Set Cornerstone at Plymouth City Hall Ceremonies Friday

Cornerstone laying ceremonies went off without a hitch Friday at Plymouth's new City Hall as State and Federal officials, headed by Senator Philip A. Hart and Representative Martha W. Griffiths, paid tribute to the Plymouth Community for its foresight and look to the future.

City Manager Albert Glassford presided at the pre-ceremonies laying program and introduced dignitaries to the crowd attending.

Former city commissioners William C. Hartmann, Marvin E. Terry and Robert J. Sincock were present. Sincock presided at the actual laying of the cornerstone with Senator Hart and Rep. Griffiths.

Plymouth Township was represented by Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay, Clerk John D. McEwen and Trustee C. Veach Sparks. Representing the Plymouth Community School district were School Board President Gerald Fischer and Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister.

Municipal Building Authority representatives included Louis Borregard, Joseph E. Near and Harold E. Guenther. Guenther urged those present to remain aware of the event.

"On your left," he said, "is a building that will be gone forever. On your right is a new, beautiful building. Create a memory. Be a part of it."

"Nowhere else, except in the Plymouth Community, is the example of free people working together better illustrated," Rep. Griffiths noted.

"On the one hand is the library, and on the other one of the best schools in the 17th Congressional District." Noting the passing of the old City Hall, she said:

"We salute the next 100 years."

William Coughlin, personal representative of Governor Romney, presided at the ceremony.

Memorial Day Rites Set for Kellogg Park

Final plans have been set for annual Memorial Day activities in Plymouth to be highlighted by the traditional bridge ceremony and parade and climaxed by rites at Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

Veterans groups will assemble in Kroger's parking lot at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and will march to the Hillside Inn lot for the final bridge assembly.

From Hillside, the group will go to the bridge where Navy Mothers will conduct the annual rite of placing a wreath on the waters of the Rouge River. From there, the marchers will return to the lot at Kroger's for the main parade assembly.

Service post and auxiliary officers will be introduced to the crowd. They include Commander VFW, Mayflower Post No. 6955 Duane Johnson; VFW Auxiliary President Mrs. Johnson; Commander, American Legion, Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 Ernest Koi; and American Legion Auxiliary President Mrs. Lillian Kinghorn.

Others include Navy Mothers Club President Mrs. M. Schomberger; Northwest Detachment Marine Corps League Commandant Lyle Leveille; and Lt. Col. Richard Marks of Flight "A", 9632nd Air Reserve Squadron.

Spanish American War Veterans will be introduced by H. M. Dobson, C. Herbert Goyer and Thomas Gray.

Robert Bartlett of the Plymouth High School Student Council will give a recitation and the Plymouth Junior High Band under the baton of Laurence Livingston will perform.

Mrs. Scheppele, accompanied by Gerald Fischer, will sing "Christ in Flanders." The VFW drill team will conduct the Memorial wreath ceremony. Rites include the laying of the wreath by Commanders Johnson and Koi; a three volley salute by the drill team; taps by bugler Harry Krumm and benediction by the Rev. Fr. Renaud.

Proceeds will go toward a scholarship to the National Music Camp at Interlochen. Tickets are $3 per couple; $1.75 single and 75 cents for children.

Donations for dancing and a door prize will be accepted.

Bright Spot is Provided In Friday's Ceremonies

A bright spot in what otherwise would have been pretty much a routine ceremony was provided at Plymouth's new City Hall Friday afternoon by venerable Plymouthite Karl Starkweather.

Speaking on the history of the old City Hall, Starkweather received thunderous applause from both the crowd and others present on the platform. A portion of the 75-year-old Starkweather's remarks follow:

"It . . . becomes my sad pleasure to recount for you — as well as I may be able — some of the vicissitudes having to do with our still revered old City Hall.

"And surely she should deserve passing mention before the time of her end . . .

"It so happens that I remember the old City Hall while that symbol of the past was still proudly new. In fact, the two of us are of equal age . . . The main difference between the two of us could be this — that while the old City Hall is destined to soon become a mere pile of rubble, I plan to be around for quite a while yet."

Referring to a controversy that surrounded construction of the old building, Starkweather then continued:

"There soon arose two opposing factions. Those (who) wanted a combination Village Hall and Village Opera House." Others, he said, simply wanted a Village Hall.

"Both sides," Starkweather noted, "had loyal adherents . . .

"Plymouth's new Village Hall Opera House was finally completed and was turned over to and accepted by the village fathers on Jan. 6, 1890. . . .

HE POINTED out that the building became the local . . .

AT METTETAL:

Issue Objection to Flight Plan Change

Objecting to a flight pattern change order issued recently by the Federal Aviation Agency to the owners of Plymouth's Mettetal Airport, city commissioners Tuesday evening went on record opposing the change.

The governing body assigned Commissioner Arch Vallier and City Attorney Edward F. Draugelis to meet with FAA officials, inform them of the city's objection, and ask for an explanation.

The FAA order, dated March 3, instructed Mettetal to change its flight pattern from a standard left hand pattern to one half left and one half right hand.

At present the standard pattern takes half of the aircraft operating from Mettetal over the city limits of Plymouth. Under the new order all aircraft would be brought over the city and its schools.

Draugelis told commissioners at the Tuesday meeting that airport owners feel the order is unsafe, both for pilots and city residents.

Contacted by The Plymouth Mail last week, Marvin Mettetal, one of the airport's co-owners, said he was at a loss to explain the agency's order. He said the half left, half right order makes it confusing for pilots.

There are hardly any homes to the east and south of the airport, Mettetal noted.

FAA official, Daniel Vucurevich, chief of the Willow Run and Metropolitan Airport Towers and in charge of traffic patterns in nearby airports, said the change was made to prevent conflict of aircraft operating out of Mettetal with airplanes flying from the National Airport on

City's Budget O.K.'d, Same Tax Rate Holds

Plymouthites were assured that the City's taxes for the coming year would remain the same on assessed valuation as commissioners voted Tuesday evening, May 19 to hold taxes at the current rate of $14.65 per thousand.

The resolution passed unanimously and was incorporated into budget adoption resolution passed at the same meeting. The general fund budget for the 1964-65 year, as approved, includes appropriations of $766,253, compared with an initial budget request of $762,387.

