The Observer Endorses Stan Thayer for U.S. Congress

FACTS and OPINIONS

By PAUL CHANDLER

With next Tuesday (Sept. 1) the date of an important and unique Primary Election, Facts and Opinions has a couple of recommendations on candidates.

While vital, the election offers unprecedented confusion. The date itself is late (normally the primary occurs in August), everything being set back because of snarl-ups in the courts over district boundaries.

Almost every district has new boundaries. Veteran office holders in many cases will be appearing before unfamiliar voters for the first time, and vice-versa.

For the office of U.S. Congress on the Republican side a strong endorsement goes to Stanley Thayer of Ann Arbor.

Thayer is running against one of the more reactionary men in the whole U.S. Congress... the need for a change alone would almost suffice for endorsement of Thayer.

But in addition, he has been a capable and respected leader of the Republicans in the Michigan Senate; a key lieutenant in Governor Romney's legislative battles for the past two years; and he is a well-educated, liberal type of professional who enjoys government and works at it in a business-like way.

More men of Thayer's stature are needed on the public ballot. It is much to be hoped that Plymouth voters do not overlook him.

For the first time in history, voters this year will be faced with a non-partisan judicial ballot, the task being to nominate men for the new Michigan Court of Appeals. The latter is a new court established by the 1963 Constitution. It will serve as a halfway court between Wayne County Circuit Court and the Michigan Supreme Court.

In Wayne County, The Observer casts its support to: Boaz Siegel, T. John Lesinski, and Thomas Foley.

Siegel has been teaching law at Wayne University since 1941, holding the rank of professor since 1952. He's a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and through the years has been given, and successfully finished, a number of important legal professional assignments from the Governor and others. He makes a terrific candidate for this new court.

T. John Lesinski is the retiring Lieut. Governor of Michigan, having vacated the office to run for the Appellate Court. T. John has a good, clear mind and is a trained lawyer.

Foley is a good neighbor, who resides in Plymouth, Michigan. His law record and general character places him a cut above all others on the ticket, except for the aforementioned Siegel and Lesinski.

Oakland County voters won't have a chance to vote for any of the trio mentioned above, because Oakland County sits in another court of Appeals district.

But voters here will have the opportunity to cast one of their votes for Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield.

Roberts has served with distinction in the Michigan State Senate; is well-known as a liberal Republican and a citizen of high character.

Your editor (Paul Chandler) is a candidate again, not as State Representative, but for the State Senate in the new 14th District. There is no incumbent here, because it is a new district.

For the past two years we have worked in Lansing in the House on behalf of our suburban communities, confining ourselves almost entirely to subject matter of prime importance to our particular area of the state—such things as excessive and uneven telephone rates; uneven property assessments from community to community; better laws for regulating subdivision development; improved community college laws and increased funds for community colleges; revised County government; higher per-pupil state financial aid for education; more realistic laws affecting the great numbers of teenage youngsters in the suburbs; and so on.

If elected, we'll continue on the same course. Your vote will be most appreciated.

'Searchlight' Ranks Chandler, Vallier, Ignores All Opponents

Paul M. Chandler (R) and A. E. Vallier (D) were given highest possible ratings this week by the Civic Searchlight, Inc., in their respective quests for the Republican and Democratic nominations for the new 14th District State Senate seat, and all their several opponents were completely unrated — an unusual circumstance.

At the same time, a separate Oakland County-based citizens' non-partisan rating agency gave the same pair top endorsement. In other endorsements, the Civic Searchlight recommended Charles E. Lowe for the Democratic State Representative nominations in the 36th District, which includes Plymouth. There is no contest for the GOP nomination. Describing itself as a non-partisan organization devoted to good government, the Civic Searchlight, which traditionally rates candidates for local and state offices in the metropolitan area, gave its endorsements affecting Plymouth thus:

Plymouth Election Chiefs Eye 35 Per Cent

Slim Turnout Predicted For Primary

Although the primary election next Tuesday is one of the most important in recent years with Congressional, State Senator and State Representative posts to be filled from entirely new districts, a slim turnout of less than 35 per cent of the registered voters in the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township is seen by election officials.

City Clerk Richard Shafer predicts that less than 30 per cent of the city's 4,682 eligible electors will go to the polls.

Township Clerk John McEwen, who has had his finger on the political pulse ever since he took over that post almost two years ago, is more optimistic about his area and feels that more than 40 per cent of the 3,979 will cast votes. For the first time in years, electors will vote for state, county and township offices at the same time. This was ordered in the new State Constitution.

However, even with the tremendous number of candidates for the many offices up for grabs, neither the city nor the township will use paper ballots. Shafer indicated the City wouldn't have any troubles since it doesn't have a city slate on the ticket and thus all candidates fit into the machines easily.

It was a slightly different story in the Township where McEwen had to get approval of the Township Trustees to convert the voting machines to handle all without using a paper ballot.

This was considered a smart move on the part of the Trustees since the township candidates were slated for the paper ballots.

Interest in the Township primary is at the usual low ebb since none of the Township officials faces any opposition on the Republican ticket. The only contest will come in the November general elections where Supervisor Roy Lindsay will be opposed by Democrat Orville Tungate.

But there is more than a bit of interest in the races for the 2nd Congressional District, 14th State Senate district and the 36th State Representative district.

Plymouth community voters had an opportunity to hear most of the candidates at a Town Hall meeting last Thursday sponsored by the Plymouth Jaycees that attracted a crowd of more than 250 to Junior High East.

And at the end of the evening, those in attendance came out with an excellent idea of who they planned to support in the primary.

Sixteen candidates or representatives were on hand to present their views on the various issues that have cropped out in the political campaigns.

Congressman George Meader, of Ann Arbor, and his principal Republican opponent, Stan Thayer, also of Ann Arbor, had the floor to present their stands in the battle for the 2nd Congressional district nomination.

At the end of the presentations, it was apparent to most that Thayer had a bit of an edge over his veteran opponent.

Neither Gerald Faye, of Ann Arbor, nor Earl Demel, of Plymouth, had the floor to present their views on the various issues that have cropped out in the political campaigns.

Plymouth IDC Seeks Takers Of $100 Notes

Plymouth's Industrial Development Corporation has $35,000 in $100 debenture notes for sale to those who believe in the future of the community and especially in the Distribution Services, Inc.

The $35,000 was used to help DSI receive the backing needed for its Small Business Agency loan to finance the huge addition that already is in operation.

The notes carry six per cent interest for a 10-year period with 10 per cent of the principal to be returned annually.

President Frank Arlen has invited all IDC stockholders to participate or any others in the community who wish to make an investment in the future.

Southfield Loss Adds New Plant To Township

Southfield's loss will be a big gain to the Plymouth Township industrial colony with the announcement that Welduction Corporation, 19400 W. Seven Mile Road, has signed a five year lease for the new building under construction on the property of the National Concrete Products Co. at 1035 Lilley Road.

Welduction, which has an average payroll of 50 workers, will move into its new quarters and start operation by Sept. 15, according to plans released by President Victor J. Saliba.

The building, which has a total of 12,500 square feet, will be completed by the end of the week.

The deal, which brought the new plant to the Plymouth Community, was arranged by J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co. through the efforts of President Joseph L. Hudson. It was the second industry secured for the Community in less than three weeks by Hudson and his associates.

He completed details for Penncraft Corp. of Howell, Mich. to purchase acreage in the City of Plymouth Industrial Park on Plymouth Road earlier and expects to have that contract sealed and signed in a conference with City officials and Penncraft executive on Wednesday afternoon.

"We needed additional space for expansion and sought a more modern building," said Saliba in confirming the deal. "We have been at the Southfield site for seven years but found the facilities offered by J. L. Hudson and the National Concrete Products Co. just what we wanted — thus we signed the five year lease."

Saliba was executive vice president and a director of Weltronic Co., located in Southfield adjacent to Welduction Corp., for 17 years. He left when he purchased the Welduction plant.

Welduction was incorporated in 1951 as an induction heating manufacturing organization, producing radio frequency generators, motor generators as well as necessary machines, work stations, induction coils, fixtures and cooling systems required for this type of operation.

In 1954, the operations were expanded to include precision automatic arc welding equipment of the type required for

2 Hospitalized In Car Crashes In Plymouth

Two Plymouth residents were injured and taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment and examination in three weekend collisions.

Carl Bennett, 20, of 11711 Priscilla, Plymouth, suffered bruises and cuts when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by John Laughner, 32101 Hees, Livonia.

Patrick Theake, 650 N. Evergreen, Plymouth, was rushed to the hospital when his truck struck a parked car while he was driving south on Harvey. Theake was ticketed for reckless driving according to police reports.

Irene Kearney, of 1009 Starkweather, Plymouth, suffered minor injuries in a two car crash at the intersection of N. Main and Penniman.

The accident involved cars driven by Neva Baker, of Flippen, Ark., and Wilhelmina Maltrott of Dearborn Heights, Plymouth police records show.

Multi-Million Mall Okayed by Township Planning Commission

Saved by the bell when it appeared he was on the verge of a knockout, George M. Rubin, of Detroit, has received the official approval of the Plymouth Township planning commission for rezoning of nine acres at the southwest corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads for the construction of an enclosed, air-conditioned, heated mall.

Two months ago, the commission voted 3-3 with one abstention on the same proposal. The members took that as an indication of denial of the petition but asked Township Attorney Earl Demel for an opinion.

Demel, in his opinion, informed the commission that a 3-3 vote was neither an approval nor a denial and indicated that the board should have a rehearing.

In his previous presentation, Rubin had indicated that the corner lot of the site would be used for a gasoline station. This brought opposition from members on the grounds that there were more than enough service stations in the immediate area.

At last week's meeting, Rubin, who was represented by Attorney David Coleman, presented new plans with the Michigan National Bank slated for a branch office at the corner of Sheldon and Ann Arbor Roads.

PLYMOUTH'S downtown business section was gaily decorated over the weekend with the bright placards calling attention to the annual Fall Festival, slated for Sept. 10, 11, 12 and 13. This is one of the colorful signs that greet visitors as they walk and drive through the Central Business District. The Festival reaches its climax on Sunday, Sept. 13 in the traditional Rotary Club chicken bar-b-que.

Foundation Set Up In Vollbrecht Will

Will the City of Plymouth and the Plymouth community benefit from the terms of an Educational and Charitable Foundation established by Mrs. Mary Marguerite Vollbrecht, 1299 W. Ann Arbor Trail, in her will?

Mrs. Vollbrecht, rumored to be one of the wealthiest women in Michigan, died in July of a heart attack.

The will filed in the Wayne County Probate Court a week ago lists four beneficiaries, who receive a total of $35,000, with the balance of the estate going into the M. Vollbrecht Charitable and Educational Foundation.

Attorney James Thomson, of Dearborn, was named administrator and could give little information about the Foundation with the exception that the will names five trustees. He refused to divulge the names until after the Foundation has been set in order — sometime in three or four months.

The four beneficiaries are: Henry Gregory, of Mishawaka, Ind., a nephew, who received $10,000 — $5,000 at the age of 21 and $5,000 at the age of 25; Mrs. Josephine Strom of South Bend, Ind., $10,000 at the rate of $1,000 annually for 10 years; Mrs. Sylvia Pace, 674 Pacific, Plymouth, a sister-in-law, $10,000 with $1,000 annually for 10 years; and Mrs. Anne Donnelly of Plymouth, $5,000.

Mrs. Vollbrecht was the widow of Frederick Vollbrecht, prominent Plymouth and Detroit industrialist, who preceded her in death in February, 1962.

The will listed the estate as having $75,000 in real estate and more than $500,000 in personal property.

Items included in the estate were the family mansion on W. Ann Arbor Trail and the Hilltop Golf Course.

"You Wouldn't

Veteran Banker to Retire Perry Richwine Calls It 'Quits' Monday

Plymouth's business and banking community will bid a fond farewell to one of its most prominent members Monday when Perry Richwine, longtime vice president, director and manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association Branch in Plymouth, officially retires.

Perry, who has served the community for more than 40 years as a banker and financial adviser, leaves his post in the bank's new building at the corner of Main and Penniman Avenues with the knowledge that he has seen the City grow from little more than a village into a thriving community.

He has long been a leader in civic activities and in banking circles.

It was back in the late '20s that he organized and headed the Plymouth Federal Savings and Loan Association which merged with the First Federal Savings and Loan in 1953.

He remained as vice president and manager—the titles he held until his retirement.

Come Tuesday morning, the smiling face of Richwine will be missing from First Federal and Paul Reifel, who was transferred from the branch at Warren and Woodmont, will take over as manager.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY marked a flag presentation to the City Commission and the new City Hall by officers of the Plymouth Elks Lodge 1780. Seven years ago the Elks presented a flag for use in the court chambers and then decided a second flag would be appropriate for the new Council quarters. The ceremonies were in charge of Exalted Ruler Arthur Roberts.

Plant Doubles Payroll In 3 Years Kiwanians Hear DSI Story

Executives from Distribution Services, Inc., were guests at the Kiwanis Club meeting last week. William C. Scott, president; William P. Scott, vice-president and general manager; and James McKeon, chief engineer.

DSI occupies the old Daisy Mfg. plant at 101 S. Union St. along with a sister corporation, Scott-Phillips. After only three years in Plymouth, DSI has doubled its original personnel of 75 and added over $3,000,000 to the Plymouth Community.

Four of the specialized customer services which it has developed are product program distribution, market request fulfillment, achievement recognition and controlled selling. One assignment from a major corporation was to purchase, package and deliver new automobile introduction materials to 10,000 dealers within 48 hours.

In the next six weeks, DSI will ship five million pounds of new-car materials. DSI also keeps track of sales awards for 25,000 representatives of one particular company as part of its sales promotion plan.

At the present time DSI is anticipating a $500,000 expansion of its Plymouth plant including a 200-car parking lot.

The DSI executives commended the Plymouth Community Industrial Development Corp. for its efforts in introducing them as well as many others to the community.

Guests for the evening were Tim Wernette and Jon Adams, president and secretary, respectively, of the Plymouth High School Key Club, and Jim Surrate and Tom Turner.

Kiwanian Liv Williams of the Education and Fellowship Committee introduced Ray Cusato as the newest "Baby" Kiwanian. Cusato, an employee of Xerox Corp., must wear his bib for the next four meetings.

President Gerry Fitch received an invitation from the American Legion for several Kiwanis members and their wives to attend a dinner as part of the Legion's get-acquainted program with other community organizations.

Zoning Board Approves Mall

earlier to seek permission to build across the street at the northwest corner of the two roads, told the commission that the bank had changed plans and would build on the Rubin site if rezoning was approved.

The bank plans to purchase an area 150 feet square for construction of a building estimated to cost more than a quarter of a million dollars and will have joint use of the Mall's parking facilities.

Coleman presented an architect's drawing of the proposed Mall and also showed the commission pictures of the Yorkdale Mall in Toronto, Ontario which he said will be used as a pattern for the new center.

Coleman estimated the cost of the Mall at more than $3 million, excluding the bank building.

He told the commission that the bank was the only business definitely committed to the Mall.

"We have been waiting for the action of this commission and the Township Board, before going ahead with plans," he said. "After all, this has been in the hopper quite a while and we couldn't make any definite arrangements until we knew the outcome."

The planning commission voted unanimously to approve the rezoning — now the matter goes before the Township Board at its September meeting for a final decision.

The Greenspan Building Company presented a plot plan for 132 additional apartments to be constructed at its present apartment development on Wilcox Road.

Fred Greenspan, builder and developer, told the commission the additional apartments would require nine more buildings with 16 units in each and give the project a total of 176 apartments when completed.

He estimated the cost of the new apartments at more than $1.5 million.

In other actions, the commission:

- Tabled final approval of the Forshee subdivision pending amending instructions.
- Set a hearing in September on the Cambridge Village subdivision located on the extension of Eckles Road between Joy and Ann Arbor Roads.

Delayed action on the Gould Development Co. application for final preliminary approval of plans for a subdivision on the south side of N. Territorial Road west of Dunn Court. The commission requested a topography map of the area before taking action.

Accepted final preliminary plans of the Marmion Hills subdivision located on the east side of Beck Road north of N. Territorial Road and ordered a hearing at the September meeting.

Tabled an application from Kauffman and Broad for Arbor Village No. 4, at the southeast corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Haggerty, pending further information.

Packaging Corp. Chairman Sees New 1964 Gains

New York — Continuing strong demand for paper-board packaging should lend support to some price increases and can produce sales gains of about five per cent for the six months ended Dec. 31, 1964 for Packaging Corporation of America, according to W. D. P. Carey, chairman of the board and chief executive officer. The corporation has a plant in Plymouth, Mich.

Carey told a luncheon meeting of the New York Society of Security Analysts that Packaging Corporation of America has maintained a realistic pricing policy based on the concept of profitability in contrast to "those that have reduced prices indiscriminately and thoughtlessly in order to get volume."

Significant steps to add to Packaging Corporation's abilities to fill customer needs, expanding existing markets, and develop new markets cited by Carey, include:

- A three-million dollar improvement of the Company's bleached kraft mill at Filer City, Mich., that improved product quality and permitted the successful marketing of a new line of specialty printing papers made on the same equipment that produces high quality board for food packages.
- Enlargement of corrugated container operations to meet the growing demand for containers, corrugated displays and special corrugated packaging items.
- Constant stress on the development of new packages, packaging materials and methods, as well as of improving filling line techniques, and exploring new ideas for future packaging.

Packaging Corporation of America's sales for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1964, were $144,779,000, highest in the company's history, and earnings per common share equalled $1.65 per share.

Arbor, nor Weston Vivian, also of Ann Arbor, was able to attend but each had a representative to give reasons why he should have the Democratic backing.

A hard fought battle looms in the race for the 14th District State Senator nomination where five Republicans and three Democrats are vying for the right to meet in the finals in November.

Paul Chandler, currently State Representative from the former district which included Livonia, Redford, Plymouth and Northville, made a strong plea for support in his campaign for the Republican nomination for the new 14th District.

He received a big hand after stating his case, telling of his work in the legislature during the past two years, the things he had accomplished and hoped to complete if successful in his bid for the Senate.

Three of his four opponents, including Fitzhugh Prescott of Farmington, Paul Kern, Jr., of Orchard Lake and George Westlund of Farmington, made presentations with the last mentioned making a hit with his talk.

