Schools Unveil $2,964,175 Budget at Monday's Hearing

With salaries accounting for the lion's share of the increase, the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education unveiled a record budget of nearly $3 million at a public hearing held in school district offices Monday evening.

The $2,964,175 budget shows an increase of $290,244 over 1963-64 expenditures. With estimated income expected to hit $2,802,500 the budget will run at a deficit of about $162,500.

The deficit figure will be made up from surplus funds on hand from the 1963-64 budget. The present balance of $237,600 will be decreased to $75,925 next year at this time. Virtually all departments show budget increases with the exception of summer school instruction, decreased $1,938 from last year, and adult education and recreation which will remain at last year's $24,000 figure.

Elementary instruction costs are expected to show a rise of $118,442. Secondary instruction costs will go up $90,851, administration figures have been raised $24,006 and the health and nursing budget has been increased $143.

Transportation expenditures will rise by $5,057, operation costs show an increase of $26,839, maintenance figures have been raised $14,400, fixed charges will go up $3,277 and capital outlay will be increased by $9,567.

Largest increases in the $1,078,560 elementary instruction budget will come from a $99,909 rise in teacher salaries, a $3,550 increase in principal salaries and an anticipated $7,518 hike in textbook costs.

Teacher salary increases also account for the largest rise in the $1,032,385 secondary instruction budget. Regular teacher salaries will show a rise of $80,151 over last year. Principal salaries will be reduced by $6,740.

Other increases planned in the secondary instruction budget are $6,100 for secretarial and clerical pay, a rise of $3,860 in substitute teacher costs and an increase of $3,786 for teaching supplies.

Librarians' salaries show an anticipated increase of $2,750 over the preceding year.

A decrease in the summer school teacher salary budget of $1,770 and a $168 reduction in instruction and office supplies costs account for the $1,938 lower figure for summer school.

A 20-year-old youth from the Wayne County Training School was turned over to school authorities last week after Plymouth Police said he was apprehended as he attempted to set fire to a vehicle parked in the city's central parking lot early last Tuesday morning, June 30 at 3:35 a.m.

See Editorial: Pg. 5, Sec. 2

Police said the youth, confessed to setting fires behind three businesses which surround the parking lot and to an earlier attempt to burn a car.

He was employed at a local business under a training program set up in co-operation with training school authorities and arrived for work each morning about the time the other fires were discovered.

To date a gymnasium day, a bowling date and a sailing - picnic excursion have been sponsored for the youngsters, and future plans call for ball games, overnight hikes, campouts and canoe trips.

to the camping excursions as an opportunity to counsel with the youngsters about typical teen problems.

But Hoban and Workman say they need help.

EMPHASIZING that the projected program would be community-wide in nature, Hoban has drafted letters to 12 local clubs and organizations pleading for contributions.

Developer Moves To Sue Township

A Detroit Developer, J.A.R. Corporation, which has an interest in approximately 45 acres of land at the northeast corner of Joy and Beck roads, has filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court against the Plymouth Township, according to Samuel Stoller, president of the corporation.

"It is the claim of J.A.R. Corporation that the zoning restrictions (one acre lots) are unconstitutional, prohibitory and confiscatory," David Miro, attorney for the corporation said.

After several months of discussion the Township Planning Commission at their June 17 meeting denied the corporations request to rezone their land from one acre lots to 90 foot lots.

held on the rezoning, on April 15, at which time property owners of the land surrounding the corporation's acreage vigorously protested the proposed change. The request was tabled by the Commission in May, to give the corporation a chance to re-

RETURNED

After a severe attack of undulant fever, Plymouth Township Attorney Earl J. Demel seems well on the way to recovery. Demel appeared at last Wednesday's meeting of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission, the first he has been able to attend since March. He expressed hope that he could continue to be present for township meetings from now on.

Appointment of former Managing Editor Dave Wiley as Editor and General Manager of The Plymouth Mail and retention of Donald K. Derr as Advertising Manager and Walter E. Jendrycka as Plant Superintendent was announced this week.

See Editorial: Pg. 5, Sec. 2

The appointments came in the wake of last week's sale of The Mail to Publisher Russell S. Strickland of Bloomfield Hills.

Wiley, with the assistance of Michael J. Kiley of Farmington, Executive Assistant to the Publisher, will be in complete charge of The Plymouth Mail. He has been affiliated with the newspaper since last December.

Following his appointment to the dual post, Wiley promised to see that the primary editorial concern of The Plymouth Mail continues to revolve around the immediate Plymouth Community.

"COMMUNITY Journalism," he said, "requires an ever-increasing sense of responsibility in a newspaper. Here at The Mail, we hope to meet that responsibility with accurate, concise reporting of local affairs and editorial comment on them."

