ALARM was expressed this week by Plymouth Police at the apparent rise in "glue sniffing" among teenagers and pre-teen youngsters. Using plastic model cement, the youths inhale fumes from the glue which produce an effect similar to intoxication. Above, Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson inspects a paper bag used on one of the glue sniffing parties at an abandoned building behind the Food Fair Market on Main St. At left, he holds two of the 15-cent tubes. Youngsters tear the bottoms off the tubes and milk the glue into a paper bag for inhalation. Littering the ground near the old building were glue tubes, bags and a sheet of loose leaf paper bearing a note written in a childish hand. Youngsters employ three main sites for the activity in Plymouth.

See Additional $10,000 Cost In City Reservoir Mix-up

Action on a change order in construction of Plymouth's water reservoir which could raise costs by as much as $10,000 was postponed, a bid for sale of Industrial Park property was accepted and authority to regulate firemen and firefighting equipment was given to management by Commissioners at their Monday evening meeting at the City Hall.

Commissioners postponed action on a change order involving an estimated seven to ten thousand dollars additional cost until the Commission, City Manager and Attorney can meet with a Johnson and Anderson, Inc. representative and the engineering firm's attorney.

A Johnson and Anderson representative, Rene Peters, told the Commission the firm had found a layer of sand under the clay where the tank is located. He told commissioners settlement could be from two to six or seven inches, but explained it is difficult to determine because the sand layer is beneath the water table.

His firm recommended halting construction on the water tank until Spring and bringing in fill material now, weighing as much as the tank filled with water would, and letting it settle the ground. Peters said the tank could still be completed by next July as specified in the contracts.

Commissioners postponed any action on the problem when Peters did not offer any solutions from the Pontiac engineering firm for the cost of the extra work involved.

wrong location. Test drillings were done some 500 feet away from the site of the two million gallon water tank.

A bid of $8,000 from Therman Corporation for approximately one and a half acres in the city's Industrial Park, located across the road from their present location at 300 Industrial Dr., was approved by Commissioners.

The company will use the land to implement its existing plant, Therman President Ben Milt said. An 8,000 square foot building will be constructed, beginning in early 1965 for metal manufacturing.

The plant will be disassociated from extreme noise and other unpleasantness sometimes found in manufacturing, Milt told Commissioners. The plant will bring from 25-50 new employees into the Plymouth Community, Milt estimated. The company is presently leasing a building in the city of Detroit.

Authority to transfer firemen and fire fighting equipment to properly cover Plymouth's two fire stations was given to management with unanimous approval of Commissioners at the meeting (Commissioner Arch Vallier was absent).

Public Safety Director Kenneth Fischer reported to the Commission that letters had been sent to residences and businesses on the north side of town asking for volunteers to cover that part of Plymouth. He said he expected to appoint several men within two weeks.

Discussion of fire protection arose after North Side residents complained of inadequate fire protection when all fulltime firemen were moved into quarters in the new city hall from the Spring St. Station. They claimed they could be cut off from all fire protection by a train blocking the railroad crossings.

A committee of commissioners then was appointed to study the problem and offer possible solutions.

IN MAKING the motion authorizing management to take necessary steps, Commissioner George Lawton explained he was placing the right to assign fire protection back in the hands of management.

Amendments to two ordinances were passed at second and third readings by Commissioners and will become effective Oct. 13. One permits off-street parking in front yards in M-2, general industrial districts and the other rezones lot 816 on Hamilton St., adjacent to West Trail Nursing Home from R-2, two family residential to P-1, professional residential.

A public hearing concerning changing the name of Dodge St. between S. Main and S. Union St. to Church St. was set for Monday, Nov. 2 at 8 p.m.

A special meeting was set by Commissioners for Wednesday or Thursday night of this week to consider possible alternatives or solutions to lining up Dodge St. with Church St. (across Main St. from City Hall) before construction of Dodge is completed. City Manager Albert Glassford was authorized to speak with federal authorities who are a part of the project and also Vilcan-Leman and Associates, Inc., planning consultants concerning the situation.

In other action Commissioners:

(1) Approved a resolution vacating an alley and parts of Lena and Goldsmith Streets;

(2) Authorized City Attorney Draugelis to start condemnation proceedings for the Arlen house, located at 218 Hamilton St. at the corner of Rowe;

(3) Granted Passage-Gayde Post 391 American Legion, and its auxiliary permission to distribute "I Pledge to Vote" buttons on Plymouth Streets, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 30-31;

(4) Authorized City Manager to prepare a report of specifications and costs for properly paving and curbing Hartsough and Roosevelt Streets to Symar subdivision;

(5) Approved a joint meeting with the Planning Commission and Vilcan-Leman Associates, Inc. Oct. 14 to consider the "Public Improvement Study," the fifth report of the consultants under the "701" program;

(6) Appointed Commissioner Arch Vallier as the Commission's representative at Northville Township public hearing considering an application for a private airplane landing field on the north side of Six Mile Rd.; and

(7) Authorized transfer of $53,000 from Water Improvement fund to construction fund because the city has to show where the money for bonding is before it receives other aid.

Pick Plymouthites For G.O.P. Group

Republican Campaign Committee members were named in The Plymouth Community this week as incumbent Congressman George Meader announced the appointment of officers and members of the group for his campaign.

Meader is seeking re-election in November. He designated more than 300 members for the Second Congressional District which includes Lenawee, Livingston, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties and Plymouth and Northville Townships and the City of Plymouth in Wayne County.

Named co-chairmen of the effort in The Plymouth Community were George J. Scherman of 7095 N. Territorial Rd., and Mrs. Roy L. Jacobus of 1336 Elm St. Other Plymouthites named to the group are:

Mrs. Dorothy Arnold of 1311 Williams, Mrs. Mabel Bacon of 280 S. Main St., Guy Bunyea of 50495 Powell Rd., Paul Dwyer of 14805 Haggerty Hwy., Mrs. Sterling Eaton of 46200 N. Territorial Rd., Mrs. Melvin F. Fueling of 11767 Priscilla Ln., H. E. Hickerson of 9595 Gold Arbor, A. D. Johanson of 11750 Turkey Run and Richard Jones of 345 Blunk St. Other appointees include:

Appoint Sam Hudson To Schoolcraft Board

A Plymouth man was appointed this week to the Board of Trustees of the Schoolcraft Community College, becoming the third Plymouthite to serve with the group.

Sam Hudson, director of advertising and public relations at Evans Products Company's Plymouth plant since 1952, will serve on the college board.

He joins two other Plymouth residents, Harold E. Fischer of 40875 Plymouth Road, and Mrs. John Moehle of 1279 Ann Arbor Trail. Fischer is chairman of the board and Mrs. Moehle is a delegate at large.

Hudson was named to fill out the unexpired term of Charles Kirkpatrick who reportedly moved out of the area. He will finish the remainder of Kirkpatrick's second year.

IN JUNE, Hudson said, he will have to stand for election for the remaining four years of the term. He will serve as a delegate at large.

Judge Promises Stiffer Sentences for Juveniles

Rapping parental neglect in many juvenile cases, Plymouth Municipal Judge Harry N. Deyo this past week pointed out that recently adopted laws, in many cases hold parents responsible for the acts of their children.

The judge promised stiffer sentences in Municipal Court for repeated violators. Judge Deyo said his action follows an apparent increase in juvenile and teen-age violations here.

"Some of the offenses," he said, "include brawls and fights at drive-ins, sometimes resulting in serious injury." Charges in such cases, he said may range from assault and battery and disorderly conduct to, possibly, murder.

"Our young people are repeatedly guilty of a riotous traffic offenses such as speeding, reckless driving, driving without a license and dragging upon public highways," he claimed.

"All of these offenses are dangerous to themselves, their passengers and the general public," the judge said.

CASES OF check passing by minors and numerous agency and breaking and entry charges have come before the Municipal Court, he said, in offenses which may result in State Prison terms.

"Too many cases of possession of intoxicating liquor by minors in an automobile have to be dealt with," he noted. "In many of these, he said, forged birth certificates and other credentials are presented to the retailer.

Lashing out at instances of destruction of property and physical injury, the judge pointed out that State Law provides that governments,

Meeting Cancelled

Word was received today that Congressman George Meader of Ann Arbor will be unable to appear at a meeting of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity, originally scheduled for Thursday evening.

A spokesman from Meader's office said the Congressman has been hospitalized for the past few weeks and will be unable to make the appearance. Previous indications were that the legislator would be released in time for the meeting, he said.

Meader was scheduled to voice his opinion along with Democratic candidate Weston E. Vivian, also of Ann Arbor, on the civil rights issue.

The program was cancelled.

ALL-TIME HIGH: Circulation Rises, New Columns Begin in Mail

A housewife with a somewhat less than orthodox view of life and a Plymouth Peace Corps member in Sierra Leone, W. Africa, will both begin writing personal comment columns for The Plymouth Mail, one of which starts this week.

The two features are part of a readership content improvement program underway at the Plymouth newspaper which has seen its circulation sweep upward by more than 350 new subscribers in the past two months.

An intensive drive saw The Mail increase its subscribers by 145 during the month of August and by 218 in September, a total of 363. The rise takes local readership of the newspaper to a new all-time high.

Beginning this week, "Town Cryer," a column of personal opinion and comment written by Jackie Town, makes its appearance on the Woman's Page.

Mrs. Town, a 27-year-old housewife, was born and raised 12 miles outside the City of Plymouth on a farm at the corner of N. Territorial and Pontiac Roads. She has lived in Plymouth for four and a half years.

HER COMMENTS on society in general and Plymouth in particular will appear each week. Mrs. Town lives with her husband, Howard, and two children, Webb, 14, and Laura, 3, in Plymouth.

Next week, "Africa and Me," written by Plymouth Peace Corpsman Lon R. Dickerson will make its debut.

Written from Sierra Leone, W. Africa, where Dickerson will serve for the next two years, "Africa and Me" will take an intensive look at what used to be known as the dark continent.

A 1960 graduate of Plymouth High School, Dickerson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon E. Dickerson of 620 Simpson St. The 22-year-old Peace Corps member received his B.A. degree from Albion College this year with majors in political science and history.

He will be part of a project that will work toward strengthening the library system on a national level in Sierra Leone. Dickerson worked at the Plymouth Library for two years while he was in high school and for four summers thereafter.

HARMLESS OR DANGEROUS?

Glue Sniffing Worries Local Police Officials

Are some Plymouth teens and pre-teens caught up in a harmless fad or a dangerous practice which could lead to serious physical damage or irrational acts resulting in arrest and possible conviction on a criminal charge?

That's what parents could well afford to ask themselves as Plymouth Police expressed concern this week about a flurry of glue sniffing that seems to be happening throughout the area.

Glue sniffing is simply inhaling the fumes from a tube of plastic model cement for the intoxication-like effect they have. Continued breathing of the fumes leads first to feelings of drunkenness and, eventually, to unconsciousness.

Police have been plagued with complaints of youthful glue sniffers acting irrationally and, from at least one of the three favored locations for the activity, complaints of indecent exposure.

Last week, a Plymouth Mail staffer accompanied Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson on a tour of the sites where glue sniffing seems to be taking place most frequently.

AT ONE, in a ramshackle, abandoned frame building located behind the Food Fair Market on Main St., the ground was littered with paper bags used to hold the glue, empty cement tubes and other debris. Fluttering in the mid-day breeze was a note, written on loose-leaf paper in a childish hand.

Inside the building, the walls were covered with names, initials and pungent, four-letter Anglo-Saxonisms. The floor was littered with filth and excrement.

"The kids rip the bottoms off the glue tubes and milk the contents into the paper bags," Johnson explained. The bags are carefully folded about half-way down from the top so they will fit closely to the face without tearing.

"Most of the youngsters we catch," Johnson said, "are doing poorly in school. Many of them come from homes where the parents don't care about them."

From the first site, Johnson drove to a wooded area in Hines Park, adjacent to the Starkweather School grounds. A path led into the site from a back yard on York Street. Little clearings in the underbrush, back in the woods, were — like the first location — filled with bags and glue tubes. An occasional broken beer bottle accompanied them.

