great fun riding around in a 1902 Cadillac and meeting the Chairman of Michigan's Historical Commission and the Chairman of Livonia's own Historical Commission Hazen Kunz—who is also president of the Algonquin Club.

Mrs. Peg Miquelon again put together a very well planned program. It was a shame that more Livonians did not take advantage of Dominic Paris's slides on Livonia's historic past which was presented at the Carl Sandburg Library.

LIVONIA YOUTH . . . Bette and I enjoyed tremendously the Sunday Concert presented by Livonia's Youth Symphony.

We can all take pride in the youth of our community and the sincere dedication of the officers headed by President Mrs. Bernice Redinger of Livonia Youth Symphony Society, Inc.

THE SUCCESS OF MICHIGAN WEEK IN LIVONIA . . . was due, in no small part, to the able leadership of its Chairman, Addison Bacon our Director of Public Safety, and the many willing Livonia citizens who helped him.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for this excellent service they have rendered our community.

The true measure of a man is his contribution to the world.

'No Parking' Signs on Michigan Ave.

Parking close to the pavement on US-12 (Michigan Ave.) at two locations in Canton Township will be prohibited, the State Highway Department reported today.

Parked cars are interfering with vision of drivers eastbound on US-12 at Hannan Rd. and westbound on US-12 at Lilley Rd., State Highway Department traffic engineers said.

To reduce the potential danger, parking will be prohibited within 12 feet of the pavement on the north side of US-12 for two tenths of a mile east of Lilley Rd. and on the south side of US-12 for one tenth of a mile west of Hannan Rd.

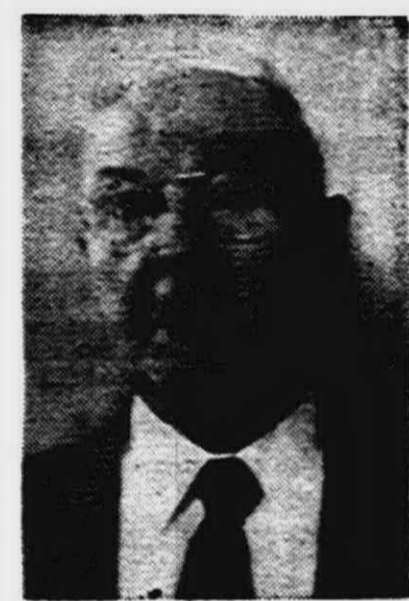

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie have signed the no-parking order. It will become effective as soon as signs can be erected.

Most people learn from experience—others never recover.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

I firmly believe in helping kids—to help themselves. You name it—the scouting program, Y-teens, AFS program, Youth orchestras, teen-canteens—all wonderful. I would go door to door in the rain and talk my grandmother into going also, to talk to people about the advantages of bringing higher education to a community for more accessibility for teen-agers. All of this we must, as we grow older, believe in.

BUT—there is a limit. Kids must show some initiative—take advantage of what is available.

This is probably one reason PTA's are presently floundering they have stayed too far from their original purpose of encouraging leadership in the community—and instead beat themselves to death over ways to earn money to buy things to hand to the kids.

There is no interest when everything is handed to kids—they love the challenge of doing a job, accomplishing something—they need guidance not dependence.

From the time they want to learn to tie their shoe laces—it seems we, as parents, would rather do it for them. Maybe cause its faster—it takes more time the other way to take the patience to show them and stand back and let THEM do it.

This was never more clear to me than in the case of the new Franklin High School in Livonia.

It seems the "dedicated" at Franklin have a band, an orchestra and some really talented musicians. Although it doesn't affect their music all concerned decided band uniforms would be nice and they would too. Since it wasn't in the school board budget it was up to the kids and parents to come forth.

Fine. Parents participation in a project like this is wonderful for community spirit—why the Franklin Band Boosters even got people of the community into the act that had no children at Franklin High School—real community spirit.

A small group of parents have been really working themselves into a frenzy over this project—with meetings—barnstorming for fund-raising ideas, etc.

They had a successful fish fry—and other projects.

A well-known family, the Nixons, who received country-wide acclaim happened to live in the area and offered their 90-minute 16mm color film narrated by the Nixons themselves on their tour, with their family, on the high seas—many people all over America paid money to see this adventure—the parents were enthused—the local paper advertised the project.

The ticket-sellers came themselves and several dedicated to the band uniform projects.