The 29-year-old editor is an alumnus of Michigan State University journalism school. He has served on other weekly newspapers in Charlotte and West Branch, Mich. and spent a brief period in New York City publishing circles.

In January, at the Michigan Press Association's annual convention, Wiley received two awards for weekly columns he wrote for the Ogemaw County Herald in West Branch.

He lives at 443 Adams St. with his wife, LaVerne, and their two children.

THAT'S VOLTAGE, 24,000 strong, glowing and sparking in the lower right hand corner of the picture, taken following last Friday afternoon's storm in Plymouth which felled two large trees on Harvey St. This one, struck by lightning, dropped across power lines across from the Plymouth Veterinary Hospital at 367 S. ### Sparse Attendance Marks Township Zoning Hearing

Only one property owner, a Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay spoke out against the plan of proposed zoning changes. He recommended a setback to provide safe light distance at the intersection.

Commissioner Russell Ash said his feelings about multiple dwellings had changed and, while not voicing wholehearted agreement, pointed to a survey released by the Advance Mortgage Co. which contends that enough multiple dwellings could not be built between now and 1970.

The representative said the firm has a vacancy rate of less than 1/2 of one per cent in its 250 Detroit units. He said the company has conventional financing to 60 or 65 per cent of value on the project.

Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay spoke out against the plan of proposed zoning changes. He recommended a setback to provide safe light distance at the intersection.

The commission tabled the requests until its regular meeting on Wednesday, July 15. At that time, according to chairman Irving Rozian, findings will be determined.

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble." But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books that are recognized by federal law — the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together, they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

butions of $150 each to finance the purchase of six canoes and construction of a trailer rig to transport them. The canoes would be used for four-day overnight trips, during which Hoben and Workman hope to discuss problems with the teens and provide guidance for them.

The water craft, Hoben said, would become the property of Plymouth YMCA and would also be used in "Y" activities including Hi-Y programs and Indian Guide events.

When not in use, they would be available to any Plymouth Community group or organization Hoben has found that the canoes would be available from Aero Craft Corp. for 70 per cent of retail cost.

The 56 youngsters involved in the program are not necessarily YMCA members and Hoben emphasized that the project is community-wide in nature. Organizations to which Hoben has sent letters requesting aid are:

Plymouth Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, AATW, Business and Professional Women, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth Elks, Burroughs Corp., Evans Products Co., Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union and the YMCA.

Mail's advertising department will be Derr, 28, a veteran of seven years in the newspaper advertising field. Before joining the staff of The Mail in October, 1963, Derr worked for the Jackson Citizen Patriot, the Albion Evening Recorder and the Marshall Evening Chronicle.

He said he will make every effort to see that The Plymouth Mail retains its undisputed leadership in the local advertising field. The Mail carries more advertising from local businesses than all other media combined.

Drawing upon a vast supply of advertising art work and mat services, Derr pledged the advertising department to fast, economical, result-getting service.

"We're proud of our record of results and service," Derr said. "We will intensify our efforts to keep Plymouth Mail advertisers satisfied."

A native of Jackson, Mich. and graduate of Leslie High School, Derr and his wife, Vonda, live at 310 E. Liberty St.

COMMERCIAL printing and newspaper plant operation will come under the immediate supervision of Jendrycka. In the printing field for 33 years, nearly all of them with The Plymouth Mail, he has helped to establish the firm's reputation for quality printing at reasonable prices.

Noting that The Mail is equipped to produce high-quality printing by both the offset and letterpress process, Jendrycka said his department will strive to further improve The Mail's reputation in the commercial printing field.

"We hope to increase the public's confidence in The Mail's ability to deliver competently produced commercial work," he said. "Prices will remain competitive."

A World War II veteran with service in the Pacific Theater, the 49-year-old plant superintendent lives in Livonia with his wife, Thelma.

SIGNING A scroll from the Freedoms Foundation, signed by President Johnson, are scouts from Troop 862, Boy Scouts of America, sponsored by Plymouth's Mayflower Post 6695, VFW. The scouts signed the scroll as part of their pledge to participate in the Strengthen America's Heritage program during June and July. The purpose of the program is to make boys in Scouting and people of Plymouth more aware of their American heritage. In order for boys to participate in the program, they must meet certain requirements including advance one rank in scouting, invite another boy to join their unit, display the flag properly on appropriate holidays, learn about the Nathan Hale award from Freedoms Foundation, and write a statement on "What a Boy Can Do to Preserve His American Heritage." Scoutmaster Charles Guideau, right, looks on as the boys sign the scroll.

City Sells Urban Renewal Lands to Local Industries

Offers from Bathey Manufacturing and Dura-Tainer Corporation for purchase of parcels of Urban Renewal land were unanimously accepted by commissioners at Monday evening's City Commission meeting.