It was at this site, Johnson said, that police had complaints of youths exposing themselves to women in the park. The third location is in a grassy, woody area behind the Christian Science Church in Plymouth.

Johnson contended that only a small minority of youngsters was involved in the glue sniffing. He has contacted local retail outlets for the cement and requested that it not be sold, except in combination with model kits. Some Plymouth stores keep the glue under lock and key in glass cases.

In a Nutshell . . .

- ★ Senior conferences at P.H.S. will be held from Oct. 1 to Nov. 25. Parents are invited to attend and hear discussion of future plans, credits for graduation, review of test scores, discussion of other tests for scholarships, college entrance and other plans. Armed services opportunities career information, technical and business schools will also be covered.
- ★ Construction is about 25 per cent complete on the City of Detroit Board of Water Commissioners' Newburg Pumping Station at 36363 W. Eight Mile Rd., Livonia. The $431,000 facility will help maintain water pressure to Plymouth Township and other area communities.
- ★ Tickets are now on sale for the Democratic Party's Second Congressional District Dinner to be held Saturday, Oct. 3 at the Michigan Union in Ann Arbor. Proceeds will be used to finance the campaign of Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor, Democratic candidate for U.S. Congress from the Second District. Local ticket sales are being handled by Thomas Healy and Orville Tungate.
- ★ A delegation of seven Plymouth Kiwanis Club members will attend the 1964 Michigan District Convention in Lansing, Sept. 27-29. Attending will be President Dr. Gerald Fitch, Marvin Terry, Bill Lyons, John Bloxson, Wendell Miller, Joseph Bida and Stewart Oldford.
- ★ Wallace Green, Republican candidate for State Representative in the 35th District, opened the Republican County Convention held at Junior High West in Plymouth last week. Green pointed out if he lost in November, Plymouth would have a Garden City Representative concerned with problems extremely dissimilar to Plymouth's.

Secretary

Commissioner Russell Ast was named secretary of the Plymouth Township Planning Commission at the group's regular monthly meeting held last Wednesday. Ash replaces former Secretary Arthur Haeske who resigned from the commission because he was moving from the township. Maurice M. Breen, an attorney and Lake Pointe Subdivision resident, replaced Haeske on the commission.

Plymouth Miss Off to Ethiopia

Miss Catherine H. Catlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Catlett III of 1096 Roosevelt, is one of 270 Peace Corps Volunteers who left for Ethiopia on September 17.

They will join over 130 Volunteer secondary and university education teachers, health workers and lawyers already at work in the country. This group of Volunteers will teach in secondary schools.

The assignment of Peace Corpsmen to Ethiopia over the past three years has meant a 35 per cent increase in the number of secondary school teachers in the country and a similar increase in the number of children taught. Before the Volunteers arrived only one child in eight was enrolled in school. The subjects these Americans teach include English language, math, science, geography, history, teacher training, physical education, home economics, business subjects, and industrial arts.

The departing Volunteers will join almost 10,000 other Americans now working for the Peace Corps in 46 African, Asian and Latin American nations. Requests for additional Volunteers are received daily from these countries. More than 5,000 Volunteers were trained this summer and fall.

Applicants interested in late fall or subsequent training programs should submit their Questionnaires now (available at your local Post Office) and take the Peace Corps Placement Test, given the second Saturday of each month wherever Federal service exams are given.

A NEW LOOK — Pontiac's Tempest Custom series is represented here by a two-door hardtop coupe, introduced for the first time this year. Also in the Custom lineup is a four-door sedan, a two-door sports coupe, a convertible and a station wagon. The 1965 Tempest is three inches longer and has all new vertical headlamps, sleek wrap-around rear tail lamps and stylish ornamentation and identification. A six cylinder engine is standard with a 326 cubic inch V-8 offered as an option. There are now twelve models in the Tempest, Tempest Custom and LeMans series plus the sporty GTO.

Fire Damages Harvey Street Building Sept. 19

A garage and apartment at 634 S. Harvey St. was damaged extensively when a fire broke out there in the early morning hours of Sept. 19, according to Plymouth Fire Department Assistant Chief George Schoenemann.

Four trucks with 19 men answered the alarm at 2:58 a.m. Sept. 19. A car parked in the garage was saved when firemen pulled it from the building.

Resident of the apartment Wallace Leslie said he woke up and saw fire all around him. He tried to fight the fire himself before calling the department, he said.

The entire building was aflame when firemen arrived, Schoenemann said. They had the fire under control in five minutes and spent between one and a half and two hours at the scene. Owner of the building is Ora Sinn.

The fire was attributed to careless smoking from a pipe, according to Schoenemann.

Glue Sniffing

CONCERNING effects of the inhalation, one Plymouth housewife and mother said it renders youngsters completely irrational.

"They're not afraid of man or beast," she commented.

Repeated exposure to the fumes, according to medical authorities, can cause kidney damage. One doctor told of seeing a young girl who had been inhaling glue fumes.

"You couldn't tell what was wrong with her," he said.

Johnson said that no law governs the sale of model cement to juveniles. He agreed that it seems foolish to restrict sale of the product to a majority to protect a relatively small minority.

"I only hope," he commented, "that parents will read this and keep a closer eye on what their children are doing." Most juvenile violations, he pointed out, occur in families where the parents neither know or care what their offspring are up to.

Today is '65 Pontiac Day.

1965: The year of the Quick Wide-Tracks

What do we mean by "quick"? Just this: A new-all-over Pontiac offering a new Turbo Hydra-Matic — the silkiest, swiftest-shifting automatic transmission you ever touched a toe to; eager new Trophy V-8 power; new steering agility; a surer-footed Wide-Track ride. And a new Pontiac Tempest that's become even more of a Pontiac with new style, new length and Pontiac-quick reflexes to match. You never knew cars could be so beautiful, and so keenly alert to your touch. This is your year to drive a Wide-Track-quick!

'65 Pontiac Pontiac How does the success car outdo itself for 1965? Beautifully, just beautifully. But this Pontiac has no intention of getting by on looks alone, though it could. So there's new quickness, Pontiac style. A new nimbleness. New fuel savings. A smooth, easy new ride. Drive a '65 Pontiac and see how one success leads to another.

'65 Pontiac Tempest Tempest's even more of a Pontiac now, and what more could a car be than that! The '65 Tempest looks like a Pontiac, as you can see. Rides like a Pontiac on Wide-Track. Goes like a Pontiac, too: a 140-hp six is standard. Or you can get a quick V-8, up to 285 hp. You'll wonder how we can keep the price so low on so much car.

Chrysler Proposes Twp. Dealer Location

A new automobile dealership may be in store for Ann Arbor Road, based on what the Plymouth Township Planning Commission was told at its meeting held in the Township Hall last Wednesday evening.

Chrysler Corporation representatives, together with Plymouth realtor James W. Taylor, presented plans for a 183 by 82 foot Plymouth, Chrysler and Imperial dealership proposed for the southwest corner of Lilley and Ann Arbor Roads.

The building, of block construction with a glass front, would include sales and service facilities for Chrysler Corporation vehicles.

Included in the plans is an eight-foot green belt at the rear of the property and asphalt paving around it. Commissioners unanimously approved the proposal, noting that it met all conditions, and ordered Township Clerk John D. McEwen to notify Chrysler Corporation of the action immediately.

The auto firm has taken an option on the property involved.

SET FOR action at a special meeting to be held tomorrow evening (Wednesday) was final disposition on three items on last week's agenda.

They include a request from the Ten Mile Lakes Building Co. to modify its initial application for re-zoning, the request of builder-developer Fred Greenspan to proceed with construction of additional buildings at his Lake Pointe Village Apartment development on Wilcox Road, and a report on Storm Sewer progress at the site of Arbor Village No. Four, a subdivision to be built at the southeast corner of Ann Arbor and Haggerty Roads.

Decisions on the three proposals were delayed at last week's meeting.

In other action, commissioners granted preliminary approval to Cambridge Village Subdivision located between Ann Arbor Road and Joy Road, west of the east Township boundary.

Preliminary approval was also given to Marmion Hills Subdivision on the east side of Beck Road about 1,000 feet north of N. Territorial Rd.

The eight lot subdivision will be built on property owned by Township Attorney Earl Demel. Commissioners Tivador Balogh cast a negative vote on the proposal after an adjoining property owner pointed out that a dispute on land ownership was involved.

Paul Emerick of 47060 N. Territorial Road said there was a discrepancy in the boundary description of the property. He claimed ownership of a portion of the land upon which the subdivision is to be built.

Commissioners agreed that they had no jurisdiction in the boundary dispute, but Balogh said he felt the matter should be resolved before approval was granted.

The request of Robert D. Willoughby to rezone 13.47 acres of land in the southeast quarter of Section 19 from agricultural to R-3, trailer court was accepted for further study. Indications are that the Plymouth Community School District, which owns land adjoining the site, will oppose the move.

APPROVAL was recommended to the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees in the Forshree Subdivision application, submitted by Avis Goodale.

Action on Gould Development Company's proposed subdivision, to be located on the south side of N. Territorial Road west of Dunn Court, was tabled until a plat is received.

Police Youth Club Rifle Classes To Start Oct. 5

Registration for the new season of classes in rifle marksmanship and firearms safety will be held at the Youth Club building, corner of Union and Dodge Streets on Monday evening, Sept. 28.

Classes will start on Monday, Oct. 5 at 6:30 p.m. Boys and girls, at least 12-years-old may join these classes. A registration fee of $1.75 is charged and covers all course materials and ammunition. Rifles are furnished.

Classes are operated on the procedures recommended by the National Rifle Association and by the Michigan Conservation Department.

Youngsters who satisfactorily complete the course of seven weeks are awarded a certificate by the NRA and a Hunters Safety Certificate by the Michigan Department.

All boys and girls who have completed past courses are welcome to attend open shooting sessions on Tuesday evenings starting at 6:30 p.m. Shooting is supervised by qualified instructors and rifle and ammunition are available at the range. Ammunition is sold at cost to club members.

Members who are interested may fire for National Rifle Association qualifications awards and for places on the Youth Club rifle teams. These teams take part in an extensive competitive program during the season. Plymouth Youth Club teams have placed in junior rifle competition for several years at local, state and national levels.

Seek Parental Help in Bike Complaints

Parental cooperation in enforcing the existing city ordinance regulating the use of bicycles is being requested by Department of Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher in the wake of a rising number of complaints.

Violations run from riding and parking bicycles on sidewalks in business and retail districts and riding on streets at night without proper lights to pulling another youngster riding a surfboard behind a bike. Fisher explained a surfboard for bicycling is a board with a half a roller skate attached at either end, and he noted this is especially dangerous for both youngsters.

About ten days ago the city passed out copies of the ordinance governing bicycle regulations to approximately 200 youngsters in downtown Plymouth to remind them of regulations.

It would take a full-time man to enforce the regulations in the business district or eight to ten hours each day. Fisher said explaining why the department needs parents' cooperation.

Some of the regulations of the bicycle ordinance include:

- (1) No bicycle shall be used to carry more persons than one time than the number for which it was designed and equipped and firmly attached seat(s) shall be provided for the rider(s).
  - (2) Persons riding upon a sidewalk shall not ride more than two abreast.
  - (3) Persons riding bicycles shall have both hands free to keep on handle bars.
  - (4) Bicycles must be equipped with bell or other device giving a signal audible for a distance of at least 100 feet.
  - (5) Riding bicycles upon public sidewalks in business or retail store districts of the city is unlawful.
- Fisher noted that bicycles have the right-of-way on streets.

Plymouth High Notes

By Sharon Olin

An enrollment of 1,302 students attended the first day of school. The sophomores recorded the largest class with 443 members, while the seniors had 425 and the juniors 420. Also included is special education classes and post graduates.

Several new classes have been added to the curriculum this year, including two new reading classes, one in speed reading and the other in reading improvement, related physiology, comparative government, arts and crafts, food service, engineering, secretarial procedures, and transportation classes.

A new shop wing will be started sometime during the school year and is expected to be finished in Sept. 1965.

Sue Niemi '65 and Chuck Catelet '66 are co-chairmen for this year's Homecoming to be held Oct. 16 and 17. John Hannula '65, Mayor, is making plans to have the bon fire after the parade instead of before the parade as in previous years. Homecoming, however, will generally be the same.