BUT the kids who were to wear the uniforms were conspicuous by their absence and for that matter so were many of their parents. Tickets were made inexpensive for students—but more than that why weren't the students out pushing those tickets themselves to this project? Funds of which would be strictly for their own uniforms—the whole school, if they have any pride at all, and want to see their school sharply turned out on the football field should be in the act. They weren't

I firmly think unless the kids work for it—it's ridiculous for the small nucleus to continue to knock themselves out to see those uniforms are purchased. Let the kids prove it first—they will be more enjoyed and better appreciated.

They have another chance—there is a big stamp drive planned. Students are supposed to collect books of stamps on their own. The big push will last until June 4 and there will be prizes awarded for those getting the most. The goal the parents set is 2,000 books. Let the adults keep records—I think it's time the parents stepped back and let the kids to do the collecting.

This is just a case in point—maybe we all ought to step back and see just how many shoe laces we tie every day—instead of showing them how and just being available for advice on the subject.

FLOWERS WILL BLOOM everywhere in the Rosedale Community House, 96H Hubbard Road, Livonia, when the Rosedale Gardens Garden Club present their annual Flower Show from 1 to 5 p.m. on Wednesday, June 5. (seated l-r) Mrs. R. Dunlevy and Mrs. E. Henry. The public is cordially invited to attend what promises to be a very lovely exhibition. Featured will be artistic designs, miniatures, informal luncheon tables, horticulture, conservation, education and as a special attraction, a junior division. Chairmen are Mrs. E. Bergner and Mrs. F. Hokenson.

Engineering Wives Wind Up Busy Season

On Wednesday evening, June 5, the Engineering Society of Detroit Junior Wives will hold their annual banquet. The dinner will be held in the Rackham Building at 6:30 p.m. During this final meeting the new officers for the coming year will be installed. Mrs. Maurice Day, President; Mrs. William Hamel, Vice President; Mrs. Harry Hughes, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Joseph Madurski, Treasurer; Mrs. J. Russell Hill, Historian.

This festive evening holds many happy memories of the past nine busy, productive months for Junior Wives under the capable gavel of president, Mrs. Leo Goran. Guest speaker for the evening, Mrs. John J. Shada, will discuss "Three Dimensional You."

Laurieann Chutis, a Junior at U. of M., was one of 16 girls invited to join the Senior Society this year. The Senior Society is an honorary association at the University which honors women on campus for their outstanding achievements in extra-curricular activities and scholarship while at the University. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chutis are the proud parents, and reside at 28536 N. Clements Circle in Livonia. Laurieann was a 1960 graduate of Ladywood High School.

Instruction for beginners, intermediates, and swimmers, will be given. Participants will meet twice a week, thus receiving eight lessons in the four-week period. A second term of instruction will begin July 25th and continue through August 15th. Registration may be made for either period starting June 3rd at the Branch building.

Tennis classes will be held at the Claude Allison Park, Beech Road and Curtis, on Monday and Wednesday mornings for girls and boys 12 years up, and adult women. This will be a four-week term starting June 24th and ending July 17th.

The girls will have fun time, games, crafts, and creative dancing. They bring a sack lunch each day, and will use the outdoor facilities near the building. On Fridays they will enjoy trips to Bob-Lo, the Zoo and other points of interest.

Teen age girls may enroll in a charm school to be held Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 1-4 p.m. at the Branch. A skilled professional model will give tips on grooming, hair styling, fashion modeling, clothes and accessories. Other features will include: cooking and entertaining your crowd successfully, drawing and sketching, and informal time for archery and ping-pong. This will run for four weeks from June 24th to July 19th. Pre-registration is necessary.

RECIPIENT of a $1,000 grant and national defense loan by Central Michigan university is Judy Scholes, senior at Clarenceville High for her freshman year beginning in September. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Scholes, 19579 Brentwood.

Fun Planned For Last Meet of LJC Season

Livonia Jewish Congregation Sisterhood will hold their last meeting of the season on Monday, June 3, at 8:30 p.m. at the Coolidge School, 30500 Curtis, Livonia. Mrs. Morris Gural, newly elected president (1963-1964 season) will call the meeting to order.

Mrs. Jerry Altschul, program chairman, has planned readings of "Jewish Humor" by members of the Sisterhood.

Mrs. Stanley Finkelstein, Mrs. Morris Herman, Mrs. Norman Herman, Mrs. Richard Kahl will be on the program.