Commissioners instructed City Manager Albert Glassford to draw up a resolution and other items necessary to consummate the deals.

Bathey Manufacturing, located at 100 S. Mill St., offered to purchase two parcels of land — one south of their building, between the building and parking lot, and the other, 50 feet by 100 feet, directly south of their lot — which would complete their property from Amelia St. to the end of their parking facilities. They offered the city 16 cents a square foot or a total of $13,861 and provided the necessary deposit for the land.

LAND DIRECTLY in front of their present building at 350 S. Mill is the parcel that Dura-Tainer Corporation offered to purchase for $3,803.

Glassford reported to commissioners that he received a letter from the Federal Aviation Agency stating that flight patterns at Mettetal Airport would remain as they have been with only minor variations.

The F.A.A. had proposed to alter flight patterns to bring more air traffic over the city, but reconsidered after a representative met with commissioners in June. The Plymouth Mail went on editorial record against the move in its May 26 edition.

Commissioners accepted the parking committee's report suggesting the possibility of adding 134 off-street parking spaces in the Forest Ave. area and voted to notify the committee the city would be willing to pay one-half the costs for improving the lots and suggesting the committee work with merchants to finance the other half.

Dave Tidwell and Carol Otwell Win Mixed Doubles Tournament

Plymouth tennis players Dave Tidwell and Carol Otwell teamed up last week to win the Plymouth Closed Mixed Doubles Tournament, held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on the Plymouth High School Courts.

Tidwell and Miss Otwell started the tourney by defeating Jove and Bruff 6-2, 6-3 and going on to beat Dick Streng and Judy Kisabeth 6-3, 6-4.

Streng and Miss Kisabeth defeated Judy Ing and Chuck Heymeyer 6-1, 7-5 in the first round of play. Sue Ware and Bob Stover downed Donna Cook and Jay Reynolds 7-5, 6-8 and 6-3 in the preliminaries before going down to Miss Smith and Masten 6-1, 6-3.

The tourney was supervised by tennis coach Jim Stevens.

City Cites Louis Westfall; Approves Appointments

Louis Westfall, retired Plymouth police officer, was honored by a resolution passed by City Commissioners at their Monday evening meeting and voted a certificate of appreciation, following his retirement from the police force June 5.

"He kept a fatherly eye on young people," City Manager Albert Glassford told commissioners. Westfall served as a police officer for 35 years, and also acted as a volunteer fireman and auxiliary policeman.

In other action the commission approved appointments and reappointments to several boards.

William Birge was appointed to the Heating Board to fill the vacancy for a mechanical engineer. Other members of the board reappointed to terms expiring June 30, 1965.

include Howard Dunlap, Richard Erdelyi, Kenneth E. Fisher and Albert Glassford.

FRANK BEACH will fill the vacancy on the Zoning Board of Appeals created by Edward Sawusch's resignation. The term expires Dec. 1, 1965.

Clarence Moore was appointed to the Cemetery Board. His term will expire July 1, 1967. Robert Stewart received the appointment to the Personnel Appeal Board, term expiring in June, 1967.

Harold Stevens was appointed to the Building Board of Appeals; his term to expire June 30, 1969.

Approval was also given to appointment of Kenneth Fisher, Albert Glassford, Ernest Henry, Roland Lutz, John Olendorf, Clifford Smith and Marvin Terry to the Plymouth Police Youth Club Committee. Their terms will expire June 30, 1965.

Lights

Ever pass the brightly lighted Schoolcraft College campus at Seven Mile and Haggerty Roads at night and wonder who pays the light bills?

Apparently some people have, because Dean of Student Affairs Lois L. Waterman said the college has been receiving phone calls from college district residents who wonder what's going on.

Miss Waterman said the college has no moving plans until the middle of the month. At the end of July, administration are expected to be moved to the new campus. The lights are on courtesy of Detroit Edison Company. Company officials thought district residents might enjoy a look at the newly constructed campus by night time.

consider their rezoning request to ask for one-half acre lots instead of 90 foot ones.

At the June meeting, Stoller reported that, after much consideration, the company could not consider developing larger than 90 foot lots and would bring legal action.

The Township ordinance requires that the corporation wait a full year before applying for rezoning again.

"We have no other recourse," Stoller said explaining why they are seeking court action. He said the corporation owned land with sewer and water on it and needed 90 foot lots rather than one-acre acre lots to be able to develop it.

An answer to the suit from the defendants had not been received as The Plymouth Mail went to press, according to Miro. He explained they have 20 days to file after being served with the notice.

into the gas tank opening of a vehicle belonging to Smith Music Co. and ignited it. Police Lt. Rodger Vanderveen and patrolmen Henry Berghoff were on stakeout at the lot Tuesday morning when he was arrested. They said he told them he was going to drop a lighted match into the tank of the vehicle but changed his mind at the last moment, blowing it out.