Senior pictures will be taken the week of Sept. 28 - Oct. 2, and Oct. 5 through Oct. 8 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. by George Kahler, photographer. All seniors wanting pictures in the yearbook must have the picture taken by the school photographer. These pictures, however, do not have to be purchased, as pictures may be taken at other studios.

Applications for the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Test were accepted Sept. 18. The PSAT will be given Saturday, Oct. 24. Application deadline for the College Board is Nov. 7 and the board will be given Dec. 5.

College night this semester for seniors and parents will be held on Thursday, Oct. 22, at Garden City.

The guidance office is now giving out applications for college-bound students who wish to apply early in the year. Scholarship information is also available.

The Plymouth High 1964-65 Varsity cheerleaders were among the thousands of cheerleaders to attend Camps All-American in Howell, this summer. The squad consists of Kathy Smith '65, Carol Otwell '65, Kathy McIntyre '65, Donna Cook '66, Pam McAllister '66 and Ruth Fetner '66. This year's exchange student is Gunnilla (Gilla) Rynning from Avesta, Sweden and is staying with Terry Feeckhart '65.

The annual staff this year is headed by Linda Baughman '65, with Chris Aronson '65 as business manager and typist, under the direction of Larry Ordowski. "Creativity" is the most important product of this year's Plythean.

Last spring, the new staff of the Plymouth High News-paper, PILGRIM PRINTS, was chosen. They read as follows: Editor-in-chief, Sharon Olin; associate editor, Janice Mattison; first page editor, Grace Thompson; third page editor, Janet Blunk; and sports staff, Eileen Scheppele, Bill Kane, and Linda Ross. Other seniors on the staff are Carol Otwell, business manager; and Kathy McIntyre, exchange editor. There will be fourteen issues of PILGRIM PRINTS published this year with the help of Miss Elizabeth McDonald, paper adviser.

The 1965 Ford is the most-changed in the 15-year history of Ford Division. The traditional, round Ford taillight is replaced by a modernistic hexagonal shape in keeping with the crisp, elegant look of the new Ford. Luxury styling is combined with a luxury car ride described as so smooth and so quiet the heater and air conditioner fans had to be moved into the engine compartment because their low-toned whirr was distracting. A luxurious new Ford Galaxie 500 LTD series (above) features an interior of quality and style previously obtainable only in higher-priced cars. Five separate roof lines are offered with interior and exterior trim features to give greater distinctiveness to each of the 17 models than ever before.

The complete line of 1965 Fords — two- and four-door hardtops, sedans, convertibles and station wagons — will be introduced in Ford dealer showrooms on Friday, September 25.

Dawn Patrol Set For Sept. 26-27 At Mettetal

The fourth Annual EAA Dawn Patrol will be held Sept. 26 and 27 at Mettetal Airport and will feature an air show and airplane and helicopter rides.

The air show including high and low altitude precision aerobatics, parachute exhibitions, comedy flying and rope ladder stunts, will be presented by Bill Barber and Company. Home-built and antique aircraft will be on display.

On Sunday Plymouth Grange No. 389 will serve breakfast. Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12 years-old. Light lunches and soft drinks will be served on both Saturday and Sunday.

Introducing Comet 1965:

livelier, more beautiful sequel to the World's Durability Champion

We couldn't make Comet much tougher, so we made it more beautiful. Made the outside sleeker, sportier — from every angle. Made the interiors more luxurious. Made every engine bigger, from the thrifty 200 cu.-in. Comet "6" up through the hefty new 289 cu.-in. Cyclone Super V-8 (225 hp). Made the ride even smoother, more solid and silent.

The one thing not new in this racy '65 sequel is the stamina that made Comet the World's 100,000-Mile Durability Champion. And you wouldn't want that to change, would you? It didn't.

A 17-year-old youth, Wallace Jones, of 4109 Greenbrook Ln., was taken to University of Michigan Hospital on Sept. 20 after he was injured playing football. Jones was hit by a knee in the back of the neck Sunday about 3:40 p.m. while playing football in back of Farrand School. When he couldn't move or talk well he was taken to the hospital, after friends contacted the Plymouth Township Fire Department.

Wallace Green Speaks to People At Hootenany

Speaking at a hootenany in Edward Hines Park, Sept. 18, sponsored by the Green Lanning Committee, Wallace Green, Republican candidate for State Representative from the 36th District said he would like to keep Michigan moving on the course Gov. Romney has set.

He told the people attending his political philosophy was to meet the people's needs at the State level and aid the Romney administration was taking the State in his direction. Green noted that the Republican legislature under Romney's leadership had appropriated $9,000,000 more to mental health and $21,000,000 more to higher education than the previous legislature.

Green said home-rule would give the local units of government the tools to provide for local needs. He suggested that Republicans begin talking less about State Rights and more about State responsibilities.

To Head Program

Lee E. Feldkamp, M.D., of Linden St., has been elected to serve as chairman for an assembly program at the 1964 Michigan State Medical Society Annual Scientific Session in Detroit, Sept. 23-25. More than 3,000 Michigan doctors will participate in the scientific program of postgraduate education.

Michigan is one of the five states in the union which has an Educational Research Organization functioning at the state level.

PERCUSSION SECTION of Plymouth High School's Band practices for their appearance with the band in a show following the first University of Michigan football game Saturday, Sept. 26 in Ann Arbor. The band will be one of 185 Michigan High School bands to participate in Band Day at Ann Arbor for Michigan's halftime show. In their special performance following the U-M and Air Force game the Plymouth High band will dedicate one number to Dyna-Voice Corporation, of Plymouth, and will form an old-fashioned player piano. "Lullaby of Broadway" and "Tropical Heat Wave" are two other selections to be played by the band.

VFW Color Guard Loses $15.80 on Pageant of Drums

The color of the V. F. W. State Champion Color Guard is "red," to the tune of $15.60 that is.

The committee of 18, from the V.F.W., who worked to promote a family type of entertainment "Pageant of Drums," to the people of Plymouth attained their goal.

After all the tickets and money were counted, Hal Young reported a $15.60 loss. Total receipts this year were $1,119.00 while expenses for units, insurance, school, etc. was $1,134.60.

Last year's Pageant realized a profit of $400.00. Hal Young suggests this loss might be averted in future years if the program could be scheduled in the afternoon. Being an entertaining event it would not conflict with the food sales of other service groups.

Rev. Davies to Help Consecrate Michigan Bishop

The rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, S. Shelton Rd., the Rev. Canon David T. Davies, will take part in the consecration of the 12th Bishop for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan on Tuesday, Sept. 29 in Detroit.

As president of the standing committee of the Michigan Diocese, Rev. Davies will be called upon to read the contents of the majority of the standing committees of all dioceses in the United States.

The service elevating the Rev. C. Kilmer Myers, D.D. of Chicago, will be held in the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Detroit. The Rev. Myers will replace the Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, D.D., who has been elected to be Bishop of the Diocese of Pennsylvania.

The University of Detroit, with annual enrollment in excess of 14,000, is the world's largest Catholic university.

ANTIQUE AUTO enthusiast Robert Erdelyi, won a first place blue ribbon award at the Old Car Festival, held at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village in Dearborn Sept. 12-13. Erdelyi received the award for his 1921 Ford Sedan, which was judged to be in excellent general condition. He is shown receiving the ribbon from Greenfield Village model Carol Garrison.

Detail Successes, Seek New Members for YMCA

As part of an intensive membership drive, Plymouth YMCA officials last week detailed the success of "Operation Exposure," a new and highly successful experiment with local youth.

The program took more than 50 Junior High School boys from Plymouth during steaming hot summer days to the cool, refreshing waters of the Huron and Au-Sable Rivers.

The canoeing and camping trips included in the program were a new experience to the group of youngsters. Before beginning the first outing, a practice and instruction session was held by "Y" supervisor Tom Workman and John M. (Mike) Hoben in the High School swimming pool.

Older youths were put to work, clearing timber from a plot of land in northern Michigan, during two weeks in August. The program began with 20 youngsters and finished with 52.

INCLUDED in the activities they were offered were hikes, picnics, sailing trips, overnight campouts, archery and riflery lessons, team games and a bowling program sponsored by the U.S. Bowling Institute and Plymouth Bowl.

Since its beginning, "Y" board President Kenneth W. Leader noted, the YMCA has been helping youth.

"The Young Men's Christian Association is proud to reaffirm its allegiance and devotion to the American way of life," he said.

Leader cited tribute paid to the "Y" by astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr.

Locally, the Hi-Y Club supported Governor Romney's campaign in recognition of the Fourth of July. Individuals and groups were contacted and urged to observe the holiday by ringing bells at 1 p.m.

Plymouth Hi-Yers backed up the program with an outstanding float in the July 4th parade here.

A national father and son, home-centered program revolves around the Y-Indian Guides, Leader said. Fathers and sons participate together as tribe members.

Its main purpose is to multiply the number of things that fathers and sons can do together when boys need a masculine influence in the growing-up process.

UNDER the youth employment program alone, Leader said, the "Y" has enrolled over 1,100 applicants and produced an estimated income of $1 million to the Plymouth Community.

Working with youth through the program, the YMCA — together with Plymouth Schools — was unable to set up a program in which young people could return to school and earn a high school diploma. More than 100 have participated and last June two girls and a boy were graduated from high school because of it.

"With the large influx of new families into our city and township," Leader said, "the Board of Directors is aware that the present program must be expanded to serve YMCA-age boys and girls."

He urged generous subscriptions to the YMCA's $14,020 youth-service program for the 1964-65 year. Contributions tax deductible.

Checks may be made payable to the Plymouth Community YMCA, Plymouth. Tax deductible memberships include civic, $100 and sustaining, $25-$100.

Participating memberships are $10 per family or $5 for an individual.

Legion Resumes Program Series

Resumption of "Why are we?" series meetings will begin Saturday, Sept. 26 when Passage-Gayde Post 391, American Legion hosts the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth at a dinner meeting to be held at the post home on Sheldon Rd.

The program was inaugurated last year so service, civic, fraternal and religious groups within the community could present their aims, purposes and goals and their involvement in community affairs.

Headlining the Saturday program will be Walter C. Gemperline of Plymouth, Lt. Governor of Division Six, Michigan District of Kiwanis International.

Gemperline is immediate past president of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club. He is manager of the Detroit manufacturing, warehousing and sales branch of the Wheeling Corrugated Company, a subsidiary of the Wheeling Steel Corporation of Wheeling, W. Va.

Gemperline and his wife, Dorothy, have been residents of Plymouth Township on N. Territorial Rd. since 1954.

SPEAKING on behalf of the American Legion will be Giles A. Reeve of Ecorse, State Commander, 1957-58. Reeve has served his post, Great Lakes Steel 272, in many offices and district chairmanships.

He has also served as committeeman of the 16th District and is a member of Wayne County Voiture No. 102 of the 40 et 8. Reeve is employed at Great Lakes Steel Corporation as administrative head of

Walter C. Gemperline

Currently serving his second term as a councilman, Reeve and his wife, Virginia, live in the City of Ecorse.

Among other guests expected are newly-elected State Commander Duane Brigstock of Battle Creek, Neil Bertram, state publicity director and others.

Guest organizations for programs during the coming year include Junior High East and West P.T.S.A. representatives, the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education in October, and the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce in November.

Post Commander Gilbert Williams extended an invitation to anyone interested in the program to attend at 7:30 p.m.

Buick '65 Buick

We changed the Buick a lot this year. And you may never be the same again yourself.

We doubt you'll want to be the same. Not once you set eyes on our new Buicks.

On the Buick Special and the Skylark. The LeSabre, Electra 225, Riviera.

And on the sleek, modified fastback of the wild, wilder, Wildcat in the picture.

True, there's a new high-style touch. But that's hardly all. Engineering still has the emphasis. It's a Buick tradition. So are the extras

Buick spends a little extra on. Like finned brake drums that do a little better.

And smoother drivelines. A tuned suspension to smooth ribcage roads.