Revenue is expected to equal expenditures. The general fund was cut $4,200 from (Continued on Page 8)

In a Nutshell...

- ★ Building in Plymouth surged upward in April as permits for construction estimated at $273,370 were issued by the city's Building Safety Department. Included were five multiple dwelling units at $169,000 and two industrial projects valued at $38,200. The figures were released last week by Charles Thompson, inspector.
- ★ Authorization to establish a non-profit television agency was granted Schoolcraft College's administration by the board of trustees at a recent meeting. College administrators have been authorized to establish the agency, using ultra-high frequency channels in co-operation with area boards of education.
- ★ A series of proposals to assure progress for state public schools were issued last week by three groups of educators including the Wayne County Association of School Boards, the Wayne County Superintendent's Association and the Michigan Association of School Boards. Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister of Plymouth took part as a member of the superintendent's association.
- ★ Attending a symposium in East Lansing last week on the subject of industrial development was a Plymouth realtor, Leon Merriman of Leon Merriman Realty. The conference, held in conjunction with Michigan Week, stressed methods of attracting industry to the community.
- ★ As of Monday, Plymouth Township dog license sales were down 128 over the same date last year. The township has issued 448 tags, according to clerk John D. McEwen. Beginning next Monday, fines will be levied against dog owners who have not purchased licenses.
- ★ A truck owned by Heide's Greenhouse of Plymouth was completely demolished last Wednesday and damage was estimated in excess of $1,000 after another vehicle pulled out in front of the truck driver at the intersection of Five Mile and Newburgh Roads. No one was injured in the crash, according to greenhouse owner Norman R. Ruehr.

Set City Land Prices, Legion Carnival Dead

Prices were set on city properties to be handled by local realtors and the American Legion's plans for a Memorial Day Carnival were cancelled in action taken at last Tuesday evening's meeting.

In authorizing local realtors to handle city properties for sale, commissioners noted that urban renewal property would be listed for $7,000 to $7,400 per acre.

On a motion from Commissioner George Lawton, the governing body agreed to set prices at the city's industrial park at $7,500 per acre including setback on front parcels and $5,500 per acre for back lots with the understanding that the commission would negotiate price.

Commissioners voted to ask for a five per cent, good faith deposit on sales of all property.

AN AMERICAN Legion representative told commissioners his group had cancelled an engagement with a carnival for Memorial Day and requested a delay until June 15-21.

But Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce representatives protested the request, noting that their organization had signed a contract with a Columbus, O. carnival guaranteeing no other carnivals in the area during 30 days prior to and after the Fourth of July.

Predict Record Crowd For Fourth of July

With assurances from both Gov. George Romney and 17th Congressional District Representative Martha W. Griffiths that they both will attend the annual Fourth of July celebration, Plymouth JayCees continued to set plans for the event.

Parade chairman Ron Coosaia predicted a record turnout of 15,000 persons because of the Governor's appearance.

Romney is scheduled to arrive in Plymouth about 1:15 p.m. and will be escorted directly to the parade lineup area. He will walk the entire length of the parade route from N. Union and Main St. down Main to Hartsough and left to Junior High School East where the parade will disband.

Mrs. Griffiths will ride in a replica of a 1903 Oldsmobile with JayCee President Wendell Smith. At the parade field of Junior High East, she will present trophies for the best floats and marching units.

FEATURED in the parade, as in the past, will be Miss Plymouth, her court and all other Miss Plymouth contest entries. They will ride in convertibles provided by local car dealers.

Honor Industry at Two Mich. Week Programs

The Plymouth Community paused to honor industry last week in two separate programs: one on Wednesday evening sponsored by the Industrial Development Corporation and the Michigan Week Committee and the other on Friday and sponsored by the committee and Plymouth Rotary.

Visiting Senator Philip A. Hart and Representative Martha W. Griffiths participated in the Friday noon program.

Senator Hart presented a certificate of appreciation for contribution to the community to James Bradburn of Burroughs Corporation. Bradburn was cited for his selection as producer of Michigan's product of the year.

In accepting the certificate, Bradburn noted that the firm is moving more and more of its manufacturing out of Detroit to its Plymouth plant. Referring to the firm's selection for production of the recently introduced E2100 direct accounting computer, Bradburn commented:

"We are proud of Plymouth and the people in the community who have helped us to do the job."

Rep. Griffiths followed with presentations of certificates to representatives of three firms who have located in the Plymouth Community since the first of this year. They are:

Thermax Corporation, Ben Milt, president; E & E Manufacturing Co., Walter Smith, president; and Specialty Coatings, Inc., Sam Slikin, president. Prior to the presentation, when she was introduced, Rep. Griffiths quipped:

"I wish the entire Michigan legislature was here with us today—so I could be sure they aren't cutting up my district." Forseeing the possibility of the districting change announced Saturday, Mrs. Griffiths said she felt honored to have served the Plymouth Community for a ten-year period.

The two legislators came to Plymouth Friday from President Lyndon B. Johnson's party in Ann Arbor. Other guests at the Friday luncheon included Miss Margaret Dunning who acted as hostess for Rep. Griffiths, Michigan Week Chairman William J. Nelson and Mayor Pro-Tem James Hough.

U.S. District Attorney Larry Gubow, Heritage Day chairman Sidney Strong and Livelihood Day chairman George Lawton also attended.

AT WEDNESDAY night's meeting, sponsored by the Industrial Development Corporation, similar certificates of appreciation were given to representatives of three industries who have recently announced expansion projects in the community.

Paying tribute to W. C. Scott, president of Plymouth's DSI Corp., Livelihood Day chairman Lawton noted a "new and refreshing atmosphere in the community" as contrasted with the situation six years ago when Plymouth's main industry was at odds with the Governor.

Lawton noted that a change in leadership had resulted when the Daisy Air Rifle Company had left Plymouth and the challenge of bringing industry to town had arisen. DSI, he said, was the first new firm to locate here.

In presenting the certificate, Lawton cited Scott, Vice President of DSI W. P. Scott, and chief engineer James McKeon.

INDUSTRIAL Development Corporation treasurer Harvey Ziel, introduced by Lawton as "a man who hasn't been given enough credit," presented a certificate to Harold Head, president of Detroit Color Lab.

