

SPEAKING TO the crowd of nearly 250 Plymouthites that turned out Thursday evening for the JayCee-sponsored Town Hall was a representative from the County Auditor's Office who urged support of the one mill tax increase request. For what primary candidates told the audience, turn to Page One, Section Two.

Expect Larger-Than-Normal Turnout for Primary Election

With voter registration figures over the 8,600 mark for the Plymouth Community, City and Township voters are expected to turn out in larger than normal primary numbers to cast ballots next Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Plymouth Township Clerk John D. McEwen said his office showed 3,979 voters registered as of Aug. 21. A portion of them will vote at two separate locations in the township.

Voters from precincts one and four will cast ballots at the Plymouth Township Fire Department Hall located at 41235 Schoolcraft Rd., McEwen said. Precinct two and three electors will vote at the Township Hall at 42350 Ann Arbor Road.

IN THE CITY of Plymouth, according to City Clerk Richard Shafer, his office has 4,682 registered voters. Those who turn out on election day will vote at three locations. Precincts One, Four and Five will vote at the Commucity Center Building at 200 S. Union St., behind the City Hall. Precinct Two voters will go to Starkweather School at 550 N. Holbrook St. In Precinct Three, electors will vote at Plymouth High School, 650 Church St.

TOWNSHIP voters will find themselves faced with two other elections. The Township primary finds all incumbent office holders running without opposition in the Republican election. The only Democrat in the primary for Township offices is Orville Tungate who is unopposed for the nomination for Township Supervisor. Tungate will face Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay, a Republican, in the November election. In addition, Plymouth Township voters will elect nine charter commissioners from a field of 11 for the charter commission for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights. Running for the charter commission are Maurice M. Breen, of 41121 Greenbrook Ln., Daniel Evans, Jr., 41037 Russet Ln., Wilfred A. Gagnac, 42410 Parkhurst, Harlen Hickerson, Sr., 9595 Gold Arbor St., Ed Good, 40000 Ann Arbor Rd., and Robert B. Richardson of 9110 Morrison St. Others who filed are Martin Schomberger, 40810 E. Ann Arbor Tr.; John Murawski, 41020 Greenbriar Ln.; William L. Green, Jr., 42033 Brentwood St.; Orville Tungate, 9433 Brookline St.; and Francis S. Ross, 39919 E. Ann Arbor Tr.

Richwine Retires, To Follow His Own Legal Practice

In order to devote full time to his own real estate and probate law practice, Plymouth attorney and First Federal Savings and Loan Association office manager Perry W. Richwine is taking an early retirement from the financial institution he has served for more than 10 years.

The 59-year-old executive has always had an office of his own here in Plymouth where he followed his practice in the early morning and evening hours. Richwine began practice here in 1928. His distinguished record of service to the community includes terms on the Plymouth City Commission and as mayor. He started in the savings and loan business in 1930 when Plymouth Savings and Loan was organized. It later became Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The tournament has been set for June 24-27 and participants will be housed in JayCees' homes. Allison Chevrolet and Leo Calhoun Ford both agreed to furnish station wagons to transport players to and from the courts, according to the brochure.

TO EMPLOY 50:

New Industry Locates In Plymouth Township

Announcement was made this week that a new business doing from $750,000 to $1 million of business annually, would locate in the new plant building at 1035 Lilley Road, across from the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education offices. Welduction Corporation, a manufacturer of induction heating equipment, last week signed a five-year lease on the building in Plymouth Township. The firm expects to begin moving in on Sept. 1 and be in operation by Sept. 15, according to Victor J. Saliba, president. Presently employing an average of 50 workers, the company expects to double its staff within two or three years. General Sales Manager G. I. Harpster said. The lease was signed between Welduction and Jack E. Cook and Seymour Wiseman of National Concrete Products Co. of 939 S. Mill St., owner of the plant building which is nearing completion. FINAL details on the lease were worked out by J. L. Hudson of the J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. of Plymouth. Induction heating equipment is generally used for hardening of steel, annealing, brazing and other operations requiring the heating of metal. Welduction will move to Plymouth from its present location at 19400 W. Eight Mile Rd. in Southfield. The firm was incorporated in 1951 as an induction heating manufacturing organization. Its products include radio frequency generators from one kilowatt through 50 kilowatts, motor generators from seven and a half through 350 kilowatts, work stations, induction coils, fixtures and cooling systems required for operations of that type. In 1954, operations were expanded to include precision automatic arc welding equipment of the type required for aircraft missile and ship building operations. Both the induction heating equipment and the welding equipment is now being used throughout the aircraft, automotive, ship building, missile and other manufacturing, according to general sales manager G. I. Harpster. ALSO Harpster said, in addition to induction heating and welding equipment, Welduction also builds special machines, electronic motor controls and automation systems. Primarily, the firm hires skilled laborers — including tool and die makers, machinists and electronic technicians. Harpster said Welduction will draw its labor from the local labor force, if possible. Directors of the corporation are V. J. Saliba, Mrs. F. E. Saliba and B. E. Carey. Saliba serves as president and assistant manager. O. L. Hopper is the assistant general manager and assistant to the president. Hopper holds a degree in mechanical engineering. He has been affiliated with a number of other companies, serving in capacities ranging from chief engineer to assistant general manager. Harpster has been with the corporation since 1952. Prior to that time, he was an instructor at Radio Electronic Television School in Detroit.

Probate Court Backs Co. Millage Proposal

In an unprecedented move, the Wayne County Probate Court went on record in favor of Wayne County's Proposition No. One, which seeks a one mill tax increase to continue certain county services. In a letter sent out recently, the Court urged voters to support the one mill increase. The letter reads: "Budget restrictions, caused by the County's $16 million deficit, have made it necessary to restrict emergency psychiatric admissions to the daytime on week days, leaving local police to deal with acutely disturbed persons at night on a do-over the weekend. "Failure of County Proposition No. One will mean further restrictions and additional delay for the admission of committed persons. "ADEQUATE staffing has become impossible because of unrealistic wage scales. This is true also at the Wayne County Training School. Last Thursday evening in Plymouth a representative from the Wayne County Auditor's office urged support of the measure at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Town Hall.

D.S.I. Moves Into New Plant Addition

Operations moved this week into the 35,000 square-foot plant addition at D.S.I. Corporation as workmen continued to put the finishing touches on the expansion project. D.S.I. is located at the site of the former Daisy Air Rifle Company plant. Production began in the new building just two months after the June 15 starting date. Workmen are still installing partition walls, air conditioning and electrical fixtures. Meanwhile, trucks are bringing stacks of literature, display materials and special cartons to the production line where new car announcements are packaged and readied for shipment to dealers throughout the country. D.S.I. President, W. C. Scott paid tribute to local contractors and employees. "THE ADDITION, which increases production area by more than 100 per cent, facilitates the flow of material into the plant and packaging for re-shipment to dealers all over the country and overseas," he said. During the peak of the new car announcement, D.S.I. is expected to package and ship some 200,000 cartons, handle 5,000,000 pounds of material, load 200 trucks and add over 300 people to its present production department.

Swimming Pool Petition Gains 180 Signatures

Remember those days this summer when the temperature soared high into the 90's and there was nowhere to go to cool off — the closest lake was too far to drive for a swim and you weren't fortunate enough to own a swimming pool? A petition which seeks to remedy this situation is being circulated by a group of Plymouth citizens. The petition, according to Thomas Powell, of Beech St., who heads the group, requests the City Commission to build a swimming pool in the city for use by city residents. Approximately 180 persons have already signed the petition, according to Powell. The group hopes to have many more signatures before it presents the petition to the Commissioners at their next regular meeting, Sept. 8. THE PETITION is worded in general terms rather than specific so that the commission will have a large framework within which to work, according to Powell. He explained the group will suggest an outdoor pool when it presents the petition to the commission. Advantages of a swimming pool in the city, according to Powell, include: (1) More convenient than lakes; (2) Cleaner than lakes; (3) Less congested than lakes; (4) An aid in keeping teenagers in Plymouth rather than driving to the lakes.

