

Letters To The Editor

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Mich.
Dear Editor:

We were pleased to see the Plymouth City Commission act so promptly to implement Governor Romney's proposal for state-wide Human Relations Commissions on the local level.

With full community support, we feel sure that this commission will be able to help Plymouth move forward with the times and keep its policies in line with the spirit inherent in our national constitution and our democratic ideals.

Let's show our support of this important new commission by word of mouth or letter as individuals and through community organizations in which we are members.

We are pleased that we are residents of such an enlightened and farsighted community.

Sincerely yours,
Judson and Anne Spencer

Helping Needs in Many Lands
INTERNATIONAL CREDIT UNION DAY -
October 17

IT IS NOT TOO OFTEN...

... that a single idea is found to work in every free country of the world. Such an idea is the credit union which has been thriving for 114 years.

In far-flung areas such as the Fiji Islands and Tanganyika and the United States, people are pooling their money to buy the tools they need to earn a living or saving toward that rainy day. In 67 countries of the free world credit unions are helping people to help themselves. Men of every color and tradition are finding that working together truly benefits everyone.

Developing nations are eagerly grasping the credit union plan to help put their struggling countries on a firmer economic basis. Credit union representatives, Peace Corps volunteers, and church missionaries are planting the seed of organization for credit unions in these poverty stricken areas to help create a better life for the people.

International Credit Union Day will be celebrated October 17 throughout the world by 18,000,000 members of 29,500 credit unions. It is a day of tribute to the too-often neglected virtues of integrity, honesty, cooperation and trust of fellow man practiced so successfully in credit unions.

Children's Art On Exhibit at Hartley-Powers

An unusual showing of children's art from around the world, beginning on Friday, Oct. 18, and running through Thursday, Oct. 31, the "Art for World Friendship" exhibit will be on display at the Hartley-Powers Gallery, 116 Main Street, Northville. The exhibit is sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in celebration of United Nations Week.

Art for World Friendship is an international art exchange project in which children of any age, race or religion may participate. The exchanges are made on a group basis and are sent to the Art for World Friendship headquarters at Media, Pennsylvania, by the teacher or other group leader. The pictures are checked in and sorted by age groups and an equal exchange of pictures by children of the same ages and from other countries is sent to the group leader to be distributed to the participating children. In this way each child receives a picture for his very own, drawn by an "artist" of his own age and of another country.

An Opening Reception will be held at the Gallery from 2-9 p.m. on Friday, October 18. Children and teen-agers as well as their parents, teachers and interested adults are cordially invited to view the exhibit during its two-week stay at the Gallery.

Jay Vees Bumped By Redford Union For Fourth Loss

The Jay Vee squad was bumped badly by the Redford Union Panthers last Thursday 40-7.

Coach Dick Bearup said after the game that Plymouth just couldn't get a decent drive going without someone fumbling the ball or some other rally killer happening. To illustrate this fact he pointed out that the second time the Junior Rocks got the ball a Panther lineman rushed in and blocked a punt deep in Plymouth territory and another pounced on it in the end zone for a touchdown.

Another thing that hurt Plymouth were the long runs by the Panthers backfield men. One back alone scored four touchdowns and Bearup said he also had scored four the week previous.

Plymouth's only touchdown came in the second half on a long, sustained drive ending when quarterback Jim Arnold plunged into the end zone.

The Rocks were never in contention as the Panthers were leading 20-0 at half time and 27-0 in the third period.

Bearup believes the main problem lies in the fact that he is unable to improve on all of the teams mistakes as he has to work with them by himself while most schools have 2 men on the Jay Vee coaching staff.

This Wednesday the Rocks will journey to Allen Park and try to improve their present record. The game starts at 4:00.

OLGC LOSES, 21-20

Our Lady of Good Counsel blew a 13-0 half-time lead Sunday and suffered a 21-20 loss to Farmington's Our Lady of Sorrows.

