Evans Products Promises Action To End Township Smoke Problem

Definite steps are being taken to end the smoke problem which has plagued Plymouth Township for the past few years, according to Sam Hudson, director of public relations at Evans Products Company's Plymouth Township plant.

Hudson told township trustees at their Tuesday night, June 9 meeting that installation of an overfire jet system is being made at Evans and the addition of a flyash precipitator has been planned to help control flyash and smoke and to meet the requirements of the Township Ordinance.

Evans management is also considering installing a low load boiler for further control during summer months and the possibility of replacing the entire present system with gas, according to Hudson.

deleted and replaced by a statement of willingness "to work with him (any responsible person of whatever race, religion or national origin) to build, improve and maintain a community which is good for all."

APPROVAL of the appointments of Clark Finley, C. V. Sparks and John Welsher to the Plymouth Community Planning Commission were unanimously approved. The board also sent a directive to the commission saying that it would like the body to work on planning and developing the non-residential tax base of the Plymouth Community School District.

Arthur Haeske's resignation from the township planning commission was accepted by the Board. Haeske, who has served on the commission since 1960, stated in a letter that a change in residence outside the township limits necessitated his resignation, effective June 30.

The board tabled a motion for appointments to the Fire and Police Administration Board until the next meeting. At that meeting the fire study committee will present its final report including suggestions for structure and authority of the board.

Entries Roll in for Parade; Junior Chamber Hammers Out Final Plans

Set to lead the annual Plymouth Fourth of July parade, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce is the V.F.W. color guard from Mayflower Post 6695.

Parade chairman Ron Coosaia released further plans this week as the parade began to shape up for the annual celebration.

Entries have been received from the Kiwanis Club, winners of last year's float competition; Newcomers Club; Optimists; Business and Professional Women of Plymouth; Elks; American Legion; American Association of University Women and Plymouth Children's Nursery.

PRIZES will be awarded by Congressman Martha W. Griffiths following the parade for the best organizational and commercial floats and best organized and military drill teams.

Mrs. Griffiths is part of a list of dignitaries that includes Governor George Romney, Mayor Richard H. Wernette and Township supervisor Roy R. Lindsay.

Coosaia is still seeking entries for the parade. He may be contacted at GL 3-9478. Persons owning antique cars are urged to enter the parade, and scout troops and other youngsters are being encouraged to participate.

CHILDREN desiring to enter the parade should contact their recreation department supervisor. They will assemble behind the old Knights of Columbus Hall on Union St. at 1 p.m. on the Fourth.

At 1:30, the parade will start from the corner of N. Union and Main St. and will proceed down Main to Hartsoch to Junior High School East.

Other V.F.W. entries are expected to be men's and women's drill teams and a float. Knights of Columbus and the American Legion will both enter marching groups.

Last year's winner, Davis and Lent, and Elton's Marathon Service are the only entries so far in the commercial division. Featured by the JayCees will be the Amherstburg, Ont. Community Band, the Blue Angel Drum and Bugle Corps from Coldwater and the Ambassadors in Blue Drill Team from Scitridge Air Force Base.

PARADE judges include Bill Lyons, Kiwanis; Philip Tomohlen, Lions; Dick Merrim, Optimists; Gerald Fischer, Plymouth Community School Board; Jamiel J. Abbara, city government; John McEwen, township government and local attorney Edward F. Draughlis.

Reconsideration by the Federal Aviation Agency of their change in flight patterns at Mettetal airport will be requested by the City of Plymouth, according to a motion passed by Commissioners at their meeting Monday. Commissioners will send an official communication to the F.A.A.

Plymouth Man Shot Sunday

A 57-year-old Plymouth man was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia Sunday afternoon after he suffered a gunshot wound in the right side at Mango's Restaurant at 47660 Ann Arbor Rd.

Police said the victim was Matthew McIntosh of 41853 W. Five Mile Rd., Plymouth. They said the shooting, done by Francis Magnona, 56, owner of the restaurant, apparently followed an argument between McIntosh and the bartender at the restaurant.

McIntosh was shot with a .38 caliber revolver. Police said investigation is still underway.

To Ask F.A.A. to Reconsider Mettetal Flight Pattern Change

with the consent of Robert Mettetal to prevent possible collisions of planes taking off or landing at Mettetal and National airports.

He said direct control of planes through two-way radios is used at airports with control towers. At airports such as the two near Plymouth, that do not have control towers, traffic patterns are established and then reviewed yearly for any changes that should be made.

F. A. A. representative Dan Vucurevich told the commission the change in flight patterns had been made in consultation and tend a meeting to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber offices. Income in the proposed budget, submitted to Fall Festival Board Chairman James Thornton by John R. Herb, is expected to equal expenditures.

A BREAKDOWN of the budget includes $1,200 for publicity, $700 for entertainment, $500 for staff personnel, $100 for office expense, $1,000 to be spent on capital (Continued on Page 2)

COMMISSIONER Vallier pointed out to Vucurevich that the change in Mettetal's flight pattern would double the air traffic over the city.

At 4 p.m. everyday of the week the traffic is so thick from Mettetal over my house that I can't sit on the porch. Neil Davidson, of Rossvelt St., told the commissioners and Vucurevich.

In other action, commissioners denied a request from the Northwest Child Guidance Clinic for contribution of five cents for every person in Plymouth for support of the clinic.

THE CLINIC also requested 25 cents a student from the Plymouth Community Fund. Mayor Pro-Tem James Houk said that the city looks to the Community Fund to take care of this type of problem.

A representative of the clinic told the commissioners that a double request for funds is being made throughout the 19 school districts served by the clinic. (Continued on Page 2)

Eleven in Contest As Deadline Nears

The deadline is fast approaching for all girls 17 years old by June 1 to fill out their applications to enter the annual Miss Plymouth Contest, sponsored by Plymouth JayCees during July Fourth festivities.

Thursday is the last day contestants' applications will be accepted, according to Terry West, Miss Plymouth contest chairman. Only 11 entries have been received, West said.

Thursday is also the last chance merchants will be given to sponsor a girl for the contest.

TO ENTER the contest, you must either work or live in Plymouth and be at least 17 years old. Every girl entering will receive an eight by ten portrait of herself.

Miss Plymouth, who will be crowned during Fourth of July festivities, will receive a hat, crown, a set of matched luggage, jewelry, flowers and other gifts.

To either compete for Miss Plymouth title or sponsor a contestant, West urged persons to call him at GL 3-2509, or write Box 279, Plymouth.

In a Nutshell . . .

- ★ Delivery is expected in less than two weeks of a refuse container for the City of Plymouth's central parking lot. Superintendent of Public Works Joseph Bida said the container, on order for some time, will be delivered by Denski Bros., the city's refuse contractors. It will be used on a trial basis until costs can be determined.
- ★ Last week six teenagers stormed into The Mail office and said, "Hey, why don't you take our picture?" We did, and decided the shot would make a perfect photorial. They are, front row, left to right, Jennifer Bidwell, Vicki Kuhns and Jan Coxford. Rear, Mike Coxford, Brian Foust and Pat McCord. See them on this week's editorial page.
- ★ Checks totalling more than $700 were mailed last week to members of the Plymouth Trust Fund. Carrying an interest rate of three per cent per annum, the checks were sent to 50 participants who pledged $48,000 to bring the RCA plant to Plymouth. The checks were mailed with a covering letter signed by trustees Don Sutherland, Harold Guenther and George Lawton.
- ★ Necessary grounding and shielding has been installed at the Transport Container, Inc. plant at 498 Farmer St. to make the plant facilities reasonably safe, according to City Building Inspector Charles Thompson. Modifications, finished last week, still do not bring the facilities up to code, Thompson said. TCI officials were given 30 days by city commissioners in which to complete the work at the commission's May 4 meeting.
- ★ Former Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor and Plymouthite Thomas J. Foley announced last week he is a candidate for the new Michigan Court of Appeals. A Democrat, Foley, 42, of 11785 Priscilla Lane, was an assistant prosecutor from 1950 to 1956 under the late Gerald K. O'Brien.