Will Sets Up Charitable Foundation

Filed for probate last week was the will of Mrs. Marguerite Vollbrecht, wealthy Plymouth widow who died recently. Under the terms of the will, $35,000 will go to persons specifically named and the remainder of the estate will be placed in an M. Vollbrecht Charitable and Educational Foundation to be set up with five trustees. Dearborn Attorney James Thomson has been named administrator for the estate. UNDER the terms of Mrs. Vollbrecht's will, a nephew, Henry Gregory of Mishawaka, Ind., will receive $10,000. (Continued on Page 2)

O.K. $3 Million Mall In Plymouth Township

Construction was virtually assured Wednesday of a shopping center mall and drive-in bank facilities, valued at between $2.5 and $3 million, on the southwest corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads. Plymouth Township planning commissioners granted unanimous approval of rezoning at the site at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the Township Hall. In approving the project, the commission reversed its stand of a few months ago when they split 3-3 on the proposal and Chairman Irving Rozian ruled that the tie vote constituted denial. Following that action, Township Attorney Earl Demel handed down an opinion that the tie vote could be interpreted as no action. He recommended a re-hearing on the matter. That was how things stood Wednesday when developer George M. Rubin of Detroit came before the planning commissioners again. RUBIN WAS accompanied by Michigan Bank vice president Edwin Jones who told commissioners the bank planned to start construction of a branch at the site within 60 to 90 days if rezoning to commercial classification was granted. Jones appeared before the commission last month to request rezoning of a parcel across the street, on the northwest corner, for the bank site. The land at the northwest corner is owned by Plymouth builder-developer Stewart Oldford & Sons. However, Jones said, the bank found out about Rubin's project. "We have been able to arrive at negotiations with them that are acceptable," he said. He predicted that the $350,000 bank building would be a credit to the community. Questioned as to whether the shopping center could be successful financially, Jones said he felt it could. "Scars and Hudson's are regional centers," he commented. "This will be a community center." Homes, Like Wine Have Vintage Years

There are 'vintage' years when homes were built superbly, just as there are 'vintage' years with great wines, researchers report.

This means that a person seeking to buy a home would be wise to learn which the good years were, since they are sandwiched in between periods when home construction was of poor quality.

For instance: 1924-28—During this period the homes constructed were of excellent workmanship and best quality materials. They were built to last many lifetimes by master craftsmen who took pride in a fine job. Designed for gracious living the homes had large rooms, attics for expansion and storage and roomy basements which could be used as playrooms.

1929-40—Homes built in this period were still of good quality. The economic depression caused some attempts to reduce costs by short-cuts in labor or materials.

1941-46—Because these were war years with great shortages of skilled labor and materials not many homes were built.

1947-50—A colossal post-war housing shortage developed due to returning soldiers and increased numbers of families seeking homes. Homes were built for shelter more than for quality.

1951-56—A new problem now appeared. Although building products and methods improved, styles became stereotyped, dining rooms, basements and attics continued to become scarce, and entire areas of construction would consist of homes recognized as belonging to one income level.

1957-64—Home building began to definitely improve. However, skilled labor was scarce. Land prices soared and locations became more distant from urban centers increasing commuting time. This was the period of homes built at higher prices to match the larger incomes earned.

Naturally in buying an older home, it is always wise, first, to have it checked by an architect, or a professional appraiser.

Plymouth Offers High School Credit Classes

For the second year the Plymouth Community Schools are offering courses for high school credit during weekday evenings.

These courses, which include American history and occupational English, provide an opportunity for persons who were unable to complete high school to earn diplomas, according to Herbert Woolweaver, director of a d u l t education and recreation for the school system.

The YMCA acts as a catalyst for the program, according to John M. Hoben, high school guidance counselor. He explained that the "Y" tries to encourage youngsters who have quit school before finishing to return to night classes to earn their diplomas. The "Y" also provides counseling for the students, Hoben said.

Grants from the Board of Education coupled with some state aid provides funds to help the students.

Courses offered this year, which are open to anyone and begin the week of Sept. 14, are American history, Mondays and Wednesdays, 7-10 p.m.; drafting, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7-10 p.m.; occupational English, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7-10 p.m.; retailing, Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7-10 p.m., beginning shorthand, Mondays and Wednesdays, 7-10 p.m., and beginning or advanced typing, Mondays 7-9 p.m.

Woolweaver said the program will try to help registered students earn their diplomas and more courses will be offered, as they are needed, to accomplish this goal.

TUITION for American history is $25 for residents and $50 for non-residents. For the other courses tuition is $12.50 for residents and $25 for non-residents.

Registration for the courses will be at Plymouth High School Sept. 8-9 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., and through Sept. 11 during the day. Registration can also be made by calling GL 3-3100, ext. 4, or by mail.

Recreation classes and college credit courses registration also will be held at the same time.

The past week found the Public Works Department busy picking up cut down Dutch Elm Diseased trees, also repairing broken water services that were broken by the contractor who is putting in water mains.

The Department of Public Works has moved into its new offices at 975 Arthur Street.

One sanitary sewer was dug up at 799 Auburn and repaired. Sewers were flushed out and chemicals were put in them to help kill the roots. This was done on all dead end and flat sewers.

The city parks were mowed and cleaned up. Two humps were removed on S. Harvey and Church Streets and this was patched.

The Fall Festival Banners were put up on poles in the downtown area. 17,000,000 gallons of water were pumped from the well fields. The department handled one burial at the Riverside Cemetery.

earlier stand in which he fought the development on the basis of marketability, planning consultant W. C. Johnson of Waring and Johnson expressed his approval of the project.

"This concept is becoming a pattern in areas like this," Johnson said. At previous meetings, Rubin's plans called for a service station at the corner of the center and much of the opposition apparently grew out of those plans.

The Michigan Bank branch will be located on a 150 by 150-foot portion of the nine-acre site. Speaking for Rubin was attorney David Coleman who emphasized the projected quality of the center.

SEEKING the Republican nomination for congressman from the second congressional district, incumbent Congressman George Meader was guest-of-honor today (Tuesday) at a coffee in the home of Mrs. A. D. Johnson, 11750 Turkey Run. Pictured, talking with Meader are Mrs. Robert Fisher (left), of 9351 Southworth St., and Mrs. Harold Underwood, of 1173 Priscilla Ln.

"THESE WILL be quality shops, rather than run-of-the-mill stores," Coleman said. The development is expected to include three completely enclosed, heated and air-conditioned malls.

Controlled as a unit, resident shop owners will be organized into an association. Coleman said the developer hopes to make the development into a community center as a focal point for meetings and social gatherings.

Three independent surveys by prospective tenants in the center have satisfied them as to the financial stability of the project and marketability of the area Coleman said.

The back of the development will center around either a department store or a supermarket, he noted. Commissioner Tivador Balogh, an architect known to be partial to contemporary and avant-garde styling, criticized the proposed colonial architecture of the center.

Balogh said he saw no reason why everything built in the Plymouth Community should conform to the colonial style which he termed "outdated and obsolete." On a motion by W. C. Koch and a second by Carl Hartwick, commissioners unanimously approved the request.

It will be sent to the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees for action at the board's next regular meeting.