Of the three Democrats, Arch Vallier of Plymouth, a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and of the Plymouth City Commission stood out head and shoulders over rivals James McCarthy of Livonia and Joseph Mullaney of Livonia.

McCarthy made little impression with his talk which consisted principally of ridiculing his two rivals and one of the Republican candidates. There is still considerable conjecture as to why he rapped a GOP candidate in the primary when neither had gained the nomination for the general election.

Four of the eight candidates for the 36th District State Representative job appeared while the other four begged off for previous engagements.

Of the quartet, Plymouthites appeared to have more interest in Maurice Ereen, who hails from the Lakepointe subdivision and has been active in Township politics and activities, than any of the others.

Taking the mike for short talks were: Charles Lowe of Garden City, Donald Sellers of Garden City and Marguerite Webster of Garden City.

Schoolcraft College Opens Doors To 1,100 Area Students Monday

A dream of 1957 becomes a reality of 1964 next Monday when more than 1,100 students from Livonia, Plymouth, Clarenceville, Garden City and Northville, as well as surrounding communities, start classes at Schoolcraft College on the new campus at the intersection of W. Seven Mile and Haggerty Roads in Livonia.

will continue through Thursday morning on the campus. All students will receive the classes for which they signed, pay their fees, purchase text books and be ready to start studies at once

Monday, Aug. 31. Registrar Dunn anticipates that the entire 1,100 will be enrolled by Thursday afternoon. Evening College students will begin registration Thursday, Aug.

27 at 7:30 p.m. They will have a second opportunity to register on Saturday, Sept. 9. Evening College Director Dell Reed indicated that those unable to register, at either of the times listed above, may do so and pay fees at 6:30 p.m. on the evening their first class meets. Buildings open for use at the start of classes include: the Forum, Library, Administration, Campus Center and a service building.

INSTRUCTORS from coast to coast including many who look more like coeds than teachers checked in Monday for the initial gathering of the Schoolcraft College faculty. The new North-west County community college opens its doors for the first time next Monday when more than 2,500 students will check in for the day-and-night-time courses. Dickerson Calls Rival 7 Time Loser Who Failed In His Precinct

Jim Dickerson of Rochester charged today that one of his rivals for the U.S. Congress 19th District nomination was a "seven time loser" on the ballot for other offices.

"... since Mr. Kuhn has chosen to wage in Wayne County where he isn't known, the contest on this ground, it should be noted that the record of the candidate is not one which should give any Republican confidence that Kuhn could beat any Democrat in November."

own Township of Waterford, he has been defeated for justice of the peace and supervisor ... and beginning back in 1952, he sought the Republican nomination for State Senate five times in succession. Each time he was defeated. Two of these times he ran against two GOP incumbents.

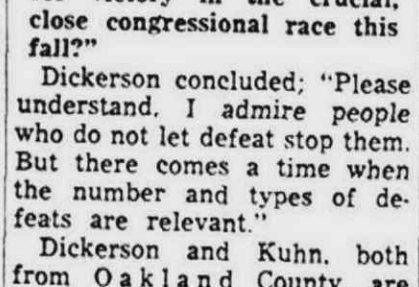

Speak Your Piece!

(Each week, Observer reporters quiz local residents on questions of current interest. If you have a suggested question, let us hear it at 33050 Five Mile, Livonia.)

Suburban residents were asked this week for comments on the question, "Do political campaign posters on public or private property influence the way you vote?"

moved here recently from Chicago, replied, "The posters do not influence my vote. I've seen one color poster so many times

"I ask, is this the type of record on which the Republicans should pin their hopes for victory in the crucial, close congressional race this fall?"

Redford Township, Farmington and Livonia residents who were queried answered thus—

Mrs. Christopher Sieh, 34408 Burton Lane: "Well, I think they do. They get people familiarized with the names of the candidates. I do think the last election went overboard a little, however, because there were so many signs up. Personally, I'm very much in favor of what the League of Women Voters does to inform residents about candidates' views and backgrounds."

around here, but I can't remember the candidate's name. I look for the viewpoints and program of the candidate—not his poster."

Dickerson concluded: "Please understand, I admire people who do not let defeat stop them. But there comes a time when the number and types of defeats are relevant."

Selh Graber

Answered Mrs. Muriel Graber, 18284 Lexington, Redford Township: "They do not influence my vote because my mind is already made up as to whom I'm going to vote for. I like to decide on the basis of issues who my candidate will be. However, cards and campaign leaflets which I may receive are a different story. Perhaps I will read on them viewpoints which I support, and this will influence my feeling about a candidate."

Promoters of Livonia's Show Train said today they had lost more than $14,000 on the early-summer extravaganza which ran for a week in July.

Show Train backers plan to go ahead with a similar show next year.

Mrs. H. A. Ryan, 25751 Springbrook, Farmington Township, replied: "Not as far as the party, but you get to know the candidates' names and their backgrounds from the posters."

In a letter to creditors of the Festival, Burl T. Woodward, president of Livonia Show Train, Inc., offered to pay 47 per cent of claims. "We find that we have $12,820.63 available for distribution to all of the general creditors," he said, "and we prefer to make this distribution rather than have the money depleted by costs if we have bankruptcy proceedings."

Sears Thanks C'ville For Co-operation

The Clarenceville Board of Education and members of the administrative staff are commended for their excellent cooperation and assistance to Sears Livonia Mall during opening week in a letter from Store Manager Arthur Cone.

Southfield Gap Opens

DETROIT—A major gap in Detroit's $44 million Southfield Freeway was opened to traffic recently.

"We can therefore pay 47 per cent of your claim and if this proposal is accepted by 68 creditors we will issue checks in the very near future."

Sears arranged to use the Clarenceville senior and junior high parking lots for employee parking during the week, shuttling all workers back and forth via bus.

The opening of a 1.7-mile section from Rounda to Outer Drive gives motorists a continuous 13-mile-long six-lane freeway from I-94 (Edsel Ford Freeway) north to Eight Mile Road.

Woodward blamed "poor weather during the show dates" for keeping attendance down. "Our first experience with an affair of this type resulted in some errors in planning which could not be assessed until the affair was over."

"May I take this opportunity to thank you for the cooperation and assistance extended to us during the week of August 10," wrote Cone. "The use of the parking facilities at the junior and senior high schools significantly helped us in alleviating traffic congestion."

The final one-mile link from Eight Mile north to the Nine Mile-John C. Lodge Interchange will be completed this fall.

Grid Managers Meet

There will be a Men's Touch Football Managers meeting Monday, Aug. 31 in the Livonia Parks and Recreation office.

"I should particularly like to commend Supt. Louis Schmidt and Mr. Knowlton for their assistance."

The new $4.4 million section is in the cities of Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Allen Park.

$115,931,292 Loaned in Tri-County

First Federal Tops In July Mortgages

Mortgage lenders in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties racked up the second largest total for the year in July—$115,931,292 — which was only approximately a million and a half less than the total for June, best month of the first six of 1964.

Continuing as top lender in the under-$35,000 home mortgages for the month was First Federal Savings of Detroit, which reported $6,000,750 in "under" and $996,000 in the higher category.

Other lenders with totals in excess of a million dollars for July were: Advance Mortgage Corp., American Savings & Loan Association, Capitol Savings & Loan Association, City National Bank, Curnow Mortgage Corp., Detroit Bank & Trust Co., Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, First Federal Savings & Loan Association of Oakland, Fort Wayne Mortgage Co., Franklin Mortgage Corp., Hannan Real Estate Exchange, Lambrecht Realty Co., Manufacturers National Bank, Michigan Bank National Association, Michigan Mortgage Corp., National Bank of Detroit, and Prudential Life Insurance Co. of America. Largest lender in the over-$35,000 mortgages was City National Bank, with $6,144,000. Total of the "unders" in the area for July was $72,948,572, and the "overs" totaled $42,982,720. Grand totals for July, 1963, according to the Lawyers Title summary, were $96,896,218.28.

The figures were released this week in the monthly mortgage summary of Lawyers Title Insurance Corp., Detroit, which divides the mortgage lending into two categories — under-$35,000 (practically all of these being loans on new and existing homes), and over-$35,000 (into which category most large commercial loans fall).

Participating in the mortgage lending are banks, mortgage companies, insurance companies, savings and loan associations and individual lenders. About 75 are listed in the July summary.

Next largest lender in the "unders" in the area for the month was Standard Federal Savings & Loan Association, which reported $4,774,000. Third in this category was Detroit Mortgage & Realty

"More Women In Politics" Agree Distaff Candidates

Veteran Treasurer Encourages Women In Political Life

A sage and wise political friend once told me there were two ways to be independent: To be very rich or very poor—and then he allowed as there was another way and that was to be a woman.

The trait of independence in politics is important and rare. There are a couple of women I have met lately that fill the bill beautifully.

One of the most appealing traits of Mrs. Avery, both as a woman and as a politician, is you know exactly where you stand with her. She is straightforward, businesslike and handles matters with dispatch.

Besides this she made my favorite soap-box speech: "There should be more women in politics." Perhaps I am a bit prejudiced on the subject but I do feel we would have better politics if more women were interested."

Elise P. Avery

In this respect Mrs. Avery is fortunate. In Farmington there is an extremely active Republican Women Club of which Mrs. Avery is a charter member. She has always been interested in civic affairs—it was this interest that drew her into politics in the first place.

When she and her husband Lawrence first moved to Farmington about 10 years ago she was interested in hearing the candidates planning on running for office so she attended a Republican rally.

Instead of hearing candidates she discovered they were looking for candidates. Not thinking about herself she brought up several items she was disturbed about — and before she realized it they had her on the ballot as a trustee candidate.

She was successful in that election and has been ever since. She served two years, six months as trustee and then was appointed to fill the vacancy left by a retiring Treasurer, a job she has held since.

Under her guidance her office has grown from one to three employees — and her beloved Farmington Township from 11,000 to 30,000 residents, from 2 special assessments to 24.

She started as a newcomer to political life, but has grown in her job and has kept her office modern with the influx of new people.

She doesn't have as much time for her avocation anymore, weaving, but she does take time to be a delegate to the state and county conventions. She believes in good old-fashioned patriotism, and wishes everyone did.

Her husband shares her enjoyment of Farmington and is terrifically proud of her as are her two children William A. Avery of Livonia and Mrs. H. (Julia) Marsh of West Bloomfield.

In my opinion it wouldn't be possible for a woman to sit down and talk with Mrs. Avery and not come away eager and enthused to get in the act and DO SOMETHING!

They All Agree!

By MYRA COX

In an interview this week with as many women candidates as we could find—one thing they had in common, regardless of their political philosophy, office they were seeking or town they came from—THERE SHOULD BE MORE WOMEN IN POLITICS—Downriver, Republican Clerk candidate in Redford Township (unopposed), Pat Comrie and Laura Banwart also of Redford Township, agreed on this even though they are squared against each other in the Democratic seat for the Clerk's office. Alice Johnson, running for the Republican Senate seat from Redford Township emphasized it. Pat said members of her Business and Professional Women's Club encouraged her to become a candidate and promised support.

PETE PETERSON in his kitchen at Charlotte

...And Now We Come To A Top Woman Candidate's Husband

Michigan's undisputed political widower of 1964 is W. Merritt Peterson of Charlotte.

"Pete," as his friends call him, won the title simply by being the husband of Michigan's first woman candidate for the United States Senate, Ely M. Peterson. "It's not so much," says Pete modestly, describing his award, "All I had to do was marry Ely and live with her for 29 years. You might say it's sort of a bonus to a good deal."

Pete is a colonel in the Army National Guard and drives to Lansing each day to his job at state Guard headquarters. He is U.S. Property and Fiscal Officer, in charge of all materiel and supplies for the National Guard in Michigan.

When Ely toured the state with Lenore Romney during Gov. Romney's campaign in 1962, Pete served his apprenticeship in political widowhood. With that election over he looked forward to enjoying two years of Ely's home cooking, uninterrupted by politics.

But Pete guessed wrong. In the fall of 1963 Republican National Chairman William Miller, now the GOP Vice-Presidential nominee, tapped Ely for his Assistant Chairman, making her the top woman in the Republican Party. So Ely packed off to Washington, and Pete's widowhood began in earnest.

From Washington Ely went to California, where she delivered the only major address given by a woman at the 1964 Republican National Convention. After the convention she resigned as Assistant Chairman to campaign full time for her party's senatorial nomination. In recent weeks she has been crisscrossing the state on personal appearances and speeches. "I always love to see her again," says Pete, "even if it's only on television."

Pete claims he always misses Ely when she's gone, but says it gets especially acute about dinner time. Friends of the Petersons report, however, that Pete is no slouch as a cook. He is still famous around Charlotte for a concoction he labelled simply "soup." "Most people start making soup with a soup bone," recalls Mrs. Bill Powers, a close friend of the Petersons and now Ely's Charlotte campaign manager. "Not Pete. He began with two pot roasts, one in each of two huge kettles. Before he finished he must have thrown in every vegetable known to man. He was so proud of the stuff that he invited a whole bunch of friends out to sample it. It was delicious, but where I come from we call it pot roast and vegetables, not soup."

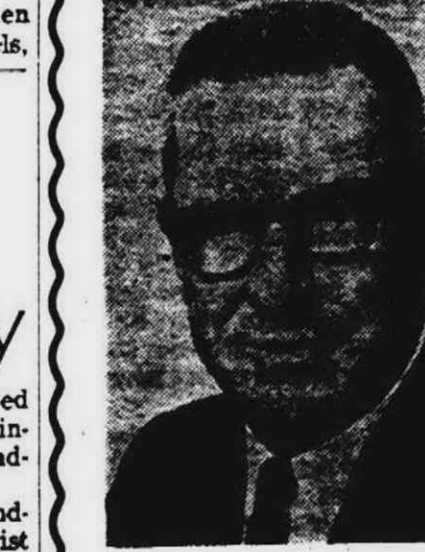

Pete and Ely are famous for their parties. Residents of Charlotte's south side scarcely raise an eyebrow any more when grisly cave men, cherubic angels, bouncy hula girls, and scraggly Ozark hillbillies pass by on their way to the Peterson farm house on Tirrell Road. The Petersons team up to sponsor such affairs—Ely is the one-woman army getting things ready, and Pete is the genial host who presides over the frolic.

Pete delights in suffering through his desertion on the golf links at Charlotte and Grand Ledge. He shoots in the low 80's—"now and then," he says—and is considered a formidable opponent in local match play. Another of his favorite occupations is watching somebody else work around his yard.

When Ely made a brief trip home last week, Pete claims she walked in, shook his hand, and asked him to vote for her in the September 1 primary. "I did the average voter one better," he says. "I not only promised to vote for her, I kissed her. At least I hope that's one better."

Because of his status as a federal employee, Pete can take no part in his wife's campaign. "I thought it might hurt Ely not to have me out there bringing the female vote," says Pete. "But it looks like she is doing pretty well on her own."

Newburg Ladies Look Back On 75 Years' Service

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Newburg Methodist Church will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Ladies' Aid Society and the 50th anniversary of the Woman's Society with a birthday luncheon on Thursday, Sept. 10, in the social room of the church. The celebration will start promptly at 12:30.

Twelve tables will be decorated to represent the different months of the year. Members and friends will then be invited to dine at their particular birthday table.

A program of interest will follow the luncheon, at which time the history of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be given.

All women of the church are cordially invited to participate in this celebration.

Margaret Merritt Feted at Shower

Mrs. Walter Allen, 14100 Beck Road, Plymouth, was hostess for a "stork shower" for Margaret Merritt last Wednesday.

Guests included Mrs. Phyllis Frost, Mrs. Gladys Kissabeth, Mrs. Georgia Allen, Mrs. Rita Allen, Mrs. Betty Nultz, Mrs. June Butterfield, Mrs. Marion Daly, Mrs. Joyce Kramer, Mrs. Sharon Kelly, Miss Maureen Wesley, Mrs. Mildred Wesley, Miss Diane Allen, Miss Elaine Allen, Miss Nancy Merritt.

A pink crepe paper umbrella hung over the many beautifully wrapped packages for the guest of honor.

Mrs. Robert L. Rice

Rice-Lethemon Rites

Aldersgate Methodist Church was the setting August 15 for the marriage of Barbara Anne Lethemon and Robert Lee Rice. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lethemon, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban H. Rice, both of Redford Township.

The bride chose a crystal white gown of mousseline de soie over taffeta frosted with peau d'hauter lace. Baroque pearls highlighted the rose patterned lace which etched a petal motif at the bateau décolletage of the bodice. Designed with long traditionally tapered sleeves, the lace also shaped the slender waistline and was repeated in garlands and sprays over the semi-belled skirt which featured a bow-topped, lace trimmed Watteau panel extending to a court train.

Sandra Lethemon, the bride's sister and maid of honor, was gowned in a gold silk shantung sheath. She wore a matching bow and veil as a headpiece and carried turquoise carnations. Dressed in turquoise gowns and carrying gold cascades of mums and ivy were the bridesmaids and flower girl. They were Carla Rice, groom's sister; Kathy Johnson and Beverly Joseph. Susan Hankelman was a junior bridesmaid and her sister Nancy served as flower girl.

The bridegroom asked David Post to be the best man. Seating guests were Urban Rice III, the groom's brother, William Lethemon Jr., the bride's brother, Carl, and Richard Evans and David Ross. Mark Henkelman was ring bearer.

A reception at Dearborn Country Club followed the candlelight ceremony. The couple will reside in Royal Oak on return from their honeymoon.

'Lost Cords' Invite You To Play Bridge!

The Lost Cords, a branch of the Plymouth Symphony Society have come up with an interesting way to make their contribution to the Symphony Society this year.

They are sponsoring a Round-Robin-Bridge. There will be 10 sessions involved beginning Sept. 15 — and it will cost the players one dollar a time. Bridge players may come as partners or by themselves and be matched up by the Lost Cord hostess.

There is a choice of playing morning, noon or evening session. There will be prizes given at the end of the session.

For further information, or to be assigned to a hostess please call Mrs. George Broome, GL 3-6599 or Mrs. Howard Smith, GL 3-8482.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

There is a stirring in the air these days—you can feel it when you travel the pleasant residential streets—when you are in the grocery store, at the dentist, or the department store.

It is thousands of mothers getting millions of kids ready for school. And after the summer of fun and frolicking isn't Mother just happy (yea, hysterical) to see the little ones roll out the door all clean and shiny, into the protective arms of teacher? Back to club meetings, bowling, book clubs—or just a wonderful afternoon of shopping occasionally.