Festival Incorporates; Sets Tentative Budget

Plymouth's 1964 Fall Festival took another step toward reality last week as Festival Committee members accepted incorporation papers and by-laws presented by attorney William Splimier at a meeting held Wednesday evening, June 10 at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce offices.

In addition, an estimated budget of $4,500 was accepted as a temporary work document and a letter was issued to local organizations urging them to attempt a meeting to be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber offices. Income in the proposed budget, submitted to Fall Festival Board Chairman James Thornton by John R. Herb, is expected to equal expenditures.

Hold Unique Party For Plymouth Grads

Concerned lest Plymouth High graduates become involved in after-graduation escapades that would leave them with a dismal recollection of a night of confusion, frustration and, possibly, tragedy, a group of local parents banded together last week for a unique program of graduation night activities.

small home party. Recognizing that such a party might have little or no appeal to teenagers, Mrs. Blood's husband, a state YMCA staff member, worked out arrangements for the Ann Arbor facilities.

FOR $100 the group obtained access to the Y's swimming pool, gymnasium, teen center and youth games room for an all night party. The sons of the two families, Clinton Blood and (Continued on Page 2)

Davis and Lent Buys Blunk Estate Building

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the store building housing Davis and Lent, Plymouth men's and boys' store, by Wendell Lent, new co-owner of the building.

After 12 years of rental at the location, Lent purchased the building from the William A. Blunk estate for an undisclosed amount. Concerning the sale, Lent said:

"Both myself and the Blunk estate realized that complete remodeling of the building was necessary to retain our competitive position. We intend to do just that."

"I'm sure that Plymouth community residents want to see the downtown hub grow," he commented, "and don't want to see it turn into a ghost town — something to be ashamed of."

He noted that Plymouth businesses pick up a large share of the tax base and keep residential taxes down and urged homeowners to reciprocate by shopping in Plymouth.

Department Store, from 1912 to 1923.

EARLIER, Blunk said, the establishment was operated for many years by A. E. Blunk, I. E. Blunk and B. W. Blunk as Blunk Bros. Department Store.

The business was sold to Taylor and Blyton who continued to operate the store until Davis and Lent moved to the location 12 years ago. Blunk said Blunk Bros. Department Store is still being continued — after 41 years — as Blunk's Inc., located at 640 Starkweather Ave. The firm sells furniture, appliances, floor coverings, radios, high fidelity equipment, television sets and other items.

LENT SAID he hoped the remodeling would give both Plymouth and Davis and Lent the spark they need to make the community a better place in which to live and shop.

"I wish," he said, "persons who do not shop here would drop me a line as President of the Chamber of Commerce, and explain their reasons." Noting the recent sale of the sporting goods department to Plymouth's recently opened Trading Post, Lent said:

"THERE WERE two main reasons for our selling. First, The Trading Post is a natural location for a sporting goods department. And, second, our boys and teen shop has, for years, been on the second floor — making it difficult for parents and grandparents to get to."

He explained that two flights of stairs from the parking lot made it difficult for some older persons to get to the upstairs department.

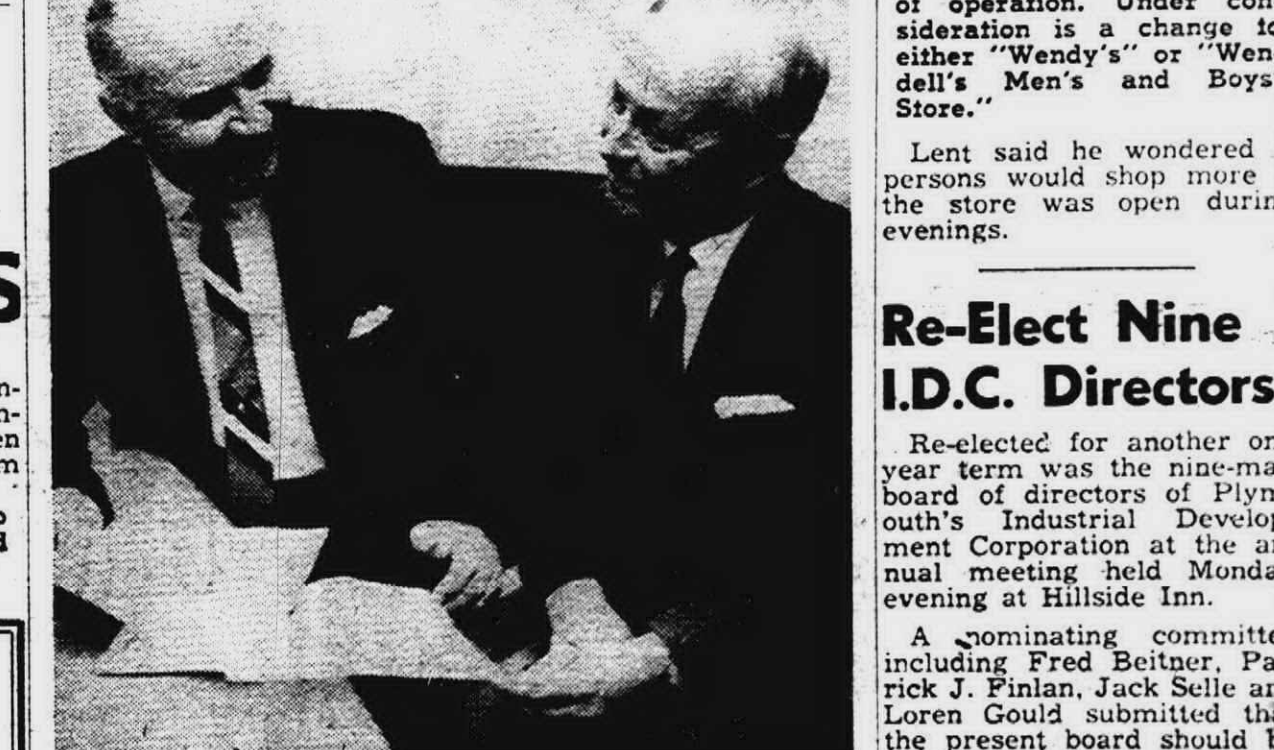

"As soon as the sporting goods department is completely moved out," Lent said, "we are going to remodel the basement into a modern self-serve boys' and teen shop — right on the parking lot level. No stairs to climb," he noted; "it will be a big boost for both parents and grandparents — and I qualify for both."

LENT SAID he intends to make it so convenient to shop at Davis and Lent that customers will not want to deal elsewhere.

"We are going to go, go, go with Plymouth," he concluded.

Mrs. Mildred Levering, he said, will continue to manage the boys' department. Lent also asked for customer reaction to the question of changing the store name and extending hours of operation. Under consideration is a change to either "Wendy's" or "Wendell's Men's and Boys' Store."