Now add Buick's Super Turbine transmissions—and you have an idea of what Buick owners have always liked about Buick. We think you'll feel the same.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick

To Dedicate New Assembly of God Building Sept. 27

The Plymouth Assembly of God, 42021 E. Ann Arbor Tr., will be dedicated in services Sunday, Sept. 27 at 3 p.m.

Michigan District Superintendent of the Assemblies of God the Rev. Everett D. Cooley will be the dedication speaker. The church's minister is the Rev. John Walaskay.

The church started as a mission extension from Berea Tabernacle in Detroit in 1931. Services were held in a tent on S. Fain St. Then in 1933, the group moved into the building next to the Grange Hall on Union St.

In 1960 the church bought the property at the corner of Ann Arbor Tr. and General Dr. and moved into a new building in late 1963.

Sunday worship service is held at 11 a.m., followed by an evangelistic meeting at 7 p.m. Sunday school classes meet at 9:45 a.m.

The books that help you most, are those which make you think the most.

The Ford Motor Company introduces an entirely new kind of Mercury for 1965... now in the Lincoln Continental tradition

We predict that many people seeing a 1965 Mercury for the first time will wonder: "What car is that?" Mercury is that new. The look is new. Completely. Low, sleek, beautifully proportioned. The ride is new. It's smoother, solider, quieter. Inside, a wide selection of options for personal customizing—luxury features once reserved for the most expensive cars. The idea behind all this newness is to bring you the most luxurious car in its field...a Mercury that reflects the Lincoln Continental tradition. See how well the idea works—at your Mercury dealer's. No medium-price entry has ever come so close in luxury to the high-price class.

Town Cryer

Appalled by Lack Of Interest Here

By Jacquie Town

I just put down the telephone, after inquiring at our new City Hall and the Administration offices of the Board of Education, about last year's election returns. I am appalled at the lack of public interest in such a vital issue as who shall sit on our school board.

I understand there are approximately 10,000 eligible voters in the Plymouth School District, and the total who voted at last June's election was a surprising 895.

Shocked?? Needless to say, so was I. When you consider how important this election is in terms of our children's education, it makes you wonder why people are so passive.

In April, 1963, less than half of the registered voters in the city turned out to vote in the general City Commission election.

With national elections just around the corner, now is a good time to give a little thought to our own local government and how vital it is to have the right to vote. If we fail so miserably in local elections, we certainly cannot complain about the muddled affairs of State and National Government.

All these men began somewhere; usually in local politics such as our own. If we are dissatisfied with their performance in their present capacity, stop and think that perhaps it wasn't the votes they received, but the votes that were not cast, that may have put them in office.

Another election is due in June, 1965, which sounds quite remote at the moment, but I'm hoping everyone will give it a good deal of thought between now and then, and learn about the candidates and what they have done in the past, as well as what they promise to do in the future.

This is your community, and you, through the power of the voting machine, decide what becomes of it.

I personally, must admit to being a little startled at the public's lethargic attitude when it comes time to get out and vote. Maybe what Plymouth needs is the woman's touch.

How about a League of Women Voters for our community? I've recently written to the Detroit Chapter for information regarding organizing one, but it takes more than one candle to light City Hall. Anyone interested can contact me personally at GL 3-2909, or through The Plymouth Mail. After all, Margaret Chase Smith did it, so can we, in our small way.

Had a very interesting caller from the National Bank of Detroit. A very neat, personable young woman called to ask if the lady of the house needed any help with her banking problems. She left a folder containing information on every phase of banking, and was willing to answer any questions regarding services they perform.

Nice gesture on their part. It's very pleasant to live in a community where the business people are interested in their customers. My only problem with my personal checking account is there never seems to be enough money in it.

Only my husband can solve that one.

New Books at Dunning-Hough

The following is a list of new books at Dunning-Hough Library, according to Mrs. Warren Worth, librarian.

"Time and a Ticket" by Peter Benchley. A young Harvard graduate describes his trip around the world with freshness and humor.

"Tomorrow's Hidden Season" by George Byram is a novel about the illegitimate son of a beautiful Mexican woman, and his struggles to attain manhood and realize his dream of training race horses.

"Children and Others" by James Gould Cozzens is a selection of 17 of the short stories of this well known author.

"Undine" by Phyllis Young is a Gothic suspense novel of a second wife who is threatened by the spirit of the first.

"The Letters of Robert Frost" to Louis Untermeyer begin in 1915 and cover the span of years until the poet's death.

"Horses of Today" by Margaret Self discusses the many breeds popular today, as well as the individual horse the author has ridden and worked with.

AT THE PLYMOUTH STATE Home and Training School Auxiliary recruitment coffee service awards were presented by Community Relations Director William Boyd to volunteers with a year or more of service. Pictured, left to right, receiving awards from Boyd are: Auxiliary Moderator Mrs. John McIlhargie, of Jener St., who received her 2000 hour service pin; Mrs. Fred Mueller, of Lakeland Ct., who received a 500 hour pin, and Mrs. Eugene Niles, of Pacific Ave., who received her 200 hour service pin. Others from Plymouth receiving service pins and recognition were Mrs. Donald Tapp for 1000 hours service, Mrs. Frank Henderson for 500 hours service, Mrs. Thomas Adams and Mrs. Albert Wolfram for 200 hours. Six Plymouthites were among the recipients of volunteer certificates — Mrs. Alfred Campbell, Mrs. Irma McLean, Mrs. Donald Pankow, Mrs. Gerald Sweet, Mrs. Richard Tobin and Mrs. William Mitchell. Mrs. Maury Arnold, of Plymouth, was presented with a past president's pin. The coffee hour was held to acquaint persons with volunteering done at Plymouth State Home. Orientation sessions for new volunteers have been scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 22 and 29 and Oct. 6 and 13 at 9:30 a.m.

While fresh peaches are still available you ought to try Mrs. Richard Wagar's recipe for peach cobbler.

The Wagars, who live at 12102 Hines Ct., moved here a year ago from Redford Township. They have two children, Rick, 16-years-old, and Cindy, seven-years-old. Wagar teaches mathematics at Riverside school in North Dearborn Heights.

Among the family's hobbies are skiing, bowling, swimming and camping. They are already planning a six or seven weeks camping trip for next summer.

The Peach Cobbler is easy to make and when fresh peaches aren't in season, canned ones may be used. Fresh peaches have the most delicious flavor, however. Mrs. Wagar added. The only ingredients needed for the recipe are peaches, biscuit mix, milk, sugar and shortening. The cobbler should be served warm.

PEACH COBBLER
 4 C. sliced fresh peaches
 3/4 to 1 C. sugar
 Place sliced peaches in oblong baking pan, sprinkle sugar over peaches.
 Make shortcake dough from prepared biscuit mix:
 2 Tbl. sugar
 2 C. mix
 2 C. Milk
 3 Tbl. melted shortening or salad oil
 Mix as directed on box. Knead gently about 20 times, pat or roll dough to about 1/2 inch thickness, cut in strips about 1/2 inch wide. Roll each strip in sugar and place on peaches in crisscross pattern. Bake at 425 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Serve warm. Canned peaches also may be used.

PREPARING her Peach Cobbler is Mrs. Richard Wagar of 12102 Hines Ct. The recipe is best when made with fresh peaches, however, canned ones may be used, too.

"Cleopatra" Opens At Wayne Drive-In

The motion picture which has been more talked about and written about than any other in the history of the industry, "Cleopatra," will open tonight at the Wayne Drive-In Theatre.

The 20th Century-Fox romantic spectacle, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, has been shown in the capitals of the free world and in major cities throughout this country on a road show basis with seats reserved.

The DeLuxe Color epic was produced by Walter Wagner and directed by Academy Award-winner Joseph L. Mankiewicz, who also collaborated on the screenplay with Ronald MacDougall and Sidney Buchman.

"Cleopatra" was a year in the making at Rome's great Cinecitta studios and on location in Italy, Egypt, Spain and London, with an international cast featuring Roddy McDowall, Pamela Brown, Cesare Danova, Hume Cronyn, George Cole, Kenneth Haigh, Andrew Keir, Martin Landau, Robert Stephens, Herbert Berghof, Isabelle Cooley and Gregoire Aslan.

For his portrayal of Julius Caesar, Rex Harrison was nominated for the "best actor" Oscar in the recent Academy Award sweepstakes.

"Cleopatra" is the first attempt to combine both the Caesar and Anthony stories into one dramatic entity. In their approach to the complex story, the writers included many factual incidents never before used dramatically.

Although history has not been altered, the story emphasizes the relationships among the protagonists and how they affected or were affected by these events. The film revolves around the four figures who were of the greatest importance in the establishment of the Roman Empire - Cleopatra, Caesar, Anthony and Octavian.

Family Service

What Goes Into the Making Of a Social Caseworker ?

By Anna Jung

Much confusion centers around the title of the helping person in the family agency. Since many clients come to the family agency for help in dealing with marital problems, a natural assumption is that the helping person is a "marriage counselor."

Another large group of clients seeks "family counseling," and they ascribe to the helping person the role, and the title, of "family counselor". The client who seeks help in dealing with an individual personality problem may assign the title, "therapist"; the person seeking financial assistance, or help with some kind of environmental problem, may speak of the "social worker" in the family agency.

In a recent study in another family agency, clients who had received service from the agency were asked to select the title they felt most aptly described the person with whom they had had contact in the agency; the largest percentage of replies listed the title "family counselor" as most nearly describing the person from whom the client received service.

Some family agency workers use this title, but "caseworkers" is the title most frequently used.

A caseworker is a social worker who works primarily with individual clients or with family units. Caseworkers in some family agencies also use the methods of group therapy or group counseling to achieve individual change. Many caseworkers draw upon knowledge and skills derived from other fields of social work practice.

This leads us to the question; What is the nature and the content of the professional training of the social worker, and specifically of the caseworker?

Caseworkers in family agencies are generally required to have earned the Master of Social Work degree, with specialization in Casework. The M S W degree is granted upon the completion of two years of graduate training in an accredited school of social work. In addition to approximately 40 credit hours of academic work, students must fulfill the requirement of two years of field instruction, usually in two different agencies.

The content of professional education for social workers may be divided into four major categories: Social Services, Human Behavior, Social Work Practice, and Field Instruction. Social Service courses include information about social legislation, public welfare, child welfare, medical care, rehabilitation services, and a review of the history of the social service movement.

Human Behavior courses include information about the growth, development, and the behavior of the individual; the effect of physical, emotional, intellectual, and social factors on the development of personality and on the individual's functioning; and the adaptive mechanisms which are available to human beings for dealing with the stresses commonly experienced.

Social Work Practice courses provide the student with knowledge about the basic principles of social study, diagnosis of individual problems, and the process of treatment. It is here that the student learns social work theories and their application.

Field instruction provides the student an opportunity to apply his theoretical knowledge to actual problem situations. This experience may be likened to the internship and the residency which is part of the training of the physician. Like the student physician, the student social worker is given a small number of selected cases; and he works under close supervision from an experienced practitioner.

Early in its history, the social work profession borrowed heavily from the knowledge developed in the field of psychiatry. Social workers attached themselves to psychiatric hospitals and clinics.

Some of the "glamor" of psychiatry rubbed off onto the social workers, and they proudly called themselves "psychiatric social workers", the elite of the social work profession. Long since, social work has developed a body of scientific knowledge related specifically to the individual's functioning in his social environment.

As social work has "grown up" and achieved its own identity, social workers have had less need and less desire to identify themselves with another profession.

All-New 1965 Ramblers Unveiled

The Rambler Ambassador is the longest and most luxurious of three distinctively different lines of American Motors cars for 1965. Over-all length has been increased 10 inches on models other than station wagons, and a convertible has been added to the Ambassador line for the first time. Ambassador styling is all-new with a bold hori-

Serve 631 Pounds Of Sausage at Pancake Festival

Second Vice President Bill Lyons told Kiwanis Club members Tuesday evening that 2,019 people, served pancakes during the Fall Festival, also consumed 631 lbs. of sausage, 67 lbs. of butter and 249 qts. of milk.