Noting that the film processing firm's expansion would mean 45 to 50 new jobs for Plymouth, Ziel introduced five persons closely connected with the company. They are:

Head, John Banks, Harold Keenan, Harold Evans and Frank Kierdorf. "We would like to formally welcome them to the Plymouth Community," Ziel said.

IDC vice president Harold Guenther made the last presentation of the evening, commenting that a few years ago a meeting of this type highly unlikely.

"It hasn't been too long ago that an industrialist was just someone the community put up with," Guenther pointed out that industry is now wooed for its tax base and the contribution to the community of its payroll.

CITING THE millions of dollars that have gone into the pockets of Plymouth since Evans Products Company has been here, Guenther presented a certificate to Don Ward, representing the firm. Ward expressed appreciation for Evans Products as he accepted the award. Concerning the company's recently announced $1.5 million expansion, he said:

"Our decision to expand was a very considered decision. Other communities

Holdup Men Take $540 Teens Win Bonds at Road-E-O

Two men, one brandishing a chrome-plated, snub-nosed revolver, held up a Plymouth grocery store Sunday afternoon and escaped with an estimated $540.

Sami George, proprietor of Kelley's Grocery located at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Mill St., told police the pair took $300 from the store's cash register and another $240 from the wallet of his brother, Rimon.

He said the two men came into the store, went to the meat counter and waited until the store was empty. Then one pulled a revolver and said, "This is a stickup."

GEORGE told officers when he went to the cash register and began removing bills, the man with the gun said, "We want it all. Turn around. We want your wallets too."

The men took a wallet from George's brother, Rimon, but missed a billfold in the front pocket of the proprietor, police said.

After the holdup, George said, he ran to the front door but saw nothing. From the back window of the store, he said, he saw a car drive away from an adjoining lumber company. Plymouth police are continuing their investigation.

Two Plymouth teenagers, Burt Quinn and Dennis Fuelling, were awarded first and second prizes Saturday in the Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual teen age Road-E-O held at Junior High East.

Quinn won a trophy and a $50 savings bond and Fuelling was awarded a $25 savings bond. Denise Dayharsh took top place among the girls participating in the Road-E-O.

Driving cars provided by local automobile dealers, 16 teenagers competed in the test of driving skill. The first five winners were:

QUINN, first; Fuelling, second; William Johnson, third; Miss Dayharsh, fourth; and Tom Strebley, fifth. Other entries included:

Pete Harris, Camille Bellmore, Coral Zalma, Paul Campbell, Larry Smith, Jim Beglinger, John Park, Linda Barney, Steve Stribley and Leslie Greshaw. All were given safe driving certificates.

Quinn, Fuelling and Miss Dayharsh will compete in state competition on July 31 at Madison Heights. JayCece supervising the event included Joseph Fletcher, Gary Hall, Ray Jacobs, John Russo, Dick Horn and John Murawski.

Cars were provided by West Brothers Motors, Inc., Leo Calhoun Ford and Ernest Allison, Inc., Chevrolet Dealer.

There are more than 800 types and grades of grease.

Township's Planners Table 90-Foot Lot Zoning Request

Following almost an hour of heated discussion the Plymouth Township Planning Commission tabled the application by the J.A.R. Corporation to rezone the northeast corner of Joy and Beck Roads.

The corporation requested zoning be changed to R-1-S, suburban residential district requiring 90 foot lot minimums, from R-1-E, country estates districts requiring one acre minimum lots. A stormy hearing was held on the proposal last month.

Planning Commissioner Clayton Koch moved that the petition stand as originally presented and be denied following a discussion between the commission, township residents and Samuel Stoller, representing the development firm, on the possibility of compromise of 1/2 acre lot minimums. Koch later withdrew his motion so that the matter could be discussed again at the next regular meeting.

RAY HULCE, of McClumpha Rd., told the commission that original zoning required three acre lot minimums, then was changed to one acre lots, and finally, for Woodlure subdivision, the minimum was dropped to 1/2 acre lots. Hulce expressed concern that the total character of the area might be changed if rezoning continues.

"We are being choked because we're being asked to subdivide into 1/2 acre lots," Stoller told the planning commission. He explained it would cost $7,000 to subdivide the 44 acres of land into 1/2 acre lots making the project not feasible because the lots would be too expensive. Chairman Irving Rozian reminded Stoller that the corporation took a risk when they requested rezoning.

In other action a motion to send a rezoning request, making possible an enclosed mall shopping center at the southwest corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor roads, to the Wayne County Coordinating Commission for further approval was defeated with a tie vote. Voicing their approval of the zoning change were Commissioners Tivadore Balogh, Carl Hartwick and Rozian.

Commissioners Russell Ash, Austin Stecker and C. V. Sparks voted against the change, while Koch abstained from voting. Commissioners Bruce Kolak and Art Haeske were absent.

SPARKS said he felt the change in zoning would be premature. Ash also expressed the feeling that it might be premature and pointed out that the northeast corner of Sheldon Rd. has been zoned for a shopping center and no building plans have been made.

The commission also tabled action on the request by Ten Mile Lake Building Company to zone their land bounded by Napier, Powell and Ann Arbor Rd., for 1/2 acre lots with some land zoned commercial and garden apartments. Paul Boatman representing the company, told the commission in a letter that plans for a lake on the property had been postponed indefinitely.

Boatman requested that a public hearing be held on the rezoning as soon as possible, preferably in June.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay reminded the commission that rezoning is a big proposition and decisions should not be made in a hurry.

ROZIAN enumerated requirements to be met by the building company before a public hearing could be held:

(1.) Special metes and bounds description of each parcel - residential, commercial and garden apartments;

(2.) Discussion with Supervisor Lindsay, township Engineer Herald Hamill and planning consultant W. C. Johnson of the feasibility of sewer and water from the township point of view and evidence of the company's investigation of the situation;

(3.) Presentation of a clear picture of plans to the public.