KATHRYN ANN MILLER, Mr. and Mrs. W. Herbert Miller of Lennane Avenue, Redford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn Ann, to Edward James Drexler, son of Mrs. Joseph Drexler of Cincinnati, and the late Mr. Drexler. The bride-elect is a graduate of the University of Detroit. Her fiancé is a graduate of Xavier University and is presently attending Wayne State University. An August 31st wedding is planned.

Representing Over 60 Years Of Devotion To Teaching

You don't devote some 30 years of your life to a project and not add enrichment to it. When the project is something as important as the Livonia School District, the absence of this devotion will be sadly missed.

Both Jane Bowser and Lillian Anderson believe they will miss their daily contact with Livonia kindergartens too when they retire this June.

Both women have been dedicated teachers and not always under the pleasant circumstances teachers now enjoy.

In fact, Mrs. Bowser began her teaching career before the consolidation of the school district where the need was greater than the means. She set up her first grade and kindergarten class in a dog and cat hospital on Stark Rd. The late H. C. L. Jackson, news columnist, did a story on her being there with the coincidence of her name being Bowser.

She has always been at Stark School and has seen it grow from approximately 117 to over 300 pupils. Like Mrs. Anderson, she is now teaching second generation children and remembers their parents well.

So as not to make the break from being around young people too swift, Mrs. Bowser will attend Albion College this early summer in preparation for her summer church school teaching—at the nursery age level of course. This is the most impressive age, Mrs. Bowser believes—and can plant the desire for learning for the student's entire life. Her summer school teachings will be at Newburg Methodist Church.

Mrs. Bowser at home is Mrs. Ray F. Bowser and she and her husband live on Stark Rd. in Livonia. She has two grown children, Mrs. William Loesch of Plymouth and John Bowser of Livonia, and seven grandchildren. Her husband has retired from Holly Carburetor Company.

She is a member of the Newburg Methodist Church, Pilgrim Shrine No. 55 of the White Shrine of Jerusalem in Plymouth, life member of Wayne State University Alumnae, member of Farmington group of women of Wayne State University, M.E.A., N.E.A. and L.E.A. When she isn't working with little ones she plans to enjoy her garden, her collection of classical records and all of the many books she has lined up to read.

Sunday, June 2 there will be a reception honoring Mrs. Bowser at the Stark School.

Mrs. Lillian Hohler Anderson has been at Pierson School in Livonia for 31½ years. She came to the community school as a single girl via Northville, to teach the children just coming into school because this is really what she wanted to do. In all of that time her enthusiasm for her job has not waned. In fact, like Mrs. Bowser, she too is of the opinion that children, when they first enter school, are most impressionable and the responsibility is up to the teacher to inspire them, firmly and yet lovingly—the first step from the home to the discipline of school is something they carry through life in her opinion.

She is well acquainted with many members of the community and her greatest joy is to welcome back to school another generation — often she enjoys visits from her former pupils and somehow always remembers their names and experiences together. In fact she is considered around the school as the City's best historian.

Since her hobby has always been children she is a little concerned about the void retirement might leave in her own life, however she and her husband, Eric W. Anderson, plan to travel, to go fishing and boating.

At the present time Mr. Anderson, also retired, is building a beautiful 17-foot boat in their backyard.

The Andersons live on Bell Creek Lane in Livonia, and Mr. Anderson is a former Ford Motor employee.

A reception given by the Pierson Parent Teacher Association will be held Tuesday, June 4 from 7 to 9 at the school for friends, former students and parents.

Actual Work Experience Ahead For More Special Ed Students

Autumn of 1963 will see an expanded program of work experience as 16 special education students move from Livonia Junior High to Franklin High. Presently nine of the 12 special education students in the Type "A" program at Franklin are engaged in work experiences which are intended to improve attitudes toward work. Through regular, supervised work activity, the desirable traits of dependability, reliability, promptness, good appearance, and getting along with others are developed.

Related classroom instruction is an important part of the program. Through classroom discussion, films and directed lessons, problems which face an employee, are considered in order to make the actual experience more useful.

Jay Sherwood, Franklin head custodian, and his staff, provide varied experiences at the high school, and other placements are found with local merchants.