ANOTHER pleasant surprise came to Township officials at the Wednesday evening meeting when developer Fred Greenspan told commissioners he would like to increase the size of his Lake Pointe Village Apartment development on Wilcox Road.

Greenspan would like to add 132 units in nine additional buildings to the project, raising the total to 176 units in 12 buildings.

At the present time, the luxurious apartment development includes 44 units in three buildings. Greenspan estimated cost of the additions at between $1.25 and $1.5 million.

Planning commissioners referred Greenspan's proposal to consultant W. C. Johnson so he could determine if the projected units conform to the township's recently enacted R-2-A Garden Apartment ordinance.

In other action at the Wednesday meeting, commissioners tabled action on the Forstee subdivision application for final approval on hard backs, submitted by Avis Goodale.

BECAUSE one lot in the subdivision does not meet minimum township requirements, commissioners delayed action until restrictions are changed, with the exception of lot number one.

Two subdivisions were approved for public hearing at the planning commission's next regular meeting on Sept. 16. They are Cambridge Village and Marmion Hills subdivisions.

Cambridge will include 206 lots between Joy and Ann Arbor Roads, west of Eckles, Marmion Hills, to be on land owned by Township Attorney Earl Demel.

is slated to consist of seven lots on Beck Rd., about a half mile north of N. Territorial. Tabled because final plans were not available was Gold Development Company's application for a subdivision to be located on the south side of N. Territorial Rd., west of Dunn Court. No name has been given to the proposed development.

Also tabled was Arbor Village No. Four, submitted by Kaufman and Broad. Because some lots were underzoned, commissioners asked that a new plat be submitted.

RECEIVED and filed was the withdrawal of an application to rezone property at the northwest corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads, submitted by Stewart Oldford and Sons. Withdrawal leaves the way open for the firm to submit another application at a future date.

Denial of the application would have forestalled further action at the site for a year.

Commissioners received notice of a public hearing to be held in the City of Livonia on Thursday, Aug. 18 regarding an ordinance change to comply with a verbal agreement between the City of Livonia's planning commission and the Plymouth Township planning commission.

Under the terms of the agreement, lots on the eastern boundary line of the township will back onto the line between the communities and be at least 130 feet deep with no construction to be permitted within 10 feet of the line. Minimum width requirements will remain unchanged.

Schoolcraft College Prepares for Start of First Classes August 31

Orientation, registration and faculty meetings at Schoolcraft Community College are being conducted this week in preparation for the start of the first college classes Monday, Aug. 31.

President of the college Eric J. Bradner and chairman of the Board of Trustees Harold Fischer both welcomed the 1100 freshmen students at the orientation session held this morning (Tuesday) at the Mai Kai Theater, Livonia.

Registration was explained to the students. Delegates of the provisional student senate told the student body about the senate and planned activities.

All day tomorrow (Wednesday) and Thursday morning have been set aside for registration of students. Students will receive their class assignments, pay their fees, and purchase their books.

Evening college registration is set for Thursday, Aug. 27 at 7:30 p.m., and Saturday morning, Aug. 29. Students who cannot register at either of these times may register and pay their fees at 6:30 p.m. on the evening on which their first class meets.

Director of the Evening College Dell Reed said some classes in the evening division are reaching their maximum enrollment while others still have space available.

Among those classes still open are several drafting courses including Basic Industrial Drawing 51, for pre-technical students or those without previous drawing experience; Technical Drawing 101, which deals with orthographic projection, isometric and oblique drawing, detailing, working drawings, use of handbooks and other resource materials; Architectural Drawing 107, which covers drawing and building codes and government specifications; and Engineering Drawing 111 for the pre-engineering student.

The 48-member faculty met Monday morning for the first time and will continue to have meetings throughout the week.

Issues Tips on Use of Parking Lot Rubbish Container

Issuing suggestions to merchants who use the large rubbish container in the downtown central parking lot this week was Department of Public Works Superintendent Joseph Bida.

The large container was placed in the parking lot on a trial basis after paper boxes and other rubbish was set on fire behind several of the stores earlier this year.

"More interest must be taken in regards to filling the container," Bida said. He added when the container is almost full, someone should call the DPW office, 453-1556, or Denski Brothers, 453-3099.

Other requests Bida made include breaking-up boxes before placing them in the container and keeping the container locked. He explained that each merchant will have a key.

The object of the large container, Bida said, is to clean up the central parking lot and eventually dispose of refuse barrels.

State Senate Hopefuls Speak To 200 at JayCee Town Hall

Listening attentively, a crowd of more than 200 Plymouth Community residents sat in the gymnasium of Junior High School East Thursday evening before 16 political hopefuls who appeared at the JayCee-sponsored Town Hall.

Candidates for nominations in the 14th State Senatorial District, the 36th State Congressional District and the Second U.S. Congressional District presented their views.

These are the candidates in the order they appeared and this is what they said:

STATE SENATE REPUBLICAN
Paul M. Chandler

For the past eight years, according to Paul M. Chandler of Livonia, he has been exposed to suburban government and the hurdles facing it.

"There are unique problems in the suburbs," Chandler told the audience, "brought about by an explosive growth rate."

He said there are no laws on the books to cope with these problems.

As State Representative, the 44-year-old Livonian said, he has tried to tackle the problems peculiar to the area surrounding the central city.

He criticized the varying formulas for property tax assessment between communities and noted that he had introduced a bill to standardize assessment procedures.

Chandler said he fought drastically varying telephone rates in suburban communities. He noted that there were problems concerning schools, community colleges and juveniles facing the area.

Concerning his work in the House, Chandler said: "Much of it is unfinished business. I would welcome a change to go back."

Paul A. Kern, Jr.
Key issues in the year's election, according to Paul A. Kern, Jr. of Orchard Lake are States' rights and Constitutional rights.

Criticizing what he termed "creeping paralysis," Kern said state legislatures have the job of trying to bring rights back to the individual states.

He emphasized his belief in the 10th amendment to the United States Constitution which spells out and delineates states' rights.

"I would like to identify every state agency which can be eliminated," Kern said as he indicated what his goals would be, if nominated and elected.

Fitzhugh Prescott
Pointing out that voters will have to choose who will fight for them, Fitzhugh Prescott of Farmington pointed out the sort of freedom he believes in and will fight for.

"I believe in freedom for all, within the law," he said. "I believe in free rights, within the law. I believe in free thought, within the law."

Prescott, 40, said he had been campaigning full-time for the nomination. In a direct attack against Chandler—who publishes the Livonia-based Observer Newspaper chain—Prescott said:

"I own no newspaper. I am not owned by a newspaper. I am not owned by a race track and I am not owned by a lobbyist. If nominated and elected, I will serve full time."

George L. Westlund
A newcomer to the political field, George L. Westlund of Farmington told the audience why he was running for the G.O.P. nomination for State Senate.

"Basically I am concerned," he said, "about representatives who ignore the needs of the area. I am concerned about the lack of fiscal responsibility. I am concerned about the loss of rights under the Constitution."

Should he get the office, the 43-year-old Farmington resident said, he would solicit advice from his constituents.

"I will serve you and fight for long-term fiscal responsibility," Westlund promised. "I will fight to defeat any legislation which would deprive persons of their individual rights."

Carl Wagenschutz, City of Livonia treasurer and candidate for the nomination, did not appear at the Town Hall Meeting.

would be, if nominated and elected.

The Orchard Lake Republican emphasized that he believed strongly in the Constitution, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Joseph F. Mullaney
Calling for a decision from those present, Joseph F. Mullaney of Livonia noted that he was making his first step into politics.

"Some may say I am an opportunist," he commented. Others may say, "He's just a kid." But, tonight, I want you to make a decision:

"You need someone who will stand on their own feet, think for themselves and represent the people."