Action was tabled on rezoning applications from Avis Goodale, of 47941 Powell Rd., for a sectional triangle of Ann Arbor and Joy Rd.; Wilfred Bunyca, 40595 Joy Rd., for ten acres of land on the east side of Haggerty Rd., between Ann Arbor and Joy Rd. from single family to multiple; Loren Gould, 13925 Ridgewood Dr., for the northeast corner of Ann Arbor and Haggerty Roads from one family residential to professional offices;

The application for a building permit by John Korcu, of 12952 Beck Rd., was also tabled until the history of the land is studied. The commission explained that if a parcel of land has been subdivided five or more times then the application must be made to the state rather than the township, under the Plat Act.

Michigan Week In Plymouth ...

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP MINUTES

Minutes Tuesday, May 12, 1964:
The regular meeting of the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees was called to order by Supervisor Lindsay at 8:06 P.M. with all members being present.
Upon motion by Dick Lauterbach, supported by Louis Norman, the minutes of the April 14, 1964 meeting were approved and distributed.
Supervisor Lindsay read list of current bills totaling $12,947.00 and upon motion by Ralph Garber, supported by Dick Lauterbach, it was unanimously approved that payments be made thereon.
A communication from the Supervisor advising the Board of the promotion of Mr. Fred Knapp to Sergeant in the Plymouth Township Fire Department effective May 13, 1964 was received and filed.
Two resolutions were presented and passed amending the original maturity schedule of the 1964 Water & Sewer Bonds to be sold to that of thirty (30) years.
Ordinance No. 14, known as the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Plymouth was amended by increasing the level of the Zoning Ordinance by the addition of a new article to become and be known as ARTICLE IX, A. R-2A Garden Apartment Residential Districts. (See public notice elsewhere in this paper.)
The recommendation of the Planning Commission to rezone from C-2 Commercial District to an R-2 Multiple Family Residential District was approved. Said parcel of land lies west of the extension of Eckles Road and south of Plymouth Road across from the Barnes, Gibson, Raymond Plant. (Detailed description on Zoning Map No. 204 published May 19, 1964, in the Plymouth Mail.)
A request for specific authorization from the Township Board to retain Brashear, Brashear, and Associates as project architect for final action against the Evans Products Company for alleged violation of the Plymouth Township Zoning Ordinance No. 14, pertaining to air pollution was received. Considerable discussion followed after the Supervisor released a letter received in date from the Evans Products outlining their current action being taken to eliminate this pollution problem. It was then moved by Ralph Garber, supported by Dick Lauterbach, that the Supervisor be authorized to retain Brashear, Brashear and Associates to represent the Township and meet with representatives of Evans Products to pursue this problem further.
In response to a request from the Parkway Clinic it was moved by John D. McEwen, supported by Louis Norman, that the increase in fees for boarding of stray dogs, including euthanasia and disposal, from $4.00 to $5.00 be approved, commencing July 1, 1964. Carried unanimously.
A communication from Mr. Keith of the Keith Heating and Air Conditioning Co. requesting the adoption of the ASA B-9 Reciprocal Refrigeration Code previously recommended by this Board, was moved by Ralph Garber, supported by John D. McEwen, that this be tabled until the next meeting. The motion lost.
Considerable discussion was held relative to the necessity of this type of ordinance at this time. Mr. Thebaud, Inspector of Garden City, explained the reasons why this type of ordinance would be beneficial to this area.
It was moved by Elizabeth Holmes, supported by Louis Norman, that the code, as presented, be adopted. An amendment by John D. McEwen, that this ordinance be referred to our attorney for examination and the insertion of fees, etc. lost for lack of support.
Supervisor Lindsay then voted Aye, carrying the original motion.
A communication from the Housing Board members to endorse an Open Housing Covenant sponsored by the Plymouth Community Human Relations Assembly was read by the Supervisor. Mr. Norman Toobin, spokesman for the group present urged the endorsement of this Covenant stating that it has already been approved, in part, by the City of Plymouth Commission, and that he had just returned from the Garden Township meeting, which Board deferred action until they had an opportunity to meet with their members currently on the Human Relations Commission. It was moved by Dick Lauterbach, supported by C. V. Sparks, that this Board refer this Covenant to the Plymouth Township members of the Human Relations Commission. Carried unanimously.
Five resolutions were then passed, wherein the Wayne County Drain Commissioner will relinquish certain Township Drain Districts and the Township agrees that upon transfer of said jurisdiction it shall assume the maintenance, jurisdiction, control and operation thereof. The Drain Districts are as follows:
(3) Butternut Tile Drainage Dist., incl. Butternut Tile Drain, R-6.
At the request of the Building Inspector, Mr. Matt McEwen, the original swimming pool ordinance it was moved by John McEwen, supported by C. V. Sparks, that the current Ordinance No. 20, be referred to the Planning Consultants, Walter and Johnson, to prepare a new ordinance updating it with those of surrounding municipalities. Carried unanimously.
The Michigan State Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 29, offered by Senator DeWolfe, relative to Police Week and Peace Officers Memorial Week, designating the week of May 13 and May 15 of each year as Peace Officers Memorial Day was approved unanimously upon a motion by Ralph Garber, supported by Elizabeth Holmes.
A Resolution acknowledging the services of Messrs. Fred E. Davids, Michigan State Police, LaVerne Fiscner, Fire Chief, Reulford Township and Alex Kato, Fire Chief of Taylor Township, in assisting the Plymouth Township Civil Service Commission in conducting a promotional examination, was carried unanimously.
Respectfully submitted
John D. McEwen, Clerk
Approved by Roy R. Lindsay

The new plan will, in effect, double the number of planes operating over the city.

National Airport Manager Johnny Parker told The Plymouth Mail the only time the two fields have a conflict is when hot weather affects the rate of climb of planes.

Others close to the case said a rumor was circulating that a new subdivision, to be built east of Mettetal, had some way influenced the FAA decision.

City Budget

Commissions whittled away a request for $4,000 to construct a walkway to the central parking lot from Main St.

ADDED TO the original request was a $412 item for welfare expenses, $11,454 for unappropriated reserve and $200 for the city's contribution to the operation of the Plymouth Human Relations Commission.

In addition $20,145 was appropriated for Riverside Cemetery operation; $8,485 was budgeted for parking system expense; $51,418 was set for the equipment fund; $21,760 will be used for retirement of special assessment bonds.

Among other action taken by the governing body, commissioners approved a resolution recognizing the recently appointed Fall Festival Board and its authority to conduct and supervise the annual event.