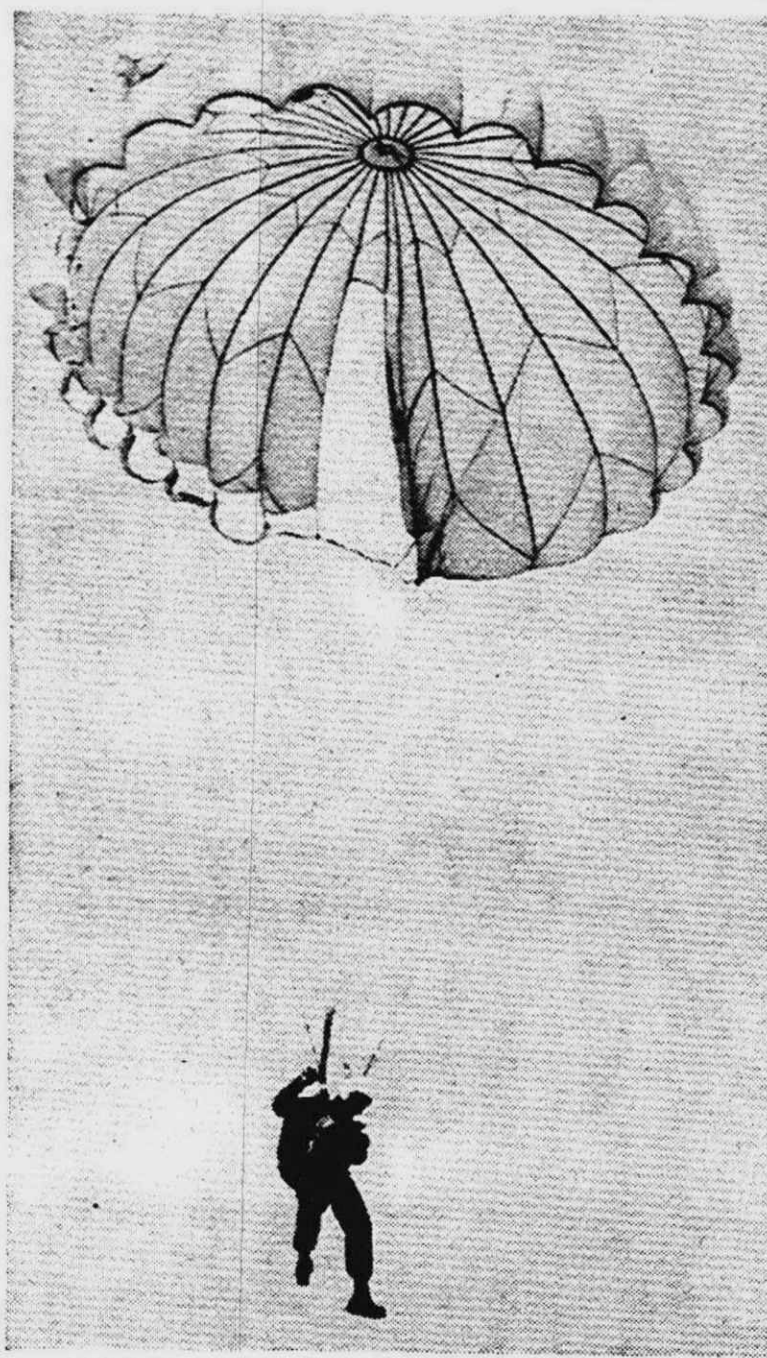

The program is limited to those students who have been screened into the special education program by a staff committee composed of teachers, counselors, a school psychologist, and a school administrator. The parents must also approve of the education plans made at this meeting, and the students' interests and desires are also considered. Only students who have difficulty with the regular program are accepted.

Students who have been placed in the Type "A" program attend many regular classes, but they are also eligible to take special courses in English, social studies, and math taught by a special education teacher who has been trained and approved by the State of Michigan.

When students have earned the required credits and have demonstrated good work habits, they are graduated and placements are made in the community with the cooperation of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, Michigan Employment and Security Commission, local business, and industry.

With the present number of unemployed in the community, placements are at a premium. Local merchants and businessmen who would like to help can secure further information by calling John Schulz, special education teacher at Franklin High School, GA 5-1900 extension 20.

The Franklin program is part of a continuing program for students with learning difficulties. Programs for similar students are in operation at all levels in the Livonia Public Schools.

LOOK OUT BELOW! Spectators at Wonderland Center kept their eyes glued to the skies Saturday as members of the All-American Sport Parachute Team presented an exhibition of skydiving. As some 10,000 watched, Bob Tighe, 26, of Detroit, guides his chute for the 25-foot target which was placed in the large field west of the center, near Plymouth road and Middlebelt.