Noting confusion which has arisen from interpretation of Michigan's new Constitution, Mullaney said:

"There are so many loopholes in the Constitution, I believe we need a legal mind to interpret it." The 26-year-old candidate said he believed in personal representation and felt that area residents needed an independent to represent them.

A. E. Vallier, Jr.
Plymouthite A. E. Vallier, Ford Motor Company executive, told the Town Hall audience he thought it was time for persons with business-management training to get into government.

Noting his service as a Plymouth City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor, Vallier said he felt the past four years showed his record.

"You must decide," he told voters, "if you want experienced, mature judgement in Lansing."

STATE SENATE DEMOCRAT
James McCarthy

Lashing out against bigotry, hate and extremism, James McCarthy of Livonia said none of the Republican candidates had endorsed G.O.P. Presidential hopeful Barry Goldwater.

"I endorse the Johnson-Kennedy program," he said. In a direct, frontal assault against other Democrats Carthy attended Wayne State University for one year. A resident of Livonia for seven years, he formerly lived in Detroit.

Joseph F. Mullaney
Also a resident of Livonia, Mullaney is 26 years old and unmarried. A graduate of the University of Detroit, he holds A.B. and L.L.B. degrees.

Making his first venture into the political arena, Mullaney is a member of the Michigan Bar Association, the American Bar Association, Delta Theta Phi (national legal fraternity) and the Knights of Columbus.

A resident of Livonia since 1939, Mullaney is employed with a commercial law firm in Detroit.

A. E. Vallier, Jr.
Vallier, a Plymouthite, lives at 1338 Penniman Ave. The 50-year-old Plymouth City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor is employed by Ford Motor Company.

A mechanical engineer, he is on special assignment for the general manager of Ford's metal stamping division.

As a member of the Board of Supervisors, Vallier heads the Wayne County Training School Committee. A resident of Plymouth since 1951, he is a graduate of Iowa State College with a B.S. in mechanical engineering.

A veteran of World War II, Vallier entered the service as a 2nd Lieutenant in May of 1941 and served until May of 1946. He held the rank of Major upon discharge.

He is a member of Plymouth Kiwanis, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the Society of Automotive Engineers. A past director of the Plymouth Community Fund, Vallier belongs to the First Presbyterian Church.

STATE SENATE DEMOCRAT
James McCarthy

McCarthy, 30, is a supervisor for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. A resident of Livonia, he is married and has four children.

An active member of the Kiwanis, Democratic Club and Kiwanis, he taught a "Democracy in Action" class for Michigan Bell and ran unsuccessfully for Livonia mayor in 1962.

Candidates For State Rep. Speak

In the race for nomination as the Democratic candidate for the 36th State Representative District, four of the eight candidates appeared at the Town Hall meeting Thursday evening at Junior High School East.

These are the Democratic candidates and what they said:

36th STATE HOUSE DEMOCRATS
Maurice Breen

First to appear was Plymouth Twp. resident Maurice Breen who told the audience he felt his background as an attorney for Wayne County has provided appropriate experience for the post.

"We need an experienced person who will represent the people," Breen said. "I believe the primary responsibility of the candidate is to the public at large—and not to a group that has a hold on him."

The State financial situation is not going to be solved by "so-called fiscal reform," Breen said. The matter requires step-by-step action. He said the representative from this district would have to align himself with the urban and county municipal employees.

Mattice belongs to the Garden City Democratic Club, the 16th District Democratic Club, the Michigan State Democratic Club and the League of Nankin Voters Democratic Club.

He is married and has six children.

Donald A. Sellers
Born in Detroit, the 40-year-old Sellers graduated from Northern High School. He holds B.S., B.A. and M.A. degrees from Wayne State University.

A certified teacher, Sellers has seven years teaching experience on the elementary, secondary and junior college levels. A former small business owner, he is currently working as a manufacturer's representative.

A veteran of World War II, Sellers served for three and a half years in the Army Air Force. He is married, has five children. Sellers is a resident of Garden City.

James Tierney
Tierney, 58, is making his first bid for public office since he was unseated as Garden City mayor in 1960 by Charles Lowe.

His political career began in 1942 when he served on the Garden City Recreation Council. Two years later he was elected to the city council and was re-elected to four consecutive two-year terms.

He retired from public office in 1954 but ran for mayor and was elected two years later. Tierney served as Garden City mayor from 1956 until he was beaten by Lowe.

While serving on the Garden City Council, Tierney was chairman of the zoning board of appeals and was representative on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for four years.

For his public service, he received the Citizens of the Year Crier Bell from the Ford Motor Company in 1959. Married and the father of five children, Tierney is employed as a heater in the steel division of Ford Motor Company.

Marguerite Webster
Uncommitted and independent was the way Mrs. Marguerite Webster described herself to the Town Hall.

"I am well-known in my area as a dedicated fighter for things I believe in," the Garden City newspaperwoman said.

Referring to Plymouth's new City Hall and other projects financed in part with Federal funds, Mrs. Webster said the projects were brought about by State and Federal people working together.

"I don't mean to tell you I can go to Lansing and solve all the problems," she said. "But I think they can be solved by co-operation."

36th STATE HOUSE REPUBLICAN
W. Wallace Green

Plymouth attorney W. Wallace Green said his candidacy poses the question, "Why Republican?"

His decision to run as a Republican, Green said, was prompted because he doesn't want to see power centered in Washington.

U. S. CONGRESS REPUBLICAN
George Meader

Rep. George Meader of Ann Arbor, present Congressman from the Second District, told the audience he had just returned from Washington where the House of Representatives had passed a bill which he termed "most important."

"It will take the Supreme Court out of the business of deciding how state legislatures shall be apportioned," Meader said.

"The Congressman detailed court decisions on legislative apportionment in several states.

"The court's action," he claimed, "constitutes an invasion of the legislative branch of government." He was followed to the microphone by Michigan State Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, also of Ann Arbor, who is fighting for the Congressional nomination.

Stanley Thayer
Thayer said he was running on the record set in the Michigan legislature during the past two years.

"I am proud of that record and I stand on it," he said.

Outlining his political philosophy, Thayer noted: "I recognize that we are in the 20th Century. And I recognize that we are in the midst of a political explosion."

The Senator said he felt the Second Congressional District had gained from the addition of Plymouth and Plymouth Township and Northville Township. He noted the cultural affinity between the University of Michigan and local institutions, including Hawthorne Center, Northville Hospital and Plymouth State Home.

Thayer said, if elected, he would provide representation which will be productive.

"I believe this year is one of the most critical times for thinking in depth," he said. "I don't subscribe to the doctrine of vitriol, venom and hate which has been injected into this race."

"I hope I will always be proud to be a member of the human race." The other Republican candidate, C. Ralph Kohn of Morenci, did not appear.

U. S. CONGRESS DEMOCRAT

The incumbent Second District Congressman, Rep. Meader has served in that post since 1951. Prior to that time, the Ann Arbor attorney served as counsel, U.S. Senate War Investigating Committee from 1943-47.

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

PREPARING "Stuffed Tomato Squash," is Mrs. D. Donald Hay, of 9110 Morrison St. Mrs. Hay suggests this is a good dish to serve dinner guests. It is a combination of two recipes.

An excellent dish to serve dinner guests which can be made early in the day and then refrigerated, "Stuffed Tomato Squash," was suggested by this week's Plymouth Pantries cook, Mr. D. Donald Hay, of 9111 Morrison.

Mrs. Hay, a Plymouth native, is the former Jane Stremich, daughter of Mrs. Jacob Stremich, co-owner of Hillside Inn.