Late Publisher Honored

George C. Booth, publisher and editor of the News. George Catlin, Detroit News editorial writer and Detroit historian.

Philip Adler, Detroit News foreign editor. William C. Richards, Free Press assistant city editor and author of "The Last Billionaire."

Douglas D. Martin, managing editor of the Free Press and head of the fiction of Arizona.

Linwood I. Noyes, founder and editor of the Ironwood Globe. Louis A. Weil, Sr., editor of the Port Huron Times-Herald.

John C. Lodge, city editor of the Free Press, columnist, and mayor of Detroit. Clarence Buddington Kelland, Detroit News reporter and renowned fiction writer.

Choosing a select group from the state's many outstanding journalists was no easy task, the Press Club's newsletter noted.

"Traveling shows — for two or three day stands — came here," Starkweather reminisced.

"Sharpsteen's Medicine Show always stayed for a full week. Admittance was free but the cure-alls were the kill. The actors became pitchers between the acts, and down the aisles they came to sell potions for whatever it was that ailed you."

"I REMEMBER my grandfather, in his long frock coat, during a political rally, saying to his hearers from the stage platform, that he believed the day would come when women would be allowed to vote."

"Well, these are just a few of the highlights pertaining to our old but still revered City Hall."

"It's understood that it will cost $4,500 to knock our old friend down. And that's just about the total cost to erect it in the first place."

"Goodbye, Mrs. Calabash," Starkweather concluded as he took his seat among others on the platform. The audience obviously moved, seemed to enjoy his remarks.

He got the biggest round of applause of the day.

All interested parties will be given an ample opportunity to participate in the hearing, and at the close of the hearing, all comments, and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the City Commission before making its decision.

A copy of the item scheduled for hearing is on file in the office of the City Clerk during regular office hours for public examination.

Set Charter Election Date

An election to elect a new charter commission for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights has definitely been set for the same date as the 1964 state and county primary balloting, according to action taken Tuesday by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Unanimously, by an 87-0 vote, supervisors approved a resolution setting the election. Wayne County Clerk Edgar M. Branigan noted that the filing date for candidates for the charter commission would be June 16 at 4 p.m., based on an Aug. 4 election date.

Petitions must be filed in the county clerk's office, Room 211, City-County Building, Detroit. In passing the resolution supervisors noted: "Upon examination of the facts in the case and applicable statutes, it has been determined that said petition is in full conformity with the provisions of applicable law."

Votes have been held in the past on two proposed charters for the City of Plymouth Heights, to be located in Plymouth Township. Both were defeated.

Set Cornerstone

(Continued from Page 1) erior George Romney, pointed to the new building as an example of the resurgence of Michigan. He extended regrets from the Governor at being unable to attend and delivered best wishes for continued success.

Former city manager Sidney Strong detailed the contents of the cornerstone box for those present and Historical Society representative Karl Starkweather spoke on the history of the old City Hall.

The invocation was given by Dr. Henry Welch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and the benediction was delivered by the Rev. Fr. Alfred Renaud of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Michigan Week Chairman William J. Nelson introduced honored guests. Others in attendance included: Mayor Pro Tem James Houk and Commissioners Robert Beyer, James Jabara, George Lawton, Robert Smith and Arch Vallier; U. S. District Attorney Lawrence Gubow; representatives from Plymouth Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, JayCeos and Optimist clubs; Chamber of Commerce Representatives and architect Byron Becker.

Wandering Balloons Returning

Point Pleasant, N.J., Mitchelville, Md.; Washington, Pa.; Pelee Island and Bloomingdale, O. are a few of the places where balloons, launched by elementary school children in the Junior Space Race, May 18, have landed.

About 400 cards had been returned to Plymouth Schools by Tuesday morning; a number of them were found in lakes and rivers, farm fields and golf courses.

One youngster at Smith School received 30 letters, including one from a girl who used to live in Plymouth — he wrote on his card that he would win if he received the most letters and a teacher found his balloon and had her children write to him.

A BALLOON sent from Bird School landed on a toy factory lawn. One woman who found a balloon sent her card back special delivery for 35 cents.

Indications are, based on new congressional districts approved by the Legislature Friday, that Martha W. Griffiths will no longer represent Plymouth and Plymouth Township in Congress. ## Symphony Receives $2,000 Bonus from Woman's League

A "bonus" check for $2,000 was presented to the Plymouth Symphony Society by the Symphony Women's League at the Society's annual meeting Wednesday, May 20.

The presentation was made by League president, Mrs. John Murphy to Arthur Haeske, president of the Society's Executive Board. In making the presentation, Mrs. Murphy explained that the additional money (above and beyond the group's pledge) was made available through the combined efforts of less than 100 women who plan and execute such activities as the Christmas Ball, Round Robin Bridge, Theater Parties, the Fall Festival Antique Sale and Pop Concert. She expressed appreciation for the public support of these projects and thanked her co-workers.

The Women's League had pledged $2,200 to the support of the orchestra for the 63-64 season and had given $2,300 to the orchestra as of Wednesday night. The bonus had been kept a secret and came as a happy and welcome surprise to the Society which has planned an expanded youth music program.

Mrs. Murphy retires as president of the Women's League this Spring. Succeeding her will be Mrs. Roger Zerby. About 60 persons attended the dinner meeting held at Junior High-East. It was set-up by a Women's League committee. Other highlights of the meeting were the introduction of Interlochen Scholarship winners and new board members.

Youngsters who were awarded the half-scholarships for two weeks of study at the famed music camp are Faye Langert, Jane Palmer, Craig Sineck, Stephanie Sanocki, Paulette Stenzel and Barbara Jones, all junior high age youngsters who have been members of school orchestras. The Symphony Society awarded five of the scholarships and the sixth was made possible by an anonymous donor.

New board members are Mrs. Zerby, Mrs. Donald Graham, Mrs. Arthur Larson, Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver, David Wood and James Thomas. Retiring members are Mrs. Frederick Foust, Mrs. John Moehele, Mrs. Fred Beitner, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Murphy and James Taylor.

In his report on the orchestra, Conductor Wayne Dunlap announced that there are 35 members in the orchestra who have served 10 years or more with the group. Many major orchestras are represented in the experience of the players who come from 17 communities in the greater Detroit area. The orchestra spent 6,650 hours in rehearsal last year and 2,800 hours in concert. The group begins its 19th season of concerts on Oct. 17, 1964.