A PAIR of local football players who opposed each other during their high school careers faced one another briefly during Saturday's Michigan-MSU game in Ann Arbor. Steve Juday (white jersey), of Northville, quarterbacked the Spartans and Wayne Sparkman (dark jersey), of Plymouth, was a defensive back for the Wolverines. The game wound up a 7-7 deadlock.

Freshmen Drop Second 13 - 6

Coach Dick Hills' Freshman squad traveled to Wayne to meet the Wayne - Adams ninth graders last Thursday and had a 7-6 victory in the making up until the last 45 seconds. At this point Wayne was in possession of the ball around Plymouths 20 yard line. The quarterback found a pass receiver behind the Plymouth defenders and hit him with a short toss for the winning touchdown.

The disheartening thing about the touchdown was that Plymouth was trailing 6-0 and had scored with only 3 minutes left in the game to go into a 7-6 lead.

They scored on a long drive climaxed by a flat pass from quarterback Prochazka to halfback Steve Hulce who scampered 15 yards for the touchdown.

The first half was purely defensive as neither team was able to keep a drive going long enough to score.

Wayne broke the drought by scoring in the 3rd period on a long yardage pass play.

Hill stated after the game that it could have been a different story if Plymouth would have received a break in the first half after they had driven to within 20 yards of the goal line. On a fourth down play with short yardage to go, Wayne broke through and trapped a Plymouth back for a five-yard loss and the ball changed hands stopping the Frosh's scoring chance.

This Thursday the freshmen meet Wayne - Marshall on the Plymouth High Athletic field at 4:00.

Thinclads Nail Down Second Win, 22-33

The Harriers depth paid off for the second week as they took 7 of the top 11 places in a meet against Belleville last Friday afternoon to win 22-33.

Once again Plymouth failed to take the top place. So for this season no Rock thinclad has been able to cross the finish line first.

In cross-country it is depth that counts and Plymouth has been trying to take advantage of that fact all fall. Because of the experience of the squad members it has taken several meets for the Rocks to move up and take a few of the top spots.

Even at the start of the season Coach John Sandmann's runners were able to finish within seconds of each other and now as their conditioning and experience is improving so are their times.

Against Belleville John Bowsman at 11:28, Frank

Dorset at 11:41, Hal Kuisel at 11:43, and John Bates at 11:48, finished 2, 3, 4, 5 respectively.

Belleville took the top spot along with the 6, 7, 10 and 12 places.

Steve Ward finished behind 2 Belleville runners as he placed eighth with a time of 11:53, following him was Mike Bentley at 12:02 and Jim Eder finished 11 to round out Plymouths scoring.

Tuesday, Oct. 15, which is today, Plymouth will be competing in the Clarenceville Invitational Tournament to be held at Cass Benton Park. The meet will begin at 4:00.

Plymouth Gridders Destroy Allen Park, 33-0

Exceptional offensive balance and a tough defense provided Plymouth fans with a picture of football perfection last Friday night as the Rocks football machine ground out a brilliant 33-0 win over a husky, hard hitting Allen Park squad.

Gary Grady again proved he is an important cog in both Plymouth offensive and defensive teams as he scored a total of three touchdowns while piling up many defensive points.

Quarterback John Daniel is trying hard to make Plymouth coaches and fans forget the loss of last year's great quarterback, Dick Schryer, by turning in a better all around performance each successive Friday.

Against Allen Park Daniel scored once on a sneak, set up two Grady touchdowns on long passes to fullback Dave Agnew and Captain Dick Egloff, and threw a touchdown pass to Agnew to account for 24 Plymouth points.

The opening few minutes of the game was what Coach Mike Hoben had anticipated as Allen Park stopped Plymouth on four plays after Egloff returned the opening kickoff to Allen Park's 41 yard line.

On the next series of plays by Allen Park, the tide started to turn as guard Paul Densmore covered a fumble and the Rocks took over with 25 yards between them and six points. After Plymouth picked up a first down on the 12 yard line, Grady cut through the left side to score. Roy Chappell converted and Plymouth led, 7-0.