Training school officials told police the youth would be confined and given immediate psychiatric help.

In addition to the June 29 and 30 attempts, the youth confessed to setting fires on Wednesday, June 3 behind Graham's at 846 W. Ann Arbor Trail, on Friday, June 5 behind Kade's Store at 888 W. Ann Arbor Trail and on Friday, June 26, near Jerry's Marathon Service at 885 Pennington Ave.

Firemen were summoned to all three fires between 3:50 and 3:54 a.m.

up $24,606 with a $14,100 increase in salaries, largely due to the appointment to the newly created position of Assistant Superintendent of Schools for secondary education. Accounting costs will go up $2,068, secretarial and clerical salaries will rise $4,200 and a $2,000 increase in other salaries is planned.

An increase in nurses salaries of $125 and an $18 hike for medicine, supplies and mileage account for the rise in the health and nursing category.

Salaries in the transportation department will go up $2,500 and repair part costs are expected to rise $1,134 over last year. Miscellaneous expenses will be $549 more and gas and oil expenditures will increase $501.

A $24,300 hike in salaries in the operations department accounts for most of the $26,839 increase in the operations budget. Electricity costs are expected to go up $1,091.

Maintenance personnel salaries and an increase of $9,300 in a new series of accounts to be used in maintenance department accounting account for the $14,400 departmental increase.

Insurance increases of $3,087 helped to hike the fixed charges budget by $3,277. Capital outlay is expected to show expenditures of $3,168 more for grounds and $10,294 for transportation equipment.

18,000 Jam City for 4th of July Festivities

DIGNITARIES filled the parade as a crowd of more than 18,000 lined Plymouth streets for the event. In the JayCee's model 1903 curved dash Oldsmobile, left, was State Senator Stanley Thayer and immediate past president of the Junior Chamber Wendell Smith. In the convertible immediately behind are Plymouth Mayor

Richard H. Wernette and Township of Plymouth Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay; behind them is James O'Neil of Livonia, candidate for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate; in the car at the rear are U.S. Congressman George Meader of Ann Arbor and State Rep. Paul Chandler of Livonia.

DELAYED by a non-starting helicopter, Michigan Governor George Romney was rushed to Plymouth by police patrol car for the parade. Romney walked vigorously down Plymouth's Main St. waving to the crowds that lined the sides. Once the parade had made its turn onto Hartsough St. and neared Junior High School East, the Governor dropped out to head for Wyandotte and another parade — his fourth of the day.

BOTH YOUNGSTERS and adults rushed into the street to meet Michigan's Governor, right, as he marched in Saturday's parade. At first, police and auxiliary police personnel moved to stop enthusiastic supporters but the chief executive cried, "No, let them come out." Governor Romney marched almost the entire length of the parade route.

YOU NEVER know what a person's reaction will be at a parade. This particular parade watcher seemed to be enjoying himself in spite of a heavy fur coat in the summery weather. Maybe this was taken as Miss Plymouth was passing.

from the picture are Bobby, Jerry Lee and Mike. Trierweiler said he bought 24 tickets for the give-away in his children's names. They are new residents of Plymouth, living at 167 Caster St. Trierweiler is the manager of Tait's Cleaners. The steer will be put to good use, the Trierweilers said — they buy approximately 15 pounds of meat a week.

THERE WERE spectators everywhere, an estimated 18,000 of them, at Saturday's parade. They stood at the curb, sat in chairs and on top of cars. This young man observed from a comfortable perch on his father's shoulders.

J. E. Thomas, Kurt Atchinson Wed June 20

Nuptial vows were read for Jayne Ellen Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne B. Thomas, of Mill Lake, Bitley, Mich., and Kurt Lee Atchinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchinson, of E. Ann Arbor Tr., in a double ring ceremony in St. Ann's Church, Baldwin, on Saturday, June 20.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white organza over taffeta, fashioned with a princess line and empire bodice. Re-embroidered Alencon lace, highlighted with seed pearls, accented the scalloped scoop neckline and bouffant skirt. A bow at the waistline gave added interest to the back of the dress. Her bridal bouquet consisted of sweetheart roses, daisies and stephanotis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her cousin, Miss Linda Mountford, of Windsor, Canada, who wore a frock of white organza over blue, styled with Schiffli-embroidered midriff, anchoring long floating panels on back of the floor length skirt and matching veil head-piece.

Wearing gowns identical to the maid-of-honor, but in varying colors, were Mrs. Ronald L. Thomas, of Grand Rapids, sister-in-law of the bride, matron of honor, (orchid); Mary Elizabeth Thomas, sister of the bride, of Bitley, (pink); Ruthanne Marhand, cousin of the bride, of Georgetown, Ont. (yellow) and Mrs. Ted Gerth, sister of the bridegroom, of Plymouth, (green).