Lent said he wondered if persons would shop more if the store was open during evenings.

Re-Elect Nine I.D.C. Directors

Re-elected for another one year term was the nine-man board of directors of Plymouth's Industrial Development Corporation at the annual meeting held Monday evening at Hillside Inn.

A nominating committee including Fred Beitner, Patrick J. Finlan, Jack Selle and Loren Gould submitted that the present board should be retained.

The meeting was attended by seven stockholders, not including four members of the board. IDC treasurer Harvey Ziel and President Frank Arlen recapped activities of the past year at the session.

 A minimum deposit of $100 from all organizations and insurance certificates will be required. Stawling committees including publicity, finance, entertainment, concessions, facilities and service club participation have been formed by the Fall Festival committee.

Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Marshall North and John Herb were designated as signing officers of the corporation. Program plans for the 1964 Festival were outlined by Thornton. They include the Lions Club melon and ice cream social on Thursday, Sept. 10; the Jaycee fish fry and Plymouth Antique Show on Friday; the Kiwanis Pancake Festival, Antique Show and the VFW parade of drums on Saturday and climaxing the festival on Sunday, the Rotary Club Chicken Barbecue.

NAMED AS depository for the Fall Festival corporation was the National Bank of Detroit and James Thornton.

Thornton was ordered by the committee to conduct an interview with a prospect for the position of Fall Festival program manager. Managerial duties would extend from July 1 to Sept. 13. In the letter, sent to organizations, Thornton wrote:

"Plans for the 1964 Fall Festival no doubt are underway by your organization... 'IN ORDER to properly plan for and know the participation, publicity, facilities and programs required, we request your club or organization chairman for Fall Festival activities to be present at a meeting Thursday, June 18 at 7:30 p.m., Chamber of Commerce Office.

"This is a must meeting as we wish your active assistance with plans." In other Festival news, Rotarian Kal Jabara was named general chairman of Plymouth Rotary's Chicken Barbecue. Jabara's co-chairmen will be Bob Stremich and Bud Gould. The trio will preside over the activities of 20 committees, appointed to handle the event.

INCLUDED ARE committees for site preparation, publicity, exhibits, ticket and finance, serving, property, chefs, supplies, corn, community liaison and clean-up. Record crowds, in excess of 30,000, are expected for this year's festival.

Contacted for assistance, other parents were equally enthusiastic about the plans. To get things off to a start, the grads entered the 'Y's' teen center room, set up in cabaret style and decorated with a large "Congratulations '64" sign and silhouettes of cap and gown clad grads.

ARRIVING teens were greeted by parents who explained the program for the evening. Until 1:30 a.m. the swimming pool, gymnasium and game room went full tilt. Parents had set up a punch bowl and snacks. At 1:30, a light supper was served.

Strains of folk music filled the "Y" following the supper as a hired singer held forth at a hootenanny. Later, with Bob Hill on the drums, Eric Morgenson on the piano and vocals by Rick Ott, the teens held a jam session.

Few rules were levied. Alcohol was not permitted, persons leaving the party were told they would not be readmitted and cooperation and consideration was requested. No incidents were reported. Sponsoring parents were:

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Blunk, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baude, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burcaw, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burley, Mr. and Mrs. Lucille Chappelle, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Couts, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Doherty.

Congressman Meader

 Meader asked that it be cut back to the original bill," he said. Concerning the measure that was finally introduced and passed by the House, Meader commented:

"It's what I call government by injunction," he said. Meader listed four key objections to the bill, pointing out that it may be difficult for the layman to understand. If a person is accused of violation of one of the five titles of the bill, the congressman said:

(1) Proof is made by preponderance of evidence. In a criminal court, he said, the defense lawyer can object to certain types of evidence; but that privilege will not be available in a civil rights trial in a Federal court.

(2) Meader said a person could not, under the bill, refuse to testify against himself. If he did so, the Representative said, he could be cited for contempt of court and put in jail until he was willing to testify.

(3) The defendant would have no jury to decide on the merits of whether or not he actually discriminated, according to Meader.

(4) After the judge has found the defendant guilty, Meader said, he enters a decree "which hangs over your head for the rest of your life ordering you not to discriminate."

"We tried to shape a bill so it would be a proper exercise of government authority," Meader said. "I could not vote for the bill."

ANOTHER problem, termed "knotty" by Meader, which has come before the judiciary subcommittee is prayer and Bible reading.

"I believe the courts stretched the establishment clause beyond its proper meaning," the Representative said.

Meader commended the Legion for its "Why are we..." series. Following his address, he accepted a certificate of appreciation for Congresswoman Griffiths, promising to deliver it to her in Washington.

Two Realtors Speak Out on Open Housing

One Detroit area realtor spoke out against open occupancy and another supported it in a debate sponsored by the Plymouth Human Relations Assembly, June 15 at Junior High School West.

About 100 persons were in the audience to hear Mrs. Isabelle Weiterson, of Weiterson Realty, call open occupancy "creeping socialism under the guise of civil rights," and Eddie Thigpen of Thigpen Realty pointed out that he was sure that some Plymouthites were "willing to sell their homes to any qualified buyer regardless of color."

Thigpen said Negroes are not the only persons with credit problems and that most F.H.A. and V.A. reposessed homes are in all-white suburban areas.

OPPOSED to taking away rights through laws, Mrs. Weiterson said every property owner should have the right to do as he wishes with his property.

Gerald Fischer, president of Plymouth Board of Education, was the moderator for the debate.

Church of Christ To Hear Polish Refugee Minister

Sentence Pair in Beer Theft

Two Plymouth youths were sentenced to serve 30 days at the Detroit House of Correction and pay $100 fines or serve an additional 35 days Monday after they pleaded guilty to charges of simple larceny.

Dale Petty, 17, of 288 E. Pearl and Roger F. Tobey, 17, of 483 Maple St. both pleaded guilty to the charges. Plymouth Police said two cases of beer were taken in a break-in into a store at the rear of the Box Bar located at 777 W. Ann Arbor Trail. They said the beer was recovered at the Edna Brummel residence at 146 Maple St. Officers said a group of teenagers were having a beer party at the house.

Church of Christ To Hear Polish Refugee Minister

A Polish gospel preacher, Henry Cizek, will speak about his experiences in Poland at the Plymouth Church of Christ, 9301 Sheldon Rd., Wednesday, June 17, at 7:30 p.m.

Cizek, who holds both American and Polish citizenship, was forced to leave Poland in January. He said Polish officials told him he was causing too much trouble for the government through his church work and must leave the country. Born in the United States of Polish parents, Cizek moved back to Poland when he was eight years old, returned to the United States in 1938 and then rejoined his family in Poland again in 1945. After studying theology in Poland, Cizek became minister of Wesley Methodist Church in Warsaw and since the mid-1950's says he has been trying to restore pure, New Testament Christianity in Poland. He was arrested twice in Poland because of his church activities, he said and was accused of being the head of the Church of Christ in Poland, an illegal organization.

Piano Students Feted at Party

A number of piano pupils from the class of Hanna Strasen were her guests at three studio parties last week Thursday and Friday. The pupils entertained each other with solos, duets and trios after which refreshments were served by the hostess. Musical games, as well as group singing and impromptu playing of familiar tunes added to the enjoyment of the parties.