For the next ten minutes it looked as though there was another defensive battle in the making because neither team could get moving. But with about five minutes remaining in the half Daniel hit Egloff with a 20 yard pass to Allen Park's one yard line. On the next play Daniel pushed through the center and scored. Chappell booted the extra point to make it 14-0.

The next time Plymouth got the ball it proved there would be no defensive game that night, as Daniel passed to end Jim Lake on Allen Park's 9, then flipped a short pass to Agnew for the T.D. The extra point attempt was no good and the half ended 20-0.

In the third period Daniel again proved his value as he hit Agnew for a 30 yard pass play that set up Grady's second touchdown on a 4 yard slant off the left side behind good blocking by tackle Kevin Huntington.

Grady's third and Plymouth's fifth touchdown was scored on a brilliant pass interception and a 40 yard scamper down the sideline. Chappell converted ending the scoring.

Even with many substitutes on the field during the last quarter neither team gave up as some fine running was turned in by Plymouth's Curt Irish and Charles Ruge.

Plymouth was in scoring position after a 20 yard gallop by Ruge but Allen Park held, so Hoben sent in Chappell for a try at field goal. Although the attempt was missed it was a good climax to a contest that provided everything that Both teams are undefeated in league play although Belleville was tied in its first conference game. The contest will be held on the Plymouth suburban six championship field at 8:00.

For what it's worth, football — or at least a form of it — dates from about 500 B.C., which is a little bit before the origin of Plymouth's rivalry with nearby Bentley High, whom the Rocks test on Oct. 25.

But that's beside the point. Football is so old, it ought to have a long, white beard, if such were still in style. According to historians, a game called "harpastum" was played by the Spartans as early as 500 B.C., a year when I think the Sphinx got its second coat of paint.

And just as is the case today, in those earliest vestiges of grid-iron sport, a ball was kicked, passed, or carried across the opponents' goal line.

Medieval tournaments in Italy featured a game called "calcio" which involved teams with 27 players on a side. It was a modification of harpastum and included line and backfield formation similar to current ones. Princes, soldiers and "the noble ladies and the people" cheered for their favorites.

It remained for England to undertake a brawl-like kind of football sometime around the 10th century. It became a bit of a problem. Husky young Britons were foregoing their archery, a basic means of national defense, in favor of this new sport.

In 1365, King Edward III decided to prohibit the game for "military reasons" and municipal laws and royal edicts declared such to be the case.

There is no evidence that gang fights after games had anything to do with the ban, but anything could happen in those days of Robin Hood, man.

Charles II relented come the 17th century and he fully reinstated the game. He seems to have added a few more yards to the playing field, however, so that tempers usually remained weary and outright warfare was minimized.

A survey published in 1802 states that goals were set three and four miles apart, and two or three parishes (i.e., bunches of guys) united to play other bunches in games that sprawled across the countryside.

It was somewhat before the days of suburban growth, and no chain-link fences interfered as they would now. Only grazing cows were put to any inconvenience, along with those scoundrels that kept potting the king's deer without conservation permits.

So-called "corner lot" games brought the interesting sport to the attention of England's boys' schools. Hasty rules were drawn up, permitting the ball to be kicked, but not carried, toward the goal.

History records that football made its modern-day "breakthrough" one autumn afternoon in 1823 at Rugby, a famous boys' school. Two class teams were struggling and the score was tied. Dusk was falling and maybe everyone was hungry, too.

One callous youngster with "a fine arm disregard for the rules" abruptly took the ball into his arms and raced across the opposing goal-line. "Wh-uh," said the referee, whose knowledge was limited. "No score," he grumbled, being a staid Englishman who never entertained a thought of changing things.

However, off the strength of this eventful moment, which has since been commemorated by a tablet at the Rugby School, the rules were adjusted to permit "running with the football." Incidentally, that poor referee retired from the sport, forced out like when talkies discouraged many a silent movie star.