All the attendants carried bouquets of daisies. Gary Wilson, of Plymouth, served the bridegroom as best man. Richard Atchinson and Roger Atchinson, of Northville, Terrence Thomas, of Detroit, and Ralph Thomas, of Grand Rapids, were groomsmen and Ted Gerth, of Plymouth and Ronald Thomas, were ushers.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Thomas chose an aqua lace sheath with white accessories. Mrs. Atchinson wore a dusty pink chiffon frock with matching accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony, a luncheon was held for members of the immediate family. An afternoon and evening reception was held at the Thomas home for approximately 200 guests from Windsor, Leamington and Georgetown, Ont.; Plymouth, Northville, Howell, Ypsilanti, Michawaka, Muskegon and Grand Rapids.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Mackinaw City and northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Atchinson wore a white sheath, embroidered with tiny blue flowers and white accessories.

The couple will make their home in Alexandria, Va., where the bride is employed with the U.S. Navy Submarine personnel department in Washington D.C., and Yeoman 3c Atchinson is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

PREPARING her "Pineapple Cookies" is Mrs. Gary Sockow, of 614 Harding St. They are simple to make, she says, and almost everyone likes them. Serve the cookies warm, if possible, Mrs. Sockow recommends.

The mother of three small girls, Mrs. Gary Sockow, of 614 Harding St., still finds time to bake cookies in her busy day. "Pineapple Cookies," this week's Plymouth Pantries recipe, are family favorites.

Two of her daughters are 17 month old twins, Kristan and Karan, and the Sockows also have a five-year-old daughter, Susan. The twins are crawling now and keep her busy, Mrs. Sockow exclaimed. She added they are not identical and have very different personalities so she does not have trouble telling which is Karan and which is Kristan.

Sockow is a Plymouth native and Mrs. Sockow has lived here since she married six years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sockow, of 570 Kellogg St., are his parents. Mrs. Sockow is from Findley, O.

She enjoys sewing and decorating her house, as well as reading the books on best seller lists and magazines.

The recipe for "Pineapple Cookies," that Mrs. Sockow suggested is one her mother gave her. She explained that when friends visit her mother, they always ask for these cookies. Her children also enjoy them; Mrs. Sockow says. She added they are simple to make.

Brother, Sister Meet After 53 Years Apart

Her first airplane ride brought Mrs. Ethel Pickles of Nottingham, England, to Plymouth to visit her brother, Harry Mumby, of 1422 Sheridan Ave., for the first time in 53 years.

Mumby left England on July 3, 1911 for the United States. He has three other sisters and two brothers in England also. Although they write letters and exchange pictures, Mumby has not even talked with his family since leaving England until this past winter when they phoned him.

"That phone call gave me the inspiration to visit the United States," Mrs. Pickles said. She arrived at Willow Run Airport on June 30 and will return to England July 20.

THEY RECOGNIZED each other immediately. Mrs. Pickles said, adding that she also knew her sister-in-law immediately, although they had never met. Mrs. Pickles was 10 years old when her brother left England and he was 15.

Mrs. Pickles said she is impressed by the friendliness of Americans. She explained that the English are more conservative than Americans and not as free with strangers.

The Mumby's plan to take Mrs. Pickles to northwestern Canada to visit cousins before she returns to England.

Net Earnings Up at National Bank of Detroit

Net operating earnings of National Bank of Detroit for the six months ended June 30, 1964, were $9,016,614, or $2.48 per share, it was reported today by Henry T. Bodman, chairman, and George E. Parker, Jr., president.

This compares with $8,824,969, or $2.21 per share, for the corresponding period of 1963, based on 4,000,000 shares outstanding since payment of an 11 1/8 per cent stock dividend last January.

Total capital funds of the bank were $194,015,006 on June 30, reflecting an increase of $9,047,426 in the last 12 months.

Total resources were $2,726,604,014, an increase of $265,505,397 over a year ago. Total deposits were $2,488,004,837, which is an increase of $250,714,432. Savings and time deposits were $926,967,775, a gain of $134,993,621.

Loans and mortgages, at $1,078,109,735, were up $131,930,936. Holdings of U.S. securities, totaling $616,612,664, were $43,965,088 lower, while other securities at $382,805,678, were $77,511,944 higher than the figure of June 30 last year.

Jellied Fruit Soup

Jellied fruit soups are refreshing and delicious. The following is a favorite recipe:

One-half cup fresh orange juice, 3/4 cup canned cherry juice, 1/2 cup canned pineapple or peach juice drained from canned fruit, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons plain gelatin, 1 1/4 cups cold water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, sugar as desired, finely chopped fresh mint.