Lyons and Gary Grady, senior student and captain of the Plymouth High School Varsity Football Team, presented a demonstration on what the well-dressed football player wears during the game. Lyons told the group that it costs the High School from $75 to $80 to properly outfit a player with necessary protective equipment. Included are hip pads, shoulder pads, thigh guards, knee pads, shirt pants, shoes, helmets and teeth protector. The teeth protector, made of plastic, nylon, fibers insulate rubber and styrofoam, is supplied at material cost of $1.50 by Plymouth dentists.

Some schools may add an additional $20 or so for fancy uniforms.

Guests at this meeting were Glen Kreig, Howard Worth, P. D. Graham, R. M. Gray, Ernest "Doc" Roberts, Harold Bower, Larry Bibicoff, Floyd LeBaron and H. L. Wilson.

Bob Taylor of the U.S. Truck Company has been asked to speak on transportation at the Sept. 29 meeting. Carl Pursell and the members of the Key Club will present the Oct. 6 program. Diamonds will be the subject on Oct. 13 along with the election of 1965 Club Officers. Marv Terry has been nominated for President, Bill Lyons for 1st Vice President, Harp Stephens and Bob Utter for 2nd Vice President and Roland Lutz for Treasurer. Four Club Directors will also be elected. Oct. 20 is scheduled for the Circle K Charter Night.

Riviera Styling Dominates '65 Buick Theme

The influence of Riviera styling, featuring more sloping roof lines, longer, lower hoods, shortened rear decks and high-crown rear fenders, dominated the theme of the new line of 1965 Buicks unveiled here today.

The new models will be introduced to the public in dealer showrooms on Sept. 24.

Buick's trend towards sportiness in design, as exemplified in its Riviera, is more evident in two-door models in the Wildcat and LeSabre series, with their long, sloping roof lines. However, the classic Riviera styling is very evident throughout the entire 1965 line.

The Wildcat, with a three-inch longer wheelbase, is less than an inch longer overall than its last year's counterpart. Yet it looks much longer due to its lengthened hood and front fenders, lowered roof lines and repositioned front wheels.

Edward D. Rollert, Buick's general manager and vice president of General Motors, said the new Buicks represented "a year of forward movement for us in design, notably in our Electra, Wildcat and LeSabre series, and a year of engineering refinement in our Special, Skylark and Riviera models."

Rollert pointed out that the new styling lines were influenced by Riviera because of the outstanding success of this sports car introduced by Buick in 1963.

ALL REGULAR-sized models — Electra 225, Wildcat and LeSabre — have all-new, wider bodies with curved side glass. By repositioning the rear wheels in these models, several inches of additional passenger room has been gained both front and rear.

There are many 1965 innovations in the Buick line, such as the disappearing headlamps used in the Riviera. When not in operation, the headlamps disappear behind the fender grilles.

The Skylark and Electra series introduce "wall to wall" taillamps — a wide horizontal strip running the width of the car.

LeSabre, Wildcat and Electra convertibles have a rear window of solid plate safety glass to maintain clear vision. The top may be lowered with the glass in place.

A new "notch back" seat, combining the appearance of bucket seats with the utility of bench seats, is available in Wildcat and Electra models.

Instrument panels and interior features are new on all series.

Each series has its own grille, bumpers and other identification to give it its own individuality.

All models have frameless glass. Power operated radio antennas are located on the rear fenders of the LeSabre, Wildcat and Electra models. Six in the Special and Special Sabres; ten Wildcats; seven Buick will market 39 models in its 1965 line, including Skylark; seven different Lemodels.

IN ADDITION, there will be two six-passenger and two nine-passenger versions of the new sportwagon, featuring the panoramic sky roof. A host of engineering features have been incorporated into the new line.

Some of the highlights are: ENGINES: The V-6 engine, standard in Special and Skylark, has among the highest horsepower per cubic inch displacement of any six-cylinder engine in the industry. New exhaust valves and new engine mounts, plus other refinements, provide smoother and more economical operation.

The 300 cubic inch V-8, standard in LeSabre, has new cast iron cylinder heads and intake manifold, larger intake and exhaust valves, and new camshaft, for improved operation.

TRANSMISSION: A "Switch the Pitch" feature has been added to the Super Turbine 400 transmissions to provide better performance, smoother engine idle and eliminates unnecessary shifts in city traffic. In addition, the ST 400 transmission has two low ranges to provide two stages of engine braking when needed.

CHASSIS: LeSabre chassis is new with wheels moved rearward to provide better weight distribution and improved handling. LeSabre has cast finned brake drums, new design Salisbury rear axle. Fuel tank capacity has been increased to 25 gallons on regular-size cars.

gas-filler cap in the center of the car above the license plate. Walnut panelling and luxurious fabrics are used generously in the new interior design. Buick's Super Turbine torque converter transmission and the 401-cubic inch V-8 engine comprise the standard power train for the Electra 225. A 425-cubic inch engine with either one or two four-barrel carburetors is offered as optional equipment.

LONG HORIZONTAL lines accentuate the length of the 1965 Electra 225, Buick's luxury series. A more gently sloping roof line, high crown rear fenders and a sloping rear deck enhance the styling of the all-new, roomier body with its curved glass windows. A lower hood line has been made possible by a new cross-flow radiator design. The unique rear end design features a massive bumper and contoured taillights that extend from the fenders to the concealed Chip trading stamps, a New Jersey group commutes to work in a station wagon whose appointments include a bar and bridge table, and 18 college boys once crammed into a sedan to prove well, just to prove.

The Volkswagen is highly adaptable. Cowboys in Texas ride fence in the car, a horse trader in Rhode Island carries Shetland ponies in the back seat, a Nashville man delivers money in a bullet-proof Volkswagen, bank robbers in Los Angeles snaked through a traffic jam to make their getaway in a Volkswagen and the New York Volkswagen distributor has a plan to convert the little cars into taxicabs. His logic is perfect: ordinary cabs carry 1.7 people on the average, he says, and a Volkswagen can carry 1.7 people just as well as the next car.

The Volkswagen is probably the most easily recognized car on earth — so much so that some VW ads don't even name it. It is a vehicle commonly employed by editorial cartoonists to symbolize European economics, and it and the Coke bottle are "2 shapes known the world over," another Volkswagen ad boasts. No one has challenged that statement except a nettled VW dealer in West Virginia, who has a fat account with the Pepsi-Cola people, and the producers of the movie Cleopatra, who recently protested in Variety: "You're wrong in Variety—there are three!"

Owning VW, Like Being in Love

On land or on the water the Volkswagen automobile is an elegant, squat, lumpy-looking piece of machinery that is not very big, does not go very fast, has very little chrome and does not cost enough money. It has its engine in back, a pouty, hurt-feelings expression in front and a bottom so tight that the whole contraption is almost, but not quite, amphibious.

In a country that has always bought cars on styling — not price or performance — Volkswagens in the U. S. have been laughed at, mocked, abused and insulted, one baffled owner calling it "not really repulsive" and the rollicking New York Times calling it "breathtakingly ugly." Judging from appearances, it is easy to see that this baseborn orphan of Nazi Germany is as out of place on Route 66 as a soap box racer at Sebring. Still, pretty is as pretty does, and since the postwar emergence of the car and its square-shaped sister, a station wagon that inherited the family's plain looks, certain things have happened to suggest every car should be so home-ever his sacred VW under the elephant's trunk for a reciprocal hosing down.

Belgium's King Baudouin tools around Europe in a sun-roof sedan, and Princess Margaret has driven a '62 station wagon, which pretty well answers the question once raised by a Volkswagen advertisement: "What year car do the Joneses drive?"

"Owning a VW is like being in love," a magazine poll-taker once concluded, and the car often winds up in some sticky sentimental situations. In Florida not long ago, a bride stuck a miniature VW in the confection stop her wedding cake, a Kansas couple sent out birth announcements when their VW was delivered by the dealer, a Long Island man built a house for his, complete with shutters, weathervane, eagle over the door and geraniums in the window boxes, and an Iowa man gave his wife a Mother's Day present of a VW station wagon, which she thereupon filled to capacity with their nine children.

The Volkswagen has found a home in American culture. A "beetle," says the Dictionary of American Slang, getting with it, is "a Volkswagen automobile . . . from its appearance." A man in Maine, making the most of the unavoidable fact, has a license plate that reads A-BUG, and a myopic American eagle attacked a German beetle in New Mexico last fall. In California a station wagon was bought with 1,501,500 Blue gentlemen—there are three!"

'65 Pontiac Offers Completely New Concept

Pontiac Motor Division offers a completely new concept in automotive design and styling with the introduction of their 1965 models.

The Catalina, Star Chief and Bonneville models all present an appealing silhouette as they are longer, lower and wider on the exterior and contain more room and luxurious furnishings in the interior.

The combination of styling excellence and outstanding performance which has vaulted Pontiac into one of the front runners in automobile sales, prevails again in 1965.

The Catalina models, the Grand Prix sports coupe and all station wagons have a 121-inch wheelbase while the Star Chief and Bonneville models measure 124 inches (except the Bonneville Safari).

The overall length of the Catalina and Grand Prix has been increased to 214.6 inches and the Star Chief and Bonneville models are 221.7 inches long. All Safari models measure 217.9 inches.

MODEL LINEUP
Pontiac's high selling Catalina series is available in seven models — two and four-door sedans, two and four-door hardtops, six and nine-passenger station wagons and a convertible.

The Star Chief series offers a four-door hardtop and a four-door sedan.

Bonneville buyers may choose between a sports coupe, a four-door hardtop, a six-passenger station wagon and a convertible.

Pontiac's award-winning sports coupe, the Grand Prix, will again be entered in the luxury car field.

The 1965 Pontiacs go on sale in dealer showrooms September 24.

BODY STYLING
All the body styles for 1965 are completely new. They all have the obvious appearance advantages of curved glass which allows the upper structure to better integrate with the lower as part of the overall car design. This is particularly evident on the sports coupe with its fast-flowing roof line. Curved glass also makes possible a more efficient use of space.

Pontiac exclusive for 1965 is the articulated windshield wiper which gives a greater sweep area than ever before. This system is designed to wipe at much higher speeds than any other system. The articulated wiper is standard on all Pontiac models except the Catalina which offers it as an option.

Pontiac windshields are larger and have less curvature for improved vision and more effective coverage by the new windshield wipers. Custom detailing in many areas has been introduced on the new models. Wheel opening moldings, stainless steel body guard side moldings and sparkling new chrome die cast front and rear end treatments are all featured in 1965. Large wrap-around bumpers are scaled to longer and more equipment on the Grand Prix. The new rear end design features extra long three-bulb lamps deeply recessed in horizontal grille bars for concealed daylight appearance.

ALSO STANDARD equipment for 1965 is the Pontiac exclusive articulated windshield wiper which gives a much greater sweep area than ever before on passenger cars.

Grand Prix interiors, renowned for luxury and comfort, are available in eight new colors and with a choice of expanded Morrokide or cloth and expanded Morrokide. Bucket seats are standard in the Grand Prix. However, a low-profile arm rest bench front seat will be available as a regular production option. The full carpeting is of nylon blend loop pile. Interior color selections include Black, Turquoise, Bluemist Slate, Gold, Red, Blue Charcoal, Plum and Parchment.

Genuine dark walnut wood inserts accent the instrument panel and also the horn ring spokes.

A new and distinctively styled console with generous use of wood applique is standard on the Grand Prix. The three-speed synchromesh transmission has floor shift controls with console as standard. A tachometer, mounted at the left of the instrument panel, is standard with the optional four-speed synchromesh transmission. A vacuum gauge, mounted in the console is standard with the optional Turbo Hydra-Matic transmission.

The Grand Prix offers Pontiac's wide selection of engines equipped with the standard heavy duty synchromesh or the optional Turbo Hydra-Matic or four-speed synchromesh transmissions.

A complete list of accessories is available for the Grand Prix including automatic temperature control which provides thermally controlled interior temperature and a driver controlled master door lock system operated from the driver's door lock button.

A new design automotive stylists call the venturi shape is accentuated in the exterior lines of the new Grand Prix. The venturi shape sweeps the body sides into flared rear quarter panels for a longer, lower look.

To complete the uncluttered appearance and to continue the horizontal body sculpture lines through the length of the car, rear fender skirts have been made standard dominant front end sheet metal.