By 1863, the new game of Rugby had become highly popular and was then "Americanized" a few years later. The first recorded intercollegiate football game was held Nov. 6, 1869, between Princeton and Rutgers. Rutgers won, 6-4 in a game featuring 25 players on each team.

It was somewhat crowded on the playing field and later the number of members on each team was reduced. You know the rest, including how U-M and MSU tied Saturday.

Suburban Six Grid Scores

Plymouth kept its lead in the conference race by thumping Allen Park, 33-0, on Homecoming night Friday.

Belleville stayed close behind by rallying twice in the third period to drop Trenton, 20-14.

Redford Union stayed near the top by squeezing past Bentley, 6-0.

The game of the week will be played at Plymouth when the Rocks meet Belleville in what should prove to be the deciding contest for the suburban six championship.

The game will start at 8 p.m. on the Plymouth field.

These are the league standings:

Plymouth	3-0-0
Belleville	2-0-1
Redford Union	2-1-0
Trenton	1-2-0
Bentley	0-2-1
Allen Park	0-3-0

Eighth Graders Jolted, 24-6, By Cherry Hill

The 8th grade football team ran up against a big, tough Cherry Hill squad last Wednesday and lost 24-6.

Although the score indicates a romp, the Plymouth Boys were not entirely out of the game until the last period when a Plymouth pass was knocked down into the arms of a startled Cherry Hill lineman who had nothing but daylight between him and the final 6 points.

Bad breaks throughout the game proved to be the undoing of the Junior High squad. The opening kickoff was fumbled by Plymouth on its own 30, giving Cherry Hill the ball and after a few plays, the first touchdown.

Only one Cherry Hill score was made by a sustained drive from outside Plymouth's 30 yard line while the others were scored on either a fumble or an intercepted pass.

Plymouth's hopes rose as the Rocks started a march down the field toward the Cherry Hill goal line. When they were 35 yards from pay dirt, quarterback Mike Cederberg dropped back for a pass. He saw end Jeff Adams breaking into the clear and tossed him the ball for Plymouth's only touchdown of the afternoon.

Coach Cavell said after the game he was pleased with the work of Dale Theeke, Mike Waller, and Greg Winterhalter in the defensive unit but that there was no punch in the offensive line at all.

He hopes this Wednesday's home game with Northville will give the boys a chance to make a better showing.

Egloff Leads Yale University to Victory

Randy Egloff, former football great at Plymouth, led Yale University to an upset victory over Columbia Saturday in an Ivy League gridiron clash.

Yale emerged a 19-7 winner, thanks to Egloff's two touchdowns. Trailing by seven points in the second period, Yale erupted for 17 points to clinch the victory.

Egloff, a 6-foot-1, 190-pound senior, scored on a four-yard run and a 26-yard pass from quarterback Brian Rapp.

Telephone Lines

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

ALL OF US at Bell Telephone are constantly seeking ways to keep our costs down. For example, Western Electric, our manufacturing and supply unit, has found a way of using a new, less costly plastic to produce six sets of telephone parts for the former cost of five. Such reductions in costs help us offset the rise in other costs. This never-ending search for savings is an important reason your telephone remains one of the biggest bargains in your home today.

IT'S TIME TO PHONE GRANDMA!

MANY FOLKS who don't see their out-of-town relatives or close friends very often have developed the pleasant habit of visiting them every week at the same time—by telephone. Knowing that the person they want to talk with will be there at that time, they call station-to-station instead of person-to-person. "Station" calls cost less than "person" calls. And they go through faster, because in most cases you can dial them yourself. Why not phone tonight?

INFORMED CITIZENS give added strength to this nation of ours. During National Newspaper Week, October 13-19, we pay tribute to the part played by our newspapers in keeping us well informed. And it's a week when we at Michigan Bell are especially proud of the part telephone facilities play in helping the newspapers gather the news and get it to you—fast and accurately.