Combine fruit juices. Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup of cold water and dissolve in the remainder of water brought to boiling point. Combine with fruit juices and chill and serve in bouillon cups. Sprinkle lightly with finely chopped mint or minced parsley (optional).

Cauliflower will stay snowy white if a little lemon is added to the water in which it is cooked.

To keep silver clean longer, rub with lemon after cleaning, then wash and dry thoroughly as usual.

How to Clean an Oil Painting

Have you been wondering how best to clean an oil painting? Are you afraid of using something which might destroy the paint? Here is the method the artists use.

Rub gently with a cut potato in a circular motion and cut off a clean slice as soon as the potato gets soiled. Clean a small part of the picture at a time; and as it becomes clean, wipe off the potato juice with a clean rag. When the picture is clean, apply boiled linseed oil. Rub this in evenly with a clean rag. It feeds the colors and often brings the picture up as good as new.

On very old pictures, heavily begrimed with the dirt and grease of years, you can safely use a weak solution of warm soapy water, cleaning off the surface dirt without using too much pressure.

If the picture is a very valuable one, it would be better to give it into an expert's hands for treatment.

BECOMING REACQUAINTED with her brother Harry Mumby, whom she had not seen for 53 years and getting to know her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mumby, is Mrs. Ethel Pickles (left), of Nottingham, England, Mumby, of 1422 Sheridan Ave., left his home in England in 1911, and the only contact he has had with his four sisters and two brothers since then has been through letter writing and one telephone call from three of his sisters this past winter. Mrs. Pickles will return to England July 20.

FREEDOM THROUGH EXCHANGE was the theme of the float entered in the July 4th parade by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club. Using the color scheme of red, white and blue, the float featured flags representing 25 nations, in addition to two American flags. All flags, with the exception of "Old Glory" were made by members of the club. Riding the float were three exchange students from Uruguay. Because of previous commitments Plymouth's three exchange students were unable to ride on the float.

The Grim Pilgrim

By DAVE WILEY

This, I think, must necessarily be one of the hardest columns I shall ever have to write. For, having been a resident of the Plymouth Community a little more than six months, it now falls to these hands the duty of charting the destiny of a publication that has been more than just a newspaper.

The Plymouth Mail has been an integral part of life here for over 76 years. And any coherent discussion of it must take into consideration the factors and variables that are its lifeblood—its circulation area and readership.

Plymouth and Plymouth Township are lands and peoples caught up in a violent, though quiet, transitional stage. We are, as one official described it last week, "rurban," teetering between rurality and urbanity.

In few other locales will you find a journal which, on one hand, carries news of so highly sophisticated an organization as The Plymouth Symphony Society; and, on the other, stories about a locally owned herd of prize cattle or classified ads offering for sale livestock or farm implements.

In part, it is this diversity, these astounding contrasts that increase my love for The Plymouth Community. For those who have doubts, I would be a Plymouthite and, here and now, proclaim my sincere and deep affection for this, my home.

The future holds much change.

In the City and particularly in the Township, we are on the brink of unprecedented expansion. Zoning hearings held by both governmental entities indicate sweeping flux in the status quo.

The Plymouth Mail will, I hope, mirror this change with all possible objectivity and accuracy.

News pages will simply report, not interpret or judge. The columns at the right of this page are reserved for that function.

And The Plymouth Mail will continue to carry news of the little things that count—parties, meetings of organizations and clubs, news items about people that you do, in fact, know.

As editor and general manager, I humbly hope I may ever be receptive to suggestion from the most important people—Plymouth Mail readers. This will continue to be your newspaper.

Last week someone nailed me and berated my turning the American Legion's "Why are we" series into a political discussion through my not-so-friendly comments about Rep. George Meader.

I would hasten to point out that the Legion is performing a needed and probably highly thankless mission of public information and education. They deserve the highest sort of commendation. I for one, am grateful to them.

And, it was George Meader who was politicking, not me.

Personally, I couldn't accept the emotional trauma of identifying myself inextricably with one political philosophy. As an editor, the experience, for me, would be too, stultifying and limiting.

I would reserve the luxury of using the needle with equal impunity on all sides.

I have on my desk four typewritten pages of Rep. Meader's remarks, delivered at the July 2 House session on the civil rights bill. They reek with cliché and reiterate what the legislator said during his Plymouth appearance. What I said then, still holds—in spades.

This column would be less than adequate without a tribute to Sterling Eaton. "Mr. Chips" is the epitome of individualism and he, too, loves Plymouth with all his heart.

When I first assumed the editorial helm of The Plymouth Mail last December, Sterling and Murph and Randy and Cynthia went out of their way to help me, my wife, and my children get oriented and settled.