Having been associated with a restaurant, Mrs. Hay enjoys cooking. She is a member of a Gourmet Club, and says she likes to experiment with recipes and combinations.

The mother of three daughters, Carol, 2 1/2-years-old; Nancy, seven-years-old; and Donna, eight-years-old, she plans to help with a Brownie Scout Troop this fall. The Hays also are members of the Elks Club.

"Stuffed Tomato Squash," is a combination of two recipes, according to Mrs. Hay. She suggests you plan on one tomato for each person.

STUFFED TOMATO SQUASH

- 2 small green Zucchini squash
- 1 small yellow Zucchini squash
- 1 tsp. salt
- 3 strips bacon
- 1 med. onion
- 2 Tbsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. soy sauce
- 6 large tomatoes
- 1/2 C. grated cheddar cheese

Cut squash into small cubes. Boil with salt until tender.

Meanwhile mince onions and fry bacon until crisp (do not drain bacon fat). Add sugar, soy sauce and the pulp of six tomatoes that have been hollowed out; mix together and pour over drained squash.

Restuff tomatoes, top with grated cheese and bake one hour in 325 degree oven.

No choice in G.O.P. race for U.S. House

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Plymouth Mail this week is formally endorsing candidates for each local office in each political primary. These are the hopefuls we feel are best qualified in each party.

One of the most important choices to face Plymouth Republicans is the decision they must make on who will represent them in the U. S. House of Representatives.

On the one hand, we have incumbent Rep. George Meader, an old guard Republican who has coasted home in each election since 1951 with little effort.

On the other, is State Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, the gray eagle of Washnetaw, a Republican moderate who has fought with great distinction for Governor George Romney and his program in the State Legislature.

MEADER has distinguished himself primarily by negativism. In 1960, he voted against Dwight D. Eisenhower's civil rights bill. His attendance record in the House is deplorable. He is a man who has campaigned, once he finally got started, on the basis of anti-civil rights feeling and tired, tepid cliches.

Meader is for prayer in the schools. Meader is for not spending money. Meader would have you remember "The Maine, Plymouth Rock and The Golden Rule." Meader is for Meader.

THAYER has repeatedly emphasized that this is a world in a state of flux. He has called for serious thinking that goes beyond the level of superficiality. He has given strong support to the causes of higher education, civil rights, tax reform and other matters the "old guard" thought were better left alone.

His record is stellar, unselfish and outstanding.

Senator Thayer deserves the support of every conscientious Republican in the Plymouth Community. The Plymouth Mail vigorously and enthusiastically supports his candidacy.

To our way of thinking, there is no choice in the Republican primary.

DEMOCRATS

The two Democrats running for the nomination for the U. S. House of Representatives in this district show little difference in philosophy. In fact, the primary campaign looked much like a contest in me-too-ism.

Both Gerald Faye and Weston E. Vivian

Competence and suitability

In the race for the Democratic State Senate nomination, The Plymouth Mail feels that Plymouth City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor A. E. Vallier, Jr., is best qualified for the post.

Vallier

Vallier, a Ford Motor Company executive, has demonstrated his competence and suitability during his time as a commissioner and supervisor.

IN HIS duties as commissioner and supervisor, Vallier has shown a desire for care and caution in the expenditure of government funds. He has conducted virtually a one-man campaign against inequitable systems of tax assessment throughout the county.

An independent Democrat, Vallier will be responsive to the needs of voters. The Plymouth Mail urges Democratic voters to cast their ballot for him.

We feel that the other Democratic candidates are less well qualified for these reasons:

McCarthy

In his campaign, McCarthy has conducted direct attacks against all other candidates. In the course of doing so, he has indicated little qualification for the post.

HE HAS, time and time again, pointed out that he is a life-long Democrat and gives full and complete support to all party policies. This, McCarthy seems to feel, is adequate basis for his nomination.

We think he is not sufficiently independent to merit consideration.

Mullaney

Mullaney's extreme youth and newness to the political field do not lend themselves to his candidacy for such a high office.

A 26-YEAR-OLD attorney, Mullaney has promised to be independent and stand on his own two feet. We feel he may become qualified as he gains seasoning and experience.

At the present time, however, Mullaney is too much of a neophyte for the Senate.

Eminently qualified for state house of representatives

Of the Democratic candidates running for the State House of Representatives in the 36th District, one stands out as eminently qualified for the post. He is Charles Lowe of Garden City.

Lowe

An attorney and former Garden City mayor and Wayne County Supervisor, Lowe terms himself a "conservative Democrat" and points out that the label applies in matters related to the expenditure of public funds.

AMONG THE 49-year-old lawyer's credentials are the chairmanship of the Board of Supervisors' rules subcommittee from 1961 to 1963, the post of urban renewal attorney for the City of Garden City and administration of health, welfare and pension funds.

Lowe is known in Garden City as a dedicated, hard-working fighter for his beliefs. For those who may be misled by the soft-spoken attorney's southern accent, he has promised a fair and reasonable approach to legislation governing human relations.

He seems well suited for the post. The Plymouth Mail supports his candidacy. Our opinion of others running for the nomination:

Breen

A Plymouth Township resident, Breen is an attorney employed by the Wayne County Road have expressed support of civil rights legislation and social legislation designed to end poverty and ignorance.

BECAUSE of his background, however, we feel Faye has a slight edge. He is an instructor in the political science department at the University of Michigan and has served as a legislative intern in the Michigan State Legislature under the auspices of the Ford Foundation.

Vivian's experience seems to be centered primarily in party activities for Ann Arbor Democrats. He ran for the council in that city in 1958 and 1959 on the Democratic ticket.

We feel, on the basis of educational background and experience, Gerald Faye is the best qualified of the Democratic candidates and urge local Democrats to cast their ballot for him.

Background and a Promise

State Senatorial candidate Fitzhugh Prescott of Farmington promised Plymouthites last Thursday evening at the JayCee Town Hall that he would serve full time if nominated and elected.

COMBINED with an impressive background, his promise indicates to us that he is the best qualified of the candidates running for the office.

The son of the late Senator Charles T. Prescott of Prescott, Mich., and grandson of a former Michigan Secretary of State, Prescott grew up in a political milieu. The experience gained in this setting should prove valuable to him.

In addition, the Farmington business executive is a fighter. He is battling hard for primary victory and there is no reason to believe he won't fight equally as hard in the legislature. He obviously has guts. He will not be subservient to special interests.

We endorse his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senate.

As far as other G.O.P. candidates are concerned, we feel they are not as well qualified as Prescott for these reasons.

Chandler

When State Rep. Paul M. Chandler spoke to the Town Hall audience, he noted that much of the business he set out to accomplish in the Michigan Legislature was unfinished.

We agree. But we would suggest that Chandler might have accomplished more had his attendance record been better.

During 1963, the Livonia publisher was absent for 16 days out of a possible 85. He was reported tardy six times and failed to answer roll call on 96 occasions.

ADMITTEDLY, Chandler's health had some bearing on his attendance record. There is no assurance he won't be sidelined again by ill health.

Another factor which detracts from his palatability as a candidate is his inextricable tie with the Detroit Race Course. We point this out, not self-righteously, but because we feel it is unfortunate.

Finally, we — as members of the fourth estate — cannot condone Chandler's almost unbelievable lack of objectivity in using his position as a publisher to further his political career.

The high calling of journalism should not be prostituted to further the ambitions of one individual. Years ago it may have been acceptable. It no longer is.

Kern

Paul A. Kern, Jr., of Orchard Lake demonstrates little qualification for the office. He is campaigning on a bygone basis of cliches and slogans.