Alas, how about the mother who gets three out the door and the one remains, still not quite ripe for the lunch-box set. It is for these mothers I would like to open a new door — one that would spring her occasionally into the carefree world of being all alone plus give her an educational experience. The magic secret is Cooperative Nursery School.

Did you know these schools are no hit-and-miss arrangement? There is a Cooperative Nursery Council—to which 72 Cooperative nurseries belong—many in this very area.

Parents administer the nursery and hire a professional teacher. Mother participates in an orientation program and then assists teacher on a rotating basis. She attends a workshop at Wayne State U. twice each year as part of the parent education program.

These nurseries are licensed and inspected regularly by the State. They are endorsed by Detroit Board of Education, Wayne County Board, Merrill Palmer Institute and Wayne State U.

Preschoolers from three to five may attend.

Even father gets into the act repairing and building toys and equipment. Supplies are purchased from tuition which is low.

Children attend two to five mornings or afternoons each week for approximately two hours each day.

Activities include easel painting, crafts, finger painting, collage (and then they can teach you), playing with large climbing equipment, building blocks, trucks, etc.

There is a doll corner or housekeeping corner in every nursery with dress-up clothes, dolls and all the mama-type equipment. Even the boys enjoy getting into the act. They play out their individual roles in the dress-up corner.

The children love it — particularly after all summer when all the big kids go and there they are stuck at home with Mother.

There is a brochure on the subject, "Is This for My Child?" It is available if you are interested. Mrs. C. B. Range, Information Chairman, at 425-2480, would be glad to send it to you — also she could give you information if you are interested in starting such a group in your area.

Those already established and with some openings are as follows:

Bulman Cooperative Nursery—25940 Grand River near Beech Daly Rd.—in YWCA.

Cadillac Cooperative Play Group, 14221 Southfield near Schoolcraft.

Garden City Cooperative Nursery — Middlebelt and John Hawk.

Holcomb Cooperative Nursery — 18513 Lehigh, Pickford and Curtis (Redford Faith Temple—Redford).

Northville Cooperative Pre-School Play Group, Northville.

South Redford Cooperative Nursery, 23705 Plymouth at Telegraph Road, Redford Township.

AMA Tells of Hay Fever Treatment

The pollens that trigger hay fever are in the air again. From now until first frost the nine million American sufferers face their annual season of sneezing, stuffed-up runny nose, itching and swollen eyes.

Many people suffer from hay fever needlessly. Enough is known by the allergy specialists to make the average sufferer fairly comfortable and able to carry on a normal existence, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Consult with your physician or allergist if you have any of the above symptoms. Hay fever is a serious and sometimes incapacitating illness that requires the attention of a physician.

Desensitizing injections are the most effective and practical means of managing hay fever. Treatment may be given just prior to the season or all year round. Your physician will decide which will be most effective.

Seasonal hay fever is primarily caused by inhalation of pollens, the male fertilizing element of flowering plants, trees or grasses. Allergens, such as dust of all kinds, molds, and animal fur, aggravate symptoms during the hay fever season.

Some people move to another part of the country, where the pollen count is at a minimum. Your physician can obtain from the American Academy of Allergy listings and maps which give the pollen count indexes for different parts of the country.

Any location with an index of 10 or above is not recommended for those allergic to ragweed. In most of Alaska the count is 0. Lowest in the continental United States is Cape Coral, Fla., with .19. Lexington, Ky., on the other hand, has an index of 156.

Two Livonia men are participating in a four-day sales leader conference of the Michigan Life Insurance Co. in New York City at the Americana Hotel.

Tony Mattar, of 29680 Hathaway, sales promotion director of the company, is in charge of the event. Mark Campbell, of 33448 Cindy is being honored by the company for many achievements during 1963 production.

Campbell was cited as a member of the Agents Advisory Council, as partner of the "Agency of the Year" and also was honored as a member of the Blue Jackets (the top five producers last year).

Livonian Nominated For Award

Among nominees for the Senior Citizen of the Year Award to be presented on Old Timers Day, Wednesday, September 2, at the Michigan State Fair is Mrs. Laura C. Rolan, 9615 Melrose, Livonia.

Old Timers Day and the Senior Citizen Award will be features of the 115th State Fair which opens Friday, August 28, and runs through Labor Day, September 7. The award winner will be chosen by a special committee from senior citizens nominated for outstanding leadership and community service.

Mrs. Rolan, 66, was nominated by the Livonia Senior Citizens. She was cited particularly for her work with senior citizens in the field of public health and church activities.

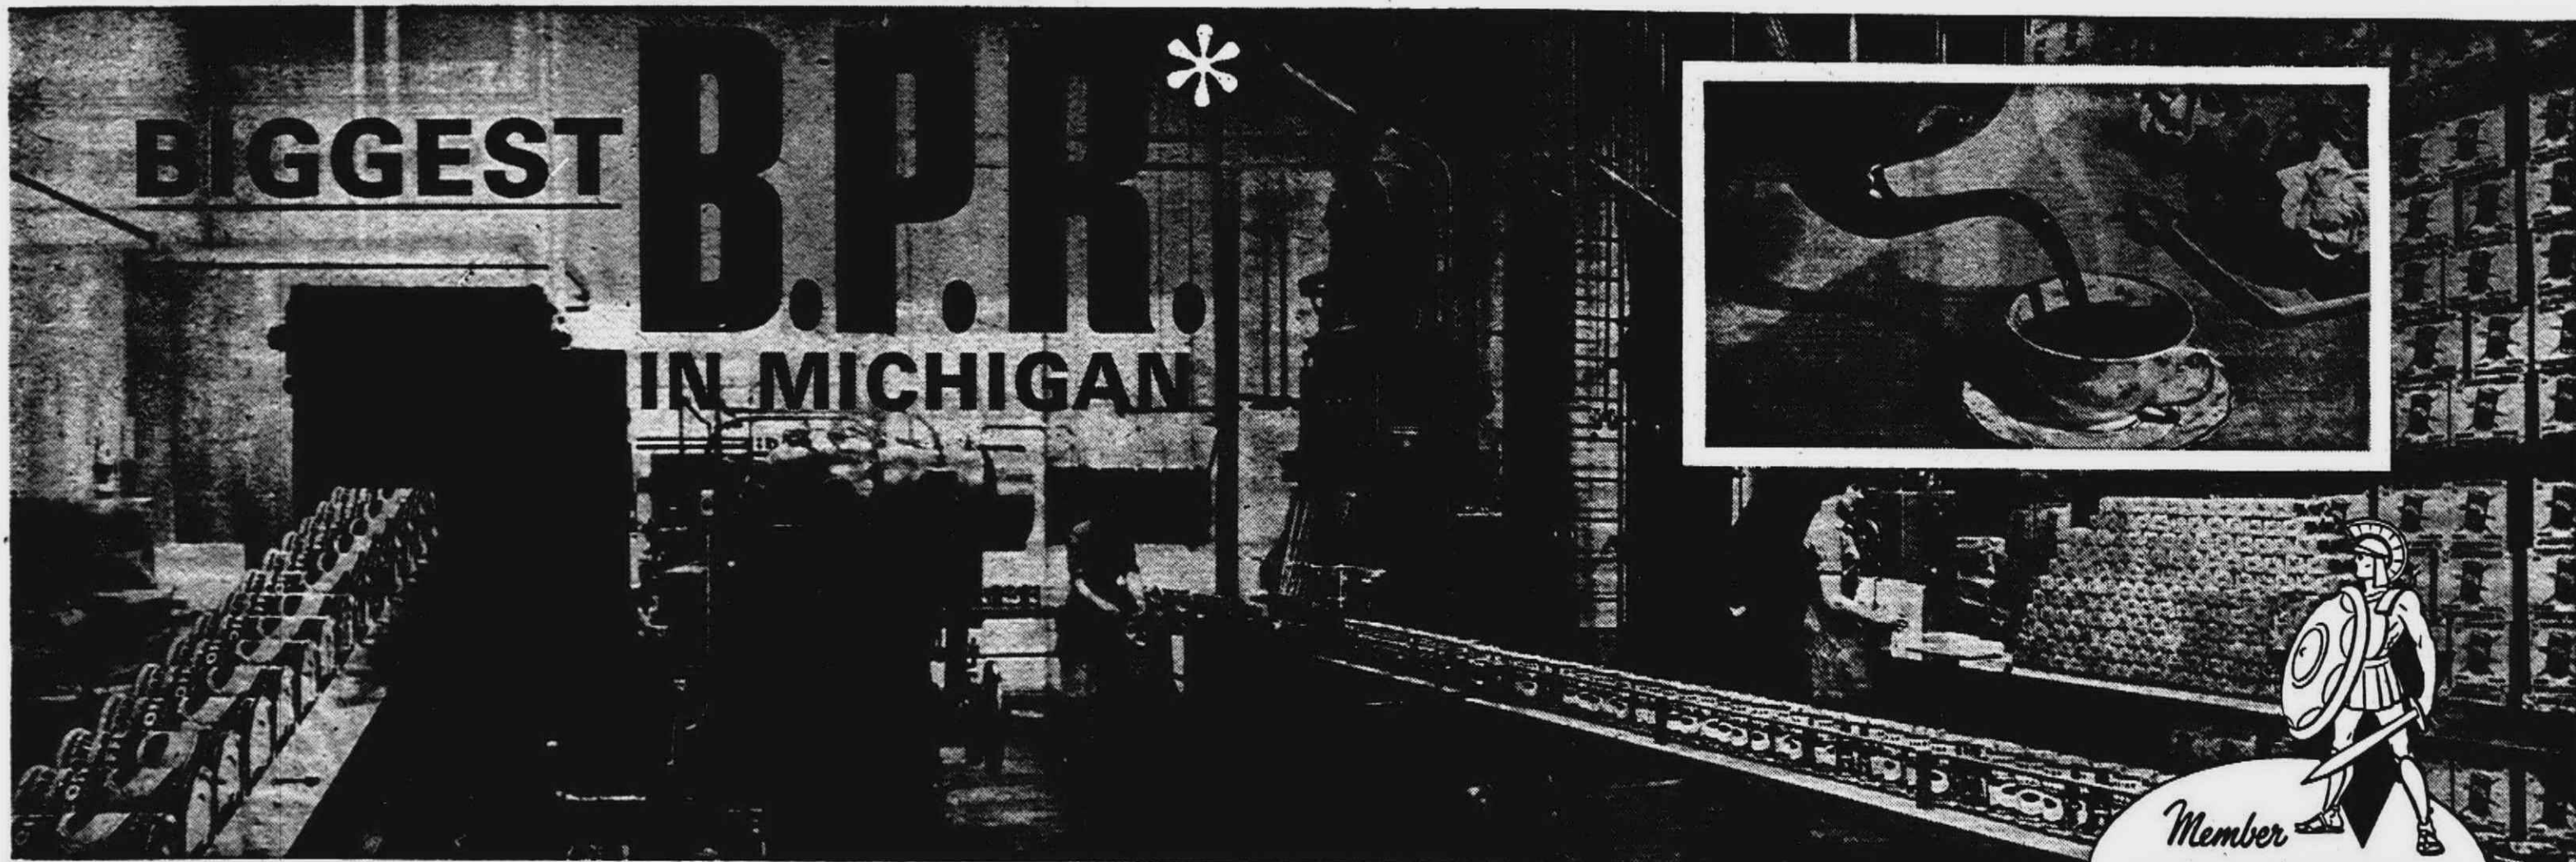

A registered nurse, she has held several offices and devotes considerable time to the Livonia branch of the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross—as blood program chairman and in volunteer work as a nurse.

She also has been active in the Livonia branch of the Wayne County Health Guild and in the Wayne County Health Guild itself, as an officer, in charge of volunteers and fund-raising for a well-baby clinic and assisting as a nurse in various clinics. She is a leader in senior citizen activities, a garden club officer, a birthday club which engages in charitable activities and is a strong worker at the Hosanna-O-Tabor Lutheran Church.

Attorney General Explains Inheritance Tax

By Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley
(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Since 1899, Michigan has had an inheritance tax. It provides for the taxation of inheritances, transfers of property by will, transfer of property by intestate laws of this state or transfers of property by deed, grant, bargain, sale or gift made in contemplation of death of the grantor, vendor or donor or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death where the value of the property is $100 or over. The Michigan inheritance tax does not apply to jointly owned savings bonds, joint bank accounts nor to life insurance. An inheritance tax does apply where a grant or gift is made by the grantor or donor when he is in fear of imminent death and, thereby, desires to dispose of his property. Such transfers are deemed to be made in contemplation of death. The act provides an exemption from taxation to any transfer of property of the clear market value of $5,000 when the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in the property is the grandfather, grandmother, father, mother, child, brother, sister, widow or widow of a son or the husband of a daughter; child or adopted child of the decedent grantor, donor, or vendor. Where the transfer is to a husband or wife, the inheritance tax extends an exemption to property of the clear market value of $30,000.

Any transfers of property to these relatives are taxed after the exemption is excluded at a rate of 2 per cent on the first $50,000; 4 per cent on the next $250,000, etc. Transfers of property to all other persons is taxed at 10 per cent up to $50,000, and above such amount on an ascending scale. However, transfers of property to corporations and foundations incorporated in Michigan (outside Michigan if reciprocity exists) for benevolent, charitable, and similar purposes are exempt from tax. In other words, there is no tax on a transfer to persons or corporations exempt by law for taxation on real or personal property.

The Michigan inheritance tax is computed on the clear market value of the property transferred at time of death. If the inheritance tax is paid within 12 months from the death of the deceased, the law allows a discount of 5 per cent; the tax can be paid within 18 months from date of death without any interest charges. However, 8 per cent interest per year is charged from date of accruing where the inheritance tax is not paid within 18 months.

You should also know that there is a federal estate tax which must be considered in these questions. The best advice is to contact an attorney. It is said that two things are inescapable in our lifetime: that is, death and taxes, and the Michigan inheritance tax continues after our death.

Plymouthite Heads New WSU School

George Andrews, of 437 Blunk St., has been appointed associate professor and educational administrator of the Wayne State University School of Medicine's newly created Division of Physical Therapy.

Long active in the field of physical therapy Andrews was formerly director of the department of Adjunctive Therapies at Plymouth State Home and Training School in Northville. Prior to that he served as director of the Department of Rehabilitation at the Plymouth State Home.

Born in Bitolj, Yugoslavia in 1927, Andrews received a B.S. degree in education from Syracuse University in 1950. He earned his certificate in physical therapy at New York University in 1951 and received his M.A. degree in education at the same University the following year.

Prior to his affiliation with the Plymouth State Home and Training School, Andrews served as director of Physical Therapy at the Chambersburg Hospital and Franklin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Pennsylvania. Andrews and his wife, Betty, are the parents of four children.

PURSUANT MR. KERN'S REQUEST WE CORRECT THE ERROR IN LAST WEEK'S AD —

Mr. KERN IS A REPUBLICAN
A CITIZEN NOT A POLITICIAN
A GOLDWATER CONSERVATIVE

THE STAKES ARE BIG:

1. Your Individual Rights
2. Your State Rights

vs.

The Creeping Paralysis of FEDERAL SOCIALISM

As A State Senator My Purpose Would Be To:

- (1) Regain and Defend Our States Rights and Powers Against Federal Intervention.
- (2) Identify Every Law, Rule and Regulation Which Impedes Citizens In The Pursuit of Their God-Given Rights, In Order, That These Impediments May Be Removed.
- (3) Identify Every State Agency Which Can Be Eliminated, Every State Business Venture That Can Be Handled By Private Enterprise and Every Economy In The Budget Which Can Be Effected.

I am no "Me Too" candidate. It is time for statements of position and principle from all persons who would seek public office. Under such circumstances, the people cannot help but be the winners regardless of political fortunes of individual politicians.

Civil Rights — I do not favor Rule 9, the invisible government or special privilege for any group! I follow the constitution & equal opportunity for all citizens.

Law & Order — Judges must recognize criminals for what they are; criminals and treat them accordingly.

Taxation — If we have a surplus, sales tax on food should be eliminated or reduced. Does this make sense? I endorse it.

Employment — Government intervention discourages business and destroys jobs.

States Rights — We can solve our own problems except where Washington has confiscated our money and usurped our authority. We must regain our rights and money.

I Need Your Help — Will You Help? I have no money tree — no political machine — This my first candidacy — Vote Sept. 1st — I have not taken one cent of political contributions.

PLYMOUTH'S CITY COUNCIL is intent on the problem at hand in the first official meeting in the Commission chambers in the new City Hall. Shown in their new seats in front of the auditorium are:

James O'Neil Tells Why He Runs for Senate

(Editor's note: From now until the final election, in November, The Observer will welcome statements on issues by rival candidates for various public offices. We'll edit them, as to length, and will attempt to give the same amount of space, each week, in the same story, to opponents.)

James F. O'Neil, Leading Candidate for the Republican Nomination to the United States

Senate and the only Republican Member on the State Board of Education stated today that he is running for the U.S. Senate because he believes in Education, Economy and effectiveness and is against ruinous inflation and special-interest government.

O'Neil has long been active in education at the school district level, in the Community College Movement, and currently on the State Board of Education. O'Neil says he will continue to make every effort to strengthen our educational system at all levels because he believes education holds most of the answers to the problems confronting us as individuals and as a Society.

O'Neil also stated one of the primary reasons he is running for the U.S. Senate is his grave concern over our economy which supports education and all of our national objectives. He fears the current exorbitant and irresponsible spending at the federal level, which the current incumbent Senator Hart has voted for, will bankrupt our Country. O'Neil stated that this extravagant spending will so inflate our prices that we will not be able to compete with the ever-increasing number of foreign products coming into this country. This will mean the loss of jobs and industries to foreign countries and the undermining of our economy which supports education and all of our national objectives.

O'Neil says he doesn't believe we can have economy in government when the representatives we elect do not practice it in their own affairs. He points to the incumbent Hart, who he says has not been able to manage his own financial affairs and has not only established a special fund to cover his extensive expenses but has pushed for a $7,500 or 33% raise for himself.

O'Neil also stated the citizens of Michigan have been disenfranchised by the one way representation of the present incumbent Hart. He points to a report card published by a special-interest group showing that Hart voted the way this special-interest group wanted him to on every issue they were interested in during the 87th Congress.