Sterling called Harry Wall at his home on Linden St. and conned him into providing me a room until more permanent space could be found. He has continued to be more than kind. His wisdom and knowledge of The Plymouth Community has been completely at my disposal.

I hope it will continue to be.

I know all of Plymouth wishes him success in his battle against illness. We'll all miss the color and guidance Sterling provided here at The Mail.

Before an altar enhanced by glowing candelabra, palms and baskets of white peonies and snapdragons, Jean Adella Fallott and Niels Henry Johnson repeated their nuptial vows. The completion of the remodeling and enlarging of the Ellis Restaurant on S. Main St. was announced recently by owner Elton Ellis. The kitchen seating capacity of the restaurant was doubled when Ellis took over the building next door, formerly occupied by Boyer's. A new front was put on the building, and inside decorations carry out Plymouth's colonial theme. The Grill Room now seats up to 33 persons, while the Colonial Room has the charm and styling of Pilgrim days.

Mrs. Julie Simmons Crowthers was guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower last Saturday evening when Antonette Zakel and Sandra Davis entertained about 20 friends and former classmates at the Zakel home on Morgan St.

50 YEARS AGO

Last Sunday morning about two o'clock an automobile driven by two young men who afterwards gave their names as Joseph Elman and Max Warren of Chicago, became stalled near the home of Fred Shuett, about two miles northwest of Plymouth, for the lack of gasoline. The men aroused several of the farmers in that vicinity hoping to get enough gasoline to continue their journey, but were not successful, and they were finally compelled to walk back to Plymouth where about six o'clock they aroused W. T. Conner, who went to the store and procured the gasoline for them. Mr. Conner required the men to leave a deposit of $1.50 for the return of a can with David Corkins at H. C. Robinson's livery barn, which they did. Mr. Corkins thought that the actions of the two men were suspicious and telephoned Deputy Sheriff Geo. Springer came up town at once and was at the barn when the two men and the

Human Values Warrant Plymouth Help

A series of three fires and two attempts in Plymouth's central parking lot came to a halt last week when City Police apprehended a 20-year-old youth early Tuesday morning who, they said, confessed to setting the blazes.

The young man was employed at a Plymouth business establishment as part of the Wayne County Training School's vocational rehabilitation program. Designed to provide participants with valuable job training, the program's success has been notable.

Through the years, The Plymouth Mail has hired and trained a number of W.C.T.S. boys. It has been a profitable and rewarding experience and we would hate to see the program impaired by last week's incident.

Pyromania, from which this lad apparently suffered, is a serious emotional aberration, often with sexual overtones, requiring not punishment, but treatment. Training School personnel have assured local officials that adequate psychiatric help will be given.

We hope Plymouth businessmen who have co-operated with the school in the training effort will continue to do so. Last week's event was isolated and unrelated to the effectiveness of the total concept of vocational rehabilitation. The actions of one disturbed person should not be interpreted as an indictment of the program's worth.

The Plymouth Mail has continuing faith in the kind of social effort typified by Wayne County Training School. We intend to continue our co-operation with the program whenever possible.

This newspaper urges Plymouth businessmen to co-operate with W.C.T.S. to an increasing degree. The human values involved are important enough to warrant their help.

A Statement of Plymouth Mail Policy

It would seem that a statement of policy is in order, following the sale last week of The Plymouth Mail to Publisher Russell S. Strickland and the announcement appearing in this issue detailing the promotion and duties of key personnel.

But perhaps we should make some prefatory remarks about The Plymouth Mail and its history.

In the 30 years that The Mail was operated by Elton R. Eaton and, later, his son, Sterling, this newspaper amassed a reputation as one of the finest weekly journals in the State of Michigan.

It was characterized, primarily, by a sincere and heartfelt philosophy of service to The Plymouth Community. The Plymouth Mail took pride in providing competent, hard-hitting news coverage of both Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth.

Editorially, throughout the years, this newspaper has stood for what it believed was in the best interests of the area it served.

In that respect, nothing will change.

This newspaper will continue to be based in, published from and oriented to the needs of the area it serves. Its key personnel will continue to be drawn from The Plymouth Community.

EDITORIAL

We will provide in-depth coverage of events in the City of Plymouth, Plymouth Township and The Plymouth Community School District.

Headed by Editor and General Manager Dave Wiley, the news department will augment news coverage with what we hope will prove to be penetrating and thought-provoking editorial comment.

ADVERTISING

Advertisers will find The Plymouth Mail keenly interested in their businesses and business aims. Sparked by Advertising Manager Don Derr, the staff will stand ready to provide advice, service and, above all, results. Available to them is a complete selection of professional artwork and advertising services.