Several important improvements have been made in the Pontiac convertibles which mean better appearance, more comfort and increased safety. All convertibles have a new tempered glass rear window to provide the ultimate in visibility and durability. This window does away with deformation and scratching. Also, the window does not need to be removed and may be lowered with the top.

2 PLUS 2
One of the most exciting models in the 1965 Pontiac lineup is the 2 plus 2. Available in Catalina Sports coupe and convertible models, the 2 plus 2 has come into its own in 1965.

The 2 plus 2 includes bucket seats, exclusive expanded Morrokide trim in four interior colors, body paint stripes below the fender upper peak extending the full length of the car, 2 plus 2 emblems on the front, side and rear and Pontiac's high performance 421 cubic inch engine with four-barrel carburetion and a three-speed synchromesh transmission with floor shift.

Also included in this exclusive package is a dual exhaust system and simulated louvers on the lower front fender located to the rear of the front wheel opening.

A new console is optional on the 2 plus 2 which has a cast leather grain texture and is painted to compliment the instrument panel.

NEW INTERIORS
The beauty and luxury of the Pontiac interiors are highlighted by new colors, new instrument panels and new interior appointments.

'65 Tempest: New Styling

Pontiac Motor Division's sale in dealer showrooms September 24.

TWELVE MODELS
The Tempest series offers a sports coupe, four-door sedan and Safari.

In addition to its new model, the hardtop coupe, the Custom series has available a sports coupe, a four-door sedan, a convertible and a Safari.

Offered in the LeMans series is a sports coupe, a convertible and the new four-door sedan.

The new Tempests have undergone a complete restyling of the front end. The distinctive Pontiac Tempest split grille, which is recessed slightly from the down curve of the hood line, has the distinctive Pontiac look as twin vertical mounted headlamps flank the grille on both sides. They have a horizontal line pattern setting the lower headlight apart from the upper and accenting them both.

The 1965 Tempest and LeMans models are three inches longer than previous models, measuring 206 inches in overall length. The wheelbase for all models is 115 inches.

The new Tempests go on

A larger, more effective "light-up" area for added safety is featured in the restyled tail lights. From the molding below the rear deck lid, the tail lights wrap around the rear end of the fenders providing lighting and visibility from the side.

More convenience, positive door control and flexibility in loading and unloading situations is featured by the Pontiac type, two-step door stops. Positive door control also results in minimizing damage to door panels when parking in confined areas. This feature has been accomplished by a spring-action pawl which engages the lower door hinge lightly for an intermediate stop between closed and wide open.

Fifteen exterior colors are offered in the Tempest line and thirteen of them are new for 1965. Only black and ivory are the same as on previous models. The new color list includes among others Blue Charcoal, Iris Mist, Capri Gold, Bluemist Slate and Mayfair Maize.

Tempest and LeMans interiors are color keyed to the new exterior paint colors and also reflect higher quality in fabrics, styling and luxurious appointments.

Six interior colors, including parchment, are available in the LeMans series. Bucket seats are standard in the LeMans sports coupe, hardtop coupe and convertible and are available in six all Moorokide trim combinations. Rich, door-to-door nylon blend loop pile carpeting is also included.

The new LeMans four-door sedan features seat cushions and backs cloth trimmed in biscuit insert panels with expanded vinyl bolster strips. New name plates are placed on the sail area, one on each side, and on the front door interior is a "LeMans" name plate.

The GTO is powered with the famous Pontiac 389 cubic inch engine with four-barrel carburetor as standard and an optional engine with three two-barrel carburetion. Compression ratio is 10.75:1 and a three-speed synchromesh transmission with floor shift is standard.

ALL NEW — Pontiac's 1965 Bonneville series is represented here by a convertible. Also in this series is a sport coupe, a four-door Vista and a four-door station wagon. Bonneville styling highlights include fender skirts, brushed stainless steel on the lower body, sharply chiseled lettering and sparkling ornament accents. All wide track Bonneville models offer a complete range of Pontiac V-8 engines and an all new choice of exterior and interior colors.

City DPW Activities

By Sup't. Joseph Bida

The past week found D.P.W. workers cleaning up from the Fall Festival. Also, a sanitary sewer was dug up at 364 Adams Street.

Twenty foundations were poured out at Riverside Cemetery and one funeral was held.

Stumps were removed on Coolidge Street and gravel was spread on Coolidge getting it ready for stabilization. The Beck Road and Six Mile Road well fields were mowed. All residential streets were swept. All city streets were patched at the south end of the city.

The Public Works Department received some more notices of persons who have trees with Dutch Elm Disease. These trees will have to be removed within ten days. They are located at 644 Adams, 1293 S. Harvey and 402 N. Harvey. The trees are the responsibility of the property owner.

The water main installation on various streets is progressing very well. The following streets have been completed with new water mains installed: Starkweather, Hardenberg, York, Liberty, Blanche, Ann, N. Territorial, Fair, Fairground and Amelia.

Water has been put into the main and pressure testing has been O.K. New water taps will have to be installed, old mains will have to be disconnected, and old hydrants will have to be removed. Gay Bros. Construction Company is ahead of schedule.

As soon as taps are in sidewalks will be installed. So if people on streets where the water mains are being installed do not see any action for a couple of days please do not worry because the Construction Company only gets their money on work completed and I am sure he will do all in his power to complete his work on time.

Keeps us going and growing

It was with a sense of pleasure last week, that this newspaper reported the close co-operation of Plymouth Township and City of Plymouth officials when city water lines broke and the supply failed.

It took only a request to the Township and water began to flow into City pipes from the gate on Sheldon Road. Later in the day, City firemen pumped additional Township water into the system with one of the department's pump trucks.

During this period, Township firefighters willingly answered a call to a brush fire in the urban renewal section on Mill Street.

After it was all over, Plymouth City officials issued a sincere vote of thanks to Plymouth Township.

It is this kind of intimate interaction that makes The Plymouth Community a better place in which to live.

For only as these two governmental units can work together, in a spirit of increasing amity and co-operation, can this area be expected to proceed and prosper as it should.

Only insofar as the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township can forge forward together, each lending the other a strong helping hand, can we hope to retain the character and quality that sets us apart from the statistical anonymity of being just another part of the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Our unique identity can be retained and further refined if we will seize upon opportunities for working together. The water crisis that struck the City was one of these moments.

It seems to us that, out of such crises, springs greater appreciation of and insight into each other's problems.

While we would not wish problems on either governmental unit, we are happy that an instance for aid and assistance was provided. It points up that we can profitably co-operate in an effort.

The Plymouth Mail joins with City of Plymouth officials in issuing thanks to Plymouth Township. We know if help is needed, the city will be more than willing to return the favor.

That's what keeps us going.
And it's what will keep us growing.

A LETTER to be proud of, is what six-year-old Mark Wells of 249 Amelia St. got recently from Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the late President. Mark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Wells, carried garbage out and helped his mother with dishes to earn one dollar to send to the Kennedy Library Fund. In the letter, Mrs. Kennedy wrote: "Of all the many tributes to the memory of President Kennedy, I am sure that none would have pleased him more than the touching response of you young people. . . . As you grow older, I know you will retain the wonderful spirit embodied in your gift to the Library, and your interest in doing things that help this world we live in. That would have meant so much to President Kennedy."

Editorial Hit Raw Nerve

Dear Editor: Your editorial "This law needs changing" has really hit a raw nerve in this friendly little neighborhood just six miles west of your supposed "friendly hometown." For years past our school boards have desperately sought an answer to our problem of a decent school for our children.

True, we had a school — a one room building with two flush toilets and a cold water wash bowl in the school room. At least they were flush toilets if the pump would run or the septic tank wasn't frozen! We had automatic heat too. The children all had nice hot heads — and cold feet!

After all, there is a limit to the efficiency of a furnace installed in a hundred year old building with rotting timbers sitting on the ground and uninsulated walls twelve feet high with arched windows that rattled in the breeze!

And teacher! Where do you find a teacher willing to take on thirty children ages five to twelve — kindergarten through sixth grade? A teacher who can teach a minimum of five different classes each day in each grade and do her own janitor work. Also she must enjoy mice, spiders and any other varmint that walks, crawls or flies, because this school was wide open to all! We tried! For years past we have tried. We looked in to the possibility of a consolidated school. No dice! Not enough valuation. Some school joined South Lyon district. Some are still struggling.

We found a way and we took it. We get our mail from Plymouth. We shop in Plymouth. We go to Plymouth doctors when we are sick. We bank in Plymouth. We feel we belong with Plymouth.

Plymouth real estate dealers like to sell our property — if they don't have to mention our school. That school has killed a lot of deals! And worst of all — our children have suffered — and will suffer throughout their lives because they have been deprived of the most important thing of all — a good basic education. Maybe the law is a little unfair to you in Plymouth but I believe it was written to solve situations like this.

Yours is the adjoining large school system. We can't possibly support a proper school by ourselves. You wouldn't willingly accept us so someone made a law to force you to do the right — the humane and the logical thing, so here we are, locked stock and barrel! EDITOR'S NOTE: It was not the intention of The Plymouth Mail to leave the impression that the Lapham District had nothing in common with the Plymouth Community. We feel certain that, in this case, Plymouth School District residents welcome the addition of Lapham students to local schools. However, cases might arise in which other districts with little in common could, by the same procedure, annex themselves to a nearby school system. It is this possibility that bothered, and still bothers, us.

Notices Trend

Dear Editor: As a weekly reader of our local newspaper for many years, I have recently noticed a trend in your editorials which are proving more informative, constructive, and worthwhile. You are giving your readers your views on major issues of the day, evaluations of candidates running for public office and in general a form of writing that is of high level.

We may not always agree with your remarks but your courage to take a stand and present social, moral, and political issues that your readers can think and act upon are indeed noteworthy.

Sincerely,
Carl Pursell

The Grim Pilgrim

By DAVE WILEY

It was late last week that, together with Assistant Police Chief Loren Johnson, I made the rounds of several areas in Plymouth — locations where some of the younger set pursue the fine art of glue sniffing.

It was a tour with implications both tragic and comic.

Comic because there were unmistakable signs that just plain kids were involved — kids, perhaps, whose interests and preoccupations differ little from the norm. At one site, we found a note, scrawled on loose leaf paper in a wavering, juvenile hand.

"Club members," the faded pencil scratches said, "I am the boss." On the walls of a battered, deserted building behind a supermarket on Main St. were scribbled the names of the younger set's folk heroes, The Beatles.

But more overpowering is the inherent tragedy of the situation.

Littering the floors of ramshackle frame structure and the ground outside were paper bags folded neatly from the top, and glue tubes — the bottoms torn away and contents removed. Above the mid-day silence shrieked the "omni-present question:

Why? Why? Why? What vicious illness, what warped perversion in our society drives teens and pre-teens to seek escape from the awfulness of reality?

For this is obviously what glue-sniffing youngsters are seeking:

A brief let-up. A moment's peace. An emotional means of getting away from it all. All it takes is 15 cents, a penny for tax and a paper bag.

Youngsters must be frightened, awed, cowed by the evident irrationality around them. What do they see in us — their parents, teachers and elders — that frightens?

Children are refreshing for their simplicity, directness of interpretation and unwillingness to compromise an ideal. The adult world must sicken them.

In this year, particularly if they can read and comprehend, they see a nation twisted with hate and a people, in part, lavishing in what is becoming one of the dirtiest election campaigns in the history of the United States of America.

Don't sell your kids short, Mom and Dad, they see far more than you give them credit for. They can smell hypocrisy a mile away. And if they are bewildered by an adult penchant for oversimplification, they are denied the luxury of a bottle by which they can escape to hazy inebriated comfort.

Phooey, you tell me. These are little monsters who have never felt the sting of the rod. They need punishment. They are delinquent, not bewildered.

Oh, yes they are. Not being stupid, they are confused. Taught in school that the American way of life and government is the noblest on earth, they are faced with the ludicrous spectacle of grown-ups who contend with evangelistic fervor that a sinister communist conspiracy is on the verge of victory in our land.