Jim Mattison shot an 82 to lead Plymouth. Jerry Scott had an 83, while Carl Zornow and Dave Wall each fired 87s.

An 82 by Jim Burley set the pace for Bentley. John Lynn followed with 86, Dave Bengel and Jim Nettles each finished with an 87.

Jud Wellard had an 86 for Redford Union. Paul Drutchas and Bob Coates tied with 90s and Bruce Bruthwaite had a 93 for R.U.

In the Wayne-Oakland League meet, Clarenceville finished eighth and last with 398 strokes as Milford carried off the title with 339. Northville's 344 was second. Blomfield Hills had 355 for third.

Vince Burns carded a 91 for Clarenceville. Jim Woodhouse came in with 97. Dick Hahn 102 and Pat Sullivan 108.

Regional tennis honors went to Plymouth High School's entry at Cranbrook last Saturday.

The Rocks piled up 17½ points to beat out Birmingham Seaholm, 12½ points, for the Class A crown. Bentley had three points and Franklin 1½ in the two-day tournament.

An all-Plymouth final in the doubles marked the regional. Bob Smith and Jim Jensen teamed to beat Jim Bruff and Clark Raven, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. Both duos qualified for the state meet a week from Friday at Kalamazoo.

Plymouth also will be represented by Dave Tidwell in the singles at Kalamazoo. Tidwell lost to Seaholm's George Stumpf in the regional final, 6-2, 6-3.

Thurston gained 1½ points in the regional at Dearborn which was won by the host team.

Jean has been active in extra curricular programs during her collegiate career. She held the offices of Guard, and Second Vice President in Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Here Are Space Savers

The importance of saving space in the home has skyrocketed in the past two decades.

Not only are many post-war homes built with limited attic space and no basements, but the construction cost has soared. A recent national survey reported that during the past ten years the average construction cost of a single-family dwelling rose from $9,300 to $13,871. This 49 per cent increase places additional value on every square foot of living space.

And for the nation's 14 million families that live in apartments, limited space is an ever-present problem.

But you can do something about it. Here are several space-saving ideas you can use to "engineer" your home for better living.

Optical illusions serve well to reduce what ever claustrophobic coma comes over you when you enter a particular room. Use a framed mirror to reflect an out door scene from an opposite wall. The movements of the reflected sunlight create the effect of having another window. White or neutral walls, draperies and carpets add to a spacious feeling. Lightly scaled furniture will help make a room seem larger as will pale, solid colors. Nothing is worse than large patterns. Furnishings with see-through qualities and straight lines help, too.

But there are methods for creating real space, too, not just the illusion. You can store more in your hall closets by hanging hats on door racks. Make a hinged box for the closet to hold out-of-season footwear. Consider the use of hidden storage areas such as pull-out units under beds for extra blankets and linens.

In the kitchen, careful choice of both food and non-food items can save considerable space in the refrigerator and cupboards. Look for packages that provide the most product in the least amount of space, such as soft drinks in cans, facial tissue in a space-saving box, and concentrated juices and other foods.

Choose dual purpose and fold-away furniture. Space-saving furniture can include upholstered chairs that fold up and tuck away, dining tables that perform other duties between meals, bookcases that double as room dividers and of course a sofa-bed combination. Accordion style or hinged shutter-type roors free wall space otherwise needed to accommodate an open door, and a hanging lamp provides a good light and saves floor or table space.

So, if your walls seem to be closing in, try some of these space-engineering tips. You can be both compact and comfortable.

Hot Air Blower

One of the largest blowers in the world, a nickel stainless steel fan weighing 14 tons, handles more than 400,000 cubic feet of extremely hot gases each minute at the International Nickel Company's new iron ore plant in the Sudbury District of Ontario.

Seven-Year Storage

An unprecedented period of charge retention for a storage battery was established when a nickel-cadmium battery was charged and installed in an automobile and then left idle for seven years. After that period, and without recharging, the battery started the engine.

Women prefer wood kitchen cabinets, says a leading economist, because wood is cool to the touch in summer and warm in winter.

The metal parts of fine clarinets are made of nickel silver (an alloy of nickel, copper and zinc) because this alloy, beautiful and rich in appearance, is strong and does not corrode.

Pontiac Firm Receives General Contract

New College Bids Closer to Size, Trustees Make Awards

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees will have to dip into the contingency fund a bit but it did succeed in awarding contracts for the first three buildings on the new campus at the intersection of Seven Mile and Haggerty Roads in Livonia.