PRINTING

Overseeing the operation of one of the best equipped commercial printing plants in the state will be Plant Superintendent Walter Jendrycka, a veteran of 33 years in the printing business. Jendrycka and his staff will see to it that The Mail's reputation for quality letterpress or offset printing at reasonable rates is maintained.

LETTERS

As in the past, The Plymouth Mail actively solicits expressions of opinion and criticism from its readership. We sincerely want to hear from our readers. Letters, bearing the signature of the writer and pertaining to items of current local interest, will be printed. Names will be withheld upon request, but letters must be signed.

In short, The Plymouth Mail will strive to improve upon the stellar image of years past. We want to be the best.

You, our readers and customers, deserve no less.

Cubs Cinch Tie for Junior League Flag

Despite a 6-5 upset loss to the Red Legs, the National League Cubs of the Plymouth Community Baseball League were assured of a tie for the pennant with only two games to play.

The Dodgers, with two wins, held on to their hopes of a tie. With two victories, the slow-starting Red Legs moved into a tie for third place.

In American League action, the red hot Indians, running their winning streak to seven, overtook the Yankees. Early in the week, the Indians dropped the Yanks 8-4 and later the cellar dwelling Tigers upset the Yanks 3-1.

THE WHITE Sox picked up two wins, one an 8-5 upset over the Orioles on only three hits. The loss ended the Orioles' hopes of repeating their 1963 championship.

Regularly scheduled games end this week. Pennant winners meet in a best-of-three World Series July 13, 15 and 17. In the event of a tie in either league, playoffs will be held next week, according to league publicity chairman

John Schmidt. Major league standings through July 2 are:

Lo, and Behold! Optimists Win

For the first time this season, Plymouth Optimists won a ball game, edging the Livonia Elks in a Thursday contest 7-6. The win followed a June 30 loss to the Wayne Cubs.

The team dropped a 2-1 verdict to the Wayne Cubs on June 30. Pitcher Randy Williams didn't allow any earned runs for the second time this year. He struck out 11 and gave up only five hits in a losing cause. Centerfielder Terry Wasalaski had two assists and Tom Chandler made one catch to prevent three more.

Wayne runs— On Thursday, July 2, the Optimist team had to come from behind three times to beat the Livonia Elks 7-6 for their first win of the year.

RANDY Williams was the winning pitcher in relief. Damon Cruce had a triple, double and single to lead the Optimist's attack. Mike Manley stroked a one-out-single to centerfield in the bottom of the seventh to score Glenn Heinrich with the winning run.

The Optimists will resume the second half of their schedule on July 14, after a week's rest. Team practice will be Wednesday, July 8, at 6:30 p.m., at the high school.

And with what you save on Rambler, you can keep your pocketbook happy and still add smart, sporty options like floor shift (manual or automatic), reclining bucket seats with console, seven-position steering wheel, power steering, power brakes, power windows—you name them. PLYMOUTH Telephone Lines

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

$96.4 MILLIONS! That's what your telephone company plans to spend on construction this year, to keep pace with the telephone needs of Michigan businesses and families. "Construction" includes such things as laying cable, installing equipment, and putting up new buildings or building additions.

This year, and in the future, we expect to keep on building to meet Michigan's increasing needs for communications. And we'll be putting millions of dollars directly into our state's economy at the same time.

HALF THE FUN of a vacation is sharing it with the folks back home—by telephone. (Can't you just see the gang, as you describe the fish you caught, or the putt you sank?) And of course a considerate person always lets the folks know at once, when he reaches his destination safely. Make a note now to phone back often while you're away. It's almost as essential to happy vacationing—as phoning for reservations before you go!

EASY TO HOLD plus easy to talk into plus easy to listen to... equals your modern telephone! A lot of scientific research and engineering know-how went into making it so. Research, for instance, on the average distance between mouth and ear, the range of loudness of people's voices—even the width of their fingertips. (Those dial openings have to be big enough, you know!) If all contributed toward making your phone a pleasure to use.

Letter to the Editor

BELLS

Dear Editor

I hope your headlines this week will remind readers of the efforts to revive the beautiful custom of bell ringing as an official observance of Independence Day.

If this custom will help us to recall the sacrifices made by those who did not ask what their country could do for them, but, rather, knew what they had to do for America, then perhaps we can reinforce our faith in our great homeland and impress on our children the significance of their heritage.

As Arthur Gordon writes in his article "The Sound of Freedom."

"If each one of us took the trouble to find a bell, however small to ring it, to explain to our children why we rang it, to read them, perhaps, a paragraph or two from the Declaration itself — what would happen? Nothing visible, certainly. And yet, each one of us would have done something of deep significance. It would be an affirmation, a symbol, to use Lincoln's words, of a high resolve that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Please ask the people of Plymouth to join Americans everywhere at 1:00 p.m. Saturday when the bells of freedom ring again.

Thank you, Joan Healy