Those attending the meeting heard a taped broadcast of a portion of a concert by the Plymouth Orchestra on radio station WUOM-FM, Ann Arbor, in celebration of Michigan Week, and a Bach violin concerto by Jane Palmer and Cheryl Drennan accompanied by Cathy Miller.

TREASURES FROM
Plymouth Pantries

DISHING UP her unusual "Sauerkraut Salad" is Mrs. Fred Hines, of 11505 Beck Rd. The recipe is an old German one given to Mrs. Hines by a Detroit friend, Mrs. Lester Hirtzel; it belonged to Mrs. Hirtzel's mother.

A deliciously different "Sauerkraut Salad" was given to Plymouth Pantries by a Plymouth area native, Mrs. Fred Hines, 11505 Beck Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Hines have lived on Beck Rd. since 1947. They lived in Detroit for a number of years, but Mrs. Hines grew up in the Salem area.

In addition to taking an active part in Senior Citizens, Mrs. Hines has been a past-matron and past grand-committee-woman for Eastern Star. Mrs. Hines is also a member of the Grange and belongs to several pinocle and bridge clubs. She now is purchasing agent for Senior Citizens.

Scattered throughout her house are needlepoint covered chairs which she has made.

"Sauerkraut Salad" is an old German recipe. It makes a nice salad to serve guests, according to Mrs. Hines, because it is unusual. She recommends buying a jar of sauerkraut rather than a can.

SAUERKRAUT SALAD
1 large jar sauerkraut
2 C. celery, finely cut
1 large carrot, finely cut
1 pepper, finely cut
1 large onion, finely cut
1 1/2 C. sugar
1/2 C. vinegar
1/2 C. salad oil
Mix well together and refrigerate for 24 hours. Makes 2 quarts.

HONOR STUDENT
Taddy I. Johnstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark M. Johnstone, of 16595 H-mer Rd., was one of 280 students at Michigan State University to achieve all A records during the winter term. Miss Johnstone is a freshman studying social sciences at State.

On the night of April 17th from 7:30 to 10:00, a Beate Ball was held for the 8th and 9th graders of Plymouth Junior High School East. Records by the Beatles made up the major portion of the music and prizes were handed out for different categories. Mr. Brown of our school acted as disc jockey.

The Latin Club and Latin classes have been very busy planning and taking field trips. On April 25th, eleven members of the Latin Club and Mrs. Geddes attended the Annual State Junior Classical League Convention in Ann Arbor. After a general assembly and individual work shops, lunch was provided for the group. Our school also was represented in a Latin vocabulary contest by Ted Johnson and Mythology contest by Kit Draw. On May 2nd, forty students of the Latin classes traveled by bus to the Madison Theatre to see "The Fall of the Roman Empire." Mrs. Geddes, Mr. Gos, and Mr. Borzi chaperoned.

THESE MOSAICS were recently finished by members of the Plymouth High School Art Club, under the direction of faculty advisor and art teacher Mrs. Sam Hudson. Working since before Christmas, Mrs. Hudson said the group felt they would like to leave something permanent to the high school. Made of broken dishes, discontinued tile samples and bargain pottery — assembled on plywood — the mosaics were designed by Sandi Zart. They were installed last week in the halls outside Principal Carvel Bentley's office. Looking at the mosaics, one of which represents the lamp of learning and the other athletic activities, are, left to right, Art Club President Paul Down, and club members Sue Holland, Mike Mueck and Carol Wheeler and Mrs. Hudson.

From making ash trays out of brass and copper for extra money while serving in the Danish Navy in the 1920's to becoming a die engraver, teaching a pewter class and painting is the road that John Groot, of 14205 Eckles Rd., has traveled.

His ambition was to be an artist originally, but his father insisted that he learn a trade, instead, said Groot who explained that his father held the "old world notion" that artists can't earn a living.

In four years as an apprentice in Denmark learning tool making and machines, he received the sum total of $50, plus room and board. Following his apprenticeship he entered the Danish Navy and worked in the engine room of a ship as an assistant engineer; it was during this time that he began making ash-trays.

Having read the stories of James Fenimore Cooper as a boy and wanting to see the country, Groot said he realized his dream of coming to the United States in 1923.

His first job in the United States was as a tool and die maker in the auto industry. He studied commercial art at the Detroit School of Applied Art in his spare time and in 1927 he got a job as an artist sketching book and catalogue covers for a Detroit book-binding company. He became interested in die making for the book bindery and took a job as the die maker for the company, in 1930.

In 1946 the firm he was working for changed locations, so he set up his own agencies and book binderies now hire him to make the covers and seals for books.

To make the small dies for embossing the craftsman must be both a blacksmith and an artist because of the fine patterns required, he says.

In making a die, Groot says he first makes a pattern out of zinc or plastic by hand, which he puts on a Pantograph to reduce to the proper size. The machine can make a much smaller die, Groot explained than he could make by hand. He then makes a clay impression to check his work. It takes him about 30 hours to make one small die.

The demand for his type of die making is lessening, Groot says, explaining that it is not as popular to have raised letters on book covers and it is also an expensive process. He added that young people today are not interested in learning the trade because they can earn more money more easily in other occupations.

Groot has also been teaching classes at Joy Road Studio for about two years. He is presently teaching a class in pewter making and one in oil painting at the Studio.

Junior High West News

Miss Gibson's Special English Class sponsored an essay contest corresponding with Michigan Week. The contest was open to all students at Jr. High West and had to be entitled "My Michigan." The chairman of the contest was Kay Reed. All of the essays were due by May 14 and were judged by the Special English Class. The essays were 100 words or less. Five winners were picked and the essays are posted on the bulletin board. The winners received scrolls and their homerooms had parties.

On May 7 the sixth graders presented a musical program in the cafeteria. The chorus sang a few selected numbers. Piano solos were played by Janet Alford and Paula Eichelz. Marjorie Foote presented an organ solo. A tap dance by Bonnie West was presented to the audience. Carla, Laura, and Karen Upton appeared as a vocal trio. On May 12 and 13th the 7-4's and the 7-10's held a science fair in room B-110. The fair was open to all students any time during the day. Each student in the two classes was required to submit a project. The projects were based on many fields of science.