O'Neil asks for the support of the voters in electing him to the U.S. Senate in the interests of Education, Economy, and Effective Leadership for all the citizens of Michigan.

O'Neil lives in Livonia with his wife, Elaine, and two sons, Mark, 12, and David, 5. He is Planning and Programming Manager for Ford Motor Company. He holds degrees from Indiana University and the University of Detroit and has taken additional studies at Albion, Michigan, and Wayne State. O'Neil is a decorated combat veteran of World War II and served in the Asiatic Pacific Area of operations.

School Alive All Summer

A group of eighth and ninth grade students, who spent their vacation months creating sculpture and painting, wound up their summer activities with an art exhibit at Emerson Junior High School. The show was held in the main lobby of the school.

According to Miss Jan Campbell of 18946 Myron, who coordinated the activity, the objective of the summer program was to develop a sense of appreciation and respect for art and art work among summer school students.

"We were extremely pleased by the result," Miss Campbell said. "The students explored various medias and some became quite proficient in water color painting, charcoal drawing, oils, casein, pencil drawings, and sculpture in woods, plaster, clay, and wire."

A field trip was taken during the summer to the Wayne State University Student Art Exhibit and to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

State Senate Candidate Gives Views

(Editor's note: From now until the final election, in November, The Observer will welcome statements on issues by rival candidates for various public offices. We'll edit them, as to length, and will attempt to give the same amount of space, each week, in the same story, to opponents.)

Paul Kern, candidate for state senate from the 14th District on the GOP ticket, issued this statement to voters today:

Announcement of my candidacy.
"My name is Paul A. Kern, Jr., and I am a candidate for nomination to the State Senate from the 14th District. I am a candidate because I have a strong belief in THE CONSTITUTION and STATES RIGHTS, which are OUR AMERICAN TRADITION and I cherish THE CHRISTIAN AND LIBERAL HERITAGE that is ours."
"As a State Senator it would be my purpose to:

"Help regain and defend our States Rights and powers against Federal intervention.

"Help identify every law, rule and regulation which impedes citizens in the pursuit of their God Given Rights, in order that these impediments may be removed.

"Help identify every State Agency which can be eliminated, every State business venture that can be handled by private enterprise and every economy in the Budget which can be effected.

"As a State Senator I would dedicate myself to helping reduce the STATE DOMAIN I might be chosen to help govern. I distrust and have no love of big government. I believe the 'Government that governs least, governs best.'

"This is my first candidacy. I am 42, a citizen and life-long resident of the general area of the 14th District. I am a veteran, happily married and have five fine children. My principal business interests have been in the Real Estate Field. I now devote my main interest to what I choose to call an effort to protect my investment in the institution that has made it all possible, THE CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA and its fifty federated states of which Michigan and District 14, our home, is a part. I enjoy discussing The American Tradition, our Christian and Liberal Heritage and comparing political views and principals, anywhere, any time.

Burton's Hamlet Comes To Terrace

Sept. 23 and Sept. 24 have been set as the dates for the forthcoming performances of Richard Burton's widely-hailed "Hamlet," to be presented here direct from Broadway at the Terrace Theatre in Electronovision Theatrefilm, the revolutionary new electronic-optical process.

There will be only four performances of "Hamlet" on the two days, with two matinees and two evening performances, at admission prices approximating those for first-run motion pictures. The matinees will begin at 2:00 p.m. and the evening performances at 8:00 p.m. There will be no other performances thereafter.

Seats will not be reserved but the number of tickets to be sold for each performance will not exceed the capacity of the theatre, thereby guaranteeing a seat to each ticket holder.

One thousand theatres throughout the United States and Canada will present Burton's once-in-a-lifetime interpretation of "Hamlet" on the same two days.

Starring with Burton in "Hamlet" are Hume Cronyn, Alfred Drake, Eileen Herlie, William Redfield, George Rose and George Voskovec. The production, staged by John Gielgud, was acclaimed on Broadway by critics and public alike, with many calling Burton the greatest "Hamlet" of all time.

Alexander H. Cohen, who brought Burton's "Hamlet" to Broadway, is executive producer of the Electronovision presentation, which was directed by William Collier and produced by William Sargent and Alfred W. Crown, the chief officers of Electronovision Productions, Inc., developers of the new process.

Pension Fund Investigation Is Slowed

Efforts by Livonia city attorneys to investigate a $200,000 investment of city pension fund money into the Northwest Mortgage Co. and uninsured home mortgages have slowed during the past two weeks.

A suggestion that the Pension Board ask the City Council for $3,500 to help conduct the investigation failed, when Pension board members voted, 2-2, to defeat the idea.

Mayor Harvey Moelke and Roy Puckett voted for the proposal, but Robert Jackman and Doris Baumgartner cast "no" votes.

So far, city attorneys have not even asked for a writ permitting them to subpoena records and witnesses, Mayor Harvey Moelke said Monday. Judge Joseph Rashid of the Wayne County Circuit Court had promised such a writ when he granted the power of discovery to the city's law department earlier this month. "We need to hire outside technical assistance to help us in this investigation," the Mayor said. "I haven't decided yet whether I'll personally ask the City Council for additional money."

New Plant to Create 70 Jobs

Extrusion Engineering and Manufacturing Company will erect a 12,800 sq. ft. building on the south side of Schoolcraft Road, west of Levan Road, it was disclosed today by Daniel Andrew, Livonia's Industrial Coordinator.

Mr. John Sassak, president and owner, emphasized that his firm will be the second company in the United States to design, build and try-out toolings for cold extrusions. In addition, they manufacture cold impact steel extrusion parts for other than the automotive industry. There are only three major firms in the country who are engaged in this type of manufacture.

The principal machine which will be utilized in this new operation is a 1400 ton, 23 foot high, Vinegarten Press, having a 24 inch straight mechanical stroke. The uniqueness of this German press is exemplified by the fact that there are but six such machines in the United States today.

The relative newness of cold extrusion work in the United States will possibly lead Mr. Sassak's company to a joint experimental program on cold impact extrusions with Press & Stanzwerk, Ltd., of Eschen, Liechtenstein.

The building has been designed to accommodate future expansion, and maximum anticipated employment will be at the 65 to 70 person level.

Man In Service

Marine PFC John J. Hasselbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hasselbach, 31532 Schoolcraft, Livonia, is serving with Marine Fighter Squadron 251, home-based at Marine Corps Air Station, Beaufort, S.C. The squadron recently completed a six-week training operation at the Naval Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Initiative does it — the only opportunities some self-made men had were home-made.

Label Tells The Story of Shrinkage

The Sherlock Holmes of the family doesn't need a magnifying glass to solve the mystery of shrinkage of material. All this famous mystery-solver needs to do is read the label on the garment.

Remember that neither price, look nor feel of a fabric gives a clue to shrinkage.

Look for clues in labels to help you discover degrees of shrinkage. The term "sanforized" on a label means that the fabric won't shrink more than one percent in either length or width. "Freshrunk" has meaning only when followed by a line telling how much the fabric will shrink, such as "Freshrunk—will not shrink more than one percent."

"Will not shrink," "shrink proof," "unshrinkable" or "shrinkless" are inaccurate terms.

Homemakers can do their own detective work. When buying a garment, multiply the shrinkage percentage given on the label by the number of inches in the garment.

This result gives you the number of inches a garment may shrink in length. For example, a dress for a woman measures about 50 inches long; one percent shrinkage would change the length by 5/10 or half an inch. But three percent shrinkage would make a change of an inch and a half, hence alterations would be necessary.

'500' Cars To Compete At Flat Rock

The Flat Rock Invitational super modified auto racing championship, featuring some cars which have competed in the Indianapolis "500", will be held Friday night, August 28.

Promoter John Marcum has posted an $1800 purse for the open competition on the quarter-mile high banked asphalt oval located one mile south of Flat Rock on Telegraph road.

A 50-lap feature, with prize money down to the 15th place; a semi-final, three heats and a dash for the four fastest cars, will be on the program. In event of rain, the meet will be held on Friday, Sept. 4.

Marcum said that sprint cars will also be allowed if they are equipped with full cage roll bars.

Among the nationally-known drivers who have already entered are Leo Caldwell of Toledo, Johnny Logan of Charlotte, Mich., and Darryl Harrison of Fremont, O., all of whom drive cars formerly raced at Indianapolis.

Time trials begin at 7:30, the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Heat's On At Annual State Fair

The heat will be on in at least one part of the Michigan State Fair, near the Music Shell.

The reason is Detroit Edison will have its traveling electric heat show there among the commercial exhibits, Sept. 2 through Sept. 5. The show is contained in a 40-foot van specially built and outfitted for the purpose.

Seven different types of electric heating equipment made by 10 different manufacturers will be displayed. They include heat pump, baseboard, wall panel, forced air, ceiling panels and ceiling cable.

The purpose of the show, according to an Edison spokesman, is to inform home owners or prospective home owners and instruct builders.

One of the instructional tricks involves the entrance and exit to the display. Though the doors are kept open all the time, even in coldest weather the interior is protected by a stream of warm air which forms a curtain across the openings.

An additional feature of the show will be a display of the latest indoor and outdoor lighting equipment.

The Readers 'Speak Up' About Fire Dept. Crash

Editor:

After some 45 years of effort in the world of business, I find myself packing for a less active life in the warmer climate of Florida. Almost 30 years of my life have been spent in Livonia, and it has been good. Those friends I have are here, and it is not easy to pull up stakes; so I tell myself that Livonia is, and always will be, my "hometown" and that I am taking an extended leave of absence to Florida.

Through the courtesy of your paper, I have been permitted occasionally to express my honest convictions. They were always intended to be constructive. I hope they have never harmed anyone. And so, before I leave, permit me to make a few comments to those who will be the Livonia of the present and future.

I have been fortunate to have lived in two eras—one of which was the era of simplicity in the early 1900's, and the other from then until the present. The first era was a time of small towns, most of which were 25,000 or less in population which, because of transportation and means of communication were limited, caused them to be self-sufficient. There were no modern conveniences as we know them today. Advertising, taxes, credit purchases, big business, big government, socialized curricula, mass propaganda, collective actions all with divergent goals of a selfish nature, less work, more pay, less responsibility, let George do it, devil take the hindmost, sleeping pills, poison sprays, fear, distrust, envy, and heart attacks were not a part of those early years.

Hard work, long hours, small pay, quality products — mostly produced by hand, satisfaction in having done one's best, great pride in the accomplishment of that best, uninterrupted sleep every night, and a deep, abiding faith in the ability of the individual to live as he knew his Maker intended him to live—all these were a very important part of life in those early years. The goal in life was not the material things, nor the dollar that would permit their purchase, for people knew that their Maker's sole material possession was a Robe.

They knew, also, that their Maker created them as individuals and that each of their brothers were of a different mold. No two were exactly alike, and that was as their Maker intended. They knew that they had an individual soul, loaned to them to do with as they chose. They knew they had been given the ability to see, hear, talk, and think. They could be bad or good; they could lie, steal, cheat, murder, hate, envy, fear or love. They knew there was no such thing as equality—they must be better. They were very sure that, while he could do all these things, love was the principle that must guide them, for of all these things, their Maker had only love. The soul they possessed must be kept as clean as possible—it had only been loaned to them.

The idea that they were too dumb to think, provide for themselves and those dear to them, or that they must join a group or have their government tell what was easy and good for them, really never occurred to them. If it had, it would have insulted their intelligence. They knew that their country must not go the way of the Roman Empire.

In this day of easy living, selfish morals, and dollar sign philosophy, the love of God is but a shadow hovering in the background. We think of it as something which can be used to bail us out when the going gets tough. It never occurs to us that using it every minute of every day in everything we say, do, or believe does not insure that the going will never get tough for anyone and that happiness beyond all our dreams will exist.

It was true then; it is true now, and it will be true after all other ways and means have been tried and discarded.

Take hold of it NOW, you individual.

Finally, a word to those who govern, aspire to govern or wield power over those who permit it and pray that you will use it wisely and honestly: The office you hold is, under God, sacred, and anything you do—officially or not—affects the happiness and well being of those you govern. It is not to be used to weaken or destroy or to make a jellyfish of the individual. It is to be used to reand is prompted by the recent auto-firetruck accident that cost a city fireman both of his feet.

It certainly seems a shame that conditions were allowed to exist in our city that would allow a 1941 fire engine to be housed in an unimproved fire station, while a larger, and more modern fire engine sat idle in another fire station. Why?

If the above being corrected could have avoided the recent accident, then there are many of us that must in one way, or another, share the blame. That would include any of us that are becoming almost a necessity.

No. 3. This section is not directed at any person, past or present, that has held the position of Public Safety Director, as they all have worked hard, and long, in the service of our community. However, it seems that our City has grown to a size that would, almost, necessitate a future director having some background in either police, or fire, service making it easier to understand the workings of the departments under him, and speeding his adjustment to the job and its obligations to the citizens.

No. 4. In closing I would like to comment on the Council's action of August 19, 1964 in appointing the Fire Chief and Public Safety Director, to investigate the recent auto-fire truck accident. If their report is to cover only the accident it would seem the council could have asked for the police report on the matter. However, if it was intended to cover the conditions leading to the accident it seems totally unfair. If they are involved, or not, the investigation should be handled by a neutral party. Thus, if they are not involved, they will be cleared without the shadow of who made the investigation being involved.

I am sure, Mr. Chandler, you can understand my reluctance to publish my name since I am employed by the city. However, the items contained in this letter are cold, hard facts, and are written as a service to the citizens of our city, whom I am proud to work for.

A City Employee, and Livonia Taxpayer

Editor:

I have read your "Reader Speaks Up" column on numerous occasions, and at times vowed to voice my opinion on the topics of discussion at hand. As most people, though, I have only let my adrenalin simmer, and then put the ensuing issue on the sidelines.

Well, my adrenalin level boiled over this week in light of the tragic accident that recently took place involving a Livonia fireman.

I just wonder how many of these so-called "Livonia taxpayers" will be as eager to pick up their telephones and offer their well wishes to this "city employee" and his family, as they are ready to make petty complaints about what they do or don't do in the line of duty.

It would seem to me that some people have nothing better to do but be "busy bodies."

One thing is certain, the phone number at City Hall is well fixed in their minds from past usage, so they shouldn't find it difficult to dial the city offices with a kind word of expression to this unsung hero. I am sure I speak for other citizens of Livonia.

Signed—
A wife and mother.

knew of the condition, but did nothing to see it was corrected.

However, this letter is written to bring to the public's attention other items that should be investigated, so that in the future it will not be necessary to look back saying, if this had been known, it might never have happened.

No. 1. We presently have one rescue truck covering the complete 36 square mile area of the City of Livonia. This truck is presently housed at Fire Station No. 2, Farmington Road, just south of Plymouth Road, and it is rumored it will soon be housed at Fire Station No. 4, Middlebelt Road, just south of the railroad. In both cases it will be south of the railroad, and if a train holds it up northbound, it offers little help to the citizens, or their loved ones, in the northern two-thirds of the city. In truth, we urgently need a second rescue truck, and the new men to man it, without delay.

No. 2. It seems, in the interest of safety, that a need exists for traffic lights in front of all four fire stations. In view of the heavy traffic increase on Farmington Road, Five Mile Road, and Middlebelt, traffic lights

CMSGT ANTHONY Stabile, (right), who resides at 14972 Farmbrook Drive, Plymouth, with his wife, Edna, and five children, and Capt. F. M. Griffin study plans of action for the 127th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing in training at Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base in Alpena. Stabile, who served with the Air Force in World War II, became a weekend airman when the 127th headquarters section was in need of a first sergeant.

sist these things, if you do not wish our civilization to follow the Roman Empire down the drain. It is not to be used to perpetuate yourself in office by spreading lies, fear, hate; dividing people against people; wasting money; seeking self-enrichment or greed for more power.

If you would be great—really great—and live forever in the minds and hearts of men, the first thing to do is to forget self, reach back into the shadow and grasp the hand of the Maker. The second thing to do is to walk and talk with Him every minute of the day about your every thought and action. He will not let you down, and greatness and happiness will be yours.

I beg of you — elevate the name "Politician" into the sunshine of His smile. Businessman, educator, citizen—go thou and do likewise.

If I may be permitted as a Florida-based Livonian to use your columns occasionally in the future, I would be most grateful.

Sincerely,
Walter M. Grayson,

Editor:

My husband has a very important and dangerous job. He is responsible for saving people's lives and property, with little or no recognition, which is the way he and his fellow workers want it. They love their job, they are Livonia firemen.

Today he informed me that a bulletin was posted by the Public Safety Director to inform all firemen that disciplinary action will be taken against any fireman for remarks made by himself or his family, pertaining to the accident or what has gone on before the accident. What are the Chief of the Fire Department and the Public Safety Director afraid of? There must be a basis for their fear due to the closing of Station No. 1, at Five Mile Road and Farmington, which was outdated at the time the Fire Department took it over. The building was the old City Hall, at the time they were told it was not adequate to be a fire hall but they would only be there for three months. This was in 1953.

With what our firemen do for the City of Livonia, is it asking too much that the citizens of our city show an interest in their working conditions. It's a shame that a man has to have his legs amputated to make people understand that our firemen are riding to fires in an out-dated truck, when for only $400 or $500 the station doors could have been repaired to house our new truck, which has been sitting in storage for approximately a year. Now ask yourselves what else do our firemen need to make their jobs safer? Saving on pennies is not only endangering their lives, but all the people of Livonia's lives.

Seven Suburban Teachers Hunt "Trilabites and Traffic Lights"

by Paul Lutzeler

This summer, 37 teachers attending the Northwest Metropolitan Area Community Resources Workshop at Livonia's Franklin High School completed intensive studies of their suburban communities. This is another in a series of feature story reports on the Workshop's findings.

Have you ever wondered which Indian tribes hunted on the suburban land on which you live? Were you ever curious to know who the pioneers were who first farmed the acreage which has since become your subdivision? Seven suburban teachers who had been asked these and scores of other questions by the youngsters they teach devoted the best part of their summer to finding as many of the answers as possible.

Just published is a detailed workbook to be used as a guide for elementary grade suburban social science teachers. Called, "From Trilabites to Traffic Lights," the resource book looks at prehistoric times in southeastern Michigan and carries on through the Indian age, the European settler period, to the present day.