The original bids were 13 per cent over the estimates a month ago and the Board decided to advertise for rebids minus the library in an effort to get the figures down to where they could be accepted.

The rebidding answered the problem even though the new offers were some $71,000 over the estimates of $1,660,100, totaling $1,731,756 which can be trimmed some by use of the various alternates.

After considerable discussion, the Board voted to award the general contract to Schurrer Construction Co., of Pontiac, on its low base bid of $1,086,623.

The plumbing contract went to Norman L. Boelter Co., of Lincoln Park on an offering of $163,800 and the electrical contract to Jones-Sherman, Inc., of Redford Township, on its base bid of $480,729.

tric Co., $528,500; Hydron-Brand Engineering Co., $496,880; and Co., $522,370; Standish Electric Jones-Sherman, Inc.

"What My Religion Means To Me"

By DR. VAN OERNUM
Plymouth Kiwanis Club

than he can command in time of crises."

Men have expressed a belief in God in various ways. Some have called Him the Great Spirit, while some have worshiped him in the beauty of nature. One has said, "God is to me that creative force, behind and in the universe, who manifests Himself as energy, as life, as order, as beauty, as thought, as conscience, as love." Another expresses himself a little differently when he says, "Religion is the first thing and the last thing, and until a man has found God, and been found by God, he begins at no beginning and works to no end."

As for me, I believe we come to know God through His son Jesus Christ. I am proud to claim Christ as my friend. So — one will ask — what is a friend? The dictionary says a friend is, "one held in high esteem and affection; a close associate." Therefore, Christ is one we should have great affection for; one to take with us wherever we go; one we are not ashamed to introduce to our acquaintances. He is one in whom we can confide anything and everything. He will stick with us when we let Him down. He helps us over the rough spots each day, and when our friends forsake us, He will still love us.

In these critical days of one crisis after another, I find it very comforting to have Christ as my personal friend.

On the back of our dollar bill is written, "In God We Trust." It seems sometimes the question might well be asked—"Do we trust in God or the dollar bill?" Each of us must answer this for himself. Surely we must realize this nation of ours did not become great except that great men believed all things are ordained of God. These men were also strong believers in the power of prayer. Each of us can test our own possession of spiritual values by how they support us in times of emergencies. "A man has no more character

St. Matthew's Plans Giant Building Fund Drive

St. Matthew's Church (a merger of Livonia Methodist Church and Hope Chapel Evangelical United Brethren Church) will conduct a Building Fund Crusade on June 9, 10, and 11 under the direction of Dr. Walter E. Hoover from the Department of Finance and Field Service of the Methodist Church. Dr. Hoover will preach at the June 2 and 9 Worship Services in the church at 29475 Six Mile Road.

St. Matthew's pastors, Rev. John N. Grenfell Jr. and Rev. James A. Lange and the members of the Building Committee and the New Building Crusade Committee have been working with tremendous earnestness and enthusiasm to assure the Crusade procuring a minimum of $165,000.00 in cash and subscriptions. The Crusade cash and subscriptions together with substantial assets and the funds to be realized from the sale of the church building and land at 29475 Six Mile Road will enable St. Matthew's to erect a new church building on the 10-acre site on Six Mile Road, east of Merriman Road. The new building will be adequate for the Worship Services of an increasing membership; Sunday church school class rooms; Christian Fellowship; and the spiritual needs of our growing community.

Joseph Crafton, chairman, and the other members of the Building Committee have been conferring with architects; visiting other churches; and looking into plans for a constructive program.

RICHARD KRAVICK of Livonia shows the "new look" homemakers in Livonia and Plymouth will spot from Consumers Power Company. Beginning the end of May Consumers Power is dressing its small army of Meter Readers throughout Michigan in blue uniforms as Kravick (above) is modeling.

Division Manager James Thomas said the Company had decided to dress its Meter Readers to make them readily identifiable to homemakers, and to help them gain entrance to buildings which ordinarily are closed to salesmen, deliverymen, and the like.

A big Consumers symbol on the front of the shirt or jacket which Readers wear says plainly, "Consumers Meter Reader."

Summer uniforms are a light blue shirt and dark blue trousers, with a light blue skier's cap. The winter uniform is all dark blue, except for the light blue shirt.

Editor:
As a Candidate for Community College Trustee (at large) I feel the voters should know my view points as well as my qualifications.