The students of Jr. High West will not attend school on May 29 because of the Memorial Day weekend.

Kiwansians Pay Visit to Child's Hospital Ward

Tuesday evening, the Plymouth Kiwanis Club visited the Children's Ward of the University of Michigan Hospital to become better acquainted with those young people who are helped by the Kiwanis Clubs of Michigan through the Forney W. Clement Memorial Foundation.

THE UNIVERSITY received a 57 million grant from Charles Mott of Flint to build a new Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. When the building is complete, it will provide much needed space for expansion of treatment facilities at the University. The Hospital is self-supporting, relying on donations, grants and contributions for expansion and major remodeling. Walter Gemperline, Lt. Gov. of Kiwanis Division Six, will present the program on June 2. Bill Lyons is Program Chairman for June 9; and A. VanOrnum's program on June 16 will be "Union Pacific."

In the spring of 1922 a group of Kiwanians started a club project of furnishing play equipment to children in the U of M Hospital in Ann Arbor. This project has grown through the years and was formalized in 1944 as the Forney W. Clement Memorial Foundation.

The Foundation has established complete educational training from pre-school through the 12th grade and a complete recreational program in addition to special care for children critically burned or isolated because of disease.

CHILDREN who have been burned over 60% to 75% of their body have been prevented from dying as a result of the treatment developed in this facility. Children at the hospital include a youngster who was injured by diving into shallow water while swimming and must remain for a year, and young people with arthritis in their legs so they are unable to stand. Some youngsters cannot speak, others must breathe through an opening in their throat.