Kiwanis Hosts Senior Plymouth Lettermen

More than 50 graduating Plymouth High School athletes turned out last Tuesday evening for the annual banquet sponsored by Plymouth Kiwanis to honor departing lettermen and heard WXYZ radio and TV sports-caster Dave Diles speak.

Diles, claiming he was born in a community so small that all the people live on one side of the tracks and go to the Baptist church, said his broadcast has a minus two rating.

"Two people that ain't histering are knockin' the air."

Sports, he told the young athletes, provide an opportunity to learn competition and sportsmanship and the important part is perseverence. But he threw a note of caution to the varsity members:

ONLY A very few people can earn a living in sports, he noted. For each person in the professional leagues, there are many who never make it.

In his hometown, Diles noted, there is a man who, at age 45, still reports regularly for practice — complete with school sweater and athletic letter.

"He is the village idiot," Diles commented. He offered this advice to the seniors:

"When you young men reach age 30 and you go to the local supermarket with your wife and children, put away your athletic letter and school sweater. Some men try to re-live their high school athletic accomplishments as adults.

"Nothing is more pathetic," TOGETHER with the seniors, coaches John Sandman, Mike Hoben, Keith Baughman, Charles Ketterer, John McFall and Jim Stevens were hosted by the local service club. Other guests for the evening included Jim Haynes, Bill Farrell, Dave Rank, Glen Allen, Dean Saxton, Jr., Tommy Thompson, Tommy Christopher of Detroit and John Alley of South Lyon.

Seniors eligible to attend the event included:

GOLF
Jim Mattison, Jerry Scott, Skip Otwell, Wendell Sikes, and Joe Light.

Cubs And Yanks Hold Plymouth Junior Lead

The Cubs maintained their one-game margin in the National League while the Yanks were finding he going rough in the American League as the Plymouth League continued its hectic pennant race last week.

DALE RUMBERGER unoaded the bases with a bases-all triple last week in a 10-3 romp for the front-running Cubs. A late rally also opened the Cubs to nip the Pirates in a top contest.

The Yankees, who went into the week's action with a perfect 5-0 record, found the going rough and dropped two straight ballgames but still managed to hold onto their lead in the American circuit. The Indians, owning only a 3-4 season mark, defeated the leaders 3-2 on a squeeze bunt in the final inning. The Indians also played sparkling ball in the field as they managed a triple play in the sixth inning to kill a Yankee threat.

In the Yanks second contest of the week, the Orioles now in third place, whipped the Yanks 5-2.

Other top action saw the Pirates drop their second game of the year as the Dodgers clipped them 5-1. The Dodgers also won 12-0 as Barry Pate hurled a one-hitter against the Braves. The Braves made up for their humiliating loss as they broke open for eight runs in the fourth frame for a 13-2 win over the Red Legs.

The Red Sox had a successful week in the American League as they won a pair of contests. Kevin Campbell pitched a one-hitter in a 5-1 win over the Orioles. The Tigers found the week a rough one as they lost two games. They were nipped 5-4 by the White Sox and then the Indians captured a 8-4 decision over them.

National All-Stars Down Americans 9-5 Saturday

The National League senior all-stars of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League to five early runs in Saturday's game, then shut the door and walked off with a 9-5 victory identical to last year's tally when the Nationals came out on top.

The nationals pushed five big runs across in the fifth to deadlock the game. They pushed up two more in the sixth and added two for insurance in the seventh.

The game was highlighted by hustle on both teams. Pre-game ceremonies were highlighted by the presentation to the league of a baseball autographed by President of the United States Lyndon B. Johnson.

PITCHERS from both the American and National Leagues got one practice pitch with the cellophane wrapped ball after it was presented by League President Joseph Bida.

Taken to Washington by little league enthusiast Art Shepard, the ball found its way to the White House through the efforts of U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart. In making the presentation, Bida noted that it would be placed on display in the community and later placed on exhibit at the Plymouth Historical Museum.

"The President of the United States believes that programs which develop physical fitness and good sportsmanship for youth are vital in building a stronger nation," Bida said.

"AS A SYMBOL of his recognition of the efforts of parents working together with boys in junior baseball programs throughout the nation, President Johnson has autographed this baseball which he has sent to us."

National league hurler Dave Palmer and American League pitcher Kevin Campbell both took practice throws with the ball. This year's junior baseball all stars are:

National League

Juvenile Two Others Hurt in Head-On Crash

A Plymouth juvenile, his mother and a Saline, Mich. man were taken to Wayne County General Hospital Thursday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered when a car piloted by the youth, veered out of control, sideswiped the vehicle ahead of it and swerved into another, oncoming car.

Plymouth Police said the 15-year-old youth, who did not have a driver's license, accompanied by his mother, was driving east on Ann Arbor Road, east of S. Main St.

The car ahead of him, officers said, driven by Gerald Curtis, 50, of 5430 Napier Rd., stopped to make a turn and the youngster swerved to the right shoulder in an attempt to avoid hitting it, sideswiping the vehicle.

THEN, THEY said, the youth veered into the west bound lane, striking an oncoming car driven by Virgil A. Rockwell, 49, of Saline, Rockwell, the boy and his mother were taken to the hospital.

The accident still remains under investigation.

Taits Cleaners maintained their half-game lead in the Plymouth Softball Senior League last week despite being idle because of rain.

The Taits were rained out of their scheduled showdown with Evans Products as the inebriates were prepared to battle for the top spot.

Lutheran moved up to third place with a 11-9 decision over Vice Products. Carling's maintained fourth position with a 4-0 shut-out of Paragon.

In other action, McAllister rounced DeHoCo 15-1 and Plating clipped Bathey 10-6.

Bridal Traditions Far from Same The World Over

You don't have to be a Boy Scout to know that there are infinitely more ways of "tying the knot" than those mentioned in the Boy Scout Manual.

In some Mexican villages, they do it literally — by knotting the bride's veil to the groom's scarf during the wedding ceremony. Elsewhere, the Javanese bride washes her groom's feet in token of her future obedience while a Todas bride in India draws to her man on her hands and knees — symbolic of her subjection.

In the Marquesas Islands, however, it's the groom who bows — to the bride's father! The young man must give his father-in-law gifts just as long as he's happy with his bride. If he tops forking over, she returns to her parents — no refunds, no discounts!

A "bride price" or lubala, payable in cattle, is still extracted from many African groups. But in most other cultures, it's the bride who brings some form of dowry to the marriage.

The eligible Algerian girl uses her head in a different fashion. To show that she is ready for marriage — and to attract likely suitors — she wears her dowry on her head — in the form of silver coins attached to her hair ribbons! What the bride will wear is a matter of concern all over the globe. The Chinese bride is married in a red silk gown — symbolic of happiness and lasting love. Instead of a bouquet, she carries a purse shaped like a lotus flower — thought to protect her against the slanders of her mother-in-law! But the Japanese bride wears a special head-dress to cover her "horns of jealousy".

In parts of Europe, brides still court luck by weeping on the way to church — and by choosing Wednesday as especially lucky day for the ceremony. Superstition attaches great significance to the weather for the great day. The belief in this respect is summed up:

Blest be the bride the sun shines on,
Curst be the bride the rain falls on.

Beliefs in marriage blessings — or curses — are very old and come from many different lands. Throwing old shoes or tying them to the bridal "chariot" goes back to ancient Egypt. There the father handed the bride's sandals to the groom, symbolizing a transfer of authority. The Egyptians are also thought to have been the first to use rings in marriage. The ring symbolizes the "captive bride", whose hands were tied to prevent her from escaping!