Not old enough to have learned to hate with the skill and passion of their elders, they are understandably cast adrift in the face of their addled, brainied seniors who proclaim that they must hold another in contempt because he is a Catholic, a Jew, a Negro, a pinko.

They realize that survival in a modern age requires education and a sense of intellectual awareness. But their parents, in some cases, look askance at our educational processes and equate learning with leftist leanings.

There are other factors; and here, I must stray for a moment.

One of the crimes that community newspapers have perpetrated over the years is the unfortunate impression that nothing, in fact, is ever wrong in their sphere of circulation.

I have seen it in small, rural weeklies and in larger, community dailies. Publishers have always had a predisposition to pretend that their town is the best of all possible worlds.

It's not. Plymouth is not perfect and I would not have you think it is.

One of our most pressing problems, to get back to the subject, is the number of children being raised by lone mothers or fathers.

Partnerless parents, they are called.

Their offspring are unwitting victims of divorce, unfortunate recipients of the mess that follows when two persons are unable to reconcile their differences. They often see hate on a very personal and frighteningly close level.

No wonder they seek escape.

They turn to the 15-cent tube with its eradicating fumes. Keep inhaling and eventually you pass out. Oblivion and escape. As one youngster told Chief Johnson:

"After all, it's better than getting drunk, isn't it?"

I don't know, son. Is it? Or would it be better if you had a slightly more palatable world in which to live? Maybe, someday . . .

Letter to the Editor

Takes Issue

Dear Editor:

I must commend on your last week's editorial concerning the addition of a school district to the Plymouth schools. Our family is a part of the Lapham school district and tomorrow I shall vote for the division of our school district.

I should like to take issue with your statement that under the present law, districts with no conceivable compatibility can be joined together at the expense of one, the other, or both.

The Lapham school district has been a part of the Plymouth area for some time. According to a survey made in recent years, the residents of this community, shop, attend churches, belong to various clubs and organizations, all in Plymouth. Our seventh to twelfth grade students have attended the Plymouth schools on a tuition basis for many, many years.

The one room country school served the country areas very well for many years, but this is no longer true. In this day of high salaries and many benefits, our school could no longer find qualified teachers trained for this type of teaching. The advanced methods of teaching, the changes in curriculum, cannot be adapted in the one room country school. Thirty children in this area were receiving a very poor education. What could we do?

Would Plymouth take us in? Even though this was the logical answer most people are too busy with their own problems to see this.

Re-districting is not as easily done as you would make it seem. These plans had to be approved by the County Board of Education. A public hearing was held and a final sanction was needed by the State Offices of Education. It was only then that we could vote on this proposal.

The primary school districts are few, but there are some in the Plymouth area. It might be well for Plymouth to take a good look at the areas around her and plan accordingly.

Geraldine McCully

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

The word is inconclusive.

The Northville-Plymouth football game didn't provide much basis for Rock fans to know what really to expect from John M. Hoben's 1964 aggregation.

The defensive line looked strong, but the ends wouldn't inspire confidence. The offensive backfield moved well only once (in the third and fourth periods) when halfbacks Roger Tobey and Captain Gary Grady went to work.

Two of Plymouth's three touchdowns were of the gift variety, resulting from bad centers on kick situations. The Rock offense had only to go a total of three yards to get two touchdowns.

In seven tries, Plymouth failed to complete a pass.

The defensive backfield suffered from an early injury to safety back Terry Cosgrove and for most of the game defensive mix-ups permitted Northville ends a free ride in the secondary.

There were, however, some encouraging spots.

Gary Grady looked as good as everything Hoben has said about him. Here is a halfback who knows how to run and can tackle well on defense. When the going gets rough, Plymouth hands him the ball. He looks like good insurance.

Tobey is a rugged halfback, who reminds you of Wayne Sparkman, but he had trouble with a slippery ball a couple of times Friday night.

In the line, Hoben had special praise for senior guard Paul Densmore and junior tackles Steve Stribley and Bill Kozlowski. Stribley and Kozlowski are two names to remember, because it was at tackle that preseason estimates of the Rocks showed the most concern. They should get better as the season goes, and Kozlowski has the weight a tackle can use well.

Curt Irish was lauded by Hoben as a defensive linebacker, moving up to stop end sweeps by Northville. He also mentioned that Larry Warnemunde did a "credible job" as a junior fullback. Irish also kicked adequately.

The coach had words of praise too for Tobey and Grady.

While Plymouth was getting past Northville 19-12, next week's opponent leveled Livonia Bentley 19-2. Plymouth clearly must do some tightening up this week to get ready for Farmington.

But Rock fans can gather a little hope in the knowledge that this Northville game is almost like a family fight. The two schools have been looking at each other for years, and Northville has an additional incentive in beating Class A Plymouth. If this B school wins, its season is a success. Plymouth is usually confronted with an over-confidence problem.

Another aspect is that these first games are always wild with lots of mistakes and fumbles. It is the first chance to play before a crowd and to work under game conditions.

It's always good to win the first one.

The theme of the Plymouth band half time performance was its trip to Camp Kohnahna recently in the Leelenau peninsula. Eighty-eight students attended the camp, and it apparently pays off. The Plymouth half-time show easily topped the Northville band, especially the familiar drum emphasis during the Hawaiian War Chant.

There was also a number with three scantily clad co-eds, which may be one reason nothing has been done to improve the lighting at the field.

This season's "man up front," as the band announcer Fred Nelson (no kin) introduces him, is Mike Bentley. Majorettes are Georjeann Kippola and Marilyn Gibson. Tammy Talmadge is the new mascot.

Rocks Trip Mustangs As Grady Gets Two

Sports IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

Plymouth kicked off to Northville last Friday night. It was the smartest move of a chaotic evening, during which Plymouth won 19-12. Northville managed to stay in the game until six seconds were left on the clock, although the Mustangs must possess the worst punting combination in the history of the school.

Northville first put the foot of John Jamison to work shortly after the opening kickoff. Jamison, an end, received the first of several bad passes from center Dave Kerr. Dave Eisenlord and Dave Stribley blocked it for Plymouth on the Northville three yard line.

Plymouth took over and halfback Gary Grady dove twice into the line, the second time scoring for Plymouth with 7:46 of the first period still remaining. Grady's extra point was good and Plymouth led 7-0. This point later turned out to be a big one.

Plymouth kicked off again, and this time Northville was also unable to move the ball and on fourth down on their own 40 again tried to punt. This time another wobbly pass came from the center and Jamison in his haste to kick touched the ground with his knee on the 28 yard line. Plymouth took over again, but was unable to move the ball and actually lost ground to Northville 45.

HERE, PLYMOUTH fullback Curt Irish gave a demonstration of punting by kicking one into the end zone. Play moved into the second quarter with neither team able to move the ball well. Both defensive lines look aggressive.

With the ball on their own 10 the Mustangs were forced to kick again. This time a bouncing pass from center was covered on the one yard line. On the next play Rock quarterback John Daniel snuck over to make it 13-0. Plymouth with eight minutes left in the half. The extra point attempt was blocked.

Defense controlled the play for the rest of the half with neither team able to get going.

The second half was different.

THE FIRST time the Mustangs got their hands on the ball they scored. Kent Kipper, the fastest back on the field, made four yards from the Northville 44 to the 48. On the next play, he scooted right end for 52 yards to score. It was the first time that Northville had been in Plymouth territory on offense. There was less than three minutes gone of the second half and now Plymouth's lead was cut to 13-6.

A first try (a pass that was complete) for the extra point was ruled illegal procedure and the next try was no good. Plymouth still led 13-6.

Late in the third quarter Plymouth halfbacks Roger Tobey and Grady ran well on a series of plays, but a fumble by Tobey allowed Northville to take over with eight minutes left in the fourth quarter.

A flat pass was incomplete for Northville, and on second down quarterback Tom Baumgmann completed a short screen pass for three yards. It was a set up for the next play, the rarely used Statue of Liberty used Baumgmann handing off deceptively to the speedy Kipper, who scampered 25 yards to the Plymouth 18.

On the next play, Baumgmann hit Jerry Imsland on the Plymouth five and he went into score untouched. He was five yards in the clear when he caught the pass.

THE RUN for extra point failed and Plymouth still hung on 13-12 with only 6:51 left on the clock. Plymouth hearts sank on the following kick off.

Fullback Irish took the kick on the 20 and charged up field and returned to the 29 where he was jolted hard. The ball shot forward in the air to the 40, where a surprised Mustang end, Art Forth, grabbed it.

Northville was contained on the next series, as the Plymouth defense turned in another key performance. Plymouth took over and put their captain, Gary Grady to work. It was Grady into the line. Grady through the middle and Grady around the ends, as the capable workhorse got yardage and ate up the clock.

Plymouth moved from its own 34 to the Northville 43 with Grady carrying on every play. With only 32 seconds on the clock, confusion struck the officials on the field.

IT HAPPENED on second down, when Daniels, back to pass, deliberately grounded the ball. Instead of blowing the whistle immediately, the officials debated while the clock ran. Finally, they whistled the time dead and went through a series of gestures with the press box to get the clock back to 32 seconds (although some think this was a gift of about 15 seconds).

Then to compound the error, they penalized Plymouth two downs instead of one for the deliberate grounding so that instead of having a running play left, Plymouth was forced to kick.

Northville took over on their own 20 and after one complete flat pass, tried another. This time the ever-present Grady was there on the 27 to grab it and go in untouched with eight seconds left. Plymouth finally had the game on ice, 19-12.

SWISS MOVEMENT STOPPED — by Plymouth Captain Gary Grady here after a short end sweep by Northville's fullback John Swiss (dark jersey). The tackle was one of several made by Grady during the opening game, when he led Plymouth to a 19-12 victory over the Mustangs. Grady scored twice for Plymouth.

Farmington Game 3:30 Friday

Plymouth travels to Farmington at 3:30 p.m. Friday for its second game of the season. It will be another meeting of unbeaten teams. Plymouth won its opener 19-12 over Northville, while Farmington was beating Livonia Bentley 19-2 last week. Farmington will offer an experienced backfield, highlighted by the running of Roy Leech and Bruce Charles. Leech scored twice last week and Charles once against Bentley.

The game is a non-league encounter for both schools.

Michigan ranks tenth or higher in production of more than 20 major crops, although ranking only 22nd in land area.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Hoben, Dr. Kauffman, Reverend Castner, and Dr. Sonnega in turn commented on the Sex Education Program for junior high youth and their parents conducted by the YMCA last spring. As a result of this experience and other insights which they have gained in dealing with problems of adolescents and adults they recommended that the curriculum of the community schools be broadened to include a planned program of sex instruction.

Superintendent Isbister was authorized by the Board of Education to appoint a committee composed of both professional educators and parents and charge it with the responsibility of developing the program and reporting to the Board at the regular meeting on October 12, 1964.

It was moved by Member Soth and seconded by Member Schultheiss that the following resignations be accepted:

- Donald Cupps
- Patricia Ottard
- Janet Howard Smith

Ayes: Members Henry, Hulsing, Schultheiss, Soth and Utter.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent Isbister it was moved by Member Soth and seconded by Member Hulsing that the appointment of Mr. Carl Taylor to the principalship of the Junior High School-East at an annual salary of $19,600 be approved.

Ayes: Members Henry, Hulsing, Schultheiss, Soth and Utter.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Ayes: Members Henry, Hulsing, Schultheiss, Soth and Utter.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Upon the recommendation of Supervisor Kelly and Mr. Mattison of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Associates, it was moved by Member Soth and seconded by Member Hulsing that the contract for the paving at Allen Elementary School be awarded to the low bidder, Thompson-McCully Asphalt Paving Company, in the amount of $5,380 (deduct $350 for the use of gravel in place of slag).

Ayes: Members Fischer, Henry, Hulsing, Schultheiss, Soth and Utter.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

Member Schultheiss, Chairman of the Finance Committee, discussed the financial gains and losses which would accrue to the Plymouth Community School District as a result of annexation of the Lapham School District. He commented also that the operating fund balance for June 30, 1964, was approximately $40,000 more than had been predicted earlier in the school year.