Researching the past were Livonia's Mrs. Doris Hardiman, who teaches third grade at the Stark School, Mrs. Patricia Keeler, who teaches fifth grade at the Section 17 school, Mrs. Virginia McGarr, who has a third grade class at Pierson, and Mrs. Ann Tenniswood, who is assigned to the third grade at Jefferson, who worked with Plymouth teachers Mrs. Ella Mae Ramsey, who handles the second grade at Farrand and Mrs. Elizabeth Sheldon who teaches fourth graders at the Bird School, and Miss Patricia Wellard, who teaches third grade at Nankin Mill's Perrinville School.

According to Doris Hardiman, who has been interested in the history of Plymouth and Livonia for many years, the principal aim of the unit was to "afford children and people new to our community the opportunity to broaden their knowledge, understanding and appreciation of our community, past, present, and future."

"We wanted our youngsters to learn pertinent facts about the suburban area in which they lived," added Mrs. Tenniswood. "This research should also help children realize the changes occurring in any of our communities, from simple beginnings to the complex organization of this age of automation and computers."

Mrs. Keeler pointed out the need for "promoting an understanding of the economic relationships between our communities and the rest of the state and nation."

The detailed community study lists interesting resource people, field trips, materials which can be used to dramatize the subject matter, and the audio-visual aids available to teach elementary school children.

"A surprisingly few people who live in this northwestern suburban area knew that the Ottawas were the major Indian tribe in this area," Mrs. Sheldon said. "Others were the Chippewas, the Potawatomi, and the Wyandot or Hurons."

"Because of the hunting habits and wars the Indians were constantly moving. Thus it is difficult to assign a particular location to a single tribe. The first Indian inhabitants may have been here in 6000 B.C. However, it wasn't until the European settlers arrived in the 1600's that any written records on the Indians can be found. Each tribe had an individual spoken language."

"In the early 1600's the southeastern section of Michigan, near Detroit, was the home of the Ottawas. Around 1650 the Ottawas migrated to escape the Iroquois. The Potawatomi settled in this area. In 1762, the Potawatomi village was located two miles below the present Ambassador Bridge. The Wyandots were located in Windsor and the Ottawas site was on the Canadian side opposite Belle Isle. The Potawatomis remained in this area until 1862, when they reached an agreement with the government and turned over their lands to the University of Michigan."

Pioneer schools were primitive and teacher wages were shocking compared to today's standards, according to Mrs. Ramsey.

"In 1827 the territory passed a law making each township responsible for schools in its area," Mrs. Ramsey said. "Most townships had little money to spend on education for their children. However, the early settlers of our area, realizing the importance of education for their children, established schools by 1880, some public, others private select schools and academies."

"A typical school attended by twenty or thirty of the pioneer children was a one-room log cabin about eighteen feet by twenty feet in size. These log schools were small and dark often without windows or sometimes with scraped deerskins used to let in some light. Later glass windows were used. Chinking between the logs kept out some of the winter snow and cold. The large iron stove with- in gave the only heat.

"School furniture was crude. Long planks that served as one long desk were sometimes pegged into two sides of the room. In front of these the students sat on a long bench facing the wall. Later desks and seats holding two people were used. There were no chalk boards, bulletin boards or any of the modern necessities of classrooms. Each student had a slate, to save expensive paper, on which he wrote and figured. If paper was used, writing was done with a quill pen and homemade ink. The drinking fountain was a pail filled with water from a pump on the school grounds. A dipper from which everyone drank hung in the pail.

"The teachers were not always well prepared. Pay was meager. Men earned as much as $15 a month, but women earned less, often not more than $5 a month. Both men and women were expected to be able to thrash any of their unruly pupils, many of whom were older and larger than their women teachers. Teachers usually boarded in the homes of their students, spending a week at one home, then moving on to another."

Virginia McGarr, as a teacher in Livonia, was particularly interested in searching out the story on the first schools in the township which became a city a century later.

"The first school established in Livonia was the Schwartzburg School which opened in 1830," Mrs. McGarr said. "It was located on the Northwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Wayne Road. It was built by public subscription. Later it was moved to the present site of Stark School. A year later Newburgh School was built. The original school was a log cabin."

"In 1944 there were seven elementary school districts which consolidated. Forty-four teachers were required in the eight buildings which existed in the Livonia Public School system."

"The program offered in Livonia schools makes provision for all educable children. In addition to a child-centered philosophy and an enriched curriculum, many special services are offered including, special education, services for the physically handicapped, the blind, the hard of hearing, the speech handicapped, orthopedically handicapped, the mentally retarded and the emotionally disturbed. Remedial reading is taught by special teachers on a regular basis. Summer school courses are offered in skill development and enrichment, and an adult program for occupational re-education and personal development is very well attended."

Patricia Wellard, of Nankin Mills, assembled data about the early schools in that community. "Education in Nankin had an interesting beginning," Mrs. Wellard said. "The first land was given to the Nankin Mills School District by Henry Ford about 1937. Mr. Ford built the first school and named it Nankin Mills School. This school was located in the site of the present day Perrinville School at Farmington Road and Ann Arbor Trail. Whether the old building which stands there now is the original one Ford built is uncertain. Some people say that the original frame building burned and was replaced with the present building.

"The name of the Ford school was later changed to Perrinville. In 1937 the second school, the present Nankin Mills School, was built and dedicated. Desks which had arrived late had to be unpacked. The people of the township, men, women and children helped to get this school ready for its opening day in September.

"Two years later in 1959, Tonquish School was erected. This school was appropriately named for Chief Tonquish, one of the last of the Potawatomi Indians left in the area."

According to the report the first school in Plymouth was located on Shattuck Hill opposite the entrance to the Riverside Cemetery, and a second on North Territorial Road and Moreland Avenue, and a third, traditionally known as the Red School House, was on the farm of J. C. Peterhan.

At the present time, the Plymouth School District is comprised of an area of approximately forty-five square miles with an enrollment reaching 5,650 students in 1963-1964. Two elementary school sites have been bought which will be utilized in the future. By 1980, the report predicts, Plymouth will need two high schools.

The study begins by telling how glaciers once covered all of the suburban area, tells about the periods when warm primeval waters were populated with trilobites and bryzoa, then goes on to show how local governments were formed, the way local industry grew and prospered, how Michigan's transportation needs and improvements transformed Indian trails into concrete freeways, and it studies the population explosion which projects its skyrocketing rise with charts.

It is the title to this unit which raises the question in some minds. "We know what traffic lights are, but what in the world is a trilobite?"

"A trilobite," explained one researcher who was interviewed in the Franklin High School workshop library, "is a marine arthropod which lived during the Paleozoic, reaching its maximum during the Cambrian and Ordovician, and becoming extinct in the Permian. Most of them were an inch or two long, while some reached a length of two feet. Now do you understand?"

"We did," she admitted, "use the word in our title as a device to stimulate interest and in hopes that readers would search for the word in their own dictionaries. Believe me, we somehow managed to cover everything 'From Trilobites to Traffic Lights' in the handy teacher's workbook and guide!"

State Representative Candidates Speak to Livonia Voters welcome statements on issues by rival candidates for various public offices. We'll edit them, as to length, and will attempt to give the same amount of space, each week, in the same story, to opponents.)

Nearing the home stretch of the campaign before next Tuesday's primary election, candidates for State Representative in the two districts of concern to Livonians issued a number of statements to voters this week.

In the 35th District, which includes all of Livonia except four precincts in the south end, plus Northville, candidate Ed Dymek told the Livonia Democratic Club August 24, "Tuesday is election day for the state of Michigan. On this day, the voters will step into the booth and select either the Democratic or Republican side of the ballot. They will then scan through the individual offices and select the candidate who will face the opposition in November. The voter will take approximately three minutes to finish his task. In that time, he should have selected the men who have represented their party for years. These men must know the issues. They must be willing to debate and campaign hard and vigorously. They must be doers and not dreamers. Please think when you vote Tuesday. Remember the names of those who have worked for our community."

Another Democratic candidate for the same post, Milton

Lebenbom, issued this statement to voters: "This district needs a representative in Lansing who is dynamic, independent, progressive, and alert to the needs of this rapidly expanding suburban community."

"The voters have been deluded long enough by political charlatans and clubhouse hacks who are adept at making promises and basking in the reflected glory of the accomplishments of others. We have too many political cynics with a low regard for the intelligence and memory of the average voter. These 'uncandid' candidates feel that empty promises, glittering generalities, and meaningless self-serving declarations are proper campaign weapons as long as they can win elections."

"A vote for a candidate who does not truly represent the needs of this district is a vote lost. The issues are too important for anyone to throw away his ballot. "We have seen the result of a Republican-dominated legislature. For the first time in recent years the voters have a chance to elect a Democratic legislature which will work in harmony with a Democratic governor. We now have the opportunity to pass a long-overdue tax reform program and other progressive legislation which has long been bogged down by the former conservative legislature. "We must elect Democrats—but a mere party label is not enough. The voters must be careful to choose only those Democrats who are not controlled by political pressure groups and who have demonstrated by experience, temperament and character that they deserve the trust of their electors."

Edward May, another candidate, told voters: "I am sure that every candidate agrees with every other candidate on the problems of education, juvenile delinquency, road building, highway accidents, city income taxes, and any other issue you might be able to find. However, it is my opinion that the only real issue in the coming election is that of retention of our representative form of government."

"The Democratic Party has taken the position that the Massachusetts Ballot is an undesirable law and that the proper method to eliminate this law is to have the voters decide the issue. I agree that the Massachusetts Ballot is an undesirable act; however, it is also my belief that the failures of the Democratic Party are shown full force simply because the Republicans were able to pass this legislation. Where were all the representatives of the Democratic voters when this legislation came to the floor?"

"I feel that the proper steps to be taken to repeal this act are to elect competent Democratic candidates in the fall election. I mean those candidates whose full-time job it will be to represent the people. I am such a candidate."

Still another candidate, David Jones, told voters: "In my opinion the concern in this election is whether or not the problems created by accelerated population shifts from the central cities to the suburbs will be answered in time. I cite the following examples— a) Hepatitis is a deadly disease caused by septic tank overflow that infects young and old, regardless of township or county lines; b) There is a desperate need for major governmental authorities that can supply public utilities at a price that is fair to all users and that local areas can afford; c) the new constitution has been chosen by the people as the vehicle to be used to streamline state government so that government services can meet this new challenge. Public service is not a science, but an obligation and trust, given by the people to those officials selected by the majority voting in the election."

On the Republican ticket for the same post, A. Thomas Daoust told voters:

"I support the proposition that a government governs best when it governs no more or less than is absolutely necessary. For the past 25 years, our Federal government has governed too much for the very reason that our state governments have governed too little. If we would eliminate the 'Big Brother' complex from Washington, we the people must force our state governments to assume their full responsibilities. Under the dynamic leadership of Gov. Romney, Michigan has taken a first great step with its new constitution and sound fiscal policy. Under the inspired leadership of our next president, Barry Goldwater, we can look forward to our sister states following our example of constitutional reform and assumption of responsibility. This resurgence of state government will eliminate the necessity for many costly and bungling Federal programs. The resulting reduction in federal taxes will provide a tax base broad enough to service the increased state functions with some money left over as savings to the taxpayer."

This great achievement cannot become reality overnight. It will require some doing on both the federal and state levels. As your representative at the state level, I would strive for restoration of the proper balance between federal and state governments. Carrying the same principal to the local level, I would sponsor legislation that will strengthen the hand of fast-growing suburbs like Livonia for stricter zoning and better planning. Intelligent planning now eliminates the need for urban renewal tomorrow."

Thomas D. McLennan, Republican candidate for the 33rd State Legislative seat, today cited Governor George Romney's record of accomplishment gained with the cooperation of a Republican legislature over the past two years.

"The comparison of Michigan today and the Michigan of 1962 is almost unbelievable," McLennan stated. "Two years ago Michigan had a combined deficit of over $105 million and today we have not only made up this deficit, but we have a surplus of $50 million and expect another $50 million to be added to this by the end of the year. Incomes are up in Michigan at a greater rate of growth than any other state in the union and more than 120,000 new jobs have been created by private enterprise since George Romney took office."

Monies allotted for the increasing needs of mental health programs, juvenile delinquent rehabilitation, and higher education have increased at a rate never before equaled in Michigan. All of these programs are being financed on a 'pay as you grow' basis which ensures adequate facilities as the need arises and yet saves the taxpayers of Michigan about $30 million that will NOT go to bond holders in interest."

Ronald L. Nisun, Democratic candidate for State Representative from the 33rd District, announced his platform at a recent gathering.

Nisun pledged to devote full time to the job, if elected.

He also promised to "represent the people as they would like to be represented."

"The job in Lansing only requires 5 or 6 months of the year. I plan on spending the remaining time by meeting the people who live in the 33rd District. This way, I can learn their wants and truly represent them as they want to be represented," stated Nisun.

Bernard Kosteva, candidate for State Representative from the 33rd District, voiced his opinions on some of the issues which he supports in the upcoming election. First of all, Kosteva believes that "taxation of the property owner will be a tough problem because our present legislature has done little about the situation." He feels that any tax that is adopted must give property owners relief. He says, "Our present tax rewards those who are lazy and let their property run down, so Urban Renewal is needed. American pride in property ownership should not be punished, but rewarded." Also he would make sure that this tax dollar would be used to its fullest value toward the needs of the people.

Next he strongly urges the people of Livonia and Nankin areas to support him, because, it is better for the people to get close, proper, and above all honest representation. With this representation, he plans to bring the governments of his respective districts closer to the government in Lansing.

Lastly Kosteva will try to get the state of Michigan in the "better light" in the eyes of the nation by showing our other industries other than the automobile industry to the rest of the American people.

Redford Youth Is Honor Grad

John James Barnfather, 18621 Olympia, Redford Township, graduated this August from the University of Michigan with "high distinction." His final overall average was 3.7. Barnfather was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and Kappa Tau Alpha, the national honor society for Journalism students. He received the McNaught Award for general excellence in Journalism and University studies. He was named as a James B. Angell scholar by getting all A's for at least two consecutive semesters. Barnfather attended the University on the GI Bill after having served in the U.S. Navy between 1955 and 1959. He graduated from Redford Union High School in January, 1959.

Temple School Opens Sept. 10

Temple Beth Am Hebrew School, which is held twice weekly at the Cohn Building of the United Hebrew Schools, West Seven Mile Rd. and Osmus, will open on Sept. 10.

Under the supervision of Rabbi David Jessel, with the assistance of the personnel of the United Hebrew Schools, the program teaches the child to reach and understand the Prayer Book and other liturgical Hebrew, as well as to develop a knowledge of Hebrew as a living modern language. "The latter aspect is particularly significant in these days," stated Rabbi Jessel, "when Hebrew is taught in many public schools, recognized as a foreign language requirement for admission to college, and even encouraged by the United States government through National Defense Scholarships."

Beth Am's Hebrew program comprises four years of study leading to graduation, and includes instruction for Bar and Bat Mitzvah, if desired, for which a minimum of three full years is required. Simultaneous attendance in the Religious School (meeting on Sunday) is also part of this training. It is suggested that boys and girls who are presently nine or ten years of age, enroll now in the Hebrew school for the coming year. In most cases, bus transportation can be provided for those attending.

The Temple Beth Am Religious School will re-open on Sunday, Sept. 13, according to a recent announcement by Ralph Abramowitz, Temple Board Member in charge of Religious Education, who stated that enrollment is expected to include almost 250 pupils. Conducted this year in the Grandview Elementary School, located just west of Middlebelt Rd. between Seven and Eight Mile, Livonia, it will consist of classes for children from Pre-Kindergarten through Confirmation.

"Here Judaism is taught as a living, meaningful part of the everyday lives of children growing up in a modern environment, yet without sacrificing the warmth which is so much a part of our traditional customs and ceremonies", explained Rabbi Jessel, in a discussion of the philosophy of the school. From the age of three years, eight months to sixteen, the children are taught Jewish history, Bible, modern Israel, customs and practices, and the ethics of Jewish living. Folk-dancing, arts and crafts, music and dramatics are also taught.

Many aspects of the programs of the Religious School are carried over into the activities of the Temple's two youth groups: one for boys and girls 12-14 years of age; and the other, an affiliate of Michigan State Temple Youth, for those who are 15-17. Both youth groups are open to non-members of the Temple. For further information on any of these activities, call: 474-3248, 474-4036, or 474-4319.

Cheerleaders Needed

Girls from the ages of nine to 12 are asked to report to Shear School, 26109 Schoolcraft, on August 26th at 4 p.m. who wish to try out as cheerleaders for the South Redford Raiders. Girls do not have to have a brother playing on the team. Judging of the girls will be done the following week. Girls are asked to report as soon as possible so they may have the opportunity to learn the cheers and practice them.

Candidate, Livonia City Clerk in Tiff Over Registration Lists

A dispute over voter registration lists flared this week when a Livonia candidate for State Representative charged City Clerk Addison Bacon with "ignoring" state laws by not making the lists available to the public.

Marie E. Miller, Democratic candidate from the 35th District, made the charge in a telegram to Secretary of State James M. Hare. She said she had tried to obtain copies of the lists from the Clerk's office without suc-

WHO KNOWS?

Funny thing about used cars. Once you want, what you'll pay, and find that car; you've got to act fast. Before somebody else does. We can't order another one from the factory for you if the one you want is sold. Fact is, we never know from day to day how many '61 Cadillacs, Model "A's", '58 Chevies or even used VW's we'll have for sale. One week we're loaded with factory-clean convertibles.

Next week, we may not have a single one traded in that's good enough to sell. So if you're in the used car market, shop around. That's our list up there. Pick out what you want to see and come and see it. But don't put it off till tomorrow—or the day after. Chances are, somebody else has his eye on it, too. And may act a little faster. Somebody else may end up driving your car.

With people who know the candidates best . . .
IT'S THAYER 2 TO 1!

Yes a recent poll conducted in Washtenaw, the home county of Stan Thayer and the incumbent congressman in this district, indicates that Stan Thayer is leading by a 2 to 1 margin.

These are the only people who have been represented by both Stan Thayer in Lansing and the incumbent congressman in Washington and who know of the leadership and performance qualities of both men.

These are the people who feel that the Second District deserves leadership in Washington. They know that Stan Thayer has the ability to offer what they want in a congressman.