The Saracens used orange blossoms in their ceremonies, because the orange was their most prolific fruit. Today, orange blossoms symbolize a hope that the wedded couple will be blessed with children. Centuries ago in France, the bride threw her garter, and the girl who caught it was believed to be the next bride. Today, of course, the bride throws her bouquet. The same hope for security is seen in what may be the most picturesque bridal page-on-horseback solemnized in the Turkoman tribe of Western Asia. While bride and groom sit tall in the saddle, someone drapes a freshly killed lamb across the shoulders of her horse. This not only provides the young couple's first meal — but serves as the bride's symbolic plea to the groom to feed her! Then they're free to ride off into the sunset — for that's the entire wedding ceremony.

Northville State Hospital Auxiliary Holds Picnic

Following the annual picnic of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary at the home of Mrs. Crispin Hammond in Northville, its members told Alfred P. Galli, R.N., Director of Nursing and Richard Lilly, M.D., Assistant Superintendent of their interest in making substantial contributions for the needs of the 130 geriatric patients in D Building. "After considering several important possibilities in different wards and areas of the hospital, we decided to concentrate our year's donation for the patients in this building," commented Mrs. Byron Champion, vice-president-liaison. Mr. Galli, in his reply, offered that with such a helpful amount available, beds, spreads, a laundry cart, and a full length mirror for the 65 female patients in the geriatric ward, and a number of outdoor redwood lounge chairs for all of the patients could be purchased.

STARTS TRAINING

Accepted in the Peace Corps pre-training program for college seniors is Sally Fedus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fedus, of Lilley Rd. Miss Fedus, a senior, majoring in mathematics at Eastern Michigan University, will spend one month in Puerto Rico and one month in California, preparing for a Peace Corps assignment in South America which will begin following her graduation from Eastern. She is a 1961 graduate of Livonia Bentley High School.

Mrs. Dewey Horning, president of the Auxiliary, took the opportunity to thank those in the community who so generously supported the Auxiliary's recent Annual Patient Benefit Card Party. "That response from our friends in the community plus the profits from our hospital's Lobby Gift Shop make possible donations such as this one," she said. "In addition to the Lobby Gift Shop and the Annual Card Party as fund-raising events," commented Richard Lilly, M.D., Assistant Medical Superintendent, "Auxiliaries provide a merchandise cart service to out-lying areas, plan many ward parties, participate in our Patients Fair, and serve in many other capacities. I was not surprised to learn that its 141 members, coming to serve from all of the surrounding suburbs as well as Detroit proper, had logged during the past year over 6,000 hours of service."

Choose Symbol For Community Fund Campaign

Plans for the 1964 Plymouth Community Fund drive began to take shape last week as a committee headed by campaign chairman Charles Bruce decided on a readily recognizable symbol for the drive.

Essentially a version of the cartoon figure used in Plymouth's Fall Festival, the little man will be portrayed carrying a feather and going up a hill.

Designed to emphasize the joy of giving, the campaign will be geared to this idea:

"REMEMBER, when you help a fellow up a steep hill you get nearer the top yourself." Bruce and his committee are currently working on plans for publicity, printing up the campaign brochure and ironing out details for the drive to be held this fall.

Bruce urged persons giving through a payroll deduction plan at work outside the Plymouth Community to designate the Plymouth Community Fund as recipient for their donation.

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

MIXING HER "Raisin Saffron Bread" is Mrs. HENRY LOSSE, of 1362 Beech St. Natives of Latvia, the Losses have lived in Plymouth since 1949.

The recipe for different, delicious Raisin Saffron Bread given to Plymouth Pantries this week by Mrs. Henry Losse, of 1362 Beech St., may be served with coffee or tea for coffee break or afternoon snack.

A Latvian recipe, Mrs. Losse says, in that country the bread is often baked in the shape of a pretzel and used as a birthday cake.

The Losses and their three sons, George, Arthur and Waldemare, have lived in Plymouth since immigrating from Latvia in 1949. Losse is an electrical engineer for Ford Motor Company. George also works for Ford, Arthur attends the University of Michigan and Waldemare goes to Ford Junior College.

Mrs. Losse enjoys working with flowers in her garden and is taking painting lessons.

The saffron gives the bread its yellowish color and unusual taste. Mrs. Losse suggests the bread may be topped with almonds before baking.

RAISIN SAFFRON BREAD
Combine and set aside:
1 C. dark seedless raisins, coarsely chopped,
1/2 C. sugar
Soften 1 package yeast, dry or compressed, in 2 Tbl. lukewarm water

Combine in mixing bowl:
1/2 C. sugar
1/4 C. butter
1/2 tsp. saffron
1/2 tsp. cardamom
1 tsp. salt

Pour over butter and sugar mixture:
3/4 C. milk scalded
Stir to blend mixture; cool to lukewarm. Add:
1 egg, well beaten
Stir in yeast mixture. Blend to form a stiff dough. Add 3/4 C. sifted all purpose flour. Stir until flour is well blended. Turn out on floured board and knead until surface is smooth. Place in lightly greased warm bowl. Cover and let rise until light and double in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down and round up; cover and let rise again for 1/2 hour. Turn out on floured board. Divide into two equal parts. Roll each piece into a rectangle. Brush with milk and sprinkle with chopped raisins. Roll up tightly as for jelly roll. Place seam side down in greased loaf pans. Cover with cloth. Let rise until light and double in size, about 50 minutes. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, about 20 minutes. Remove from pans, sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Consumers Sets Survey Here in Plymouth Area

Representatives of Consumers Power Company will call at home of a sample group of West Wayne Division customers during the next few weeks in a survey to obtain information regarding the use of household appliances along the company's lines.

Division Manager J. P. Thomas said the information, together with comparative data obtained in earlier surveys, will be helpful in estimating the future service requirements of Consumers' customers.

The survey here, Thomas said, is part of a statewide activity in which information will be asked from only 21,000 of the more than 1,500,000 customers served by the company. The 21,000 were selected by an electronic computer as representative of the entire customer group.

trained for the purpose of making the survey under the direction of company supervisors. Each interviewer carries a Consumers Power identification card.

PLYMOUTH Telephone Lines

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

IF YOUR PHONE could talk, it might have a bit of a Southern accent! For one important part of most phones today is a small fluffy ball of cotton. The cotton is tucked into the hollow part of the handset, to prevent vibrations and echoes from the mouthpiece reaching the earpiece. This tiny addition contributes greatly to the amazing clarity with which today's phones transmit voices across town or over thousands of miles with equal ease.

"WE'RE ON OUR WAY!" Planning a trip? Before you pack up, pick up the phone and let folks know when to expect you. You'll avoid the disappointment of finding them away from home when you arrive. And of course it's equally important to phone ahead when a hotel or motel is your destination. And when you arrive, why not phone the folks at home? They'll be glad to hear you arrived safely. It doesn't cost much to keep in touch by Long Distance—use it often.

BE OUT-OF-DOORS without being out-of-luck when the phone rings. Ever miss out on an important call because you were out in the yard and couldn't hear the phone ring? It won't happen again if you'll just ask your Telephone Man to install a Bell Chime ringer. This device can be set to ring extra loud when you're outside. Then when you're indoors the Bell Chime can be set to announce calls with soft, melodious notes that will soothe your ear—or set for your regular telephone "ring." Order yours today. Just call our Business Office.