ADVERTISING MANAGER DONALD GOLEM
MANAGING EDITOR JEROME O'NEIL
GENERAL MANAGER RANDY EATON
PUBLISHER STERLING EATON

About the same time my column was appearing last week with the mention of a letter several months ago from Bernie Morrison, the following second note arrived at my desk.

Mr. Sterling Eaton
The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Sterling:
It has recently come to my attention that some of the teachers in our schools have, without fanfare or publicity of any sort, been buying school supplies and equipment for some of the needy youngsters whose parents have not been able to afford them.

This situation only came to my attention accidentally when Mr. Green sent a couple of boys into my store to buy gym shoes and equipment on his account. Since then I have learned there are other teachers who are behaving in the same generous manner.

They are a credit to the teaching profession in general, and to Plymouth in particular, and I am sure, Sterling, you will want to use your facilities to publicly salute them.

Sincerely,
Bernie Morrison.

Coincidental is the fact that both were from Bernie, though the subject matter was entirely different. The above letter certainly is most appreciated and there is no doubt but what our teachers deserve public acclaim for their unsolicited and charitable acts.

In fact, I am somewhat ashamed that I had to be alerted to this situation because no one knows better than I of many of the unselfish acts this group of local citizens performs almost daily for the children whom they instruct.

I can remember back during the years I served as president of the local Board of Education of many costly, charitable acts by teachers in helping make life easier for some of their needy students and I was especially amazed at what lengths they went to at holiday time, with dollars from their own pay checks, to bring Christmas in homes which Santa Claus might have overlooked if it hadn't been for the charity of the teachers.

I, too, Bernie, know of teachers who have bought shoes, clothes and other essentials to make every day living brighter for some of their students, and all out of their own personal generosity. Thanks for reminding me of this subject matter and let me join you in helping to alert our residents to the fact that when a teacher needs more take-home pay a lot of it is given voluntarily by the teacher right back to some deserving student or family served by our schools.

As you are reading this column, the writer is again exploring the unknown with surgeons at the University of Michigan Hospital. At this writing and probably at this very moment the exact length of my visit at this great institution in undetermined and may be for a few days ahead.

A fight with Cancer isn't easy but because of the tremendous strides the medical profession has made in this respect hope is more probable today than it was even a few years ago. At least I trust my doctors will provide all of the technical know-how at their disposal and I have accepted their determination that I have at my command to lick the challenge.

In my favor, at the moment, is the fact that surgeons will not exactly be harpooning a whale as they might have a year ago and the carving of the blubber has been minimized considerably. Factors of great importance to both of us, I am informed, and reason that others might well draw a conclusion concerning themselves, I am sure.

Not that I enjoy writing on such a subject but since it is so prevalent a menace to our daily lives it certainly cannot be misconstrued by our readers if I use this space to emphasize two major lessons learned from my personal experience.

One . . . overweight is a most dangerous condition in many ways, especially in the case of surgery, which certainly none of us can predict from day to day and, secondly . . . periodical visits to the doctor's office for regular physical check-ups are most important. Early detection of major afflictions can be helpful and sometimes actually result in cures and controls.

Don't for a minute get the impression that I enter into this battle without fear . . . because truly I am frightened to death and I, from past experience, know the pain and suffering that lies ahead, but, if it provides a means to a longer life, more hours with my wonderful family, and, if some one person should take heed from my warning then I shall have been blessed by the Almighty and they perhaps saved from some similar affliction.

At any rate . . . for a few weeks at most, I hope . . . this old column will have a rest. I'll not impose upon my friends in this instance but rather urge any and all of our local citizenry, if inclined, to direct Letters to the Editor, covering any and all subjects they desire, to replace this space while I am away. I would urge brevity and tolerance in their subject matter. Signatures, of course, are a must, but they will be withheld upon the writers request and, of course, no subject matter in violation of good taste or launting the laws of libel will be acceptable.

And, on a closing note may I say . . . I'm planning on being home and at the table eager and able to carve the Thanksgiving turkey as I have done the last 32 years of my most happy married life. If that old faith, the faith I have in this area, the faith I have in the Plymouth Community and its people, the faith I have in my beloved wife and two children means anything at all, believe me, I'll be there, too.