Hoben Makes Plans for Final PHS Football Season

Preparing for his tenth and last season as football coach at Plymouth High School, Mike Hoben, who guided the Rocks to an undefeated campaign last fall, will meet candidates for the 1964 team Saturday for the first time and then plans to swing into twice-a-day workouts on Monday, Aug. 31.

Hoben recently was promoted to assistant principal of the high school and will relinquish football after this year.

Matter of fact, the personable, veteran coach will personally hand out equipment, beginning Saturday morning at 9 when he has asked the holdovers from last year's squad to report.

Newcomers to the squad will have their opportunity to meet the coach and receive uniforms after 10 a.m. and Hoben hopes to have all equipment issued before noon. Those unable to attend Saturday will have a chance to register on Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m.

His chief assistants, John McFall and Tom Workman, will be missing from the equipment issuing chores—each had made previous arrangements for a final week of vacation before settling down to the daily practice schedule.

Hoben sent letters to all candidates, including those coming up from the junior high ranks, warning each that he must have a physical examination by his family physician prior to the opening drill and must present the physical card before receiving equipment.

Plymouth's dentists have agreed to fit gridders with a pro-type mouth protector. Each boys will be contacted by one of the dentists for a fitting at a cost of $1.50. The pro-type protector normally costs $10 or more but the dentists agreed to furnish it for the nominal fee that barely covers the cost of materials.

Hoben, in his letter, warned the footballers that he plans on having work on the third day of practice, stressing the importance of each reporting for the drill in top condition.

His schedule for the first week calls for workouts at 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 31; 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday; and 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. for the remainder of the first week. A single session at 8 a.m. will be held on Labor Day, Sept. 7 after which the squad will swing into the after school workouts.

Hoben has arranged a scrimmage under the so-called lights at Candlestick Park on Saturday, Sept. 12 with Berkley as one of the opponents. He is trying to arrange a four-team program with each playing the equivalent of one period against each of the others.

There is a possibility that he may be able to arrange to have Livonia Franklin, Thurston High of Redford, Riverside or another of the area schools complete the program.

Hoben lost Dave Agnew from his 1963 backfield and also Al-

State end Dick Egloff along with most of the other starters in the forward wall.

The 1964 machine is expected to be built around Capt. and Halfback Gary Grady, Halfback Roger Tobey and Quarterback John Daniels, three starters from last fall.

The line presents a major problem since only two starters—Rick Barron and Charles Hindliter, who alternated at center—are back. The other six positions are wide open.

The Rocks open the season against Northville on Sept. 18.

PLYMOUTH PEOPLE...

NO QUESTION about the expanse of the new production lines at the DSI Corporation plant where a 35,000-square foot addition went into operation this week. Women workers are shown along one of the lines that extends from one side of the building to the other.

DSI Starts Production In Expanded Facilities

DSI Corporation, a business established in Plymouth in 1962, having already outgrown the "old" Daisy Plant facilities, expanded production Monday into its new 35,000-square-foot addition.

From its starting date this

June 15, the building was occupied and production lines in operation in just two months.

Looking across the wide, clear space one will see tradesmen completing the partition walls, installing air conditioning and electrical fixtures while lift trucks bring stacks of literature, display materials and special cartons to the busy production line.

Trucks are arriving with more and more of the new-car announcements and promotional materials.

William C. Scott said, "Great credit and praise goes to our local contractors and their employees for setting this construction record."

To be congratulated are the Burger Construction Co., general contractor; Robert Erdelyi, heating and air-conditioning contractor; and Plymouth Electric Company, electrical contractor.

The addition, which increases present production areas by over 100 per cent greatly facilitates the flow of material into the plant and the packaging for shipment to dealers all over the country and overseas outlets.

It is expected during the peak of the new car announcement period, DSI will package and ship some 200,000 cartons, handle 5,000,000 pounds of material, load 200 trucks and add over 300 people to its present production department.

List Winners In Plymouth Bridge Meet

Winners in the weekly duplicate bridge at the Plymouth Bridge Club on August 21, included:

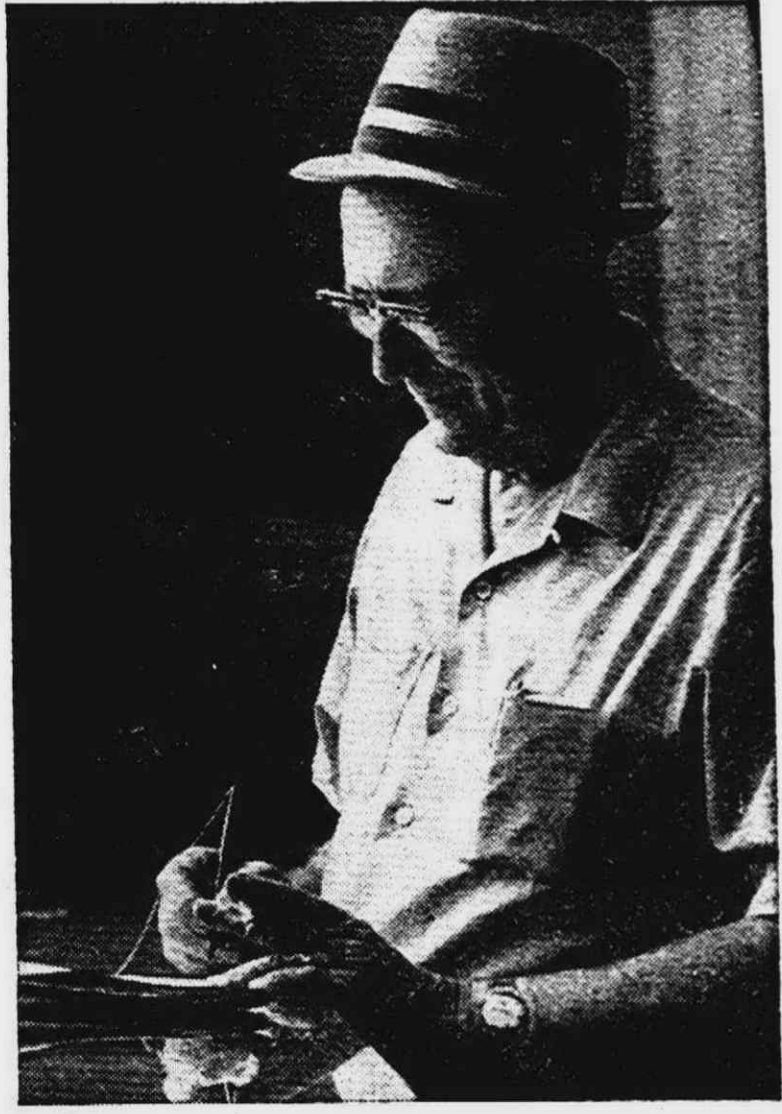

NORTH-SOUTH — Betsy and Bill Tullis, Shirley Young and Sue Fuller, and John and Elizabeth Augustine.

EAST-WEST — Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wagner, Ruth and John Quinn, and Mr. and Mrs. McCormick.

Weekly duplicate bridge is held each Friday at 8 p.m. in the Colonial Professional Building at 729 West Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. For further information call Directors Bill Tullis, GARfield 2-7848, or Margaret Armstrong, KENwood 5-4465.

Penny Sue Knickerbocker is only two and a half years old. But she can sit very quietly while her mother handles the family banking. It never takes very long.

Alonzo Brocklehurst is a familiar face to many Plymouth people. He used to be a policeman; now is in insurance. Likes the people he does business with at NBD.

Nicholas Ortopan makes an important stop at the bank. He's about ready to return for his first visit to Yugoslavia in 35 years, and needs Travelers Checks. One of many bank services available at NBD.

Mrs. L. Doherty comments favorably on the new Gift Checks now available at NBD-Plymouth. The services available and the prompt courteous attention are familiar to many NBD customers.

Boy Scouts Open Roundup For New Recruits In Area

Boys in the Livonia - Plymouth - Redford Township-Farmington area between the ages of 8 to 17 who would like to join the Boy Scouts of America are invited to visit Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer Posts in their neighborhood during the 1964 Frontier Roundup being conducted by the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council.

Each month all the dens—boys, parents, and leaders—meet together as a pack. The meeting may be an evening of fun with activities centered on a theme, or an outdoor affair such as a picnic. An adult Cubmaster leads the pack. He encourages other leaders to help boys.

A new road to fun and adventure is opened when a boy joins a Scout troop. Parents still have an important role—as patrol dads, members of mothers' auxiliaries, and in other Scouter positions—but their help is more subtle, intended to foster self-reliance in their sons.

Boy Scouting is a game—a game with a purpose. Through hiking and camping, boys learn how to do things for themselves and others. They advance from Tenderfoot toward the coveted Eagle, highest recognition in Boy Scouting.

Boys Scouts meet in natural gangs known as patrols led by a patrol leader, a boy elected by his fellow members. The patrols get together frequently as a troop for an outdoor adventure or indoor training.

An adult Scoutmaster guides the troop. He encourages the Scouts to plan and act for themselves through a patrol leaders' council.

The Exploring program has been carefully designed to meet the needs and desires of high-school age boys. It is attractive to them whether or not they have been Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts. A wide choice of activities greets the new Explorer. This is possible through a flexible program that adapts to varied needs and abilities of many groups.

Explorers are elected to office, appointed to committees, and chosen as representatives similar to adult organizations. They may join one of three types of units: an Explorer post that has a variety of program areas; a Sea Explorer ship that features nautical activities; or an Air Explorer squadron that emphasizes aviation.

Big Parade Opens State Fair Friday

A big, colorful Grand Opening Parade plus ribbon-cutting by Gov. George Romney and the 115th Michigan State Fair will start on its exciting way Friday night (August 28) to what shapes up as the biggest and best State Fair ever.

Gov. Romney will start the State Fair on its way officially at 6 p.m. Friday by cutting a ribbon at the Woodward entrance near State Fair Avenue. At 8 p.m. the Grand Opening Parade will form at Jefferson and go north on Woodward to Vernor in downtown Detroit.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day, 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits, including great horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities. The Fair will run through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

More than 100 units will take part in the march, which will stretch about three miles. There'll be stirring band music, colorful drill teams, high-stepping horses and gaily decorated floats. The parade annually has attracted more than 100,000 spectators.

WWJ-TV to Explain Proposals for Voters

Deciphering the complex proposals on the ballot is one of the most difficult tasks facing the conscientious voter—even if all news media are functioning without interruption. To help city and county voters better understand the issues before them in this year's critical primary election, WWJ-TV will air two discussions of the complicated propositions, amendments, Referendum and ordinance on the September 1 slate.

Sunday, Aug. 30 at 6:30 p.m., WWJ Newsman Kirk Knight will host Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and D.S.R. General Manager Lucas S. Miel in a WWJ News Special "The D.S.R. Problem," a detailed discussion of Amendment G. This is a crucial proposal which, if passed, would result in basic changes in the tax liability position of Detroit's public transit system.

The following night, Monday, Aug. 31 at 7 p.m., WWJ Newsman Dick Westerkamp will moderate a discussion of all 10 proposals on the ballot. Leonard F. Howe, Wayne County Director of Elections, and John A. Smith, Detroit Director of Elections, will join Westerkamp in this election eve special to discuss and dissect the nine decisions facing Detroiters and the one applying to both Detroit and Wayne County voters.

Along with Amendment G, these include proposals regarding school bonds; a County one-mill tax increase; five Charter Amendments relating to changes in the retirement system for city employees, police and firemen; a referendum to place Recorders Court personnel under Civil Service jurisdiction and finally, the hotly contested Homeowners' Rights Ordinance.

The results and ramifications of acceptance or rejection of each proposal will be clarified so that all voters may have the necessary knowledge on which to make their decisions.

NEW COACHES SET AT THURSTON, FRANKLIN HIGH

Prep Gridders to Start Area Drills Monday

The 1964 football is downing for the area's high schools. While most students and most teachers will be vacationing until after Labor Day, the prep gridders are assembling this week for physical examinations, for uniform distributions and for some informal lectures and talks from their coaches.

shade less than three weeks to get ready for the start of the regular season schedule on the weekend of Sept. 18. The Observers newspapers herewith present a roundup of the 10 area schools which shall be covered in detail on these sports pages during the season ahead.

Examinations. Joiner expects to have a squad of around 80-100 show up Monday morning. At the outset the sophomore candidates will drill only once a day. Biggest problem facing Joiner and his staff is the perennial one at quarterback.

Expects turnout of 75-100 players for both varsity and reserve teams. The 10th graders will drill only once a day. Varsity workouts are slated for 9 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Big Problem: Replacing Bill Black at quarterback, also moulding together 22 players. Desperately in need of two tackles. Will scrimmage Edsel Ford on Sept. 12, open following weekend against Cherry Hill.

Wiebeck Bids For Olympics

Ken Wiebeck made a fleeting visit to Redford Township and his home on Monday. The greatest swimmer in the history of Thurston High School—in fact, one of the greatest swimmers in the country—stopped to visit his parents after summering at a camp in Arizona and competing in meets in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Now comes the biggest test in the life of this young man—the only schoolboy swimmer in Michigan ever to win two events in the state Class A meet as a sophomore, again as a junior and also as a senior.

What's more with each championship effort, he also smashed a state record.

Today finds Wiebeck in New York City to make his bid for the United States Olympic team which in October competes in Tokyo.

Wiebeck has qualified for four different Olympic races—the 100 and 200-meters backstroke, the 100 and 200 meters free style.

His best bets are in the 200 free and 100-meter back.

Wiebeck will swim first in New York this Saturday. He'll be back in the World's Fair pool on Tuesday and again on Thursday.

No sooner will the trials end—Ken will rush to the University of Michigan campus where he will enroll as a freshman.

However, if he makes the Olympic team, he probably will hold off entering the University until the winter quarter.

While Kenny left his Township home in a confident and happy frame of mind over his own prospects, he couldn't help but feel sorry for his older brother, Jerry, who was a fine athlete before Kenny at Thurston High.

Jerry, too, had ambitions of competing for the U.S. in the Olympics. Jerry had made the grade in the regionals as a heavyweight wrestler.

But he has been struck down by an illness which has put him in the hospital where he'll remain indefinitely. The doctors say that Jerry will not be able to compete in any sports again for at least one year.

Despite his own miseries, Jerry will be pulling for Kenny. No two brothers ever thought much more of each other than Kenny and Jerry Wiebeck of Redford Township.

Errors And Walks Too Costly

Wildness and errors killed off North Redford's bid for the State Recreation Class D boys baseball title.

The Redfords went into the state semifinals against Auburn as a strong favorite. But early-game jitters netted Auburn three runs and the team from the Pontiac area went on to gain a 3-1 win.

Rick Clark, the North Redford pitcher, allowed only one hit. But six walks and two errors hurt him badly. Clark also fanned eight.

The only North Redford run was scored in the fourth inning when Dave Wolloch was safe on an error. Jim Johnson doubled and Rick Harlow delivered a sacrifice fly.

North Redford, managed by Bob Atkins, thus finished the season with a very respectable 21-4 record.

CHECKING PLANS for the Farmington school system's football program at Farmington and North Farmington High Schools are coaches of the teams and Director of Physical Education and Athletics Jack Cotton. The trio: (from left) Ron Holland, of N. Farmington; Cotton and Jack Hayes, of Farmington High.

OBSERVER SPORTS

By George Maskin

The toughest job in high school belongs to those men who direct football teams.

We have to sympathize with the likes of Mike Hoben at Plymouth, Dave Brazil at St. Agatha, Al Webster at Our Lady of Sorrows and all the other fine gentlemen who will start working their prep gridders bright and early next Monday.

Here are men who have the most complicated task of all coaches . . . they must deal with the largest squads and are faced with the assignment of moulding 11 men into a unit and also to develop adequate supporting material.

But how much time does the State Prep Association give them?

Not even three full weeks! The public schools start their regular schedules on Sept. 18, the parochial schools on Sept. 20.

Those close to high school football will tell you that "it's a miracle that coaches accomplish as much as they do."

What's more, the friends of the football coaches insist that they (the coaches) are receiving a bad shake from the authorities. They say:

"In other sports, the coaches can start working their charges almost when they want to. Lots of basketball coaches get going the first day school starts in the fall after keeping their boys together during the summer in special leagues.

"Swimming coaches likewise aren't restricted on when they can start drills. Nor are baseball coaches.

"The baseball mentor is permitted, if he wishes, to keep his charges going throughout the vacation. That's exactly what Bob Leggett has done at Thurston and Bob Atkins has done with his Redford Union boys.

"But the football coach isn't supposed to talk with his boys during the summer, or at least not on some kind of a practice field with them. Nor can the football coach hold spring sessions while school is going on.

"Yep, the poor football coach. Everything is stacked against him. He's even under more pressure than any other coach in the school system."

There also are those who say that the short time permitted the prep footballers explains the great number of injuries—and even tragic deaths—each season.

"How can a coach truly get his boys in shape," one veteran prep authority recently asked us. "With so little time to get set for the first game, the coach has to hurry his practice sessions.

"So maybe he cheats a little on conditioning, etc. This is something he probably never would do if he had an extra week or two for practice going into the season.

"Even if they would permit the football coaches to hold spring drills, which wouldn't interfere with anything else, the coaches wouldn't have to rush so much when the fall workouts commence."

The way the regulations now stand, many coaches resort to "under-the-table" procedures to get their players ready.

Many mentors huddle their players in somebody's basement, lay out a plan of work for the next day and then tell the boys to drill under the direction of the team's captain.

Other coaches are much more open. They hold regular drills under the guise of summer recreation activities.

One coach told us a few days ago:

"I've been meeting nightly with my boys, going over plays and other details."

The prep coaches really aren't worried that somebody will "turn them in." So many of them get around the rules on early drills that the State Association would have to dish out suspension of all the cases were reported.

We have advocated before . . . and we say again: If one boy is saved from an injury—is spared his life—the extra expense and time would be worth it a million times over.

Season Record The paid crowd of 51,044 for the Detroit-New York twi-night doubleheader in Tiger Stadium July 24 was the largest of the season in the American League.

CATCHER Dick Coppens, 15060 Sumner, Redford Township, will play with the Detroit Burch fast pitch softball team when it hosts the Softball Association East Central regional men's tournament at Wyandotte Chemical Park in Wyandotte starting Sept. 4. Coppens is considered one of the top receivers in the United States and has been a big factor in the success of the Burch team this year.

Champions Crowned In Softball

Hail to Livonia's 1964 softball champions.