Grange Gleanings

Plymouth Grange will meet this Thursday, June 18, at 8 p.m. for the next regular meeting. This will be the last meeting before our summer schedule so let's all attend. This meeting will be election of officers, according to the new state ruling.

Remember this Sunday, June 21, is the time when Plymouth Grangers go to church in a body. This year we are to attend the Methodist Church, on Five Mile Road, just east of Haggerty. Meet at the church promptly at 10:45 A.M. This date has been arranged by our chaplain so don't let her down.

Plymouth Grange wishes to extend sympathy to the family of Della Hawk, who passed away Friday, June 12. While she has not been a member since moving to South Lyon a number of years ago, she was a loyal member for many years and served as our Chaplain for 27 years.

AT SPORTSMAN NORTHWEST store recently opened at 985 Ann Arbor Rd., Jeffrey Huber, looks down the barrel of a gun on sale at the store while his father and owner of the store Roy Huber helps him hold the gun. The store in addition to carrying guns also handles water sports equipment, golfing equipment, winter skiing equipment and balls and gloves.

Tired of Traveling, Opens Sports Store

A sporting goods store, "Sportsman Northwest," was opened recently on Ann Arbor Rd. by a former college athlete Roy Huber. The store will concentrate on golf equipment during the spring and summer months, shooting sports equipment during the fall and winter, according to Huber. "Sportsman Northwest" also carries water skiing equipment, fishing tackle, camping equipment, balls and gloves and sports clothing. Fishing licenses may also be obtained there. The idea for the store originated, Huber said, after he had to travel around looking for different sports equipment. He chose the Ann Arbor Rd. location because of the exposure it afforded being on a state highway and for the ample parking available around the building. ORIGINALLY a drugstore, Huber has completely remodeled the store and designed a platform to display items in the front. He hopes to plan fishing and skiing trips through "Sportsman Northwest" during the appropriate seasons. In addition to owning the store, Huber, a graduate of Michigan Technological University, is a research associate at the University of Michigan Institute of Science and Technology. He will be at the store evenings. The sales force is made up of Huber, who works evenings, and Jerry Gribble, sales manager, who is a full-time employee.

Name Officers For Ministerial Association

Named last week to head the Plymouth Ministerial Association for the coming year were the Rev. Edward W. Castner of Plymouth's First United Presbyterian Church, president, and the Rev. Hugh Clifford White of First Methodist Church, secretary-treasurer. At the association meeting, members voted to send $150 to the Michigan Migrant Ministry program, an effort which seeks to serve migrant workers in the State of Michigan during summer months. The money is taken from funds received from offerings at the community Thanksgiving and Good Friday services. Rev. White led a discussion on the controversial book, "Honest to God," at the meeting. Books of current interest will be considered during the coming year.

Di Ponio Wins Suit in Appeal

The Michigan State Supreme Court has reversed an earlier decision by Circuit Court Judge James Breakey who ruled against the plaintiff Angelo Di Ponio and in favor of the defendant Denver Corum. The plaintiff had sought to enjoin the defendant selling from a produce stand on the defendant's land all produce not grown thereon, claiming it was in violation of the Salem township zoning ordinance. The defendant claimed that the ordinance was invalid and that the produce stand did not constitute a violation of the ordinance. The Supreme Court ruled that the zoning ordinance should be construed to permit the sale by a farmer of farm produce grown as a result of his farming operation carried on within that portion of the township zoned AG Agricultural District. The Upper Michigan "Copper Country" is the largest commercial deposit of native copper in the world, having yielded nearly 11 billion pounds in the past century.

Only an electric water heater can regularly give you water that hot without burning out. And remember, the electric water heater you buy from any retailer in Southeastern Michigan carries Edison's one-year money-back guarantee of satisfactory performance. In addition electrical repairs, if ever needed, are free from Edison. An electric water heater—one more of the electric appliances that help you get more out of life. The centerpiece holder is made from two empty tissue boxes. Cut each box carefully in half and cover with green paper. Stand two half boxes upright to hold the center of the arrangement. Lay remaining halves flat at either side. Fill the upright halves with the plastic florists' moss cut to fit the box.

Next, make the flowers by folding and cutting tissues as follows:

Poppy. Fold a tissue into a 2 1/2 inch square. Trim along the open edges rounding off into a quarter circle. Twist a pipe cleaner stem around the folded corner and fluff out petals.

Daisy. Fold tissue into a 2 1/2 inch square. Cut the square into a circle using pinking shears. Cut a second folded tissue into a slightly smaller circle. Place the small circle on top of the larger, pierce with a pipe cleaner, pulling it half way through. Twist half of the pipe cleaner into a tight spiral to form the stamens of the flower. The other half of the pipe cleaner will be the stem.

Rose. Fold a tissue in half lengthwise. Next accordion pleat lengthwise so that the tissue is one inch wide and 10 inches long. Staple a pipe cleaner at one edge of the folded tissue and wrap the tissue around and around to form a rose bud. Twist the pipe cleaner around the bottom to hold in place.

Butterflies. Take tissue from the box and fold into a rectangle approximately 2 1/2 by 4 inches. Round off short open end with a scissors. Open into a double oval. Gather in center with two pipe cleaners which will form the "feelers."

Trim some of the flowers with green paper leaves. Insert each flower's pipe cleaner stem in a colored straw and arrange "flowers" in the upright containers.

Float butterfly mobiles over the centerpiece from pink ribbons attached to the ceiling. The green leaf placemats, coasters and napkins are cut from green construction paper. Use paper dinner napkins and tuck a tissue daisy in the napkin ring.

One last step to the perfect paper anniversary — "hers" and "his" paper gifts. Any wife of one year would be delighted with a subscription to a homemaker's magazine, one of her wedding invitations beautifully framed, or a paper gift certificate of "non-budget" money at her favorite shop. For the husband, a book about his favorite sport or hobby or a World Almanac all are gifts which please.

Happy anniversary!

A FIGURE 8 was one of the maneuvers required of dogowners at the final session of the beginning obedience class for dogs, held recently at Plymouth High School under the sponsorship of the school district's adult education department directed by Herbert Woolweaver. About 15 dogowners of the 20 who signed up in April finished the class Monday evening, June 8. Miss Lynn Harris of Homer St. leads her dog through the figure-8 as Cheryl Gall, left, of 16441 Homer St. and Charles Wheaton of 44605 Governor Bradford Rd., right, act as poles for the maneuver. The class was directed by Wheaton's wife who drew on her experience at the Wolverine Dog Training Club.

Paper Is in Style in Party Decor, Gifts For 200,000 June Brides... a Year Later

The official honeymoon is over for the 200,000 brides who said "I do" during June of 1963. By now last year's bride is a young wife, and the important event of her summer is a paper wedding anniversary.

Making that first anniversary as memorable as the wedding day it commemorates calls for a very special party. Paper is the keynote — informal, inexpensive and gay. Follow this theme in planning guest list, decorations and menu.

The guest list might be made up of the friends who were hosts or hostesses at pre-nuptial parties last year. Be sure to limit the list to a workable number.

Pretty paper table appointments and decorations set the party mood. Create a garden of pastel flowers out of colored pipe cleaners and facial tissues. Hang tissue butterfly mobiles from the ceiling to hover over the paper flowers, and set each place with greenleaf place mats and daisy-ring napkin holders.