Letters to the Editor

Helynn Caplin, Treasurer
Plymouth Community Fund
Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Helynn:

Enclosed find my donation to Community Fund. The reason you haven't seen me in Plymouth this year is that I'm on my fifth month of illness following very serious surgery from which I almost became an Obituary Notice. Still have two nurses but I hope one of these days to get home and say hello to all my good friends in Plymouth.

Helynn, as I was writing my check I thought it may be of a little interest to say that "on my check book I've had a button with the red feather on it" that Dad gave me, that he was wearing, the fall before he died. It was a nice quiet reminder to me - not only of his generosity to Plymouth in a physical and material way but of his generosity to us children - I will never forget it, believe me and perhaps when and if my hospital and nurses bills become smaller, I will give more. I truly believe in the Fund and the way the Plymouth people work so very hard to put it over! Good luck to you all.

Give my regards to all - Sterling and Murph, Carl and all the Lorenz's and the rest of the Mayflower crowd. They are all such grand people.

Devotedly,
Corette Hough Jennings
Savannah, Georgia.

(EDITOR'S COMMENT: Mrs. Jennings is the daughter of the late Edward C. Hough, of Plymouth. Her donation was the first to be made to the advanced gifts division of the 1963 Plymouth Community Fund.)

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Editor

The "impossible" has been accomplished, and the Plymouth Cooperative Children's Nursery is now starting its second week in its new location at the Hough School.

There were many ups and downs in attempting to reach the fruition of our dreams. We had difficulty with the plumbing, the furnace had to be repaired, and we had to get rid of many inherited school desks in order to clear both classrooms for our use.

But these things we did. The desks, in fact, were sold for $1.50 apiece. We even sold five or six broken desks for $1. The School Board received the total receipts amounting to $172.50.

We held three work "bees" to clean up the yard and the exterior of the building and then we held a "moving-in bee."

The nicest thing about all of our work and accomplishment is the marvelous rapport that these old fashioned work "bees" gave our group. It was truly an example of what the cooperative efforts of many can accomplish. Involved in the effort, of course, was the School Board as well as our own board members, the members at-large and The Plymouth Mail for helping to publicize our project.

Our Monday - Wednesday - Friday session is filled and we have only three openings in the Tuesday - Thursday group. These we expect to fill soon.

May I take this time to thank you and all of the interested persons in our community who helped our cooperative nursery start this school year with such a roaring send-off.