THE OTHER night as he reiterated his belief in the Constitution, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence, Kern sounded like a fugitive from Meredith Willson's "Music Man."

The public takes belief in these sacred proclamations as a matter of fact. They need more than reassurance on these obvious perquisites.

Westlund

George L. Westlund of Farmington has demonstrated little desire for the nomination. His campaigning has been brief and unenthusiastic.

WHILE his qualifications are generally good, we doubt that Westlund sincerely wants the office.

Wagenschutz

Livonia City Treasurer Carl Wagenschutz has campaigned in Plymouth not at all. He has served the City of Livonia for many years and consistently won re-election to his post with little or no campaigning.

Wagenschutz has demonstrated no interest in the office locally.

Commission. There is no doubt that Breen would serve independently. We feel, however, that Lowe has a slight edge in experience which qualifies him for the job.

Feister

Nankin Township businessman Lewis "Lew" Feister has had no governmental experience whatsoever. The son of a former Nankin Township Trustee, he has only his position as assistant manager at an automobile dealership to commend him. We feel he is not suited to the post.

Mattice

Mattice of Garden City has been a member of the Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol for 16 years. This is his first venture into politics. He has done little or no campaigning in this area. He has not indicated sufficient interest in the office to merit consideration.

Kramer

E. J. Kramer of Nankin Twp. is somewhat of an enigma. The Plymouth Mail has been unable to contact him for information regarding his candidacy. To the best of our knowledge, he has not campaigned at all in the Plymouth Community. Again, we feel that lack of interest shown rules him out as a possible representative for Plymouth.

ON THE flight deck of an attack aircraft carrier, USS Coral Sea, is Charles R. Wells (left), and his father Commander Charles Wells, Jr., USNR, of 9477 Southworth St. Charles, a fifth grader at Allen School, was aboard the carrier for a one-day dependents' cruise in the Pacific Ocean out of San Francisco. His father, assigned to the Coral Sea during his two weeks active duty for training in July, is a member of the Naval Reserve Officers School at Grosse Ile Naval Station.

The Good Old Days...

With this issue of The Plymouth Mail local residents are presented with a copy of their home newspaper which marks the start of the 68th continuous year of weekly newspaper publications in this community.

Robert J. Sincoc, a service station owner-operator, and Harold E. Guenther, small industrial plant owner, have been appointed to fill two unexpired terms on the Plymouth city commission. Sincoc will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry J. Fisher, Guenther for Floyd Tibbatts.

Joyce Sackett of Russell St. entertained Judy Ash, Kay Meyers, and Brenda Lickfeldt at a pajama party at Appleton Lake last weekend.

Seven from the Plymouth area attended the two party conventions in Grand Rapids recently to nominate several candidates.

Participating in the Democratic state convention were Miss Helen Beavers, and George Bowles of Plymouth and Mrs. Ruth Brown of Plymouth Township. Mrs. S. James Latture, Joan Daoust and Mrs. John Henderson represented Plymouth in the Republican convention with Roy Lindsay representing the township.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferris J. Mathias will be honored at a tea and open house Sunday, August 29, on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Guests were invited by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias.

Harper A. Stephens of Plymouth, who for many years was associated with Bathey Mfg. Co., is returning to his chosen profession. Come fall Stephens will be Director of Music at Thurston High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, of Ford Rd. are the proud parents of a son, Gordon Allen, born August 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gayde, Mrs. William Sutherland, son, Don, and grandson, McKay, are spending a week at Traverse City.

Police Captain and Mrs. C. J. Thumme and son, Kenneth, are in Phoenix, Ariz., and will go on to Tulsa, Okla., where Thumme will attend the convention of the International Association for Identification.

Politics and politicians.

A week from today, when Plymouth voters go to the polls for the Sept. 1 primary, the lengthy list of offices will sport candidates of every conceivable kind.

On both the state and local level, citizens will be faced with intellectuals, liberals, conservatives, the unlettered and pure unadorned thick heads — running perhaps, because a political office can be a racket if one is not too inclined to work.

In the gubernatorial primary, Ferndale auto dealer George N. Higgins will wage an unsuccessful (I hope) battle against George Romney. This is the man who with almost incredible gall, has referred to Romney as "my wishy-washy competitor-impostor."

Here is a guy who, in spite of Barry Goldwater, has proclaimed, "I enter this race as a candidate who will have the word 'Republican' on every piece of campaign literature, every billboard, every sign and every poster."

Hoorary for you fella.

On a more or less local level, I feel compelled to comment on a couple of hopefuls. Some, I hold in high esteem. The others?

Take George Meader, for instance.

Here in Plymouth, he inherited Meader after congressional redistricting placed this community in the Second District.

He is conservative, he is anti-corruption, he is anti-public pronouncements to the contrary.

anti-civil rights. In a word, he is anti - anything - which would cost - him - a - vote - or - two in the rural area he has been representing.

And he has been playing the "backlash" for all it is worth.

Last week in the box at our house, the mailman deposited a government-franked envelope signed by Congressman Meader. Inside, I found a copy of his remarks made at the time he cast his negative civil rights bill vote — the same negativism he showed when he voted against Ike's 1960 bill.

I ask you, what possible reason could he have for mailing it through the area at this time?

The answer is obvious. Meader is playing cards of bigotry, racism, hate and a certain amount of rationalization on the chance that Plymouth voters will cast a vote against decency on Sept. 1.

I despise his thinking. Opposing the Congressman is State Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, also of Ann Arbor. Thayer, nicknamed, and don't ask me why, "The gray eagle," radiates sincerity and conviction.

In an election year when it could hurt him, he makes no bones about his allegiance to the cause of improving human relations. He has repeatedly emphasized that he realizes we are in the 20th Century and old guard answers may no longer be valid.

Thayer is pitting Space-Age Republicanism against Stone-Age Republicanism.

I hope it pays off. I hope every voter in the Plymouth Community who votes in the Republican primary casts his ballot for Stan Thayer.

Like it or not, we are in a district that is almost sure to go Republican for U. S. Congress. Until about two weeks ago, Meader was co-asting along contentedly — apparently under the impression he could win the same way he has for 13 years.

By not campaigning. Now, he appears to be running scared.

Thayer has said this year is a time for thinking in depth. It would seem that it is also a time for voting in depth. With the election of a Republican virtually assured on the basis of districting, I hope Thayer gets the nomination.

Meader doesn't deserve it.

With the three candidates for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senate off and running, Livonia's James O'Neil did his best to force his way into a meeting of regional candidates here Thursday evening.

O'Neil apparently got wind of the JayCee Town Hall and called a Junior Commerce member to demand time on the program. Told that it was strictly for candidates running for regional offices, O'Neil was somewhat less than happy.

Invited to attend and circulate before and after the program, O'Neil showed up and tried to pressure JayCeers into giving him a speaking slot.

As General McAuliffe used to say: Nuts! I like neither O'Neil's tactics nor his ill-conceived campaign literature which tries to show that incumbent Senator Hart is union dominated.

I'll shed no tears if Elly Peterson hands O'Neil a primary thrashing.

Letter to the Editor

DID NOT INTEND POLITICAL EVENT

Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 American Legion Plymouth, Michigan Dear Editor:

On behalf of the serious-minded and intentioned members of our Post and Auxiliary, we thank you for kind remarks found in the "Grim Pilgrim" dateline July 8, 1964.

As we know, the original speaker was scheduled to speak to two veterans groups regarding veterans legislation, the groups members' responsibilities as citizens and residents of a community. We certainly did not intend or maneuver a political occasion. Once again, many thanks.