In the Church division, St. Matthews copped the unlimited crown while St. Andrew took the Limited honors.

In the Open Class D play, Telischak repeated as unlimited champs while Showerman's grabbed the limited flag.

St. Matthews and St. Andrew will engage in a best-of-three series starting Wednesday night at Ford Field for the Church League's overall championship.

Telischak and Showerman will engage for the Class D overall crown in a similar series starting next week.

All four teams have qualified for a special Labor Day weekend tourney at Ford Field. They'll be joined by four other teams from the divisional playoffs now being conducted.

Rev. James Lang and his brother Warren have shared the pitching honors this season for St. Matthews, which has won 11 and lost one.

Charley Dressen, Detroit Tiger manager, started his baseball career as a second baseman for Moline of the Three-I League in 1919.

Vet Manager May Bow Out

Al Turner, one of the driving forces for many years in boys baseball in Redford Township, is thinking about tossing in the towel next season.

It's not that Turner has lost his love for kids' baseball, or his desire to run a team.

Simply, it's a matter of dollars and cents . . . and Turner feels that he himself can't keep digging into his own pockets.

In short, he's looking for somebody to help sponsor his team, which happens to be comprised of boys from 16 through 19 years of age.

Turner has been through the entire mill, baseball speaking, in the Township. He started out in Little League, went on to Pony League and Colt League and in recent years has guided South Redford's powerful Class D or Connie Mack forces.

It was South Redford which finished No. 1 in the area's Detroit Free Press program and No. 1 in the Connie Mack playoffs. It was South Redford which battled North Redford in the regular Class D title chase down to the final barrier.

"I have footed the bills for some time now," said Turner the other day. "It's pretty expensive . . . you don't get balls, bats and uniforms for nothing. Umpires cost us, too."

What irritates Turner is that within the Township there are hundreds eager to do everything to help the Little Leaguers have fine diamonds, etc.

Yet, few seem to care about the baseball interests of the older boys . . . those who need organized baseball on a much greater scale.

"Remember, I've been through it all," adds Turner. "Why people in the Township and elsewhere should fall over for the kids of 11-12 and think nothing about the older boys, when it comes to baseball, baffles me."

"We always have more than 100 Little League teams in the Township alone. Yet, we had only two teams for boys over 16. This adds up to a real tragedy."

Turner noted that Bob Atkins, his counterpart who leads the North Redford team, another powerhouse which this week had reached the state Recreation Class D finals, had to go to Livonia to find a sponsor.

"This should serve as a real black-mark for the Township," added Turner.

Diamonds for adult games in the Township also are poor, according to Turner.

FANCY RECORD AT STAKE THIS WEEKEND

Livonia Vs. Pontiac in Districts

If statistics mean anything, Livonia's Class A baseball team shapes up as the team to beat when it goes against Pontiac this weekend in the district qualifying round for the Labor Day tournament at Battle Creek.

In regular season play, the Livonians under Manager Jerry Stockwell have compiled a record of 15 wins against one loss. They'll put a 12-game winning streak on the line when they invade Pontiac Friday night and then return to Livonia's Ford Field Saturday evening. A third game in the best-of-three series would be played at Ford Field Sunday night.

To get back to the glittering statistics the Livonians fashioned in sweeping through the regular campaign in the Greater Livonian League:

1—Livonian scored 217 runs in the 16 games, while giving up only 41.

2—The Livonians' lone loss came at the hands of South Lyon, 11-10, in the fourth game of the season. In three other meets with South Lyon, Livonia rebounded with 9-0, 9-5 and 5-3 wins.

3—Eleven of the 14 players on the Livonians hit .300 or better. Catcher Dick Gray led with .508. His efforts included three homers, 33 runs batted in and 35 runs scored. As a team, Livonia hit .351.

4—Five different pitchers figured in the Livonia victories. Leaders were Ron Hellier (5-0), Jack Osborne (4-0) and Bill Booth (3-0).

5—The Livonia pitchers racked up a total of 984 strikeouts, for an average of 12 per game. Booth had the individual high for a single game with 20 whiffs against Northville in the final, regularly scheduled tilt.

6—Eleven of the 14 players on the squad attended Bentley high school. They range in ages from 19-26. Don Phillippi and Jack Osborne are both graduates of Alma College and will start teaching this fall. Keith Fogel and Dennis Boufford are recent graduates of Eastern Michigan University and are now recreation directors. Pete Boraday (Albion), Steve Powers (Michigan State), Booth (Western Michigan) and Bill Coleman (Eastern Michigan) all will be returning to college studies shortly.

Here are the team batting averages:

Dick Gray	.503
Garry Allen	.453
Jerry Stockwell	.419
Ron Hellier	.409
Bill Coleman	.400
Don Phillippi	.373
Keith Fogel	.347

Youthful Rider Best At DRC

Every so often a youngster comes along who combines exceptional ability with the intangible known as "color" and captures the imagination of the sports' public.

The new star to fit the role is 17-year-old Glynn Bernis, who is making a run-away of the jockey's race during the current Detroit Race Course meeting and promises to make a strong bid for the national title.

Through the first 20 days of the DRC meeting, Bernis had 26 winners.

In the latest national statistics he is the United States' top apprentice rider and is fifth overall. It is illustrious company the Louisiana redhead is keeping.

The riders who top him are Bob Ussery, long one of the top saddle artists; Walter Blum, who took the riding crown a year ago; Ron Turcotte, who spends the majority of his time on Canadian tracks, and the great Bill Shoemaker.

As the DRC meeting moves through its fourth week, Bernis continues to command attention. He likely will have chances to bolster his record and prestige with mounts in the two top stakes which features Saturday's program.

The $7,500 Rose Leaves, for fillies and mares, three-year-old and up, at six furlongs; and the $15,000 Motor City Handicap for three-year-old Michigan-breds at one mile headline the program.

Despite rain, which marred the card five days last week, the DRC continues at a record pace both from a standpoint of crowds and its handle.

The popular Ladies' Day program continues each Thursday. All feminine fans are admitted free on Thursdays.

No. 13 Elusive

Dave Wickersham, Detroit Tiger pitcher, tried six times as a starter in quest of his 13th victory of the season before getting it, Aug. 4, against the White Sox in Chicago.

Gridders Drill

hopeful of carrying on where it ended last season when it won final games—team's first triumph in two seasons.

ST. AGATHA HIGH
ASSISTANTS: Conrad Blanzky and Paul Buchanan.
Team has received physicals and equipment this week so that Brazil can plunge headlong into job next Monday. He'll meet with small groups for the first few days. In that way, he figures he can give the 40 players who'll make up his squad more personal attention. The entire group will be together at nights only. Big job for Brazil is to find adequate replacements for his starters who should be good.

FARMINGTON HIGH
HEAD COACH: John Hayes.
ASSISTANTS: Dick Taylor and Doug Rau, with Bob Miestle and Jack Quiggle leading reserves.
Physicals are being held this Wednesday at Senior high. Those who miss can go to North Farmington High Thursday. Coach is passing out equipment after players receive physicals. The prospects for a better season at Farmington are bright. School is getting over the "split" which cost them athletes to the new North Farmington high. Hayes has the backs . . . needs to find linemen for both offense and defense.

NORTH FARMINGTON
HEAD COACH: Ron Holland.
ASSISTANTS: Tom Wallis and Ken Dean with John Harrington and Charles Sheer coaching reserves.
Physicals and equipment handout slated for Thursday. Players are reminded to bring special medical history forms which MUST BE SIGNED by a parent. Big problems facing Holland and Staff—they've lost 26 lettermen. Morning and afternoon sessions on the docket until school begins.

OUR LADY OF SORROWS
HEAD COACH: Webster.
ASSISTANT: Herbert Coleman.
Physical examinations scheduled at school Wednesday and Thursday when equipment will also be distributed. Two-a-day drills on the docket starting Monday morning. Squad of 40-45 expected as team bids to retain its Catholic League divisional championship. Coach's biggest problem: moulding the '63 reserves into varsity starters to replace 12 standouts from last year who have been graduated.

Sight Golf Attendance Mark at Tournament

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. — It stands to reason that it will take a world championship tournament to break Detroit's golf attendance record.

When the most impressive field ever assembled matches blows in the $200,000 Carling World Championship tourney here Thursday one of the records on the line will be the local attendance figure of 47,985 established at the U. S. National Open in 1961.

That tournament was played over the same course as "the world," Oakland Hills Country Club, but it ran only three days. The "Carling" will go four, Thursday, Aug. 27, through Sunday, Aug. 30.

The '61 Open drew successive daily crowds of 12,311, 15,233 and 20,439, Thursday through Saturday. C. Norman Fry, former Oakland Hills president now serving on the '64 tournament committee, foresees a Detroit record if the weatherman cooperates with bright, comfortable "cool warmth," but declines an exact prediction.

Golf Tourney Reset Friday

Rain washed out the Livonia boys' golf tournament at Idyl Wyld last Friday. The meet has been rescheduled for this Friday along with the final tourney by members of the Livonia Women's links association.

Milestone for Lumpe
Jerry Lumpe got the 1,000th hit of his major league career as the Detroit Tigers defeated Chicago, 4-3, Aug. 4.

CURTAIN GOING UP .. by Wally Roberts

The lurching, weaving movements of "The Drunkard" came to an untimely end as of this weekend. As you recall earlier this month we announced the Livonia Lamplighter's Lion's Club and the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford were cooperating to bring back this popular, classic melodrama. Producer Pete De Napoli made the announcement this week that "The Drunkard" was being postponed.

Well, what happened to cause such a worth-while project to be put on the treadmill to oblivion? Several items seem apparent. Mr. De Napoli indicated that the vacation period is a poor time of year to try and organize a theatrical project. If the organization meetings could have been held at a breeze-swept lake or at a cool beach, the show might have gone on in the best of theatrical tradition.

Any show, no matter how simple it may seem on the surface, it takes careful, long hours of planning. Ticket sales must be organized. The publicity has to be thought out. Settings must be first put on paper. The construction crew has to study the drawings and figure out how they can do the scenery in the most expedient manner. Costumes have to be secured. In some cases a costume plate or drawing might have to be made. And the costume then would be made from "scratch." All of this takes oodles and gobs of that precious commodity known as time.

The rehearsing of the cast really takes the shortest amount of time. Most folks feel that here is where the average show takes the longest. Strangely enough most theatrical ventures are like icebergs with the hard preparatory work hiding beneath the surface. As is the case with an iceberg only one-tenth of its icy mass shows above the surface while nine-tenths float dangerously below.

To pursue this analogy a bit further, and it is delightful during our "hot, muggy August weather," let's examine what could happen should the lower portion of our "Berg" be missing.

If the planning of the ticket sales, publicity, construction, and basic technical work be faulty, the theatrical "iceberg" will topple over on its side. It will not have the proper balance. Everything will be out of kilter. The cast will look foolish. First of all, the audience will be missing if the ticket sales are poorly run. Throw publicity in with ticket sales for it does a truly run hand-in-hand with the ticket sales. If the construction crew is derelict in their duty, you end up with a jumbled arrangement of sets which makes the show look amateurish.

In short, everyone is important in the development of a theatrical project. It makes no difference whether the show is opening at the Fisher Theater as Sammy Davis is in "Golden Boy" or whether the show is "Bye, Bye Birdie" that will be opening in November under the semi-professional banner of The Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford. Community theater goes through the same birth pangs as can be seen on Broadway. "Golden Boy" that opened this week at the Fisher prior to Broadway has still a lot of work to be done on its book and musical score before it will be ready. The present Director Peter Coe has been fired. William Penn replaces Coe. A new author, William Gibson ("Miracle Worker") and "Two for the Seesaw" has been put on the payroll to see if he can breathe some life into the script. None of the actors will be replaced only the material that they have been using for the past six weeks.

You can well imagine the constant work-load on the cast, backstage crew and the front of the house as a half-million dollar venture like "Golden Boy" tries to put itself in shape for the public. In the case of "Bye, Bye Birdie" the Theater Guild of Livonia-Redford has no such problem. The script is a whiz-bang item. The music is hummable and singable even by a whiskey baritone like Old Wally. The dancing routines are wild and zany. Everything about the show screams success. Incidentally the tryouts are August 31, Sept. 1 and Sept. 2 at J. Schultz' home in Livonia.

Tickets For Beatle Show Going Fast
"Every kid in Livonia and surrounding area seemed to be lined up at our boxoffice last week" was the report from the managements of the Mai Kai and Wayne Drive-In.
There were approximately 2,000 waiting in line last week at the Mai Kai when the box-office opened at 11 a.m. to sell tickets to the Beatles first full length film, "The Beatles and a Hard Way's Night."
There will be four showings during Sept. 2 and for that day everybody purchasing a ticket ahead will be guaranteed a seat.
The show will play another six days, however, tickets will be sold on a first come basis.
Tickets for the Sept. 2 "special showing" may be purchased at the Mai Kai boxoffice, Plymouth and Farmington Roads. There are only a very limited number left. All tickets for Sept. 2 will be sold for one dollar, regardless of age.

Detroit Edison Offers New Type 'All Night Watchman'

Some 2,500 property owners throughout Wayne County have an "all night watchman" on duty in the form of Detroit Edison's outdoor protective lighting service, according to George W. Matthews, assistant manager of Edison's Detroit-Wayne sales division.

"This service provides dusk-to-dawn lighting wherever it is desirable to eliminate dark and shadow areas," Matthews said.

Michigan State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs and other police authorities agree that such lighting helps reduce thefts, curb vandalism and prevent accidents.

Matthews said that more and more residential and industrial customers are turning to this new lighting service for added safety. He said that 12,700 units are in use in the company's service area of Southeastern Michigan.

The new lighting is an automatic lamp equipped with a photo-electric cell which turns on with the touch of darkness and shuts off by the rays of daylight.

Matthews said it is designed for backyards, driveways and garage areas, commercial and industrial sites, parking lots, farmyards, motel drives and courtyards.

"The lamp is mounted on an Edison pole. A four-foot metal arm extending from the pole suspends the light fixture over the area to be illuminated," Matthews said.

Ford Plans To Expand Driver Education Plans

Henry Ford has announced that Ford Motor Company "will greatly expand its support of driver education" by making at least 1,000 more cars available for student use.

The chairman of the board of Ford Motor Company said the plan—involving increased dealer allowances on automobiles used for driver education—will provide "behind-the-wheel instruction for an estimated 100,000 additional high school students."

In the 1963-64 school year, Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers supplied more than 4,600 vehicles for driver education purposes.

"To enable our dealers to participate fully in this expanded program, the company will double its dealer allowance on the Ford Galaxie 500 and Mercury Monterey, and substantially increase the financial assistance on other models," Ford said.

He made the announcement to 20,000 school administrators across the country in a letter which outlined the company's broadened support of driver education.

Michigan Alcoholics Plan Conference In Detroit Sept. 25

The 12th Michigan State Conference of Alcoholics Anonymous will be held at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit Sept. 25, 26 and 27.

The conference will be hosted by the Southeastern Michigan General Service and will be of interest to members of AA, Alanon (mates of alcoholics) and Alateens (children of alcoholics).

Wonderland To Sponsor Three SS Days

Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest Social Security Office, 18500 Grand River, Detroit, announced Monday that Wonderland Shopping Center in Livonia will have three Social Security days.

On Thursday evening, Friday afternoon and evening, and all day Saturday, August 27, 28 and 29, Social Security representatives will be in attendance at a booth in the mall to answer questions and distribute free Social Security booklets.

Residents of Livonia, Plymouth, and Northville may take advantage of this opportunity to obtain valuable information about the Social Security law.

Completes Training

Airman Third Class Henry J. Wengrzynowicz Jr., son of Mrs. Betty Jean Turman, 29137 Minton, Livonia, has graduated from the technical training course for U. S. Air Force jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Texas. The airman, who attended Franklin High School, entered the Air Force in January 1964.

further expand Ford's extensive program of teaching aids. He said the company plans to increase the availability of a variety of driver education materials—films, booklets and other classroom aids—to high schools for use by students.

Ford Motor Company and its dealers have supported youth driver education programs since the late 1930's. The Ford Good Drivers League of 1941 was the first nationally sponsored effort in the industry to encourage teenagers to become better drivers.

In 1945, when cars were in short supply, the company allowed participating dealers an extra unit above quota for each vehicle loaned to schools for driver education. A financial allowance to dealers was established in 1956.

Landowners Can't Bar Highway Personnel

By Attorney General Frank J. Kelly
(This is a public service article explaining in general terms a provision of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private legal affairs should consult a private legal affairs should consult a private attorney.)

Can you put a sign on your property barring entry and enforce it against everyone?

Contrary to popular belief, landowners in this State do not have absolute right over the access to their property.

Many people are unaware that highway personnel, who are making surveys, can encroach on private property without violating the law.

The State Legislature enacted a law in 1957 which authorizes state and county highway personnel to enter any land and waters in Michigan to make necessary surveys, soundings and borings for the planning, construction and maintenance of state trunk-line highways and county roads.

The act, however, makes the state and county authorities fully liable for any actual damage done to the premises by the surveyors. Fences, trees and shrubbery cannot be removed for survey purposes without the written consent of the property owner.

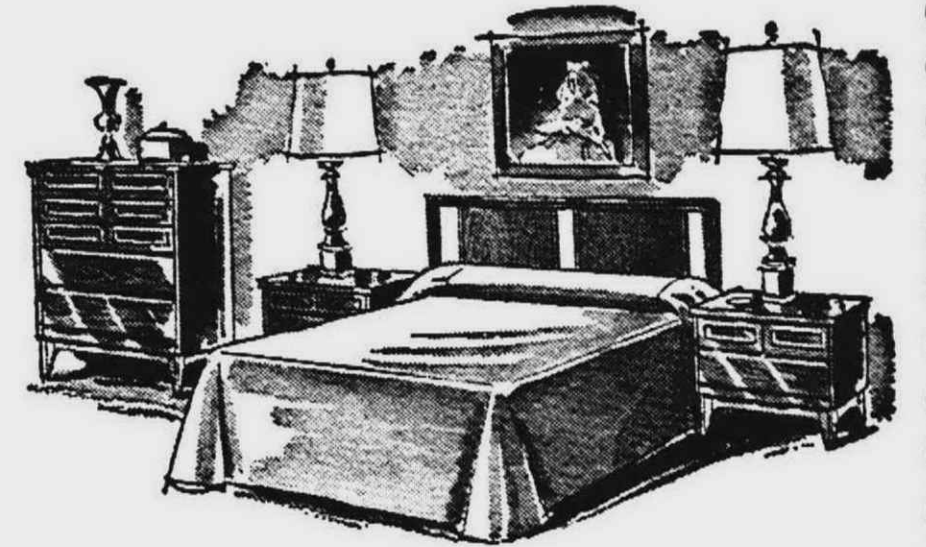

Thus, the property owner is amply protected by the law and is guaranteed against financial loss, while the state is permitted to perform its service to the public.