Superintendent Isbister advised the Board of Education that the proceedings for the dissolution of the Lapham School District and the annexation of a major portion of it to the Plymouth Community School District were in keeping with Act 119 of the Public Acts of 1963 and that pending an affirmative vote by the qualified voters in Lapham on September 14, 1964, the annexation would take place without prior approval by the Plymouth Community School District. He noted further that he had requested a legal opinion by Attorney William Semple on this matter.

It was moved by Member Hulsing and seconded by Member Henry that the Board of Education endorse and support the proposal to increase by one mill the operation levy for County Government which will be on the November ballot.

Ayes: Members Henry, Hulsing, Schultheiss, Soth and Utter.

Nays: None.

The motion was carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:55 o'clock p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary
Board of Education

First Federal Notes Record for Savings Accounts

Growth of First Federal savings accounts the first eight months of 1964 exceeds any similar period in our 30-year history, reports Paul Reifel, Manager of the Plymouth office of First Federal Savings of Detroit, located at Pennington at Main, Plymouth, Michigan.

Accounts of 179,792 First Federal Savings customers increased $39,103,100.25 from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31 of this year. This compares with a net gain of $36,222,953.26 in the same period of 1963.

"It is obvious that the high rate of employment and the prosperity of the automobile industry and other Detroit-based industries are factors in our higher rate of growth," said Reifel, "and that while people are spending more in savings also. Obviously not all of today's higher earnings are being spent and the same applies to the money saved as a result of this year's income tax reductions. Most people are, we believe, exercising good common sense by saving more in a time of good earnings."

It is pointed out that savings are put to work as fast as they come in at First Federal, mostly through investment in home mortgage loans.

First Federal has invested $51,854,696.99 so far this year in mortgage loans, mostly to help families buy or build homes and to refinance mortgages or land contracts. First Federal is Michigan's largest savings association and also the state's largest home mortgage lender.

Chevrolet to Offer 45 1965 Models

Chevrolet takes its longest stride into the fine car field with its 1965 passenger cars — plus offering the widest variety of luxury models and product features in its 54-year history.

On display in dealer showrooms on Thursday, Sept. 24th, will be 45 models in five distinctive lines of new Chevrolets. Of these, 20 will be "sport models" — convertibles and hardtops.

There are 11 new cars in two lines:

- The regular Chevrolet, long-time industry sales leader, moves to a new prestige plateau with the greatest comfort and luxury ever offered.
- The Corvair makes a dramatic advance with its first major styling change in five years.

Customer approved design, with significant styling refinements, is continued for the Chevelle, Chevy II and Corvair lines. The Corvair also becomes the first American car to provide four-wheel disc brakes as standard equipment.

Among approximately 400 accessories and optional features available on 1965 Chevrolets is the first FM stereo system offered by an auto maker. Another is a telescoping steering column to give greater driving comfort for Corvairs and Corvettes.

With its new models, Chevrolet hopes this year to establish its third successive industry sales mark. S. E. Knaben, general manager, declared:

"For 1965, Chevrolet is keeping pace with the public's growing preference for prestige transportation with the widest possible customer choice of options and features to fit individual needs," he said.

Following are highlights of the five members of Chevrolet's "family" for 1965:

REGULAR CHEVROLET — The top selling line is an entirely new automobile for 1965. It is the most luxurious car ever offered by Chevrolet.

Fifteen models in four series stress a bigger car concept. The new Chevrolet is longer by more than three inches (to 213.1 inches), wider by 1-1/2 inches (to 79.6 inches) and one inch lower (to a sport coupe height of 54.1 inches) than 1964 models.

Interiors offer greater room — three inches more shoulder room — plus increased leg room, both front and rear. Floor tunnels are substantially smaller. The luggage compartment has a flat floor for easier loading.

The all-new styling features an entirely new look. Square front fenders sweep through the body into gracefully contoured rear quarter panels. The grille is framed by deeply recessed headlights.

The rear deck is flat with a slight downward taper to a full-width rear bumper. Chevrolet's traditional triple taillights are hooded and extend back from either side of the rear panel. All models have a low silhouette roofline and curved side windows. Convertibles have tempered glass rear windows.

Beneath the new body is an equally new chassis. A number of improvements result in greater ride and handling characteristics. The 119-inch wheel-base is retained.

A "wide stance" chassis gives wider front and rear tread. The front is wider by 2.2 inches to a total width of 62.5 inches and the rear is 3.1 inches wider to a total of 62.4 inches. There is improved full coil suspension both front and rear.

A sturdy, new perimeter frame provides the structural platform for a new strut front suspension, new link-type rear suspension and new parallel relay steering system.

Six engines (one six and five V-8's) are offered, ranging in horsepower from 140 to 400 and incorporating a number of engine improvements. Four transmissions are available and there is a total choice of 16 power teams.

CORVAIR — Chevrolet's popular small, sports-type car makes the first major styling change since its introduction in the 1960 model year.

For 1965, Corvair is longer, wider and lower while offering increased engine power. It retains its 108-inch wheelbase plus the air-cooled, rear-mounted engine and frame integral body which make it unique among American built cars.

Corvair's model lineup for 1965 emphasizes increased sportiness. Pillar sedans and the coupe have been dropped. The seven new models are either convertibles or two- and four-door hardtops.

A new top-of-the-line series, the Corsa — available in either convertible or sport coupe — replaces the Spyder models. The turbo-charged engine, available only in Corsa models, is increased from 150 to 180 horsepower.

There is a smooth, international flavor to the new Corvair body which is longer by three inches (to 183.3 inches) than the 1964 Corvair, and wider by more than two inches (to 69.7 inches) and slightly lower — the sport coupe height is 51.3 inches.

The front end slants slightly forward, retaining the "no grille" Corvair trademark (signifying a rear engine). Dual headlights are recessed. Front and rear decks taper gently downward. Rear rooflines are long, particularly on sport coupe models. A distinctive full-width cove that is indented from sides to center houses twin taillights and license bracket.

The re-designed Corvair interior gives increased shoulder room and entrance height plus more leg room in the rear seat of sport sedan models. The new dash panel has recessed instruments. Corsa and Monza models — including the Monza sport sedan — have bucket seats in color-keyed, all-vinyl interiors.

Among new body features for 1965 are an improved heater and defroster system, ventilated rocker panels, flush-mounted windshield and rear windows and improved door locks. Convertibles offer all-electrical top mechanisms.

Mechanical features include an improved four-wheel independent suspension system and a wider tread front and rear for better handling. There are larger diameter, wider brakes on all four wheels.

The standard engine is 95 horsepower for all except Corsa models. Others available are the 110 horsepower version; a new 140 horsepower, four barrel version (standard on Corsa models, optional on all others) and the 180 horsepower turbo-charged engine available only on Corsa models. Three transmissions are available. Power teams total 11.

The two Corvair Greenbriar sports wagons are continued in 1965 with only identification changes.

CHEVELLE — Chevrolet's newest car was a quick favorite with the motorist, recording 300,000 sales in its first model year.

For 1965, the Chevelle line is expanded to 12 models in four series, including a new economy series, the "300."

The car will continue its 115-inch wheelbase. It receives a longer, more graceful look by the addition of 2.7 inches for an over-all length of 196.6 inches (201.4 inches for station wagons). Width continues at 74.6 inches but some models are more than an inch lower — sport coupe height is 52.8 inches.

In styling, the 1965 Chevelle has a fresh front end design. There is a new hood, grille and bumper, and fenders on all models plus a special black-accented grille for the Malibu Super Sport models. The rear end features larger taillights and a new rear cove area. There is also a new optional black vinyl roof cover for sport coupe models.

Adding to Chevelle's ride and handling for 1965 are added body insulation, softer front springs, rubber-mounted front end sheet metal and improved rear suspension and new tire sizes. New luxury is available in the increased range of options and accessories.

There is a wider range of power teams — a choice of five engines (two sixes and three V-8's) with a horsepower range from 120 to 300. Four transmissions, including Overdrive, are offered, with a total of 16 power teams for 1965.

CHEVY II — New styling refinements and a wider range of optional power is offered in the Chevy II, entering its fourth year of attracting the motorist who wants tasteful styling, economy and ease of handling.

Chevy II will be available in seven models in three series. It will continue its 110-inch wheelbase, its 182.9 inch length (station wagons 187.6 inches) and its 69.9 inch width. The sport coupe height is 54 inches.

Fresh styling features include a new grille with single headlamp design, a distinctive new roof and rear window design on sedan models, restyled side trim and an attractive full-width cove across the rear.

For 1965 the Chevy II offers its greatest number of engines — six power plants (one four cylinder, two sixes and three V-8's). The horsepower range is from 90 to 300 and there are three transmissions available. Total number of power teams offered is 15.

CORVETTE — America's only sports car offers another pace setting development for 1965 — disc brakes on all four wheels as standard equipment.

Two Sting Ray models — a convertible and a sport coupe — again will be offered. The highly maneuverable 98-inch wheelbase is continued. Chevy's over-all length is 175.1 inches, width is 69.6 inches and sport coupe height is 49.6 inches.

In styling, Corvette refines the aerodynamic design of its famed steel-reinforced fiberglass body. The long, sloping hood has been made smoother and there are distinctive vertical engine air exhaust ducts mounted in the fenders behind the front wheels. Competition-type wheel covers are added to the Corvette's sports flavor.

New luxury keynote the interiors with a redesigned instrument cluster and choice of ten all-vinyl interiors with genuine leather optional in all ten colors.

The new disc brakes are caliper type. They are virtually fade free and completely self-adjusting. They join the host of special mechanical features which make Corvette so distinctive.

tomorrow! the beautiful shapes for '65

'65 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Chevrolet Impala '65

One look at it and—presto—last year's crop of cars seem like something that happened a long time ago. It's longer, lower, wider—with the kind of interior comforts that'll have many an expensive car wondering why it didn't think of them first. More shoulder room, more leg room up front and (thanks to a smaller floor tunnel) more foot room too. Curved side windows, rich new fabrics and an instrument panel that's a conversation piece all by itself (in the Impala series it has the look of hand-rubbed walnut). In fact, just about everything's new right down to the road. And even that'll seem newer because this year Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride is smoother than ever. But if all this seems like a bit too much to remember, don't try. Just take a drive at your dealer's. It'll all become unforgettable.

'65 Chevelle Malibu Super Sport Coupe

Chevelle Malibu '65

New style, new ride—and plenty of V8 stuff. Here are all the things that have made Chevelle America's most popular new-sized car—plus some new surprises that promise to make it come on stronger than ever for '65. Like those cleaner, bolder lines. Like the silky way it skims over the choppiest roads. (Thanks to softer coil springs and other suspension system refinements, Chevelle now rides with a serenity you'd expect only in a bigger, heavier car.) Like V8 power that'll make you think we stole some of Corvette's stuff—which we did. All told, five different power plants are now available from a quieter six to a V8 that comes on with 300 horses strong. Some people might have expected us to stand pat after introducing a car this successful last year. One short drive will show you how wrong they were.

'65 Chevy II Nova 4-Door Sedan

Chevy II Nova '65

It may very well be the expensive-est looking thrift car you've ever laid eyes on. But thrifty it is. The big difference this year being that Chevy II's marvelous mechanical efficiency now comes decked out in a debonair new look. And to keep things in stride under the hood, there's a new range of six engines available, no less, including a new 300-hp V8. Of course, you still get those famous Chevy II maintenance reducers—like self-adjusting brakes, long-lived exhaust system, battery-saving Delcotron generator. But if you go by all the fine new features, you could get the idea that saving you money was about the last thing we had in mind when we built this one. And in a way it was. Right up until we pasted the price sticker on the window.

New top-of-the-line Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

Corvair Corsa '65

There's never been a Corvair—or any other car—like it. The entire line now sports a totally new Body by Fisher, styled with fresh, sophisticated flair that would set a European's pulse fluttering. The longer, wider design gives all Corvair closed models a thin-line hardtop roof, accented by frameless curved side windows. It also allows more shoulder and entrance room. And to go with the racier look, there's up to 180 hp available in the new Corsa series, up to 140 hp in the Monza and 500 series. Also a flatter riding independent suspension system, bigger self-adjusting brakes, more responsive steering—all solidly buttressed by a wider road stance for '65. Truth is, you've got to drive this one to believe it.