Sincerely,

TAKEN FROM THE FILES OF THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

50 YEARS AGO

The Odd Fellows have just finished redecorating their hall which greatly improves its appearance.

Work will soon be commenced on the new building which the Plymouth United Savings Bank will erect on the corner of Liberty St. and Starkweather Ave. in north village, in which a branch bank of that institution will be established. John Patterson has the contract for the new building, which is to be modern in every respect and will be a great credit to the village when it is completed.

Street Commissioner Childs has been doing some excellent work on some of the streets in the village. North Harvey St. has been greatly improved by the hauling in of many loads of dirt taken from the Pennington Ave. paving excavation. This street has also been paved, and this and the fact that it is an unusually wide street gives it a very fine and attractive appearance. Union street has been greatly improved also in the same manner.

Williams Bros. canning factory is a busy place these days caring for the tomato crop of which they had over 200 acres contracted with the growers of this vicinity.

Russell A. Wingard and Miss Vivian Daggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Daggett, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on N. Main St. last week Thursday evening, August 27, at 8 o'clock. Rev. Joseph Dutton performing the ceremony.

Northville's handsome new theatre is nearing completion, and it is expected that it will be ready for the opening some time during September.

The great drawing power of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was again demonstrated last Saturday evening when John F. Stowe's company played to a packed tent opposite the hotel on the old Fuller property. The company carries a splendid band and they gave two excellent outdoor concerts that were much enjoyed.

RIDING CANTON Township Fire Department's new jeep are left to right, Philip Dingeldey, township treasurer, Louis Stein, (driving), township supervisor, Fred Korte, Jr., fire chief, and Forest Truesdell, fire commissioner and township trustee. A joint project of the fire department and the water board, the township purchased the 1954 jeep from Jackson surplus, and five men and men from the water department repaired and adapted it to fit the township needs. "Because of its ability to operate very effectively in areas impossible for our tankers and pumper to reach, this jeep will be very efficient in bringing grass fires under control in the brush and wooded areas. It will give us greater flexibility in our overall operation, enabling the tanker and pumper to quickly respond to another fire, if one should arise during a large acreage grass fire," Korte said.

"Our Families Deserve Safe Parks"
Your family's desire for untroubled safety when using the County's 10 beautiful parks, and its pleasant waterways, is something Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback, a family man, deeply understands. Working within a limited budget, he has increased parks and waterways safety by—1st, tripling the size of the Wayne County Waterways Patrol; 2nd, establishing a "round-the-clock" Parks Patrol; 3rd, increasing the scope of the Road Patrol; 4th, strengthening the Youth Bureau which helps deter juvenile delinquency. (Teen-age jail tours are one activity). Recognized for more than 20 years as one of Wayne County's ablest administrators, Sheriff Buback has brought to the Department a progressive leadership. Under him, the Sheriff's Office has taken on an entirely new efficiency. So much so, that County government officials refer to him as "the most effective Sheriff in Wayne County's history."

D.S.I. Executives Speak to Kiwanis

Executives from Distribution Services, Inc. were guests at the Kiwanis Club meeting last Tuesday evening. William P. Scott, Vice-President and General Manager; and James McKeon, Chief Engineer. D.S.I. occupies the old Daisy Mfg. plant at 101 S. Union St. along with a sister corporation, Scott Phillips. After only three years in Plymouth, D.S.I. has doubled their original personnel of 75 and added over $3,000,000 to the Plymouth Community, the men said. One assignment to D.S.I. from a major corporation was to purchase, package and deliver new automobile introduction materials to 10,000 dealers within 48 hours. In the next six weeks, D.S.I. will ship five million pounds of new car materials. D.S.I. also keeps track of sales awards for 25,000 representatives of one particular company as part of its sales promotion plan. At the present time D.S.I. is anticipating a $500,000 expansion of their Plymouth plant including a 200 car parking lot. The D.S.I. executives commended the Plymouth Community Industrial Development Corp. for their efforts in introducing them, as well as to the community. Kiwanis guests for the evening were Tim Wernette and Jon Adams, President and Secretary, respectively, of the Plymouth High School Key Club, and Jim Surrate and Tom Turner.

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

Plymouth's Adult Education and Recreation program for the fall season was launched last week with the mailing of promotional literature to every house in the area.

The plans are for some 75 different classes, or something for practically everyone in the community — as the pamphlet suggests.

Overseeing this activity again is Herb Woolweaver, director of the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation program. Woolweaver is beginning his 16th year, here.

This time the lanky, soft spoken ex-football coach is bearing a health message backed by recent personal experience.

He just completed a hospital stay of 10 days and a couple of weeks at home nursing a depressed cartilage in his spine. "I guess you'd call it a weak back," he says affably. It's what is commonly called a slipped disc and Woolweaver attributes his condition to too much time in the chair and not enough exercise.

He is not the only one in his office to suffer a health problem. His top assistant for the past nine years, Mrs. Irene Graham, has also been hospitalized and now is recovering at home.

During the summer the office has had to rely heavily on the help of a student assistant, Miss Sharon Mitchell who will be a senior in high school this fall and who will continue to work part-time in the office.

Consequently, it's not surprising that Woolweaver talks some these days about the necessity for exercise and his main concern this fall is to encourage adults, particularly those with desk jobs, to take part in any programs available that may help strengthen — is it called "tired muscles?"

Among the courses offered are basketball for men, gym for men and body conditioning for women. There are also swimming courses for just about everybody.

Others that fall in the exercise class are: Ballroom Dance, Badminton, Shuffleboard, Tumbling and, saints preserve us, Yoga. This is the second year for Yoga and the class has drawn mostly women, although, as Woolweaver points out, it also has male enthusiasts. There is a mental aspect of Yoga as well as a muscular part.

Yoga emphasizes something about putting all out of your mind and getting into some fairly relaxed state. If you're having trouble with the bill collector keeping you awake nights, this could be better than HFC, or even the Credit Union.

This column is not one that ought to be exploring such areas, but you should know, in case your interests run to the higher things, that there are dozens of courses to improve the mind as well as specific ones for high school drop-outs, promotion minded business people and some for just plain fun.

There is one that bears special notice — a course in Philosophy by Dr. Walch which this year is concerned with the big think by great poets.

Another that might appeal to many in this automotive age is a course in driver training, exclusively for those over 18.

But this is drifting a little away from the urging of Director Woolweaver to emphasize the need for physical fitness. Aside from his recent illness, Woolweaver has some credentials with which to back up his words.

He came to Plymouth in 1948 and for the first year was the City's recreation director, succeeding Ralph Johnson and Virgil Knowles. A year later, the schools took over the operation and he has been director ever since.

Prior to coming here, Woolweaver was football and track coach at Sidney, Ohio from 1930 to 1943 and at Lima, Ohio High School from 1943-45. In 1945 he went to Flint, where he was that city's recreation director for three years.

He has a B.A. in Physical Education and Industrial Arts and Sciences from the University of Maine and a Masters degree in administration from Western State College in Gunnison, Colorado.

He was an end at Ohio University, and says that he played "on the greatest team there in 1929, although others would dispute that now."

One of his fondest recollections is the coaching of Dick Flannagan at Sidney, Ohio. Flannagan went on to be a linebacker for the Detroit Lions and later, the Chicago Bears.

This past week-end, Woolweaver was taken into the Michigan Sport Sages, a 10-year-old organization with which you are certain to be unfamiliar.

The group consists of 100 members, who meet at least once annually. This year's annual meeting was at Kenyon Lodge on Sage Lake, about 50 miles north-west of Bay City.

In order for a new member to be taken into the group, someone must "retire" from it. Since it is an older group, "retire" may be one of those euphemisms that would do justice to an undertaker.