MRS. ELLY PETERSON

HELLO ELLY!

ELLY PETERSON REPUBLICAN FOR UNITED STATES SENATE

WHY SUPPORT ELLY?

Elly is a proven natural leader who can work with people and get things done.
Elly knows Michigan. She has worked in every one of Michigan's 83 counties and knows their people and their problems.
Elly knows her way around Washington. She knows the workings of Congress and is a personal friend of many of its top leaders.
Elly will represent all the people of Michigan—not just the special interests.

ELLY PLEDGES:

- To work for a foreign policy which will restore America's bright image abroad and pride in country here at home.
- To work for a strong, resilient economy and prosperity shared fairly by all.
- To promote state and local solutions to state and local problems, instead of the centralization of power in Washington.
- To resist governmental encroachments on the liberty of the individual citizen.
- To strive for a new sense of integrity in public life—especially on Capitol Hill.
- To work toward world peace based on justice, law and order between nations—the only kind of peace in which American liberty can be secure.

ELLY PETERSON, who is 50, was born in New Berlin, Ill., and is married to U.S. Army Colonel W. Merritt Peterson. She attended William Woods College, Northwestern University, and was graduated from Suburban Business College, Oak Park Ill. In Michigan Elly has worked — and excelled — at every political level, from neighborhood precinct captain to Vice Chairman of the State Republican organization. She was reelected to that post in 1963 and in the same year was tapped by the Chairman of the Republican National Committee to take over the two top Republican women's posts in the nation.

ELECTION NOTICE

To the Qualified Electors of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD IN SAID COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, IN THE REGULAR VOTING PLACE IN EACH ELECTION PRECINCT IN EACH CITY AND TOWNSHIP IN THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, STATE OF MICHIGAN, ON TUESDAY, THE 1ST DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1964, BETWEEN THE HOURS OF 7:00 O'CLOCK A.M. AND 8:00 O'CLOCK P.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME, THE FOLLOWING PROPOSITION WILL BE SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF SAID COUNTY:

TAX-RATE LIMITATION INCREASE PROPOSITION [No. 1]

Shall the County of Wayne increase the millage as provided in Article IX, Section 6, of the State Constitution, by one mill for a period of five years from 1965 through 1969 ($1.00 per one thousand dollars of State equalized valuation), the proceeds to be used to help meet the rising cost of County services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under County care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis and maintain adequate public health, recreation and safety services?

All registered electors may vote on the tax-rate limitation increase proposition.

This proposition is being submitted in accordance with the following resolution duly adopted by the Board of Supervisors of said County on the 7th day of July, 1964.

RESOLUTION OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE

WHEREAS, diligent effort has been made to bring the County budget into balance, within the available millage allocated by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board under statutory limitation, by pursuing every possible economy and yet provide sufficient funds to meet the ever rising costs resultant from providing essential minimum services to a rapidly expanding population in a period characterized by increased cost of commodities and personal services; and

WHEREAS, this available millage has not been sufficient to maintain services at a level to assure adequate health, welfare and safety standards for the citizens of the County; and

WHEREAS, the County will be faced with a deficit as of November 30, 1964, of approximately $16 million consisting primarily of unpaid bills due the City of Detroit and the State of Michigan for hospitalization and other social service functions; and

WHEREAS, the County has no alternative but to seek approval by the electorate of extra tax revenues to maintain minimum essential services without incurring further indebtedness; Now, Therefore, Be It

RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Wayne, this 7th day of July, 1964:

- 1. That there be submitted to the qualified electorate of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, at the primary election to be held in said County on Tuesday, September 1, 1964:

TAX-RATE LIMITATION INCREASE PROPOSITION

Shall the County of Wayne increase the millage as provided in Article IX, Section 6, of the State Constitution, by one mill for a period of five years from 1965 through 1969 ($1.00 per one thousand dollars of State equalized valuation), the proceeds to be used to help meet the rising cost of County services, maintain hospitalization for the medically indigent, help furnish medical care of the aged poor, help care for and train juveniles under County care, help provide treatment for the mentally ill and those suffering from tuberculosis and maintain adequate public health, recreation and safety services?

All public officials of the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, and all municipal units thereof, within such time as shall be required by law, be and they hereby are directed to do and perform all acts and things which shall be necessary to be done or performed in order to submit the foregoing proposition to the electors of said County at such primary election to be held on Tuesday, September 1, 1964.

22 Livonia PO Drivers Receive Awards

Livonia mail delivery carriers received high praise from Postmaster Arthur G. Jenkins for earning a safety citation from Chicago Regional Director, Donald L. Swanson.

The Postmaster advised his drivers that they had made a significant improvement in the safety record of the post of-office and also contributed to the local community safety effort.

As a basis for making the award, the Post Office Department reviews the accident experience of each postal installation having a fleet of five or more vehicles, and determines the winners on the basis of fewer accidents, lowered cost and a reduction in casualties.

Postmaster Jenkins in accepting the award said he was pleased to receive it on behalf of all employees of his office, especially the drivers, whose record as a team was worthy of meritorious consideration by postal officials.

Regional Director Swanson stated that it was especially gratifying to honor Livonia drivers in view of the difficult traffic and adverse weather conditions in this area of the Region.

In addition to the fleet award, each driver received a National Safety Council Award for each year he drives without having a preventable accident.

This year 22 local drivers were awarded and these safe driver awards represented 97 years of perfect driving. The program is 10-years-old in the Livonia Postal system.

Awards went to the following carrier drivers: Thomas Berry, Donald Canfield, Anthony DiPietro, John Horn, Robert Hubel, Kenneth Leedom, Stephen Macke, Julius Meszaros, Paul Mousseau, Billy Reeder and Michael Reiter.

Those also honored included: Roger Rondy, Robert Shepard, Casimer Sitko, Joseph Tondreau, Alfred Tondreau, Lester VanMeter, Frank Wendt, William Oliver, Thomas Tucker, James Willert and William Graham.

The nation's only Camp Fire Girls Drum and Bugle Corps, from Grand Rapids, will march in the Grand Opening Parade of the Michigan State Fair, August 28. The fair will run through Labor Day, September 7.

Redford Union Coed Attends U-D Nuclear Science Course

A Redford Township resident, Lorraine H. Filipek, is currently attending the National Science Foundation-sponsored Nuclear Science Training Program at the University of Detroit.

A resident of 25232 Keeler, Miss Filipek is a student of Redford Union High School.

The Nuclear Science Training Program sponsored by the National Science Foundation at the University of Detroit, is hosting 30 high school seniors, chosen by the nomination of their high school principals.

Included in the research program are such subjects as natural radioactivity, properties of radiation, production of radioisotopes, radiation hazards and biological effects, and radiation desimetry.

Operating under a $9,425 grant, the program is under the direction of Dr. Anton Szutka, U. of D. associate professor of chemistry.

"Our objectives," Dr. Szutka said, "are to help identify high-ability secondary school students who have excellent potential for becoming scientists; to help accelerate the scholarly development of such students; to help develop cooperation between college and high schools in increasing the quality of education in sciences."

Associated with Dr. Szutka in the program are Dr. Donald J. Kenney, associate professor of chemistry, and Dr. Richard W. Balek, assistant professor of natural science and biology.

Books, instruction, laboratory and library facilities are provided by the University. Students also receive $26.70 allowance to help defray costs of meals and transportation.

11 Livonians Have Exhibits In State Fair

Eleven Livonians will have displays in the livestock and farm products exhibitions at the 115th annual Michigan State Fair which opens its 10-day run on Friday, Aug. 28 and continues through Monday, Sept. 7.

General Manager Walter Goodman announces a record $141,000 in prizes will be awarded this year.

The list of Livonia exhibitors includes: Burma Van Cleave, 29655 Six Mile Road, quarterhorse; Muriel Haxer, 37850 W. Seven Mile Road, saddlebred horses; Howard Larsen, 15501, Poch, vegetables; Daniel Drag-anov, 19050 Farmington Road, ponies.

Leonard Spas, 28678 Sunnydale, floriculture; Chris Grattan, 28706 Grandon, rabbits; Harold Ross, 21557 Myra, quarterhorses; Janet Gates, 32954 Rayburn, quarterhorse; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, 32599 Madison, Shetland ponies; Mrs. C. Ground Breaking Rites For St. Matthew's August 30

Ground will be broken for construction of the new St. Matthew's Methodist and E.U.B. Church at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, August 30 on the site at 30900 West Six Mile Road. Officials of both denominations will participate in the ceremonies to which the public is invited.

To the reverends John N. Grenfell and James A. Lange, pastors of the church, plus members of the building committee, this is truly a touchstone in their efforts to realize a new home for the congregation. Hope Chapel EUB Church has been ministering in Livonia since 1936. Livonia Methodist Church has served its community since 1947.

Their respective churches, took the necessary steps to unite their congregations and then moved forward to plan a new church that would house them all.

St. Matthew's represents one of the first united churches of the Methodist and EUB denominations in the country. At the present time its membership is 1,050.

The $350,000 building, which is one of the largest new constructions built for a church in Livonia, is schematically subdivided to avoid conflicts when different functions are going on at the same time.

In addition to the sanctuary which will seat 550, the plant includes a church school wing of 15 classrooms and a fellowship hall which will accommodate over 400, a choir rehearsal room for 50, a large nursery for pre-schoolers, a fully equipped kitchen, plus a library and private offices. The church anticipates a bell tower, chapel and additional classrooms to be built in the future.

Livonia architect William P. Lindhout, who designed it, described the building as basically a wood timber construction. The sanctuary will be built on an A-frame with exposed face brick side walls inside. There will be a patterned mahogany wall behind the chancel—the chancel being sky-lighted. Other than accent lights on the pulpit and the cross at the back of the chancel, the illumination of the sanctuary will be achieved with concealed or indirect lighting.

The fellowship hall will use a folded-plate type of construction which will allow the six-inch thick roof to span 54 feet. General contractor for the project is the Maurice V. Rogers Co. of Detroit.

FAMILY EDUCATION CENTER of St. Alexander's Parish, Farmington, is about to be further developed with the building of the new convent for the Dominican Sisters this fall. (Above) Fr. Joseph F. Ryder, pastor, Joseph St. Cyr, architect, and Sr. Mary Irene, superior, confer on the site and plans.

St. Alexander's, Plan Family Center

St. Alexander's Parish, Farmington is about to realize some of the long-range plans of their pastor, Fr. Joseph F. Ryder of a family education center.

Although it will be almost another year before St. Alexander's Family Education Center is a total parish educational facility reaching all age levels, an important step has been reached with the arrival of the Sisters of St. Dominic last week.

The Family Education Center will be more than teaching the catechism. Fr. Ryder said the Sisters of St. Dominic, staffing the center, will spend their time with pre-school, grade and high school instruction in religion, in adult education, census work and home visiting. Though the sisters will leave at the end of two weeks, ground will be broken for a permanent convent for them this fall, and they will be back to stay next June.

"Family Education Center, with a strong emphasis on 'family' patly describes what we want to do here," said Fr. Ryder. "We will be putting the sisters' time to best advantage to create an impact on the whole parish."

St. Alexander's Parish, founded in June, 1961, at 27835 Shiawassee, faces the problems that beset many suburban parishes. With about 525 families registered representing a cross-section of living standards and a church, social hall and rectory to pay for, a parish school is one of the projects that has to wait.

When the Family Education Center becomes a reality, the adult classes will be held in a special facility planned as part of the new convent.

For the vacation school the children have also been invited back every afternoon beginning at 1:30 to work on their art projects or just enjoy guided playtime around the parish grounds.

When the sisters come to the parish full-time, they hope to carry their instruction in religion program to every parish group for at least an hour twice a week.

Life Of Christ Reviewed In Science Service

The life of Christ Jesus—from his birth through his ascension—will be taken up at all Christian Science churches on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah 9: "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder."

Readings will include lines from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy; "Jesus established what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught. This is the Science of Christianity" (p. 473).

Plans Communion For 10,000

Nileman Boze, 25301 Five Mile road, Redford Township, has been named a vice chairman of the general local committee for the forthcoming International Convention of Christian

Norman Boze

Churches Detroit Assembly, which will be held in Cobo Hall, Oct. 2-7.

Mr. Boze, a member of Northwestern Christian Church, will be in charge of committees planning meals, meetings, tours and a mass communion service for the 10,000 persons expected to attend the assembly.

The International Convention of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) is made up of more than 8,000 congregations with almost 2,000,000 members in the United States and Canada and in sister churches around the world.

The Disciples of Christ are a Protestant body founded on the 19th century American frontier. President Lyndon B. Johnson is a member of the brotherhood.

The assembly will be preceded by a two-day meeting in Windsor, Ont., of the National Evangelistic Association of the Christian Churches. The theme for both meetings will be "God... Reconciling the World."

Teachers' Classes Held At Timothy Lutheran Church

Timothy Lutheran Church, Wayne Road in Livonia began a new class last Wednesday evening primarily to introduce the church to the new teachers.

Pastor Glenn Wegmeyer, however, stated it was not a class limited to those who want to teach, "any learner can benefit and we are welcome to attend." Wednesday night classes begin at 8 p.m.

Revival Meetings Nately In Plymouth

Revival meetings are being held at the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ, 993 Holbrook, Plymouth. Services will continue through Aug. 30 nightly except Friday beginning at 7:30 p.m. Special singing each night will be part of the program, plus prayers for the sick.

Bill and Bill Gray Radio Artists and family from Walnut Ridge, Arkansas, will be present.

115th Annual Michigan State Fair Offers Something for Everybody

There'll be something for everybody—and more of it than ever before—at the 115th Michigan State Fair, which opens Friday night, Aug. 28 and runs through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

State Fair officials expect, for the third straight year, more than a million visitors to the 10-day and 11-night extravaganza of entertainment, agricultural and livestock exhibits including great horse shows, displays of the homemaker's arts and youth and children's activities.

After the general admission of $1 to the Fairgrounds is paid (children 12 and under are free when accompanied by an adult), all but a few of the attractions of the 164-acre Fairgrounds will be free.

The State Fair's schedule of free entertainment is loaded:

—Programs at the Music Shell from morning through the evening will feature big-name stars such as Count Basie and his band, singer Nancy Wilson, the New Christy Minstrels, the Jimmy Wilkins Band, Hitville, USA, an array of top recording stars, and others.

—In the Coliseum, before the Horse Show events, Grand Ole Opry singing stars Faron Young and Buck Owens, and others will perform country and western music.

—At the Grandstand, three shows daily will feature the Castle's International Circus, with clowns, acrobats, aerialists, animals and other specialty acts.

—All over the State Fairgrounds there will be strolling bands offering music from many lands from noon to midnight: Hawaiian, gypsy, ragtime, Balkan, Polish, folk music, Jamaican calypso, square dance, Dixieland, and Greek-Armenian.

Of special appeal to teenagers will be the Teenage Fair, with shows and exhibits aimed at them. There'll be a "We Love You, Beatles" Day, Sunday, Sept. 6 with Beatlemania in the Music Shell.

Home arts exhibits, offering the finest efforts of Michigan's homemakers in needlework and other handicrafts, home baking and canning, will be in a new home this year, the $600,000 Home Arts Building, just completed, except for its auditorium.

The Home Arts Building will be an invitational art exhibit featuring some 50 oil and water color paintings by Michigan artists.

With the exhibits, the Home Arts Department has planned a continuous program of demonstrations of such fascinating arts as ice-carving, cake decorating, wig weaving, handweaving, gourmet cooking and china painting. There will be fashion shows and a cookie bake-off.

Every day will be a special day at the State Fair:

Friday, Aug. 28 — Grand Opening Day, with gates opening at 6 p.m. The Grand Opening Parade will start at 8 p.m. in downtown Detroit.

Saturday, Aug. 29 — Veterans Day and International Day.

Sunday, Aug. 30 — Religion Day, annual Sunrise Service at 8 a.m. with Dr. Robert Bruce Pierce, speaker.

Monday, Aug. 31 — Beauty Queens Day, with the state's loveliest girls competing for Miss Michigan State Fair.

Tuesday, Sept. 1 — Children's Day, with contests and events especially designed for the small fry.

Wednesday, Sept. 2 — Old-timers' Day, with a host of special events for senior citizens.

Thursday, Sept. 3 — Salute to Agriculture Day.

Friday, Sept. 4 — Teachers' Day, with special awards to outstanding educators.

Saturday, Sept. 5 — Governor's Day, with Gov. George Romney a special visitor.

Sunday, Sept. 6 — 250-mile race day, with the new car race in front of the Grandstand and Beatles Day at the Music Shell.

Monday, Sept. 7—Labor Day, with 150 mile stock car race; closing day for the State Fair.

DPW News And Notes In Plymouth

By SUPT. JOSEPH BIDA Plymouth D.P.W.

The past week found the Public Works Department busy picking up cut down Dutch Elm Diseased trees, also repairing broken water services that were broken by the contractor who is putting in water mains.

The Department has moved into its new offices at 975 Arthur Street.

One sanitary sewer was dug up at 799 Auburn and repaired. Sewers were flushed out and chemicals were put in them to help kill the roots. This was done on all dead end and flat sewers.

The city parks were mowed and cleaned up. Two humps were removed on S. Harvey and Church Streets and this was patched.

The Fall Festival banners were placed on poles in the downtown area. A total of 17,000,000 gallons of water was pumped from the well fields.

The department handled one burial at the Riverside Cemetery.

To all merchants using large container in Central Parking lot.

1. All boxes must be broken down.
2. More interest must be taken in regards to filling container.
3. When container is nearly full you should call the Department of Public Works Office at 453-1556 or Denski Brothers at 453-3099.
4. Each merchant will have a key. Container must be kept locked.
5. Object is to try and clean up Central Parking lot and eventually to get rid of refuse barrels.
6. Department of Public Works will be open for any and all suggestions to improve conditions.