You'll need these supplies to make the table decorations: a package of pipe cleaners in assorted colors; boxes of facial tissues in white, pink, yellow and aqua; green construction paper; a box of drinking straws in assorted colors; a block of plastic foam or florists' moss; scissors, pinking shears and ribbon.

The centerpiece holder is made from two empty tissue boxes. Cut each box carefully in half and cover with green paper. Stand two half boxes upright to hold the center of the arrangement. Lay remaining halves flat at either side. Fill the upright halves with the plastic florists' moss cut to fit the box.

Place the small circle on top of the larger, pierce with a pipe cleaner, pulling it half way through. Twist half of the pipe cleaner into a tight spiral to form the stamens of the flower. The other half of the pipe cleaner will be the stem.

Rose. Fold a tissue in half lengthwise. Next accordion pleat lengthwise so that the tissue is one inch wide and 10 inches long. Staple a pipe cleaner at one edge of the folded tissue and wrap the tissue around and around to form a rose bud. Twist the pipe cleaner around the bottom to hold in place.

Butterflies. Take tissue from the box and fold into a rectangle approximately 2 1/2 by 4 inches. Round off short open end with a scissors. Open into a double oval. Gather in center with two pipe cleaners which will form the "feelers."

Trim some of the flowers with green paper leaves. Insert each flower's pipe cleaner stem in a colored straw and arrange "flowers" in the upright containers.

Float butterfly mobiles over the centerpiece from pink ribbons attached to the ceiling. The green leaf placemats, coasters and napkins are cut from green construction paper. Use paper dinner napkins and tuck a tissue daisy in the napkin ring.

One last step to the perfect paper anniversary — "hers" and "his" paper gifts. Any wife of one year would be delighted with a subscription to a homemaker's magazine, one of her wedding invitations beautifully framed, or a paper gift certificate of "non-budget" money at her favorite shop. For the husband, a book about his favorite sport or hobby or a World Almanac all are gifts which please.

Happy anniversary!

Chips from the ROCK

There is nothing more frustrating to a farmer than trying to round up a dozen straying cows. It took all of the members of the Robert Waldecker and Russell Magraw families the whole of last Friday morning to herd their Holsteins back into their pasture back of the Earl Demel farm on Beck road.

Residents of Ridgewood and other neighbors west were given unexpected early morning visits by the wandering cows as were we treated to a special performance when they chased our little black toy poodle up our drive and into our front door. Quite a sight to see this part of the round-up in itself.

With the help of Sara Stout and her horse and other people in the neighborhood all but one of the strays were safely herded back into their pasture where they will remain until the next "necker" go back into the field and leave the gates wide open when they leave.

When you consider the unnecessary work trespassers such as these create for other innocent people it makes you wonder if there isn't an immediate need for much stronger penalties for these persistent violators.

As the people were going to work at Western Electric and at Packaging Container Corporation . . . and as the Robert Willoughbys' John Gaffields, Earl Demels and Paul Wiedmans were breakfasting, reading the Free Press or what have you . . . a dozen elephants passed right by their doors.

My own little traveling secretary, who was trying to scramble me an egg done in milk to relieve me from my last week's treatment at the University . . . and one who is so fond of elephants . . . looked out at the sight and we didn't realize either what was passing by our doors.

Well, believe it or not, right on our own little railroad at the back of our farm were 22 of the most beautiful aluminum and stainless steel cars you would ever want to see. We couldn't help but wonder what they were. New troop trains, new what have you . . . so, what do you do?

We called Floyd Dobrach, train master of the C. & O., to find out what had passed our doors and that of the other of our neighbors. To our surprise we found it was the Ringling Brothers Circus new train on its way from Toledo to Muskegon where it will make a one week stand before proceeding to Lincoln, Nebraska.

In addition to the 22 eighty foot cars there were also three freight cars carrying circus tack. Total value of the train without the circus equipment would approximate a million and a half dollars. Estimated cost of moving the train from Toledo would be about $2,100.

C. & O. officials say the train will return through Plymouth later this summer for a Detroit visit and they will attempt to alert us to its arrival so we can inform our readers of the time. An effort will be made to have it stop long enough for our youngsters to get a close-up look at the train that carries the world's largest circus.

The Western Wayne County Conservation association has begun construction of a 35,000 foot building on its grounds on Joy near Wayne road. Investigation is continuing this week of the theft of $459 from a safe at the Hillside Inn, Plymouth road.

Mrs. Esther Husing and Warren L. Smith were victors in the race among five persons for two seats on the Plymouth Township Board of Education which took place Monday — an election which attracted only five per cent of the voting public.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campbell will leave today for London, Ontario, and will be joined on Friday by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchison and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader. The men will play in the Kiwanis golf tournament being held this week end in London.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hauk are the proud parents of a baby girl born Thursday morning at Plymouth hospital.

At a meeting of the village council held Monday evening it was voted to pave Penniman avenue from Main street to the intersection of Harvey street. A cement pavement will be constructed. Some objections were raised against the paving, but the council could not see it that way, and the improvement will be made.

The congregation of St. John's Mission, through the generosity of Mrs. White, of South Bend, Indiana, wife of the Bishop of Michigan City, has been presented with a large plot of land, known as the May property, situated in the central part of the village. The land is given with the understanding that it is to be used for church purposes, not necessarily that a church is to be erected on that particular site if it is thought a more suitable one should be obtained.

Miss Pauline Peck has returned from Cheboygan where she has been teaching the past year.

Earl Bovee, Emory Hix and Oro Brown will give a dance at Penniman hall, Saturday evening, June 27.

Thomas Hemenway, the general landlord of the Commercial Hotel is lamenting the loss of the pet alligator which he brought from the south last winter. The cool weather last Friday and Saturday was too much for the "gator" and he froze to death.

Electric toaster stoves will make coffee, pop corn, fry eggs, etc., very quickly. We will sell you one for $3.00. A. A. Hood, Plymouth block.

The Village council has a new number of large wire baskets placed at different places about the village into which waste paper, etc. may be placed. It is to be hoped that they will be used and thus keep our streets from being littered with this kind of refuse.

John Lang, as a member of the village council, attended a meeting of the League of Michigan Municipalities at Bay City, Wednesday and Thursday.

We Salute Parents, Teenagers

Last week, while daily papers carried the predictable items about disturbances at high school graduation events, an event centering around Plymouth and Plymouth graduates went unnoticed.

Thanks to an interested group of Plymouth parents, nearly 165 PHS graduates literally had a ball at the Ann Arbor YM-YWCA from 10:30 p.m. 'til sunrise.

Brainstormed by Mrs. Roger Blood and Mrs. Larry Becker, the celebration included swimming, the gymnasium activities, ping pong, pool, a hootenanny, dancing and refreshments. Response to the program by the grads was more than favorable and no incidents occurred.

Rules were few and simple. Alcohol was not permitted, persons leaving before the end of the party were told they would not be re-admitted,

Urge Formation of Voters' Group

It has become so matter-of-fact for newspapers to rail about skimpy voter turnout after elections that it sometimes seems pointless. It's too bad there is no magic formula to jolt people out of apathetic lethargy.

The Plymouth Community School District's June 8 election should be counted as some sort of milestone — a monument to the unwillingness of the public to take an interest in local affairs.

All of 895 electors took the trouble to cast ballots at the polls. Which brings up a question: What can we do?