At any rate, you also must be a man of some substance in the fields of athletics, physical education or related recreation programs.

Some of the names will give you an idea. The current president is Glenn Loomis and past presidents have included Elton Rynearson, Ralph Young, Roscoe Bennett, John Gill and Guy Houston. George Mead, Michael "Dad" Butler and Roscoe Bennett have been "honored guests" whatever that signifies.

Alden W. Thompson is the current secretary and he was the director of athletics at Wayne University when I was pounding out a daily sports column there some time ago.

It appears to be a fun group, put together mainly for the purpose of companionship, honor to its members and relaxation. It's loaded with names important to Michigan recreation and athletics.

There is a note in the invitation to come to the meeting that is expressive, "Remember that a lot of guys will be glad to see you at Sage Lake — and that's more than you can say for a lot of meetings."

Alden W. Thompson wrote those words. He and I didn't always see eye to eye at Wayne State, but he has surely caught the spirit of this reunion of common sporting interests in that line.

I wish I could have been there just to see him. Plymouth can be proud that Woolweaver was

Evans Climbs To 3rd, Vico Wins Final 10-3

Plymouth Recreation softball play wound up this week with two rained-out contests being played. Evans beat McAllisters 11-5 and moved into a tie for third with the Jay-Cees.

Vico Products whipped Bathey 10-3 and moved into a three-way tie for fifth with Men's Lutheran and Evans Products. Tait's had already run away with the championship and Carling's was secure in second. Only one game separated the next five teams in the final standings, however and a sixth, Plymouth Plating, was only three games out of third. The final standings in a closely balanced league are:

Plymouth Township Minutes

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP BOARD OF TRUSTEES REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING TUESDAY, AUGUST 11, 1964

The meeting was called to order at 8:00 P.M. by Supervisor Lindsay with all members of the Board being present. It was moved by E. Holmes, supported by Louis Norman, that the minutes be distributed by the Clerk as approved. Carried unanimously.

Bills amounting to $13,527.67 were approved on the motion of C. V. Sparks, supported by Dick Lauterbach.

The Chair then referred to the agenda for the evening. All general communications presented under item I were received and filed with the exception of that from Stewart Olafson and Sons, announcing the withdrawal of their application to rezone the S 502 of their property at the N. W. corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads. This was referred to the Planning Commission for information and guidance.

Supervisor Lindsay urged the approval and adoption of the resolution of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors calling for the collection of one mill School property tax owners which will be on the ballot as County Proposition No. 1, September 1, 1964. It was moved by Ralph Garber, supported by E. Holmes, that this Board concur with Supervisor Lindsay's recommendation. Carried unanimously.

Supervisor Lindsay then requested the Board to find the Venice Construction Company, the contractor who installed the Joy Road Sewer Project, also known as HIFA-APV, Michigan, stating that they are long overdue in the clean-up program. Engineer Hamill also recommended that the company be placed in default. It was moved by E. Holmes, supported by D. Lauterbach, that the Venice Construction Company be found in default of this contract as of this date. Carried unanimously.

Clerk John D. McEwen outlined the problems currently before his office relative to the forthcoming September 1, election. He stated in order to get all candidates and propositions on the Shop voting machines they must be converted, otherwise the township would have to have paper ballots printed, erect voting booths, purchase ballot boxes and additional personnel to properly administer the next election. It was moved by L. Norman, supported by D. Lauterbach, that the Clerk be authorized to make this conversion. Carried unanimously.

A communication from the Plymouth Community School Board requesting the waiving of the front foot assessment charges for water main along Sheldon Road on the Junior High School-West site and for the sewer on the northwesterly corner of Bird School site was given upon motion by E. Holmes, supported by L. Norman, and carried unanimously. The purpose of the action being that there are no assessments on any Township water or sewer project inasmuch as they remain along Sheldon Road on the Junior High School-West site and for the sewer on the northwesterly corner of Bird School site was given upon motion by E. Holmes, supported by L. Norman, and carried unanimously. The purpose of the action being that there are no assessments on any Township water or sewer project inasmuch as they remain along Sheldon Road on the Junior High School-West site and for the sewer on the northwesterly corner of Bird School site was given upon motion by E. Holmes, supported by L. Norman, and carried unanimously.

Mr. LeBlanc, owner of the Glenview Subdivision, appeared before the Township Board to request the issuance of 20 to 30 building permits for new homes commencing immediately. He stated that the Savon Homes Incorporated is ready to construct homes on 87 lots in his subdivision, including the installation of water and sewer lines for each, knowing that the Township cannot guarantee sewer and water facilities in the near future, but are ready to take this risk. The Savon Homes Inc. were requested to place in writing exactly what they will do to complete this development and present it at the next meeting of the Board.

The Plymouth Assembly of God Church, 42121 Ann Arbor Trail, requested verbally that the Township Board give permission to gravel their parking lot with the assurance that they will black top it next year. Discussion was held relative to the Ordinance restriction on this request and what type of drainage was in this area. It was moved by E. Holmes, supported by C. V. Sparks, that this matter be tabled until the request was put in writing and submitted to the Board. Carried.

A request from Donald D. Tapp, Township representative on the Community Human Relations Committee, for an appropriation of $125.00 as the Township's share of their $500.00 budget estimate, was approved upon a motion by J. D. McEwen, supported by D. Lauterbach with C. V. Sparks, abstaining.

Supervisor Lindsay then requested the Board to refer to item No. 6 Disposition of tabled and adjourned business, that being the Smoke Abatement Ordinance. Mr. Samuel Hudson, representing the Evans Products Co., stated that Cummins and Barnhart Co. is completing their study relative to the conversion of gas and will have their report by the middle of August and will if possible they will submit their findings and recommendations to the Evans Products Board of Directors in September. He also elaborated that the Evans Products Company is aware that the Township Board is serious in this matter and will do all in their power to rectify the current situation.

Supervisor Lindsay read a number of letters pertaining to this matter from Brashear, Brashear, and Meis, Wayne County Health Department, and others interested in this problem and then stated that Evans Products should reveal their intentions by the September meeting of this Board at which time definite action will be taken legally.

Mr. Charles Finlan representing the Plymouth Insurance Agency Assn., appeared before the Board and submitted a fleet insurance coverage for the Township vehicles. He pointed out that it is in excess of the offer made at the July meeting of the Board by Schuman of Farmington, but outlined the advantages of having this insurance with the Company now servicing the Township even though it is slightly higher. It was moved by C. V. Sparks, supported by R. Garber, that the Township renew the policy with the Plymouth Agency Assn. Carried unanimously.

Considerable discussion was held relative to the placing of legal advertising in response to communications from the Plymouth Observer and Plymouth Mail. It was moved by R. Garber, supported by E. Holmes, that Plymouth Township retain The Plymouth Mail as the official advertising agency in all legal advertising. Carried.

The Swimming Pool Ordinance as prepared by Waring and Johnson, planning consultants, be tabled for further study.

The request from Kaufman and Broad for a storm water retention basin to be erected to service Arbor Village No. 4 was tabled because no one was present representing this company.

The Liquor Control Commission submitted a request from the Plymouth Bowl Inc., for a special permit for sale, service and consumption of alcoholic beverages on the course area of the bowling lanes, behind spectators seating, was discussed in detail. It was moved by J. D. McEwen, supported by C. V. Sparks, that the matter be tabled for investigation by the Township and a report from the Sheriff's Department be requested. Carried unanimously.

Resolutions pertaining to the encouragement of automobile manufacturers to spend more money for research by building an automobile exhaust system that will decompose lead oxide were received and filed from various municipalities. These were in answer to the original resolution emanating from this Board.