The Community College fills the need of the people to have education beyond high school — right in their own community. The purpose of the Community College must be to give as many educational opportunities as possible to the majority of the people. I will work to see that a good balance between university preparation, terminal vocational courses and occupational retraining is kept in the college.

I firmly believe the community will be served best when the college is operated in an efficient and economical way. I will do my best, as a part of the Board of Trustees, to find out and to press for the policies which will give these results.

Above all other things, I will work to see that the highest standards are kept, and so insure that the people will get full value for their efforts and for their tax dollars. In short, the Community College must be a Community Asset.

And last, but not least, if elected, I will give earnest and honest consideration to the view points of all, whether they be a citizen or a group of citizens, so that the college will be truly a Community College.

Sincerely,
Darrel E. Berry

Editor:
The Community College has been of vital interest to me since, and before, its inception. Along with others, I worked in both campaigns; in the last, which brought our dream to fruition, as vice-chairman of the local committee, I cite the above to call attention to the continuing concern we have with the college as we watch it develop, step by step.

Around an educational institution, such as Schoolcraft College, in addition to the structural and curricular, a philosophy develops. Which direction this takes often revolves around the trustees in whom the citizenry has placed its faith and trust.

Now among the several people who vie for the seat of trustee-at-large, formerly occupied by James O'Neil, there doubtless are many able, trustworthy individuals. However, the one person whom I would highly recommend as qualified academically, is Leroy Bennett.

It has been my privilege to work with him for the past two years at Bryant, where he is a science teacher. Along with high standards of quality and ethics he would bring to our college board the much desired point-of-view of the professional educator, and the principles of academic freedom. Therefore I respectfully urge you, my friends and neighbors, and the citizenry of the district to elect Leroy Bennett to the seat of trustee-at-large in the June 10 election.

Rosina Raymond,
Sincerely,
15906 Oak Drive,

Editor:
Considering the potential of Schoolcraft College to the economic welfare of the Northwest Wayne County community, it is of vital importance that the public image of the College remain untarnished.

The private citizen watching the activities of some local governmental units is often led to the belief that the members are either trying to advance their own personal fortunes or further their own political ends rather than performing the duties of the office to which they were elected.

Schoolcraft College cannot afford the luxury of a political forum.

These considerations have prompted my candidacy for the position of Trustee-at-Large. As a professional educator, I am not interested in financial gain or political promotion for myself nor any other party, but am very much concerned with the establishment of a strong educational institution to serve the community.

I pledge to work toward the development of Schoolcraft College as I assisted in its inception, without ballyhoo or

SCHOOL BUSINESS IS YOUR BUSINESS

By R. H. UPTON
Asst. Supt., Livonia Schools
I would like to take time out from the regular question and answer format of this column to discuss a matter of great importance. It concerns school bus safety.
We have mentioned in past columns that Livonia school buses have traveled over 100,000 miles per year for the past four years. This is a big responsibility and we are careful in the selection of the personnel we hire to do this job. Our drivers' effectiveness, however, depends largely on other motorists and the general behavior of the children on the buses.
We have received many calls lately from our bus drivers about the failure of some motorists to obey certain school bus laws. The law most frequently mentioned is the one which requires all vehicles to stop when a school bus stops to take on or discharge passengers. The cars coming from both directions must stop.
There are good reasons for this law. Students getting off or about to get on a bus will cross from one side of the street to the other in front of the bus and the stopped cars. Obviously they are moving on the assumption that both lanes of traffic have stopped. There can be no mistaking the need to stop because the lights on the outside of the bus flash during the entire stopping period.
We understand that it is sometimes difficult to follow a school bus, especially in the early morning when you are in a hurry or in the afternoon when you are tired and anxious to get home. We do everything we can to speed our bus procedures, but the safety of the children must be our first concern. Please know and follow all school bus laws.
We have received calls from motorists who say they dislike waiting for a school bus because it was being held up by the misbehavior of some students. Other callers have said they have watched students slowly stroll to a waiting bus while traffic was being held up.
There are students who occasionally misbehave on our buses. We have a firm policy on this, and these students soon find themselves slowly strolling the entire distance to their school. We must remember these are young people who do not always have the good judgment of adults. The misbehavior of a few or the mistake of an immature adolescent is no excuse for endangering the life of an innocent child.
We are firm in the discipline we maintain on our school buses. We hope motorists will be firm in the self-discipline maintained in their automobiles.