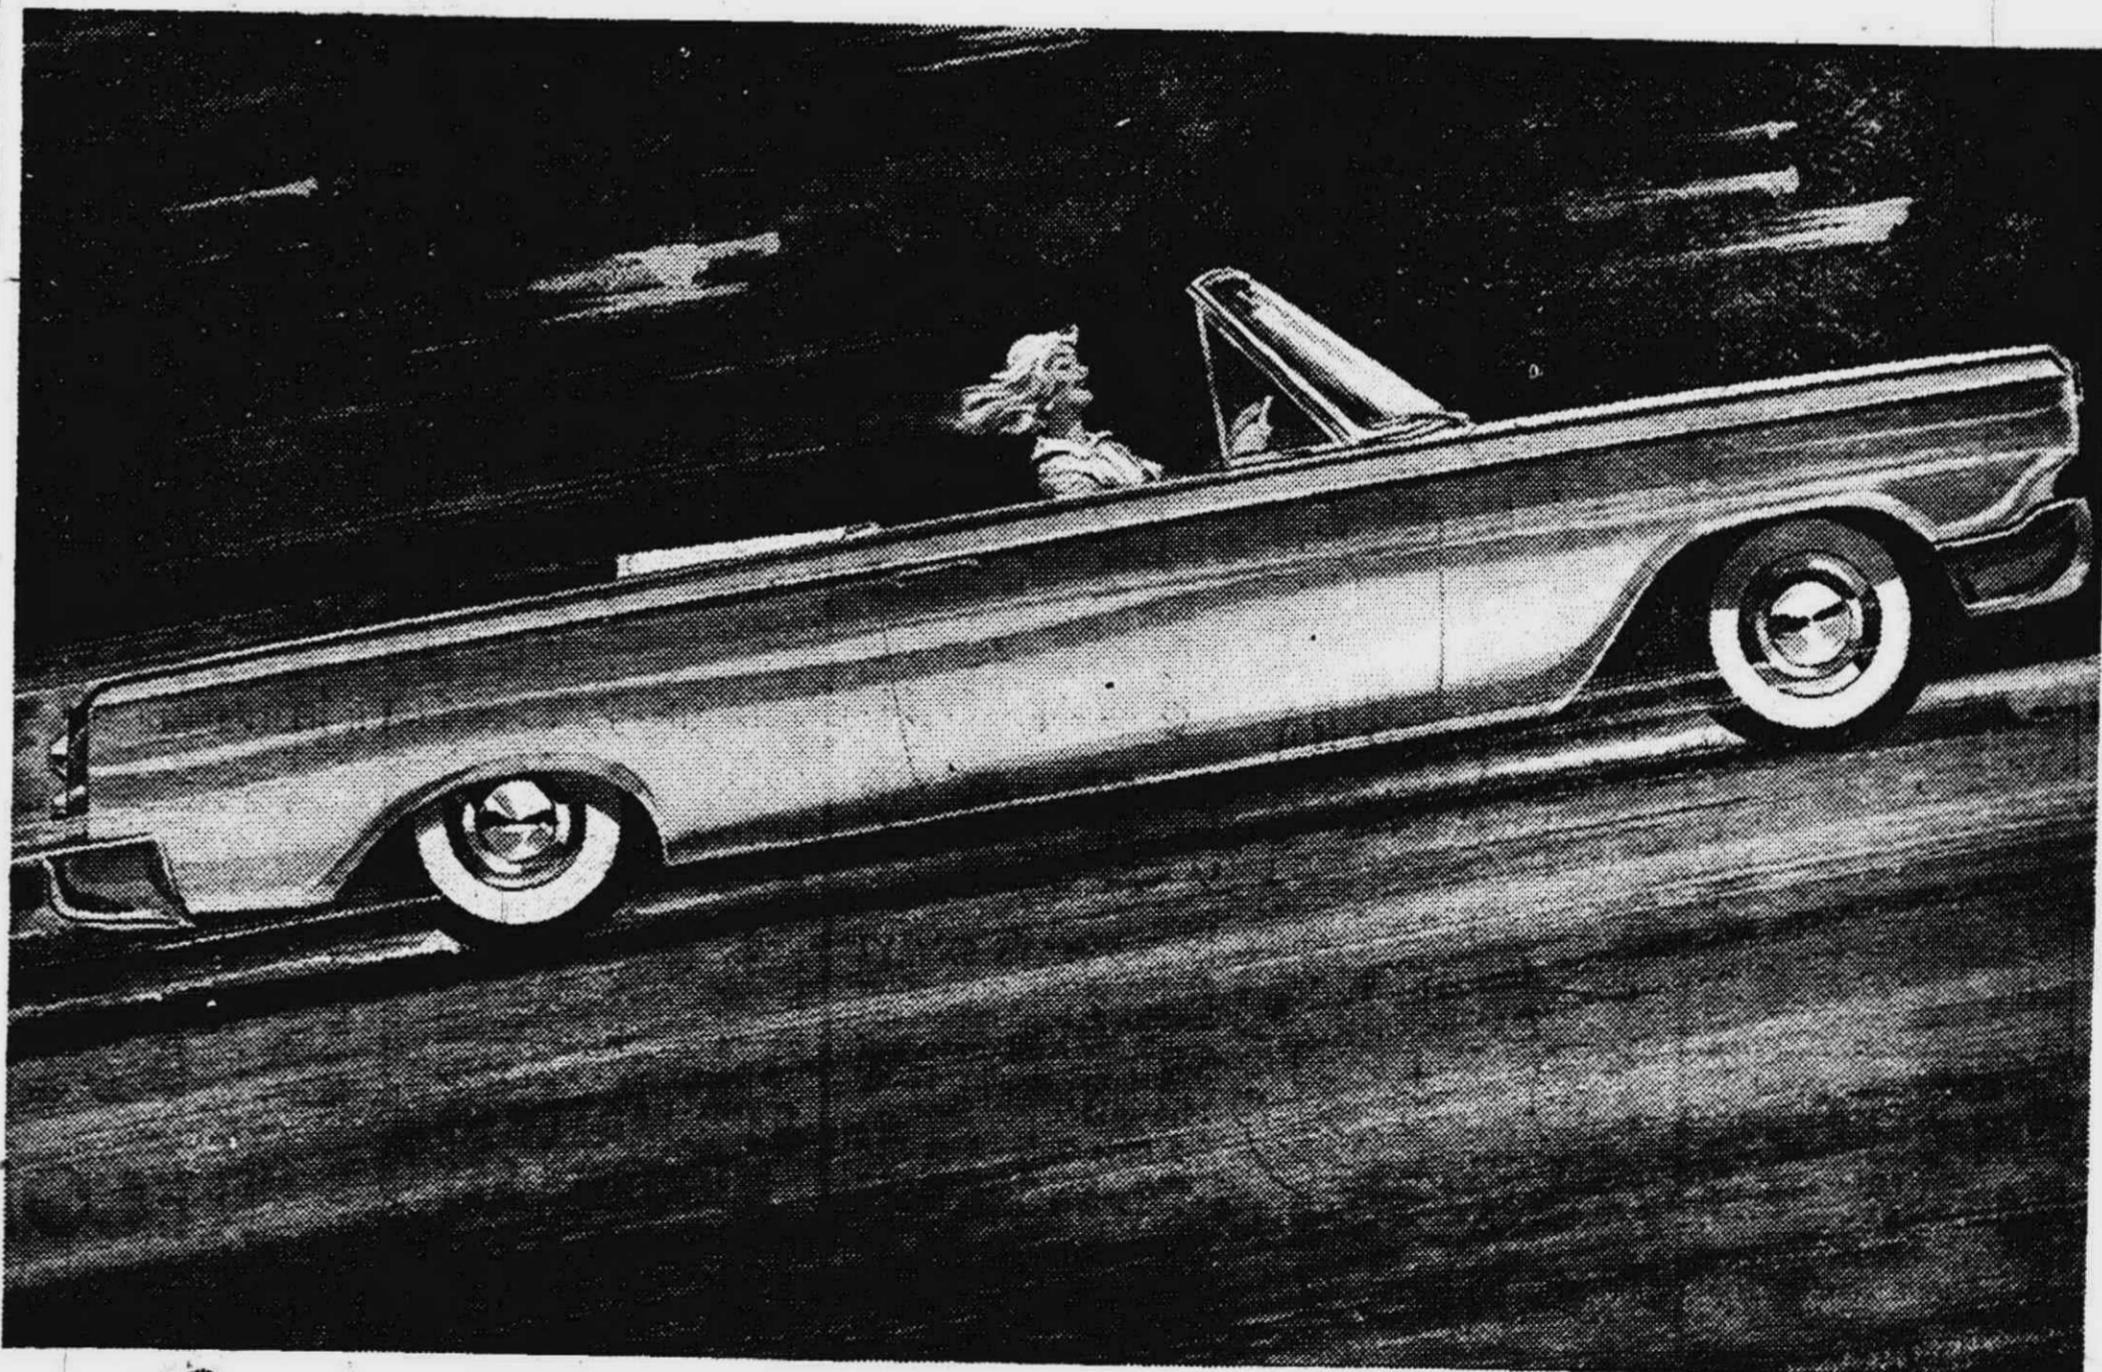

Mrs. Tonie Leeds, Section Supervisor, and Mr. Dean Lidgard, Assistant to the Director, conducted Kiwanians through the children's section of the Hospital.

The Forney Clement Foundation also supports the Mary Free-Bed Hospital in Grand Rapids. In 1963 over 3,000 children were helped by Kiwanis Clubs of Michigan.

You'll love the way it climbs, clings, and answers your commands

Scouting up hills, of course, isn't the only place Corvair's new engine comes in handy.

You'll also notice the difference on tamer stretches of road, even boringly long straight-aways. Only there the feeling's more like scooting downhill.

Some pretty good evidence of what we're talking about came in this year's International Canadian Winter Rally—1,300 miles of hills, '64 Corvair Monza Convertible curves and other stretches of unruly road calculated to test the rally-equipped cars and their expert drivers to the limit. Out of 141 entries Corvair was first overall winner.

But even if you don't plan to head for hill country on your vacation, there's still good reason to check the buys at your dealer's now. After all, who needs mountain air when there's a car like that Corvair convertible handy?

Set Charter

Another charter commission election appears in the offing on the question of changing Plymouth Township to the City of Plymouth Heights, according to action taken Thursday afternoon by the ways and means committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein, chairman of the ways and means committee, said the committee determined that it would be improper to hold another Plymouth Heights election in November during the national election.

The committee, he said, has recommended to the Board of Supervisors that the charter commission election be held at the time of the next primary election—the date of which is still unset. Action by the board is expected next Tuesday, Stein said.