There has been a joke making the rounds about a parent-teacher meeting in which much discussion centering around organization and activities of a little baseball league, a little basketball league, a little football league and a little hockey league.

"It seems to me," he said wearily, "we ought to start a little students league." The Plymouth Mail thinks it would be nice if someone organized a voters' league.

Years ago, Plymouth had a league of women voters. For some reason, it fell by the wayside and expired. I think it's high time it was revived.

And we think resident interest in the workings of the school district long overdue. During the past months, only a handful of citizens have appeared at school board meetings. Generally, those who attend are the same persons each time.

When the election rolled around only three candidates bothered to file nominating petitions. Two of the same people who refuse to attend board meetings, who are unwilling to file as candidates and who vote on election day are the ones who will gripe the hardest and scream the loudest about Federal takeovers and creeping socialism and governmental centralization.

They'd better learn that the reason the Government steps in is because local persons have stepped out. For this reason, we urge organization of a Plymouth Community voters group. Continued failure to take interest could result in the loss of anything to be interested in.

One thing and another. In my reasonably brief and, perhaps not too sweet career as a weekly newspaper columnist, one of my favorite whipping boys has been the electronic media — both audio and visual.

When Newton Minnow made his now classic "wasteland" pronouncement about the idiot box industry, I cheered and stomped my feet. For television had begun to pall and grow tiresome.

Maybe, it was because we were living in the relatively unpopulated reaches of northern Michigan and the one and only channel available was undistinguished, both on the basis of local programming and selection (or lack thereof) of network fare.

But it seems that T.V. is coming of age.

In the past couple of weeks I have seen two or three powerful programs, centered around social problems that have long needed skillful treatment. Oddly enough, two of them were courtroom dramas — shows that grew in the wake of the video birth of Earle Stanley Gardner's hero, Perry Mason.

One concerned itself with racial demonstrations, the other with drug addiction. Both carried a pungent message. But, most of all, I love that "Mad Magazine" of the telly, "That Was the Week That Was." Its barbs do much to make life a bit more bearable.

In view of the Grand Old Party's penchant for flagellating itself in public recently, TW3's performance of "Goldy-Water and the Three Elephants" came as welcome, comic relief.

Radio is still another story. With the possible local exception of good old WJR, AM radio seems divided into two camps, both of which provide an atmosphere somewhat short of exhilarating.

On the one hand, you've got stations devoted to perpetuating the theme of the thirties — the big band sounds and their present-day counterparts.

And, on the other, the discordances and mental midge programming of groups that concern themselves with what is euphemistically termed the "top thirty."

The byword for both is superficiality.

Last weekend we are kicking the subject around with some friends, and one recounts the story of the radio newscaster who comes on with these words: "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. World War III started today. That's the headline; the details in a moment. But, first a word from our sponsor."

Life is very long.

This will be a wacky year.

Both Detroit dailies having gone out of their way to torpedo the junior senator from Arizona during the pre-convention festivities, are faced with a horrendous decision.

Unless Scranton's bid is successful for the job that nobody except Barry seems to want, it would appear that the News and Free Press are stuck.

Which is too bad for traditionally Republican papers, isn't it?

A tour through Plymouth's central parking lot during the latter part of the week indicates that The Mail is justified in its editorial calling for action to combat what has become a dangerous trash disposal problem.

Boxes and papers were scattered all over the place. Barrels sitting against store buildings were jammed with combustible litter.

A bright note, though. Superintendent of Public Works Joe Bida indicates delivery of one of the large, portable containers is expected before two weeks have passed. I hope so.

Traveling Medicine Chest Makes Sense

When you pack to get ready for that family vacation, do you get the impression that your wife is taking along the whole medicine chest? She may be overdoing things — but then again you may be just a little too critical of her foresight. For it is a good idea to carry certain basic preventive and curative medicines when you travel.

You needn't be a traveling drug store, of course, and one will consider you a hypochondriac just because you take a few simple precautions to guard against minor discomforts enroute, whether your destination is the mysterious Orient or the familiar cottage at the seashore or in the mountains.

If you are going to leave the country, you must have proof of vaccination against Small Pox to be permitted to re-enter the United States. There are other areas of the world for which, certain immunizations are required or recommended. The best way to be properly protected is to contact the local office of the U.S. Public Health Service at least one month before your departure, to ascertain which, if any, of these "shots" you need.

If you plan to fly or take an ocean liner, you may wish to provide against possible motion sickness. Actually, jet planes fly above the weather and large, modern ocean liners are equipped with stabilizer fins. However, rough weather is sometimes unavoidable no matter how you travel. Moreover, it is only human for some travelers to feel some anxiety which, in turn, may lead to real or imagined motion sickness. Motion sickness tablets are available at local drug outlets.

Take along a small supply of analgesics, the vast of household pain relievers and fever-reducers. Most of the better known remedies, such as aspirin, are available in even the remotest corners of the world today, but it is always a good idea to carry a minimal supply, just enough to see you through to your next stop.

Mild digestive irregularities may also be expected on trips to far-away places for two basic reasons. One is the interruption of eating and personal habits due to rapid changes in time zones. Another is the switch to strange foods. While the contents of exotic foods may not be harmful — the natives thrive on them — the sudden change of food ingredients may disrupt normal functions. So, don't chide your wife for packing a small supply of corrective remedies for constipation and diarrhea.

An attractive sun tan is proof that you have been away. But you should guard against trying to become bronzed too quickly. One safe way is to limit your first sunbath to twenty minutes, especially in tropical or subtropical resorts, and increase the length of exposure gradually. Also, don't be fooled by what may seem adequate protection — porous polo shirts sometimes admit enough ultra-violet rays through the mesh to give you a severe burn. Remember, too, that the reflection of the ocean, lake or snow helps promote tanning. (It's a good idea to take sunglasses in any event.) And, to be on the safe side, bring along some tanning lotion, burn preventative or pain reliever.

While you are at it, also stow away a small supply of a fungicide. Fungus infections are an infrequent but annoying occurrence when you travel. Athlete's foot is a well-known example. Even with the best of care, you may contact a fungus while walking on a beach, or even in your hotel bath or shower. Washing your feet carefully during your daily bath or shower, drying them carefully and powdering them with a powder will prevent development of a fungus.

Here are some other helpful hints for your trip:

- * If you are traveling to destinations in the mountains or located at high altitudes, take it easy the first day. The air is rarer there, and you will tire more readily. So don't try to do all your sight-seeing too quickly. Typical high-altitude cities are Mexico City, Denver, St. Moritz.
- * If your destination is in a tropical or even subtropical climate, stay out of the sun during the noon hour. The natives take their siesta when the sun is high, so take a hint from them.
- * If you are traveling to hot-climate cities, avoid going into and out of air-conditioned places too frequently.
- * If you wear glasses, it is a good idea to take two pairs with you on the trip. In the alternative, you should ask your optician to give you a copy of your prescription to carry with you in the event of loss or breakage. For the same reason, you may also wish to have your physician write a spare prescription for any medicine you take regularly.

Bon voyage!

There is, in addition, the remarkable smoothness of our transmissions — an improved Hydra-Matic or new Turbo Hydra-Matic. There is the luxury of elegantly appointed interiors, together with the great convenience of power brakes and steering (plus power windows on most models) that have turned the 600-mile day into a restful reality. And there is also investment. Find a fine car, if you can, that returns more than your Cadillac when you choose to sell or trade it. Visit your Cadillac dealer soon.