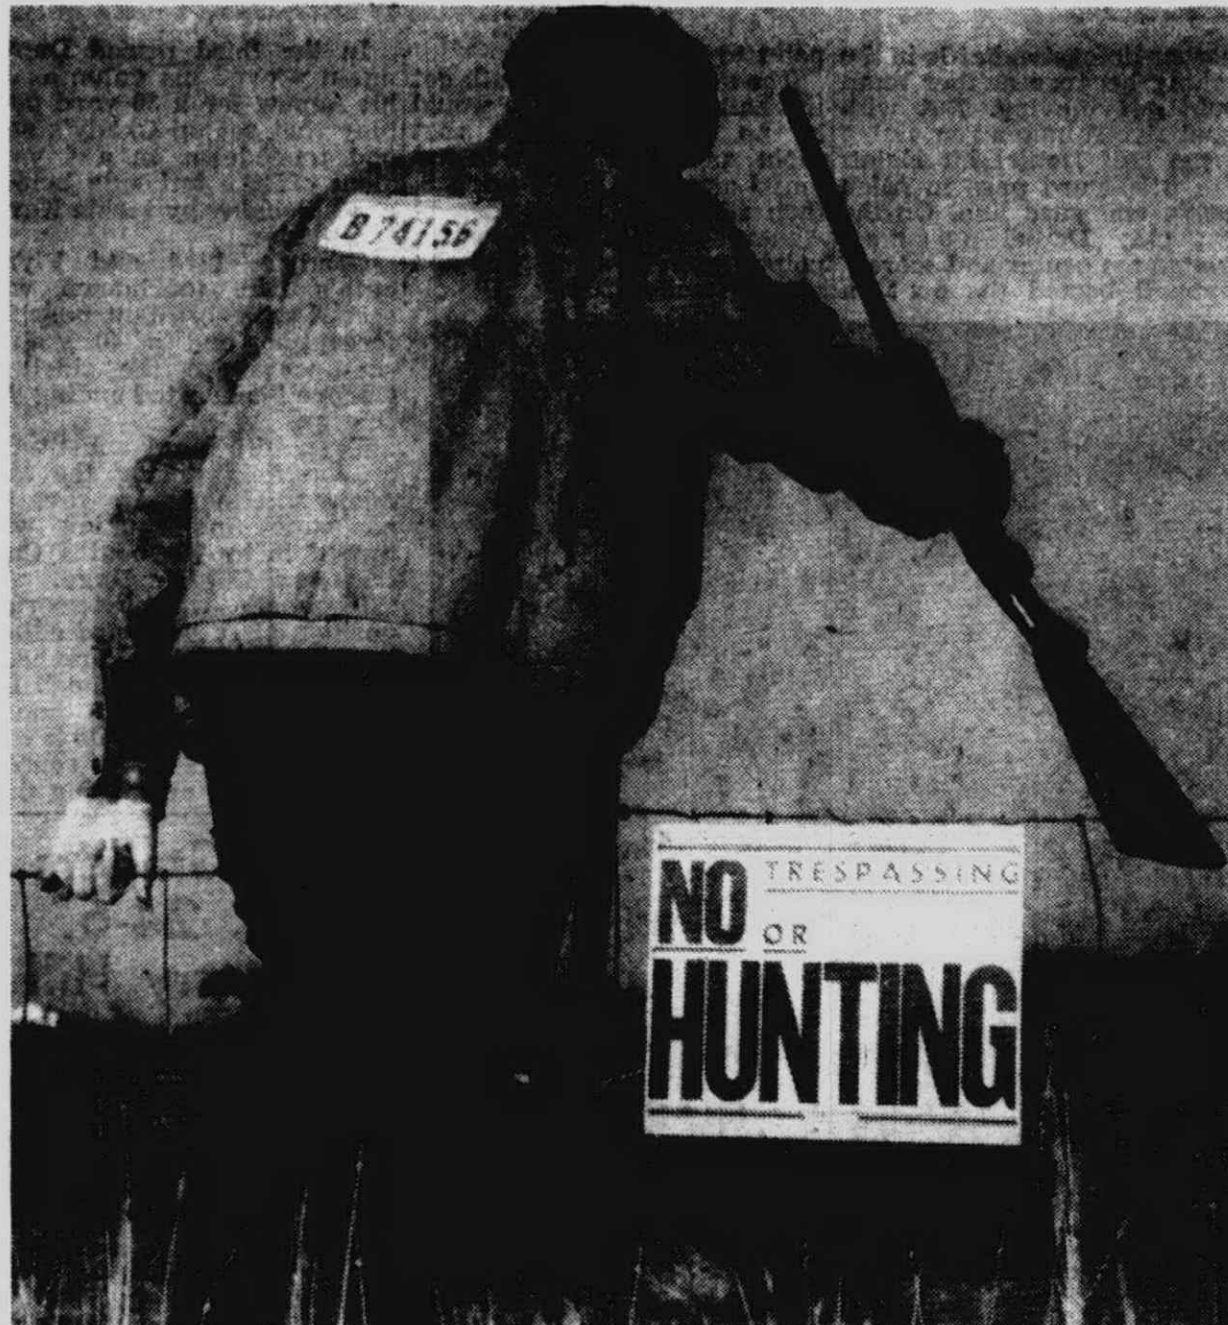

Many thanks,
Mrs. H. G. Olson,
President,
Cooperative Nursery
